Not A Creature Was Stirring...

Not even a quadruplet as Kathy Axe, 6, reads a Christmas story to her sisters (from left) Rita, Susie, Julie and Anna. The four identical Axe quads, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Philip D. Axe, have matching Christmas stockings (upper right) for Santa's visit. The other three stockings are for Kathy and brothers Chuckie, 5, and Timmie, 4. The quads are 2½. The family lives in Toledo, Ohio, and Axe is an advertising salesman for the Toledo Blade. The girls were born March 4, 1963. (AP WIREPHOTO)

De Gaulle's Winning Margin Is 55.18 Pct.

PARIS (AP) — France settled back for more years of Gaullism today following President Charles de Gaulle's re-election to another seven-year term. Although De Gaulle's failure to win on the first ballot two weeks ago gave clear notice that his popularity had slipped, almost no one expected the autocratic old man to alter his policy goals. He may soften his methods, however.

In the run-off election Sunday, complete returns from European France and all overseas territories except Guiana and Polynesia gave the 75-year-old president 13,063,134, or 55.18 per cent. Leftist Francois Mitterrand got 10,609,744.

NEAR RECORD
About 84 per cent of the registered voters balloted, a near record turnout.

Mitterrand termed De Gaulle's victory "mediocre" and said he would turn his attention to the National Assembly elections in November 1967. "All my efforts," he said, "will be to make the legislative elections the decisive engagement which will save the republic from the adventure into which a discounted Gaullism is going to plunge it."

NO STATEMENT
De Gaulle, who begins his new term Jan. 8, issued no victory statement from the seclusion of his estate in eastern France. His supporters were overjoyed that he had pulled out a comfortable margin after his humiliating first-round setback, in which he won only 43.9 per cent of the vote.

On the international scene, De Gaulle faces two items of unfinished business. One is the negotiations in the six-nation European Common Market, which De Gaulle brought to an abrupt halt last June to block attempts to give the economic community's executive more power. De Gaulle opposes any move toward supranationality by the Common Market administration. The five other members scheduled a meeting in Brussels today to discuss the impasse. They hoped for some word from De Gaulle that he is ready to talk again.

The second major international item on De Gaulle's agenda is reform of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. De Gaulle has called for an end to military integration in the 15-nation alliance and has warned that, if a basic change is not made, France will bow out by 1969. Concrete proposals by De Gaulle for changes in NATO are expected early in 1966.

Churchgoers Horrified At Twin-Slaying Scene

SLAYTON, Minn. (AP) — Police are holding a carpenter in the slaying of his former wife, mother of eight children, and mother-in-law outside a church Sunday morning. An explosion of pistol shots broke the morning calm as horrified churchgoers looked on. Two women lay mortally wounded on the sidewalk near St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church.

Her mother, Mrs. Peter Schreier, 60. The women had gone to the church with Schreier and four of the Gilles' children for the 8 a.m. Mass. Held on suspicion of murder was the former husband of one of the victims, Everett Gilles, 35, who surrendered to Sheriff William Neuman Jr. at his home near the church. The Gilles were married in 1950 and divorced in May 1964. They were in court at Windom, Minn., two weeks ago regarding visitation rights for the father.

Dad Of Former Solon Succumbs

WESLACO, Tex. (AP) — William Kilgore, 87, father of former U.S. Rep. Joe Kilgore of Mission, died Sunday at a Weslaco hospital. The funeral service will be at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the First Methodist Church at Mission.

Battle In Dominican Shatters Peace Hope

Oilmen Look Ahead After A Good Year

HOUSTON (AP) — Higher crude oil output, earnings and products prices made 1965 a good year for the petroleum industry. Oilmen are hopeful about the coming year. Products prices, affected several years by oversupply, rose in most areas in 1965. By December they were about 25 per cent above year-earlier averages. Most earnings were 7 to 18 per cent above 1964.

RECORD DEMAND
Demand was at a record high. The industry was producing and refining more crude than ever before. During the year the industry saw a sharp slump in drilling operations, both for exploratory and development wells. Some oilmen also expressed concern over the amount of imported oil.

The old controversy over federal control of wellhead prices of natural gas sold into interstate commerce also entered another chapter at year-end. Most major producers affected challenged in federal court the Permian Basin area prices formally established by the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

PRICE PATTERN
The gas producers contended the FPC proposes to apply to 22 other major producing areas does not permit sufficient return on investments to encourage explorations for new gas reserves. Ed Warren, chairman of the American Petroleum Institute, said the industry neared the end of 1965 on sounder footing than it had been in years.

"It has moved into a new era of meaningful growth, evidenced by an anticipated four per cent gain in demand for all of 1965," said Warren, who retires Jan. 1 as chief executive officer of the Cities Service Co.

DON'T APPLY
"The incremental barrel, depressed prices, excess capacity, and the whole gamut of terms we have heard repeated so often no longer apply to the petroleum industry."

Products prices in early December were averaging $3.88 a barrel, up about 10 cents. Crude price averages were steady at $2.96 per barrel. January-November products demand exceeded 111 million barrels a day and refiners processed more than 9 million barrels of crude daily.

Domestic crude production in late November exceeded 8 million barrels a day for the first time. The 1965 average was expected to approximate 7,750,000 barrels daily, compared to a record 7,657,000 in 1964. Early estimates for 1966 call for demand to climb to 11.8 million barrels a day, with daily crude output pushing the 9,100,000-barrel mark.

LITTLE IMPROVEMENT
The new year, however, was expected to bring little improvement in drilling trends. The most optimistic forecasts indicate only minor improvement over the sagging 1965 levels. Early December trends indicated the industry would complete only 41,000 wells in 1965, compared to 45,450 in 1964 and a record 58,259 in 1956. The total completions were expected to include only about 8,300 wildcat or exploratory wells, compared to 9,250 in 1964 and a record 13,034 in 1956.

In Town For Relaxation

War has many sides and one of them is relieving battle fatigue by a change of scenery. Here, a group of U.S. soldiers, in from their camp near Bien Hoa, take in the sights of Saigon by bicycle taxis. Despite the allure of the city, you'll notice that the men have their combat weapons with them for the Viet Cong is everywhere. (Viet war story is on Page 9-A.) (AP WIREPHOTO)

At Least 13 Listed Killed In Shootings

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The precarious peace efforts in the Dominican Republic appeared today to have been dealt a shattering setback by a battle between army troops and former rebels. At least 13 persons were believed killed in two shooting incidents Sunday. Twelve were reported killed in a six-hour battle that raged around a hotel on the outskirts of Santiago, the country's No. 2 city.

U.S. PARATROOPERS
There were conflicting reports on the cause of the battle that pitched army tanks against an estimated 125 former rebels barricaded in the rambling, two-story Hotel Matum. Shooting ended following the arrival of 150 U.S. paratroopers of the Inter-American Peace Force.

The violence spread to Santo Domingo, 120 miles to the south, where a policeman was disarmed and fatally shot through the head by a member of an angry pro-rebel mob, one of many roaming the littered downtown streets.

The tensions and threats by civilians in Santo Domingo to bring out hidden weapons prompted the IAFP to reinforce its small garrisons in the former rebel territory downtown. Shooting could be heard in scattered parts of the capital late into the night. IAFP sources said none of the shooting involved the hemisphere army that was organized and brought here in early May to help forge a peace in the Dominican revolution.

VIOLENT BLAST
A violent explosion rocked the western part of Santo Domingo at midnight. There was no immediate report of the cause of the blast. The Santiago hotel battle appeared to dash hopes of reintegrating rebel troops into the regular army forces — a key step toward creating a peaceful climate for the general election planned for next June.

Angry labor leaders blamed the army and demanded that Provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy fire the military chiefs or face a general strike. The president persuaded the labor leaders to wait until he has a chance to investigate and punish those responsible.

The Santiago fighting took the lives of nine army regulars and two rebels, including Col. Juan Lora Fernandez, former chief of staff of the rebel army. An unidentified civilian who joined the rebels inside the hotel also was killed, the hotel manager said.

THIRTEEN EVACUATED
Thirteen out of 18 Americans registered at the 45-room hotel were evacuated safely to a nearby air base. U.S. Embassy sources said. The other five were not at the hotel at the time. All the Americans are working on a technical aid project initiated by Texas A&M University at the School of Superior Agricultural Studies near Santiago.

Howard Payne Dean Dies Of Injuries, Prexy Critical

BROWNWOOD (AP) — A trip home and Newman chose to return with the Agee family. Agee was graduated from Howard Payne before taking his master's degree at the University of Texas and his doctor's degree at Yale. He also had been a faculty member at Western College, Tarleton College and The Citadel. After 32 years in the Army, Agee retired as a colonel in 1958. He was stationed in 28 countries during his military career.

In addition to the widow and their sons, Agee also leaves his mother and a brother, Charles A. Western College, Tarleton College, and Wichita Falls.

SERIOUSLY INJURED
Also suffering serious injuries were Mrs. Agee and two occupants of the pickup — Ronnie Calder, 19, and Rex Bessent, 20, from the Mullin community 25 miles east of here. Two sons of the Agees — Jack, 22, and Tommy, 14, were injured less seriously. The Brownwood residents were en route home after being Brownwood High School beat Bridge City 14-0 at College Station for the state Class AAA football crown.

IN COLLISION
On the way to College Station, Newman was involved in a high-way crash between Gatesville and Temple. He was traveling with his daughter, Bobbie Kay Newman, and A. C. Garvin, Howard Payne administrator. All escaped injury. The party divided for the trip.

TIME SHORT TO AID FUND
You have only a few more days to lend a hand to the CHRISTMAS C H E E R FUND, which badly needs more funds to do the job it set out to do — see that every poor youngster in the community gets some remembrance for Christmas. The Fund hopes to stand by during the ensuring winter months, too, to help buy food and medicine when indigent families are in sore need.

Please send along your gift to The Herald, making checks to CHRISTMAS C H E E R FUND. Thanks to these good people who helped the Fund grow some today:

Mail Handling Big Job In Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In the mass of mail pouring in from the states to the U.S. servicemen in South Viet Nam was this three-gallon glass jar of pickled pigs feet. To the two men who shoulder the daily responsibility of getting the mail through to the soldiers, this ordinarily would be no problem.

But let one of them, M. Sgt. James V. Adams of Penfield, Ill., tell what happened. JAR BREAKS
"The glass jar broke and there was a real mess. It took us some time to pick out the broken glass and sort out the sodden letters from the big metal container we use for the mail."

The other man responsible for the mail getting through is Capt. Gerald C. Aker of Bellevue, Wash., a former Air Force navigator and onetime teacher. The Aker-Adams team directs the handling of about 270,000 pounds of mail daily at the aerial mail terminal at Saigon's airport. About 30,000 pounds make up the letters and packages being sent back home.

CALLED BACK
Aker, 32, is a veteran who served in the Pacific as a navigator for the Military Air Transport Service. He took time out for schooling and teaching, but the Cuban crisis in October, 1962, called him back into service. He now plans to make the service his career. The leopard tattooed on his right arm tells of a hitch in the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

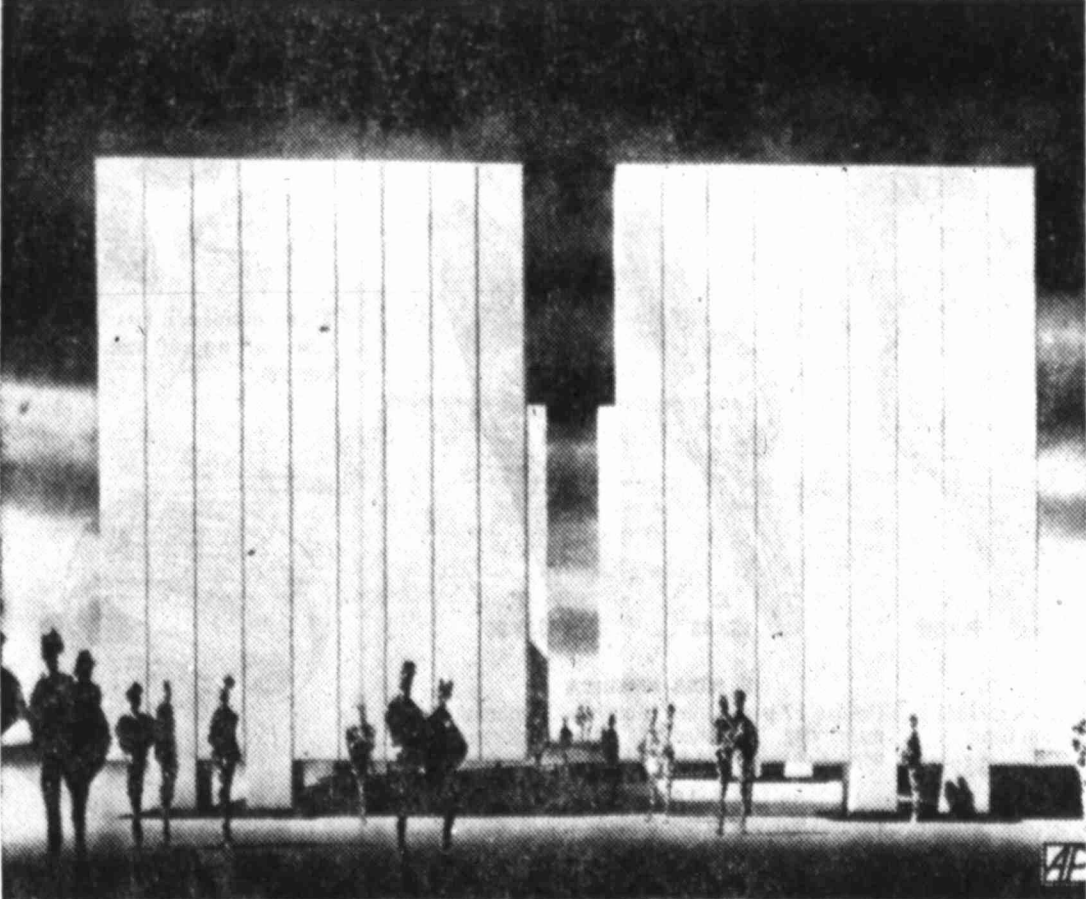

Problems? To keep the soldiers' mail moving so there will be no undue delay.

Tuesday Is Deadline For Lighting Contest

It's still not too late to enter the chamber of commerce Christmas Home Decoration Contest. Edith Gay, secretary, reminded Big Spring residents today. Deadline for the contest has been extended until Tuesday at 3 p.m. A total of 17 entries have been chalked up, but this does not compare with the 40 entries in 1964, Miss Gay said. Four new entries were received this morning. Entrants and locations are Ted O. Grobel Jr., 2100 Cecilia; W. N. McClanahan, 3908 Parkway; Bill and Charles Wink, 3205 Cornell. Judging will be Wednesday night between 6:30 and 11 p.m.

All contestants are urged to keep their lights on during those hours, so that their homes will be easily visible from the street. Winners will be announced Thursday, Miss Gay said. "There are so many attractive decorations up in homes throughout the area," Miss Gay said. "We hope more will share their Christmas decorations with others by entering the home decoration contest." Prizes for the contest are being donated by the Texas Electric Service Co. First prize is the installation of a Ready-Lite; second, a GE electric blanket; and third, a student lamp.

Kennedy Memorial

This architect drawing of the Kennedy Memorial will be erected in Dallas, in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy. The memorial will be a roofless, tomb-like, 30-foot-high "floating" concrete building. The 50-foot square building will be separated by two 5-foot slots facing north and south. It will be held two feet above a wide stone walkway by eight supporting posts and will consist solely of the four walls. The memorial will be erected a block east of the assassination site and will cost around $100,000. (AP WIREPHOTO)

BARGAIN RATE

You are reminded of The Herald's Holiday Bargain offer on yearly subscriptions for door delivery in Big Spring. You receive the paper for all of 1966 for just $18.85, a saving of more than 10 per cent on monthly payments. And you don't have to worry about those payments, although your carrier boy gets his full share. The reduced rate is in effect for the month of December only.

Philatheas Meet For Christmas Program

Stories of how famous Christmas carols came to be written were told by Mrs. L. B. Maulden when members of the Philatheas Sunday school class of First Methodist held their annual Christmas dinner.

Forty members and four guests gathered in the fellowship hall of the church where tables had been decorated by Mrs. Robert Stripling and illuminated with candles. The guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Leo K. Gee and the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Rucker. A welcome was extended to a new member, Mrs. Margaret White, who recently moved here from Oklahoma City, Okla., and Rev. Gee worded the invocation. The opening prayer was by Rev. Rucker. Miss Gladys Burnham presided, and Mrs. Maulden, program leader, was assisted by Miss Roberta Gay, pianist, as she led the group in singing carols. Prior to each song, Mrs. Maulden gave brief historical notes of the period when it was written. She closed with a poem, "I Wish You A Merry Christmas."

The class has prepared a Christmas basket for a needy family which will be delivered by Mrs. Lige Fox.

Hostesses for the dinner were Mrs. S. R. Nobles, Mrs. Hugh Duncan, Mrs. Robert Stripling, Mrs. Susie Sebastian, Mrs. H. V. Crocker, Mrs. Bill McIlvain, Miss Twila Lomax, Mrs. Rogers Hefley, Mrs. Hayes Stripling and Mrs. A. J. Finch.

H. B. Archer Found Dead

LAMESA (SC) — Harold B. Archer, 64, died in his car on the highway near New Braunfels Saturday night, about 9 p.m. He was found by a highway patrolman, who said he died a few minutes later. A Justice of the Peace ruled death was due to natural causes.

Friends said he was on his way to Austin from San Antonio, where his wife and daughter had returned from Germany after visiting the daughter's husband.

Mr. Archer was born in Waco Oct. 19, 1901, and moved with his family to Ackerly in 1922 from Anson. He served in the Army in World War I and in the Marine Corps during World War II. He was a member of the Baptist Church, and had been ill several years.

Funeral services were held in Austin Sunday, and at 2 p.m. today in the First Baptist Church at Ackerly. Interment was in the Ackerly Cemetery under the direction of Doepfenschmidt Funeral Home, New Braunfels.

Survivors include the widow, San Antonio; two daughters, Mrs. Joe Lou Risovi, Austin; Mrs. Al Leverett, San Antonio; one son, Bradford Archer, Calif.; four sisters: Mrs. Lula Mae Watts, Mrs. Lucy Britton, Big Spring; Mrs. Wayne Smith, Lamesa; one brother, Jack Archer, Ackerly; and eight grandchildren.

Stacked Smoke Stack

Joan Fowler, 25, who stands 6 feet 4 inches in her high heels, is bussed by Harry Bowman, 5 feet 6½, with the aid of a step ladder, as she pauses under the mistletoe while on a visit to Dallas. Miss Fowler, of Louisville, Ky., is a smoking instructor by trade and an expert on what she calls "cigarette etiquette." Says Joan, "Whatever else smoking does, it didn't stunt my growth." Clinic Held

The Gra-Y basketball league had a basketball clinic Saturday morning at the YMCA. Coaches Allen Simpson and Oakie Hagood, from the high school, showed the 52 boys attending techniques and rules and regulations of basketball.

Gemini 6 Men Dreamed A Lot

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr., who sailed far enough during their two weeks in space to make 10 round trips to the moon, begin three days of medical checks here today to determine what physical rigors space travel has on man.

People who talked with the astronauts said their main complaint of the 14-day flight was the confinement — they couldn't stretch out. They asserted they dreamed a lot during the mission, sources said. And Borman was quoted as saying that Lovell was dreaming "all the time."

News Capsule On Weekend

SATURDAY
Gemini 7 splashes down in the Atlantic and astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. are returned to the aircraft carrier Wasp in good condition after their record 14 days in space.

The North Vietnamese information agency calls Washington reports of a peace feeler "pure fabrications without any basis," thereby appearing to end the latest talk of a negotiated settlement.

The Viet Cong attack a section of the South Vietnamese capital of Saigon with mortar fire for the first time in the war just hours after the U.S. military command orders a dusk-to-dawn curfew on U.S. troops there to protect them from terrorist attack.

SUNDAY
Pope Paul VI urges pursuit of the recently reported proposals for peace in Viet Nam in order to bring about a Christmas cease-fire followed by negotiations.
Gen. Charles de Gaulle wins a new 7-year term as president of France, restoring some of the political prestige he lost when he was forced into a run-off election.
A new surge of ground action on three fronts ushers in Christmas week for U.S. fighting men in Viet Nam.

Mercury Sags Across Texas

By The Associated Press
Skies cleared throughout Texas and the freeze line pushed deep into the state today. Temperatures before daylight ranged down to a chilly 23 degrees at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle—but that amounted almost to a warm spell compared to Dalhart's 12-degree low early Sunday.
The mercury sagged to 25 at El Paso and 27 at Amarillo. At the same hour Brownsville, on the state's southern tip, recorded 42 degrees.
Rain and drizzle which had dampened much of the state finished playing out Sunday in Southeast Texas. Moisture measurements through Sunday included Beaumont .96 inch, Houston .46, Mineral Wells .38, Fort Worth .34, Abilene .28 and Dallas .24.
Continued fair weather was promised and a little warming was in prospect for northern sections of Texas tonight and Tuesday. Forecasts called for another cold night in southern areas with frost at some points.

Executive Branch 'Reforms' Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford has promised to push for a new study of the executive branch.
It would be aimed at reforms similar to that proposed by two previous commissions headed by former President Herbert Hoover.
Ford said in a Sunday statement that since the last Hoover Commission closed shop 10 years ago, federal employment has risen by more than 100,000, federal expenditures by $57 billion and "vast new agencies and functions have come into being."

Humphrey Will Head Delegation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will head the American delegation at the Dec. 30 inauguration of Philippine President-elect Ferdinand Marcos.
Two other U.S. representatives will be named after consultation between Humphrey and President Johnson, the White House announced Saturday.

M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford, praised the Titan 2 booster and Gemini spacecraft.
NOTE BRIGHTNESS
All four also remarked how easy it was to see through each other's spacecraft windows while they were rendezvousing high above the earth Wednesday.

Schirra was quoted as saying that the Gemini 7 capsule appeared twice as bright as the brightest star, Sirius, when he was approaching it and Schirra and Stafford indicated that rendezvous was easier than they thought.
Stafford and Schirra copiled two small airplanes on Thursday from the prime recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Wasp, to Bermuda.

On the way, sources said, they tried to fly their two aircraft in formation and noted that it was much easier to pilot two Gemini spacecraft in formation, even though the spaceships were speeding at 17,500 miles an hour.
Persons who talked with the astronauts quoted Borman as saying he thought future space men should not have to fly in bulky space suits on long-duration flights. And if a "back up" pressure system is needed, Borman suggested it be built into the spacecraft rather than the space suit, sources noted.
The two Gemini 7 pilots flew much of their mission in their underwear, and would have done it more if Mission Control permitted them.

Borman and Lovell are scheduled to stay at Cape Kennedy until Wednesday, concentrating on medical examinations. They then plan to fly to the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., to begin eight days of telling and retelling the story of their marathon flight to project officials.
Navy Capt. Schirra and Air Force Maj. Stafford flew from nearby Patrick Air Force Base to Houston Sunday afternoon, after a playful reunion with Borman and Lovell.
Schirra and Stafford were not on hand to meet two Navy planes that flew the Gemini 7 crew from the Wasp to Cape Kennedy.

Instead, Schirra was crouched in a doorway at astronaut crew headquarters on neighboring Merritt Island. When Borman and Lovell walked down the hall, he jumped out and began beating the air with his arms as if the Gemini 7 crew needed landing instructions.
HAD BET
Borman and Schirra had a well-publicized bet over which spacecraft would land closest to its target, the Wasp. Officials said Schirra acknowledged that Borman got slightly closer, but blamed it on an instrument in the Gemini 6 capsule which was slightly off.
Astronaut Donald K. Slayton, director of the Gemini 7 crew, said the bet was called off.

"There was a lot of handshaking and mutual congratulations," said Slayton of the meeting of the two Gemini crews.
The reunion was a brief one. Schirra and Stafford had to leave for Houston only 45 minutes after Borman and Lovell arrived at Cape Kennedy.
Of prime interest to researchers is finding out how much calcium was lost during the space flight.
Other tests will show whether a heart gets "lazy" in the weightlessness of outer space, and how much of a strain it puts on a spaceman returning to earth's gravity.
Some researchers fear that over a long period of time calcium loss could make bones dangerously brittle.

Bombing Raids From Guam Base Due Increase Soon

ANDERSEN AIR FORCE BASE, Guam (AP) — Airman 1.C. Melvin Newsome, 22, rolled a live 500-pound bomb along a rack and into position.

The U.S. Air Force enlisted man from Logan, W. Va., paused as he pushed another bomb up to the loader, readying it to join a growing cluster of 12 beneath the dropping, swept-wing of a Strategic Air Command B52.

"You know, the main thing now that we're here on Guam is we're loading these bombs on the 52s and dropping them off where they'll do some good. Before (at his mainland station), we'd put the bombs on and then take 'em off again a week later. There didn't seem to be much point to that."

Newsome, one of several thousand Americans in the SAC team at Andersen, was helping load 24 500-pound, khaki-colored, nonnuclear bombs on the plane's wing racks. Another 27 750-pounders were being tucked into the bomb bay in the aircraft's belly.

Within 15 hours those same bombs will be exploding on targets in South Viet Nam. On a previous night, three waves of B52s launched from Andersen's 10,000-foot runway dropped 309,000 pounds of high explosives in a jungle area which Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of all U.S. military forces in Viet Nam, suspected was infested with Communist Viet Cong.

INCREASE RAIDS

The almost daily raids launched from Guam, as strategic island now as it was to both Japanese and Americans in World War II, will be boosted soon, if not in numbers of sorties, certainly by the bomb loads they carry.

The multimillion-dollar planes fly the 5,200-mile round trip to South Viet Nam day or night, dropping their loads from high altitude, aiming by radar and getting better precision by using computers.

Performing the missions today are several hundred young men in their midtwenties and early thirties from SAC bases at Columbus, Miss., and Mather, Calif. — the 454th and 320th bomb wings. They took over Dec. 1 from the 7th Bomb wing which returned to Carswell AFB, Tex., after several months on the island.

The 7th reached a milestone before leaving — 1,000 combat sorties over South Viet Nam. B52s have not yet gone north of the 17th Parallel which separates North and South Viet Nam.

Sgt. Larry Heath, a ground crew chief from Fort Worth,

Tex., and one of the few remaining Carswell AFB personnel still at Andersen, recalled when bombing raids began on June 18.

"We never expected anything," said Heath. "Then one night all hell broke loose around here."

GUARDS EVERYWHERE

That Andersen is a "wartime status" station is apparent. Armed guards, some with M16 rifles slung across their shoulders, are everywhere. Mention a mission, ask a question, people talk guardedly — if they talk at all. Watch dogs roam the 20,000-acre station fences at night.

Aviators and crews bunk together, three to a room, in special quarters. Their families aren't permitted to join them, but their duty here is comparatively short.

Their immediate boss, Col. William T. Cumiskey, a blue-eyed, weathered veteran of 22 years' Air Force service, is admired and feared by his men.

"When you've been chewed out by the colonel, you know you've been chewed," grinned a young captain. "But he's a great guy."

The Brooklyn-born commander of the 454th-320th bombardment wings, 50 next week to Andersen the last week in November and by the end of the first week of December he'd already flown five missions over South Viet Nam.

And a mission is a 22-hour affair — 12 hours actual flying, 10 hours preparing for the flights and debriefing and critiques.

LEADS MISSION

Maj. Gen. William J. Crumm, a career officer with 24 years service and head of the 3rd Air Division at Andersen, led a successful bombing mission of 18 aircraft which took off in three waves Dec. 2.

Crumm, 46, flew B29 bombers during World War II as did Cumiskey and the two are back doing "for real" bombing again for the first time in more than 20 years. The colonel said his first mission last month "brought back some memories."

Cumiskey's deputy is Col. Van Parker, who previously commanded the 320th Bomb Wing at Mather.

Ground crews, Crumm said, work 12 hours a day, six days a week. An average B52 crew-week is 74 hours. Few — except some civilians — observe the 40-hour week.

Crumm and Cumiskey both talk of the "esprit" on the base.

Sgt. Charles Hammer, 30, Lake Charles, La., said he offered to quit as a B47 crew chief on the U.S. mainland to become an armorer at Andersen.

"I'd just as soon feel I'm doing something worthwhile," the sergeant said, complaining only that no quarters are available here for his wife, Joan, and their four children.

And the raids have stepped up from the one in June, to four in July, to the present 21 or more a month. Crumm said their effectiveness has "increased tremendously" as intelligence — information on targets — improves.

Courthouse Is Real Cool Place

Heating problems continued to harass the Howard County Courthouse Monday.

For the fourth day, the boiler in the basement was out of commission and offices were uncomfortably cold. Deputies and officials were working with their coats on. Workmen were trying to get the heating system back in operation.

The 28 degree temperature of early Monday augmented the difficulty.

Car Damaged

A small sports car sustained $600 damages, but its driver escaped injury, in a one car mishap at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, a mile northeast of town. Highway patrolmen said that Charles Whitmore Klemmer, 27, Dallas, lost control of the car and it rammed into a guard rail.

Byron's Moving Is Fast, Efficient

Byron's Storage and Transfer provides fast, safe, efficient hauling service for all moving needs. Byron Neel has the facilities and the men to move anywhere.

Byron Neel Provides Safe Moving Anywhere

Byron Neel, agent for United Van Lines, has the facilities and the men to move anywhere in the country.

Byron's Storage and Transfer, 106 E. 1st, can move in town, across town, or out of town, or out of state or overseas, if going that far.

Regardless of whether moving to or from, Neel's men and big vans can eliminate a lot of the work which formerly went into moving around the country.

Now residents can walk out of the house with the clothes on their back and a "change" in their handbag and let the movers take over to do the packing, lifting, loading and finally, arranging things in the new home.

All he need do is to tell them when he wants to move out, when he wants his furniture in the new home, and how he wants it arranged. A telephone call to AM 3-7351 will get everything straightened out for the move.

Housewives will like the way kitchen utensils are packed securely, with no danger of breakage. Glassware, mirrors, pictures, lamps and all fragile items are wrapped and packaged securely and labeled for identification on opening.

Furniture and belongings from each room in the house can be unloaded, unpacked, and placed in similar locations in the new home. Dresser drawers and closets will be handled with crates, boxes, or wardrobes, so that everything will go back into the same location.

If the customer prefers to do his own packing, Byron's can provide the proper boxes, crates, barrels, wardrobes, and everything that goes with the move, and he can label cartons for proper location in the new home.

Byron will give an estimate on the cost of moving household goods and other items, whether it be across town or across the nation.

Charles Hood Knows Best Route, Method For Moving

Eighteen years of experience stands behind the Charles Hood House Moving firm at 1610 E. 3rd in Big Spring. If a house can be moved, he can do it.

A resident of Big Spring and the Howard County area since 1935, Hood knows the city and the area, and if a house is to be moved out of the city he knows the best routes and will guarantee safe transportation.

He is insured and bonded and holds bonded permits from the Highway Department.

The owner of a house to be moved may get it ready, with underpinning cut and foundation cleared, or he may call Charles Hood to "start from scratch" to do the entire job.

Two big trucks are available for any size moving job, although he prefers to use a single truck for most jobs since one is more maneuverable. Extra heavy houses, similar to the old Quinn residence moved from location at Main and Sixth to the Garden City area and the Carpenters Hall, moved from West Third to the Cosden refinery area, require two units for safe moving.

Hood is conscientious in his work and takes every precaution to prevent damaging a building in raising, transportation or setting on a new foundation. Proper bracing and anchoring is assured.

Two qualified men are full-time employees and Hood employs other men when needed, and the house moving firm can be working on more than one job at the same time.

Distance makes no difference to Hood. He can move a house from Big Spring to Lamesa, Snyder, or other distant areas if required. His highway permits allow long-distance moving, although special permits are required in some cities.

Then, too, Hood buys houses for resale. He has a few on his lot on East Third now.

If you have a house that needs moving—either to another location anywhere or to be relocated on the lot—call Charles Hood House Moving at AM 3-6221. The night phone is AM 3-4547.

Specialists Available At TESCO Office

Texas Electric Service Co. has seven special services available to customers using electricity. These are in addition to their main job of generating and distributing electricity for home, business and industrial uses.

For the farm, TESCO employs a specialist in agriculture who works with the agriculture committee of the chamber of commerce and other groups.

There is a specialist in the design and application of electric heating and cooling equipment, competent to make heat gain and loss studies and make recommendations for insulation, operating cost estimates, and solutions for service problems.

TESCO provides, when requested, a specialist to work with residential building contractors to suggest the latest innovations in appliances and give answers to problems.

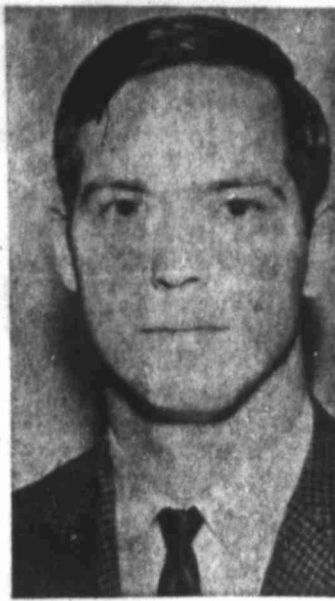

When food service establishments are planning major changes in preparation of food Texas Electric Service Co. has a specialist to work with them. He has facilities for making demonstrations to aid restaurant owners in installation and use of modern and efficient equipment.

Appliance dealers may also call on a specialist who coordinates the electric company's appliance sales promotion activities with the sales efforts of the dealers. In cooperative efforts, he prepares monthly analyses of appliance sales.

A skilled lighting specialist is available to design a complete lighting system or to suggest improvements in existing lighting systems for residential, commercial or industrial customers.

A graduate home economist is available to make home calls to assist a homemaker with appliance problems. She also presents training programs to homemaking classes in the public schools and works with 4-H groups.

RANDY JONES

Randy Jones At White's

Many things are new this Christmas at White's Furniture, 202-204 Scurry St.

There's a familiar face back at White's—Randy Jones, who recently completed his service duty in the U. S. Army. Randy will be on hand to help Christmas shoppers, and all of his friends are invited to stop in for a chat with him.

Many toys will be featured at 50 per cent off, according to Leonard Pierce, store manager. There's something for every member of the family at White's, he added.

For dads and outdoor lovers, White's features the finest camping, fishing, and hunting equipment available, as well as a fine selection of guns.

For the lady of the house, there are toasters, mixers, electrical appliances, kitchen gadgets, electric blankets and scores of other items to make her Christmas happy.

And, for the kiddies, a fun-filled Toyland, with the latest bicycles, pedal cars, pushcarts, racetrack games, and all sorts of table games to keep the Christmas holidays busy.

So, come on down and see White's fabulous Yuletide display and visit with Randy Jones.

Seiberling Tires At Creighton Tire Co.

Creighton Tire Co., 601 Gregg, owned and operated by Charles Creighton and Dalton Carr is featuring the improved Seiberling tire, with the wrap-around tread. The performance rated tire is known as the Seiberling Supreme Sealed-Aire tire. It is performance-rated at 200 and is the complete tire for the motorist whose requirements are absolute.

Men with years of experience in handling tires and service are employed at Creighton's. They know there is no better tire on the market than the Sealed-Aire puncture sealing tire.

Creighton has been handling Seiberling tires in Big Spring for some 25 years. He has received plaques of commendation from the company every five years since he received the 15-year commendation.

There are eight persons to serve customers at Creighton Tire Co. and all of them feature courtesy with their service.

The firm has made a point of selling quality products and giving quality service during all the years of business in Big Spring. The Seiberling tires are available for cars, trucks, and tractors, and customers continue to return for more as they need them.

The Seiberling tubeless Sealed-Aire tires have a wide, deep hi-tractive tread which gives exceptional traction, positive braking power, outstanding stability, easy handling, and quiet performance. There is a guarantee for the life of the original tread, which is your assurance of full value for your investment. It alone offers exclusive Seiberling Puncture Sealing bulkhead construction, for positive puncture sealing, with perfect tire balance assured.

When West Texas drivers have to travel over all kinds of roads and ranch trails today, they want tires that depend on. That's why they return to Creighton Tire Co. when they need service and top tires.

Almost every bush in the rugged country has "stickers" on it that may not let the air out at once but, after becoming imbedded in the carcass, will gradually "rub" a hole in the tube and let the pressure down. Sharp gravel and rusty nails have to be contended with and that's where the Sealed-Aire tire comes in. It won't let you down when reliability counts.

Seiberling tires mean ease of mind and riding comfort for all drivers using them.

Try a set of Seiberling tires on your car, truck, or tractor if you want to know full satisfaction. Call AM 4-7021 for further information.

Cong Renew Violence After Anniversary

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong gave Saigon a day of rest from terrorism on the fifth anniversary of their National Liberation Front today but renewed their violence at nightfall.

A terrorist hurled a grenade at a truckload of U.S. soldiers after dark as the vehicle passed over a bridge on the northern outskirts of the city en route to a U.S. base.

The grenade bounced off the rear of the truck and exploded in the street, injuring only one American, police said.

The incident occurred despite the tightest security in years in the city of more than 1.4 million to guard against any major birthday incident. Officials said the wave of terrorism could continue until the new year.

The Communists took no holiday in the field.

ATTACK OUTPOSTS
Two Viet Cong companies attacked two outposts of the Tuyen Nhon Special Forces camp in the Plain of Reeds 40 miles west of Saigon. The U.S.-advised government forces threw back the Communists with tactical air support and claimed 29 Viet Cong killed.

Twelve miles farther west, battalions of South Vietnamese regional troops slammed into a Viet Cong hideout, killing 28 Communists and destroying 30 sampans and 53 buildings, spokesmen reported. The attack force also captured 12 sampans and found more than 100 grenades and a dozen weapons.

With an improvement in the weather, U.S. warplanes ended a two-day lull in the raids on North Viet Nam. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs dropped 49 tons of bombs and rockets on the Bac Can highway bridge 73 miles north of Hanoi, spokesmen said. Pilots reported two spans down, a third damaged and damage to six aircraft positions nearby that protect the strategic supply route from Red China.

F105 DOWNED
One F105 went down after being hit by ground fire. The pilot ejected 45 miles south of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port, and was picked up by an amphibious rescue plane.

A small U.S. Army observation plane collided with a South Vietnamese single-engine aircraft on a support mission 27 miles south of Da Nang, killing both two-man crews.

Over the weekend, U.S. Marines and Army men marked the Viet Cong birthday by killing nearly 200 Communists in three clashes with sizeable Viet Cong forces.

With U.S. military personnel restricted to quarters by a dusk-to-dawn curfew, Saigon passed through the night without incident. A heavy guard patrolled the area of the U.S. Embassy and the U.S. Information Service office, both potential prime targets for Viet Cong birthday violence.

In the last six days, the Communists have staged at least an incident a day in the Saigon area.

The National Liberation Front was founded in 1960 under Communist leadership to give the growing guerrilla insurgency a political organization.

A Viet Cong call on Saigonese to observe 15 minutes of silence Sunday to protest the war passed unheeded as traffic flowed and business continued uninterrupted.

ON OUTSKIRTS
"It was a flop, a fiasco," commented a U.S. official.

The only terrorist action took place on the outskirts when a Viet Cong cyclist hurled a grenade at a police station, wounding six policemen. Police gunfire killed the terrorist.

In a flareup of action at the start of Christmas week, the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division fought a Communist battalion 12 miles northwest of the coastal town of Qui Nhon, about 265 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Flying Horsemen came under Communist groundfire as they landed by helicopter in an area held by 1,500 to 2,000 Viet Cong. But by the time the shooting died down, the Americans counted 72 enemy dead, U.S. casualties were "described as light. Most came when Viet Cong fire hit four 1st Cavalry helicopters.

JOINT STRIKE
Just 30 miles east of Saigon, the 173rd Airborne Brigade joined with the 1st Infantry Division to seek out and destroy a hard-core Viet Cong unit in a joint operation called "Smash." Strengthened by South Vietnamese and Australian troops, the two U.S. units split the Viet Cong in a linkup following tactical air assaults and 1,600 rounds of artillery.

Satellites To Be Launched

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A triple-barreled Air Force Titan 3 is scheduled to kick four separate satellites into an orbit more than 20,000 miles above the equator Tuesday to climax one of the most complex unmanned space missions ever planned.

Riding on the nose of the three-legged booster, the nation's most powerful rocket now in use, will be two experimental communications satellites, a satellite which will study activities of the sun and a fourth satellite for ham radio operators. Liftoff is scheduled for 9 a.m. (EST).

The amateur radio satellite, called Oscar 4, is sort of a poor man's Telstar. Like three other Oscar satellites which preceded it, Oscar 4 was built by the American Radio Relay League, a group of space engineers whose hobby is ham radio.

Oscar stands for Orbiting Satellite Carrying Amateur Radio. Oscar 4 is a complete radio frequency transmitter capable of simultaneously receiving voice and telegraph signals at 144 megacycles and retransmitting them at 432 megacycles.

The two communications satellites, developed by the Lincoln Laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and named Les 3 and Les 4, are designed to test devices for future military defense communications satellite systems.

The sun-studying satellite, called OY2-3, will carry 15 experiments, the Air Force said, including various tests of the effect of natural radiation on living tissue.

The mission will be one of the most complicated ever undertaken, lasting some six hours and involving over 150 events.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ J 7 5 2 ♢ Q J 8 5 3 ♠ 9 5 4 ♠ 10

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. Surely game is out of the question. If you bid again, even the most tolerant partner will look for more than a queen and two jacks in your hand.

Q. 2—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ K 7 ♢ K Q 9 7 6 ♠ A J 2 ♠ 6 5 3

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
4 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass
6 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Seven hearts. North's bidding is practically the most colossal known to man. Partner is willing to predict that you can win 12 tricks on the basis merely of your hearts and diamonds. Surely he must have allowed for the loss of a trick to the king of spades, and on that basis your grand slam bid is justified.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable. Partner opens with three no trump. You hold:
♠ A 5 ♢ 7 6 5 ♠ Q 10 9 4 ♠ K 10 7 5

What do you bid?
A.—On a basis of simple arithmetic you should contract for a small slam in no trump. You have a count of nine and partner has a minimum of 25.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ K Q 7 ♢ K 4 3 2 ♠ A K ♠ K 10 8 5

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—There is not much doubt of a slam in the hand. But, in order to determine the best contract, there must be some further investigation. The recommended bid at this point is a jump shift to three diamonds, and the subsequent actions will depend on partner's behavior.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ 2 ♢ A K 7 6 4 2 ♠ K 7 ♠ A J 9 5

The bidding has proceeded:

War Top Issue For Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders are in general agreement that the dominant issue in the session convening Jan. 10 will be the Viet Nam war.

Sharing the spotlight in what may be a long and bitter session will be labor legislation, the administration's "Great Society" programs and perhaps taxes.

Many members took advantage of the fall recess to visit Viet Nam. They returned with conflicting opinions on how the war is being conducted and their differing views should touch off sharp debate.

PAY BILL

There is little that Congress can do about how the war is being fought, except to appropriate money to foot the bill. But the fact that it is being waged and is costing a lot of money will be reflected in consideration of nonmilitary legislation.

"One of the basic issues," said Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, House Republican leader, "will be the need to curtail nondefense programs. We are face to face with the decision between guns and butter. The war is real and we must pay for it."

"But some other programs," Ford added in an interview, "while perhaps worthy, do not have the same top priority. We must take a hard look at the 'Great Society' measures rammed through during the recent session. They are expensive. We Republicans are going to try to cut down some of this unnecessary spending."

"We are going to solidly oppose any new taxes," Ford said.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, took a somewhat similar stand on taxes.

Said Mills: "If federal government spending is held under reasonable restraint, the growth of the economy will both make possible and require periodic tax reductions."

"NO DIVISION"

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said in an interview he looked for no division in Congress over foreign policy.

"The people of the country are united behind the President's leadership in foreign policy, particularly in Viet Nam," McCormack said.

McCormack said he believed major domestic issues would center on legislation to increase and broaden minimum wage coverage, improve the unemployment compensation program and "to strengthen Amer-

Assistance From Yanks

A Vietnamese mother, holding one son by hand, watches U.S. medic examine her older boy who was suffering from high fever and chest pains. She walked with the children last week from a village some 35 miles northwest of Saigon to area where U.S. 101st Airborne troops set up a command post. Boy was taken to a first aid station. (A Viet war story is on Page 9-A today. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Salvation Army Needs Money And Manpower

The Salvation Army desperately needs help, not only in contributions for needy families for Christmas, but in volunteer workers to help during Christmas week.

Through Saturday, the Salvation Army had $2,646.54 toward a goal of $4,000, according to Capt. William Thomas. Unless there is a big increase in giving through the kettles or in direct gifts to the Salvation Army, scores of families will face a bleak Christmas Day. There are at least 300 needy families to provide for, Capt. Thomas said, and if only $10 per food basket is allowed, this means the Salvation must raise at least $3,000. Many larger families will need much more than that, he said.

The high school and two junior highs have donated nearly 6,000 cans of food, and the Gandy Saturday morning show brought in a few more cans.

Story Of A Kettle

This is how the "kettle" became the symbol of the Salvation Army's Christmas appeal.

On Christmas Eve, 1894, survivors of a shipwreck off the coast of San Francisco were brought to Salvation Army headquarters for shelter. California, along with the rest of the nation, was gripped in a depression. The Salvation Army was already caring for thousands of impoverished seamen and longshoremen, as well as hundreds of the city's indigent.

When the food ran out, one of the women picked up a soup kettle and stepped out into the bitter cold. At a busy street corner, she set up a sign that read "Keep the Pot Boiling." Through the generosity of passersby, that night there was soup for all.

Word of the San Francisco appeal spread to other Salvation Army posts throughout the nation, and soon it was adopted by them all as the symbol of the Salvation Army's sidewalk Christmas appeal.

He urged area residents to send gifts or to make substantial contributions to the kettle.

H-SU Drive Near Halfway

Hardin-Simmons' $2-million endowment campaign remains in high swing, according to drive leaders.

The campaign is approaching the halfway mark in the "matching gift" program spurred by an offer of Carr P. Collins Sr., of Dallas to give the university $500,000 if H-SU supporters will raise $1.5 million.

Sam Waldrop, campaign steering committee chairman, and Dr. Lee Hemphill, vice president of development and promotion at H-SU, said the drive is approaching the first $750,000. University officials have announced that $600,000 has been raised since Sept. 28.

Ice Balls Turn Out Dangerous

Plastic "ice balls," which were picked up here and tested in the laboratory at the Midland office of the City - County Health Unit show the presence of harmful bacteria, it has been confirmed.

The laboratory tested two trays of these novelty items picked up in Midland, two from Odessa and one from Big Spring.

The devices are made of plastic and filled with water. Their purpose is to be frozen and used to cool drinks — the idea being the frozen liquid inside the balls will not dilute the beverage, but will cool it as well as ordinary ice cubes.

Laboratory Director O. R. Cockerell, Midland, said two or more of the 15 objects in each tray had shown positive signs of contamination. He said that some of the balls were shown to contain coliform — a form of bacteria.

He said all of the trays tested at his laboratory this time were devices manufactured in Hong Kong. Similar gadgets from Japan are on sale, but none of those sent to Cockerell for testing were Japanese imports.

The "ice balls" ran into difficulty recently when the liquid was shown to pose a threat to health — offering danger of such grave diseases as typhus fever.

A number of dealers here turned in their stocks of the devices, when the danger was announced.

Boys—And Pops— Letting Hair Down

By The Associated Press

After ages of close-cropped conformity, those male Americans who have any hair let their hair down. Down over their ears. Over the forehead. Over the neck.

Blame the Beatles. Most barbers do. "The crew cut," said one, "is dead." Hair is everywhere.

Sprouting as lavishly as the male locks is a brand-new branch of high fashion dedicated to cultivating the top and sides of the masculine head.

Barbers are no longer barbers. They are hair stylists. Hair is not cut. It is styled, with a straight razor, hair spray, shampoo and dryer. A shave and a haircut are not two bits. To get the right set and trim and wave can take over an hour and $30.

NEW UPSWEEP

To help prepare barbers for the new upswing in fashion the government has launched a $250,000 training program in cooperation with the barber's union to acquaint its members with techniques of hair styling.

While the Beatles have threatened to run male teenagers into a generation of sheepdogs, barbers and customers alike have combed television, the comics and even history books to bring luster and beauty to the bangs.

Perry Como, an ex-barber, has a hair style named for him. So does Prince Vallant of the funnies. So does Julius Caesar — combed forward, no part, a few curls on the sides — "a real weirdo," says a Providence, R.I. barber.

There's the "John-John," named and patterned after John F. Kennedy Jr. and the "Princeton" — a crew cut gone to seed, the "Class President" — a dignified compromise between rampant foliage and a brush cut, the "Clubman" — touches the ears but not extremely long, the "Peter Gumm" and the "Man From U.N.C.L.E." — both inspired by their televised namesakes.

RESTRAIN URGE

"Let's face it," said a Los Angeles barber who preferred anonymity, "I'm a barber. I get paid to cut hair. I don't have to like what I'm cutting, but as long as they pay, there's no problem. But I do get the urge every time some young, nice-looking kid with a mop sits down in my chair to shave him bald. Just once."

Says Jay Sebring, a Los Angeles hair stylist to whom such as Frank Sinatra and Elvis Presley entrust their locks: "I don't see any end to the long hair trend. After all, it's very popular with the teenagers and 50 per cent of our population will be teenagers by 1970."

Not only has the mop top outgrown the flat top with the teen. His pop is looking to the top, too. Ask almost any barber in the country, if you can get a word in, and he'll tell you men everywhere are wearing hair longer.

(MORE)

THE "CONVERTIBLE"

In San Francisco barbers have trimmed a nice line with the "Convertible," which is shaggy enough for the electric guitar crowd but just short enough to allow the wearer into school.

Most of these are specialities of the beardless set and have many of the nation's barbers tearing their own hair.

"We have found lice in the hair of more than one boy," said Emil Thaeart, a Denver barber. "A lot of them run into this problem after riding those two wheel motorbikes with their long hair flying."

Long hair hurts business, said a Boston barber. "They see a guy with long hair and decide to wait another week for a hair cut."

"These guys get a haircut once a year," said another barber in Columbus, Ohio, "you have to restyle their whole head."

A Devotional For The Day

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. (Psalm 46:1)

PRAYER: O God, Thou didst not create us to be restricted by sin and evil. Thou didst create us to live holy lives, to breathe a holy atmosphere. Help us to live in such fellowship with Thee, that our liberated souls can soar on wings of hope and faith and trust. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

Keep Idea Alive

One project we hope will not be allowed to die through neglect is the idea of a mental health clinic to serve this area.

Under criteria advanced by the state, these centers require certain minimum populations for state support. It is necessary, therefore, to combine several counties in this area to meet the standard. This means that it is beyond the province of Howard County alone, even if this county could and would be able to sustain it.

Other counties will be obliged to lend support if the idea can be brought to reality. Retention can be anticipated on the grounds that the center logically would seem to be here in the shadows of the Big Spring State Mental Hospital because of its staff and resources. But these things are not to be considered in the light of provincial economics, but as service to people at or near their homes.

Howard County could well take the lead in this, maintaining regular communication with neighboring counties until some decision is reached. The worst thing would be to let the proposal wither on the vine.

Oil Allowable Good News

Good news to all of the state of Texas and to Howard County and West Texas in particular is the rail road commission allowances for January. The commission pegged the figure at 32.6 per cent of capacity, which not only maintains but improves on an upward trend of the past two months but also exceeds the figures of a year ago. The new percentage is well above the 29.2 for January of last year, and it pushes the Texas daily allowable well above the 3,000,000-a-day mark.

Part of this reflects winter demands for fuel oils, but more of it the increased demands arising from the escalation of the war effort in Viet Nam.

We could also hope that to some degree the higher figures reflect a greater militancy by the Texas railroad commission in cutting Texas in for a more equitable share of the total market. As the major producer, it is perhaps proper for Texas to care for more than its proportionate share of the load in stabilizing production, but it should not be imposed upon.

Oil is basic to the economy of many areas, and certainly is one of our fundamental sources of wealth in the state. It also is the biggest single supplier of tax resources. Thus, state fiscal affairs are benefitted by greater oil marketing.

More Confusion On Prayers

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States may not have intended to prescribe a "religion" which could be taught in the public schools, but it has given an involuntary assist to the cause of non-belief in God.

THE HIGH COURT has just rejected the plea of a group of parents of Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, and Armenian Apostolic faiths who asked, through court action, that their children in public schools be allowed voluntarily to engage in a prayer that mentions the word "God." As a result of the court ruling, the impression is conveyed to the pupils for all time that there is something wrong with a belief in God. This is exactly what atheism claims. Atheism is regarded by some people as a kind of "religion" in itself.

THE HIGH COURT'S decisions heretofore have been based on the idea that the government must remain "neutral" as between religions. But until the latest ruling, specifically banning voluntary prayer requested by the parents of children of virtually all faiths, has the Supreme Court placed itself squarely on record against even a prayer that is neutral as between the sects.

The controversy has been getting more and more tangled ever since the Supreme Court in 1962 tackled the question of prayer in the schools. The high court ruled then that the educational officials of a state or local government cannot lawfully compose a prayer and direct that it be uttered by pupils in public-school classes or assemblies. Nothing was said by the court about the right of students to engage in silent prayer or to recite aloud prayers prepared for them by a group of parents of all faiths.

THE LATEST CASE involves a request by the parents to the principal and teachers to let the pupils say, during the classroom periods when they are served milk and crackers or cookies, one of two familiar prayers which have no sectarian connection.

New York school officials forbade the prayers, but a federal district court upheld the right of the parents. Then, a U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, relying on previous rulings by the Supreme Court, reversed the lower court. The case was taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, which let the appeals court ruling stand.

THE PRAYER problem now, however, has been enlarged. Although the parents agreed on a neutral prayer suitable for all, it is being banned, presumably because atheists could object. Recognition of atheism as an "established religion" is thus given legal sanction.

The only formula that remains to be tested is one whereby the parents give their children copies of the text of certain prayers and request the teachers to permit a brief intermission during which the pupils can recite in silence or say out loud the prayers prepared for them by their own parents. Will this, too, be barred as an "establishment of religion?"

SOONER OR LATER the Supreme Court will have to decide if the courts have been negligent in failing to stop the Treasury Department — a full fledged government agency — from putting on all coins the phrase "In God we trust." Incidentally, sessions of the Supreme Court itself continue to be opened with the exhortation, "God save the United States and this honorable court."

Eventually, it would appear, a constitutional amendment may be needed to protect and safeguard the words of the First Amendment which provide that the federal government shall not interfere with the "free exercise" of religion.

Billy Graham

Aren't people today too much concerned with material things? Isn't this one of our main sins? Why don't preachers deal with this sin?

F.N.

While it is true that we have become absorbed with "things," it is also true that we are becoming aware of the limitation of "things." Historically, the pendulum has swung back and forth, and man always comes up with the Biblical answer: "Man shall not live by bread alone."

We are in the midst of a scientific revival, and it is natural that men should be conscious of their achievements, and have an exaggerated sense of their importance.

But as William Cowper once wrote in "The Task":

"Knowledge is proud that it has learned so much; Wisdom is humble that it knows no more."

Christ said, "I am the Way," and it is true that all roads, material or spiritual can lead us to God. It is not altogether discouraging when men pursue material goals, for sooner or later they will discover their incapacity to satisfy. Recently one of the world's leading men of science, President Lee Dubridge of Cal Tech said: "Men climb Mt. Everest, explore the bottom of the sea, sail to the far corners of the earth, explore the atom, and soar into space—all because they are born explorers. . . . Are science and engineering just the tools for man's amusement and for his ultimate destruction? Let us say rather, and more truthfully—that they are tools in his eternal struggle to achieve his highest spiritual ends."

France Continues As One-Man Show

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Charles de Gaulle became president of France seven years ago it was in bad shape. Rightists and French military leaders in Algeria were in rebellion against the government.

It was a crisis but France, with one government after another toppling since the war, badly needed some kind of political stability. Its multiplicity of political parties made any permanent government impossible.

The French called De Gaulle to power. His programs? He fuzzed his answers, letting the French take him on face value. Could he give France stability? He could and did for seven years.

BUT IT was only a personal stability, built around him. When he was re-elected to another seven-year term Sunday there was nothing to show he had prepared France for stability on his own, now or seven years from now.

It has been a one-man show, and he admitted as much recently when he said: "Naturally, the day will come sooner or later when De Gaulle is gone. What will happen then?" He is 75 now.

He had previously revealed what he thought the answer was. Asking the people to give him a second term, he said the choice was between him and catastrophe.

He had seemed like a sure winner but in the first test Dec 5 against five opponents he got only 44 per cent of the vote and had to go into a runoff Sunday against Francois Mitterrand, 49. This time De Gaulle won with 55 per cent of the vote.

MITTERRAND himself is an aloof if not arrogant man and had the endorsement of an odd collection of Frenchmen: Communists, Socialists and extreme right-wingers. Confronted with that, the French apparently thought De Gaulle was a safer bet.

Now that he has been restored to power — after a few human and homey campaign appearances on television — he can be expected to be his old haughty self, and that can mean misery for the United States and Britain.

It will not be surprising if before his second seven years are up, he wrecks the Western nations' NATO alliance through his insistence everything must be played his way or not at all.

He has small stomach for politics. But it is possible he will outlive his usefulness before his term ends. Nations, while appreciating their heroes, do get impatient with them. The British showed that.

AS SOON as World War II ended they threw out Prime Minister Winston Churchill. They restored him some years later but as he got older he grew feeble. When he was 80 his own Cabinet asked him to quit. He did.

De Gaulle has always been difficult: for the French army before the war, for the Allies during it, after it, and ever since. At the war's end Churchill said: "I am sure that in the long run no understanding will be reached with Gen. de Gaulle."

Why Not Buy Book For Gift?

NEW YORK (AP) — Having trouble finding the right Christmas present for a friend?

Why not give him a book?

Even if he already has a book, you can give him another.

Whether your friend reads the book is unimportant. Books have other than educational uses. They are great for curing insomnia, throwing at the cat and come in handy when you need to stand on something to reach a high shelf.

THE NEXT problem is what book to select. Naturally, that depends upon what kind of friend you are buying a present for. If he flunked out of Harvard, get him a book printed in large type and full of pictures. If he graduated from Yale get him one that has a portrait of a bosomy girl on the cover.

In general, however, the main thing is to be sure the book has a lot of pages and looks expensive. Be sure also that it has a hard cover.

As a tentative guide, here—all in fun—are a few books one might send to people well-known in the news.

"The Hour of Giving"—Jack Benny.

"Up the Down Staircase"—Leo Durocher.

"At Play in the Fields of the Lord"—Billy Graham.

- "YES I CAN" — Richard M. Nixon.
- "The Source" — Lyndon B. Johnson.
- "The Man with the Golden Gun" — Robert S. McNamara.
- "World Without Sun" — any slum landlord.
- "Lord of the Flies" — your friendly neighborhood exterminator.
- "Never Call Retreat" — Norman Thomas.
- "Marching in the Promised Land" — Sen Robert F. Kennedy.
- "Favor the Runner" — Adam Clayton Powell.
- "A Soldier Speaks" — any trooper in Viet Nam.
- "ALL THINGS Considered" — Harold E. Stassen.
- "The Ambassador" — Bob Hope.
- "The Light of the Past" — Barry Goldwater.
- "Girl on the Run" — Lady Bird.
- "Company's Coming!" — Ho Chi Minh.
- "An Odor of Sanctity" — Charles de Gaulle.
- "2,000 Insults for All Occasions" — comedian Jack E. Leonard.
- "The Available Man" — Hubert H. Humphrey.
- "A Strange New World" — Dean Rusk.
- "Hope for Our Times" — buy this one for yourself.

Winter Refreshments

Hark back to your days of youth and, if you have made a few laps, you'll remember the way the bottles left by the milkman used to freeze over on frigid winter mornings.

What a delicacy frozen milk proved to be to the small fry. The liquid would expand and there wouldn't be anyway for it to go but through the top. That would cause the cardboard lid to give way and tilt to one side or the other.

IF THE MILK came with a lot of cream, as much of it did in those days of yore, then the treat was even better — good enough that all the kids in the household wanted a ration of it.

Of course, the family cat might have taken advantage of the freeze during the night but we operated under the theory that what we didn't know didn't hurt us. Besides, the cat never ate very much of nature's ice cream cone. There was always enough to go around.

ANOTHER cold-weather dish around our house was snow ice cream. It was one thing to eat the snow untreated, which we invariably did, and something else again to combine it with milk, an egg or two and vanilla flavoring.

Baked Alaska couldn't have tasted any better to us at that time, probably because it snowed so seldom and the treat was so rarely visited upon us.

OF COURSE, the idea of pulling a huge icicle off the eaves of the house or the barn and licking it for refreshment was highly recommended, too. The practice was discouraged by the adults, who tried to point out that the hanging cone of freezing water wasn't as pure as it should be, but their recommendations didn't have a lasting effect on the kids in my block.

They had argued, on the other hand, that a growing bucko had to wash his hands before he came to the table to eat, and water — combined with soap — was the great cleansing agent. So, we concluded, water was water, whether it came out of the pipe or fell from the skies and was frozen solid in such becoming shapes hanging from the roofs of buildings.

LOOKING BACK, it's a wonder we survived — and grew to caution kids of our own that falling flakes of snow aren't always as sterile as they seem. —TOMMY HART

A Critique On Congress

WASHINGTON — It matters, of course, what party wins the presidency and the Congressional majorities. But Rep. Tom Curtis (R., Mo.) concludes in a year's end review of the 89th Congress, that it doesn't matter as much as most people believe.

A total of 16,882 measures were introduced into Congress in 1965, and these resulted in 295 public laws. But over 85 per cent of the new laws met with the accord of the entire Congress. They would have passed whoever was President and whichever party controlled House and Senate.

MOST OF THE 295 "new" laws were nothing but extensions and modifications of existing programs—already approved by both parties under former Presidents. Among the very few measures which went on the books for the first time were three which had been under study for many years, and were merely brought down off the shelf. They were Medicare, Immigration and Voting Rights. Two other innovations can be authentically described as LBJ "originals," but not very good ones. They are the debasing of our currency and coinage and the restriction of private investment abroad.

IN SEVERAL instances, the "fights" on Capitol Hill amounted to bipartisan opposition to presidential proposals, rather than to differences between Democrats and Republicans.

Curtis finds the 89th about average in the amount of new legislation it generated, and not very different in the amount of money appropriated. It is, for example, not the first, but the fourth Congress in a row to vote over $100 billion in new power for the President to spend.

THERE IS no such thing, according to Curtis, as a "do nothing" Congress, but there are many "do entirely too much Congresses." Where Congress really deserves blame, says Curtis, is for neglecting its "other duty"—that of overseeing the work of the Executive branch. He writes:

"Seldom have . . . so many laws (been) unenforced . . . so many laws actually violated . . . Congress failed not only in its oversight duties, but it failed . . . to rescind the authority granted to the President which the President was not using or was abusing."

CURTIS PROMISES a forthcoming study of these unused or misused laws, but their chief result, as he notes, is in the annual "carry-over" of money which the President has been allotted but does not spend.

Curtis holds that the loose practice of leaving old and useless laws on the books is what provides the annual excuse for unbalanced budgets and for another hike in the debt ceiling.

It'll Happen By 1975

WASHINGTON—Under the circumstances, Christmas, 1975, was as joyous a season as could reasonably be expected.

President Ernest J. Soapstuds, who had administered a sound thrashing to Republican Pinchley Bleak in the election of 1972 (and, of course had promptly adopted that poor man's entire foreign policy), tried to put a brave face on things when he lit the traditional White House Christmas tree.

"NORMALLY," said President Soapstuds, beaming uncertainly at the television cameras, "the tree is lighted in the week before Christmas. Unfortunately, however, that was not possible this year. As most of you know by now, the whole Western Hemisphere was blacked out by a power failure that lasted from December 19th to December 26th, inclusive, and it was not possible to light the tree until the electricity had been restored."

Here President Soapstuds fixed his audience (estimated at 400 million as a result of the Compulsory Viewing Act of 1974) with a stern expression.

"THE CENTRAL Intelligence Agency has traced the cause of the failure to a short circuit in an electric guitar being played in a pickup combo in the Tierra del Fuego. As these words are being spoken, elements of the United States Marines are landing to protect American lives. Already (here President Soapstuds consults a teletype filmy) more than 200 electric guitars been captured or destroyed.

"SO MUCH (the famous Soapstuds smile floods 200 million living rooms) for not-nice news. We are happy to report that reports from the other side of the world are a different matter. News from Viet Nam continues to be good. Ambassador McNamara, who after all knows more about the war in Viet Nam than anyone else, has sent me a special Christmas message in which he assures me that we have turned the corner and that, in his words, 'we have definitely stopped not winning, and by springtime at the latest should be able to foresee the day when we will have positively started not losing.'

"I'M SURE we all agree that is good news, indeed." President Soapstuds continued. "Ambassador McNamara, of course, added a small postscript. He feels that 1.5 million troops should be sufficient to do the job, but (the smile vanishes) we are dealing with an exceedingly treacherous foe, and it may take up to two million soldiers to finish the task of civilizing them."

President Soapstuds fumbles momentarily with a sheaf of papers on his desk. "Now, just as an illustration of why the Anti-Rumor Act was in our list of must legislation. Here is a letter from a little girl in Cincinnati. 'Dear President Soapstuds,' it begins. 'My little friends tell me that our nice plastic 25-cent pieces are to be cardboard. I hope it isn't true. I can play tiddlywinks with plastic quarters but I'm afraid I can't do it any longer if you start making them of cardboard. Can you tell me what to say to my little friends?'"

PRESIDENT SOAPSTUDS brushes away a tear. "Just let me assure this loyal little American that her little friends are wrong. The mint assures me that our plastic quarters are working just fine, they've licked the melting problem and — without intending any slight to our great pasteborder industry—there is absolutely no plan for shifting over to cardboard quarters. When you write to your little friends at the Youth Rehabilitation Camp, you tell them you have the word of President Soapstuds, and they'd better believe it."

(SUDDENLY the lights on the huge White House tree begin to flicker and fade. So, indeed, does the image of Mr. Soapstuds on 200 million TV screens. His last words, before the power falls completely are, "Dagnab it, tell what's-his-name over at CIA that I want to see him right away.")

Jazz Event

NEW YORK (AP)—An international competition in modern jazz, open to young musicians between 15 and 25, is to be held in Vienna.

Announcement has been made by the consul general of Austria here.

A prize of approximately $1,000 will be given to the winner in each of six instrumental groups — trumpet, trombone, saxophone, piano, bass and drums. Second prize in each group will be about $600.

The jury will be headed by Polish jazz expert Roman Waschko.

U.S. To Sue Schools For Segregating

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is planning court suits against some school districts which maintain segregation policies.

Assistant Atty. Gen. John Doar said Sunday the list of potential defendants includes some federal funds in an effort to preserve segregation.

Doar, speaking on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation," said:

"If they don't do it voluntarily, we'll have to turn to the courts to require them to desegregate."

The Supreme Court in 1954 ordered an end to school segregation policies, and in 1964 Congress ordered a withholding of federal aid if segregation is practiced.

Doar didn't say how many districts would be involved nor did he specify the states.

Purported Peace Maneuver Prompts A Stormy Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration found itself caught up today in a stormy dispute over its publication of correspondence reporting and probing a conditional peace offer from Communist North Viet Nam.

The storm overshadowed the central question whether Hanoi had in fact made an authentic approach for a settlement on its own terms and might yet respond to a U.S. request for clarification of conditions in it.

President Johnson could try to revive the roundabout peace exchange with President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam by sending some kind of new message in Ho's direction, but administration officials said today that there had been no decision on any new U.S. action. The secrecy covers were torn from the incident last Friday afternoon after the St. Louis Post-Dispatch reported that a new peace offer from Hanoi had been rejected by the United States.

BLASTS RUSK

Dr. Giorgio La Pira, former mayor of Florence and a left-wing Christian-Democrat, one of the principal intermediaries in the affair, virtually accused Secretary of State Dean Rusk of sabotaging what La Pira took to be a hopeful exchange on peace.

"Rusk is to blame," La Pira was quoted in press dispatches from Florence, "because he obviously wanted this mission to fail by disclosing in advance what had been done."

State Department officials, calling the charge outrageous, said the publication was forced by concern for what they contended was a partially erroneous account which had already become public. Rusk was reported angered and upset by the criticism.

Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and another who played the role of go-between, said Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" the administration would have "preferred to carry on this discussion in privacy" but was faced with a "crisis of confidence" with the public over the credibility of its peace policy. Goldberg argued the administration acted correctly in releasing the correspondence.

Goldberg said he did not think disclosure of the exchange over peace negotiations would hurt any chances that now exist for such talks.

NOT DISCOURAGED

"I think we would continue to hope that this matter will be transferred from the battlefield to the conference table. So I do not feel discouraged," he said.

"If there is a genuine desire on both sides to negotiate, that desire will surmount whatever the difficulties are of disclosure."

But Dr. Benjamin Spock and H. Stuart Hughes, cochairmen of the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, attacked the administration on the ground that it was "avoiding negotiations (by publication of the correspondence) in order to keep the National Liberation Front (the political arm of the Communist guerrilla forces in South Viet Nam) out of any future government in Saigon."

North Viet Nam itself denounced the whole thing Saturday as a hoax and in effect denied that a peace probe had been made.

PEKING CHANT

The Communist Chinese chimed in Sunday, calling the report of peace feelers a "U.S.-made hoax" which "fools nobody."

U.S. officials here were impressed by the degree of confirmation in the Hanoi broadcast, however, of the main mechanical fact of the reported peace offer — the meeting Nov. 11 between La Pira and Italian Professor Mario Primicerio, with Ho and Premier Pham Van Dong.

The North Vietnamese announcement differed in its emphasis from the account which La Pira passed on to Italian Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani, the U.N. General Assembly president, and which Fanfani reported to Washington in a Nov. 20 letter to President Johnson.

The La Pira-Fanfani account said the Vietnamese were prepared for peace negotiations on the basis of the 1954 Geneva agreements creating Viet Nam provided the United States would accept the Communists' four-point program, which Hanoi called its definition of the Geneva treaty, as a basis for the talks.

FOUR POINTS

The Hanoi account which denounced the State Department disclosure said flatly that "the United States must recognize these four points and show this with practical deeds so as to find a political solution to the Viet Nam problem."

That is in line with North Viet Nam's standard public position but it is harder as a statement of policy than the La Pira version reported by Fanfani and released in the Fanfani letter to Johnson.

Diplomatic authorities said privately they thought the Hanoi government might have considered it necessary to issue Saturday's denial to preserve its position with Communist China, which is regarded here as vehemently opposed to peace in Viet Nam. But officials said it was equally possible and perhaps more logical that North Viet Nam's leaders simply aren't ready to negotiate yet on any terms other than their own.

RED DEMAND

The principal Communist term which the Johnson administration has been totally unwilling to accept is Point Three, which requires that the Communists have a decisive role in the future of South Viet Nam. Johnson and Rusk have taken the position that on this issue there can be no compromise.

Fanfani's letter to Johnson was answered by Rusk Dec. 4 and Fanfani sent the essence of the reply along to North Viet Nam. Rusk asked for clarification on several points of La Pira's version of Ho's statement.

Diplomatically, therefore, the

Cong Tighten Terror Noose About Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong ranging from youthful saboteurs in Saigon to battle-hardened battalions in the countryside are tightening a noose of terror around Saigon.

The threat at present is mostly psychological. But a massive terror campaign may be near for the capital, which has escaped much of the brutality of the war despite repeated terrorist acts.

No Viet Cong military attempt to seize the city is expected.

Government troops have been able to do little to clear the surrounding countryside. Some vital military installations and tactical areas are considered threatened. One such military area is almost within rifle shot of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division headquarters just north of Saigon.

COUP RUMORS

Adding to the problem, rumblings of military discontent with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government have touched off a flurry of coup rumors. At such times anti-Communist operations often are disregarded in favor of political jockeying.

Rivalries between various intelligence agencies complicate the picture. Police sources say informers often fear being exposed by Viet Cong agents who have infiltrated into the government's version of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

High officials in Washington and Saigon have focused sharply on the recent campaign of terror in Saigon which began with the bombing Dec. 4 of the Metropole Hotel, a U.S. and Allied billet.

CURFEW ORDERED

A series of incidents since led to a dusk-to-dawn curfew for U.S. servicemen in Saigon.

Concern is high now because the current terror campaign obviously is geared to the fifth anniversary today of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

Inside the city are four known Viet Cong Commando units, the 65th, 67th, 158th and 159th. They probably total less than 300 persons.

The Commandos are not organized as military units. The members are parts of Communist cells and subcells and most are unknown to each other. Over-all plans are known only by a top handful. If one cell or group is compromised, the sabotage network does not collapse.

CONG ORGANIZATION

Fanning out of Saigon into Gia Dinh Province, also part of the capital military district, are perhaps five Viet Cong district organizations, some with military companies attached. These district organizations have a measure of autonomy and include many of the most dedicated Communists.

Recent intelligence reports indicate that two Viet Cong bat-

Cities Disagree With Crime Claim

NEW YORK (AP) — Leaders of some of the nation's largest cities disagreed today with a Republican charge that zooming crime rates can be traced to a surrender to criminals by big-city political machines.

A panel of top Republicans, in a report issued Sunday night in Washington, said municipal leaders "have, in effect, confessed that criminals, not the police, lawlessness, not the law, are in control."

"Insofar as surrendering to the criminal is concerned, we've done the opposite," said a spokesman for Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit, a political independent.

"Obviously, New York is not one of the cities they have in mind," said a spokesman for Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a Democrat who will be succeeded by a Republican Jan. 1.

NONE PINPOINTED

Those comments were typical of the reaction of officials in big cities across the country—that the Republicans must have had some city in mind other than their own. The Republican panel named no cities in the report.

The report, prepared by a coordinating committee task force headed by Robert Taft Jr., a former Ohio congressman, said in part:

"There are sectors in most of our large cities where crime is so rampant that citizens are advised to stay away. Administrators in some cities have really ceased to make an adequate effort to prevent crime in these sectors."

"Urban local government has become so large, party machinery so cumbersome, federal and state controls so confusing that many people feel that their governments are no longer related to them."

URBAN MACHINES

"We suggest that some of the present difficulties are related to the development of large urban political machines. Citizens feel no sense of loyalty to governments dominated by such machines."

Minor Wilson, chief administrative aide to Police Supt. Orlando W. Wilson of Chicago, said: "It seems hard for me to believe that they really arrived at that conclusion. It seems almost absurd."

"The essence of Supt. Wilson's reorganization of the Chicago police force was to effect more centralized control of police operations. Before that time the police had been district controlled. The situation was not good."

The spokesman for Detroit Mayor Cavanagh said the city has no political machine because of its nonpartisan government. In fighting crime, he said the city has increased police salaries 26 per cent over the past four years, provided other incentives to the police and supports the force in all possible respects.

Space Drama Exciting Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's really exciting show the past weekend was the second of its two-part drama on the recovery of the record-breaking astronauts, complete with happy ending.

The Saturday morning live coverage from the carrier Wasp was as expert and satisfying as it had been two days before. It would have been even more thrilling if we had been able to see the astronauts as they actually emerged from the capsule, but their eagerness to get out as soon as possible was easy to understand.

Viewers eventually will become accustomed to front-row seats on history as it happens. But right now when it is new and stimulating, the effect is to make television's usual action-adventure series seem even more contrived and trite than usual.

Thus it was a long, long dive from Saturday morning's return of the space travelers to Sunday night's "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea." The latter seemed like a comedy-satire.

The colorful special effects of the ABC series are marvelous, particularly the scenes inside that very convincing submarine of the future. But the story lines often leave something to be desired.

CBS' "20th Century" Sunday night had a fascinating film account of a real life adventure in rescuing wild animals stranded and starving in flooded jungle areas of Surinam, South America.

Star of the too-short half-hour was a bearded young American named John Walsh. Working for the International Society for the Protection of Wild Animals and aided by a native crew and assorted boats, he rounded up all types of animals in distress, from slow-moving sloths to a frightened, struggling deer.

Violence Toll Reaches 47

By The Associated Press
Violence took 47 lives in Texas during the last weekend before Christmas, 33 in traffic.

Four young persons died at Amarillo when their car hit a Santa Fe freight train just before midnight Saturday. They were Daniel Smith, 23; Carolyn Williams, 22; and Cecilia Strout, 15, all of Amarillo; and Riley Rigby of Hesperia, Calif.

A car skidded off a wet farm road south of Corpus Christi Sunday and hit a utility pole, killing John Martinez, 21, stationed at the Kingsville Naval Air Station. A companion was hurt critically.

2-CAR CRASH
William Merritt, 17, who had just moved to Grand Prairie from Oklahoma, was killed before dawn Sunday in a two-car collision east of Lewisville.

In Garza County, a car hit a bridge railing 11 miles north of Post and plunged 80 feet into a creek bed, killing Robert Rivers, 21, of Spur, Sunday. Two persons were hurt.

Four small children burned to death early Sunday when fire razed the upper floor of a two-story brick apartment building in Galveston. They were Barbara, 5, Gene, 3, Elmore, 2, and Terry Wyatt, one year. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wyatt who had gone to a grocery store nearby.

HURTLED 70 FEET
An auto crashed on a Dallas expressway Sunday and the woman driver was thrown over the side to plunge 70 feet to her death. She was Ellen Walters, 23, of Hutchins.

A. J. Cwerschke, 30, Seadrift, died in a one-car smashup early Sunday four miles east of Seadrift.

At Fort Worth, Joe Aguillar, 24, died of a gunshot wound in the head about 5 a.m. Sunday. Accidental death was ruled. Police said he was playing Russian roulette with two other men.

Dr. Forrest Agee, 62, academic dean of Howard Payne College at Brownwood, was fatally injured Saturday night as a car and a pickup truck collided 12 miles from Brownwood. Dr. Guy Newman, 57, president of Howard Payne, and several other persons were injured critically.

SOUTH TEXAS
A collision Sunday night seven miles north of Bay City on Texas 60 killed Paul Zomorzo, 25. His wife and two small children were injured.

Mrs. Alton Jay died of burns received Sunday when her dress was ignited by an open heater at her home in Jacksonville.

Death by asphyxiation was ruled Sunday after the bodies of Betty Cryer, 18, of Ennis and Wesley Sykes, 32, of Corsicana were found in a Corsicana motel.

Ollie Slaughter, 85, drowned late Saturday night after his car overturned in a rail-filled ditch on Texas 35 seven miles west of West Columbia.

DEAR ABBY
Dressing The Men

DEAR ABBY: Why do most men prefer to buy their own clothes, no matter how poor their taste is, rather than let their wives go shopping with them? I know every few men whose wives couldn't dress them better than they dress themselves. Most men know nothing about style. They come out of the store with something just like what they went in with. You have to look close to see if they're wearing their new blue suit or their old one. You should write a column on how the well-dressed man should dress.

SICK OF SLOBS
DEAR SICK: I don't have to write a column on how men should dress. Any man who wants to be well-dressed needs only to walk into a first-class men's clothing store and ask one of the salesmen for guidance. Men who sell men's clothing are among the best-dressed men in the country. They make an honest effort to sell the customer what is right for him. And only when they fail, will they let him buy what he wants, regardless.

DEAR ABBY: Please answer this real soon as it is very important to me. There is this real cute boy at school and I like him very much, but he doesn't like me. He likes another girl. She is real popular and I am not. This girl has a big mouth, terrible personality and she's a big show-off, but she's good-looking and that's why she's popular. This isn't just my opinion. Lots of kids agree with me. I am not cute, but I am not ugly, either. This boy is going to ask this girl to go steady. I told him he is making a big mistake and he said that was for HIM to decide. What can I do to get him? LIKES HIM

DEAR LIKES: Nothing. No boy likes to be told whom to like, and any coaching from the sidelines will only make him more determined to make up his own mind. It's not possible to throw mud without getting some on yourself, so my advice to you is to concentrate on making yourself more "likable" and quit attempting to cut other girls down.

DEAR ABBY: I have a daughter who is seven years old and Abby, she is about the slowest eater I have ever seen. It took her 45 minutes to eat a bowl of cereal this morning. She has always been a slow eater, and nothing can make her eat faster. I don't know if we should try to get her to eat faster or not. Can you advise me? MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C.: Forty-five minutes is far too long to sit over a bowl of cereal. She's not "eating"—she's dawdling. These are the years children form their habits, so give her a certain amount of time (like 15 minutes) in which to eat her cereal, and then remove the bowl. Full or empty, she has trained YOU to accept her fiddling around. Change her tune, and train HER to get on with the business of eating at mealtime.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

More Demand Looms For Services, Goods

NEW YORK (AP) — The voracious appetite of Americans for goods and services has kept the economy booming for almost five years. U.S. producers and businessmen have been able to meet the demand and profit by it even though supply still exceeded the growing appetite.

But for the first time the emphasis is swinging toward supply rather than demand — supply of production facilities, supply of workers skilled enough to man them. This could determine how 1966 shapes up.

Consumer, business and government demands for goods and services are expected to go on expanding in 1966. Will the supply be enough to meet all of them? Or will there be a pinch? And will this pinch mean rising prices or will it cause a slowing down of the expansion at last?

DEMAND INCREASE
The Viet Nam war will increase the demand for both goods and manpower. So will the programs started or planned under the label of the Great Society.

When the current upswing started early in 1961, idle facilities were a problem. The gap between actual production and the potential was put at 10 per cent.

But demand has grown more rapidly than new productive facilities have been built and now the gap is about one-fifth what it was, and only a big more than half what it was a year ago. It is this sudden narrowing of the gap in the last year that leaves little elbow room in which the economy can operate.

CAUSE PINCH
Any further tightening — and some is expected — could cause a pinch next year, the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York notes in its current survey.

Plants, offices and service establishments have to be manned, and most with skilled and experienced manpower. In 1965 the economy called for 1,700,000 jobs more than in 1964. The labor force grew by about 1,300,000, meaning that about 400,000 unemployed found work — or, more precisely, that unemployment dropped by that figure.

Brodie Keeps Colts In Race For Title

By The Associated Press

The best quarterback the Baltimore Colts had going for them in their last-chance shot at the National Football League's Western Division title was John Brodie — of the San Francisco 49ers.

Baltimore kept alive Saturday when converted halfback Tom Matte and veteran pick-up Ed Brown quarterbacked them to a 20-17 squeaker over the Los Angeles Rams.

Then on Sunday, Brodie capped the finest season of his career by leading the 49ers to a 24-24 tie with Green Bay, leaving the Packers and Colts deadlocked at the top with 10-3-1 records.

BRODIE BLISTERS 'EM

Green Bay had a seven-point lead — and the division title apparently sewn up — with less than two minutes to go. But the 49ers surged back, so now the Packers and Colts will play off for the Western crown next Sunday at Green Bay, with the winner taking on the Cleveland Browns for the league championship Jan. 2.

Brodie's third scoring pass of the day, a 27-yarder to Vern Burke with 1 minute, 7 seconds to play, and Tommy Davis' conversion kick tied it at San Francisco. Each team led twice, with the Packers taking a 21-17 advantage in the final period on Jim Taylor's five-yard run and going ahead 24-17 when Don Chandler kicked a 31-yard field goal with 1:48 left.

But in 41 seconds the 49ers got even on Kermit Alexander's kickoff return to the 29, a 15-yard penalty, four Brodie passes, and Davis' kick. The 49ers' quarterback star, in his ninth NFL season, clicked on 26 of 34 passes for an amazing 76.5 per cent and 295 yards, and wound up the year with 30 TD strikes.

McClinton Puts On One-Man Show

By The Associated Press

"I was playing his position and I wanted to play it as he would have," said Kansas City's Curt McClinton. "I dedicated myself to do it the way he would have done it."

The position McClinton was playing belonged to his roommate and teammate Mack (The Truck) Hill, who died suddenly last Tuesday from complications arising over a knee operation.

And McClinton, shifted from his normal halfback position, scored one touchdown and set up three others by grabbing five passes for 213 yards as the emotionally charged Chiefs outslugged Denver 45-35 Sunday in an American Football League game.

McClinton scored on an 11-yard touchdown run and set up three other scores with key receptions of 52, 12 and 69 yards en route to a total gain of 228 yards for the game. His one-man show even impressed his teammates, all of whom had dedicated the game to Hill.

"Curtis showed super-human effort," said quarterback Len Dawson. "That was a sensational effort," said punt return specialist Frank Jackson.

While the Chiefs and Broncos closed out their regular seasons, San Diego and Buffalo tuned up for the championship game next Sunday, the Chargers defeating Oakland 24-14 and the Bills dropping a 14-12 decision to the New York Jets.

Boston wallowed Houston 42-14 Saturday as Gino Cappelletti of the Patriots produced 28 points for a season total of 132 while winning the scoring title for the third consecutive year.

Dawson completed 11 of 22 passes for 282 yards against the Broncos before turning the quarterbacking over to Pete Beathard and Bert Coan, taking over McClinton's halfback position, ran short yardage for a pair of touchdowns. John McCormick passed for three Denver touchdowns and Cookie Gilchrist scored on 44 and one-yard runs.

Paul Lowe carried only three times for 32 yards in the Chargers' victory but set a league rushing record with 1,112 for the season, bettering the 1,085 gained by Oakland's Clem Daniels in 1963. John Hadl's two touchdown passes to Don Norton pulled San Diego into a 14-14 tie and the Chargers pulled ahead to stay in the fourth quarter on a 66-yarder from Don Breaux to Lance Alworth.

Joe Namath's two touchdowns passes to Don Maynard got the job done for the Jets against the Bills, who muffed a conversion attempt and three field goal tries. Pete Gogolak, Buffalo's kicking specialist, didn't even get a chance to put his foot on the ball on two of the attempts and wound up second in the scoring race with 115 points.

Governor Helps Negro

By The Associated Press

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Gov. Edward T. Breathitt played a major role in signing the first Negro to a Southeastern Conference athletic grant-in-aid.

Breathitt entertained the star football player from Louisville at a luncheon at the governor's mansion in Frankfort, then started off on a two-city hop with the athlete that culminated with a visit to the player's mother.

By Sunday evening Nat Northington, a tailback at Louisville's Thomas Jefferson High School, had signed a University of Kentucky athletic scholarship and his mother, Mrs. William Northington, had given her approval with the governor standing at their side.

Breathitt talked with Northington privately at the luncheon, after which they set out for the university, 32 miles away at Lexington.

Northington signed at Lexington in the presence of Kentucky football coach Charlie Bradshaw and his staff and university President John Oswald.

"This is a great and historic day for the University of Kentucky," Oswald said, "and for its athletic program and for the Southeastern Conference."

From Lexington, Breathitt, Northington and Kentucky assistant coach George Boone drove 70 miles to Louisville to get the signature of Northington's mother on the scholarship.

Breathitt, also chairman of the university board of trustees, called last week for increased efforts for the university to sign a Negro to a grant.

Arkansas State Setting Pace

By The Associated Press

Arkansas State took over the lead in the Southland Conference basketball race last week when Abilene Christian faltered in a tour of Kentucky.

While the Christians were taking 68-62 and 84-59 defeats from Kentucky Wesleyan and Western Kentucky respectively, Arkansas State was winning two out of three and that gave the Indians the top spot with a 6-1 record. Abilene Christian now is 6-2.

Arkansas State broke even in a series with Southeast Oklahoma for its first loss of the season. The Indians won the first game 62-48 but dropped the second 48-44. Arkansas State also beat East Carolina 70-68.

There's little action this week with only two games on the schedule as the teams take out for the Christmas holidays. Trinity plays Texas A&I at San Antonio tonight while Abilene Christian goes to Stillwater, Okla., to meet Oklahoma State Tuesday.

NFL Strikes Quickly, Gets Seven More Draft Choices

By The Associated Press

The National Football League has added two more first-round choices to its bulging collection and blocked the American League from keeping Tulsa's record-breaking Bill Anderson to Howard Twilley passing combination intact in the pros.

Striking quickly after Saturday's Bluebonnet and Liberty bowl football games, the NFL signed seven players to two for the AFL as four more major teams closed out their regular seasons.

The two No. 1 selections were guard Stan Hindman and halfback Mike Dennis, who helped Mississippi to a 13-7 Liberty Bowl victory over Auburn.

Hindman, a 230-pounder, who likely will play defensive end in the pros, signed with San Francisco. He had been a second-round selection of Houston in the AFL.

Dennis, a 210-pound running back, was picked in the third round of the NFL draft by Atlanta, but the Falcons later altered his negotiation rights to signed him. He was Buffalo's top pick in the AFL draft.

Another Mississippi star, defensive back Bill Clay, signed with Washington of the NFL. He was the Redskins' No. 4 pick and was selected fifth by Denver of the AFL.

The AFL's Miami Dolphins, meanwhile, tried to keep the Twilley-Anderson combination together but failed. The new team had drafted Twilley No. 12 and acquired the rights to Anderson on a lateral from Houston.

The Dolphins got Twilley but lost Anderson to the Rams.

Meredith's Passes Earn Playoff Berth

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — "There just wasn't no way we were going to stall at the gate after going this far."

Don Meredith was talking about the 35-20 victory of the Dallas Cowboys over the New York Giants Sunday that sent the winners into the Jan. 9 Playoff Bowl at Miami.

"I'm not ashamed of finishing second," said the 27-year-old quarterback. "We had gum deserved it."

Meredith dad gum deserved his share of the praise along with Bob Hayes and the alert Cowboy defensive unit for the former Southern Methodist ace had bounced back after a poor start.

The fans were on Meredith in early season when his passing suffered because of a chronic sore arm. He had reinjured the arm in a fall during the training season at Thousand Oaks, Calif. It got so bad that Coach Tom Landry benched him.

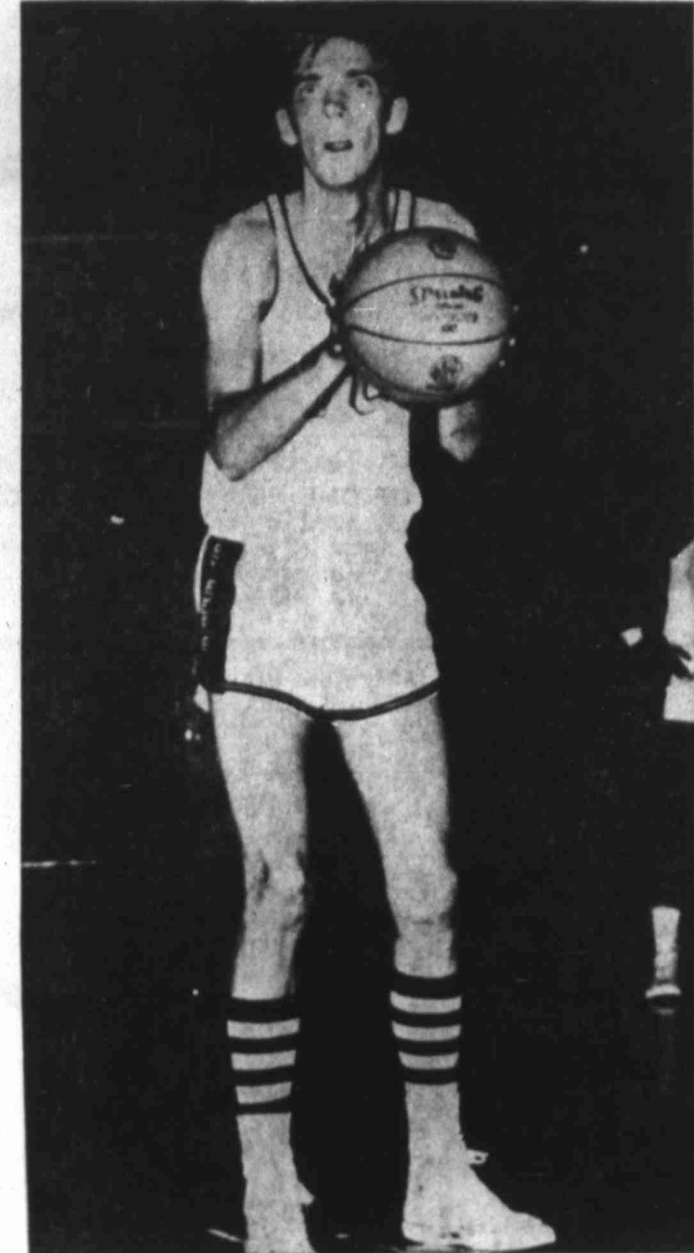

"Don just wasn't throwing good with that bad arm," said Landry. "So I set him down. When he got back in there we started moving and won five of our last seven. We should have won them all."

Meredith threw three touchdowns passes, two to Hayes, the Olympic sprint champion, and one to Buddy Dial. Although he completed only eight of 18 for 200 yards, he did hit with the three big ones and he finished among the top rushers with 54 yards on five runs.

"We don't care who we play in Miami," said Meredith. "We beat 'em. We've got a real fine football team."

Hayes became the first rookie since Mike Ditka of the Chicago Bears in 1961 to gain more than 1,000 yards in pass catching. The speed merchant from Florida A&M caught 46 passes for 1,003 yards. The big catches Sunday were 65-yard and 33-yard tosses from Meredith. In each case Hayes simply ran away from the defense.

It was the Dallas defense that saved the day when danger threatened. The Giants had pulled up to within three points, trailing 17-14, and were down to the Cowboys' 33 early in the final period.

Key Figure For Steers

One of the key figures in the fortunes of the Big Spring Steers basketball team this season is Simon Terrazas, 6-5 forward and a veteran campaigner. Coaches have picked the Steers as real contenders, and how well they measure up will depend on experienced players like Terrazas. The Steers open District 2-AAAA play here Tuesday evening against Midland Lee.

Steers Surprise With Second Spot

In a poll of coaches and sports writers within District 2-AAAA, the Abilene High Eagles were the unanimous pick to win the basketball championship this season.

The eight-team race gets underway on four fronts Tuesday night.

Big Spring wound up a surprising second in the balloting, followed by San Angelo.

Midland Lee, titlist last year and Big Spring's Tuesday night opponent here, finished fifth in

Attendance Mark Falls For NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League broke its attendance record for the fifth straight season this year as it closed in on the 5-million mark.

Unofficial figures for the season which ended Sunday show 98 NFL games drew 4,906,364. Last year's official attendance was a record 4,563,049.

Major Teams Take Holiday, Duke Preps For Michigan

By The Associated Press

All the major college basketball teams are taking the week-end off for Christmas but have jammed up the early part of the week with a flock of key inter-sectional games—including the Duke vs. Michigan clash.

The Blue Devils, 6-1 after a major scare from Virginia Saturday, take their No. 1 national ranking to Michigan Tuesday night for the top game on a busy slate. Michigan is 4-1 and ranked third nationally.

That game could have a major bearing on the national standings going into next week's hectic schedule of scores and scores of holiday tournaments, a schedule that actually started last weekend and continues with a couple of more early this week.

Michigan was idle last week and should be well-rested for Duke. The Wolverines lost Bill Buntin from last year's Big Ten champion team but still have All-America Cazzie Russell and 6-foot-7 Oliver Darden back from the team that last year reached the national finals and the year before the semis.

Duke, on the other hand, is scrambling. After knocking off UCLA twice in a row the week before, the Blue Devils had to come from behind twice Saturday night in clipping Virginia 75-72.

Other important games early in the week have unbeaten Providence, No. 7, at Houston, and unbeaten Minnesota, No. 6, at Detroit tonight.

Tuesday night it's St. Joseph's, Pa., 6-0 and No. 2, at Brigham Young; Montana at Bradley, 8-0 and No. 9; and Santa Barbara at Vanderbilt, 6-0 and No. 5.

Fifteen teams were knocked from the unbeaten ranks last week, with No. 4 Kansas having the roughest go among the ranked teams, losing twice, 78-71 to UCLA and 81-69 to Southern California.

Eighth-ranked UCLA took an 82-76 licking from Cincinnati Saturday, its third loss of the season, but the rest of the Top Ten rolled along as expected.

Vanderbilt won three times, including a 72-69 triumph over Western Kentucky in the finals of Vandy's Invitational Tournament Saturday night.

Other host teams scoring victories in their own tournaments Saturday included Kentucky, 91-56 over Indiana; Virginia Tech, 72-62 over Clemson; Marquette, 75-74 over Washington in the Milwaukee Classic; and Arizona State University 84-81 over Seattle.

Tennessee won the Gulf South Classic 49-43 over Centenary with the help of 18 points from Ron Widby, who was named the Most Valuable Player in the tournament after helping the Vols beat Tulsa 27-6 in the Bluebonnet Bowl football game Saturday afternoon.

Bradley, at 8-0, now tops the list of 17 major unbeaten teams, closely followed by Iowa, Syracuse and Temple at 7-0. Bradley won three times last week, including Saturday's 78-64 decision over Murray State.

In other Saturday night action, St. Joseph's whipped Michigan State 82-65. Minnesota beat Creighton 89-77. Providence took New Orleans Loyola 88-76 and No. 10 Wichita remained unbeaten with a 105-84 romp over Texas Tech.

PERMIAN, BROWNWOOD

West Texas Returns To Grid Championships

By The Associated Press

The West returned to the Texas schoolboy football scene with a double bang last weekend.

Shut out in 1964, West Texas posted two state championships this season to dominate once more.

Odessa Permian, piloted by Gene Mayfield, who used to produce top teams at Borger, won the Class AAAA championship by beating San Antonio Lee 11-6.

Brownwood gave its coach, Gordon Wood, his fourth state title to tie the all-time record when it took out Bridge City 14-0 for the Class AAA crown.

Those were the West Texas triumphs—the two biggest prizes of all.

Plano upset Edna 20-17 for the Class AA championship to give the North one title, whereas it had two last year.

Wills Point took the Class A championship by beating White Deer 14-0 and that kept the East from being shut out.

The South was the only section that failed to scratch.

Only two teams finished undefeated and untied—Brownwood, which won 14 straight, and Wills Point, which paraded to 15 straight victories.

Ricky White was the hero as Permian downed high scoring Lee, which had its offensive guards pretty well shackled Saturday. He blocked two punts and recovered a fumble among his defensive feats for the day.

Permian also appeared to be in position to contend for the championship next year although it has only three starters returning. It seems there was quite a team playing on the junior varsity this season.

Wood didn't think his Brownwood team that beat Bridge City on two touchdown passes

Mays Gives Up Promotion Work

By The Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Willie Mays has quit promoting the Job Corps for the sake of his baseball career. His third collapse in three years forced the decision.

Willie explained: "The doctor here said I was a little nervous from running around all over the country."

Mays, 34, highest-paid player in baseball ($105,000) and the National League's Most Valuable Player, fell in a faint Saturday while promoting the Job Corps at a downtown theater.

Backstage hands ran to help him. They sat him in a chair. And somebody called a police ambulance. But Mays walked from the theater and rode in a police car to the Salt Lake City home of Herman Franks, manager of the San Francisco Giants.

Oklahoma Still Looks

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The University of Oklahoma Athletic Council was to interview two more assistant coaches today as officials voiced hope the two-week search for a head football coach was near an end.

Assistants Jim MacKenzie of Arkansas and Sam Boghosian of Oregon State were the latest in a series of prospects to appear before the council since Gomer Jones stepped out of the job after two seasons on Dec. 6.

The Block That Beat Them

Jornell Green of the Dallas Cowboys (24) blocks the New York Giants' field goal attempt that could have tied the score in the fourth period of their NFL game at New York's Yankee Stadium yesterday. Instead, Dallas' Obert Logan (not shown) picked up the loose ball and ran for a touchdown. Dallas won, 33-20. Others in the photo are Dallas' Mike Gachter (27) and the Giants' Tucker Frederickson (24), Joe Morrison, who held ball, and kicker Jerry Hillebrand (87). [AP WIRE-PHOTO]

Ron Widby Stars Three Days Running For Vols

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Ron Widby played starring roles in two college basketball games and a football bowl game in a 30-hour span — in two cities 250 miles apart. And both Tulsa Football Coach Glenn Dobbs and Centenary Basketball Coach Orvis Sigler can attest to Widby's feats.

The University of Tennessee athlete, a starter on the Vol basketball team and the punting specialist for Doug Dickey's grid warriors, played in cage games at Shreveport Friday and Saturday night in the Gulf South Classic. In his spare time

Schaus Full Of Surprises

Los Angeles Laker coach Fred Schaus wears his suitcoat at all National Basketball Association games—perhaps to hide a few tricks up his sleeve. He didn't doff his jacket Sunday night, a few tricks rolled out, and the Lakers beat the San Francisco Warriors, 132-120. Here's a sample of Schaus surprises:

—Players were ordered to be in the dressing room early and visitors were barred. "Let them sit there and think about basketball," said Schaus, still rankled at the two defeats Philadelphia handed Los Angeles last week on its home court. —Eugene Baylor, Laker superstar, suited up for the first time since he injured his knee Nov. 27. He didn't play, but added an air of power, to the Los Angeles bench. —Schaus jumbled the lineup, starting Walt Hazzard and Jerry West at guard, using Leroy Ellis for Baylor and calling on Bob Boozer to sub for injured Rudy LaRusso at the other forward spot. Gene Wiley played center.

Huarte Goes To Patriots

BOSTON (AP) — John Huarte, the $200,000 bonus quarterback who spent his first American Football League season as a nonplaying reserve, was acquired by the Boston Patriots from the New York Jets today for a veteran end and a high draft choice. The Patriots completed the long-rumored trade by sending 28-year-old Jim Colclough to the Jets. New York already had gotten Boston's fourth-round pick in last month's player draft as a part of the deal, and selected Wichita linebacker Jim Waskiewicz.

Huarte was an All-America and the Heisman Trophy winner as the nation's top college player in 1964 after leading Notre Dame to a 9-1 record. However, another high-priced rookie, Joe Namath from Alabama, became the Jets' first-string quarterback as Huarte was relegated to the taxi — or reserve — squad. He practiced with the Jets but was not on their active roster and did not see any regular-season action. Colclough led Boston in receptions this season, catching 40 passes for 677 yards and three touchdowns. The former Boston College star spent the 1959 season with Montreal in the Canadian Football League, then joined the Patriots when the AFL started play in 1960.

SW Conference Easy Pickin's

Only five games are scheduled this week before Southwest Conference basketball teams take out for the Christmas holidays. It can't come too soon either. With the possible exception of Arkansas, the conference teams figure they need time out for recouping, reorganizing and anything that might help their public image. They are being whipped so thoroughly by the outsiders it's giving them an inferiority complex.

Take last week: they lost 14 out of 19. And this slump came just at the time when it seemed they might be starting a drive back up along the intersectional front. Arkansas won three games and lost none last week, taking Centenary 70-61, Phillips Oilers 63-64 and Arlington State 78-64. But the only other team in the league that can make a statement near that is Texas A&M, which, while it lost its first game of the season, did manage to win two during the week.

It was left to Houston to turn the trick—the independent Cougars clouted the Aggies 90-85 to remove them from the unbeaten ranks. A&M did help the intersectional status by beating Memphis State 94-84, and the Aggies also kept fellow member Rice wireless by socking the Owls 89-81. But the other conference members had trouble in goals. Rice lost three games during the week, favored Texas Tech dropped two—74-68 to Kansas State and 105-84 to Wichita, although managing to beat Oklahoma 100-92.

And Southern Methodist, which looked like a million in beating Oklahoma City's undefeated Chiefs 92-81, then lost to the likes of Western Kentucky and Army. The Methodists fell to Western Kentucky by 14 points and to Army by 13. Baylor dropped three, Texas Christian two and the league's intersectional record became 18-25. Not much chance now to ever catch up.

Especially with the competition coming up this week, the league hardly will even come close. Texas is in a tournament at Memphis tonight. Tuesday night Centenary is at Southern Methodist, Oklahoma City at Texas Christian and Texas winds up its tournament play. Wednesday night Texas Tech gets Kentucky at Lubbock and that will bring the national spotlight down this way. That also will wind up all activity for the week. There will be no more basketball until after the Christmas holidays.

Lone Star Units Lag

Lone Star Conference basketball teams have the opportunity of catching up with the outside opposition this week since they play nine games in two days, then take out for Christmas. But chances aren't too good that they will do it. Last week they lost 12 out of 18 and went in arrears by two—29 won, 31 lost. Stephen F. Austin was the only team escaping defeat last week but it still wasn't the leader in the season standings. Sam Houston, which lost to Kentucky Wesleyan 86-67 in the only game it played last week, still leads with a 5-2 record.

Monday Sul Ross plays Western New Mexico at Alpine, Southwest Texas meets Southeastern at Washington, D.C., Texas A&I clashes with Trinity at San Antonio, Sam Houston plays Central Missouri at Warrensburg, Mo., East Texas takes on McNeese at Lake Charles, and McMurry plays Pan American at Edinburg. Tuesday night has Howard Payne and Angelo State playing at San Angelo, East Texas and Louisiana College at Lake Charles and Southwest Texas-Hamilton Quigley in Canada.

Big State Lead In Big State Lead

East Texas Baptist has taken over the lead in the Big State Conference basketball race but could very well lose it this week since it plays St. Mary's at San Antonio in the lone game on the schedule.

It happens that St. Mary's hasn't started the conference yet but will do so in meeting the unbeaten East Texas Baptists. East Texas downed defending champion Texas Lutheran 71-64 last week to become the top favorite for the title.

However, a loss to St. Mary's tonight at San Antonio, winding up the week, might put St. Edward's into the driver's seat. St. Edward's leads for the season with a 5-1 record.

LBJ, Erhard Go Into Huddle

WASHINGTON (AP) — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and President Johnson open two days of talks today with the emphasis on Germany's efforts to gain a larger role in Europe's nuclear defenses.

The Germans have no nuclear weapons and rely on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as a deterrent against what Erhard has said are 1,000 middle-range Soviet missiles aimed at Western Europe.

PRESENT PLAN

Erhard was expected to present a plan for expanded control of those nuclear weapons now in Western Europe.

Administration officials knew in advance the broad outlines of his proposal, but declined public comment until after Erhard fills in the details.

As understood prior to the German's arrival, this would involve general support for the British idea of an Atlantic Nuclear Force — ANF.

The Erhard-envisaged force, as understood in Washington, would be a fleet of American and British submarines equipped with Polaris missiles and jointly owned by interested nations. At the outset this probably would include the United States, Britain, West Germany, Italy and the Netherlands.

BIGGER SAY

Thus, three nations — Germany, Italy and the Netherlands — would have a bigger say in the use of nuclear weapons.

Among those with Erhard in Washington are Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder and Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel.

They arrived late Sunday afternoon and were greeted by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

A state dinner was scheduled at the White House tonight.

Social Security For All Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. Chamber of Commerce task force says all Americans should be brought into the Social Security program.

The 100-member group, headed by editor Erwin D. Canham of the Christian Science Monitor, made its proposal in the second phase of a study of poverty.

The second report — on the sick, disabled and aged — also said the $44 minimum monthly Social Security benefit is realistically low.

Attempts To Curb Prices Surely Differ

NEW YORK (AP) — What's the best way to keep prices from rising too high too fast?

President Johnson thinks the way is to put government pressure on businessmen and bankers to hold the price and interest lines. William McChesney Martin thinks the better way is to take some of the speculative steam out of the money and credit markets.

"Each is going his own way now. And the country should soon see which method works the better, or if neither works."

The President has used federal defense stockpiles. White House supervision of labor negotiations, controls dubbed voluntary against the sending by businessmen or bankers of U.S. dollars abroad where they can earn higher returns. The President thinks all this will hold the economy on the fairly steady upward course of the last five years.

DIFFERENT TACK

The Federal Reserve Board is taking a different tack. It is raising the discount rate, usually regarded as the pace-setter for the cost of borrowing. It thinks that will cool down an incipient speculative boom that could send prices sky high if too much money and credit is floating around.

Will other interest rates rise fast? Some may follow the Fed's discount rate, which is what it charges banks for money they borrow to lend to businessmen.

But many observers note that interest rates have been going up steadily for some time. In that sense, the Fed is following the trend, not setting it.

Yields of U.S. Treasury securities have gone well above the 4.5 per cent which the Federal Reserve will now charge the banks. The commercial banks themselves have been lending to most businessmen well above the 4.5 per cent prime rate they list officially.

ALSO UP

Interest rates that lending institutions pay for deposits also have gone up in recent months. Savers have had a choice: higher rates at the commercial and savings banks and the savings and loan associations, or corporate and government securities paying yields unmatched for many years.

And for Americans there was a temptation to send their savings abroad to get still higher returns there.

Interest rates in themselves don't determine consumer prices. But the bankers say they have a long-term effect. That is because a large supply of cheap money and credit gives the nation lots of dollars with which to bid up prices in the marketplace. An abundance of money also can feed speculation. And that usually leads to a big boom, with rising prices, followed by a bust.

The President obviously believes no such speculative boom is in the making and that no monetary check rein is called for. He thinks government persuasion can hold prices and wages in line. And he fears that Martin, by moving toward tighter money and credit, may discourage some of the plans for expansion counted upon to keep the economy climbing in 1966.

BASIC CONFLICT

The conflict of ideas is a basic one. It puts the new economics of the Johnson administration at odds with the conservative monetary policies of the bankers. The President thinks inflation can be held in check by government-business cooperation. Martin thinks inflation can be checked by keeping the money supply a bit less plentiful. It has been expanding rapidly this year to record levels.

Woman Sets Self Afire In Restroom

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 67-year-old woman apparently died instantly when she walked into a restroom in a Venice service station, drenched her clothes with gasoline and then set herself afire, police said today.

Officers said the victim was Charlotte Forrest, who lived in a rest home for the elderly.

A note was found in her charred purse after the accident Sunday, officers said. Police said the note asked that "her body be given to science."

David Watson, a service station attendant who sold the victim a can of gas, said he assumed she was a motorist whose car had stalled.

Cropland Signups May Begin Early

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers in most states may enroll in the Agriculture Department's 1966 wheat, feed grain and cotton programs between Jan. 31 and April 1.

The department says signups may begin earlier, at any time a State Agricultural and Stabilization Committee (ASC) determines its county offices are ready.

Signup for the cropland adjustment program will begin not later than Jan. 31.

Police Check Various Thefts

Several thefts were reported to officers during the weekend.

Ethel Armstrong, Andrews, told officers she gave a $5 bill to a man in the Greyhound Bus Station, and asked him to change it. She never got back the change. She saw the man, called to him, but he ignored her call and walked away, she told officers.

Mary Cisneros told officers a tool box containing tools was taken from the storage room of 704 NW 8th, the burglar entering through the rear window between 5:30 p.m. Friday and 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

About 50 cents in pennies and nickels was stolen from her car's dash tray Sunday while it was parked in the Ritz Theater parking lot. Mrs. Willie Williams, 1418 Wood, told police. The right front vent window was broken, officers said.
