KOTHE TELLS CHAMBER BANQUET

...Creative Individuals Vital Untapped Power

The untapped power of the self-developed individual is the most important and least understood phenomenon in America today, labor relations consultant Charles A. Kothe told a crowd of 500 at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Saturday night.

Kothe, past vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told the crowd at the Goliad Junior High School gymnasium that America's best-kept secret is remarkable achievements by individuals, made through voluntary associations and self-help programs in local communities.

"The demagogues who have been selling the 'something-for-nothing' philosophy, or the 'get-your-share-through-the-group' concept have been successful only because they have been the most articulate in the marketplace," he said.

"Defeat of big government will not come by complaint or criticism, but by outperforming it," he added.

Kothe said that the American in 20 years will have as many as three, five or even nine separate careers. He said that man's whole attitude toward retraining for new undertakings must and will be changed. Kothe added that at least 90 per cent of the work that man will be doing will be creative in the service fields.

"We can foresee the diminishing of factory jobs, but no rise in unemployment," he reflected. "In fact, full employment for all who are willing to work will be available, and this will not be accomplished by government, but by enlightened, highly motivated, self-reliant people."

RE-DISCOVERY VITAL

Kothe said that the need for the re-discovery of the individual was of prime importance in the next 20 years.

"The need is for all men to

Reviewing The Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

Surely 1966 cannot continue to be as violent as it has started. Last week we had three more traffic deaths and one from a gun accident. In the area, a fourth man died in a highway mishap. Airman 3.C. Frank H. Rousey, 20, and Airman 3.C. Donald R. Kennedy, 18, of Webb when thrown from their skidding motorcycle into the curb near a City Park entrance stop. Guy J. Brown, 70, straightened up from fixing a flat tire at the edge of US 57 some 8 1/2 miles north of here and was killed by a passing truck. Four miles south of Colorado City, a gasoline transporter overturned, killing Earl Ray Richardson, 22.

There was a rash of gin accidents. The first occurred at Coahoma a week ago when a burr separator housing collapsed and pitched Tom Birkhead, 56, of Coahoma feet first into the rollers. When surgery became imperative, his heart stopped

Indira Gandhi Probably Next Indian Leader

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Mrs. Indira Gandhi, daughter of the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, burst to the fore Saturday as the strong favorite to become the next prime minister of India.

Mrs. Gandhi, 48, information minister in the present government, gained almost unbeatable support from the governing Congress party politicians who will select the new leader.

ALMOST CERTAIN

Unless another candidate pulls political magic in the next day or so, it appears India, second largest nation in the world with 480 million people, will have a woman as successor to Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, who died Tuesday.

Only once before has a woman been prime minister of any nation. Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike was prime minister of neighboring Ceylon until defeated in an election last spring.

Mrs. Gandhi's break came with an announcement by President Kumaraswami Kamaraj of the Congress party that "almost all" of India's state chief ministers favored her.

If the support holds, she would pick up the reins of power just 19 months after her famous father died on May 27, 1964. She had been among those discussed as a possible successor to Nehru, but Shastri was chosen.

Dr. Johnson Is Recipient Of Jaycee Service Award

Dr. Robert E. Johnson was the recipient of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Saturday night in the Goliad Junior High School gymnasium.

Dr. Johnson, a Big Spring resident since 1958, has been active in various civic organizations and has held major offices in most of them. He received the award from Jack Orr, Jaycee president.

Dr. Johnson, a young man who worked his way through Baylor and Baylor Dental College, has been active in civic work here, including the United Fund, Boy Scout district committee, the Jaycees, American Business Club, Big Spring Country Club and the YMCA Indian Guide program. He and his wife, Pat, have two sons.

POUND CONG HARDER, U.S. SOLON URGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., advocated Saturday the bombing of industrial centers in Viet Nam unless the Viet Cong agrees to meaningful peace negotiations.

"If our adversaries will not agree to meaningful peace talks, they should be hit harder, and the industrial and political centers of North Viet Nam should be bombed by our forces if necessary," Ellender said.

"There is no question that it is now vital for the United States to act decisively to prevent a Communist takeover in Viet Nam," Ellender said.

Stanton Gets Grant-Loan

STANTON—A federal grant of $1,561,704 for a new Urban Renewal Project in this community and a loan of $1,745,204 has been approved in Washington, Floyd Smith, executive director of the program here, has been advised.

He said the grant and loan will finance the Urban Renewal improvements planned for 162 acres on the south side of Stanton. An earlier project, involving 124 acres on the north side of town, he said, is now 90 per cent completed.

The money now provided is for an entirely new program. However, the purpose is basically identical with that of the earlier program. Stanton, he said, has a bad flood water problem. Heavy rains inundate extensive areas in the community. One of the major items on the new project will be the excavation of a 14 1/2 block area as a catch basin for flood waters. This 20-foot deep pit will trap flood waters and permit the release of the waters in an orderly fashion and thereby eliminate the flooding which has been the history of the area.

He said the remainder of the funds will be used for the installation of sewer lines (there are none on the area) extension of water lines, paving of streets and other improvements. Relocation of gins is also on the program.

Work should get under way on the new program within two weeks, Smith estimated.

He said the first project which is now in its finishing stages was started June 1, 1962. The improvements in this area are similar to the ones set for the new program.

South Viet Revolt May Be Brewing

Special Costs Of Viet Nam War Double

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House officials said Saturday special costs of the Viet Nam war will be estimated at $10.5 billion — more than double the current year's level — in the new federal budget.

EXTRA BILLION

These sources decline to say whether the sharply boosted spending prediction was based on any expectation of a new escalation in the fighting.

This prediction is distinct from an extra $12 billion to $13 billion which competent authorities said 10 days ago the President will ask Congress to authorize for the Viet Nam war in the current fiscal year ending June 30.

At that time, it was said that not all the $12 billion to $13 billion would be spent by mid-1966, perhaps only about $5 billion of it.

White House sources said also that spending for "Great Society" social welfare programs will increase by an estimated $3.25 billion over current levels in the 1967 fiscal year that begins July 1.

SOME CUTBACKS

Since nonmilitary outlays are expected to rise by only $800 million in all, this means substantial cutbacks are in prospect for some other civilian programs to offset most of the Great Society increases.

Details will be spelled out in the budget going to Congress Jan. 24.

Special costs of the Viet Nam war are estimated at $4.7 billion in the current fiscal year compared with $10.5 billion in fiscal 1967.

"SPECIAL DEFINED"

As the officials used the term, special costs include outlays for increased manpower authorized by Congress, replacement of combat losses, increased procurement of weapons, ammunition and aircraft, and the cost of special bases being built in South Viet Nam.

There was no explanation for the sharp year-to-year increase. However, it would not necessarily portend a major escalation of the war. Much of the increase might be accounted for by payments to be made under contracts awarded during past months, for military equipment and construction work.

Leaders Talk While Coup Rumors Fly

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk spelled out U.S. policy in the current Viet Nam peace campaign to top South Vietnamese government leaders Saturday night and sought to assure them that President Johnson's efforts to end the war will not undermine Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime.

As conferences went on during the day and again at dinner, rumors flew in Saigon of a possible power move by some Vietnamese generals who are said to feel that Ky is ready to sell out to the Viet Cong in any peace agreement. Ky has been premier since June 21.

TENSION GROWS

Tension heightened at 9:30 p.m. with a report that an armed South Vietnamese troop convoy had barged through a police checkpoint without heading orders to stop, and was headed for Saigon. The incident was said to have occurred 10 miles south of Saigon.

Sudden troop movements into Saigon in the past have been fore-runners to government upsets.

A South Vietnamese informant said, however, troops of the 4th Vietnamese Marine Battalion had entered the city to "increase security". The source did not explain the need for increasing the guard in the capitol. The transfer of the marines was termed a normal operation.

"WELL DISGUISED"

After the dinner meeting of Vietnamese and American officials, Rusk told newsmen that if a coup was in the making, the word was very well disguised at the dinner table in Ky's residence.

Another U.S. source described the dinner as "very friendly, with no tensions."

Rusk arrived in Saigon Saturday morning with roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman from Bangkok, Thailand. They met briefly with Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, then conferred with Ky at his heavily guarded Saigon office.

AT DINNER

At the dinner at Ky's residence, beside Rusk and Harriman were Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gen. William C. Westmoreland on the American side; and Ky, Thieu, and Lt. Gen. Dang Van Quang.

Diplomatic informants said the U.S. officials had spent most of the dinner time describing the U.S. posture toward the Vietnamese problem. The Vietnamese side discussed their plans for rural pacification and buildup, the psychological warfare campaign and in general terms the two-year plan advanced earlier Saturday by Ky at an armed forces congress.

With the war in the field lapsing into a relative lull, attention focused upon the Rusk-Harriman visit and Ky's address to the armed forces congress.

WELCOMED EFFORTS

Ky welcomed peace efforts, but he said no deals should be made without the approval of his government.

At the end of the speech, Thieu abruptly left the meeting hall in the midst of the applause. Those who saw him leave said he appeared agitated.

Heavy guard had been placed around Ky and other generals throughout the day.

The Military section of Tan Son Nhut Air Base was on alert, and tanks, machine guns and bazookas could be seen around the area where Ky, who also is Air Force commander, hangs his military hat.

SECURITY TROOPS

Ky's downtown office was guarded by security troops with four 20mm cannons and machine guns. The street was closed off even to Vietnamese police during the time Ky was there.

When he left, it was by helicopter, which subjects Ky to less danger of being kidnaped.

During a morning meeting of Rusk and Lodge, War Minister Co and Lt. Gen. Quang arrived at Ky's office and hurried up the steps to the room where the meeting was in progress. A few moments later, without entering the room, the pair hurried back to their car and drove off again.

NEED 700 A DAY Voters Long Way From Last Year

With only 1,286 poll tax receipts issued and with only 10 working days left in which such receipts may be issued, Howard Countians will have to pay their taxes at a clip of nearly 700 a day to match even the voter total of 1965.

Mrs. Zerah LeFevre, county assessor, announcing Friday afternoon that so far 1,286 poll tax receipts have been written, noted there were 8,136 poll tax receipts issued in 1965. It is also pointed out that 1965 was a decidedly non-political year. It was a season devoid of elections of public appeal and all of the voting during that year was not of the type to attract heavy turn-outs of electors.

In 1964—a presidential year—the number of voters who paid their poll tax was 9,370. In all counting the 2,121 exemption certificates, there were 11,491 qualified voters on the lists that year.

If the number of voters to qualify this year is to match the 1964 list, a thousand a day will have to pay their poll tax between this date and Jan. 31. Mrs. LeFevre said that she planned a number of special services in the next week to make it easier for the taxpayers to qualify as voters.

Meantime, it was urged all voters who have not obtained their poll tax receipts or their exemption certificates come to the tax office without delay. The grand rush anticipated as the deadline arrives will make the delay in being served of importance.

Tragic Fire In Illinois Fatal To Seven Persons

JACKSONVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Seven persons, including a mother and her four children, perished Saturday in a fire which swept a rooming house in the downtown district.

Fire Chief Dale Bond said the seven died of smoke inhalation in their small apartments on the third floor of a three-story stone building in the city's public square.

Bond said the fire started in the rear of the second floor. Firemen rescued five persons from the second floor. Elsie Brannan, 76, escaped from her second-floor room. One woman who was rescued, Alice Fishel, was hospitalized with burns.

Bond said the cause of the fire had not been determined. Firemen fought the blaze for nearly two hours. A drug store and a jewelry store occupy the ground floor of the building.

Coroner John Martin of Morgan County identified the family of five as Leota Mae Brown, 46, Raymond, 15, Donna, 14, Ricky, 11, and Emmy, 2. The others killed were Charles Souza, 93 and Alice Leggett, 72.

McDonald Begins His Prison Term

Daniel O'Dell McDonald, 29-year-old former soldier, under 99 year sentence for murder, is adjusting himself to the life in the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

McDonald, who has been in the Martin County jail in Stanton since June, 1964, was taken to Huntsville last weekend by Sheriff Dan Saunders of Martin County.

McDonald was tried and convicted of the suffocation murder of his 87-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Elzie McDonald, 11 months and three weeks ago. He has been kept at the Martin County jail while his attorneys sought to have the 99-year sentence assessed against him set aside.

"Any further appeals on McDonald's behalf," said Saunders "will be in the U. S. courts and can be pursued just as well with the defendant in Huntsville as in my jail."

He also pointed out McDonald is getting no credit for time served as long as he is in the Martin County jail. He said that the young Mar-

Firms Protest Natural Gas From Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Commission was asked Saturday to reverse an examiner's decision favoring the supply of additional natural gas for Southern California by a Texas firm.

This request was made in a brief mailed for filing with the commission by three affiliated gas utilities of the Pacific Lighting System—Southern California Gas Co., Southern Counties Gas Co., and Pacific Lighting Service & Supply Co.

MORE GAS
Their proposal, the California companies said, "will provide more gas, at lower cost, and sooner" than the plan of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. of Houston, which was approved last month by a commission examiner.

Contending the examiner made more than 90 errors in his decision, the California companies asked instead that delivery of a minimum additional 590 million cubic feet of gas per day by El Paso Natural Gas Co. and Transwestern Pipeline Co. be approved.

PROVIDE SERVICE
"If the commission finds the public interest requires still more gas for year-round, full-time burning by all industry, including electric steam plants," the California companies said, "We have publicly committed ourselves, not only in this proceeding, but directly to the general public in Southern California to provide such service."

Their brief added: "The policy position of our companies as citizens in the area in which we do business and in which in excess of 10 million of the people that we serve live, as do thousands of our employees and shareholders, (is that) we are anxious and desirous of helping to alleviate our air pollution problem."

"We want to sell as much gas as this commission will certify, and our proposals include a higher level of industrial gas service" than does the competing plan.

tin County man had expressed a wish to go to the pen, but when the time came to leave, he said McDonald seemed reluctant to go.

Mrs. McDonald was found dead in the living quarters at the rear of the small store she operated in Stanton. Several hundred dollars was missing.

Young McDonald, on leave from military duty at a base in Colorado, was arrested the same day and according to officers, signed a statement about details of the crime. He was tried and found guilty some eight months later.

George Thomas, his court-appointed attorney, filed an appeal alleging the statement, which was read to the jury, was not voluntary. The appeals court denied the petition. Thomas has said he will file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in U. S. District Court in behalf of his client, alleging that McDonald was deprived of his civil rights by the introduction of the confession.

Different Reactions On Firemen's Report

Matters have quietened along the railroad front following the momentary flare attending a report by a national study board that the gradual elimination of locomotive firemen from the railroad industry has not affected either employes or rail service in general.

J. L. Shattuck, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, was the only member of the four-man board who dissented from the study's conclusion. He refused to sign it, called it a "hoax," and accused the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of an alliance with carriers on the report.

On the other hand, Charles J. Coughlin, first assistant chief engineer of the BLE, said he concurred completely in the report.

"The engineers would prefer to have a fireman work with them," he said, "but this is 1966. We must face reality and the carriers have proved to every tribunal that firemen are not needed."

J. E. Wolfe, member of the panel and chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, charged that Shattuck had carried on a program of obstruction to the study. E. H. Hallman, chairman of the Western Carriers Conference and another management representative, rounded out the board. The report said that only a handful of authenticated complaints of overwork because of the lack of a fireman was received by BLE from its 35,000 members. It also said there was no instance reported by any engineer "where an accident or casualty could be authentically attributed to the fact that a fireman was not employed on an engine involved."

An arbitration award in May, 1964, provided for the eventual elimination of 90 per cent of the firemen's jobs. At that time there were 33,885 firemen in freight and yard service. By last July the figure had dropped to 16,435, but more than half the jobs eliminated had been by natural attrition or by promotions.

Shattuck said he hoped a "strike won't be necessary," but Coughlin said, "What the firemen do is one thing and what we do is another."

Postmaster Given Intensive Training

When the post office department wants a fellow to do some special work, a little matter like distance isn't much of an issue. Take Arthur L. Jennings, for example. He is the postmaster at Texarkana.

Cotton Harvest Hits Its Peak In Some Areas

With the harvest only two to three weeks from completion, gins in Fisher, Mitchell, Scurry, Howard and Martin counties and other surrounding areas are operating at capacity with 100 to 1,000 bales of seedcotton on the gin yards. All available trailers, as well as many transported from other areas, are filled and farmers are waiting for them to be emptied.

The quality of District 1 cotton continued its decline with lower grades and micronaire readings. The percentage of white and light spotted grades declined while spotted qualities increased from 21 to 31 per cent. Seventy per cent of the 11,000 District 1 samples miked in the desirable range (.33 through .51) compared to 81 per cent for the previous week. Staple lengths were about the same with 92 per cent in the 29-32 and 15-16 lengths. Sales of cotton increased slightly due to the increase in lower quality cotton. Buyers were most interested in cotton having a value of 25 cents per pound or less. Prices dropped slightly on all qualities. Samples reduced in grade due to bark were discounted $2.50 per bale.

Pearl Group Told Of New Records

SAN ANTONIO—Cliff "Slim" Proffitt, Pearl beer distributor for the Big Spring - Lubbock area, attended Pearl Brewing Company's annual distributors convention here last week. Distributors were told that in 1965 the company set a new sales record of 1,711,872 barrels of products. Sales in Texas totaled 1,155,206, another new record. Officials said that for the 12th straight year, Pearl is the number one selling beer in the state.

AUSTIN (AP)—Rev. Everett Grant Smith, 71, a retired Episcopal minister and professor emeritus of the University of Texas Business Administration faculty, died Friday.

three days of intensive training in what a postmaster in a town this size is supposed to do.

The fact that Jennings travelled just about as far as you can reach Big Spring was not an issue. "The post office department," said the Texarkana man, "assigns a postmaster from an office in a town of comparable size when it wants a coaching job like this done."

He said the Texarkana office is comparable with that in Big Spring.

Jennings was delighted with the assignment. A short time ago, he and Mrs. Jennings attended a state historical conference in Odessa and found this part of the country interesting. "My wife is becoming quite an expert on genealogical research," he explained. "She has spent her time in Big Spring visiting the library and looking into historical matters."

Most Of Area's Harvest Is Ginned, 40,000 Left

Less than 40,000 bales of 1965 cotton remain unginned in the eight counties in the Big Spring area.

The estimated crop total for the eight counties, made by Texas Employment Commission, is 432,500 bales. As of Friday, ginneries had handled 394,865 bales leaving 37,635 to be ginned in the next two weeks.

Bulk of this unginned cotton is in Howard, Mitchell, Scurry and Midland counties.

Final reports have been made by the TEC office in Lamesa. The gins there are still turning, but they are now concerned with the clean-up operations. Total ginnings Friday were 147,343. The estimated crop for the county had been fixed at 150,000 bales. TEC estimated that the unginned cotton still to be handled is less than 500 bales—most of which will come from farms in the west part of the county where late planting was made.

Midland TEC office has closed out reporting on Martin County. The estimated crop in that half-ridden county was 35,000 bales—a small crop for Martin County cotton fields. Actual ginnings, Midland TEC said, will run very close to that figure.

Glasscock County was closed out several weeks ago although some ginning continues. Most of Glasscock County's cotton is in the St. Lawrence area. Ginnings hit the estimated crop total of 12,000, the TEC said. Midland County has about 1,000 bales of its 13,000 bale crop to gin.

Here in Howard County, the crop estimate was hiked an extra 5,000 bales this past weekend. The ginnings as of Friday were 38,467. All of the gins are still whirring, and have plenty of cotton on hand to keep them going. Another week will see the job finished, however.

It is in the Sweetwater TEC area where most of the unginned cotton remains. Nolan County, with 23,585 bales handled, is still nearly 1,500 shy of its total crop. Mitchell, with 30,138, is nearly 15,000 bales short of its estimated 45,000 bale crop. Scurry County has ginned 44,889 bales of an estimated 50,000 bales and Fisher County has handled 49,444 of a 55,000 bale total.

Sweetwater TEC thinks it will take another two weeks to finish the job in these four counties.

No more gin surveys will be made after this week by the TEC in Midland and Lamesa. A final report will be made when all gins have shut down for the season. This will be sometime in February, the officials said.

Cotton is averaging about $130 a bale this year. So far the 394,865 bales has dumped more than $50,000,000 into the economy of the eight counties listed.

Demos To Elect Club Officers

Election of officers will be the major item on the agenda at the meeting of the Howard County Democratic Club set for 7 p.m. Jan. 24. The place is the Howard County court room. Kenneth Howell is temporary chairman of the club.

In addition to the election of officers, the club will plan for activities this spring in the primary campaign.

Howell issued an urgent plea Saturday to all persons to pay their poll tax and qualify themselves to vote in elections this year.

MRS. FRED ADAMS

Mrs. Adams Seeks First Term As JP

Mrs. Fred Adams, Coahoma, has announced that she will be a candidate for her first full term as justice of peace of Precinct No. 2. She announced subject to the Democratic primary

May 7.

"When death took our justice of the peace in Precinct No. 2, Howard County, in May of 1965, I applied to the Commissioners Court of Howard County to fill this unexpired term. The commissioners placed their confidence in me, and I was given the appointment and opportunity to serve you in this capacity. I have tried diligently to perform each duty that came my way in an honest, fair and conscientious manner.

"I have performed the duties of this office since May 15, 1965. I am now asking your consideration and support in electing me for a full term in this office."

"I have made my home in Howard County most of the years since 1925, much of the time in this community. My husband is Fred H. Adams. My husband and I served the people in Coahoma and surrounding area for the past 12 years in the hardware and grocery business, from which we have retired. I want now to continue serving as your Justice of Precinct No. 2. Please consider me. I will certainly strive to achieve the very best results for this office."

BELEATED COTTON HARVEST PUSHES TOWARD FINALE
Gin yards jammed with cotton trailers as last of crop is stripped

Cotton Crop Estimate Raised To 45,000 Bales

Howard County's 1965 cotton crop estimate is now 45,000 bales.

Texas Employment Commission checkers, finding the gin total as of Friday standing at 38,467 bales and with a large amount of cotton still to be ginned, has hiked the estimate from 40,000 to 45,000.

Gins, the TEC reported, are still on a 24-hour schedule in the county, but in many areas the fields are nearly bare. Most of the unginned cotton is in the Luther and Coahoma areas. Production has been exceptionally good in nearly all parts of the county. With slightly more than 67,000 acres planted, the fields are turning out an average of better than half and sometimes as much as three-quarters bale an acre.

There are fields of dryland cotton which have yielded a bale to the acre.

Gin yards in Big Spring were jammed with loaded trailers Friday morning and more cotton was trekking into the yards by the hour.

Many fields, already stripped of their lint, have been plowed and readied for any spring rains which may fall.

The dry weather, while posing anything but a happy prospect for the future, has been ideal for the harvesting of cotton.

TEC estimates that the original 40,000 crop estimate will be reached by Tuesday of this week. In view of the extensive volume of good cotton still being stripped, TEC felt that the estimate should be hiked at least 5,000 bales.

Three serious accidents in Big Spring area gins in the past week may have been in part attributable to the rush operations the late harvest is imposing. One gin man has died of his injuries, a second has lost a leg, and a third is suffering from a head injury which is not believed to be serious.

The jammed yards and the desperate efforts of the gin crews to keep abreast of the wave of cotton has had its impact and created a sense of tension.

Gins can whip out a bale about every eight minutes, and the fact they are operating around the clock is a good indication of the load of work they are having to handle.

There are 13 gins in the county.

Cuban Refugee Tells Of Life In His Homeland

Profound thanks for being extended the opportunity to reside in this country were expressed by Dr. Ruben R. Walling in a talk made before members of the American Business Club at the Friday luncheon in the Settles Hotel.

Dr. Walling, now a teacher in Elementary Spanish in the local public schools, came to the United States from his native Cuba only 18 months ago and has been a Big Spring resident only since last September.

"My family lost all the material things it had in Cuba, after the Communists took over," Dr. Walling said, "money in the bank, cars, offices, home . . . everything. But material things do not matter. I have my freedom in this great country and that is what matters."

Dr. Walling was a practicing attorney in Havana for a quarter of a century and worked in the Cuban State Department until 1959, when Castro disrupted the Cuban way of life.

He said he was twice handicapped—by his age and his poverty of the English language—but he studied to become a teacher of languages because he wanted to "become useful to this country. I can never forget that the United States opened its doors to me.

"Here I found friends, freedom and many other things for which I am grateful," he added, "so I don't think much of the past."

In effervescent, if not impeccable, English, Dr. Walling recalled how he had wanted to come to this nation since boyhood but said that his father had died very young, and he was deprived of the chance until he had attained maturity.

The speaker recalled that he was embarrassed for his country on one occasion when he was stopped on the streets of Havana by a Chinese policeman, who demanded to see the credentials on his car, using a pidgin Spanish to get his point across.

Dr. Walling said he tried to emphasize upon his pupils here the importance of becoming bilingual, pointing out that there are still 21 nations in Central and South America where the native tongue is Spanish.

"Study hard and seek to become useful to your country," Dr. Walling said he told his students, adding that all of us are prone to take freedom for granted, something all refugees hold dear.

"I don't want anyone to suffer as I have suffered in my country," Dr. Walling said. "You and I must work to preserve freedom in this great country."

Dr. Walling was introduced to the gathering by Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of instructional services in the public schools here.

Among guests present at the luncheon were Jim Corbell, Dwight Richmond, J. P. Darby, Gerald Wooten and Dr. Max Worley.

Grain Futures Climb With Wheat In Lag

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat was the only legard in an otherwise firm to strong grain futures market last week.

Soybeans and rye finished with broad gains for the second successive week. Soybeans again added more than 10 cents a bushel at the extreme, while rye finished with a net advance of more than 6 cents at best. Corn and oats moved up about 2 cents and wheat slipped slightly.

SUBSTANTIAL GAINS
Moderate to substantial advances were posted for soybeans on four consecutive days on transactions which brokers described as largely speculative. However, they said there seemed to have been a solid basis for the higher trend in a.m. Saturday.

view of the strong market for soybean meal and the continued draggy movement of the 1965 crop into commercial channels. The government report on Monday of stocks still held on farms Jan. 1 was well below trade expectations.

CORN EXPORTS
Export business in corn probably was the most active since the start of the new crop year on Oct. 1 and demand on those accounts easily absorbed the dwindling offerings, although the government speeded up its movement of surplus stocks to meet the demand.

An Argentine embargo on rye shipments contributed to the strength of that grain. At the end of the week, wheat was 1/4-1/2 cents a bushel low-1.6%; corn 1 1/4 - 2% higher, March $1.30-30 1/4; oats 1 1/4 - 2 cents higher, March 73 1/4-1; rye 4 3-6 1/4 higher, March $1.40 1/2-1; soybeans 2 1/2-10 1/2 higher, January $2.85 3/4-86.

Railroad Employee Shot To Death

HOUSTON (AP)—S. F. Colvin, 59, a Southern Pacific Railroad employe, died after being shot Friday night while he sat in his car in a shopping center parking lot.

Colvin told officers a young Negro shot him for no apparent motive. Robbery was not attempted. Colvin died about 7 a.m. Saturday.

DEAR ABBY

Should Keep His Pants On!

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem in decorum. My husband refuses to keep his pants on in the house. As soon as he gets home from work he takes them off, but leaves his shirt and tie and shorts on. He stays that way all evening, even through dinner. He won't even put on his bathrobe if I get it. He says our apartment is too hot, so I bought him a pair of light-weight Bermuda shorts, but he refused to wear them. I hate to nag, but with a small daughter in the house a man should keep himself dressed decently. Besides, our windows look right into those of a large motel and I'm afraid one of these days some prude will get my husband arrested for indecent exposure. Abby, I realize a man has a right to be comfortable in his own home, but mine has gone too far. How can I get him to keep his pants on? BARBARA

DEAR BARBARA: If your man doesn't want to wear the pants in your family — you wear 'em. Tell him that heat story is silly. He could have worn the Bermuda shorts. And when a man is warm he removes his tie and shirt, not his pants. Your husband could be a candidate for a psychiatrist's couch. But don't worry about his getting arrested for "indecent exposure" while going pants-less in his own home. There's a law against window peeping.

DEAR ABBY: My niece is planning to be married soon. We have met her fiance, and he is tops. Good family, college graduate (so is she) and he has a grand personality. Shouldn't he be told that this girl deliberately took an overdose of aspirin tablets the summer before she entered college? Also that during her freshman year she was picked up (along with some other girls) for shoplifting? Her parents took her to a psychiatrist and he couldn't find anything wrong with her. She never misses church and has appeared to lead a good life since then, but what if this leaks out after he marries her?

INTERESTED AUNT
DEAR AUNT: Then it will be her problem. Since the psychiatrist could find nothing wrong with her and the girl has led a good life since, it is safe to assume that she has overcome her handicap. If the girl, herself, wishes to reveal the foolish mistakes of her past, it's up to her. But others should keep out of it.

"CONFIDENTIAL TO PIGEON": Don't be silly. Almost every wife has some sort of "sugar bowl" savings. She's not "holding out" on her husband if she saves it from her allowance after paying bills. And she usually winds up spending it on either a gift for her husband or one of the kids.

DEAR ABBY: We are a young, average couple, who have a nice little house in the city. My wife was a country girl, and she thinks it is necessary for us to walk our guests to their cars after we have entertained them in our home at a party. I don't think this is necessary at all, as it usually leads to lingering farewells, and even prolonged conversations while we stand outside in all kinds of weather. My wife still insists that it is "inospitable" to say goodnight to your guests at your door and then close the door after them. Who is right?

DEAR DUFF: You are. It's not necessary to walk guests to their cars (unless your yard is poorly lit, and you must guide them with a flashlight). But if for no other reason, consider your neighbors, and say your farewells in the house.

Reported Killed

Following a broadcast by Lagos radio Saturday saying the army has taken power in Nigeria, there were unconfirmed reports that prime ministers Chief Akintola, left, of west Nigeria, and Surdar Ahmadu Bello, right, of north Nigeria, had been killed. (AP Wirephoto).

Overthrow Of Nigerian Regime Meets Challenge

LONDON (AP) — Rebellious Nigerian Army troops seized Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa Saturday and announced they had taken control of the country. A broadcast Saturday night, however, said the Army chief remained loyal to the government and had regained control of the Nigerian capital, Lagos.

A Radio Lagos broadcast, heard in Cotonou, Dahomey, said Gen. Aguiyu Ironsi, the Army commander, still had control of part of the Army and was "taking necessary measures to put down the mutiny."

Two political leaders were reported assassinated. Normal channels of communication with Lagos were shut down.

But reports reaching London said the premier of the Northern Region of Nigeria, Surdar Ahmadu Bello, and his wife had been assassinated. Chief Samuel I. Akintola, premier of the Western Region, also was killed, the reports said.

President Makarios of Cyprus is visiting in Lagos but "there is no fear for his safety," authoritative sources in London re-

Johnson Seen Dealing GOP Political Setback For '66

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson appears to have thrown Republicans for a political loss with an election-year program against which they are having difficulty mounting effective opposition.

When the GOP leaders of the Senate and House — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan — take to television Monday night to reply to Johnson's State of the Union Message they probably will contend that Johnson is trying to do too much at home. And they may be critical of the way he's fighting the war in Viet Nam.

COURT CRITICISM
But if they reiterate the hard line they took before the Christmas pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam — when the party's policy coordinating committee urged a step up in naval and air assaults — they could find the country unsympathetic.

Johnson's offer to respond if the enemy reduces the use of force — and there has been some evidence that this has been taking place temporarily, at least — would tend to put a war party label on the Republicans if they urge increased hostilities at this point. Johnson seems to have caught the Republicans flatfooted with his prediction that despite a $112.8-billion spending budget the deficit will be only $1.8 billion in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The GOP leaders may contend that the President's $111-billion revenue estimate is unrealistic. But they will have no chance of proving this before the November congressional elections unless the economy takes the kind of nose dive that might help them politically but which they can't talk about now.

OTHER TRIUMPHS
Johnson seems to have gone a long way toward melting the guns-vs.-butter issue the Republicans were counting on for political gains. He hit also the issue of inflation by criticizing the New York transit strike settlement as being out of line.

On domestic issues, the President proposes to rebuild "on a scale never before attempted — entire central and slum areas of several of our cities."

GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss has activated a program aimed at reviving the party's voting appeal in the big cities. If Republicans in Congress oppose shut clearance and Johnson's companion proposal for a department of transportation to help unsmother urban areas may find the going rough.

Council Has Good Year, Makes Six Top Awards

Six men were awarded the Silver Beaver, highest honor a Boy Scout council can confer on a volunteer leader, at the 43rd annual banquet in Big Spring Friday evening.

Three of them were brothers, marking probably the first time that this has happened in the 65 years of Scouting in the United States. They were Don and Gene Campbell of Big Spring and Carl Campbell of St. Louis, Mo. Twenty-seven years ago they were the first three brothers in Scouting to simultaneously earn the Eagle badge, highest rank to which a boy may attain.

Others receiving the Silver Beaver were Lucius Bunton, Odessa, Gene Stones, Midland, and W. B. Alexander, Odessa.

NEW PRESIDENT

At the annual business meeting, District Judge Perry D. Pickett, Midland, was elected president of the council to succeed L. E. Patterson, also of Midland. Judge Pickett has been serving in various capacities for many years and during the past year as chairman of the council finance committee.

Other officers named were Carl E. Campbell, Sr., Big Spring, E. L. Kent, Wickert, Jack M. Stricklin, Odessa, vice president; Luther May Jr., Midland, treasurer; Hoyle McCright, Midland, assistant treasurer; and G. N. Hughes, Midland, council commissioner. Officers were installed by the Rev. James A. Puckett, Big Spring, who challenged them to "stir up the fire that is within your hearts."

In his parting message to the council, Patterson appealed for increased support of Scouting as an answer to the possibility of a centralized youth program under government auspices. He also lauded unit leaders, saying, "we ought to have a gold beaver award for you. All the rest of us exist to help you."

GAINS CITED

Highlight of the annual report showed the council boy membership up six per cent to a new high of 10,578 in 376 units. Boys also did more camping last year, 40 per cent of them in long-term camp experience, and did more advancing. There were 67 youths who attained the Eagle rank. While the $136,201 raised was less than the budget figure, the council paid expenses and finished in the black.

A plaque was presented to Patterson as retiring president by Bunton, who is chairman of the Sunset Trail council. R. L. Tollett, Big Spring, presided over the Silver Beaver presentation, reading biographies of each recipient.

Stones began his Scouting career in Oklahoma City, served as cubmaster and scoutmaster and has held numerous other posts as a volunteer leader and has Scouting's Wood (campcraft) Badge. A graduate of California Institute of Technology, he is active in civic affairs in Midland and is a deacon in the First Christian Church.

GETS BEAVER

Bunton, a native of Del Rio, is a graduate of the Universities of Texas and Chicago with B.A. and L.L.B. degrees. Currently he is president of the Ector County Bar Association and is a past district attorney. Before coming to Odessa, he was Scout district chairman at Pecos for five years and has held other district and council posts. He is a master Mason, active in civic work, chairman of the First Baptist building committee and a departmental Sunday school teacher.

Alexander has majored in direct work with boys, although he has served in many district capacities, including commissioner. He personally sponsors four units—two troops and two posts, and through his construction company has raised buildings for Scout meeting places. He serves as scoutmaster of the troop sponsored by his church—the West Park Baptist—and still finds time to be a Sunday school teacher, a leader in his church and in junior and senior high booster clubs. He also holds the Wood Badge.

Once In A Lifetime—Twice

Three brothers have had a once-in-a-lifetime experience twice. In 1939 Don, Gene and Carl Campbell (above) became the first three brothers to earn their Eagle badges simultaneously. Now, 27 years later, they became the first three brothers to receive

Campbell Brothers Repeat With Simultaneous Honors

Twenty-seven years ago three young men — Don, Carl and Gene Campbell — from Troop 155 in St. Louis, Mo., received their Eagle Scout badges at the same Court of Honor.

It was the first time that three brothers had ever attained this top honor simultaneously, and the national headquarters dispatched an assistant chief executive to do the honors.

Friday night the Campbell brothers did a repeat. They were presented with the Silver Beaver, the highest honor that a Boy Scout council can pay to a volunteer leader for service to boyhood. Don Campbell and Gene Campbell, Big Spring, had been cited by the Buffalo Trail Council, while Carl N. Campbell had been tapped out for the high honor by his home council at St. Louis. Never before in this 65 years of Boy Scouting in America had this happened.

Their citations were read by Raymond L. Tollett, who had known them for years, and the Beavers were put around their necks by their wives while their mother, Mrs. Laura Campbell, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret (Bill) Jackson of Mexico City, Mexico, watched. They got a standing ovation when it was all over.

Ironically, the man who most wanted to be there could not. He is Carl E. Campbell, their father and vice president of the Buffalo Trail Council. His scouting career ante-dates the Boy Scouts of America by one year and he got his sons imbued with Scouting fever.

About two weeks ago, Mr. Campbell had a heart attack and is now convalescing in a hospital here.

The awards, as is always the case with the Silver Beaver presentations, came as a surprise to all.

Carl N. Campbell, a twin of Don, had come from St. Louis to see his father and to see honors conferred on his brothers, he thought. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and family came from Mexico City just for the occasion.

The Campbells always have been a Scouting family, and the other daughter, Betty, is married to Bill Kirtland, one of Mr. Campbell's scouts in St. Louis. Mrs. Campbell got interested and organized a mothers club which eventually grew into a Scout Auxiliary. Mr. Campbell has held about every post Scouting can offer and was honored in 1961 with the Silver Beaver. The previous year he had received the rare medal struck for 50-year members.

The Campbell brothers each has served as a cubmaster, scoutmaster or explorer advisor, some as all three. All three hold the Scouters' Key and are Order of Arrow (camping fraternity) members. Craig Eugene Campbell has labored in all three fields, is presently an assistant scoutmaster and a neighborhood commissioner. He had a leading role in introducing the Explorer program to the council and was assistant scoutmaster of a troop attending the National Jamboree. He is a graduate of Washington University at St. Louis, Mo., is active in youth work of his (Wesley Methodist) church.

Earl Donald Campbell, like his twin, Carl, has a 36-year record in Scouting and organized one of the first Sea Scout ships in the nation and served as its skipper. He has served as Explorer advisor and in numerous other capacities in Scouting and Exploring. He holds the Wood Badge and currently is scoutmaster of Troop 179. He is a graduate of Rolla (Mo.) School of Mines and is active in youth work at Kentwood Methodist. His son, Keith, is an Eagle Scout.

Carl Nelson Campbell, whose Silver Beaver was awarded by the St. Louis council, is scoutmaster of the Kirkwood (Mo.) Methodist Church troop, has served in various capacities, including assistant district commissioner and scoutmaster of a National Jamboree troop. He is a vestryman in the Episcopal Church at Kirkwood and a leader in youth work.

Channel Four's first program was telecast on Sunday, January 15, 1956 — making Big Spring one of the first cities of its size in the entire nation to boast its own television station.

Our telecast day was shorter then, only 8 hours daily. Network programs accounted for only half the schedule.

In the ensuing ten years, KWAB-TV has increased its daily air time to approximately 18 hours, and has become a full-time, dual-network station offering the most highest-rated programs of both the CBS and ABC television networks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the viewers who have faithfully watched us — and the merchants who have staunchly supported us — through this decade of growth and expansion.

As we begin our second decade, we pledge our utmost efforts for continuous improvement in programming and in service.

Peking Threat To Stability Of Globe Cited

LONDON (AP) — A top British official said Saturday night Red China has the capability to upset the strategic balance of the world in the next decade or so.

Lord Chalfont warned, too, that "it would be foolish to suggest that ideological and political differences no longer exist between the Soviet Union and the West." But he called for a treaty on preventing the spread of nuclear weapons.

"PEACE PROSPECTS"
Chalfont, Britain's disarmament minister, expressed his views in a radio lecture entitled "Prospects of Peace," delivered over the British Broadcasting Corp.

China's foreign policy could pose a threat to the security and stability of the world at least as formidable as any that had been posed by the Soviet Union, he said.

"The growth of China as a military power and the attitude of its government toward Russian policies seem to indicate the possibility of a common Soviet-Western interest in detente.

POSES BARRIER
"Yet the same Soviet-Chinese conflict inhibits the Russian government from any serious or extensive negotiation with the West. To reduce or remove these inhibitions should clearly be a cardinal point of Western policy."

Lord Chalfont suggested that an agreement between the Soviet Union and the West on a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons would provide the first sign of a shared awareness that the real dangers of the 1970s and 1980s lay, not in Europe and the traditional conflict across the Elbe River but in the third world of Africa and Asia.

Inmates Now Ready To Start Work On '67 License Plates

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The 1966 auto license plates will be new to the millions of Texas motorists but they are already past history at the state prison, where work starts soon on the 1967 tags.

Inmates at the Huntsville unit of the Texas Department of Corrections turned out the last of 13,237,698 plates for 1966 at 11:10 a.m. Dec. 29.

11 MONTHS
To fill that order, it took 11 months and an average of 7,797,442 plates daily for Texas cars and trucks plus special plates for the Texas Railroad Commission, Parks and Wildlife Commission and cotton bale tags for the state prison system.

Work on the 1967 order, totaling about 14 million plates, will begin Feb. 1.

Roland Lucas, inspector for the State Highway Department, said the 1966 production was the highest in history. In 1950 only 7,797,442 plates were needed to meet the state's needs.

The 1966 tags bear white letters and figures on a black background. They are due to go on sale at county tax collectors' offices Feb. 1.

Benjamin Smith, manager of the license plate plant, credited the 1966 production record to efficiency of the plant, its officers and 155 inmates.

Smith had predicted that the 1966 order would be completed at 11 a.m. Dec. 29.

"Missing my estimate by only 10 minutes is close enough," he said.

Recreational Plans Needed

AUSTIN (AP) — The chairman of the Texas Water Development Board advisory panel said Saturday Texans still have "time and space" to protect their water resources for recreation.

Joe Kilgore, former McAllen congressman, spoke to the annual meeting of the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas (SCOT).

Kilgore said that although the recreation potential has been destroyed in many densely populated states, "Here in Texas there is still time—and space—through diligent and careful planning to provide for the continuing availability of these opportunities."

WATER PLAN
He said Texas' statewide water plan, which the Water Development Board plans to make public later this year, has, as one of its objectives, "the fullest consideration of recreational needs."

Cecil Reid, executive secretary of SCOT, predicted fishing problems in Texas' bays and pollution for the entire state would be controversial issues of the 1967 legislature.

"We must have clean water to survive," he said.

Will Odom, chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, told the sportsmen studies are under way to acquire more game management areas, provide reciprocal fishing licenses with bordering states, and create more fish passes along the coast.

VIOLATION PROBLEM
He warned that game and fish violations "are an ever increasing problem," and said an increase in the department's law enforcement force of 283 is badly needed.

He said Laguna Madre south of Corpus Christi, specifically, is an area in which a fish pass has been urged.

"Another matter of current consideration is the possibility of working reciprocal fish license arrangements with neighboring states with whom we have common water boundaries," Odom said. "As you know, the Toledo Bend area will provide fishing waters available and common to both Texas and Louisiana. Sabine Lake and, of course the entire Sabine River common boundary presents the same situation."

CADDO LAKE
"In addition, Caddo Lake, of course, is common to both Texas and Louisiana, and we propose continued discussions with the Louisiana conservation authorities."

He said he also has opened discussions on the same matter with Oklahomans about Lake Texoma and the Red River.

Forays Against Castro Pledged

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Resuming anti-Castro forays into Cuba is high on the exile agenda for 1966, say Cuban exile representatives.

"This year there will be continuous actions, effective actions that will help bring about Fidel Castro's fall," said the Cuban exile representation in its newspaper. "These actions will start soon."

Salmes Picks Up Ball And Points For Buffalo

George Salmes, Buffalo Bills right safety, reaches down to scoop up an All-Star snap from center fumble which he converted into six points by racing 61 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter of the Buffalo Bills-All-Stars game in Houston Saturday. (AP Wirephoto).

Namath Is Standout In Win At Houston

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — New York's Joe Namath, the only rookie on the team, engineered a non-stop second half drive that produced 24 points and gave the American Football League All-Stars a 30-19 victory over the champion Buffalo Bills Saturday.

The game, which attracted a record 35,572 fans, revolved around the 22-year-old Namath from the moment he replaced San Diego's John Hadl at the beginning of the second half with the All-Stars trailing 13-6.

Namath passed for two touchdowns, hitting Lance Alworth with 43 and 19-yard tosses and enabled the ace San Diego receiver to set an All-Star record by becoming the first to catch a pair of touchdown passes.

Two of the defensive line standouts for the All-Stars were San Diego teammates, Earl Faison and Ernie Ladd, who played without knowing that a trade had been announced in the press box. They were sent to Houston in exchange for linebacker Johnny Baker, defensive end Gary Cutsinger and cornerback Pete Jaques.

East Stars Will Go With Proven Talent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If the National Football League's Eastern Conference is defensive about its 1-15 record against the West this season, it will have a chance to make amends Sunday.

All-star teams from the two divisions play in the Pro Bowl in Memorial Coliseum. The West, on the basis of the 1965 season, is a seven-point favorite.

John Brodie and rookie fullback Ken Willard are in the backfield. Three 49ers, end Dave Parks, tackle Walt Rock and center Bruce Bosley anchor the line.

The All-Stars got their first break in the second half when Dave Grayson intercepted a pass by Jack Kemp on the 40 and Gino Cappelletti kicked a field goal from the 32 — his third of the game and an All-Star game record.

Cats Batter Vandy Club

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Second-ranked Kentucky outran and outshot third-ranked Vanderbilt in scoring a 96-83 Southeastern Conference basketball victory Saturday.

The shorter Wildcats took the lead with 4:23 left in the first half and hand Vandy down by 11 points before the second period was half over.

Kentucky now has a 12-0 record Vanderbilt is 14-2. The Wildcats were led by Louie Dampier, who hit 12 of 19 field goal attempts and got 26 points. Pat Riley added 24 for Kentucky. Vandy's smooth pivotman Clyde Lee led all scorers with 30 points.

Permian Stings Cooper, 66-47

ABILENE — Odessa Permian, stung by a defeat earlier in the week by Big Spring, scrapped back to humble Abilene Cooper, 66-47, here Friday night.

The Panthers connected on 22 of 37 free shot opportunities while Cooper made good only five times in 17 attempts at the penalty line.

Stan Hutson had 17 points for Permian and was given good support by Marvin Mayfield, who had 16. Jack Mildren scored 11 to pace the Cougars. Cooper now stands 2-3 in the 2-AAIA race while Permian is 3-2.

Rebels Decision Bobcats, 78-67

MIDLAND — Midland Lee all but dumped San Angelo into limbo in the District 2-AAIA basketball race here Friday night, winning by a score of 78-67.

The defeat was the third in five starts for the Bobcats while Lee is 3-2. Overall, San Angelo is 14-8 while Lee is 12-8.

A&M Slaughters Baylor, 81-60

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M the Southwest Conference leader, continued its mastery Saturday with a crushing 81-60 defeat of the Baylor Bears.

John Beasley led the Cadets scoring with 43 points, with 17 field goals and 9 out of 19 free throws.

Detroit Eligible For Olympic Bid

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit was designated Saturday as the United States city to bid for the 1972 Summer Olympic Games.

The final bidding before the International Olympic Committee in Rome, Italy, in April. Salt Lake City's group for the day-long presentation ceremonies was headed by Gov. Calvin L. Rampton of Utah, and the Utah capital won out on the first ballot.

Utah received 36 votes while Lake Placid, N.Y., collected six and Anchorage, Alaska, none. It took three ballots before Detroit edged Los Angeles by a simple majority.

Pigeon Racing Gains In Popularity Here

THEY USUALLY FLY ONE WAY — IN DIRECTION OF HOME

By TOMMY HART
Imagine getting an all-expense paid trip to Houston or New Orleans and then having to thumb your way home? That, in substance, is the lot of the racing pigeon, of which there are several hundred owned by pigeon fanciers in this area.

Pigeon racing is one of Europe's most popular sports and is becoming an "in" thing in this country. A very active part of the movement is the Big Spring Racing Pigeon Club, which now has 11 members.

The Big Spring chapter is affiliated with the Texas Center of Pigeon Racing Clubs and with the American Racing Pigeon Union, which numbers its membership rolls in the tens of thousands.

President of the local group is Marion Tredaway vice W. S. (Bill) Talbot serves as president and Joe Holten as secretary-treasurer.

Ordinarily, the pigeons competing in a racing event are shipped via air freight to an airport at some distance place and there turned loose by airport officials to start their way to home lofts.

City engineers in the pigeon owners' home towns help clubs compute distances and the ranges are combined with actual clockings to determine the winners.

Though such races are held purely for the sport they offer, sizable sums of money are occasionally bet on the outcome of the events by observers close to the scene.

A racing pigeon, who will fly only during daylight hours and roost in trees along the way at night, usually lives to the ripe old age of ten or 12 years.

He ordinarily is at his peak when about five or six years old. The older pigeons are raced in the spring while the young, which some gourmets consider choice eating, are tested in the fall.

A pigeon fancier can expect losses of anywhere from 25 to 30 per cent in his birds in long distance events. The weather often takes a toll. Hawks and other scavengers like to dive-bomb the pigeon and, surprisingly, a lot of the flying fowls succumb to bird hunters.

Competition will start in the local club April 2 and be staged every Saturday thereafter over a period of months. Competing birds will be turned loose in Abilene for the return flight home.

In ensuing weeks, the creatures will be freed at points farther removed from Big Spring. Here's the way the schedule will run, listed with starting points:

April 2 — Abilene; April 9 — Brownwood; April 16 — Austin; April 23 — College Station; April 30 — Houston; May 7 — Beaumont; May 14 — Lafayette, La.; May 21 — New Orleans, La.

The local club will stage a joint race with affiliated organizations in Midland and Odessa May 28, using Brownsville, Tex., as a starting point.

Gestation period of a pigeon is about eight days, an additional 18 days are needed to hatch the eggs, after which the young squab spends anywhere from three to four weeks in the nest before he is sent out on his own.

Racing pigeons reproduce of ten if their owners let them. The males and females are kept in separate areas most of the time, however.

A pigeon coming home to roost from a long flight enters a trap door he learns to open, whether or not his owner is around. He cannot leave at will, however.

The birds fetch prices anywhere from $25 to $200 a pair and many have pedigrees going back for many generations. Those with solid family backgrounds, of course, cost the most.

Most of the pigeon fanciers here maintain their lofts in their own back yards. Contrary, perhaps, to common belief, most of the birds are durable and free of disease. As a matter of fact, they are among nature's cleanest livers.

The racing pigeon, unless something in nature's makeup conspires against him, invariably finds his way home — although it may take up to a week. The question is, how? Veteran pigeon fanciers will tell you the bird depends purely on instinct to find his way cross country.

Regardless of how he does it, he remains one of the bird world's most intriguing creatures and one that has fascinated mankind for hundreds of years.

Membership rolls of the local club are open to anyone. Regular meetings are conducted, usually at the home of some member.

AFL Seeking Other Weapons In War

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The American Football League begins its winter meetings eyeing expansion into National League strongholds while looking to a central scouting formula that might serve as a weapon against the NFL's successful baby-sitting program.

The two items are high on the official agenda for the four-day session which gets under way Sunday in an atmosphere filled with talk of player shifts — either via the trade route or by stocking the new Miami club.

With Miami becoming operational for the 1966 season as the league's ninth entry, the expansion committee is expected to examine the credentials of the leading cities expected to provide a 10th franchise for 1967.

The AFL already has committed itself to a 10th team for the 1967 season with Chicago, Los Angeles, Anaheim, Calif., Washington, D.C., New Orleans, Milwaukee, Seattle and Phoenix, Ariz., among the leading candidates.

Philadelphia, which seemed to be a prominent possibility at one time, appears to have lost some luster.

Some owners are on record as favoring Chicago and either Los Angeles or Anaheim, Calif., since they have proved capable of supporting two major league baseball teams. AFL expansion into those areas would mean fighting with established NFL teams.

Lamar Hunt of the Kansas City Chiefs, chairman of the expansion committee, admitted recently that the AFL had firm offers from Chicago and the two California cities — Los Angeles, the home of the Dodgers, and Anaheim, the new home of the Angels.

Also expected to get a thorough airing is the problem of reaching a decision about a central scouting or recruiting system designed to improve team cooperation in the drafting procedure and by the same token to combat the NFL's baby-sitting program.

The problem here is to find a formula acceptable to all teams.

Abilene Eagles Flog Bronchos
ODESSA — Abilene High moved a step closer to the District 2-AAAB basketball championship by knocking over Odessa High, 49-42, here Friday night.

The Bronchos did a good job of stopping Raymond Wray, the Eagles' 6-5 scoring threat, but Robert Ackerman and Jay King took up the slack by scoring 17 points each for the winners. Wray was limited to three points.

Terry Pieper had 17 points for Odessa, which now has a 3-2 league record. Abilene is undefeated in five starts.

There has been sentiment against such an arrangement in the past because it might deprive teams of their individuality. But the effects of the bidding war between the two pro leagues for college talent may have changed that.

A roster increase to 40 men to alleviate the effects of stocking the Miami club and to prepare for further expansion to 12 teams in the future also will be considered as will adding a sixth official and the subject of extending the goal-posts higher to make it easier to judge field goals and extra points.

As for trades, Buffalo still owes Oakland a player or players to complete the deal in which the champion Bills acquired flanker Bo Roberson, and Houston owner Bud Adams has made a public pitch for San Diego's all-league defensive tackle, Ernie Ladd.

Adams recently said he was willing to give up veteran quarterback George Blanda, top receiver Charley Hennigan and two other players for Ladd.

Whether anything will come of the trade talk between Houston and San Diego remains to be seen but there is a strong possibility that Miami will release the names of some of the players the Dolphins will pick from the eight established teams. Miami paid for the players to be selected when the franchise was purchased last year for $7.5 million.

The game was determined in overtime when Meredith sank a bucket with only five seconds left in the period.

Larry Kelley of Rotan paced all scorers with 30 points.

ASPERMONT — Aspermont cut Jim Ned down to size in District 6-A basketball competition here Friday night, 88-67, to maintain a tie for first place with Coahoma.

Jim Ned lost its second game in district competition and thus dropped out of the deadlock for the top spot.

Earl Coplen scored 30 points for Aspermont and Randy Knott had 22 for Jim Ned.

Aspermont won the girls' game, 40-34.

ROBY — Wylie outlasted Roby, 59-50, in a District 6-A boys' basketball game here Friday.

The loss was the sixth in a row for Roby. Mike Raughton of Wylie led all scorers with 24 points. Jacky Knox and Randy Upshaw each had 11 for the Lions.

Wylie also won the girls' game, 46-38.

Foss' Job Is Safe, Says AFL Nabob

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Baron Hilton, president of the American Football League, admitted Saturday there might be some dissatisfaction with Joe Foss' reign as commissioner but he denied the league's owners were looking to buy up his contract.

"I was surprised by the story," said Hilton, owner of the San Diego Chargers. "There is nothing to it. But I think now we will discuss the subject at our meetings since it might indicate there was some dissatisfaction among the owners."

Kansas City owner Lamar Hunt, the league's founder, said much the same.

"Every pro league, the NFL and the AFL, at some time is dissatisfied with parts of its league's operation and I think you could say that we're no different, said Hunt.

"We are always looking to improve ourselves and I'm sure many of the owners have different ideas about how the league office, which would be Joe, should handle things.

"But, there is nothing to the story at this time."

Joe Robbie, owner of the new Miami Dolphins, expressed complete satisfaction with Foss while Buffalo's Ralph Wilson and Oakland's Wayne Valley denied knowledge of any such move by the owners, here for the league's All-Star Bowl and league meetings.

"The Miami Dolphins would back Foss to the hilt," said Robbie. "You just have to look at the progress of the league in such a short time to see the great job he has done. The proof is in the advances the league has made."

"I don't know anything about it," was Wilson's only comment, while Valley would only say: "I don't believe everything I hear and I don't believe everything I read."

Foss, who was expected in Houston later Saturday, has two years remaining on a multi-term contract, reportedly calling for $50,000 a year.

Any move to remove him would require a three-fourths vote of the nine owners, or seven votes.

Three Indoor Marks May Fall Saturday

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Three indoor world records could be broken by a talented field headed by nine competitors from the 1964 Tokyo Olympics in the first NAIA indoor track and field championships Saturday at Municipal Auditorium. Alan Simpson of Great Britain, an Olympian with a best of 3:55.7 indoors, is the top threat. He ran 4:03.8 on the 11-lap board track at San Francisco a week ago. The Auditorium has a 12-lap board track. Simpson could be pushed by Volker Panzer of West Germany, with a 1,500 meters best of 3:43.5, and Herald Hadley, former Kansas captain with a mile best of 4:09. The talented sprint field is capable of equalling the world indoor mark of 5.9 seconds in the 60-yard dash. It includes Richard Stebbins, Olympian from Grambling who ran a 9.1 in the 100 last year, and George Anderson of Southern, NAIA and National AAU champion in 9.3. Anderson beat Stebbins by a step in the Sugar Bowl 100 meters two weeks ago. In B team action, Big Spring rallied in the final half to win by the margin of 58-44. Wayne Johnson broke loose for 30 of Big Spring's points, far and away his best effort of the season. Danny Clendenin bucketed 16 for the Bulldogs while Robert Jackson had 14 and Craig Cannon nine for Midland. The Shorthorns now boast an 11-4 won-lost record.

Mays, Zoilo Due Big Pay Raises

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Two baseball players due big pay raises. The only question is, how much? Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, already making $105,000, says he wouldn't mind signing for $150,000, but gives the impression he'll settle for a good bit less. Zoilo Versailles of the Minnesota Twins, a virtual newcomer to the super-star class, is demanding that his $28,000 salary of last season be increased to $50,000. "I'm going to see Calvin Monday," Versailles said before the Sports banquet Friday night, "and he offered me $38,000, but I want $50,000. I figure being most valuable is automatically worth $20,000. Other players on the team are making more than me. If they don't want to pay me, they can trade me for the pitcher they need." Mays fended off questions about published reports which guessed his 1966 salary would range between $115,000 and $150,000. Vice President Charles (Chub) Feeney of the Giants said the record $125,000 Ted Williams was supposed to have received may have been high, "but regardless, Willie will probably top all past figures."

Was Wally Lemm Shoved?

By TOMMY HART
According to Sam Payne, an Amarillo writer, Murray State JC of Tishomingo, Okla., quite possibly has the finest junior college basketball team in America, has a 6-2, 200-pound Negro guard from Texas named Junius Simon who is capable of stopping Texas Tech's Dubby Malaise as no one has ever stopped him. Murray State beat Dallas Baptist, 72-59, a few days before the Dallas club descended upon Big Spring to give HCJC a basketball lesson. Simon, it is said, wanted to go to some Western JC Conference school but never got the chance. He may wind up at West Texas State University next year. Joe Bunch, an employee of the River-Welch Funeral Home here, says he never missed a play in any of the New Year's Day football games, that he set up two TV sets side by side and turned on both in cases where there were time conflicts. He even had his wife bring him his meals during the games. Wally Lemm, now out as coach of the St. Louis (football) Cardinals, tells intimates he was given a choice by the Bidwell brothers who run the show with the club—"quit or be fired". Lemm says he took the job in the first place with the understanding that he wouldn't move from Lake Bluff, Ill., but the Bidwells wanted him on the scene the year around. Charley Trippi may be elevated to the head job with the Red Birds. Keith Miles, new head coach at Snyder, played his high school football at Stamford under Gordon Wood and his college ball at H-SU under Sam Baugh. Miles' starting salary at Snyder will be $9,800, which is what Horrace Baugh was making when he quit. Those initials in the name of the Munny golf course's new pro, J. B. Wetsel, stand for James Buford, but he prefers the initials. The best round Wetsel ever fashioned on the links was a 65 he recorded on the Abilene Munny layout. He lettered three years in high school basketball, pole

CHRISTY MATHEUSON vaulted 12-8 and was a 6-1 high jumper. His best vault won him a Class B Regional championship one year. His wife, incidentally, lived in Big Spring as a three-year-old. The late Branch Rickey said only six baseball players in history can be described as true immortals and listed them thusly: Honus Wagner, Ty Cobb, George Sisler, Christy Matheuson, Babe Ruth and Jackie Robinson. He looked on Wagner as the best of the lot. San Angelo's 1966 football team will have four captains—Don Aylor, Alan Sikes, Gary Mullins and Terry Collins. The University of North Carolina is due to replace Jim Hickey as head coach some time soon. Mickey Mantle was a possibility as chief speaker for the annual YMCA banquet here for a time. The New York Mets estimate their TV revenue on home games is the equivalent of 600,000 paying customers. In the last five NFL championship games, the temperature has never risen above 32 degrees and has dropped as low as 15. Footballer Jim Brown gets ten per cent of the action in the next Cassius Clay championship fight, simply because he agreed to serve as window dressing—the Clay mob needs all the good will it can muster. Marciano Rivas, the Mexican fighter who toils in the stable of Martin County's Melton McMorris, recently stashed Alton Coulter, the Arizona featherweight champion, in the sixth round of a fight in Albuquerque and likely will be booked in there again. Leon Smith, the Austin freshman playing basketball at HCJC, should be a great one before he finishes here. He only recently turned 18. Those recent special track events in Lubbock featuring HCJC and Lubbock Christian College athletes were run on asphalt and left some of the Hawks with very sore muscles. Bernie Parrish of the Cleveland Browns works as a stockbroker and never misses a trick—he had a telephone installed in his locker. Wink High School recently lost its basketball coach, Doyle Parrish, who quit to become associated with an Odessa sporting goods concern. The purse in the Bing Crosby Golf tournament coming up soon has been boosted to $104,000. Pete Dawkins, an All-American footballer for Army a few years ago, is now serving as an interpreter in Viet Nam. Timmy Doerr, a new coaching aide at Abilene High School, was playing high school football at Cleburne as recently as 1959.

Ladd, Faison Are Traded To Oilers

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Oilers of the American Football League acquired Saturday two all-league selections, defensive tackle Ernie Ladd and defensive end Earl Faison, from the San Diego Chargers for line-backer Johnny Baker, defensive end Gary Cutsinger and cornerback Pete Jacques.

The multi-player trade, one of the biggest in American Football League history, was announced during the second period of the league's All-Star Bowl while Ladd and Faison were playing for the All-Stars.

Both Ladd and Faison had expressed disappointment with San Diego Coach General Manager Sid Gillman early in the season and announced they were playing out their options and becoming free agents.

Don Klosterman, who became the Oilers' new general manager in a general front office shakeup, said the Houston club had not negotiated with the players but "we feel we will come to an agreement with them in the near future."

Klosterman said he had not been involved in the actual trade discussions but expressed complete satisfaction with the deal that gives the Oilers two mammoth defensive linemen in the 6-foot-9, 295-pound Ladd and the 6-foot-5, 270-pound Faison.

"Bud Adams instructed me to obtain the best talent available," said Klosterman, "and in my opinion these two men are among the best. There's little doubt in the minds of football people that the Oilers have acquired the rights to two of the finest defensive players in pro football."

"Any knowledgeable evaluator of talent in pro football, if asked to name the five best defensive linemen in the game, would be remiss if he did not include these two giants."

Baker and Cutsinger were starters for the Oilers this past season. Jacques was a swing man after being a starter in 1964, his rookie year.

Both Ladd and Faison made The Associated Press All-AFL team this season as the Chargers won the Western Division title for the fourth time in their five years with the club.

The deal swung by the Oilers, who finished last in the East with a 4-10 record, overshadowed a major deal they made after the 1965 season. That year, they sent running back Billy Cannon to Oakland, fullback Bob Jackson and end Doble Craig.

Race Entries, Court Battle Get Political Year Started

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A flurry of political announcements in the past week, plus a court fight over eligibility of candidates, reminded Texas voters that the 1966 political year is upon us. Several county political gatherings were held to pave the way for precinct conventions May 7, which likely will set the tone of the entire political year particularly if the feud between Gov. John Connally and U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough intensifies.

Last minute drives were launched to entice Texans into paying their poll taxes before the Jan. 31 deadline. Federal judges considering the Justice Department suit seeking to outlaw the Texas poll tax even for state and local elections have warned the suit likely will not be settled in time to affect 1966 primary voting.

GET CERTIFICATE
Those wishing to vote only for federal officials also must get their free "poll tax not paid" certificates by the Jan. 31 deadline.

The next big red circle on the political calendar is the Feb. 7 deadline for candidates to ask for a place on the Democratic or Republican primary ballots. Filing fees must be paid within three days.

A final okay on the candidates will come March 14 when the state executive committees of both the major parties meet in Austin. At this meeting the state committees also will announce the site of the important September state conventions where party plans will be made for the crucial two years preceding the 1968 presidential election year.

CONVENTION SITES
Location of the September conventions is a much-discussed secret in both parties. Republican speculation leans toward Austin or San Antonio, probably the latter. Democrats also considered Austin but recently have investigated facilities in Dallas and Houston.

The 1966 September convention with its 6,258 delegate votes will be more than twice the size of the 1964 convention.

First day of absentee voting in person for the May primary is April 18, and May 3 is the last day.

After the May 7 voting and precinct conventions there will be county conventions on May 14 and the state party committee canvass of election results on May 17.

Absentee voting in person for the second or runoff primary begins May 25 and ends May 31.

May 30 is the date set for statewide conventions of political parties that do not select nominees in primary elections. Intention to name nominees by convention have been filed by the Constitution, Conservative and Liberal parties.

June 4 is the second primary election with the statewide canvass of votes on June 18.

On Aug. 8, publication must begin in one weekly newspaper of each county of the state of the 16 proposed state constitution changes to be on the general election ballot.

Stock Market At New Peak

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week bulled its way ahead to record highs in turbulent trading as fears of inflation grew stronger.

Trading was astonishingly active on the New York Stock Exchange in spite of the New York transit strike which not only kept many New Yorkers from their jobs but occasioned a cut-down in the usual trading day to four hours from the usual five and one half.

Despite these handicaps, volume for the week swelled to 43,221,289 shares from 38,728,054 the week before and was the heaviest for any week since the one ended Dec. 19 when 47.7 million shares changed hands.

RECORD HIGHS
Record highs were made in all the popular averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 4.1 to 368.2, making its seventh straight weekly advance.

The Dow Jones Industrial average advanced 1.17 to 987.50. The market rose on every one of the five trading days except Wednesday when there was some precautionary selling in advance of President Johnson's State of the Union message. The losses were slight on average. It was the market's first decline of 1966.

STAGE REBOUND
Stocks rebounded vigorously on Thursday and Friday. Johnson's speech contained no unpleasant surprises of an outstanding calibre, although he did recommend some temporary increases in auto and telephone excise taxes. Wall Street saw a green light for further advance in the President's firmness regarding the U.S. military commitment in Viet Nam combined with his determination to work for the goals of the Great Society a "guns and butter" speech.

THEY BRING YOU BOOKS

Reviewing Becomes Hobby

By JO BRIGHT

The "book review" has become standard fare for the palate of today's busy woman who hasn't as much time as she would like to digest the feast of literature available for her perusal.

Among the most popular book reviewers in Big Spring are the women shown on today's picture page.

Mrs. Bill Currie formerly taught English in both the junior and senior high schools here, and served as librarian for one year. She began preparing reviews for her Hyperton club years ago and was soon being asked to review for other clubs and church groups.

"I believe I reviewed 'The Robe' eight or 10 times," said Mrs. Currie, who still reads extensively. She and her husband make their home at the Settles Hotel, where, due to lack of space, she keeps only a few favorite books.

Teaching was the road by which Mrs. Clyde Angel arrived at a love of books, also. She was a third grade teacher here for seven years and has been doing reviews for over 20. She terms it a hobby that is both gratifying and informative. Mrs. Angel said that in choosing a book to review, she keeps three things in mind — religion, family and humor. With a book falling into one of these categories, she can appear before most any group with something suitable. Her own preference is something light and entertaining, usually concerning family life, with which there is something to identify. As for modern fiction, she feels you "can't have fun with it anymore."

Mr. and Mrs. Angel live at 706 Hillside. Their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Angel, and Bobby, reside in Houston.

Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper taught in an elementary school here for a year and began reviewing books for her club, the 1930 Hyperton. Occasionally she has provided the program for another club. Mrs. Cowper finds that her reading tastes continue to change through the years, and that her interest at this time centers on "an American heritage" type of reading.

Dr. and Mrs. Cowper are parents of four children, Bennett, a sixth grader; Brenda, a University of Texas junior; Jane, who is working on an MA at the University of Houston; and Sally, who is Mrs. Rodney Sheppard of Austin. The library at the Cowper home reveals their variety of interests, from philosophy to tales of mystery.

Mrs. O. T. Brewster, 1721 Yale, is a French teacher in the senior high school and has been in the profession for about 25 years. She reviews as a hobby that began over 20 years ago, and has used her talent to provide club programs as well as church benefits. Mrs. Brewster's personal preference in reading matter is philosophy or books that reveal the culture and thinking of people. In her collection are two books published in France before 1800, one a small prayer book. She and her husband are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Walter Doble of Lafayette, La. Their grandchildren are Charles and Bruce.

Mrs. Herman Smith, 2702 Rebecca, is a government teacher at Big Spring High School and an instructor at Howard County Junior College in the evenings. Their children are Moffitt, 22, who is in college, and Susan, a student at Park Hill School.

Mrs. Smith has enjoyed reading all her life and has provided a large library for the family's use. Basically, the books are of a religious or historical nature, but there are volumes of poetry, also. Mrs. Smith said that she seldom reads fiction unless it has an interesting history or Biblical background.

MISS BESSIE LOVE AND MRS. DONALD D. VAN METER

Afternoon Tea Honors Miss Bessie Love

Miss Bessie Love was honored Friday afternoon with a tea held in the Patio Room of Holiday Inn. The occasion marked the approaching retirement of Miss Love, chief of Nursing Services at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The honoree, attired in a gold wool dress with high neckline and deep tucks at the front waistline, was presented a green orchid corsage. She greeted guests with the hostess, Mrs. Donald D. Van Meter, wife of the hospital director, who wore a beige and white lace dress, long-sleeved and accented at the waist with a beige satin rose. Others in the receiving line were Mrs. Elmer Setzler and Mrs. Phil Hines.

Mrs. Jerry Metcalf presided at the table where over 200 guests were registered between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m.

The refreshment table was covered with an aqua floor-length cloth and centered with a swirl candelabrum holding votive lights and arranged with yellow snapdragons, yellow Fuji chrysanthemums and pompons. The accent was a symbolic Florence Nightingale lamp. Floor-length yellow linen covered the punch table, and to one side of the crystal service was a piece of polished driftwood holding green and gold tapers bedded in lemon leaves.

Those who poured were Mrs. G. Edward Williams, Mrs. Charles E. McDonald, Miss Francis Bartlett, Mrs. Dick Egan and Mrs. Horace J. Smith.

Miss Love, a resident of Big Spring for 15 years, was graduated from nurses school in 1925 and has followed that profession continually since that time. She has been a member of the local Veterans Administration Hospital staff since 1950.

Miss Love's retirement date is Jan. 31. She plans to continue making her home here, hoping to have time for gardening and some travel.

For reviewing, Mrs. Smith prefers books that give a greater insight into the past, and what little time she can spare for leisure reading, she spends with authors that have something to say about man — what he is and why.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

We haven't even had winter yet and the merchants are getting in their first supplies of swim suits. Also there are any number of beautiful and cleverly designed straw purses for spring and summer. . . . Probably would be a good idea to get outfitted now for spring. If the sales didn't deflate your bank account, because by the time you are ready to wear spring finery there won't be any left for purchase. Things go pretty fast these days.

Had the nicest chat with MRS. W. B. YOUNGER of Abilene and she had the happiest news. Her elder daughter, MRS. BILLIE McCLURE, was married Saturday in Albuquerque, N.M., to R. H. (JOE) CLARKE, JR.

Mr. and Mrs. Younger drove to Albuquerque Friday to be present for the double ring ceremony that was held at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

MARY LYNN McCLURE was her mother's honor attendant and JOHN STEPHEN McCLURE was an usher. JIM CLARKE was his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Four Hills Country Club. The Clarkes will be at home at 443 Dartmouth, NE, Albuquerque, after a wedding trip to Las Vegas. Nev. Mr. Clarke is a partner in Clarke-White Trucks.

MR. and MRS. JIM ZACK left this morning for Columbia, Mo., where they will help their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. BOB LEWIS, and little son, Kevin, pack up for coming back to Texas for a while.

Mr. Lewis has recently completed his work for a master's degree and the family will come back here until they get permanently settled. Mrs. Lewis and Kevin will stay in Dallas with the Zacks who will attend the clothing market for a week of the return trip.

The LEWIS PRICES think Oregon is a beautiful place to see but after the experience last week trying to get back home from a two-week Christmas trip, they are convinced summer is the better time.

The couple went to Salem, Ore., to visit their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. ERNEST POTTER, and their family. On the return trip, week before last, they got caught in the terrific storm that hit California and had a rather interesting trip from there in to Texas.

The DONALD VAN METERS left Friday night by car for San Francisco, Calif., where he will attend an IBM school offered for VA directors. When they return they will come by Los Angeles to visit their daughter, Laurel, who is in school there.

How happy Big Spring is to have MISS BESSIE LOVE choose to remain here to make her home following her retirement from nursing service with the Veterans Administration Hospital. The many friends who called at the tea in her honor Friday testified to the love they feel for her.

MR. and MRS. G. H. BRIDEN have returned from a delightful visit to California where they attended the wedding of their son, Kenneth, who was married on Dec. 27 at Modesto. They then went to Lompak where they were guests of the son-in-law and daughter, LT. and MRS. DONALD ZUREK, and their daughter, Michelle.

A big thrill for the Big Spring people was in seeing the Rose Bowl Parade and the football game afterwards. The couple returned here Wednesday.

MR. and MRS. A. WOLFSON of Grand Rapids, Mich., are here for a three-week visit with their son, LOUIS WOLFSON.

There's nothing like children's television shows for sheer enjoyment for grandmothers, especially if the children on the show are grandchildren of the elder viewers. A case in point is that of MRS. J. J. HAVENS who is having the pleasure of watching her grandchildren, SUZETTE and JACK YOUNG, the children of MR. and MRS. RAY YOUNG of Odessa. Mrs. Young is the former Sandra Havens. The program is Romper Room on Channel Two from Midland-Odessa at 9 a.m. for the next two weeks.

BILL WILSON, son of Mrs. W. G. Wilson Jr., has been transferred to Direddawa, Ethiopia, from Saudi Arabia where he is employed by an oil company. According to a letter to his mother he says he has had a wonderful trip to Cairo where he spent two days. He went up into a pyramid and visited a 2,000 year old tomb as well as numerous historically and Biblically interesting places. He also had a stopover in Addis Ababa. Bill says he likes Ethiopia better than Arabia.

Food Group Receives Booklets On Shelter

Family shelter design booklets were distributed by Mrs. Bill Cochran when members of the Texas Food School Service Association met at 2:30 p.m. at the Gay Hill school. The Gay Hill workers were the host group.

as Mrs. E. A. Williamson reported on the called executive meeting in Midland Jan. 8.

The nominating committee reported that Mrs. Williamson had been elected president-elect at a called meeting last week.

Mrs. Williamson led the code of ethics, and the program concerned poetry. "January Sunshine" was read by Mrs. Everett Whately, and "Birthday Wish" by Mrs. K. B. Stephens.

Following the theme, "Cakes on Parade," members brought favorite cakes which they displayed and gave as prizes. Attendances prizes went to Mrs. Betty Trantham and Mrs. R. L. Jones. Twenty-four attended.

The next meeting will be Feb. 13 in the Gollad Junior High School cafeteria, and the theme will be "Hats Off to Our P-TA."

Dallas Flower Show Set For State Fair

"Gardens of Texas" has been set as the theme for the 15th annual Dallas Flower and Garden Show, scheduled March 19-27 at State Fair Park.

For the first time, areas outside of Dallas have been invited to participate in the floral extravaganza. Chambers of Commerce from Fort Worth, East Texas (Tyler) and West Texas have agreed to sponsor model gardens. These different areas will be honored on special days during the show.

As an example of the wide Texas participation, the cactus and desert plants to be featured in West Texas' "The Gardens of the Big Bend" will be forced into early bloom by the botany department of Sul Ross College in Alpine.

Various Dallas area garden clubs and business firms will sponsor the popular model gardens, bringing the total number of gardens to three dozen.

Twelve members of the American Institute of Interior Designers will furnish model rooms. Also planned are numerous educational exhibits on gardening, conservation and beautification, which will include wild birds and flowers of Texas.

The show will be sponsored by the Dallas Garden Center and the State Fair of Texas, with the cooperation of the Dallas Council of Garden Clubs.

Sandra Seidenberger Weds Floyd V. Wilde

MRS. FLOYD VIRGIL WILDE

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Virgil Wilde are on a trip to Brownwood and Dallas following their wedding at 12:30 p.m. Saturday in St. Ambrose Catholic Church at Wall.

The bride is the former Sandra Kay Seidenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Seidenberger of St. Lawrence Rt. Garden City, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wilde, Rt. 3, San Angelo.

The nuptial high mass and double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bernard Binversie, pastor of the church and chancellor of the Diocese of San Angelo. Mrs. Gloria Schwartz played the organ while the church choir sang the high mass.

The altar background was accented with candelabra and basket arrangements of white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of peau de soie, featuring a scooped neckline. The long sleeves extended into petal points over the hands. The gown was fashioned princess-style with a slightly A-line skirt having re-embroidered Alencon lace flowing from the neckline to hemline of the skirt. The chapel train repeated the lace motif and bows of self fabric were used at the waistline and at points around the hemline.

Her fingertip-length veil of silk illusion was secured to a bridal cap of re-embroidered lace dotted with seed pearls. Three roses formed the crown. The bride's only jewelry was a pearl and diamond pendant, a gift from the groom, and she carried an heirloom handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Hoepfl.

The bridal bouquet was white orchids enhanced with a cascade of yellow butterfly roses and French white carnations tipped with lily of the valley.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Linda Eggemeyer of Miles attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sisters, Miss Sara Wilde and Miss Betty Wilde, and his cousin, Miss Ann Strube, all of San Angelo, and the bride's cousin, Miss Lina Long of Oklahoma. Miss Becky Seidenberger of Garden City, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother, Leroy Wilde of San Angelo. Groomsmen were the bride's brother, Gary Seidenberger of Big Spring, her cousins, Larry Schaefer of Garden City and Dennis Seidenberger of San Angelo, and Billy Glass. The bridegroom's brother, Wilfred Wilde of San Angelo was ring bearer, and ushers were Bernard Seidenberger, Garden City; Jerry Franks, Rowena; and Ricky Long of Oklahoma. Serving the mass were Rudy Halfman of Garden City and the bridegroom's brother, Olen Wilde of San Angelo.

The couple will make their home in the St. Lawrence Community where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

The bride graduated from Garden City High School where she belonged to the student council and Future Homemakers of America. She was elected class favorite and Football Sweetheart and has been employed by Hoch Brothers Gin. The bridegroom graduated from Wall High School in 1961 and was a member of the Wall Knights of Columbus.

The couple were honored at a reception in the parish hall of the church and were joined by the parents and attendants in greeting guests. Miss Jean Eggemeyer presided at the register, and members of the house-party were Miss Sharon Jacob and Miss Ronda Green, both of Garden City; Mrs. Jerry Franke, Rowena; and Miss Jean Angerle, Miss Janell Wilde and Miss Janie Wilde, all of San Angelo.

Others assisting were Mrs. A. W. Schraeder, Miss Brenda Jacob, Miss Carolyn Schraeder, Mrs. Ralph Halfman and Mrs. Roscoe Schaefer, all of Garden City; Mrs. Roy Goebel of Hermleigh and Mrs. Harold Cagle of Andrews.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Lambert of Lamesa, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Savoy Tennyson of Route B, Lamesa.

The Chantilly lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline and long petal-point sleeves with self-covered buttons. Chantilly lace also edged the A-line skirt and detachable chapel-length train. She carried a cascade of white roses and feathered carnations atop a white Bible. Wedding rings of the bridal couple's parents were entwined in the bouquet.

Miss Kay Lambert, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Barbara Tennyson and Miss Carolyn Tennyson, sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Perception Explained To Forum

A program on extrasensory perception was given at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Junior Woman's Forum. Nineteen members met at the home of Mrs. Dee John Davis, 715 Washington, with Mrs. J. D. Cole as cohostess.

Mrs. Earl Zetsche presided, and guests were Mrs. R. C. Armstrong, Mrs. Ronald Howard, Mrs. Don Washburn, Mrs. Al Kloven, Mrs. Bill Fryrear and Mrs. Joe Lewallen.

Mrs. Dean Armbrust conducted the program. She told of unusual examples where people could anticipate happenings in the future.

Mrs. Paschal Odum reported on the state hospital Christmas party, and Mrs. Cole said that members working on the community improvement program, for the spring semester, will be helping girls at the Salvation Army learn to sew.

Mrs. Jerry Barron announced that the Sweethearts In Masquerade Ball would be held Feb. 11 at Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. Ted Ferrell reported on the fine arts department, and the next meeting will be Jan. 27 at the home of Mrs. Wayne Henry. Mrs. Louis McKnight will be cohostess.

Cotton Velour Has Velveteen Feel

A soft-as-a-kitten cotton is making a hit as a hard-wearing sportswear fabric.

It's velvety cotton velour, a plush fabric that combines the comfort of cotton sweatshirting with the elegant look of velveteen.

The National Cotton Council reports that velour is a favorite for warm but lightweight V-neck pullovers, jacket sweaters, and shift dresses. It comes in rich, flowing colors and eye-catching patterns, including multi-color stripes and big harlequin diamond checks.

Use Clean Cloths

Good housekeepers keep a good supply of freshly-laundered dusters on hand. Dirty clothes will only spread dust around and make the work more difficult.

Fabrics Attuned To New Fashion

Lovers of contemporary decorative furnishings on the market. In addition to a wide variety of new pieces in furniture lines, there are fabrics and bedspreads galore attuned to this decor.

Deep colors are more brilliant, more saturated, while pastel get a sophisticated sharper treatment. Textures have a hand-crafted look, and in bedspreads these often are augmented with tailoring touches at mattress edge and bottom hemline.

Louvered Doors Have New Charm

High windows can strike a low note in the decor of a remodeled basement.

One way to solve the problem is to disguise the windows with floor-to-ceiling stock louver doors of ponderosa pine, stained or painted to blend with the basement color scheme, the louvers make an effective decoration, admit light, and allow air to circulate.

VETERAN STAFFER TO RETIRE HERE

Arrived Before The Furniture

By JERRY MONSON
"Why, I was here before they had any furniture in the building," smiled Miss Bessie Love, chief of the nursing service at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

"I remember that we didn't have any patients from April to July, 1950, because we were in the process of organizing and staffing the hospital when it first opened," she said.

This grand little lady of nursing, a veteran of 41 years' nursing service, will retire from her duties at the VA Hospital Jan. 31. She is a charter member of the Big Spring VA Hospital and is making no exaggeration when she says she was there before the furniture.

Miss Love was born and reared in Washington, Iowa, and attended schools there. She took part of her nurses' training at the University of Iowa and graduated from nursing school in 1925.

She came to Texas in 1932 and worked in hospitals in Galveston and Wichita Falls. She became an Army nurse in 1943 and worked in Texas and Illinois before being shipped to France.

After the war, she came back to Texas and worked in hospitals at McKinney and Amarillo before joining the new VA staff in Big Spring in early 1950.

"One of the biggest changes in the city itself that I've noticed during 16 years here is that housing in 1950 was almost non-existent for newcomers," she said. "This has been remedied since that time, and, in my opinion, is a fine thing."

Miss Love said that she has treated VA patients from both world wars, as well as the Spanish American War, and occasionally she has had an Indian fighter as a patient.

"The challenging thing about nursing is that it is a constant struggle to keep up with current changes in thinking, in beliefs, and in methods of treatment," she reflected. She said that practically the whole body of knowledge of medicine and treatment has been changed or altered somewhat during the time she has been in nursing.

As chief of the nursing service, she supervises 90 people, including 40 professional nurses and nursing assistants who provide "round-the-clock" patient care. The nursing service holds an education program for all levels of nursing personnel, a teaching program for new nursing assistants, and forums for new nursing procedures, which crop up constantly, she said.

When she retires in two weeks—she plans to live here—she will maintain her club activities, which include the After-Five Garden Club and the Lucky Twenty Investment Group. She is a past president of both organizations, and also a past president of the District 24 Texas Nurses Association, where she will still be an active member.

"If I have the time, I also intend to do a little traveling, something I haven't been able to do before," she said. "And then, of course, there's the possibility of doing volunteer work at other area hospitals."

"Nursing has been challenging for me ever since I was a little girl—in fact, I can't remember when I didn't want to be a nurse, she said. "It's been rich and full and personally rewarding."

Stock Dividend Voted By Big Spring Savings

A 20 per cent stock dividend to shareholders in Big Spring Savings Association was voted at the annual meeting of the Association Thursday. There are 37 shareholders involved in the stock distribution.

The Association's financial report was reviewed at the meeting, with substantial gains being shown.

Savings balances with the institution increased during 1965 by 23 per cent, from $4,554,896 to $5,611,047.

First mortgage loans increased more than $678,000, from $4,501,847 to $5,180,278.

Savings accounts at the end of the year totaled 1,453, a gain of 174. The average size of accounts also increased.

At the stockholders meeting, the current board of directors was re-elected: John Davis, E. P. Driver, L. B. (Bill) Edwards, Billy W. Jones, Joe Pond, H. W. Smith, Adolph Swartz and R. W. Whipkey.

At a subsequent board meeting, officers also were re-elected: Whipkey, chairman of the board; Jones, president; Swartz, vice president; Driver, secretary; and Mrs. Audie Mae Smith, assistant secretary.

Things got off to a good start this week as flying instructor Pat Petosky purchased her own airplane, a Cessna 140, one year to the day since she started flying. Pat explained it was a kind of anniversary present to herself. She brought it up to Howard County Airport Saturday.

Elbert Long of Howard County Flying Club will pilot the club for 1966 as president. Other officers, elected at a meeting earlier this week, are Charles Dodson, vice president; Mrs. Joyce Green, secretary - treasurer; and Joe Dawes, ordinance and maintenance officer. All were re-elected.

Two new members were officially inducted into the club at this meeting, J. A. Bean and Zan Dawson. Mrs. Green announced that the next meeting of the club is scheduled for Monday, Feb. 14.

Howard County Flying Club members Buddy Hatch, Charles Rainwater and Joyce Green all took cross-country jaunts during the week in the Colt. Rainwater went to Oklahoma last weekend and Mrs. Green took a short hop to Amarillo Wednesday. Only other member up in the Colt was Zan Dawson.

Activity was slow at Big Spring Flying Club, with only Roy Granbery and James Merrick in the Colt, and Lawson Allen in the Cessna this week.

Dub Clinton, lineman for Big Spring Aircraft, and Jerry Merrick, both students, were up in the Tri-Pacer of Big Spring Aircraft this week. New student at Big Spring Aircraft is Charles "Chub" Jones, taking instruction from Pat Petosky in the Cherokee.

Howard Loyd, Big Spring Aircraft, reported quite a few out-of-towners gassing up this week, 10 in all. In addition, several local people were up in the Cherokee, among them Darroll Eaton, Robert Lebkowsky, Bonnie Arrick, Travis Waller, Don Long and Charles Vieregge.

Howard Loyd piloted Ellis Dyer to Oklahoma City last week in the Comanche so Dyer could visit his brother, who was hurt in an oil explosion near Oklahoma City. Dyer was in a similar explosion 10 years ago.

Webb Aero members up during the last two weeks in the Cessna 172 included Eldridge Estes, Stanley Sweeden, Tom Morrell, Allen Boone and Page Sparks.

Up in the Cessna 150 were Mrs. Stanley Sweeden, Robert Childgreen, Mary Green, Larry Walter, Eldridge Estes, R. L. Brown, Louis Fought and Mrs. Lenora Smith.

Webb Aero Club met Wednesday night at Withycombe Hall at Webb AFB to view movies of the spot landing program held in the fall. Trophies were presented to Page Sparks, F. N. Thomas, Paul Sullivan and Bob Spence.

Next meeting of the club is scheduled for Feb. 9.

Big Spring Flying Club had its regular business meeting Monday night. Two movies were shown, and discussion of maintenance problems followed. John Stanley, secretary - treasurer announced that the next meeting would be Monday, Feb. 14.

Filing System Bids Asked

Howard County Commissioners Court will receive bids Jan. 31 on an electrically controlled and operated legal filing system to be installed in the office of the district court clerk.

The machine will handle 16,000 files and is so devised that the person wanting a particular file has only to dial the case number. The machine automatically produces the file needed.

The machine, when installed and loaded, will handle nearly all legal files in the clerk's office.

It will release nearly a dozen ordinary office filing cabinets for any other county official who needs them.

The machines are relatively new and not many have been put in operation in this part of the state.

He is a member of the House Public Works and Veterans Affairs committees.

Roberts is a Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict. He is married.

Pigeons Successfully Fighting City Hall

By TOM BARRY

Peter Pigeon and his motley crew thoroughly routed the multi-clad forces of City Hall in the latest skirmish over nesting rights at City Auditorium, according to anonymous, but official, sources.

A sneaky trap which took advantage of the birds' natural hunger for food, thought up by a clever fireman, was circumvented by the wily winged ones. The trap had a trap-door, next to a feeding bin. The idea was that when a pigeon saw the food, he'd jump on the trap-door and fall through to the cage below.

But pigeons have claws, and brains. A source close to the field commander said Friday that he witnessed the pigeons' brilliant maneuvering. One of the birds would jump on the trap and carry it down with his weight. Then the others would feed.

When hunger was assuaged, the pigeon holding down the door would un-claw the wire door and fly away as it snapped closed.

Even a decoy pigeon, hand-captured and put in the cage, did nothing more than call the attention of the feathery phalanx to the fact that the trap was a trap.

City forces beat a hasty retreat, trap and all, Friday, to "regroup." Tinfoil will be placed on the door so the pigeons won't have any grip and will slide into the dungeon (another fireman's idea). Of course the pigeons will probably merely peck holes in the foil to make gripping-spots, but firemen never give up.

Behind the front lines, meantime, alternate battle-plans are being hashed up by City Hall strategists, but a Herald spy with a listening device was bribed over to the city side and details of the (no doubt nefarious) machinations were hushed up.

Other sources revealed some plans, however. The Herald cannot vouch for their verity, but these include: Shotgunners hidden in auditorium belfry to blast the birds with rock salt while asleep (this plan was scotched, we learn); a low-yield A-bomb to be set off just above the pigeons' roost (highly unlikely as bombs are costly); nerve-gas; firemen stationed near the trap, but hidden, with rolled-up newspapers to whack the birds as they feed; and finally, a mass assault by the entire City army, which will troop over the roof of the auditorium armed with butterfly-nets, tennis shoes and acrophobia.

No doubt the city will eventually triumph. As one field-grade officer remarked in confidence Friday, "Them pigeons can't be that smart."

Wiggling During Anthem Rapped

DOVER, Del. (AP)—The Governor's Committee on Protocol has complained about high school drum majorettes and cheerleaders wiggling during the playing of the National Anthem.

The committee was credited by the General Assembly to study all aspects of protocol in Delaware and suggest ways to improve it.

UF Trustees To Decide On Future

Annual meeting of trustees, and all the membership, of the United Fund of Big Spring and Howard County has been set for Monday, January 31, at 5 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

UF President Lester Morton appealed for a full attendance since important matters are to be decided.

The organization will be confronted with a decision on the new year's remittance to participating agencies, since the UF's fund-raising effort of last fall fell short of requirements by some $9,000. A percentage cut in agency allotments is a possibility.

New trustees will be named at the membership meeting. The UF's board of trustees has 31st, and is prepared to help us find some answers."

Abilene Driver Burns To Death

BROWNWOOD (AP)—An Abilene truck driver burned to death in his gasoline transport Friday after it ran out of control, hit a liquor store and exploded.

A witness said he tried to pull the screaming man through a window after he found both doors of the truck cab jammed shut. Intense heat forced him away.

Police identified the victim as H. C. (Jack) Jackson, about 40, of Abilene.

The truck hit a parked car and a sign before hitting the liquor store operated by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis. The couple and two children escaped moments before the store went up in flames.
