Two Airmen Killed In Cycle Accident

Big Spring's 1966 traffic death toll mounted to three Sunday when a motorcycle went out of control near City Park on Wasson Road, killing two young Webb Air Force Base airmen.

A motorcycle driven by Airman 3.C. Frank H. Rousey, 20, went onto its side as it traveled north on Wasson Road, officers said, and skidded 304 feet, carrying Rousey and his passenger, Airman 3.C. Donald R. Kennedy, 18, to the base of a stop sign on a median in the road.

The cycle leaped the median curb, dropping the two men at the sign, and continued for another 118 feet before coming to rest.

The two young airmen were found lying under the sign just after 3 a.m. Sunday, and taken to Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation, where both died shortly afterward. Both were assigned to Air Base Group, in the Transportation section.

Rousey was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvie B. Rousey, Waynette, Okla. His body is being taken to Conner-Roberts Funeral Home in Purcell, Okla.

Kennedy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kennedy, Pink Hill, N.C. His body will be taken to Normal Funeral Home, Wallace, N.C.

Joint memorial services for the two airmen will be Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the Webb AFB chapel.

Two men were injured in another Sunday accident, officers said today. A car driven by Everett W. Tiner, 2300 Nolan, struck and sheared off a telephone company utility pole in the 1200 block of West Third at midnight, sending the broken pole into the street and bringing down live wires on another car.

Biggest U.S. Force Pounds At Viet Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The largest U.S. fighting force of the Vietnamese war demolished a honeycomb of Viet Cong fortifications on the edge of the Iron Triangle 25 miles northwest of Saigon today, but the Communists ducked the knockout punch.

Most of the guerrillas kept away from the U.S. and Australian troops as they scorched the Communist stronghold on the third day of Operation Crimp.

Australians operating with the 1st Infantry Division and the 173rd Airborne Brigade uncovered a big weapons cache left by the fleeing Communists. The haul included 47 weapons, five of them crew-size, 114 grenades, 15,000 rounds of small-arms ammunition, 58 heavy-mortar rounds, 100 pounds of dynamite, 20 tons of rice and a large store of medical supplies.

OVER 8,000

There were more than 8,000 men in the Allied force, but U.S. military spokesmen reported only light contact with the enemy, a regiment-sized force thought to be holed up in the 12 square miles of jungle and marshland.

The spokesman reported 22 Viet Cong killed, 35 captured and 209 suspects, mostly women and children, detained. Allied casualties were light, they said. Elsewhere on the ground, U.S. spokesmen reported few contacts with the enemy. But the air war in the South continued unabated with 281 strike missions against Viet Cong targets by Air Force and carrier planes. Four U.S. planes were lost in the past 24 hours.

BAIL OUT

A Marine F4B Phantom jet crashed 15 miles southwest of Da Nang because of undetermined causes. The two crewmen bailed out and were picked up by helicopter. One man was wounded.

A C123 transport carrying fuel caught fire Sunday night after landing at Tay Ninh, 55 miles northwest of Saigon. The crew escaped unhurt but the plane was destroyed.

Another cargo plane, a C130 Hercules, crashed while landing on a mail run Sunday to An Khe, 260 miles northeast of Saigon. The crewmen were uninjured and the soldiers' mail was saved. A single-seat Air Force plane crashed 5 miles north of Saigon. As a helicopter lifted the pilot by his gun belt, it broke and he plunged into a river. Apparently he was killed.

GROUND FIRE

Spokesmen confirmed that ground fire had been responsible for two explosions that ripped apart a C130 loaded with 11,000 pounds of ammunition on a flight to Pleiku last Friday. Five men were killed in the crash of the four-engine plane.

The suspension of bombing raids on the Communist North continued into the 18th day.

Some of the tunnels and caves blasted by the U.S. and Australian troops in Operation Crimp dated back to the French Indochina fighting.

HOLDS UP

Although the huge Allied force pushed to the Saigon River boundary of the Communist Iron Triangle redoubt, it did not cross the river and attempt to sweep the triangle itself.

Two hundred helicopters lifted the troops into action at dawn Saturday, swarming like locusts over the jungle in the biggest display of whirlybirds of the war. Hidden Communist gunners knocked down two helicopters and mechanical trouble caused a third to crash.

LBJ Report On State Of War Waited

Marks Congress Opening

President Johnson is greeted by Alfred Barrett, left, as he arrived at National Presbyterian Church early today. The President, and other government leaders attended a Service of Intercession and Holy Communion, an annual event marking the reconvening of Congress. The second session of the 89th Congress began at noon today. (AP WIREPHOTO)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 89th Congress began its second session today in an atmosphere of political and economic tension as it awaits President Johnson's Wednesday night report on the state of the war in Viet Nam.

Leaders scheduled routine sessions of both houses, which began at 11 a.m. Big Spring time. The appointment of committees to notify the President of their convening and the swearing in of new members was to be the principal business.

What Johnson has to say in his State of the Union address Wednesday night about his efforts to generate Viet Nam peace negotiations — and the impact on his "Great Society" program if they fail and the war is intensified — will set the tone for the 1966 session.

FORECAST DOUBTFUL

There is some doubt that Johnson can forecast at this point what turn the Viet Nam situation may take.

It is generally assumed in Congress that the pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam targets will continue at least through Jan. 24. This would represent a 30-day lull coinciding with the end of any Vietnamese New Year cease-fire which might occur.

Then Johnson would face the hard decision on whether to step up hostilities if the Communists have given no sign that they are willing to start peace talks.

VIET LEADS

While Congress has an array of left-over issues pending and Johnson may suggest a limited number of new proposals, all are overshadowed by the Viet Nam situation.

If, as anticipated, the President asks for an additional $12 billion or $13 billion in war appropriations, there will be bipartisan demands for a cutback in anti-poverty, Appalachian aid and other programs.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has called for lower expenditures on the space program if Viet Nam costs skyrocket.

EXAMINE BUDGET

On ABC's radio-television program "Issues and Answers" Sunday, he said Republicans would look thoroughly at the entire budget to see where it can be cut.

He specifically cited the Office of Economic Opportunity which runs the anti-poverty program and said: "I am certainly going to fight for efficiency and on the basis of the report they will make (on field studies), I can't see efficiency, and we are going to have to cut it back."

He said of a Job Corps camp at Camp Breckinridge, Ky.: "They had 756 enrollees and 250 dropouts. And they graduated the vast number of eight out of that camp. This will be an issue, believe me."

Early Decision Called For On Ending Lull In Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman L. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee said today "an early decision must be reached" on ending the pause in bombing North Viet Nam targets. Two key Republican congressmen agreed.

"I don't see any reason to continue to keep giving them this respite," said Rivers, a South Carolina Democrat, in an interview as the 89th Congress reconvened here. "They're not entitled to this holiday."

U.S. planes have not bombed North Viet Nam since before a 30-hour Christmas truce as part of President Johnson's efforts to convince Hanoi of U.S. sincerity in seeking a negotiated settlement of the Vietnamese war.

Although he emphasized he supported the President's peace efforts, Rivers said "the American people want to win this thing or get out."

He added: "I feel that a few well-placed bombs on military targets in North Viet Nam that have been heretofore spared — underserved sanctuaries in Hanoi, Haiphong and other places — would make (North Vietnamese President) Ho Chi Minh reach an early decision. The American people feel he has been given enough time."

Rivers said his committee would meet Tuesday to map plans for the new congressional session.

His views on resuming bombing of North Viet Nam, similar to those expressed Saturday by the chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Richard B. Russell of Georgia, were echoed in separate interviews by Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, assistant house GOP leader, and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Vatican Hits Poland For Refusing Cardinal A Visa

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican circles today viewed Poland's refusal to let Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski travel abroad as a major setback to the program of coexistence between Communism and Catholicism that Pope John XXIII launched three years ago.

Vatican sources said the Polish action virtually doomed any chance of Polish authorities inviting Pope Paul VI to Warsaw this spring for celebrations marking the 1,000th anniversary of Christianity in the Red-ruled country.

They said the pontiff would never have considered such a trip if the Church's program of coexistence with Communist regimes on nonspiritual matters had not appeared to be going well.

The Warsaw government announced Saturday it had refused Cardinal Wyszynski an exit passport on the ground that he harmed Polish national interests during his last trip to the Vatican. The government objected particularly to the letter Polish bishops sent to Roman Catholic bishops of West Germany last month inviting them to the millenary celebration in Warsaw and speaking of German-Polish reconciliation in a spirit of "mutual forgiveness."

ing of North Viet Nam, similar to those expressed Saturday by the chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Richard B. Russell of Georgia, were echoed in separate interviews by Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, assistant house GOP leader, and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"There's a limit to how long we can keep this up," said Arends, a senior member of Rivers' committee. "Some decision is going to have to be made unless we can see some tangible results — some willingness on their (the Communists') part to talk these things over."

Said Hickenlooper: "I don't see that the suspension has accomplished anything. The only result has been that the other side has been able to collect their forces. When the pressure is on they're being hurt. I think it is a mistake to stop the pressure."

Two Democratic senators disagreed. Alaska's Ernest Gruening, a leading critic of the Johnson administration's policies in Viet Nam, said, "I think the pause should continue."

"I don't think there were any results from the bombing. This has been at least as successful if not more so. We're killing fewer people. That's an improvement," he added.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, a Foreign Relations Committee member, agreed with Gruening. "We have to wait and see what will happen," he said.

Support for the U.S. peace offensive has come from most of the world's free press. Director Leonard H. Marks of the U.S. Information Agency said Sunday on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

But Marks said "the press was skeptical that the Communists would recognize this peace offensive and want to sit down to the bargaining table and wind up the problem."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, asked in Buffalo, N.Y., Saturday night whether the peace offensive has borne any fruit, replied: "Not to my knowledge."

Gibbens Will Head New Liaison Office

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally appointed Wayne Gibbens, a three-term member of the Texas House, today to operate the state's new liaison office in Washington.

The legislature authorized the position last year at Connally's request. Gibbens, 29, resigned from the House as representative from Eastland, Shackelford, Palo Pinto, Callahan, and Stephens counties.

The Breckenridge resident was in the 1961, 1963 and 1965 legislature and was a key member of the youthful House team that secured passage of much of Connally's legislative program. Connally asked the legislature

Pair's Candidacy Bids Refused In State Test

AUSTIN (AP) — State Democratic Chairman Will Davis said today he will refuse to accept the candidacies of state Sens. Franklin Spears and Galloway Calhoun for attorney general in order to get a quick Texas Supreme Court test.

Davis spoke out shortly after Spears announced he would file for a spot on the Democratic ballot at Davis' office today.

Spears said he is convinced he is eligible for the job. "I believe that it is to the best interest of you, the Democratic party, and the people of Texas that this question should be resolved as rapidly as possible by the Supreme Court of Texas," Davis said.

"An early resolution will enable you to be sure of your position prior to the filing deadline so that everyone involved will have time left within which to change his plans if this should become necessary."

The question of Spears' and Calhoun's eligibility arose because they were members of a legislature which increased the attorney general's salary.

NO SIDE Davis urged both candidates to make formal filings as soon as possible. "My refusal to accept your application will bring about an early, orderly and final determination of this matter . . . in answer to your application for a writ of mandamus (to force Davis to accept the filings)," he said.

Davis assured the two senators he is taking no side in the issue. The third announced candidate is Secretary of State Crawford Martin.

"John Cofer, an Austin lawyer, has advised me that I am definitely eligible to be placed on the Democratic primary ballot," Spears said.

Spears said he asked Cofer's opinion after published speculation that Spears, along with Calhoun, might not be eligible candidates because they were members of a Senate that voted to increase the salary of the attorney general.

Peking Downs Defector Plane

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Peking reacted swiftly Sunday to Nationalist China's jubilation at the defection of three Communist seamen and shot down an unarmed plane flying the defectors from Matsu to Formosa.

An air-sea search found no trace of survivors from the Nationalist seaplane. Unofficial reports said it carried 17 persons, including two officers of the Taipei Defense Ministry and four members of the Matsu Defense Command.

The sources said four Soviet-built MIGs jumped the plane 15 minutes after it took off from the Nationalist-held island 11 1/2 miles from the Communist mainland.

A REPRISAL Some quarters in Taipei believed the Communists did not know the defectors were aboard the plane. They believed Peking ordered a Nationalist plane shot down in reprisal for the defection and that by chance the MIGs happened on the one with the fugitives aboard.

The first announcement by Peking radio said the Red air force had brought down a Nationalist plane when it flew over "the coastal area of East China on a harassing and sabotage mission."

The Nationalist Defense Ministry termed the attack "brutal and inhumanitarian." It ordered its air force to give the Communists "a bloody nose" if such an incident occurred again.

ors, said they killed the captain of their landing craft early Sunday in a bloody mutiny which cost the lives of all six other crewmen, four of them bent on defection.

The three survivors headed the 25-ton craft for Matsu 40 minutes after leaving Foochow, capital of Fukien Province, which is 150 miles across the Formosa Strait from Taipei.

Georgia House Refuses To Seat Rep.-Elect Bond

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Rep.-elect Julian Bond, a Negro, was refused a seat today in the Georgia House of Representatives when other members, including seven Negroes, were sworn in.

"I will ask Rep.-elect Bond to stand aside and refrain from taking the oath," clerk Jack Ellard said.

PETITIONS FILED The clerk said there had been several petitions filed challenging Bond's right to be seated. The challenge came off without incident. Minutes later Bond left the chamber. He became the target of a move to bar his seating last Friday after he endorsed a statement labeling U.S. involvement in Viet Nam as aggression and urging Americans to avoid the draft.

VOICED VIEWS In a statement circulated today, Bond said the only thing he had done was to speak his mind and that he is willing to take an oath to uphold federal and state constitutions, and thereby dispel any doubt as to his loyalty.

Speaker George T. Smith said he would name a special committee to look into the Bond controversy. Prior to today, there had been no Negro members in the House since 1907. The Senate, in a session lasting only a few minutes, unanimously approved a resolution backing U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

'CUT YOUR OWN TAXES'

Don't Overpay Uncle Sam

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer

Refunds should be back in vogue again this year.

While filing an income tax return is never an event looked forward to with great expectancy, this year's task should not be the nightmare experience shared by so many a year ago.

The Revenue Act of 1964 cut the tax rate in two stages. Two-thirds of the cut was effective in 1964; the other third applies to income received in 1965.

IN HARMONY

And for all of 1965 the withholding tax tables were in complete harmony with the tax rates. This was not true in 1964 when the withholding tax cut was too deep to match the tax rate reduction. Consequently, many who had been accustomed to a refund had to make a payment in April 1965 and others found the tax due to be far greater than they had anticipated.

A reduction in the rates—in the lowest bracket the rate has been trimmed from 16 per cent to 14 per cent (a 12½ per cent cut)—is just one of the many changes affecting 1965 earnings.

NEW RULES

Persons who have stock investments will find new rules for the accounting of their dividends. The first $100 in dividends is excludable from income. If a husband and wife are filing a joint return and each has dividend income or they own stock jointly it is possible for them to receive $200 in tax-free dividends.

After this initial reduction the dividends are fully taxable. Formerly there had been a dividend credit. For example, prior to 1964, of $500 in dividends received, $100 was excluded on a joint return. The balance of $400 received a four per cent tax credit of $16. This amount was subtracted from the total income tax due figure. A year ago this credit was reduced to two per cent. In 1965 it disappeared completely. This means we still have the exclusion but no longer the percentage credit.

REDUCED RATES

Retired persons will find new rules and reduced rates in computing their retirement income credit. Understanding the changes, lion taxpayers made mistakes on their returns which were caught by Internal Revenue's electronic computers.

There is no way of knowing how many persons overpaid their taxes because they failed to take advantage of tax-saving opportunities or were unaware of all their proper deductions.

EXAMPLES

We will try to reduce both types of errors by giving completed examples to follow and the information to help you determine your own detailed deductions.

Remember, tax savings are the most profitable form of savings available today. It represents net after taxes. It is worth far more than the identical sum of money which is still to be taxed.

Culprits Hunted In False Alarms

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Fire Board, worried about mounting false alarms, is thinking about offering cash rewards to citizens who capture the culprits.

The board has asked the city solicitor if it has the authority to offer rewards. False alarms hit a record high of 2,960 in 1965, accounting for about one-third of all alarms turned in.

University To Open Units For Married Students

AUSTIN—The University of Texas is just about ready to wish some of its married students a Happy New Year.

On Jan. 30 the University will open the first 48 of its 200 new air-conditioned Colorado Apartments for married students. Within 30 days thereafter, another 48 apartments will be ready for occupancy. The remaining 104 units will be completed for the start of the summer session.

Applications for the Colorado Apartments are being accepted now at the Division of Housing and Food Service office.

The brick apartments, situated on UT's Brackenridge Tract on Lake Austin Boulevard, overlook the Colorado River and are being erected at a cost of $1,900,000. They are the first permanent housing to be erected for married students who compose about 25 per cent of UT's enrollment. The University maintains 570 older frame and "prefab" apartments in that area.

Apartments available Jan. 30 and the following month will be two-bedroom, unfurnished units, renting for $68.75. Couples must have at least one child to qualify for a two-bedroom place.

Agency Advises Turkey Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is advising the turkey industry to limit its increase in production of turkeys this year to 4 per cent of the 1965 crop of 163.7 million birds.

Department economists cautioned that an increase of more than 4 per cent could result in lower returns to turkey producers because of more production of competitive broilers and an anticipated increase in pork supplies late this year.

Unauthorized Viet Trip Over

NEW YORK (AP) — Yale Prof. Staughton Lynd, who made an unauthorized 10-day trip with two others to North Viet Nam, says conversations there convinced him "that many ingredients of an honorable solution exist."

Lynd and Thomas Hayden, a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society, joined in that statement at a news conference as they arrived at Kennedy Airport Sunday night.

They said North Viet Nam and the Communist-led National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) in South Viet Nam require as a condition for negotiations "an unambiguous decision" by the United States to withdraw its troops from Viet Nam.

However, the statement said, they appear willing to offer the United States "considerable freedom in choosing how to demonstrate by concrete steps that this decision has been made."

DOUBTS SINCERITY
The statement said the Hanoi regime doubts the sincerity of U.S. peace efforts and questions U.S. aims in South Viet Nam.

"The North Vietnamese do not trust an offer to negotiate unconditionally," it added.

Weekend's Shows Not Smash Hits

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It would be a pleasure to be able to report that the weekend shows were a joy — that Sammy Davis' premiere program was a smash, that Jackie Gleason's pocket musical was inventive and tuneful, and that "The World of the Teenager" illuminated a problem.

It would be a pleasure but it wouldn't be quite true.

Taking first things first, there was NBC's "Sammy Davis Jr. Show" Friday night. The producers thought of almost everything — dramatic and colorful sets, attractive musical arrangements, Sammy serving up samples of the things he does well. There was even the extraordinary sight of Elizabeth and Richard Burton singing a slightly off-key duet.

DULL LINES

Apparently, however, they overlooked the need for word-smiths. Davis was given the dull sort of lines, mostly consisting of "Gee whiz, folks, I'm so excited to have my own show." Even Mrs. Burton's daring decolletage failed to divert some of us from the famine of dialogue.

Davis, the singer, dancer and impressionist, was impressive but Davis, the host, was a bore. It was pleasant to have three of the old "Honeymooners" gang back together again on CBS Saturday night. Trixie, the fourth member, was alleged to be visiting her mother in New Jersey. But Alice, Ed Norton and Ralph Kramden were back in that basic Brooklyn flat.

But once there, they couldn't seem to decide whether they were doing a comedy sketch or a musical. The songs were draped on the comedy sketch like ornaments on a Christmas tree. Thus the plot would roar along with Ralph constantly threatening to land one on Alice or Ed. Then there would be a pause and one or another would walk up to the camera and sing a little song.

OVERPLAYS SCENE
The free-wheeling story about adopting a baby may bring some fiery complaints from adoption agencies and Jackie certainly overplayed his big emotional scene, weeping over the bassinet. Even so it was fun to have Art Carney, Audrey Meadows and Gleason yelling at each other. Some of the slight tunes were catchy, if hardly memorable.

According to NBC's special Sunday night, "The World of the Teenager" is a prison where life is dull, adults don't understand them, and the pressures are fierce.

'Three-Tiered' Wedding

American producer David Pelham introduces his fiancée, 22-year-old Princess Farideh Farschi Bakhtiari, a cousin of ex-Queen Soraya, of Iran, after announcing their engagement in London Sunday. Pelham, 40, of Boston, Mass., who has made London his base in recent years, said the wedding will take place in London within two or three weeks and will be "Three-tiered—Moslem, civil and Christian." Pelham was co-producer with David Merrick of the Broadway play, "Look Back in Anger." (AP WIREPHOTO)

Mouse Takes Over Room So Occupants Move Out

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — You've heard of "Mighty Mouse?"

He (or she) lives at 729 Edmund Ave., with a room to itself.

A mouse has preempted the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton L. Jensen by burrowing it self into their mattress.

So far, all attempts at ousting the little intruder have failed.

It should be explained the Jensens haven't seen the mouse, but the brunette mother of four active boys says she's sure it's one.

MOUSE HOLE
"You know a mouse hole when you see one," she explained.

There's a hole burrowed into the mattress and Mrs. Jensen figures the mouse squeeze in between the box spring and the mattress to make its entry.

She said that Thursday night she felt a little thumping in the springs but figured it was the dog moving on the floor.

The Jensens also have a young cat, but he hasn't been able to track down the intruder.

They also tried taking the mattress outside, hoping the mouse would see his chance for escape. But the below-zero temperatures forced it to burrow deeper—apparently.

Harold Byrd Personifies Rich Oilman

DALLAS (AP)— He doesn't wear cowboy boots to the office or a 10-gallon hat to a cocktail party, but big-spending, big-talking Harold Byrd personifies the Texas oil millionaire.

"Dry Hole" Byrd was one of that lusty breed which Texas oil made wildly wealthy almost overnight.

In his 65 years, Byrd has spent one fortune, given away another and through shrewd investments and hard work, accumulated still more.

FELLOW MILLIONAIRE
"Byrd is the most typical oilman to come down the pike," said James Ling, a business associate and fellow millionaire.

The tales of Texas millionaires have made Byrd a trifle shy about his wealth.

"Just say it's something over a million," he hedged at an interview. "After I get through paying my debts, damned if I know."

The oilman is either chairman, director or partner of 46 enterprises with holdings in aerospace, real estate, building, manufacturing, and, of course, oil and gas.

DIVERSE FIELDS
"I've diversified a bit," Byrd drawled, his feet on his cluttered desk.

The large, balding millionaire with his diamond-studded Shriners' pin little resembles the broke young geologist who left the University of Texas to scour the state for oil 35 years ago.

"I'd work from 12 at night to 12 noon and in the off-hours I did contract driving," Byrd recalled.

He hit 56 dry holes, accounting for his nickname. Then his ramshackle rig brought in a gusher.

DALLAS DEB
Between wildcatting, he met and married Martha Caruth, an independently wealthy Dallas debutante in 1935.

"We couldn't get married until the East Texas oil field came in," Mrs. Byrd said. "The oil field came in," Mrs. Byrd said. "The oil fields were my finishing school."

Success was sure, but not always steady.

THEY'RE FUN CLOTHES — RELAX AND ENJOY THEM

Old Style Ideas Fresh In New Places

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Fashion this spring is full of paradoxes. No matter how young or how old women may be next year, in terms of birthdays, styles will neither be too young nor too old. Granny clothes will be A-okay for granddaughters, although the arbiters have no objection to grandmothers wearing them too. While baby clothes will remain very much in vogue for babies, these have been approved for grandmothers, too, provided these well-seasoned ladies have the figures and the vigor to go with them. Today most do.

This is not to say that every woman with the financial and the figurative wear-with-all will want to be in boots, bonnets and trapeze dresses. And this is not to say that every young girl will care to don floor-sweeping gowns and ruffled nightcaps the way her female ancestors did. But they will still be very much a part of the spring scene.

SURPRISING
Another paradox. Styles that were strictly down to the beach or out at sea have been adapted for posh dining rooms and dim discotheques, and downtown streets. Mack Sennett's bold horizontal stripes, criss-cross strap backs, tank tops, and bell-bottom trousers are the salt of the new spring styles.

Some clothes go places this spring. Pajamas striped up a bit or twinkling with beads go out to parties. Night shirts with their cutaway tails are short for daytime streetwear, long for evening wear. They are not for sleeping. For that matter, neither are the pretty nightgowns like, black-lace-over-nude-slip cocktail dresses.

NEW PLACES
The styles themselves are not the news about spring fashions.

Lamesans Reveal Wedding Plans

LAMESA (SC) — The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Connie Rene Morrisett to Earl Wain McGlothlin has been announced by Miss Morrisett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Turner Morrisett. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. (Bill) McGlothlin of Dumas.

The couple will be married Feb. 12 in the First Methodist Church.

Miss Morrisett is a graduate of Lamesa High School and is a sophomore at Texas Tech where she is majoring in elementary education. McGlothlin is a graduate of Dumas High School, is a senior industrial engineering student at Tech.

What is new and news, is the new places they are being worn. Beginning Wednesday, (Jan. 5) and continuing through Jan. 14 more than 200 fashion reporters are scheduled to view a parade of hundreds of new spring styles. The American Designer Series arranged by Eleanor Lambert starts off with a four-day program concluding Saturday, Jan. 8, followed on Sunday, Jan. 9, by the New York Couture Group's semi-annual press week activities.

Here are some specific style trends they can expect to see:

DRESSES
Anything goes that's youthful — shifts, smocks, baby trap-peze with billowy shirt sleeves. Waistlines are dropped though, on some styles, the roaring 20's way. Below flapper tank tops are kinky pleats, bias flares.

PARTY DRESSES
The ball gown is wispy and transparent with yards of flounces. However, floor-length is losing out to the short form, a style popular before Jacqueline Kennedy was First Lady and changed all that. In fact, the shorter the party skirt the fancier it is. Party pants of all sorts, but particularly the bell bottom variety, take some of the style play away.

COATS
They are reed slim and shapely with some flare in back, and with set-in sleeves. These are meant to be worn with dresses, but not bulky suits. Reversible double faced fabrics cut down on the heaviness of outer-gear, increase its practicality.

HATS
They are contoured with cut-outs, sleek and tiny, worn over short hair cuts or long uncut coiffures. Westerns and bretons are in but in pastel hues.

Tips Concerning Floor Cleaners

Tips from specialists in floor care products: Use a solvent to remove wood floor wax from your hands, and wash this off promptly with hot soapy water.

Couturiers Pitted In High Hemline Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — Many couturiers competed for the high hemline championship at the preview of spring fashions which opened Tuesday. And one of the foremost contenders at the four-day American designer series was Geoffrey Beene.

Cleopatra-eyed manikins in tight, thigh-high lace numbers sometimes banded around the hipbone, put him ahead in the preliminaries.

Edging their skirts were bouancy ostrich feathers and flouncy ruffles, and glitter.

There were wild printed silk dresses with blouson tops and deep-pleated skirts; pale crepe baby doll smocks with little jeweled collars and cuffs; slick, icy white silk suits with bows and buttons at the sleeves.

Among the prizes for brevity at the Donald Brooms show were zigzag printed Indian crepe shifts; baby smocks in brilliant patterned silks; and some naughty-nightie type cocktail dresses made of see-through black net over nude pink slip.

Both Beene and Brooks created suits, jackets and dresses never meant for buxom belles.

If all had gone well, dean of American designers, Norman Norell, would have indicated that he, too, thoroughly approved of the flat chested, high hemmed fashion for 1966. But he canceled his plans to show the out-of-town press a capsule of the spring collection he introduced Monday night.

Here's What's In-Out For Spring Fashion

NEW YORK (AP) — What's in and what's out in fickle feminine fashion was made clear Thursday to the more than 200 newswomen attending a four-day program of style previews called the American Designer Series.

Pale lips are out and rouged ones are in. They are covered by a luminous finishing coat, the Coty beauty people said.

Fish scale eyelids are definitely in for the charity ball, and sooty ones with splashes of chalky white are acceptable for the daytime, provided the woman has the self confidence to wear them. That was the opinion offered by Charles Loew, noted for his pop art makeup.

It is in to be rich as long as you are very democratic about it. The chicest woman this spring will wear poor girl sweaters along with her sleek leather workingman's jacket and rancher's pants. Along with these slick costumes, shown by Anne Klein for Mallory were leather levis and leather bell-bottoms.

These also are definitely in. Glittering, floor-sweeping ball gowns are out, but glamorous party pajamas this spring are for any place but at home. Christian Dior of New York ended a collection of chic French-inspired clothes with vividly patterned pants with huge legs like those worn by the movie queens in the '30s.

Among the colors that are in are grass green, shocking pink, butter yellow, and as always red, white, and blue. Two-tone combinations of navy and white which never seem to go out are still in. But shades of lavender and purple — hues that had prestige last year — are strictly for grandmothers now.

Big Spring Saga Told At Meeting

The early history of Big Spring was the program theme during the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the 1953 Hyperion Club. The members met at the home of Mrs. J. P. Darby Jr., 700 Tulane. Mrs. C. J. Haralson was cohostess, and Mrs. Gene Nabors presided at the meeting.

Mrs. H. C. Stipp and Mrs. Robert Middleton were guest speakers. Mrs. Stipp reviewed the book, "Big Spring," and Mrs. Middleton described her early life in the city.

Refreshments were served to 17 members from a table centered with a fall flower arrangement.

Cong Expert At Sniping And Using Booby Trap

TRUN LAP South Viet Nam (AP) — A lone American spotter plane circled over a maze of camouflaged tunnels and Viet Cong fortifications just south of the Saigon River. Only the pilot and a few American officers knew the mission: to collect intelligence for the biggest and most ambitious U.S. operation of the war in Viet Nam.

An American combat force of some 8,000 paratroopers, infantrymen and artillerymen was to converge the next morning on this bomb-scarred, triangular-shaped Communist stronghold of 15 square miles.

CONG SNIPER
 The spotter pilot did not live to see it. A well-concealed Viet Cong antiaircraft gun shot down his plane. His body was recovered by helicopter.

Just an hour before the huge operation began, the U.S. troops and the Vietnamese forces in the area were told what was planned. American units from three bases, each 30 miles apart, began to converge at midnight Friday on the Viet Cong territory 25 miles northwest of Saigon. French and Vietnamese forces were never able to penetrate it successfully.

A long convoy of heavy tanks, armored personnel carriers, and trucks loaded with troops of the 1st Infantry Division left their base near Saigon during the night. They headed northwest to the Vietnamese ranger training center deep in Viet Cong territory near Trung Lap.

American and New Zealand artillery took positions in the area and began firing at dawn. At the same time a fleet of about 80 helicopters started to ferry several battalions of the 1st Infantry, the 173rd Airborne Brigade, and the Royal Australian Regiment into positions from which they could fan out to block off the triangle. River north of the area was closed to all traffic. Loudspeakers from helicopters sent the message to hiding Viet Cong and their civilian supporters. It said anyone trying to navigate the river would be shot.

One large houseboat set out. From 3,000 feet up, troops in the first swarm of helicopters could see several persons feverishly paddling to get extra speed there that had plagued pilots for years were quiet, apparently silenced by the many B52 strikes of recent months.

But as soon as the helicopters reached the southern bank small-arms fire spat from the villages, paddy fields and plantations below.

COPTER HIT
 One helicopter was hit and plummeted into a field of tapioca. As it dropped the blades continued rotating and kept it from crashing. Another helicopter rescued the troops and crew on board.

As the assault helicopters set down, the soldiers saw that every surrounding building was on fire from air strikes that had just ended. A field of unharvested rice blazed; the draft of the many rotor blades fanned the flames 50 feet high.

The troops rushed to the perimeter of the landing zone toward a long-abandoned rubber plantation. A few sniper shots cracked and kicked up dust, but the Americans paid little heed.

As the first troops reached the plantation they pulled up short. Before them was a Viet Cong defense line such as they had never before encountered — a zigzag trench about 300 yards long, hidden under brush and trees. It was empty.

The trench was six feet deep. Every three feet along the bottom was a step on which sharpshooters could raise up and fire, then drop back under cover.

TUNNEL NETWORK
 A network of tunnels flowed from the trench to outlying machine-gun emplacements and antiaircraft pits.

For every rifleman there was a small cave dug in the back wall of the trench which they could slip into when under artillery or air bombardment.

Some of the tunnels sloped down 10 or 15 feet to underground command bunkers that could hold 10 men.

As the troops pushed deeper into the plantation, they realized they were on top of an underground guerrilla camp. They encountered four more of these intricate trench-tunnel networks, linked together smaller defense lines.

"If the VC had stayed," said one infantryman, "it would have been a fight like in the history books of World War I. We never would have gotten out of the landing zone."

The battalion's advance became painstaking and dangerous. Sniper fire erupted, and the Viet Cong seemed to be all around.

RED FIRES
 One Communist sharpshooter with a carbine fired on the lead platoon. A bullet pierced a soldier's helmet, spun around his head and stuck in the helmet liner. The man was nearly scalped. With blood streaming down his face, he walked to an ambulance helicopter.

Artillery was called against the sniper, but when the bat-tion had moved another 100 yards he opened up again from a hole and killed a man. Later he harassed the rear.

Another Viet Cong popped up from a hole and threw a grenade at two soldiers only 10 feet away. One was killed, the other crumpled with many wounds.

A guerrilla hidden in a tunnel detonated a claymore mine that smashed into an American moving down a trail. He was killed on the spot.

The battalion command post settled down for lunch in what they thought was a secure area. Snipers snapped at them from 15 yards away. The men dived into Viet Cong holes and C-rations spilled in all directions.

Modification Of Abortion Laws Eyed

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
 Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — A doctor and a former prosecutor contended Saturday that modification of laws dealing with therapeutic abortion would reduce the one million criminal abortions and resulting 5,000 deaths they estimate occur in the United States each year.

"It is apparent that morals, religion, and the common law offer little restraint when it comes to abortion," they said in a report published in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The report, prepared by Dr. Jerome M. Kummer, of the University of California at Los Angeles school of medicine, and Zad Leavy, former deputy district attorney of Los Angeles County, said:

PREVENT DEATHS
 "Since it is obvious that the primary goal of the law today is to prevent death or injury to the mother, is society indeed protecting the mother's welfare by maintaining harsh and unyielding laws which drive her to the unskilled criminal abortionist? Is there not a lesson to be learned from the Prohibition Era when the indirect evils of the law far exceed the evil at which the law was directed?"

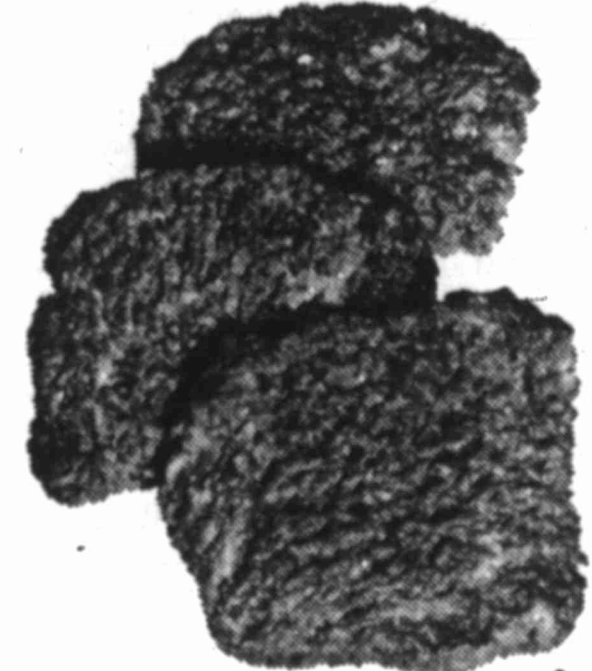

They said 41 states now permit therapeutic abortion "to preserve the life of the mother," and that Alabama, Colorado, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Mexico, Oregon, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia also permit abortion "when the health of the mother is in danger."

They said the model penal code compiled by the American Law Institutes for guidance of state legislatures recommends that doctors be permitted legally to terminate a pregnancy if: (1) It endangers the mother's health; (2) Resulted from rape or incest or occurs in a very young girl; or (3) May result in the birth of a seriously deformed child.

NO DELUSION
 "We are not under the delusion that modifying our existing laws will eliminate criminal abortion," they said. "As long as there are any restrictions at all, women with unwanted pregnancies who are determined to abort will seek out and find abortionists. This is no reason, however, for abandoning all attempts to prevent widespread termination of pregnancies by unskilled hands and to relieve extreme hardship cases."

"The forces in our society opposing abortion are well known and most obvious. What is also obvious is that these social forces have not accomplished their stated goals, namely, maintaining morality and preventing abortion, injury, and death. Instead we are confronted with a sea of heartache and confusion and the tragic wastage of more than 5,000 deaths a year, mostly mothers of young children, women we can least afford to lose."

Negro Home Fire Laid To Explosive

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP)—A Negro leader's home and store were destroyed by fire near here early today and officers said some type of explosive was thrown into the two buildings.

Three members of the family were injured, but not seriously.

Vernon Dahmer, 58, and his daughter, Betty, 10, were in Forrest General Hospital with painful but not serious burns on the arms and face, a hospital spokesman said.

Dahmer's wife, Ellie, 41, was treated for a burn on the arm and released.

The couple's two sons, Harold 25, and Dennis, 13, were not injured.

The home and the store were located about 200 feet apart in the Kelly settlement, five miles north of here.

FBI agents investigated.

Charles Evers, field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored people, said in Jackson Dahmer was a past president of the Forrest County NAACP branch.

Shotgun, Pistol Reported Stolen

Several thefts and a report of vandalism were reported to police over the weekend. Police Capt. L. A. Hiltbrunner, 2602 Cindy Lane, said sometime Jan. 7th a 16-gauge automatic shotgun in a brown leather case was taken from his pickup while it was parked at his home. He valued the gun and case at $200.

A nine-shot .22-caliber revolver with white engraved handles was taken from a ledge in the rear of the 66 Truck Stop, in north Big Spring, Sunday while he was repairing a customer's flat tire, Tommy Peeler told officers.

Mrs. Marie Harper, 300 block of Northwest Third, said her husband's coat was taken from his car Sunday while it was parked in the "flats."

Alex Ruiz, Ellis Homes Building No. 19, Apt. 5, reported someone shot the windshield of his car with an air rifle four times while it was parked at his home Friday, officers said Saturday.

Few Teenagers Sign For Draft

Louise Nuckolls, chief clerk for the Selective Service Board, said that her office had registered only 31 young men who had attained the age of 18 during December. This, she said, is about half the normal monthly number of men who attain the legal registration age each month.

In November, even fewer 18-year-olds bothered to register. A few of these came in during December for belated registration.

Warning was sounded that all men who attain 18 years of age must comply with the law and register promptly with their Selective Service Boards. Several penalties can be applied for deliberate failure to comply with the law, Mrs. Nuckolls said.

Woman Names Husband In Assault Charge

Police jailed the husband of a local woman Sunday after she filed charges of assault with intent to commit murder against him following a fracas which sent her to a local hospital.

Mrs. Linda Barragan, 28, 1206 W. 2nd, filed charges with Walter Grice, peace justice. In a statement, she alleged she was in her mother's home at 901 NW 4th Sunday at about 2 p.m. when her husband forced his way into the home. She said she was knocked to the floor, choked, and struck in the head and face with a soft-drink bottle.

A neighbor called police for an ambulance, and Mrs. Barragan was taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital, where officers questioned her. Her doctor said today Mrs. Barragan is in "reasonably good condition" with concussion, lacerations and bruises. So far, he said, tests have not found any fractures.

One of the woman's eyes was completely closed by the beating, officers said.

Mrs. Barragan said her 145-pound husband has been out of work for about six months, and that they have been having "trouble" for some time. She said that after the beating she ran into the street for help, and her husband left the home.

Barragan was transferred to county jail, where he posted $5,000 bond today, according to sheriff's officers.

Disaster Drill Held At Hospital

A simulated disaster defense drill was held this afternoon at the Veterans Administration Hospital, with the "disaster" being the explosion of the boiler plant.

Participating in the drill were hospital employees and the Big Spring Howard County Civil Defense Department, under the direction of W. D. Berry. At least 20 "casualties" were known with the majority of them suffering from burns.

The drill included positive identification and recording of casualties plus treatment, and supervision of "disaster" areas.

Mrs. Smith Conducting Lubbock Writer's Class

Heleen Reagan Smith, assistant professor of journalism at Oklahoma University, is conducting a writers short course Monday through Friday at the Community Room, Citizens Tower, in Lubbock.

Mrs. Smith, wife of Tracy T. Smith, former Big Spring attorney and brother of Horace Reagan, Big Spring, was reelected here. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. B. Reagan.

At Lubbock she is conducting the course on "How to Plan and Write a Salable Story." Her appearance is being sponsored by the South Plains Writers and includes 2 1/2-hour sessions from 9 a.m.-11:30 a.m. and 7 p.m.-9:30 p.m. Fee for either the morning or evening classes is $25, and this includes criticism of one manuscript up to 5,000 words.

Mrs. Smith has been teaching at Oklahoma for several years, assisting William Foster-Harris, head of the department and a co-founder, with the late Walter S.

Patty Ryan, 16-months-old, plays with toy poodle unmindful of the shooting which left her orphaned. Patty's mother, Mrs. Colleen Ryan, 19, was shot to death in Dallas by the child's grandfather, 42-year-old Robert M. Ryan. Police said Ryan had been hounding his daughter for several years and went to the drive-in cafe where she worked and shot her to death, inflicting a fatal wound. (AP Wire Photo)

Commissioners Peg '66 County Salaries

Howard County commissioners court met Monday to peg 1966 salaries for deputies and officials of the Howard County government. At 11:30 a.m. no official action had been taken on the question, but it was said that no changes other than those already set up in the 1966 budget would be made.

Five county officials made a concerted plea for allowances to pay expenses in attending conferences on the operation of their several offices.

The officers were Frances Glenn, treasurer, who asked for $75; Zarah LeFevre, county assessor - collector, $150; A. N. Standard, sheriff, amount not definitely stated; M. F. Cox, district clerk, $100; and Pauline Petty, county clerk, $100.

The commissioners pointed out that this year's budget was the "highest budget in many years" and that no extra funds are available. Commissioners said they felt the officials would be benefited by attending the conferences, and regretted there were no funds to help them with expenses.

The commissioners court also authorized the purchase of two car radio transmitter-receivers from Motorola for the sheriff's office. Two bids were considered. Motorola offered the two radio receiver-transmitters for $1,954. This bid was accepted. General Electric offered equipment for $1,574.

Four Escape Hospital, Three Back In Custody

Three of four mental patients who escaped from the Big Spring State Hospital about 8 p.m. Saturday, were back in custody this morning.

Hospital authorities reported the four missing after a routine check of the security ward on the north end of the hospital grounds. Apparently, the grill work on a window had been removed with aid of a screw driver in the escape.

The men were identified as Claude Riley, 33, from Lubbock; Danny Brown, 20, from Midland; Charles Lofton, 31, from Odessa; and Juan Rodriguez, 15, from Brownfield.

None of the men are considered dangerous, Dr. Frankie Williams, clinical director, said.

Brown was picked up Sunday night by Midland police and returned to the hospital. Rodriguez and Riley were picked up by Deputies Wayne Tollett and Sam Roberts 12 miles west of Big Spring on US 30 this morning, according to A. N. Standard, sheriff.

Rodriguez was committed to the hospital after he allegedly shot and critically wounded Crosby County Sheriff Fletcher Stark last year. The sheriff had tried to stop and search the youth for a prohibited weapon, when the boy broke and ran. When Stark called for him to halt, the lad pulled a pistol and fired. Rodriguez was later arrested at Petersburg in a stolen pickup. The sheriff recovered.

Classing Office Hits New Peak

LAMESA—Two classers were added to the classing office staff last week due to the increased harvesting activities. According to J. N. Brevard, officer-in-charge of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's classing office in Lamesa, sample receipts increased to a new peak for the season with 20,844 samples being classed. This brings the season's total to 145,389 samples. With the present work-force, the office is able to class approximately 4,000 samples per day.

Grades declined with more samples falling in the spotted categories. A further breakdown of grades shows: strict low middling—19 per cent; middling light spotted—34 per cent; strict low middling light spotted—26 per cent and middling spotted nine per cent.

Staple length fell into two main categories: 29-32 inch—38 per cent; 15-16 inch—38 per cent. Microanal readings remained about the same with 37 per cent miking 3.8 or higher.

Prices quoted on the Lubbock Spot Market Jan. 6, were: strict low middling—15-16 inch—26.20; middling light spotted—15-16 inch—26.25.

Guar Yields Late Crop

LAMESA—A late planted crop of guar has helped a local farmer realize a good return from 30 acres after a June hail wiped out 30 acres of cotton on his Dawson County farm.

Milton Schneider's cotton was hailed out on June 8 and in an attempt to realize some return from the acreage, he planted it to guar on June 10th.

His yield from the guar was 1,782 pounds per acre and he brought in a total of $69.49 per acre.

According to Dawson County Agent Lee Roy Colgan, Schneider was the first in the county to irrigate guar although it has been raised under dryland conditions in the area for a number of years.

Colgan considers the returns good for a late-planted, substitute crop and suggests that other area farmers consider guar if they are forced to plant a late crop.

Schneider's guar received 12 inches of irrigation water and was planted on land that had been fertilized for cotton with 70-70-0. He planted seven pounds of the Hall variety per acre with a regular cotton planter using maize plates. Mill operators told Schneider they have to import guar to run their mill for 10 months of their year-around operation.

Trustees Have Routine Agenda

School trustees will consider a proposed budget amendment for federal funds application at the regular board meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the board room of the administrative office.

Also on the agenda will be a leasing agreement renewal with a local automobile agency for the superintendent's car and contract approval for a driver education car.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Berry, 2900 Cherokee, have returned after attending the funeral of his mother, Mrs. J. B. (Tinie) Berry, 75, in Palestine. Mrs. Berry died after a lingering illness. She leaves three sons, Howard Berry, Big Spring; Bernard Berry, Palestine; and Speegle Berry, Fort Worth; and 10 grandchildren.

Donna Reed Has Filmed Last Closeup For Show

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I feel just the same as I did when I graduated from college," said Donna Reed. "The exams are over."

The difference is that today she is graduating, after double the usual college term, from "The Donna Reed Show." The television series will continue until the end of the season and perhaps forever in reruns. But it was the day she filmed the last closeup for the last show.

"We'll have our usual end of the season party," she reported. "We'll try to avoid the tears and the speeches, but there may be some."

"I'm glad that it's over—sorry, too. I think we've ploried that little field as long as we could, and I'm delighted to be done with it. But still, I'll miss my other family. After all, I've been with Paul (Peterson, her television son) for eight years, and that's a lot of time in anyone's life. Trisha (Patty Peterson, her television daughter) has been with us three years."

Now Donna returns to full-time duty with her own family, particularly daughter Mary Anne, who was born just before the series went on the air.

3 TEENAGERS

"For the past year Mary Anne has been asking, 'When are you going to be finished?'" said Donna. "Now I am." She also has three vigorous teenagers to supervise.

Does this mean she is retiring?

"I can't tell," she said with a note of weariness. "I don't want to act right now, really I don't. I am so thoroughly fed up with facing the camera that I don't think I could do it again for at least a year."

It could be added that she certainly wouldn't need to work for the remainder of her days. "The Donna Reed Show" has made millionaires of herself and husband Tony Owen, who produced it.

City To Get Deed To Lots For Parking

Downtown Big Spring, Inc. will have representatives before the Big Spring city commissioners Tuesday night to turn over the old First National Bank property to the city.

The property has been cleared by the downtown organization, and the city will turn it into a public parking lot.

Also on the short roster for the 7 p.m. meeting in City Hall is reading of bids for the proposed million gallon Scenic Mountain reservoir. The bids were opened last week, and commissioners probably will make an award of contract Tuesday night on the project, slated to be completed this spring.

Other items include a public hearing on Planning and Zoning Commission recommendations — the zone change of Al Milch's property at Birdwell Lane near Phillips Road from "one family" to "retail," and that of the adjacent lot, owned by Dalton White, presently a non-conforming retail - operated beauty parlor; final approval reading of a beer license for the "Taco Hut"; and final approval reading of an ordinance annexing Highland South No. 5 to the city.

Prospects For Indian, Pakistani Accord Dim

TASHKENT, U.S.S.R. (AP)—Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin worked far into the night to persuade the leaders of India and Pakistan to end their summit conference today with a joint statement. But there was no indication of any agreement on major issues.

With negotiations deadlocked since the conference started last Tuesday, Kosygin trotted back and forth Sunday between Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan. He met three times with each, and his last conference with Shastri — did not end until 12:30 a.m. today.

BRIEF TALKS

Shastri entertained Ayub at luncheon but the two leaders apparently had scheduled no more negotiations. They have conferred privately for only two hours and five minutes since arriving in Tashkent.

Even working a joint statement from the two leaders was a success of sorts. Until Sunday night, there was no agreement on wording of a statement, and both the Indian and Pakistani delegations were talking of going home without issuing any.

Both sides, however, openly desired to give Kosygin something tangible to show from the first conference of South Asian leaders on Soviet soil.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper in a dispatch from Tashkent said there was not yet any ready solution for Indian-Pakistani problems and added:

HALF WAY

"Solutions may be achieved, apparently, if both sides display a flexible approach and meet each other half way."

India has refused to budge an inch from its stand that Kashmir is a part of India and its status cannot be negotiated. Pravda seemed to be calling upon India to change this stand, and its comment seemed to some informed observers in Moscow to be a significant shift in the Soviet position.

Marathon Talks Fail In N. Y. Transit Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Marathon negotiations to end the city's 10-day-old bus and subway strike recessed at City Hall just before dawn today, and the chief union bargainer said they had been "completely unproductive and meaningless."

Even as the weary negotiators were leaving, the rumble of converging traffic was building in Manhattan's canyons. City officials said the commuting millions, with a week's bitter experience behind them, had started earlier on this second week of the strike.

Mayor John V. Lindsay, who had summoned the parties to City Hall late Sunday, signaled the recess when he walked from the hall into freezing temperatures at 6:20 a.m., declaring "The mediation panel has declared a recess."

STATEMENT DUE

He declined further comment, and indicated he would have a statement some time after noon.

Moments later, Lindsay was followed by Douglas L. MacMahon, heading the union bargaining team in the absence of the union President, Michael J. Quill who was sent to jail for contempt of court but hospitalized two hours after being locked up.

MacMahon said the Transit Authority had made "no meaningful offer," and that "the mayor sat in on some of these meetings but he didn't seem to prove a help."

MacMahon said Lindsay had mentioned a $50-million figure that would cover all Transit Authority supervisory and union employees and "everyone else." MacMahon rejected it, saying he was bargaining only for hourly paid transit workers.

PACKAGE OFFER

Previously, the authority had offered a $29-million package, and the union's scaled-down demands stood at $216 million.

The recess ended a bargaining session that started Sunday morning at the Hotel Americana and moved to City Hall late in the afternoon.

Thus, the strike continued with these developments:

—Low temperatures piled added misery upon tens of thousands of commuters forced to walk the windswept bridges into Manhattan.

—Traffic experts invoked new emergency rules to speed the flow of nearly 800,000 cars, a street-choking mess.

—The Transport Workers Union called for a mass picketing demonstration at City Hall.

—Shopkeepers in crisis surged on small-business loan centers authorized by President Johnson.

CAR POOLS

—Leaders in Harlem and other poverty areas organized car pools to transport workers unable to pay cab fares.

—The Transit Authority resumed its court effort to collect $322,000 a day in damages from the union.

In an extraordinary move, Lindsay moved the negotiations late Sunday afternoon from their midtown hotel site to City Hall. He stressed that the move did not mean that an immediate settlement was in the wind.

The new traffic emergency measures include more parking facilities and the reversing of bridge and tunnel lanes to cope with the crush during the morning rush hour into Manhattan.

Paralysis-Hit Author Cited

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—An author who can't walk and an astronaut who took a stroll in space are among those named by U.S. Jaycees as outstanding young men of 1965.

The author, Richard Chaput of Nashua, N.H., was paralyzed from the neck down by polio when he was nine years old. Now 28, Chaput uses a special typewriter which he activates with his tongue.

The space walker is Edward H. White II who was named along with fellow astronaut Charles Conrad Jr.

Others cited are Presidential Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla.; space scientist Donald D. Williams of Inglewood, Calif.; educator Arthur E. Turner of Midland, Mich., and Frederick P. Whiddon of Mobile, Ala.; egg producer Fred Rodgers Adams Jr. of Jackson, Miss., and Broadway composer-lyricist Jerry Herman.

AWARDS CONGRESS

They will be honored at an awards congress Jan. 14-15 in St. Paul, Minn.

Chaput made use of private tutoring to develop his writing style and has had several articles and short stories published. His autobiography, "Not to Doubt," was published in 1964.

White, 35, became the first American to leave his spacecraft in flight, spending 21 minutes outside Gemini 4 on June 3. A native of San Antonio, Tex., White was an experimental test pilot before his selection in 1962 as an astronaut.

Conrad, 35, and command pilot Gordon Cooper Jr. teamed in August for an eight-day space mission which established an endurance record despite mechanical problems early in the flight.

CHIEF SCIENTIST

Williams, 34, is chief scientist of the Communications Satellite Laboratory at Hughes Aircraft Co. He devised and demonstrated the basic control systems such as Syncom and Early Bird.

Moyers, 31, was cited for improving President Johnson's relations with the press as news secretary and for his active participation in major policy decisions.

Both Whiddon and Turner were selected for their work in founding and developing educational institutions.

Turner, 34, founded Northwood Institute in Midland, Mich., six years ago. In that time, enrollment has increased 850 per cent and assets have grown from less than $100,000 to more than $6 million.

FIRST PRESIDENT

Whiddon, 35, who led the movement to found the University of South Alabama at Mobile, became its first president. The 35-year-old educator was cited for assuming responsibilities generally reserved for senators with more seniority. Harris serves on three committees and nine subcommittees.

Adams, 34, won recognition for his enterprise in developing the Adams Egg Farms at Edwards, Miss., which claims to be the world's largest producer of eggs. His company grosses about $10 million annually.

Herman, 34, is considered one of the brightest lights on Broadway and has two smash hits, "Milk and Honey," and "Hello Dolly," to his credit.

Civil Rights Protesters To Demonstrate, March

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—Tuskegee Institute students plan to widen the scope of their civil rights protests today by picketing and marching while seven other students demonstrate at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington.

A student leader, Gwen Patton, said the group in Washington consists of the closest friends of Samuel Younge Jr., 21, a student killed in Tuskegee last Monday.

CITY HALL

Miss Patton said students from New York and the Washington area will join the Tuskegee group at the Lincoln Memorial protesting Younge's death.

Tuskegee students said they would march to the downtown area today for the fifth time in six days.

Miss Patton said they intended to picket City Hall, the Macon County courthouse, a clothing store owned by Mayor Charles M. Kever and a bank operated by Alan Parker, a city councilman.

"We're going to picket the courthouse because two persons who went down there to register were given a bad time," she said.

This apparently would be the first sign of protest concerning voter registration in the county. Its population of 27,000 is more than 80 per cent Negro.

After a student government meeting Sunday, leaders said they would make at least 13 demands of the City Council at a special session tonight.

WHITE IN JAIL

One demand has been for a quick trial for Marvin Segrest, 67, a white service station attendant charged with murder in Younge's death. Segrest is in jail and has not yet asked for a preliminary hearing.

Demonstrators have also demanded more job opportunities for Negroes in Tuskegee, desegregation of public facilities and desegregation of private clubs and schools.

Dr. Stanley Hugh Smith, an institute sociology professor and a City Council member, said Sunday he and other city officials had hoped the students would call a moratorium on demonstrations to permit the city to react to the demands.

Smith said the council is considering an ordinance aimed at desegregating all public facilities in the southeast Alabama town of 7,100 and to insure complete police protection for the Negro community.

Tuskegee's 10-man police force includes three Negro patrolmen.

Jack Davis' Father Dies

Funeral services were scheduled this afternoon in Houston for A. J. Davis, father of Jack Davis, formerly a vice president of the First National Bank here.

The elder Mr. Davis succumbed about 1 a.m. Sunday. Rites were set for 3:30 p.m. at the George H. Lewis & Son chapel. Survivors, besides the son, are the widow, and a daughter, Mrs. Jo Peterson of Houston.

Jack Davis was associated with the First National here for a number of years, and left during the past year to become president of the First National Bank in Memphis, Tex.

A Devotional For The Day

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. (Psalm 119:105)
PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee that Thy Word gives to us great and precious promises. May we claim them and go forward in the strength of our Lord Jesus Christ. In His name we pray. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

No Time To Let Up

Two stories about the narcotics traffic that appeared on the same recent day provide some insight into the extent of this devilish worldwide racket. One of the stories concerned the seizure of some $57 million worth of heroin smuggled into this country—the largest single haul of the drug ever made by law enforcement agents in the United States. The other story, based on a report by the United Nations Narcotics Commission, noted that agents and customs officials throughout the world seize only about 10 per cent of the narcotics being moved illegally.

The fact that the great bulk of illegal narcotics escapes detection is not surprising when one considers the persistence and ingenuity of the smugglers. The U.N. commission reports, for example, that in Bahrain police seized a consignment of "lemons" which proved to be balls of raw marijuana covered with a yellow rubber skin. In Hong Kong, authorities discovered two tons of opium hidden among 50 tons of bamboo on a ship. In Southampton, a quantity of marijuana was found in the false bottom of a drum shipped from Africa. British officials also found this drug concealed in the handles of tennis rackets from Pakistan.

The reason for all this exercise of ingenuity is simple: The profit in narcotics is fantastically high. The shipment of heroin recently seized in this country, for instance, was valued at $18.5 million wholesale—but at more than three times that when "cut," or diluted, for retail sale.

Filling A Real Need

The fifth session of the Southwest Academy of Law Enforcement is now under way at Howard County Junior College, and although the current enrollment is smaller than usual, the demand for a class at this season of the year attests to the vigor and effectiveness of the course for peace officers.

and is drawing increasing support from cities in this general area. We dare say that beginning officers who take this month of intensive, special training are better officers from the start and perhaps in the long run, too.

David Lawrence Meeting The N.Y. Transit Problem

WASHINGTON—How could the transit strike in New York City be satisfactorily settled? Putting aside all the emotional outbursts, name-calling and irresponsible actions that have occurred, the question, after all, is whether the demands of 33,000 human beings for better working conditions are being given proper consideration.

There are two sides to almost every labor dispute. Unfortunately, the workers' side is too often clouded by the injudicious action of labor leaders either seeking to perpetuate themselves in office or to indulge in some form of exhibitionism.

THE BEST THING that could happen to solve the problem would be for the union leaders to send the men back to work after receiving assurance from the mayor of New York City that a special tribunal would be set up to examine all the demands and to render a decision based upon equity and fair play.

For certainly transit workers who see other employees of the city government getting better wages in less strenuous jobs feel that they are the victims of discrimination. Standards could be set up for all city government employees, so that there would be a wider knowledge among the workers themselves as to the basis for compensation.

IT IS ACKNOWLEDGED, for example, that some of the transit workers are being paid less than is being received by other employees in comparable jobs. But this is not the kind of thing that can be settled by a strike or by a show of economic force or other coercive tactics. When a city government is involved, it represents the people—not only those who live within the borders of the city but those who come daily from outlying areas to do their work.

BY SETTING UP a special tribunal to study the whole question of the pay of employees of the city of New York, Mayor Lindsay would be taking a constructive step. Those who work for a city government are entitled to as much consideration as employees who are outside the government, and in recent years there has been substantial progress made by the federal government itself in improving its wage scales. These have been long neglected. Government employees have not fared as well over the years as have persons in private employment. While some differentials are inevitable, the gap has been too wide in many instances. The transit strike in New York City accentuates this defect in the compensation system for government employees.

BUT WHEN ALL is said and done, the employers in a city are the citizens of the municipality. They are the ones who must pay the taxes, and there has not been enough information given them as to the importance of setting up adequate wage scales in order to get efficient service.

While private companies must make a profit and pay a fair return on investments, federal, state and city governments have an obligation also—to see that taxes do not go too high, that budgets are balanced, and that the money spent for services brings the desired result. For government has every right to expect that its employees will be competent and that they will give to their jobs the continuing efficiency that is expected from them.

THE ENTIRE METHOD of fixing compensation by federal, state or city governments is far different from that which occurs in private employment. Hence, tribunals must be set up to watch the wage problem carefully as it affects the employees.

The lesson that the New York City strike teaches is that very little can be settled by violence or by economic coercion. But the leaders in the transit union unwittingly have succeeded in drawing attention to the fact that unions would not be necessary if there were a responsible system for fixing the compensation of employees in many of our city governments.

Seldom Late

NEW YORK (AP)—Nine out of 10 New York City secretaries are never, or almost never, late for work, according to a survey by Bulova Time Center researchers. The pollsters found that only 5 per cent of Manhattan's Gal Fridays are late "frequently" and 5 per cent "almost always."

Heavy Loss

Reds Embroiled In Bitter Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communist world found itself embroiled today in a new and bitter dispute which could have far-reaching repercussions.

The new controversy centers around a charge by Communist China that Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro lied in saying Peking refused to carry out a plan to barter rice for Cuban sugar.

BUT DEEPER than a trade dispute is the real cause of the controversy—the Peking-Moscow struggle for leadership of the Communist world and the timing of the current disagreement.

One immediate effect of the Peking-Havana quarrel could be an internal struggle at the three-continent "solidarity" conference now under way in Havana. Some said it might produce a walkout of Red China's delegation which has found the conference heavily weighted in favor of the Soviet line. Moscow bolsters Castro's regime with economic and military aid estimated at $1 billion a day.

THE TIMING of the dispute is significant. It was begun by Castro on the eve of the Asia-Africa-Latin American meeting. He announced that his government and Red China found themselves in disagreement on a plan under which China would send rice to Cuba in exchange for sugar.

The Peking government's action has caused a cut from six to three pounds per month in the ration of rice in Cuba, where rice is a major staple of the diet.

Now the Peking government has issued a blistering statement about Castro's declaration. Stripped of its diplomatic niceties, Peking says in effect:

1. Castro is a liar.
2. CASTRO VIOLATED the norms of international good manners in speaking out publicly about negotiations then under way, particularly since Cuba has an official mission now in Peking to present his viewpoint.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

It has been estimated that the average girl kisses 74 lads before she finds the one she marries. But to reach that score she must have played "post office" at a lot of birthday parties during her school days.

The U.S. farmer is one of the world's most efficient manufacturers. He now grows enough food each year to feed 31 people, five of whom live in impoverished foreign countries and are fed practically free on Uncle Sam's bounty.

YOUR BODY is a busy factory. It has some 30 trillion red blood cells, each of which lives about four months. Your bone marrow has to produce 10 billion of them every hour to keep you healthy.

Musicalists say more songs probably have been written about Franklin D. Roosevelt than any other man in modern times. There are more than 100 listed.

CREEPERS: SOME safety experts rate highway slowpokes as more dangerous than speeders and perhaps even than drinking drivers. They say that cars traveling at 20 miles below average highway speed are involved in twice as many accidents as those going 20 miles faster than average speed.

Tiny but still mighty: Britain's 52,710,000 people make up less than two per cent of the world's inhabitants and occupy only about a fifth of one per cent of earth's land area. But they produce one sixth of the world's exports and handle 10 per cent of its international shipping.

THE U.S. Air Force reportedly is developing a machine that can learn from its own mistakes. If it succeeds, this probably will be the machine's final victory over man.

The teabag is an historical accident. In 1904, a New York merchant bagged small samples of his tea and sent them to prospective customers. They soon found tea could be conveniently brewed by simply dunking the bags in boiling water—and a new industry was born.

Worth remembering: "The reason a dollar won't do as much for people as it once did is that people won't do as much for a dollar as they once did."

Dear Dr. Molner: My three-year-old son has a mild nose bleed on occasion, not much more than a trickle, but I wonder if you think it indicates serious trouble. It has occurred about three or four times in a year and a half, when he is asleep. —MRS. M.

Tell your pediatrician the next time the youngster has a check-up. It could be a fragile capillary (small blood vessel) or a small ulcer in the nose. But don't worry about it and don't do anything else unless the nose bleeds increase or some other sign appears. He may bump or pick his nose when he sleeps.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

He Swallowed His Domino

One thing and another: I've heard of people scarring dominoes with finger nails and biting them in disgust after games in which they went against them but a fellow on the Isle of Wight takes the cake.

He recently underwent an operation to retrieve a domino which he had swallowed. Seems the 'rock' flipped into his glass of beer while he was playing with friends.

SHARE WITH me the story of a hard-eyed executive of a concern in an eastern city who thinks all his workers employed by his company should earn their money.

He spotted one fellow lounging by a soft drink machine, approached him and asked:

"What do you make?"
"Why, er-ah, $125 a week," the workman stammered.

The executive whipped out his wallet, extracted $125 and ordered his listener:

"Now, get out of here."
It wasn't until later that he learned that the workman was a delivery man.

IF YOU'RE at a loss as to what to do about crabgrass, you might eat it like some Europeans do. They plant their crabgrass in backyard gardens for that special purpose. Its seeds are considered a delicate cereal when boiled like rice.

IF YOU PAID $250 in state and local taxes last year, consider your self average.

The Census Bureau says that state averages varied from $146 in South Carolina to more than $300 in California, Nevada and New York.

ANOTHER ITEM from the government:

The Police Office Department has on order 2.4 million ball-point refills to handle an estimated 3.1 million miles of addressing done by the public as its post office counters. The refills cost the government 2.25 cents each, which figures out to $54,000.

How far is 3.1 million miles? That's about the distance traveled by the recent eight-day Gemini 5 spaceflight.

Since the Post Office department introduced ball-point pens at its counters a decade ago, an estimated 34 million miles have been written with their pens.

Republicans Should Assert Policy

WASHINGTON—You could describe the Republican Party in the murky dawn of 1966 as a fumbler who doesn't quite dare alarm the sleeping household by inserting his key in the lock and opening the door of truth.

IT'S ABUNDANTLY evident by this time that Sargent Shriver had made an administrative botch of the Democratic war on poverty. A good many Republicans predicted in 1964-65 that this could happen. They said the Office of Economic Opportunity, which Shriver heads, would supply a lot of jobs for insufferable do-gooders, but would do almost nothing to alleviate poverty.

The Republicans might well adopt a policy of denying relief to employable men, women and children who refuse either jobs or schooling. But when you find such a philosophy fearlessly set forth, it emits from the mouth of an offbeat Democrat, Senator Robert Byrd of West Virginia.

ON FOREIGN POLICY, the Republicans have taken the hard line, saying that North Viet Nam ought to be bombed into submission. The American people, however, must be excused if they fail to learn what the Republicans would do if this advice were followed. We know perfectly well what President Johnson would do should victory fall into his lap. He has already offered a $1 billion reconstruction program in Southeast Asia, and has assigned Eugene Black to be the principal bankroller of agricultural and industrial miracle-making. But that kind of postwar involvement is pretty much a repetition of what we've already undertaken. It does not represent a clean break or a new beginning. The Republicans are remiss in not offering the country a truthful appraisal of postwar Asia in '66.

THE TRUTHFUL appraisal would have to say that our wars in Korea and Viet Nam remain unresolved because we haven't attacked, defeated, or even contained the control of our Asian enemy—Red China.

A truthful appraisal of a fresh beginning in Asia would have to consider an all-out war against Red China, but it could reject this extreme measure without accepting the Democratic formula of friendship shopping. With the $1 billion the President has pledged for dubious measures of buying good-will among Asians, we could build a frowning Air and Navy complex in South Viet Nam which would do a lot more to insure our national security. It would be a gateway, like West Berlin, to receive fugitives from the Communist regimes beyond it, and it would be an additional fortress, land-based but sea-supplied, to prevent Red China from menacing the nearby independent nations.

SUCH A PLAN, clearly enunciated, would be very different from the repetitious statements by the Johnson Administration that we do not desire any foothold in Asia. The fact is that we do desire a foothold. We have two American States, Hawaii and Alaska, which extend far into the Western Pacific and which require us to keep the same forward positions that we maintain along the islands and upon the mainland of Europe.

It would surprise me if a great many Americans didn't feel that the Democratic party is botching both the poverty and the Communist problems—and that the Republican party is still failing to offer the necessary alternatives.

COMPUTER MAKERS say this

WHAT OTHERS SAY

There is no acceptable excuse for shutting the United States Information Service Library in London. This action is even less defensible than the closing of the Benjamin Franklin Library in Paris and eleven other American libraries in France and West Germany.

The London library occupied quarters planned specifically for it when the new American Embassy was built on Grosvenor Square. Thus a steep rent bill, a factor in some U.S.I.S. library closures, was not involved. What will be saved is the salary of an American librarian and several assistants.

It was a splendid library with a wide-ranging collection of books, periodicals and reference materials, patronized by many ordinary citizens as well as journalists, students and research scholars. It maintained a brisk mail circulation for readers outside London. One of its distinguished British mourners, Iain Macleod, writes: "It seems hardly an exaggeration to say that the library was possibly the single most important focus of goodwill toward the U.S. in Britain."

That is the point that seems forever lost on the Rooneys and the Ellenders and the other budgetcutters in Congress who try to dictate U.S.I.S. policy.

The desire of both Congress and the Administration to expand the American information program in Asia, Africa and Latin America is understandable; but it is preposterous to argue that the richest nation on earth cannot afford the modest amounts necessary to maintain libraries in every Western capital.

—NEW YORK TIMES

Billy Graham

If man is capable of living a good life without Christ, is it necessary to be a Christian in the accepted sense of the word? What I am trying to say is: If one has no problem of dishonesty, or being unethical, what does one have to be "saved" from?

U. I. Christ did not come just to make people ethical, honest and good. He came to give people a new quality of life and to redeem them for eternity. He did not come to reform them, but to transform them. He said: "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Of course, right conduct is an outgrowth of the new life He gives.

In fact the Bible teaches that it is impossible to behave as we ought unless we are possessors of His Life. The Bible makes a blanket judgment upon all men: "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God."

You ask: If one can be ethical without Christ, what need is there of being saved? First, the Bible says that sin has so infiltrated the race, that no completely ethical person exists. But even if some rare person approximated such perfection, there would still be another reason for accepting Christ: To receive the quality of life which He alone can give. "As many as received Him to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them which believe on His name."

I know it is hard for us to acknowledge our need of a Savior. But don't let pride rob you of the most exciting relationship in the world: union with Christ.

'Control' Of Epilepsy Doesn't Mean 'Cure'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Perhaps the real, useful point to bring out on the basis of your letter is this: Epilepsy occurs in all degrees, from very slight to very severe.

Your son, Mrs. M., had several attacks. He had medication. He reached a point at which he no longer needed this and his encephalogram (brain wave test) showed only a slight deviation. His case of epilepsy is extremely mild. Be grateful for that.

But can I, in good conscience, start being optimistic about epilepsy when some patients may have dozens or scores of petit mal attacks in a single day, and when others have grand mal attacks (the convulsions in which the patient falls to the ground helpless) and suggest that somehow or other their troubles may vanish? No, Mrs. M., I can't.

Almost all cases of epilepsy can be helped by medication. Very large numbers of patients, by taking the proper medication regularly, can avoid further attacks—meaning that the ailment is controlled, but it isn't cured, since they have to keep on with the medication.

Some lucky ones, like your son, have such mild cases that they need no more than to be helped over a rough period, if one occurs. Yet if I optimistically called a mild case a cured one, think what false hopes I would raise in the hearts of people whose cases are not so mild.

Dear Dr. Molner: My three-year-old son has a mild nose bleed on occasion, not much more than a trickle, but I wonder if you think it indicates serious trouble. It has occurred about three or four times in a year and a half, when he is asleep. —MRS. M.

Tell your pediatrician the next time the youngster has a check-up. It could be a fragile capillary (small blood vessel) or a small ulcer in the nose. But don't worry about it and don't do anything else unless the nose bleeds increase or some other sign appears. He may bump or pick his nose when he sleeps.

Charges Will Be Filed In Narcotics Raid

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Cleveland County Atty. Preston Tremble said charges would be filed today in a weekend narcotics raid in which 14 persons, 11 of them students, were arrested.

Norman Police Chief Bill Henslee said besides quantities of narcotics and "pep pills" taken in the raid Saturday night officers also confiscated printed matter opposing the Viet Nam war effort.

Marijuana was found in a basement apartment of a building located near the University of Oklahoma campus, Henslee said, in addition to barbiturates and amphetamines, and a derivative of the stimulant peyote.

In another apartment occupied by the students, Henslee said they found posters in literature opposing U.S. involvement in the Asian conflict.

The raid came at the end of weeks of surveillance, Henslee said Sunday night, in which the "situation steadily got worse." He said the group was infiltrated by Jack Hill, a Midwest City police officer.

Dear Abby

She Got Results

DEAR ABBY: A colonel suggested that a service wife with a grievance against her husband would get quicker results by writing directly to her husband's Commanding Officer rather than to her Congressman. I am a retired Army major, and hear this:

One lady, whose philandering husband ran my operations section, wrote to me with her complaints. I called the sergeant in and we had a little chat. Then I sat down and wrote the wife the usual letter: "I have discussed the matter with your husband, et cetera, et cetera, et cetera." Well, it seems this gal was singularly unimpressed with my "et ceteras," so she unlimbered her typewriter and gave out with an encore. She wrote not only to her Congressman, but to BOTH her senators, AND to the Chief of Staff, AND to the Adjutant General, AND to the Chief of Chaplains, AND to the Secretary of State AND the Secretary of Defense. And to top it off, she wrote to the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES AND MRS. EISENHOWER!

Abby, you should have seen the fan mail I got from Washington! Those who lived through it still speak in awed whispers of the "Great July Blizzard of 1954." But that was one Operations Sergeant who really got straightened out in a hurry. Sincerely,
"HONEST AL" in Roanoke, Va. Major, USAF (Retired)

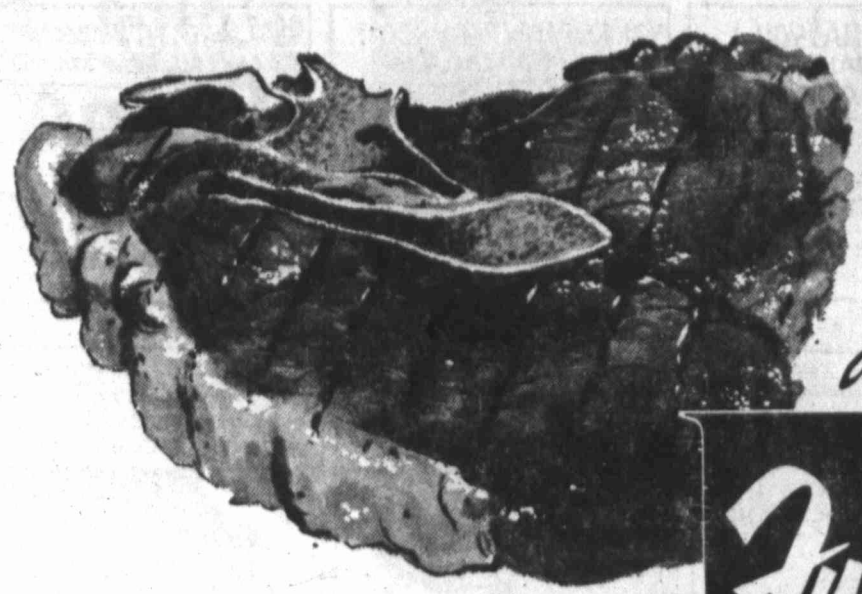

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old and in our house we have this rule: Nobody can accept a telephone call during supper time. Well, I have told this to all my friends, but this one girl, no matter how many times I tell her, always calls me during the supper hour and I have to say, "I'll call you back later," but she says, "I just want to say this one little thing," and she goes right on talking, and then I get into trouble. I have even tried hanging up on her, but she calls back. My family would never just let the phone ring, so this puts me in a very awkward and embarrassing position. Please help me.
B. G.

DEAR B. G.: Don't answer the telephone during mealtime, and if she calls, ask whoever answers the phone to say that you are having your supper and cannot leave the table.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me why people will not make reservations for dinners at civic clubs and church dinners? Then they show up at the last minute, sometimes bringing a guest or two. They seem to think that "one or two more" won't matter, but if you have to feed 25 or 30 more than you planned on, it makes a whole lot of difference. I would like to have the hat they think we pull our food out of.

NO MAGICIAN
DEAR NO: Those who do not make reservations but show up anyway are divided (like Gail) into three parts: the lazy, the thoughtless and the disorganized.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Filmland's Zukor Busy At Age 93

By BOB THOMAS
AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — He seems, as he pads wispily down a studio street, as if a sudden gust of wind might carry him away.

But when he sits down in his office and talks about the movie business the ancient eyes take on a glow, and the voice speaks forcefully.

This is Adolph Zukor, 93 years old and still keeping daily office hours at Paramount Studios, which he founded.

ARCADE START
The Hungarian-born ex-furrier was one of the major archifacts of the movie industry. He began with a penny arcade in 1903, later helped create the star system and theater chains and the big-studio operation.

Some of the Zukor innovations have faded with changing industry patterns. Studios no longer control assemblages of stars. Film companies divested their theater chains on government orders. The Hollywood studios now are virtually clusters of independent producers.

But Zukor has witnessed many changes in the film world, and he was never more confident.

BETTER CONDITION
"I think the picture business is in better condition now than it has been for the last 10 years," he remarked. "TV had its vogue, when the novelty of having entertainment in the home was so enticing that people didn't care what they looked at."

"But it has always been true in show business that when you feed the public the same thing over and over again, no matter how juicy the diet gets stale."

"Now people are willing to pay money to go out and see movies. And fortunately the producers are making more good pictures than ever before."

Nor are his opinions from hearsay.

He sees many films, Paramount's and competitors', and watches a great deal of television as well. Now chairman of the board emeritus of Paramount Pictures, he spends every business day in his New York office from 10 to 4.

Don't Get Wrong Idea!

Hemisphere Is Political Stew

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A political panorama as varied as its geography — from smoking volcanoes to tranquil lakes — marks the Western Hemisphere at the start of 1966.

The political trouble spots center in those countries where the military have overthrown constitutional regimes. Economic problems are everywhere.

Continued agitation is due to plague the Dominican Republic where smoldering political fires are barely kept under control by the presence of the 8,000-man Inter-American peace force — 6,800 of them U.S. soldiers.

ONLY BARRIER
The force seems the only barrier to another wave of violence. It looks as if it will remain at least until after the elections scheduled for June 1 — and possibly the rest of the year.

Lamesan Hurt In Car Accident Near Fairview

Leslie Carrol Robinson, 26, Lamesa, is in Howard County Hospital with serious head injuries sustained at 12:35 a.m. Sunday in a one car accident, 6.7 miles north on US 87.

Highway patrol officers said that Robinson was alone in his pickup truck going north. At the Vealmoor intersection, near the Fairview Gln, Robinson suddenly began weaving westward across the barriers into the north lane on US 87.

Somehow the door of the vehicle swung open and flipped Robinson out. He struck his head on the paving. The truck finally crashed into a curbing. It did not upset.

Robinson was left in the middle of the slab and, from midmarks, several motorists narrowly missed running over the unconscious man.

The highway patrol officers said there was heavy smoke from the gin burner sweeping over the area at the time and that this may have made it difficult to see the road clearly.

U.S. Nazi Raps Support Given Demonstrators

HOUSTON (AP) — George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi Party, struck out at socialist Ben Levy's views on anti-Viet Nam demonstrators Sunday in a debate at Rice University.

Rockwell charged that draft card burners and anti-war demonstrators are guilty of treason because they are giving aid and comfort to the enemy. They "are pulling the rug out from under our boys in Viet Nam," Rockwell said.

Levy, chairman of the Houston Socialist Forum, maintained the demonstrators have the right to express their opinions on American policy in Vietnam.

Sears' Catalogs Mailed Here

Twenty-seven thousand copies of the current catalog for Sears, Roebuck Co. have arrived at the Big Spring Post Office and are being distributed.

The Big Spring Post Office acts as distributing center for a large number of communities in West Texas and New Mexico. Only 2,626 of the catalogs will be delivered here, according to Frank Hardesty, postmaster.

However, he said, that the 141,344 pounds of mail will enrich the postal receipts for January by $8,636.80. A check in that amount 'as been received.

The post office here redistributed the catalogs to other towns and cities. Handling of the catalogs will continue throughout this week.

Rhodesian Regime Seen Ready For Negotiations

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson is reported preparing new terms to offer the rebellious Rhodesian government. The Rhodesian regime is reported ready to negotiate.

Wilson flies today to Lagos, Nigeria, in an attempt to convince restless Commonwealth members that his Rhodesian policies are in sight of success.

Peter Bessell, a Liberal member of the House of Commons, returned from Rhodesia and said that Prime Minister Ian Smith is ready for new negotiations with Britain. Bessell said three other British lawmakers who visited the central African territory with him agree that talks should be opened quickly to prevent the collapse of Rhodesia's economy.

Wilson was expected to tell the conference of Commonwealth prime ministers today that the Rhodesian economy is being badly hurt by the oil embargo and the ban on tobacco and sugar trade imposed by Britain.

He was not expected to disclose his terms for a settlement yet. They would be announced within two or three weeks, sources said.

Wilson may also tell African leaders he is ready to turn up the heat on the white minority regime with tougher penalties that could include a ban on all trade.

Since Smith declared Rhodesia independent Nov. 11, Wilson has resisted African demands to go beyond economic sanctions and use Britain's military might to crush the rebellion. Government sources say that other Rhodesians are ready to form a government in cooperation with the British, replacing Smith's regime. However, news dispatches and reports of some political observers suggest that life in Rhodesia has not been disturbed seriously so far and that the Smith regime is firmly in power.

According to close associates, Wilson appears to be thinking of a caretaker administration for Rhodesia composed of eminent politicians and probably including some members of the present regime.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠QJ107♥105♣AK43

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♣ Pass 1♥ Pass
2♦ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—One spade. The hand is not strong enough for a jump to two no trump. A bid of one spade is therefore suggested as a temporary measure. If partner passes, it is because he has a very weak hand.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠QJ10753♥K6♣K742♣Q

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass 1♣ 1♥ Pass
1♠ Pass 1NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Inasmuch as you have great playing strength, a bid of three spades is recommended. This is not forcing but strongly urges partner to continue.

Q. 3—As South vulnerable you hold:
♠AKQJ10742♥5♠72♠83

The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
3♣ 4♥ Pass 5♣
Pass 6♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—What is the purpose of North's six club bid? He is stating: "Partner, I am forcing you automatically to bid a slam. My reason for telling you I have club control is that it may enable you to bid a grand slam." Since partner has no support for spades, he must have the other three aces to justify his request that we bid a grand slam and the proper call is seven spades.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠8♣AK10853♠AK10742

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♦ Pass 1♣ 3♥
4♣ 4♥ 4♣ Dble. ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Your partner must realize that you have great length in diamonds and clubs and are, therefore, apt to be short in spades. His four spade bid, therefore, must have been based on a strong suit. East is obviously counting on some heart tricks and will be disappointed.

pointed. The proper procedure is to redouble. A rescue to five of a minor suit would be a blatant insult to your partner.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠102♥95♠Q9♣KQJ9873

The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
3♦ Dble. Pass ?

What is your response?
A.—Four clubs. On the surface this may appear inadequate, because four clubs is only a forced bid and could show considerably less in trick taking values. However, a bid of five clubs would be too drastic in view of your doubletons in all three suits.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠A1084♥AJ83♠K♠A1063

The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass 1♣ 1♦ 2♣
2♥ Dble. Pass 2♣
Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Four spades. Partner's bid has shown that he has a lack of high cards. This became evident when he refused to stand for the double. However, his distribution must be very favorable and you ought to be able to hold your losers to three.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠6♥AK1084♠1063♠AQ95

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♦ Pass 1♥ Pass
1♠ Pass 2NT Pass
4♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Six hearts. Partner has opened the bidding, shown another suit and then jumped in hearts. Since you have better than an opening bid, there is enough material for a slam, and you should up and bid it.

Q. 8—As South vulnerable you hold:
♠75♥K98♠KQJ109♠AKJ9

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♦ Pass 1♥ 1♠
Pass Pass 2♣ 2♠
Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Three hearts. It is true that you opened a minimum hand, but two rounds of bidding have transformed it. You splendid fit in partner's two suits makes it reasonable to suppose that you are safe for nine tricks.

BOSTON (AP) — A Boston doctor dictated treatment by radio today to fellow crewmen of a fisherman who incurred a deep head wound aboard a trawler pounded by strong winds and high seas off Cape Cod.

The fisherman, Harry Ingram, about 62, suffered a gash from the right ear to the right eye, was bleeding badly and was reported near death.

REACHES TRAWLER
The Coast Guard cutter Acushnet was ordered out of Provincetown and reached the trawler, Rush, some 120 miles east of Woods Hole. The Italian passenger liner Cristoforo Colombo, bound for New York, was diverted from its course to aid in the rescue.

A Coast Guard medical corpsman was put aboard the Rush.

When it was determined there were no ships with doctors aboard in the immediate vicinity of the Rush, a radio relay was set up between the Public Health Hospital, the Coast Guard and the trawler, the Coast Guard said.

Now, workers are dressing the dead tree with artificial leaves to see how it looks.

"If it looks good enough, we may not even replace the tree," said City Manager Joe Latimore.
