Canadian Gets A Clean Bill In Resignation

OTTAWA (AP) — Chief Justice Frederic Dorion's inquiry into the Lucien Rivard bribery scandal has resulted in the resignation of Justice Minister Guy Favreau, but Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson says that is "only the first scene of the first act."

Brine Disposal Regulation Appeal Killed

AUSTIN (AP)—The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals dismissed today an appeal by the Texas Water Pollution Control Board to determine whether the board or the Texas Railroad Commission has the authority to regulate disposal of oil field brine and other wastes.

The board, which was contesting an Austin judge's decision giving the regulatory authority to the commission, asked for the dismissal.

The board's request followed passage of a bill by the legislature giving the commission clear-cut power to prevent water pollution by brine and other waste materials from oil and gas wells. This, in effect, settled the court squabble, which was started when Superior Oil Co. filed a suit challenging the board's authority.

Officials Face Floor Debate

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Two controversial resolutions appeared to be headed for floor debate today as the nation's state attorneys general entered the final day of their annual convention.

Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson of Mississippi said he would try to get a civil rights resolution concerning alleged police brutality before the gathering even though the resolutions committee did not approve it.

Atty. Gen. Daniel McLeod of South Carolina indicated he would push for the national attorneys-general association to take a firm stand on reapportionment.

McLeod's resolution, which also did not receive committee approval, calls support of a constitutional amendment to allow one house of a two-house state legislature to be apportioned on "bases" in addition to population.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1964 that both houses of a state legislature must be apportioned on strict population bases. This has become known as the "one man, one vote" rule.

Patterson's resolution would put the attorneys general in the position of denouncing civil rights groups' suggestions that civilian boards be established to handle cases of alleged police brutality in civil rights arrests.

"Demonstrators—and we have quite a few of them down in Mississippi—deliberately try to provoke arrests," Patterson told newsmen. "Then, the minute they go to jail, they start hollering police brutality."

Stocks Stage Massive Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rang up a massive gain in heavy trading today. It held the momentum of the huge runup late Tuesday in a wild roller-coaster session.

The New York Stock Exchange's volume in the first hour totaled 2.48 million shares against 2.63 million in the like period Tuesday, when total volume exceeded 10 million shares.

A broker said the rise has seen an increase in buying by institutions, who deal in big blocks. This is the last day of the 1965 first half and it was their last day to bolster their portfolios.

Conferees OK Duty-Free Plan For Tourists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees reached agreement today on a bill fixing a new $100 retail value duty-free allowance for purchases abroad which U.S. tourists can bring back to this country.

The new allowance would take effect Oct. 1 this year. It compares with a limit of $100 wholesale value, the equivalent of $167 retail, which now is in effect.

Congress is racing to get the bill to President Johnson so that he can sign it before midnight. If it does not become law by then, the old limit of $500 based on wholesale value will go into effect Thursday.

Under the compromise bill, the present law, with its $100 wholesale ceiling, will stay in effect through Sept. 30. This is to protect tourists already abroad or with plans to make such a trip this summer.

The Senate passed the legislation 61-31 Tuesday. Johnson had asked Congress to lower the duty-free exemption to $50 retail effective Thursday.

Court Rules Company May Redrill Wells

AUSTIN (AP)—Relying on a 1964 Texas Supreme Court decision, the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals ruled today the L. & G. Oil Co. may redrill and straighten five oil wells in the East Texas field.

The ruling upheld decisions by the Texas Railroad Commission and Austin Dist. Judge Herman Jones. Amerada Petroleum Co. challenged the decisions, claiming L. & G. had agreed in writing not to seek permission to straighten the wells.

The wells were among nine drilled on a 73.6-acre tract in Gregg County between 1935 and 1948. The appeals court's opinion said the five wells were found to be slanted after a directional survey by Amerada in 1962.

L. & G. withdrew an application in 1963 for commission approval of the bottomhole locations, but after the Supreme Court's Jan. 29 order allowing drillers to straighten slanted wells, the company filed a new application to redrill the wells, case records show.

The appeals court said the Railroad Commission did not have power to decide contracts, such as Amerada said it had signed with L. & G.

The two, Francis A. Capell, 57, of Zarephath, N.J., and John F. Ferguson, 47, of Los Angeles, said in identical letters Monday that an affidavit by them falsely accused Kuchel of a 1950 morals offense.

The three were scheduled to begin trial on a charge of conspiring to criminally libel the senator. After pleading no contest to the lesser charge, Capell and Ferguson were ordered to return July 19 for sentencing and probation hearing.

Judge Bernard S. Selber also put off to the same date a district attorney's motion to drop the charges against the third man, a former Los Angeles police sergeant, Jack D. Clemmons, 41.

The proposed amendment deals with a long-standing problem.

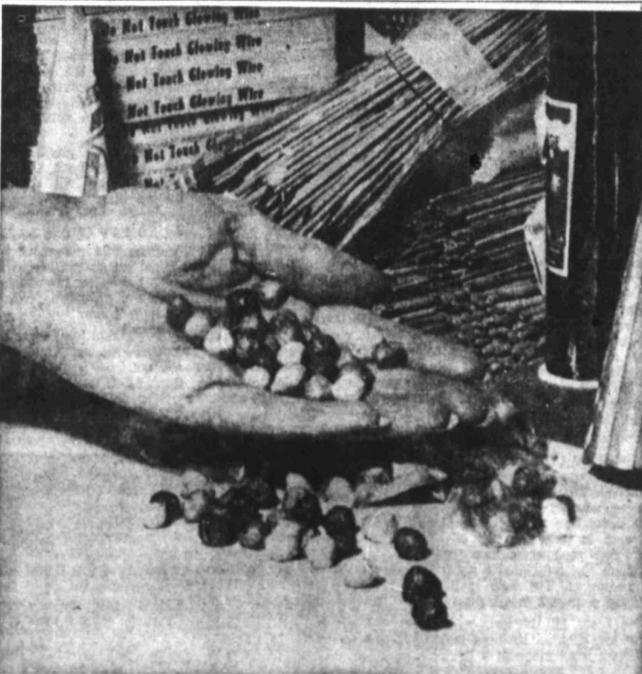

The Constitution outlines the procedure for removing a president from office but there is no detail as to how the disability of a president shall be determined. Neither is there any provision for filling a vacancy in the vice presidency.

The proposed amendment.

Can Kill Child

These colorful and attractive "cracker balls" are fireworks but they look enough like candy that across the country already at least one child has been killed and nine injured by them. The children thought they were candy and bit into them. The Food and Drug Administration, sounding a warning again today that swallowing cracker balls can be lethal, stepped up a drive against them, since the traditional fireworks day of July 4 is nearing. Federal marshals last Friday seized stocks of the firecrackers, small and round, in Shreveport, Baton Rouge and Monroe, La. Story on page 5-A. (AP WIRE- PHOTO)

Investigators Will Report On Baker

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's Bobby Baker investigation was launched just after Baker resigned on Oct. 7, 1963 as secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority amid questions raised by Sen. John J. Williams, R-DeI. and others about his outside financial and business dealings.

The Democratic and Republican members have split along party lines on their findings but have agreed on some proposals as safeguards against conflicts of interest by senators and Senate employees.

When President Johnson was the Senate Democratic leader, Baker was his right-hand man and the committee's investigations ballooned into an issue in last fall's election campaign. Republicans accused the Democrats of a cover-up and a whitewash.

Baker, who accumulated a claimed fortune of over $2 million while on the Senate payroll at $19,600 a year, invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against self-incrimination and refused to answer questions when called as a witness.

A former page boy from Pickens, S.C., he was found "guilty of many gross improprieties" by the Rules Committee in a report last July. It said he had used his Senate office "as if it were a private business office."

Testimony brought out that he had interests in insurance, vending machines, motels, meat imports and other enterprises and had made some highly profitable stock purchases.

After the committee's report last July, Williams forced a reopening of the investigation with a Senate speech charging a political payoff by Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor and former ambassador to Ireland, on the District of Columbia Stadium project.

Williams said that McCloskey had made a $35,000 overpayment on the performance bond on the stadium and that $25,000 of this had been channeled through Baker to the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.

Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance man, later swore he was the "bag man" and kept $10,000 for handling the money. But McCloskey made a sworn denial of the charge and testified the overpayment was a "goof" by his company.

Others who figured prominently in the reopened investigation included lobbyist friends of Baker and Walter Jenkins, one of Johnson's top aides, who resigned at the President's request during last fall's presidential campaign after disclosure Jenkins twice had been arrested on morals charges.

On the advice of psychiatrists, the committee excused Jenkins from testifying but he answered written questions under oath and denied pressuring Reynolds into buying $1,208 worth of advertising time on an Austin, Tex., television station controlled by the Johnson family.

Another Major Battle Develops

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A large government force, hit by a reinforced Viet Cong regiment, appeared to have fought its way to comparative safety tonight in a major battle 200 miles northeast of Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

A Vietnamese infantry unit of undisclosed size was surrounded and heavily engaged by the Viet Cong earlier in the day. The command post of a second element was reported also surrounded and in danger of being overrun.

However, the spokesman said two airborne battalions which were part of a three-unit Vietnamese task force operating near Cheo Reo in Pleiku Province had linked up with the threatened command post.

He said the infantry unit, whose size was classified, had re-established radio contact with the remainder of the troops and that, while their situation was not known precisely, the unit reported that it was all right.

There were no reports of casualties. A total of 34 air sorties were flown against the Viet Cong in an effort to smash their attack.

A U.S. Air Force light spotting plane flew over the area and was shot down in the jungle. The fate of the pilot and his observer, both Americans, was not known, the spokesman said.

Another battle. The government task force, made up of three units of paratroopers and infantrymen, began an operation Tuesday near Cheo Reo, the capital of Phu Bon Province. The force headed in the direction of Thuan Mong, a district capital 8 miles from Cheo Reo.

A huge Viet Cong force attacked Thuan Mong and the advancing government force this morning, the spokesman said. Shortly after the town's radio communications blacked out, indicating it probably had fallen.

Simultaneously, one of the three large government units was reported surrounded and fighting a desperate battle.

At least six Americans were participating in the action, along with advisers to the various Vietnamese units, the spokesman said. He said their fate was not known.

Massive Viet Cong buildups have been reported during the past two weeks in mountainous Phu Bon Province. The Communists have made several big probes in the area in the past few days.

WICKETT, Tex. (AP) — Dan Vandell, 45, of Odessa was seriously burned Tuesday when his butane truck exploded after colliding with another truck 3 miles north of here in West Texas.

The other driver was not injured. Witnesses saw the tank truck, carrying about 10,000 gallons of butane, skycrocket several thousand feet when it blew up. The blast fanned power lines, burned grass and trees, and melted the asphalt pavement.

VA Administrator Due Here July 18

William J. Driver, administrator of Veterans Affairs, will come here July 18 to help celebrate the 15th anniversary of the opening of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring.

Donald Van Meter, director of the hospital, confirmed today that Driver would be able to be here for the special occasion.

Driver will be the speaker for the anniversary, and Dr. Albert H. Fechner, VA area medical director, is due to be on hand for the occasion. An extensive program is being planned in observance of the milepost, and the hospital will have open house. Driver heads an organization of more than 170,000 employees and is responsible for the expenditure of $5.4 billion dollars annually in serving eligible beneficiaries among the nation's more than 21,000,000 veterans and families.

The community joined with the hospital in celebrating the first decade of service for the hospital here, and Van Meter said that every effort would be made to make the 15th anniversary a memorable one. He urged residents to circle July 18 and plan to participate in the program.

Local Red Cross Worker Gets Disaster Duty Call

By ROY WILLIAMS
This notice appeared in a recent issue of the Webb Air Force Base Daily Bulletin, "American National Red Cross Office—located in Bldg. 263—resumed normal office hours today. Evelyn Long, field director, is in charge." The story behind this announcement began April 13, 1965.

Miss Long was having luncheon at Webb's Officers' Open Mess with the Catholic chaplain, Capt. Thomas D. Holland, and the deputy commander for training of the 3500th Pilot Training Wing, Col. Edwin J. White Jr. The news of the day dealt with the swollen Mississippi River spilling over into Iowa and Minnesota.

NEVER BEEN
Chaplain Holland said, "A flood is bad enough but the temperature in Des Moines today is 35." Miss Long got a faraway look in her eyes and said, "perhaps I'll get a call for disaster duty there." Then smiling, she added, "I don't know why I said that. I have yet to be called on a disaster."

The following day, Miss Long found herself having luncheon alone on an airliner over Iowa. Her call had come during the night and she took an early morning plane out of Midland for Mason City, Iowa, a Red Cross command post located in the center of the disaster area. There had been time enough to make arrangements with Mrs. Moree Sawtelle, executive secretary of the Howard-Glasscock Counties Chapter of Red Cross, to cover her office, and then pack, take a nap and be on her way to her first disaster. Red Cross then, was on its way—from all corners of the country—San Diego, Portland, Maine, Seattle, Miami—and from Webb AFB.

WENT TO WORK
The Mason City airport was under way, so Miss Long's airliner landed at Des Moines. There she was instantly recruited as a case worker, to work out of St. Paul, with expectations of being on the job as long as two weeks. She stayed two months.

The Red Cross organization at St. Paul was a hastily put together unit of professionals, reserves and volunteers. However, it was a group of dedicated people experienced at helping people, at many another disaster—and their sleeves were rolled up.

Miss Long's bailiwick was nearby Lilydale, Minn., said to be a lovely village on the river. Now it was the river. It was a while before she could see that it had been a pretty place. Her first views were from the village constable's boat, plying the streets, on course only by staying between roof and tree tops. She saw dogs and cats, crazed with fear, on roofs; a rabbit cage, with live rabbits, in a tree-top; dazed people in skiffs, searching, searching.

EVELYN LONG

The flood had not come without warning. Many accepted Red Cross's offer to put furniture and personal effects in storage, in advance of the rampaging waters. Many did not. Instead, second floors and attics were utilized as "safe enough." But this time, it wasn't so. Houses were covered, some hammered free from foundations and swept away by the currents.

She does not think she will soon forget the people of Lilydale, who lost so much but found within themselves the courage to begin again.

Undoubtedly too, the people of Lilydale will long remember the soft-spoken Red Cross lady from Texas—who came to help—and did.

HELP CLIENTS

A Red Cross case worker is an investigator who builds a case to support her eventual recommendation as to the kind and cost of help for her clients. The recommendation is based on the individual's need and resources. The help is in the form of grants, not loans.

Miss Long fell in love with one of her clients. One little old lady, who lived alone in a two-story house, was digging out and cleaning up immediately after the waters subsided. She left Miss Long and her technical advisors (labor and material estimators) puffing when they tried to follow her up the steep stairs. As she was showing the Red Crossers around she was saying, "A lot of folks were hurt worse than I in this flood," and pointing to loose paneling and peeled wall paper, she went on, "so I can fix this myself . . . and do this . . . and that . . . and so on."

"And she did," said Miss Long. "All the money this little lady had in the world was what she had put aside for her burial. Her really big resource was herself. She was endowed with an unconquerable and beautiful spirit. Her grant was smaller than it could have been, but she would have it no other way."

GAVE HELP

The Red Cross was the help that made it possible for Lilydale to come back. Insurance companies do not issue policies for floods.

"Red Cross bore the brunt in rebuilding," says Miss Long, "from repairs to entire new houses. The enormous amount of money we expended was entirely from free-will donations from all America. While Red Cross is a quasi-governmental agency, it has absolutely no governmental subsidy or financial backing."

Miss Long said it was a worthwhile experience she would not have wanted to miss.

Six Craved A Part In Moon Venture

HOUSTON (AP) — Six men of science can't hide their youthful enthusiasm when they talk about how they feel about being part of the Apollo moon program.

Two wanted in the program so badly, they revealed at a Manned Spacecraft Center news conference Tuesday, that they applied to become astronauts several months before space officials advertised for applicants with scientific backgrounds.

Another, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Joseph P. Kerwin, 33, said he heard about the National Aeronautic and Space Administration advertisement and "after reflecting on it about a second and a half I put in my application."

Dr. Harrison Schmitt, 29, astrogeologist for the U.S. Geological Survey at Flagstaff, Ariz., said: "I tied Joe (Kerwin) in the time it took to get in an application."

Dr. Edward G. Gibson, 28-year-old Newport Beach, Calif., physicist, said his wife Julia saw the ad in a Los Angeles newspaper.

NO PAY CUT

"When she told me about it and I found out she was serious about it, I applied. . . I sometimes think she's more spaceminded than I am."

Did any of them have to take a pay cut? All six indicated they did not.

"I think all of us would have done it for nothing," said Dr. Duane E. Graveline, 34, a physician at the space center. The two who applied previously are Dr. Owen K. Garriott, 34, a Stanford University associate professor of physics, and Dr. Frank C. Michel, 31, a Rice University assistant professor of space sciences.

Michel applied in 1963 and was rejected because he didn't have enough hours in jet flying time.

Garriott filed an application 18 months ago "even though I knew it would collect dust." As soon as he heard that scientists were wanted, he filed another.

Donald K. Slayton, a Project Mercury astronaut and director of flight operations at the space center, was asked about the possible scientific value of adding a woman to America's space team.

"BEST QUALIFIED"
"We seek the best qualified persons — male or female, it makes no difference," Slayton said, turning to see if Hess had any comment.

"Don't pass the buck to me," Hess said.

The two medical doctors among the new astronauts were asked their opinion.

Kerwin could think of no scientific experiment for which a woman astronaut would be necessary.

Graveline said he couldn't think "of anything I could say that would be to my advantage."

No one asked Schmitt, the only bachelor in the group.

Bridegroom Given Untoward Sendoff
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Wesley Petty of Knoxville had a real sendoff when he was married.

"A bunch of my friends ripped the wires out, broke the radio antenna and poured some sort of paint on my car," he told police.

DOWN AND UP

Stock Market Likened To 'Case Of Measles'

NEW YORK (AP) — After a week of sluggish activity and downward skid, the stock market has produced two remarkable sessions.

Tuesday, it zoomed up in the morning, fell down at midday and then came roaring back for the biggest advance of the year.

Monday, it suffered the worst loss since Nov. 22, 1963, the day

President John F. Kennedy was assassinated.

CAN'T EXPLAIN
Brokers generally were at a loss to explain the activity.

Volume Monday was a vigorous 7.66 billion during the sell-off.

Tuesday, volume on the New York Stock Exchange rose to 10.49 billion shares, sixth highest in the history of the exchange.

One broker likened the situation to "a case of the measles that has to run its course."

BLUE CHIPS
Most of the closing gain was concentrated in the blue chip stocks representing the nation's largest corporations. But not a single stock set a new high price level for the year, while 452 stocks hit new lows for 1965.

The exchange's ticker tape lagged as much as six minutes behind floor transactions during the morning buying rush.

Book Seminar Hears Editor

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — A Fort Worth editor told a living textbook seminar Tuesday that newspapermen have much in common with classroom teachers.

"The common aim is that both devote their lives to the conveyance of truth," said Jack Butler, editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The four-day seminar on the use of newspapers in classroom instruction ended today with a panel discussion on newspapers. It was sponsored by the Amon G. Carter Foundation and Arlington State College.

Butler said most of the information available in today's world has come from newspapers.

Enough is written daily in a newspaper for a year's history and much meditation," he told teachers attending the seminar.

Ban On Cigarette Smoking Imposed

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP) — The headmaster of Phillips Andover Academy has banned cigarette smoking on the preparatory school campus.

John M. Kemper said his decision was based on the report of the U.S. surgeon general linking smoking with respiratory diseases. Seminars had been permitted to smoke.

Altrusans Hold Club Banquet

Legends of the world's most precious gems were told by Mrs. Loyd Wooten Tuesday evening in a symbolic ceremony during which she installed new officers of the Altrusa Club. The annual installation banquet was held in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club where the head table sparkled with jewelry spilling from a gold pirate's chest. Flanking the colorful centerpiece were displays of jewels and giant imitation stones which were also scattered along the other dining tables. As Mrs. Wooten spoke of the symbolism of each gem, in regard to the office it represented, she presented each officer with a jeweled pill box. The onyx, used by the Romans in foundations of temples, was given to the new directors, Mrs. C. R. Rhoads, Mrs. Modesta Simpson and Mrs. Caribel Laughlin. The turquoise, representing service and loyalty, was re-

Winners in the east-west portion were Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, first; Mrs. Ben McCullough and Mrs. Ayra McGann, second; and Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. R. K. McEwen Jr., third.

TOPS Give New Title

Mrs. Leona Louder was awarded the title of June Queen during the Tuesday evening meeting of the TOPS Pound Rebels. She reported a 12 pound weight loss.

The club met at the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company with Mrs. Walter Goodwin presiding.

In the July 6 meeting, set for the Conference Room at the chamber of commerce office, Mrs. Mack H. Tate will conduct an evening of card games. The winners will receive "white elephant" prizes.

Mission Report Given By WSCS

A report on Methodist missions was heard during the Tuesday morning meeting of the Martha Foster Circle of Wesley Methodist Church. The group met at the home of Mrs. Jerry Allen, 610 Bucknell, and Mrs. E. R. Cawthron presented the opening prayer. Mrs. Raymond Phillips gave the devotion, and Mrs. Marshall Day presented the report from the mission board. Refreshments were served to 10 members and two guests, Mrs. H. B. Bratcher and Mrs. H. C. Hodges from Oklahoma. Mrs. J. A. Sharp gave the closing prayer.

Westside Baptists Set Slate

New officers were elected during the Tuesday morning meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Westside Baptist Church. The group met at the church with Mrs. C. L. Kirkland presiding.

The new slate, which will take office in October, are Mrs. Kirkland, president; Mrs. W. E. Hollis, vice president; and Mrs. E. O. Sanderson, secretary-treasurer.

The committee chairmen will be Mrs. E. O. Sanderson, Girls Auxiliary director; Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Young Women's Auxiliary director; Mrs. L. C. Gibbs, YWA counselor; Mrs. Bill Ballard, Mrs. W. C. Ross, Mrs. J. O. Sanderson and Miss Ruby Rutledge, counselors for junior girls.

Other committee chairmen are Mrs. W. G. Anderson, counselor for intermediate girls, and Mrs. D. S. Brooks, Sunbeam leader. The reviewing council is Mrs. Kirkland, Mrs. J. O. Sanderson, Mrs. Harvey Coffman and Mrs. J. C. Madley.

Also, Mrs. Mollie Gardner, prayer; Mrs. Billy Rogers, program; Mrs. J. O. Murphy, Stewardship; Mrs. Earl Hollis, community mission; and Mrs. Fred Painter, mission study.

Mrs. J. W. Trantham will be chairman for the Bonnie Phillips Circle, and Mrs. Monroe Sunday will lead the Elvee Horton Circle. During the program session of the meeting, Mrs. E. O. Sanderson gave the devotion, and Mrs. Painter read two poems based on prayer.

British Wives Set Golf Games

British Wives Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bobby Smith, 2502 Wheelock won the game prize, and Mrs. Joe Cathey won the door prize. The next meeting will be July 13 at the Starlight Acres for miniature golf.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Things are really going to be colorful this fall when the young ladies start back to school if the styles shown in recent pattern books are any criterion. I'm not speaking of the clothing such as dresses, skirts and blouses... it's the textured hose that not only catch the eye but practically make the orbs pop with the bold color and design. The patterns include everything from paisley to large diamonds and circles within circles. Some match blouses, and others don't match anything. The salesgirls say that all the salesmen are showing the long, highly-patterned leg coverings for the young ladies, and they more than likely will go over in a big way... and keep the legs warm too.

MRS. KYLE CAUBLE is back at work but not in the friskiest fashion. She sustained a severe whiplash in her neck last week when a car hit her car from the rear.

Tomorrow is the day MRS. GROVER WILEY and her sister, MRS. BUEL FOX, leave for a ten day vacation. They plan to spend several days in Plano with PAT WILEY who liked Plano so well after doing her practice teaching there last spring that she took a job teaching swimming at the Recreation Center. Saturday the two will go to Houston where they will spend several days with MR. and MRS. BOB FOX and their daughters, Amy and Vicki. Vicki plans to return here with her grandmother and spend several weeks.

MR. and MRS. CORAL B. SULLIVAN of Denton were here over the weekend to visit his mother, MRS. C. B. SULLIVAN. Both the younger Sullivans are in NTSU for the summer session.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

'Shoot' The Works When Barbecuing

Dear Heloise: We had friends in for steaks which we charcoal grilled. They were intrigued with my husband's method of controlling the flames (started by the dripping fat), and they suggested that I write to you. He uses a toy water pistol (squirrel gun) and, as a flame flares up, he "shoots" it out pronto. We use this method both outdoors and indoors (in the fireplace) for our barbecue cooking. In fact, we have two guns, so that our company can participate if they want to! Ruth Johnson

Dear Heloise: I have found a neat way to fold nylon slips. Turn the top of the slip inside (at the waistline), then you have a straight edge to fold. The straps are on the inside, and the slips look neater in the drawer. Mrs. Michael Urdal

Dear Heloise: If you have a whirlygig clothes lines, I find that if you hang the longer things on the inside, and smaller things on the outer lines, that the breeze gets to the entire wash easier. Also, things on the outside lines (being short), do not wrap themselves around the lines so easily. Merlin Nezelek

Dear Heloise: I keep several slates (quite inexpensive at dime stores), an eraser for one each, and white chalk, so when little folks are calling or visiting here, they have something to do that is not disturbing. A rug or blanket on the floor keeps things in order. And, believe it or not, pretty soon some grown up is down on the floor playing some game, printing for them, or drawing pictures. The legs of an old card table were cut off down to the size where little folks could sit on the floor and use the table for games, lunches, etc. Mrs. B. Kenyon

Dear Heloise: In regard to the bachelor who had trouble keeping his shirt-tail in... A grown man, who is single, should be able to solve these problems by himself - if he has been clever enuf to stay single!!! Charlie

Dear Heloise: When my husband switched to pipe smoking, I thought surely he'd crack the large ceramic ash tray when he'd give the pipe a necessary whack to loosen the pipe ashes and tobacco. No more worries about this since I glued a big cork off-center, inside the ash tray. He can safely hit the cork with his pipe, the ashes fall into the center of the ash tray, and, best of all, I know the cork is taking the jolt. The original cork is still holding up after four months. Mrs. "Fix It!"

We do love the little rascal (25 pounds)... Helen Snustad (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Cracker Ball Alert Sounded

NEW YORK (AP) — Authorities around the nation are seizing cracker balls, tiny pellets which can explode when bitten.

The brightly colored firecrackers—about three-eighths of an inch in diameter—can be lethal when swallowed. The death of at least one child has been blamed on the pellets which look like candy.

HOLIDAY AHEAD

The nearness to the Fourth of July, with its traditional use of fireworks, has accelerated the crackdowns.

Nine children throughout the country have been injured because they mistook the cracker balls for candy, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health said Tuesday.

The department warned parents and retailers to be on the alert for the cracker balls.

made with an outer coating of papier-mache material. The pellets are made to explode when thrown against a hard surface.

A Massachusetts official said inspectors had confiscated 450 boxes of the pellets under the state's hazardous labeling act. "To date," the official said, "nine cases of oral and dental injury have resulted in the country because these fireworks explode when bitten."

Rights Groups Blast Claim

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The claim of a special committee of the Alabama Legislature that three civil rights groups are promoting the Communist cause has drawn immediate answering fire from the groups' leaders.

A report by the Alabama Legislative Commission to Preserve the Peace was released Tuesday, charging that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and the Congress of Racial Equality are Communist inspired.

Reactions from leaders of those groups included, "witch-hunting", "a typical response from a typical Southern legislature," "entirely false," and "rubbish."

The report labeled Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the head of SCLC and top figure in civil rights efforts in Alabama recently, as one "actively engaged in promoting the Communist line."

King, in turn, blasted the report as "another attempt to evade the fact that democracy does not exist in Alabama."

Three Resign In Town Row

CENTER, Tex. (AP)—Three officials of this East Texas town have resigned in a dispute over a proposed ordinance to require that employees live in the city.

A fourth official, City Judge J. J. Jackson, said Tuesday he was thinking about handing in his resignation also.

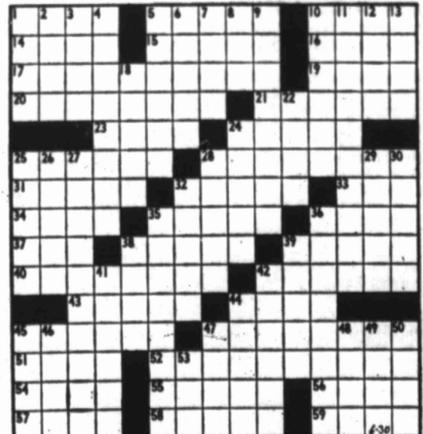

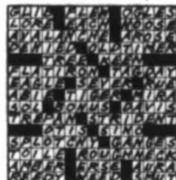

Attempts by Councilman Paul Rose to pass an ordinance requiring that officials reside within the city limits led to the resignations, the judge said.

Jackson said he lives outside the city limits, as do two of the men who have resigned—city secretary Doyle Warr and water and street superintendent Hubie Smith.

Mayor George Smith quit in protest although he lives within the city limits.

Ed Martin Dies Tuesday, Rites Thursday

Ed Martin, 75, a farmer in the R-Bar Community near Vincent since 1901, was found dead on his farm about 10:15 p.m. Tuesday. Mr. Martin had apparently suffered a heart attack. He had stepped out of his pickup, which was pulling a tractor, and the engine was still running when he was found. Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter, called to the scene, estimated that he had been dead about four hours.

Mr. Martin did not return to his home late last night and two neighbors, I. R. Bizzell and Jim Meadows, found him on the farm. A. G. Mitchell, deputy sheriff, investigated. The body was brought to Big Spring by Big Spring Ambulance Service.

Mr. Martin was born May 8, 1890, in Taylor County. He moved to the R-Bar community in 1901 and was married to Ruth Edens in October, 1916 at Coahoma. He was an active member and a steward of the First Methodist Church of Coahoma, and was one of the organizers and a director of Coahoma State Bank.

Services will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood chapel, with the Rev. Roy Copeland, pastor of Coahoma Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Ruth Martin; a brother, L. H. (Noisy) Martin, Big Spring; two sisters, Mrs. W. V. Mitchell, Waco, Mrs. W. R. Grayson Sr., Hobbs, N. M.

Palbearers will be Bill Read, Carl Bates, Rayburn Foster, Jim Meadows, James Coates, Earl Hull, J. R. Bizzell, R. V. Middleton. All friends will be honorary palbearers.

Toby Cook Sells Chain Of Stores To 7-11

Toby Cook, who hitchhiked here for his first job 17 years ago, today announced sale of his group of six neighborhood grocery stores.

Purchaser of the chain is Southland Corporation, operators of the 7-11 Stores, together with other interests. Currently there are four 7-11 Stores in operation here. For the time being, Southland will operate the six stores obtained from Cook under the present name of Toby's.

Cook said that he had no present plans other than to clean up all affairs connected with closing of the transaction, but that he would remain in Big Spring. The sale of the business is effective July 1. No personnel changes were indicated, at least not immediately.

The stores involved are the original Toby's at 18th and Gregg; the No. 2 store opened in 1955 at 1600 E. 4th; the store on Wesson Drive opened in 1959; the two stores acquired in 1961 from Cotton Henderson and located at Birdwell Lane and FM 700, and at 1112 Eleventh Place; and the store acquired in 1962 on US 80 west.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rudd, who have been operating the bakery at 1602 E. 4th, also purchased the bakery.

Toby Cook was born on a farm in Mitchell County but moved to San Angelo when he was 14 months old. As a 12-year-old lad he began his grocery career, sacking at a supermarket. He worked in stores until he spent 2 1/2 years in the U.S. Navy during World War II, then returned to San Angelo and went through college there.

He had worked there for Wayne Stidham, who had acquired a store at 18th and Gregg in Big Spring, and Stidham offered Cook a working interest in the store here in 1942. This was when Cook thumbed a ride to Big Spring, took over the store and frequently worked from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Later he added a fried chicken business in conjunction with the store. Except for a brief period when he took out to sell candy, Cook has been running the business since.

The one-man organization has grown from one store and one-man operation, to six stores and 40 employees.

Soon after he entered business, Cook formed a partnership with Dr. George Peacock, and this continued through the years, although at the start of this year the operations were divided, with Cook taking the business and Dr. Peacock the real properties. The properties acquired by the stores have been leased to Southland, which takes up leases on the others not owned by Toby's.

The purchasers, in addition to operating the 7-11 Stores, also operates Cabell's M & L Stores, Oak Farm Dairies, Cabell's Dairies, and other interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook reside at 2904 Parkway, and they have two children, Candy, 16, and Stanley, 11.

Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services for Big Spring schools, was named president; Donald Van Meter of the VA Hospital, vice president; Mrs. Tommy Hammond, secretary, and Bo Bowen, treasurer.

New Officers Installed Tuesday For Council

New officers and directors were named for the Heart Council at a meeting at Cosden Country Club last night, with 26 in attendance. Certificates for service, and a medallion to the outgoing president, were presented.

Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services for Big Spring schools, was named president; Donald Van Meter of the VA Hospital, vice president; Mrs. Tommy Hammond, secretary, and Bo Bowen, treasurer.

Ben-Gurion Splits Top Israeli Party

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Former Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion split Israel's dominant Mafpi party today, and his supporters announced they would field a separate list of candidates in the November general election.

The split in the Mafpi, Israel's labor party, was the outcome of a bitter feud between the 78-year-old Ben-Gurion and his successor as premier and party head, Levi Eshkol. The feud stemmed from an 11-year-old political scandal known as the Lavon affair.

1954 DISMISSAL The affair concerns the dismissal in 1954 of Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon because of a "security mishap." The facts in the case have never been made public in Israel, but it is generally believed to involve the smashing of an Israeli espionage and sabotage ring in Cairo.

Lavon denied responsibility for the mishap, and a Cabinet investigation in 1960 cleared him over Ben-Gurion's objections.

Ben-Gurion, who retired in 1963, started demanding a new inquiry into the case last year. Eshkol objected. When the matter threatened to come up in Parliament on a non-confidence vote last December, Eshkol resigned.

UNTIL NOVEMBER He later agreed to stay on as premier until the election in November. The Mafpi's Central Committee early this month nominated him as its candidate for premier if it wins the election.

Ben-Gurion's supporters called for a party convention to decide on the choice, but the party secretariat last Friday overruled the demand 32-8.

A four-hour meeting of Ben-Gurion supporters decided on the split early today. But a number of influential Ben-Gurion supporters within the party refused to go along. Among them were Mayor Abba Khushf of Haifa and former army chief of staff Moshe Dayan.

Dayan said he favored a "fighting opposition" within the party rather than an outright split.

W. W. Clements Dies Today, Funeral Pending William Wiley Clements, 47, who lived six miles west of Garden City, died at his home at 6 a.m. today. He suffered a heart attack about the first of June. He was a farmer and rancher.

Mr. Clements was born June 17, 1918 at Putnam, and moved to Glasscock County in 1952 from Stanton. He was married to Billie Rigby in Big Spring, Aug. 25, 1945. He was a Baptist.

Services are pending at River-Welch Funeral Home. Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Billie Clements; three daughters, Mrs. Linda Casey, Brenda Clements and Pattie Clements, all of Garden City; a son-in-law, Robert L. Casey, Ellendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clements, Stanton; three sisters, Mrs. Frances Poindexter, Reebeights, S. D., Mrs. Pat Craton, Roswell, N.M., Mrs. Bobbie Butch, Corpus Christi; a brother, W. H. Clements, Miller, S.D.

Services are pending at River-Welch Funeral Home. Survivors are the widow; a step-son, Jimmie Lee Crossland, California; four grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Tatum, Overton; a number of nephews and nieces.

Ambulance Driver Delivers Again

Mebbe O. D. Majors, ambulance driver for Big Spring Ambulance Service, needs to change his initials.

Mebbe they should be "O.B." At 11:05 p.m. Tuesday night, Majors, on an emergency run, had to double in brass and lend the stork a hand.

It was his second session in this role in seven months. The baby, a six pound, four ounce boy, is doing well today at the Howard County Hospital Foundation. The mother also is thriving, the hospital reported.

"We got a call to come to 607 NW 5th," said Majors. "Joe Brents was driving. 'I knew as soon as we got into the house that we had a real hurry up case on our hands. I told Bill, 'Drive this thing like you owned it and not like you'd stolen it. Let's get to the hospital.'"

"He did all right but it didn't work. By the time we had reached the 500 block on NW 4th, the baby had already been born. I didn't even have time to get my emergency kit from the front seat. 'I spanked the baby and got him breathing. Then I wrapped him in a blanket and we delivered the baby and its mother to the hospital. The hospital said both were in good condition.'"

On Nov. 24, 1964, Majors was caught in a similar crisis. Only that time, he recalls, there was no time to get the mother-to-be in an ambulance. He had to make the delivery in the bedroom, then take both patients to the hospital.

So perhaps the initials are wrong—mebbe they should be O. B. Majors.

Jurors Set A Fast Pace Howard County Grand Jury, moving at a much faster pace than had been anticipated, was pushing well along toward the end of its tasks today.

Observers said that it was possible the grand jury would complete investigation of the cases on its list by early afternoon. Of course, after the investigations are over, the jurors have to consider the cases and vote on indictments.

The possibility of a final report by late afternoon was good, it was said.

The grand jury got off to a belated start when insufficient panel members appeared at 9 a.m. Tuesday. Judge Ralph Canton, 118th District Court, had to call in three takers to fill out the list.

The jury was finally sworn after 11 a.m. The body worked late Tuesday and was back early today. The number of witnesses waiting to appear before the grand jury had dwindled to a handful by midmorning.

Arthur Crenshaw Services Pending Arthur E. Crenshaw, 55, of Post, died Tuesday at 11 a.m. in a local hospital following a three-week illness. Mr. Crenshaw was born in Hurd County, Ga., Dec. 16, 1909. He had lived at Post for the past eight years, where he was employed by Bootex Cotton Mills.

The local arrangements are at River-Welch Funeral Home, and the remains will be shipped to Lanett, Ala., where arrangements are pending.

He is survived by his widow; two daughters, Anne Matthews, and Marie Crenshaw, both of Post; four sons, Donald Crenshaw, Longdale, Ala., Phillip Crenshaw, Fort Knox, Ky., Larry Crenshaw and Jerry Crenshaw, both of Post.

Steven E. Tatum Dies Early Today Steven Edwin Tatum, 77, 817 W. 4th, Big Spring, died at 5:45 a.m. today in a local hospital. He had been in failing health for a long time.

Mr. Tatum was born May 10, 1888 in Cleburne and came to Big Spring 40 years ago. He was married to Eva Lala York in Lovington, N.M. July 12, 1932. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Services are pending at River-Welch Funeral Home. Survivors are the widow; a step-son, Jimmie Lee Crossland, California; four grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Tatum, Overton; a number of nephews and nieces.

Auto Hits Tree, Texas Man Dies SPURGER, Tex. (AP) — Guy Nicks, 70, of Spurger was killed Tuesday when the car in which he was riding hit a tree. J. C. Crosby, 60, also of Spurger, was taken to a Beaumont hospital in serious condition.

OIL REPORT Shallow Test To Be Drilled A 4,800-foot probe for the San Andres in Martin County will be drilled by Cities Service Oil Co. The No. 3-K Scharbauer will be spotted 660 feet from the north and east lines of Labor II, League 324, LaSalle County School Land survey.

The test will be 1 1/2 miles northwest of Stanton, four miles east of the Mabec (San Andres) field, and a mile south of the same operator's No. 2-K Scharbauer, which was plugged and abandoned last month.

A Garza County wildcat location has been staked four miles northeast of Post.

D. J. Stone of Lubbock will drill the No. 1 Neff to 3,350 feet to test the San Andres and Glorieta sands.

Location was spotted 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 1-5, GH&H survey, 2 1/4 miles northeast of the East Garza Glorieta discovery.

Farm Product Price Level Hiked By Meat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The favorable price situation that has developed for meat in recent months has helped carry the level of farm product prices 10 per cent above a year earlier.

Much of the increase has been in hog prices, with some lower gains for beef cattle, sheep and lambs. But farmers' income has not increased as much as prices because supplies of farm products are down from a year ago.

PRICE INCREASE The Agriculture Department said Tuesday farm prices increased 2 per cent during the month ended June 15. This came on top of a 3 per cent increase a month earlier.

With prices paid by farmers holding relatively steady, farm prices have climbed to 79 per cent of the parity price goal of federal farm aid programs. A year ago they reflected only 74 per cent of parity.

Agriculture Department figures indicated farm operating costs are running about 2 per cent above last year.

Hog prices, averaging $22.50 per 100 pounds in mid-June, were up 51 per cent from a year earlier. Beef cattle prices, at an average of $21.50, were 23 per cent above mid-June last year.

Reflecting increased market supplies, grower prices of commercial vegetables declined 8 per cent between mid-May and mid-June, but prices still were 21 per cent higher than a year earlier.

FARM PRODUCTS Besides meat animals, farm products bringing more in mid-June than a year earlier included corn, oats, barley, sorghum grain, hay, soybeans, flaxseed, potatoes, sweet potatoes, dry beans, strawberries, lemons, limes, milkfat, milk chickens and turkeys.

Those bringing less included wheat, rye, cotton, dry peas, fresh peaches, grapefruit, oranges, eggs, wool and mohair.

The department said the bright outlook for hog producers probably will stimulate expanded pig crops. However, a recent department survey indicated 1965 pig production will be below last year.

It said that hog slaughter, now well below year-earlier levels, will likely continue reduced through mid-1966.

Bikes Are Found

Three bicycles, found under an overpass in the east part of Big Spring early this morning, were picked up by Big Spring police. Officers said headlights reflected from the bright metal caused the investigation. No report of such bicycles being stolen had been received at the station at 10 a.m. today.

Mark Harwell Dies Tuesday

Mark William Harwell Sr., 66, of 1601 Bell Street, Big Spring, died at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday in a local hospital. He underwent brain surgery in May, 1956 and has been in semi-retirement since. Mr. Harwell owned and operated the D. H. Electric Co., doing contract work, from 1928 to 1964.

He was born Sept. 21, 1898 at Lott and came to Big Spring in 1904, attending Big Spring schools. He was married to Bertha Miller, Nov. 18, 1928 in Big Spring. He was a member of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church.

Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. Survivors are the widow; a son, Mark William Harwell Jr., Cloudcroft, N.M.; a sister, Mrs. George Harley, Big Spring; a brother, Vernon Harwell, Big Spring; one granddaughter.

Plays Guilty, Fined $100, Costs Gerald Burns, returned here from Snyder to answer a disturbance complaint against him in justice court, entered a guilty plea Tuesday afternoon. He was fined $100 and costs.

Burns, with three companions, was involved in an affray at the R&H Package store on the Martin-Howard County line late Sunday night. Later the quartet was stopped in Snyder.

Burns was turned over to Sheriff Aubrey Standard for return here to face disturbance charges. Cecil Simmons, who also is charged in the package store case, is still in the jail at Snyder. Standard said that Simmons was unable to pay a fine levied against him there for drunkenness.

UNTIL NOVEMBER He later agreed to stay on as premier until the election in November. The Mafpi's Central Committee early this month nominated him as its candidate for premier if it wins the election.

Ben-Gurion's supporters called for a party convention to decide on the choice, but the party secretariat last Friday overruled the demand 32-8.

A four-hour meeting of Ben-Gurion supporters decided on the split early today. But a number of influential Ben-Gurion supporters within the party refused to go along. Among them were Mayor Abba Khushf of Haifa and former army chief of staff Moshe Dayan.

Dayan said he favored a "fighting opposition" within the party rather than an outright split.

W. W. Clements Dies Today, Funeral Pending William Wiley Clements, 47, who lived six miles west of Garden City, died at his home at 6 a.m. today. He suffered a heart attack about the first of June. He was a farmer and rancher.

Mr. Clements was born June 17, 1918 at Putnam, and moved to Glasscock County in 1952 from Stanton. He was married to Billie Rigby in Big Spring, Aug. 25, 1945. He was a Baptist.

Jacobs Return From Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jacobs, 1605 Lancaster, have returned from Garland where they attended funeral services for his nephew, Lloyd Jacobs, a frequent visitor to Big Spring.

Others from the area who attended the services were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jacobs, all of Odessa, and Mrs. Alice Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Taylor, all of Lorraine.

Mr. Jacobs suffered a heart attack prior to his death.

Joe Carpenter Returns Home Joe Carpenter has returned to his home at 2300 Rannels Street after being hospitalized several weeks in Midland following cranial surgery. He is able to get about some with the aid of his cane. In a few weeks he and Mrs. Carpenter will go to Fort Worth for continued therapy.

NEW YORK (AP) — For years, educators have been talking about the postwar baby boom and the problems it has meant for the schools.

Forget it! There's a bigger boom coming — lots more babies, lots more problems.

A report released here today by the National Education Association confirmed biological facts many people have overlooked.

MORE BABIES Those babies born when John ny came marching home from World War II have grown up. They're getting married. They're having babies.

In a few short years those babies will be starting school. That means more classrooms, more teachers, more taxes.

The report cited these figures from the U.S. Census Bureau, the nation's official baby-counter:

The number of births in the United States jumped from 2.9 million in 1946 to 3.9 million in 1947. Then it tapered off at about 3.7 million through 1950, hit 4 million in 1954, and in 1964 was 4.1 million.

This year the number of births may reach 4.5 million, and by 1970 it could hit 5.2 million. The Census Bureau acknowledges those figures could be smaller, depending on what it calls the nation's "fertility rate."

LIMITING FACTOR A limiting factor, according to the NEA report, is that most young women today seem to want three children. Ten years ago they wanted four.

The tidal wave of youngsters which soon will be hammering on the schoolhouse doors compounds the problem of paying for their education.

More and more of them are starting to school earlier. They are staying longer.

Despite impressive gains in recent years, the report said, there is still a shortage of classrooms.

The NEA didn't try to project what all this is going to cost.

Western Show 'Rawhide' Wins Reprieve, Overhaul

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marked for extinction at the end of the 1964-65 season, the long-run Western "Rawhide" won a reprieve and an overhaul.

Costar Eric Fleming has been put out to pasture. Clint Eastwood remains, along with cast regulars Paul Brinegar and Steve Raines. They will be joined next season by David Watson, British actor and singer, and Raymond St. Jacques, graduate of Yale and the American Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Conn. St. Jacques is a Negro.

PLAY COWBOY The tall, broad-shouldered actor will play Simon Blake, cowboy.

"He is a man of great dignity, the kind who would never be called 'nigger' or 'boy,'" said St. Jacques. "As far as I know, the element of race will not figure in the stories. Blake is a cowboy first, and a Negro second, just as I am an actor first, and a Negro second."

Although seldom portrayed in films or on television, Negroes were profuse in the old West. Evidence can be found in a new book by two UCLA scholars, "The Negro Cowboys." St. Jacques has read it and other research and he's determined to effect an accurate portrait.

Offhand you might think that difficult for a Connecticut boy who has spent most of his professional career in Manhattan.

PAYING OFF "But I've done a lot of riding in New York," he reported. "I did so for the same reason I took fencing lessons; I think both should be part of an actor's equipment. The fencing paid off when I staged duels and battles in Shakespearean plays, and the riding is paying off now."

"I spent three weeks on the trails in Griffith Park getting acquainted with the horse. I'll use in 'Rawhide' I want to be sure I look as though I belong on it."

Lions Batter Cubs, 14-6

The Lions clobbered the Cubs, 14-6, in a Sophomore League game Tuesday evening. Bill Davis got credit for the win, although Jeff Thomas pitched briefly for the Lions. Davis allowed only one run, three hits and struck out seven.

The Lions jumped on Knight for five hits and eight runs, and he was tagged with the loss. Darden came in on relief and was touched for three hits and four runs. Rutherford also came on and yielded two hits but no runs.

James Newman got a double for the winners, and all other hits were singles.

Tribe Takes Lead, Pounds Boston 8-5

A year ago Ralph Terry was trying to break out of the New York Yankees bullpen and the Cleveland Indians were doing time in the second division.

Today Terry and the Indians are on the loose while the Yankees are where Cleveland was last June 30 — sixth place.

The torrid Indians took the American League lead for the first time Tuesday night by pounding Boston 8-5 as ex-Yankee Terry picked up his eighth victory of the season.

The tall-right-hander had won only two at this point last year and had lost his starting job. He was 2-6 with one complete game and a 6.95 earned run average.

"The Yankees tried to use me in relief," Terry said, "but I didn't go well and I think they gave up on me."

Terry, who had won a total of 40 games in the two previous seasons, wound up 7-11 for 1964 and was dealt to Cleveland last October.

He won four of his first five starts, then went a month without a victory before starting to roll again. Tuesday night's victory was his fourth straight. He has five complete games, two shutouts — including a 4-0 white-wash of the Yankees — and a 2.68 ERA.

The Indians' 16th victory in their last 18 games moved them one-half game ahead of second-place Minnesota. The Twins edged Chicago 7-6 in an afternoon game, dropping the White Sox from a first-place tie into third position, one game out.

Washington, meanwhile, nipped the Yankees' five-game winning string with a 2-1 verdict over the defending AL champions, who fell 10 games off the pace and three under .500.

Baltimore topped Detroit 3-2 on Curt Blefary's two-run single in the eighth in the only other AL game scheduled.

Golf's Biggest Guns To Miss Western Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Golf's big guns, U. S. Open champ Gary Player, Jack Nicklaus and Arnie Palmer — will be missing, but the $70,000 Western Open starting Thursday won't be exactly a poor man's outing.

Eight of the Professional Golf Association's top 15 officials, money winners, including reigning British Open champion Tony Lema, are included in a 135-pro field.

While Player, Nicklaus, Palmer and S. Open finalist Kel Nagle are making the British Open, July 7-9, their next endeavor, Lema again is giving the venerable Western Open a touch of his class.

Last year, Lema also skipped early exploration of the British Open scene, playing the Western Open for a sixth place tie, then flying to St. Andrews to capture the British Open and captivate its galleries.

After Sunday's final Western Open round, Lema will fly to England and a quick preparation for his British Open title defense at Southport's Royal Birkdale course.

Jodie Sabbato Is Medalist

Jodie Sabbato, with a 74 net, was medalist Tuesday for the women's division of the Big Spring Country Club championship.

Closely behind and tied for first and second in the championship flight were Bernice Jordan, Betty Jones, followed by Madeline Atkins, Carrie Magee and Janet Jones.

Leaders in the first flight were Ernestine Smith, Lil Lurting, Micky Marcum, Edith Ramsey and Alta Lee Underwood (tie), and Elaine Reynolds.

Those in the third flight were Jo Broderick and Harriet Zike, tied for first, and Bobby Lebkowsky. Those in the nine-hole flight were Vernelle Jenkins and Anne Gingold.

Second round of the tourney will be played today, and the championships will be settled Thursday. Saturday and Sunday the men will play off the semifinals and finals of their tournament.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Defending champion Roy Emerson of Australia crushed California's Dennis Ralston, 6-1, 6-2, 7-6, 6-1, today and gained the finals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championship.

Australia's Fred Stolle, the runner-up the last two years, met South Africa's Cliff Drysdale for the right to meet Emerson in the final Friday.

The lean, razor-sharp Emerson took advantage of the 22-year-old top-ranking American's serving jitters and romped to a quick and decisive triumph.

It took the Aussie only 20 minutes to win each of the first two sets. Ralston rallied gamely to take the third set but Emerson reached the top of his game in the fourth set to close out the match.

The United States is scheduled to play its next Davis Cup match on hard courts at Dallas, Tex., beginning July 31 — probably against Mexico.

Mexico has first to beat the winner of the British West Indies-New Zealand elimination.

MacCall said the American team will not be chosen until after the United States Western championships at Milwaukee Town Club July 5-11 and the National Clay Court Championships at River Forest, Ill., starting July 12.

Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., went through to the semifinals of the women's singles Tuesday with a 6-2, 6-1 win over Australia's Lesley Turner — and found herself shouldering the American flag alone.

Nancy Richey of Dallas, Cliff Richey's elder sister, unexpectedly lost 4-6, 6-1, 5-7 to Christine Truman of Britain.

In the semifinals Thursday Billie Jean will take on Maria Bueno of Brazil, the defending champion. Miss Truman plays Margaret Smith of Australia.

League's runs-batted-in leader, beat out Bobby Richardson of the Yankees for the second base job on the opening line-up which will face the National League's best on July 13 at Minnesota.

The veteran Boston Red Sox infielder, who also has played the outfield, is the league's fifth leading batter with 317.

Third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles was the only repeater from the 1964 opening line-up. Robinson was joined by four players who made the team for the first time.

They included shortstop Dick McAuliffe and left fielder Willie Horton of the Detroit Tigers, center fielder Vic Davalillo of the Cleveland Indians, and Mantilla.

Other starters, chosen by a vote of 280 league players, coaches and managers, were catcher Earl Battey of Minnesota, first baseman Bill Skowron of the Chicago White Sox and right fielder Rocky Colavito of the Indians.

In all, the American League starting team, exclusive of the pitcher, comprised two players each from Cleveland and Detroit, and one apiece from Baltimore, Boston and Chicago, and Minnesota.

Shut out, besides the Yankees, were Washington, Los Angeles and Kansas City.

Commissioner Ford Frick, whose office conducted the balloting, said the National League starting line-up will be announced Sunday, July 4. The remainder of the squads, including the pitchers, will be announced later.

The Yankees who, back in 1939 and 1940 had five starters in the opening line-up, managed to land two runner-up positions.

Catcher Elston Howard, sidelined for five weeks following an elbow operation, finished second to Battey. Richardson was runner up to Mantilla.

Other runners-up included Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew at first base, Zoilo Versalles at shortstop and Jimmie Hall in center; Cleveland's Max Alvis at third base; Boston's Carl Yastrzemski in left field and Detroit's Al Kaline in right field.

Last year's game was played at Shea Stadium in New York, where the National League won 7-4 to even the series at 17-all. One game ended in a tie.

The National League has won six of the last seven games.

Webb To Face Top Pitcher

Laughlin AFB will come here Friday for two games with Webb AFB and will bring with them one of the top pitchers of the Air Force.

Leo Sadler will be on the mound for the visitors when the first game gets underway at 7 p.m. He is one of the fastest chunkeys in the Air Force.

Another doubleheader will be played Saturday evening starting at 7 o'clock against Sweetwater at the Webb field. The Webb team is composed of the top players from all contingents on the base. The public is invited to witness the games.

Believes Dallas Needs Fort Worth

Brownfield Nips Legion

The Big Spring American League baseballers left their hitting clothes at home when they went to Brownfield Tuesday evening and dropped a 2-0 decision.

All they could manage off Collier was three hits, 11 of them singles and all of them scattered.

Charles Burdette allowed only three hits, but errors cost him the ball game. Successive errors and a hit batter allowed one run in the first, and then Collier led his own game by doubling and coming home on Harrelson's single.

Collier struck out 11 Big Spring batters, and Burdette had 10.

Koufax Overtakes Ellis With 13th

Sandy Koufax finally has overtaken Sammy Ellis. He's also surpassed Sandy Koufax.

The Los Angeles Dodger ace recorded his 13th victory in the National League leaders' 9-3 triumph over San Francisco Tuesday.

Ellis, on the other hand, spent 14 innings trying for his 13th victory but couldn't get it. Instead-Cincinnati wound up losing to Pittsburgh 2-1 in 16 innings. The Reds came back and won the nightcap 7-5.

In winning his seventh straight game, Koufax completed a masterful month of pitching. During June he won six times, one more than he ever has won before in one month.

The 13 triumphs also are the most the 29-year-old left-hander has had by the end of June. In 1963, Koufax won five games in June, giving him a 12-3 record en route to a 25-5 season.

But it took Koufax the entire month to edge by Ellis, who has blossomed into a sterling starter after spending last season in the bullpen.

The Reds' right-hander won his eighth game at the beginning of the month, five days before Koufax gained his eighth. Ellis proceeded to reach No. 9 six days before Koufax and No. 10 one day before.

Koufax then pulled even, each winning his 11th June 20 and his 12th last Friday. Each has lost three times.

In other National League games Philadelphia whipped St. Louis 7-1 and Milwaukee trimmed New York 8-6. Rain washed out Houston and Chicago.

Ellis gave up just four hits in 14 innings but wasn't around when Roberto Clemente singled home Bailey with the winning run in the 16th. Ellis scored the Reds' only run, racing across as Pete Rose singled in the 13th.

Rose batted in three runs in the nightcap, the first with a third-inning triple and two more with a single in a five-run fourth-inning outburst. Pitcher Joe Nuxhall also drove in two runs with a single in the inning.

Bo Belinsky stopped St. Louis on six hits, winning his third game against four defeats. Philadelphia supported him with a bases empty home run by Tony Gonzalez, a two-run homer by Johnny Callison and Dick Stuart's three-run blow.

The Braves outlasted the Mets with the help of two errors by Johnny Lewis and one by Chuck Hillier. Lewis' first miscue led to the run that broke a 4-4 tie in the sixth, Mathews scoring on Denis Menke's sacrifice fly. Warren Spahn suffered his 11th setback. He has won four times.

Los Angeles 9, San Francisco 3 (Parsons 0-4), night. Milwaukee 6, New York 6 (Pittsburgh 2-5, Cincinnati 1-7, 1st game 16 innings). Houston at Chicago, postponed, rain.

Los Angeles (Osteen 4-4 and White 1-1) at Chicago (Ellsworth 8-3 and Bull 1-2). Cincinnati (Taltor 5-4) at New York (Parsons 0-4), night. Roy Emerson Crushes Ralston At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Defending champion Roy Emerson of Australia crushed California's Dennis Ralston, 6-1, 6-2, 7-6, 6-1, today and gained the finals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championship.

Australia's Fred Stolle, the runner-up the last two years, met South Africa's Cliff Drysdale for the right to meet Emerson in the final Friday.

The lean, razor-sharp Emerson took advantage of the 22-year-old top-ranking American's serving jitters and romped to a quick and decisive triumph.

It took the Aussie only 20 minutes to win each of the first two sets. Ralston rallied gamely to take the third set but Emerson reached the top of his game in the fourth set to close out the match.

The United States is scheduled to play its next Davis Cup match on hard courts at Dallas, Tex., beginning July 31 — probably against Mexico.

Mexico has first to beat the winner of the British West Indies-New Zealand elimination.

MacCall said the American team will not be chosen until after the United States Western championships at Milwaukee Town Club July 5-11 and the National Clay Court Championships at River Forest, Ill., starting July 12.

Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., went through to the semifinals of the women's singles Tuesday with a 6-2, 6-1 win over Australia's Lesley Turner — and found herself shouldering the American flag alone.

Nancy Richey of Dallas, Cliff Richey's elder sister, unexpectedly lost 4-6, 6-1, 5-7 to Christine Truman of Britain.

In the semifinals Thursday Billie Jean will take on Maria Bueno of Brazil, the defending champion. Miss Truman plays Margaret Smith of Australia.

League's runs-batted-in leader, beat out Bobby Richardson of the Yankees for the second base job on the opening line-up which will face the National League's best on July 13 at Minnesota.

The veteran Boston Red Sox infielder, who also has played the outfield, is the league's fifth leading batter with 317.

Third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles was the only repeater from the 1964 opening line-up. Robinson was joined by four players who made the team for the first time.

Cotton Producers' Proposal Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big cotton producer group proposed Tuesday a somewhat new version of its cotton program aimed at making production competitive in the world market and avoiding any direct payments to growers.

The group opposed the administration's cotton proposal.

Spokesmen for the group, the Cotton Producers Legislative Committee representing the bulk of the country's cotton growers, testified before the Senate Agriculture Committee.

REDUCES OUTPUT

C. B. Ray, chairman of the cotton growers committee, outlined the producer program. It includes incentive payments to growers to bring about a reduced production, sales of U.S. cotton at competitive world prices and withdrawal from surplus stocks of enough cotton to make up for the loss brought about by reduced production.

In other words, spokesmen for the group said, if the United States had a crop next year of around 12 million bales, compared with about 14.5 million bales this year, then some 2.5 million bales would be withdrawn from surplus stocks to maintain its relative position as a supplier.

Dan Davis of Lubbock, Tex., said this would prevent loss of any U. S. foreign markets but at the same time "we would not be shooting our way into the world market."

WORLD PRICE

Ray said the program contemplates a variable equalization payment to allow U. S. cotton to meet the world price on a continuing basis.

Ray and others estimated the grower program would cost about $550 million the first year. He said the cost would be considerably under the cost of the current program, estimated at $900 million.

Ray said the group opposes the administration program which presumably contemplates a support loan at 22 cents a pound. He said the administration plan would be to announce that U. S. cotton would sell at 22 cents and other countries merely would price their cotton at a lower level.

Car Insurance Probe Stirred

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont, a frequent critic of auto insurance rates, discussed the proposed 13.4 per cent increase in auto insurance premiums with House Speaker Ben Barnes Tuesday.

Smith asked Barnes to order a study of the matter, but said later that no decision had been made on the nature of the probe. He said Barnes indicated interest in the increase.

In 1961, Smith sponsored a resolution that led to a House investigation of a rise in auto insurance premiums.

The Beaumont legislator said he had visited members of the State Insurance Board and its staff to discuss the method by which rates were calculated.

"I'm not questioning their integrity—those men over there are as honest as the day is long," Smith said.

He added, however, that the people of Texas lack a clear answer to why their auto insurance premiums are rising.

Smith said he finds it hard to understand how the insurance board decides what percentage of premiums should be allowed to cover promotional costs, profit and home office expenses. The board allows 37 per cent of liability premiums for these items.

Business Outlook Rosy For 2nd Half

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market has been saying that it could have been too optimistic in bidding prices to record highs. Is business making the same mistake in pushing expansion plans higher? Are consumers in spending at record rates and in increasing their debts?

The second half of 1965 looks good largely because neither business nor consumers are giving any sign of changing their ways or their plans.

Most analysts still are saying that the stock market break is a correction of what stock traders apparently considered past excesses, rather than a forecast of a general economic downturn.

KEEP GROWING

Pulling for further economic gains, at least through the next six months, are capital spending plans of business, consumer spending trends and the withdrawal to spend, and government spending plans and fiscal policies geared to the urge to keep the economy growing.

Roadblocks, current or potential, are first of all, the stock market jitters themselves, since a large portion of the public still regards the market as a barometer; international conflicts and uncertainties; monetary problems at home and abroad; labor strife in key industries and the upswing in production costs; rising prices in some basic materials; and inventory buildups that could get out of hand.

NEW PLANTS

The plus and minus possibilities show up in most of the statistics.

For example corporate spending for new plant and equipment is due to increase the rest of this year and run up to 13 per cent ahead of 1964. This will give the economy a boost. But if production facilities expand beyond consumer demand, idle plants will become a drag on the economy.

Also personal incomes seem likely to go on rising. Employment is at a record high. Consumers have record savings on which to draw. But installment debt also is at a record high. If consumer confidence is shaken by the stock market, by shooting wars, by any slowdown in factory production or drop in overtime pay, how quickly could this spread to a general economic slowdown?

The outlook still is for the second half of 1965 to be a good period for most business firms, workers, and consumers. It will lose status only when compared with the booming first half which topped expectations.

Texans Vote 'No' On Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both Texas senators — Ralph Yarborough, D., and John Tower, R. — voted against an amendment to limit duty-free imports of returning overseas visitors to $50. It was defeated Tuesday by a 61-31 vote.

Webb Copter Back From Mercy Trip

By ROY WILLIAMS
A helicopter from Detachment 18, Western Air Rescue Center at Webb AFB, returned this week from a mercy mission in the flooded areas of the Arkansas River in Colorado and northern New Mexico.

Capt. Norbert T. Williams Jr., 1st Lt. John F. Guilmarin, and Airman 3C. Alvino Espinoza, manning the HH43B (Huskie) from Webb, joined with Air Force units, Army and Civil Defense and Red Cross rescue workers.

In the large-scale devastation along the Arkansas River Valley, brought on by 18 inches of rain in two days, the 4600th Air Base Wing, Ent Air Force Base, set up an auxiliary command post to control Army and Air Force helicopters summoned to the area.

Reflected in the log kept by Capt. Williams are these examples of individual missions flown by the captain and his crew of two from Webb's Detachment 18.

Air Force doctors were flown into inundated Granada, Colo., which had a hopelessly polluted water supply. The doctors gave typhoid and tetanus shots to the entire town.

A farmer—a heart patient—was cut off from his doctor and his drug supply, by the flood waters. The Detachment 18 crew flew in two vials of the prescribed medicine, thereby conceivably saving his life.

Two women in advanced stages of arthritis were provided with medication by the trio from Webb. Answering the distress call, the helicopter put down at a house in rural northern New Mexico. Capt. Williams said, "The entire household was Spanish speaking. So it's a good thing we had Airman Espinoza along. He learned what the need was and we got it."

The Webb helicopter carried a Department of Agriculture official over the Lamar area surveying the flood damage to irrigation canals. This report was necessary so there would be no delay in making the repairs, in order that crops would not suffer during the dry summer months to come.

Lt. Guilmarin spied a jeep and waving arms in a remote area. Landing in the rough land, they were told by a haggard-faced farmer that his 12-year-old son had been missing for more than two days. The boy had gone prior to the storm to visit relatives in the village, now cut off by waters. The father did not know if the boy had arrived safely.

The helicopter flew to the village, made inquiries, found the boy, and flew him—wide-eyed with excitement and pleasure over his first flight—back to a tearful reunion with his father.

Briefing Session Set At Andrews For WTCC

ABILENE — West Texas Chamber of Commerce board members from a 10-county area will meet with the top echelon of WTCC officers in Andrews July 7 as part of an intensified program participation and membership campaign being conducted this year by the regional chamber.

The 10 counties are all in District 6 of the WTCC and include Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Midland and Winkler.

The Andrews briefing session will be held at 3 p.m. July 7 at the Andrews Chamber of Commerce with the District 6 vice president, W. H. Collins of Midland, in charge.

Meeting with the District 6 directors will be Beeman Fisher of Fort Worth, now serving his second term as president of the West Texas Chamber; and the two vice presidents of the organization, Hereford banker Henry Sears, and Odessa business and civic leader John Ben Shepperd.

The Andrews meeting is designed to kick off accelerated program participation and membership work in the district and will also serve as an orientation session for directors on this year's projects and accomplishments of the WTCC.

Fisher will speak on "What the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Means to You."

Sears will go into the program of work in depth, stressing participation by WTCC members in all of its activities, including committee service and special events—such as Infocade '68, scheduled next March. Infocade was begun this year and is a series of orientation meetings sponsored by the West Texas Chamber, designed to acquaint business leaders with the economic problems and opportunities of the region.

Each community in the district will plan its own campaign with its WTCC director in charge. In some of the larger cities extensive membership drives will be conducted.

The WTCC now has 3,000 members in its 132-county area.

Directors from District 6 who are expected to participate in the Andrews meeting are: J. A. Ulmer, Andrews; C. H. Rainwater, Big Spring; R. W. Whipkey (WTCC executive committee member), Big Spring; LeRoy Olsak, Lamesa; Cecil Bridges, Stanton; and Carroll Davidson (WTCC ex-officio member), Big Spring.

Baptist School Given Cash Gift

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — A $250,000 gift from Carr P. Collins Jr., Dallas insurance executive, was acknowledged Tuesday by Howard Payne College.

The Baptist school agreed to Carr's proposal that it match the gift for teaching salaries and launched a drive for the money.

Texans Warned Of Holiday Accidents

AUSTIN — The Texas Safety Association today issued its annual "Accidental Death Alert" for the July 4th holiday period and called on Texans to put safety first in all activities.

"Holidays can be a time to remember, or a time of tragedy," S. Ross Carr of Houston, TSA president, said. "It often depends on knowing and using your safety rules—whether you are driving on the highways, spending the weekend at the lake, or just relaxing at home."

The TSA "Accidental Death Alert" begins at 12:01 a.m. Friday and ends at 11:59 p.m. Sunday. It coincides with the Department of Public Safety's traffic accident watch—"Operation Motorcade."

The association is coordinating its traffic safety program with the DPS and other state agencies. Subject for the TSA safety promotion is "Courtesy and Caution."

"Adding courtesy to caution, can take you a long way in traffic. Your attitude about your driving and that of other drivers has a profound effect on the possibilities of your being involved in an accident," Carr said.

"Treat other drivers the way you want to be treated—with courtesy." In addition to issuing traffic warnings, the association has urged care in recreational activities, especially those associated with water.

"Boating enthusiasts should take all safety precautions when putting their crafts into crowded waters. Carry a life preserver for everyone on board. Don't overload your craft with too many passengers, and watch for swimmers, water skiers and other boats," Carr advised.

He reminded homeowners to be on the alert for the backyard variety accidents and advised parents to be on guard for fireworks accidents.

"If your celebration calls for a backyard barbecue, be sure to use caution in handling starter fluids. Treat fires with respect. Keep a water hose handy to put out any fire that gets out of control," he said.

"Parents should take charge of any fireworks displays. Keep small children at a safe distance and supervise the handling of fireworks by older children.

"Even those harmless-looking little sparklers can be dangerous. They burn at a temperature of 1,650 degrees, which is nearly hot enough to melt copper."

In concluding, Carr stated that each year many lives are lost during holidays simply because people put away their safety rules for the occasion.

"But, the fact is," he said, "there just aren't any holidays on accidents!"

A Devotional For The Day

My beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord. (I Corinthians 15:58)
PRAYER: Almighty Father, may we daily grow in grace by serving Thee in whatever task we may be called. So grant us the joy of daily fellowship with Thee; through Christ Jesus, Thy Son. Amen.

Starry Eyed Hopes Dulled

The 20th anniversary of the United Nations this week finds the world midway in what was rather wishfully designated International Cooperation Year of the Development Decade.

There was, unavoidably, a pall of irony cast over the anniversary celebration at San Francisco's Opera House. The war in Viet Nam is escalating. U.S. intervention in the Caribbean is still inconclusive. Non-member Red China's aggressiveness is pushing for Asian domination and anti-U.N. influence in underdeveloped regions of Africa, Asia and Latin America. The Soviet Union's financial veto—abetted by France and other members—has hamstrung the U.N.'s peace-keeping operations. And the "two-Chinas" problem remains unsolved.

The United Nations' has been transformed in two decades from a U.S.-dominated organization of 51 members to a politically unpredictable conglomeration of 114 members bloc—hold a majority. This transition has moved the United States to have second thoughts on turning major decision-making over to the General Assembly in order to by-pass the Russian Security Council veto. It has also moved Washington to act more unilaterally in world crises, as in Viet Nam, and to seek to bolster the jurisdiction of the regional Organization of American States over disputes in this hemisphere, as in the Dominican Republic.

However, the United Nations likely is not near death. It is still valued as a political forum by most of its membership, and as a positive force for peace even if it cannot literally enforce peace. Furthermore, more than four-fifths of the United Nations' work is in economic and social fields, and this constructive nonpolitical U.N. activity is generally going well, for great worldwide benefits in health, education, trade, cultural exchange, scientific advances and productivity.

On this 20th anniversary, it must be conceded that the starry-eyed hopes for the United Nations have not been realized, perhaps may never be. But the U.N. still seems worth sustaining.

Mothers Take Over

A large group of angry mothers armed themselves with baseball bats in St. Louis and marched on a park where vandals and rowdies had been playing hob with property and program.

This brought out a police patrol and a promise of more protection for the playground area. However, the young hoodlums had harassed counselors, disrupted the program for younger children, tore up swings and a merry-go-round, and cluttered the swimming pool with beer bottles.

It would be interesting to see what effect the good ladies had on the rowdies. We venture they didn't show up while the women were around with their clubs. Perhaps if they haven't learned about good manners and decency, these vandals have heard about aroused women.

Of course, volunteer groups like these cannot patrol public properties indefinitely, and eventually the park will lapse back to its relatively unprotected state. The sad part about all of this is that we come to the point in this country where a handful of rowdies seem able to muscle in and take over. We can sympathize with the women. Perhaps this is not the way to solve the matter, but again perhaps a few bumps and cracked heads will serve as a reminder that the great majority of people have some rights, too.

David Lawrence

The U.N.'s Responsibility

WASHINGTON—President Johnson was well-advised to make the kind of speech he did in San Francisco at the 20th anniversary meeting of the United Nations. He put the responsibility for mediating and eventually settling the Viet Nam war squarely on the United Nations itself. He thus answered once and for all the demonstrators, the pacifists, the weak-kneed spokesmen of appeasement and surrender who have insisted that the United States government is merely bent on fighting and isn't willing to sit down and talk things over.

WHILE THIS gross misrepresentation of America's position has been publicized for many months now, the record is clear today—the United States has declared unequivocally that it is willing to discuss peace in Viet Nam. The pronouncement has been dramatically broadcast all over the world.

This correspondent, after attending the first United Nations Conference at San Francisco, pointed out that only moral force could save mankind from intermittent wars and that the machinery of the United Nations charter provides a means of assuring peace whenever there is a will on the part of the major powers to achieve it.

BUT IS THERE such a will today? The Communist powers keep on flinging epithets about warmongering and aggression against the United States, and they must know in their hearts that the rest of the world will never give credence to such distortions of the truth.

President Johnson's words spoken directly to the United Nations make an indelible record of American policy. He said:

"Today, as I speak, clear and present dangers in Southeast Asia cast their shadow across the path of all mankind. The United Nations must be concerned. The most elementary principle of the United Nations is that neighbors must not attack their neighbors, and that principle today is under challenge."

Billy Graham

What, in your opinion, is the greatest spiritual exercise? Is it service, fellowship, or witnessing? I would like to know what you think.

D. W.

In my opinion, the greatest spiritual exercise is prayer. Prayer leads us into the Presence of God. The prayer of repentance bends God's ear toward us. The prayer of faith brings us assurance of salvation. The prayer of intercession makes an impact upon heaven and earth. The heart-cry of every Christian is that of the disciples: "Lord, teach us to pray."

Samuel Chadwick once said: "The one concern of the devil is to keep Christians from praying. He fears nothing from prayerless studies, prayerless work, prayerless religion. He laughs at our toil; he mocks at our wisdom, but he trembles when we pray."

In these busy days we say we cannot spare the time to pray. But I have found that when I am busy I cannot afford to neglect prayer. It sharpens the mind, fills the heart with purpose, and helps us to be conscious of God's guidance and direction.

Republicans Notably Uncritical Of Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is a sort of era of good feelings between Republicans and Democrats but the last thing Republicans want is the kind of "era of good feelings" that developed under President James Monroe.

That was when this country's first big political party, the Federalists, disappeared from sight.

Nevertheless, still trying to get up off their backs after the catastrophe which hit them in the 1964 elections, the Republicans don't sound brash about the future.

Nevertheless, still trying to get up off their backs after the catastrophe which hit them in the 1964 elections, the Republicans don't sound brash about the future.

MAYBE THEIR small numbers in Congress make them seem muted. They have been strangely uncritical of President Johnson, or most of them have. One of his biggest helpers is the Republican Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen.

The Federalists, the party of Alexander Hamilton and John Adams and ancestors of present-day Republicans, began to slip after Thomas Jefferson and his followers won in 1800.

At first the Jeffersonians called themselves Republicans. They began calling themselves Democrats in 1828 and have been doing that ever since, thus making the Democrats the oldest political party in the country.

The present-day Republicans didn't come into existence until 1854.

AS THE Republicans (Democrats) grew, the Federalists dwindled. Their opposition to the War of 1812 hurt them. So did internal dissension, an ailment which severely began afflicting present Republicans in 1864.

By the time Monroe moved into the White House in 1817, with hardly any opposition worth the name in sight, the era of good feelings began. Between 1800 and 1860 the Republicans (Democrats) lost only two elections.

Then came the turn of the new Republicans. They won the 1860 election and every election, with two exceptions, until 1912 when Democrat Woodrow Wilson broke their streak and did it again in 1916.

The Republicans fought back briefly, winning three elections

'Bird Dogs' Man Snooper Planes

DA NANG, Viet Nam (AP) — Once they screamed through the skies at speeds of better than 1,000 miles an hour.

Now they wheel and circle over the enemy in small, vulnerable planes that travel less than a tenth that fast.

They are "bird dogs," a group of ex-jet pilots who act as forward air controllers for the American and Vietnamese air forces.

"OUR JOB is pretty much like that of a bird dog," said Lt. Col. William M. Edwards, 43, of Los Angeles, Calif., who heads the air support operations center for the 1st Corps here.

"We fly down and mark the enemy targets, and then call in our fighters on them."

It is dangerous but exhilarating work. Their vehicle is a small, unarmored L19 observation plane that cruises at 90 miles an hour and probably could be brought down by a well-flung rock.

The combat function is crucial. Each plane carries an American pilot and a Vietnamese observer. They serve as the vital link between ground observers and the attack planes.

THE "bird dogs" are supposed to stay above 1,000 feet for safety's sake, but for the sake of accuracy they often come down to tree-top level.

"Our biggest problem is to tell the friendlies from the unfriendlies," said Edwards, a chunky, red-haired former F100 pilot who has four sons.

Proctoscope Permits Examination Of Lower Colon

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is a proctoscope and what can be determined by an examination with it? I understand it has saved many lives.—MRS. C. R. L.

Indeed the proctoscope has saved many lives. It is also invaluable in diagnosing conditions which, while not likely to be fatal, can cause a great deal of misery unless identified correctly and treated.

The proctoscope essentially is a smooth hollow tube, about three-quarters of an inch in diameter, and varying in length from 6 to 10 inches or so.

The purpose is primarily to permit direct visual examination of the inside of the lower portion of the colon. The search primarily is for points at which there may be bleeding; polyps; cancer; ulceration; areas of inflammation.

It is also possible to obtain from any such affected areas samples which can be cultured (to determine whether harmful bacteria are present, and if so what kind) or tiny bits of tissue for microscopic examination—the most positive method, of course, of learning whether a suspicious area is or is not malignant.

Cancer is the most dangerous of colonic conditions, generally speaking, and since about 80 percent of all such cases occur within the area that can be observed with the proctoscope, the importance of such examination is obvious. If such a cancer can be detected before it has progressed much and is removed, cure is highly probable. But if it is not found until noticeable symptoms develop, then the surgery is much more difficult and the danger much greater—not that such cancers have not been successfully removed, too.

The examination is virtually painless (although in some cases there may be a few cramps) and can be done in the doctor's office. It should be part of a complete physical check-up.

Dear Dr. Molner: The last few months I have had spotting exactly in the middle of my 28-day cycle. I read that this requires immediate medical at-attention. I would like your opinion.—MRS. D. V.

This can be a normal phenomenon if it occurs at the same time each month. But it is also something that has been occurring only fairly recently in your case. In short, it can be either normal or a sign of trouble, and I think there is only one sensible answer for you: Have the doctor examine you (including a "Pap smear test") so he can decide whether this is or isn't something significant. Knowing beats guessing, always.

For facts about the total health of you and each member of your family, Dr. Joseph G. Molner's new book, "Stay Well Every Year Of Your Life," ($5.95) is now available at your book store, or Prentice-Hall, Englewood Cliffs, N.J.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

The Sunday Spin

Back in what my offspring refer to as the "old days," a time-honored institution was the Sunday "spin."

THIS IS NOT, as some may suspect, a circular frolic, a deliberate pivoting or athletic cavorting to discomboobate the equilibrium. It is the name for a casual motor trip through the countryside.

The purpose of the "spin" was largely to acquaint the head of the house with the condition of crops, to stir the hot breeze, and to risk great adventure in the horseless carriage.

IT WAS ADVENTURE, too, for you embarked upon these informal trips with something of the uncertainty which beset Columbus when he sailed westward into the unknown. The reason was simple—the car and the tires. For all their virtues (and they really ushered in the automotive age), the Model T and its kindred such as the Overland, Maxwell, Chevrolet, Dodge, Reo, were relatively frail and temperamental. The elite cars had two cans strapped to the left running board—one full of water, the other of gasoline. Every car had a jack, tire tool, a pump, can of cold patch, and a tire boot. Most had a piece of chain or rope to be used in case of towing.

THE SPIN WAS confined to the more travelled roads, which by today's standards were mere trails between the section lines. Invariably ruts were worn so deep that there was danger of snagging on high middle or of having broom weeds brush open the oil cocks. Sometimes it was easier to use the high middle and the shoulder as a new roadway, but these surfaces had a full quota of stumps and thorns. Hence, the necessity of the jack, cold patch and pump.

AN AFTERNOON'S itinerary generally included stops at windmills near the road. The Model T and most cars of that vintage had no water pump, hence the circulation through the radiator was hardly fast enough to prevent a rapid boil-off of the water. The old car would begin to look more like a Stanley steamer, and when the switch was cut off, the motor kept firing and pinging of its own heat and pressure.

Here and there were treacherous patches of sand. Where the going was entirely too soft, all the passengers got out and plodded through the stretch—that is unless they were needed to push. For the smaller patches of sand, all those aboard would lunge forward in unison at the moment the driver pulled down the gas lever. This rocking motion was supposed to either encourage the faltering flivver or create a reaction that jerked the car up by the nape of the neck, so to speak.

STILL AND ALL, the "spin" was a wonderful thing. It was leisure at its best, for even the better cars could do little more than creep (although it seemed then they were streaking). The "spin" kept the family together, too; everyone was expected to go. Finally, it sparked a demand for more and better roads and cars.

The GOP Warning On Defense

WASHINGTON — For the first six months of the life of every new Congress, the most important man on Capitol Hill is a genial, dark-visaged giant from Lubbock, Texas — Rep. George Mahon.

It is Mahon's job, as chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee on the defense budget, to set the amount we shall spend on warriors and weapons for the next fiscal year. Hundreds of hours have been consumed and scores of witnesses examined before the day in June when Mahon rises in the House, as he did last Wednesday, to present the military budget which hopefully provides for victory in the field and safety for the homeland.

SOMETIMES the debate runs more than a week. This year it was over in one afternoon. Without a dissenting vote the House adopted the figure of $45 billion for fiscal year 1966, which begins in July. Mahon said that never in his memory had a Defense Secretary done so well as Robert McNamara in bringing and keeping the Armed Forces to a point of readiness. The chairman had made a few changes in Mr. Secretary's proposed outlays, but substantially the administration got the kind of war machine for which it had asked.

THERE WAS LITTLE disagreement, only disquietude, among the hopelessly outnumbered Republicans. Had Lyndon Johnson wrong-guessed the Communists as Mr. Truman did when the Korean War caught us unprepared, as Mr. Kennedy did when he couldn't believe that the Russians would dare come to Cuba with offensive nuclear weapons?

Had Johnson counted on the bombing of North Viet Nam to bring about a quick surrender? Was the U.S.A. sufficiently armed and trained to support a ground war of 100,000 Americans in Asia? And had Johnson, anxious to keep his national budget below the arbitrary figure of $100 billion and keon on domestic spending for Appalachia and the Poverty War, been too frugal in buying military hardware for the boys who would carry the fighting?

THESE WERE questions in Republican minds. Lipscomb of California said that the administration was still counting on a "mellowing" in the Soviet Union. He said the Johnson defense philosophy was to seek a "stand-off or parity between the Communist bloc and the Free World." He cited a cutback in Minuteman missiles from 1200 to 1000, delays in the anti-missile Nike-X program, a lack of new weapons under development and some reduction of Navy vessels. He found indications of a desire for unilateral disarmament in the speeches of Adlai Stevenson. Lipscomb said it was time for an in-depth review of defense and foreign policies.

LAIRD of Wisconsin explored these ideas further. He said that the plan for 1966 was based on budget ceilings set in late 1963, when the new President was trying for spectacular cuts. The budget before the House, said Laird, did not reflect all that had happened since January — escalation in Viet Nam and intervention in the Dominican Republic. We have been getting by thus far by borrowing arms out of the inventories at home and in Europe, a method of diminishing returns. Laird suspected that the administration was not willing to frighten the country by asking it to arm for a prolonged war and to spend for "superiority" rather than a "balanced deterrence."

SO WENT a brief and orderly debate which, in effect, decided our defense posture for the near future. Nobody was hoping that the President had wrong-guessed the Communist intentions. But if he had, the Republicans were on record with their warning.

Wanted: The Hungry Society

WASHINGTON — In Rockahominy County, a garden spot in the Blue Ridge Mountains where my precipitous pea patch is located, we do not have bracers. We have tenants, yeomen, artisans, landed gentry and ne'er-do-wells.

We also have one coolie, and only modestly prevents me from identifying him at this point in the essay. What else we have is over-employment.

YOU WANT a field disciplined with the bush hog, you got to stand in line. Your bride refuses to set foot in the house until a fieldstone fireplace and chimney is built. You go to Rockahominy County's foremost mason, who builds lovely farmplaces, and you give him a great deal of money and then you wait three months.

The fact is that the blight of prosperity has laid its withering touch upon the brow of the county. At Old Hollow we need approximately three miles of new fences, and getting the job done is turning out to be only slightly less formidable than building the Maginot Line.

WE HAVE talked earnestly with three contractors about carpentering the house, and nary a chip has fallen. A year ago our rocky redoubt was surveyed for a pond. Are we up to our ears in fish by now? No, we are up to our ears in the agonies of trying to get one more job done—or at least started.

In good weather the chaps with the bulldozers have more work than they can do, and in bad weather they can't bulldoze.

That brings us to the county's sole coolie—self.

I CARPENTER amid a great flurry of bad words and busted thumbs, and I set tile in a manner that would cause a revolution in Sicily. But there is now a new shower and a new kitchen in commission, and before you can say coronary occlusion there'll be a couple of ruddy great windows installed overlooking the junk heap that will someday be a patio.

A word needs to be said here about the character-building qualities of hard work. There are none. The myth was doubtless invented by some silly sort who never did a lick of honest toil in his life, and it has proved as durable as any lie ever minted. Hard work is for people who can't learn to cheat at cards, who haven't the wit to marry rich widows and who are not even bright enough to grovel their way to bank presidencies.

UNFORTUNATELY, however, unemployment has been abolished in Rockahominy County. This leaves no alternative for the intelligently slothful man but to cast aside the training of a lifetime and do the work himself.

The blessing of widespread joblessness has to be reckoned as the most remote possibility in Rockahominy County. It is within two hours of the nation's capital as the drone drives, and it is rapidly being peopled with other chaps who want indoor plumbing, cheery hearths and electric heating. The future is bleak for them. They are moving into a community of full dinner pails and two cars in every barn.

BUT ONE DAY a new Messiah will appear before them. He will have two mashed thumbs and a back permanently crooked from nailing down floors. But his message will electrify everyone. He'll run on a straight poverty ticket, complete with mass unemployment, wholesome foreclosures, and (talk about visionary schemes) people willing to work. He'll call it the Hungry Society, and he'll win in a landslide.

DEAR ABBY

The Past Is Past

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you can tell us what to do. Three years ago our daughter ran away and got married. We didn't try to stop her although we wanted so much for her to get married in a church, but he didn't believe in church weddings. He promised her that if they had any children they would be baptized in her religion. Three months ago they had a baby and so far nothing has been said about baptizing it. Our friends tell us we should disown our daughter, but how can people disown their own flesh and blood? We know the husband has no intention of keeping his promise and we are just sick over it. All I do is cry, Abby. I can't disown my daughter. It isn't her fault. What should I do? HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: The problem is clearly your daughter's. If she cannot persuade her husband to have the baby baptized, why make her even more miserable by making an issue of it? Of course you should not disown her. Wall off that episode in your daughter's young marriage and help her make the most of what is left.

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary who has been working in the same office for many years. The messenger boy has been here almost as long as I. (He's not really a "boy"—he's a man.) He has frequently done small favors for me in addition to doing his routine office errands. He would never accept money, so I have given his children little gifts on various occasions. Now this messenger boy has invited me to spend Sunday at his home with his family. Don't get me wrong, I am not snobbish, but I hate the idea of spending one of my precious Sundays with the messenger boy and his family. I have nothing in common with his wife, and I have a hundred things I'd rather do on Sundays. On the other hand, I hate to hurt his feelings. Any suggestions on how to refuse? STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Don't say that you have a previous engagement, or he will only ask you for your next "free" Sunday. Tell him in a gentle way that your Sundays belong to your family and close friends whom you aren't able to see during the week. Be kind, but final.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for the "lift" your column always gives me. I have been a widow for 40 years. My only child suffered a nervous breakdown 18 years ago, and she is in an institution, but she is allowed to come home for a visit every

Luci's Escort Now Identified

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The mystery man who has been escorting the President's daughter around New Orleans is a former Senate page but Luci Baines Johnson says it's "no great love affair."

Sidney Kaplan, 21, a handsome University of Alabama student, met 17-year-old Luci at the airport here Sunday. Kaplan escorted her to her French Quarter hotel after Mayor Victor Schiro greeted her.

They rode in the back of a car while two Secret Service men sat in front. Later, they visited a lounge but didn't dance.

For a day, the press didn't know who Kaplan was. So newspapers called him the "Mystery escort."

Luci, who works as a part-time assistant to an optometrist in Washington, is here to address the women's auxiliary of the American Optometric Association today.

Luci says they're just good friends. Kaplan attended several of Luci's Washington parties. They had never dated.

"It's no great love affair or anything like that," the winsome, brunette said. She said she makes it a practice to contact friends when she travels.

Lift Approved In Salary Limit

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The State Court of Appeals, citing the decline in the dollar's purchasing power, has upheld a 1964 law raising the salary limit for elective county officials to $9,600.

The court said the law does not violate the state constitution, which sets a $7,200 maximum. The ruling affects county judges and clerks, circuit clerks, sheriffs and jailers. Salary scales are determined by county governing bodies within the statute limits.

Center Answers Tourist Queries

AUSTIN (AP) — Where can you register a branding iron? Where do you find a marriage counselor? How do you freeze corn? If we go to the governor's reception room, can we talk to the governor? How far away is President Johnson's LBJ Ranch?

The tourist information both in a corner of the Capitol rotunda has answered these and thousands of other questions in its first year of operation.

Willis Albarado, tall, black-eyed supervisor of the center for the Texas Highway Department, and his three assistants make a stab at most inquiries.

GROW HOARSE
They get a little hoarse sometimes when questions run as high as 1,000 in a day. Since a year ago today they have talked to 189,000 people, including 1,432 from 45 other countries.

And they've guided the visitors to other Texas attractions, with smiles and specific directions. They handled over 265,000 pieces of travel literature. Rock hounds, for instance, learn from the pamphlets where to go to increase their collections.

The tourist bureau in the Capitol is one of eight in the state. The others are on the perimeter of Texas and last year served 500,000 visitors. Along with the central office they answered 217,000 written inquiries about Texas.

CONNALLY'S IDEA

Gov. John Connally asked that the office here be set up to help the tourists, who viewed the domed pink granite Capitol from the highways but found only terse, mimeographed information available when they came to explore.

During the summer, 35-minute tours attract about 350 people daily. The biggest attractions are the governor's reception room and a lifesized portrait of President Johnson hung recently in the Senate chamber.

Many people want to know if they can see Connally. Most cannot.

About 50 to 75 visitors each day ask about the LBJ Ranch, 75 miles west of here.

"A lot of people are embarrassed to ask directions on how to get there," said auburn-haired Pam Latham, one of Albarado's assistants. "It is as if they don't want anybody to know they want to look at the President's ranch — when it's perfectly natural."

Parents often want to know why their children aren't allowed to climb to the blue Capitol dome as they did when they were kids.

DOMES CLOSED

The dome was closed to tourists eight years ago because of unsafe conditions. The ambitious can climb — or ride elevators — to the fourth floor and peer over the railings, leaning so far some times that guards get anxious.

The legislature recently authorized repair work on the stairs and railing, and the dome eventually will reopen to the public.

Irene Garza, another tourist aide, caught the question about freezing corn. She told the man that as a tourist counselor she couldn't help, but as a home economics graduate she could — and he left happy.

Cuban Refugees Get College Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Education Office said today some 600 Cuban refugees will attend U.S. colleges and universities this summer on loans made available by the office.
