MEDITERRANEAN AREA

Air Force Jets Collide, Plunge

ALMERIA, Spain (AP)—Two U.S. Air Force jet planes with a total of 11 crewmen aboard crashed along the Mediterranean coast today after a collision in the air while refueling. U.S. Air Force officials said five men had been rescued. The headquarters of the 16th U.S. Air Force near Madrid said the planes were a B52 bomber from a base in the United States and a KC135 jet tanker based at Moron Airport, near Sevilla, Spain. One of the two planes crashed on land, the other into the Mediterranean.

Children on their way to school near Almeria said they heard a loud explosion in the sky high overhead, then saw smoke clouds above them. Later four parachutes were seen descending off the coast. U.S. Air Force sources said

The B52 carried seven men and the big tanker a crew of four. Rescuers spotted a big dye marker about a third of a mile off the coast. Pilots said it appeared too large to have come from one man's survival pack.

The Air Force said the B52 came from the 68th Bombardment Wing at Seymour Johnson Air Base, N.C. The tanker was from the 910th Air Refueling Unit at Bergstrom, Tex., but was temporarily stationed in Spain. The 16th Air Force headquarters would not say whether the B52 was carrying nuclear bombs on the flight.

REFUEL, RETURN
Squadrons of B52s fly into the Spanish area almost daily from the United States, refuel at high altitude from jet tankers, and return to their home bases without landing in Europe.

Flying tankers are stationed at both the Moron and Torrejon air bases.

ATTACK BACKFIRES
The infantrymen shot back at the vehicles slowly rolled toward their destination. Overhead the planes pinpointed their fire at the Communist positions. The barrage came within 150 feet of the convoy.

Terrorists tossed a grenade at a jeepload of American soldiers in Saigon this morning. The Americans jumped from the vehicle before it exploded.

PAIR'S DREAM
That is the dream of old warriors Nenni and Saragat — Italy's first Socialist president. The two men have been comrades and enemies by turns for decades. When they split in 1947 they were bitterly at odds. Saragat considered party leader Nenni's pact with the powerful Communists too dangerous for the nation. He broke away and carried his faction with him. Nenni later broke with the Communists. He now is Premier of the Italian Socialist party.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today confirmed President Johnson's nomination of Robert C. Weaver, New York Negro, to join the Cabinet as secretary of Housing and Urban Development. (Earlier story on Page 10-B.)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review an order for a third trial in the case of a carpenter who said he contracted lung cancer from smoking cigarettes and sought damages from Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. This means that the third trial will be held.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia ordered the third trial on the ground that instructions given to the jury in the second trial were inadequate and confusing. Liggett & Myers appealed to the Supreme Court, asking reversal of the lower tribunal. The firm was held not liable for damages in the second trial.

DIRECTED VERDICT
Otto E. Pritchard, the carpenter, lost in the first trial on a directed verdict of acquittal for Liggett & Myers. However, the circuit court ruled the case should have gone to a jury, and the second trial was ordered.

Pritchard, of Pittsburgh, Pa., died March 2, 1963. His $1¼-million damage suit was continued by his widow, Anita, as administrator of his estate. He testified in the first trial in 1960, stating lung cancer developed after he smoked 20 to 30 cigarettes a day for 30 years.

APPEALS CLAIM
The appeal by Liggett & Myers said Pritchard's death did not result from cancer "and no vestige of cancer was found in him at his death."

The circuit court's opinion, in which a third trial was ordered, said "there was ample evidence in the record from which the jury could have found, as it did, that the smoking of Chesterfields was a cause of the lung cancer, which was diagnosed and removed in 1953."

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors, aerospace issues, steels and airlines advanced as the stock market pushed farther into record high ground early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Many moderate-size transactions combined with a variety of big blocks to pile up volume.

DOW JONES
The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.90 at 991.20.

General Motors gave blue chips leadership as it spurred a couple of points following a statement by GM President James M. Roche that auto sales in 1966 will be equal to or better than the record results of 1965.

Rails, tobaccos, electronics and nonferrous metals also showed a generally higher trend. Drugs were lower.

Little change was shown by farm implements, mail order, retail and building materials. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.5 at 369.7 with industrials up 1.8, rails up 1.5 and utilities up .2.

AP AVERAGE
Both the Dow industrials and the AP average were pushing ahead of the historic closing highs they made Friday.

Expectations of the 60th good auto year in a row were widespread. At the same time, demand for steel from the auto industry was unexpectedly strong.

Texas Areas Shiver In Freeze And Snow

Year's First Precipitation In Snowfall

Howard County's first snow of the winter, and the first moisture of significance since 1966 began was falling at noon today. Reports indicated the fall was general in all parts of the county.

The weatherman held out promise the white blanket might stay for a day or two as additional light snow is included in the forecast for tonight and Tuesday.

According to Grady Randel, at the U.S. Experiment Station, the snow is "wet" and a measurable amount of moisture should be accumulated by tomorrow morning.

The snow began falling in Big Spring about 8 a.m. By 11 a.m., it had developed in volume sufficiently to block vision to some degree.

The flakes were beginning to cover lawns and roofs at noon. The temperature was in the upper 20's at that hour but the lack of wind kept the weather from being unduly bitter. Streets were not slippery, but there was a good probability if the snow continued, driving might become hazardous on hills and overpasses by late afternoon.

Snow was reported falling at midmorning in Ackerly, Coahoma and Fairview. Forsan said about an eighth of an inch of snow was on the ground. Earlier in the day, snow had fallen at Vincent. Cloudy and cold with continued light snow was the forecast for today, tonight and Tuesday. Low last night was 25 degrees. It was predicted the temperature would not go above 35 degrees today. Light winds, ranging from eight to 15 miles an hour, were promised tonight and Tuesday.

The snow had driven the cotton strippers from the fields and further delayed the finale of the 1965 cotton harvest. The fall was warmly welcomed by ranchers who need the moisture it offers to get spring grass under way.

Farmers, who have already finished their cotton harvest and have plowed their fields for spring seeding, were hopeful the snow would be heavy and wet.

So far this year, the only precipitation credited to January was a trace on Jan. 1. This was a very light drizzle of no importance from a moisture standpoint. December had only .46 inch for the entire month.

U.S. To Silence Guns For Viet Nam Holiday

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, today ordered all American troops to cease firing for 78 hours starting at noon Thursday in observance of the Vietnamese lunar New Year holiday, Tet.

Westmoreland's order seconded the decision of the South Vietnamese government to halt fighting during the national celebration. Similar instructions went to South Korean, Australian and New Zealand troops fighting alongside the Vietnamese and Americans.

The truce more than doubles the 30-hour cease-fire observed by Allied forces during the Christmas holiday. But it falls 18 hours short of the Tet truce proclaimed by the Viet Cong. They have promised not to attack from 11 p.m. Wednesday to 11 p.m. Sunday, a total of four days.

UNTIL SUNDAY
Westmoreland ordered a cease-fire from noon Thursday to 6 p.m. Sunday. It was assumed the Allies agreed on different hours to avoid giving the impression they were simply reacting to the Communist proposal.

Westmoreland's order said: "All U.S. forces in the republic will not fire at or on the enemy except in self defense."

There was no sign in the Saigon sector of any letup in fighting before the holiday, although elsewhere in the country military activities continued at a slow pace.

In a lightning stroke, a Viet Cong company attacked a government infantry and armor school at Thu Duc 10 miles north of Saigon at 1 a.m. While one part of the guerrilla force fired two mortar shells as a diversion, another hit part of the compound with automatic weapons.

RAKE BILLETTS
The guerrillas pierced the barbed wire of the officers' candidate school and raked the billets, killing five wives and three children of Vietnamese officer candidates in their beds. Three other children were wounded.

Armored troops fought back and killed 10 of the Viet Cong, a government spokesman said. These bodies were left behind, but the fleeing Viet Cong were seen to be carrying other dead or wounded.

One Viet Cong was captured. Twenty-six civilians were killed and four were wounded when a busload of civilians hit a Viet Cong mine on the road from Moc Hoa to Cai Lay, near Kien Tuong, 35 miles south of the capital.

Northwest of Saigon, a Viet Cong attack on a U.S. troop convoy backfired. Supported by planes roaring in over the tree-tops, the Americans turned the bitter fight 20 miles northwest of Saigon into a drubbing for the guerrillas.

The Communists heated up the ebbing 11-day U.S. sweep on the edge of their Iron Triangle by spraying the convoy with automatic weapons as it rolled to Trung Lap carrying the 2nd Battalion of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division's 28th Regiment back to brigade headquarters.

congressional action, should not decree in this situation that implementation of federal interests requires overriding the particular state rule involved here," Fortas wrote.

Justice Abe Fortas delivered the 6-3 ruling. Justice Hugo Black wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Justices William Douglas and Byron White. Justice John Harlan wrote a brief concurring opinion.

The decision applied to Mrs. Ethel Mae Yazell. She and her husband, Delbert Yazell, signed a note and obtained a $12,000 loan with a mortgage on their jointly owned business in Lampasas.

The note was defaulted and the government sued to recover $4,719 as unpaid balance. The U.S. District Court in Austin entered judgment against the husband, but said Mrs. Yazell was not liable under Texas law. The Texas law holds that a married woman is protected from personal liability under such a contract. The state law now has been largely abandoned.

Appealing to the Supreme Court, the Justice Department asked that Mrs. Yazell be held liable.

WITH CIRCUMSTANCES
"There is no basis for subordinating the constitutional power of the national government to deal with a part of its citizens to restrictions imposed by local law," the department contended.

Fortas said the majority's decision dealt specifically with the circumstances of the Yazell case.

"We decide only that this court, in the absence of specific

Cold Blast Is Expected To Linger

By The Associated Press

A possibility of snow flurries faced extreme Southwest Texas today after temperatures plunged to 5 degrees above zero at Dalhart about dawn. Most of the state shivered in cold weather.

Snow began blanketing spots in West Texas today.

The arctic air penetrated to the coastal area early in the morning and moved on southward.

Driving was hazardous in parts of the Panhandle from a weekend snow.

REMAIN COLD

Cold weather is expected to prevail all week.

Some temperatures at 6 a.m. included Amarillo 9, Lubbock 21, Midland 27, El Paso 31, Alpine 25, Del Rio 40, San Angelo 28, Abilene 29, Wichita Falls 27, Dallas 32, Austin 37, San Antonio 40 and Texarkana 29.

At that time, the freezing line extending along a line from Paris, Junction and the Rio Grande in the Big Bend area.

A five-day forecast indicated the weather will continue cold through Saturday, as much as 15 degrees below normal in north central and northeast portions of the state.

Highway traffic was still hazardous in the Panhandle with the snow and freezing temperatures.

MIDWEST ICY

A huge mass of Arctic air hit the country's midsection today and spread bitter cold temperatures from the Rockies to New England and deep into the South.

The Pacific coast region, southern portions of Texas and Florida and a thin band along the Gulf Coast were about the only areas with temperatures above freezing.

The sharpest chill was in the northern Plains, where it was 27 below zero at Bismarck, N.D., and -19 at Huron, S.D. But the far-ranging cold snap also pushed the mercury down to 6 above zero at Richmond, Va., and 15 at Asheville, N.C.

HEAVY WINDS

Southern California was still experiencing strong winds after Sunday's buffeting of up to 80 miles an hour. Some $250,000 in damage was reportedly inflicted on boats at Avalon Harbor on Catalina Island, some 20 miles off Los Angeles.

One man was missing and presumed drowned in the aftermath of 65-mile-an-hour winds and 18-to-20-foot waves that struck Avalon Harbor. Six persons were injured as 14 pleasure boats were smashed.

Italy Socialists In Unity Move

ROME (AP) — Powered by the dream of two old political warriors, Italy's Socialists are moving to reunite after 19 years of division born in the days of Communist strength in Italy.

A quiet revolution has brought the Socialists of Pietro Nenni and the Democratic Socialists of Giuseppe Saragat to the brink of unity. This could loosen the grip that the dominant Christian Democrats have held on every government since the end of World War II.

Secretary Of State In Attorney General Race

AUSTIN (AP)— Secretary of State Crawford Martin filed today as a candidate for attorney general in the May 7 Democratic primary.

He paid his $1,000 filing fee, contributed by friends and backers from his hometown of Hillsboro.

Pat O'Keefe, executive director of the State Democratic Executive Committee, accepted Martin's application.

TWO REBUFFED
Two other candidates, Sens. Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Galloway Calhoun Jr., of Tyler, were rebuffed last week when they tried to file. State Democratic Chairman Will Davis told them there were questions about their eligibility. Both have taken their cases to the state Supreme Court, where hearings are set for Wednesday.

WILL RESIGN

Martin said he has not decided yet when to resign as secretary of state. He has indicated he will resign. Gov. John Connally appointed Martin, 49, to the job in 1963. Martin was in the Senate 14 years before running for lieutenant governor in 1962. He lost.

Martin, still weak from a virus attack over the weekend, said his campaign will begin right away.

Farm Program Reversal Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The farm bloc is astir with hopes of an historic reversal of American farm policy — to encourage production instead of restricting it.

Farm-state Congress members and most farm organizations are talking up a prospective shift to fewer crop controls, greater output, and higher food exports to combat spreading hunger abroad.

The vast farm surpluses that have plagued American farmers and taxpayers for decades are diminishing. To Republican Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas and other farm spokesmen, this is evidence that steps must be taken to deal with "the impending world crisis of mass starvation."

"Our national attitude and agricultural policies, which for 30 years have centered upon ways to deal with crop surpluses, must be abruptly and unmistakably changed," says Carlson, a leading farm spokesman.

MORE MODERATE

President Johnson is, in fact, expected to call on the new Congress for measures to help the underfed and overpopulated nations. But nothing so drastic as Carlson suggests.

In fact, the high hopes and expectations of farm groups for an early policy turnaround are a matter of concern to the Agriculture Department.

Despite declining crop surpluses, department spokesmen say, it is premature to talk of abolishing acreage and crop controls. For years to come, they predict, the American farm problem will continue to be abundance, not scarcity.

But the breezes of change are blowing across the farm belt. These are some of the straws in the wind:

—The world food outlook is worsening, indisputably.

Food output has barely kept

Twin-Killing Penalty Due

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — A jury to decide the fate of Donald Boggs, 23, who pleaded guilty to murdering two men, will be drawn, starting late today.

Under state law, only two possible choices face the jury—life in prison or death in the gas chamber.

Boggs first pleaded innocent in the fatal shooting of Robert Willis and Halvor Johnson, both of Newport, N.H., last Labor Day weekend. His girl friend, Dixie Lee Radcliff, also pleaded innocent to both killings.

Southern States Challenge Voting Rights Before Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Carolina and five sister Southern states go before the Supreme Court today to challenge the constitutionality of the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

The six states contend that the act, under which nearly 250,000 Negroes have registered in the seven states of the South, is an unreasonable and unfair use of federal power.

At issue is whether the federal government has the constitutional authority to abolish literacy tests and other voter qualifications which had been required by some states.

Arguing alongside South Carolina were to be legal officers from Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia and Virginia. North Carolina, also affected by the Voting Rights Act, is not taking part.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, who celebrates his 44th birthday today, was to defend the legality of the five-month-old law in his first Supreme Court argument since he became the government's top legal officer last year.

Lawyers from New Jersey and Massachusetts — the latter representing 18 Northern and Western states — were to support the government.

EIGHT HOURS

The high court has allotted eight hours for hearing the case, which South Carolina brought directly in the Supreme Court instead of going through the lower federal courts. Arguments are expected to continue at least through Tuesday.

David W. Robinson II, special counsel for South Carolina, was expected to contend that the Voting Rights Act is not an appropriate means of enforcing the 15th Amendment which bars discrimination against voters and gives Congress the power to enact appropriate enforcement legislation.

The six states also contend that the act makes a finding of past discrimination with no judicial proceedings and that its application by a mathematical formula to a handful of states — Alaska, Arizona and the seven in the South — invidiously sets them apart from other states.

In order to escape from jurisdiction of the act, under which federal voter registrars can be dispatched to counties where half the eligible voters are not registered or did not vote last year, a state must prove to a federal court that it does not discriminate.

Katzenbach is expected to contend that state laws setting voter qualifications must bow to the federal statute's implementation of the 15th Amendment.

The attorney general will also contend that the low voter turnout in the affected states is sufficient evidence of discrimination to warrant federal action abolishing literacy tests, and, if necessary, sending federal examiners to take over the registration job.

Mrs. Gandhi Challenged By Desai In India Race

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's political big guns came to bear today on the only candidate standing in the way of Mrs. Indira Gandhi's campaign to become the nation's next prime minister.

Mrs. Gandhi, 48, daughter of the late Prime Minister Nehru, already has picked up formidable support that made two leading contenders decide to drop out of the race.

STAYS IN RUNNING

But Morarji Desai, a right-wing leader in the governing Congress party, stuck it out and said he would fight Mrs. Gandhi until the final decision is made Wednesday.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ (to test by The Chess Tribune) BY CHARLES H. GOREN

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQJ64 ♥1092 ♦A42 ♣32

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1♥	Pass	1♠	Pass
3♠	Pass	?	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four diamonds. You have the equivalent of an opening bid facing a partner who has opened and then jumped, so there are slam possibilities present. The recommended bid is to show the ace of diamonds. Any further action will devolve upon partner.

Q. 2—As South vulnerable you hold:

♠K87 ♥K95 ♦432 ♣872

The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1♥	Dbie.	3♥	Pass
Pass	3♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three no trump. This is a pretty good hand for a partner who has undertaken a nice trick contract all by himself. The king of spades should solidify that suit but, since the king of hearts represents a potential value only with your hand protected from the opening lead, it might prove easier to try the shorter road to game.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J1076 ♥KQ10743 ♦6 ♣A104

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1♦	2♣	?	?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. A bid of two hearts would be highly dangerous since it forces partner into the three level immediately with no sign of a fit. A free bid at the two level in a suit that outranks partner's should represent a hand of virtually opening bid strength.

Q. 4—As South vulnerable you hold:

♠55 ♦AK10873 ♣AKJ106

The bidding has proceeded:

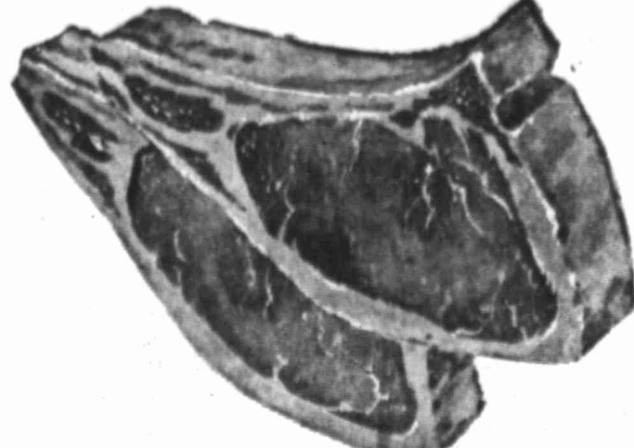

East	South	West	North
Pass	1♦	Pass	4♥

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Partner has announced possession of a virtually solid heart suit with no outside strength. Your hand will prove quite suitable to

PROFESSIONAL 'PUSHERS' SUSPECTED

Wave Of Dope, Morals Cases Sweep Campuses

By The Associated Press
A series of police investigations have led to the arrest of more than 30 students of a dozen U.S. colleges recently on illicit sex and narcotics charges. No definite connection between the various incidents was claimed and only a tiny minority of undergraduates was said to be involved. But police reported evidence that professional dope pushers were operating on the fringes of a number of campuses.

MARIJUANA RAIDS

In Akron and Columbus, Ohio, 22 young persons were arrested last week in marijuana raids, including at least nine students of former students of Ohio State and Kent State universities. Police said they believed there had been big shipments of the narcotic weed into the area from Mexico.

In Norman, Okla., eight students and five former students of the University of Oklahoma were arrested on charges ranging from possession of narcotics to lewdness. The police bag in this raid on an apartment near the campus included two 18-year-old coeds.

Meanwhile, school officials said they were investigating a report that a 16-year-old girl was smuggled into an Oklahoma University athletic dormitory for a sexual orgy during the year-end holidays.

At the University of Michigan, six students and six persons described by police as "campus hangers-on" were accused of possession or sale of narcotics. One defendant, a 29-year-old painter, was said to have given marijuana in a home garden plot three blocks from the campus. A Syracuse University student returning from the holidays was nabbed by detectives who said his luggage contained marijuana, heroin, pills known as goof balls and a switchblade knife. Police said the use of narcotics at the university had been under investigation since last fall.

Two University of Massachusetts sophomores were charged with possession of harmful drug pills and one was accused of selling them.

In Washington, U.S. narcotics agents acting on a tip from officials of American University arrested an 18-year-old freshman and charged him with selling marijuana.

Agents who said they were trying to smuggle in five pounds of marijuana from Jamaica. Police arrested a dozen non-students in a recent narcotics raid near the University of Washington in Seattle. An investigating reporter for the Seattle Times said 500 to 1,000 persons in the university area, including a number of school dropouts, were using marijuana.

Jaycee Week In Bad Start

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP)—Mayor Emmet Eger proclaimed this as Junior Chamber of Commerce Week in Rensselaer.

He urged citizens to recognize the Jaycees for their civic contributions. The project got off to a bad start. Someone broke into the Jaycee office over the weekend and took all the money they could find.

Connallys Make Acapulco Flight

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—Texas Gov. John Connally was among a group of passengers Sunday as American Airlines inaugurated direct service to Acapulco from Chicago and Dallas.

Accompanied by Mrs. Connally, Gov. Connally said he was "fascinated" with his first trip to the Pacific Coast resort. U. S. Ambassador Fulton Freeman was among officials on hand to welcome the inaugural flight.

CUT YOUR OWN TAXES: 7

Sick Pay Credit Tightened

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer

Sick pay allowances on your tax return are not nearly as liberal as they were a few years ago. Nevertheless, they still present an opportunity for a genuine tax savings.

To realize a tax exclusion in this category you must have been absent from work because of sickness or injury in 1965 and during this period continued to receive wages or salary, or amounts in lieu thereof, under your employer's wage continuation program.

TWO CATEGORIES

Two categories apply and each has its special rules in determining the deduction. One set of rules is applicable to employees who received full pay or more than 75 per cent of regular pay during their absence. Still different rules are used when the rate of pay received is 75 per cent or less than the normal amount.

Let's take first those who received more than 75 per cent of regular pay:

There is no exclusion allowed until you have been absent because of sickness or injury for at least 30 calendar days. Thereafter, the amount to be excluded is limited to a rate not to exceed $100 a week.

To help understand the rule consider this example: A worker who receives a salary of $250 a week is absent from work for 40 days because of sickness. His full salary is continued while he is away.

In computing his exclusion, subtract the 30-day waiting period. For the remaining 10 days his salary was $400. IRS rules prescribe that in determining the credit, the amount received ($400) is multiplied by 100 — $40,000 and then divided by the weekly rate of pay ($250). This produces a sick pay credit of $160.

Now take the case of a worker who receives 75 per cent or less of his normal pay during such periods:

His waiting period is shortened to seven consecutive days. If he was hospitalized for at least one day during the total period of absence, the waiting period is waived and he receives an exclusion from the first day.

This worker's exclusion is limited to a rate not to exceed $75 a week. After 30 days the exclusion is hiked to a rate not to exceed $100 a week.

Here's an example to illustrate this rule:

The worker is absent 40 days because of sickness. He is not hospitalized at any time during the period. His normal weekly pay is $150 but this is reduced to $100 a week during periods of illness. This rate is 66 per cent of his usual rate so he qualifies for the under 75 per cent treatment.

EXCLUSION

He first computes the first 30-day exclusion. After deducting the seven-day waiting period he has 23 sick days for which he can exclude his pay at a $75 weekly rate. His pay for this period was $340. In computing his exclusion he multiplies the amount received ($340) by 75 ($25,500) and divides by the weekly rate of pay ($100). This gives him an exclusion of $255 for those first 30 days.

After that his weekly exclusion rate goes up to a maximum of $100. For those remaining 10 days when he received $160 he can exclude the full payment since it was received at the maximum exclusion rate of $100 weekly.

His total sick pay exclusion is the sum of $255 for the first 30 days and $160 for the final 10 days, or $415.

ADJUSTMENTS

Sick pay exclusions are reported on Page 2 of Form 1040 in the Part III section labeled "Adjustments."

Whenever such exclusion is taken, a statement explaining the details and the methods of computing the credit should be attached to the return.

Texas Violence Kills At Least 31 Persons

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents killed at least 17 persons in Texas during the weekend. Other forms of violence took the lives of another 14 persons.

A late Sunday night wreck in Houston caused the death of four men. Five persons were killed in a Saturday two-car collision south of Brownwood.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued until midnight Sunday.

Victims of the Houston accident were James Thornton Howard, 25; Willie Wallace, about 20; Eugene Hunt, 24, and Adolph Foley Jr. 24. Their car jumped a three-foot wall and plunged off a freeway overpass to a street below.

OTHER FATALITIES

Other fatalities included: Arthur Phillip Leslie, 33, Seguin oil driller, died Sunday from injuries received Saturday night in a car-truck collision on Texas 97 about five miles east of Floresville.

Travis Ray Hooks, 31, and David Newman Hair, 31, were killed in Hardin County in the Loeb community when an antenna they were erecting came in contact Sunday with a high-voltage power line.

Terrell Rasberry, 32, was killed Sunday at his home east of Houston when a radio antenna he was erecting came in contact with a power line.

SHOT DEAD

Leonard Brusheur, manager of a Houston motel, was shot to death early Sunday by an assailant who fired through a plate glass window. Police searched for the gunman.

Mrs. Lessie Jay Dixon, 22, of Houston was shot to death Saturday night in the climax of what police called a family argument. Officers charged her husband, Lannis Dixon, 21, with murder.

E. S. Moshier, 67, who lived on a rural route out of Nacogdoches, was killed Sunday when his car went out of control, plunged into a creek 10 miles west of Lufkin and burned. A companion was slightly injured, police said.

AUTO PLUNGE

Gilbert Bowen, 45, of a Lufkin rural route, was killed Sunday morning or Saturday night when his car plunged off US 59 and plunged into a creek five miles south of Diboll. The automobile and Bowen's body was found Sunday in six feet of water.

Five persons were killed Saturday evening in a two-car collision five miles south of Brownwood. The victims were Buford Earl Bible, 35, his wife, Mildred, 36, and their daughter, Karen, 5, all of Brownwood; Mrs. Esperanza E. Bill, 44, and her son, Jesse C. Bill, 19, both of Comanche.

Cory Benson Butler, 67, of Tucumcari, N.M., was killed Friday in a car-truck crash nine miles east of Floydada.

Three persons were killed on US 290 about 10 miles east of Austin. The victims were Douglas L. Morgan, 32, Lloyd Washington, 35, and Johnny Roy Harrison, all of Austin.

Susie Lopez, 19, of San Antonio, was killed Friday night when she was struck by a car in the edge of downtown San Antonio.

S. F. Colvin, 59, of Houston, died early Saturday of wounds he suffered from a gunman in a parking lot at a Houston shopping center.

Charles Trimble, 61, of Lado, was found hanged early Saturday in a pasture near Lado. A verdict of suicide was returned.

Two Lampasas County youths were found dead in their automobile Saturday afternoon, apparent victims of carbon monoxide poisoning. The victims were Donald Ray Ragsdale, 14, and Elton Segler, also about 14, both of the Kempner area. The youths were on an early-morning hunting trip and apparently climbed into the car to get warm. The motor was still running when the bodies were found.

Ralph D. Fuller, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fuller, was found shot to death Sunday near Conroe following an intensive search that started when the boy was reported missing late Saturday. A shotgun was found beside the body. Justice of the Peace Bobby Yancey issued a verdict of suicide.

Teresa Zapata, nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Zapata, was fatally injured Saturday in a fall from a bed at her home in San Antonio.

Mrs. Corrie Peppers, 93, burned to death when fire swept her home at Terrell early Sunday. Investigators blamed a heater for the fire.

Two children burned to death when fire destroyed a home at Cameron late Saturday night. The victims were identified as a nine-year-old son and an eight-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ruth Harris. Investigators said the first apparently was caused by an overloaded electrical circuit.

Students May Get Benefits

"There is a deadline of Jan. 31, which may affect a number of students in this area," Erven Fisher, district manager of Social Security, warned today.

"It applies to unmarried students who became 18 before 1965 and are still under age 22 who may be eligible for Social Security benefits, but have not filed applications," according to Fisher. "They should file before Feb. 1, to receive all payments that may be due as far back as January, 1965."

Benefits are payable to students between 18 and 22, whose parents are receiving retirement or disability benefits, or whose parents are deceased. Students whose benefits stopped when they reached age 18 should apply again.

Students in most full time vocational schools, as well as those enrolled for full time work in high schools and colleges are eligible. These benefits are not paid automatically; application must be filed by the student or parent or guardian.

Anyone who believes he may qualify under this new provision of the Social Security law should contact the Big Spring office immediately. The office is located at 1009 Gregg, and is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Congressional OK Due On Postal Service Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairmen of the Senate and House Post Office Committees predicted today Congress will stamp "approved" on a $15-million administration package which would beef up postal service in thousands of American communities.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., and Rep. Tom Murray, D-Tenn., said in separate interviews they favored moves announced Saturday to restore parcel post and post office window service eliminated in a 1964 economy move.

FIRST STEP

"This is just the first step" in administration efforts to improve postal service, Monroney said.

Congressional approval is necessary because of the $15-million annual cost of the increased service.

Saturday's announcement said President Johnson has approved a recommendation by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien that six-day-a-week parcel post service by restored in 6,091 communities with populations over 3,000. Since 1964 one day each week has been skipped for deliveries in these cities except where postmen used motor vehicles to deliver parcels.

The other move will be increased window service at night and on weekends in nearly 15,000 post offices. Postmasters will also be authorized to resume Saturday sales of money orders.

REDUCE DEFICIT

Assistant White House news secretary Joseph Laitin, announcing the plans, said improved efficiency would reduce the postal deficit, estimated at $400 million this fiscal year, despite the $15-million cost of the improved service.

"I believe Congress will go along," said Monroney. "They kicked about the cutbacks."

Asked if there would be any substantial congressional opposition, Murray said, "I wouldn't think so."

Militarist Emerges As Nigeria Chief

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria's Army commander emerged as the dominant figure in Africa's most populous nation today following an unsuccessful coup attempt by mutinous elements in the armed forces.

Maj. Gen. Aguiyi Ironsi declared himself temporary head of the federal government and chief of all armed forces Sunday night and suspended key provisions of the Nigerian constitution.

He also suspended the nation's top civilian officials, including Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, President Azikwe Nnamdi, the heads of Nigeria's four regions and the federal and regional parliaments.

BELIEVED HOSTAGES

Balewa was kidnaped during the coup attempt with his finance minister, Chief Festus Okotie Ebon. The rebels are believed holding them hostage. Ironsi's troops were reported searching for them.

Troops loyal to Ironsi guarded government buildings and other key points in Lagos and manned five roadblocks between the airport and the capital.

Remnants of the rebel force appeared to be on the run. One report said Kaduna, the chief northern city, was the only main center in rebel hands.

FOUR REGIONS

Ironsi said military governors would take over in the four regions and would be responsible to his military regime for keeping order.

The federation of Nigeria is composed of the four regions plus the federal territory of Lagos. The federal government handles such matters as foreign affairs, trade, communications, railways and defense.

Ironsi called on civil servants and police to continue in their posts.

INTERIM REGIME

He announced he was forming an interim government after conferring with other chiefs of the armed forces, police and members of Parliament.

Nigeria is the fifth African nation to come under military rule in the past two months. Civilian government has been suspended in the Congo, Dahomey, the Central African Republic and Upper Volta.

GOP To Answer President Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress gets another "State of the Union" message tonight — this time from the Republicans.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen and House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford will deliver their party's answer to President Johnson's message of last week.

Radio and television networks will carry the taped 30-minute Dirksen-Ford reply which has been billed as "a high-level and realistic look at the state of the union."

The two leaders are expected to call for close scrutiny, and perhaps cutbacks, in domestic spending.

A tip-off to the Republican "guns-or-butter" position was given by Ford in the current issue of the Republican congressional committee's weekly newsletter.

Office Has Peak Load

LAMESA — Last week hit the peak of the season at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's cotton classing office in Lamesa, according to J. N. Brevard, officer-in-charge, with 26,471 samples being classed. This brought the season's total to 171,860 samples classed.

Grades declined with 24 per cent falling into the full spot categories. A further breakdown of grades shows strict low middling — 13 per cent; middling light spotted — 19 per cent; strict low middling light spotted — 36 per cent; middling spotted — 13 per cent and strict low middling spotted — 11 per cent.

Staple length fell into two main categories: 29-32 inch — 53 per cent and 15-16 inch — 39 per cent.

Micronaire readings dropped as 38 per cent miked 3.6 or higher compared to 37 per cent in this range the previous week.

Prices quoted on the Lubbock Spot Market Jan. 12, were: strict low middling — 15-16 inch — 25.60.

A tip-off to the Republican "guns-or-butter" position was given by Ford in the current issue of the Republican congressional committee's weekly newsletter.

"If we are going to halt inflation and prevent tax increases and give our men in Viet Nam what they need to win, and still meet even legitimate domestic needs," Ford said, "Congress is going to have to cut deeply into the administration's so-called Great Society budget."

Here's the outlook for the week on Capitol Hill:

The Senate and House will mark time as far as major floor action is concerned. But committees may take up some controversial measures.

The Senate's legislative docket includes consideration today of a bill to preserve the natural beauty of five Western rivers, followed by a bill to authorize a $9.5-million inter-American cultural and trade center (Inter-ama) in Miami. The river bill has not passed the House. The cultural center measure cleared the House last year but ran into Senate opposition.

FLOOR IDLE

There is no business for the House floor this week. No timetable has been set for delivery of a series of presidential messages spelling out details of proposed legislation outlined in the State of the Union message. Some messages may be sent to Congress this week.

One of the first messages is expected to request an estimated $12 billion or more for emergency financing of the Vietnam conflict. The House Appropriations Committee will act quickly on the measure, which may be the first major bill to reach the House floor this year.

Common Market Leaders Gather

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — Foreign ministers of the Common Market nations prepared to meet today amid expectation that France would offer to admit Britain to the European Economic Community in exchange for retention of the requirement that all major decisions by the group be unanimous.

France is ending a six-month boycott of Common Market negotiations with the other members — West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

OPPOSITION DUE

The French proposal was likely to meet stiff opposition. The other five countries say they are determined not to modify the Rome Treaty, the Common Market's constitution, for a vague French promise to admit Britain.

The five believe that France, which blackballed Britain three years ago, will press hard to keep its veto before turning the vague promise into a concrete invitation for Britain to join.

Under the eight-year-old Rome Treaty, the unanimity rule was to give way to a qualified majority vote starting last

Jan. 1. France was expected to ask for at least a postponement of the shift until the veto question is decided.

Observers say that Britain shares France's fear that the loss of each nation's veto could permit the Common Market to expand into a superstate with power to interfere with a nation's sovereignty.

VETO NEEDED
French Foreign Minister

Couve de Murville was expected to argue that no member nation could do without a veto over future decisions on commercial policy toward non-members, as well as in such fields as transport and tariffs.

He was also expected to put forward President Charles de Gaulle's claim that the Common Market's nine-man Executive Commission has abused its rights by proposing greater power for itself.

At France's request, the Executive Commission was barred from the session and the meeting is being held here instead of in Brussels, headquarters of the Common Market.

Girl On Horse Escapes Injury

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A 10-year-old girl whose saddle horse bolted down a railroad track escaped death when the animal caught its leg between two cross-ties on a trestle and hung suspended 25 feet above a creek.

Margaret Bobo said she climbed up the horse's body Sunday and out of danger. She apparently was uninjured.

Police shot the pet horse, named "Star," after halting a freight train 300 yards from the trestle where the animal was hanging.

War II's Heroic Gen. Hodges Dies

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, 79, who commanded the famed First Army in its victorious drive through France and Germany in World War II, died Sunday at Brooke Army Medical Center.

The retired four-star general, who had lived at San Antonio since retirement in 1949, died of a heart attack.

His career spanned more than 43 years, including action during the Mexican expedition of General Pershing, World War I, World War II, and post-war service as commanding general of the First Army Area at Governor's Island, N. Y.

Hodges took command of the First Army on Aug. 1, 1944, from Gen. Omar Bradley. The First Army was the first to reach Paris, and the first to enter Germany in World War II, on Sept. 11, 1944, after liberating Liege, Belgium, on Sept. 2. It was the first to cross the Rhine and the first to make contact with elements of the Russian Army in Germany.

The First Army also captured Aachen, Germany, took part in the bloody battle of Huertgen Forest in November, 1944, and after two weeks of furious fighting, broke through in the Battle of the Bulge. The First Army crossed the Rhine at Cologne on March 7, 1945.

At the age of 17, he entered the U. S. Military Academy at West Point in 1904 but left after a year due to difficulty in mathematics. He then enlisted as a private in the 17th Infantry at Fort McPherson, Ga., and three years later won a competitive examination and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the infantry in 1909.

Dear Abby

She's Got Something

DEAR ABBY: I met a girl eight months ago, and five minutes after I met her I confided to a friend, "There is the future Mrs. K—." I mention this just to emphasize what a great impression she made on me. I am a high school dropout, through no fault of my own, but a dropout nonetheless. She is a high school teacher with a B.A. degree, going for her M.A. I am 29 and she is 26. I sell for a living and do very well. Here's the problem:

She is trying to remake me. I don't mind criticism because I really want to improve myself, but I can't even turn around without her correcting me. "Don't talk so fast!" "Don't rattle your keys in your pocket!" "Stand up straight!" "Quit cracking your knuckles!" "Clean your glasses!" She even criticizes my driving. There is something wrong with everything I do. I can't even drink a cup of coffee without her telling me that I'm making too much noise. Yet I still want to marry her. WHY?

PICKED TO PIECES
DEAR PICKED: Beats me. There must be something very special in this girl's favor that you have failed to mention.

DEAR ABBY: We have a child in our neighborhood (I'll call him Dickie), who has just turned five. Dickie has been the cause of many "accidents" involving the neighborhood children. For instance, my baby was sitting in her stroller outside when Dickie took her for a "walk" (run) into the back fence, and knocked her out. I have forbidden him to go near the baby again.

Then he took my three-year-old boy for a "ride" on his trike, and my boy "fell off," cutting his forehead so badly he had to have eight stitches in it. Now my five-year-old just came home with a bump on his head the size of an egg. Dickie hurled an inner tube at him, knocking his head against a tree.

These are only a few incidents involving my own children. Dickie has been responsible for many other "accidents" involving other neighborhood children. I once complained to his mother, and she just laughed and said he was "all boy." This is fine, but I would like to see my children grow to adulthood despite this child. Am I an over-protective mother? What now?

UPSET MOTHER
DEAR UPSET: You and your husband and the parents of the other children who have been victimized by Dickie's "all boy" behavior should call on Dickie's parents. Urge them to take this child to a specialist in child behavior. Their boy could be disturbed and in need of professional help. The child is all but sending up flares for help. In the meantime, keep your own children safely out of Dickie's reach.

CHECKOUT FOR HUNT — Two U.S. Marines, with painted faces and leaves atop their helmets, make final adjustments before moving into the An Valley. Camouflage was added before men started across terraced rice paddies in search of the Viet Cong.

WINTER CAME — There's no doubt about the season in the mind of Peter Trabold as he views wall of ice on a hairpin turn of Mohawk Trail near North Adams, Mass.

A MATCHED CREATION — A Parig of Florence bends over his handiwork, a model of the Ponte Vecchio (Old Bridge) made from 2,700,000 matches. It took him 2,520 hours of work to make the bridge and its surrounding buildings on the banks of the Po.

UP AND OUT — Workman climbs with ladder up a steel frame of an exhibition hall during the dismantling process of the New York World's Fair grounds buildings.

FANCY ON ICE — Pavel and Eva Roman, Czech brother and sister ice dance champions, skate their way in star spot of international revue performing in Prague.

ATOP THE SKYSCRAPERS — Here is the view of midtown Manhattan that a helicopter pilot sees on his approach for a landing atop the Pan Am Building. The heliport on the building roof is 57 stories above New York's midtown business district.

TO NEW POST — Lt. Gen. Jean E. Engler has been assigned as the new deputy commander of U.S. Army forces in Viet Nam. He will serve under Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

COMIC TOUCH — Somebody with a sense of humor lifted this fireplug, waiting for installation, and placed it in a telephone booth at intersection in Greenbrae, Calif.

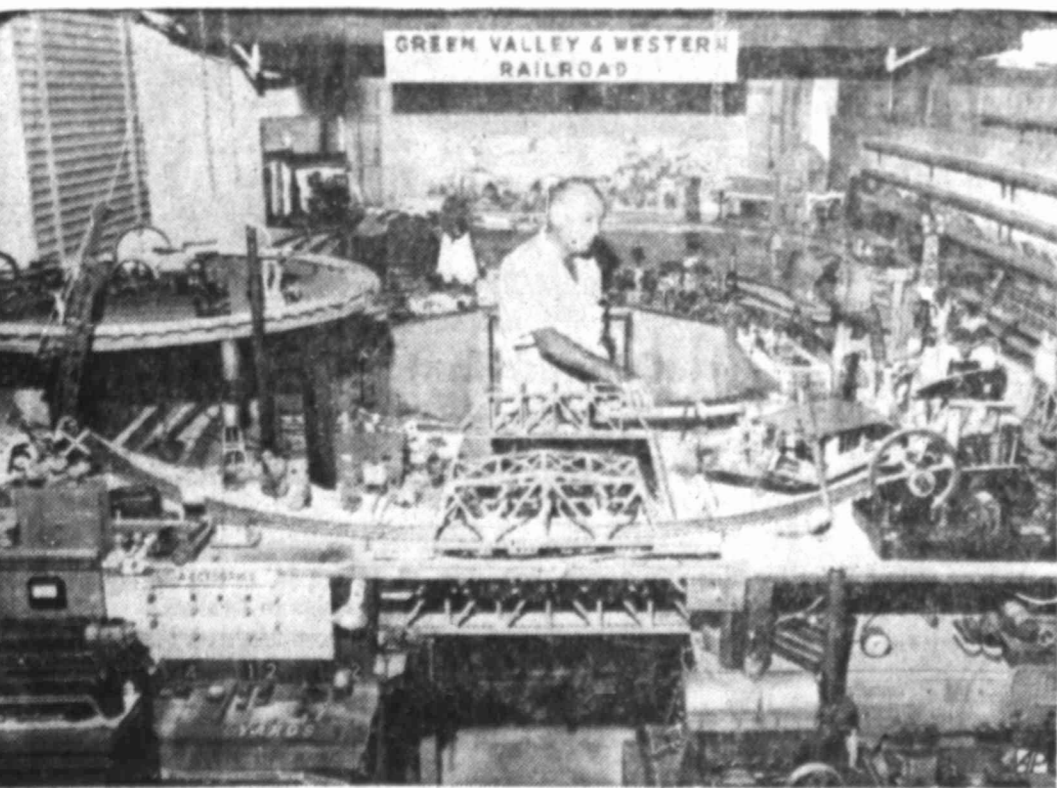

OVERALL VIEW — Bridge painting is no work for the faint-hearted. Ray Santana does his job on the Golden Gate Bridge working 746 feet above San Francisco Bay.

FRINGE OF FASHION — Gadgetry has moved in on fashions. This French plastic sun visor with ear muffs is startling if not entirely practical. Whether it will become popular with others beside croupiers, editors and tennis stars is anyone's guess.

ROAD HAZARD — Bears are the road-blockers in Yellowstone Park but it's giraffes that hold up the tourist traffic in the Kruger National Park in South Africa.

PASSION FOR TRAINS — Arthur Palmer stands amid his model train system built up over a period of 40 years. It takes up all of a one-car garage in St. Petersburg, Fla. He is donating the collection to a local museum for the edification of all.

PLATE IN STYLE — The de Gaulle cult now extends to crockery. A French firm has placed on the market a dinner plate showing the French president in uniform.

A CONFINED PATTERN — This is the flight cage for the birds of Washington's National Zoological Park. A 90-foot mast and parabolic steel arches support a vinyl-coated wire mesh that encloses the birds yet allows for fresh air and flying space.

Year Passes With None Electrocuted

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — No condemned man walked the last mile through the green door to death in the electric chair in Huntsville in 1965.

It was the first year the chair has not been used since it was installed on death row Feb. 23, 1924. Before that, hanging was the mode of execution.

Don Reid, editor of the Huntsville Item, has witnessed 189 executions, probably more than any other man. He estimated that some 400 men have been electrocuted in the chair, including five on the first night it was used.

TEN A YEAR

Over the years, Texas has executed about 10 condemned persons a year. But there has been no "legalized murder," as some opponents call it, since Joseph Johnson Jr., a Houston Negro, was electrocuted July 30, 1964.

Reid says the de facto moratorium has come about for two reasons:

- 1) Recent rulings by the federal judiciary that generally strengthen the rights of the accused and lead to the overturning of convictions; and
- 2) A "waiting period" to see just what the effects of the new Texas criminal code really amount to.

Reid is an outspoken foe of capital punishment but he says the state's parole laws will have to be reformed before the public will abolish it.

"Jurors won't skirt the death penalty if they know a murderer or rapist is going to get out of prison on parole in five years or so," he said.

INNOCENT ELECTROCUTED

Reid says he knows of at least half a dozen men who were executed at Huntsville, but who were not guilty of the crimes for which they were put to death. That's one of his main arguments against the death penalty.

The others are that capital punishment is not a deterrent of crime, and that by and large it's the poor members of racial minorities that are sentenced to death.

"It's not very often that you hear of a wealthy white man getting the death penalty, in Texas or anywhere else," he said.

But Bob Stinson, an assistant district attorney in Dallas, argues that capital punishment is indeed a deterrent.

"A lot of fellows get a batch of statistics together to prove that it's not a deterrent," he said. "But they will never be able to show how many murders and rapes were not committed because of the death penalty. That's the rub in statistics."

Stinson said he would become an implacable foe of the death penalty if he ever thought it was imposed for revenge or failed to be an active deterrent.

FIVE CRIMES

Charles Tessmer, a Dallas lawyer, said Texas law allows for the death penalty for five crimes: murder, rape, armed robbery, treason and perjury in a capital case.

Tessmer, a foe of the death penalty, said the trend is for jurors not to assess death because of a general enlightenment of society.

"Capital punishment is barbaric," he said. "It's not surprising that as we become more enlightened, more civilized, it is fading away."

Perry Foreman of Houston, another criminal lawyer who is against capital punishment, said its apparent decline shows that "we're beginning to come out of the darkness."

He said there has been a noticeable increase in recent years in the number of prospective jurors who are disqualified because of scruples against the death penalty.

MANY AGAINST

Foreman said 40 per cent of a recent jury panel in Texas stood up as a group and declared they would not assess death.

"That would have been unheard of in Texas even 10 or 15 years ago," he said. "We're simply getting more civilized down here in Texas."

Foreman agreed with Reid that rich men rarely receive the death penalty.

"A man's right to live ought not to depend on how much money he has," Foreman said.

He said capital punishment has been supported by ignorance, which he called "the cardinal crime in America. Ignorance is responsible for all kinds of crime, both the legal and illegal kinds."

District attorneys and peace officers tend as a group to favor the death penalty. Opposing it most vigorously are artists, intellectuals, many criminal lawyers and civil rights groups.

As the debate rages, the green door remains closed on death row. No one can say right now if it will ever again be opened. The chances are that it will, but never with such frequency as in the past.

Fatal Mishap Strange Case

DALLAS (AP) — A strange traffic accident in which a road suddenly disappeared apparently killed a Eulless man Monday.

James Lloyd Laws, 29, was found dead in the wreckage of his car near the Trinity River bridge on Westmoreland Street.

Sgt. C. H. McCommas of the sheriff's department said Laws apparently mistook an older road for the route he wished to travel. The older road led to a former bridge site, and the vehicle plunged off the road, sailed through the air an estimated 60 feet and slammed head on into a concrete bridge abutment.

McCommas said evidence indicated Laws did not lose control of his car but simply overlooked the proper route. A white barricade stands near the older road but only blocks one of two possible paths.

Allotment Poll Ruling Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to rule on the validity of a regulation by the agriculture secretary fixing limitations on the withdrawal of allotments from cotton growers' allotment pools.

The ruling was asked by Fred Chandler Sr., and Fred Chandler Jr., who owned land in Culbertson County, Tex., suitable for cotton farming but for which they had no cotton acreage allotments.

The Chandlers arranged with 15 displaced farmers whose lands had been condemned by the Interior Department and who had Oklahoma cotton acreage allotments in an eminent domain pool.

Fourteen of the farmers joined the Chandlers in appealing from an administrative order cancelling transfer of the allotments to the Chandlers, and from lower court decisions upholding the agriculture secretary's ruling.

Park Willed For 'Whites Only' Denied Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today barred racial segregation in a Macon, Ga., park which was willed in 1911 for the use of whites only. The tribunal found the city "entwined" in the park's operation.

Justice William O. Douglas, speaking for the court majority in a 6-3 decision, said that if a municipality, despite appointment of private trustees, "remains entwined in the management or control of the park, it remains subject to the restraints of the 14th Amendment" of the U.S. Constitution.

Counsel for the National Association of Colored people argued before the high court that the park is so much a part of the community life that exclusion of Negroes would violate the equal protection clause of the Constitution's 14th Amendment.

Sleeper Film Turns Actor Into A Success

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It's amazing to think that one could put on glasses and an ill-fitting suit and become a star."

Michael Caine is indeed being treated like a star on his first trip to Hollywood. He has been guest of honor at glittering parties given by two studios. He has been squiring some of the town's most noted glamor girls, from Carol Lynley to Natalie Wood. He is costarring with Shirley MaLaine in "Gambit."

NOT OVERWHELMED

All this is entirely gratifying but not overwhelming to the chap whose father was a fish-market porter and whose mother was a London charwoman.

What made the change in his life was a sleeper called "The Ipcress File." Caine played with utter conviction the most reluctant of spies, Harry Palmer. The role was epitomized by his horn-rimmed glasses, which gave Caine a look of owlish innocence.

"The glasses were my idea," said the actor. "I knew if the character caught on, I would be closely identified with it. The glasses would give me a gimmick, a trademark. I could discard them for other roles, and not be so identified."

MORE COMING

Harry Palmer did indeed catch on, and Caine is assigned to make three more in the series. His producer, Harry Saltzman quickly signed Caine to a new five-year contract.

Within the space of a year, Caine had filmed "Ipcress," as well as "Alfie" for Paramount and "The Wrong Box" for Columbia. Yet he is not dazzled by his success.

"I'm 32," he said by way of explanation. "That's pretty old to make it as an actor in England."

It wasn't because he didn't try. Throughout his twenties he sought to make a living as an actor, "but it was a rotten living much of the time." Between roles he took any job he could find.

When The Bob Hope Viet Nam show is put on the national networks Wednesday at 8 p. m., a former Big Springer is due to be in one of the scenes.

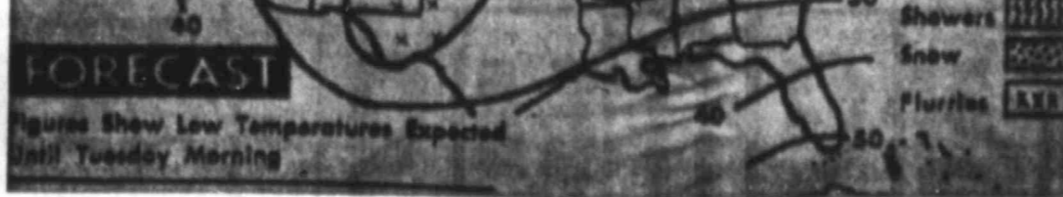

He is Capt. Jerry Fleming, who was stationed at Webb AFB and who is now a helicopter pilot at Da Nang. Mrs. Fleming is the former LaJuan Horton, daughter of Mrs. Louise Horton. In a recent letter, Capt. Fleming wrote about experiences in air lifting an 80-foot-long telephone pole. He said that a former Big Springer is due to be in one of the scenes.

Police and state troopers were called in to help quell the trouble which broke out in a cottage containing 37 inmates and spread to surrounding cottages.

No one was injured and none of the school's 150 boys were taken from the training school.

"They were tearing up the place... setting fire to mattresses, breaking out windows and generally raising Cain," said Carmel Bland, school superintendent.

"It's developing into a sort of difficulty over integration," Bland said, explaining there has been some resentment since several Negro youths entered the school in recent weeks.

Weather Forecast

Snow is forecast Monday night in the Lakes region, the northern Appalachians, the upper Mississippi Valley, the Rockies and the western Plains. Rain is expected along the northern Pacific Coast. It will be cold along the southern tier of states from Arizona to the Carolinas. (AP Wirephoto Map)

City To Begin Working On Parking Lot

A city crew with a wrecking ball will begin leveling the old First National Bank property for a public parking lot this afternoon, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

The crew will begin crushing the concrete which was formerly the floor and foundation of the bank to bring the lot down to street level, Lillard said.

Downtown Big Spring, Inc., a group of local businessmen interested in the improvement of the downtown sector of Big Spring, turned over the deed to the property to the city at a commission meeting last Tuesday evening. Downtown Big Spring, Inc., contracted with a firm some time ago, which leveled the old bank building.

New Episcopal Church Building Is On Schedule

The new church building for St. Mary's Episcopal Church is on schedule for completion by July 1, William H. Eysen Jr. reported to the annual parish membership meeting Sunday. The church will have a debt on the new construction of less than $60,000.

C. Wesley Deats was chosen senior warden Sunday and Leon Randolph will serve as junior warden. New vestrymen are J. R. Anderson, Dr. J. P. Darby, Dr. J. H. Burnett, and Dea Jon Davis, replacing R. H. Dyer, Harry Blomsheld, Fred Doelp and Harold Bull.

Elected to the day school board were Mrs. J. R. Anderson, Mrs. Beth Wilbanks and R. H. Dyer.

Delegates to the Diocesan Annual, held in Vernon May 13-15, are J. R. Anderson, Fred Doelp, R. H. Dyer, Dr. J. H. Burnett, Dr. J. P. Darby, Dr. Milton Talbot Jr. and Dr. Charles Rainwater.

In other business, the parish adopted an operating budget of $48,933 and $11,042 for missions work of the Episcopal Church.

Houston Getting Jones Arts Hall

HOUSTON (AP) — The $6.6 million Jesse H. Jones Hall for the Performing Arts will be presented to the City of Houston Oct. 2 by the Houston Endowment Inc.

Performances by the Houston Symphony and the Houston Grand Opera will highlight the commemorative week festivities for the hall Oct. 2-9. John T. Jones Jr., chairman of the Houston Endowment Inc., said today.

When completed, Jones Hall will be the newest addition to the city's $40 million civic center complex.

CU Meets Today

Annual meeting of the shareholders of the VA Hospital Credit Union will be held tonight at 7 o'clock at the hospital, Donald Van Meter, hospital director, announced today.

Trustees, Commissioners To Iron Out Contract

School board and city officials will meet Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. to discuss the Lakeview Park Campus agreement, specifically to arrange a meeting of minds on several points in the—as yet unsigned—contract.

Meeting will be at a dinner at the Cosden Country Club, according to Larry Crow, city manager.

Two points of disagreement brought about the meeting. The two groups have not been able to agree on conditions of first refusal rights if one of the parties abandons the park-campus area on the Northside (part is owned by the city and part by the schools); and on whether restrooms should be part of the initial program or on an "as needed" basis.

School board members contend the part abandoned by one of the parties should be available for $1 by the other, and the city has indicated it prefers first refusal right for a "reasonable market value."

City commissioners indicated at a meeting a short time ago they would prefer to construct restrooms on an "as needed basis," but the school board wants restrooms constructed initially.

School board made its preferences known when it returned unsigned the city's proffered contractual agreement, and indicated it wanted a meeting between the two parties to iron out differences.

Chemical Society Meets Jan. 20

Elemental principles of thin layer chromatography will be discussed at the Jan. 20 meeting of the Permian Basin Section of the American Chemical Society.

Speaker will be Robert F. Lefield, research chemist with the industrial division of Mallinckrodt Chemical Works, St. Louis, Mo. He will discuss several factors affecting practical industrial application of this process.

The meeting will be held in the Ramada Inn, Big Spring, and the fee is $3 for members and $1.50 for students. Social hour will begin at 6:30 p. m., followed by dinner at 7.

Reservations must be made by 10 a. m. Jan. 20, with Jesse Looney, Cosden, AM 3-7661.

'Texas 65' Plan To End; Not Needed

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas 65 health insurance program for elderly Texans will go out of existence midnight June 30 because medicare has eliminated the need for it, Lewis Rietz, Texas 65 president, said today.

Rietz urged the 35,000 Texans enrolled in the program to keep their policies in force until medicare benefits start July 1.

He said Texas 65 still will offer health insurance protection to its members until medicare takes over.

The 1963 Legislature authorized the program, allowing 64 companies to poll risks. Since then, Rietz said, claims of more than $7.7 million have been paid to more than 42,000 Texans.

Five Firemen Injured On Duty

HOUSTON (AP) — Fire destroyed the Studewood supermarket here before dawn today, and five firemen were injured, none seriously.

Investigators said the night supervisor and four other employees were at work stocking the store for the day. They said a bottle of insecticide struck the floor and exploded.

Y Clubs Will Not Meet Today

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y will not meet tonight because of exams, it was announced today by Robert Gossett, president of the Hi-Y Council.

Non-Teaching Employees At Schools Strike

TULSA (AP)—School lawyers were prepared to seek a district court restraining order today to halt a strike by non-teaching personnel which gave the city's 77,000 pupils and 2,500 teachers an unscheduled holiday.

A strike by maintenance and custodial workers and bus drivers became effective at 11 p.m. Sunday night after members of Teamsters Union voted 223-40 to stop working unless the school board recognizes the union as their bargaining agent.

STAY CLOSED

The School Board contends it cannot bargain with a union on personnel matters and indicated the city's 96 schools would stay closed for the duration of the strike.

Pickets were marching at many schools today. One of them, building Supt. Gordon Stalks of McLain Senior High School, said he was prepared to remain on the picket line as long as necessary to win the right to union representation.

WILL STAY

"I've been here 19 years and we've never made any money, not enough money where we could save anything," Stalks said. "I'm willing to gamble this 19 years on this and I'm going to stay here as long as it takes."

William Butler, president of the School Board, announced the closing of the city schools less than an hour after the union voted to strike. He said the board could not "permit health and safety of our children to be placed in jeopardy as a result of the strike."

The union claims membership of about 400 of the 525 employees in the three job categories.

YMCA CAMPAIGN

Sustaining Drive Launched Today

The YMCA Sustaining Membership Campaign kicks off today, according to Mrs. O. S. Womack, chairman of the campaign.

Workers were to pick up prospect cards between 4 and 5:30 p.m. The drive will run through Jan. 22. Mrs. Womack announced. Goal for this year's sustaining membership campaign is $10,500.

Mrs. Womack said that the sustaining membership contributions insure that no youngster will be turned away from participating in Y activities because of lack of funds.

A sustaining member believes in the importance of the YMCA program, and, while he may not actively participate, he personally affirms the program by personal affiliation and direct support, Mrs. Womack said. Workers participating in this year's campaign are W. D. Caldwell, Mrs. James Duncan, Dr. W. A. Hunt, Jack Little, Clyde McMahon Sr., Dr. Floyd Mays, Mrs. Arch Carson, Truman Jones and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon. Others include Marvin Miller, Mrs. Don Newsom, Ike Robb, Sherman Smith, Jimmy Taylor, R. W. Whipkey, R. H.

Weaver, Mrs. Lee Rogers, Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., R. W. "Stormy" Thompson and Mrs. H. W. Smith.

Jack Little, membership committee chairman, will oversee both the sustaining membership drive and the participating membership drive, which is headed by John Berry and scheduled to kick off Monday, Jan. 24.

Public Schools Said Target For Pressure, Harassment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The public schools have been the target of increased pressure and harassment during the past three years, a commission of the National Education Association reported today.

The NEA's Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities said the John Birch Society was the No. 1 troublemaker. However, the Birch Society also appeared as No. 20 on the list of groups helpful to the schools.

BOOK CRITICISM

The commission report said there has been an increase in censorship or criticism of books used in the schools since its last survey in 1962.

The report was prepared for the 18th annual conference on "Critics and the Schools." It summarized the response to a questionnaire of nearly 15,000 teachers and other educators.

The survey showed 56 per cent of the local reporting noted a damaging effect from destructive criticism, compared with 49 per cent in 1962. The percentage of schools reporting "much damage" rose from 11 to 16 per cent in the same period.

THREE STATES

Ninety per cent of criticism in the form of charges of communism or subversion in the schools, the report said, came from three states—California, Michigan and Ohio.

These three states also reported the greatest activity by right-wing groups in connection with book criticism and censorship, the report said.

Without distinguishing between the types of pressure and harassment, the report listed the chief trouble-makers in this order: The John Birch Society, teachers unions (which compete bitterly with the NEA for teacher memberships), citizens' committees, Chambers of Commerce, American Legion, Dan Smoot Reports, and Parent-Teacher Associations.

P-TAs LEAD

However, on the list of those groups which had been most helpful, the P-TAs were away out in front, followed in order by Chambers of Commerce, American Association of University Women, American Legion, business and professional women's clubs and citizens' committees.

The report said right-wing groups, parents and religious groups led the attack on school books.

Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Roy Watkins are coordinating the march. Most of the women participating are local P-TA presidents, and will be calling on residents for contributions to the 1966 March of Dimes.

Mothers who will march, and the schools of which they are P-TA presidents, are Mrs. Bill Bullard, Cedar Crest; Mrs. E. Jacobs, Lakeview; Mrs. E. M. An Introduction

Five-year-old Lori Wagner, the 1966 March of Dimes National Poster Girl, meets a couple of beagle pups during a visit at the White House. President Johnson is holding "Pecosa" and the other pup, yet unnamed, gives Lori's hand a lick. The pups are part of a litter sired by Him, the President's beagle. Lori is wearing a gold charm bracelet, bearing the seal of the United States, which was given her by the President. Lori is from Milwaukee. (AP Wirephoto)

Horse With Surrey Bolts

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Policeman Raymond Thompson tried to decide if a ticket should be issued after six cars were side-swiped.

Toby, a horse drawing a sight-seeing carriage at the edge of the French Quarter, bolted when Frances Eatman, 38, pulled her car alongside Sunday.

Toby's driver, Arthur Santee, had alighted from the carriage to help two tourists aboard when Toby dashed away. The carriage bumped against Miss Eatman's car.

Santee caught up with Toby after he ran 11 blocks, through two stop lights, collided with five other cars and wrapped his surrey around a hydrant.

Thompson said property damage was slight. Toby got only a few scratches. No ticket was issued.

The Crowd Grows

South Carolina's suit attacking the constitutionality of the federal 1965 Voting Rights Act is turning into something of a lopsided "battle of the states."

The U. S. Supreme Court will hear oral arguments on the case this week. To date, five other Southern states have filed amicus curiae ("friend of the court") briefs siding with South Carolina. Meanwhile, a remarkable number of widely distributed states, 20 so far, have filed briefs supporting the constitutionality of the civil rights law. (Texas, not directly affected by the new law and with no direct discrimination against Negro voting, has stayed out of the case.)

It should be emphasized that the Supreme Court is unlikely to be influenced by the mere number of states intervening in a case involving federal-state relations. It is not the number of briefs, but their cogency, that will determine the court's opinion. And what that will be, in view of the complexity and unprecedented aspects of the constitutional issues involved, defies prediction.

What To Cut?

As Congress gets to work, there is a lot of talk about what federal spending ought to be cut back to permit devoting more of it to the Viet Nam war. An anticipated request by the administration for another $12 billion or $13 billion for the military has prompted many to speculate as to what programs should be trimmed.

An outside observer might suppose that the prime candidates for reduced spending would be those programs less justifiable than others on the grounds of human need—the attempt to land men on the moon, for example. This has not thus far been the case. Little has been heard about the desirability of slowing down the lunar project, now gunning hard for a manned expedition by 1969 or 1970.

The suggestion most often heard up to now is, rather, that such things as the war on poverty and the Appalachia program ought to be cut back. The idea seems to be that, whereas the poor are always with us, it is not every generation that has a chance to be first on the moon.

There are no absolutes when it comes to setting priorities. Determining what is most important rests on judgment. There may be those who feel sincerely that winning the so-called "moon race" should take precedence over the mundane business of improving conditions here on earth.

What The President Didn't Say

WASHINGTON — What President Johnson told the American people in his address to Congress on Wednesday night was only part of the story that affects their pocketbooks and their future.

The omissions on some very important subjects can be enumerated as follows:

1. The President didn't tell why he wants to open up trade between the United States and Eastern Europe as well as the Soviet Union notwithstanding the fact that the Moscow government is supplying arms and ammunition to help kill American boys in Viet Nam.

2. THE PRESIDENT didn't mention that the current budget, ending June 30 of this year, will show a deficit of $6.4 billion, but said that the deficit in the budget which begins July 1, 1966, and ends June 30, 1967, is expected to be what he describes as "one of the lowest in many years," or "only $1.8 billion." He didn't point out that these figures are, of course, based on estimates now as to what taxes will be collected. Mr. Johnson in January 1965 predicted a deficit of $5.3 billion in the budget for the current fiscal year, ending June 30, 1966, but it now is official that the deficit will be $6.4 billion.

3. THE PRESIDENT didn't tell the people what he meant when he said that "on a cash basis" the federal budget next year "will actually show a surplus." He didn't explain that all the money received from Social Security—including a substantial increase in such taxes this year—should really be kept apart as a trust fund to pay benefits due taxpayers when they retire. But under the method of book-keeping "on a cash basis" praised by the President in his message, a "surplus" will be constructed out of Social Security receipts. If the Social Security money were not applied in this way, of course, there would be a surplus in the "cash budget" but a deficit of approximately a billion dollars.

4. THE PRESIDENT didn't explain how it happens that the after-tax earnings of corporations for the past five years "have been up 65 per cent, and last year alone they had a rise of 20 per cent." He didn't mention that the total number of corporations in the United States increases with the population and that a numerical accumulation of profits does not tell the whole story. The significant fact happens to be that the rate of return on money invested is not up to what it was 15 years ago. It is the rate of return on money that really counts in measuring economic or financial progress.

5. THE PRESIDENT didn't give the American people an explanation of what the effect will be of his proposal to make changes in the withholding system "so that Americans can more realistically pay-as-they-go." What it means is that a larger amount will be withheld from an employee's earnings and paid currently to the government, so that the take-home pay will be less for many individuals. Instead of the 14 per cent flat withholding rate now in effect, the new withholding rates are expected to range from 14 to 30 per cent.

6. The President didn't spell out what he meant when he said that he would ask Congress "to consider measures which, without improperly invading state and local authority, will enable us effectively to deal with strikes which threaten irreparable damage to the national interest." For he still wants to strengthen the power of unions, and he continues to insist that the 19 states which do not have compulsory unionization will have to give up the right to protect the freedom of an individual to get a job without sacrificing his disbelief in trade-unionism.

7. WHILE THE President spoke on the "insistent urge toward national independence" as being "the strongest force of today's world," he did not mention that the strongest force really is the subversion and infiltration by the Communists from the Soviet Union and Red China in every continent.

8. The President did not denounce the aggressive steps of both Red China and the Soviet Union throughout the world. While he declared that the United States does not intend to abandon Asia to conquest, it is a fact that the Soviet conquest of Eastern Europe continues today without any significant protest on the part of the United States.

THERE ARE MANY other things dealt with in the President's speech on which the American people might well be informed. They will not do this through a reading of the presidential message, which is confined to generalized statements, many of them ambiguous due to political expediency.

LBJ Renews Call For Political Fund-Raising Reforms

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has renewed a call for political fund-raising reforms urged upon Congress four years ago by President John F. Kennedy.

The subject is one Johnson had not pressed since moving to the White House. After two years of silence on the matter, he welded the reform proposals into his State of the Union message.

"As the process of election becomes more complex and costly," he said, "we must make it possible for those without personal wealth to enter public life without being obligated to a few large contributors."

TO DO that, Johnson proposed a tax break for people who make political contributions.

Given today's fund-raising pattern, a tax break for the small donor could be a boon to Republicans. The GOP reports increasing success with small givers.

Democrats, on the other hand, have become more dependent on big contributions.

In the last presidential election, the Democrats raised $1 million more from $1,000-and-up contributors than did the Republicans.

Johnson said he wants to broaden the participation of the people, and stimulate small contributions.

HE COUPLED that proposal with a call for stern new laws to guarantee full disclosure of political money and its sources.

Past Congresses have shown little zest for this undertaking, even though present federal law requires reports on only a slender fraction of the contributions and costs involved in television-age elections.

Candidates for House and Senate are required to report their campaign spending—but some successful contenders have filed accountings which show no outlays at all.

CURRENT LAW has been interpreted as requiring an accounting only of contributions and spending by the candidate himself. In fact, most campaign spending is handled by state or congressional district committees in behalf of the candidate.

That means campaign spending filed in Washington may show only a tiny slice of the actual expenses involved in a House or Senate race.

Johnson said he wants local and state campaign committees brought under the federal disclosure law.

AT THE same time, he promised legislation to change what he called unrealistic limits on contributions. There is a $3-million ceiling on fund raising and expenditures by a single, national political committee, and a $5,000 limit on the amount anyone can donate to a single candidate or political committee.

Author Is Companionable Loner

NEW YORK (AP)—"Life is a kind of shaggy dog joke without a punchline," said the man with the brown beard.

"There is no final solution or conclusion. As the astronomers say, the universe is infinite. Everything is simply endlessly repeated."

But although life may be inconclusive it is far from unrewarding to the man with the brown beard—British author John Fowles. At 39, Fowles, former teacher at a girls' school in London, has turned the corner of literary success.

HIS FIRST published novel, "The Collector," the creepy story of a young man who captures a girl as if she were a butterfly and keeps her prisoner until she dies, was made into a successful film.

His latest novel, which has an even eerier treatment of the man playing God theme, is the January selection of the Literary Guild. Fowles also has sold the paperback rights for $125,000 and is doing a movie script of it.

It is his qualities as a loner and a mystic that won Fowles the praise of critics. But he is a companionable man across a tea table, and his hazel eyes light up as he talks about his work.

"ALL WRITERS are sick people. We have a compulsive need to have phantasy worlds around us—to create such worlds in which we can live," he says.

"I write by instinct. If I don't feel like writing, I don't. If I do, I write as long as my body can stand it—15 or 16 hours a day. I revise and revise and revise, and occasionally throw whole chapters away."

To Fowles, the greatest problem in life is individual freedom.

"What I write about is whether people should be freer than they are, and the extent to which freedom can be a dangerous, two-edged weapon," he says.

"IT IS hard to generalize about how much freedom one should have. I'd say you have plenty of freedom over here. France could do with a lot more. So could Russia.

"I think freedom is necessary for the race, but not for all individuals.

"Until recently, I should have said the greatest threat to freedom was political creeds. Now I think it is the machine—including the modern city.

"The city destroys individuality, requires people to function predictably. People in the country are more human."

A Nap After Lunch? It's Good For You!

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it all right to take a nap after a hearty meal? I eat a light breakfast but I have a good lunch, then not much supper. After my lunch I always fall asleep as soon as I lie down, even when I am listening to a good radio program. I have been told I shouldn't lie down after a hearty meal. I am 78 years old. — MRS. B. H.

When you've lived to the happy age of 78 by doing what comes naturally, I would not put too much stock in theories that other people try to foist off.

A nap, in fact, is very likely to be good for you, and it certainly won't be harmful. The human body is so constructed as to let it divert part of the bloodstream to areas where it is needed. You know how circulation speeds up with exercise. This nourishes the muscles. After you eat, the same sort of process concentrates extra circulation in the digestive organs, instead.

That is the reason for the wise rule of not going swimming until an hour or two after eating. Swimming soon afterward confronts the body with a triple task: Furnishing circulation for digestion, for the muscles, and for keeping the body warm. In such a case the muscles sometimes are "short-changed" for blood, and cramps result.

But if you take nap after a full meal, the body is under no added stresses, and can easily provide circulation to the digestive organs.

So go ahead and enjoy your naps.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am past 80 and take many medicines. Could you explain what potassium triplex is for? — L. S.

I'd guess that you have some edema (swelling, caused by fluid accumulating in the tissues) and take a diuretic medication to get rid of this excess fluid and thus reduce swelling. Such medications remove not only water but also potassium. If you lose too much potassium, extreme weakness results. The answer is to replace the lost potassium. Hence there is a solution containing three types of potassium (which explains the term "triplex") which is given in cases requiring it. (Potassium triplex is used also in other conditions in which the patient would suffer from loss of potassium.)

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there such a thing as leakage from the bladder, shortly after urination, while walking fast or even bending over? I seem to have had this problem after the birth of my last child.—MRS. V. F. D.

Yes, this occurs sometimes and is called stress incontinence. The muscle structure supporting the bladder or controlling its action, may have been damaged at the time of childbirth. Have your physician, or gynecologist, check to determine whether surgical correction is advisable or needed.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

What Kind Of A Driver Are You?

If you're prone to judge a man by his habits at the wheel of an automobile, chances are you're not far wrong. So say psychologists who have studied the matter.

If a motorist is apt to drive down the middle of the road, honk his horn at the most nerve-racking times and act as if he is the leader of a parade, chances are he has porcine habits at home, too.

HE PROBABLY makes his family watch the television program he prefers. And he's apt to turn the volume so high the sound irritates his neighbors.

The speeder and the fellow who jumps the traffic lights also scorns rules of good conduct in business and social contacts. They're inclined to be unscrupulous in pursuit of gains or profits.

And, just to paint a completely black case against him, he's likely to cheat on his wife. So insists a psychologist for an insurance group who has lent great attention to the matter.

THE ROAD HOG'S motto in and out of the car, in other words, is that anything goes if you can get away with it.

You may think that a man becomes a monster, on occasions, only when he becomes an automobile driver. In reality he's in a position to betray his real attitude toward life under such conditions, according to the experts.

He is able to cover up his true self with a gloss of proper decorum except when he gets behind the wheel. Only then does he expose his genuine personality and character.

THE NATION'S COURTS which deal with traffic problems have, from time to time, tried to deal with that element of unpredictable drivers with clinics but rarely with success.

The objective, of course, has been to help detect the accident-prone driver before he has a mishap. Some conclusions one such clinic did reach might surprise the reader.

FOR ONE THING, the observers found that a small percentage of 140 persons driving commercial machines—12.8 per cent, to be exact—had most of the accidents—60.5 per cent.

The drivers with the high accident frequency generally had come from broken homes or had unhappy lives as children. They frequently fought with other children and sometimes tried to bully their playmates.

THEY WERE ALSO shown to have a lack of responsibility toward their families, drank excessively and gambled too much.

Other common characteristics that were significant among the group were rebellion against authority, loss of temper, a tendency to take advantage of friends by borrowing money and a tendency to teach other drivers a lesson.

What The Taskmaster Needs To Do

WASHINGTON — Lyndon B. Johnson, taskmaster, never fires an employee. I stand to be corrected if there are exceptional cases, but the generality will hold.

Johnson's way as a bossman, public and private, is to hire off the top shelf, to pay generously and to drive the wage-earner as mercilessly as he drives himself.

MANY A TIME he has entreated or hectored a discouraged worker to stay on the job when another kind of employer would have kicked him out. The result has been to extract a full potential of talent and to reward it with suitable measures of recompense. The John Connallys and Bill Moyers are far more typical of Johnson proteges than the Walter Jenkins and Bobby Bakers who cracked under the strain or betrayed the high-pressure, can-do tutelage.

ABRASIVE, sometimes presumptuous, unevenly productive of resentment and admiration, the Johnson leadership quality seldom makes for toadies and much more often makes for energized performances in those who stay close to him or occasionally pass nearby. More's the pity, it has seemed to me that the President does not throw the switch of this high-voltage propulsive power into the segment of the population that most needs to be jolted.

We are in a period of unexampled prosperity, and are simultaneously engaged in as crucial a war as we ever fought. Never were more Americans at work. Not for nine years have the ratios of unemployment been lower, and not within memory have there been more job-openings both in the high-skill areas and in the low-skill areas of household and rural fetch-and-carry. At home and on the battlefield, there is work for virtually all except children and invalids.

IN SHORT, there never was a more propitious time for Johnson to lay off the pit—preaching of his welfare program, and to exert his unique and effective trait of goading people into fulfillment of their capacities. Several million private wars on poverty would gain a lot more ground than the billion-dollar Office of Economic Opportunity. Negroes walking out of rotting cities to jobs in the armed services, in construction and winter farm work, would perform a lot more slum-clearance than can be planned in Washington.

IT WILL BE said that nobody in the White House has preached the Strenuous Life since Theodore Roosevelt, but Johnson preaches and supervises it daily within his official households, and to scores of visiting entrepreneurs and politicians. If the President were wired for sound in his private discourses, and would speak to the nation out of his own philosophy, we would hear very little about under-privilege and a lot more about take-up-your-bed-and-walk.

IT IS THIS Johnson, the rough-tongued exhorter, and the boot-spurred energizer, whom too many in the country do not know. Unfortunately, they are the many who most need exhortation and get-up-and-go.

Johnson, who has it in him to be very scornful of excuses and alibis, and very demanding of performance, would know just what to say to these people—if only he would.

Inflationary Threat Looks Real

NEW YORK (AP) — The economy will have to grow even if President Johnson is to achieve all his defense and "Great Society" goals without monetary inflation.

AND SOME business economists may wonder if the proposed new tax schemes might slow the business boom a bit just when it is supposed to gather speed.

The boom will have to furnish the U. S. Treasury with the money it will need to hold down a deficit that could be inflationary.

THE GOVERNMENT itself would be pushing the boom along. The President urges Congress to appropriate nearly $113 billion for the fiscal year starting July 1. This would pump perhaps $8 billion more government money into the economy than in the current fiscal year. If inflation is avoided, the new money would be a big help in keeping prosperity rolling.

BUT THE President also counts on the business boom increasing personal and corporate incomes enough to furnish the federal tax collectors with considerably more revenue than this year. He also wants to get more revenue quickly by earlier tax collections. Together, greater prosperity and faster tax collections are supposed to give the Treasury around $6 billion more revenue than in the current fiscal year. This would hold the Treasury deficit just below $2 billion and thus help stave off inflation.

EARLIER COLLECTIONS means withholding more from pay checks of individuals without changing his total tax bills, and ordering corporations to pay more of their income taxes before 1966 ends, rather than waiting until 1967.

The catch is that earlier collections by the Treasury will be taking money out of the economic stream in the months just ahead. This could more than offset the greater spending by the federal government, which often lags behind appropriations.

AND CONSUMER spending is the biggest prop of the current economic boom. Less take-home pay this year might slow down such spending.

Business spending for plant and equipment is a prop of the economy, too. Much of the outlook for greater prosperity in the months ahead has been built on the announcements that corporations plan to spend even more than last year.

SOME ECONOMISTS fear that if the Treasury collects around $3 billion more in corporate tax this year, without affecting the total bill that would be settled eventually, some companies might be pinched for cash and trim their spending plans.

OTHER ECONOMISTS, however, think that business is more likely to go right ahead with its capital goods investments. It would go into the money market and borrow the $3 billion it otherwise might have available in its cash tills. The demand for loans already is high and growing, and interest rates have been raised and could go still higher. This, too, could chill some business spending intentions.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Some colleges are beginning to experiment with "pass-fail" marking systems for some courses instead of the traditional grades of A, B or F. The idea, reports Insider's Newsletter, is to free students from grubbing for a grade and to encourage them to be more venturesome in their choices of courses.

One professor doesn't think grades are needed at all. He says there appears to be little correlation between undergraduate grades and anything else—including graduate school and business success.

If this kind of idea catches on, someone will want to eliminate the bureau of standards. Measurement becomes meaningless without a scale of values and perhaps the professor should give his theories a pass-fail test before colleges go too far trying to remove pressure from their students.

Bound for Los Angeles from Chicago, the train carried 143 passengers and was traveling 70 miles an hour when the last six cars — three sleepers, a chair car, a diner and a club car — left the tracks but remained upright.

Three passengers and two crew members were admitted to a hospital for observation. Ten others were treated and released.

School buses took the passengers about 60 miles to Liberal, Kan., where they boarded another train.

Plane Crash Kills Couple

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An Oklahoma City couple was killed last night when their single-engine Beechcraft Bonanza crashed into a field just west of here during an attempted instrument landing.

It was more than two hours after the aircraft disappeared from Oklahoma City radar approach control radar before the wreckage was located, about two miles north of Mustang.

Killed in the crash were Emmett R. Morris, 54-year-old president of Morris Aviation Enterprises, Inc., and his wife, Helen. Bits of the smashed plane were found strewn over a 100-yard area in a wheat field.

Cactus Paint Made For Westex Uses

If your home or other buildings need painting to protect them from rain, winds and icy weather, there is still plenty of time to get the job done.

The home with the paint beginning to crack or peel, or looking dingy, is in shape to let the elements do a great deal of damage. The only way to get the bare spots covered is with a good coat of paint made to withstand West Texas weather.

Cactus Paint Co., local industry located on East Highway 80, manufactures paints for homes, both interior and exterior, business buildings, and all uses, to stand up under the weather conditions, including pounding dust storms.

Much testing and analyzing go into the work before a paint is put on the market, and it must meet the highest standards before Cactus Paint Co. approves it for use.

In addition to the work in the laboratory, tests are made on lumber and other materials under the punishment of outdoor weather conditions to see whether or not it stands up.

If a customer wants a room painted to match the rest of the house where the finish is still good, a Cactus job will give him what he wants. If a color is not shown on the color cards or charts, or if it is one of the customer's own choosing, Cactus personnel can help.

The company also carries artists supplies, fiber glass and marine enamels. Call AM 4-8922 for information.

Rent Before You Buy At Doc Young Music

For more than 100 years, people who have thought about music thought first of Wurlitzer, whose standards for materials, craftsmanship and product development have served as examples for the entire music industry.

Big Spring is offered this first class quality at Doc Young Music Co., 910 E. 4th. Featured is the Wurlitzer Rental Plan, designed to determine the musical talent of an individual prior to making the purchase of a piano.

The piano rental plan was developed by Wurlitzer for families where no one plays. It is a simple and inexpensive program for testing one's musical aptitude without obligation to buy. The plan is available for only $10 per month, with free tuning and delivery included. The customer receives credit for rental charges if he decides to purchase the instrument.

Students and professionals alike will appreciate the outstanding response and superior tonal quality of Wurlitzer instruments, according to Joe Lawless, manager.

Wurlitzer is the world's largest builder of pianos and organs and the company produces more than 50 pianos in basic furniture styles. The pianos also are available in a variety of mahogany, cherry, walnut, maple and oak woods.

Outstandingly beautiful designs, employing a wide choice of fine woods, are continuously being developed by Wurlitzer to complement any decor, be it modern, contemporary, or traditional.

There is also a complete selection of Wurlitzer pianos, organs and solid state stereos at Doc Young Music Co., 910 E. 4th.

"Of all musical instruments, it is the piano that fulfills the greatest amount of musical needs in the school or home," Lawless said. "In assemblies, programs, family get-togethers, concerts and recitals, the piano plays a leading part."

"We can't possibly sell all makes of pianos and organs," he declared, "so we just sell the one that most people ask for and buy—Wurlitzer."

"Without a doubt," he continued, "Wurlitzer is the best combination of quality and cost on the market. Chances are that you will buy only one piano for you, your children and your grandchildren, so why not get one that will stand up for generations to come and be an attractive and practical heirloom."

"When good friends get together, it's often around a Wurlitzer organ, for this instrument has a way of uniting the gathering place for family fun, neighborhood parties or just drop-in sessions," he said.

What makes a good ADVERTISEMENT?

A good advertisement is the one that gives the advertiser the results he is looking for, and to accomplish this, the ad must give prospective customers what they are looking for!

What makes newspapers the most effective Advertising Medium?

- 1. VISUAL PRESENTATION – Unlike radio, which is aural, and television, which is both visual and aural, the newspaper concentrates on the visual message, making your advertising message more fixed in the reader's mind.
- 2. LOCAL IMPACT – Newspapers are individualized and edited to appeal to the people of a particular city and its surrounding area. In their editorial treatments, newspapers reflect the character of the community of which they are a part.
- 3. NEWSPAPER PENETRATION – Newspaper readership is uniformly strong in practically all strata of society. Newspapers penetrate effectively all income groups, from the highest to the lowest, all occupational groups, all educational levels.

... plan your advertising carefully, a good ad should have a well-balanced layout and accurate copy; it should always offer merchandise that the customers want, and it should always feature seasonal merchandise at prices customers are willing and able to pay.

Remember, GOOD RESULTS depend entirely on what is in the ad, the way it looks, the value it offers, and the integrity of the firm that is running the ad.

Rupp Trips Up Vandy

By The Associated Press

Adolph Rupp took the transition out of Kentucky's stratified, transitional, hyperbolic paraboloid and the sting out of Vanderbilt's attack.

As a result, second-ranked Kentucky defeated third-ranked Vanderbilt 96-83 Saturday and extended its unbeaten basketball victory string to 12.

The loss, only the Commodores' second in 16 games, came after Vanderbilt built a 13-6 lead in the first five minutes. It was during that time that the Wildcats employed a 1-3-1 zone defense—or as Rupp likes to call it, a stratified, transitional, hyperbolic paraboloid.

But when he saw it wasn't working, Rupp had his players change tactics. They made the transition to the man-to-man defense and slowed the Commodores the rest of the way.

HYPERBOLIC

The 64-year-old Rupp, the winningest active coach in college basketball, devised his 3-3-1 defense two years ago. But since he always abhorred the term zone defense, Rupp denied that it was a zone.

"We never have used the zone at Kentucky and never intend to," he said, his tongue firmly planted in his cheek. "That was no zone. It was simply a stratified, transitional, hyperbolic paraboloid."

Zone or paraboloid, the Wildcats will have the next week to work of it. They, like most of the Top Ten, are idle this week.

Others that don't play until the close of final examinations are Duke, No. 1; Vanderbilt; Providence, No. 6; Texas Western, No. 8; and UCLA, No. 9.

Duke extended its winning streak to 12, crushing Wake Forest 101-81 behind the 36-point performance of Jack Marin. The Blue Devils now are 14-1.

UCLA wasn't so fortunate. Stanford defeated the Bruins 74-69, handing the defending NCAA champions their first Pacific Athletic Conference loss after 36 straight victories. Art Harris led the host Indians with 24 points.

Brigham Young, No. 7 also was a loser among the Top Ten, dropping a 107-101 decision at Wyoming.

Providence and 10th-ranked Kansas, meanwhile, barely escaped with triumphs. Providence edged Boston College 79-77 on Jim Walker's two free throws with four seconds left while Kansas nipped Iowa State 49-47 as Bob Wilson tossed in a 15-foot jump shot at the final buzzer.

Texas Western was idle. Fifth-ranked Bradley whipped Louisville 79-62 and fourth-ranked St. Joseph's edged Villanova 71-69 in a Sunday game on a field goal by Steve Donches at the buzzer.

Harp Accepts Job At Duke

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Tom Harp is leaving Cornell to accept the prestigious job of head football coach at Duke University. "to fulfill personal desires to participate in major college football."

Duke officials announced Sunday that Harp, head football coach at Cornell the last five years, will succeed Bill Murray as head coach at Duke. The terms of Harp's contract with Duke were not made public.

Harp said he was "delighted to join the Duke family" and make the switch from the Ivy League to the Atlantic Coast Conference.

"Duke represents the type of school with academic standing which I have been connected with and it will give me the opportunity to fulfill personal desires to participate in major college football," Harp said.

The 38-year-old coach, who was the youngest Ivy League coach the first four years he was at Cornell, said he planned to bring in "from one to five" new assistants but did not say who they might be.

Murray resigned Nov. 20 after 15 seasons at the Blue Devils' helm to become executive secretary of the American Football Coaches Association.

The 1965 Cornell club ended its season with a 4-3-2 record and a fifth ranking nationally in rushing offense. Cornell had an average of 258.1 yards per game.

HCJC Girls In Semi-Finals

Temple hit 70 per cent of its shots on its way to a 58-43 victory over the Hardin - Simmons girls in the finals of the Hardin-Simmons girls' tournament Saturday night.

Temple defeated Ranger, 54-24, in the semifinals to gain a spot in the finals against the Hardin - Simmons team, which beat Howard County in the other semifinal contest.

Temple was led by Rose Lerner's 24 points. Zaida Bodine paced the losers with 14 points.

Temple jumped off to a quick 24 to 9 lead in the first quarter and was never headed.

Patty Jones paced Howard County with 12 points to a 37-28 victory over Ranger to take third place honors. Ranger was led by Willie Barnes' 12 points.

In consolation action White and Everett of Abilene nudged San Angelo, 44-42. Janis Richards paced White and Everett with 20 points. San Angelo was led by Vula Thomlinson's 22 points.

In a free throw contest at the end of the tournament, Gloria Goolsby hit a perfect 20 of 20 to take first place.

Former Hawks Star In Win

BROWNWOOD — Tom Carter, former HCJC star, went on a scoring rampage as Howard Payne College defeated Sul Ross, 120-107, in a Lone Star Conference game here Saturday night.

Carter burned the net for 23 points. Eddy Nelson, another former Jayhawk, counted 19 for the Yellow Jackets.

Two Platoons Here To Stay

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Two platoon football for colleges is here to stay — at least for another year, that is.

The NCAA Football Rules Committee decided Sunday against placing any proposals to change substitution rules on the agenda for action at today's closing session.

The committee felt the present rule was satisfactory and it acted in the interest of stabilization," said NCAA spokesman Wiles Hallock.

Leading Aggies Face Longhorns

Texas A&M, sporting a 4-0 record and the conference leadership, goes to Austin Tuesday night for a battle with the Texas Longhorns in one of two Southwest Conference games this week.

In the other game, Southern Methodist will be at Lubbock for a statewide televised game with Texas Tech, the pre-season favorite.

The Aggies came up with two key victories last week as they edged the Arkansas Razorbacks, 75-72 at College Station and then drove 81-60 at Waco Saturday.

This Is How Jim Brown Helped Beat The West

Lombardi's West Team Drubbed In Pro Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's elementary in football that the less you give up the ball the more chance a team has to win.

When you surrender the ball 10 times, well— "That's the whole story of the game."

Author of this was Coach Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers, whose favored West team was drubbed 36-7 by the East in Sunday's National Football League Pro Bowl game.

Two fumbles and eight pass interceptions by the alert East certainly contributed to the downfall of Lombardi's warriors.

There were other factors, notably the East's on-target quarterback, Frank Ryan of the Cleveland Browns; his teammate, fullback Jim Brown, and the St. Louis Cardinals' kicking specialist, Jim Bakken.

Jim Brown—there were six fellow named Browns in the game—scored three touchdowns to equal a pro bowl record.

True, his combined yardage for the scores was five. But he banged out a total of 64 and was named for the third time as

Clerk Posts Indoor Record

BOSTON (AP) — Three Englishmen were hailed today as rescuers of the 40th Knight of Columbus Games.

Alan Simpson, a 25-year-old clerk, was an overwhelming choice for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Award as the meet's outstanding performer Saturday night after he set a K of C record of 8:41.6 in winning his first attempt at two miles indoors.

John Whetton, a 24-year-old school teacher, posted his 23rd victory in 25 indoor mile starts with a finishing kick that caught him in 4:06.6, and countryman John Cooper surprised himself in capturing the 600 in 1:11.2.

The crowd of 9,021 cheered the performances in a comparatively dull meet which launched the major indoor season in the East. There was only one sour note.

Late in the evening, John Pennel, who has cleared 17 feet in the pole vault, concentrated on a third and final attempt at an indoor record of 16-9 1/4. The crowd was virtually silent.

Then, as Pennel began his run, a few hecklers let loose. Pennel lost his concentration and pulled up. When he finally tried again, he obviously was disturbed and failed to even reach the bar, forcing him to settle for a victory at 15-6.

Expansion Is Top Topic In AFL Owners' Meetings

HOUSTON (AP) — Expansion was the No. 1 topic at the American Football League meetings today after a long weekend of house-cleaning in which nine players, including San Diego's mammoth Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison, were shipped to new locations.

The kickoff was the Ladd-Faison trade, with the two all-league defensive standouts sent to Houston in a five-player deal considered the biggest in AFL history and accompanied by one of the league's biggest fuses.

In addition to Ladd and Faison, San Diego Coach Sid Gillman gave the Oilers a piece of his mind for "tampering" while accepting three players in exchange — linebacker Johnny Baker, defensive end Gary Cutsinger and cornerback Pete Jaquess.

TRADE ANNOUNCED The multi-player trade was announced Saturday during the second period of the AFL All-Stars' 36-19 victory over Buffalo while Ladd and Faison still were playing. Then on Sunday, San Diego lost tight end Dave Kocourke, a second team All-AFL selection.

Kocourke, Buffalo fullback Billy Joe, quarterback Eddie Wilson of Boston and New York linebacker Wahoo McDaniels were selected by the Miami Dolphins as the first of 32 veteran players they will receive under the AFL stocking formula.

With the first of the expected player shifts made, attention focused on the league owners, who had expansion listed as the main item on the official agenda. Preliminary discussions were started with an eye toward expansion to a 10th team for the 1967 season.

BID FOR FRANCHISES Heading the list of franchise applicants were Chicago, Los Angeles and Anaheim, Calif.

Washington, D.C.; Milwaukee, Portland, Ore., and Phoenix, Ariz. It was expected that if a decision could not be reached the list would at least be pared.

The Dolphins, who become operational as the ninth team this year, are expected to name four more of their selections today.

Under the stocking plan, the existing eight teams freeze 23 players. Miami then selects two from each team. Each of the existing clubs then freeze another player and the Dolphins make two additional selections, winding up with four players from each team.

However, the stocking of the Dolphins was by the Ladd-Faison deal and Gillman's blast at Houston owner Bud Adams for making inflammatory monetary statements that affected San Diego's bargaining position.

The 6-foot-9, 295-pound Ladd and 6-5, 270-pound Faison both had publicly expressed disenchantment with Gillman's reign as coach and general manager and announced they were playing out their options.

SID BLASTS OFF Gillman, in turn, said he would not have such players on his team. So it came as somewhat of a surprise when he issued his blast Saturday, saying: "When an owner makes a statement to the press that he is interested in such-and-such a player and will give a certain amount of money, that's tampering. Those kind of offers made our bargaining position impossible."

Adams, who recently said he had offered the Chargers three players plus $100,000 for Ladd alone, said that Gillman had initiated the trade talks.

"Gillman is just mad because he is losing two all-league players," Adams said. "He came to us during the exhibition season and first mentioned a trade involving Faison or Ladd or both."

Detroit Wins Balloting, To Bid For Olympics

CHICAGO (AP) — It took three ballots before Detroit gained a simple majority edge over Los Angeles to win the honor of being the U. S. city to bid at the international level for the 1972 Summer Olympic Games.

Salt Lake City was designated on the first ballot to bid for the 1972 Winter Olympiad.

The action came Saturday in a vote of 42 members of the U.S. Olympic Committee meeting in Chicago.

For the eighth time the Motor City will be bidding for the Summer Games, never having won them. In 1964, Detroit finished second to Mexico City when the International Olympic Committee awarded the 1968 site.

Wilt Got Sick, Philadelphia Loses

By The Associated Press
Wilt Chamberlain got sick, Bill Russell got hurt and the Cincinnati Royals got scared. All in all it was a typical day in the National Basketball Association's tension-packed Eastern Division.

Chamberlain, who was stricken with food poisoning after eating Saturday night, watched from the bench, and Russell bruised a shoulder but not before making his presence felt as Boston beat Philadelphia 137-122 Sunday afternoon.

The Royals came from behind and then had Detroit almost turn the table on them before edging the Pistons 108-106 for their 11th victory in their last 12 starts.

After the smoke cleared, Boston still led the East by one-half game over Cincinnati while Philadelphia was four games back of the Celtics.

St. Louis beat Baltimore 136-128 in another afternoon game.

Second-year man Luteious Jackson took over for Chamberlain against Russell, and scored only 11 points while Russell scored 19, got 14 rebounds and blocked several shots before going out late in the third period with the bruised shoulder.

Back home from Phoenix, Ariz., where they absorbed a pair of defeats, the Howard County Junior College Hawks prepare this week for two stern tests.

The immediate one is going through semester examinations; the other is a conference game in Levelland on Jan. 25 against South Plains, leader of the Western Junior College Conference with a 4-0 loop record.

Coach Buddy Travis said he likely would not work out his Hawks until Thursday in order to let the boys concentrate on their studies and exams. Then there will be the problem of pulling together an offense to try and overtake the Plainsmen, who had rather beat HCJC than almost anything.

Despite a deficit record for the season, the Hawks have a fair to good club, one with considerable potential. They have been playing some of the top ranked teams in the nation.

At Phoenix, the Hawks got beat 82-69 Friday evening, then 91-78 Saturday. The played some good ball, but rebounding was the thing that hurt. Saturday night they were out-rebounded 51-31, and that largely was the story of the game. Kurt Papp accumulated 44 points in the two nights, but Hoesely was the only other man to hit in double figures, making 23 points in two outings.

Casper Finally Wins At Home

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Billy Casper has triumphed in 30 PGA tournaments but none exceeded the thrill of victory in Sunday's San Diego Open.

The 34-year-old Casper, veteran of 11 pro years, finally won before the home folks by blazing a trail of seven birdies for a last-round 64 and a 16-under-par 268 for 72 holes.

"I've always wanted to win at home," said Casper, "so this is a very gratifying victory. I worked awful hard last year but couldn't win it when I shot a 64 on the last round and tied the tournament record.

Casper and Wes Ellis of West Caldwell, N.J., fired 72 in 1965 but Ellis won on the first hole of the playoff.

This tourney was worth $40,000, and Casper's share was $5,800.

Four strokes behind in second place was Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga., and Tom Weiskopf of Columbus, Ohio.

Don January, a veteran on the tour from Dallas, faltered to a 73 and 72-hole score of 273, tying for third with young Paul Bonadona of Palm Springs, Calif., who fired a par 71.

Defending champion Ellis carded a 74 in the final round after a 68-69-68—205 had kept him in contention.

S'west Texas Setting Pace

Southwest Texas, with three victories on the road, moves into the semester examination hull in the Lone Star Conference basketball race with a 3-0 record.

All of the other league teams have lost at least one game each.

Southwest Texas defeated Texas A&I Saturday in Kingsville 98-64 to take over first place.

Stephen F. Austin scored a 76-73 victory over Sam Houston State. It was the first loss at home for Sam Houston in some time.

Other games last week were Howard Payne 120, Sul Ross 107, and East Texas 64, McMurry 62.

Three games will be played this week. Sam Houston meets Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches; Howard Payne tangles with Sul Ross at Alpine, and McMurry goes against East Texas at Commerce Saturday night.

This tourney was worth $40,000, and Casper's share was $5,800.

Four strokes behind in second place was Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga., and Tom Weiskopf of Columbus, Ohio.

Don January, a veteran on the tour from Dallas, faltered to a 73 and 72-hole score of 273, tying for third with young Paul Bonadona of Palm Springs, Calif., who fired a par 71.

Defending champion Ellis carded a 74 in the final round after a 68-69-68—205 had kept him in contention.

S'west Texas Setting Pace

Southwest Texas, with three victories on the road, moves into the semester examination hull in the Lone Star Conference basketball race with a 3-0 record.

All of the other league teams have lost at least one game each.

Southwest Texas defeated Texas A&I Saturday in Kingsville 98-64 to take over first place.

Stephen F. Austin scored a 76-73 victory over Sam Houston State. It was the first loss at home for Sam Houston in some time.

Other games last week were Howard Payne 120, Sul Ross 107, and East Texas 64, McMurry 62.

Three games will be played this week. Sam Houston meets Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches; Howard Payne tangles with Sul Ross at Alpine, and McMurry goes against East Texas at Commerce Saturday night.

Clay Employs Joe Louis For Training

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, unbeaten in his 22 pro fights, has hired Joe Louis to work with him "because it's time Joe was with a winner."

The former heavyweight king will have plenty of chances to be with a winner said Clay in announcing that he hopes to have four title fights this year. He said No. 1 may be announced by Tuesday.

"I want the first one within 10 weeks to three months," said Clay, who celebrated his 24th birthday today.

Clay, or Muhammad Ali as he prefers to be called, named Doug Jones of New York, Ernie Terrell of Chicago, George Chuvalo of Toronto and England's Brian London as the four possible opponents for this year, adding that Jones "is the most likely at this time."

The champion announced the hiring of Louis "for training and advising" and his fight plans in accepting the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as Fighter of the Year. Louis sat next to him at the Boxing Writers Association's annual dinner at the Waldorf Astoria Sunday night.

Louis has worked with a string of losers. His last one was Sonny Liston for the return fight with Clay. The Big Bear went out in the first round.

ACC Leads Southland

Ablene Christian took over undisputed leadership in the 1966 Southland Conference basketball race last week with impressive victories over Lamar Tech and Arlington State.

ACC beat Lamar 73-55 and Arlington 87-72 to run its conference mark to 3-0.

Trinity and Arkansas State, both with 1-1 records, are deadlocked for second place. Lamar Tech is 1-2 and Arlington State is in the conference cellar with a 0-2 record.

As teams take time out for final examinations, there will be only one game involving a conference member. Ablene Christian will meet West Texas State at Abilene Saturday night.

Other games last week included Trinity 91, Lamar Tech 89; Arkansas State 87, Chattanooga 62; and Angelo State 76, Arlington State 68.

Texas Wesleyan Leads Big State

Texas Wesleyan, leading the Big State Conference basketball race with a 4-0 record, tackles St. Edward's University in Austin in one of two conference games slated this week.

In the other game, Texas Lutheran College tries second-place St. Mary's University in San Antonio.

League play is to be slowed down this week as teams switch from the backboards to semester examination papers. Only three non-conference games are slated, including St. Mary's bid against the University of Houston Monday night.

Other games this week are Texas Wesleyan-LeTourneau at Longview and East Texas Baptist-Houston Baptist at Houston.

Last week's scores were Texas Wesleyan 83, East Texas Baptist 74; St. Mary's 60, St. Edward's 47; Houston Baptist 71, Southwestern 57; Texas Wesleyan 88, St. Mary's 77; East Texas Baptist 90, St. Edward's 74; Houston Baptist 58, Texas Lutheran 56.

Oakland, Denver Swap Players

HOUSTON (AP) — Oakland traded linebacker Arch Matsos to Denver today for Herwig Dixon and surrendered quarterback Dick Wood to the new Miami Dolphins as players changed uniforms in swift procession at the American Football League meetings.

Wood, defensive end Mel Branch of Kansas City, Houston center Tom Goode and Denver defensive end Ed Cooke were selected by the Dolphins under the AFL's stocking plan.

Cincinnati Looks Like Mo. Valley Class Again

Cincinnati and Bradley ran 1-2 almost every year during Cincinnati's six-year domination of Missouri Valley basketball through 1963 and it could be that way again this season.

The Cincy-Bradley battle Wednesday night at Cincinnati shapes up as the biggest game of the still-young Valley title race to date.

This is true although Tulsa has the Valley's only perfect record at 3-0 and doesn't play again until Jan. 29 because of semester exams. Tulsa has a 12-4 season record and seems certain to be a contender, but Joe Swank's club hasn't played a Valley game on the road.

Bradley, ranked No. 5 nationally, bounced back from an upset at Drake at Peoria and whipped Louisville 79-62 Saturday afternoon at Peoria in the weekly television game. Bradley stayed in second place at

Nagy Said Slain By Reds Prior To 'Execution'

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Imre Nagy, premier of the 1956 revolutionary Hungarian government, was killed without a trial by a secret police squad more than 16 months before the communists said he had been condemned to death and executed, the magazine Der Spiegel said today.

The magazine quoted a high-ranking official who fled Hungary last fall.

Russell Avers Domestic Spending Cut Essential

ATLANTA (AP)—Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga., expressed doubt today that the United States can continue the Viet Nam War and at the same time carry out the President's poverty programs for this country and other nations.

"Certainly to the extent feasible, I favor pressing ahead with programs to combat disease, poverty, ignorance and hunger and other social ills that persist even in the midst of our unprecedented affluence," Russell said in remarks prepared for the Georgia Legislature.

But, Russell said, "I simply fail to see how under present circumstances we can fight a war, continue domestic spending on a scale proposed by the President and initiate vast new programs to help every impoverished nation on this earth."

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he has questioned whether this nation "for all its wealth and resources, can fight a war of the magnitude of Viet Nam and carry on a broad range of domestic spending—without a tax increase or a dangerous deficit."

"The President apparently believes that we can," Russell said. "For the sake of the country and the soundness of the dollar, I hope and pray that he is right."

But, he continued, new budget estimates include a projected deficit next year of under $2 billion, and federal expenditures this year have so far exceeded predictions by some $8 billion.

Russell said he regrets that the President has proposed another round of civil rights legislation. He said the country generally has not yet understood "much less assimilated" the legislation enacted last year.

He said he does not know the details of the proposed legislation "but it is indicated that the federal government will be given unlimited power over the basic civil right of private property."

Senate Panel Due To Okay Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee takes up today President Johnson's nomination of Robert C. Weaver as secretary of the new Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Chairman A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., predicted before the session that the group would approve the nomination during the day and send it to the Senate floor for confirmation.

If all goes as expected, Weaver, 58, will become the first Negro member of the Cabinet.

He was scheduled to appear before the committee for questioning along with Prof. Robert C. Wood, nominated by Johnson as undersecretary.

MASSIVE PROBLEMS

Committee members said they wanted to ask both men about their plans for dealing with massive problems confronting the nation's cities.

Weaver appeared certain to meet a friendlier reception than he did five years ago when President John F. Kennedy nominated him to head the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

For one thing, he has appeared before the group many times in the intervening period and has won its backing for some of the most significant housing legislation ever passed by Congress.

In 1961, the Senate confirmed Weaver's nomination by voice vote after the committee had approved it by an 11-4 vote.

Two of the members who opposed the New Yorker at the time, Robertson and Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, have announced they will vote for him this year.

FINANCE AGENCY

The bill passed by Congress last year setting up the new Cabinet department allotted to it the functions and personnel of the Housing and Home Finance Agency but nothing else.

Several members of Congress said programs in other departments dealing with air pollution, urban highways and education in slum areas should be transferred to the new department.

After he had signed the bill, Johnson set up a task force headed by Wood, chairman of the department of political science at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to study the department's organization.

Gottlieb said the address is 18 Rue Langevin, Quarter la Redoute, Algiers, Algeria.

Widow, Nephew Trial Start Due

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Candace Mossler, a pretty 47-year-old Houston, Tex., widow, and Melvin Lane Powers, her 24-year-old nephew, go on trial today for the 1964 slaying of Mrs. Mossler's elderly millionaire husband.

Mrs. Mossler and Powers, son of Mrs. Mossler's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Weatherby Powers, are charged with the bludgeoning death of 69-year-old Jacques Mossler, millionaire financier who had extensive banking and loan company interests.

ROMANCE ALLEGED

The state charges that Mrs. Mossler and Powers plotted the June 30, 1964, death of Mossler because he had discovered a love affair between the two.

Circuit Court Judge George Schulz, who set aside six weeks for the trial, freed the two on $50,000 bonds each after an earlier preliminary hearing, during which time the state produced much of the evidence it planned on using in the trial.

"... LOVE YOU"

Among the evidence allowed by Judge Schulz, was a letter from Mrs. Mossler to Powers which stated:

"My darling, and read, 'I love you... I need you.' Powers was arrested in Houston three days after Mossler's body was found in his plush Key Biscayne apartment near here. Mossler's head had been smashed with a heavy object and the killer had stabbed him 39 times.

Aircraft Plant Strike Voted

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Union employees at the Fort Worth plant of General Dynamics voted Sunday to go on strike if agreement on an acceptable new contract cannot be reached by 12:01 a.m. Saturday.

About 3,500 of the 4,000 members of District Lodge 776 of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers voted in favor of the strike. About 59 opposed the strike.

District President A. L. Smith denounced the company management and accused U.S. Rep. Jim Wright of "meddling" and "giving comfort to the enemy."

Wright spoke on radio and television Saturday night in an unusual appeal urging labor and management to get together for the benefit of the country and the community.

Here's the Quick, Easy Way To Get Out-of-Town "INFORMATION"

Just dial "Operator" and ask her for "Information" in the city you wish to call.

When the Information operator answers, give her the name of the town you want, then the name and address of the person or business whose number you want.

There is no charge for calls to obtain out-of-town telephone numbers.

And here's another helpful telephone hint: Write your out-of-town numbers in your own personal directory. You'll save time each time when you call.
