GI Bill Goes To Johnson For Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress sent to President Johnson today a "cold war GI bill" establishing a permanent program of education and other benefits for veterans who serve more than six months.

The Senate accepted most changes made by the House in the bill the Senate passed last July. Then the House approved the revised measure and sent it to the White House.

HOUSE ACCEPTS — One change by the Senate in its unanimous 99-0 passage of the bill today was to make clear that veterans who have not graduated from high school would be eligible for the educational benefits. The House accepted the change without discussion.

Although the measure is more costly than one pushed by President Johnson, he is expected to sign it into law. It would provide assistance to veterans with more than six months military service retroactive to the expiration of previous programs on Jan. 31, 1955.

FLOOR VOTE — The legislation came up for a floor vote after the Senate refused to halt a filibuster against the union shop bill.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., chief sponsor of the veterans legislation, said he was prepared to go along with the

Master Showman Billy Rose Dead

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) — Billy Rose, the master showman who made a fortune out of the unlikely combination of extravaganza, curvaceous girls and the stock market, died today in Montego Bay.

Rose, 66, died of lobar pneumonia at the Eldridge Nursing Home. He had come to Montego Bay, where he maintains a winter home, to recuperate from cardio-vascular surgery performed in Houston, Tex., in December.

TO MONTEGO — Rose, an impresario, theatrical producer, newspaper columnist, nightclub owner and writer of such songs as "That Old Gang of Mine," "Without a Song," "Me and My Shadow," returned to his New York home Dec. 22.

He flew to Montego Bay Tuesday with his sister, Polly Gottlieb, wife of Hollywood producer and writer Alex Gottlieb. Doctors had prescribed a six-week recuperation.

Mrs. Gottlieb was planning to accompany the body to New York today, where funeral arrangements will be completed.

CELEBRITY DIES — Death of the flamboyant figure came just hours after the death of another show business personality, Sophie Tucker. She died Wednesday in her New York apartment.

The 5-foot-3 Rose scrambled out of the Manhattan slums and at the time of his death was worth more than $25 million. He once joked that "if my luck holds out by 1970 I will really be a rich fellow."

State Violent Weather Hits South Sector

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes and savage thunderstorms roved a broad stretch of South Texas today but apparently failed to inflict anything as severe as the punishment from violent weather to a few North Texas points 24 hours earlier.

A Houston man told of spotting a twister funnel as violent winds wrecked patios, toppled brick walls and injured three persons in the southeast and southwest sections of the city before dawn.

ORANGE TWISTER — Firemen reported a small tornado whirled on the ground near the north edge of Orange for two or three minutes, causing minor damage but no injuries. It whipped back aloft about 2:15 a.m.

Before midnight hail and heavy rains pounded still other areas around Corpus Christi, Beeville, San Antonio and Austin. This occurred during a severe weather alert, in force until 2 a.m., for a 120-mile wide belt centering on a line from southeast of Laredo to College Station.

Most of 225 persons chased from Gainesville homes by a flash flood early Wednesday were able to return to their houses for the night.

GAINESVILLE CLEANUP — There was still considerable cleanup work to be done, however, where 6 inches of rain sent Pecan Creek on a rampage across the middle of Gainesville. Muddy water spread over an area four blocks wide and a mile long before subsiding swiftly. The runoff was expected to raise the level of Garza-Little Elm Lake a foot.

Debris also was still being cleared away in parts of Fort Worth, where 70-mile winds broke power lines and caused widespread minor damage Wednesday, and at the North Texas village of Howland, where state police blamed a tornado for destroying two homes and battering eight others.

FUNNEL CLOUD — Roger Zimmerman told of seeing a funnel cloud as violent wind smashed at his patio in the south part of Houston and wrecked a neighbor's camping trailer. He and others estimated the wind velocity at up to 100 miles per hour.

Houston's rainfall measurement climbed past 5 inches for two days, with about 1.5 inches added after midnight Wednesday.

Big hail stones pelted the south side of San Antonio and a heavy downpour filled streets from curb to curb in the northwest part of the city. Hail collected six inches deep near Pleasanton, south of San Antonio.

PETTUS DELUGE — More than 4 inches of rain soaked the Pettus vicinity north of Beeville and hail smashed hundreds of windows. The wind knocked down telephone lines between Pettus and Mineral, 8 miles west.

Hail the size of hen eggs fell around Beeville and George West, northwest of Corpus Christi.

Thunderstorms also blustered through parts of West Texas during the night, usually accompanied by hail. Roofs of ranch buildings were damaged near Menard and 1.5 inches of rain fell near there. Santa Anna received 1.5 inches and Winters and Brady more than an inch.

Farther west around Alpine and Marfa, snow fell so briskly Wednesday afternoon it whited the ground in places but melted almost at once in the 50-degree weather.

Johnson Submits His 'Freedom Food' Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proposed to Congress today a food for freedom program to "lead the world in a war against hunger."

Federal Ruling Voids Poll Tax

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The 1966 election outlook in Texas has been thrown into a state of confusion by a federal court's ruling that the state's poll tax was unconstitutional.

Surprised Texas officials pondered their next move today in the wake of the 45-page opinion handed down Wednesday by the three-judge federal court.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Gov. John Connally declined comment until they had studied the opinion and consulted with each other.

SPECIAL SESSION? — The state has 14 days to ask the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals or the U. S. Supreme Court to stay the order.

Unless the order is stayed, Connally may have to call a special legislative session to enact a voter registration system.

Connally said at a recent news conference that a federal court ruling wiping out the $1.75

U.S. Troops Under Reds' Deadly Fire

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Army troops came under withering Communist fire today near Saigon and in the coastal rice lands. Over North Viet Nam, a pair of Soviet-made missiles knocked a Navy jet out of the sky.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived at the Saigon airport late today accompanied by South Vietnamese chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. He will leave for five other Asian capitals on Sunday after emphasizing the hopes for social, economic and political progress expressed by President Johnson at his Honolulu meeting with the Vietnamese leaders.

MISSILES HIT — The brace of surface-to-air missiles hit the Navy A4 Skyhawk during a raid Wednesday on Hon Mat Island, 23 miles south of the North Vietnamese coastal city of Thanh Hoa. A U.S. spokesman reported. The pilot bailed out over the South China Sea and was rescued by a helicopter from the guided-missile frigate England.

The loss of the jet fighter-bomber was the first attributed to missiles since the United States ended the 37-day bombing pause on Jan. 31. Navy and Air Force planes kept up the heavy schedule of attacks on the Communist North, hitting bridges, trucks and railroad box cars.

INTENSE FIRE — Pilots reported intense anti-aircraft fire, which American military officials saw as proof of their warnings that the North Vietnamese would strengthen their air defenses during the suspension of raids.

The heaviest action on the ground broke out near Cu Chi, 25 miles west of Saigon, when a large number of Viet Cong snipers and mortar men rose like jacks-in-the-box from camouflaged openings in the huge tunnel complex in the area.

TWO COMPANIES — They poured heavy fire on two companies of the U.S. 25th Division who recently established positions in the area. The fighting broke out almost within hailing distance of their headquarters area.

Army helicopters fired rockets at suspected Communist mortar positions, but it appeared they did not have much success. The Viet Cong apparently pulled back into their tunnels, which run for miles and are in four tiers in some places. The 25th Division troops are wrecking the tunnel system.

U.S. casualties were officially described as light, and the Communist toll was not known since the Viet Cong left behind no bodies. An exploding mortar killed a U. S. Army photographer and injured or killed several other Americans. Bob Jones, military writer of the Honolulu Advertiser, was hit in the back, leg, and hands by fragments from the mortar but was reported in good condition.

MEET CONG — During the night, elements of two U. S. 101st Airborne companies collided with a Viet Cong force near Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon, where Allied forces have been protecting the rice harvest in Operation Van Buren in the last three weeks. The sector had recently been pounded by Guam-based B52s.

The paratroopers said the fighting was so confused at times it was impossible to say who was firing on whom.

Other elements of the 101st sweep force came to the rescue and artillery and jet fighters supported the beleaguered unit with a heavy barrage. The Americans fired riot control gas at a suspected Communist position, and the Reds twice renewed the attack during the night.

Stanton C-C Banquet Slated

STANTON—The Martin County Chamber of Commerce will install new officers and hear Dr. C. L. Kay, Lubbock, at the annual banquet here Saturday.

The affair will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Willie Wired Hand Room of Cap Rock Cooperative. Dr. Kay is vice president of Lubbock Christian College and has delivered scores of addresses throughout this area.

Horace Blocker will assume the reins as president of the chamber, assisted by James Jones, vice president, and Sammy Houston, secretary-treasurer.

Outlawing Levy Stirs No Great Excitement Locally

NO REASON FOR REFUND? — Action Wednesday of three federal judges in holding that payment of poll tax should not be a qualification for voting in Texas caused no great excitement locally.

Everyone who has been watching the development of the war on this feature of Texas election laws had long since been convinced that the poll tax as a voting prerequisite was on its way out. All through the interval when poll tax was being paid, the only concern was whether the court would rule quickly enough for the decision to have impact on the voting privileges of the current year.

Deadline for payment of poll tax expired Jan. 31 with 9,141 Howard County citizens having paid the tax before the deadline.

REFUND? — Meantime, it seems that some are discussing if there will be a refund. Locally, observers point out, there is no reason for a refund. The poll tax per se is exactly what it says — a "head tax."

If Texas wants to do so, it can go on collecting poll tax from now on. Originally it was created as a revenue measure—a tax levied against each Texan—with no connotation at all relative to his right to vote or not to vote.

It was not until 1902 that it was amended to carry its election implication. In that year, according to the records, the Populist party—a strange political revolution which swept the country in the fading years of the last century—was at its peak. In Texas, Democratic leaders were gravely concerned that the Populist vote might take over control of the state.

PAYMENT AMENDED — The Populist movement was among the "poor whites" of the time rather than concerned with the Negroes. Realizing the financial difficulties of the Populist members as individuals the Democratic leaders amended the poll tax payment to make such tax payment essential if a person was to be permitted to vote in Texas elections. Further, it is shown in history, the plan worked.

SPELLING BOOKS ARE AVAILABLE

A new shipment of the official "Words of the Champions," official Herald spelling Bee word list, has been received.

Boys and girls and school officials who have asked for the books can now be supplied. The price is 15 cents per copy. They are available in the office of the Daily Herald.

ESTABLISHED 1902

While acknowledging that the poll tax was established as a voting requirement in 1902 "to disfranchise the Negro," Thornberry added: "The evidence does not establish that the poll tax in Texas discriminates against Negroes in violation of the 15th Amendment or the equal protection clause of the U.S. Constitution."

The court struck down the requirement on the broader philosophical grounds that it is "an unjustified restriction on one of the most basic rights guaranteed by the due process clause" of the U.S. Constitution.

The court noted that recent poll tax statistics indicate that 57.3 per cent of eligible Texas whites and 45.3 per cent of eligible Negroes pay the poll tax.

Dr. Lahourcade Joins VA Staff

Dr. Fred G. Lahourcade, a native of San Antonio, joined the medical service of the Veterans Administration Hospital this week. He comes to Big Spring from his private practice as a physician in San Antonio.

A graduate of St. Mary's University, San Antonio, he received his degree in medicine at Baylor University School of Medicine in Dallas. Upon completion of his internship at Robert B. Green Hospital in San Antonio in 1938, Dr. Lahourcade entered the Army Medical Corps, where he served 10 years. He attained the rank of lieutenant colonel and during his military career was commanding officer of the 42nd Army Field Hospital and chief of professional services of the Station Hospital, Ft. Lee, Va.

Dr. Lahourcade was previously with the VA as physician in the outpatient clinic of the San Antonio regional office.

He is a member of the Bexar County Medical Society, the Texas State Medical Society and the American Medical Association.

Dr. Lahourcade's family, which includes his wife, Violet; daughter, Cathy, 19; sons, Ricky, 16, and Fred Jr., 23, will join him in Big Spring later.

Labor's Chill May Cost Demos Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor, once an acknowledged prime mover behind President Johnson, is deep in the winter of its discontent with the White House and Democrats.

And unless Johnson and Congress thaw the growing chill, the Democratic party could lose a major slice of labor's support when it needs it — in this year's congressional elections.

PACK WALLOP

Altogether, labor union members and their families pack the potential political wallop of at least 35 million voters. This compared with the total of 70,000,000 votes cast in the 1964 balloting that resulted in Johnson's landslide victory and the biggest Democratic majority in Congress in nearly 30 years.

Labor's complaint against the way the political winds are blowing in the capital is three-fold:

— Union chiefs think Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has been dragging his feet on the bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. This is the section which sanctions laws in 19 states banning union shop contracts, under which all employees must join the union.

— Johnson's statement to Congress that he is considering some kind of antistrike legislation to deal with labor disputes that threaten "irreparable harm" to the national interest. Labor leaders have been trying to figure out what he may have in mind.

— Johnson's refusal to hike White House wage guidelines from 32 to 36 per cent in line with latest national production figures. The guidelines set the size of wage increases acceptable to the White House as non-inflationary.

Johnson is catching at least part of labor's blame for failing to hold the Senate in session around the clock to break the Republican filibuster that shelved the 14B repeal bill last year.

SOUNDS "THREAT"

President P. L. Siemiller of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, the nation's fourth largest union with nearly one million members, said: "I'm perfectly willing and prepared to recommend to our members that any member of Congress who failed to stand up in favor of repeal of 14B forfeits any machinists' dollar and vote."

Although the AFL-CIO has never accepted the White House wage guidelines, Meany accused Johnson and his economic advisors of changing the rules in a slap at labor in holding to the four-year-old 32 per cent figure.

The guidelines are based on annual average increases in manhour productivity and the government's own figures show it has gone up to 3.6 per cent in 1965 figures are added.

Reaction to Johnson's antistrike proposal is more cautious because no one knows what he has in mind, but any action to limit labor's ultimate weapon is sure to raise more hackles among union men.

FEDERAL STANDARDS

Many labor spokesmen think one of the most important labor measures in years is the administration's bill to set federal standards and raise unemployment payments, which now vary sharply from state to state.

"This is the real showdown between us and the big boys" in industry, an AFL-CIO spokesman said.

Texans Seek To Expedite River Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of Texans, after getting a sympathetic hearing but no pledge of action, sought new ways today to expedite work on the $911 million Trinity River project.

Six Texas congressmen and John Stemmons, a Dallas businessman, had a closed-door meeting Wednesday with Army Engineers.

Maj. Gen. Jackson Graham, chief of civil works for the Army Engineers, listened sympathetically, one of the Texans said, but advised that special legislative action probably will be necessary to speed up the work.

FUNDS NEEDED

President Johnson has asked Congress for $200,000 for a re-evaluation study of the navigation features of the project before construction on the $500 million Gulf-to-Fort Worth-Dallas canal can begin.

One of those attending the conference said Graham told them that although the Army Engineers has some unexpended money, he could find no legal basis for initiating the re-evaluation study until Congress appropriates the money.

The Texas congressmen, with Rep. Jim Wright, a member of the House Public Works Committee, heading the group, agreed to review the situation from the legislative standpoint.

The other Texas congressmen participating in the conference were Reps. Ray Roberts, Earle Cabell, Olin Teague, Graham Purcell and Joe Pool.

Man Solves His Weighty Problem

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — In order to fulfill a lifetime dream to become a policeman, David Friddle was told to lose some weight.

Friddle, 32, lost 113 pounds — "from a tight 50 to a loose 38" — and was sworn in as a full-fledged policeman.

He had weighed 338 pounds, spread over a 6-foot-4 frame.

Racial Mediation Unit Shift Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sends Congress today a proposal to shift the Community Relations Service from the Commerce Department to the Justice Department.

The service was established under the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to head off racial disputes by conciliation and mediation.

Neither the House nor Senate acts unfavorably within 60 days, the plan will go into effect. No affirmative action is required.

SENATE SNAG

The plan is expected to have fairly clear sailing in the House, but things may be a bit rougher in the Senate. Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a civil rights supporter, and Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., who has opposed rights measures, have announced opposition to the shift.

Meanwhile 13 senators joined in offering a six-part civil rights bill designed primarily to protect Negroes and civil rights workers against what they termed "segregated justice."

The 10 Democrats and three Republicans said their measure would carry out many recommendations by the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

President Johnson has said he would submit legislation in this field but has not yet done so.

The rights measure would ban discrimination on grounds of race or color in federal and state jury selection, and would permit trial of state crimes in federal courts if necessary to assure equal protection of the laws.

ESTABLISHED BOARD

Individuals or the attorney general would be permitted to obtain injunctions against rights violations, and a board would be established in the rights commission to indemnify persons who are killed, injured or lose property because of lawful civil rights activities.

The bill also would allow cases involving Negroes and other civil rights workers in areas of "segregated justice" to be moved from state to federal courts and would apply equal employment opportunity provisions of the 1964 rights act to state and local governments.

Sophie Tucker Dead, Last 'Red Hot Mama'

NEW YORK (AP) — A half-century ago as a favor to her maid, Sophie Tucker sat down and listened to a song written by a porter.

At first she tried to put it off — "They were writing more songs than I had time to listen to" — but she gave in and listened to the tune by Sheldon Brooks.

"I knew that 'Some of These Days' was the song for me," she said. "It has been ever since and always will be."

HER TRADEMARK

The people in the cabarets and nightclubs loved it and the song became her trademark. Big, brassy-voiced Sophie Tucker belted out the song at every performance. It didn't matter if she was doing the blues, jazz or swing.

Wednesday night, Miss Tucker, 78, "last of the red-hot mamas," yielded the spotlight after 62 years on stage. She died in her Park Avenue apartment of a chronic lung ailment and kidney failure.

Her last appearance was at the Latin Quarter just before she became ill. She had signed for a four-week engagement, but was able to appear only two nights, and on both nights it was clear that she was in poor health.

She spent several weeks at Mount Sinai Hospital for treatment of what her physician described as an intestinal inflammation. She returned to her apartment where she was reported recovering.

SINCE TEENS

From the time she was a teenager Sophie had been a performer. Asked if she had any regrets and if she would have preferred life in the kitchen, she said: "I wanted show business. I went after it. I got it. No regrets."

"I tried the marriage three times, but it just didn't jell for me, not with the show business. Anyway, I made up for it in so many ways."

Sophie worked with the top stars of several generations — Will Rogers, W.C. Fields, Eddie Cantor, Al Jolson, Jack Benny, Fannie Brice, Judy Garland, Jimmy Durante and Bea Lillie, among others.

She never hesitated to talk about herself—and never minded being kidded about her 192-pound bulk — but her age remained a bit of a mystery.

NATIVE RUSSIAN

Sophie was born in Russia as her parents were making their way to America via Poland and the Baltic. The date was Jan. 13 and the year is believed to be 1888. But some sources list it as 1884 or 1887.

Asked about the differences, Sophie explained it this way: "I was 16 when I first went to New York. You couldn't work in a cabaret until you were 18. So I went home and painted up and piled my hair up high and passed for 20."

"So the record shows I was 20 when I was really 16 — and it's bugged me ever since. Good Lord, I won't be alive when I'm 80."

She often worked abroad and was as big a hit in England as in this country.

Her first royal command performance was in 1936. Her third and last came at the Palladium in 1962 and she stole the show with "Life Begins at 40," "After You've Gone," and the inevitable "Some of These Days."

At that first command performance she waved to King George V and Queen Mary and shouted, "Hi-ya, king!"

She was born Sophie Abuzza, but once said the family name was Kalish or Kalich. She said the Abuzza came from an Italian's passport her father used.

She was 3 months old when her family settled in Boston, and at 8 the family moved to Hartford, Conn., and opened a restaurant. It was in the restaurant that Sophie first sang in public.

She is survived by a son, Bert Tucker; and a brother, Moses Abuzza, her agent.

A funeral service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Weinstein Mortuary in Hartford. Burial will be in Emanu-El Cemetery, Wethersfield, Conn.

Baby Black Market Believed Nationwide

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—A child welfare worker says that "trends and elusive little factors" lead him to believe that a baby black market exists here in Texas and in the United States.

But, added Bobby Harr of the Webb County Child Welfare Department, it "cannot be proven in a courtroom."

Harr, with a lap full of records, testified Wednesday at a court of inquiry called to investigate alleged trafficking of newborn babies between Mexico and the United States.

"When there is a regularly established procedure to acquire what you want, there is a black market," Harr said, "and it is accepted in this country that you can get a baby if you want it bad enough."

PAID FOR BABY

Harr and a sergeant at the Laredo Air Force Base testified how the airman and his wife paid $100 to a midwife for a baby.

The midwife, Mrs. Caroline Valle, told the court that adoption papers were prepared by a lawyer and approved by a district court.

In this case, Harr said, he did not consider it a black market operation.

Another midwife, Mrs. Emma Lopez, denied she took a Mexican girl's baby in lieu of payment of her fee of $45 to $50.

Mrs. Margarita Caballero, who lived in the slums along the Rio Grande, said the girl, telling of being driven from her home by her father, came by her house, became ill and asked for shelter.

Mrs. Caballero said that after the girl gave birth to a child, Mrs. Lopez, who attended the girl, took the baby because the mother could not pay the midwife's fee.

Mrs. Lopez testified that she removed the baby after the river started to rise and there was confusion in the Caballero household.

Witnesses said the girl disappeared and the Child Welfare Department took custody of the baby.

UBERLANDIA, Brazil (AP) — Russia's touring national soccer team beat an all-star team from the Uberlandia region 2-0 Wednesday night.

MAY TRY BOOZE Pigeons Still Proving Elusive

Dear Boss:

You asked me to find out "about that trap." I guess you meant the pigeon trap over on top of City Auditorium. So I did.

Well, I dropped over to the main fire station, where they take care of pigeon problems. There were some firemen sitting around waiting for a fire and they said that trap is working, all right.

"We aren't getting anything but young birds in the thing," one fireman said. But he said the old birds were too smart to be caught, so all they are getting are the young ones.

Well, the firemen said they were catching about 10 birds every week in that wire, trap-door equipped, trap. It's baited with grain, right in front of the trap-door.

Now, 10 birds didn't seem like many to me, Boss, and as a crusading journalist I thought this business of pigeon-baiting ought to be given the "in depth" treatment. So I nosed around City Hall in my 007 trench coat, and pretty soon somebody else stopped me. He asked me if I was a reporter, and I told him yes and asked about that trap. He told me to see Dewey Byers, and I did.

Dewey said the trap wasn't good enough. He said they had been soaking grain in alcohol, but the pigeons didn't show any unusual traits afterward.

"Maybe rubbing alcohol isn't strong enough," Dewey said. "So we're going to try to get some 190-proof pure alky and soak the grain in that and spread it around the auditorium. If they get enough, they ought to be pretty easy to pick up."

So, Boss, if that's what you want, I'll from time to time continue to fearlessly and honestly report about city hall trapping. By the way, I'm told "Sweet Bird of Youth" is required reading among the trappers.

Baby-Selling Expose Noted

LAREDO (AP) — A Laredo physician thinks publicity from a court of inquiry investigating an alleged baby black market and irregularities in birth registration could start legislative reform in state laws.

Dr. Michael Tristan made the statement Tuesday when he testified in the court of inquiry at which stories of money being paid to adopt babies were related.

Dr. M. E. Malakoff, another Laredo physician, said he had suspected baby placement irregularities and called for changes in the state laws on birth registration.

Among testimony Tuesday was that of Dr. Tristan and Webb County Child Welfare Supervisor Bobby Harr that a couple identified as Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stone paid money for a baby to Mrs. Emma Lopez, a Laredo midwife.

Dr. Tristan said the Stone couple fell in love with the child and wound up spending hundreds of dollars in medical care because the child turned out to be in bad health.

Water Plans Are Outlined

STANTON (SC)—Dwain McMillen, promotion manager for the Treanor Equipment Co. of Abilene, presented a film, "Water Bill U.S.A.," for the Stanton Lions Club Wednesday. The program pointed out the growing water problems and the program of progress to harness and control this asset.

Dr. Allen Fisher led the group in a sing-song, with Lion Sweetheart, Mrs. John Wood, at the piano. Bob Cain, president, said the co-sponsored Musical and Beauty Contest is to be presented by the club and the Stanton Music Club, March 25, in the high school auditorium. Plans were made for Lions Club Ladies Night, to be held, Feb. 15, at 7 p.m. in Cap Rock Electric Auditorium.

Tom Ed Angel was program chairman of the meeting.

Transport Worker Trouble Rekindled

NEW YORK (AP) — The Transport Workers Union says it will insist that its strike-won contract be honored by the city, despite a state court's view that the bus and subway workers cannot collect a pay raise for three years.

"New York's transit workers will insist that the Transit Authority and the mayor live up to the agreement," said a spokesman for the AFL-CIO union.

State Supreme Court Justice Irving H. Saypol, in a ruling Wednesday on a taxpayer's suit, sharply rebuked the authority for its agreement to pay 34,000 transit workers about $60 million they won during last month's crippling 12-day strike.

Report Made On Case Of Fired Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Internal Security subcommittee has released another of its voluminous reports on the case of Otto F. Otepka, former chief security evaluator for the State Department.

Otepka was fired two years ago after he was accused of handing over classified documents without authorization to the Senate subcommittee. He is still on the government payroll pending an appeal.

The latest report — No. 12 — contains testimony given in September, 1963, by George J. Pasquale, who worked for the State Department as an electronics engineer.

Much of Pasquale's testimony dealt with accusations against Elmer D. Hill, a former State Department official who resigned after an unsuccessful effort to tap Otepka's telephone.

Former Grand Dragon 'Doubts Klan Violence'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, a one-time Wilmington, Del., policeman, continues his testimony about the organization's activities today.

Ralph E. Pryor Jr., ex-chief of the United Klan in Delaware, followed former Alabama grand dragon Robert Creel before the House Committee on Un-American Activities Wednesday.

Creel testified for hours, and told a story of heading the Klan's realm of Alabama without really knowing much about what it was doing.

He could remember the names of only a few Klansmen, had often signed checks in blank, and testified he really couldn't believe Klansmen participated in acts of violence or terrorism attributed to them.

The 35-year-old ex-dragon was the first high elected official of the Klan to answer questions in the committee's months-old investigation of the Klan.

Rep. John Buchanan, R-Ala., commented after Creel's testimony that it is "beyond my imagination that the Klan is not connected with acts of violence."

Pryor testified he quit the Klan last November after attending a rally at Rising Sun, Md., that was "more like a Nazi funeral than a Klan rally."

He said it made him "sick at my stomach."

This rally, Pryor said, was a memorial to Daniel Burros, a former member of a Nazi party group and later Klan grand dragon of New York.

Burros committed suicide after the New York Times disclosed he was Jewish born.

FCC Resumes CATV Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission took up today where it left off last spring in its scrutiny of the impact of community antenna television (CATV) on federally licensed television.

The closed meeting was expected to be the first in a long series as the FCC debates the extent to which it will regulate the CATV industry.

The result, sources close to the commission said, is expected to be a decision to control all 1,600 CATV systems in the nation — including the more than 1,000 that operate merely by erecting a master antenna outside a town to pull down available television signals and transmit them by cable into the homes of fee-paying subscribers.

ASSUME CONTROL

The commission decided last spring to assume control of the 450 or so CATV operations that use microwave relay systems already controlled by the FCC — to relay the programs of distant television stations to their master antennas.

At the heart of the controversy between broadcasters and CATV interests is the so-called "carriage and non-duplication" requirement now in effect.

TO LIMITS

Aimed at protecting television stations, this requirement dictates that a microwave-served CATV system must carry all local channels to the limits of its channel capacity, and black out all programs from distant stations that duplicate the programs of local stations for 15 days before and after local broadcasts.

The commission begins consideration of new rules with a 93-page plan of its staff, urging it to impose tight restrictions on CATV operators for five years.

Four Injured In Collision

A two-car collision at Fifteenth and Johnson Wednesday morning sent four persons to local hospitals.

Officers said the collision at 9:54 a.m. involved cars driven by Norris Dean Padgett, 1602 Johnson, and Mrs. Theo Deel, 909 E. 16th. Padgett was listed in satisfactory condition by attendants at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital this morning.

Mrs. Deel and three-year-old Tony Deel, who was a passenger in the Deel car, were listed in good condition by Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital attendants today.

A second passenger in the Deel car, Mrs. Edna Wilkinson, 1600 State, was listed in good condition at Cowper Clinic and Hospital by attendants there today.

Two other accidents Wednesday injured no one. Involved were cars driven by William Wood Watson, 608 W. 16th, and Floyd Smart, 818 W. 7th, in the 700 block of Aylford; and cars operated by Tommie Lee Hutchinson, 1006 NW 3rd, and Rutilio Garcia Guerra, Luther, at US 87 and IS 20.

An accident Tuesday involved no injuries, officers said. The collision at Seventeenth and Runnels was between cars driven by Cleta J. Tindall, 1102 Runnels, and Barbara Wisener, 1609 Gregg.

Repeal Of 14B Likely Doomed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new attempt to win Senate approval for a House-passed bill to end the right of states to outlaw the union shop is expected to end in failure today.

This presumably would close the door for the present congressional session on the proposal to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, to which the nation's labor leaders have assigned top priority. The Johnson administration has endorsed the repeal proposal.

The section permits states to outlaw union-shop contracts under which employees must join the union.

CLOSURE VOTE

The Senate votes for the second time this week on an attempt to invoke cloture and cut off a filibuster which has blocked attempts to bring the repeal measure up for formal Senate consideration.

An initial attempt to stop the filibuster failed Tuesday when supporters of the repeal move had a 51-48 margin, 15 short of the two-thirds necessary to limit Senate debate.

The prospects were that the bill's backers would do little — if any — better today.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, of Montana has said that if he failed this time to impose cloture, he would lay the bill aside and not attempt to call it up again this year.

However, the measure would remain on the Senate calendar.

Presumably if something new unforeseen happens to improve its chances, Mansfield could reverse himself and try to bring it up again this session.

Mansfield first sought to get consideration for the measure last October after it had won 221-203 approval from the House.

Hubcaps, Gas Can Reported Taken

Esquel Valles 1109 N. Goliad, told officers Wednesday four hubcaps and the rear-view mirror were stolen from his car while it was parked at Cedar Crest School between 9 and 12 p.m. Tuesday.

Another theft was reported Tuesday, officers said. J. A. Shipley, 110 Algeria, said a gas can worth $1.25 was taken from his garage.

CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH

Research Working To Eliminate Oral Disease

Recent research in dentistry has brought us much closer to the time when oral disease will be eliminated completely, according to Dr. Maynard K. Hine, president of the American Dental Association. The ADA is currently observing the 18th National Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 6-12, the theme of which is "Keep a Smile for Your Future."

"Of necessity, research takes many years," says Dr. Hine, "but the experiments taking place in laboratories today will safeguard the dental and oral health of generations of children not yet born."

Scientists are now investigating the life-saving qualities of the laser beam, a highly concentrated and powerful beam of light. It has already been used successfully in treating cancer and certain eye defects. Now dental researchers are testing its effect on tooth enamel in hopes of using it to bond metal to tooth enamel. Dr. Hine notes, "A new kind of adhesive filling material is also being tested. Because it sticks flush to the tooth surface, this filling material may well eliminate a major cause of recurrent decay, the leakage of mouth fluids beneath fillings. "Designing a filling material that will actually bond itself to the tooth will be a major breakthrough for the dental profession," says Dr. Hine.

Experiments are also being conducted with tooth transplants and implants. Dentists have successfully re-implanted human teeth and are now working with animals on a method for implanting synthetic teeth.

While years of laboratory research and experimentation with animals are necessary before a new drug or technique is ready for the public, dental scientists are constantly working toward making these discoveries applicable to and available for humans.

Dr. Hine points out, however, that tomorrow's breakthroughs may come too late for those who neglect their teeth now. He recommends periodic precautionary visits to the dentist for all

Pipe Recovery Reveals Theft

Recovery of about $700 worth of pipe and pipe fittings Wednesday from a pipeyard here by Sheriff A. N. Standard and his deputies not only cleared up a burglary in San Angelo, but was the reason that the burglary was discovered.

Standard said that his office received a tip relative to the stolen pipe. It was investigated and the pipe and fittings were identified as coming from a San Angelo yard. Tom Green County officials checked the report. The pipe yard had not known it had been looted. The burglary was apparently committed Monday night.

On the basis of the investigation which followed, an arrest has been made in San Angelo in the case, the sheriff said.

Candace Mossler's Nephew Described As 'Venomous'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Melvin Lane Powers has been described as quick with a knife and possessed of a venomous nature — two traits the state hopes may help brand him the slayer of multimillionaire Jacques Mossler.

One witness, Earl G. Martin, said he came once upon Powers thrusting a sharp letter opener into a table.

"He said if he had his way, and nobody would find out, he would take that knife and jug (stab) and jug and jug him until he was dead."

Martin, a repairman who worked for Powers, said Powers was talking about Mossler, 60. The date, Martin said, was seven months before Mossler was slain in his Key Biscayne apartment, June 30, 1964. The victim died after being bludgeoned and then stabbed 39 times with a sharp, slender instrument.

Powers' trial with his aunt, Candace Mossler, widow of the slain victim, resumes today. The state said it plans to offer further testimony about an alleged love affair between aunt and nephew. State Atty. Richard Gerstein said in court Wednesday that this "underlies the entire case."

Powers, 29, and his aunt, who gives her age as 39, are accused of plotting the slaying of her husband while engaged in a torrid love affair. The state says Powers was the actual killer, with his aunt's connivance.

Court attendants found it necessary to close the ceiling-high metal doors outside Circuit Judge George Schulz' sixth-floor Dade County courtroom against the curious. The courtroom seats only 150 spectators, and more than twice that many seek admission daily.

PASSED AS WIFE

In early testimony Wednesday several witnesses from Houston, Tex., home town of Powers and base of the Mossler financial empire, said Powers had passed his aunt Candace as his wife. The witnesses had been friends or prospective customers at Powers' trailer sales firm in the Houston area. They said he had displayed to them snapshots of the attractive Mrs. Mossler and described her as his wife some months before her marriage to Mossler ended with his violent death.

One witness, Jesse B. Young, a policeman in the Houston area, said he ran into Mrs. Mossler with Powers.

"He introduced me to her as his wife, Mrs. Powers — she said, 'Glad to meet you, how are you,' something like that, Young said.

Another witness was George Nize, who rented an apartment to Powers in Houston, and who commented when the nephew displayed his aunt's photograph as that of his wife:

"IN LOVE"

"I said she looked kind of old. He said 'When you are in love, age means no difference,' and of course I agreed."

Mrs. Mossler is sensitive about her age, which the state thinks is 47. She had to endure a ripple of laughter from courtroom spectators. She didn't appear to change expression, however.

The state wound up the 20th day since the trial began Jan. 18 with Martin on the witness stand.

Martin testified that he went to work at Powers' trailer sales firm in August, 1963. He said Mrs. Mossler used to drop by in a Lincoln Continental. "She sat with Mr. Powers out there in the Lincoln, kissing and hugging," Martin said.

Martin testified that in November, 1963, Powers asked him if he would like to make some money by killing Mossler. "I said, 'No sir, get yourself another boy,'" the witness went on. "I said 'What would Mrs. Mossler say.' He said she knew about it."

Residents Reject A School Budget After 82 Years

PITMAN, N. J. (AP) — For the first time since the school system was set up in 1884, residents of this Gloucester County community have voted down a school budget.

By a vote of 606 to 268, the townspeople rejected the $969,000 budget for the 1966-67 school year.

Every previous budget for the past 82 years has been approved. There are about 2,400 pupils enrolled in the town's three elementary schools and one high school. The Board of Education can resubmit the budget within 15 days.

Go After 20th Win Tonight

The Runnels Junior High Yearlings (above), who have already won more games than any Runnels basketball team in history, go after their 20th success in 24 starts at 8 o'clock in the high school gymnasium. Their opponents will be their cross-town rivals, the Goliad Mayericks, winners of six contests this season. The Yearlings have won two tournaments and finished as runnersup in another one. Back row, from the left, they are coach Dan Bustamante, John Patton, Jesse Brown, Luvena Flores, Claudi Tucker, Johnny Hedges and Larry Newton. Middle row, Tommy Switzer, Rey Lee Warren, Brent Brooks, Lee Harris, Rocky Woolley and Albert Ramirez. Front row, Tony Perez, James Brown, Bill Davis, Lowell McDaniel and Thomas Jones. Eight Vets On Hand For Baseball Drills

Coaches Roy Baird and Tom Baird had planned to take his team back to Eunice, N.M., for a tournament there but the Steers will be involved in conference play at the time and will not be able to make the trip. The Longhorns, however, will meet Eunice in the first round of the Andrews tournament March 25. The coaches will build their teams around seven lettermen, including an all-district catcher, Yogi Anderson. Other letter winners returning include Gary Mearns and Bob Griffin, pitchers; Greg Pate, second baseman; Sammy Mims, shortstop; and Jesse Zapata, and Berry King, outfielders. David Mitchell and Johnny McCullough, both pitchers, are among promising squadmen returning while outstanding sophomores on hand include R. J. Englert and Tony Martinez. The Steers open conference play a week early this year, against Midland Lee here Tuesday, March 29. They close out on the road May 14 against San Angelo. Last year's Longhorns finished with a 5-8 conference record.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Think we Americans are not a little daft about sports? A reputable research group says we'll spend over $3 billion on sporting goods this year. And that figure only includes the money we'll invest on sporting goods, such as golf clubs, water skis and skateboards. The figure does not take into consideration the billions we will pay out for tickets to sporting events such as football, basketball and baseball games. Neither does it include the billions which will be bet on athletic contests, nor the salaries of our professional athletes, nor the money our colleges will spend on "amateur" athletics in efforts to field a winner. Fact is, that $3 billion estimate is probably only about ten per cent of what the economists like to call the "recreation dollar."

Coahoma Set For Title Run

FORT STOCKTON—Coahoma is one of the Division III favorites in the 22nd annual Comanche Relays, which will be held here Feb. 26. The meet annually opens the outdoor track season in Texas. A total of 85 teams are entered in three divisions. In all, 1,000 athletes are due to be on hand. Taylor, Denver City and Mc-Camey are favored along with Coahoma in Division III. Division I powers include Odessa Permian, Abilene Cooper, San Angelo Central and Lubbock Monterey while Monahans, Andrews and Snyder are choices in Division II. Teams are entered from as far away as El Paso, Falfurrias, Abilene and Borger. A special mile event will be run, featuring ten boys who have covered the distance in 4:30 or under. They include Robert Gonzales, who negotiated the distance in 4:13 as a sophomore last year; and Homer Martinez, who ran a 4:19 mile as a junior in 1965. Both hail from Falfurrias. R. L. Lasater, Big Spring, still holds the over-all record in the 100-yard dash with a 9.7 clocking, set in 1959. Big Spring is entered in this year's cinder carnival, along with both Midland high school teams, Lamesa, Snyder, Colorado City, and Stanton.

Lubbock Monday night. The win was the 13th in 20 starts for the Chaparrals this season. Two of LCC's defeats have been to Amarillo College and the Texas Tech freshmen and the Chaparrals have avenged both of those reversals. Les Perrin, the Lubbock mentor, will probably go with a lineup consisting of Jerry Johnson, 6-5; Robert Evans, 6-2; Marvin Levels, 6-4; Jim Harp, 5-10; and Gene Hight, 6-5. Ernest Cheshire and Bubba Harris are others who will play a lot for the invaders. Evans is averaging over 26 points a game for the Chaparrals while Harp is putting them through the hoop at an average of about 20 per game. Evans scored 30 points against ACC while Harp had 24. LCC is now 5-1 in league competition and a win tonight would just about nail down second place for the Chaparrals. Buddy Travis, the local mentor, is likely to start a lineup consisting of Henry Willis, Charles Vass, Kurt Papp, Larry Morris and Barry Hughley or Leon Smith. The Hawks will have only nine players in uniform, now that Hosley has gone on the shelf. The Hawks are also booked to play Saturday night, at which time they go to Clarendon. They stay in the Panhandle through Monday to oppose Frank Phillips in a return game. The locals need a win in both games this week to pull even at 5-5 in the WC race.

Celtics Have 3-Game Lead

Less than two weeks ago, the Boston Celtics were out of first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division. Today they hold a three-game edge over Cincinnati and Philadelphia, and they indicate the margin may grow bigger. The Celtics trimmed New York 121-117 Wednesday night, snapping the Knicks' four-game winning streak. In other games, Philadelphia rolled past Detroit 108-91 and Los Angeles outlasted Baltimore 123-116 in overtime. The Celtics' victory was their sixth in the last eight games and boosted their lead over Philadelphia to three games. Mel Counts sparked the Boston triumph, scoring 18 points and grabbing nine rebounds in just 14 minutes of play. With New York threatening in the final quarter, the 7-footer came off the bench and scored six straight points for a 108-99 Celtics' lead. Six Celtics scored 15 points or better with Bull Russell leading the group with 20. Dick Barnett had 32 for the Knicks. Will Chamberlain poured in 30 points as Philadelphia owned Detroit. He now needs only 98 points to equal Bob Pettit's all-time NBA scoring record of 20,880.

Irish Record 1st Victory In 14 Tilts

By TED MEIER Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a night to remember for the Irish of Notre Dame and the Redmen of St. John's University in college basketball. The Irish snapped a 13-game losing streak and the Redmen won in Philadelphia for the first time in seven years. Notre Dame's first victory since Dec. 15 when the Irish downed Bowling Green was a decisive 84-61 home decision over Butler Wednesday night. Led by Jim Monahan's 19 points, the Irish opened a 12-0 lead and had little trouble winning their fourth game against 15 defeats.

In contrast, the Redmen from New York had to go two overtimes for a 75-72 squeaker over Temple. It was St. John's first victory in the Palestra at Philadelphia since Jan. 6, 1959. Bob McIntyre's basket in the closing seconds of regulation time tied the score for St. John's at 61-61 after Sonny Dove prevented a possible winning lay-up by Temple's Jim Williams by knocking the ball out of bounds.

Williams' two free throws gave Temple a 65-65 tie at the end of the first overtime. But with five seconds left in the second extra period and St. John's ahead 73-72, he missed twice from the foul line. In the last seconds Temple's Chris Kafalos fouled Henry Chess who made good on two free throws for St. John's final points.

Clarence Brookins of Temple was high scorer with 26 points. Dove topped St. John's with 24 while McIntyre got 21. The game was part of a doubleheader. Lafayette beat LaSalle 93-81 in the opener.

The Providence Friars and the St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia, the only teams in the Associated Press Top Ten to see action, each won handily. Back at home, after Sunday's upset defeat by Duquesne, the sixth-ranked Friars whipped Fairfield 74-62 behind Jim Benedict's 25 points. The eight-ranked Hawks crushed Seton Hall 119-94, the worst home-court defeat ever suffered by the Pirates.

Henry Finkel's basket with 54 seconds left put Dayton ahead of Xavier of Ohio 72-71 and his two free throws with two seconds to go sealed the Flyers' 76-73 road victory over the Musketeers. It was Dayton's 17th triumph against three defeats.

All Five Winners In Phoenix Field

By BOB EGER Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, off to his fastest winter tour start in history, was the man to beat as the $60,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament opened today over a soggy Arizona Country Club course. Palmer, who has a first, two seconds and a third in four starts this year, won the Phoenix event in 1961, 1962 and 1963. Palmer and the rest of the field, which includes all five 1966 champions, were keeping an eye on the sky. Rain and hail forced cancellation of Wednesday's pro-am competition midway through the round. Partly cloudy skies were expected today with a chance of more afternoon showers. Temperatures ranging from the mid 30s to the mid 50s were forecast. Ken Venturi, the 1964 U.S. Open champ, was one of those most concerned with the cold. His hands, operated on last summer for circulatory problems, are easily numbed by chilly weather, and he must employ gloves and hand warmers on brisk days.

First Out-First Win

Monthley Mode, a two-year-old filly owned by Fred W. White of Big Spring, won the first start of her career at Sunland Park last Friday. The promising miss has her sights set on the $25,000 Riley Allison Futurity to be run closing day, April 10. Jockey Bruce Brinkley is aboard the winner.

Venturi, who captured the Lucky International title last month in San Francisco, played in what there was of Wednesday's pro-am and appeared to have little difficulty with the cold. Venturi and Palmer, who won the Los Angeles Open, join Bob Hope Classic champ Doug Sanders, San Diego Open winner Billy Casper and Bing Crosby titlist Don Massengale in the field.

Riding Great Got Start In Texas

EL PASO—Ismael (Milo) Valenzuela was riding match races at old Cowboy Park in El Paso at the "ripe old age of Triple eight," the talent who saw the talented Lat'n doubted that he would someday be a great riding star. However, few of his admirers thought he would become a Kentucky Derby winner, a horse that would win $2 million in purses.

Rod Funseth is the defending Phoenix champion. The 32-year-old Spokane, Wash., campaigner used the tourney as a springboard to his best season ever — $30,647 in official money — last year. Although he's won just $2,341 over-all so far in 1966, Funseth's closing rounds of 66-66 were the best in last week's Bob Hope event.

Only a handful of pros finished before rain washed out Wednesday's activity. Of those who did, George Knudson and Randy Glover had the best scores with 69s.

Coach Resigns

JUNCTION, Tex. (AP)—Head coach Kenneth Mitchell will relinquish his coaching duties this spring at Junction High School and become assistant administrator of federal programs in public schools here.

Enjoying Standout Season

Although it appears they are not going to get out of district this season, the Garden City Beakittens (above) are enjoying one of the finest basketball seasons in the school's history. They are now 6-2 within District 67-B and 18-5 over-all and won the San Angelo Lake View tournament earlier this year. The Kittens play in Robert Lee Friday night.

Actor Breaks Out Of B-Picture Rut

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Man riding a tiger: Adam West. He's Batman. Holy residuals! You know what that means: He's going to be rich. He may also be branded for life with a bat emblem on his chest. Is he worried? Not our hero.

"I was worried at first," admitted television's foe of wrongdoers. "I was afraid that my own identity might be submerged in the trappings of a freak in tights. But then I realized I should be able to make the craze work to my advantage."

"Before, I was limited to playing leads in low-budget movies. The series has given me the exposure — God knows — so that perhaps I would now be considered for important pictures, which is what I'm after."

"Unless the thinking of the major producers has become senile, they can perceive that I'm not Batman."

MALIBU PAD

Indeed he is not. Batman is the square's square. Adam West is hip. Batman lives in a manor that looks left over from a George Arliss movie; Adam West has a pad at Malibu Beach. Batman spends most of his time in the company of his ward Robin. When not working, Adam West is often accompanied by a local chick.

You see, there is a difference. West terms himself "an overnight smash after 12 years." He started as a television announcer in Sacramento after leaving Stanford University, has been a writer, milkman, cowboy and actor. His most notable achievement heretofore was playing a secondary banana to Robert Taylor in "The Detectives" series.

HAS 2 CHILDREN

Following breakup of his marriage — he has two young children — he went to Italy in an attempt to break out of the B-picture rut. He was making progress as an American actor abroad when Batman signaled his return.

West approached the role with the same cogitation of Laurence Olivier planning Othello. Well, almost.

"Batman must be played with utter conviction," he reasoned. "There is a thin line which must follow between satirizing the character and playing it dead-serious."

Cross Trial Witnesses Called For Feb. 14 Start

AUSTIN (AP) — Defense attorneys for James C. Cross Jr., charged with strangling two university coeds last summer, said today four witnesses have been asked to appear for Cross in his trial starting Feb. 14.

Charles R. Burton, one of Cross' attorneys, said subpoenas have been issued for four defense witnesses. They are Tom Keith, Mrs. Birdie S. Elder and Dr. Robert B. Holgren, all of Fort Worth, and Bradley E. Smith, Wellington, Kan.

Burton refused to say if other witnesses would be called in Cross' defense against charges he murdered Susan Riesby and Shirley Ann Stark, both of Dallas.

STATE WITNESSES

Ten prosecution witnesses called include Mr. and Mrs. J. Neill Kinard, Dallas, aunt and uncle of Miss Stark and her legal guardians; Mitchell Stark, Kilgore; Miss Stark's father, Mrs. Robae Rigsby, Dallas; Miss Rigsby's mother, Bill Norman; Dr. Earl F. Rose, Dallas County medical examiner who performed the autopsy, and Dr. R. M. Brumage and Dr. John L. Mitchell, Dallas dentists who helped identify the bodies from dental charts.

Cross pleaded innocent Jan. 28 to the two indictments of murder with malice. Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell said he will be tried specifically in the slaying of Miss Rigsby. The state has served notice it will ask the death penalty.

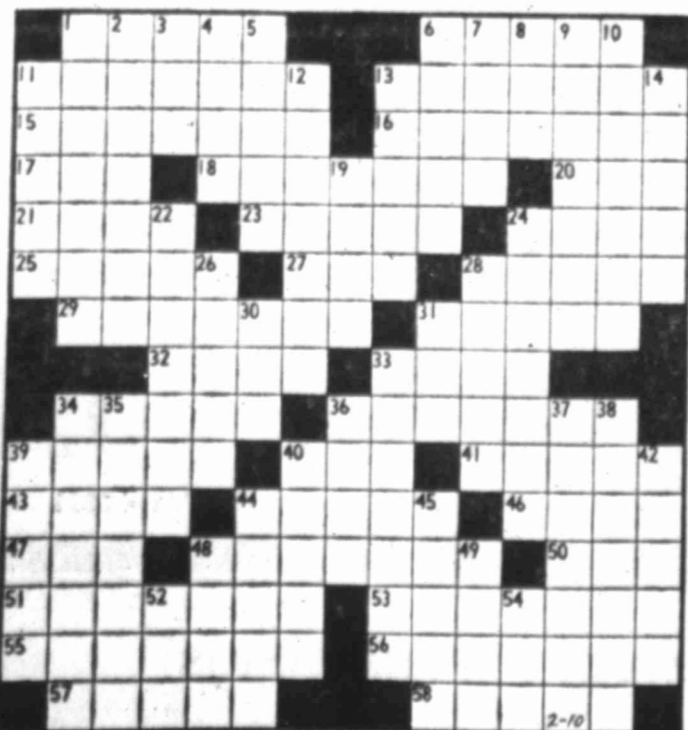

650 SUMMONED
Dist. Judge Mace B. Thurman has summoned 650 prospective jurors and questioning of the venire is expected to take several days before actual testimony begins.

Thurman has refused to comment on the trial but has indicated several times he will order the jury confined in the court house dormitories when the trial is not in session. Under a revised state code of criminal procedure, a judge is given authority either to confine man, Denton, John Stemmons, a jury or, if he wishes, to let them go home during recesses.

Couple Recites Vows In Baptist Church

Miss Sandra Louise Hughes became the bride of Michael Clifton Woods Saturday evening at the Airport Baptist Church.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL C. WOODS

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Hughes, 223 Mobile, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Woods, 906 Central, Coahoma.

Altar decorations included a single spray of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums against a background of wedding palms.

Mrs. C. VanVleet Receives Recipes During Luncheon

Mrs. Claude VanVleet, director of nursing at the Big Spring State Hospital, was honored by staff members Wednesday at a recipe shower and luncheon at Coker's Restaurant.

Hostesses were Mrs. Albert McGuffey, Mrs. Joe Ward and Mrs. E. L. Cochran. The head table was decorated in a geometric pattern with an arrangement of brightly-colored sponges arranged in a recipe box.

Courtney HD Club Studies Citizenship

STANTON (SC)—Mrs. Claude Davis was hostess when the Courtney Home Demonstration Club met Thursday at her home with Mrs. Albert Pitman in charge of the program, "Citizenship."

Political Rally Slated At Gay Hill School

A cake auction will be held following the political rally, Feb. 25, sponsored by the Gay Hill Parent-Teacher Association.

Society Plans Social Hours For Women

The Altar Society of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church will serve coffee and doughnuts following the 8 and 10 a.m. masses at the church next Sunday.

During the study hour, the Rev. Francis Beazley led the program, "The Layman and Politics," which stressed that Christians should uphold good government and participate by voting and serving in offices.

Members were reminded that Family Game Night will begin at 7:30 p.m. Sunday when the hostess will be Mrs. Dan L. Maestas.

Flower-Drying Methods Explained To Gardeners

Flower-drying methods were explained during the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Four O'Clock Garden Club. The members met at the home of Mrs. Carroll Cannon, 1515 Hilltop.

Mrs. B. E. Reagan, student judge, was the speaker. She discussed the methods of flower drying and stressed that before a plant is put into the drying solution, the petals should be glued at the base.

Mrs. Guy Cook gave a short talk on the use of garden pots. She said that the pool bottom should be painted black for cloud reflection and that, if stocked with fish, water lily and umbrella palm should be used.

Mrs. Bill Swindell described proper pruning procedures, and members were reminded that the club's landscaping projects were in need of shrubs and plants.

Rainbows Need Old Nylon Hose

The collecting of old nylon hose as a benefit project was encouraged at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls.

Methodist Circle Has Book Study

"Mission, the Christian Calling," was the book study given during the Tuesday evening meeting of the Reba Thomas Circle of First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Bill Gray gave the treasurer's report, and Mrs. Morris Farrow conducted the program.

Mrs. Martin Staggs gave the closing prayer, and refreshments were served. Decorations followed the valentine theme.

Refreshments were served and the next meeting set for March 9 with Mrs. Joe Horton.

Toastmistress Dinner Sparked By Talks

Mrs. R. W. Johnston led the toxicology drill at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Toastmistress Club.

Mrs. Richard Shaver gave the invocation, and Mrs. James Brooks was toastmistress for the evening.

Speech valentines were Mrs. M. A. Porter, Mrs. Sieja, Mrs. Larson Lloyd and Mrs. Shaver.

VALENTINE DAY
It's also good to eat

Perfect Day Begins With Coffee Angel

What better proof of your devotion on Valentine's Day than your finest coffee and a beautiful Coffee Angel Cake? High, wide and handsome, the luscious dessert is composed of four airy layers, with coffee-marshmallow filling.

Coffee Angel is just right for four couples, an elegant sweet for after-dinner coffee. Make your coffee demitasse, served in your prettiest demitasse cups.

COFFEE ANGEL
1 pkg. angel food cake mix
24 regular-size marshmallows
1/2 cup strong, hot coffee
1 cup whipping cream, divided

2 tbsps. chocolate syrup
Prepare cake mix as directed on package. Lightly grease 4 layer cake pans, 9 inches in diameter. Line bottoms of pans with waxed paper circles. Spread batter evenly in pans. Bake at 325 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes or until top springs back when lightly touched. Invert pans on cake racks. When thoroughly cool remove layers from pans. Peel off waxed paper. (If you prefer, buy a baker's angel food cake and cut crosswise into 4 layers. Meanwhile, melt marshmallows in coffee over low heat, stirring often. Chill until partially set. Whip 1/2 cup cream; fold in. Spread between cake layers. Whip remaining cream; fold in chocolate syrup. Spread on top of cake. Garnish with chocolate curls, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

Use Deviled Ham For Sandwiches

Finely chop 1 fresh nectarine; blend into 1/2 cup crunchy peanut butter or a small can deviled ham as a refreshing sandwich spread. If you wish, spread several sandwiches at once, wrap lightly in foil and freeze until needed.

Prunes Make Cherry Cake

Since prunes are in such abundance, schedule this Ring of Hearts Cobbler for a Valentine's Day dessert. The cobbler also includes red tart cherries, another February plentiful. The recipe calls for 2 cups plumped prunes, 1 can (1 pound) pitted tart red cherries, two-thirds cup sugar, 1/4 cup red cinnamon candies, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons water, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup biscuit mix, one-third cup milk, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 egg.

Pit the prunes and drain the cherries, saving the juice. Add water or prune cooking liquid to cherry juice to measure 1 1/2 cups. Add two-thirds cup sugar and cinnamon candies. Bring to boil and simmer until candy dissolves. Combine cornstarch and water, and blend into hot liquid. Cook until thickened and clear, stirring constantly.

Add butter and simmer until butter melts. Add cherries and prunes and turn into a 1-quart baking dish. Place in 425 F. oven for 10 to 15 minutes while making topping. Combine biscuit mix, milk, 1 tablespoon sugar, and egg, and mix to a stiff dough. Roll out on floured board to about 1/4-inch thickness.

Cut into heart shapes and arrange over hot fruit. Bake until golden brown, 15 to 20 minutes. Makes six to eight servings.

February's Sentiments Strawberry Dish Shows

Roses are red, violets are blue, sugar is sweet — and so is delectable Strawberry Valentine. On Feb. 14, it conveys the sentiments of the day and provides a memorable dessert as well. Thanks to the presence of strawberries, the dessert is appropriately rosy. And thanks to the presence of reliable unflavored gelatin, the texture is light and fluffy. There is no cooking involved — or only the length of time required to dissolve the unflavored gelatin. The ingredients are combined and simply chilled until firm. The dessert may go into a five-cup mold, or it may be turned into a glass bowl or sherbet glasses to avoid unmolding. However you choose to serve it, airy Strawberry Valentine enlivens the holiday.

1/4 cup sugar, divided
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup milk
1 pkg. (10 ozs.) frozen strawberries
1/2 tsp. vanilla
2 egg whites
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Mix together gelatin, 2 tablespoons of the sugar and salt in saucepan. Stir in milk. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat. Add strawberries and flavoring. Stir until strawberries are thawed and mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining 2 tablespoons sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into 5-cup mold. Chill until firm.
Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

If you want your skillet-fried onions to be limp, cook them in butter or margarine until they are golden brown, then cover the skillet and steam them until they're very soft. Use onion rings or thin onion strips for this dish.

Make an extra-big meat loaf. Serve it right from the oven for one meal. For the next time around, brown slices of the loaf in butter or margarine in a skillet.

Use equal amounts of diced leftover roast beef and cubed boiled potatoes for that hash. Add onion to suit your taste.

Mash Roquefort cheese with a little French dressing and use as a filling for meat patties.

Quick canapes: cut each slice of bread (with crust removed) into three pieces. Spread with mayonnaise and sprinkle with paprika. Carefully arrange a sardine on each strip.

Use at least 1/4 cup each butter and grated Parmesan cheese for dressing a pound of pasta. Cook the pasta in boiling salted water just until tender, then drain thoroughly. Using two forks, toss the pasta with the butter and cheese until the butter melts.

Do and don'ts for brunch

Sunday Breakfast Includes Muffins

By The Associated Press
It appeals to Americans, and it's easy to understand why.

We're talking about brunch. Webster calls it "a meal serving as both breakfast and lunch," its use colloquial.

With our interest in short cuts and efficiency, where else but in this country would brunch be so cherished?

Some food snobs have forewarned the use of this word, but in spite of these would-be taste-makers, the word — and the meal — are here to stay. Brunch describes perfectly the way Americans like to have their first meal on Sundays.

What may be offered at brunch?

Not the foods served at a large and heavy mid-day Sunday dinner — not roast meat, with the exception of ham. If baked ham is served, its partner may be spoon bread or hominy grits. Do not add a green or yellow vegetable with, again, the exception of tomatoes. Fried tomatoes, accompanied by bacon and eggs, have been a Southern specialty for years; they're excellent with baked ham at brunch and may be served baked or broiled instead of fried.

COCONUT MUFFINS
2 cups sifted flour
2 tps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1/4 cup sugar
1 1/3 cups packaged moist toasted coconut
1 egg
1 cup milk
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir in coconut. Beat egg until thick and pale colored; add milk and beat to combine; add to sifted dry ingredients with melted butter. Stir just enough to moisten dry ingredients, do not beat out lumps. Fill greased muffin pans about two-thirds full. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove at once and serve piping hot. Makes 12 large muffins.

MRS. BUDDY REDDEN AND SON, TOMMY

Diet Easily Broken By Trips, Parties

By JO ANN PHINIZY

"I like to cook," said Mrs. Buddy Redden, 2704 Lynn. "Trouble is, we also like to eat; and the trouble with that is, there's always a diet cloud hovering over the house."

Mrs. Redden admits that it's easy to tip the diet canoe around her home. There are those desert-bridge parties, buffet parties, dinner parties; and when it's vacation time, there's no resisting such delicacies as frog legs in Mexico City or Las Vegas, Nev.

"We keep trying," she said. "When I am cooking family meals, everything that can have vitamin C, does; and everything that can be broiled, is."

The meals usually end with a chocolate pudding for son, Tommy, a 13-year-old Goliad Junior High School student.

"Still, I have the feeling that all we are doing is storing up an appetite for a favorite dessert or something."

Mrs. Redden follows an "open" cooking method. "Who does the cooking depends on the occasion," she said.

OUTDOOR GRILL
Weather permitting, the outdoor barbecue grill becomes Redden's perimeter. He concocts his own version of the ideal barbecue sauce and selects the most choice wood in the area. The wood is one of the by-products of his work as assistant superintendent of Halliburton Oil Company. Frequently his tours take him in the near vicinity of mesquite trees; and mesquite wood, as any connoisseur knows, makes for the perfect barbecue meal.

The Reddens enjoy entertaining, and much of it is against a background of bridge games. When the occasion is an afternoon of dessert-bridge, Mrs. Redden is in her element. She says there's no end of pies and cakes a congenial foursome can munch on.

If it is a buffet-bridge style of party, Mrs. Redden serves the kind of food she knows her guests prefer.

"Some of our friends like such things as venison or quail; others had just as soon eat roast beef or ham," she said.

When the entertainment calls for a multi-people event, Mrs. Redden believes that a caterer is the best solution. She says that it is difficult to be the perfect hostess and chef simultaneously.

"Both need full time attention," she said, "besides, when the guests have gone, there's nothing quite so un-interesting as the cleaning up process."

KITCHEN MISTAKE
Mrs. Redden recalls her classic kitchen mistake as the time the whole house almost became a cinder. Actually it could have happened to anyone. All she did was to answer a furniture re-arranging impulse—before she took a skillet of grease off the stove.

Mrs. Redden says that three crucial issues soon developed: First, there was the doubt in finding the kitchen at all; then there was the definite error in trying to carry the flaming skillet out-of-doors; and, finally, there was the problem of trying to explain the whole thing to certain interested individuals.

In selecting some of her favorite recipes, Mrs. Redden chose those that are not likely to win the weight-watching badge, but are plenty good to eat.

MILLIONAIRE PIE
3 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
21 rich crackers
2 1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup whipped cream
1 small can crushed pineapple

1/2 cup chopped pecans
8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
3/4 cup powdered sugar

For Crust: Beat egg whites until stiff and add sugar, salt and vanilla. Crush crackers and fold into mixture and add 2-3 cup chopped pecans. Spread in 10-inch pie pan and bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

For Filling: Mix together cheese and powdered sugar and spread on cool crust. Add in layers the whipped cream, pineapple and 1/2 cup chopped pecans.

BARBECUE SAUCE
1 bottle Worcestershire sauce
2 ounces mustard
1 small can tomato juice
1 tsp. chili powder
2 ounces vinegar
2 tbsps. Tabasco
4 tbsps. hot sauce
1 tsp. garlic puree
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 pound butter
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper

Mix in sauce pan and bring to boil. Makes 2 quarts.
PINK ADOBE APPLE PIE
2 cups flour
3/4 cup shortening
1 tsp. salt
7 tbsps. cold water
1 lb. sliced apples
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
2 tbsps. lemon juice
1/4 cup seedless raisins
1/4 cup white sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1/4 stick butter
2 tbsps. flour
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup butter
1 cup powdered sugar
1 tsp. rum
1 tsp. boiling water

For Crust: Mix flour, shortening, and salt together until crumbly. Add cold water, working until dough holds together. Divide dough into two equal parts; roll one on a floured pastry cloth to line a 9-inch pan. Roll second ball to make top crust.

For Filling: Put apples in lined pie pan and sprinkle with nutmeg, cinnamon and lemon juice. Spread evenly with white sugar and raisins. Mix brown sugar, flour and butter in bowl; when well blended, spread over the contents of the pie pan and sprinkle with pecans. Add most of the milk, cover with the pastry top, prick with fork. Brush remaining milk on pastry. Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake another 30 minutes.

For hard sauce: Cream butter, add sugar and boiling water. Beat in rum and serve on the pie.

CAKE ROLL

Let Your Valentine Eat Chocolate Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you're planning to bake a cake for someone you love who loves chocolate, then you might enjoy trying this spanking-new recipe.

Try a chocolate cake roll that may be made ahead and frozen. When you're ready to serve it, and it's definitely party fare, just take it out of the freezer and offer it pronto. No thawing necessary; it will slice perfectly. If you haven't a freezer, refrigerate the cake after adding this cream filling and frosting.

CREAM FILLING AND FROSTING
2 cups heavy cream
1/4 cup sugar

1 tsp. vanilla
3/4 cup quick chocolate flavored mix

Whip one cup of the cream until almost stiff; gradually beat in sugar and vanilla. Carefully unroll cake and spread with sweetened whipped cream; roll up again. Whip remaining one cup cream until stiff; beat in 1/2 cup of the chocolate flavored mix. Frost roll, reserving 1/4 cup chocolate flavored mix into reserved mixture; put in pastry tube. Make double-heart design on frosted roll. Refrigerate until ready to serve. Roll may be frozen, and may be served thawed. Makes eight servings.

Make Red Tart Cake For Cupid

Need a brilliant dish to enhance the party table on St. Valentine's Day?

Include red tart cherries in the extra special dessert to lend flavor and elegant color, suggests the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Actually, canned and frozen cherries can be used in almost any dessert, for they work wonders with a wide variety of other foods.

For instance, try Cherry-Full Cake — perfect for Valentine's. Spread cherry pie filling between 2 layers of white or yellow cake. Add just enough cherry juice or red food coloring to whipped cream to tint it pink; or fold finely chopped red tart cherries into sweetened whipped cream and frost top and sides of cake.

Cherry Tapioca is a real pleaser to the taste buds. Heat cherries in juice and sweeten to taste, with sugar. Swirl cherries, along with some of the juice, into cooked tapioca pudding. Top with fluffy whipped cream.

While USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports plentiful supplies of red tart cherries, try Cherry Puffs. Bake cream puff shells. Let cool and remove tops. Fold sweetened whipped cream into vanilla pudding and spoon into shells. Chill. Heat red tart cherries in juice, thicken as desired with cornstarch and spice to taste with nutmeg. Spoon hot sauce over puffs.

Cherry Rice Pudding. Prepare a creamy white rice pudding. Heat cherries in juice, sweeten to taste with sugar and ladle over pudding.

For Cake Tunnels

If you have holes and tunnels in the cakes you bake it could be due to one of four things — too much leavening, insufficient liquid, undermixing or too slow an oven.

Queen Of Hearts Can Make Denmark Tarts

This year, it's party spreads that have captured all hearts—and no wonder, when so many of them are made with favorite Danish Blue Cheese. For Valentine's Day, a tasty, quick-mix cheese spread shaped in the spirit of the day is bound to be the heart of the party. You can add a sentimental touch to any party, with a heart of cheese.

Our festive cheese heart — complete with cupid's arrow to prove that we've been captivated — is made with distinctively tangy Danish Blue, blended with butter and brandy, and crusted with broken walnuts. It's wonderfully easy to prepare, dramatic to serve, a joy to the perfectionist hostess. And it's so downright delicious that guests are bound to enjoy it heartily.

If you have one, use a heart mold to shape your Valentine's Day heart; or fashion a heart outline with two triple-folded strips of aluminum foil, bent into a heart shape and secured with a clip at the center; or simply place a heart cut from waxed paper on a serving plate and shape the cheese spread with this as a guide.

Versatile Danish Blue Cheese lends itself favorably to blending with butter or cream or sour cream, and judicious additions of other ingredients ring delightful changes on the theme—try crisp crumbled bacon, for instance, or diced ham. And here is a tip: If you're really in a hurry, pile the spread into a bowl, level off the top, and sprinkle on a heart, with chopped nuts. Or set the bowl on a lace heart cut out of a paper doily.

DANISH BLUE HEART
1 lb. Danish Blue Cheese
1 lb. unsalted butter, at room temperature
4 tbsps. brandy
3/4 cup walnuts, coarsely

chopped
1/2 thin slice cooked ham
Blend Danish Blue Cheese and butter, beating until creamy and light. Beat in brandy. Chill 1/2 hour, until firm enough to shape into a heart. Shape heart, press walnut meats around the edge. Cut an arrow from the ham slice, cut arrow in half, arrange on heart. If any remains, pack into small crock or covered dish, and store in refrigerator for use as spread.

Kitchen Pantry Provides Dessert

Here's a dessert idea based on readily available pantry shelf ingredients to add to your collection.

To make toast shells for fruit tarts, trim crusts from slices of enriched sandwich bread. Butter both sides of bread and dip in cinnamon sugar.

Mold by pressing into lightly greased muffin cups and bake in preheated 400 degree oven 12 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Flavor canned fruit pie filling (try apple or peach) with lemon juice and spoon into baked shells. Top with puffs of whipped cream.

Elegant Dessert Brings Raves

Your guests will love this elegant dessert.

RASPBERRY CREAM CAKE

1 pkg. (10 ozs.) frozen raspberries
1 single 8-in. white cake layer
3/4 pt. heavy cream
3 tbsps. sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla

Defrost and drain raspberries thoroughly; reserve syrup for another use. Slice cake layer in half horizontally. Whip cream until stiff, gradually adding sugar and vanilla toward end of beating.

Spread one of the cut surfaces of cake with some of the cream; arrange raspberries over cream; add another layer of cream. Use about one-third of the whipped cream for this filling.

Salad Dressing

A combination of honey, lemon juice and a dash of salt makes a good dressing for a fruit salad.

Top with remaining cake. Cover filled cake with remaining whipped cream; garnish as desired. Refrigerate until serving time.

SUPPORT FROM SENATORS

Critics Of LBJ Policies Seen Encouraging Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic senators say that attacks on President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies are encouraging the Communists to continue the Viet Nam war.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, said he is convinced that what is keeping North Viet Nam from the negotiations table "is the conviction that we'll tire and quit." He said this belief is being bolstered by senatorial criticism of the President's actions and objectives.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., a Foreign Relations Committee member, said that what he called "the clamor" of the anti-Viet Nam minority "encourages Hanoi and Peking to persist in their aggression, in the mistaken belief that popular resistance to war at home will soon compel the American government to withdraw from Viet Nam."

BEFORE PANEL

The two senatorial supporters of the President spoke out in advance of today's scheduled appearance of George Kennan, former ambassador to the Soviet Union and an expert on Communist affairs, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's inquiry into Viet Nam policies.

Kennan has contended that U.S. involvement in Viet Nam in its present dimensions represents "a grievous disbalance of American policy." He has said it has sacrificed possible improvement in relations with the Soviet Union and put a "deeply regrettable strain" on relations with Japan.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and other policy critics were trying to get together on a possible amendment to a $4.8-billion military authorization bill which might call for presidential restraint in any escalating of the Viet Nam conflict.

"RIDER" CONSIDERED

Clark told a reporter he may offer a policy rider but added: "I am not prepared to say what its nature is. I have it under consideration with a number of other senators."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee which approved the bill Wednesday, said he would oppose any policy rider which might be "damaging to the war effort and to the morale of our fighting forces and those of South Viet Nam."

Senate leaders have agreed to take up the bill next Wednesday, after a Lincoln Day vacation.

Coeds Will Fete, Date Viet Veterans

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The University of Florida student body will provide a fete — and campus beauty queens as dates — for four young Viet Nam combat officers in "Operation Appreciation" this weekend.

"I think it's an excellent idea," said Donna Kay Berger, 19, from New Orleans, Miss. University of Florida and one of four campus belles designated as dates for the weekend.

"I would like to see people in the States back our boys in Viet Nam," added the curvaceous sophomore, who still doesn't know who will be her date for the weekend.

All four officers returned recently from Viet Nam to Fort Bragg, N.C. They are scheduled to arrive here Friday for a round of fraternity and sorority parties, dinners and other gatherings.

The president of the student body, Bruce Culpepper, says:

"Operation Appreciation is an attempt to show the soldiers overseas and the nation that draft-card burners and bearded protesters represent at best a slim minority of college students."

The university administration, Culpepper said, has approved the idea but is staying out of it since it's intended to be a student affair.

Miss Berger, a cheerleader, said she will meet her officer and try to spend as much time with him as possible — "even if that may make some men jealous."

Other girls are Virginia Jasper of Daytona Beach, Fla., blonde former Miss University of Florida and former Orange Bowl queen; brunette Betty Wendt of Coral Gables, Fla., a member of the homecoming sweetheart court last year, and Bee Webber of Winter Park, Fla.

Three of the four Army men named are 2nd Lt. Ken H. Carey, 24, a Purple Heart winner from Florida; 2nd Lt. Edward W. Spinalo, 28, a Bronze Star winner from California, and 1st Lt. William R. Hill, 22, a Silver Star winner from Chicago. The fourth was expected to be named today.

All are bachelors.

"You could call it a date," Miss Berger said. "But I also consider it as being a hostess."

Viet Economic, Social Steps Curbed By War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's government has many plans for political, economic and social improvements. Attempts are being made to carry out some of them, on a limited scale, but most of them are still on the drawing board.

The delay is due to the war and the military buildup that in the past year have far overshadowed politics and other civil endeavors. The military situation dominates the scene.

The government amounts to a military junta made up of the generals who have come out on top after the series of coups and political upheavals which followed the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem in November, 1963. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, an air vice marshal, and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the chief of state, head the junta.

HOLDS TOGETHER

The military government already has lasted longer than many persons expected. Despite rumors of more coups and small-scale moves in recent weeks, it appears to be holding together.

In running the government, the military men meet behind closed doors and, so far at least, have come up with a unified front. There are compromises, and there have been reports of dissent, but no other group is in a position to challenge the military rulers as long as they do not fall out among themselves.

Student groups that once exerted a powerful influence through street demonstrations and other pressures now are quiet.

The Buddhist and Catholic religious groups that played leading roles before and after the fall of Diem have for the most part remained passively on the sidelines since the present government took over. Civilian politicians still talk in the coffee shops, but they represent no central force.

ORIENTAL CONCEPTS

The military government, partly because of the necessity of carrying on the war, has largely ignored the political basics of government characteristic of Western democracies.

There have been no elections for any office other than some powerless local officials. There have been promises of elections in 1967, but any steps in that direction undoubtedly will depend on the military situation and on the military leaders.

The U. S. aid program and agencies of the Vietnamese government have joined in sponsoring and promoting economic and social improvement projects throughout South Viet Nam.

Dear Abby

Should Go On His Own

DEAR ABBY: Shortly after we were married, my husband's brother came to live with us. It's been five years now and I am a nervous wreck. He's a bachelor with a good job, money in the bank, a new car, yet he has no interest in sports, women, church or anything. He spends hours in the bathroom getting ready to go nowhere. He's an authority on every subject and has his nose in everything that goes on in this house. We have absolutely no privacy. When I suggest he find some nice girl and get married, he says only fools get married. My husband says we can't ask him to leave because he has no place to go. What do you say?

SICK OF HIM

DEAR SICK: I say you should tell Bachelor Brother that the two "fools" who have provided a home for him have had it. And if he's not "foolish" enough to take a wife, he should take a bachelor apartment.

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 and am going with a fine young man who is 26. I have the feeling he is going to ask me to marry him, and I hope he does because he would make a wonderful husband. But, Abby, he has only one very bad fault. When he talks he barely opens his mouth. People are always asking him to repeat himself because they can't understand what he says. Also, he won't let himself smile or laugh very much and I'm sure I know why. He has very bad teeth and he's probably self-conscious about them. Is there a tactful way to tell him to have his teeth taken care of? He is so kind and sensitive. I wouldn't hurt him for the world.

RELUCTANT

DEAR RELUCTANT: Do this fine young man a tremendous favor, and TELL HIM! A good dentist can do wonders for him — improving his appearance and adding to his self-confidence. He may then need help from a speech therapist to correct some of the bad speaking habits he formed while attempting to hide his unattractive teeth.

DEAR ABBY: I need your opinion. My husband and I were invited to the home of another couple for coffee. After we had been there for about an hour, the lady started glancing at her watch. I took this as a hint that we should leave, and I had to drag my husband out of his chair. My husband still insists that we left too early, and the lady could have been looking at her watch without wanting us to go home. What do you think?

MINNETTE

DEAR MINNETTE: When the hostess starts "glancing" at her watch, it's a pretty safe bet that it's time to leave. Better to leave a little too early than a little too late.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Luci's Future In-Laws To Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Luci Johnson's future parents-in-law have accepted an invitation from Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson to be guests at the White House this weekend.

When Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., arrive at the White House it will be their first meeting with President and Mrs. Johnson although they have talked on the telephone several times since Luci and Patrick J. Nugent became engaged Christmas Eve.

Willie Mays, Gene Autry ... 'Names' Fly Skies In Viet

NHA TRANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — If you want to meet Gene Autry, Davey Crockett, Daniel Boone, Willie Mays and Davey Jones, come to the South China Sea.

They're all here—in one squadron—flying the skies of South Viet Nam.

Explaining their job — flying men and materiel in the 345th Troop Carrier Squadron's C130 Hercules planes — is easier than explaining their names.

Take Staff Sgt. David Crockett, 28, of Jamestown, Tenn. He does not even know if he's kin to the legendary bear-wrestler and Alamo hero.

TOOK RIBBING

"I really took a ribbing when the song Davey Crockett was the No. 1 hit," said the sergeant. "Now it doesn't bother me at all. I really don't know if my family tree goes back that far."

Crockett says one of his buddies is actually named John Henry. Crockett recalls he rather enjoyed meeting Daniel Boone in Okinawa a year ago. Both are flight engineers.

Boone, 23, of Foley, Ala. says "It's a name that people remember but sometimes I wish they hadn't."

When Boone went through boot camp, his instructor on the rifle range naturally figured a guy with a monicker like that was a born sharpshooter.

NO SHARPSHOOTER

"I barely qualified," Boone said. "He was furious."

Boone also discovered that even in Brazil his is an exciting name.

"We were picking up some troops in Brazil to take to the Dominican Republic," Boone says, and "this one Brazilian came over and read my name tag. He spelled it out slowly, then said it loud, and louder, and ran away waving his hands and yelling 'Daniel Boone!'"

Lt. Gene Autry, 27, from Lillington, N.C., a C130 pilot, knows he is no relation of the singing cowboy but he is in a tough spot trying to tell people that. They won't believe it. He said he once saw Autry at a fair in Raleigh, N.C., but never got a chance to talk to him.

"NO SIDESADDLE"

"My ID card is always coming out of my wallet," Autry says. "What is worse is that my brother-in-law is a second lieutenant in the Air Force in Orlando, Fla. His wife, my sister, gets pretty embarrassed when she introduces us. His name is Andrew Jackson. When Bob Hope had his show over here around Christmas time, I flew him around in my plane. He came over to me one day after reading my name tag and said 'I want your autograph so the people back home will believe me, and by the way, let's not fly sidesaddle while I'm aboard!'"

Other squadron members are Willie Mays, 24, of Tuskegee, Ala., with the same name as the baseball star; and pilot Davey Jones, 26, of Newport Beach, Calif. His counterpart is the sailor's sea spirit.

Aussie Banks Shifting To Dollars, Cents

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Australia's banks were closed today. When they open again on Monday, it will be a whole new world — a world of dollars and cents.

The change to the decimal system, for which Australia has been preparing for two years, is not without problems.

But the government reckons that the four-day bank holiday plus an intensive public educational campaign should keep confusion to a minimum. Although all banking business starting Feb. 14 will be done in dollars, other businesses have up to two years to make the change.

DROP "POUNDS"

Eventually the country will abandon use of English-type money — pounds, shillings and pence — and go to all dollars and cents.

The dollar, the name of the unit chosen, will be equivalent to $1.12 in U.S. money. New Australian bills have been printed in denominations of 1, 2, 10 and 20 dollars. New coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents, 600 million of them, have been minted.

The old currency and coins gradually will be withdrawn as they reach banks. The currencies are interchangeable—for example, a 10-shilling note equals the new Australian dollar.

SIMPLER COINAGE

The move to simpler coinage follows the decision to make the Australian pound—now $2.24—equal two Australian dollars, and the shilling worth 10 cents.

Among the problems are conversion of 500,000 business machines from pounds, shillings and pence to dollars and cents. The government is footing this bill, estimated at $67 million.

Another is coin collectors. Orders for mint sets of the coins have been rolling in for months. One dealer alone asked for 20,000 sets.

The government says it will be able to take care of the numismatists in about a year. Sets are expected to sell for about five times face value.

Bloody Dominican Riot Kills Seven

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Labor leaders and left-wing extremists threatened a general strike today after seven persons were killed and at least 22 injured in day-long rioting in Santo Domingo.

Leftist labor and political leaders charged the police with brutality in the violence touched off by a Communist-led student demonstration Wednesday. They also renewed demands for the quick removal from the country of armed forces leaders who have failed to obey a presidential order assigning them to diplomatic jobs abroad.

The two leading moderate leftist parties, the Revolutionary Social Christians and Juan Bosch's Dominican Revolutionary party were expected to support a strike. Three previous calls for a general strike collapsed because the two parties failed to support it.

VOICE CONCERN

Official sources expressed concern that a successful strike would torpedo negotiations now under way between President Hector Garcia-Godoy and the armed forces leaders on conditions for their departure. No agreement had been reached by Wednesday night, the sources said.

Garcia-Godoy ordered top rebel military leaders and three of the four top men in the armed forces out of the country on Jan. 6 in an effort to ease bitter dissension between the two factions. The rebels have complied.

Wednesday's violence claimed the lives of three students, two civilian bystanders and two policemen. One of the policemen was drenched with gasoline and set afire after being clubbed and stabbed by an angry mob.

A U.S. television cameraman who filmed the incident said he heard the wounded officer groan as flames licked his body.

Authorities said one of the civilian victims, Jacinto Caamano, was a cousin of the former rebel chieftain, Col. Francisco Caamano Dero, who was sent to London as a military attache by Garcia-Godoy.

STUDENT MARCH

The disorders, which lasted far into the night, began when some 600 students marched on the National Palace during the morning. They were demanding the restoration of financial assistance to universities which the government recently cut off while investigating charges of misappropriations of university funds.

The majority of the marchers were grammar and high school teenagers. The demonstration was called by the Communist-controlled Dominican Student federation.

The shooting apparently started when a policeman pushed a student off the garden wall of a home across the street from the palace gates.

The leader of the police detail at the palace claimed the students fired first and hurled rocks at the police. This could not be verified by U. S. newsmen on the scene.

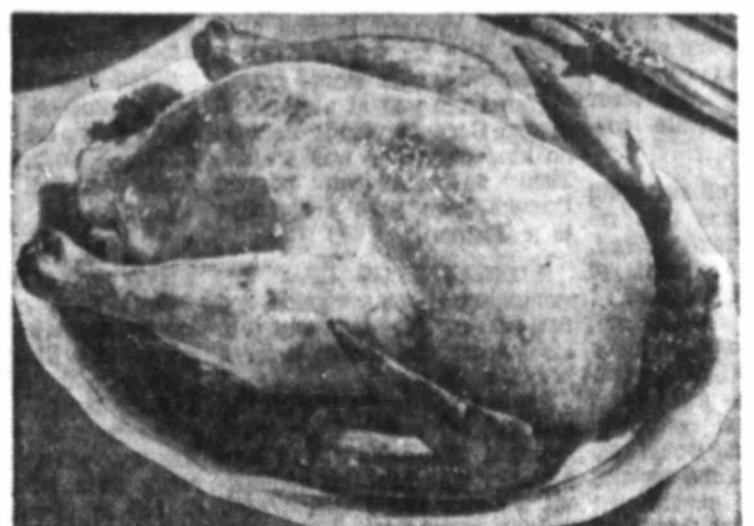

The students dispersed and regrouped in the downtown area, touching off a wave of disorders that disrupted traffic and shut down businesses.

Two vehicles, one of them belonging to a U.N. delegation here, were set afire. Paratroopers from the U. S. 52nd Airborne Division of the Inter-American Peace Force evacuated U. S. Information Service and Canadian Embassy personnel from their downtown offices.

Co-Ops Schedule Important Agenda For Annual Meet

O. B. Bryan, manager, and three members of the board of directors will represent Cap Rock Electric Cooperative at the National Association of Rural Electric Cooperatives next week at Las Vegas, Nev.

They will fly Sunday to the national meeting, which may prove one of the most important in the history of rural electric cooperatives. They plan to return Thursday.

One of the most important matters to come up at the meeting will be a new method of financing rural electric projects. Until now they have been dependent upon REA loans which are financed over a long period of time and at low rates. Funds available from this source, however, are far from adequate to meet the borrowing needs of cooperatives.

In recent weeks, representatives from the national and state associations have been explaining plans to organize rural electric banks much on the order of federal land banks or farm production associations. Larger cooperatives, however, would likely go to the open market for credit.

Choir Boosters To Meet Monday

The Big Spring Choir Booster Association will have its regular monthly meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library, preceded by an executive meeting at 7 o'clock. For the past month the membership drive has been conducted and all new members are invited.

Orderly 1966 Elections

The three-judge federal court at Houston acted reasonably in giving the Texas Legislature until 1967 to redistrict its House — as it also did in the case of invalidated congressional reapportionment — so as not to disrupt this year's election.

The federal court invalidated part of Sec. 26, Art. 3 of the Texas Constitution by holding that the federal court had no power to redistrict.

A federal district is where territory is attached to an existing district so as to give a second representative. There are 11 such federal districts in Texas now.

The court gave the Legislature a choice. It can redistrict in 1967 to eliminate federal districts. Or it can, by inaction, allow federal districts to become multi-member districts.

What The War Is All About

WASHINGTON — "What's the Viet Nam war all about?" Many a person who doesn't follow in detail the ups and downs of a war 10,000 miles away asks that question and begins to wonder how it is related to the safety of the United States.

Out of the many thousands of words written about the war, perhaps the simplest explanation of the whole problem was given by President Johnson on his arrival in Hawaii last Sunday. For he summed up the American case in a plain-spoken way.

"IT IS a question of the gravest importance to all other nations, large or small, whose people seek to walk in peace and independence. For were the Communist aggressors to win in Viet Nam, they would know they can accomplish through so-called wars of national liberation what they could not accomplish through naked aggression in Korea — or insurgency in the Philippines, Greece, and Malaya — or the threat of aggression in Turkey — or in a free election anywhere in the world.

"THERE ARE special pleaders who counsel retreat in Viet Nam. They belong to a group that has always been blind to experience and deaf to hope. We cannot accept their logic that tyranny 10,000 miles away is not tyranny to concern us — or that subjugation by an armed minority in Asia is different from subjugation by an armed minority in Europe.

"We were to follow their course, how many nations might fall before the aggressor? Where would our treaties be respected, our word honored, our commitment believed?"

Billy Graham

I want so badly to see a sign from God to make me believe, but it has failed to show. C. T. S.

There is a verse in the Bible which may shock you. "A wicked and a perverse generation seeketh after a sign, but there shall no sign be given unto it..." (Matt. 16:4).

Of course God is able to give signs, if He so desires, but this is not His present method of operation. The New Testament says, "The just shall live by faith."

"Let's consider this a moment. Let us say that God did give signs, send angels, and do all sorts of things to get us to be believers. If He did this, there would be no room for faith. Faith is seen all through the New Testament. Christ could reveal Himself in the flesh, as He did to His disciples, but this "sign" is not given to this generation either.

The Christian way is "a way of faith," and if we had all kinds of manifestations and evidences, then faith could not be exercised.

Peter said: "Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with unspeakable joy and full of glory." (I Peter 1:8).

God won't "make" you believe. You must willingly believe.

Administration, Unions May Have Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is showing impatient signs of a tougher policy toward some labor unions under its wage-price guidelines program.

The administration used the guideline policy in pressuring big business to roll back some price increases last year. Now labor and wages are getting increasing attention as inflation pressures mount.

THE GOVERNMENT so far has moved behind the scenes, for the most part, in efforts to arrest what it considers excessive wage demands by some labor unions.

But an open showdown soon seems likely. The result could be anything from a few minor bumps and bruises to a major rupture between the Johnson administration and organized labor.

President George Meany of the 13-million-member AFL-CIO already has warned that labor will accept no federal controls on wages unless they are equally applied to price and profits. The giant labor federation will take up the whole question at its meetings starting in Miami Beach next Monday.

THE GOVERNMENT already has made one abortive attempt to persuade construction unions to agree to a compulsory plan of wage settlements.

The reply was a stinging "no." But one high labor official said "I think they'll be leaning on us from now on."

If President Johnson really wants to get tough — and so far he hasn't — he can wield the same nightstick against many unions that pressured the roll-back of steel, copper and aluminum price increases last year.

This is the gigantic power of the more than $50 billion a year federal construction contracts, defense purchasing and other spending in the private contracts.

IF the threat of switching contracts from firms that refused to lower prices worked, why wouldn't the threat of switching to nonunion labor or at least non-AFL-CIO workers around to use as a threat to switch many federal contracts.

Whether Johnson would go that far is by no means certain, but one informed government source confirmed that there was mounting federal pressure on empty stomach, is a very common cause. In that case, large amounts of Vitamin C have been helpful, although for the most part medicine is not beneficial.

There may be pain, or there may just be a feeling of fullness or pressure. Headache, nausea, vomiting may follow. Diarrhea is possible.

Treatment depends on the cause. If caused by acids or corrosive chemicals, immediate treatment is required to neutralize them as well as to wash them out of the stomach.

Hiatal hernia (which involves a portion of the stomach being forced through an aperture in the diaphragm) causes that portion of the stomach to be subject to irritation and inflammation. That's gastritis of one type. Food poisoning, spoiled food, or other poisons and irritants can cause gastritis.

Infection, and overproduction of stomach acid are other causes. Alcohol, especially on an er people do," said one high federation spokesman angrily.

"These (workers) are live people, not a set of figures marching neatly across a page of figures," he added.

IN THE case of wages, this obviously can't be accomplished by a simple appeal to labor leaders who have consistently ignored White House guidelines.

The initial AFL-CIO attack will be against Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers rather than on the President himself.

"These academicians don't ever face the problems that others paid it to his helper for a week's work. The helper gave it to a farmer for a basket of turnips. The farmer gave it to the butcher for a pound of meat, and he—"

WELL, the town was rapidly getting back on its feet. And then some darned folk smoked the cigarette! Business was immediately paralyzed again.

The U.S. office $5 bill today is just like that cigarette in late 1945 in Germany.

On Monday some plush fellow with an extra $5 bill uses it to pay off a debt to the straw boss. The straw boss lends it to one of the slesmen. A secretary borrows it from the salesman. The junior executive borrows it from the secretary.

The $5 bill circulates through the office, building morale and inspiring confidence in the American way.

Then, late Wednesday afternoon, someone routinely trying to borrow the office $5 bill makes a surprising discovery. Some darn fool has spent it!

WHO? THE culprit quickly is discovered and surrounded by a surly mob of fellow employees. Until they can cash their checks on payday the staff is gripped by financial doldrums. Nobody in the place lends, borrows or buys.

Things stay that way until Monday, when another temporarily flush fellow puts a new $5 bill in circulation, and the white collar pens regain their faith in a viable economy.

Dear Dr. Molner: Why do you let me say "See your doctor"; there is so much that can be done for arthritis? I did and all I could get from him was, "Can't do much for it. Just take aspirin." Does drinking a lot of milk help? —MRS. C. W.

Who are "they"? But I'll tell you why I say see your doctor. Because there are various kinds of arthritis, and some kinds of pains that seem like arthritis — yet aren't. I've encountered many such instances. The first purpose in seeing your doctor is to find out what you really have. After that, it depends. Some arthritis can be helpful to a remarkable degree. Other cases are best handled just by keeping the arthritis from becoming too annoying and keeping it from interfering too much with your activity.

Milk has nothing to do with arthritis. Aspirin or one of the salicylate derivatives remain an excellent first treatment of many arthritis problems.

Headaches! You can beat them. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How to Tame Headaches." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses their questions in his column, but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters.

Around The Rim

How You Gonna Beat The Rap?

It was "terrifying" news to read in Sunday's Herald that the junior college is installing a gadget that will enable the instructor to draw a response from every student on every question he might ask. I predict it was even more nerve shattering to the students who will experience it.

FOR WHO has not bluffed through some class at one time or another, managing to answer only the questions he knew and reaching to the floor for a pencil or some other dodge when the query was more difficult? More, who has not answered a question in a brilliant flash of rhetoric, hoping the instructor would find some trace of the right answer in the blur of phraseology?

But all this to be reduced to pushing a button that clearly establishes the student's knowledge of the subject? Will, indeed, Big Brother be watching?

I DOUBT IT. Although the whole thing sounds and appears to be pretty foolproof, the students in such a class will more than rise to the challenge, somehow managing to outwit the electronic wizardry.

In an era of electronic "bugs," I suspect some student is already putting together a small box, that when attached to the teacher's machinery, will send back an answer of "maybe," or perhaps "sometimes." Who knows, it might be he can send back several paragraphs, hoping to miraculously hit the nail on the head, or enough that the teacher will not mark a big "F" on his card.

FOR ALL I know, the machine may be refined to the point that each student is required to respond beyond the "yes" or "no" stage. Certainly, there will be trouble brewing there, for sometimes there is not a lot he can do other than be prepared with the right answer. In such a case, I can predict an early and deserved demise for "Batman" and similar evening shows.

There is another side to this coin, I suspect. The challenge for the teacher will be as demanding. The class will be able to move through its subject matter more quickly, more material will be covered, and the ensuing work for the instructor may be staggering. Using such equipment creatively should bring students along considerably faster and with more comprehension of the subject than ever before.

It may approach the "one teacher-one student" principle as closely as we are liable to get.

Hail And Farewell To A Senator

WASHINGTON — Another of the Senate's fine gentlemen, Milward Simpson (R) of Wyoming, has turned toward home.

Like Byrd of Virginia and Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Simpson was a gracious and voluntary withdrawal. As professional ballplayers say, these senators didn't stay around until they had their uniforms cut off. Each in turn gave his electorate the brief and dignified explanation — age and stiffening joints.

SIMPSON ADDED that he wasn't up to carrying two full-time jobs, as he conceived them — being a senator and being a candidate for reelection. He thanked the few of us who came to his office to hear the anticipated announcement. Unemotionally, he read the letter of retirement, delivered the day before to his State chairman, in which the present senator and former governor, Episcopal Church vestryman and who, for 13 years, was president of the board of trustees of the University of Wyoming, declared that he would continue to serve God, country and party for as long as he lived.

UNLIKE BYRD and Saltonstall, Simpson does not break a long tradition of Senate service. He arrived only four years ago, a tall, striking figure, gentle of manner, but firm in his prejudices, which is always the mark of strong personality.

He is a Westerner who'd been to Harvard Law School, and he regarded with sorrow the liberalizing tolerances for crime and subversion, for socialism and compulsory egalitarianism, for godlessness and desanctification of the flag, which had come to possess the federal judiciary, notably the Supreme Court. I heard him preach a heart - moving layman's sermon at St. John's Church in Georgetown, and it was like listening to an Old Testament prophet in mufti.

SIMPSON IS proof that Senate seniority is a bit of a myth. Others before him — Taft, Johnson, Symington — were what we call "senate men" almost from the moment they set foot in the chamber which we call the "cathedral." If Simpson had arrived sooner and stayed longer, he would have accumulated much more of the aura which comes naturally to some and which no amount of longevity can bestow upon others. But he is markedly different from the many short-termers who have come and gone before anyone asks, "Who's that?"

THE FEW newsmen who had gathered for his unpretentious farewell announcement felt a common pang that seemed to permeate the office room where the vivid Western pictures hung. Afterwards, I stayed with his staff to go over the probables and possibilities of both parties who might be competing for his seat. Their names, I think, shouldn't clutter up a column that is intended to be both elegy for a sad occasion and eulogy for an admired friend.

Milward Simpson is not known to fame as are other senators mentioned here. But his departure at the end of this session is a loss to the national legislature and to our times.

The Agonizing Columnist

WASHINGTON — The Vietnamese war has called for some agonizing decisions, but none has been more agonizing than those which have to be made by the Washington political columnists. Although they can seek out the advice of everyone, including the President of the United States, they alone can make the final decision as to what we should do in Southeast Asia.

This burden weighs heavily on each Washington pundit, and every morning, as the people of the world wake up from another fitful night of sleep, they look to the Washington columnists for the solution to the thorny problems that confront us all.

AS I WALKED into the office of Joseph Wallstop, the widely read syndicated columnist, I saw him silhouetted against the window, bent over a map of the world. I thought to myself how lonely his job must be and how great the risk he must take every day in his column.

He invited me to sit down. "I'm going to have to call up the reserves tomorrow." "So soon?" I said.

"I DON'T SEE how we can do it any other way. As you know, I was against the peace offensive from the start. I warned the President not to do it. Since he would not take my advice, I see no other choice but to get this country on a war footing."

"But Mr. Wallstop, the President promised us guns and butter," I pleaded.

"He obviously didn't read my column of October 12, 1965, where I pointed out that the only thing the Communists understood was force."

"TO UNDERSTAND this war, you must understand what happened in the Tang dynasty of 987 B.C. The situation was exactly similar except that the Tangs thought they could do business with the Yangs. They found out differently. I hope we're not going to go the way of the Tangs."

"I hope so, too. But how can we avoid it?"

"We must bomb more expensive targets, we must burn bridges and rice fields, oil depots and railroad yards, and we must escalate the escalation. It's all here in my piece of November 26th."

"Aren't you afraid of a war with China?"

He turned me down. Well, the United States pussyfooted for almost 20 years and where did it get us? No one has ever accused me of trying to prevent a war or win a peace."

"Mr. Wallstop, you've advised four Presidents since World War II on how to handle world affairs. How would you say they did?"

"They all let me down sooner or later."

"UNDER OUR present form of government, I can only advise a President what to do: I can't make him do it. I believe this is the weakness in our Constitution."

"How do you think President Johnson shapes up compared to the others?"

"It's too early to tell yet. If he follows my recommendation, he'll be a great President. If he doesn't, he'll have only himself to blame."

ROME (AP)—Filming will start in Spain soon on the Mark Robson directed picture, "I Centurioni" — (The Centurians) — with Claudia Cardinale playing the role of Aicha, an Algerian girl fighter for freedom. Other stars will be Anthony Quinn, Alain Delon, George Segal and Michel Morgan. Scenes will be shot at Madrid and Malaga.

Sellers Film

ROME (AP)—Director Vittorio de Sica's next film will be "Caccia Alla Volpe"—(Fox Hunt)—starring Peter Sellers. It's a comedy spy story. Filming is scheduled to begin about the middle of May at Rome's Cinecitta with outdoor scenes on the Island of Ischia.

Direct Movie

BELGRADE (AP)—American film director Nicholas Ray has signed to direct a film here called "The Doctor and the Devil," based on a book by Thomas Dwyer. Maximilian Schell will play the leading role and either Geraldine Chaplin or Jane Fonda may get the female lead.

Peace Talks Wouldn't Spoil U.S. Economy

NEW YORK (AP) — A peace scare can upset the delicate balance of the stock market. But the real thing — actual peace negotiations — would have only passing and relatively minor effect on the general economy.

Prosperity at home isn't at stake. Most business leaders have stressed before — and will be saying again privately in the wake of the Tuesday turmoil on the stock market — that the economy is too large and too well-based at the moment for peace talks aimed at ending the Viet Nam war to require more than readjustments. And these the economy could take in stride, industrial leaders stress.

HIGH OUTLAYS
Some defense orders might be canceled. Some military spending might be foregone. But the major outlays for defense still would stay high.

And the civilian economy — the really big thing — would be freed of some of the threats now sighted. These include the possibility of higher taxes if the Viet Nam war gets still more expensive, the chance of official controls being imposed on wages and prices, or the fear of a war-nourished inflationary spurge.

The stock market has been called a barometer of the course the economy may be taking six months hence. But in the matter of peace scares or war scares it usually looks more like a thermometer of emotional confusion.

STOCKS DUMPED
The Tuesday performance was an example. A report that North Viet Nam asked India to seek a peaceful solution of the war sent a spasm through the market. Trading was too swift for the high-speed tickers to handle. Stocks were dumped — especially those of companies with defense orders. The thinking of traders apparently was that stock prices had been pushed to current heights only in the belief that the war would be expanded rather than ended.

The market turned around just as fast when the reports proved to be the usual propaganda moves of North Viet Nam with small prospects of getting anywhere. The market finally closed higher than it had the day before.

BARGAIN BUYS
The emotional selling had furnished opportunities for bargain hunters to get some sound stocks cheap. It also caused some worrying about the psychological effect of such market jitteriness on the general public.

Rotarians Help Show

STANTON (SC)—The Stanton Rotary Club Wednesday approved a contribution to the Chamber of Commerce to be applied on the expenses of the recent stock show, and selected the club sweetheart, Miss Susan Brandt, as the club candidate for entry in the Lions Club sponsored contest to be staged the last part of March.

Bill Vaughn is the current month program chairman. He presented coach Doyle Edmiston as the speaker. Edmiston gave a review of the basketball activities up to the present date, and some of the possibilities for the remainder of the season. Rotarians from Big Spring were introduced. They included Lowell N. Jones, F. H. Talbot, and Charles G. McQuaid. Introduced as guests were W. H. Terry and Ronnie Gilbreath.

Knights Lease New Lodge Hall

Knights of Columbus of Big Spring have leased the 15th floor of the Hotel Settles as a lodge hall. Their first meeting in their new hall will be Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. The first degree will be conferred on a class of candidates. Tom Conway is grand knight of the lodge. The organization has also scheduled a dance for the night of Feb. 19 at the Cosden Country Club. Tickets are to be available at the door. The dance opens at 9 p.m.

Members said that the organization has not as yet furnished its new quarters on the top of the Hotel Settles. This will be accomplished as the group can afford to do so, it was said.

Ashe May Soon Be In Service

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Second-ranked tennis star Arthur Ashe may face military service after his June graduation from UCLA. Ashe, who will play soon in indoor tournaments in Philadelphia and Salisbury, Md., is in the ROTC and would enter the Army as a second lieutenant.

BIG SPRING HERALD

Show Girls Back From Viet Can't Forget The Experience

By The Associated Press

Backstage between shows at Las Vegas's Riviera Hotel, listening to the cranking slot machines and the whirring roulette wheels, dark-eyed singer Susan Mora dreamed out loud of an aircraft hangar in South Viet Nam with sandbag seats and a stage made of Air Force ammunition trailers and a cheering audience of thousands and thousands of soldiers and airmen.

"I'd go back in a minute," said the Houston, Tex., beauty. "So would all the rest. It was the greatest experience of our lives."

Then "for no reason at all, or maybe for every reason in the world, she burst into tears. Six thousand miles away, across a continent and an ocean, actress Marilyn Lovell sat in her dressing room in London's Drury Lane Theater staring fondly at a plaque given to her by Gen. William C. Westmoreland for outstanding contributions to the morale of the American fighting men in Viet Nam.

"MEANS MORE"
"This means more to me," she said, "than any line any critic ever wrote."

A few dressing rooms up the hall, star Mary Martin had a similar plaque in a place of honor on her dressing table, framed by huge bouquets of roses and a congratulatory telegram from the President of the United States.

"I'm proud to have been there," said the star. "Yet nothing in life can make you feel more humble. What we gave them was nothing to what they gave back to us."

More than three months after coming back from Viet Nam, the stars, singers and dancers of "Hello, Dolly!," the first

Broadway musical to play in a war zone, were still enthralled by the experience.

"It touched our lives in so many ways," said dancer Susan Freeman, a fetching blonde from Jacksonville, Fla., with the Las Vegas company. "None of us who went on that tour came back the same. We left something of ourselves out there and brought something back; maybe a new understanding of what our profession is all about."

"BEING NEEDED"
Dancer Eileen Casey, a brunette beauty from Boston, felt the troupe's reaction to the 10-day tour of Viet Nam last fall went beyond the go-flattering feeling that every actress has for an appreciative audience.

"It was more than just the thunderous applause and hearty laughter that only men can give and the standing ovations day after day," she said. "It was a feeling of actually being needed. No other audience ever gave us that."

Even by Broadway's bizarre standards, the road company of "Hello, Dolly!," that opened in Minneapolis on April 19, 1965, with Mary Martin as star had an unusual history and an even more unusual geography. Producer David Merrick formed the company specifically to make a tour of Japan and the Soviet Union sponsored by the State Department.

"Instead, when the Russians canceled out, 'Hello, Dolly!'" wound up in Viet Nam, playing to thousands of servicemen in stifling heat in the wool and velvet costumes made for the London company and against a constant background of roaring jets and beating helicopter blades.

MANY BALKED
"More than half the company

balked at going to Viet Nam," revealed Bob Hultman, a lead singer from Grand Rapids, Mich. "Some because they were frankly afraid; some for political reasons. Now they're all trying to get back in some way with USO shows or on their own."

Transporting the unreal, make-believe world of show business to the starkness of all realities, the reality of war, had a profound personal and psychological effect on many in the company.

"When I got home I found I didn't like myself anymore," said singer Julie Sargent, a serious-minded blonde charmer from Carmel, Calif. "I wasn't giving enough. You see, I had been among boys who were giving so much, everything really, to bring freedom to a pathetic country barely capable of understanding what the word meant. Just being there made me realize that giving, not taking, is the ultimate goal and the ultimate reward in our profession."

Part of the strange and lingering rapport between the military and the "Hello, Dolly!" company, in the opinion of comedienne Anne Russell, standby for Mary Martin in Viet Nam and now Betty Grable's in Las Vegas, involved "the natural respect of one highly trained team for another. A Broadway show depends on the closely coordinated efforts of many highly individual talents. So does a helicopter platoon and a fighter squadron. Seeing what lengths they had gone to for our protection made us feel that the least we could do was move about with a feeling of ease."

Opening lead: King of ♠
An incautious double by East provided South with the clew required to bring in his aggressive grand slam contract.

North opened the bidding with one club. South's hand was worth 18 points counting high cards and distribution; however, he contented himself with a simple forcing response of one spade. When North raised to two spades, South was determined to reach a slam, and he bid three hearts in order to explore for the full potential.

When North raised hearts as well, South embarked on a Blackwood inquiry. His partner showed the two missing aces, and he asked for kings next. North responded six clubs and East chose this opportunity to make a lead directing double.

The information gleaned from this round of bidding by South convinced him that the partnership could go all the way. When North revealed that he had no kings, it increased the likelihood that he had the queen and jacks required to fill out South's holdings in the major suits.

South decided to bid the grand slam in hearts, because his fifth spade could be employed for a discard should that prove necessary.

Despite East's double of six clubs, West decided to open the king of diamonds. It was clear from the bidding that the opposition had all the aces, and the diamond lead was perfectly safe.

South won the trick with the ace of diamonds and cashed the ace, king of hearts to test the trump suit. When East showed out on the second round it became necessary to take a finesse against West's jack on the next round by leading a small heart to the dummy's ten.

Declarer abandoned the trumps temporarily since it was necessary to establish dummy's clubs. East's double had revealed the location of the club king, so South cashed the ace first and then led the queen. East covered and declarer ruffed. The North hand was re-entered with the ace of spades and the queen of hearts drew the last trump as South discarded a diamond. He threw his last diamond on the jack of clubs and then took the remaining tricks with his high spades.

If East had remained silent during the auction, South would have had a two way guess in clubs. If he chooses to play West for the king, he can finesse the jack intending to ruff out the queen on the next round.
