Excise-Tax Cut Measure Sails Through

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's excise-tax cut sailed through the House by a 401-6 vote and the Senate doesn't plan to stand in its way.

In fact the Senate is clearing the track for the bill that would lower prices on autos, air conditioners, cameras, watches and a lot of other items.

The Finance Committee is putting aside the health-care bill to take up the excise bill beginning Tuesday. Only one witness will be called, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler. The committee members agreed informally to keep the excise legislation winging along by not trying to add extraneous amendments.

EARLY PASSAGE

Assistant Democratic Leader Russell B. Long of Louisiana said he hopes the Senate can pass the bill by the middle of this month.

The House cleared the bill Wednesday after adding about $900 million in cuts to those Johnson proposed. The House used only about two of the four hours allotted for debate on the measure.

Senators, like House members, have been declaiming for years against the excises, which date from the depression, World War II or the Korean War. The bill also would end the levy on local and long-distance telephone service and the admissions tax on tickets to movies, plays, musicals, concerts and athletic events costing $1 or more.

House sponsors of the bill said the repealers would give a boost to the economy and would improve the equity of the tax system because the excises fall heaviest on those with low incomes.

A Coincidence Enveloping The Craft Now Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The coincidence was bound to come out sometime:

The spacecraft is called Gemini 4.

It was to be launched under the astrological sign of Gemini, covering the period May 21-June 20.

And Astronaut James A. McDivitt himself is classed as a Gemini by astrologers. His 36th birthday is a week from today.

The two-man capsule gets its name from the Constellation Gemini, or "The Twins," which is the third zodiacal constellation.

Absentee Voting Begins On Road Bond Issue Here

Absentee voting has started for the June 22 county road bond issue, and will continue through 5 p.m. June 18.

Absentee voting begins Monday in the June 26 special legislative race, and continues through 5 p.m. June 22.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, cautioned voters today to take note of these days, as there might be some confusion resulting from the proximity of the two elections.

The road bond issue involves $600,000 to be used to purchase right of way for improvements and extensions at both ends of FM 700, as well as a grade separation at the Gregg Street intersection.

The special legislative election will name a replacement for the late Ed Carpenter to the 78th District seat in Austin. Three men have filed for the post — Frank Hardesty, Roger Brown and Harold Hall.

Parents Pray, Then Settle Back, Watch Spectacular

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — The parents of space pilot James A. McDivitt attended early Mass today to pray for their son's safe journey through four days and thousands of miles of space travel.

Then Mr. and Mrs. James A. McDivitt Sr. prepared with three television sets, planned to watch their son lift off for his safe journey through four days and thousands of miles of space travel.

Beating, Stab Case Puzzling

ROME (AP)—Mickey Hargitay, muscular ex-husband of actress Jayne Mansfield, is recovering from mysterious stab wounds. A film producer has suggested jealousy as the motive for the assault.

Hargitay said he was hit on the head and knifed in the body as he slept in his Rome apartment two days ago.

"I tell you the truth," said Hargitay, "I'm lucky to be alive. I'm all mixed up and confused about this. Who did it? I don't know. It could be so many people. But honestly I don't feel I've done anybody any harm. I always try to be nice to people. I don't see why anybody would do such a thing."

Ralph Zucker of New York, producer of a film "The Crimson Executioner" in which Hargitay is appearing, said he thought the motive was jealousy over Hargitay's engagement to French actress Marie Vincente.

Another Protest Redistricting Plan

Another local protest has gone to Governor John Connally on the redistricting plan which, in a last-minute arrangement, removed Howard County from the 19th congressional district.

Latest message asking a governor's veto and the calling of a special session to draft another plan, went from Harold Hall, a candidate for the Legislature in the pending special election.

Previously, the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce had wired the governor strongly urging a veto and complaining of the "precipitous" action affecting Howard County. Also, the County Democratic Executive Committee had passed a resolution of protest.

Hall asked for a special ses-

'Walk In Space' Success; Astronaut Back In Gemini

'Stroll' Receives One-Orbit Delay

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Edward White returned safely to the Gemini 4 today after a breathtaking journey through space as a human satellite.

White's space walk came on the third circuit of a space flight scheduled for a total of 62. The exit into space had been planned for the second orbit, but the astronauts were too busy at the time and delayed it.

White pushed himself outside the craft at 2:45 p.m. EST as his partner maneuvered it high above the Pacific off the coast of Mexico.

Command pilot James McDivitt reported directly to the control center at Houston. "He looks great. He's outside and working."

HUMAN SATELLITE

In his weird world of weightlessness, White became a human satellite in a pressurized space suit, speeding through the void at a fantastic 17,500 miles an hour.

But the 34-year-old Air Force major was totally unaware of any motion as he hung seemingly suspended in space.

White's voice was piped directly into communication channels around the world. It sounded scratchy and it was hard to understand.

McDivitt reported that he was "quite exuberant" at the sight he was seeing in front of the capsule.

White was floating on the end of a golden, 25-foot tether.

McDivitt said White was operating his propulsion unit, the space gun, to help him maneuver. It was the first time such a device had been used by man.

CRAFT BOUNCES

The command pilot said: "One thing about it, when Ed gets out there it makes the spacecraft bounce like a ball."

After White climbed out, Gemini 4 swooped across Mexico and over the southwest United States, passing above Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

Then it swept over the Gulf of Mexico and Miami, Fla., before crossing the Atlantic Coast.

Back on earth, the astronauts' physician at Houston, Dr. Charles A. Berry, said medical data being received at Houston "looks great," indicating no problems with the floating astronaut.

White's cosmic adventure earlier was scheduled to begin in the second orbit, about 12:17 p.m. Big Spring Time.

However, some of the lustrous was removed from the planned feat when late in the first orbit command pilot McDivitt announced he had used excessive fuel in an attempt to move closer to the target satellite — the burned-out second stage of the Titan 2 booster rocket.

McDivitt and White originally planned to approach within 25 feet of the orbiting booster and White was to emerge and move close to it.

RULED OUT

The possibility that he would actually put his hand on it was ruled out early in the mission when it was learned that it was tumbling excessively and thus was a possible threat to White.

McDivitt used 50 per cent of his fuel in maneuvering toward the Titan stage, but said he still was three to four miles away and "we just can't close on it."

"Save the fuel. We're more concerned about the lifetime (of the mission) than closing with that booster. Let's scrub it."

Here's Flight
 At-A-Glance

By The Associated Press

Launch time — 9:16 a.m. Big Spring time from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Flight duration — 97 hours, 50 minutes, 62 orbits.

Spacecraft — Gemini 4, the second in the series of manned two-man capsules, 19 feet long with a blunt-end diameter of 7 1/2 feet.

Booster — Titan 2, a two-stage, liquid-fueled rocket 90 feet tall and 10 feet in diameter, developing a total of 530,000 pounds of thrust.

Astronauts — Air Force Majors James A. McDivitt, 35, commanding, and Edward H. White II, 34.

Objectives — To determine the effect of prolonged weightlessness and spaceflight on men and equipment; achieve rendezvous with another orbiting vehicle; perform extravehicular activities requiring White to climb out of the spacecraft and into the void of space; provide a controlled re-entry and training for astronauts who will fly in the Apollo man-to-the-moon program; conduct certain engineering and scientific experiments.

World's Eyes On Him

The eyes of the world were focused today on co-pilot of the Gemini-4, Edward H. White II, whose projected walk in space would make history. Here he is shown, suited and ready to go, seated in the NASA van at Gemini Complex 19 at Cape Kennedy, Fla., just before the launching today. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Wives Up Before Dawn To Usher Historic Day

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—"Have fun," Mrs. Edward H. White II calmly told her spacebound husband about 7 a.m. today as he reclined in the Gemini 4 capsule in Florida ready to be blasted off.

Both she and Mrs. James McDivitt had awakened before dawn to receive final prelaunch telephone calls from their astronaut husbands at Cape Kennedy and then go through a big day in their lives.

After the five-minute phone chats, the women quickly returned to watching the count down on their television sets. The astronauts did most of the talking.

Mrs. McDivitt and her three children had attended a special service at 5:30 a.m. Mass at nearby St. Paul's Roman Catholic church. They were the only worshippers.

Mrs. White and her children, Edward III, 11, and Bonnie Lynn, 9, watched the Cape Kennedy liftoff on television at their El Lago home. Mrs. McDivitt and her three children, Mike, 8, Ann Lynn, 6, and Patrick, 4, watched the final minutes of countdown from their nearby Nassau Bay home.

The two wives may visit the Mission Control Center during the scheduled four-day flight. Both live only a short distance from the Manned Spacecraft Center, training base for the nation's space team.

FIRST TIME

Mrs. Virgil I. Grissom and Mrs. John W. Young became the first astronaut wives to leave their homes when they visited the space-flight nerve center March 23 while their husbands were on the first manned Gemini flight.

Trips to nearby swimming pools were highlights of what appeared to be a normal summer day for the families Wednesday.

Mrs. McDivitt took her three children to a swimming club and Mike and Ann Lynn later romped in the spray of a lawn sprinkler at their home. They earlier bought lemonade and cotton candy at a stand operated by neighborhood children.

BICYCLE TO POOL

Edward III mowed the family lawn during the morning and then he and his sister bicycled to a swimming pool. Mrs. White kept a hairdresser appointment and entertained some guests.

Mrs. McDivitt, a striking brunette, has on occasion modeled for charity benefits. She is the former Patricia A. Haas of Cleveland, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Haas, now live.

Mrs. White, a honey blonde, is the former Patricia Finegan of Washington, D.C. Her mother, Mrs. Daniel J. Finegan, lives in Washington.

Threat Of Bomb Closes Store

An anonymous telephone call told of a bomb planted at Gibson's Discount Center, 2303 Gregg, early this afternoon, and the store was closed for some 30 minutes as police stood by.

The caller said the bomb was to go off in about 30 minutes, or shortly before 2 p.m. Police were investigating the call this afternoon.

The store reopened for business about 2 p.m.

Liftoff!

The Titan 2 booster and the Gemini 4 spacecraft were destroyed, smashed were the courthouse, fire station, a hotel, motor agency and the First National Bank. Three fire trucks were demolished.

The twister cruised along Fifth Street, missing the Hale Center Hospital by the width of a street.

Authorities estimated of the 100 injured in Hale Center, 48 were hospitalized there and in other cities.

BUILDINGS DAMAGED

The husband of Mrs. Shackelford were among persons suffering injuries.

In Hale Center, 12 buildings were badly damaged with seven listed as demolished.

The National Guard stood by to help. The center of the town was sealed off and traffic was directed around it.

The twister also razed a gasoline station near the Shackelford home.

State police tracked the tornado almost to the outskirts of Plainview, 25 miles north of Cotton Center. It ripped out telephone wires and disrupted communications between Lubbock and Amarillo for hours.

Broken power lines and debris blocked US 87 between Hale Center and Plainview for a time.

Lubbock, Amarillo and other cities sent civil defense units, medicines and other supplies in to the stricken area. National Guardsmen and Army reservists were dispatched from Plainview.

The blastoff was at 9:16 a.m. Big Spring time, over an hour later than at first planned.

As Gemini 4 whirled above the Carnarvon, Australia, tracking station 50 minutes after launch, the Mission Control Center at Houston, Tex., gave them a go-ahead for at least three of their planned 62 circuits.

It was the start of America's longest attempted manned flight yet — an endurance mission scheduled to end about 11:06 a.m. EST next Monday after 62 circuits of the globe in 97 hours, 50 minutes.

State Twister
 Kills Three,
 Injures 100

By The Associated Press

A tornado struck the South Plains Wednesday night, taking at least three lives and leaving the business section of Hale Center in shambles. More than 100 persons suffered injuries.

The tornado struck Spade and Cotton Center and then hit Hale Center, a farming center of about 2,500.

Mrs. Floyd Shackelford was killed at Cotton Center, when the twister crushed her farm home 2 miles east of Cotton Center, 10 miles southwest of Hale Center and 30 miles northwest of Lubbock.

Fleckman headed a mighty field of 210 golfers in a 72-hole stroke play tournament.

Fleckman, Goldman and Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth, the 1940 champion, went out in the same foursome today.

The field will be cut to the low 85 players and lies after Friday's round, Saturday the field will be trimmed for 30 and ties for the final round Sunday.

Walk In Space? It's 'Unworldly'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Cold and black, the empty reaches of space offer no real notion of distance — save for the numberless stars. The sun, like the heart of the flame from a welder's torch, glares with a blinding, searing white light. Closer is the lonely quarter-moon, roft and small. This is the strange new world of Edward Higgins White II, American astronaut, age 34.

CAPT. J. W. MARLIN

Capt. Marlin Is Transferred

Capt. James W. Marlin Jr., a training officer in the 3561st Student Squadron at Webb AFB, since 1959, will be signing out Friday. His new assignment will be academic instructor for pilot instructor training at Randolph AFB, Texas.

Capt. Marlin entered pilot training at Moore AFB, Texas, and completed this training at Webb in 1956. He was sent to Furstenfeldbruck, Germany, upon graduation, as an instructor-pilot for the German Air Force. He returned to Webb in August, 1959. He has held positions as base housing officer, assistant Air Police officer, and base training and education officer, before entering his last position as training officer for student pilots.

The captain is married to the former Jean Joan Wilmet of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, and they have three children: Alice Marie (9); William Craig (4); and Jeffrey Scott (2).

While in Big Spring, Capt. Marlin has been director of music for the First Presbyterian Church choir, and has been active in the little theatre organization, where he held the positions as president, and a member of the board.

father of two children, a would-be human planet in orbit around the earth.

"UNREAL" WORLD
It is a world of fantastic dimension and unreal sensation. It is as if you had leaped into the air and never really came down again, lost in a perpetual fall around the earth.

Ahead of the spacecraft on a golden tether, you plummet together at some 17,500 miles per hour — and yet you feel not so much as a breath of breeze — for there is no air.

The sun stands out in the blackness as a great light bulb that seemingly spreads no light. It is only when the sun's rays strike a surface that the radiation is seen. There is no air to buffet and spread the light.

LOOK BELOW
Below, you see the earth's blanket of air glowing with the sun's light, splitting the white light into the splatter of color as the world of men know it.

You feel the full brunt of the sun's radiation. You turn toward the sun and feel the immediate slap of heat at your face as the rays come through your visor. And you are thankful, too, that the visor is filtered to protect your eyes from the cruel light.

Behind you — gleaming on its sun-side — is the spacecraft and your command pilot keeping a careful eye on your movements. And you know that the sun-side of the craft is hot, some 200 degrees Fahrenheit, and the shade side is perhaps 200 degrees below zero.

And that is probably also the temperature variation of your suit exterior if you merely stood there and didn't move.

The earth stretches out like some hazy plain — painted in browns and golds and purples almost like colors you hadn't seen before. And perhaps through the haze you see the long peninsula of Florida stretching into the blue Atlantic.

But it is a free and wonderful feeling — and you have an unhappy thought that you must be an awkward creature in this clean, stark world of circular movements. The space gun in your hand spits out a small jet of oxygen and propels you side to side, to and fro, and it is a fine way to get around, a beautiful toy in this daydream sort of world.

ROCKET AHEAD
Ahead of you, too, is the booster rocket that brought you to this place — its ends jagged and burned by the blast of flame and explosion. It tumbles slowly in an unreal way like a patrolman's twirling nightstick in slow motion.

Little Likelihood Seen Of 1929 Crash Repeat

NEW YORK (AP) — Could the 1929 crash happen again? Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin sees today's boom psychology as having "disquieting similarities" with that of the 1920s. But the Johnson administration holds that there's small likelihood of a repeat performance — if the Federal Reserve, business and labor all will cooperate with government in keeping the economy on a one-way street to prosperity.

NEW ECONOMICS
This doctrine is called the new economics. It contends that the business cycle can be licked, or at least tamed, and that 1929 need never happen again.

The Martin rattling of old memories sent shivers through U.S. stock markets Tuesday and the London stock market Wednesday.

Stock traders were alarmed that the smoldering dispute between administration economists and the money managers was coming out into the open.

RECALL 1962
They also were aware that it was just three years ago that the stock market had its worst crash since 1929. It revived and prices early this May were at record highs. The very height of these prices makes some observers dizzy.

Businessmen are more inclined to concentrate on the evidence of continuing strength of the four-year-old economic upswing. They stress the brakes on booms and the cushions for downturns that have been developed since the 1929 crash.

Bankers study the clash in economic and monetary thinking in Washington to glean clues as to the future course of interest rates and the recently noted trend toward tighter money and credit. The trends — and the clash, if it becomes sharper — can affect both the course of the domestic economy and the troubled international monetary situation.

SOME PARALLEL
There are a number of things that make 1965 look like 1929. But even Martin concedes there are many differences, too. The similarities: In both 1929 and 1965 government and business leaders were convinced that prosperity would last forever and that the business cycle was old hat. This belief was strengthened in both instances by a long period of economic growth, in both years private debt was growing rapidly. In both years the money supply was expanding.

But 1965 is different from 1929 in many ways: Excesses of debt and credit are under close supervision now, while in 1929 the sky was the limit. Wages have kept pace with corporate profits. And there is now a vastly expanded middle class with higher incomes and impressive liquid assets — as well as debts. Wholesale prices are fairly stable now, while in 1929 they were declining.

CONSUMER DEMANDS
Business expansion of capacity now is being tailored much closer to consumer demands. Social Security, unemployment benefits, dozens of government projects insure against the disastrous drop in private income that the 1929 crash triggered.

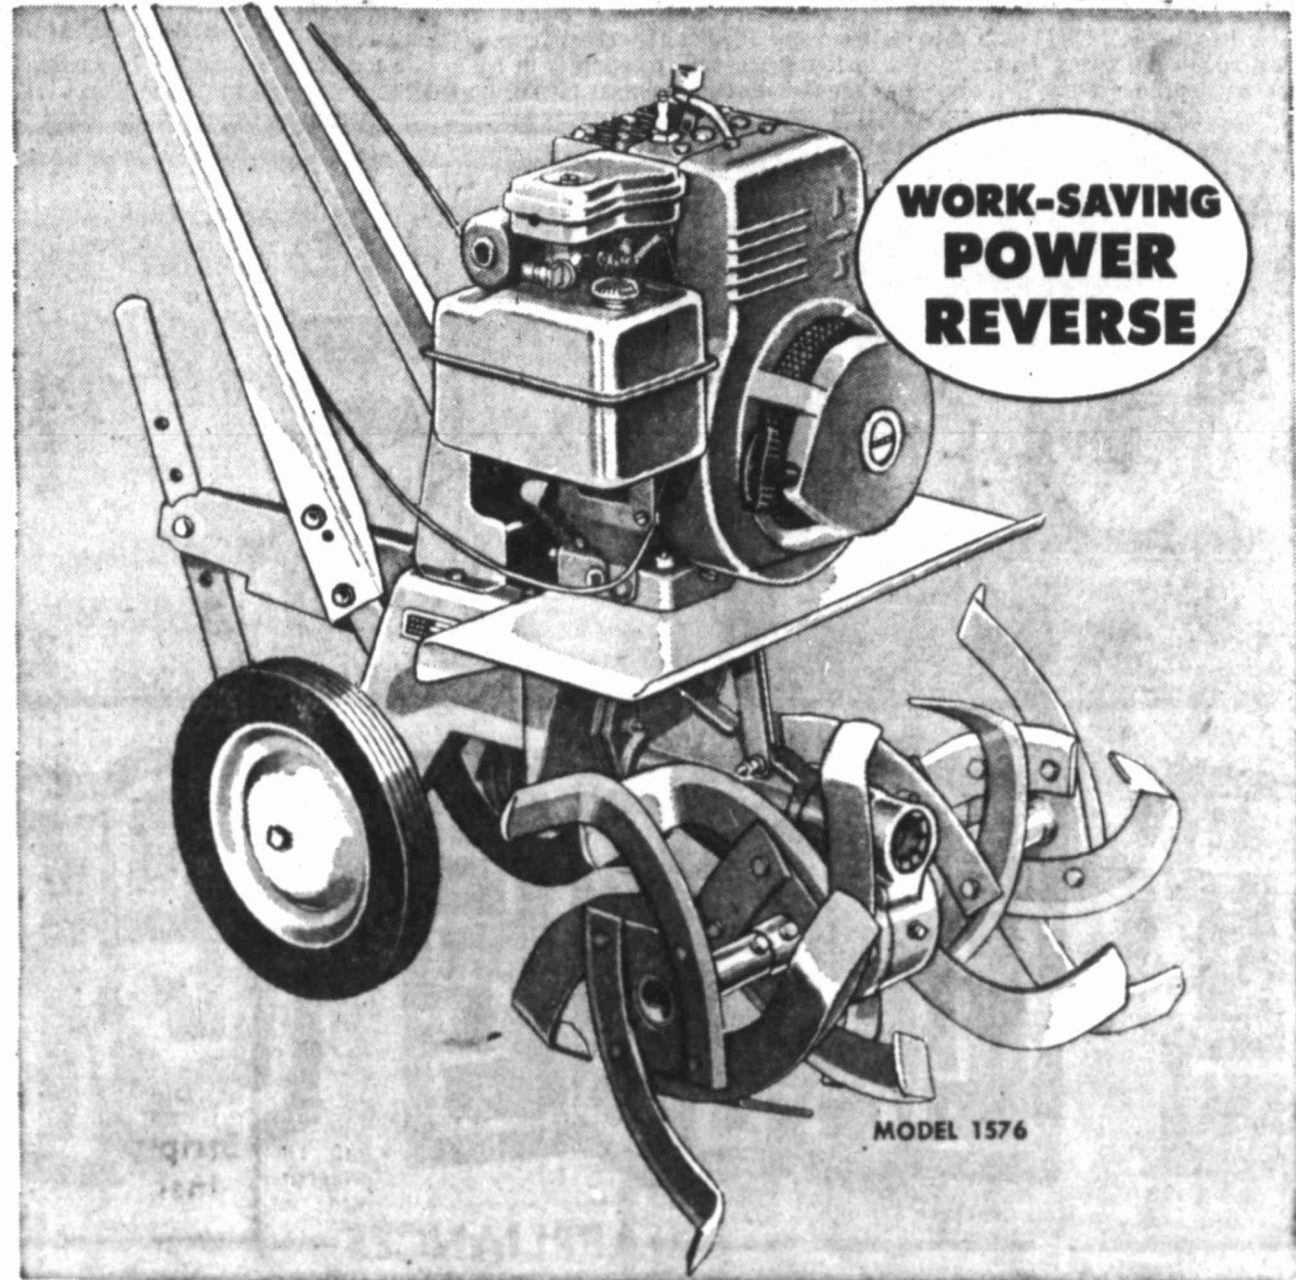

And, as the 1962 stock market crash showed, generally prosperity isn't as closely tied to the market as it was in 1929. The stock market still has great psychological hold on the public. But the public now takes the ups and downs of the market without panicking.

Role Of Space Suit Far More Than Garb

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Outer space is an alien, hostile environment, completely opposite to the earth's atmosphere. For man to travel in outer space, he must take a little piece of the earth's environment with him. That is where the space suit comes in. When astronauts step out into the vast void of the universe, the only thing to keep them from popping like a bubble is the space suit.

A SHIELD
The garment also acts as a shield, bouncing away lethal specks of dust, micrometeorites flashing through the sky at incredible speed. Radiation from the sun could kill a man in an eyelid's twinkling. The suit protects against this danger.

This little world weighs 31½ pounds, has 21 layers of fabric, connections for oxygen hoses, communication lines and medical monitoring circuits and costs $28,000.

Once a man gets inside the garment, he is in a world all his own, providing all his support equipment is working.

PLASTIC SLIVERS
To make sure the suit works perfectly, technicians have bombarded it with a micrometeorite gun, firing tiny slivers of plastic at more than 25,000 miles per hour into the fabric.

Layers of aluminized mylar, felt and dacron repel the speeding plastic, guaranteeing safety to the astronaut.

The helmet has been beefed up with two additional visors. One for micrometeorite protection and the other to shut out the sun's undiminished brightness in outer space.

Bullets have bounced off the strong plastic, called Lexan. It is 30 times stronger than plastic used in airplane canopies.

OUTER TINT
To protect against the sun's bright rays, the outer visor has been tinted a blue-green. The middle visor has a gold tint to control the heat and also is made of Lexan.

The innermost visor shuts tight to the suit and keeps the pressure inside the garment. It was beefed up after Virgil I. Grissom's visor shattered during re-entry March 23.

For astronaut Edward H. White's projected space walk, a special pair of gloves were developed to fit over the regular pair attached to the space suit. The over-gloves were designed to protect against thermal heating. They were tested as a man held, for five minutes without being burned, an object that had been heated to 250 degrees.

ALL TESTS
Edward L. Hays, chief of crew systems at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said the suit had been tested in every conceivable way.

Each suit is tailored for the individual astronaut.

Shriver May Lose One Of Two Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Shriver would have to throw one of his hats away if the Senate has its way.

The late President John F. Kennedy's brother-in-law wears two in the Johnson administration: director of the Peace Corps and director of what President Johnson calls his "war on poverty."

"RIDER" ATTACHED
Wednesday in passing a $115 million Peace Corps authorization, the Senate attached an amendment saying the director "shall hold no other federal office of equivalent rank."

The amendment could be knocked out later along the legislative road, but if it stands Shriver would have to choose between his two jobs.

It is known that he has recommended to Johnson a successor as Peace Corps director. He has replied to inquiries about his dual assignment by saying he does the best he can and serves at the President's discretion.

A millionaire, Shriver draws his Peace Corps salary — $28,500 — but not the $30,000 salary authorized for director of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

VOICE VOTE
The Senate acted late Wednesday at a sparsely attended session just before passing by voice vote the $115-million authorization to put 15,110 volunteers in the field or in training by August 1966. The amendment was offered by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and accepted by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., floor manager for the bill. It was adopted by voice vote.

Shriver was not available for comment on Wednesday's Senate vote.

Whites Mostly 'Ignore' Family

FOLCROFT, Pa. (AP) — "I think, in time, we will live a normal, happy life. All that is necessary is for them to see that we live the same way they do."

For almost two years now, since those words were spoken, Horace Baker, 28, and his family have lived as virtual outcasts in their community — the first and still the only Negroes in Delmar Village, a development of brick row homes in this suburb just south of Philadelphia.

ANGRY MOB
The angry mob, the screams of "nigger", the rock-shattered windows, the protective cordon of state police that greeted them when they moved into their new home on Aug. 30, 1963, are only a memory now — one which the embarrassed Borough of Folcroft wants to forget.

But the simple, getting-to-know-you acceptance that Baker so hopefully predicted on that nightmarish moving day never came about.

"It hasn't happened. I was entirely wrong," he now admits. "The situation, the way it happened, made it entirely impos-

ble. I don't think they could really trust me or I could really trust them any more. It would have to take a long, long time."

"UP TO HIM"
"Nobody bothers them," said a woman neighbor across the street, "but nobody goes out of their way for them, either."

Folcroft's mayor, Hugh McVicker, describes the atmosphere in Delmar Village these days as "excellent."

"We've had no complaints from the Bakers or the people around them," he says. "Of course, when a man moves into a community, whether he's white or Negro, it's up to him to make his own friends."

Neither Baker, a medical laboratory technician born in Lakeland, Fla., and raised in Miami, nor his wife, a native of Sellersville, Pa., and a registered nurse, had experienced the full

New Head Of GM Educated By Mail

DETROIT (AP) — Enrollment in correspondence school classes may jump when word gets around that General Motors' new president James M. Roche got a lot of his education via the mails.

Roche, 58, elected Tuesday as president of the world's largest manufacturing concern, never attended college. As a youth he supplemented his high school education with mail courses in business and commerce from a Chicago correspondence school.

NO SURPRISE
His selection came as no surprise. In recent weeks of speculation about who would succeed retiring GM President John F. Gordon, Roche's name almost always was the first one mentioned.

Although two of his 38 years in the automotive business were spent as Cadillac Division's then one-man public relations department, Roche never sought personal publicity.

His modest, 1 1/4-page official GM biography told of his birth in Elgin, Ill., and his attendance at elementary and high schools there. He took his first job with an Aurora, Ill., utility company, while undertaking correspondence school courses.

JOINED CADILLAC
In 1927, at the age of 21, he succumbed to the lure of the auto business and joined a Chicago Cadillac branch as a statistician. A year later, he was assistant manager of the branch.

His rise in Cadillac was climaxed in 1957 when he was named as its general manager and a vice president of General Motors. After 33 years service with the Cadillac Division, he was tapped for corporate duties on June 1, 1960 — five years to the day before he became GM president.

In January 1964, he was named executive vice president, paving the way for him to suc-

Youth Saved From Pool

A 10-year-old youth, Dalton Lewis, was pulled from a backyard swimming pool late Wednesday afternoon and given artificial respiration after he apparently became strangled while swimming and went under-water.

Buzz Busby, coach of the Braves Little League baseball team of the National League, pulled the boy from the pool, and James Duncan, 1300 W. 16th, gave artificial respiration for about five minutes, before the boy was revived.

Mrs. Weidon Lewis, mother of the child, said he was apparently unharmed. Officers and a Big Spring Ambulance Service unit went to the Duncan residence, when police received a call from a telephone operator who said she had been told of a boy drowning at the address.

The Little League team was having a swimming party at the pool.

Doc Young Music Store Has Formal Opening Friday

Formal opening of the Doc Young Music Company store, 910 E. 4th, is set for Friday, and Young urged old and new friends to visit the outlet for Wurlitzer pianos, organs and stereos.

Young operates stores in Odessa and Midland, and he is no new personality here; he lived in Big Spring from about six years before and immediately after World War II.

Managing the store here is Mrs. Iwagene Lloyd, assisted by Joe Lemwell, territory sales, and J. J. Clark, piano and organ technician. Frank Garret, an experienced man in handling fine musical instruments, will handle deliveries.

"We can't sell all makes of pianos and organs," said Young, "so we just sell the one that most people ask for and most people buy—Wurlitzer. In fact, more people buy Wurlitzer pianos than those of any other name."

Doc Young Music Company is the largest Wurlitzer piano and organ dealer between Fort Worth and El Paso. While the store here carries a large stock of the instruments and stereos, the proximity to the Midland and Odessa outlets gives it an almost limitless range of almost instant delivery on any model desired.

IN 1937 Doc Young is a native of Man Returned To Abilene

A San Antonio man was taken to federal authorities in Abilene Wednesday by Detective Jack Jones and Wayne Tollett after he was arrested here.

He was arrested on a charge filed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. Previously the FBI had filed a charge of possession and sale of heroin against the man. He was turned over to a U. S. deputy marshal at Abilene. The detectives here arrested the man at a local firm where he was employed.

Pair Reappointed To Vet Commission

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Connally reappointed Charles Ford, Longview businessman, and Joe Ramsey Jr., Houston lawyer, to the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission Wednesday. Their new terms extend to June 12, 1971.

D. A. (DOC) YOUNG

Ranger and came here in 1937 as produce manager for Robinson & Sons Grocery store. He held this post until 1943 when he went into service with the Navy Seabees. After separation from service, he returned here briefly but decided to enter the music field.

"I was no musician when entering the music field, so I decided I had better get a product that was best known and accepted. That's how I came to settle on Wurlitzer. I've been proud of that decision ever since," he said.

Shortly before he came to Big Spring, he was married to Sa-lie Sue McCarty, and she taught in the high school here. Currently she manages the Odessa store, and Juanita Elrod directs the Midland store.

Wurlitzer has been making pianos since 1856 and organs almost as long. It has developed a tradition in quality of craftsmanship and materials to produce the finest total qualities possible. Even the spinet electronic organ has an amazing resemblance to the sounds of a pipe instrument. It contains 4,500 silicon transistors which are unaffected by humidity or temperature variations in the tone generating system.

THIS PERMITS A COMPACTNESS THAT LEAVES A LARGER ACOUSTIC TONE CHAMBER. THE SAME PRECISION AND EXACTING SPECIFICATIONS GO INTO THE FAMOUS PIANOS, AND ALSO INTO THE NEW LINE OF STEREOES WHICH ARE ENGINEERED FOR THRILLING ACOUSTICAL EXPERIENCES.

Mrs. Hoag Buys Poncho's Stand

Poncho's News Stand, a Big Spring landmark at 306 Runnels, has been sold by Raymond L. (Poncho) Nall's widow, Mrs. Eva Nall. The stand will continue under its present name, according to the new owner, Mrs. Maria Hoag, 4203 Oak.

Mrs. Hoag said the business has been expanded to two rooms in order to increase space for additional soft-cover books. The newsstand will continue to sell a large number of area, state and national newspapers, as well as various magazines and other periodicals. Many books and magazines that are not normally carried in stock may be ordered through the newsstand.

Poncho's also carries supplies for coin collectors (except coins), tobacco products, film, and has a shoe-shine parlor. There is a 24-hour service for black-and-white film processing (one week for color film).

The new owner and her husband, S. Sgt. Leon F. Hoag, who is stationed at Webb AFB, have lived in Big Spring 10 years. Mrs. Hoag, a native of Munich, Germany, has had more than 10 years of experience in vending, working at various Army and Air Force Exchanges here and abroad.

The newsstand was begun in 1948 when "Poncho" Nall acquired a property on East Third, and remained there until 1957 when it was moved to

Bolivia Mine Overhaul On

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Bolivia's military junta has started a drastic overhaul of the nationalized tin mines to make them profitable again.

Measures announced here include some layoffs, transfers, forced retirements and pay reductions for the miners. There was no immediate reaction from the leftist-led miners' union, which has opposed the changes.

In preparation for its mine program, the government deported mine union leader Juan Lechin to Paraguay last month. The miners struck, and at least 70 people died in violence that followed.

Liquor, Wine Stamps Hike

AUSTIN (AP)—Liquor and wine stamp tax sales increased from April to May and cigarette stamp sales dropped, State Treasurer Jesse James reported.

Liquor stamp sales in May totaled $1,173,159, up $380,556 from April and $404,631 from May a year ago. Wine stamp sales in May were $148,273, up $6,206 from the previous month and $13,750 rise from May of 1964.

Ex-Con Now 'Happy Man'

CARLSBAD, N. M. (AP)—A community of friends, a new grandchild and a telegram from the governor of Texas have made T. P. (Shorty) Cochran one of the happiest former convicts anywhere.

"I'm just about on Cloud Nine," the 62-year-old electrician said at his home after receiving word from Gov. John Connally that Texas would not press for his extradition.

Cochran, who became a grandfather for the first time last month, walked away from a Texas prison in 1929 while serving a two-year term for forgery.

His name was John Blaise but he took the name Cochran after moving to Carlsbad 30 years ago. He married, raised two children and was described as an exemplary citizen.

His secret was learned in April when a long-time friend, Sheriff Carl Hawkins, went to Cochran with a Texas fugitive warrant.

Many Carlsbad residents wrote to Texas authorities asking clemency for Cochran.

"I found I had a lot more friends than I thought I had," he said.

Husband Killer Dead At 60

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Husband-poisoner Nannie Doss, 60, died in University Hospital Wednesday of leukemia—the 10th anniversary of her life in prison.

Mrs. Doss was sentenced to life in prison on June 2, 1955, for the murder of her fifth husband, Samuel L. Doss — and one of four she admitted feeding lethal doses of rat poison.

She was brought to University Hospital from the state penitentiary at McAlester last May 20 and died shortly after midnight.

Doss, a 58-year-old Tulsa, died of an overdose of rat poison in October 1955 and his wife was arrested about a month later.

No fatalities have been recorded in the city during the past two months. A total of 76 accidents were investigated by officers during May, compared to 78 the previous month.

Police issued 178 moving traffic violation tickets in May, up from a 163 figure during April.

Accidents for the year in the city now total 373, with 80 persons injured and three fatalities. Officers have issued 1,281 moving traffic violation tickets since Jan. 1.

Lamesans Firm Up Homecoming Plans

LAMESA (SC) — Committee chairmen and class representatives met Tuesday night in the Flame Room at Pioneer Natural Gas Co. to make plans for the homecoming in Lamesa July 2-4.

Bob Crawley, chairman of the Golden Tornado Jubilee committee, announced that approximately 7,000 invitations had gone out to former students and teachers of the Lamesa Public Schools. These include classes from 1913 through 1965.

City Manager Carroll Taylor announced that parking would be free in downtown Lamesa during the Jubilee and said the city is planning to sponsor a day of free swimming Saturday, July 3, for children of former students and teachers attending the event.

Other activities on tap include a golf tournament and dance at the Lamesa Country Club, an ex-teachers tea, socials for all classes attending, and a barbecue to be served by the Odesa Chuck Wagon Gang Saturday night in the Lamesa High School stadium. The barbecue will be followed by a giant extravaganza in the high school auditorium. The extravaganza will be under the direction of Crawley.

Mrs. Raymond Orson, chairman of youth activities, said there would be planned activities for all age groups to be climaxed by a "Hootenanny" Saturday night for teenagers. Nurseries will also be available for small children, she said.

Registrations will begin at 1 p.m. Friday, July 2, and will continue until 9 p.m. and will resume again Saturday morning.

Tarrant May End The Year In Debt

FORT WORTH (AP)—Tarrant County will probably wind up 1965 in debt for the first time in 13 years, according to County Auditor J. M. Williams.

Reasons given are a new domestic court and pay raises for county officials granted by the Legislature and repairs to the multi-troubled county criminal courts building.

Tarrant County is believed to be the only metropolitan county in the nation which operates on a cash budget.

ing at 8 a.m. and continuing through 1 p.m. Sale of tickets for the barbecue are under the auspices of the Optimist Club, assisted by other clubs and organizations.

Among some of the former students expected to attend are Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, who is a 1934 graduate of Lamesa High School; Attorney General Waggoner Carr and Mrs. Carr, who is a former teacher in the Lamesa schools; and Miss Texas Centennial of 1936, the former Geraldine Robertson, who now lives in Houston.

A Sunday morning devotional service will conclude the program. It will be held in the high school football stadium from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. A speaker is being engaged for the morning service and all exes of the Lamesa schools, who have become ministers, will be recognized at the service.

The committees are planning for over 5,000 persons and are stressing that each ex-student or teacher planning to attend reply to their class chairman.

Forty persons attended the meeting Tuesday.

The bidding:

 3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass
 Pass Pass

Opening lead: Three of ♠
 South had the good fortune to score an overtrick in his four spade contract. His reward was well earned, however, for — like a good general — he had centered the campaign on preserving his weak point from direct enemy assault.

West chose to open the three of hearts and the ace was played from dummy. North's ace of spades drew the outstanding trump and declarer paused to analyze his prospects. If he took the heart finesse and it succeeded, a diamond could eventually be discarded on dummy's fourth heart, and South restricts his losses on the deal to one or two diamonds—depending on which opponents has the ace of that suit.

If the heart finesse should fail, however, a diamond return may administer a quick setback to South's hopes if West has the ace of diamonds, and the defense cashes three tricks in that suit. Declarer looked for an alternative plan that might improve his chances.

At trick three, the king of clubs was led from dummy. When East followed with the deuce, South discarded a heart instead of ruffing, and West was in with the ace of clubs. A heart, came back, and declarer put up North's king. When the queen fell, the dummy's hearts were established and South was able to discard two diamonds from his hand. A trick was conceded to the ace of diamonds, and declarer claimed 11 tricks.

The fall of the heart queen, while extremely fortunate, was not essential to South's campaign. Once the club trick can be conceded to West, declarer's success becomes assured. If the queen of hearts does not drop when the king is played, dummy continues with the jack. If East covers with the queen, South ruffs and reenters dummy with a trump to discard a diamond on the ten of hearts.

If the jack of hearts is not covered, declarer merely discards a diamond from his hand. If West has the queen of hearts, he is welcome to it, for he cannot attack the diamond suit without establishing South's king. The defense is limited to three tricks.

If East has covered North's king of clubs with the ace, South ruffs and now must rely on the heart suit. His best bet is still to refuse the finesse, playing ace, king and jack of hearts, for every effort should be exerted to keep East out of the lead where South's diamond holding is exposed to direct attack.

Johnson Urges Less Silver In U. S. Coins

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson recommended today that less silver be put into U.S. coins from now on to conserve the scarce metal.

Johnson made his recommendation to Congress in a message that would, if carried out, leave the penny and nickel unchanged—they contain no silver.

NO SILVER
 Provide for new dimes and quarters with no silver content. They have about 90 per cent silver now. The coins would have a copper core with an outside layer of a mixture of copper and nickel that would make them acceptable in vending machines rigged to reject slugs with no silver content.

Allow 40 per cent silver content, instead of 90, in a new half dollar.

 Make no change in the old silver dollar — but continue the ban on coining the cartwheel.

NEXT YEAR
 The new coins will not come out until next year. Meantime, Johnson said that 300 million troy ounces—more than 10,000 tons—of silver will go into coinage this year. This is far more than the total free world output of silver expected for this year. Johnson said silver is getting too scarce to keep on using it in coins on a large scale.

"To maintain unchanged our high silver coinage in the face of this stark reality," he said, "would only invite a chronic and growing scarcity of coins."

The President was especially emphatic on one point: "I want to make it absolutely clear that these changes in our coinage will have no effect on the purchasing power of our coins."

Soviet Attacks Embassy Staff

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has launched its fifth attack on the staff of the Israeli Embassy in two months, accusing the first secretary of trying to entice Jews in Georgia to go to Israel.

The government and Communist party newspaper of Georgia, Zarya Vostoka, also charged that the secretary, David Barlow, distributed Israeli propaganda, books, cigarettes and prayer shawls in Georgian cities including Gori, birthplace of Stalin.

House Speaker Scores Redistricting Criticism

AUSTIN (AP)—House Speaker Ben Barnes rapped today criticism leveled against the state's congressional redistricting bill by Sens. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and John Tower, R-Tex.

The state's two senators issued statements Tuesday critical of the bill, which the 59th Legislature passed.

Tower said the measure "in some instances...completely ignores the community-of-interests principle."

Yarborough called the bill "a disaster... that gives a new dimension to the word gerrymander" and applies "salami tactics" to metropolitan areas.

"I am shocked and surprised at the comments of our two United States senators about the redistricting bill," Barnes said. "This is the first time we have heard from them about redistricting. If either had another plan, they certainly had ample time to submit it to the Legislature."

Barnes said lawmakers tried to follow only the "one man, one vote" principle in carving districts, and "community of interest" was not a valid consideration under federal court rulings.

Decline In Wool Prices Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department predicted today that domestic wool prices during the rest of 1965 will run below last year's levels.

The outlook for the U.S. wool industry between now and the first of next year is for a continued decline in sheep numbers, less domestic wool production, moderately higher mill use of apparel wool and less of carpet wool, an increase in wool imports and a rise in imports of apparel wool textile products, the department said.

The department said U.S. mohair production is expected to increase this year because of a further rise in goat numbers.

DEAR ABBY
Private Letters

DEAR ABBY: Forgive me for taking exception to your viewpoint of "invasion of privacy" regarding the lady who read her parents' love letters after their death.

Have you ever read the classic, "The Letters of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning"? And if Margaret Mitchell had not read her grandmother's diary, who would have written "Gone With the Wind"? If my great-grandmother had not examined the contents of her mother's trunk, a letter written by George Washington would have been destroyed.

I have saved my husband's love letters and valentines. Although my children may not be interested in reading them now, maybe after I die they will enjoy some of the sweet sentiments that are in my treasure chest.

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column dealt with the same situation with which I was recently faced, and I would like to tell you how I handled it. My mother had made her home with me and my husband during her last years. I knew where she had kept her "love letters" from my father, who had preceded her in death by many years.

When Mother passed away, I did not read them. I felt as you that they were private. Yet I could not bring myself to destroy those letters as I knew they must have been very precious to my mother or she would not have kept them for nearly 65 years. Before her funeral, I tied her "love letters" with a white ribbon and asked the undertaker if I might slip them into the casket to be buried with Mother. He said he thought it was a splendid idea, so I lifted the coverlet and placed them deep beside her body. I have always felt that I did what would have pleased my mother the most.

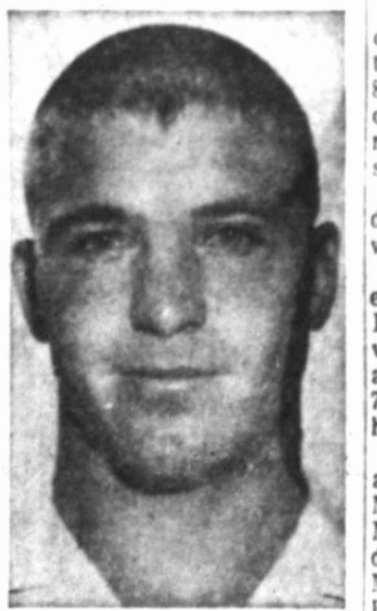

Yours very truly,
HELEN G.

DEAR ABBY: So you regard it as an "invasion of privacy" to read old love letters left behind by those who have died unless the writers have indicated during their lifetime that they wished them to be read?

If my parents had left me a legacy of love letters, I would have had them published. All I got was a box containing their letters, which were filled with threats, bitter accusations, and ugly recriminations. With those letters were a divorce document, my mother's death certificate (marked "suicide") and my father's cancelled insurance policy. Sign me...

NO LOVE LETTERS

DEAR ABBY: Letters are personal property and belong to heirs — whether specifically willed or not — just like money, clothing or real estate. It could even be argued that heirs have a public and social obligation to examine all effects of the deceased including correspondence, because it might have a significant bearing on the welfare of those still alive. Who can say a "love letter" is only a love letter until he has examined it? Those who wish their correspondence to remain pri-

Dominican Rebels Balk

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican rebels are demanding restoration of the 1963 constitution and creation of a new government before election of a new president and congress.

The rebel chief, Col. Francisco Caamaño Deno, Wednesday rejected the election formula proposed by the junta headed by Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera. Caamaño termed the proposal "a fable."

UNDER OAS

The junta suggested elections be held as soon as possible under the supervision of the Organization of American States. The junta said all "democratic parties" should participate.

Brazilian troops of the International Security Zone south and west Wednesday to include a key trouble spot — the National Palace. The smoothly conducted operation virtually eliminated the possibility of a serious clash between 350 junta troops that have been in the palace and rebel forces a block away.

The junta is leaving a token force of 25 men in the battered palace under an agreement reached by the opposing forces through OAS negotiations. The palace has not been in use since early in the revolt.

LEAVE CAPITAL

A three-nation OAS peace team prepared to leave Washington today for a new attempt to break the Dominican stalemate. It planned to meet with former Dominican President Juan Bosch in Puerto Rico in addition to negotiating with the junta and rebel factions in Santo Domingo.

The OAS has had no official contact with Bosch since his supporters last month ousted the civilian junta which Dominican military leaders installed after they overthrew Bosch in 1963.

Members of the OAS team are Ellsworth Bunker of the United States, Hinar Perna Marinho of Brazil and Ramon Clairmont of El Salvador. Their mission was authorized early Wednesday in Washington by a special OAS conference on the Dominican crisis.

White Charged In Deputy Death

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — A Negro deputy sheriff was killed and his squad car companion wounded in a highway ambush near this racial hot spot late Wednesday night.

Deputy O'Neal Moore was shot in the head. Creed Rogers, also a Negro, was wounded. Both were riding in the sheriff's car along a highway seven miles north of Bogalusa.

MAN ARRESTED

A white man was arrested in Tyrtown, Miss., about 20 miles north of Bogalusa, shortly after the shooting and charges of murder were brought against him early today.

Sheriff J. C. Knippers of Walthall County, Miss., said Ernest R. McElveen, 41, of Bogalusa, was held for Louisiana officers after being booked on a charge of murder. He refused to waive extradition.

Officers said the Negro deputies were shot from a truck which passed them near a community called Varnado, seven miles north of Bogalusa.

NEGRO SECTIONS

The Negroes were hired recently by Sheriff Dorman A. Crowe to patrol Negro sections — a move which brought angry condemnation from the Ku Klux Klan in Washington Parish (County).

Rogers was listed in "not critical" condition at a Bogalusa hospital.

The shooting came after a day in which Bogalusa's racial tensions seemed to have eased. The downtown area was the scene of sidewalk fighting last Saturday and Monday when white men charged Negro pickets in front of stores, despite a heavy police guard.

GOP's Search For Formula Faces Snags

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans hunting a formula to vitalize their minority role are running into difficulties in pinpointing issues on which to oppose President Johnson.

GOP members of Congress made it apparent in a barrage of announcements Wednesday that they have wide differences of opinion among themselves on major international and domestic problems.

GO TO PARIS

Senate Republican Leader

Everett M. Dirksen illustrated this cleavage when he was informed that a group of four House Republicans would go to Paris June 11 to inquire into the strained relations between the United States and De Gaulle's France.

"Are you kidding?" Dirksen asked reporters. "After all, we do have a State Department and we have a President who is supposed to conduct our foreign affairs." He added that such a delegation could cause an international incident if a member talked out of turn at an overseas news conference.

Dirksen was asked how he reconciled a statement by the GOP Policy Coordinating Committee that the Democratic administration "has yet to develop an adequate military program to counter the problem of Communist aggression in South Vietnam" with general party support for the course Johnson is taking there.

TOSSED BACK

"There is nothing else to support at this point," he replied.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, House minority leader, disclosed that the policy coordinating group — made up of Senate and House leaders, governors, former presidential nominees and members of the national committee — had tossed back to congressional Republicans the hot-potato issue of state laws banning the union shop.

Republicans are split over Johnson's request for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act provision which permits states to ban the union shop. Under a union-shop contract negotiated by a union and an employer, all employees covered by the contract must join the union.

MRS. ROGER L. COUNTS

Mrs. Roger L. Counts Leaves For Okinawa

By JO ANN PHINIZY
There's no doubt about it! Okinawa's gain will be Big Spring's loss. Especially in the case of Mrs. Roger L. Counts, 70 Ent.

Mrs. Counts is that rare sort of person who creates the ultimate of sophistication — informality. Her philosophy cascades into her cooking methods, home-making and just about everything.

Mrs. Counts believes that cooking and eating are pleasures that are meant to be enjoyed in the casual sense, rather than by the rigidity encouraged by elaborate preparations and planning. "Those things are stifling," she says. "No one has any fun. They're too careful being careful."

True to Air Force ethics, the Counts are on the verge of leaving the country. Mrs. Counts is accustomed to the business of transfers. It's almost routine to gather in children, throw away off-beat debris, and change mailing addresses. To some families, such activities might have a chilling effect. As a result, Mrs. Counts' personal magnet to Mrs. Counts' personality, her family moves are made against a background of curiosity and expectation.

For example, when last seen, Mrs. Counts was in the midst of the final stages of whirlwind One could almost hear the honk of moving vans; yet, she was as cheerful as if she were going on a Saturday picnic.

Cheerfulness and enthusiasm are Mrs. Counts' forte. She is the kind of person who contributes gaiety and poignant understanding to any group or problem.

She believes that a pressure cooker is about as handy as a pocket on a shirt. If one is worried about flavor, the remedy is simple. Just add plenty of spices. "Everything but ice cream needs a little onion or garlic taste," Mrs. Counts said. Fried chicken and potato salad are family favorites. Summer or winter, here or there, that is a combination the Counts group always likes.

Speaking of family, Mrs. Counts is hardly alone in the house. There's Capt. Roger L. Counts; a tall sort of person who was among the first graduates from the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. In his hobbies, he often dwells in the field of mechanics and electronics. To prove it, there's a home-built color television set and a reconstructed 1936 Ford.

There are two children to help out when things get dull. Five-year-old Clifford has just finished a bout with St. Mary's Episcopal Nursery School, and Cathy is 2 1/2 years old.

Capt. and Mrs. Counts are mountain area devotees. They like skiing, cold weather and ice. A tour of duty in Northern Germany and, maybe, Switzerland, would be most welcome.

Mrs. Counts, who has adopted Colorado Springs, Colo., as a home town, enjoys spending spare time with an artist's palette. Her secret ambition is to give Van Gogh a run for his talent.

Two things about hazel-eyed Mrs. Counts—what she sets out to do, she usually finishes, and for sure and for certain, wherever Mrs. Counts makes her home, it will never be in the village of spectators.

In the recipe department, Mrs. Counts shares some of her favorites that are "guaranteed to be rich in pounds." The blueberry pie recipe belongs to a

SUMMER CHIFFON PIE
Make your summer menus sparkle

Cookery Compliments Come With Cool Pie

The darling of dessert cookery is cool chiffon pie. It is a double winner for spring and summer menus because it delights family and guests alike and it is so simple for the hostess to make. Thanks to reliable, unflavored gelatin, chiffon pies require little cooking and always have a velvety, airy texture. Fruit Festival Pie involves a new technique of gelatin cookery. By combining icy-cold evaporated milk and hard-frozen concentrated lemon or lime concentrate; stir until melted. Stir in gelatin. The pie takes less time to reach a firm consistency — it will set after about an hour in the refrigerator. Garnish the pie with sliced strawberries, peaches, or other fruits.

FRUIT FESTIVAL PIE
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups cold water, divided
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade or limeade concentrate, kept frozen

1 tsp. almond extract
1 cup icy-cold evaporated milk (x)
1 9-inch crumb crust
Sliced fruit

Sprinkle gelatin over 1 cup cold water in medium saucepan. Place over moderate heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves, 2 or 3 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in sugar and salt. Add undiluted frozen concentrate; stir until melted. Stir in remaining 1/2 cup water and almond extract.

Whip chilled evaporated milk in small bowl of electric mixer on high speed until soft peaks form, about 2 minutes. Fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into crumb crust; chill until firm, about 1 hour. To serve, garnish with sliced fruit.

x—To chill evaporated milk, pour into ice-cube tray and freeze until soft ice crystals form around edge, 12 to 15 minutes.

Teenagers Never Miss Franks

"A meal you can hold in one hand." That's how a teenage tourist from the Far East describes the American hot dog.

And that's one reason why hot dogs are so popular for outdoor meals.

Principal ingredient of the hot dog is a frankfurter which originated in Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Germany, more than a century ago.

An immigrant German butcher introduced frankfurters in this country in 1871, selling them on the boardwalk at Coney Island.

Since then, frankfurters have become a major processed meat. Last fiscal year, more than 761 million pounds of frankfurters were prepared under the supervision of the meat inspection service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Frankfurters are usually made of beef and pork with nonfat dry milk solids or other binder. The mixture is ground, seasoned with aromatic spices, cured, stuffed into casings, smoked and cooked.

Skinless frankfurters are stuffed into cellulose casings which are removed after processing. Some frankfurters are artificially colored.

When you buy frankfurters which are marked with the round seal enclosing "U. S. inspected and passed by Department of Agriculture" you can be sure that all of the ingredients have been checked for wholesomeness.

This consumer protective service for both red meats and poultry is handled by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. It is financed by the federal government. Spreading the costs to each person in the country, meat and poultry inspection costs you 15 cents a year.

Everyone Enjoys Spicy Meat Loaf

TUNA TIDBIT TREE Goes to the party

Make An Impression With Seafood Tidbit

Tuna tidbits bloom on this delightfully edible topiary tree, party-perfect for so many entertaining events. Popular tuna blends with cream cheese and nippy spices into miniature balls which are attached to the tree with picks. Cherry tomatoes add a perky color note.

The tuna tidbits make an ideal first course, hors d'oeuvre, or sumptuous snacks, depending on your party requirements. Allowance for extra tidbits is made in the recipe so your tree will always be in bloom!

TUNA TOPIARY TIDBIT TREE
2 cans (6 1/2 or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil, well drained
2 pkgs. (3 ozs. each) cream cheese
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 tsp. Tabasco
1 small cup finely chopped parsley
Small pickled onions
1 pint cherry tomatoes

In large bowl of electric mixer, combine tuna, cream cheese, dry mustard, and Tabasco. Beat until smooth and well blended. Form into small balls about 3/4 inch in diameter; roll in chopped parsley. Chill thoroughly. On picks, thread first the small onions, then the tuna balls.

Place the cherry tomatoes on additional picks and alternate on the tree with the tuna-onion picks. Arrange any remaining tuna-onion picks and tomatoes on bed of parsley around base of tree.

DIRECTIONS FOR TREE
15-inch dowel
Paper-mache or earthenware pot 5 1/2 to 6 inches in diameter and 5 1/2 inches deep

PANTRY PICK-UPS

For Sunday brunch: Accompany scrambled eggs and ham with a platter of sauteed pineapple rings and bananas.

For a delicious salad, mix cooked carrots and peas with diced cooked potatoes and snap beans; moisten with mayonnaise and serve on crisp greens.

Braising chicken? Use a little water plus dry sherry for the braising liquid.

Ever season cream of mushroom soup with a suspicion of nutmeg?

Wrap whole small cleaned fish in foil along with a few onion rings, sliced mushrooms and bits of butter; bake in a hot oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Season the fish as you like. Be sure you close the ends of the foil tightly before baking.

Pancakes may be kept hot in a warm oven. With this technique, the cook can enjoy the pancakes with the other eaters!

When a sauce contains cream, it is best to heat it to serving temperature without boiling. If flour thickens the sauce it should be brought to boiling (so the flour will cook) before the cream is added.

When you are cooking green vegetables in a tightly covered saucepan or skillet, lift the cover a few times during the cooking period to help the vegetables retain their pretty green color. Or, if you prefer, use a lid with vent holes in it.

If you plan to reheat leftover roast beef without slicing it, be sure to bring the meat to room temperature before you put it in the oven.

Casseroles can usually be heated successfully in a slow (325 degrees) or a moderate (350 or 375 degrees) oven.

Want to make Hollandaise Sauce ahead? Get a wide-mouth vacuum jar and spoon the sauce into it; cork and close tightly and this temperamental sauce will stand up well for several hours. Never expect Hollandaise Sauce to be boiling hot even when it is served immediately after making.

Kitchen arithmetic: One-quarter pound of butter or margarine (one stick) makes eight tablespoons.

Oscar Winner Patty Duke Making Film

By BOB THOMAS
AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Patty Duke is making her first movie since her Academy Award triumph in "The Miracle Worker," and it's even more strenuous.

As Helen Keller in the film that won her the Oscar as best supporting actress of 1962, she had some knock-down battles with her fellow Oscar winner, Anne Bancroft.

TITLED "BILLIE"

Now young Patty is here for her first Hollywood film. Adapted from the play "Time Out for Ginger," it is now called plain "Billie." In it, Patty runs the 100-yard dash and hurdles, pole vaults, dances the frug and sings four numbers.

When I saw Patty in her dressing room at Paramount, she was suffering from understandable fatigue — "I think it was the hurdles that did it." But she remained as cheerful as ever. "Billie" should be a breeze for her; she plays only one role.

For two seasons she has been playing a double role on a television series entitled "The Patty Duke Show."

Crop Planting Brisk In Area

AUSTIN (AP)—Muddy fields slowed farm work in eastern sections of Texas but planting of sorghum, cotton and other crops was brisk in the north-west part of the state last week, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Widespread growth of grasses for cattle, and grazing prospects through early summer were rated excellent.

Rains held up the Low Plains wheat harvest and harvesting of oats had reached only 8 per cent completion, compared to 46 per cent at this time last year. Flax harvest also remained far behind the 1964 pace.

Showers hindered cotton planting on the High and Low Plains, but it was still active. Sorghum planting stayed ahead of the 1964 schedule, and corn prospects were called "very promising."

Baptists Reject 'Eye' At Vatican

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Southern Baptists, sticking to a past policy, still don't want an observer-delegate at the Second Vatican Council.

A move to send one was resoundingly defeated Wednesday night at the big denomination's 108th annual convention.

It would mean according "special recognition to beliefs we do not adhere to or teach," contended the Rev. Harry E. Welch of Chattanooga, Tenn., in opposing the idea.

By a show of hands, the huge assembly of a record 15,052 "messengers" voted the proposal down. Only a sprinkling of about 100 supported it.

STAND ALONE

The decision leaves Baptists as the only major Christian tradition in the world without an authorized observer at the Vatican Council, which goes into its fourth annual session next Sept. 14.

Before the start of the first one in 1962, the Baptist World Alliance declined a proffered invitation from Rome to send an observer. Southern Baptist representatives to the alliance opposed the bid.

Some other Baptist bodies favored it, however, including the American Baptist Convention (Northern), which last week urged reconsideration of the decision, and the sending of an observer.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Alley of the University of Richmond, Va., proposed similar action by the Southern Convention, whose 10.6 million members make it the largest bloc among the world's approximately 25 million Baptists.

"CANNOT IGNORE"

Sending an observer "would not commit us to any relationship," he maintained, but would permit a firsthand view of "something new and alive in the world and which we cannot ignore."

The move also was supported by the Rev. Dr. Glenn Hinson, church historian of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., who said it would express "our approval and sincere concern for changes in the Roman Catholicism to improve its testimony to Christ. The changes have been wholesome so far."

An observer also would provide a "last chance to lend our voice and our testimony to the Roman Catholic Church," which has shown a readiness to listen to Protestant views, he said.

"DIVISION STANDS"

On the other hand, Stanley Andrews of Prescott, Ariz., said Baptists and Catholics are "divided basically" and "nothing can come in any way from dialogue" between them.

It also was noted that the Rev. Dr. Barry Garrett of Washington, D.C., associate director of the Baptist committee on public affairs, has attended the last two Vatican Council sessions as a reporter for the Baptist press but not as an official observer.

The convention likewise turned down a proposal to limit its president's term to one year, shortly after re-electing the Rev. Dr. Wayne Dehoney, 46, of Jackson, Tenn., president for a second year.

A dynamic, red-haired clergyman with a flair for evangelical preaching, he is a member of President Johnson's Human Relations Commission.

Isles Greet Mrs. LBJ

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, St. Thomas, V.I. (AP)—This tropic island gave Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson a warm welcome on her first visit here and the governor added "the keys to our hearts."

In Emancipation Gardens where slaves were freed more than a century ago, a crowd of about 7,000 turned out to cheer the First Lady as she noted "the impressive way equality was translated into reality in these islands."

Mrs. Johnson is here to make a commencement address tonight at the first graduation of the College of the Virgin Islands. She aimed to get a few days vacation.

Banners in the streets of Charlotte Amalie, the capital of this island of some 40,000 persons, proclaimed "Welcome Mrs. Johnson" as she drove from the airport in a white convertible. Youngsters ran alongside.

MUSICAL WELCOME

In the five-acre palm-fringed gardens, a steel band greeted her with calypso strains.

Hatless in the tropic sun, wearing a peach linen suit with a gay print scarf at the neck, she smilingly told the crowd what a bargain the United States got when it purchased the islands from Denmark in 1917 for $25 million.

"We have only to look at last year's cash register," Mrs. Johnson said, "for in one year alone the Virgin Islands bought $70 million worth of goods from the states."

LBJ GREETINGS

She relayed greetings from the President and said this was her first trip here, "but I already know it won't be my last."

A four-year-old girl gave her a bouquet of native flowers. Impressed, Mrs. Johnson later tried to identify them and Mrs. Ralph Palewosky, wife of the governor, came to the rescue by pulling out of her purse and presenting a book on the island's flowers.

Gov. Palewosky told Mrs. Johnson a bandstand to be erected where she spoke will bear a plaque commemorating her appearance.

Mule For Muleshoe

MULESHOE (AP)—Residents greeted with cheers this week the arrival of a monument to the animal for which this West Texas town is named.

They applauded the lifesized statue as an exact likeness of Old Pete, the 18-year-old mule picked as model after a wide-spread search.

Muleshoe's Mule Memorial Association will unveil the monument July 3. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr will be the speaker.

The statue was delivered by Mrs. Jim Rorie, co-owner of the Fiber Glass Menagerie Co. at Alpine, Calif.

Final Word On Remapping Districts Up To U.S. Court

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' last legislature grinded its teeth and voted to give city dwellers the power federal courts say they should have in Congress and the state capital. Rural members of the 59th Legislature tried to make the shift as painless as possible both for themselves and for certain favored congressmen. And voters may relieve the seven state senators marked for involuntary retirement.

A final say on remapping plans for the House, Senate and congressional districts will be up to the same federal court in Houston that ordered Texas to end under-representation of urban dwellers by August. MEET STANDARD Gov. John Connally told lawmakers on the last day of their session he thinks the districts meet the federal "one man-one vote" standard. Opponents predicted, however, that the federal court would reject the plans, particularly the House and congressional districting bills. The measures generally accomplished what the federal tribunal said should be done: End the gross under-representation of Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston and create districts of approximately equal population. Here are the essential effects: Congress—Dallas and Houston each get an additional congressman, giving Dallas a total of two and Houston three. Parts of Tarrant, Bexar and Dallas counties were assigned to under-populated rural districts. A new district, with no incumbent, was created in South Texas. Four congressmen were forced into possible re-election contests with incumbents. Senate—Representation of Dallas, Harris, Bexar and Tarrant counties was increased from four to 10 among the 31 senators. Dallas County gained two, Harris three and Bexar

one. The south fourth of Tarrant County was placed in a predominantly rural district. Each of the four metropolitan counties now has one senator. GAIN SEATS House—The four big cities gained 16 seats, raising their total strength from 35 to 41 among the 150 House members. Harris County voters will choose 19 representatives in 1966 instead of 12. Dallas County's delegation rose from 9 to 14, Bexar County's from 7 to 10 and Tarrant County's from 7 to 8. Few observers think there will be immediate drastic changes in the kind of legislation passed. Urban strength will increase again after the 1971 Legislature accomplishes the reapportionment required as a result of the 1970 census. Until last year's landmark U.S. Supreme Court decision that both houses of state legislatures must reflect only population, two provisions of the Texas Constitution kept rural and urban representation out of balance. A section of the original 1876 Constitution allowed only one senator per county, regardless of population. In 1936, while Texas was still predominantly rural, voters adopted a constitutional amendment limiting cities of 700,000 or more to one state representative per 100,000 people. AT LARGE As a result, rural House members in the 59th Legislature represented as few as 34,000 people, while urban members—who had run at large in their counties—had an average of 100,000 constituents. The four metropolitan counties, with 36 per cent of the state's 1960 population, had 23 per cent of the voting strength in the House and 13 per cent in the Senate. This was reflected in the state's congressional apportionment, which the legislature determines. Population ranged from nearly a million in Dallas County to 216,371 in Dist. 4, once represented by Speaker Sam Rayburn. Texas gained its 23rd congressman after the 1960 census, and by population standards Dallas County should have received him. But Dallas County was then represented by Republican Congressman Bruce Alger, and the solidly Democratic 57th Legislature apparently feared the county would elect another Republican. So the 23rd congressman became an at-large position, now held by Dallas Democrat Joe Pool. Each house made an effort to ease the pain of redistricting for itself, and the final congressional remap preserves districts for favored congressmen, including three powerful committee chairmen. The Senate drafted, and the House finally accepted, a plan to enlarge the Senate to 39 members, thereby preserving the jobs of all incumbents while giving big cities their additional strength. FINAL DECISION Voters will make the final decision on the 39-member Senate plan Sept. 7. Senators were unable, however, to agree on a redistricting bill on the basis of 39 members. If voters adopt the Senate enlargement plan, most lawmakers think Connally would be obliged to call a special session to write the necessary reapportionment bill. The House bill throws 42 rural and small city representatives into possible re-election fights against incumbents, but virtually all of Speaker Ben Barnes' leadership team and key committee chairmen escaped that fate. In the final congressional redistricting bill, "safe" districts were carefully carved for U.S. Reps. Wright Patman of Texas, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and Olin Teague of College Station, chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee. Congressmen Jack Brooks of Beaumont and Clark Thompson of Galveston, staunch Johnson administration supporters, were thrown into the same district. The same thing happened to Congressmen Ray Roberts of McKinney and Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater.

GOP Dissension Told On Voting Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deep divisions within the Republican party on voting rights legislation were disclosed today in the House Judiciary Committee's report on its pending bill.

Five separate positions were staked out in the report by the 11 GOP members, 8 of them taking a stand that also pits them against their party's Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

DEMO FOR
Five Democrats also dissented from the majority report favoring the administration-backed bill, but all were Southerners expressing expected opposition to a measure they regard as aimed chiefly at Southern states.

The eight Republicans, led by Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, blasted the bill that Dirksen helped draft as hastily contrived, vague, inconsistent and discriminatory.

SUPPORT SUB
They pledged support for a substitute proposed by McCulloch and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House GOP leader. When a similar proposal was put to a vote in the Senate,

Plane Made Into Tavern

KANSAS CITY (AP)—As you enter the airplane the hostess says "welcome to Flight 42."

You can stay aboard the Super G Constellation for a few minutes or for hours and you might even get high—but you'll leave 42nd and Main Street in midtown Kansas City.

Flight 42 is a bonafide airplane, retired for the jet age and reborn this week as a tavern. Its 150-foot wingspread is wedged between a cleaning establishment and a pizza parlor.

The plane, built at a cost of $3,219,550 for Trans World Airlines, was sold to John Glorioso and Patrick G. Quirk for some $30,000 by TWA. It seats 70, with some of the seats in the midsection removed for the bar.

Water Revenue Bond Sale OK

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Sale of $48.5 million in water revenue bonds to finance the Livingston Dam and Reservoir was approved this week by directors of the Trinity River Authority.

The authority and the city of Houston plan to build the dam 9 miles southwest of Livingston.

Accord Sought On Disability Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes were improved today for a break in the deadlock between House and Senate over a proposed constitutional amendment dealing with presidential disability.

The leaders of the House and Senate committees trying to work out a compromise were reported in agreement — but there is still the matter of getting the other conferees to agree.

The issue that is threatening to kill an amendment that both the Senate and House passed overwhelmingly, is a time limit the House imposed on Congress to decide who is president when a vice president challenges the right of a once-disabled president to resume office.

The House said 10 days was enough, after which the president would automatically get his job back if Congress had still not acted.

BOTH BILLS
The Senate, which prizes its custom of unlimited debate, fixed no time limit. But it said Congress should proceed immediately to consider the vice president's challenge. In both bills, it would require a two-thirds vote to uphold the challenge.

Two meetings between the conference committees left the dispute unresolved, with prospects for agreement so dim no new meetings were scheduled.

But the American Bar Association, which has been pushing for such an amendment for years, refused to give up. Its efforts produced an informal meeting Wednesday between Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and Sen. Birch E. Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the Senate subcommittee that wrote the bill.

ACCEPT LIMIT
They are reported to have agreed on a 21-day limit for congressional action.

Celler's House colleagues are believed ready to go along with the change, but Bayh could have a problem bringing his fellow conferees around.

Celler is reported to have told Bayh 21 days is as far as he will go, and that no other meetings will be scheduled unless Bayh can swing the other senators around to the time limit.
