DR. ALBERT SCHWEITZER

Famed Doctor Feared Dying

LAMBARENE, Gabon (AP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer "is living in calm his last hours among us," Dr. Walter Munz reported Saturday.

"His circulation system is failing, his heart is weakening, the kidneys have stopped functioning," said Dr. Munz, medical head of the legendary jungle hospital founded by Dr. Schweitzer.

"His face is showing peace," said Dr. Schweitzer's daughter, Rhena Eckert. "It looks calm and relaxed."

A message sent abroad earlier to relatives and close friends said: "He is dying."

"There is no more hope of human effort that can save him," said Mrs. Eckert.

She showed signs of fatigue and sleepless nights.

"Another man would have given up long ago," she said. "But my father was stronger than most men." He is 90.

Work at the hospital went on as usual. Attendants moved about quietly, however, and doctors performed their chores conversing in whispers. An intermittent rain had wet the scattered huts in the compound.

Schweitzer was overcome by fatigue Sunday after receiving a number of visitors during Gabon's observance of the fifth anniversary of its independence. He has been ill ever since.

Dr. David Miller, American heart specialist summoned to Schweitzer's bedside, reported he planned to return home Tuesday, "barring a miracle."

"God gave him a full life," Dr. Miller said. "No man could have done better."

India, Pakistan Clash In Escalating Battles

U.N. Council Calls For A Cease Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council Saturday night called for an immediate cease-fire in Kashmir and demanded the withdrawal of Indian and Pakistani troops which have crossed the 1949 U.N. cease-fire line.

The vote was unanimous on a proposal put forward by the six elected members of the 11-nation council.

REPORT BACK
Secretary-General U Thant was directed to report back within three days on the implementation of the resolution.

The aim of the council was to reinforce an appeal by the secretary-general which already had been rejected in effect by Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri. Just before the vote, India's Ambassador Gopalaswami Parthasarathi indicated the council's appeal also would be turned down.

"The council does not seem to be facing up to the simple issue of aggression," he said. "A cease-fire is a desirable objective, but it can come only after Pakistan has been condemned as an aggressor."

DENIED
Pakistani Ambassador Amdad Ali denied a long list of charges made by the Indian representative. He said India was the first to cross the cease-fire line in May. India said Pakistan started the current fighting by sending armed infiltrators across the line Aug. 5.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, president of the council, said he had been instructed by President Johnson to support both the cease-fire appeals of the secretary-general and of the council.

Sponsors of the approved resolution were Malaysia, Jordan, The Netherlands, Uruguay, Ivory Coast and Bolivia.

In his message to Thant, Shastri said the first step toward a cease-fire must be an agreement by Pakistan to stop infiltrating across the cease-fire line.

REPLIED FIRST
Shastri was the first to reply to cables Thant sent Wednesday to him and Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan, asking that both declare their intention to respect the 1949 Indian-Pakistani cease-fire agreement for Kashmir. Thant's appeal requested no more crossing of the cease-fire line by armed personnel, no more shooting across it and withdrawal by each side of armed personnel occupying the other's positions.

Beauties On The Beach

Early arrivals in the Miss America Pageant, which begins officially on Monday, spent a few hours on the Atlantic City beach today posing for photographers. While there, they also signed a few autographs. One of the on-lookers was Mary Ann Falk, 5, of 5549 Mills Creek Drive, Philadelphia, who received the signature of Miss Arkansas, Rhonda Oglasby, 19, of Pine Bluff. Looking on is Miss California, Sandra Backer, 18, of Covina. (AP WIREPHOTO)

No Cease-Fire Appeal Accepted

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India and Pakistan unleashed tanks and jet fighters Saturday in swirling battles that appeared to be escalating rapidly toward all-out war.

Cease-fire appeals from abroad were spurned and both governments warned their civilian populations to prepare for the worst.

REJECTS
Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India in effect rejected a personal appeal from U.N. Secretary General U Thant for an immediate cease-fire.

Shastri said Pakistan first would have to withdraw its regular forces and "guerrillas" from what he called Indian territory. It seemed apparent that President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan would balk at such conditions, which would clearly label his country an aggressor.

Pakistan has not replied formally to Thant's appeal.

For India, the worst news of the day came from the Chhamb sector of southwest Kashmir where, an Indian official announcement said, a Pakistani tank-infantry attack supported by jet fighters broke through Indian lines despite damaging attacks by Indian planes.

BITTER FIGHTING
A defense ministry spokesman said bitter fighting was still under way, and that the Pakistanis had not been stopped in their drive northeast, apparently toward important Indian roads and communication lines. New Delhi claimed its planes shot down two U.S.-made Pakistani jets and knocked out the 22nd American-made Pakistani tank since the fighting broke out Wednesday.

In Pakistan, a spokesman said one of its F86 Sabre Jets was knocked down by Indian Soviet-made MIG21s but the pilot was saved. It was the first reference to India using the super-sonic jets obtained from the Soviet Union.

THREAT
Informed sources said the Pakistani forces managed to cross the Tawi River, which would pose a threat to Jammu, winter capital of Indian-held Kashmir.

A Pakistani spokesman said the forces crossing the river proceeded to forge ahead for five more miles.

On the Chhamb front 35 miles northwest of Jammu, informants in New Delhi said, Pakistani forces deepened their penetration to 10 miles with a five-mile advance in heavy fighting.

India has made no estimate of Indian or Pakistani casualties but they were reported to be heavy and mounting.

The Indian spokesman said the ground attack was made under the cover of U.S.-made jet fighter planes. He reported India's planes immediately attacked and all returned safely.

SHOT DOWN
In Rawalpindi, the Pakistan spokesman said the Sabre Jet was shot down by four MIGs over Pakistan's territory. He reported the MIGs were accompanying an undetermined number of Indian British-made Hunter jets who were attacking ground forces.

This was the second air attack by Indian forces during the day, he said. Earlier 40 Indian air force jets engaged in a dog-fight with Pakistani jets but broke off the fight "after a short, sharp engagement."

Fighting erupted after a short lull in which the Indians hurried to strengthen their defenses along the Tawi River, and halt what looked like a Pakistani drive for Aknour (Akhaur), an important town on the strategic road linking Jammu with Nanshehra and other Indian posts farther north along the cease-fire line.

DOG FIGHT
A dogfight against Pakistani F86 Sabre Jets and F104 jets began at 3:10 p.m. and lasted just five minutes, an Indian spokesman said.

He charged that Pakistani pilots fired Sidewinder missiles but scored no hits. Sidewinders are heat-seeking missiles that home in on enemy planes.

Hurricane Betsy Seems Undecided

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Betsy whirled to a stop Saturday night in the Atlantic, 350 miles off the Florida coast, without a hint on where she would aim her sledgehammer winds.

"This is a large, severe hurricane," the Weather Bureau said. "Many beaches from the Carolinas to northeast Florida will be awash Sunday. Boating, surf-fishing and swimming will be extremely hazardous, if not foolhardy."

RAISES HOPE
During the day, Betsy had turned slightly northward away from the Carolina coast, raising hopes that it might escape Betsy's peak winds of 135 miles an hour.

But then—caught in opposing steering currents that equalized each other—the storm stopped. The Weather Bureau said nothing was in sight that might cause Betsy to resume forward movement until Sunday.

At the same time a hurricane hunter plane spotted a new disturbance in the tropical Atlantic, 650 miles east of Barbados.

MAY INCREASE
Its top winds were only 30 miles an hour, but the plane said it found circulation, necessary ingredient for another tropical storm. Residents of the Lesser Antilles were warned that the winds might increase.

In the Miami Weather Bureau, forecasters delayed from hour to hour the posting of a hurricane watch for Betsy along the vulnerable Carolina coast, which jets sharply into one of the historic paths of Atlantic hurricanes.

"We're sweating it out 'til the last minute to see if Betsy will continue veering toward the north," said forecaster Robert McCaslin. "It'll be close—a real squeaker—but the turn has started and we expect it to continue."

RED CROSS
The Red Cross set up three district headquarters in the Carolinas to prepare shelters, first aid programs and communications. The U.S. Agriculture Department said emergency food supplies would be made available immediately in case Betsy whips ashore.

Seas along the Carolinas and Georgia were already beginning to run heavy. With tides one to two feet above normal and swells up to seven feet. But vacationers crowded the beaches for their last holiday of the summer.

Betsy, already an extremely dangerous storm, built her peak winds up to 135 miles an hour as she crept up the Atlantic.

At 5 p.m. (EST) Betsy was 450 miles south of Cape Hatteras, N.C., and was moving northwest at 8 m.p.h.

TURBULENCE
A hurricane hunter plane penetrated Betsy's eye and the pilot reported frightening turbulence. He estimated winds in excess of 115 m.p.h. spurt out 35 miles from the solid wall of rain that surrounded the eye.

Gales sweeping out 200 miles from Betsy's eye churned up 120,000 square miles of the Atlantic. Jacksonville reported winds of 25 to 30 m.p.h., just under gale force, although the storm was more than 350 miles away.

LBJ Begins Busy Weekend, Names Porter To Viet Nam

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson was off to a busy start on his Labor Day weekend with announcement Saturday of several appointments including that of career diplomat William J. Porter as deputy ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Porter, 49, was the personal choice of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. He will replace another veteran career diplomat, U. Alexis Johnson, who is returning, the White House said, to his former No. 4 post in the State Department as deputy undersecretary for political affairs.

STRENGTHEN
The President, acting from his ranch office, also moved to strengthen his program on education and the war on poverty.

He named Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel to the newly created post of assistant secretary for education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He named four new regional directors for the office of economic opportunity to push anti-poverty programs on the local level.

The President also announced U.S. recognition of the new government in the Dominican Republic.

EARLY PAPER ON MONDAY

Because of the Labor Day holiday, The Herald will be published at noon Monday, and the office closed for the afternoon. The earlier press time means moving up the "deadline" on Classified ads to 9 a.m. Monday. Please call your Classified requirements by that hour.

It was Lodge who picked Porter, a fellow resident of Massachusetts, whom he had met while head of the U. S. delegation at the United Nations during the Eisenhower administration.

Porter, a native of England who was naturalized 22 years ago, has been a foreign service officer since 1937. He has served in Africa and the Middle East, but never in Southeast Asia.

CAUTIONED
Johnson cautioned other Americans of the dangers of highway accidents this weekend and in a statement urging safe driving noted:

"Last year alone Americans killed some 47,000 of their fellow citizens in traffic accidents, more than 300 times as many Americans as our enemies were able to kill in all the fighting in South Viet Nam during that same year."

In the shift of second-line diplomats in Saigon, Moyers said Johnson feels he is providing "the best possible support" for

Hot Readings For Holiday

September's first weekend—with Labor Day holiday crowds jamming resorts, parks, picnic grounds and highways—burned itself across Texas Saturday.

Temperatures soared as high as 104 degrees at Wichita Falls, 100 at Mineral Wells and Childress and 101 at Abilene.

Dallas, with an official 97-degree maximum, had temperatures as high as 102 reported in the downtown area of baked brick, stone and concrete.

Other maximums were all in the 90s, mostly the high 90s, except for 88-degree readings at Galveston and Alpine.

The only precipitation was a scant .05 of an inch at Junction.

Colorado City had its troubles with a cloudburst which sent Lone Wolf Creek on a rampage. Homer (Buddy) Farham, 49, was washed away in his car, and his body was found two days later four miles downstream.

It's back to school on Tuesday for Big Spring young people, Big Spring and Snyder) have supply assured until the new lake is completed.

Around Ackerly, twisters or near twisters accompanied the violent storm. E. E. Crittenden was painfully cut when wind shattered a plate glass at his cafe. Other buildings were damaged and lightning set fire to a vacant house. Crops generally escaped damage, and some were helped by rain. Around Knott 1.5 inches fell, and there were good showers across most of the northern and southern edges of Howard County. For the most part, the week was ideal for growing cotton.

Grim Holiday Toll Climbing

The Labor Day weekend traffic toll climbed steadily Saturday.

The tally rose to 167. Rain over large areas in the interior of the country increased the dangers of driving, but it also tended to inspire caution.

The count started slowly but pushed up with quickening speed at the end of the first 12 hours of the 78-hour compilation period.

Highway accidents that cost one or two lives predominated. The National Safety Council estimated in advance that between 500 and 600 Americans may die in motor vehicle accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday.

The council also calculated that motoring mileage would add up to 8.9 billion traffic miles and would set a record for a Labor Day weekend.

The traffic death record for a Labor Day weekend was set in 1963. It was 557. The toll reached 531 last year.

To provide a basis for drawing comparisons The Associated Press made a survey of motor vehicle fatalities in a recent nonholiday weekend period — from 6 p.m. Friday Aug. 20 to midnight Monday Aug. 23. It showed 451 deaths in traffic, 11 in boating accidents and 45 drownings, for an over-all total of 507.

Memorial Day and Independence Day traffic deaths established records this year for three-day celebrations of these holidays — 474 on Memorial Day and 551 on Independence Day.

The highest motor vehicle fatality total for any three-day holiday was set during the Christmas observance in 1955. It was 609.

Deaths on Texas highways, lakes and streams mounted slowly Saturday night as Labor Day holiday celebrants jammed resort areas in warm but pleasant weather.

At a late hour, 11 persons had died in traffic accidents.

FUND GIFTS IN A SLUMP

After several good days, the high school Bible Class fund appeal Saturday felt the effects of the holiday weekend. However, friends did add $73 to the total, making $1,276.75 so far raised.

This is a good start toward the $3,500 objective, but with only one week left of the formal appeal, scores of people who normally have a part must come forward. Last week most preachers made contributions to show how they feel about the project. Perhaps today with appeals from the pulpit, members and classes may be stirred to renewed generosity.

Pakistan Gets Red Support

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Chinese foreign minister, said Sunday that "Communist China fully supports Pakistan for her just action in Kashmir to repel Indian armed provocation."

He told a news conference his government condemned the "Indian provocation."

Chen-yi, accompanied by a team of 15 Red Chinese officials, arrived here Saturday morning in a special plane and after staying 14 hours resumed his journey to the African republic of Mali Sunday.

Chen-yi supported the "freedom fighters of Indian-held Kashmir and their just struggle against the tyrannical domination of India."

Chen-yi reaffirmed his government's stand that the question of Kashmir must be solved in accordance with the wishes of the people of the state.

Many Indians feared the talks between Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto and Chen-yi were aimed at joint action against India, New Delhi reports said.

'HOME TOWN COOKIN'

Share Your Recipes In Herald Supplement

You're invited again to share your best recipes — and perhaps win some good hard cash in so doing.

Because of fine interest in previous publications, The Herald will print, in convenient supplement form, another collection of home recipes. Full details of the publication, to be called "Home Town Cookin'", may be found on Page 5-D of today's Herald.

CASH PRIZES
A total of $205 in cash prizes will be awarded for the best recipes submitted. There are seven classifications of entries, and housewives are urged to enter any and all of them. There's no limit to the number of recipes any individual may enter.

There's a $15 cash award for the best entry in each category, and in addition a grand award of $100 for the best recipe of them all. Competent food and nutrition experts will do the judging.

Your favorite recipe may be the one that won your husband's heart; one always demanded by the children; or one that has long been a family favorite. Whatever the source, your favorite is wanted, provided it is not of the box-top or ready-mix type. The "home" kind, please.

The seven categories are: Salads; bread and

DEADLINE
Your entries are invited immediately. Deadline for sending them is October 2.

"Home Town Cookin'" will follow the pattern of similar collections gathered and published by The Herald in prior years. There still are calls for these booklets and their popularity has prompted another undertaking. Women will be saving these helpful cooking suggestions for a long time to come.

This is an opportunity to win cash for that recipe that has been tantalizing the family, and also to share the recipe with others. Your cooperation is strongly urged.

The rules are simple, and are listed in detail on Page 5-D. Each entry must be typed or printed, and measurements and instructions must be accurate and complete.

EVERYONE ELIGIBLE
Everyone in the area is eligible to enter, except persons associated with The Herald in any way and members of their families.

You're invited to have a part. Just send your entries to "Home Town Cookin'", care of The Herald — and the sooner, the better!

B-25 Owned By Confederate Air Force

Confederate Air Force Colonel Connie Edwards, left, shows the Confederate Air Force B-25 to 2nd Lieutenants Glenzow and Bleymaier, at Howard County Airport. Lt. Glenzow's father flies a B-25 in air cargo operations in South America. Lt. Bleymaier's father, Brig. Gen. Blaymaier, flew a B-25 during World War II. The B-25 shown has been recently salvaged and is on its way to the Confederate Air Force headquarters in Mercedes. It is being restored to its original combat condition, complete with bombsights, turrets and other combat gear. The two lieutenants are in Class 67-A training in the T-41A program at Howard County Airport from Webb Air Force Base.

County's 20 Precincts Ready For Tuesday Vote

Howard County's 20 voting precincts will be in business Tuesday to conduct an election called by the state on an amendment to the constitution. The amendment proposes that the number of seats in the State Senate be increased by eight. There are now 31 senators.

This is the only issue before the voters in this election. The ballot contains a short statement covering the proposal and the elector votes "for" or "against" to voice his wishes.

LIGHT TURNOUT

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that 5,000 ballots have been provided, but no one expects that many voters to turn out. Less than a dozen absentee votes were cast in the period which ended Friday. In this county, where the use of the absentee ballot is usually heavy, a light absentee vote generally means a light turnout of voters at the polls.

The county clerk's office has prepared the boxes and they have been turned over to the precinct judges. The courthouse will be closed Monday. That made it imperative the last of the boxes be on its way to its precinct Friday.

The votes will be tabulated by the county clerk Tuesday night. Voting box judges are asked to call the clerk's office or bring their boxes to the office as soon as counts have been completed.

MORE DUE

This one amendment to the constitution is a prelude to a small flood of amendments which are to be laid before the voters of the state in early November.

No one, locally, knows how it happened this single proposal was set aside for a special election at this season.

The 20 voting places with the judges and their assistants:

Pct. 1—Northside Fire Station, Andrew C. Tucker, Mrs. Rufus Davidson, Mrs. Pearl Tucker and Mrs. David Gomez.
Pct. 2—Washington Place School, Loy Acuff, Don McAdams, Mrs. Oliver Cofer.

Pct. 3—Main and Eighteenth Street Fire Station, Dan Conley, Mrs. C. E. Shive, Mrs. W. E. Jones and George Melear.

Pct. 4—Fourth and Nolan Fire Station, Billy T. Smith, Mrs. Billie T. Smith and Jerry Man-cill.

Pct. 5—Vincent, Frank Whitaker and Mrs. L. Appleton.

Pct. 6—Gay Hill, O. R. Crow, Mrs. Hollis Puckett and Lloyd Underwood.

R-BAR

Pct. 7—R-Bar-Salem, H. C. Reid and S. P. Buchanan.

Pct. 8—Crestwood School, L. R. Mundt, Mrs. L. R. Mundt and Mrs. Perry Peterson.

Pct. 9—Cohanna, B. G. Shepard and Hezlie N. Reid Jr.

Pct. 10—Forsan, Mrs. John Kubecka, Mrs. D. L. Knight.

Pct. 11—Center Point, E. L. Bynum, A. A. McKinney, Lloyd B. Murphy, Aiden Ryan.

Pct. 12—Prairie View, Edgar Phillips, L. M. Newton and Carl Grant.

Pct. 13—Knott, J. D. McGregor, Harrison Wood and Mrs. Robert McClain.

Pct. 14—Vealmoor, Robert Merrick, J. S. Jackson and Roy Anderson.

Pct. 15—Rumbels Junior High, Avery Deal, Mrs. Alton Underwood.

Pct. 16—Park Hill School, M. R. Koger, John Currie, Mrs. H. C. Stipp and Mrs. R. H. Miller.

Pct. 17—Gerald Harris residence, Gerald Harris and Wesley Yater.

Pct. 18—Byron Neel residence; Byron Neel and Thebert Camp.

Pct. 19—Elbow, M. H. Boatler, Jack McKinnon and T. E. Newman.

Pct. 20—Crest View Baptist Church, Brooks Bedell and Mrs. Riley McCullough.

Special canvassing board: George Elliott, John Berry and L. Z. Shafer.

EASY JOB IS FORECAST FOR CANVASSING BOARD

There are three members on the special canvassing board, set up to tabulate and report on absentee votes cast in a county election.

Next Tuesday, the board will assemble in the Howard County courthouse and the county clerk's office will hand George Elliott, the judge, the absentee ballot box. He and his colleagues, John Berry and L. Z. Shafer, will proceed to count the votes in the special constitutional amendment election being held that day.

It shouldn't take too long. The ballot box which Elliott will lug upstairs to the grand jury room will contain only 11 ballots. There is only one question on each ballot.

Election judges are paid $12 for their day's work. Their assistants get $10 each. Eleven votes divided into $32 comes out nearly $3 a vote. For goodness sakes!

New Chaplain On Hospital's Staff

Richard E. Johnson, a guitar-playing theologian, is the new chaplain at the Big Spring State Hospital. He began his duties Sept. 1.

A graduate of the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, he has been a chaplain at Austin State Hospital for the past two years.

"I only put in a small portion of my time in the outwardly religious aspects—church services and the like," he said. "I reserve most of my time for talking to the patients, either in the wards or in my office. I try to be what the patient needs while I'm talking to him, within the limits of my capabilities."

"My goals are unique for each patient I talk to—I do whatever I can to help the patients make their lives here happy. In short, my goals are so general that they mean nothing until applied specifically to each particular patient."

The Dublin, Tex., native and his wife, Sharon, who live on the hospital grounds, have two children, Richard Jr., 5, and Sofia, 16 months. The Johnsons entertain themselves by playing music, with Johnson on the guitar, and his wife on the mandolin.

Johnson, who was campus pastor at Texas Woman's University in Denton for some years, feels: "The most important thing for these patients, or anybody, is to enjoy life—if not, they'll be eaten up, they will consume themselves. This is a cause of mental illness in itself."

Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare officer, sounded an appeal for clothing for Sonora a few days ago. The response, Mrs. Phillips said, was overwhelming. She said that money and garments poured in until the little deaf girl is now well outfitted for the entire season. She also has enough cash for the incidental expenses as the state does not pay at the school.

"I am personally most grateful," Mrs. Phillips said, "to the kindhearted folk who responded so generously. So far, we have $72.43 in cash which we are to use as Sonora needs it for school supplies, activities and for certain clothing articles she has to have, but which were not donated."

Mrs. Phillips said that some few of the articles of clothing donated were of the wrong size for Sonora.

"That's all right," said the welfare officer, "we've hundreds of needy kids who can wear them and make good use of any that she couldn't use."

A group of girls employed by Cosden banded together to buy a complete outfit for Sonora as one of the gifts.

Despite her age, this will be Sonora's first year in school. She has seven brothers and sisters. Her father is currently chopping cotton to support his youngsters.

Youngster To School With Lots Of Clothing

Today is a big day for 11-year-old Sonora Sturgeon. She left early Sunday for Austin where she will be enrolled in the State School for Deaf Children. Her father, W. D. Sturgeon, took her to Austin.

She made the trip in a lot better financial condition this time than she was last year at the same season.

Sonora started work in the school last fall, but not having money for clothing, had to come home after a few weeks.

This year, things are a lot different.

Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare officer, sounded an appeal for clothing for Sonora a few days ago. The response, Mrs. Phillips said, was overwhelming. She said that money and garments poured in until the little deaf girl is now well outfitted for the entire season. She also has enough cash for the incidental expenses as the state does not pay at the school.

New Secretary

Mrs. Cal D. Lowry, right, is the city inspection office's new secretary. Mrs. Lowry replaced Mrs. Don E. White, left, who has held the position for the past 21 months. Mrs. White said she will be "just a housewife for the immediate future."

Bar Members Critical Of Attorney's Remarks

Tom Sneed, Odessa attorney who is representing a group of residents in a fight to keep Kate Morrison School open, drew the wrath of the Howard County Bar Association Friday by remarks he made in a radio broadcast relative to the case and to Judge Ralph W. Caton, 118th District Court.

The comments made by Sneed were aired over two local stations in a telephone-tape recorded interview with the Odessa lawyer. They were his views on the action of Judge Caton Thursday in throwing the plaintiff's case out of court by upholding a defense plea of abatement.

Friday afternoon, the bar association in a special meeting "condemned such criticism" and "expressed confidence in the integrity" of the district judge.

The bar meeting held in the Cosden Country Club was called by Dee Jon Davis, president, at the request of a number of attorneys who resented the comments made by Sneed in the taped interviews aired over Radio Stations KHEM and KBST.

QUOTATIONS

The quotations charged to Sneed, which stirred the bar's resentment, were:

"I was very disappointed in Judge Caton making such a ruling without notifying me that he was going to take it or giving me an opportunity to be heard or anything on it. I'm not used to getting ex parte justice. I was not notified by Judge Caton either by mail or by telephone or anything else that he was gonna rule until he considered my authorities — me made that ruling without even giving me the consideration of letting me submit my petition to him. I'm a little in the dark but the way I understand it he ruled that we must follow an administrative route before we go through the District Court — in other words the way he interprets the law we have to — the court has no jurisdiction until an administrative appeal is followed which of course is all right if we have to do that, that's what we'll do. It's not an unusual thing for a judge to avoid decision of questions but we would prefer that he decide it but if he didn't want to do it that way and wants us to go the administrative route why of course that's what we'll have to do. We'll probably, in addition to going through the administrative appeal, we'll probably also appeal his decision to the Eastland Court of Civil Appeals."

By the time the vote was taken, the number of attorneys had diminished.

A committee of four attorneys, equally divided on sentiment as to how strong the reprimand should be, had been named to draft the compromise statement.

FINAL DRAFT

The final draft released read: "In a recent case of local interest, District Judge R. W. Caton was publicly criticized in his ruling on such case."

"The Howard County Bar Association in recognition of its duty imposed by such article of the State Bar Canons of Ethics, takes this opportunity to condemn such criticism of the court."

"The Howard County Bar Association expresses complete confidence in the integrity of District Judge Caton."

The bar members were somewhat divided on just how strong to make their criticism of the Odessa attorney.

After an hour's discussion behind closed doors, the 13 members of the bar came up with a resolution which was unanimously adopted but, which was much milder than earlier drafts some of the members seemed to favor.

The Howard County Bar Association in recognition of its duty imposed by such article of the State Bar Canons of Ethics, takes this opportunity to condemn such criticism of the court.

Almost All ROW Bought For North Leg

Only three small tracts of right-of-way remain to be acquired to clear the way for the Texas State Highway Department to award contract for the north leg of FM 700.

Lee Porter, county judge, said that agreements have been worked out almost to the signing point for these properties and no difficulty is expected in clearing up the needed land.

Joe Smoot, resident engineer for the State Highway Department, said he understands the contract for the road, which will begin at a point east of Big Spring on IS 20 and go north to connect with the Andrews highway at the Gall highway intersection, will be let in November, if right of way is finalized by that time.

Meantime, the county commissioners court is also working on right of way for the extension of FM 700 westward from Goliad Street to the Sands Restaurant on US 80.

A bond issue of $600,000 was voted to provide funds to acquire the right of way for those two highway projects. The county has sold $400,000 of the bonds and is using this money to buy needed road way.

Labor Day Plans Made

Permian Basin unions' arrangement for a big Labor Day celebration have been completed. It was announced Saturday by D. L. Willis, president, Odessa Central Labor Union, AFL-CIO.

The event will begin at 3 p.m. Monday, at Floyd Gwin Park in Odessa, and will feature a barbecue, free soda pop for the kids, entertainment by area bands, and speakers both labor and political.

Jack McDonald, vice president of the International Union of Operating Engineers of Houston, and T. D. Steinke, representative United Rubber Workers of America, will be the labor speakers. State Senator Franklin S. Spears, San Antonio, will be the political keynote speaker.

The public is invited. Tickets may be obtained at the IBEW Local 460 Hall and from D. L. Willis, MU 2-2700 in Midland; in Odessa at the Plumbers Hall, and from S. E. Furlow, EM 6-3254, and at the park Labor Day.

T-TA Reports Boardings Up

HOUSTON—Trans-Texas Airways, regional air carrier for New Mexico, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Tennessee and Mississippi, reported that 82,748 passengers were boarded by the 57 cities it serves during August.

This was the largest number of passengers ever carried in a one-month period in the airline's nearly 18-year history, and a 37.8 per cent increase over the 60,060 carried in August, 1964.

The record number can be compared to the 13,455 boarded 10 years ago in August, 1955, and the 76,969 boarded during the entire year of 1952 by TTA.

Load factor, the percentage of available seats occupied, was up to 43.51 per cent. This compares with a 38.4 per cent load factor in August, 1964.

A total of 18,905,902 revenue passenger miles was flown during the month, up 40.2 per cent over the 13,481,720 flown last August. Available seat miles totaled 43,450,151, up 23.8 per cent over the 35,106,119 last August.

TTA currently operates a fleet of 25 Convair-240s and 18 DC-3s. Later this year service will begin with Convair-600 propjets.

Mexican Doctors Return To Work

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Leaders of Mexico's nationwide doctor strike today considered ending the walkout by Monday as a number of strikers returned to work.

About 15,000 of Mexico's approximately 21,000 physicians walked off their jobs in most government-operated hospitals and clinics Aug. 29, demanding higher pay and better conditions.

Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz told them Wednesday to get back to work or face legal action, including possible homicide charges.

Basin Development Is Urged To Insure Water

WACO (AP)—Gov. John Connally said Saturday that basin-wide development of the major rivers in Texas is essential to the state's economic development.

"Proliferation of authority is an expensive luxury we can no longer afford," the governor said at dedication ceremonies of the $49 million four-mile-long Waco Dam.

MISTAKES
The governor warned of "glaring mistakes" in some Texas river development in the past and praised the Waco project as "a better way" to assure Texas of adequate water in the future.

Heavy Rains End In Italy

ROME (AP)—Bright sun ended Saturday a three-day Italian nightmare of torrential rains that left more than 100 dead and missing.

Swollen rivers and continued flooding kept the nation's life in disorder, however.

The rain also stopped in neighboring Austria, which counted 12 dead and millions of dollars in damage along with two men missing and feared dead in the collapse of a flood-weakened bridge near Klagenfurt. Many other persons who fell into the flooding Drau River when the bridge plunged swam to safety or were picked up in a swift rescue operation.

The unprecedented September storms put Italy in something like a state of shock. Pope Paul VI toured one of the hardest hit suburbs of Rome and found embittered, sometimes hostile, flood victims asking his help, not his blessing. He promised aid, and it was "emptily sent."

Crop and building damage amounted to millions of dollars, and tens of thousands were homeless, living in requisitioned hotels and makeshift quarters in such places as the Rome Trade Fair grounds.

Road and rail communications remained cut in dozens of places. Rome and some other cities had partially disrupted water supplies.

Half of Rome's more than two million residents were without regular water supplies because of a damaged aqueduct, and service is not expected to be normal until Monday or Tuesday.

Connally shared the main speaker's platform with Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., of Waco, who said the massive dam-reservoir complex assured that Waco will "never again see floods like those in 1913, 1921, and 1936."

Connally noted that the population of Texas is now 40.5 million and he said it would almost triple to 30 million by the year 2020.

PLANNING
"What Texas does in water planning and development over the next few months and years may well determine our destiny for at least the next half century," he said.

"The people of the Brazos River Valley are unusually fortunate. The Brazos River Authority determining the use of its river's water is basin-wide. We need only look to the neighboring Colorado to see the problems arising from multiple water districts and authorities bisecting a single river."

"The needs of all residents in the Brazos Basin — from its headwaters to its mouth — can be considered and resolved by

Astronauts Hear Twins

The meeting was held primarily for the Gemini 6 and 7 crews but the 22 other astronauts attended as interested observers.

Donald K. Slayton, assistant director for flight crew operations, headed the session but the stars were Cooper and Conrad. The two newest space heroes started the debriefing by telling about the record-breaking flight in general terms. Afterwards, other astronauts asked questions.

The session lasted all day. The Gemini 6 crewmen are Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., command pilot; Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, copilot; and backup crewmen, Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Navy Cmdr. John W. Young. The flight is expected Oct. 23 and will be a two-day mission to attempt a rendezvous and docking maneuver with an Agena rocket.

the same governmental agency.

"In other basins with different patterns, the conflict can only grow more intense—to the detriment of the people—if we lack the fortitude and the initiative to seek this better way."

"This will be no easy task. Regional pride dies hard, jealousy in water matters has deep and powerful roots," the governor said.

Waco Dam is across the Bosque River in the city limits of Waco, several miles upstream from its confluence with the Brazos. The reservoir has a total storage capacity of 726,000 acre feet of which 104,000 acre feet is for conservation and municipal use.

The dam was the largest ever built across the Balcones Fault Zone.

PARKWAYS
Poage said a system of state parkways should be built to connect Lake Waco with several other tourist attractions in Central Texas, including the Pedernales River in front of the LBJ Ranch, the Highland Lakes of the Colorado River and other area projects.

The master of ceremonies for the dedication was Harry Provence, Chamber of Commerce president and editor in chief of Newspapers, Inc.

Cool Stars Are Found

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Astrophysicists have found two really "cool" stars, one of them with a surface no hotter than that of the planet Venus.

But if they are true stars like our sun, they may have internal temperatures of more than 25 million degrees Fahrenheit — high enough to start nuclear processes.

The stars, one with a surface temperature of 800 degrees, the other with 1,200 degrees, were discovered in a sky survey made with a new 62-inch telescope at nearby Mt. Wilson Observatory. The telescope is sensitive only to infra-red "heat" waves, not visible light.

Scientists don't know yet whether the stars are very young or very old, or how far away they may be. The cooler one is in the constellation Cygnus, the other in Quarus. Both are barely visible in large optical telescopes.

Tactical Nuclear Weapon Still Wrapped In Secrecy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has a new nuclear tactical weapon in development for its atomic battlefield arsenal, it was learned Saturday.

Still wrapped tightly in official secrecy, the weapon presently carries only the designation "207."

A brief reference to "207" was made in a recently published document, but army spokesmen declined to disclose any details.

The document indicates the weapon is intended for use by Army divisions. Like other artillery, rocket and missile weapons of the Army, it presumably will be able to use either conventional or nuclear warheads.

At least two of three dual-purpose weapons — the eighth-inch and 155mm howitzers — now are used by Army and Marine forces in Viet Nam, although only with conventional explosive loads. They can be adapted quickly for atomic warheads.

In addition to the two howitzers, the Army atomic arsenal includes three relatively short-range (up to about 10 or 12 miles) rockets—the Little John, Honest John and Davy Crockett missiles, the Sergeant and the newer Pershing with a 300-mile range.

The new weapon could be a rocket-launched device or some form of short-range guided missile.

Some military men believe tactical nuclear weapons could be used to advantage in the Viet Nam war. But there has been nothing to suggest that the policy-making level in Washington has done any more than to put the idea into contingency planning.

If field commanders wanted to use small or medium atomic weapons against Viet Cong personnel and supply concentrations in South Viet Nam or in aerial bombing of North Viet Nam targets they would have to receive approval of the President. Under law, only he can authorize the use of nuclear weapons, either tactically or strategically.

Washington officials deliberately leave open the question of whether nuclear weapons ever would be used in any conflict of less than global proportions.

Paper 'Explains' Cause Of LA Riot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Information Agency has sent to American diplomatic posts abroad a background paper for use by U.S. officials in answering questions about the recent Los Angeles riots.

A USIA spokesman said his agency supplies such material, sometimes called "talking papers," for its overseas posts so that the Americans there can give knowledgeable responses to inquiries.

Racial events in the United States are followed with wide interest abroad and are a common target for Communist propaganda.

USIA's background paper on the Los Angeles riots, the spokesman said, names dissatisfaction by the Los Angeles Negroes with their current situation as a major cause of their unrest.

The paper states that the political gains from recent civil rights legislation has had a quick effect in the South, where Negroes faced voting obstacles but not in northern urban areas where Negroes did not have such voting barriers, he said.

The long range solution for the urban Negroes lies in improvement of their social and economic conditions, and such programs as President Johnson's War on Poverty are moves toward this end, the paper said.

Fights For Oswald Guns

DENVER (AP)—Ollman John King has begun battling the federal government on a second front to gain possession of the Kennedy assassination weapon.

Last May, King sued in U.S. District Court at Denver against the Justice Department to gain possession of this weapon and the pistol used to kill Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit.

King, president of Cortez Oil Co., claimed that Mrs. Marina Oswald, now the wife of Jess Porter, signed a contract agreeing to turn over to him two guns: The high-power rifle Lee Harvey Oswald used to kill the president and the .38 caliber pistol Oswald used on Tippit.

King said he had paid Mrs. Oswald $10,000 and another $35,000 was to be paid when the guns are delivered.

Woman Wins Lofly Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Through the tricky jungle of federal bureaucracy, a slim woman named Irene Parsons moves with the surefootedness of one who knows where she's going.

At this point she has reached the loftiest personnel post in government ever held by a woman — the $22,000-a-year job of assistant administrator for personnel of the Veterans Administration.

Luckily for the 170,000 employees under her supervision, Irene Parsons couldn't act like a stereotyped boss-lady if her pension depended on it.

She is, rather, one of the new breed of women executives that President Johnson likes to lure into government's higher circles:

They're attractive and feminine without flaunting sex, decisive without being dictatorial, intelligent without showing off and instinctively considerate of others without thinking of it as an instrument of policy. Their secretaries like working for them. So do their male colleagues.

A VA executive for whom Miss Parsons used to work and who now reports to her says, "I don't think of it as having a woman in the job. I think of it as Irene Parsons, and that's delightful."

Brown-haired, brown-eyed Miss Parsons herself gives her gamin grin. "I haven't run into any unfavorable reaction," she says. "Of course, I've worked with a lot of these men during the years . . . I believe they will cooperate with me fully.

"I'VE BEEN LUCKY" "I've been lucky in being associated with some able men who didn't discriminate, but I've certainly seen evidence of discrimination against women in government and studies have shown it existed.

"It's improving now, as more women are being brought in and they demonstrate they can do a job well. Lots of men in high position have never worked before with women, or with minority groups either."

Equal job opportunities is a major plank in Miss Parsons' platform. Because of her efforts as personnel director for two VA departments, she was cited by Ebony magazine in an article that called the Veterans Administration "the most integrated agency" in government.

"I've always said that a yone who discriminates against the Negro will discriminate against women," says the North Carolina-born and educated executive. "If they do it toward one, they'll do it toward any group."

Tower To Support Work Statute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., said Saturday he is one of a group of senators who will speak at length to try to retain authority for the states to outlaw union shop contracts.

Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act permits states to enact laws banning the union shop under which an employe must join a union within 30 days in order to hold a job.

Nineteen states, including Texas, have taken advantage of the section to outlaw the union shop through what proponents call right-to-work laws.

The Senate Labor Committee on Wednesday voted 12-3 to approve a House-passed bill to repeal the section.

The committee plans to send it to the Senate by Thursday of this week. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he will call it up for debate and President Johnson has said he expects action on it this year.

Organized labor has been pressing for repeal. Tower said in a statement addressed to his constituents that he regards the forthcoming debate "as the most important action which will face the 89th Congress."

"I have participated in bipartisan Senate planning designed first to delay and ultimately to defeat this federal government attack upon Texas law," he said. "You may be assured that I will take a leading role in an extended Senate debate pointing out the merits of right-to-work legislation.

"I will speak at length in expressing to all Americans the devotion of Texans for the principles of freedom of choice and of the right to work — even though such efforts may force me to curtail my many trips to Texas and visits with Texans."

Opponents of the repealer have said that 27 senators are ready to voice opposition to the bill and to offer amendments to it.

Tower said "It is illegal to deny employment to any person because of race, color, creed, or national origin. It seems most strange to me, therefore, that some persons so staunchly for those employment freedoms would deny employment to a citizen who prefers not to pay dues to a union."

"Right to work means a man cannot be forced to pay dues to an unwanted bargaining agent in order to earn a living. Right to work also means that a man remains free to become an active, dues-paying union member if that is in his best interest."

"Let me make it very clear that right to work does not interfere in any way with legitimate union activity. It does not restrict the right of employes to organize and to bargain collectively with their employers."

Millionaire Returns DeLong Ruby To Museum

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A Florida millionaire Saturday handed over the ransom DeLong ruby to be returned to the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

John D. MacArthur, land developer and insurance executive, gave the priceless gem to Dr. Joseph M. Chamberlain, assistant manager of the museum from which it was stolen last Oct. 29.

As the two men walked out of the vault of the First Marine Bank in nearby Riviera Beach, MacArthur quipped: "Now if you say it's the wrong one, I'll kick you in the pants."

MacArthur recovered the gem Thursday night from a telephone booth after paying $25,000 cash to underworld sources.

The blood-red ruby, the size of a large grape, had been in the bank's possession since Thursday night and more than 8,000 persons saw it on display Friday.

The transfer to Chamberlain was made in tight security provided by Florida highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies, policemen and FBI agents in the bank's board room.

Chamberlain flew to Florida Friday but arrived after the vault had been locked. The time lock was set to open this morning.

Elaborate instructions relating to the dropping of the ransom in a toilet tank in Miami and the recovery of the gem 70 miles away climaxed a month of negotiations.

The gem was stolen from the American Museum of Natural History in New York last Oct. 29 along with the Star of India sapphire and 22 other valuable jewels.

MacArthur paid the $25,000 ransom, saying "I have bought a stolen gem . . . and I'm going to donate it to its owners."

A spokesman for the group which negotiated the gem's return said the FBI had cooperated "100 per cent." The FBI would not comment.

Three Miami Beach men were convicted of the theft and given light prison sentences after they helped recover the Star of India and other gems. Only the DeLong ruby remained missing.

Post To Get Airport Aid Funds

Union Men Vote Today On Contract

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Steel union officials meet here Sunday to vote on a contract agreement that would hike steelworkers' income almost 50 cents an hour over three years. Swift approval is expected.

The optimism stems from the firmness of President Johnson's announcement Friday that negotiators "have reached essential agreement. Also, a union source indicated no difficulty is expected; and approval by the 10 major steel companies is expected to be merely a formality.

Ratification would avert a strike that would knock out about 80 per cent of the nation's steelmaking facilities. It had been threatened for 12:01 a.m. Thursday.

The executive board of the United Steelworkers Union, AFL-CIO, meets at 9 a.m. Sunday and the 170-member Wage Policy Committee convenes at 1 p.m.

By union procedure, the board will recommend approval or rejection of the proposal; and the committee, which has final authority on contract decisions, will vote "yes" or "no."

The tentative agreement was hammered out in intensive bargaining by top negotiators in Washington last week under heavy pressure by Johnson.

Neither the President nor the negotiators would place a money value on the package pending ratification.

However, reliable sources in this steel center said the agreement would add 46 to 48 cents an hour to steelworkers' income in wages and fringe benefits in a contract running to Aug. 1, 1968.

The union reportedly sought an increase estimated at 48.9 cents which the industry bargaining team said would cost 55 cents an hour.

On the average, steelworkers now earn about $4.40 an hour, counting fringe benefits they are among the highest paid industrial workers numbering about 450,000.

They haven't received a wage boost since 1961 in the contract negotiated in the record 116-day strike of 1959.

The contracts of 1962 and 1963 provided only increasing in benefits. Both were estimated to be worth about 10 cents an hour.

The biggest package the union ever won was 45.7 cents an hour in 1956 after a 36-day work stoppage. The hike in that three-year contract would be equal to about 55 cents today.

An informed source said the contract to be voted upon Sunday grants the union one of its biggest goals — retirement after 30 years of service regardless of age.

It is also said to contain pension increases worth about $5 a month per year of service. The industry reportedly offered $4.50 a month per year. The present maximum pension is about $7.60 a month per year of service.

The Wage Policy Committee is mainly made up of minor local union officials and some rank-and-file members, elected by rank and files.

Cong Hit In Delta Area, Bombers Strike Highlands

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese troops whacked the Viet Cong in the steaming swamps of the Mekong River delta south of Saigon Saturday and U.S. B52 jet bombers pounded suspected guerrilla positions in the highlands far to the north.

In the air war over Communist North Viet Nam, a U.S. Air Force Phantom jet crashed after failing to pull out of a diving attack on a bridge. The pilot was presumed killed. Heavy antiaircraft fire was reported in the area.

FROM GUAM
The eight-engine B52s, flying from Guam, hit targets in Quang Tin Province, 320 miles northeast of Saigon. It was the 18th B52 strike of the war.

U.S. Military spokesmen gave no further details of the strike, presumably another saturation bombing of areas in which the Viet Cong guerrillas were believed dug in.

In the jungle swamps of the Mekong River delta, the government force was reported to have killed 53 Viet Cong.

But elsewhere in the Mekong area, the guerrillas attacked a government outpost 135 miles south of Saigon, inflicting heavy casualties. Regional forces eventually drove the attackers off.

CAPTURE 24
A government force ranging around Vinh Binh Province 75 miles southwest of Saigon captured 24 guerrillas Friday in a battle that was launched Thursday at the mouth of the Bassac River, 25 miles west of the provincial capital of Phu Vinh.

U.S. officials listed as missing a U.S. Air Force pilot whose plane was brought down by North Vietnamese gunners Thursday 100 miles west of Hanoi, the Communist capital.

In Saturday's raids on the North, U.S. planes hammered at warehouse areas, bridges and trucks. Two U.S. B57 jet bombers attacked a fiery complex with five tons of bombs 85 miles southeast of Vinh. The planes drew light ground fire but both were said to have returned safely.

Forty other U.S. Air Force jets roamed the skies over the North in 10 different missions to hit targets of opportunity. A spokesman said pilots reported damage or destruction to bridges, staging areas and military barracks.

AIR ACTION
U.S. air action in South Viet Nam included strikes against troop positions, rest and supply areas and base camps.

A Viet Cong assembly area under fire of the U.S. 7th Fleet destroyer Kyes Friday in Quang Ngai Province, about 300 miles north of Saigon. Spotters said the ship's shells destroyed or damaged 66 structures.

There were these developments abroad:
— W. Averell Harriman, U.S. ambassador at large, told newsmen in Helsinki, Finland, the Soviet Union is concerned about the Vietnamese war and wants a peaceful solution. Harriman had private talks with Soviet leaders in Moscow in July.

— Communist China again warned Britain on what Peking calls the movement of U.S. military planes and ships through Hong Kong en route to South Viet Nam. Hong Kong is a British colony.

An article in the Peking People's Daily, the official newspaper, told the British: "You must immediately stop all the activities of the U.S. aggressor forces in Hong Kong and stop turning Hong Kong into a base of operation for the U.S. aggressor forces."

U.S. Recognizes Dominican Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced Saturday U.S. recognition of the new government in Santo Domingo, thus closing one chapter in the Dominican story which began with a bloody revolt in April.

Johnson called the next chapter a "beginning a new road to peace, freedom and hope for the Dominican people." To help it on its way he pledged $20 million in U.S. aid.

Much more American assistance is planned in the long process of reconstructing the Dominican economy. Administration sources said they do not know yet how much the tab will come to.

In the months ahead, negotiations with the new, interim regime of Hector Garcia-Goody are expected to lead also to the withdrawal of the inter-American military force. Some 9,400 U.S. troops and 1,779 Latin Americans from five countries now make up the OAS peace force there.

In a statement issued at his Texas ranch, Johnson said the agreement by rival Dominican factions on a provisional government under Garcia-Goody "marked the end of an impasse which had brought danger and hardship to the Dominican people during four long and difficult months."

Under the Dominican settlement worked out after lengthy negotiations shepherded by an OAS team including Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to the OAS, elections are to be held next May for a regular government. The initial $20 million from Washington is to finance essential Dominican government operations and to start some recovery projects.

The Dominican episode began April 24 with a coup against the Donald Reid Cabral government. Johnson ordered in U.S. Marines to the country April 28 with the stated aim of saving and preventing a Communist takeover.

Johnson said the new government is to be a "beginning a new road to peace, freedom and hope for the Dominican people." To help it on its way he pledged $20 million in U.S. aid.

Not Worried About Sailboat

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — The wife of one of four crewmen on a sailboat missing in the Gulf of Mexico said Saturday she was "not too worried" about the men.

Mrs. Ben Hill explained that she did not expect the boat to reach its destination for several more days.

She said she received a telephone call from her husband on Aug. 28 while he was in Corpus Christi. She quoted him as saying he expected the boat to arrive in Tampa, Fla., about Sept. 11.

The 30-foot sailboat left Port Isabel Aug. 25 and was reported due in Tampa Bay Aug. 31. Aboard were a Mr. Gerhart of Tampa, his two sons and Mrs. Hill's husband.

Mrs. Hill said she had informed the Coast Guard in Miami and New Orleans of her husband's call.

Irritation Is Growing In U.S.-India Relations

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A serious irritation in U.S.-Indian relations is developing.

One indication is the formal Indian protest to Washington against what New Delhi claims is Pakistani misuse of U.S. military aid in the Kashmir fighting.

Another is growing resentment against what Indians feel is Washington's equal treatment for "aggressor" and "aggressed."

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's government feels strongly that in the current Kashmir fighting Pakistan is clearly the aggressor and India the victim — and that the world recognizes it.

Now India wants the leaders of friendly countries — including the United States — to stand up and say it.

But Indian officials complained that the United States and other nations addressed identical cease-fire appeals to India and Pakistan without taking into account which country is in the wrong.

Officials contend neither the United States nor Britain, for example, is known to have asked Pakistan to withdraw what India charges are Pakistani-trained guerrillas from Indian-held Kashmir. New Delhi thinks Washington should make the request.

This Indian attitude overlooks the fact that after 18 years of involved Indian-Pakistani quarreling over Kashmir, many nations have such difficulty in determining who started what that they do not dare apportion the blame.

But many Indians feel the root cause of the neutrality of many countries is an unprincipled desire to play both sides.

The United States particularly is accused of this, despite the fact that Washington's $5-billion aid bill in Pakistan is overshadowed by the $4 billion spent in India.

U.S. military aid to Pakistan is about a billion dollars and military help to India runs to about $200 million. This disparity is because India shunned military aid until the border war with Red China in 1962.

Ironically, U.S.-Pakistan relations are strained and a major factor is U.S. military aid to India.

There is an in-built bitterness in India over Washington's gift of planes, tanks and other military hardware to Pakistan.

Defends Bill For Home Rule

JOHNSON CITY (AP) — President Johnson has told eight complaining congressmen that the Justice Department finds no violation of the Constitution in a proposed new District of Columbia home rule bill.

In a letter made public Saturday, Johnson replied to their contention that the bill might raise a constitutional question of taxing of federal property and the appropriation power of Congress.

The eight congressmen included John Dowdy, D-Tex. They wrote the President saying the bill "would completely abdicate the mandate of the Constitution" and "would set precedence for treasury raids never before conceived or considered."

The President said these problems had been considered by the Senate District Committee, whose chairman requested an opinion.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark replied, asserting that "The bill does not authorize the District of Columbia to tax federal property and therefore does not raise a constitutional question in that regard," the President wrote, adding:

"Further, General Clark stated, the bill does not propose an unconstitutional delegation of the appropriation power of Congress."

Four Killed In Accident

RAYMONDVILLE (AP) — Four persons, including three small children, were killed and two injured, at least one critically, Saturday when their car and a train smashed together.

The shattering crash occurred at a grade crossing on Farm Road 88, two miles north of Delta Lake Reservoir in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Killed were Henrique B. Rodriguez, 35, of Corpus Christi and his three children, Ricardo, a 4-month-old infant, Ninfa, 3, and Henry, 5.

Rodriguez' wife, Manuelita, 37, was taken to a Raymondville hospital in undetermined condition. The couple's other child, Christina, 2, was listed in critical condition.

The family automobile burst into flames after the crash, but crewmen from the Missouri Pacific train quickly extinguished the fire.

Police who investigated the accident said the Corpus Christi family was en route to San Juan for a holiday visit with relatives.

Israeli Troops Strike In Jordan

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli infantry squads Saturday blew up 11 pumping stations in the Kalkiyah region, inside Jordanian territory, an Israeli Army spokesman announced.

"The squads returned to their bases safely," he said. Jordanian fire from a position to the east of Kalkiyah toward the Eyal settlement in Israel was silenced by the Israeli forces, he said.

M. L. Nunn Dies Saturday

Milford Lee Nunn, 56, died at 5:45 p.m. Saturday in a local hospital, after an illness of three months.

Light Turnout For Voting Expected

AUSTIN (AP)—Fewer than 200,000 Texans, the smallest turnout in 20 years, will decide Tuesday whether to enlarge the state Senate.

Rural senators, who once predicted the plan would be defeated by city voters, are optimistic over the prospect of a light vote.

The Texas Election Bureau estimates a turnout of 150,000 to 200,000 of the 1,970,381 qualified to vote.

The 39-member Senate proposal sprang from what sponsors admitted was an attempt to save the jobs of all current senators and still meet court demands for redistricting to increase cities' representation.

The legislature's failure to pass enabling legislation for use if voters approved the amendment brought several senators to conclude that the proposal is—as the state AFL-CIO says—a pig in a poke.

Many senators brightened up this summer when expected opposition didn't appear.

Sen. Louis Crump of San Saba, Redistricting Committee chairman, who gave only lukewarm initial support to the proposal and never was optimistic about its adoption, argued last week: "It will permit Senate committees to function more properly and permit better evaluation of increased legislation brought about by our rapid industrial and population growth."

The dilemma which faced lawmakers was federal court-ordered redistricting which would force up to eight senators to lose their seats by having their districts combined.

Senators redistricted themselves with a plan throwing seven senators into re-election races with colleagues. The plan has not been attacked in court, as have state House and Congressional redistricting plans.

The 31-senator plan gives the four largest counties, now with four senators, a total of 10 seats.

The 39-member plan of Sen. Jack Strong of Longview gave those four counties 12 seats.

Following the failure of the Strong plan, senators agreed to a resolution urging the governor and lieutenant governor and the executive committees of both parties to support the constitutional amendment.

Among supporters of the 39-member Senate are the Dallas News and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

"The larger body will more nearly achieve a proper balance," the News said.

The Star-Telegram said "better government could result from spreading the lawmaking workload among more members and by cutting down the number of constituents represented by each senator."

The state AFL-CIO campaigned against the amendment, contending "a state that can be represented by 23 congressmen can get along with 31 state senators."

Both Houston dailies oppose the plan.

The Chronicle said the "amendment is unwise; and is primarily to soothe the feelings of senators whose districts have for years been more representative of acres than people."

"The Texas Senate belongs to the people, not to the senators who happen to be occupying its red leather chairs at any given time," said the Houston Post.

August passed into history leaving three less lawsuits pending in 118th District Court than were on file when the month began.

Fern Cox, district court clerk, said that as of Aug. 31, there were 964 suits pending in the court. The month started off with 967.

During the month there were 61 new suits of all kinds filed. Sixty-four were disposed of during the month. Fifty-five of these were tried before the court and nine were dismissed. No jury cases were heard in August.

Divorces, which began the month with 210 on hand, wound up the month with 206. Nineteen petitions were granted, three were dismissed.

Tax suits dropped 15 to 317. Criminal cases started off the month with 57 on hand. Eight new cases were filed and six were tried before the court during the month. Three were dismissed. The total as of Aug. 31 stood at 56, which is low for this phase of court activities.

What! No Parking Area?

The student parking area, east of Big Spring High School, has been graded for construction of buildings and new football field and track, but might possibly be used some in dry weather.

Parking Space At Premium For Opening Of High School

Drivers of automobiles going to Big Spring High School this year will be faced with a parking problem—most of the time. The former student parking areas, on the east and west ends of the building, are torn up in construction of additions to the building.

Faculty members will have use of most of the off-street parking area along Eleventh Place, but there will not be enough space for all of them.

No discussion of the problem had been held between school officials and the police department Friday, Chief Jay Banks said.

The school board knows about the problem, and members have made an effort to secure some space near the school where buildings may be removed and parking area built.

Until more space is provided, most parking will probably be some distance from the school. The possibility of car pools among students may be discussed when high school classes open next week.

"In the meantime we are faced with the problem of having patrolmen at all schools during the first few days to encourage drivers to observe proper habits," Banks said. "We hope they will not double park, use 'no parking' areas, park in cross walks, or fail to obey traffic signs.

"We have instructed traffic supervisors to make extensive use of radar on all streets in, or leading to, school areas to cut down on speeding," he said. "Of course we are going to have more men — perhaps some extras — around the high school until proper driving and parking habits are observed.

"Most of the school zone signs on the sides of streets near schools have not yet been put up, but will be up by the time students begin classes. The signs normally used in the centers of streets in front of schools, along cross walks, seem to have the most value, but we hope drivers will also watch other traffic signs," he said.

or get off school buses," the chief warned. "Drivers do not always observe the state law which says they must stop for a 'stopped school bus' regardless of the direction they are driving."

There is a possibility that students may be able to use a portion of the construction site east of the gymnasium, at least for a part of the year, when there is no wet weather, according to the architect's field superintendent. He said cars would not be permitted on the ground when wet, because of the expense of re-surfacing and settling.

"All we can say," Banks said Friday, "is that we will do the best we can with the men we have, and hope drivers will be in a cooperative mood while the high school parking problem exists."

Watch Speed

Flashing orange signals are used in streets in some areas showing school zones, with 25-mile speed limits. Regular 25-mile limit may be used when light is not flashing, or center stop signs up.

For Pedestrian Use Only

White stripes mark places where students may cross streets at intersections and in front of schools.

Earthquake Shakes Up Alaska Fishing Town

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — A sharp, rolling earthquake shook this south central Alaska fishing town early today, but apparently caused little if any damage.

"This really shook us," said Mrs. S. Wayne Kotula of the Kodiak Mirror, "but it wasn't nearly as bad or as frightening as the big one on March 27, 1964.

The earth tremor was felt over a wide area of south central Alaska including Anchorage, badly damaged in the big shake last year.

Webb Pilots Take Tests

Federal Aviation Agency officials from Lubbock were at Webb Friday administering the military competence test for commercial pilot certificates to members of the graduating pilot training class 65-B.

Those passing the test to receive the civilian commercial pilot certificate with instrument rating were 2nd Lieutenants Dennis R. Bender, Claude A. Billings, Francis T. Brady Jr., Robert N. Brentnall, John D. Brown, Douglas S. Catchings, Jerome T. Daley, Robert C. Davison, Roger B. Dunn, Arthur G. Ericson, James V. Fiorelli, Daniel G. Galloway, Kenneth E. Gilmore, Charles W. Spangler, Daniel S. Trial, and Randall W. Vaeth.

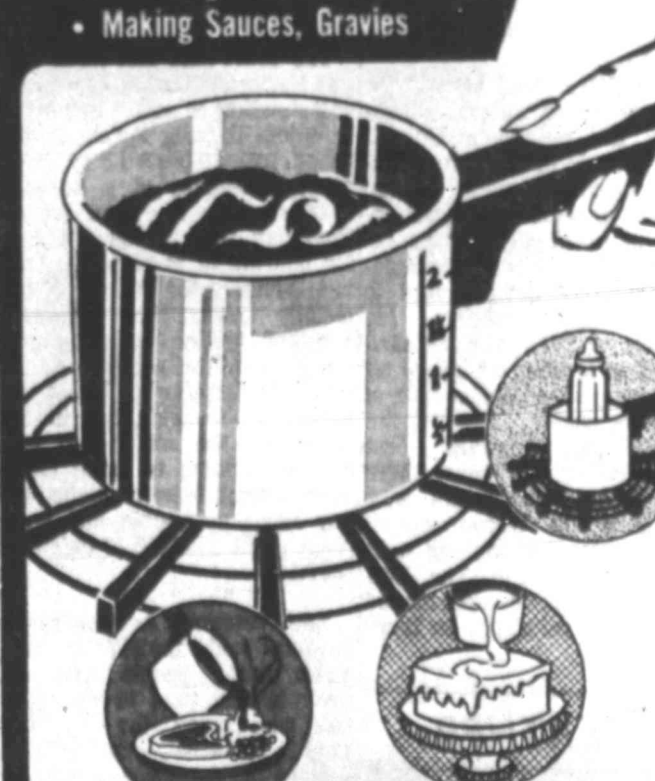

L. Catchings, 1515-A Wood, and from Menlo Park, Calif., made highest grade. Lt. Davison, 1603 Wren, and from Weston, Mass., is scheduled for a flight check for an additional rating Wednesday at Midland.

To Conduct Lab

Durward Rutledge, Big Spring, is listed as one of 67 Arlington State College students who will conduct a leadership laboratory Sept. 7-12 at Dear Cove Lodge on the Lake of the Pines near Jefferson. Most campus organizations will be represented at the five-day conference.

Red City Floats Near U. S. Coast

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (AP)—There's a Russian city of more than 30,000 population off the New England coast. The city hasn't any mayor but it has up to 350 captains. The captains are skippers of fishing vessels, the smallest of which is larger than U.S. fishing craft sailing out of Boston, Gloucester or New Bedford. It has been estimated that last year the Russians caught 617,000 tons of fish in the northwest Atlantic, almost double the U.S. catch. The floating Russian city has a rather sedate night life, probably the highest percentage of chess players and movie fans in the world. Soviet vessels rarely fish at night; it isn't very productive. Supply ships shuttle from the Soviet Union bringing mail, fuel, fresh food and new movies.

Films are swapped whenever Soviet ships rendezvous at sea, and results of chess tournaments are radioed among the fleet. ENJOY TV When some Soviet fishery officials spent several days on a U.S. Coast Guard vessel recently they particularly enjoyed American television, which their own sets can't receive. "They liked 'Peyton Place,'" they said it seemed very true to life," recalls Ernest J. Medico, a fisheries management agent of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Department of Interior, who spent over a week aboard a Soviet ship. Women number between 5 and 10 per cent of the Soviet crews. Many of the doctors are women. The large factory ships may have three doctors. There are also women radio operators and other technicians as well as stewardesses, kitchen workers and waitresses. Charles L. Philbrook, also a fisheries management agent, makes weekly flights over the Soviet fleet in a Coast Guard amphibian from Salem, Mass. Philbrook says "sometimes whole crews of deck workers stop to look up at us and wave."

TO FISHERMEN
A weekly report on foreign vessels is serviced to American fishermen after each flight. Philbrook relays information on types of fish seen on deck or the gear in use. He also reports anything of interest to the Defense Department.

Large-scale Soviet fishing began off the New England coast in 1961. Last summer over 350 vessels were sighted off Nantucket and Cape Cod. The number has dropped this summer, probably because the Russians are making more-efficient use of their vessels as they become familiar with the fishing grounds.

The fleet, already 3,000 miles from home, is ranging further south as a huge fishing port, supply center, shipyards and processing plants near completion in Cuba.

Philbrook says "our fishermen concentrate on 'money fish' such as haddock. The Russians seek 'bulk fish' such as herring, whiting and red hake."

A protein shortage in the Soviet Union, officials say, has led to a worldwide expansion of Soviet fishing.

The long-term effect of the massive Soviet drive on the fishery resources is a subject of hot arguments among American fishermen. While many of the species the Russians seek are ignored by local fishermen, others maintain that such intensive fishing will eventually affect all species.

Servicemen's Leaves To Hong Kong Stopped

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The United States has ordered a temporary suspension of holiday flights to Hong Kong for U.S. servicemen here, a military spokesman said Sunday. Communist China demanded last week that Britain, which rules the island off the Chinese coast, cut off the flights. The spokesman said the official reason given here for the suspension was the rapid build-up of American military personnel in Viet Nam. In the past, troops stationed here became eligible for leave periods in Hong Kong and military flights went back and forth on a shuttle basis. They have averaged one or two a day. Military sources here said they understood British authorities in Hong Kong had discussed the Chinese demands with American officials in the island city, but had no direct word of the talks.

It was not known how long the suspension would last nor whether it applied to personnel of the U.S. 7th Fleet which also has been using Hong Kong as a leave base.

The Chinese protest to Britain charged that the United States had granted the use of the Crown Colony as "a base of operations for their war of aggression against Viet Nam."

It demanded that Britain "immediately adopt effective measures to stop all activities of U.S. aggressor forces in Hong Kong and cease turning Hong Kong into a base of operations for the United States."

The note warned that if the British government "should allow Hong Kong to be drawn into the whirlpool of the U.S. war of aggression, it must bear full responsibility for all the consequences."

Mrs. Turner Funeral Held

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Olive F. Turner, 61, Stanton, died Thursday in a San Angelo hospital after an illness of 21 months. Services were held Saturday at Spill Memorial Chapel, Winters.

Born Leona Elizabeth Hodge Nov. 25, 1903, in DeWitt County, she moved with her family to Milam County, where she married O. F. Turner in 1921. The Turners moved to Runtels County, Wilmet, where Mr. Turner farmed near there and Norton until 1957 when they moved to Tarzan, where Mr. Turner now farms.

Mrs. Turner, who was a charter member of the Mazeland Methodist Church, Wilmet, is survived by her husband; a son, Floyd Turner, San Angelo; a daughter, Mrs. David Lick, Odessa; three sisters, Mrs. J. O. Smith, Abilene, and Mrs. J. R. McClellan and Mrs. Aileen Morgan, both of Corpus Christi; and a brother, James Hodge, Corpus Christi.

Open hearing on the Howard County 1965 budget is to be on Sept. 13 at the Howard County Commissioners Court room. Any person interested in the budget and how it is approved is invited to attend.

The budget, according to Edgar A. Phillips, county auditor, is slightly larger than the one for the present year. The increase, for the most part, is accounted for by the need for funds to pay interest and retirement on the road bonds voted a few months ago and to absorb the increased Social Security Tax payments made necessary by the revised bill which became a law recently.

There are no pay increases in the budget and the only pay boosts in sight will be those made automatically to employees who have served a year and are entitled to established pay hikes.

Hearing Set For Budget

Traffic Tickets Are Missing

HOUSTON (AP)—Eighty-one traffic tickets were missing from corporation court files Saturday, reported court auditor Jim Pittman.

A ticket-fixing scandal last March led to the firing of eight city employees. One other employee was permitted to resign.

Several tickets were anonymously mailed to Houston newspapers this week, and Pittman checked 250 tickets Saturday, discovered 81 were missing.

"We can very definitely assume that all 81 of these complaints have been stolen from our records," he said.

U.S. authorities have no doubt the Soviet fleet is gaining a detailed knowledge of U.S. coastal waters. Medico says he noted the Russians are now producing their own charts, with more detail than American charts, including use of color to indicate the type of sea bottom and even coastal roads.

ELECTRONIC AIDS
Russians, like American fishermen, use electronic aids to locate schools of fish. In recent years thermal layers in the ocean have become of great interest in undersea warfare research. Temperature layers deflect electronic devices used to detect hidden submarines. The Russians could gain detailed knowledge of thermal layers off the coast just in the course of legitimate fishing.

When the Russians first showed up off the coast there were several encounters with U.S. fishermen whose vessels became entangled in long drift nets set for herring. The Russians have since been persuaded to use radar reflectors on floating nets.

Peace Overtures Made To Rebels

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy made new peace overtures to the Dominican rebels Saturday night by naming two former supporters of ex-President Juan D. Bosch to the Cabinet and by stripping the powerful Armed Forces Training Center of much of its autonomy.

Garcia-Godoy ordered the training center, outside Santo Domingo, reintegrated into the Army in a move that may be aimed at the eventual ouster of the center's controversial commander, Gen. Elias Wessin Y Wessin.

Feeling continues to run high against Wessin Y Wessin in the rebel sector, where he is held largely responsible for the 1963 military coup that toppled Bosch, the country's first popularly elected president in more than a generation.

Rebel leaders also blame Wessin Y Wessin for air attacks on Santo Domingo in the first days after the revolution started April 24.

The two ex-Bosch men given ministries were among five cabinet posts filled by Garcia-Godoy. The vacant portfolios are Armed Forces, Interior, Labor and Foreign Affairs. Informants said Garcia-Godoy, 44-year-old diplomat-lawyer, probably will be his own foreign minister.

The cabinet appointments involving the former Bosch men were Agriculture, Silvestre Alba De Moya, 52, former governor of the Central Bank and Bosch's minister of labor; and Public Works, Salvador Sturla, 46, director of engineering and construction for a sugar company and a former city official under Bosch.

Garcia-Godoy's decision to put the training center under control of the Army chief of staff is part of his avowed aim to halt military interference in the country's political life. In the past, the center was responsible only to the armed forces secretary. Critics said this gave the center too much political maneuverability.

Feliz Tijerina, Founder Of 'Little Schools', Dies

HOUSTON (AP)—Feliz Tijerina, who started the "Little Schools of 400" to teach Latin American children 400 words of English before they started school, died at his home Saturday. He was 60.

Tijerina served four terms as national president of the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC), which helped launch the little schools program in 1957.

The schools spread across the state and helped thousands of children who couldn't speak English to get a better start in the first grade.

The government of Mexico awarded Tijerina a gold medal in 1962 for his work with the schools.

Tijerina owned five dining places in Houston and one each in Beaumont and Pasadena.

He had a heart ailment and had been undergoing examination recently.

Survivors include a widow, a daughter and a son. Funeral services are set for 3:30 p.m. Monday at the Geo. H. Lewis & Sons Chapel, and at 4 p.m. in St. Anne's Catholic Church.

THE WEEK

ple. Around 8,000 should show up the first day in the public schools, and Howard County Junior College, which starts Tuesday with freshman orientation and registering on Wednesday, should end up with 1,000 or more on the rolls.

Speaking of the college, word came through at mid-week that HJC was on the list to receive funds under the College Facilities Act. The amount is about $304,000, and with $500,000 which voters supplied earlier in bonds, this should be enough to finance new science and a new library buildings. Present facilities used for these purposes will then be converted to classrooms, making space for nearly 1,500 students.

The high school Bible Class Fund experienced a splendid week — about a thousand dollars raised. This is the final week of the appeal for voluntary contributions. So please don't delay longer — send your gift in today. About 100 youngsters who want to take the Bible course are depending on you.

Young people wanting to go to college but lacking the means should contact either HJC or the Big Spring superintendent's office. They may qualify for the student work program. If they do, they may get as many as 15 hours work a week.

The court held last week that the Northside United has no legal standing in court in its bid to join the Big Spring school board in spending bond moneys because of a decision to close Kate Morrison school. Thursday was set as the date for hearing of re-pleadings, but it is unlikely that this will materially alter the judgment. Whether further action is pursued on administrative or in other jurisdictional levels remains to be seen, but in the meantime the school and city are cooperating to make Lakeview school (where pupils will go) more accessible and complete (with addition of cafeteria service).

The Veterans Administration Hospital said "thanks" to three score young people who put their leisure time to an excellent use during the summer. This is not a new experience in service for these young folk, for witness the award to John Callahan for 1,000 hours of volunteer work.

Another of the area's old timers, Sam Ratliff, died last week. He came to Glasscock County in 1900 and was a stalwart citizen in that area. A week ago he and Mrs. Ratliff sent a memorial for the Rev. R. O. Browder, who had been their pastor. Now Mr. Ratliff has joined him.

The Howard County Juvenile Board has a job on its hands in seeking a replacement for Bob Darland, who resigned after serving 4½ years as juvenile officer. Darland broke the ice in this field when this work was put under a board and a trained agent required. Whoever is selected will benefit from this but cannot inherit the experience and contacts.

From the lower Rio Grande valley comes word (from Paul T. Vickers, who once was Midland's chamber of commerce manager) that Dr. H. D. Gilliam, a graduate of Lamesa High School, served as chairman of the dedication of the $250,000 traffic control tower at the Miller International Airport at McAllen.

One of Big Spring's citizens has been honored. Wayne A. Gound has been named as one of six members on the Commission on Pharmacy and Veterinary Medicine for the American Pharmaceutical Association. The commission was established in April to serve as a working forum and create a better understanding between the pharmaceutical and veterinary medicine professions.

Apache No. 1 G. G. Wright flowed at the rate of 240 barrels per day on a drillstem test as an extender to the Apache No. 1 Adams, recent discovery in the Brookings (NE) Cisco field of northwestern Howard County. Down in northern Glasscock County, Vaughn No. 3-A McDowell became the fifth producer in the McDowell (San Andres) pool near where the Permian Basin oil development was cradled 45 years ago.

A test of the city's ordinance in demolishing old structures is in the making. Tom and Emma Slaughter brought suit last week after a house at Eighteenth and Johnson had been demolished and the site leveled and cleaned.

Area conservationists got a chance to meet each other and the state director, H. N. Smith of Temple, here last week, as well as to get a briefing on Soil Conservation Service programs for 1965-66. J. C. Ebersole, who recently retired, got an award for 30 years of service.

Rites Set For Mrs. York

Mrs. Anna Belle York, 46, 1420 Tucson, died Friday at 10:40 p.m. in a local hospital after a lengthy illness.

Born June 6, 1919 in Beepe, Ark., she married O. D. York in Big Spring in 1942. She had moved from Arkansas to San Angelo in 1926, and then to Big Spring the next year.

Mrs. York was a teacher in the local school system for many years, and was a member of the First Methodist Church, where she taught a Sunday school class.

Services will be today at 4 p.m. in Nalley-Pickle's Rosewood Chapel, the Rev. Leo Geopastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Harold Rucker, assistant pastor. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Survivors include the husband of Dean Ann York, Big Spring; and a brother, Charlie Pruitt, Dallas.

Pallbearers will be Chuck Atwell, Bobby Hill, Dalton Carr, Bob Jones, Lige Fox and Melvin King.

Stand Stolen

The fourth newsstand theft in two weeks occurred Saturday, police said. The stand of the Odessa American was taken from in front of the Asia Cafe, 222 W. 3rd, early Saturday morning. The stand has not been recovered, officers said.

Severe Storm Rakes Wichita

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A swollen suburban Kansas City creek after a car in which she was riding was washed off a low-water bridge. Two youths and another girl in the car with her swam to safety.

John Yunker, 53, of Amarillo, Tex., was in an ice cream store as the tornado hit.

"I saw the sign bend over at the service station, across the street and said 'Let's go,'" Yunker related.

He and other customers crawled underneath the tables. None suffered serious injury.

The funnel formed and hit so quickly it escaped detection on the Weather Bureau radar screen, forecasters said.

Thunderstorms and showers were widespread throughout Kansas, southeast Nebraska and west-central Missouri during the night.

Woman Hurt In Car Crash

A traffic collision Saturday at 7:30 p.m. resulted in injury to Mrs. Frank A. Loving, 203 N. Goliad, a passenger in a car driven by Frank A. Loving Jr., when the car was involved in a mishap with a car driven by Willard Ray Lane, Sterling City. The accident occurred at the intersection of Seventh St. and Lamesa Drive, officers said.

Mrs. Loving was treated and released from Malone and Hogan Clinic, according to attendants.

Another Saturday evening accident resulted in damage to three vehicles, but no one was injured. The car of John Wesley Martin, 1318 Sycamore, struck two parked cars belonging to Thomas J. Barger Sr., 1705 Aylford, and Thomas J. Barger Jr., 311 W. 4th, at 311 W. 4th.

At Wasson Road and Marcy Drive, Avitta M. Corlin, 2503 Carleton, and Ray Lewis Dabney, 2202 Alabama, escaped injuries when their cars collided, officers said.

The cars of James Monroe Cogdell, 622 Ridgely, and David R. Huet II, Webb AFB, were in collision at 6:14 p.m. Both cars were lightly damaged, officers said.

No one was injured in two Friday accidents.

Robert Lee Sweigart, Webb AFB, and Mattie Morris Andrews, escaped injuries when their cars collided at Fifth and Gregg; and the cars of John Frederick Barris, 2507 US 80 west, and Joe Cunningham, Garden City, were in collision at 18th and Gregg, resulting in light damage to both vehicles, police said.

Guardsmen Stay On Duty

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi National Guardsmen assigned to prevent racial rioting plan to remain in Natchez through the Labor Day weekend.

The city remained calm Saturday. A boycott called by state Field Director Charles Evers of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was the only move pressed by civil rights forces.

This historic city, atop a Mississippi River bluff, appeared normal downtown as weekend shoppers frequented stores. Whites and Negroes carried packages of purchases.

A guard spokesman said 650 troops ordered here Thursday by Gov. Paul Johnson would remain through the holiday weekend. The Mississippi Highway Patrol said "he 75 officers it had on hand for the racial crisis will remain on duty."

The tense racial situation peaked Thursday when the city rejected 12 Negro civil rights demands after the National Guard arrived.

Evers persuaded a crowd of several hundred, mostly young Negroes, not to stage a march, and civil rights forces have limited action to mass rallies and the boycott.

Hagler Arrested Again, In Australia This Time

DALLAS (AP)—David Hagler Jr., a police character from the Dallas-Fort Worth area who skipped bond last year, is in jail again — this time in Australia.

The FBI said Friday that Hagler was arrested in Canberra by Australian police.

Authorities began legal moves to return Hagler for trial here on swindling charges. He disappeared last year while free under two bonds of $1,000, which were forfeited.

Hagler, 47, was acquitted in a 1954 torch murder case, a body was found burned beyond identification in a car near Davis, Okla. Hagler claimed he had been drinking and blacked out.

Frank St. Claire of Irving, a former business associate of Hagler, told him he was going to get a body from a morgue for $500 and cremate it in a $200,000 insurance plot. St. Claire later committed suicide.

Hagler was arrested in 1963 at Las Vegas, Nev., and police had questioned him at other times.

The Dallas swindling cases came up for trial in March of 1964.

Then on March 11, 1964, a rented plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico near Port Lavaca. Officers found evidence

Citations Go To Camacho

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Army M. Sgt. Isaac Camacho, the first American soldier to escape a Viet Cong prison camp, was awarded the Silver Star and the Bronze Star in special ceremonies Saturday at Ft. Bliss.

Accompanying the citations presented by Maj. Gen. George T. Powers III, commander of Ft. Bliss, was a telegram from President Johnson, who ordered the medals presented.

The telegram read: "Your service to your country in Viet Nam typifies the finest in the youth of our great nation. Your valiant efforts during a time of crisis deserves the highest praise. A grateful nation recognizes your deeds by awarding you a Silver Star for valor and a Bronze Star for meritorious service. Sincere thanks from the country you served so gallantly."

Camacho was promoted to the rank of master sergeant Friday. He was captured by the Viet Cong in November 1963 and escaped in July of this year.

Cotton Growers Favor Senate Version Of Bill

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, squeezed his version of a cotton program through committee Sept. 2 on a vote of eight to seven. An alternate proposal, presented on behalf of the administration by Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D-Ga.), was defeated in committee by seven votes to eight.

Ellender's proposal, as approved by the committee is almost at the opposite pole from the House plan, and if passed by the full Senate promises extreme difficulty of compromise in the resulting Senate - House conference committee. The Agriculture Department prefers the provisions passed by the House and can be expected to push for their restoration in the omnibus farm bill on the Senate floor.

One possible solution should conferees face the need to compromise the two widely diverse plans would be a return to the current program for one or two years or even for the full four-year life of the bill. Some observers have maintained that this has been a distinct possibility all along.

SENATE BILL

Preliminary reports say the Senate Agriculture Committee cotton section is a four-year program which would:

1. Maintain the 16 million acre minimum national allotment, with no mandatory cut-back of acreage in order to qualify for government support;
2. Provide a loan level set by the secretary of agriculture at between 65 and 90 per cent of parity for average of the crop at average location (when adjusted to middling-inch cotton with parity at the present level of 42.02 cents, this would be about a 28 cent minimum and a maximum of about 38.5 cents);

3. Set a domestic allotment for each grower, set for the four years at 65 per cent of effective allotment (after release and reapportioned acres);
4. Provide a payment in 1966 to producers who plant only their domestic acreage, amounting to 25 per cent of the loan value times projected yield from domestic allotment;
5. Give the secretary authority to set the amount of the domestic payment in 1967, 1968 and 1969 at anywhere between 20 per cent and 40 per cent of the loan value (5.6 to 11.2 cents per pound with the loan at 28 cents);
6. Retain current release and reapportionment regulations;
7. Require no reduction in plantings by producers with allotments of 10 acres or less in order to qualify for the domestic payment (as opposed to 15 acre allotments under the Act of 1964);
8. Provide for a payment of three cents per pound to domestic mills, and
9. Require the secretary to export at least six million bales of cotton each year, remove his authority to set the export price for U.S. cotton prior to the beginning of the marketing year, and require him to meet world market prices as reflected by market quotations from Osaka, Bremen and Liverpool.

MUST EXPORT

In this latter provision, any time the secretary failed to accept a bid price equal to any of the three specified markets he would be required within 30 days to explain to Congress why such bid was refused.

In contrast to the Senate committee recommendation, the cotton section of HR 9811 would set the loan at below the world market price, make a variable direct payment to producers, require a 15 per cent acreage reduction for participation and permit unlimited planting by producers who did not participate.

Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., said while the Senate bill is certainly not what High Plains growers want, "it comes closer to complying with the legislative principles adopted by the PCG board than does the House version." He essentially referred to the fact that the Senate committee proposal maintains the non-recourse loan concept for protecting producer income, effectively maintains the 16 million acre minimum and at least attempts to assure increased exports.

Most objectionable features of the plan, according to Johnson, would be the possibility of a 28 cent loan and the breaking of the "one price" system.

Philippines Allow Flights

MANILA (AP) — The Philippine government has extended flight permits to two American airlines operating to Manila pending the resumption of talks with the United States.

The order allows Northwest Airlines and Pan American Airways to operate three flights weekly to Manila on a temporary basis.

Air negotiations between the Philippines and the United States were suspended earlier this month after a deadlock developed over trans-Pacific routing.

Man Charged In Shooting, Woman Treated For Wound

Police arrested Arthur Lee Parker, 304 NW 7th, early Saturday morning, after he had been charged with attempted murder. Parker is in the county jail under $2,500 bond, set by Peace Justice Walter Grice, in whose office the charge was filed.

Clereca Ezell, 404 N. Bell, was treated and released from Cowper Clinic Friday night after she was admitted with a gunshot wound in the chest. The bullet had entered and emerged from the woman's chest, according to the treating physician.

Called to 304 NW 7th by Tom Samuel Jr., who owns the apartment, police found the sheetrock walls of the Parker apartment had been damaged, evidently in a fight. Searching for Parker about 1:30 a.m., officers saw a woman staggering near the corner of Northwest Third and Lancaster. She asked them what to do for a gunshot wound and implicated Parker. Police called an ambulance, and after Parker's arrest, began a search. Patrolmen located Parker at Northwest Fifth near Northwest Sixth at 2:45 a.m. Saturday, and arrested him. A .22-caliber pistol was found in his pocket, officers said.

At the police station, Parker made a statement. Parker said he and the Ezell woman had an argument and a fight. He said he did not know she was wounded. He said he was leaving town when police found him.

Where CRMWD Hopes To Build New Lake

Pascal Odom, engineer, points to the location of the dam on the Colorado River where the Colorado River Municipal Water District hopes soon to begin preliminary work on a 489,000-acre foot lake. The Texas Water Rights Commission last week granted a permit for the lake, climaxing five years of effort to begin work on a new long-range water supply for this region.

New Lake May Be Ready To Catch Water By '68

If everything goes without a major hitch, the Colorado River Municipal Water District could be impounding water in its new lake above Robert Lee during the first quarter of 1968.

Although five years of study and engineering have gone into the project, it is so big that most observers estimate that it will take two and a half years to complete the plans, get the land and complete the job. It could take longer.

The first step will be to get green light from the board of directors, which is due to meet in Big Spring probably around the middle of the month, to consider the annual budget. Under the leadership of Charles Perry, Odessa, the board is expected to lay out some broad outlines of procedure.

Here are a few of the things to be considered:
Survey of the dam and basin sites, appraisals on the required land, engineering and proposals on the surveying and appraisals. The board may take initial steps toward preparing for the financing, for this is a meticulous process, especially when it comes to raising such large sums of money.

The district has invested approximately $25,000 in borings and other tests for the foundation of the dam, but some additional work of this type will be required. When it comes to piling a mountain of earth 784 feet at the base and rising 132 feet high to a 20-foot width at the top, and when it comes to building concrete spillways so heavy that they will cost from a fourth to a third of the project outlay, engineers have to be certain about the foundation area. The dam will stretch approximately four miles across the river valley and will involve moving nine and a quarter million cubic yards of dirt.

struct several pollution diversion works on the Colorado River between Lake J. B. Thomas and the new lake. These will be low-water dams which will trap the normal low flow of the river, which is extremely salty, and drain the briny water into cisterns set in the banks. Contents will be pumped out and disposed of in oilfield repressuring, and in so doing, will keep the river bed as clear as possible of pollutants so that good quality flood waters will roll over the low dams and down to the new lake.

All of this points to a busy timetable for the district, and the board and Ivie are giving considerable study to it. If no legal blocks are thrown up within the next 30 days, Oct. 1 could see the machinery begin to turn.

Elected To Diocese Post
SAN ANGELO — At a special meeting Friday of the six diocesan consultants the Very Rev. Leo J. Bujnowski, pastor of Sacred Heart Church in Coleman and himself one of the diocesan consultants, was elected by secret ballots as the administrator of the San Angelo diocese.

The other five consultants are Msgr. Andrew Marthaler, pastor of St. Joseph's, Rowena; Rev. Charles Knapp, pastor of St. Theresa's Sanatorium; Rev. Arnold Boeding, pastor of St. Mary's, Odessa; Rev. Emil Gerlich, pastor of Holy Family, Sweetwater, and Rev. William Lensing, pastor of St. John's, Hermleigh.

In addition to his duties as diocesan administrator, Rev. Bujnowski will continue for the time-being to carry on the work of Sacred Heart parish in Coleman.

Rev. Bujnowski, born in Comanche, lived in Europe for 28 years before returning to the United States to study for the priesthood. In April, 1934, he was ordained to the priesthood at St. John's Seminary in San Antonio.

France Turns Down Invitation
BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany will join Britain and Italy on a nuclear planning committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization but France has turned down an invitation to participate, U.S. sources reported Friday.

The committee, scheduled to meet in Paris in October, was proposed by U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara last May. It is intended to give countries without nuclear experience a share in planning and related problems.

Golf Victors And Vanquished

Smith Team Upsets Wrights In Tourney

The unrelated Smith boys, Robb and Jan, of Big Spring, sprang the first big upset of the 34th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament at the Country Club Saturday afternoon when they fanned out the Wright brothers, Bobby and Marvin, also of Big Spring, 2 up. Robb, who is attached to Webb AFB here, and Jan never trailed in the match and had a four-up lead at one stage in the match. The Smith tandem has captured medal honors in the meet Friday when they toured the course in 66 strokes, five under regular figures. VETERAN IS HOT The veteran Obie Bristow of Big Spring, who invited youthful Benny Burleson of Midland to play with him, played some torrid golf to muscle aside the twosome of Jack Cook and M. R. (Frog) Koger, Big Spring by a margin of 5 and 3. Bristow and Burleson built up an early lead and never lost it. Obie birdied four holes along the way. He is in the midst of a hot golf streak and Burleson gave him a lot of help. The two made the turn five up. The other matches went about according to form. Second round opponents of the Smith-Smith tandem will be Eddie Don Harris, Big Spring, and Bobby Blumh, Lamesa, who labored through 21 holes before Blumh canned a birdie then sunk the father-son combination of E. L. (Son) and Frank Powell, Big Spring. Frank's bid for a two on the hole hit the pin and rolled away. Bristow and Burleson must face the double-tough combination of Jake Broyles and Sam Miller, both of Fort Stockton, today. Broyles and Miller hung a 4 and 2 defeat on the Midland combination of Jim Pritchett and Jack Simons. Roy Peden, Kermit, a veteran

Longhorns Show Need For Much More Work

Big Spring wore down Sweetwater and outscored the Mustangs by a margin of about four touchdowns to one in a scrimmage here Saturday night but not before the spirited Mustangs made the locals look bad on occasions. Early in the tussle, the visitors took the fight to the Steers and hammered out sizeable gains in Big Spring territory. Coach Don Robbins said the Longhorns would work out twice Monday, once at 8:30 a.m. and again at 4 p.m., as the locals concentrate on drills for Friday night's game with Lamesa. Robbins said that the Steers against Sweetwater looked wretched on pass defense, didn't rush and contain the passer and didn't do a good job of picking up the opposition's "stunts."

U.S. Links Team In Tie With English

BALTIMORE (AP) — The United States Walker Cup team rallied from five points behind and charged to a tie with Great Britain Saturday in the finals of the international amateur golf competition. The Britons apparently had it sewed up when they led 10-5 going into the last eight singles. They quickly increased the margin to 11-7, needing only one more victory to clinch their second triumph since the international competition began in 1922. The United States, however, won four of the five last singles and halved the other — on which no points are awarded — to gain the first tie in Walker Cup history. Billy Joe Patton climaxed the whirlwind comeback with a 4 and 2 victory over Mike Lunt. In all the U.S. amateurs won six of the last eight singles and halved the other. As the defender, the U.S. keeps the cup which has gone to the other side of the Atlantic only once since 1938. The British went tumbling down in startling style before 5,000 spectators, including the ambassador from Britain, Sir Patrick Dean. The British went into the last eight singles with a 10-5 lead in the two-day event. They had to win only two of the singles to annex the cup. After Gordon Cosh, 26-year-old Scot, won the third match 4 and 3 over Don Allen, 27, of Rochester, N.Y., the invaders could have finished on top by merely tying two of the remaining five. Twenty-year-old Clive Clark did his bit by sinking a 34-foot, breaking putt for a birdie on the 18th hole to square his match with Mark Hopkins, 22-year-old Texan. But the Yankees didn't give an inch in the six other matches and victories were scored by Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., Dean Berman of Bethesda, Md., Ed Tutwiler of Indianapolis, Ind., Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., David Eichelberger of Waco, Tex., and Paton from Morganton, N.C.

Cincy Rallies To Tip Phils

CINCINNATI (AP) — Deron Johnson slapped a two-run single to right field in the ninth inning, capping a three-run uprising and giving the Cincinnati Reds a 5-4 victory over Philadelphia Saturday night. The victory kept the second-place Reds one game behind the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers. Tommy Helms got the Reds started with a leadoff single in the ninth inning off Phillies' starter Jim Bunning. Gordy Coleman followed with a pinch-hit single and Tommy Harper sacrificed. Pete Rose then singled home the first run. With runners on second and third, Chris Short replaced Bunning on the mound. Vada Pinson bounced to 'shortstop Bobby Wine, who tried to get pinch runner Lee May after he left third base. But May got back in ahead of the throw and the bases were loaded. CINCINNATI PHILADELPHIA

Orioles Wing Indians, 2-1, In 11th Inning

BALTIMORE (AP) — Luis Aparicio's single in the 11th inning, only the fourth Baltimore hit, drove in Dave Johnson and gave the Orioles a 1-0 victory over Cleveland Saturday night. The Orioles broke through immediately after Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts took out starter Sam McDowell at the start of the inning. McDowell had allowed only two hits and had struck out 16 when Tebbetts decided he had gone far enough. With Bob Tiefenauer pitching, Jerry Adair opened the 11th with a double. Charley Lau then was intentionally passed and Russ Snyder hit into a force play. Johnson then went into the run for Lau and raced home as Aparicio singled to center. McDowell, who lifted his American League-leading

Phil Rodgers Takes Lead In Tournament

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Stocky Phil Rodgers, a former collegiate champion from San Diego, Calif., fired a three-under-par 69 Saturday to forge a one-stroke lead after 54 holes of the $65,000 Oklahoma City Open golf tournament. Rodgers, 27, who won the individual title and took the University of Houston to the NCAA crown in 1958, went four under par for the tournament at 212 after rounds of 72 and 71 the first two days. The 5-foot-6 175-pounder toured the 7,173-yard par-72 Quail Creek course in spectacular fashion, carving out four birdies and staying out of trouble until he took a bogey on the 469-yard par-four 17th hole. Bo Winger of Las Vegas, Nev., who led after each of the first two rounds with a 69-70-139, faded to a 76 Saturday, playing in a back brace because of a pulled muscle. PGA champion Dave Marr faced to a two-over-par 74 after holding down second place at the midway mark. The 31-year-old Larchmont, N.Y., pro bogeyed three of the first four holes and never recovered. Jack Rule Jr., of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, shot a 70 to move into a second place tie at 213 with Randy Glover, 23, of Florence, S.C. Glover shot a 71 to go with opening rounds of 73 and 69, which had been good for third place. Marr and Johnny Pott, who fired 71's, were deadlocked at 214. NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Gosger rapped three hits, driving in two runs and scoring another, as Boston defeated the New York Yankees 7-2 in the second game and completed a sweep of a doubleheader Saturday night. Rico Petrocelli's run-scoring single in the eighth inning of the opener gave the Red Sox a 1-0 victory behind Dave Morehead's three-hit pitching. Gosger singled in the third inning of the nightcap and eventually scored on Jack Cullen's wild pitch, breaking a 1-1 tie and putting Boston ahead to stay. Gosger tripled home a run in the fifth and knocked another across in the sixth as he beat out an infield single.

GAME AT A GLANCE

By TOMMY HART
RANKIN — Coahoma reaped touchdowns in each of the first three quarters and threw up a rock-ribbed defense in the last half to repel a surprisingly tough Rankin team, 20-0, in their 1965 football opener here Friday night.

The success didn't come easily for Spike Dykes' Bulldogs but the contest, no doubt, did the District 6-A power a world of good.

In the final two rounds, Rankin's quick hitting backs gave the Coahoma defense more problems than a farmer trying to grow wheat on the side of Rock Mountain.

The Red Devils helped dig their own grave in the first half when, on two occasions, they failed to punt the ball on fourth-down situations from deep in their own territory.

Each time the Bulldogs took the ball and drove in for scores.

IN FOUR PLAYS
Coahoma moved 34 yards in four plays for its initial score, the touchdown coming on a pass of that distance from quarterback Marshall Williams to end Bobby Pherigo.

Pherigo took the ball about the five and scrapped on in, with a couple of antagonists trying to arrest him along the way.

The score came on Coahoma's still 19-11 to play in the round when Big Tony churned across for the score. Johnny Gibson, a splendid runner all night for Coahoma, tried for the PAT's on driven from its own 22 to Rankin's four, only to yield the ball on downs.

Following the TD by Pherigo, halfback Terry Denton tried to boom in for two extra points but was stopped short.

Rankin should have learned better than to try and run the ball on fourth down but didn't. Early in the second round the Red Devils went for a down renewal from its own 35 and picked up only a yard and had to go on the defensive.

The Bulldogs knew a break when they saw it and in three plays collected another TD, with 10:21 still showing on the timepiece.

This time, fullback Tony Butler did the honors from five yards away. The big play of the series followed a pitch-out from Williams to Denton that netted 24 yards and a down renewal.

A pass from Williams to end Mike Mosley added two extra points and Coahoma was in command, 14-0.

Rankin huffed and puffed to Coahoma's 14 late in the second but Lawrence Lepard, Mike Dean Bohannon and others decided the Devils had gone far enough and dug in to hold the resident 11 for downs.

BOBBLE HELPS
Lepard recovered a Rankin fumble on the kickoff opening the third quarter to put Coahoma in business again at the Devils' 35. From that point, Coahoma scored in four plays, Butler doing the honors from the two on a dive play. There was still 10:11 to play in the round when Big Tony churned across for the score. Johnny Gibson, a splendid runner all night for Coahoma, tried for the PAT's on a run but failed. Rankin refused to strike its colors and fairly well dominated play from there on down to the wire, although it was hopelessly beaten.

The Devils, with Kellam Colquitt, Jim Pettit, Salvador Aguilar and Billy Wayne Hale all inflicting grievous wounds in the Coahoma defensive alignment, roared to the six late in the third only to have Chuck Pherigo drop Hale on the fourth of scrimmage to silence that threat.

A short time earlier, Howard Gregory had intercepted a pass on Coahoma 19 thrown by Rankin's Howard Whiteside and a d sprinted six yards back upfield.

SCORE WIPED OUT
In the fourth, Rankin continued to hack away for yardage and bruised down to Coahoma's four. A pass from Pettit to Earl Williams produced a score but the play was nullified when Rankin was caught with an illegal receiver down field.

Rankin drew a 15-yard penalty for the blunder and shortly thereafter drew another 15-yarder to ease the pressure on the Dogs.

Coahoma's offense was a little slow to crank up, although it did show fine potential. The Bulldogs' defense was something else, however.

One figure siberit had Lepard making 14 tackles and Mosley, Bohannon, Bobby Pherigo, Gibson and Williams were a few of the many who consistently rocked the Rankin ball carriers with jarring tackles.

Gibson emerged as Coahoma's leading ball lugger and was especially effective on outside plays. Butler could always be counted on for valuable yardage up the middle. Williams mixed his plays well. Denton helped take the pressure on the other backs with fine running.

The win was Coahoma's 11th in 12 starts under Dykes. The Bulldogs will be idle next Friday. They return to play against Stanton Sept. 17.

Midland Man Race Entry

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (AP)—Sixty sleek and powerful sports cars, with some of the nation's leading drivers in the cockpit, vie this Sunday on Road America in a 500-mile test of human and mechanical endurance that will decide the 1965 U.S. road racing championship.

George Follmer of Pasadena, Calif., and Jim Hall of Midland, Tex., one-two in the national point standings, are entered in the event over a twisting four-mile course.

The race is certain to decide the title because it is the final road racing championship event on the Sports Car Club of America's 1965 calendar.

Hall, the defending national champion, is teamed with fellow-lowman Hap Sharp. Both Texans will drive Chaparral II cars, the same vehicle that completed a lap in record time of 94.73 miles per hour in last year's Road America.

Hall set the mark before braking problems forced him to the sidelines.

Should Hall win, it will be only the second time in 11 years that an American-tooled car has captured the event.

Follmer, who drives a Lotus 23 with a Porsche engine, has been a frequent winner in Sports Car Club of America events this year.

Roscoe Turns Back Stanton, 12 To 0

By TOM BARRY
ROSCOE — The Plowboys avenged themselves Friday night on home ground as they measured the Stanton Buffaloes, who whipped them last year. Stanton never got closer than the Plowboys' 5-yard line in the rematch, coach John Short's charges shutting out the favorites, 12-0.

Part of the Stanton troubles lay in inconsistent passing. Quarterback Buddy Shanks twice had five overthrown passes in a row, but Roscoe's pass-rush contributed a lot to the shut-out, especially in the first quarter.

Roscoe, a team that shies away from passing as though it were the Black Death, mounted two scoring drives, going most of the way on line-backs by workhorse fullback Ben Harbour.

The first two possessions of the game were greeted by that old early-game fumble-itis—first by Stanton, then by Roscoe.

Finally, Roscoe got the ball on a punt at the Stanton 38 and quarterback Steve Prescott handed off, and ran himself for two plays, down to the Stanton 21, where quarterback Jim Rayburn took over. He and Harbour took the ball on to the 16.

Roscoe then threw its first pass, and only completion of the night, Rayburn handing off to halfback Britt Paty, who turned and fired to halfback Jackie Smith near the corner for the six-pointer, with about four minutes remaining in the first stanza. Larry Holderman's point after try failed.

The rest of the first half was a nightmare for both teams. Roscoe's ground attack developed lockjaw, with the aid of more fumbles, and they couldn't move, even though the team was mostly on the downhill side of the field. The fumbles didn't help Stanton, though, as the Buffs missed all but two of eight passing attempts, had an aerial intercepted, were thrown for 15-yard losses twice, and had a kick blocked. Fumble-itis killed the half for Stanton, as it had moved to the Roscoe five yard

Sterling City Outscores Sands In Ackerly Drill

ACKERLY—The Sands Mustangs and Sterling City Eagles engaged in a controlled two-hour scrimmage at Ackerly Friday night, with the Eagles scoring three times to once for the Mustangs.

Coaches Eddie Gill of Sands and J. R. Dillard of Sterling City said they were well pleased with their teams' performances. Each coach also had kind words for the other team.

The Eagle offense moved the ball well and was especially effective on plays off guard and end sweeps.

All of the boys looked sharp on defense as they hit hard and moved quickly.

Gill said he was satisfied with the improvement of his defense. Robert Bagwell and Mike Grigg showed to advantage in the Sands line, while linebackers Glynn Harrell, Ricky Kemp and Larry Oaks led the charge for the Mustangs.

On offense Harrell has been moved to quarterback for Sands and Oaks into the line. Harrell is doing a fine job, although he is a little inexperienced.

The most substantial ground gainer for Sands was Merwin Best, a 220-pound junior halfback, who runs with authority.

Both teams came out of the scrimmage free of injuries with the exception of Mustang end end Oren Lancaster. Lancaster turned his ankle and will be out for a few days.

This was the last scrimmage

Saldivar Rated Ring Favorite

LONDON (AP)—Vicente Saldivar, Mexican holder of the world featherweight title, is rated only an even money chance to retain his crown against British champion Howard Winstone in London Tuesday night.

Saldivar has looked impressive in training but lots of money from Wales, the home country, of Winstone, made the bookies revise earlier odds which made Saldivar a clear favorite.

AFL Elevens Poised To Open Sixth Year

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American Football League gets a one-week jump on the rival National League by opening its sixth season Saturday night, and there is the strong possibility that for the first time in its existence AFL developed quarterbacks will outnumber NFL discards at the all-important position.

As the season gets underway with full, four-game programs — Buffalo at Boston and San Diego at Denver Saturday night and Kansas City at Oakland and New York at Houston Sunday — it's likely that as many as six of the eight teams will start with home-grown quarterbacks.

THE NEW BREED
That would represent a giant step forward for the new emerging quarterbacks, who for the most part sat and watched last season as former NFL players such as George Blanda, Tom Rote and Babe Parilli dominated play-calling.

The biggest upheaval in the quarterbacking ranks started at New York, where the Jets traded away Dick Wood and surrounded themselves with Mike Taliaferro, who has one year of pro experience, and $800,000 worth of rookies — Joe Namath and John Huarte.

There is, of course, no question that a new quarterback will be handling the team but at this point only Huarte would seem to have eliminated himself from contention. Either Taliaferro or Namath will get the call against the Oilers.

While there is likely to be a large turnover in quarterbacks, there was no major turnover of veteran personnel in the off-season, with the Denver Broncos completing the two biggest trades by acquiring Cookie Gilchrist from Buffalo in exchange for Billy Joe and getting Abner Haynes from Kansas City for linebacker Jim Frasier.

STRONGER ATTACK
Gilchrist, the league's leading rusher last season, and Haynes, the league's all-time No. 1 ground gainer, figure to provide a much stronger attack but the Broncos are still likely to wind up in the Western cellar behind San Diego, Oakland and Kansas City.

The Chargers are one of, if not the, most explosive team in the league with breakout runners such as Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe and an exceptional receiver in Lance Alworth.

However, there might be an internal problem with all-league defensive end Earl Faison and tackle Ernie Ladd having announced their intentions to play out their options.

The Raiders will rely on Flores, split end Art Powell and running back Clem Daniels among others to make their game move. In addition there are three standout rookies likely to crack the starting unit — flanker Fred Biletnikoff from Florida A&M, tackle Bob Snyhus from Southern California and guard Harry Schuh of Memphis State.

HAYNES GONE
The Chiefs, minus Haynes, will go with Curtis McCClinton and one of last year's rookie standouts, Mack (The Truck) Hill, to fill out the back field complement. However, there could be a major problem if receiver Fred Arbanas is unable to play because of an eye injury suffered when he was attacked by an unknown assailant last winter.

Buffalo's defending league champion Bills, with either Lamonica or Kemp of both at quarterback, are favored to repeat in the East. The big question mark is whether Joe, who was Rookie of the Year in 1963 but a flop last season due to an operation, can provide the necessary power to open defenses for the passing game.

Parilli will be the focus of the Patriots' offense along with Gino Cappelletti, the capable tight end, proficient kicker and the league's most valuable player. Joe Bellino, former Heisman Trophy winner, and rookie Jim Nance from Syracuse are expected to give Boston's running game a boost.

Karen Suzman Cancels Out

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Davis Cupper Arthur Ashe weathered the sternest threat to seeded ranks by knocking out veteran Gene Scott Saturday 6-3, 6-4, 8-7 in the second day of the National Tennis Championships marked by a note of acrimony. Scott, a former Yale University ace overlooked recently in Davis Cup selections, had to warm his heels for nearly an hour waiting for the fifth-seeded Ashe, delayed in traffic. UPSET EARLY Obviously unsettled after starting two hours behind schedule, Scott, 27, from St. James, N.Y., lost 12 of the first 15 points and never recovered. Earlier, Karen Hantze Susman, the 22-year-old housewife from St. Louis who won the Wimbledon title three years ago, withdrew from the tournament in a huff because she wasn't seeded and drew top-rated Margaret Smith of Australia in the first round. Seeded players are granted $25 a day living expenses. The rest of the tournament proceeded on a calm and routine note for a gallery of more than 9,000 — the biggest second day crowd in the 50 years the event has been played on the grass of the West Side Tennis Club. Top-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia, who appears a shoo-in for his third U.S. men's title, toyed with Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador 6-1, 6-3, 8-6. Manuel Santana of Spain No. 4, the nephew of the U.S. Davis Cup team, ousted Don Fontana of Canada 6-3, 6-1, 5-7, 6-1.

Famed 8-Year-Old Looks To New Plateau In Pay

NEW YORK (AP) — Kelson should be starting toward his third million Monday. And how many 8-year-olds can say that?

The mighty gelding from the Bohemia Stable will go against a tough field in the 70th running of the Aqueduct Stakes on Labor Day, and will be giving away considerable weight.

But he's the early-line 3-5 favorite to win the 1 1/4-mile race for the third straight time and boost his earnings past the $2 million mark.

With seven starters, the Aqueduct feature will have a gross of $108,200, with $70,230 to the winner. The victory would give Kelson a lifetime winnings of a neat $2,024,474.

Kelson is to be ridden by Milo Valenzuela and carry 130 pounds. Roman Brother is the expected second choice at 4-1. He will carry 121, as will Hill

Tarkenton Is Star In Win

By The Associated Press

Don't try to tell Minnesota Coach Norm Van Brocklin there's a better quarterback in professional football than the Vikings' rambling scambler, Fran Tarkenton.

He's liable to show you the film of Friday night's 57-17 romp against Dallas.

Tarkenton threw two touchdown passes and piloted a Minnesota attack that gained 210 yards through the air and 198 on the ground.

Hoosier Has 1425 For Top Bowling Tab

DALLAS (AP) — Pete Tountas of Hammond, Ind., averaged 237.2 for six games to take the early lead Saturday in the Professional Bowlers Association $24,000 Dallas Open.

Tountas' 1425 was five pins higher than the score of Norm Meyers of Los Angeles. Third with 1419 was Ray Orf of St. Louis.

The field of 112 bowlers had six more games late Saturday night with 12 more scheduled Sunday, before a cut reduces the field to the top 16 for Monday's match game finals.

The top 16 after six games: Pete Tountas, Hammond, Ind., 1425

Norm Meyers, Los Angeles, 1420

Ray Orf, St. Louis, 1419

Midge McMahon, Grand Junction, Colo., 1413

Nelson Burton Jr., St. Louis, 1411

Anderson, Nobis Head All-Star Check List

By BOB JOOBING
Boston Herald
For The Associated Press

Texans Donny Anderson and Tommy Nobis along with Syracuse's Pat Killorin head the list of college football stars ready to vie again for national acclaim. The trio reflecting the return of platoon substitution, has a jump on the field: Each was an All-America selection in 1964. But they may have to come up with even better performances to repeat in the face of the five-star competition. Texas Tech halfback Anderson will run into — or try to escape from — University of Texas linebacker Nobis when the teams meet Sept. 25. GAINED 966 YARDS Anderson was the nation's fourth ranked ground gainer last fall with 966 yards to his credit, accounted for 1,710 yards including pass receptions and kick runbacks and punted for a 38.2 yard average. Recruited as a linebacker for Tech, the 6-foot-3, 207 pounder is a two-way player his coach says "is too valuable on offense to play defense."

Challenging him at offensive halfback are such spectacular runners as Mike Garrett of Southern California, Kentucky's Roger Bird, Stanford's Ray Handley, Floyd Little of Syracuse, Michigan's Carl Ward and Bill Wolski of Notre Dame. The No. 2 SEC rusher of '64 is Hoyle Granger of Mississippi State, a big bidder at fullback along with Illinois' Jim Grabowski — whose 1,534 yards were topped only by departed Brian Piccolo last fall — Ray McDonald of Idaho, Oklahoma State's Walt Garrison, Stew Williams of Bowling Green, Barry McKnight of Pitt and Alabama's Steve Bowman. TWO ON REVIEW A bunch of the boys named Garry and Steve are the quarterbacks to watch. Iowa's Gary Snook, the nation's third ranking passer who bettered or matched 17 records; two-time Big Eight total offense leader Gary Lane of Missouri and George Washington's Gary Lyle, rated the best-all-around back in the Southern Conference, are poised. So are Steve Sloan of Alabama's defending national champions, Steve Spurrier of Florida and Michigan State's Steve Judy. Sloan, who played much more than all-time prize Joe Namath last year due to the latter's injuries, is a "proven winner" says Coach Bear Bryant. Other top-flight field generals include Baylor's pass-master Terry Southall, Rick Norton of Kentucky, Virginia's Bob Davis, Scotty Glacken of Duke, North Carolina's Danny Talbot, Allen McCune of West Virginia and Vic Purvis of Southern Mississippi. Killorin at offensive center is rated the best Orange middle-line blocker since Jim Ringo. Paul Crane, rated the best athlete on the Alabama squad who will be going both ways in the clutch, wants to argue the point. So do Oregon's Dave Tobey and 6-6, 247 Harry Dittman of Navy.

Miss Darla Moore of Big Spring is in Houston today where she is a contender for the title of Miss Astro, a beauty contest being staged by the Houston baseball team. The winner will be crowned this afternoon. Darla left by airplane Friday morning for the weekend of festivities.

Aggies' New Slogan Is Heard Around League

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — The football battle cry on the Brazos for 1965 is "Make something happen" and the architect of that phrase is 30-year-old Gene Stallings, new head coach of Texas A&M. Stallings didn't inherit a wealth of size, speed and skill when he took over the Aggie reins but during spring training he fanned that ever-present Aggie spirit to a flaming pitch, causing him to comment at the finish, "I don't think anyone is going to embarrass us too much."

SIXTEEN LOST Sixteen lettermen played out their eligibility last fall. All of them held starting positions at one time or another and 11 of them earned three varsity letters. So, despite the fact that 28 returnees are listed as lettermen, a lot of playing experience departed.

There are too many minus factors — lack of size, speed, experience, etc. — for anyone to predict rousing success in the won-lost column for the Aggies. But A&M will field a team of intense competitors. That's the only type of player who'll wear the Maroon and White under Stallings. The returning lettermen include 12 seniors and 16 juniors. Only eight of the dozen seniors have won two letters. Squadmen and sophomores round out the squad. The vital quarterback situation developed into a battle between junior Eddie McKaughan and sophomore Harry Ledbetter during spring practice. The job still remains to be won as fall drills get under way. WILL PLATOON The Aggies will platoon as much as possible but due to limited depth in ability a few players may be called on for double duty. Stallings, schooled under one of football's great coaches, Paul Bryant, will have the Aggies well drilled in fundamentals, with emphasis on defense and the kicking game. Linebacker Joe Wellborn and end Jerry Kachtik, both seniors, anchor the defensive unit while senior Phil Scoggins is the punting specialist. Scoggins averaged 33.3 on 72 kicks last season. Texas A&M hasn't had a winning football team since 1957. Bryant's last year at the Aggie helm, when an 8-2 record was posted. That, incidentally, was Stallings' last connection with A&M until he returned as head coach last December. He had played three seasons as a varsity end for the Aggies and spent one year as an assistant coach prior to going to Alabama on Bryant's staff. Stallings and his staff have a singleness of purpose — to rejuvenate A&M football and restore the pride and tradition of winning Aggie teams. Ardent Aggie followers may not have a lot of victories to cheer about this fall but this team should be one that no Aggie will be ashamed to support.

Shasta Planning Oct. 8 Contest

Area boys from eight through 13 can pit their football skills against the thousands of other boys throughout the nation in the fifth annual Punt, Pass & Kick competition which will culminate with a trip to Washington, D.C., and to an appearance at the National Football League Play-Off Bowl game for the top 12 winners. Sponsored nationally by the Ford Dealers of America and the National Football League, the Punt, Pass & Kick competition — or PP&K — will be staged in Big Spring by Shasta Ford Sales with the Big Spring Optimists as local co-sponsors. Big Spring boys will be tested for their ability to punt, pass and place-kick on the same day as regions of other boys all over the country. For 8-, 9- and 10-year-olds, warm-up jackets, helmets and footballs will be given as first, second and third prizes for each age group. Boys 11, 12 and 13 will receive gold, silver, and bronze trophies. There will be 18 prizes in all. Scores throughout the country then will be compared to determine the six top winners in each of the 362 Ford zones — a total of 2,172 zone winners. Zone winners will meet in 37 Ford District competitions at which 222 district champions will win trophies. The 222 runners-up also will receive trophies. All 222 district champions will compete for area championships to be held in the 14 NFL-city areas. The 42 eastern NFL-area champions will compete in Dallas, on Saturday, Dec. 11, to decide the six eastern division champions (one for each age group). The 42 western NFL-area champions will compete in Los Angeles, Calif., on Saturday, Dec. 18, to determine the six western division champions (one for each age group). The six eastern NFL division champions, and the six western division champions, accompanied by their mothers and fathers, will go on a "Tour of Champions" to Washington, D.C. They then will travel to Miami, Fla., site of the annual NFL Play-Off Bowl game, for half-time competition to determine the six National PP&K champions. Bob Brock, vice president of Shasta, pointed out that PP&K involves no body contact, there is no charge for entering and no special equipment is needed. "Registration will be open from Sept. 1 through Oct. 8," he said, "with Shasta Ford as registration headquarters. Registration continues through Oct. 8. "In 1964, PP&K's fourth year, 601,459 boys entered the competition," he said, "a program which has received the commendation of the President's Council on Youth Fitness." Brock said entrants will be judged on distance and accuracy of their punting, passing and kicking. Points will be awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, and points will be subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line. The local competition is scheduled Saturday, Oct. 9. The scores will be played off on the day of competition. Ties for top spot in zone and district standings also will be played off during special contests. District winners will receive trophies. Area winners vie for the top 12 division championships. The six national winners receive handsome PP&K championship trophies. The other six receive national runner-up trophies. All 12 finalists go on the "Tour of Champions."

Dean, Hubbell On Honor List

HOUSTON (AP)—Their pitching motion won't be as fluid as they once were, and their fast balls may look like golf putts, but Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell — baseball giants of the 30s — will try to recreate one of their classic duels Monday in the Astrodome. Dean and Hubbell are the starters in an old timers' game between the "Immortals" and the "Texas All-Stars." They are among 12 Hall of Famers scheduled to appear. The others are Joe Dimaggio, Lefty Grove, Bob Feller, Jimmy Foxx, Bill Dickey, Ted Lyons, Heinie Manush, Luke Appling, Frankie Frisch and Burleigh Grimes. Many more famous players not yet eligible for the Hall of Fame also will play. The game precedes a regular National League game between the Houston Astros and the Chicago Cubs. Hubbell will pitch for the Texas All-Stars. All-Stars manager Paul Richards persuaded Frisch, manager of the Immortals, to give him Hubbell in return for Paul Dean. Putting Paul Dean on the Immortals squad completes the "Paul and Me" combination that Dizzy made famous through frequent discussion. Dizzy won 30 and lost 7 for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1934, and had a lifetime record of 150-83. Hubbell won 24 straight games in 1936-37, and completed a 253-154 lifetime record.

Richest Race Is Slated Monday At Ruidoso Oval

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. (AP) — A field of 12 2-year-olds will dash the short distance of 400 yards Monday in the seventh running of the $419,480 All-American Quarter Horse Futurity at Ruidoso Downs. Track officials said the race is one of the world's richest. In the 20 seconds or so that it takes to become a winner, a triumphant owner will earn his share of $192,730 for first place. Second place is worth $54,811; third place will receive $48,553; fourth, $35,547; fifth, $9,000; sixth, $7,000; seventh, $5,000; eighth, $4,000; ninth, $3,000; and $2,000 each for 10th, 11th and 12th places. Ruidoso Downs officials said

Rapid Volley and Ruby Charge are gathering the most support for the All-American roses. Rapid Volley, owned by Fred Beckham and L.V. Casey, both of Anaheim, Calif., had a 20.41-second clocking in the time trials. Hugh Huntley, Madera, Calif., saw his Ruby Charge slip to a 20.54 qualifying time. Ruby Charge, however, already has won one $110,000 stakes race this season at 400 yards. Moore Go chalked up the top time trial with a 23.1, the best of the Ruidosoos. But the Ray Seeley, Blythe, Calif., horse is not as popular as the other two, track officials said.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Tourney Dates Way Back

By TOMMY HART The Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament now in progress here, probably would have had a bigger field, had Snyder not scheduled a partnership event at the same time and Midland's Country Club not been staging its membership tournament now. Is the Big Spring Invitational a pioneer links event in West Texas? When the inaugural show was held back in 1931, Herbert Clark Hoover was president of the United States. Few would dispute Stanton coach Bill Milam's claims that his Buffaloes play in one of the toughest schoolboy districts in the state. The Bisons faced six district champs or co-champs his first season there and five such teams last year. When the Levelland Quarterback Club found it had $650 left over from last year, it turned the money over to ex-Big Springster Walter Reed to purchase blazers for the 1965 Lobo football team. The Lamesa Tornados, Big Spring's football opponents next Friday night, have no open dates on their schedule this fall. The Houston Oilers plan to play another exhibition game in San Antonio next year, even though this year's contest there with Denver drew only 12,666. Warren McVea is about the only footballer who ever excited the San Antonio fans. L. L. Laws, the former Ackerly girl's basketball coach who was identified here recently as the new assistant junior high school principal at Lamesa, won't be there, after all. He's now the school counselor at Spearman. Laws cancelled out as an official in two basketball games involving the Big Spring Steers when he moved from Lamesa. Incidentally, Big Spring's basketball mentor, Allen Simpson, was born in Spearman. The current group of sophomores out for football practice at the local high school is probably the finest looking such group ever to play here. Those close to the scene say Don Meredith of the Dallas Cowboys still has to prove that he can make the big play in a clutch situation. It hasn't been noised about but Roger Maris won't be able to play for the New York Yankees again this season. He still can't grip a bat without pain. Coach Oscar Booker of Forsan says David Roberson of the 1964 Buffaloes played his finest game ever in a losing cause in the recent East-West Eight-Man All-Star game at Abilene. Willie Pastrano, the former fight champion, is at loose ends but would fight again if offered a $25,000 purse. He works part-time with an agency promoting milk-drinking in southeastern Florida but it doesn't pay enough to feed the people at home and take care of his payments on his limousine, the station wagon, the house note and the back bills. Pastrano has five kids. He may go to work as a recreational supervisor for North Miami Beach City. Remember Larry Shields, the great Wichita Falls line buster? He quit school at Oklahoma University in the midst of final exams last May. Andrews has only two regulars back from the great 1964 defensive unit, which led the Mustangs into the playoffs. Coach Max Goldsmith has 14 returning at Andrews but Max lamented that nine didn't play under pressure very much last year. Ross Montgomery was only the second boy in Midland High School's history to win four varsity football letters. Bobby Bell, 228 pound linebacker for the Kansas City Chiefs has a 28 1/2-inch waistline. The golf pros have turned up their noses at the $87,000 offered in the '500' Festival at Indianapolis and have voted instead to hold a tournament at Oklahoma City. Naaman Nickell, the Odessa scribe, rates both Odessa High and Permian above Big Spring in his private 2-AAAA football poll, in addition to San Angelo, which he sees sweeping to the pennant. Nickell figures Abilene, Midland High, Cooper and Midland Lee finishing behind the Steers. I think most everyone is overlooking the vast potential of the Abilene Eagles.

Costs Not Covered In Permian FPC Decision

By MAX B. SKELTON
 COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The Federal Power Commission's new pattern for controlling wellhead prices of natural gas will be reviewed the next two days by pipeline operators who transport gas in every state except Maine and Hawaii.

The Permian Basin area decision signed Aug. 5 by the FPC will be a major topic at the annual meeting of the Independent Natural Gas Association of America.

The 2,500-member trade group also includes producers and distributors but it is primarily the policy making body for interstate pipelines whose natural gas systems crisscross the nation.

The Aug. 5 order climaxed more than four years of formal proceedings and established a two-price system for gas sold into interstate commerce from the vast Permian Basin area of West Texas and New Mexico.

CHALLENGE CERTAIN

A court challenge is certain but the FPC currently plans to use the Permian decision as a pattern for similar orders covering 22 other major gas producing areas.

While most oil and gas trade groups have opposed the area formula conceived by the FPC in 1960, the pipelines have never taken a formal stand.

Their last resolution on the matter was adopted in 1963 at San Francisco. It merely reaffirmed opposition to utility type controls and asked the FPC to regulate gas owned by interstate pipelines on the same basis as gas owned by other producers.

Regardless of the outcome of the controversy over wellhead price controls, the pipelines will continue to be subject to FPC controls. The interstate nature of their segment of the industry makes this necessary.

MIDDLE MAN

In a sense, the pipeline is the middle man between producer and distributor.

Rather sharp criticism of the Permian order is expected from two speakers Monday.

"Out on a Limb" is the subject for Ferrill Rogers, conservation lawyer for the Oklahoma Corporation Commission.

Bruce Merrill, Continental Oil

Co. lawyer at Houston, will analyze the Permian opinion.

Merrill was chairman of a coordinating committee that represented about 70 major gas producers during the FPC's Permian case. Their application charges there were 35 major errors in the Aug. 5 opinion.

These producers also contend the "arbitrarily designed" rates established by the FPC will not allow them to recover exploration and production costs. They say the price ceilings will destroy incentive to find additional reserves.

Similar applications, the first step toward a court challenge, have been filed by other producers.

J. M. HENDERSON

Henderson To Pilot Shell's Exec. Airplane

Effective Sept. 1, J. M. Henderson, pilot airplane-multi-engine for Shell's Midland area, was transferred to head office aviation. He will be assigned to fly the executive aircraft for the Southern Marketing Region, Atlanta, Ga.

Henderson joined Shell in 1947 as a roustabout in Quitman, and served in various field assignments before becoming a lab technician in Houston in 1950. He served as clerk-engineer and engineer's assistant there before coming to Midland in 1957 as a co-pilot airplane. He was promoted to pilot airplane-single engine in 1959 and assumed his present position in 1961.

Prolific Tubb Discovery Hit

B. M. Hanson and Roger D. Allen of Midland No. 1 Davidson-State, scheduled 5,400-foot pre-Permian explorer, 14 miles southwest of Crane in Crane County has shown as a prolific discovery from the Tubb from the section at 3,950-4,010 feet.

While drilling with air the project started unloading oil at the surface from that zone and flowed approximately 48 hours at the estimated average rate of 100 barrels per hour through a 7-inch discharge line off the blowout preventer on the 8 1/2-inch casing set at 600 feet.

Gravity of the crude was 38 degrees. No gas-oil ratio or pressures were registered while the well was producing.

The flow was killed, the hole deepened to 4,099 feet and 5 1/2-inch casing was cemented at that point. The wildcat has drilled the plug on that pipe string and will drill on to its original objective.

Location is .467 feet from southwest and 487 feet from southeast lines of section 24, block 2, H&TC survey. It is one mile south of a depleted Tubb well in the multipay Abell, Northeast area and the same distance west of Hanson and Allen's No. 1 Lureance, completed in May to open the Bar-Mar (Devonian) pool.

The Tubb production in No. 1 Davidson-State is from a lower horizon in that formation than was the pay in the depleted discovery from the section in the Abell, Northeast field.

New wildcat operations are planned in Crane, Reeves and Hockley counties.

R. B. Hamm and G. E. Graham of Midland No. 1 J. B. Tubb is scheduled as a 6,200-foot Ellenburger probe in Crane County.

Located 1,980 feet from southwest and 600 feet from northwest lines of section 18, block B-27, PSL survey, it is 11 miles north of Imperial, 1 1/4 miles southeast of the Ellenburger discovery in the multipay Block 27 field.

Gulf Oil Corp. No. 1-J A. M. Clayton, 15 miles southeast of Pecos in Reeves is a re-entry and deepening to 6,900 feet to explore the Cherry Canyon of a former 5,040-foot duster originally drilled by the same firm in 1957.

Hollander Is Transferred

O. W. Brauss, district sales supervisor for Shell's West Texas Marketing office, announces the appointment of John R. Hollander to the position of dealer-salesman for Midland, San Angelo, and Big Spring. He replaces A. P. Spence Jr., who was transferred to the Memphis district of the Atlantic marketing region at TBA representative.

Hollander, a graduate of Arkansas State with a B.A. degree, joined Shell in March 1964 as a division retail instructor and was named a salesman in September. Mr. and Mrs. Hollander and their three children reside at 1295 E. 43rd in Odessa. They are members of the Crescent Park Baptist Church. Spence attended Lubbock High School and served in the Navy during World War II before graduating in 1951 with a BBA degree in marketing from Texas Tech. He had several years of marketing experience before joining Shell in August, 1964.

Spence, his wife Betty, and their four children were residents of Midland where he was a member of the West Side Lions Club, an assistant scout master for Troop 233, and active in junior achievement for the last two years.

DONNIE F. TUBB

Donnie Franklin Tubb signed on with Cosden, May 10, 1950. Almost a year later he left the yard to enter the pumping and treating department as a pumper's helper. He has been at the pump house ever since, now as pumper No. 1.

From his birthplace at Prescott, Arkansas, Tubb's family moved to Big Spring when he was three. He married a local girl, Bonnie Faye Patton; she is an operator for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and will soon complete 20 years of service.

The home at 1314 Stadium boasts two girls and a boy. Connie, 13, will be a ninth grader at Runnels Junior High. At 9, Robbie is slated for the fourth grade at Boydston School. Donnie II is almost 2.

All but Donnie indulge in water skiing at Lake J. B. Thomas, where the Tubbs have a cabin. Both Mr. and Mrs. Tubb are fishermen, and she is as enthusiastic as he is about hunting deer, quail or dove. He is a World War II veteran, with three years in the Marine Corps and half of that period in the South Pacific. He emerged as a Corporal.

The Tubbs are members of 14th & Main Church of Christ.

Cosden Oil & Chemical Company

Cardinal Skid Blender

Skid-Mounted Blender, used for oilfield fracturing and acidizing in the Permian Basin, was designed for ease of handling in tight locations.

Portable Blender Being Used For Well Fracing

Cardinal Chemical, Inc., has introduced a skid-mounted blender for oilfield fracturing and acidizing in the Permian Basin. The unit combines compact size with a high pump-rate of 100 barrels per minute. Just 15 feet in over-all length, it was designed for ease of handling, even in tight locations. Centrifugal pumps are used throughout.

The unit features a proportional loader for mixing various additives and a densimeter to control the slurry. A flowmeter assures accurate measurement of treating fluids.

An emergency engine - kill switch on the operator's control panel immediately shuts down all pumping operations when desired. To prevent "diesel runaway," it shuts off the air supply to the engine. An automatic pressure - limiting device controls engine output to prevent exceeding a pre-determined pressure maximum.

Parents Plan Boycott In School Case

"Parents and their children will stand outside Kate Morrison School until the school board opens it," Mrs. A. L. Rodriguez, spokeswoman for Northside United, said Saturday. "The parents of Kate Morrison School children — all of them — signed a letter at our meeting Friday night," Mrs. Rodriguez said, "and are going to take it to the school board when school starts Tuesday. They'll be at the school in a boycott," each day until it opens.

"They said they will not send their children to Lakeview School, with the conditions that exist on the way there, and at the school," Mrs. Rodriguez added. "If the law won't protect the children, the parents will."

The organization is protesting the closing of Kate Morrison School by the local school board. It lost a law suit last week when 118th District Court Judge Ralph Caton threw the case out of court, indicating the court had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Tom Sneed, Odessa attorney representing the group, appeared at the Friday meeting in Sacred Heart Catholic Church's meeting hall, Mrs. Rodriguez said.

"He told us he was disappointed with Judge Caton's decision, but said he had expected an adverse decision."

"He said he was not worried about the censure he received Friday from the local bar association," she continued. "He said he will not retract the statement."

Mrs. Rodriguez said "Northside United has decided to go as far as it can, and Mr. Sneed is going to appeal this to the federal courts."

Phyllis Divorces Mythical 'Fang'

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Co-mediennes Phyllis Diller, 48, who parlayed a mythical spouse called "Fang" into night club and television stardom, was granted a divorce Friday.

Mrs. Diller had filed for divorce from Sherwood A. Diller, 52, charging indignities, which her husband denied. They had been married 25 years.

Chief Surgeon Now At State Hospital

A Saltillo, Mexico, surgeon, Dr. Jorge A. Fuentes-Aguirre, who plans to become a citizen of the United States next year, is the Big Spring State Hospital's head surgeon, in charge of the new surgical service. He is also acting director of the medical service, though two years ago he barely spoke English.

"I learned most of my English when I was an intern in Denver, Colo.," the diminutive doctor said. He received his medical degree from the University of Nuevo Leon in Monterrey, Mexico, and did his first internship in Colorado.

DR. J. A. FUENTES

"For a couple of years I had a little problem with English, but I do all right now," he said. His accent is not noticeable in conversation.

His surgical residency was at Scott and White Memorial Hospital, Temple, and Dr. Fuentes came to the local hospital immediately thereafter. He began work here Sept. 1.

Why Denver for an internship?

"They have a very good staff there," he said, "and besides, Denver is a mile-high city, just like Saltillo. It made me feel at home." Saltillo is about 350 miles south of the border, in Coahuila State.

Surgery is not the only interest of the doctor.

"My wife and I are interested in anything cultural," he smiled. "We like little theatre, concerts, and we read avidly in literature—in English, of course, as well as Spanish, and we discuss philosophy."

"I like to write, too," he continued. "When I was in Monterrey, I wrote free-lance on a variety of subjects for newspapers, and had columns on the philosophy of medicine and technical aspects of medicine. I also wrote on medicine for the Denver Post."

Dr. and Mrs. (Maria Teresa) Fuentes live at 1500 Wood with their two daughters, Teresa Catalina, 4, and Patricia Inez, 2.

"The hospital here has a very well-furnished surgical laboratory," Dr. Fuentes said. "State officials realize patients here and they provide whatever we need. This surgery unit is new, but I'm sure we'll recruit other surgeons for the staff in the near future."

Dr. Fuentes, who is a member of the Texas and American Medical Associations, as well as the Bell County (Colo.) association, will soon join the Howard County group.

Feedlots May Benefit From Sorghum Studies

Researchers are trying to put their finger on why the nutritive value of grain sorghum varies so much in feedlot rations. Oestensibly grain sorghum is the equal of barley and only slightly less than corn when it comes to feeding out livestock. However, milo does not always react the same as the basic portion of a ration.

This may be because of its wide variety of climatic and soil conditions. There may be a difference due to hybrids and fertilizer.

Nowhere is the variation more vividly illustrated than in protein content, according to a paper by Dr. K. S. Eng Jr., animal husbandryman for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Angleton. Grain sorghum protein content is estimated at 10.9 per cent and digestibility at 75 per cent. But under some conditions the percentage dropped as low as six per cent and rose as high as 13 per cent.

This became increasingly significant in light of the digestibility factor, for as the protein content declined, so did digestibility — in some cases to 50 per cent.

Studies also showed that there was a definite relation between use of nitrogen fertilizers to the protein content.

One suggestion advanced for feeders is to have a protein analysis of the grain in order to better balance the ration.

Dr. Eng adds that studies indicate that rations which slow down the passage of grain sorghum through the rumen and remainder of the digestive tract serve to increase the protein utilization. Thus, if there is a high concentration of grain, more of the grain sorghum passes unutilized. Fine grinding of the grain gave various results — increased efficiency on one test, decreased in another. Studies have shown, however, that 25 to 50 per cent of whole milo passes through the digestive tract.

It has shown further that high moisture sorghum grain is of superior feeding value. The problem is how best to add moisture to the dry grain. Most feeders feel that a stream helps in commercial feeding. Dr. B. P. Cordon of Tucson, Ariz., observes that a slight treatment of steam with short exposure will have little effect. It takes a long, hard treatment to make the moisture and heat penetrate to the center of the grain kernel. Yet, excessive heat and moisture will not improve the feeding value of the grain. Because the equipment for pressure processing is expensive, there is always a question whether the added benefit offsets the expense.

Scientists are also looking for a factor which gives milo gluten meal a bitter taste. If they find this, or if they find hybrids which offer greater protein returns, the role of milo may be even greater in the feedlots.

DERIVING ITS NAME from Sealyham, Haverfordwest, Wales, where the breed was developed, the Sealyham Terrier is still relatively rare in the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tubb, Western Hills, show "Apfel's Wee Bit-O-Snow," having a four point major toward championship, and "Apfel's Wee White Prince," sired by an international champion. At home, the Tubbs family is carefully tending a litter of seven puppies.

DESCENDING FROM the shepherd dogs of Scotland, the Collie, despite its large size, is graceful and friendly, generally used for herding or as a pet. Bruce Wright, president of the Big Spring

Kennel Club, and his children, David and Mary Jane, put their Collies, "Betsy" and "Red" through their paces in preparation for the American Kennel Club Sanction B Match Sept. 12.

THE TOY SIZE Pomeranian showing off for its mistress, Mrs. W. V. Keenan, 2717 Cindy, is a bit of black fluff named "Jo Jo" who has yet to participate in a show. The breed descended from the sled dogs of Iceland and Lapland and it is thought that the dog derived its name from the country of Pomerania.

ORIGINALLY A BADGER dog, the modern Dachshund is still structurally capable of following its prey into the ground. Such a dog is "Jiggs," left, Holder of confirmation ribbons and obedience trophies. At right is "Mimi," a Wire-haired Fox Terrier just graduated from obedience school. The dogs are shown by their owners, Mr. and Mrs. Festus McElreath, 2502 Broadway.

A WORKING DOG, the German Shepherd is distinguished for loyalty and courage. Shown are "Kris," holder of a degree in obedience training, and "Jaina," an American and Far East champion who has a degree in attack training. At center is "Mark," a Pemroke Welsh Corgi, originally bred as a cattle dog. Pictured with the animals are the owners, Capt. and Mrs. Roy Linn and their children, Janice and Roger.

POPULARLY KNOWN as the "barkless dog," the Basenji hound is one of the oldest known breeds. The Pharaohs of ancient Egypt received them as presents, and the country of their origin, Central Africa, still values the dogs as great hunters. Shown by his owner, Jack Downey, "Champion Henty P'Kenya's Acanelado" finished AKC championship at Sante Fe, N.M., which was a four point major.

LEADING A DOG'S LIFE AIN'T EASY
—but no use worrying about who's top dog

'Putting On The Dog' At Kennel Club Show

By JO BRIGHT
The Big Spring Kennel Club will hold its second dog show, an American Kennel Club Class "B" sanctioned match, Sept. 12 in Birdwell Park. Judges for the event will be Henry Bolton and Floyd Jetter, both of Odessa, judging conformation classes, and Mrs. Wilma Coon, Lubbock, judging all obedience classes.

"All three are well-known in dog circles," said Bruce Wright, president of the local club. "We are fortunate to have them judge our match."

Entry in the show is limited to pure-bred dogs, age three months and older, of any AKC recognized breed, but dogs do not have to be registered to enter this show. Entry fee is $1 per dog, per class, and the entries will be accepted at ringside, until 30 minutes prior to judging. The judging begins at 1 p.m., with the puppy sweepstakes, followed by judging of the individual breeds. Puppy classes will be divided according to age, three to six months, 12 months.

Obedience trials, the all-time favorite with spectators, will be conducted in Novice and Open classes.

Entries are expected from cities in West Texas and some in New Mexico.

"We are expecting some very good dogs," said Wright, "but we don't want that to scare off any of the locals who may think six to nine months, and nine to their dogs do not qualify. The entire atmosphere of a sanctioned match is one of informality and fun. If there are those who would like to show their dog, but are hesitant because they don't know too much about showing, we want them to come on out."

Wright explained that local club members will be on hand to answer questions and assist in any manner needed.

"That's what matches are for, to learn," he stressed, "both the dog and the exhibitor gain invaluable experience at matches."

There will be concessions available, playground areas for the children, lounge facilities at the YMCA and chairs.

The AKC registers dogs and they are shown in sub-divisions known as "groups." They are as follows:

1. Sporting Dogs (these include the setters pointers, spaniels, etc.)
2. Hounds—such as Beagles, Bassets, Dachshunds, Afghans, etc.
3. Working Dogs—a large group, composed of such dogs as Boxers, Collies, Doberman pinschers, German Shepherds, Eskimo dogs, etc.
4. Terriers—this means Airedales, Fox Terriers, Scotties, Manchester Terriers, Miniature Schnauzers, etc.
5. Toys—all of the tiny dogs such as the Chihuahua, Pekingese, Pomeranians, Pugs, Toy Poodles, Yorkshire Terriers, etc.
6. Non-Sporting Dogs—these include Boston Terriers, Bulldogs, Chows, Dalmations, Poodles, etc.

Officers of the Big Spring Kennel Club are Wright, president; Mrs. Bill Tubb, vice president; Mrs. Festus McElreath, secretary; and Jack Downey, treasurer. Club membership now is 28.

In summer time the living is easy and so is the look. The trick, however, is to give that comfort a little bit of chic. And it's a trick Mollie Parris knows just how to do. She makes the skirt slim but adds just enough gathers at the waist. And she makes the top loose, but gives it just enough shape.

The result is a blend of perfection that's perfect for workdays or parties. Try using linen, novelty cottons, shantung, lightweight woollens, printed rayons and silks, crepe or faille. Use Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear size chart.

Size	Bust	Waist	Hips	Length

Down Is Up In Price Escalator

Now—right now—is the time to buy comforters and pillows. Come fall, prices on down-filled items are going to shoot up 20 per cent. Behind the price rise is the war in Viet Nam.

The Southeast Asian country has been a principal supplier of down but is now curtailing shipments because of the war. Exhibitors at the domestics, curtain and drapery show in New York City this month reported the expected price jump—but they also noted that pillows and quilts stuffed with polyester or foam rubber will stay close to current price levels.

Homemaker Class Sets New Books

New year books were discussed at the Friday morning meeting of the Homemakers Class of the Airport Baptist Church. The members met at the church with Mrs. W. R. Weatherford presiding. Mrs. Ernest Hodo gave the opening prayer, and Mrs. W. H. Patterson presented the devotion.

Men's Ties Have Lone Heritage

At one time, the necktie was considered a lethal weapon, says Don Loper, Beverly Hills tie maker. He said ties could have been a convenient facility for strangling a man in some dark cobblestoned lane of yesteryear. A study of early and middle-aged paintings shows that functional costumes meticulously avoided any such item which might have been converted to some similarly dangerous purpose. Contemporary ties, meanwhile, are influenced by women's fashion. Loper said necktie designers carefully consider coordination between men's and women's wear when creating neckwear designs, especially in compatible colors.

Cool Ones Want Student Coolers

NEW YORK — Colleges now are being pressured to put refrigerators in rooms of students, according to a report in "College and University Business," a journal.

The move would prevent students from storing food on window sills. But it also would bring new problems: overloads on electrical systems, convenience in storing beer. And once the refrigerator is in the room, the report noted, what's to stop students from moving in a hot-plate?

Presbyterian Church Scene Of Carlton-Peters Ceremony

Miss Suzanne Peters became the bride of Clayton Richard Carlton at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Al Seddon officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Peters, 1000 E. 15th, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Carlton, 1701 Harvard.

The altar was graced with a sunburst arrangement of Albatross gladioli and was accented with palms of jade foliage, Candelabra and white tapers formed an archway to illuminate the wedding scene.

Hyle Doss, Seminole, uncle of the bride, accompanied by Miss Kathy Seddon, organist, sang "We'll Walk With God," and as the couple knelt on the prie dieu, "The Lord's Prayer."

WHITE LACE

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal gown fashioned in the Empire style from white peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The lace gown had a sweetheart neckline and peau de soie sleeves extending below the elbow. The slim sheath skirt was complemented with a detachable Watteau train of peau de soie covered with lace applique and seed pearls and topped with a double bow. For something old, the bride wore her grandmother's white gloves, and borrowed a handkerchief from her mother. Her gown was the new item, and she used birthdate pennies in her shoes.

Her bubble veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried, atop a friendship Bible, a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and white orchids showered with picot ribbon and accented with satin leaves.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Beverly Peters. Bridesmaids were Miss Kay Oakes, Lubbock, and Miss Charlotte Shive and Miss Connie Carlton, sister of the bridegroom.

MRS. CLAYTON RICHARD CARLETON

The attendants were identically dressed in shades of pink crepe. The floor-length gowns had Empire waists banded with matching material and accented with back bows. They carried nosegays of white chrysanthemums and garnet roses tied with rose pink satin.

The best man was Eddie Everett, Denton, and groomsmen were Frank Neill, Jerry Richbourg and Donald Bradford. Ushers were Tommy Young, Robert Mahoney, Danny Coats, Don White and Joe Don Mustangrove.

The flower girl was Luan Carlton, sister of the bridegroom, and altar taper lighters were Mrs. Jimmy Madry and Miss Jane McElrath.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride chose a traveling costume of a royal blue knit suit trimmed in blue satin. She wore black accessories and her corsage was an orchid arrangement taken from her bouquet. The couple will reside at the Blair Apartments in Denton.

ATTEND UNIVERSITY

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton are graduates of Big Spring Senior High School, and both attend North Texas State University. Mrs. Carlton is majoring in elementary education, and Carlton plans to take his degree in business administration.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor where the honored couple, parents and attendants were in the receiving line. Assisting in welcoming guests were grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. S. C. Doss, Seminole, and Mrs. Ruby Rowe.

The refreshment table was covered with white organdy cloth, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of white carnations, gladioli, and pompon chrysanthemums. A frosted white three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was served to the guests who were registered by Mrs. Tommy Dunnam.

HOUSE PARTY

Members of the house party were Mrs. Ed Harris, Mrs. Danny McCrary, Miss Diane McEwen, Miss Tommie Lou Hutto, and aunts of the bride, Mrs. Otto Peters Jr., Mrs. H. C. Doss, Mrs. Gene Wilson, Mrs. S. R. Mabe and Mrs. C. L. Robertson.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Oakes, Lubbock; Miss Janie Harris, Eastland; Bob Hankins, Bowie; Larry Hankins, Seminole; Miss Gloria Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wood, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Campbell, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Headlee, Denton; and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Goss, San Angelo.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

All five of those little pigs better run all the way home and build a big house of brick because their little bodies are getting to be dearer and dearer to the market places. Bacon prices have gone out of reason, and even the lower grade has reached a price that not long ago was a high price per pound. We won't try to bring home the bacon until the bacon comes down to a bringing home price... there are always ways to substitute or just do without.

There is going to be a long weekend for some of the 88 Club members who each year go to Ruidoso for the Labor Day holiday. The seven couples who left here Thursday and will return Tuesday include MR. and MRS. EUGENE TURNER, MR. and MRS. BILLY SMITH, MR. and MRS. LONNIE COKER, MR. and MRS. T. H. McCANN JR., MRS. and MRS. MERRILL CREIGHTON, MR. and MRS. BLEDSOE O'BRIEN and MR. and MRS. J. O. HAGOOD.

The ALBERT SMITHS have already had a touch of winter. They returned the past week from a three week's stay in Madison, Conn., with their daughter and son-in-law, the WALLY CATALDOS, and their family. They also spent some time in Madison, Wis., with their good friends, the KENNY OSSMANNs who lived with them here during World War II. During their visit the temperature got down to 40 degrees. Mr. Cataldo, incidentally, is home on a leave from Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands.

En route here the Smiths stopped in Arlington for a short stay with her sister.

MRS. BILLY DAVID RUDD

Miss Janelle Hinkle Weds Billy D. Rudd

Miss Janelle Hinkle became the bride of Billy David Rudd Friday evening in the First Baptist Church at Burkburnett.

The bridegroom was flower girl, and Jace Hinkle, nephew of the bride was ring bearer. Jackie Rudd, brother of the bridegroom, distributed rice bags.

For a wedding trip to Glorieta, N. M., the bride wore a two-piece suit of ivory silk with Italian buttons on the double-breasted jacket. Complementing the outfit was a small feather hat and deep beige accessories.

Her corsage was taken from the bridal bouquet. The couple will reside at 406 W. Lee, Brownwood.

The bride graduated from Burkburnett High School, and the bridegroom graduated from Natrona County High School, Casper, Wyo. Both attended Howard Payne College, Brownwood, where the bride is majoring in elementary education and is a member of Sigma Alpha Sigma. The bridegroom is an accounting major and is president of Alpha Beta Sigma business club and is a member of Sigma Lambda Chi.

REFRESHMENT TABLE

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the fellowship hall of the church where the honored couple, parents and attendants greeted guests.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cutwork cloth, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of white iris and apple blossoms in a crystal container. The centerpiece was flanked by white tapers in antique crystal candle holders.

The bride's chosen colors of antique gold and white were accented in the three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Curtis Moore, Denton, was in charge of the register. Members of the house party were Miss Mary Durhan, Miss Romana Bridges, Miss Sally Mitchell, Mrs. Mike Music, Mrs. Harold Preston, Mrs. William Nelson, Mrs. John Parrish, Mrs. Roy Mitchell and Mrs. Richard Hinkle.

The refreshment table was covered with an ivory lace cloth lined in blue, and the centerpiece was a stork figurine. The cake was frosted in colors of pink and blue and decorated with assorted baby novelties.

Miss Irene Hamlin, assisted by Mrs. Wylie served refreshments, and Mrs. Eddie Hamlin was in charge of the guest register.

Piece Goods Bring New Elegance

Elegant embroidered cottons are now available in a wide range of beautiful designs and colors in piece goods departments.

Like all cottons, these stylish fabrics are easy to sew. However, in order to make the most of an embroidered design, you should consider its placement when cutting out the fabric.

The National Cotton Council suggests that you lay out pattern pieces carefully, making sure the embroidered motif will not run into a seam or dart. If it does, you might remove the embroidery by ripping out threads.

If the embroidered fabric has an evenly repeated motif, make sure it's centered on bodice and skirt, both front and back.

New Seam Ripper Put On Market

The tedious task of ripping seams — particularly for beginners — can be simplified considerably with a new seam ripper that comes packaged with its own companion thread-puller. The seam ripper itself consists of a small hooked tool with a sharp cutting edge on a no-roll handle and the thread-puller is a device much like an eyebrow tweezer.

Chic Look Grooming

Many of the current younger set feel that to be terribly well groomed — to the last hair — is to protest too much, to try too hard. Certainly there is, when one is very young, a certain sort of studied negligence which can be chic under given conditions, say, on a vacation. But while a young woman may manage to neglect a few of the finer grooming points and appear refreshing, carefree and unpremeditated about it all, the older woman who ignores them — even once — only appears slipshod, careless and, in fact, sloppy.

Studied carelessness is one thing, but uneven hemlines run-down, unshined shoes and untidy hairdos are unattractive in the youngest woman. In an older one, they are positively shocking. Lingerie straps which slip and show may, under optimum conditions, seem provocative in a sweet young thing, but in any woman past 20 they are gloyvenly, and slippery slip straps are usually dingy as well.

The psyche was not a conversational topic in 1937 as it now is, which is why Jonathan Swift didn't mention it himself; but chronic bad grooming in a woman who lets herself go is either a matter of character or one of physical or moral fatigue. Let nothing make you so tired.

New Fabric Has Look Of Leather

The look of luxury leather is on its way here from Europe — via a new practical fabric developed primarily for men's clothing. This imported leather-type fabric is made of 100 per cent cotton with a polyurethane coating, comes in a host of fashion colors, resists abrasion, and can be safely laundered and ironed.

School Fashions Need 'Total Look'

When you select back-to-school fashions for your youngster, make sure ensembles with fall's new "total look" are totally washable. The National Cotton Council reminds you to check hang tags on each garment in a coordinated outfit. Linings and trims on a cotton outfit should be as washable as the garment itself. Here's another tip. If a two or three-piece ensemble is to remain coordinated, all pieces should always look fresh and clean... so wash them the same number of times.

Joe Kitchings Have New Son

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Kitching Jr., Corpus Christi, have announced the arrival of their son, Steven Paul, at 5:40 p.m., Sept. 2, weighing 7 pounds, 4 ounces. Kitching is a former local resident and is a nephew of Mrs. John W. Sevey, Box 828, Big Spring.

MRS. ELBERT LEE ROMAN III

Couple Recites Vows In Lenorah Church

Miss Betty Lou Langston, bride, and Mrs. Elbert Lee Roman III, groom, exchanged wedding vows with Elbert Lee Roman III, Knott, at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the Lenorah Baptist Church. The Rev. Fred Smith officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Langston, Star Route, Stanton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jean Roman, Ackerly, and E. L. Roman, Hereford.

A triangle of white seven-branched candelabra graced the altar which was centered with a sunburst of gladioli. An arrangement of emerald fern leaves formed the background.

MUSIC

"The Wedding Prayer" and "Because" were sung by Mrs. Jack Fryar accompanied by Mike Springer and Jack Fryar at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of silk-faced peau de sole lavished with imported Alencon lace flowing down each side of the chapel-length skirt. The dress had a fitted bodice that was highlighted by a bateau neckline, dipping to a V in the back, and long tapered sleeves ending in petal points over the wrists.

The bouffant waist-length veil of illusion fell from a pillbox hat encrusted with seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white baby roses atop a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Edith Joyce Jones, An-ton, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jerry Webb, Ackerly, and Miss Betty Sue Hollandsworth, Stanton.

The attendants wore identical dresses of oriental blue. The dresses featured fitted bodices and bell-shaped skirts made of velveteen. Their headpieces were chiffon rose clusters, and their bouquets were white carnations accented by flowing streamers.

The best man was Dennis Pohl, Cotulla. Groomsman were Michael Holcomb and Glynn Caughman, Ackerly. Serving as ushers were Beaver Ramsey, Big Spring, and Butch Howard, Tarzan.

Miss Glenda Sue Langston, sister of the bride, and Miss Terri Roman, cousin of the bridegroom, were flower girls. Their dresses were identical to the other attendants, and they carried white nosegays.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a royal blue silk suit accented with black accessories. Her corsage was taken from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside at 1511-A Wood.

The Romans are graduates of Flower Grove High School. Mrs. Roman attended Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, where she was a member of Alpha Omega. She is employed with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Roman attended Sul Ross College, Alpine, and is employed by a grain company in Big Spring.

Paula Hood Honored With Gift Shower

Miss Paula Hood, bride-elect of Joe Heard, was honored with a bridal shower Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Frazier, 1606 E. 25th.

Hostesses were Miss Penny Frazier, Miss Sandra Conner, and Miss Linda Hall.

Party Held Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Schaefer and family were honored with a Thursday evening farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. McCall, Sterling City Rt.

Schaefer, who is with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, is being transferred to Amarillo.

Webb Winners At Bridge Told

The refreshment table was covered with white linen, and the centerpiece was an ivory arch over a bridal figurine. An arrangement of pink carnations and red roses was featured on a coffee table and refreshments were served from a ruby colored punch bowl.

Pink carnation corsages were presented to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Paul Hood. The hostesses' gift was a blue negligee.

The couple plans to be married Sept. 11 at the 14th and Main Church of Christ.

Try Dyes On Cotton

If you're tired of the color of cotton slipcovers, bedspreads, or curtains, the National Cotton Council offers this simple solution.

Try a change of color, with fabric dye. A quick, inexpensive way to re-decorate, dyeing washable fabrics is easier than ever with improved home dyes on the market.

Cottons are the most "dye-able" fabrics because they are completely washable, and can take the hot water needed to set dyes. They also have a natural ability to absorb and retain dye.

You can dye cottons in your washing machine, following directions on the dye package.

MRS. DOUGLAS KEARNEY DAVIS

Clovis Service Unites Couple

Miss Martha Dawn Brooks became the bride of Douglas Kearney Davis at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church at Clovis, N.M., with the church pastor performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brookes of Clovis, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Davis, 1718 Purdue.

A program of nuptial music was presented by the organist before the father of the bride escorted her to the altar and gave her in marriage.

The bride was attired in a formal gown of white peau de soie enhanced with a band of applied flowers circling the scooped neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. The fullness of the skirt was caught with a large flat bow at the back waistline and swept into a chapel train. A queen's crown of seed pearls held the waist-length tiered veil, and her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls.

The bridal bouquet was formed of white roses backed with maline and showered with white satin streamers.

Miss Betty Lou Parrish attended the bride as maid of honor, and the best man was William Kirk Davis. Ushers were Larry Scarborough and William F. Echols.

Following a reception in the fellowship hall of the church, the couple left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. Upon returning, they will reside in Clovis.

The bride attended schools in Clovis and is employed by the Mountain States Telephone Company. Davis, a Big Spring High School graduate, attended Howard County Junior College and Texas Tech. He is employed by Radio Station KCLV in Clovis and will be attending classes this fall at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, N. M.

Reunited At Forsan

FORSAN (SC)—Twenty-eight members of the Bailey family recently attended a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walker Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Don Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Fallon and Mrs. Pearl Rogers, all from Big Spring; Dr. and Mrs. Bertie J. Fallon, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Huey Warner, Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. Gayland Bailey, Grand Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, Odessa; and Dr. and Mrs. E. Murl Bailey and Wanda, Ames, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Oglesby were in Odessa to visit Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Oglesby.

Mr. Clara Long has returned from a Dallas visit with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncy Long. Her son and his wife were also in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Howard have been J. J. Collins, and daughter, Elizabeth, Hawley, and Mrs. Sadie Collins, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. George Abe, Andrews and Mrs. Paul Stump, Big Spring.

Mrs. Frank Davidson is home from a visit in Aspermont.

Visitors who have returned to their home in Graham are Mrs. Ed Ragland and children, and Mrs. Sam Ragland after being here for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hawkins.

Float Plans Made By Coahomans

COAHOMA (SC) — Plans for a float in the homecoming parade were discussed during the recent meeting of the Mary Jane Club. The 11 members met at the home of Mrs. Ted Fowler and Mrs. Donald Duke presided.

The program theme was "Back to School," and the refreshment table was centered with a replica of a red school house. Individual favors were miniature footballs.

The group also discussed plans for a Friendship Tea, and Mrs. Bob Achard was welcomed as a returning member.

Snakeskin Popular

Purses made of snakeskin head the reptile look in fall accessories. For the young, it's cobra handbags — all cobra or in combinations with other materials. Alligator still will be king, though, of the quality-reptile looks.

Engaged

An October wedding is planned by Miss Cheryl Holsager and Lee Edwin Garner. The bride-elect is the daughter of L. Holsager, 1329 Wright, and the late Mrs. Holsager. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Howard Garner, Stephenville. The couple will be married Oct. 9 at the Allendale Baptist Church, Austin.

Miss Patti Harrison Weds James Palmer

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Miss Patti Sue Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Harrison, Colorado City, became the bride of James Oren Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Earl Palmer, Snyder, in double ring wedding rites, Saturday at 6 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, Colorado City. Vows were said before the Rev. M. A. Smith Jr., pastor.

Charles Rannes Goes To Houston

The bride, given in marriage by her father, carried white orchids and stephanotis in a crescent design topping her white Rainbow Bible. She wore a slender floor-length gown of white silk linen accented with a gently scooped neckline.

Miss Lynne Witten, Colorado City, was maid of honor, and A. E. Palmer, Washington, D.C., brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride is a graduate of Colorado High School and attended Texas Tech. The groom is a 1961 graduate of Colorado High School and has a BS degree from West Texas State Uni-

College Campuses Beckoning Many Big Springers

Many Schools Represented

It's study-time again, and Big Spring young people by the hundreds—possibly the largest number ever—are making last-minute preparations to go to college and university campuses over a far-flung area.

A great many of them will be returning to familiar surroundings for another year of work, with some play. For others, the freshmen, it will be a brand new experience of the higher educational environment.

Texas colleges and universities are attracting the bulk of young Big Springers, although some travel to more distant campuses.

A heavy percentage have chosen to pursue their college work by starting at Howard County Junior College, whose enrollment will be swollen to a record total.

Some of the students who plan to remain in Big Spring and attend Howard County Junior College for a year or two are Kent Sneed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sneed, 2383 Gracey; Charles Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Richardson Jr., Silver Heels Addition; Donnie Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simpson, 4101 Wasson Road; Jim Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack G. Alexander, Rt. 2; Carolyn Carlsson, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Carl A. Carlsson, 141-A Dow; Sharon Tally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond B. HINTS FROM HELOISE Lemon Dissolves Saccharin Tablet

Dear Heloise: In this day and age, when so many people are using saccharin, it would be most helpful for them to know how to melt a tablet instantly. Put a saccharin tablet in a teaspoon, squeeze in a drop or two of fresh lemon juice, and the tablet will melt instantly! This eliminates trying to mash it in the bottom of a glass. Jean Fein

Wow! When trying to lose some of the blubber around my waist recently, I switched from sugar to saccharin. When making iced tea, I have chased that little tablet all over the bottom of a glass, trying to mash it with a spoon. Now, my troubles are solved, thanks to Jean. I know that you all do not believe this actually works, but, just pick up a saccharin tablet, and squirt one or two drops of lemon juice on it. Most times lemon is served with ice tea. I HELOISE also tried it with a few drops of fresh lime, and it melts the saccharin instantly. It is absolutely unbelievable. The minute amount of lemon or lime does not taste in a drink, either. Jean, you may not be a chemist, but you're number one in my book. Thanks a million... Heloise

Dear Heloise: Instead of starching my dollies, I spray them with clear PLASTIC spray starch, shape them, and allow to dry thoroughly. They hold their shape even when I wash them... A Reader Yes, because plastic starch lasts through many washings... Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER: Dear Heloise: Our church rummage sale is coming up soon. One year, we were wondering about how much would come in because we'd all contributed to earlier sales. But, bless me, you never saw such an avalanche! Our minister's wife was astounded. When I came in, I said, "Oh, pooh, I'm not surprised—we have Heloise to thank for this." told us all to clean out everything we hadn't used in six months!... Helen Fletcher Dear Heloise: For all of those who have two-piece knitted suits—skirt and blouse — whether hand or machine knitted, I have learned that if you will turn the skirt completely around each time you wear it (wear the back in the front one time, and the front in the back next time), that it will keep it from stretching!

As the front and back of knitted skirts are made exactly the same, it will fit perfectly, no matter which way you wear it. Redhead And, thank you, Miss Redhead!... This may sound odd to some people, but it really helps me. I fill the wash bowl about one-quarter full of water, then hold my dentures over the water to brush them. If they accidentally drop from my hands, they will fall into the water, and are not so likely to break as if they fell into the empty wash bowl... Grandma

To defrost my refrigerator, after turning it off, I place several large towels in the refrigerator tray, put a large pot of boiling water in the freezer unit, and close the door for 20 to 30 minutes. Then, when I take out the pot of water and remove the towels, the job is done. No trouble, and no mess. Mrs. B. B. (Write Heloise in care of the

Children's Togs Have More Give

Noted designer Florence Elsmann explains that she has selected stretch fabric for some of her latest children's clothing because it is so practical, rather than just for its "give." It is important, she notes, "because it has good body, wears well, and is easy to care for especially when accidental spills occur." Any experienced mother will immediately equate this principle with washability, because "easy care" is almost synonymous with suds-and-water.

MRS. JAMES TERRY STRANGE

Wedding Solemnized In Dallas Saturday

The wedding of Miss Charlotte Anders and James Terry Strange was solemnized Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at Dr. Wallace Bassett read the nuptial ceremony in the chapel of the Cliff Temple Baptist Church in Dallas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Anders, 4129 Vanette Lane, Dallas, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Strange, Gaudier, Miss.

The double ring ceremony was recited before a bank of greenery and semi-circle of candle swirls. Bill Anders, uncle of the bride, sang "The Passage From Ruth" and "I Love Thee" for the ritual and "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt on a white prie dieu.

The bride's attire was an Empire coat dress of white peau de soie with long slender skirt and Alecon lace panel re-embroidered with clusters of seed pearls. The mantle cloak fell from the shoulders and developed into a chapel train, and the front waistline was marked with a large double bow. The bride's veil of illusion was held by an Alecon lace cap re-embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried her mother's white Bible topped with a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid. She was given in marriage by her father.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. H. E. Bobo, Mesquite, was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaid's were Miss Sue Zan Reedy, Dallas; Mrs. Leroy Bush, Austin; and Miss Kerry Hyde, Arcadia, La. The bride's niece, Robin Ann Bobo, was the flower girl, and her cousin, Todd Alan Huckleba, was the ring bearer.

Jimmy Reed, Orlando, Fla., served as best man, and the groomsmen were H. E. Bobo, Mesquite; Bill McWhorter, Arlington; and Leroy Bush, Austin.

The bridesmaids wore dark aqua crepe, in floor-length, and carried bouquets of cascading orchid grapes and spider chrysanthemums. Kimberly Kay Bobo and Kristi Lynn Bobo, nieces of the bride, were rice girls. Their dresses were orchid silk organza as was the dress of the flower girl.

Two hundred guests attended the reception in the church parlor. The bride's table was covered with white silk organza over white satin and was outlined with a wide band of aqua satin ribbon caught at each corner with aqua roses. The centerpiece was of aqua roses and orchid candles in gold candelabra, and a gold punch service was used. The three-tiered white wedding cake was topped with fresh flowers.

WEDDING TRIP
The bride's traveling attire for the wedding trip was a cinnamon silk suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple will be at home in Denton where both are students at North Texas State University.

The bride resided here with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. McAlister Jr., while attending Howard County Junior College. She was named Miss Big Spring in 1964 and was a finalist in the Miss Texas Pageant. The bridegroom is a graduate of Howard County Junior College.

83RD ANNIVERSARY

Holiday Has Long History

Monday will mark the 83rd observation of Labor Day in these United States. It will be observed by millions of people — majority of whom will give no thought at all to its meaning or how it came into existence. The fact that the first Monday in September brings a holiday is quite enough for Mr. Average Citizen. How it happens he gets the holiday is a matter of little importance. The day off is the thing that counts.

The day owes its origin to an organization calling itself the Knights of Labor. It seems that in 1869, 10 garment makers employed in a clothing factory in Philadelphia, organized a secret society they called the Knights of Labor.

The organization had an elaborate ritual. It was dedicated to honoring men and women who worked with their hands — to the laboring masses of the country and the world. It is noteworthy that the original Knights of Labor barred politicians, physicians, lawyers, and liquor dealers from membership. Even today, the Knights of Labor, which still exists in some areas, will not admit a liquor dealer or a lawyer. Politicians, however, and physicians can join.

The Knights of Labor grew slowly. By 1872, there were only 27 locals. The goldbeaters of New York formed the first chapter in that city. However, the Knights soon became tremendously important in labor circles, and by 1878 boasted 300,000 members. There are less than 100,000 today.

PARADE
In 1882, the Philadelphia Knights staged a parade on the first September Monday. The day was hailed as Labor Day. Two years later a second parade was held on the same date. A resolution was adopted by the first Monday in each September should be set aside as a day to honor labor.

Oregon was the first state to enact a law noting Labor Day, but the date set by Oregon was the first Saturday in June. The law became effective Feb. 21, 1887. In 1893, Oregon revised the law making the date the first Monday in September. In 1887, Colorado; New Jersey, New York and Massachusetts had adopted laws designating the day.

The day is now a holiday in all of the states, territories and in the District of Columbia. It is one of the most generally observed holidays on the calendar.

MAY DAY
It is an answer, in the American way it is celebrated, to the labor day of the leftist lands overseas — May Day. In Russia and in other lands, May 1 is the equivalent of the United States' Labor Day.

The millions of men and women who have a day off from their jobs today owe their little vacation to a man named McGuire.

For it was a McGuire, a Knight of Labor, who in 1882 made the motion that Labor Day be an annual holiday.

Smith Accepts Two Statewide Posts

Two assignments of statewide scope have been accepted by Jack Y. Smith, director of industrial relations for Corden Oil & Chemical Company, and a veteran volunteer in the field of mental health development in Texas.

He has been appointed to a place on one of 11 State Task Forces on Mental Retardation. Each of these units will have about 10 members, and their objective will be to pursue a planning study in the cause of mental retardation, under Governor John Connally's program in this area.

Three meetings of the Task Forces already have been set up, and the first will be Sept. 11-12. Others are scheduled for Oct. 16-17, and Oct. 30-31. Members will analyze, evaluate and organize collected community data, so that recommendations can be made for a Texas plan to combat mental retardation.

Smith also has been named to an organization called Opportunities, Inc., whose main objective will be to help provide employment for those who will have attained certain skills at the Gary Job Corps Training Center at San Marcos.

Major industries over the state are cooperating in Opportunities, Inc., and Corden was asked to participate. Smith was appointed by president R.

JACK Y. SMITH

L. Tollett to represent the local concern.

Opportunities, Inc., is a private, non-profit corporation, through which large industrial concerns are pooling their knowledge to help the Job Corps trainees learn new trades, and to find gainful employment in such. It will be a tie-in between industry and the Gary center, will help in bringing the training there up to certain required standards, and then help create equal opportunity for qualified trainees as regards employment.

Students Begin School Trek Here Tuesday

Tuesday has been set as registration day for elementary school students in Big Spring, and for picking up schedules by secondary students. Buses will not run and cafeterias will not be open on that day.

Elementary student parents should register their children at the schools in their attendance areas. As parents are required to sign registration cards, it will not be necessary for children to accompany them, Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services, said.

Seventh grade students will pick up their schedules at their respective school gymnasiums (Goliad and Runnels) at 9:30 a.m.; Eighth and Ninth grade students will report to their respective gymnasiums at 10:15 a.m.

Tenth grade students will pick up their schedules at the high school auditorium at 1:30 p.m., and 11th and 12th grades in the high school gym at 2 p.m.

Doing Odets

NEW YORK (AP) — A revival of "The Flowering Peach" by Clifford Odets is marked down as the first production project this season by the Actors Studio.

ABClub Hears Computer Give Soliloquy, Then Sing

Human speech took on new meaning for the ABClub Friday when Glenn Scott, public information supervisor for Southwestern Bell, gave a demonstration titled "The Speech Chain."

After briefly explaining human speech processes, he dramatized the expansion and improvement of human communications through scientific research and reproduction of human speech functions.

Using the Bell System's artificial larynx, he showed how electronically operated artificial vocal cords can restore speech to the voiceless. Scott then demonstrated synthetic speech, produced by a machine. He explained that such experimentation helps telephone scientists to understand and improve human communications.

Because of the size and complexity of a computer that talks, Scott did not bring one with him, but he played recordings of a machine reciting the "Hamlet Soliloquy." For an encore, the computer accompanied itself on the piano while singing "Bicycle Built for Two."

No Increase In Gun Sales Here

The recent California riots, which caused a large amount of gun-buying in that state, evidently had no such effect locally.

"That Watts thing was like in another world," one gunshop proprietor said. "It didn't bother people here much—at least not enough for them to buy guns for protection. But we have had a big run on women's purse pistols," he amended. "They are buying them because of the Austin co-ed murders. At least that is what they tell me."

"A woman came in the other day to buy a pistol," another shop owner said. "She said she was from California, and was going back there. She figured she needed protection, but I haven't had any increase in business from local people because of the California thing."

Most of the gunshops reported a slight business increase in recent months, including the time of the Watts incident, but the proprietors said most of the increase was in the heavy-caliber pistol trade.

"A lot of Air Force men who are going to Viet Nam are buying .357 Macons, .45 autos and other big handguns," a pawnshop operator said. "And a number of them who are leaving their families behind are buying smaller handguns for their wives."

All of the shops were doing brisk business in shotguns and shotgun shells, due to the opening of dove season Sept. 1, but none reported any increase in the purchase of rifles in that month.

Berle To Play A Serious Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Milton Berle, brash, bombastic but beloved, is playing a serious role in "The Oscar," so serious he doesn't have one single laugh line.

And, what's more, the new Uncle Miltie likes it that way. He has informed the publicity department at Paramount that he won't pose for any gag publicity pictures.

"I'm playing a serious part in the movies for the first time — and I'm being serious all the way," vows Milton.

Region Meet On Retarded Children Here Saturday

The regional meeting of the Texas Association for Retarded Children is scheduled for Sept. 11 at Goliad Junior High School Cafeteria. Registration will begin at 9 a.m.

The association will be called to order at 9:30 a.m. and the program for the morning will include the invocation; report of councils and communities; report from the governor's study by S. M. Anderson, Big Spring school superintendent, Jack Y. Smith, chairman of the Big Spring mayor's committee, and by Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital. Reports will also be heard from the Texas association and the national association.

The meeting will dismiss for lunch at 11:45 a.m. and lunch will be served in the cafeteria at 12 noon. The luncheon speaker will be Charles G. Fairchild, assistant commissioner of education, Texas Education Agency, Austin.

Workshops will begin at 1:30 p.m. and run until 3:30 p.m. when recommendations for the Texas Association will be made.

Stockade Built To Hold Youths

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Missouri Gov. Warren E. Hearnes authorized construction of a barbed wire stockade at the resort area of Rockaway Beach, scene of rioting by youths during the July 4 weekend.

Authorities have received a number of threats that young people would return over the Labor Day weekend to get revenge for arrests during the last outing.

Y Program Set To Begin

The new fall program schedule of the YMCA is now being sent to members and all interested persons.

The schedule of activities features instructional and recreational swimming in the indoor heated pool for all skill levels and ages. Also stressed are gymnastic classes for youngsters, plus gymnastics and tumbling skills with recreational gym activities. Fitness classes are offered for men and women. Gym and swim classes begin Monday, Sept. 13.

"Y" youth club groups will begin with organizational meetings to be held as follows: "Y" Indian Guides, 7:00 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 21; Gra-Y Football, 10:00 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 18; Jr. Hi-Y and Jr. Tri-Hi-Y, 4:00 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 28; Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y, 7:30 p.m., Monday, Sept. 13.

Special interest classes in tap and ballet instruction will begin for ages three years and up on Sept. 14.

Informal education classes will be offered in square dancing, beginning Sept. 2; basic bridge, Sept. 14; and guitar, Sept. 21.

Registrations are now being taken for all classes. Anyone desiring further information may telephone the YMCA, AM 4-8821, or AM 4-8331.

Commended For Performance

Pfc Harold R. Scott Jr. who is a military policeman currently stationed in Augsburg, Germany, was highly commended by his commanding officer Aug. 6 when he was transferred to his present post.

Scott, the 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Scott Sr., 1604 Vines, is a native of Big Spring and attended school here. He entered the service in 1964 and has been stationed overseas since April.

His commanding officer, in a letter handed to young Scott when he left for Augsburg, praised him for his "outstanding performance of service with the 3rd Platoon, 533rd MP company."

He was also lauded for "the meticulous and precise care and manner in which performed your duties."

Koreans Shut Down Colleges

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The government closed two major universities in Seoul today for failing to punish professors and students responsible for the recent antigovernment riots.

Newly appointed Education Minister Kwon O-byung said Korea and Yonsei universities will stay shut until their administrators "completely remove elements for further student demonstrations."

Under government pressure, schools expelled or suspended 86 students. But Yonsei University refused, saying such measures would not help. Korea University expelled only two students.

Junior College Expects Over 1,000 Enrollment

Howard County Junior College is poised for the beginning of its 21st regular term Tuesday, and prospects are for a record enrollment that should top 1,000 for the first time.

Freshman orientation gets under way at 9 a. m. Tuesday in the college auditorium, and there is a good chance that it will be nearly filled for the occasion.

Registration is set for Wednesday and Thursday with hours of 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. and 6:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. on both days.

Classes will begin at 8 a. m. Friday.

The faculty completed two days of preparation Friday and all members were present, including seven new members. A get-acquainted salad supper was held Friday evening.

Dormitories are filled, and for the first time there is a waiting list for both the men's and the women's quarters. They will open their doors at noon Monday, and the Dora Roberts Student Union Building will open at the same time. The first regular meal will be served at breakfast Tuesday, but the snack bar will be open Monday afternoon and evening.

Both the dormitory reservations and the avalanche of transcripts from area high schools are taken as indices that a new high is in prospect for the college, said Dr. W. A. Hunt. He won't hazard a guess on the totals, but he does think that the total will go over 1,000. Already, 130 men at Webb AFB have started processing for registra-

Col. Metcalf Is Personnel Chief

The new chief of personnel at Webb Air Force Base, Lt. Col. John C. Metcalf, looks on his new assignment as something of a homecoming. Though he has not lived in Big Spring before, he is a Texan, born in Mineola Dec. 28, 1920. He comes to his native state from a three-year tour in Hawaii.

"Apparently," says Col. Metcalf, "West Texas has the hospitality know-how of East Texas. Big Springers have been nothing but nice to us. We bought a home in Kentwood and already we feel at home."

The colonel is married to the former Raline Black of Salt Lake City. They have five children: Ronald Jr., 18, Sheryl A., 16, Larry Jr., 13, John D., 9, and Virginia, 4.

In September, 1939, Col. Metcalf began his career as an enlisted man. He rose to the grade of staff sergeant and in November, 1943, accepted a commission. Serving in the 13th Air Corps Service Command, he island-hopped from the Solomons to Clark Field in the Philippines.

After World War II, he left the service and went to work for Joske's Department Store in San Antonio. He was recalled into service for the Korean build-up, first at Williams Air Force Base in Arizona and then the Pentagon. He remained in Washington for the duration of the Korean conflict, as chief of the processing section of Headquarters, U. S. Air Force.

In 1953, he was assigned to Headquarters, Twelfth Air Force, then located at Ramstein, Germany. In 1955, he went to the 36th Fighter Day

Wing at Bitburg, Germany. He returned to the United States in 1957, and was deputy chief of the officers branch, military personnel, Headquarters, Air Materiel Command, at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio. In 1958, he became chief of military personnel at San Antonio Air Materiel Area, Kelly AFB, Texas, where he remained until 1962.

Col. Metcalf comes to Webb from a three-year tour at Wheeler AFB, Hawaii, where he was director of personnel for the Pacific Security Region (U.S. Air Force Security Service).

COL. J. C. METCALF

and some observers think that the total from this source may get to 200 before registration has ended.

Another factor which bids to boost the HCJC enrollment is the inability of some young men and women to get into dormitories of four-year colleges. Already, several have had their transcripts sent here.

If the enrollment turns out as it promises, news last week that HCJC has been approved for a $304,000 grant under the college facilities act is especially timely. This will mean that the college can go for both a new science and a new library plant by putting a recently approved $500,000 bond issue with the federal funds. Plans are so nearly complete that a contract letting could be had within 60 days.

New faces on the faculty include Dr. Dawson DeViney, who came here from Brownsville as administrative dean; Dal Herring, English; Larry Wayne Nutter, English; Larry E. Reese, history; Robert Bradberry, math; Mrs. Doris Huijbregt, business administration; Joe Cadman Shaver, instrumental music.

World Events Are Against Him

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Mike Clifford may get that big break yet, if the world settles down.

Mike is managed by Helen Noga, the impresario who made a millionaire out of Johnny Mathis. But she's having trouble getting him into orbit, through no fault of Mike's.

First, he went to Venezuela for a television show. He arrived in the middle of a revolution and spent his whole time in a hotel room.

Then he got a job in the Playboy Club in Miami. The Cuban crisis ruined that.

Next, Winnipeg, in the middle of the worst blizzard in history. Three people showed up at the club.

Finally, a few weeks ago, he opened at the Slate Brothers in Hollywood, the club that started off Jack Jones, Jay Stevens and Don Rickles.

But then came the Watts riots and police advised Henry Slate to close.

Gene Schaefer Goes To Amarillo

Gene Schaefer, 3703 Lajunta Street, chief switchman for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. here, has been named to a similar position for the company in Amarillo.

A veteran of 15 years in the telephone company, Schaefer began his career as a line-man in Cisco. He served as an installer repairman there and at Seminole and was promoted to wire chief at Shamrock in 1961. He later served at Alpine and moved to Big Spring as plant foreman in 1963.

Schaefer is married and has three children.

SEPTEMBER IS THE BACK TO SCHOOL MONTH

Children must be readied for school. Clothes must be mended and new ones bought. School supplies are to be purchased and going away to college children must have their bags packed. They will need quantities of health-aids and toilet articles. You will save time by being able to get them from our pharmacy.

September is a real busy month, but find time to bring the children to your physician for a health check-up before school begins. Some of them may need booster shots or new inoculations against communicable diseases. Others may be told to take vitamins, particularly if they take hurried meals away from home.

2. Cash awards will be made in each of seven divisions, as listed on this page, in addition to a $100 Grand Award for the best recipe of them all.
3. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of originality, simplicity of preparation and neatness of entry. Competent food experts will do the judging and their decisions will be final.
4. All entries become the property of Home Town Cookin' and none will be returned.
5. All entries must be postmarked prior to 12 midnight, Saturday, October 2, 1965.
6. This recipe event is open to all West Texas residents. Only employees, agents and other representatives of The Herald and associated companies and members of their families are not eligible.

YOU MUST SUBMIT YOUR RECIPE
 ACCORDING TO THIS EXAMPLE

1. DIVISION BEING ENTERED (main dish, salad, cake, etc)
2. NAME OF DISH
3. LIST OF INGREDIENTS, IN ORDER THEY ARE TO BE USED (be specific on measurements)
4. COMPLETE COOKING INSTRUCTIONS, INCLUDING TEMPERATURES, TIMES AND SIZES OF DISHES WHERE BAKING IS REQUIRED.
5. FULL NAME — COMPLETE ADDRESS
6. TYPE OR PRINT YOUR RECIPE

A Devotional For The Day

Luke alone is with me. (II Timothy 4:11, RSV)
PRAYER: Our Father, help us this day not to work for our own sake and good only. Grant us the honor of serving Thee and our fellowman. We ask this in Jesus' name, praying as He taught us: "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."
 (From the 'Upper Room')

Do Your Duty On Tuesday

Unless all signs fail, Tuesday's vote on a constitutional amendment which would raise the membership of the Texas Senate from 31 to 39 members will draw one of the lightest vote totals on record.

The election date couldn't have come at a worse time. It will be the day after the Labor Day holiday and the very day on which many schools (including our own) will be opening. Confusion will combine with lethargy to keep voters home.

And yet this is a crucially important issue. You should not be one of those who lets minor distractions keep you from casting a vote.

Only one state has more people per senator than Texas, and only one state has more area than Texas. Thus increasing the size will not put us out of line. Nor will the increased cost of maintaining eight additional senators, for this will be an infinitesimal amount out of the total state budget.

It seems to us that the most compelling reason for approving the amendment is that this will make it possible to draw districts with due consideration of community of interest and with some regard to holding vast geographic spreads.

Under the new one-man one-vote concept, the drawing of 31 districts that make sense from the point of geography and economy is almost an impossible concept. With 39 senators, urban concentrations could be accommodated without creating monstrous spreads out in the hinterlands.

There may be many other recommendations (and doubtless there are some objections) for the increased number of districts, but it seems to us that they offer the prospect of more equitable representation both now and in the long run. And after all, that is what we are after.

Time Of Beginning

Perhaps this is an inopportune time to bring it up, for many families will be taking a last summer fling before school and the regular routine pins them down, but something should be said for encouraging church affiliation and attendance.

This is a good time to begin again if you are not a regular participant, or to consider the value of church life if you have not been so connected in the past. In many respects, this is a better time of beginning than the traditional first of the year.

The fate of this nation is tied to its sense of moral values. It may be argued that these can come from philosophical and ethical sources, but we feel the rootage must be deeper and more enduring than that. The uniqueness of our system emanates from a social and political morality that clearly comes from a religious background. Hence, what our country urgently needs is a growing number seriously committed to spirituality, otherwise religious formalities will be meaningless.

Disrespect For The Law

WASHINGTON — It isn't often that a clergyman has also had a successful career as a government lawyer and in private business. Ministers have rarely had the opportunity to study the law of the land as was the experience of the Rev. Dr. Robert B. Watts, pastor of an Episcopal church in La Jolla, Calif.

A sermon delivered by Dr. Watts since the Los Angeles riots deplors the doctrine that it is all right to disobey an "unjust" law. The latter idea, enunciated by the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Negro leader, has aroused considerable objection not only among clergymen but among laymen as well throughout the country.

DR. WATTS graduated from Yale Law School, where he was editor of the Yale Law Journal. He practiced law in Chicago and New York, and was chief assistant U. S. attorney in New York City for several years and served also as special assistant to the Attorney General of the United States. He was with the National Labor Relations Board for nine years — from 1934 to 1943. For three of these he was general counsel of the board and argued many of its cases in the Supreme Court of the United States. He served also in business as vice president and general counsel of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation and later with General Dynamics Corporation. He was ordained in 1958 in the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles. Dr. Watts, in his recent sermon, said:

"THERE HAS BEEN advanced by various philosophical followers of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., one of the most extraordinary suggestions ever made in Anglo-Saxon or American legal annals. As a mixture of sophistry and soft-headedness, brewed by non-legal or corroded legal minds, I assert that this suggestion has spawned the present wave of destruction now sweeping the country.

"IN BRIEF, this proposed doctrine is that if any individual citizen or group of citizens, after meditation, come to the conclusion that any law is unjust; and further conclude that if apprehended he or they are willing to accept the penalty imposed for violation of the law — then it becomes morally justifiable to break the law openly and notoriously.

"Of course the worst thing about this doctrine is that there are no dividing lines in it. If it is valid for a small violation, it applies equally to a more serious one. Once you start this approach there is no stopping.

"THE AMAZING thing is that many clergy of this church, including both priests and bishops, have openly and officially accepted this doctrine. Episcopal clergymen have received written expressions of this doctrine for their guidance. And large numbers of clergy of this and other communions have been sent, or have gone on their own volition, to Southern areas for the sole purpose of expressing racial concerns by open law defiance pursuant to this new assertion of moral right.

"Finally, as sorely distressed Christians we see instances after instances of reluctance on the part of elected officials to meet lawlessness quickly and firmly lest there be an adverse effect upon their personal political careers at the ballot box. Thank God, not all our officials are of this character, but too many are."

DR. WATTS declared that it ought to be perfectly clear that no person, "however exalted he may be or regard himself, has the right to say that what was wrong before becomes morally right if the acting party is willing to be punished if caught." He pointed out that clergymen have a duty not only to support the Constitution and laws of the land, but to reject the doctrine "of a morally justified civil disobedience." He urged that there be no compromise with lawlessness, and he added that Christians should "seek by all lawful and proper means to help our neighbors to achieve civic equality of treatment and betterment of opportunity for self-improvement."

Lines Erased

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Nearly 200 Negro Methodist churches and about 370 white Methodist churches in this southern peninsula region have merged into a single integrated Methodist annual conference, ending separate administrative jurisdictions for the two groups. It was the first actual merger in a process for eliminating segregated jurisdiction throughout the denomination.

SUPPORT FOR THE SNIPER

J. A. Livingston Common Stock Lure Touches Insurance

Since the end of the war, Wall Street has been saying seductively: "Come on in, the water's fine." But life insurance executives have been slow to heed the call of the 500 per cent advance in common stocks.

Theory: Life insurance companies deal in dollars, not in inflation. They pay death claims in dollars. They pay annuities in dollars. They want to be sure when obligations come due—that dollars are on hand to meet them.

This strict-dollar concept, however, has not been accepted by British or Canadian life companies. And it is changing here. The Life Insurance Fact Book discloses that last year common stock purchases by life insurance companies amounted to $750,000,000, a 42 per cent increase over 1963.

Common stock holdings rose from $4.8 to $5.4 billion, and at the end of 1964 amounted to 3.6 per cent of total assets as against less than one per cent in the late 'forties (see chart).

Ten years ago Frederick W. Ecker, then president, proudly noted that only two-tenths of one per cent of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's assets were in common stocks. And those the company acquired by accident—conversion of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. debentures. Today the percentage isn't much greater—0.27 per cent. But it will be.

PERVASIVE INFLUENCE
 Common stocks have had New York State's legislative blessing. In 1951, the law was changed to permit life companies to commit 3 per cent of their assets (whichever is lower) to equities. Then in 1957, the ceiling was raised to 5 per cent of assets or 50 per cent of surplus.

Since most large insurance companies vie for business in New York, they try to comply "substantially" with its laws and regulations. Otherwise, their salesmen would be shut out of this extensive and lucrative market.

Life insurance companies buy common stocks for two reasons: First, they permit a company to participate—in a small way—in the economic expansion of the nation. Second, and perhaps more important, stocks give insurance companies a chance to get out of low-income bonds and raise their current rate of return. This is a bookkeeping matter.

OFFSET BOND PROBLEM
 Back in the 'forties, insurance companies paid 100 cents on the dollar for 2½ per cent government bonds and for 3 per cent corporates. In today's 4 to 4½ per cent bond market, such issues would sell at substantial discounts from par. Insurance companies, seeking a higher return, are in a bind. To sell such bonds would result in losses which would have to be charged against surplus.

However, if these losses could be offset against profits on the sale of stocks, then surplus would be unimpaired, also there'd be no change in taxes. Thus, price appreciation in common stocks has enabled insurance companies to rearrange bond portfolios.

This, incidentally, explains the seeming paradox of the purchase of $750,000,000 in common stocks last year and a gain in holdings of only $600,000,000. The industry took advantage of the rising market to sell stocks even as it acquired them.

APPETITES WHETTED
 Don't be illuded. Life insurance executives have wet their feet (or should I make a pun and say appetites?) but haven't plunged into stocks.

Life insurance companies now can purchase common stocks for group insurance plans. These are kept in separate accounts. Some of these plans, depending on the individual employer's contract, include variable benefits or annuities to pensioners.

THE "IF"
 The Prudential Insurance Co. was an early-comer to common stocks and actually developed a variable annuity plan for sale to the public. Theory: People want "purchasing power" as well as a fixed sum of dollars in their old age.

But the Prudential was not able to get an exemption from registering with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Investment Company Act.

Though insurance company executives are now committed to common stocks, they are mindful of their disadvantage in current return—3 per cent on stocks, 4½ per cent on high-grade corporate bonds. Besides, they still deal mainly in dollars, not purchasing power.

Nevertheless, if stocks continue to rise, don't be surprised if large New York companies ask the legislature to raise the ceiling on common stock holdings once again. But that would not be next year or the year after.

Around The Rim

'Teacher Says We Have To Have This'

First thing to be done after getting the kids to report to school opening day is to get 'em equipped for all this modernistic learning.

'Twas ever thus, and thank Heaven they don't have to buy their books like they did in the dim ages. Add those to all the other paraphernalia the educational system demands and no family would ever make it.

IT WAS BAD enough when a young-un' departed classroom the first day, clutching in little hot hand the teacher's list of required supplies. These would include the speller, the reader, the arithmetic and a copybook, plus a few pencils and crayons, and that was enough, and no nonsense.

In our town, we thundered into Mr. Doss' drug store, put the list in the hands of a weary clerk, and came out with a reasonable facsimile of what the teacher said we ought to have.

AS YOU COULD guess, each year the non-nonsense philosophy faded a bit, and pupils were told to bring more items to class.

There was a year when my Uncle Fred decided that it would be profitable to add a line of school supplies to the other materials he sold at the printing office. He was a no-nonsense man, himself, and stocked what he considered to be sufficient for rudimentary learning.

THAT WAS A YEAR when some of the teachers went progressive, and sent their charges swarming into the printing office wanting all manner of "construction" paper, in all manner of colors and sizes, as well as pens with multicolor inks, paint boxes, and the like.

Uncle Fred, besieged by the little people, each with a different list, and not known particularly as a man of patience, just herded 'em all out the door and told 'em not to come back. He eventually threw the school supplies out the back door, all the while muttering that the blankety-blank teachers were hastening the world to that place it goes in a handbasket.

THE SCHOOL SYSTEM survived. Uncle Fred, but I dare say that the people who cater to the teachers' requirements this day and age occasionally want to pull their hair, too.

But I betcha they don't sell much of what used to be essentials at the opening day of school. These would be book satchels and book straps. The satchels were for little girls made of spice, and perhaps a boy here and there who was either sissy, studious, or both. Straps were for the lads who essayed to be carefree about the whole thing, and by and large indifferent to what books were taken home for night study. I was a bookstrap man, myself, and it still shows.

KIDS BOUGHT lunch boxes, too; neat little box-type affairs made out of some kind of cardboard with a fragile carrying strap, but sufficient to hold a couple of sausage sandwiches and an apple. What else for lunch?

Well, anybody knows by now that kids don't need satchels or straps or lunchboxes. All they need is transportation.

PLUS CONSTRUCTION paper, and notebooks, and pens and pencils, and crayons and paints, and graph sheets, and cardboard and modeling clay and sure-hold glue and so on and so on.

Getting 'em ready for school ain't easy, is it? —BOB WHIPKEY

Let Me Help Somewhere Else

WASHINGTON — Although there may be a shortage of peace in the world these days, there is certainly no shortage of peacemakers.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser went to Moscow ostensibly to explore the possibilities of peace in Viet Nam, where the United States and North Viet Nam cannot seem to resolve their differences.

WHILE THIS IS going on, the United States has offered its good offices to help find a peaceful solution to the Kashmir dispute between Pakistan and India. India, who will not give an inch on Kashmir, has indicated it would be willing to act as a mediator in the Malaysian-Indonesian dispute, which has become somewhat touchy of late.

Malaysia, of course, is concerned about the British-Aden controversy, while the British have been hard at work trying to resolve the Turkish-Greek dispute over Cyprus.

THE TURKS, though ready to attack Greece at any moment, have asked their diplomats to find a peaceful solution to the Iraqi-Kurdistan fighting, and Iraq wants to find some means of settlement of the Sudanese crisis at the very moment the Sudanese have been seeking a way of getting Ethiopia and Somalia to stop attacking each other.

Although Haile Selassie is not about to give way on this thorny problem, he said he was willing to act as mediator in negotiations between the Congo and Brazzaville in their dispute, which has become quite bitter in the last two years.

MEANWHILE, BACK in the Western hemisphere, Chile is hard at work to find an out to the Dominican Republic crisis, although it has opposed any solution to its border dispute with Bolivia.

President de Gaulle has offered to mediate any dispute anywhere, while refusing to negotiate any kind of nuclear test ban treaty.

The Soviet Union, while harassing West Berlin, has been trying behind the scenes to stop Communist China from attacking India.

PRESIDENT TITO keeps traveling around asking heads of state to reason together while his troops put pressure on the Albanian border.

And while Nasser is in Moscow, American diplomats are working day and night to talk him out of a war with Israel.

IF ALL THIS sounds a little ridiculous, the latest word is that Dr. Martin Luther King, after being hooted out of Los Angeles, now wants to go to Hanoi.

As a matter of fact, you won't find one leader in the world today who isn't willing to mediate a just peace — for somebody else.

Our Spy-In-The-Sky Machine

WASHINGTON—The hush-hush curtain around the Manned Orbiting Laboratory is so thick that the atmosphere is a little like the wartime Manhattan Project that produced the atomic bomb.

This first entry of the military into space would undoubtedly, if wartime censorship were applied, be off limits for comment. Official discussion thus far has been phrased in general hints and cautious intimations of what MOL can and cannot do.

BUT THOSE closest to the lengthy review of the project and its final authorization swear that its thrust will be for peace and not for war. Before President Johnson announced that the Air Force was authorized to develop the $1.5 billion laboratory in outer space, the proposal had been surveyed from every angle by the space council of which Vice President Hubert Humphrey is chairman.

PIECING TOGETHER what has been said so far about MOL and with a bit of conjecture the picture that emerges is one of a far-out operation and far out not just in space geography. It is the application of techniques of communication and observation matching the wildest science fiction.

MOL is a step forward — and a giant step — in the capacity to know instantly and to communicate with the same speed what is happening on the earth, in the waters around the earth or in the air above. The first step was the U-2 spy plane which, as the boast went, could photograph ants on the sidewalk from 60,000 feet.

BUT COMPARED to the second step, the Samos Satellite, the U-2 was a comparatively crude instrument. Also under a classified label so that no official can discuss it, Samos has from outer space made detailed photographs of much of the earth's surface and transmitted them back to receiving stations. Thus a vast mosaic of the globe, showing natural and man-made phenomena, is assembled under a secret label.

MOL CARRIES this big jump forward, since the instruments the laboratory will contain can do far more than photograph the surface. Radio frequencies, radiation, heat, sound—all are believed to be within the scope of the laboratory. Moreover, men working in their shirt sleeves — not in space suits — will be using instruments hitherto undreamed of.

Both the President and defense officials stress that MOL will not in any way violate the United Nations resolution sponsored by the United States to keep weapons of destruction out of space. The emphasis was on military programs which do not involve destruction and yet, in the words of the briefer, support the safety of the country.

BUT THE disturbing question around the world, despite these disclaimers, is whether MOL will not touch off a military race with the Soviets in space. The Defense Department briefer was asked if any assessment had been made on how the Russians might react to a manned military laboratory overflying the Soviet Union. He replied that he assumed they do not object, since they overfly the United States.

Former Premier Nikita Khrushchev once boasted that Soviet satellites were constantly photographing military installations in this country. This was his answer to the achievements of Samos. Presumably in what might be called a spy-in-the-sky race the Soviets could build their own orbiting laboratory.

MILAN, Italy (AP)—An Italian bus company has started the first-ever passenger bus service over a 2,100 kilometer route from Milan to Istanbul.

Buses leave Milan each week on Thursday morning, make night stops in Zagreb and Sofia, and reach Istanbul Saturday evening. The return run, with the same night stops, leaves Istanbul Sunday morning and reaches Milan Tuesday evening.

To Your Good Health

Surgery For Varicose Veins

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am considering surgery for varicose veins on both legs, but would like to know, where does the blood go after the large vein has been stripped or removed? Does the operation have to be done over again in about 10 years? I am enclosing 20 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your booklet, "How to Deal with Varicose Veins." — MRS. R. M.

The booklet will make everything clear to you. When a vein becomes varicose, the little valves in it have been damaged. This would be less harmful (and less likely to happen) in parts of the body other than the legs, because in the legs blood returning to the heart has to be lifted a considerable distance.

With the valves intact, the blood is lifted a short distance with each beat of the heart. The valves prevent it from flowing back between beats.

With the valves impaired, the blood does flow back between beats. How far it flows back depends on how many valves are damaged. The result is that the blood becomes relatively stagnant in the vein. The pressure distends the vein. You have those swollen, unsightly veins, and more important, from a health standpoint, circulation is very slow.

When a varicose vein is removed, you are ridding yourself of something that isn't doing much good to begin with. Where does the blood go? There is a whole network of veins in each leg. Some rise rather vertically, some at a slant. They are interconnected at odd intervals.

When the faulty vein is removed, the blood flows, instead, through these other usually deeper veins, which will gradually accept it. Thus the total blood flow will be increased, while getting rid of the varicose vein.

There is no reason why the operation necessarily must be done over again in 10 or any other period of years. There is not, and cannot be, any guarantee that some other vein may not fail, and become varicose, and need to be removed. But conversely, in a great many cases the one operation is all that is ever required.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have had three children, and my husband wants an operation to be made sterile.

My idea is that if something happened to our children, and we wanted another child, it could not be possible. I think that male sterilization is permanent. Is it? Or can a man have an operation similar to the tying a woman's tubes, and then untying them if she wants to become pregnant again?

MRS. B.F.E.
 The principle is the same, tying or cutting a duct. In one case, the purpose is to prevent passage of an ovum; in the other, to prevent passage of sperm.

In either case it sometimes is possible to make pregnancy possible again, but success can't be guaranteed. That is the chance that must be taken. For that reason I never recommend such an operation on either a man or woman unless the intention is to cause permanent sterility. Too often I have known people to change their minds later, and then find it was too late; fertility could not be restored for them.

'Cat Ballou' Opens First Run Today

Jane Fonda dons tight-fitting Western garb, straps on a gun, and embarks on a hectic life of wild west crime in "Cat Ballou." Miss Fonda is "Cat Ballou," outrageously amateuish leader of a band of amateur outlaws coming to the Ritz Theatre today in color. "Cat Ballou" is something special in the way of wild and way-out Western entertainment.

For one thing, its cast: Miss Fonda, curvaceous star of comedies and dramas since her appearance in "Walk on the Wild Side," is starred with other screen and television personalities as Lee Marvin, Michael Callan, Dwayne Hickman, Nat King Cole and Stubby Kaye. Marvin plays a dual role on the screen, brothers who are direct opposites to each other. One is duds and deadly, a hired killer who is Jane's worst enemy in a territory filled with enemies; the other is a drunk, completely incapable and therefore eminently acceptable as a member of her hold-up ring.

Callan appears as a youthful cattle rustler, an amateur whose career is pretty much ended before it begins, who prefers romance with Jane to robbery (and especially, train robbery!) with Jane. Dwayne Hickman, television's Dobyie Gillis, poses as a young minister who uses his Bible to hide his gun. Nat King Cole and Stubby Kaye are teamed as "Shouters," a pair of wandering minstrels who celebrate in balladry the doings of "Cat Ballou" and her gang.

"Cat Ballou" reportedly is a high-spirited spoof of the traditional Western film, replete with action, alive with scenery, characterization and comedy.

New Adaption

NEW YORK (AP) — Ketti Frings, who won the Pulitzer Prize with her stage adaptation of "Look Homeward, Angel" is going to work on a play version of Elizabeth Janeway's recent novel, "Accident."

The story, which concerns a near-fatal automobile mishap, involves four characters. No production schedule has been announced.

STAMP NEWS

Ghana To Issue New Stamps Galore Soon

By SYD KRONISH AP Newswriter

Ghana's stamps and coins are being completely revised on a decimal currency basis. This means new issues galore soon will be on the market to replace all the old values and designs. The new currency consists of Pesawas (corresponding to the Sterling Penny). One hundred Pesawas will equal one Cedi.

The first commemorative set on this order has now been issued featuring both sides of four new coins in their original coin sizes. Each stamp is therefore progressively larger. The values are 5 P, 10 P, 25 P and 50 P. Each stamp is printed in four colors. Since it is not possible to prepare and distribute a complete line of new stamps in a short period of time, Ghana's current definitives are being overprinted with the new Pesawa and Cedi denominations for present use. The stamps being overprinted are the ones originally released in 1959.

Argentina's Post and Telecommunications Department advises that a new 8 pesos stamp has been issued honoring Hipolito Yrigoyen, leader of the revolutionary movement and uprising of July 30, 1893. He was elected president of Argentina on April 3, 1916 and was overthrown by a military coup on Sept. 8, 1930. He died in exile, July 3, 1933. A portrait of Yrigoyen appears on the new stamp.

Actress Gambles, And It Pays Off

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dorothy Provine figures that any actress set on furthering her career must gamble once. Her film of the dice paid off. "I was under contract to Warner Bros.," she said. "I came right there from the University of Washington. It was home to me, and I liked all the people there. But I felt that I needed more challenging roles. So I went in one day and offered to buy out of my contract."

Fred Gipson Turns Over Collection To University

AUSTIN — One of Texas' most productive and successful writers, Fred Gipson of Mason, has placed at the University of Texas a collection of manuscripts of his books, stories and other published writings. Gipson attended the university from 1933-37.

The gift, combined with Gipson materials already on hand gives the university an almost complete record of his literary output. Students and scholars will have available for research a production history of each work, through various drafts, and in many instances through television scripts and movie.

R. Henderson Shuffler, director of the Texana Program at the University of Texas, says "Mr. Gipson has sold more copies of his books and had more of his books turned into fine movies than any of his Texas contemporaries."

"Hound Dog Man," published in 1949, was a best-seller, a Book-of-the-Month Club selection and a movie. It has been published in French, German, Italian and English. "Old Yeller," 1958, was selected by two book clubs, became a movie, won a national award and was translated into French, German, Norwegian, Danish, Japanese, Swedish, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish, Czech and Greek. "Savage Sam," 1962, set sales records as a book and also became a film.

Gipson's other books include "Fabulous Empire," "The Home Place," "Cowhand: The Story of a Working Cowboy," "Reckless Creek" and "The Trail-Driving Rooster." The Gipson collection contains first editions, printed versions of television and screen plays, correspondence, copies of reviews and criticism, published stories, articles about Gipson—even his high school diploma.

Pianist Due For Concert

John Browning, concert pianist whose recent performance with the Los Angeles Philharmonic was considered the hit of the season, will be guest performer for the Midland Symphony and Chorus Association's first concert this season.

He will appear Oct. 18 in Odessa and the next night in Midland.

"What a performance!" said Dr. Lara Hoggard, who was Browning's guest at the Los Angeles concert. "I've never heard anything finer in all my life. I'm sure Midland and Odessa (all West Texas, for that matter) will know that they've had a real treat when he performs with us."

Auditions for the Midland Symphony and Chorus will continue through Sept. 11, according to Mrs. Bill German, executive secretary. Arrangements will be made by contacting her at P.O. Box 4274, Midland, or by calling MU 2-0921, Midland.

Brando Back On Screen In 'Morituri' At Ritz

Intrigue and adventure are the key elements of "Morituri," starring Marlon Brando and Yul Brynner, opening Thursday at the Ritz Theatre. Set aboard a German blockade-runner steamship from Yokohama to occupied France, the cast also includes Trevor Howard, Janet Margolin, Wally Cox, Martin Benrath and Hans Christian Blech.

Brando plays a wealthy German Army officer who escaped from Germany and has taken up residence in India under an assumed name. He is tracked down by British Intelligence officer Trevor Howard, who blackmails him into masquerading as a Gestapo officer and boarding the blockade-runner. Brando's mission is to dismantle the scuttling charges, for the allies want to capture the ship with its cargo of valuable rubber.

The reluctant Brando boards the ship, where he soon finds himself engaged in a battle of wits with the captain, played by Brynner. As the ship gets under way, Brando learns that the captain is a disgraced naval officer, his first mate (Martin Benrath) is an ambitious Nazi, the ship's doctor (Wally Cox) is a drug addict, and the crew is an odd conglomeration of political prisoners whose ultimate destination will be a concentration camp.

MEN IN SERVICE

WESTBROOK (SC) — Army Pfc. John A. Johnson, son of Mrs. Ruth Johnson and the late Johnny Johnson of Colorado City, and formerly of Westbrook, was assigned to the 6th Artillery in Germany Aug. 10.

A communications specialist in Headquarters Battery of the 6th Artillery's 5th Missile Battalion station-stationed near Baumholder, entered the army in March of this year and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La.

The 23-year-old soldier attended Westbrook School and graduated from Colorado City High School in 1960. He also attended Odessa Business College.

WESTBROOK (SC) — T. Sgt. Dale J. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaines L. Anderson, 893 E. 7th, Colorado City, has been decorated with the U. S. Air Force Combat Readiness Medal at Ellsworth AFB, S. D.

Sgt. Anderson, a B-52 gunner, was awarded the medal for four years of sustained professional performance as a combat crew member at Ellsworth. He is a member of the Strategic Air Command, America's long-range nuclear bomber and missile force.

The sergeant attended Colorado City High School and completed requirements for his diploma after entering the Air Force. He has attended Black Hills State College, Ellsworth extension during off-duty hours.

Sgt. Anderson's wife, Elizabeth, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woolridge of El Reno, Okla. They and their daughter, Lisa Kay, left Sept. 2 for their home at Ellsworth AF Base, S. D., after a weeks visit with his parents and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Clemmer.

Army Pvt. John A. Johnson, son of Mrs. Ruth S. Johnson, was assigned to the 6th Artillery in Germany Aug. 10.

A communications specialist in Headquarters Battery of the 6th Artillery's 5th Missile Battalion stationed near Baumholder, Johnson entered the Army in March, 1965, and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La.

The 23-year-old soldier was graduated in 1960 from Colorado City High School in Colorado City and attended Odessa College.

R. B. ALEXANDER

Raymond B. Alexander of Big Spring, has completed four weeks of U. S. Air Force training at the Strategic Air Command's Altus AFB, Okla. A member of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) unit at North Texas State University at Denton, Cadet Alexander is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Alexander, 707 W. 18th, Big Spring.

Cadet Alexander's participation in Air Force flying and support operations at Altus included survival training and an orientation flight in a T-33 jet trainer. The graduate of Big Spring High School will be eligible for appointment as an Air Force second lieutenant upon graduation and completion of AFROTC training.

Army Specialist Four Lee E. Standerfer, son of Mrs. Lois Standerfer, Stanton, was assigned to the 9th Logistical Command in Thailand, Aug. 16.

A communications center specialist in the command's 105th Signal Company, Standerfer entered the Army in February, 1964, received basic training at Fort Polk, La., and was last stationed in Korea.

The 23-year-old soldier is a 1960 graduate of Stanton High School and was employed by C. A. Grey Plumbing and Heating Company in Midland, before entering the Army.

T. Sgt. Dale J. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaines L. Anderson, 893 E. 7th, Colorado City, has been decorated with the U. S. Air Force Combat Readiness Medal at Ellsworth AFB, S. D.

Sgt. Anderson, a B-52 gunner, was awarded the medal for four years of sustained professional performance as a combat crew member at Ellsworth. He is a member of the Strategic Air Command, America's long-range nuclear bomber and missile force.

The sergeant attended Colorado High School and completed requirements for his diploma after entering the Air Force. He has attended Black Hills State College, Ellsworth extension, during off-duty hours.

Army Pfc. Joseph C. Watson, whose mother, Mrs. Edna F. Watson, lives at 509 S. Avenue H, Lamesa, is a member of the 720th Military Police Battalion which has been presented the III Corps Superior Unit Award for the fiscal year 1965.

The award, presented Aug. 13 at Fort Hood, was made on the basis of the unit's ability to achieve superior ratings on inspection, assembly test exercises and mobility test exercises and weapons qualification, high re-enlistment ratings and low AWOL ratings.

The 720th was also recognized for its high state of readiness when it deployed its men and equipment (over 100 jeeps and trucks) in an airlift to Selma, Ala., in March and arrived only ten hours after notification. The battalion was highly responsible for the protection of the civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery.

The 21-year-old soldier, who attended Lamesa High School, entered the Army in December, 1963. He completed basic training at Fort Polk, La., and was last assigned at Fort Gordon, Ga.

Airman Ruben A. Wilder, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilder, 510 S. 7th, Lamesa, has been selected for technical training at Chanute AFB, Ill., as a U. S. Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist. Airman Wilder, a graduate of Lamesa High School, recently completed basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

DEAR ABBY

Can Hardly Blame Him

DEAR ABBY: This problem is not mine, it's my sister's. She lives in a housing project where all the neighbors are very friendly. One day a neighbor knocked on her door and said his wife was out of town and he needed someone to help massage his back. He had one of those portable electric massagers. My sister said she'd be glad to help him, so she invited him in and gave him a bottle of beer as it was hot out.

He took off his shirt and she started massaging his back when they heard her husband coming. The neighbor got panicky and hid in the closet, leaving his shirt behind. When my brother-in-law saw the shirt and beer bottle, he went into a rage and started searching the house. When he found the man in the closet, he roughed him up and threw my sister out of the house. Like a fool she went back to him the next day. He is still mad at her and hasn't been a husband to her in over six months. She keeps asking me for advice. I can't help her. Can you? OLDER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: First explain to your sister that she should not give neighbors massages (with a beer chaser, yet). Then tell her that she can't blame her husband for thinking the worst because the man did hide. Then advise her to be on her extra-good behavior. A little coquetry and a lot of patience will win back her sulking husband eventually.

DEAR ABBY: Parents are always asking their teenagers to bring their friends home. We would like to, but here are the main reasons why we don't. They are not my own reasons. I have talked to many teenagers and we all agree that these are the reasons in a nutshell:

(1) Parents encourage their teenagers to invite their friends over, then stand around with warnings such as there is to be no smoking, close dancing, necking, lights turned off, screaming, or climbing on the furniture. This was all understood before the kids were invited over, so why go over it again and embarrass everybody?

(2) After the rules are recited, the parents run in every few minutes to be sure their rules are being obeyed. Nobody wants to feel that they are not trusted and it will be a long time before kids will go back to a place where they are watched like they just came out of reform school or were headed there.

(3) Parents will pick this time to recite a list of wrongdoings by their teenager, and ask the others what their parents would do if they did anything like that.

(4) Parents will let younger brothers and sisters make hash out a teenager's party. And if the teenager objects, he is told it is just as much the younger one's home as it is their.

Thanks, Abby, for letting us say this. Maybe it will explain to some parents why their teenagers prefer to meet their friends on street corners, or go to anybody else's home but their own.

SOME CHICAGO TEENAGERS

CONFIDENTIAL TO EMIL IN NORFOLK: Don't get so worked up over the possibility that eventually machines will replace people. There must always be somebody around to kick the machine when it doesn't work.

DEAR ABBY: I married a divorced man with three children for whom he pays child support. Recently he set up a college fund for them. There wasn't much money left after taxes, so I went to work. I persuaded my husband to try to get his child support payments reduced, but the judge raised them instead because I was working.

My husband has property and other assets in his name only. He says I have no right to share in them as he had them before we were married. I told my husband that I would like to quit work and have a child of our own while I am still young enough. He says he has enough fatherhood right now and he prefers that I keep right on working and enjoy his children when they visit us weekends and holidays. My love for him is dying fast. Tell me the truth, Abby, am I... A SILLY FOOL

Glasscock Grand Jury To Meet

GARDEN CITY — Glasscock County grand jury will be empaneled Tuesday by Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said he was uncertain how many cases might be ready for consideration by the grand jury. There are only a few complaints on file in the county at this time, he said.

Farmers May Get Refunds

Farmers can get a four-cent per gallon refund on each gallon of gasoline used for farming purposes during the 12 month period ending June 30 by filing a claim with the Internal Revenue Service, reports Howard County Agent Herb Helbig.

The tax refund claims are to be submitted on Form 2240 available at the county agent's office or through the Internal

10-D Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, Sept. 5, 1965

Revenue Service. The claims must be post-marked no later than Sept. 30. They should be mailed to District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Dallas, Texas, 75201, Helbig said.

Extension Farm Management Specialist John Seibert says sufficient records should be kept by each claimant to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify the accuracy of the claim. Seibert said a farmer who uses 2,000 gallons of gasoline a year could probably compile the necessary records and fill out the form in about one hour and for the hours work he would get a refund of $80.
