200,000 Is Estimate For Reserve Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed services have submitted tentative estimates for Reserve and National Guard call-ups totaling more than 200,000 men, it was learned today.

Informed sources stressed that the estimates were still for planning purposes in the event a decision should be made to order up Reservists and Guardsmen in the growing crisis over South Viet Nam.

SIX BRIGADES

The Army listed possible needs for 120,000 Guardsmen and Reservists, including six independent brigades.

Sources said the Navy came in with an estimate of need for about 40,000 individual Reservists.

The Marine Corps was said to have listed a call-up of the 4th Marine Division and its air wing, which total about 44,000 men.

The Air Force estimate involved National Guard and Reserve air transport units totaling 20,000 men.

GET READY

The secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force conferred early this week with Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus Vance to discuss the possibility of a Reserve guard call-up and planning that should be done to get ready for such an eventuality.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today: "It is, I think, reasonable to assume that if the U.S. forces assigned to South Viet Nam or to Southeast Asia increase in strength, it will be necessary to consider calling up Reserve and Guard forces, extending the tours of duty of personnel presently in the forces, and increasing the draft call."

NOT COMMITTED

McNamara declined to be pinned down on how big a force of U.S. Regulars would have to be assigned to the war in South Viet Nam before the point of calling up Reservists and Guardsmen was reached.

In all likelihood, defense officials would prefer to extend enlistments and tours of duty and possibly increase the draft call before dipping into the Reserves.

In the Berlin crisis of 1961-1962, a total of about 150,000 Guardsmen and Reservists were mustered and served for 10 months.

Texas Project Funds Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Public Works Committee has approved a $1.9 billion authorization bill for public works projects, including five in Texas.

A separate appropriations bill will be necessary even if Congress gives final approval to the authorizing legislation.

The Texas projects and their estimated costs: Chocolate Bayou, $1,254,000 channel improvements; Buffalo Bayou and tributaries, $1,800,000 channel improvements; Highland Bayou, $3,500,000 construction of dam and enlargement of channel; Taylors Bayou, $6,290,000 channel improvements; El Paso, $12,493,000, detention dams.

And it started Mariner's camera making warmup clicks, although it will not actually take pictures until the scheduled time.

Since February, the spacecraft's activities have been controlled by an on-board timer. The activity today climaxed a 228-day, 325-million-mile flight.

Adlai Dies After Collapse In Busy Trip To London

Stricken Near U.S. Embassy

LONDON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson collapsed in the street outside the U.S. Embassy today and died in St. George's Hospital. He was 65.

The U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations was on a short visit to London and had just left the Embassy on Grosvenor Square when he was stricken. He had kept up a busy schedule here, visiting friends and political contacts.

FROM PARIS

Earlier today Stevenson had conferred with Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart at the Foreign Office. On Sunday he lunched with Prime Minister Harold Wilson at Chequers, the country home of British prime ministers.

He had arrived here from Paris on Sunday and had been expected to return to the United States this weekend. During his trip to Europe Stevenson also attended the meeting of the U.S. Economic and Social Council.

His last appearance at the United Nations was before the recent Security Council meeting on the Dominican crisis.

DEFENDED U.S.

At that time he vigorously defended the U.S. action in sending military forces to the Dominican Republic.

Stevenson twice ran for the presidency against Dwight D. Eisenhower.

For almost three years during Harry S. Truman's administration he served as a delegate to international conferences, including the first two sessions of the U.N. General Assembly in 1946 and 1947.

VITAL FIGURE

Stevenson had been an important figure at the San Francisco conference of 1945 that drafted the U.N. charter.

President Kennedy appointed Stevenson as chief delegate to the United Nations Jan. 23, 1961. Last night he appeared on a television interview over the British Broadcasting Corp. He showed no sign of illness.

He had gone direct to Geneva from the U.N. 20th anniversary observance in San Francisco.

He had consulted privately with Secretary-General U. Thant in Geneva on the Viet Nam crisis.

BUSY ROUND

Stevenson was engaged in a busy round of appointments when stricken. He was taken to St. George's Hospital at Hyde Park corner across from the garden of Buckingham Palace in the heart of the city.

The man who was the Democratic Presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956 did not appear to have been in poor health.

ADLAI STEVENSON

Johnson Near Tears Over Stevenson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson appeared close to tears today at the news of Adlai E. Stevenson's death.

And shock as well as sorrow was evident in Congress.

Johnson was notified of Stevenson's death by Secretary of State Dean Rusk who had received word by telephone from the U.S. Embassy in London.

Both the President and Rusk were at the White House for a luncheon honoring members of the Joint United States-Japan committee on trade and economic affairs.

Rusk also relayed the word to congressional leaders.

The death was announced to the House by Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., announced the death to the Senate, calling it "a great loss to the world and to the nation."

Stevenson was a former governor of Illinois and longtime close friend of Douglas.

With the announcement, the Senate put aside debate on a housing bill and senator after senator arose for tributes to Stevenson.

New Hearing For Dr. Sam Turned Down

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Sam Sheppard was denied a rehearing today of a federal court order to return him to prison on a life sentence for the 1954 slaying of his first wife.

The split decision by the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals sets the stage for an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court by the 42-year-old Cleveland osteopath who won at least temporary freedom last July 16.

WED DIVORCEE

Sheppard married Ariane Tebenjohans, a German divorcee he met by mail, two days after a federal district judge ordered him released from Ohio Penitentiary on grounds he had not received a fair trial in the slaying of his first wife.

The Sheppards have lived quietly in a Cleveland suburb, awaiting final action in the case.

The appellate court held by a 2-1 vote on May 5 that Sheppard's appeal did not show a violation of federal constitutional rights. Today's denial of a rehearing also was 2-1.

Sheppard's wife, Ariane, said he was in a neighborhood market when the word of the denial reached him. She added they had not yet reached his attorney, F. Lee Bailey, in Boston.

"We were prepared by Mr. Bailey that 95 per cent of such appeals are rejected, but we felt we had a good case and were hopeful they would reach the case with the full bench," she told The Associated Press.

STAY FREE

"What I am more concerned about right now is that he will be able to stay free on bond. There's no question about our appealing to the Supreme Court."

WINNING FLOAT IN MARTIN REUNION PARADE
Stanton Garden Club Entry Wins First Place

Martin County Reunion Attracts Over 700

STANTON—More than 700 old timers swapped stories and renewed friendships of years past Tuesday as the 32nd annual Martin County Old Settlers Reunion staged a downtown parade and barbecue in city park.

A total of 291 old settlers registered, most of them from outside Martin County, but the total attending the two-day reunion was estimated much higher.

FAR AWAY

Old timers and visitors came from as far away as California and Oklahoma City for the reunion. Others were on hand from a host of New Mexico towns and from El Paso, Austin, Wichita Falls and numerous West Texas cities and towns.

Recognized for traveling the farthest distance were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Todd, of San Francisco, Calif., and Ed Arthur, of Sacramento, Calif.

A highlight of the program following the barbecue Tuesday night was the identification of a "masked mystery rider." Mrs. John (Sassy) Harvard, a Martin County resident who has performed in rodeos in Madison Square Garden and Mexico City. She was dressed in black, with a black mask. She was correctly identified in the contest by Owen Kelley, who received a gift certificate. Six persons named the mystery rider in the contest, with Kelley the first to do so.

GARDEN CLUB

Winning float in the afternoon parade was the Stanton Garden Club. Second and third places were won by Preceptor Mu of Beta Sigma Phi and the Stanton Music Club.

The parade included the Stanton Rangers and the Martin County Sheriff's Posse, in addition to the Toats and the "mystery rider."

In the costume contest, Mrs. Edna Davidson won first in the women's division and Joe Stewart first in men's. Winners in the young persons' division were Janis Burgess and James Johnson.

The window display contest was won by the Sheila Shop; first: Stanton Variety, second, and Lesley Hall, third.

Special recognitions were given by Johnnie Estes. Recognized as the oldest woman present born in the county was Mrs. Hattie Estes, with Frank Stoeger and John Peters as the oldest men. Youngest baby present was James David Mashburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Mashburn.

Named the oldest settler present was John Peters, of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Brick Edison were presented as the oldest couples present. Fred Kaderli, of the class of 1914, was the oldest graduate, and Mrs. Ruth Parr McWhorter, the oldest teacher. She began teaching in Martin County in 1915.

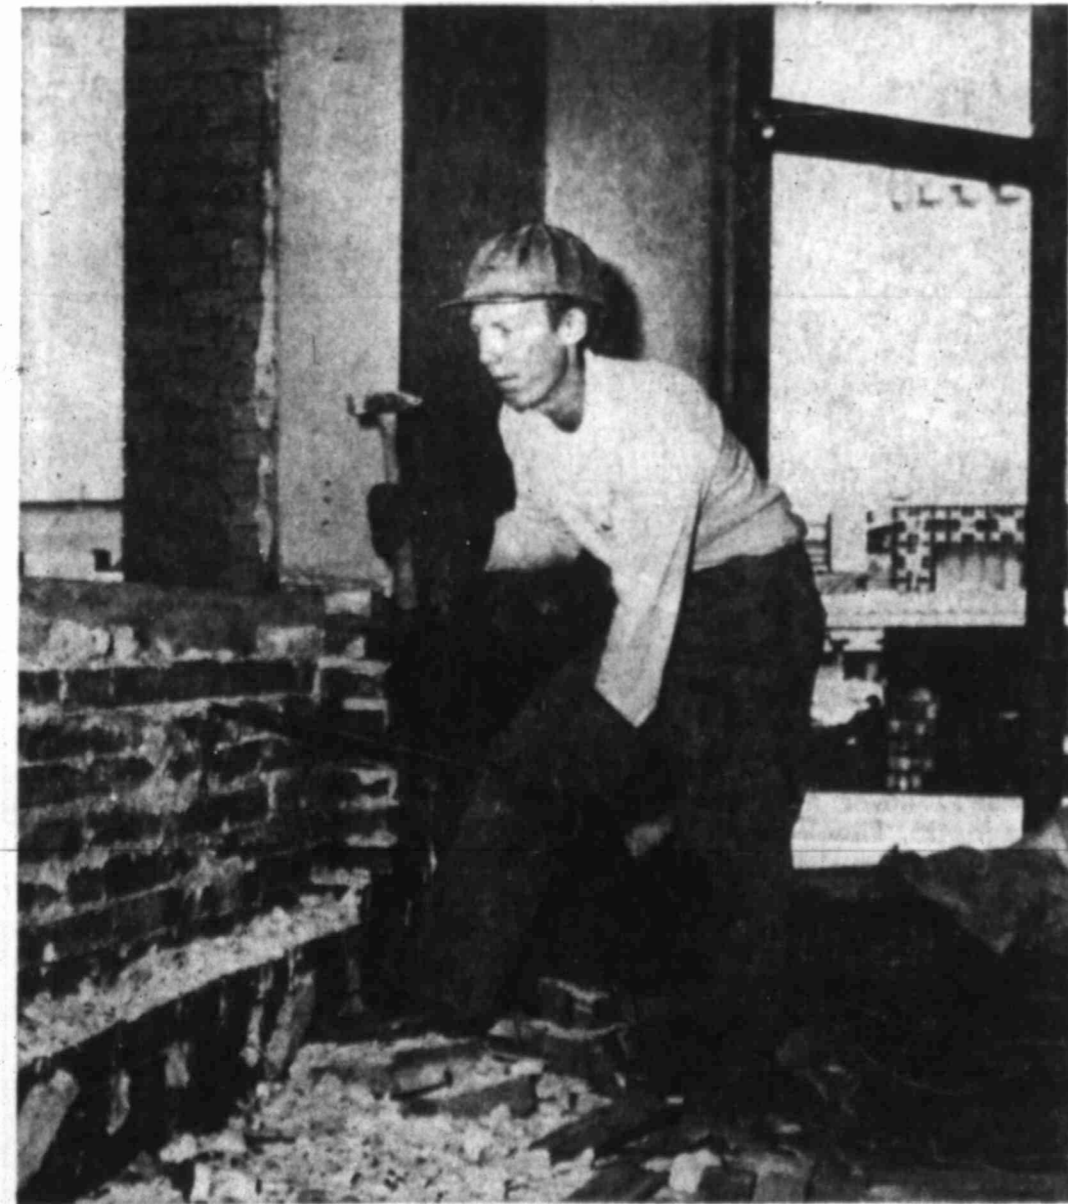

Recognized for not having missed a reunion since its beginning were Morgan Hall and G. B. Shelburne.

Following the barbecue, a welcome was given by Mrs. F. O. Rhodes. Costume prizes were presented by Mrs. Leo Turner and Mrs. Morgan Hall gave communications from old timers.

In an election of officers for the coming year, Bob Cox was selected president of the association; Bob Davenport, vice president; and Mrs. Hall, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Shelburne gave a memorial for deceased persons, followed by the closing prayer by the Rev. C. R. LeMond.

Following the barbecue, a dance was held at the American Legion Hall.

DOWN-SHE COMES
Bobby Wilson wrecking old First National Building

Parking Site Work Begins

Downtown Big Spring's move toward a major free off-street parking facility is on its way.

Demolition has started on the old First National Bank building at Second and Main, and on smaller structures immediately to the south.

The work is being done by the Wilson Demolishing Company of Midland, under an agreement worked out with Downtown Big Spring, Inc.

The latter, a non-profit corporation made up of store operators and property owners in the central business district, has purchased the bank property as well as the adjoining space, formerly owned by the Collins and Hurt families.

Downtown Big Spring, Inc. has achieved this through five-year subscriptions which at last report from Adolph Swartz, president, totaled around $120,000.

When the site is cleared, the property is to be transferred to the City of Big Spring, which in turn will improve the area, including surfacing, lighting and beautification, to provide central free parking on an area 125 by 140 feet.

Bobby Wilson indicated he can finish his work in possibly 60 days, and no more than 90. There is no time estimate on city work, but Downtown Big Spring, Inc. spokesmen said they are hoping to have the facility ready as an attraction by the late fall shopping season.

The parking facility is part of an over-all downtown development program, which is designed to include a change in grades along Main Street to eliminate high curbs, and the installation of "beauty spots" at major intersections. Planter construction would be such as to cut down cross-walk distance.

The central parking area represents the biggest change of the downtown "face" since the area was first built up.

It has come about through several years of planning, fundraising and work, with Downtown Big Spring, Inc. as the chief instrument. The city administration has worked closely on the project, within its realm of street and parking improvements.

Puzzle of Monday, July 12, Solved

South Part Of Panhandle Gets Rains

Light rain fell during the night at some points behind a mild cool front which stretched across the south part of the Texas Panhandle by daylight.

Occasional showers dotted the Red River Valley, parts of Central and East Texas, and the Coastal Plains.

1.04 INCHES
Dalhart measured 1.04 inches of rain but thinning clouds gave promise of only temporary relief from summer heat.

Lightning struck a Humble Oil storage tank at Baytown during a thunderstorm late Tuesday. The ethyl benzene burned for hours. Nearby Houston measured .51 inch of rain.

HEAT RETURNS
Forecasts called for hot weather and a possibility of showers by evening over about a third of the state.

Top temperatures Tuesday included Presidio 108 degrees, Childress 103, Wichita Falls 102, Laredo and San Angelo 101, and El Paso, Fort Worth and Wink 100.

Jury Finds Yanez Guilty

A Howard County Court Jury took quick action in finding Clarence Yanez Jr. charged with DWI, guilty Tuesday afternoon.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said that he estimated the jurors took less than five minutes in reaching a verdict assessing a $100 fine and 60 days in jail against the defendant.

Yanez was the first defendant to go before a jury in the current criminal docket in the Howard County Court, which is now in its second week.

The case was started at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday. A jury was selected, the testimony presented, the case argued, and the verdict recorded before 3 p.m.

Judge Lee Porter, presiding in the court, also heard a plea of guilt Tuesday from David Hodnett, charged with writing a worthless check. He fined the defendant $25 and costs.

Firemen Snuff Out A Blaze

City firemen put out a small blaze on the roof of the boiler room of the Gregg Street Cleaners, 1700 Gregg, Tuesday at 3:15 p.m.

Fire Marshal A. D. Meador said the blaze was the result of an earlier, small gas explosion in the boiler room. Firemen were not called to the explosion because it was thought to be under control. The explosion had knocked off a plate from the boiler, and flame from the boiler heater reached the wood and asphalt-covered roof, eventually setting it afire.

Meador said the boiler plate is back in place.

Opening lead: King of ♥

In order to score a profit in today's hand, South — the declarer at four spades — found it necessary to employ a somewhat unusual ducking play in order to disrupt the enemy's line of communications.

North's direct raise to two spades was based on an anemic trump holding; however, with a singleton heart and six high card points, there was no attractive alternative.

West opened the king of hearts which held the first trick. When the ten was played from dummy and the jack appeared from declarer's hand, West became fearful that a heart continuation might present his opponent with a ruff and discard. He accordingly decided to shift to the seven of clubs thru North's holding.

A small club was played from dummy and East put up the jack. Declarer realized that, if he won this trick, there was a strong likelihood that the opposition would obtain a club ruff when they got in with the ace of spades. In an attempt to disrupt the enemy's line of communications, South permitted East to hold the trick with the jack of clubs.

East returned a club and South played the nine from his hand, overtaking with North's ten after West followed with the deuce. A spade was led and South put up the king which lost to the ace. West returned a diamond and North's nine held the trick. A spade was led and, when the jack appeared, South played the queen, then drew the last trump and claimed the balance.

Observe that, if declarer takes off the jack of clubs, when West gets in with the ace of spades, he is able to return a club to his partner's king and ruff the third round of clubs for the setting trick.

Wasn't On The Program

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Four members of the Dave Clark Five, an English singing group, made an unscheduled appearance at the Palladium here and caused a live-television tumult.

"We walked onstage, and the next thing I knew, bang! — everybody got out of their seats and charged onstage," Clark, the leader, said. "Cameramen were being knocked over, the stage band was running, I was on the floor, and my shirt was torn."

Hollywood police said they had received a major-disturbance call, but everything was calm when police arrived. No injuries or property damage were reported.

Clark said the group had been asked to make the impromptu appearance by the master of ceremonies of a teenage pop music festival.

NATO Nations Make War Concern Clear

PARIS (AP) — Canada, Britain and Belgium expressed concern at a North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting today that the war in Viet Nam will be expanded.

Representatives of the three countries made their concern clear at a meeting of the NATO council which was called to hear a report on the war by U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, the informants said.

BAD SITUATION
The sources added that the three countries recognized the situation in Viet Nam, but they said they were having problems with public opinion and sought further information on the United States' plans.

Ball, the sources said, reported that the United States will hold firm to commitments made to South Viet Nam and added that the United States will continue its efforts as long as the rebel forces do not accept a firm at a North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting today that the war in Viet Nam will be expanded.

Ball mentioned several efforts made to lead to a negotiated solution for the conflict and said that as of now there had been no response from the opposite side, the sources said.

Ball also filled in the NATO allies on latest developments in the Dominican Republic and said the results were relatively satisfactory, they added.

Armed Force Aide Is Negro

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — A West Point-educated Negro went to work today as a presidential military aide, the first of his race ever so honored.

Maj. Hugh Robinson, who will turn 33 on Aug. 4, said he was delighted with his new assignment. His wife said she was thrilled.

The Robinsons were flown to the LBJ Ranch Sunday for an informal ceremony and introductions to the press.

Also on hand were Air Force Maj. James U. Cross and his wife. Cross, who will be promoted to lieutenant colonel Thursday, has been designated by Johnson as armed forces aide, a new title replacing that of military aide.

Cross will take over the duties of Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clifton, who is retiring from the Army next month to become executive vice president of a New York management advisory firm.

Robinson will be Johnson's Army aide, serving under Cross. He will replace Lt. Col. James M. Connell, who is going to the War College in Washington.

Commission Denies Permit, Sidewalk Request Tabled

City commissioners refused to grant a permit for on-premises consumption of beer at "Andy's Lounge," North Second and Gregg, the recommendation of Police Chief Jay Banks Tuesday night at the regular meeting.

Banks said the building was burned out, and located in the troubled northside area where police are pressed to provide adequate enforcement. Three neighborhood residents appeared against the proposed tavern.

The commissioners tabled an application to overlook sidewalk requirements in the Colonial Hills Subdivision, in order to study the area, which Guilford L. Jones, attorney for the subdividers, said was in large part unsuitable to sidewalks.

Okayed were traffic commission recommendations to remove parking on the south side of Sixth from Main to Scurry, and the changing of a flashing signal at Fifteenth and Gollad to a fixed-time signal, whenever funds are available.

Attorney Jones and City Attorney John Burgess agreed to discuss the claim of Lee Cotton against the city for erroneously razing his house. Commissioners said that a notice had been placed on the house Nov. 11, 1964, as required by ordinance. Jones, however, said that personal notice, as required by ordinance, had been sent to the wrong property-owner, rather than Cotton, and that the city owes Cotton for his home.

Acquisition of the old big spring site, owned by the Cosden employe's Hunting and Fishing Club, was discussed, and City Manager Larry Dugan agreed to send a query letter to the trustees concerning possible acquisition of the spring as a park.

Okayed on first reading were planning and zoning board recommendations to change zoning of the south half of Block 32,

College Heights Addition, from parking and retail to commercial; and two-family zoning on Lot 1 and the north 25 feet of Lot 2, Block 6, Hathcock Addition, to retail.

An ordinance to assess the cost of removal of hazardous structures by a lien on the property was approved. Second reading approval was

Enrollment Up At Junior College

Enrollment continues to set new records at Howard County Junior College.

Dean Ben Johnson said this morning that 140 had signed up for classes in the second six weeks session of the summer term, which is considerably higher than that for last year. "We are very happy with the larger enrollment," he said, reminding prospective students they may continue signing up until Friday.

C-City Council Asks For Road Extension

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Colorado City Council Monday night passed a resolution asking the State Highway Department to expedite plans to extend Highway 208 from the corner of US 80 and Cemetery Road to connect with Interstate 20, a distance of about a mile, and agreed that the city would pay for one-fourth of the right of way.

The resolution was similar to one passed by Mitchell County commissioners, city officials said. The mile in question is a dirt road running east of the Colorado City Cemetery. It was at one time a heavily traveled bypass to Interstate 20 from highways 80 and 208, but has been closed for several months because a bridge crossing over Lone Wolf Creek had become unsafe and the city had decided to give it to Mitchell County, which removed it for use elsewhere.

The council also: Deferred consideration on a zoning change from residential to commercial on a half block on Hickory Street between 16th and 17th streets.

Heard the discussion of a plan for contract garbage removal from Sam Lewis of San Angelo, representing the Angelo Sanitary Service.

Referred a letter from the retail merchants committee of the Colorado City Museum Board for consideration and recommendation. The letter requested that the museum be kept open daily and that an entrance fee be charged.

Heard a report from City Manager Ford Merritt that attendance at the city swimming pool was up and that city parks were being heavily used.

State Volunteer Leader To Attend Council Session

Mrs. Havey Richards, Harlingen, state chairman for the volunteer programs of Texas state hospitals and special schools, is to arrive in Big Spring Thursday to attend the Big Spring State Hospital Volunteer Council session at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Richards will be visiting the hospital here for the first time.

The visit will begin a tour of state hospital and special school facilities in the western part of Texas by Mrs. Richards. She is to be accompanied by Mrs. Helen Colburn, chief of volunteer services, Austin, for the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

During the tour, Mrs. Richards is to visit the McKnight State Tuberculosis Hospital at Sanatorium, the Abilene State School, Wichita Falls State Hospital and the annex hospital at Vernon, completing the trip at the Mexico State School.

At the council meeting here Thursday night, Mrs. Richards is to present details of the September meeting for state volunteer council workers, at Padre Island. Mrs. Colburn is also scheduled to speak here Thursday night.

Principle speaker for the session is Dr. Frankie Williams, who is to discuss "Trends Today in Mental Hospitals." A noon luncheon is planned Friday at the Holiday Inn for Mrs. Richards. Volunteer workers who wish to attend may make reservations at the Inn.

Charles Butts, chairman of the council, is to preside at the Thursday session, which is to be in the Alfred Building auditorium at the hospital.

Oil Staining Beach Gone

CANNES, France (AP)—The sands of Cannes were mainly without stain today after toiling sailors of the U.S. 6th Fleet removed most of the gummy black fuel oil that had defiled the sparkling beach.

The bikini set reclined in the sun once again and hotel owners breathed a sigh of relief only 48 hours after the U.S. aircraft carrier Shangri-la accidentally dumped 3,000 gallons of oil into the limpid blue waters of the Mediterranean.

A howl of protest had gone up in this famed French Riviera sun spot as wind and tide carried the thick ooze to the beaches, turning the sand and the water slimy black. Owners of beach establishments began toting up damage claims to present to the 6th Fleet.

Bombarded with complaints, Cannes Mayor Bernard Cornu-Gentille sent a police launch to the carrier to protest.

Officers on the Shangri-la apologized, explaining that the oil had been dumped near shore by error.

Swinging into action, the Navy sent a task force of 100 sailors ashore with shovels and trucks to haul away the greasy mess. Helicopters and small boats spread chemicals on the water to take the floating oil to the bottom.

The waters off Cannes were limp blue again today and the sands were almost back to their original hue.

Changing Promotion Policies

Road Program Moves Along

A most favorable situation for Howard County was demonstrated in the sale this week of $400,000 in road bonds at an interest rate of 2.94 per cent. The rate was considered by fiscal advisors as most advantageous, and it meant a couple of things. First, the county was able to reduce the term of its bonds to 10 years, and secondly, its tax rate in future years could fall below what had been projected...

Lodge The Right Man For Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — Henry Cabot Lodge was exactly the right man for President Johnson to send to Viet Nam as U. S. Ambassador at this time. Mr. Lodge doesn't believe in surrender, and he doesn't favor negotiating worthless agreements. He feels that he knows the real weakness in Viet Nam and that it isn't military. It's in what he calls the "civil-political" area, and that's where he can be of the greatest help.

AS FOR DEALING with foreign governments and their representatives, Mr. Lodge has had seven years' experience as U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations where he became familiar with the adroit tactics of the Communists and managed to hold his own in debate with them over nationwide television.

As insight into Ambassador Lodge's thinking on Viet Nam was given in an interview published recently in "U. S. News & World Report."

"Q. A GROWING number of people seem to feel that the U. S. ought to negotiate its way out of Viet Nam. What do you think of this?"

"A. I am against it. To go to the conference table now would simply be to go to a capitulation — a surrender."

"Q. Why?"

"A. Because the South Vietnamese have got this huge fifth column on their soil, and they're not strong enough to negotiate. South Viet Nam isn't strong enough to be neutral. You know, you've got to be fairly strong to be neutral. A conference has to be preceded by a verifiable Communist decision to cease attacking and subverting South Viet Nam."

"Q. DO YOU see any circumstances in which we could have negotiation?"

"A. I don't see any now. I think a conference now would be disastrous. Just take this: There is obviously no agreement between us and the Communists, even on the simple proposition of leaving South Viet Nam alone. And a conference held in such an atmosphere of bitter disagreement could only make the situation more dangerous than it is already."

"Q. What would happen if the U. S. pulled out of Viet Nam?"

"A. IF WE WERE to leave South Viet Nam, and the country were to be taken over by the Communists, it would be a sign — the Chinese Communists would regard it as positive proof — that their aggressive approach to international relations is correct."

"Q. From your personal viewpoint, would you prefer an escalated war to defeat in Viet Nam?"

"A. I DON'T believe that's a realistic choice. I believe there's lots you can do of a punitive nature to the North that would not involve the danger of escalation, in the sense of an all-out nuclear strike. I don't think that need ever happen. There's lots you could do to the North without that happening."

"Q. What else do we have to do to win in Viet Nam?"

"A. We have to create a proper political atmosphere. The minute you have done that, the thing is over. The Red Chinese leader, Mao Tse-tung, once said that war is politics with bloodshed, and politics is war without bloodshed — and that these are the two wings of statecraft."

"IF WE WERE as successful in the civil-political area as we are in the military in Viet Nam, we'd be on our way now. Therefore, the help that is needed in Viet Nam is not only military, but civilian. In fact, at present, you need the proper kind of civilian help even more than you need the military."

Negro Lawyer May Get Supreme Court Seat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thursday, Marshall, a 57-year-old Negro and one of the tremendous moving forces in American history, may be on his way to a seat on the Supreme Court.

Many people now probably can't remember ever hearing his name for he did not seek publicity and his most sensational victory was in the 1950s. But it was Marshall, as a Negro lawyer for Negroes, who argued this century's most historic civil rights cases before the court and won almost all.

Hal Boyle

Squeezings Of Nuoc Mam

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Leaves from a war reporter's notebook: There are four words here that stir apprehension in the average American.

Two are "Viet Cong." The other two are "nuoc mam." There are some who say they'd rather face the Viet Cong for a week than spend an hour in the presence of nuoc mam.

Nuoc mam isn't the name of an enemy organization. Aside from rice, it is the most highly prized item in the Vietnamese diet.

A PUNGENT sauce eaten at most meals, nuoc mam is made by pressing alternate layers of fish and salt that have been left standing for a period of weeks or months. What drips through the fish is an oily, odorous mixture that assaults the nose.

There are three squeezings of nuoc mam, but the first squeezing is most highly prized. Heaven help the man who gets the third.

The Vietnamese douses it liberally on rice, meat, fish, poultry and most vegetables. After considerable urging, and some trepidation, I sampled it at a Vietnamese dinner recently and wound up eating a savior of it.

It is quite flavorful, but like olives or raw oysters it's an acquired taste. You don't notice the odor yourself. But after I returned to the press camp, my friends insisted I stand downwind from them for the rest of the evening.

Most Vietnamese eat fairly well. They consume only about two-thirds as much daily as Americans, but they are only about two-thirds as large.

THEIR DIET is somewhat deficient in proteins and vitamins, particularly among the poorer classes. They rarely get beef, and when they do it often comes from an elderly water buffalo who spent the best years of his life steadily plowing the paddies.

Incidentally, you may have heard much of the ability of Oriental soldiers to perform miracle feats of military endurance while fueled by only a handful or two of plain boiled rice.

To Maj. Richard Allen Jr., Miami, Fla., a veteran U.S. Army Special Forces officer, this is largely myth.

"There is no doubt they can do a lot on little," he said. "But they don't get by on just rice and salt."

"Only about 55 per cent of their diet is rice. The remainder consists of about 15 per cent fish, poultry or meat, and 30 per cent vegetables, such as potatoes, cabbage, turnips, cucumbers, peas and beans."

The art of medicine isn't a matter of establishing hard and fast rules that suit everybody. It's a matter of knowing the basic rules and how they should apply to a particular patient. If this were easy, a rule book sort of thing, it wouldn't take so many years to train a good doctor.

Mononucleosis is primarily a disease of young people. To learn more about it, send in care of The Herald for my booklet, "Mononucleosis," enclosing with your request a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses their questions in his column, but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters.

Around The Rim

Swimming Has Changed, Too

While sunning myself on a specially designed lounge chair by the heated pool at the place where I live last week, I began to wonder whatever happened to the old swimming holes we used to use in the summers.

These newfangled pools are okay, but they're not much fun. The water is chlorinated, the sides are even and smooth and painted various soothing colors, and the diving boards don't break, but they're just not much fun. You always know what's going to happen when you jump in. You are going to hit nothing but water, or if you go too deep, concrete, and if you swallow some of the water, you don't have to worry too much about disease. And your eyes will smart.

NOT MANY YEARS ago, a friend and I spent a summer enjoying the water in a tank on his father's farm out Ackerly way. The first time we tried it, there was almost as much sand as water in the thing. It was an old, concrete tank, about 50 feet on each side, kept filled with cold, cold water from a wind-powered mill well next to it. But it was awfully shallow, what with the silt and all. So we spent the better part of three weeks standing in the muck with shovels, dredging it out. At the time, it seemed great fun, but we developed clear blisters over clear blisters.

AFTER WE HAD cleaned out the tank, we never used it again. There is a moral here some place, and I would welcome suggestions.

In Colorado City, where I was incompletely raised, there has been for a couple of decades a perfectly adequate swimming pool, operated by the city, and, I am told, quite safe. But we didn't use it much, except when "entertaining" visiting kids, which was about as much fun as algebra, because they were always a few years younger than we were. What we did use was the auxiliary pool. This was a big, native-rock tank, situated just behind the regular pool, and was used to fill the other one. You were not supposed to swim in it. So we swam in it at night.

THEN THERE was Seven Wells, a very dangerous place, now part of a lake, and of course, very popular for illegal, or at least frowned-upon, swimming. There were several deep pools, and some of the braver, or more foolhardy, kids used to dive from the high sandstone bluffs into the pools, somehow avoiding the numerous rocks. Along with the rocks were underwater caves and poisonous moccasin snakes. That was really fun. Through the luck of youthhood, none of us were seriously injured in these fun-and-games.

WHEN THEY BUILT a dam on the creek near C-City, and inundated a lot of mesquite and barbed-wire fencing, we fairly jumped at the chance. Though somewhat older by this time, we were even less wise, and three of us decided to cross the lake together.

IT WAS A LONG way across. About three-quarters of the way over, I developed cramps in my legs. Spying a handy mesquite tree sticking out of the water, I grabbed it and hung on until the cramps left. When we got across, I decided not to try to make it back, and told my friends to swim back, get the car, and come around and pick me up. They did. Except that it was about 200 yards up a burr-ridden stretch of baked sand to the car. While I hobbled up the slope to the car and my erstwhile buddies, picking out stickers and trying my feet, my pals taunted me with my shoes, held safely out of my reach, and threw clods. That was the most fun of all. I had so much fun that day, I stayed out of the water for a year. —TOM BARRY

U.S. Outproduces Soviets 3 To 1

Nikita S. Khrushchev could not overcome low productivity per worker when he was head of the Soviet Union. Now his successors, Alexei N. Kosygin and Leonid I. Brezhnev, are contending with the same industrial inertia, low morale and inadequate incentive. Is this indigenous to Soviet communism?

Khrushchev took a gamble. He gave workers an advance payment on higher living standards. He reduced the work week first from 48 to 46 hours and then to 41 hours. He raised wages. But he didn't deliver.

INSTEAD, he inflated buying power. He increased consumer pressure for goods and services, and did not get the hoped-for increase in output. He strained an already strained economy. Ultimately, he had to renounce on promises—because of low productivity.

Soviet statistics bear this out. In steel, the Soviet worker turns out about 60 per cent as much as the U.S. worker; in coke 50 per cent; in metal-cutting machine tools 62 per cent; in synthetic rubber, 13 per cent; in cement 25 per cent; cotton fabrics 42 per cent; dairy products 51 per cent. And so on.

TO BE SURE, American workers have more modern machines and better working conditions. They work fewer hours and have a higher standard of living. Taking everything into account, the average Soviet worker is only 25 per cent as productive as the average American worker.

This lag bugs Khrushchev's successors. In a speech to the graduates of Soviet military academies, Brezhnev, as First Secretary of the Communist Party, declared that "radical improvement in the system of planning and management is now being carried out in industry and production." This is backhanded recognition of shortcomings and therefore significant.

THE SOVIET ECONOMY functions by command. What the boss-man wants the boss-man gets—at a price.

The Plan—with a capital P—assigns the most successful factory managers, the best engineers, the finest technicians and the asked-for quantity of labor and materials to space, national defense and research and other high-priority projects. These projects flourish—but at the expense of other production, especially consumer goods.

Why should these favored factory managers strive to conserve labor or material? Why bother with efficiency when the resources of production, by order of the boss-man, are provided by ukase.

IN THE UNITED STATES, the labor unions take care of this by bargaining for higher wages. When wages go up, the incentive to introduce labor-saving devices — to substitute capital for manpower—increases. High wages are conducive to high productivity and industries which need workers can bid up the price of labor in a free, open market.

In the Soviet Union, prices and wages are fixed. The system has no give, no freedom. The preferred industries can get resources. Yet, these are the very industries in which the top personnel has the capability—but not the incentive—to increase efficiency.

Equal Rights For Men—In Clothes

FROM THIS IT is readily apparent that only the once-sturdy sex is in jeopardy when, as at present, it is helping itself lavishly to sister's buttons, bows and furbelows.

The situation seems monstrously unfair when fashion arbiters are urging sister to wear pants morning, noon and night, and the man tailored two-pants suit for street wear is already in the wardrobe of many women.

Slacks, skin-tight Levi's and shorts have long been standard street dress around the U.S.A.

Only last week, at a New York fashion showing, not only were the models painted but also booted and—God forbid—equipped with whips. If a man were to appear on the streets of this city in ruffled shirt and velvet pants and carrying a whip, the first horrified policeman would rush him to the pokey on the double.

OF COURSE, if all the women wearing pants on the public streets were arrested as transvestites, detention camps would have to be built in every American community to relieve the overcrowded jails.

But let a man put on a skirt, other than a kilt, and in jig time he's trying to get up bail money.

Goodness knows, I do not advocate that girls in pants be arrested. Or even that their pants be thrown in jail. Or that men wear skirts!

BUT IF THIS nation really believes in equality of the sexes, let it extend freedom of dress to men, all holds and penalties barred. In a day when clothing is becoming interchangeable, it isn't fair that one sex is more equal than the other. Boys, man—if you can —be harricades.

In many parts of the United States, including New York, a man caparisoned in even a dash of women's finery is subject to arrest as a transvestite whereas a woman in a Brooks Brothers suit, with findings to match, goes scot-free as an exemplar of present and future chic.

Gall Bladder Stores Between-Meal Bile

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Why are there two schools of thought by doctors? Some claim that after removal of the gall bladder, one can eat everything, while others advise elimination of fats from the diet. Which group is right?

Doesn't the gall bladder have the function of secreting bile? If it is no longer in the body, where does the bile go? One doctor said it would go into the stomach and that would be bad.

There's not as much difference in "schools of thought" as you might think. There's just a lot of difference in judgment as to what should be suggested for any given patient.

One thing is certain: Neither rule—the "eat everything" idea, or the "don't eat fats" idea—will be correct for all patients.

The gall bladder doesn't—in the full medical sense of the word—secrete anything. The liver is the organ which produces bile (a very necessary digestive juice) and releases it into the system.

The bile, part-drip at a time, flows to a duct which has two branches. One branch leads directly to the digestive tract.

The other goes to the gall bladder.

All the gall bladder does is store some of the bile, which it then releases at mealtime. Between meals the gall bladder, and the liver still produces just as much bile, but there is no between-meal storage.

For many a slim patient who doesn't eat big meals, but may nibble occasionally between meals, and has no great taste for fried foods, fat, gravy, butter, and so on, there is no necessity for changing the diet after removal of the gall bladder.

But take a hearty eater who likes to put away a lot of high-fat foods at one meal, and there can be trouble, because the liver can't, all at once, produce enough bile to digest the fat. The bile has been arriving in the intestine, but much of it has been wasted because it didn't arrive just when there were fats to be digested.

In short, removal of the gall bladder doesn't change the amount of bile produced but it stops your ability to save up concentrated bile for mealtime.

Letting bile flow into the digestive tract isn't bad. That happens all the time. It flows into the intestine and not the stomach.

But whether a doctor tells you to "continue eating the way you always have," or tells you to avoid fats, or to eat smaller meals, depends on your eating habits. It also depends on what you eat. And on how your particular system operates. No two of us are exactly alike.

The art of medicine isn't a matter of establishing hard and fast rules that suit everybody. It's a matter of knowing the basic rules and how they should apply to a particular patient. If this were easy, a rule book sort of thing, it wouldn't take so many years to train a good doctor.

Mononucleosis is primarily a disease of young people. To learn more about it, send in care of The Herald for my booklet, "Mononucleosis," enclosing with your request a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses their questions in his column, but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters.

Youths from low income families, who might not otherwise be financially able to attend college, will benefit from the program, he said.

New Mexico Officials May Give Up Extradition

The sovereign state of New Mexico becoming weary over its so far unsuccessful efforts to extradite Jack Eubank from Big Spring back to Santa Fe? The "between the lines" interpretation of a news dispatch from the New Mexico capital today would indicate that such might be the case. The efforts of New Mexico to get its hands on Eubank — a fugitive from the New Mexico penitentiary who escaped in 1957 — have been frustrated so far by the diligent efforts of Eubank's court-appointed attorney, Lanny Hamby. Two bids made by New Mexico for the man have fallen by the wayside.

Ambassador At Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Ambassador-at-large W. Averell Harriman worked at the American Embassy today as speculation continued that his "vacation" visit here involves the Viet Nam situation. An embassy spokesman said no appointments had been made yet for Harriman to see Soviet officials. Embassy sources said Monday when he arrived that he probably would see the top leaders.

Ainsworth said volunteer workers, both adult and junior, had made great contributions to the program. Bill Cadzow was introduced as a new member, and Tom Ivey was a guest.

He said someone shot him through an open window of his bedroom while he was asleep.

Riders Hurt In Accident

A three-car collision about 9:30 a.m. today left several persons hospitalized and heavy damage to vehicles involved. Taken to Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital by Big Spring Ambulance Service were Alan Greenwood, 12, and William Reed, 14. Also taken to the hospital was James R. Greenwood, father of Alan. All were passengers in the Reed car. The Greenwoods are California residents and were visiting the Reed family. No report was immediately available on their condition. ### Chemical Blast Injures Eleven In College Lab BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Eleven students were hospitalized, two in critical condition, after a chemical explosion shattered splinters of glass through a science laboratory at Bakersfield College. There was a terrific noise and suddenly the room was full of fog and chemicals, said the chemistry teacher, Dr. Robert Brailsford. "I couldn't see anything for a couple of minutes." Brailsford said the explosion which ripped through the summer school class of 25 students at the junior college Tuesday apparently was touched off unintentionally by a youth mixing incompatible chemicals not included in the class experiment. All 24 students were taken to the hospital, but 13 were released after treatment for either cuts or chemical inhalation. GASPS, COLLAPSES — Brailsford said the youth, William J. Fox, 19, of Ridgecrest, realized what he had done and gasped "God forgive me" before he collapsed to the floor. Spokesmen at Bakersfield Memorial Hospital said Fox was in critical condition with burns and internal cuts from flying glass fragments. He lost his left hand. At Mercy Hospital, Joseph Hibbs of China Lake also was in critical condition.

Joins Five State Farm Bureau Tour

Derwood Blagrove, president of Howard County Farm Bureau, left Sunday to join a tour to a five-state area along with some 175 other Texas Farm Bureau leaders. Four or five chartered buses were to pick up the representatives in Houston, San Antonio, Abilene and Lubbock. Each bus load of representatives was to take a different route to inspect farms, feedlots, and outstanding farm facilities to see how other farmers operate. The "Institute on Wheels" was scheduled to tour Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Illinois and return to Texas Saturday. They will stop at St. Louis on the way back to the St. Louis Cardinal-New York Met baseball game.

McCarty Reunion Slated Saturday

LAMESA (SC) — Former residents of the McCarty community will hold a reunion Saturday, at Forrest Park Community Center. It will be an all-day affair with a covered lunch served at noon. Mrs. Carl Zeek and Mrs. Welton Blair are in charge of arrangements.

Another Check Case Filed, Defendant Pleads Guilty

Terrell V. Thompson is having his day in court in a big way. Tuesday it was announced he could not be tried in 118th District Court as planned, because the felony indictment alleging theft by bailer against him was faulty. He is to be re-indicted. On the same date, Dee John Davis, county attorney said Thompson was scheduled for trial Wednesday in county court. This morning Sheriff Aubrey Standard said that a new charge of writing a worthless check was filed against Thompson Tuesday afternoon. He posted $500 bond in this case and was released. This morning, when his case was called in county court, an older worthless check charge, was listed against him. He entered a guilty plea to the complaint and Judge Lee Porter fined him $25 and costs, plus one day in jail. Two bonds were ordered forfeited in the court today. They were the bonds in the cases of Furrell Lewis Dodd, charged with non-support, and two bonds against Guy Trocana, charged with worthless check writing. No cases were ready for jury trial, and the jury panel which had reported to county court was excused until Thursday morning. Davis said that two more defendants, whose cases had been docketed for today, are to plead guilty. Rodney Johnston has told Davis he will plead guilty to a charge of writing a worthless check. Clifford Fountain, charged with writing worthless checks, two cases, was said to be on his way from Odessa to enter guilty pleas. Davis said he would seek to go to trial with other cases set for Thursday when court convenes.

Making Effort To Get Wade

Sheriff Aubrey Standard said that he is making a vigorous effort to get first chance at Allen Lee Wade, held in Waco on a charge of forgery and passing. Several counties are after Wade for similar offenses. The man allegedly cashed one check here for $600 July 2 and tried to cash a second forged check for $1,200. He was arrested for Waco on a warrant out of the sheriff's office here. Wichita Falls, Amarillo, and several other towns are also asking for custody of Wade, Standard said. He is not certain whether his request would be honored but he said that his warrant on the man was filed prior to those of other communities.

The annual Explorer Whing Ding for the Buffalo Trail Council will be held at Webb Air Force Base Friday and Saturday, with registration beginning at 5 p.m. in Withycombe Hall. The base will not have barracks available for use this year and each unit is asked to bring its own tents. A camp site will be assigned as each checks in, and a special award will be given to the Post with the best camp. Each Explorer will also need to bring his own bedroll, including cot if needed, towel, soap, personal gear and bathing suit. "The official uniform of each Post must be worn at all meals, public appearances and events, when possible. Fatigues will be acceptable in events which might damage uniforms," Scout Executive Bill McRee said. ### Shriners Elect New Officers

Shriners were in the process today of winding up their Imperial sessions in Washington, D. C., with various elections. Ted O. Groebel, only Big Spring delegate in Washington (representing Suez Temple of San Angelo) reported to The Herald today on convention activities. New Outer Guard is Henry Struby of Hadi Temple, Baltimore who, through the process of Shrine elevation, will become Imperial Potentate in 10 years. Barney Collins of Anezh Temple, Mexico City, moved up to Imperial Potentate at Washington. It was announced that a new Temple — Sabbar — is under dispensation at Tucson, Ariz. Shriners will gather for the 1966 conclave in San Francisco, beginning next July 3. The 1967 July sessions will be in Detroit. Groebel, who will return home Friday evening, said there were some 1,200 Texans, representing the 12 Texas Temples at the national ceremonial.

President Lester Morton urged all UF trustees to attend the session Thursday. Bank Officers To Meet Friday

Joe Cronin Must Feel Frustrated In Defeat

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — The most frustrated man in baseball today must be Joe Cronin. If he isn't, he should be. Since he took office as president in 1959, his American League has won only two of 11 All-Star Games while tying one in the same span, the league has lost four of six World Series. Genial Joe squirmed in the heat Tuesday while the National League once again turned back his American All-Stars 6-5, despite blowing a 5-0 lead. It marked the fifth straight defeat for the Americans in All-Star and World Series competition. The National League, which once wanted to call the whole thing off when it found itself trailing 12 games to 4, has taken a lead for the first time since the competition began in 1933. The victory, their seventh in the last eight decisions, has given the Nationals an over-all 18-17 lead.

All-Star Pilots Would Like '66 Appointments

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Gene Mauch and Al Lopez, who managed this year's All-Star Game by default, would like to face each other again next year — but this time on their own. Mauch won in his rookie try while Lopez suffered his fifth loss without a victory Tuesday as the National League edged the American League 6-5 and took a one-game lead in the 36-game All-Star series. "I'll be more than happy to keep trying to beat them," said Lopez, "if we (the Chicago White Sox) can win a pennant and put me in the game again." Asked how it felt to help put the National League ahead by one game, Mauch of the Philadelphia Phillies said: "Good, but not as good as it would feel to manage the team that puts them two games ahead." Both Mauch and Lopez were substitutes this year. Their teams each missed winning pennants by one game in 1964, but both became the All-Star managers when Johnny Kean of St. Louis and Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees changed leagues. Following their first encounter, Mauch said his team "would have thought of another way to win it if they hadn't won it the way they did." Lopez called it a "heck of a good game, a good show which either side might have won."

Tubbs Is Set To Play Again For Cowboys

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Shoulder pads and heartbeats were the main concern of the Dallas Cowboys' coaching staff Tuesday as it welcomed the club's 1966 pack of 49 rookie hopefuls. The new arrivals were outfitted, given stiff physical examinations and assigned quarters at California Lutheran College, the Cowboys' summer home. Harold Blevins, 22, a defensive back from Arkansas AM&N, was the only rookie who failed to report. Wednesday the rookie squad will run the mile for time and study play patterns. Thursday, double drills begin to prepare for a scrimmage against a Los Angeles Rams' rookie team Saturday. Coach Tom Landry announced that linebacker Jerry Tubbs, 30, would participate this season as a player-coach. Tubbs, an eight-year National Football League veteran, has been a Cowboy since the club was organized in 1960. Among the regulars reporting early were offensive tackle Don Talbert, just returned from a two-year Army hitch, defensive back Jerry Overton, sidelined through the 1964 season with a broken leg, and offensive tackle Ray Schoenke and Bill Frank. Quarterback Don Meredith and centers Dave Manders and Mike Connelly are expected Saturday. The rest of the team will arrive by July 23. The Cowboys are due to meet the Rams in an exhibition game in the Los Angeles Coliseum Aug. 14.

Small Fry Teams Will Be Honored

WESTBROOK (SC) — Players on the Little League and Midget baseball teams here will be honored with a barbecue Saturday night at the Lake Colorado City cabin of Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson. Sponsors are parents of players and friends of the team. The meal will be served at 7 p.m. The Westbrook Midgets defeated Roscoe, 10-2, in the finals of the Ira tournament last weekend. Managers of the Westbrook team are Cleburn Rich and David Anderson while Raymond and David Rich serve as assistants. Members of the team include Gaylord Rich, Joe Compas, Tim Oden, Randy Anderson, Bruce Rich, Bobby Morris, Doug Lewis, Terry Anderson and Junior Compas.

Houston Stadium May Be World's Top Attraction

HOUSTON—What single edifice is the world's greatest attraction? The Eiffel Tower? The Empire State Building? The Rome Colosseum? The Statue of Liberty? The Washington Monument? The UN Building? Rockefeller Center? McCormick Place? The Museum of Science and Industry? Smithsonian Institution? Dodger Stadium? The Louvre? It's Houston's Astrodome, the world's first and only air-conditioned all-purpose domed stadium. The Astrodome is expected to attract at least 4,150,000 persons during its first year of operation. There already have been more than 1,750,000 persons attracted to the Astrodome during the first three months of operation. By the time the Astrodome celebrates its first anniversary on April 9, 1966, the Houston Sports Association, lessee of the stadium, conservatively estimates the following attendances for events in the stadium:

Baseball	2,500,000
Rodeo	400,000
Billy Graham	350,000
Tours	200,000
Football	200,000

PITTSBURGH (AP) — If Stan Poploski, 43-year-old Pittsburgh real estate salesman, goes all the way in the National Public Links Golf Tournament he could become the first man to ride to a top amateur golf title on a pair of roller skates. After establishing himself as the man to beat by firing a 73-71

Drillers Deflate Optimists, 7-1

The Duncan Drillers got their runs in bunches in turning back the Optimists, 7-1, in a Hi-Junior Baseball league game here Tuesday night. The Drillers started off with one tally in the fourth, then picked up three in the fifth and three more in the sixth. They did it all with the help of only three hits. Woody Fowler had a double for the winners while Jerry Ryan, the winning hurler, responded with two singles. The Optimists wound up with four hits but were kept away from the plate until the final inning, at which time Cooper Proctor spiked the dish after singling and advancing on an error. Simon Terrazas, Frank Sherman and Bobby Ploynan accounted for the Optimists' other blows. Joe Pate and Proctor divided time on the mound for the Optimists.

Webb will probably go with a team which includes Arthur, catcher; Figelan, pitcher; Miller, first base; Dunn, second base; Mainord, third base; Boyce, center field; Distasio, left field; Sapp, right field; and Bryant, shortstop. The Morton's team will tangle with San Angelo in a return double header here Saturday night.

MacCall Will Decide On Net Team Friday

CHICAGO (AP) — Nobody knows better than George MacCall just how good Mexico's Davis Cup squad is. Two of Mexico's top players, Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox, have played scores of matches at MacCall's Los Angeles Tennis Club. MacCall's observations have led him to conclude "that the best possible American team must be ready when the two countries square off in Dallas beginning July 31."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

San Angelo and Abilene High appear to be rallying the most support in the poll among District 2-AAAA coaches to pick a 1965 football winner.

Hank Watkins, new head coach at Odessa High School, only thought he had his staff set earlier this year. J. D. Partridge of the Bronco corps of mentors quit recently to become associated with El Paso Irving High School.

Ernie Davis was brought in from Littlefield, however, to fill the vacated spot. Another vacancy occurred at a 2-AAAA school when baseball Coach Kent Babb quit at San Angelo. He's exiting from the coaching ranks.

When Jim Baum, manager of the Big Spring Gage Oilers, broke into professional baseball, he stole the first 15 bases he tried.

Incidentally, it appears that the Oilers will be forced into a playoff for the NBC district championship before they can hope to go to the state tournament at Lubbock. Both Sweetwater and Robert Lee have indicated they will contest for the district crown.

There was a time a couple of years ago when San Jose College in California was making threatening gestures at the University of Houston's reign in NCAA golf but the menace didn't last.

The Cougars recently won their eighth NCAA team championship in ten years. Members of this year's team were Randy Petri, Marty Fleckman, Jim Grant, Ron Smith and Elwin Fanning.

The 1966 Houston Golf Classic will be held May 5-8, which means it will follow the Masters by a full month.

There was a lot of grumbling this year when the Houston tournament was played the week following the big show at Augusta and many of the big names by-passed the meet.

The Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, the Azalea Open at Wilmington, N. C., the Dallas Open, and the Texas Open at San Antonio will be held between the Masters and the Houston Classic next year. The Tournament of Champions and the Azalea are booked the same week.

Amarillo Tascosa will likely be favored in the District 2-AAAA football race again this fall, although the team was hit very hard by graduation.

Tascosa looked very good in spring training, they say. Plainview of that district lost heavily to graduation but coach Don Williams has a fine program going down in the grades there. That is newsworthy here, because Plainview is returning to the Big Spring schedule after this year.

Williams is still burning from a 26-6 defeat inflicted on his Bulldogs by Big Spring a few years ago and hungers for revenge.

Lubbock Monterey of 3-AAAA had to yield 14 of its 1965 players to the new high school up there, Coronado, but coach Jim Odom says only two of them were being counted on as starters.

A total of $30.4 million was bet at the nation's race tracks July 5.

Of that amount, Hollywood Park and Aqueduct each handled more than $5 million.

Angels Defeat Rebels, 9-5, In Soph Circuit

The Angeles continued their winning ways in Sophomore baseball league play here Tuesday night, turning back the Rebels by a score of 9-5.

Two Angel hurlers, R. Thomas and Candler, rationed out seven hits to the Rebs. Three of three were propelled off the bat of Lepard.

The Angels struck for three runs in the second inning and followed up with three tallies in the third.

Big Crowds Due For Golf Open
TORONTO (AP) — The $100,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament headed into its first round today with Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer assured of at least one thing — bountiful galleries.

The field of 144 teed off with the prospect of morning showers but partly sunny skies by afternoon. Nicklaus and Palmer were early-afternoon starters.

Matson Leaves For New York Next Weekend

HOUSTON (AP) — Randy Matson, Texas A&M's world record shot putter, will leave July 24 for New York to join the United States track team that meets Russia at Kiev July 31.

Matson will not be able to compete in a meet before then because of the NCAA-AAU fuss. The NCAA has told him he can't participate in a meet at Wichita because there will be athletes other than from the AAU. The U. S. team is not large enough to hold a meet among themselves.

"There will be some high school boys in the meet," said Matson.

Matson can participate in the Kiev meet because the NCAA does not seek to control its athletes in international competition.

He also expects to get into two more meets before he returns — one in Poland and the other in a Scandinavian country.

Matson threw the shot 67 feet 8 3/4 inches in a special demonstration last week to qualify for the Russian meet. He could not compete in the National AAU meet because of a knee injury, and got into the Russian meet through a special ruling.

Matson, who holds the world's record of 70 feet 7 inches, hopes to hit 70 feet in Russia. He was down to 238 pounds after the season closed in Texas but now has gained back up to 245 and will try to put on more weight before he competes at Kiev.

Picking the team, however, is going to be quite a problem, according to MacCall. He said: "There are a few things that I have to mull over in my mind before reaching any decisions. And before the week is over, I should have the answers."

The answers will be provided by the 16 players left in the men's division of the tournament. All eight seeded players have survived the first two rounds.

It's a safe bet, MacCall says, "that at least one player not even in contention for the Cup could be picked."

One such player, Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., a sophomore at UCLA, is going to get the once over by MacCall. Smith plays seventh-seeded Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, Wednesday, and if Smith wins, he'll have to be considered a darkhorse candidate.

The only thing definite in MacCall's mind is that Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., the nation's top ranked player, and Ham Richardson of Dallas, have the inside track to being named to the doubles team.

Spurs Retain League Lead
By The Associated Press
Dallas-Fort Worth hung onto first place in the Eastern Division of the Texas League with a 2-1 victory over El Paso Tuesday night and it was a good thing because Tulsa's Oilers fight to switch.

The Oilers not only beat Austin 5-4 in 15 innings but mixed in a brawl that was even more interesting than the game. Almost everybody got into it and Dave Pavlesic, Tulsa catcher, and Mike Sinnerud, Austin shortstop, were tossed out in the 12th inning. Then Tulsa manager Vern Rapp argued with umpire Bob Henrion and also was ejected.

All this overshadowed a 10-1 hammering administered by Amarillo's Sonics to the Albuquerque Braves, leaders of the Western Division. Amarillo pulled within 7 1/2 games of the Braves.

Paul Jaekel pitched one-hit ball for eight innings as Dallas-Fort Worth shaded El Paso. He needed help in the ninth from Bob Flynn after developing wildness. Flynn had to choke off a threat with the tying run on third. Dallas-Fort Worth stayed half a game ahead of Tulsa.

Walt Williams singled Joe Patterson home in the 15th for Tulsa's victory over Austin and Hal Gilson picked up his eighth victory in relief. He pitched seven runless innings.

Pavlesic fled into a double play and had words with Sinnerud coming off the field. They began to throw punches, the benches of both teams emptied and it became a free-for-all.

Clarke Seeking Distance Mark
OSLO, Norway (AP) — Ron Clarke of Australia will try to shatter the 28-minute barrier for the 10,000-meter run today in the opening of a two-day international track and field meet at Bislet Stadium.

Clarke will be out to beat his own pending world record of 28.14. The record for the distance of about 6 1/4 miles was set in Turku, Finland last June 16.

Mays Shares Spotlight With Giant Mound Ace

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Willie Mays came to the All-Star Game with a painful bruise and without his batting helmet. But when he left he had accomplished the usual — hit a homer, scored the winning run, set two records and managed to squeeze in his fence-crashing act.

Sharing the spotlight with San Francisco teammate Juan Marchal in the voting for the most valuable player, Mays played his usual key role as the National League edged the Americans 6-5 Tuesday and took the lead in the series.

Mays cracked Milt Pappas' second pitch of the game for his third All-Star homer and 21st hit, breaking a tie with Stan Musial for the all-time high in the hit category.

In the seventh inning, Mays led off with a walk and then scored the run that broke a 5-5 tie after singles by Hank Aaron and Ron Santo. The two runs brought Mays' total to 18 in All-Star play, extending his own record.

In the eighth inning, with two on and one out, Dick McAuliffe tagged a long liner toward catcher. Mays took one step, slipped, then started racing back and made a lunging one-hand catch.

"I don't mind telling you I was scared to death," Mays said in the dressing room "I didn't misjudge it, but I slipped as I started to go back."

What about in the fifth inning intermediate event, fourth in the 100-yard back stroke and sixth in the 100-yard free style.

Linda Cathey, Big Spring, entered in the same class, was first in the 100-yard breast stroke, third in the 100-yard free style and fourth in the 200-yard intermediate race.

Rick Pajot, Big Spring, was sixth in the 100-yard free style race while Bill Bortner, Big Spring, was sixth in the 50-yard free style race, both in the 15-16-17 age group.

Ramon Sota Low In French Play
PARIS (AP) — Ramon Sota of Spain led the field by one stroke today at the halfway point of the French Open Golf Championship.

Sota's double eagle two on the 556-yard 16th hole Tuesday helped him shoot an 11-under-par 62 and gave him 131 for 36 holes.

In second place as play began today was Cobie Legrange of South Africa who had 65-67-132 for his first two rounds. British Open champion Peter Thomson of Australia and John Hayes of South Africa were tied for third with 136s.

when he chased McAuliffe's homer into the center field fence, leaping against it in a futile attempt to make the catch.

"I didn't think it was going over," Mays explained. "I know when I jump, I can get up over the fence, so I thought I had a chance."

Mays hit the fence with such force that he bruised the right side he injured in a home plate collision at Philadelphia Saturday night.

Mays might not have known what he was doing, but Marchal did, edging Willie in the most valuable player balloting 46-45.

The high-kicking right-hander stopped the American League on one hit through the first three innings, easily the most effective performance of the 11 pitchers used in the game.

But he did experience some difficulty with the height of the mound, slipping to the ground on his first pitch before realizing what the trouble was.

Medieval Cathedral Scene For Finnish-American Rites

A medieval cathedral in Turku, a former capitol of ancient Finland, was the setting Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Anita Nuutila and Ens. Randy J. Coleman.

The Lutheran, double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. R. Rigne, Abo (Turku) Svenska Forsamling.

The scene of the wedding was the massive brick cathedral, built in 1258, which is now a national shrine commemorating the introduction of Christianity in Finland. Wedding vows were read at 4 p.m. Turku time in both the English and Finnish languages.

EXCHANGE STUDENT
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juho K. Nuutila of Turku, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Coleman, 2101 Coleman, San Angelo. The bridegroom's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. Jeff Walker, 1708 Donley, in whose home the former Miss Nuutila was a guest on various occasions during the 10 months she spent in San Angelo as an exchange student under the American Field Service program.

Ens. Coleman is stationed with the U. S. Navy in Keflavik where the couple will live after a trip to Parainen; Copenhagen, Denmark and Frankfurt, Germany. Mrs. Coleman wore a formal gown of silk and lace which she designed herself. Its controlled skirt extended into a chapel train. Her crown of seed pearls was based in a circlet of flower petals and held a bouffant veil.

In the Finnish tradition, there were no friends of the couple to serve as counterparts of American bridal attendants — only Miss Gunvor Helander of Turku, who was organist.

CELEBRATION
The wedding celebration, a time-honored Finnish observance, followed the wedding and included a dance until 1 a.m. in the Turun Urheilutalon Kerho. Wedding gifts were on display during the celebration, another tradition.

MRS. RANDY J. COLEMAN

Ens. Coleman arrived in Turku June 29. Although his parents did not attend the wedding, they expect the couple to visit them in San Angelo December, 1966.

The bridegroom's uncle, Frank W. Ficklin of Ankara, Turkey, and Oklahoma City, Okla., represented his parents at the wedding. Miss Kathy Kelley of Denver, Colo., a University of Oslo, Norway, student, also attended the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Abo Svenska Samskola (Turku High School) and San Angelo Central High School where she was a member of Alta Tri-Hi-Y.

Bobcat Boosters and the American Field Service Club. She is also a graduate of Handel's Institute in Turku.

Mrs. Coleman lived in the home of the David H. Loyd's while a student in San Angelo. She and the Loyd's daughter, Miss Linda Loyd, shared numerous activities during the exchange student's year in San Angelo. They also shared their wedding date. Miss Loyd was married Saturday in San Angelo.

He was a member of S.A.X.'s Phi Theta Kappa and Math Club and belonged to the student chapter of the American Meteorological Society and West Texas Home-town Club at Texas A&M. There he was also secretary of his dormitory, Law Hall.

He worked for two years at the U. S. Weather Bureau in College Station and was graduated from Naval Officer Candidate School last December.

Baptists View Free Africans

The current study, "Harvest of Freedom in West Africa," was presented this week at two Baptist churches.

KNOTT BAPTIST

The program at the First Baptist Church in Knott Tuesday was highlighted with a quiz led by Mrs. Bruce Parker which tested the knowledge of mission activities in Ghana and Liberia.

Preceding the Woman's Missionary Union program, Miss Fumiko Hasegawa of Japan was a guest speaker. Miss Hasegawa, an exchange student with the National 4-H Club Foundation International Farm Youth program, was introduced by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, with whom she is residing while in Knott.

She described her home life in Japan, saying that she and her two sisters live with her parents in a two-story house where they sit on floor cushions and eat their meals with chop sticks. She presented two piano numbers, "Spring Song" and "The Fishing Song."

Mrs. Lloyd Robinson announced that, as a community mission goal, members would distribute gifts this month at Bennett House.

The meeting ended with prayer by the 20 attending.

EAST FOURTH

The Judy Burdette Circle was in charge of the freedom program at the East Fourth Street Baptist Church Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. The Woman's Missionary Society program was in the form of an imaginary safari led by Mrs. Don Cannon and Mrs. Pete Sanderson.

It was noted that Liberia was the first country in West Africa to have Baptist missionaries. They were Lott Cary and Collin Teague, former slaves, who began work there in 1822.

The first speaker was Mrs. Morris Sewell who described Liberia and showed slides of wild animals and the typical countryside. Mrs. Monroe Casey followed with a talk on Ghana, stressing the role which the Baptist hospital has played there. Togo was the country viewed by Mrs. Roy Deel who told of missionary work which is being done by only two missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bond, with the Yorubis tribe. Mrs. David Rhoten used Nigeria as her subject, pointing out the different methods of teaching and preaching to Nigerians.

The program was presented in a jungle setting featuring a tent, campfire, profuse greenery and miniature mountain.

Mrs. Arnold Tonn conducted the business session, naming a nominating committee, and announcing that all circles will meet together for the rest of the summer.

Mrs. Pete Sanderson read the calendar of prayer and the Rev. Billy Rudd worded prayer.

Seventh Youth Sought In Assault Case

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Authorities are seeking a seventh youth charged here in the alleged rape of a San Antonio girl, 15.

Paul Brogan, 17, was charged with second degree rape Tuesday.

Six others, three of them from prominent Oklahoma City area families, were charged last week. Five were named on additional charges Tuesday.

ACCUSED LISTED
The five were charged with a "detestable and abominable crime against nature." Named on the charge were James Fellers Jr.; twin brothers, Michael Otis and Richard Payton Stanley; Larry Wyatt Smith, 17; and John Shapard, 16.

Another youth charged last week, Johnny Ismael, 16, was not named on the additional charge yesterday.

OTHER CHARGE
Disorderly conduct charges were also filed Tuesday against the seven as a result of the girl's claim that the youths drank beer en route to the rape scene after abducting her at a street corner.

Fellers is the son of a former Oklahoma Bar Association president, James Fellers. Shapard is the son of Dave Shapard, a lawyer. Ismael's father is Dr. William Ismael.

India Pushes Birth Control

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government will use radio broadcasts, movies and mobile teams to explain a new birth control device to thousands of women. But it is also counting on village gossip to spread the word.

Health Minister Dr. Sushila Nayyar told a news conference here that the government hopes more than a million women will be using the cheap plastic device within eight months.

Riot Damage

Rioters run from burning Air Force truck after it was overturned during demonstrations in Guayaquil, Ecuador, against ruling military junta. Tanks and Army trucks patrolled the city, Ecuador's largest today, after more rioting Tuesday night. (AP WIRE- PHOTO)

Tanks Patrol Riot Sector In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Tanks and Army trucks patrolled Guayaquil, Ecuador's largest city, Tuesday night after more rioting against the ruling military junta. A curfew was imposed.

A 17-year-old girl was reported killed Tuesday in another of the antigovernment demonstrations that have been going on intermittently since Friday in Quito and Guayaquil.

KILLED, WOUNDED
One person was reported killed in Quito Monday night and a number were reported wounded in the capital and in Guayaquil. There was no report of trouble in Quito Tuesday.

University students in Guayaquil stoned police who fired in the air and set off tear gas. Students tossed bottles of water into the air in an effort to extinguish the tear gas.

Student, labor and political organizations are trying to force the military junta to hold national elections. The four-man junta took over in July 1963, after throwing out President Carlos Arosemena because of his drinking.

MILITARY LOYAL
The Defense Ministry and the Military High Command in a communique Tuesday night said the armed forces "will continue to be loyal to the historic responsibility the country has bestowed on them."

The communique said the armed forces "are solidly unified" and "are determined to maintain order and security in spite of the anarchical outbreaks in Quito and Guayaquil."

Amid the unrest, the wife of Junta President Ramon Castro Dijon left Guayaquil by plane Tuesday night for the United States. The reason for her trip was not known.

Star Has To Convince Studio Guards He's One

By DORIS KLEIN
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Hey," yelled the guard at the Paramount studio gate. "Where do you think you're going?"

"You," called the guard, "the one in the red shirt."

Robert Morse strolled back a few feet, a resigned look in his eyes.

"It happens every time," he said with a shrug. "I keep telling them I'm a star, but they don't remember me the next time I walk through the gate."

The trouble is that Bobby, with his pale face and Napoleon haircut, doesn't look like a star.

Yet for two years, the boy from Newton, Mass., packed them in on Broadway as the brash young lead of the musical hit, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Moviemakers will begin getting accustomed to his face with "The Loved One," based on Evelyn Waugh's satire on undertakers, and "Oh, Dad, etc."

REAL COMIC
The real Bobby Morse is more comic than comic actor. He doesn't need a script to be funny. His conversation and mimicry are often funnier than some of the scripts he encounters.

An actor since junior high school plays, Bobby financed serious training in New York as a Schrafft's cookie salesman and a Fuller brush man, and under the GI Bill.

After a small role in the film, "The Proud and Profane," he did a turn in radio, then landed a feature role in the Broadway comedy, "The Matchmaker." He repeated the role in films eight years ago.

His Broadway career continued upward with the comedy, "Say Darling," and a lead in the musical, "Take Me Along."

Then came "How to Succeed" and stardom.

Slaying Figure Is Bound Over

MIAMI (AP)—Melvin Powers, 23, nephew of slain millionaire Jacques Mossler, 69, was bound over to a grand jury on a first degree murder charge in the stabbing death of the Texas and Florida financier.

Peace justice Ruth Sutton ruled there was enough evidence Tuesday to hold Powers in the 1964 death.

The state charged Powers killed Mossler to permit an affair to go on with Mossler's pretty wife, Candace, 46.

Powers was arrested four days after Mossler's body was found in his apartment at Key Biscayne.

French Making Atomic Warhead

Auto Safety Hearing On

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frederic G. Donner, chairman of General Motors, said Tuesday his company must operate in "a climate of public acceptance" in adding safety features to GM models.

"If we were to force on people things they are not prepared to buy, we would face a customer revolt," Donner told a Senate hearing on auto safety.

TURN SIGNALS
Donner described a long string of improvements gradually added to cars.

He cited the case of turn signals. Their value as an added safety factor should have been self-evident, Donner said, but added that "this was not the case and only a small minority of our customers ordered turn signals when they were first available as optional equipment."

"Similarly," he added, "seat belts were ordered by only a very small percentage when they were first introduced as options on the 1946 models."

He said offering innovations as optional equipment permits the customer to tailor the cost of a car to his own desire.

FROM A COMMERCIAL STANDPOINT
"From a commercial standpoint, in a competitive marketplace, this must be the approach until a very high proportion of customers select the item or unless there are other compelling reasons for standard installation. When this point is reached, the items can be included as standard equipment and required selling price adjustments made to cover the additional costs involved."

The hearings starting today will feature industry witnesses. Organizations speaking for the public will be heard in a later series.

Lake Proposal Spurs Hassle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Columbus Bend project in South Texas was pictured Tuesday as the answer to the area's water needs or the creator of a "shallow, muddy, swampy cattail lake."

One of the $26.9 million project's backers was A. W. Moursund, Johnson City lawyer, a friend and business associate of President Johnson.

Moursund, hired last year to represent the Colorado River Industrial Development Association, told a House Interior subcommittee his group feels there is no question but that the market for water will be there when it becomes available through the project.

CAPTURE WATER
Sam Gideon, general manager of the Lower Colorado River Authority, added that the fresh water now wasting into the Gulf of Mexico must be captured and stored for industrial and municipal use.

John Marburger, lawyer for property owners opposed to the project, said:

"You will have a shallow, muddy, swampy cattail lake that will not be deep enough to drown these people (property owners) in. You'll have to hold them under to drown them. It will be a mile wide and an inch deep."

The project is envisioned on the Colorado River west of Houston between Columbus and La Grange.

INDUSTRIAL USE
Gideon said the primary purpose is to catch and store for city and industrial uses water below Mansfield Dam.

"And by the time the dam is built, and the reservoir filled," he said, "in all probability we will have to be looking for another source of supply to serve the needs of the lower basin of the Colorado River."

Rep. James Haley, D-Fla., observed:

"In our part of the country we usually bond ourselves and go out and build what we need. We don't ask federal taxpayers to do it. I'm a little surprised at the people of Texas."

Marburger said 607 landowners would be displaced.

Camp Wolters Expansion Due

MINERAL WELLS (AP)—Camp Wolters will be expanded within a few months to almost double its capacity to train helicopter pilots.

The commander Col. Lemuel Blocker, said Tuesday the expansion will include the addition of 80 military flight instructors, expansion of a civilian flight training program, addition of more helicopter trainers and the development of two new training fields and runways.

Four weeks will be added to Wolters current 12 week training program.

Counselor Urges Short Honeymoon

CHICAGO (AP)—The honeymoon is much sweeter when short, says a wedding consultant, and short honeymoons are better for a marriage too.

"The most surprising thing is that many times a couple gets bored with each other on a long honeymoon," consultant Louis Seno said in an interview.

"The shorter the honeymoon, the better. Two weeks is the most I'd advise," he said.

"FAULTS SHOW"
Seno, a wedding consultant 20 years, said the anxiety and excitement leading to the wedding puts a couple on their best behavior.

"Then suddenly they're married. They think they know each other, but then they start spending 24 hours a day together and discover they don't."

"In a strange resort, surrounded by strangers, the discovery that Prince Charming snores or has a few minor faults can be devastating."

"The newly married couple obligates each other to constant entertainment. They see little or nothing connected with their home life."

Seno, 41 and father of four, said a short honeymoon gives the couple a chance to be alone, and that the return home means the real beginning of happiness.

"IN STRIDE"
"At home, even though it's a brand new apartment, a bride can take things in stride," Seno said. "The man gets up and goes to work, and the wife has a chance to relax, do her daily chores and dismiss the little frailties of her husband."

Seno said the most susceptible persons to a soured honeymoon are women who have lived with their parents and have made few trips.

"The more the hombody, the more they look forward to a trip — and stretch it too long," he said. "Many women end up getting homesick. As a result impatience and misunderstanding develop."

Atomic Air Might Shown

PARIS (AP)—France showed off part of her budding atomic air force today as a highlight of the annual Bastille Day Parade.

Thousands jammed the Champs Elysees to see a parade featuring armored strike power and parading units of all France's armed forces.

President Charles de Gaulle led off the parade on a trip from the Arc de Triomphe to his reviewing stand.

The parade was one of the biggest in years.

Officials said that 9,000 troops of all kinds took part, including varied armored units, Alpine troops, navy and air force units.

Following the parade, De Gaulle was host at a grand reception at the Elysee Palace.

Dates Fixed For Bankers' School

Dates have been fixed for the 14th annual Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for commercial bankers, sponsored by various groups over the state.

Planning for the session, to be held November 10-12, is under direction of a Bankers Advisory Committee, of which Carlton J. Chapman, vice president of the State National Bank here, is chairman. The committee is made up of 16 bankers representatives from over the state.

Sponsors include Texas A&M University, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, with the A&M department of agricultural economics and sociology conducting the seminar.

One Killed, Six Hurt In Collision

MATHIS, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Effie Larson, 61, of San Antonio was killed and six other persons were hurt when two cars collided 3 miles northwest of here Tuesday night.

Base Civilians Get Pay Hikes Following Survey

About 400 Wage Board employees at Webb Air Force Base will receive a pay increase, effective Aug. 1, according to the base civilian personnel office.

Non-supervisory employees will receive a six cents per hour increase. And, for foremen, the raise will be seven and one-half cents per hour.

The wage adjustment is based on the annual wage change survey, held last May, which compares jobs and pay scales in private industries in the Big Spring, Midland, Odessa and Colorado City areas. The data collected was sent to the Army-Air Force Wage Board, Washington, D. C., and it was at that level that the adjustment was determined.

LEGAL NOTICE
NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Upon authority of the City Commission of the City of Big Spring, Texas, bids will be received at the office of the Purchasing Agent, City Hall, Big Spring, Texas, until 2:00 p.m., Thursday, July 22, 1965, for supplying and installation of one sectional steam boiler plus gilder/tilted improvements to the building's heating system. Bids will be opened at the aforesaid time, tabulated, and submitted to the City Commission for consideration of award. Specifications and requirements may be obtained at the Office of the Purchasing Agent. The City reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Relieves gas pains.

If a friend, puffed with pride, tells you he gets 28 miles to the gallon in the Volkswagen, you should reply: "Is-Isk." Because most folks in everyday driving get about 32 miles per gallon in a VW, 32 miles per gallon of regular gas. Of course, even if your friend does drive up to the gas pump more often than necessary, still he is saving in other important ways: he saves when he bought his beetle, and his VW is depreciating less than any other car. He seldom adds oil between changes. He spends nothing on anti-freeze, radiator or hose expenses. So he wastes gas with a heavy foot, he's still probably getting 40,000 miles to a set of tires. And inexpensive spare parts. And when he needs repairs (which isn't often), it doesn't end up costing him a fortune. Maybe you shouldn't say "Is-Isk" after all.

(*Our price on a new Volkswagen sedan is only $1659. That includes everything except license and local tax. Optional leatherette upholstery is only $30 extra.)

Dominican Rift Stays

SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — The rival factions in the Dominican Republic have agreed on a president for a provisional government but they haven't settled major issues dividing them. These issues loom like a wide, turbulent river which must be crossed before the provisional government takes office. It might take three days or three months and Hector Garcia Godoy, the choice for president, might never get across. UNTIL ELECTIONS Under an Organization of American States peace plan, the provisional government would serve until elections could be held in six to nine months. Garcia Godoy is a 44-year-old lawyer, businessman and former diplomat from an old aristocratic Dominican family. The three-man OAS mediating committee proposed him for the

Agnes Reveals Reason For Her Aloofness

By AGNES MOOREHEAD HOLLYWOOD (AP) — I have played so many authoritative and strong characters that some people are nervous at the prospect of meeting me for the first time. Hmmm, come to think of it, in their shoes I might be, too. To be frank, there is a certain amount of aloofness on my part at times, because an actor can so easily be hurt by unfair criticism.

SHUN CRITICISM My profession is sacred to me. I'm happy when people like a performance. I can't help it when they don't. This is a responsibility I have to shoulder. I seldom read any criticism. I have always felt that the most successful artists are the easiest to talk to, except that they are protected by buffers — secretaries and assistants. Some kind of protection is absolutely necessary.

GLAMOR, MYSTERY I think an artist should be kept separated to maintain glamor and a kind of mystery. Otherwise it's like having three meals a day. Pretty dull. I don't believe in the girl-next-door image. What the actor has to sell to the public is fantasy, a magic kind of ingredient that should not be analyzed. I'm sure Endora, my other ego on "Bewitched," would agree. She's quite an actress herself, sometimes, and better versed in magic than most of us.

New 'Title' For Crosby

LONDON (AP) — The election of Bing Crosby as a honorary British racing bookie was announced today. The Northern Bookmakers Association, 2,000 strong, said Crosby will be entitled to carry a silver membership badge, No. 4,456. It's a reward for some kind words the singer had about bookmakers in a recent television broadcast. Bookmaking is legal in Britain, but the percentage against horse players being what it is, kind words for the fraternity are fairly rare. In the interview Bing said he thought bookmaking "contributes greatly to the colorful atmosphere of British and Irish racing."

Dear Abby

It's Not Normal

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my 17-year-old son. He is going steady with a 24-year-old woman. Roger looks like he's 21 or 22, and has always been big for his age. I am very much against this match and told him so. Don't tell me to have a talk with the woman because I already have and it didn't do one bit of good. She says they are "in love." Roger has one more year of high school left and she says she is willing to wait for him to graduate before they get married. Have you ever heard of anything so ridiculous? She works and gives Roger an "allowance." Don't you think this woman ought to be ashamed of herself for taking advantage of a kid? I think they are both sick in the head. I say if these two get married, in no time he will be introducing her as his mother. What can be done? He won't listen to me.

ROGER'S MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: Knowing nothing of the mental and emotional maturity of either your son or this woman, I can't say whether it's a "ridiculous" match or not. A normal 24-year-old woman wouldn't look twice at a 17-year-old boy. And vice versa. Obviously, it's too late for you to assert the kind of Roger needs understanding and lots of it. Who knows, they might live happily ever after.

DEAR ABBY: Please answer this while I am sane and able to understand your reply. I accepted an engagement ring last Christmas, but I am not sure I want to get married just yet. I haven't set a date and I am getting so much pressure from Nick that I can't think straight. I have never given Nick any reason to doubt me, but I get the third degree about every minute I spend away from him. Right after I got my ring, Nick started to act like he owned me. Yesterday I had lunch with a very dear girl friend I had not seen in years. We had a lot to talk about and I didn't think that kind of talk would interest Nick, so I didn't ask him to be with us. Well, Nick said I can't ever see her again as he knows that when two girls get together they are just looking for eligible males. Do you think he will ever get over this jealousy after we are married? Marriage is a big step and I don't want to rush into something I could regret later on. What should I do?

SECOND THOUGHTS DEAR SECOND: Nothing! Don't set a date until Nick learns to control his jealousy and possessiveness. Men who have suspicious minds usually get worse, not better, after marriage. Have yourself a third thought. And a fourth. You're on the right track.

U.S. Warned By Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Red China broadcast two warnings to the United States today on the basis of its story — denied at the Pentagon — that U.S. planes flew over the Chinese border town of Hok'ou during raids on North Viet Nam Sunday.

Coupled with these was an announcement that the Peking regime signed an agreement to furnish economic and technical assistance to North Viet Nam. No details were disclosed. The warnings, set forth in the official Peking People's Daily and the Chinese army's newspaper, were relayed abroad by Radio Peking. Both referred to the alleged overflight.

"The Chinese People's Liberation Army is now ready and in full battle array," the People's Daily said. "We will not act unless attacked; if attacked we will certainly hit back." The army's daily said "the U.S. air intrusion over Hok'ou," in Yunnan Province 170 miles northwest of Hanoi, and bombing of the nearby North Vietnamese town of Lao Cai (similarly unconfirmed by American authorities) "have aroused the utmost indignation of all commanders and fighters of the Chinese People's Liberation Army."

Senate Okay Seen For Two Top Nominees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Party leaders predicted today the Senate will approve two of President Johnson's top nominees — Judge Thurgood Marshall to be solicitor general and Leonard H. Marks to direct the U.S. Information Agency. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said in separate interviews they see no reason both the appointees should not be confirmed with reasonable speed.

However, Johnson's selection of Marshall, a Negro circuit judge, to succeed Archibald Cox as solicitor general, aroused some Southern opposition. CALLED UNWISE Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., said he believed the choice of the former general counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People as the government's chief trial lawyer was unwise. "To make him the special pleader for the whole of the government certainly opens the matter up to controversy," Holland said.

Johnson announced the nominations Tuesday at a White House news conference. Major topics included: VIET NAM — The President said "increased aggression from the north may require an increased American response on the ground. It is quite possible that new and serious decisions will be necessary in the near future." In response to a question on whether military reserves might be called up and draft calls increased, he said, "The government is always considering every possibility and every eventuality."

GENEVA TALKS DISARMAMENT — He said the Soviet Union has agreed to the resumption of disarmament negotiations in Geneva and that the United States has suggested the 17-nation talks resume July 27.

POLL TAXES — Johnson said he has asked Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to work with House and Senate conferees in an effort to deal with state poll taxes in the voting rights bill. The measure as passed by the House would ban the use of state poll taxes in state or local elections. The Senate's version of the bill would not ban them, but would call for a quick court test on them. The President said he hopes the conferees can "agree on satisfactory language that will give us the most effective repeal provision that is obtainable and that we think can be supported in the courts." He said he is against the poll tax and would like to see it repealed.

ON RIGHTS CIVIL RIGHTS — Asked about comments by some Republican leaders who "have suggested that over the years you have changed your position on civil rights," Johnson said, "I am going to try to provide all of the leadership that I can, notwithstanding the fact that someone may point to a mistake or 100 mistakes that I made in my past."

Following announcement of Marshall's nomination, Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., applauded his record on the Circuit Court of Appeals to which he was appointed by President John F. Kennedy on Sept. 23, 1961. Marshall served under a recess appointment and was not confirmed until Sept. 11, 1962.

Thompson Indictment Faulty, Trial Cancelled

Scheduled trial of T. V. Thompson, charged with theft by bailiee and scheduled to open today in 118th District Court, was called Tuesday afternoon. As a result, no trials were on tap today.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, cancelled scheduled trial of the former Cosden employe for alleged theft of $895 from the Cosden Credit Union when he discovered what he said was a "fatal error" in the indictment. He said he would bring the case before the next grand jury for reindictment. The indictment which Burns said was faulty was voted by the grand jury in October, 1964.

Burns explained that the indictment merely related that the defendant had appropriated a check for his own use without stating the cash value.

Through coincidence, Thompson is also slated for trial today in Howard County court where a jury docket is being pursued. The charge pending against him in the lower court alleges that he wrote a worthless check. Meantime, Sheriff Aubrey Standard's deputies were busy rounding up 50 talsmen for jury duty. The original panel of 120 drawn for service this week dwindled to a thin 21 by the time court opened Tuesday. This was far below the minimum
