Red Camps' Hot Rift To Affect West

WASHINGTON (AP) — The increasingly angry quarrel between Russia and Red China has now reached the stage where each country must consider radical changes in its relations with the West.

The turmoil in the Communist bloc exceeds even that of the Atlantic Alliance where France is pursuing a policy of independent action strikingly similar to the self assertion of Red China against Russia.

UNDER PRESSURE
The Johnson administration is under heavy pressure from its China policy critics to find some way to ease tensions and improve relations between Peking and Washington.

But any real change in this relationship in the near future is ruled out by the experts, even those among the critics. All recognize that in China's present attitude of bitter political hostility to the outside world, the United States is slated for some years yet to play the role of archvillain.

Indeed the changes resulting from the political turbulence now buffeting Communist and Western powers alike could result in some severe embarrassment to President Johnson and the United States.

U.N. ISSUE
One result may be to increase support for a movement certain to arise in the next U.N. General Assembly to make Communist China a member. U.S. officials would not be surprised if a majority of the United Nations 117 members voted to admit the Red Chinese.

Johnson administration officials show no intention yet of changing American policy in any important respect toward either China or Russia. It is true, however, that on some issues the administration's differences with its critics are more on timing than on substance.

ESTABLISHED CONTACT
Many recognize that the United States eventually will have to establish relations with Red China and work with it in the United Nations and open up trade as much as possible. But they do not think the time is now and they do not see any basis for bargaining to protect America's interests so long as Peking's antagonism to Washington is unrelieved by any interest in better relations.

The latest blast in the Peking-Moscow dispute came Wednesday with China's publication of an angry note rejecting an invitation issued Feb. 24 to send a delegation to the Communist party congress opening in Moscow next week.

FIRST BOYCOTT
This is the first time the Red Chinese have decided to boycott such a meeting. Their "dear comrade" note to the Soviet party leadership bore out the implication that they are still sticking to the forms of maintaining ties with the mother country of communism. But Washington officials say the forms are about all they have left now.

The break having reached this point, U.S. and other Western diplomats are looking at various possibilities for dramatic realignment in the world.

Revived 154 Times, Heart Patient Dies

DALLAS (AP)—A 65-year-old heart patient who had "died" 154 times since Sunday, but was revived each time by electrical shock, succumbed finally today.

Dallas Osteopathic Hospital said the patient, Lorene Hawk, had received open chest heart massage after the series of direct current shocks to the heart had started her heart.

Dr. C. D. Brasher said each time, before the shock, she had been dead "for all practical purposes." She had been delivered to the hospital Sunday after collapsing in a physician's office.

Unions Defying Pay Guidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unions which represent 100,000 soft coal miners and 34,000 airline mechanics are threatening to strike in support of demands for pay increases which exceed the administration's wage guidelines.

Neither threatened walkout is imminent, however.

At a New York meeting Wednesday, the National Policy Committee of the Independent United Mine Workers of America gave union officers the right to call a strike to support efforts to gain a 4 per cent pay raise for the 100,000 soft coal workers in 25 states.

But the union would first have to give a 60-day notice of intention to terminate the present contract, and there was no indication when such a step might be taken.

FIVE AIRLINES
At about the same time, the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists issued a statement here that it would strike five airlines — Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United — unless a deadlock in negotiations is broken by April 23.

The machinists seek a 15 per cent pay hike.

President Johnson has called repeatedly on unions to hold wage demands within 3.2 per cent on the theory that such an increase would be offset by productivity advances and therefore would not be inflationary.

A strike by the mine workers would be the first major one in the industry in 17 years.

The policy committee took just 25 minutes to authorize the union's leadership to call a strike. Union officials planned to return here today to continue negotiations with representatives of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association.

WAGE PATTERNS
The association represents 60 per cent of the industry and normally sets wage patterns for other mine workers.

In seeking a 4 per cent increase over the current daily pay rate of $2.55, the mine workers' union contends the soft coal industry is one of the most automated in the nation with an average annual increase in productivity of about 5 per cent since 1964.

The machinists union has refused to submit the airlines dispute to arbitration by the National Mediation Board.

Chairman Howard Gansmer of the mediation board said the unions will be legally free to strike even before April 23, but that the board hopes to review the situation with both sides before then.

A further 60-day delay could be imposed by the government by creation of a presidential emergency board to consider the dispute, but Gansmer said such a step was not being considered at this time.

Blizzard Toll Mounts To 21; Travel Halted

Join In Common Prayer After Unity Pledge

Pope Paul VI gives a blessing as Dr. Michael Ramsey, the Archbishop of Canterbury, crosses himself after the two church leaders joined in a common prayer in the pontifical basilica of St. Paul's Outside-the-Walls in Rome today.

The ceremony climaxed a visit of the Anglican primate with the leader of the Roman Catholic Church. Christian unity steps were pledged after differences for centuries. Story on Page 6-B. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Upper Midwest At Storm Center

The second blizzard in a month had broken up today, but it left the north central and Plains states buried under massive snows. Schools and roads were closed and at least 21 persons were dead.

Nebraska counted 11 dead from the early spring storm. Minnesota and Iowa each had three dead. South Dakota and Wyoming had two dead each. The storm hurled a one-two punch of sleet and snow at most of the area. The ice ripped down power lines and powerful winds stacked the snow into impassable drifts.

TRAVEL HALTED
Travel was virtually halted over the area.

Four men were found dead in a car stalled just east of Howells in northeastern Nebraska Wednesday. Police said they had suffocated.

A man driving a snowplow found two brothers dead in a stalled truck near Greeley, Neb. Minneapolis-St. Paul, part of the area which escaped the Dakotas-Montana blizzard three weeks ago, was in the eye of this week's storm. The area lay under 14 inches of snow, with winds whipping drifts to 4 feet.

Federal Tax Hike May Be A Cliffhanger

NEW YORK (AP) — Increased federal taxes may still be a cliffhanger in Washington. But many citizens are pretty sure of higher state and local taxes. And speeded-up federal tax collections will soon be pinching consumer pocketbooks and corporate treasuries.

A tighter money market is making borrowing to pay March and April tax instalments a costly and sometimes difficult task for many business firms.

LOAN DEMANDS
Banks across the country report the demand for loans is rising despite the increased interest charges. Many banks are pushed to find the funds to lend to old customers, let alone take on new ones.

And interest rates are rising again at both levels — on loans, and on savings. The increased charge for borrowing is laid to the rising demand for funds to finance record business and consumer spending. The offer of more generous interest for deposits is due to competition among banks and other finance institutions. They want to lure investment funds into deposit accounts so that these can be used to meet the demand for loans.

TAX CLIFFHANGERS
If this seems like an endless circle, the turmoil may be increased rather than lessened while the decision on increased federal taxes hangs fire in Washington.

BUSINESS PARALYZED
Much of the Twin Cities business was paralyzed Wednesday. Of the more than one million persons in the two cities, there are about 700,000 workers and most were unable to get to their jobs, according to an unofficial survey of some employers.

Courts, schools and business places were closed and an estimated $1 million business was lost for the day. Bus lines and taxicabs were unable to operate until late Wednesday night and the Minneapolis-St. Paul Airport was closed from 3:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

NEW COAST
Norfolk in northeastern Nebraska had 10 inches of snow on top of a 2-inch layer of slush and ice. Many areas of the town of 15,000 were without electricity for more than a day.

Downed power lines also cut electricity in dozens of smaller Nebraska communities.

Cattlemen had heeded weather warnings and their animals had been herded into sheltered areas called "maternity wards." The loss was slight.

Schools were closed by the hundreds. The University of Minnesota in Minneapolis closed Wednesday for the first time in its history.

HIGH DRIFTS
Minnesota Gov. Karl F. Roalvaag shared the fate of thousands of motorists — his car got stuck in a driveway.

Drifts up to 10 feet isolated some sections of northwestern Iowa. Spencer, a town of 9,000, was without power since Tuesday night.

The storm continued to buffet Iowa and the Upper Great Lakes. Blizzard warnings were in effect for Iowa and the snow belt extended into Upper Michigan.

Winds measured at 50 miles per hour accompanied the vigorous storm, whipping the snow into walls of drifts.

SNOWY AREAS
Three inches of snow had fallen in Marquette, Mich. Deadwood, S.D., had 19 inches of snow. More than a foot covered many areas in southern Minnesota.

Virginia Poll Tax Invalidated By Supreme Court Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court declared Virginia's poll tax unconstitutional today.

The 6-3 decision was announced by Justice William O. Douglas.

In two other states — Alabama and Texas — federal courts have held the poll tax unconstitutional. The poll tax still is used in Mississippi and Vermont.

Douglas declared that "a state violates the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment whenever it makes the influence of the voter or payment of any fee an electoral standard."

DISSENTING OPINIONS
Justices Hugo L. Black and John M. Harlan wrote dissenting opinions. Justice Potter Stewart joined in the Harlan opinion.

For the majority, Douglas declared: "The principle that denies the state the right to dilute a citizen's vote on account of his economic status or other such factors, by analogy bars a system which excludes those unable to pay a fee to vote, or who fail to pay."

EQUAL PROTECTION
Douglas said the majority's conclusion "is founded not on what we think governmental policy should be, but on what the equal protection clause requires."

The opinion said: "Wealth or fee paying has, in our view, no relation to voting qualifications; the right to vote is too precious, too fundamental to be so burdened or conditioned."

Justice Harlan's dissenting opinion said the final demise of state poll taxes "is perhaps in itself not of great moment."

poll tax as a voting qualification, adding "it is all wrong in my view for the court to adopt the political doctrines popularly accepted at a particular moment of our history and to declare all others to be irrational and invidious, barring them from the range of choice by reasonably minded people acting through the political process."

Black's dissenting opinion said the majority in striking down state poll taxes "does so not by using its limited power to interpret the original meaning of the equal protection clause, but by giving that clause a new meaning which it believes represents a better governmental policy. From this action I dissent."

470 MILLIONS
The Sikhs fear their relatively small community will be swamped by India's 470 million other citizens and the nation's many religions and cultures. They want their distinctive identity legally recognized.

As a first step, the Sikhs want a Punjabi-speaking state in northwest India composed of the Punjab, where most Sikhs live, and parts of neighboring Rajasthan, Himachal Pradesh and Kashmir states.

The Working Committee of the governing Congress party asked the government to create a new state "out of the existing state of the Punjab" with Punjabi as the official language. The recommendation is almost certain to be accepted.

Up to now New Delhi has always resisted the plan, seeing it as a prelude to a demand for autonomy or even independence.

Valley Economic District Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Eligio de la Garza, D-Tex., said Wednesday he had invited county judges and mayors in South Texas to meet with him April 14 to discuss organization of an economic development district.

The congressman from the Lower Rio Grande Valley said the meeting would be held in McAllen with representatives from Zapata, Jim Hogg, Starr, Hidalgo, Willacy and Cameron counties.

WATER TO BE CUT OFF IN SOUTHWEST AREA TONIGHT

Water will be cut off in an area in the southwest side of town tonight, Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said today.

"We are going to make a connection for tying in the new reservoir on top of Scenic Mountain," Lillard said, "and will turn the water off about 10 p.m. We hope to have service restored by 4 or 5 a.m., barring complications."

Parts Of North Texas Report Below Freezing

A lingering cold spell shoved temperatures down to freezing or below over much of the northern half of Texas today.

Recent mild weather throughout the state had started fruit trees to budding in many areas, and it was feared there would be damage to some orchards.

McAllen recorded 54 degrees and Brownsville 55.

It also was cloudy in extreme South Central Texas and partly cloudy in parts of West Texas. Skies were clear elsewhere.

Alumna Mrs. Johnson To Attend U. T. Event

AUSTIN (AP) — One of the most distinguished graduates of the University of Texas, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, makes a sentimental return Wednesday to the campus.

The president's wife will slip a ribbon officially opening the university's Roundup, a traditional campus celebration that began in 1930. Mrs. Johnson's first year in college. She was Claudia Alta Taylor then.

Mrs. Johnson earned her bachelor of arts degree in 1933 and her bachelor of journalism in 1934.

One of her daughters, Lynda, 22, is now a university student. President and Mrs. Johnson both have honorary degrees from the university. The president was graduated from Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos, 30 miles south of Austin.

"All of the doors of the world suddenly swung open to me... a student from a very small town in deep East Texas," Mrs. Johnson said last fall when students gave her a distinguished alumna award.

She recalled there were only about 5,000 students when she enrolled after finishing Marshall High School, compared to 28,000 now.

After the Roundup ribbon cutting ceremony, Mrs. Johnson and Lynda will look over a collection of about 70 exhibits in the Texas Union building. The exhibits show various activities of the university's colleges.

Among exhibits likely to attract Mrs. Johnson's attention are the mechanical engineering

Heroic Pilot, Private Target Of Cong, Home

LINDEN, N.J. (AP) — The Viet Cong wanted "Zak the FAC" dead or alive. His wife wanted him alive.

Zak — Air Force Capt. Alexander Zakreski—is home today with more medals than he can wear on one uniform. As a forward air controller, or FAC, his job in Viet Nam was to pilot a light plane over enemy positions and direct air strikes.

CONG REWARD
He was so good at it that before he returned home, the Viet Cong had offered the equivalent of $500 for his capture — dead or alive.

On one mission recently north of Than Thiet, 110 Viet Cong were killed by pilots under his direction.

He returned here Wednesday for a month with his wife, Paulette, and their children, Alexander Jr., 17 months, and Carl Ann, 3. Young Alex was six months old when his father left for Viet Nam.

Late in April, Zakreski, 25, reports to Hahn Air Force Base in Germany to fly fighter-interceptor jets. He was not due home until April 1, but Tuesday he surprised his wife with a call from San Francisco.

MIXED EMOTIONS
At the home of his in-laws, where Mrs. Zakreski and the children have been staying, the pilot said that despite his desire to get back, he left with mixed emotions. "I felt I could have been more productive there."

He described the South Vietnamese as people suffering for something they want in the future.

He said: "These people just want to be able to determine their own lives, be able to plow their lands without someone extorting taxes from them."

Mrs. Zakreski said: "My husband doesn't consider himself a hero. His idea is simply doing what you do."

HEAVILY DECORATED
Zakreski, a chemical engineer, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross three times and the Air Medal 11 times. He has qualified for nine more Air Medals. He has been nominated for the Silver Star, the Bronze Star for valor and two more Distinguished Flying Crosses.

Better Insulation

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An unmanned Apollo spacecraft sent on a test flight last Feb. 26 developed "hot spots" as it plunged back to earth.

Project officials said the 11,000-pound spacecraft will get improved insulation as a result of the test.

Butcher Hog Prices Dip

WASHINGTON (AP) — In three months producer net returns from slaughter hogs have dipped 20 per cent, largely on indications that the hog production cycle is on the upturn again.

In mid-December farmers received an average of about $28.40 a hundred pounds for hogs, basis Chicago market. By March 19 prices had dropped to $24.81. During the same period the cost of feed went up, cutting net receipts from hog sales.

In December the so-called hog-corn price ratio was at the unusually high figure of 24 to 1. That meant 100 pounds of live hog was equivalent in value to 24 bushels of corn. Generally, the more corn a given quantity of hog will buy, the more favorable are the returns from raising and fattening hogs.

By March 19 the ratio had dropped to 19.9 to 1, meaning that 100 pounds of hog were equal in value to 4.1 fewer bush-turns from hogs, they remain considerably above March 20, 1965, when the ratio was only 13.1 to 1.

Triumph By Beethoven Over Affliction Shown

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The distance between "Batman" and Beethoven is, by any measure, vast. But ABC bridged it neatly Wednesday night in an awesome demonstration of television's versatility and change of pace.

Taking last things first, there was a study of the great German composer's lonely, almost secret, struggle against deafness, done by great sensitivity, visual beauty and glorious sound.

Called "Beethoven: Ordeal and Triumph," the program was part of the network's "Saga of Western Man" series but was less a reflection on a society than a story of a man's victory over a terrible personal affliction.

The tale was told by using TV's now familiar biographical and documentary technique — filming actual sites and relics of the subject's life and circumstances while narration by an unseen speaker goes on. This time it was used with great skill.

The color photograph was especially beautiful. Beethoven's soaring music, played by the Boston Symphony and pianist Claude Frank, was sometimes an almost inaudible background to the words and then swelled and roared. When the story reached the point where the young musician, at the peak of his talents, was losing his hearing, the experience was shared by the viewer. The voice of David McCallum, reading Beethoven's words, rose almost to a scream of agony. It was valid and very moving.

John Secondari's script and narration were just right for the subject, too. All in all it was one of those rare and happy television experiences.

Earlier in the evening this viewer's attention turned again to the antics of that "caped crusader" and his masked ward summoned from Wayne Manor once again to cope with that "abominable avian, Mr. Penguin," who has some deep and evil plan to snatch the diamonds of a rich heiress.

New Indonesia Now Emerging

JAKARTA (AP) — The wind of fundamental change apparently is sweeping across Indonesia.

President Sukarno officially remains chief of state, but army Lt. Gen. Suharto and his military allies hold the real power.

The best-informed sources in this hot and humid capital believe the new leaders are far more than a military junta. They expect Suharto and his colleagues to install a primarily civilian government with powerful military backing behind the scenes.

NEW INDONESIA

Internationally, Indonesia's new regime is expected to be neutralist in deed as well as word. Sukarno gave lip service to neutralism but moved steadily toward the Chinese Communist camp. The new Indonesia is expected to follow the type of international role played by the late Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Men long on the scene here predict that in the years immediately ahead, Indonesia's new leaders will dedicate themselves to restoring the nation's shattered economy.

Food is the immediate problem. Rice is the staple for Indonesia's more than 105 million people. Today it costs 30 times what it did 14 months ago.

The rains came late this year, so the rice harvest will not take place until May, a month late. In the chaos of the last year, transport was disrupted, so that rice shortages have been aggravated in the cities and in such densely populated rural areas as Central and East Java.

TURN TO JAPAN

So far Indonesia's new leaders have not asked for outside assistance to meet the growing food shortage. When they do, they are likely to turn to Japan or some other similar nation, rather than to the United States or the Soviet Union.

This would avoid any internal criticism that the new regime is turning either toward the Americans or the Soviets.

When the food crisis has been surmounted, Indonesia's leaders must face the herculean task of rebuilding the whole economy. While the economies of other nations have been growing, the per capita gross national product in Indonesia has declined between one and two per cent each year for a decade.

Meanwhile, Indonesia's population has been growing an estimated 2.5 per cent a year.

FABLED ISLAND

The 3,000 luxuriant islands which make up the Indonesian Archipelago basically are underpopulated. But Java, with seven per cent of Indonesia's land area, has 70 per cent of the population. Tied to their fabled island by history and tradition, only a few thousand Javanese emigrate to the sparsely populated outer islands. In Central Java, one of the most densely inhabited areas on earth, population growth is a staggering 2.7 per cent a year.

Unlike India, where a government birth control program is slowly beginning to show some results, nothing has been done in Indonesia to reduce population growth.

Indonesia's new leaders recognize that their overwhelming problem is to build an economy which can feed the exploding population and give each Indonesian more of the material benefits so long denied him.

Ever since the Japanese army of occupation installed him as Indonesia's leader during World War II, Sukarno has been the man who symbolized independence in the minds of Indonesia's masses.

BIG BROTHER

"Man does not live by bread alone," the aging Bung — Big Brother — Karno would shout as he played his role of father of the nation, orator, and oracle.

But man does not live by slogans alone either. The fierce appeals to nationalism which brought cheers and devotion 20 years ago faded with repetition. Foreign aid — mainly from the United States and the Soviet Union — propped up an incredibly disorganized economy. But then foreign aid ran out, too.

It was the young people of Indonesia — university and high school students — who went into the streets to drive an effective wedge between Sukarno and the people who had for so many years idolized him.

The student movement represents the best in Indonesian youth, according to people long stationed here.

Space agency official Paul Haney said in an interview "it could have been morbid if the flight had had other than a happy ending."

Cabinet Approval Eluding Sukarno

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's new leaders met again with President Sukarno today without reaching agreement on a new anti-Communist Cabinet to cope with the nation's political and economic chaos.

The meeting brought Sukarno together with a presidium of key civilian and military representatives who have been trying to forge a Cabinet for four days. Another meeting was scheduled later today, sources said.

FEAR UNREST
There was concern in some quarters that unless the presidium reached a decision on a new Cabinet soon, the students who toppled Sukarno's 100-man Cabinet would again stage street demonstrations.

Meanwhile, Jakarta remained calm and the military shortened the nightly curfew by 3½ hours. While the presidium deliberated, influential political parties expressed their support for Lt. Gen. Suharto, now in power.

Islamic members of the House of Representatives called on Suharto to restore the House to "its real authority and function" instead of using it as a rubber stamp as Sukarno did for years. Sukarno appeared at a Pakistani reception Wednesday night and declared: "I am still president of Indonesia. I am still supreme commander of the armed forces. I am still leader of the Indonesian revolution."

Sukarno appeared in good humor and wore a field marshal's uniform. He spoke in English.

"Abroad they say I have been toppled," he said. "Abroad they say I have been ousted. Abroad they say I am a sick man, nearly dying. Abroad they say I nearly committed suicide. Abroad they say I have asked the Manila government for asylum."

"I am not a sick man. I am quite healthy. I have not been ousted. I have not asked the Philippines for asylum. I never tried to commit suicide because I love life."

Sukarno stayed for two hours. He shook hands and joked with newsmen and criss-crossed the hotel ballroom to speak with dozens of guests.

Sukarno retained the title of president after he handed much of his power over to the military, under Lt. Gen. Suharto, on March 11. Suharto has respected Sukarno's constitutional position and officially maintains that the army is acting under Sukarno's orders.

Sukarno's appearance at the reception underlined both his desire to retain his position and the military's wish to emphasize the legality of the change in the power structure.

A&M Prexy Speaks On Viet Needs

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The United States can help the people of Viet Nam if they take the responsibility for creation of a "just and democratic government," said Earl Rudder, president of Texas A&M.

Speaking on a national television show Wednesday, Rudder, who has just returned from an educational-economic fact-finding trip to South Viet Nam, said it will take time for the Vietnamese people to establish national cohesion to create their own government.

Rudder, a major general in the Army Reserve, was one of two Texans named by President Johnson to examine educational and economic aspects of Viet Nam.

B52 Raids Damage Cong's Will To Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — America's B52 bombers in 191 massive raids on South Viet Nam have ripped old Viet Cong jungle hideouts apart and sharply reduced the Communist will and ability to fight.

This conclusion was reached today in official quarters after a detailed study of the raids which started last June and now are almost daily occurrences. The assaults average 10 B52s from Guam to a mission. Each carries 50 750-pound bombs, a total of 375,000 pounds of steel and explosives for each flight.

DEFLECTIONS DOUBLE
When the raids started, about 1,000 Viet Cong were defecting each month to the Saigon government forces. The number now is double that. Many told interrogators the big bombers were making life intolerable for the guerrillas, wrecking their rest havens and hospitals, their hitherto safe tunnels and caves, and destroying precious food caches. Some ground sweeps by troops have substantiated these reports.

Thus the military chalks up a two-fold value for the assaults: The tangible that can be seen and the intangible effect on enemy morale.

TACTICAL SUPPORT
The B52s, designed originally to carry nuclear weapons, have been modified for the Vietnamese war and have even been employed in tactical support — the last thing in the minds of the plane's designers.

But Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, commander of the U.S. Marines in Viet Nam, radioed the Strategic Air Command after a tactical mission last December: "We are delighted. The timing was precise. The bombing accurate and the over-all effect awesome to behold. Many thanks. Come again."

Principally, though, the assaults are strategic in nature. Flying at 40,000 feet, the bombers cannot be heard from the ground and the enemy doesn't know it is under attack until it has already happened.

ACCURATE GEAR
The targets are selected here and SAC takes it from there. The bombers' sophisticated instruments are more accurate than human skill; senior Air Force officers maintain the B52s can "drop their loads onto a rain barrel."

One of the favorite targets has been in the 3rd Corps area 35 miles or so north of Saigon — the "D Zone" and the notorious "iron triangle." They've hit the area 46 times and have gouged such huge holes in the fantastically tangled jungle that Allied troops are able to operate there in comparative security for the first time.

U.S. EVALUATION
Here's the way high U.S. officials evaluate the strikes:
—The havens are being ruined.
—Deserters are increasing.
—The civilian population in areas, under the thumb of the Viet Cong, who are forced to work for the Communists, are moving out of the target zones. The guerrillas are now being saddled with extra work, and they are in trouble as a consequence.

—And finally, the more new holes the Viet Cong has to dig for hideouts, the less fighting he's able to do in the field.

Serving Others Motivates Programs, Founder States

By JERRY MONSON
"Service to others," said Mrs. Helen Lengfeld, "is the force which motivates members of the United Voluntary Services in their work for the relief and welfare of mankind everywhere."

Mrs. Lengfeld, founder and national president of the UVS, was in Big Spring Wednesday afternoon to tell a group of 25 interested residents about the UVS programs. The reception was held at the Ramada Inn.

adapted to the particular need of the community and all UVS programs are localized, including any or all of the National Headquarters programs, such as the Korean orphanage project, the stamp club program, or the international program."

Mrs. Lengfeld said that the UVS could supplement voluntary organizations already in progress in Big Spring or could start an entirely new voluntary program. She appointed Mrs. Donald Van Meter, wife of the hospital director at the Veterans Administration Hospital, as president of the local program.

The program and projects of United Voluntary Services are so varied and of such nature and scope that those who wish to participate will find ample opportunity for their particular talents," Mrs. Lengfeld said. "To 'Build a Bridge of Service' throughout the community is our main goal."

Mrs. Lengfeld, who lives in San Mateo, Calif., will cover 16,000 miles on her present tour, which includes visiting 68 veterans hospitals and countless military installations.

One Wreck Injury Listed

A local woman was taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital following a two-car accident at 1009 S. Gregg yesterday at 4:06 p.m., officers said, but hospital records show no admission.

The accident involved the car of Dorothy G. Wyrick, Midland, and a car operated by Lucille J. Shugart, Bennett Trailer Court, officers said. The Shugart woman was taken to Malone and Hogan.

Two other accidents injured no one, officers said. Involved were the car of Joseph Harold Homan, Box 347, and the stopped car of Norma Stoner Walraven, 4012 Vicky, at 600 S. Gregg; and the parked car of Lease Park, Inc., Great Neck, New York, which was struck by a vehicle which left the scene, at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant parking lot, Third and Owens.

Remaining Case Reported Settled

The one case remaining on this week's jury docket in 118th District Court was reported settled Wednesday afternoon, and Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court had District Court Clerk Fern Cox contact the members of the jury panel. They need not report any more this week, the jurors were informed. The case was slated for trial Thursday.

None of the approximately 20 civil cases on the docket were ready for trial this week. A few were reported settled or dismissed. Majority were passed on motion of the attorneys.

Former Underworld Girl Friend Found Dead

SALZBURG, Austria (AP)—Virginia Hill, once a girlfriend of Bugsy Siegel and other American underworld figures, was found dead near here today.

Police, who gave her age as 50, said there were no indications of foul play but because of her background they ordered an autopsy.

Detectives Clear Co-Op Burglary

City detectives said today they have cleared the burglary of the Co-Op Gin warehouse, which occurred Tuesday.

Detective Sherrill Farmer said two 9-year-old boys admitted taking three faucet connections from the warehouse. Farmer also said the two boys were the same ones who Tuesday admitted to Amillo Nunez, 306 N. Main, that they had taken a tool box, a metal hamper, a box of cuff links and two cartons of soft-drink bottles from his home, then left the items about 100 feet from the residence.

Political Class To Begin Today

A non-partisan course in practical politics will begin tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce conference room. The discussion group, which will meet for nine weeks every Thursday, will be led by R. H. Weaver. Fee is $5 for books and materials.

The course, co-sponsored by the local Business and Professional Women's Club, the Permian Basin Medical Auxiliary, and the AAUW, is designed to enable individuals in local groups to learn more about becoming active and effective in the political party of their choice.

Merger Plan Pushed By N.Y. Newspapers

NEW YORK (AP)—Owners of three New York papers hope to effect a merger, perhaps within a week of receiving Justice Department clearance.

That was the word from John Green, assistant business manager of the World-Telegram and the Sun, after publisher's representatives from the three papers met Wednesday with members of the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild's negotiating committee.

SINGLE STAFF
It was also learned that the publishers plan to operate with a single staff and house all departments except advertising in the World-Telegram plant. The Sunday paper would be put out at the Herald Tribune plant.

Thomas Murphy, guild executive vice president, said the guild hopes to keep "a maximum number of jobs," and that seniority would be adhered to "if there is any justification for cutting off anyone."

Some 1,800 guild members are among the 5,700 persons employed at the World-Telegram, the Journal-American and the Herald Tribune.

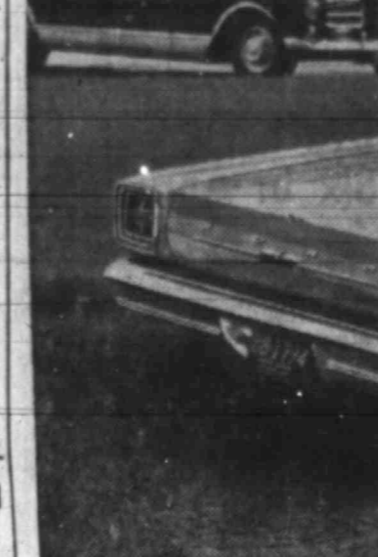

EXPIRED CONTRACT
All three papers have been working under terms of an expired contract while negotiations continue on a new one. Murphy again stated that there must be full agreement before the new company can go into operation.

The three papers filed notice Tuesday with the Justice Department, that they planned to merge into one firm to publish one afternoon paper, the World Journal; one Sunday paper, the World Journal and Tribune; and one morning paper, the Herald Tribune.

Monsieur Jean Bauchet is an art collector and a connoisseur of fine automobiles. His understanding that quiet in a car means quality. After driving a '66 Ford XL, he said, "They would not have to make Paris streets so smooth if all cars rode like this."

Ford's Quiet Man, who recently toured Europe demonstrating the exceptional quality of the '66 Ford to owners of some of the world's most expensive cars, here discusses a '66 Ford XL with Monsieur Bauchet outside of Monsieur Bauchet's Paris home.

"Such smoothness, such silence," says Jean Bauchet. "Your Ford is quieter, M'sieu."

Ford's quiet quality is the result of advanced engineering features like a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" road vibrations... the strongest body ever on a Ford. But the quiet ride is just one of many reasons why you're ahead in a Ford all the way.

Only Ford in its class offers a Stereo-Sonic Tape Player option that brings you over an hour of uninterrupted music of your choice, on each self-threading, snap-in tape cartridge. Magic Doorgate for wagons (standard equipment) that opens out like a door and down like a tailgate, depending on whether you are loading kids or cargo. Silent-Flo Ventilation (on 4-door hardtops) that brings in fresh air and gets rid of smoke and stale air with the windows closed. Even Ford's keys are special—they're double-edged so they fit in locks either side up. Visit your Ford Dealer and test-drive a '66 from Ford. See how many ways Ford can put you ahead in '66.

Joe Jaure Is Probably Most Versatile Boy

Joe Jaure of Big Spring is perhaps the state's most versatile high school track and field athlete. Jaure ranks among the state's top ten in the 100-yard dash with a 9.6 clocking, in the broad jump with a leap of 22.7 and is tied for first place in the 180-yard low hurdles with an 18.6 timing. Only two other boys, Ricky Potts of Monahans and Reginald Robinson of Wichita Falls Washington have turned in better times than Jaure in the 100. Each was timed in 9.5. The state's best broad jump was accomplished by Freddie Patterson of San Antonio Wheatley, who cleared 23.54. Jaure is tied for seventh in that event. In the low hurdles, Jack Wileman of Fort Worth Arlington Heights has also broken the tape in 18.6. Last weekend in the West Texas Relays in Odessa, Jaure scored 12 of the 13 points Big Spring made and shattered the low hurdles record. Mike Mosley of Coahoma is among the state's elite in the 880-yard run. Mosley has been timed in 1:57.3. The state's best mark in that event was achieved by Dave Morton of Houston Memorial, who was timed in 1:55.4. Mosley is the only athlete in the league, to set a state record in the half mile last year and is a good bet to break his own mark this year. Jaure and his team mates will compete in the San Angelo Relays Saturday.

Clay Says He Will Quit If He Loses

TORONTO (AP) — A suddenly modest Cassius Clay says he'll retire if George Chuvalo strips him of his heavyweight title Tuesday night. "I'd have to retire," he said Wednesday after sparring eight rounds in preparation for his 15-round scrap against the Canadian champion from Toronto. "Once I lose, that's it." But there seems little chance of that happening. Clay is a lopsided favorite.

One Toronto bookie said a few small operators are taking bets with Clay a 6-1 favorite. "But the big bookies, and I mean the really big guys, want no part of it," he said. Murray Goodman of New York, a spokesman for Main Bout Inc., which owns the closed-circuit television rights, said 39 sites in the United States and Canada have been lined up so far for showings. He estimated total capacity at 210,000 and said a gross of $500,000 is likely to be added to the promotional pot. There will be no live TV of the fight, which begins at 9:30 p.m. CST, but it will be carried live on the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. radio network. Clay, who usually brags about his fighting ability and predicts his knockout rounds, has been surprisingly quiet and modest since setting up training camp here last Friday.

He sat in his dressing room and explained why. "The people here in Canada were nice enough to have me. I'm fighting one of their boys. He's a nice boy and I have nothing against him." He said he pops off only because he's the target of criticism because of his religious beliefs. Clay is a member of the Black Muslims. He was the object of considerable criticism over his recent remarks concerning the U.S. role in Viet Nam. He made them at the time his draft board was reclassifying him and making him eligible for Army duty. "I got a lot of letters after my Viet Nam remarks," he said. "They said I was yellow. I was a coward. But they didn't leave any address. I read them all and just laughed." The number of outlets for closed-circuit TV was a sharp drop from the more than 200 originally lined up for the Clay-Ernie Terrell bout, but Clay said a purse reduction does not bother him unduly.

Stark Reaches Semifinal Round

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Daryl Stark of Dallas gained tonight's semifinals of the National Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament by outpointing Richard Steele of Los Angeles. Stark, a 171-pounder, also was named to receive the Joey Maxim award for sportsmanship, given to a lightweight each year. Three other Texas fighters were eliminated in the quarterfinals Wednesday night. Joe Ramey, a 205-pound heavyweight from Tyler, was knocked out by Earl Avarete of Cleveland in 1:03 of the second round.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Gene McCollum, one of the men nominated for places in the Texas High School Coaches Association Hall of Honor this year is the fellow who city-slickered Big Spring in the 1953 football playoffs. McCollum, then coach at Port Neches, watched the Steers slaughter Gainesville in the semifinals at Breckenridge and came away convinced that the only way Port Neches could defeat Big Spring was to play them at home, preferably on a wet field. Carl Coleman, then coach at Big Spring, wanted to arrange the game for a neutral site, preferably at Austin or Fort Worth. McCollum held out for a coin toss that would enable one team or the other to play at home. The rules, of course, backed him up. The local delegation had no recourse but to agree to the coin toss. McCollum not only won the coin flip but got the kind of weather he wanted. Water was ankle deep on parts of the field and the bigger Steers couldn't catch the Port Neches club, members of which seemed to know where all the dry spots on the turf were. Too, the Port Neches club wore a type of uniform that to the Longhorns seemed next to impossible to hold. Big Spring went into the game favored but Port Neches won the game, 24-13. McCollum, who coached in Midland at one time, was in the profession for 20 years. He's been superintendent of schools at Port Neches since 1955. In college at Hardin-Simmons, where he went as a scholar rather than an athlete, McCollum was perhaps better known as a basketball player than as a griddier. He was all-conference four years in the cage sport. In 1938 he joined a group of other coaches that won the State AAU Basketball meet and was runner-up to Phillips 66 in the National AAU. Needless to relate, McCollum remains athletic minded. Since he became superintendent there, the football stadium has been expanded twice. New sports facilities have been built at all three junior high schools and a new $600,000 gymnasium and physical education building has been added to the school plant. Jack Nicklaus, the pro golfer, registers out of the Scioto Country Club in Columbus, Ohio. The resident pro there, Walter Inman, followed the pro circuit at one time but gave it up in favor of a permanent club job. In January, Inman took time off to play in the PGA club championship in Florida—and won it. The prize money amounted to $1,000, which might have seemed bigger to Inman than some of the $20,000 Nicklaus has earned. The NCAA TV football schedule hasn't yet been completed but quite probably you will be able to see Alabama and Auburn play before the cameras next Dec. 3. The game is now booked for Nov. 26 but will be changed if televised because of television scheduling difficulties. Both schools have agreed to the change. Sponsors of the Lucky International Open Golf Tournament in San Francisco lost $5,780 on the venture this year but $10,000 was donated to San Francisco Boys Clubs by the brewing concern which financed the operation. The tournament finished in the red despite the fact that income amounted to $112,486.14.

First Lt. Terry Isaacson, one-time star athlete for the Air Force Academy, will be the principal speaker at the Evening Lions Club banquet honoring members of the HCJC and Big Spring High School basketball teams. The banquet will be served in the Downtown Tea Room starting at 7:30 p.m. Monday. No public sale of tickets will be staged but friends of the sport can gain admission to the party by paying the regular price for a meal — $1.25. Various awards will be made to members of the two teams, including Sportsmanship, most valuable and best rebounding trophies. Isaacson was a quarterback for the AFA Falcons a few years ago and was regarded as one of the best in collegiate circles at the time.

Regan Boosts LA's Chances

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Los Angeles fans who had been clamoring for the Dodgers to make a trade for a hitter were disappointed last winter when the only deal the world champions made was for Detroit Pitcher Phil Regan. But the transaction that sent utility infielder Dick Tracowski to the Tigers has taken on added significance this spring because Dodger stars Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale are holding out. And Drysdale reaffirmed that he and Koufax definitely will be among the missing this season unless they are given a substantial raise. "Buzzie is right—we won't sign for the figures they've offered," Drysdale told newsmen Wednesday. "And we believe when they say they're not going to raise their offer." The day before, Dodger General Manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi told newsmen: "Unless I am naive and have been taken in, I have to believe they won't sign." Drysdale also told newsmen the Dodgers' top offer has been $85,000 for him and $100,000 for Koufax, instead of higher figures reported by their attorney. The other National League clubs have made no secret that they can think of more unpleasant things than not having to face Koufax and Drysdale this season, and that's where the Dodgers feel Regan's importance comes in. Regan, a 25-year-old right-hander, was a 15-game winner at Detroit as lately as 1963 and that's a distinction only two Dodgers can claim. Of the pitchers in uniform today, only one has ever won more games than this. Left-hander Johnny Podres, and only one other has ever won as many as 15—southpaw Claude Osteen. So there was much interest in Regan Wednesday as he allowed St. Louis one run and two hits in three innings. The Cardinals went on to hand the Dodgers a 6-1 defeat, their third loss in a row and their ninth in 11 starts this spring. Regan, a 6-foot-3, 200-pounder, has been tremendously impressive this spring, allowing two runs and 10 hits in 10 innings. "The thing I like most about him," said pitching coach Harold (Lefty) Phillips, "is that he gets the ball over the plate. And he has better stuff than I was led to expect." In the absence of Koufax and Drysdale, the Dodgers have only two certain starters, Osteen and Podres.

Steers, Eunice To Open Andrews Meet At 5:30

ANDREWS — Four of the eight teams entered in the first annual Andrews High School Baseball tournament open play and tonight. The rest swing into action Friday. The tournament winds up with a championship game at 9 p.m. Saturday. Big Spring and Eunice, N. M., open the tournament with a game at 7:30 p.m. today. Lamesa and Andrews tangle at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Play will be resumed at 5:30 p.m. Friday, at which time Dumas tangles with Alpine. First round play will be completed with an 8:30 p.m. contest Friday between Snyder and Lovington, N. M. Whether it wins or loses, the Big Springers do not play again until Saturday. A loss to Eunice would find the Steers playing again in consolation semifinals at 8:30 a.m. Saturday. A win over Eunice would pit the Steers against the Lamesa-Andrews survivor at 12:30 p.m. Saturday. The other semifinal game in the championship bracket starts at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. Big Spring was also invited to play in the Eunice tournament but will be involved in District 2-AAAA competition by that time. Bobby Griffin, senior left-hander, will probably hurl for the Steers against Eunice while Gary Mears is likely to get the call in the Steers' second game. The tournament winds up pre-season activity for the Steers, who now boast a 5-5 record. The Longhorns meet two 2-AAAA foes at home next week, Midland Lee Tuesday and Odessa Saturday (April 2).

New Hurlers Likely To Boost Redlegs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Beland Milt Pappas, a starter, and cause Cincinnati's All-Star Jack Baldschun, a bullpen ace, pitching staff turned out to be a Little Don Heffner, Bill DeMyth, the Reds have sacrificed Witt's boy down through the superstar Frank Robinson to years, has moved in to put the pieces together. Like his predecessor, Dick Sisler, Heffner also is engaged in a great infield experiment. To make room for Tommy Helms, a highly respected rookie, Heffner is moving Pete Rose, the 1965 All-Star second baseman, to third. Deron Johnson, whose 130 runs batted in led the league, is moving to left field, Robinson's old position. The success of these experiments depends on the ability of Helms to make the grade at second after a fabulous career in the minors. Tommy hit .319 in San Diego and .381 in 21 games with the Reds to earn a promotion. Jim O'Toole must bounce back strong from that dismal 3-10 season (three wins over the Mets) if the Reds are to have solid pitching. This is true even though 20-game winner Jim (No Hit) Maloney has ended his long holdout and should be ready for opening day. Heffner's starting order probably will include Maloney, Pappas (13-9 at Baltimore), Sammy Ellis (22-10) and O'Toole. Joe Nuxhall (11-4) will be limited to spot duty at the age of 37 and big Joey Jay (9-8) must prove that he can regain his old stuff. Bill McCool (9-10), the master of the bullpen, is back after military service. He will find an able helper in ex-Phil Baldschun (5-8). Heffner expects to continue to shift Gordy Coleman (.302) and Tony Perez (.260) at first depending on the opposition pitching. Leo Cardenas, a .287 hitter with power, will go all the way at shortstop. The Reds' new boss also plans to patron Johnny Edwards and Don Pavletich, his two good-hitting catchers.

'THEY CAME TO WIN' Royals Defeat Celts, 107-103

BOSTON (AP)—"We came to play and they came to win," said Boston Celtics Coach Red Auerbach after his defending National Basketball Association champions got off on the wrong foot in the Eastern Division semifinal playoffs. The comment summed up the series-opener after the Royals outlasted the favored Celtics 107-103 to send the series to Cincinnati for the second game Saturday night with the Royals holding a 1-0 advantage. The Western Division semifinal playoff opens tonight in Baltimore with the Bullets getting the home-court advantage for their meeting with the St. Louis Hawks. "The money game, baby, we won the money game," cried big Wayne Embry as the Royals entered their dressing room after upsetting the Celtics. The underdog Cincinnati team seemed as surprised as the crowd of 9,510 that they had taken Boston much easier than the score indicated. Royals Coach Jack McMahon credited his defense with the victory, as did Jerry Lucas, one of the heroes of the big victory. Although Lucas and Oscar Robertson tied for game scoring honors with 26 points apiece, Lucas was far from happy with his performance. "Oscar and I just weren't hitting our shots," he said. "The defense saved us. If the two of us had been hitting, it wouldn't even have been a ballgame." McMahon thought Lucas' play was sensation, explaining, "his timing hasn't been better all season." Auerbach felt it was a game where everything went right for the Royals and nothing went right for the Celtics. "Everything we did in the first quarter was wrong," he said reflecting on Boston's sorry performance in which it scored only 17 points. "We were just as bad in the third quarter," he added. "We cut the lead to three points and then we gave up a ball three times without taking a shot."

PAPP JUCO ALL-STAR

Kurt Papp of HCJC was named to the 1966 National Junior College Association's All-American third team, it was announced in Hutchinson, Kan., Wednesday. Eddy Nelson of the Jayhawks won a similar distinction last year. Papp was one of two Texans chosen on the first three quintets. The other one was Tom Farrell of Kilgore College, selected on the second unit.

Dan Sikes Is Links Choice

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The closest to a favorite as the Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament began today was the man most familiar with the course, Dan Sikes of Jacksonville. "I've played this course so many times I couldn't count them, and I've had several 66s," Sikes said after trying for first among the pros in a pro-am preliminary Wednesday with a six-under-par-66. "I'll probably wish I'd saved some of those birdies for the next four days, though," he said, noting that the $462.50 he collected is considerably less than the $13,500 prize in the 72-hole event. Sikes, a 35-year-old former University of Florida golf captain who joined the pro tour six years ago after getting a law degree, figures there isn't a spot his ball could land on the 6,906-yard Selva Marina course that would be strange to him. He finished two strokes behind the winner, Bert Weaver of Broadwater Beach, Miss., last year — first time for the touring pros at Selva Marina.

Mrs. Rogers Hefley Gets District Award

Several hundred clubwomen from the southwestern part of the state were in Pecos Friday when Mrs. Rogers Hefley, 801 W. 18th, was named "Teacher of the Year" for the Western District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. The presentation of her award was made by Mrs. J. C. Pickle, also of Big Spring, during the district's annual meeting attended by clubwomen from 21 counties. Mrs. Pickle substituted for Mrs. Lonnie Coker of Big Spring who was unable to attend the convention. She is district chairman for the "Teacher of the Year" committee.

MRS. ROGERS HEFLEY (Burr PhotoCenter)

Mrs. Hefley, a member of the 1905 Hyperion Club since 1942, began her federated club work when she became membership chairman of the sixth district when she was president of the Wimodousis Club in Sterling City.

Mistrial Declared In Check Case

HOUSTON (AP)—A federal judge has declared a mistrial and re-set for May 31 the trial of four Houston men accused of counterfeit check passing.

Judge Joe Ingraham declared the mistrial Wednesday after a witness testified that a defense attorney was on a retainer to make bond for alleged check passers who might get caught.

Defendants are Leslie B. Bostick, 34, Charles D. Lainhart, 26, John D. Yergler, 22, and Robert D. Edwards, 20. They are specifically charged with conspiracy to transport forged securities in interstate commerce.

BOGUS CHECKS

The government accuses them of heading a counterfeit check passing ring that cheated Houston merchants out of $100,000 between June and January of last year.

Two other men, James Albert Morgan, 59, of Jacksonville, Fla., formerly stationed at Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., and Brian Joseph Campbell, 22, of Brooklyn, were indicted in the case and have pleaded guilty and are government witnesses.

Morgan testified that Bostick told him that John O'Dowd, who represented two of the accused men, was on a retainer and available to anyone who got caught.

CALLED FALSE

O'Dowd said the testimony was "absolutely and utterly false" and made a motion for a mistrial which was granted by Judge Ingraham.

However, Ingraham told O'Dowd:

"You're going to be out of this case whether they indict you or not."

Earlier, Morgan testified of a plan to kidnap and drug an unidentified bank president. Morgan said the plan that never came off was to give the banker an injection of sodium penothal and have him sign an approval for a loan of $100,000. Morgan said the banker supposedly would not have remembered the incident after the drug wore off.

'Schools For Voters' Urged By Yarborough

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., urged leaders of the Texas AFL-CIO Wednesday to conduct schools for voters in Texas as one way to break up what he termed a "power structure" he said was operated by Gov. John Connally.

The Texas union leaders applauded Yarborough as he spoke at a coffee reception held for the union leaders who are in Washington for a national convention of building trades union leaders.

Yarborough said the registering of 600,000 new Texas voters during the 15-day emergency period is a "victory," but added it was "not enough."

"You have to teach a lot of these people how to vote," he said.

"NO PATTERN"

"They have no pattern of voting. And fear has kept many of them from the polls."

Yarborough called upon the leaders for what he termed "a loyal state Democratic convention for a change."

He said some voters in the past were fearful that firemen on duty at fire stations used as polling places in elections were policemen and left without voting.

The senator urged the men to teach voters in paper ballot counties "how to mark their ballot so it won't be thrown out."

He pointed out a newspaper article which said a group of Dallas businessmen had given $100,000 in pledges for support of Democratic candidates favored by the Connally administration.

CALLED INSULT

He called this "an insult of the people of Texas."

One of the leaders of the union group, H. S. (Hank) Brown, president of the Texas AFL-CIO, said he expects to talk with Yarborough about the four pending federal judgeships in Texas. He said the labor leaders wanted to find out whom Yarborough "has in mind" for the appointments. He indicated the Texas AFL-CIO "may or may not" recommend any names for the appointments.

Yarborough said he has not yet had, or asked for an appointment to discuss the federal judgeships with President Johnson. He indicated he would talk with the President before the appointments are announced.

MRS. ROY CEDERBERG

Technique Described For Recipe Collection

By JO ANN PHINIZY
All of cooking is something of a smorgasbord treat in the opinion of Mrs. Roy Cederberg, 2306 Merrily.

"I truly enjoy cooking," she said. "I like to experiment with different recipes. Those we like, I put on our list of standard fare. Sometimes, our table looks like a buffet luncheon at the United Nations."

Mrs. Cederberg said there are several tributaries toward being a collector of recipes.

First of all, it isn't cricket to use prepared foods. The object is to start from scratch. Then, the challenge is between the cook and the recipe.

Second, it helps to have a family of adventurous eaters. Mrs. Cederberg has the aid and approval of Sheryl, a 15-year-old high school student; Brad Lee, a seventh grade basketball player at Goliad; and Cederberg, the production clerk at Colorado Oil Company.

GOOD COOKS
Most important of all, a good cook must have curiosity. In Mrs. Cederberg's version, wherever you go, or whoever you talk to, there is a new recipe in the near vicinity.

"The Birocks recipe is an example," she explained. "We're from Kansas, and I learned to cook them from a neighbor. They're the Russian-German hamburger, and are a complete meal in themselves."

"From our Swedish in-laws, we have adopted Palton, an easy-to-cook potato patty. All you do is grate five or six potatoes, drain dry, add an egg, salt, pepper and enough flour to add stiffness. Pat the mixture into individual patties and put them into boiling water until they rise to the surface.

"They are excellent when eaten with butter or with breakfast sausage," she said.

Mrs. Cederberg says that the theory of experiment and discovery of new foods holds true in Big Spring.

"We had never eaten black-eyed peas or Mexican food until we came here. Of course, we had pinto beans in Kansas; but I always thought they should be cooked with every thing but the kitchen sink. They're really much better with just a little salt pork," she said.

CAKE ICING
Mrs. Cederberg believes that a cake isn't a cake unless it is decorated with confectionary something. She says that it is just as easy to add the final touch with a decoration tube as not.

Besides cooking, Mrs. Cederberg has other hobbies. She will soon be installed as president of the Progressive Woman's Forum, and the vice president of the Choir Boosters Club.

As a family the Cederbergs enjoy fishing, bowling and water skiing. They also plan to tour as many points of interest on the South Plains as they can. They have recently returned from the Big Bend country and have Carlsbad Caverns on their agenda.

In selecting her recipes, Mrs. Cederberg chose ones that are interesting to cook. She says that the Julekaka freezes well and is ideal for gifts or for special occasions.

3 tps. salt
4 to 6 eggs

Scald milk, and cool to luke warm. Crumble yeast in milk, and allow to stand 5 minutes. Add sugar, salt, and beaten eggs. Add enough flour to make a sticky dough. Add melted shortening, and stir into dough mixture. Sift a small amount of flour over currants and mix them until they are coated.

Add cardamom and currants to batter. Mix well. Continue to add the remaining flour until you have a smooth soft dough.

Pour out on a floured board and kneed gently for two minutes. Put in greased bowl. Allow to triple in bulk. Punch down, and let rise again. Do this twice.

Divide into 18 equal balls and form each ball into long strips. By threes, braid the strips together, and place on a cookie sheet. Brush each braid with a beaten egg, and allow to rise for 45 minutes. Place in preheated oven set at 350 degrees. Bake 30 to 45 minutes. Remove from oven and cool. Frost with plain powdered sugar icing. Decorate with nuts and cherries.

FORGOTTEN PUDDING
5 egg whites
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
Pre-heat oven to 450 degrees.

Beat egg whites until frothy; add cream of tartar and continue beating until very stiff. Continue beating, and add sugar slowly. Put into a 7 1/2 x 13 pan and put into oven.

Turn off oven and leave overnight. When ready to serve, whip a package of dessert topping and spread over mixture. Top with a can of cherry pie filling. Cut into squares and serve.

BIROCKS

2 cups milk
3/4 tps. salt
6 tpsps. sugar
4 tpsps. shortening
1 cake yeast
6 cups flour
1 lb. hamburger meat
1 large onion
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 small head cabbage
Scald milk; add sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt and shortening and let cool. When luke warm, add yeast and flour and beat well to make a stiff batter. Add enough flour to make a firm, but not stiff dough. Mix and put on a floured board. Kneed until the mixture is smooth. Put into a greased bowl. Brush over with butter, cover, and set in a warm place to rise.

When almost triple in bulk, roll out on board until about 1/4 inch thick. Cut into individual 3-4 inch squares. Put 4 tablespoons of filling in the center of half of the squares. Top with remaining squares; fold all corners and seal seams. Bake 25 minutes at 400 degrees.

FILLING: Melt 1 teaspoon shortening in skillet. Add finely chopped onions, add hamburger meat, and cook until meat grounds are separated. Add shredded cabbage, salt and pepper. Stew until done on low heat. Cool before adding to squares.

One-Dish Meal Creates New Taste For Family

For busy homemakers, winter is the double trouble season of the year. Not only is the pre-spring pace of social activities stepped up — she comes face to face as well with the annually proven fact that family appetites never call a recess, and meal - preparing puts an even heavier strain on an already-overfilled schedule. To ease the strain and satisfy winter - sharpened appetites, smart - planning home cooks find a happy solution in the one-dish meal . . . a hearty casserole which needs only salad and hot bread to complete a substantial dinner.

Prairie casserole is one of the solid - gold recipes homemakers look for in this department — a rib-sticking Western - accented blend of round steak, rice, and beans, with beef bouillon blended with the ready-in-the-can bean-sauce providing a zesty cooked - through flavor.

Because the rice is mixed in uncooked, this recipe requires a minimum of preparation time — yet boasts enough distinctive character to make Prairie Casserole a memorable mealtime and dinner or guest - time buffet.

1 lb. round steak
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/4 cup flour
4 tpsps. butter or margarine
1 can beef bouillon
1 can ranch style beans (15 oz.)
1 1/4 cups packaged pre-cooked rice

1 medium onion, diced
1 medium green pepper, diced
1 cup water

Combine flour, salt and pepper. Cut round steak in 1/2-inch cubes and roll in seasoned flour. Melt butter in skillet, add meat and saute until brown. Add bouillon; cover and simmer until meat is nearly tender, about 20 minutes. Stir in beans and other ingredients, pour in 2-quart casserole, cover, and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 40 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

Add a salad of tossed greens or fresh spinach with Parmesan cheese and crisp bits of fried bacon, plus hot rolls or biscuits, and you've achieved a quick - cooked success with the hungriest family — besides taking the strain off your own on-the-go social schedule.

Use Snack Bowls For Shelf Display

Bowls for nibbles are both modern and practical when they are made of wood. Dime stores have small individual salad bowls. Use nail polish to paint "All Gone" "You've Had It!" on the inside bottoms of the bowls. Wax 'til they shine and display on a shelf.

Vegetables Become Good Buys

COLLEGE STATION — Produce counters are taking on a springtime look as asparagus and other fresh vegetables appear in larger supply, reminds Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Although prices are somewhat high on fresh vegetables, there's good quality broccoli, Brussels sprouts, green cabbage, carrots, celery and some tomatoes available. Lettuce is priced more economically. Green beans, squash and cooking greens vary in quality while good values are found in potatoes, dry onions and turnips.

Fruits available in good quality are apples, pears and grapes from storage. Bananas are economical. There's an ample supply of grapefruit of excellent flavor and quality. Oranges also are good buys. Some stores are featuring Hawaiian pineapples and avocados. Melons and strawberries are arriving and retailing at first season prices.

Good buys at the meat counter are turkeys and chicken hens. Prices on frying chickens are not quite so low as they were last year, but they are still good values.

Beef prices are slightly higher than a year ago, and there are fewer specials on beef steaks and roasts this week. Ground meat is a little higher, too, but you can save money on ground beef if you use or store two or three pound packages.

Cured pork loins, ham and bacon prices are down a bit partly because of consumer resistance.

Even though egg prices are up from last year, they are considered large size eggs are still the most economical.

Cheese and other dairy foods are good Lenten menu choices, along with various types of fish.

Protein Found In Small Supply Of Peanut Butter

Every homemaker knows it takes careful planning to ensure nutritious, healthful, yet economical meals day after day.

That's why peanut butter ranks so high on food lists of most homemakers. They know how valuable peanut butter can be in adding nutrition to meals. For instance, the U.S. Department of Agriculture ranks peanut butter near the top in six nutritional categories—food energy, fats necessary to maintain body balance, protein, phosphorus, thiamine and niacin.

Because of its high concentration of nutritional value, even a single peanut butter sandwich of several tablespoons of peanut butter in a sauce or dressing can add much to the daily diet.

Peanut butter is very high in pure protein—which is the fundamental structural element of every cell in the body. In a rapidly developing child, protein is indispensable for the building of new tissue.

School cafeterias operating under the National School Lunch Program, administered by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service, find peanut butter valuable in meeting requirements of the Type A lunch. For instance, four tablespoons of peanut butter may be used to supply the needed protein.

While peanut butter is plentiful, try this Stuffed Banana Salad. You'll need 2 large or 4 small bananas, 1/4 cup peanut butter, 2 tablespoons chopped raisins, mayonnaise, lemon juice and chopped salted peanuts.

Peel and split bananas lengthwise. Fill sandwich fashion with peanut butter and raisins which have been mixed together. Roll in mayonnaise that has been thinned with lemon juice, then in chopped salted peanuts.

Serve a half or whole banana on lettuce. Garnish with a red cherry or a strawberry.

Score Steak For Easy Tenderizing

Flank steak can be served as a tender cut if it's high quality and scored (this cuts the fibers), then cooked quickly by broiling. It's served by cutting slantwise in thin slices.

Cutting the broiled flank steak, sometimes known by the term, "London Broil," in thin slices make it a scrumptious sandwich when served on hot, buttered garlic bread. If desired, garnish with dairy sour cream and pan-fried onions.

CELEBRITY RECIPES

Mrs. John Kennedy Selects New England Fish Chowder

Mrs. John F. Kennedy

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the late President Kennedy, has for all her public life been a phenomenal pace - setter in matters of charm and grace, acclaimed for her simple yet elegant taste in dress and manner.

Her influence on American women has been probably the greatest of any individual in our history. Her life has been an exemplary open book and in spite of great tragedy she has maintained an equilibrium that many have envied but few can emulate.

Few of us think of her as Mrs. Kennedy or even as Jacqueline; the public's affection for her is such that she is invariably called Jackie, and probably always will be, even when she is a charming dowager.

Though her table is known widely for its exquisite presentation, often in the grand haute cuisine manner, her personal taste remains simple and without ostentation as witness one of her favorite dishes: the classic New England Fish Chowder.

Here is a truly basic stew, as simple and American as bouillabaisse is French and complicated.

There are many recipes for fish chowder. Jackie Kennedy's is one of the tastiest, and certainly one of the easiest to prepare. Here is how she does it:

JACKIE KENNEDY'S NEW ENGLAND FISH CHOWDER
2 lbs. haddock
2 oz. salt pork, diced
2 onions, sliced
4 large potatoes, diced
1 cup of chopped celery
1 bay leaf, crumpled
1 qt. milk
2 tpsps. butter
1 tsp. salt
Freshly ground black pepper
Simmer haddock in two cups of water for 15 minutes. Drain. Reserve broth. Remove bones from fish. Saute diced salt pork until crisp, remove and set aside. Saute onions in pork fat until golden brown. Add fish, potatoes, celery, bay leaf, salt and pepper. Pour in fish broth plus enough boiling water to make three cups of liquid. Simmer for 30 minutes. Add milk and butter and simmer for five minutes. Serve chowder sprinkled with pork dice. Serves Six.

Teens Require High Protein Breakfast

Attention always seems to be focused on teenagers. Although these young people may not enjoy being named as an individual group in our society, in one particular area, it's quite important to study them as one. That's concerning the food they eat.

Nutritionists agree that teenagers, including the girls, need more of the essential nutrients than their parents. Unfortunately many of today's youth have poor diets, and some of the most common food faults is eating a poor breakfast or none at all. Breakfast skippers frequently end the day with a deficiency in nutrients.

It's particularly important for every teenager to consume a balanced high - protein morning meal, not only because food needs are high, but because food habits for life are usually formed during these years.

NEED MOTIVATION
But what is Mom to do if her family refuses breakfast? Presenting facts is not enough. Teenagers need stronger motivation.

Girls, usually worse offenders than boys, must realize that sparkling eyes, lustrous hair, pep and energy come from wise choice of foods, not from the cosmetic counter. The vivacious, popular girl is usually eating right. Skipping breakfast does not keep weight down, either. It generally leads to a high-calorie snack later.

Boys have the desire for strong active bodies, and this is achieved through adequate protein, vitamins and minerals. Another teen wish is for good grades. If breakfast is poor, you are likely to be tired and unable to concentrate in class.

Mom, set a good example by eating breakfast yourself and by preparing tempting foods. There must be a source of high-quality protein to satisfy appetites and hold you until lunch.

Archbishop, Pope Pledge Unity Action

ROME (AP) — Pope Paul VI and the Archbishop of Canterbury prayed together in a Roman Catholic basilica today after joining in a declaration committing the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches to an unprecedented program of contacts and collaboration aimed toward unity.

The Pope, a fragile figure in white, and the tall, purple-robed Dr. Michael Ramsey bowed their heads in common prayer in the pontifical basilica of St. Paul's Outside the Walls. The ceremony climaxed the first official visit to the Vatican of an Anglican primate since the Church of England broke with the Vatican in 1534.

DECLARATION READ
After the special prayer service, the joint declaration was read in Latin by Bishop Jan Willebrands, secretary of the Vatican's Christian Unity Secretariat, and in English by Dr. Ralph Dean, executive delegate of the Anglican Communion.

The declaration said the Pope and Dr. Ramsey "intend to inaugurate between the Roman Catholic Church and the Anglican Communion a serious dialogue which may lead to that unity in truth for which Christ prayed."

It was greeted by applause from an audience of 3,000 in the large basilica where Pope John XXIII announced in 1959 that he was calling the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

SIDE BY SIDE
The Pope and Dr. Ramsey had entered the crowded basilica side by side and walked together down the center aisle. They sat side by side in identical gilt and brocade armchairs, as they had at their first meeting Wednesday in the Sistine Chapel.

Both read portions of a common service of worship prepared for the occasion. The Pope read his words in Latin and the archbishop in English.

After the reading of the joint declaration, the Pope and Dr. Ramsey embraced in a symbolic kiss of peace, as they did twice Wednesday at the Vatican. Another wave of applause rose from the congregation.

"NEW STAGE"
The joint declaration said the meeting of the Pope and the archbishop "marks a new stage in the development of fraternal relations, based upon Christian charity, and of sincere efforts to remove the causes of conflict and to re-establish unity."

The declaration did not specify how closer contacts would be accomplished. It was expected, however, that a first step would be creation of a Roman-Anglican commission to study in detail issues dividing the churches.

The declaration said the dialogue "should include not only theological matters such as Scripture, tradition and liturgy, but also matters of practical difficulties felt on either side."

BARRIERS CITED
Among the barriers between the half-billion-member Catholic Church and the 45-million-member Anglican Communion are disagreements over papal infallibility, doctrines concerning the Virgin Mary, and questions of mixed marriage and birth control.

The declaration did not minimize the great obstacles on the road to unity, but the two leaders vowed to work to end the differences of the past.

New Rules Don't Hit Small Mines

PIKEVILLE, KY. (AP) — Robert Holcomb, president of the National Independent Coal Operators' Association, says amendments to a federal coal mine safety law passed last week would not affect the profits of small mines.

Holcomb said small-mine operators were exempted from provisions of the safety code by the amendments.

Labor Party Seen Winning By Landslide

LONDON (AP) — With Britain's national election only a week from today, all the public opinion polls point to a landslide victory for the Labor government.

Whether they are right will be known only after the votes are counted—in the early hours of April Fool's Day. The polls have an almost perfect record in predicting the winning party in past elections.

Since polling began on a national scale after World War II, 14 of the 15 surveys published in the last six elections have predicted the outcome correctly.

The only one wrong was the Daily Express poll of 1964, which gave the Conservatives a margin of 9.8 per cent of the popular vote in an election that turned out to be a cliffhanger. The Labor victory margin was only 1.9 per cent.

The major polls now in operation are the Gallup poll, the National Opinion poll, the Daily Express poll and Research Services. They give Labor an average lead of about 11 per cent, and it hardly varied since the campaign began two weeks ago.

Dear Abby

This Writing Means Trouble

DEAR ABBY: A co-worker has taken up the hobby of analyzing handwriting. I never believed in things like that, so when she asked me for a sample of my handwriting, I just laughed and said, "No thanks, skip me." Well, she got hold of my handwriting from an office memo and went ahead and analyzed it anyway. She told our co-workers that my handwriting revealed "criminal tendencies" and that I was "over-sexed." Abby, I have never been arrested in my life, not even for a traffic violation. And in my 30 years of marriage I have never been unfaithful. How does an innocent person defend himself against such insults? VIRGIL

DEAR VIRGIL: Accusations of this kind are extremely damaging to one's reputation. Tell her there is a law against making such statements, and it is called slander. And if she can read the handwriting on the wall, she had better analyze that in a hurry and either provide proof for her statements or retract them.

DEAR ABBY: We live in an apartment and the walls are quite thin. The people next door have an 11-year-old son who takes piano lessons. Every time the kid doesn't do something right, his punishment is extra practice time on the piano. This kid has been doing an awful lot of extra time lately, and it's usually on Saturday and Sunday mornings when we would like to sleep. Should we say something to them about this disturbance? Don't tell me to report it to the landlord. They own the building.

NO MUSIC LOVER

DEAR NO: If the practice session begins unreasonably early in the morning, tell them. It's their privilege to punish their son, but not their neighbors.

DEAR ABBY: The first six years of our marriage we had five children. My work was never done, and I felt tired and dragged out all the time. Just like a woman, I took it out on my husband. The poor guy used to sit in bars just to get away from my nagging and complaining.

Then I read a letter in your column that was almost identical to my own situation. You said, "Mothers of small children seem to forget that their husbands need love and attention, too. Quit feeling sorry for yourself and concentrate on your husband. No matter how many complaints you have, keep quiet, and find something to compliment him on. Kill him with kindness."

Well, I felt like killing him, so it was worth a try. At first it was a real effort, but it kept getting easier. Pretty soon he got sweeter to me, and it was easy to be nice to him. That was a year ago, and I am just getting around to thanking you for an answer to a letter I didn't write. But it worked for me. KATIE IN MEDFORD

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned irregularly lower at the opening today. Trading was active.

Two Red Ghosts Stalk In Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Two ghosts will be holding hands just outside the Kremlin next Tuesday when the Soviet Communist party opens a convention without any "fraternal delegate" from China.

The big question in Moscow today was whether the ghosts would manage to get inside and perhaps overshadow the party congress.

One will be the ghost of Joseph Stalin. Refusing to accept its banishment a decade ago on charges of tyranny, it stalks the Kremlin looking for the earthly comfort of public honor.

MAO GHOST
The other ghost will be that of the living Mao Tse-tung. His disciples hurled angry accusations at the Soviets Wednesday in rejecting an invitation to the congress. They charged a Soviet-American plot to dominate the world while abandoning the Communist cause in Viet Nam. And they defended the memory of Stalin.

The Soviet press and radio ignored the Chinese blast today. It usually takes the Soviets a few days to decide how or even whether to react to such attacks.

This time, the few days' period will bring them up to the congress, with the problem of whether to answer the Chinese inside the meeting, and shift attention from the primary business of economics or to ignore them.

OTHER CHEEK
In the 17 months since Nikita S. Khrushchev was ousted, the Kremlin's new collective leadership has turned the other cheek to many Chinese blasts. In an effort to show statesmanlike leadership to other Communist parties, it has repeatedly called for the Chinese to return to unity—on Soviet terms that Peking says it can never accept.

The Soviets' last important public reaction was to a stiff Chinese attack last Nov. 11. The Kremlin said five days later that Peking seemed to view the Soviet-Chinese dispute as irreconcilable. Wednesday's Chinese blast probably hardened that impression here.

NO CHANGE
Few informed observers here see any prospect of change in the bitter relations between Peking and Moscow so long as the present leadership remains in China.

The Soviet leadership has also taken a tough stand. It circulated to party members in January, and to some foreign Communist parties in February, a detailed account of the quarrel with the Chinese.

Such charges as Chinese border violations and efforts to create a Soviet-American war showed how much national interests dominate the dispute.

These charges leaked out rather than being deliberately published by the Soviets.

The quick comment by a Soviet press officer at the United Nations on China's rejection was regarded by observers here as an unusual event, but his remarks were routine. The officer said the rejection will not help the Communist-led "struggle against colonialism."

BE IGNORED
The Soviet devotion to unity could mean the ghost of Mao will be ignored at the congress rather than inspire statements which could worsen the lack of unity.

But Soviet Communist party congresses have a habit of deviating from dull agenda items into more interesting controversial issues. The agenda item this time is the next five-year economic development plan. Ghosts are controversial.

Former party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev denounced Stalin at the 20th party congress in 1956. Few remember the five-year plan discussion then.

The 21st congress in 1959 concentrated on attacking Khrushchev's fallen opponents in the "antiparty group" rather than on the revised economic plan.

Low-Flying Satellites Of Soviet Cited

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The Soviet Union has orbited 46 satellites which probably were spy-in-the-sky spacecraft, according to one of the Johnson administration's specialists on Soviet space activities.

"Nobody has suggested anything other than photo reconnaissance" for a particular series of unmanned Cosmos satellites, said Dr. Charles S. Sheldon II, senior member of the National Aeronautics and Space Council's professional staff.

The council is the President's top advisory group on U.S. space policies.

FLY LOW
The 46 satellites—launched since 1962, including five this year—"don't fit any pattern" of scientific, navigational or communications-type satellites, Sheldon said.

"They fly low—100 to 200 miles above the earth—and after eight days they disappear from orbit," probably to be recovered so film inside can be removed, the space expert said. Sheldon, who came to Orlando to speak to local members of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, said he doubts the Soviet Union intends to place warheads in orbit as a threat to the United States, however, because it could not do so without being discovered.

RACE TO MOON
Concerning the race to the moon, Sheldon predicted the Soviets may soon launch a large unmanned space station and follow up with a smaller space-ship with men inside to rendezvous with it.

LBJ Readies New Rights Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is ready to propose new civil rights legislation dealing with housing, juries, schools and public facilities.

The administration's proposed civil rights act of 1966, which faces a tough election-year battle in Congress, has been on Johnson's desk for at least two weeks. There has been no explanation of his delay in transmitting it, along with a message, to Capitol Hill.

PRIVATE PREVIEWS
Johnson and Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach have given several members of Congress private previews of the bill. And once it's submitted, Chairman Emanuel Celler of the House Judiciary Committee is expected to call immediate hearings, at which Katzenbach will be the leadoff administration witness.

Should the bill become law—either in its present form or, as is more likely, in an altered version—it would be the third package of civil rights legislation enacted by Congress in as many years.

The 1964 Civil Rights Act forbade racial discrimination in places of public accommodation and put new teeth in laws against discrimination in voting and public education. The 1965 Voting Rights Act has resulted in the first-time registration of more than 100,000 Southern Negroes. Both laws have been upheld in their key provisions by the Supreme Court.

HOUSING FIELD
According to sources who have seen the latest proposal, its chief provisions run along these lines:
Housing: Racial discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing—old and new, and even if privately financed—would be banned.

While the attorney general could bring suit where he found a pattern and practice of discrimination, the normal remedy would be for the prospective buyer or renter to bring suit against the seller or landlord accused of discrimination.

Such legislation, which is expected to stir sharp controversy in Congress, would theoretically open up previously all-white suburbs to Negroes, assuming the Negroes could afford to move.

Juries: The administration proposal would be directed at both state and federal jury systems in an effort to end the all-white juries that prevail in many parts of the South. Where there was evidence of a violation, the Justice Department could ask a federal court to establish and enforce non-discriminatory jury selection standards for the offending circuit or county.

FEDERAL CRIME
Intimidation: This provision would make it a federal crime—with penalties graduated to fit the nature of a specific crime—to harm or intimidate persons attempting to desegregate public facilities.

It also would empower the attorney general to initiate court action to end harassment or intimidation of Negro pupils (or their parents) who are attempting to attend previously all-white schools.

Holdup Suspect Breaks From Jailer, Escapes

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Peace officers searched from Wichita Falls to Lubbock today for a former airman who broke free from a jailer and escaped Wednesday.

The fugitive is John Garrett, 23, from Henderson, Tenn., and formerly stationed at Lubbock's Reese Air Force Base.

He and William Whitman, 25, a Reese airman from Ripley, W. Va., were arrested near Fort Worth late Tuesday and charged with three holdups in the Wichita Falls vicinity. Garrett darted from the city jail here as he was being returned to a cell after questioning by detectives.

Police here said a 1966 automobile was stolen from a dealer about seven blocks from the city jail and a khaki uniform was taken from a roofing firm nearby shortly after the escape.

Negro Voter In Alabama Still Fearful

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negro candidates are discovering they must convince not only white voters but some Negroes as well that it is time for political changes in rural Alabama. Fear still is a reality in some areas.

"Some Negroes think it is not time yet to elect Negroes," said the Rev. Frank Smith, a civil rights leader in rural Wilcox County. "They are afraid the Negro wouldn't know what he is doing. They seem to have that inferiority complex."

46 IN RACES

There are 46 Negroes running for public office and another 24 seeking Democratic party committee posts in the Black Belt, that girdle of rolling cattle farms, timberlands and Negro shanties across Alabama.

Some will be elected. How many is uncertain because of splits among the Negro voters and the narrow margin of white or Negro voting majorities in some areas. Until recent months, there were few Negro voters in the Black Belt counties. The Voting Rights Act changed that.

The Negro attitude ranges from outright opposition to Negro candidates to hopes of biracial politics and the militancy of the Black Panther partisans.

WHITE REACTION

White reaction often is that of worried head-shaking, sometimes alarm and occasionally resignation.

The Black Belt seems quiet. Perhaps the racial struggle, long fought in the streets, is moving into the political arena.

"Sometimes I think it is too quiet," said Henry McCaskill of Greensboro, about 50 miles northwest of Selma. "Like waiting for a time bomb to go off."

He is running for sheriff of Hale County against three white men. McCaskill is the only Negro running for any office in his county. Why?

"The Negro," he said, "is still overcome with the shadow of fear. If we ever overcome fear, we have it made."

SLIGHT EDGE

Negroes have a slight voting edge in the county. But McCaskill, a Baptist preacher and jewelry company representative, said he would not get all the Negro votes. He expects to win, however.

In adjoining Green County, Sheriff William Lee is confident of winning re-election even though he must get about 1,000 Negro votes to do so. Lee, in fact, laughed about his opposition. And one Negro candidate said Lee would get many Negro votes.

The challenger is the Rev. Thomas E. Gilmore, 24, a Baptist preacher and project director for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Gilmore, who wears a tall black hat with fur-like fringes, said he was running in order to combat the fears that Negroes have for white persons and law enforcement officers.

"I feel this is one of the first steps in getting rid of fears," he said. "The sheriff will get about as many Negro votes as I will white votes — very few."

ARE DIVIDED

In Perry County, Negroes are divided.

"Some didn't like the slate of candidates and got disgruntled over it," said Lawrence Johnson, 73, a retired farm agent who runs the cooperative store of the civil rights group in Marion, 30 miles northwest of Selma.

"Some will vote for white candidates," he said.

One of the Negro candidates in Perry County, the Rev. Obie L. Scott, is a brother of Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. King is the SCLC president.

Scott, a slender man of 35, is a candidate for tax collector. He has two white opponents.

WALLACE DISTRICT

At Eufaula, on the eastern boundary of Alabama, there are 13 Negro candidates running in Barbour County — home of Gov. George C. Wallace. Nine of the Negroes seek seats on the Democratic Executive Committee.

But in this county, the Negro voters number about 2,000 less than the white voters. John Kelly Jr., a Negro leader and candidate for the Board of Education, said a renewed registration drive was under way and possibly could add 2,000 voters.

The candidate for sheriff is Wesley McNear, 32, a bachelor and apprentice mortician. "Even if I lose," he said, "the sheriff will be almost forced to hire a Negro deputy. One way or the other we win."

Cong Mauled In String Of Assaults By Allies

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An unrelenting display of firepower from ships, planes and artillery cost the Viet Cong 501 killed in the past 24 hours while U.S. fighter-bombers caused new havoc along North Viet Nam's truck and rail routes. Allied officials reported today.

On Saigon's outskirts, South Vietnamese troops and planes mauled and scattered a 700-man Communist force early today after it daringly attacked a government armored regiment's headquarters at Go Dau within gunshot of a large American troop concentration.

The Reds made off with four American-made tanks in the raid on the headquarters 12 miles north of Saigon, but Vietnamese forces destroyed two and recaptured the others. A spokesman said 71 Viet Cong were killed.

LARGEST TOLL

The largest toll was claimed by South Korean forces in Operation Fierce Tiger 285 miles northeast of Saigon. Korean officers said 214 Communists were killed, 117 captured and

Cope Scholarships Going To 3 Students

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Three journalism students attending Angelo State College this spring will receive the first of the Millard Cope Memorial Scholarships, school officials said Wednesday.

A $25,000 trust set up by Mr. and Mrs. Houston Harte of San Angelo as a memorial to the late Cope will provide funds for the grants.

LATE PUBLISHER

Cope was publisher of the San Angelo Standard - Times, a director of The Associated Press and president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association. Harte is board chairman of the Standard-Times and of Harte - Hanks Newspapers, Inc., a group of 10 Texas newspapers.

Applicants will be considered on the basis of need, interest and ability in the field of journalism, officials said. Both men and women planning to major in journalism at Angelo State are eligible to apply for the scholarship.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠. South was blessed with a rare opportunity when his opponent failed to find the killing heart lead against the six spade contract. In his anxiety to draw trump, however, the declarer nullified the initial advantage.

West made the natural opening of the jack of clubs and declarer won the trick with the king. He proceeded to play the ace of spades followed by a small spade to the king. When East showed out on the second round, South's fate became sealed.

He attempted to recover by cashing the ace and queen of clubs, discarding a diamond from his hand. Next came the king of diamonds, followed by a diamond to the ace and then a third round which South ruffed with the ten of spades.

If West overruffed with the queen, North's jack of trumps would become established as an entry to run the diamonds. West wisely refrained from releasing his high trump, however, and, inasmuch as South was now permanently disconnected from the dummy, he was obliged to concede a heart trick as well as the spade.

Declarer was in too great a hurry to draw the trump before he had completed his side work. With the club opening, he has a golden opportunity to develop a discard for his losing heart, provided that he times his sequence of plays carefully.

It is suggested that he cash three rounds of clubs first, taking a diamond discard. The king and ace of diamonds are played next and then a third diamond is led. When East follows with the queen, South ruffs with the ten of spades. West is welcome to overruff with the queen, if he chooses, for it is the only trick he can take. North's king of spades provides an eventual entry to shift declarer's losing heart on a diamond.

If West had guessed to open a heart originally, South would be subjected to considerable pressure. Unless he takes a finesse thru West for the queen of spades, defeat cannot be avoided—since he is bound to lose a trick eventually in one of the red suits. Unfortunately for the declarer, he failed to take advantage of his opportunity.

New, Swift Air Cavalry Units Muled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army planners are considering formation of new, swift air cavalry regiments and squadrons which could replace or supplement tank-equipped armored cavalry units.

Cavalry units are used chiefly for reconnaissance and screening missions. For example, three armored cavalry regiments are posted in West Germany along the Iron Curtain. In event of an enemy probe, these regiments likely would be the first to make ground contact.

BE FASTER

Air cavalry regiments, using helicopters for movement, would be considerably faster and would cover more ground in less time than armored cavalry outfits driving tanks and jeeps.

Creation of new air cavalry regiments and squadrons would represent a further extension of the air mobility concept.

The success of the 1st Cavalry Airborne Division in Viet Nam has encouraged Pentagon officials to consider widening the extent of helicopter-mounted fighting units.

The new budget requests funds to convert one regular army division, either infantry or airborne, to an air cavalry organization with about 428 helicopters.

Beyond that, there have been suggestions that still another air cavalry division may be formed by next year.

DEMANDS HEAVY

Helicopter production is growing slowly and the demands of the war in Viet Nam are so heavy that the second air cavalry division may not come into being until late this year. Currently, there are 1,600 helicopters in Viet Nam being used to haul troops to battle-areas and to provide fire support against Communist guerrillas and other Red troops.

There are currently no air cavalry regiments in the U.S. military structure. There are some air cavalry squadrons and troops organic to divisions and as part of armored cavalry regiments, but only a minor part.

An air cavalry regiment probably would be formed of three squadrons and would total some 3,000 men and possibly about 275 helicopters.

School Food 'Not Good As Mom's'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — "Shape it up, or ship it out."

The message, carried on a sign by a youthful picket, speaks for itself at a grade school in suburban Wyoming where pupils are boycotting their school lunchroom.

The food, the pupils say, just isn't as good as what mom fixes.

The boycott has gone two days. Officials made no attempt to stop it Wednesday.

"We didn't squeal the picketing or the boycotting," said Superintendent Harold Bush. "It was great fun for the kids. The food isn't really that bad."

Assistant Principal Ralph Meece explained he couldn't go along with the youthful picketing, "but I do sympathize with them."

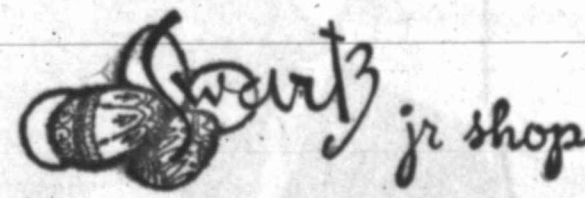

Meece said he usually brings his own lunch to school.
