Senate Panel OK Due On Military Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Armed Services Committee takes up today an emergency military fund request for the Viet Nam war while Senate critics signal continued attacks on President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies.

The committee was expected to approve a measure which would authorize $4.8 billion in defense costs. This would open the way to later action on the full $12.8-billion money package Hill is now one of several of military and economic aid Johnson asked.

In advance of this action, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., spokesman for a group of 16 senators who opposed resumption of North Viet Nam bombing, predicted nearly unanimous Senate approval of the measure.

Needs Clear Enunciation

The Selective Service System or a progressive society. Congress itself should move promptly to clear up the muddled question of student deferment from the draft.

Reports from all parts of the United States reflect great uncertainty over the status of students who have been attending college under draft deferment. Their parents, of course, share their uneasiness.

The federal government has made an affirmative finding that it is in the national interest to defer college students from the draft. This was based on the realization that an educated citizenry is the essential foundation of and adhered to.

Draft boards, in the light of increased need for manpower in the face of growing U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, have been reviewing the student deferment question. There has been some discussion about tightening up standards, such as grades being made by students. No official action has been taken, but the review has naturally brought uncertainty and uneasiness to students and parents.

No less than a prompt clarification is required. Clear standards for student deferment should be enunciated

Critics Hurting Our Cause

WASHINGTON—Is history repeating itself? Will the very people in public life who are unwittingly giving the impression that they seek "peace at any price"-even by the sacrifice of South Viet Nam-cause the war to be enlarged and thus perhaps bring on a major war in the world?

For the tactics of some members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in trying to give undue emphasis to the criticisms of American policy by holding televised hearings at this time may create abroad an image of irresoluteness and discord.

IF EVER THERE were need for unity in all branches of the government and for silence on the part of the exhibitionists and appeasers, inside and outside of Congress, it is today. The critics are arguing that there is a lack of authority to carry out the war measures the American government has undertaken in Viet

Why should there be any guibbles about the meaning of the resolution adopted by an overwhelming vote of both houses of Congress and proclaimed Aug. 10, 1964, after the attacks on American military forces in Viet Nam? Yet there are those who say it was originally passed for a different purpose and under different circumstances. This is a mischievous interpretation and could encourage the enemy to believe that the American Congress isn't behind the President now in the Viet Nam war. Here is what the resolution actually says:

"WHEREAS THE United States is assisting the peoples of Southeast Asia to protect their freedom and has no territorial, military or political ambitions in that area, but desires only that these peoples should be left in peace to work out their own destinies in their own way: Now, therefore,

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the Congress approves and supports the determination of the

I believe that a strong-minded individual can read shady books if they read them constructively. These books tell of life as it is. It all depends upon the attitude we have when we read them. What do you think?

The Bible says, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." We tend to become like the thoughts we think, and if we let our minds feed on lustful thoughts, and salacious literature, the law of cause and effect holds

No one can eat garbage without having indigestion, and no person can take poison food into his stomach without suffering the consequences. One should be even more careful of what he feeds his mind and soul.

I couldn't disagree more with your theory. The Bible says: "Whatsoever things are pure; whatsoever things are lovely; whatsoever things are of good report, think of these things. When there is so much good literature, why would one want to contaminate his mind with "shady" books, as you call them?

Bacon once said: "If I could cortrol the literature of the household. I could guarantee the well-being of the church and state." We are free to read what we will, but each of us is warned by God to guard against allowing filth to enter our minds and hearts.

President, as commander in chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces got some chilling news the other of the United States and to prevent further aggression.

Then the President began to face at home the dissenters who wanted to hold extensive hearings in Congress without commenting on the and to carry on public debate on military strategy that should be kept secret, at least for the time being.

COINCIDENTALLY, the President, who had long wished to meet with the premier and other leaders of the Vietnamese government without traveling all the way to Viet Nam, decided on a conference at Hawaii. He took along cabinet officers and top aides. Not only did the mission afford the President an opportunity to extend moral support to the existing regime in Viet Nam but it was a means of letting the people there know more of America's plans for sociological and financial aid. Most important of all, the meeting gave Mr. Johnson a good chance to talk over comprehensively and intimately with the Vietnamese of ficials just what arrangements for a future peace conference should be and who should participate in it.

THE TRIP enabled the President, moreover, to let the world know that the United States is in earnest in continuing the war in order to achieve its basic objective—the right of a people to maintain their sovereignty unmolested by foreign aggression. He has lent his consent, if not his advice, to taking the United States into a court where the chances of a successful outcome are next to nil.

THE UN CHARTER opens with a mauldin and catchpenny paraphrase of the U.S. Constitution. Our Constitution says: "We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union . . ." The UN Charter says: "We the people of the United Nations, determined to save succeeding generations from the scourge of

The difference here is between a demoncratic nation forming a "more perfect union" for its protection and prosperity, and a mixed bag of nations undertaking to settle quarrels by means other than war. In 190 years the U.S.A. had kept its union, but for 21 years, the UN has had almost no luck in preventing its from arming, threatening and fight-

NOW COMES the U.S.A., justly at war in Asia and rightly unwilling to quit, before a body of sworn but feckless pacificists. Unless the U.S.A. is truly willing to abide by arbitration, which means that we forfeit our chosen policy of giving battle to Communism, Lawyer Goldberg looks like losing his case before he opens it.

GOLDBERG'S client, the U.S.A., is not only an unwilling warrior nation, but a very rich, capitalistic and democratic nation. Of the 116 UN members, from Afghanistan to Zambia, the great majority are have-nots. Only a lean majority makes any pretense of capitalistic sympathies, and democracy hardly exists outside of Western Europe. While the UN is not a court, and its members are not jurors in the usual sense, we are voluntarily going before a tribunal where we will stand as a plutocrat, an armed giant and as a successful protagonist of internal freedom which very few other member nations have been able to attain.

Also to one disadvantage before such a seat of judgment is the unfair but widely-held belief that we are the last of the great imperialistic powers. It staggers belief that we are going to get a impartial hearing in an immensely complicated justification for bombing a smaller nation that is half the world away from our borders.

NEITHER OF our opponents in Asia, North Viet Nam and Red China, are UN members. We are bound to obligations of some sort of obedience, while our enemies have the flexibility of defiance. The prestige of the Secretary General, U Thant of Burma, is considerable, and he had already prejudiced his position by a strong bias for his fellow Asians. The Russian veto in the Security Council can be counted upon to be support policies favorable to World Communism. It will be a wonder if we can count on the crucial swing-votes of neutralists and nervous allies in the General Assembly.

IT WASN'T A question of the U.S.A. being dragged into this court. A smart lawyer like Goldberg might have performed his initial service by persuading the President to stay out. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Economy Becoming Taut

faster in the weeks and months just the barbershop on Saturday ahead. And you can blame everything from the weather to the booming economy itself.

PEOPLE ARE expected to have still more money to spend. But the amount of available goods to spend it on may increase at a slower rate for awhile. And when the gain in demand tops the advance in supply, it usually means price rises. THE WEATHER isn't helping just now. At the grocery store, especially in the East, prices of fruits and vegetables may rise sharply as the result of unusually bad weather in Florida and other centers that furnish winter produce. The supply of these foods already has been cut. And it's a long time until spring growing weather reaches other regions. The weather also has been cutting back some factory output here and there in the nation. Reduced production, and especially the snarled transportation, adds to upward pressure on prices of some factory goods and raw BUT FOR THE long run, the economy itself gets most of the blame. It seems that it's fast becoming taut. This means that output of many items is nearing the upward limit of present productive capacity. Skilled manpower also is short in some industries and some regions. ALL THIS puts pressure on prices. Until recently, production could be increased as consumer and business spending demanded because of idle facilities and manpower. But at the moment production can't expand as fast as spending is growing, because there's little surplus capacity and fewer skilled workers available. With more dollars than goods, prices are likely to rise.

WHILE THE nation's supply of money has been growing at a fast clip, demand for credit has been growing even faster. Bank loans to business have risen sharply, and the demand still is pressing. Consumer credit also continues to grow, along with

NEW YORK (AP)-Prices may rise the increase in personal incomes.

ALL THIS puts pressure on prices. Washington hopes to hold down the yen to charge more for goods and services through voluntary controls and appeals to observe the public interest. And, so far at least, Washington officially refuses to go along with those businessmen and bankers who think that the economy is becoming too taut for mild restraints to keep prices from doing what comes naturally-going still higher

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Wed., Feb. 9, 1966 9

The Texas Aggies, unbeaten in seven games and boasting a three-game lead over the field, prepared today to wrap up the Southwest Conference basketball championship to the surprise of absolutely no one.

Texas Tech failed to halt the surge of the high-riding Aggies Tuesday night and from now on the principal fight should be for second place where three teams - Texas Tech, Arkansas and Southern Methodist-now are bunched.

Tech made a gallant fight of it and led Texas A&M most of the way. But John Beasley, who had one of his worst scoring nights, tied it up at 63-63 with a free throw and Dick Rector hit the first of three straight baskets to give the Aggies a 6-point lead with 2:44 to go.

Tech pulled within two points with 50 seconds left when Terry Trippet sank two free throws to get the Aggies out of trouble. Texas A&M went on to a 77-71

Norman Reuther did such a fine defensive job on Beasley, the conference's leading scorer, that the latter was held to 11 Meanwhile, Reuther pitched in 21.

Arkansas nipped Rice 77-71 and Southern Methodist blasted Baylor 95-65 to create the second place tie. Texas Tech, Arkansas and Southern Methodist all are 4-3 compared to the Aggies' 7-0. Texas nosed out Texas Christian 77-75 to pull into a tie with Baylor and Texas Christian for fifth place at 3-4:

Intern Works In Anderson's Office

Hugh Smith, Austin, is spending the spring semester in the superintendent's office of the Big Spring Independent School District as an administrative intern, working on what will become a new concept in administrative education this fall.

Smith is working on his administrative certificate from the University of Texas at Austin, under the new code which states that effective September, 1966, all those applying for certificates must have at least 60 hours' advanced work and serve an internship in a school superintendent's office. He has been in Big Spring nearly three

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. jet fighter-bombers stepped up their attacks in North and South Viet Nam today while the Viet Cong still sidestepped the big Allied ground forces trying to hunt

While the ground war tapered off significantly, the U.S. Military Command announced that the number of Americans killed in combat last week rose by more than 50 per cent. A spokesman said 89 Americans were killed, 499 wounded and eight missing in action compared with 57 Americans killed. 281 wounded and 11 missing in the previous seven days.

RICE CACHES In separate sweeps, American and Australian troops stumbled onto Viet Cong caches of rice totaling 335 tons - enough to feed thousands of men for weeks - and stores of howitzer mmunition.

In Vientiane, capital of neighboring Laos, a spokesman for the Laotian Defense Ministry reported North Vietnamese tanks had been seen for the first time on the Ho Chi Minh Trail through eastern Laos, en route to South Viet Nam. Qualified military sources in Saigon, however, were skeptical of the report. They said tanks might be more of a liability than an asset to the Viet Cong.
