U.S. Rights Setup Gets Reorganized

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson ordered today a sweeping reorganization of federal civil rights programs. Johnson said the aim of the reorganization will be to achieve greater coordination of federal efforts to eliminate discrimination.

The President acted on recommendations of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who said "we want to get people out of each other's way."

DUTIES BROADENED
As a result of the changes, the civil rights responsibilities of the attorney general and the secretary of labor will be broadened, the Civil Rights Commission will be given new fact-finding chores and the Commerce Department's Community Relations Service will be transferred to the Justice Department.

Two existing organizations, the President's Committee on Equal Opportunity and the President's Council on Equal Opportunity, will be abolished. The functions of these groups will be taken over by the Cabinet departments.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers issued a statement which outlined a six-point reorganization:

CSC RESPONSIBILITY
1. The Civil Service Commission will be responsible for making certain the federal government does not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color or sex in employment, promotion and other personnel policies.

2. The secretary of labor "will assume responsibility for reviewing—discrimination—complaints and insuring compliance by government contractors with nondiscrimination requirements."

Secretary W. Willard Wirtz will be concerned solely with contractors. Promotion of nondiscrimination among private businesses which are not contractors will continue to rest with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission headed by Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

TRANSFER SET
3. The Community Relations

Air Pollution Problem Noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's use of energy is expected to triple by 1980, with 80 per cent of the increase coming from fuels within the earth, a government official predicted this week in urging effective controls of air pollution.

"If we are not to be overwhelmed by an air pollution problem of critical proportions, we must improve on past patterns," Vernon MacKenzie, chief of the Public Health Service's division of air pollution, told directors of the National Petroleum Refiners Association.

AUTO EXHAUSTS
One pollution problem needing urgent attention, he said, is contamination of the air from the lead in exhausts from automobiles.

Studies indicate, he said, that the margin of safety against damage from this source to the health of some elements of the population already is relatively narrow, perhaps too narrow. "Simple arithmetic suggests," he continued, "that if we continue on our present path this margin of safety inevitably will disappear" as more and more automobiles clog streets and highways.

PRIVATE SUPPORT
Up to now, he said, the automotive manufacturing industry has provided the principal private support for research and development in abatement of pollution from this source.

"To some of us," he said, "it has seemed doubtful that the petroleum industry is giving appropriate consideration to their responsibilities and legitimate interests in this field."
Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, told the refining group he expects to conduct a hearing on lead pollution within the next few months "to determine what additional steps need to be taken in research and control of lead emissions from automotive exhausts."

AIR, WATER
Muskie, chairman of a Senate subcommittee on air and water pollution, said he hoped the petroleum refining industry would cooperate with the Public Health Service and Congress in that endeavor.

He said scientists are becoming more and more concerned with the level of lead in the atmosphere and in the bloodstream of persons in larger urban areas.

TV Producer Lowe Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Television producer David Lowe died of a heart attack early today at the Friar's Club. He was 51.

Lowe produced the "CBS Reports" series. His last one, "KKK—The Invisible Empire," was televised three days ago.

Previously, Lowe was executive director of NBC's national educational project; director of news, public affairs and special events for the Dumont Television Network, and program consultant for the Granada Television Network of Great Britain. He also produced three plays on Broadway.

Cease-Fire Said Violated By Pakistani

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Pakistani troops violated the India-Pakistan cease-fire in two widely separated places, the Indian defense ministry charged today.

The ministry said in a communique that Pakistani troops crossed into the Indian controlled part of Kashmir in the north sector Thursday, a few hours after the cease-fire went into effect and that in the southern sector, Pakistani rangers attacked an Indian police post.

The attack was repulsed by members of India's armed constabulary at Asutar, about 52 miles northwest of Jaisalmer in the desert-like state, the communique said.

STEPS TAKEN
"Pakistani rangers have still to be cleared from a few other places where they made intrusions into our territory," it added. "Necessary steps are being taken."

The communique did not elaborate on what the steps were and there was no mention of any regular army units being involved.

However, both nations have police units whose arms include machine guns and who are practically indistinguishable from army units.

The defense ministry said un-informed Pakistanis also crossed near Jhangar, about 90 miles north of Jammu, Kashmir's winter capital, and began digging trenches.

ASKS PROBE
The local Indian army commander did not take action and asked the U.N. observers in Kashmir to investigate, the defense ministry said.

U.N. observers have been in Kashmir since the world body established a cease-fire in the disputed state in 1949. They will be bolstered to supervise Thursday's truce which ended 22 days of conflict.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said in a nationwide radio speech earlier "the blackout has been lifted but let us not mistake it for the dawn of peace."

He said Pakistani leaders had talked of a possible "wider conflagration" and he added, "We cannot close our eyes to reality."

President Mohammed Ayub Khan warned Thursday that if the Kashmir problem is not solved, "this continent will again be engulfed in a much wider conflict."

GUERRILLA THREAT
A further shadow over the cease-fire was cast by the threat of sustained guerrilla operations in the Indian-ruled segment of Kashmir.

India's frontier with Communist China was reported quiet today although it was revealed that blood already has been shed in the confrontation with Peking high in the Himalayas.

The Chinese in a broadcast said the bodies of three Indian soldiers have been found in the Dumchele area following a fight last Sunday. India has reported three policemen were missing.

Chinese troops were reported still a short distance inside Indian territory in one or two spots along the border of Sikkim, an Indian protectorate, and Chinese-ruled Tibet.

Russian Assails U.S. In Talk At Assembly

Demands Troops Leave Viet Nam

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union today condemned the United States as an aggressor and demanded the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Viet Nam as a necessary step for peace.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told the U.N. General Assembly in a far-ranging policy statement that U.S. bids for negotiations "will mislead no one."

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg listened intently as the veteran Soviet diplomat blasted U.S. Viet Nam policies. "The Soviet Union vigorously condemns the aggression of the United States in Viet Nam," Gromyko said.

SUPPORT CONG

He declared that the Soviet people are solidly behind the Communist Viet Cong and warned that continuation of the U.S. military intervention could have serious results.

"If, for some reason, Washington does not ask itself what the continuation of aggression against the Vietnamese people can lead to in the long run," he said, "we can only say that this is a big mistake. This question is one which should be posed there."

He said there is a way out of the Viet Nam conflict. The way, he went on, had already been outlined by the Viet Cong and Communist North Viet Nam—an end of the U.S. bombings and return to the Geneva agreement of 1954.

DEMANDS WITHDRAWAL

"The war has been brought to Viet Nam from across the ocean," he said. "So in order to put an end to it, the troops of the United States and their accomplices in aggression must leave territory which is not theirs and remove their armaments."

Goldberg set the stage for a full Viet Nam debate by dealing with the issue at length. His slashing attack on the Peking government made it doubly difficult for the other Communist countries to avoid a reply—even though they may not agree with Red China's policies.

The U.S. chief delegate mentioned the Soviet Union only once or twice in his hour-long speech and those references were not critical. He simply referred to U.S. and Soviet disarmament proposals.

PRaises SOVIET

Such programming, he went on, is not only repetitious but "it can be downright disconcerting. Jimmy Dean sings 'White Christmas' in the middle of June; Steve Allen learns a secret in July that was in the newspapers last January; and (one viewer) swears that in a rerun of 'The Defenders' the prisoner was acquitted on grounds of double jeopardy."

This led to Henry's suggestion that summer television be used for experimentation.

Henry's remarks, in an address to the International Radio and Television Society, cropped up in a discussion of the FCC's proposed regulations to limit to 50 per cent the amount of prime evening television time controlled by the three television networks.

Many critics of the proposal, Henry said, express doubts about the quality of programs that would result from independent producers working with sponsors.

"If you are apprehensive about the quality of programming which would be produced and owned by new people—not associated with a network—consider what you are so reluctant to relinquish," Henry said.

SUMMER DIET
"For example, I wonder how many regular television viewers are satisfied with their summer diet? How many are content with the steady stream of network repeats, rejects and reruns? How many enjoy rehashing yesterday's cut? How many have developed tired television blood, without realizing that it is simply a long, long time from May to September?"

He suggested that "the networks' summer siesta should become a summer workshop dedicated to program development and experimentation."

TIME LIMIT

CLEAR IMPLICATION
The clear implication was that if Congress would give Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara authority to transfer reservists, as he asked, recruit for transfers, but the outright ban voted by the Senate prevailed over less restrictive provisions passed originally by the House.

Specifically, McNamara sought authority to designate three National Guard divisions, six brigades and the necessary supporting units as high priority units. He proposed to build them to full strength by transferring reservists from other units, and to equip and train them to such a state of readiness that they could go into action within a very short time.

Foreign Aid Appropriations Measure Sent To Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP) — A virtually intact $3,143,000,000 foreign aid appropriation, last of the year's money measures, has cleared the Senate after just one day of debate.

A bipartisan 99-21 vote Thursday night approved the bill after administration forces beat back a barrage of amendments that sought to trim it. Only one reduction was made, and that amounted to only $50 million.

TO CONFEREES
The bill now goes to a conference committee to compromise the few differences between the versions passed by the House and Senate for the 1966 fiscal year, which started July 1.

The Senate bill is just $142 million less than the amount voted by the House two weeks ago and is $217 million beneath the aid ceiling imposed earlier when Congress passed the foreign aid authorization bill.

ECONOMIC, MILITARY
The Senate bill contains $1,973,000,000 for economic aid and $1,170,000,000 for military assistance.

Apart from aid, the measure also includes $714,188,000 for the Peace Corps and other programs, bringing the total appropriation to $3,857,188,000.

The day's biggest victory for administration forces, captured by Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., was defeat of efforts to cut and end military aid to India and Pakistan.

At the moment, no U.S. aid is being sent to the two Asian countries whose war over Kashmir was halted by a United Nations-arranged cease-fire Wednesday.

CHARLES BOYER IN SAD RETURN
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Charles Boyer sadly returned from Paris Thursday night — eluding newsmen as he sped away from Los Angeles International Airport — to arrange funeral services for his only son.

Michael Charles Boyer, 21, fired a pistol bullet into his temple, police said. They say it could have been a prank, or perhaps suicide inspired by what young Boyer believed an unrequited love.

Boyer, 66, was making a movie in Paris when his wife telephoned Thursday morning to say their only child was dead.

Boyer had told an interviewer earlier this week in Paris that Michael "was searching," and added: "I'm trying to help him find himself."

Antipoverty Bill Okay Seen Near In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is expected to wrap up congressional approval today of a bill authorizing President Johnson to spend $1,785,000,000 to fight poverty on several fronts.

First however, several Republicans planned to criticize the dropping of a provision that would have restricted politicians' participation in the anti-poverty programs.

CLEAR HOUSE
The House passed the compromise measure Thursday, and Senate Republicans concede they don't have the votes to block final action.

The bill extends Johnson's anti-poverty programs for a second year, authorizing him to spend twice the money spent in 1964. The actual cash for this second year will be supplied before Congress adjourns in an appropriation measure.

The authorization bill eliminates state governors' veto power over three anti-poverty programs — community action, neighborhood youth corps and adult education.

OVERRIDE GOVERNORS
That is, the governors can still reject the programs but the head of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Sargent Shriver, can override the governors.

The Senate earlier in the session voted a flat ban on governors' vetoes, but the House insisted on the procedure now in the bill. It was put there by Senate and House conferees who compromised the differences in the Senate and House versions of the legislation.

The conferees also eliminated a Senate provision applying the Hatch Act, which forbids political activity on the part of federal employees, to officials in the community action and Vista programs whose salaries are paid in large part with federal funds.

"Vista" stands for Volunteers in Service to America, also sometimes called the domestic Peace Corps.

DOROTHY MALONE

Miss Malone Said Improved

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dorothy Malone, sultry blonde star of television's "Peyton Place," was reported improved but still in serious condition early today after 7 hours and 35 minutes of difficult surgery.

The Academy Award-winning actress was operated on for massive blood clots passing through the pulmonary artery and heart into the veins of the lungs.

Alex Evelove, spokesman at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, said Miss Malone was in "very critical" condition just before surgery and said one surgeon told him "there were times when they didn't think she'd make it, because of complications."

But, he added, doctors now are "optimistic. They believe she'll pull through."

Miss Malone was wheeled out of surgery at 5:15 a.m. — 10 hours and 15 minutes after she went in — and placed in an intensive care unit.

At 1:20 a.m., Evelove said, surgery exhausted its supply of Miss Malone's blood type — B positive — and asked him to send out an appeal for donors. He called KMPC-radio and KNBC-television, he said, and within one hour more than 60 persons volunteered. The hospital used seven donors, he added.

Burmese Ends Visit In Soviet

During his stay here he had seen top Soviet officials and discussed such matters as Viet Nam and the India-Pakistan conflict.

SOME LAWYERS SAY SO

Change Eliminated The Death Penalty?

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislative revision of the Texas code of criminal procedure was designed to make 200 changes in criminal laws — but some lawyers believe an unexpected 201st change eliminates the death penalty.

JAMES CROSS JR.

Among those lawyers is Roy Minton, counsel for a former University of Texas student charged in the killings of two Dallas co-eds.

First Test The case of the student, James Cross Jr. of Fort Worth, likely will be the first involving the death penalty to be tried after the new code takes effect Jan. 1.

One of the 200 intended changes—a requirement that accused persons be warned by both the arresting officer and magistrate of their right not to give a statement—has brought complaints by police.

State Rep. Bob Armstrong of Austin said Thursday he plans to ask Gov. John Connally that these complaints be considered House members on a 10-member conference committee which drafted the bill, said he recalled no discussion of the death penalty.

The new code of procedures makes no provision for assessing punishment in cases where the state seeks the death penalty, raising the question of whether the penalty was eliminated.

In non-capital cases, the code provides that the defendant may choose whether the judge or jury shall assess punishment.

Current criminal laws provide that juries must assess punishment in all cases unless the punishment is fixed by law.

Other lawyers familiar with the code predicted, however, that such a conviction would be overturned by the U. S. Supreme Court even if the Texas Code of Criminal Appeals upheld the verdict.

Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell of Austin said he still will be able to seek the death penalty for Cross.

Conferees Try For Farm Bill Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conferees may iron out a compromise today on the farm bill.

Rep. Harold Cooley, D-N.C., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said Thursday the conferees agreed on rice and wool provisions of the bill.

On a final compromise is agreed on, the bill will go back to the House and Senate for final action.

The rice section requires Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to carry out a diversion program in any of the years 1966-69 during which the national acreage allotment for the crop exceeded the 1965 allotment.

The payment rate would be enough to maintain producer returns at the 1965 price level.

Contest Of Man Vs. Nature Described For Cancer Meet

Three directors of District 2, American Cancer Society, Texas Division, Inc., were elected at the luncheon meeting Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church.

Delegates approved the nomination of Dr. Carl A. Dillaha Jr. of the Medical Surgical Clinic, Cogdell Center, Snyder; Mrs. H. D. Smith Jr., Brownfield; and Mrs. Michaelen Castleberry, Midland.

Clayton Williams of Sweetwater was chairman of the three-member committee submitting nominations. Other members were Dr. Martha Madsen, Midland, and Buford Brown, Snyder.

CONSULTANT F. M. Learned, consultant to the vice president for medical affairs, and associate director for public information, American Cancer Society, with headquarters in New York, spoke to the assembly on "Man Vs. Nature."

He emphasized the continued contest between man, in his efforts to understand nature, and the processes of life, which he termed nature.

Following the talk, awards were made to members and units. Dr. Martha Madsen, Midland, and Clayton Williams, Sweetwater, received awards of dish sets, bearing the American Cancer Society emblem, for extracurricular, or special jobs, for District 2.

Three 15-year service pins and certificates were presented; 31 ten-year pins and certificates went to representatives of the 20-county area; special awards for five or more years of consecutive service went to Mitchell County for 10 years; and Nolan County for eight years; awards for bettering the best year's service went to Gaines, Fisher, Howard, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan and Scurry counties.

CHALLENGED Mrs. H. D. Smith Jr., Brownfield, a director, challenged the District 2 delegates to pick up the salient points brought out in talks and in group sessions Thursday morning, and to make the coming year more meaningful than any in the past.

Dr. Dillaha, who presided at the luncheon session, introduced Learned. In his introduction Dr. Dillaha pointed out that Learned had been with the American Cancer Society since 1946. He wrote the first news story ever issued by the ACS on support of its research program.

The great struggle for cancer control is basically a contest between man and nature," he said. "On the one side are the processes that make up life. They are called by various names, such as physiology, biology, biochemistry, and others, but all of which, together, can be termed simply the processes of life or, as we sometimes call it, nature.

"These processes we do not completely understand, but our scientists have learned much about them," he continued.

PROGRESS Learned then went on to outline the progress made in cancer research over the years. He compared medical scientists of 1920 with the automobile mechanic of the same era. The mechanic might have been able to do a first class job with the tools available then, but if he were asked to overhaul a modern jet engine he would have to have more knowledge and a more modern kit of tools.

He said the secrets of nature, long hidden, as to how the normal, as well as the cancer, cell starts and stops the growth process remain unknown.

"But these secrets will yield eventually to relentless search," he said. "But while this quest goes on, inroads are being made against cancer's toll of human life. Everyone who has ever had a part in this crusade against man's cruellest enemy must indeed feel that the task has been one of civilization's greatest accomplishments. Your reward and mine, in our lifetime I am sure, will be the knowledge that this ancient burden of fear and suffering has been lifted from our generation and from those who come after us, for all time."

RELATIONSHIP Dr. John F. Thomas, Austin, in a talk outlining objectives of the Texas Division, pointed out the close relationship between the cancer society units and the medical associations. Programs executed by the ACS have approval of the county medical societies.

He gave particular emphasis to the educational program urging persons to use prevention methods instead of waiting until too late. Early detection, he said, means that a higher percentage of survivals result. "We must reach the unreached," Dr. Thomas said. "Early and adequate application of present-day medical knowledge in detection and treatment of cancer in six body areas alone could save thousands of American lives and could prevent development of cancer in thousands more."

Armed Band Kills Soldiers

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Government soldiers today hunted the remnants of an armed band of 15 to 18 men who attacked an army post in northern Chihuahua State, killing five soldiers and leaving eight of their own dead behind.

The defense ministry described the band as "a group of agitators" and listed two known pro-Communists among the dead in the 1½-hour battle Thursday.

They were Arturo Gamis, a former professor who had been leading an armed band of pro-Communists for two years; and his second in command, Dr. Pablo Gomez.

They reportedly were killed when homemade bombs they were preparing to throw went off in their hands.

A company of soldiers—about 100 men—was at the post in Madera, a town of 12,000 about 200 miles south of Ciudad Juarez.

The attack was launched at dawn after the attackers had surrounded the garrison and demanded that the soldiers surrender. The garrison commander refused.

It may be caused by the eye being too short, or by the inability of the eyes to focus properly. Hyperopia, if present, is diagnosed in a professional eye examination by a TSO Doctor of Optometry, and vision is corrected by properly prescribed and fitted glasses or contact lenses. Also, at TSO, the eyes are examined internally for evidence of disease or defect such as glaucoma or cataract. The fee for TSO eye care, including the examination, finest quality single vision lenses, and frame, is as low as $14.85. With finest quality bifocal lenses, the fee is as low as $1

Forum Members Will Model Zack Fashions

Informal modeling of current fashions from Zack's will feature members of the Junior Woman's Forum each Thursday at 12 o'clock noon at the Holiday Inn. The announcement was made Thursday afternoon during a meeting of the forum in the home of Mrs. Max Moore, 2610 Lynn. Seventeen were present. Mrs. Truett Newell presided as the ways and means fashion modeling was discussed. She reminded the group of the Western District board meeting in McCamey Oct. 23. The program was given by Mrs. Louis McKnight, who detailed the qualities of fiberglass and other fabrics.

Using the subject, "From Fiber to Fabric," Mrs. Knight described the different types of fiber in fabrics such as flame proof, moisture resistant, light filtering and insulating. The story of fiberglass was used to show the steps necessary in making fabric. She said that fiberglass is a true glass, soft, pliable and flexible, which is made from molten glass. Eight basic ingredients go into the making of fiberglass, and a fiberglass is smaller than a human hair.

Mrs. Knight said that fiberglass is flame proof; that it resists sun fading and is unaffected by mildew and water. It does not hold dirt and need never be ironed or dry cleaned. The fabric is available in as many colors, textures and weaves as any other fabric. She suggested that, when sewing fiberglass, a long stitch should be used with loose tension and cotton thread.

Showing slides of different types of windows, Mrs. Knight illustrated various window treatments. She noted that the Victorian window treatment is in vogue again and suggested that a solid drape tone, slightly deeper than the walls, add a larger look to the room. Following the meeting, Mrs. J. D. Cole and Mrs. Curt Mullins went to the Salvation Army Citadel where they presented health kits for teenage girls at the beginning of this year's project. Mrs. Ted Ferrell, 704 W. 15th, will be hostess to the forum Oct. 12.

New Laws Discussed

Legal rights for women were discussed at the Thursday meeting of the Altrusa Club. The 25 attending met at Coker's Restaurant with Mrs. M. S. Knowles presiding. Guest speaker was R. H. Weaver, local attorney. His topic was new legislation affecting the legal rights of married women. Weaver explained the new laws concerning separate property, sale of homestead, liability of community property, contracting and legal action. Following his talk, he conducted a question and answer session on the new laws. Mrs. D. L. Reid was introduced as a new member, and Mrs. Jean Stone was welcomed as a guest.

First Baptist Church Circles Reorganized

The last meeting of the current year was held Tuesday morning by the Ann Dwyer Circle of the First Baptist Church in the home of Mrs. Viola Younger and Miss Virginia Younger, 620 Birdwell. Mrs. Robert Polk read a list of missionaries having birthdays Tuesday and Mrs. Della K. Agnell offered special prayers for them. Mrs. Bob Bradbury presided for the brief business session, announcing that the reorganization of all Woman's Missionary Union circles will take effect Oct. 1. Rosters of each circle will carry new member names but current names of the circles will remain unchanged. A balance of $12 in the treasury was donated to the Mary Hill Davis offering for state missions. As an expression of

Couple Weds In Uvalde Service

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wooten have been guests of his mother, Mrs. Bessie Wooten, 500 Goliad, following their marriage Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church in Uvalde. The bride is the former Mrs. Elsie Stevens of Uvalde. The newlyweds were honored at a dinner Sunday where Mrs. Opal Wooten and Mrs. Erma Steward were hostesses to 13 guests. Monday the Wootens visited friends in Ackerly and Stanton before returning to Uvalde where they will make their home.

HOMEMAKERS PLAN COFFEE

In observance of Young Homemakers of Texas Week, the Coahoma chapter is sponsoring a Saturday morning "Get Acquainted" coffee for all prospective members. The calling hours are from 9:30-11 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Gerald Oakes. The regular meeting of the club will be Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

McKinney, vice president; Mrs. Don Henderson, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. T. A. Rees, reporter. Mrs. Jackson is council delegate. Miss Idalia Wood, HD agent, demonstrated "Shortcuts to Sewing."

HD Club To Meet

WESTBROOK (SC) — The Westbrook Home Demonstration Club will meet Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Hoyt Roberts at 1 p.m. for a business session. Afterward, the group will go to the Medallion Room in Colorado City to attend the educational driving school beginning at 2 p.m. with Buddy Hertenberger, state highway patrolman for Mitchell County, in charge of the program.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Short Dress Makes Good Blouse-Slip

Dear Heloise: At the end of the summer, if you or your teenager's favorite cotton shifts or sheaths are too short for next year... Wear them "as is" under that new fall skirt as a blouse-slip combination... Dorothy Snyder

Dear Heloise: I am a woman who must wear aprons in her kitchen, for obvious reasons. I made such a goodie recently, and thought you might like to copy my idea. I used two terrycloth hand towels (these are larger than fingertip towels) and gathered them onto a band of drip-dry material, overlapping the two towels about an inch in the front.

Instead of making a long tie, which requires a bow in the back, and was invariably getting tangled up in the washing machine, I made the band to exactly fit my waist, and put buttons and buttonholes in the back. This certainly saved my temper on laundry days... Nellie

Now, that's just about the trickiest I ever heard, Nellie. A person could take an old belt of a discarded house dress and use it for the waist-band if they did not know how to sew very well... Heloise

Dear Heloise: If my windows are real dirty, I take a sponge (the best size I have found is one that is quite small and fits in my hand), and wrap a piece of nylon net around it three or four times. By dipping the nylon-wrapped sponge in whatever I am using

Dear Heloise: I wonder if people are aware that they can put their feather bed pillows in those beautiful tumble dryers, and the pillows will fluff up like magic! I usually do this without heat, but for anyone who has a dryer on which the heat cannot be turned off, if used on low heat, it will do the same job. You talk about feathers fluffing up! The pillows smell nice and clean, too... Harold M.

You are exactly right, Harold. And those who sleep on any type of feather pillow should also "punch" the pillow from both sides and both ends each time they make their beds. This will also help keep them fluffy... Heloise

Dear Heloise: The processes used for gilding flowers were shown by Mrs. Ernest Welch during the Thursday morning meeting of the Big Spring Progressive Woman's Forum. Mrs. Max Green, 1902 Main, was hostess to 13 members and three guests, Mrs. Troy White, Mrs. R. E. Collier and Mrs. Roy Cederberg.

It was announced that studies for the year ahead will center around the theme, "The Many Faces of the Household Executive." The ways and means committee reported that gym clothes have been purchased for a girl student, and cookbooks have been ordered for sale as a fund-raising project. The next meeting will be Oct. 14 with Mrs. Alan Swearingen for a program on wig fashions.

The regular Thursday evening duplicate games were held in the Officers Open Mess at Webb AFB with seven tables in play. North-south winners were Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. Joe Steyer, first; and Mrs. Ward Hall and Joe Steyer tied for second and third places with Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. Ron Kibler.

East-west winners were Mrs. Ray McMahan and Mrs. A. D. Brazel, first; Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Truman Jones, second; and Mrs. J. H. Holloway and George Pike, third. Next Thursday's Charity Master Point game will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the base.

Tea Held For Bride-Elect

Miss Joanna Patterson, bride-elect of Lt. Billie Wayne Coker, was honored Thursday with a bridal tea in the home of Mrs. Toby Cook, 2904 Parkway. Miss Patterson and Lt. Coker are to be married Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church. Cohostesses with Mrs. Cook were Mrs. V. A. Whittington, Mrs. V. Phillips and Mrs. Joy Barker Harmon. They were assisted by Miss Kenda Joy Harmon, Miss Candy Cook and Miss Sarah Whittington.

The honoree, attired in a rose lace sheath with matching jacket, was presented a corsage of white carnations. Her mother, Mrs. Richard Patterson and her grandmother, Mrs. James E. Terry, were given corsages of American Beauty red carnations. A lace cloth over pink linen covered the refreshment table.

South Texas Trip Taken By Family

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rollins and children have returned from a vacation trip to South Texas. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett and children in Brownsville and of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hensley, in Kennedy. They made sightseeing trips in San Antonio and Austin. On their return trip they visited with their sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gilbert, in Abilene.

Howard Williamson and Elmer McMahan attended the game Friday evening. They visited Howard's cousin, Milton Williamson, in Pecos. Mrs. Keith Williamson met them Saturday in Big Spring where they visited Janella Williamson.

Replacing resigning members, Mrs. W. D. Caldwell was elected secretary - reporter, and Mrs. Frank Wilson was named historian. The next meeting will be Oct. 23 at the home of Mrs. Guy T. Cook.

Reunion Held In Colorado City WESTBROOK (SC) — Guests in the Homer Rice home were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Franklin and children of Lenorah. The Franklins had attended the Franklin - Howell reunion in Colorado City. Vickie Jarratt, student at Howard Payne College in Brownwood, visited her parents, the James Jarratts, over the weekend.

Officers Elected By Carr HD Unit WESTBROOK (SC) — The Carr Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Tom Jackson where the present officers were re-elected to serve during the year. They are Mrs. Gerald Rollins, president; Mrs. T. L. McKinney, vice president; Mrs. Don Henderson, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. T. A. Rees, reporter. Mrs. Jackson is council delegate. Miss Idalia Wood, HD agent, demonstrated "Shortcuts to Sewing."

HD Club To Meet WESTBROOK (SC) — The Westbrook Home Demonstration Club will meet Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Hoyt Roberts at 1 p.m. for a business session. Afterward, the group will go to the Medallion Room in Colorado City to attend the educational driving school beginning at 2 p.m. with Buddy Hertenberger, state highway patrolman for Mitchell County, in charge of the program.

THE CROSS AND ENTRANCE INTO THE CHURCH

Some feel they can magnify Christ's death on the cross while minimizing the church. But in so doing they overlook the scriptural teaching which shows there is a definite relation between the cross and the church. One has not understood the nature of the church until he has viewed it in the light of the cross. One cannot fully understand the cross without knowing something about the church. A proper understanding of the relationship between the cross and the church will enable one to appreciate God's plan of redemption for man.

THE CROSS MADE THE CHURCH POSSIBLE

Through the cross God reconciled both Jew and Gentile in one body. Paul said, "For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us; having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one man, so making peace; and that he might reconcile both unto God in one body unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby" (Ephesians 2:13-16). When Christ died, He took away the law and created one new man which is His body, or church. It is evident that this one new man is the church because both Jew and Gentile are reconciled in one body. Paul said, "And he is the head of the body the church..." (Colossians 1:18). The inevitable conclusion is that the cross made the church possible.

CHURCH PURCHASED BY BLOOD OF THE CROSS

The church could not exist before the cross because it was purchased with the blood of Christ (Acts 20:28). The Law was nailed to the cross of Christ. Paul said, "Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead..." (Romans 7:4). Before Christ's death the New Testament was not in force, and without the New Testament, the New Testament Church could not exist. "For this cause he is the mediator of the New Testament... for where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator" (Hebrews 9:15-16). The blood of Jesus is the blood of the New Testament, and the New Testament tells about the church and directs it.

THE CROSS AND WORSHIP

New Testament worship cannot be rightly viewed unless it is viewed in the light of the cross. We have access to God through Christ and His cross, for through His cross we are reconciled to God (Ephesians 2:15-16). This makes it possible to approach God through the new and living way (Hebrews 10:19-20). Since Christ is the author of eternal salvation (Hebrews 5:8-9), we approach God through Him. All Christians are priests (1 Peter 2:9), but Christ is our High Priest and the only means we have of approaching God. Every act of Christian worship relates to the cross.

A Devotional For The Day

For me to live is Christ. (Philippians 1:21)
PRAYER: Dear Father, we want to live closer to Thee than ever before. Today we commit our lives to Thee because Thou art the only light that can guide us in our pilgrimage in this world of Thine. We pray in the name of Thy Son, our Savior, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Haircuts And Civil Liberty

The phrase "civil liberties" is getting kicked about so much these days that a great many have lost understanding of what it means. There could come a time when a driver zoomed through a red traffic light, got his car smashed up by a vehicle which had the right of way and then protest it was his civil right to run the red light if he pleased.

This is far-fetched, of course. But so may be that controversy wherein a parent declined to have his son's long hair cut, to conform with school standards.

There may be a right to wear one's hair as one pleases, but there is also a principle of public and private discipline and if schools cannot maintain it, then they are in for countless troubles.

Schools have worried with the dress of some youngsters, and generally have been upheld in decisions that neatness and good personal taste must prevail. Such standards can apply without harm to the individual, or without creating undue economic burden.

A thought that occurs when accounts are read of problems with students' dress or personal appearance: What about the atmosphere of the home? Shouldn't parents be the first to put emphasis on cleanliness, neatness and good appearance? They can teach their children these things, without loss, in our opinion, of any civil liberties.

Benefits From Amistad Dam

Latest word from the International Boundary and Water Commission is that Amistad Dam above Del Rio is 16 per cent completed, with work on schedule. The prospect now is that water storage can begin in mid-1968, with final completion of the project by that year's end, or somewhat earlier than previous estimates.

That is good news for the more than half of the Texas-Mexican border area where the dam will benefit, indeed for all South Texas and Northern Mexico. For it has been a long haul. Possibilities of an upriver international dam were explored back in World War I years, and it has been in the survey and planning stage since 1941.

The $67 million dam, financed 56.2 per cent by the U.S. and 43.8 per cent by Mexico and jointly constructed, will be 6½ miles long, 254 feet high, and impound 5,600,000 acre-feet of water. The over-all cost of the project expectedly will run up to $128 million, the most expensive reservoir in Texas experience, but it will be more than worth it.

The damage done by the score of major floods in that area since 1900 justifies the cost of Amistad Dam for that protection alone. But the dam will also provide vital water for the border region, produce power needed for its urban growth and industrialization, and open up a vast new recreation area.

Amistad (Friendship) Dam is indeed well named; it will be further proof of what great good can come of two friendly nations working together for the mutual benefit of their peoples.

The mammoth dam's stimulant to economic development and social progress will be felt from just below the Big Bend to the Gulf of Mexico before this decade has ended.

Restraint Of Strike Rights

WASHINGTON — Outwardly things are fine with the Johnson administration. It is spending a lot of money for social welfare, and it is playing a significant role in world affairs. But there's a cancer eating into the economic life of the country which could mean the eventual doom of a great nation. Will historians one day write about "the rise and fall of the American republic"?

FOR THE MUSCLE and fiber of America today is being weakened by the unrestricted action of groups of citizens who feel they have a right to destroy the property of other citizens and suffer no punishment. Thus a small group of unions has been depriving the people of the nation's largest city of their newspapers and has strangled "freedom of the press."

There is, indeed, no restraint today on the right to strike, which—as the Wall Street Journal pointed out Monday in an editorial entitled "saboteurs at work"—can break down society. It says:

"THE NEWSPAPER Guild strike against the New York Times, entailing the closing down of practically all the other local newspapers, is only one in a series of senseless acts of sabotage. The beleaguered maritime industry is just pulling out of a long ordeal and last week was threatened with yet another walkout. In the midst of the Viet Nam war the machinists union slashes out at a leading defense producer."

While conceding that a strike was often the only effective weapon in days when wages were low and working conditions poor, the Journal points out that no such conditions exist today, and then adds:

"THAT BEING SO, it is hard to discern an ethical justification for a right to strike on whim, over niggling or nonexistent issues or as a means of interunion battling. There is no more inherent right to such behavior, it seems to us, than there is a right to steal from an employer or anyone else. As a dispute-settling vehicle in a complex, competitive modern economy, the strike, except in extreme circumstances, is hopelessly archaic."

"If union leaders are incapable of demonstrating a greater degree of maturity, it may be necessary to consider legal redefinition and limitation of the right to strike. Certainly no society is required to have its interest, its well-being and even its safety constantly menaced by heedless wreckers."

BUT THERE IS a bigger evil. It is the submissiveness and cowardice of many politicians in public office. The shortsightedness of national union leaders who failed to discipline their brethren is paralleled only by the indifference of administration after administration to the irresponsibility of trade-union leaders in their use of the strike weapon.

Is Congress today a subservient tool? The unions intervene in congressional elections with big sums of money, and then boast they helped elect a majority in both houses. But when the public wakes up to the gravity of what is happening, there will not be enough union money to stem the tide of votes that will demand a congressional majority and a President who are willing to limit the powers of labor, instead of—as the present Congress is on the verge of doing—ending unions with the right to force an unwilling citizen to join a union as the price of keeping his job.

CERTAINLY A LEGAL redefinition and limitation of the right to strike is long overdue. The right to strike for higher wages is unquestioned. But to permit organized labor to enforce through strikes an alleged right to tell management how to run its business and what machinery it may or may not use is to break down the whole private-enterprise system.

American Social Revolution Plods On

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any one born in the past 25 years probably takes the American social revolution for granted. He grew up with it and in his lifetime it was always there and always, although slowly, going on.

Yet, what has happened just this year in Washington would have been unthinkable, before the revolution began, when the country was drowned in a depression.

President Herbert Hoover will probably always be a symbol of the moment in history when the old attitudes came up against the new necessities of American life, and the old melted away.

HOOPER DID MORE than any president up to that time to use government resources to fight economic disaster, but he couldn't shake off the philosophy of the era in which he grew up and all the eras before it.

He couldn't reconcile himself to the thought that the government should provide direct relief for the unemployed.

President Grover Cleveland in 1887 had expressed the philosophy that was prevalent through most of American history:

"I do not believe that the power and duty of the federal government ought to be expended to the relief of individual suffering which is in no manner properly related to the public service or benefit."

"THE LESSON should be constantly enforced, that, though the people support the government, the government should not support the people."

The new era began in earnest in 1935 with the passage of the Social Security Act, which was the foot in the door for all that followed, and the Labor Relations Act compelling employers to bargain with unions of their employees.

The last big measure of the New Deal came in 1938 with the law that created the 40-hour week, overtime for hours worked over 40, and a minimum salary, small as it was.

Those measures of President Franklin D. Roosevelt were approved and expanded and new dimensions of government responsibility for the general welfare were added under Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and John F. Kennedy.

BUT THE steps taken this year under President Johnson and a heavily Democratic Congress show how far the nation has

Albert's Sense Of Economics

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you tired of walking the same old rut? Would you like to get away from it all, and start all over again?

Well, Albert Lish may be your hero. Albert is the London construction laborer who has made a career of disliking steady work.

According to his own description, Albert is something of a baron on the British ship of state.

AT THE age of 32, he accepted an invitation to appear on television and explain why he has avoided regular employment for 15 years.

"I have no conscience at all," he said, "and I'm quite content to live on the taxpayer."

He relays he gets $18.34 a week in relief payments when he isn't working, and when the government finds him a job he promptly arranges to get himself fired.

"I don't think I like work of any kind," he remarked.

"When I see men working at some building site, my reaction is—they're working for their money and I'm not working for mine, and I couldn't care less what people think."

AT FIRST thought an old-fashioned moralist might be appalled by Albert's sense of economics. It flies in the face of Aesop's ancient fable about the shiftless grasshopper and the thrifty ant.

According to Aesop, the grasshopper danced the summer away while the industrious ant stored provender. When winter came the shivering grasshopper limped to the ant's door and asked for food.

The virtuous ant replied: "Man, while you were kicking life away, I was putting it in the refrigerator. But for me—not you. You can starve as far as I am concerned."

WELL, that was good enough for Aesop, but his fables are out of date. A third force has intervened. It is called the government.

One of modern government's many functions is to take by decree part of the ant's store to see that the grasshopper doesn't starve. This doesn't do much for the ant, but it does give the government a feeling of social service. It also enables the grasshopper to live so that he can blithely hop away next summer.

There may be a kind of justice in operation here. Perhaps the world needs grasshoppers and governments as well as ants. When you get right down to it, the ant has no real complaint. After all, he can't take it with him, and he might as well be parted from some of it while he is here.

In any case, why do most ants and people really work? Only to get the job done.

New Shows — So What?

Well, Teevee fans, it's new show time again. Wheel! Or rather, Wheel! Every one of the new, so-called, offerings this season stunk first time out, except one, "The Wackiest Ship in the Army," which floated rather well on its initial night, despite an unfortunate title.

The mish-mash out of New York this season is generally no more than rehashing—weirdos, Westerns, a terrible something with "Statue" Ben Gazzara copied from "Fugitive," and a putrid selection of the "situation comedy" sort of imbecility. Enough to send people back to the library. Even the ads are better than the new crop of unshows.

DOVE HUNTERS NOTE: There are more dove to the square inch in south Mitchell County this season than I've seen anywhere else. No, I won't tell where in south Mitchell County. Find 'em yourself.

ONLY IN AMERICA: According to the San Francisco Chronicle a young wife allowed a tattoo artist to decorate her posterior with a sign of the zodiac last week. A publicity bunch for a new picture was responsible, and paid her $200 for it. There were photographs taken during the, uh, work. Why did she do it? So her artist husband could finance a trip to Japan to "study Zen painting."

THE DOMESTIC DOG has been with mankind for at least 8,000 years, according to the 1965 Encyclopedia Britannica. Mark Twain said one principal difference between a man and a dog is "if you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you." More than 8,000 years' acquaintanceship with us, and the poor dumb dog still hasn't learned.

BOUND TO HAPPEN: Just after the rash of "flying saucer" reports this year, out comes a book by a Frenchman, giving detailed reports of saucer reports from Biblical times to the present. Includes some of what he says are authenticated contacts between Earthlings and little green men. Suspect a little green grape got caught in the presses.

READ A SHORT STORY the other day entitled "Where the Woodbine Twined." The story never did explain what woodbine is, and I'd never heard the word before. Probably everyone else knows, but for information of any others like me, woodbine is plain old honeysuckle. Smart-alec writer.

EDUCATION'S VALUE: When graduation time rolled around last spring I found at least 10 applications for credit cards had been mailed to my box by oil, and other, companies. Little did they know.

So, We Poison Ourselves

WASHINGTON — It is easy in the Turkish bath atmosphere of late-summer Washington to believe that all of the doleful timetables dealing with when man will strangle himself on his own pollutants err on the side of conservatism.

A Los Angeles scientist, who heaven knows has no reason for optimism on the subject of air pollution, thinks Earth's envelope of air will become so poisoned within 100 years that it will no longer sustain life. A study for Aerojet General Corp. reports that by 1990, California will be nothing but a colossal, noisome sewer.

THERE ARE many sources of air pollution in our industrial society, but the principal offender is the internal combustion engine. After a disgracefully long period, California finally adopted legislation requiring that new automobiles be fitted with anti-smog devices. It was a halting step indeed, and of such limited scope that it may not even keep pace with the mad proliferation of autos with which California is cursed. In any event, it cannot have any effect on the choking clouds of smog produced by the nightmare forests of oil refineries that befoul Southern California's sky.

BUT CALIFORNIA is notorious in this regard only by happenstance — no state in the nation is remotely closer to grips with the exquisitely tender problem of air and water pollution. Nor will any do so as long as lawgivers depend on campaign contributions. The commonweal is an ideal that plays a muted second fiddle to the species of shortsighted economic reality that rules the United States.

The United States is a country run by oil millionaires, greasy morticians of auto cemeteries, yahoos entrepreneurs of billboards and industrial wastewaters who ruin whole rivers. Does the specimen American know that most civilized nations have, for example, long since done away with overhead utility wires? Does any soul in this greed-ridden land care?

IT MAY WELL be argued that the race would suffer no intolerable deprivation should the entire state of California become uninhabitable, and, indeed, there are civilized persons who insist that it is already. But the issue is much larger than that — the issue is whether an industrial society can survive its own suicidal determination to poison the air, the water and the land that supports it.

THE HOUSE of Representatives this week will consider, and very likely adopt, legislation already passed by the Senate which essays the first frail beginnings of a national policy aimed at dealing with the deadly disgrace of environment poisons. Like so much law in this field, however, it has been artfully diluted to permit the greedy special interests to postpone any effective implementation far into the future.

The Negro's Home Structure

WASHINGTON — It will surprise most Americans to read from a report by its own government that the slavery which ended here over a century ago had the same effect upon its victims that the Nazi concentration camps did on their prisoners.

And that the plantation life, which was so charmingly depicted by Joel Chandler Harris, Thomas Nelson Page and Margaret Mitchell, was "the most awful thing the world has ever known."

AND THAT, despite all the gains made by the Negroes in protection of their civil rights, in education and social acceptance and in the rise of their middle class, their status "in recent years has probably been getting worse, not better."

These, and much else, are the conclusions of the half-submerged study made earlier this year at the Labor Department by one of its assistant secretaries, Daniel Moynihan. The report is now in the hands of the Government Printing Office and will be available before much longer, though Labor officials say they are "jeery about its misuse by racists."

HOW IT COULD be misused is hard to see. The subject is disagreeable and horrifying in its statistics about the prevalence of Negro crime, illegitimacy, unemployment and demoralization, but the material is shocking only because it is accumulated and hard-packed.

That all except the upper economic classes of Negroes live in family structures that resemble harems more than marriages, that the children are raised by mothers or foster mothers, that they live on welfare and are given to crime against their own neighborhoods as well as against the white communities, will not be news.

BUT IT WILL BE surprising to read that these conditions have been imposed from the outside and that the series of crises which have risen from a national effort to give the Negro a chance to help himself will not abate — but will increase — unless we set about a reconstruction of the intimate home life of this race.

Along with the blame heaped upon American society in general, but never upon the Negroes in particular, there are warnings of "profound international implications."

There is no program proposed in the report, except the general proposition that:

"... A NATIONAL effort toward the problems of the American Negro must be directed toward the question of family structure. The object should be to strengthen the Negro family so as to enable it to raise and support its members as other families do. After that, how this group of Americans chooses to run its affairs . . . is none of the nation's business."

But first, it seems, the Negroes are to be called upon to submit to an invasion of privacy which even our most rabid liberals have never proposed; and the white population is to be called upon to grovel in a guilt which not even the most sincere and humane among us have ever thought we deserved.

The bowl, an unusual Lambeth pottery one, was painted with a surgeon barber about to lead his horse into a stable. It was dated 1706, when barbers did minor surgery.

Laity Role

AGEN, France (AP) — The Roman Catholic Bishop of Agen has announced plans for the election of a "presbyteral council" in his diocese to aid him in guiding its spiritual life and in general administration. The plan is viewed as part of a new trend to enhance the laity's role in Roman Catholicism.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We have newer and finer schools than ever before. This is one of the marks of progress.

But another is that we have more and faster automobiles than ever before. So we guard each "school zone" with signs and safety patrols and policemen and volunteers. We do this to protect our children from the dangers of progress, while they are enjoying the fruits of progress.

The dangers of progress are not always physical. Many are moral. They threaten the character and faith of a rising generation, caught in the erratic tempo of modern life.

Happily, in every community of our land, PARENTS and CHURCHES are joining hands to promote the spiritual development of youth... to protect the souls of our children.

Mementoes Of 'Legion' Linger In Viet Valley

AN Khe, South Viet Nam (AP)—The French Foreign Legion has long gone from the misty An Khe valley, but U.S. forces now based there have found that the memory stays. Two weeks ago, a U.S. paratrooper lost a leg to a French mine hidden 13 years ago in a field. Troops from the U.S. Army's 1st Cavalry Division, Airmobile, have discovered diaries and records left behind by Frenchmen. One document records a day in the life of "Group Mobile 100," an elite French unit that later was annihilated by Viet-minh forces. The role of Group Mobile 100 was similar to that of the 1st Cavalry Division—fast reaction to catch an elusive enemy. The main difference is that the Americans are helicopter-borne while the French moved on the ground. U.S. officers with the cavalry have read much about the fate of Group Mobile 100 that lived in An Khe in 1953 and 1954. Their rotting log bunkers and sand-filled concrete emplacements have been recaptured by Americans. "We have the mobility and the firepower to overwhelm the Viet Cong," one officer commented. "We have far more than the French ever had up here. We can beat the Viet Cong on logistics alone." The difficulty of the test ahead of them was made apparent last weekend when the 101st Airborne Brigade managed to land only 260 men from a battalion because of intense ground fire. The Viet Cong drove off helicopters carrying the rest of the battalion. Only hard-fought ground action and intensive air strikes saved the troops on the ground from being overrun.

New Cars To Cost Less—Or More?

NEW YORK (AP)—Will the 1966 model car really be cheaper than the 1965 or costlier? It depends on who is doing the figuring—the auto maker, the dealer, the tax collector, or the customer. That's because the 1966 base prices include built-in safety items that were optional in 1965, because the federal tax is lower than a year ago and going still lower Jan. 1, because some models have other changes with the cost doubtless included but not specified. On top of all that, deciding if the new models are bargains depends on whether you're listening to the makers or the union. Management says its production costs are rising because of higher wage scales. The union says they are falling because of increased mechanization. SAFETY DEVICES Also, some customers and congressmen are wondering out loud whether the record profits in the auto industry wouldn't cover the new standard safety devices and still leave the companies well off. The customer, as always, will have to take into account what the dealer will allow him on his turned-in old model. For the car buyer that's as much a part of the real cost of a new car as is the suggested list price the makers are announcing. The customer also is faced with arbitrarily paying for safety devices which formerly he did or didn't want to buy. So, this year's prices aren't strictly comparable with last. The price of these safety items last year was put by the makers and dealers as anywhere from $50 to $70. EXCISE TAX The federal excise tax is included in the list prices being announced. But a year ago it was 10 per cent. That is, if the maker figured a model was worth $2,500 he added $250 to it to cover the tax to the U.S. Treasury. But effective as of May 15 this year, the rate dropped to 7 per cent, or $175 of a $2,500 pre-tax price. The first of next year it drops to 6 per cent, or $150 of the $2,500 model. Jan. 1, 1967 the rate falls to 4 per cent; to 2 per cent in Jan. 1, 1968, and to 1 per cent Jan. 1, 1969. The auto industry says that all prices since May 15 have been adjusted to pass this saving along to the buyer, and it promises to continue the practice. On taxes, this year's customer is definitely ahead. The cost of new safety devices being made standard on the 1966 models are figured differently by individual makers and differently on models by each maker. Part of this is due to lowering of production costs this year. Chrysler figures that by adding five safety devices as standard equipment it is incurring an average cost of $49. General Motors is adding six devices and puts the average cost to it as $56. More expensive models carried some of these as

Former Resident Dies In Florida

Services for Mrs. W. B. Barrow, about 45, resident of Big Spring up to 12 years ago, will be held in Eastland at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. She died in Fort Myers, Fla. She was the former Mattie Skiles of Big Spring, and worked in the telephone office here for several years. Mrs. Barrow is survived by a married daughter of Dallas, and a 12-year-old daughter of the home.

DEAR ABBY You Mean Everything?

DEAR ABBY: A woman and I were talking and something came up I'd like your opinion on. This woman and her husband seem to be a happily married couple. In the course of our conversation she said that her husband tells her EVERYTHING. I didn't know her well enough to start an argument with her, so I changed the subject. Abby, do you think a husband should tell his wife EVERYTHING? And how about a wife telling her husband EVERYTHING? IN DOUBT DEAR IN: I think a man and wife should tell each other things that are interesting, amusing, helpful or of mutual concern. A compulsion to spill EVERYTHING is a conversational catharsis that most marriages could do without. DEAR ABBY: This problem has undoubtedly come into the lives of other divorced couples, but I have never seen it in your column. I have been divorced for almost three years. I was separated from my wife for eight months before that. I went with my present wife for two years before we were married. The problem is my 15-year-old daughter, who lives with her mother. This girl has it in her head that my present wife kept her mother and me from getting back together. My daughter refuses to come to our home or have anything to do with us. I have told her repeatedly (and truthfully) that my wife had absolutely nothing to do with my divorcing her mother, and we would not have reconciled regardless. She refuses to believe it. Why? My wife is a fine person and it hurts her as much as it hurts me that my daughter takes this attitude. I love my daughter and would do anything to have her friendly with us. Can anything be done to convince her? HER FATHER DEAR FATHER: No one is so blind as he who does not want to see. Your daughter probably justifies her attitude out of what she believes is "loyalty" to her mother, who could have planted the seeds of doubt in the first place. If you can't get the girl's mother to cooperate in appeal to your daughter now, you may have to try later when the girl is more intellectually independent and mature. DEAR ABBY: I wish you would say a word to working mothers (I do not mean divorcees or widows), but those women who leave with the men every morning while their children get themselves off to school and then come home to an empty house. I am 31 and have two sisters. Our mother always worked. She didn't have to, although she claimed she worked to give us girls the extra "luxuries." The greatest luxury she could have given us would have been a mother at home to guide us. She is now 57, still works every day and overtime on Saturday. I think if they offered her double on Christmas Day, she'd take it. If this changes the thinking of just one mother, who decided that now that her children are in school all day they don't "need" her so she can go to work, it will be worth a lot. Children need a mother who will listen to THEM. Not one who comes home with frayed nerves complaining about the people SHE has to listen to all day. FEELS BETTER

Diet And Shelter Of Hospital Noted

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A study shows a patient at Central State Hospital is less than half as likely to die of heart attack as people outside the hospital for mentally ill. Dr. Elton Heston, instructor in pathology at the University of Louisville School of Medicine who conducted the three-year study, says that the patients' diet is designed to keep them from getting fat and they are sheltered from life's daily stresses.

Appointments For Lifetime?

DALLAS (AP)—All but three top state officials—governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general—should be appointed for life, former Gov. Allan Shivers said Thursday night. Voters still should choose the top three, he said in an interview. "The treasurer, comptroller, land commissioner and agriculture commissioner (the other statewide elective officers) are generally administrative officers and should be appointed for life terms with removal by impeachment if they need to be removed," he said. Shivers also said the governor should be given more authority over state boards and commissions. As for Gov. Connally, Shivers said: "He is doing an excellent job, real good, and deserves re-election."

LBJ Woos Solon Recruits

WASHINGTON (AP)—When President Johnson's major proposals are on the line in Congress, the White House looks to its newest recruits for the votes that make the difference. And on roll call after roll call, the crucial votes have come from the ranks of 71 freshman Democrats. "They made the difference on every major bill," a spokesman for the Democratic National Committee said today. At Johnson's direction, the national committee has been hard at work all year, seeking to return the favor—and keep the votes—by helping the party's newcomers weather next fall's off-year elections. Johnson's instructions to his political aides: Do everything possible to help the bumper crop of Democratic newcomers become House sophomores. One party strategist said Johnson has set in motion the kind of operation Democrats on Capitol Hill have been seeking since the days of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Republicans pay grudging compliments to the Democratic drive. "It's going to make our job harder," said one GOP official. "There's no question about that. They're operating much more effectively than any administration has before." The Democrats say their major effort is to help the party's junior congressmen operate like Washington veterans. They offer the freshmen shortcuts through the labyrinths of the administration, tell them where to go for the things their districts seek. ESTABLISH CREDENTIALS Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey calls it an effort to help them do their jobs better, and establish the kind of credentials they'll need in the next campaign. Nevertheless, party strategists do not contend that all 71 newcomers will be back. Bailey has said the task will be far more difficult without Johnson topping the ticket as he did in 1964. One Democratic official said political experts would rate a net loss of 10 to 15 House seats in 1966 as a landslide victory for the party. During the last half century, the party in power has lost congressional seats in every off-year election except 1934. Republicans are gearing up their congressional campaign organization now, with a series of public opinion polls in 100 target districts and a search for talented candidates, in hopes of regaining some of the seats they lost in Barry Goldwater's landslide defeat. As the House stands now, there are 293 Democrats and 140 Republicans. Among the 71 Democratic newcomers, 48 took over seats that had been held by Republicans.

Opening lead: Nine of ♠
Altho East's opening preemptive bid of three diamonds put the issue squarely up to South, we are not convinced that his overall of three no trump showed the soundest judgment. Holding 19 high card points, South is obliged to take some action; however, in our opinion a double is the most flexible choice.

Observe that a contract five clubs is untouchable, for the defenders can take only one club trick and one diamond; however, it would have required considerable masterminding for North to overrule his partner's decision.

West opened the nine of diamonds against three no trump and North's king was covered by East's ace. The latter continued with the queen of diamonds on which West discarded a small heart and then East led back the six, South winning the trick with the jack.

West decided that the time had come to dispose of his only honor card and he discarded the king of clubs on the third diamond. His reasoning was simple—the king was of no use to him inasmuch as it was located in front of the ace. If South has the queen of clubs, then there is no way to prevent the declarer from running a vast quantity of club tricks. If East has the queen, however, it may be necessary to get out of his way.

West's rather spectacular discard placed a stumbling block in South's path. Observe that, in the normal course of events, when declarer leads a club from his hand and West follows with the king, South can keep East out of the lead by permitting the king to hold the trick. North's ace will drop the queen on the next round.

As matters stood, there was no way for South to establish dummy's suit without letting East in with the queen of clubs to be followed by an avalanche of diamonds. Declarer had one string left in his bow, however, and he now brought it into play.

South cashed his three top cards in spades and hearts, forcing East to make two discards. In order to protect his club holding, East was obliged to give up two diamonds. South exited with the five of diamonds and, after his opponent took two tricks in that suit, he was obliged to lead away from the queen-ten of clubs into North's ace-jack.

Altho declarer lost four diamond tricks on the deal, he salvaged his contract by taking three spades, three hearts, one diamond, and two clubs.

His Wig, Off And On

Lee Buttram of Amarillo College, Amarillo, Tex., one of four college-age youths facing school expulsion, appears at left with a haircut; at right, fitted for a wig. The four said they made the wig purchases "so we can face the public." The plan is to wear their hair cut to a normal masculine trim for school but to wear the wigs elsewhere. One of the youths said, "Girls just don't appreciate boys hair. They look like airmen," he added. (Story below). (AP WIREPHOTO)

Short Hair For School, But Boys Wear Wigs Elsewhere

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — The wig business, spurred on by school authorities who threaten expulsion to male students if they wear their hair long, is picking up. Four college age youths, expelled earlier for failure to cut his hair. He and his father, Dr. Louis H. Mackey, said it is an issue of "abuse of authority" and "forfeiture of civil liberties."

The plan is to have their hair cut to a normal masculine trim for school but to wear the wigs elsewhere.

YOUTH'S COMPLAINT
Carl Tibbetts of Amarillo College, told he could not attend classes unless he trimmed his locks, complained:

"Girls just don't appreciate boys with short hair. They look like airmen."

Amarillo has many servicemen at the Air Force Base here. Others in the quartet are Ken Atkins, a West Texas State University student; Lee Buttram of Amarillo College and Bob Marshall of Amarillo College, whose college plans for this fall have not jelled.

Atkins said he allowed his hair to grow all summer. His boss on a summer job offered him a raise if he would have it cut, he said.

"PERSONALITY GONE"

If he hadn't done so "the school probably would have barred me... so off went my personality," said Atkins.

The Amarillo Globe-Times and News reported a number of youths at Amarillo High School, where long hair for males is barred, are saving for wigs.

Those attending Amarillo College said they intend to wear the wigs on campus.

Dr. A. R. Martin, the college president, at a late hour had made no hard ruling on the wigs.

"Students are supposed to act like ladies and gentlemen," said Martin. "It will be interesting to see how long they keep them."

NO DISTURBERS
Bob Ashworth, Amarillo school superintendent, has said only that no pupil may attend classes if he becomes a disturbing influence.

Stephen Mackey, son of a Rice University professor, was denied re-admission to a Houston high school this week after being

Beneath Shaggy Locks 'Wheels Are Turning'

NEW YORK (AP) — Beneath those shaggy locks—worn by some youths, wheels are turning—mainly trying to figure out how to keep the fringe on top.

School officials across the nation presented these students with an ultimatum: Get a haircut or get out. For a few this was a challenge too great to ignore.

At least four students are looking to the courts for help.

Car, Pickup Crash Fatal

DALLAS (AP) — Robert Sammons, 41, a Dallas News copy editor and editorial page columnist, died early today in a head-on crash of his sports car and a pickup truck.

The accident happened about 1 a.m. in suburban Carrollton as Sammons was en route to his home in Lewisville, near Dallas suburb.

Police said the pickup, driven by Leroy Patton, 33, of Grand Prairie, veered onto the wrong side of Interstate 35. Patton's right leg was broken.

Sammons was a former Sioux City, Iowa, newsman.

Railway Future Declared Bright

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The railroad industry is at the dawn of a new day of growth, says T. N. Calazza of Chicago, vice president of traffic for the Santa Fe Railway Co.

"Faster service, better equipment and the will to serve customers more effectively guarantee a bright future," he said Thursday at the Southwestern Transportation Seminar.

Teener Locked In Mysterious Troubled State

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Apparently hounded by demons he alone can see, a young teenager is locked in a troubled mental state as authorities seek clues to his mysterious past.

Uppermost on their list was the person who abandoned the disturbed youth in a crowded waiting room at Miami International Airport and vanished.

WON'T SPEAK

The boy, his eyes glazed, will not speak although physicians say he is not mute, nor retarded.

No one knows his name or where he lives. There is no hint to his background.

Dade County authorities can only guess that recently — perhaps this week — something so terrible happened that the boy drew a curtain across his mind and shut out the world.

"He apparently is not retarded, nor is he a deaf mute," said an examining psychiatrist.

MENTAL DISTURBANCE

"The only speculation that might be made at this stage of our examination is that he is suffering gross psychiatric disturbances." He is under examination at a facility for exceptional children.

The youth — estimates of his age generally settle on 14 — was wearing a dark knit shirt, Ivy League pants and well polished shoes when his curious eye-rolling and sad smile caught the attention of police at the airport Thursday.

The shirt and slacks were expensive. The labels had been carefully snipped out.

SEARCH POCKETS

When he failed to talk, police searched his pockets. They found three pennies and a package of tissues. Nothing else.

"It's beginning to look more and more like someone left him at the airport and made sure there would be nothing to trace," said an investigating officer.

He shows no visible signs of anguish.

Song-Lured Pair In Jail

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — They never would have come here but for the popular song "Abilene," two youths who got in trouble told Dist. Judge Owen Thomas.

The two, Marcelino Chavez, 17, and Leroy Perea, 19, of Albuquerque, N.M., pleaded guilty Thursday to car theft.

They planned a trip to Florida, they said, but swung this way after hearing the song, which describes Abilene as "the prettiest town I've ever seen."

"We wanted to see if it was really like the song," Chavez said.

Judge Thomas is weighing their request for probation.

Steers Seek Third Victory In Snyder

By TOMMY HART
The Big Spring Steers take their football gospel of powerful clout and strong pursuit to Snyder tonight where at 8 o'clock they try to grab a tiger by the tail — this one the ferocious species fielded by that city's high school.

The Bengal's head has been bloodied in two encounters this year but it remains unbowed. The Snyder teams try to hit their peak in their outings with Big Spring — and usually succeed.

Big Spring will seek to win its third straight game at the expense of the Striped Tabbies but no one concedes the job will be easy.

Coach Horace Bostick of Snyder, an old hand at this business of building his teams psychologically, has been telling his charges all week, in substance: "Sometimes, I tell you to fight for the school's prestige. This Friday night you'll be fighting for your lives."

The strategem usually works. In the years the Steers have been able to beat the Tigers, the going has always been close — and twice in the last three seasons the Tigers have vanquished the locals — last fall ruining a perfect season for the locals.

Big Spring will field the more experienced club tonight, and a heavier one, but form means little in this game. Invariably, the team that wants victory more usually gets it.

The Longhorns will depend, as usual, on the pin-point passing of Van Tom Whatley, the ball-carrying ability of such offensive as Bobby Griffin, Joe Earhart, and a rugged line. Snyder will counter with a quick-hitting attack built around quarterback Murry Bowden and the thunderous running of Jackie Rice and Rick Hall.

Snyder has the kind of line, too, that tries to and often does outcharge the opposition. They are like an army of ants — repulsed at one point, they'll come back and hit in force at some other spot.

The Tigers have been plagued by mistakes in their two starts, not unusual with a young, green club. Coach Bostick concedes that if they can hold onto the ball they have a good chance to achieve victory tonight.

Coach Don Robbins of Big Spring wasn't pleased with his team's efforts in their first two games, despite the fact that they shut out both foes. He said that his athletes made too many mistakes to prosper against a good team — and he classifies Snyder as potentially a fine team.

This one winds up non-conference play for Big Spring. The Steers will take next week off, then concentrate on drills for Midland Lee.

Probable starters:

Coahoma Reserves Shade Stanton B Squad, 20-14

STANTON — Coahoma's reserves spotted the Stanton B team 14 points and then won a 20-14 decision in a game played here Thursday evening.

The hard-hitting play of both units was roundly applauded. Stanton has shown a world of improvement since its opening game.

Troy Fraser, moved into the Coahoma backfield when two of the Bullpup backs were injured, scored all the winners' points.

He moved 22 yards for a TD in the third and got the last two in the fourth on runs of eight yards. Fraser added the

Rifle Meet Set At 2:30 Sunday

Competition in hunting rifles of 270 caliber and up will be held at the Mesquite Gun Club seven miles west of Vincent starting at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The public is invited to take part, if for no other reason than to tune their rifles for the hunting season. Entry fee is $1.

The shooting distance will be 200 yards. There will be events for both six-power scoped and iron sights. Maximum weight allowed is 9 1/2 pounds.

In a small-bore meet held last Sunday, Felix Jarrett emerged the winner. Second place was captured by Horace Reagan while third place was won by Walter Davidson. All are Big Spring residents.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring's Jerry Dunlap, who had a stretch in the Army before entering college and grasped the opportunity to play a little inter-service ball in Germany, played every down on defense for New Mexico State University in its 27-10 conquest of Arlington State in Arlington last Saturday night.

Toward the end of the game, Jerry grabbed off an Arlington State pass, one of three the Aggies intercepted during the game.

Jerry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Foy Dunlap, who were on hand for the contest, hope to watch the Aggies play again when they invade Canyon for a go with West Texas State.

New Mexico State is touting its sophomore quarterback, Sal Olivas as the best it's had since Big Spring's Charley Johnson performed with distinction for the Las Cruces team. Olivas completed only seven passes against Arlington but his field generalship was considered excellent.

San Antonio's Dan Cook describes the University of Houston as a football team "almost beyond cure" after having watched the Cougars in their pathetic effort against Mississippi State last week.

The ex-Big Springer, Pepper Martin, who went to Houston especially to see Warren McVea, concedes the Cougars have serious problems and suggests the Houston coaching staff might be missing the talents of McVea, the great Negro back from San Antonio.

"I can't understand why they don't use him on punt returns, for instance," Martin said, in a telephone conversation to this writer.

That paid crowd of 5,302 which sat in the rain to watch Big Spring and Ysleta Bel Air here last week (all but a few dozen of them from Big Spring) wasn't had at all, when you consider the fact that less than 2,000 watched the game in Odessa between Odessa High and Lubbock and only about 4,200 witnessed the contest between Lubbock Monterey and Odessa Permian in Lubbock.

The weather was a factor in the bad gates at those places, too.

Hugh Rhodes, the Lubbock Christian College track and field coach, may yet give HCJC a run for the money in the Western Conference meet next spring.

He says he's coming up with his finest team in 1966. Rhodes got all the boys he went after.

When the American League baseball park is opened in Anaheim, Calif., next spring, it will have one of the most unique score boards in existence—a board located in a 200-foot tower as tall as a 22-story building.

The scoreboard will be a conversation piece, to say the least. It alone cost about $1 million.

Supported between white beams that meet in the form of an A at the apex, the tower's message board itself will be 60 feet wide and 32 feet high. It's more than a scoreboard—it also serves as an electronic cheerleader.

Appropriately enough, the tower will be crowned with a golden circle 210 feet in circumference and 70 feet in diameter. It is to be constructed of anodized aluminum in order to shine brightly in the daytime and will be illuminated for night games.

When a home run is hit by the home town, controls will send a stream of lights up the structure and around the hole.

San Angelo Lee Turns Back Runnels, 32-8

San Angelo Lee gave the Runnels Junior High Yearlings a lesson in ball control in racing to a 32-8 victory here Thursday night.

The Yearlings, now 1-2 on the year, didn't score until the final 18 seconds of the game when Roy Lee Warren sprinted over from 22 yards away. The touchdown climaxed a 58-yard drive that used up five plays. Mike Noble added two extra points on a run.

Tommy Olive went two yards

Sugar Ray Wins Bout In Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, five-time world middleweight champion, pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over Young Joe Walcott Thursday night, but after the fight he seemed more interested in talking about a new career in acting.

Robinson, also former welterweight champion, is now 44 and his halcyon days as ruler of the lighter weights are a golden memory.

for Lee's first touchdown in the opening period. The Rebels drove 41 yards for that score.

In the second, the visitors powered 63 yards for a touchdown in seven plays. The Rebels fumbled at the Big Spring seven but Gordon Hampton recovered in the end zone for a San Angelo score. Olive added two extra points on a run to make it 14-0.

In the third round, Laven Flores was trapped in the end zone to give the Rebels two

Giants Will Stay On Top, Pilot Herman Frank Says

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Herman Franks has made a promise: The San Francisco Giants will stay on top.

Sam Mele has made a promise: The Minnesota Twins will get a little higher.

The managers of the front-runners in the National and American League pennant races, seeing things through different situations, each had a day off Thursday to reflect on the final 10 days of the 1965 baseball season.

Franks, whose Giants hold a two-game lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers and a 3 1/2-game bulge over third-place Cincinnati, had this to say: "I think we go better when it's tight. We've fallen back 10 times before and we've always regrouped. This is the last time we're falling back. That's a promise."

The Giants, who have lost two in a row while the Dodgers have ripped off six straight victories, close out the season at home, beginning with a three-game set against Milwaukee tonight. Then they tangle with St. Louis before facing the Reds in a four-game windup.

Franks has tapped Ron Herbel, 10-7, to oppose Milwaukee's Tony Cloninger, 22-10, but has not revealed any pitching plans beyond that. Dodger Manager Walt Alton, on the other hand, has his three aces primed for a three-game set with St. Louis starting tonight.

Claude Osteen, 15-14, opens

Broncos Oppose Pats In Boston

BOSTON (AP) — The Denver Broncos, winless on the road since 1962, and the stumbling Boston Patriots, hopeful of maintaining an old hex, meet tonight in a duel of twice-beaten American Football League rivals.

A crowd of some 25,000 is expected for the Pats' 1965 home debut despite the club's woeful performances in dropping five straight exhibition games and both regular season games.

The Broncos, who have not won at Fenway Park since edging Boston 13-10 in the first AFL game Sept. 9, 1960, own the league's third best offense, but rank last just behind the Patriots in total defense.

The Denver-Boston game is the only pro football contest scheduled tonight.

AFL games Sunday include Kansas City at San Diego, Houston at Oakland and New York at Buffalo. The National Football League schedule the same day has Chicago at Los Angeles, Baltimore vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Detroit at Minnesota, New York at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh at San Francisco, St. Louis at Cleveland and Washington at Dallas.

The Patriots, criticized by Coach Mike Holovak for their lack of drive in losses to Buffalo and Houston, face a "must" situation against the Broncos.

'Super City Of Future' Will Be Erected At Maryland Site

DALLAS (AP) — A city planned from scratch and utilizing all of man's knowledge about urban dwelling will begin to take shape between Washington, D. C., and Baltimore late this year.

Scott Ditch, an executive in Community Research & Development, Inc., said Thursday at a regional conference on the super city of tomorrow that the proposed city, Columbia, Md., has been planned for 100,000 persons.

It will consist of 10 villages of about 10,000 persons each and each village will be divided into neighborhoods.

ROUTE TRAFFIC

Ditch said the plans call for traffic to be routed around the neighborhoods and for 3,200 acres of open space, including five lakes and three 18-hole golf courses.

Each subdivision will be a unit within itself, including a school, shopping center and recreation area.

In the center of the city will be a pedestrian square with the major stores, a university, office buildings and a sports stadium within walking distance of the square.

"We're not trying to build a Utopia," Ditch said, but noted that the city will avoid the problems of municipalities which were not planned.

Joe Kilgore, chairman of the state advisory panel on water planning, told the conferees that the state may have to avoid the use of federal planning to assure that the state's water needs are met.

WATER CRISIS

He said if the state allowed the federal government to plan these needs it could find itself in coming decades in a water crisis.

Texas Water Commission chairman Joseph Carter said cities are the biggest wasters of water.

Although New York currently is experiencing a water shortage, he said, that city daily wastes about four million gallons—enough to supply the need of Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth.

New York failed in planning for its water needs, Carter said.

"They planned for three years of drought," he said, "and have had four years."

A New Haven, Conn., consultant on urban transportation, Wilbur Smith, told the conference that attempts to persuade citizens to use public transportation rather than cars have failed.

He said only technical advances which will provide public transportation with more speed than can be achieved in private cars will lead to a decrease in urban traffic.

"WASTE OF MONEY"
The executive director of the Texas Research League, Alvin Burger, warned the 200 Texas civic leaders at the conference that planning uncoordinated between government subdivisions can lead to a waste of taxpayers' money.

Burger said research is needed to coordinate the planning of communities.

Community planning on a regional basis is becoming "more and more a stark necessity," he said, as cities grow and converge, such as the Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston-Galveston-Beaumont areas.

Flood Waters Destroy Crops

By The Associated Press

Torrential rains which have pounded the midcontinent for a week subsided today, but flood waters continued to roll over rich farmland, ruining fall crops in some areas.

Rivers in northern Arkansas spilled over their banks and flowed into low-lying croplands, adding to the crop damage already caused by wind and rain.

Officials feared that damages to cotton, soybeans and rice would total millions of dollars.

The Black River rose above 16 feet in Black Rock, Ark., Thursday and should crest at 18 feet Saturday, four feet above flood stage.

ON HILLS

The towns along the river are built on hills and are not endangered by the flood.

The Strawberry River overflowed between Lynn and Strawberry, Ark., closing Arkansas 25 highway.

Heavy rains and high humidity have turned what had appeared to be one of southern Ohio's best tobacco crops into what may be one of the worst.

Officials said the crop could be 10 to 25 per cent below normal.

In Texas, the rains which soaked the state have subsided.

The heaviest rains fell in the Austin area. Rainfall up to 10 inches sent the placid little Pedernales River on a 10-foot rise that for a while isolated President Johnson's LBJ Ranch 60 miles west of Austin.

RAIN WELCOMED
The rain generally was welcomed by Texans, except for farmers with cotton open in the field and other crops unharvested.

In Oklahoma, the Washita River flooded the southern lowlands, but the river was falling.

Residents of El Reno, Guthrie and Kingfisher were cleaning up their homes after a brief runoff.

The flood threat abated in Illinois, though the Mississippi River was expected to crest about 3 1/2 feet above flood stage today or Saturday near Quincy.

But an official said the flood waters would not reach commercial, industrial or residential areas.

Scattered cold rain chilled areas from the central Rockies to Upper Michigan. Some wet snow mixed with rain over portions of the Dakotas.

FROST WARNINGS

Freeze or frost warnings were in effect for the Dakotas, northwestern Minnesota, Nebraska and northwestern Kansas.

The temperature was 36 in Omaha, Neb., Thursday night, a record for Sept. 23.

Warm temperatures were the rule in the East.

Woman's Body Found In Lake

MONTE ALTO, Tex. (AP) — The body of a woman found in Delta Lake north of this Lower Rio Grande Valley town Thursday was identified as that of Mrs. T. M. McClure, 50, of Westlaco. Investigators said there were no signs of violence.

Day Cool, Comfortable

By The Associated Press

Comfortably cool weather spread over most of Texas today. Light rain or drizzle fell at widely scattered points.

suited to the new football season appeared to be in prospect.

There was light rain in early morning at Amarillo in the Panhandle and at Lufkin in East Texas. A thunderstorm blustered through the Wink area in West Texas. A few light showers peppered sections near the coast.

The mercury dipped to 42 degrees at Dalhart, where there was light fog, and 45 at Amarillo. Readings in extreme South Texas at the same hour were nearly 30 degrees higher.

Top marks Thursday ranged from 98 at Presidio down to 65 at Amarillo.
Partly cloudy skies were predicted for all sections through Saturday with a few showers in Northwest, South Central and Southeast Texas.
