LBJ Okays U. S. Steel's Lesser Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) - The White House found an acceptable solution to the structural steel price crisis today in a $2.75 a ton increase announced by giant United States Steel Corp. President Johnson's chief economist, Gardner Ackley, said he "hoped and expected" that the $5 increase posted earlier by Bethlehem Steel, the No. 2 producer, and Inland Steel Corp. of Chicago, would be cut down to U.S. Steel's pattern. Partial realization of Ackley's hope was quick to appear. RESCINDS INCREASE Bethlehem rescinded its increase and said it will "review the market situation" after details of the U.S. Steel changes are known. Chairman Joseph L. Block of Inland said he had not seen details of U.S. Steel's new prices but "when we do, we will revise our own prices to be competitive." Wheeling Steel Corp. said it does not produce structural steel pieces and has no comment on price moves of other companies. A spokesman for Weirton Steel, a subsidiary of National Steel, said that the parent firm is studying the U.S. Steel move and has taken no action at this time. SWIFT SETTLEMENT The apparent settlement of the tense five-day power struggle - in which the White House accused Bethlehem and Inland of unwarranted and inflationary action in wartime - came swiftly. U.S. Steel announced its $2.75 hike in Pittsburgh in midmorning. It coupled that increase with a $9 a ton cut in the price of cold-rolled steel sheets produced in California. Within a half-hour Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, was enroute to the White House with a ready-made statement for reporters. "IS CONSISTENT" "The action of U.S. Steel is generally consistent with price-wage guidelines," Ackley said. The net gain in company revenue would be "inconsequential," he said, and went on: "The price reduction is particularly helpful and encouraging and will make it easier to meet foreign competition on the West Coast." With that blessing, the White House signaled its willingness to call quits on a power struggle with the steel industry which, for a time, looked like a replay of the great steel price crisis of April 1962. In that battle, the late President John F. Kennedy mobilized every economic pressure weapon of the government to crush a general $6 a ton steel price rise initiated by U.S. Steel.

Pakistani And Indian Talks 'Constructive'

TASHKENT, U.S.S.R. (AP) - The leaders of quarreling India and Pakistan made progress in private talks today but still have not agreed upon an agenda for their summit conference, spokesmen reported. Both sides reported discussions between Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan were proceeding in a constructive manner. They met for an hour in a private session. It seemed apparent, however, that the India-Pakistan quarrel over the Himalayan state of Kashmir was preventing agreement. India and Pakistan have warred twice over divided Kashmir and a major dispute in the Tashkent talks is whether it should be put on a formal agenda.

Pickets Due To Reappear At St. John's

NEW YORK (AP) - The sprawling, twin campuses of St. John's University appeared almost certain targets for more picketing today in a dispute over what role the faculty should play in policy setting at the nation's largest Roman Catholic college. Teachers, students and trade unionists picketed the campuses in Jamaica and Brooklyn Tuesday on the first day of a strike sparked by the pre-holiday dismissal of 31 professors. Unanswered as the last of the pickets left the campuses after the close of evening classes was how effective the demonstration had been.

REPORTS DIFFER Strike leaders claimed a complete success in their efforts to shatter the teaching schedule at the school. University officials said the strike was a flop. The AFL-CIO Federation of College Teachers maintained that "teaching is impossible under present conditions at the university." Mayor John V. Lindsay offered to provide mediators to help iron out the dispute which has been simmering since last spring. The Rev. Joseph Tinnelly, special counsel to the university's Board of Trustees, turned down the offer on the grounds that "bargaining, mediation and the like are appropriate in many other areas, but are not appropriate in the academic areas."

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) - A federal grand jury today indicted Bobby Baker, former secretary to Senale Democrats, on nine counts of tax evasion, conspiracy and other offenses. The report was to be circulated to all 117 U.N. members. Indications were that the report would provide the most detailed formal statement so far of the U.S. position on how to end the war in South Viet Nam and the first written explanation of the current U.S. pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam.

Area Banks Hang Up Three New Records

Deposits Show Big Gains; Loans, Resources Up Too

Table with 4 columns: Dec. 31, 1965, Dec. 31, 1964, Gain-Loss. Rows: Loans and discounts, Deposits, Cash, Total resources.

Banks in Big Spring and Coahoma have set new records, according to figures released today in response to the call of condition as of Dec. 31, 1965. Deposits gained by $3,757,899 over a year ago to set a new deposit record of $44,778,729. Loans and discounts were up by $1,038,715, which put the new record to $23,515,023.

Extra Billions For War Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) - Presidential support for peace negotiations that North Viet Nam will come under increasingly heavy pressure to reconsider its position. Russell, in his interview, said the cost of the Viet Nam war is certain to be a major concern of the new session of Congress convening Monday.

Russell said he would convene soon a closed session of the special Senate panel which oversees the Central Intelligence Agency. The group wants detailed reports on Viet Nam, the unsettled Dominican situation and other world trouble centers.

DUE QUIZZING William F. Raborn, CIA director, and other top level intelligence officials will be questioned behind guarded doors.

$14 BILLION PLUS Added to the $1.7 billion voted by Congress last August and $700 million approved in May, the new appropriation would bring the total for increased action in Viet Nam to $14 billion plus.

Reports of the request for extra money came as the lull in the bombing of North Viet Nam targets headed into its 13th day - a lull that Sen. Richard B. Russell says may be extended for two more weeks.

Russell, Georgia Democrat who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, questioned both the tactics of the bombing suspension and its chances for bringing about meaningful negotiations with the Communists.

SCORES LULL In Honolulu, Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps commandant, said the lull is giving the Communists time to catch their breath.

PEACE MISSION Goldberg has worked at the United Nations for peace in Viet Nam ever since he arrived at U.N. headquarters last July 28 Stevenson.

U.S. READINESS Two days later, he sent the Security Council a letter declaring U.S. readiness to collaborate with other council members "in the search for an acceptable formula to restore peace" in Viet Nam.

NO RELAXATION The President gave no sign of relaxing his worldwide drive. One of his objectives may be to rally such strong international support for peace negotiations.

ADENAUER TURNS 90 BONN, Germany (AP) - Konrad Adenauer stood 90th birthday today as he received a long line of political leaders and diplomats at a reception in the House of Parliament.

WILL DEMONSTRATE "American Negroes expect more than ever before," said Jack Greenberg, the fund's director-counsel. "We think that the temper of the times will give rise to additional demonstrations, particularly as the 1966-67 school year approaches."

Viet Casualties Up Sharply For 1965

WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. battle deaths in the Viet Nam war shot up by nearly 1,000 percent last year over 1964. Defense Department figures showed today.

DEEPER INVOLVEMENT The sharp rise in battle deaths roughly kept pace with the increase in U.S. forces in Viet Nam and with the deeper involvement of the United States in the ground and air fighting.

At the end of 1965, there were 181,392 American servicemen stationed in the country, compared with only 23,000 at the end of 1964 when the United States still was carrying on mainly an advisory effort.

The Army bore the brunt of the U.S. battle deaths in 1965 - 898 soldiers fell. The Marine Corps lost 335 men in action, the Navy 72 and the Air Force 60.

The Army has by far the greater number of fighting men in Viet Nam of any of the services - 111,246 out of the more than 181,000.

MARINE CORPS The Marine Corps ranks second in strength with 38,458 men, the Air Force has 22,008, the Navy 9,430 and the Coast Guard 250.

Since Jan. 1, 1961, a total of 1,620 Americans have been killed by Communist action. Incomplete statistics on wounded indicate that more than 7,500 men have suffered injuries in contact with the Communist enemy over the past five years.

Again, the largest portion of these wounds occurred in 1965 - at least 5,969. In 1964, there were 1,038 wounded - about one-sixth of the 1965 toll.

The current list of missing carries 149 names and 25 other Americans are classed as prisoners of the Communists. In addition to the battle deaths a total of 458 American servicemen have died in Viet Nam since 1961 from causes other than hostile action. The 1965 share of this total came to 354.

Stretcher Case In Field

Still Talking

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, head of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations, is shown gesturing and talking to President Johnson in the Chief Executive's White House office today about Goldberg's role as key U.S. peace emissary. He was readying his report to U.N. on his recent mission abroad and other peace moves. (AP WIREPHOTO)

U. N. To Hear Peace Moves

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - The United States planned to give the United Nations a public report today on its worldwide moves for peace in Viet Nam.

Goldberg has worked at the United Nations for peace in Viet Nam ever since he arrived at U.N. headquarters last July 28 Stevenson.

On that day, he gave Thant a letter from Johnson asking the secretary-general for "helpful suggestions" for peace in Southeast Asia and reiterated Johnson's request that all the U.N. members work for peace.

U.S. READINESS Two days later, he sent the Security Council a letter declaring U.S. readiness to collaborate with other council members "in the search for an acceptable formula to restore peace" in Viet Nam.

On Dec. 6, Goldberg gave Amintore Fanfani, then Italy's foreign minister and the president of the U.N. General Assembly, a letter from Secretary of State Dean Rusk reaffirming U.S. willingness to negotiate for peace unconditionally.

Yarborough Calls Press; Word On Race Expected

AUSTIN (AP) - Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., called a meeting with newsmen this afternoon, apparently to discuss a race against Gov. John Connally.

Although Yarborough has had almost nothing to say about challenging Connally's third term bid, he presumably wants to end any speculation before he returns to Washington this week for the opening of Congress.

Several liberal Democratic leaders have publicly urged Yarborough to run against Connally. Most of the criticism of Connally has been based on the fact that he has based on the governor's veto of an anti-poverty project.

Yarborough joined the critics in an August speech at the state AFL-CIO convention in El Paso, asserting Connally had "done everything he can get away with to frustrate" the wishes of anti-poverty program sponsors who wanted to pay $1.25 hourly wages.

ADENAUER TURNS 90

BONN, Germany (AP) - Konrad Adenauer stood 90th birthday today as he received a long line of political leaders and diplomats at a reception in the House of Parliament.

One of the well-wishers who spent the longest time with the former chancellor was Soviet Charge d'Affaires S. M. Kudrjavtsev, whose government Adenauer perennially opposes. Their conversation could not be overheard.

All Invited To Conference

Businessmen were being reminded again today of a conference on West Texas Chamber of Commerce matters, to be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the directors room of the First National Bank.

Letters have gone out to a large number of business and professional people, but the local WTCC directors, Champ Rainwater and R. W. Whipkey, emphasized that all interested persons are invited.

The session will be brief, and coffee will be served. The WTCC president, Beeman Fisher of Fort Worth, will bring a message, as will John Ben Sheppard of Odessa, a vice president. Various other WTCC leaders who plan to be here include Bill Collins, regional vice president, and R. W. Lewis, of Midland; Gayle Dishong, director from Odessa; R. W. Hardy and Cal Young, directors from Abilene; and Charles C. Thompson, director from Colorado City.

This group plans to go from here later in the day to hold similar meetings in Sterling City, Robert Lee and San Angelo.

Banner Year Seen For Rights Cases

NEW YORK (AP) - Despite the growing volume of anti-segregation legislation, 1966 promises to be a banner year for the group that handles most of the civil rights movement's legal matters.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's Legal Defense Fund, which handles more than 90 percent of all the civil rights cases not handled by the U.S. Department of Justice, plans a $2-million budget for this year, that's up from $1.7 million in 1965, and the fund expects to file a number of precedent-setting court cases.

WILL DEMONSTRATE "American Negroes expect more than ever before," said Jack Greenberg, the fund's director-counsel. "We think that the temper of the times will give rise to additional demonstrations, particularly as the 1966-67 school year approaches."

He noted that for civil rights lawyers, the South is becoming more and more like the North, where discrimination is practiced but not publicized. This, he said, makes the lawyer's job more difficult. "The fact-finding job and task of proof in such cases are enormous," Greenberg said. "In the North, state commissions against discrimination are on our side, lessening the burden. But in the South the state is against us. The federal government has been given the power to end discrimination in many institutions by cutting off federal funds, but has done next to nothing."

ACCOMPLISHED PILOT
Pat Petosky, new flying instructor at airport

Lady Flight Instructor Eyes Powder Puff Derby

By JERRY MONSON

She paints, sews, cooks, plays the piano and guitar, loves to ride and has five horses. And yet she's not a housewife, musician, or professional equestrienne.

She's a flying instructor.

Her name is Patricia Petosky, and she was born and reared in Midland. Big Spring Aircraft knows her as "Pat" and she is its new flying instructor.

Pat graduated from Midland High School and attended Texas Tech and Odessa College before becoming interested in flying.

"I became interested in flying when I received a lesson from the instructor of a college friend who had her license," she said. "From then on, flying became my major interest."

She received her private license last March, her commercial license in August and her instructor's license in October.

all from Vroman Aviation in Midland, and has nearly 300 hours flying time. She worked part-time at Hank's Flying Service before coming to Big Spring Dec. 13 to her new position.

At present she is working on an instrument rating and instrument instructor's rating.

She is a member of the Permian Basin Aviation Association and secretary-treasurer of the High Sky Chapter of the Ninety-Nines, an international organization of women pilots.

Pat's goal for the coming year is finding a sponsor so she can fly in the Powder Puff Derby, an annual event which runs this year from Seattle, Wash., to Clearwater, Fla.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Petosky of Midland. Pat admits they weren't too keen about her aviation ideas at first.

"But now Mother is one of my flying students, and she enjoys flying nearly as much as I do," she said.

Couple's 80th Anniversary Noted

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Well-wishing relatives, congratulatory cards and letters by the hundreds pour into the Ole Sholberg home today for the couple's 80th wedding anniversary.

Sholberg is 102. His wife, Otila, is 101. They emigrated from Norway when they were children.

It was Jan. 5, 1886, when they married, at the farm home of Otila's parents, the John Hills. They farmed for years, and Ole did carpentering and grain threshing. When he was 80, Ole built a house in town and retired.

from getting too tired, plans for today were kept simple.

FAMILY SUPPER

The highlight was to be a big family supper tonight featuring Norwegian foods.

More than 123 cards were received Tuesday. President Johnson was among those sending congratulations. Gov. Karl Rolvaag of Minnesota, also of Norwegian descent, sent a telegram.

Otila said her husband "is a good man. We have had a happy life."

More Education Support Needed

CHILDREN HOME

For their anniversary, the Sholbergs' eight children were at home. They ranged in age from Oscar, 55, of Fergus Falls to Julius, 77, of Elizabeth, Minn.

Successing generations were represented, too. The Sholbergs have 20 grandchildren. One granddaughter, Mrs. Harold Bailey, came all the way from Yakima, Wash.

Ole has poor vision and hearing, and spends most of his time in bed. Otila is up and around more than Ole but must hold onto something when she walks about the house.

To prevent the old couple

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Methodist Church Board of Education says Methodists are giving more money for higher education but that rising costs make increased church support essential.

The report says current support is inadequate "in this day of unprecedented demands and rising costs" even though Methodists give more money to education than to any other effort.

The report said church members gave more than $18.3 million to education.

Plan For Cooper Lake In North Texas Pushed

AUSTIN (AP) — The Cooper Reservoir, hailed as a major potential water source for Irving and a large area northeast of Dallas, received a big push forward Tuesday from the Texas Water Rights Commission.

The commission gave Irving and two water supply districts permission to store 310,000 acre-feet of water in the reservoir, an authorized U.S. Engineers project on the South Sulphur River northeast of Greenville. A acre-foot is 325,851 gallons.

How much water may be diverted annually by Irving, North Texas Municipal Water District and the Sulphur River Municipal Water District will be decided later.

Spokesmen for the three applicants said at an all-day hearing, they planned to contract with the U.S. Engineers for construction of the $18.4 million reservoir.

No witnesses appeared against the application. The Southern Canal Co. of Houston filed a written protest.

had agreed on their proportions of the water.

Irving spokesmen said the city faces a water crisis in 1973 when its water supply contract with Dallas expires.

Carl Shimek, Dallas consulting engineer, said the North Texas Municipal Water District's present sources will be inadequate after 1980. The district recently obtained a commission permit to increase the conservation storage capacity of Lake Lavon.

The district's members are Farmersville, Forney, Garland, McKinney, Mesquite, Princeton, Plano, Rockwall, Royse City and Wylie.

The Sulphur River district serves Commerce, Cooper and Sulphur Springs. Commission member Otha Dent commented that the reservoir "will be a blood transfusion" for that area.

No witnesses appeared against the application. The Southern Canal Co. of Houston filed a written protest.

U. A. R. Joins Peace Drive

CAIRO (AP) — The United Arab Republic is joining the Viet Nam peace drive following President Gamal Abdel Nasser's meeting with special U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, the authoritative newspaper Al Ahram reported today.

Harriman met with Nasser for nearly two hours at the Egyptian president's home Tuesday night. The American envoy called the talk constructive and useful.

Al Ahram, Nasser's leading journalistic voice, said Egyptian diplomats will pursue the peace effort in Hanoi, Peking and Moscow as well as in Belgrade, New Delhi and other so-called nonaligned capitals. It emphasized, however, these would be "contacts" rather than mediation.

The paper said the U.A.R. efforts would be helped if the United States continued the suspension of bombings raids on North Viet Nam and halted the American troop buildup in the South.

SHOW SINCERITY

This, said Al Ahram, would demonstrate that the American peace offensive is sincere and not a pretext to quiet U.S. opposition to involvement in Southeast Asia while preparing for escalation of the fighting.

Al Ahram's report said Harriman had received new instructions from Washington that might take him to other capitals.

The U.S. envoy had been expected to return to Washington today to report to President Johnson on his meetings with Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka, Yugoslav President Tito, Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan, the Shah of Iran and Nasser.

In a statement Tuesday night Harriman said: "I informed President Nasser of the recent developments in Viet Nam. We discussed the significance of the pause in bombing which is indicative of President Johnson's desire for peace."

USEFUL ROLE

Harriman said "one of the reasons President Johnson asked me to come to Cairo is that President Nasser has in the past indicated a desire to play a useful role in developing negotiations leading to peace."

Nasser, a leader of the non-aligned bloc, has frequently urged a negotiated settlement based on the 1954 Geneva agreements, which barred foreign military intervention in Viet Nam and called for reunification of the country through free elections.

Before his meeting with Harriman, Nasser conferred with Soviet Ambassador Vladimir Erofeev.

Across the African continent, another traveling American envoy, G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, was to meet in Lagos with Nigerian Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa.

Earlier in the day he stopped at Nairobi, Kenya; Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, and Kampala, Uganda, in a display of jet-age diplomacy.

States Subsidize Commuter Runs

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. John A. Volpe has signed a bill authorizing Massachusetts to contribute $250,000 to continue long-haul commuter service of the New Haven Railroad.

Connecticut has contributed $950,000 and Rhode Island $500,000 to preserve the railroad's passenger service through June 30. The service to be subsidized links Boston and New York via Providence, R.I., and New Haven, Conn., and a line between Springfield and New York via Hartford and New Haven.

Weather Stormy In U.S. Sectors

By The Associated Press

Floods and storms continued to plague areas in the Pacific Northwest today and snow, cold and gusty winds held a firm grip on sections of Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

In the far Northwest, more rain splashed coastal areas from central California to Washington and snow piled up across inland areas to Montana. Floods have forced more than 1,000 persons from their homes in northwestern California and western Oregon.

The mercury has been below zero for the last couple of days in some parts of northern Montana. The arctic air spread into the northern Plains from northwestern Canada. Below - zero readings were confined to northern Montana and the Dakotas into the Lake Superior district.

The leading edge of the icy blast appeared stationary along a line from northern Lower Michigan through northern Nebraska to southwestern Montana.

Temperatures held below zero Tuesday in cities from northwestern Minnesota across northern North Dakota to north central Montana. Top readings in Montana included -17 at Cut Bank, -13 at Great Falls and -12 at Havre.

More than 1,000 persons evacuated their flood-stricken homes north and south of Eureka, Calif. Several hundred families were forced from their homes by floods in western Oregon. Some major highways and rail lines in Northern California were closed by rain, snow and mud slides.

DEEP SNOW

Fifteen inches of few snow fell at Mt. Baker, in northwestern Washington, making a covering of more than 13 feet.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Compare Size For Economy

Dear Gals:

I wonder how many women automatically buy the "large economy" size soap, etc., without doing a little mental arithmetic to see if it really is economical!

Sometimes, when you figure out how much a certain item costs per ounce, you may discover that two of the smaller containers may cost less than one large one.

HELOISE

As an example, I usually buy salad dressing by the quart, but the last time I needed some I checked the price, then I picked up a pint jar of the same brand from the same shelf and found that I would save six cents by buying two pints instead of one quart!

The same example applied to one and two pound cans of coffee! And again on the same shelf in the same store.

However, if you DO get more for your money by purchasing the larger ones, just put the contents into smaller, easier to handle containers.

Dear Heloise: I buy much longer shades than necessary for my kitchen windows, and when the bottoms become soiled I just cut off the soiled portion and sew in a new hem.

Dear Heloise: For people who knit, I have found a wonderful use for the new style coffee cans with the plastic tops.

After I empty and wash the tin, I cut a hole, about the size of a dime, in the plastic top. I put my yarn in the can, pull the end of the yarn up through the hole and replace the plastic top. There is no tangling, and the yarn stays clean.

Cover the can with a piece of adhesive-backed paper, and you have a very pretty and handy yarn holder.

LETTER OF THOUGHT
Dear Heloise: People who want to find a friend, should try being one.

Dear Heloise: That hint about placing a heel from a loaf of bread on top of cabbage, broccoli, etc., to keep the odor down while cooking is wonderful.

To keep the bread from falling apart, I made a pocket for it of nylon net, fastening the open side with a toothpick.

This enables me to take the bread out in one piece, after the vegetables are done.

Dear Heloise: To prolong the life of linens, don't ever hang them on the line by the corners.

When hanging small hand and dish towels, lap them over the line at least three inches from the ends; bath towels six inches, and sheets six or eight inches, etc.

Dear Heloise: To make a burned pot easier to clean, I sprinkle baking soda in the bottom of the pan, add vinegar, and let it stand for about 20 minutes!

Then it cleans like a charm.

Dear Heloise: Plastic mattress protectors can and do slide now and then when they completely cover the mattress.

Place any old piece of rubber sheeting (I use the kind covered on both sides with flannel), or any old blanket, between the mattress and springs.

The mattress won't slide, and whatever you use in between won't show.

(Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Well, our part of the world finally took on the appearance of winter this morning with all the jumpers and shrubs covered with a heavy coating of real frost. The frost was so thick it looked like snow after all these months. Looked good, too.

What with the weather staying warm so long the flowers have not known just what to do about dying and shedding their blossoms, it seems many families in town have enjoyed having fresh flowers from their yards right up to and beyond New Year's Day.

The HAYES STRIPLINGS SR. had the loveliest pink roses from their yard on the last day of December, and MRS. L. B. EDWARDS picked the last of her fall chrysanthemums for her home after the first of the year. There are still some roses on bushes about town and earlier there were a few protected petunias.

MRS. J. C. IRWIN and MRS. ZELDA REA spent Sunday in Lubbock where they visited MRS. OVERTON RIBBLE.

MRS. E. E. BRYANT had as her weekend guests one of her sons and his wife, MR. and MRS. A. T. BRYANT, and son, Wayne, who live in Amarillo.

MRS. HERB ROBERSON, a sister of MRS. TOMMY JORDAN, has returned to her home in Great Bend, Kansas, after visiting here for several days. Mr. Roberson and the two sons had spent some of the vacation here but returned to Kansas leaving Mrs. Roberson here for a longer visit.

China, Crystal Talks Heard By Mu Zeta

Items for the home, which would be appreciated by both housewives and collectors were shown at the Monday evening meeting of Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Using "The Connoisseur" as the program title, Mrs. Art Clonts and Mrs. Charles Stalacker presented talks on china and crystal, using examples from an exhibit.

Mrs. Clonts briefly traced the history of china-making from the first crude attempts to the fine china which is mass produced today and available to most everyone. Showing china made in Europe and America, she pointed out what should be looked for when a purchase is made and described what contributed to the difference in quality and price.

Crystal was shown by Mrs. Stalacker as she noted the difference in varieties and manufacturing processes. She told the uses of various crystal pieces and stressed that crystal style should be in harmony with china patterns when they are to be used together.

The group met with Mrs. Robert Hunter, 2611 Central, who served refreshments to 18 members and a guest, Mrs. Gayle Price.

The next meeting will be Jan. 17 with the hostess to be announced.

Solons To Raise Ax Over Domestic Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen signaled a coalition effort today to cut back "Great Society" program funds in President Johnson's new budget.

The White House predicts the budget will total $110 billion to $115 billion.

Dirksen said in a telephone interview that Congress is faced with three possible courses in meeting the mounting costs of the conflict in Viet Nam.

"We can either lay the Great Society program on the shelf, we can cut it way back or we can go ahead and vote all of the money the previous session authorized for them," he said.

"We've got a war on our hands and I think some of these domestic programs can be scaled down."

Dirksen's coalition effort is expected to succeed and Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., often a spokesman for party conservatives, indicated some will be forthcoming.

McClellan, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, voiced the opinion that Congress "may have undertaken going too far, too fast with too little" in approving so many of Johnson's domestic programs last year.

CURB PROGRAMS

He said the White House prediction on the budget total "reinforces my view that we are going to have to retrench and hold down new programs until the budget is under better control."

On the heels of the budget

Scholarships Go To 655 Students

BOSTON (AP) — Scholarship awards to 655 Massachusetts students studying medicine, dentistry, and nursing have been announced by Gov. John A. Volpe. Recipients must be needy, academically qualified, and have lived in the state for four years prior to the award. The grants are for the current school year.

FORD'S PROPOSAL

Similarly, House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford called for a reduction in domestic spending. He said that otherwise the kind of budget Johnson is proposing "means he is financing both guns and butter which will inevitably lead to a tax increase or to runaway inflation."

To accomplish budget cuts the Republicans would need Demo-

Jewelry Loot At $75,000

DALLAS (AP) — Detectives placed the loss at $75,000 Tuesday in jewels stolen from the North Dallas home of big game hunter Herbert Klein.

They said there was no positive clue, however, that the burglar was the nebulous "King of Diamonds," blamed for intermittent gem raids netting more than a million dollars here over the past decade.

Capt. Walter Fannin, head of the burglary and theft bureau, said some partial fingerprints, of doubtful value to investigators, appeared to be the only clues. They were atop a brick wall apparently climbed by the prowler.

Fannin said five pieces of jewelry were taken from the Klein home between 10 p.m. Jan. 1 and early the next day. He listed these as a $42,000 diamond bracelet, $25,000 platinum diamond ring, $6,500 pearl necklace, $500 lavaliere and $477 wedding ring.

DEAR ABBY

A Common Clothes Line

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my neighbor asked if she could hang a few sheets on my clothesline. I said all right. Then she started hanging all sorts of colored garments, rags, blankets, etc., on my line. She will not put up a clothesline in HER yard because she doesn't want it cluttered. Occasionally, I didn't mind, but now it has become an everyday occurrence. I don't want to take down my line because I need it for my own use. She's added two lines of her own to my pole so now she feels that she can use HER lines any time. I am very much upset over this. It's caused many family arguments because my husband will not tell them it's annoying. We don't want hard feelings. Please tell me how to discourage this practice?

at 17, was going steady with an 18-year-old girl. He, too, practically "lived" at her house. We tried everything we could think of to keep them from seeing so much of each other. We talked to our son. We limited the use of our car. But the girl used her mother's car, so that didn't work. In desperation I phoned the girl's mother and begged her not to let our son come over so much. I told her he had a lot of school left and would be in no position to marry for several years. All to no avail. The girl's mother said they were "good kids," she "trusted" them, and they were "in love."

Well, a few months after our son turned 18 he informed us that the girl was pregnant. Our son is now 20. His education is finished as he had to get a job at 18 to support a family. They have two children now and they are miserable. His wife is a sloppy housekeeper. The only time the floor gets scrubbed is when he does it. He has to take care of the babies when he gets home from work at night. She complains that there isn't enough money and they don't have a decent car, etc. I blame early dating, going steady, AND the girl's parents.

GRIEVING MOTHER

HAVE HAD IT

DEAR HAVE HAD IT: Remind your neighbor that she asked permission to hang a "few sheets" on your line, and you think she's gone a bit too far. Face it. You are really upset with yourself for lacking the backbone to set your neighbor straight. Don't blame your husband for refusing to run interference for you. That's not HIS line!

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I shouldn't complain because my fiancé says he loves me a lot and I know he never even looks at another girl, but here's my problem. Now that deer hunting season is here he says he'll see me after the season is over. He is so crazy about hunting, he goes every minute he has off from work. Abby, everyone says I'm a fool to wait for him to come to see me when he feels like it. I think if he really cared for me he'd see me on weekends during the deer season, don't you? Should I tell him he can either find time for me or he can find someone else?

SECOND CHOICE

DEAR SECOND: If you're sure the only kind of deer you're interested in is the four-legged kind, you're lucky. Don't challenge him to find another "deer" unless you want to go hunting for a new boy friend.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent article, you said the boy's mother should set up restrictions in the absence of the girl's mother doing so. We had the same situation a few years ago. Our son,

Railroads Enjoy Prosperous Year

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas railroads shared in the rising economy during 1965, bettering the good income made last year.

The roads kept improving freight facilities and dropping passenger trains.

The prosperity was almost universal. Only three of the 11 major railroads had decreases in net income for the first three quarters.

NET INCOME

Net income for the 11 roads totaled $13.5 million in nine months, $50,000 above 1964 but twice what the roads made in nine months of 1963.

Freight income for the 11 roads was up $2.4 million through Sept. 30, to $297.3 million. Passenger revenue dropped about $1.5 million.

Texas' top freight carrier,

Southern Pacific, dropped $4.4 million in net income to $12.4 million for nine months.

Santa Fe doubled net income to $5.7 million.

Other 9-month comparisons with 1964 show a $2.5 million drop in Texas & Pacific's net income, to $4.7 million; a lowering of Missouri Pacific's net income deficit $1.5 million to $7.6 million; and a $500,000 increase in the net income of the St. Louis & Southwestern to $1.8 million.

While passenger service was cut, two new freight trains from the north and east were added, reducing delivery time to Texas points by 24 hours.

Train-transported truck facilities were expanded during the year in Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Houston and Texas. Train assembly yards in Houston and Fort Worth were improved. Other yard facilities were improved in San Antonio, Arlington, Odessa, Roanoke and Pilot Point.

More than $2 million in maintenance of way equipment was put into service. Another 594 miles of tracks were converted to continuous or "ribbon" rail. Heavier rails were installed on 267 miles of tracks.

Modernization of equipment included addition of six base road stations and mobil units in 12 more trains. Shops for servicing trains were expanded or built in San Antonio, Marshall and Fort Worth. Work on the Fort Worth facilities will continue in 1966.

Stock Market Aims Toward Record Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels advanced vigorously early this afternoon, pacing a broad stock market advance toward new record highs. Trading was heavy.

The ticker tape ran as much as two minutes late in a wave of buying which followed news that the White House had found acceptable a price increase by U.S. Steel—a smaller one than announced previously by Bethlehem and Inland Steel.

STEELS ADVANCE
Most steel stocks advanced a point or more, some advances stretching to about 3.

Buying mushroomed to other important sections of the stock list, Big Three motors catching on gradually and moving up to solid gains.

Chemicals, electrical equipments, electronics, aerospace issues, drugs and selected issues in many other groups made a strong showing.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon, taking off from Tuesday's historic closing high, rose 2.3 to 361.8 with industrials up 4.1, rails up 9 and utilities up 5.

THE DOW JONES
The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 8.46 to 977.72, having closed Tuesday at exactly the latest record high reached first on Dec. 31.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Jones & Laughlin and Wheeling Steel gained about 2 points each, while Crucible and National were up about 3 each. Lukens was up nearly 4, Republic Steel around 1 1/2.

Coppers resumed their rally on the higher world prices for copper.

ADD POINT
Eastman Kodak advanced 2, Union Carbide and General Electric more than a point each.

IBM ran up half a dozen points. Gains of a point or more were made by Xerox, U.S. Smelting, Boeing, Zenith, American Airlines and Liggett & Myers.

Prisoner Meal Cost Pegged At 16.2 Cents

Sheriff A. N. Standard said today that cost of feeding prisoners in the county jail during December was 16.2 cents per meal.

He said the total grocery bill for the county jail for the month was $197.42 and that 1,211 meals were prepared and served.

There were 66 prisoners in the jail during the month.

His office served 167 civil papers and 27 warrants. Seven foreign warrants were handled.

Sheriff Standard said that his office had completed the year with total traveling expense for out-of-town trips at the remarkably low figure of $633.61. This included 54 trips to Huntsville to deliver prisoners, trips to other Texas towns in connection with investigations, and trips to out-of-state places to return prisoners. Travel expenses for the sheriff's office, he said, in 1964 was $2,006.96.

Chemistry Industry Shows Major Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The chemical industry, whose wares go into thousands of products as diverse as hair coloring and drugs, insect spray and brake fluid, logged a banner year in 1965.

Profits climbed 11 per cent to $3.16 billion or so.

Sales rose 6.6 per cent. Customers of chemical makers spent $35.8 billion to buy more than 10,000 chemicals used in everything from steel and auto to cotton growing and dress making.

70 PCT. MORE
The production index of the Manufacturing Chemists Association totaled 169. That means chemical output in 1965 was almost 70 per cent more than that of 1957-1959.

Chemical companies plowed $2.47 billion into plants and equipment, anticipating increased demand in 1966 and beyond. The capital spending was a record. The industry supplies aerosol spray propellents, tire yarn, packaging material, plastics, clothing fiber, swimming pool disinfectants, perfume and sun lotion ingredients, medicinal and drugs, antifreeze, shoe dyes, household wax and explosives.

Plastics and man-made fibers made major gains in sales. So did organic chemicals. Demand for fertilizers rose.

BIGGEST GAINS
Perhaps the biggest gains came in basic inorganic chemicals such as ammonia, sulphuric acid, chlorine and caustic soda—ingredients seldom associated with the thousands of products they help to make.

Demand for these basic materials taxed the capacity to make them. So diverse is the industry that more than 40 per cent of the 500 biggest domestic companies are involved in some way in making chemicals. Corporations kept moving into the field, particularly oil firms looking for profitable investment for their enormous cash flows.

Odessa Broncs Win Over Herd, 56-52

The Big Spring Steers lost caught out of position by their poise when it counted most in a District 2-AAAA basketball skirmish with Odessa High here Tuesday night and the Broncs retreated with a 56-52 victory. The Longhorns carefully constructed a ten-point lead in the second period but couldn't stand prosper. Odessa proceeded to score 16 straight points in a five minute period in overlapping halves and, although the Longhorns caught up later, they were never the same. Lack of a cohesive effort again damaged the Steers' chances for victory. They seem to prefer to perform as individuals rather than as a unit and that is fatal to any basketball team. Invariably, too, they were

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Do you huff and puff after climbing the steps of the post office? Do any out-of-doors strolls seem uphill? Then you can appreciate the stamina of a young track man enrolled at Howard County Junior College. His name is Joe Kubus and he hails from the Fort Worth area. He recently took part in the 11.5-mile roadrunner race at Richardson, an event sponsored by that city's recreation department. Only one class of competition was held, which means that the HCJC freshman was competing against the best in the university and college class. He finished fifth in the time of 1 hour, 10 minutes, 25 seconds. Winner of the fantastic marathon was Herb Davis of TCU, caught in 1 hour, 7 minutes, 2 seconds. Steve Shapiro of Texas University followed Davis across the finish line, only 5 of a second off the winning pace, while Roger Hunt of TCU was third, in 1:07.25; and Gail Hager of SMU fourth in 1:08.53. Ken Garland, North Texas; Craig Bresidio, North Texas; and Mike Hammond, no school listed, followed Kubus across the finish line, along with several others.

The HCJC track team is working out regularly whenever the weather permits. The Jayhawks expect to be strengthened at midweek with either a fine all-around performer from the Midwest or a 9.5 sprinter from an adjoining state. The latter can also run the 220 in 20.5 and the 440 in 48 seconds flat. Next year in the NFL, two Johnson boys from Texas could be vying for a lot of attention — and worrying a lot of coaches who must build defenses to stop aerial blitzkriegs. One, of course, is Big Spring's Charley Johnson, who will do his bombing for the St. Louis Cardinals. The other is Randy Johnson of San Antonio and Texas A&I, who put on quite a show for the Dixie troops in that Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Ala., last Saturday. Randy will be wearing the uniform of the Atlanta Falcons and veteran scouts say he can't miss as a pro star. Coincidentally, Atlanta tried to lure Charley and the Cardinals away from St. Louis a couple of years ago. When that failed, they decided to go out and get an NFL franchise of their own. And Randy Johnson was their second round draft choice.

Joe Kuharich, the head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, has never been popular with the ink-stained wretches of the Fourth Estate, no matter where he has coached or worked. Notre Dame was glad to give him back to the NFL. He worked for a time under commissioner Pete Rozelle, then moved on to the Philadelphia Eagles. The press has been landing on him with all feet for some time but Kuharich should worry — he's got virtually a lifetime job with the Eagles. How he came by it is another story. One version is that he got wind of the NFL's impending contract with CBS television, which would net each team $1.1 million per season over a period of two years, and went to Jerry Wolman, a friend of his, with the news, strongly recommending that Jerry purchase an NFL franchise. Wolman, who had made a vast fortune in Washington, D.C., real estate, proceeded to do just that. He dealt successfully for the Eagles. A day after the deal was completed, the NFL television contract with CBS was announced. Incidentally, the Sunday Philadelphia club honored members of the all-time Eagle team, Pete Retzlaff, who is still with the club, came in for special attention. He was gifted with (1) an around-the-world cruise for himself and members of his family, (2) a new station wagon and (3) a milk stool for his wife.

Steve Van Buren, another member of the all-time Philadelphia team, coached the Eagles' farm club at Newark last season. He had been lined up to coach one of the Canadian pro teams but the deal fell through.

Pro Golfers Launch Los Angeles Play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The professional golfing wars started today for 1966 with a pro-amateur prelude to the $70,000 Los Angeles Open. This is the 40th annual Los Angeles fixture which kicks off the tournament winter campaign each year, and with several notable exceptions, the nation's leading shotmakers are on hand. Today's exercise carries an additional $5,000 loot to be split by the pros. Prominent in the picture is Paul Harney, the surprise winner of the last two tournaments here, and the challenging names of Bill Casper Jr., Arnold Palmer, Tony Lama and other name stars. Palmer has registered but one tournament triumph in the past 18 months. It came in the 1965 Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas. Missing from the tournament, however, are Gary Player of South Africa, the 1965 U.S. Open champion, and the fearsome Jack Nicklaus, last year's leading money winner who makes a point of skipping this event each winter. The setting is the same as it has been for the past 10 years, the Rancho Municipal Golf Course, some 7,000 yards in length, with par 36-35-71. Harney, who plays relatively few major tournaments these years, won the Los Angeles in 1965 with rounds of 68-71-68-69-276. The winning purse is again $12,000. The Los Angeles Open ordinarily started on a Friday and ended its 72-hole test on a Monday. But the format was changed this year to take advantage of added television revenue for the sponsoring Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, ending Sunday. Forty of the top 50 PGA money winners were entered, including such tournament pros as Art Wall Jr., Gene Littler, Julius Boros, Tommy Bolt, Bo Wininger, Mike Souchak, Mason Rudolph and Doug Sanders.

Odessa Seeking New Grid Mentor

ODESSA — After one year on the job, during which time his team won three of ten starts, Hank Watkins has resigned as head football coach at Odessa High School. Watkins will return to McAllen High School as head coach and athletic director. After three years as coach there, he will turn the coaching reins over to some one else and concentrate on duties as athletic director. Watkins, former aide at Abilene High and the University of Houston was hired exactly one year ago to replace Bradley Mills here. His salary here was $10,871.25. Within District 2-AAAA, Odessa High finished with a 2-5 record under Watkins.

HANK WATKINS

Hank will succeed Neil Hopkins as coach at McAllen. Hopkins quit recently to take the head coaching position at Alvin. Watkins is married to a former McAllen girl and the family owns farming property in the McAllen area. At McAllen, Watkins developed a conference champion. His successor here has not been named.

Odessa Honored At Sunland Park

EL PASO — The finest racing program in the history of the Sun Carnival has been written into the history books as the 31st annual extravaganza came to a close Sunday. The star studded Sun Carnival and Graduation Handicaps produced major upsets as All's Speedy gained revenge on Texas Derby winner Cheju in the Sun Carnival, while Wild Violet, who failed to qualify for the Sunland Futurity, scored convincingly in the Graduation. The special morning pre-bowl card again proved successful as the nine races were run off smoothly permitting gridiron fans time to reach the Sun Bowl. Shortly after the gates opened at 9:30 a.m. Friday, Miss Dottie Stroud of Odessa, Tex., went through the turnstiles to become the season's 100,000th patron. The weatherman cooperated fully as clear skies and a fast track prevailed during the special five day racing period.

Sun Bowl Win May Not Stand

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Two Texas Western football players were ineligible when they played in the New Year's Eve Sun Bowl game against Texas Christian, reports George McCarthy, Texas Western athletic director. He said a decision whether or not to forfeit the game would be announced at a news conference today. McCarthy said Tuesday night that end Bob Wallace and line-backer Fred Carr were ineligible for season play but ineligible for the post-season El Paso Sun Bowl game won by Texas Western, 13-12. "Wallace and Carr were ineligible for the Sun Bowl game, but the situation arose merely from an oversight," McCarthy said. Texas Western Coach Bobby Dobbs refused to comment, saying: "I will have to know more about the situation before I can say anything." McCarthy said he would confer with NCAA officials but indicated previous rulings might mean Wallace and Carr would be ineligible for post-season play next year, but this year's game would not be forfeited.

Mustangs Shade Cards, 87-49

Actor's Entry Into Politics Stirs Republican Bitterness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ronald Reagan's decision to run for the Republican nomination for governor provided California with a new style of politics today and touched off more bitterness in a heated Republican primary campaign.

A half-hour film, shown on 16 television stations, introduced Reagan to the voters Tuesday night — a sharp contrast to the rallies, dinners and news conferences candidates have traditionally used to tell the people they will run.

The viewers saw him standing in a relaxed manner in a comfortably furnished den — it was a studio set — talking calmly of state affairs. Gone were the placards and bands of past years.

POLITICAL NOVICE

He conceded he was a political novice, aspiring to be chief executive of the nation's most populous state.

"I am not a politician in the sense of ever having held public office, but I think I can lay claims to being a citizen politician," he said.

Maine Seeks To Curb Road Peril

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — Gov. John H. Reed has proposed a three-point legislative program to stop what he called "the senseless slaughter on our highways."

He said he would ask the special Maine legislative session convening Jan. 17 to: Approve the addition of 20 troopers to the 259-man state police force; enact a new driver license control system; appropriate $14,700 for continuation of the state's driver improvement program.

Bill Hearing Delay Urged

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr are urging a congressional committee to delay hearings on a bill the two Texas officials say would erode state taxing powers.

Carr sent a letter Tuesday to the chairman of the subcommittee on state taxing of interstate commerce, Rep. Edwin Willis, D-La. Connally mailed Willis a letter last month.

Both said the hearings scheduled Jan. 26 should be delayed, giving state officials time to assess implications of the measure. It would change franchise taxes on interstate corporations from the current base on the percentage of business in Texas to property and payroll factors.

Carr said the measure proposed by the subcommittee has "far reaching consequences in asserting federal control and jurisdiction over sales and use taxes as well as corporation franchise, gross receipts and income taxes."

Connally said the bill "would constitute a serious threat to the fiscal independence of state and local governments."

The bill "may well in turn force the people of Texas into adoption of an unwanted state income tax and oppressive increases in property taxes," Carr predicted.

Edmund G. Brown, expected to seek a third term, issued a 12-page statement criticizing Reagan's announcement. Its message: "Reagan is simply wrong."

Two announced candidates for the Republican governorship nomination were quick to criticize.

Former Assemblyman Laughlin E. Waters said the announcement will give the party a chance to decide whether it chooses "to attempt again positions which were overwhelmingly rejected nationally and in California during the last election or whether it will return to the moderate and winning position."

Bill Hearing Delay Urged

CHIDES ACTOR

George Christopher, former mayor of San Francisco, said Brown "would decisively beat Ronald Reagan." He chided Reagan for his acting background and said the people will prefer someone of "proven ability."

Reagan avoided mentioning his Republican opponents in the televised talk and at a news conference with some 100 reporters.

But Republicans who label themselves as moderates are lining up behind Christopher and Waters. These, generally, are those who supported New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's losing effort against Barry Goldwater in the 1964 California presidential primary. They say Reagan is too conservative.

WILL CAMPAIGN

Reagan, a co-chairman of California Citizens for Goldwater Miller two years ago, said he would seek the support of every element of the party in California.

"In this primary I will campaign against the opposition administration in Sacramento," he told the reception. "I will have no word of criticism for any Republican."

MISSIONS ABROAD

He announced that an "important number" of rebel and army officers would be sent abroad on study and diplomatic missions. Authoritative sources said 30 officers ranging in rank up to colonel were involved.

Garcia-Godoy said Monday they would leave within a few hours. But they had not left Tuesday night, and there were reports that he was considering including some higher-ranking men.

Officials of the Organization of American States and some diplomats praised the president's remarks as moderate and statesmanlike. Rebel followers saw it as a repudiation of their demand for dismissal of the military high command.

Land Option To Developer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A Boston developer has taken an option to buy 207 acres of land near Houston's domed stadium for $6 million.

William D. Lane, who was one of the developers of Houston's Gulfgate and Northline shopping centers, gave the Houston livestock show and rodeo directors $10,000 Tuesday.

Lane agreed to pay $100,000 more for a six-month option and at the end of six months to pay $500,000. If he fails to exercise his option, the show keeps the $610,000.

The show bought the land since 1947 from J.S. Abercrombie and R.E. (Bob) Smith, the latter an erstwhile partner of Houston Astros' owner Roy Hofheinz.

The sale to Lane will enable the show to pay off a $4.25 million loan for its new building, covering 12 acres adjacent to the stadium.

Showdown Looms In Dominican

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A showdown loomed today between the Dominican rebel movement and the provisional government over the nation's military chiefs.

There were indications, however, that Santo Domingo might remain quiet until after celebration of the Feast of the Magi Thursday, traditional end of the Christmas season.

What happens after that depends on how student, labor and professional ranks react to an attack on the government by two important political figures — former President Juan Bosch, head of the Dominican Revolutionary party, and Hector Aristy, one of the closest advisers of the leader of the April rebellion, Col. Francisco Caamano Dengo.

'CENSURE PRESIDENT

The two censured provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy for not taking a firmer stand against the military leaders in his report Monday on the Dec. 19 battle between rebel fighters and regular army troops in Santiago. A dozen men were killed.

The faction represented by Aristy and Bosch has been clamoring for the dismissal of the military chiefs since the April revolution. They accuse the military leaders of wantonly bombing the city during the revolt and of instigating the Santiago incident. The military has rejected the charges.

In his radio-television speech Monday, Garcia-Godoy said his government was in no position to decide who was responsible for the outbreak in Santiago. He implied there was guilt on both sides.

MISSIONS ABROAD

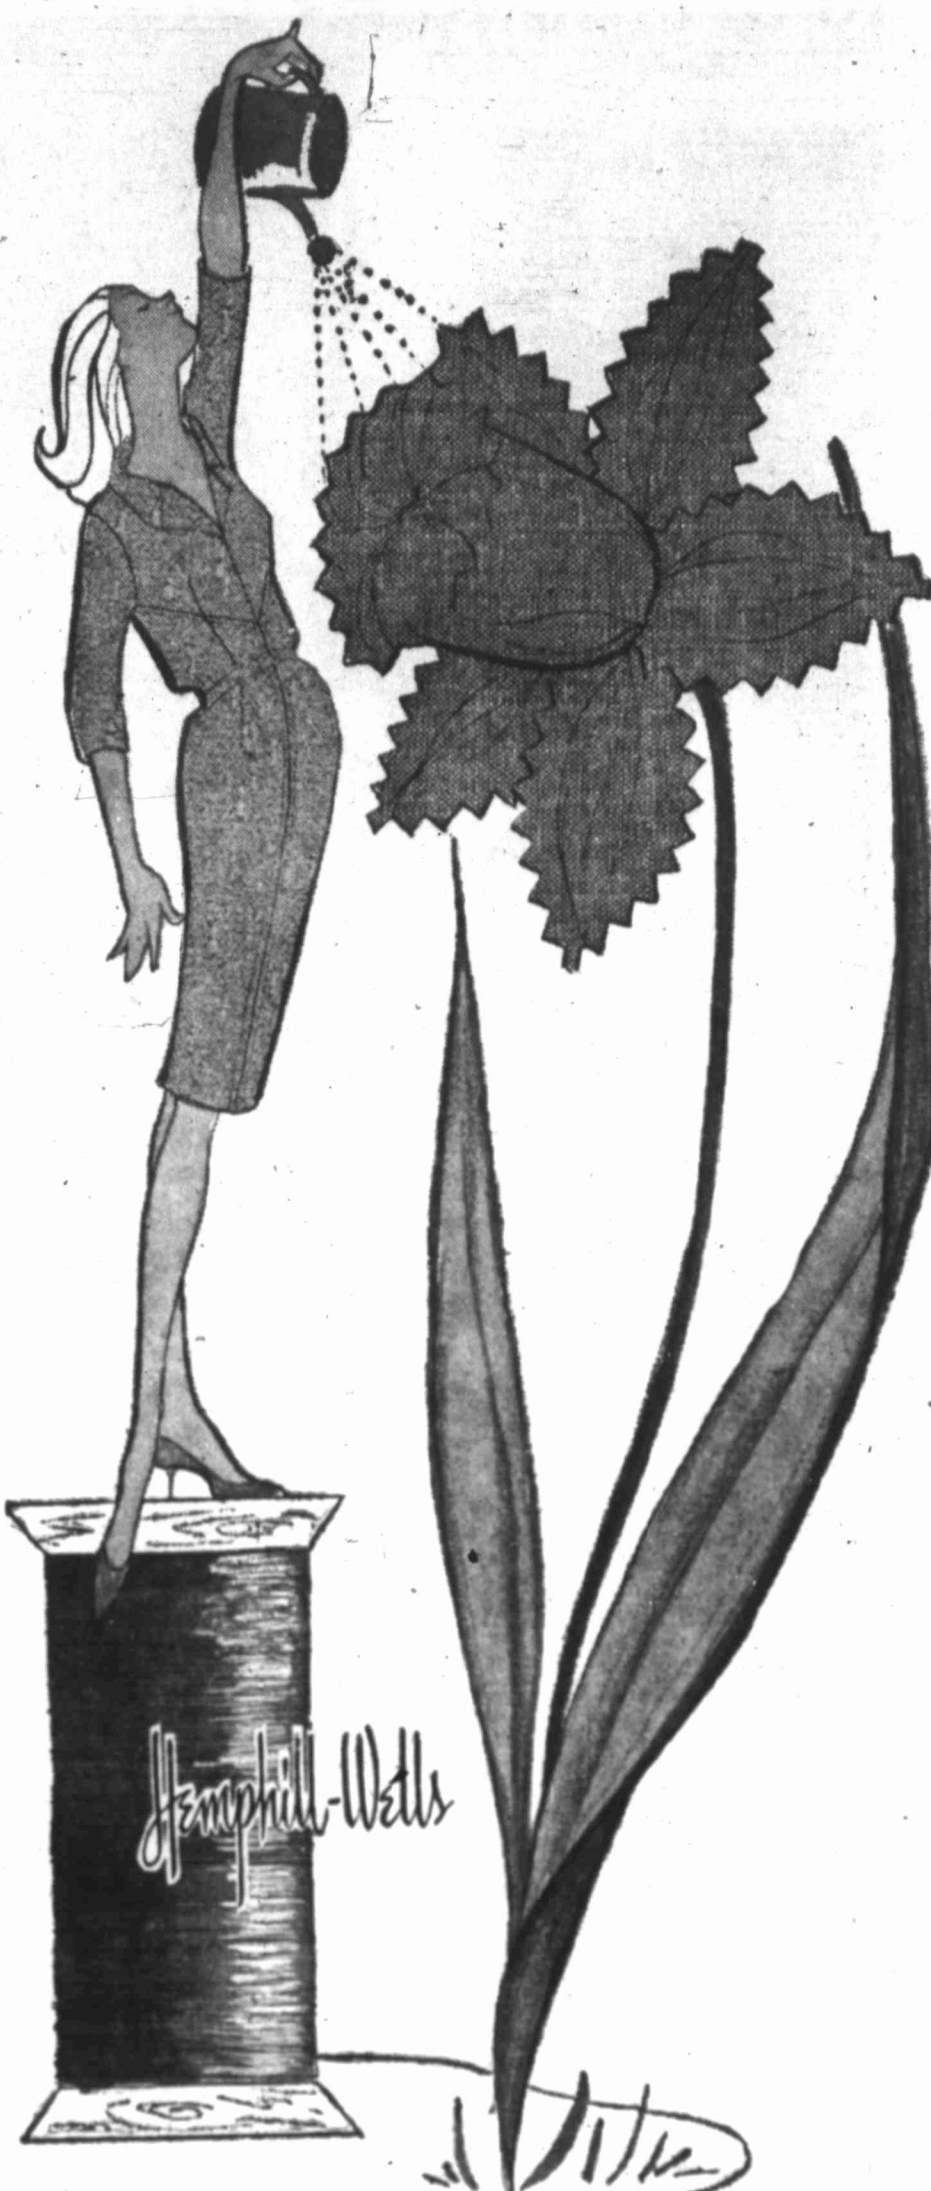

He announced that an "important number" of rebel and army officers would be sent abroad on study and diplomatic missions. Authoritative sources said 30 officers ranging in rank up to colonel were involved.

Ayub, Shastri Confab May Add Significance

TASHKENT, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan met for an hour today in a private session which officials of both countries had said might determine whether the Tashkent summit conference yields significant results.

There was no immediate indication of what transpired at the meeting.

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, the host for the conference which opened Tuesday, was reported urging both sides to push their 18-year-old dispute over Kashmir — the chief cause of trouble between the two nations — into the background.

TALK TODAY

Kosygin met with Shastri for nearly two hours Tuesday night and again for an hour this morning. It was reported both sessions revolved around the Kashmir issue and the apparent deadlock it has caused in the conference.

Indian sources said Kosygin also intervened personally to persuade Shastri and Ayub not to embarrass him by bickering over Kashmir in their public speeches at the opening of the conference. Both leaders forcibly restated their positions on the Himalayan state but spoke in relatively moderate language.

SEEKS ACCORD

Now that they have entered the India-Pakistan dispute as mediators, the Soviet leaders want to obtain agreement on at least some of the issues dividing the two South Asian neighbors. Kosygin clearly is out to solve things if he can, rather than being just an amiable host providing a new forum for old arguments. Both the Indians and Pakistanis appear to believe Kosygin will wring concessions from the other side.

Shastri's public stance at the conference is that India and Pakistan must sign a no-war pact to establish a peaceful atmosphere in which minor problems can be solved.

He has indicated these could include normalization of diplomatic relations, increased trade, and a cessation of propaganda attacks now flowing from both countries.

Ayub contends the Kashmir quarrel is the main issue between India and Pakistan differences and must be solved first, before any no-war agreement.

Quill Collapses After Arrest, N.Y. Traffic Crush At Peak

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of New Yorkers got an even earlier start for their jobs today in a bleary-eyed attempt to beat the traffic crush brought on by a transit strike that grows more complex each day.

At the same time the city recommended that businesses in Lower Manhattan voluntarily set up staggered work hours to ease the evening rush, which has proved to be the biggest tie-up in the 5-day-old strike of bus and subway workers.

Negotiators met again today after bargaining talks were thrown into turmoil Tuesday by the arrest and collapse of union leader Michael J. Quill.

Mayor John V. Lindsay headed for the Americana Hotel to meet with the mediators for the first time since the strike began.

Adding another dimension to the crisis is the threat that a major commuter lifeline, the Long Island Rail Road, may be halted.

EARLIER HOUR A pre-dawn river of headlights flowed through Manhattan streets today as the motorized immigration reached its peak at an earlier hour.

Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes said he was optimistic that traffic delays today will not be greater than Tuesday—despite a heavier turnout of automobiles—because drivers got the earlier start.

Barnes said apparently economic pressures were forcing people to return to work as the strike lengthens.

To relieve the homeward-bound congestion, Barnes suggested that Lower Manhattan be divided into quarters. In each quarter employers would be asked to let their workers off at a different time between 3 and 5 p.m.

TALKS "MOVING" Lindsay puffed into City Hall this morning, knocking three minutes off Tuesday's hiking time from his hotel.

Lindsay said he believed the transit negotiations were "moving."

Trainers of the Long Island Rail Road plan to argue today that a federal court order should be lifted, allowing them to stop train service into New York in support of striking bus and subway workers.

They contend that the thousands of Queens residents diverted from the subway to the railroad are endangering the safe operation of the line.

That's all we know at the moment."

HURLS DEFIANCE The 60-year-old president of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union hurled his defiance at a court order that he get the buses and subways running again right up to the moment he collapsed in the civil jail. He and eight other union officials had been arrested shortly before for contempt.

The AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is threatening to shut down the Long Island Rail Road, the nation's busiest commuter line and a major link between Manhattan and the island.

The line normally carries about 300,000 persons a day, but since the strike thousands more who live in Queens have boarded the trains to reach Manhattan.

The brotherhood tried earlier to halt the trains at the city line, but the railroad got a temporary restraining order in Federal Court. A hearing on the order was scheduled today.

"IT'S STUPID" "It's asinine, stupid and preposterous to bring these people into the city," said Harold J.

Pryor, the brotherhood's general chairman.

He said he was particularly concerned about what he called unsafe conditions on trains and in stations because of the huge crowds.

The 34,400 members of the Transport Workers Union and the Amalgamated Transit Union walked off the job at 5-a.m. Saturday when the Transit Authority failed to meet their demand for higher pay and a shorter work week.

The Transit Authority estimates the present demands would cost $216 million. It offered a $25-million package.

WAGE SCALE The transit workers' expired contract called for hourly wages ranging from $2.75 an hour for a change booth clerk to $3.46 for a motorman.

Quill's place at the bargaining table was taken by his administrative assistant, Douglas L. MacMahon, international vice president of the union. He told a news conference: "If they don't want to bargain collectively, then the strike will go on until hell freezes over."

French Refinery Blaze Under Control, 13 Die

LYON, France (AP) — The fire in the butane gas refinery 20 miles south of Lyon was brought under control today, more than 24 hours after it started, and officials reported 13 persons dead and one missing.

As an official investigation opened, officials said first checks showed that a valve on a storage tank stuck, releasing a cloud of gas which spread to a road, and a passing car apparently provided the spark which fired the gas. The flames set off a chain of explosions in five storage tanks containing some 10,000 metric tons of gas.

At least seven of the dead were firemen who answered the first alarm and were caught in succeeding blasts. The motorist whose car passed through the seeping gas was among the injured.

Divergent View

State Treasurer Jesse James and William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, obviously do not see eye to eye.

In December, the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate from 4 per cent to 4.5 per cent. At the same time, in a less publicized move, the board modified its Regulation Q, permitting members of the Federal Reserve System to pay up to 5.5 per cent interest on certificates of deposit or demand deposits held by banks for 30 days or more. Previously the maximum permissible rates were 4 per cent for time deposits and certificates of 30 to 89 days, and 4.5 per cent on those of 90 days or more.

Higher interest rates for time deposits would be a windfall for the State of Texas, which had an average of $200 million in banks for periods of 90 days or more during 1965. The state now gets only 3.5 per cent interest on those deposits — approximately $895 an hour. If the interest rate were increased to 5.5 per cent, based on 1965 deposits, the state would have realized $11 million in interest revenue rather than the $7.9 million expected for this year.

Treasurer James argues, however, for a continuance of the 3.5 per cent rate for state deposits.

"It would be a move toward inflation," James said. "If banks paid more for the use of our money, they would charge higher interest when they make commercial or personal loans. This would be an inflationary trend, and I'm against it."

This is in interesting contrast with the stand taken by Chairman Martin. The discount rate increase was specifically designed to dampen the fires of inflation, Martin said.

The argument of James is a bit difficult to follow. The interest rate charged banks for commercial and personal loans will have to be increased, unless banks are going to be satisfied with less income. The discount rate, which is the interest rate charged for loans from the Federal Reserve System, will almost inevitably be reflected in an increase in the prime rate, the interest charged by banks to its major, preferred depositors, for loans.

But few Texans will be able to appreciate the logic of foregoing any possible increase in revenue from their tax funds deposited in banks.

Moment Of Decision

President Johnson is preparing himself to pass another Rubicon. Soon he must present to Congress his version of the federal budget for 1966-67.

Since we are at peace, insofar as no actual declaration of war has been made, that budget will set some sort of peacetime record. But much of it will be devoted, of course, to Viet Nam.

The preparation of the budget can only be one of the most painful exercises the President will have to undergo, at least in January, for it involves choices and the allocation of resources.

Among the questions facing the President are these: Can the programs for the Great Society and the military effort in Viet Nam be financed within the limits of anticipated revenues... If not, can it be done without incurring a prohibited deficit? If not, must programs in the domestic field be sacrificed or substantially diminished in favor of the military? Can we, in short, have guns as well as butter?

Sam Dawson Eyes Cast Toward Budget

NEW YORK (AP) — What actions of the government can foster inflation? What can the government do to halt or moderate a general rise in prices and loss of purchasing power by the dollar?

THE COST of the Viet Nam War — how much money the government will pump into the economy through military spending — will play a big part in an answering these questions.

A big Treasury deficit could have more effect on the course of inflation than isolated instances of price rises, such as Bethlehem Steel's $5 a ton boost in structural steel prices.

SO RIGHT now, the talk about inflation centers most of all on what the new federal budget will hold. Will it be bigger spending, tax changes, a growing Treasury deficit? The new budget could do a lot to an expanding economy already pushing against the ceilings of production capacity and available skilled labor.

A BUDGET deficit always can be a stimulant, mild or strong depending upon circumstances, to the economy. Some fear that a big Treasury deficit now might turn an expanding economy into an inflation-minded boom, with prices getting out of hand and wage demand skyrocketing.

INCREASED TAXES could hold down the size of the expected deficit and curb the threat of monetary inflation. But some fear that tax hikes also could halt economic growth and might even lead to a recession.

HOLDING DOWN government spending, whether for the military or the growing demands of the "Great Society" programs, could keep the Treasury deficit in line and slow the rising national debt. But here, too, the risk is in halting the economic expansion that otherwise would soon be entering its sixth year.

If the fears of a minority of economists are realized and inflation really gets going, what are the ways to stop it?

SOME OLD-SCHOOL economists still favor what they call natural correction. This says that inflation will take care of itself if the government doesn't tinker with the money supply. When prices get too high, demand dries up and employment drops. When wages get too high, it is unprofitable to hire more men. So prices and wages get back into line.

At the other extreme are those who plug for direct wage and price controls. These are unpopular and unlikely short of all-out war conditions.

THEN THERE are fringe controls. Curbs can be put on credit so that it's hard to find money to finance speculative ventures.

Johnson's Method In Foreign Affairs Displayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because he concentrated on home affairs there has been little chance — until now — to see how President Johnson would operate in the foreign field where his experience has been far less.

But his tactics in the past 10 days in trying to get the North Vietnamese Communists to discuss peace have provided a priceless and enduring insight into his methods with both friends and enemies abroad.

HE'LL DO what he does at home. While an Air Force uses saturation bombing, Johnson tries to saturate people with persuasion and pressure. It was this, and his persistence, which made him this century's best Senate leader.

Now, to get the Communists talking, he has saturated the world with publicity on his efforts and foreign capitals with his emissaries.

In the Senate his policy was simple and realistic: Get all you can; if you can't get it all, get as much as you can, even if it means compromising, for something is better than nothing.

JOHNSON HASN'T compromised in foreign affairs yet if only because so far he hasn't had to. There may be some situations in which he can't — Viet Nam, perhaps — but that's to be seen.

The classic example of Johnson as the persuasive technician was in the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1957, the first in this century. He compromised to soften Southern resistance which had stopped such legislation in the past.

This angered some Negroes whose emotions made them overlook this central point:

SOUTHERN resistance would never be the same again, the civil rights forces now had their foot in the door, and the next steps would be easier and stronger. And they are.

Again the astonishing record of Congress in 1965 on major legislation — like medical care for the aged and federal aid to education, long regarded as impossible — was the product of Johnson's ceaseless maneuvering, made easier, of course, by the vast Democratic majorities.

Once Johnson determined to make this effort for peace talks, his use of emissaries to foreign capitals would probably have followed exactly the same course if there had been no publicity and all was done in secret.

The publicity put extra pressure on the Reds while serving some other useful purposes for Johnson.

IF THE Communists ignore his efforts, they risk looking like fanatics and losing some or much of the sympathy they have here and elsewhere.

While the emissaries put pressure on the leaders they visited to do what they could to bring about discussions with the Reds, the publicity in general was an obvious effort to persuade the world of American good intentions.

Big Town Turns Small Town

NEW YORK (AP) — The average New Yorker prides himself on his cheerful spirit under adversity.

He likes the usual anonymity of life in the big city and takes it in stride. He doesn't mind if the fellow who works at the desk next to him, or the people who live in the house or apartment next to his, remain strangers.

But come a blackout or a snowstorm, and the New Yorker also likes the feeling of spontaneous neighborliness such temporary disasters generate.

EVERYBODY is kindly and helpful to the other guy. Everybody likes to gossip about the hardships met and surmounted. The big town has been turned into a small town.

So it was the first day of the subway and bus strike here this week. There weren't enough merit badges around to reward all the folks who pitched in to cooperate.

People joined in sharing cab rides and organizing car pools. They traded experiences they had had in walking across Brooklyn Bridge or hitchhiking from the Bronx to Queens.

Even John V. Lindsay, the handsome young mayor, set his constituents an example by strolling 60 blocks from a mid-town hotel to City Hall.

TO MANY New Yorkers the adventure was a lark, a welcome break in the routine.

They chuckled at the oral duel between Mike Quill, leader of the Transport Workers Union, and Mayor Lindsay. To some, Quill was a fiery-tongued St. Michael, fighting the dragon of City Hall. To others, Lindsay was a heroic defender of the municipal purse.

While the New Yorker welcomes a brief break in the rut of the routine, he prefers to return pretty quickly to that rut — because he soon misses it.

IF SUCH a strike continues for long, you can bet that — Blue-nosed walkers will discover that it is no fun to mush across the Brooklyn Bridge when the temperature falls to 30 degrees or lower, and ice and snow cover the walk.

Cabbies will be snarling at passengers, and passengers at cabbies.

Cops will be bawling out car pool drivers, and car pool drivers will be bawling out cops.

To Your Good Health

Overweight Girl Should Change Eating Habits

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 14-year-old girl and weigh 130 pounds. I want to lose weight but I just can't and I don't know why. My family and friends say I will lose weight when I get older. Is this true? — B. J.

Do you know any other people who magically lost weight as they grew older? No, neither do I. It takes some individual effort. These people who told you that you would lose were just trying to make you feel good.

You didn't tell me, young friend, how tall you are, so I can't estimate how much extra weight you have, but 130 pounds is too much for a girl of 14, and obviously you know that.

You are smart to start worrying about it now, instead of later. The longer you delay, the harder it is going to be to solve your problem. If you get your weight under control now, you will probably be able to keep it at a correct level the rest of your life.

Why does one person get fat while another stays lean, yet they both seem to "eat the same amount"?

Well, let's say that 95 per cent of what you eat is used up in providing energy, and body heat and growth. What happens to the other 5 per cent? It turns into fat.

Now let's suppose that another girl of your exact age and height eats 5 per cent less than you do. And SHE isn't fat at all. Her figure is fine. (Or may be, at 14, a bit on the thin side, which is natural.)

Where is this difference of 5 per cent in what you eat? Does she avoid snacks, candy bars, pop? Does your family serve rather high-calorie foods (gravy, fried foods, starchy foods, desserts) while hers serves foods that don't contain much fat? And maybe she doesn't care much about desserts, especially rich ones?

A difference of 5 per cent can make the difference between being fat or not fat.

Exercise also is important, because the more calories you use up in exercise, the fewer are left to make you fat. And the fatter a girl is, the less she feels like exercising.

If you can change your eating by 5 per cent, or even less, in total calories, you can stop gaining weight. If you can, for a year or two, cut down by 7 or even 6 per cent, you'll lose, gradually.

To do this, you have to know which foods are very fattening, or just average, or not very fattening. Some folks seem to do this automatically — or absorb the knowledge because they are brought up with the habit of avoiding high-calorie food.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can a pinched nerve be relieved or released through any means other than by surgery? — MRS. R. H.

Yes, depending on what is doing the pinching. Braces for back or neck traction, or some other physical means of moving bones or muscles, many times are successful methods.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne — The Teenage Problem." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

'Never' Ain't Necessarily So

Mr. Sam Blackburn, who writes a mean feature for The Herald, occasionally employs the device of wrapping up his findings in a letter addressed to Dear Boss. Such was his piece on Dec. 19 in which he answered the question of our chances for a White Christmas. He was infinitely correct in saying they were not good for this year, but the further product of his research leads me to reply.

DEAR SAM: I note that in your White Christmas roundup of the 19th inst. of Dec. that you raised this question: "Did you know, Boss, that there has never been a Christmas Day in the 65 years that weather records have been kept in this town that it has snowed?"

No, Sam, I did not know — on the contrary, I know personally of two White Christmases, and they came within four years of each other. I cannot vouch for the accuracy of the memory of old timers who say there was a snow on Christmas around 1904, but I have the files of the Big Spring Daily Herald, plus the cold statistics of the U. S. Weather Bureau to support me in my memoirs of a couple of White Christmases here.

THE FIRST was in 1939. I remember mas for our No. 1 son, Thomas, who at six months to the day was too young to appreciate it. So my wife and all our relatives appreciated it enough for him.

The way we get these White Christmases, Sam, is for the weather bureau to predict cold clear weather. In fact, on Dec. 24 of that year, the bureau had said the outlook was for "ideal Christmas weather—crisp and fair." Earlier the previous day skies had cleared and blowing sand replaced a mist that produced .66 of moisture.

BUT ON CHRISTMAS Day, at 1

a.m., sleet began to pepper down, giving away to snow. By daybreak, appeared that the snow was all over, but during the morning flakes began to flutter down again. From noon to 4 p.m. there was almost a blinding fall. The Christmas snow measured six inches in depth, and the weather bureau gauged its moisture content at .66 of an inch.

IN 1943, Big Spring was treated to a second White Christmas. Drizzle and sleet on Dec. 23 were transitory, said the weather bureau, and we could look for clear and cold weather. Other areas of the country might have a White Christmas, but not this locality. On Dec. 24, however, The Herald reported the bureau somewhat red-faced and noted that an "unexpected siege of snow and sleet put Big Spring within one day of a White Christmas." There was a one-inch covering on the ground. This persisted through Christmas Day. In fact, the snow and sleet continued intermittently on the 26th and 27th.

YOU WERE CORRECT, Sam, in observing that we came close in 1962, for indeed the ground did get covered by snow on Dec. 24, but the bureau found out about it, predicted more, and it promptly cleared off for Christmas Day.

There have been several near misses in the past score of years. In 1942 light snow fell Dec. 27; in 1944 there was a trace of snow on the ground the morning of Dec. 26; 1954 brought snow on Dec. 29; and 1961 on Dec. 28.

My purpose in pecking a reply, Sam, is not so much to set the record straight as it is to observe that "never" is a long time—especially when it ain't so.—Your Second Guessing Managing Editor—JOE PICKLE

Robert Kennedy—Of Stern Stuff

WASHINGTON — "Ask him about '68," whispered an aide as the reporter went in for a private interview with Senator Robert Kennedy (D., N.Y.).

Never mind what Kennedy responded to the questioning (very little, in fact), but the point is that he is hot in the running for the place now held by Hubert Humphrey.

NOBODY SHOULD be surprised at that. Bob Kennedy goes into 1966 as the second most prominent politician in the country. The idea of his waiting till 1972 for a post at national office level is now out the window. The friend or foe who underrates RFK is as wrong as can be.

One way to measure a man is by what his biographers can make of him. Money simply cannot hire hack writers to slap together a readable, plausible book about an empty, unimportant figure. If the raw material is ersatz, the biography will show it up no matter how hard and skillfully the writer tries. But if the material is genuine, and if its producer is competent, the resultant work will say so on both counts.

THE BOOK, "Robert Kennedy At Forty" by two reporters, Nick Thimmesch and William Johnson, both of TIME, proves that RFK is made of stern and serious stuff. Detractors of contrary opinion should read and heed.

Bob Kennedy comes out of these 291 pages as a politician without a modern prototype. High-strung and hot-tempered, he does nothing to court any man's favor. He can brush off an offensive reporter or vent his impatience upon a senior colleague with the disdain of a man who cares nothing for future friendship.

BOB'S ACCEPTANCE of the Attorney Generalship at the hands of his brother, his attempt at the vice presidency in '64, his barging into New York politics, his scorn of Senate protocol which requires a bashful maiden term, all drew criticism from places where any politician would hope to stand in favor. But Bob cares no more about the disapproval of the N.Y. Times columnist, Walter Lippmann, the President of the United States and senior members of the Senate than he does about the carping of pipsqueak critics. The more people who grind on him, the more he becomes magnetized.

SUCH A MAN cannot fail to make a fascinating character for a book, factual or fictional. And such a man, given ambition to rise, becomes almost impossible to suppress. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

If No Truce, We Must Act

WASHINGTON—If there is no truce in Viet Nam, then what?

Certainly a suspension of bombing of North Viet Nam cannot go on indefinitely as American soldiers continue to be attacked on the ground by Communist troops.

While there is always a glimmer of hope that some peaceful conclusion can be reached, even though it may take a long time to consummate it, there must be an alternative plan in the minds of American government officials. Military men undoubtedly have outlined what they think can be done to compel the enemy to talk peace.

MILITARY FORCE is not the only weapon that can be used. Having tried moral force by sending peace emissaries around the world, the United States can hardly be blamed if it decides to use economic power, along with the right of blockade. Here are the steps that could be taken:

1. Announce to the world that the military aid being supplied — and promised — to North Viet Nam by both Red China and the Soviet Union constitutes an act of hostility toward the United States, whose troops are being killed as a result of the use of weapons furnished by the Moscow and Peking regimes.

2. SUSPEND or sever diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union until acts of military hostility against the United States are discontinued.

3. Ask the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to bring about a cessation of commercial relations with North Viet Nam and Red China.

4. Announce that, unless economic pressure is exerted by America's allies, a re-examination will have to be made of pledges given by the United States to come to the military aid of all NATO countries when attacked.

5. ANNOUNCE ALSO that, if economic support of the enemies of the United States in the Viet Nam war—the Soviet Union and Red China—is not halted, America will bomb all military bases and areas in North Viet Nam containing military equipment and will also destroy all supply lines between Red China and Viet Nam, even if this means carrying the war to "privileged sanctuaries" in countries adjacent to Viet Nam.

It will be immediately asserted that this could lead only to an "escalation" — a larger war. But history records that prior to 1914 and 1939 failure to impose economic embargoes enabled the aggressor governments to build up the necessary arsenal to start in each case a world war.

THE SOVIET premier's recent speech is revealing. He declared last Thursday a state of hostility against the United States as follows:

"Russia is giving and will continue to give the democratic republic of Viet Nam all the necessary aid and support to strengthen its defense capacity and to repulse American aggression."

Moscow dispatches further reveal that the Russians have sent ground-to-air missiles to North Viet Nam and that ten American planes have been shot down by the missiles during the last few months. Also, some 120-mm mortar elements have been introduced, and heavy anti-aircraft machine guns have been given to organized units of the North Vietnamese army. This is the first time such heavy weapons have been reported among the Communists in North Viet Nam. The Soviets are known also to have supplied Mig jet fighters.

IN ANOTHER week or so, the United States will have to make a military decision based on this question: How long can the North Vietnamese be permitted to take advantage of the pause in bombing as their arms and supplies continue to be furnished by the Communist regiment.

Four Wandering Horses Are Killed

Four horses were killed in three accidents at nearly the same point on IS 20 at 9 p.m. Tuesday night, the highway patrol reported.

A fifth horse, known to have been with the others, was apparently not hurt. However, he has not been located.

The five horses were in a pasture which abuts on IS 20, 3.9 miles east. They got out of the pasture before 9 p.m. Three seem to have made their way to the highway slab.

Two were killed when a big diesel truck, pulling a load of dressed chickens and owned by Buddy Rowland, Memphis, Tenn., going west rammed into both animals. The driver, James E. Schiele, 27, of Lambert, Miss., was not injured, but his truck was damaged $2,000.

Shortly afterward, a third horse wandered into the east clipped by a truck and killed. This truck, the patrol said, did not slow down.

A little later, Richard Lynn Plunkett, 37, Big Spring, was driving his pickup on a dirt road just a short distance south of the highway. Suddenly a horse stepped into the path of his vehicle and he struck it. The animal was killed.

The owners were said to be Ronnie Walker, Coahoma, who owned the two animals killed by the Tennessee truck; Woodrow Robinson owned the horse killed by the east-bound truck; and Fred Gibson was owner of the horse killed by the pickup. He is now in Iwo Jima.

Traffic on the west lane of the road was hampered for some time until the carcasses could be pulled from the slab.

Transit Strike Tieup

Heavy auto traffic moves south on 2nd Avenue in midtown Manhattan this morning as the New York City transit strike entered its fifth day. The sidewalks also, were heavy with pedestrians forced to take the strike in stride. This view is looking north from 60th Street. (Another picture and story on Page 1-B.) (AP WIREPHOTO)

Signs Indicate Soviet Policy Being Retooled

By The Associated Press

The Soviet attitude on world policy in 1966 will have important bearing on chances for negotiation in Viet Nam. By spring, the world may have a better idea of those chances.

All signs indicate Soviet policy is being retooled to fit new situations, including fading prospects for any reconciliation with Red China.

Soviet aims seem concerned with security and insurance: security to pursue internal economic goals, and insurance against involvement against its will in direct conflict with the United States.

MAKE FRIENDS

Soviet policy now is zeroing in on Western Europe, suggesting that Moscow wants to make friends with its Western neighbors, expand economic and cultural contacts and reap long-range benefits. A Soviet-British summit meeting is in prospect for February, and President Charles de Gaulle may drop in for a Soviet-French summit.

In this, Moscow appears to seek insurance in the form of some sort of settlement of West Germany's role in Atlantic nuclear defenses. It is capitalizing on lack of enthusiasm among America's allies for West German participation, and also on De Gaulle's opposition to stepped-up NATO integration and to the West German nuclear role.

While the Kremlin appears to subordinate Viet Nam to European policy, it also can be expected to seek a form of insurance to implant strong influence in North Viet Nam, to provide a decisive voice in future developments there. The Soviet leaders likely will discuss Viet Nam with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson in February.

"SPECIAL AIDS"

Significantly, the Chinese have been accusing Moscow of pursuing its own "special aids" in Viet Nam. In turn, European Communists, reflecting the Moscow view, accuse Peking of wanting to stand by, amused, while the United States and the U.S.S.R. get involved in military conflict.

Next spring could produce meaningful developments, possibly including a purposeful and practical Soviet policy tailored to the needs for security and insurance. The Soviet Communist party opens its 23rd congress March 29.

The congress theoretically is the ruling body which meets once in four years to approve likely will reaffirm policies laid guidelines for the next four.

Puzzle of Tuesday, Jan. 4, Solved

Viet Reds 'Angry At Their Leaders'

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Two North Vietnamese army officers captured in Laos claimed today that many North Vietnamese blame the Hanoi government for U.S. bombing of their country.

"The people are angry in their hearts with their leaders," said Cadet Officer Pham Dinh Thao, 30, in an interview. "but they are too frightened to oppose them."

Pham said the North Vietnamese people know America is bombing their country because their government is sending men and supplies to the "big war" in South Viet Nam. He said his people are not interested in fighting in the South.

Cong Flushed From Caves, Tunnels In Coastal Hills

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Korean Marines and Vietnamese paratroopers have flushed a large Viet Cong force out of hideouts in hundreds of caves and tunnels in the coastal hills near Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

Six Skyraider fighter-bombers caught one fleeing guerrilla band in the open as "Operation Jefferson" drew to a close, and the pilots claimed that 60 of the black-clad insurgents were killed.

In five days of fighting, the Koreans and Vietnamese claimed 278 Viet Cong killed at a cost of light casualties to themselves. The Communists launched a counterattack Tuesday night, but evidently decided to flee today, leaving a major guerrilla base area in Phu Yen Province to the Allied force, spokesmen said.

The Viet Cong broke off contact at midday. Operation Jefferson relied heavily on artillery and air support, and the Koreans used nonlethal tear gas to drive some of the Communists from their hideouts.

The U.S. 1st Cavalry, Air-forces in North Viet Nam. "The ones who suffer are the people," he said. "The soldiers never go out during the day. They just stay in their trenches."

The two North Vietnamese were captured by Laotian army forces Dec. 22 after a battle near the Mekong River town of Thakhek. Le said they were sent in a special North Vietnamese battalion to Laos late in September to help protect the Ho Chi Minh Trail, the jungle network of trails and roads over which supplies and troops move from North Viet Nam through Laos to South Viet Nam.

Le said his battalion was sent into Laos because intelligence information indicated that the United States was preparing to send troops into Laos to block the trail.

ble, Division lost one of its huge flying helicopter cranes in a crash near Mang Yang Pass, in the central highlands 275 miles northeast of Saigon. All aboard were killed. The craft normally carries a three-man crew, but military spokesmen did not know immediately how many persons were aboard of the cause of the crash.

As the fighting raged in the south, the director of the U.S. Agency for International Development, David Bell, announced that American commodity assistance to South Viet Nam would be doubled in 1966 to $400 million in foodstuffs. The United States has been forced to ship rice to the war-ravaged country, which normally is a rice exporter.

AID INCREASE

Bell, on an inspection tour, said financial assistance for such other imports as fertilizer and construction material would be increased considerably but probably would not double the 1965 total of $130 million.

U.S. Marines ranging out of their big base at Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, scrapped with the Communists for the first time in days of fruitless patrolling.
