Ownership Battle Launched For Salvaged Plush Yacht

PORT MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP)—A battle for ownership of a plush $80,000 yacht which sank in the Gulf of Mexico Sunday has developed between a shrimp boat captain who brought the craft to shore and a hospital which holds the title to the boat.

The yacht, the Vida Lee, was abandoned by 10 persons on board Saturday night when it started sinking. The 10 reached the shore of Padre Island and were taken to the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station by helicopter where they were examined and released.

Fred Crouch, the captain of the shrimp boat Scotsman, said he found the yacht partially afloat and hauled it to Port Mansfield. He claims 66 per cent ownership of the yacht under salvage rights laws.

GUARDS YACHT

Crouch paced the deck of the Scotsman most of Sunday night guarding the Vida Lee.

Two teenagers hired by the titleholders to the boat kept watch on the craft from the dock.

The wife of a prominent Corpus Christi physician and one of the survivors of the Vida Lee, Mrs. Edwin E. Conner, said the shrimp boat captain has no valid claim on the yacht. The title is held by Park View Hospital, where Dr. Conner is a staff member.

A deputy sheriff said the shrimp boat had a claim if the Vida Lee was found at least three miles off the coast. Dist. Atty. Edna Cisneros of Wilacy County, where Port Mansfield is located, said she hasn't determined the law in the matter.

The Coast Guard said the boat sank from one to five miles off the coast, and Crouch said it was between three and four miles.

CITES DAMAGE

Crouch said he had a load of shrimp worth $3,000 aboard when he began search and rescue operations following a call from the Coast Guard. The shrimp has spoiled, he said.

Crouch said he also broke $500 worth of line, lost his anchor and bent the boom of his boat while bringing in the 42-foot Vida Lee.

"If I don't get $5,000 off it, Cap, it ain't gonna leave me," he said. "If it ain't worth that, it ain't worth nothing."

Mrs. Conner said it's worth much more.

She said jewelry and other valuables aboard the yacht would bring its total value to about $100,000.

Mrs. Conner, her grandsons, Mike Brown, 7, and Edwin Brown, 6, both of Houston; her sister, Mrs. Clifford Crowell of Corpus Christi; Mrs. C. D. Dixon, wife of another Corpus Christi physician, and her two sons, Bobby, 16, and Chuck, 14; Larry Belcher of Ingleside, the boat's captain, and his wife, Linda, and George Morrill, 24, Corpus Christi, a guide, were aboard the Vida Lee when it began to sink.

PROBABLY BLAST

The party was en route to a fishing camp on Padre Island Saturday when "we heard a dull thud about the boat and the water started pouring in," Mrs. Conner said. She believes the thud was an explosion.

Mrs. Conner said the children were put in a dinghy and two life rafts and the adults took turns kicking them toward shore.

Morrill, using a surf board, reached shore in six hours, notified authorities and a search began.

World Money Drouth Or Flood Due?

NEW YORK (AP) — Some people see a drouth ahead for the international money supply. And they say this could end up being about as bad for you as the drying up of water reservoirs.

Others see the world's complicated monetary system more in danger of being flooded — and with new inflationary devices that could swell your already high cost of living and perhaps scuttle your family budget.

At stake is not only how much money and credit the world needs but how it should be divided between the haves and the have-nots. Who supplies the funds and who gets them can affect U.S. prosperity and the world's.

Here is the meaning of the terms being bandied about by international bankers and national treasurers:

Q. Just what is "international liquidity" that could be the chief bone of contention at next month's gathering in Washington of the world's top financial experts?

A. It is the sum of all funds and credits on which central banks and governments can lay their hands to meet their balance of payments deficits.

Q. And what is a balance of payments deficit — or surplus?

A. Any nation's balance of payments is the difference between: 1. The amount of its money that is paid to foreigners for imports, military expenses abroad, tourists travel, government loans and grants, private lands; and 2. The amount of money that comes back in payment for a nation's exports, profits from overseas investments, tourist travel from abroad, interest on its government and private loans. When more money goes out than returns there's a deficit. When more comes back than is sent abroad there's a surplus.

Q. When this country runs a deficit — as it has in every year since 1949 except 1957 — how does it settle up?

A. It can dip into its official reserves, borrow from standby funds or induce foreigners to hold onto their surplus of dollars as being good as gold.

Q. What are official reserves?

A. Gold and foreign currencies held by central banks or governments. Since World War II the U.S. dollar has been the most prized and widely held currency. The British pound sterling is next, especially among the Commonwealth nations. But any country's currency may be held, and often is, for settlement of payments in the normal patterns of trade.

Q. What are standby funds?

A. Since World War II the major source has been the International Monetary Fund. There are also a variety of international credit forms that central banks can use. A recent one is the "Club of 10" — pooling of financial resources of the 10 leading monetary countries to aid any member that gets into too deep water as Britain has of late. All such borrowing must be repaid in time, hopefully when surpluses replace deficits.

Q. How big are these reserves and standby funds?

A. Members of the IMF have a total of about $65 billion of official reserves and their credit sources total around $23 billion.

Elliott Roosevelt Ill From Smoke

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt, mayor of Miami Beach, Fla., became ill from the effects of carbon monoxide and smoke when an engine fire broke out in his 41-foot cruiser Saturday.

The mayor, son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was treated at home and ordered to remain in bed until mid-week.

Roomer, 98, Charged In Cane Beating

NEW YORK (AP) — A 98-year-old man has been accused of severely beating his 78-year-old landlady with a cane in her lower East Side apartment.

The man, Frank Nalysnik, was charged Sunday with felonious assault in the beating of Mollie Michalowich.

She was reported in critical condition at Bellevue Hospital with skull, collarbone and rib injuries.

Police said Nalysnik does not speak English well, and Mrs. Michalowich was too ill to give a reason for the assault. Authorities said there apparently was an argument about money.

The man was Miss Michalowich's only roomer.

Lag Claimed In Education

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Francis Keppel, U.S. commissioner of education, said today that "in a world that is closing in on the moon and on Mars... we are still graduating functional illiterates from our public schools."

"We are still staffing classrooms with poorly paid and untrained personnel, and we are still callous enough to lock the playground gate at 3 o'clock in the afternoon," he said.

Keppel's address was prepared for the opening session of the five-day, 49th annual convention of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers.

"These are terrible indictments, yet I sorrowfully challenge anyone in education to refute them," he said.

Recovery Slow, Painful For L.A. Riot Section

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the riot-devastated South Los Angeles district of Watts, the painful process of recovery continues — slowly and silently.

Elsewhere the riot lived on in a controversy of growing rancor, as public figures probed for reasons and attempted to fix blame for the week-long disturbance.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty took to the airwaves Sunday with their explanations of the cause of the holocaust that left 36 persons dead and untold property damage.

By day's end, verbal salvos had been fired as far away as Portland, Ore., where Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker addressed an American Legion convention; Washington D.C., where Sargent Shriver heads the Office of Economic Opportunity, and Atlanta, home of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Brown, appearing in San Francisco on ABC's "Issues and Answers" radio and television show, said statements by Parker during the riots "hurt the whole cause of race relations."

The truck's two occupants, also burned, were reported in fair condition at a Morgan City hospital.

NEGRO EDITOR

Yorty then clashed with Chester L. Washington, Negro editor of the Los Angeles Sentinel, a Negro newspaper, on the police brutality issue.

After a heated discussion, Yorty asked Washington: "Are you trying to say that all of this looting and burning, these attacks by the Negro on the white people are justified by my police department's acts?"

"By no means," said Washington, one of program's three panelists. "There are a number of factors, but this is one of them, in my opinion."

Yorty also repeated criticism of Dr. King, who visited the riot area after violence subsided and said he believed police brutality was an issue.

"Well, Dr. King should not have come here," Yorty said. "He came and talked with too few people, then tried to find something that he could say that he had accomplished."

'Revisionism' Is Weakness In Red China

By CHARLES LYNCH
OTTAWA (AP) — The Chinese Communists are aware of the weaknesses in their system of government, and are confident they can overcome them.

This confidence, however, seems to be built on a foundation of wishful thinking, and represents the weakest link in what must be the most tightly organized society in the world.

The greatest weakness is the natural tendency toward what the Chinese Communists call "revisionism." My own definition of "revisionism" would be that it represents the irresistible tendency of human beings to seek the better life, usually on an individual rather than a collective basis.

This, it seems to me, is a law of nature. Against it, the Chinese Communists have their thesis that world capitalism and imperialism are moving to their doom, that socialism and communism are marching toward victory.

"This historical trend," says Peking, "is an objective law which operates independently of man's will, and it is irresistible."

IN EVIDENCE

The Chinese Communists recognize that every man has the germ of revisionism in him, and that selfish personal ambition will show itself unless active steps are taken to stifle it. Such active steps are constantly in evidence in Red China, with emphasis always on the welfare of the collective.

In such a system, the lowest common denominator of society becomes the norm. The peasant and the worker, in the collective sense, are glorified to hero status, and collecting human excrement for fertilizer becomes the highest form of toil.

Budding intellectuals are scrunched into conformity and warned against isolating themselves from the masses. Regular spells of labor with broom or shovel drive home the lesson.

The object is to prevent the outcropping of new privileged classes, as happens traditionally in the later phases of great revolutions.

New privileged classes, the Chinese insist, will never emerge in Red China. This pitfall will be avoided at all costs, and the example of the Soviet Union, sliding down the slippery slope toward capitalism, is there for all Chinese to see.

Any chance that they might like what they see is avoided by the controlled version of Soviet events that is fed to the Chinese people — just as colored as the version the people get of life in the U.S.A. The picture is one of misery and corruption.

"NEW CONCEPT"

When you argue that all men are not equal, in terms of talents and intelligence, the Chinese agree. They say that their new concept of the worker-intellectual or the peasant-intellectual does not envisage everybody living on exactly the same plane. It is just that nobody is going to be allowed to think of himself as being any better than anybody else.

Yet China is a place of special privilege for a small percentage. Anybody who is a functionary of the Communist Party is privileged.

Couple On Fire Lookout

FARMINGTON, N.M., (AP) — A young couple pitched a tent on a rocky 7,480-foot peak in northwest New Mexico and settled down to primitive living for the summer.

It's a phase of a new and independent life which Jack and Jean Loeffler have carved for themselves.

It's the first step for the Forest Service in establishing what is expected to be permanent living quarters for someone who will maintain a new fire lookout in the Carson National Forest.

The Loefflers, a California couple, were hired to maintain a fire lookout in the forest until the end of the fire danger season. Their domain is the northern end of the Jicarilla Forest, about 80,000 acres of timberland.

Three Thefts Investigated

Police reported three thefts during the weekend.

A service station owner said a large wheel and tire from a trailer he rents was stolen sometime Friday or Saturday from the station at 3201 US 80 north.

James Lankford, Kermit, told police clothing had been stolen from his car while it was parked in front of a downtown cafe, 222 W. 3rd, Saturday afternoon.

Farris Pontiac, 504 E. 3rd, reported an air-cleaner stolen from one of the cars parked on the rear lot late Friday or early Saturday.

Negro Protesters Stage March In Massachusetts

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Negro leaders said today they will continue to "nudge" the authorities but both sides promised cooperation following a civil rights protest march billed as "another Selma."

Some 1,000 demonstrators marched to Court Square Sunday under the gaze of rows of National Guardsmen and police. There was neither a single arrest nor incident, and the rally drew praise from several quarters.

But the march did not settle the issues that have divided this city of 180,000 persons since an incident outside a Springfield cafe the night of July 17.

The Negroes accuse city police of brutality in dispersing a gathering in front of a night spot and are dissatisfied with the way in which the charges, now before a police commission, are being handled.

Widow Of Policeman Tippit Shuns Luxuries

DALLAS (AP)—Little in her home indicates Mrs. Marie Tippit is wealthy.

A new car is in the driveway, and there is a color television. But the furniture shows the wear of three children. The house and neighborhood are modest.

Mrs. Tippit still does the housework herself, fretting gently, "Ironing is my biggest job. I never seem to get caught up."

The attractive brunette is the widow of J. D. Tippit, Dallas policeman killed by President Kennedy's assassin Nov. 22, 1963.

GRIM FRIDAY

Tippit was established as a hero after that grim Friday.

Tippit had stopped Lee Harvey Oswald for questioning on a street shortly after the assassin's description had been broadcast.

As Tippit left his patrol car and walked toward the suspect, Oswald fired. Tippit died with his service revolver half out of his holster.

Oswald fled to a nearby theater where officers arrested him.

GIVEN CREDIT

Police Chief Jesse Curry said Tippit's alert action, even though he was fatally shot, led directly to the quick arrest of Oswald. Had it not been for Tippit, officers say, Oswald might have fled the country.

The quick arrest of Oswald helped police conclude there was no widespread, organized conspiracy.

Spontaneous sympathy all over the world made Mrs. Tippit wealthy.

During the months after her husband's death, Mrs. Tippit received thousands of letters which included money. The final total was $647,579. A judge authorized about half of it for a trust fund for the Tippit children. The widow received most of the rest.

There was no income tax. And she went on no spending spree.

"I want the children to grow up just like they would have if J. D. were still with us," she said. "I want them to learn to earn their way in the world just the way their father had to do. If you make it easy for them they won't know how when they grow up."

The children are Curtis, 6; Brenda, 9; and Allen, 15. They

Plight Of Cotton Laid To Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson Administration is making what might well be called an 11th-hour attempt to regain the sagging fortunes in America's cotton — once the king of crops.

Those fortunes are at a low level, perhaps at the lowest point in the long history of a fiber crop which once ruled the world markets. What has happened has been an eroding of U.S. cotton markets at home and abroad by rapidly expanding foreign cotton and man-made fibers.

PROGRAMS BLAMED

Cotton's present plight — described by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman as "serious" — has grown largely out of government cotton programs. These programs, over the years, have supported U.S. cotton prices at levels which encouraged expanded acreages abroad and the development of a highly competitive synthetic fiber industry here and in other countries — particularly Europe.

U.S. government leaders would be the last to deny this. Records show that since the government started placing a floor under cotton prices in the 1930s, the cotton acreage has increased in other parts of the world with an ensuing decline in this country's percentage of the export market. Of course, there have been some years when crops were short in other parts of the world, and U.S. sales overseas increased. But the trend has been downward.

Freeman agrees that the United States is not getting what the government considers this country's fair share of the world cotton market.

At home, cotton's share in the manufacture of textiles has declined sharply, giving way to rayon, nylon and other man-made fibers.

LITTLE CHOICE

But farm officials contend that there has been little choice in the matter of supporting cotton prices at levels which re-

GOREN ON BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold:

AK 6 8 5 4 10 3 2 AK 7 6 5 2

Your partner opens with four no trump. What do you bid?

A.—Six no trump. The opening bidder has described a balanced holding of 28-29 high card points. Your six points assure a combined total of at least 34, adequate for the slam undertaking.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

AAJ 9 3 CAK 9 8 5 4 Q 10 4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 2 4 Dbl. Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Three clubs. We recommend not standing for the double because the penalty may prove inadequate. Although partner probably does not fit your hearts, you have strong support for the other suits. In order to suggest the great offensive strength of your hand, a cue bid of the opponent's suit is in order. This call will assure partner that you are not running from the double because of weakness.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

A 2 6 3 OK 9 8 5 4 2 9 6 3

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass Pass Pass 1 NT

Pass ?

What is your response?

A.—Three no trump. Despite the unbalanced distribution, this is your soundest chance for game. If your partner, by some chance, does not hold the ace of diamonds he should have three small ones because an opening no trump bid must not be made if the hand contains a worthless doubleton.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

AK 10 7 6 5 2 AK 9 8 3 AK 10 2

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 2 1 4

Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. The fact that your partner was unable to act on the second round is not significant. It is highly likely that some of the values for partner's opening bid are in spades. If, by chance, you are doubted you can then bid five diamonds.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

AK 10 9 2 AK K Q 2 AJ 10 9 3

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 2 2 5

What do you bid now?

A.—Six diamonds. Bidding by the opponents has made it difficult to act with precision in this case. However, it is reasonable to assume that partner's free raise must be based on diamond support and something of value in the spade suit. At the most, the slam contract might depend on a finesse.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable, and as South you hold:

AK 9 AK Q J 8 AQ J 7 5 AA 8

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 2 Pass 2 Pass

2 NT Pass 5 Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Partner has described a holding of six clubs and five spades. From his leap to five it is quite apparent that he has at least the ace, queen, and jack of spades, and holding the ace. It is easy to count 13 tricks and you should accordingly contract for a grand slam at no trump.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

A 9 5 2 OK 9 8 5 4 2 AK 10 6 2

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 2 Pass 1 NT

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four hearts. This is a speculative bid and if your queen were in any other suit we would recommend a pass. The queen of hearts should be regarded as a sure trick, therefore your hand will produce two tricks for partner. Remember, you have shown weakness with your one no trump response and partner has jumped in face of it.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

AK 10 2 8 6 3 AK J 5 AK K Q J 4

The bidding has been opened by your right hand opponent with one spade. What do you bid?

A.—While it is true that your hand is worth 16 points, a take-out double is not recommended because the hand lacks flexibility. The fact that you make a vulnerable overcall at the two level will describe a strong hand, and unless partner can take voluntary action no game will be missed. Therefore bid two clubs.

Landing Man On Moon Held 'Far-Off Goal'

MOSCOW (AP)—The head of the Soviet space program said today a great deal remains to be learned before "we can talk of landing a man on the moon or a planet."

Dr. Mstislav Keldysh said it is not even possible now to choose a landing site on the moon because there is insufficient information.

"Man is approaching interplanetary travel," Keldysh said, "but it would be bad if he let himself be carried away... if he acted on the basis of insufficient information."

Keldysh, president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, deplored "the exaggerated interest in the world" in putting a man on the moon. More basic problems in solving acquiring more scientific information on the universe and on interplanetary travel, he said.

"I am convinced that no one can fix a realistic date" for getting a man to the moon," Keldysh added. "Maybe I am wrong."

The United States has announced a target for a man on the moon in 1969. The head of the U.S. program, Dr. Joseph Shea, said last June continued Apollo program of earth orbits could advance that date to 1968.

Keldysh's comments came at a news conference on details of Zond 3, the Soviet space probe that took pictures July 20 of the moon's far side.

Manager Named For Embattled Austin Building

AUSTIN (AP)—An Oklahoma City man, J. E. Kerr, has been named general manager of an Austin apartment and office building which was attacked last session on the floor of the Texas House.

The building is the New Westgate, a planned $2.7 million, 24-story structure which will tower to within 70 feet of the Capitol dome.

Lawmakers claimed the Austin City Council made exceptions to zoning rules to permit the building's construction, which is at the west entrance to the Capitol grounds. Bills were introduced to halt its construction, but they failed in committee.

Kerr, a management and marketing consultant, was general sales manager and vice president of Austex Foods from 1953 to 1960 in Austin.

U.S. Negotiators In Tough Spot On Trade Barrier Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States faces a delicate decision between now and mid-September on what to do about negotiations with the European Common Market to lower trade barriers.

Negotiations have been under way since 1963 and as yet have accomplished nothing significant. Concern over the outlook is rather grave among American farm groups and leaders.

The European Economic Community—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—had agreed to offer its proposals for agricultural commodities by Sept. 16. But for the second time since the negotiations got under way at Geneva, the Common Market has said it will not be in position to submit its agricultural trade proposals.

CHEESE HUB TO CELEBRATE
MONROE, Wis. (AP)—Remnants of the huge scar through its shoulder can still be seen, but Monroe has gayer things on its mind these days.

The little city, whose western and northwestern edge was gouged by a vicious tornado last Palm Sunday, wants to play host to the nation next month. The "Swiss Cheese Capital of the World" is going ahead with plans for the 1965 cheese days Sept. 18 and 19.

The event, planned long before the twister cut into Monroe that dark afternoon of April 11, injuring 100 persons and causing almost a million dollars in damage, has taken on new significance.

"Now we look at it as sort of a 'thank you' to everybody who helped us," said one business man.

Harry L. Graham, legislative representative of the Grange, said in a recent statement that "we are dismayed at the persistent reports that the State De-

Ford Snipes At Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Gerald R. Ford says he believes President Johnson is "systematically setting out behind the scenes to destroy the Republican leadership in the House."

Ford, as the No. 1 man in that leadership, said in an interview he thinks the President is attempting to muffle and discount House Republicans' criticism of domestic and foreign policies.

The reason Ford gives is that "I think he sees we're beginning to get our message across—that the people around the country are understanding the need for a strong two-party system. The only way to rein in the President is to elect a substantial number of Republicans to the House next year."

Ford sees as examples of Johnson trying to slap down the House GOP leaders two well-published exchanges:

—Johnson's public criticism of Republican efforts to substitute their voting rights bill for the administration's.

—Johnson's charge that one of the GOP congressional leaders—taken to mean Ford—had broken the President's confidence and had leaked to news- men information from a White House session on Viet Nam. Ford later said he had not given out such information.

quite obvious that, under the leadership of France, the Common Market has embarked upon agricultural policies which would encourage greatly expanded farm production in the member countries by establishing high domestic support prices and by making levies on imports that would in effect virtually close the door on U.S. farm commodities.

Graham points out that loss of Western European markets would greatly aggravate the farm problem in this country. He says there would be a depressing effect on farm prices and income, with a resulting serious increase in economic and social problems in rural America.

The nation itself would suffer, he says, because loss of dollar markets for farm products in Western Europe would greatly aggravate the problem of deficits in this country's balance of payments.

There's more behind a new VW than a dependable engine.

A Volkswagen can't get by on looks alone. (Obviously.) So when it comes to hiring a staff, we can't think small. After all, the people who keep the VW going have to be as good as the people who made it. Or else, what's the use of making it so good? That's why we send our mechanics to special training centers (15 in all), before they become our mechanics. And our service advisors go to service advisor

If you don't know who the most widely read education writer is, write G.K. Hodenfield 500 times!

In 1957, the Russians not only launched Sputnik, they also launched a new career for G. K. Hodenfield, a former war correspondent. He took the assignment as full-time education writer for The Associated Press. Once started, there was no stopping him.

Today, Hodenfield is the most widely read education writer in the public press. In seven years he's won the annual National School Bell Award six times. This past year he served as president of the Education Writers Association. This March, he won the National Headliners Award for outstanding special features.

But most important, for American newspaper readers, he's the man with the exciting new facts behind education, America's biggest peacetime industry.

Hodenfield was a combat correspondent for "Stars & Stripes" in World War II. In 1946, he was named Chief of the AP's Vienna Bureau. He was AP's Treasury man in Washington when Sputnik was launched. Interest in education soared, and Hodenfield was AP's choice for the education assignment. Now he's everyone's choice: readers, educators, colleagues, and almost every awards committee that meets to honor the best in the field.

We're happy that Hodenfield works for our Associated Press, and delighted that we can bring him to you in

Red Violence Increases In Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four months ago the State Department informed a congressional committee that the threat of increased Communist activity in Latin America is "very much with us."

"Difficult and dangerous days still lie ahead," the department added.

Since then, a buildup in Communist bombings, killings, kidnappings, riots, demonstrations and subversion has been reported.

U.S. officials privately express deep concern over the situation. They say it appears things are going to get worse.

Three key South American nations — Colombia, Peru and Venezuela — have come under intensified attack. Guerrilla bands, Communist-led, are in Guatemala.

STATE OF SIEGE

A state of siege prevails in Colombia.

Troubled areas of Peru are under virtual martial law and nationwide a state of emergency and suspension of constitutional rights have been declared twice.

Venezuela has struck back with widespread arrests of Communists and their followers. So far, the violence of the Communist campaign appears concentrated in these four countries.

But, as the Central Intelligence Agency told the same congressional group — the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on Latin America — other nations are not being overlooked in the campaign it said is generated chiefly in Communist Cuba.

The Communist dictatorship of Fidel Castro spent more than a million dollars on subversion and violence in Venezuela alone in 1960-64, the CIA informed the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Armistead Selden Jr., D-Ala.

CASTRO PROJECTS

To mention a few others, CIA said it was told that the Castro regime spent $250,000 in Guatemala, $50,000 in Salvador, and $30,000 in Panama in recent years.

Selden said a Havana congress of hemisphere Communists last November was designed specifically "to give new impetus to Communist activity in the Western Hemisphere." Hundreds of Latin Americans are trained yearly in Cuba in sabotage, civil disorders, guerrilla warfare, propaganda and subversion, U.S. officials say.

Not a country in Latin America appears to have escaped troubles with the Communists.

EVEN MEXICO

These include even Mexico — only hemisphere nation to continue diplomatic relations with Communist Cuba, and the country where Fidel Castro found hospitality, financial aid, and training grounds for an invasion against the regime of Fulgencio Batista in Cuba.

Last April Mexican police raided the headquarters of the Mexican Communist party and two other leftist groups which they accused of planning "acts of grave consequences."

Since then, there hasn't been a demonstration against U.S. policy in Viet Nam, or the stoning of a U.S. Embassy or consulate in Mexico.

Uruguay, which like Mexico has long been regarded by Latin Americans as a focal point for Communist activity, reported this month the bombing of a drug firm by an extremist group which circulated a statement to newspapers saying the attack was to protest U.S. policy in Viet Nam and to express sympathy for the Viet Cong.

MARXISTS ACTIVE

In Chile, where Communists suffered a jarring defeat in the last presidential elections, Marxists are active in the Congress, in labor unions, in some universities, and are helping to block economic and social legislation sought by the Christian Democratic regime headed by President Eduardo Frei.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., says Argentina's government, faced with serious financial problems, is hampered by Communist agitators who, he said, have joined forces with antigovernment followers of former dictator Juan Peron to "strike, riot, and demonstrate against the democratic government."

There is some speculation in Argentina — which U.S. officials appear not to share — whether the military may feel it necessary to oust the present government and install a tough regime.

Four Listed Lost In Copter Crash

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Rescuers searched in the Mekong River today for two American civilians, a Thai army officer and a Laotian officer missing since the crash of a helicopter into the river.

Three other Americans, including the pilot, swam ashore. Officials said they all escaped major injury and were in satisfactory condition.

None of the seven persons were identified.

Students Hear Vice President

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told a meeting of college students today that "the right to be heard does not include the right to be taken seriously. The latter depends entirely upon what is being said."

Taking note of recent student protest demonstrations, Humphrey said in a prepared speech for the annual convention of the National Student Association at the University of Wisconsin: "GOING UNNOTICED?"

"I've heard critics say that dissent in America has been silenced, when, in fact, it is simply that little attention is being paid to the critics' views."

The vice president saluted "those students who not only dissent, but who by the logic and substance of their argument have compelled the citizens of America to pay attention to their views — to take them seriously."

He added: "I am also here to say frankly and critically that the behavior of some young Americans in recent months is not deserving of such attention."

Humphrey said student protests against racial discrimination have "indeed been worth taking seriously."

CRUCIAL FACTORS
"The tactics of freedom rides, sit-ins, and picket lines have been crucial factors in tearing down the barriers of legalized discrimination in America," he said.

Criticizing the Los Angeles riots as "brutal, uncontrolled, destructive hoodlumism and rioting" which "no public official can condone," Humphrey warned that "we must also be able to differentiate between constructive and destructive protest in other forms."

Red Gunboat Fires On West Berliners

BERLIN (AP)—A West Berlin man was seriously injured Sunday when a Communist gunboat fired on him and two women as they took a motorboat out on the Havel River. The holidaymakers got into East German waters by mistake, the police said.

Thundershowers Possible In State

By The Associated Press

Thundershowers are again possible Monday night in all sections of the state, while temperatures during the day continued to soar at most points.

Rain at a number of points in the state Sunday, with Amarillo leading with 1.20 inches, dropped temperatures, but it was hot elsewhere.

Beeville had a high of 102 degrees Sunday, the second highest in the nation, and Laredo and Wichita Falls were just behind with 101. A stationary cold front across the upper Panhandle held Dalhart's high at 78, the coolest in the state.

Other rainfall reports in the state Saturday night and Sunday included Beaumont .32; Brownsville .28; Childress .12; Galveston 1.03; Houston .13; Lubbock .11; Midland .11; and Wink .09.

Riot police fired tear gas shells to check the students.

Commissioners Will Hear Appeal From Zoning Board

City commissioners will consider T-P Development Company's appeal from a planning and zoning board denial of a zoning change Tuesday at 7 p.m. during the regular meeting. T-P had requested a change from "neighborhood service" to "multi-family" zoning of property near the new Baptist church on Marcy Drive, south and east of the Park Hill Terrace apartments, 700 Marcy Drive. The planning and zoning board turned the request down at a July 6 meeting. T-P plans to build an apartment complex. At the July 6 hearing, two persons objected to the proposed zoning change. Truman Jones, connected with the Park Hill Terrace, and another man, who objected in writing. Both said the economy of Big Spring would not support another apartment complex. The planning board then turned down the request without discussion. The public hearing and appeal Tuesday is the normal procedure, said planning and zoning rulings may be reversed by the commissioners. The commissioners will also discuss appointments to various city boards, as some of the terms expire September 30. They are: City Planning and Zoning Board, J. D. Jones and John Ferguson, Sept. 30; other members with terms not expiring are Jim Little and Dewey Martin, (1966); Brown Rogers and George Elliott, (1967); Horace Reagan, Bill Sheppard and Wendall Parks, (1968). Parks and Recreation Board, Jack Watkins and Bill Crooker, Sept. 30; other members, Mrs. H. W. Smith, and Randall Polk, (1966); Don Newsom and W. D. Broughton, (1967). Board of Adjustments and Appeals, Friend Talbot, C. N. Bellamy, Don Bailey, Dick Collier and John Gary. Traffic Commission, Paul Soldan, Jerry Worthing, Don Crockett, Jimmy Jolley and George Weeks, Sept. 30; other members, Bob Brock, Jack Smith, C. O. Nalley and E. P. Driver, (1966). Zoning Board of Adjustment, Dick Collier, Carl Strom and Jerry Mancill, Sept. 30; other members, Daryle Hohertz, J. D. Elliott, M. R. Koger and Wesley Deats, (1966). Electrical Board, Gene Haston, Clyde Chesser, Homer Ward, Fred Clark, Charles Lusk and Vernon Permenter, Dec. 31. CRMWD Board of Directors R. W. Currie and Dr. Lee O. Rogers, 1966; John Taylor and H. W. Wright, 1967. Board of Equalization, all appointed this year, R. E. Collier, Lawrence Robinson and J. D. Elliott, 1966. Juvenile Board, Arnold Marshall and R. C. Anderson, city; Simon Terrazas and L. J. Davidson, county; Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper and Sam Anderson, schools. Commissioners will discuss City Cemetery plots. City Manager Larry Crow said the discussion will probably center around pricing of lots near cemetery roads, which presently cost more than other lots. It has been suggested that all lots be made the same price, he said. More powerful street lights will also be the object of the commissioners' attention. Texas Electric has recommended new, 7,000-lumen mercury vapor lights to replace some of the present 2,000-lumen incandescents now on many city streets. A city code amendment allowing the use of plastic seal joints in sewer pipes rather than iron seals will be considered. Third and final approval reading for on-premises consumption "Beer Garden." 4206 US 80 west, and zoning change from "retail" to "commercial" will receive its second reading. The property, owned by Don Newsom, is near Twenty-third and Scurry.

Weather Forecast

Most notable in the weather picture today is an Arctic front which moved into the Northeast, lowering the mercury to 44 degrees and leaving a fall tinge in the air in August. In the midsection of the U.S., the weather was to remain about the same. Texas, which was receiving rains over the weekend, was told more thundershowers were possible. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Methodist Youth Program

A "mystery ramble" will begin at 6 a.m. Tuesday for 46 youngsters of the First Methodist Church. It is a five-day tour by chartered bus, and the youngsters will not know from day-to-day where they will go next. The trip will include various Methodist institutions, as well as points of amusement. The trip comes as a climax to the first fund-raising project staged by the youth classes of the church—a "Saga of the Southwest" musical program held last week in the HCJC auditorium. It was very successful, according to Ellis Langston, youth director, and had over 75 participating. Proceeds from the show will be used to finance the ramble, as well as contributions to the church missionary activity. It included special costumes and set designs, as pictured here. The youngsters are due back from the tour Saturday, about 3 p.m. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

INTRUDES ON U.S., RUSSIA

Peking Makes Power Move In Afghanistan

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Communist China is making a long-awaited power bid in this isolated mountain land where Washington and Moscow have sparred in a gentlemanly manner for a decade. Experts here say this means rough tactics ahead for the Afghans. Until now they have been the target of nothing worse than a U.S.-Russian contest to supply economic aid. Peking appears initially interested in countering influence built by the neighboring Soviet Union's aid program. Intensive Chinese propaganda is aimed at those of Afghans who have radios, with special attention to tribal minorities that never bowed completely to King Mohammed Zahir Shah or the infant constitutional government of Prime Minister Mohammed Yousuf. Westerners tend to laugh at Chinese propaganda — "The number of pigs in China now is greater than ever before in her history," says one pamphlet. That's unsophisticated stuff, but it appeals to Afghans — more than 95 per cent cannot read or write. People here desperately want a patch of land and a few head of livestock to call their own. Peking hammers incessantly against "U.S. imperialism" in Viet Nam. DOORS OPEN Also, Peking recently floated a $25 million interest-free loan aimed at reducing Afghanistan's dependence on Soviet-made goods and machinery. But most important, say students of Peking's methods, Afghanistan's doors are being opened to Chinese "technicians and advisers." In other Asian Lands, these Chinese have proven closely attuned to political moods in host countries and quickly have contacted dissident elements that could be exploited by Peking. This is especially dangerous in Afghanistan. The rugged mountain terrain prevents the Kabul regime from closely watching everything that happens. China's hard-line approach is new to the Afghans. The greater powers were amazingly gentle after World War II when cold war politics dictated that backward Afghanistan be introduced to the 20th Century. Moscow, with an aid program totaling a round $730 million, first was interested in building what strategists call "military infrastructure" — roads and bridges capable of carrying Soviet divisions southeast across Afghanistan to the Indian subcontinent. NOW BUILT This has been built, and a Soviet armored unit could easily smash from the Oxus River on the Afghan frontier to the Khyber Pass on Pakistan's border in eight hours. Formerly the trip took 10 days to this pass that opens the subcontinent. Soviet policy has switched, however, and aid programs now under way make it clear Afghanistan is to be a showcase for Russian cooperation with tiny neutral nations. The so-called nonaligned bloc is to be wooed via Afghanistan. American policy parallels Moscow's in a sense because Washington hopes Afghanistan will stay nonaligned. Washington has invested about $300 million. The Afghans quickly caught on and now accept this annual aid layout: Soviet Union, about $60 million in economic and large quantities of military assistance: United States, about $30 million; West Germany, $10 million; United Nations, $4 million; Britain $1.8 million; France, several hundred thousand dollars. Now the Chinese have joined the game but it appears they are playing by their own rules.

Marichal Ejected After Brawl, Mays Hits Homer

Just minutes after helping break up a bitter battle between Marichal and Roseboro, Mays judged a Koufax pitch just right and slammed it for a three-run homer that broke up Sunday's game between second-place San Francisco and National League leading Los Angeles.

White Sox Back On High Road

The Sox completed a triumphant swing through the AL low country Sunday with an 8-3, 2-1 doubleheader sweep over last-place Kansas City that stretched their winning string to 10 games.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

It's quite obvious that those New Orleans people were trying hard to impress the National Football League people when they agreed to serve as hosts for the recent St. Louis-Baltimore exhibition game.

The homer was Mays' sixth in six games, 14th this month and 38th of the season — and brought the Giants a 4-3 victory that left them only one percentage point behind the front-running Dodgers. But Mays got his biggest applause for his peace-making efforts.

The day's action, meanwhile, left the three top teams separated by only two percentage points with Milwaukee, losing at Pittsburgh 5-4 in 11 innings, dropping into third place by one point.

Marichal, the Giants' 19-game winner, precipitated a wild melee that emptied both benches in the third inning of the pressure-filled game when he came to bat after knocking down Maury Wills and Ron Fairly of the Dodgers with pitches close to their heads.

On the second pitch from Koufax, Roseboro returned the ball close to Marichal's head and the Giants' pitcher immediately began swinging his bat at the Dodger catcher.

Before order was restored, players from both teams were trying to restrain the combatants. Marichal had swung his bat several times and Roseboro, blood trickling onto his chest protector from a cut over his left eye, pumped a right hand that seemed to clip Marichal in the face.

Marichal eventually was subdued by Plate Umpire Shag Crawford, who wrestled him to the ground and then ejected him. Roseboro was forced to leave. Neither was available for comment after the game.

Lema, Blancas Tie For Carling Lead

SUTTON Mass. (AP) — Palmer, who climbed back into contention with a one-under-par 70 and Souchak, who had a third-round 73.

Lema was assigned to a threesome with Ferree and Campbell, who shot a 73. Lema, who said he seriously considered skipping the tourney with $200,000 in prize money, tied his irons and putter together for the first time in a month Sunday for a 67 and a tie with second-round leader Blancas at 209 after 54 holes.

They had a two stroke lead on Jim Ferree, while bunched at 212 were Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Mike Souchak and Joe Campbell.

Blancas said he had to fight the cold as well as the rain to retain his front-running position with a par effort on the 67, 71-yard par 36-35-71 Pleasant Valley Country Club course.

The 27-year-old rookie from Houston, Tex., said he was cold as he played in a drizzle that made the temperature quite cool. He donned a sweater several times during the round, but each time he removed it because it made him too warm.

Blancas was paired with

Cubs Wallop Astros, 3-1

CHICAGO (AP) — A two-run homer by Ron Santo and a solo shot by Billy Williams gave the Chicago Cubs a 3-1 victory over the Houston Astros Sunday.

Billy Hoelt, making his first start in three years, kept seven hits well-scattered.

Houston's score came in the third inning as Rusty Staub doubled and Ron Brand singled. Hoelt failed to pitch himself out of a jam in the first inning but had no further trouble except Houston's score in the third.

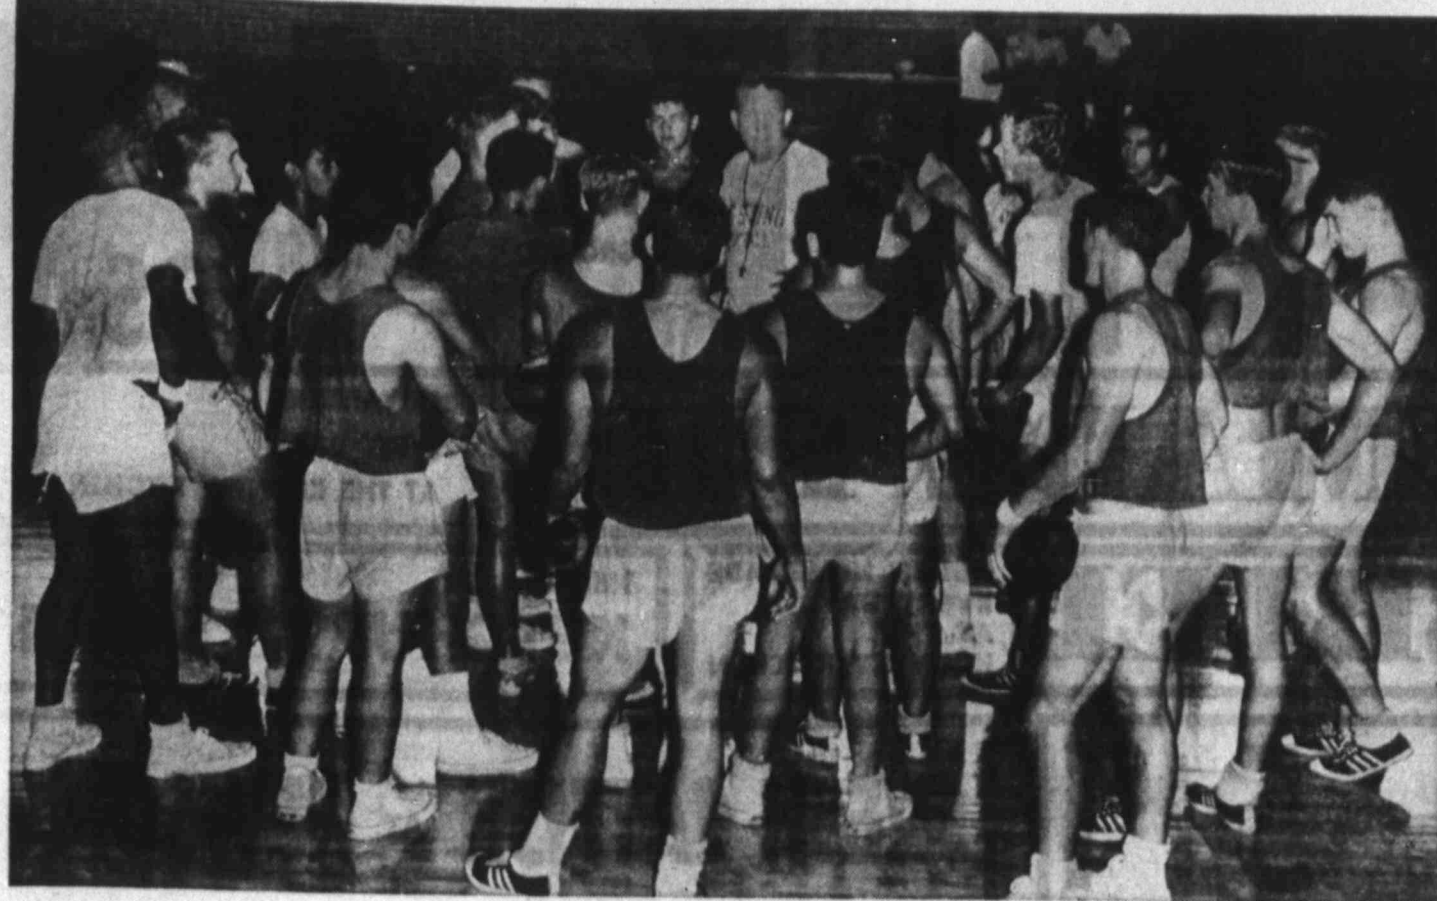

Not much has been said about it but both Davidson college and Furman university have de-emphasized their football programs. Both are listed among the "small colleges" in that endeavor.

I assume Texas high schools will follow the example set by the NCAA, which has decided to credit punters who boot the ball into the end zones with an extra 20 yards.

The old rule, and I have always thought it was unjust, hurt punters on good teams more than boosters on bad teams.

Remember Hugh McElhenny, regarded by some as the greatest ball carrier in pro football history?

He invested all his earnings in a California supermarket. The super store went under and, with it, the money Hugh had been saving for a rainy day was swept away.

Steers Open 1965 Grid Drills

Coach Don Robbins rallies his backs, ends and centers around him Monday morning as the 1965 Steer football practice officially started. The first drill was driven indoors by a wet field and threatening weather. Linemen got a separate but brisk workout. First drills are non-contact. (Ken Good Photo)

Jimmy Brown Continues Hard Running Specialty

Fullback Jimmy Brown is at his plunging best for the Cleveland Browns these days. Brown's hard running has led the National Football League champions to three straight exhibition victories, including the one over the College All-Stars and indicates he will be among the NFL individual rushing leaders again this season.

Cowboys Drop Second Game

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, who lost their first two exhibition games in a five-day period, flew in Sunday night from Thousand Oaks, Calif., and will keep a date with the mighty Green Bay Packers here next Saturday night.

Coahoma QB Meets Tuesday

COAHOMA (SC)—Coahoma's Quarterback Club meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Coahoma High School auditorium for important business.

One is consideration of proposals to purchase a physiotherapy machine for use in conditioning gridders. Another is to get ready for the opener less than two weeks away.

Membership tickets ($4 per family and $2 per individual) are now available from Johnny Justice at Coahoma State Bank.

Hail To All, Tom Rolfe To Battle

Now that Hail to All has moved back into the three-horse contest for the 3-year-old title, little Tom Rolfe will get a chance to show what he can do about the challenge in the one mile of the $100,000-aded Classic at Arlington Park Saturday.

Hail to All, syndicated for a reported $1.5 million last Friday, showed that he's not ready to be counted out of the title competition with a five-length victory in the $87,350 Travers at Saratoga last Saturday.

The late-running son of Hail to Reason, the year's leading money winner with earnings of $357,939 after picking up $56,777.50 in the Travers, had lost some support with disappointing showings in the Saranac and Dwyer after winning the Jersey Derby and Belmont Stakes.

But he won the Travers with authority, coming from far back, as usual, to pull away in the final sixteenth of a mile. He carried topweight of 123 pounds over the 1 1/4 miles in 2:02 1/5 under the guidance of Johnny Sellers.

Hail to All's next start will be in the $250,000 New Hampshire Sweepstakes at Rockingham Park Sept. 4. Another Travers performance should put the 1 1/4 miles of the Sweepstakes at his mercy.

Meantime, Tom Rolfe goes after the second of his three major Midwest objectives as the outstanding choice to take the Classic. The Preakness winner, who was barely beaten in the Belmont, reached his first objective early in the month with a romping triumph in the $100,000 Chicagoan.

The third appearance will be in the Sept. 13 running of the $100,000-aded American Derby at Arlington Park where he is expected to take on the third contender for the 3-year-old crown—Kentucky Derby winner Lucky Debonair.

Lucky, injured in the Preakness in mid-May, had his first serious drill in three months last Saturday when he breezed three-eighths of a mile in $7 2/5 seconds over the Arlington track. The day before Tom Rolfe worked seven furlongs in 1:25 1/5 with the first six furlongs in 1:13 1/5.

three pro football exhibitions. He ripped off successive runs of 28, 10 and two yards to put Cleveland ahead 14-9 and set up the clinching touchdown with a 16-yard burst in the last quarter.

Chuck Mercein's 45-yard field goal in the third period broke a 7-7 tie and paced the New York Giants to a 16-7 victory over Pittsburgh in the other NFL game Sunday. Gene Mingo's three field goals, one a 47-yarder, helped Oakland defeat Kansas City 23-6 in the American League.

A Memorial Coliseum turnout of 29,598 saw the Rams take an early 8-0 lead and almost pull the game out in the last two minutes after Cleveland had taken a 21-12 lead. The Rams moved 82 yards in nine plays and scored on Bill Munson's seven-yard pass to Carver Shannon with 12 seconds left.

With time running out the Rams tried an onsidekick. The ball bounced off Cleveland's Walter Beach and Eddie Meador recovered for the Rams, but Bruce Gossett's hurried field goal try was blocked.

Mercein delighted a partisan crowd of 35,381 with his field goal in the Yale Bowl at New Haven, Conn., where he played for the Eli in his college days. That made his score 10-7 and the Giants wrapped it up with a last quarter TD on a 19-yard pass from rookie quarterback Bob Timberlake to John Adams.

A home town crowd of 13,952 saw Mingo boot his three field goals from 36, 19 and 47 yards out for sufficient Oakland points to defeat the Chiefs. The Raiders added insurance with two second period touchdowns. One two in the 200-meter butterfly and in the men's springboard dive, and won the 400-meter freestyle relay.

Carl Roble of Drexel Hill, Pa., beat out Butch Riker, Paterson, N.J., by about one-half a body length in the butterfly, winning in 2:09.3. Rick Gilbert, Lancaster, Pa., won the dive with 496.06 points, followed by Bernie Wrightson, Phoenix, Ariz., 448.53.

The other U.S. medal Sunday was a bronze, third-place award by Makoto Sakamoto of Los Angeles in gymnastics, the first medal ever won by the United States in an international competition at this level.

The Russians gave some trouble in an unexpected quarter-swimming — Sunday, picking up a surprise gold medal when Semen Belits-Guelman won the 400-meter freestyle. Mike Wall of San Jose, Calif., was second, well back, and Olympian Roy Saari was fifth.

The United States, however, won three more swimming gold medals and pushed the two-day medal total to 13. Russia has a total of 10.

Cramps Force Her To Quit

DOVER, England (AP) — Greta Andersen of Los Alamitos, Calif., was beaten by cramps Monday on her bid to swim to France and back non-stop.

She was taken from the water eight miles from France on the first leg after swimming seven hours. Until the cramp struck — mainly in her arms — she was swimming powerfully in ideal conditions.

WORLD GAMES

Classy Americans Are Favored To Win Medal

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Bouncy basketballs and quick whistles are giving the Americans some trouble on the court, but the classy U.S. team is heavily favored to win the gold medal this week in the World University games.

"We really haven't got going yet," said head Coach John Kundla of the University of Minnesota after the team's third straight victory Sunday night.

The Americans beat West Germany 96-52. They previously had won over Czechoslovakia and Italy.

The Russians gave some trouble in an unexpected quarter-swimming — Sunday, picking up a surprise gold medal when Semen Belits-Guelman won the 400-meter freestyle. Mike Wall of San Jose, Calif., was second, well back, and Olympian Roy Saari was fifth.

The United States, however, won three more swimming gold medals and pushed the two-day medal total to 13. Russia has a total of 10.

Miss Margie Kunkel Weds Leroy Sullivan

LAMESA (SC) — Miss Margie Nell Kunkel and Patrick Leroy Sullivan exchanged double ring wedding vows Sunday at 4:30 p.m. at Grace Lutheran Church with Douglas A. Robins, pastor, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kunkel, Lamesa, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sullivan of Comanche.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white organza designed with portrait neckline outlined with a border of Alencon lace and elbow-length sleeves. Side pleats added fullness to the wide skirt which was appliqued with lace motifs and held a chapel-length train. An organza and lace pillbox hat held her veil of imported silk illusion bordered with pearls and orange blossoms.

She carried an arrangement of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid corsage.

Miss Audrey Kunkel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was of American Beauty cotton satin with a portrait neckline, elbow-length sleeves and bell-shaped skirt. Her headpiece was of pearl and crystal leaves holding a shoulder-length circular veil. She carried a cascade of light and dark pink roses.

BRIDESMAIDS

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Billie Schneider, cousin of the bride; Mrs. E. R. Bishop, Houston, cousin of the bride; and Mrs. Floyd Swain, Abilene, sister of the bridegroom. They wore dresses identical to the maid of honor's and carried bouquets of pink roses.

Floyd Swain, Abilene, served his brother-in-law as best man.

MRS. PATRICK L. SULLIVAN

Groomsmen were Dan Grimmer, Comanche, cousin of the bridegroom, and Larry Loudermilk and James Ellington, both of Comanche.

Milton and Billie Schneider, cousins of the bride; Edwin Kunkel, uncle of the bride; and Del Daehling, Midland, ushered guests.

Candlelighters were Debbie

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Career Girls Favor Crispness Of Fresh White Cotton Gloves

Dear Heloise: I am a secretary. To look well-groomed, it is necessary that I wear a fresh pair of white cotton gloves every day.

After trying every method I know, including three kinds of bleaches, the laundry, and the dry cleaners, with no success... please help!

Secretary

Dear Little Miss: You're not HELOISE alone!

After working with a chemist recently, we have discovered THE answer to what we call "whiter than white":

Put two quarts of the hottest water that will come out of your faucet into a glass or plastic container. Add one-fourth cup of electric dishwashing compound (this is the type used in electric dishwashers), then add about two tablespoons of household bleach, and stir.

Put your white cotton gloves in and let soak for 30 minutes. Do not keep on using this mixture once it has become discolored. Make a new batch.

And, hon, since you are "Little Miss Snow White," rinse the gloves in a mixture of one quart of water and one-fourth cup of vinegar.

Now, here's the secret: Do NOT wring out the gloves. Just smooth them, palm side up, on porcelain, such as the edge of the bathtub. This will do the most professional ironing job you have ever seen.

The reason it took five months for me to answer your letter, was that it took the chemist and me that long to find the answer!

Do write again... Heloise

Dear Heloise: We keep a special cupboard in the kitchen, with odds and ends in it for our small toddler to play with.

This way, we can be busy in the kitchen and still keep a close watch on the baby... The Three D's

Dear Heloise: Here's a hint for those who work crossword puzzles, and can never find a sharp pencil:

I try to keep a little jar filled with sharp pencils on the table between our chairs. Yet, sometimes I can't find a sharp pencil in the lot. I bought a 10-cent, miniature pencil sharpener at the dime store, and dropped it into the bottom of the pencil jar.

When sharpening a pencil, just hold the sharpener over the nearest ashtray... Husband

Dear Heloise: Have you ever tried instant potatoes in the thickening for scalloped potatoes?

They are more flavorful than flour, and very smooth in texture... A Friend

Dear Heloise: When there is apt to be a lot of mud tracked in, I lay an old bath towel over the rug by the doorway.

The towel wipes the shoes very nicely, and is much easier to wash than a throw rug... Mrs. L. F.

Graduates Must Face Fact - They Need Jobs

The handwriting is plain upon the wall now, and if you could get away with it, you'd swear you couldn't read. But after all your years in school, you haven't a prayer of being believed. Like it or not, the time has come to give up the campus, the proms, and the tennis racket and get a job.

The one alternative to working is that of becoming a "professional" student. You know, those people constantly in school for years without end, who never graduate or anything. More people than you realize use this avenue to escape facing reality when the time is at hand to find out if the learning gained over many years is of any use or not. And the basic usefulness of all the education is the responsibility for making one's way in the world. This means work.

Unrealistic wage expectations often undermine the job hunter since we hear about the fabulous salaries offered ballplayers and technical school graduates. We may assume that this high cotton grows everywhere, but it doesn't. One must begin at the beginning with qualifications first, experience second. The gimmick in all this is that neither works very well nor very long without the other.

Don't begin reeling off what you expect in salary, though the interviewer will certainly ask you. It is a loaded question and he is going to give you every chance to hang yourself. Be honest with yourself about the skills you actually have, and try to find the best job you can where what you have now will be of value. You can't fake it for long, otherwise. And having been Top Cat on your campus is no recommendation to a hardnosed businessman. Indeed, it may work against you.

Decide for now what kind of work you would most like to do. It is possible that most discouraged people who never get what they want actually never really decided what it was they wanted. You have to know how to aim and pull the trigger, but unless you have a target, you waste your shot. Maybe your idea of the work you prefer will change within a couple of years. But that's not what the man will ask you today. For now, write down what you can do and what you hope to do.

Don't reach for a plum which you know is far too high above you. Appraise yourself and decide if you are worthy of the job you'd like to have. Decide this for yourself first, because it does not take a pragmatic businessman long to discover, once you have it, when it is actually too big a job for you!

A Devotional For The Day

"If you love me, you will keep my commandments." (John 14:15, RSV)

PRAYER: O Father in heaven, we have heard Thy warning call of love and have been happy when we have obeyed Thee. Help us, by faith in Thee and because of Thy concern for us, to obey Thy holy laws and thus find safety, peace, and joy in Thy boundless love. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Imprudent Project

One columnist recently observed that the time was approaching when President Johnson had to choose between Texas and the nation, and he pin-pointed the critical issue as the Trinity River canal project.

This is perhaps a little far-fetched as well as harsh, for it assumes that only by sufferance of the president would the project ever get congressional approval.

No one discounts the value of the president's favor, nor the effectiveness of Dale Miller and the Fort Worth-Dallas and Trinity basin lobby complex. But there is nothing like unanimity on the proposal to make the Trinity navigable to Fort Worth; in fact, a lot of Texas solons will vote to give it funds.

In this we believe they are wise, for we long have been against federal financing of this project. It has taken two score years of economic and engineering sleight of hand to give the proposal a semblance of financial feasibility. The amounts that backers ask to be put into this dubious venture would, were they used as a subsidy, furnish sharply reduced freight rates to the rest of Texas for generations. We don't suggest a rate subsidy; we suggest simply that this is not a prudent project.

Early Political Fever

Many Texans are already suffering from an early case of 1966 election fever. One of the many symptoms is the current discussion over the possibility that Sen. John Tower may change his political party affiliation in time for next year's primaries.

It's odd that they should pick on Tower. By almost any standard that can be applied he is a rock-ribbed Republican. He was a leader in the "Goldwater for President" movement. Hence, it is inconceivable that he would switch to the Democratic Party. But there must have been several signs of relief when Tower, told of the rumors, said categorically, "I have no intention of changing my party affiliations."

Attorney General Waggoner Carr, for instance, must have permitted himself a little sigh of relief. For Carr has committed himself to a race for governor or for the U. S. Senate against Tower in 1966.

Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, too, must have been relieved over the Tower disclaimer. Wright is almost sure to be a candidate for the U. S. Senate next year.

Meanwhile many another politician in Texas stands around with the fidgets. So much depends on the intentions of Gov. John Connally. Will he run for the U. S. Senate? Will he be reelected? Or will he just retire to his ranch near Floresville? He hasn't said. But he has promised to make his intentions known sometime in September. Another month of waiting is in store for fidgety politicians.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith would like to run for governor. Others would like to, too. But neither Smith nor Carr nor other aspirants would relish a race against Connally.

If Smith runs for governor, a wild scramble for lieutenant governor will ensue. A hot, open contest for attorney general is almost certain.

The political ladder will be swarming with aspirants just as soon as Connally reveals his plans. Some hopefuls will have to settle for their second choice, perhaps. Then, too, many will feel that they are being "called" but few will be chosen.

This year's advance political fever may not be any worse than in some other years. But it's taken hold somewhat earlier than usual.

David Lawrence Party Realignment Coming?

WASHINGTON — Judging by what has happened before in political history, there's going to be a realignment of parties in the United States, with nearly all of the Negroes voting on the Democratic side and a vast number of whites deserting their party to go over the Republican side. For one thing, while federal officials are concentrating on registering Negroes, the registration of whites could multiply to unprecedented heights.

THERE ARE approximately 114 million persons of voting age in the United States, but the number voting in presidential elections in recent years has not exceeded 64 per cent — it was 62 per cent in 1964. So it would appear that there are at least 43 million citizens who don't go to the

Billy Graham

Our family devotions never last long because we are always rushed, and sometimes we don't seem to get much out of it.

Should we continue? H. R. It isn't necessary for family devotions to be long, drawn-out affairs. Just for a family to read the Scripture together, and to kneel in acknowledgment to God, is of incalculable value.

As a parent you may think it being so rushed that it is time wasted. But this simple exercise will stay with your children throughout their lives. The first verse my mother taught me: "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths," has had a great effect upon my life and ministry. I am sure that I would not be in Christ's service today if it were not for the faithful prayers of my mother and father.

Should you continue? In my estimation the continuance of your family devotions is more important than anything a family could possibly do. In a few years your children will be thrust into a secular world, and the only thing they will have to fortify them is the spiritual strength they stored up in these periods at home. If you give it up now, they may question your sincerity of belief, and this is the greatest heritage you can give them.

LBJ's Technique For Charmed Life With Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, like former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, has had a charmed life with Congress, a lot better than Presidents Harry S. Truman and John F. Kennedy ever had.

In one way the Johnson-Eisenhower methods are the same: almost totally avoid personal attacks on the men of either party in the Capitol, although Johnson is sometimes a little more snappish.

The virtue in this technique is that it denies anyone an excuse for hitting back. If he wants to criticize, he has to look for a reason. It served Eisenhower well.

After eight years in the White House he wound up the most unloved president of the century. But there the Eisenhower-Johnson resemblance ends.

War hero Eisenhower came to office with such universal good will that jabbing at him would be like trying to demolish a national monument. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy tried to get rough and landed in oblivion.

BUT, WHILE Johnson had 24 years in Congress before becoming president, Eisenhower had none. He had to depend on his prestige and the advice of his aides in dealing with House and Senate.

He wasn't in the same class with Johnson in getting Congress to do what he wanted. But, then, he never worked at it as hard as Johnson. In his first two years Eisenhower's own Republicans controlled both houses.

Even so, he had trouble getting action from the Republicans. In Eisenhower's last six years Congress was in control of the Democrats and he got a great deal of help from them, with Johnson running the Senate.

Besides his expertness in understanding Congress, Johnson has had the enormous advantage, starting out, of dealing with a House and Senate where his Democrats so outnumber the Republicans that the latter are a feeble minority.

NEVERTHELESS, Johnson has worked on the Republicans to play ball with him, and has had astonishing successes in the Senate, at least. There the Republican leader, Everett M.

Hal Boyle Class In Double-Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — The class in double-talk will please come to order.

You will remember, students, that double-talk is the art of saying just the opposite of what you mean. It is one of the most necessary skills in a complex civilization.

It is so important that the first thing a wise child learns to do after he learns to talk is to double talk.

Here are a few common examples of double-talk — with their literal translations.

"Of course this is only a suggestion." But if you know what's good for you, you'll do what I say.

"That certainly was an enlightening sermon, pastor." It did wonders for my insomnia.

"OF COURSE this is only a temporary tax." You'll only have to pay it during your lifetime.

"Every man has a right to his opinion." So, if you'll please shut up, I'll tell you mine.

"I'm not really hungry, dear." I wonder if the cheap-skate will faint if I order a big steak.

"I sure did enjoy reading your last book." Well, at least I hope it's your last one.

"The starting salary is small, but the opportunity is unlimited." If the job really required any brains, we'd have to pay more.

"We call this our junior four apartment." It has two rooms and two closets.

"GEE, BOSS, it sure is a pleasure to accept this 25-year pin from you." Why didn't the old tightwad come through with a bonus or a gold watch?

"Oh, Henry, what a darling engagement ring. But it looks terribly expensive." It must have been a big day at the dime store when you bought it.

"This suit hardly ever requires pressing, sir." That is, if you don't mind going about looking like a gunny sack.

"You couldn't get a used car in better condition. It was sold to us by a little old lady." You'd never guess how many telephone poles that old dame wrapped it around.

"It's such a nice day out, honey, why don't we just walk?" If this gal thinks I'm going to pay her way through life in a taxi-cab, she's crazy.

"NATURALLY, I welcome criticism—as long as it's constructive." When I want your advice I'll ask for it.

"No, I'll get this round. I insist." What's the matter with this joker? Doesn't he ever buy?

"You're in the phone book, aren't you?" Well, that's one wrong number I'll never call.

"Let's have lunch sometime." You eat at your restaurant, and I'll eat at mine.

Well, there goes the bell, students. The class in double-talk is dismissed.

To Your Good Health Potatoes Have Moderate Calorie Content

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I enjoy potatoes, but some people say they have no food value, and are merely fattening. What about this Irish potato?

—MR. G. A. G.

Your letter, sir, reminds me it's time that somebody came to the defense of the lowly, healthful potato. Irish, Idaho, Maine or Michigan—it's still a potato and it's still good.

The "some people" you quote are slandering the potato. Of course it has food value. In fact, there is no food which is "merely fattening." True, some have more calories than others, but one thing only is fattening: that is eating more than you need, more than you use in the form of energy and body-repair.

A potato has a little more than one-third of the calories of the same weight in beef-steak — 1,000 calories for an average pound of beef, and 375 calories for a pound of average potatoes.

Beefsteak is (averages, again) 38.6 per cent protein, 18.5 fat, one per cent ash, and the rest water.

Potato is 18.4 carbohydrate, 2.2 protein, 1 fat, one per cent ash, and the rest water.

For comparison, white bread is 1,180 calories to the pound; 53.1 per cent carbohydrate, 9.2

protein, 1.3 fat, 1.1 ash.

Pound for pound, bread provides more calories than steak, is higher in carbohydrate, lower in protein and fat.

So now let's get back to the potato. Its protein and carbohydrate values are moderate.

Being a vegetable, the potato, particularly the skin, contributes to the "trace elements" of which we need tiny amounts, and also contains some Vitamin C, although not in such profusion as in citrus juices.

Some people who are on reducing-diets apparently believe that the potato is an extremely fattening food—one extremely high in calories. That just isn't so. It is a substantial food but not particularly fattening, unless you eat too much of it, along with too much of other things.

The danger of potatoes, from the reducing standpoint, is that some folks insist on having them mashed and swimming in butter, or fried, or drenched in gravy. This adds relatively enormous amounts of calories.

Count your calories the easy way! To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Calorie Chart," write Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

MRS. M. C.

Around The Rim God Played His Part

This and that:

One of the more delightful stories I've heard in a long time comes out of Dorchester, England, and is worth sharing.

The scene was the Dorset County Hospital, where a small child was undergoing surgery on her tonsils.

"When I went into the big room there were two lady angels all dressed in white," the patient said later. "Then two men angels came in.

"One of the men angels looked down my throat and said: 'God! Look at that child's tonsils.

"And God looked down and said, 'I'll take them out at once.'"

THE HOUSTON Metropolitan Area, which embraces five counties, has gained 234,000 in population since the 1960 census. That amounts to more than 16 per cent.

The area now contains more than 1,652,400 persons.

SOME OBSERVERS reason those who depart this mortal coil will be buried in a vertical position in the not-too-distant future, because of a chronic shortage of space in cemeteries.

The new technical advance takes up only one fifth the space of a conventional coffin.

One of the greatest problems now facing mankind is what to do with what is left after a mortal has breathed his last.

I ADMIRE the tact of venerable Dr. Clyde Little of Kutztown, Pa., who recently turned down an invitation to a conference extended by the New York State Retired Teachers Association.

Write he, to the organization: "If I hadn't a broken right shoulder blade, I'd write you a long letter. If I hadn't an ulcer, and could eat hot dogs, I could picnic with you. If I hadn't a bad heart and could run a race, I'd be at the head of the cafeteria line. But I must stay home and take things slowly for a while. Thank you for your invitation. Have a wonderful time."

A WOMAN IN Denver called the police not long ago with the urgent plea:

"Send an ambulance quick! My baby is choking."

When the gendarmes and the ambulance attendants arrived, they found the woman cradling a fuzzy, brown puppy, which had something stuck in its throat.

The dog was saved, I think, but I don't know how many of the cops had to take a saliva test.

Marquis Childs Disquiet In The Quieter Areas

WASHINGTON—Beneath the surface of an affluent America, the traveler returned from abroad senses a deep disquiet. It is not that people are expressing impassioned convictions so much as they are asking questions for which there seem to be no answers.

This reporter has just spent three days in his native state of Iowa. The tasseled green-yellow corn fields sweep off to the horizon and the prediction is for one of the biggest crops in years. Hog prices are high. That is the promise of prosperity in a part of the country where six years ago Nikita Khrushchev tried to learn the secret of America's fabulous farm productivity.

THE QUESTION marks are Viet Nam and the Los Angeles riots. The Vietnamese war is still a cloud on the distant horizon. But death and mass destruction on the scale almost of a civil war, in a city that has been a magnet for retired lowans, is mysterious, inexplicable.

After all the civil rights legislation and all that's been done for the Negro, then to have this happen, the puzzled citizen says. What more do they want, he asks. The black ghettos of Los Angeles, Chicago, Harlem are a world apart from the prosperous farms of the Midwest, so far apart that the end result of overcrowded slums, the breakdown of the family pattern, ignorance, crime, disease comes through scarcely at all.

BUT IT IS evident from a random sampling of opinion that the Los Angeles explosion has done incalculable harm to the civil rights movement. Attitudes are hardening. Leaders like Martin Luther King Jr. are blamed despite the fact that their efforts have been directed at curing the ills which helped to bring on the tragedy of the Ghetto of Watts.

WHILE VIET NAM is still a remote concern, a war 8,000 miles away and obscure both in its origins and its ends, it has become a threat if not an imminent peril. In one small Iowa town the draft has been running at three or four a month. With the doubled rate, six to eight young men will be drafted out of the community, and that means farm hands taken off the farms as the work load grows heavier. They'll begin to feel it then, a leading citizen remarks.

There seems little doubt of support for the President's policy in Southeast Asia. But it is a vague and troubled support, owing a great deal to the fact that no one has come forward with either a practical or a political alternative.

A STRIKING FACT coming out in the most casual conversation is the degree to which Viet Nam is the President's own undertaking. The questions turn on what LBJ will do. Can he find a way out? Shouldn't he be starting everything we've got and finish it off in a hurry? This last is evidence of growing impatience with the restraints of a limited war.

The force of the Johnson personality and the lonely responsibility of the office are reflected in the attitude that the decisions are the President's and his alone.

As history shows, that is the fate of every President in the crisis of an armed conflict.

(Copyright, 1965, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Holmes Alexander Missed The Target

WASHINGTON, D. C.—That wide-spread notion that Mr. Johnson has convinced practically "everybody" and has quelled the opposition to his Viet Nam policies is one more sought by the White House than achieved in reality.

IN TRUTH, the President's energetic exercises at playing the Great Educator have come out wrong. He has turned what in mid-summer was a nonpartisan war into a quarrelsome political debate at summer's end. He has made, as it were, a blackboard jungle out of his White House schoolroom.

Nearly all the Republican House members who came in like lambs for the White House briefings of Aug. 9-10-11 went out like growling lions. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, certainly not a problem pupil of bipartisanship, fired off a furious newsletter to his constituents depicting LBJ as a "well-meaning" martinet who ran the show like a kindergarten.

MACGREGOR of Minnesota dared to ask why he shouldn't blockade the North Viet Nam port of Haiphong, which is receiving tons of war material. He hadn't directed the question at LBJ, but the President roared at him for trying to plunge us into war with the Soviet Union.

Another Republican ventured that we ought to hit more "significant" targets in North Viet Nam. Again, the president snatched away the question from one of his aides and replied that "somebody's always trying to get us to drop the bomb," meaning the H-bomb, which hadn't been mentioned.

THE PRESIDENT had assembled a classy panel to give the Congressmen a "background." But advisors like McNamara and Rusk, Harriman and Goldberg, Maxwell Taylor and Eugene Black, were limited to five minutes apiece, and were taken off their feet like schoolboy debaters at the ringing of a bell which some attendants said was an alarm clock. The listeners were sworn to secrecy, and then given state statistics which they'd already read in the newspapers.

GOP HOUSE members went back to the Hill audibly muttering "snow job" and "gag rule." They set their staffs to work at preparing a blistering White Paper on Viet Nam.

Gerry Ford of Michigan, the minority leader, had gone to the briefings in a nervous mood, but he had a right to be more embarrassed for the President than for himself. The President, over the previous weekend, had blasted him for breaking a confidence concerning the postponement in calling out the reserves. But this correspondent was one of nine reporters at the off-record luncheon of July 29, where Ford was accused of having spilled the beans. Neither my notes nor my memory showed that he had revealed what the President said he revealed.

OTHERS PRESENT were correspondents for the New York Times, the Milwaukee Journal, the Los Angeles Times, the Chicago Tribune, the Scripps-Howard papers, Time, Newsweek and U. S. News & World Report. Every one of the guests, orally or in writing, has now exonerated Ford.

Back in World War II, a much-decorated bombardier was chewed out by his commanding officer because aerial photographs showed that a target in snowy Norway had been left unscathed. Instead of making excuses my friend, Bombardier Joe Westbrook, answered Colonel Bo Rendel of the 392nd Bomb Group with such crystalline truth that it lingers in memory after more than 20 years. I don't see why the President shouldn't use the same language in clearing up his accusation of Ford. What Lieutenant Westbrook said was:

"Sir, I not only bombed the wrong target, but I missed that."

Ending Rift

LONDON (AP)—The head of the Greek Orthodox Church in Britain, Metropolitan Athenagoras, proposes that both Roman Catholicism and Eastern Orthodox revoke the "mutual ex-communications" of each other, invoked more than 900 years ago, as a step towards ending the ancient schism between churches of the east and west.

Charles Hood Can Move Most Houses

The Charles Hood Moving firm at 1610 E. 3rd in Big Spring has 18 years of experience behind it. If a house can be moved he can do it.

Hood knows the City of Big Spring and the Howard County area, as he has been a resident since 1938, and if a house is to be moved out of the city he knows the best routes, and will guarantee safe transportation.

The firm is insured and bonded and holds bonded permits from the highway department. The owner of a house to be moved may get it ready, with underpinning cut and foundation cleared, or he may call Charles Hood to "start from scratch" to do the entire job.

Two big trucks are available for any size moving job, although he prefers to use a single truck for most jobs since one is more maneuverable. Extra heavy houses, similar to the old Quinn residence, moved from location at Main and Sixth where the Caylor Building now stands, and the Carpenters Hall moved from West Third to the Cosden refinery area, require two units for safe moving.

Hood is conscientious in his work and takes every precaution to prevent damaging a building in raising, transportation or setting on a new foundation. Proper bracing, and anchoring is assured.

Two qualified men are full-time employees and Hood employs other men when needed, and the house moving firm can be working on more than one job at the same time.

Distance makes no difference to Hood. He can move a house from Big Spring to Lamesa, Snyder, or other distant areas, if required. His highway permits allow long-distance moving, although special permits are required in other cities.

Charles Hood also buys houses for resale. He has a few on his lot on East Third now. If you have a house that needs moving — either to another location anywhere or to be relocated on the lot — call Charles Hood House Moving at AM 3-6221. The night phone is AM 3-4547.

Most Of Cotton In Texas Ginned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau said today that 453,107 bales of cotton, nearly all in Texas, had been ginned by Aug. 15.

Texas had ginned 448,757 bales compared to 511,292 last year.

PLEASANT DREAMS
When No-Roach is used there is no insect worry

Housewives Have Not A Worry In Using No-Roach

A world without cockroaches — that is only a dream. But at least now modern science can assure the tidy housewife of a home without cockroaches. Science has developed easy to use, brush on Johnston's No-Roach, and with only one application these stubborn pests are sentenced to death.

No-Roach is effective against all crawling insects: cockroaches, ants, spiders, and silverfish. One application stays effective for months.

It's clean and easy to use; harmless to pets.

No need to move dishes or food when you use Johnston's No-Roach. Just brush the colorless, odorless coating where you want it. Dries quickly to form an invisible film that stays effective for months.

Brush Johnston's No-Roach in cabinets, on baseboards, door sills, window sills, or wherever you see roaches and ants. Use Johnston's No-Roach and forget about bugs for months! Get No-Roach at Hull and Phillips, Newsom's, Safeway, Piggly Wiggly, Furr's, and all grocery stores. Distributed by Striplings.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwab extend an invitation to all to share in the lounge's hospitality, comfort, and congeniality.

Whether the job is large or small makes no difference. Just set your forms and call McMahon's big radio-equipped trucks. The driver pulls in to your location, unloads the amount of ready-mix you need, and is off again.

When you once had to use a wash tub, wheel barrow, or wooden "mixing box" to get a small job done, you now eliminate the backbreaking task of mixing the concrete with a hoe, shovel, or your hands.

Clyde McMahon Supply Co. features Whitman finishing machines and tools to complete the work on the poured concrete. Rotary blades finish off the mixture to the proper surface where you formerly did it with trowels or a piece of two-by-four.

Then there are Eveready brick saws and blades, expansion joint material, wire mesh for reinforcement, reinforcement steel, Richmond snap ties, Remington stud drivers, for driving studs or nails into concrete, wheel barrows, for brick, tile or concrete, vibrators for settling and eliminating air pockets, and all kinds of small tools for concrete or masonry work.

Finished products available from the company are concrete tile in several sizes and patterns, pre-cast flower bed borders, concrete tables, benches, parking curbs (movable), and rounded tops and corner tiles.

Whenever you are considering any kind of concrete job or products, call Clyde McMahon at AM 4-6348, or go by and look over his supply.

Ready-Mix Saves Many A Blistered Hand

This big fleet of trucks, owned by Clyde McMahon Concrete Co., is ready to roll at any time with batches of concrete to fit the job called for. No job is too big or too small to call for a McMahon ready-mix batch.

McMahon Concrete Products And Materials Save Labor

A little over a dozen years ago Clyde McMahon started a ready-mix concrete business in Big Spring with a single truck. Energetic and efficient work has paid off for the business which now has a big fleet of ready-mix trucks capable of hauling big loads to any job in the Howard County area.

In addition he has added to his firm, in handling all kinds of concrete equipment, and materials for doing the work. These include tools for "doing it your self."

The plant, on the Snyder Highway, is open from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily, except Saturday when the hours are 7 a.m. to noon. More than two dozen employees are ready to serve customers with all types of service.

The Clyde McMahon Concrete Co. has set up huge mixing hoppers on the lot where trucks load in a hurry. These provide the proper mixture for all kinds of jobs, including foundations, bridges, culverts, sidewalks, driveways, curbs and gutters, street pavement and anything else needed.

Whether the job is large or small makes no difference. Just set your forms and call McMahon's big radio-equipped trucks. The driver pulls in to your location, unloads the amount of ready-mix you need, and is off again.

Dear Abby

Marriage Not The Solution

DEAR ABBY: We are having a heartbreaking problem at our house. Our 17-year-old son is being blamed for getting a 17-year-old girl pregnant. We know the girl's parents well and they have had a lot of heartache from this girl as she has been boy-crazy since the age of 13.

The girl claims our son is responsible for her condition. Our son says he isn't sure as there are others in the picture, too. But rather than name a lot of his friends and make a scandal, he will marry the girl. We are able to help our son financially and are willing to do so if he marries her, but he does not love her and with this kind of start their chances for a lasting marriage are slim.

Abby, we are desperate for a decision. We realize our son is not blameless. But how much responsibility should a 17-year-old boy assume in a case like this? If any of your readers have ever had to face this problem, I hope they'll help us.

NIGHTMARE IN AUSTIN

DEAR NIGHTMARE: It's noble of your son to offer to marry the girl rather than implicate "a lot of his friends." But under the circumstances, marriage is not the solution to this problem. Marriage is forever, not a temporary escape. And it's not for children, especially where there is neither love nor respect. Your best source of advice and counsel is a lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: How does one go about meeting a gray-haired, middle-aged bachelor? He attends church alone and so do I. I am dying to meet him. But how?

DEAR BRUNETTE: Keep your eyes and ears open. Eventually, he will speak to someone you know. And when he does, let that person know (subtly) that you would like to meet him. But don't let him know you are "dying" to meet him — or you'll be a dead duck.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you about a friend of mine. He insists on washing his hair every single day. I am afraid if he doesn't quit washing his hair so much he will go bald before he is 20. (He is 17.) He has a very nice head of hair, but he is worrying me sick. Could you please advise this boy through your column. He never misses it.

DEAR FRIEND: If your friend has a normal, healthy head of hair, washing it daily will do it no harm. Contrary to your fears, those who keep their hair cleanest, keep it longest.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from the new widow and admired her courage. However, I do not agree that a widow's place is with other lonely people. Just because a woman has lost her husband does not mean she has lost all interest in her former friends. When I was widowed some years ago, my real friends continued to include me in their circle even though I was without a man. Then there were others who said, "We must have lunch together sometime."

Now that I have remarried I always include unattached women. I know many more single women than men who are available, but not all parties must be matched-up affairs. I bring friends together for the pleasure of their company, not for match-making purposes.

Greek Premier To Crack Down On Demonstrators

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Premier Elias Tsirimokos is reported ready to crack down hard on any more demonstrations in Athens in support of fallen Premier George Papandreu.

Sources said Tsirimokos' four-day-old government was prepared to ban all public demonstrations in downtown Athens and order police to move in fast whenever large crowds gathered.

North Gets Arctic Front Hinting Fall

By The Associated Press
A massive arctic front brought a hint of fall to the north-central states today as temperatures dropped below accustomed high levels in many areas.

The chilly front extended from the Dakotas to western New York and as far south as Oklahoma. International Falls, Minn., reported an early morning reading of 44.

Warm, humid air continued covering the Southeast. Readings near the 100-degree mark were common Sunday from Texas to Southern California.

GOOD RAINS

Wide areas of the nation received generous rainfall Saturday and Sunday. Much of the Northeast was bathed in a half-inch downpour Sunday and some stations reported accumulations of more than an inch.

Rainfall was more than generous in southern New Mexico Sunday evening. Flash flooding at Las Cruces resulted in the closing of a two- to three-square mile section to traffic.

A drive-in movie and a 50-unit trailer court were evacuated when waters rolled down arroyos and into town.

Mayor T. J. Graham called it the city's worst flash flooding in 15 years and predicted damage would be high.

FOOT DEEP

Water was a foot deep in some parts of town and National Guardsmen and Army reservists were called to assist in evacuations and traffic control.

Rains Saturday swelled rivers and streams in the vicinity of Pueblo, Colo. Water was five feet deep in some Pueblo streets for a brief time Saturday night.

The fire department reported receiving a call from one woman who said she saw boulders the size of washing machines being pushed past her house.

Retirement Requests Up

DETROIT (AP) — A sharp upswing in retirement applications has developed in the automotive industry—where a $400 monthly pension at age 60 becomes a possibility a week from Wednesday.

Retirement requests, which must be filed at least a month in advance, are reported running from three to almost five times above normal this month at General Motors, Chrysler and Ford.

With the already booming industry scheduled to start all-out production of 1966 models in September, the threatened rise in retirements is causing concern in some tight labor market areas with big auto plants. Flint and Saginaw, Mich., are examples with less than two percent of total labor forces unemployed.

Also, industry spokesmen say there may be some shortage of skilled tradesmen in individual shops. In at least one shop, four out of five have applied for retirement, but none of the Big Three automakers anticipates trouble covering necessary jobs.

Retirement at age 55 at $200 a month also is a possibility Sept. 1 under three-year contracts negotiated in 1964 between the United Auto Workers Union and the nation's automakers.

Three Injured In Explosion

ABILENE (AP) — An explosion at the Magnolia pipeline station nine miles southeast of here injured three men Sunday. Carl Davidson, 36, of Sweetwater was in critical condition. Edward Fox, 56, of Abilene, and Price Stevenson, of Clyde, the manager of the station, were in serious conditions.

Issue Divides German Party

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany's tame election campaign has come to life over a new issue that is dividing Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democratic party: Does the new U.S. arms control plan promise this country enough say in the use of nuclear weapons?

The spark was supplied by former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Though 89, he is still party chairman and campaigning actively for a seat in Parliament in the Sept. 19 election. There is no love lost between him and Erhard, his successor and the party's standard bearer.

Adenauer set off the fireworks with an attack on the draft treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons which the United States presented at the Geneva disarmament conference.

Erhard had termed the U.S. plan an "important contribution" that "takes into account the defense interests of the Atlantic alliance."

Andy Williams Now Sets Pace In Men Fashions?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Andy Williams, who picked up where Perry Como left off as a style setter, turned up for a television taping session the other day wearing a red sweater, red slacks, red socks and red boots.

This blaze of color stunned not only the audience but the crew because last year the singer stuck to conservative colors on his weekly NBC show. His favorite costume was a navy blue slipover sweater, over a white turtleneck, and snug white slacks.

Television has had little impact on fashions, men's or women's. This has been due largely to the fact that most shows have been in black and white, and much detail was lost. Como has been credited with popularizing comfortable, colorful sweaters, and Williams has made a hit with his sweaters, slacks, and colorful suede boots. He wears clothes with flair and obviously is not afraid of exotic plumage.

His personal wardrobe, he insists, is not large: just six suits, a couple of sports jackets, and about 100 sweaters and 50 pairs of slacks. NOT HIS The clothes he wears on his show, however, are not his, even though he picks them. They are owned by the producers of the program, are worn only on the show, and hence are tax-deductible. Williams never sees the bills, but his producer estimates the bill between $18,000 and $20,000.

Andy is one of the television stars who starts shooting the next season's shows very early to be free for night club and fair engagements during the summer. He has just finished a four-day date at the Wisconsin State Fair and opens at the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines Tuesday.

Job Corps Camp Ends Riot Tumult

MORGANFIELD, Ky. (AP)—By transferring and discharging students involved in a Friday riot, Job Corps officials hoped today to return Camp Breckinridge training to its normal schedule.

"We are getting the people involved," said Charles Preston, director of public relations. He added, "It will be business as usual with classes and job training."

LEAVE PROGRAM
Thirteen students had left the training program Sunday, voluntarily or under orders, including seven against whom charges of public drunkenness were dropped when their dismissal was ordered. Six others were transferred to other centers.

Most of the 546 students at the camp at the time of the rioting that injured 13 persons, fled in fear during the weekend. But 483 had returned by Sunday night. Thirty-seven were absent without leave and seven took leave.

Job Corps officials were checking hotels in the area. Preston said those who refused to return would be dropped from the Jobs Corps, a part of the federal anti-poverty program aimed at providing job training for youths 16 to 21.

PROTECTION RACKET
The FBI was investigating allegations by students of a "protection racket." One student said he was being charged $13.50 a month to keep from being beaten. Officials continued to differ on the number of students involved in the rioting outside a mess hall with estimates ranging from 50 to 150. They also differed over whether it was a spontaneous reaction to a fight in the mess hall between a Negro and a white youth or whether it was planned.

'81 Garfield Letter Found In Church

WASHINGTON (AP) — A letter written by President James A. Garfield to his mother shortly after he was shot by an assassin in 1881 was found recently in the basement of President Johnson's church.

The Rev. George R. Davis, pastor of the National City Christian Church, told of the letter in his sermon Sunday. President and Mrs. Johnson were among the worshippers present.

In the letter, apparently written during the weeks that Garfield lay wounded in the White House, the 20th president assured his mother that reports of his condition were exaggerated and that he would recover. But he died Sept. 20 after being taken to the New Jersey seaside.

Dr. Davis said he did not know how the letter, which was found when custodians moved some boxes, came into the church's possession but added that Garfield was a lay preacher there.

German Election A Crisis For Berlin Mayor Brandt

BONN, Germany (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin faces the crisis of his career in next month's West German election.

If things break right for him, he will find himself the leader of his country, the world's third greatest industrial power. He would be Germany's first socialist chancellor in 35 years.

If he fails to get in, it will be for the second time and his party may well start looking for a new leader.

A million or so votes on Sept. 19 will make all the difference. Behind him stand a beautiful wife, an anti-Nazi record and a strong, well-disciplined party. He would seem to have everything a candidate needs, but some of the assets may turn out to be illusory.

LESS WEIGHT Looks, personality and family life appears to carry less weight in Germany. Many German voters are more impressed by the patriarchal figure of ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer or the professorial manner of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Brandt's dangerous work in the anti-Nazi underground does not figure largely in his party's campaign. His enemies like to recall that he emigrated to Norway, married there, returned after the war in Norwegian uniform and only resumed his German citizenship in 1947.

A West Berlin taxi driver once put it this way: "Would you people in America vote for somebody who fought on the Japanese side?"

Brandt denies ever having fought in the Norwegian army. Brandt's Socialist party still is suspect to many West Germans.

True, Karl Marx himself considered it heretical. True, it has given up nationalization of industry, antimilitarism, anticlericalism. True, Brandt is as staunch an anti-Communist as only a West Berliner can be. Yet the image of the whiskered, bomb-throwing Bolshevik persists with many older voters.

Brandt lacks a good issue. West Germany is so prosperous that almost everything the Socialists propose sounds like "Me, too." In foreign policy also, there is little difference between the major parties.

ATTRACT MILLION On the other hand, Brandt and his party have a great attraction for millions of young voters. The Socialists have been doing well in local elections and in polls. Enthusiastic party workers are applying the techniques of the late President John F. Kennedy's and President Johnson's campaigns with Germanic thoroughness. They work not only for Brandt but for the whole of what they call the "government team."

There is little expectation that they can win a clear majority in the Bundestag, but Brandt says it is within the party's grasp to become the biggest in Germany.

To do that it will have to overcome the considerable lead of Erhard's Christian Democrats. The Christian Democrats polled 45.3 per cent of the vote in the 1961 election, the Socialists only 36.2 per cent. The Socialists are expected to gain but the Christian Democrats may gain too, at the expense of minor parties.

Under West Germany's system of proportional representation, the number of seats that a party wins in the Bundestag conforms closely to its percentage of the popular vote. The party with the largest number of seats will have a strong claim on the chancellor's job.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Unlike chefs in fancy resorts and expensive big city restaurants, a hospital cook seldom gets to brag about his clientele.

But at West Virginia University is a man who has served celebrities including a king, presidents, prime ministers and generals.

He is Carroll Chips, a millionaire chef who runs the kitchen at the University Medical Center Hospital.

During World War II, Chips cooked for the officers mess at Grosvenor House in London. He ran the kitchen at the Yalta and Potsdam conferences.

Those who went through the cafeteria line in London included King George VI of Great Britain and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

At Yalta and Potsdam, Chips made meals for Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, Prime Ministers Winston Churchill and Clement Atee and Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin.

Chips remembers these famous men at what was served without complaint, unlike some of his current clientele.

Buildup In Viet Begins Rolling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The small tide of optimism rising in the Johnson administration about the Viet Nam war is fed by obscure events and trends as well as by such developments as the successful outcome of the battle of Chu Lai.

The optimism in the highest levels of the government is restrained for several reasons, among them:

1. The successes and trends are still dwarfed by the massive setbacks during the last year or two.

2. History holds up a cautionary finger about optimism. In Korea, optimism was running high as American forces drove northward almost to the Yalu River boundary of the enemy, then toppled as hordes of Chinese Communists drove the Americans back. With World War II in Europe on the doorstep of victory, German forces launched the Battle of the Bulge.

U.S. BUILDUP

Some of the reasons for the administration's slightly brightened view of the Viet Nam war are obvious.

The big buildup of U.S. military strength is beginning to roll. In the three-day battle last week that headed off a Communist attack on the Marine air base at Chu Lai, U.S. officials say almost 600 Viet Cong were killed and hundreds more were wounded. U.S. casualties have not been listed. Lt. Gen. Victor H. Krulak, Marine commander in the Pacific, called the battle a major victory.

The daily bombing attacks on North Viet Nam targets are producing effects on the North Vietnamese civilian economy, it is contended in many administration quarters.

The expected scale of Viet Cong attacks under cover of the monsoon rains has fallen short of original predictions by U.S. strategists, in part because U.S. and South Vietnamese ground and air forces have been able to battle more aggressively than was expected.

CONG TROUBLES

There is some evidence the Viet Cong Communist guerrilla forces are having their own manpower troubles. Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance said in a speech last week that "war and time have taken their toll and Hanoi's reserve of southern manpower, like its arsenal of captured weapons, has begun to run out." On the other hand, the South Vietnamese army is finding that its reserve of manpower is growing low.

All of these factors and others probably have resulted in top administration officials deciding that the gloom is lightening a little.

There is no evidence that the Viet Cong have been able to replenish heavily and build up their stocks of supplies which had come in from the north.

"HARD CORE"

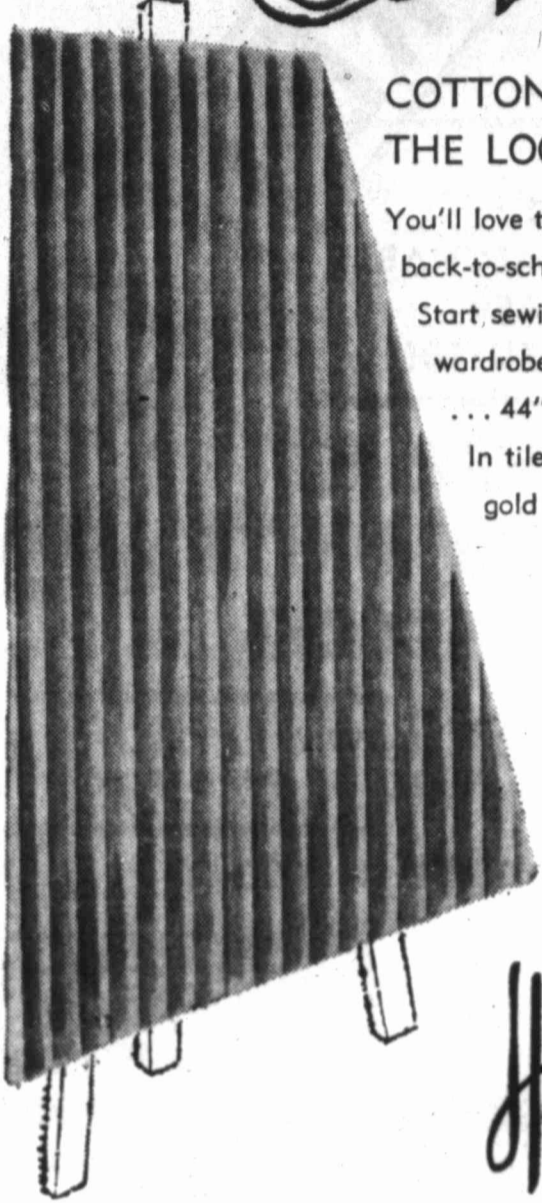

The Viet Cong guerrilla army's organization has been constituted around regiments of three "hard core" battalions of trained and experienced soldiers. Information obtained from battlefield contacts and other sources indicates now that the average villagers are brought into military service with neither experience or enthusiasm.

The Achilles heel in the Communist idea of the war of national liberation may be the problem of keeping turbulence at a high level.

Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff and member of the strategy-making Joint Chiefs of Staff, says the Viet Cong has had to bring in more and more people from North Viet Nam to try to keep turbulence growing.

There is nothing in the general's statement, the speech by Vance or the opinions of others equally high to support any belief that victory may come tomorrow, next month or next year.

Seventeen Now Listed As 'Detained' By Reds In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department currently carries 17 names on its list of U.S. servicemen "detained" in the hands of the Vietnamese Communists.

In any previous conflict they would have been listed as prisoners of war.

But one of the anomalies of the Viet Nam fighting is that

Publisher Has Neck Surgery

HOUSTON (AP) — The publisher of the Lufkin Daily News since 1943, W. R. Beaumier, 58, underwent neck surgery here Saturday. He was reported in fair condition.

The publisher's wife said Beaumier was stricken while at work Thursday.

there has been no declaration or official finding of war. So the Missing Persons Act was amended in 1963 to describe a person "detained in a foreign country against his will."

MORE CAPTURED

In that year, as action increased and the number of casualties among U.S. military men designated advisers mounted, seven men became "detained." In 1964, seven more were captured by the Reds. Four have been seized this year.

The list was reduced by one last month when Army Sgt. Isaac Camacho of El Paso, Tex., a Special Forces man captured in November 1963, managed to escape from the Viet Cong.

The Defense Department has requested that the names and addresses of next of kin of missing or detained men not be published to prevent the captors from putting pressure on prisoners to force disclosure of information by threatening or harassing families through agents in the United States.

The Defense Department is unable to say how many of the 17 are held in Viet Cong prison camps in South Viet Nam and how many are in North Viet Nam.

Here is the way the Defense Department decides the detained and missing categories:

HOW DETERMINED?

A man is reported as detained when he is known definitely to have been taken into custody by a hostile force while apparently alive and with no conclusive evidence that he died after being captured. The report must be a valid one by persons witnessing the man's capture.

Missing — here two terms are used — "missing" and "search and rescue." The man is listed as "SAR" (search and rescue) while a hunt is still under way by ground, air or sea. If he is not found, his name is transferred to the missing list. After one year from the date on which he became missing, a legal board may extend the time for the man to be carried as missing if there are reasons to believe he is still alive but unrecovered. The board can make a finding of "presumptive death" for purposes of insurance, legal claims and survivor benefits.

The United States still has a total of 389 persons unaccounted for in the Korean war.

Election Due For Parliament Seat

LONDON (AP) — The British government probably will call a special election in late September to replace a member of Parliament whose death Sunday reduced Labor's majority in the House of Commons.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson wants to fill the seat held by Norman Dodds before Parliament reconvenes Nov. 9, parliamentary sources said.

Dodds, 61, died in a Dartford hospital after treatment for heart and lung ailments.

Congress In Rush Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congress scenting adjournment heads into another busy week today, with action due on immigration, higher education, foreign aid and defense spending.

Congressional leaders have hinted that by mid-September Congress might find its work all done, and the House and Senate are hurrying to make it come true.

MINOR BILLS

After warming up with a batch of minor bills today, the House takes up Tuesday a bill to change U.S. immigration laws and follows that with a $601-million higher-education act. Both are major administration bills.

The Senate will be dealing in big money, acting on a $4.3-billion public works bill, the $3.36-billion foreign aid authorization bill, and a $47-billion defense appropriation bill, including $1.7 billion in new funds to finance the war in Viet Nam.

CAPITAL OUTFLOW

The Senate also hopes to get to a House-passed bill that would continue a tax on foreign investments sold in this country in an attempt to hold down the flow of capital from the United States.

Speedy efforts are expected to put together a new military construction authorization bill to replace the $1.78-billion measure vetoed by President Johnson Saturday. He said restrictions on the closing of military bases encroached on the principle of separation of the executive and legislative branches of government.

Prisoner Fatally Stabs Convict From Lubbock

CROCKETT (AP) — A 21-year-old convict from Lubbock was stabbed to death at the Eastham Prison Farm of the Texas Department of Corrections by another prisoner Saturday night.

The victim was identified as Mauricio Lopez Jr., who was serving a two-year sentence from Lubbock for forgery.

Charges were expected to be filed today.

Prison officials said the stabbing occurred in the "day room," where prisoners from the same cell block are allowed to mingle at certain times during the day.

The officials said the weapon was a knife fashioned from part of a metal hoe blade.

Jack Heard, assistant director of the Department of Corrections, said a 19-year-old convict from Corpus Christi admitted the stabbing. Heard said the accused man said in a statement that the stabbing occurred during an argument over some script which Lopez allegedly owed the other convict.
