Thanksgiving Day Services Planned

Thousands of Big Springers are preparing today for Thursday's observance of Thanksgiving Day. While the town will be quiet tomorrow, with families enjoying dinners of turkey and festive trimmings after attending traditional church services, others will have been on the road, traveling somewhere to be with relatives, and police will be out in force to try to head off holiday tragedy.

Members of the staffs of vital public services will be on duty, too, so others may be able to enjoy the festivities in quiet and safety.

Starting the day of celebration and gratitude will be the union church services with ministers and pastors of many local churches participating in the presentation.

Reserve Champ Gets Top Price At Hereford Sale

Kermit rancher G. P. Mitchell bought the reserve champion Hereford bull of the 22nd annual Hereford County - South Plains Hereford Association sale here Tuesday afternoon for $1,000. The price was the top paid for any animal at the sale.

The animal was Golden Superior H6, calved Jan. 10, 1964, and consigned to the sale by the Dr. G. T. Hall Estate. The bull had won the reserve grand championship in the competition earlier in the day.

The grand champion of the show, Charlie Creighton's CC Lord Lamplighter 780, calved Jan. 3, 1964, was sold to Alice Jones, Sonora, for $860.

Santa Claus Due Monday, Shopping Season Starts

The city should be completely decorated with festive Christmas colors in time for Santa's arrival here Monday.

Parking meters were to be taken down today, and for the 60 days beginning Friday, shoppers will not have to pay to park in the downtown area.

Street decorations started going up this week, and all should be in place Friday. They will be turned on the first time Friday night. Many merchants are joining in the holiday mood and will have their stores transformed in the Christmas tradition at the same time.

Champion Hereford Bulls And Their Owners

CC Lord Lamplighter 780, grand champion, and Golden Superior H6, reserve champion, with owners Charlie Creighton, Miss Marie Hall and Mrs. G. T. Hall, at the rear. Holding the animals is Kenneth Loso, foreman for Mrs. Hall's ranch.

Sought

Anna Maria Hiltz, 17, heiress to a $10 million Swiss fortune, has fled her Washington, D.C., home, her mother says, and was last seen three weeks ago in a California resort with her 25-year-old German boy friend, Ulrich Bierschenk, Miss Hiltz, a part-time model, disappeared from a fashionable private school in Washington, authorities said. Police today had been unable to locate the couple. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Traditional Holiday Menu Adds Parades

By The Associated Press

Rooted in American tradition is the menu for Thanksgiving day: turkey and pigskin. As much as a time of football rivalries, it is also becoming a day for spectacular parades as a reminder that Christmas cannot be far away.

But above all else, as it has been for nearly 350 years, Thanksgiving is a day for families and for giving thanks.

President Johnson, in proclaiming Thursday a day of national thanksgiving, called for prayers that "the forces of violence, indifference and intolerance may soon vanish from the face of the earth."

Yank Casualties Triple For Week

Three Guards Die In Bloody Convict Riot

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — Minor complaints about prison conditions apparently caused the bloody four-hour convict riot at Menard State Prison Tuesday night in which three guards were killed and six others were injured.

Illinois Public Safety Director Ross Randolph, a former Menard warden who went to the prison to talk convicts into releasing three guard hostages and surrendering, started an investigation into the cause of the riot.

FOUR "MADMEN" He said four "madmen" convicts had instigated the uprising, making knives out of steel bars and throwing a fire bomb into a guard cage in the dining hall at dinner. They said they wanted better food, more radios and more recreation.

The four convicts were talked into submission by Randolph and Menard Warden Max Frye as 300 guards and state troopers surrounded the prison kitchen in which the rioters had barricaded themselves with three guard hostages.

The ringleaders permitted a doctor to give one guard, Tom Gross, 52, of Chester, Ill., a blood transfusion through prison bars. Then they released Gross when his condition became obviously serious. Gross had been stabbed.

Gangland Figure Dies

Murray (The Camel) Humphreys, above, reputed political fixer for the Chicago crime syndicate from the gangland days of Al Capone, died in his Chicago apartment Tuesday night.

Humphreys, 66, had earlier in the day pointed a pistol at federal agents who burst into his apartment in the Marina City when he refused to open the door. They arrested him on a Federal Grand Jury perjury indictment. Humphreys appeared to have suffered a heart attack. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Human Torch, Coed, Critical

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — An attractive West Chester State College coed battled her life today after setting herself afire on the campus by dousing her clothing with gasoline.

Patricia Ann Conway, 22, a junior major in elementary education, was reported in grave condition Tuesday night at Memorial Hospital. She suffered second- and third-degree burns over the upper part of her body.

Red Death Listing Also Marks Peak

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The battle of the Ia Drang Valley pushed American casualties in Viet Nam last week to 240 killed in action, the U. S. military announced today.

It was nearly three times the highest total announced for any previous week.

The U. S. Command also reported 470 Americans were wounded during the week ending at midnight Nov. 20 and 6 were missing action.

COMMUNIST TOLL A record number of Communist casualties also was reported — 2,262 dead and 136 captured, South Vietnamese forces reported 357 dead and 807 wounded, more than double the previous week.

The report today brought the total of U. S. casualties reported in nearly five years of fighting in Viet Nam to about 1,300 dead and about 6,000 wounded. Half the dead and a third of the wounded were cut down in the past three months as U. S. combat troops who began arriving in Viet Nam in February took a bigger and bigger part in the war.

Before February the American role in Viet Nam was an advisory one, coupled with providing helicopter and other air support for South Vietnamese units.

PREVIOUS HIGH The highest previous total of American casualties was reported for the week ending Nov. 13. It was 96 killed and 230 wounded. The week before the total was 70 killed and 237 wounded.

The average for the Korean war was about 210 American battle dead per week, although at times the number was far higher.

The jump in American and Communist casualties last week was primarily due to the hard fighting in the Ia Drang Valley 210 miles north of Saigon near the Cambodian border. Troops of the 1st Cavalry, Airborne, division battled North Vietnamese regiments there all week.

Fighting Erupts On Viet Coast

By The Associated Press

New fighting was reported on the central coast as 500 South Vietnamese troops clashed with about 200 Viet Cong 330 miles north of Saigon near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai.

South Vietnamese officials claimed 150 Communists were killed in the clash today.

The fighting subsided late in the day and the Communists broke contact and withdrew.

A military spokesman said two companies of Viet Cong attacked two government positions near Quang Ngai Tuesday, inflicting light casualties on the defenders. But he reported a Vietnamese relief force killed 40 Viet Cong.

communications had been re-established with five outposts near Tuy An that were attacked Monday.

The spokesman said the Viet Cong apparently hoped to assault government troops sent in to reinforce Tuy An. He speculated that the Communists backed off from the attack when no relief force was dispatched to the town.

UNCOVER CAMPS A company of U.S. 1st Infantry Division troops uncovered two Viet Cong base camps Tuesday only 12 miles north of Saigon. One of the camps contained ammunition, rice and an intricate trench network.

Nine U.S. jet fighters pounded another suspected enemy base camp in the Mekong Delta 78 miles south of the capital. Twenty-five Viet Cong were estimated to have been killed and 19 buildings damaged or destroyed.

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — A new city hall and a new sewer system are among improvements to be financed by a $4,935,000 bond issue approved in a special election Tuesday. About 3,000 of Odessa's more than 80,000 residents voted.

Americans Advised Not To Expect Early Victory

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland warned the American people Thursday against hope for an early military victory over the Communists in the Vietnamese War.

In an interview with Mutual Broadcasting System, the commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam said: "TRIUMPHS MINOR" "When the American people read the headlines about victories which have been enjoyed in recent months... there may be a tendency for them to exaggerate the magnitude of these actions. By and large, these tactical actions are small, involving relatively small numbers of troops and from these successes there may be a tendency to draw a conclusion that a battle or series of battles may end the conflict through a single or a combination of military victories.

"This is not that type of war. I do believe that there is a certain danger that we may be overwhelmed by a certain feeling of optimism and may lose sight of what I consider a true appraisal of the situation. It involves a long conflict and we must be prepared to accept this."

On the other hand, Westmoreland said that the U.S. troop buildup has "brought an air of optimism" to the Vietnamese.

At the same time, he said North Vietnamese troops are infiltrating into South Viet Nam on a daily basis and that the United States must be prepared to meet this challenge.

City Insurance Plan Okayed

A three-year fire-and-extended-coverage insurance policy plan, premiums to cost a total of about $15,000, on city buildings and contents, was approved Tuesday night by city commissioners at their regular 7 p.m. meeting.

The plan was presented to the commissioners by Roy Anderson, assistant city manager. He said an insurance engineer called in by the city's insurance agent had made recommendations that the city's property is presently drastically under-insured, particularly the city hall, auditorium complex, insured for only $100,000. The approved insurance on the complex will now be just over $450,000.

Most of the city buildings and contents received increased coverage by the approval, but structures the city has little use for were removed from insured status.

Under the city's old three-year policy, just expired, premiums cost under $5,000. Commissioners felt, however, that the increased premium expenditure is worthwhile.

There was an alternate, five-year plan recommended, which would cost $24,800.

"I feel," Larry Crow, city manager, said, "that the three-year policy would be better in our present financial situation."

"The recommendations are well thought out," commented Arnold Marshall, commissioner.

The three-year policy plan was approved, with but one change from the recommended: commissioners felt there should be increased coverage of the contents of the water filter plant.

The engineer had recommended $20,000 insurance on the contents, but commissioners decided they should have $80,000 coverage. The increase there will add about $225 total to the premiums over three years.

John Burgess, city attorney, and Jay Banks, police chief, presented a written policy change in the city's parking ticket policy, as authorized at the last commission meeting.

Since parking meters will be taken out Nov. 26th, for a 60-day trial period, the policy change entails, according to the document: parking permit cards for exempt county, state and district officials; certain employees of the city, county, district and state; jurors. The cards will be displayed, allowing tire-marking policemen not to ticket them during normal working hours for over-time parking.

The policy change also exempts from parking tickets all vehicles with state exempt licenses and provides for courtesy tickets for out-of-town visitors, conventions and meetings.

Two-hour parking goes into effect Nov. 26, with a tire-marking system replacing parking meters.

"Some school officials have exemption cards now, not of the present system," Banks said. He felt, and commissioners agreed, that no exemption cards should be honored beginning Nov. 26 except those approved under the new system. Exemption cards will be issued by the city or county clerk, depending on the exempt person's status, commissioners decided.

It was decided to repair, rather than replace, the police car wrecked last week.

"The car was not damaged as heavily as I had thought it was," Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, said. "I'm doubtful if the insurance company would allow us total value."

A plan about to trade in all police vehicles at the same time next year, rather than whenever they reach maximum mileage, the present policy, also influenced the decision.

"If the frame is damaged, I'd much rather replace the car," Banks said, "but if the car can be repaired to good condition, it would make no difference to us."

Commissioners felt the repair job preferable, and indicated the city will not be money out of pocket on the repair, since the officer driving the car was not at fault in the wreck.

George Oldham told commissioners he wanted part of North Aylford Street, south of US 87 between Ninth and US 87, closed. He said closing it would not affect direct traffic on US 87.

"There's no rush," Oldham said, "but I wish you'd study the proposition. We want the street closed so we can develop our property." Oldham owns property on both sides of the street, but the street goes through it into less desirable land, he indicated.

No action was taken. Commissioners told attorney Burgess to study the matter carefully and make a report at the next meeting.

Final item, not on the agenda, was approval of an ordinance accepting street paving completed this summer, a routine item.

Total cost of paving the four streets, Mesa Avenue, State, Northwest Tenth and West Thirtieth, was $37,035.06. The city paid $8,159.27 of the total, property owners the remainder.

Rusk Leaves Rio Confab

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today he has found among hemisphere foreign ministers "a broad consensus on the desire to strengthen, rather than weaken, the inter-American system."

"There were some differences about details of procedure but a broad consensus has emerged," Rusk told a reporter as he prepared to leave the special Inter-American Conference here.

Rusk scheduled a two-hour stop at Asuncion to call on Paraguayan President Alfredo Stroessner before flying back to Washington tonight.

UPDATE SYSTEM Here in Rio, Rusk and 18 Latin-American foreign ministers have been discussing ways to update the hemisphere system to meet changing political and economic needs. The two-week conference is to end Nov. 30.

Rusk said he expects the conference to conclude "with important results" even though proposals requiring amendment of the charter of the Organization of American States cannot be enacted until a follow-up conference empowered to make charter changes.

Rusk said he particularly welcomes what he termed general agreement that a foreign ministers' meeting should be held once a year instead of at five-year intervals as now specified in the OAS charter.

The highlight of Rusk's week here was his presentation of the U.S. position Monday — including a plea by President Johnson of willingness to continue U.S. aid after the present Alliance for Progress ends in 1971, and a call on the American republics to consider earmarking forces for volunteer international use in emergencies.

With Rusk's departure, roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman takes over as chief of the U.S. delegation. With general speaking sessions finished, the conference started committee work to prepare recommendations.

Under the approved limitations, the department will allot planting shares to individual growers. In the case of upland cotton, rice and peanuts, the 1966 allotments will total the same as this year. For extra long staple cotton, a somewhat larger allotment will be assigned.

Besides tobacco, these are the only crops grown in this country which will be subject to mandatory controls next year.

Wheat and feed grains, on the other hand, will be produced under voluntary programs offering payments to farmers who reduce their plantings under special programs.

In the case of upland cotton, the department will offer payments to producers who undercut their allotments at least 12.5 per cent next year.

Results of the referendum included: Upland cotton 196,476 to 10,729, a favorable majority of 94.8 per cent. Approved 34,615 to 4,729 in Texas.

IN TEXAS Extra long staple cotton, 913 to 237, a favorable majority of 79.4 per cent. Approved 329 to 47 in Texas. Peanuts—34,529 to 827, a favorable majority of 97.7 per cent. Approved 2,991 to 122 in Texas. Rice—5,866 to 505, a favorable majority of 92.1 per cent. Approved 907 to 57 in Texas. The peanut controls were voted for the 1967 and 1968 crops as well as next year's production.

Two-Ton Safe Cracker

Poised over the old First National Bank's re-enforced concrete vault a wrecking ball on a crane is prepared to drop through the vault's ceiling. The vault is one of the last remaining obstacles to the complete clearing of the bank property, which will be turned into a parking lot. Downtown Big Spring, Inc., an improvement-minded organization of local businessmen, sponsored the clearing of the area. The city has agreed to turn the vacancy into a free parking lot for shoppers.

Union Vote Near On Plant Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiators hammered out a proposed settlement early today to resume production of spacecraft and war planes at McDonnell Aircraft Corp., then rushed back to St. Louis to seek approval from dissenting Machinists Union members.

Ratification of the proposed contract hangs on the vote of 17,000 striking members of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists. They met at noon today.

Union Vice President Eugene Glover declined to predict whether the strikers would accept the contract proposal and resume work on Gemini space capsules and Phantom jet fighter planes for the war in Viet Nam.

"Even the good Lord above would be hesitant to predict what people will do," said Chief Union Steward Thomas Stipes. Company Vice President Robert Krone said he hoped for overwhelming approval.

But leaders of the dissent faction in St. Louis claimed the support of 12,000 of the strikers in opposing Glover's negotiating team.

CANCELS PROTEST However, the rebel group canceled a scheduled mass protest meeting.

"We members have no alternative but to hear the proposition," said Bruce McCarthy, spokesman for the dissent group which earlier failed in a court effort to halt the Washington talks.

But considerable opposition appeared to remain among the rebel group.

One of the irritants was Glover's bow to federal pressure by sending 200 picketing machinists back to work at Cape Kennedy before the final agreement was reached.

GEMINI CONTRACT McDonnell is prime contractor for the Gemini space program and the strike had threatened to delay next month's scheduled launching to orbit a pair of two-man Gemini spacecrafts in close formation.

A vote to reject the proposed contract presumably could jeopardize again the scheduled Dec. 4 and Dec. 13 Gemini launches.

No details of the contract proposal were announced in Washington. Glover said he wanted the union members to hear them first. He declined to say whether he would recommend approval, but added it was the kind of agreement the negotiating team felt it could present to the union membership for a vote.

Howard County Junior College's choir presented a pre-Thanksgiving program at 10:45 a.m. today in the college auditorium.

Under the direction of Gary Ebersberger, head of the music department, the choir sang a variety of sacred and secular numbers, with some light popular tunes.

Tuesday evening the choir furnished music for the Rotary Club's ladies night affair at the Big Spring Country Club.

Howard County farmers Tuesday approved quotas for the 1965 cotton crop, but turned down a plan where cotton allotments could be transferred out of the county and state by lease and sale.

The election was conducted by the County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Four voting places were operated. The vote was very light, according to ASCS officials.

Cotton quotas were approved by the cotton growers by a vote of 141 to 42. Vote by communities: Community A, voter at Knott Gin, for the quota 22, against 4; Community B, Planter's Gin, Luther, for the quota 21, against 7; Community C, and Community E voting at the ASCS office in Big Spring, for the quota 69, against 22; Community D and Community E voting at the Acuff Gin, Coahoma, for the quota 29, against the quota 9.

Ivie, general manager for CRMWD, estimated that the over-all figure would be about 5.9 per cent.

Billy Graham Hits Idolatry

HOUSTON (AP) — "We in this generation are just as guilty of idolatry," as were the people of ancient Judah, Billy Graham told a crowd of 29,222 Tuesday night.

Discussing "the most wicked man who ever lived," the evangelist said the Judahites were made to worship idols by King Manasseh, who ruled for 55 years and filled Jerusalem with innocent blood.

Graham described an idol as "anything that comes between you and God." He said many people worship social prestige, economic security or pleasure.

People spend more time reading a newspaper every day than they do the Bible, they spend more time in the theater than in church and they spend more money on cosmetics, gambling and drinking than they give to the church, he said.

Many are as guilty of murder as Manasseh because "you can kill another's reputation with an ugly story," he said.

Jerusalem was destroyed by an enemy from the north who captured Manasseh and imprisoned him, Graham said, but Manasseh repented and was forgiven by God.

Viewers Make Better Scores In 'Self-Test'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Unquestionably it is more stimulating to test and grade one's skills at the wheel of an automobile than it is to try to remember the contents of the Bill of Rights, the extent of the President's powers or the names of one's senators.

When CBS presented its first self-test program over a year ago, it was estimated that about 30 million viewers tried to answer the questions — and a lot of them were appalled by their low scores.

BETTER SCORES

In Tuesday night's "National Citizenship Test" more viewers undoubtedly had better scores. Chief questioner Harry Reasoner said that a national sample of the audience came up with a grade of 63 per cent, and CBS pronounced a grade of 60 as passing. The sample had 5 per cent in the excellent class, 14 per cent good, 47 per cent fair, and 34 per cent poor.

The test consisted of 40 questions, mostly true or false. Most of them seemed rather simple — whether the President was head of the legislative branch of government, whether a person could be tried twice for the same crime, whether a man had a constitutional right to make a speech advocating the overthrow of our system of government.

CONFUSING TERMS Sometimes, however, the questions were couched in confusing terms and made even more so by diverting illustrations.

Earlier, CBS had a special "Salute to Stan Laurel," the slight comedian who with his roly-poly partner, Oliver Hardy, brightened the silent and early talking screens. It was a sort of television benefit with performers contributing their services and proceeds going to the Motion Picture Relief Fund.

Lucille Ball and Buster Keaton appeared in an old-fashioned vaudeville pantomime routine. Audrey Meadows and Cesar Romero kidded the old silent films. Dick Van Dyke and Bob Newhart, among others, had amusing monologues. But the best moments of all were the film clips from the old Laurel and Hardy films, slapstick in the classic tradition.

Another official, Coroner Henry F. Ulrich, quoted Bordner as saying: "I wanted to pay my bills. I thought it would be better this way."

Earlier in the day the grief-stricken father, Paul, 38, attended graveside services for his seven children—Cindy, 8; Jerry, 7; Stephen, 6; Roger, 5; John, 4; Ruby, 3, and Dennis, 1. The father received minor wounds from shotgun pellets.

All were buried in a single casket at Northumberland Memorial Park Cemetery in central Pennsylvania.

The traditional Thanksgiving Day service of Christian Science Society, 1209 Gregg, will take place at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Friends, neighbors, and the public are invited.

This annual service is distinctive for its concluding testimonial period when any Christian Scientist in the congregation may rise to his feet and openly express his individual thanks to God for blessings received.

A hymn and reading of the President's national Thanksgiving Day proclamation will open the service, followed by scriptural selections, prayer, and a lesson — sermon on "Thanksgiving" taken from the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Midwestern University received a federal grant of $53,000 today from the U.S. Education Office to conduct an institute for advanced study next summer.

Killing Spree By Boy On Own Family Related

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — A 17-year-old boy says he shot his parents, then set fire to a house that killed seven younger brothers and sisters because he wanted to collect insurance to pay off debts, police report.

State Police Capt. John C. Grey said the youth, Harold Bordner, made the oral statement Tuesday from his hospital bed.

Another official, Coroner Henry F. Ulrich, quoted Bordner as saying: "I wanted to pay my bills. I thought it would be better this way."

Earlier in the day the grief-stricken father, Paul, 38, attended graveside services for his seven children—Cindy, 8; Jerry, 7; Stephen, 6; Roger, 5; John, 4; Ruby, 3, and Dennis, 1. The father received minor wounds from shotgun pellets.

All were buried in a single casket at Northumberland Memorial Park Cemetery in central Pennsylvania.

Harold Bordner, his parents and five other children suffered burns in the fire Saturday night hours a day by the Federal Aviation Agency, the Big Spring omni-directional radio range, popularly called a "V-O-R," is immediately controlled by the FAA's Flight Service Station in Midland.

The "V-O-R" is easily recognized by its unusual shape. Enclosed in a 16-foot high plastic cone, it is mounted on top of a 10-foot high building. From safely inside the protecting plastic cone, the "V-O-R" antenna sends out static-free radio signals 150 miles in all directions.

Special instruments in an aircraft flying overhead pick up these signals and, at a glance, the pilot can tell if he is on or off his course. Each of the more than 700 "V-O-Rs" across the nation has a special frequency and a Morse code identification assigned to it. Turning in on these, the pilot can, by "leapfrogging" from one to another, fly a known route to almost any point in the United States.

This elaborate system of modern air navigation, combined with other electronic marvels, forms the more than 260,000 miles of air highways across the country.

Another important feature of this modern type air navigation aid is its ability to transmit helpful weather reports and special flying conditions from ground communications stations.

This daily functioning air aid is another step forward for the FAA in its plan to install and operate more than 1,200 "V-O-Rs" throughout the United States and its possessions.

Within 30 days the FAA will put into official operation another feature with this already capable electronic equipment. At the present, with this "V-O-R" and other "V-O-Rs" in the area, the pilot can tell exactly where he is at all times. Within a month Big Spring "V-O-R" will be equipped with a "distance measuring" feature. Using this feature, the pilot can tell just how far he is from any given point. When this feature begins operation the present "V-O-R" will popularly be called "VORTAC."

The name "VORTAC" is derived from the fact that the "V-O-R," or direction finding equipment, will be combined with the distance measuring feature of "TACAN" (Tactical Air Navigation). The "V-O-R" is a civil aviation development, while "TACAN" is an outgrowth of military research.

The combination of these two pieces of equipment, offering both direction and distance finding information to pilots, has been designated as the "Common System" short range air navigation system to meet both civil and military requirements.

The operation of this important air aid is a part of the Federal Aviation Agency's program to insure the nation superior aviation service during war as well as in peacetime.

"Who shot me Harold?" Mrs. Bordner asked.

"I did," Ulrich said Harold replied. "I thought I could get rid of you, mom."

Capt. Grey did not elaborate on Bordner's financial problems. He said the youth admitted the incident after being confronted with evidence.

The officer said Harold admitted shooting his parents while they lay in bed. Then, Grey continued, Harold said he tossed gasoline into an enclosed stairway leading to the upstairs bedrooms and ignited it. The children who died were asleep upstairs.

Wounded GI Plucked From Jungle Hiding

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. helicopter plucked a wounded American soldier from the Ia Drang Valley Jungle today after he had hidden there for seven days from North Vietnamese troops.

Pfc. Toby Braveboy, 24, of Coward, S.C., underwent a 30-minute operation at a U.S. field hospital in Pleiku for multiple bullet wounds.

SATISFACTORY SHAPE He was pronounced in satisfactory condition tonight.

Braveboy was gunned down during the ambush of the 7th Cavalry Regiment's 2nd Battalion early Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 17.

A scout helicopter was flying over the valley in the central highlands this afternoon when the crew saw a man waving his tee shirt.

They swooped down and picked him up.

"AMAZING THING" Braveboy was wounded in the chest, arms and hands. Maj. Philip Warner of Los Angeles operated on him.

"Braveboy was quite dehydrated and emaciated," said Warner, "but his medical condition was good. The amazing thing about this from a medical point of view was that he was not in worse shape."

Warner refused to let newsmen interview the soldier.

"He needs a good night's sleep," the doctor said.

Puzzle of Tuesday, November 23, Solved

DEAR ABBY: Where this ungracious custom originated, I do not know, but it is rapidly becoming popular in my community. At occasions where a gift is in order, a basket of tiny "scrolls" (paper rolled up and tied with a white ribbon for brides, silver for silver wedding anniversaries, gold for golden weddings, and so on) is placed on the gift table. As each person presents his gift, he is handed a "scroll." On this scroll is a TYPED "thank-you-for-your-gift" note. Then the honoree feels absolved from the task of writing thank you notes after the party. What do you think about this?

PROPER OLD LADY

DEAR ABBY: I am divorced, and have been ever since my son was four months old. (He is now nearly three years old.) His father has remarried and hasn't bothered to come to see him since we were divorced, but he does send support money. I am only 23 and hope to remarry some day and give my son a real "Daddy," but in the meantime, a problem has come up.

We live with my parents, and my son calls my father "Papa" because he hears me calling him that. But he's just discovered the word "Daddy" and he is confused. What shall I tell him? I tried to tell him that he doesn't have a "Daddy" yet, but he doesn't seem to understand. How do I go about telling him why? And if that doesn't satisfy his curiosity, how should I explain it?

YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Tell him the truth. And answer only one question at a time—as it comes up. Tell him that his Daddy and you do not live together any more. If he asks why, tell him that your marriage was a mistake, and you decided to end it.

DEAR ABBY: Often, in the movies, and also on television, I have seen a gentleman give a woman his handkerchief after she has had a crying session. I would like to know Abby, just what does the woman do with the handkerchief after she has used it? It seems odd to me that she would give him back a dirty handkerchief. Or is it just taken for granted that she can keep it?

PUZZLED

DEAR ABBY: The woman should take the handkerchief home and launder it. If she knows she'll see him again, she should return it in person. Otherwise, she should mail it back to him. (I say "should," knowing full well that few do.)

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Coast Storm Claims Twelve

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Saturated Southern California, plagued by flash floods in which at least 12 persons have died, braced today for a fresh storm expected to bring heavy downpours.

Rescue workers and cleanup crews feared new mud slides and torrents of water tonight and hoped for a respite Thursday, when only light rains were predicted.

FLASH FLOODS In the heaviest November rains ever recorded in Southern California, flash floods in desert areas raked cars off highways and into washes and residents of hillside areas fought oozing mud as it inundated homes and yards.

The desert resort of Palm Springs, a winter mecca for smog-tired Los Angeles residents, was virtually isolated and cut in half by a flood that rushed down from the San Jacinto Mountains.

Witnesses said three persons were carried away in their cars and a man wading out to help was swept away in the torrent. Only one body was found; the others presumably drowned, authorities said.

Floods hit other areas in San Bernardino County between Los Angeles and San Bernardino, 60 miles east.

At rocky Cucamonga Wash, a roaring flash flood caught a dozen cars and swept them half a block, tumbling over and over, some with their lights still burning.

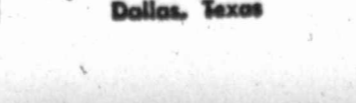

Hal Malloy, 19, saw a man swept away in the flood, then lamented: "I was so close. He finally was able to get out of the car. He was hysterical, saying 'Help me, help me.' I got to within inches of him and the cable snapped. His body flew up and disappeared.

Police said most drivers and their passengers managed to escape while their cars were tumbling along in the flood. But one man vanished, officers said, while trying to wade to safety.

The storm expected today is the third in 12 days. The second storm hit Sunday and lasted through early Tuesday, raising the season total to 10.37 inches. Normal for the season from July 1 up to date is 1.41 inches.

Belgian Court Mourns Death Of Queen, 89

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The Belgian court went into mourning today for Dowager Queen Elisabeth, a heroine in two world wars and one of Europe's leading patronesses of the arts.

The 89-year-old queen suffered a heart attack Nov. 4. She had another serious attack Tuesday night and died within a few minutes.

Elisabeth was the widow of King Albert, the mother of former King Leopold III and the grandmother of the reigning monarch, King Baudouin. Former Queen Marie Jose of Italy is her daughter, and Grand Duchess Josephine-Charlotte of Luxembourg is a granddaughter.

TWO WARS

Although born a German princess, she won the hearts of the Belgians during the two wars in which her native country was the enemy.

"An iron curtain has fallen between my country and me," she said when German troops invaded Belgium in World War I. She nursed the wounded in the trenches and was awarded the French War Cross for her "courage and devotion under enemy fire."

In World War II she defied the Nazis and succeeded in staying in Belgium when the retreating Germans removed the royal family to Germany.

A violinist, pianist, painter and sculptress, she sponsored one of the world's top musical contests, the Queen Elisabeth competition, and founded or assisted 175 artistic, charitable and scientific foundations and institutions.

"RED QUEEN"

Noted for her independence, she was sometimes called the "Red Queen" because she sponsored the Communist-front Belgo-Soviet Friendship Association and showed sympathy toward the Soviet Union and Communist China.

She traveled to the Soviet Union when she was 32 and told Premier Nikita Khrushchev he was a "marvelous man." She also visited Red China and expressed admiration for Mao Tse-tung.

Elisabeth was born July 7, 1876, at Possenhofen Castle in Bavaria, the second daughter of Duke Karl Theodor of Bavaria and Infanta Marie Jose of Portugal.

In 1900, she married Albert, heir to the Belgian throne. The couple took the throne in 1909 and ruled until 1934, when the king was killed in a mountain climbing accident.

FORCED OUT

Crown Prince Leopold succeeded his father but was forced to abdicate in favor of Baudouin after World War II.

Elisabethville, the capital of Katanga Province in the old Belgian Congo, was named after Elisabeth when it was founded as a mining camp in 1910.

Last April, she became the first woman to be elected to the French "Institut de France," a top scientific and artistic body.

Norther Due To Hit State

By The Associated Press

A dry front pushed weakly across North Texas today without noticeable effect on the balmy weather throughout the state.

Forecasters warned, however, that a norther headed south from Canada could be expected to knock temperatures down sharply in the north part of Northwest Texas by late Thursday.

It was hot and sticky at many points Tuesday, with temperatures ranging up to 82 degrees at Presidio in the Big Bend of West Texas.

About the only effect of dryer air traveling east through northern areas of the state was to lower humidity. It was still muggy ahead of the front.

Temperatures tumbled to near zero in Montana as a frigid Canadian front started arriving today, re-enforcing the promise of considerable cooling in parts of Northwest Texas. Continued hot weather was expected across the south half of the state.

Hearing Set On Alleged Pollution

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — A two-day conference will open here next week to consider whether a New York State factory is polluting air in nearby Vermont.

The Health, Education and Welfare Department said in Washington that a public hearing would be held Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 to determine whether alleged air pollution originates from a pulp and paper mill in Ticonderoga, N.Y.

Girl Assault Trial Defense Nearing End

EL RENO, Okla. (AP) — The second-degree rape trial of John Shepard moved into its third day with defense lawyers saying they had only one or two more witnesses and four depositions to present.

Shepard, 17, is the first of six Oklahoma City area youths to face trial for the alleged mass sex attack on a 15-year-old girl last July 7.

Two youths, both 19, told Tuesday of picking up the alleged victim and her cousin shortly after midnight July 3 and staying at Lake Hefner, just north of Oklahoma City, with them until dawn.

Other witnesses Tuesday included Gayle Garis, 17, a neighbor of the alleged victim's cousin, and Daniel Webster, a newsman.

Miss Garis testified that the alleged victim told her July 3 that she got in "real late last night." Miss Garis said the alleged victim said she and her cousin didn't get in until 5:30 a.m. after drinking some beer and going out to Lake Hefner with two boys.

During the alleged victim's testimony Monday, she denied being picked up by two boys July 3 and denied that she drank beer.

Depositions from the principal of St. Theresa's Academy in San Antonio, Tex., the girl's former home, and a San Antonio youth were read into the record.

The principal, Mother Leone, said the alleged rape victim formerly attended the school and had a reputation of being untruthful.

The other deposition was from Michael Sawyer, 19, who said the girl was known for being promiscuous.

Perjury Case Hearing On

DUNCAN, Okla. (AP)—Newspaper photographer Eddie Sparks' preliminary hearing on perjury charges stemming from the Bert Lana assault trial moved into its second day today.

Sparks is accused of lying in testimony at the trial of Lana, a Duncan high school student who was acquitted.

STATE CLAIM
The state claims Sparks, now with a Ventura, Calif., newspaper, lied when he said he did not drive his car into a pasture near the place Tama Hallmark, also a high school student, was knifed in January of 1964.

He also is accused of giving false testimony when he said he delivered two photographs to Sheriff Walter Welch on Jan. 12, a week after the attack, showing a footprint near the crime scene.

Sparks likewise is charged with lying when he said he made a photograph of a shoe heel print in the driveway of the Hallmark home.

HIS TESTIMONY
During the Lana trial, Sparks said he examined the pictures of the footprint in the pasture with one taken in the driveway and told the court they appeared similar.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Barnard said Tuesday he had pictures of the Hallmark driveway and testified it was unlikely any footprint would show up enough on the concrete drive to be seen in a picture.

Welch testified Sparks never delivered him the pictures as the defendant claimed.

'Two-Chinas' Policy Eyed By Leaders

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U. S. officials are reliably reported to be taking a careful look at the possibility of switching to a "two-Chinas" policy because of the growing movement to seat Red China in the United Nations.

One authoritative U. S. source has suggested that an alternative will have to be found by next fall to the 16-year-old policy of trying to keep the door shut to Peking. This source added that the seating of both Red China and the Nationalists might be the only practical course for the United States.

BANNER TOPPLING
It is generally conceded at the United Nations that the Chinese Communists have been barred for the last time. The General Assembly voted 47-47 on the question last week and the pro-Peking trend is expected to continue. It is also doubtful if the United States will be able to win enough support next year to require that Red China's supporters muster a two-thirds majority to get Peking admitted.

The question now is no longer how to keep the Peking government out, diplomats say, but what to do about the Nationalist government which rules 12 million people on Formosa. Some delegates have been trying to launch a two-Chinas movement for several years but without success.

The idea is that the Peking government, representing the huge mainland population, would be given the seat now held by the Nationalists and that Formosa would be admitted as a new member.

The main obstacles so far have been the substantial opposition to seating Peking and the rejection of the two-Chinas concept by both Peking and Taipei.

PREVENT EXPULSION
Since Red China says it won't join the United Nations unless the Nationalists are expelled, the United States and other backers of Chiang Kai-shek's regime may be faced next year with the problem of preventing the expulsion of the Taipei government. This apparently is causing a number of countries to re-examine their policies.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg recently pointed out that Formosa has a larger population than 85 of the world organization's 117 members. He said it would be a violation of the idea of universality to expel such a government.

Many diplomats believe that the United States could persuade Chiang to apply for Formosa's admission as a new member, but no one has found a formula to avert a Communist veto. The admission of new members must first be recommended by the Security Council, where the big-power veto applies.

The successful implementation of a two-Chinas policy probably would have to be part of a deal agreed to in advance so that Peking would get in and the Nationalists would get a new seat without facing a veto. One question being asked is whether it is not too late for such a deal now that Peking virtually has a foot in the door.

Suspensions Scrutinized

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Three judges will study charges that students have been unjustly suspended from West San Antonio schools.

"Ringworm, dandruff and... vermin in the hair" were listed among the reasons given for the suspensions, said Platon Lerma, a member of the West Side Civic Action Council.

The council and other civic leaders presented the complaints and the county juvenile board named Judge James McKay, County Judge Charles Grace and Dist. Judge Archie Brown to review the charges.

"Is this an epidemic?" Lerma asked. "Children have been in school since September and now, within a few days, 71 are sent home."

He said some parents told him discipline at one of the schools was too harsh and children were scared to attend.

Court-martial Set For Lieutenant

EL PASO (AP) — A general court-martial has been ordered for an Army lieutenant arrested after an anti-Viet Nam war demonstration here Nov. 6.

Second Lt. Henry Howe Jr., stationed at Ft. Bliss, was charged with violating the code of military justice. The court-martial is tentatively set for Dec. 13.

Howe, from Boulder, Colo., allegedly was in a group carrying signs to protest U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Johnson Girds To Cope With World Issues

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, busy at shaping fresh domestic programs, is laying the groundwork for broadened attention next year to world problems.

Because Viet Nam has demanded so much concentration on his part, Johnson has not had the time in the last few months to grapple in depth with the threat of the weakening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization posed by French President Charles de Gaulle's nationalistic policies.

RELEGATE ISSUES

While there can be no presidential relaxation of supervision of the Viet Nam effort, on the basis of the massive legislative program passed by the first session of Congress, it appears the President may be able to relegate some domestic issues to lower priorities.

The signs now point to a determined effort by the President in 1966 toward recentring Western Europe's defenses, improving East-West relations and halting the quarreling between India and Pakistan.

The White House announcement Tuesday that Johnson will meet with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson Dec. 17, following a Dec. 2-3 conference with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, put European problems at the top of the list in this ground-laying period.

SHASTRI COMING?

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers had only a "can't say" to reports in Washington diplomatic circles that India's Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri might come to this country about the third week in January and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan about mid-December.

Moyers made it clear that the two leaders are welcome but the timing of their visits is largely up to them.

It was evident that the meeting place for conferences with Erhard and Wilson will depend on whether Johnson wishes to leave the Texas climate, which he finds so bracing, to return to Washington.

Moyers said Johnson's physical activity Tuesday was not strenuous. But he said the President found the climate and the relaxation at the LBJ Ranch helpful toward regaining full strength after his gall bladder-kidney stone operation of Oct. 8.

DISCUSS TERMS

Wilson said in London Tuesday that he will discuss terms and conditions for a general Viet Nam peace settlement in his meeting with Johnson. While this was expected, the White House obviously had only lean hopes that any meaningful negotiations with Hanoi and the Viet Cong would develop soon.

North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh was quoted Tuesday as saying that U. S. troops would have to be withdrawn from South Viet Nam before any negotiations could start. Johnson has said many times that the United States will not withdraw.

Restaurant Recipes Spark Home Meals

Dear Folks:

We all have to serve Wieners (hot dogs, frankfurters—whatever you call them) once in a while for the budget's sake, but not having much of a "yen" for them, I have been experimenting with various recipes to make them more to my family's liking.

Now we serve them often and do you know why?

Well, we ordered Wieners in a big restaurant, and they were so delicious, (and at the price we paid, they had to be good)

I went to their kitchen to learn how they were prepared. Here's how:

They lay thawed Wieners (I prepare four at a time) side by side on a piece of foil. With a sharp knife, they score all of them at one time, diagonally, about one-fourth inch deep with about one-eighth inch between scores. Then, the Wieners are turned over the the scoring process is repeated on the other side, resulting in little "diamond" shapes on the Wieners. They did not season them.

The foil is then closed. The top and ends are doublefolded to keep juices in, and the package is then placed directly in the center of the oven rack in a preheated, 350 degree oven.

After 30 minutes slit open the top of the foil to let a wee bit of steam escape in order to get a slight browning across the little scores of those nice, juicy Wieners.

If you want those "dogs" to be on cloud nine, sprinkle them with parmesan cheese, or paprika, a few minutes before serving. The scores hold the cheese or paprika on the dog.

This is "yummy" when served on a bed of steaming sauerkraut.

Or, how about baking a pot of beans to go along with this?

Dear Heloise:

I used to care for a nurse's cotton uniforms. When she brought them to me, they were very badly stained with medicine and perspiration, and were yellowish in color.

After I washed them in hot water, soap and bleach, I put them back into the machine with white dye color remover, then hung them in the sun. They came out sparkling white, and as pretty as new.

This treatment can be given often with no ill effects to most white materials, if the directions on the package are followed carefully. ... I.A.B.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

It doesn't appear that there will be any frost on the pumpkins or snow on the ground for our West Texas Thanksgiving ... at this writing it isn't even cool but that won't make any difference to the many families that will be gathering today.

MR. and MRS. JIM HOGG, is to be here from Ft. Carson, Colo. The coming holidays as well as the Christmas season will be more pleasant this year than last for Raymond as last year he spent the holidays with the U. S. Army in Korea.

DR. and MRS. O. E. WOLFE are spending the week with their son and his family in Houston.

MR. and MRS. SKIP FRANKLIN of Mesquite and MR. and MRS. JOHN NORTON of Marshall are to be here for the holidays with the BLEDSOE O'BRIENS and MRS. JOHN NORTON SR.

MRS. HOUSTON PARKER left today for Amarillo where she will join other members of the family at the home of MR. and MRS. TRAVIS AARON for Thanksgiving. Others expected are the GLEN AARONS of Midland, Mrs. MARTHA JEFFCOAT and MR. and MRS. W. R. CLEMENTS of Lubbock and Mrs. W. H. HEIN of Dallas, a sister of Mrs. Parker.

MR. and MRS. GROVER DEAN have recently returned from a week's visit in Ponca City and Guthrie, Okla., with her relatives.

WALTER WIDGER, chief of social services at the Big Spring State Hospital, and MISS JOAN YOUNG and MRS. BILL EARLEY had a wonderful time when they attended the recent Social Welfare Workers Convention in Houston. They heard talks by BILLY GRAHAM and GOV. JOHN CONNALLY. In addition to having a successful meeting they attended a football game in the domed stadium.

When the convention was terminated Mrs. Earley went to Austin for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, MR. and MRS. BILLY EARLEY. The younger Mrs. Earley is working in the International offices for Far East Teachers. Eighteen countries are represented. The couple recently chaperoned the foreign teachers on a week-end pleasure trip to New Orleans.

Baby Motif Highlights Gift Party

A baby shower was held Friday at 7:30 p.m. in honor of Mrs. Royce Feaster. Mrs. Stewart Dixon, 1304 Ridgeroad, was hostess, and cohostesses were Mrs. James Wood, Mrs. Jerry Cain and Mrs. GERAL Sorrells.

The refreshment table was accented with a white lace cloth and silk centerpiece. Flanking the arrangement were pink candles in crystal holders, and silver appointments were used. The white cake was decorated in pink and blue, and a baby figurine was placed in the center.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Charles Ranne and daughter, Linda, and Mrs. Otha Conaway, all of Westbrook; Mrs. Orin Feaster, Colorado City; and Mrs. H. D. Womack.

IN COAHOMA

Complimentary Shower Honors Linda Roberts

COAHOMA—Miss Linda Roberts, attired in a pink brocade sheath, was the honoree at a pre-nuptial shower Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Marvin Latimer. She is the bride-elect of Jerry Robertson, and the couple will be married Jan. 1 in the Church of Christ at Coahoma.

Cohostesses were Mrs. C. A. Cranfill, Mrs. Herbert Love, Mrs. Phil Wynn, Mrs. Weldon

Weaver, Mrs. Trevor Crawford, Mrs. Rod Tiller, Mrs. Bill Read, Mrs. L. F. Anderson, Mrs. Pete Banks, Mrs. T. A. Harris and Miss Kaye Clark, who presided at the register for the 75 guests who called.

In the receiving line with Miss Roberts, who received a glameila corsage, was her mother, Mrs. Ross Roberts and her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Alton Robertson, who were given similar corsages. The hostesses' gift to the honoree was an electric coffee maker.

White lace, with an underlay of yellow, covered the refreshment table where the centerpiece was a double ring arrangement of yellow and white chrysanthemums. Rice bag favors were of blue net tied with yellow ribbon to carry out the bride-elect's chosen colors.

Rest, Freshening Advised For Shoes

When shoes have had fairly continuous wear, give them a rest and sprinkle a few moth crystals in them — not to keep moths away, but to freshen the shoes. Today's new shoes, if a correct fit, are comfortable from the start — and need no "breaking in."

Holiday Party Dates Listed

Dates for holiday parties were announced by Mrs. James Shannon at the Monday evening meeting of the Xi Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Wade Choate, Moss Creek Road, was hostess, and Mrs. Truett Vines was cohostess.

Mrs. Shannon said the group will meet for a covered dish supper in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building Dec. 4 with their husbands as guests. The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. and games will follow. On Dec. 13, the annual Christmas party and exchange of Phi Psi gifts will be in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Taylor when a salad supper will be served. During the party, members will wrap gifts, purchased by the chapter, to be given to its "ranked" needy schoolgirl.

Mrs. Horace Rankin reported that $68 was the profit from the booth at the Fun-O-Rama.

A donation to the state hospital Christmas fund was made during the Tuesday meeting of the Reba Thomas Circle of First Methodist Church. Mrs. W. D. Duggan, 1420 Stadium, was hostess with Mrs. W. S. Goodlett presiding. Mrs. Ted Shive led prayer, and Mrs. Ed James presented the program, "The Church, Salt of the World." The Christmas party will be Dec. 19 at the home of Mrs. Jeff Brown.

A Devotional For The Day

"I thank thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth." (Luke 10:21, RSV)
PRAYER: Our Heavenly Father, we pray that we may be thanksgiving and thanksgiving persons. We would thank Thee again and again for the gifts of life and opportunities for service. Grant us the spirit of dedication. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Antidote Of Stronger States

Delegates to the annual national conference of state legislative leaders at San Juan, Puerto Rico, perhaps expecting a happy time in that island paradise, were treated to some hard, critical facts by a variety of speakers. It may be hoped that will stimulate some objective introspection that will lead to improvement in state government.

Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., lamented Washington's tendency to bypass the states to cope with urban problems and U.S. Supreme Court decisions that have "usurped" state legislative responsibilities. But other speakers emphasized that the weakened status of legislatures is largely their own fault.

State legislatures in general have failed to modernize their organization and procedures for effective functioning in a vibrant, complex, growing society. Too many state legislatures, more so in a number of other states than in Texas, are so grossly underpaid that high-caliber citizens are not attracted to that public service.

The compelling reason why federal-city relations are by-passing the state governments is that state legislatures simply have not adequately faced up to urbanization problems themselves.

The state legislative leaders meeting in the bustling Puerto Rican commonwealth probably did not relish hearing these harsh truths. But they should have come away from that conference persuaded that the most effective way to curtail excessive centralization of American government at the national level is to build stronger state governments in all their branches, and especially in the outmoded, unimaginative legislatures, which too often are dominated by special interests.

Lived In Two Worlds

If he had a choice, Henry A. Wallace probably would have wanted to be remembered for his private contributions to agriculture. Certainly few men in our history have influenced corn production more profoundly than he did with the development of high-yield hybrid strains.

But history will probably accent his public service as secretary of agriculture, 1933-40, as vice president, 1941-45, as secretary of commerce, 1945, and as an unsuccessful candidate for president under the Progressive Party banner in 1948. As secretary of agriculture he is best remembered for a program to plow up cotton to ease a surplus and to kill little pigs to avoid a glut of pork. In his public life he often was visionary, and although some of his proposals later were adopted many are today still considered far out. His worst fault, perhaps was his naivete.

Wallace lived in two contrasting worlds. His skill as an agronomist made him famous before he entered public life. His fame as an agronomist continued when he retired to private life on his experimental farm near South Salem, N.Y.

Thus he will be remembered for his public service and his contributions to agriculture.

David Lawrence Our Voice In The U.N.

WASHINGTON—Maybe it's time to "reapportion" the votes in the United Nations General Assembly. If the voting system were arranged on the basis of only one vote for every million dollars donated by a member state to sustain that organization, the United States would have enough votes to counterbalance the votes controlled directly or indirectly by the Communist bloc.

WHEN ANY GROUP of individuals puts the largest amount of capital in a corporation, they are usually given the biggest share of the stock and the voting power. In the 20 years since the U.N. was organized, the United States has contributed $2,418,000,000 out of the total of $5,372,000,000 collected, which includes all assessments and voluntary payments. Thus America's share of the expense has been 45 per cent. Yet the Soviet Union in the same period paid only $233,000,000, or less than 5 per cent of the total.

WHAT BRINGS UP this question is the peculiar vote recorded in the United Nations General Assembly last week when 47 members voted to admit Red China and 47 voted against the admission, while 20 abstained. An examination of the way the votes were cast reveals that the group of 47 for Red China was made up almost entirely of countries in Africa, Eastern Europe and Asia which are engaged in trade with the Communists.

Finland, Denmark and Sweden are friends of the United States, but they lie close to Russia on the Baltic, and it is presumably expedient to avoid friction with their powerful neighbor. The United Arab Republic has been receiving financial aid from the Soviet Union and voted with it in the U.N.

THE NORTH-AFRICAN countries went along with France, which has developed a policy that carries favor with Red China in order to maintain certain financial and business connections for French industrialists who have had extensive dealings in the area once known as Indo-China but now divided into Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

General de Gaulle can, of course, argue that he recognized the Red China government a year or so ago because the British had done so. The difference, however, is that Great Britain gave its diplomatic recognition prior to 1950, when the Red Chinese brazenly attacked the United Nations forces in Korea. Also, the British hold Hong Kong, an important trading center on the Asian mainland, and they don't want the Red Chinese to deprive them of that source of revenue.

BUT HOW LONG is the United States going to be subjected to the menace of a voting combination whereby the Soviet Union, though sometimes quarreling with Red China outwardly, manages nevertheless to work with the Peiping regime against the United States?

Fifteen different systems of "weighted voting" in the U.N. have been studied in vain by the Department of State. Some are based on population, some on financial contributions to the U.N., and some on compassions of gross national product. But none of these plans has as yet been formally advocated by the United States.

THE UNITED STATES in 1965 is paying 37 per cent of the total assessments of the U.N. This is much larger than any other nation's contribution. In fact, more than four-fifths of the 117 members are assessed at less than one per cent each. Indeed, more than one-third of all the members pay the minimum assessment of less than four-tenths of one per cent.

The realistic fact is that the money contributions to the U.N. are heaviest on the United States. Sooner or later the American people are going to be urged to withdraw from an organization that is controlled by many small nations which happen to be influenced by imperialistic regimes.

THE PROBLEM will ultimately have to be settled on a practical basis—that the policies of the nation which puts up the most money and furnishes the largest amount of economic aid to the other nations of the world shouldn't be subjected to a majority vote by a bloc of members whose votes are manipulated or intimidated by Communist imperialism.

Horns Blow

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—A young cowboy in the National High School Rodeo was having a tough time wrestling a steer to the ground and the protesting animal was bellowing loudly.

"He's haying such a tough time. I wonder if that steer has horns?" a spectator commented.

Responded 4-year-old Mark Anderson of Lincoln, Neb.: "Oh, yes, he has horns. I heard them."

'IMAGINE I'M LBJ WITH A STOCKPILE OF THESE'

James Marlow Time Stands Still In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—In Viet Nam the clock stands still and there is no repairman in sight. Time is not the same thing to a Vietnamese and a go-go American.

The American, anxious for an end to the killing, is baffled by the war's slow pace, the lack of any sign the North Vietnamese Communists want to talk peace.

But the Vietnamese as a people have been around longer than Americans and they learned to wait through centuries of trouble. They were in Southeast Asia before the Christian era.

THE CHINESE, taking them over in 111 A.D., held them in vassalage more than eight centuries before the Vietnamese shook loose. Meanwhile, through the centuries, they warred among themselves.

They defeated the armies of Kublai Khan in the 13th century, were taken as a colony by the French in the 19th and held about three-quarters of a century.

The Japanese drove out the French in World War II and the Vietnamese, under the Communist leadership of Ho Chi Minh, began fighting the French return in 1945 and never stopped until they crushed the French in 1954.

No wonder the North Vietnamese, with this endless history of waiting and dragged-out fighting, are not pleading for peace because the United States bombs them and steadily builds up its forces in a ground war.

PERHAPS SOME U.S. officials, who made quick survey trips to Viet Nam in recent years and came back drenched in optimism, also are baffled that they could be so ludicrously wrong.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara made a number of trips to Viet Nam, several times returned with rosy forecasts, and as late as January 1964 predicted U.S. forces could be withdrawn by the start of 1966.

He added: "I do not believe we as a nation should assume the primary responsibility for the war." That was before the United States got fully into the war and took on the responsibility.

As for his prediction on the withdrawal of U.S. forces: now the United States has at least 160,000 men there, within a few months may have 200,000.

FOR WEEKS there has been buzzing about whether the Communists might have been willing to talk peace and whether President Johnson muffed the chance. Last April he proposed peace talks, without any prior conditions for starting them.

But Ho Chi Minh has just made hash of the suggestion. The Red Chinese Tuesday quoted him as saying they can't even begin to start such talks until all American forces are withdrawn from Viet Nam. This would mean American surrender to the Communists, a defeat.

Thus, while Johnson said there did not have to be prior conditions, Ho Chi Minh laid down conditions—the withdrawal of all American forces. At this moment there is nothing in sight but a war dragging on.

Hal Boyle Thanksgiving Crisis Nears

NEW YORK (AP)—The Thanksgiving crisis will come in millions of American homes when it is put upon the table.

It is a bird called a turkey, and it may weigh anywhere from 8 pounds to 30 or more.

It will be washed and plucked. Everybody in the family will come by and pat it fondly. Then it will be stuffed with sage and oysters and bread crumbs and put into the oven and basted and watched over until it turns a tender golden brown.

THEN, ACCOMPANIED by a myriad of vegetables, it will be placed upon the table by a wife whose warm-flushed face is a testimony of womanhood in glory.

As everybody stands around marveling, the wife will go into the kitchen and come back with a knife in her hand. She will hold it out with a questioning look.

This is the hour of crisis. This is the terrible moment of decision.

Who will carve the turkey? "YOU DO IT, Joe," says the host to a guest.

"Now, Jim," replies the guest to the host. "You do it."

Each knows that if he takes the knife he will make a fool of himself—and of the festive occasion.

They may be chefs, butchers, brain surgeons, plumbers or lawyers.

But each knows, whatever his talent, it is inadequate now. He knows that, if he accepts the knife, it will turn out to be dull. He will find the turkey tough. He will beat and strain and wish he could attack the bird with a Boy Scout ax or put a dynamite cap in its middle and blow its junctures apart in a shower of gravy.

FINALLY, THE hostess says in pretended exasperation: "Well, you men! I don't know what the world is coming to. Sit down now, and I'll serve you."

The hostess takes up the knife and skillfully attacks the bird. Swiftly she apportions the meat to the plates, and one of the children meekly suggests, "Shouldn't we say grace first?"

"You say it, Jim," says the guest to the host, knowing what the answer will be.

"NO, JOE," says the host to the guest. "You say it."

"Okay," says Joe, lowering his eyes. "O Lord, we thank thee for Thy peace and fellowship at this table and . . . uh . . . what we are about to receive, forever and ever. Amen."

No, this medication certainly will not make your blood turn to water or affect your head.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim The Day Pages Were Made Over

It was one of those dull days, Nov. 22, 1963, on the soap opera. "As the World Turns," and Grandpa was carrying on dialogue intended as periodic review. My wife and I were eating lunch, mentally shutting out Grandpa.

SUDDENLY GRANDPA wasn't talking. The new voice said there had been reports that shots had been heard or fired on the presidential procession in Dallas where John F. Kennedy was scheduled in minutes to make an address. As I recall, Grandpa's sound came back momentarily, and then the voice was back confirming the earlier report and mildly amplifying it. I dialed the office of Glenn Coates, our city editor, and told him to go back to the composing room and hold up the front and jump pages, which were ready to be turned in.

AT THE moment, he had no word on the wire, but by the time I got there, bells had been ringing in bulletins, which were rattling off the machine. While these were wrapped in caution, it was apparent that the President had been hit and seriously if not mortally wounded.

BOB WHIPKEY, who had been through similar crises at press time many times before, had the makeup men rip a gaping hole in the front page. Almost every fragment of information went into type. Still there was no definite word, and the headlines were set, one to cover critical wounding, the other to be used in event the President were dead. We had to go with the first, but as the page reached the mat roller, the bulletin of the President's death came in. Quickly three lines of type were pecked on the linotype for a new lead and the alternate headline was put in saying: "President Kennedy Assassinated." Within half an hour we had the sad news rolling off the press.

WITH THE MAIL, news stands and rural route coverage taken care of, we halted the press to make over. The AP Photofax, which we had stalled only two months before, already had turned out one picture of the President's car at the hospital, and now it was reeling off others. The AP machine was clacking away with an issue of words that would run into the hundreds of thousands in the new few days.

THE STORY had begun to crystallize. A policeman had been shot and killed; a man had been captured in a theatre and was being held. Lyndon Johnson had taken the oath of office as President of the United States. Big Spring people, as everywhere, were giving expression to their sense of shock.

Thus, we put the final edition to bed with the largest type we had in red letters, again proclaiming: "President Kennedy Assassinated." Then, with the pressure off for the moment, we too, felt the deep sense of shock and revulsion that this could happen. We felt all washed out. —JOE PICKLE

Richard Starnes No Mail At Christmas

WASHINGTON—Before you can say platitudinous bureaucratic windbag, the Post Office Department will be chiding all of us to get our Christmas mail dispatched early.

My own advice, however, is not to send any Christmas mail at all. It won't do any good. This is the Christmas that the Post Office will celebrate by breaking down completely.

ALL OVER THE republic blameless tads will awake on Christmas morning to discover that the jolly old elf hasn't been there at all. Tearful moms and rapacious wives will conclude that their helpless male chattels have finally fled to Las Vegas with the pneumatic blonde who redeems soda bottles at the supermarket. It won't be long at all, said to say Christmas will stop this year simply because the Post Office Department has been gathering inertia since the sorry days of Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, and this happy Yuletide is when it'll reach a critical mess.

I DON'T WORRY so much about the tads or the moms or the wives, but I do worry like the tunket about all those poor postal chaps wedged into the Gents. What'll they do when all the cigarettes are gone? When the last secret formula for smashing parcel post bundles is revealed? When the seminars on glacial counter service are concluded? When the last triumphantly surly clerk demonstrates his favorite method of snarling at timorous old ladies caught trying to mail calf foot jelly to a veterans hospital?

IS IT POSSIBLE that the audience contains a leavening of dim bulbs who still believe the mail will get through this Christmas? This is nonsense. Post Office will have more than 8 billion pieces of holiday mail to contend with, and the wretched snails can't cope with the routine first-of-the-month-laments mailed by the nation's grasping credit merchants.

The last time I played how-long-to-New-York with Post Office (I always lose, of course), the score was 60 hours. Sixty hours from a mailbox in downtown Washington to the desk of the panting consignee in midtown Manhattan.

THE NATION'S Post Office Department is a livid disgrace. It is adept at issuing commemorative stamps at a rate that the most egocentric banana republic dictator might envy. It intercepts, gums over, delays and conspires about mail (especially mail from abroad) that it conceives to be subversive. It worries about pornography in a manner befitting the most neurotic YMCA secretary alive.

Indeed, the Post Office does many things. It can create lunatic enterprises such as the Zip Code at the drop of a deficit. It can fodder and stable uncounted worn-out political hacks. It can censor and deplore. What it just can't seem to manage, however, is deliver the mail.

Holmes Alexander Harry Byrd: The Exception

WASHINGTON—"It was as if a swan had sung." Thus John Galsworthy ended the novel which depicts the passing of his most famous character, Soames Forsyte—and that is how I felt upon hearing that the greatest of living Virginians, Harry Flood Byrd, has resigned from the Senate after a third of a century service there. A swan had sung the end of an epoch.

BETTER MEN than I, Arthur Krock and Bill White, have paid their graceful respects to Sen. Byrd, and have thought it truthful to file their mild caveats. Krock admits to the opinion that the senator was somewhat out of tune with the times. White confesses to occasional disagreement.

But I'm going to be an extremist here. I have no reservation in my admiration for the man. He never cast a wrong vote. His conservatism is not out of date. Any time in history is the right time for opposing elephantiasis in government, for supporting States Rights, for objecting to profligate spending.

IT IS EASY for me to write a political eulogy on Sen. Byrd, because he's the exception to several iron laws in journalism. One is that it's dangerous for writers to hold personal friendships for politicians. On my office walls hang gift-photographs of Lyndon Johnson and Barry Goldwater whom I like very much. But, oh, how they seem to frown, and how churlish I feel when I hurl the harpoon into the Great Society or reprove Barry for his personal war on Secretary McNamara.

WHEN I SEE the President he looks with more sorrow than anger at this viper who turned and stung him. When I see Goldwater, I remember a testy letter he wrote to upbraid me for my treason to him. Rough is the road of newsman-politician friendship—but not in the case of Sen. Byrd. Only once in 15 years—the time he seemed to be soft on Gary Francis Powers, the U-2 pilot—have I found any reason to criticize.

Another canon in the iron law is the one fixate against dynasties. I was so incensed about Ted Kennedy's rigged succession to his brother's Senate seat that the first column where I treated it had a glaring factual mistake. I realized that I couldn't trust myself. I paid my son's expenses to Boston in order to get an unbiased account of Ted's competence for the job.

WHY SHOULDN'T I feel equally incensed about the dynastic appointment of Harry Jr., to take his father's place in the Senate? I could argue that Byrd the younger, a state senator since 1949, is the best qualified man in Virginia for the open seat in Washington, and that Gov. Harrison would have been an ingrate to appoint anybody else. But no argument is necessary. Dynasties are wrong in a democracy, but the House of Byrd is different—and never ask me why.

However it works out, a great gentleman has passed from public life into a pleasant retirement and the song of the swan is heard in the land.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

It's getting so a New York City pigeon is finding it more difficult every day to find a place to lay his weary head. The voice of the pigeon-banisher is abroad in the land and the voice of the turtle can barely be heard.

The United States Mission headquarters at the United Nations has been invaded by pigeons, presumably because the pigeons, driven from their former haunts, concluded that a headquarters for peace was snug harbor indeed. Instead, they are about to be greeted with 6,000 feet of thin wires around the windows of the mission. Humanitarians among mission officials are quick to explain that the pigeons will receive a "gentle, non-lethal electric shock" to encourage them to seek other sanctuary. Anyway you slice it, it's a hot foot.

Perhaps a true humanitarian among New York's teeming millions may yet come forward with asbestos or other suitable footwear for pigeons so they may defy the gentle, non-lethal electric shocks.

NEW DELHI (AP)—A number of New Delhi's major streets had become too congested, so they were widened. Now the city has another problem. Light poles which were moved back are amidst tall trees and the streets are considered to be too dark.

An army of basketball players get into the act in a scrap for the ball under the Plainview basket in a high school game played here Tuesday night. No. 23 is John Roberts, No. 33 David Maggard, No. 31 Bobby Bolding, all of Plainview, and No. 34 Paul Soldan, Big Spring. The Big Spring boy partly hidden is Simon Terrazas. Big Spring won the cliff-hanger, 59-55. (Photo by Danny Valdes).

Longhorns Fashion Win Over Bulldogs

By TOMMY HART Plainview, 59-55, here Tuesday night. Allen Simpson's Big Spring Steers won one of their most significant basketball victories in recent years by belting out Plainview fields one of the real powerhouses in District 3-AAAA circles. Although the Bulldogs are missing their 6-9 ace, Ronnie Peret, they likely will be hard for any foe to handle again this year. Coach Bob Clendaniel has an all-senior ball club that includes such players as 6-8 Clay Woods and four boys who each stand 6-4.

Big Spring won the game on the boards, with 6-9 Paul Thomas, 6-4 Simon Terrazas and 6-3 Robert Jackson doing an excellent job of controlling the rebounds.

Unsung boys like senior Robert Jones and junior Richard Green played major roles in the Steers' success, too. Jones, deadily from out front, was one of the Steers' top scorers with 13 points while Green played a fine floor game.

The Steers took charge with about six minutes left in the game, at a time they led, 49-47, when the Plainview 6-0 spark-plug, Jimmy Angel, left the game with five fouls.

In the final second, the Steers had a six-point lead and turned the Bulldogs loose in order not to foul. They then held the ball out of bounds as time ran out.

Terrazas paced the locals in scoring with 18 points while Thomas also bucketed 13.

The game's top scorer was Bob Bolding, 6-4, who tossed in 26 points. Only one other Bulldog was in double figures. Angel hit ten for the visitors.

The contest opened the season for both teams. Plainview led by as much as four points in the first half after making 14 straight points. The Longhorns regained their poise, however, and were in charge at half time, 29-26.

Plainview tried a full court press most of the game and the Steers were a little slow adjusting to it.

Big Spring made 22 of 48 shots from the court for an even 40 per cent. Plainview made good 18 times on field goal tries in 33 efforts.

Big Spring also won the B game, 49-46, with a late rally while Plainview salvaged the C contest, 37-35.

In B action, Wayne Johnson paced Big Spring with 13 points while Danny Clendennon collected nine. Plainview was led by Kenneth Redin, who tossed in 15.

Bill Burchell led the local C teamers with 11 points.

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — John Boozier of the Philadelphia Phillies pitched a five-hitter for his sixth Winter League baseball victory as Ponce whipped San Juan 9-2 in the first game of a doubleheader Tuesday night. San Juan won the nightcap 6-3 behind Tommy John, Chicago White Sox left-hander.

Michigan May Get Big Test In Big Ten

NEW YORK (AP) — For a team that finished runner-up to UCLA for the 1965 national collegiate basketball championship and has All-America Cazzie Russell and eight other lettermen back, you would think Michigan would be a shoe-in to repeat as Big Ten champions this season.

Not so. While the Wolverines generally are favored to repeat, many believe Minnesota or Iowa will beat them for the conference title in the season opening one week from today. Minnesota has lost Mel Northway and Don Yates, but Lou Hudson and Archie Clark are back. In addition the notices on 6-foot-7 Tom Kondla, expected to fill Northway's shoes, are terrific. Iowa, which threatened for a time last season, has four starters back, including Chris Pervall and George Peebles.

Kansas, with 6-11 Walt Wesley, and Kansas State, with 7-1 Nick Pino, are expected to battle it out for the Big Eight crown. Oklahoma State, the defending champ, has lost four starters.

Bradley, with all its starters back plus 6-7 sophomore Joe Allen, is the choice to replace Wichita as champion of the Missouri Valley Conference. The Wheatshockers and Louisville are regarded as the top contenders.

Ohio University and Miami of Ohio figure to battle again for the Mid-American Conference championship, with Kent State a contender.

Creighton has four of its high scorers back, including Neil Johnson, and is expected to be one of the top independents along with Oklahoma City. Xavier of Ohio, Dayton, Chicago Loyola and Detroit also are expected to be high up among the independents. Not much is expected from DePaul and Notre Dame.

Evansville, which prefers to be classified in the small college ranks although it plays many major teams and beats them, is expected to be strong as usual. The Aces were unbeaten last season and won the NCAA College Division title.

Heisman King Earns Praise The Hard Way

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When it was announced that Southern California halfback Mike Garrett had won the Heisman Award, USC Athletic Director Jess Hill said: "He is one of the finest gentlemen ever to play at USC."

Garrett, named Tuesday as the season's best college football player, has been a team leader since his high school days at Roosevelt in Los Angeles and has won the respect of teammates and opponents alike. USC Coach John McKay said: "I've said a lot about this boy, but I can't say too much. He's the best I've ever seen and the best boy I've ever been associated with. This award is richly deserved."

Garrett is a 21-year-old sociology major who has already begun to help youngsters. Last summer he ran a football clinic for the Recreation Department of Culver City, Calif.

Stocky at 5-foot-9, 190 pounds, Garrett has speed and balance, but Pitt safetyman Mickey Depp explained the USC star's success, saying: "His determination and courage get him an awful lot of yardage."

This season Garrett's yardage — 1,328 on 243 carries — is good enough to lead major college rushers, and he has one game remaining, a home contest Saturday against Wyoming.

In his career he has set five school records and three in the Pacific Athletic Conference. And 58 yards in his final game will give Garrett the all-time career record, surpassing the 3,166 gained by Ollie Matson in 1949-51 at San Francisco.

At a news conference Tuesday, Garrett said: "I can thank about 6,000 people for this award. I want to thank my teammates, the coaches and everybody."

He then expressed his disappointment that the Trojans did not make the Rose Bowl this year.

Garrett, asked about the possibility of professional football, replied: "I'm concentrating so much on this season I haven't really thought about pro ball. I think I could make it, but I really don't know what my plans are."

Garrett, his parents, Coach McKay and USC President Norman Topping will go to New York next Wednesday for presentation of the award Thursday at the Downtown Athletic Club.

Duncan, Whatley To Head QBC

James Duncan and Everett Whatley have been elected co-captains of the Big Spring Quarterback Club. They replace Stanley Ballou and Jack Griffin, who are completing a full year in office.

Duncan is associated with his father, Dave, in the drilling business here and makes his home at 1300 W. 16th Street. Whatley is transmission supervisor for the Texas Electric Service Company and resides at 1023 Stadium.

The election results were announced at Tuesday night's meeting of the QBC. Action films of last week's football game between Big Spring and San Angelo were shown to a sparse gathering.

Chena Gilstrap Decides To Call It Day As Coach

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — One of the most colorful sports figures in the Southwest, Claude (Chena) Gilstrap, stepped down as Arlington State head football coach Tuesday.

He remains director of athletics at the college.

"You don't like to quit when you're winning. You don't like to quit when you're losing. There's just no good time to quit," the veteran coach said.

Gilstrap's Rebels closed their football season last week. They won six games and lost three, tying for second place in the Southland Conference.

School spokesmen stressed the decision was Gilstrap's and said they considered him one of the country's finest coaches.

His successor has not been named.

Since gaining senior college status, Arlington State has won 34 football games, lost 31 and tied one in seven seasons.

In 1956 and 1957 the Rebels played in the Junior Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., and became the only team to win two games. Gilstrap said he felt football prospects at the growing school

Hawks Leave For Kansas

Coaches Buddy Travis and Verdel Turner and members of the HCJC basketball team departed shortly via bus before noon today for Garden City, Kansas, where at 3:45 p.m. Thursday they open play in an eight-team JC tournament.

The Hawks' first round opponent will be Highland, Kansas, runner-up to Moberly, Mo., in its own region last year and owner of a 21-6 record in 1964-65.

The Hawks' games will not be broadcasted locally.

In other first round games Thursday, Northeastern, Oklahoma, plays Eastern Arizona. Garden City tangles with Cameron, Okla., and Dallas Baptist (formerly Deatur) clashes with Dodge City.

If the Hawks win their first test, they return to competition against the Dallas Baptist-Dodge City game at 8:45 p.m. Friday. If they lose to Highland, they try the loser in that contest at 3:45 p.m. Friday.

The Hawks, who won their first and only start of the year, are assured of playing three games in the tournament.

War Widows Numerous In Georgia City

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Residents of this east Georgia city are reminded often that Columbus is the home of Ft. Benning and the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division.

But it's not a pleasant reminder. Telegrams arriving almost daily from the Defense Department bring the sad news that soldiers from the base and the division are dying in the war in Viet Nam.

Perhaps no other city in the nation sees more of its population dwindle each week because of the fighting in Southeast Asia. On this Thanksgiving Eve, perhaps no other city is more unified in sorrow for its citizens.

ELEVEN TELEGRAMS

Monday the Defense Department sent 11 telegrams to Columbus telling widows and parents their loved ones died in bitter fighting in the Ia Drang Valley last week.

Tuesday six more telegrams told of Columbus soldiers "killed in action."

Today...? A week ago Imogene Ferrell read of the heavy fighting by the 1st Cavalry at the foot of a mountain named Chu Pong in Viet Nam.

WALKED STREETS

"I walked the streets all day," she said. "I don't know why I wasn't run over. When I got home, I tried to tell my children, 'You know your father is in the thickest fighting? He might not get back.'"

A list released by the Defense Department Tuesday of 39 men killed in the war read: "Sgt. William A. Ferrell, husband of Mrs. Imogene Ferrell, Columbus, Ga."

"He did everything for his family," she said. Then she smiled. "But we were second to the Army. A neighborhood boy called him the 'Old Sarge.'"

HONOR GUARD

Ferrell was a member of the presidential honor guard for the inauguration of President Johnson and his widow tells proudly of his Army record which was "without a black spot."

The many widows here are reacting in different ways to news of their husbands' deaths.

Sara Elliott was informed Sgt. Billy Elliott was killed when a grenade exploded at his feet.

In her grief, she still took time to take clothes and dishes to a family whose trailer home had burned.

Red Warsaw Pact Commander Named

MOSCOW (AP)—Army Gen. Vasily Kazakov, 67, has been named commander in chief of the Communist Warsaw Pact forces, Tass reported Tuesday.

Highlights From Day In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is hoping for a special present—Christmas at home.

A Viet Nam peace march is scheduled in an "affirmative and creative" tone. The curtain falls on the 75-year-old heart patient is expected to be on his feet in two weeks.

The five-star general was moved by train to Washington after spending two weeks at the Ft. Gordon, Ga., hospital. He suffered a heart attack—his second in 10 years—Nov. 9 while vacationing at Augusta, Ga.

Eisenhower — described as feeling fine and in good spirits — will spend Thanksgiving in his hospital suite. It wasn't known whether there would be a family dinner.

MARCH: "The tone of the minimum controversy."

EISENHOWER: Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital say that if all goes well, Eisenhower will be released shortly before Christmas.

The government and officials of four major aluminum companies have signed an agreement which will allow the slow sale of 14 million tons excess stockpiled aluminum.

The company — Alcoa, Kaiser, Reynolds Metals and Olin Mathieson—promise to buy 150,000 tons before the end of the year plus at least 100,000 tons annually thereafter until the excess is depleted.

The agreement comes following a dispute in which the companies raised their prices, then backed down when the government said it would sell 300,000 tons on the open market.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.: "It verges on frivolity to suppose that the United Nations could pacify Viet Nam."

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN (c. 1965. By The Chicago Tribune) North-South vulnerable. South deals.

NORTH: 763, 2, K 109, A Q J 9 5 4. WEST: K 10 5, K 10 8 6 4, A 8 2, 8 7. EAST: J 9 8 4, A 9 7 5, 7 6 3, 6 3. SOUTH: A Q 2, Q J 3, Q J 5 4, K 10 2.

The bidding: South 1♣, West 1♥, North 2♠, East Pass. South 2NT, West Pass, North 3NT, East Pass.

Opening lead: Six of ♠.

When declarer is running a long suit at no trump, a stoical attitude is an essential characteristic for the defenders, since they may be subjected to considerable pressure in discarding.

In today's hand, taken from a recent team-of-four match, one West gave away the whole show to the declarer, while his counterpart at the other table overcame adversity by maintaining a stiff upper lip and not revealing his difficulties to the opposition.

The bidding was identical at both tables and against South's three no trump contract, the opening lead was the six of hearts. East put up the ace and returned the five, his fourth best. South's jack was covered by West's king and a third round cleared the suit.

With only eight top tricks available, both declarers decided to run the club suit first in order to apply the maximum pressure against the defenders. One West was fully bent on making it clear to his partner that he had the situation "well in control" and, in order to relieve East of any anxiety in discarding, West played the eight of diamonds on the third round of clubs followed by the ten of spades on the next club.

As the suit was continued, West found the discarding much less to his liking, however. He had only one spare card left, the deuce of diamonds and, when the last club was led, he was in serious trouble. He did not wish to give up one of his hearts, for they represented the setting tricks, so he reluctantly parted with the five of spades, hoping that East had the queen.

South was fully tuned in on his opponent's performance and, when a spade was led from dummy, he promptly played the ace from his hand—dropping West's king and establishing the queen for a ninth trick.

At the other table, West adopted a more blasé attitude. Once the heart suit was cleared, he was aware that East had filled his role in the defense and would be a mere spectator for the balance of the deal. There was no reason then for West to inform anyone of his own holding.

West discarded in an impassive manner—first the deuce of diamonds, then the five of spades, the eight of diamonds and, finally, the ten of spades. When the three of spades was led from dummy, declarer had nothing to go on and he elected to take the finesse. West finally came to life, spreading his hand and claiming the last four tricks, to pin a 200 point defeat on South.
