Blizzard's Death Toll Is Mounting

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — A deadly and devastating blizzard eased in some sectors Saturday but raged for the fourth day in other parts of Minnesota and the Dakotas.

The Weather Bureau called it one of the most savage blizzards in recorded history.

CRAWL-OUT

A "crawl-out" began in Western North and South Dakota, where cities and towns were benumbed and isolated by the combination of heavy snow and winds up to 100 miles an hour.

At least 10 persons were known dead.

Authorities feared the toll would rise. At least 14 persons were missing.

Searchers were reported Saturday to have found the body of Betty Dieder, 13, a North Dakota farm girl who never returned to her home after she went to a chicken coop 100 feet away to close a banging door.

Skeletal reports said the girl's body was located some distance from her home.

The tales of those who survived in stalled cars were harrowing.

COACHES RESCUED

Three basketball coaches from Fort Yates, N.D., missing for over 30 hours, were rescued Saturday by a search party which followed a rotary plow. The coaches' car broke down Wednesday, and the blowing snow was so fierce they didn't dare set out afoot in a quest for shelter.

To keep from freezing, they ripped fence posts loose and burned them in the car. The men had nothing to eat but three sweet rolls, and snow.

Three other men who vanished in North Dakota Wednesday trudged to a farm house when the wind dropped off. They said they stayed in their car and ran the engine intermittently for heat after the car became stuck.

Snowplows began churning the mountainous drifts where the storm abated. In areas where the blizzard continued in full force, there was no automobile travel and walking was virtually impossible in the deep, crusted snow.

SNOWMOBILES

Only snowmobiles, little motorized vehicles on tracks, kept going. Police used the rigs as emergency squad cars.

Five Roseau, Minn., men with snowmobiles chugged 120 miles to Grand Forks, N.D., to pick up Roger Dick, Seattle, Wash., thwarted by the blizzard as he tried to go to Roseau to see his critically ill father.

Near Strasburg, in south-central North Dakota, Carleen Welk, 6, became lost between the family's farm house and barn Thursday evening. The girl was following her brothers to the barn in the blinding blizzard when she vanished.

The body of Earl Thomas, Rapid City, S.D., salesman, was found after authorities battled all night to reach his ditched car near Faith, S.D. Thomas froze to death.

DESTROYED

Five airplanes in a hangar at Sturgis were destroyed. Snow blew through cracks in the building with such force it piled up 10 feet over the planes, crumpling them.

The Weather Bureau said the blizzard "undoubtedly" was the worst in recorded history. The record-breaking snow included 35 inches at Moberg, S.D. Bismarck, N.D., had a record 15 1/2 inches in a 24-hour span. Other heavy snowfalls included 14 inches within 24 hours at Grand Forks, N.D., where a total of 29 fell, and 12 inches at Aberdeen, S.D., for a storm total of 17 inches.

From two to three feet of snow covered the area from north-central South Dakota through eastern North Dakota and into northern Minnesota. Western North Dakota and eastern South Dakota had up to one foot.

Cong Loses 665 During Heavy Action

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Battle reports told Saturday of a record air strike of 61 missions over North Viet Nam, with a missile site among the targets, and the death of 665 Communist troops in heavy action in the South.

U.S. Marines, Vietnamese troops and planes slashed at enemy soldiers in coastal Quang Ngai Province. The allies said they had killed 466 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars in the fight that erupted Friday northwest of Quang Ngai city, the capital.

Paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade clashed with a reinforced North Vietnamese battalion below Tuy Hoa, on the coast 240 miles northeast of Saigon. They reported 105 enemy dead and four machine guns among captured arms.

A battalion of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division, in a dawn battle on a rubber plantation about 40 miles north of Saigon, drove off an encircling enemy after killing 50 and capturing four.

Three squadrons of jet fighter-bombers caught a Viet Cong detachment in the open in the central highlands 100 miles northeast of Saigon and mowed down 44 of them.

Over-all allied casualties were reported light, but a U.S. Marine company was among units hit hard and three aircraft were lost.

The Marine company, returning for its dead on a barren hill it held for a while in the Quang Ngai action Friday, had to call in elements of another company to help carry them back.

Another Jetliner Falls In Japan, 124 Dead

Three Crashes In Month Have Claimed 321 Lives

Falling Plane

Amateur photographer Hiroaki Ikegami on vacation snapped this picture of jetliner as it falls toward slopes of Mt. Fuji. (AP WIREPHOTO)

GOTEMBA, Japan (AP) — A British jetliner with 124 persons — at least 89 of them Americans — broke up in the freakish air over Mt. Fuji Saturday and fluttered like a leaf down to disaster on the sacred mount's slopes.

(BOAC officials in New York said there were 90 Americans aboard.)

AIR CURRENTS

Aviation experts, probing the wreckage, said Sunday freak air currents and sudden severe winds may have ripped the British Overseas Airways Corp. Boeing 707 apart minutes after take off from Tokyo's International Airport.

Japanese soldiers working under a full moon carried down the bodies of all 124 victims and placed them in wooden coffins in a Buddhist temple in Gotemba, 70 miles south of Tokyo.

Among the Americans were 75 persons on an Asian tour sponsored by the Thermo King Corp., of Minneapolis, Minn., a refrigeration equipment firm. Three top company officials and many of the firm's key dealers in the United States and their wives were among the dead.

There was Charles Galbo, 52, Cheektowaga, N.Y., who told a friend back home before he left: "I don't think I'll see you any more."

WITNESSES

Japanese witnesses said they saw the plane break apart, then swirl down like a leaf, trailing fire and white smoke. Its wreckage scattered over a wide area on the rugged slopes and set fire to trees and brush in some places.

It was Japan's second major air disaster within 19 hours and the third in a month. In history's worst commercial air disaster involving a single plane, 133 persons perished in a Japanese Boeing 727 jetliner that plunged into Tokyo Bay Feb. 4.

Ironically, as the doomed BOAC jet taxied out for take off Saturday afternoon it passed the wreckage at Haneda Airport of a Canadian Pacific DC8 jetliner that crashed while landing in a fog Friday night, killing 64 of 72 persons on board.

321 LIVES

The three crashes took 321 lives.

Officials from Britain and Canada were en route to Tokyo to investigate the causes of the last two crashes.

Death still lingered over the scene of the Japanese airline crash. Officials reported that a helicopter in the continuing search for bodies plunged into Tokyo Bay, killing two of five crewmen on board.

Just minutes after the BOAC 707 took off at 1:55 p.m. for Hong Kong en route to London, the Tokyo Weather Bureau reported severe winds over Mt. Fuji, noted for the freak air currents swirling around its 12,389-foot, snow-draped peak.

At noon, the Weather Bureau said the winds at Mt. Fuji were a sustained 70 miles an hour and three hours later a sustained 86 miles an hour, with gusts likely to be higher.

Officials at the scene said the winds and air currents could have overcome the plane, then braced its fall.

113 PASSENGERS

The plane had a crew of 11. Of the 113 passengers, 106 boarded in Tokyo and the remainder came from San Francisco. Nearly all were bound for Hong Kong, with eight bound for Rangoon, Burma; one for Karachi, Pakistan, and one for London.

One of those who saw the disaster was Shizuko Serizawa, a weather observer near Mt. Fuji.

"I saw the plane rising perpendicularly and then saw two-thirds of one wing tear off," he (See CRASH, Page 8-A, Col. 5)

Jetliner Bellies In Safe Landing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An Eastern Airlines Boeing 727 passenger jet belly landed safely at Miami International Airport Saturday after its landing gear stuck. None of the 101 persons aboard was hurt.

The plane took off for a non-stop flight to Newark, N.J., at 1:40 p.m. After the pilot discovered the gear trouble, he circled over the Atlantic Ocean for two hours to consume extra fuel. He landed at 3:59 p.m.

Jaycees Have 350 In, More Snakes Due Today

They came, 80 men and women, to hunt snakes. By closing time Saturday, they had collected 314 pounds of venomous, buzzing rattlesnakes — about 350 — for the Fourth Annual Big Spring Jaycee Rattlesnake Round-Up.

They came from all around the area, and from far places, like Kentucky and Ireland and Fort Worth, vying for trophies and prize money which will be given this evening to hunters who caught exceptional snakes.

Through Saturday about 750 persons visited the round-up at the Big Spring Fairgrounds, just off US 80 west, to see the collected rattlers; to watch Cecil Fox, game warden, play with them, milk them and talk about them; to watch them skinned; and to eat them, fried, in deep fat.

Fox gave, and will give today, hour-long talks which are designed to answer questions people may have about snakes.

The hunt is not over. Deadline to sign up for the final day of hunting is today at noon. Guided hunting parties for registered hunters will go out at 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 11 a.m., 1 p.m., and 2:30 p.m.

Deadline for bringing in collected snakes for the judging is 5 p.m.

Beginning at 6 p.m., Mariko Sakai, Miss Diamondback of 1966, will hand out trophies in several categories. Trophies and prize money will be awarded for the largest total weight of collected rattlesnakes (three places); most rattles on a single snake; and the longest snake. Saturday, there were several snakes of about five feet in length in the big pit.

Of the snakes collected through Saturday, about 50 were skinned, cooked and eaten, which comes to 250 plates of "snake snaks," Jaycees said.

Snake, at least rattlesnake, is described by advocates as tasting good, something like chicken. Served, fried snake resembles a bird. The snake is cut laterally, the ribs spread, dipped in batter and dumped in deep fat. The results look like a dove, but tastes different, and is said to be filling.

Jaycees said they expect a good crowd all day today, and are predicting some records to be rattled into the books.

DEAR BOSS:

Irishman Tries It

Dear Boss:

How's this for a good story about the snake round-up? "Now I know what Saint Patrick was up against," Peter McCann, Irishman and visiting snake-catcher said, lofting a three-foot Western Diamondback rattlesnake with his snakehook.

McCann, a Jaycee from Dublin, Ireland, was one of a party of several who staged a "snake hunt" on South Mountain Saturday afternoon, providing publicity for the Fourth Annual Big Spring Jaycee Rattlesnake Round-Up, which slithers to an end this evening at 6 o'clock.

He said his Irishness was not the only reason he has an interest in rattlesnakes of the diamondback variety—he makes his living as a jeweler, and knows all about diamonds. McCann is in Big Spring on a lengthy visit with his brother, Dr. Desmond McCann, of the Big Spring State Hospital.

They say we fear things, we don't understand. McCann, who comes from a country where, since the good Saint's Halcyon days, there aren't any snakes, end this evening at 6 o'clock.

Head Start Program Gets Underway Monday

The last requirement for them to Kate Morrison.

Head Start is to prepare youngsters, particularly those from families in the lower income brackets, for more effective work when they begin their school careers next fall.

This includes careful screening for physical defects which may be corrected or which need to be noted for adjustments. There also will be activities in group participation, plus some basic English aid later on.

Plans call for a staff of 10 teachers under direction of Mrs. Don Farley, head teacher, plus 10 teacher aides. The children will be furnished lunch, plus mid-morning and mid-afternoon snacks, and there will be a rest period immediately after lunch.

Buses pick up the children at Bauer, Cedar Crest and Lakeview schools and transport

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Phew! That about describes our reaction to last week's weather. Sunday turned from fair weather to a dense sandstorm with a spit of rain mixed in. After a day of respite, the blow set in and continued until Friday morning. Gusts got up in the 50-mph bracket, and not even the most loyal West Texan could make apologies for it. All this wind turned into twisters down in lower Mississippi.

Barr's 940-pound Hereford steer, Skeeter, was picked as grand champion of the junior Hereford division at Houston, got nosed out by an Angus for the junior title, but came back to win reserve championship of the entire show. On the block he brought $4,500. A week before his brother, Maxwell, sold a junior champion at San Antonio for $2,500.

Head Start got a little head start here last week when 130 youngsters were signed before the last technicalities were (See THE WEEK, P. 8-A, C. 6)

Easter Sunrise Service Program To Be Expanded

Plans were firm up at a meeting Friday for a broadening of the program for Big Spring's sunrise worship on Easter Sunday, April 10.

A special committee, working with the Big Spring Pastors Association, approved various phases of a new format for this traditional public ceremony to be held at the City Park amphitheater beginning at 6:10 a.m. (sunrise).

Critical Of Food For Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Allen Ellender, D-La., of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said Saturday that several features of President Johnson's Food-Far-Peace program "are highly questionable."

"These provisions, he said, 'are likely to prove of great expense to the taxpayers.'"

"I and other committee members will be very anxious to see that the American taxpayer does not become the forgotten man of the administration's generosity," Ellender said.

He also said he was disappointed "to see the administration embrace a broad program to increase the flow of our American commodities abroad and at the same time take action to curtail our so-called old line domestic programs."

Ellender said he had in mind the school lunch and school milk programs as well as the impacted school district aid program for which the budget recommended drastic cuts.

Peace Corps Tests Slated

Area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a.m. March 12 at federal buildings in Abilene, Midland, San Angelo or Lubbock.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive—an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The Big Spring High School band will play the hymns, and the combined high school and Howard County Junior College choir will sing and give a special anthem, "The Last Words of David," by Randel Thompson. Mel Ivey will be director of these numbers.

The Webb Air Force Base color guard will open the worship with the staffing of the American flag on the platform.

The Chamber of Commerce Ambassador Club members are to serve as ushers. The Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs is to arrange special stage decorations, and Mrs. Odell Womack will be chairman of this project.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, head of the special committee, said contacts will be made immediately to bring an outstanding out-of-city speaker for a brief inspirational message. A layman will be appointed to read an Easter Scripture, and members of the Pastors Association will participate in leading prayers.

"We feel that we are breathing new life, a new spirit, into our Easter worship this year," said Dr. Lloyd, "and we will have a program that we hope will attract much larger crowds than have been attending in recent years. This is one of the city's fine traditions that we want to improve upon. We are finding fine cooperation in many areas which gives us confidence that the public will respond in a great way."

Low-Yield Test Is Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced Saturday it had conducted a low-yield underground nuclear test at its Nevada testing site.

It was the sixth announced weapons-related test to be conducted during 1966. A low-yield blast is less than the equivalent of an explosion of 20,000 tons of TNT.

The Federal Housing Administration has surveyed all subdivisions in the Big Spring area with five or more houses completed in 1965, according to F. J. Frohoff, Lubbock, director.

In the six subdivisions of new construction that met this criterion, 96 houses had been completed during 1965. A total of 29 houses was sold before construction started, and 67 houses were built speculatively.

Of those built speculatively, 57 were sold and 10 remained unsold on Jan. 1. The unsold houses were 15 per cent of the speculative construction volume.

The sale price range of the new houses completed in 1965 is shown in the accompanying exhibit. Those sold before the

HONORS HALL, BENNETT

Hospital To Acquire New Name On April 1

Effective April 1, one of Big Spring's hospitals acquires a new name. Howard County Hospital Foundation becomes the Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital.

The name is in tribute to the memory of the late Dr. G. T. Hall and the late Dr. M. H. Bennett, who were original founders of the institution. It was known for years, when they operated it, as Big Spring Hospital, then later Dr. Bennett and Dr. Clyde E. Thomas Jr. executed sale of assets to a Foundation, which now operates the hospital, and it took on the Foundation's name.

Speaking for the directors, Charles A. Weeg, hospital administrator, said the Foundation's non-profit corporate structure remains the same, as does all the organization, physical plant and operating system, and policies. All that is changed is the name, he said.

Weeg said the action was taken by the board for two reasons: to honor the memory of the veteran Howard County physicians who founded the institution, and to omit the name

"Howard County," which at times has been misleading to some people in that there arose the mistaken idea that the hospital was a county institution.

Former Resident Injured In Fall

Friends here have been advised that Pat Green, about 55, who lived here in 1961 and 1962, has been seriously injured in a fall at Washington, D.C.

He is in the Buford County Hospital there with numerous broken bones, sustained when he fell 30 feet from a construction job on which he was employed.

Green was here throughout the time the Sid Richardson Carbon Black plant was being built. He made his home in an apartment owned by Nat Shick. He has kept in touch with friends here since leaving. Green, it is said, has no immediate family.

T-41A LIGHT PLANE PHASE Florida Firm Has Low Bid For Webb Contract

Bell Flying Service, Pensacola, Fla., was apparent low bidder on the new T-41A flying training contract (the light plane phase of Webb AFB's pilot training mission) as shown in the opening of proposals Friday afternoon.

The low bidder's qualifications will be checked out before final award, this to be done possibly in a matter of weeks, and no later than June 1.

Bell Flying Service apparently would take over the program at Howard County Airport which has been contracted for the past year to Central American Airways, which was the second low bidder for the new period.

Bell's bid was $12.35 per flying hour, $739 for engine overhaul, for a total contract of $160,482. Central American's was $14.48 per flying hour, $775 for engine overhaul, for a total contract of $187,302. There were seven other bids submitted.

OTHER BIDS
Kerrville Flying Service, Kerrville, was apparently third low in the bidding. Figures submitted included: $15.30 per flying hour, $1,000 for engine overhaul, for a total contract of $183,720.

Other bidders and their figures for the three costs were: Lonnie D. Clark, Brownfield, $15.53, $1,500 and $207,572; Valley Aviation, Los Alamos, Colo., $16.68, $900 and $215,832; A. G. Bartlett, Tulsa, Okla., $16.67, $963, and $216,338; Colorado City

Flying Service, Colorado City, $16.89, $1,425 and $223,686; Hallmark Academy, Amarillo, $18.07, $1,000 and $234,068; and Big Spring Aircraft Inc., Big Spring, $20.85, $800, and $266,540.

AT LOCAL AIRPORT
All bidders specified Howard County Airport as the location of their facility, except Colorado City Flying Service, which proposed to conduct the Primary (Phase I) training at Colorado City.

Bell Flying Service now conducts the civilian contract pilot training at Vance AFB, Okla., and has submitted apparent low bids for new contracts at Vance, Williams AFB, Ariz. and Reese AFB, Texas, as well as at Webb. Bell's bid was signed by Henry R. Barksdale, vice president of the company.

Capt. George H. Podrasky, Webb procurement officer, opened the bids and conducted the session.

Public School Week Observance Begins

Many people — especially parents of children in school — are curious about what goes on inside today's modern school buildings. Yet, a great many never bother to go inside and find out.

This week, according to Jimmy Felts, chairman of the Public School Week observance, county schools are inviting — even urging — parents and other residents to satisfy their curiosity and learn for themselves the kind of education they are paying for.

"Democracy in Action" is the theme for the special week, Felts said.

With this in mind, Big Spring Mayor George Zachariah officially proclaimed the week here. He noted that the Texas public school system is 112 years old, and has been closely allied to the growth of the state, and this area.

As he encouraged parents to take this opportunity to visit their schools, he reminded them of the importance of their continued support of good schools in this area.

Felts pointed out that new developments in schools have raised the curiosity of some parents and baffled others. These include the teaching of reading, math and science, and the new uses of automation. In visiting the area schools, he reminded parents to ask questions and satisfy their curiosities concerning any phase of their school system.

In the Coahoma and Big Spring districts, patrons will have an opportunity to see new facilities under construction as well. School officials, in most cases, are going all out to encourage good attendance by parents throughout the week.

All the city's service clubs will meet jointly Tuesday at the Settles Hotel, for a special school program.

Invitations have been sent to the parents of all school age children, and many teachers have planned special exhibits, displays or programs. Refreshments are being served in many buildings, and P-TA meetings are scheduled.

"By all means," Felts said, "take this once a year opportunity to catch up on what is happening inside your schools. It might be a real education for you in itself."

Varied Activities Planned In County's School Buildings

Parents and other interested residents are being invited to visit the schools of all three districts of Howard County during Public School Week, which begins Monday.

The schools have planned varied activities, and many of them will hold P-TA meetings, to encourage a large turnout.

Individual schools have planned a variety of programs in the Big Spring Independent School District, according to Supt. Sam Anderson. A list follows:

AIRPORT ELEMENTARY — Open house will be held all day Thursday, with a P-TA meeting at 3:30 p.m.

BAUER ELEMENTARY — Visitors invited all week to observe classes.

BOYDSTUN ELEMENTARY — Following the 7 p.m. P-TA meeting Thursday, open house will be held until 9 p.m. Teachers will be in their rooms with displays of children's work. Refreshments will be served.

CEDAR CREST ELEMENTARY — A class in action will be the program for a P-TA meeting and open house at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

COLLEGE HEIGHTS ELEMENTARY — Visitors invited every day of the week, but Tuesday morning is set aside as "visitation morning." Coffee and doughnuts will be served, and a nursery will be provided for pre-school age children from 9:30-11 a.m. The P-TA will meet at 3 p.m. Thursday.

GAY HILL ELEMENTARY — Visitors invited all week, with a student program planned Friday at 2:30 p.m. P-TA meets Tuesday.

KENTWOOD ELEMENTARY — Visitors invited all week; P-TA meets Tuesday at 3:15 p.m.

LAKEVIEW ELEMENTARY — Visitors invited all week, with open house set 7:30-8:30 p.m. Tuesday, when students will serve as guides and explain projects and displays.

MARCY ELEMENTARY — Open House planned Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. during the P-TA meeting, with students art work on display.

PARK HILL ELEMENTARY — Visitors invited all week, with open house Tuesday, 6:30-8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

SPECIAL EDUCATION — Open house all day Tuesday, and junior high students will display crafts.

WASHINGTON ELEMENTARY — Open house will be Tuesday, 7-8:30 p.m., during the regular P-TA meeting, and refreshments will be served. Students from the old South Ward building will participate.

GOLIAD JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL — Visitors invited all week and parents may eat lunch with students.

BUNNELS JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL — Open house all week.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL — Open house all week, and parents are urged to check building progress. Coffee will be served.

FORSAN — Visitors are being invited in all classes of the Forsan County Line Independent School District all week, according to Supt. Darrell Flynt.

In the elementary school, the third grade will tell a western Cinderella story Monday at 9:30 a.m., to show that Clementella originated in Forsan. Tuesday at 9 a.m., the first grade will give a choral reading, featuring "Snip, Snap, and Snurr," and "The Little Red Shoes."

At the junior high school, the student council will serve as guides for visitors, and the Buffalo Band will offer a concert Thursday at 2:45 p.m.

At the high school, the student council will register visitors, and the high school chorus will render a concert at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The Coahoma Independent School District is not planning a special activity, according to Supt. W. A. Wilson, however parents are invited to visit the schools and there will be some special displays.

Forsan Mayor Predicting A Quiet Race

FORSAN — Forsan's mayor, one of its city councilmen, and its city marshal have filed for re-election. A second councilman, C. D. Long, will not seek re-election. One new candidate, Lee D. Whetsel, has filed for Long's seat.

"We expect a quiet election," said Mayor C. J. Lamb. Lamb, who was the first and the only mayor Forsan has ever had, is seeking return to his office. G. L. Monroney, who presently is a member of the council, has also filed to succeed himself.

S. C. Cowley, Forsan's present city marshal, and the only paid employe of the town (his salary's $25 a month) has listed his name for return to the office he now holds.

The Forsan election will be on April 2 — the same date that Forsan Independent School District picks three new trustees from a field of seven candidates.

Lamb said the city election will be in the Forsan school at the same hour as the school election is held.

There are three holdover members on the city council. They are John B. Anderson, L. B. McElrath and Joe B. Board.

County To Open Bids For Radio

Howard County Commissioners, Court is to open bids at 10 a.m. Monday on a proposal to provide the office of A. N. Standard, sheriff, with his own radio transmitting equipment.

The sheriff's office now makes use of remote radio transmission through the city police transmitter. For this service the city receives $1,200 a year rental from the county.

Sheriff Standard has asked that the county commissioners authorize him to install his own transmitter and receiving units. He has obtained a construction permit from the FCC for the station.

The commissioners set up $3,500 in the 1966 budget for the radio transmitter, and this will be augmented by the $1,200 set up for payment of rent to the city for use of its equipment in 1966.

In addition, the Civil Defense has agreed to bear half the cost of the transmitter. Standard has worked out details for this part of the deal with W. D. Berry, county CD director.

The new transmitter, when erected and put in service, will transmit on two frequencies — 37.10 and 37.18 megacycles. Standard has proposed that the antenna system for the station be erected on top of the courthouse. He said he has been advised by engineers this will give the antenna sufficient elevation to make its transmission effective.

This plan would save the county the purchase of land on top of South Mountain or at some other elevated point for the antenna. The transmitting equipment would be set up in a part of the sheriff's quarters.

Standard has said that there will be three monitoring points — one of which will be in the county jailer's apartment. This will provide for 24 hour radio coverage out of the sheriff's department, he explains.

Manufacturers have been invited to submit bids to the County Commissioners Court Monday at 10 a.m.

Call letters assigned to the proposed new radio are KFN 625, Standard said.

Retardation Meet Set March 17-18

AUSTIN — More than 1,000 Texas citizens with a common concern — helping the mentally retarded — are expected to attend the Governor's Conference on Mental Retardation March 17-18 in Austin. Gov. John Connally will speak at the opening session at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 17, at the Terrace Motel Convention Center.

Law Library Books Fixed

Howard County Law Library has had its face lifted.

Jack Little, member of the law library committee, (the other members are Judge Ralph Caton, Gull Jones and Joe Moss) said that a contract had been made with a professional law library maintainer in Phoenix, Ariz.

This contractor has cleaned all of the books, waxed the leather covers with an application of plexiglass solution and repaired those books which were in need of attention.

Little pointed out that the majority of the law books in the library are leatherbound and that dry weather tends to weaken and rot the bindings. The treatment given them protects the covers from outside damage.

Little said this is the first time the library's books have been treated since it was established.

The cost was taken from the library fund. The funds for the support of this department are provided by a $5 fee added to the court charges in each civil suit filed in the courts.

The money is used to buy additional books, to pay for books already purchased, to install additional shelving when needed, and to compensate one of district clerk Fern Cox's deputies for her duties as librarian.

Vo-Ag Teachers To Hear Talk

COLLEGE STATION — About 25 area high school vocational agriculture teachers will hear a talk March 15 in Wall on teaching small gasoline engine and tractor maintenance to vocational agriculture students.

The speaker will be Harold T. Wiedeman, Texas A&M University agricultural education specialist. Hulan Harris of Big Spring, Area 2 supervisor of vocational agriculture, said the meeting is part of an in-service program planned by teachers in the district.

COSDEN PILOT GOING TO PIEDMONT
Ernie Marks enters flight school March 14

WINGS

Cosden Pilot Joins Airline

By JERRY MONSON
A former Cosden pilot left Thursday for Winston-Salem, N. C., where he will enter an extensive training program as a first officer with Piedmont Airlines.

Ernie Marks, who was with Cosden for nearly two years, begins flight training March 14. He will be the co-pilot on either an F-27 or a Martin 404 at the completion of the school. Piedmont Airlines serve 69 cities in nine states.

The school covers civil air regulations, meteorology, aircraft systems, and general requirements for a pilot. Marks will attend classes 10 hours a day, seven days a week, on a schedule that is filled with activity and rigid demands.

A native of Charleston, W. Va., he attended schools there and came to Big Spring during his career in the Air Force. He was at Webb Air Force Base for all but four months of his military duty, in the personal equipment department.

He took his pilot training at Howard County Airport from Big Spring Aircraft before going to work for Cosden.

Marks and his wife, Linda, have three sons, James Howard, Douglas Edward and Scott Alan.

Chalking up his commercial license Tuesday from Howard Loyd of Big Spring Aircraft was GERALD SORRELLS, station agent for Trans-Texas Airways, who is now the second youngest commercial pilot in Big Spring. Pat Petosky of Big Spring Aircraft is the youngest.

Sorrells, 22, started flying during his senior year in high school. Besides his work for T-TA, he managed to sandwich in first his private, then his commercial licenses during his years at Howard County Airport.

A graduate of Colorado City High School, he attended Howard County Junior College and worked for Big Spring Aircraft before accepting a position with T-TA.

Sorrells and his wife, Sue, live at the Hillside Trailer Park and are expecting their first child in July.

The regular meeting of the Howard County Flying Club will be Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Flame

Cotton Crop Near Estimate

Howard County was within 329 bales of the 45,000 bale 1965 crop estimate set by Texas Employment Commission last Monday, and some additional cotton has been ginned since that date. The official count was 44,763 bales.

"Actually," said a TEC spokesman, "I am convinced we have already made the 45,000 bale mark. I know that some Howard County cotton was ginned in Lenora and possibly at other out-of-county gins."

"There is still some cotton in the fields and a few bales keep trickling in each day. It will be some time before the end of the season can officially be set."

He said that many gins are shut down. At Knott gins are cleaning up their plants and trailers and getting ready to put the gins in moth balls until next fall.

Howard County's voting strength had climbed to 9,231 Friday evening.

Moves Up To Exec's Post

Maj. DeWitt R. Bunn, formerly chief of Webb Air Force Base's personnel services branch, this week assumed the duties of base executive officer, 3560th Air Base Group. Maj. Bunn fills the position opened by Lt. Col. Robert H. Tydesley's reassignment.

He came to Webb in July, 1964, and was assigned to T-37 Pilot Instructor Training, then to operations officer of the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, and later to the personnel service branch.

ABC Members See Viet Film, Hear Johansen

Short talks by Johnny Johansen, superintendent of the City Parks and Recreation Department, and T. Sgt. Chuck Shields of Webb AFB were given members of the American Business Club in the regular Friday luncheon at the Settles Hotel.

Johansen was invited to the club meeting to discuss the growth of trees and the treatment of their ailments, after which he engaged in a brief questions-and-answers session with his listeners.

Shields brought with him the film "Why Viet Nam?" a government-prepared vehicle which explained the government's intercession in the Northeast Asia country's troubles.

Representatives of the Maple and Dates Square Dance club were on hand to invite the group to a fund-raising supper planned for Friday night.

Jim Corbell received his credentials as a new member of the club.

It was "Big Hatters Day" at the club. The Big Hat is symbolic of members who have recruited three or more members within a year's time. Those who fail to wear them at the appointed time are fined $1 by the club prexy, but no violato the original poll tax - exemption certificate total of 9,141 reported as of Jan. 31.

The first day saw 55 new voters added to the list under the conditional voting registration and 35 additional registrations had been made to 4 p.m. Friday.

No reports were available from C. J. Lamb, Forsan, and John Justiss, Coahoma, special deputies, authorized to register voters in those two communities. Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor, estimated they might have enough registrations to bring the two day combined total to 100.

Fifteen days are allotted to the special registration. Actually only 11 days are countable, since the other days will be when the tax office is closed. Deadline is midnight March 17. Registration of voters, under the special act, began Thursday morning.

All voters who paid their poll tax, or who were issued exemption certificates prior to Jan. 31, are eligible to vote in all register. Persons who are otherwise qualified electors but who did not pay their poll tax or who are over 60 and live in big Spring and did not get an exemption certificate, should register.

An official form appearing in The Herald can be filled out and sent to the tax office by mail. This will bring a registration certificate to any qualified voter. There is no charge for registering.

It was announced from the chair that the annual election of club officers would be staged at next Friday's meeting. Those projected for the officers by the nominating committee include:

Morris E. Robertson, president; Bill McDonald, first vice president; W. H. Reed, third vice president; Leland Pearce and D. W. Everett, sergeants at arms; and Wally Slate, vice chairman of the concessions committee.

Nominations from the floor will also be in order, ABC prexy Bob Johnson has announced.

FDA Orders Drug Caution
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration has ordered two drug producers to caution pregnant women that the use of some of their products could possibly cause birth defects.

The FDA said Friday the notices were served on Charles Pfizer & Co., New York, and Burroughs Wellcome & Co., Inc., Tuckahoe, N.Y.

Humorous Stories Told By Newsman

Some of the difficulties humorous in the aftermath, but often anything but funny at the time they occur, which can be fall a radio announcer and newscaster, were recited to the Kiwanis Club at its meeting Thursday.

Jim Baum, newsman with Radio KBST, was the speaker. He was presented by Bill Johnson, program chairman.

Announcement was made that the Kiwanis Club would meet next Tuesday with the Rotary Club in observance of Public School Week.

The Thursday luncheon of the club will be cancelled, but a roundtable for members who are unable to be at the Rotary meeting will be set up in the Settles Coffee Shop.

Morehead, Stroup Enter City Race

Two more candidates entered the race for the Big Spring City Commission, several hours before the Saturday deadline. Jimmy Morehead, vice president of Morehead Transfer and Storage Co., and Walter W. Stroup, Southwestern Life Insurance Co. representative, filed with C. R. McClenny, city secretary, for places on the ballot.

Their decisions to enter the contests, put six candidates in the field for three seats on the five man commission. Other candidates are George Zachariah, incumbent, mayor, W. L. (Squeaky) Thompson, incumbent, Arnold Marshall, incumbent, and Tony Taroni. The election will be held April 5.

"Big Spring is a fine place to live and raise a family," Morehead said in announcing his candidacy. "The city has been good to me, and I want to offer to serve the city in return."

Morehead has been a resident here 30 years. He and his wife, Charlene, have three children: Jan 13, Kay 10, and Carol 4. He is an Army veteran, a member of the American Business Club, and the family attends the Fourteenth and Main Street Church of Christ.

Stroup was reared in Coahoma and is a Navy veteran. After graduating from Hardin-Simmons University in 1948, he did some graduate work at the University of Texas before teaching a year at Clarendon Junior College.

He moved back to Big Spring in 1951 in association with his present employer, and has lived here since, taking an active part in many community activities.

He and his wife, Jo Ann, have two daughters, Jan 18, and Sherry 16. The family attends the Fourteenth and Main Street Church of Christ, where he is an elder and educational director. He is a past president and long-time worker with the Band Boosters organization, and is a former president of the Big Spring Association of Life Underwriters. He also is a member of the American Business Club.

"I feel an obligation to serve Big Spring in any way I can," he said in making his announcement. "I offer for a seat on the city commission with the understanding I will serve to the best of my ability, if the residents see fit to elect me."

"I feel qualified," he added, "to know what the people want in their city government, due to the contacts I make in everyday business. I believe I can transfer these thoughts into the city operation."

Over 1,500 At Lamesa Festival

LAMESA (SC) — About 1,500 band students from 15 area towns were here Saturday for the Sixth Annual Invitational Band Festival.

The event was jointly sponsored by Lamesa's high school band, the band boosters club and the local chamber of commerce. It was held in the high school auditorium.

Judges were Gene Witherspoon, director of bands at Arkansas Tech, Russellville, Ark.; Dr. John Green, of the West Texas State College music department, and Ray Robbins, director of bands, Phillips.

Considered one of the best ever, the festival drew bands from Jayton, Borden County, Merkel, Rankin, Monahans, O'Donnell, Seagraves, Tahoka, Ft. Stockton, Seminole, Pecos, Midland and Clovis and Jalisco, N.M.

A concert by the Texas Tech band, directed by Dean Killion, preceded the awarding of trophies. Jim Williams, Lamesa High band director, and J. B. Dyer, booster president, made the presentations.

A capacity crowd Friday night watched a variety program in the high school auditorium presented by the band members.

Witnesses said they saw a man leave the pickup and run toward the T&P Railroad yard. Officers followed in the direction. A young girl told officers she saw a man running down the street, and that he entered a box-car at the west end of the railroad yard.

Officers found a man, who they said was breathing as though he had been running, and arrested him on a drunk charge and for investigation of auto theft. Charges will be filed Monday morning, officers indicated.

Walker, who had his wife along, left a teenage son at home, one of dozens of children orphaned by the crash.

Just two weeks earlier, the two children of Beverly West had seen their mother wed to Charles Heemstra of Detroit.

"This has got to be the most disastrous thing a company could experience," he added that every one of the firm's top dealers was on the plane.

Another of our old timers slipped away, Roy Green, who was born in Mitchell County in 1892 and had lived here since 1912, died unexpectedly.

Dozens Of Youngsters Left Orphaned By Jet Tragedy

owner-manager of a commercial refrigeration firm. The couple had left on the trip together, hoping to move into a newly purchased house when they returned.

There were the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jackson of Oklaoma City, the two daughters of the William Ligeros of Salt Lake City, Utah, and the two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Varner of Charlotte, N.C., among others.

Many of the youngsters had been left in the care of relatives, but the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Coburn E. Crosby, a Seattle, Wash., Thermo King dealer, were at home with a baby sitter when news of the crash arrived.

The Crosbys had taken the trip with Karl P. Heideman, former Finnish consul in Seattle, and his wife.

With Hawaii coming up on the itinerary, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lubbers of Milwaukee, who had taken over a trailer and equipment firm just two months ago, planned to celebrate their 11th wedding anniversary there March 12.

The Lubbers' five children, aged 18 months to nine years, had been left in the care of a grandmother, Marie C. Boehme, who said she "didn't exactly like" the trip, but had agreed to mind the youngsters because her daughter wanted to go.

Only one minor car accident had been reported by 9:30 p.m. Saturday, officers said. Involved were the cars of Lloyd Messek Brooks, 700 Aylford, and Pablo Alcantar Ramirez, 823 W. 6th, at Fifth and Aylford.

Another of our old timers slipped away, Roy Green, who was born in Mitchell County in 1892 and had lived here since 1912, died unexpectedly.

If you missed the boat in registering as a voter back in January, don't miss it again. Right now you can register for free, thanks to a federal court decision and an act by the Texas legislature. So far, nearly 100 have signed. Be sure you take advantage of this, else you can't claim anything but apathy as an excuse — and that's a pretty wretched excuse.

Crash

Then there were flames, with both segments burning. I saw small dots, which might have been fragments. Then the plane went down.

A Japanese military cadet said he watched through binoculars as both wings tore from the plane and the body spiraled down.

Cho-O Ikuya, a fireman, reported the plane seemed to plunge rapidly at first, then slowed down.

Like a leaf, "It began to sway from side to side, like a leaf," he said. "The air currents seemed to catch it up."

Nearly 1,000 rescue workers struggled through the brushy area to begin bringing out the bodies. Police said many bodies were mangled, but were not burned. Apparently the plane did not explode although it was aflame.

The soft volcanic ash of Fuji hampered disaster teams. Trucks sank hub deep into the mire. Soldiers on foot had slow going.

In Minneapolis, a spokesman for the Thermo King Corp., said: "This has got to be the most disastrous thing a company could experience."

Judge Holds Deadlocked Trial Jury

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Mossier murder trial jury reported itself hopelessly deadlocked Saturday, but Circuit Court Judge George Schulz said he would keep the 12 men in session at least through Sunday in an effort to reach a verdict.

Prospects for an eventual agreement appeared dim in view of the language of a note sent to the judge. The jurors said they were widely split over the guilt or innocence of both Candace Mossier and Melvin Lane Powers.

The blonde Mrs. Mossier is charged with masterminding and Powers with carrying out the slaying of her husband, Jacques, head of a multi-million-dollar bank and loan company chain.

After a conference with opposing attorneys in his chambers, Judge Schulz sent a written reply to the jury, instructing it to try again "in fairness to both the state and the defendants."

When no progress was reported by 6:30 p.m. he told the jury to come back Sunday and deliberate at least another day.

After the note was received, Harvey St. Jean, one of the attorneys for Powers, objected vigorously to a continuation of the jury arguments and asked for a mistrial.

The terms of the jury's report, St. Jean said, indicated no hope for any eventual agreement and he added that the jury should not be "coerced" into further deliberations.

"The court has no intention of attempting to force the jury to reach a verdict or verdicts," Judge Schulz replied. But he said he did not feel that the jury had taken sufficient time. State Atty. Richard Gerstein was asked, if the deadlock prevailed, whether he would try the defendants a second time. "Very definitely yes, and as quickly as possible," he said.

During the sensational 34-day trial of Mrs. Mossier and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, she had collapsed twice, staggering out of the courtroom with attacks of headache and nausea.

The state charged that Mrs. Mossier conceived and Powers carried out "brutal, unwarranted murder" of her husband, head of a $33-million bank and loan company empire. The motives, the prosecution said, were "greed, avarice, lust and money."

Defense lawyers claimed that the state had proved only a torrid love affair between the codefendants.

The jury retired Thursday night, came back into court Friday for lengthy rereading of the testimony of several witnesses, and resumed deliberations Saturday morning.

Born Feb. 19, 1941, in Hobbs, N.M., Gray had lived in Menard and Lamesa, and had served in the Army.

Services will be Monday at 3 p.m. in the Bronson-Phillips Funeral Home chapel. Revs. C. L. Smith, Abilene, and Jim Mosley, Friendship Baptist Church, Lamesa, officiating. Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, Kathy Gray, of the home; a son, Kyle Gray, of the home; a daughter, Melissa Gray, Abilene; the step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Low, Lamesa; the father, Sgt. R. W. Gray, Honolulu, Hawaii; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Gray, Los Angeles, Calif.; the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Smith, Abilene; the step-grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Low, Lamesa; and a brother, Butch Gray, Columbus, Ga.

Dr. Moody Bettis, speaking at a meeting at the Big Spring State Hospital, looked on Big Spring as a pivot point in community mental health activity for this area. This seems to be generally agreed, but we're having trouble in getting off high center.

Last week was a high point for Col. Herbert H. Dahne. The wing executive officer took his retirement from the Air Force, but he first had the pleasure of swearing in his son, Richard Dahne, 19.

Downtown, Inc., officially opened its paved parking lot at Second and Main, and the event generated lots of interest. After a momentary sag, interest picked up toward the end of the week, and the lot was getting considerable use.

Zsa Zsa Takes Josh Cosden As 5th Mate

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Wearing a mink coat and looking a little confused, Zsa Zsa Gabor signed on the dotted line to get a marriage license to wed for the fifth time.

She and Texas oil millionaire Joshua S. Cosden Jr. got the license Friday, one day after Miss Gabor filed for a Mexican divorce from husband No. 4, industrialist Herbert Hutner.

When the clerk at the license bureau asked her to sign she fumbled and told him: "I'm sorry, darling, I don't do these things before."

Cosden, 51, started to write Miss Gabor's age—she gives it as 43—on the application and she cried, "No, don't put it down, I'll die." But he put it down anyway and she only winced.

Miss Gabor said she met Cosden six weeks ago in Fort Worth, Tex. His home is in Dallas.

Josh S. Cosden Jr. is the youngest son of the fabulous oil developer-refiner for whom Cosden Oil and Chemical Company (and its predecessors) is named.

Back in the early and mid-30s, John Cosden Jr. and his brother, the late Stanley Cosden, worked here at the Big Spring refinery.

After the war, Josh Cosden Jr. was put in charge of a Rocky Mountain division office for Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

Pay Hike For Federal Employees Pegged At 2.9%

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration reportedly has agreed to seek an average 2.9 per cent pay raise for federal employees that stays well within the wage guidelines set by President Johnson.

Sources said added retirement benefits, however, would bring up the wage boost to the 3.2 per cent allowed by the guidelines. Johnson is expected to formally announce the pay plan Monday.

Federal employee groups and many congressmen are said to be unhappy at the size of the reported increase.

DEAR ABBY

Cherub Can Be A Girl

DEAR ABBY: We're stumped. Can you help clear something up? Recently a teacher told our class that all cherubs are boys, and that no artist has ever portrayed a "girl" cherub. Since we can't find proof to the contrary, we can't say that he is wrong, but we think he is anyway. Please help us.

GIRL CHERUBS, ANYONE?

DEAR GIRL: According to Webster's New International Unabridged Dictionary, a "cherub" (as depicted in art) is described as a chubby, angelic-looking child, generally winged. There is no mention of the child's sex. So tell your teacher that since he made the statement, the burden of proof is on him. And I am waiting with the rest of the world for proof that all cherubs are male.

DEAR ABBY: Over the years I have often wanted to give you a piece of my mind about your old-fashioned attitude towards sex and teenagers. However I now know that you were right and I only wish I had listened to you.

A year ago, while still in high school, I started dating a girl two years younger than I. We fell head over heels in love. Our parents were friends and were overjoyed. They gave us complete freedom. When I would go to her house, her folks would go to bed early so we could be alone. At first we just cuddled on the couch and watched TV. It was wonderful. We were together, alone, sometimes as often as six nights a week. We started necking a little, and then all the time. I started getting a little fresh, and she resisted, but she finally gave in from fear of losing me. Anyway, one thing led to another, and before we knew it, we had gone too far. We started feeling guilty about what we were doing, but we consoled ourselves that we were "in love," that as soon as she was out of school we'd be married so what difference did it make?

One night we had a terrible argument, and altho it had nothing to do with sex, I know it would never have happened if we had behaved ourselves. Anyway, she hit me and I hit her back. I have never forgiven myself for that and I don't believe I ever will. She went running home, and told her mother EVERYTHING—that had happened between us. You can imagine what happened after that.

I was going to college at the time. I couldn't keep my mind on my studies. I just wanted to be down and die. Finally, I knew I was flunking out, so I quit college and joined the Navy. I saw her on the street just once before I left for basic training. She cried and told me she still felt the same about me and was sorry for what she had done, but it was too late then. Her parents have refused to let her see me.

Four months ago I was in college and I had the girl I loved. We had our whole lives mapped out. Now I am on an island in the Pacific, thousands of miles from home. I'd give anything in the world if my girl had stuck by her guns and I hadn't been so persistent. Any girl who thinks she has to put out to keep a guy is crazy. I would have stayed with her if she'd only have let me hold her hand. But I guess I was like every other boy. Selfish. I am sorry now, and would give anything for a second chance, but I'll never get it. I love that girl with all my heart and I will love her for the rest of my life.

Please keep telling teens and parents what you have in the past. Parents don't know what can happen when they push their kids into being adults. And kids don't realize they are playing with dynamite when they experiment with sex. You may use all of this letter, or any part of it, Abby, to help get the point across to young people. It is something that can't be stressed too strongly because the stakes are so high. Just sign me

Battle Begins For Newsmen

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The battle for the presidential news briefings raged unabated Saturday in the San Antonio River bottoms.

"You can say the tactical situation is fluid," said a Washington correspondent over a margarita. A margarita is a potent slug of Mexican tequila thinly disguised behind a lime juice and ice.

"It's supposed to be formal but come as you are," McCombs said.

Those attending will be taken to the ball via a fleet of gondolas on the San Antonio River which wanders through the center of the city.

The newsmen also received free opera tickets.

"We sure hope all of you will be guests at a Sunday brunch," added McCombs, and where the hospitality ends, if ever, no one knows.

AUSTIN

Until this trip of President Johnson to his Texas White House home, the headquarters for Washington and Texas correspondents has been in Austin. Press Secretary Bill Moyers held his twice-daily briefings there and correspondents spent their money in the capital city area.

The news corps were officially designated honorary Texas citizens and made associate members of some of Austin's more exclusive private clubs.

Several prominent Austin families "adopted" their favorite correspondents for Sunday picnics and the Chamber of Commerce sponsored festive open houses.

Then came March 4, 1966. The President came to Texas and the White House newsmen went to San Antonio.

"Just a one-time deal," claimed Austinites.

LARGE PARTY

"We want you all the time," said a large welcoming party of San Antonio leaders.

The President and his staff had no official comment. An aide said no permanent decision had been made on location of news headquarters.

Washington and Texas reporters were handed a bulky press kit that included membership cards to six different San Antonio private clubs. In Texas, a "private club" is where you can get a mixed drink in defiance of the state's stern statutes against sale of liquor by the drink.

"We will do as many things for you as you will allow us to do," said B. J. McCombs, president of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce.

McCombs made his welcoming speech after correspondents were served margaritas and serenaded by a Mexican band complete with a folk singer.

Representatives of the several military bases in the San Antonio area invited inspection of their installations.

MILITARY BALL

The news corps was invited to attend one of San Antonio's big social functions Saturday night, the military ball.

Jody Dodd, a 6-0 senior who has been a standout at Forsan since she was a freshman, again led the Queens in scoring with 25 points while Mary Simpson tossed in 16 for the winners. Carol Lane was the only one to count consistently for Talpa-Centennial. She wound up with 11.

tal of his disqualification. The formal announcement was made moments later.

In second place behind Brewer was Tom Weiskoff of Columbus, Ohio, with 66-68-136, followed by Dick Hart of Hinsdale, Ill., and Neil Coles of England, tied at 137.

Sanders signed the card of one of his playing partners, Johnny Potts, as he was required to do, but apparently in the enthusiasm for his good round, failed to sign his own.

The disqualification left Gay Brewer of Dallas, Tex., in the lead after 36 holes of the tournament with a score of 65-69-134.

Glossom Sets Two Records In Sprints

FORT WORTH (AP)—Clyde Glossom of Trinity University, propelled by bitterly cold winds, raced to record victories in the sprints Saturday at the 43rd Southwestern Recreation Track Festival.

Glossom streaked to a 9.2 in the 100-yard dash and a 21.2 in the 220 to upset Texas Southern's James Hines as gale-like winds, gusting to 43 miles per hour, battered dusty Farrington Field.

The Trinity flash stole the college division as he first turned back the favored Hines in the 100 and then, in a glittering duel, took the 220 by a nose.

Hines seized second in both events and on each occasion his time was one tenth of a second off the winning pace.

Texas Southern otherwise ruled the college division as ace hurdler Roy Hicks sped to a record wind-aided 13.6 in the 120-yard high and the 440-yard relay team blazed to a 40.5.

Considering the wind and cold, the relay quartet of Arnaldo Bristol, Roy Hicks, Clyde Duncan and James Hines posted perhaps the most spectacular time of the day. It broke the college record of 41.1 and fell only one-tenth of a second off the university standard set by Texas in 1957.

National junior college champion Ed Money of Texas Tech scored a double victory in the university division and set a record in the process.

Money sailed the discus 170 feet 1 1/2 inches to eclipse the previous mark of 169, and he breezed to first in the shot put with a heavy of 53 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Jasper Sets Mark As Jayhawks Win

FORT WORTH — Howard County Junior College's Jayhawks staged a return to track glory here Saturday afternoon, capturing first place in the JC-university freshman division of the Southwestern Recreation meet by scoring a total of 67 1/2 points.

JASPER TIGHE

The Hawks, who were off their feed in the sport last year, almost doubled the point aggregate of the second place team, North Texas. The Eagles finished with 39 1/2 points.

Schreiner finished third in the division with 38 points while the Texas Tech frosh were fourth, with 23.

The Jayhawks copped first places in the 440-yard relay, high hurdles, 100-yard dash, 220, and mile run and tied for blue ribbon in the high jump and pole vault.

Joe Tighe of HC, who tied with Butch Walden of North Texas for first place in the pole vault, set a school record with a leap of 14 feet flat. Joe Con-

Snyder won the Class AAA division with 119 1/2 points, followed by Amarillo Carver, 144 1/2; Breckenridge, 90; and Littlefield, 43.

SNYDER — Joe Jaure of Big Spring was the sensation of the Class AAAA division of the 1966 Canyon Reef Relays here Saturday, an event won by Odessa Permian with a point aggregate of 116 1/2 points.

Big Spring wound up fifth in the meet with 49 1/2 points and Jaure scored 36 1/2 of those to easily walk off with high point laurels. The feat earned him a trophy.

Jaure might have done better in some events had he been given more time to concentrate. He had to run the 150-yard high hurdles and the 220 back to back. He won the lows and placed second to Charles Cannon of Permian in the 220.

Midland Lee finished second to Permian with 56 1/2 points while Amarillo Palo Duro was fourth, with 52; and Lubbock Monterey fourth, with 51.

Jaure won the 100 in ten flat, the 180 lows in 19.1, was second in the furlong, was second in the broad jump after leading most of the way and tied for fifth in the high jump.

Baseball May Go Overseas

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball is cautiously eyeing foreign fields for possible expansion. Canada is preferred, and Japan and Mexico draw minority support.

However, an Associated Press survey showed that most owners feel there are American cities that must be satisfied before major league franchises are awarded abroad.

Only the Cleveland Indians and Chicago Cubs dissented on the subject of Canada, with the other 18 teams anywhere from cordial to enthusiastic on the subject.

Japan as a possible site for a major league franchise drew qualified support from the New York Mets, Los Angeles Dodgers, California Angels, Chicago White Sox, Atlanta Braves, Philadelphia Phillies and Kansas City Athletics.

The same clubs looked with favor on Mexico.

If any franchise is given to Japan the feeling is that there should be two major league teams in the Asian nation to simplify transportation problems.

A strong voice in favor of sending baseball abroad has been raised by the new commissioner, William D. Eckert.

Five Cities In Running

MONTREAL (AP)—The search for a site for the Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell heavyweight championship fight has narrowed to three and possibly five cities, the fight promoters said Saturday.

"We are in agreement in principle on three locations for the fight, and two others are being considered," Loren Cassina said on behalf of Main Bout, Inc., the New York-based group that has the closed-circuit television rights.

Earlier, Robert Arum, an official of Main Bout, said four United States cities and three in Canada were being considered.

He named the three Canadian cities but declined to identify those in the United States.

Arum said Sorel, Que., and Edmonton, Alta., have met all three requirements.

He said the third Canadian site, Quebec City.

ORANGE, Tex. (AP)—Thirty-three Texas high school seniors were nominated Saturday to play an all-star schoolboy football team from Pennsylvania in the third annual game Aug. 13 at Hershey, Pa.

Sponsors of the Texas team emphasized that invitations would not be sent to Texas schoolboys until they have completed their high school eligibility in all sports. This is in keeping with the Texas Interscholastic League regulations.

The Texas player list was drawn up by coaches of the eight Southwest Conference teams, the University of Houston and eight Texas sports writers.

Bobby Layne will coach the Texans and will be assisted by Doak Walker and Harley Sewell. Coach Bill Murray of Duke University will handle the Pennsylvania team.

The Texas selectors were unanimous in six of their choices. They are end Richard Stevens of Dublin, guard Glenn Hall of Class AAAA state champion Odessa Permian, center Bill Bridges of Carrollton, halfbacks Pat Sheehan of San Antonio Lee and Brian Blessing of Dallas Hillcrest and quarterback Joe Norwood of Texas-Kan.

Some of the boys may not play their high school positions because the selectors tried to pick the best 33 players who would fit into Layne's pro-style offense.

The line will average 208 pounds per man and the backfield 190 pounds.

Plans are for the team to work out seven days in Texas, probably at the University of Houston, then spend the last three days at Hershey, Pa.

In commenting on the selections, Coach Hayden Fry of Southern Methodist said that Charles Hixson of San Antonio Highlands is the best high school passer to come out of Texas since Don Meredith, now of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

Hixson completed 96 of 193 free throw line. Westbrook lost five players on fouls.

Top point getter for Westbrook was little Vickie Chambers, who settled for 25 points. Westbrook thus closed its season with a 27-10 record.

Gail (27) — Joseph Dennis 50-40; Sheryl Williams 41-39; Dora Williams 33-37; Donna Jones 6-11; Tatis 13-35-59; WESTBROOK (51) — Corlene Lankford 5-14; Carol Bell 2-3-7; Vickie Chambers 5-15-25; Christine Reed 2-15; Totals 14-23-51.

The Coyotes moved to a 10-7 lead in the opening period and led from there on down to the wire, although the Wildcats staged a desperate rally in the final period.

Vet Arkansas Cage Mentor Is Retiring

EYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Glen Rose, 60, of Arkansas, one of the Southwest Conference's foremost basketball coaches, announced his retirement Saturday, effective June 30.

He will be succeeded by Prentice T. Waller, 38, an assistant to Rose for nine years, said athletic director John Barnhill.

Rose's retirement will end a 30-year association with Razorback basketball as a player, an assistant coach and as head coach. He was head coach for 23 years over two periods—from 1933 to 1942 and since 1952.

At Arkansas his teams won 327 games and lost 202, with 176 victories and 113 losses coming in Southwest Conference play. In addition he coached five years at Arkansas Baptist Junior College and at Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, Tex.

His lifetime won-lost record is 395-241, ninth best among active coaches in the nation.

The 1965-66 Razorbacks won 14 of 24 games and tied for fourth in the conference with a 7-7 record.

Rose, a three-time All-Southwest Conference basketball player and a member of the Arkansas Hall of Fame, said the decision to retire was not easy.

"I've just been through too many overtimes and last-second games," he said in a statement. "I only have one set of nerves and they've been under constant strain for too many years."

He added, "I think it's time to turn the job over to a younger man and I know Coach Waller will give it his full energy."

The Razorbacks were Southwest Conference champions nine times under Rose—three as a player and six as a coach. His 1935-36 team went to the Semi-finals of the Olympic Games tryouts.

Rose, a native of Arkansas, is considered one of the University of Arkansas' finest two-sport athletes. He won all-conference recognition on the championship basketball teams of 1926-27-28 and was all-conference in football as an end in 1927.

As for the future, Rose said, "I'm going to relax and do some fishing. It's the best medicine I know for frayed nerves."

Waller, a native of Emerson, Ark., was a two-time all-conference basketball selection at Southern State (Ark.) before transferring to the University of Arkansas. After lettering in the 1950-51 season, his playing career was shortened by injuries.

He coached at Camden Fairview and Stephens high schools and at Southern State before becoming Rose's assistant. His Arkansas freshman teams won 74 and lost 32 while his over-all coaching record is 171-49.

NORTON — Karl Schoenfeld, who took a team to the Region VI-B boys' basketball tournament at Big Spring last week, has resigned as a Norton High School athletic coach to enter the ranching business.

Schoenfeld coached at Wall one season before moving here three years ago. His teams here won 59 games while losing 33.

ROY NEWSOM

Former Forsan Man Is Named Cooper Coach

Roy Newsom, who attended school at Forsan, has been elevated to the position of head coach and athletic director at Cooper High School, a Class 15-AA school located northeast of Dallas.

Newsom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Newsom of Glasscock County and the brother of Vernon Newsom, Garden City's stellar all-around athlete.

Up until the change, Roy had served as head basketball coach and first assistant in football at Cooper. His 1965-66 club won 22 games, compared to five defeats. His team finished second to Commerce in 15-AA standings.

The West Texan, who coached at Plano before moving to Cooper, succeeds A. J. Brazle as head coach. Brazle resigned recently to become affiliated with the Amarillo school system.

The Cooper system is now seeking an assistant coach to work with Newsom. Roy is completing his third year as a coach.

One of Cooper's basketball players, 6-2 Lanny Ratney, is regarded as one of the state's finest prospects. He averaged 25 points a game the past two seasons and is considered a fine rebounder.

At Forsan High School, Newsom played both football and basketball.

Longhorns Win Pair In Diamond Debut

YOGI ANDERSON

SNYDER — Big Spring swept both ends of a baseball doubleheader from the Snyder Tigers here Friday afternoon. The sophomores registered a 3-0 victory behind the effective elbowing of Tom Wood and Johnny McCullough, after which the varsity barreled to an impressive 19-7 success.

The Longhorns, who opened their season with the games, see action at home for the first time Tuesday, at which time they square off with Andrews at 4 p.m.

Yogi Anderson and Sammy Mims slugged home runs for Big Spring in the varsity contest. Anderson picked one in the fourth inning with the bases loaded to highlight a five-inning outbreak.

Mims banged his in the opening inning with Gregg Pate on board to give Big Spring a temporary 2-0 lead.

Gary Mears and Bobby Griffin divided time on the mound for Big Spring, Mears getting credit for the win by working the first four innings. Together, they surrendered only six hits, including two home runs, and fanned six batters in his three-inning stint.

Griffin and Jesse Zapata each clubbed three hits for Big Spring and two of Griffin's blows fell in for doubles.

A six-run outburst in the sixth iced the verdict for the Longhorns. Mims and Griffin each drove in three tallies for the Longhorns.

In the sophomore contest, Wood and McCullough doled out only four hits to the Tigers.

R. J. Engert would have had a first inning home run for Big Spring but failed to tag second base. He wound up with two hits for the day, as did Doug Robinson.

Ivy Circuit Won't Enter NCAA Meets

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Acting after Penn and Yale were declared ineligible for events sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Ivy League said Saturday none of its eight teams will participate in NCAA events.

"The eight members of the Ivy Group have determined that they must all accept ineligibility for such events," President Robert F. Goheen of Princeton said in a statement. Goheen is chairman of the Ivy Group Policy Committee.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, was not available for comment on the Ivy action.

The NCAA ruled Friday night that Penn and Yale would be ineligible for NCAA events because they refused to comply with the organization's 1.6 academic standard ruling.

That NCAA decision dropped Penn from the basketball tournament opening Monday night and Yale's powerful swimming team headed by Olympic champion Don Schollander from the swimming championships later this month.

The action comes after two months of controversy and discussion between two bodies over the legislation that requires an athlete to maintain a 1.6 academic average.

The cardinal issues in the dispute, Goheen said, are included in these questions:

1. Do you believe that athletes should be treated differently than other students?
2. Do you believe that an athletic organization should seek to determine academic policy?
3. Do you believe that a student with a low-grade average should automatically be barred from participation in sports and from financial aid no matter what his stage of development and no matter what his academic potential?

"If your answers are yes to these three questions, you will support the NCAA's rule. If your answers are no, you will understand why it is impossible for the Ivy Group institutions to accept the 1.6 legislation."

The Princeton official added that the ruling "works most severely against students in institutions which have much higher admission requirements than those specified in the NCAA's 1.6 legislation."

Snook Blue Jays Little But They Make Big Mark

AUSTIN (AP) — The Blue Jays don't look much like basketball players and their hometown of Snook isn't on all the maps, but Saturday they were kings — winners of their 78th straight game and the state Class B basketball title.

Winning their 78th game — in the finals of the state tournament — broke the old record of 77 straight held for 12 years by Bowie.

The average height of the Snook players is 5 feet 10 inches, although the star, Calvin Gerke, is 6-5. From there the height drops off to 5-2.

The East Texans from the Brazos River bottoms near Bryan broke a 77-game record on the books for 12 years by clobbering Channing 64-40 in their second straight championship for schools with 110 or fewer pupils.

Calvin Gerke, 19, an All-State senior, at 6-5 is the only six footer on the team. He fired in 35 points to set a Class B title game record.

The Blue Jays represent a school of 80 pupils in a town of 141. Much of its student body comes from the surrounding countryside.

Guiding the Blue Jays through their winning streak, which started in December, 1964 after loss to a big-city team from Houston, was coach James Horn, 26, who has coached at Snook for four years.

Horn, a soft-spoken, reticent native of Newton near the Louisiana border, said he has no secrets to account for Snook's success.

Snook consistently has been out-matched in height with most of its opponents averaging over 6 feet. Channing averaged 6-1. Only three of Gerke's teammates are 5-10 or over. One is 5-2.

ROBERT JACKSON

All-Star Five Has One Steer

Robert Jackson, 6-3 Big Spring junior was named to the All-District 2-AAAA 1966 basketball team selected recently by coaches and sports writers within the circuit.

Jackson was the lone junior on the team, which included two Abilene High players and one each from Abilene Cooper and Midland Lee.

Raymond Wray, Abilene High, garnered the most votes for a first team berth and wound up being named Player of the Year in the circuit.

Other winning Player of the Year ballots included Mark Withrow, Abilene Cooper (2), Jay King and Jackson.

Coach of the year in the conference was Nat Gleaton of Abilene High, which wasn't too surprising in view of the fact that Gleaton guided the Eagles to the district championship.

Harold Mobley, Odessa Permian; Allen Simpson, Big Spring; and Bill Villines, Abilene Cooper, were others getting ballots for the honor.

Nine players, including Paul Thomas of Big Spring, were named to the second team.

The units, with votes each got listed in parentheses:

FIRST TEAM

Brownwood Wants Maligned Bout

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — C. Q. Davis Jr., president of the Heart of Texas Boxing Association, said Saturday he has proposed this Central Texas city as the site for the Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell championship heavyweight fight.

Davis said he made the suggestion in a wire to Robert Arum, a New York lawyer and an officer in Main Bout, Inc.

The promoter said Brownwood, population 24,000, has a new 5,000-seat coliseum.

Ultimate In Golf Packages Offered In Colonial Meet

FORT WORTH—The ultimate in golf tournament ticket packages will be available at the Colonial National Invitation this year.

For several seasons Colonial has offered an "Angel and Patron" group purchase plan and this year a "Saint" package will be added to the lineup.

Thus for $1,000 a person or firm can become a Saint at the NIT and receive benefits never before offered at the Tournament.

One is that the buyer will be eligible to play in the National Invitation professional-amateur event on the Wednesday prior to the start of the 72-hole championship on Thursday, May 19. Heretofore, amateur activity in the pro-am has been limited exclusively to Colonial members.

Additionally, a Saint will receive $1,000 in tickets, including two gold medallions which give him unlimited access to any place on the course or in the clubhouse; two captain-type chairs situated on a platform around the 18th green in a roped and guarded area for the exclusive use of Saints; clubhouse red-carpet parking; special advertising listing in the daily program; access to a private lounge and a special Saint's golf hat.

There are only 56 Saint packages available—limited in number because of the number of foursomes eligible for the pro-am.

Saints and all other tickets will go on sale Tuesday, March 8. Bob Utter, chairman of the Patron and Season Sales Committee, said that about 180 Colonial members will be in the field selling. Tickets are also available at the club.

Angel packages still will be sold for $300 and Patrons for $150.

Planners Busy In LL Program

While cold and bad weather still grips much of the nation, the emerging activities in major league training camps from Florida to California have signalled the start of another baseball season. Fields may be snow covered and spring thaws long delayed, but in thousands of communities and in the hearts of millions of youngsters the baseball season is already a reality.

Impatient for the first warm days, youngsters must bide their time, but for the legion of parents and adult volunteers who will make the season possible, the days and weeks ahead will be a busy interlude—a time for planning, a time for reassessment of the movement of Little League Baseball and its meaningful role in the community.

It has been almost three decades since three teams were organized into the first Little League in the city of Williamsport, Penn. Today, as the 1966 season makes ready for play, there are more than 6,000 leagues, 35,000 teams and about 1½ million boys enrolled in Little Leagues in 28 nations spanning the world.

But far more impressive than statistics is the impact of Little League as the most vital youth movement of our time. Its constructive benefits to boys during the growing up years has given strong stature and wide public acceptance to the program. As a result of the dedicated efforts of thousands of adult volunteers and the exemplary leadership exerted at every level, Little League is the only movement of its kind to hold a Federal Charter by action of the Congress of the United States.

In subsequent articles, this paper will deal with some of the aspects of Little League as it comes into the perspective of the community, the home and the boys who participate. But as the time approaches for thousands of youngsters to enroll in baseball programs across the country, it is essential for parents to become acquainted with the basic structure of Little League and the steps necessary to accomplish for boys through the volunteer efforts of people in the community.

The purpose of Little League is to provide a beneficial program of baseball for boys.

In the process of making it possible for a million boys annually to enjoy and fulfill their formative years, Little League offers a challenge to parents. Adult volunteers are the life line of Little League in the community. To make the program work, to translate its benefits to boys, requires help.

AT EAST TEXAS STATE Ex-Steers, Wolves Figure Heavily In Grid Planning

COMMERCE — Some football problems are being solved around East Texas State.

Coach Ernest Hawkins figures the 1966 E. Texas version of football will be "definitely improved" over the 4-5 record of last fall. He says the 22 lettermen, eight squadmen, and 26 newcomers are the "best bunch I've seen in years."

Spring drills started a week ago Monday, but the team has had only two days in pads because of snow and rain. In both drills, he concentrated on offense — especially the line.

Hawkins' strong point might well be in the backfield with the sensational Curtis Guyton. Lettermen Mike Kline of Grandview, Tommy Briscoe of Dallas (North Dallas), Richard Houston of Texarkana (Dunbar) and Jerry Reeder of Palestine plus transfer Ralph Weaver of Garland should form potent offense.

A few changes and addition of transfers in the line "has definitely improved our outlook. We've moved two fullbacks into the line. John Struble (Omaha, Neb.) will play at guard and Kenneth Pearce (Dallas Samuel) will be at center.

The head mentor's 1966 forward wall may include transfers Chadwick Brown of Dallas (Lincoln), Tim Smith of Big Spring, Bruce Butler of Corsicana and Leo Rhodes of Texarkana (Liberty Eylau).

As for experienced linemen, coach Hawkins has nine lettermen returning. The top returnees are 260-lb. Sam Walton of Memphis, Tenn., and 238-lb. Ronald Zwernemann of Houston (Austin). Two-year letterman Bill Plunkett, a 210-pounder from Hillsboro, will probably miss most of spring drills as he recovers from a case of hepatitis.

Other lettermen in the line are 200-lb. Robert Venable of Fort Worth (Richland), 215-lb. Wayne Mardis of Fort Worth (Carter - Riverside), 210-lb. Albert Cartledge of Dallas (Samuel), 215-lb. Bill McGuire of Colorado City and 205-lb. Chris Kirtley and 225-lb. David McCormick, both of Houston (Austin). ET doesn't have a letterman at quarterback but Hawkins figures that the position could be one of next season's strong-points.

SAVE THEIR LAND

Property Owners Appeal To LBJ

STONEWALL, Tex. (AP) — Twenty of President Johnson's neighbors have asked him to use his influence to save their land, the Rev. Theo Sager said Saturday. The Rev. Mr. Sager is pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, half a mile from the President's ranch. He said Johnson's neighbors had met at his church to protest the proposed condemnation of their land for a state park honoring Johnson. "DEEP CONCERN" "They asked me to write a letter expressing their deep concern about what this will do to them," the minister said. "Some stand to lose farms they established and developed. . . highly productive fields, homesteads on which they've lived all their lives. "For this reason, they earnestly prefer that the park be located in some other area." The letter asks Johnson to use his influence with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission to halt the project. The property owners say they are convinced they will not be offered enough money to compensate them for the true value of their land, he said. The land is between US 290, runs near the President's ranch and then connects again with 290. About 245 acres already have been condemned or are in the process of being condemned, the minister said. MORE SOUGHT Another 399 acres in the area east of the junction of Ranch Road 1 and US 290 at Hye, Tex., are sought for the park. The letter was given to Dale Malechek, foreman of the LBJ ranch, and Malechek was to give it to the President Saturday, the minister said. A petition to the same effect is being circulated in both Gillespie and Blanco counties, he said. The proposed Park land is in both counties. The President flew to his ranch Friday night. "We could get a fabulous price for our land if we wanted to sell it," said Mrs. Hiram Hodges, wife of one of the ranchers. "But we have always thought we would keep to our family tradition and pass it on to our son," Mike Hodges, 21, now in college. LAND GRANT She said her husband's 100 acres were bought in 1896 by her husband's grandfather in a Spanish land grant. Mrs. Hodges said 80 acres has been irrigated with $15,000 worth of equipment and the land is used for raising hay and grazing 70 cows. She said one of the first four landowners approached by the state accepted the state's offer of $450 an acre, that two others were negotiating in hopes of getting a higher price, and that the fourth has refused to discuss the matter with state authorities. "They won't tell us anything," about how much they will offer for the Hodges land, Mrs. Hodges said. She said her husband had turned down an offer of $2,500 an acre for their land from another prospective buyer. At the stone parsonage near his church, the Rev. Mr. Sager said, "What we're concerned with here is what is right—the American principles of freedom and compassion for neighbors—that's what is on trial here." PRIVATE DONATIONS The parks commission says the land is being bought with private donations. The land can be condemned and taken over by the state, with compensation, if the owners refuse to sell. A part of the designated park area is directly across Ranch Road 1 from the President's home and affords an excellent view of the ranch house. Tourists are banned from the ranch road when the President is in residence at his home. Three real estate developers contended the park was designated to block their plans to build a curio and snack shop on six acres directly across the road from the Johnson home. Parks and Wildlife Commission members denied this.

Martin Blasts COPE's Brown

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Secretary of State Crawford Martin accused state AFL-CIO President Hank Brown Saturday of making insulting remarks about President Lyndon B. Johnson. Martin, campaigning for state attorney general, said so in a formal news statement. "Statements and speeches made in Houston this week at the COPE meeting referring to the 'special interests' which allegedly control the government of Texas have a very hollow ring in the light of Texas AFL-CIO President Hank Brown's dictatorial attitude and his insults to President Johnson and the office he holds," Martin said. COPE is the political arm of the labor unions. Martin said the Texas AFL-CIO claims to have supported Johnson in every race. "The truth is," Martin said, "the record shows that it refused to support him in his 1948 U. S. Senate race and again as late as 1960, when he was running for the presidential nomination." The candidate said Brown says he "and his friends expect to vote with Mr. Johnson again, but only after meeting at the hard, cold bargaining table." "If there ever was a more arrogant and brazen attempt to try to dictate to government, I am not aware of it," said the secretary of state. Martin cancelled a scheduled appearance before the political organization in Houston this weekend, giving as his reason the AFL-CIO's criticism of the administration for failure to pass legislation wanted by the unions. HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education endorsed Houston oilman Stanley C. Woods Saturday in the race for Democratic nomination for governor against incumbent John Connally. The committee, also endorsed State Sen. Eranklin Spears of San Antonio for attorney general. The committee made no endorsement in the U. S. Senate race but authorized the COPE executive board to call a new

The girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Ray Harris of a community north of Victoria. She suffered the burns Monday and was admitted to John Sealy Tuesday. The victim suffered burns on 60 per cent of her body. Her father was burned on a hand and arm as he beat out the flames after the girl ran from her bedroom into the living room. Services will be held at Victoria at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Stems Criticism At Great Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson appears to have stemmed temporarily the tide of criticism of his Viet Nam policies — but at the cost of senatorial resentment that may affect other programs.

While dissenters haven't yet talked themselves out, they reluctantly are conceding their inability to persuade their colleagues that Congress ought to lay a restraining hand on Johnson's conduct of the war.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., already has forecast rejection by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of two policy riders proposed to a $415-million foreign aid bill authorizing an immediate step in economic assistance to South Viet Nam.

The other, by Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., would make it clear that passage of the aid bill involves no endorsement of Johnson's Viet Nam policies. McGovern said that if the committee rejects his proposal he will not press it in the Senate.

But the frustration of the President's critics provided the impetus for a Foreign Relations Committee decision to subtract the $275-million emergency Viet Nam aid from the $3.2-billion general foreign aid program for 1967 when it comes along later.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., signalled that this measure is likely to come under heavy attack in the Senate. Hartke, not a Foreign Relations committee man, was spokesman for 15 senators who protested the resumption of North Viet Nam bombings.

"I am certainly not going to be happy about taking money from the Great Senate programs at home and spending it in Asia," he said. This is a sore spot with the Democratic liberals who have been loudest in their attacks on Johnson for permitting the costly escalation of U.S. military forces in Viet Nam.

"They have discovered in reading the fine print of the new budget that, to make room for a $10.5-billion increase in Viet Nam costs, Johnson cut fund requests for some programs closest to their hearts."

FUND CUTS

There is a general feeling that Johnson knew exactly what he was doing in making these cuts — that the funds would be increased by Congress. In such circumstances, the President would be in a position to say that Congress, and not he, was responsible for pushing the deficit beyond his $1.8-billion estimate.

Unborn Children Committed To Viet Nam War

MADILL, Okla. (AP) — Already dedicated to the Viet Nam War effort are the unborn children of Gretchen von Krus. The City Council made it official.

Gretchen is a registered German Shepherd who has two years' service as half the Madill Police Department's K-9 Corps.

She is expecting about mid-March.

"From what I understand, these dogs are tremendous in fighting the Viet Cong," said City Manager C. A. Hardee.

Gretchen's first litter produced nine pups and Police Chief John Cox said he is hopeful of a similar second effort. The father is the other member of the Corps, named Adolph.

Assistant Chief Freeman Orr is Adolph's master, while Patrolman Henry Morgan works with Gretchen.

Madill's burglary rate dropped 98 per cent after the dogs were added to the force two years ago.

Hardee said the pups will be offered to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., where war dogs are trained.

Action Against Incompetent Doctors Urged

CHICAGO (AP) — The president of the American Medical Association urged Saturday that concerted action be taken by all branches of medicine to deal with incompetent physicians.

Dr. James Appel of Lancaster, Pa., suggested that the problem be tackled by county, state and national medical organizations, state licensing boards and hospital staffs.

"It is doubly necessary to strengthen our medical practice acts because some incompetent physicians are members neither of a hospital staff nor a medical society," he added. Speaking at the national Congress on Medical Ethics sponsored by the AMA, he said:

"If medicine remains true to its professional ideals, the public will have confidence in us and will not seek to protect its interests through politicians, by legislation or in other ways."

"Conversely, to the extent that we drift away from the principles of public service, the public might develop feelings of unrest and dissatisfaction which could lead to the conversion of medicine into a new kind of 'public utility'."

Requests Lie Detector Test

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Herbert J. Williams, 21, charged with slaying a Wichita Falls couple, has taken a lie detector test at his own request, officers reported Saturday. They did not disclose the results of the test.

Killed were elderly Mr. and Mrs. John Bagby during a robbery at their grocery-home. Both were beaten to death.

Williams, of Fort Worth, also made a statement to officers and this was not made public.

A cleaning company worker told police a customer had left bloodstained clothes to be cleaned and gave officers a description.

Tower Said Little That Pleased Labor Leaders

HOUSTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., told Texas labor leaders Saturday "My basic convictions remain unchanged and will not be changed for political expediency."

Tower addressed a convention of the Texas AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) and apparently said little that pleased the delegates.

Delegates appeared pleased with things they heard from two other Senate candidates, Democrat John Willoughby and independent Ronnie Dugger.

Tower defended his support of right to work laws and his conservative record in his talk to the convention.

"I voted to retain Section 14B of the Taft Hartley law . . . because repeal . . . would have allowed the federal government to wipe off Texas' law books (the State Right to Work Law) enacted by the majority of the state legislature that was elected by a majority vote of the people of Texas," Tower said. "I believe a man ought not to have to belong to a union to hold a job."

Tower criticized government spending and said it was bringing inflation. He opposed a number of proposals backed by labor, such as increasing the minimum wage and federal extension of unemployment compensation.

He praised the maritime unions, for their refusal to load ships of nations trading with North Viet Nam.

Mitchell County Wildcat Shows In Abo Reef Zone

Coastal States Gas Producing Co. No. 1 Ellwood, southwest Mitchell County wildcat, had shows of oil and gas Saturday and gave promise of being an Abo reef discovery.

A second drillstem test was being taken in the same formation.

On a one-hour drillstem test from 4,405-60 feet, the venture had gas to the surface in 15 minutes. Recovery was 900 feet of 31-gravity oil, 300 feet of water with a salty taste. Flowing pressure was 146-453, and the two-hour shutin pressure was 1,935 pounds.

Operator was taking a second test from 4,555-90 feet Saturday. Some observers thought the salty taste of the water in the drillstem might be water used in drilling.

Coastal States No. 1 Ellwood is on a farmout from Ray Albaugh of Big Spring, who holds a block of some 60,000 acres in the area.

The wildcat is located three miles northwest of the one-well Ellwood (Mississippian) pool, and it is about 10 miles due east of the eastern terminus of the Howard-Glasscock pool. Coastal States No. 1 Ellwood reportedly had an interesting shallow show.

Location is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 18-17, SPRR.

Sterling County gained two locations. One is the Cabot Corporation of Midland No. 1-A Nellie Salliers, 18 miles southeast of Coahoma. It is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 30-17, SPRR, and it is projected to 6,850 feet to try for pay in the Triple M Wolfcamp pool. W. A. Moncrief and Champlin Petroleum Corp. of Fort Worth No. 2 Fay Hildebrand, half a mile northeast of the fourth well in the WAM South Fusselman pool 12 miles southwest of Sterling City, will drill to 9,000 feet. It is located 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 45-A, GRSR survey.

Dawson County gained a location Saturday in the R. I. Ellsworth of Houston, et al No. 1 Weaver-McDonald, three-fourths of a mile southwest of Spraberry production in the multi-pay Gin area of Dawson County six miles southeast of Lamesa. The venture is contracted to 8,250 feet and is located 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 18-36-55, T&P. The Gin field now has five Spraberry, one Mississippian and one Fusselman producer.

MIDLAND — An increase of 10 was reported in rotary drilling rigs in the Permian Basin which actually were making hole Friday by the weekly survey of Reed Roller Bit Co.

On the latest tabulation the figure was 187 working units as compared with 177 a week earlier. The Friday total was the same as was recorded on the comparable count last year.

Lea County, N.M., again topped the list with 24 active rigs on both the last two Reed reports. Pecos gained one, up from 19 to 20, to continue in second slot, while Reagan, also registering an increase of five, from 14 to 19, held to third place, the same as on the previous Friday.

Figures for March 4 with Feb. 25 figures in parentheses include: Andrews 8, (8); Borden 1, (1); Chaves 1, (2); Cochran 3, (2); Concho 1, (1); Crane 5, (3); Crockett 1, (1); Dawson 4, (4); Ector 7, (9); Eddy 9, (9); Fisher 0, (2); Floyd 1, (1); Gaines 3, (4); Garza 1, (0); Glasscock 4, (2); Hockley 2, (2); Howard 3, (2); Irion 1, (1); Kent 0, (2); Kimble 1, (0); Lea 24, (24); Loving 4, (3); Lubbock 2, (0); Martin 1, (2); Midland 3, (2); Mitchell 1, (1); Nolan 2, (0); Pecos 20, (19); Reagan 19, (14); Reeves 11, (9); Roosevelt 11, (7); Runnels 2, (6); Schleicher 4, (4); Scurry 1, (1); Sterling 3, (2); Stonewall 0, (3); Terrell 1, (1); Tom Green 1, (3); Upton 3, (2); Ward 6, (4); Winkler 8, (9); Yoakum 4, (3). Total: 187, (177).

ever, the 638 billion cubic feet handled in 1956 represented an 18 per cent gain over 1955.

Texas Eastern's gas deliveries increased 7.6 per cent to 867 billion cubic feet last year. Deliveries in 1955 amounted to 496 billion.

Texas Eastern also has diversified but still considers natural gas transmission as its principal business. Other operations—liquefied petroleum gas, crude oil and petroleum products, and transportation—accounted for more than 20 per cent of the 1965 operating revenues, compared to about 5 per cent in 1956.

George R. Brown, board chairman, and B. D. Goodrich, president, believe several trends indicate an increasingly bright future for natural gas transmission.

"Adequate reserves of natural gas, the stabilization of field prices and improvements in pipeline technology are helping maintain and improve the competitive position of gas in relation to other fuels," they said.

"On the distant horizon, other developments—such as the improved economics and availability of liquefied natural gas, the gasification of coal and gas recovery from oil shale—promise the industry an adequate supply of gas at competitive prices in the decades ahead."

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Americans in and out of uniform here have received the word: win the war in Viet Nam by 1967, or else.

The word, of course, has come from Washington, where casualties of 100 Americans killed each week are becoming increasingly unacceptable. Bringing the war to the point at which these heavy casualties stop is now the prime (although unspoken) objective here.

HEAT IS ON. The heat is on from top to bottom, and it is obviously coming directly from the White House.

No official in Viet Nam would ever publicly admit the existence of a timetable of victory. Too many officials in the past have had their fingers burned by making overoptimistic predictions about the collapse of the Viet Cong.

All the same, a timetable exists. The big hope is that within one year the Viet Cong will no longer be able to deploy large units and therefore will lack the ability to inflict heavy American casualties.

That is phase one. Phase two involves bringing the land under government control to the extent that free general elections can be held without fear of a Communist victory.

A PROMISE. Saigon's leaders have exacted a promise from lower officials that at least 75 per cent of the nation's population will be under government control by then. Currently, Saigon claims control of only 50 per cent.

From that time on, American troops supposedly will be able to phase slowly out of Viet Nam, and five years or so of mopping up will effectively end the Viet Nam conflict, and bring a new life of prosperity, freedom and happiness to Viet Nam.

How realistic is all this? Even critics of current policies agree that the big Viet Cong fighting units are being fragmented.

The turning point was the battle of the Ia Drang Valley in central Viet Nam last November. In that fight, divisions faced divisions in the war's most massive deployment of forces, and the Viet Cong was roundly beaten. American officials claimed a count of about 1,300 enemy bodies.

DEFEAT. Even the Viet Cong's normally cocky "Liberation Radio" described Ia Drang as a defeat. It blamed certain Viet Cong commanders for having betrayed their forces to the Americans. Two VC commanders were shot for treason.

Since November, American forces have continued to pour into Viet Nam, and they often operate in battalion or greater strength. All these units are supported by enormous firepower, including eight-inch howitzers and air power. B52 bombers from Guam have saturated some forested areas with bombs.

Indications are that all this has forced the Viet Cong to decentralize.

And many military and civilian officials feel, there is a very good chance that one year from now there will no longer be any Viet Cong operations of battalion strength or more.

END CASUALTIES. The optimists reason that this will end heavy American casualties.

The pessimists feel that this will be the beginning of even heavier American casualties. As the Viet Cong splinters into more company and platoon-size units, American forces also will have to split up to chase the enemy. And this will leave American units relatively exposed to the main weapon in the Viet Cong arsenal — ambush.

All officials recognize at this point that there is more to the Viet Nam war than simple military campaigns.

President Johnson last month said American forces were sent to Viet Nam to "prevent aggression, establish a stable government by democratic efforts, defeat social misery and attain a just and honorable peace."

NOT BEST CHOICE. Many Americans and Vietnamese doubt that the nation's premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Can Ky, is the best choice as a symbol of emerging democracy.

Some critics argue that it is unrealistic to schedule elections from which the Viet Cong is legally excluded, since the Viet Cong has the allegiance of a sizable proportion of the people.

Finally, critics argue that Viet Nam is not ready for parliamentary democracy in any case, and that current talk about democracy is just designed to keep the American public happy.

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Frances Lozano, 24, was killed in a car-pickup collision Saturday.

Four persons were injured in the smash. They include the woman's husband, St. John Lozano, 21; Roman Valero, 40; his wife, Mrs. Eppennia Valero, 40; and Joe Lucio, 42.

Permian Basin Rig Count Up By 10 Units

MIDLAND — An increase of 10 was reported in rotary drilling rigs in the Permian Basin which actually were making hole Friday by the weekly survey of Reed Roller Bit Co.

On the latest tabulation the figure was 187 working units as compared with 177 a week earlier. The Friday total was the same as was recorded on the comparable count last year.

Lea County, N.M., again topped the list with 24 active rigs on both the last two Reed reports. Pecos gained one, up from 19 to 20, to continue in second slot, while Reagan, also registering an increase of five, from 14 to 19, held to third place, the same as on the previous Friday.

Figures for March 4 with Feb. 25 figures in parentheses include: Andrews 8, (8); Borden 1, (1); Chaves 1, (2); Cochran 3, (2); Concho 1, (1); Crane 5, (3); Crockett 1, (1); Dawson 4, (4); Ector 7, (9); Eddy 9, (9); Fisher 0, (2); Floyd 1, (1); Gaines 3, (4); Garza 1, (0); Glasscock 4, (2); Hockley 2, (2); Howard 3, (2); Irion 1, (1); Kent 0, (2); Kimble 1, (0); Lea 24, (24); Loving 4, (3); Lubbock 2, (0); Martin 1, (2); Midland 3, (2); Mitchell 1, (1); Nolan 2, (0); Pecos 20, (19); Reagan 19, (14); Reeves 11, (9); Roosevelt 11, (7); Runnels 2, (6); Schleicher 4, (4); Scurry 1, (1); Sterling 3, (2); Stonewall 0, (3); Terrell 1, (1); Tom Green 1, (3); Upton 3, (2); Ward 6, (4); Winkler 8, (9); Yoakum 4, (3). Total: 187, (177).

Fire Claims 13 Businesses

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Two separate fires destroyed 13 firms here early Saturday and sent nine firemen to the hospital.

A block-long produce warehouse, containing 11 wholesale produce firms, burned for over eight hours.

Another blaze destroyed a greeting card warehouse and an adjacent two-story building housing a aircraft accessories firm.

The produce warehouse fire went to five alarms within two hours. Five ladder-trucks and 15 pumps were called in. The first alarm was turned in shortly before midnight and the fire was controlled at 8:05 a.m.

A dozen firemen once narrowly escaped serious injury when the warehouse roof caved in. Six firemen were sent to the hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation.

While the warehouse fire was at its height, the second fire broke out in north San Antonio. The blaze was controlled within two hours.

Three firemen were treated for smoke inhalation. Fire officials said no cause of the fires has been established. They would make no estimate of the damage, they said, until Monday.

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex. (AP) — Kurt Walendorf, 45, of Kerrville was killed Friday night when his station wagon overturned. He operated an electrical shop.

Pipeline Firms Moving Into New, Related Areas

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP)—Diversification and research are receiving increased attention from pipeline companies that now transport natural gas in every state except Hawaii.

Demand for natural gas continues to increase but the annual growth rates are modest when compared with the mid-1950s.

Growth now is more of a matter of developing and expanding current markets than of finding new areas for development.

Diversification and research figure prominently in the 1965 financial reports of two companies which transported last year a combined total of more than 2.1 trillion cubic feet of natural gas from Texas and Louisiana to midwestern and northeastern states.

Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. officials said diversification into new but related fields has caused the firm's name to be misleading. Stockholders will be asked in April to change the name to Tenneco Inc. Officials of the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. emphasized the potential of such long-range research projects as total energy, liquefied natural gas, and the production of high quality synthetic gas from coal or shale oil.

Tennessee's 21st annual report placed operating revenues in excess of $1 billion, compared to only $266 million in 1956. But revenues from gas sales and transportation accounted for only 41-per cent of the new record total, compared to 71 per cent in 1956.

Ventures into other areas that rely at least in part on natural resources—integrated oil operations, chemicals, packaging—have overshadowed in recent years the still impressive gains being made by natural gas.

"Earnings from our non-pipeline businesses are now in excess of those from our government regulated natural gas pipelines," said Gardner Symonds, Tennessee board chairman.

"The potential for uninhibited growth, we believe, is evident. We intend to pursue it diligently."

The 1.245 trillion cubic feet of gas Tennessee transported and sold last year represented an 8 per cent gain over 1964. However, the 638 billion cubic feet handled in 1956 represented an 18 per cent gain over 1955.

Rancher, Son Die In Crash

FORT DAVIS, Tex. (AP)—A prominent Comstock, Tex., rancher and his son died Friday in a plane crash as they hunted coyotes from the air.

Killed were Sam Perry Baker, about 50, and Norman Baker, 28. Their plane crashed into a rocky peak of the Davis Mountains, on the Caldwell ranch. James Espy, who leases the ranch, followed the men's plane in a truck and found the wrecked craft.

TEACHING... in English, at

COMMUTING IS COMPULSORY for Mrs. Landon Burchell who is taking speech, geology, typing and English, hoping to earn a degree and teach.

The Burchells farm at Fairview, so her mother, Mrs. C. A. Nichols, 705 Highland, assists often by looking after Vicki, 12, and Corky, 9.

THE CHILDREN'S HOUR is a special treat at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Arch Carson, 110 Cedar, where Mrs. Carson often entertains her grandchildren while her daughter, Mrs. Denny Marsalls, reads up on European history. Mrs. Marsalls, who attended HCJC, and later, Texas Tech, hopes one day to get her degree. The youngsters are Carolyn, 4, and Mike, 2.

TIME IS AT A PREMIUM when you are operating a home, rearing four children, holding a full-time job and continuing your education. Mrs. Aubrey Armistead is the mother of John, 13, Sheila, 12, Jesse, 10, and Jane, 5. While secretary to Marshall Box at HCJC, she confines her studies to one course each semester.

FATHER TAKES OVER the chores with the children as Mrs. Roy Hughes leaves for her typing and shorthand classes at the college. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, both graduates of Big Spring High School, share duties at home while she prepares for a civil service career. Ready for a bedtime story from their dad are Stephen, 7, and Kenda, 4.

TEACHING IS A TRADITION in the family of Mrs. Jack Blizzard, 1307 E. 14th. She hopes to continue it by earning a degree in English, and this is her second semester at the junior college.

Mrs. Blizzard's classes are at night, and her husband travels, so once a week she must provide a babysitter for Kristi, 4, and Keith, 6.

Miss Mann Honored At Retirement Party

A party honoring Miss Mattie Mann on her retirement from the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company was held Thursday in the company lounge.

Miss Mann, who joined the company at Slaton in 1926, was transferred to Big Spring in 1938 and has worked here continuously since that time.

She resides at 809 Runnels and is a member of the First Baptist Church. For the past 20 years she has been associated with the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284.

Miss Mann has relatives in West Texas and Mississippi and hopes to spend some time traveling to visit them before settling down to spend her hours at home gardening and baking.

At the party, the refreshment table was covered with an Irish linen cloth and appointed with silver. Serving as the centerpiece, a silver candelabrum held three blue tapers and was draped with blue carnations. A silver coffee service and crystal punch bowl were placed at op-

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

If anyone wanted to spread the word, good or bad, in this part of Texas the past week just getting out of doors and talking into the wind would have done the job. Of course, the speaker would have come out of the deal with a right goodly mouthful of sand, or silt, as some of the writers have referred to the gray, red and other types of stuff that makes misery for us.

It has been interesting to see the many ways the women protect their hair from the ravages of the wind. Some have the most attractive windbonnets that are not too effective when the dust blows right through them. They tie the bonnets on and set forth arriving at their destination without too much damage. Others slap on a headscarf, pull it as tightly as Loweezy Smith (Snuffy's wife) and when they take it off, their hair is flat but unruffled.

Then there are those who couldn't care less and venture forth without any protection and just comb again after each outing.

Personally I like the great big squares that can be thrown completely over the head, face, neck and ears. That way I can see through it and don't have to worry about the next blast of wind getting under the covering and taking my hair-doo away in one fell swoop. I can't stand windy days, and those with sand are even more repulsive, but after a lifetime of living with it, I have learned to tolerate it. The bad days surely do make bright, clear days seem even more beautiful. . . almost as beautiful as a good, old rainy day. You must know I'm a West Texan.

his wife were here the past week the family got together at the home of his parents, MR. and MRS. DON ANDERSON. His sister, Jan, came down from Lubbock where she is a Tech student, and his grandparents, the EUGENE THOMASES, were with them as were his aunt and uncle, the J. D. CAUBLES, and Terry. Don will leave his Port Arthur home on March 7 for Spain, and his wife plans to join him a month later when housing is available.

MRS. JUDY KUYKENDALL returned Thursday from Houston where she stayed considerably longer than she had at first planned. She was in Houston for the Feb. 19 wedding of her grandson, JAMES JR. (BOB) POOL to Lynda Janell (BOB) BOLVIN. The Rev. Dan Goodwin of the Broadmore Presbyterian Church in Shreveport, La., officiated for the ceremony with only immediate family present. He had been the Pool's pastor when they lived in Midland and he served the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church there.

Mrs. Kuykendall attended the opening of the Fat Stock Show and Rodeo. She hadn't intended to stay so long but she and the Pool's were hit by the flu bug or some such malady and she couldn't come home.

MR. and MRS. LOGAN BAKER left Friday morning for points in Oklahoma where they will visit their parents. When they return to Texas they will spend several days in Fort Worth with their son, WOODY, and his family.

The red, white and blue decor used at the coffee for MRS. CRAWFORD MARTIN Thursday made me feel patriotic enough to go into politics with her. Almost the carnation corsages given to members of the house party were the perkier creations tied with the tricolors and accented with little flag replicas.

The table centerpiece was as inspiring as a Fourth of July parade, and MRS. H. D. STEWART JR. added to the scene with an attractive blue suit and a straight brimmed black straw hat. . . enjoyed visiting with MRS. PAUL SHEEDY, MRS. ADRIAN RANDLE and MRS. BETH KAY who took their coffee break time from their office duties to have a cup with the charming Mrs. Martin. They encouraged me with my knitting (I'm afraid I have been knitting left-handed and I'm right handed) as they like to knit in their spare time, too. MRS. A. C. BASS says she tried to knit at one time in her life and was so frustrated she quit and has never tried again.

One of the most engaging people I have met in some time is MRS. HAGEN McMAHAN of Midland who accompanied Mrs. Martin and her party here. Time was all too short to talk about all the things we appear to have in common. . . Youngest guest at the coffee was adorable little JENNIFER FRAZIER who was dressed in the smartest pale blue wool suit with a perky white collar framing her pretty little three-year-old face. She was with her mother, MRS. BRUCE FRAZIER who was dressed in pink. JUDGE and MRS. LEE PORTER were among the guests. They are looking forward to a visit this month from their son, LEWIS, and his family.

I note where the YMCA is offering an evening Trim and Fit Class for women on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 7- and 8 p.m. If you have never been in one of these classes you should get in this one. You may not get trim, and it may give you fits, but it will be more fun than anything you will do in some time.

Miss Judyann Creasy exchanged wedding vows Saturday afternoon with Robert Leo Dawes at the Unitarian Church of Midland. The Rev. William Nichols officiated for the double ring ceremony.

MR. AND MRS. JOEL MILLS, LISA AND JULIE

Joel Millises Future Looks Good In Food

By JO ANN PHINIZY
When you are in a new home in a new town and beginning a new business, the days are all busy, and the plans have the ring of the future.

Such is the case of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Mills, 2210 Lynn. They moved to Big Spring from Lubbock three weeks ago when Mills became part owner and manager of the Taco Hut.

"Since that time," Mrs. Mills said, "we've been terribly busy just trying to establish a routine. Once that's done, we will have a chance to join the town's doings and renew our hobbies."

The first thing the Millises did was to register daughter Lisa as a first grader in Kentwood Elementary School; and then to wait and see how she and four-year-old Julie were going to adjust to the new surroundings.

The transition was peaceful. The girls began by being curious, went into a brief state of shyness, then into quietness, and now they have decided to take off their coats and stay awhile.

Then there was the question of taking over the business at the Taco Hut. Mrs. Mills helps out at the restaurant while Mills is preoccupied with the building, remodeling and planning for the day the name is changed to "Spanish Chick."

Moving into the city of Big Spring has presented the least complication of all for the Mills family. They are both natives of San Angelo and feel that, as West Texas distances go, they are in their own neighborhood.

When time allows, the Millises plan to revert to some of their old pastimes and to develop new interests.

Mills says that "someday" he is going to learn to play the guitar—when he is not fishing or on the golf course.

Mrs. Mills is looking forward to challenging the world of duplicate bridge. Her mentor will be a family friend, Mrs. Ray McMahan, 1304 Johnson. Mrs. Mills is also planning on joining the Newcomers Bridge Club at her first free moment.

Another hobby on the Millises' agenda is more stereophonic tape recorded music. Mrs. Mills says it is an ideal way to tune out a West Texas sandstorm and tune in the background of a Broadway musical, a dash of progressive jazz; or, maybe, just a series of old favorite songs.

All in all, the Millises feel that the past three weeks have presented them with a wildly erratic schedule—but it goes hand in hand with the fascination of accomplishment.

Conoco Wives Club Appoints Chairmen

New committee chairmen were appointed during the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Conoco Wives Club in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company. Nineteen members attended the session, and Mrs. LeRoy Dolan presided.

The new chairmen are Mrs. Lewis Soles, programs; Mrs. Carney Dickinson, cards and flowers; Mrs. Dee Anderson, hostess; and Mrs. G. F. Painter, contacts.

A farewell gift was presented to Mrs. Charles Fourmiquet who is moving to Eunice, La., soon. The club's new by-laws were presented and approved. The next meeting will be April 12 at the Flame Room.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with gold taffeta and centered with an arrange of marigolds. Hostesses were Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Jess Buchanan, Mrs. Clara Fletcher, Mrs. Soles and Mrs. Burl Griffith.

HINTS FROM HELOISE Finds Easier Way To 'Put Up' Food

Dear Heloise:
Two small, but helpful, discoveries came after our trip into town to get groceries last week-end.
If you have several sacks or boxes of groceries to "put away," set up your adjustable ironing board, with the board at its lowest position, and place your boxes or bags on this.
Makes it easy to reach groceries and to see them without having to peek over the top of all sacks. And, oh, what a back-saver, too, because you don't have to stoop so low each time.

By the way, Heloise, those new net bags for keeping grapes are wonderful. They prevent people from picking the best grapes and leaving the culls!
Also, you can wash the grapes right in the bags themselves, and none go down the drain, or into the sink, to have to be retrieved later.
You can then remove the grapes you want to eat, inspect the others, and return them to the bag, so you won't have loose grapes rolling around in your vegetable keeper.
Then, think of all the things you can use the net bags for when it's empty! . . . Mrs. John Goodwin

Dear Heloise:
Paper-training a puppy in an apartment?
Don't forget to protect the linoleum from odor and moisture under a sheet of waxed paper under the absorbent paper. . . Patricia R. Johnstone

Or, you could use aluminum foil . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:
My husband occasionally orders slacks by mail.
We receive swatches of new material from certain manufacturers from time to time.
I save these samples to use for patching my husband's slacks, since the colors blend, and the weights of the materials are similar.
These patches are also useful for patching other articles of clothing. . . Mrs. Audrey Hartung

Dear Heloise:
Another use for plastic bags is to use them for ice caps.
I notice the nurses in our hospital using different sizes for different parts of the body.
Be sure they are no holes in them, and fasten them securely with rubber bands or other means. . . A Reader

Dear Abby:
Instead of easily-broken, fancy long matches to light the fireplace logs, I use wax-coated drinking straws.
The straws are long-burning, and long enough to reach into far corners. . . Roberta Severson Kaan

(Write Heloise in care of The Big Spring Herald.)

Measure Space
If you plan to replace old window shades, take the width measurement from the rollers, not from the shades themselves. Measure the old rollers from tip to tip, including the little metal pins on each end. Then measure the full height of each window from the top of the frame to the sill.

Dear Heloise:
For mothers with young ba-

bles who use pacifiers:
You know how annoying it is when you are always washing it off when baby drops it out of his mouth onto the floor.
Take a piece of ribbon, and tie one end to a large safety pin, and the other end to the ring of the pacifier. Then pin it on the shirt, gown or whatever baby is wearing. . . Virginia Carnes

New Styles Fit English Designs

English furniture designs from the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries are becoming increasingly popular.

Designers dress up the pieces with modern fabrics, and they bring them up to modern comfort standards by replacing the horsehair stuffing with soft latex foam seat cushions. The reproductions are formal, "well-bred" pieces of furniture, but they are also comfortable and practical for today's homes.

Wedding Ceremony Recited In Lubbock

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday morning by Mrs. Evelyn Satterwhite and M. Sgt. Edward Cruz at the Lubbock home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Jaynes, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

Dr. J. O. Haymes, retired minister and former pastor of the First Methodist Church of Big Spring officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. E. Edgar of Lubbock, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. S. B. Cruz, Brownsville, and the late Mr. Cruz.

The altar background was formed by two seven-branched candelabra, holding white tapers, and entwined with wedding fern and white satin bows. Centering the arrangement was a large basket of white calla lilies and stock.

Mrs. W. R. Debnam, Phoenix, Ariz., aunt of the bride, sang "Indian Love Call" and "Because."

The bride wore a pink two-piece dress of raw silk. The dress was designed with an Empire waist and an A-line skirt. The semi-fitted jacket featured bracelet-length sleeves, and the veil was attached to a small pink hat.

Completing the ensemble, the bride wore off-white accessories and a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a nosegay of two pink-throated, white cymbidium orchids.

Attending the couple as matron of honor and best man were Mr. and Mrs. Jaynes. Mrs. Jaynes wore a green silk dress with matching shoes. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home. The refreshment table was covered with a full-skirted white cloth and centered with an arrangement of white stock and chrysanthemums. Silver coffee and tea service was used, and the white, tiered cake was decorated with confection pink flowers and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The couple will reside at 1907 Johnson. They plan to take a wedding trip to Miami, Fla., in April.

Sgt. Cruz is with the supply department at Webb AFB, and Mrs. Cruz is employed at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Polacek and Mrs. J. E. Hendrick, all of Big Spring.

Dishwashers Can Damage Plastics

In putting plastic dishes into the dishwasher, remember that the quality of plastic varies.

Properly made chemical- and heat resistant plastics can be safely washed in the automatic dishwasher. Some plastics, such as the type used in food storage containers may soften, lose shape or melt under the high temperatures in machine dishwashing. Plastics are more prone to staining than china. Some may absorb detergents, turn yellow and dechlorinate from chlorination and develop an unpleasant odor.

Nylon Takes Lead In Fiber Market

Man-made fibers were used in approximately 70 per cent of the carpets produced in the United States during 1964. Nylon accounted for 44 per cent of total carpet production. Wool accounted for 30 per cent, followed by the acrylics and modacrylics, polypropylene, rayon and cotton.

WHERE DO THE STARS GO, MOMMY?

The big brown eyes are thoughtful, the small face earnest as Mary Anne considers the universe.

Sometimes our pint-sized inquisitor's questions are devastatingly funny, sometimes deadly serious; but always important. Harry and I may chuckle over them, but we never forget that these queries reflect Mary Anne's increasing awareness of the world about her. We know that our answers and attitudes are an important part of her development.

Another influential portion of Mary Anne's growth, we feel, has been her regular attendance at Church School. There, Mary Anne's experiences with other children have been related to God's plan. The tiny kitchen or play garage in the skilled teacher's capable hands becomes the training ground for Christian behavior.

How glad we are that our church is well equipped to guide our child in her religious growth.

Attend your church. Take advantage of the inspiration and knowledge it is eager to share with you and your children.

B&PW Notes Texas Week

The local unit of the Business and Professional Women's Club is joining those in cities over the state to observe Texas Business Women's Week Sunday through Friday. This year, emphasis is being placed on the basic purposes of the organization and how it is of service to both the employer and the professional women who help operate his business or institution.

The International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs was inspired by Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War in 1919. He issued a call for an organization that would bring about the coordination of women power in America. The call was answered by a group of business women in St. Louis, Mo., who recognized the need to improve and elevate the standards of the working women of the nation.

From the beginning it has had four objectives in developing its members. The first is to elevate her standards of efficiency in the field of business

MRS. A. J. FINCH

Sleek Lines, Cool Colors Add To Size

If a small dining room looks small and cramped, it can be visually enlarged by the use of several decorating principles, which may even provide more actual space.

Keeping furnishings simple is perhaps the best method to enlarge a dining room, which by its very nature must contain a number of different pieces. Furniture with sleek, straight lines can be just as comfortable, and take up less space, than other types.

Light, cool colors lend greater apparent size to any room. And walls and floors of similar hues make a room seem larger. If a pattern in the wall or floor covering is preferred, diagonal stripes are effective in creating an illusion of more space.

The use of mirrors as accessories is one visually enlarging trick that can't be overrated. A full wall covered by a mirror may do more for a small room than all of the other techniques combined.

Store Papers In Old Trunk

If space is needed for storing papers, deep, drawered chests make admirable file cabinets.

Old-fashioned trunks, especially the "wardrobe trunks" can also be converted for storing papers. Brought down from the attic for day-to-day use, they can be painted in bright colors.

Ordinary file cabinets, bought second-hand, can also be painted and used decoratively and efficiently in the family room for filing.

Sandals Renew Fashion Trend

Expect to see sandals in abundance this spring. The trend is toward every variation on the sandal set on a pancake heel for wear on city streets and in the suburbs.

That pancake heel is also an indicator of something new afoot.

Heels are getting lower and lower and the days of the three-inch are gone, the days of the flat, wide heel are fast up-coming.

and professions. This is accomplished through education in business methods. To grow in strength, the club stresses cooperation of women in business in combining efforts for the good of all. The education of members is promoted through two magazines, "The National Business Woman" and the "Texas Woman." Both follow current trends and give instruction in new business methods.

The Business and Professional Women's Federation has gained recognition as a leader in securing legislation for increasing opportunities for career women. It is independent, non-partisan and non-profit, as well as self-sustaining and self-governed.

Spokesmen say its sole purpose is to aid women in achieving the greatest efficiency possible in every field of business and profession in which they participate.

Shown today are several women who are member of the local Business and Professional Women's Club and personify its aims.

OWC Hears Jack Watkins Talk On Home Furnishings

Jack Watkins, of the Good Housekeeping Shop, was guest speaker at the Thursday luncheon for the Officers' Wives Club at Webb Air Force Base. Held in the Officers' Open Mess, the luncheon's theme of interior decorating was carried out with centerpieces of miniature trees dotted with leaves of fabric samples. The head table held a spring floral arrangement in mixed colors.

The luncheon was hosted by wives in the Medical Group with recognition being given to Mrs. M. E. Frantz, Mrs. M. J. Took, Mrs. L. A. Dills, Mrs. Lawrence Kilmestiver and Mrs. Frank Medici. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. William T. Hascall.

Watkins said that home furnishings are in a definite period of color, that it is the paramount thing being considered in interior decorating today and that those who do not trust their judgment in using color should seek the advice of an expert in the field.

In purchasing furniture, he noted that car dealers stress that they be traded every two years but that many people expect furniture to last a lifetime. No matter how long it is to be used, Watkins said the important thing is to get what will be best for the job you want it to do.

MAINTENANCE

Stressing that maintenance and care can make much difference in furniture, he said it must be maintained properly to keep its beauty, luster and usefulness. In dry and wet seasons, the wood contracts and expands in such a way as to put stress on the finish and 'fatigue' the furniture. Thus a lubricant is needed regularly. Watkins suggested a thorough washing of the furniture twice a year, using a liquid soap with lots of suds and little water. Afterward, a coating of lemon oil should be applied (except on painted furniture, and the best type of wax to use is termed 'tree wax').

Explaining that the life of a fabric can be greatly extended by sealing it with a spray to keep out grease and dirt, he said the spray could also be used to some extent on draperies. He envisioned permanent protection such as this for all fabrics within the next five years.

The five basic styles of furniture proving popular now are Spanish Mediterranean, Italian, French Provincial, Early American and Contemporary. Watkins said that all had been adjusted and softened to some degree to look more traditional.

He traced trend changes in woods and colors, explaining that certain favored ones could be expected to be in style for five or ten years. If in doubt about colors, Watkins advised his listeners to depend on the neutrals, black, white and gold. He said that bold colors should best be kept in small items or accessories that can be easily changed to freshen a room.

A question and answer period followed Watkins' talk.

Mrs. Brewster To Be Pronouncer

By SAM BLACKBURN

Mrs. O. T. Brewster, teacher in the Big Spring High School, has agreed to serve as official pronouncer for the Fourth Annual Howard County Spelling Bee April 16. The bee is sponsored by the Daily Herald.

Mrs. Brewster, who teaches French and Spanish, and formerly taught English at the high school, has already begun her selection of the words she will use in the county spelling bee.

OFFICIAL LIST

She will select the words from the official spelling list, "Words of the Champions."

Mrs. Brewster has not previously tried her hand as official pronouncer for a spelling bee of this type, but her familiarity with words makes her an ideal choice for the post. She will fill a vacancy caused by the removal from Big Spring of Mrs. Elizabeth Martin. Mrs. Martin, formerly on the staff of Howard County Junior College and now with the Odessa College, served as pronouncer for the first three Herald spelling bees.

Mrs. Brewster came here three years ago from El Dorado, Ark. She and her husband live at 1721 Yale. He is the manager of Holiday Inn.

Meantime, all of the schools, which are taking part in the spelling bee, are pushing ahead with plans for their classroom eliminations and for the selection of their school champions. As the county spelling bee will be April 16, it is suggested schools speed up their classroom eliminations. This will give school champions extra time to study for the competition.

UNCERTAIN

How many words it may take at the county spelling bee to determine the county champion is uncertain. In 1965, the championship was settled with the 102nd word. The preceding year, the title was determined with the 127th word.

Mrs. Brewster will go through the official list of words and select as many examples as she may feel needed to settle the title. The list is divided into several sections. She will start with words from the "Beginner Round" and then shift to the slightly harder words in the "Intermediate Round." How much deeper she will have to go into the list will be determined by the expertness of the young competitors.

Nearly 1,000 boys and girls in all of the elementary and junior high schools in the Big Spring Independent School District, Midway school of the Coahoma district, and the two church schools in Big Spring are entered in the bee and are preparing to select their school champions.

FREE TRIP

Winner of the Howard County Spelling Bee gets a free trip to Lubbock April 30 to try his or her skill against the county champions of 23 West Texas counties. Should he win the Regional Championship at Lubbock, (as did Don Hickson, Goddard Junior High's champion in 1965), he gets to go to Washington in June to try for the national title.

Mark Elected To State Job

Mark Barr, whose Hereford steer won the reserve championship of the Houston Livestock Show last week, is the new president of the Texas Junior Hereford Association.

Mark's election was announced at a banquet for the members of the association in Houston. He succeeds Bill Aberhoff of Crystal City.

The Junior Hereford Association includes most of the younger Hereford breeders and feeders of the state.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Barr of Vincent. He is 16 years old.

Clubbers Fare Well

Howard County 4-H Club competitors at the Houston Fat Stock Show fared very well, in the opinion of Donald Bradenberger, assistant county farm agent.

Mark Barr's entry won the reserve championship of the show and was sold for $4,500 at the auction Friday. His steer was the grand champion of the Junior Herefords and runner-up for the grand championship of the junior show, as well as reserve champion of the entire show.

Dolores Lankford had a fourth place and 19th place steer in the competition; Mark Barr also showed another animal which placed sixth; Gary McNew had a 10th place steer and Robbie Haney showed 8th, 9th and 20th place steers.

Four of the steers taken to the show were sold at the auction and all brought good prices. The local youngsters had four lambs in the sale and all brought good prices.

Two Podiatry Plans Announced

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The American Podiatry Association has announced two new programs of scholarships and fellowships. Commencing with the fall 1966 academic year, three $2,000 scholarships will be offered to first-year podiatry students of academic excellence. The scholarships are renewable annually up to a maximum of $8,000 over four years. Applicants must possess a bachelor's degree, in addition to meeting other requirements. The four-year course in podiatry leads to a doctor's degree in that field.

Also beginning in September, the association is offering four $4,000 fellowships annually (renewable up to $8,000 over a minimum two-year period).

Applicants for both the scholarships and fellowships must be filed by May 1. Additional information may be obtained by writing: The Committee on Scholarships and Fellowships, American Podiatry Association, 3301 18th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20010.

Trial Of Appeal Cases Set To Begin Tuesday

Twelve of 77 corporation and justice of the peace court appeal cases slated for trial this week, are set for trial at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, has announced.

The appeal cases, with a jury in attendance will continue through Friday. Davis and Judge Lee Porter hope to dispose of a large number of these cases by that time.

The docket was called last week and all of the cases listed set for trial.

The cases are matters originally tried in either the city court or justice of the peace courts and in which the defendant was found guilty, then elected to appeal the case, then elected to the county court. In the appeal hearing, the procedure is to try the case as it was alleged in the lower court. A jury is on hand to hear the evidence and rule if the lower courts had acted as the case merited.

Cases slated for Tuesday are:

Phillip Stroud Wilson, three cases, failure to stop for emergency vehicle, driving on wrong side of street, and speeding; Ruby Green Curley, speeding; Larry Edgar Burklow, speeding; Prospero Padilla Yanez, minor in possession of intoxicants; L. Z. Bell, drunk; Nikki Jane Thomas, unsafe passing; Clara Haines, no driver's license; Johnny Louis Perkins, no driver's license; George T. Thomas, speeding; and Clarence P. Yanez, excessive noise.

Cases set for Wednesday are: Prospero Yanez, seven cases, disregarding stop sign, no valid driver's license, improper left turn (two) driving on wrong side of road, improper right turn, minor in possession of intoxicants; Alhindore Aliba, drunk; Daniel Rios, no valid driver's license (2); Bonnie H. Coates, improper change of lane; Betty Ramirez, vociferous language; Gayle Vernon Schroeder, speeding; Jerry Roger Arrick, speeding; Larry Edgar Burklow, failure to yield driver's license; Glen Grantham, drunk; Louise Heggley, drunk; James Lee Gilbert, drunk in a public place; Prospero Padilla

Yanez, loud and vociferous language; Ralph Estelle Brown, six cases, failure to stop at stop sign; disregard of red light, failure to stop at red light, passing in no passing zone, two charges of speeding.

Bids Asked For Another PO Substation

A fifth substation for the Big Spring post office will probably be set up in the southeast part of town effective this month, Frank Hardesty, postmaster, has announced.

The postmaster said that he is advertising for bids to operate a substation somewhere in the vicinity of Birdwell Lane and East Marcy Drive.

At least one business establishment in the area has indicated an interest in the project, he said. Bids will be opened at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

The successful bidder for the substation will be required to furnish a clerk in charge, a safe for the protection of government property, and office space to house the operation.

Hardesty said that generally the bid made by the operator of a store or business place which wants a substation is $1 a year. Proprietors feel, he said, that the presence of a postal substation in their stores is an incentive to more business.

Anyone interested in operating the proposed station at the point designated can submit a bid to the post office. The bids will be sent on to the regional office.

driver's license, and leaving the scene of an accident; Ramon Lopez, unsafe change of lane; Prospero Yanez, driving on wrong side of road, failure to stop for emergency vehicle and spinning tires on gravel.

Cases set for Friday: Luis Hernandez, driving on wrong side of road, failure to yield right of way, leaving scene of accident, no driver's license; Myles Henry Dewhurst, speeding; Paul Douglas Graham, speeding; David Clint Thomas, speeding; Fred Morales Jr., minor in possession; Myrtle D. Worthington, improper left turn; Monroe L. Johnson, failure to

A Devotional For The Day

I acknowledge my transgressions: and my sin is ever before me. (Psalm 51:3)
PRAYER: Our Father, when we are confused and have problems which are difficult to bear alone, give us the wisdom to talk them over with Thee and with others whom we trust. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Can It Be Used?

There is always a problem of what to do with buildings which, though they are still structurally sound, have lost the utility for which they were designed. The Crawford Hotel may be a case in point.

Since its closing as a hostelry, there have been several unsuccessful attempts to reopen or to convert to some other purpose. There is no arguing that conversion would be expensive, and there is always a question of whether it would be satisfactory.

One approach has been to explore the possibility of converting to parking which likely would mean demolition unless multi-story parking were feasible.

Within the next few months, every community is going to experience the beginning of an expanded demand for medical treatment for elderly citizens. Most experts anticipate that this will, in time; put a pressure on hospital facilities. This raises a question of whether a structure such as the Crawford could be utilized as a geriatrics hospital, thus relieving the pressures upon regular facilities.

Undoubtedly, if there is any merit in the thought, the approach would have to be through some sort of foundation. This would take the property off tax rolls; but from the point of local taxing agencies, the loss would not be insurmountable; indeed, revenues generated in other ways would likely generate compensating returns to the local political subdivisions. Whether this is remotely in the ball park, we have no basis of knowing, but we can foresee the need of this sort in the not-too-distant future. Such would be a tremendous community asset.

Do It Now!

There is now no reason why every adult in Texas should not possess a voting certificate.

There is no charge attached to this privilege. When the federal courts tossed out the poll tax as a requirement for voting, the Texas legislature quickly passed a registration act which carries no fee.

So, all any adult has to do is either go to the tax collector's office in the courthouse (or at two outposts in Fort San and Coahoma) and pick up a certificate. If this is not possible or practical, use the coupons which have been running in The Herald, and mail these in.

It would be almost a civic disgrace not to qualify under the circumstances. Don't fool around about it, if you are one of those who did not pay a poll tax or get an exemption certificate. Do it Monday. The deadline is March 17, and that's just around the corner.

Ask those who work with you or for you if they have a voting certificate. If not, urge them to get one.

David Lawrence Congress Supports The President

WASHINGTON—The Congress of the United States has notified the world that America stands squarely behind the President's policy of assisting the government of Viet Nam in repelling the aggression of the Communists. The overwhelming vote in both houses should clear away any doubts whether this country means to retreat and withdraw and whether the 215,000 American troops in Viet Nam will be supported to the utmost in their brave fight against Communist aggression. It could conceivably open the door to peace negotiations and shorten the war.

THE THREE ROLL calls must inevitably make an indelible impression everywhere.

First, the House of Representatives, by a vote of 392 to 4, approved the bill authorizing $4.8 billion more to fight the Viet Nam war.

Second, the Senate, by a vote of 93 to 2, approved the same measure.

Third, while the bill was under discussion in the Senate, an amendment which would have repealed the President's authority to carry on the war in Viet Nam was brushed aside by a vote of 92 to 5. Thus, there was erased the image of a Congress in danger of being influenced by intellectual confusionists, self-centered exhibitionists or reckless exponents of the idea of opposition for opposition's sake.

SOME OF THE speeches in the Senate were as ambiguous as similar efforts in past history to proclaim worthy purposes but at the same time to offer the enemy the olive branch of appeasement.

Perhaps the most interesting phase of the debate was a speech delivered by the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, who said in part:

"THE CENTRAL ISSUE is the contest between Chinese and American power, and the prospect for a lasting peace depends far more upon the resolution of that issue than it does on the matter of who is to participate in a South Vietnamese government and by what means it shall be formed."

There is no comparison, however, between the potential strength and the United States and Red China. The real issue today—and the one which is so generally overlooked by critics in the Senate—is that the Communists do not fight open wars. They infiltrate other countries and by subversion attempt to take over the government, as happened in North Viet Nam and Cuba.

SEN. FULBRIGHT suggested that there might be a "neutralization agreement" whereby Southeast Asia would be placed "under the guarantee of the major powers with interests in Southeast Asia, notably the United States, China, the Soviet Union, Great Britain, France, India and Japan."

The fallacy in the foregoing is that the Soviet Union itself is in a major conflict with Red China. The struggle for power in Asia between their governments cannot be suddenly resolved and an obligation imposed that they must respect—the neutrality of the Southeast Asian countries.

THE UNITED STATES is pursuing the only policy that can bring peace in Southeast Asia. This means the exercise of military power and the mobilization of the forces of the free world to repel aggression and assure the sovereignty and independence of all nations.

The true enemy of mankind today is Communist imperialism. It is not going to be checked or defeated unless the free world stands up to the fight and manifests its willingness to thwart the ambitions of the Communists.

HIS STRONGEST ALLY

Business Review Boom Breezes Into Its Sixth Year

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The business boom waltzed into its sixth year during the week and the music sounded sweet to most ears.

There were some discordant notes, however, in the outlook for the rest of the year.

Most economists predicted that 1966 would be as good as 1965 despite the threats of inflation, tighter money and manpower shortages.

So far this year, just about everything — except the stock market — is holding up well. The prospect is that the gross national product — total of all goods and services — will go to $720 billion from $675 billion in 1965.

FREE SPENDING People are making good money and are spending it, some going into debt to obtain the big items they want.

The automobile business is booming and automaking executives are forecasting that production will top or equal the record level of 1965.

Steel production is at a high pace but lagging behind last year, when users were buying at an unusually high rate as a hedge against a possible strike.

Government buying for the Viet Nam war has been a multi-billion dollar spur to the economy.

The unemployment rate has fallen to four per cent of the labor force, the lowest in nine years.

MARKET SLUGGISH The stock market, however, has failed to respond to the economy's rosy glow. It has been sliding since the first of the year. On Tuesday, when the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks skidded 13.70 points, it suffered its worst loss since last June.

Most brokers were at a loss

Up, Up, Up She Goes

- Gross National Product may hit $720 billion
- Automobile production showing strength
- Viet Nam spending adds fuel to boom fire
- New construction starts makes sharp gain
- Unemployment rate sinks to low level
- Stock market, however, shows some hesitancy to explain the reasons behind the slump after the Dow Jones average had moved within a hair of the historic 1,000 mark. They mentioned worry over Viet Nam, tighter money and higher interest rates and the possibility of price controls.

Automobile production was estimated at 193,600 passenger cars during the week, down slightly from 193,719 the previous week but off 6.7 per cent from a year ago. A production halt at American Motors Corp. cost the company nearly 7,000 assemblies.

NEAR RECORD Automakers built 766,609 cars in February despite a Chrysler stamping plant strike and a shutdown at American Motors. The total was the second highest for February, topped only by the 771,162 cars built in February 1965.

Sales in February totaled 564,220 cars, down three per cent from the record 632,864 a year earlier. The industry has scheduled 907,000 assemblies in March, well off the monthly production record of 962,000 in March, 1965.

Steel output last week increased to 2,626,000 tons from 2,575,000 the previous week but was 8.5 per cent behind a year earlier.

U.S. Steel announced a revision of prices, lifting quotes on some key products, cutting them on others and withdrawing published prices in some cases.

"The over-all effect of the change on revenues per ton is about a standoff based on anticipated shipments and product mix," U.S. Steel said. The blend of price increases and reductions apparently had the approval of the Johnson administration.

TEMPORARY HALT Some other producers followed U.S. Steel's move.

The steady rise in the cost of living was halted in January but Labor Department officials said it probably is temporary. Consumer prices remained at the December level, which was 111 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

Commissioner Arthur Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics commented, "It is naturally gratifying after four consecutive months of increase but we do not believe it is too significant."

Contracts for new construction in January rose eight per cent to $3,373,513,000 from $3,130,573,000 a year earlier, maintaining the strong pace set during the record 1965 fourth quarter.

The Commerce Department revised slightly upward its estimate of new January orders for durable goods manufacturers. Such orders were estimated at $23.77 billion, compared with the $23.6 billion estimate of two weeks ago.

Around The Rim The Boys Who Keep The Roads Open

This corner, as have virtually all other publications over the state, has on occasion puffed out its Texas chest in praise of the Texas Highway system.

No states match it in scope, few match it in quality of work done, few have achieved the same kind of almost-endless network without a breath of scandal. Texas may lack a lot of things, but it is doing all right in road building, and even if you want to go only from Possum Hollow to Crabtree Crossing, you undoubtedly will find a stretch of good pavement that is called a farm road, a ranch road, or something.

SO, WE HAVE lauded the general construction progress. Today, I pass the plaque to a large army of unsung people who labor in another area—that of maintenance. You see them all the time, patching here, grading there, and cutting weeds and picking up beer cans everywhere, but when you really appreciate them is in times of bad weather.

This came home to me with impact a couple of weeks ago, when we got stranded in one of those Texas snowstorms.

WE LEFT San Antonio shortly after noon, destination home. One of those "fronts" was moving in, with the wind getting higher, a cold drizzle falling, and forecasts telling of snow, ice and hazardous conditions. Now, nobody in Texas thinks any sort of weather can stop him, so we start out of town, figuring we could at least go "part way."

Part way it was, with the car slipping, slithering, snow and ice clogging the windshield, vision nearly gone, along with control.

IT TOOK ABOUT two and a half hours to make some 65 miles to Kerrville, where forward progress was halted.

The point is that we might not have made it even that far if the good old highway boys hadn't been out in front of us. They must have somebody who just sits and reads the weather, ready to call an all-out alert. I would guess that by the time the first ten flakes of snow have fallen, the work crews are swarming out over the roads, setting flares, putting up warning signs, spreading sand, and doing what scraping is possible.

IF YOU WANT to sit in judgment on what causes all the highway accidents, you can't blame the highway maintenance people. They warn you, they try to protect you, and want to save you.

Those guys working out in the bitter blizzard can't, of course, be responsible for the dampools behind the wheels. There seems to be no law that says a driver can't travel at the risk of his own neck.

WHILE WE WERE crawling along in a state of tension, there were enough cars that went sliding by, drivers apparently confident that the highway wasn't as icy as it seemed to be. Sure enough, we later passed a couple of these that had caromed into the ditch, one of them slithering off the road into a 20-foot ditch. Apparently nobody was hurt, but a lot of damage and anguish.

Well, Texas snowstorms pass quickly, and just as quickly goes the road cleanup. We were willing to wait until the highway lads said the driving was safe. If it hadn't been for them, we might not have been home by now. I appreciate them. —BOB WHIPKEY

Marquis Childs Douglas' Battle In Illinois

CHICAGO — When Sen. Paul H. Douglas toured the Southern Illinois counties on the Mississippi River at the start of his campaign for re-election recently he found his audiences concerned with only one subject. That was the war in Viet Nam and why the United States is increasingly committed with ground troops to a land war in Southeast Asia.

FOR DOUGLAS there is in this a singular irony. Enlisting at the age of 16 as a private in the Marine Corps he fought in some of the fiercest battles of World War II in the Pacific, won a Bronze Star at Okinawa and lost the use of his left hand and arm from battle wounds.

His emotional investment in the Pacific has ever since been deep. During the Korean War he was one of the most implacable critics of those of America's allies, notably Britain, that continued to trade with Red China. Along with a half-dozen other senators he became one of the Committee of One Million organized by the so-called China lobby to rally support for Chiang Kai-shek and Nationalist China.

THE IRONY LIES in the fact that this has had so little to do with Douglas' career during three terms in the Senate. In both economic and civil rights he has been one of the most constructive leaders in the Senate.

Running for a fourth term, he will be 74 years old this month. In Charles H. Percy, a 47-year-old Chicago industrialist, Douglas has the most formidable foe of his political career. In 1964 Percy conducted a vigorous, appealing campaign for governor against the Democratic incumbent, Otto Kerner, only to be carried down by the Goldwater undertow.

UNDER NORMAL circumstances Douglas would be an odds-on favorite, with little doubt of his victory. Over the years and not just at election time he has gone up and down the state talking seriously and solemnly to the voters about the great issues. Furthermore, Percy is resented by the right wing of his own party because of his moderate views.

But circumstances are not normal, since concern and uncertainty over America's role in Southeast Asia have injected a wholly unpredictable element into this year's election. While Percy is an honorable man and he will not talk about wrongdoers and spilling the blood of American boys in Asia, which was the Republican line in the Korean War, others are sure to beat this drum.

FURTHERMORE, opposition to the war in Viet Nam is linked to the civil rights movement and the spreading unrest within the Negro ghettos. The Black Muslims, holding their convention here, heard their leader, Elijah Muhammad, denounce the drafting of his most-famous follower, Cassius Clay.

In order to win Douglas must roll up a massive vote in Cook County and Chicago where Mayor Richard J. Daley is the overlord. Daley has got crosswise of the civil rights leaders on de facto school segregation and other troubling issues. He now finds the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. with a base for aggressive nonviolent action established in a Negro slum. What can come out of this in mounting tensions on each side of the color line no one can predict.

THE OLD ORDER is swiftly changing and if 10 to 15 per cent of the Negro vote should shift to the Republican candidate it could spell defeat for Douglas.

The last thing Douglas will do as a man of principle, a term rarely applied to politicians, is repudiate his past. So, going up and down through Illinois' 162 counties, he will fight it out on his record and with the stamina that has carried him through before.

Art Buchwald Big Dissension In Hanoi

WASHINGTON—There has been so much talk about the doves and the hawks in the U.S. over Viet Nam that scant attention has been paid to the split in Hanoi. My CIA sources inform me that North Viet Nam is having a similar debate right now over the war and their people are equally divided as to what to do next.

It all started when President Ho Chi Minh asked for more money to wage the war in the South. A group of Communist deputies, led by the chairman of the Foreign Relations Commissariat, Foo - Britte, demanded hearings to challenge Ho's Viet Nam policies.

CHAIRMAN FOO-BRITTE called as witnesses Gen. Gah-Van and Jawj Ken-Anh who warned against escalation. Gen. Gah-Van testified he believed the Viet Cong should set up enclaves until the South Vietnamese were willing to talk peace on Hanoi's terms.

Secretary of State Diem Ruh-Sk, testified that any display of weakness at this time would only give aid and comfort to the enemy. But President Ho said his position was not very different than that of Gen. Gah-Van and Jawj Ken-Anh. He then produced a poll to show that 63 per cent of all the North Vietnamese were for staying in South Viet Nam while only 37 per cent thought the Viet Cong should pull out.

THINGS WERE quite a few days until a young junior deputy from Nu-Yuk named Bah-Bi Khanh-A-Dhi held a press conference and said he thought Hanoi should recognize that, if a peace settlement was ever to be made, the Ky government, would have to be invited to the conference table.

Vice President U-Bit Hum-Fri, who was on a peace mission to Communist Asia trying to raise more troops for North Viet Nam, retorted angrily, "That's like putting a fox in a chicken coop."

HANOI WAS UP in arms over the Khanh-A-Dhi proposal. To add to the confusion, Gen. Mah-X-Wehl Tel-Lar, one of Ho's military advisors, explained that Bah-Bi's position was similar to his. He called in Gen. Tel-Lar and chewed him out for siding with Bah-Bi.

In the meantime Bah-Bi called another press conference to clarify his position and he said that he would only advocate the support of Gen. Ky's faction after elections.

HO IMMEDIATELY announced that Bah-Bi's position was very similar to his own and, if that's what he meant, he had no argument with him.

In the meantime U-Bit, who went away a dove, came back a hawk and said, "We owe it to our boys in the Viet Cong to give them all the support we can. Any debate at this time is only playing into the hands of the Johnson administration."

The discussion is still raging in Hanoi, but it has hurt Ho's administration.

THE LATEST POLL—out of North Viet Nam shows that only 49 per cent of the North-Vietnamese think Ho is doing a good job in South Viet Nam. Thirty-two per cent (mostly those being bombed) think he's doing a lousy job and 8 per cent said they didn't know anything because they lived in the back.

Billy Graham

Life is no challenge to me as my parents have always given me everything. How can I overcome boredom?

J. S. Just as your car motor may be "bored" when it isn't in gear, your brain and soul go limp when you throw them into neutral. Our children often sigh and say, "Nothing to do." And with experts predicting that by 1980 the work week in American may be less than ten hours, we are going to have an increasing problem of what to do with leisure.

You have no challenge — give your life to Christ — let Him give you purpose and meaning. He will take your boredom away. Time squandered in boredom could be used for thinking. We Americans can't stand to be idle because we fear thought and meditation. If we get to thinking about how purposeless and useless we are we become miserable. But we could do some thinking about improving ourselves. The old Greek philosophers gave the world some wisdom because they took the time ordinarily used for boredom and used it for creative thought.

We are too busy pursuing security to take time to think, worship and meditate. If we used our idle time to good advantage we would have a much better breed of men. The Bible says: "Whatsoever things are honest; whatsoever things are lovely; whatsoever things are lovely; think on these things." Try thinking, meditation and prayer as an antidote for boredom. You might be surprised at the results!

Small Size

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — A small factory has begun production of super-concentrated food-stuffs for the growing world market.

The initial production line is set up for a daily output of 500 kilos of coffee, to be exported to the United States, Belgium, Italy and England for $3.80 per kilo. The factory can also condense shrimp, bananas, potatoes and other vegetables to one-fourth of their original weight.

Nutty Case

LYNDON, Ky. (AP)—Obviously annoyed, a woman entered the Post Office to complain about the mishandling of a package sent to her home.

The package, containing assorted nuts, had been ripped apart and the contents spilled outside the mail box.

After an investigation, the Post Office reported the following:

The box was intact when left at her home but a squirrel, on the prowl for winter provisions, entered the mail box and helped himself.

To Your Good Health

Adhesions, Nor Surgery Can Constipate

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: I was never troubled by constipation, not even through five pregnancies, until I had a hysterectomy, but it has been a different story since. Is it usual for major surgery to affect a person this way? — MRS. M. H.

No. Major surgery, not even abdominal surgery, ordinarily does not alter bowel action long afterwards. However, there may be some difficulty immediately (2 or 3 days) after an operation.

But since you are having trouble, obviously something has changed. A possibility, probably the strongest one, is that some adhesions formed. This is something which may or may not happen after any operation.

If adhesions occur in some particular location, they could cause a narrowing or a kinking of the bowel. A barium enema X-ray would help determine whether this has occurred and needs correcting.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible in the last couple of months of pregnancy to have such increased pressure from the baby that there's shortness of breath and a feeling of wheezing? I haven't gained much weight but am small to start with and short — waisted. I also have a lot of heartburn. — MRS. B. D. B.

Shortness of breath and heartburn are quite common in late pregnancy. Both are the result of the enlarged uterus pressing upward against the diaphragm. You, unfortunately, have two of the three characteristics that cause this: Small frame, short waist. The third factor is overweight. You've been wise not to gain.

acidly and sugar can be harmful to the teeth, disrupt appetite and foster poor eating habits, so children are better off if it is reserved-as a treat, and not as a substitute for water.

Dear Dr. Molner: You stated that "the douche is at best an unreliable method of contraception and often fails." My doctor told me douching is an absolute preventive. I have followed this practice 10 years and have not become pregnant. — MRS. K. S.

You're just lucky.

Dear Dr. Molner: We have a discussion going on about babies' eyes at birth. We say some are born with brown eyes; others say they are blue at first and then turn brown. Let us know. — MRS. R. K.

I have yet to meet a doctor who has seen brown eyes at birth. They are blue or sometimes a rather dark-violet, but if the eyes are going to be brown, they can assume that color rather quickly.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

We all get lots of water which we don't think about — fruits and vegetables are 70 to 80 per cent water; milk is mostly water; bread and meat include some. Pop supplies water, but the

Both Theaters Booked Solid

NEW YORK (AP)—The City Center of Music and Drama has fully booked for a year ahead the two theaters it is operating under an expanded schedule of activities.

Formerly the center's schedule of drama, ballet and opera was concentrated in its 2,935-seat auditorium on West 55th Street. Now the management has also taken over, under 25-year lease, the State Theater at Lincoln Center, a half mile uptown.

Dance and opera events are to be concentrated in the new facilities. Other events, including drama attractions from abroad, are to utilize the 55th Street playhouse.

color at the Ritz Theatre starting Thursday. Costarred are Ulla Jacobsson, Swedish-born, and Michael Redgrave, British character actor.

All four play Norwegian resistance fighters in this depiction of a true-life incident, what the late Sir Winston Churchill called "the single most important act of sabotage in World War II." What they do — and what originally was done in Nazi-occupied Norway — is to prevent the Nazis from achieving the atom bomb.

They succeed where a British commando mission, and a later flight of 150 American Flying Fortresses with tons of bombs, failed.

"The Heroes of Telemark" was filmed in the forbidding Norwegian locations where the actual events took place, in temperatures which were frequently well below zero. The film is a heroic one in its own right.

Houseman Back

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP)—John Houseman returns to the American Shakespeare Festival to direct T. S. Elliot's "Murder in the Cathedral" as part of next summer's schedule.

NEW YORK (AP)—The recordings which have made final nominations for 1965 Grammy Awards — the record industry's equivalent of Hollywood's Oscars — have been announced, with Roger Miller nominated in the most different categories.

There are 47 categories in which Grammys are given by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences.

Roger Miller is nominated in nine categories and both the Beatles and Herb Alpert are nominated in six.

Nominees for "record of the year" are:

"King of the Road," Roger Miller; "A Taste of Honey," Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass; "Yesterday," Beatles; "The In Crowd," Ramsey Lewis Trio, and "The Shadow of Your Smile," Tony Bennett.

Nominees in the best female vocal performance category (won four times by Ella Fitzgerald, once by Judy Garland and twice by Barbra Streisand): Astrud Gilberto, Petula Clark, Nancy Wilson, Barbra Streisand and Jackie DeShannon.

Nominees in the best male vocal performance category

ROGER MILLER

(won by Perry Como, Frank Sinatra, Ray Charles, twice by Jack Jones, Tony Bennett and Louis Armstrong); Glenn Yarbrough, Frank Sinatra, Roger Miller, Tony Bennett and Paul McCartney.

Nominees for popular LP of the year are:

"Help!," Beatles; "My Name Is Barbra," Barbra Streisand; "My World," Eddy Arnold; "September of My Years," Frank Sinatra; "Sound of Music" soundtrack, and "Whipped Cream and Other Delights," Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass.

Nominees for classical album of the year:

"Wozzeck," Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau, conductor Karl

Boehm; "Chopin: 8 Polonaises, 4 Impromptus," Artur Schnabel; "Horowitz at Carnegie Hall (an Historic Return)," Vladimir Horowitz; "Ives: Symphony No. 4," conductor Leopold Stokowski, and "Strauss: Salome and the Egyptian Helen," Leontyne Price, conductor Erich Leinsdorf.

Famous Musicals To South America

NEW YORK (AP)—The State Department plans South American tour in September of two popular Broadway musicals as part of the culture exchange program.

"Carousel" and "Show Boat" are to be the probable selections for 10-week tour.

Artists' Display On Show Today

On display in the John H. Lees Service Club at Webb Air Force Base, are some of the works of Big Spring artist; Harlan Sandidge. The hall room of the club furnishes the setting for the exhibit of various art forms, including sculpture.

Sandidge works in oils, water-colors, charcoal and his sculpture is done using steel as the basic material.

A judge for a recent contest for Webb artists, Sandidge is an instructor at Rannels Junior High School.

Sunday, the exhibit will be present in the service club from 3-5 p.m. to discuss his works and to meet with interested persons. The club's director, Mrs. Ethel Wood, has issued an invitation to all base personnel and to the residents of Big Spring to visit the club and meet the artist.

Theatre Institute Plans Congress

NEW YORK (AP)—For the first time, the International Theatre Institute will hold its biennial congress in this country in June, 1967.

A grant of $90,000 from the Ford Foundation is to defray basic costs of the week-long New York meeting. The ITI, which has centers in 48 countries, serves as a forum for exchange of technical and artistic information. Previous congresses were held in Paris, Helsinki, Vienna, Warsaw and Tel Aviv.

Cavern Serves For Dressing

NEW YORK (AP)—Players in the musical hit "Man of La Mancha" make costume changes in a special dug-out cavern under the stage of the ANTA Washington Square Theater.

The facilities were necessitated because getting to and from regular dressing rooms in the thrust-theater playhouse would hold up scene shifts.

To Collaborate

NEW YORK (AP)—A stage version of "The Apartment," Oscar-winning movie in 1960, figures now on the collaborative schedule of Betty Comden, Adolph Green and Jule Styne. The trio has acquired an option on the property which stipulates production by June, 1968. Miss Comden and Green, lyric writers and book adapters, and composer Styne have teamed together several times previously. Their most successful joint work was "Bells Are Ringing."

'Our Man Flint'

Coburn Stars In New Spy Thriller

James Coburn has thus far had to tolerate the rough-cut, heavy costumes that matched his many portrayals of villains. Now, for the first time on the screen, he will be elegantly attired in his debut as a movie hero in "Our Man Flint," the spy thriller in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color opening today at the Ritz Theatre.

Coburn, who recently played an Indian scout in "Major Dundee," and a pirate chief in "A High Wind in Jamaica," will be draped from head to toe in rare and costly fabrics for his portrayal as Derek Flint, a swash-buckling super-secret-agent.

His basic wardrobe of seven business suits will include four cashmeres, one raw silk and one vicuna. The stepchild of the collection will be a rough Harris Tweed suit for country wear. Socks will be silk or cashmere; shirts will be silk or Sea Island cotton; shoes, bells and other accessories will be Jamaican aligatore.

Coburn will sport two pairs of

'A RAGE TO LIVE'
Ben Gazzara and Suzanne Pleshette
Ben Gazzara Has Reaped Many Honors In Show Biz
Few stars have managed to establish themselves simultaneously and with equal luster on stage, screen and television, but Ben Gazzara has industriously labored in each of these creative vineyards — reaping a harvest of honors and becoming one of the most sought after actors in the world. Currently starring with Suzanne Pleshette and Bradford Dillman in "A Rage To Live," opening in Panavision today at the Jet Theatre, Gazzara has been ranked by Ella Kazan along with Sir Laurence Olivier and Marlon Brando as "one of the three most brilliant actors in the English-speaking language."
Born in New York's East Side tenement district, Ben credits the Madison Square Boys' Club for both "saving him from the streets" and nurturing his desire to become an actor. He made his stage debut at the club when he was five and appeared in scores of productions there in the decade that followed. After graduating from Peter Stuyvesant High School, he entered City College of New York and after two years enrolled at Dramatic
