First Space Rendezvous Plans Bright

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell Jr. sped smoothly around the world today and preparations moved ahead at a fast rate for the attempt by two manned Gemini spacecraft to carry out the world's first rendezvous in space.

Paul Haney, the voice of Mission Control at Houston, reported pad crews were running 14 to 16 hours ahead of schedule in the race to launch astronauts Walter Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford in the Gemini 6 spacecraft from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

The launch is scheduled for Dec. 13, in the ninth day of the scheduled Gemini 7 endurance mission, but Haney said Flight Director Chris C. Kraft was looking into that eighth day possibility.

SLIM POSSIBILITY
At Cape Kennedy, however, a space agency spokesman said the crew was that far ahead in only one phase of the operation — the electrical mating of the spacecraft to the Titan 2 booster rocket.

A spokesman for the Martin Co., prime rocket contractor, said the booster phase of the preparations was only about four hours ahead. He added that the possibility of a Dec. 12 launch was rather slim.

The Gemini 6 spacecraft will fly at 17,500 miles an hour in pursuit of the Gemini 7. Pilots of the two ships will attempt to rendezvous in the skies and score a spectacular space first by flying in formation several hours.

Gemini 7 began its 28th orbit at 8:40 a.m. Big Spring time. As Borman and Lovell awoke from a sound sleep, Russia was attempting to stage its own spectacular.

"GOOD MORNING"
Haney reported the tracking station at Carnarvon, Australia, had called the Gemini 7 several times before the astronauts awakened, but that Lovell responded with a cheery "good morning to you."

A short time later, Navy Cmdr. Lovell was given permission to perform the first "space

Vote Forces French Chief Into Run-Off

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle maintained silence today after French voters handed a stinging rebuff to his bid for first-round victory in the presidential election.

With a record turnout of 84.9 per cent of the voters, De Gaulle polled only 43.96 per cent of the vote in the first round of voting Sunday. This forced him into a run-off Dec. 19 with left-winger Francois Mitterrand, the No. 2 man in the six-man race.

"HE'S FIGHTER"
Some Gaullist officials had predicted before the election that if De Gaulle did not get the massive endorsement he wanted, he would refuse to run in the second round. Other officials differed.

"The general is a fighter," said one supporter, "and he will not abandon the combat now."

A second-round victory was considered in the bag for De Gaulle if he runs. Although his image was bruised by the outcome Sunday, it is not likely that he will change his attitudes and ways.

BLOW TO PRIDE
In department after department where he had shown strength in other electoral tests, De Gaulle polled less than 50 per cent of the votes.

His pride must have suffered additionally from the knowledge that election of the president by direct vote was the result of a constitutional change he had inaugurated.

Only once before, in 1848, did French voters have a direct say about who would be elected president.

LATEST COUNT
These were the results from nearly 24 million valid ballots in metropolitan France:

Charles de Gaulle 10,304,007 for 43.96 per cent.
Francois Mitterrand 7,655,042 for 32.04 per cent.

Jean Lecanuet 3,770,771 for 15.78 per cent.

Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancour 1,269,095 for 5.31 per cent.
Pierre Marchais 414,056 for 1.73 per cent.

Marcel Barbu 278,420 for 1.15 per cent.

OVERSEAS VOTE
Still to be recorded were returns from about 446,000 voters in overseas territories.

The record vote was probably caused by two important factors: it was the first time in more than a century that Frenchmen took part directly in choosing a president. And it was the first presidential campaign where the candidates entered millions of homes via television.

Interest was kept high at the unusual sight and sound of men castigating De Gaulle and his policies.

NOT SURPRISING
Mitterrand, 49, got his support from the Communists, the Socialists and some radicals, and his total was not surprising.

However, the man who kept De Gaulle from winning a majority was a new face on the national scene: Jean Lecanuet, a 45-year-old Catholic centrist senator. He hit the European unity theme hard, and his good looks didn't hurt him with women voters.

Base Operation Cuts To Affect Webb Unit

Interceptor Sqdn. To Be Inactivated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military base operation changes announced today by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara will affect Air Force installations in seven Texas cities.

The Pentagon said relocation of the 12th Air Force headquarters from Waco and other units concerned include those located to Bergstrom will result in a saving of $3,030,000 a year, allow a reduction of 30 civilian employees by the Air Force and permit reassignment of 475 military personnel to other duties.

Other Texas bases affected by announced by Secy McNamara include:

Ellington AFB, Houston, where the 924th and 925th Reconnaissance Squadrons will be inactivated. The base then 12th Air Force headquarters will be transferred to the Air Force base, Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls, where there will be a phase out of B52 aircraft operations. No indication was given as to what effect this will have on personnel.

WEBB AFB
Webb AFB, Big Spring, where the F104 fighter interceptor squadron will be inactivated, allowing the release of 246 military personnel for assignments elsewhere and a reduction of four civilian AF employees effecting an annual savings of $1,738,000.

Carroll AFB, Fort Worth, where B52 aircraft operation will be phased out. No information was given as to how personnel will be affected.

Biggs AFB, El Paso, where the Bomber Wing and supporting units will be inactivated, B52 aircraft operations phased out, and the defense systems evaluation squadron relocated.

This will permit a transfer of the base to the Army. Release of 2,388 military personnel for assignment to other duties and 305 reduction in civilian employees of the Air Force will effect an annual saving of $19.6 million.

Phase Out To Cover 2 Yrs.

The announcement regarding the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB made plain that Webb will continue its primary basic mission of training jet fighter pilots.

While details were lacking, it is anticipated that the transition will be a gradual one as the F-104s are phased out. Ultimately the craft here will go to Homestead AFB, Fla., the larger of two homes of the F-104s. The phase out is not due to be completed before Oct. 1, 1967.

The 331st FIS, commanded by Lt. Col. M. W. Shareck dates back to 1942 and was shifted to Webb AFB in August 1958 from Stewart AFB, N.Y. It is an Air Defense Command element and is charged with being on a round-the-clock alert to protect the southern borders of the country from any unidentified aircraft. The unit has functioned as a tenant of the Air Training Command at Webb.

CONG WARNING
The Viet Cong warned of "punishing new blows" against Saigon, similar to the terrorist attack on a U.S. enlisted man's billet Saturday. Eight persons were killed, including one American.

Along the coast 260 miles northeast of Saigon, a U.S. Marine amphibious force swept across a Communist stronghold after storming ashore Sunday and killing 14 Viet Cong. Eleven others were reported killed by fire from 7th Fleet destroyers and attack planes.

As Health Center Opened

Over 600 Take Tours Of New Health Center

More than 600 persons Sunday filed through a gleaming new building, the Dora Roberts Foundation Health Center, to see the new medical facilities described as "strengthening the heart of the community."

Using gold scissors to clip a red ribbon, Foundation Board Chairman Horace Garrett formally opened the new center. Beside him were Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Eloise Waters of Houston, Roger Canter of Midland, and Spring High School band, which gave a preceding concert.

Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. Larry Crow registered guests, and the visitors were given conducted tours by members of the Jaycee-Elites, along with members of the Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors Club were present in their red coats to assist in the formalities.

Special visitors included city and county commissioners who have cooperated in furnishing funds to the center, and a number from such cities as Abilene, Midland, Sweetwater and Odessa.

There were brief dedicatory ceremonies, with acknowledgments given to the many who have had a part in erecting the new plant—and then the public inspected the various rooms and new therapy devices which are helping restore normalcy to various victims of crippling diseases.

Present were all members of the board of directors of the Dora Roberts Foundation, which agency donated upwards of $170,000 for the land and building.

The Rev. V. Ward Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, presided at the dedication ceremony. He said the center was a "heart" for the community, and that it was a "new beginning" for the community.

Russian Capsule Alters Its Course, Near Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet space capsule neared the moon today as scientists waited to see whether it would succeed in making a soft landing.

Luna 8, a 3,421-pound bundle of instruments, rockets and essay by the impossibility of casing, was scheduled to reach an area of the moon's surface called the Ocean of Storms this afternoon about 4:50 p.m.

The moon capsule's course was altered Saturday to ensure a landing in this region, the Russians announced.

As Luna 8 approaches the moon, retrorockets are supposed to fire, braking the craft to a gentle descent through the airless lunar atmosphere. This is a tricky maneuver made necessary by the impossibility of using parachutes, which need an area of the moon's surface air to support them.

Twice earlier this year, Soviet moon rockets failed to perform the maneuver correctly and crashed, smashing the instruments. A third attempt missed the moon.

CHRISTMAS SEALS fight TB and other RESPIRATORY DISEASES

International Wives Honor Mrs. Taute

Mrs. Donald Van Meter was hostess Wednesday as the International Wives Club honored Mrs. August F. Taute at a surprise farewell party. Mrs. Taute, wife of the departing wing commander at Webb Air Force Base, was to leave with her husband today for their new home in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The party was held in the director's quarters of the Veterans Administration Hospital where Mrs. Van Meter wore a black crepe sheath as she greeted guests. The honoree was attired in a wool tweed suit which she wore with an orange blouse. Mrs. Taute was presented a gold bracelet and a tray cloth on which each member of the club had written her name and native country.

Mrs. Al Valdes, president, conducted a brief business session during which holiday parties were planned. The children's Christmas party for Sunday was discussed, and a dinner party was scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Children's Christmas Party Held At Pavilion

Over 40 children attended the Christmas party held Sunday afternoon under the sponsorship of the International Wives Club. The party was held at the Webb green tapers which matched the napkins, and crystal and silver appointments were used. In tribute to Mrs. Taute, a large white cake was topped with a confection bouquet of yellow roses and appropriately inscribed.

Mrs. Van Meter was assisted in serving by Mrs. Valdes and Mrs. James Price.

The next regular meeting of the club will be Jan. 6 in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Six From Snyder Join Card Play

Forty players met for duplicate games Sunday afternoon at Cosden Country Club, including three couples from Snyder.

Winners were Mrs. R. R. McEwen and Mrs. Hudson Landers, first; Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Roundtree of Snyder, second; Mrs. Riley Foster and Mrs. Rogers Hefley, third; Mrs. Carl Blomshard and Harry Williamson, fourth; and tied for fifth and sixth place were Mrs. Robert Dyer and Mrs. Wally State and Mrs. Elmo Wasson and Mrs. A. Swartz.

Engaged

Capt. (Ret.) and Mrs. James P. Smith of Denver, Colo., are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Suzanne Lee, to Steven M. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sullivan of Spokane, Wash. The bride-elect attended Big Spring High School from 1960 to 1962 and is attending Colorado State University. The prospective bridegroom is associated with Corning Glass Inc., in Los Angeles, Calif. The wedding is scheduled June 25.

Anna Smith Receives State Association Post

Miss Anna Smith, Dean of Women and Director of Women's Physical Education at Howard County Junior College was elected vice president elect of Health and Safety Education which is a division of the Texas Health, Physical Education and Recreation Association.

Miss Smith has served as representative council member on the executive board during the past year.

The association, which has a membership of 3500, held its meeting in the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel in Houston the past week with 1000 members present. For 1966 the convention site will be in Dallas, and in 1967 will move west to El Paso.

Others attending from Big Spring were Miss Arah Phillips, principal of Jack and Jill Kindergarten and Mrs. Jane Upton and Mrs. Naomi Graham, both of Ruppel's Junior High School.

Mrs. Upton is chairman of the Physical Education Section of Texas State Teacher's Association of District IV. She participated in several committee meetings during the convention.

OES Club Has Party

COAHOMA (SC)—The Past Matrons Club of the Order of the Eastern Star met for a holiday breakfast Saturday morning in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club.

Mrs. Don McKinney presided for the business session, after which a gift exchange was held.

Hostesses were Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Ernest Garrett, Mrs. Joe Miller and Mrs. Jasper Gibson. Eighteen attended.

Eastern Star To Meet For Party

The Eastern Star Chapter No. 67 will have their regular meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple and will gather immediately afterward for a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Ora Johnson, 800 Main.

Walter Pillows Feted At Coffee

COAHOMA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pillow, recently married, were honored Friday evening with a coffee in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Roberts.

Twenty guests attended and were served from a table covered with a white lace cloth with white underlay. The centerpiece was a circular arrangement of red poinsettias and candles.

Hostesses, members of the Coahoma Church of Christ, presented the couple with a set of Bible commentaries.

Hyperions Hear Talk

The new trend and the old trend in Christmas flower decorations was the topic discussed at the Saturday afternoon meeting of the 1930 Hyperion Club. Twenty members met at the home of Mrs. Horace Garrett, 715 Edwards, where Mrs. Lester Morton was cohostess.

Mrs. A. Swartz introduced Roy Peet, of Estah's Flowers, guest speaker. He illustrated Christmas decorations using arrangements of fresh flowers and for permanent arrangements, using such items as antique wooden candle holders, drift wood and an old boot. He used some form of lighting with all arrangements and stressed that any bright color may be used for Yule season decorations.

Mrs. R. W. Thompson reported that a needy family had been approved to receive the club's Christmas basket.

1946 Hyperions Note Yule Season

Tall red candles surrounded by holly formed the centerpiece at the Friday evening dinner of the 1946 Hyperion Club. The 17 members and guests met at the Ramada Inn for hors d'oeuvres and dinner. Mrs. Milton Talbot and Mrs. Donald Terry were hostesses.

Dr. H. M. Jarrett gave the invocation, and Mrs. Jerry Jenkins introduced Mrs. C. B. Marcum who gave a program entitled, "Happiness."

For the program session, each person wrote a short description of what they regarded as happiness. The total summary was that happiness is living in America.

Dr. Milton Talbot gave the closing prayer.

Church Class Has Friday Meeting

Plans for a needy family Christmas basket were discussed at the Friday evening party of the Gleaners Sunday school class of Baptist Temple Church. The members met at the home of Mrs. A. F. Gilliland, 1010 E. 12th, with Mrs. T. A. Melton as cohostess.

Mrs. Nannie Garrett gave the opening prayer, and Mrs. M. S. Warren gave the devotion, "Bread of Life."

Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served from a table centered with seasonal decorations.

The next meeting will be Jan. 7 at the home of Mrs. Melton.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Give Recipes With Christmas Greeting

Dear Heloise: Here is a Christmas card idea I thought I should get off to you before I completely lose my mind in the last minute rush.

Each year, as I address my Christmas cards, I type my favorite easy "recipe of the year" on little index cards, and shoot them along with my Christmas cards.

You will be surprised who you will hear from months later — after they have tried the recipe.

This keeps a Christmas card from being so routine, doesn't it? ... Early Bird

I think your idea is great. Heloise

Dear Heloise:

This little hint makes Christmas happier for our children: We have always encouraged them to select, pay for, and wrap their gifts for each other. After several years of watching these gifts being overlooked in favor of the bicycle, doll, etc., etc., and seeing the unhappiness this caused, we decided to allow the children to exchange their own special gifts to each other on Christmas Eve.

Our children now look forward to Christmas Eve as much as they do to Christmas morning. ... Mrs. Joseph Sanford

Dear Heloise: Since I am the "gift-wrapper" in our family, I am always looking for ways to make the job easier and more enjoyable.

At Christmas time, my biggest problem was keeping scissors and pen at my fingertips, without having to search for them each time they were needed.

I solved my problem by tying a lengthy, different colored ribbon to each one, and hung them around my neck. ... Tony Fay Tuttle

Dear Heloise: Last Christmas a relative gave his wife an electric stove for Christmas—it was a toy stove! On it was a card telling her to select a real stove for herself. She was overjoyed at her husband's thoughtfulness, as half the fun of getting a stove was in selecting the one she wanted. Husbands ... take notice! ... Rita

That husband is a wizard, and his wife is a lucky gal! This clever idea could apply to any appliance, piece of furniture, etc. ... Heloise

Dear Heloise: Here is something new in the way of Christmas decorations for a small tree.

Use gum ball machine toys and fried marbles to trim your miniature tree. They will reflect light, and make a very showy tree. Evelyn Page

Dear Heloise:

Before cutting dates, figs, gum drops, etc., for those holiday cookies, spread two or three tablespoons of granulated sugar on a plate.

As you cut the dates, figs, or gum drops with your kitchen shears, roll each piece in the sugar. The pieces won't stick together, and will spread out in the batter. ... Delaware

Vatican's Holy Office Due Broad Revision

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today ordered a broad revision of the Vatican's Holy Office, successor to the Inquisition, and said Roman Catholics brought before it must have the right of defense.

The Pope's launching a long-promised reorganization of the Vatican curia, or central church administration, brought the biggest changes to the Holy Office since it emerged from the Inquisition in 1542.

It had been the foremost of the congregations, or agencies, a the Vatican and had the title of "Supreme Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office."

BROUGHT DOWN
Pope Paul today brought it down to the same level with the other congregations, deleting the word "supreme" and giving it a new title: "The Sacred Con-

Sukarno Serves Home Challenge

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno challenged the Indonesian Parliament today to relieve him if it is dissatisfied with the way he is running the country.

There was no indication that the 600-member provisional People's Consultative Assembly would take up the challenge. It elected Sukarno president for life in 1963.

War On Hunger Poses Uncertainty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Evidence is appearing that the United States may be somewhat uncertain about the strategy it should adopt in battling what is developing as a worldwide war against hunger.

This uncertainty — assuming of course, that it actually exists — appears to flow from differences in methods of attack that have come from various segments of the U.S. government and apparent delays by the White House in outlining a course of action.

There are two general ways the United States can help in what may likely become a war to prevent starvation in many areas with accompanying unrest, disorders and even revolution.

One is to begin an all-out drive to expand American farm production to help other surplus producing countries feed the world. The other is to begin a major campaign to help undernourished areas develop their own agricultural resources, and offer supplemental supplies from this and other well-to-do countries.

BIG ISSUE

It is possible that a sharp controversy may develop between backers of these two different approaches. The matter could become a big issue in the next session of Congress.

Agriculture and foreign aid officials under President Johnson favor the first approach, helping developing nations improve their own food-productive capacity, but continuing to offer supplementary supplies from U.S. production.

But there are those in Congress — led by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D. — who hold strongly to the view that famine is literally on top of the world and there is neither time nor agricultural resources in the hunger areas to meet even an appreciable portion of the needs.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman is a leading proponent of the idea that United States should emphasize development of food production in backward areas. The secretary told a meeting of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization at Rome this week:

CAN HELP

"We know that food aid by itself cannot solve the problem of world hunger, although it can contribute to that end. World hunger can be finally solved only in those areas where it is prevalent. The hungry nations themselves have to do much of the job. The well-fed nations can help."

Freeman has said he sees no need, at least in the near future, to make much relaxation on controls which now limit production by American farmers.

Freeman says he is concerned lest this country delude itself into believing that it can feed the world.

Just what position Johnson will take on this issue is uncertain.

Interstate Oil Compact Commission Meets

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Oil and gas conservationists from 33 states poured into Corpus Christi today for the annual meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

Texas Gov. John Connally, commission chairman who will be replaced at the body's business meeting Wednesday, arrived late Sunday. He made his first appearance Sunday night with Mrs. Connally at a reception, the first commission function.

700 EXPECTED

About 700 persons are expected to attend the meeting.

Committee meetings were scheduled throughout the first day.

The new Texas pooling law was to be the subject of a morning paper presented to the commission's legal committee. The law gives the Texas Railroad Commission the power to require all operators in a reservoir to operate as a single unit or the operators fail to pool voluntarily.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation #9. At all drug counters.

Briton Repeats His Pledge To Avoid War In Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson today repeated his determination to end the Rhodesian rebellion without bloodshed and rebuffed the Organization of African Unity.

"The responsibility is ours," Wilson said in an interview with the London Daily Mirror, "and whatever the cost we shall not be pressured into starting a war which we believe to be wrong."

"We have made it clear time and time again that we shall not invade Rhodesia or get into a military clash on or over Rhodesia with forces controlled by the illegal regime" of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

The OAU warned on Friday that its 36 members would break off diplomatic relations with London if Britain did not crush Smith's white minority government by Dec. 15.

Meeting in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, the OAU also agreed in principle to declare war on Rhodesia if Britain failed to meet the OAU deadline.

Britain's Rhodesia policy has avoided direct military threats and emphasized economic and diplomatic sanctions instead. Last week Britain tightened economic pressures against Rhodesia and stationed Royal Air Force planes in neighboring Zambia to beef up Zambia's air defense.

British officials say the OAU threat, while serious, is weakened by the fact that nine of the Commonwealth members stand to lose their trading preferences if they break diplomatic relations with London. Britain also has leverage by controlling large amounts of economic aid to the African nations.

Wilson told the Mirror's political editor, John Beavan, that his previous mention of a possibly "limited operation" against Rhodesia did not mean an armed clash.

Wilson had told the House of Commons last Wednesday that Britain would not stand idly by if Smith should cut off electricity to Zambia from the Kariba Dam, on the Zambia-Rhodesia border.

"There would be more than one way open to us of dealing with the situation without bloodshed," Wilson told Beavan. Britain has pledged to safeguard Zambia against attack from Rhodesia and to protect the dam, which provides power for Zambia's rich copper mines.

Counterfeit Bill Haul Is Biggest Yet

HOUSTON (AP)—U.S. Secret Service agents have arrested a former printing firm operator and seized what they call the largest sum of counterfeit bills in Texas history: $1,250,000.

Boyd Ray Collins, 33, was arrested in his apartment Sunday.

The arrest of Barley Roach, 32, in Lufkin, Tex., Friday night reportedly led to Collins' arrest. Roach was nabbed on a drunkenness charge. He had six counterfeit $20 bills on him, officers said.

AT TYLER

Roach was charged before a U.S. commissioner at Tyler on a charge of possessing counterfeit money. He was released on $2,000 bond.

Collins, a salesman for a beverage firm who ran his own printing firm from January to September this year, was arrested before a U.S. commissioner in Houston on charges of making and possessing counterfeit money.

HELD IN JAIL

He was held in lieu of $10,000 bond.

John J. Kiljan, special agent in charge of the Secret Service in Houston, said some of the phony $20 bills got into circulation in Florida.

Airline Pilot Apparently Gave Life Saving Others

NORTH SALEM, N.Y. (AP)—Eastern Airlines pilot Charles J. White apparently sacrificed his life while helping to evacuate passengers after crash-landing his propeller-driven plane following a collision Saturday with a Trans World Airlines jet.

Three other persons lost their lives and 50 were injured. The two planes carried 112 persons.

SKILL PRAISED

Survivors and investigators alike praised the flying skill of White and of the TWA pilot, Capt. Thomas H. Carroll, who guided his craft — minus a 30-foot section of wing — to a safe landing at Kennedy International Airport.

Federal investigators are probing the cause of the crash. The body of Capt. White, 42, a World War II bomber pilot, was found Sunday midway down the runway and charred cabin of his four-engine Constellation.

"WONDERFUL JOB"

Standing beside the wreckage, Oscar Bakke, regional director of the Federal Aviation Agency, said: "All I can say is it is fantastic that people walked away. The pilot must have done a wonderful job."

The planes collided about two miles above northeastern Westchester County, flying at a combined speed of perhaps 1,000 miles an hour. White was piloting his ship on a shuttle run from Boston to Newark, N.J.

The TWA jet was en route non-stop to New York from San Francisco.

SUPERB AIRMANS

Arthur D. Lewis, Eastern's senior vice president and general manager, issued a statement in New York Sunday night praising the "superb airman" of White. Lewis said White apparently died while trying to help passengers from the flaming wreckage.

After the collision, Lewis said, White "found he could no longer control his aircraft through normal systems" and made the emergency landing.

Atomic Workers Will Negotiate

DENVER (AP) — The Oil Chemical and Atomic Workers Union will seek improvements in pensions, vacations, holidays and wages from the chemical industry in collective bargaining sessions in the next two years, A. S. Grosprun, president, said today.

The union's national chemical policy committee has drawn up a program that will be used in negotiating several hundred contracts with chemical companies. The contracts cover about 60 per cent of the 180,000 workers represented by the union.

control his aircraft through normal systems" and made the emergency landing.

Lewis added: "That he was able to bring his aircraft into the small field under twilight visibility conditions is little short of miraculous. After the impact, Capt. White went aft to insure the safe evacuation of his passengers and this performance of duty apparently cost him his life."

INTO HILL

George Rhoads, 38, of Cranford, N.J., a passenger aboard the Eastern plane, said: "He flew us right into that hill. He was fighting it all the way down."

Rhoads suffered only singed eyebrows and lashes. With the tail section of the plane gone, another Eastern official said, White "could use only engine power" and made a "very accurate approach" to the field by manipulating the throttle.

The dead are listed as Capt. White, of Rye, N.H., Dr. Joseph M. Wilkinson Jr. of Summit, N.J., a passenger, dead on arrival at Northern Westchester Hospital; Mrs. Donald Thibodeau, of Gloucester, Mass., died Sunday in Danbury Hospital; and Pvt. Dennis Flucker of Hoboken, N.J., whose body was found in the wreckage of the plane.

At Kennedy airport, Capt. Carroll said: "We saw the other aircraft just before we hit. We took evasive action."

State Violence Claims 22 Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Texas violence snuffed out at least 22 lives over the weekend with traffic accidents contributing heavily to the death toll.

The Associated Press counted 12 dead in auto mishaps during the period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

Mrs. Juanita Faye Ellis, 30, was found shot to death Sunday in her Dallas apartment. A justice of the peace ruled suicide.

A man identified by police as Perry Walter Smith, 23, died in a shooting Sunday in Dallas. Police arrested a 41-year-old man who said he fired a shotgun at Smith when Smith and some companions tried to crash a party at the suspect's home.

SHOT TO DEATH

Will Cummings, 40, was shot to death Saturday night in Houston. Officers charged Preston Walker, 29, with murder but gave no motive for the slaying.

Mrs. Margie Jones, 28, of Houston died Sunday when her car failed to make a curve on a farm road near Point Blank in San Jacinto County. Her husband was injured.

Rozelle Peeden, 36, died in Houston of multiple injuries and police said she was a beating victim. William Hugh Peeden, 36, her husband, was charged with murder.

James M. Williams, 23, was killed and two of his companions injured Sunday night when their small foreign car overturned at a curve near downtown Houston.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Elvira Inocencio, 10, was accidentally shot to death Sunday at her home near Lytle in the San Antonio vicinity. Officers said the girl's brother, Julio, 16, was unloading a .410 gauge shotgun when it accidentally discharged.

Phillip R. Snider, 16, a high school senior at Dallas, died Sunday from carbon monoxide poisoning, officers theorized after finding the youth's body in a car at Mountain Creek Lake. An autopsy was ordered.

Robert M. Klockner, 39, was killed near Sealy in Austin County Saturday night when a car knocked him from his horse as he rode alongside US 90 and three other cars hit him.

George Thornton, 26, was killed and three other persons injured Saturday in a car-truck collision two miles south of El Campo on Texas 71.

A two-car collision on a Fort Worth street Saturday night killed R. Lester Heathcock, 28, of Fort Worth. Three others were injured, none seriously.

HEAD-ON CRASH

Two persons died in a head-on collision Saturday on US 50 a mile west of Weatherford. They were Gene Robertson, 25, of Weatherford and Clayton Lee Posey, 45, of Paducah.

Ivy J. Smith, 68, of Silsbee died in a Beaumont hospital of injuries suffered when he was hit by a car as he stepped into a Silsbee street Saturday.

Miguel Serna, 21, was shot to death in a San Antonio cafe Sunday. Police held a 44-year-old man in connection with the slaying.

James Paige, 18, was shot to death at his Houston apartment Friday night. Fred Ellis Porter, 62, a neighbor, was charged with murder.

Harvey Eugene Jones of Palestine was killed Saturday when his car and a truck collided just east of Palestine.

AT CURVE

Richard Marvin Clendenin, 22, was killed early Saturday when his convertible ran into a dividing fence at a curve on a Houston freeway.

One person was killed in a Dallas County collision involving a car and a school bus taking youngsters to a basketball tournament. Killed was Mrs. Betty F. Glenn, 33, of Dallas, who was in the car. Six other persons were injured.

Lawrence Pero of Dallas stepped from his stalled car on US 80 just west of Marshall Friday night. He was hit by two cars and killed.

Walter T. Martin, 42, an engineer for the federal government, died of a gunshot wound Sunday and his 6-year-old son was critically wounded in a shooting at their Fort Worth home. Officers said they found a .22 caliber pistol and several notes near Martin. An inquest verdict was pending.

Billy Elbert Rains, 16, of Moscow, Tex., accidentally shot himself to death Sunday while hunting deer five miles west of Moscow.

Chilean Soldiers Head For Border

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Five platoons of Chilean soldiers were reported en route to a disputed border area today while Chile and Argentina completed plans to hold high-level ministers' talks to ease the border tension.

Space Watch

Mrs. J. H. Pearce sits with folded hands in her Palm Beach, Fla., home. She listens attentively to reports of the happenings of her grandson, Astronaut Frank Borman, command pilot of Gemini 7. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Togetherness Test Now On In Space

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—The marathon voyage of Gemini 7 is a true test of togetherness for two buddies, Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. and don't be surprised, doctors say, if they exchange a few sharp words toward the end of the flight.

For two weeks, the two astronauts will sit at each other's side, eating, sleeping and working at the same time in quarters no larger than the front seats of a small foreign car.

"I would be really quite surprised frankly if we don't see some fatigue or irritability that goes with fatigue," Dr. Charles Berry, the flight's medical director said. "That's an awfully small spacecraft."

"Whether that irritability will be directed toward the ground, and sometimes each other, is hard to tell because these guys get along real well together," he added.

The two voluble astronauts like to kid about that possibility. "We figure that by the 10th day we won't be speaking to each other," joked Borman before the flight. "It will be something like Jim calling up Mission Control Center and asking them: 'Will you please ask Borman to turn down the cabin light?'"

Borman, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Lovell, a Navy commander, are actually spending more of their day-to-day waking hours together than did astronauts on previous Gemini flights.

There's a reason for it. Air Force Col. L. Gordon Cooper, the command pilot on the eight-day flight of Gemini 5, and Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr., the pilot, complained that when one crewman tried to sleep, the slightest bit of noise from the other would be disturbing.

"We also found that to go to sleep at 2 o'clock or 3 o'clock in the afternoon just didn't work out as well as just going to sleep at your normal nighttime," Cooper said.

Officials want Borman and Lovell to maintain a work-rest cycle as near as possible to the one they keep on earth. The flight plan calls for a normal quitting time for the crew of about 9 p.m. (EST), when they go into a 10-hour rest and sleep period.

Vatican Meet Votes Schema After Contest

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican Ecumenical Council gave a decisive vote of approval today to its final schema, on modern world problems.

Pope Paul VI promptly accepted the document although an unusually large number of prelates voted against its blanket condemnation of nuclear warfare.

The fiercely contested schema emerged from the voting with the largest bloc of opposition votes of any of the council's decrees — 251 Council spokesmen said 2,111 prelates voted for it.

Spokesmen said the chapter on war and peace containing the condemnation of nuclear warfare had been opposed by 483 council fathers in earlier section-by-section voting. The chapter got 1,710 favorable votes, well above the required two-thirds majority but relatively low as council votes have gone.

Many American prelates opposed the ban-the-bomb tone in the section. Council spokesmen said another key section of the document, urging further birth control studies and suggesting Roman Catholicism's ban on contraception may not be final, was approved by a vote of 2,047-155 in the section-by-section vote.

The vote in St. Peter's Basilica completed the work of the three-year-old council. The schema and three others will be proclaimed at a public session in St. Peter's Basilica Tuesday and the council will come to a ceremonial end Wednesday.

Pope Paul VI proclaimed a five-month special jubilee for the world's 500 million Roman Catholics to promote the coun-

Dead Reach 90 In Ship Disaster

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Ann Martin (Marty) Jackson, 21, of Vero Beach, Fla., is the 90th victim of the Yarmouth Castle cruise ship disaster.

Miss Jackson, who died Sunday, had been undergoing treatment in the intensive-burn center at Jackson Memorial Hospital.

Minor Earthquake Jogs Tokyo Vicinity

TOKYO (AP)—A minor earthquake jogged Tokyo and vicinity tonight. The Meteorological Agency located the epicenter about 50 miles southeast of Tokyo on the Boso Peninsula.

cil's decisions. He outlined a program of celebration "in every diocese of the Catholic world from Jan. 1 to May 29 (Pentecost Sunday)." A jubilee is a period of indulgence, or remission of temporal punishment due for sin. During the jubilee indulgences are granted to persons taking part in the special services. At Tuesday's public session, Pope Paul also will issue the council decrees on religious liberty, the priestly life and missionary activity. The catch-all schema on modern world problems was one of the thorniest texts to go through the council process. Thousands of amendments were suggested. To the very end, different groups among the 2,300 council bishops expressed dissatisfaction with some aspect or other. The final statement on birth control upholds traditional Church teachings but leaves the way open for future changes in the ban on all contraceptive methods except the rhythm method. The section on war and peace deplores the arms race and mentions stockpiling of nuclear arms as a danger to the world.

A Devotional For The Day

He was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. (Isaiah 53:12)

PRAYER: Precious Lord, we thank Thee for Thy plan for our lives and for Jesus Christ, who was willing to become our mediator. We ask Thy divine guidance for ourselves and for all our fellowmen. In the Master's name we pray. Amen.

Checking On Calls

That marvelous instrument of communication, the telephone, is coming under increasing fire for violations of the right of privacy.

It is a bafflingly complex problem. There are waves of obscene calls, virtually untraceable. There are advertising pitches which one must listen to all the way through or have the home phone tied up indefinitely. The latest plague, now under study by a Senate commerce subcommittee, is anonymous recorded phone attacks on prominent citizens by far-right groups.

The subcommittee is considering legislation requiring identification of sponsors of far-right messages. It is questionable, however, how much good that would do. Spokesmen for the far right oppose such legislation on the dubious grounds that it would subject them to retaliation from leftists, but that would simply be compounding the misuse of the telephone to violate privacy.

The key question here, it seems to us, is whether the responsibility for policing telephone service rests primarily with government or with private enterprise. The telephone company itself should take all feasible precautions to assure that its customers are not offended by involuntary subject to obscenities, sales pitches and extremist propaganda of whatever shade. The idea of governmental monitoring of telephone messages is abhorrent, but it may come to that if telephone company management cannot discover more effective ways of handling the situation.

Tough Problem

Either North Korean or Communist Chinese pilots — exact identification is lacking — are practicing for combat in Russian MIG fighters by attacking unarmed U.S. photo reconnaissance planes near the Chinese border. They will find that the reconnaissance version of the F101 is a rather elusive target.

For a fighter plane, stripped of its ordnance, crammed with photographic gear and extra fuel tanks, must depend for survival on its speed and maneuverability. The F101 has both. If the North Korean air force had an effective air-to-air missile such as our Sidewinder, the story probably would be different. But their MIGs appear to be equipped only with conventional weapons, such as 20 millimeter cannon.

Nevertheless, the lot of a photo reconnaissance pilot is a difficult one. Often he must operate at almost the full limit of his fuel supply. He must fly at precise altitudes, flying steadily even when subject to anti-aircraft fire. He sits in cramped quarters for hours and never has the satisfaction of giving as much as he takes as fighter pilots do. He is the unsung hero of the war.

David Lawrence

All Business Factors Not Bright

WASHINGTON—President Johnson likes to make rosy forecasts about business conditions, but his record as a prophet is a bit tarnished by his prediction last January that federal budget spending would not go beyond $100 billion. Now, with only five months gone by in the current fiscal year, the White House is admitting that budget spending will rise to between $105 and $107 billion, and that the deficit will run somewhere between $7 and $8 billion and might go as high as $10 billion.

BUT THIS is not the only thing about the economic situation that is causing worry. Here are some of the other developments that are producing uneasiness:

1. The law of supply and demand has been seriously interfered with by the action of the President. The federal government has intervened to keep prices down in certain industries, but not all along the line.

2. Labor costs have been rising, and the administration has done little or nothing about this.

3. Interest rates naturally ought to go up in order to restrain the excesses in lending. But the administration has put its foot down on this proposal and has thereby interfered again with the law of supply and demand.

4. THE INCREASE in tax receipts is still $8 billion below what is needed to balance the budget. Meanwhile, state and local tax rates have been pushed upward.

5. The expected advantages in removing excise taxes are not material.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

We get the impression that nearly every time the President goes down to Texas something new is named for him. There is Johnson City, of course, which is named for his grandfather, and the LBJ ranch. More recent additions, include a Lyndon B. Johnson lake, a Lyndon B. Johnson state park, and a Lyndon B. Johnson street in nearby San Marcos. If this keeps up, we'll soon be reading an account along these lines:

"The President went directly from Lyndon field to Baines beach, where he boarded the Elisee Jay for a relaxing spin on Lyndon B. Johnson lake. After a picnic in Lynda bay, he asked an aide to telephone the LBJ ranch (Johnson 1-1964), where he was to meet a delegation from the Johnson City 4-L clubs (Life, Liberty, Love, and Lyndon), and ask them to meet him, instead, at the entrance to the new Lyndon B. Johnson park.

"The Presidential motorcade proceeded along Lady Bird turnpike (no billboards) through Baines center and Noddy junction, pausing only to view a new signboard reading, 'Entering Johnson (formerly Blanco) County.'

"The party returned to the ranch by way of the Lyndon B. Johnson dam and the new Johnson High School, where students gave him a copy of their school paper, the Lyndon Bee. A road near the ranch has been given a well-known German name in honor of the visit of Chancellor Erhard, an aide explained, because the President didn't want everything in the county named for him. The name of the road is Unter den Lyndon."

Raised Interest Rates Baffle Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is finally baffled.

He put the heat on business and labor to prevent inflation by keeping prices and wages down. But William McChesney Martin Jr. had his own ideas on how to prevent inflation, and Johnson couldn't do a thing with him.

Martin, just a few days short of 59, is a conservative, tight-money man and chairman of the Federal Reserve Board which under law is set up to operate independently of the President and Congress.

MARTIN'S SEVEN — MARTIN thought one way to put a brake on inflation was to raise interest rates, which was the opposite of Johnson's thinking. He feared higher interest would put a brake on the booming economy.

Sunday night the board, ignoring Johnson, went ahead, boosting the rates.

The man whose foresight in all this turned out best was Johnson's fellow — Texan and Democrat, Rep. Wright Patman, chairman of the House Banking Committee.

Last June, Martin made a speech at Columbia University, saying there were "disquieting similarities" between the present prosperity and the boom that preceded the 1929 market crash and the depression of the 1930s.

THE STOCK market promptly took a dive. Many brokers thought Martin's speech was a factor in that. Patman said Martin had parted company with the Johnson administration and should step out, letting the President appoint his own chairman.

(The President appoints the board members, with Senate approval, but he can't fire them. They have fixed terms. Martin's is 14 years. He was first appointed by President Harry S. Truman, was reappointed by President John F.

Kennedy.) Johnson's secretary of the Treasury, Henry H. Fowler, took a sunnier view than Patman. He said he didn't see anything in Martin's words foretelling action by the board to raise interest rates.

JOHNSON TALKED with Martin, said he saw no reason for

"gloom or doom." But months passed and Johnson must have sensed or learned what the board had in mind, for Sunday

the Washington Post said that last week Johnson phoned

Martin from his ranch, asking him down for a weekend talk.

Cup Of Tea Now Available

NEW YORK (AP) — It used to be easier in America to rob a bank in daylight than it was to get a decent cup of tea in a public place.

Things are looking up now. You can almost get a decent cup of tea in a bank while robbing it—banks do so much for one today.

ONE OF the signs of maturity in a civilization is its ability to muster the service of a drinkable tea.

Although America is regarded as a youthful land, it is now 345 years from that distant day when the Pilgrims first stepped ashore here in 1620.

Ever since then we have tried to perfect a proper cup of tea, and it seems to me that we've almost got the problem licked.

Essentially, the solution is simple. You put tea leaves in a porcelain enclosure that has a spout. Then you pour absolutely boiling water over it, pause and recite from memory the counties of Ireland including the six still under British rule, and pour.

THEN YOU sugar to taste, put in a little warm milk, and drink. You have all the liquid happiness that can be found under heaven.

Purists may insist upon refinements of this technique. They may say, for example, that good tea can only be made from free tea leaves, and they may criticize tea bags.

One of their bewhiskered jokes: "We mailed some tea bags to our cousins in County Mayo and, not knowing what else to do with them, they hung them as decorations on their Christmas tree."

Actually, of course, all you need to do to make good tea is the mutual association of boiling water, tea leaves — bagged or free — and porcelain.

Waitresses now know this in Damascus, Hong Kong, Glasgow and Dubuque.

THERE IS a variant known as instant tea made with cold water. It is not new. It was invented in Boston Harbor nearly two centuries ago by a number of unruly colonials dressed as Indians.

Tea is responsible for one of America's most firmly fixed habits.

During World War II our military tourists in Britain were annoyed because the English, even in the throes of battle, would pause at 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. to brew tea.

Our jeers have faded now and honest workingmen in our own land can continue on the job without pauses at about those same hours for what we call "the coffee break."

They aren't always necessary — but they usually make you much more comfortable. The hormones compensate while your system adjusts to the loss of activity of the ovaries. For full details, read my booklet, "Make Menopause Easier," which you may obtain by sending 25 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of this newspaper. The booklet explains that removal of the ovaries (as in a total hysterectomy) amounts to "surgical menopause."

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking," by Dr. Molner, will help you give up the habit. To receive a copy of the booklet, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Anyway, I don't think smoking is going to cure whatever degree of overweight she possesses, and I think you chose exactly the right word when you called weight an "excuse" to start smoking. She just wanted to smoke.

Around The Rim

Holiday Wish For The Also-Rans

In this holiday season, consider this a pitch for the also-rans, the guys who figure they were born never to stitch up an inside straight or those who have to eat peanut butter sandwiches at the end of the month because the doctor's bill dehydrated the bank balance on the 15th.

For some of them, holidays have a way of grabbing them but only as a reminder that life dined a wrong number for them. A little piece of holly on the hospital wall of a man dying with cancer might make a difference but I doubt it.

LESSEN THE SORROW and perhaps fog the memory of those who still tenderly carry flowers to the graves of their dead. May the wind blow kindly, if it has to blow at all, on those who can't afford overcoats. May the children of an unpopular family in a neighborhood never hear the gossip adults tell about the clan and repeat to their own get.

The street mendicants need some sort of hope for a better tomorrow. May their cups be filled for once, even if they blow the money on cheap wine.

DON'T LET TIME weigh too heavily upon those social misfits who must spend their holiday season behind bars. And allow those truly deserving of another chance to breathe the air of free men.

And for all the homeless pets which might be shivering hungry in the shadows, may the kids who sincerely need and want animal companionship bring them home to compassionate parents.

Bend a few rules, too, for those people whose mates have walked out on them and, if nothing else, restore their faith in people of the opposite sex and mankind in general.

AND FOR THOSE who are suffering the agonies of Hades and need someone to talk to, find someone with a sympathetic ear and time to listen. Prove to the children of the underprivileged and those of the minority races that Christmas is for them, too, if their only gifts be warm smiles of people who "seem" interested in their welfare and future.

FOR THE ANCIENT who might live in bitter seclusion, let a covey of carolers with the voices of angels serenade him in appropriate song from beneath his window.

Smile on some student who has always had trouble with geometry and make it a little more understandable and interesting to him.

Diminish the ranks of the losers and those who are sick from losing. Let him feel he can throw nothing but sevens for at least a little while.

Richard Starnes

Straight-Forward View Of Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — There is probably no person in the English-speaking world whose credentials as an expert on Viet Nam equal those of Bernard Fall.

Fall, a French national who now lives and teaches political science in Washington, left his youth and his health in the jungles of Viet Nam. He has written two classics on the war in Indo-China — "Street Without Joy" and "The Two Viet Nams" — and he is a prize lecturer at the Army War College. His words regarding the deepening American involvement in Viet Nam are worth heeding.

IN THE DECEMBER number of Ramparts Magazine (an excellent and too-little appreciated journal of honest reporting and expert opinion), Fall delivers himself of a piece which seems sure to become a classical statement of true American aims in Southeast Asia.

"The situation in Viet Nam," he writes, "isn't Munich, it's Spain. There is a test of wills as at Munich—but, above all, there is a test of military technology and techniques and military ideas."

FALL, WHO learned guerrilla warfare with the French underground in World War II and during the French campaigns against the Viet Minh, continues:

"One side believes it can win with a combination of guerrilla warfare and political ideology. The other side believes it can win with the massive use of military power. America may be able to prove, as the Germans and Italians did in Spain, that superior fire-power will carry the day in such a situation. One can find many people who will look at the last quarter-century in Spain and argue that if it took the Spanish Civil War with its 1,500,000 dead to produce a 'stable' Spain for 25 or 30 years, then the war was worth it."

PROFESSOR FALL adds that "it is not straining the analogy to suggest that there are now Americans who would make the same judgment of the war in Viet Nam: It may be a nasty claw-and-nail war but, what the hell, it's worth it if we come out on top."

With candor that is notably lacking in official pronouncements regarding Viet Nam, the writer spells out the precise stakes that both sides have laid on the line. "There are two theoretical casualties in this war," he writes. "One is the 'War of National Liberation' concept of the Communists, and the other is the American theory of 'Counterinsurgency.'"

"AT THE HEART of Counterinsurgency is the idea that people matter—that we are in Viet Nam to get people to fight for something they believe in rather than something we believe in. The new mix of air war and of land and sea and firepower in Viet Nam is one of technological Counterinsurgency—if you keep up the kill rate you will eventually run out of enemies. Or at least armed enemies. Of course, the whole country will hate you, but at least they won't resist you."

"I DON'T THINK we are buying Vietnamese stability in the long run out of the present operation," he continues. "What we are buying is an example—for Latin America and other guerrilla-prone areas. What we are really doing in Viet Nam is killing the cause of 'Wars of Liberation' and we may yet succeed."

Holmes Alexander

The M'Arthur Choice For Viet Nam

WASHINGTON—At his post-Thanksgiving conference, Secretary Rusk was on a "Know Nothing" jag. He ducked questions about "misinformation" and "major" American casualties in South Viet Nam. He didn't "sense" any pressures for the U.S.A. to step up its offensive and get the bloody war over with "once and for all."

WELL, THE President was out of the city and Defense Secretary McNamara was out of the country, so maybe the Secretary of State hadn't gotten the message. Some of us had faxed directly to the State Department from a background at the Pentagon where the comments, though off-record, had more substance. McNamara, in a planese interview before leaving for Europe and Viet Nam, had spoken of intensifying the bombing against North Viet Nam supply lines into the South. His official spokesman said this meant more "sorties" if not more bombers.

THERE ARE NOW probably nine North Viet Nam regiments (about 1800 soldiers in each) in South Viet Nam, and there might be more, rather than less, if we hadn't used our air power to the extent we have. Not only North Viet Nam, with troops, but Red China, with supplies, are now deeply involved against the American effort to put down the Viet Cong. Nobody said so directly, but a little imagination could picture a hovering set of scales in which the decision to bomb Hanoi, Haiphong and even Red China was being balanced against the risk of global war.

THOUGH THE State Department says next to nothing, and the Defense Department says very little, the facts have a way of making themselves known. We are at a point of choosing whether to go on exchanging casualties at a grisly but favorable rate—perhaps one American life for 5 or 10 enemy lives — or whether to defy "world opinion" by throwing our mechanized war machine into high gear. In the calculations is Gen. MacArthur's warning to President Johnson against getting "bogged down" in an Asian land war. But MacArthur, as recent publications show, didn't mean that we should never fight to win against Asian communism. He meant that we should use every weapon in the arsenal to pulverize Red China rather than bleed to death in the swamps and jungles.

HERE, AT THE end of another war year, we face the MacArthur Choice. It is the grim option between casualty trading and throwing the big punch. The President studies the cards in his hands, and these can be evaluated with fair accuracy.

Our ace cards are our nuclear weapons, which seem mighty enough to freeze the Communist World into inaction while we finish the job in Viet Nam. We still hold a nuclear monopoly over Red China. We still have at least a 3-to-1 superiority in nuclear-bearing intercontinental missiles over Russia, and a 6-to-1 superiority in intercontinental aircraft.

NO ONE CAN suggest any advantage in postponing the all-out strike for victory in Viet Nam. There seems to be no dodging the MacArthur Choice. Either we act decisively, or we may be bled to death for our indecision.

Old Puzzle

BANGALORE, India (AP) — More evidence has been uncovered to feed an ancient mystery: How far south in India did Alexander the Great's domain extend after his invasion in 328 B.C.?

Two men helping build a new runway at Bangalore airport uncovered an earthen urn containing 250 silver coins bearing the inscriptions "Augustus Caesar Divine" or "Maxim Pontiff."

Mysore state officials say the coins are 2,000 years old and in ancient times were legal tender in the Roman empire. But how did they get in Bangalore?

This city is in southern India, thousands of miles beyond what historians felt were the limits of Alexander's advance. He is thought to have stopped his armies in distant North India.

Two similar caches of coins have been uncovered in the Bangalore area—in 1908 and 1891.

In all cases, the coins, made of pure silver, were tightly packed in sealed urns.

Byron Neel's Moves You Safely, Fast

Byron Neel, agent for United Van Lines, has facilities to move you, or anyone else, anywhere in the United States. He has the men to do the moving, rapidly, efficiently, carefully, too.

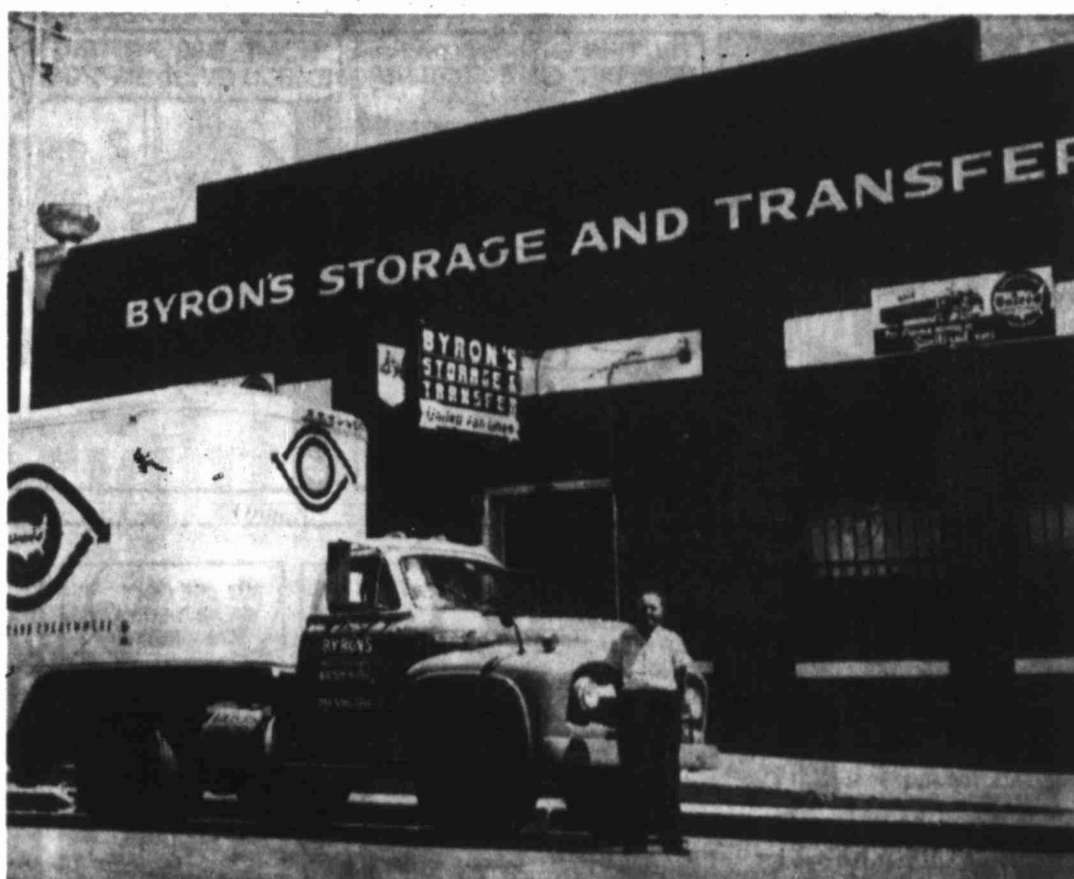

Byron's Storage and Transfer can move you in town, across town, or out of town. United Van Lines can move you out of the state, if that's what you want or even overseas, if you have to go that far.

At any rate, regardless of where you are moving to or from, Byron Neel's Storage and Transfer men and the huge vans they operate so well can eliminate a lot of the work which formerly applied when a family began moving about the country. —It was then a whole-family chore, but now you can move to Xanadu or anywhere else, with practically no trouble at all.

You can walk out of your house with only the clothes on your back and a "change" in your handbag, and relax. The packing, lifting, loading and, finally, arranging of things will be done by the movers, just as you tell them to. They'll even shift the furniture around until you are satisfied, if you don't go overboard about it.

All you need to do is to tell these hard workers when you want to move out of your present residence, when you want your furniture settled into your new abode, and precisely how you want it arranged. And of course, tell them where you're moving to.

One telephone call will do it all—straighten out all your moving problems, beginning to finish, chairs to rugs. That number is AM 3-7351. Or you may drop by the offices at 106 E. 1st and do your talking and planning in person.

They'll Move You Anywhere

Byron Neel, agent for United Van Lines, will have his men safely move your furniture and other household goods from here to yonder quickly, safely, efficiently, and even arrange the furniture as you wish.

Nalley-Pickle Services Dignified, Comforting

Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home, a member by invitation of the National Selected Morticians, a worldwide organization which keeps members informed of the latest developments in the profession of service to the departed and the bereaved, has served Big Spring and the surrounding area for more than a quarter of a century.

The funeral home, located at 906 Gregg in a beautiful, modern structure that typifies the dignified, yet efficient, services it offers, has kept pace with the demand for well-done services and comfortable facilities in keeping the confidence of those served, or to be served.

Coy Nalley and J. C. Pickle, owners of the establishment, have added the beautiful new Rosewood Chapel, where memorial services are conducted with the solemnity, dignity and understanding most needed by family members in the time of their bereavement. The sanctuary has been built with the knowledge that comfort, quietness and friendly service are absolutely most desired and appreciated when planning becomes difficult for relatives.

Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home, through long years of service to this community and area, has become the symbol of this comfort during the hours of bereavement.

Complete confidence in the dignity, training and abilities of the men and women of the home-chapel has led to a long-standing custom of families turning all arrangements over to them, with the assurance that everything desired will be carried out, even to the minutest detail.

Rosewood Chapel is designed to provide utmost privacy for the family during the services, to protect those attending services from inclement weather with a sheltered entrance; comfort in air-conditioned rooms during summertime services; controlled central heat in the winter; and ample parking entrances and space, with entry on three streets.

All operations are carried out in a professional manner at Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home, and services offered are complete. The home operates an ambulance service in addition to its other services.

Any information needed may be obtained by calling the professional employees and owners at AM 4-6331.

Dodge Cars Guaranteed

If you are interested in an automobile that will always be a source of pride and satisfaction, take a long look at the 1966 Dodges at the Jones Motor Co. lot, First at Gregg.

All Dodges carry a 50,000-mile or five years guarantee on the power train, the most important part of any car.

The guarantee goes with the car, even if it is sold by the original owner, and many fine used cars falling into the eager hands of second or third owners are still covered under the five-year or 50,000 mile guarantee, which remains in effect as long as prescribed care is given the car—things any careful motorist automatically will do for his car.

State National Ready To Help

State National Bank of Big Spring has grown with the city and has recently installed the most modern drive-in windows available for customers who need to bank from their cars. These are on the north side of the bank, which is located at 124 Main, and give customers direct hand and voice contact with the tellers.

Thomas Supplies All Office Needs

Free, two-hour parking in downtown Big Spring has made it possible for customers to relax and shop unhurriedly, and that's just what Eugene Thomas, owner of Thomas Typewriter and Office Supplies wants them to do.

"We're loaded with supplies," Thomas said, "notebooks, fillers, typewriters, filing cabinets, chairs, desks—just about anything for any office. And we want Big Spring shoppers to come in and take all the time they want to look over what we have to offer them, for the holidays or just everyday shopping."

Royal McBee Corp., makers of the Royal typewriters, among the very best made anywhere, has chosen Thomas Office Supply as its representative for this area. Thomas has Royal electric, the Emperor and Electres models, and manually-operated models, as well as the most wanted and used portable Royals.

Farmers, ranchers, oil operating firms, and all business firms have been depending on Thomas for their supplies, and Thomas has tried to have everything necessary in stock for delivery at a moment's notice.

"Thomas Office Supply believes if a customer gets the right treatment and the right office supply needs, he will be satisfied," Thomas said. "The number of years we have been at the same location, giving good service and demonstrating proven ability to service office machines, makes any firm feel it has a stable place in the community. We have tried to give that service."

A store full of equipment and items includes Dyna-Typewriters in several sizes; Thermo-Fax copying machines; Speed-O-Print copying and duplicating machines; desk pads and blot- ters; Pilouze postal scales; numbering machines; staplers (including saddle-back types); drawing materials; inks of all kinds; adding machine and cash register tapes and fillers;

Anderson Sets Over-All Pace

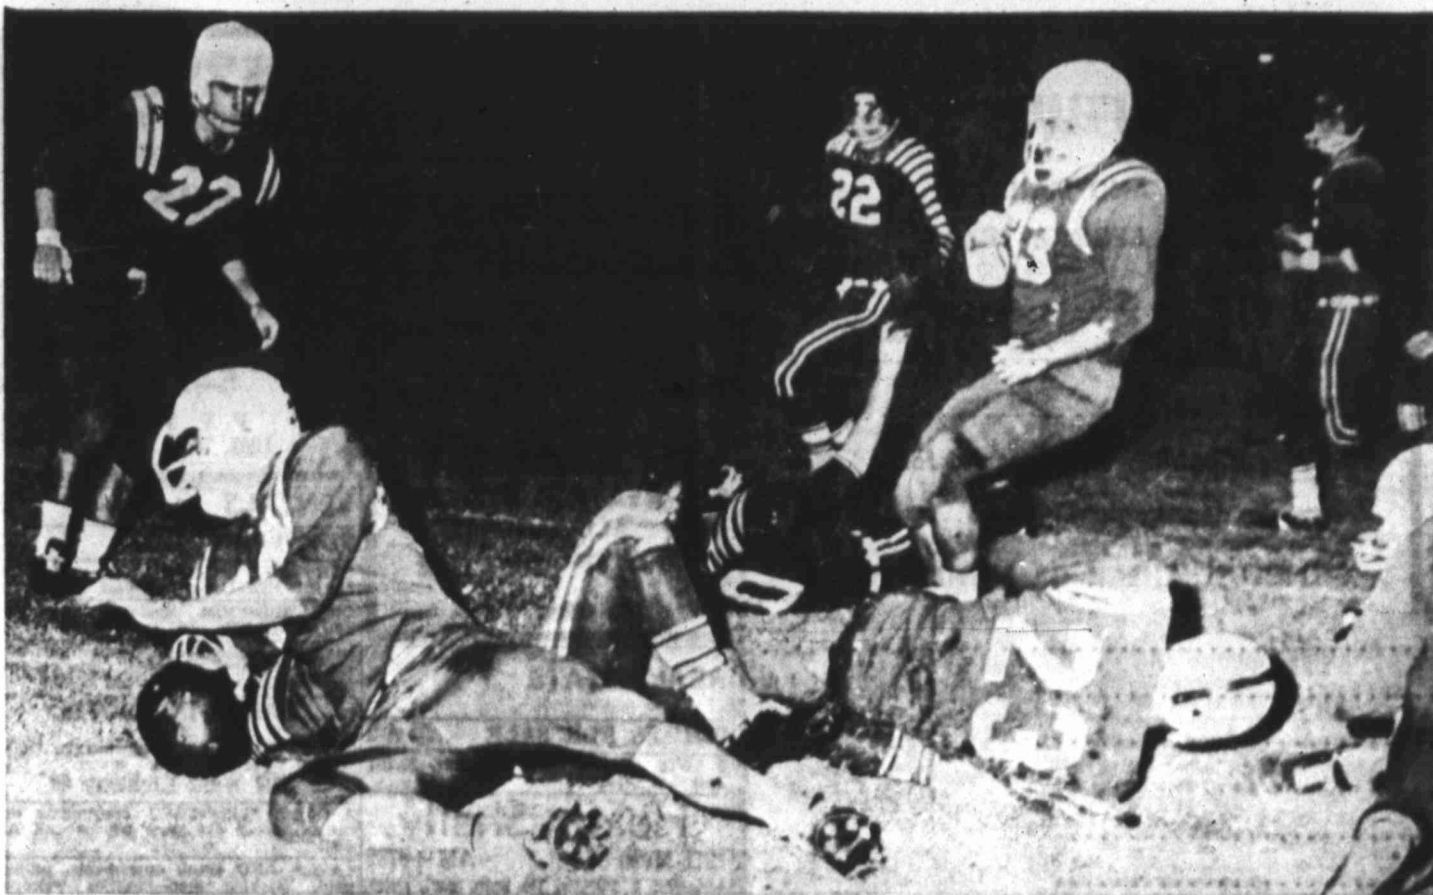

NEW YORK (AP) — All-America Mike Garrett of Southern California and Jim Grabowski of Illinois, two hard-hitting workhorses, finished 1-2 in the 1965 major college football rushing race.

Garrett, Heisman Trophy winner as the nation's top player, won the title with 1,440 yards, according to figures released today by the NCAA. The sturdy 5-foot-9 Trojan halfback carried 267 times in 10 games, only three less carries than the single-season record set in 1951 by Hardin-Simmons' Frank Goode, who played 12 games that year.

Garrett ended his varsity career with the three-season rushing record of 3,221 yards — 53 yards more than the previous high, set by Ollie Matson of San Francisco.

Grabowski, the Illini's 211-pound fullback, blasted his way for 1,258 yards in 252 carries.

Donny Anderson, Texas Tech's versatile All-America halfback, led for the second straight year in total yardage for rushing, pass receiving and returning kicks. He got 705 running, 797 receiving, 541 returning kickoffs and 64 running back punts for a 2,107 total.

CELTS IN DANGER OF LOSING GRIP ON THE NBA

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics, short-circuited by the loss of big Bill Russell and Sam Jones' prolonged absence, are in danger of losing their grip in the National Basketball Association's suddenly wide-open Eastern Division race.

Russell, the 6-foot-10 key to Boston's seven-year NBA reign, watched from the bench Sunday night as the Cincinnati Royals' Francisco at Omaha, Neb., in the only other game played. The scheduled weekend home-and-home set between Philadelphia

Butler Reduces The Deficit

Clemente Gains Second Bat Title

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roberto Clemente, 31-year-old Pittsburgh outfielder, has been officially crowned the National League batting champion for the second straight year and for the third time in his 11-year big league career.

The official averages released Sunday confirmed that Clemente, a native of Carolina, Puerto Rico, batted .329 in 1965. He finished 11 points ahead of runner-up Hank Aaron of Milwaukee.

Prothro Hot At Officials

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — As Tennessee Coach Doug Dickey expressed surprise, UCLA's Tommy Prothro today stuck to his claim that the Volunteers' Bruins football clash here Saturday was "the worst-officiated game I have ever seen."

Reached at his home in Los Angeles, Prothro said he "still feels the same way" concerning UCLA's 37-34 loss to Tennessee. He referred to his statement after the game that said: "It was the worst-officiated game I have ever seen. The pro all-stars couldn't have won out there today."

Dickey, meanwhile, defended Southeastern Conference officiating and said he felt Prothro's remarks were made under the stress of losing the inter-sectional tilt in the final minute of play.

The controversy stemmed from the Vols' 65-yard drive which culminated in a touchdown with only 39 seconds left and gave Tennessee the victory.

"They (the Vols) threw a lateral once and the officials called it an incomplete pass," Prothro said.

The fifth-ranked Bruins and seventh-rated Vols were the last of the nation's bowl-bound teams to complete the regular season. Tennessee, now 7-1-2, faces Tulsa in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston Dec. 18, while UCLA, 7-2-1, must battle top-ranked Michigan State in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

Two Southland Slates Unsullied

By The Associated Press

Abilene Christian and Arkansas State are the only undefeated teams left in the Southland Conference basketball campaign with just one week of the season having passed, but the former will get pretty shaky contemplating this week's schedule.

The Christians play such teams as Howard Payne, McMurry and Murray State of Kentucky. There just might be at least one defeat in that group.

Methodical Bills Operate On Oilers

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills, Eastern Division champions in the American Football League, handed the Houston Oilers their fifth straight loss with uninspired but workmanlike efficiency Sunday.

The score was 29-18, with more than half of Buffalo's points, 17, being scored on five field goals and two extra points by the league's leading scorer, Pete Gogolak.

His soccer-style field goals were good for 12, 12, 47, 34 and 19 yards. He missed only two, both from the 50.

Wray Carlton, 230-pound halfback, polished off the Oilers in the fourth quarter with an 80-yard touchdown run. Billy Shaw, 260-pound guard, shepherded him step for step down the sideline for all but the final five yards.

Bo Roberson threw a key block at about the five. The score and extra point gave Buffalo a 23-10 lead.

George Blanda entertained a sparse crowd of 23,087 in 70,000-seat Rice Stadium with a short pass to Dick Compton late in the game that Compton was activated from the Mobile, Ala., farm club just a week ago. The TD pass was his first catch for the Oilers.

Houston had a 7-3 lead in the first quarter when Buffalo came up with the kind of play for which there is no defense: the lucky play.

Quarterback Daryle Lamoni-ca faded back to pass. All his receivers were covered. He stretched way back as if getting ready to deliberately overshoot everybody. He was hit by Gary Cutsinger just as he released the ball.

The pass wobbled upfield only 20 yards — but directly to Roberson who just that moment broke into the clear. Roberson completed a 74-yard scoring play.

Hawks Face Irate Cisco

Howard County Junior College Jayhawks are on guard for a sand bagging as they invade the Cisco Junior College gymnasium at 8 p.m. today.

Cisco, a favorite, was upset here last month 104-82 in the opening performance by the Hawks. Since then, HCJC took third place in the Garden City, Kans., tournament and now stands 4-1.

Another cockle burr under the Cisco blanket is another unexpected loss, this one to Temple in the tournament in that city Friday. One other factor is that there is an intense rivalry between Cisco and HCJC, so everyone agrees the Hawks will have to be at their best to win this one.

Jethro Is Real Hero

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It was in the early hours of a morning in November, 1964, when the Dallas Cowboys were called upon for their 19th selection in the National Football League draft.

If you've ever been to an NFL draft you know at that point they're selecting for laughs. Dallas picked a 19th choice who is having the last laugh after Sunday's 21-19 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Jethro Pugh is his name. He's 6-foot-7 and tips the scale at 250 pounds. A defensive end, Pugh makes a career of running over offensive linemen, especially on field goal attempts.

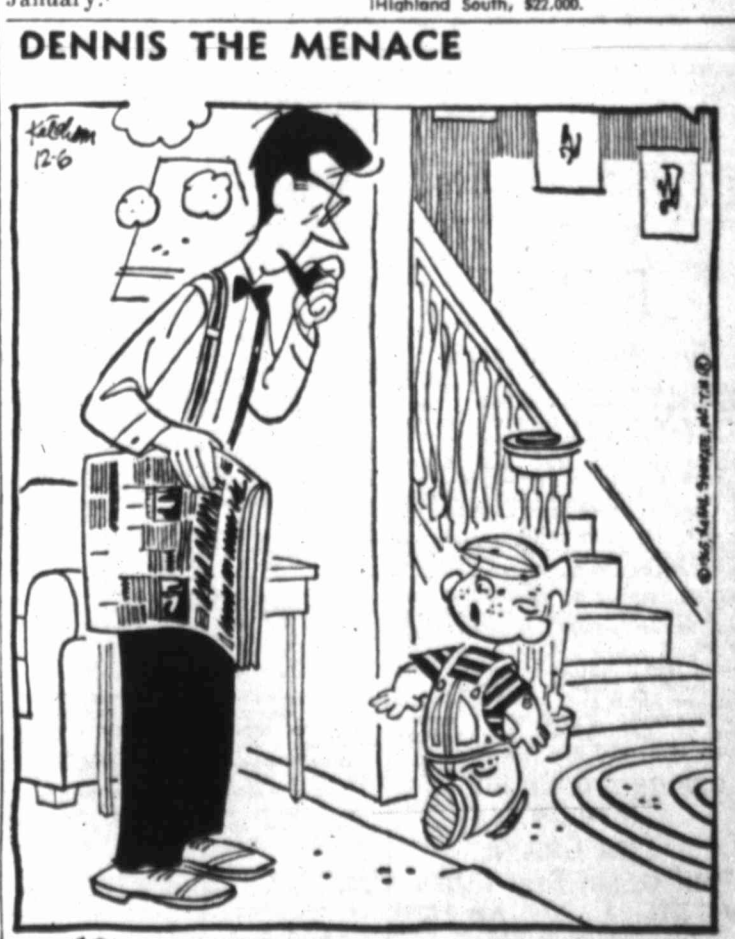

Pugh, who played his college football at an unlikely place called Elizabeth City, N.C., College, trampled over a few Eagles Sunday to block a Sam Baker field goal effort in the third period.

The Cowboys, who in their six-year history never had beaten the Eagles in Philadelphia, were in the process of losing again. The score was 16-14. The ball bounced off Pugh's massive frame and wound up on the Eagles' 21 cradled by Dallas defensive back Mike Gaechter.

On the first play, Don Meredith passed 21 yards to Frank Clarke, who just made the corner of the end zone. It gave Dallas a lead it never relinquished, made the Cowboys a winner for the first time here, and kept them in contention for second place in the East and the Runner-up Bowl at Miami in January.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable and as partner has opened with one heart and you hold:

♠ A 10 8 ♥ 9 7 6 4 2 ♦ 5 ♣ 8 4 3 2

What is your response?

A.—Two hearts, which just about describes the strength of the hand.

There would be no justification for a raise to four hearts with this hand merely because it contains five trumps. The hand does not have sufficient playing strength for a preemptive raise.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable and as

South you hold:

♠ Q 2 ♥ A Q 8 7 4 ♦ J 10 5 ♣ 8 7 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

Pass Pass Pass 1 ♦

1 ♠ 2 ♣ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Since partner originally passed, there is little to be gained by bidding. With six losers in the suit adversely bid, it is inconceivable that you could fulfill an eight-trick contract. In fact, it is difficult to see how you could come close.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠ 6 ♥ A K 7 4 ♦ A 7 5 3 2 ♣ J 9 7

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♠ 2 ♣ ?

What do you bid?

A.—This hand possesses considerable merit, being the equal of an opening bid. However, if a convenient contract cannot be found, there may be no game in the hand.

The partial misfit in spades suggests that the hand has better defensive possibilities, and our recommendation is a penalty double.

Your hand should produce at least four tricks in defense. Unless partner's hand is highly unbalanced, a sure profit is in store if you play for the penalty.

Q. 4—As South vulnerable,

you hold:

♠ 9 2 ♥ K Q 10 8 7 4 ♦ 8 6 3 ♣ A 5

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass Pass 1 ♦ Pass

1 ♥ Pass 1 NT Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. Partner can hardly expect you to have more than you hold when he recalls that you passed first and replied with a simple one-over-one on the next round. In this case, your jump bid is not completely forcing.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable and as

South you hold:

♠ 8 ♥ A Q J 5 ♦ 7 6 ♣ A K 10 7 6 4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♦ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—The opportunity to show the four-card major at this low range should be seized in preference to rebid the six-card minor. The impression that a six-card suit must be rebid willy-nilly before showing a four-card suit is a hangover from the gay '30s. Bid one heart.

Q. 6—As South vulnerable,

you hold:

♠ Q 10 4 ♥ A 10 9 5 ♦ 4 3 2 ♣ J 10 8

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 3 ♣ Pass

3 ♦ Dble. ?

What do you bid now?

A.—It might be tempting at this point to show the mild fit in spades, the suit in which partner has jumped, but such action is not recommended. You already have kept the bidding open and shown a preference for partner's first suit. This is all the action which you are entitled to take with this minimum holding. A bid by you at this point would indicate additional values. Let partner have the next say.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable,

partner opens with one club

and you hold:

♠ A J 8 5 ♥ K 10 7 5 ♦ 8 4 3 ♣ 7 4

What do you bid?

A.—One heart, rather than one spade. This permits partner to show a four-card spade suit at the level of one if he happens to have it.

Whereas if you respond with one spade, partner may have a four-card heart suit and fear to show it at the level of two.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable,

partner opens with one club

and you hold:

♠ A Q J 5 ♥ K Q 10 6 ♦ 7 5 3 ♣ 8 5

What do you bid?

A.—One spade. This hand differs from the preceding one in that it possesses sufficient strength to justify your bidding twice opposite a partner who was able to open the bidding. Since you will be able to show both suits yourself, you should do so in the normal order.

Two Trucks Go Out Of Control, Kill 100 Persons

LOME, Togo (AP) — Two trucks careened through a carnival crowd in the village of Sotouboua, killed more than 100 persons and injured 100 others, neck.

The dead included an American Peace Corps worker identified by police as James Driscoll of Buffalo, N.Y.

Driscoll, a mechanic, came to Togoland about a year ago and had been working at Sokode, in the interior. Authorities said he apparently died of a broken a traditional dance Sunday.

The government sent three planes with doctors, surgeons and medical supplies to the village, which is about 180 miles from Lome.

Reports from the village said the trucks went out of control at full speed into a mass of more than 1,000 persons who were packed on the highway for

against a threat in Viet Nam

Americans Urged To 'Stand Strong'

RICHARDSON (AP) — Army

Chief of Staff Gen. Harold Johnson urged Americans Sunday to stand strong and unafraid

against a threat in Viet Nam

that is "total, sinister and unyielding."

Speaking at Armed Forces

Appreciation Day ceremonies in this Dallas suburb, Johnson took note of this nation's moral obligation to defend the idea that

Company Official's Death Ruled Suicide

BEAUMONT (AP)—Benjamin Harrop, 49, assistant treasurer of the Gulf States Utility Co., was found shot to death Sunday in his garage workshop in Beaumont. A rifle was found nearby. Justice of Peace Wallace McCasland ruled death was self-inflicted. Harrop recently had been released from a hospital.
