JOHNSON'S ADDRESS WEDNESDAY

Congress Returns To Work Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congress confronted with the possible escalation of fighting in Viet Nam and the threat of inflation at home convenes for its 1966 session in a solemn mood Monday.

President Johnson will keynote his program with a nationally broadcast State of the Union address Wednesday night to a session in which the funding of "Great Society" social reforms will collide with skyrocketing costs of the Southeast Asia conflict.

WAR IMPACT
Johnson is expected to dwell at length on Viet Nam peace efforts and the impact of the war on the domestic front.
With his world-wide peace offensive having shown no tangible signs of Communist willingness to negotiate, Johnson apparently will hear conflicting demands from lawmakers who favor resumption of aerial attacks on North Viet Nam and those who believe the bombing lull may yet open a way to peace.

Submission by Jan. 25 of a new budget calling for around $115 billion in expenditures for the fiscal year beginning July 1 will touch off a guns vs. butter battle. Members who believe domestic spending on such projects as the antipoverty program should have equal priority with military outlays will be pitted against those who say that financing of the war must come first and don't think even a booming economy can support both.

SCALE DOWN
There are some indications that Johnson will scale down requests for domestic programs. To offset this, he is likely to ask for action on non-costly legislation designed to benefit consumers, such as truth in packaging and truth in lending bills.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

For a year so full of promise, 1966 has opened on such a sad note. On the first day of the year, little Derek Alan Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rhodes, lost his life as the result of an automobile collision Thursday evening, while cleaning a gun. Clayton Croft, 16, son of M. Sgt. and Mrs. Joe R. Croft, was wounded fatally.

Elsewhere there was violence. Tom Birkhead had both legs mangled badly when the housing on a burr separator collapsed and let him drop into the rollers of a gin in Coahoma. Also injured was Jerry P. Phillips Jr.,

The White House has said that the President is not now considering any request to increase taxes. But the possibility of some such action has not been ruled out if increased federal spending deepens the threat of inflation.

SENATE AND HOUSE DEMOCRATIC LEADERS have promised quick action on an expected presidential request for an additional $12 billion or $13 billion in supplemental defense appropriations. Republicans say they will demand an accounting of exactly where this money is to be spent but few cuts are likely.

VEXING ISSUES
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has forecast a limited program of new legislation. But there are a number of vexing issues left over from last year.

Other major legislation to be considered:
—Minimum Wage: a House committee bill proposing an increase from $1.25 to $1.75 hourly and extending coverage to 7.8 million additional workers is likely to be pared back.

—Unemployment Compensation: There is strong opposition to establishing federal standards and action is doubtful.

—Food for Peace: Expansion of this program is probable.

—Foreign Aid: New requirements for economic self-help and social reforms may be written into the program.

TAX INCREASE
—Income Tax: An increase in withholding rates above the present flat 14 per cent is possible.

—Highways: Congress will have to decide whether to go on with the interstate program despite mounting Viet Nam costs.

U.S. Launches War's Biggest Push

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops have launched their biggest operation of the war in a push near the Communists' iron triangle, it was announced Sunday.

For security reasons the Vietnamese high command was not even notified of the operation until the last minute and no Vietnamese government troops took part.

8,000 TROOPS
The Royal Australian Battalion joined 6 American battalions and 3,000 artillerymen. A U.S. commander said there were 8,000 Americans taking part, making it the largest U.S. effort to date.

A spokesman said so far there has been only light contact with the enemy in the operation which began Saturday.
Two American helicopters were shot down and a third crashed apparently due to mechanical failure. Part of the multibattalion force was lifted by helicopter into several landing zones for a sweep toward the Saigon River 20 miles northeast of the capital in Hau Nghia province.

In sporadic contact Saturday, the Australians killed six Viet Cong while allied casualties were light. American troops ran into light opposition in four helicopter landing zones.

SEIZE AMMO
The Australians seized three weapons, 5,000 rounds of ammunition, 35 grenades and some equipment, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

The allies were roughly deployed in a "U" shaped formation with the open end facing the river. Intelligence agents reported that a Viet Cong regimental headquarters and possibly two battalions may be in the area.

Just across the river is the Iron triangle, one of the strongest Viet Cong positions in the country. The area of the American operation has not seen anti-Communist troops in years,

Key Senators Differ On Lull In Bombing

Russell Urges Hitting Ports Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key senators divided sharply Saturday on whether President Johnson should continue the pause in bombing of North Viet Nam in the absence of any public sign of Communist willingness to negotiate.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who has warned that the failure to start peace talks could lead to general war in Asia, said he is supporting the President's peace offensive 100 per cent.

NEGOTIATIONS
"I am hopeful that the end is not in sight in the President's efforts to bring about honorable negotiations," Mansfield said.

However, Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee said in a separate interview that "the suspension of bombing has gone on too long already." He said he believes the Communists are using the lull to build up the air defenses. As he has before, he advocated bombing of North Viet Nam port facilities.

"I see no difference between bombing their ports and bombing their highways, roads and ground supply routes," he said.

ISN'T SURE
Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he doesn't know whether any peace feelers have come from the Communist side and isn't sure whether the bombing lull will accomplish anything.

Dirksen took occasion to reaffirm that he is supporting Johnson's course in Viet Nam despite the Illinois senator's comments Friday that the United States must force the Viet Cong to lay down their arms before there can be negotiations. Johnson has offered to begin talks without prior conditions.

Mansfield said he does not believe unconditional surrender of the Viet Cong should be made a requirement for peace talks.

ENLIST AID
Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., was reported to be supporting Johnson's suspension of bombing and the President's efforts to enlist aid in major world capitals toward bringing about peace talks.

Although relations between the President and the Foreign Relations Committee chairman remain frosty because of the slim

"At the same time, it is necessary to make every possible effort to arrive at negotiations . . ."

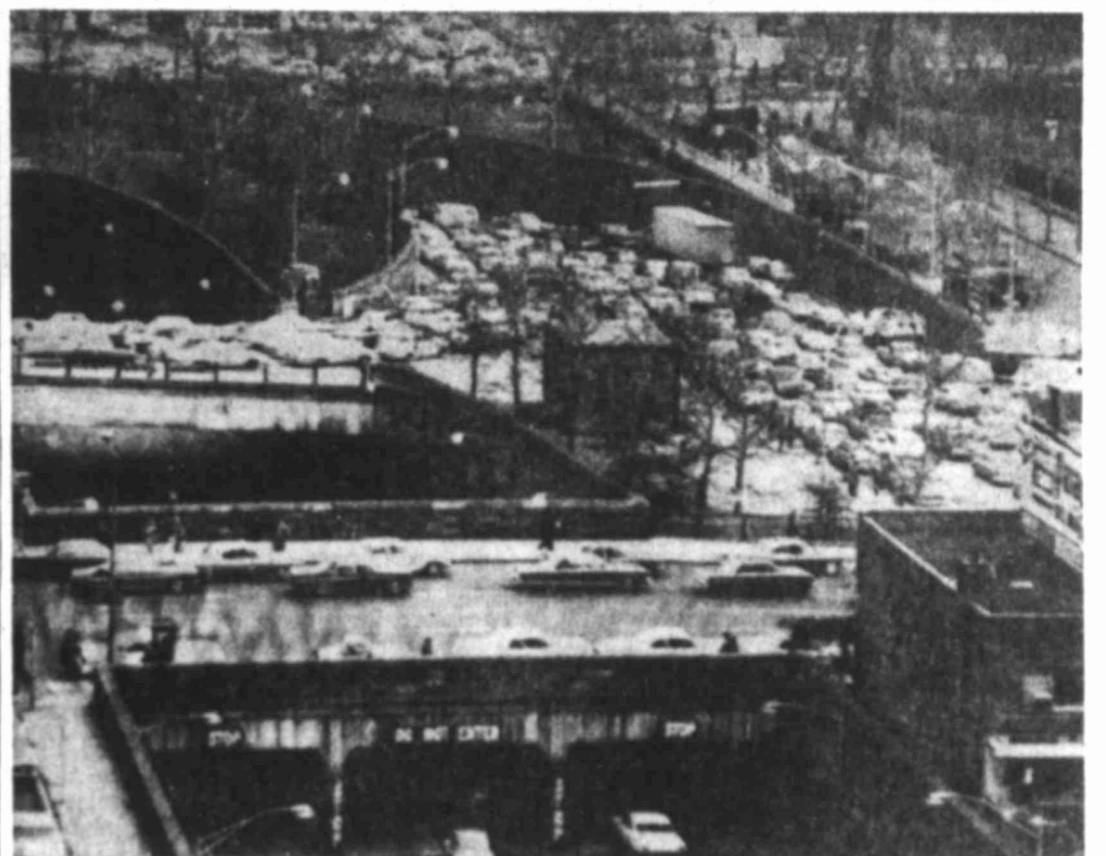

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, another of the touring senators, said he is hopeful the peace offensive will be successful but is unable to find many reasons for optimism in the light of the group's talks in Asia, Russia and elsewhere.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said "I am personally a bit more optimistic than the tone of the Mansfield report about the possibilities that we can stop the Communist invaders of Viet Nam without the war escalating into greater and most costly ground-force applications."

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball visited Fulbright at his vacation spot in Puerto Rico to inform the chairman of peace offensive aims.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., second ranking Democrat on the Foreign Relations group, said he feels that "we must escalate our military efforts" if there is no Communist response to the President's offers.

PROSPECTS SLIM
Sen. J. Caleb Boggs, R-Del., one of those who made the tour with Mansfield, said "as our Viet Nam report indicates, we felt that at the time we were on the trip that prospects for effective peace negotiations were

All Head Outbound

Cars enter the Manhattan exit of the Queens Midtown tunnel at the start of Friday evening's rush hour. In hopes of easing possibly the biggest traffic jam in New York's history, due to the city's transit strike, all lanes of the tunnel that connects the boroughs of Manhattan and Queens were made outbound from Manhattan. Between 5 and 6 p.m. 3,933 cars passed through, 884 more than the day before. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Mediators Report Big Gap Remains in Transit Hassle

NEW YORK (AP) — This city's multimillion-dollar transit strike entered its second week Saturday with 6,500 subway cars and 4,000 buses still idle, but mediators reporting some progress toward restarting them.

President Michael J. Quill of the Transport Workers Union, AFL-CIO, and eight other labor leaders remained imprisoned.

HEAVY FINES
Pending was the New York Transit Authority's court effort to obtain heavy union fines for their contempt of an injunction forbidding the strike.

Peace talks continued, with mediators stating a goal of restoring transit service by Monday morning but conceding that eight or ten "hard money issues" were unresolved. Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay prodded them to drive toward weekend settlement.

Much negotiating ground remained to be traveled, the mediators said, before the metropolitan area's 15 million inhabitants could return to their normal modes of transportation.

FLOW EASED
The weekend, however, brought an easing of the incredible flow of vehicles which had all but turned Manhattan into a week-long traffic jam.

With the financial impact mounting by an estimated $100 million a day, businessmen across the country were reported to be feeling the jolt to the nation's financial center.

Within the city, the strike hit hardest at the poorer peoples, the ones most dependent upon the subway trains and buses operated by 34,400 workers represented by the Transport Workers Union and the Amalgamated Transit Union, also an AFL-CIO affiliate.

DEFIES EFFORTS
The solution defied the efforts of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, sent here by President Johnson at the request of the Republican mayor. Lindsay turned to Washington after the unions rejected his plea to return to work pending settlement with the comment: "No contract, no work."

Wirtz reported back that the administration could only appeal to reason and good sense, having no legal instrument available to end the tieup — first in the city's history.

"They sent the wrong secretary," said the TWU chief negotiator, Douglas L. MacMahon. "They should have sent the secretary of the treasury."

HUGE GAP
The last publicly stated position of the parties showed a $187 million gap between them on issues of wages, shortened work week and fringe benefits in a two-year contract.

The precise stand of each side on each issue was not disclosed.

SERIES BEGINS IN HERALD MONDAY

Expert To Give Tax Pointers

Veteran newspaperman and tax authority Ray De Crane will explain all the provisions of the income tax law in a new 14-part newspaper series and book entitled "Cut Your Own Taxes." The series will start in The Herald beginning Monday.

De Crane is one of the nation's foremost tax experts and has followed tax legislation from the committee rooms through to final passage for more than 25 years.

"Of the nearly 3 million incorrect income tax returns filed last year," De Crane says, "3 out of every 4 taxpayers cheated themselves!"

"There is no way of knowing how many millions of dollars were paid by taxpayers because they either did not know about, or failed to take full advantage of, proper and legal deductions."

De Crane's series and 64-page illustrated manual, available to our newspaper readers, will help taxpayers avoid the pitfalls of overpayment of their 1965 income tax.

In both series and book, De Crane will give you a step-by-step guide on how to file your 1965 return.

"Mr. De Crane is one of the nation's three or four most knowledgeable tax writers in the country," said Joseph Rosapepe, Information Director of the Internal Revenue Service.

Getting The Facts

Tax expert Ray De Crane (left), author of The Herald's tax series beginning Monday and book "Cut Your Own Taxes," gets the facts on how to save money on your 1965 income tax from Commissioner of Internal Revenue Sheldon Cohen.

in the law passed in 1964 which were not applicable until Jan. 1, 1965. There are new rules for investors reporting dividends, and for senior citizens claiming retirement income credit.

"This is the year when the total tax for the year should be in close harmony to the amount of withholding tax deducted," De Crane says. "If returns are filed correctly and full advantage is taken of every tax-savings opportunity, refunds will come back into vogue again!"

Readers of The Herald wishing to order their own copies of "Cut Your Own Taxes," may send their name, address and 50 cents for each book to: "Cut Your Own Taxes," in care of The Herald, P.O. Box 489, Dept. 797, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Wright Backs Out Of Race

FORT WORTH (AP) — Rep. Jim Wright said Saturday he will seek another House term and will not run for the Senate, a post for which he was considered a major candidate.

Wright considered at one time seeking the Democratic nomination for the Senate office now held by John Tower, a Republican and the first GOP member elected to that post in Texas since Reconstruction Days.

Wright said response was good to his statewide telecast asking voters to give him guidance in making a decision on whether to seek the Senate seat.

"Yet, in truth," he said today in a news conference, "I must acknowledge that it was not sufficiently numerous nor sufficiently general in its geographic distribution to constitute evidence of a truly spontaneous groundswell which would be necessary for the type of campaign which I described."

Well Explodes, Burning Four

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An oil well exploded in flames in northeast Oklahoma City Saturday, burning four workers, two critically.

A fifth man working atop the well rig escaped injury. He slid more than 100 feet down a guy wire as the flames shot up the rig.

"All of a sudden there was this boom, and that was it," the worker, Maurice Damm, said.

Luckiest Place In Town, With Lots Of Horseshoes

By SAM BLACKBURN

The H. D. Hodges' residence, 504 Donley, should be about the luckiest house in Big Spring. It has been known by hundreds and thousands of people for generations that a horseshoe is a lucky symbol.

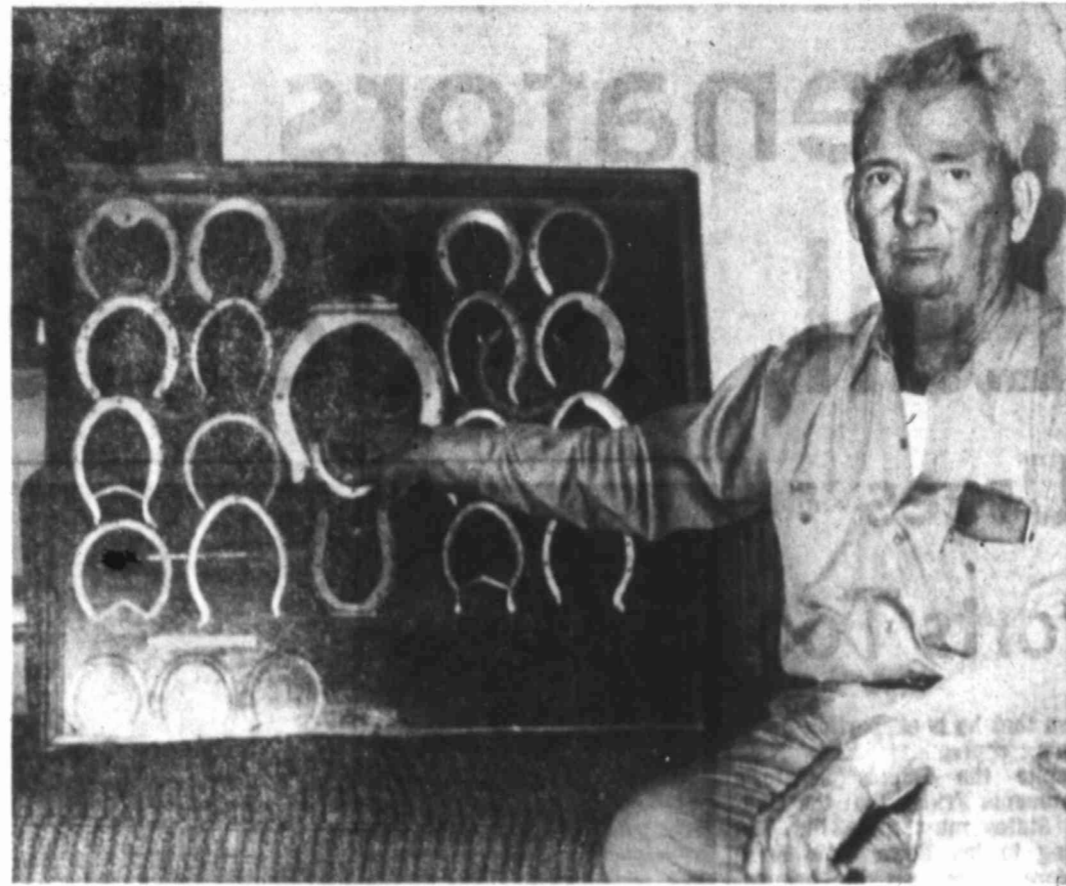

The Hodges have a whole cluster of horseshoes—also muleshoes and oxshoes.

The collection of equine and bovine footwear is a valuable piece of early Americana. It was started over a century ago by the late John W. Hodges, who was the grandfather of H. D. Hodges, and at that time a resident of Necessity, in Stephens County. Apparently no necessity for Necessity exists today—the community is not shown on the Texas Almanac map of Stephens County.

OXSHOE

At any rate, Hodges, a blacksmith by trade, started the collection by making a neat oxshoe which he solemnly presented to his son, J. D. Hodges, who was also a blacksmith and was the father of H. D. Hodges. J. D. Hodges died a few years ago at the age of 87.

He added to the collection, inserting a number of interesting examples of footwear for animals of his own manufacture and of artists in the horseshoeing craft. It was agreed that the collection be passed on to the oldest son in each generation—

"THAT'S A REAL NO. 7 RANDY BOON MODEL"

H. D. Hodges shows his unusual collection of ancient horseshoes horses, mule shoes for the famous Missouri mules and special shoes for horses with bad walking or running habits.

The big Clydesdale type shoe is a typical "No. 7 Ranger Boon" shoe, Hodges said. "I have made many of these," he added. The neatest shoe is a No. 4 mule shoe designed for mules used on railroad construction work.

WILD MULES

"One of the big jobs I once had," said Hodges "was keeping wild mules shod for a railroad construction job. They'd special shoes for jumping round up the mules, tie them down, and it was my job to put shoes on them."

Of particular value to collectors are three fine examples of race horse shoes made by the late famous Jack D. Tyson, a noted expert in the field of horse shoes.

When Hodges followed after his father and took up blacksmithing and horseshoeing, the fee was 25 cents per shoe. "You made the shoes from the word go," he said, "the raw metal was chopped out, heated and beaten into the right form and size."

Later on, he explained, commercial shoe blanks of the several sizes were made available and all the shoe maker had to do was touch them up to fit the animal being shod.

The historic shoes are in a big case covered over with glass which hangs in a hall at the Hodges residence.

No one knows what will be its fate in the future. Under the original plan, the shoes go to the oldest son of the family, but there is the provision that the son be a blacksmith to qualify for possession. The Hodges have three sons, but none is a blacksmith.

NO CALLS

Nor for that matter is Hodges a blacksmith. He hasn't followed that trade in 25 years. He has not had any call to do any horseshoeing in a long time.

"I could still do it," he says, "if it needed to be done."

Hodges has worked for the West Texas Sand and Gravel Co. for many years as a maintenance foreman. He formerly operated a welding shop here. The horseshoe collection is about all that he has left to remind him of the days when he was a blacksmith. That's why they have not only a historic, but a sentimental value to him.

Market Hits Record Highs In '66 Debut

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a smashing debut for 1966, carving out its best weekly rise in five months and pushing all popular averages to record highs.

The conciliation of differences between the steel industry and the White House in regard to steel prices supplied a mighty push of new confidence to Wall Street. Steel shares paced a strong rally which drew in a host of other market wheelers to give the list the kind of leadership it has not seen in many a moon.

ROLL AHEAD

While the cyclical key stocks were rolling ahead, profits were taken on many of the so-called glamour stocks in aerospace, electronics and airlines which rolled up the big gains last year.

Investors were obviously seeking out prospective new favorites for 1966. The week's rally also got help from the normal tendency of investment sources to commit funds in the first week of a new year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks last week advanced 25.6 to 364.1, a record high. The average made a new high every day. Its gain was the largest since the week ended July 31 when it advanced 7.2.

The Dow Jones industrial average week rose 16.87 to 986.13, making a record peak for every day of the week's last four sessions.

MYTHICAL GOAL

A similar gain by the Dow industrials next week would place this closely-watched barometer above the mark of "Dow 1,000," long regarded as an almost mythical goal.

Crucible Steel, with a 6-point gain, was the most active stock. U.S. Steel, the biggest producer, advanced 2 1/2 to 54 1/2, and Bethlehem, the second biggest, rose 1 1/4 to 41 1/2.

Steels actually showed weakness on Monday and irregularly on Tuesday before U.S. Steel announced its $2.75 per ton price increase which the White House found acceptable after Bethlehem's $5 per ton boost for structural steel sparked word of retaliation by Washington.

Of 1,548 issues traded this week, 878 rose and 522 fell. Volume for the week totaled

Smoke, But No Fire Found

Smoke and a burning odor had policemen and firemen searching the police station Saturday morning for a fire, to no avail.

About 9:30 a.m., the smoke and smell alerted officers, who sent for firemen. The smoke seemed to be coming from ventilators. Firemen scurried over, under, around and through the station, but found nothing burning. The smoke cleared out within an hour, and did not reappear.

It was thought a fluorescent lamp had malfunctioned, and that perhaps the ventilating system picked up the smoke and carried it around the station.

New Outpatient Director Is Citizen Of Old Eire

By JERRY MONSON

There's a touch of the barley stone and a bit of weariness of the green at the Big Spring State Hospital.

The reason is Dr. Desmond McCann, new outpatient director, who can hum the best strains of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and brew a fine cup of Irish tea. Sure, and it's because he was born and reared in Dublin, Ireland, and is still an Irish citizen.

Dr. McCann was educated at Blackrock College, Dublin, and received his bachelor of science degree at the Dublin College of Science. He was graduated from Edinburgh University, Scotland, in July, 1959.

He did his internship at Poole General Hospital, Dorset, and at North Devon Infirmary, Barnstaple, England. He came to the United States four years ago and served on the medical-surgical staff at Austin State Hospital before joining the residency program in neuropsychiatry.

He is married to the former Mari Hayes, whose father is Dr. J. G. Hayes of Alvin Memorial Hospital, Alvin, Tex. They reside at 500 Highland and have one girl, one-year-old Erin Renee.

Dr. McCann's family owns a jewelry firm in Dublin, McCann's Jeweler's. His brother, Peter McCann, studied watchmaking in Germany, Switzerland and Sweden, and is a watchmaker with the family firm. He will visit the United States soon to tour several jewelry firms and will spend some time in Big Spring, Dr. McCann said.

Dr. McCann has toured the New England states, the Far West, and the Southwest United States and hopes to visit the Midwest at his next opportunity. He said he was told the grass in Ohio was as green as the grass in Dublin.

"You Americans are not so different from the Irish, you know," he grinned. "Both nations are young, optimistic, and full of hope for the future."

"The first thing I saw in America was the Manhattan skyline from my ship. It seemed a fitting beginning to a new start in the New World."

"In fact, the only real difference I've noticed in Big Spring is the weather — I can't get used to the heat."

PLENTY COTTON READY FOR THE GINNERS
Fairview Gin lot jammed with cotton trailers

Cotton Harvest Nearing Finale Of 45,000 Bales

Final for the 1965 West Texas cotton crop is just over the horizon, most of the Texas Employment Commission office believe. In Howard County, with gins running around the clock and usually with from 150 to as many as 300 bales waiting to be ginned each year, the total as of Friday noon was 32,109. This is a good 80 per cent of the crop and another week of bright sunshine and the crop will be pretty well in the past.

BOYS CAN'T FIND GIRLS

Weevil Control Program Heads 'Em Off At Caprock

LUBBOCK — When a control program reduces weevil numbers in an area to the point that boy weevils have trouble finding girl weevils, everybody connected with the program (except maybe the weevils) should be happy.

And that's the prospect outlined for weevils in the High Plains diapause program control zone by Dr. Perry L. Adkisson of the Texas A&M Department of Entomology. Adkisson reported on the effectiveness of the program this week to a luncheon meeting sponsored by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., for leaders of the area cotton compress industry and news people.

The diapause control program was started by PCG in the fall of 1964.

Adkisson, who has been closely associated with every such program conducted in Texas, said the program to date has been "the most successful ever carried out."

He said the 1965 program reduced the potential overwintering boll weevil population by 99 per cent through use of a new two-phase technique. The first phase involved three rapid-fire chemical applications in September to break the weevil's reproductive cycle by killing off the last generation of reproductive females. Then, weevil-killing malathion was applied to cotton in the 250,000-acre control zone from four to five more times at 10 to 14 day intervals in October and November. This phase had as its objective the killing of any adults that survived the first phase treatments or that developed from eggs laid before the program got underway.

"If the potential overwintering population in the fall of 1966 can be reduced by another 99 per cent—and I see no reason why it can't be—there should remain on the average less than one adult weevil per two acres of cotton to go into hibernation," said Adkisson.

"And if these suffer normal winter mortality, the population will be so low that some 'boy' weevils may have trouble finding 'girl' weevils with which to mate." He cautioned, however, that weevils don't spread to the "average" over the 2,000,000 acres but concentrate in smaller areas, hence there will be some reproduction.

Normally boll weevils migrate 35 miles westward per year, which would have put them 90 miles west of the Caprock. However, the program not only stopped them but drove them back east.

Cost of the spray program was about $1.8 million. Of the amount, Plains Cotton Growers will pay around $800,000, the United States Department of Agriculture $900,000, and the state agriculture department about $100,000.

Pastors Seeking Ideas For Easter

Plans for a more dramatic presentation of the story of the Resurrection, with broader citizen participation, are in the making for this year's Easter sunrise service.

The Big Spring Pastors' Association, which annually sponsors this event, has named a special committee to formulate a program for the city park amphitheatre which will attract more people, and build a "tradition" for a community-wide worship.

REV. H. LOU BARTON
Crestview Has New Pastor

New pastor of the Crestview Baptist Church is the Rev. H. Lou Barton.

Rev. and Mrs. Barton make their home on Gail Route. He is candidate for a degree in theology from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth in May.

Before accepting the call here to succeed the Rev. R. B. Murray, who recently retired, Rev. Barton pastored the Baptist church in Kirkland.

He brings to Big Spring a brother combination in pastorate. His brother, Rev. Paris A. Barton, came from Lubbock in September to be pastor of the West Side Baptist Church. While visiting his brother at Lubbock, Rev. Lou Barton met Patsy Nell Koonce, and she is now Mrs. Barton.

The new minister was reared in Franklay, Mo., and was graduated from Esther (Mo.) High School. He took his college work at Hanibal Granbe Junior College at Hanibal, Mo., and his bachelor of arts from William Jewell College at Liberty, Mo. He pastored several churches in Missouri and Iowa before entering the seminary.

Dotson Gets Another License, Club To Meet

By JERRY MONSON
It was a proud moment for Curt Dotson, member of the Howard County Flying Club Thursday, when he chalked up 200 hours for his commercial license.

CURT DOTSON

Dotson, who has been flying for 10 months, picked up his private license in May. He said he'd always been interested in flying, but he did not have the opportunity to fly until coming to Big Spring. One brother is a military pilot with the U. S. Army and has been flying for 10 years, he said.

He and his wife, Carol Ann, live at 2804 Ann and have three children, Steven, 6, Douglas, 3, and Laura, 10 months.

Incidentally, the number "10" seems to be a lucky one for Dotson. His daughter Laura was born the day after he received his first flying lesson, and 10 months later to the day, he picked up his commercial license.

the Big Spring Aircraft Comanche; and students up in the Tri-Pacer included Dub Clinton, lineman for Big Spring Aircraft, and Jerry Merrick, and in the Cherokee, A. J. Allen.

E. Estes soloed in the Tri-Pacer this week.

The Big Spring Flying Club will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the chamber of commerce office, it was announced this week by John Stanley, secretary-treasurer.

Big Spring Flying Club had James Merrick, Ray Granbery, and Rex Hopkins up in the Colt, and Don Warren and Jack Little in the Cessna this week.

Lawson Allen took a short cross-country jaunt earlier in the week in the Cessna, Jack Little flew in the Colt Wednesday, and Rex Hopkins hopped the Colt on a cross-country Saturday.

Big Spring Aircraft reported several out-of-town pilots gassing up at Howard County Airport this week. Among them were Atmar Atkinson, Lubbock, who is the architect for Big Spring High School; Edwin Flato, Dallas; Earnhardt Aviation, San Antonio, who delivered a body for burial; and Johnson Flying Service, Missoula, Mont., on a cross-country.

Howard County Flying Club had only a few members up this week, among them Keith Swimm, who soloed in the Cherokee of Big Spring Aircraft, Curt Dotson, now the proud owner of his commercial license, and Zan Dawson in the Colt.

Charles Rainwater cross-countryed in the Cherokee earlier in the week.

Howard Loyd piloted Kent Morgan to Ruidoso, N.M., on a charter this week.

Robert Lebkowsky soloed in Hats off to TTA, whose passenger boardings for December made it the second best month in its 15-year history. Passengers flown on the regional airline totaled 85,597 for the period, 238 of them locally. Best passenger month was October, when 85,749 passengers were carried. Local TTA office reported August as its best month, with July running a close second.

Described as the "most complete document of its type ever published," the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association Airport Directory, released this week by AOPA, contains comprehensive information on each of the 9,150 landing places in the U.S. and its possessions.

The directory, which contains a volume of useful information to pilots and air travelers, includes geographic location and coordinates, runways, airport owners and managers, listings of Weather Bureau and Flight Service Station numbers, and latest data on airport customs and radio navigation facilities, state and federal aviation gas taxes, and a wealth of aviation material.

Individual copies may be ordered from the association at $7.50 for members and $10 for non-members. The directory is being distributed this year as an additional membership benefit to the association's more than 125,000 members.

HOWARD LOYD
... Gets FFA Appointment

Services Bolstered At County Airport

The services offered at Howard County Airport took a big step forward recently, when the Federal Aviation Administration appointed a pilot examiner at the field. He is Howard Loyd, general manager and secretary-treasurer of Big Spring Aircraft, Inc., operators of the airport.

The FAA does not take applications for pilot examiners, but makes appointments where there is a need, and a qualified pilot is available. The appointment gives Loyd the authority to examine new private and commercial pilots and authorize licensing them to fly. He can also give flying exams to Webb pilots for single engine aircraft.

Previous to this appointment, local pilots had to go to Midland, Abilene or Lubbock to take flying exams.

For Loyd, it was another step in a continuing career that began in 1931, when he soloed his first airplane, at the Big Spring Airport, located on the present Webb AFB site. Since then, he has flown over one million miles — the equivalent of two round-trips to the moon — and been in the air some 8,000 hours, which if continuous, would be 11 months. Half of this was instructing new pilots.

Loyd was born on the Carter Ranch in Glasscock County, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Loyd. He attended schools at Center Point.

After making his solo flight, he did not pursue flying as a career until after the war. He was qualified as a private pilot in Houston in 1946. Returning to Big Spring in 1947, he went to work with Cecil Hamilton, who was operating a flying school here under the GI Bill of Rights.

He quickly earned his commercial license, instructor's license, and multi-engine license, and worked as an instructor. During this time, he also did some dusting and spraying in Glasscock County.

In June, 1959, he became instructor and charter pilot for Big Spring Aircraft, which was organized as a corporation here and operated the new county airport. In 1960, he added two more licenses to his collection — instrument license and instrument instructor's license.

Loyd was among the group that bought out Big Spring Aircraft in April, 1962, which had Ted McClung as general manager and he was vice president. In February, 1964, he became general manager and secretary-treasurer.

The firm is the dealer for Piper Aircraft Corp., one of the best-known builders of airplanes in this country. As a result, this is the most familiar airplane at the county field.

Loyd offers, in addition to pilot instruction and new airplane sales, an air taxi and ambulance service, airplane rental, and gas sales. He operates the only radio station at the field as a service to general aviation.

Porter Seeks Re-Election As County Judge

Lee Porter, a veteran in county government, has authorized The Herald to announce his candidacy for re-election as county judge of Howard County. He is filing for a place on the ballot for the Democratic Primary on May 7.

"I was deeply honored when voters gave me an opportunity to serve my first term as county judge," he said. "I have been humbled by the confidence placed in me and by the cooperation given me in my efforts to serve you. When I first announced, I said that I sincerely felt that my years of experience in other phases of county operation had given me a good background to work more effectively for you, and now with the benefit of a term in the office I again seek. I believe that I am undergirded by still more experience and contacts. It is on the basis that this will help me be a more useful public servant that I respectfully seek your consideration and support of my candidacy for county judge of Howard County. I will do my very best for you."

Porter is a native of Howard County and a graduate of Big Spring High School. He worked at the State National Bank for 10 years before going into public service in 1935 as a deputy tax collector under the late John F. Wolcott. Porter was elected county clerk in 1939 and served continuously until 1953 when the late Judge Charles Sullivan summoned him to be county auditor. In 1962, he was elevated to the office of county judge.

Webb Servicemen May Vote In Local Elections

By SAM BLACKBURN
Webb Air Force Base Personnel, who can qualify to do so, may obtain poll tax receipts and vote in local elections in this county this year, according to Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor.

In the past, any man in the military service was not allowed to vote in the county where he was stationed, unless that happened to be the county from which he enlisted. Until 1954, all servicemen were deprived of the right to vote in Texas elections as long as they were in the uniform of their country. In that year, the constitution was amended to the degree that they might vote by absentee ballot in the county where they enlisted.

BARRIER DOWN

Last year, a federal court ruling struck down this barrier to servicemen's right to ballot. In March, 1965, the court held that servicemen were entitled to ballot in Texas elections if they were otherwise qualified electors (had lived in the county as long as six months and the state as long as a year and were 21 years of age or older) provided they would say they intended to make the community where they were stationed their permanent home once they left the service.

In Howard County, scores of airmen and officers of the Air Force have been here for three to six years and many own their homes. Their children attend schools here and the men and their wives are active in civic and social enterprises of the town. They are as deeply concerned in the operation of county, municipal and state government as any resident. They have often protested the Texas law which deprived them of the right to vote in local elections.

MANY APPLY

Now that the court has ruled on the issue and cleared the way, Mrs. LeFevre said that a large number of airmen and officers at the base have already applied for poll tax receipts. "If an airman has lived in the county six months, the state a year, and is 21 or older," said Mrs. LeFevre, "all he has to do is assure us his intention is to make this his permanent residence. We will issue a poll tax receipt and he will be permitted to vote in the elections."

An example of this new development in action occurred late Friday afternoon. Airman I.C. James H. Williams, who lives at 1202 Harding, has been a resident of Big Spring 2 1/2 years. He intends to make Texas his permanent residence and, at this time, he sees no reason why Big Spring would not be his future home when his hitch in the service ends. His wife, Edith, is almost a Big Spring girl. Her father, Sgt. Nathaniel E. Roll, (Ret) 1290

Tax Savings Due Irrigators

Added income tax benefits may be in store for those producers who own irrigation water rights in the Ogallala formation for the taxable year 1965, says John J. Seibert, area farm management specialist, of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock. Representatives of the Internal Revenue Service and the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District are currently developing "guidelines" which an eligible taxpayer may use when filing a claim for the depletion allowance. They say it is doubtful that these guidelines will be established and published before Feb. 15, when farmers who have not filed an estimated return must have their completed tax forms filed.

Therefore eligible farmers who are planning to claim an irrigation water depletion allowance for 1965 may elect to file an estimated return by Jan. 15. This would give these taxpayers until April 17 to file their completed 1965 return, Seibert said. By this date, there is a good possibility that depletion "guidelines" would be published. This would allow farmers to include in their completed tax returns any eligible depletion allowance and enable this allowance to be within these established "guidelines."

Final Payment Is Due Monday

DALLAS — Final payment of estimated federal income tax on 1965 income is due Monday, Jan. 17, 1966, according to Ellis Campbell Jr., district director of Internal Revenue for northern Texas.

Tax payers who previously filed a declaration of estimated tax, but who believe that changes in income or exemptions occurring during the last quarter of 1965 will cause their income to be substantially more or less than originally estimated, may be required to file an amended declaration. This declaration also is due Jan. 17.

Airmen Entitled To Vote In Local Elections

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, hands poll tax receipts to Airman I.C. and Mrs. James H. Williams, 1292 Harding. James Eric Williams is an observer. The Williams took advantage of a new court ruling which permits service personnel to qualify for voting in local and state elections.

Harding, served in the USAF here for two years and then was sent on a new assignment for four years. When he left the service, he came back here and made his home.

NEAR RETIREMENT Williams is with the 3560th Field Maintenance and has 2 1/2 years to serve in the Air Force. He and Mrs. Williams, accompanied by their two year old son, James Eric, showed up at the office of Mrs. LeFevre and applied for poll tax receipts. They were issued the receipts and will now be able to ballot in all elections in this county and state in 1966.

Mrs. LeFevre said that there are many eligible voters at the base under the terms of this new ruling, and that she is hopeful all who are entitled to vote will apply for their poll tax receipts prior to the deadline on Jan. 31.

Meantime, the sale of poll tax receipts generally is slow. Through Friday, there had been only 741 poll tax receipts issued.

They have been available since Oct. 1. This is a little ahead of the same date last year when the total was 727.

ELECTIONS SET

It was pointed out, however, that last year was a nonpolitical year — a year devoid of elections of general interest. This year, on the other hand, is fraught with great political significance. Not only are a large number of local offices to be filled, there will be state elections, amendments to the constitution (including one which would abolish the poll tax as a requisite for voting in Texas), and several important city and school district elections.

Older citizens do not have to pay a poll tax. They are issued exemption certificates free. Less than 900 such certificates have been issued so far.

Mrs. LeFevre said she had arranged to be at the next regular luncheon meeting of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Jan. 13 to issue poll tax receipts to any Kiwanian who needs one. She will also be at the American Business Club on Jan. 14 for the same purpose.

Sometime in the next week or 10 days Special Deputy Cliffa Slate will set up a desk at the VA Hospital, the Cosden office building and plant, on dates to be set for the same purpose.

Mrs. LeFevre said that Lewis 5-and-10 store in the College Park Shopping Center will be issuing poll tax receipts as a special service in the immediate future. It is also planned to issue the receipts at the IUOE Building near the Cosden refinery.

DEADLINE

She urged all citizens to get their poll tax receipts before the deadline Jan. 31.

"One thing is certain," she pointed out, "even if the poll tax is struck out as a qualification for voting, it is going to be necessary for a voter to have a poll tax receipt if he intends to vote in any elections this year."

Area Cotton Samples Are Off In Quality

Cotton harvesting reached a season high last week and the Cotton Classing Office in Abilene reported its busiest week of the 1965-66 harvest.

Samples classed at the USDA office totaled 38,400 during the week ending Jan. 7, which pushed the season total to 376,128. District 1 (Howard, Martin, Midland, Glasscock counties) accounted for about 10,000 of last week's receipts.

The market remained sluggish with the bulk of the crop going to Cooperative Marketing Associations or into the Commodity Credit Corporation loan.

Grades of samples from District 1 were lower according to B. B. Manly, chairman of the USDA Office. The per cent of white cotton decreased from 15 to 8, spotted samples increased from 15 to 21, while the per cent of light spotted cotton remained at 70. Predominant grades were: middling light spotted, 33 per cent; strict low middling light spotted, 34 per cent and middling spotted, 14 per cent.

Samples reduced in grade because of bark totaled 7 per cent while 1 per cent was reduced because of preparation.

Rough preparation is usually caused from ginning cotton too damp. Below Grade accounted for 1 per cent of the District 1 cotton.

The micronaire showed little change in the fiber fineness and maturity of cotton. One per cent was "wasty" or below 2.6; 4 per cent miked 2.7-2.9; 14 per cent was 3.0-3.2; 20 per cent went 3.3-3.5; and 61 per cent miked 3.6-4.8.

Staple lengths dropped only slightly with 36 per cent 29-32 compared to 27 per cent for the previous week. Other predominant lengths were 15-16, 55 per cent; and 31-32, 5 per cent.

Democrats Are Signing Up For May Primary Contests

Incumbent candidates in the several county and township offices to be filled during the elections of 1966 are getting into the races, according to C. V. Riordan, county democratic committee chairman.

Riordan said that he is accepting filings for the offices of district judge, district court clerk, county superintendent, county surveyor, county commissioners in Precincts 2 and 4, county clerk, county treasurer, justice of the peace Pct. 1, Place 2, constable, Pct. 1; Justice of the peace, Pct. 2, (Coahoma); and for county central committee chairman and precinct chairmen.

He said that he has left the official filing blanks with Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County Clerk. A candidate filing for an office will be assessed a fee for his share of the primary election costs and the law now requires that a $50 deposit be made at the time the candidate files his name.

Riordan said that applications for places on the ballot should be left with his office at 2100 Washington Place. Deadline for filing is Feb. 7.

He said that he hopes the election expenses can be kept to the point where the assessment against candidates can be maintained where it was last election. This means that each candidate, who has no opponent for his post, will be levied five per cent of the annual salary the office pays and in races where there are more than one candidate, three per cent.

The major county offices—

New Post Office For Brownfield

WASHINGTON (AP)—A contract for a new post office building at Brownfield, Tex., has been let by Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien.

The building will be owned by William and Doris Null of Fort Worth, who will lease it to the Post Office Department for 20 years with renewal options for 30 years. The structure will cost $161,048.

county clerk, district clerk, judge—pay $7,200 a year. If an incumbent is unopposed in the election, his fee will be $370. If he has an opponent, the fee will be $216.

Riordan pointed out that it is possible this fee will have to be revised upward. He points out that there are four more voting precincts now in operation than served in the 1964 elections. Expenses generally are higher.

So far, only incumbents have filed. The list includes the two present county commissioners, L. J. Davidson, and Ray C. Nichols; County Judge Lee Porter; County Clerk Pauline Petty; County Superintendent Walker Bailey, Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter, and District Court Clerk Fern Cox.

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, and Frances Glenn, county treasurer, have both said they will seek re-election and will probably file this week.

FBI Breaks Credit Card Operation

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The FBI said Saturday it had broken a large "credit card" bookmaking operation with raids in nine cities.

FBI agents made simultaneous raids at five locations in Miami and at others in New York City, Jersey City, Baltimore, Huntington, W. Va., Baton Rouge, La., New Orleans, Cleveland and Clarksdale, Miss.

The Miami operation, the FBI reported, was headed by Gilbert Lee Beckley, whose residence was searched for gambling and bookmaking records.

"Beckley's operation is known to have used telephone credit cards obtained in Tulsa, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Mo., and Clovis, Albuquerque, Santa Fe and Roswell, N.M.," the announcement said.

During a 10-month period in 1965, the FBI said, 6,592 long distance calls were charged to these credit cards.

Raiders also searched the residence of Morton Kane of Miami and Martin Sklaroff, who was identified as an associate of Beckley.

Kenneth Hanna was arrested at a Miami apartment on a warrant charging fraud by wire, interstate transmission of wagering information and interstate transportation in aid of racketeering.

Hanna's arrest, the announcement said, stemmed from use of an electronic device known as a "blue box."

"This sophisticated instrument," the FBI said, "is attached to a telephone or telephone line and permits the holder to utilize the long distance network without being billed for the call."

Over 500 long distance calls were made from Hanna's phone, the FBI said, which were not recorded by the telephone company.

Also arrested was Nat Modell of New York City.

Other searches were reported made on operations of Charles Lakis, Cleveland; Herbert Kaufman, Baltimore; Eugene Nolan, Baton Rouge; Sam Di Piazza, New Orleans; Joe Assad, Clarksdale, and other operations at Huntington and Jersey City.

Pledges His Best For New District

Congressman Omar Burleson (D) of Anson, 17th District of Texas

"I am pleased to have the new counties which have been added to the 17th District, and to retain so many of the counties which have been a part of this district for many years," Omar Burleson, of Anson, said last week. The congressman is beginning his 20th year representing the district in Congress.

Following the federal court ruling last week, Howard County apparently will be among the 24 counties in Burleson's enlarged district.

Concerning the new district, Burleson said:

"The geographical area is much larger, (larger in square miles than the combined area of the states of Delaware, Maryland and Connecticut), but I hope to get acquainted with the new people and renew old acquaintances in the new counties as quickly as possible. I have already been able to visit briefly in all of the new counties during the limited time last fall following a lengthy session of the Congress. I feel it a great honor and privilege to be able to serve as the 17th District representative in Congress, and would be pleased to hear from constituents from time to time. The new counties which have been added to the old 17th Dis-district have many interests in common with the present district, and I feel they will lend much to the creation of a fine new community of agricultural, livestock, oil and urban progress. I shall continue my best efforts in the interest of economy and good government."

"My district office is located in the Post Office Building at Abilene, and, of course, I can be contacted in the Rayburn Office Building in Washington, D. C. at any time."

Traffic Toll Hits Record

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council says traffic accidents through November claimed a record 44,170 lives. The council said Friday this was a 2 per cent increase over November 1964, when 43,210 deaths were reported. However, the council noted that traffic mileage increased by 5 per cent during the period and that fatalities declined from 5.6 per 100 million vehicle miles in 1964 to 5.5 for the same period in 1965.

Chicago had the lowest fatality rate—2.7 deaths per 10,000 registered vehicles for 11 months. Philadelphia had 3.1, Detroit 3.7 and New York 3.9. Los Angeles did not submit a report.

Included in the crew working out of Midland are Ferrel L. Gregg, the project engineer; Mont C. Crutcher, A. L. Stone, Jack A. Ballard, and Leonard M. Keilner. Two additional parties who are working from Big Spring are Charles F. Dickinson and Courtney H. Swanson.

A temporary field office has been established at 905 W. Missouri in Midland where the crew will make its headquarters while completing the six-months

Surveys Being Conducted For Topographic Maps

Four field parties of the topographic division of the U.S. Geological Survey are based at Midland and engaged in surveying operations for the preparation of new topographic maps of approximately 1,500 square miles.

Two members are working out of Big Spring.

The area lies north of mapping accomplished last winter with the new area extending as far north as Patricia. The new area to be mapped joins mapping accomplished last winter on the south and extends east to Big Spring where a join is made with older maps which are published. This new area has never been mapped by the Geological Survey, and when complete and published, it will become a part of the Standard topographic atlas of the United States.

One of the principal uses in the oil country application is in the "building" of area and county surface and sub-surface maps.

Elevations and configurations on the topographic map are used as base material on the sub-surface maps used by oil companies to plot formation low and high. Most county ownership map makers use the material as aids in plotting roads, towns and striking geographic features on oil feature maps.

Outside of the oil industry, the problems may involve mineral or water resources, prospecting and mining, engineering construction of all kinds, location of industrial sites, urban planning, military requirements and recreation.

Although any one mapping operation may be partially related to a particular development program or specific need—such as developing new lakes—topographic work is done essentially because these maps have general purpose value, and because it is sound economy to have them on hand for any specific planning that future developments or investigations might require.

The most modern engineering methods available are employed in the preparation of these new maps. Aerial photography and precise photogrammetric instruments are used as part of the basic mapping process, but field surveys are still required at two stages. The first of these is to establish control points, that is elevations above sea level and geographic positions. The second is to check the accuracy of the map as drawn from the photographs and to complete the classification and identification of buildings, roads, streams, boundaries, and other features.

The control surveys are now underway in this area. Thousands of topographic maps are published by the geological survey and millions of copies are distributed annually. Most of the quadrangle maps are sold for 30 cents a copy and may be ordered from the geological survey headquarters at the Denver Federal Center. To aid people in the selection of maps, the survey issues without charge state indexes showing areas covered by published maps and a folder describing topographic maps.

Disgruntled Car Buyer Kills Three Salesmen

CHICAGO (AP)—A young man, apparently enraged over car-repair bills, killed three auto salesmen with a sawed-off shotgun Friday and was threatening two women employees when shot and killed by a police officer.

Police said Donald Jackson, 24, entered the Fohrman Motors, Ltd., salesroom through a rear door and walked around a partition where he saw Albert Sizer, 65, a salesman, standing. He shot Sizer in the head, they said.

One of the owners, Sidney Fohrman, 52, heard the gunfire and ran out of his glass-partitioned office. Jackson shot him in the head and then ran into an inner office and shot Edward Fohrman, 43, Sidney's brother and co-owner of the business, police said.

Other employees running from the building flagged down Det. Roland Charles, 36, and his partner, York Anderson, who were riding by.

"We stopped the car and ran around the back of the place," Charles said. "Anderson drew his gun and walked in one direction and I drew mine and walked in another."

The intruder spotted Charles and fired at him with a Luger pistol he was carrying in addition to the sawed-off shotgun.

"I ducked," Charles said, "and sneaked around a partition and came up in the front of the showroom." The policeman said he saw Jackson threatening two women employees in the cashier's office with the shotgun.

Charles said: "He told them he was going to kill them. Both women were crying hysterically and fell to the floor. 'As Jackson looked up I shot him in the head.'"

Police Commander Frank Flanagan said Jackson recently purchased a used car from Fohrman and had an accident with it. He said Jackson visited the auto showroom several times in recent weeks, quarreling over repair bills and demanding his money be refunded.

"Apparently he got into an argument with somebody here and returned with a shotgun," Flanagan said.

Besides the shotgun and pistol, Jackson wore a belt containing 25 shotgun shells and carried two plastic bags full of shells, police said.

Charles Jackson, said her son, the eldest of six children, lived with her, and worked some where on the North Side.

Cowboys Favorites In Miami Battle

By WILL GRIMSLEY Associated Press Sports Writer MIAMI (AP) — Will Tom Matte pass or run? That's the question that will be bugging the Dallas Cowboys when they square off against the Baltimore Colts here Sunday in the National Football League's Playoff Bowl involving conference runners-up.

The Colts, who lost quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and Gary Cuozzo in the final two weeks of the season, are 3 1/2-point underdogs to a fast-moving Dallas team that won five of its last seven games. The game, with 12:45 p.m. CST kickoff in the 72,200 capacity Orange Bowl, will be televised nationally by CBS. Despite loss of its quarterback punch for the final two games, the Colts beat Los Angeles 20-17 to tie for the Western Conference championship and then lost an overtime thriller 13-10 in the playoff to the Green Bay Packers. The Packers went on to beat Cleveland for the league crown. The Colts finished with a 10-3-1 record compared with the Cowboys' erratic 7-7-0. The Cowboys, who lost the services of quarterback Don Meredith in mid-season, dropped five in a row after starting with two victories. Now Meredith, who throws bullets to speedster Bobby Hayes and Buddy Dial, is healthy again and has the Cowboys moving while the Colts have found a signal-calling savior in Matte, a halfback who hadn't passed since his undergraduate days at Ohio State.

Matte, a stocky 205-pound competitor, threw only seven passes in the Los Angeles game and 12 against Green Bay. In practice, he has been planting himself in a pocket and shooting sharp passes to ace receivers Raymond Berry and Jimmy Orr.

"We had to be cautious in our games with Los Angeles and Green Bay and couldn't afford to make any mistakes," said Baltimore Coach Don Shula. "Against Dallas, we figure we're going to have to loosen up a bit."

Wayland Triumphant In Women's Tourney

Wayland's powerful Queen Bees defeated Hardin-Simmons in the finals of the annual Howard County Junior College Women's Basketball tournament here Saturday night, 43-34. Faye Shumbers led the Plainview team in scoring with 20 points while Zaida Bodine set the scoring pace for the Cowgirls with ten points.

Members of the all-tournament team included Barbara Lakey, HSU; Cynthia Gerald, West Texas; Tippy Browning, ACC; Patty Jones, HCJC; Zaida Bodine, HSU; Marsha Porter, Wayland; Linda Oestrich, Angelo State. The outstanding forward was Linda Tucker, Wayland; and the outstanding guard Wanda Hudgins, ACC.

In the skirmish for third place, ACC's Wildkittens outlasted Howard County Junior College, 56-36, after building up a 20-7 first quarter lead.

Joyce Scott tossed in 17 points and Tippy Browning 11 for ACC while Patsy Jones had 12 and Patty Jones 11 for the resident sextet.

In consolation finals, West Texas State shut out Angelo State in the third quarter on its way to a 52-23 victory.

Marjie Earles tossed in 23 points for West Texas while Zula Tomlinson was the Ramette leader with ten. In semifinal games Saturday, HCJC lost to Wayland, 46-36, after battling the Queen Bees down to the wire while Hardin-Simmons advanced to the finals with a 42-36 win over Abilene Christian.

In first round consolation games Saturday morning, West Texans decked Weatherford, 37-24; while Angelo State surged past Odessa, 52-30.

Sailing Craft Is In Demand

NEW YORK (AP) — Approximately one-quarter of the 530 boats that go on display in the 56th National Boat Show in the New York Coliseum on Saturday are sailing craft with well over 90 per cent of them made of fiberglass.

It will be the first time in the history of this exposition that sailboats have taken such a commanding position. Perhaps, that explains why the 1966 show will be the first ever without the word motor in its title.

Or it could be because the second floor of the Coliseum, where the event will run from Saturday to Jan. 23, has an extremely high ceiling. Sailboats can be shown fully rigged.

Although sailboats have doubled in popularity since 1962 boats of all kinds will be on display. Among the inboard cruisers, at least two builders are showing triple-cabin models. Most exhibitors are offering a complete package — the boat and all the equipment needed for a cruise.

A majority of the cruisers are of wood but fiberglass is the main construction material for the sailboats, which range from 4 1/2 feet to small prams.

The use of fiberglass has been a major cause in the increased growth of sailing. When sailboats were made of wood, building one required highly skilled labor to transform the blueprint into a craft ready for launching.

But with the man-made material, a single mold can be made and used over and over again to turn out identical twins.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to do away with unlimited substitution and to return to one-plateau football will be made this week at the 60th annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Guido Daub, faculty representative of the University of New Mexico, will offer a resolution to that effect on behalf of the Western Athletic Conference during business session of the NCAA convention Monday through Thursday.

The resolution actually is not binding on the rules makers, but strong floor support of Popojoy's resolution could have a strong influence on the Football Rules Committee when it meets in New Orleans Jan. 15-17.

Football made a full return to unlimited substitution only last season, after years of tinkering with the rule. Many administrators, however, feel it is too costly, requires too large a staff, requires too many scholarships.

West Texas Frosh Batter Texans

CANYON—West Texas State's freshmen wore out South Plains College, 96-73, in a basketball game here Saturday night. The previous evening, South Plains shocked New Mexico Military Institute in a Western Conference game, 78-75.

However, NMMI was playing without their star, Ron Nelson, who has been sidelined four weeks with a broken hand.

In Lead Arnold Palmer fires a short pitch to within 12 feet of the pin on the 9th hole during Saturday's third round of the Los Angeles Open golf tournament. He dropped the putt for a birdie 4, one of seven straight birds he carded as he moved into the lead in the $70,000 tourney. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Palmer Far Ahead At Los Angeles

By BOB MYERS Associated Press Sports Writer LOS ANGELES (AP) — Arnold Palmer turned the Los Angeles Open golf tournament into a shambles Saturday, blasting out a record-tying nine-under-par 62 and a 54-hole score of 200 — 13 strokes under par.

The fantastic round, in which Palmer put together a string of seven straight birdies, sends him into the final 18 holes Sunday with a lead of seven strokes over Bill Casper, Jr.

Palmer, who had a poor year in 1965, toured the Rancho Municipal Golf Course in 33-29 for his 62, which equalled the tournament record set by Phil Rodgers in 1962. Dave Ragan, who led the field going into the third round with a one-shot advantage over Palmer and Rex Baxter, Jr., fell behind with a 72 and into a group standing at 209 that included Baxter, Dave Marr, Paul Harvey and others.

Coffeyville Quint Wins Over HCJC At Lawton

LAWTON, Okla.—HCJC of Big Spring fell off the pace in the final six minutes of play and lost to Coffeyville, Kansas, here Saturday night in the battle for third place in the All-States Basketball tournament. Final score was 85-74.

The score was tied 19 times during the contest and the Hawks didn't strike their colors until Charley Price and Jack Thompson fouled out with more than five minutes to play. The Hawks had lost a first round game to Northeastern of Sterling, Colo., Friday night, 79-70. The Big Springers looked much better against Coffeyville than they did against Sterling, however.

Gregory Named Coaching Aide

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Jack Gregory, football coach at East Stroudsburg, Pa., State College, has been hired as an assistant at Navy, the Naval Academy announced Saturday. Gregory joins Coach Bill Elias' staff as a replacement for Doug Scovill, who resigned to become head coach at University of the Pacific.

Gregory, 38, has coached at East Stroudsburg the past seven years, compiling a 48-10-2 record. His 1965 team was undefeated in 10 games and won both the Eastern Pennsylvania State College Conference title and the Pennsylvania state college championship. Gregory was chosen small college coach of the year for District II of the National Collegiate Athletic Association last season.

Gary Player Top Putter

CHICAGO (AP) — Gary Player, who made 1965 the most personal success year of any golfer since Ben Hogan in 1953, was named winner of the Putter of the Year Award Saturday by the Golf Writers Association of America.

The compact, 30-year-old South Africa professional, who is now with his wife and five children on the farm near Johannesburg, will be presented the trophy during the writers' 21st annual meeting in Masters Week at Augusta, Ga., in April.

Player was a runaway winner in the balloting with only Jack Nicklaus and Kathy Whitworth receiving other votes. By winning the 1965 U.S. Open, Player joined Hogan and Gene Sarazen as the only golfers ever to win the National and British Opens, the PGA and the Masters. After taking the National Open in St. Louis last June, Player donated his entire purse of $25,000 to cancer relief and junior golf. His Putter of the Year Award was based mainly on his pressure putting for pars during the National Open, which he won by defeating Kel Nagle of Australia in an 18-hole playoff.

A Show Of Unity

Steve Juday Star In North's Win

HONOLULU (AP) — All-American quarterback Steve Juday was named the outstanding lineman in this free scoring game, played before an overflow crowd of more than 25,000 in Honolulu Stadium.

Judy threw two touchdown passes and scored once himself on a 20-yard run. His touchdown tosses were for 17 yards to Ron Reitor of Northwestern and 21 yards to Eric Crabtree of Pittsburgh, the latter putting the North out front for good.

In all, Juday completed 10 of 22 passes for 109 yards. The South's Carl McAdams, Oklahoma middle guard, was named the outstanding lineman in this free scoring game, played before an overflow crowd of more than 25,000 in Honolulu Stadium.

Tommy Wilson, Texas Tech's passing star, turned in a superb performance for the South All-Stars, who moved into a 29-7 halftime lead mainly on Wilson's aeriels and the receiving of teammate Donny Anderson and Nebraska's Freeman White.

Wilson hit three receivers for touchdowns during the game. After spotting the North a 7-6 advantage in the first period, Wilson fired a 25-yarder to Anderson for the score that was to keep the South ahead until mid-way in the final quarter.

Just before the half, White pulled in a 33-yard pass just behind the goal from Mary Kristynik of Texas.

It was a different story after the intermission, Juday, who had trouble with his passes in the first half, began to hit. The North scored three touchdowns in a row, the first on Juday's 20-yard burst after it appeared he was going to be trapped 10 yards behind the scrimmage line: again on an 81-yard drive that ended with Jim Grabowski of Illinois plunging the last four yards and finally with Juday's 21-yard flip to Crabtree.

Grabowski followed Crabtree's touchdown reception by piling over center for the two-point conversion that was to provide the margin of victory.

The South, behind 27-20, wasn't through. Wilson and Anderson led a 90-yard thrust with three minutes remaining, the final 32 yards coming on Wilson's pass to Anderson. A run for the two extra points which would have produced a South victory failed.

Anderson set a record for the most passes caught by a Hula Bowl player with 10.

Details as to the club's first trip will be given during the session. Present plans are for members to take part in three trips.

Lesley Hunt of Australia and Okker gained the other berth in the mixed final with the withdrawal of Miss Richey, whose partner was Ashe.

Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., and Tom Okker of the Netherlands won the other semifinal, 6-3, 11-9, 6-2 over Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., and Herb Fitzgibbon of Garden City, N.Y.

Miss Tegart and Roche advanced to the mixed doubles final by beating Carol Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio and Riessen 6-2, 6-4.

Australia's Davis Cup pair of John Newcombe and Tony Roche scored an 8-6, 6-4, 5-7, 3-6, 8-6 decision in the men's doubles semifinal over Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Cliff Richey of Dallas, who will meet for the men's singles title Sunday in an all-American final.

The Wimbledon champion's strong serves and net rushing superiority, combined with Miss Richey's inability to play up to her form because of a knee injury, made it a mismatch.

The American girl was hurt in her semifinal match Friday against Judy Tegart of Australia but was not hampered by the injury in the final until she fell chasing a wide shot. She withdrew from the mixed doubles semifinals, and went to a specialist for examination.

In the B team game, Larry McKinney led the Coahoma surge with 21 points.

The Bulldogs now have a 10-4 over-all record. Bill Easterling's team goes to Wylie for a 4-A game Tuesday and plays host to Merkel Friday night.

Nancy Richey Is Defeated In Net Finals

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Margaret Smith of Australia, the world's top woman tennis player, crushed Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., 6-3, 6-1 Saturday in the women's singles final of the West Australian Championships.

The Wimbledon champion's strong serves and net rushing superiority, combined with Miss Richey's inability to play up to her form because of a knee injury, made it a mismatch.

The American girl was hurt in her semifinal match Friday against Judy Tegart of Australia but was not hampered by the injury in the final until she fell chasing a wide shot. She withdrew from the mixed doubles semifinals, and went to a specialist for examination.

Australia's Davis Cup pair of John Newcombe and Tony Roche scored an 8-6, 6-4, 5-7, 3-6, 8-6 decision in the men's doubles semifinal over Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Cliff Richey of Dallas, who will meet for the men's singles title Sunday in an all-American final.

Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., and Tom Okker of the Netherlands won the other semifinal, 6-3, 11-9, 6-2 over Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., and Herb Fitzgibbon of Garden City, N.Y.

Miss Tegart and Roche advanced to the mixed doubles final by beating Carol Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio and Riessen 6-2, 6-4.

Cooper Hands Steers 63-44 Loop Reversal

ABILENE — Big Spring couldn't stop the hot shooting of Mark Withrow here Friday night and dropped their third straight 2-AAA basketball decision. This time the Steers yielded to Abilene Cooper, 63-44.

The Longhorns matched shots with the Cougars only in the second period but trailed at half time, 30-24.

Withrow wound up with 25 points for the game and time and again stole the ball from the Steers. Jack Mildren, only a sophomore, also played a fine game for Cooper, scoring 13 points.

Simon Terrazas counted 13 points for Big Spring while Paul Thomas and Robert Jackson each had 12.

The win was the first in three league starts for Cooper. The Steers go to Odessa Tuesday night to oppose Permian.

The Steers led early in the game by a score of 2-0 and 4-3 but quickly fell behind and trailed at the end of the opening period, 15-9. After that, it was no contest.

Only ten fouls were called against Cooper and Big Spring was charged with just eight infractions.

The Steers ran into another press and found they could do little about it.

The Steers made a total of 19 field goals in 51 attempts for a lacklustre 37.2 per cent. The Cougars connected on 28 of 48 field goal tries for 58.4 per cent.

Big Spring also lost the B game, 54-49. The reversal left the Dogies with a 10-3 record. In that one, Danny Clendenin counted 23 points and Wayne Johnson 16 for Big Spring.

Top-Flight Track Season Is Upcoming, Says Authority

By BERT NELSON
For The Associated Press

Indoor track and field, which opened its 1966 major league campaign in San Francisco Saturday night, is booming as never before.

Peace on the AAU-NCAA front, more invitational and championship meets, and plenty of talent combine to produce the highest expectations.

PROGRESS MADE
Arbitration of the NCAA-AAU dispute already has achieved one result—the end of restricted competition. The NCAA boycott of AAU sanctioned meets is over and gone are the troubles which have plagued undercover meets off and on.

About every star of the 1965 indoor and outdoor season is returning. Eager for their chance are the newcomers who will be the big names of tomorrow.

At least four big meets have been added to the schedule this year, including the third national championship affair in four years. The NAIA, which embraces more than 400 of the smaller colleges, is holding its first board track title meet Jan. 22 in Kansas City.

The NCAA holds its second annual championships in Detroit March 11-12 while the USTFF goes with its fourth yearly affair March 14 in Milwaukee.

The AAU has moved its March 4-5 title go out of New York for the first time, taking it to Albuquerque, N.M.

Joining the NAIA in a 1966 debut are the Motor City Classic in Detroit Jan. 15, the USTFF Invitational in New York City Feb. 11, and the Royal Canadian Legion Games in Montreal Feb. 24.

The complete 1966 major league lineup:
Jan. 8, San Francisco Examiner; Jan. 14, Motor City Classic; Detroit, Jan. 15, Massachusetts Knights of Columbus; Boston, Jan. 22, Los Angeles Invitational; Meet of Champions, Winnipeg; NAIA Championships, Kansas City; Jan. 27, Millrose Games, New York City; Jan. 29, Boston AA Games.

Feb. 4, New York Knights of Columbus; Feb. 5, Seattle Invitational; Feb. 11, USTFF Invitational, New York City; Will Rogers Games, Fort Worth, Tex.; Feb. 12, Los Angeles Times; Mason-Dixon Games, Louisville; Feb. 18, New York A.C. Games; Feb. 24, Royal Canadian Legion Games, Montreal; Feb. 25, Golden Gate Invitational, San Francisco; Maple Leaf Games, Toronto; Feb. 26, All-Eastern Invitational, Baltimore.

March 4-5, AAU Championships, Albuquerque, N.M.; March 11-12, NCAA Championships, Detroit; March 14, USTFF Championships, Milwaukee; March 18, Cleveland Knights of Columbus.

FEW MARKS SAFE
Only a few indoor records are completely safe from the flood of domestic and international talent that will be turned loose in these meets. Not all the threatened marks will fall, of course, but it will be a surprise if at least four or five world bests don't go by the wayside.

More and more foreign stars are appearing on the circuit. Final plans aren't known, but among the more prominent already scheduled are Ron Clarke of Australia, holder of seven world marks; Kipchoge Keino, the sensational Kenyan with two world bests and a 3:54.2 mile to his credit; and Gaston Roelants, Belgium's steeplechase recordman.

Also on hand will be Bill Crothers, Canada's threat to the 600, 800, and 1000 figures; a strong Russian contingent headed by Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, long jump recordman at 26-10; runners John Davies and Bill Baillie of New Zealand, and the British trio of Alan Simpson, 3:55.7 mile; Lynn Davies, Olympic long jump winner, and Mike Wiggs, world class from a mile to three miles.

Another 15 or 20 overseas acts are sure to come. Some will stay a week, others as long as a month. All will add to the prodigiously rich array of homebred club and college trackmen.

These are the athletes with the best credentials in the standard undercover events:
60 yards — Charley Greene of Nebraska, NCAA 100 titlist; George Anderson, ex-Southern AAU champ; and three co-holders of the 59 record — Darel Newman, ex-Fresno, Sam Perry of Fordham, and Craig Wallace of Kentucky State.

TEXAN FIGURES
400, 500 and 600 — Ray Sadler of Texas Southern, 440 recordman at 47.6; Mike Larabee, Olympic champ and indoor

RANDY MATSON

2000 — Tom O'Hara, indoor best ever at 3:56.4, is not in training and Dyrrol Burleson, another mile great, doesn't like the boards.

Long jump — Boston, everybody's all-time best; Clarence Robinson of New Mexico, NCAA gold medalist with a best of 26-9 1/4; Rainier Stenius, Los Angeles State, who did 26-4 1/4 for Finland; and Gayle Hopkins, ex-Arizona, 26-8 1/4 two years ago.

Triple jump — Darrell Horn, whose 52-0 1/4 was less than an inch off the U.S. figure last winter; Art Walker, 53-7 1/4 outdoors; and Robinson, collegiate best ever with 52-8 1/4.

Shot put — Randy Matson of Texas A&M is playing basketball but may come out in late season for a go at his 66-2 1/4 record; John McGrath of Pasadena AA, indoor and outdoor champ; and Neal Steinhauer, Oregon's NCAA titlist with a best of 63-5 1/2. Even 1952 and 1956 Olympic champ Parry O'Brien is back on the line.

Discus — Texas Southern, who set a new world record of 3:11.1 last season; Southern, who tied the outdoor record at 3:04.5; and Kentucky State, second best in the nation last winter with everybody back.

Two-mile relay — Oklahoma State, UCLA and Southern California were among the best of all time last season and should be improved.

from ages 18 and over. Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

Astros Are Counting On Slippery Sonny

NEW YORK (AP)—The speed-conscious Houston Astros are envious of another Maury Wills in Roland (Sonny) Jackson, a 21-year-old speedster who is expected to open the 1966 baseball season as the club's regular shortstop.

He is one of 17 Houston newcomers, at least four of whom are expected to make strong bids for regular berths. Chuck Harrison, a first baseman, Chris Zachary, a starting pitcher, and Carroll Sembera, a relief hurler, are given a good chance to stick.

Jackson hit .331 for the Pacific Coast League champion Oklahoma City S9ers last season, only his third in professional ball. A left-handed batter, he hit only six home runs in three years. Because of his speed, fielders play him the way Maury Wills is defended with the infield drawn in. He stole 52 bases last year, giving him a three-year total of 158.

Jackson, 5-foot-9 and 155 pounds, was an outstanding Silver Springs, Md., high school football, basketball and baseball player and was the first Negro to be offered an athletic scholarship by the University of Maryland. He turned it down to enter pro ball.

Manager Grady Hatton, who had Jackson last year, is one of the youngster's greatest boosters.

"What I like about him is his willingness to work," said Hatton. "He is determined to be a major leaguer, and I, for one, believe he'll make it."

MORGAN MADE GOOD

Jackson likely will be handed the shortstop job next spring in the manner second baseman Joe Morgan was last spring. He will be given the opportunity to play himself off the team. Morgan came through under similar circumstances.

Jackson and Morgan were the Texas League All-Star second base combination in 1964 (at San Antonio). They also played together in 1963, at Modesto, Calif.

Harrison, a 25-year-old former Texas Tech football and baseball star from Abilene, Tex., has shown remarkable improvement in his three years as a pro.

A broad-shouldered, right-handed hitter, Harrison packs a solid punch. Off to a slow start at Oklahoma City, he closed with a rush to challenge for the home run crown with 34 four-baggers. He has hit an even 100 home runs in three seasons. One was a three-run homer for the Astros, whom he joined in the tail-end of the 1965 season.

He batted .270 at Oklahoma City but drove in 105 runs and collected 287 total bases.

GOOD CREDENTIALS

Zachary, 21, is a hard-throwing right-hander from Knoxville, Tenn., with the most impressive minor league record of any pitcher in the Astros organization. In only his second season in the minors, he posted a 17-8 record at Oklahoma City with a 2.93 earned run average. In 1964, he had a 16-6 mark at San Antonio.

The 6-2, 190 pounder possesses a strong fast ball, a good curve and an excellent slip-change pitch.

Sembera, 24, a slender, 6-foot, 155-pounder from Shiner, Tex., has averaged almost a strikeout per inning in four years of pro ball. He has fanned 421 in 439 innings. Used mainly in relief, he had a 7-9 record at Amarillo last year. Although a right-hander, he has been most effective against right-handed batters.

Norman Miller, a 20-year-old outfielder, and a pair of 19-year-olds, first baseman Nat Colbert and outfielder Greg Sims, are among the more highly regarded Houston newcomers.

Miller batted .289 with 20 home runs and 92 runs batted in at Amarillo. Colbert, acquired in last winter's draft for $25,000, hit .274 with nine homers and 45 RBIs at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He hit well over .300 in the Florida Instructional League.

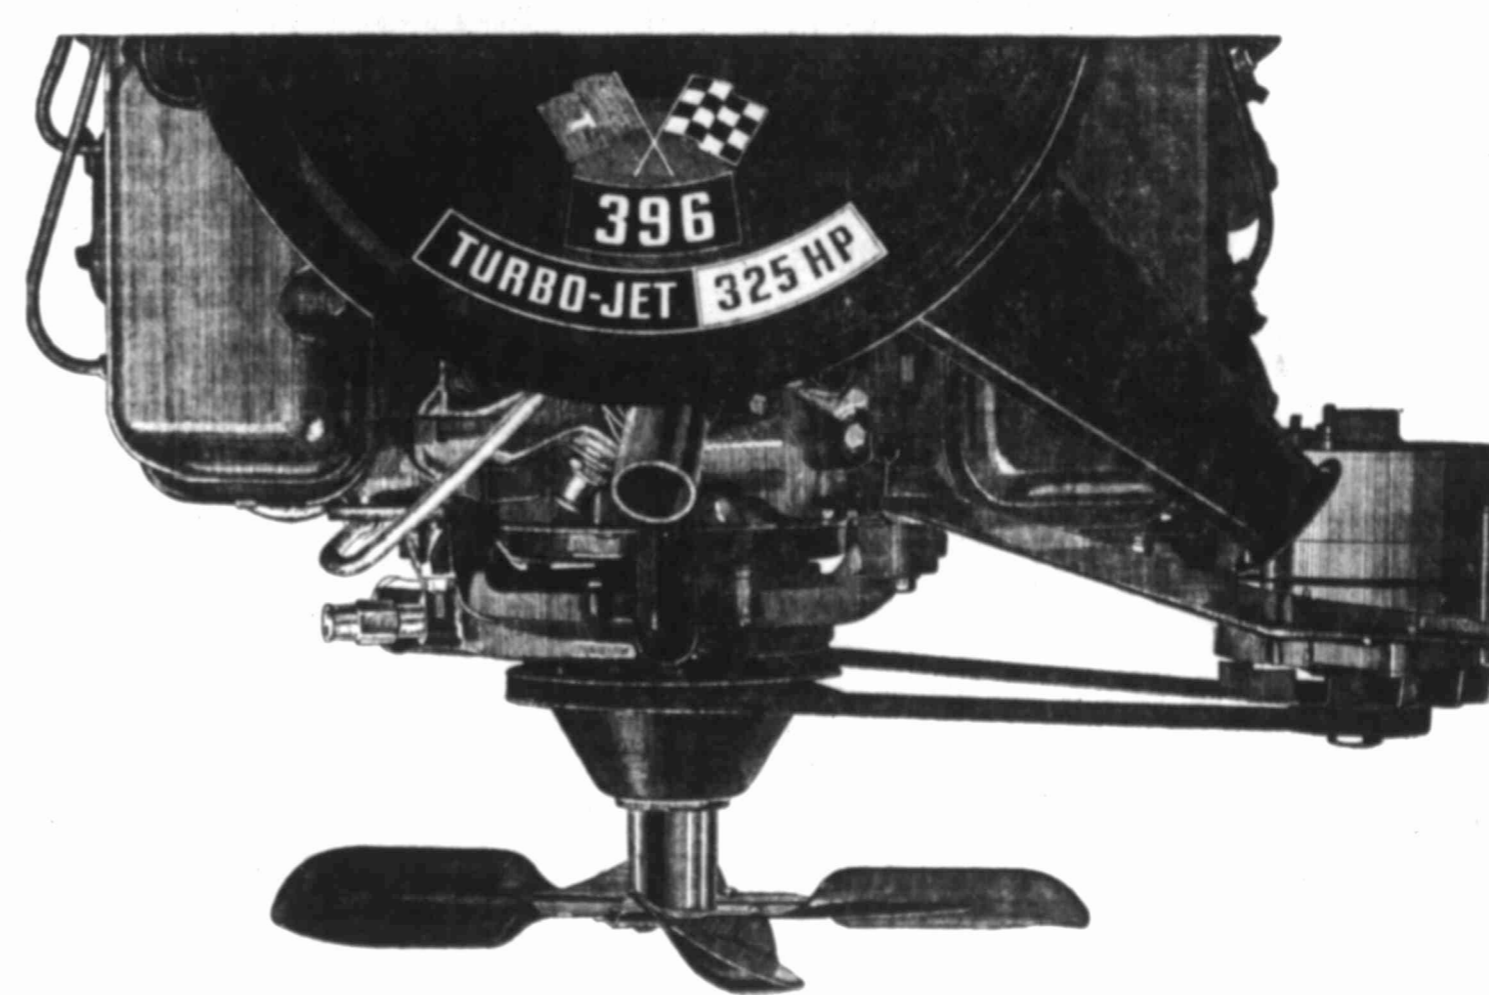

Sims, a first year player, was acquired from the Pittsburgh Pirates in the recent draft for $8,000. A switch hitter, he batted .300 at Salem in the Appalachian League.

DEAR ABBY

Advice For One Bride

DEAR ABBY: I am a new bride, and now that we are married, my husband told me that the only reason he married me was to avoid the draft. What shall I do?
DEAR USED: Burn your marriage certificate!
DEAR ABBY: If I don't see my answer in the paper right away, I'll kill myself. I am a 16-year-old girl with the worst kind of problem. I am pregnant and I'm afraid to tell my parents because I'm afraid they will charge my boy friend with statutory rape. He is 18. If he is found guilty, how long can they put him away for? Can my parents force me to go to a home for unwed mothers? Can they make me give my baby up? My stepfather is not a U.S. citizen. Can he press charges anyway? My stepfather knew my friend and I had relations last August. Can he press charges against my boy friend for that act after consenting to our seeing each other after that? It sounds like I think you are a lawyer, Abby. I'm sorry, but I don't know where else to get these answers. Also, if you have any ideas on how we can persuade my folks to let us get married, we'd sure appreciate it.
DEAR IN: You're right, I'm not a lawyer, but you need the advice and counsel of one. It's the function of the law to protect us as well as to punish, so you should know your rights in order to protect yourselves. If you can't afford to go to a lawyer, go to a clergyman (any faith, but preferably your own) and ask him to help you. Your problems may not be as insurmountable as you think.
DEAR ABBY: After nearly three years, my husband is home from prison. Our two little girls, 7 and 8, and I lived with his people while he was gone. We told the girls that "Daddy is in the hospital." We were afraid if we told them the truth they might not love him so much. Abby, we have always tried to teach the girls to be truthful. Will they lose confidence in us when they find out we lied to them about this? How do we tell them? Should we wait until they tell us that they have heard it? They are bound to get some word of it from their playmates as this is a small town and everyone here knows it. If we should tell them first, how should we do it?

DELICATE MATTER
DEAR DELICATE: Tell them before they hear it elsewhere, that Daddy broke a law and he had to go to prison as punishment. Stress the point that Daddy has paid for his mistake, that he is square with the world now and that no one should hold it against him.
DEAR ABBY: We in the postal service wish to acquaint you and your readers with some astounding statistics:
Of the nearly 23 million dead letters the post office handled last year, 91 per cent had to be destroyed because they could neither be delivered nor returned. Although we returned $110,000, ownership of another $188,000 could not be established.
In 1964 over 1,600,000 parcels and loose articles ended up at the dead parcel post branches. About one-eighth represented salvage from insurance claims; the remainder, lost items. Inadequate packing is the major cause of damage, which results in loss of contents. Salable items were auctioned off, yielding nearly $500,000 which like the $188,000, was lost to its owners and ended up in the U. S. Treasury.
Improper and inadequate addressing are the main causes of "dead" mail. For this reason, we emphasize the importance of correct and legible addressing of all mail, including the zip code in the return address of the sender as well as in the address of the addressee. Sincerely,
H. W. S. JR.

Bailey Announces
Re-Election Bid

Walker Bailey, county superintendent, has authorized The Herald to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office he now holds, subject to action of the Democratic primaries of 1966.
Bailey, a veteran in the office he seeks and a widely known figure in Howard County, issued the following statement relative to his candidacy:
"I should like to submit my candidacy for re-election to the office of County Superintendent of Howard County.
"The County Superintendency is an elective four-year term. He has jurisdiction over the common school districts in the county, but he has no legal jurisdiction over the town and city, or independent school districts. "This office does assist the superintendents in the independent school districts in an advisory capacity relative to Texas School Laws, and regulations of the State Board of Education and the Texas Education Agency.
"The County Superintendent is the intermediate school officer of the county, acting between the local school boards and local schools and the Texas Education Agency.
"I believe my training in school administration, plus the experience I have gained while serving in the capacity of your County Superintendent qualifies me to serve efficiently as a county school administrator.
"Let me assure you, the electorate, that whatever your school problems may be, I shall be available at all times to discuss them with you, trusting that we may be able to arrive at a satisfactory solution to them.

"I shall try to see every voter in the county before election day, but if I should fail to see you, please accept this as a sincere appeal for your vote and active support."

Huge Sooner Gas Field Sold To Three Utilities

TULSA, Okla. — The intra-state sale of Oklahoma's largest uncommitted natural gas reserve, involving more than a trillion cubic feet of gas, was announced today by officials of two producing and three Oklahoma utility companies.

Midwest Oil Corporation of Denver and Pan American Petroleum Corp. of Tulsa, respectively partly owned and wholly owned by Standard Oil Company (Indiana), have signed contracts to sell their gas in the Red Oak Norris field of southeastern Oklahoma to Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company of Oklahoma, both of Tulsa. Each of the three utilities will buy one-third of the uncommitted gas production from this field, which could result in a rate of as much as 28.3 billion cubic feet annually for each at the full output rate. On this basis, total gas purchases could represent some $14 million each year.

The large gas reserve, located in the Arkoma Basin, was discovered in 1960 when Midwest completed the Orr Well No. 1. The gas will be consumed within the State of Oklahoma and will be used for serving fuel requirements of industrial, commercial, and residential natural gas consumers and for electric power generation. Although Midwest owns 74 per cent and Pan American 14 per cent of the uncommitted gas, the utility companies stated that identical producer contracts will be offered to all owners of uncommitted gas in the field.

D. R. Murphy, president of Midwest, said the three contracts with the utilities will be for a term of 20 years. First sales are expected to begin in the next six months.

F. R. Yost, president of Pan American, announced that his company will build and operate a $2 million gathering system to collect the gas in the field. The system will be jointly owned by the producers.

Oklahoma Natural president H. A. Eddins stated that his company will utilize its gas to serve the fuel requirements of its industrial, commercial, and residential consumers.

Oilmen Anticipate Busy Year Before Congress

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—Oilmen anticipate a busy 1966 in Washington.

Most of their attention, however, is expected to involve regulatory agencies instead of Congress.

About 200 oil related bills will be before the 89th Congress that reconvenes Monday. There is no indication at present any of them will prompt major legislative battles.

But numerous actions that could prompt controversy are expected at the regulatory level. Major policy decisions made in 1965 on such matters as oil imports and natural gas price controls will require further development in 1966.

Other matters that will require considerable attention range from the balance of payments problem to policy decisions on shale oil research and the leasing of federal submerged lands off the Louisiana and California coasts.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall spent much of 1965 studying pleas that oil imports be reduced substantially or frozen at existing levels. He also heard sharply conflicting opinions on whether quotas for heavy heating (residual) oils should be abolished.

The 1966 imports program Udall announced in December will permit a small increase in crude and products imports and a sharp boost in residuals. There also is indication virtually all restrictions on residual imports will be eliminated later in the year.

One of the bills still before the 89th Congress was designed to clarify the authority of the Federal Power Commission to control wheelbar prices of natural gas sold wholesale into interstate commerce for resale.

A nationwide committee to back such legislation—twice vetoed—has been organized but is not expected to make a serious effort for congressional action before 1967.

While perfecting its plans and organization, the committee meanwhile will keep watch on a court challenge of the FPC's area formula to control gas prices.

Producers filed the challenge after the FPC established on Aug. 5 a two-price system for the Permian Basin area of West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico. FPC proceedings now under way are designed to apply the Permian quota to 22 other major gas producing areas.

Briefs supporting a review of the Permian order are to be filed with the 10th Circuit Court of Appeals by Jan. 31. Consumer interests will have until April 1 to reply.

President Johnson has been reluctant to become publicly identified with oil and gas matters but he faces one 1966 task that will be unavoidable. He must nominate someone to succeed Joseph Swidler as chairman of the five-member FPC.

The area formula was adopted before Swidler, formerly counsel for the Tennessee Valley Authority, became a member of the commission but he has been the dominant figure behind the formula's development.

Swidler's December departure means the commission soon will have two members who did not participate in the Permian proceedings, which were designed to establish ground rules for the over-all area pattern. Earl Bagge, a former Chicago railroad lawyer, joined the commission last spring.

Permian Rig Count Up One Over Last Week

Reed Roller Bit Co. reported 181 drilling rigs in operation on the Friday survey of the Permian Basin Empire, one more than the 180 listed last week and 19 fewer than the 200 reported on Jan. 8, 1965.

Lea County, N. M., with 30, is first on the tally, up three from last week. Pecos is second with 19, down three in the week and Reagan is third with 13, up two.

Rigs by county, with last week's in parentheses are:
Andrews 10 (10), Borden 2 (1), Chaves 1 (0), Coke 0 (2), Cochran 1 (0), Crane 3 (2), Crockett 8 (5), Dawson 3 (4), Ector 7 (5), Eddy 8 (11), Fisher 2 (1), Gaines 5 (6), Glasscock 1 (1), Hockley 1 (3), Howard 4 (2), Irion 1 (0), Kent 1 (2); Lea 30 (27), Loving 2 (2), Martin 1 (2), Midland 4 (5), Mitchell 1 (1), Nolan 0 (1), Pecos 19 (22), Reagan 13 (11), Reeves 11 (9), Roosevelt 5 (7), Runnels 4 (6), Schleicher 2 (2), Scurry

Oil Outlay To Set Mark

DALLAS—Capital outlays for the free world petroleum industry will for the first time reach $14 billion in 1966, according to Petroleum Management, international oil publication. Of this $6.9 billion will be invested in the United States.

This estimate, based on preliminary capital budgets of 32 companies, is made by Ernestine Adams, editor, who has been conducting capital expenditure surveys since 1945.

Last year the industry invested nearly $13 billion in facilities and reserves. The proposed plans for 1966 are nearly 10 per cent higher.

Largest expansion will be in manufacturing facilities including petrochemical plants with $3.3 billion to go into construction. About $1.4 billion of this will be spent in the U.S. and $1.9 billion in free foreign countries, the Petroleum Management article states.

Drilling and producing expenditures will amount to less than half the total at $6.47 billion, with $4.05 billion budgeted for the U.S. The slight rise here does not mean more drilling but more costly operations with deeper wells and offshore development.

Oil Products Use To Rise

DALLAS—Free World demand for petroleum products will increase six per cent in 1966, is the consensus of industry leaders. The January issue of Petroleum Management carries predictions of 38 oil and gas company chairmen and presidents from which median figures were taken for industry estimates.

Most management people agree that U.S. oil products demand will rise 3 per cent following a 4 per cent increase in 1965 and Free Foreign demand will expand 9 per cent. This would mean an average 11,600,000 barrels daily for the U.S. or 300,000 barrels daily more than in 1965, and approximately 28,500,000 barrels daily for all the free world or 1,700,000 barrels daily more for 1966.

Oil production in the U.S. is expected to pass the 8-million-barrels-a-day level for the first time, according to Petroleum Management's analysis. Latin America (chiefly Venezuela) will produce about 5 per cent more oil than in 1965; the Middle East will produce 10 per cent more and Africa will have an estimated 37 per cent increase in oil output.

Total free world production will match increased demand of plus 6 per cent and it may be slightly more. This will not, however, upset the supply-demand balance fairly well maintained in 1965. Filling new pipelines, terminals, tankers and storage facilities will increase use of petroleum aside from the increase in consumption.

In the U.S. median figures of company top management for specific products were: consumption of aviation jet fuel will increase 7.5 per cent after a 10 per cent rise in 1965; gasoline will go up 3.5 per cent; distillate will edge 1.2 per cent higher.

U.S. natural gas sales are expected to expand by 4 per cent and natural gas liquids by 7 per cent. Refinery runs will be 2 per cent greater than in 1965.

Petrochemical consumption was forecast by only a few company executives. The outlook appears to be a 7 per cent rise in the U.S. and a 10 per cent increase in all Free Foreign countries.

May Never Win Goals

Bleak Report On Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bleak report on the war in Viet Nam by Sen. Mike Mansfield and four colleagues raises grave questions about whether the United States can ever win its main goals in that conflict, regardless of whether the fighting is halted soon or continues to expand indefinitely.

These questions appear to pose the main challenge for President Johnson when he goes to Congress in the next few weeks for massive new appropriations to finance the struggle. They sharpen what is likely to be the central issue in forthcoming debate: Where do we go from here?

ANSWER

The President will have an opportunity to give his answer to this consuming question when he reports on the state of the union next Wednesday night before a joint session of Congress.

The traditional speech will be broadcast on television and radio — and it will come at about the time some officials have been expecting a decision on whether and when the bombing of North Viet Nam will be resumed.

Mansfield's assessment of the conflict is not necessarily the same on all points as that of the Johnson administration. Administration officials have taken the position that what they call a reasonable peace settlement — one securing the independence of South Viet Nam — is not beyond possibility. Most top officials also believe that Red China would prefer to keep out of the war. But no one knows, in fact, what it may do in the months ahead.

CAREFUL STUDY

The White House and State Department are giving the Mansfield report, and particularly its conclusions, careful study. The trip taken by the senators was undertaken with President Johnson's approval and their findings are bound to command administration attention.

The White House said Johnson had thanked Mansfield for the report.

Mansfield is believed to have had some influence on the President's Vietnamese policies already. After he returned from his 30,000-mile journey through Europe and the Far East Dec. 18, he called for a prolonged suspension of the bombing of North Viet Nam in hope of enlarging the possibility of moving the whole struggle to the conference table. His views are reported to have been influential with the President in prolonging the bombing pause after the Christmas truce.

OUTLOOK

The senators' assessment of the outlook for the conflict are set forth in the concluding paragraph of the report in which they make these points:

1. The prospects for "effective negotiations at this time" are slender and likely to depend "on the initiatives and efforts of the combatants."

This point has been partially overtaken by events, since the President has already taken the initiative in starting a peace offensive aimed at North Viet Nam.

2. Even if a cease-fire and freezing of the battle positions is achieved it would simply stabilize the situation "in which the majority of the population remains under nominal government control but in which dominance of the countryside rests largely in the hands of the Viet Cong."

NO DIVISIONS

The fact that no clear territorial divisions exist in the guerrilla war in the south is a source of considerable concern to the administration because the cease-fire would be hard to maintain and an eventual "just peace" difficult if not impossible to negotiate. Mansfield called the prospect in this respect "not very satisfactory."

3. If the war cannot be switched to a cease-fire and peace negotiations, then the alternative is indefinite expansion and intensification with the production of additional U.S. forces. The Mansfield report foresaw on this point the possibility of "a general war on the Asian mainland."

mentations to the President the tone of the report by the Mansfield group tends to place them more among the "doves" than among the "hawks."

Indeed, the senior Republican member of the group, and of the Senate, Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, has gone well beyond the report in recommending that the bombing lull be continued until North Viet Nam significantly expands the level of ground fighting.

NOT GOP

But Aiken obviously does not represent a Republican policy position. The party's congressional leadership has been supporting Johnson's moves on Viet Nam but their applause has been louder for his actions to increase the weight of American military blows than for his peace efforts.

10-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, Jan. 9, 1966

Perhaps significantly, the Republican Senate leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said in a news conference Friday there can be no honorable negotiation until the Viet Cong lays down its arms.

He put it this way: "Where do we get if the Viet Cong is sitting at the negotiating table? Victory will come when the Viet Cong lays down its arms. Then we can negotiate."

WHERE YOU ALWAYS BUY THE BEST FOR LESS"

Named to the presidency was John Currie, vice president of State National Bank, and the post of vice president will be held by Randall Polk, manager of Hemphill-Wells. The new directors are Jack Cook, L. M. Crow Jr., Paul Meek, Clyde McMahon Jr. and Jerry Worthy. Pictured today are wives of these chamber members. During the year they will be lending support to projects undertaken by the chamber.

Mrs. John Currie and her husband reside at 903 Dallas with their four children, Carol, 12, Bob, 10, Henry, 7, and Tom, 5. She is a leader for a newly-organized Cadette Girl Scout troop, and she and her husband are members of the Cotillion Dance Club. The family attends services at the First Presbyterian Church.

Born in Fairbanks, Alaska, Mrs. Randall Polk lives with her husband and her mother, Mrs. Dave Patterson, at the Ponderosa Apartments. Mrs. Polk has shown an interest in civic affairs by assisting with numerous fund drives, and, for several years, was a volunteer at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The Polks are members of the First Methodist Church and spend their spare time at their cabin at Lake LBJ.

Mrs. Jerry Worthy, a physician at the Howard County Hospital Foundation, makes her home on the Snyder Highway with her husband and their children, Ann, 8, Jeb, 6, and Roy, 4. Worthy is a building contractor, currently developing a local trailer park. # Miss Barbara Carol Yawn Marries Jody Ray Scott

Miss Barbara Carol Yawn became the bride of Jody Ray Scott Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the College Baptist Church. The Rev. Byron Orand, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Washburn, 3204 Drexel, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scott, Orient.

The altar was graced with a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and the background was formed with wedding palms of emerald green illuminated by wedding tapers.

"The Lord's Prayer" and "The Twelfth of Never" was sung by the bridegroom's brother, Roy D. Scott of Dallas. He was accompanied at the piano by his wife, Mrs. Roy D. Scott.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a regal-length gown of white peau de soie overlaid with organdy. The gown was styled with a scooped neckline and a three-quarter length sleeve. Alencon lace panels embedded with seed pearls were arranged horizontally around the bodice and skirt of the gown. A matching panel, styled vertically, adorned the flowing train which was attached at the waistline with a Dior bow.

The shoulder-length veil of illusion cascaded in three layers from a large white Dior bow headpiece. The bride carried an arrangement of white feathered chrysanthemums and white orchids showered with French picot ribbon.

ATTENDANTS
 Mrs. Kenneth Walker, Wichita Falls, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pastel yellow satin with rounded neckline and cap sleeves. The skirt formed a tulip illusion in back and her yellow tulle veil fell from a yellow satin open pill box hat.

Mrs. Royce Fitts, Odessa, and Miss Jackie Branch, Lubbock, were bridesmaids. Their dresses were of yellow satin designed with bell-shaped skirts. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of maize pompon chrysanthemums showered with pale yellow satin ribbon.

Royce Fitts, Odessa, was best man, and ushers were John Bennett and David Berry. Groomsmen were Louis Wolfson and Bill Talbot. Altar taper lighters were Randy and Ricky Newton.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a yellow wool suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was fashioned with orchids from her bouquet. The couple will reside at 1102 E. 5th.

The bride is a graduate of the S. H. Rider High School, Wichita Falls. She was a member of the National Thespian Society and the National Forensic League. She was also a member of the Centre Players, and is a past worthy advisor of the Order of Rainbow for Girls. She has been employed at a finance company in Big Spring.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Lakeview High School, San Angelo, and attended San Angelo State College. He is manager of the Public Finance Corporation.

RECEPTION
 Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the church, where the honored couple, parents and attendants greeted guests.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth over a yellow underlay and centered with an arrangement of white carnations, roses and leather foliage. The white three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. G. P. Morrison was in charge of the register, and members of the house party were Mrs. Fred Taylor, Mrs. Charles Cain and Miss Connie Thompson.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Buyer, Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. John Ralston and family, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Yawn, Mr. and Mrs. Jon Weddle and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Fortwood, all of Lubbock; and Mrs. Lula Washburn, Mr. and Mrs. Orange Dorrance and Richard Sutherland, all of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jay Farrington, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Widdle, Mrs. Lois Barnhill and son, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. James Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. William Keel, all of San Angelo; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Robertson, Midland.

and basket arrangements of chrysanthemums, gladioli and pompon chrysanthemums. Emerald fern trees completed the background.

Miss Margie Newman, organist, presented a selection of traditional wedding music. She also accompanied Miss Peggy Maddox and Miss Kay Clark as they sang "Ave Maria."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was designed with a scooped neckline and featured re-embroidered Alencon lace clusters centered with seed pearls and iridescents on the midriff. The long sleeves tapered to petal points over the wrists. The bouffant overskirt was accented at the edges with appliques of lace and seed pearls, and the back of the overskirt created an apron effect over the tiers of Chantilly lace which formed the chapel train.

PINK ORCHIDS
The bride wore a shoulder-length veil of illusion attached to a crown of seed pearls, and carried a bouquet of pink orchids.

Mrs. Johnny Lindsey, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Martha Bales and Miss Jerry Gaines.

The attendants wore identical gowns of pink satin designed with full skirts and sleeveless velvet bodices. Their bouquets were of white carnations showered with pink ribbons.

WEDDING TRIP
Airman 2C Al M. Bower was best man, and ushers were Airman 2C Richard Jennings and Airman 2C Floyd Olson, all of Webb AFB.

Miss Lilly Baker was flower girl, and Tom Coates was ring bearer. Altar taper lighters were Frank Coates, brother of the bride, and Miss Brenda Baker.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a two-piece pink knit suit and black accessories. As her corsage, she wore the orchids from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside at 1306 State.

The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School and attended Howard County Junior College. She is employed in the bookkeeping department at Swartz.

The bridegroom graduated from Burlington High School, Burlington, Mass., and is stationed at Webb AFB.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mrs. W. J. Coates, 1904 Goliad, aunt of the bride. In the receiving line were the honored couple, her parents and attendants.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of the attendants' bouquets. The centerpiece was flanked with candelabra holding pink candles. The three-tiered wedding cake was adorned with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Charles Baker, sister of the bride, assisted at the refreshment table, and Miss Gail Coates was in charge of the register.

REHABILITATION OF SCHIZOPHRENICS

Unique Program Under Way

By JERRY MONSON
The biggest problem I face, and the patients face, is the inability to communicate," said Donna June Stevens, registered psychiatric nurse at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Miss Stevens is the supervisor of a unique program in mental illness rehabilitation. She is in charge of a ward of "chronic schizophrenic" patients, patients who have been termed "chronic" because of their long stay in the hospital and who are suffering from schizophrenia, a psychosis where patients lapse from reality into a fantasy world and lose contact with their environment.

ONE OF FEW
The project has been in effect for nearly a year and is one of the few in the United States. What makes it unique is that a trained psychiatric nurse supervises a ward of patients, in this case 25 men and 25 women, with only a few attendants to help and no doctor in charge. Doctors are consulted when necessary, if medication is needed, and a consultant psychiatrist, Dr. Joan Woods, is on hand. Intensive therapy is the key to the project.

Miss Stevens came to the hospital one year ago. She graduated from Parkland Hospital School of Nursing, Dallas, in 1957 and attended Texas Women's University at Denton, where she received her bachelor of science degree in 1962. She worked in the psychiatric unit of Parkland from 1957 until 1963 and then went to Houston Medical Center and Methodist Hospital, where she was the head nurse in psychiatric instruction.

OTHER DEFECTS
Miss Stevens feels that a certain degree of intelligence and motivation must be present before the patient can begin to be cured. The majority of schiz-

Zoo Gorillas Sell Painting

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Two gorillas trying to earn their keep at the Albuquerque zoo by fingerpainting have sold another abstract.

The zoo announced Thursday that Public Service Co. of New Mexico, an electric utility, had bought for an undisclosed price one of seven paintings the two gorillas have produced.

Earlier one painting sold for $1,000 and another sold for an undisclosed amount.

Zoo officials hope the paintings will raise $15,000, the price the zoo agreed to pay on a buy-now, pay-later basis for the two young gorillas and a third which has not yet been delivered.

ophrenic patients who will never leave the hospital have other defects besides mental illness, she said. Such a thing as mental retardation will automatically curb the patient's chances of fully recovering.

"They have been several signs of progress during the past year," she said.

"We had one patient who had been here for 25 years," she said. "After five months of intensive therapy and constant work, he participated in a vocational rehabilitation program, was released and now holds a job."

"Another patient who had been here 14 years received the same kind of treatment and is now back in the 'world,' holding down several jobs and making progress with himself and learning to cope with his problems."

WITHDRAW
Schizophrenic patients have a difficult time communicating and relating to other people. Miss Stevens said. They tend to withdraw into themselves and completely lose contact with their environment. They create a world of their own, she said. The project is an in-service training program geared toward rehabilitating schizophrenic patients, financed through a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health.

The project includes a thorough evaluation of the treatment and needs of patients. Formal and informal class sessions with patients are being held. Discus-

IN MEMORIAM

During the past year, many people in Big Spring and surrounding area sought to memorialize departed friends in a lasting and living way by making memorial gifts to the YMCA.

These have been applied to the building fund so that the memorials will endure and at the same time shelter the program that will touch the lives of boys and girls, young men and women for good.

The YMCA humbly acknowledges memorials to these, several of whom were remembered in a number of gifts.

School Census Being Conducted

The annual school census will be conducted during this month by the Big Spring Independent School District, Noel Reed, census trustee, announced today.

The purpose of the census, which is in accordance with regulations outlined by the Texas Education Agency, is to find out how many children of scholastic age live in the area and how many will be six years old on or before Sept. 1, 1966. The census also includes all children attending private or parochial schools.

Census blanks will be sent home with elementary, junior high and senior high students. Not all students will receive a blank, since all children with the same family surname will be listed on the same census blank.

Students whose birth dates fall between Sept. 1, 1948, and Sept. 2, 1960, will be included in the census.

Parents who have no children in school but who have a child with the birth date prior to Sept. 1, 1960, are encouraged to sign a census blank at the school nearest to their residence, Reed said. If they are unable to do this, they should call AM 4-8245 for a blank, he added.

Reed said that the census did

A Devotional For The Day

Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against Thee.

PRAYER: O Lord, we thank Thee for Thy Word that abides forever. Help us to believe its truth and to find at all times a light that leads along the paths of righteousness. Help us to hide Thy Word in our hearts that we may not sin against Thee. In the Master's name. Amen.

Investment In West Texas Growth

A number of Big Spring business firms and professional people have reassessed their interest in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, through memberships and participation in its committee activities.

A number of others need to do so, if this community is to carry its fair share of support to the great regional organization which historically is the major active voice for the improvement of the West Texas business climate.

This area — and it includes more than half the geographical stretch of Texas — faces as many or more challenges in 1966 than it has ever faced.

It needs to let the rest of a crowded nation know that here is space, a favorable climate, a welcome image, and an opportunity to grow and prosper. It needs to let the rest of the nation know that there are wonderful attractions for tourists, rather than a semi-desert. It needs to let the rest of the nation know that good schools and colleges are on the grow.

It needs to protect its vital oil and gas interests, its agricultural and livestock investments. It needs to see that it is not discriminated against in the legislative halls. Above all, it needs to nourish all the water resources it can command, and develop these to the utmost productivity.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is the one organization laboring in all these fields. It has proven itself in many of them, has never given up its efforts to improve others.

Big Spring itself is not going to prosper much unless the region around it prospers. The building of tourism, the improvement of farming and ranching, the seeking after industry, the development of better educational institutions — these are common to the region. Business interests need to remember this, and will thus determine that a membership in the WTCC which is working for an improved business climate is, after all, a sound and wise investment.

Tied Hands, Silent Voices

A lot of people — several thousand to be more explicit — are going to wake up in about three weeks and find that their hands are tied and their voices silent so far as participation in democratic government is concerned during 1966.

They are the people — and you may be one of them — who have not yet taken the time and trouble to pay their poll tax or obtain an exemption certificate.

Well, you have to do one or the other if you vote in any election this year. There will be at least four — the city and school districts, the primaries (possibly two of them) and the general election (with a bevy of constitutional amendments). In between could be spread any number of elections on such things as bonds and referendums.

Come, now. Just how good a citizen are you? Don't answer until you have at least paid your poll tax or got your exemption certificate.

Government: Master Of Prices

WASHINGTON — "Open price-making, openly arrived at!" This is the phenomenon of the hour, as the President of the United States and the steel companies "collaborate" in fixing the prices of certain steel products — an unprecedented use of economic and governmental power. If the price-fixing had been done by the steel industry alone, its executives would have been subject to charges that the antitrust laws were being violated. Indeed, even an informal exchange of views among corporations in the same industry prior to changes in prices has been prosecuted by the federal government as a monopolistic conspiracy.

BUT NOW IT SEEMS that prices can be fixed for a whole industry, provided this is done openly and the government is kept informed about what's going on, so that it can express its approval or disapproval. All that the industry executives and the government officials need to do is to make their views known to the press as they move toward a price change. It isn't, in fact, even necessary to wait for newspaper editions to appear. The respective parties can look instead at the news tickers and make up their minds on the prices to be raised or cut or adjusted to meet competition.

WHAT HAPPENED ON Wednesday, Jan. 5, marks a turning point in economic history. It is best told in excerpts from news reports over the wires of United Press International, which has teletype machines not only inside the government but in the offices of many businesses, in addition, of course, to newspapers:

9:45 a.m., Pittsburgh — "The U.S. Steel Corporation today announced a 'selective' increase of about $2.75 a ton in the prices of structural steel shapes."

Billy Graham

I want to be different, but how can I go about it?

O.P. Deep within every heart (which has not yet yielded to Christ) is the cry, "I ought not be the way I am." There is a divine unrest in everyone until they find rest in Christ. Even the Apostle Paul, a man who had achieved learning, religious stature, as a member of the sect of the Pharisees, and coveted citizenship in the great Roman Empire, wrote: "The good that I would do, I do not, but the evil which I would not, that I do."

But Paul, like you, conscious that his life needed to be "different," one day came into contact with Jesus. Yielding his will, he said, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" Christ was made Lord of his life, and he experienced conversion — or, as you say, his life was changed, made different.

Every person has this consciousness of inadequacy, of the need of change. Why?

We were made for God, and when we are alienated from Him, as we are because of sin, we are like homeless children who can find rest only by returning "home" — accept Christ and you will be "at home" spiritually. This doesn't mean that all your problems will be over. Just as children who are "at home" have problems, so will you, but your heavenly Father will be present to bear the brunt of the burden.

SHOCK NUMBER ONE!

Business Review

Steel And Government Jostle—Both Are 'Winners'

BY JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The second round of the running price battle between the steel industry and the government ended during the week with both sides compromise winners.

The conflict began with Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s New Year's Eve announcement of a $5 on price increase for structural steel.

Bethlehem, the No. 2 steel producer, said the increase was a new lightweight structural shape, which take more mill time to produce.

The company said that even with the price increase the cost to consumers was less than it was five years ago.

President Johnson and his economic advisers denounced the price boost as unjustified, inflationary and unpatriotic.

Early in the week, Inland Steel Co. went along with Bethlehem's $5 hike.

NEW ROLE

This was a new role for Inland, which in 1962—during the first round of the industry-government price war—refused to follow a general price rise initiated by U.S. Steel.

On that occasion, the late President John F. Kennedy rolled out the government's big pressure guns and forced the steelmakers to back down and rescind the raise.

Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. was the next to fall in line with Bethlehem's move but announced only a $3 increase.

Then the government went into action in an effort to force a rescission.

Three agencies which direct virtually all the government's structural steel buying—the Defense and Commerce departments and the General Services Administration — issued orders not to buy from companies which raised prices.

By this time all attention was focused on the question: What will U.S. Steel Corp., the No. 1 producer, do?

ACCEPTABLE

It announced a $2.75-a-ton increase on structural steel and a $9-a-ton decrease on cold-rolled sheets produced in California.

The White House accepted U.S. Steel's boost as within its price guidelines. Bethlehem and Inland backed down.

The compromise set off a stock market surge that carried the averages to new all-time highs.

Roger Blough, U. S. Steel chairman who was the key figure in the 1962 confrontation, was reported to have conferred with the Johnson administration before making his announcement. But he wouldn't confirm it.

Blough said he would be very surprised if the price increase for structural shapes caused inflation.

SMALL PORTION

Structurals represent only about 7 per cent of the total steel market.

From a business standpoint, 1965 turned out even better than expected. The Commerce Department reported that the Gross National Product — total of all goods and services — surged 7.5 per cent to $475 billion.

The percentage increase last year from the previous record of $428.7 billion in 1964 was the sharpest since the 7.7 per cent advance in 1962.

Economists who participated in the National Industrial Council's annual economic forum said they believe business will be better in 1966 than in 1965.

MODEST GROWTH

They projected a growth rate of 2.8 per cent in the first six months and 3.3 per cent in the second half.

A department survey showed that 16 industries expect 1966 growth of more than 10 per cent, 36 expect gains of 5 to 10 per cent, and 24 believe they will have gains of 5 per cent or less.

Automobile building spurted during the week after two holiday-shortened weeks with output estimated at 195,704 cars, up 27 per cent from 154,145 the previous week but 8 per cent below 213,323 a year earlier.

Steel output of 2,185,000 tons during the week brought production for 1965 to a record 131.2 million tons.

Thirty-two years abuilding, the monument catches the eye from 30 miles across those immense prairies over which the patient and dogged pioneers plodded in never-ending streams toward the promise of the West. For many years St. Louis was the jumping-off place for those men, women and children. There they turned their back upon civilization, however rude, and set forth, carrying that same civilization in their wagons, heads and hearts. No monument can soar too high which commemorates all that they did.

Ovulation Returns When Control Pills Stopped

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been taking birth control pills for three years. I have been told that I should have discontinued them for four months after taking them for two years, and then should have started over again.

What's your advice?—MRS. J. G.

When the pills were first coming into extensive use, some additional precautions were being taken, such as discontinuing them for a time after two years.

One of the questions then was whether, after prolonged use, or low blood sugar, which can be roughly described as the opposite of diabetes.

This is not an especially uncommon problem, especially in people who tend to be nervous and high-strung. Possibly the doctor gave her a special diet. Medication is not always necessary for this. Your apprehension is understandable.

But I also think your daughter will be much more comfortable if she has a thorough analysis of her trouble, and a series of blood sugar tests (one form of blood test) would be most enlightening.

Odd as it may sound to you, when a person has spells of low blood sugar, he should NOT eat sugar or candy. Yes, it relieves the trouble at the moment, but the switch from insufficient sugar to sudden ingestion of more sugar leads to an up-and-down roller-coaster effect. The better answer is to eat more frequently, and to put emphasis on protein foods, which release blood sugar more slowly, thus avoiding the abrupt ups and downs.

A convulsive disorder, not related to low blood sugar, should be ruled out.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a

Around The Rim

Nothing Like A Warm House

Fellow said the other day a valve stuck on his central heating equipment, and it was a mighty shivery morning around his house.

We agreed that most everybody has gotten spoiled with conveniences which are now accepted as standard fare, and we concern ourselves with them only when they get out of whack—like New Yorkers being left in the dark.

'T WAS NOT ever thus. When I was a punkin'-head kid the kind of weather we have had so far this winter would have been a royal delight. But in those days it seemed cold every day, from November through March.

That was because our house was heated only by two open fireplaces, and because these monsters had to be fed with kindling wood and coal brought in by you know who.

IT WAS awfully easy to forget to bring in the fuel until after dark, and then to be pushed out in a norther by parents who had run out of patience. I don't believe I ever split up kindling or toted in buckets of coal when the temperature wasn't down to about zero-zero.

But that was nothing compared to the frigidty of an old house early on a winter morning. The kind of house which never heard of insulation (instead had the winds sweeping beneath the floors), had high windows and 11-foot ceilings.

PAPA WAS the one to get up first and light the fires, while Mama was trying to ward off the frost in the kitchen with her coal-oil stove. Then he would start thumping on the stairway and yelling for his brood to leap up to another day.

I believe the fixation I have about being a slug-a-bed dates back to the earnest recollection against coming out of a cozy feather-bed nest, placing bare feet on a icicle floor, and having to dash down the stairs to get to the fireplace hearth. Once there, to stand for a few minutes shaking off the shock, and even to hold up before the open fire those clothes which had hung, as in a freezer, on a chair during the night.

IN DUE TIME, of course, some warmth came, and the situation was abetted by getting dressed and downing some breakfast. But also of course, by the time the house was remotely comfortable, it was time to trudge to school. (And the heating in an old-time schoolroom is another story altogether.)

Well, our family made progress. In time, the fireplaces gave way to a base-burner which, glory be, kept a banked fire all night. And later came natural gas and all the other niceties which are commonplace today.

I HOPE the niceties keep working, and I will try to remain appreciative. There's still nothing worse than to freeze to death just getting out of bed in the morning.

No Medicare For Subversives

WASHINGTON — One of the provisions of Medicare is that any person not covered by Social Security or railroad retirement insurance is ineligible for hospital and nursing home benefits if he is a Communist or a member of a Communist front.

To enforce this, a person in this category must answer the following questions: "Are you now or have you during the past 12 months been a member of any organization which is required to register under the Internal Security Act of 1950 as a Communist front organization, or a Communist front organization, or a Communist front organization?"

I HADN'T REALIZED what chaos this question was causing until I got a call from my Uncle Harry who was all excited about it.

"How are you, Uncle Harry?" I asked.

"My rheumatism is killing me. That's what I'm calling about. What is all this business about not being a member of the Communist party or a Communist front organization in order to get Medicare?"

"It's quite simple, Uncle Harry. We don't want people who would overthrow our government to get free hospital and nursing care."

"WITH MY rheumatism I can't even get to the doctor, much less overthrow the government."

"Ah, Uncle Harry, that's just it. If you were a Communist and you got hospital care, you might become well, and then you would be in a position to overthrow the government."

"If I could get rid of my rheumatism, I'd be willing to join the John Birch Society."

"BUT, UNCLE HARRY, I don't know what you're all excited about. You're not a member of the Communist party, are you?"

"I should hope not. Have you ever seen anyone with rheumatism who wanted to be part of a sit-in?"

"Then what are you worried about?"

"It's these Communist-front and Communist-infiltrated organizations. I don't know if I belong to any or not."

"Well, what organizations have you joined in the past 12 months?"

"The Bideaway Village for Senior Citizens, $10 down and $10 a month."

"I'm sure that's not on the subversive list."

"WHAT ABOUT the Retired Friends of the Forest Hills Library?"

"That I'd better check. Anything else?"

"The Planned Parenthood Association."

"That sounds bad, Uncle Harry. It's not on the list now, but you never can tell."

"I know it," Uncle Harry said. "I'll never get my rheumatism cured."

"Now don't be discouraged, Uncle Harry. This law is only aimed at bad old people, not good old people. I'm sure they didn't have you in mind when they wrote it."

"AT YOUR AGE you can say that. If you want my opinion, I think the government's trying to save some money."

"Uncle Harry, you don't seem to understand. The United States is out to eradicate the Communist party. If their members don't get hospital care, they'll be eradicated that much sooner."

"Now that you explain it to me, it does make sense. I have only one problem."

"What's that?"

"With my rheumatism my hands shake so much I can't even answer no to the question."

We Show Our Sincerity For Peace

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

(Substituting for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON — In an increasing arrogance reminiscent of Adolf Hitler, the Communist dictator of North Viet Nam scowls like a bird of evil omen over the worldwide campaign of the United States to bring an honorable end to the war in South Viet Nam.

Beyond doubt emboldened by shrill and ceaseless demands of a pacifist-isolationist minority here at home that we abandon South Viet Nam, Ho Chi Minh has all but turned down already the most open-handed and generous peace offer ever made by a great power in the world's history.

ONLY A MIRACLE can bring an armistice of decency; only some change of mind within the brooding prison camp that North Viet Nam has become.

Still, the attempt was worth the making. And if it is indeed to end only in a contemptuous enemy rejection, all of this nation will now know where it stands and all of the world will now know who it is that is implacably determined upon more war.

NOT QUITE ALL of this nation will even now concede the plain reality. Already, the far-out home spokesmen for a peace at any price—so long as the quick and obvious victim is a ravaged South Viet Nam whose agonies have never yet penetrated into their ivory towers — are preparing the necessary apologies for Ho's unaltered bellicosity.

WELL, YES, they are now saying, perhaps it is true that President Johnson really walked the last mile—maybe. (It is, after all, hard to ignore completely the personally dispatched messages, to 115 nations and to the Pope in Rome, whose earnest good faith has in fact moved even some Iron Curtain leaders to privately whispered expressions of faith in our national motives.) Still, so goes the apology of the far-outs, one can't be truly and absolutely sure that the President was truly and absolutely sincere until we make it plain, in advance, that in any possible negotiations we would certainly accede to all Communist demands and make none of our own.

SO THE FAR-OUT wing is at last coming reasonably close to candidly stating what has always been its real requirement. This, put with brutal clarity, is that we betray our pledge to South Viet Nam and wrap it all up in scented semantics in which a crude abandonment would become only something called "disengagement" from an undeniably nasty situation.

Thus it is that the peace offensive has accomplished two things anyhow. It has established, to all but those blinded by emotional need to defend their terrible past errors of judgment, that an aggressor is indeed an aggressor and that he means to go on until he has swallowed up South Viet Nam.

AND IT HAS clearly identified at last just what the far-out pacifist-isolationists really have always wanted—a policy of cut and run.

That remarkably gentle and peaceable man, Dean Rusk—who suddenly finds himself a notorious war-monger in Communist propaganda and something not much better in the language of the far-outs in this country—has put the position with unfashionable simplicity:

"WE'RE DOWN to the bare bone. Do we stand aside and let them take it? We are not. We could have peace in 24 hours if the other side stops what it is doing. The only other thing—the only other egg we could add to this basket—would be South Viet Nam itself. Just give it to them. And that is what we will not do."

Goliad Takes Part In Testing Program

By GWYNN BONNER

Tuesday and Wednesday mornings were devoted to the participation of all students in mental ability and achievement tests. Students in secondary schools throughout the Big Spring Public School System took part in the testing program and according to the counselors these tests may take the place of the eighth and ninth grade achievement tests usually held in the spring of each year. Seventh grade students have already taken their achievement tests this school year.

According to an announcement by Miss Margaret Hauser, editor of Co-ed Magazine, Lynn O'Bryant has been named Co-ed correspondent of the Goliad chapter of the Future Homemakers of America for this school year. Her appointment was made by Mrs. Fern Alexander and Mrs. Virginia Martin, home economics teachers at Goliad.

She will serve as junior advisor to the editors of Co-ed, national magazine for teenage girls published by Scholastic Magazines, Inc., and will keep them informed of the FHA activities at Goliad. More than 400 Co-ed correspondents throughout the United States and Canada report regularly.

Seventh graders at Goliad held their annual party Friday, Jan. 7 in the gym. Dave Duncan, Scott McLaughlin, and Vickie Burchett, class officers, and Mrs. Mona Elmore, Miss Joy Redman, Mr. Jack Tayrien, and Mr. Don Duncan, class sponsors, planned the party. Dancing, games, and refreshments filled the time between 7:30 and 10 p.m.

The eighth grade science classes of Mr. Charles Burnsed and Mrs. Lucy Bonner have a display of topographic and conservation maps in the front showcase. Topographic maps, showing the elevation and contour of the land, are by La-Shara Shanks, Diane Normand, Larry Milch, Jack Fletcher, Nina Thomas, Barbara Manley, and Jackie Cordes, all of whom are students of Mr. Burnsed.

Mrs. Bonner's classes, who have recently been studying a unit on water conservation, are displaying maps showing the average annual runoff of Texas streams, moisture regions of Texas, and water supply problem areas. Dell Hollingsworth, Debbie Caffey, Peggy Miller, Sherri Jones, Rebecca Jenkins, Barbara Fringle, Susan Cape, and Rex Halverson have made these maps.

An important meeting of the Delta Club will be held Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. Plans for the spring production and the annual Club banquet will be discussed. Slides of the Christmas play will also be viewed.

The second semester of the 65-66 school term got underway Jan. 2.

Students received report cards Wednesday.

Linda Bowen and Linda Shaw attended a Youth Council meeting at Notre at Otto's Boys Ranch Thursday.

The A boys and girls teams were both winners in basketball games played at Hermeleigh on Tuesday night. The B boys came out second best, however.

The A girls team was first consolation winner in the Stanton Basketball Tournament during the holiday vacation.

Junior high boys and girls were entered in a tournament at Flower Grove this week.

Sands began conference play Friday night when they traveled to Loop for the conference opener.

The newly organized Science Club met Thursday to discuss plans with the FPC on the science program. Newly elected officers are: Gary Eied, president; Jimmy Jones, vice president; Beverly Clements, secretary; Mr. John Anastasio and Mrs. William E. Harrell are sponsors.

The FTA met to discuss plans for its district and state conventions. The district convention was held Saturday. Miss Cathy Workman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Workman of Stanton, represented Stanton by running for district recording secretary. The FTA is also discussing plans for sponsoring a "Back to School Night" for the Junior High.

During the Student Council meeting on Wednesday Mr. Bill Johnson, the sponsor of the organization, was presented with a gift certificate as a small token of the students' appreciation for all the things he has done for them. Mr. Johnson is leaving at mid-term to take up his new position as superintendent of schools in Blanket, Texas.

The FPC members met Monday to discuss plans for the science program to be held Jan. 17. Both the Science Club and the FPC will help with the program serving as ushers and running a concession stand during intermission. Members of the FPC toured the Bennett House on Saturday.

'NEVER TOO LATE'

Maureen O'Sullivan and Connie Stevens

Comedy Hit Arrives At Ritz, 'Never Too Late'

"Never Too Late," opening today at the Ritz Theatre, brings to the Technicolor and Panavision screen the laughter that enchanted audiences at the hit play for over 1,000 performances on Broadway.

Starring Paul Ford, Maureen O'Sullivan, Connie Stevens and Jim Hutton, "Never Too Late," is the story of a middle-aged couple about to have a child at an age when most couples are already grandparents. The effect on them of becoming parents, as well as on their daughter and son-in-law, provides some funny and tender moments.

"Never Too Late," was filmed amidst historic landmarks in Concord, Mass. Famous as the home of Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry David Thoreau, Nathaniel Hawthorne and Louisa May Alcott, Concord was chosen not for its historic past but because it is exactly the attractive and representative Massachusetts town for which the script called.

Both Ford and Maureen O'Sullivan originated their roles on the Broadway stage. "Never Too Late" marks Miss O'Sullivan's first feature film in seven years. The stage play kept her busy for almost three years and she has also appeared in many television shows.

Connie Stevens plays Kate Clinton, the daughter, a role that evokes her fine comedic flair.

As Charlie Clinton, Connie's husband, Jim Hutton adds a stature to his reputation for ability to handle comedy.

The new film comedy represents the first writing effort of Summer Arthur Long, responsible for both the original play and the movie script. Its instant success is the result of over six years of work by the author.

Winning The West Told In Jet Film

The Cinemascope production in Metrocolor, "How the West Was Won," which was nominated for eight Academy Awards, including the nomination for "Best Picture," is now being shown at the Jet for the first time at popular prices, uncut, direct from roadshow engagements.

More than 12,000 players were used in 11 months of filming to bring this adventure drama to the screen. Three of Hollywood's directors combined talents in creating this film.

John Ford, holder of four Academy Awards, directed the Civil War story. Henry Hathaway, a craftsman since the days of the "silents," guided the Riders, the Plains and the Outlaws episodes. George Marshall, with over 450 screen credits as a director, took charge of the railroad episode.

These five inter-related episodes tell the story of a half-century of America's westward expansion, as seen through the eyes of four generations of a pioneer family.

Spencer Tracy delivers the narration which connects the many elements of the epic story.

The cast, all playing major roles, includes literally a "Who's Who" of Hollywood. In alphabetical order, the stars are Carroll Baker, Lee J. Cobb, Henry Fonda, Carolyn Jones, Karl Malden, Gregory Peck, George Peppard, Robert Preston, Debbie Reynolds, James Stewart, Eli Wallach, John Wayne and Richard Widmark.

The co-stars are Bridg Bazen, Walter Brennan, David Brian, Andy Devine, Raymond Massey, Agnes Moorehead, Henry (Harry) Morgan, Thelma Ritter, Mickey Shaughnessy and Russ Tamblyn.

At Jet

Debbie Reynolds and Gregory Peck are among the stars in "How the West Was Won."

To capture the scope and sweep of this story, directors took stars and crews on a tour of western America's scenic wonderland. States in which filming took place include Kentucky, Illinois, Oregon, Colorado, South Dakota, California, Arizona, New Mexico and Utah.

More than 350 Indians, nearly 800 horses and mules and 100 wagons and buggies were used. For the big buffalo stampede scene, filmed in South Dakota's Custer State Park, some 2,000 buffalo — largest herd in the world today — were acquired.

An 1870 vintage locomotive was shipped via 13 railroads to the South Dakota location.

where the building of the first trans-continental railroad was filmed.

In brief, the story traces the movement of settlers down the Erie Canal and into the lush Ohio River valleys. Next "How the West Was Won" presents the Gold Rush days, with a covered wagon train attacked by Indians in the biggest such battle ever staged for any motion picture. The Civil War, with the Battle of Shiloh presented in thunderous violence, is the third or middle portion of "How the West Was Won." Next comes the trans-continental railroad sequence, followed by the bringing of law and order to the Southwest, the last stronghold of the western outlaws.

A number of spectacular scenes include a family fighting for their lives aboard a raft caught in mile-a-minute rapids, and a runaway train that breaks loose during a baggage car robbery.

STAMPS

Astronauts Appearing

By SYD KRONISH

Man's efforts to explore space have captured the imaginations of people all over the world. Tributes to the daring astronauts have appeared on stamps from various countries and the latest of these from Togo are well designed and eye-catching.

Togo's set of two stamps honors the "walks in space" by American astronaut Edward White during the flight of Gemini 4 on July 3, 1965, and Russian cosmonaut Alexei Leonov during the flight of Voskhod II on March 18, 1965. The 25 F pink and blue stamp features Leonov walking in space. The 50 F light brown and light green has White in similar action.

These stamps were printed in sheets of 12. The wide margin of each sheet illustrated the two space men and the U.S. rocket at take-off along with the rocket tracking equipment.

The New Zealand Postal Administration has announced the issuance of three special stamps to mark the holding of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association Conference in Wellington. The stamps went on sale Nov. 30, the opening day of the Conference. The stamps are in four colors. The 2 shilling shows a Wellington waterfront and business area scene. The 9 pence depicts Parliament House. The 4 pence features Queen Elizabeth and the New Zealand Coat of Arms. Each stamp also bears the crossed mace and black rod symbols.

West Germany will honor the 100th anniversary of the birth of humanitarian Nathan Soderblom on Jan. 15, by issuing a new stamp bearing his portrait, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The 20-pfenning stamp will be red gray and black. Soderblom was born in Trono and educated at the University of Uppsala in Sweden and became the Archbishop of Uppsala. He was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1930. Previously he was the leader of the Universal Christian Conference on Life and Work held in Stockholm.

LONDON (AP) — Noel Coward comes back to the West End stage early in 1966 in a program of his own short plays. Co-starring with him are to be Lilli Palmer and Irene Worth. A Dublin break-in of the bill is to precede the London engagement. Rehearsals, directed by Glen Byam Shaw, are to be at Coward's home in Switzerland.

'SERGEANT DEADHEAD' Deborah Walley, Frankie Avalon

Another Film Aimed At Youth

Producers and executives have come up with something new in movies again—a space age comedy with music that is for and about the "under 25" young people who comprise the majority of our service men and women and about our space effort as well.

Titled "Sergeant Deadhead," it also is the first directorial effort by Hollywood's "dean" of comedy and family pictures, Norman Taurog. It's a natural alliance for the "young-at-heart" film company and the director who has been identified with Hollywood's top young stars and young people in films throughout his career.

Fittingly, the all-star cast features Hollywood's top veteran comedy-character actors and young contract stars and starlets headed by Frankie Avalon and Deborah Walley. The Air Force comedy screenplay is by Louis M. Heyward.

The veteran stars are Eve Arden, Cesar Romero, Fred Clark, Reginald Gardiner, Gale Gordon, Harvey Lembeck and Buster Keaton. The young stars include John Ashley, Donna Loren, Bobbi Shaw, Patti Chandler, Salli Sachse, Luree Holmes, Jo Collins, Sue Hamilton and Mike Nader.

It opens Thursday at the Ritz.

WEEK'S PLAYBILL

See It In London

NEW YORK (AP) — Producer Stanley Gordon has adopted a London-first, Broadway-later policy for his next two projects.

"The King's Mare," a comedy by Anita Loos, is scheduled for overseas presentation in June starring Dora Bryan. With it under way, Gordon gets to work on a musical adaptation of "A Tale of Two Cities."

Back As Annie

NEW YORK (AP) — The third summer musical season of Lincoln Center's State Theater is to be highlighted with Ethel Merman recreating her original role in "Annie Get Your Gun."

"It's just right," says the star. "It's exactly what I want to do, just about the right amount of time. No more long commitments." The local engagement, from May 26 to July 9, will be preceded by three weeks with the show in Toronto, followed by three weeks in Detroit.

Interest In Eliot

NEW YORK (AP) — Suddenly attracting renewed interest for stage exhibit is T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral."

The American Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Conn., has been considering plans for revival of the drama about the martyrdom of Thomas a Becket. Also pondering a presentation is Ted Mann, a veteran off-Broadway sponsor who has recently extended his activities to Broadway.

JUMPING, LIVELY BEAT

Trini Lopez Puts Action In His Singing Performance

By MARY CAMPBELL

AP Newsfeatures Writer

Trini Lopez is a move-around performer. He keeps a jumping, lively beat when he sings, steps around to the rhythm on the stage, moves restlessly from one spot to another during an interview and jets around the world to perform.

Unlike some singers who stand on one spot on a stage, occasionally lifting an arm for emphasis, 28-year-old Trini (pronounced Trinn) says, "I have the feeling in my bones. I just can't stand still, you know."

"I don't stand still when I am recording. I'm moving around and dancing and carrying on all hidden up in a booth."

Trini embarked on his first European tour in the fall of 1963 and he has yet to stop traveling. He gets home to see his family in Dallas about once a year.

"I'm going everywhere like a scared rabbit, constantly going. Everything is going so well, it is no time to stop right now. As there was one time when I thought my mind was going to bust, I'd perform and have six interviews a day and radio and TV. I only had that feeling once. Now I'm getting sort of acclimated to it."

Trini includes a sing-along section of his hits in his act, which was the high point for the audience at his last appearance at Basin Street East in New York. He says he finds pop music lovers all over the world liking the same things, including that sing-along. "I can do that in Belgium, South Africa, France. They may not speak English but they know every lyric — my records are so well-known there," he smiles. "I have the hit they like."

Trini's recording career started with a bang in 1963. His first LP, "Trini Lopez at P.J.'s," won him a gold record and so did "If I Had a Hammer," a single taken from the album.

TRINI LOPEZ

"When I first started recording, I started getting a lot of reaction from Europe, which is unusual for a newcomer," Trini says. "Everything happened all over the world at the same time. 'Hammer' went to No. 1 in 21 countries."

His recent "Lemon Tree" single was almost as big a hit here and internationally.

Trini's father has Spanish blood and his mother Mexican. They met in Mexico and moved to Dallas 35 years ago where they reared a family of six. Trini says his Spanish helps him a lot around the world. He sings "Hello Dolly" in Spanish in South America and they love it, and he finds some non-Spanish-speaking countries, like Italy, also like to hear the language.

Trini's friendly smile and dark Latin eyes and hair undoubtedly help, too.

The singer gets sore throats frequently but says, "I've never had to cancel a show in my life. I use my throat too much. I talk a lot and I mostly sing from my throat. I never had any training; everything I do is by instinct and ear."

He also taught himself guitar after six months of lessons on basics at age 12.

Trini was discovered during an engagement at P.J.'s in Hollywood in April, 1963. "I had been working the night clubs for six-eight years. I was the opposite from a lot of entertainers who get a record and develop into being a night-club performer. I was making $200 a week, which is what a lot of people don't do until they get a couple of records going."

"I was lining them up outside three or four blocks long. Don Costa heard about the reaction and he came in and said, 'I want you to do exactly what you're doing and I'll record you on Frank Sinatra's company, Reprise.' I said, 'Ooh, that would be great.' Sinatra is my idol."

"I have to admit something to you. I really was thinking of being just in Los Angeles, after I had an album even, thinking, 'Maybe I can stick around here and make $300-$400 a week. Now my price is $15,000 a week and I have a five-picture deal with 20th Century Fox and Sinatra wants me to do some pictures for his company.'"

Four of Trini's LPs have been live performances, which come across extremely well.

He also has done "Trini Lopez the Latin Album," "The Folk Album," "The Love Album" and a new one, "The Sing-Along World of Trini Lopez."

"I was hoping that people would like me singing ballads on 'The Love Album.' It is my favorite type of singing. A lot of people said, 'I don't know, we like you with guitar, doing rable-rousing, party-going things,' but now they like the ballads. I'm very thrilled about, believe me."

L. J. Davidson To Seek Re-Election In Pct. 4

L. J. Davidson has authorized The Herald to announce he will be a candidate for re-election to the office of County Commissioner of Precinct 4, subject to the Democratic Primary.

Davidson has been a resident of Howard County since 1908 and is a member of the Baptist Church. He has long been active in community and civic affairs, prior to entering public service.

He served several terms on the board of trustees in his school district, has been an officer of the Farm Bureau and active on numerous agricultural committees. He served as a 4-H Club sponsor for several years.

He was also in the general construction business for a time and worked with an oil company. He has been engaged in managing his farm operations for a number of years. He lives north and east of town on his farm.

"I count it an honor and a privilege," said Davidson. "To have had the opportunity to serve you as your commissioner in the past, I have worked hard to give you good service — alike to the people in my district and to all of the people of Howard County and Big Spring.

"I have tried hard to insure that you have had the kind of county government that you want and deserve. I have cooperated in every way to bring new industry into the county.

"I think we have made splendid progress in our road building program — in the construction of permanent roads in the county and on our lateral road system and our main highways.

DOUBLE PROTECTION AGAINST WIND EROSION
Stubble on ridges between deep furrows furnishes real bulwark

Emergency Tillage Urged To Prevent Soil Erosion

Emergency tillage is being recommended by the Soil Conservation Service as a means of controlling or lessening wind erosion during mid-winter and early spring.

A survey of field conditions in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation Service District indicates an insufficient amount of crop residue on most farms to hold down soil movement, hence the necessity of other action.

J. C. Wall Jr., conservationist with the work unit in Big Spring, had some suggestions for consideration of operators.

Listing has been found to be the most effective method for sandy soils facing the possibility of severe wind conditions. Narrow chisels have been found to be effective on hard land, provided the chisels are dug deeply. These have an additional advantage because they leave a high percentage of residue on the soil surface.

Tillage which gives the greatest degree of clods is usually the best method. Tests have shown that protection varies inversely with the degree of cloddiness.

For emergency tillage to be really effective, clod-forming soils must be within reach of the equipment used, and there must be moisture sufficient to cause clods to form.

Wall suggested tillage should be at right angles to the prevailing wind, except that on row crops it may be in the same direction as well as at right angles to the direction the crops will be planted. Tillage operations resulting in ridges and furrows should be as nearly possible on the contour.

The good that can come from tillage is increased when farmers of a community function as a unit so that no field is allowed to drift. Best time to act is before erosion begins, and the next best time is to get after it immediately after the first movement of soil occurs. Once soil begins to drift, it is like a snow drift or a snowball in its effect. The SCS will be happy to furnish any help or information to control this problem, said Wall.

Plant Breaks All Records

ARLINGTON — Since the expansion program of more than 300,000 square feet plus the modernization of the entire plant department was completed in time for the start of the 1966 model run, the General Motors Assembly Plant was able to break its all-time single year production record, according to H. T. Brian, plant manager.

"In fact, nearly every record established since operations began in 1953 was broken during 1965," he added.

Total production of General Motors automobiles at the plant since operations began totaled 1,078,388 at year end. The production highlight at the plant occurred July 20 when the one millionth car was produced. Beginning with the production of 1966 models in September, only Pontiac and Chevrolet automobiles are being assembled, Brian noted, and this production is distributed to GM dealers in 10 states in the Southwest, Midwest and Southeast. During the year, the plant had 28,000 visitors.
