Wants Green Beret Like Dad's

Stephen Bigley, 17, whose father was killed in Viet Nam serving in the Army Special Forces, tells Army recruiter he wants to follow in his dad's footsteps. "I don't want anyone to think I'm going for my dad," says Stephen, who's been accepted for Airborne training. "I'm going over for everybody." (AP WIREPHOTO)

Son Of Viet Casualty Now Seeking War Duty

CHICAGO (AP) — Sgt. I.C. George C. Bigley was killed in combat in Viet Nam with a green beret Special Forces unit. Now his son, Stephen, 17, wants to join the green berets there.

But not for vengeance, Stephen says. "I don't feel mad in any way," the youth said. "I just want to do my part. I don't want anyone to think I'm going for my dad. I'm going over for everybody."

MOTHER YIELDS
Bigley, who won his mother's reluctant permission to enlist, has been accepted for Airborne training. His prime ambition, he said Wednesday, is to earn the right to wear the green beret, the symbol of the Army Special

Forces unit to which his father belonged. "My dad always wanted me to go to West Point," Stephen said. "But I don't have it in me anymore."

KILLED BY CONG
Stephen was living with his mother in a house trailer at Fort Campbell, Ky., when word came that his father had been killed Jan. 3, 1965, in a Viet Cong attack. The family returned to Chicago and Stephen entered a local high school. "I didn't like it," he said. "I had too much on my mind because of dad."

So he dropped out of school and enlisted.

FATHER'S SERVICE
His father, a veteran of Army service in many parts of the world, served in the Italian campaign in World War II. He was a member of Darby's Rangers, a paratrooper and an expert marksman. He held three Purple Hearts and three Bronze Stars.

"He was good at everything," his son said. "I'm not for it," his mother said after her son passed his qualification tests. "But if that's what he wants."

Quebec's 'Quiet Revolution' Under Lesage Making Gains

QUEBEC (AP) — In French Canada today talk of secession or separation is little more than a whisper, but the visitor hears much about the "quiet revolution" and the "new Quebec."

Significant changes have taken place both inside the sprawling province and in its relations with the federal government.

Quebec's premier, Jean Lesage, 53, seeks to expand the role of his province and to improve the lot of the country's five million French-speaking citizens. He has been careful not to go too far, too fast.

NO DEADLINES
No one knows where it will end. Even Lesage declines to fix deadlines. So far Canada's 99-year-old confederation has proved flexible enough to adjust to Quebec's expanding autonomy.

One result of Lesage's moderate approach has been to steal much of the thunder of the separatists — those who want Quebec to be a separate nation.

The movement still has a substantial hard core, but it is not the noisy, aggressive group that launched the 1960-61 bombings and marred the visit of Queen Elizabeth II by demonstrations 18 months ago.

The leadership of the separatists is split by personal bickering and by rivalries between Montreal and Quebec factions.

Where they once cried for action, they now urge patience. But they haven't given up their goal of an independent Quebec.

HAS SUPPORT
Lesage opposes the separatists and he seems to have an overwhelming majority of the province behind him.

With a provincial election expected in May or June, political experts are predicting that Lesage's Liberal party will be returned with as many as 70 of the 95 legislative seats.

Lesage came to power in 1960 with a narrow majority, eight seats. He had vowed to give the province a dynamic new program after 16 years under the National Union party of Maurice Duplessis. In 1962 he won the mandate he wanted when he won 64 seats to 28 for the National Union, headed by Daniel Johnson.

Lesage likes to use the word "revolution" to describe what has been happening in Quebec during the past six years. Sometimes he calls it a quiet revolution, sometimes a fast revolution.

"NEW SOCIETY"
"We are building a new society," he says.

Economic production has grown during his administration and Quebec is rapidly developing new industries and trade. More than 2,800 new businesses have been established in five years. This is one part of Canada where U.S. capital is eagerly sought.

Few quarrel with these achievements. Other elements in Lesage's program have caused unhappiness in Ottawa or provoked anxiety in the English-speaking community.

Special Forces Camp Ashau Lost To Cong

Removal Of Viet General Thi Rumored

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Vietnamese regulars overwhelmed the isolated Ashau Special Forces camp tonight after a fierce, two-day fight put up by several hundred mountain tribesmen and their 15 to 20 U.S. advisers.

Until the end the American "Green Berets" and their tough little Montagnard troops clung doggedly to a single bunker on the camp's northern trench line.

A flurry of speculation dominated the political scene as Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and other members of the ruling military junta met under heavy security at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport.

While Vietnamese air force planes circled overhead and tanks and troops guarded the compound, the military leaders held a special session amid a flurry of reports that one of its most powerful members, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, might be removed as commander of the 1st Army Corps.

ASHAU ZONE
This is the zone that includes the fallen Ashau Special Forces camp. Thi has long been known for his independent ways. The show of force by Ky, who still commands the air force, was described as a precaution and in no way connected with any coup attempt.

The bad weather that plagued the defense of Ashau also curtailed air raids against North Viet Nam. Air Force and Navy pilots were limited to radar-guided runs in the Vinh area, but reported some hits on Route 15, a Communist supply line running south from Vinh.

DARING RESCUE
Another plane was lost in the final hours of the fighting, but the pilot was rescued in a daring and heroic feat. An A1E Skyraider was shot down at 11:35 a.m. while making a second napalm run over the camp. Although the wreckage was aflame, the pilot managed to crawl out with minor burns.

Under a burst of machine-gun fire, Air Force Maj. Bernard Fisher, 39, of Kuna, Idaho, landed his Skyraider on the camp's rough air strip and picked up the pilot, Maj. Stafford W. Myers of Newport, Wash., who was being chased by a uniformed Communist soldier only 20 yards away. A third plane cut the Communist down and Fisher took off with Myers in the bullet-riddled plane.

HEROIC CHOPPER
Communist gunners also shot down a Marine medical evacuation helicopter, but another came in and picked up the wounded and crew despite heavy mortar and small-arms fire. The pilot, Capt. Frank Kelley, 44, of Boston, Mass., said some of the 25 wounded Vietnamese and one American limped to the chopper by themselves.

Wednesday, the Reds brought down a C47 Army transport while it was making a firing pass at about 1,000 feet. A 50-caliber bullet almost ripped the right engine off but the pilot managed a forced landing. He was killed on the ground while firing his M16 automatic. Another crewman also was killed.

There are 374 more qualified voters in Howard County, as of Wednesday afternoon, than there were on March 1.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said she had reported that number of registrants to state Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

Mrs. LeFevre also added in her report that 130 of the new registrants who have been issued special registration receipts, were persons who made their request on forms printed in the Big Spring Herald.

The others signed up at Mrs. LeFevre's office in the court house.

There are five days remaining (days in which Mrs. LeFevre's office will be open) before the March 17 deadline for the current special registration.

The total number of qualified electors of this county, at close of business in the tax office Wednesday, is now 9,515. This includes the 9,141 who paid poll tax or obtained an exemption certificate prior to Jan. 31, plus the 374 who have registered in the current registration interval.

Foes Battle Tax Bill Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration sought today to persuade Senate-House conferees to drop two Senate amendments that took a $1-billion chunk out of a $6-billion tax bill designed to help finance the Viet Nam war. Chances for dropping the two provisions appeared good as the conferees try to compromise Senate and House versions and meet President Johnson's March 15 deadline for final congressional action on the measure.

STAND FIRM
Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told a reporter he had been advised the House conferees would stand firm against the two amendments.

One would provide Social Security coverage for 1.8 million persons over 70 not covered now. The other would confine reinstatement of the 10 per cent excise tax on phone calls to long-distance calls while keeping it at 3 per cent for local residential calls.

TAX SPEEDUP
Major provisions in the bill are reimposition of taxes on phone calls and car sales that were cut Jan. 1, a graduated withholding system for collection of personal income taxes and a speedup in payment of corporation taxes.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., predicted the Senate conferees would abandon the two amendments "before they get to the rotunda." The Senate conferees pass through the rotunda in the center of the Capitol on the way to meet the House group.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., charged that the President had sent up a "pity-bill" not geared to meet the government's needs in the war crisis.

UNDER $5 BILLION
As the bill cleared the Senate Wednesday by a 79-9 vote, it would provide a net of less than $5 billion.

The Social Security amendment by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., adopted 45 to 40 Tuesday, would cost an estimated $750 million.

And the proposal by Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., to knock out of the bill the increase in the excise on local residential telephone service would wipe out $315 million of the bill's revenue.

WANTS RECOGNITION
The union has been seeking school board recognition as the bargaining agent for the city's more than 3,000 teachers. The union and the rival City of Minneapolis Education Association, which condemned the strike vote, each claim about 1,500 members.

The school board is expected to seek an injunction against a strike.

Talk Of New Moves In Viet Stirs Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today he does not believe President Johnson is giving consideration at this time to proposals to blockade North Viet Nam ports.

Mansfield said in an interview he thinks any action to mine the harbor of Haiphong, bomb the docks there or intercept supply ships would bring a confrontation with the Soviet Union that might drive the Soviets and the Chinese Communists closer together.

FRESH ACTION?
He gave his views as a feeling of uneasiness spread among some senators that Johnson may be considering fresh action to diminish military supplies reaching the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview that this feeling is based on a statement by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor that he is inclined to believe the time has been reached to mine the Haiphong harbor from the air to cut off shipping.

Taylor, a part-time presidential adviser, said he was giving only his personal opinion. But Mundt said he doubts the general would have made such a statement without at least tacit White House approval.

QUESTIONS LOOM
This and other Viet Nam war questions were likely to be raised in a Senate debate on a $415-million foreign aid authorization, including $275 million in emergency funds for South Viet Nam.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, turned over management of the measure to Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala. Fulbright, a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said he lacked enthusiasm for the bill.

The committee, in recommending approval of the measure Wednesday, said it has doubts expenditures in South Viet Nam will provide a better life for the people there.

HOLDING OPERATION
"Until the military situation improves," the committee said, "our aid program is likely to be little more than a holding operation keeping the wolves of rampant inflation away from the door and providing relief where needed."

"The committee hopes that the officials of the South Vietnamese government will vigorously pursue a program of economic and social reforms as pledged in the declaration of Honolulu. This committee will remain skeptical until words are matched with deeds."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said in a supplemental statement the committee's inquiry into Viet Nam policy produced evidence the reasons for the "present size and scope of United States involvement in Southeast Asia are subject to question" and raise the danger of the war becoming "open-ended."

NO CONCESSION
Clark and Church announced they would vote for the bill but agreed with Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., that this would not reflect "a ratification" of the conduct of the war or indicate any future commitment.

The bill already has passed the House.

Mundt said he suspects that in time there will be action to halt the shipping of supplies to North Viet Nam.

"I think the time is going to come when we will have to act to cut off the supplies that are going into Haiphong," Mundt said. "There are several ways it can be done and I would not be surprised if some action is taken soon."

PERSONAL VIEW
Mansfield said, however, that Taylor was speaking on his own and not in his capacity as a former ambassador to Saigon or a presidential adviser.

"I feel that the President is not giving any serious consideration to any such move at this time," he said.

Losses Heavy As Fort Falls In Red Hands

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — After almost two days of fierce fighting, the Special Forces camp at Ashau was lost to the Viet Cong tonight.

Lt. Col. Kenneth B. Lacey, commander of the Special Forces detachment in Da Nang, announced: "We closed Ashau at 5:45 this evening."

The colonel said a "certain number of defenders" were evacuated by helicopter before the camp was abandoned to the victorious Communist force, estimated now as a reinforced North Vietnamese regiment.

CASUALTIES HEAVY
The American and Montagnard defenders suffered heavy casualties.

It was not known immediately where the few rescued survivors were taken.

Col. William McKean, commander of all Special Forces in the area, said: "We sent in a whole flock of helicopters but the ceiling closed right in on them."

A heavy cloud cover had prevented effective air support or relief since the battle started at the triangular mud and log fort near the Laotian border 60 miles northwest of Da Nang.

INITIAL ATTACK
A force of 15 to 20 Americans and about 300 tough little Montagnard troopers occupied the lonely outpost when it was attacked in the predawn hours of Wednesday.

The defenders fought fiercely from that time until late Thursday afternoon. At one time the survivors occupied about one-fourth of the camp's bunkers while the North Vietnamese regulars held the rest.

FINAL TRY
Thursday afternoon about 100 survivors, many wounded but still fighting, mounted a last-ditch charge but were driven back.

With attack planes bombing blindly because of the cloud cover and dropping their bombs within the confines of the outpost itself, one last effort was made to bring out the survivors.

This is the first time the Viet Cong have conquered a Special Forces camp since a similar battle Aug. 19 at Dak Sut.

CLOUD CEILING
McKean said the decision to abandon the camp to the enemy was made after the weather had foiled all attempts to send in reinforcements.

"There was 40 minutes this afternoon when the ceiling over the valley went up to 1,800 feet, but by the time U.S. Marine choppers got there to start evacuating the survivors the ceiling was back down to 50 feet," McKean said.

AVIATORS LAUDED
Radio, and other military equipment in the part of the camp still held by the defenders was destroyed before they evacuated it, McKean said.

The Special Forces commander had high praise for the Marine aviators who attempted to bomb the enemy positions throughout the day. "But we were badly hampered by the weather. Everything was in favor of the Viet Cong," McKean said.

Some survivors were flown out by helicopter during the afternoon, McKean said. Some Americans were believed to be amongst them.

CITES VALOR
McKean said he thought the Communist death toll would be "very high." He said, "My men fought every inch of the way."

Politicos Using Sign-Up In Grab For Headlines

By The Associated Press
Politicians continued Wednesday to use the current voter registration in Texas as a subject for headline-grabbing debate.

(Related Story on Page 12-B.)

In Washington, Sen. Ralph Yarborough said he regretted "that some state officials have taken personal offense because I have stated that I want the people of Texas to be able to vote."

ATTACKS KATZENBACH
In Amarillo, Secretary of State Crawford Martin, long-time office holder from Hillsboro, attacked U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach for ordering the FBI to check Texas voter registration in 43 counties. Martin told the Panhandle County Judges and Commissioners Association that selection of the 43 counties remained "an unexplained mystery."

The state attorney general candidate, who resigned his secretary of state post effective Saturday, said he always had strongly supported the FBI. But now, he added, "the attorney general has them riding around looking for trouble rather than investigating where it exists."

"SCARED POLITICIANS"
Yarborough, in his Wednesday statement said, "only scared politicians who represent the special interests and not the people, would try to keep the people from voting."

The statement added: "I do not think that the action of the Justice Department under fellow Texan Lyndon B. Johnson has humiliated anyone, nor do I think the gimmick of hollering 'police state' when just laws are being enforced can sway the people's emotions..."

Three More Producers Hike Newsprint Price

NEW YORK (AP) — A $10-a-ton increase in the price of newsprint is spreading through the industry.

Three more producers joined in the boost Wednesday. They are British Columbia Forest Products, Abitibi Paper Co. and Anglo Canadian Pulp & Paper Mills.

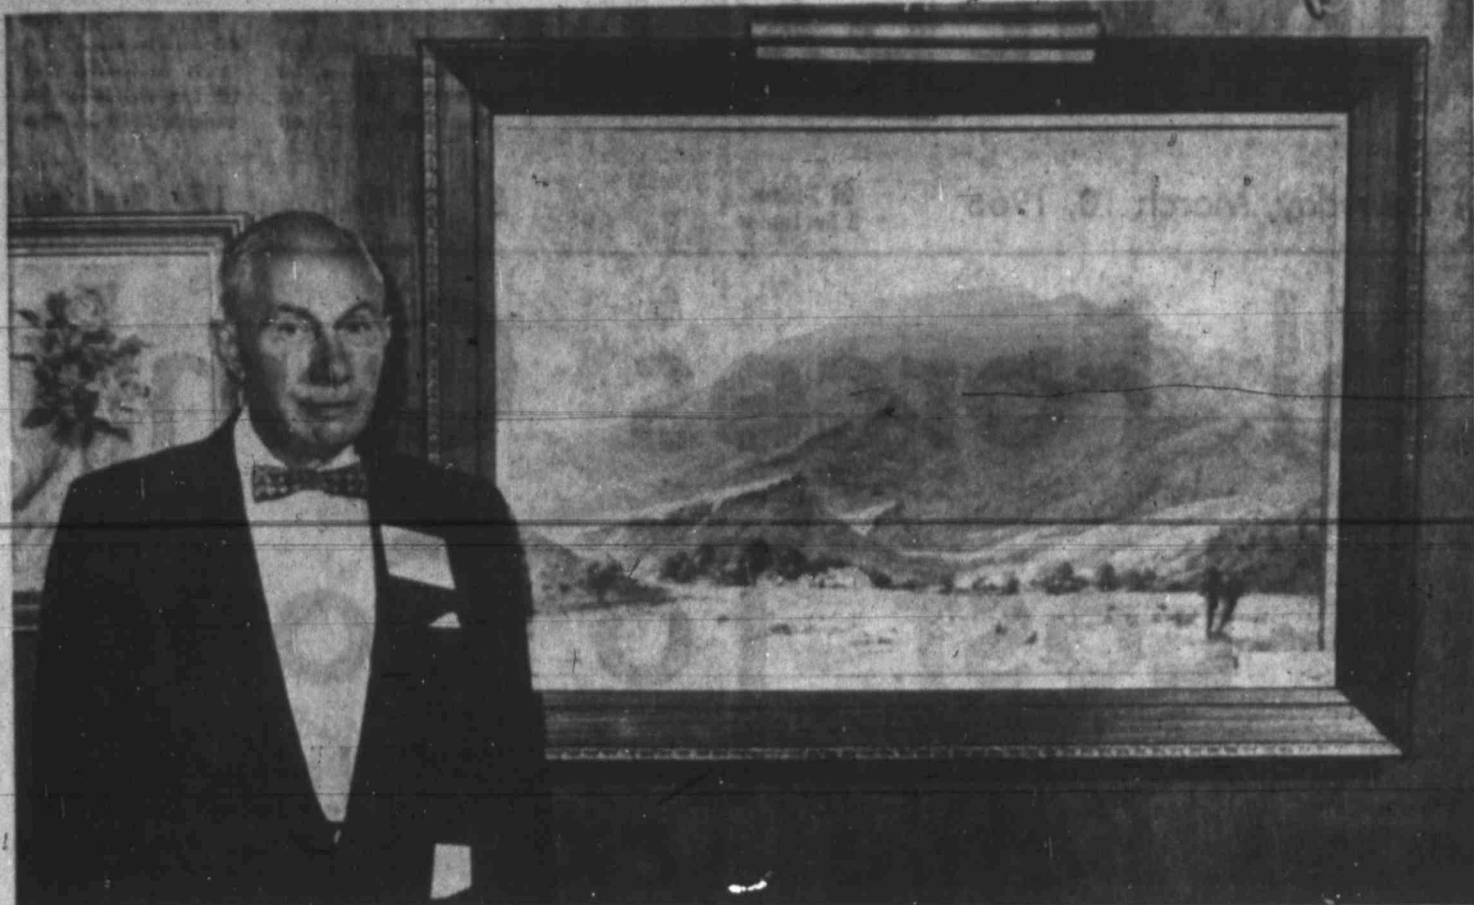

The increases are effective April 1.

More than half of the Canadian newsprint production is now affected. Canadian companies supply 80 per cent of U.S. newsprint needs.

Crown Zellerbach Canada Inc. followed by Domtar and Consolidated Paper Corp.

The new price in the Eastern United States will be $144 a ton and in the Western United States $134.

The Southern Newspaper Publishers Association has formally protested the increase.

Popped Cork Brings Suit

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — A suit for $114,975 has been filed by an Air Force captain against a Navy lieutenant who popped a champagne cork at an Armed Forces Day party.

The Air Force officer, Capt. Robert A. Dash of Stewart Air Force Base, Tenn., is suing Lt. Thomas W. Hogan of Chase Field, Beeville, Tex., in 15th District Court in Denison.

The suit alleges Hogan and Dash were at Perrin AFB near Denison on May 15, 1964, to take part in Armed Forces Day celebrations.

At a party held later in the day in the base officers' quarters, the suit alleges that Hogan popped open a bottle of champagne and the cork struck Dash in the eye.

Dash said the accident caused the loss of his side or peripheral vision, causing him to lose his pilot status. The money, he contends, is for compensation of his loss of pilot status.

Long Leave Finally Over

DALLAS (AP) — Civic leader James H. Stewart has returned to the staff of Southern Methodist University after a 20-year absence to become vice president for university relations, SMU President Willis M. Tate announced.

He replaces Dr. Keith Baker, who resigned to accept a bank job. Stewart retired as executive vice president and general manager of the State Fair of Texas at the first of the year after 15 years in that post.

Job Trainees Given Terms

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Two Camp Gary job corps trainees were given prison sentences Wednesday for the shooting of two Lackland Air Force Base airmen.

James Wesley Neely, 18, of Chicago pleaded guilty to assault with intent to rob Airman S.C. Robin Pettengill, 19, of San Bernardino, Calif., and received an 8-year prison term.

Claudell Hughes, 18, of Chicago, received a 4-year prison sentence after pleading nolo contendere to charge of assault with intent to murder. He was accused of shooting Airman S.C. Frank Marsello Jr., 18, of Elizabeth, N.J.

Sentences were handed down by District Judge John Olson. He said the sentences will be deferred pending investigation of applications for probation. Police said the two airmen were shot July 17, 1965, while resisting a holdup attempt in downtown San Antonio. Both Air Force men recovered from the wounds.

Hotel In Laredo Changes Hands

LAREDO (AP) — Laredo's tallest structure, the 12-story Hamilton Hotel, has been sold to five Laredo businessmen, it was disclosed Wednesday.

The 300-room hotel, which was built in 1890, was purchased from David and Logan L. Stephenson of San Antonio for $410,000.

Purchasers of the hotel were Laredo Mayor Joe C. Martin Jr., Max Mandel, a banker; A. E. Gujardo, an automobile dealer; Mervil Moore, an auto parts store operator; and Attorney Elmore Borchert.

Politicians In Britain May Snipe At U.S.

LONDON (AP) — Uncle Sam may come in for some hard knocks in Britain's national election campaign which begins officially Friday.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson set the election for March 31 hoping to increase his Labor party's parliamentary majority substantially over its present three-vote margin.

There is a growing feeling of frustration among many British citizens who believe that Britain's policy is too closely aligned with Washington.

Politicians of all three major parties have made clear they intend to exploit the issue. Their positions are roughly these:

LABORITE CHARGE — Left-wing Laborites strongly oppose Wilson's support of U.S. policy and action in Viet Nam. Some have charged that this was the price their party leader had to pay for American support of the pound sterling.

The Liberals oppose British backing of American efforts to contain Red China. They say Britain's future lies in Europe, not "east of Suez."

The Conservatives believe, in the words of party leader Edward Heath, that British dependence on the United States is "not the right relationship for allies." Heath wants to strengthen the British economy so "we can stand on our own feet."

CARDINAL POLICY Before the Laborites came to power and even during the first days of Wilson's administration, there were fears in the United States that relations between the two countries would deteriorate.

But Wilson made close U.S.-British ties a cardinal policy and many observers believe relations between Washington and London have never been closer.

Two Queens And A Watermelon

Pat Belson, left, of San Marcos, Tex., and Mary Betty Foley of Victoria, Tex., share a slice of watermelon in Atlanta, Ga., Tuesday night after Pat was crowned National Watermelon Queen at ceremonies sponsored by the Watermelon Growers and Producers Association. 'Doomed Child' Has A Risky Operation

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Little 5-year-old Judy Lynn Funch has a chance to live a normal life. Judy's parents consented to the risky operation to give their daughter that chance.

"She's very enthused about it all. She even looks forward to the railroad tracks she'll have on her chest from the surgical scars," said Judy's mother. "But we're heartsick," she added. Her husband nodded agreement. "She's been playing with the other kids, and is happy with her favorite doll, Suzy," said Mrs. Funch. "She was particularly thrilled to see her picture in the paper."

Highly susceptible to disease, Judy has suffered congestive heart failure and been stricken several times with pneumonia. "This will be exploratory surgery to see if help can be offered to the child," explained one of the physicians. "We may not be able to do anything for her."

As the story of Judy's plight became known around the country, messages of encouragement arrived at the hospital. A couple wired from Bogalusa, La.:

"Our son had heart surgery at age 4. He's now a normal and happy boy. We had to make a similar decision. You can know that if anything happens Thursday it is God's will and you have done everything possible as parents to give Judy a normal life. Our prayers are with you and Judy."

The Funches' home is in Genesee Township, a suburb of Flint.

China Likely To Be More Belligerent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Red China is believed on the verge of critical foreign policy decisions which could further inflame its rivalry with the United States and Russia and perhaps intensify the war in Southeast Asia.

Johnson administration leaders are watching Peking closely for signs of new moves. Officials say they believe the policy review has been under way there for two or three months and must be about completed.

CAUSE UNCERTAIN

They are not sure when the results will begin to show up or whether the ultimate effect will be to harden or soften the Red Chinese attitude toward other countries.

But they are concerned about the possibility that Red China will become even more belligerent in an effort to compensate for setbacks suffered during the past year.

Among these reverses, as evaluated by Washington, are the recent overthrow of Kwame Nkrumah in Ghana, attacks on Peking by Fidel Castro of Cuba, the Army drive beginning last fall against the powerful pro-Chinese Communist hold in Indonesia and the massive buildup of U.S. military power in Southeast Asia.

MORE BITTER

Within the Communist bloc itself, the conflict between Moscow and Peking has grown constantly more bitter, particularly because of strains imposed by their differences over the war in Viet Nam.

The Chinese Communist party newspaper told readers last week that "victory in the struggle is frequently intermingled with reverses." The article was read here as a notable public admission inside the country that Red China's drive to extend its influence and power throughout Asia, Africa, and Latin America was not going well.

Six Texans Killed In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Texans were among 51 U.S. Servicemen listed Wednesday as killed in action in Viet Nam. The over-all toll reflected 43 members of the Marine Corps killed last weekend northwest of Quang Ngai near Viet Nam's central coast.

Marines from Texas killed: Sgt. Antonio Jimenez, son of Mrs. Mable M. Jimenez, 1525 Webster Street, Waco, Tex. Pfc. Rickey D. Garner, son of Mrs. Dahlia B. Garner, Dallas. Lance Cpl. Alfred J. Smith, son of Mrs. Annie Mary Smith, 7424 Cabot Street, Houston, Tex. Pfc. Joe Rodriguez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecilio Rodriguez, 704 East 4th Street, Rio Grande, Tex.

Pfc. Mario Ybarra, husband of Mrs. Manan R. Ybarra, 1501 East Katie Street, Weslaco, Tex. The Texas soldier killed was Pfc. Jack W. Lindsey, son of Mrs. Dorris Phillips, 13102 Reeve Street, Houston, Tex.

Fire Hoses And Tear Gas Disperse Negro Marchers

HERTFORD, N.C. (AP) — Authorities used tear gas and fire hoses to disperse about 200 Negro demonstrators Wednesday night.

Police said 30 persons were arrested for parading without a permit and released on $50 bond each. No injuries were reported. Three highway patrolmen were struck by flying objects, but none required treatment.

FARM COMMUNITY — Hertford is an agricultural community of about 2,500 on the Perquimans River near the coast. It is 17 miles southwest of Elizabeth City. The area has a large Negro population.

The violence broke out as police loaded demonstrators on a prison department bus.

The march was called by civil rights leader Golden Frinks of Edenton to protest "the power structure's refusal to conduct good faith negotiations." Frinks was one of those arrested.

The Negroes are demanding a 14-point program, including the hiring of Negro policemen, deputy sheriffs and store clerks.

PASTOR SPEAKS

The Rev. F. L. Andrews, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Edenton, also arrested, said Negroes are "dissatisfied with the way Hertford and Perquimans County are responding to our recommendations."

Mayor V. N. Darden, who also is police chief, said the Negroes earlier in the day refused to ask for a parade permit, but later sought one.

"I told them it was too late then," he said.

The mayor called for police reinforcements when he said Frinks told him the protest march would be held "permit or no permit."

Thirty-one highway patrolmen, eight game protectors, five Hertford policemen, a deputy sheriff and two state bureau of investigation agents were standing by.

FIGHTING ERUPTS

The fighting broke out shortly after 10 p.m. when the 200 persons marched out of the First Baptist Church, down the sidewalk and onto the main street.

Police arrested 30 marchers and told the others to return to their homes. When they refused, firemen, with three hoses ready, sprayed the crowd.

The Negroes hid behind buildings and began throwing things. The patrolmen, carrying long night sticks, moved into the middle of the fight and fired tear gas. The crowd dispersed.

Boost In Newsprint Prices Draws Protest

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The Southern Newspaper Publishers Association protested today a $10-per-ton increase in newsprint prices by Bowater Paper Co. as "unwarranted" and "inflationary."

"The South is already paying the highest price for newsprint of any section of the United States and now you are attempting to penalize us," SNPA officials charged in a telegram to Wallace Sprague, Bowater president.

Bowater, a major newsprint plant at Calhoun, Tenn., said Monday the price of newsprint will go to $145 per ton April 1 because of an "upward thrust of newsprint manufacturing and distribution costs."

Schoolmen Get Contracts

LAMESA (SC) — New contracts were awarded all Lamesa School administrators in a school board meeting this week. Those receiving extensions included Abe Holder, school superintendent; O. W. Follis, athletic director; C. E. Green, attendance director; Ted Hughes, business manager; V. C. Bearden, curriculum director; Donald Jay, head football coach; and all principals: Al Langford, high school; G. L. Trice, junior high school; Ballard Turner, Central Elementary School; O. W. Richardson, V. Z. Rogers School; K. D. Smith, North Elementary School; and Wayne Parker, South Elementary School.

This Is School?

PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK

Vocational Programs Place High In Local Curriculum

By TOM BARRY

Big Spring Independent School District conducts six "off-campus" vocational programs for its high school students.

Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of instructional services, said these classes were developed for those high schoolers who will not go to college after their graduation.

SPECIALIZED
"About 50 per cent of our graduates do not go on to college," Dr. Ainsworth said, "and we feel that they need some specialized training." The vocational classes are one answer to the training problem.

Students in these classes show a great deal of interest, Dr. Ainsworth said.

The classes are auto mechanics, appliance repair, vocational office training, building trades, Industrial Cooperative Training and Distributive Education.

About 110 students participate. "The first thing that is done," Dr. Ainsworth said, "is to instruct the class members in safety. They must pass a safety examination before they do any outside job work."

Students attend regular high school classes in ordinary subjects, as well as the vocational training courses.

All the participating students are in either the 11th or 12th grade, Dr. Ainsworth said.

BUILDING TRADES
Building trades class members are in the midst of a real project.

Opening lead: Deuce of ♠. Altho the declarer actually brought about his own downfall, an assist should be credited to West for displaying shrewd insight in defending against South's four spade contract.

West opened the deuce of clubs. East put up the ace and returned the seven to his partner's king. West realized that he could exit safely with the jack of clubs, forcing the dummy to ruff, but he decided instead to put the declarer to an immediate guess in the heart suit—and he shifted to the jack of hearts.

He reasoned as follows: If hearts were left untouched and it developed that South required an additional trick late in the play, he might fall back on a heart finesse. At trick three, however, the declarer might well be reluctant to commit himself in the suit.

South put up the ace of hearts from dummy, led a spade to the king, cashed the ace, and ruffed his last club. The king of diamonds was played and a small diamond led, as declarer finessed the jack. When the ten dropped from West's hand, South would have welcomed another entry to dummy to repeat the diamond finesse.

Declarer exited with a trump. East was in, and he returned a club. South ruffed, cashed the last spade and the ace of diamonds; however, East took the setting trick with the queen of diamonds.

In the absence of West's early heart shift, declarer would have retained the ace of hearts as a late entry to dummy to repeat the diamond finesse.

South was in position to save the game at the end if he had merely retained the king of diamonds in dummy. It is suggested that he lead the four of diamonds first and play the jack from his hand. When the finesse succeeds, a diamond is returned to North's king and, with the fall of the ten, declarer is able to finesse the nine on the return.

Schools Provide Economic Impact

Sometimes overlooked is the economic impact of education on a community. Although this is secondary to the service the schools perform, it is nonetheless a significant contribution to the economic life of the county.

The three independent school districts in this county, for instance, have combined budgets of a little less than $5 million per year. If the $800,000 budget of the junior college is added, the total is about $5½ million.

For the most part, this money is spent locally, and more than $3 million is in payrolls. The schools employ about 625 people including 482 professional personnel.

BIG SPRING
The Big Spring Independent School District has by far the biggest budget and the most employees. Of a total $3,928,048 budget, some $2½ million goes to the 405 teachers in payrolls. There are 115 others employed.

COAHOMA
The Coahoma Independent School District operates on a budget of $488,807, with 47 professional personnel, and an instructional payroll of almost $300,000.

FORSAN
The Forsan Independent School District has a $335,233 budget, paying its 30 teachers about $175,000. There are 12 others employed.

Other officers named included: Haskell R. Street, El Paso, president-elect; J. D. Henry of Dallas; Hugh McPhillips of Port Arthur; James Pirkle of McCarney and Gilbert O. Baird of Taft, vice presidents.

State Sen. Jack Strong of Longview was a speaker at the school.

Mercury Springlike, Texas Skies Cloudy
By The Associated Press
Patches of drizzle or fog dotted South Texas early today and skies were cloudy in most other sections of the state.

Temperatures remained springlike, dipping no lower than the 40s to 50s overnight at most points.

Top marks Wednesday served notice that hot weather could be in the offing. The mercury climbed to 85 degrees at Presidio and 83 at Wink in West Texas.

Del Rio and San Antonio were among the places dampened by very light rain, and it was foggy around Houston before dawn.

Weather Bureau observers looked for occasional showers to spread into all areas of the state by Friday and for turbulence to touch off a few thunderstorms across the southern half.

Rev. Tschoepe New Bishop

DALLAS (AP)—The Most Rev. Thomas Tschoepe, a native of Denton County, was consecrated a bishop in the Roman Catholic Church Wednesday in a ceremony at Sacred Heart Cathedral.

Bishop Tschoepe was designated bishop of San Angelo on Jan. 12 by Pope Paul VI. He had been vicar-general of the Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese.

A total of 38 bishops and 30 priests took part in the ritual, but the Most Rev. Thomas K. Gorman, bishop of Dallas-Fort Worth was the consecrator and principal celebrant.

One of the bishops was The Most Rev. Leo A. Pursley, bishop of Fort Wayne-South Bend, Ind., and a cousin of the new bishop.

The Most Rev. Thomas J. Drury, bishop of Corpus Christi, in delivering the sermon said, "I can assure the newly consecrated that the people of San Angelo will rally to his support in all he intends to do."

"The Holy Spirit has called you, Bishop Tschoepe, to labor in this world of contradictions. He will also guide and protect you in all your undertakings."

The new bishop, 50, was born in Pilot Point, Tex., and was ordained a priest in 1943. He will be installed as bishop in San Angelo in the next several weeks.

Blaze Levels Plant Building

EL CAMPO, Tex. (AP)—Fire levelled a big building at the May Aluminum Co. factory late Wednesday, and the firm's president estimated the loss at $250,000 to $300,000.

Employees discovered the blaze as they were leaving shortly after 5 p.m. The roof and walls collapsed by the time volunteer firemen arrived.

Company president Doyle May said the tile structure, covering 40,000 square feet, contained large quantities of paint and chemicals.

May Aluminum fabricates a number of items, including aircraft landing mats under government contract. Its plant is on the west edge of El Campo off IIS 59.

The main building, where about 600 people work, was not affected by the fire. Twenty employees were assigned to the building which burned.

Shortage Of Doctors And Staffs Studied

NEW YORK (AP) — Dozens of reasons are advanced as causes of today's shortage of doctors and health personnel.

The diagnosis includes, ironically, two elements that have made American medicine very good medicine indeed.

One is its quality, stemming partly from very high standards of medical school training most observers point out. But this has limited the output, with only about 8,000 new doctors being graduated annually from U.S. schools.

RESEARCH GAINS

Another is brilliant progress from research—new drugs, new surgical and medical and rehabilitation techniques, all making the physician far more effective than in the old sugar pill and sympathy days of medicine.

Today's doctors can do more. But, as in open-heart surgery, a whole team of surgeons, physicians, nurses and other skilled people may become involved for one patient at a time.

BIG REQUIREMENT

A cardiologist estimates 45,000 heart attack victims, who now die soon after their attacks could be saved each year if major hospitals all had intensive care units. But each unit requires a 24-hour staff of nurses, doctors and technicians, razor-sharp in skills, ready to rush to a patient's bedside at the first signal of trouble.

Too many go into research for "nice 9 to 5 jobs, leaving fewer physicians on the firing line seeing patients," says one busy New York City internist. "Lots of the research is minor."

OTHERS BECKON

Administrative tasks, government and military service, other jobs also employ doctors. Right now, only 63 out of every 100 U.S. doctors are engaged in private practice.

Each year, 10,000 young

Youngster Causes Changes In Housekeeping Schedule

By JO ANN PHINIZY

Catering to the eating habits of one and one-half-year-old Mishell is no trial at all for her mother, Mrs. Robert A. Fuller, 612 Colgate.

"She eats absolutely anything," Mrs. Fuller said. "In fact, I am beginning to wonder if she is going to have taste discretion at all."

Mrs. Fuller believes that part of Mishell's eating trend must surely be sheer happiness in saying goodbye to pabulum.

Since baby food lacks the merit of pleasing appearance, Mrs. Fuller said that the least she could do was to open the cans, warm, serve, operate the spoon, and have acute sympathy pangs.

"It was enough to shatter any appetite," she remembers.

The pabulum episode isn't the only routine that Mishell has toppled (and rebuilt) around the Fuller home.

BALANCED MEALS

On the plus side, since Mishell's graduation into solids, the Fullers find themselves eating vitamin - balanced meals. It's become such a trait that even the late-late snacks are calorie regulated.

On the other side of the ledger, Mishell has just crashed the mimicking and "helping" barrier. She spends most of her waking hours following her mother's shadow.

Mrs. Fuller says it is a little disconcerting to see yourself in such precise duplicate and to realize that some changes are in order.

For instance, Mrs. Fuller sometimes rattles around in search of a missing pot or pan and mutters things about people who lose things. Then there was the day that Mishell began rattling around in a miniature set of kitchen ware and was just on the verge of talking clearly.

Another habit that Mrs. Fuller has suddenly become conscious of is coffee drinking. She said she didn't realize how much of her favorite beverage she consumed until she noticed Mishell wandering around with a doll-size coffee cup in her hand.

In the grown-up world, Mrs. Fuller is a seeker of short cut cooking methods. On occasion, she will experiment with a "wild" recipe, but on the whole she likes to find a set way to cook each family meal and to stick with it forever more.

WILD GAME

Since her husband, Robert Fuller, an engineer at Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, takes his outdoor hunting seriously, Mrs. Fuller has adopted a method of cooking wild game. She barbecues dove, quail, quail, bakes or fries fish, and anything goes on venison.

Once upon a time, she and Fuller decided to turn deer meat into dried jerky - and it turned out to be excellent for TV munching.

What they did was to cut the meat into thin, six inch slices, roll it in salt and pepper, and season for 24 hours in the refrigerator.

MRS. ROBERT A. FULLER AND DAUGHTER, MISHELL

frigerator. For drying, Mrs. Fuller solved the problem by turning her oven on low and using bent paper clips to hold the meat to the racks. The drying process took 24 hours.

One of Mrs. Fuller's favorite short cuts is using canned condensed soup for vegetable sauce. She says that the variety is endless and adds a little something extra to almost any vegetable dish.

Mrs. Fuller chose recipes that are quick, easy and always good.

TACOS
1 lb. ground beef
1/2 lb. cheese, grated
1 pkg. (18) tortillas
1 small can tomato sauce (Mexican hot style)
Brown beef in hot fat, drain. Dip each tortilla in hot fat in separate skillet for only a second. Fill each tortilla with ground beef and sprinkle with grated cheese; close with toothpick. Place in shallow baking dish; bake in slow oven (300 degrees) for 30 minutes. Prepare combination salad of lettuce, green pepper, onion and tomatoes. When ready to serve, open tacos, fill inside with salad, and add a spoonful of taco sauce.

SACHITOS

1 bag tostadas
1/2 lb. Longhorn cheese, grated
1 small jar jalapeno peppers
Place tostadas on foil-lined cookie sheet; cover with grated cheese. Slice jalapeno pepper thin and place one slice on each tostada. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees) until cheese is melted.

BANANA CREAM CAKE

1/2 cup shortening
2 cups flour
1 1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1 cup mashed ripe banana
1/4 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Stir shortening just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add banana; milk and vanilla. Mix till all flour is dampened. Then beat vigorously two minutes. Add eggs and beat two minutes long-

Ice Coffee Aids Quick Luncheon

Why worry about calories? This season, above all, is a boon for the weight-watcher. Salads like this delicious crabmeat beauty, with its zesty yogurt dressing, offer delectable low-calorie eating.

The cool companion is iced coffee, virtually without a calorie to count. It can be prepared almost effortlessly, either with instant coffee or with regular coffee poured over coffee ice cubes. Make the cubes by freezing extra breakfast coffee in your refrigerator ice tray.

CRABMEAT SALAD

3 cans (7 1/2 oz. each) King crabmeat
1 cup sliced celery
1 medium cucumber, peeled, scored and sliced
1 medium green pepper cut in thin strips
18 cherry tomatoes, halved
Salad greens
Combine first 5 ingredients and arrange on salad greens. Serve dressing separately. Makes six servings.

LOW CALORIE DRESSING

Combine 1 cup plain yogurt, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, dash Tabasco, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; 1/4 cup chili sauce, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon sugar, dash pepper, 1/2 teaspoon dried dill weed. Mix well and chill. Makes 6 servings.

Try Quick Lunch With Cut Beans

Combine 1 can (1 lb.) cut green beans, drained, with 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed chicken with rice soup, diluted as label directs. Bring to boil. Beat 2 eggs lightly with dash salt and thyme seasoning powder and stir into hot soup mixture. Serve at once with cold ham strips and French bread for a delicious luncheon.

Coffee Hour Invades White House Politics

Not long after he took office, President Johnson created a small stir when he issued a spur-of-the-moment invitation for coffee to a group of newspaper reporters. Since this turned out to be his first Presidential press conference, it took a moment for the newsmen to adjust to the surprise and the informality. Soon, however, the news was flowing as fast and hot as the coffee itself.

In Washington, and especially in the White House, coffee enjoys a heavy social schedule. It is there to welcome not only newsmen, but returning heroes, visiting dignitaries, even newly-elected Presidents on the way to their inaugurations.

EARLY HISTORY
The precedent for coffee hospitality was established right along with the United States of America. At the first President's home in New York City, at the juncture of Cherry and Queen streets (long since razed to create the entrance to the Brooklyn Bridge), Martha Washington held Friday evening receptions serving coffee and cake to large gatherings. Formal Presidential dinners, which began punctually at 4 p.m., were always followed by coffee in the drawing room for the ladies.

FINE COOK
Like the Roosevelts, the Trumans preferred simple fare. Bess Truman, a fine cook herself, appreciated good cookery. She knew good coffee, too. When coffee was served, she would take a spoonful and look critically at the color, then comment favorably or unfavorably, as the case might be. The chef stood near enough to note the

QUICK TREAT Uses coffee flavor

Coffee Parfait Makes Party Dessert Special

The French have a perfect word for "perfect." It's "parfait" of course - a cool dessert that is indeed perfection.

The original parfait was Cafe Parfait and here is a variation on that theme - Coffee Tapioca Parfait.

COFFEE TAPIOCA PARFAIT

1 egg, separated
5 tbsps. sugar, divided
2 cups coffee beverage
3 tbsps. quick-cooking tapioca
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Chocolate syrup
Chopped walnuts
Beat egg white until foamy. Add 2 tbsps. sugar, singly, beating until mixture forms soft peaks. Set aside. Combine egg yolk with 1/4 cup coffee in saucepan. Add tapioca, salt, remaining coffee and sugar. Stir over medium heat until mixture comes to full boil (5 to 8 minutes). Remove from heat, pour small amount on egg white mixture and blend well. Quickly stir in remaining tapioca mixture. Add vanilla. Cool; stir once after 15 minutes. Chill. Spoon alternate layers of tapioca mixture, whipped cream and chocolate syrup into parfait glasses. Top with whipped cream and chopped walnuts. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Serve Salad Hot On Brisk Days

Weather seem too brisk for cold potato salad? Then serve it hot. Mix hot, cooked cubed potatoes with salt and pepper to taste, mayonnaise, chopped onion and cubed fresh tomato. Heat through, then mix in chopped western iceberg lettuce. Serve at once while lettuce is fresh and crisp.

'Java' Term Develops In Early Time

About 1690, Nicholas Witsen, the foresighted burghmaster of Amsterdam and governor of the Dutch East Indies Company, persuaded the company to grant rewards for botanical experiments which produced new crops of commercial value. Witsen also arranged to have coffee seedlings sent from Malabar to Java for experimental planting. Like magic, the coffee plants flourished beyond Witsen's greatest expectations. By 1711, regular commercial shipments of prized Java coffee were being sent to Amsterdam.

Today, over a hundred different types of coffee beans come to the United States. Names like Santos, Medellin, Tachira, Ocrus and Ambriz are heard in world coffee markets. Mocha and Java, now also associated with the brew itself, were only the first of many melodic words to form the colorful language of the coffee trade.

Chicken Broth Was First Soup

Why is "soup" called "soup"? During the 10th century, according to the National Broiler Council, stewed chicken was a favorite.

The chicken was eaten separately and one dipped hunks of bread in the broth; this was called "sop."

It took two centuries before it dawned on people that the chicken broth tasted great in its own right.

Then the term "sop" or "soupe" was transferred to the broth itself.

Cookies Accompany Coffee-Fund Drives

This month, the coffee urn will be filled again and again on behalf of worthy causes, ranging from vote - getting to fund-raising. Somehow, it's easier to talk with coffee cups in hand.

Refreshments are best kept on the simple side at these gatherings - just a small sweet to serve along with the coffee. Here's a fair cousin of the traditional Brownies - sweet, chewy "Blondies" that make a cup of coffee taste even better.

BLONDIES
1/4 cup shortening
2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
2 eggs

Wake Up With Java

Welcome early birds with a steaming pot of coffee. When Dad slips in for a first glimpse at the paper. When anxious guests wander down, although brunch is planned for mid-morning. For all who gather in the kitchen eager for conversation, set a coffee corner.

It need not be elaborate, but arrange a help-yourself tray with all the "fixin's." In a cozy spot away from the work center, set out cups and saucers the night before. First thing in the morning, plug in or brew fresh coffee or tea. For heartier appetites, have bread ready to toast. And if you like, jam and a glass of fruit juice rounds the snack out to a well-balanced breakfast.

Almond-Burgers Make Ideal Dish

Lightly toss ground beef with seasonings to taste and roasted almonds. Gently shape and flatten loosely into thick patties. Cook to desired doneness. Sprinkle additional almonds on top of hamburgers before serving.

Princess Beatrix Marries German Today After Uproar

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — When the Dutch think of monarchs they talk of queens. It comes naturally after 76 years of "petticoat reigns."

"She reminds me of her grandmother," said the old Dutchman in talking about Crown Princess Beatrix and her marriage today to a former German diplomat, Claus von Amsberg.

Beatrix is in line to inherit the throne in a series of queenships that began with Queen Emma's regency for Wilhelm III in 1890.

Grandmother Wilhelmina was described by Winston Churchill during World War II as the only "man" in the Dutch government in exile in London. This praise came when she fired wavering Premier Jan de Geer in the fight against the Nazis.

"BRAVEST KING" On another occasion Churchill called the stout-hearted queen the bravest king in exile.

The royal Dutch matriarchy has served as a symbol of unity to an individualistic, independent-minded people sharply divided over the centuries into many political and religious denominations.

The Dutch queens — and Crown Princess Beatrix — have shown a determination along with womanly wit in getting their own way with Parliaments dominated by men.

Wilhelmina, on ascending to the throne in 1890, said she was "ready to accept the splendid but weighty task."

WON THEM OVER Her engagement two years later to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin raised concern among the Dutch people mistrustful of foreign influences. She won them over.

Wilhelmina reigned 59 years before abdicating in favor of her daughter, Juliana, and withdrawing entirely from public life.

She devoted herself to the study of religious subjects and writing an autobiography — "Lonely But Not Alone." She died in November, 1962.

Juliana did away with some elements of the old-fashioned court formalities that still remained. She went to live in a palace in the country, at Soestdijk, where informal life was possible. She does not like to see AMSTERDAM, the Netherlands (AP) — Crown Princess Beatrix, the future queen of the Netherlands, married a handsome German diplomat today as 1,000 demonstrators tried to march on the royal palace. Club-swinging police beat them back.

The bridegroom, Claus von Amsberg, 39, grew up under Hitler and as a youth served in the German army. The marriage made him a prince of the Netherlands, entitled him to an annual allowance of $83,000, and changed his name to the Dutch, Van Amsberg.

The demonstrators, most of them youths, shouted condemnations of the bridegroom and republican slogans but were about half a mile from the wedding procession through Amsterdam. The police dispersed the crowd as it started to march on the palace.

In the former Jewish quarter flowers were placed at the monument to the wartime resistance movement against the Germans. Youths also set off smoke-bombs in protest against the marriage.

THOUSANDS CHEER But thousands of Dutchmen, many waving flags, cheered the 28-year-old "smiling princess" and her bridegroom as the bridal procession moved through Amsterdam.

A simple civil ceremony in Amsterdam's City Hall preceded the glittering church wedding before a gathering of Europe's dwindling royalty.

The traditional marriage oath "to heed and obey" was omitted from the rites of the Dutch Reformed Church.

Amid the pomp and pageantry a restlessness ran through the Dutch nation, where five years of Nazi wartime occupation left deep scars.

The heaviest security forces in this ancient city's history — about 10,000 police and troops — were strung along the royal route.

Beatrix's wedding gown was of white satin in fitted "princess line" style with long sleeves and high neckline. The train, starting from the waist, was 15 feet long and seven feet wide.

She wore a short veil and the tiara of pearls and diamonds her grandmother Queen Wilhelmina wore when she married a German, Prince Hendrik, in 1900.

TENSENESS NOTED Mayor Gilsbert Van Hal, in pronouncing Beatrix and her choice man and wife, touched on the tenseness of the day and those ahead.

PRINCESS BEATRIX

queen and mother. "This is the choice of her heart and from a human view we believe it is an excellent one," Juliana told those who raised doubts about a German being at the right hand of their future queen.

And Juliana quieted the protests by promising she has no intention of abdicating — though this report had circulated since Beatrix became of age. She is 29, Von Amsberg 38.

TURNING ANTI-GERMAN Before World War II, Holland was probably the most pro-German country in Europe. The Nazi occupation changed this.

A German princess, however, molded the royal matriarchy.

She was Queen Emma, widow of King William III, the last Dutch king. Emma served as regent from his death in 1890 until their daughter Wilhelmina took the throne.

Wilhelmina's husband was a German, Juliana's husband, Prince Bernhard, is from German nobility and popular among the Dutch.

Juliana gets an annual state income of $975,000 plus $140,000 for maintaining a dozen or so palaces.

The House of Orange is rated one of the wealthiest of the royal families. Juliana is worth about $70 million, according to estimates, and owns, among other things, part of Wall Street.

Panel Takes Look At U.S., China Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee takes a close look at U.S.-China policy today.

In its second public hearing on China, the committee was to hear from Prof. John F. Fairbank, director of Harvard's East Asian research center.

He is on record as a believer in military containment of China, but as favoring U.S. recognition of the Communist regime in Peking and its admittance into the United Nations.

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee heard testimony Wednesday by John D. Rockefeller III on another phase of the Asian problem — exploding population.

Rockefeller, chairman of the Asia Society, said it is in the U.S. national interest to help developing countries with stabilization of population.

Halfway House Directors Get Good Financial Report

Carl Mangum, treasurer of the Halfway House board of directors, said Halfway House Inc. made $3,000 above expenses during 1965, at a luncheon meeting at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant Wednesday.

Excess of receipts over disbursements from Jan. 1, 1965, to Jan. 1, 1966, was $3,420.82, Mangum said.

Biggest amount of receipts was $8,102.44 in rent paid by an average of 11 residents of the house, the treasurer indicated.

"Several of the men were regularly employed during the year," he said, "adding to receipts from rent payments."

A total of $14,059.10 in receipts broke down this way: rent, $8,102.44; contributions, $5,290; United Fund, $666.66.

The house continues to "make money" this year, he said. During the last three months, $300 has been made over expenses.

He said nine men are residents of Halfway House at present.

"A number of fixed assets were purchased during the year," Mangum reported to board members. "We bought, follows: food, $3,390.18; rent of the building, $1,500; utilities, $938.39; salaries, $1,900.42; office expense, $25.99; other expense (laundry), $37.20; advertising, $108.42; legal and accounting, none; Social Security taxes, $68.93; repairs, $728.26; totals, including purchase of fixed assets, $10,638.18.

The bank balance as of Jan. 1, 1965, was only $202.60, Mangum said, but was $3,628.52 on Jan. 1, 1966. As of March 9, he said the balance has risen to $4,004.44, due to the continuing employment of Halfway House residents.

"The reason they're working I lay to the actions of this board, helping the men to rise to their potential," he declared.

In other business, Mangum said "we are still trying to get grants." He also said studies reveal that: "There is a growing tendency for halfway houses to become smaller, and more of them in a community, which tends to help break even in operation costs."

New Prison Folder Bears Cross' Name

AUSTIN (AP)—A pretty secretary in the State Board of Pardons and Paroles opened a bulging filing cabinet drawer and added a new folder. Its heading: "James C. Cross Jr."

The folder is thin now. It records only that Cross, convicted strangler of Dallas coed Susan Riggsby, became a state prison inmate last week.

But the folder, one of about 25,000 for every prison inmate and parolee, will grow as Cross, sentenced to life imprisonment, serves his time. Eventually it will contain the answer to a question asked by a number of Texans: When, if ever, will Cross go free?

There is no definite answer now, says Jack Ross, chairman of the three-man board, which decides with the governor whether any convict should be given another chance on "the outside."

The very earliest Cross—or any other "lifer"—may even be considered for parole, if every conceivable factor is in his favor. It is just under seven years, Ross said in an interview. It would take another three months to process a parole.

LITTLE CHANCE

There is absolutely no chance—barring a pardon or commutation by the governor—that Cross could be out of prison in less time, Ross said.

Some lifers have died in prison, Ross said, after being denied parole or re-entering prison after failing to adjust to parole.

In the state fiscal year that ended Aug. 31, he said, 20 Texas convicts sentenced to life were paroled, out of a total of 2,500 parolees. Thirteen were convicted of murder.

The Texas code of criminal procedure for years has said that a person sentenced to more than 60 years is eligible for parole after he has served at least 15 years of his sentence, including "good time." The revised code says other convicts, other than those under death sentence, are eligible after serving one-fourth of their time.

OVER 15 YEARS

"I would say that every one of those 20 men had considerably more than 15 years credit on their sentences. None was released at his exact eligibility date, none was released without psychological examination and other safeguard procedures the board goes through," Ross said. As a prisoner becomes eligible for parole, his file fattens with prison system rating sheets, correspondence and psychological reports.

"Good time" is an additional time credit toward the sentences of prisoners who abide by Department of Corrections rules and don't cause trouble.

For calculation of "good time," prisoners are divided into four classes, all subject to change by prison system officials.

EXTRA CREDITS

Class I prisoners get 20 days extra credit for each 30 days served. These include prisoners, including Cross, start out as Class I.

Class II prisoners get 10 days extra credit a month. They usually have committed some minor violation of prison rules, Ross said.

Class III convicts have had "delinquency reports" filed against them. They receive no "good time" and may in fact lose what extra credit they may have accumulated.

Trustees, there are 5,589 among the 12,887 prisoners. Trustees work under less supervision than other inmates and get 30 days extra credit for each 90 days actually served. No prisoner may become a trustee unless he has served three months with a good prison record.

As a Class I prisoner, Cross would get 15 years' credit in nine years. He could further reduce the time until he became eligible for parole by giving blood. Prisoners are allowed to give blood once a year and receive a 30-day credit for the donation.

Only by becoming a trustee could Cross whittle away the 15 years in 7½ years, Ross said. Annual blood donations would knock off about 210 days from this, making him eligible in about a month less than seven years, he said.

A law that affects how long Cross must wait for parole eligibility provides that no prisoner with a pending felony charge against him may be a trustee. Cross was indicted, but not tried, on charges of strangling Miss Riggsby's sorority sister, Shirley Ann Stark. Both University of Texas coeds were 21 and from Dallas.

Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell of Austin sent a "detainer" order to the state prison system, indicating he wants Cross held for trial in Miss Stark's death if he is paroled.

Yorty Opposes Brown In California Primary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The promise of a bitter fight for the party's governorship nomination punctured Democratic plans for a peaceful primary today and cheered Republicans seeking political control of the state's most populous state.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, seeking a third term, replied angrily to the challenge of Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, who said Wednesday he will try to take the nomination away from Brown.

Yorty, a maverick Democrat who supported Republican Richard M. Nixon for president in 1960, accused Brown's 7-year-old administration of "shoddy machine politics."

Republicans themselves split by a fight for the GOP gubernatorial nomination—were heartened by the Democrats' squabble, something Brown had been hoping to avoid.

ANOTHER SPLIT

"This is one more indication of the division in Democratic ranks which has become very obvious in the past few weeks," said former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher, one of three candidates for the GOP nomination.

His major foe, actor Ronald Reagan, said Yorty's candidacy offers Democrats an alternative to Brown. He added it "might bring out once and for all the answer as to whether the incumbent really intends to be governor of California if he is elected."

William Penn Patrick, San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer and the third candidate in the GOP race, said "It is good to see that the Democrats have not swallowed . . . Brown's hogwash."

The governor said at the campaign dinner, "I warn Mr. Yorty right now that he will have to explain his record of attacks on Democrats like John F. Kennedy and his failure as mayor of Los Angeles."

In 1960 Yorty headed a slate of national Democratic convention delegates opposed to a Brown favorite-son group. Brown won overwhelmingly, but Yorty polled more than 600,000 votes.

Dear Abby

He's Working For A Badge

DEAR ABBY: Get this picture. My husband and I were walking out of a supermarket. I had one large sack which I know weighed 22 pounds because I weighed it on our bathroom scale when I got home. He was carrying a 20 pound sack of flour and a 10 pound sack of sugar.

Then he saw this nice looking young woman walking out just ahead of us. She was carrying only one large sack. My husband handed ME his 20 pounds, rushed up to take the sack from the stranger's hands, and then he carried it to her station wagon.

I would like for you to explain exactly what you think of his actions. My husband claims he can't see where he did anything wrong. BOILING MAD

DEAR BOILING: Either your husband is still working for a merit badge or he is hanging for a kind word from a strange woman.

DEAR ABBY: "LOVE STARVED" has my sympathy. He's the man whose wife won't let him kiss her because she's afraid he might mess her hair-do or smear her make-up.

I have been married for nearly four years, and I have never seen my wife with curlers in her hair or go all over her face. She says, "I can do all the construction work during the day time. I don't care if the mailman, milkman or delivery boys see me looking like a spook. But when my man comes home, I like to be as fresh and pretty as I can be."

LUCKY LENNY
DEAR LUCKY: Cover her up. She might get pneumonia.

DEAR ABBY: Please say something about wives who wear their husband's secretaries out with their constant phoning to remind him of something they forgot to tell him before he left the house. A busy executive relies on his secretary to take most of these messages. Mine are like this:

"Tell Mr. Jones not to forget to pay the dentist's bill."

"Tell Mr. Jones the brakes on my car need adjusting."

"Tell Mr. Jones not to get tied up next Wednesday night. It's his daughter's piano recital night."

Some wives insist on talking to their husbands. If I say, "Mr. Jones is talking on another line," she asks, "WHO is he talking to?" If I say, "Mr. Jones has stepped out," she asks, "Where did he go and when do you think he'll be back?" Then she demands that I have him call her the minute he returns, as it is an emergency.

So when I try to call her back, her line is busy for an hour! A secretary has enough to do without all those interruptions and time-consuming chores. Abby, you have my permission to change this letter around any way you wish, just do us secretaries a favor and get this message across!

BUSY BUT BOTHERED
DEAR B. B. B.: You've said it so well, I wouldn't dare to change a word. When a woman's feet hurt, no one else can describe her pain with quite so much feeling.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MISS G. IN MACON:" You are under no obligation to tell him your age. Simply say, "I'm old enough to know the score, and young enough to play the game." (That ought to settle his hominy grins.)

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Doctor-Short Rural Areas To Get Help

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A 77-year-old physician is the only medical doctor in rural Grant County which has a population of 8,000.

But a novel idea by the University of Oklahoma Medical Center will soon bring reinforcements to the overworked doctor as well as determine whether such projects are feasible in other areas of similar needs.

"If our plan works, all of the medical have-not areas will eventually be helped," Dr. James L. Dennis, dean and director of the medical center, says.

PROVIDE TEACHING

"Project Responsibility," as it is called, is designed to supply the immediate medical needs of doctor-short rural areas, train health workers and provide postgraduate teaching in family medicine at a combination clinic-hospital.

The pilot facility will be established in the town of Wakita — population 450 — in north-central Oklahoma's wheat country.

Wakita hasn't had a medical doctor for two years. Dr. Franklin P. Robinson of Pond Creek, 20 miles to the south, is the lone physician in the county.

Dennis said the pilot center will be staffed by a general practitioner, a pediatrician and an internist. Each will have a medical school teaching appointment. There also will be nurses and a professional social worker. The hospital will have nine beds for emergency cases.

DUE ACTIVATION

Eventually, Dennis said, physicians operating the facility may buy the clinic-hospital, which is supposed to be activated within the year.

In the plans are a heliport for speedy transport of acutely ill patients to larger medical centers and to expedite visits by consulting physicians.

Wakita civic leaders agreed to raise about $200,000 to erect the center. Doctors, who will receive a guaranteed salary, will charge standard fees.

Negro Soldier Valor Shown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials are praising the Negro as a gallant, hard-fighting soldier. New figures show that proportionately more Negroes have died in Viet Nam than military personnel of other races.

One spokesman said the Negro "has shown himself at least as worthy a fighter as the next man."

The Defense Department Wednesday provided figures from what it called a "one-time survey" which showed Negroes suffering a higher number of deaths, proportionately speaking, in the Southeast Asian conflict.

CASUALTIES HEAVIER

The survey showed that Negroes make up 14.8 per cent of the Army force in Viet Nam, but have suffered 18.3 per cent of the deaths since January, 1961.

By the same token, Negroes comprise 8.9 per cent of the Marine total in Viet Nam but have suffered 11.3 per cent of the casualties.

When only enlisted men are counted, the Army's Negro deaths jump to 22.1 per cent of the total casualties, and the Marines' Negro deaths are upped to 12 per cent.

SHOWS "VALOR"

Pentagon officials say they do not consider the number of Negro fatalities high. If the figures show anything, one spokesman asserted, "it is the valor of the Negro in combat."

Officials emphasized that Negroes are not singled out for hazardous missions in battle areas. Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, recently told inquiring Southern senators the same thing during hearings on additional funds for the Viet Nam war.

Pentagon officials say many Negro deaths occur in forward airborne units where the number of Negro volunteers is high.

Angry, Urgent Poor Shout At Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a few strides, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell moved from his lofty perch as a chairman questioning Cabinet officers about the antipoverty program to a shouting, face-to-face meeting with the poor.

They were waiting in a big room alongside the hearing room of Powell's House Education and Labor Committee. Powell, a New York Democrat, left John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare, in the witness seat to go talk to them.

They were from Bedford-Stuyvesant and Harlem, Negro areas in Brooklyn and Manhattan, and represented two or three groups which had applied for antipoverty funds. They had been at him earlier about money they wanted from the poverty program and he had promised to come back.

"GOOD NEWS," he cried as he entered the room. "A member of the federal government has just gotten on a plane with a check for $200,000 for the Head Start program in Bedford-Stuyvesant."

They applauded, shouted and crowded around and the ring of policemen in the room moved closer, too.

Powell, the Baptist preacher, took over from Powell, the congressman, and began a talk about the need for dignity and pride in Negroes. "Think big! Think black!" he said, and the crowd responded with claps and rhythmic shouts.

But the revival meeting atmosphere was shattered by a big woman who pushed her way up to Powell and started shouting louder than he.

"What about all these policemen? This is terrible. This is an armed camp. Everywhere we go there are policemen. We're not criminals!"

ANGRY, URGENT
Before Powell could regain control the room erupted with the angry, urgent voices of the poor, accusing Powell of favoring jobs over community action in the poverty program.

"Jobs aren't a big deal. If industry doesn't open up jobs for a man he still doesn't have anything. We need community action. We need pressure."

They were all talking at once. Only the loudest could be heard. "Brother Powell, why don't you stress human rights instead of civil rights? We want to eat."

"What about Mississippi? They don't have clothes to send their kids to school. We got to raise clothes for them."

"You should investigate urban renewal. It's just Negro removal. We need money to fight the power structure that's trying to move us out."

Carr Sent Reports On Voter Sign-Up

By The Associated Press

The second week of Texas' free voter registration began Thursday as county tax assessor-collectors mailed reports on the first week's results to Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Carr also asked to be notified if spot checks by the FBI in 43 counties have interfered in any way with registration.

Reports on the first week's registration were to be forwarded by Carr to the special federal court that declared the poll tax unconstitutional.

A final report by the county officials is scheduled on March 18, after the free registration period ends.

SEEKS EXTENSION
U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., asked in a statement Tuesday that the federal court require the state to extend the registration period.

Fritz Robinson, Travis County tax assessor-collector, predicted Wednesday his report on the first week would show "at least 2,500" registrations.

"It's picking up now," Robinson said. "I imagine it will pick up a little bit each day now."

Bexar County Tax Assessor-Collector Charles Davis said he expected registrations in his county would hit 10,000 for the first week.

Carl Smith, Harris County tax assessor-collector, said 25,000 persons have registered since the special period began. Officials have set up 109 sub stations in grocery stores and offices to handle applications.

Hidalgo County, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, reported 2,010 registrations since the free registration period began. The tax collector, R. L. Lyon, said he would not estimate the number of registrants for the first week. He said the bulk of his applications, which reaches about 100 daily, were received by mail.

CAMERON TOTAL
Mrs. Ellis Perry, tax assessor-collector for Cameron County, said 917 applications had been processed by Wednesday. She said most of the applications were received by mail.

The Tarrant County tax assessor-collector, Reed Stewart, estimates his county will register 49,000-50,000 new voters during the 15-day period.

Dallas County figures were unavailable. None of 7 persons asked Wednesday for information could furnish The Associated Press with the total so far or make a prediction about the number they expect to register during the free period.

Spacemen Are In Rehearsals

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 8 astronauts planned another long series of flight rehearsals today as their Tuesday launching date drew closer.

Astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and David R. Scott and their backups will run through key phases of the countdown, launching and orbital flight. They also will practice emergency procedures in the Gemini 8 spacecraft atop a Titan 2 rocket.

The backup crew is Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr.

This so-called simulated flight exercise was expected to last until late at night.

The launch teams Wednesday successfully completed a complex simultaneous countdown involving an Atlas-Agena rocket and the Titan 2-Gemini combination. Only two minor problems developed.

The Atlas-Agena is to be launched at 10 a.m. EST Tuesday to propel the Agena into orbit as a target for Gemini 8. Armstrong, a civilian, and Scott, an Air Force major, are to take off in pursuit at 11:41 a.m. and attempt to link up with the Agena.

Sukarno Facing Army Demand

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Indonesian army has given President Sukarno an ultimatum to get rid of his pro-Communist Foreign Minister Subandrio and has demanded an answer by Saturday, reliable sources in Singapore reported today.

Sukarno is expected to announce his decision at a meeting with the armed forces chiefs at his palace in Bogor, 40 miles outside Jakarta, the sources said.

The army chiefs who have demanded Subandrio's ouster are mostly supporters of former Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution whom Sukarno fired last month.

Subandrio has been accused unofficially of having been behind last October's Communist coup attempt. His name was on a list of ministers published by the coup leaders but he has denied that he had anything to do with the coup.

The army crushed the coup and launched a violent anti-Communist campaign which caused Sukarno to fire Nasution. His ouster brought on demonstrations by anti-Communist students which have been mainly directed against Subandrio.

Networks Setting Up Next Fall's Schedules

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The three major television networks are now in the midst of setting up schedules for next fall. Already the publicists are beating their drums to excite us about all the delights in store — six months ahead.

Very little, by comparison, is being said about what has come to be known as "the summer rerun season," which starts sometime next month.

Under normal circumstances, television is very sensitive about utterances of members of the Federal Communications Commission, which controls the licensing of broadcasting.

It was last Sept. 24 when FCC Chairman E. William Henry, addressing the International Radio and Television Society, asked:

SUMMER DIET
"I wonder how many regular television viewers are satisfied with their summer diet? How many are content with the steady stream of network repeats, reruns, and rejects? How many enjoy rehashing yesterday's cud? How many have developed tired television blood without realizing that it is simply a long, long time from May to September?"

Then he suggested that "the networks' summer siesta should become a summer workshop — seeking new sources, new directions, new concepts, new formats, new 'faces,' and dedicated to program development and experimentation."

MOST ARE REPEATS
Maybe the networks were not listening attentively. Anyway, this summer's sleepy time looks pretty much like any other. Out of close to 100 evening programs, all but 11 will be repeating shows.

CBS' "What's My Line?" on Sundays will, as usual, stay with new shows all through the warm weather. On Monday night, singer John Davidson will star in a variety show to replace Andy Williams on NBC; Art Linkletter's "Hollywood Talent Scouts" will continue with new material, and ABC's "Avengers," — a British import that does not replace "Ben Casey" until the end of this month — will have fresh stories.
