FANFARE TO OPEN PARKING LOT MONDAY

New Public Parking Lot Graces Downtown Scene

Merchandise gift certificates, formerly was the site of the First National Bank and other business establishments.

The celebration opens at 9:30 a.m. with music by the Big Spring High School Band, and a maneuvering demonstration by the local Shrine Club Mounted Patrol. Young women will be on hand to pass out free tickets for gift certificates, which will be awarded during the program for immediate redemption in most downtown stores. More than two score certificates will be passed out.

Following the National Anthem and invocation by Perry Cotham, minister of 14th and Main Church of Christ, and brief introductory remarks, open cars bearing city officials will enter the lot, with a ribbon being cut by Mayor George Zachariah and Adolph Swartz, president of Downtown Big Spring, Inc.

"Operation Sparkle" a citywide renovation and beautification program being projected through the next two years in cooperation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which is urging a regional wide improvement program to attract and hold tourists which are expected to flood Texas in 1968, when the HemisFair is held in San Antonio, and the Olympics in Mexico City.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

Violence and tragedy opened our week. Two died in a rural road collision, and five were hurt badly. Elmer F. Mashburn, 61, Stanton, and Ernest Gene Heckler, 31, Midland and formerly of Big Spring, were killed instantly when two cars crashed at an intersection 15.8 miles north of here last Sunday morning. This brought to seven the number of traffic deaths so far in 1966 within Howard County, four of them inside of Big Spring. Bereft of reason, M. J. O'Brien, 48, T&P fireman and president of the fireman's local, ignited the kitchen of the family home and fired a shot into his head, said peace officers who were held at bay outside.

City commissioners took a second look at the proposed water district to serve areas on the northern edge of town and tabled the request to delineate lines for the district. There may have been some cooling from the district side, too.

Our neighborhood came out well in its mid-week basketball games with Stanton beating Aspermont 77-66, Sands beating Imperial 55-48, and Westbrook beating Blackwell 70-65, all in bi-district games. The sad note was the two point loss of HCJC at the hands of Odessa Junior College. Free shot misses did the Hawks in. Friday the Hawks lost by four points to Amarillo.

If each spell seems like the last of the bad ones for winter, there may be another coming. It seemed as though spring had returned until suddenly on Monday there was a heavy snowstorm which left 20 of an inch moisture and then brought 18 and 16 degree readings, both new records for this time of the year. Saturday light showers fell.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers sent D. C. Deering international vice president, here last week to explain demands the brotherhood is making on carriers — namely restoration of firemen on freight and yard engines, also a 25 per cent wage increase.

Johnson expressed his satisfaction with the battle plans and evaluations of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the American commander in Viet Nam, but declined to predict any easy victory.

"It is not going to be easy and it is not going to be short," said Johnson. "It is going to be difficult and it is going to require sacrifices."

Development of two rest areas on IS 20 was assured last week when a $324,048 contract was awarded to Jones Bros. Dirt and Paving contractors of Odessa. The areas will be located 10 miles west of Big Spring and three miles east of Coahoma.

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas County officers began a new hunt Saturday for the killer of a mother of three after she dropped charges against a Sheppard Air Force Base airman. He remained in custody, however, on a rape charge.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO urged the government Saturday to boost taxes on "skyrocketing" corporation profits if necessary to pay growing war costs or curb inflation, and said, "The poor should not be compelled to bear the major burden of the conflict in Viet Nam."

U.S. Judges OK Stay On Poll Tax

Saturn, Apollo Flight Success

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The mightiest rocket ever launched by the United States, a towering Saturn 1B, successfully hurled an unmanned Apollo moonship over a punishing re-entry course Saturday and triggered an all-out drive to land American astronauts on the moon within two or three years.

It's Off!

Ban Order Delayed For Thirty Days

HOUSTON (AP)—Three federal judges delayed Saturday until March 26 the effective date of their order holding the Texas poll tax unconstitutional.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr of Texas told the judges the 30-day stay was essential since county officials need time to set up the new voter registration system established last week by the Texas Legislature.

EARLY ELECTION
A petition filed by Carr said at least 25 bond or other local elections are scheduled by Mar. 28 and election judges would have trouble determining qualified voters unless poll tax lists can be used.

The three are Circuit Judges John E. Brown of Houston and Homer Thornberry of Austin and U.S. Dist. Judge Adrian Spear of San Antonio.

Also denied was a government motion that the 15-day voter registration cutoff period was unconstitutional.

FOR READINESS
"In connection with the stay granted and this disposition of the government's motion for supplemental release, the court has taken into consideration the obligation of all officials of the State of Texas and each of its counties, to afford full and adequate facilities for registration during said period after having given adequate publicity to the right of all persons to so register and the time and place that deputies will be available for each purpose," the judges' order said.

The 40-minute maiden flight for both the rocket and Apollo ship was a resounding success and provided the first flight experience for much of the equipment which will be used for manned lunar landings.

BLAZING DASH
The spacecraft rocketed 310 miles into space and survived a trial by fire — a blazing dash back through the earth's atmosphere during which its heat shield protected it from scorching temperatures up to 5,000 degrees.

Space agency officials admit this date is optimistic — but certainly within reach if all launchings go as smoothly as Saturday's inaugural journey.

REVERSE SELF
Ten minutes later, as newsmen were preparing to leave the Cape Kennedy press site and tourists and others were leaving observation points in the area, the control center reversed itself and announced that there was no postponement, that the equipment was checking out okay. The decision was made by Dr. Kurt Debus, director of the space center.

Johnson Rules Out Reserves Use Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said Saturday his desk is clear of all requests for more troops in Viet Nam. And he said he thinks he can meet additional requests expected next summer "without any great strain on our forces."

NO TAX STUDIES
The President, who said he has no quarrel with Congress over recent public debate on Viet Nam policy, indicated also he does not expect to ask for a wartime tax increase or wage-price controls in the foreseeable future.

Union Urges Tax Increases On Rich Corporation Profits

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO urged the government Saturday to boost taxes on "skyrocketing" corporation profits if necessary to pay growing war costs or curb inflation, and said, "The poor should not be compelled to bear the major burden of the conflict in Viet Nam."

TIME NEEDED
"A brief survey of the laws of 50 states suggests that Texas cannot justify the March 18 cutoff this year which precedes key elections by almost eight months."

Band Boosters Sponsoring Concert Here Saturday

The Big Spring Band Boosters will present the North Texas State University concert band at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Municipal Auditorium. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, and are now being sold by members of the bands.

Directed by Marice McAdow of the NTSU School of Music, the band will be making its 19th annual spring tour, with concerts scheduled in 10 cities in Texas and New Mexico. The tour program lists several marches, including some of Sousa's lesser-known compositions, new compositions for concert band and a number of semi-classical selections.

Of outstanding appeal on this year's program are Richard Wagner's "Flying Dutchman" Overture, Leonard Bernstein's "West Side Story," "Incantation and Dance" by John Barnes (Chance), "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss, and "Festive Overture" by Shostakovich. Lighter selections include "Two Exotic Dances" by Don Gillis, "Feria" by Frank Erickson and several special numbers which include a xylophone solo, Woodwind Quintet with Band, Clarinet Quartet and Brass Sextet.

Jerry Tobias of Lyon, Kan., will be the xylophone soloist. He will play a medley from two xylophone solos, "The Cock and the Dresden Figures" by Albert Keitel, and "Serenade for a Picket Fence" by Norman Leyden.

Performing as the Woodwind Quintet are Vicki Robertson, Grand Prairie; Ann Patterson, Snyder; Carla Schmidt, Burnet; Truman Harris, Mineral Wells; and David Reising, Beaver, Okla.

Members of the Clarinet Quartet performing from a selected repertoire will be David Breeden, Denton; Tim Bell, West Wyoming; Pa. Lee Bossert, El Paso; and Bill House, Dallas.

Steer, Lambs Off To Show

Nine steers and 10 lambs, as well as one heifer, will be entered in the Houston Livestock Show by Howard County 4-H Club members.

The animals and their young owners left early today for the big show. Judging of the steers will be Wednesday, and results are not expected until mid-afternoon.

Steers are to be shown by Dolores Lankford, who is taking two head, Mark Barr, one, Maxwell Barr, two, Robbie Haney, three and Gary McNew, one.

The heifer is being shown by Terry Soechting.

Lambs are being shown by Terry Soechting, Toby Soechting, Dixie Coleman, Neil Bryson, Mike McClain, James Crenshaw, Robert Crenshaw and Dale Crenshaw.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent, and Don Brandenberger, assistant agent, spent Saturday at the county rodeo grounds helping the youngsters ready their animals for the show.

Ice Angler Hooks Otter

WEST STEWARTSTOWN, N.H. (AP) — Robert Burns might have thought he had a sailfish on the end of his fishing line.

But he knew better. He was ice fishing in Lake Francis, N.H.

He cut the hole larger and larger.

Finally, he hauled the beast onto the ice — a large, dead otter.

Mayor To Take Legislature Race Try To Court

RANGER, Tex. (AP)—Mayor Morris Newham said Saturday he will seek an order from the Texas Supreme Court, forcing his name to be placed on the ballot as a candidate for the legislature.

A. E. Crawley, Eastland County Democratic chairman, said he will not place Newham's name on the ballot until it is approved by a court.

The chairman said he bases his refusal on a section of the Texas Constitution which says no person holding a lucrative public office shall, during the term for which he is elected, be eligible to the legislature.

Wheeler's Rare Penny May Be Worth $15,000

The U.S. Mint denies there were any copper Lincoln-head pennies minted in the year 1943. That was the year when a shortage of copper — badly needed for war purposes — led to the minting of the "white" pennies — steel coins plated over with zinc.

Maybe the mint is right. However, expert numismatists say there are a number of 1943 copper cents in existence and only a few weeks ago, one such penny was sold for $15,000.

Right here in Big Spring, Bob Wheeler, 5307 Drexel, has what appears to be a very good copy of a 1943 Lincoln penny — minted in copper.

Wheeler who works for the Howard County Road and Bridge Department, has had the penny for sometime. He got it from a relative. He is not a coin collector, but does keep an eye out for rarities.

If this one turns out to be genuine, he'll really have hit the jackpot. The dealer who paid the $15,000 for the 1943 penny a short time ago, is interested in Bob's copy. He has asked for enlarged photographs and Wheeler has sent him huge blowups of the coin.

The dealer is Frank G. Spadone, East Orange, N. J. He is an expert on rare coins, particularly oddities and is author of a book regarded as the final authority.

He writes, relative to the 1943 copper cents:

"Although the U.S. Mint denies any 1943 copper cents were struck, they do exist and are acknowledged in the numismatic field. Three dealers are known to have sold 1943 copper cents and at least six prominent authorities in this field verify that genuine pieces exist. . . . The accepted reason for their existence is that some copper blanks of the previous year found their way into the press during the striking of the 1943 steel cents. . . .

Wheeler said that if Spadone wants to see his 1943 specimen personally, he will make a trip to New Jersey to show it to him. "If it's worth $15,000 I think I could afford to pay for a trip back to the east coast to sell it," he noted. "I would like to keep my hands on it while it is out of my safety deposit box and the best way I know would be for me to take it personally."

Until Spadone studies the enlarged photographs and reports on what he thinks, Wheeler is just going to leave his penny in storage.

He said that he had made all of the official tests that coin collectors suggest to test the validity of the penny and that his specimen came through with flying colors.

"One thing's for sure, said Wheeler — if the penny is genuine and the price is right, it's for sale!"

Negroes Win Against Barber

MADISON, N.J. (AP) — Two Negroes have won a court suit against a barber who refused to cut their hair.

Reginald Barrow and Thomas Sellers signed the original complaint against Philip Gatti. The state Supreme Court ruled Friday barbers do not have the right to refuse service to Negroes and ordered Gatti to cut the hair of the two Negroes.

He said that he had made all of the official tests that coin collectors suggest to test the validity of the penny and that his specimen came through with flying colors.

"One thing's for sure, said Wheeler — if the penny is genuine and the price is right, it's for sale!"

SEN. TOWER URGES STIFFNESS So'east Asia at stake in Viet Nam

W. J. ALEXANDER IS ENGINEER OF YEAR E. D. Scarth, left, presents coveted award

Tower Gives Viet Nam Fight Staunch Backing

Wrangling over commitment to and financing of the Viet Nam war "must present a sordid spectacle to our boys fighting in Viet Nam," Sen. John F. Tower said here Friday evening.

Sen. Tower scrapped a prepared speech on a long-range water study to give ringing support to the United States' stand in Viet Nam, Southeast Asia, rather than this small country, is at stake. More than that, it is a matter of serving notice to Communists that war — either nuclear or brush—is too costly an implement."

Sen. Tower flew here from San Antonio and Austin for his address to the annual awards dinner of the Permian Basin chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers at Cosden Country Club. He was welcomed by Leon Fontenot, Midland, president, and introduced by W. J. Alexander, Odessa. Earlier the state's lone Republican member of Congress was greeted by local GOP leaders. The senator and Mrs. Tower flew to Houston immediately after the engagement here.

Sen. Tower discounted the possibility of escalating the conflict into an all-out war.

"We do not risk the intrusion of Red China in an unlimited ground war," he declared. There are too many inhibitions such as logistics and Nationalist China on her flank for Red China to risk loss of face and resources by mass involvement."

The U.S. has to consider the whole spectrum of deterrence in its stand in Viet Nam, for "if we fail in Viet Nam, we will be fighting on a broader front at a far greater cost."

Sen. Tower was an apostle for applying military muscle to compel North Viet Nam to stop its aggression. And, he said, aggression by North Viet Nam is the key fact that must not be forgotten.

The senator had planned to speak in behalf of studies of the feasibility of the $100 billion North American Water and Power Alliance because he said that "water management is a matter of chronic and continental crisis." However, he scarcely alluded to this and, after brief remarks about Viet Nam, opened the banquet meeting to questions.

ANSWERS QUESTIONS

Here are the highlights:

Q. Are American men being inhibited in their fighting?
A. No, particularly in the ground fighting in South Viet Nam. Air strikes, in my opinion, have rather severe restrictions.

Q. Should we blockade North Viet Nam?
A. This is not the best method. The harbor at Haiphong should be closed by mining or bombing.

Q. What about the rate of South Viet Nam deserters?
A. The figures have been high, but no one knows what they mean for some were deserting from a home unit to fight in the national armies; some to go home and farm and then re-enlist. With the turn in fortunes of war, the rate is dropping sharply. One persuasive argument to give them courage has been the B-52.

GETTING ESSENTIALS
Q. Are our men getting ample materiel?
A. They are getting the essentials. The flow of supplies is being improved steadily.

Q. Is there a control or censorship of news from Viet Nam?
A. No, but American people need to be better informed. They ought to understand the character of the Viet Cong. Our people are unaware of the civil program which is paralleling our war effort. Reforms are being made, leadership trained.

Q. Aren't we sending in too young fighting men?
A. They're no younger than those who fought in World War II. They are real professionals. They're the best generation of fighting men we've ever produced. They are giving a great account of themselves. They make you proud.

Q. Is there danger we will be distracted from watching Cuba?
A. Yes. Cuba is a staging ground for the export of Castroism, and we need to be alert.

Q. Was intervention justified in Santo Domingo?
A. Yes, the President was right. But we've been softening. Permitting the return of Juan Bosch, who is a Communist front man, was a mistake.

Q. What about danger of runaway inflation?
A. I'm concerned about it. Deficit spending by the U. S. government is the chief cause of inflation. Congress must discipline itself even if it has to cut some non-defense spending that is politically popular.

He and Mrs. Alexander, the former Rita Roberson of Stephenville, have three children. The award and a plaque were presented to Alexander at a banquet by E. D. Scarth, Midland, a former recipient of the award.

Alexander, 42, attended and graduated from high school in Sundown, served with the Naval Air Transport Command until 1946, then attended Tarleton State College and received a B.S. degree in petroleum engineering from Texas A&M in 1950.

Prior to 1957, he worked for Ohio Oil Company in Iraan, the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors in Dallas, Power Tong Service in Midland and British American in Odessa.

MYOPIA...

commonly called nearsightedness, is characterized by a person's inability to see clearly or comfortably at a distance. It may be caused by the eye being longer than normal or by too much curvature of the cornea (front) of the eye. Myopia, if present, is diagnosed in a professional eye examination by a T.S.O. Doctor of Optometry, and vision is corrected by properly prescribed and fitted glasses or contact lenses. Also, at T.S.O. the eyes are examined internally for evidence of disease or defect such as glaucoma or cataract. More Visitors Discover Wonderland Of Texas

AUSTIN — More visitors than ever before discovered the attractions of Vacationland Texas last year.

So the Texas Tourist Development Agency has reported to Gov. John Connally following its annual survey of attendance figures drawn from 22 representative tourist attractions over the state.

Attendance over-all was up 13 per cent over 1964. Frank Hildebrand, the agency's executive director, advised the governor. Total admissions soared by 3,449,000 visitors to a record total of 30,403,000 in 1965, he said.

Biggest percentage gain was marked by the Bishop's Palace on Galveston Island, where admissions swelled by 59 per cent over the year before. Big Bend National Park was not far behind with 174,566 vacationers representing an increase of 46 per cent over 1964 attendance. Six Flags Over Texas, the Dallas-Fort Worth theme park, clinched its claim as the most popular commercial tourist stop in Texas, reporting 1,713,000 visitors. The figure represented 448,000 more guests than were reported for the year by San Antonio's Alamo, which nevertheless marked a 19 per cent gain over 1964 attendance.

At San Marcos the Aqueduct entertained 425,000 visitors during the year, an increase of 13 per cent over 1964.

Numerically, TTDA said, the out-of-doors proved most popular among surveyed attractions in 1965. Two causeways at either end of Padre Island shared a total of 2,174,000 visitors, a year's gain of 15 per cent, and water lovers numbering a record 8,900,000 accounted for an increase of nine per cent at Lake Texoma.

The state parks system reported total 1965 attendance at 9,852,000, up 24.5 per cent over the previous year.

Four-Bit Pieces Harder To Find

By SAM BLACKBURN
A customer in a Big Spring cafe who had finished a cup of coffee dropped a coin in the cashier's counter.

"Why," exclaimed the cashier, "that's a half dollar!"

She then explained: "We seldom get any of those any more."

The incident, which really happened, is a good illustration of a situation which has developed. There is an acute shortage of half-dollars in Big Spring.

Go into any bank in Big Spring and ask them for a quantity of halves. You will be told that the bank is sorry, but there is an insufficient supply of the coins to fill your request.

NOT ENOUGH

Banks do not have enough of the coins to supply the demand of their customers.

As a result, the change being handed out for purchases comprises quarters, nickels and dimes, where in other days it always included halves.

One teller complained: "When the first shipment of Kennedy halves arrived, people bought them by the hundreds. They are being hoarded. Collectors think they will be valuable. We never had enough halves at best and with collectors pulling thousands out of circulation and with the demand so high, we just don't have any half-dollars at all."

One bank received a shipment of 500 of the newly minted halves — made of modified alloy with less silver than the older issues — last week. Tellers said they were absorbed so quickly that their arrival made no dent in the situation.

The new halves had the same date as the first Kennedy halves — 1964. No new dates will be stamped on halves to be issued for sometime to come. The officials believe this may break the practice of hoarding the coins and pull more of them back into circulation.

Coin collectors indignantly deny they are responsible for the shortage of 50 cent pieces. They blame vending machines for some of the difficulty. However, the vending machine operators retort they "rob" their machine cash drawers often and restore the coins taken from it into the money stream.

SHORTAGE

The federal government explains the shortage of silver as being the product of heavy demand for photographic needs, for electronic and chemical purposes. This, of course, does not entirely explain how it happens that there are so few coins in circulation. It does explain how it happens the government has begun to mint dimes, quarters, and halves which have much less silver than present coins. Commenting on the use of

"WHY THERE'S A HALF DOLLAR!"

Once common coin now seldom seen in local money tills dimes, quarters and halves to replace them. Right now, the government says there are at least 12 million such devices now in use. These include among other machines, pay telephones.

Regardless of how it happens, there is a shortage of silver. This shortage is not restricted to halves. It is applicable to all other denominations as well. The new alloy quarters have been put into use and apparently there is less pressure in this

Car License Sales Are Off

Gross receipts for the sale of automobile license plates for February this year lagged about $3,000 under the total for the same month in 1965.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, said her office had collected $67,425.78 so far this month, and for the same period in 1965, receipts were $70,407.73.

The difference in figures could be explained in several ways, none of which would indicate any drop off in the actual number of plates issued. If, in February last year, some operator happened to register a number of big trucks and did not do so this year, it would account for the difference in the totals.

Final Tribute Paid A Hero

LOS LUNAS, N.M. (AP)—The tiny village of Los Lunas paid final tribute Saturday to a Viet Nam hero, praised at funeral services as a man who "lived and fulfilled the high ideals once urged by President Kennedy."

Requiem High Mass was celebrated for Spec. 4 Daniel Fernandez, 21, Los Lunas, who died last week when he threw himself over an exploding grenade in Viet Nam to shield his buddies.

The Rev. Francis Schuler began his sermon with a simple passage from the Gospel of St. John:

"Greater love than this no one has, that one lay down his life for his friends."

Water Pact Tops Agenda

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. at the district headquarters in Big Spring, Charles Perry, Odessa, president, announced Saturday.

Among other matters, the board will discuss negotiations with the City of Midland for a contract to sell surface water to that city. The Midland council considered the matter at its meeting last Tuesday, after having conferred with CRMWD officials. O. H. Ivie, general manager for the district, said he was encouraged by progress of the talks.

The board also will be brought up to date on progress of land appraisals and purchases for a new lake site on the Colorado River above Robert Lee. Reports also will be heard on gathering of information for issuance of revenue bonds to finance the new lake and other facilities.

HASN'T NOTICED

John Q. Public, for the most part, probably hasn't really noticed the difference. He may have wondered idly at the clutter of small change his pockets yield, but most folk have not noticed, particularly, the lack of 50 cent pieces.

Ask any cashier to show you the stock of halves in the cash register. The odds are that there will be less than half a dozen.

Concern For Others Cited As One Way To Happiness

In a talk made at the American Business Club's Friday luncheon at the Settles Hotel, the Rev. Robert F. Polk reminded his listeners that the happiest people are those who make it a point to understand and get along with other people.

"If God is interested in people, we ought to be interested," Polk said, adding that egotists are missing a lot by not showing interest in others.

Polk said that a telephone service monitored 500 calls in the South not long ago, and it was learned that the pronoun "I" was used an average of eight times during the conversations.

"Don't criticize," the speaker suggested. "It's so easy to do it. This is not a perfect world. The little people are prone to be critical. The people at the top don't have time to do it. Criticism can be likened to a surface pimple which indicates a deeper problem in a man's life."

Rev. Polk also said it is not conducive to a person's mental well being to carry a grudge against other persons, adding that a person is happiest when he knows he is giving his best.

The speaker cited as an example of a successful man the late Charles Schwab who was paid by Andrew Carnegie, the steel magnate, $1 million a year — not because he was a successful businessman, but rather because of his ability to "get along with people."

Program chairman for the day was Bill McDonald, who introduced the speaker, Dick Pfeiffer received his credentials as a member of the club.

Guests included Roland Mullins, Barry Rogers, D. D. Pittman, Don Anderson and Bob Bryant.

Emergency Voter Sign-Up Period Will Start Thursday

AUSTIN (AP) — Voters and registrars will find few differences between the new free annual voter registration system and the procedures they used under the poll tax.

The first phase of the new registration law, enacted last week, starts Thursday when a 15-day emergency voter sign-up period begins.

Voters who register during the 15-day period, as well as those qualified before Jan. 31 under the poll tax, may vote in all of this year's elections unless the U.S. Supreme Court upholds the $1.75 voting requirement.

Those registering in the emergency period, as well as during the first regular registration period from Oct. 1 to Jan. 31, will discover the process is virtually identical to that followed under the poll tax.

The big exception is that they won't have to pay $1.75. Voters may register in one of three ways:

—By going to the county tax assessor-collector's office.
—By mail.
—By appearing before a deputy assessor-collector, who must operate at "fixed locations customarily open to the public" with their hours of operation specified by the assessor-collector.

The new law, signed by Gov. John Connally Thursday, wipes out the old system of so-called "roving deputies," used by the League of Women Voters, labor and ethnic organizations and other politically interested groups.

The mechanics of registration are similar to those under the poll tax. The new law keeps the old provision that persons over 60 living in cities of 10,000 or less may vote without registering.

Mail registration may be on any form prescribed by the county voter registrar. Such forms must include a statement to be signed by the voter, that "I understand the giving of false information to procure the registration of a voter is a felony."

A new provision requires the tax assessor-collector to prepare for each precinct alphabetical lists of registered voters a month earlier than was required under the poll tax. The new deadline is March 1—a month after the final date for annual registration.

The earlier date will insure that such lists are in the hands of precinct election judges before local bond elections, many of which are held in March. Lawmakers wrote into the registration bill a new duty for registrars. They and their deputies are the only persons who may assist persons to register.

Champ Rabbit Price At Peak

HOUSTON (AP) — Mrs. Edgar Brown of Orange, Tex., paid $4,500 Saturday for the grand champion pen of three in the junior market rabbit auction, highest ever paid in the Houston Livestock show.

The auction's lucky youngster was Linda Steele, 17, of Kyle, Tex., daughter of vocational agriculture teacher Elbert Steele.

Previous high was $4,000 paid in 1954 by Gladys Brown of Orange, Edgar Brown's granddaughter. Last year's champion, purchased by Lone Star Beer, brought $3,110 to Carole Sue Travis of Houston.

Mrs. Brown bid against her millionaire oilman husband Saturday to take the grand champion pen. Brown bid as high as $4,450 but his wife topped his final offer with $4,500.

The reserve champion pen sold for $1,850 to Commercial Kitchens, Inc., of Houston. Glen Gill, 13, son of Dr. and Mrs.

George Gill of Beaumont was the owner. In Red Poll judging Saturday, the grand champion bull was shown by R. A. and Franklin Fuchs of Brenham, Tex.

Grand and reserve champion sows were shown by Milton Crnelwege of San Antonio. In early Angora goat judging, Pember and Son of Bandera, Tex., showed the champion buck and Bobby Kraft of New Braunfels, Tex., the reserve champion.

Settlement Looms In Controversy

NEW YORK (AP) — A settlement appeared imminent Saturday in the on-again, off-again controversy between the NCAA and the Ivy League over a section of the NCAA constitution.

If settled, the University of Pennsylvania can represent the Ivy League in the National Collegiate Basketball Championships and Athletic Director Delaney Kiphuth of Yale can take Don Schollander and his other swimmers to the NCAA Championships at Colorado Springs, Colo., March 24.

Talks are continuing between Dr. Robert Goheen of Princeton and Everett (Eppy) Barnes of Colgate, president of the NCAA, a Princeton spokesman said. "The outlook is favorable for an agreement."

An Ivy League spokesman said the fuss had evolved into a face-saving controversy. The dispute centers on a section of the constitution which requires that every NCAA school sign a form of certification that all athletes receiving grants-in-aid meet at least a 1.6 standard in a grading system in which 4.0 represents 100 per cent.

Any member failing to sign would be ineligible for national championship events, the NCAA ruled. The Ivies objected on the ground that a university should be permitted to set its own academic standards. Besides, they said, their standards were well above the 1.6 figure and also, they pointed out, they gave no grants-in-aid to athletes.

Scott Hits Price Spiral

RAPID CITY, S. D. (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., told the Johnson administration Saturday night to cut domestic spending or face "a price explosion which could decimate our economy."

He told a statewide Republican dinner the Department of Labor's index of wholesale prices rose sharply last month for the third straight month and over-all rose to a new high.

Scott said, "There are no signs that this inflationary trend is going to stop." He said there are many signs that a really serious spiral is just beginning.

Jurist Rejects Braves' Plea

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A plea by the National League and the Braves to set aside an order directing them to prepare plans to play baseball in Milwaukee this season was rejected Saturday by Circuit Court Judge Elmer Roller.

The order came two days before the start of Wisconsin's anti-trust suit scheduled for Monday in Judge Roller's court. He rejected the contention of the Braves that the team was under mandatory injunction, issued by Superior Court Judge Sam Phillips McKenzie of Fulton County, Ga., to play their 1966 home games in Atlanta.

"The court here has the highest respect for the courts of the sister State of Georgia," Roller said, "But the issues in the present proceedings were not and indeed could not be issues in the Georgia case nor issues in the court there."

Roller issued his order Jan. 27 directing the team to prepare to play in Milwaukee. Judge McKenzie on Feb. 8 directed the Braves to honor their 25-year contract with the Fulton County Stadium Authority.

Miami Trial State Rebuttal Set Monday

MIAMI (AP)—The defense has rested its case in the Jacques Mossler murder trial without putting on the witness stand either of the two defendants—Mossler's widow, Candace, and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers.

When the trial resumes Monday, the state plans to use 10 rebuttal witnesses.

The defense rested Friday after the removal from the record of part of the testimony of a key witness against blonde Mrs. Mossler and her nephew.

Judge George Schulz told the all-male jury to disregard the second testimony of Arthur Grimley, an Arkansas convict.

In his second testimony, Grimley had said he had made a mistake when he testified at first that Powers, 29, offered him on June 15 and 17 "the price of two Cadillacs" to kill Mossler, head of a $33 million finance company.

Grimley came back to the witness stand to say that the offer was made in March rather than in June after the defense had found out Powers was at a Houston hospital June 15 through 17.

The state claims that Mrs. Mossler, 40, and her nephew were lovers who coveted Mossler's fortune to further their love affair.

The defense contends Mossler could have been slain by a business rival or a sex pervert.

An attempt by the defense to put a Miami auto dealer on the stand was rejected by Schulz. The businessman, Maurice Sodikoff, was swindled out of $300,000 by Mossler's companies and had threatened to kill the financier, 69, the defense said.

McMahon and Wade Choate, chapter chairman, commended all the people who helped in the fight against birth defects.

The TAPS (Teen-Age Program) sponsored and participated in the mailers, roadblock and coin collector projects.

CONDITIONAL VOTER REGISTRATION CERTIFICATE

SAMPLE FREE VOTER REGISTRATION RECEIPT
Registration starts March 3 and ends on March 17 at midnight

Zirah L. LeFevre

Dates And Plans Set For Free Registration

Men and women of Howard County, who could have qualified themselves to vote in the usual poll tax payment period by paying their poll tax but failed to do so may now qualify themselves without paying a fee. They may do so by registering with the Howard County Tax Assessor between March 3-17.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, Friday received her "kit" from the secretary of state detailing the steps she must take to comply with the newly enacted special registration law for voters.

A feature of this kit is a rubber stamp which reads "Conditional Voter Registration." This rubber stamp will be applied to the face of unused poll tax receipts left over in the office from the poll tax period, which expired Jan. 31. These are to serve as registration receipts.

Mrs. LeFevre said that starting the morning of March 3, her deputies will register any qualified elector (who is of the age that would have required a poll tax payment prior to this new act). This new registration will continue through midnight March 17. Applications by mail must be in Mrs. LeFevre's office or in her mail box by that hour to be accepted as a qualified registration. The post mark alone is not enough. There is no fee for registering.

How many will qualify to vote under this new plan? Most observers expect a relatively small number. Mrs. LeFevre doubts if there will be as many as 500. She points out that two years ago in a presidential election year when free voting provisions were made for persons who objected to payment of poll tax but who wanted to vote for the president and other federal officials, there were only 171 who took advantage of the opportunity. That year there were 11,491 qualified voters on the rolls.

ONLY TWO
This year, the total poll tax and exemption certificates issued was 9,141. Only two of the free "federal office" type receipts were written.

Mrs. LeFevre said that she will set up substations at several points in the area. These substations will be provided with the proper blanks to register those voters who wish to take advantage of the new conditional registration.

Who is eligible to take advantage of this new registration opportunity? Any resident who did not obtain a poll tax receipt in the regular period but who is otherwise a qualified elector.

What of the county's elder voters? Citizens who are overage

Cancer Meeting For Doctors

Diagnosing the most common cancer in men and women will be the subject of discussion at a 17 county medical conference in San Angelo March 5. Sponsored by the West Texas Academy of General Practice, the Colon and Rectum Cancer Program is being presented by the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, which has arranged for a panel of four leading physicians.

Dr. Cecil M. French, member of the board of directors of the academy, stated that 163 physicians from areas surrounding San Angelo have been invited to attend the three hour meeting, beginning at noon, at the River Club.

The program represents one phase of the society's efforts to acquaint physicians with new techniques of diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

Physicians have been invited from Howard, Mitchell, Sterling, and other counties.

Collects And Makes Old Vintage Guns

By SAM BLACKBURN
Flint lock rifles and pistols, cap-and-ball guns once regarded as the ideal weapon or sporting piece, are widely treasured by collectors.

HE MAKES BRAND NEW OLD FIREARMS
Elvin A. Brown works on realistic flint-lock pistol

Elvin A. Brown, 1706 Owens, is also a collector of ancient arms. However, Elvin doesn't stop with merely collecting historic pistols, shotguns and rifles of a century and a half ago. He makes modern replicas of these ancient weapons — perfect to the last detail. When he has one made, he fires it to prove that his workmanship is correct.

PUMPER

Brown is an oil field pumper. He is an oldtimer in the county and area, having moved into this part of the country in 1936. His interest in guns and western history dates back to his childhood.

George Washington's hard pressed colonials relied on flintlock rifles to stave off the Red coats. A flintlock, for the uninitiated, is a gun or pistol which relies on a flint striking a hard piece of steel to ignite the powder in the barrel and send the weapon's bullet on its way.

A lot of things can happen to a flint or to the steel against which it strikes.

As a result, there must have been many moments of suspense for the soldiers of the olden days who relied on this temperamental method of halting an enemy.

"The spark," Brown points out, "comes from the steel when it is struck by the flint. A lot of folk seem to think it is the flint that gives off the fire." Later on, the cap and ball was a big step forward. The percussion cap was far more reliable than had been the flints. Brown makes replicas of these, too.

ACCURACY

Most of the early guns loaded with molded round lead balls. The barrels were not rifled. Accuracy was not too much. Nor, for that matter, was distance.

Probably Andrew Jackson's admonition to his sharpshooters, back of their cotton bales at New Orleans, not to shoot "until you can see the whites of their eyes" was because he was keenly aware of the weaknesses of the weapons his men were using.

Brown has made a half a dozen or so replica weapons of ancient vintage in the past decade. He has also steadily added to his collection of historic guns. He has about 50 interesting examples in his display case. Included are rare and ancient rifles, shotguns and pistols, some of which are probably two or three hundred years old.

The replicas he has made are so accurate that a layman might not be able to distinguish between them and the originals. Included in his production list are three ancient design pistols which conjure up mental pictures of pirates on the Spanish Main.

AMMO TOO

His collection of rarities in the field of arms does not stop with weapons. He has examples of ancient ammunition, numerous powder horns, many of which he made.

He also has a calvaryman's cap labeled "Tenth Texas Cavalry," possibly one worn by a soldier stationed at old Fort Davis when that was an active military post.

In his pistol collection is a four-barreled example which was called a "pepper box" in its time. Also of interest is a tiny silvered pistol with a long barrel, capable of a single shot, and called a "bar" pistol. Brown does not know where the name originated.

In making his replicas, he usually gets the barrels he needs

Deadline For Medicare Near

"If you have reached 65 and are not receiving Social Security or railroad retirement benefits, and have not signed up for Medicare, now is the time for action," Erven Fisher, Social Security district manager in Big Spring, reminded.

He explained that almost every older person in the nation is eligible for health insurance under the new law passed by Congress last year.

"The major part of hospital charges and doctor bills will be paid for those people 65 or older who sign up for the health protection," Fisher said.

"We are especially trying to reach two groups of people right now. One group includes those over 65 who have not applied for Social Security retirement benefits because their earnings are too high to permit cash payments. These people will have Medicare protection by applying for it.

"The second group we need to contact may have had little or no work under Social Security," Fisher explained. "If they are 65 or over, they can get the health protection by enrolling for it. This group also includes aliens who have had at least five years of permanent residence in this country."

Fisher said that health insurance benefits begin next July. "I cannot overemphasize the importance of prompt action by all those who are eligible," he said. "This applies to several thousand persons in this area."

There is a deadline of March 31, for all those 65 and over. Further information can be obtained in person, by mail, or by telephone from the Social Security office in Big Spring, 1009 Gregg. The telephone number is AM 4-5226.

Local Students On Honor Rolls

At Angelo State College two area students have been named to the honor roll for the 1965-66 fall semester.

They are Susan Elrod, a freshman from Farsan, and the daughter of Hamlin Elrod, and Daphne Diane Hauber, a freshman from Big Spring, and the daughter of Marguerite Genazio, 1429 E. 6th.

Jane Kay Davis, a junior from Big Spring, has been named to the Dean's Honor Roll along with 294 other Eastern New Mexico University students by Dr. Gail Shannon, dean of academic affairs.

Health-Welfare Unit Has Meet

Guest speaker for the Friday luncheon meeting of the Health and Welfare Organization was Joe Gordon, local Internal Revenue Service, who outlined changes in the IRS laws both past and present. About 18 people representing 10 organizations were present. Chairman for the meeting was Erven Fisher of the Social Security office. The next meeting will be held March 25 at the Downtown Tea Room.

SANDS' LYNN MAXWELL FINDS THE RANGE
Royce Lee (32) of Bronte was game's top scorer

Bronte Shades Sands, 86-65

By TOMMY HART

The Mighty Mites of Sands High School finally found a mountain they couldn't climb here Saturday night.

The Mustangs, who have gotten a lot of mileage out of a compact but lightning-fast group of boys, lost to Bronte's Longhorns in the finals of the Region VI-B boys' basketball tournament before a standing-room only crowd at HCJC, 86-65.

The District 67-B Longhorns looked better than they had in two previous tournament games. They used a marked advantage in height to control the boards and grab a first period lead they never lost.

Tad Richards and Royce Lee combined to give Bronte a one-two punch the Mustangs couldn't defend. Richards tossed in 21 points while Lee emerged as high point man of the game with 23. Wayne Carlton was a big help, too, with 20 points.

The Steers, now 20-5 on the year, carefully built a 32-point lead in the fourth period and then let the subs take over. Sands never struck its colors and kept scoring with the fast break.

The victory qualified Bronte for the first trip to the state tournament a team from there has ever made.

Sands was led by Lynn Maxwell, son of the Sands superintendent of schools, who banged in 16 points. Oren Lancaster chucked in 11 for the Ponies before he fouled out early in the fourth round.

When Lancaster departed, Sands lost what little rebounding strength it had and had to depend mainly on Bronte mistakes to get the ball.

Only in the final period did Sands outscore the Longhorns, counting 20 points to 16 for the champions.

In the Saturday morning games, Sands' Mustangs displayed the nerve of a burglar in rearing by favored Norton, 74-70, while Bronte turned back Anthony, 66-58.

The taller Eagles simply could not match the speed and ability of Sands to hit from out front.

The Ponies, with a big partisan crowd cheering them on, grabbed an early lead and held on all the way, although the Eagles pulled to within two points of a tie at one time early in the fourth.

Sands had an eight-point bulge with 5:10 to play but then lost Glenn Harrell, Alfonso Calvio and Jesse Cavazos on fouls in rapid succession and coach Arlen White had to call on his bench to save the day.

Calvio had been Sands' playmaker and defensive jewel. Time and again, he broke up Norton plays with sensational interceptions.

Lynn Maxwell hit a hot streak for Sands, scoring 21 points. Cavazos and Oren Lancaster had 18 each for the Ponies while Leon Jans led Norton with 18 while Bruce Pierce had 17 for the Eagles.

Anthony gave Bronte a fit before losing. The District 74-B Wildcats trailed the Longhorns by only two points going into the final quarter but Bronte showed the poise necessary to stay in front.

Tad Richards banged in 25 points and Royce Lee—21 for Bronte while Buddy Winston led Anthony with 19. Richard Hall accounted for 13 of the Cats' points while Robert Gomez contributed ten.

Anthony sprang somewhat of an upset in defeating Norton for first place, 85-79.

The Far West Texas team came from behind with a 27-point final period to win going away.

Buddy Winston paced the Anthony team with 18 points while Leon Jans had 26 for Norton.

Gardella Says He Got Big Payoff

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Danny Gardella told the Milwaukee Journal Saturday that organized baseball paid him $60,000 to drop his antitrust suit against the game in 1949.

"I never gave out the amount before," the former New York Giant and St. Louis Cardinal outfielder said. "But now, why not?"

Gardella, who had drawn a five-year suspension by the commissioner of baseball for jumping to the outlawed Mexican League in 1946, said he actually received less than half the amount of the settlement with the rest paid to attorneys.

"I felt like Judas getting paid off, but being a poor man, I felt more or less justified. It wasn't like I had a lot of money and was being paid off," he said in a telephone interview from his home at Yonkers, N.Y.

Gardella was one of several players who jumped to Mexico after World War II. Others, include pitchers Max Lanier and Fred Martin of the St. Louis Cardinals and pitcher Sal Maglie of the New York Giants.

Lanier and Martin also entered a law suit to fight their ban, but dropped their suit as soon as they were reinstated in 1949.

Gardella's suit reached the U.S. Supreme Court before the settlement was reached.

At the time, Gardella said he was dropping the case "for the good of the game."

Gardella wished Wisconsin well in its antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League. The suit is scheduled to go to trial Monday.

"I hope the state slaps the heck out of them," he said. "Any help they want from me in Milwaukee, they can get."

"We should have amicable relations and work things out in a sensible, nice way," he said.

Gardella played one season as a regular. He batted .272 and hit 18 home runs for the Giants in 1945.

Albuquerque Will Stage Indoor Meet

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The National AAU Indoor Track and Field Championships start Friday at Albuquerque — 2,100 miles to the West and 5,300 feet higher than where the meet has been held the past 40 years.

A crowd of more than 11,000 — officials are hoping for 15,000 — is expected to jam Tingley Coliseum for the two-day meet.

Madison Square Garden in New York has been the site of past nationals, but Albuquerque's 5,300-foot altitude more nearly approximates the 7,500-foot altitude of Mexico City, site of the 1968 Olympic Games.

Many top athletes will not be seen at Albuquerque, and other major competitors remain uncommitted about attending. But some 200 athletes are entered in the men's and women's divisions.

Pole vault world indoor record holder John Pennel; women's 880 record holder Szo Nago of Hungary; Don DeNoon, fastest mile walker in the world; champion 35-pound weight thrower Hal Connolly; long jump record holder, Igor Ter-Ovanesyan of Russia, and mid-distance runner Adolph Plummer are among those entered.

Pennel, DeNoon, Connolly and Plummer, a 440 expert, are with the 1965 team titlist, the California Striders. Tennessee A&I will defend the women's title.

A plane ticket has been mailed to Kenya's sensational distance runner, Kipchoge Keino, but no word has been received on whether he will participate. Also invited but so far uncommitted are world three-mile record holder Ron Clark of Australia and miler Jim Greile of Texas A&M superman Randy Matson is playing basketball and won't be on hand to put the shot, leaving it to Parry O'Brien and Vilmos Varju of Hungary, the 1964 Olympic Games bronze medalist, to battle it out.

Ralph Boston, entered in the long jump and the 60-yard high hurdles, will duel Ter-Ovanesyan and New Mexico's Clarence Robinson, the NCAA champion, in the long jump. The Russian's best long jump is 26 feet, 10 inches, while Boston has done 26-6 1/2. Blaine Lindgren joins Boston in the 60-yard high hurdles.

Wyomia Tyus, Edith Maguire and Debbie Thompson, America's elite female sprinting corps, all are competing in the women's 60-yard dash.

Officials weren't so optimistic in the men's 60-yard sprint and were trying to persuade Nebraska's Charlie Greene to attend the meet. Earlier this year he tied the world mark with a 6.1 clocking.

Nine finals will be held the opening night of the meet and the rest are scheduled Saturday. Included in Friday's finals are the men's 1,000-yard run, men's three-mile run and the women's 60-yard high hurdles.

HCJC (68) — Papp 64.30; Voss 21.5; Griffin 5.12; Smith 5.12; Leonard 8.0; Thompson 0.6; Price 3.17; Hughey 1.13; Morris 3.04; Telford 27.15.66. Dallas Prelims May Be Staged DALLAS (AP) — A qualifying round may be necessary for the Greater Dallas Golf tournament April 21-24, John Tuthill, supervisor of the contest, said Saturday.

The purse will be $85,000, almost double the previous prize money. This increase and more attractive dates are expected to attract more than 144 entrants. The tournament previously has been in the fall.

PGA rules limit tournament size to 144. If a qualifying round is necessary it will be held April 18.

Frogs Batter Baylor Quint

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Christian effectively used a zone press and the outside bombardment of Wayne Kreis and Jess Evans to demolish Baylor 106-88 here Saturday before 2,079.

Kreis flipped in 27 points and Evans contributed 20 as the Frogs padded a 10-point half-time margin to 28 points in the last half before the reserves were shuffled into the game.

This marked the first time for the Frogs to crack the 100-point circle in a Southwest Conference game.

Mile Ace Enters At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (AP) — Three of the nation's finest schoolboy runners, headed by miler Robert Gonzalez of Fallurrias, will be in the field at next weekend's Southwestern Recreation Meet at Farrington Field.

Gonzalez holds the state record of 4:13.4 for the mile, set in the state meet last year.

He is joined by distance runner Willie Rios of Lawton, Okla., and hurdler Mike Robbins of Waco University.

Rios holds the Oklahoma State title and is defending mile champ in the meet while Robbins has a best time of 13.9 in the high hurdles.

Some 42 teams are entered in the high school division. A dozen teams, headed by defending champion Texas Southern, will vie in the college class while the university division has been able to muster only entries from TCU, SMU, Texas Tech and Arlington State.

Prelims will be staged Friday at 12:45. Finals in all divisions are set for Saturday afternoon.

Decision Due Monday On Clay Title Fight

CHICAGO (AP) — A defense of Cassius Clay's unsuitable apology before the Illinois Commission was mapped Saturday by the heavyweight champion's attorney, Edward Jacko of New York.

But attempts to add a touch of whitewash to Clay's remarks Friday apparently could do little to ward off cancellation of his title fight with Ernie Terrell scheduled for Chicago March 29. The three-man commission is expected to hand down a decision at noon Monday.

Jacko said Clay had told him that he didn't understand the meaning of a lot of words that the commission used in questioning him.

"For example," said Jacko. "I asked the champ if he knew the meaning of the word 'patriotic' and he told me that he had no idea what they were talking about when the commissioners asked him that."

Before the commission Friday, Clay was asked by chairman Joe Triner if he were apologizing for his "unpatriotic remarks" after being reclassified from 1-Y to 1-A.

"I'm not apologizing for nothing like that," Clay replied. "I don't have to. I'm the champ of the world."

Long after the commission meeting, Clay was located on a South Side street and told a reporter: "The only thing I'll say is that the fight will be held; if not here, in some other city; if not there, in some other country; if not against Terrell, then against some other fighter."

The rug was jerked from under the fight mainly by Attorney General William G. Clark. He told the commission the fight would violate the law on a legal oversight in the make-up of the promoters' corporation.

He also cited another section of the Illinois code that states that among qualifications needed are "good and stable moral character and not likely to engage in acts detrimental to the public or to honestly conducted boxing."

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley added force behind cancellation of the fight by saying:

"The attorney general has issued an opinion holding the fight illegal. All state officials are bound by the opinion of the attorney general. It seems to me the commission has no other choice but to follow the opinion."

Soph Game Set At 1:30 Friday

A sophomore game will precede the varsity baseball contest Friday in Snyder between the city's Tigers and the Big Spring Steers. Starting time is 1:30 p.m.

Coach Roy Baird of Big Spring, who sent his team through an intra-squad game Saturday, said he had about 10 sophomores in uniform and would probably have to use a junior to fill out the lineup.

Soph hurriers who have reported include Tom Wood, Doug Robinson and Jerry Ryan.

The varsity contest, which opens the season for both teams, will get under way at 4 p.m. Bobby Griffin and Gary Mears will likely do much of the hurling for Big Spring.

Odessa Links Meet Is Set

ODESSA — The 18th annual Odessa Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament will be held July 7-10 at Odessa Country Club.

The $20,000, 72-hole best-ball tournament is expected once again to draw some of the top touring professionals as well as most of the outstanding club pros from three states.

The 1966 tournament field will be limited to 100 teams. Automatic invitations go to the low 30 and ties in the 1965 tournament. The tournament committee sends out enough invitations to bring the total to 60. The tournament chairman, Wilford Elmore, will invite 10 more.

The final 30 spots will be filled by an 18-hole qualifying round prior to the tournament.

Defending champions are pro Babe Hiskey of Pocatello, Idaho, and amateur Marty Fleckman of Houston.

Only professionals receive invitations. They in turn select their amateur partners.

All pros competing in this year's tournament must be PGA approved.

Chaparrals Win Over Wranglers

ODESSA — Lubbock Christian College clinched second place in Western Conference basketball standings by upsetting Odessa, 80-77, here Friday night.

Bubba Harris was missing from the LCC lineup but Jim Harp, Robert Evans and Ernie Cheshire filled in nicely. Harp led the Chaparrals in scoring with 22 points while Evans had 20 and Cheshire 17.

Lawrence Thompson was Odessa's top man with 23 points while LeRoy Walker had 15.

Lubbock led at half time, 37-35. At one time, LCC led by a score of 70-58.

Dick Van Dyke, the TV personality, and the former HCJC and Texas Western College basketball mentor, Harold Davis, have something very much in common. Harold and Janelle Davis repeated their vows on the Hollywood show a year before Dick and Marjorie Van Dyke stepped up to say "I do." The Van Dykes went through another marriage ceremony in Berkeley, Calif., after which Dick could not resist a quip, "I'm not sure we had a proper wedding at all the first time." Ex-Big Springer Billy Maxwell is automatically eligible for this year's April 7-10 Masters Golf tournament because he finished among the top 16 players in the 1965 National Open tournament. At least 14 other Texans will take part in the links classic, including Gay Brewer Jr., Jackie Burke Jr., Charles Coody (who got a special invitation), Jackie Cupit, Jimmy Demaret, Terry Dill, Dave Eichelberger, Wes Ellis Jr., Ralph Guldahl, Ben Hogan, Don January, Dave Marr, Byron Nelson and Dudley Wysong Jr. El Paso Austin has not won a coin toss to determine a bi-district playoff spot in any sport since 1947, which must be some sort of record. At that Class AA basketball playoff game here the other night between Anson and Crane, each school got $116.25 after expenses. The crowd, no doubt, would have been much better had the weather been warmer and there not have been a red-hot college game across town involving HCJC and Odessa College. Incidentally, the Anson coach, Tom Burks, who grew up around Hot Springs, Ark., says he decided to attend college and remain in West Texas because of the friendliness of the people. Burks attended HSU when Bill Scott was coach there and has been a coach at Anson for 12 years. The University of Oklahoma freshman sprint relay squad, of which Texan George Aldridge is a member, ran a 41-flat in practice several weeks ago. Few varsity quartets do as well in season.

Curt Gowdy, who pairs with Paul Christman to give television its finest football announcing team, will handle the NBC-TV baseball assignment this year. If there's one thing Gowdy does better than football, it is baseball. Caddo Matthews, the Colorado City basketball mentor who watched the Anson-Crane playoff game here the other night, coached the Wayland College women's basketball team about a decade ago that paraded through 60 games undefeated and then took an all-star club to the Pan-American Games in Mexico City that was all-winning. Camilo Pascual, the one-time Big Spring hurler who made it big in the major leagues, is regarded as a traitor by Fidel Castro's group in Cuba. Consequently, his name is never mentioned in Havana newspapers or over other news media. Camilo's crime: He doesn't return to Cuba between seasons. Stanton's red-hot Buffaloes sank 20 free throws in the final quarter of its bi-district game with Aspermont in Snyder the other night, a factor that swung the issue. Texas supplies the most players in pro football and pro golf while California leads all other states in producing big league baseballers, leading tennis, track and swimming champions. Minnesota and New York, as could be expected, are tops at turning out winners in winter sports. Texas had 13 natives who won $10,000 or more on the pro golf tour last year. Frank Carswell, the one-time big league baseballer and before that a basketball star at Rice, says Dubby Malaise of Texas Tech is the best "head faker" he's seen in the round-ball sport since Placido Gomez, another Rice ex. Malaise shoots better than Gomez ever did, though. Snyder High School will have three permanent football tri-captains this fall—Billy Wilson, Murry Bowden and Ricky Hall. Bill Easterling, the Coahoma cage mentor, says he is pleased his school is moving from District 6-A to 5-A because the new district is less crowded. Odds are favorable that Coahoma will be a Class AA school in two years.

Mustangs Edge Texas To Remain In Race

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Denny Holman sank a field goal with only 12 seconds left Saturday to give Southern Methodist a 71-69 victory over Texas and keep the Methodists in a tie for the Southwest Conference basketball lead with Texas A&M. Texas A&M, which beat Rice 93-65 Friday night, has a 9-3 record with two games to go. Southern Methodist also is 9-3 with two to play. The score was tied 10 times and the lead changed hands an equal number of times as the two rivals battled down to the wire. With 4:24 left Texas was leading 65-63 and shortly afterward went to 67-63 on Larry Lake's field goal. But Charles Beasley flipped in two field goals and Bob Jones Holman ringed the vital one and sank two free throws to pull SMU ahead, but Texas tied it up with a jump ball and a scramble with 29 seconds to go. Then as time ran out.

Purdue Loses To Michigan

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Michigan's Big Ten basketball leaders choked off two late Purdue rallies and whipped the Boilermakers 105-85 Saturday, but the losers' Dave Schellhase again outscored Michigan's Caprie Russell. Schellhase, national scoring leader in over-all play, took a razor thin Big Ten scoring lead over Russell, 353-352. The Purdue star hit 16 of 30 field goal attempts and five of six free throws for 37 points. He set a Big Ten record of 57 in a 129-94 loss at Michigan a week ago. Russell connected for 13 baskets on only 17 shots and made seven of nine free throws for 33 points. Michigan turned in the best shooting effort any opponent ever made against Purdue, 40 fielders in 70 shots for 600. Russell and John Clawson, who scored 30 points, became the first Michigan players to get 30 against Purdue in a 62-game series. Michigan made its Big Ten record 9-2 against Purdue's 3-8.

Sunland Planning To Honor Turner

EL PASO — Track president George Ranch revealed plans to honor former football great Clyde (Bulldog) Turner with a special day named in his honor Saturday, March 6. Turner turned in his cleats for a pair of cowboy boots in 1953 following his retirement from pro football and now trains a string of quarter horses at Sunland Park. Johnny Unitas, ace quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, Bobby Lane, former ace of the Detroit Lions, Sammy Baugh, former star of the Redskins, and Turner's former team mate Wayne Hanson of the Chicago Bears, will be at Sunland for the ceremonies, and to present Turner with a surprise gift.

Eagles Lose To Monterey

LUBBOCK — Raymond Wray missed the second of two free throws in the final four seconds of play, enabling Lubbock Monterey to nudge Abilene High, 57-56, in the Class AAAA Regional basketball game here Saturday night. A series of free throws Monterey made late in the game, when Abilene was trying desperately to be the difference in the contest, Wray led Abilene in scoring with 16 points. The win sends Monterey to the state tournament at Austin next week.

Ex-Gridder Dying, Holds Out Hope

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Sometime in the next six months, maybe in two weeks, former University of Illinois football player Robert F. Allen is going to die of cancer, the doctors say. They offer one way out — if Allen can find "the right person." So Allen, a Tucson insurance executive who will be 29 on March 9, is looking for someone with osteogenic sarcoma — a rare type of bone cancer. There aren't many of them alive. Those who are face the same fate Allen does — impending death. To make things more difficult, the person Allen seeks also must have O positive blood. If that person can be found — and agrees to try a new cancer treatment with Allen — they both may live. Last fall, two Roswell Park Memorial Institute physicians from Buffalo, N.Y., told the annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons about a successful tumor transplant treatment. And one of them, Dr. Sigmund M. Nadler, has agreed to try the same operation on Allen and the person he is seeking. Nadler and Dr. George E. Moore told the surgeons group in Atlantic City, N.J., that they have found that antibodies can be generated to combat tumors by transplanting the tumors from one victim to another. Later, white blood cells — which carry the antibodies — can be withdrawn from the patient and given to the other to destroy his cancer. The process can work both ways. Nadler and Moore reported that their experimental treatment worked in the case of a 25-year-old woman who had skin cancer. But Allen has bone cancer. "I don't care if the chances are 100 to 1 against it," Allen said Saturday. "It would be better than the 100 to nothing odds I am facing now. "If it should work, it could save both my life and the other person's. If not, the doctors may at least learn enough not to try this on someone else. "Even if I find someone with osteogenic sarcoma and O positive blood, the only guarantee I have is that I can be a guinea pig, which I'd awfully much like to be right now. "You don't hit the ball, though, if you don't swing the bat." Until last September, life looked pretty promising to Allen, a former Tucson high school football star who made the All-Big 10 Academic Team as a casions, it felt like I'd pulled a muscle in my leg — once when playing tennis, once when water skiing and once when diving," he recalls. "I'd gotten a little out of shape so I tried to get back in condition by running up the stairs of the Phoenix Title Building, where my office used to be. Again, it felt like I'd pulled a muscle. "I went to the doctor, and he X-rayed my leg. "It was like he had hit me across the chest with a baseball bat when he said I had cancer and my leg would have to come off." Allen went to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., for the amputation. Doctors told him they thought they had removed all the cancer, but his chances were one in seven of living. With his type cancer, they told him, radiation and chemicals wouldn't work.

Colorado Girl Favored In World Title Match

DAVOS, Switzerland (AP) — Graceful Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs, Colo., won the school figures and became a heavy favorite Saturday to win the ladies' individual title in the World Figure Skating Championships. The 17-year-old schoolgirl traced the six compulsory figures with such precision that she piled up 1,233.0 points compared with 1,194.2 for the defending champion, Petra Burka of Canada. Miss Burka was in second place, followed by Gabrielle Seyfert of East Germany, with 1,174.7. "Congratulations, Peggy, you've made it," the American girl's coach, Carlo Fassi, yelled when the scores were announced. Compulsory figures, in which the contestants trace and retrace involved figures on the ice, counts 60 per cent in the final judging. Free skating counts 40 per cent. The free skating is scheduled Sunday. This is the phase in which the skaters perform their own routines set to music. Peggy is such a daring and imaginative free skater that observers said only a rare accident could now keep her from the title. The two other United States entrants finished the school figures well down the list. Pamela Schneider of Lincoln, N.J., was eighth with 1,073.1 points

Kentucky Jug Is Winner Of Cup

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Calumet Farm's Kentucky Jug scored a smashing victory in the $103,800 Hialeah Turf Cup Saturday and set a track record at 2:27 1-5 for the 1 1/4 miles on the grass. Piliandebun finished second, 2 1/4 lengths back, with Ribot's Fling third and Brave Lad fourth in the field of 16. Kentucky Jug, with Bill Boland making up most of his 115 pounds, clipped three-fifths of a second off the record set by Tartan Stable's Meeting in this feature in 1958. Kentucky Jug, trained by George Poole and running as an entry with his stablemate Republican Way, was the favorite with the crowd of 25,366 and paid $7.20, $3.60 and $2.80. Piliandebun, a Chilean-bred, paid $9.40 and $6 as an entry with Tatao, also bred in Chile. Ribot's Fling was $8 to show.

Wilt Is Given Huge Trophy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain received an 8-foot-1 trophy from his boss Friday night in recognition of his recent accomplishment of being coming the greatest scorer in the history of the National Basketball Association. Chamberlain broke the 20,880 point record held by Bob Pettit, retired St. Louis star, during an away game in West Virginia about a week ago. So, owner Irv Kosloff of the 76ers held appropriate ceremonies before Friday night's game against New York.

Golf Handicap Ass'n Drive Launched Here

Big Spring golfers are being polled for membership in the Texas Handicap Golfers Association, which will start tournaments on a club level in September working toward state lists. Both men and women are eligible for membership. The membership fee is $1 annually.

Jay Haney of Midland, the association's president, visited Big Spring Friday to promote the membership drive. Only players who have played enough golf to carry an attested handicap score are eligible to join the association, Haney stated. They can do this by mailing in one dollar to the association headquarters, P. O. Box 5271, Midland, in a self-addressed envelope. All proceeds will be placed in escrow until approval of the PGA is obtained. Representatives of the association will meet with Texas PGA officials in Lubbock March 16-17, at which time they hope to get PGA sanctions.

The THGA is a non-profit organization whose purposes are: (1) to provide funds for the National Foundation for the Rehabilitation of Delinquent Children and (2) to promote golf by encouraging all members of the THGA to play and support National Golf Day; to aid all golf clubs in organizing and making it possible for all golfers in Texas to have a handicap score; to give financial aid to the Texas Golf Association and to abide by the rules and regulations as set up by the USGA and PGA.

Club tournaments for men will be conducted Sept. 23-4-5, with 18 holes of play being required during that time. Linksters will play their home courses. Zone tournaments will be timed for Sept. 10-11, also on home courses, while the state tournament will be played Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

The women's club tournament is scheduled Sept. 6-9 while zone competition is booked Sept. 24-25 and the state tournament coinciding in dates with the men's meet.

All club champions earn framed 9x11 scrolls. Zone winners receive First Flight irons and trophies. State titlists earn large trophies they retain themselves plus traveling trophies for their clubs. Haney said membership cards at the Myny course here would be made available at an early date and were already being distributed at the Big Spring Country Club.

Membership drives are now being conducted with a test area which embraces such cities as Monahans, Kermit, Andrews, Seminole, Big Spring, Brownfield and Lamesa. Golfers can contact club pros for additional details.

GOLF DUBBERS ORGANIZING Jay Haney with placard

Haney Made Fame As Outfielder

Jay Haney of Midland, president of the Texas Handicap Golfers Association now launching an area membership drive, is better known as a professional baseball player.

Jay now is the executive director of Texas Boys' Ranch (formerly Otto's Boys Ranch), a 4,440-acre spread operated for troubled boys.

A native of Dallas, Haney played professional baseball from 1941 to 1955, with the exception of three years he spent in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

He will be remembered by old-timers here as a member of Jodie Tate's 1941 Big Spring team, which won the WT-NM league regular season championship with games to spare.

The fleet fly-chaser started his baseball career with Lamesa in 1939 and later was purchased by the then Brooklyn Dodgers, along with Hayden (Stubby) Greer. He performed for Fort Worth in the old Texas League, alongside such players as Duke Snider and Willard Ramsdell, in Olean, N.Y., Tulsa and Abilene, in addition to Lamesa, Midland and Big Spring.

He hit 266 for Fort Worth in 1946, the year it won the pennant under Ray Hayworth, and led the league in many departments of play.

He managed at Lamesa from 1949 through part of the 1952 season and at Abilene from 1953 through '55. Abilene played to a lower minor league record attendance of 154,000 in 1954, while he was there.

In 1941 while performing here, Haney hit .321 as a leadoff batter and set an all-time WT-NM league record by recording three assists in one inning of play. He was second in stolen bases that season, he recalls.

While performing for Tulsa against Dallas in 1948, he helped the Oilers register a 30-1 victory and set a league record of nine at-bats in the one game. He collected six hits, including a home run, that night, he recalls. From 1950 through part of 1952, he was manager of the Midland Longhorn League club.

Drew will become coordinator of physical education and athletics and head football coach at Turner High of Carrollton, a Dallas suburb.

Bronte Longhorns Shade Westbrook Cats, 57-47

The team that controls the boards in basketball usually wins and that was the case Friday night, as Bronte topped Westbrook in the first round of the Region VI-B boys' tournament at HCJC here Friday night. Final score was 57-47.

The District 67-B Longhorns, using a superiority in height to good advantage pulled away in the second period by making 12 points in a row at one stretch. Actually, there was no difference in the two teams in performance from the field—each of them made 17 field goals.

However, the Wildcats kept committing fouls trying to wrestle for the ball and the Longhorns kept taking advantage of the opportunities presented them at the charity line. Elmer McMahan of Westbrook put on a tremendous performance for the Westbrook team after a slow start and wound up as the game's top scorer with 30 points. He was also adept at stealing the ball. Bronte's combination of Tad Richards and Royce Lee proved more than up to the challenge, however. Richards emerged

Big Spring Man Will Help Build Spanish Refinery

By TOM BARRY

More than 475 years ago, Christopher Columbus set out from a port near Huelva, Spain, and discovered the new world. A bit later, the Conquistadores found Indian gold and brought it back to the Mother Country.

A Big Springer, these four centuries later, will help Spain refine another form of gold—"black gold"—into products to help its burgeoning economy, and for Gulf Oil Co., for which he works.

Gulf is going to build probably the first Spanish oil refinery constructed by an outside company, near Huelva, and Don Anderson will be there for two years to help build it.

Anderson, who holds a degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Alabama, will leave for Spain March 7. His wife, Vickie, will follow a few weeks later.

He was a high school track star at Big Spring High until his graduation in 1957. After two years at Howard County Junior College, he went to the University of Alabama, where he was a track letterman (high and low hurdles) for his last two years, and was assistant track coach during his senior year.

DON ANDERSON

Since 1962 he has been with Gulf.

The refinery, to be called the La Rabida refinery, will be just a bit smaller than the Cosden plant—40,000 barrel capacity.

Huelva is about 53 miles west of Seville, and is just off the western coast of the country.

A Spanish firm, Rio Tinto Mining Co., is a partner in the refinery.

"After the refinery is finished in 1968, it will be manned by Spanish citizens," Anderson said, "although some U.S. people will remain for awhile until enough petroleum engineers are ready to take it over."

Construction of the refinery will be by Fluor Construction Co., a U.S.-based, world-wide building firm. Fluor built a similar plant in Korea three years ago.

Anderson will act as a construction engineer on the project, living in company housing in Huelva.

The name of the refinery, La Rabida, has Columbian connections.

"La Rabida is the name of a nearby monastery where Columbus stayed while he was awaiting the 'go-ahead' from Queen Isabella and King Ferdinand for his monumental voyage," he explained.

Strangely, none of the oil to be processed into gasoline, and later, petro-chemical products, is Spanish. About 75 per cent will be shipped from Kuwait, a country which is practically nothing but a pool of oil overlaid with sand. The other 25 per cent will be shipped from Nigeria, whose oil fields are just opening up to good production.

Martin Gets New Producer

Martin County gained a completion, and Glasscock County got a location in Saturday oil reports.

Russell Maguire of Dallas No. 1 Bonnie Shepard, half a mile south of the Ackerly Dean Sand pool in northeast Martin County, completed for a daily flowing potential of 197 barrels of 38-gravity oil. The flow was through a 12-64 choke and from perforations from 8,425 - 8,672.

Gas-oil ratio was 186-1. Flowing pressure was 45 pounds and no stimulation was used. The venture is 30 miles north of Stanton and is 660 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the east lines of the southeast quarter of section 19-34-3n, T&P.

Connelly Oil Co., Inc. of Abilene will drill its No. 1 A. L. Houston as a one mile southwest outpost to the Gordon Street Wolfcamp pool in northern Glasscock. The venture will drill to 9,900 in search of Wolfcamp pay and is located 1,000 feet from the north and west lines of section 4-35-2n, T&P.

Drilling reports included Warren-American No. 1 Justice in extreme southeast Garza County, drilling below 4,010, and Hamon No. 1 Pollack, northern Martin explorer, drilling plug at 366 after setting 13 3/4-inch casing.

Mercury Thieves Target Of Reward

EL PASO—A $500 reward will be offered in the Permian Basin starting March 1 for information leading to arrest and conviction of anyone guilty of stealing mercury from El Paso Natural Gas Company.

Information should be furnished to the sheriff's office in Lea County, New Mexico, or Midland County, Texas.

A similar reward posted by the company last fall in the San Juan Basin has been very effective. Several arrests have been made and convictions obtained.

The rewards are one method El Paso Natural is using in trying to cut down on thefts of mercury from its gas well meters.

These have increased with a rise in the price of mercury.

Recently, El Paso Natural obtained a court judgment for $8,400 against a Denver, Colo., firm in reimbursement for quicksilver the company said was stolen from its facilities and then sold to the Denver firm. There was no evidence that the defendant knew the mercury had been stolen.

In a similar case last year, El Paso Natural won a $6,000 judgment against a Salt Lake City, Utah, firm. In that instance, too, there was no evidence that the buyer knew the liquid metal had been illegally obtained.

President Has Praise For Nation's Oil Geologists

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — Copies of a letter in which President Lyndon B. Johnson commends the skill and resourcefulness of petroleum geologists were distributed within the industry this week.

The White House letter distributed by the American Association of Petroleum Geologists also includes a few indirect words of praise for the oil industry.

"Oil turns countless wheels," the President said. "It keeps us moving toward new goals."

The words are rare in that ever since taking office on Nov. 22, 1963, President Johnson has deliberately sought to prevent his name being linked publicly with petroleum affairs except on essential official documents.

Otherwise, the Nov. 8 letter has no particular significance except as a commendation for a 14,800-member association that is observing its 50th anniversary.

SHIFTS JOB

Just 17 days after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated, President Johnson announced he wanted the Interior Department instead of the White House to set national oil policy.

It was an apparent move to free himself of any suspicion of his former ties as a senator and congressman from Texas, a major oil producing state, might influence such policies.

President Johnson's decision took on added meaning last December when Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, instead of the White House, called a news conference and announced details of the presidential proclamation on 1966 oil import controls.

Changes incorporated in the new proclamation gave Udall broader powers for handling imports problems.

Despite his public divorce from such matters, President Johnson obviously has surrendered no authority to formulate oil policy on a behind-the-scenes basis.

KEEPS HAND

There has been considerable speculation the White House had at least an indirect hand in persuading oil states to support the 1966 import quotas that, in effect, rejected pleas by many independent producers seeking a substantial rollback.

A resolution that would have reaffirmed traditional support of lower imports quotas was placed before the 33-state Interstate Oil Compact Commission. At the last minute, a substitute asking that imports be frozen at the December level was submitted by Texas delegates and adopted.

A week later, Udall, in announcing the 1966 proclamation, praised the commission for its action.

President Johnson's letter to the geologists was reproduced on the first page of a booklet published prior to the association's April 25-28 semi-centennial convention in St. Louis.

IS CONTRIBUTION

"The skill and resourcefulness of the petroleum geologist have played a major role in creating the highest living standard for mankind in all history," the President said.

"By his discoveries, the petroleum geologist has contributed greatly to keeping this country strong, in war and in peace. His efforts have provided the energy for our nation to become the most powerful in the world."

The President said he was happy to salute the petroleum geologist and recognize the first 50 years of his scientific achievements for the benefit of mankind.

Conoco Will Grow In State

HOUSTON (AP)—A Continental Oil Co. official says the firm expects to invest more than $27 million in Texas during 1966.

Roy Mays, vice president and Southern Region general manager, estimated Conoco would contribute $58 million to the state's economy during the year.

Conoco has about 1,950 employees in Texas who get nearly $17 million a year. For 1964, the latest year compiled, the company paid more than $14 million in state and municipal taxes, including excise taxes, Mays said.

Mays said nearly 80 per cent of the proposed $27 million investment will be spent on exploration and productive activities.

Oil Service Unit Honors Texans

E. S. Calvert Jr., of Denver, Colo. was elected president of the Association of Oilwell Servicing Contractors (AOSC) at the group's national annual meeting just concluded in Wichita, Kan. He is also president of Signal Oilfield Service, Inc., of Denver. Calvert is a native of Alva, Okla.

Elected as First Vice President at the Wichita meeting was Ellis Mills, president of Beckman, Inc., an oilwell servicing contractor in Midland, Texas, with branch offices and operations in the Panhandle and Oklahoma areas.

A highlight of the convention was the presentation of the annual national AOSC safety trophies. J. W. Birdwell Well Service of Wichita Falls, Texas, received the award for the best safety record for firms with under 75,000 man hours worked without a disabling injury. X-Pert Well Service, Inc., Harry R. Eaves, president, of Hobbs, New Mexico, received the award for the second year for over 75,000 man hours.

INCOME TAX

Limit On Sick Pay Deductions

This column on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the Internal Revenue Service, and answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. — My wife is filing her own income tax return. When I file will I still be able to claim her as an exemption?

A. — No. If she has income, you may only claim her exemption when you file a joint return and include her income — and deductions, if you claim them — on that return.

Q. — I made less than $10,000 last year, including interest on a savings account. Will I be able to use the short form when I file?

A. — Assuming you are otherwise qualified, you can use the card form 1040A if all but $200 or less of your income consisted of wages reported on withholding statements and the remainder consisted of either wages not reported on withholding statements, dividends or interest. If any of your income came from a capital gain, for example, you could not use the short form.

Q. — What do you have to do to be able to claim someone as a dependent? I support my mother's brother but I've been told that I can't claim him since he's not a member of my household.

A. — Since your uncle is one of the blood relations listed in the law, he need not be a member of your household to qualify as a dependent. You must meet the other requirements, too, however. They are the support test, gross income test, citizenship or resident test, and the joint return test. See the 1040 instructions for explanation.

Q. — Is there any limit on what you can deduct per week for sick pay?

A. — Yes, there is. After the 30-day waiting period the maximum is $100 a week. Details on the sick-pay exclusion for the first 30 days are given in the 1040 instructions.

Q. — Some years back I had some medical expenses that I was able to deduct on my return. Then I could only deduct that amount that exceeded a percentage of my income. Does that still apply?

A. — Yes, this limitation still applies for those under 65 years of age. Only medical expenses exceeding three per cent of adjusted gross income may be deducted when you itemize. Medicine and drug expense must exceed one per cent of adjusted gross income before inclusion in medical expense for the three per cent reduction. For those 65 and over and their spouses, all medical, medicine, and drug expenses that qualify may be totally deducted.

Q. — I had some major purchases last year like a new car, color TV and dishwasher. Can I add the sales tax I paid on these items to the amount listed in the state tax table?

A. — Yes and No. You may use both the sales tax table and add the actual amount of deductible tax paid on your car. Other large purchases such as the TV and dishwasher are already allowed for in the tax table.

Q. — I worked on a farm last summer. Can you tell me why my boss withheld for Social Security but not for income tax?

A. — According to the law, most agricultural workers are not subject to income tax withholding. These workers are required to estimate their yearly income on Form 1040ES and pay their tax quarterly. Social Security taxes, however, must be withheld.

Q. — My son is in medical school and I've been providing more than half his support. Can I claim him as a dependent even though he is over 21?

A. — Age is not a determining factor in whether he is your dependent or not. If you provide more than half his support then you may continue to claim him as a dependent.

Q. — Three times last year I sold a few shares of stock in a company I have been investing in for years. How do I determine the purchase price of the shares for each sale as I bought them at various times at various prices?

A. — The principle that applies here when no other price identification can be made is "first-in, first-out." In other words, consider the shares you sold first to be the first ones you bought and use their cost, the next shares you bought to be the second ones you sold and so on.

Q. — The mutual fund I won shares in made a capital gains distribution last year. Do I pay tax on it now or when I sell my shares?

A. — Report this as capital gains on Schedule D of Form 1040 for the year it was received or allocated to you.

Q. — How should I handle my home sale? I sold my old one at a profit but most of this gain was absorbed by the higher cost of my new home.

A. — In general profits from the sale of a residence are taxable. However, if another home is purchased within a certain period, the tax on the gain is deferred if the cost of the new home equals or exceeds the adjusted sales price of the old home. Special rules apply for persons 65 or older before the date of sale or exchange.

Details on these provisions are given in IRS Document No. 5017, "Selling Your Home." Write your District Director for a free copy.

Q. — To help my daughter and son-in-law out, I pay the mortgage payments on their house about four or five times a year. Can I deduct the interest and tax portions of these payments on my return?

A. — No, these are not deductible for you. Only the person legally responsible for making the payments may take the allowable deduction, and then only if he actually pays them.

Outnumbered Marines Beat Off Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Fifty U.S. Marines beat off an attack Saturday by Viet Cong who outnumbered them about 2-1. The fight, south of Chu Lai, reflected a revived militancy among guerrillas who recently had avoided combat.

The Communist company shelled the Marines with mortars and recoilless rifles and then clawed through all but the last strand of a triple line of barbed wire ringing their camp, 340 miles northeast of Saigon.

KILL 18

The Americans, hurling the enemy back, killed 18. They captured one, who said he was a stretcher bearer. A spokesman said Marine casualties were light.

The Viet Cong took the initiative in three of a half-dozen other clashes, mostly minor, reported by briefing officers. These ranged from Phu Bai in the north to the Mekong River delta in the south.

B-52 jets of the U.S. Strategic Air Command staged another saturation bombing in Zone D which they have raided off and on since last summer. They swarmed in from Guam and churned up a jungle area 30 miles northeast of Saigon. A spokesman said they hit "suspected Viet Cong targets."

PILOTS STALLED

Cloudy weather hampered U.S. pilots over North Viet Nam for the fourth straight day. Air Force and Navy pilots depended strictly on radar in attacks Friday. These were again concentrated in the area of Vinh, 140 miles north of the border. Among the targets was an ammunition depot five miles from Vinh.

Viet Cong operating just south of the border crippled a U.S. Marine F4B Phantom jet with ground fire and its two-man crew bailed out over the South China Sea about 10 miles from shore. Waves were running six feet high, but both were rescued by the U.S. destroyer escort Falgout.

Clifton Infant Services Held

Corey Brook Clifton, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Robin Clifton, 405 Holly, Midland, died Friday at 2 p.m. in a Big Spring hospital.

Graveside rites were held at 11 a.m. Saturday in Trinity Memorial Park, with the Rev. R. F. Polk, pastor, First Baptist Church, officiating. Funeral arrangements were by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include the parents; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Foster Jr., Hobbs, N. M.; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clifton, Big Lake; the maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Foster Sr., Big Spring; the paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. T. B. Clifton, Big Spring.

Operations On Even Note

Operations started on an even note for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, according to the January operating report.

Revenues of $227,586 were virtually the same as a year ago. Member cities paid $109,682, or about $1,300 less than the previous January, while oil companies paid $96,280, or about $2,700 more. Recreation revenues, due to the lower level of the lake, were $19,703, or about $1,400 less than a year ago.

Operating expenses of $60,315 were down about $17,000, principally due to the employment retirement fund payment not falling due in January.

His Brother Was First Born Here

By TOMMY HART

The boundaries of this city have dilated more than a little bit since George Pat Truitt, 81, now living in retirement on a 7 1/2 acre tract on the outskirts of Hobbs, N. M., made his home here.

George's brother, the late Edgar Truitt, was the first boy ever born in Big Spring. That historical event occurred in 1882, a year after the T&P Railway was opened as far west as Big Spring. George himself made his appearance into the world here two years after Edgar was born.

RAILROAD

The railroad, snaking its way westward toward a hookup with the Southern Pacific lines near El Paso, was what had brought the Truitt family to this part of the world in the first place and was to inspire their departure a half dozen years later.

The father of the boys, John Theodore, worked briefly for the railroad and later operated first a store and then a restaurant here. When the railway lines were extended as far as Pecos, the father moved his family there where he opened another restaurant.

George P. Truitt, accompanied his wife and a daughter back here Friday for a short visit. Their trip was inspired by a medical consultation, his daughter, Mrs. Robert Phelps, had set up at a local hospital. He is a retired government employee.

George recalls little about the town then (he was only five when the family pulled stakes for a new home in Reeves County).

He does remember, however, that the family home here was located near enough to the railway tracks that he could hear the whistles of the trains coming in and out of the yard.

He vividly remembers, too, that a small cyclone blew away the Truitt home while the family fearfully huddled in a ditch nearby. A sister had gone to a nearby ranch house a short time before with a bucket and a 50 cent piece to purchase butter for the family table. Not finding the ranch people at home, the girl had left the pail and the money there to have the order filled.

The big wind hit a short time later and blew bucket and money away. In due time, several cowboys recovered the bucket a considerable distance from the ranch house, with the coin still in it.

Truitt also recalls a Negro barber here by the name of Anderson and families by the names of Zimmerman and Sutton. His relationship with the outside world was understandably limited at the time.

Farmers Urged To Apply Only Ample Irrigation

As preplant irrigation begins in the High Plains, an extension irrigation specialist suggests that farmers plan their first watering so they apply only the amount which can be effectively stored in the soil's root zone.

The specialist, Bill Lyle, of Lubbock, says in general too much water is applied during preplant irrigation in this region.

There are instances where as much as 12 inches are applied when four inches will bring the soil to its field capacity throughout the root zone, the specialist said.

"Watering deeper than four feet is usually inefficient and results in considerable losses to deep percolation," Lyle said.

Water necessary to saturate the root zone varies with the soil type. Lyle describes the water holding ability of the common soil types on the South Plains includes:

Mixedlands—such as Amarillo fine sandy loams—holds about 1 1/2 inches per foot of soil. A six-inch preplant irrigation should bring the root zone to field capacity.

Sandylands—such as Brownfield loamy sand—hold an average of one inch of water per foot of soil. An application in excess of four inches is probably wasteful.

To estimate the amount of water applied per irrigation, farmers first learn the pumping rate of the well. This gallons-per-minute figure can be converted to acre-inches per hour by dividing it by 450, Lyle said.

The acre-inches per hour can then be multiplied by the time per set and divided by the area irrigated to give the number of inches applied per acre.

For example, Lyle says this is how you can figure a 600 GPM well pumping on 1.5 acres for a six-hour set. (1) The 600 GPM well puts out about 1.3 acre-inches per hour (600-450 equals 1.33). (2) Multiplying the acre-inches per hour of 1.3 times the total acre-inches of the set gives 7.8. (3) This 7.8 is then divided by the area irrigated or 1.5 acres to give 5.3 inches of water per acre.

Irrigation is not 100 per cent efficient because of such things as ditch losses and evaporation. Average efficiency is estimated at about 70 per cent, Lyle says, so the average amount of water applied per acre in this example is 5.3 inches times .7, which is 3.7 inches.

"Notice that we use the word 'average,'" Lyle said. "The water penetration will be greater at the upper end of the furrow and less at the lower end." Those with limited irrigation water may want to consider an application that will not bring the entire root zone to field capacity, he said.

Studies at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, near Lubbock, indicate that average summer rains with light preplant irrigation will produce yields comparable to those experienced with heavier preplant irrigations.

Lyle said in years of less than average rainfall, the center has, of course, gotten significant yield increases with the lighter preplant irrigations.

The policies of Pollard Chevrolet are dedicated to the achievement of a lasting relationship with our customers... through quality merchandising practices founded on the OK concept satisfaction after, as well as at the time of, the purchase. That's why all of our used units bearing the OK symbol are covered in writing by this new 25-month warranty.

1. We warrant that the car has been inspected, roadtested and reconditioned as necessary to be in serviceable condition when you buy it. In the event of mechanical failure of the car, we agree as follows: For the first 30 days, we will pay 50% of the parts and labor repair bills necessary to keep the vehicle in serviceable condition under normal use. Provided that the repairs are taken care of in our shop at our regular retail price... that the remaining 50% is paid in cash... and that those repairs do not qualify for adjustment under any new vehicle warranty.

2. This doesn't include tires and tubes, glass, radio or air conditioning, or any damage resulting from collision, accidents, abuse or misuse. Nevertheless, we will furnish replacement tires, tubes, and/or labor during this 30-day period at a discount of 25% from our retail prices if you pay the rest in cash.

3. For the next 2 years, we will pay 15% of the parts and labor repair bills, under the same conditions that apply during the first 30 days. This warranty shall not apply if the car is used "for hire."

4. This warranty is issued by us—not by the manufacturer of the vehicle.

5. This warranty is expressly in lieu of any other, expressed or implied, including any implied warranty of merchantability of fitness for a particular purpose, and any other obligations or liabilities on our part. We neither assume nor authorize any other person to assume for it any other liability in connection with the sale of the vehicle.

6. Proof of warranty must be available with the vehicle at the time of payment for repairs and adjustments, and is not transferable or assignable.

7. This warranty is not valid unless signed by our authorized department head and by the Purchaser, who is to retain a copy.

Trailer-Sectional Home Factory Planned In City

Announcement was made Saturday of impending plans for the establishment of a manufacturing concern in Big Spring to build trailer houses and a related type of sectional homes which can be hauled via trailer to a permanent site.

Partners in the operation will be Woodie Fryer and Clyde Brown. Fryer, a resident of the city since December and owner of the Ponderosa Motel, resided for many years in Denver, where he was a major builder of apartment units, including high-rise buildings, and later developed the sectional home idea. Brown is a local building contractor.

They said they hoped to have a site location selected soon, and to be able to start production. They will launch the concern as a limited partnership arrangement, plan later to form a stock company.

Fryer said first production calls for the building of five stock models of trailer houses, and also to construct mobile or sectional homes to custom order. The latter, he pointed out, can be transported by trailer chassis over an area of 300 miles, and show a saving in cost over conventional home construction in rural areas. The units, he pointed out, can be placed for temporary use, or can be put on permanent foundations.

Fryer has a book of illustrated plans, showing how any size home can be fabricated through use of standard size module sections. A great variety of arrangement and design can be achieved, he said.

Fryer said the factory process would employ all craftsmen ordinarily engaged in the building of a conventional home. He thought first production could be set at two trailers per week, and that later it is hoped to boost this to four trailers per day, or the equivalent in sectional home components.

"We think there is a prime opening for this type of home need here," the partners said, "and we have a package plan which we think will be attractive in style, sound in construction, and certainly competitive in price."

Tavern Closed By Police Chief

Police Chief Jay Banks said Saturday he had suspended the dance hall license of Ernest's Lounge, 700 N. Lancaster, effective immediately.

The chief said that the cancellation of the license was based on police evidence of what he termed improper conduct at the place. The revocation stemmed directly from the arrest of a minor allegedly consuming alcoholic beverages at the place," he said.

The proprietor has the right to appeal, Banks said, but Saturday he had not been advised of an appeal.

Tyldesley Leaves Webb For A New Assignment

Lt. Col. Robert H. Tyldesley, Webb's deputy base commander, left Friday for the 3635th Flying Training Group, Stead AFB, Nev., for three weeks of training in preparation for his new assignment, flying C-130s. Col. Tyldesley will undergo further training at Sewart AFB, Tenn. and Dyess AFB, Texas before beginning his overseas tour.

Col. Tyldesley assumed his duties at Webb in March, 1965. He was campaign manager for the 1965 Webb United Fund Drive, served as president of the Big Spring YMCA Aquatic Club; and was an active Boy Scout supporter, serving as institution representative.

A 24-year service veteran, Col. Tyldesley has spent nine years of this time overseas.

His service career began as a private in April, 1942. Since then his career has taken him to the Far East as a night fighter pilot; transport pilot at Hickam AFB, Hawaii; chief of the manpower branch at Hickam; chief of the maintenance branch at what was then Headquarters Military Air Transport Service; assistant group operations officer and deputy group commander with the 8th Air Rescue Group at Peperrell AFB, Newfoundland; rescue operations officer with the 54th Air Rescue Squadron at Goose Bay AB, Labrador; and chief of operations services division with Headquarters Amarillo AFB Technical Training Center.

The colonel is married to the former Ann Marie Hunt of San Francisco. The Tyldesley have two children, Robert, 15, and Linda, 14.

THEY MAKE IT MUCH FASTER

OR IS IT PURL ONE — KNIT TWO?

“KNIT ONE - PURL TWO”

The click of needles is heard across the land as a new interest is revived in an old art. Akin to weaving, knitting is believed to have been first used in making stockings three or four centuries ago. The process involves a thread being put through a row of loops, the process being repeated in spiraling circles while the garment is shaped by varying the number of loops in a row. The needles are generally made of steel, bone or composition and yarn is purchased by the skein or pound.

OR IS IT knit two and purl one? Could turn into a knotty problem for a girl whose first garment is just taking shape. Judy Jordan, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jordan, 1209 E. 17th, is no longer 'fall thumbs' as she gets the feel of her new hobby.

TOBOGGANS for Indian orphans are being knitted by Mrs. Sally Newlin, 74, a resident of Bennett House, who decided to teach herself the art when she was 65 years old. Buying a book and two needles, she quickly learned the basic procedure and graduated to the four needles required to make the warm little caps.

THEY MAKE it much faster on the knitting machines that are becoming popular in this country after many years of use abroad. Mrs. Bob Spears and Mrs. Cecil McDonald compare the work of their machines with that of Mrs. Lucian Jones who is completing the threading of her handy helper. Mrs. Spears and Mrs. Jones made the dresses they are wearing in practically no time at all. The cable stitch shawl, as well as ties, socks and baby garments, were made by Mrs. McDonald.

NO DROPPED stitches yet for Mrs. John Lamfalusi who has just taken up the handicraft and would rather be sure than sorry so she takes it slow and easy. The white wool baby sweater she is knitting is for her first child, expected in August.

BEGINNERS best tend to their knitting and instructions of Mrs. R. L. Nelson, left, who teaches a knitting class in the Officers Open Mess at Webb AFB every Wednesday. The course began the first of February and will continue for ten weeks. Among the beginning knitters are Mrs. W. L. McEathron, Mrs. R. R. George and Mrs. Lynn Bara.

Pie In The Sky

They can't tell a lie — these guys like cherry pie. The seasonal theme was used Friday evening by Mu Kappa Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha when it held a pie-eating contestion. Mrs. Frank Morphis, left, and Mrs. James Hargrove look on as the battle begins for Morphis, Robin Howell and Hargrove.

Husbands Rivals At ESA Pie-Eating Party

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morphis, 2602 Rebecca, were hosts for a cherry pie eating contest held Friday evening in their home where the host took first prize. The competition was between husbands of members of Mu Kappa Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha and the party was one in a series of rush activities under way by the sorority.

Husbands were Mrs. Cal Lowry and Mrs. James Hargrove. Other rusbies are Mrs. Alva Thomas, Mrs. J. T. Langley, Mrs. Elton Carlisle, Mrs. Pete Basco and Mrs. E. E. Everett.

The party began at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Hanson Lawton in charge of the contest and games which followed. Tying for second place in the contest were Robin

Howell and J. W. Dickens. The pies were placed on a white-linen covered table centered with a large replica of a cherry tree. Pottery and silver were used for serving.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

If you want to do anything nice for someone while it is still February you'd better get on with it. If you haven't done some of the things in the house that you were going to do during the winter months get a hurry on because it's not going to be winter much longer, according to the calendar.

MRS. ALMA THORNTON is in Tulsa, Okla., where she is visiting her daughter, MRS. JOE MOORE, and Mr. Moore. Mrs. Moore is the former EUNICE THORNTON and is a former resident of Stanton and Big Spring.

I joined MRS. CHESTER MATHENY for an evening in Midland Wednesday where we saw "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" and were delighted with the production. The Midland Community Theater did a bang-up job on the show that was held over because of the number of requests from people who had missed the scheduled performances. From the mild hysteria that took the audience when the knitting scene arrived, I would say there are a great many men and women who have taken up the action to soothe their troubled nerves and they can laugh about it.

Others from here who were among those who saw the show were the HAROLD DAVISES, the BILL COLEMANS, the J. R. BIZZELLS and the R. W. THOMPSONS.

For some time a number of us have been trying to figure out where the names of race horses or show horses come from. Some of the names are so far out they are almost unpronounceable. MRS. T. WILLARD NEEL, who with her husband, raises Apalosas, tells me it's a really big job to name all of the colts with names that are meaningful. For instance, one of their horses has been named Frog, and when the offspring is named, quite naturally, it must be some name that is attached to Frog. Like Frog's Little Jewel or Frog's Big Leap, etc. I like to know these things so I don't get so confused when reading the monikers.

'Tis getting to be the season for potting and we shall have a great deal of it in our midst just real soon, like Thursday. MRS. CRAWFORD MARTIN, wife of the secretary of state, who has announced his candidacy for attorney general of Texas, will be here on that day, and will be honored with a coffee by MRS. JOE MOSS. The affair is to be in the Blue Room of the Cosden Club beginning at 10:30 a.m. and residents of the city are invited to meet Mrs. Martin at that time.

MRS. EUGENE SEARCY of Fort Worth is here to be with her father, George R. Haley, who has been hospitalized with a stroke.

MRS. RAY McMAHEN is in Fort Worth where she attended funeral services for Mrs. Steve Ward, the former Josephine Cochran.

Also there for the last rites were MR. and MRS. MELVIN CHOATE and CLYDE CANTRELL, cousins of Mrs. Ward.

It's a boy. No. Two, for MR. and MRS. LARSON LLOYD. The baby was born at Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital Saturday morning at 6:50. He weighed 7 pounds, 14-ounces and has been named Leslie Roberts.

The way to the meadow where the violets grew was fraught with fear—but compelling as the pleasure it promised, I was a lanky ten-year-old, and it was the beginning of another spring in the Western woods of Louisiana.

The time was past for spending the winter hours watching the lane where lambs, fearful of being left alone, scampered after their mothers. Pressing my head against a cold window pane, I waited for warmth that signaled the sight, sound and smell of growth as it begins in the forest.

The day came — and the journey began. The slamming of the back screen door brought my friend, a red clay Irish Setter, from his vantage point under the porch. As we passed the barn, hens waddled away and a horse half-heartedly lifted his nose from his searching in the corn bin.

I followed the trail through the orange orchard, breaking off one of the small green spheres to bite into its still-bitter tartness before tossing it ahead for "Red" to chase. Passing through a wide wooden gate, we were soon walking gingerly between the pecan trees where, occasionally, water moccasins slithered over the ground cover of damp leaves.

The fearful part came next—where the woods began. Just beyond the orchard fence was a chinquapin tree which I favored—but so did the wild hogs. The mean-looking black beasts waited until the first nuts were being pushed into my pocket before rushing from the thick undergrowth to send Red and me flying toward the log that offered safe passage across the creek.

A frightened sun perch darted deeper into the murky water, and a bright green lizard froze a moment before disappearing behind a limb.

Stepping from the log, the dog and I slowed our pace through a shady stretch of swamp, I looking overhead at the tangled vines in search of muscadines, the tough-skinned grapes that usually grew just out of reach.

Just ahead was a circle of sunlight that served as the doorway to the meadow and we raced each other the last few yards. Red went exploring as I dropped to the ground and parted the straw-like weeds to pluck handfuls of the purple-petaled blossoms.

Mercy! Such a flood of memories Mrs. H. V. Crocker brought to me when she mentioned that she'd be going to the piney woods soon for a visit. She'll be in Luftin with her mother. Incidentally, daughter Melinda (the W. M. Blackburns) will be moving to Dallas April 1 so she'll be working in the governor's office only about 30 more days.

Mrs. B. B. Badger was to be in Austin Thursday to meet Mrs. Anne Hardy and play in a bridge tournament at the Villa Capri. She'll be back Monday.

Mrs. T. C. Skanich postponed her trip back home to Idaho when she found out her husband would not be going to San Antonio for temporary duty. The Skanichs will be able to celebrate little Jill's first birthday together on the 9th.

Another celebration was held Thursday evening in the W. W. Lansing home where the women employees of the Herald gathered for a "welcome" party for Mrs. Harold Canning. There was lots of good talk to go with the pretty refreshments and a gift of linen was presented to the honoree. Another Herald employee, Carroll (Rusty) Smith is in the Medical Arts Hospital today with a slipped disc, I think, and I'm told that C. W. Mahoney is over at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital with a hurting back, also.

Boy Rogan and Mrs. Reba Meadows know they'll be married Tuesday evening but have not decided where they'll spend the honeymoon. They'll vote on El Paso and New Orleans.

I hear that Capt. Jerry Grimes was due back in the States Friday from Viet Nam. Mrs. Grimes (Kathleen Thomas) was to meet him for his 10-day leave before he returns to France. She and their son, Speight, will remain here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas, until he finishes that tour of duty.

Daughter Rebecca gave a birthday party for Henrietta Piper several nights ago and John Walker's guitar and folk songs kept the party going much later than intended.

Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Jr. came by, which reminded me that I owed her son, Bill, a letter. He's in Ethiopia now and says the food could be better—probably misses pinto beans, eh?

The Charles Fourniquet family will be leaving for Louisiana where he has been transferred and received a promotion. The Luther McDaniel family from South Carolina have been visiting in the Hank McDaniel home. Mrs. Toots Mansfield is in El Paso but may be home soon.

Did someone say that Jack Cook and Gil Jones have a new plane? I'd like to start flying again, but it's been a long, long time—reckon it comes back like swimming?

Say, don't forget the Wednesday Pro-Am bridge party, collect men's shirts for the Peruvian Basin Medical Auxiliary, give your old hosiery to the Rainbow Girls—and save your news for me. Do call.

Background Traced On Women's Culture

Modern woman is not very original according to Mrs. Ray Tanis and Mrs. C. W. Utley who presented a program Thursday evening for Alpha Chi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

In discussing "Women and Their Cultures," the speakers first defined culture as many things — anything from getting married to rearing a family, using a language, fighting a war or taking part in a religious ceremony. The areas of culture include institutions, languages and arts.

Beginning with women in the stone age, Mrs. Tanis and Mrs. Utley described their dress, hair fashions and activities.

Comparisons were made with progress made in other eras through the present time. The speakers concluded with the thought that the modern woman's cosmetic make-up, hair styles and clothing designs are, more often than not, borrowed from past civilizations.

Mrs. Jackie Touchstone was hostess to the group in her home at 2706 Central.

Mrs. D. M. Moore presided as Mrs. Glyn Mitchell read new by-laws and standing rules to the 13 attending.

Refreshments were served from a table where the silver tea service was flanked by blue napkins monogrammed with the sorority letters.

Hostesses were Mrs. Clyde Johnston, Mrs. Gil Jones, Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr., Mrs. Omar Jones, Mrs. Bob Satterwhite, Mrs. Lucian Jones, Mrs. Roy Tidwell and Mrs. E. P. Driver.

Approximately 40 guests were registered at a table centered with the bride's book, bride's doll and a blue garter. Mrs. Danny McCrary, sister-in-law of the prospective bridegroom, was in charge of the register.

Refreshments were served from a polished table centered with an arrangement of pink carnations flanked by white wedding bells.

A pink orchid corsage was presented to the honoree, and a glabella corsage was presented to her fiance's mother, Mrs. Elvis McCrary.

The hostess' gift to Miss McConnell was a silver coffee service.

The couple is planning a March 19 wedding at the Church of Christ in Italy, Texas.

MRS. JOHN C. SIMS

(Corley's Studio)

Wedding Performed In Baptist Sanctuary

Miss Patricia Joann-Poittevin became the bride of John C. Sims during a double ring ceremony held at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in the Birdwell Lane Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis G. Poittevin, 1700 Alabama, and parents of the bridegroom are the Rev. and Mrs. Cal Sims, 114 E. 16th. The bridegroom's father performed the ceremony.

At the altar, a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli, flanked by candelabra holding white tapers and palms of greenery. Family pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Charles Grizzard, pianist, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Nile Cole as they sang "True Love" and "Together." A prelude of wedding selections, played by Mrs. Grizzard, included "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown which she created of peau de soie, white Chantilly lace and chiffon. The round-necked lace bodice featured long, fitted sleeves ending in petal points and fastened with a row of tiny self buttons. The skirt was of peau de soie, and a train extended from the back of the Empire waistline.

Her waist length veil of illusion fell from a lace-covered pill box enhanced with seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids and feathered carnations carried atop a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Roberta Gay Bingham of Waco, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and the matron of honor was Mrs. Royce Prater of Fort Worth, sister of the bridegroom. Their identical dresses were of Nile green peau de soie and fashioned similar to that of the bride. Their flower girls were a cascade arrangement of pink carnations tied with pink satin ribbons.

The bride's brother, Stephen Poittevin, served as best man, and ushers were Mike Adams, a cousin of the bride, and Rip Lewis. The bride's brothers, Calvin and Adrian Brown, lighted the altar candles.

For a wedding trip to California, the bride wore a bone-colored suit with a black silk blouse and black patent accessories. Her orchid corsage was taken from the bridal bouquet.

RECEPTION
Parents of the couple and the wedding party assisted the bride and bridegroom in receiving guests at a reception held in the fellowship hall.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white damask linen cloth and centered with a five-branched candelabrum holding green tapers. Flanking the arrangement were the attendants' bouquets. Crystal and silver appointments were used. A three-tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was served to approximately 100 guests who were registered by Miss Sherry George of Fort Worth, cousin of the bridegroom.

Members of the house party were Miss Lou Ann Misk, Miss Linda Marberry and Miss Roxie Campbell.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bingham, Waco; Mrs. Morris Byers, San Diego, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Orville George, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cupit, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dick-

Late Wedding Gift Arrives For Grants

By JO BRIGHT

A wedding gift, well worth waiting for, was finally received by Mr. and Mrs. Bobby D. Grant. The gift was offered to the couple at the time of their wedding in June of 1963 if they would be willing to wait until it had been shown and exhibited throughout the eastern half of the United States.

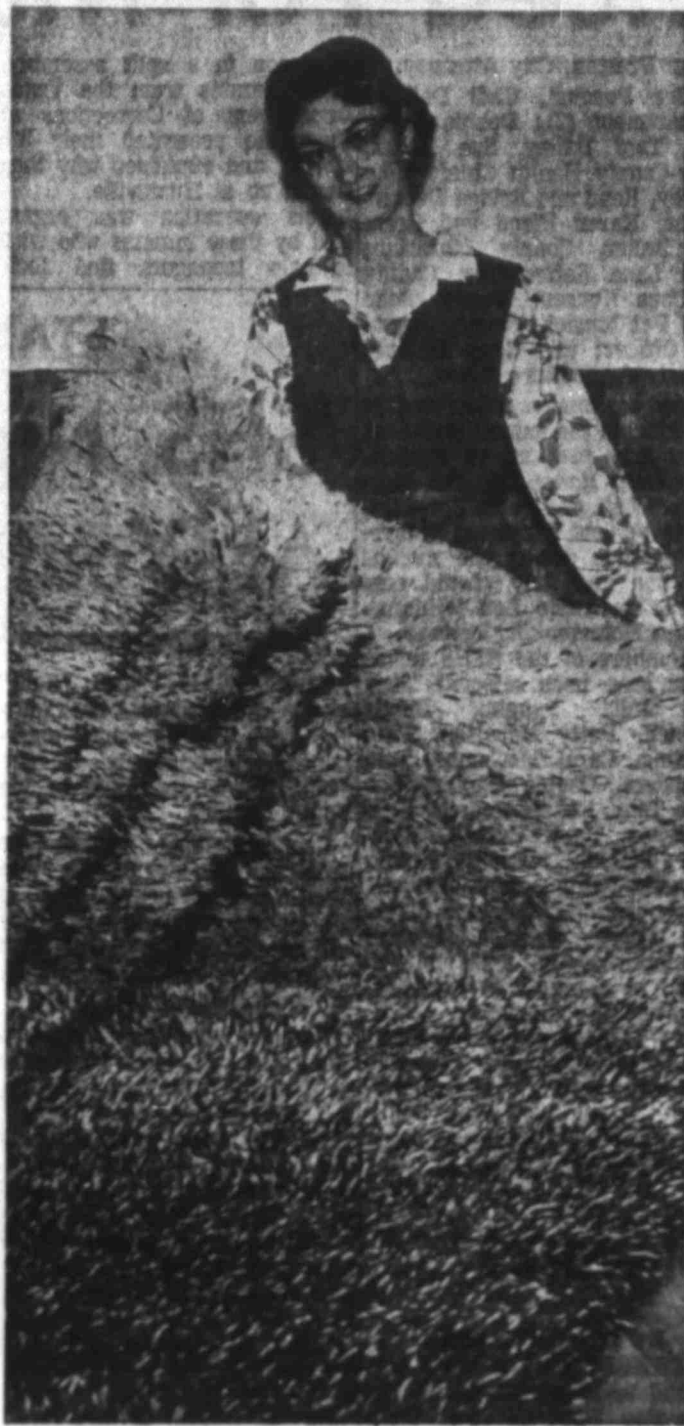

Mr. and Mrs. Grant agreed to wait for the present was to be a Persian wool and linen area rug made by her aunt, Miss Noma Hardin, a professor of art, teaching weaving and design at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

This is the seventh or eighth rug that Miss Hardin has designed and woven on a loom, but this one surpasses her others in size and design. The master bedroom in the Grant home features one of Miss Hardin's earlier Persian wool rugs.

Mrs. Grant has special interest in the new conversation piece in their home because she had a little part in making it. The summer before she was married she met her aunt in North Carolina and the two of them flew to New York City to choose the colors for the rug and buy the finest of Persian rug wools. They returned to Greensboro and sat side by side at the loom and worked hours on the rug which later turned into the wedding gift.

Mrs. Grant who was an art major at Texas Tech, had learned to do this type of weaving when she attended Cranbrook Academy of Art at Bloomfield Hills, Mich. Only a few inches of the rug were completed when both women left North Carolina to attend the Blyth Shoals Rug Hooking Camp in South Carolina. That was the last time Mrs. Grant had seen the rug until she received it in the mail recently.

The rug, measuring 46 inches by 82 inches with 1 1/2 inch fringes on all sides, is light beige at one end and is gradually interspersed with chocolate brown until it is dark brown on the opposite end. The rug features, along one side, three irregular-shaped streaks in three tones of red. Thus the name, "Three Red Streaks" has been given to the rug. It took eighteen days just short of a year to complete the rug. Before it got far from the loom on which it was made, it was shown at the Weather- spoon Gallery on the campus of the University at Greensboro in a faculty show. Then it went to the Piedmont Craftsman's Show in Winston-Salem, N.C., and to the South-Eastern States Craftsman's Show in Atlanta, Ga., where it was juried to go to Raleigh, N.C., to a show of craftsmen. Miss Hardin's work was recognized in the Craft Horizons Magazine at that time. Getting a chance to be exhibited further west, the rug was shown in Denver, Colo., and was most recently exhibited in Miss Hardin's one man show in Oneonta, N.Y., this past November. During this time, Miss Hardin also had another rug which was shown by the Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York City.

MRS. BOBBY GRANT

Mr. and Mrs. Grant said that "Three Red Streaks" is probably now experiencing its longest term of exhibition on the floor of their home, but possibly not its last. The Grants, residing at 507 Edwards, would be pleased to show their rug to anyone who is interested in handmade works of art and crafts.

Big, Little Furniture Compared

The choice between a few large storage pieces and many smaller ones is a hard one for most homemakers to make.

Usually, it should be decided on the basis of wall space to be filled. Contrary to what many people believe, there is nothing wrong with using a large, imposing piece of furniture in a small room, or a little one in a big room.

However, if a large piece will have to be hemmed in by other needed furnishings, a lineup of smaller pieces would be preferable. A large piece of furniture is usually meant to be the focal point of a room. It needs some space around it to set it off properly.

Furniture Takes On New Style

The popularity of country-styled furniture has extended to the field of juvenile furniture. In keeping with the trend to make children's furniture less babyfied, and still not starkly modern, there are variations.

One is Child Craft's new Country French collection to be introduced at the Chicago winter home furnishings market. Designed by Robert Thorpe, it is made in elm in a warm, dark finish and in a yellow-tone finish. It includes a 5-drawer chest, a chiffonade, night stand, chair, mirror, 8-drawer double dresser, bunk bed, crib and twin-bed headboard.

Thus it is suitable for children up into their teens. Hardward is French inspired, reflects the gracefully curved legs and dresser skirts.

Visiting for the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Brooks of Sand Springs were her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Johnson of Dublin.

Guests in the Raymond Morrison home were their son, Jack, of Bovina and another son and his family, the Connie Morrisons of Dimmitt.

Mrs. Earl Morrison and Mrs. Joe Bob Clendenin and daughter returned Sunday after visiting Mrs. Morrison's mother, Mrs. Lola Fletcher, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Callie Morrison. Tests Suggest Design Change

Tests of a model of the spillway proposed for the Colorado River Municipal Water District dam near Robert Lee have indicated some design changes, O. H. Ivie, general manager, said Friday.

Fortunately, these may save money while also doing a better job.

NO ESTIMATES

There are no firm estimates on how much may be saved, but this could run into thousands of dollars, Ivie explained. Actually, enlarging the morning glory intake of the spillway will add to the cost while increasing safety of the structure. On the other hand, shortening the stilling basin, a massive concrete box-like affair, some 50 to 70 feet, will cut sharply into costs. The net difference should be solidly on the side of saving, said Ivie.

The CRMWD general manager, with his assistant, Paschall Odom, met with CRMWD consulting engineers Jim Nichols and W. L. Eeds in Fort Collins, Colo., last week to witness tests on the precise scale model spillway at Colorado State University.

At every point of potential pressure or stress, the model has monometers (pressure gauges) so that performance at various water levels and rates of flow will be registered. Tests indicated that in conditions where only two gates were opened at flood stage, the water would spill at an angle and force which would set up questionable negative pressures against the wall of the big outlet. Widening the lip of the morning glory (which corresponds to the top of a funnel) will overcome this, engineers calculated. This part of the model is being altered and re-tested to validate their estimates.

The tests also indicated that the stilling basin—the big, heavy concrete box in which discharged waters are released and reduced in force—could be made considerably shorter than at first calculated. Because these walls are some 40 feet high and are many inches thick, the saving will be considerable.

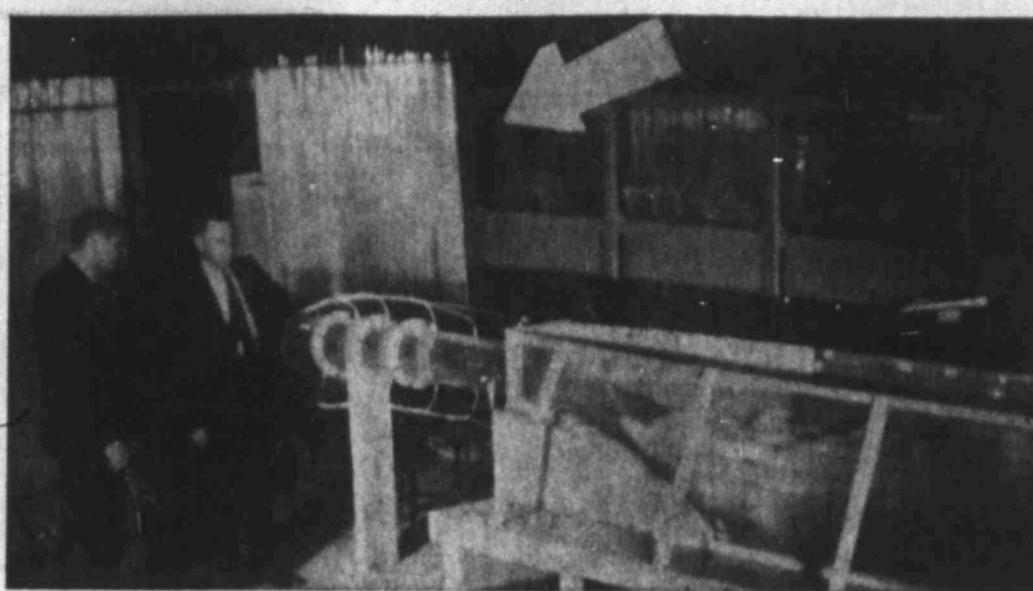

Other information gained fit closely into previous calculations by Eeds in his designs. The tests are continuing to furnish information on the suggested type and size of rip-rap to be put downstream below the stilling basin to protect the river banks. Gravel used in the test are scaled to represent various sizes of stones from small rocks to boulders.

SCALE TESTS

Changes suggested by the scale tests will not delay the final designs on the dam and its structures, said Ivie. The changes will be progressing while testing is being completed.

Cost of the scale model testing may be as much as $15,000, but the service spillway is a key element in the project. It may cost upwards of $2,500,000. The service spillway works much like the overflow drain in a lavatory. A series of gates on top of the circular spillway can control the amount and rate at which excess water will be let off through the outlet which passes through the base of the earthen dam to the stilling basin.

Forsan City Election Set

FORSAN—Forsan voters will go to the polls April 2 to elect a mayor, two aldermen and a city marshal for their town.

C. J. Lamb, mayor who is seeking his fourth term, said that the election will be on the same date as the school election and that the voting place will be at the Forsan school.

Lamb, who so far is unopposed, was the first mayor of this community and has been re-elected each time his term has expired. The two city aldermen whose terms expire are C. B. Long and J. L. Monroney. Monroney is seeking re-election, but Long has not made up his mind whether to serve again.

S. C. Cowley is seeking re-election as marshal.

Profit Sharing Fund Increased

Employee-members of the Southland Corporation's employees' profit sharing plan will share in a 1965 company contribution of the plan of more than one million dollars. The announcement was made by John P. Thompson, president of the Dallas-based firm which operates 7-Eleven stores and dairies in 39 states.

"The 1965 contribution (based on a per cent of profits) of $1,002,952.50 is the largest our company has made to the employees' profit sharing fund since the plan was established in 1949," said Thompson. Since the start of the plan, he said, Southland has contributed a total of $4,466,471.24 for distribution to employees' accounts. Present total assets of the fund exceed 12 million dollars.

Two More Join United Fund Team

BILL POLLARD

DON WOMACK

Two more names were added last week to the roster of civic leadership which will be engaged in a thorough-going revival of the United Fund campaign for 1966.

M. R. (Frog) Koger, UF president, said that Bill Pollard, owner of the Chevrolet dealership which bears his name, has accepted the assignment as vice chairman of the general canvass. He will be working directly with R. J. (Dick) Ream, who already had been announced as campaign chairman.

Another major role has gone to Don Womack, who will be in charge of the employee division. Womack is assistant to the division manager of Texas Electric Service Company.

Major appointments for the United Fund are being made earlier this year than ever before, in the wake of UF leaders' determination to bring about a much broader campaign organization. The UF has made arrangements with Jeff Brown and Bill Crocker to serve as pre-campaign analysts and office managers during the actual solicitation. They are to start work March 1 on a complete overhaul of prospect cards, and updating of all names in the county which may be expected to respond to the United Fund appeal.

Brown and Crocker will put major emphasis on a re-grouping of the employee division, with contacting of employers to urge a salary-deduction system, or to set up a "fair-share" monthly pledge in all business institutions.

"We've added more punch and power with these new volunteers," said Koger. "Bill Pollard and Don Womack will lend strength to Dick Ream's team, and I know that they are going to have support from all good citizens as they begin to put their working groups together. We will be making other major appointments soon."

Look At It Closely

Our initial reports on the Big Spring school board's decision about grassing some campus areas were a bit premature. It turned out that instead of 25 1/4 acres included in a study, the board gave a green light to only three acres of new grass.

As much as we love greenery, we must say that at this stage the board's action seems prudent. Even had the board had available the needed $50,000, which it didn't, taking this step probably warrants more deliberation, and perhaps some experimentation.

None can argue that campus beautification is not highly desirable. What several of our P-TAs have done in the way of grassing the lawns of schools have added proof to a point that needed little proof. Besides providing beauty — and pride — these have partially offset costs by stabilizing some sharp slopes and thus reducing erosion and maintenance.

On practice and game playing areas, grass is practical because of controlled traffic and special maintenance.

For straight playground areas, there may need to be some experimentation to indicate the best course. With good soil and plenty of water, grass may barely hold its own against daily pounding of hundreds of feet. Whether it will be beaten away when attempted on shallow soil and limited water is debatable. We suspect that we are talking about at least $150 in water, plus fertilizer and mowing for each acre of grass. If it can do the job, it may be worth it; if not, then there may be some other, better answers. Maybe a test plot would shed some light on the matter.

Second Chance — Don't Miss It

Starting Thursday and continuing through March 17, Howard County residents who turned a deaf ear to appeals to get poll tax exemptions and certificates before the Jan. 31 deadline have a second chance.

During this two-week interval, adults who did not previously qualify now can do just that — and for free.

There is no earthly excuse now for not qualifying as a voter except just plain disinterest or complete apathy.

If you know of anyone who missed the boat the first time, urge them to catch it on this unforeseen second chance.

There ought to be at least a thousand more people in Howard County who will take advantage of this opportunity. No matter what their reasons for not qualifying before — encourage them now to equip themselves as voters.

David Lawrence

Not Longer — But Shorter

WASHINGTON—There has been talk about a proposed constitutional amendment to provide a four-year instead of a two-year term for members of the house of representatives, but it is beginning to look now as if the country might perhaps prefer to see the present system retained for House members and the six-year term of senators reduced to four or possibly two years.

THE CURRENT controversy over Viet Nam has illustrated the point. Many senators may be acting directly contrary to the wishes of the majority of the people of their states, but there is no way by which the electorate can immediately register its protest and replace the senators. It is significant that some of the recent petitions demanding, in effect, that the President curtail military operations in Viet Nam emanated from senators almost all of whom are not up for re-election this year.

At present, only one-third of the members of the Senate come up for election every two years, so two-thirds are immune at this time from immediate penalty for their views.

UNDER THE parliamentary system of government in many countries, the people have a virtually instantaneous check on the members of the national legislature. This results in a sense of responsibility to the voters, instead of the irresponsibility which apparently develops in the case of Congress when members do not have to answer for their views for a relatively long time afterwards.

Every public-opinion poll taken thus far indicates that the majority of the American people want to see a firm stand in the Viet Nam situation. While everybody wishfully hopes that the war may be ended soon, there is no substantial support for withdrawal or retreat or surrender.

IT IS SIGNIFICANT, too, that the members of the House of Representatives—all of whom come up for election every two years—

Billy Graham

How would you classify the disciples of Christ—liberals, conservatives, modernists or fundamentalists? Wayne D.

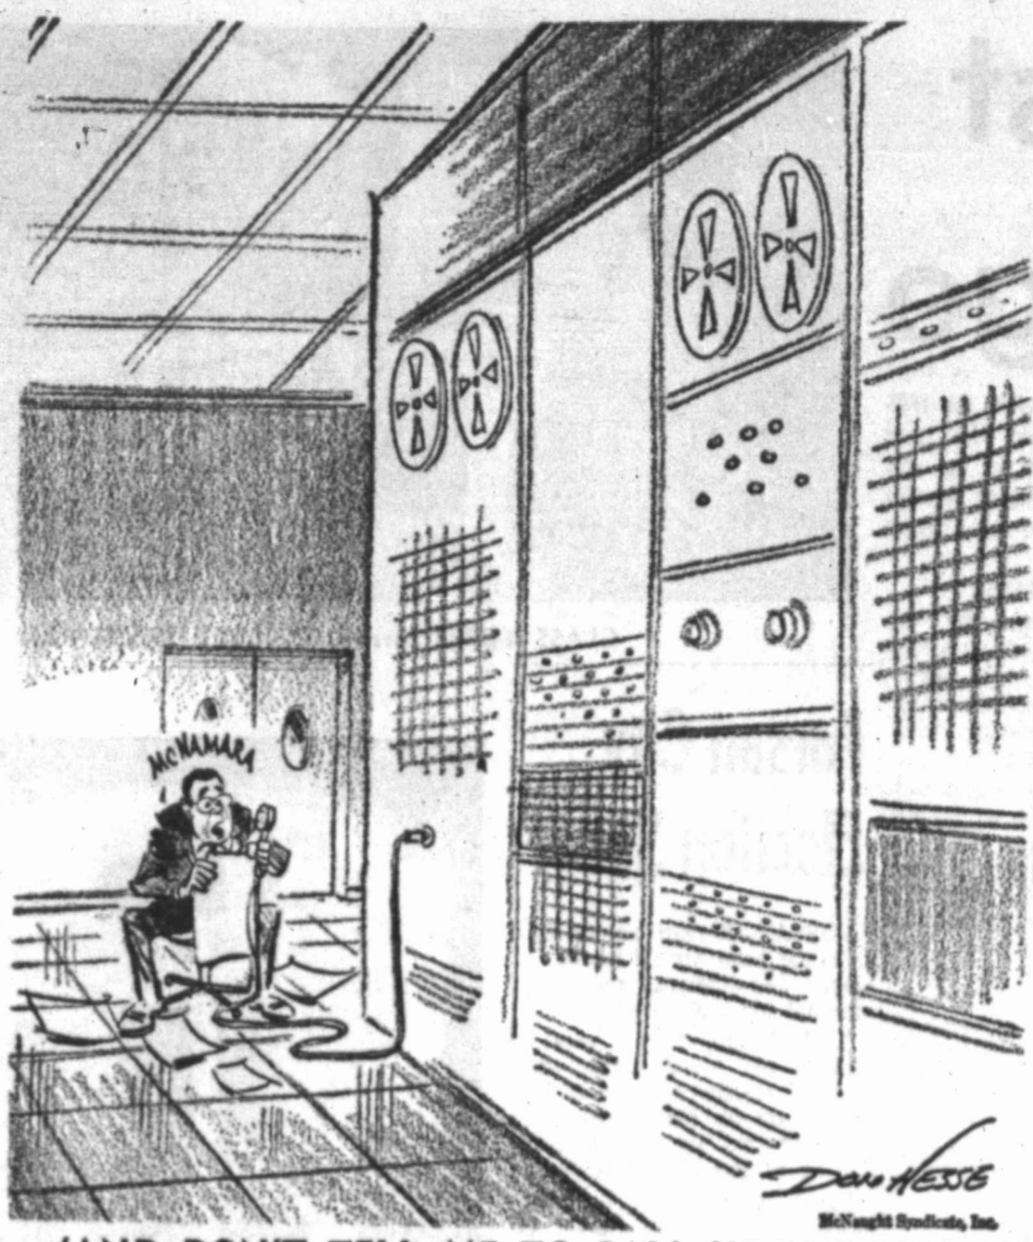

If you searched the New Testament for a hundred years you would find none of these terms. These are divisions men have made, and if they existed in New Testament days, no one thought them worth mentioning.

As to the disciples: they were neither fundamentalist or liberal; they were Christian. The Bible says, "The disciples were called Christians." Interestingly, they didn't give themselves that name—it was given them by people who noticed that their mode of living resembled Christ.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we so lived that it wouldn't be necessary to give ourselves a title which denotes our piety—that people around us would call us Christian. The disciples were too busy with the work of taking Christ to the world to be bogged down in hairsplitting controversy. Their main concern was to persuade men to Christ. I wish it were that way today! This does not mean that we do not have theological convictions—we do! But let's hold them in love. "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples in that ye love one another." Our greatest need today is to let our lives be dominated by Christ in love.

Time For Tax Brake On Inflation?

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's economic managers — both government and private — posed this question during the week: Is it time for a tax increase to ward off inflation?

There appeared to be agreement that if inflation gets rolling — and some contend it has — a tax boost is the best way to stop it. But the kind of taxes, how much and when remained at issue.

Discussion referred to this statement by President Johnson in his budget message: "should unforseen inflationary pressures develop, I will propose such fiscal actions as are appropriate to maintain economic stability."

Economists have interpreted that to mean taxes would be raised to draw money out of the economy to reduce the kind of heavy demand that pushes up prices.

What Others Say

It often happens that a politician's words on a cause are better than the cause itself. With the Vietnamese war, however, we have seen a strange and almost inexplicable reversal of this. Much as there may be to criticize in the White House's handling of this grim problem, America's cause in Viet Nam is superior to the official explanations given on it.

All during the steady step-up in fighting which began early in 1965 it has been clear that America's military action has outrun its diplomatic and public relations efforts. This failure to explain adequately and convincingly the reasons why America fights is among the causes of today's deep national concern and division over the purpose and conduct of the war.

The inexcusable fact of the national mood over Viet Nam is not so much that public opinion is split but that it is so confused.

President Johnson has over and over again proven himself to be a superb political salesman. Yet on the biggest issue of his presidency so far, he has badly failed to use that ability. This is not because the product is unsalable, but because somehow the White House has not grasped the necessity for still greater forthrightness.

DIFFERENCE ON BEST WAY Difference

- Some contend investment credit should go
- Bankers suggest spending cut first of all
- Warning issued against broad-base tax raises
- However, steel output, mortgage funds are off
- Auto makers continue to ease up

WALTER HELLER, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors and architect of the government tax-reduction policy of the 1960s, suggested that the first step should be elimination of a 7 per cent investment credit now allowed business.

The credit lets companies deduct from taxes up to seven per cent of their total expenditure on investment.

The wholesale price index has risen at an annual rate of 4.7 per cent since September, the Federal Reserve said. That increase compares with an average annual percentage increase of 0.4 per cent since 1951. Economists view the 4.7 per cent rate as inflationary.

ON DOWNSIDE

On the downturn, however, are housing starts. Chairman John E. Horne of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, said he looks for a decline of five per cent in the availability of mortgage funds during the year.

Also, steel production so far this year is running 9.1 per cent behind the comparable period of 1965. Production for the year through the week ended Feb. 12 was 17,425,000 tons against 19,177,000 tons a year ago. However, on a weekly basis, production was up slightly.

ACT NOW

Henry Wallich, a Yale professor, argued that tax increases should be imposed now. He contended that later on, if inflationary pressures mount, the lag between enactment and effect would allow some inflation.

Several economists suggested enactment of standby legislation that could be implemented quickly.

Meanwhile, the American Bankers Association urged "caution in effecting a broad base tax increase at this time," saying that no tax boost should be made "without firm accompanying efforts to cut back on domestic government spending proposals."

Automobile production dropped to 194,067 during the past week as American Motors closed its assembly lines for 10 working days to get inventory in line with sales.

To Your Good Health

Don't Suffer; Find Out What Ails Those Feet

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My toes are killing me. Friends tell me it is gout. What should I do?—MRS. A. B.

Pain is a sign of trouble. In your feet it could be, among other things, faulty arches, arthritis, gout, bunions or injury.

Rather than let your friends guess what the trouble is, go to your doctor for an accurate diagnosis.

If it is gout, the first procedure is medication to help the acute attack subside. Second comes other medication to prevent a new attack from occurring, by preventing uric acid from accumulating in your system.

Your doctor may in addition advise certain precautions in what you eat. Diet apparently is not as important in treating gout as was once thought, particularly since the discovery of modern medicines now in use, but care in choosing your diet is still helpful to some degree.

Dear Dr. Molner: After the birth of my daughter four years ago I developed a blood clot in my lung. Fear of another clot has kept me from having another baby.

I had a gall bladder operation without such trouble. Why do clots occur after childbirth? What is your opinion of another pregnancy? I am overweight but otherwise in good health. I am 32.—MRS. M.G.

Prolonged congestion of veins in the pelvis and legs during pregnancy can be the cause of such a clot. If a clot forms and is carried along by the bloodstream, it could, of course, lodge in the lung.

Such prolonged congestion would be unlikely to occur from a gall bladder or other operation. (Early ambulation is important in preventing clots.)

Your excess weight might be a factor in congestion of veins in pregnancy, and thus might have contributed to the clot. I can't predict whether another clot might form in a future pregnancy, but I doubt if you are active. (And it would be helpful to know how much overweight you are.)

Your doctor can't predict definitely, either, but he can give you a reasonably dependable opinion after considering these and other matters: Presence of varicose veins or phlebitis would be important points.

Troubled with varicose veins? To make sure you are doing all you can to relieve the problem, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting the booklet, "How to Deal with Varicose Veins." Enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

The Whole Thing's Snaky

The fellows in the Junior Chamber of Commerce have been in to say they need more publicity on their Rattlesnake Roundup, to be held next weekend. I am ready to help them with one word—Light.

It has been a sort of mystery why an organization of forward-looking young men would want to get involved with a bunch of snakes, but, as the saying goes, it takes all kinds of people to make a world.

ON MEDITATION, however, there are a couple of reasons. One is that some other Jaycee organization started it, and it seemed like a good idea. The other is money. The Jaycees, who seem to go in the hole (this is unique?) with every worthwhile civic project, always need more cash.

It seems that hunting out and killing snakes brings in a profit.

THERE'S SOME GOOD to be said for the project, too. First, it helps rid the country of the venomous rattlers. This is good for ranchmen, poultry raisers, hunters and just plain citizens. Then, the venom from the snakes' fangs goes to good scientific work in perfecting vaccines, etc.; the skins seem to have a market in the making of certain accessory items; and then there is a class of human being that can be duped into eating rattlesnake meat.

SO, IF THE Jaycees want some moral support in all this, they have it from me. They are just not going to get any active participation. There's nothing unusual in the fact, I suppose, that I built up an aversion to snakes at an early age. First, there was Mama reading about the serpent in the Garden of Eden, and he was a no-goodnik. Then, there was some variety of crawling critter that would grab off our little chicks. Some skunks might have been guilty of this, or even an untrained dog or housecat, but we used to have reason to believe that snakes were mostly responsible.

A LITTLE LATER on, when I braved the banks of Lone Wolf Creek seeking out rabbits with my trusty .22, I would encounter, on rare occasion, the ominous sound of a rattler. Surely you will agree there's nothing that will chill your spine any faster.

And then, these snake characters seem to have a penchant for turning up in unusual and unwanted places, like in a basement of a house, sometimes in the bathtub or kitchen sink, or maybe under your woodpile. Granted that most of these are (tis said) harmless little green wrigglers, there is just a lack of rapport between me and snakes.

IT WAS A decision a long time ago that I would leave snakes alone if they would leave me alone, and I have found no reason to change policy.

However, like I said, if the Jaycees can drum up enough hardy souls to fan out on hillside and in cave and run the rattlers out, snap 'em up and dehorn 'em, I say every man to his own taste. So you can regard this as strong editorial support for the Rattlesnake Roundup, and I'm sorry I'll be out of town at the time.

That (Yawn!) Sleep Gap

WASHINGTON — No one in Washington is talking about it, but there is a sleep gap in the Johnson administration and it's getting more serious all the time. The President, who according to reports doesn't need much sleep because of extra glands, makes no secret of his admiration for those who are able to operate on as little sleep as he does. Time and time again he has praised those who are in their offices at seven in the morning and don't leave until very late at night.

I CAN well imagine what is happening at a cabinet meeting these days.

All the cabinet officers are in their chairs dozing — waiting for the President to arrive.

He enters the room and everyone tries to wake up.

Well, gentlemen," the President says, "it's good to see you all looking so haggard and bleary-eyed. We are getting a lot done."

The attorney general stifles a yawn.

"WERE YOU trying to say something, Mr. Katzenbach?"

No, sir, Mr. President. I was just yawning."

"Good boy. You're doing a fine job. Well, let's get down to business. I'd like to discuss the opposition we're getting in the Senate. Mr. McNamara. Will somebody wake up Mr. McNamara?"

Mr. McNamara says, "Uh-uh-uh, oh, yes, sir, Mr. President."

"Mr. McNamara," the President says, "when I called you at three this morning, your wife said you had already gone to bed."

"YES, SIR, I was at the Pentagon until two, so I decided to make an early night of it."

"Well, it isn't important. I'm sorry your wife woke you up."

"That's all right, sir."

"It was the four o'clock call that was important. You can imagine my surprise when I found out that you had gone back to sleep."

Forces Stronger Than Domino Theory

WASHINGTON — Confounding the prophets and making hash of some of their tidiest theories is the revolution in Asia's third largest country. What has happened in Indonesia casts a long shadow of doubt on the domino theory that is a mainstay of the Rusk doctrine.

SIX MONTHS ago the professional China watchers had written off Indonesia. The Chinese Reds had all but consolidated their power over this nation of 105,000,000 people. But a coup meant to eliminate the army generals, the last obstacle, brought a violent reaction.

Even in an era marked by one hideous barbarism after another, what followed must be some sort of record. In the space of a few weeks after the Oct. 1 attack on the generals an estimated 100,000 to 150,000 Communists or suspected Communists were hunted down and shot in cold blood. Probably no one will ever know the exact number, particularly since Indonesia is today closed to virtually all outsiders.

NOW RADIO JAKARTA reports the power struggle continuing, with Sukarno firing Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution as minister of defense. But whoever wins faces a bankrupt country on the brink of ruin with wild inflation running unchecked. This is the end result of Sukarno's foreign adventurism and the insane arms race that has swamped a desperately poor nation.

What is not realized is the role the Soviet Union played in this arms race. During the past 10 years Moscow has sold Indonesia on credit an estimated $1 billion in arms. That includes complex modern weapons such as MIG-21 planes.

THE SOVIETS are, certainly in Asia, the foremost arms peddlers. They have saddled struggling nations with a burden of modern armaments far beyond their capacity to carry and in so doing have fed nationalistic rivalries and international factionalism. The Russians are reported to have sold India four times as much in arms as the United States, and India faces an economic crisis nearly as grave as that in Indonesia.

Indonesia's external debt is $2.5 billion of which $1 billion is owed to Moscow for arms. The annual value of the country's exports is roughly the amount of the interest due on this debt. That is a measure of the bankruptcy that the dubious victor in the current struggle confronts.

OFFICIALLY in Jakarta the rupiah is 45 to the dollar. On export or import transactions the rate is 100,000. The last quotation of the Hong Kong money traders four weeks ago was 37,000 rupiahs to the dollar. Riots in Jakarta in mid-January reached a crisis point.

SUKARNO is only one of a growing company for whom the harsh facts of life have finally caught up with dreams of glory. The first was Ben Bella in Algeria. He saw himself as the leader of the non-aligned bloc against the "imperialist" powers. Sending arms to the rebels in the Congo, he went on a spending spree at home to provide a luxury setting for a second Bandung meeting of Asian-African powers.

China's influence has been weakened or eliminated not only in Asia but in several new African nations where Peking by investing men and money thought to gain control. Nationalism is an overriding force working against the domino theory which assumes that Peking or Moscow must take over in neighboring nations if one nation falls.

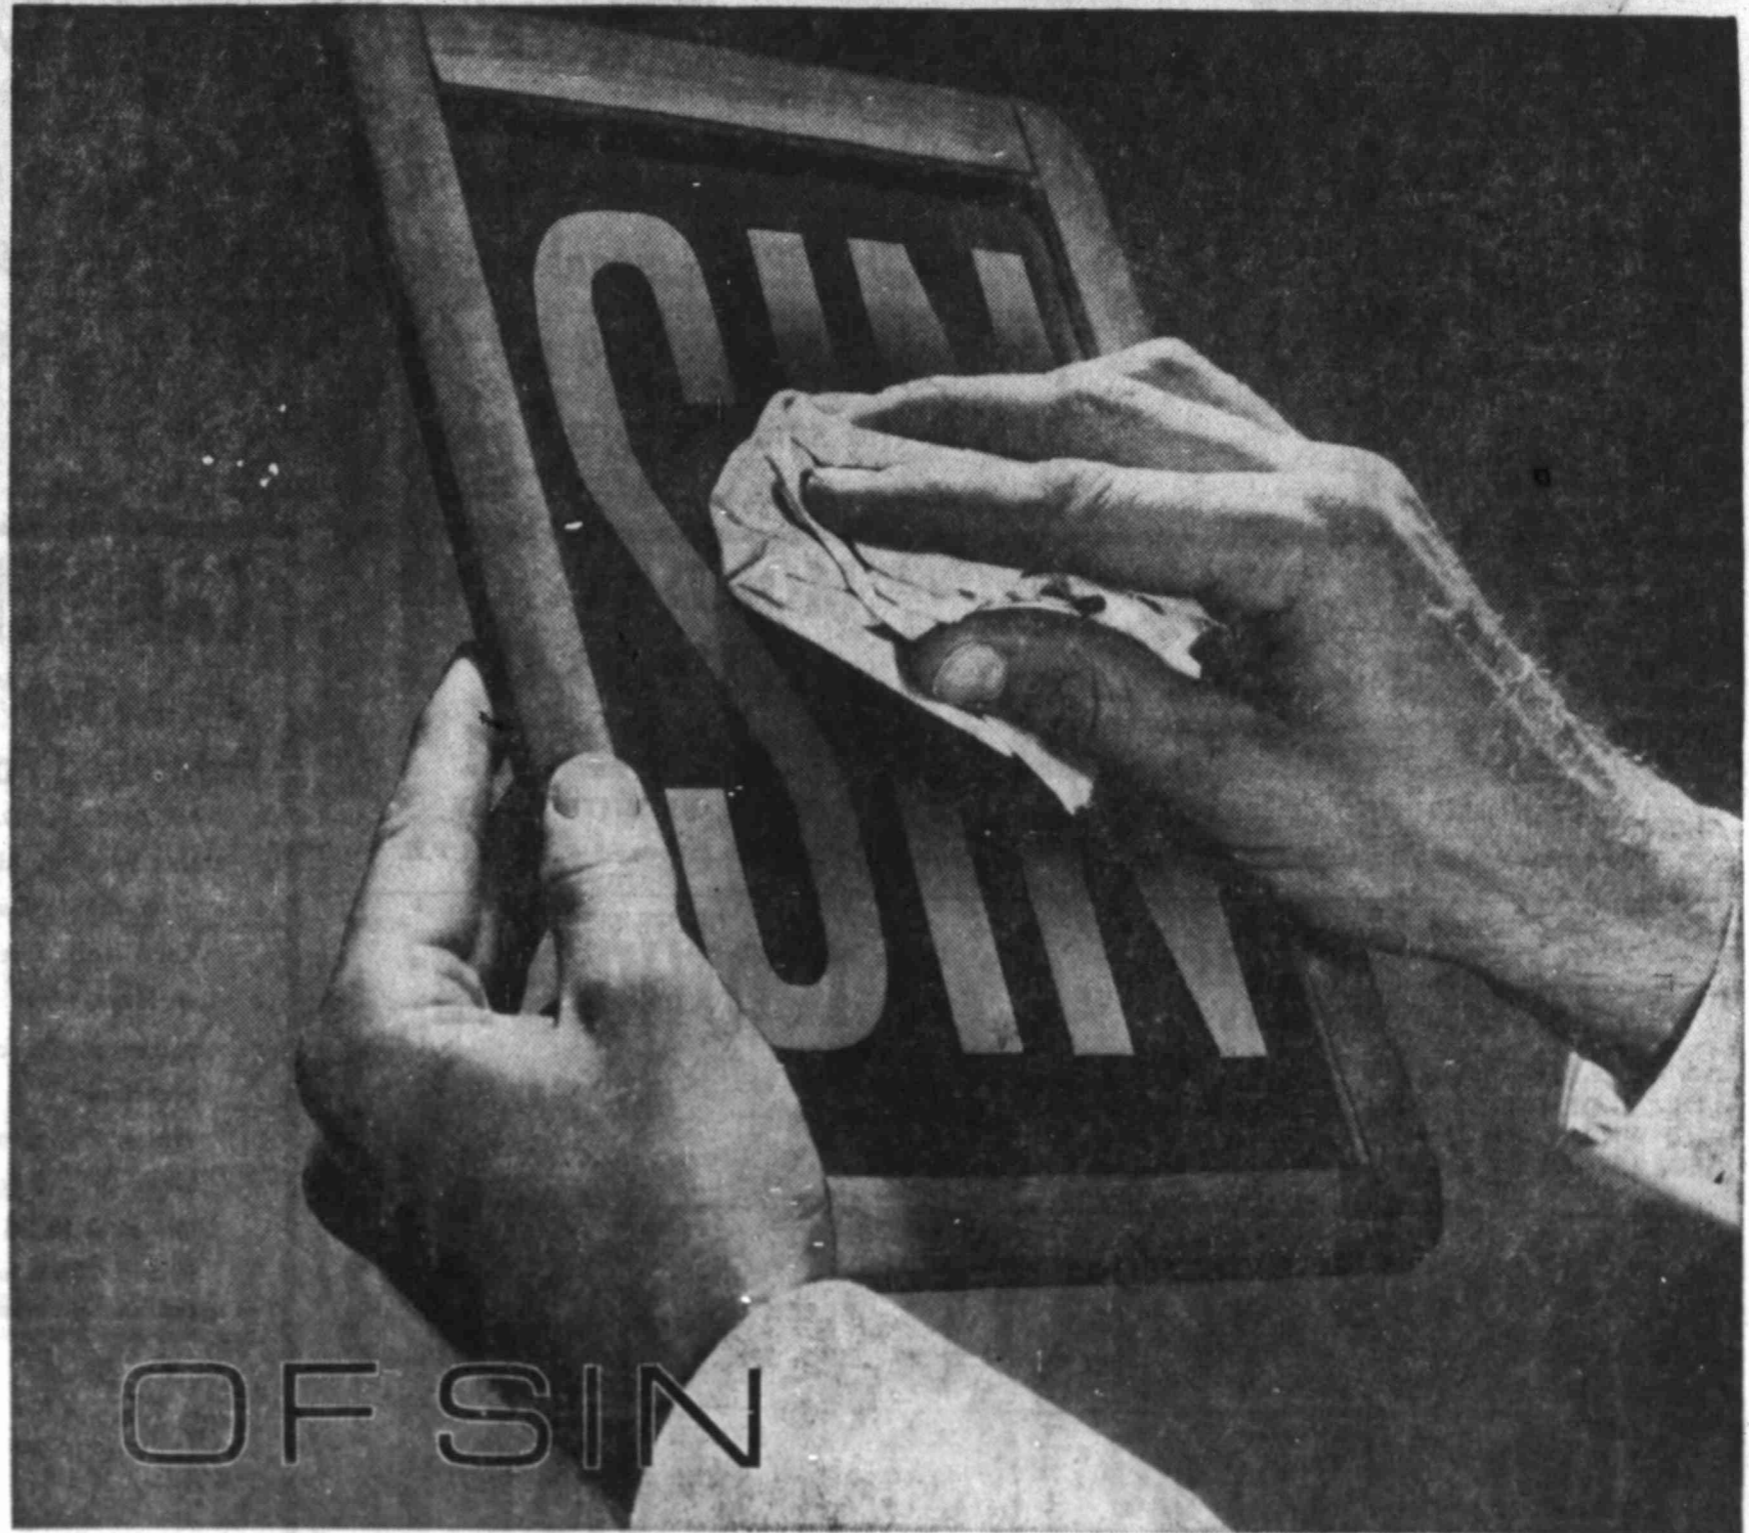

SO, TOO, ARE the economic forces that produce runaway inflation, hunger and unrest.

Sin is a disagreeable word that millions shun. It casts a shadow of separation. It raises chill thoughts of an impenetrable and eternal barrier between humanity and God...

Forgiveness on the other hand is a warm and inspiring word. It promises that life's slate can be wiped clean. It brings us close to God — and to one another.

An Execution on a Friday centuries ago... an Empty Tomb in the dawn of the first Easter Day... a Faith that has gripped human souls for all the generations since — these are forever entwined with the stark realization of man's sin and the blessed assurance of God's forgiveness.

That is why, when we think deeply of the meaning of these words — of their implication in our own lives — we find ourselves at the very heart of the Christian religion.

And it is why these soul-stirring weeks at the threshold of Christ's suffering have long been the time for such searching thought!

...and FORGIVENESS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

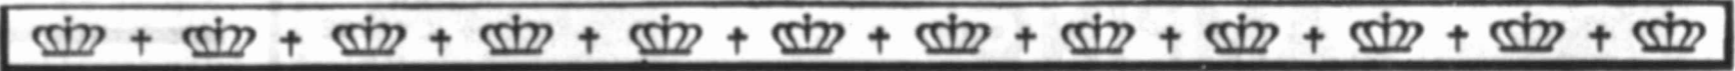

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sophia Loren At Ritz In 'Judith'

"Judith," a Kurt Unger Production starring Sophia Loren, Peter Finch and Jack Hawkins, opens today at the Ritz Theater, bringing to the screen a drama of love and human compassion, set against the tense background of conflict in the Middle East.

The new film, in Technicolor and Panavision, is a modern romance involving a woman patterned after the biblical Judith, woven into the battle for life fought by Israel as a new-born nation.

Sophia's portrayal of the title role affirms that her beauty is matched only by her brilliance as an actress. Her Judith is a complex characterization of a woman withdrawn from the world, living with the unforgetting pain of the loss of her child.

She is possessed by revenge, driven by the desire to make her former husband, the man responsible for her tormented past, pay for his crimes.

Finch is seen as an Israeli leader, Aaron Steh, whose sense of responsibility is committed to his troubled country. It is when the force of Judith's negative struggle collides with Stein's positive goals that the theme of love begins to develop.

Hawkins invades both of their lives as Major Lawton, the sensitive British officer who finally furnishes Judith with secret information on the whereabouts of the man she despises. The ensuing capture of the ex-Nazi tank expert, Gustav Schiller, portrayed by Hans Verner, is a sequence of taut action, made exciting by the threads of the relationships between all involved.

Among the locations used are near Avdon, some eight miles from the Lebanese border; the city of Haifa; the white-sand beach at Atlit, a city which is crowned by the ruins of the last occupied Crusader castle in the Holy Land; and the ruins of Caesaria, where a Roman amphitheater seating five thousand people recently was uncovered.

Even Texas Still Has Lots Of Bear

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

AMERICAN BEARS, By B. F. Beebe and James Ralph Johnson (David McKay Co., $3.95)

If you knew where to look, you probably could find as many bears in North America as there ever were—certainly more than there were about 1900.

That is one of the points in "American Bears" by B. F. Beebe and her husband, former Marine Corps Maj. James Ralph Johnson.

The only place that the bears seem to have trouble surviving is in northern Mexico, but this is more than compensated for by increases elsewhere. Deliberate thinning to preserve the health of the drove now is a conservation measure.

One somewhat extreme example is New Mexico, which had 157 black bears in 1927. Now it has around 3,000.

Some black bears are found in Texas in the Trans-Pecos region, and there are rumors that some have re-established themselves in the Big Thicket of East Texas.

The black bear population of the United States is estimated at 200,000.

The authors constantly stress that there is no such thing as a reliably friendly bear. They may be appealing and seemingly tame, for instance, at national parks. But the next second they may tear you apart. Signs warning against feeding bears are there for a good reason.

In addition to the damage they will inflict when accepting food—they compulsively strike out—or when hunting it, there are other danger signals.

Seek safety if you come upon a mother with cubs, find limbs broken where bears are using a berry patch for food, or come upon a carcass they have hidden away for later use.

The size of some bears is almost unbelievable. The brown bear, found largely in Alaska, would punch his head through the ceiling of your living room if he stood up—he probably is about nine feet tall. A polar bear towers two feet over that.

Strangely enough, bears are one of the few animals that stand erect as easily as they do on all fours. And persons who have seen them in action always speak of their amazing speed both in reaction to danger and fleetness when chasing another animal—or a human.

The Johnsons are residents of New Mexico.

Norway Issues Four To Honor Ski Meet

By SYD KRONISH
Norway, long famous as a skiing nation, has issued four new postage stamps to honor the 1966 World Ski Championship held in Oslo, Feb. 17-27. The 40 ore gray-brown shows a 4,000-year-old carving of a skier. The 55 ore olive-green depicts a ski jumper. The 60 ore red illustrates a long-distance skier. The 90 ore blue pictures a jumping hill called Holmenkollen, reputed to be the most famous in the world, where many world records have been set. Holmenkollen has been the site of skiing events since 1866. The Norwegian Post Office announced that M. Ottar Michaelson was the designer of these new stamps.

tween Tokyo and Yokohama. The design features an 1890 switchboard and the dial of a current phone.

Mexico has issued a new 20 centavos stamp honoring Jose Maria Morelos y Pavon, national hero in the 1810 revolution against Spain. In 1815 he was captured, tortured and shot to death. The state of Morelos and the city of Cuautla Morelos are named after him. The design depicts a portrait of Morelos by Diego Rivera on a blue background.

Gambia has issued a set of 13 definitive stamps featuring local birds, reports the Crown Agents in Washington. Depicted are: cordon bleu, whistling teal, red-throated bee eater, pied kingfisher, napolean bishop, river eagle, yellow-bellied fruit pigeon, blue-bellied roller, pygmy kingfisher, spurwing goose, little woodpecker, violet plainland eater, pintailed whydah.

Indonesia has announced the issuance of four stamps honoring two of its large hotels. The Sumatra Beach Hotel is featured on the lower two values while the Ambarukmo Hotel is on the two higher values. All the stamps bear a portrait of President Sukarno with the hotels in the background.

How much can rare stamps bring on the open market? Well, a man from Highland Park, Ill., recently purchased a 2-cent stamp for more than $17,000! The stamp is the 2-cent Pan American of 1901, center inverted, carmine red. It is one of the rarest of 20th Century abnormal stamps.

The production relates the story of the last seven days Christ was on earth and is staged by a professional cast, many of whom have appeared in Shakespearean plays abroad.

The Passion Play is co-sponsored by the Midland Council of Churches and the Midland Jaycees.

Performance times are 8:30 p.m. Sunday, March 6, and 8:15 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, March 7-8. In addition, a reserved seat matinee is scheduled Sunday, along with special student matinees at 2:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

All performances except the two student matinees are reserved seat shows only. Reserved seat tickets ranging from $1.75 to $3.50 are available from the Passion Play headquarters in the Midland Chamber of Commerce building or by writing Box 135, Midland.

Stern To Play H-SU Concert

Isaac Stern, described by many as being "one of the two greatest violinists today," will appear in concert at the Hardin-Simmons University chapel-auditorium March 18. The program will be in connection with H-SU's Diamond Jubilee celebration to begin in mid-April.

Reservations may be made for the program by contacting Dr. W. O. Beazley's artist services office on the H-SU campus.

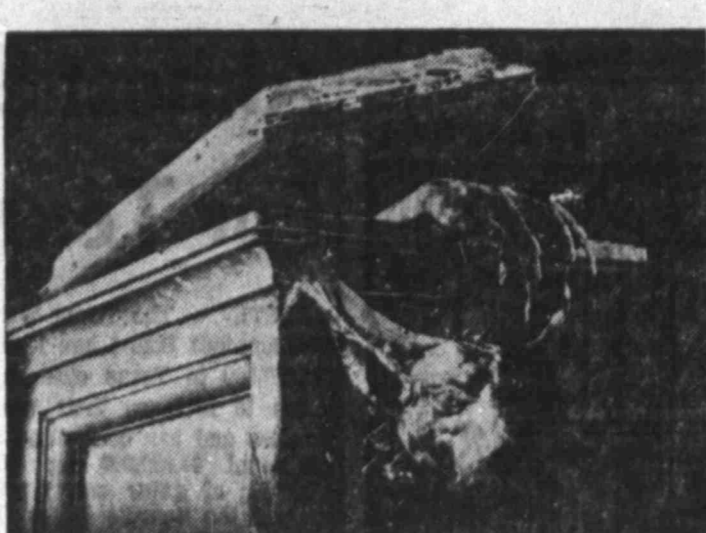

The program is the fifth in a series of six artist concert series programs at H-SU during the 1965-66 school year. The Pittsburgh Symphony will appear April 21. Tickets range from $2 to $3.50. Dr. Beazley said.

Stern will bring his 225-year-old Guarnerius violin, once owned by the Belgian violinist Eugene Ysaie (1865-1923).

Play Dedicated

NEW YORK (AP)—A play dedicated to the three civil rights workers slain at Philadelphia, Miss., in June 1964 is slated for off-Broadway presentation.

"Loop the Loop on the Moebius Strip" according to its author, Sidney S. Antebi, is "science-fiction satire" about the destructibility of good in humanity. Included in the cast are roles based upon Michael H. Schwerner, James E. Chaney and Andrew Goodman, the murdered trio.

FEAR OF THE YEAR
'Dr. Terror's House of Horrors'

Horror Film Scheduled On Jet Screen Saturday

There are plenty of "things in the night" in the Technicolor production "Dr. Terror's House of Horrors," opening Saturday at the Jet Theatre. Two of the stories involve women, both beautiful, intelligent and charming by day—but terrifying and death-dealing by night.

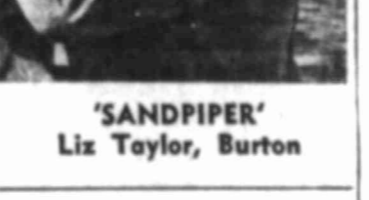

One of these, Deirdre Biddulph (Ursula Howells) assumes the shape of a werewolf and kills her prey. The other, Nicole (Jennifer Jayne), a lovely French girl, is herself killed in the traditional way of a vampire, before she can complete her work of destruction.

Before one dismisses these creatures as figments of the imagination, it is as well to remember that records show alleged cases where humans have admitted to becoming werewolves, and evidence of vampirism would seem to exist.

Vampires are reputed to be the bodies of deceased persons, animated by evil spirits which come out of the graves in the nighttime and suck the blood of the living, thereby destroying them. If the victim dies... he also becomes a vampire and after death rises from the grave and walks the earth in search of blood. There is only one way to kill a vampire—drive a stake through its heart.

Evidently the thought of a vampire does not worry everyone. Christopher Lee, who stars in "Dr. Terror's House of Horrors," a Paramount release, says that shortly after his film "Dracula" had been released in the United States, he received thousands of fan letters.

'Hallelujah Trail' Coming

John Sturges' "The Hallelujah Trail," an epic comedy of the old West starring Burt Lancaster, Lee Remick, Jim Hutton and Pamela Tiffin, opens Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre. Filmed in Technicolor and Ultra Panavision, the film presents Lancaster in his first comedy role, portraying a U.S. cavalry colonel in charge of a wagon train of whiskey. It is his duty to guard this precious cargo against the assaults of women temperance workers, thirsty Indians, parched miners and temperamental teamsters. Lancaster's tribulations in carrying out his unusual mission and the adventures surrounding the trek to Denver with precious liquid treasure are based on a true incident. The screenplay is based on Bill Gulick's novel, recounting the incredible events of the "Battle of Whiskey Flats."

Donald Pleasence, Brian Keith and Martin Landau also star in "The Hallelujah Trail."

Almost $40 Million Loaned For Texas Water Supplies

AUSTIN — The Texas Water Development Board has loaned $39,859,000 to Texas cities and towns to increase their water supplies and has committed an additional $6,939,000 for construction of water supply projects of the Board's Water Development Fund, reported to the Water Development Board at its February meeting.

Boswell, reviewing the water development fund since the first loan was made to the Lower Nueces River Water Supply District in October, 1959, said 39 Texas cities and towns have met or will be able to meet their needs for additional municipal and industrial water supplies with the help of the fund.

BUYS STORAGE

In addition, he said, the Texas Water Development Board has provided financial assistance for the construction of Toledo Bend Dam on the Sabine River — a project of the Sabine River Authority, the State of Texas and the State of Louisiana — and has committed funds to the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Association project on the Salt Fork of the Red River near Clarendon and to the enlargement project of Lake Palestine on the Neches River.

Toledo Bend is the largest in the Southwest that is being constructed without federal participation or interest and will cost about $60,000,000. TWD has invested $12,168,575 in the Toledo Bend project. An additional commitment of $2,831,425 will bring the total participation by the state to $15,000,000. The State of Texas will own about 25 percent of the water to be impounded, or approximately 1,100,000 acre-feet.

The board has committed itself to buy 227,240 acre-feet of conservation storage in the Greenbelt and Lake Palestine projects, bringing the state's investment in the Toledo Bend, Greenbelt and Lake Palestine projects to $21,240,000.

Loans made by the Texas Water Development Board have been used or will be used to construct dams and reservoirs having a total water conservation storage capacity of 1,231,000 acre-feet, 294 miles of pipelines, and 13 filtration or water treatment plants.

Funds used by the board to provide financial assistance to municipalities, water districts and river authorities do not come from state appropriations, Boswell said, but are obtained from the sale of Texas Water Development Bonds (which have an AAA rating). Loans are made at 1/2 of 1 per cent above the average interest cost of all bonds sold by the board.

The Texas Water Development Board has the authority to sell up to $200,000,000 in bonds. So far, $70,000,000 has been sold.

SELF-SUPPORTING
The loan program is self-supporting, with state appropriations required only for operating expenses of the board and its staff. It is expected, Boswell said, that in the future the storage purchase program will require some state appropriations for payment of principal and interest on water development fund bonds until the state sells in conservation storage facilities.

The legislature last year approved a constitutional amendment which will provide an additional $200,000,000 in Water Development Bonds. The amendment will be voted upon in the general election in November.
