Both Of Dominican Chiefs 'Must Go'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chiefs of the two rival Dominican factions will both have to step aside if the revolt-torn country is to get a government broadly acceptable to the people, Johnson administration sources said today.

HENRY HAYDEN

Henry Hayden Rites Friday

Henry Ralph Hayden, 81, member of a pioneer family identified with Big Spring almost since its beginning, died in a hospital here at 4 a.m. today.

He had suffered a heart attack, followed by a stroke, and his condition had worsened during the past three days.

Services will be held at 4 p.m. Friday at the Nalley - Pickle Rosewood Chapel, and burial will be in the Potton plot of the City Cemetery. The Rev. Charles L. Bowyer, curate of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church, will officiate.

Mr. Hayden was born Feb. 26, 1884 in Delphos, Ohio and moved while a child to Weatherford, from whence his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayden, moved to Big Spring on Dec. 16, 1896.

As a youth, he was one of the first if not the first telephone operator in Big Spring, and worked at a drug store before apprenticing as a machinist at the Texas & Pacific Shops. He had attended high school here under the late B. Reagan before the district had been voted independent status. Mr. Reagan wanted him to become a school man.

His followed his trade as machinist for 22 years, and he was a foreman before going out with his men in the historic strike of 1922. He never went back. Later he joined with his brother the late Will Hayden, in operation of the Big Spring Weekly News, and he served as stereotyper and pressman until his retirement in 1955.

Mr. Hayden was married in 1902 to Mary Potton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Potton. Her father was master mechanic for the railroad for 20 years.

When his parents died, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hayden moved in 1914 into the red sand stone building which Thomas Hayden had built in 1901.

Mr. Hayden is survived by his wife, Mary P. Hayden; two daughters, Mrs. Everett W. Lomax and Mrs. Loy Acuff, both of Big Spring, and one son, Joseph Hayden. He also leaves one brother A. C. (Cooie) Hayden, and two granddaughters, Mary Helen Lomax, San Angelo, and Milynne Lomax, Midland. Among nephews and nieces due here for the rites are Mrs. W. B. Wingfield, San Antonio, Mrs. Ray Jackson, Wheeler, Tom E. Jordan, Harry Jordan, Mrs. Jack Wilcox, Mrs. Sally Wasson, Mrs. Thurman Jordan and Lillian Jordan, all of Big Spring.

Pallbearers will be M. R. Koger, A. A. Porter, Willard Sullivan, Ed Fisher, H. J. Morrison, Harold Homan, Walker Bailey and Harry Jordan.

Midland Death Declared Suicide

MIDLAND (AP) — Suicide was ruled in the fatal shooting Wednesday of restaurant owner Jeff Moody Dickerson. The body was found in his home by his widow. A shotgun was nearby.

Redistricting Plan Chosen By Senators

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators chose a congressional redistricting bill today that allows up to five per cent variation between districts over a bill with only 1.9 per cent tolerance.

ACCEPTABLE REGIME

The administration sources gave this account of the Dominican situation and the still continuing effort to find an acceptable provisional regime pending elections for a permanent government:

The Bundy mission found a deep split between the rival forces headed by Imbert and Caamaño, and some elements in both factions are opposing any solutions except on their own terms.

In the U.S. view, it is necessary for the government that is set up to be substantially broader than a mere representation of the two sides involved in the revolt. And there is a general feeling in the country that a good answer is not possible if either leader is in the center — openly or disguised — of a new government.

The two leaders themselves have implicitly recognized in their own statements that they will probably have to step aside, the U.S. administration sources added.

Criminal Code Bill May Sink

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Differences between House and Senate sponsors of the Texas criminal code revision bill over a section restricting pre-trial coverage of crime news threatened Thursday to sink the entire bill.

Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, Senate sponsor, said Thursday he hopes the House sponsor, Rep. Dudley Mann of El Paso, will agree to scrap the controversial provision.

Hardeman indicated in an interview that although he favors the restriction, he thinks it should be deleted to win favorable legislative action on a conference committee version of the bill.

The controversial provision places unprecedented state restrictions on the release of pre-trial information to newsmen.

Both Houses have passed the bill, but in differing versions, forcing the conference report, which the Senate turned down after protests from news editors and newspaper, radio and television organizations against the pre-trial news section.

Saving Big If Military Defeats Gobbledegook

CHICKSANDS, England (AP)—Mrs. Carol Bray has completed her two-month battle against gobbledegook among American forces in Europe and has returned to San Antonio, Tex., to report back to base.

"Mission accomplished," might have been her report to Maj. Gen. Richard P. Klocko of the U.S. Air Force Security Division—but it won't be. That expression comes under the category of gobbledegook known as "Pentagonese" — unnecessary military jargon.

If anything, she will say "job done." She stopped four days at Chicksands U.S. Air Force Base on the final stay-over of her tour, conducting four-day courses in effective writing for airmen. She had visited bases in West Germany, Turkey and Britain.

STOP JARGON When airmen write official reports, letters, memos, routine orders and so forth, military jargon must stop, she says. Example:

"Effect and expedite the accomplishment of" becomes "see that it is done immediately."

"Maximum use of manpower" becomes "better use of men."

"Statement of functional responsibilities" becomes "list of functions."

Mrs. Bray, who is in her 50s, has written a 115-page book called "Writer's Style Guide and Manual" to help airmen know what it's all about.

Girl Charged With Assault

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 13-year-old girl has been charged in the Tuesday assault on a woman store detective who said not one of a large number of spectators came to her aid.

The girl, Joyce Weddington, was arrested Wednesday night on charges of assault and battery, larceny, shoplifting and receiving stolen goods.

The store detective, Viola Smith, said she was beaten when she tried to make an arrest for shoplifting. She suffered a broken arm, bruises and injuries to her left eye and both legs.

Miss Weddington, who looks several years older than her age, was quoted by detective Thomas Carmody as saying she struggled with Mrs. Smith after being stopped while leaving the store with two sweaters stuffed in a large handbag.

"They just left me lie there," said Mrs. Smith of passers-by. She said as she was knocked down she shouted: "Help me please! Get someone to help me, please. She's a thief."

Revenue Cut

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A bill reducing state revenue by an estimated $4.6 million in the next two years received House Tax Committee approval Thursday night.

Sponsors said the bill (HB23) repeals or reduces taxes which are either unfair or difficult to collect.

The measure is the remnant of a $15.3 million revenue measure recommended by the Commission on State and Local Tax Policy, a legislator-layman group. The commission proposal would have repealed some taxes while strengthening or imposing others.

Gov. John Connally said recently he opposed part of the recommendations, but he took a $6 million revision of state inheritance tax laws into his $79 million revenue program for the next two years.

Legislature Aims At Fast Windup

Poll Tax Ban Harbors Clash On Voting Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate passage of the administration's voting-rights bill has set up an eventual clash with the House over the banning of poll taxes in state and local elections.

That is the chief difference between the bill that sailed through the Senate Wednesday by a 79-19 vote after five weeks of debate, and the one awaiting action in the House.

The House Judiciary Committee overrode administration objections and wrote in a flat ban on poll taxes, plus a declaration that they have been used to discriminate against Negro voters.

The Senate adopted a similar declaration but rejected the ban by a 49-45 vote.

Despite the solid support of the Senate joint leadership and the administration for the Senate stand on poll taxes, the House intends to stand by its version.

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., has already pledged his support and Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said Wednesday he would resist all efforts to weaken the poll-tax provision.

Celler's committee approved the bill May 12, but no action has been taken to clear it for debate and voting in the House.

The committee's formal report will be filed Monday, and it could be another three weeks before the bill gets to the floor.

Provisions tally. Aside from the poll-tax issue, the two bills have similar provisions, closely adhering to the legislation President Johnson requested in a speech to Congress last March 15 at the height of racial unrest in several Southern cities.

The main effect would be to suspend automatically state literacy tests and other such devices in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina and parts of North Carolina and Virginia. Federal registrars would be authorized to sign up voters in those areas where tests are struck down.

Earlier the House passed and sent to the governor a redistricting plan for state senators that shifts seven of the 31 seats from rural to urban areas. Representatives also approved and sent to the Senate a proposed Constitution change (SJR19) for a $400 million bond issue to satisfy Texas' future water needs.

In other Senate action Wednesday, the defeat of a plan to increase the upper chamber to 29 senators was wiped from the books and the proposal sent to a 10-man conference committee. It also provides six year terms for senators and four year terms for House members.

DEADLINE MONDAY The deadline for ending this session is Monday at midnight. Earlier, after the House sent the Senate's redistricting bill to the governor, Speaker Ben Barnes remarked that "the House has fulfilled all its responsibilities and will be ready for a sine die (final adjournment) very soon."

The Senate approval of the $79 million tax package included a 29-0 vote for the three cents per pack tax increase on cigarettes and 29-0 for the $6 million inheritance tax increase. All efforts to amend the bills were defeated.

In other action Wednesday, State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert certified the 1966-67 general appropriations bill, finding it would leave a $2.8 million balance between expenditures and general revenue.

Each House Whips Out Leading Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas legislators aimed their sights Thursday toward an early adjournment Friday or Saturday of this 59th regular session.

The optimistic outlook followed one of the most fruitful legislative days in the memory of most senators and representatives.

Each house whipped out a couple of major controversies Wednesday that have been road-blocks almost since the session began.

TAX PACKAGE In an unusual night session, the Senate first approved and sent to the governor a $79 million tax package to pay for the teachers pay raise, then passed and sent back to the House the touchy congressional redistricting issue.

The reshuffle of Texas' 23 congressional districts was expected to end up in a 10-man conference committee for a final rewriting.

Mystery Lingers In Viet Strafing SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military authorities said today they were still unable to determine conclusively whether four jet planes that strafed a Vietnamese outpost Tuesday were American fighters or Communist MIGs.

A spokesman said fragments from shells fired by the raiders had arrived in Saigon, but more evidence was needed before it could be pinned down as to whether they came from U.S. or Communist guns.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠ South postponed making a club play until the last possible moment, since the fate of his six spade contract hinged on how he handled the side suit. His patience paid a handsome reward, for he was able to uncover enough information to convert an apparent guess into a sure thing.
 West led the jack of hearts which was taken by declarer's lone ace. A spade was played to the ace and, on return, East showed out, discarding a heart. South went up with the king of spades and then gave West his trump trick. The latter returned the ten of hearts which was ducked in dummy and ruffed in the closed hand. South's sole concern now was to pick up the queen of clubs. Before he attempted a finesse in that suit, however, he decided to exhaust all other resources. Dummy was entered with the queen of diamonds, and the ace was cashed. A heart was ruffed in the vague hope that the king might drop—and establish North's queen for a discard.

Altho the king of hearts held firm, declarer had clearly marked that card in the East hand; after West had continued to attack that suit by leading thru the dummy's queen. In order to uncover additional information regarding East's distribution, South proceeded to cash the king of diamonds followed by his remaining trump. East had discarded a club when West went in with the queen of spades, and now, as the last spade was led, East was obliged to surrender another club in order to retain the king of hearts.
 All hands were down to the last three cards as South led a club to North's ace. On the return—when East followed with the ten—declarer promptly put up the king of clubs and dropped West's queen. The jack took the fulfilling trick.
 South's reasoning was quite simple. Since East's only remaining card had to be the king of hearts, he obviously could not hold the queen of clubs and the finesse must therefore fail.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene—

Rock Hudson continues his escape from the bedroom farces. His next film will be "Seconds," which he describes as a horror picture. But not the Vincent Price variety, it should be added; this one will stress psychological horror. It is being directed by John Frankenheimer, the young suspense master who made "The Manchurian Candidate" and "Seven Days in May."

ROCK HUDSON

HEAVY DRAMA
 Carroll Baker wasn't too exhausted after finishing "Harlow" to toss a wing-ding party at her house. Between dances she commented that the film was the toughest she has tackled. And not only because of the virus that kept her out of the picture for two weeks.

"It was the first time I have done a picture that was glamorous and heavily dramatic," she said. "That meant two or three hours of being made up and then going into emotional scenes all day."

 Carroll's reward for her labors: Three months' rest on the Riviera. Harlow never had it so good.

Publication Is Resumed

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Baltimore's two afternoon daily newspapers, the Evening Sun and the News American, planned hefty editions today to mark their first appearance in over five weeks.

The Sun resumed publication with a 24-page morning edition today, its first issue since April 10, two days after the American Newspaper Guild, AFL-CIO, struck the paper.

There were several minor incidents at entrances to the Sun plant Wednesday night as craft union members crossed Guild picket lines and reported for work.

Two Guild pickets were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct in connection with separate incidents. Two pressmen received hospital treatment for minor injuries received when they were struck by thrown objects.
 At issue in the dispute are wages and union security.

There will be a Fonda reunion on the sands of Malibu this summer. Jane has a house at the beach while she's shooting "The Chase." When papa Henry finishes "Battle of the Bulge" in Spain, he'll take a house a few doors away that Jane rented for him. He'll bring his 10-year-old daughter, whom Jane hasn't seen in two years. Also, son Peter and his family will be nearby.

"BEAU GESTE"
 Gene Kelly hopes to direct a new "Beau Geste" as his next film; he has done spectacular musicals but never a real spectacle. The project is now in the hands of the Universal bigwigs, who are deciding whether to make the $6 million outlay.
 "I want to do it right or not at all," said Gene. "That means shooting it in the Sahara with thousands of Arabs."

Vote In Kentucky One Of Closest

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Election officials in Madison County checked Democratic primary election results, then checked them again and came up with the same answer.
 Robert Turley, received 3,398 votes to 3,397 for Robert Combs in the race for county judge. Kenton Moberly had 3,086 to 3,084 for Willie Green for sheriff.

Teen 'Army' With Arsenal Said Working

HOUSTON (AP)—Police were trying to separate fact from fantasy Thursday in the statement of a 15-year-old boy who claimed he is a member of a teenage "army" dedicated to freeing "oppressed" people.

The boy told criminal intelligence division officers Wednesday the teen-age organization has 650 members; an arsenal that includes stolen armory rifles, a bazooka, two mortar launchers; an air force of two Piper Cubs and an alliance with soldiers at Fort Hood, Tex.

He said members at Fort Hood supplied the organization with weapons manuals and claimed the group had "bribed" guards there to smuggle articles out.

QUIZ SOLDIERS
 Police also questioned an 18-year-old Army private who said he was a member and also AWOL from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He turned himself in to authorities Tuesday.

The private, also of Houston, implicated the 15-year-old and two other 18-year-olds.
 In the 15-year-old's home, officers said they recovered 40 rounds of blank ammunition, a .22 caliber blank pistol, a Molotov cocktail, a knife with an 11-inch blade, several folders with drawings labeled as gun emplacements, barracks and prisoner of war compounds.

Officers said the two 18-year-olds had been charged in January with the burglary of an armory. About 85 rifles were taken. Half of these were recovered and the charges dismissed after parents made restitution for the missing property.

PRACTICE COMBAT
 The boy told officers of a "bivouac" area west of Houston where he said they practiced maneuvers and hand-to-hand combat.

The spot, in dense thickets, contained barbed wire, a "gun emplacement" and a log wall apparently used as an obstacle course.

GOP Plums In Vote Doubtful

WASHINGTON (AP) — Influential Republicans agreed today there isn't much political hay in the overwhelming support Republican senators gave the voting-rights bill.

But the fact that 30 of the 32 GOP senators voted for passage Wednesday as the bill cleared the Senate should help get the party back in the mainstream of civil rights, said Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.

"It gives us the opportunity to appeal again to civil rights supporters," he said. "It identifies ours as a responsible political party instead of the radical, states-rights party it was represented to be in the 1964 campaign."

"GETS US BACK"
 "It gets us back to where we were in the pre-Goldwater period."

However, Javits agreed with fellow Republican Sens. George D. Aiken of Vermont and John G. Tower of Texas, who said in separate interviews they do not believe Republican support of the legislation will win Negro voters away from the Democrats.

Aiken, senior Republican in Senate service, said he doesn't believe Republican backing for the bill will get much attention from the voters or will yield any material political benefits.

"Our Madison Avenue division is not very strong and what we do doesn't get advertised effectively," Aiken said. "I don't think our support of the bill is going to make any difference politically, one way or the other."

U.S. REGISTRARS
 Tower, one of two Republicans who voted against the measure — the other was Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina — said he would have supported it if the Senate had not rejected an amendment he offered to bring the bill more in line with a substitute that House Republicans are backing.

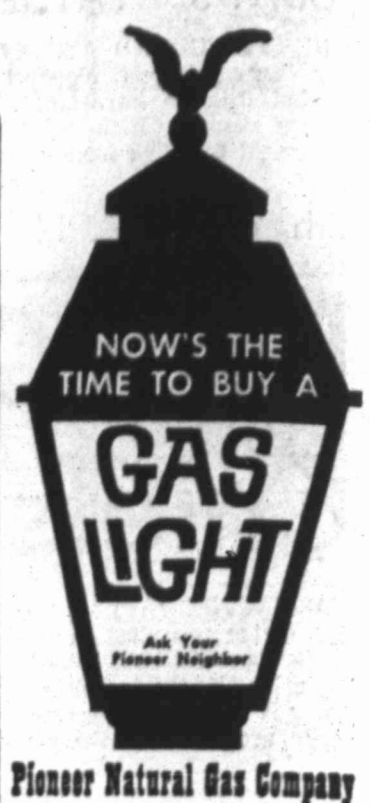

Instead of being aimed at specific Southern states, the substitute would provide for federal registrars when 25 persons in a state or county complained of racial discrimination.

"By voting as they did, the Republicans showed that they wanted some kind of bill," Tower said. "But I think the political effect will be negligible because this will be known as a Democratic administration bill."

N.Y. Teachers In Pay Prod

NEW YORK (AP) — Threats to close the city's public schools in the fall unless teachers get satisfactory pay increases and improvements in school and working conditions have been made at a street rally of 4,000 teachers near City Hall.

The rally Wednesday was sponsored by the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, collective bargaining agent for the 46,000 public school teachers. The federation has staged two one-day teacher strikes in the past five years.

Shanker told the rally that "less than $100 per teacher, spread over two years" had been offered as a raise at a session with representatives of the Board of Education Tuesday.

Dozen Ejected At Hearing On Communism

CHICAGO (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities moved its hearing on communism in Illinois into its final stage today. Witnesses refused to answer questions and 12 persons were ejected in Wednesday's stormy session.

The committee heard a second witness testify of being a Communist party member while spying for the FBI.

Federal marshals charged the persons ejected from the hearing room with impeding a committee of Congress in exercise of its proper process of investigation. Eight were released on $100 bond and the others were held in jail.

WALKS OUT

One witness Milton Cohen, walked out. A committee member said he will urge the full committee to charge Cohen with contempt.

Cohen was one of six persons named by a witness as being active in the Communist party. Some 60 pickets paraded outside, watched by 100 policemen. There were no incidents.

The pickets included three men in military uniforms with arm bands bearing the Nazi swastika. They carried placards reading "Communism is treason" and "God bless HUAC."

On the witness stand, Lucious Armstrong, 65, a Negro and retired steel mill hand, told the committee that he joined the Communist party in 1931, left it again in 1948, and rejoined in 1953 at the request of the FBI.

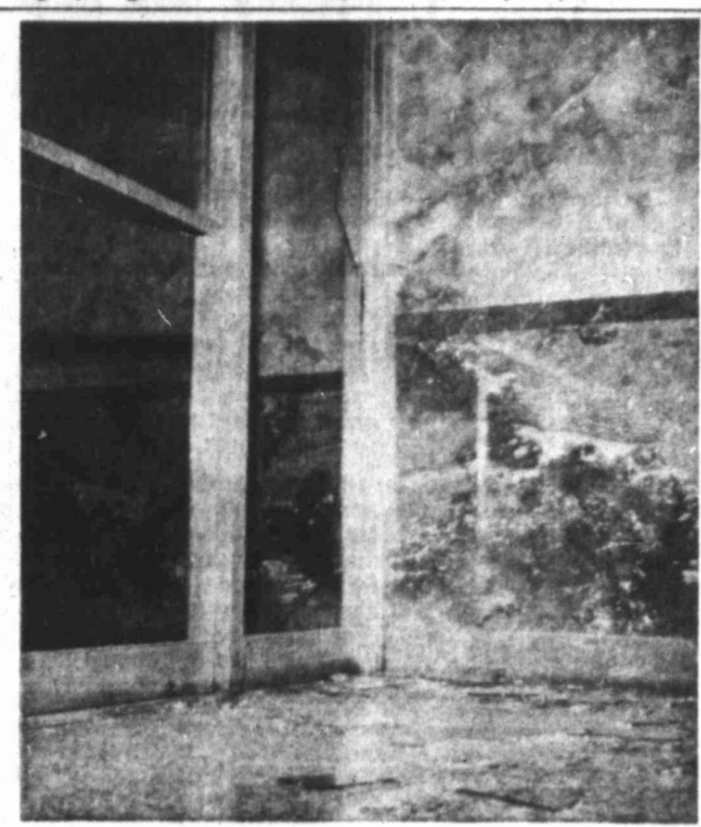

FROM CHICAGO

He told a story similar to one related by Miss Lola Bell Holmes, a Negro, who testified Tuesday that she spied for the FBI while a party member. Armstrong and Miss Holmes are from Chicago.

Asked by Alfred Nittle, committee counsel, if the Communist party in the United States rejects Soviet policy, Armstrong said, "It don't reject anything but a bunch of ignorance."

Armstrong and Miss Holmes testified that Lewis Disken, David Englestein, Cohen, Ben Friedlander, Charles Wilson and Wilberforce Cox Jones had been active in the Communist party. All have been subpoenaed.

—But It Wasn't A Door

Harry Williams Jr., 12, thought he was going through a glass door at the main entrance, on Second Street, to the Permian Building Wednesday afternoon. But it was just plain plate glass window, which didn't swing when he hit it. The remains of the glass are shown on the floor after Harry went through it. The boy was taken by Big Spring Ambulance Service to the Webb AFB Hospital, where he was treated for a fractured finger and multiple cuts. He was later released and injuries diagnosed as not serious.

Reservoir Site Given Approval

The city of Big Spring received notice this morning from the Texas Land Office in Austin of approval for the site of a new water reservoir on Scenic Mountain.

A contract will not be let on the new reservoir, part of the Master Plan, until probably early next year. Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said.

"It is too late to construct it for any use this summer," Lillard said, but the reservoir will be planned for use by May 1 of next year.

The site approved is east of the present Webb AFB reservoir on Scenic Mountain. Capacity of the tank is to be one million gallons, double the amount originally planned. Bonds for the facility include $75,000 for the reservoir and $15,000 for pumping facilities.

FPC Might Cancel Pacts

AMARILLO (AP) — Federal Power Commission Chairman Joseph Swidler said Wednesday the FPC may set aside old gas contracts which were set at unusually low prices.

Speaking to the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Swidler said the low-priced gas contracts could be cancelled by the FPC if found to interfere with interstate commerce. Regulating low prices as well as high is part of the FPC's duty, he said.

Swidler said he expects the Permian Basin area rate case to be settled within a month. Then other work can be expedited.

Queen Stirs Barrage From East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II flew 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain today to West Berlin. East Germany claimed that West German agents were planning "terrorist attacks" on the Berlin wall during her 5½-hour visit.

The queen's 22-mile route through the city took her past the barbed wire-topped wall, but there were no plans for her to stop at it. British officials said this was done to spare her any anti-Western posters such as the East Germans put up for President Kennedy's visit to the wall in June 1963.

The East German Radio asserted that "terrorists" of the West German intelligence service run by Gen. Reinhard Gehlen were planning "provocations against the border of the (East) German Democratic Republic."

CHARGES VIOLATION

The broadcast also charged that West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's flight to West Berlin Wednesday night aboard a U.S. Air Force plane to greet the queen was a violation of East German air space.

East Germany's Red government said a month ago it had no objection to the queen's visit to West Berlin. But this week the East German Foreign Office accused Erhard, by coming to meet her, of trying to "use the visit as an aggressive demonstration" of West Germany's claims to West Berlin.

British, West German and West Berlin authorities ignored the Communists.

The East Germans did not object to the queen's visit because officially she came to inspect British troops who with American and French soldiers make up West Berlin's Allied garrison. But West Berliners viewed her coming as an expression of British solidarity with them and arranged a big welcome.

FIRST TIME

It was Elizabeth's first flight over Communist territory in her 12-year reign. During the 15 minutes her Royal Air Force turboprop plane was over East Germany, radar observers spotted a number of unidentified planes in the air corridor she used. But none appeared to come close to the royal plane.

One West Berlin newspaper said Elizabeth's visit would rank with Kennedy's among the most important events in Berlin's postwar history.

LAND AT GATOW

Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, landed at the British military airport in the suburb of Gatow. They were welcomed by West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt and Chancellor Erhard.

Elizabeth's visit to West Berlin was the climax of her state visit to West Germany, which began May 18 and ends when she sails for home Friday aboard the royal yacht Britannia. She is the first British monarch to visit Germany in 52 years.

Health Program Touches 646 In County Schools

The medical self-help training program conducted in Howard County schools during the past year has been termed successful. Plans are set for the program again next year.

A total of 646 students completed the program, including 266 at Goliad Junior High, 229 at Runnels Junior High and 151 at Coahoma High School.

"With young persons trained for emergency self help when medical assistance is not available, our community is fortunate in that we can expect long mileage on their knowledge and ability," Lige Fox, county health sanitarian, said.

The course was co-sponsored by the city - county health department and the schools. Fox said the schools involved gave outstanding cooperation with the department in arranging the program.

Instructors were W. A. Fishback, principal, and Bernie Hagins, at Coahoma; R. T. Newell, Mrs. Belma Lucas and Bobby Zellars, at Runnels Junior High; and Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, Soc. A. Walker, principal, and Oakley Hagood, Goliad Junior High.

Fox said the training had been well-received in the schools and was considered a valuable course. Included in the instruction were topics such as living providing protection from radioactive fallout, first aid procedures, care of the sick and injured and care of infants.

'Headstart' Project OKed

Five areas in Big Spring have been approved for President Johnson's "Operation Head Start," superintendent of schools Sam Anderson has been advised. He received a telephone call from Washington, D. C. this morning stating that approval had been given.

"Under the program, approved for the Airport, Boydston, Bauer, Cedar Crest and Lakeview Elementary School attendance areas," he said, "children who will be eligible to attend school in September (those six years old on or before Sept. 1), will be eligible to enroll in the program. We have approval for 212 students in the program which will run from July 5 through Aug. 27. This will involve around 15 professionals, including teachers. About $32,825 will be paid from federal funds for the local program."

Anderson said more information will be released as soon as written approval is received.

No Drouth On Applications

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, said this morning he has had 14 applicants for the post of county auditor.

Eleven of the applicants, are men, he said.

He said he is giving the selection of a successor to Wade Choate, who has resigned, careful study.

"The post of county auditor," said the judge, "is one of the most important offices in the court house. I want to make sure that the person I name is the best possible for the job."

However, the judge said he would make a decision soon.

Choate has announced his resignation. He is taking a post as manager of the Webb AFB Credit Union June 15.

Appointment of the county auditor is a duty of the district judge. The county auditor is paid the same salary as the major elective officials. Current salary is $600 per month.

Caton said several of the applicants have filed their names in written form; others, he said, have verbally asked for consideration.

He said that in addition to what he called firm applicants, he has scores of phone calls inquiring about the job and the qualifications necessary to filling it.

Jail Terms Given In County Cases

Two pleas of guilty were heard in Howard County court on Wednesday.

Carl Devone Sewell, charged with malicious destruction of property, drew a 10-day jail sentence when he pleaded guilty to the charge.

Herschel Upchurch, charged with writing worthless checks, pleaded guilty. His punishment was fixed at 60 days in the county jail.

Court costs were assessed against each defendant in addition to the jail time.

NSF Geology Scholarship Goes To Terry Harkrider

Terry Harkrider, spring graduate at Sul Ross State College, has been awarded a National Science Foundation Scholarship for study in geology at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. He will begin his study in September, according to Dr. John Dismant, head of the geology department at Sul Ross.

The NSF scholarship requires no teaching—only scholastic achievement. It amounts to $2,400 for the first year, $2,800 for the second and $2,800 for all subsequent years. It also includes $500 for each dependent,

"The drownproofing class for swimmers and non-swimmers will be held during the following hours," Gilbert said. "June 7 to 11, 1 to 2 p.m. for junior high age and above. No charge will be made to members, but non-members will pay $3. The course will include teaching youngsters and adults the various drills and exercises in water to overcome fears. They are taught to relax and let the water support them, and float with a minimum of effort. By this means they can stay afloat for long periods of time."

A junior and senior life saving class will run from July 5 to 16. The class will be held from 1 to 2 p.m. daily. A pre-requisite for the class will be a test involving 10 points.

Construction Due On Dam

HOUSTON (AP)—Mayor Louie Welch has predicted construction will begin by fall on the dam for the Lake Livingston project.

Welch commented on Wednesday's Texas Supreme Court ruling which refused a writ of error sought by Wallace W. Franks and others and said it would entertain no further motions in the case.

"Now is the time for us to look into who has damaged the city and to what extent so that the city can file suit for recovery of damages," Welch said. He said a recovery of such damages would not be without precedent, adding that the Supreme Court rules the litigants "had no standing in court."

The mayor said several months ago that the persons putting up the money for the litigation were hiding their identity.

However, Franks, a real estate man, said he was "the man who put the money in it." "If Welch wants to sue somebody, the courts are available," he said.

Church Meet Has Sidelines Friction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Whiffs of friction trailed today in the wake of the United Presbyterian General Assembly. But it emanated mostly from the sidelines.

Generally, the representative delegates displayed a strong consensus in mapping new church plans and policies, despite eddies of debate.

"Unity in Jesus Christ does not mean uniformity," commented the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, chief administrator of the church. "We can differ within the fellowship without it being a prelude to schism."

VOICES PROTEST

As the denomination's week-long legislative meeting closed Wednesday, however, fireworks came from outside it in a volley of criticism by the Rev. Dr. Edward T. Stimson, of Omaha, Neb., at current denominational trends.

He protested a new confession of faith, given preliminary backing by the assembly, and said it could lead to "loss of our liberties and the introduction of a monarchial governmental forms" because it sanctions variety in them.

In an open-air news conference, swollen by bystanders, he said the confession also helps "open the way to church union," and he denounced current union talks going on among six denominations, including United Presbyterians.

"SAD DAY"

"If they succeed, as they well might," he said, "we shall have to leave the church which would no longer be free and Presbyterian-reformed." He said if that "sad day" comes, many hundreds would depart with him.

However, the assembly here overwhelmingly endorsed the progress of the talks, under way for four years.

The new confession, the first restatement of beliefs for English-speaking Presbyterians since the Westminster Confession three centuries ago, remains subject to a two-year, churchwide process of discussion and possible changes before final action on it.

It was expected to unleash a ferment of theological self-examination in the 3 1/2-million-member church.

Business Gains Seen Slowing

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — The chief White House economist indicated today that business gains in the rest of 1965 will be only about half as great as in the booming first quarter.

Gardner Ackley also told businessmen that a widening ripple of price increases has become disturbing to the President's Council of Economic Advisers, of which he is chairman.

He spoke at the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers' Association meeting here.

The prospective slowdown in the economic growth rate removes the threat of any serious inflationary overheating of the economy in the year ahead, Ackley said, so the prospect of continuing price stability is good. But he added:

The number of announcements of price increases seems to be accelerating.

"In the past few weeks, for instance, the list has included tires, stainless steel products, sulfuric acid, trucks, paper containers, polyethylene resins, aluminum products, copper, and fabricated copper products."

Many were no doubt justified by higher costs and others may be rescinded because of stiff competition, Ackley said, "yet there is just enough movement of prices to be disturbing."

"Surely none of us would welcome moving toward fiscal and monetary policies that restrict economic expansion, so long as resources remain in ample supply, simply as a means of holding prices in check."

"Yet the time may come when pressures to do just that will become very strong."

Slackened auto output and a slowdown of inventory buying by industry are major reasons for expecting slower business growth in coming months, Ackley said.

Death Of Heiress Declared Suicide

GROSSE POINTE FARMS, Mich. (AP) — The death of Mrs. Ethel du Pont Roosevelt Warren, heiress and former wife of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., was ruled a suicide today.

Viet Red Army Barracks Bombed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Twenty U.S. and Vietnamese war planes rained down 55 tons of bombs on a North Vietnamese army barracks and supply area 220 miles south of Hanoi today, a military spokesman announced.

Pilots reported 65 per cent of their targets destroyed and heavy damage to the remainder of the Ben Quang barracks-supply area.

A U.S. Navy pilot was believed killed when Communist ground fire brought down his F4U Crusader during another strike. Two U.S. Army men were killed the day before in ground clashes. The total of U.S. combat deaths in Viet Nam rose to 389.

Other pilots said they saw the disabled Crusader plunge into the target area and that the pilot failed to eject.

Radio Hanoi announced that a plane was shot down on the night of April 20. The broadcast said Butler was being treated well.

Radio Hanoi claimed another American pilot, Navy Lt. Phillip Neil Butler of Blackwell, Okla., was captured near Vinh after his plane was shot down on the night of April 20. The broadcast said Butler was being treated well.

SHIPS IN WAR

A U.S. spokesman disclosed that U.S. Navy destroyers have entered the ground war, firing six missions since May 20 against Viet Cong targets in the coastal areas of South Viet Nam's Binh Dinh, Binh Tuan and Phu Yen provinces.

The spokesman said four destroyers had fired more than 370 rounds against Communist targets. The destroyer Sommers was credited with thwarting an attack May 21 on Hai Long district headquarters, northeast of Saigon. The spokesman said the Sommers' guns killed 12 Viet Cong and wounded 20.

The Sommers suffered one casualty in the strike. Seaman Jimmy C. Stinnett of Cartersville, Va., was killed when the muzzle end of a 5-inch gun on the destroyer exploded.

A U.S. military spokesman said the plane shot down was one of several Crusaders flying support for eight A4 Skyhawks raiding a railroad yard at Vinh, midway between the Communist capital of Hanoi and the North Vietnamese border.

Other pilots said they saw the disabled Crusader plunge into the target area and that the pilot failed to eject.

SECOND DAY

Today was the second day in succession U.S. planes had hit Vinh, a major North Vietnamese port and naval base, and pilots said groundfire was heavy.

The spokesman said the raiders dropped eight tons of bombs and hit the railroad yard with rockets and cannon fire, inflicting moderate damage.

The two Americans killed Wednesday were special forces advisers accompanying units sent to relieve Vietnamese troops who had been ambushed by guerrillas.

In Wellington, New Zealand, Prime Minister Keith Holyoake announced his government has offered to send a four-gun artillery battery of 120 men to South Viet Nam to fight with the 1,000-man Australian infantry battalion which left Sydney Wednesday for South Viet Nam.

The New Zealanders are expected to leave in a few days by plane. The Australian battalion is traveling by sea.

Over 100,000 Children Due 'Head Start' Benefit

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 100,000 poor children will get a head start this summer on regular schooling in the fall through 380 grants totaling $15,714,513 approved today.

President Johnson got Project Head Start under way May 18 with announcement of $62,342,343 in grants to establish 9,157 preschool centers in most of the states to help some 352,000 underprivileged children prepare to begin their education.

ILLINOIS CENTERS

At that time the President set a goal of 2,500 head start projects in 11,000 development centers this summer for 530,000 children at a cost of $112 million.

Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, said remaining grants will be announced in a few days. Federal funds will defray about 85 per cent of the costs.

Edgar Upholds George Gentry

AUSTIN (AP) — Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar upheld an appeal today by George Gentry, fired Feb. 19 as Georgetown school superintendent and president of Lee Junior College.

Edgar ordered trustees either to reinstate Gentry, retroactively to Feb. 20 and permit him to serve the rest of his term until July 1, 1967, or pay him the full cash value of his contract for that period.

Edgar's ruling followed a two-day hearing before him earlier this month when Gentry appealed.

Edgar's ruling may be appealed to the State Board of Education.

Trustees made 11 charges against Gentry. Most alleged failure to carry out the board's orders to streamline the system's business office, which endangered accreditation.

One charge said Gentry was slow to pay bills and that some teachers were paid too much.

Other charges alleged he allowed purchase orders to be issued after the actual purchases of equipment and supplies were made; accepted kick-backs for the school from suppliers of pictures and school rings after the board told him to stop the practice; refused to collect $8,000 reimbursement of $96,209 in federal contracts which the schools were to receive.

The board alleged Gentry failed to inform them of the expected growth and development of the district; committed the

Red Chinese Modest After Atom Showoff

By CHARLES LYNCH PEKING (AP) — Communist China has been indulging in very little preening or self-congratulation since her second nuclear explosion. The Chinese seem to take it for granted that they are in the front rank of the world nuclear powers and in a position to exchange blow for blow if anybody directs a nuclear attack at them or their neighbor, North Viet Nam.

There has been no discussion here whatsoever about such matters as delivery systems, second strike capability, or any of that sophisticated jargon of Western nuclear circles. NO DOUBTS The Chinese have said in the past that any old bomber will do to deliver an atomic bomb and that remains the official position, though when asked if China intends to enter the missile and aerospace field, officials answer that she will do so if it is in her interest.

No doubts whatsoever exist about China's capabilities to do what she wants to do despite the primitive nature of some segments of the Chinese society and the fact that much of her science is in a rudimentary stage. Perhaps another reason why the Chinese are so matter of fact about their atomic bomb is the frequent repetition of Chairman Mao's famous remark that nuclear weapons are a paper tiger and that no war will ever be settled with them. If Mao says the bomb is a paper tiger then a paper tiger it is to the masses of the Chinese people.

But of all the nuclear powers, China is the one least able to provide backup logistics for a sophisticated weapons system — since she is the least mechanized. STEAM ENGINE Her transportation system is hitched to the steam locomotive; There is no national system of highways; the telephone system is sketchy at best; and not only has she no missile capability but her conventional airlift capability is limited. What she has in abundance is military manpower well equipped, highly trained and even more highly motivated to undertake conventional war. The feel of impending hostilities is kept just below fever pitch here by constant official shouts and cries aimed at the United States policy worldwide and particularly in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo.

Memorial Day Plans Fixed

Placing of a wreath, a moment of silence in memory of deceased veterans, and an address by Gen. E. C. Dunn, chief of staff, III Army Corps, Fort Hood, will keynote the observance.

Each year at Memorial Day the observance is conducted as a public program in front of the main entrance to the VA Hospital. The wreath will be placed by a Gold Star Mother, escorted by American Legion members, and followed by the period of silence.

Living Costs In Relatively Big Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in April, the biggest monthly jump since last July, the Labor Department reported today.

Increases in the cost of food, clothing, transportation and medical care boosted the consumer price index to 109.3, a new high.

This figure means that in April it cost $10.93 to purchase typical goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period. Asked if the rise was unusual, Deputy Asst. Commissioner Sidney A. Jaffe of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said: "It's a little out of balance, but not tremendously."

RICEMAN COMES FROM SOFTBALL HOTBED

Sponsor-Player Kinship Is Very Close Here

By HARDY PRICE

During the recent American Softball League tournament, the final game lasted until the wee hours of a Sunday morning. After the game the players adjourned to a restaurant for scrambled eggs and to talk over the game. Nearly any night of the week you can take a trip out to City Park and find any number of people playing softball.

A conservative guess at the number of persons actively engaged in softball in the city would be 250. Add more than 500 youngsters in Little League and Teenage League and the conclusion is that baseball is big in Big Spring.

Bob Riceman would like to see softball become an even bigger endeavor in the city. A native of Moline, Ill., which is just a stone's throw from Rock Island, Ill., home of the World's Champion Softball Tournament each year, Riceman is no stranger to the sport.

"The tournament draws about 20 teams each year and is held on a double elimination schedule. The average attendance at last year's tournament was 9,000 a day, and the tournament lasts 10 days," said Riceman.

Manager of a local finance company, Riceman is sponsor of a team in the American Softball League. Last year he played on Hester's Supply team and in previous years has performed on a number of service softball teams.

"To me softball is a faster game than baseball and your reflexes need to be faster," he said.

He has been playing baseball since he was a youngster in the seventh grade and at one time harbored thoughts of becoming a big league star.

Dean Stone, former pitcher with the Washington Senators and more recently with the old Houston Colts, gave Riceman his first baseball glove. While a pitcher with his home town American Legion team, Riceman's catcher was Dean Oliver, now with the Atlanta-bound Milwaukee Braves. Both were natives of Riceman's home town.

"I think Big Spring is centrally located for softball tournaments," the player-manager said. "I would like to see us have a big tournament and send a team to the state finals and perhaps even the world tournament."

As a player, Riceman favors the outfield and the mound. Before having a disc removed in 1962, first base was his position. The operation limited his mobility as a first baseman and he moved to the outfield.

Riceman was in the Marine Corps from 1952 until December of 1959. During his seven years of military service he was playing baseball constantly. In 1954 he played on the Great Lakes team and in 1955-56 he played not only baseball but football and basketball as well with the Hawaiian Marines.

In 1957 he was transferred to Japan and played with the Yokosuka Seahawks. Returning to the states in 1957, Riceman completed his service baseball career with the Great Lakes team.

Brock, Wills Are Engaged In Hot Duel

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Lou Brock won the battle, but Maury Wills still is winning the war.

Brock, who has turned into Wills' shadow in a possible record-making race for the National League's stolen-base championship, came out on top in their first direct confrontation Wednesday night while the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1.

Brock, the Cardinals' swift left fielder, stole three bases for a season total of 21 in 39 games. Wills, the Dodgers record-holder and five-time champion, settled for one steal and a total of 25 in 40 games.

Wills, who stole 53 bases last year, predicted before the season started that someone would eventually break the record of 104 he set in 1962. And he hinted that it just might be the guy who played shortstop for the Dodgers.

"I think it's possible to break the record," Wills said. "And the way I feel I think I can go at top speed all the way. I feel better than when I was 18. Maybe I'm getting my second wind."

Brock, on the other hand, still is learning how to use his first wind. He's only 25 — eight years younger than Wills — and didn't develop into a Wills-type stealing threat until he was turned loose after being acquired from the Chicago Cubs last June.

NEARING TOP

The Cardinals' victory pulled the defending world champions to within 1 1/2 games of the first-place Dodgers, who stayed one game ahead of Cincinnati in the tightening NL struggle as the Reds bowed to Houston 5-3.

Elsewhere, Milwaukee belted San Francisco 10-4, Pittsburgh upended Philadelphia 5-3 and the Chicago Cubs edged the New York Mets 8-6 in 10 innings.

Brock scored the first Cardinal run in the first inning on Ken Boyer's sacrifice fly but the Dodgers tied it in the second on singles by Ron Fairly and Lou Johnson, a walk and a double-play grounder. The Cardinals brought home the winner in the seventh on successive singles by Bob Decker, Curt Simmons and Julian Javier.

Simmons got the victory with a five-hitter for a 3-5 record, outdueling Sandy Koufax, now 6-3.

Jim Wynn was the big gun for the Astros against the Reds, driving in four runs in support of Bob Bruce's five-hit, 13-strikeout pitching 8.

Wynn singled home a run in the first, broke a 2-2 tie with a two-run triple in the third and hit his seventh homer in the fifth inning as Bill McCool was tagged with the loss in his first start.

The Braves bombed Giant ace Juan Marchal for 11 hits and nine runs in 3 2/3 innings, with Joe Torre and Felipe Alou each hitting a pair of homers.

Cassius Says He's Ready For Anyone

By MURRAY ROSE

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — Nothing seems to faze Cassius Clay.

In the wake of international condemnation of the first-round knockout of Sonny Liston, nationwide calls for a probe of boxing, and proposals in several states for the banning of boxing, the undefeated and undaunted heavyweight champion talked today of fighting Canadian champion Chuvalo or former champion Floyd Patterson next, or "anyone the public picks."

"Maybe I should fight three of them — Floyd Patterson, George Chuvalo and Ernie Terrell — in one night," said Clay. "But who would beat on Chuvalo, Patterson and Terrell to beat me?"

All three want the next shot at Clay, despite his one-punch kayo of Liston Tuesday night in one minute, two minutes, or take your pick of the time. The question of the time may be officially decided before long.

But how much power really was generated by that one short, right-hand blow to Liston's left cheekbone never will be known by anyone except Liston. Either the cocky 23-year-old Clay unleashed one of the mightiest punches ever or Liston's ability or desire to take a punch was gone.

Clay, Liston, referee Jersey Joe Walcott and Patterson all say it was a hard smash. Chuvalo, who dashed into the ring Tuesday night to argue with Clay, charged the knockout was "a farce."

"Liston's reflexes were slow and his coordination was gone," said ringsider Jimmy Braddock, one of the many ex-heavyweight kings at the fight. "He got hit a good shot and fell apart. A fighter is the last one to know when he's finished."

Arriving home in Denver, Liston remarked that he had gotten a "fast shuffle," but did not explain the statement. Sonny said he'd like to fight Clay again, "but I guess I'll have to give some other guys a chance."

MISUNDERSTOOD

Liston said he thought Walcott separated him and Clay because the round was over.

"I thought maybe I didn't hear the bell or something," he said.

"It was a real hard smash," said Patterson, who added, "I want to fight Clay more than ever now. I haven't seen anybody throw a right hand like Clay since Joe Louis. But I believe I know how to beat him."

"I'm not afraid of Clay," said Chuvalo, the Canadian champion from Toronto who lost to Patterson in a savage 12-round Feb. 1.

Oakey HAGOOD and Ted HICKS

Hagood New Steer Aide; Ted Hicks Joins Staff

Oakey Hagood has been promoted to the high school coaching staff here and will be basketball mentor Allen Simpson's first assistant.

Hagood, associated with Goliad Junior High in a coaching capacity for the past several years, will also help with football and serve as tennis coach.

He succeeds Truett Newell, who resigned as a coach but who will continue as a teacher.

Under new rules adopted by the Texas Interscholastic League Simpson can start his basketball drills 15 days earlier than before — on Oct. 15. He will help with football until that time.

Ted Hicks, former Arlington State athlete, has been named a coaching aide at Rannels Junior High, replacing Phil Wickline. Wickline will remain as a teacher in the system.

Hicks will coach on the seventh grade level at Rannels. A replacement for Hagood at Goliad is still being sought.

A native of Comanche, where he lettered four years in football and was on the basketball and track teams, Hicks also performed for the Arlington State club when it was a junior college. He will get his degree at Texas Tech in Lubbock this summer.

He is married. His wife, Sandra, is a teacher at Washington Place Elementary School.

Hicks will teach seventh grade science as well as coach football, basketball and track.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Even though Big Spring finished second in District 2-AAAA football standings the past three seasons, and on each occasion made a serious run at the title, I'd be inclined to say the Steers have their best chance to gather up all the marbles this fall.

It's rather hard to judge a team off an intra-squad game such as the Longhorns played here the other night but the class was there and came shining through.

The Longhorns made mistakes that will have to be corrected, true, but that's the reason games such as this are played — to eliminate the bugs and smooth out the operation.

The surprises were many and pleasant. Gregg Pate hadn't looked outstanding all season but he performed like a thoroughbred in the Friday night game and Van Tom Whatley, who also glistened under trying circumstances, will have to hustle to retain his job as the Steer navigator. That makes for a healthy situation.

The performance of Bobby Baker, a back with good potential, also cheered the coaches. The young man, a champion hurdler in track, can be a tremendous help this fall.

Old reliables like Bobby Griffin, Joe Jaure and Gary Earhart came through with flying colors. Griffin scored all three of the Blacks' touchdowns and emerged as the leading ground gainer of the game, thanks to some fine blocking at the line. Jaure never broke loose while carrying the mail but on defense he responds as if wired with radar.

The most improved player in camp could be Earhart, who ran like a cat caught in a sewing machine.

Of course, the 1965 story will again be written as the club's defense shapes it. The Longhorns could be so parsimonious on defense they wouldn't give an opponent the time of day if they owned a watch factory.

The watchwords in the Steer camp will henceforth be "Think Positive."

Few teams anywhere ever progressed very far along the victory path without having confidence in themselves. The Longhorns have never been in the throne room since the school became a part of District 2-AAAA. If they develop the poise needed of a front-ranked contender, they can go all the way.

And their coaches have let them know they think they can prevail. In order to stay in the vanguard of top-rated clubs, the Longhorns are going to have to maintain a strict training regimen through the summer months.

If they get too far out of condition during vacation time by eating the wrong things and not respecting training programs, then all of their toil in the spring will have been for naught.

I think this group of boys will take too much pride in performance to let a thing like that happen.

Hughes Named To All-State

By The Associated Press

For the third straight year, Texas sportswriters have named

George Aldridge, the Highland Park sprinter, and Barry Noble, the Jourdanton hurdler, to the All-State team.

FOOTBALL'S BOBBY LAYNE

Ex-Pro Football Great Will Enter Open Here

Professional football's famed

Bobby Layne, now a press box observer for the Pittsburgh Steelers, has forwarded his entry blank to the June 12-13 Big Spring Golf Open tournament committee.

Layne, who owns the Bowl-A-Rama bowling establishment here and who lives in Lubbock, will team with ace amateur Dick Jennings, also of Lubbock, in the two-day meet.

Layne was an entry in the inaugural Big Spring Open in 1963, AFL, who will probably team with Foy Fanning of Abilene.

Gil Jones, a Big Spring attorney.

With the tournament less than three weeks away, interest in the Open is picking up and tournament officials are predicting that all tournament spots will be filled. Each of the two flights in the meet will be limited to 72 teams.

Another football pro who may compete here is Bobby McLeod of the Houston Oilers of the AFL, who will probably team with Foy Fanning of Abilene.

Twins Take Over Lead In League

By The Associated Press

Minnesota's bombs won't be banned in Boston.

The Twins unloaded three more bombs Wednesday night as they outlasted the Red Sox 9-7 and moved into first place in the American League.

The home-run barrage gave the Twins eight in their first two days in Boston this season. That put them far ahead of their 1964 pace at Fenway when they hit 13 homers in nine games.

Earl Wilson was the victim of the Twins' latest assault. Bob Allison ignited the attack, slugging a three-run homer in the first inning. Harmon Killebrew continued it in the second with a bases-empty blast, and Tony Oliva finished it with a leadoff homer in the fifth.

The final homer also helped finish Wilson, who left the game after the next batter, Killebrew, reached first on Ed Bressoud's error.

While Minnesota was winning its fifth game in the last six, the Chicago White Sox were losing their sixth in the last seven, a 3-1 decision to Cleveland, and dropping into second place, seven percentage points behind the Twins.

In other AL games, Kansas City defeated Baltimore 6-3 and Los Angeles edged Washington 2-1.

Rain washed out New York at Detroit.

Oliva's homer, his eighth, tied the Red Sox 6-6 and triggered a four-run rally Earl Battey doubled in two of the runs, and Allison, who walked, scored on a grounder by Zoilo Versalles.

Boston erupted for five runs in the second inning, Carl Yastrzemski driving in three with a double.

Cleveland's Luis Tiant and Chicago's Gary Peters were engaged in a scoreless duel until the seventh inning. Chico Salmon doubled with two out, and the Indians were on their way to a three-run rally. Chuck Hinton singled in Salmon and scored on Max Alvis' double. Tiant held Chicago to five hits.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1965 SECTION B

Area Press Scholarship Is Won By Brenda Greene

Brenda Greene, Big Spring High School senior, has been named winner of the West Texas Press Association journalism scholarship.

She was chosen from a field of 21 applicants from throughout West Texas, said Bill Turner, publisher of the Olton Enterprise and chairman of the WTPA scholarship committee.

The scholarship will pay $150 per annum, or $75 per semester, for a four-year period. Brenda plans to attend Texas Tech where she will work toward her degree with a journalism major.

Brenda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. (Bill) Greene, 2305 Cindy, and the granddaughter of Mrs. James H. Greene, 427 Dallas.

BRENDA GREENE

EIGHTH ANNUAL
This year's award is the eighth annual by the WTPA, and three students currently are enrolled in area colleges and universities using these scholarships. Several have graduated.

Alternates named by the scholarship committee include Terry Dale Uttinger, Odessa, first; Curtis Burton Paduch, second; Vicki Inman, Hereford, third.

To be eligible for consideration, an applicant must be in the top 25 per cent of the graduating class and have shown a demonstrated ability in newspaper journalism as well as have a desire for a newspaper career.

"Journalism is... a vocation into which I plan to put everything I have," Brenda told the scholarship committee. "... I am interested in writing; I am interested in people and what is going on around me."

ACTIVE CAREER
She also has been interested and active in a number of things at Big Spring High, which she has attended the past four years after returning here following a 10-year residence in Abilene. She had edited the school paper, the Corral, during the past year and worked on it the previous year. She is a member of Quill and Scroll, held the position of news editor during the Texas A&M University journalism workshop, and managing editor of the journalism workshop at Texas Tech last summer. She placed fifth in copy reading at the regional interscholastic League meet in Odessa.

Brenda also is a member of the National Honor Society, and the Latin Club, receiving the scholastic award for third-year Latin. She has served as vice president of the Bible Club, was named by the faculty to Who's Who, and is a member of the First Baptist Church where she has been active in youth work, including youth training and choir.

Scientist Says Aging Process Delay Likely

NEW YORK (AP) — A variety of reaction ranging from "great" to "contrary to nature" and "highly unlikely" came today from both young and old after a pathologist suggested that science might someday delay the aging process.

Dr. Robert R. Kohn, a pathologist at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, says "there's no theoretical reason why we should not be able to keep people as they are at age 20 to 30 for another 40 years."

"Assuming society would want it," added Kohn. He offered the theory that aging is a normal disease and conceivably susceptible to being inhibited by chemical or other means.

"ALL FOR IT"

Some indicated they would want it, such as baseball catcher Joe Torre, 24, of the Milwaukee Braves, who said, "It would be great," and Harold Lloyd, a comedian who starred in the silent-picture era, who remarked, "I'm all for it."

Others indicated they would prefer to let nature take its own course.

Marilyn Wahl, 21, a Los Angeles airline stewardess, said: "I don't think I'd like it. There are rewards in growing older and maturing. There's pros and cons — growing old with your children and enjoying some of the things they do. But there's something wonderful about maturing. Being twice as long, the 20-to-30 age bracket wouldn't be quite as enjoyable."

A Dallas lawyer who is approaching 80 said, "There is no need to speculate about remaining 20 to 30. That is contrary to nature, the Bible and the Lord's decree."

CARELESS AGE

Ann Bittner, 47, a Chicago television assembly-line supervisor, and Dr. Bonnie Strickland, 28, dean of women at Emory University, reacted differently.

"I think people from 20 to 30 are dying faster than older folks or they soon will be," said Mrs. Bittner. "The reason is they live too fast. Bad diets and carelessness with their health in general puts them in bad shape. Why make more people get into bad shape by keeping them at a careless age?"

MAIL POURS IN TO CAT

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Julian St. Phillip lounged carelessly in his ivy and old-brick French quarter patio today. He was waiting for the postman.

The postman brings a lot for Julian. Magazines, enticing brochures, books, credit cards from loan companies, pleas from charitable organizations, and advertisements.

The flow still amazes Julian's mistress, a handsome blonde who drives a sporty car.

Julian is her cat. He is not a common cat. He is a yellow-eyed Persian of rare silver coloring. He weighs about 20 pounds, which is a lot of cat. He will drink only from a whisky sour glass. But he can't read any better than an alley tabby.

Reader or not, Julian must be on almost all the mailing lists which circulate to national advertisers, solicitors and business firms.

"I started innocently enough. It decided that new subscribers to magazines get a cheaper rate," said Miss Katherine Evans. "My initial subscriptions were about to expire. Instead of renewing, I sent in Julian's name."

There may be something mysteriously attractive in the name. In any case, Julian was soon dragging much more mail than Miss Evans.

She changed the nameplate outside 1022 St. Phillip St. to read, K. H. Evans and Julian St. Phillip, which led to spicy rumors in the neighborhood.

Miss Evans couldn't throw away Julian's mail unopened if she wanted to. Some friends have taken to writing her in Julian's name.

Plans Available For High School

A set of plans and specifications for the Big Spring High School enlarging and remodeling program are at the Chamber of Commerce office for any one interested. They are not to be taken from the office.

Plans include all building, electrical and mechanical, as well as grading work to be done on the new structure. Contractors and subcontractors may see the plans for figuring costs if interested.

Atmar Atkinson, architect, told the Big Spring school board Tuesday night that seven contractors had asked for plans and specifications. Bids for the work will be opened at 2 p.m. June 18 in the high school cafeteria.

Master Plan bond funds set up for the project run to $3.5 million.

Arrest Made In Alamo City Death

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Nick Garcia, 49, was stabbed to death Wednesday night in his apartment. Another man was arrested.

Good Growing Weather Back Across Texas

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Farm work, generally was at a standstill over most of Texas because of rains. But, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, some areas still need more rain.

The overall moisture situation is good, Hutchison added. With the return of good growing weather, crops and pastures should make excellent growth, he said.

Extensive damage to crops occurred where rain was excessive and where hail hit.

Widespread rain over the Panhandle helped ranges and some wheat. Some hail damage hit southwest counties. Potatoes and onions made good growth.

Moisture ranges from adequate to short, and more rain is needed all through the South Plains. Cotton and grain sorghum were being planted. Some replanting will be necessary due to heavy rains and hail. Seeding disease hit some cotton. Irrigated wheat, except where damaged by hail, looks good. Dryland wheat is very poor. Early sorghum made good progress. Stock water usually is adequate.

Rain in the Rolling Plains ranged from 2 to 10 inches. Five of the 22 counties need more rain. Grain is maturing fast. Cotton and sorghum planting continued. Some replanting due to heavy rains will be necessary.

All North Central Texas got rains varying from 2.5 to 11 inches with some hail damage in Parker and Wise counties. Grains are maturing, and prospects are good. Warm, sunny weather for all crops is needed. Ranges and livestock were in good condition.

Moisture in Northeast Texas is ample. Cotton has been damaged by the rain and much will have to be replanted. General prospects are good. Stock water is plentiful. Oats were being damaged by rust. Wheat is in the dough stage and watermelons are bunching to run.

Spotted light to heavy rains with hail and high winds improved the moisture situation in far West Texas, but also caused some damage. Livestock conditions are improving. Crops are making good progress. Alfalfa and grain harvesting started. Labor is short.

Heavy rains fell in the Hill Country and all counties in West Central Texas got good rains. Rains helped late oats and fields should be good. Earlier fields have been grazed out and some will be baled. Wheat yields are expected to be above average. Most sorghum has been planted. Only a small percentage of cotton is in the ground. Planting will be completed swiftly when fields dry. A heavy crop of pecans has been set.

Rains in Central Texas were excessive in many areas and crop losses have been severe in some counties due to flooding. Some ripening grains are lodging due to the heavy rains and high winds. Thrip and aphid damage to cotton was reported in Bell and Coryell counties. Some cotton will have to be replanted. Stock tanks are overflowing.

Southeast counties in East Texas need rain. Other counties have adequate moisture and crops are making good growth. A good pecan crop has been set.

Harvard College Project Benefits Mental Patients

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — On a quiet street near Harvard is a crowded house called Wellmet. Eight college students live there with eight mental patients.

Some patients, says Dave Kantor, Wellmet Project president, are "the people everybody has given up on."

Wellmet is a place to live for those who have no place else except the wards of mental hospitals. It is meant to be an alternative to endless days of custodial care.

HUMAN DIGNITY

In Wellmet the patient finds a family — his fellow patients and the students who, says Kantor,

"bring to the house zest, enthusiasm, flexibility, a set of ideals, of proposals and expectations, a great tolerance for deviation, a consciousness of the human dignity of the patient."

"The student," he says, "thinks the world can be changed. Precisely the kind of climate that is best for the chronically sick patient."

From Wellmet, the patients go out to look for jobs and to begin their return to society.

"The idea is to move on," says Dr. Victor Gelineau, Massachusetts director of research in drug addiction and Wellmet vice president and treasurer.

Wellmet Project runs the house with a small board of directors, a psychiatrist and a resident staff of one.

Sponsored by a Harvard student service organization, Wellmet began in 1960. Some 25 patients have lived in the project in the five years. Half have returned to mental institutions.

BACK IN SOCIETY

The others are living "back in the matrix of the community," says Dr. Gelineau.

They are not necessarily fully productive members in the popular sense: most hold jobs such as file clerk, stock boy, aide in a nursing home. Some simply live off pensions.

"We feel," says Dr. Gelineau, "that the community should have more give. That it should be willing to keep people who are not hot-shots at productivity. The whole idea is to have one community, not one community of sick people and another of well people."

The students, five men and three women, attend Harvard and Radcliffe College. They pay $20 a week room and board and take regular turns at house-keeping chores, as do the patients. The patients pay room and board as they are able. A student normally stays one semester at the house.

Buchanan Requests Soil Stewardship Observance

"Challenges of Growth" is the theme for Soil Stewardship Week to be observed in Texas and throughout the nation May 23-30.

"The primary purpose of Soil Stewardship Week is to remind everyone—urban and rural residents alike — of his obligation unto God as a steward of the soil," Jack Buchanan, chairman of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation district board, said. "Every one depends on the soil for most of his food and clothing and much of the material used to build his home."

The Soil Stewardship Week observance will include special sermons in the churches, programs to civic clubs, and other gatherings. George Sultemier and Earl Hogan of the Soil Conservation Service presented a program to the Special Education School recently on "A Heritage We Guard." The theme of the film shown was on failures, and the need to become better stewards of the soil.

The National Association has sponsored this observance since 1954. The idea was started 19 years ago when the publisher of Farm and Ranch Magazine inspired religious leaders in several Southern states to set aside one Sunday each year to remind their congregations of their responsibilities as stewards of the soil. The observance was later expanded to one week each year.

In plans for the observance and developing the material, the association has the help of a Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee composed of representatives of the Southern Baptist Convention, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., National Catholic Rural Life Conference, and National Lutheran Council, Buchanan said.

Speakers Note World Affairs

Current conditions in the Middle East were described by the Rev. Thomas Holland, Catholic chaplain at Webb AFB when he was guest speaker for the Tuesday evening meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club. An honored guest during the dinner meeting in the Holiday Inn was Mrs. Bliss Rehmeier, director of district 8.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Bert Affleck, president, and the invocation was worded by Mrs. Ray Nichols.

Rev. Holland told of his experiences and observations while stationed in the Middle East. In discussing Greece, Turkey and Saudi Arabia, he stressed the importance of their position in regard to the Soviet Union and detailed their religious, cultural and economic status.

Rev. Holland referred to Turkey as the cradle of civilization and Christianity. It lies next to the Soviet Union which makes it susceptible to communism, and he described the Turks as a very poor but proud people who embrace the Moslem religion. He felt that it is our job to prevent Turkey from coming under Communist domination.

The Greeks he described as Christian, and the difference in the religions of these countries creates problems because they are neighbors. The speaker said that Greeks are industrious, religious and cling to their culture while the Turks are poor but too proud to work so this also creates a problem.

The comparison he made between women of the United States and those in the Middle East was that, in those countries, women's life is one of hard work; here women's life is one of contributions. He pointed out that people there, who have known thousands of years of hard work and deprivation, are now beginning to rebel against their type of government. He cited the reforms inaugurated by Crown Prince Faisal of Saudi Arabia.

coming year at a dinner meeting at the Village Restaurant in Coahoma. Mrs. J. R. Asbury Sr. conducted the candlelight ceremony to install Mrs. Bill Stone, president. Mrs. Herbert R. Heath, vice president; Mrs. Dee Ratliff, recording secretary; Mrs. Jerry Callihan, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Winifred Greenlees, treasurer.

Mrs. Stone, Big Spring Delegate to the Texas-Louisiana Division meeting held recently in Shreveport, La., reported on the activities of the meeting. As of March 31, 1965, NSA, the largest organization of women in one profession, has 24,990 members in 561 chapters throughout the world. She said it is NSA's aim to improve each secretary member professionally and personally through education.

The NSA provides $60,000 annually for scholarships for young women interested in training as professional secretaries.

The local chapter will stress professional growth through education through most of their speakers and programs for the coming year.

Guests for the meeting Tuesday evening were Mrs. Bill Emerson and Mrs. Francis Plowman.

MRS. E. A. JONES

Harmony Key Found By Mrs. E. A. Jones

By JO ANN PHINIZY
Mrs. E. A. Jones is a lucky person. She has found the mystical key to managing a home and to being an artist. A sense of humor is the common denominator to both rather demanding professions.

"Don't take yourself too seriously," she said, "or life will take on more complications than there is time to solve."

Following in the footsteps of her words, Mrs. Jones' home reflects her personality. The address is 1315 Mt. Vernon. The interior is colorful and trim. This is a home that is meant for comfortable relaxing and the welcoming of friends.

Mrs. Jones, the artist, believes that painting is coordination between the mind, the scene and the hands. The end result is a picture that is meant to strike a cord of remembrance in its viewer.

She is presently working on a series of sketches and water colors based on old Big Spring landmarks. "There's life in every line of old things and places," she says. "Modern buildings hold no warmth and they are left without a backward glance."

QUICK MEALS
Mrs. Jones, the homemaker, also has words to say about the art of cooking. Meals, she thinks, should be something that can be prepared quickly and still have plenty of flavor. As far as menu planning, well, that's fine, too. However, Mrs. Jones usually finds herself minus this or that seasoning right in the middle of whatever she is cooking. The remedy, of course, is another trip to the store. This has happened so many times to Mrs. Jones that it is an accepted habit. It is such an ingrained trait that Mrs. Jones just smiles and suffers no lasting remorse.

Many of Mrs. Jones' cooking methods swirl around the working schedule of her husband, "Buck" Jones. Jones is in the maintenance department of Cabot Corporation. He's the man that finds the cog in the wheel, or that extra loud burp in the oil line. It is a job that starts just before the first rooster crows and ends in the early afternoon.

EARLY DINNER
Both Joneses are of a mind that no amount of sorcery can add interest to an early morning breakfast, or fascination to a box lunch. So their main meal is

Adds Zest To Leisure

Just right when "the girls" meet at your house.

MAJORIE'S ORANGE MUFFINS
2 cups sifted flour
3 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 orange
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup orange juice

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, sugar and orange rind; beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in milk and orange juice. Add sifted dry ingredients; stir just enough to moisten them. Fill muffin pans two-thirds full.

Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 20 to 25 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Serve hot.

Makes a dozen medium muffins.

around 4 o'clock in the evening. That's the time that Mrs. Jones prepares foods that they both like. Their meals may be hot or cold, seasoned or bland. Just depends on the weather and what they are hungry for at the moment.

Meals weren't always that casual. Time was when their son, Mitchell, was at home. He grew into a six footer on three large, hot and prompt meals a day. Now he is airman second class, a language expert and stationed on the Island of Crete. He is also chess champion of the Mediterranean Air Force. In spite of his accomplishments, Mrs. Jones wonders if he is getting enough fried chicken and lemon pie. She also worries about his not writing home more often.

In the way of cooking expediting hints, Mrs. Jones has found that pastry, in large amounts, can be prepared beforehand and kept in the refrigerator until ready for use. She also has discovered that a skillet is always better than a double boiler for making fillings for pies.

Mrs. Jones shares some of her quickest and favorite recipes. She says that the hot rolls are "just about mistake proof," and the Devil's Food Cake recipe is now in its third generation of users and is "without equal."

OLD FASHIONED DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups sweet milk
6 tps. cocoa
2 eggs well beaten
1 tsp. soda
1/2 cup shortening
2 cups flour
3 tps. boiling water
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
Boil 1 cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar and cocoa, cool and add vanilla. Cream shortening and 1 cup sugar and eggs. Add the cocoa mixture. Pour the 3 tps. boiling water over the soda and add to mixture. Pour in greased and floured baking pans. Bake at 325 degrees until done.

SEVEN MINUTE FROSTING
Mix 2 unbeaten egg whites, 1/4 cups sugar, 5 tps. water and 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar in top of double boiler. Use rotary beater seven minutes or until frosting holds its shape. Blend in 1 tsp. vanilla and 1/4 tsp. salt.

HOT ROLLS
1 cup warm water
1 pkg. dry yeast
2 1/4 cups flour
2 tps. melted shortening or corn oil
1 tsp. sugar
Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add salt and sugar. Stir in flour. Roll out, and cut with biscuit cutter. Turn biscuits in greased pan. Let rise until double in bulk, allowing about 45 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees.

STRAWBERRY - CRANBERRY COBBLER
1 (10 oz. pkg.) frozen strawberries
1 can cranberry juice
2 tps. sugar
2 tps. butter
Mix well and pour into nine inch pastry-lined pie pan. Cover with lattice pastry strips. Bake in pre-heated oven at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

PLAIN PASTRY
2 cups flour
1 tsp. salt
2-3 cup shortening
3 to 4 tps. water
Cut in shortening with pastry blender until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water and mix lightly with fork until pastry holds together.

PECAN PIE
2 tps. butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup milk

1 cup chopped pecans
3 eggs
1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup corn syrup
1/2 tsp. vanilla
Mix all ingredients and pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 10 minutes, then at 350 degrees for 25 minutes.

CRUST
1 cup flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1-3 cup shortening
2 tps. water
Mix flour and salt. Cut in shortening. Sprinkle with water, mix with fork. Roll out and place in pie pan.

EGG CUSTARD
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 large can evaporated milk
4 eggs, well beaten
1 tsp. vanilla
Mix all ingredients. Pour into custard cups and sprinkle with nutmeg. Set custard cups in pan half filled with water and bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

RICE PUDDING
4 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
3 eggs
1/2 cup rice
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 stick margarine
1 tsp. vanilla
Cook rice in 2 cups milk. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour into baking dish. Put baking dish in pan half filled with hot water and bake 30 minutes at 325 degrees.

MEAT BALL SUPPER BOWL
1 lb. ground beef
1/4 cup chopped parsley
1 tsp. salt
1/4 cup water for meat balls
1 tsp. steak sauce
2 tps. butter
6 cups water for soup
1 can or 2 pkgs. dry onion soup
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup uncooked rice
1/2 cup grated raw carrots
Mix ground beef lightly with parsley, salt, water and steak sauce in large bowl. Shape into 36 small balls. Brown in butter, remove from fire and let cool. Pour off excess fat.

Heat the six cups of water to boiling. Stir in soup mix, celery and rice. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Stir in carrots and meat balls. Cook an additional 5 minutes.

Batter Mix Aids Prune Cobblers
We tried one of our favorite cobbler batters with fresh prune plums with great success.

FRESH PLUM COBBLER
1 1/4 to 2 lbs. fresh prune-plums
3/4 cup plus 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 egg
3 tps. milk
1/4 tsp. vanilla
Wash, pit and quarter plums; there should be 1 quart. Mix with 3/4 cup sugar in a 9 by 9 by 2 inch cake pan. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; cut in butter until it is in fine particles.

Beat egg and 1/2 cup sugar until thick and ivory-colored; beat in milk and vanilla. Fold into flour mixture; do not stir smooth. Spread over plums—batter will be in a thin layer. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until brown and cake tester inserted in center of topping comes out clean. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Food Dollar Savings Suggested

COLLEGE STATION — There are several food dollar "stretchers" available this week to enable shoppers to shave costs on food budgets.

Mrs. Gwen Clayatt, Texas A&M Extension consumer marketing specialist, offers these suggestions for cutting costs. She also suggests that shoppers check with their local supermarkets for other "specials."

At the retail meat counters, look for best beef buys on ground meat, round steaks, chuck roasts and steaks and beef liver. Top pork values include ham portions and slices, picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks. Fryers remain in ample supply at reasonable prices. Turkeys continue to be moderately priced.

Grade A large eggs offer the most quality and economy.

Fresh fruit and vegetable items in good supply at pleasing prices include apples, watermelons, bananas, oranges, lemons, pineapples, mustard greens, sweet corn, celery, dry yellow onions, carrots, radishes, green onions, and a variety of leaf lettuce.

Strawberry supplies and prices remain uneven. They've been late in maturing in many areas. The total estimated crop is below that of last year, yet fresh strawberries are expected to be available in fairly plentiful supply on through June.

This may be another record for milk production, and the lineup of dairy products available continue to grow. There's a large variety of dips made from cheese, cream cheese and sour cream. These dairy products are good to have on hand for unexpected company, the specialist reminds.

Easy Made Tuna Rolls

A friend of ours often makes this dish for her family when the ingredients are at hand.

TUNA ROLL

- 2 cups biscuit mix
- 2-3 cup (about) milk
- 2 cans (6 1/2 oz. each) tuna
- 1 medium onion (finely chopped)
- 1-3 to 1/2 cup finely diced celery
- 1 egg (slightly beaten)

Stir together biscuit mix and milk to make a soft dough; turn out on a pastry cloth; turn over and knead half a dozen times. Roll out into a 14 by 9 inch rectangle.

Drain tuna and mix with onion, celery and egg; taste and add salt and pepper if needed. Spread tuna mixture over biscuit dough. Roll up jelly-roll fashion; seal ends; slash at 5 even intervals. Place on a well-greased cookie sheet or jelly roll pan, edge side down. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

Skillet Prepared Complete Meal

An excellent combination of flavors and quick to prepare.

SKILLET SHRIMP DISH

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup each coarsely diced onion and green pepper
- 2 cups cut fresh corn
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 tsp. sugar
- 1 can (4 1/2-oz.) cleaned shrimp, drained and rinsed
- 1 large tomato, skinned and seeded and diced

In a 10-inch skillet melt butter; add onion and green pepper; cook gently, stirring several times, until wilted. Add corn, salt, pepper and sugar; cook and stir constantly over high heat for a few minutes. Add shrimp and tomato; cover and cook gently for about 5 minutes or until shrimp is hot. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

NOTE: To prepare corn, cut kernels from cobs — about 3 large ears of corn will make the 2 cups called for; draw the back of the knife down the cobs to release milky pulp.

Macaroni, Beans Base For Salad

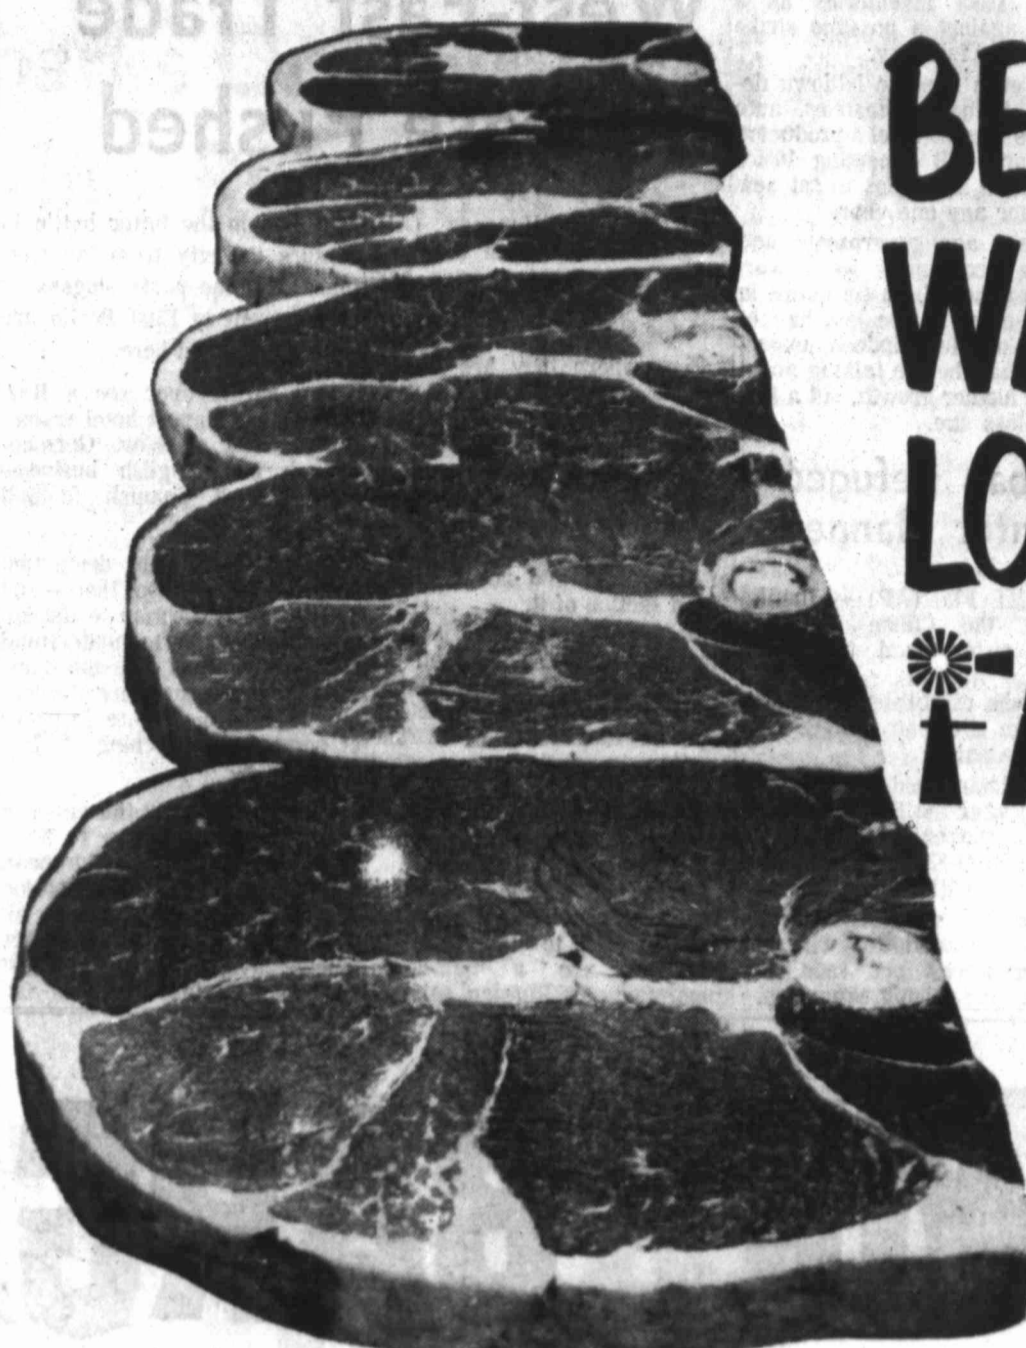

The gang coming? A salad will do if you have a hearty dessert.

AMERICAN SALAD

- 3 cups cooked macaroni shells
- 1 can (1 lb.) kidney beans
- 1 can (12 oz.) luncheon meat, diced
- 2 cups diced cucumber
- 3/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tsp. prepared mustard
- 1/2 tsp. tabasco sauce
- 1/2 cup commercial sour cream
- 2 tbsps. minced parsley

Toss together the macaroni, beans, meat and cucumber. Mix the mayonnaise with the mustard and tabasco; mix in sour cream; toss with first mixture; sprinkle with parsley.

Chill. Makes 6 servings.

DEAR ABBY
Education
Plus 'Guts'

DEAR ABBY: I have been happily married for over 20 years to a self-made man who has had very little education. He is doing very well financially. Our sons are of college age, and my husband refuses to encourage them to get a higher education. He says all you need to get along is guts. I don't agree. Do you? VAN NUYS

DEAR ABBY: I've been married three and one-half months and I love married life. My husband and I get along fine except for one thing. He doesn't want me to wear a girdle. So far it hasn't bothered me because most of my clothes can be worn without one. But with summer coming, I'll be wearing last summer's clothes and they all have straight skirts. I can't wear a straight skirt without a girdle. My husband says I don't need a girdle, but I feel sloppy without one. When I wear a girdle, my husband doesn't talk to me for a day. I love my husband and want to please him, but this has me stumped. I don't know why he is so against girdles. GIRLDE TROUBLE

DEAR TROUBLE: Tell your husband that you FEEL better in a girdle and, furthermore, he can wear what he wants to under his clothes, and you'll do the same. Stay FIRM on that. (Maybe he was fascinated by a bowl of gelatin when he was a baby.)

DEAR ABBY: Last month my girl friend's brother-in-law died. I met him four years ago and didn't even know his last name. (He was my girl friend's sister's husband.) I didn't think it necessary to send any condolences because I really didn't know him that well.

Well, for about three weeks after that my girl friend was very cool to me. She never called. I was always calling her. Then she finally told me that she was very hurt because I didn't send her or her widowed sister condolences. To tell you the truth I didn't even think of

Neel Appaloosa
Horses Win

Appaloosa horses owned by Mr. and Mrs. T. Willard Neel have placed in several shows this year as they have done in the past. Most recent placings were at Baird May 22 and Clear Fork Downs in Fort Worth May 23.

Spotted Frog, permanent registered stallion, was second high performance horse, defeated by one point by Tico Toad, owned by Gordon Johnson of Longview, and ridden by N. K. Bussey. He won first in roping and first in reining at the Baird show.

Top Hat Miss Cindy, took first place in her mare class at Baird.

At Clear Fork Downs, Miss Cindy, a new starter in cutting, won second place in a class of eight champion cutting horses. She was defeated only by Pan Zareta, owned by B. J. Blackmon of Odessa and ridden by Frank Craig. Pan Zareta was high point Appaloosa cutting horse of Texas in 1964. He is a half brother to Top Hat Miss Cindy.

Spotted Frog tied for high point performance horse of the show. Both Top Hat Miss Cindy and Spotted Frog were shown and ridden by Billy Ray Morrow of Big Spring.

A recent show, held in Bovina May 8, saw Top Hat Miss Cindy take first in her class. Spotted Frog placed first in his class and named reserve champion. He also received high point place in performance.

Trip Canceled
By McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said today Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has canceled a meeting this weekend in Bonn with West German Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel.

The Pentagon said McNamara had to remain in Washington because of the absence of McNamara's deputy, Cyrus Vance, who has been in Santo Domingo for the last 10 days. McNamara hopes to set a later date for a meeting.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Asst. Secretary of Defense John T. McNaughton, in charge of military foreign assistance, will leave Saturday night for two days of conferences with their counterparts in Bonn. They had been scheduled to accompany McNamara.

Turndown In
U.S. Economy
Said Unlikely

NEW YORK (AP) — Both psychological and monetary weapons are being readied to ward off any letdown in Americans' confidence that prosperity is here to stay.

Government officials and agencies are now starting a chorus of warnings that people mustn't expect too much. They seek to prevent nervousness if the big upsurge in the early months of this year isn't duplicated in the next few months.

At the same time, new monetary stimulants for the economy are on order for this fall. One is the cut in excise taxes which Congress is pushing through speedily. Another is an increase in Social Security benefits this fall, just ahead of the rise in Social Security taxes Jan. 1.

HIKE SPENDING

The new money from the tax cut and the more generous payments to the growing number of retired is counted upon to boost consumer spending.

Government spending is going up, too. Some see more defense outlays in the making. Many of the anti-poverty programs are ripe for expansion.

Federal debt is due for another rise. It is now $316 billion but the Treasury says it will be $326 billion a year from now. Wall Street regards that as inflationary, however Washington may say prices went up as a result of the Treasury's request that the debt limit be raised.

Business plans for expansion spending are revised upward steadily.

All these should help to insulate public confidence from any shock if there's a downturn this summer in economic statistics, or any slowdown in the rate of growth.

Stress is laid on the signs that 1965 as a whole is going to be a prosperous year, even if the rate of growth varies from quarter to quarter, as it usually does in any year.

AUTO SPURT

Government agencies also are stressing that the big spurt ahead in the first quarter of 1965 was both unexpected and due in part to unusual circumstances.

Always cited are the catch-up in auto sales after shortages due to last fall's strikes, and the build-up in steel inventories as a hedge against a possible strike in that key industry.

But even if some letdown develops in both industries, auto makers and steel producers alike are still expecting 1965's production and sales to set new highs for any one year.

A year ago government and private economists were worried lest there be a turndown in the economy in the last half of 1965. Now few indeed expect that. What they're talking about now is further growth, but a less breathless one.

Cuban Refugee
Center Planned

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Juanita Castro, the Cuban dictator's exiled sister, said today the Marta Abreu Foundation which she established here will subsidize a Cuban refugee center in Jamaica.

Miss Castro said the help was offered after the Rev. Dormouth Verley, who operates the refugee haven in Kingston, informed her it was without funds.

Associates said Miss Castro set up the foundation with her own resources but soon will start a fund-raising campaign.

West-East Trade
Increase Pushed

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Businessmen from the West today are breaking down barriers between Eastern Europe and the West.

Everywhere they are finding the welcome sign out in a way not dreamed of two or three years ago.

Increasing East-West trade is only one of the signs of a reviving feeling among East Europeans that they again are a part of the world and not a segregated section of it.

Budapest is exhibiting its new view by advertising itself as "the center of Europe." That is intended to mean not East Europe but the whole of it. The country is so Western-oriented that visitors are hard put to find any real evidence that they are behind the Iron Curtain.

SLOGANS ABSENT

While such evidence exists, in Hungary and elsewhere, in this city you have to hunt for it. In Budapest are a half-dozen monuments to Russian soldiers who died in the bitter battle to capture the city from the Germans. But the party slogans so ever-present in East Berlin are simply not found here.

You hardly ever see a Russian. One Budapest hotel recently was full of West German, French and English businessmen and a Spanish football team.

A small Soviet delegation spent a day or so there—and had to speak German to the hotel employees, who understand hardly a word of Russian. German is the prevailing foreign language here, despite 15 years of compulsory teaching of Russian.

These are among the outward signs of what appears to be a facing about of East European populations. With the exception of Bulgaria, whose people always had a deep sympathy for fellow Slavs in Russia, all East European states treasure and emphasize Western interests and backgrounds.

Romania has undertaken a "de-Russification" campaign that is almost comic in its thoroughness. The country has abolished compulsory teaching of Russian, suppressed Russian institutions and street names, and is pursuing an independence stance politically and economically.

In Hungary, the people have taken Westernization into their own hands. It is not only Westernization, but a restoration of Hungarian nationalism and national identity so long smothered under Russian authority.

In Czechoslovakia, party leaders have launched the country on an economic decentralization program, the whole atmosphere of which is western, and away from Communist-style authoritarian economy.

Of the lot, East Germany reflects the least "Westward turning." Yet old and young there make it clear they don't intend to become Russified.

Looking back after a series of tours through most of this Eastern European area, it appears that an American seeking business should head for Romania. It is the most wide open to Western trade. Czechoslovakia is running close.

India Embarks On Key Task Of Improving Russian Ties

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Naggled by a year-old question, India embarked this week on the crucial task of improving relations with the Soviet Union.

The question: "Can we do it without Nehru?"

It is just short of a year since Jawaharlal Nehru died, but the Indian government still has not recovered from massive doubts that lead experienced, accomplished men to ask that question every time a big problem arises.

There would have been no question about Nehru's prospects in the Kremlin. He was a master at wooing frosty adversaries and then coming home triumphantly with the economic and diplomatic support India desperately needed.

There was no such confidence when his successor, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, flew off to the Kremlin. There was concern that this man, who still has to prove his mastery of many problems at home, would have a tough time with the Russians.

But to the surprise of many Indians, it appeared Shastri was doing right well on his own in Moscow.

WON PLEDGE

The Russians went out of their way to be friendly and Shastri won a pledge that Moscow would double its economic aid, now totalling about $1 billion, and support what India calls its nonaligned foreign policy.

This success, though moderate as diplomacy goes, already has raised morale in New Delhi among people who have been in a sort of rudderless shock since Nehru's death — a turning point in the nation's history.

But a new question quickly arose: "After Nehru, what?" For it soon became apparent that the sprawling giant was sick and that Nehru — despite all his greatness — had not been able to cure India in his 17 years as its only prime minister.

India's troubles burst to the surface: nationwide food riots, language riots in the south, religious tension, political dissension, quarrels with neighboring nations.

Shastri moved in.

The little (5-foot-2, 105-pounds) man, in ill health, fought back. But he had none of Nehru's skill before a microphone or world-traveled polish.

Several times Shastri was close to political disaster. Sections of his Congress party rebelled. Cabinet ministers began bickering with him and among themselves. Ambitious politicians campaigned for his job.

Shastri's narrowest escape —

if, indeed, he has escaped — came earlier this month when the public was stunned by the full ego-twisting impact of India's border fight with Pakistan in the Rann of Kutch.

ROLLED BACK

The Indian army was rolled back in three areas and Pakistani troops stood on "sacred Indian soil." There were demands Shastri order an offensive or resign. Shastri refused, desperately trying to avoid a bloody all-out fight and at the same time pacify war hawks around him.

Ironically, the Kutch dispute stemmed from one of Nehru's failures. Though brilliant at international conferences the world over, Nehru could not shape good relations with India's neighbors, particularly Pakistan.

Throughout his first year in office, Shastri had to deal with other inherited problems. A vast section of South India was plunged into near anarchy during bloody language riots. The issue, which Nehru never resolved, was how to bind diverse India together with a national language and not provoke minority language areas into tantrums that might rend India's national fabric.

Onlookers Ignore Screams For Help

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pretoria, Duarte, Azusa and finally Glendora.

Roxann Grebe says a would-be rapist held a beer-can opener to her throat as she drove her small car on a wild ride through Los Angeles suburbs.

"Each time a car pulled up next to us, I'd scream and he'd cut me again with the opener," the 18-year-old high school senior said. "The people in the other car would just stare and drive on."

"Several times I'd manage to get part way out the door. I cried out for help, and he dragged me back inside each time. People watched — and turned away."

She pulled open the top of her house coat slightly to show long scratches on her throat and upper chest.

The girl said her assailant dragged her back to the car and forced her to drive again — through the communities of Temple City, Arcadia, Monrovia, Duarte, Azusa and finally Glendora.

Then, Roxann said, in Glendora the attacker took the wheel and drove to an isolated area in the foothills to the north, halted the car and tried to attack her.

She fought back, finally shoved away the hand with the opener and raced for a house not far away.

"I saw a lady there just about to walk inside," she said. "Please help me," I cried. "Please help me."

"But the woman replied, 'That's what you get for going up in the hills with your boy friend,' and turned away. Boy!"

Roxann ran another mile to the home of a girl friend, whose parents called police.

"I was pretty disgusted with the whole human race," Roxann said.

Court Upholds Sheriff Term

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld Wednesday the 10-year prison sentence given former Somervell County Sheriff Paul Bone on charges of misappropriating county funds.

The court withdrew a prior opinion that it lacked jurisdiction to consider Bone's appeal.

Bone was convicted last July in Meridian of misappropriating $6,184 in Somervell County funds. A previous trial in Glen Rose, the Somervell County seat, ended in a hung jury.

Attorneys for Bone contended the trial court erred in not charging the jury on the law of accomplices, alleging that at least two other persons knew of the alleged misappropriation but did not report it.

A Devotional For The Day

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. (Mark 12:30-31)
PRAYER: Most gracious Father, as we go about our daily tasks, we pray for Thy spirit to be in us, for Thou art love. Teach us to cultivate that Love in our own hearts so that others may see Thy love, Thy compassion, expressed through us. In the spirit of Christ. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Right To Disagree

The deepening U.S. involvement in Viet Nam troubles many Americans. The future of our democratic government indeed would be questionable if that involvement did not worry Americans, touching as it does upon the crucial issues of war or peace and the ever-present threat of escalation into nuclear warfare.

Yet no one with any true appreciation of the American tradition will condemn those who do not agree with the policy we are pursuing in Southeast Asia. The critics of our policy may be misguided. They may suffer from lack of information. They may let their emotions and their fears get the best of them. But it is a profound disservice to them and to our heritage to suggest that their criticism is based on devious or unpatriotic grounds.

President Johnson set the question on a higher plane in a recent press conference when he refused to "characterize" his critics. He obviously would like to have the complete support of every American citizen, but he is aware that a complete national consensus is impossible. But he refuses to descend to the level of questioning the motives of his critics.

Freedom of speech and opinion will be tolerated, or it will be suppressed. There are no half-way stations. These United States have flourished on diversities of belief, freely expressed. Since when has it been un-American to disagree?

Handwriting

The auto industry's heel-dragging in the matter of curbs on car and truck exhaust pollution of the air is beginning to reap its deserved reward. Federal law to force the industry to do what it has not chosen to do on its own is on the way to enactment. The Senate has passed a measure authorizing the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to fix standards of allowable car exhaust.

This does not assure enactment: the House must still approve, and getting its sanction of this step may be more difficult. But at the very least there is now some clearly discernible handwriting on the wall. It says that the industry had better do something about building cars that will not contribute so much poison to the air we must breathe.

This is not the first handwriting on the wall. California took the lead by ordering exhaust control devices on all new cars in that state. This stimulated the industry to work harder on developing methods of control. With the Senate's added nudge, even if the House does not concur in this session, the industry may now use its great resources to lick this by no means insoluble problem.

Better Let The Kennedys Win

WASHINGTON — The Northwest Settlement House in Washington, D.C., held a charity pet show at Hickory Hill, the home of Sen. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy, and as luck would have it I happened to be one of the judges.

Judging a pet show can be a very difficult proposition under any circumstances, but judging one at the home of the Kennedys can be almost impossible. It is no secret the Kennedys like to win at anything they compete in and a pet show is no exception.

WHEN I FIRST arrived, Ethel Kennedy said she didn't want to do anything to influence my judging, but she introduced me to each one of her children "just so you will know who they are."

There were about 500 children, including my own, competing for nine classes of prizes, and each mother kept a beady eye on me as I tried to judge the winners.

The first category gave us no trouble because it had to do with

Billy Graham

In John 3:7 it says: "Ye must be born again." Our Sunday school teacher says this can happen only once, but some of us don't agree with him. What is your opinion?"

R. M.

The Bible says: "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: Old things are passed away; behold all things are become new." (II Corinthians 5:17) When any person becomes tired of his narrow, selfish life, when he confesses his sins and asks the Father to forgive him, the Holy Spirit can enter his mind and heart and make him a new creature. Then he can make a fresh start. This should be necessary only once. The Bible says: "We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not." (I John 5:18) A person who has been born again will say "no" to temptation. When he has surrendered his life to Christ he will walk a new way, and no longer trip over the old stumbling blocks.

If you once thought you were born again, and now have fallen back into the old sinful ways, you didn't experience a true re-birth. But our religion is one of the second-chance. Jesus didn't come to condemn, but to save. Completely surrender your life to Him and you will truly be born again. You will know when this happens for you'll experience the joy of new life in Christ.

A Look At Country With Two 'Presidents'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fog has settled over the Dominican Republic where the Johnson administration has tried to end the revolution and so far has failed.

First, this brief background on a country which lived 31 years under a dictator and now has two "presidents":

From 1930 until his assassination in 1961 Gen. Rafael Trujillo was absolute dictator while those around him got rich in a land of poverty. There were, of course, no real political parties.

AFTER HIS death the Dominicans struggled through four governments and then, in a free election, chose Juan Bosch president. He lasted seven months until he was thrown out in 1963 by the military which scrapped the constitution and set up a five-man junta.

Although the United States recognized this junta, it lacked mass support and was heaved out in the revolution which began April 24. The military, defying the rebels, quickly set up another junta.

Skipping over the intervening weeks, this is the picture now: There are two warring factions, the five-man civilian-military junta headed by Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera as "president" and the rebels headed by Col. Francisco Caamano Dengo as "president."

On April 28 President Johnson sent in Marines. At first he said they were there to save American lives; later he said they were there to prevent a takeover by Communists who, he explained, controlled the revolution.

THEN ON the weekend of May 15 he sent in his special adviser, McGeorge Bundy, a former Harvard dean, as his trouble-shooter. Bundy returned to Washington Wednesday after 10 days in the Dominican Republic. He hadn't solved anything.

What he tried to do was get both sides to agree to a coalition government. To do this, the United States wanted the two leaders, Imbert and Caamano, to step down. But Imbert refused. This was a blow to Bundy and Johnson.

The United States had not only supported the Imbert junta — some say it was created at U.S. suggestion — but two weeks ago was considering recognizing it as the government.

But Imbert reportedly lacked mass support and a week ago U.S. policy shifted support away from Imbert, urging that he and Caamano both step aside.

CAAMANO MAY have undergone a change, too. In the past he had said he would step down but Wednesday he told newsmen no agreement had been reached on forming a coalition although, he said, his talks with Bundy had helped chances for a solution.

When Bundy came home he left the task of working out an agreement with both sides to Dr. Jose Mora, secretary-general of the Organization of American States.

Meanwhile, the OAS had voted 14 to 4 to send in a Latin-American peacekeeping force with troops from five countries, about 2,000 in all. As they move in, the United States will withdraw about 1,700 of its 21,000 troops.

Mute Memorial To Vanished Dream

KHAM DUC, Viet Nam (AP) — Men in power often like to have a hideaway from the world where, in a proper setting, they can brood on their greatness.

The late President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam had plans for a summer palace here 43 miles southwest of Da Nang. A site was cleared atop one of the peaks that tower up to 6,000 feet in wild and lonely grand beauty. As there are no good roads, everything had to be flown in by hand.

AT A cost of $4 to $5 million dollars, an airstrip was built on a 1,600-foot-high plateau. Construction was begun on the foundations for the palace. Then Diem was killed during a political coup, and his unfinished palace hideaway now stands as a mute memorial to his vanished dream.

On the plateau now is a training camp for civilian irregular defense groups, quasi soldier volunteers whose job is to protect isolated villages from Viet Cong raids.

Some of the volunteers once fought against the French in these same hills. Most are quite young, some only 16 years old. But after six weeks of training here they are deemed ready to be thrown against the guerrillas.

"We've got a pretty good set-up here," said Lt. Niel Davidson, 24, Chicago, member of a small U.S. Army Special Forces team which helps train the Vietnamese and Montagnard tribesmen volunteers.

"IT'S PRETTY much like garrison life anywhere except when we go out on operations against the Viet Cong. But I'll say one thing — these are the most miserable mountains and Godawful jungles anyone on a patrol ever saw."

Davidson could be forgiven a bit of homesickness. He was married only three months ago, and a month later had to leave his bride to come to this isolated outpost in a strange land.

To an outsider these lonely circles of security in an enemy sea seem terribly vulnerable to mass attacks. The airstrips are their only lifeline to the outside world.

"We could be overrun," acknowledged the unworried lieutenant, "but they'd have to spend an awful lot of people to do it — more people than they can afford."

Only A Court Can Commit To A Mental Hospital

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please set me, or some people, straight on the laws about committing a person to a state mental hospital.

Some of my husband's friends believe I've done him wrong and think I actually put him in a hospital just because I signed some papers.

I love my husband and miss him.

Am I right in assuming that when I signed the papers, all I was doing was having him examined by psychiatrists, and after a hearing in court the judge sent him to the hospital? —MRS. R. D.

You are entirely correct. A wife can't order her husband committed, nor can a husband order commitment of his wife. Only a court can do that, based on expert testimony. (Some states require such testimony from doctors, but do not insist that the doctors be psychiatrists.)

In some instances, individuals realize that they need psychiatric care and voluntarily agree to enter a hospital. In other cases, the patient does NOT know he needs help and a court order is the only way to see that he gets it.

Friends don't necessarily see enough of a person to recognize the presence of emotional problems. You did, and you did right by having the court and psychiatrists make the decision.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read your column about the little girl who pulls out her hair and swallows it. I had the same problem with my girl when she was about that age. The doctor told me the same thing you said, about it making a ball in the stomach and maybe leading to surgery.

He advised me to have her head shaved. It worked. We had it shaved just three times and she outgrew the habit. She is now 16 and has a fine head of long hair.—MRS. B. C.

This is an odd habit that some youngsters acquire; sometimes the hair balls become quite large and removal by surgery becomes absolutely essential.

Dear Dr. Molner: About a year ago I read about a new way to restore withered muscles. I understand it is done by electric shock. Would this be done in a city the size of Syracuse, or is it still in the experimental stage? I am 41 and had polio when I was two years old. One leg is much smaller than the other. Is it too late for any hope?—MRS. H. L.

I wouldn't call it an electric "shock" exactly. Here's what it is all about: When a leg, hand or other member becomes temporarily paralyzed, the muscles wither from sheer lack of use.

The paralysis comes, of course, because there is an interruption somewhere in the nerve track. The patient wants to move—but the signal never reaches the muscles.

In many cases it is possible to apply a small electric impulse to the nerves somewhere beyond the point of interruption. With each impulse, the muscles contract, and the muscle "gets its exercise" and does not wither. This is done in cases in which the damaged nerve track ultimately can be expected to heal, and the paralysis will end.

I am afraid that this would be of no use in your case, Mrs. H.L. However, I suggest you have an evaluation by specialists in physiotherapy. Yes, certainly in Syracuse.)

Around The Rim

Better Than 'They'

This week there has been considerable national publicity about proposals to preserve the nation's outdoor scenic beauty, including the message from President Johnson and results of the conference on natural beauty.

THIS BRINGS to mind a newspaper column written about a year ago by Herb Caen, columnist for the San Francisco Chronicle. He was writing primarily about the need to preserve the scenic points of San Francisco, but as part of his column he had some strong words about the tendency to say that "they" should do something about improvement, without any defining of who we mean by "they."

HE QUOTED a cab driver who said "they're ruining this city" and ladies writing to the newspapers about cleaning up Market Street. "Why don't they clean it up?"

"It's not 'they' who are responsible for what pains or delights us... It's us," Caen wrote.

SO WHILE we hear considerable publicity about the proposals going to Congress on preservation of the nation's resources, we should not simply pass over the new stories about it with the feeling that Washington will decide. There are numerous places in this part of the Southwest which are being discussed in various circles about improvements, such as a jet landing strip proposed for the Big Bend National Park and the pending proposal to set aside a portion of the Guadalupe Mountains as a national park. Another story this week told of the selection of the Odessa meteor crater as a possible national landmark.

AT THIS PARTICULAR time of year, as many families take their summer trips into national parks and scenic areas, the talk about the various proposals should become more meaningful. And at the same time greater interest and concern should develop over the various ideas, which is always more healthy than an attitude of letting "they" decide, as Caen pointed out. —PRESTON MAYNARD

Dulles As Secretary Of State

WASHINGTON — No man was ever great by wearing another man's livery — which is why there's no such animal as a "great" Secretary of State.

John Foster Dulles is presented in Andrew Berding's "Dulles On Diplomacy" as the servant — the public servant — of President Eisenhower. It is certain that Dulles knew more about foreign affairs than his master did, but Dulles also knew his place. He never tried to upstage or second-guess the old soldier in the White House. It was a perfect combination of a necessary caste system. Eisenhower didn't pretend to know what went on in the butler's pantry. He left such matters to his incomparable steward.

BUT IT IS a measure of Dulles' fine sensibilities and devotion to a higher cause than himself that he played the secondary role with unstinted dedication and aplomb. He weighed the office before he took it. He resented the popular belief that he'd aspired all his life to be Secretary of State Andy Berding, a former newspaperman with top credentials and firm affection in the Washington press corps, travelled over 200,000 miles with Dulles as his Assistant Secretary for Public Affairs. Berding took shorthand notes on what Dulles said publicly and privately. This book is a demi-Boswellian production, based on personal reports but intentionally limited to its subject — "diplomacy." Berding has Dulles saying:

"I KNOW THERE'S been a lot of talk that I always wanted to be Secretary of State. It's more exact to say that I wanted to be qualified to be Secretary of State."

In fine, Dulles took all knowledge about international affairs to be his province. His desk-side books were the Bible, the Federalist Papers and Stalin's "Problems of Leninism" — God, country and the enemy.

BUT DULLES, while he didn't exactly hesitate to accept the job which his maternal grandfather and an uncle had previously held, did half-believe that he'd been "more effective" in serving the country as a private citizen. He was an advisor, without any administrative burdens, to President Truman during the days when we had to devise tricks for getting past the Soviet vetoes in the U. N. Security Council. Before that, as a Presbyterian leader, Dulles liked to think that he'd done decisive work in readying the country to accept the United Nations at the end of World War II.

ALTHOUGH SUPERIOR to most men in the guessing-game of internationalism, he was not El Supremo. Nobody is. He listed for Andy Berding the three major contributions of a six-year service to President Eisenhower.

(1) First was "peace through deterrence" — the nuclear brinkmanship which kept Sino-Russian communism from any major gains while Dulles was Secretary of State. (It was Secretary Herter who welcomed Castro in Washington.)

(2) THE NEXT big contribution claimed by Dulles was what he called "our policy . . . during the Suez crisis." It was a policy that relied upon the U. N. rather than Western military power, to deal with Nasser of Egypt. (We let this Soviet-backed dictator defeat an invasion by the British, French and Israeli forces. Was it for better or for worse?)

(3) The last self-asserted achievement by Dulles can be called his conditioning of the American people to distrust every blandishment on the part of communism. (But in the Kennedy Administration we entered the Moscow Treaty against nuclear testing.)

Federal Dictatorship Over Voting

WASHINGTON—On the day the voting-rights bill becomes law, a federal dictatorship will begin. Some states will, for all practical purposes, be driven out of the union. They will not be able—as is the privilege of all other states—to enact and enforce certain laws unless the Attorney General of the United States, or perhaps subsequently a federal court, declares that such state laws may be permitted to operate.

ONE PROVISION of the pending bill specifies that certain states shall not be allowed to prescribe the qualifications for their own voters if the U.S. Attorney General determines that a "test or device" has been used during the five preceding years for purposes of discrimination in individual cases.

The phrase "test or device" is defined as any requirement that as a prerequisite for voting or registration for voting, a person must "demonstrate the ability to read, write, understand, or interpret any matter, demonstrate any education achievement or his knowledge of any particular subject, possess good moral character, or prove his qualifications by the voucher of registered voters or members of any other class."

THE FEDERAL government, therefore, becomes the judge of whether certain state laws—although duplicating statutes existing in several other states of the union—shall be permitted to operate at all in what might be called "suspicious states."

While there is a provision for court review, the whole issue turns on the circumstance that what is lawful in one state of the union could be adjudged unlawful in some other state—based wholly on suspicion of alleged abuse or misuse of power.

HITHERTO, whenever the Constitution has been violated, the courts have been in a position to punish the guilty individuals, including state officials. But this is the first time that a whole state is to be deprived of its constitutional right to set voter qualifications, even though these may be identical with state laws in other parts of the country which are being left untouched. The phrase "equal protection of the law" becomes a mockery so far as the federal government is concerned.

Since the voting-rights bill which is about to become law deprives certain Southern states of the right to set voter qualifications and puts them indefinitely under supervision by the U.S. Department of Justice and the courts, efforts will be made, of course, to get the Supreme Court to pass judgment on the constitutionality of such a procedure.

MEANWHILE, it is surprising that so many men in Congress who are familiar with constitutional law have hesitated to come out in the open and criticize what is being done, though privately many of them express grave doubts about the constitutionality or the wisdom of such coercive legislation. For if the precedent is set and the Supreme Court upholds it, a federal dictatorship can—by mere act of Congress—operate to deprive any state or group of states at any time of any rights or privileges specifically delegated to the states under the explicit words of the Constitution.

Take Bow

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Gardeners of the world, take a bow. Here's what the mayor of Vereeniging an industrial town near Johannesburg, thinks of you:

"Gardeners are such friendly people. They swap flowers, shrubs and plants freely, give each other useful tips over the garden fence and create beauty wherever they go.

"Thus if you have a town of gardeners, you may rest assured it is also both a beautiful and friendly town.

The mayor Henry Chatterton was presenting prizes to citizens who scored tops in keeping beautiful sidewalk gardens in and around Vereeniging.
