Five Are Hurt In Highway Crash

Five persons were hospitalized as result of a two car collision at 7 p.m. Thursday on IS 20, when one of the cars sought to make a U turn on the east highway, Arvin Henry, highway patrolman, reported. The accident could not be blamed to the weather, he added. He said that one car, driven by Herbie Watkins, 61, with Raymond Earl Richardson, 45, both believed to be from San Angelo, was traveling east. Apparently Watkins decided to turn around and go back west. Two approaching cars evaded the turning vehicle, but W. H. Ezell, 18, Colorado City, was unable to avoid crashing into Watkins' 1959 car. Ezell was driving a 1961 sedan and had Mrs. Nadine Carlson, 39, and her daughter Brenda Sue, 13, both of Colorado City, as passengers. Big Spring Ambulance Service took the five to the Howard County Hospital Foundation. Henry said he understood Watkins has a broken hip and severe body lacerations. Richardson escaped with painful, but not serious, cuts and bruises. Ezell was nearly scalped in the crash and suffered severe shock from loss of blood. Mrs. Carlson has serious facial lacerations and bruises. Brenda Sue escaped with minor injuries. A second accident occurred at 4 p.m. 10.8 miles south on US 87. Jack White, highway patrolman, said that no one was injured in this accident. He said that a car following too close crashed into the rear of a truck.

New York State Buys Rail Line

NEW YORK (AP) - New York State has completed purchase of the Long Island Rail Road, the world's busiest commuter line, for $65 million. The Metropolitan Commuter Transportation Authority, recently created by the State Legislature, wound up the deal Thursday by handing a check for $55 million to the railroad's outgoing board of directors. The state had made a down payment of $10 million Dec. 22. The money will be turned over to the Pennsylvania Railroad, owner of all the Long Island's stock, as soon as the Interstate Commerce Commission gives written approval of some aspects of the transfer. The transportation authority members took over as the Long Island's directors and re-elected President Thomas N. Goodfellow and all other officers. The authority plans a $260-million improvement program for the railroad, which carries 260,000 riders on weekdays. The Long Island's 6,500 employees will remain railroad employees, and will not be under state control. The 131-year-old railroad has been in financial trouble for many years. More than 10 years ago, it was lifted out of bankruptcy and federal court control by special state legislation which exempted the Long Island from most state and local taxes and expedited fare increases when needed to meet rising costs.

Cong Attack Shatters Truce They Called For

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - The Viet Cong jolted the lunar New Year cease-fire today by attacking a U.S. Marine patrol near Da Nang and engaging South Korean marines in a two-hour close-quarter battle near the central coast. Two Americans and 46 Communists were reported killed. Two U.S. Marine sergeants were killed when the guerrillas caught a Leatherneck platoon on security patrol in a crossfire of automatic weapons and rifles as it struggled through the mud of a flooded rice paddy 7 miles south of Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

Saigon, some overanxious Koreans began shooting when they heard the sound of firecrackers as the Vietnamese greeted the Year of the Horse on the lunar calendar. RED ATTACKS Thirty-four of the Communist attacks were reported against U.S., Korean, Australian and New Zealand troops. This raised questions among military observers whether the Communists really intended to include South Viet Nam's allies in the four-day Viet Cong cease-fire. When the underground Liberation Front radio broadcast the truce terms three weeks ago, it did not specifically include Allied soldiers but said it hoped they would respect the Vietnamese New Year celebration. The other 15 attacks, all characterized as minor, were against government forces. The Koreans reported 400 Viet Cong attacked a platoon of their marines shortly after midnight 10 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa, a coastal town 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

CAPTURE COUG The Americans poured artillery fire into the enemy positions. One wounded Viet Cong was captured and six suspects were detained. The Cong had a role in initiating the truce for the Viet Nam holiday period. By nightfall of the second day of the holiday truce, the U.S. military command reported a total of 49 violations by the Communists, but most were regarded as minor brushes. In

Snow, Subzero Cold Numb Dozen Central U.S. States

By The Associated Press Winter's hefty one-two punch, snow and cold, again pounded wide areas in the north central region, the Rockies and southern Plains today. The snow and subzero cold hit sections in at least 12 states. North Dakota and Montana had the lowest temperatures. But snow and below-zero readings also were reported in parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas, New Mexico and Texas. Stiff northerly winds fanned the cold air across the north central region southward and there was drifting of snow in some areas. In Wisconsin, with heavy snow across many sections, temperatures were below zero for the eighth straight night in some cities as the fresh surge of Arctic air moved into the northwestern part of the state. KANSAS FRIGID Snow measured six inches at Goodland, in northwestern Kansas, and it was one below zero. Four inches of snow covered Dodge City, in the southwest part of the state. In other parts of the nation, light rain or drizzle dampened areas along the Gulf Coast and along the North Pacific Coast. More light snow fell in sections of the Great Lakes to New England. Clear, cool weather prevailed in most of the Far West and it was fairly mild for the season in southern Florida. The early morning high mark was 74 at Key West, Fla.

Dominican Intervention Threatened By Castro

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) - Fidel Castro's threat to intervene in the Dominican Republic has caused the Dominican armed forces to intensify security precautions along the northwest coast. The armed forces minister, Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, declined Thursday night to go into details of the coastal watch. But he said naval patrols were concentrating on nearly 100 miles of coastline between Monte Cristi and Puer to Plata. Cuba's eastern tip is 160 miles northeast of Monte Cristi. The minister also revealed that the Dominican navy recently acquired "several" new high-speed, heavily armed patrol craft from the United States. It was learned, however, that the small boats arrived some time before the new threat from Havana. The commodore said the reason for the increased vigilance could be found in the words of Castro and the Dominican delegates at the Havana conference of revolutionaries from Latin America, Asia and Africa, which ended Sunday.

Mercury Drops To Near Zero

By The Associated Press A blinding snowstorm raged across most of Texas today, closing schools, paralyzing traffic and plunging temperatures to near zero. Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings for the northern half of the state were issued by the Weather Bureau, which predicted the snowfall would be between 4 and 6 inches in the Fort Worth and Dallas areas by tonight. Seven inches of snow covered the ground at Quanah, Follett and Hamlin. Hereford and Stamford had 6 inches and measurements of 3, 4, and 5 inches prevailed over the northern part of the state. TO ALAMO CITY The snow reached as far south as San Antonio, Burnet and Llano with more than 2 inches closing lake roads in the Burnet area. Blizzard conditions were reported at Quanah where the blinding snowstorm whipped by a raging north wind cut visibility to zero. Bitter cold that accompanied the storm was due to send the mercury down to 8 below zero before dawn Saturday in the Panhandle, where Dalhart had five degrees above early today. The freezing weather was expected to reach deep into the state during the night. FREEZING RAIN Freezing rain, sleet and drizzle was reported in the southern part of the state. Schools in most Panhandle-Plains cities and towns and many in West Texas and the Red River Valley were closed because of the raging snowstorm. At many points the heavy snow fell on top of highways already glazed by freezing rain and travel was extremely hazardous. BUS FLIPS A bus overturned on an ice-glazed road near Lubbock. Six persons were reported injured in the mishap. The snow belt gradually advanced toward the east and south during the night, often accompanied by fog. It pushed past San Angelo to the south, into the Fort Worth-Dallas vicinity and close to Waco before daylight. Leading interference for the storm was a band of mixed snow, freezing drizzle or sleet up to 100 miles wide. RISING WINDS Rising winds whipped the snow into small drifts by early morning around Dalhart, Borger, Shamrock and Childress. It was expected to blow even harder by late in the day. Snow continued to fall as both Amarillo and Childress measured 5 inches on the ground, generally over a foundation of ice from snowfall and rain two days earlier. Measurements elsewhere included Stamford 4 inches, Memphis 3 to 4 inches, Borger 3 inches, Odessa, Midland and Big Spring 4 inches, Dalhart, Plainview, Bridgeport and Gainesville 2 inches, and Dumas, Perryton and Brownwood about 1 inch. SCHOOLS CLOSED Early announcements of schools closing for the day to save pupils the danger of travel came from Midland, for all the county; from Lindsay, near Gainesville in Cooke County, and from Bridgeport, northwest of Fort Worth. Weather Bureau observers expected the deepest collections of snow in a belt 120 miles wide and centering on a line from Midland to Oklahoma City. They predicted winds up to 30 miles per hour in gusts through this corridor. LOWER VALLEY Southward from the colder sections, drizzling rain continued in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, along the coast and at numerous other points over South Texas. Temperatures weren't far above freezing at some places in the south.

IT'S WORTH MILLIONS TO OKLAHOMANS

By The Associated Press Oklahoma farmers today branded the snowfall in that state a "million-dollar" snowfall to many areas because of lack of rain and snow in recent months. Snow measurements in Oklahoma ranged from 3 to 6 inches with additional heavy amounts falling today and more forecast tonight. Oklahoma was one of 12 states with snow or subzero weather, with the amount which fell heavier in the upper Midwest.

Judge Warns Trial Lawyers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) - Tempers of opposing lawyers were growing short as the Mossler murder trial moved into its fifth day with no indication when the two sides might agree on a jury. Fifty-nine prospective jurors had been examined at great length when Thursday's session ended, and State Atty. Richard Gerstein and defense lawyer Percy Foreman were warned by Circuit Judge George Schultz to stop sniping at each other. The day would have been largely one of dull repetition, however, except for an attempt by a young draftee to approach Candace Mossler, accused of killing her multimillionaire husband Jacques. Thomas King, 21, was grabbed by detectives after he appeared at the courtroom door in shirt-sleeves, identified himself as a lawyer, and said he urgently needed to talk to Mrs. Mossler. King was handcuffed and questioned in a room just outside the court. He admitted finally that he didn't know why he tried to get into the courtroom and explained that he had "decided to get bombed" before going into the armed services. He said he didn't know the blonde defendant. King carried a notice to report for induction from Draft Board 57, in Long Island, N.Y. He was booked for vagrancy and public drunkenness.

More Snowfall In Forecast

The heaviest snowfall in Howard County in more than a decade and comparable with heavy snows of the county's history developed Thursday night and continued apace until 11 a.m. At that hour, with four inches of snow on the ground, the sun was making a desperate effort to break through and the snow fall had dwindled in volume. Observers said there was a heavy snow, perhaps bigger than this one, 14 years ago. The record indicated about eight inches fell on that occasion. Officially, the U. S. Experiment Station measured snowfall of Thursday night and Friday morning at a little less than 3 inches. Over the town, deeper falls were measured. The moisture content of the wet snow today was .27 inch. Farmers, although the snow has halted cotton harvest, are pleased with the moisture the snow is bringing. They point out that all of the water in the snow will be absorbed by the fields and none will be lost in runoff. The cotton still on the fields, they said, is already beginning to rate low grades and most observers doubted if the snow will materially damage the quality any more than it already is damaged. Roads were open, after a fashion, in all directions. City streets and many cars were unable to navigate hills. The city had trucks and men shovelling sand on the downtown streets at 10 a.m. The State Highway Department had men and trucks out all night on state and federal roads. Snow plows - actually maintainers and similar equipment - were drafted into service and were pushing the snow off IS 20 and US 87 as well as other state highways. Some farm-to-market roads had not been cleared at noon. There was promise held out of additional snow through Saturday. Southwesterly winds to 15 miles per hour were forecast. A low of 25 is forecast for tonight and Saturday morning. High on Saturday should be a little warmer than today - 45 to 50 degrees. The estimated high today is the mid-30's. The snow covered all parts of the Big Spring area. Gail had four inches. Wind was reported in Dawson and other counties north and the blowing snow posed an additional road hazard. Schools in Lamesa, as well as the Borden County Independent School, Flower Grove, O'Donnell and others in the area were reported closed. Police were being rushed to help unsmarl traffic jams developing on slippery hills. Up to noon, no serious accidents in the town had occurred, although many minor "fender bending" collisions were reported.

Mitchell Residents Urged To Present And Promote

By TOM BARRY
 COLORADO CITY—Edward S. Marcus, executive vice president of the Dallas firm of Nieman-Marcus, told a gathering of about 300 at the 57th annual banquet of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce Thursday that small towns like Colorado City can survive only if they "present and promote the best they have in the best manner they can."

Present at the gathering in Civic House were Eldon Mahon, recently announced candidate against Omar Burleson, 17th District congressman; Roger Brown, state legislative representative from this district; Raymond Tollett, president of Corden Oil & Chemical Co.; State Sen. David Ratliff, and other guests, including a heavy representation from Big Spring. Burleson sent his regrets.

TRADITION
 "I am impressed that Colorado City has a tradition of caring about education and culture," Marcus said, citing the Mitchell County Library, which has recently completed a new building, and the local historical museum as examples.

"If Colorado City is to progress in the next 20 years," he continued, "the main thing necessary to accomplish progress is for C-Citians to continue to care." Marcus added.

He also took advantage of the opportunity to promote Texas Partners of Alliance, a group of Texans interested in bettering relations with Peru, both altruistically and for mutual profit.

The Harvard graduate, who is director of a number of enterprises and associations and raises prize cattle, was the featured speaker and provided the last part of the two-hour program.

James Hull, last year's recipient, presented the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award for 1965 to Eddie Braswell, 30, of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Braswell has been Mitchell County office manager since 1963. He is past secretary and past president of the C-City Jaycees.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cox were presented the Outstanding Farm Family Award. The Cox's 681 acres produce cotton, cattle, vegetables and a number of other items. Jeff Taylor was named for the Community Service Award.

A new award was the Outstanding Chamber Member Award. It went to a woman, Mrs. Bob Riley, chairman of the chamber education committee, and member of the Parks and Recreation Board, who also teaches the "new math" in a special program, and is secretary for her insurance agent husband, former head football coach at Colorado City High School.

Gus D. Chesney of the First National Bank was master of ceremonies. Invocation was given by the Rev. Harold Birdwell, vicar of All Saints Episcopal Church. Organ music was provided by Mrs. James E. Payne.

BELL CHOIR
 Special entertainment was provided by the bell choir of Big Spring's First Methodist Church, directed by Ted James. James said the handbells used by the choir cost $600 per set.

"I'm sure you can get them from Mr. Marcus," he said, "but not for $600."

"I'm glad you brought up our annual handbell sale," Marcus grinned in reply.
 Marcus said the TPA organization, two years old and partially founded by him, has sent many items to Peruvians, such as electric generators for night schools (one came from the Lone

Railroad May Eliminate All Passenger Service

Railway post office cars on two Texas & Pacific Railway Co. trains are being discontinued, and company officials hinted this could kill off these remaining passenger runs.

The RPO cars (on which mail is transported and worked by clerks while enroute) will be dropped from westbound train No. 27 on Feb. 3 and from eastbound train No. 28 on Feb. 5, according to a post office department directive.

T&P officials said that the post office department said a change in mail distribution method was the reason for the drop order.

Removal of these mail cars will add more than $200,000 to the annual deficit incurred by operation of these trains, said railway officials.

"Passenger traffic continues to decline in rail traffic," said E. E. Spencer, T&P passenger traffic manager, "and a major

Martha Raye Nearly Caught In Viet Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Comedienne Martha Raye says she missed being trapped in a bloody Viet Cong battle at a remote South Viet Nam outpost by only 29 minutes.

"Our helicopter took off from Plei Me just 29 minutes before they attacked," said Martha on her return Thursday from 3½ months of entertaining troops.

The siege last fall lasted eight days and resulted in many Viet Cong and Allied dead. Still dressed in combat boots, Camouflage green beret and camouflage "tiger" suit, she arrived home 12 pounds lighter.

"They got to calling me 'Maggie of the Boondocks,'" said Martha, 49, who put on 400 performances for GIs in the treacherous jungles and rice paddies.

It was the comedienne's second tour in a year in Viet Nam, and her third war. World War II and Korea came before.

"They were all great guys," said Martha.

"But those boys over in Viet Nam — they know what they're fighting about a little more than the others did. If they don't, they learn in the first 24 hours."

"What really gets you is what they do besides fighting," said Martha. "They've got a medical program going for the villagers in the tiniest towns."

Martha sang and told jokes at some of the smallest outposts — sometimes manned by only two GIs.

At first she was accompanied by bass player Ollie Harris and guitarist Earl Colbert but they had to return to the United States. Then the Army gave her three GIs who could play bass and guitars.

Only one thing really bothered the GIs she met, said Martha. That was the antiwar demonstrators at home.

"The guys told me to try to put some sense into those kooks when I got here," she said.

Reorganization Set For Opportunity Team

A decision to reconstitute membership of Big Spring's Community Opportunity Team, so that there will be more representation from areas which normally would be principal beneficiaries in federal economic opportunity programs, was made at a meeting of the Team at Howard County Junior College Thursday evening.

Some two-score persons attended the session, most of them visitors. They heard an outline of the federal guidelines from two officials of the Economic Opportunity program from Austin, Bryce Barnes and Bruce Babbitt.

Babbitt explained that the local Team, as presently set up, did not follow federal criteria in its makeup. The Team had been organized some months ago, to serve as sponsoring agency for various federal "proverty" programs, but a dissent on its makeup had been filed by Northside United, which has been engaged in an effort to keep the Kate Morrison school in being.

The Team, as outlined by Babbitt, should have representatives from public officials, business interests, and those selected from the areas of lower income. While several Team representatives are in the latter category, Babbitt explained that the several neighborhoods to be reached primarily under Economic Opportunity programs should select their own representatives.

It was agreed that the Team's steering committee would be delegated to devise a program of changing and broadening the membership, and look toward a permanent structure acceptable to the government.

Because of disapproval of the Team as originally set up, the school's grant for a 100-day pre-school training program (Project Head Start) has not been approved.

However, it is possible that the schools may apply for an abbreviated program, possibly to function this summer. This would represent a grant of $35,000, as opposed to an original program of about $99,000.

Babbitt's explanation was that about $105,000 had been set up for Howard County under the EOA, but that single agencies (such as the schools) would not be eligible for all of this. The Economic Opportunity Team, on the other hand, could be the sponsoring agency for all the funds.

It is possible under the act, said Babbitt, for a single agency (the school) to apply for as much as one-third the total, or the $35,000. This, the Team agreed Thursday evening, should be done.

It was implied that, when and if the Community Action Team meets federal guidelines, it would be in position, if it so desired, to apply for and sponsor other "anti-poverty" programs in the community.

The Team's steering committee is made up of representatives of political agencies: George Zachariah, Larry Crow and John Burgess of the city; S. M. Anderson and Harold Talbot for the schools; Lee Porter and Simon Terrazas for the county; and Dr. W. A. Hunt and John A. Coffey for the Junior College.

Y Drive To Be Extended

A total of $1,745 has been collected for the YMCA Sustaining Campaign, according to Mrs. O. S. Womack, chairman of the drive which began Monday. Goal for this year's sustaining campaign is $10,500.

Mrs. Womack said that the drive has been hampered by the inclement weather and that because of today's snow, it would be extended several more days. Around 22 workers are participating in the drive.

Workers who have completed their prospect cards, but have not turned the donations in, are urged to do so as soon as possible, so that reports may be completed, Mrs. Womack said.

Sustaining members of the YMCA are those members who may or may not actively participate in Y functions and activities, but whose contributions insure that no youngster will be turned away because of lack of funds, Curtis Mullins, general secretary, said.

A Devotional For The Day

They took offense at him . . . And he marveled because of their unbelief.

PRAYER: Our Father, we are thankful for young people who have been disturbed by Christ and by conditions in our world. We pray that they will lead the church of the future into greater achievements in building Thy kingdom. For Christ's sake. Amen.

Pull Out All The Stops

It is high time that every organization in the community got concerned about the slowness of people to register for voting in this year's elections.

Only one week separates us from the deadline for paying poll taxes or getting exemption certificates. Yet, considerably less than half of our potential voting population has bothered to secure the right to vote.

There are going to be some pretty good contests from congressman, governor and attorney general and state legislator on down. There may be some interesting ones on a local level.

Logical Sensible Trend

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is taking a logical and timely tack on its industrial conference Feb. 1. The emphasis will be on local industrial development with the theme "There's a Gold Mine in Your Back Yard."

For many years now it has been apparent that the fight to induce or import major industry into the average community is a herculean task. Some communities have succeeded at it by design and sacrifice, some by good fortune. Most have found it to be a never-ending fight to keep firing ammunition in hopes it someday will score a hit. There is a place in every community's plans for keeping its story current and in the minds of industrialists who may be contemplating a move or an expansion. However, based on increasing competitiveness and on the realities of the situation, most communities should devote more effort and resources to encouraging and developing small industrial enterprises. Homegrown industries may grow to substantial proportions, and if they do the community is doubly blessed. Even if they never get very large, a number of them added together have the impact of a major installation.

So if you are in a club or any sort of organization, take it upon yourself to get the full weight of the group thrown behind hammering at citizens until they pay their poll taxes or get their exemption certificates.

Pull out all the stops.

'Crisis In Credibility'

WASHINGTON — Two stalwart Democrats, one a Johnson-backing Senator and the other a Johnson-serving administrator, trusted this reporter and spoke the truth which, if attributed to them by name, might cost them their citizenship papers in the Great Society.

"CRISIS in credibility," was the Senator's unvarnished opinion on the President's State of the Union message. A war abroad, and an unabated war on poverty at home? All that additional spending, but only a teeny-weeny deficit? A mountainous work load on a second-session Congress, and an early getaway date in order to face the voters? Another marble palace on one of the Avenues, a Department of Transportation, as the easy, expensive solution for the mass transit problem? "Tell me another!" — the Senator's skepticism was saying.

THE EXPRESSION "crisis in credibility" had already been applied to the diplomacy of the bomb pause, to the flutter of peace-angel wings as LBJ's emissaries fly into foreign capitals around the world, and to the remarkable inconsistency of White House actions on business prices and total inaction on Labor wages. But now the derogatory expression was being applied to the President's heart's desire, his domestic programs, and by one of his own men.

ANOTHER OF HIS men, loyal beyond question, was commenting on the credibility of the anti-poverty war. "Sometimes I think," he said, "we'd do better just to pay the poor for digging a long ditch, and then filling it up again." There was no callousness in the remark. Far from it, but the man was acknowledging the waste and the flim-flam in abolition of poverty. In this happy land of prosperity, the only sizable deposits of unemployment were among the Anglo-Saxons of Appalachia and the

Billy Graham

The thing that bugs me about Christianity is the piety of Christians. A better-than-thou attitude is not for me. Is there a possibility that one can be a follower of Christ without piety? C. R.

One of the most insidious lies ever foisted on mankind is the untruth that following Christ makes for obnoxious piety. Christ himself was not given to piety. He saw life realistically, and He lived it that way. He dined with publicans and sinners. He called a spade a spade. He was a real man — gentle but strong; fearless, but understanding; loving, but uncompromising. In fact He was the only normal man who ever lived.

The word Christian means to "be like Christ." Unfortunately, the definition of this word has been corrupted. To many it means to be a pious, a pious person, a nominally religious person.

As to the last part of your question, can one be a Christian without piety? My answer is an unequivocal yes! One of Jesus' main targets when He was upon earth was the piety of the Pharisees. He found religious pretense to be one of the most revolting things in the world, and warned His disciples against false piety. To follow Christ will not make you abnormal. To be reconciled to God through Him is to find the real norm of living!

'LET'S SEE NOW — THERE'S VALENTINE DAY, AND . . .'

Johnson Trying To 'Buy' Some Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — With his $4.8 billion of quickie tax boosters, President Johnson is trying to buy some time.

Even if Congress approves them by March 15, as he has asked, the maneuver won't rule out any general tax increase. That still could come, in 1967 or 1968.

It all depends on Viet Nam. What happens there—an escalation to full-fledged war, a negotiated peace, or some combination in between—"must be at the center of our concerns," as Johnson told Congress last week.

EVEN IF the fighting does not escalate but merely continues at its present intensity long enough, Johnson eventually will have to ask for a boost in income and corporate tax rates. His three tax measures are only temporary revenue-raisers.

If the hostilities do escalate seriously, a general tax increase would come sooner.

In the happier event that the guns cease firing in Viet Nam, the three revenue measures would simply run their course. They represent no permanent burden on economic growth.

By contrast, higher tax rates—once written into the law books—would be harder to get rid of.

THE WHITE House proposals would restore the auto and telephone excise taxes to their pre-New Year's rates until 1968; provide a graduated scale of rates for income tax withholding; and bring large corporations to a pay-as-you-go tax basis in one year instead of five.

If the economy should falter, the excise rates could be cut again, virtually overnight. The corporate tax speed - up could again be stretched out. Any overwithholding of income tax would flow back to consumers as tax refunds at the end of the year.

But more probably, the three devices would serve a useful antiflationary purpose in the period when "overheating" is a hazard — the months ahead when federal spending rolls up to a $112.8-billion-a-year rate.

JOHNSON THUS would be enabled to make good his guns and butter pledge — his promise that the "Great Society" programs of education, health, welfare and manpower development will not be sacrificed to pay for arms or to curb inflation.

The restraining effect of the tax devices would begin to play out, presumably, at approximately the right time — the time when the big surge of defense contracts begins to subside.

Birthday Marks A Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — No, it couldn't happen to a younger fellow.

I am about to be 55 years old. Actually my birthday isn't until next month, but since anticipation is better than realization, I am celebrating it now.

To some, this milestone may not loom as a very important event. But I feel like climbing atop a sunny mountain and shouting through a megaphone:

"HELLO, WORLD! Guess who's 55 years old. Me! Most of the billions of people who have inhabited earth never reached that age. But I have! Exit! Enjoy!"

To some people another birthday is like another milestone around their neck.

I don't feel that way. I think that total despair is plumed on one's 40th birthday, and every birthday after that is a great victory. Right now, if I had the money, I'd erect a great bronze statue of myself in Central Park — with one hand thumbing my nose at time, and the other out-thrust full of bird seed and nuts for pigeons and squirrels.

THERE ARE pessimists who may question what is the possible pleasure of being 55. As a matter of fact, it is a rather comfortable age. You are too young to be a dirty old man, and too elderly to be called "a promising talent."

You are beyond the tyranny of desire but still available to the challenge of the mind. The pursuit of wisdom is a joy. You can burn your draft card without fear, if you want to. But you don't want to. You desperately wish to serve your country in any manner — except, possibly, by the payment of more taxes.

To be 55 in 1966 is something of an achievement and commands respect.

AT 55 A fellow probably survived chicken pox, measles, the mumps and a tonsillectomy. He has weathered a couple of depressions and several wars, learned to recognize his wife across a breakfast table, maybe raised a kid or two or three, and almost paid up a mortgage.

At 55 one is content to coach the office baseball team rather than knock the necessary home run. But you still aren't a dodder. In a pinch you can still beat an old lady to a bus seat.

At 55 a new sharpness comes to the eye. Commonplace things have a fresh wonder: the flight of gulls, the sound of a child's laughter, the reach of an opening leaf in spring—these are edged with a fresh wonder.

You know so much about people that no one you meet is really quite a total stranger. The only total stranger left is death.

Personally, I don't want to meet him until the hour of sunrise on New Year's Day in the heart of 2,000. Every human year probably has as a goal the seeing of the dawn of a new century.

Epilepsy Most Often Of Mild Type

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Thank you for explaining petit mal epilepsy. I didn't realize how brief a seizure can be. You described my 12-year-old daughter to a T. We thought she was day-dreaming. After reading your article, I took her to the doctor and he found it was epilepsy. He put her on medication and she is doing fine.—MRS. R. H.

I appreciate your letter, Mrs. R. H., because it is an example of exactly what I am trying to do with this column. There is no reason why people should know the significance of all symptoms. If they did — well, they'd be doctors; yet if they did not, they'd be patients. Another reason why people should know the significance of all symptoms is that the travel is directly related to normal teaching duties, says Commerce Clearing House.

Teachers had to travel with the approval of their Board of Education and report on travel experiences in order to qualify for tax deductions.

The new ruling says expense of a teacher for recreational and personal travel will be deductible as ordinary and necessary business expenses to the extent that the travel is directly related to normal teaching duties, says Commerce Clearing House.

Even after that, it takes a doctor some more years of experience to accumulate a feeling or understanding for what people know, and what they want to know.

Guided by letters from readers, I try to write about the things that need more explanation. Your letter is a good example of this.

heard about epilepsy — that is, people know about the severe, or grand mal, type, which causes the patient, on occasion, to go into a violent spasm. But not so many people know that milder cases are really more numerous.

In the petit mal type, the patient doesn't collapse in a convulsion. Rather, there are very brief, but usually frequent, attacks which last only a second or less. There may be several or there may be dozens in a day. When this type of attack strikes, the patient doesn't fall down, or have any other strongly obvious symptom. Rather, he just has a momentary pause in activity. And then he goes on doing what he was doing before.

Both the severe and mild types can be helped by medication. Many cases of epilepsy, even fairly severe ones, can be controlled to the degree that there is no longer any great problem. Even the most serious cases can be helped to some extent, at least.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is a "flu" shot supposed to immunize against the common cold? Thank you.—J.H.S.

No, it isn't. And it won't.

However some common colds are really a type of mild flu, so shots will protect against them. Some vaccine also protects against certain forms of what we used to call gripe, and that's helpful. But there are dozens and countless scores of varieties of the common cold that are not prevented by flu shots.

Still, the flu vaccine is mighty useful. If we prevent the more serious cases, we can manage to get along with the less virulent ones.

Bed-wetting is a distressing problem. If your child has the habit, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of his helpful booklet, "Enuresis—Ten Ways to Stop Bed-Wetting." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is delighted to receive letters from his readers, but regrets that because of the great number received daily he cannot answer them individually. Whenever possible, Dr. Molner uses readers' questions in his column.

Leave 'Em Laughin', Man

Say, Lennie, the Big Man asked me to get with you and get up some shows for next year. Boy, if I knew this television business was going to be so hard, I'd never have quit the loan-shark business.

HOW ABOUT another Western, except let's set it in Andersonville, during the Civil War, huh? You can get some real comedy out of that, fellow.

That's right, Lennie, why not? We've already put together some real family comedy out of World War II. Sometimes I wish I hadn't dodged, uh, been ill from '41 to '45. Those guys sure must've had a grand old time.

YEAH. See, we can have the commandant of Andersonville PW camp a real nincompoop, and the Union prisoners can make a fool of him and all, and plan escapes with a real fun twist, and have to make a steam-bath to lose weight 'cause they're bringing so much food from the guards and like that.

Whaddya mean, they starved to death in that camp, Lennie? Shoot, you know how they exaggerate those things. They had to get back at the South for something, Lennie. Probably had plenty to eat.

GUARDS STARVED too, huh? Well, we can straighten that out, give it the historical document bit on the first show. Run it up the flagpole and see how the Big Man likes it. If he salutes, we're in, Len.

You look a little green around the gills, Len boy. Don't like it, huh? Well, let's see . . .

Got it. Got it! We can do a situation comedy 'round the Bataan Death March, only call it something different, like, uh, MacArthur's Merry Men. Yeah, yeah. See, we can have the top Jap officer a real nincompoop, see, and the guys on the march can make a fool of him and all, and plan escapes with a real fun twist, and have to make portable steam-baths to lose weight 'cause they're bringing so much food from the guards, and like that. Different, see.

AND WE CAN have a lot of exotic scenery, too, Len. They'll go through Orient, inside government — the waste of public funds and the misuse of governmental power in favor of the blocs and groups which raise the money to win elections. There are also palpable violations of law in the matter of political-campaign contributions. Perhaps an administration that benefits from these can hardly be expected to prosecute those organizations which ignore the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

Lennie, boy! You slapped me! Whassa matter with you, boy? Whad I ever do to you, Len, baby? Oh, you were on that march. Not much fun, huh? Well, maybe we can have some serio-comedy routines in it, too. What we can do, we can . . .

Len, where 'ya goin'? Len, come back. Len? —TOM BARRY

The Republican Reply

WASHINGTON—The three television networks didn't give the Republican spokesmen "equal time" for their "state of the union" message. The President was granted an hour, and the Republicans only a half hour. Mr. Johnson had prime time—nine o'clock in the evening—on all three networks simultaneously. The Columbia Broadcasting System gave the Republican presentation from 10:30 to 11:00 p.m., while the National Broadcasting Company and the American Broadcasting Company showed it from 11:30 p.m. to midnight. This period is usually called "the late show."

THE TIME for delivery of the President's "state of the union" message was well publicized in advance, not only in news reports but in announcements on the air and in print. There was, on the other hand, considerable fumbling about giving advance notice to the public as to when the Republican program would be heard.

Many millions of viewers and listeners had, therefore, gone to bed when "the other side" of the argument was broadcast. Also, only a quarter of an hour was made available to the Senate Republican leader, Everett Dirksen, and another quarter of an hour to the House Republican leader, Gerald Ford.

SO THE TWO Republican spokesmen had to condense their remarks. They tried to do too much in too little time, and their comments, therefore, were not as comprehensive as they would have been had there been more broadcast time.

While the two brief speeches had in them some good arguments, the effort as a whole was not as effective as it might have been if a different concept of an opposition party's duty and responsibility had been recognized by the party strategists.

The President's Hard Choices

WASHINGTON—As cruel a choice as any President ever faced—that is the prospect for Lyndon Johnson at the start of the second year of his first full term as Chief Executive and Commander-in-Chief. In any objective view of where we stand today the President is seen, in fact, to have no choice.

The guns-vs.-butter argument is almost wholly meaningless. It implies that by trimming off a little fat the nation can devote itself to winning the war in Viet Nam. As Chief Executive, Johnson knows how false this is.

HE HAS HAD on his desk for some time a report still classified secret showing 21 "high tension" cities where there is steady deterioration in the Negro ghettos. To ignore this and postpone or abandon the programs for making at least a start at correcting a century of injustice is to risk disaster. Violence and rioting on the scale of Watts could break out in any one of these cities in coming months.

But as Commander-in-Chief he has come to understand the nature of the trap that is Viet Nam. This was the great service performed by his own chief inspector, Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Senate's majority leader. When Mansfield and his four colleagues returned from the round-the-world trip on which the President had sent them, Mansfield made clear without any sugar-coating the consequences of an open-ended land war in Asia.

THE MANSFIELD report is believed to have been the most important factor in the common-sense decision the President has for the time being arrived at. That is to make Viet Nam a holding operation while a new and revitalized attempt is underwritten to win the villages and pacify the areas held by the South Vietnamese with American help.

PART OF THE NEW program is to try to broaden the base of the government in Saigon. It is today hardly more than a shadow government with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky representing a dominant military faction. The critics of negotiation make a powerful point when they say that any agreement well have included, for instance, figures from the speech made in the Senate on Monday by Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, who declared that President Johnson is hiding the true deficit in next year's national budget until after this year's congressional elections, and added that the real deficit would be $9.2 billion instead of the $1.8 billion predicted by Mr. Johnson.

THE OPPOSITION has a duty to reveal the corrupt influences that are prevalent inside government — the waste of public funds and the misuse of governmental power in favor of the blocs and groups which raise the money to win elections. There are also palpable violations of law in the matter of political-campaign contributions. Perhaps an administration that benefits from these can hardly be expected to prosecute those organizations which ignore the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

Plenty of evidence of the political use of federal funds intended to fight poverty or to help education has been uncovered. The Republicans might have portrayed the nature of the irregularities prevalent, but they didn't.

SEN. DIRKSEN gave an interesting analysis of the Viet Nam situation, but didn't clearly point out the course that ought to be pursued. Maybe he should have reminded the administration that it has been a little late in applying the policies advocated in 1964 by the Republican presidential candidate. Perhaps also the senator should have reminded his audience that when Barry Goldwater was defeated, the Communist world interpreted this as the repudiation of a vigorous policy by the United States in the war against the North Vietnamese, and that nat-came "trigger happy" itself.

ment to end the war would almost inevitably result in a takeover by the Communists in a relatively short time. But the more the government slips into the role of American puppet the less likely it is that any independent regime can ever be established, with South Viet Nam becoming an American protectorate into the indefinite future.

AS HEAD OF HIS political party, the third horse he must ride in a race with odds that the founding fathers could hardly have conceived, the President understandably did not show his entire hand. And it is here in the weeks just ahead that the testing will come. For a large part of the military, conspicuously the Air Force, and their spokesmen will fight what appears to be a holding operation looking to an eventual settlement.

AS POLITICIAN, compelled to tailor his decision to clients covering the entire spectrum, the President runs his greatest risks in the year ahead. Trying to please everyone—to keep his consensus—he will end by pleasing no one. Merely cutting up the conventional pie, in deference to the threat of inflation, will not be enough if the cities are really to be made over. Holding the line may prove militarily impossible and if the Communist enemy gives him no quarter, in response to all his efforts to find an honorable way out, he will have to take the steps toward escalation and the prospect of a greatly enlarged war that he so dreads.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Make Dish Cloths Of Chenille Spread

Dear Heloise: I wonder if you have ever thought of making dish cloths out of the good part of your worn-out chenille spreads and housecoats?

If the chenille is lightweight, double the material, and sew as you would a pillowcase, closing the open end after you have turned the little case inside out.

Always have the chenille on the outside. To make a fabulous dishcloth, use just one thickness of chenille, and sew two thicknesses of nylon net on the smooth side of the cloth.

The chenille side is wonderfully absorbent, and the net side scrubs anything beautifully without scratching. . . . Hard-hearted Hannah.

Dear Heloise: If you have a narrow place to paint, such as between the wall and the stove or refrigerator, just tape a brush on the end of a yardstick, and you've got it made. . . . Eleanor Pollock

Dear Heloise: When you wrote and told my wife to use black liquid shoe dye to hide the spots where she had spilled bleach on her black crepe dress, it dawned on me . . . why not try dyeing my soiled tan canvas shoes with the dye that was left?

So, I did! They look brand new. I put tape on the white rubber soles around the edge to keep the black dye off the white part. . . . Jim Smith

Well, Jim, I didn't have any canvas shoes, but I dyed some leather shoes which had rubber soles. I also dyed the edge of the sole black. It worked beautifully for me. Now, the discolorations around the edge of the soles do not even show.

I did not dye the bottoms of the soles. We don't want shoe dye on our floors and carpets, do we? . . . Heloise

LETTER F LAUGHTER

1905 Hyperions Hear Story Of Hypnotism
A program on hypnotism and mental health was presented during the Thursday afternoon meeting of the 1905 Hyperion Club. The members met at the home of Mrs. S. M. Anderson, 900 W. 17th, with Mrs. J. C. Pickle presiding.

Dear Heloise: For a quick and delicious cup cake (or cake) icing, melted marshmallows are the greatest! . . . Helen D.

Just a few minutes before removing the cup cakes from the oven, top each one with a marshmallow, and they will melt to cover the cakes with yummy frosting. Don't leave 'em too long — just until melted and slightly brown. . . . Helen D.

Dear Gals: This is to all of you who buy expensive moisturizer creams in glass jars. . . . Heloise

Once you think you have gotten all you can out of the jar, recap and set it upside down under the hot water faucet, letting the hot water run over it for a few minutes.

Remove the jar—leaving it capped—and let it stand upside down for a while. You will get enough moisturizer to last you another week, and the jar will be clean as a whistle.

This also works on other products that come in plastic or glass jars. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: I converted an old shower curtain into a couple of laundry bags.

I used the upper half of the curtain, cutting the bottom half off. I then cut the top half in two pieces, and sewed across the bottoms and sides.

I inserted a cord drawstring through the holes where the shower hooks are attached. I use the drawstring to close the bags.

These bags are also good to place your dampened laundry in. . . . Ezmeralda.

Church Affiliation Still Runs Ahead

Church and synagogue membership in the U.S. totaled 123,307,449 in 1964, an increase of "slightly less than two per cent" in a year when the population rose by less than 1.5 per cent.

The growth rate, which has perceptibly slowed down, marked the second consecutive year that religious affiliation grew faster than the population. In 1963, percentage gains were 2.6 for church membership and 1.5 for population, about the same as in 1964.

The statistics, released by the National Council of Churches and based on its 1966 Yearbook of American Churches, were compiled by the NCC's research department and are mainly for the 1964 calendar year or fiscal year ending in 1964.

The 1964 statistics are based on reports from 250 religious bodies in the 50 states and the District of Columbia. Of these, 221 groups were Protestant, three fewer than reported the previous year.

A breakdown of the total membership shows that Protestants numbered 68,229,478, a gain of two per cent over 1963, and Roman Catholics, 45,640,619, up 1.7 per cent over the previous year.

There is a difference in recording, however. The Catholic Church counts all baptized persons, including infants, as members, while most Protestant denominations count only those who have attained full membership, usually persons over 13.

Statistics for other major bodies in 1964 were Eastern Orthodox, 3,166,715; and Jews, 5,600,000.

A yearbook table shows that Protestants made up 35.9 per cent of the U. S. population in 1964, as compared to 35.4 per cent in 1960, in 1950 33.8 per cent and 27 per cent in 1926.

Catholics increased from 16 per cent in 1926 to 23.3 per cent in 1960 and 23.9 per cent in 1964.

A separate table prepared by the American Institute of Public Opinion, included in the yearbook, indicates that church attendance has been slowly, but steadily, declining since 1958.

These annual figures, based on a national sample of adults for one Sunday, were fixed at 47 per cent from 1959 to 1961, then dropped to 46 per cent in 1962 and 1963 and went to 45 per cent in 1964. All-time attendance high was 49 per cent in 1958.

Largest increase in any decade of the 20th Century was during the war-dominated years of the 1940's. Church membership grew from 49 per cent in 1940 to 57 per cent in 1950.

A U. S. Department of Commerce table shows a $16 million increase in the value of new religious buildings—from $995,000,000 in 1963 to $1,011,000,000 in 1964.

Six denominations with membership exceeding three million in 1964 were the Southern Baptist Convention, 10,508,429; the Methodist Church, 10,304,184; National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc. (Negro), 5,500,000; Protestant Episcopal Church, 3,340,759; United Presbyterian Church, 3,292,304; and Lutheran Church in America, 3,131,062.

GOD IS A FATHER

The Christian's concept that God is a Father is the message of the International Sunday School lesson for Sunday. The text is taken from Hosea 11:1-4; Matthew 6:9, 11:25-30; John 14:1-11; II Corinthians 1:3-4; Ephesians 3:14-19.

The lesson points out that some people go to church because they are afraid of God. They should go, not out of fear, but out of love. One thing most religions have in common is the faith that God is a Father. People come to Him seeking peace, security, comfort, trusting Him as they would an earthly father.

The conception of God as a Father is one that man can understand. For God the Father is richer, deeper, closer and of infinitely greater help to the human race. The basic teaching of the lesson is that to know a God who is also a Father gives man a sense of security in the unknown that he barely comprehends and hardly believes.

Episcopal Monk Conducts Mission

The Rev. Bonnell Spencer, of the Order of the Holy Cross, West Park, N.Y., will conduct a teaching mission at St. Mary's Episcopal Church each evening, Jan. 23-28. The evening missions will be at 7:30 o'clock, except Wednesday night which features a communion service at 6 p.m. followed by supper and discussion.

Rev. Spencer has recently been assigned to St. Andrew's School for Boys near Sewanee, Tenn. He is the author of several books. The Order of the Holy Cross is a group of Monks belonging to the Episcopal Church. They are priests and Lay Men, living what is technically known as the religious life. They bind themselves to God by three vows: "poverty, chastity and obedience."

REV. BONNELL SPENCER

Sisters of the Holy Name at St. Mary's will be a series of informal meetings including talks, prayers and singing. It is not aimed at "converting the heathen," but it is establishing new levels of conviction among those who are already members of the church.

Theme Announced For Annual Prayer Week

Theme of this year's observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity is "I Will Be Their God, and They Shall Be My People."

The Week of Prayer began Tuesday, Jan. 18 and runs through Tuesday, Jan. 25, with several million Protestant and Catholic participants.

The observance began only 20 years ago with a handful of people and is marked this year by the first jointly prepared booklet for Protestants and Catholics.

"Week" sponsors are the World Council of Churches' Commission on Faith and Order and the National Council of Churches' Department of Faith and Order. Participation by Catholics is recommended by the U. S. Bishops' Commission for Ecumenical Affairs.

The booklet, prepared by all three groups, contains a suggested order of worship, a meditation and an intercession for each of the eight days, and a litany.

Subjects for intercession during the week have been the unity and renewal for all Christian people, the persecution of churches, and the Roman Catholic Church and the fulfillment of the work of the Second Vatican Council.

Today's subject is the Orthodox and Old Catholic Churches. Topics for Saturday and Sunday include prayers for the Protestant denominations and for the united churches. Missionary endeavors of all churches is Monday's topic.

The Week of Prayer concludes Tuesday with prayers for world peace, for governments and international organizations, and for specific local needs in communities all over the world.

Methodists Plan Retreat

Local Methodist churches will participate in the Minister's Retreat at Ceta Canyon Jan. 24 and 25, according to the Rev. Leo K. Gee, pastor of the First Methodist Church and head of the Conference Board of Evangelism in the West Texas district.

Ministers from the First Methodist, Northside Methodist, Kentwood Methodist and Wesley Methodist were expected to participate in the annual retreat. It is a program planned by the Conference Board of Evangelism to help ministers be better evangelists in the local church.

Featured speakers will be Dr. Kermit Long of the General Board of Evangelism, Dr. Alsie Carlton of the Perkins School of Theology, and Dr. Wayne Cook of the Methodist Hospital.

Witnesses Go To C-City

All local meetings of Jehovah's Witnesses are being cancelled from Friday through Sunday for the Texas Circuit No. 7 Assembly in Colorado City.

The program activities for the 16-congregation circuit from Texas and New Mexico will be built around the theme, "Increasing Our Praise to Jehovah."

Mike Davis, presiding minister of the Big Spring congregation, said: "This assembly is designed to help all age groups to spread the word of life; for this reason, entire families of Witnesses and interested persons will be in attendance."

L. M. Dugan, district supervisor from the Watchtower Society, Brooklyn, N. Y., will be chairman of the Colorado City gathering which is to be held in the high school auditorium. He will speak on the subject, "What Does the Resurrection of the Dead Mean to You and Yours?" Sunday at 3 p.m.

Pastors Attend Dallas Parley

Local Baptist churches sent their ministers and several representatives to the Texas Baptist Evangelistic Conference in Dallas Monday through Wednesday this week.

The conference, which drew over 10,000 Baptist ministers and laymen throughout Texas, featured various discussion groups and programs on evangelism. Featured speakers included news commentator Paul Harvey; grocery chain executive Howard E. Butt, Corpus Christi; and Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor, Dallas Baptist Church.

Those attending included Rev. and Mrs. Robert Polk, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Faison from the First Baptist Church; the Rev. James A. Puckett, Baptist Temple; the Rev. Billy Rudd, East Fourth Baptist; and the Rev. Byron Orand, College Baptist.

New Members

New members of the Texas Laubach Literacy Committee, founded to foster religious literacy awareness by Dr. Frank C. Laubach of New York, include the Rev. Dr. Le Ray Flower, West University Baptist Church, Houston; the Rev. Ira Galloway, Walnut Hills Methodist Church, Dallas; Dr. William A. Ward, assistant to the president, Fort Worth; Charles B. Hamilton, Texas State Teachers' Association, Austin; Mrs. Ethel Bolton, Orange; and Mrs. J. S. Griffith, Corpus Christi.

Board To Honor Its President

The Southern Baptist Convention Annuity Board will honor its president, the Rev. Wallace Bassett, at trustees' 48th meeting in Dallas Feb. 1-2.

Rev. Bassett, pastor of Dallas' Cliff Temple Baptist Church, will rotate off the board in May. He has served since the board's founding in 1918.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The world is filled with the sound of many drums. Drums of militarism stir man to war and conquest. Drums of conformity invite him to keep step with low standards and false values. Drums of greed lure him into the killing pace of selfish getting and gaining.

But a different drum sounds, too. It beats in the rhythm of law and love, and rings with the sound of eternal truths. It beckons man to integrity and true self-fulfillment; it calls him to the path of duty and to the way of service. The different drum is God's.

A man must choose which drum he will listen for and follow. Many years ago, Henry David Thoreau wrote: "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer."

God's house is one place where you will hear the "Different Drummer." Worship there this Sunday with your family.

CUT YOUR OWN TAXES: 11

Contributions Watched

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer

Form 1040 for 1965 calls for a clear-cut distinction in your contributions between cash gifts and those other than cash. For this purpose checks and money orders are treated as cash.

Purpose of the change is to exercise greater control over claimed contributions of used clothing, furniture, appliances to welfare organizations, even over the donation of works of art, property and securities to libraries, museums and churches.

EXPLAIN

Whenever anything other than cash is contributed, a statement must be attached to the return explaining how the value of the contributed article was arrived at, the description and date made.

Most common charitable contributions are those to your church, Community Chest, Red Cross or your college. Also properly deductible are contributions made to a nonprofit hospital, Salvation Army, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, health funds, societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

Your contributions are generally limited to a maximum of 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income. However, an additional 10 per cent of income is allowed if the contributions were in general to churches, tax-exempt educational institutions and hospitals, for certain medical research organizations, and governmental agencies using the gifts for public purposes.

VOLUNTEERS

Many housewives frequently have another form of allowable charitable contribution which is generally overlooked. This is the out-of-pocket expenses they incur while performing work as a volunteer to a qualified religious, charitable, etc., organization.

Such expenses could include transportation from your home to the place where your volunteer work is performed. IRS will permit a standard rate of five cents per mile of auto use.

Also properly deductible by a volunteer are the cost of meals while away from home rendering his services and the initial cost and upkeep of any required uniforms which do not have any general utility.

NOT ON TIME

Under no circumstances may you claim as a deduction any value placed on your time while performing such volunteer work.

Whenever such out-of-pocket volunteer expenses are claimed, an explanatory statement should be attached to your tax return.

(NEXT: Deductible taxes.)

Frigid Wave Crippling To European Life

LONDON (AP) — Europe's cold wave crippled British industry today, packed the hospitals and threatened major embarrassment for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government.

Cuts in gas supplies disrupted the English Midlands, the hub of British industry. Thousands of workers were laid off for the rest of the week, and assembly lines halted in automobile and engineering plants.

FRACTURE CASES

Hospitals reported hundreds of fracture cases brought in from the icy streets. Some set up special wards for old people with hypothermia, a dangerous drop in body temperature. One London hospital reported 212 casualties from falls Thursday night, most of them broken wrists. Brighton, on the south coast, had 160.

In Norway, the intense cold seemed to be lifting slightly and the temperature reached 14 degrees Fahrenheit. The Weather Bureau said the last three months have been the coldest Oslo has known since official records started 132 years ago.

FRIGID SWEDEN
Sweden, enduring its coldest winter since 1881, reported 43 ships icebound in the northern Baltic. Inland temperatures ranged from -4 to -38 Fahrenheit. By these standards Britain, with temperatures only a few degrees below freezing, was enjoying a heat wave but the consequences were considerable.

No Heavy Cut Seen In Space Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — In spite of the heavy budget pressure of the Viet Nam war, the chairman of the House Space Committee expects the administration's space budget to be "in the same ballpark" as last year's.

Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., said in an interview Thursday night, "I expect it to be modestly below last year's request."

Last year Miller's committee authorized a $5.18-billion budget for space exploration, slightly below what the administration requested, and $5.17 billion was actually appropriated for the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

But with the mounting expenses of the war in Viet Nam, there was some speculation that the space program might be in for a heavy cut in the new budget which President Johnson will send to Congress Monday.

Adding a bit of fuel to that fire was the fact that Johnson did not mention the space program — now the third largest expenditure (after defense and agriculture) of the government — once in his State of the Union message.

Newspaper Distributor Blasts Ban

DALLAS (AP) — An independent distributor of a Fort Worth newspaper is challenging a Dallas City Council ordinance banning his automatic vending boxes from crowded downtown sidewalks.

Jerry Bailey, who has been selling the Fort Worth Star-Telegram in Dallas for four years, still had his newspapers on the sidewalks today despite police seizure of some of them. "I intend to keep them there," Bailey said. "I put additional racks in place of the ones the police still have."

FACES FINE
Mayor Erik Jonsson told Bailey earlier in the week that he faced a $200 fine if he persisted in keeping the stands up. "I don't know if they are going to fine me or not," Bailey said. "I either want them to change their mind and sell me a franchise or take me to court."

Last year, the council adopted an ordinance limiting the sale of newspapers from sidewalk "honor boxes" to Dallas-printed publications. It upheld the ordinance last Monday when Bailey appeared and sought permission to leave the racks by paying a $3 a year franchise fee per box.

In explaining his Monday action, the council said Thursday that there is an overabundance of boxes crowding downtown sidewalks.

BUS PROBLEMS
It said they further were causing problems to persons boarding and alighting from buses. "The ordinance is to prevent papers from all over the country being placed in boxes on the street," Jonsson said. "If every newspaper had racks on the street, there wouldn't be room for the people."

Bailey contends the council's action denied him the right to make a living. The mayor said Bailey has the right to protest through the courts. The distributor said he had the same problem last year with his stands. He said he immediately replaced them and nothing happened until last week when police began confiscating them.

GEN. E. G. WHEELER

McNamara's 'War Money' Day Is Long

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara walked down the long corridor of the Senate Office Building.

With him were the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, and a couple of aides.

But it was McNamara who carried the bulging satchel heavy with the secrets and statistics of war.

It was almost 4 p.m. McNamara was on his way back to the Pentagon after spending most of the day sitting at a long oval table explaining to senators why $12.76 billion more was needed to fight the war in Viet Nam.

"HUMAN COMPUTERS"
His report — the version referred to the public — read almost like it had been compiled by certified public accountants. But the facts of escalation were there, the picture of a brush fire that got much bigger.

The senators had a lot of questions in that closed room. They remember the problems of other wars. McNamara was one of the last to walk out the door with his warning sign "executive session." The reporters and the cameramen were waiting. McNamara started to move away. "Just one question?" said a reporter.

"O.K." said McNamara and he stepped in front of the lights for the second time that day.

MORE QUESTIONS
There was more than one question, of course. But finally McNamara, Wheeler and the aides started off down the corridor.

He was far from finished. He was due back to face more questions from the senators today.

U.S. Farmers Purchase Their Cotton Allotments

WASHINGTON (AP) — With government encouragement, farmers have paid out upward of $50 million in recent weeks for the right to grow more cotton under federal controls.

This outlay involved the outright purchase of 306,510 acres of cotton planting allotments by farmers who want to increase their productive capacity from farmers who no longer plan to use allotments assigned them.

Agriculture Department officials said reports indicate an average of around $100 an acre was paid for such allotments.

In addition, 663,619 acres of cotton allotments were leased by holders not wanting to use them to others anxious to expand production.

Reports indicate that the average price of these leases was $5 to $7 an acre on an annual basis. Some leases were for longer than one crop year.

This exchange of cotton production rights was authorized by farm legislation passed last year under Johnson administration recommendations. Officials said that this is the first time the government has ever taken direct action to translate crop production shares allocated under crop control programs into transferable property with a monetary value.

This is not, however, the first time crop planting allotments have been assigned monetary values. In the past, farms with crop allotments have brought a higher price in land sales than farms without such allotments.

Betty Jean Bray, 24, a passenger in the automobile, died in the crash. Raymond Carroll, 35, the driver, was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

Jaycees Mark Bosses' Night

Big Spring Jaycees gather Saturday evening for a varied observance. It's their annual "Bosses' Night" banquet, they will be honoring outstanding public workers, and the affair will climax Jaycees' Week in Texas.

The special week was proclaimed by Governor John Connally, who said that 13,000 young Texans who belong to the Jaycees have "contributed materially to the betterment of this state," and urged all citizens to give "full consideration to the future service" of the young men's organization.

Local Jaycees will have their employers as special guests at a dinner meeting beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Big Spring Country Club. The club also will make awards to the outstanding patrolman of the year and the outstanding teacher of the year, as well as the outstanding Jaycee of the year.

Jack Orr, president, will be in charge of the program. Principal address will be given by Eldon Mahon, Abilene attorney, who formerly was county attorney of Mitchell County, and later district attorney and district judge of the 32nd judicial district. Mahon is prominently identified in civic activities in West Texas.

"For every scientist, we need at least 300 skilled workers in our industrial community," he said at one point.

Appearing before the St. Paul Hospital Forum, Dallas, Connally said the achievement of educational excellence in Texas will require that "the entrenched belief that a college degree is the only measurement of success" be abandoned.

Medicare To Be Discussed

Medicare and its impact upon the physician's practice and medical services will be discussed by association representatives at the Permian Basin Medical Society meeting Tuesday. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at Cosden Country Club. C. Lincoln Williston, executive secretary of the Texas Medical Association, will speak, and Arthur W. Seeds, Chicago, field representative for Texas of the American Medical Association, will also make observations.

The meeting will be a dinner affair and wives are invited to remain for the talks.

Dr. Jack H. Burnett Jr., president, has named committees of the society for the year. Dr. G. E. Peacock heads the public relations and jurisprudence panel; Dr. C. B. Marcum the one on civil defense and disaster; Dr. John H. Fish, grievance; and Dr. E. V. Swift, selective service advisory.

Bond Set In Draft Balk

DALLAS (AP)—Paul Wayne Cummings, 21, of Greenville, told U.S. Commissioner W. Madden Hill Thursday his head ached, so he didn't report for induction into the Army.

Hill set bond for Cummings at $1,000.

When asked why he failed to show up for induction on three different occasions, Cummings replied, "I was sick, and I'm still sick. My head aches."

Cummings is unemployed and lives with his parents in Greenville.

Kiwanians Get Attendance Pins

Twenty-three of 26 members of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club, all of whom had perfect attendance records in 1965, were on hand Thursday to receive their perfect attendance pins. This represents about half of the total club membership.

The perfect attendance records ranged from one year to 24. The 24 year score is held by Nat Shick, only surviving charter member of the club.

The day was devoted to the observation of the 51st birthday of Kiwanis International. Rev. V. Ward Jackson, past president, spoke on the meaning of Kiwanis and the way to get the most out of membership in the organization.

The Big Spring club will be 38 years old in April—rating it as one of the older clubs in the International's history.

Bill Johnson, vice president, presided at the meeting of the club Thursday in the absence of Clyde Hollingsworth, president, who was out of town.

Those of the club who had perfect attendance with the number of years to their credit:

Nat Shick 24; John Coffey 19; Harvey Clay 19; Jack Alexander 10; Sherman Smith 9; Ernest Welch 9; Soc Walker 7; J. C. Longhorns (2-4) Try Bobcats (2-4) At 8

Big Spring can move out of a deadlock for seventh place in District 2-AAAA basketball standings and chain San Angelo there by defeating the Bobcats in an 8 o'clock skirmish here tonight.

The task will be far from easy. San Angelo has fallen upon evil days in the conference race but is capable of playing some ball, as it has proved time and again this season.

Big Spring will not only be trying to improve upon a 2-4 league record, as well as a 12-10 overall mark as well. The Steers played one of their finest games on offense last Tuesday but had trouble on defense and lost to pace-setting Abilene by a score of 66-61.

In pre-season polls, San Angelo was picked right back of Big Spring and the Steers were tabbed to wind up in the No. 2 spot, right behind pace-setting Abilene.

The Longhorns seem to play better on the road than they have at home. Their two wins came at the expense of Odessa, Permian and Midland High. They met Permian in Odessa and out-classed the Panthers by ten points but Midland gave in now resting in the cellar, gave the Steers all kinds of trouble before yielding, 54-51.

Top threats for the Bobcats are Dennis Bowlin and Jesse Williams but sophomore Carl Williams has come on fast in recent games and is bound to give the Steers trouble tonight.

San Angelo fell to Abilene Cooper in San Angelo earlier this week, 61-57. The Cats led by seven points at one time but couldn't stand prosperity.

Bowlin leads the Cats in overall scoring with 282 points while Carl Williams is right behind with 278. Jerry Dromes is third with 205 points while Sam Bradley is next with 145.

In the Big Spring scoring derby, Simon Terrazas has moved ahead with 288 points while Robert Jackson has advanced to second with 264. Tall Paul Thomas, held to 13 points his last two outings, has slumped to third with 252 while Robert Jones is fourth with 111, Bobby Griffin fifth with 76 and Paul Soldan sixth with 60.

B teams of the two schools square off at 6:15 p.m. Tonight's varsity game winds up first round play for both contingents. The Steers will play their next two games away from home.

Cassius Says He Carried Patterson In Title Bout

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring High School is sure to field a radically different basketball team next season, with much less height but more speed and finesse.

Gone will be the team's two tallest players, 6-9 Paul Thomas and 6-5 Simon Terrazas. Robert Jackson, 6-3, will be returning, as will reserve Richard Green, 5-10.

Up from the B team will be 6-0 Danny Clendenin, a fine all-around performer, and Wayne Johnson, 6-2, both of whom can hit the basket with regularity.

Clendenin is the third member of that clan to perform here and threatens to eclipse anything either brother did. He's a fine ball handler.

Lawrence Elkins, the former Baylor All-American grizzer who sat out most of the 1966 season with the Houston Oilers due to injuries, is now a resident of Cross Plains, which is near his old home town, Brownwood.

Elkins is in a ranching venture there with a brother.

Any way you look at it, you might have to say that HCJ's Jayhawks are the best 8-12 junior college basketball team in the country.

The Big Springers have been playing the best teams in the nation — among them Coffeyville, Kan.; Dallas Baptist; Cameron, Okla.; Northeastern Colorado; Phoenix, Ariz.; Cisco; and NMMI.

That six-game losing skid the Jayhawks are now enduring sets a school record and the locals face an uphill fight in trying to snap the streak their next time out of the barn — a Jan. 25 outing against the Western Conference leader, South Plains, in Levelland. And beyond that game loom Odessa, Amarillo and NMMI in that order.

The NFL wanted CBS to televise three Monday night games in prime time this fall but settled for one Monday evening game, another on Thanksgiving night and one Saturday night. That Saturday night contest opens league play, by the way.

J. B. Wetzel, the incoming golf pro at the Munny course here, brings a reputation as a good greenskeeper to town.

The greens at Wetzel's Sweetwater Munny course are considered to be among the finest in West Texas. The marriage might be ideal, since the local Munny course is considered to be one of the most beautiful in West Texas.

Retiring course manager Shorty Gideon has done a fine job with the course and a few added touches here and there should make it one of the best in this part of the country.

TCU coach Abe Martin, never one to be extravagant with words, says the seven backs he had on his school's freshman football team the past season are the best he's ever seen.

One of the group is Snyder's fabulous Leslie Brown. Another is Ross Montgomery of Midland High. Big Spring fans are very familiar with the talents and the capabilities of both.

Others mentioned by Martin were Norman Bulach, Mike Hall, Rodney Marek, Charles Brightwell and Billy Lloyd.

A well-known NCAA official, who prefers not to be identified, had this to say of Texas A&I's Randy Johnson recently: "I saw all the quarterbacks in all the bowl games. I saw the big names. I saw this Steve Juday from Michigan State who the Associated Press made an All-American, and the best quarterback of them all was this kid Randy Johnson."

Randy is now the chatel of the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL.

Geiberger Is Leader

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Billy Casper made their bid for the second-round lead in the $104,500 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament today playing the course which produced the low scores for the first 18 holes.

All three were in position to move in front as they toured the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course where Al Geiberger shot a 65 on Thursday to grab the lead.

Four others had 69s but moved today to rugged Pebble Beach.

Palmer and Lema fashioned two-under-par 70s over the Cypress Point course, generally figured a couple of strokes tougher than Monterey Peninsula, and Casper had a 71. Palmer and Casper already are winners this year — Arnie at Los Angeles and Casper in his home town of San Diego.

In runner-up spots going into the second round were Californians Ken Towns of San Jose, Paul Bondeson of Palm Springs and Lee Raymond of Redwood City plus Ernie Vossler of Oklahoma City.

Geiberger isn't awed by Pebble Beach. In 1964, when he finished fourth in the Crosby, he shot a 73 on a windy, final day after opening the tournament with an 80. He followed with a 68 and 67.

Walker Cup amateur Dale Morey of High Point, N.C., playing with a handicap of five strokes, helped his partner Gay Brewer by 14 as they carded a best-ball 60 to lead the professional division.

Spartans, Huskers, Tulsa Show Muscle

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State, Nebraska and Tulsa are the surprise teams in college basketball at the halfway mark of the season.

Unbeaten Kentucky, with a 12-game winning streak that has elevated the Wildcats into the No. 2 spot behind top-ranked Duke in The Associated Press poll, has been a surprise, too, but at least the Wildcats received a few votes in the pre-season AP poll.

Michigan State, Nebraska and Tulsa didn't get a single vote in the pre-season poll, yet today the Spartans, Cornhuskers and Hurricanes are in first place three of the toughest conferences.

The Spartans share the top rung in the Big Ten with Michigan, but the Huskers are undisputed leaders in the Big Eight and the Hurricanes are all alone at the top of the Missouri Valley Conference.

Michigan State, under its new coach, John Benington, has compiled the biggest form reversal.

The Spartans finished last in the Big Ten a year ago with a dismal 1-13 mark and 5-18 overall. Today they are 3-0 in league play and 10-3 over-all paced by Stan Washington and John Bailey, a sophomore. If State's two victories over service teams in the holiday Rainbow Classic at Honolulu are included, the Spartans' record is 12-3, but under NCAA rules these games are considered exhibitions.

Nebraska hasn't had a winning season in 15 years, but this year the Huskers are 4-1 in the Big Eight and 12-2 over-all. The play of two sophoms, Tom Back and Stuart Lantz, is making coach Joe Cipriano happy.

Another soph, Eldridge Webb, has led Tulsa into title contention after 10 years of struggling in the valley's second division. Coach Joe Swank's boys are 3-0 in league play and 13-4 over-all.

Tulsa doesn't play again until Jan. 29, but on Saturday Michigan State is at Iowa and Nebraska is host to Oklahoma.

Only two major games were played Thursday night as mid-year exams called a virtual halt to competition. Virginia Tech boosted its record to 12-2 by defeating East Carolina 83-64 and Bowling Green edged Northern Illinois 74-72. Both were home-court victories.

FIVE JOBS OPEN Austin Hired By Steelers

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Austin is the new coach at Pittsburgh and George Allen finally is officially in at Los Angeles, but five pro football jobs still are open.

Atlanta, Washington and St. Louis are the three vacancies in the National Football League, and Houston and Miami have openings in the American League.

When Atlanta originally said it would make no announcement until the end of the season, it was presumed that this meant a coach would be chosen before the first of January. However, there has been no word, although 45,000 season tickets have been sold.

One of the hot rumors through the year had George Wilson, former Detroit head coach and a Washington assistant last season, headed for the Falcons.

Washington has yet to pick Bill McPeak's successor. Paul Brown's name has been mentioned, but the fact that he is reportedly trying to line up a group to build a stadium and grab the 16th franchise for Cincinnati may rule him out. Another name bandied around is Bob Devaney of Nebraska.

St. Louis is looking for a new man to take over the job vacated by Wally Lemm. Harland Svare, fired at Los Angeles in a surprising move, is reported high on the list of possibilities.

The hiring of Austin at Pittsburgh follows the recent trend to take assistant coaches and move them into the head spot. Austin had been rumored to be in line for every vacant head coaching job in the league for several years while he was Vince Lombardi's assistant at Green Bay.

Austin left the Packers suddenly last year and shifted to Los Angeles as an assistant under Svare while Ray Wietecha moved from the Rams to the Packer staff.

Austin, 37, was given a three-year contract. Salary terms were not revealed.

"It's a big challenge, but I'm happy to be with such an organization as the Steelers," said Austin at his home in Van Nuys, Calif.

School Gets Bad News

AUSTIN (AP)—Elysian Fields lost a football game, 40-8, to Mount Enterprise last Sept. 17, and because of an incident after the game the Class B school has lost any chance for district honors in football for the next two years.

The Executive Committee of the Texas Interscholastic League announced Thursday that Elysian Fields had been disqualified because of "mistreatment of game officials."

The committee said an Elysian Fields fan approached one of the game officials and "said something to him in an abusive tone." The official turned to walk away and the fan struck him in the back, the committee said.

AT COAHOMA PARTY Houston Mentor Speaks Feb. 19

COAHOMA — Melvin Robertson, coaching aide at the University of Houston and a former West Texan, will deliver the principal address at the Coahoma athletic banquet scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 19.

The banquet is being sponsored by the Coahoma Quarterback Club and will be held in the Elementary School cafeteria here.

Tickets for the party priced at $1.50, go on sale in the next few days at the Coahoma State Bank.

In addition, a QBC committee consisting of C. Roy Wright, Horace Wallin and Jack Caubie will be contacting individuals for sales.

Special music for the program, which will extend over two hours, will be provided by Morton's Symphonies, a group composed of three school teachers.

Robertson is a 36-year-old graduate of West Texas State who has been a coach for 15 years. He once served as backfield coach of the North all-stars in the Texas Coaches Association all-stars game. In college, he was a quarterback and ran on the track team.

For two years, he served as head coach at Stanton High School. From there, he moved to Sweetwater as backfield coach for six seasons, during which time the Mustangs went to the state finals one time.

STANTON — Doyle Edmiston's Stanton Buffaloes can move a step closer to the District 5-A boys' basketball championship by defeating O'Donnell here tonight.

Girls' teams of the two schools square off at 6:30 p.m. Stanton may be fielding its greatest girls' team in history but, unfortunately, can't advance beyond district because of a technicality. The Buffalo Queens opened their season on a premature note and were penalized by the Texas Interscholastic League.

The Stanton fems had won 17 of 19 starts this season. Their only losses came at the hands of Garden City (48-47) and Menard (42-39).

The Stanton boys, who are eligible for regional activity if they get that far, have won 18 of 20 assignments and are heavily favored to topple O'Donnell. The two teams met in Stanton's own tournament last month and Stanton won, 62-32.

O'Donnell is winless in conference play while Stanton has an unscathed record.

Edmiston will be depending upon such boys as Dink Polson, Allen Springer, Buddy Shanks and David Hicks to rack up the points for the Buffs.

Ex-Baseball Executive Succumbs While On Trip

TOKYO (AP) — Leslie M. O'Connor, former president of baseball's Pacific Coast League, died Thursday of a heart attack, Tokyo's Hibiya Hospital said today.

A spokesman said O'Connor, 76, collapsed aboard the express of the Japanese National Railways shortly before the train left for the western Japanese city of Kyoto.

O'Connor, accompanied by his wife, arrived in Japan earlier this month on a sightseeing trip.

O'Connor, a resident of Phoenix, Ariz., was president of the Pacific Coast League from December 1955 until the end of the 1959 season.

He formerly served as secretary of baseball under the late commissioner, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, who died in November 1944.

Couple Identifies Child Found Dead

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—A Toledo, Ohio, couple identified the body of a little boy as that of the 2-year-old son who, along with his mother, recently lived with them, police reported Thursday.

Soon after the identification of the body, found almost a week ago, Michigan state police issued a first degree murder warrant for Alberto Sanchez, 22, believed to be with the child's mother.

VALLEY ALERTED Texas authorities were notified the couple may be in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Michigan officials said that they believed Sanchez was en route to McAllen, Tex., or Reynosa, Mexico, on the Texas border.

The mother, Carolina Montalvo, 20; Sanchez; and the boy, Eddie, had lived for a time last fall with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gonzales in Toledo, police in the Ohio city said.

The Gonzaleses identified the body Thursday, but authorities did not disclose what led them to the couple.

Eddie Montalvo was born Oct. 29, 1963, in Adrian, Mich., police said.

His body was discovered Saturday by a hunter in a wooded outhouse on an abandoned farm near this southern Michigan town.

An autopsy disclosed he had been beaten to death, police said.

Job Growth Is Reflected

Unemployment insurance figures for December released this week by the Texas Employment Commission reflect the growth in the number of jobs provided by the state's economy.

Total unemployment insurance payments made in December of 1965 under the state's unemployment insurance program numbered 99,110 compared to 139,658 in December of 1964, representing a decrease of 29 per cent. Total amount paid dropped from $4.7 million in December of 1964 to $2.9 million last December.

At mid-December, insured unemployment stood at 1.5 per cent, or about 31,929 of the approximately 2,089,000 workers covered by unemployment insurance under the state program, compared to 2.3 per cent in December of 1964. During 1964, insured unemployment averaged 2.3 per cent compared to 1.9 per cent during calendar year 1965.

Unemployment insurance for ex-federal employes and ex-servicemen, which is financed by the federal government and handled in Texas through the Texas Employment Commission's offices, totaled $136,710 in December of 1964, a total of $56.3 million was paid to Texans under the state's unemployment insurance program compared to $46.8 million in 1965. The $6.8 million paid to Texans under the ex-federal employe and ex-servicemen's programs in 1964 dropped to $5 million in 1965.

In December, the state's non-farm labor force reached 3.5 million for the first time in history, with an estimated unemployment rate of 3.2 per cent compared to the national 4.1 per cent.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Detectives sought clues today in the death of labor leader Ralph Alsop Sr., who was shot to death outside his suburban home here late Wednesday.

Marriage Was A Short One

Janice Shepherd and Charles E. Shepherd were married here on Oct. 12.

Five days later, on Oct. 17, according to Mrs. Shepherd's petition for divorce, filed Thursday in 118th District Court, the Shepherds called it a bad deal and parted.

District court clerk deputies believe that this set a new local record for brevity in marriages.

Multiple Use Of Water Eyed

DALLAS (AP)—A North Texas water official said Thursday that the "only ultimate answer" on long-range water supply problems is multiple use of water.

"We're going to have to use it more than just once," said L. L. Leake, Jr., Mesquite, president of the North Texas Municipal Water District.

Leake and others appeared before the pollution — multiple use study group at hearings of the Texas Water Committee.

State Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo presided. The sessions continued today.

Krueger emphasized that the group was not an investigative body but a study panel.

"We don't want to harass anyone," he said, "but we want to find out what the problems are and see if we can do anything toward drafting of new legislation at the state level to alleviate water pollution."

Natural Gas Price Case To Take Time

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals is expected to hear arguments early this summer on the precedent-setting Federal Power Commission order fixing ceilings on the price of sales of natural gas from the Permian Basin of Texas and New Mexico.

A final ruling on the Sept. 1, 1965, order may be a year or more away, a court source said.

The court Thursday continued a stay on the FPC order until the case is handed by the courts and a ruling handed down.

It has been estimated that the order would reduce the price of gas sales to pipeline transmission companies by $20 million a year.

DEAR ABBY

Serving As Guardian

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law died over a year ago, and since then my husband insists on staying nights with his father — even on weekends. I know the old man isn't afraid to stay alone because I've heard him tell my husband he didn't need to stay. But my husband says we shouldn't leave the old man alone because his loneliness might lead to a second marriage, which might complicate legal settlements later. Abby, is this fair to me and the children? I have tried to be a good sport, but I find myself harboring resentments. Should I not complain, and at the same time look forward to the time when his father dies (he is 67 and in good health) so we can be a family again?

WIDOW WITH A HUSBAND
DEAR WIDOW: Of all the grasping, scheming, materialistic characters that have been brought to my attention, your husband takes the prize. Not only is he cheating you and the children, but he is cheating his father as well. If the gentleman (and he is not old at 67) has any interest in female companionship, he should be encouraged in it. Tell your husband to get on home where he belongs and to quit playing self-appointed guardian of his father's estate.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy, 14, and my parents and I don't see eye to eye on my clothes. I have a long waist, and then they buy my pants, they can get my waist size, but they can't get my leg size in the same pair of pants.

When I get a new pair of pants I look like a midshipman from the War of 1812. I ask my mother to peg them for me, but my father says, "No. Boys look like girls in pegged pants!" Can you help me?

DISTRESSED
DEAR DISTRESSED: You are helpless, but I have a few words for your mother: "Peg the kid's pants! Most boys look like girls today anyway."

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I'm making a mountain out of a molehill, but after being married to Jerry for only six months, one of his habits is really driving me out of my mind. When he sits down to eat (whether we are at home, dining out, or are guests in someone's home) the first thing Jerry does is to salt everything that requires seasoning, and I mean he salts it up, but good! Abby, he doesn't even try it first, he just pours the salt on. People look at him in disbelief. At the home of friends, I'm sure they think there's something wrong with their food. Shouldn't he take a little taste first? And if he likes things saltier, add a bit more salt instead of doing it in these great broad gestures? Or am I wrong to criticize him?

JERRY'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: If your husband likes salt, he should be a little more subtle in applying it, especially when he's a dinner guest. And he should take a token taste first, even though he knows he's going to add more salt. His craving for salt may be embarrassing for you, but it could have more serious implications. Tell him to mention this to his physician.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Nunnally To Seek Election

GAIL—C. C. Nunnally, who is in his 14th year of service to Borden County, announced today that he would be a candidate to succeed himself as county judge of Borden County.

Judge Nunnally is a native of Borden County and has been county judge during the period in which much of the county's growth and development have taken place.

"I am this date announcing my candidacy for re-election to the office of county judge of Borden County," he said. "I will appreciate your support in the forthcoming primaries, and I am indeed grateful for your past support and cooperation. If re-elected, I shall continue to work for the interest of Borden County and its citizens, with fair and courteous treatment of all, but with favoritism toward none."

Pipe Firms Are Indicted

DALLAS (AP)—Two companies manufacturing pipe and the chairman of the board of one firm were indicted Thursday on charges of price fixing, allocating jobs and rigging bids in Texas sales of concrete pressure pipe.

Grand jurors returned the indictment to U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Estes.

It names Gifford-Hill-American, Inc., of Dallas, in which the equal owners are Gifford-Hill Pipe Co. of Dallas and American Pipe & Construction Co. of Monterey, Calif.; United Concrete Pipe Corp. of Baldwin Park, Calif., a wholly owned subsidiary of the United States Pipe & Foundry Co. of Birmingham, Ala.; and Lloyd K. Earl of Arcadia, Calif., board chairman of United Concrete Pipe.

The government charged that the defendants conspired to maintain prices for the pipe at artificially high prices in sales between 1957 and 1962 to municipalities throughout Texas.

They are described as the principal producers of concrete pressure pipe in the state making combined annual sales of more than $6 million to municipalities in Texas.

Know Allied Students At Webb, Speaker Urges

An appeal for Big Spring and Howard County people to get to know Allied students at Webb AFB in order that they can know America first hand was voiced Wednesday by Capt. Jake Sorenson. He spoke to the Downtown Lions Club at the Settles.

Capt. Sorenson is assigned to office training in connection with 12 allied students now at Webb AFB. Several more are expected, he said.

Webb can give the technical training, but it cannot supply the exposure to the American way of life, he said.

"Invite them into your schools, churches, unions, businesses, industries, public agencies and other segments of normal life," he urged. "They want to know what you think, what kind of people you are."

"Don't be afraid to show the seamier side," he added, "but you might explain what is being done about it."

He emphasized that the contact should be a normal one without any effort to convince the students, or to infer that the way we do things is necessarily the right way and all others are the wrong way.

"Let them take an honest look at things and let them draw their own conclusions," he said. "Getting to know foreign students is a fine and rewarding experience. It works both ways."

He stressed the importance of contacts because one survey showed about 40 per cent of

Murder Trial Jury Hung

BASTROP, Tex. (AP)—The murder trial of Jounce Ann Gordon for the slaying of Elgin Police Chief J. M. Mumford has ended in a hung jury.

The jury deliberated slightly more than four hours Thursday afternoon and reported it was deadlocked. Dist. Judge Leslie D. Williams sent it back for further deliberations but less than an hour later it again reported it could reach no agreement.

Williams declared a mistrial. He did not set a date for a new trial.

Miss Gordon, 18, Cocoa, Fla., is charged with murder in the gun battle in which Mumford died and Highway Patrolman Tommy Moseley was wounded.

The battle started after Mumford and Moseley stopped a car for investigation on a highway near Elgin Nov. 18, 1963.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠.

South's hand is worth 19 points counting high cards and distribution and would warrant a jump shift response over North's opening bid, if his suits were of better texture. North rebid two diamonds, and South jumped in his second suit— hearts. When North showed a preference for spades South was willing to gamble on a slam. A good diamond suit in dummy, or short hearts, would offer a reasonable play for six spades.

East hand, North's diamonds were now established, and there appeared to be nothing further required but the drawing of trumps.

The normal procedure is to cash the king and queen of spades and then cross over to the ace. If the suit divides three-two—as is the normal expectation—North's honor will draw the last trump and the diamonds can be run. If the spades are four-one however, it appears that declarer must go down to defeat, inasmuch as one defender has more trumps than the dummy.

South observed that there was a way to cope with an unfavorable spade division provided that West had the long trumps. After the king of spades was cashed, declarer led a small spade and, when West followed with the four, the ten was played from dummy. If East had the jack of spades, it would be the only trick for his side, for South can win either a club or heart return and then cross over to the ace of spades drawing the last trump. The dummy is now high.

When East showed out on the second round of trumps, declarer began to run the diamonds. West was welcome to ruff in whenever he chose; however, he must surrender the lead on the return—after which the ace of spades draws his last trump, and North claims the balance.

It may be observed that a heart lead originally by West into the declarer's second bid suit would have assured South's defeat, for the defense is in position to force the dummy in hearts subsequently before the trumps can be drawn. We are not inclined however to point the finger of scorn at West for his actual choice.
