Speak Now Or Hold Your Peace

Public hearing will be held at 7 p.m. today on the proposed budget for the City of Big Spring.

The Herald has carried a series of articles which have explored the budget both in general terms, percentages of increases, proposed tax increases to get additional finances; and then in utmost detail - department by department. The information, we believe, is sufficient for some conclusions. It is ample, to say the least, to excite more specific studies by those who have an interest in what city funds will be spent for and how they will be obtained.

The budget is up about three per cent over-all, but it contains a 20 per cent tax hike in the form of a 10 per cent increase in the base of col-lection. The reason is that some other revenues, notably those from the now abandoned parking meters and those from fines resulting from overtime parking, will be missing or sharply off.

We mention this again in order that the public will be advised that this, in the best judgment of the city commission of how to balance the budget and meet the demands for municipal services. If you do not agree or have other suggestions, the public hearing on the budget is the time to speak. If you agree, it also is time to speak.

It's put up in March or shut up in October when tax statements are

When The East And The West Meet

WASHINGTON - And never the twain shall meet . . . that was the judgment of Rudyard Kipling. the ballad maker of the empire, in "East and West," one of his most famous ballads memorized by school children in Britain as the sun of the empire

This classic dictum is being put to the test in a meeting here this week. Mrs. Indira Gandhi, Prime Minister of India, sits down with President Johnson to talk about the fuure of her country in its relationship with the United States.

MRS. GANDHI is of the East and Eastern, despite all the years she spent being educated in the West. She was named Prime Minister because of an interplay of origins and a magic name. This reflects both the subtlety and the harsh urgency Indian political life today.

As for Lyndon Johnson he is Western as the Texas range and often, if one believes his critics, and untrammeled as the free-wheeling Texas of an earlier day. On the face of it the Johnson - Gandhi exchange would come under the heading of impossible interviews if it were not for the fact that each is a skilled politician. The catch is that the President and the Prime Minister will bring to this meeting almost totally different points of view.

THE PRESIDENT is committed with all his capacity for driving full speed ahead to pulling India through this year's crop failure. He has sworn that not one Indian shall die of hunger, although millions will be under-Even as he was announcing the Honolulu conference he talked about

My father committed suicide about a year ago. Up until that time I had only a passing inter-est in church. But my father's leath seemed to wake me up and see the seriousness of living. I want my life to count for something in a Christian way. I am only sixteen, but I want to get some kind of Christian work. What do you suggest?

I am sorry about your father's untimely death. But I am glad that you are thinking in terms of devoting your life to full-time Christian service. There are many things open to young people with a desire to serve Christ in a special way. Some you might consider are: nursing, director of youth, director of education, teaching, and case worker, missionary-pas-

These of course require special training. But you do not need to wait for formal training to begin your Christian service. All around you are young people with serious personal problems. We have never known a day when people are so mixed-up and upset. Many of their problems stem from not knowing Christ. Pray for guidance, and you will be led to someone you can help. And it is when we are helping others that we are most helped ourselves. Charles Kingsley once said: "Make it a rule, and pray to God to help you keep it, never, f possible, lie down at night without being able to say, 'I have made one human being at least a little wiser, or a little happier, or at least a little better this day.' You will find it easier than you think and pleasanter."

Still not restored, the long - term programs supported by the Western consortium, with the United States supplying 43 per cent of the $1 billion total, are lagging Unless this minimum of forward movement can be maintained the outlook for the future is disastrously

HERE IS the rub. The magnitude of the need to move India's nearly 500,000,000 people into the 20th Century is so great that the trickle of aid so far has done little more than sustain the belief in progress. Some-thing on the order of $3 billion to $4 billion a year committed for at least a decade would be a starter.

What with the war in Viet Nam and the policy of spreading aid over many areas - plus the running down of the aid concept - this is a dream figure. And if Mrs. Gandhi's people expect her to return with success in any such degree her political trou-bles will be magnified.

OVER AND over again Americans of good will have said that India is the great hope of democracy in Asia. If democratic government fails there, then the last best hope of the East is gone. Now is the testing time, with the specter not so much of communism as fragmentation and breakdown stalking the land.

We Interrupt This Program-

WASHINGTON - Last week the television networks played a dirty trick on the American public. NBC and CBS both pre-empted their regular shows because of the Gemini 8 flight, which had gotten into trouble and had to be returned to earth in an emergency splashdown. All the networks received angry telephone calls from viewers who felt they were being cheated out of their regular evening entertainment.

The American Broadcasting Company was the only one who showed some consideration for its audience by putting on "Batman," the most important program in its stable, despite the Gemini emergency. But even ABC let the public down, by interrupting "Batman" with bulletins. This engendered the wrath of "Batman" fans all over the country.

IT GIVES ONE great faith in the American people, and shows the power of entertainment over news in TV programming If the balloon ever went up something like this could happen. "We interrupt this program to announce that a large fleet of unidentified bomber aircraft is now heading towards the United States and the entire Air Force defense command has been put on alert." An indignant viewer gets through to NBC. "What do you mean interrupting 'The Virginian' for a lousy news bulletin? If you don't put the regularly scheduled program back on the air your Nielsen rating is really goto suffer." THE ANNOUNCER continues, "The

to tell my kids?"
"The President of the United States is meeting now with the National Security Council. In the meantime Polaris submarines have been put on station and all missiles have been ordered armed.'

ABC'S SWITCHBOARD is flooded with callers. "You finks. Your guy came on just when Batman and Robin were about to be crushed to death in a cement mixer. Get that news bum off the air or I'm going to write my Congressman."

"The planes are now two hours and 15 minutes away from Newfoundland and are still heading straight for the North American continent. All ICBM units are on red alert. This is not repeat, not a test."

"LET ME SPEAK to David Brinkley, operator. He's ruined my evening and I would just like to give him a piece of my mind. A guy works all day and wants a little relaxation and all they give us is news bulletins." "But sir, there may be an attack

the Bob Hope Special."

Over at CBS a caller is screaming into the phone, "I want to know if you're going to put on the Dick Van Dyke show or not. If you're not I want to go to bed.

"WE HAVE JUST had a late bulletin that the enemy planes have turned back. They are returning to their bases. The President has called off the SAC bombers."

"Is this the CBS operator? Well you just tell your people there that the next time they pre-empt the Beverly Hillbillies for an air raid I'm going to write directly to the sponsors. Now what do you have to say about that?"

yet it had the makings of the seriocomic. Nothing less than a Shavian wit could have reproduced the theological and ideological entanglement of these church leaders. They tried to be for peace but not for pacifism, for loyalty but against the national policy, for staying out of politics and yet for recognizing the existence of a political debate, for admitting that there was such a thing as a "just" war and yet for being unwilling to justify any war with modern weap-

FIRST, THERE was an attempt to find a "myth" and an "erroneous assumption" concerning Communist military threats as the onlied States. This attempt faded badly when a correspondent brought up the extent of Russian nuclear armament and the presence in 1962 of nuclear missiles n Cuba. The point was pounded that Red China was "changing," but nobody told us in what direction. A draft of a position paper handed out to the press, however, suggested that China was emerging from a "have not" status into world power. This change was offered as good reason why American policy "should aim to withdraw every provocation" against Communist China - including the forces on Formosa and our opposition to U.N. membership for Red China.

SINCE BOTH the Communist leaders and the U.S. Declaration of Independence recognize that some wars are "just," the clergymen were asked for their opinion. There seemed to be an agreement that some past wars had been justified-but there was a notion among the four clerics that to defend ourselves against world communism in World War III would be "war against God Himself" since nuclear exchanges might alter the "genes" of future generations.

WHILE THE clergymen wouldn't fully admit that their activities might lower the morale of Christian and Jewish troops fighting atheists in Asia, another of the position papers was flatfootedly defeatist.

McMahon Has Truck Fleet For Any Job

Clyde McMahon Concrete Co. begun 12 years ago with a single truck, now has a large fleet of trucks which haul big loads to any job in the Howard County area.

Energy and efficiency have also paid off in additions to the firm, which now handles all kinds of concrete equipment and materials for doing the work - including tools for "doing it yourself."

Hours at the plant, which is located on the Snyder Highway just north of Big Spring, are daily from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. except Saturday, when hours are 7 a.m. to noon. There is a competent staff of employes to help customers with all types of service.

Huge mixing hoppers have been set up on the lot where trucks just back under the chutes and load in a hurry. These provide the proper mixture for all kinds of jobs, including foundations, bridges, culverts, sidewalks, driveways, curbs and gutters, street pavement and anything else needed if built with concrete.

expansion joint material, wire mesh for re-enforcement, re-enforcement steel rods, Richmond snap ties, Remington stud drivers for driving studs or nails into concrete, wheel barrows for brick, tile or concrete, vibrators for settling and eliminating able at Repnett's Pharmaceuticals are available at Repnett's Pharmaceuticals

HOUSTON - The Houston National League Astros treated an estimated 250 newsmen here the past weekend in order to show off a revolutionary type of playing surface called Astroturf but the hit of the party proved to be an urbane veteran playing out his string with the Houston club - Robin Roberts.

Roberts made his appearance at a special breakfast for the writers in the Warwick Hotel, along with Astro manager Grady Hatton and amiable Bill Giles, the club's Director of Pub-

Roberts expressed a desire to become a general manager in baseball when his playing days be in after-dinner speaking.

Bill MacPhail, who works in the front office of the Baltimore Oilers, remarked recently, in substance, that baseball is still America's No. One sport but that professional football, like Avis, is trying harder.

Pro football, of course, is trying harder. They not only have more articulate men selling the game for them on the street, many of them ex-players, but have the writers helping sway public opinion. Professional baseball, possessed of too many stodgy indi-the tournament.

are doing what they can to change the image of professional J. Englert in right. baseball and all baseball is in their debt. The management even have the pilots of the commercial airliners flying over Houston tice for Big Spring before it place finish in 2-AAAA play and pointing out the "world famous Astrodome."

Perfectly aware of his stature in baseball, Roberts not only was superb in his opening monologue but was masterful and witty in parrying the questions of the writers.

Robin, incidentally, took the lead in getting the players to hire a $50,000 legal representative which, he said, the athletes needed because they had neither the time nor the background to deal in such matters. The move was not an attempt to blackjack the club owners out of more money, Roberts emphasized, but rather to iron out details of such things as the pension fund.

Roberts himself is 19 games shy of a rare plateau in big league baseball - 300 career pitching wins,

'I used to win that many in a month," he guipped When asked what hitters through his career had given him

the most trouble, the great righthander replied: You haven't got the time to listen to all the names

If a diet of hard work will insure success, Hatton will be in clover as the Houston manager.

Grady had to work hard in order to hang on as a player in the big leagues as long as he did and he believes his help should try as hard. Hatton remarked that three of the hardest-working players in camp are Dave Nicholson, trying to win a place in the Astro outfield; Jim Gentile, who has yet to live up to expectations as the club's first baseman; and shortstop Sonny Jackson, who is going to make a utility man out of Hatton is now carrying 24 pitchers and hasn't yet picked his four starters, although it's pretty evident ex-White Sox ace Barry Latman will be given a thorough chance. Jackson, there is no doubt, will be a star of the first magnitude but the club still desperately needs a couple of power hitters. Hatton suggested that the public look for a great improvement in the form of Lee Maye, acquired from the Milwaukee Braves last year. Maye, who came to the Astros favoring an injury and who had trouble adjusting to the Astrodome (he made a rash of errors as a left fielder), looked very good as a hitter in the weekend series against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Speaker Named For Dining-In At Webb AFB

Col. Thomas D. Robertson chief of tactical division, Headquarters United States Air Force, will be speaker at Webb-Air Force Base's Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 66-F's Wing Dining-In Friday at the Officers Open Mess.

Col. Robertson is one of the most decorated World War II and Korean veterans and is widely experienced in tactical fighter operations. A tactical fighter squadron, group and wing commander for over 16 years of his 23 years service, he has flown in excess of 1,000 hours combat time in fighter bomber aircraft flying ours. Over nine years of his command experience has been associated with air operations n the Pacific and Far East. He has qualified to fly every operational tactical fighter aircraft since 1943 with the exception of the F-104 and F-4C which he attained currency in later during his career.

He reported to Headquarters United States Air Force and assumed his present duty after graduation from the National War College in June, 1964.
