"ANYONE CARE TO VOTE, PLEASE?"

Billie Smith and two Precinct 4 election assistants find election day slow.

Less Than 200,000 Texas Ballots Likely

By The Associated Press

Relatively small numbers of Texans voted today to decide whether the state Senate shall be composed of 31 or 39 members. The ballot total was expected to run less than 200,000—about 10 per cent of those eligible. The proposed constitutional amendment plainly was an effort to prevent a loss in representation in Austin by smaller cities and rural areas and to preserve the jobs of seven senators.

COURT ACTION

Legislators redistricted the state earlier this year under the constitutional provision for 31 senators. Courts forced this step by ruling that representation must be in proportion to population.

In recent years the population shift has been to the cities, meaning they gained representation while less heavily populated areas lost.

Redistricting under the 31-member law would cause 13 present senators to run for six seats, provided all sought office again in 1966.

SPECIAL SESSION

Should the 39-member expansion be approved by voters, a special session of the legislature would be required to draw new district lines.

Lawmakers felt they could redraw the lines at leisure if the constitutional amendment were approved.

During the weekend, however, some lawyers said in their opinion the Senate will cease to exist Sept. 24 if the measure passes today and the legislature fails to redistrict by that date. Sept. 24 is the time for the certifying the vote.

This legal interpretation was disputed in quarters which held that the Texas Constitution prevents the Senate from being dissolved.

As voters cast ballots, the question of the timing for a special session had not been decided. The issue would seem to pit big city voters against rural and small city residents but no such conflict developed, at least on the surface. Some big city senators and some metropolitan newspapers announced they favor a 39-member Senate.

LESSEN LOAD

Those who favor the amendment, in addition to their view that less populated areas should retain strong representation, say 39 members would lessen the work load in the busy Senate. Opponents warned big city voters that they have won their proper representation in the already approved 31-member redistricting. They said the outcome of a special session to create 39 districts is uncertain and cities could lose relative strength.

The AFL-CIO campaigned against the amendment, saying it feared new districting would be done in a manner to keep conservatives in office.

Each senator under the present 31-member arrangement would represent 309,000 persons. The 39-member amendment, if approved, would reduce this to 24,000 persons for each senator.

No observers seemed inclined to hazard a guess at the possible total number, but it was doubtful if the combined vote from all of the 29 precincts would run more than a few hundred.

The office of the county clerk will be open tonight to tabulate the election returns. All precinct judges are asked to report the votes from their boxes as quickly as they are tabulated.

The question on the ballot before the voters requires a simple approval or disapproval of a proposal to enlarge the state senate by eight seats.

Counting the few votes will be an easy task, election precinct officials said.

Voting Gets Off To A Slow Start

A proposed amendment to the state constitution, which would increase the number of state senators from 31 to 39, was being decided today in a statewide election, and Howard County electors were staying away from the 20 voting boxes in large numbers.

If early morning turnouts were indicative of the vote to be expected, it seemed possible today's total would hit an all time low in election interest. The biggest voting box in town—the one at the City Hall fire station—had handled only five votes two hours and a half after it had opened for business at 8 a.m. Three of these were the votes of the election officials on duty.

At the Eighteenth and Main Street fire station, another box where the vote is usually heavy, eight votes had been cast an hour later. Here also, five of the votes were election workers who were on the job.

At the courthouse, the special

Betsy Rips Into Nassau

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy sat astride the world-famed resort city of Nassau today, lashing it with ferocious winds and tides, and south Floridians resigned themselves to at least 36 more hours of fear and anxiety.

A communications blackout caused by widespread power failure hid the fate of Nassau and the other Bahamas islands battered by the vicious and abnormal tropic storm.

By 9 a.m., Nassau's 50,000 residents had experienced the brutal force of hurricane winds more than eight hours. And with Betsy standing still, nobody could tell how many more hours of savage punishment the Bahamian capital would have to endure.

Thrashing about in the aimless fashion that has marked the freakish storm since its birth Aug. 27, Betsy hovered close enough to the densely populated southeast coast of Florida to rake it with winds gusting at 40 miles an hour.

All interests in extreme south Florida must be reconciled to a prolonged threat from this slow-moving hurricane, the Weather Bureau said in a 9 a.m. bulletin.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Agriculture designated today seven Texas counties—Brazoria, Caldwell, Delia, Galveston, Hays, Limestone and Montgomery—as emergency loan areas.

Adverse weather which damaged crops and pastures was cited as the reason.

The Farmers Home Administration now may make emergency loans to farmers and ranchers in these counties, who are not able to obtain credit from other sources for normal operation.

Red China Says India Aggressor

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China accused India today of aggression against Pakistan and said it is strengthening defenses and heightening its alert along the India-China border where the two nations fought over disputed territory in 1962.

A government statement said the Red Chinese regime "sternly condemns India for its criminal aggression, expresses firm support for Pakistan in its just struggle against aggression and solemnly warns the Indian government that it must bear responsibility for all the consequences of its criminal and extended aggression."

SNIPES AT U.N.

The statement was broadcast by Peking's New China News Agency.

It also charged that the United Nations, which it said has been "unfair for 18 years" on the Kashmir issue, is suddenly trying to mediate the question.

In London meanwhile, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government today was ready to reject Pakistani efforts to enlist Britain's aid in Pakistan's struggle with India.

In intensive diplomatic exchanges, Wilson not only determined to keep Britain neutral in the fighting but tried to build up as much world backing as possible for United Nations peace-making efforts.

INVOKE ALLIANCE

Pakistan, through Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto, served notice in Rawalpindi that it intends to invoke the Central Treaty Organization alliance in order to gain help.

Informed sources said such a move could collapse CENTO. They explained Britain would not be drawn into the Pakistan-India struggle nor would the United States, which is following a diplomatic course parallel to that pursued by Wilson.

CENTO is made up of Britain, Pakistan, Turkey and Iran. The United States is an associate member.

PLEGGED HELP

The treaty members are pledged to help each other resist unprovoked aggression. Pakistan maintains it is the victim of aggression by India, a view Delhi contracts.

Russia Calls For Restraint

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin today called for "restraint on both sides" in the undeclared war between India and Pakistan, the Pakistani ambassador said.

Ambassador Iqbal Athar met with Kosygin for 20 minutes in the Kremlin to hand the Soviet leader a message from President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan and to have what he called a general discussion.

The message from Ayub replied to an appeal from Kosygin two weeks ago urging restraint in the Kashmir crisis. Kosygin sent a similar message to Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India.

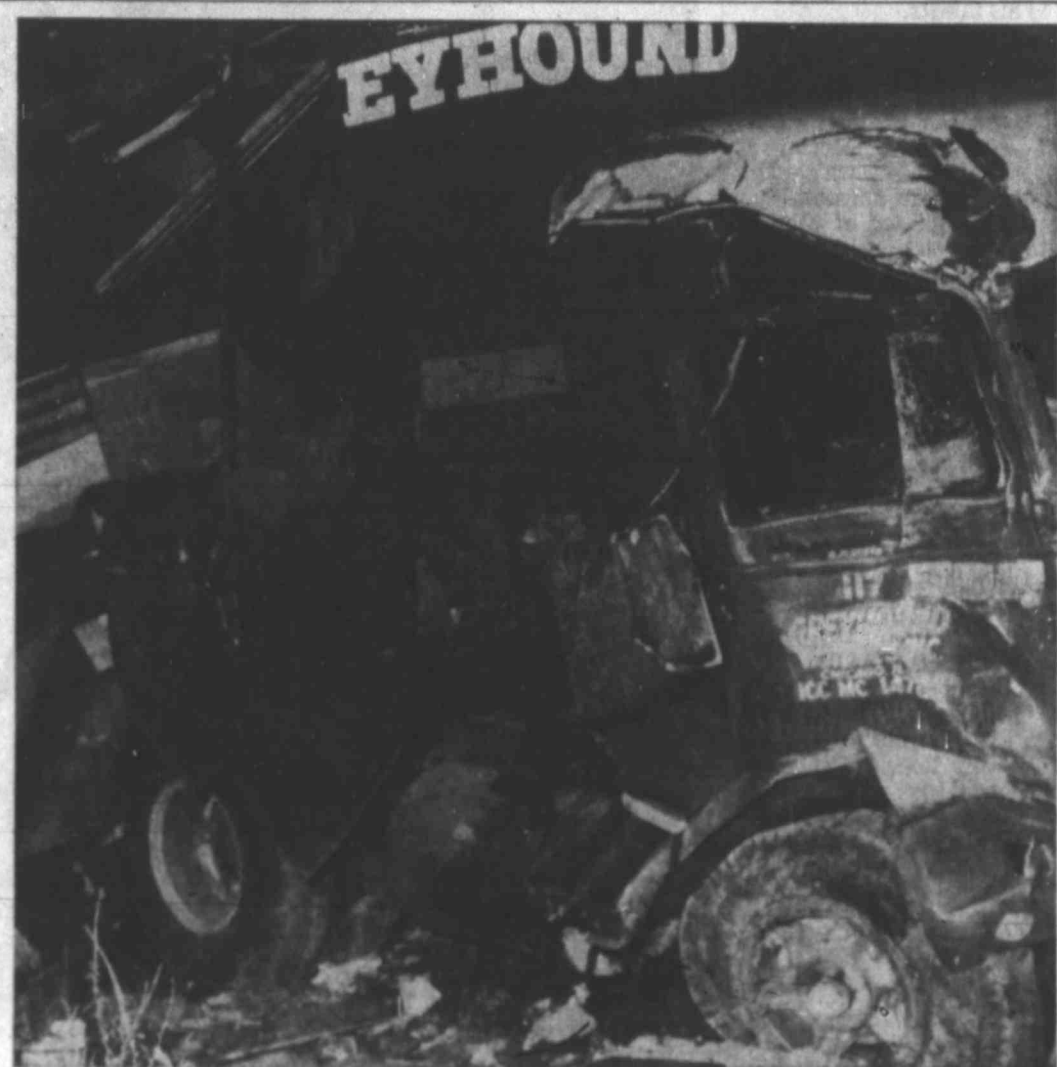

The ambassador said U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's trip to the subcontinent "was mentioned in passing" during the Kremlin talks.

TRUCK CRUSHED IN FATAL WRECK

This van's right side was smashed when it hit concrete pillar.

Van Driver Dies In Monday Crash

A 50-year-old van driver became Howard County's 10th traffic fatality of the year Monday at 5:45 p.m., when the truck he was driving left IS 20 pavement near the State 176 overpass, crashed through a guard rail and struck a concrete overpass pillar, hurling him out of the truck.

Taken to Cowper Clinic, Raymond Hubert Huffman, 50, of Greensboro, N. C., was declared dead on arrival by Peace Justice Jess Slaughter. A doctor said Huffman had head and chest injuries.

Huffman had been traveling northeast on IS 20, taking the belongings of three families to Arkansas, when the accident happened. Parker's Moving and Storage, local agents for Greyhound Van Lines, the company Huffman drove for, was called to clear the furniture from the scene. Officers said it took three winch trucks three hours to remove the wreckage from the highway.

Police estimated $12,000 damage to the furniture the van carried, and $16,000 to the truck and trailer.

Cause of the accident has not been determined, police said today. The right front tire of the van had blown out, but police did not know whether the tire was flattened before the wreck or was crushed when the truck hit the guard rail or the concrete pillar.

Huffman had left El Paso Monday morning, and a truck-stop in Stanton reported he had re-fueled there.

He is survived by his widow, of Greensboro; two sons, Roy Huffman, Greensboro, and another son in service in Korea; and a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Henson, Port Huene, Calif. The body is temporarily at River-Weich Funeral Home. The family will fly in today to complete funeral arrangements.

The wreck occurred on the north side of town, just inside the city limits, officers said. Huffman's death was the fourth traffic fatality within the city limits this year, according to police, and the second for the county during the Labor Day weekend.

Three other wrecks Monday injured no one. The car of Virginia Hamilton Branson, Seminole, and the parked car of Carl Ford, 1023 Mesa, were slightly damaged when the Branson car struck the Ford vehicle in the Veterans Hospital parking lot, officers said.

Stephen B. Steele, Webb AFB, and Grace Lyles Self, Vernon, escaped injuries when their cars were in collision at the north service road near IS 20 at 2 p.m.

The cars of Betty M. Burrow, 200 Kindle, and Prentice Y. Tate, 1000 W. 3rd, were in minor collision at 3703 US 90 west at 8:30 p.m., officers said.

FUND GAINS HEALTHY LIFT

Memorial gifts, together with those from several classes and individuals, gave the Bible Class fund another healthy lift Tuesday.

However, the rate must not only be sustained, but increased if the goal of $3,500 is to be reached by the end of the week. This is needed from voluntary contributions to finance the course for about 100 high school students. Tax funds may not be used for this purpose.

Mrs. Dempsey Is Near Death

Mrs. Irene Dempsey, for many years a member of the Herald staff, is at the point of death in the Ector County Memorial Hospital. She has uremia and chances for recovery are said to be extremely remote. Her son, Dr. Edwin Dempsey, Odessa, and daughter, Mrs. A. J. Cain, Midland, are at her bedside.

Full Integration For 12th Grade

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas School Board ordered complete integration of the 12th grade in Dallas schools today and set new school district boundaries to apply to the 12th grade only.

The board complied unanimously with an order of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals.

War Widens To Cities Of Both Nations

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian and Pakistani bombers carried the war to large cities in both countries today as the war spread 1,000 miles across the subcontinent to areas along the border between India and East Pakistan.

India said its bombers attacked Chaklala airbase at Rawalpindi, Pakistan's capital, but a Pakistani spokesman there said no bombs fell on military areas.

Pakistani radio broadcasts said the Indians also hit Karachi, the nation's biggest city and the major seaport in West Pakistan, and Dacca and Chittagong, on the other side of India in East Pakistan.

CALCUTTA BASE

An official Indian announcement said Pakistani planes hit "civilian areas" in Amritsar, largest city in Punjab State, and Kalkiunda airbase at Calcutta.

New Delhi claimed its fighters beat Pakistan's air force in air battles over wide areas of the subcontinent and destroyed nine American-made planes flown by Pakistani pilots — two F104 supersonic jet fighters, six American Sabre Jets, and one B57 bomber.

India said it lost eight planes but had turned back many Pakistani attacks.

GROUND COMBAT

In ground combat, India acknowledged it was meeting "increasing resistance." Pakistan claimed it had halted India's tank-infantry invasion of West Pakistan which crossed the international frontier at dawn Monday.

Lahore, Pakistan's second largest city 15 miles from the frontier, appeared to be the target of the Indian invasion.

Pakistani paratroopers dropped deep behind the Indian lines in Punjab during the night, and more followed them this morning. Their mission appeared to be destruction of roads and communication lines 100 miles or more behind the frontier, perhaps in preparation for a massive conventional ground attack across the border.

PEACE MISSION

In New York, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant made plans to fly to both warring countries on a peace mission. The Security Council repeated a cease-fire appeal and asked Thant to help end the war.

Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto announced he was calling on Pakistan's allies in the Central Treaty Organization to fulfill their treaty pledge of help against an aggressor.

U.S. LINKED

Britain, Turkey and Iran are the other full members of the alliance, and the United States is closely associated with it and has bilateral defense agreements with the members.

Emergency Evacuation Of Americans Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials were making emergency preparations today to get about 3,000 Americans out of the area of Pakistan's Lahore front in case an evacuation order is issued.

In India, Americans were warned to keep a safe distance from any areas of Pakistani-Indian fighting.

IN LAHORE

State Department press officer Joseph W. Reap said there are about 900 Americans in Lahore, Pakistan's second largest city, which over the weekend became the target of a broad Indian military offensive.

Reap said most of the 900 are officials connected with U.S. government programs. Northwest of Lahore, about 2,000

Americans are helping to build a large dam. If an evacuation order is issued the Americans will be moved out of the Lahore area by air if possible, Reap said. Otherwise the exodus would be by overland transportation to Rawalpindi, Pakistan's temporary capital.

IN TOUCH

Washington was having no trouble in keeping in touch with the U.S. embassies in India and Pakistan, Reap reported.

The press officer said Secretary of State Dean Rusk called in Pakistan's Ambassador Ghulam Ahmed and India's Ambassador B. K. Nehru for separate sessions Monday night and told them that a war between the two nations "could be a disastrous situation for that part of the world."

Events Can Make Actor A Wiser Cynic

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television, although only the baby sister of the show business family, already has managed to establish its own mythology, among it two unvariable statistics:

1. All stars of series are rumored—by their press agents mostly—to make at least $250,000 a year.
2. Every star or costar turned down "about 20" offers of series before finding one exactly suited to his talents.

LIGHTER TAX

Some television stars are, indeed, paid salaries. But others are co-owners of their shows. Still others have special arrangements under which they are paid stated amounts each year over a period of years so that the tax slap will be lighter.

After a recent meeting of stockholders of Desilu, show business journals and daily newspapers seen by this reporter set the annual stipend of Lucille Ball, president, at $260,000, $300,000 and $500,000.

Each of the stars of "Bonanza" are reported unofficially, of course to have received nice salary increases under new contracts this year, moving from a mere $4,500 per episode to $10,000.

GUESS, GOSSIP

One hears plenty of money talk in Hollywood, but most of it is pure guess and gossip. However, Roger Smith, the young man who for five years costarred in "77 Sunset Strip," was so broke that he decided to get into a different line of work.

"When they changed the format of the show, I was out of it," he said, "but my studio contract still had five months to run. The studio didn't use me and I couldn't work anywhere else. When the five months were up, everyone seemed to have forgotten me. For 18 months I couldn't get an acting job."

Then a friend asked him to entertain in a night club with cowboy songs and his guitar-hobby — and this led to some stock company offers which in turn led him back to Hollywood. This season, Smith has the title role of NBC's "Mr. Roberts" series—and he is a wiser, more cynical actor than he was before.

Gas Industry Names Promotion Committee

By MAX SKELTON
COLORADO SPRINGS (AP)—The gas industry was asked today to form a committee to find means to offset gains by the electric industry.

The committee would direct an advertising campaign and allocate development funds for new and improved gas equipment and appliances.

The suggestion was made at the Independent Natural Gas Association of America convention.

POLICY MAKERS

The association is the policy making body for interstate gas pipelines but John Partridge of New York, president of the Columbia Gas Systems, said the committee on competition should include producers and distributors as well as pipeliners.

Partridge said the electric industry intends to heat 19 million homes by 1980. Gas now supplies 93 per cent of the home heating market, he said, but the figure would drop to 66 per cent if the electric industry succeeds.

"We need better hardware and appliances at lower initial cost," Partridge said. He also called for new gas equipment for use in the steel, glass and brass industries.

Partridge said 1963 advertising by the electric industry exceeded $81 million, compared to less than $30 million by the gas industry.

OTHER GROUPS

The gas program would be coordinated with similar efforts by other trade groups, such as American Gas Association. R. J. Rutherford of Worcester, Mass., said electric range shipments exceeded the first time in the first three months of 1965. He said gas also is lagging in air conditioning, high rise apartment and motel markets.

Road Toll At Near Record

By The Associated Press
The nation's traffic deaths over the extended Labor Day weekend, with a rash of accidents causing multiple fatalities, appeared headed to near the record toll of 537 for the holiday.

With the belated reports expected to boost the final total, the count for the 78-hour period which ended at midnight showed 538 persons killed in traffic accidents. The record high for a Labor Day weekend was set in 1963. Last year's total was 531.

600 FEARED

The National Safety Council had estimated that 500 to 600 persons might lose their lives in traffic accidents during the holiday period which started at 6 p.m. local time Friday. A spokesman said the heavy toll Monday and late reports of deaths could set a record toll. In other accidents over the weekend, 25 persons lost their lives in boating mishaps and 41 persons drowned for an overall total of 604.

WORST ACCIDENT

The nation's worst accident during the holiday period killed seven persons, all under 21, near Madison, Wis., Sunday. Four persons, also under 21, died in a two-car crash near Lake Geneva, Wis., Monday for a total of 17 killed in four accidents in Wisconsin over the weekend.

Five persons lost their lives in a two-car crash in Philadelphia Monday, the fourth multiple fatality accident in Pennsylvania during the holiday period. Eleven persons died in two crashes in Texas, including a father and his four children in a car-train crash near Raymondville.

AF Transport Listed Lost

MANILA (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport missing for eight days has been given up as lost, an Air Force spokesman said today.

The spokesman said that the search for the C123 was called off Monday night. The four-engine plane took off with nine crewmen from Nha Trang, in South Viet Nam, on a flight to Formosa on Aug. 31, flying a routine course over the China Sea. It made routine position checks until it reached an area off the west coast of Luzon.

Mrs. Putnam In Houston Hospital

Mrs. Wilma Putnam, who makes her home with a niece, Mrs. Milas Wood, 3209 Eleventh Place, is in the M. D. Anderson Hospital at Houston for treatment, following surgery in June. Mrs. Putnam has lived here four years, and has charge of the nursery at College Baptist Church.

Officers Named

WESTBROOK (SC) — Members of the National Honor Society of Westbrook High School have elected officers for this year. Serving as president will be Maritha Oden, a member of the senior class and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. (Sam) Oden. Serving with her will be Vee Iglehart, vice president; Carole Ann Bell, secretary; and Vicky Chambers, treasurer. Preston C. Lightfoot is sponsor.

Texas Has Lead In Violent Deaths

By The Associated Press

Murderous traffic blighted the Labor Day weekend in Texas.

Barring changes in late totals, the Lone Star State recorded more violent deaths and more traffic fatalities than any other during the extended holiday.

Accidents on crowded Texas streets and highways snuffed out 45 lives and there were five drownings. California counted 41 traffic dead and three drowned. There were far fewer in all other states.

It was one short of the worst Labor Day weekend toll yet in figures kept by the Texas Department of Public Safety. The record high in Texas traffic was 46 deaths in 1951.

No attempt was made to keep track of how many were injured or to approximate the staggering property loss in dollars and cents.

The tally was kept on reports gathered by The Associated Press from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

LATEST VICTIMS

These were among the latest victims:
An 18-month-old child drowned on his grandfather's farm in the Cash community, south of Greenville, Monday when he toddled into a pond. He was Richard Brown, son of Ansel Brown of Garland.

David Penie, 22, was killed and another soldier injured Monday night in San Antonio when the car in which they were riding collided with an ambulance. Sgt. Thomas McDermott of Ft. Sam Houston suffered serious injuries.

Raymond Huffman, 50, of Greensboro, N.C., was killed Monday when the moving van he was driving hit a bridge on Interstate 20 near Big Spring. Police said a tire on the truck blew out.

TWO PERISH

Guy Nixon, 24, a Waco lawyer, and Charles Butler, 43, a Premont construction worker, were killed Monday in a two-car crash 28 miles northwest of Falfurrias. Nixon's wife Barbara, 22, was injured.

Ryan Shivers, 29, of Houston was killed Monday when his pickup truck skidded on wet paving, hit a utility pole and burst into flames. His son Hank, 8, was critically injured. A second Shivers child was hurt less seriously.

Willie Estrada, 17, of San Antonio was killed Monday when his car hit a tree in north Bexar County. Three others were hurt. A one-car accident in Irving killed Hubert Nix, 22, of Denton County. The wreck happened on Texas 183 late Sunday and Nix died Monday.

Mrs. Marie Schuette, 55, of Slaton died Monday of injuries suffered in a car-truck accident 7 miles southeast of Lubbock on US 84 Sunday night. Her husband Roland also was hurt.

CARS RAM

Jesus Valdez Jr., 16, of Edinburg and Robert Castillo, 22, of Rio Bravo were killed Monday when their cars slammed together near Edinburg.

The body of Grady Blake, 55, of Cleveland, Tex., was found Monday on US 296 in Harris County about 6 miles west of Cypress. Officers said he was struck by a car.

Another pedestrian, Gromino Reame, 42, of Idalou, was struck and killed Monday a half mile east of Idalou on US 62.

Bernardo Vela, 30, was killed Monday when his automobile hit a parked vehicle in El Paso.

Texan, 22, Lake Victim

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — An autopsy report completed Monday night showed Billy Cagle, 22, of Denison was alive when he entered the water, dispelling suspicion of a fatal beating.

Dr. Ray Phelps, Denison pathologist, attributed death to drowning. He said the body was in the water about 40 hours before it was recovered Sunday from Lake Texoma.

County Atty. R. H. Mills of Durant, Okla., said the autopsy was ordered because marks on the head indicated Cagle might have been beaten to death and thrown into the lake.

Cagle was reported missing Saturday morning by his mother, Mrs. J. L. Linstaed of Denison, after he failed to return home Friday night.

Fall From Horse Kills Texas Woman

AZLE, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Marie Harris, 35, of Fort Worth was killed Monday when she fell off a horse. Her head struck a utility pole as the horse jumped a ditch.

Russia Again Rejects Nuclear Ban Policing

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union offered today to join the West in a ban on all underground nuclear tests but again rejected an international control and inspection system to police the ban.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin told the 17-nation disarmament conference the Russians are prepared to sign a formal treaty extending the Moscow limited test-ban treaty to those large underground tests which can be identified by existing national control systems.

Tsarapkin linked his offer with a demand for a simultaneous "moratorium" on all other underground tests.

Tsarapkin reiterated that the Soviet Union would not accept any kind of on-site inspection to police the ban.

The Western powers have repeatedly rejected similar Soviet suggestions in the past, saying there is no way to distinguish at long range between the shock tremors of a small nuclear blast and those of a natural earthquake.

'Jungle Doctor' Gone But Hospital Continues

LAMBARENE, Gabon (AP) — Work continued as usual today at Dr. Albert Schweitzer's jungle hospital but some of the famed old humanitarian's successors feared the government of Gabon would impose new regulations on the institution.

Dr. Schweitzer, who died Saturday night at the age of 90, had steadfastly refused to apply European standards of hygiene or to teach the Africans European medical methods. Despite criticism from African nationalists, he contended that advanced methods were not applicable to the continent's primitive heart. "This hospital will continue in the spirit of my father," said Rhena Eckert, Schweitzer's daughter. "I am confident that everything will work out."

Tiffs Ahead Over Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Labor Day behind it, Congress faces some long days this week with wrangles over a farm bill, a presidential veto and some big-money appropriations.

Although there had been hopes lawmakers would be on their way home by now, they have a long docket of major and minor bills — and controversies — that could well extend into October.

The House starts it out today with a dispute over its Armed Services Committee's decision not to stir up a fight over President Johnson's veto of a plan to strengthen Congress' hand in base-closing arguments with the Pentagon.

MILDER VERSION Instead, the committee worked out with the administration a milder, compromise version to require the Pentagon to give Congress a 30-day notice and a full report on future base shutdowns.

The compromise goes to the floor today, contained in a $1.75-billion military construction authorization, to face protests of some congressmen — including about six members of the committee.

Many of them would like to take a crack at overriding the veto, even though few believe the attempt would be successful.

The Senate is heading for a bigger battle over the farm bill, due to be taken up after action on $1.2 billion in supplementary funds for the Labor and Welfare departments.

BIG DIFFERENCE The Senate Agriculture Committee set the stage for the fight last week.

It approved a measure not only drastically different from the one already approved by the House, but with wheat and cotton provisions vigorously opposed by the administration.

The committee also agreed unanimously to hook on another highly combustible provision already drawing fire: a plan aimed at making it cheaper for the Soviet Union to buy wheat from the United States.

The proposal would make it the sense of Congress that the government should scrap a requirement that half the wheat sales to the Soviet Union be shipped in U.S. merchant ships which charge rates higher than other nations.

U.S. Battles Klan Activity

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A fight to enjoin the Ku Klux Klan from anti-civil rights activities in Bogalusa, La., was before a federal court today.

The Justice Department suit against the secret Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was assigned to a special three-judge session. There were 38 defendants.

The suit said the Klan used assaults, threats and harassment to discourage Negroes from seeking constitutional rights—and has as its goal total segregation and white supremacy.

In Bogalusa, some 70 miles north of New Orleans, militant segregationists said defendants and friends would move to New Orleans in a motorcade.

Defendants hired Ocie Brown, a Baton Rouge lawyer, and two of his associates to fight the case.

Brown also represents Ernest R. McElveen, 41, of Bogalusa, a white man charged with murder in the killing of Washington Parish's first Negro deputy, Oneal Moore, June 2.

Moore was killed by terrorists in a pickup truck who fired into his squad car as he and another Negro deputy were on patrol near Bogalusa. McElveen is free on bond.

Agriculture Committee, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., expressed belief the Senate would accept the plan but questioned whether the House would without a sales pitch from Johnson.

As a sign of the trouble ahead, Rep. Edward J. Derwinski, R-Ill., charged the administration was embarking on a "feed the enemy" program through "behind the scenes administration plans to subsidize the Soviet Union through the sales of surplus wheat."

In addition to a variety of minor bills, the House is confronted, probably Wednesday, with the troublesome foreign aid appropriation. This year it has a $4.1-billion price tag.

reference to Mrs. Doris Chalk Cole. The complaint, filed by Americana Petroleum Corporation of Oklahoma, cited C. W. Guthrie, Mrs. Cole (as joint owners of mineral interests), and Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, as an alleged purchaser of the crude oil in question.

The Herald's story said that drilling of certain wells by Guthrie had been done with the consent of Mrs. Cole, whereas, the plaintiff's petition asserted that this had been done WITHOUT her consent.

The Herald regrets this misstatement of the record, made through inadvertent handling of copy, is happy to make public correction, and extends its apologies to those concerned.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®.

Unions Strike Paper Mills

LUFKIN (AP) — Three unions struck the Southland Paper Mills today.

Farris Sawyer, official of the Papermakers Union, said pickets were placed at each of the plant's two entrances at 7 a.m. He said all was quiet and there were no incidents.

No meetings have been scheduled with the company, Sawyer said.

Also striking are the Pulp and Sulphite Workers Union, and the Machinists Union.

The main issues were vacation and pension plans and job changes offered by the company.

Union men said they had 619 members among the plant's 1,000 workers.

DEAR ABBY Double Standard

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my boy friend. He and I have been going together for a year. He says I'm the girl he wants to marry, but first he wants a "taste of life." When I counter with the same general idea, he says he is not at all for that — he loves me and does not want to lose me. I really don't care to go with other guys, but I just want to get him to change his mind about getting a taste of life. How come if it's okay for him, it's not okay for me? MAGGIE

DEAR MAGGIE: Ask him to tell you what it takes to satisfy his appetite. And if he expects you to live without it, so can he.

DEAR ABBY: The question is this! Are married children at liberty to return to their parents' home with their families and regard their parents only as servants? Our married daughter visits us with her husband and children every summer. When she was single we would give in to her to keep peace. But we expected her to mature after marriage. If anything, she's worse now. Our home has looked like a cyclone struck it from the moment they

DEAR ABBY: I am 30, married, happily, have four children, all healthy, average kids, I thank heavens. My husband is a good husband, father and provider, but he travels so much! He is gone all week and comes home only for weekends. Here is my problem: I think I am an alcoholic, or could easily become one. I've tried to cut down on my drinking but I seem to have less and less will power. When my husband is home, I have no trouble controlling my drinking, but the minute he leaves I seem to need it. I don't want to worry my husband about this. He has enough on his mind with his job and being a father on weekends when he's home. The thing that scares me most is that when my kids need me,

Last night we had a big blowup when Dad and I tried to explain that they were welcome if they waited on themselves. Our son-in-law exploded all over us. He is an obnoxious loudmouth and our daughter is afraid to open her mouth except to agree with him. How do we handle this delicate situation without alienating them entirely? GROWING GRAYER

DEAR GROWING: By "giving in" to your daughter when she was younger and should have been learning respect for elders, you won the peace, but lost the war. It's much too late to train her. Either you must continue to give in, or give up hope of entertaining your daughter and her family except on her terms.

A Devotional For The Day

We are Labourers together with God.
PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, for those who brighten the corner where they are, though in a humble way. May we in our daily tasks be co-workers with Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Dope May Figure In Riots

Is there a connection between the narcotics traffic and outbreaks of mob violence in the nation's big cities? There seems little doubt of it, though the extent of this connection can only be guessed.

Not long ago the Arizona Daily Star in Tucson carried a shocking story under an eight-column headline: Tucson Family Makes $10,000 A Week From Selling Dope. The family allegedly constituted a ring which, the paper said, has established a monopoly of the dope traffic through Tucson from below the Mexican border.

Based on findings of the city police and the state liquor control board, the Star's story reveals that the supposed monopoly has enabled the ring to make an ounce of heroin bring in $4,000 at retail after the stuff has been bought in Mexico wholesale for $400. It is in this capacity for skyrocketing prices that one finds a possible connection between the dope traffic and outbreaks of group violence.

The cost of satisfying the demand of their habit has brought desperation among thousands of addicts in the slums of the big cities. This might well play some part in rioting such as that which struck Los Angeles and Chicago.

At a time when the nation is striving as never before to alleviate the plight of its miserable and oppressed, the scoundrels who use the situation to make money are more than ever public enemies. They must be hunted down, and efforts to curb the flow of illicit drugs must be increased.

Beautification Faces Trouble

The prospect that President Johnson's roadside beautification package may be allowed to germinate until another session of Congress recalls poet Robert Herrick's warning: "Neglected beauty perisheth apace."

Despite recent appeals to Congress and public opinion, Johnson may have to acquiesce in the adjournment rush on "must" legislation, to a delay on his highway beautification bills. If so, that will be unfortunate, as momentum in this movement may be lost and opposition is likely to build up.

To cover a threatened $3.1 billion deficit in the special highway trust fund, President Johnson has asked for road-user tax increases on truckers and a five-month extension on the collection of all trust-fund taxes beyond the Oct. 1, 1972, cut-off date. Financing problems thus may hold up the beauty bills, for they would be costly, too.

Meanwhile, the 1958 billboard law expired at the end of the 1965 fiscal year — June 30. Billboard lobbyists had found the oriental bazaar merchants of the state legislatures accommodating; only 20 states had qualified for the federal billboard control bonus.

Opponents of controls have grown more outspoken. Walter S. Meyers, vice president of a major company that designs and makes outdoor advertising equipment, on June 1 drew a curious analogy between billboards and junkyards on the one hand and so-called "pop art" on the other, and asked the St. Louis Advertising Club: "Who is to say that a highway sign is not an art form?"

In a more serious vein, Meyers demanded: "If fundamental rights can be trampled upon by the federal government in the name of an abstract concept such as 'beauty,' why cannot other personal tastes and responses be legislated?" "Beauty," Thomas Fuller tells us, "will buy no beef."

Why LBJ And Ike Get Along

WASHINGTON — Dwight Eisenhower has luckily never learned to put his party above his country. The Republicans can't make him call the conflict in Viet Nam a Democratic blunder or "Johnson's war." It's true that Ike, at the end of his term, was spending merely millions on foreign aid for South Viet Nam, whereas LBJ has been forced into the billion-dollar area to fight a real war. But Mr. Eisenhower is too good a soldier to oppose his commander-in-chief while the guns are booming. Besides, as he has said, the situation in Southeast Asia has changed from what it was during his presidency.

BUT THE remarkable thing is that,

Billy Graham

If we accept our sister-in-law, who has a very bad reputation, and breaks up my brother's first home, we will be false pretenders. Is this right, or should we reveal our honest feelings? B.N.

In the Christian ethic, we are not to think of a person's reputation, or what they have done in the past. We must follow the example of our Lord who ruled no one out of the kingdom of God.

The adulteress had a bad reputation, and Jesus might have thought of the consequences of associating with her, but He was willing to face the criticism of the carping Pharisees, rather than to reject this woman who had a dark past, and needed his forgiveness and love.

Many people that Jesus touched had a bad reputation. Zacchaeus had a reputation of dishonesty, but Jesus said: "Today I will abide at thy house." The Woman of Samaria had a bad reputation, but Jesus said: "He that drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst." Peter had a reputation as an impulsive, and often angry man, but Jesus said, "Follow me."

This woman you speak of obviously needs love — Christian love. She is caught in a web of evil and loneliness. Who is better equipped to "go the extra mile," and show her that Christianity is not just pretense? If your "honest feelings" are otherwise, let them be changed to Christian feelings.

Free Collective Bargaining A Myth

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country is unlikely to see again a big strike in any industry where a prolonged shutdown would seriously hurt the general welfare or the national economy.

President Johnson was using kid gloves when he persuaded the steel industry and the steel workers last week to reach a settlement without a strike. He simply pressured them into it and offered suggestions they accepted.

If he had failed, undoubtedly he would have obtained an injunction to postpone a strike 90 days. If at the end of that time there was still no agreement, he could have asked Congress for action to prevent a strike.

THESE STEPS might seem harsh in a society which long prided itself on a tradition of free, collective bargaining. But he would have been no more drastic than other presidents before him.

All this has a history, for labor-management relations have gone through three stages:

1. For most of American history labor had little protection from the law. Management didn't have to bargain with a union. It could shut down its plant. It could get court injunctions to stop a strike.

Those were the free-wheeling days when the American society was far less complex than now, and far less interdependent, and when one big strike didn't affect so many people and so many segments of the economy.

2. The change came in the 1930s. In 1932, under the Norris-LaGuardia Act, Congress made it almost impossible for a judge to issue an injunction against a strike.

AND IN 1935, under the Wagner Act, employees had to bargain with a union. The free-wheeling days were gone. But not quite. Organized labor expanded enormously under the protection of law. And it became rambunctious.

3. In 1947, after a fantastic spasm of postwar strikes, Congress passed the Taft-Hartley Act putting restraints on labor and permitting an 80-day injunction against a strike which might injure the country badly.

It was President Harry S. Truman who, immediately after the war, began to show how far a president would go now to prevent a disastrous strike. There were many strikes in many industries, too many to be listed here.

THESE WAS a 113-day strike in the auto industry. Truman produced a compromise formula to end a steel strike. The coal miners struck so long that Truman said it was close to becoming a strike against the government.

He finally ordered the mines seized by the government and a settlement followed. He ordered the railroads seized to prevent a strike and threatened to call out the Army if the workers didn't return to their jobs.

He asked Congress for special powers, even to drafting rail strikers into the Army. The strike ended. And in 1953 Truman seized the steel mills to prevent a strike but the Supreme Court ruled he had overreached himself.

Surgery Four Times

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Some 11 million surgical operations are performed in America each year. The chances are you'll undergo surgery four times in your life, or about once every 17 years. The average surgeon now performs about 175 operations annually.

NAPOLEON Bonaparte liked to smell nice. The French emperor liked to douse himself with Eau de Cologne, and used up to 60 bottles of the scent a month.

Americans accidentally lose about $700 million in coins and paper currency each year. Women seem to be as careless as men in this respect.

Henry Ford was originally a watchmaker. It was while in this line of work that he got some of the ideas he later employed in the assembly line construction of autos.

A COLUMBIA University engineering professor says the U.S. strategic forces now have enough stored power to dump the equivalent of six tons of TNT on every person on earth.

Quotable notables: "Football is a sport that bears the same relations to education that bullfighting does to agriculture." — Elbert Hubbard.

It is estimated that one-fifth of U.S. dogs now take vitamins regularly.

IN 1958 there were 109 physicians for every 100,000 people in this country. Now there are fewer than 87.

The "Keep America Beautiful" organization figured that during the three-day holiday period just ended motoring litterbugs tossed enough debris on streets and highways to fill 2,200 freight cars. The cost of cleaning it up: about $10 million.

Among the worst gyms are those who prey on the 12 million Americans who suffer from chronic arthritis — most of them elderly. Quacks fleece that of $250 million a year with worthless remedies.

It was Carolyn Wells who observed, "We should live and learn; but by the time we've learned, it's too late to live."

Many Faculties Involved In Sense Of Balance

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

What do we use to maintain our sense of balance besides the intricate mechanism of the inner ear?

First, the eyes. Shut your eyes as you walk along, and you suddenly realize that, although the inner ear tells you whether you are leaning one way or another, you do not have quite as sharp and precise an awareness. Blind persons soon learn to depend on the inner ear for balance, but the rest of us are so accustomed to using our eyes for this purpose that we depend on vision without realizing it.

Muscle co-ordination is another. Walking sideways along a hill, with the eyes shut, you would know from having one foot higher than the other that you are on a slope. Well, the action of the muscles in much smaller ways also helps tell us whether we are upright or leaning.

The amount of muscular force we exert, which is similar but not exactly the same as muscular co-ordination, also contributes to our sense of balance.

Impairment of any of these faculties can interfere to some extent to our sureness of balance even though we do not feel "dizzy."

Cataracts, glaucoma, or any other defect in eyesight detract from balance. Bifocal glasses, with the necessity of shifting the eyes from one focus to another, can make balance a bit more difficult, especially when first used. I suppose that everybody with bifocals knows that it takes a bit of practice to become accustomed to them.

Older folks also lose muscle tone. Both co-ordination and muscular strength decline. And this is another contribution to a sense of imbalance. Stiffness of hip, knee or ankle, as may be due to arthritis or aging joints, cause us to become much less sure of our balance.

Hardening of the arteries and limitation of circulation can introduce some degree of tension and rigidity in muscle movements. Add everything together, and you see why loss of balance becomes one of the frailties of growing older.

Some of these factors have no adequate answer. Others do. They are more severe in some people than in others. But here are certain things to remember to keep the problem at a minimum:

Be sure your glasses correct your vision to the best degree possible. The sharper your eyesight, the better your balance.

And be sure there is adequate lighting. You want to SEE.

Be familiar with your surroundings. A strange stairway or strange hall or house take a bit of getting used to. Your own stairs at home, well known to you, are easier to climb or descend because you "feel" the proper distance for each step.

Use a cane. The value of a simple walking stick is to frequently underestimated.

Don't have throw rugs or other such floor coverings that can trip you. (And watch out for slipping slippers.)

Grab bars beside the bathtub and in other strategic spots are a blessing, and prevent many a nasty fall.

These simple things, while they won't give us back the sense of balance we had when we were young, can still do a lot to make life more secure and comfortable.

Around The Rim

Eatin' High On The Hog

When I was a little tyke I got a big bang on the rare occasions when I was privileged to eat a noonday meal in the rear of a general store in some small west Texas town.

The menu was limited. Generally, it comprised cheese, cut with a greasy butcher knife from a huge drum reposing in sweaty glory on a counter, a handful of crackers, and a can of peaches hacked open with the grocer's son-what primitive can cutter.

A WATER BUCKET nearby with a communal dipper was available for washing down the somewhat arid fare. The thoughtful grocer supplied dinky tin spoons for our convenience. He even spread out a strip of wrapping paper for a table cloth.

We ate the cheese and crackers without the formality of dishes. A chipped coffee cup, rinsed out with a splash of water, served one of us as a dessert dish. The other ate his peaches out of the tin can.

SOMETIMES, when we were enjoying our feast, a cowboy would drop in. He would look over the menu and, if he was flush with cash, order what we had, plus a can of beans and instead of peaches, a can of green gage plums.

You could tell when he was low on money by his order. When cash was short, he contended himself with a different order — a nickel's worth of crackers out of the barrel and a handful of lemon-stick candy.

I DO NOT recall ever trying this gastronomical combination but it must have had its appeal. I have seen a lot of lemonstick candy and crackers munched by hungry hands who seemed to relish it.

Apparently only lemon candy was suitable. I do not remember ever seeing peppermint stick, hoarhound or the other delectable candies found in general stores being combined with crackers.

Nor do I recall any brash diner, regardless of the state of his purse or the sharpness of his hunger, who was willing to try the store's chocolates. Even without crackers.

ONLY KIDS like myself, apparently were courageous or naive enough to eat these concoctions. They came in wooden buckets about two gallon capacity. Each piece of candy was shaped like a small rounded cone, coated over with what was assumed to be chocolate. The interior was made of some sort of whitish material, almost as hard as cement and sweetish to the taste (when one had gnawed off enough of it to get a taste.)

I suppose this was the most durable confection ever devised.

ILL WAGER if you could find a bucket of it forgotten in some old abandoned general store of half a century ago, it will be just as tasty today as it was when the dealer first received it from the manufacturer.

Such products just don't change. —SAM BLACKBURN

The Going Price On CIA Agents

WASHINGTON — There are a lot of red faces in Washington these days because of last week's contretemps with the Prime Minister of Singapore, Lee Kuan Yew, who revealed in a press interview that he was offered a bribe of $3 million to hush up an American CIA fiasco in 1961. Mr. Lee said he indignantly refused the money because he and his party couldn't be bribed, but he would consider an offer of $33 million instead.

THE STATE Department denied the incident had ever taken place, so Mr. Lee produced a letter of apology written by Secretary of State Dean Rusk to him. State said there had been a misunderstanding over the denial, which, whether they liked it or not, confirmed Prime Minister Lee's story.

Among the red faces I saw last week was one belonging to the Enchiladan ambassador to the United States, who was dining alone at the Sans Souci.

I asked him why he was so upset.

"I AM IN trouble with my government because of Singapore."

"How is that? Singapore is not in South America."

"You do not understand. Four years ago there came to my country one of your CIA people who offered to bribe one of our officials for information about our government. He was arrested and thrown into jail. A few weeks later a high official from your government came to me and asked me how much it would cost to get him out of jail."

"I SAID $5,000. They offered $3,500, and I recommended to my country we take it. Now I am in trouble because they have read in the paper that the Singapore government was offered $3 million if they would release the CIA man there. My government is very angry with me because we sold out so cheaply."

"But no one had put a price on a CIA agent before. It wasn't your fault," I said.

"THAT'S WHAT I told my government. But they said this is typical of American policy in Latin America. They will pay $3 million to hush up a scandal in the Far East but only $3,500 to hush up one in Latin America. What kind of an Alliance for Progress is this?"

"Did anyone offer you an explanation?"

"They told me that the CIA agent in Singapore was mixed up with a girl and that's why they had to pay more."

"But $3 million! She must have been some girl!"

"That's exactly what I was thinking. We have some beautiful women in our country, but $3 million — the mind boggles."

"What are you planning to do about it?"

"WE ARE GOING to bring it up at the next OAS meeting. We are going to tell the United States that they can send all the CIA agents they want into Latin America; but they will have to pay $3 million for each one that gets caught. We can't cut our prices lower than Singapore."

The ambassador got up to leave. "It's now up to the United States. Do you realize 100 inept CIA agents could resolve our balance of payments problem for two years?"

Resentment Of Labor's Power

WASHINGTON — That restless, post-Labor Day feeling is already beginning to grip the Congress just as the most controversial administration proposal is about to come up. This is repeal of Section 14-B of the National Labor Relations Act which permits states to adopt so-called right-to-work laws.

Repeal pledged by President Johnson is his campaign a year ago is charged with the deepest political emotions. Conservative groups throughout the country are laying down a barrage of propaganda. The prospect is for prolonged debate — a filibuster that could delay adjournment beyond the end-of-September deadline.

THE VOTE WILL be close and it could turn on a growing discontent with what many traders feel are the dictates of the trade unions. Farm state senators are indignant over the demand enforced by George Meany of the AFL-CIO that 50 per cent of all wheat shipped to Soviet-bloc nations move in American ships. The Soviet Union, which has been buying millions of tons of wheat from Canada, Australia, Argentina and France, will not pay the extra 21 cents a bushel for shipment from the United States to Russia's Black Sea ports.

DEMOCRATS FROM the farm belt who might otherwise vote for repeal of 14-B are wavering. Sen. George McGovern (D., S.D.), whose state is more completely dependent on agriculture than any other in the Union, says he is not sure whether he will support repeal. Two other Democrats from wheat states, Walter Mondale of Minnesota and Lee Metcalf of Montana, are pledged for repeal. But they are both unhappy about it.

Two or three votes could swing the balance on 14-B when the debate finally ends. If President Johnson should persuade Meany to give up the 50 per cent requirement so that American wheat could be sold to Communist nations it could provide the razor-thin margin of difference.

RESENTMENT OVER the wheat ban is only one source of the grumbling in the cloakrooms over what normally sympathetic senators feel is an effort by big unions to hold their monopoly position and to dictate in areas quite outside labor relations. Longshoremen on the East Coast have refused to unload cargoes from Communist countries.

There is a growing awareness of the squeeze of high profits and high wages in key industries. This has been brought to a focus in the steel negotiations as steel wages and steel prices threaten to break through the guidelines set up by the administration. The teamsters have announced that they do not intend to be bound by the guidelines.

THE BELIEF IS that in the showdown 14-B will be repealed and right-to-work laws in 19 states will be invalid. But this will be in spite of a deep disaffection with union practices and union attitudes. Organized labor will not in the future be able to count on getting what it wants with the same ease as in the past when large Democratic majorities were almost always ready to go along. The House has already repealed the clause labor hates so by a vote of 221 to 203.

BETWEEN THE upper millstone of the farm bloc and the nether millstone of organized labor the economy is distorted, the consumer squeezed and Congress hears a prolonged bleat of protest from John Q. Citizen. With the repeal of 14-B the unions will have new authority in large areas. Whether this will advance their cause with the public for the long pull is a question.

OIL REPORT

Midwest Prepares For Potential

Midwest Oil Corp. No. 1 Richards is being prepared for potential test six miles southeast of Lamesa in the Dean sand area as a wildcat.

Operator drilled to 8,607 feet, plugged back to 8,582 feet and pumped 55 barrels of lead plus four barrels of new oil. Then, in 24 hours he pumped 88 barrels of new oil, and has recovered a total of 180 barrels of new oil from perforations at 8,425-29 feet.

Desegregation Move Lags

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — An announced move to integrate white schools here did not materialize today when classroom doors opened.

Negro leaders said Monday an attempt would be made to enter white schools which opened today on a segregated basis.

School officials reported near noon that there had been no such attempt.

Meanwhile, the some 650 National Guardsmen ordered in to block "imminent riot" pulled out after patrolling for five days.

One Complaint On Grand Jury Docket Today

GARDEN CITY—Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, empaneled a grand jury for Glasscock County this morning.

There was one felony complaint to be placed before the grand jurors for consideration. It names C. L. McGrew as defendant, and accuses him of car theft.

Wayne Burns, district attorney who is in Garden City with the judge, said the complaint dates back to 1963, but that McGrew had only recently been apprehended.

DAILY DRILLING

DAWSON Tomorack Petroleum Corp., Inc. No. 1, E. Bartlett, spotted 467 feet from the north and east lines of labor 14 league 27 1/2, GCS-Land survey, 9 miles south-west of Lamesa, was drilling about 11,290 feet in line, shale and chert. The well has been completed to flow 64 barrels in the Ellenburger, and pumps were installed after perforating the Fuson.

STERLING Shell Oil Co. No. 2, F. M. Hildebrand, spotted 2,689 feet from the south and west lines of section 14, H&C survey, 13 miles southwest of Sterling City, is drilling below 4,140 feet.

Bing Crosby Reported Ill

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bing Crosby has canceled a plane trip to England because of "a little virus," the singer's brother Larry said today.

"He's at home at Hillsborough, up and around, and it's nothing serious," Bing's brother added.

The 61-year-old star was to have occupied the Royal Box at the St. Leger horse race Wednesday.

"It was a long, over-the-pole flight and the doctor said he shouldn't do it," Larry Crosby said.

Bing lives in Hillsborough, in the San Francisco area, and is a demonstration against closing the school.

First Day Of No School

While other schools were crowded Tuesday by youngsters and their parents making arrangements for the start of school, Kate Morrison school drew a different kind of crowd for a brief time. Here are some two score children and patrons gathered in front of the school.

school as a gesture of protest at an order closing the plant. School officials said that the decision was reached in response to a federal order against two schools of the same grade level in the same district. A court protest was ruled out last week.

School Registration Begins Briskly At Most Buildings

Registration began at all elementary schools in Big Spring at 8:15 a.m. today, and was to continue until 3 p.m. Junior high and senior high students were scheduled to pick up their schedules at different hours during the day.

Classes will begin on regular schedule Wednesday, with buses running and cafeterias open. Lakeview Elementary will have a cafeteria for the first time this year, making use of the former junior high homecoming department. Between 60 and 75 students can be served there at one time, until some re-arrangements are made, and they will have fried chicken the first day.

Registration started briskly and then slowed down at most of the schools this morning, according to reports from principals to the central office. No figures were available at noon on the total number registered.

Around 75 persons, including a large number of adults, were assembled at the front gate of Kate Morrison Elementary school early this morning, in a demonstration against closing the school. They were gone by mid-morning.

"Registration at Lakeview school went off well this morning," according to Earnest Morgan principal, and Keith Swimm from the central office, who was assisting. "We had several parents from the former Kate Morrison attendance area and they were wonderfully cooperative. We registered more than 30 before 10 a.m."

Parking will be some problem at the high school during the construction period.

"Teachers will park their cars on the front lawn and along the 'off-street' parking areas in front of the present building to the gymnasium," William Martin, one of the high school personnel, said this morning. "Coaches and physical education personnel, and the vocational agriculture and shop teachers will use the area directly in front of the gymnasium. The curb has been taken from the former circle to allow driving onto the grass area."

"Two rows of student car parking may be available along State Street on the extreme east side of the campus. Some parking will be available later on areas south of the high school, but student drivers will have to find their own places, subject to regulation by police, when the two rows are filled along State."

Students at the high school were being advised about the parking situation as they assembled to pick up their schedules this morning.

Stomping By Ranger Denied

AUSTIN (AP)—Booker Bonner, a field worker for Martin Luther King's so-called Southern Christian Leadership Council, asserted today a Texas Ranger stomped him on the head Wednesday night after Bonner was arrested during a Hightsville civil rights demonstration. The Texas Department of Public Safety at once denied Bonner had been mistreated.

Infant's Funeral Set Wednesday

Denise Kay Altenberg, infant daughter of Lt. and Mrs. John C. Altenberg, 1108 Lancaster, died Tuesday.

Graveside services will be Wednesday at 9 a.m. in Trinity Memorial Park, with the Rev. Clair Wiederholf officiating.

Survivors include the parents; a brother, Kent Altenberg, Big Spring; and two grandmothers, Mrs. H. O. Altenberg, South Beloit, Ill., and George Greenwood, Mineral Point, Wis.

Towns In State Due Airport Aid

AUSTIN (AP)—Seven towns will get state funds under the airport aid program, the Texas Aeronautics Commission said today. They are Cameron $10,000, Hearne $2,000, Jacksboro, $10,000, Kountze $7,500, Clarksville $12,000, Floydada $12,000 and Post $12,000.

River Rise Postpones Rescue Of 21 In Gorge

ZION NATIONAL PARK, Utah (AP) — Park rangers, ready to enter Zion Narrows gorge this morning to rescue 21 stranded persons, were delayed for the second straight day when the Virgin River rose after more rain Monday night.

The park's lookout service reported .40 inch rain fell during the night. Five Californians who disappeared while hiking out early Monday remained unaccounted for.

Two 16-year-old Utah boys swam and waded out late Monday and said the stranded party included four children between 5 and 9 years old and more than 10 women and children. The boys said all were safe, but provisions were running low.

Forty-two persons were missing under the gorge's towering walls three days ago when the Virgin River flashed through the bottom of Zion's deep and narrow crack in the southern Utah desert after a storm. Sixteen have found their way out.

The two Utah boys — Mark Richegoff of Cedar City and Scott Atkin of Bountiful — said the five missing Californians left a gorge-bottom camp early Monday.

The boys said they were able to track them part way along the gorge bottom, but then lost their footprints. The Californians weren't out by nightfall.

Schools To Begin Lunch Programs

Big Spring Independent School district cafeteria system will begin serving luncheons (Type A) Wednesday in the following schools: Lakeview, Gay Hill, Goliad, Marcy, Airport, College Heights, Park Hill, Runnels, Special Education, Washington Place and Senior High School. South Ward students will continue to eat at the high school cafeteria.

Food costs have increased, but the schools are hopeful volume will be sufficient the prices for meals can be kept the same as they were last term. The prices for the lunches are 35 cents for children and 45 cents for teachers.

Weekly and monthly luncheon tickets will be sold on the first day of each week at 8:30 a.m. The price for weekly tickets for students is $1.75 and for monthly tickets $7.

Milk prices have advanced, the school officials said, and all schools being serviced by the special milk program are advised to note the price increases.

Price of milk is advanced to three cents for a half pint or six cents for two half pints to students. Teachers will pay six cents a half pint for the milk.

'Task Force' Due In Dixie

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Education Association said today it will send a 36-man task force through the South to study the problems of Negro teachers who have lost their jobs because of school integration.

The survey will get under way in about two weeks, and will cover 17 Southern and border states, including Texas.

Samuel B. Ethridge of the NEA told a news conference that the NEA knows of 300 Negroes who have been displaced, and estimates the total at about 1,000.

Ethridge said 5,500 Negro teachers could lose their positions.

Rains Flood W. Omaha

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Thousands of Omahans tumbled out of their homes in the early morning hours today and fled for safety as rains of up to seven inches sent creeks over their banks and flooded lowlands in a large residential section of West Omaha.

More than a dozen evacuation centers were set up within hours to care for the displaced house-holders. Law enforcement-agencies mobilized volunteers to help route traffic and rescue stranded persons.

EVACUEES REPORTS These were typical of the reports of evacuees who congregated at the emergency shelters.

There were no immediate reports of flood deaths.

Ray Nielsen, in charge of the Civil Defense command post, said that at about 6:30 a.m., the most critical areas were in the southern and southwestern parts of the city.

ISOLATED AREAS "As far as we can tell everyone who has been evacuated is out and safe," he said. But he said there was no way of estimating how many people had been evacuated or the total percentage of the city's population of about 350,000 affected because of "the vast number of isolated areas involved."

The Civil Defense center listed at least three bridges out and one street out, in addition to others blocked by water. One of the closed streets was Dodge Street, a principal east-west artery which carries US 30A through the city.

A statue was stolen from the yard of Sam Miguel, 400 NE 11th, he told officers. Lonnie Howard reported a transmission and a drive shaft lifted from his car while it was parked back of his mother's home at 1022 1/2 Nolan, during the past two weeks.

A 7-11 store reported a dozen soft drinks taken from a drink machine outside the store at 2310 Wason Road early this morning. Officers said the two locks on the machine had been twisted off the door and an unsuccessful attempt made to enter the store.

Foreign Aid Bill Signed

By FRANK CORMIER JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson ends a holiday stay at his ranch today, his attention focused on the fighting in Pakistan and India.

Johnson has been keeping in close touch with the situation through telephone conferences with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and others.

Spending much of Labor Day at his desk — before and after an auto tour of his ranch properties — Johnson signed the $3.3-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

In line with congressional recommendations, he announced an administration review of aid efforts with the aim of making them more effective.

He said he expects to ask Congress next year to authorize a multi-year program, rather than seek again a year's spending authority.

The spending authorization he signed covers the fiscal year that began July 1. The money still must be appropriated.

Johnson also signed a bill paving the way for establishment of a library to house his official papers when he leaves office. This will be built on the University of Texas campus in Austin, 50 miles east of here.

The president telephoned birthday greetings to Miss Ida Fuller, 91, in Ludlow, Vt. Miss Fuller in 1939 became the first American to receive a monthly Social Security benefit check.

Johnson arranged a further birthday surprise, sending her the first check to cover retroactive increases in benefits voted recently by Congress.

IN SPEEDBOAT Monday night, the President went out on Lake Lyndon B. Johnson in his 18-foot speedboat. The sky was cloudy and few boats were in sight. A security helicopter hovered over the President's boat.

Later, the President took the wheel of an automobile that operates both on land and water and drove it briefly on the lake.

Mitchell Interests Plan Challenge Of Lake Site

Mitchell County interests Tuesday girded for a legal battle to prevent the Colorado River Municipal Water District from impounding a lake in Coke County near Robert Lee.

A seven-man committee has been named to spearhead an appeal to be sought from the Texas Water Rights Commission permit which was issued to the CRMWD last week. A decision to proceed with an appeal came during the weekend as a result of a meeting attended by nearly two score Colorado City and Mitchell County residents, including some county and city officials and members of the Colorado City Industrial Team.

ORIGINAL PLANS Originally, plans were made to construct a dam on the Colorado River near the Mitchell-Coke County line. Later, on advice of engineers, the location sought was moved about 20 miles downstream where borings indicated a safer foundation, and where profiles showed a deeper, narrower lake.

The CRMWD, expressing regret that the permit might be contested, will proceed on the promise that the lake project will go forward as approved by the TWRC.

Charles Griggs, Sweetwater attorney who represented Mitchell County during the hearings last December and January when Mitchell County lodged a protest, will handle the appeal, assisted by City Attorney Frank Ginzel.

The point of attack on the permit will be that an executive branch of the government (the TWRC) cannot encroach upon the legislative branch, which ceded to the Upper Colorado River Authority the jurisdiction for water development in Coke County. The UCRA filed a statement at the hearing saying it had no objections to the permit going to the CRMWD, provided those whom it was committed to serve were taken care of satisfactorily. This the CRMWD said it would do.

LEGAL INTEREST Griggs said one difficulty might be in establishing a legal interest by Mitchell County in the matter, but he added that "We don't think the TWRC has the right to move a dam from one county to another."

GIVES CONTROL The issue also will be raised, that in effect, the permit gives to the CRMWD and the Lower Colorado River Authority (under a table of releases which might be exercised at the discretion of the TWRC) the control of waters of the upper Colorado River.

"We were disappointed when weight of the evidence showed that the only logical course was to move the dam location downstream from Mitchell County," said O. H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD. "Although the courts have said that when an executive order is improper to the extent of being null and void, anyone can raise the issue."

County Judge Elmer Martin, who is chairman of the seven-man committee, said he knew of no instance where such an appeal has been raised on moving of a proposed dam, but added that "this may be a precedent."

"Naturally we regret the prospect that the permit may be questioned, especially by our neighbors. We appreciate their disappointment in the location, but water is so precious in West Texas that supplies must be developed where they can produce the best quality water over the longest period of time at the most economical costs. The need for water is so urgent in this area that we must build the lake. We already have lost a year, and we hope that any additional delays can be held to a minimum so we can have a water supply ready by the time that this area must have it."

School System Operates 18 Buses, Begin Wednesday

Eighteen buses will be transporting students to the various schools of the Big Spring Independent School District this year, with some of them making double runs morning and afternoon.

Don Crockett, assistant business manager of the schools, said this week that not all bus stops have been given in the following schedule, but that enough information was given to provide the times buses will be in the general neighborhoods of residents.

"Pick-up times will be as closely adhered to as possible with some expected adjustments being made as the year progresses," he said. "All routes which indicate two trips will alternate morning and afternoon schedules where practical. Early buses in the morning will become early buses in the late afternoon. Bus service will begin Wednesday."

The following schedule, with bus numbers and drivers, indicates routes covered, and times scheduled for certain stops; some stops in between indicated ones will be estimated and all students should be at

Rebels Stall Disarmament

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Dominican rebel leaders held off on major disarmament moves in their sector today until appointment of a provisional secretary of the armed forces.

President Hector Garcia-Godoy has not yet filled the post and completed his cabinet.

There was no visible sign the rebels were collecting arms or dismantling defenses, as called for in the inter-American peace formula.

Rebel chiefs have said they want to see how well the president handles the military, especially Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin. They want to see him transferred out of the country or kept out of any position of power. He was a leader of the 1963 overthrow of President Juan D. Bosch and the fight to break the rebellion this year.

Negro Baptist Meet To Open

HOUSTON (AP)—The 85th annual meeting of the National (Negro) Baptist Convention of America will open tonight with a concert in the Astrodome by two choirs totaling 1,500 persons.

They are 1,000 adults directed by Mrs. Virgie DeWitty of Austin and 500 youths led by Dr. Robert Henry of Baton Rouge.

Club Championship Trophies Presented

The one-session Open Pairs-Club Championship duplicate bridge games were held Sunday at Big Spring Country Club with the club championship being won by Mrs. Fred Luring and Mrs. Tom South. The winners received the Marie McDonald trophies, which are silver goblets, and will have their names engraved on a plaque in the clubhouse foyer.

Twenty-two tables were in play with 39 of the players coming from 13 area cities and two participants from out-of-state.

Overall winners were Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Wilson Jr. of Midland who were recipients of fluted brass bowls on wooden stands. Second place went to Mrs. J. H. Holloway and George D. Pike who received identical smaller bowls.

Other winners were Mrs. Elvys McCrary and Mrs. Ward Hall, third; Mrs. Leta N. Myers and Mrs. W. R. Watson, both of Midland, fourth; Mrs. Luring and Mrs. South, fifth; and Mrs. Joe Steyer and Mrs. Hudson Landers, sixth.

The following Section Awards were given. In Section A Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. J. D. Robertson ranked fourth, while Mrs. A. G. Barnard, Hobbs, N. M., and Mrs. Phil Terk, Odessa, placed fifth. Sixth place went to Mrs. J. Phinley, Lamesa, and Mrs. W. K. Edwards Jr.

In Section D, Mrs. G. A. Buehler and Mrs. Ora Dee Waddell, both of Midland, were fourth; Mrs. C. E. Marley of Odessa, Walter Jenkins, both of Midland, were fifth; and Mrs. B. R. Wilkinson and Mrs. W. R. Powell, both of Colorado City, were sixth.

A social hour followed the completion of play.

Preceding the big event, nine tables were in play for the regular Friday games.

North-south winners were Mrs. Hollis Webb and Mrs. Ray McMahan, first; Mrs. Glen Cox

Swinging Handbags

This year, new leather handbags present a well rounded picture of arm swinging styles, endowed with delicate detailing, beautiful leather textures and luscious lightened colors.

Your handbag is an important element in the total fashion picture. It should integrate with the rest of your ensemble to create a "costume look." And this season, that look most often reflects the very feminine "romantic" trend in women's clothing.

Handbag sizes vary from small to quite large, shapes are generally deeper and softened in silhouette. Bringing a light-as-air, easy-care beauty to these pretty purses are elegant leathers—grained, smooth, suede, waxy, genuine patent.

In the daytime dress division, the smartest leather handbags display dressmaker details—draping effects, overlays, scallops. These charmingly feminine envelopes, pouches and boxbags complement the graceful lines of this season's dresses, coats and suits.

For daytime wear, casual category, it's still the leather satchel or tote—no longer oversized, but still roomy enough for those hundred-and-one essentials no lady would be without. Expandable sides and pretty pale colors endow these casual carryalls with that up-to-the-minute "soft touch."

Look to the light when it comes to color. Pastels are bustin' out all over—blue, pink, green, as well as white. The stocking tints in leather footwear may be accessorized with matching leather handbags. Also important are bright shades, particularly reds. The "natural leather" colors and that perennial, navy, are other favorites.

Late-day and after-dark handbag styles spotlight glossy smooth leathers, distinctive reptiles, glowing lustrous and sleek suede leathers. Principally envelopes, clutches and flat pouches with chains, they use a minimum of styling detail such as burnished gold closings, a touch of jewelry or self-leather bow.

HINTS FROM HELOISE Physicians Warns All Pill-Takers

Dear Heloise: As a physician, may I suggest that patients who have to take a number of different pills each day, put the entire supply of their daily quota in one empty, capped bottle each morning? Then, if there is a pill left in the bottle at bed time, they will know they have missed counting somewhere...

With the fast life people live today, this counting of pills is most important to good health.

After all, what good is a doctor and his prescriptions, if medication is not taken? (Also, it is sometimes dangerous if a patient takes too many, which often happens when they forget.)

Thank you, sincerely, from all of us doctors. . . . W. Martin, M. D.

beans for two minutes. I remove them from the heat, and soak in the covered pan for at least one hour.

Now, you're ready for baking, using any recipe you choose. . . . Maybelle

Dear Heloise: I just discovered a way to "un-rust" a sewing needle. My darling needle was quite rusty so I pushed it through a dry, soap-filled, steel wool pad with a twirling motion. It worked for me. Hope it does for someone else. . . . K.V.N.

Dear Heloise: The wooden heels of shoes often become scuffed, and spoil an otherwise well-groomed look. By wiping these places with a cloth saturated with scratch-removing furniture polish, I got a renewed look to the heels, making the whole shoe look good again. . . . Nellie Cutler

Dear Heloise: If people would use a light starch on their muslin pillowcases, they will stay fresh longer and feel just wonderful when in use.

Also, I find that they do not become stained from my husband's hair oil.

Is it psychological, or is it true? . . . Hettie

No, it is not psychological. Any time starch is used on a fabric, the starch absorbs the oil and residue. This keeps the soil from imbedding into the fibers. The next time the garment is washed, as the starch washes out, the soil is taken away.

I love starched pillowcases. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: When I come home from the grocery, I remove the wrappings from all bars of soap, and put some of them in my dresser drawers. I have found that this not only helps prevent mildew, but it makes my clothes smell ever so lovely.

This is especially good when used in linen closets, and the bars of soap are kept in among the pillowcases. . . . M.M.

Dear Heloise: I discovered a quick way to prepare navy beans when I want to bake them: To eliminate soaking the beans overnight, I boil them in three times as much water as record player. A 4100 model Early American finish Wurlitzer organ is behind them. This organ may be played with earphones and not disturb a sleeping person in the same room. Lewallen lives, with his family, at 104 Canyon Drive.

'Rent Before You Buy' Plan Now At Doc Young Music Co.

For more than 100 years, people who have thought about music thought first of Wurlitzer, whose standards for materials, craftsmanship and product development have served as examples for the entire music industry.

Big Spring is offered this first class quality at Doc Young Music Co., 910 E. 4th St. Featured is the Wurlitzer Rental Plan, designed to determine the musical talent of an individual prior to making the purchase of a piano.

The piano rental plan was developed by Wurlitzer for families where no one plays. It is a simple and inexpensive program for testing one's musical aptitude without obligation to buy. This plan is available for only $10 per month, with free tuning and delivery included. You receive credit for rental charges if you decide to purchase the instrument.

Students and professionals alike will appreciate the outstanding response and superior tonal quality of Wurlitzer instruments.

"Of all musical instruments, it is the piano that fulfills the greatest amount of musical needs in the school or home," Joe Lewallen, manager, said. "In assemblies, programs, family get-togethers, concerts and recitals, the piano plays a leading part."

"We can't possibly sell all makes of pianos and organs," Lewallen declared, "so we just sell the one that most people ask for and buy—Wurlitzer. "Without a doubt," he continued, "Wurlitzer is the best combination of quality and cost on the market. Chances are that you will buy only one piano for you, your children and your grandchildren, so why not get one that will stand up for generations to come, and be an attractive and practical heirloom."

Wurlitzer is the world's largest builder of pianos and organs. The company produces more than 50 pianos in basic furniture styles and in a variety of mahogany, cherry, walnut, maple and oak woods.

Every piano built by Wurlitzer proudly bears this name which means consistently high standards. Wurlitzer has no second line brands or ghost names.

Outstandingly beautiful designs, employing a wide choice of fine woods, are continuously being developed by Wurlitzer to complement any decor, be it modern, contemporary or traditional.

"Very few piano companies now put their names on the front of their pianos," Lewallen commented, "but Wurlitzer is proud of its quality and workmanship."

"When good friends get together, it's often around a Wurlitzer organ for this instrument has a way of uniting the gathering place for family fun, neighborhood parties or just drop-in sessions," Lewallen said. "With its easy-play features anyone, even if they've never played a note before, can play it."

"Nothing adds so much to your living room or den as an organ or piano, and when it's a Wurlitzer, you know the quality is unsurpassed.

"Statistics show that music students are almost always the youngsters in the upper percent of their classes in school," Lewallen said. "Start your children and yourself on the piano that more people buy than any other. Come in and take a look at all of our colors and styles and our low prices. Lots of fun is ahead for you and your family when you have a Wurlitzer."

A complete selection of Wurlitzer pianos, Wurlitzer organs and Wurlitzer solid state stereos are available at Doc Young Music Co., 910 E. 4th, Big Spring.

Representatives Receives Ten-Year Service Award

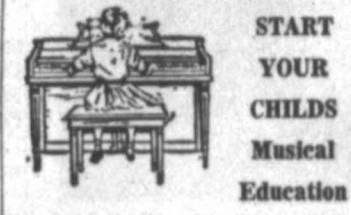

Andrew J. Pirkle, agent of Farmers Insurance Group, was honored with an award marking 10 years with the insurance organization. E. L. Jeter, division agency manager in West Texas, made the presentation.

This was the second time that Pirkle has received recognition for his years of service. The awards are given for each five years with the organization. They are tie-tacks for men and bracelets for women. They feature the Farmers Insurance Group crest superimposed upon a yellow gold base in the form of an inverted triangle.

Farmers Insurance Group was founded in 1928 to give the rural resident adequate insurance at reasonable prices. Today the company has expanded its activities to sell virtually all types of insurance to the general public. The organization operates in 26 Western states and has more than two million policyholders.

"Your support and loyalty to the principles of service and integrity upon which this company was founded have contributed much to its growth and success," Robert E. Early, executive director, said in a letter congratulating Pirkle for his 10 years as a representative of the insurance company.

CHAMPS KLOVEN, RAINS (AT RIGHT) With finalists Roy Peden, George Addison

Partnership Champs Are Rains, Kloven

By TOMMY HART
The defeat of Bobby and Marvin Wright the first day of the 34th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament set off a chain of upsets that endured through the final day of the partnership meet Monday.

from the right side of the green for a "gimme" birdie. Rains won the first hole with a birdie but Peden evened matters with a par on three. Kloven, who was playing in only his sixth tournament since taking up golf, copped the sixth with a birdie to restore his team to the lead.

Rains was playing in his first partnership low-ball meet ever. He performed as if he had been at it all his life. The hottest golf of the day was played by George Adams, who teamed with Tommy Wilkerson to win first flight honors. The Big Spring pair, in fanning out Dr. Bob Johnson and Daryle Hohertz in the finals, 4 and 3, had a sizzling best ball score of 62. Adams himself posted a 64. The two had sidelined Doug Peacock and Noel Sikes, Midland, earlier in the day, 4 and 3. Fred Wilkerson, father of Tommy, teamed with Mike Ritchie to win fourth flight honors. They trounced Danny and David Maberry in the finals, 1 up.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
SID ZIFF, Los Angeles writer:
"At Candlestick Park in San Francisco, a visiting team not only has the elements to overcome, but it also has to take on the grounds-keeper and guys swinging baseball bats. An invasion there is like making the Marmansk run. Candlestick is the only NEW park that looks like it was built in 1910. Most of the seats have never been painted. They have been sanded only once since the park was built. Women tear their eyelids on the rough seat edges and are constantly complaining. The corridors have all the warmth of the catacombs. Candlestick's old-fashioned scoreboard, on stilts, is harder to read than the Chinese alphabet. Natives call the tower that oversees the parking lot the 'Prison Tower' because that's exactly what it looks like. The parking lot was built on fill and its rises and dips give motorists the feeling of riding over undulating waves. They have a Swank Stadium Club, but it doesn't look out on the ball field. For the money spent, San Franciscoans took an awful beating."

JESS HATFIELD, McCamey coach, on why his Badgers won't figure in the 6-AA football race this fall:
"We really expected to field a team that might hold its own against most opposition, but that was before we lost four linemen and two backs that we were counting on."

JEZZARD CHARLES, former Heavyweight boxing champion who now is working for the state of Illinois as a driver's license examiner:
"I have no debts and I also have none of the more than $1 million I made as a fighter. I made a lot of investments—in a restaurant, a bar, a night club and so forth—that went sour. In those days I was a great one for collecting records. I must have bought hundreds. And I could play a fiddle pretty good. I used to stop in Birdland and other places in New York City and sit in with some of the best jazz musicians of the time. But I seldom play my records now. And my bass fiddle just sits in the closet. . . . My wife Gladys is a wonderful girl, but she is constantly pushing me to buy a house. I don't want a mortgage. . . . The music the kids play these days is outrageous. Sometimes I think all that Beatle stuff is going to drive me back to my bass fiddle."

DICK SISLER, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, discussing the recent suspension handed Juan Marichal of San Francisco:
"You can push an umpire and get that much."

JIMMY CANNON, New York columnist:
"Nobody asked me but . . . Why don't football officials identify the players who commit personal fouls? . . . Baseball deserves to be embarrassed by Milwaukee winning the pennant. . . . Cookie Gilchrist owes an apology to everyone who ever saw a football game for comparing himself to Jimmy Brown. . . . The next super star in baseball will be Tony Oliva. . . . In his ghost-written 'The Hustler's Handbook,' Bill Vecek is hit with a concern for baseball's ethics he never showed when he was in the game."

ADDISON ran down the match into extra holes. The best anybody could get on 19 was a par so the match went to the 20th hole before Rains closed it out. Kloven, better known perhaps as a basketball player, did some phenomenal putting in the morning match against Blumh and Harris.

Ralston Aims To Prove His Critics Wrong

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Dennis Ralston faces Davis Cup teammate Frank Froehling today in the feature match of the National Tennis Championships—and it's a pressure assignment for America's No. 1 player.

"They say I can't win the big ones," Ralston said. "That's not true, of course, but it looks like I'm going to have to prove it. I've got a tough draw from here on out."

WANTS AUSSIE
The 23-year-old temperamental ace from Bakerfield, Calif., admitted that he had his sights set on one goal—a shot at defending champion Roy Emerson in the finals.

Ralston, a disappointing loser to little-known Juan Gisbert in the Davis Cup matches with Spain recently, was stung by Davis Cup captain George MacCall's criticism that he couldn't win important matches.

Matches today complete the round of 16 in both the men's and women's divisions.

In addition to the Ralston-Froehling match, headlines send young Chuck Pasarell of Puerto Rico, upset winner over the second-seeded Stolle, against Keith Jennings of New Canaan, Conn., and Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y., against Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli.

Margaret Smith of Australia, Wimbledon champion and No. 1 seed, plays Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco. The top U.S. hope, Nancy Richey of Dallas, seeded No. 3, goes against Peachy Kellmeyer of Charleston, W. Va.

EMERSON looked almost unbeatable Monday in smashing 18-year-old Cliff Richey, Nancy's kid brother, 6-3, 6-3, 6-0, winning the last 10 games in a row.

He was joined in the fourth round by Spain's fourth-seeded Manuel Santana, who beat James Osborne of Honolulu 6-4, 6-3; fifth-seeded Arthur Ashe of Los Angeles, winner over King Lambert of Bronxville, N.Y., 6-1, 6-3, 6-4, and Chuck McKinley of Fort Washington, N.Y., who ousted an ailing Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, 9-11, 6-3, 6-3, 6-0.

Brazil's Maria Bueno, seeded No. 2 behind Miss Smith, led the women into the round of 16. She defeated Janine Leffrig of France, 6-2, 6-4.

Pascual Hit Hard In Try On Mound

By The Associated Press
P is for pennant, Pascual and Problem.
B is for Beeline, Burgess and Berry.

The Minnesota Twins, who had been cruising toward the American League pennant, suddenly have found themselves with a problem or two—a lost skid and Camilo Pascual.

Robbins will give scouting report at QBC this evening. The Big Spring Quarterback Club holds its first regular meeting of the fall season at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the High School Cafeteria, at which time coach Don Robbins of the Steers will offer a scouting report on the Longhorns' first game with Lamesa.

Large Crowd Due For Home Debut. Tickets for the Big Spring-Lamesa football game scheduled here Friday night go on sale at the School Business Office, 602 E. 13th, at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday and will remain available there until 2 p.m. Friday.

Ponies Show Fine Attack. Things sure are different at Southern Methodist, where everybody was down in the dumps last season when the team won only one game.

Savannah Jr., Wins Feature

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. (AP)—The jockey of Savannah Jr., who captured a decisive victory Monday in the mud-plattered $410,460 All-American Quarter Horse Futurity at Ruidoso Downs, said he was afraid of the colt's chances before the race.

"I felt real bad about the rain," Jack Wallace said after he guided Savannah Jr. to a surprisingly fast 20.3 second clocking for 400 yards in the mire. Savannah Jr. paid $14.80, $13.40 and $5.00.

A total of $65,000 was wagered on the race, which track officials say is the richest in the world.

Rapid Volley, one of the favorites, finished third for her owners, Fred Beckham and L. V. Casey of Anaheim, Calif.

Dear Agatha, "Can a pipe tobacco cigarette really taste mild?" Dear Smoker, "Stop asking questions. Start smoking Half and Half Cigarettes."

YANKEES GROUNDED
Andy Etchebarren lashed a three-run inside-the-park homer and Curt Rifeary connected with one for the Orioles' second-game victory. Jim Palmer and Stu Miller shut out the Yankees in eight innings of relief.

ROCKY COLAVITO went past the 1,000 runs batted in mark in the opener, driving in three with a pair of singles as the Indians downed Washington.

LEON WAGNER paced the second-game triumph, collecting three hits and knocking in a run. Luis Tiant held the Senators hitless until the sixth inning but needed relief help from Steve Hargan in the eighth after Washington rallied for three runs.

EARL WILSON set down Detroit on six hits and received support from Dalton Jones as Boston ran its winning streak to four games. Jones rapped three hits, including a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

TEXAS has found pulled muscles the big bugaboo. So many are out that it's difficult to find combinations to practice with and sophomores are getting chances early.

EVEN SAFETY man Gary Moore had to be called upon when veteran quarterback Marvin Kristynik and his understudy, soph Greg Lott, succumbed to the pulled muscle plague.

Industries Report Manufacture Is Up

Texas industries reported 1963 value added by manufacture of $7.05 billion, an increase of 40 per cent over the value added for 1958, according to a preliminary report of the 1963 Census of Manufactures just issued by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

"Value added by manufacture" approximates the value of products shipped minus the materials used to manufacture the products.

Chemicals and allied products led the state's industries with a value added figure of $1.7 billion, an increase of almost 57 per cent over the value added for 1958, last previous year of the Census.

In second place was petroleum and coal products, which reported a 1963 value added of $956 million, more than 61 per cent higher than in 1958. Food and allied products climbed 30 per cent in the five-year period to a 1963 total of $923 million.

Fourth place went to transportation equipment, which reported a 1963 value added of $610 million, less than one per cent higher than 1958.

politan statistical area, consisting of Brazoria, Fort Bend, Harris, Liberty and Montgomery counties, had a 1963 value added of $1.9 billion, almost 27 per cent of the state's total.

The Dallas SMSA, consisting of Collin, Dallas, Denton and Ellis counties, was in second place with a value added for 1963 of $1.2 billion, an increase of almost 58 per cent over its value added for 1958.

The Beaumont-Port Arthur SMSA, consisting of Jefferson and Orange counties, reported a value added for 1963 of $708 million, a jump of almost 87 per cent over 1958.

Industries of the state employed 508,539 persons in 1963, compared with 478,251 in 1958 and the payroll climbed from $2.29 billion to $2.85 billion in the same period.

The report, "Texas," MC63(P)S-44, is for sale by the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C. 20233 and U.S. Department of Commerce field offices. The price is 10 cents.

State Sectors Humid, Warm

Humid warmth persisted nearly everywhere in Texas today.

Thundershowers pelted the El Paso area in the west for several hours during the night, and it was still cloudy there this morning.

Skies were clear to partly cloudy in other sections.

Spotty showers skipped hither and yon across much of the state Monday. More were expected through Wednesday at least.

Somewhat higher temperatures also were in prospect. The top mark Monday was 100 degrees at Presidio.

Picnickers Find Two Dead Men

ASHFORK, Ariz. (AP)—Picnickers stumbled Monday onto the bodies of two young men, shot to death with their hands tied behind their backs.

The victims, in their mid-20s, each had been shot twice. Investigators said one of the men had been beaten severely on the head.

A physician estimated they had been dead 12 to 18 hours. No identification or money was found on the bodies, about 75 feet apart in a remote area of cedar trees and rocks seven miles east of Ashfork.

Marines, Viets Make Assault On Batangan

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops made a major assault on the Batangan peninsula 20 miles south of Chu Lai today, and a Vietnamese unit was reported in heavy contact with the Viet Cong.

Helicopters were ferrying wounded Vietnamese to the Da Nang military hospital.

The Americans operating north of the Vietnamese drew small arms sniper fire and made only light contact after striking by land, sea and air, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

very light 10 hours after the operation was launched with the support of gunfire from ships of the U.S. Navy's 7th Fleet.

The spokesman said the massive offensive was comparable in size to the U.S. Marine assault last month in which 600 Viet Cong were killed on the Van Tuong peninsula. It was the biggest American-Viet Cong battle of the war, with an estimated 5,000 Marines taking part.

Operation Piranha, named after the man-eating South American fish, was launched after intelligence reports of strong Viet Cong positions in the area south of the U.S. base at Chu Lai, on the coast of the central highlands.

Reliable sources said aerial photos showed that Viet Cong positions in the area had been growing considerably in recent weeks.

The lack of early contact with the Communist guerrillas could mean that the Viet Cong had fled before the landing force.

Vietnamese rangers were dropped in the Mekong Delta 135 miles southwest of Saigon in an attempt to trap about 100 Viet Cong, but the guerrillas fled before contact could be made.

Elsewhere in Viet Nam: U.S. forces killed at least 17 Viet Cong Monday in clashes in the central highlands and along the coast, military spokesmen reported. U.S. Marines suffered light casualties in a sweep southeast of the Da Nang air base, the spokesmen said, but no casualties were reported in three other small actions.

The Viet Cong attacked the Vinh Yen watchtower 65 miles south of Saigon, and the defenders suffered heavy casualties. No Communist losses were reported.

Three American fliers were rescued Monday after crashes. One of them bailed out off the North Vietnamese coast about 30 miles north of the frontier after Communist gunners damaged his plane. Four U.S. Air Force planes attacked a Communist patrol boat nearby until a rescue plane lifted the pilot from the water.

Tourist Committee Plans 'See And Do' Meeting

ABILENE — The tourist development committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will cover a large section of the Big Bend territory Sept. 9-11 as its members travel to many of the scenic attractions of his vast territory during the fall meeting.

Chairman Hugh S. White, Alpine, has called it a "see and do" meeting. White said the three-day tour is an experiment.

"If this proves successful, each fall meeting will be held in a separate area of West Texas in order that our committee members may become well acquainted with and gain first-hand knowledge of what West Texas has to offer the tourist and visitor," White said.

The motorcade will leave Alpine at 3 p.m. Sept. 9, headed for Fort Davis National Historic Site. They will be briefed by park officials there, then they'll visit McDonald Observatory on Mt. Locke, the Olympia camp grounds area, and Indian Lodge at Fort Davis State Park for dinner. A special slide presentation will be given on the Big Bend country and the Davis Mountains by Dr. Barton H. Warnock, member of the Sul Ross State College faculty. The committee will return to Alpine Thursday night.

Friday they will depart at 6:30 a.m. by bus for Big Bend National Park. They will visit Santa Elena Canyon, Castolon, the park headquarters at Panther Junction, the Chisos Basin area, and will be offered several side trips during the afternoon. Park officials will brief

Carnival Ride Debris Sifted

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The cause of the collapse of an aerial ride at the Nebraska State Fair remained a mystery today.

While a record-breaking crowd of over 100,000 tramped around the grounds Monday, investigators painstakingly went over the wreckage of the carnival ride that tumbled people from gondolas to the ground Sunday. Two died in the accident. Three others are listed in serious condition at Lincoln hospitals.

Fair Manager Henry Brandt said, "I don't know what the official reports will show, but from everyone I have talked to there certainly was no indication of negligence on anyone's part."

Florida Gets Gusty Winds

Gusty winds swept areas along the southeast coast of Florida today as Hurricane Betsy drifted in the Bahamas.

Showers fell along the south Atlantic coast and rain splashed across areas in the Midwest and from the Rockies to the Great Basin region. Heaviest rainfall was more than 7 inches in the Omaha, Neb., area.

Rain also hit areas in Iowa and Nebraska and from the northern Great Lakes to the Dakotas.

Cool weather continued across most northern border sections, with temperatures in the 40s and 50s in many cities. Frost warnings were reported for most of Montana. Early morning temperatures ranged from 37 at Kallispell, Mont., to 84 at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Thousands of persons on the western edge of Omaha either fled their homes or were ready to leave early today as flood waters rose quickly.

The Douglas County Sheriff's Office was advised by the U.S. Weather Bureau to evacuate residents of the Big and Little Papio Creek basins.

Northern and southern Omaha also received heavy accumulations of rain.

How much longer can we hand you this line?

Forever, we hope. Because nobody ever intends to change the Volkswagen's shape. The only reason the Volkswagen is ever changed is to make it work even better. The money that isn't spent on outside changes is spent inside the car. This system provides an immense advantage: Time. Years of it. There's time to improve parts and still keep most of them interchangeable. (Which is why it's so easy to get VW parts, and why our mechanics don't wake up screaming.) There's time to put an immense amount of hand work into each VW, and to finish each one like a $6,000 machine. And this system has also kept the price of the Volkswagen almost the same over the years. Some cars keep changing and stay the same. Volkswagen stays the same and keeps changing.
