Members of the Big Spring High School and the Goliad and Runnels Junior High schools will turn number painters Saturday and then again April 2. They will be painting house numbers on the curb (in return for suggested $1 donations). This is the annual fundraising project to help finance the capella

Panel Slams Brakes On Domestic Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the first nonmilitary money bill of 1966, the House Appropriations Committee put the brakes today on two of the administration's new domestic programs — rent subsidies and the Teachers Corps.

The committee's action on a $2,564,872,569 appropriation bill sent to the House floor for a vote next Tuesday confirmed the general belief on Capitol Hill that many "Great Society" programs may be in for trouble this year when it comes to getting money to finance them.

authority, the committee voted $12 million. Teachers Corps. Johnson asked $13.2 million, the committee approved $10 million.

RENT SUBSIDIES
Here is what the committee did on the two programs:
—Rent subsidies, Johnson asked $30 million in contract

IS SUPPLEMENT
Most of the money is for use during the remaining months of the fiscal year ending June 30 and would supplement about $112.3 billion appropriated last year for general government operating expenses.

Four Alpinists Defy Hazards

KLEINE SCHEIDEGG, Switzerland (AP) — Clouds parted briefly over blizzard-swept Mt. Eiger today, revealing four men struggling upward about 250 feet below the summit.

There had been fear for their safety after 16 hours had elapsed without contact by radio.

The four are members of the five-man Alpine team striving to reach the 13,036-foot summit by way of the sheer north face despite plummeting temperatures and howling winds. The summit never has been reached from the north face.

Lubbock Bank Robber Flees

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—The Security National Bank of Lubbock was robbed of $100 Thursday by a man who said he had a tube of nitroglycerine in his hand.

The bulk of money normally in the cage had already been taken to the main bank.

Nancy Hitchcock was on duty in the drive-in teller's window when the man, threatened to detonate what he called the explosive.

Revised Criteria Listed For Draft Deferments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service system has listed its revised criteria for local draft boards to consider in deciding whether to give deferments to college students.

The criteria are for students who have completed their freshman or higher years, including graduate study.

A spokesman said graduating high school seniors who have registered with the draft and plan to attend college can take the draft qualification test May 14 or 21, and June 3.

70 OR HIGHER
Otherwise, the only information available to their draft boards will be that they have graduated from high school and been accepted in an institution of higher education.

A score of 70 or higher on the test will be considered satisfactory for undergraduate college students, and 80 or more will be considered satisfactory for them.

graduate students. A student's class standing can also be taken into consideration as evidence of satisfactory progress in college. He must be in the upper half of his class after his freshman year, upper two-thirds after his sophomore year and upper three-fourths after his junior year.

GRADUATE SCHOOL
Students attending graduate school must show they were accepted for admission in the first year after graduation from college and that they were in the upper one-fourth of their class during their final undergraduate year.

Only male students are considered in calculating class standing.

Draft boards can consider either the class standing or the test score in determining draft classifications but they are not required to base decisions on them.

Indira Gandhi, LBJ To Hold Crucial Talks

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's relationship with the United States is endlessly discussed here and in Washington. But no one has been doing any long-range planning.

Enemy Loss High In Fight On Plains

Pistol-Packin' Gal Retrieves Stolen Money

Kathy Hartupe, 26, of Atlanta, Ga., displays the $5 bill and the pistol she used to get it back from a man she suspected of pilfering her car. She told Atlanta police she saw a man going through a purse in her car, ran to the car to check what was missing, then traced the suspect for several blocks before confronting him with the gun. After getting her money, she continued trailing the man for several blocks until police arrived and made an arrest. (AP WIREPHOTO)

That clearly has been left for President Johnson and Prime Minister Indira Gandhi when they meet Monday in Washington.

Perhaps at no time in the many years of U.S.-India relations has so much depended on how two leaders hit it off.

Relations at the moment are neither strikingly good nor bad. Whether the new course is closer cooperation and agreement on pressing issues of the day, or a gradual divergence of views, will depend on Johnson and Mrs. Gandhi.

TWO AREAS
Elaborate briefing papers have been drawn up on two general areas:

—The future of the massive U.S. aid program in India, now totaling $6.2 billion in development aid and $3.1 billion in food for peace;

—India's stance on international problems important to the United States, such as the Viet Nam war and containment of Communist China.

American diplomats are pushing, without much success, for economic reforms in India which they feel would guarantee a payoff for the U.S. aid programs.

India has responded in part with detailed plans for shifting emphasis in its development from heavy industry to agriculture — thus holding out the lure of some day ending the life or death reliance of U.S. food shipments.

ECONOMIC AID
Johnson seems likely to ask Mrs. Gandhi for assurances of a follow-through on improving agriculture before he considers the question of long-range economic aid, cut off during the India-Pakistan war last September.

Johnson undoubtedly would get such an assurance. It is considerably less clear whether Mrs. Gandhi would agree to other reforms, such as liberalizing trade or improving India's investment climate so American businessmen can start carrying some of the load now on official Washington's shoulders.

With very little economic background, Mrs. Gandhi leans heavily on advisers. One top adviser has told The Associated Press there is little agreement with the Americans on many suggested reforms.

TOUCHY SUBJECT
Mrs. Gandhi is better equipped to talk on international relations with Johnson, but this subject still will be touchy.

"It all depends," one of Mrs. Gandhi's aides said, "whether Johnson wants to talk about China and Viet Nam in the wide or narrow context."

Washington's position is that China's tense frontier, from northwest India to Korea, represents a single threat to non-Communist Asia and that the United States is carrying the brunt of containing it.

Civilian Misery Hits Terrible Peak In Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Bright flames spread quickly through the thatched roof. The American soldier pitched his torch onto a part of the building not yet in flames and backed off from the intense heat.

Sections of the roof began falling to the dirt floor of the deserted farmhouse and a shower of sparks splashed across the family altar.

Buddhist religious scrolls smoldered and then burst into flames. The glass covering photographs of honored ancestors cracked and broke in the heat. Then the pictures themselves disappeared.

It was a Viet Cong house, they said. As part of the war it was destroyed together with neighboring homes. Whatever the sentiments of the villagers, the Viet Cong had used their hamlet to stage ambushes and attacks on government troops.

CASUALTY ESTIMATE
A daily estimate is made of Viet Cong killed and captured. Statistics are kept on the number of American and allied troops killed, wounded or missing in action. No one can guess with precision the number of Vietnamese civilians slain or wounded or the number of homes destroyed since the war began in earnest some five years ago.

Guesses run well over 100,000 civilian dead. The number of civilian war refugees in this country of 13 million far exceeds the dead.

Probably no modern war can compare to this in terms of proportional civilian misery. The Vietnamese peasant is caught in the middle of forces which, for the most part, he cannot understand. Oddly enough, all the fighting basically is for his allegiance.

The government, Americans and their allies on one side, and the Communists on the other, recognize that the Viet Nam war is not a matter of seizing hills or bridges, but an assault on the mind. Terror, persuasion, propaganda and violence may figure in this assault.

BOTH COLD-BLOODED
Both sides are cold-blooded about the realities of Viet Nam. The Communists, who started it, adhere to the dictum that the people are the water that the insurgent fish swim in. No one has come up yet with a way to destroy the fish without tearing up the river as well.

Civilians, many of whom wish simply that the war would go away at whatever political cost, are caught in an insoluble dilemma when the war surges around their hamlets.

The fighting mostly takes place in the so-called contested areas where neither side holds absolute sway. Or in fringe areas controlled by the Viet Cong or government but without the majority of the population being committed one way or the other.

A common sequence of events begins with a strong Viet Cong force moving into the general area, possibly knocking out a poorly defended government outpost if one exists. An operation — government or American — is cranked up to push the Communists out.

SOFTEN RESISTANCE
Shortly after dawn a battalion or more arrives by helicopter outside the village, following an artillery barrage and an aerial bombardment to soften possible resistance.

If the Viet Cong stay in the village, they probably will order the villagers under pain of death to remain to be caught up in the fighting. If the Viet Cong are gone and the civilians try to flee the coming operation they may be shot and blasted by artillery as they try to run away.

A great deal is said of the plight of innocent villagers in Viet Nam whose homes are destroyed and lives ripped asunder. Much of it is true.

But there is the other side of the coin. U.S. Marines trying to get on the good side of the Vietnamese civilians in the Da Nang area went to great lengths to bring smiles to the faces of children and be courteous to their parents.

COPTER DOWNED
A big Army Chinook CH47 helicopter carrying a 105-howitzer and ammunition was shot down by ground fire 10 miles northwest of An Khe while supporting a ground operation by 1st Cavalry, Airborne, Division troops. The spokesman said there were light casualties. The Chinook normally carries a crew of four.

On the political front, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky faced a threat of antigovernment violence from a student leader in the northern university city of Hue.

VIOLENCE THREAT
Giao said "there may be violence" if the government tries to block student demonstrations and warned, "There are plans for any move Ky may make. The students are well prepared."

Hue University remained closed, and Giao said the shutdown would continue until Ky yields. The former Imperial capital was the scene of the first disorders against the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem before its fall in November, 1963.

Texas Names New Rangers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Appointment of three Texas Rangers Thursday was approved by the Texas Public Safety Commission, which also elected a new chairman.

The new Texas Rangers include Charles A. Neel of Houston, Highway Patrolman H. Joaquin Jackson of Jacksboro and B. J. (Bill) Gunn of Georgetown.

Neel, currently a polygraph examiner with the Department of Public Safety in Houston, will stay in Houston to serve under Ranger Capt. Eddie Oliver.

Jackson will be assigned to Uvalde to serve under Ranger Capt. Alford Allee of Carrizo Springs, and Gunn will be assigned to Waco under Capt. Clint Peoples.

John Peace, San Antonio attorney, was elected chairman by the commission. The other two members are Clifton Cassidy of Dallas and Garrett Morris of Fort Worth.

Peace was appointed to the commission in 1964 by Gov. John Connally to serve through 1969.

Weekend Chill Seen For Texas

Spring promises to remain rather chilly in Texas through the rest of March.

Temperatures headed back up in most sections today, but the Weather Bureau predicted another cool snap by the weekend.

It was coldest in East Texas this morning, with readings as low as 30 degrees at Texarkana and close to freezing at several other points.

Elsewhere across the state the overnight marks were generally in the 40s to 50s.

IN 40s, 50s
A possibility of showers was seen for Northwest and North Central Texas tonight and Saturday, and for Northeast Texas by Saturday. Occasional rain was predicted in Southwest Texas.

Rising temperatures were in prospect throughout the state through tonight, but new long range forecasts promised temperatures 2 to 8 degrees below normal in all sections.

FRESH NORTHER
These predictions, for the period through next Wednesday, called for a fresh norther to hit all of Texas over the weekend and another to arrive about the middle of next week.

Along with the cooler weather, scattered showers are expected

Fugitive

Voter Sign-Up Extension Request Rapped By Carr

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Woods failed to allege any material fact or to show he had a sufficient interest to intervene in the case.

He said extension of the registration period would not give enough time to prepare poll lists for this spring's elections.

OPPORTUNITY GIVEN
The state provided "an opportunity for every citizen to register for voting," Carr said.

Carr said more than 615,000 Texans registered during the 15 days and submitted 3,500 newspaper clippings and reports of more than 19,250 radio and television announcements about registration.

Woods is a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Plane Debris Yields Bodies

PINE SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — Bodies of a Sheboygan, Wis. couple, who took off in a private airplane Feb. 22 for a vacation in Mexico, were removed from the wrecked craft Thursday night.
Marion Stiles, 34, and his wife Helen, 35, disappeared after leaving Carlsbad, N.M., in the twin-engine Beechcraft Travelair.
IN CANYON
The wreckage was discovered early Thursday in a canyon near Pine Springs. Both victims still were strapped in their seats.
Texas Highway Patrolman John Koonce said the wreckage was found by Roger Reich, Walter Kittman and Roby Mayberry, rangers from Carlsbad Caverns National Park.
The crash occurred 55 miles southwest of Carlsbad and near the highest point in Texas, 4,750-foot Guadalupe Peak.
Palmer Stiles of Sheboygan, Wis., said he and his wife were on a vacation in Mexico. They were expected to return to Carlsbad, N.M., on Wednesday after the New Mexico Civil Air Patrol called off a five-day search.
WEEK'S SEARCH
Stiles spent about a week at Carlsbad and in Texas and Mexico trying to locate his parents. The couple had indicated they might fly to Las Cruces, N.M., to visit a friend before proceeding to Mexico, he said.
Koonce said it was necessary to bring out the bodies on horseback because of rough terrain. The plane crashed along almost a direct line between Carlsbad and El Paso, where the couple would have had to clear customs before entering Mexico.

AF Secretary Stresses 'Strategic Superiority'

DALLAS (AP) — Air Force Secretary Harold Brown said today the United States must maintain its strategic superiority and manned bombers are necessary to do so.
Brown, addressing the 26th anniversary convention of the Air Force Association, peered into the nation's military future and declared:
"Our first priority task will be to continue maintaining strategic superiority over any potential enemy or combination of enemies."
In remarks prepared for the association's anniversary luncheon, Brown pointed out the difficulty of defining "strategic superiority" and said:
COME OUT BETTER
"Obviously it implies both offensive and defensive capabilities that will allow us to come out of any war in better shape than our adversary."
"One measure might be the ability to strike second and still come out better—or less badly—than the adversary did striking first."
Brown labelled "correspondingly difficult" the calculation of the correct steps to take in the next few years to keep what he called a meaningful superiority.
MIXED FORCE
"In order to maintain strategic superiority, I believe we must continue to have a mixed force of missiles and manned bombers."
"In my opinion we will continue to need manned bombers in our strategic forces as far ahead as any of us can see, and I think that should include at least the entire decade of the 1970s."
Brown thus disagreed essentially with Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, who feels manned bombers will become secondary weapons and prefers sinking defense funds into the missile program.
WEAPONS SYSTEM
The Air Force secretary took indirect note of this, saying:
"At this point in time there is no doubt about the technical feasibility of advanced manned bombers of all sorts of designs."
"The questions which have to be answered to the satisfaction of the secretary-of-defense are how we propose to use such a weapons system and how it fits into the missions of assured destruction and damage limitation."
"This issue is under intensive study by the air staff, and I intend to continue participating very actively in the investigation."
Brown, referring again to the future, said there is one thing the United States must never forget:
"Deterrents of war are at least twofold affairs. The best laid plans sometimes are negated by enemy counter moves.

AP Meeting Will Hear Vice President

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will be the speaker at the annual meeting of The Associated Press April 25.

President Paul Miller of The AP said in his announcement the vice president had promised a major address, touching, among other topics, on Viet Nam, where Humphrey recently visited.

Humphrey's swing through Viet Nam was part of a nine-nation Asian tour which he completed Feb. 23. He said then he was satisfied that the "tide of battle has turned" and that the Communists ultimately would be beaten.

VEEP'S VIEW
The United States will stay in Viet Nam, Humphrey said in reporting on his trip, until "genuinely free" elections can be held.

"If the Viet Cong, in those elections, gain honestly a voice in government, so be it," he said. "But prior to elections, this government will not be a party to any settlement which amounts to a pre-election victory for Communists which cannot be won at the polls."

"I, for one, doubt that the South Vietnamese people will give that victory to the Communists," the vice president went on. "No Communist government has ever come to power through free election, and I doubt that one ever will."
Humphrey defined the U.S. course in Viet Nam as a difficult one, "neither of withdrawal nor of massive escalation, but of measured use of strength and perseverance in defense both of ally and principle."

1,500 DUE
The occasion for his speech will be a luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel bringing together 1,500 U.S. and Canadian newspaper, radio and television executives and their wives.
Past speakers at the luncheons have included Presidents Eisenhower and Johnson.
The AP annual meeting will open at 10 a.m. EDT with a one-hour show covering activities of the cooperative news-gathering association during the past year. A business session including an election of officers will begin at 11 a.m.

The AP meeting is an opening feature of New York's annual Newspaper Week every April. The meeting precedes the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

TOP SPEAKERS
Speakers in recent years have included, in addition to Johnson and Eisenhower, Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan, and astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.
Miller, president of Gannett Newspapers, Rochester, N.Y., will preside at the meeting.
The AP members will hear the annual report of their board of directors, vote to fill seven vacancies on the 18-member board, and vote on the application of 29 associate newspaper members to become regular members.

of directors, vote to fill seven vacancies on the 18-member board, and vote on the application of 29 associate newspaper members to become regular members.
ELECT DIRECTORS
Six directors will be elected for three-year terms to fill expiring terms, and one will be elected to a one-year term to succeed Harry F. Byrd Jr. of the Winchester, Va. Evening Star. Byrd resigned after his appointment to the U.S. Senate.
An AP member nominating committee made 14 nominations for directors, under a bylaw requiring two candidates for each position.
Those nominated: Richard H. Amberg, St. Louis, (Mo.) Globe-Democrat; John Cowles Jr., Minneapolis, (Minn.) Tribune; Joe M. Dealey, Dallas (Tex.) Morning News; Martin S. Hayden, Detroit (Mich.) News and Sunday News; James L. Knight, Miami (Fla.) Herald; William F. Knowland, Oakland (Calif.) Tribune; Paul Miller, Rochester (N.Y.) Times-Union and Democrat & Chronicle; and Thomas Vall, Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer.

For cities with less than 50,000 population: Max E. Nussbaum, Moultrie (Ga.) Observer; Dolph C. Simons Jr., Lawrence (Kan.) Journal-World.

Supplement To Classwork: Vassar Coed Shines Shoes

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Some men don't want a girl to shine their shoes — not even a Vassar girl.

It isn't that they're against women doing such work, reports Sally Petrusak, it's because they're antifeminists.

This is one of the discoveries Sally has made in her week of studying "the socio-economic relationships between a man and his shoes."

CREATES COMMOTION

Sally, 19, is a Vassar sophomore who has created a minor commotion by shining shoes on Hartford's Asylum Street, one of the city's main thoroughfares.

She says she is shining shoes to earn pocket money to spend when she returns to Poughkeepsie, N.Y., after her two-week spring vacation. Hartford is her home town.

Shoe shining isn't the most lucrative job. Sally has earned only about $7 in three days. And there are quite a few hazards. So why should a pretty, brown-haired, blue-eyed, cultured young lady want to take up the profession?

IS UNCONVENTIONAL

"I wanted to earn money in an unconventional way; I'm an unconventional person," Sally explained. "Besides," she added, "it keeps me up nights laughing."

"For instance, there was the time when I was working especially hard, and I noticed this little old lady watching me," Sally recalled.

"She must have been watching for quite a while, when she came over to me, a tear in her eye, and she said, 'You're such a good little girl.'"

Easter Seals Are Stressed

Films showing the need for increased treatment and research to control crippling diseases in children were screened for the Big Spring Kiwanians Thursday.

Jim Thompson was in charge of the program. The film was to stress the Easter Seal campaign.

Announcement was made that a temporary organization of the Circle K Club at the Howard County Junior College has been perfected. A meeting is set for 11:45 a.m. Wednesday at the Student Union Building.

There were 12 in attendance at the preliminary meeting last Wednesday. Dawson DeViney, Kiwanis Circle K Club committeeman, said that the temporary officers elected are Ray Graves, president; Jerry Peurifoy, vice president; Mitchell McNeese, treasurer and Larry Mullican, secretary.

LeRoy Odell Dies Thursday

A. L. (LeRoy) Odell, 48, Stanton, died at 3:30 a.m. Thursday at San Saba. Services are pending at the Gilbreath Funeral Home, awaiting word from several brothers in the service.

He was born Nov. 3, 1917, in Callahan County and had lived in Stanton and Lenorah most of his life. He had farmed throughout the area. Mr. Odell was a veteran of World War II.

He was preceded in death by his father, one brother, and one sister. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Anne Odell, Stanton; two sisters, Mrs. James Fuller, Pecos, and Mrs. Austin Tipton, Hollister, Calif.; seven brothers, Travis Odell and Clinton Odell, Big Spring, Alvin Odell, USAF in Greece, James Odell, US Navy in Viet Nam en route to San Diego, W. C. Odell, Ray, N. M., Lloyd Odell, Leavenworth, Kan.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim West was dangling by handcuffs over a boiling pit of acid and his pal Artemis Gordon was taking on a veritable army of villains in an effort to save him.

A dinner guest, watching "The Wild, Wild West" while embroidering a needlepoint chairseat, peered over her glasses and inquired calmly, "What time is it?"

"Twenty after eight by my watch," your reporter replied.

KNOWS SCHEDULE

"Well," she said, "they'll be working pretty fast now to get him out of this mess before the last commercial."

This was the casual comment of an ordinary, average television viewer — the kind included in all Nielsen rating samples. And her reaction gives a pretty clear indication of the sophistication of viewers who have been exposed, night after night, to entertainment written by formula and the clock.

PREDICT LINES

Just as everybody knows there will be either one big shoot-out or one big fist-fight to climax every Western, everybody — well, almost everybody — can predict the action and even the lines around a dozen or so stock situations which, by its own unwritten law of television, crop up in every action series.

Another part of the project is to get a list of servicemen from Big Spring and Howard County who are serving in Viet Nam. Jaycees ask that friends of parents of these men send names and addresses to Box 335 in order that the Jaycees may send a communication of support to the men.

The program is intended as an answer to a number of demonstrations by various groups in protest against Viet Nam involvement.

Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi women's service organization will culminate its week-long drive to collect books, magazines, games and cards to send to servicemen in remote outposts in Viet Nam Saturday. Collection boxes will be set up around the courthouse square so those interested may drop off

Mrs. Paredez Will Receive Medals, Patriot Days Set

Three local events, all dealing in one way or another with the war in Viet Nam, are planned Saturday.

At 1 p.m. the Bronze Star and Purple Heart will be presented to the widow of Sgt. Augustine C. Paredez, who was killed in action in Viet Nam last Nov. 17.

Mrs. Gerlinda Paredez will accept the posthumous medals in front of the War Memorial on the east end of the Howard County Courthouse, according to Roger Brown, state representative, who is coordinator of the event. The two medals will be presented by an Army officer.

A number of local officials are expected to appear at the presentation ceremony, Brown said.

Saturday is also the first day of the two-day Jaycee-sponsored "Texas Patriot Days." Jaycees are asking that businesses and citizens fly flags, and radio stations and other media have been asked to devote American heritage themes. Ministers have been asked to consider adding their weight to the movement.

The weekend is set up as a demonstration of support in behalf of participation in the Viet Nam war.

Another part of the project is to get a list of servicemen from Big Spring and Howard County who are serving in Viet Nam. Jaycees ask that friends of parents of these men send names and addresses to Box 335 in order that the Jaycees been made to have the collected articles flown from Webb AFB. Those needing someone to pick up their donations may call Mrs. Knight at AM 4-2828 or drop them by 2305 Roberts Drive, or take them to the courthouse Saturday.

A Devotional For The Day

The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it? (Jeremiah 17:9)

PRAYER: "Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting." With thanksgiving, in the name of Jesus, who ever lives to make intercession for me. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room'.)

Qualifying Background

At the state level, about the most spirited race on the May Democratic ticket will be that for attorney general, as Waggoner Carr vacated that office to seek a seat in the U.S. Senate.

Of the three candidates, The Herald feels, after a study of background and position, that the best qualified man is Crawford Martin of Hillsboro. His record of service to his state stands him in good stead.

At the age of 50, he has been a practicing attorney for 27 years, and has the knowledge of law essential to the office he seeks. He also has had interests in farming, cotton ginning and banking, and has developed sound business judgment.

He also has government experience of unusually beneficial degree. He was elected mayor of Hillsboro at the age of 30, knows intimately the problems that cities and towns face.

He was a state senator for 14 years, achieved a prominent place on many of that body's key committees, sponsored some of the state's more forward-looking legislation during those years.

He was appointed secretary of state by Governor John Connally in 1963, was re-appointed in 1965, just recently resigned to make his race for attorney general. Thus he has had some valuable years learning of the state's administrative problems.

Thus, Martin has a rare combination of legal, legislative and administrative skills. This sort of background is worth a lot to Texas, and Texans will do well to take advantage of it.

Personally, we regard Martin as a man with his "feet on the ground"—the solid man of wisdom, judgment and experience who has brought credit to the offices he has held, and can do so with the office of attorney general.

The Hen Or The Egg

An interesting study in the disruption of a food chain and its unforeseen effect on man is provided by the anchovy fisheries of Peru and the guano bird.

The anchovy fishing industry in Peru has grown to a $150-million business. Fishing in the plankton meadows of the Humboldt Current, Peruvian fishermen yearly harvest more than 1 million tons of fish, which is converted into high-protein fish meal.

The fisheries have had an immediate effect on the guano bird population. Approximately 15 million of the birds died of starvation last year, wherefore the National Fertilizer Corp. announced that it would be able to provide only a sixth of the normal volume of guano fertilizer to farmers this year. The guano is gathered from coastal islands from which the guano birds hunt for their food, mainly anchovies.

Peruvian farmers face a substantial decline in their crops because of the shortage of guano, the traditional fertilizer. It began with plankton and ended with men, much in the manner of the horseshoe nail

David Lawrence Scandal In Campaign Money

WASHINGTON — The biggest scandal in the country—the improper use of money in federal, state and local election campaigns—goes unexposed and unpunished.

Congress hesitates to investigate itself. Yet it is well known that various organizations with a direct interest in the passage or repeal of legislation take a hand in congressional campaigns and furnish funds to elect a bloc in favor of the legislation demanded by the groups that provide the money.

UNDER FEDERAL LAW, both corporations and labor unions are prohibited from contributing money or "anything of value" to candidates in federal elections. But the Supreme Court has upheld the idea that a separate organization, set up for the purpose of raising funds for a political campaign, may solicit money from individuals in corporations or in labor unions. Also, it so happens that corporations or labor unions can legally help to finance the campaigns of state and local candidates who run at the same time as the nominees for federal office.

CONGRESS HASN'T, however, done anything about this, though last year it didn't hesitate to pass a law authorizing federal officials to go into voting districts and see that citizens are registered and are permitted to vote in state as well as federal elections.

Billy Graham

What, in your estimation, is the greatest Christian virtue? Is it honesty, faith, or humility? We had a discussion last Sunday in Sunday school about this. We would like to know your opinion.

K. T.

I am surprised that you should have such a discussion in a Sunday school class, when the Bible plainly says: "Now abideth faith, hope, and love, but the greatest of these is love." Three Greek words denote the three kinds of love we may have. "Philo" is the love that exists between members of a family; "eros" is the kind of love that exists between a man and woman in love; but "agapeo" is a love which is above all loves, the kind of love a holy God has for sinful, disobedient men. This is the word used in the verse, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

"If I were God," said a skeptic, "the sin and sorrow of the world would break my heart." "That's what it did," said a Christian believer, "sin broke God's heart, and when Christ sweat drops of blood, that signified that His heart was literally broken by the sin and sorrow of the world."

"Were the whole realm of nature mine, That were a present far too small; Love so amazing, so Divine, Demands my soul, my life, my all."

And this is the kind of love we are to have for each other!

controls a majority in both houses of Congress. George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO, said in a speech this week that the idea is not to support or depend on any one party. He declared:

"IT IS QUITE obvious that if we were looking around for a party to adopt or control, we don't want the Democratic party because they can't deliver. I don't buy the idea, and there is nothing in the record to sustain the idea, that labor needs the Democratic party. I am sure it is the other way around."

But this isn't anything new. The labor organizations have always been confronted with the opposition of Southern Democrats who take a "conservative" view on economic issues. Labor leaders, therefore, try to obtain the help of as many Republicans as possible in the "liberal" group. While these have been few, compared with the large number of Republicans who don't yield to labor's demands, still there are enough to help offset some of the anti-labor votes in the Democratic party in Congress.

IN ALL THE many years that bipartisan penetration by the labor organizations has been going on, there has never been such gains in both houses as have recently been attained. Labor now boldly declares that it has a majority. Thus, for instance, on the bill that would have repealed the right of the states to prohibit compulsory unionization, labor got its way in the House but failed in the Senate, not because it lacked a majority but because it didn't have a two-thirds vote. That's why a filibuster in the Senate which could be squelched only by a two-thirds vote had the same effect as voting down the proposal itself.

NOW LABOR IS preparing not merely to retain a majority in the Senate but to get a two-thirds vote in that body, and will not be satisfied until it gets some more Republicans on its side.

Maybe some day a congressional committee will get up enough courage to insist on a disclosure of all the contributions made by organizations interested from a material viewpoint in legislation, whether on the federal state or local level. Then money spent in any general election by organized groups—could be revealed to the American people and a decision made as to whether a majority in Congress will or will not be controlled by the contribution of campaign funds in so-called "free elections."

James Marlow Poll Tax Death Marks End Of Long Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long time to reach Thursday's decision.

The First Amendment of the Constitution simply says states can set their own qualifications for voting except that those voting for members of Congress must have the same qualifications as those voting for state legislatures.

THE 14TH AMENDMENT (1868) said a state may not abridge the "privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States" or deny any person of "life, liberty, or property without due process of law."

THEN IN 1964 the 24th Amendment was adopted, banning poll taxes as a requirement for voting in federal elections. It didn't ban them in state or local elections. Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia kept the tax. Thursday the Supreme Court, in a 6-3 decision, outlawed the poll tax altogether. While the case decided was from Virginia, the language of the decision left no doubt it applies to all other poll-tax states in all elections.

IRONICALLY, while five rather poor Virginia Negroes brought the suit; the court did not base its decision on racial discrimination but on economic discrimination. Justice William O. Douglas, speaking for the majority, said: "We conclude that a state violates the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment whenever it makes the affluence of the voter or payment of any fee an election qualification."

"VOTER QUALIFICATIONS have no relation to wealth nor to paying or not paying this or any other tax... Wealth, like race, creed or color is not germane to one's ability to participate intelligently in the electoral process.

IT TOOK the United States a long time to reach Thursday's decision.

For years efforts were made in Congress to kill poll taxes in Southern states. This was the reasoning: The taxes were intended to keep Negroes from voting and were thus, one more form of racial discrimination.

But Southern senators always frustrated such efforts with a filibuster.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some of her friends laughed when actress Jacqueline Susann sat down at a typewriter three years ago and began to peck at it with one finger from each hand.

"SLEEPING PILLS, and wake-up pills, are the addiction of the overprivileged — the people who are trying to meet the pressures of success."

Jackie has been on a do-it-yourself routine herself recently during a whirlwind coast to coast promotion tour.

Hal Boyle Lonely Hour Of Success

The question naturally arises as to why Miss Susann herself spent three determined years at the typewriter in her successful quest of a literary jackpot.

WASHING TON — The hope that springs eternal in the human breast is subject to no more tragic frustration than in the scourge of cancer. Each year an estimated 300,000 Americans die of this disease in all its sinister forms.

What Dehydration Means To The Body

By Joseph G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is meant by dehydration? I have heard of children being dehydrated. Do adults have this disease or ailment? Is the water all used up in the body? Is it fatal?—C. D. W.

Dehydration isn't a disease in the usual sense. It is a loss of water. It can be dangerous. In babies it can be fatal.

The body is constantly losing water under normal conditions. Through the kidneys, by perspiration, and in rather large amounts, in the course of the day, through the breath—note the film of moisture when you breathe on your glasses, or blow on a cold window pane. That little bit of water, multiplied by the nearly 2,000 times a person exhales in a day, adds up.

A person, deprived of water for two days, is in dire straits. In the dry heat of a desert, he dies that soon.

Excessive loss of water occurs with vomiting and diarrhea. Fever of course accelerates perspiration. With extreme dehydration, body temperature can rise because of lack of perspiration which is the body's method of keeping itself cool.

Around The Rim

Peering Into Privacy

Remember reading the other day about how General Motors has been accused of snooping on a man who recently wrote a book which did not reflect favorably on the auto industry? How his personal affairs were said to have been looked into by professional snoops?

UNUSUAL? Not at all. They are everywhere, and make a lot of money prying into your personal affairs for individuals, corporations, credit bureaus and the like.

It happens given to little people, like me.

The other day I received in the mail a letter from a widely-known professional snooping firm. The form, which the snooper said "please answer before March 23, 1966," asked me for personal information like my name, title, year of birth, marital status and place of birth.

AND: NAMES of owners (I guess they assume I own a business); background ("What was the history of each of the owners before starting this business? Give dates and locations"); if I ever failed in business; financial condition; chattel mortgages and many other figures (and had the gall to ask who prepared the figures). The name of my bank was also asked. Naturally, I threw the form away.

SOON CAME a man who said he represents the firm. I asked him to come back the next day. He did. And he told me he had been asked by his company to ask me to give him some information about myself.

Since I didn't know, I asked the gentleman what person had hired his company to make inquiries about me, and got this for reply: "I don't know. I can't find out, and neither can you."

"Then you'll get no information," I said. "I'm sorry."

What was shocking was that he seemed to get mad at me for asking him who wanted personal information about me: "You know what our firm is," he said.

"NO I DON'T," I said, getting warm myself, "and your company will get no information about me until I know who hired them."

"You'd be surprised how much we can get on you," he said, and departed.

Later I called a lawyer and asked him how much information such an investigating firm could gather about my private business. He said they can't get many facts, except credit agencies will give them information. They won't be able to get financial statements from my banker, said the lawyer.

BUT, HE ADDED, that doesn't prevent them from asking people personal questions about my reputation, whether I am a drunk, or what not, and putting the rumors into a report to whatever person or company hired them.

And, the lawyer said, businesses use these reports constantly, and rely heavily on them.

IT SEEMS TO have reached the awful stage of nobody much caring if somebody is looking in on them, and evidently people you know are not averse to telling the agents everything they know or have heard about you.

Supposedly, these reports are confidential. However, nothing on paper is confidential, and may be a collection of lies. There used to be a right of privacy in this country. It is fast being eroded, and Big Brother is looming high on the horizon.

WASHINGTON — Life is full of what-might-have-beens. Among them are the missed decisions that might have gone the other way if three Presidents had more often taken the advice of Senator Richard Russell of Georgia, the sagacious chairman of Armed Services.

BACK IN 1954, it was Russell's impassioned but largely unreported opposition to making "worldwide gladiators" of American troops which weighed heavily in President Eisenhower's refusal to rescue the French from the trap at Dienbienphu, North Viet Nam. Secretary Dulles, Vice President Nixon and Admiral Radford all favored an air strike, but Russell saw it as the beginning of total involvement in Asia. His eloquent opposition swung over Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson. He brushed aside his Republican advisers in favor of these powerful Democrats.

NOT LONG afterwards, however, Eisenhower sent then-Assistant Secretary of State Thurston Morton to Georgia for the purpose of telling Russell that we were going to commit a few hundred technical advisers to support the Diem government at Saigon. Again Russell sensed that any involvement at all might lead us into the "Asian land war" against which every military spokesman on record had strongly advised.

"I support the flag wherever it goes," Russell told Ike's emissary; "but we are heading for a costly war."

THEN AT THE White House conference of Oct. 22, 1962, on the Missile Crisis, Russell wound into a rhetorical plea for smashing a Communist "war of liberation" in our own back yard.

He dismissed Kennedy's blockade proposal as a half-measure that would irritate the Western Allies and do the Communists no harm. He pleaded with the President — one observer described the appeal as being figuratively "on bended knee" — to knock back Castro and world communism with an invasion that could not fail and that would forestall many another test in less convenient places.

"Mr. President, this crisis gives us the reason to strike. You yourself have twice said that the bringing of offensive weapons to this hemisphere is an aggression against us. We may never have such an opportunity again if we let this one go past."

TODAY, RUSSELL looks back in anguish on the might-have-beens. "I thought I'd kept them out of there!" he says of the war in Viet Nam. He remembers that he did dissuade Eisenhower once, that he won over Johnson in '54 and Fulbright in '62. But all three of these key figures backed slid from his advice, and now that "the flag" has been advanced, Russell sees no choice but to plunge on to some sort of victory.

THE SENATOR'S position has become important in his re-election campaign this year. Despite the apparent candidacy of Gov. Carl Sanders, Russell believes he may end up with neither Democratic or Republican opposition. No aspirant for his Senate seat could successfully disagree in Georgia with his stand on foreign affairs. On domestic matters, including his long fight against national Civil Rights laws, Russell believes he has always stood for the constitutional protections of all Georgians, Negro and white.

WASHINGTON — The hope that springs eternal in the human breast is subject to no more tragic frustration than in the scourge of cancer. Each year an estimated 300,000 Americans die of this disease in all its sinister forms.

OUT FOR SIX DAYS the jury was at first reported divided six to five for conviction of one or more of the defendants. Several times they reported they could not agree and each time the judge sent them back. Finally the verdict sent them back. Finally the jury returned a verdict of acquittal for all four defendants. The Department of Justice has now started an investigation into jury tampering.

IS IT QUACKERY for profit or it, as its promoters and advocates claim, a beneficial medicine that the "doctors" trust in the American Medical Association is determined to drive out? The answer to that question has been subject to fierce pulling and hauling, including one of the longest federal court trials on record.

Banned from interstate commerce by the Food and Drug Administration, Krebiozen is still sold in Chicago. The new, aggressive head of FDA, Dr. James L. Goddard, says Krebiozen is merely mineral oil, and he is determined to keep it out of interstate trade even though he can do nothing about the hundreds of cancer victims who pay $9 a day for a dose.

AT THE TRIAL of the four promoters—for fraud and conspiracy—lasting nine months in Chicago, evidence showed that $1,000,000 from the sale of Krebiozen had been put in Swiss and Canadian banks. Shortly after the trial ended, Dr. Steven Durovic, developer of the remedy, was indicted for evading nearly $1,000,000 in federal income tax. He left for Paris just before the indictment was returned.

Massive evidence was introduced at the trial to prove that the promoters had made big business of Krebiozen, defrauding innocent victims by the thousands. The resourceful defense staff put on a host of witnesses testifying for Krebiozen. Highly technical in nature, the case would have taxed a jury of experts, to say nothing of ordinary citizens.

ONE OF THE striking facts about the controversy is the political support Krebiozen has enlisted. Even since the trial the White House has been so imperturbed, notably by a mass appeal from a mother who believes her daughter will die if she cannot obtain Krebiozen, that FDA was called on for still more documentation.

THIS IGNORES the increasing magnitude of research into cancer supported by the federal government. The amount for this purpose in 1940 was $70,000. This year it is $163,768,000. That could be the answer to the scourge and to those who seek in desperation any remedy.

Ex-Con Kills Self After Holding 2 Hostage 9 Hours

SPRINGFIELD, Ore. (AP) — A Springfield man said he was beginning to expect that he and his wife would be shot to death until police fired tear gas into their house, allowing their escape from an ex-convict who held them prisoner for nine terrifying hours.

A few moments after the tear gas exploded Thursday afternoon, the ex-convict, Harry Acree, 33, shot himself to death with a pistol.

"If they would have waited another hour to fire that tear gas, I think we would have all been dead," said Charles Fawbush, 46, the hostage.

Fawbush, still nervous from the day's ordeal, spoke from a room next to his wife's hospital room. "My wife had a heart operation a few years ago and she's not supposed to get excited," said Fawbush.

Antitrust Decree Names Beer Maker

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co., America's second largest beer maker, has been ordered by a U.S. district court to dispose of the Burgermeister Brewing Co. in San Francisco and to sell its 39 per cent interest in John Labatt, Ltd., of Toronto.

The antitrust decree was handed down Thursday by Judge Stanley A. Weigel. He said Schlitz had a controlling interest of 39 per cent in Labatt, which owns 49 per cent of General Brewing Corp., the maker of Lucky Lager and the West Coast's largest brewer.

UNFAIR COMPETITION
The antitrust division of the Justice Department argued during three weeks of testimony that Schlitz ownership of Burgermeister and its effective control of General Brewing, through Schlitz' controlling interest in Labatt, gave the Wisconsin firm an unfair competitive advantage and violated the Clayton Antitrust Act.

Schlitz purchased Burgermeister in 1961 for $12 million in a struggle with the Miller Brewing Co., also of Milwaukee. Judge Weigel disputed a Schlitz argument that it bought Burgermeister because the San Francisco company was failing.

CANADIAN MARKET
Schlitz also contended it purchased controlling interest of Labatt only so it could enter the Canadian market. Labatt reported earlier it took control of General Brewing to enter the American market.

The judge decreed: Schlitz cannot make any new brewery acquisitions in California, buy plant or stock interest in breweries outside California without permission of the Justice Department and for five years cannot transfer any shares of General Brewing stock owned by Labatt without Justice Department permission.

90 DAYS
Schlitz was ordered to sell its Labatt stock within 90 days to persons satisfactory to the court.

Jess Nicks, General Brewing's president, said in Los Angeles the decision "represents a victory" for his firm and "vindicates" General's directors in their support of the Justice Department's efforts to halt Schlitz from gaining indirect control of General.

Nicks said General now plans expansion into more markets. The court gave tacit approval for the sale of General Brewing's Azusa, Calif., plant to the Miller Brewing Co. for $8 million because the sale would strengthen General and increase competition within the industry.

The government filed the antitrust suit in 1964. A Schlitz lawyer said no decision regarding an appeal had been reached.

Woman Can't Get On Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prospective juror eyed the prosecutor, the prosecutor responded in kind, did a double take, and the juror was no longer even prospective.

"Oh, my gosh!" exclaimed May Reichmann, "that's my son."

"Hello, mother," said Deputy Dist. Atty. Joseph Reichmann, who was preparing for a robbery-narcotics trial.

Judge James H. Dansby excused Mrs. Reichmann Thursday.

"I don't really mind, but I've been excused from two juries already, soon as I told them who-my son is," she said.

The judge said such a coincidence never occurred before in his 40 years' experience.

Dickinson School Superintendent Philip Corona said steps were being taken at the school to prevent any spread of the disease. He said the type was one which responded to the use of antibiotics.

The bidding:

1 ♣ Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♠

Opening lead: Three of ♠

In order to counter the efforts of an alert defense, South—the declarer at four spades—found it necessary to engage in a piecemeal campaign to draw one opponent's trumps.

North refrained from entering the auction on the first round inasmuch as West had opened the bidding with one club, which was North's best suit. However, when South made a vulnerable overcall of one spade, North removed the wraps and jumped directly to four spades. With four trumps, a singleton and the equivalent of an opening bid, he reasoned that there should be a good play for game, and he did not wish to leave anything to chance.

West opened the three of hearts and East played the ace. With the appearance of a singleton heart in dummy there was nothing to be gained by continuing that suit and, inasmuch as North's club holding would obviously provide declarer with several discards once the trumps were drawn, it was essential that the defense develop their tricks without delay.

East accordingly shifted to a small diamond. West put up the ace and continued the suit. The king was played from dummy and now South was obliged to take his discards at once to avoid the loss of a second diamond trick.

The ace and king of clubs were cashed and, when the ten and jack appeared from East's hand, North's entire club holding became established. A diamond was discarded by South on the second club; however, when dummy continued with the deuce of spades.

South overruffed with the five and trumped a heart in dummy to put the nine of clubs thru. East ruffed with the eight of spades and declarer topped him with the ten. The queen of hearts was trumped and the eight of clubs was led. Fortunately for South, his opponent was out of spades and he was finally able to dispose of his remaining diamond.

A spade was led to drive out West's ace and declarer claimed the balance with high spades. In all, he lost one spade, one heart and one diamond.

Texan Held In Holdups

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A native of the Texas South Plains — Alford A. Steele, 33 — was arrested by the FBI Thursday night and charged with a half dozen bank robberies that agents said netted him $130,000.

Steele was nabbed a few hours after a Pompano Beach savings and loan firm was robbed of $18,000. The same place was robbed a month ago of $20,000.

Agents of the FBI said they had been looking for Steele since the robbery in Houston, Tex., of four savings and loan firms. He surrendered without protest when agents surrounded his rented Fort Lauderdale home.

The FBI said Steele was identified as the red-jacketed robber who wielded a blue steel pistol. Agents said he was a native of Whiteface, Tex.

A little more than $14,400 of Thursday's loot was recovered at Steele's home, said officers who filed the complaint charging him with the robbery.

EARLIER WARRANT
A warrant charging him with the robbery was issued Feb. 23, he said. He had four warrants charging him with the robberies in Houston last Dec. 29, Jan. 8, Jan. 25, and Feb. 9.

Gerald Ray Mattox, 30, of Las Vegas, Nev., was arrested at Steele's home under a Nevada warrant charging forgery.

Electric Company Claims No Increase In Rates

There has been no increase in electric rates, a Texas Electric Service Company official said today in response to questions raised over the city budget.

The increase of city street lighting costs from $52,569 last year to an estimated $64,000 this year was attributed to "a raise in rate by Texas Electric Company."

There has been no change in the rate structure, although the method of billing was modified to be on a fixed rate. Actually, on this basis the charge per unit was slightly below what it had been, said R. L. Beale, TESCO district manager.

What has happened and is happening, he said, is that the City of Big Spring has been upgrading old street lights and adding many more. For one thing, the state installed 60 new lamps along Interstate 20, and the city has assumed responsibility for maintaining them.

Within the past six months, some 500 or more street lights using incandescent bulbs and an ancient wavy metal reflector were replaced by modern, larger lamps at the city's request. Besides this, there have been many completely new locations set up for street lights. It is the program of upgrading and additional lights, not a change in rates, which caused the increase in costs, Beale noted.

Lt. Kinney Tells Parents About Viet Cong Leaflets

Lt. (jg) John E. (Eddie) Kinney, naval gunfire liaison officer with various Marine infantry battalions in South Vietnam, found a sample of Viet Cong propaganda recently when a print shop was destroyed.

This is one of the leaflets found in the shop: "The American people are strongly protesting against the dirty war, contrary to the interest, will, tradition and honor of the American nation caused by Johnson and MacNamara in South Vietnam."

"The nationwide demonstrations, the tearing up of draft cards before the public, the No. 27 large scale peace march of 50,000 Americans from many states of America towards Washington, and the high act of Henga-Laportz, Norman Morrison, Roger-Laporte, and Celeste Jane Kowshy burning themselves to death have told much about the strong determination of the American people to struggle for peace, justice and for the friendship between the two peoples, American and Vietnamese."

American servicemen, show yourselves worthy children of the great American people! Act courageously as your conscience and justice loving spirit tell you to do. Demand your immediate repatriation to enjoy the sweetness of being at home again. If Johnson, MacNamara and the like want War, tell them to go to South Vietnam by themselves. They will know what a guerrilla's blow is like. Join the American people in struggling for an end to the deadly, expensive, dirty war in South Vietnam. Stop the American aggressive war in South Vietnam! Repatriation of the American expeditionary corps! (Signed) The South Viet National Front for Liberation."

Lt. Kinney, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kinney, observed that "demonstrations by a vocal minority are leading our enemies, and some of our friends, to believe the American people are seriously split on the Viet Nam issue. This mistaken belief may well be encouraging Hanoi to continue her aggression in hopes that internal pressures will force the United States to either partially or wholly abandon her commitments to Viet Nam."

While he noted that there "can still be no serious objection to the honest convictions of any minority and the right to express them," he contrasted this to a voice of dissent raised in a

Patterson Is Examined

William Patterson, 33, charged with two counts of murder with malice, is at the Big Spring State Hospital today being examined by the institution's psychiatrists and psychologists.

Patterson is in custody of two deputy sheriffs. One of these, A. N. Standard, sheriff, said, will remain handcuffed to the prisoner throughout the examination.

Patterson is charged with having shot his cousin, Wayne Ralph Patterson, 30, and a fellow employe of the cousin, Tony Bert Hampton, 24, to death at Pinkie's Liquor Store on the night of March 16.

He has been held in Howard County jail since a few minutes after the shooting, Bond has been denied.

Sheriff Standard said that he consulted with Wayne Burns, district attorney, and they agreed the prisoner should be examined by state hospital experts to determine his mental status.

Burglary Spree Lasted 4 Months

Sheriff A. N. Standard, said this morning that he has turned over the cases of three juveniles involved in 11 burglaries and one attempted burglary in Big Spring, to Bob Wakefield, county juvenile officer.

Two others involved in the burglaries, both of whom are over the juvenile age limit, will probably be taken before the next grand jury, he said.

Meantime, he said that the five have made statements and have led the officers to hiding places where a vast amount of loot taken in the 11 burglaries has been recovered.

He said the statements indicate that the burglary spree staged by the five began about four months ago.

C-City Co-Op Hears Congressional Opponents

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Omar Burleson, 17th District congressman, and Eldon Mahon, Abilene attorney speaking Burleson's office, spoke briefly before a Rural Electrification Association meeting here Thursday. Little debate developed as both favored the REA program and opposed a four-year term for congressmen.

Mahon said he believed that too much control of government had passed out of the hands of Congress and into the hands of regulatory bodies such as the Department of Agriculture. He said that the skip-row program set out by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, was not embodied in the farm bill passed by Congress.

Mahon said that he felt too much recent legislation had been passed in rural areas and promised to attempt to protect the interests of rural areas. He said that seniority in Congress was useless unless used for the benefit of the congressman's district.

Burleson replied that he did not have to promise what he would do for his district, but that his record spoke for itself. He said that one of the most important things of the world today was the containment of communism, and that as second man on the House foreign affairs committee, he would continue to support the administration's efforts in Viet Nam.

The group, consisting of the educational committee and directors of the Lone Wolf Electric Co-Op and others, heard Co-Op manager James Hull present a new plan for financing rural electrification projects by borrowing from a bank set-up to make loans for rural electrification. In an election held at the close of the meeting, the educational committee elected Willie Taylor, Lorraine, as chairman; Herb Cooper, Roscoe, vice chairman; and Mrs. B. B. Byrnes, Colorado City, secretary.

Military Censor Slip-Up: Marines Bound For Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon censors have erred. They cleared public testimony disclosing that the rest of a second Marine division is destined for South Viet Nam.

The disclosure was made in a sentence deep in a 25-page formal statement by Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze for a Senate group Thursday.

ROTATION BASE
Speaking of an additional 85,200 Marines planned for the entire corps, Nitze said that, among other things, this manpower increase "will provide the rotation base for us to deploy the remainder of a second Marine division to Viet Nam."

It is a matter of public record that the entire 3rd Marine Division already is in Viet Nam, and that most of the 1st Marine Division has joined it there over a period of months. Reporters have known that additional battalions are due in Viet Nam soon. But they have refrained from writing this to avoid any possible danger to the troops or any possible aid to the enemy.

Although Nitze did not identify the Marine division involved, anybody who has been watching the flow of news from the war theater would know which one it was.

SELF CENSORSHIP
Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester asked news media in the United States last year to exercise self censorship.

On Dec. 30, he requested that the media cooperate "and continue to refrain voluntarily from publishing or broadcasting any stories or photographs concerning troop unit deployments to Viet Nam" until their arrival is announced by U.S. military authorities.

As with all such presentations, Nitze's testimony was read by the Pentagon security review office before copies were distributed to newsmen on Capitol Hill and at the Pentagon.

The Nitze reference to deployment of the remainder of the division to Viet Nam was called to the attention of Sylvester and other officials. They made no effort to prevent publication of the information.

TOPS 42,000
At last count there were 42,000 Marines in Viet Nam. This number probably has increased and will rise by several more thousand when the new Marine reinforcements arrive.

Three weeks ago Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said he had authorized an increase of U.S. forces in Viet Nam to 235,000.

On Wednesday, Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance told a Chicago audience that U.S. fighting men in South Viet Nam now number more than 220,000.

Radio communication has been reported troublesome the past few days due to atmospheric conditions.

The Associated Press has maintained communications between New York and London through an alternate cable line, called Telex, but its use has been restricted to urgent dispatches.

Cause of the break and its deep sea location have not been determined, the AT&T spokesman said.

One Of Four Transatlantic Cables Breaks

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the four transatlantic cables broke Thursday night, shifting the load onto the other three, the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., reported. Press Wireless communications were hampered.

An AT&T spokesman said transatlantic calls went through normally but a short wait during peak periods of overseas calls was possible today.

WIRE SERVICE
The broken cable was one used by Press Wireless, among others. Press Wireless leases channels on its section of the cable to major newspapers and news-gathering agencies, including The Associated Press and United Press International.

Press Wireless reported it was unable to secure an alternate cable line to London, and was using radio.

DEAR ABBY

Stay Back Of Counter

DEAR ABBY: My fiancée is a very attractive sales girl in a department store. Men customers very often ask her personal questions, such as, "What is your name?" "How old are you?" "Where do you live?" "Are you married?" She answers every question without hesitation. I tell her she should stick to selling, and not give the customers a run-down on her personal life, but she says she doesn't want to give the impression that she is stuck up. She carries on similar conversations with strangers she meets on the bus, or even on street corners. Do you think this is the proper way for a young lady to act? How should she answer personal questions from strangers?

DOWNTOWN CHICAGO
DEAR DOWNTOWN: A young lady should ignore personal questions put to her by a stranger. Your fiancée could use an orientation course in the ways of the big city, and one in judo on the side.

DEAR ABBY: Ten years ago I was courted by Mr. S. There was some talk of marriage, but I was a young widow with children and property and it seemed best at the time not to marry him. I never married. Mr. S. is ill now and unable to live alone or pay the cost of a nursing home so I have taken him into my home and am caring for him. We are not living in sin, Abby, but there has been much criticism from my friends and relatives. I have no status as a nurse. The question is how shall I introduce him? Should I say, "This is Mr. S., my friend and patient?" Or, "This is Mr. S., my boarder?" His living in my home seems to require some explanation.

MRS. D.
DEAR MRS. D.: If he courted you, there must have been a mutual romantic interest at one time. If there is absolutely none now, introduce him as "Mr. S., my friend." If perchance the romantic interest should be revived, I suggest you marry the man and introduce him as your husband.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is all right to go to mixed parties? WINNIE
DEAR WINNIE: It all depends on what they're mixing.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Man Charged With Murder

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — William Montgomery White, 24, of Baltimore, Md., Thursday was charged with murder in the death of an aged operator of a tiny restaurant.

The bound, gagged, slashed and brutally beaten body of August D. Prograkis was found Wednesday. A medical examiner said he died of extensive brain damage about March 17 or 18.

White, already under indictment here for forgery, was charged before Justice of the Peace H. M. Newman and remanded to the Wichita County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Officers said White had served a sentence in a Kansas prison but did not know for what offense.

Texan Convicted For Draft Dodge

AUSTIN (AP) — A 22-year-old Jehovah's Witness, Taj Eddin Kawaja, was convicted Thursday in federal court of failing to perform duties in the national interest as an alternative to military service.

He will be sentenced April 4. Kawaja became the second Jehovah's Witness from Houston to be found guilty here this year of draft dodging by refusing to report to work at the Austin State Hospital as ordered by their Selective Service boards.

New cotton weed control cuts cost, risk and weather-worry

Shell announces Planavin* Herbicide. Read the 12 ways this remarkably efficient new pre-emergence control works—to help you make money on cotton and save money on weed control.

- Planavin works with proved effectiveness. Kills germinating weeds by attacking growth cells in roots.
- Planavin controls weeds month after month. It's chemically stable in soil, can't be diluted by water.
- Planavin protects your fertilizer investment and soil moisture reserve right from the start. Controls most annual grasses and broadleaf weeds that compete strongly with cotton. (See weed list below.)
- Planavin gives you the weed control you pay for—even if weather goes against you. Works in spite of drought or showers.
- Planavin helps you cut control costs. Has measurably reduced the need for follow-up practices like hoeing, and cultivation. Gives weeds few opportunities to break through.
- Planavin lets cotton grow more profitably. Keeps weeds from slowing down young growth needed for an early, heavy bottom crop. First class weed control also minimizes staining, guards quality.
- Planavin stays put in the top layer of soil where most weed problems start.
- Planavin is still effective even if you must replant. Will maintain its weed control as long as soil disturbance is kept to a minimum during replanting.
- Planavin can be incorporated any time up to several hours after planting if something prevents you from working it into the soil immediately.
- Planavin is ready and able to control weeds as soon as you apply it. Its weed control power works no matter if dry weather or rain follows application.
- Planavin keeps on working if you have to come in with a touch-up cultivation. Actually works with shallow cultivation, killing weeds turned up by the cultivator so they can't reroot.
- Planavin takes the guesswork out of your program. Takes the risk and disappointment out of weed control.

PLEASE NOTE

Demand for Planavin* Herbicide is growing fast. That's what happens with an effective, new farm chemical. Order early. Don't miss the chance to see what Planavin can do in your weed control program.

Legal Aid For Poor Urged

AUSTIN (AP) — A federal property worker and the dean of the University of Texas Law School called Thursday for full-scale legal aid for the poor. They spoke at a five-state conference on legal services for the poor.

Page Keeton, the dean, said the war on poverty is a "war in name only" and never will be completely successful until those unable to pay are given legal aid on a full-time basis.

E. Clinton Bamberger Jr., director of legal services for the Office of Economic Opportunity, supported Keeton's statement, and added that legal aid agencies must take on the atmosphere of a first-class private law office.

Johnson Now Has Flying Auditorium

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's luxury airplane has been refitted so he can talk face to face with more guests on each flight and, if he chooses, hold aerial news conferences.

The most striking features of the renovated Boeing 707 transport are folding interior walls and built-in microphones and loudspeakers so the President can use the plane as a flying auditorium or conference room.

PASSENGER CABIN
Unlike commercial airliners, Johnson's plane now has a main passenger cabin in which all seats face the tail. Although experts say this arrangement provides greater safety in a crash landing, this was not the reason for reversing the seats.

The purpose was to permit passengers to face the presidential suite, located just to the rear of the wings.

This looking-backward posture is a key element in the new design of the plane because the wall between the passenger

Housing Aid Faces Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Housing Department, hoping to get President Johnson's embattled rent supplement plan going, has established financial limits intended to restrict the program to plain housing for low-income persons.

Secretary Robert Weaver, a Negro, and other officials of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, gave the details to a House appropriations subcommittee March 14. Their testimony was made public today.

$12 MILLION
The subcommittee has recommended only $12 million of the $30 million the administration asked to get the program started. It also wrote in a requirement for local government approval.

The full House Appropriations Committee accepted the subcommittee's recommendation. It approved $100,000 in cash and $12 million in contract authority for the program for the fiscal year.

The controversial rent supplement plan is intended to relieve public housing partly of the task of finding adequate and wholesome shelter for some categories of persons unable to pay open market rates.

BUILD HOUSING
The plan would encourage church, union and other non-profit groups to build housing projects for such persons by subsidizing prospective tenants unable to pay an economic rent. The tenant would be expected to pay a rent equivalent to 25 percent of his income and the subsidy would add enough to bring the payment up to a rent determined to be economically sound and proper.

Congress approved the plan in principle last year but the House, on recommendation of its appropriations committee, refused to vote contract authority actually to start the program.

CRITICS ROUSED
Critics complained regulations were so vague as to allow the building of comparatively luxurious quarters and subsidizing of comparatively prosperous families.

The Housing Department was invited to come up with more specific guidelines.

Weaver and his associates responded with dollars and cents limits on the mortgage cost of buildings eligible for the program and on the income and asset holdings of eligible tenants. While the levels would be set locally, he said, maximums would apply across the board in most cases.

DEBT 'HOPELESS'

Indonesia's New Rulers Inherit Financial Mess

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's new rulers have inherited a financial mess which even optimists concede will require years to clean up. The reform regime's popularity and survival are likely to depend on the outcome.

For Indonesia to meet her 1966 foreign debt obligations would require $450 million.

NO HOPE
Indonesia has not a hope of paying. Foreign exchange reserves are exhausted. The nation lives on current earnings, derived almost entirely from rubber, oil, tin and copra.

Oil revenues are not revealed officially, but an industry source estimates they were $75 million in 1965.

Rubber, tin, copra and other exports earned an estimated $450 million. That adds up to foreign exchange earnings of $325 million last year.

But this is a nation of 105 million people. Enough imports to keep the Indonesian economy sputtering along even at quarter speed cost $350 million last year.

SQUANDERED MILLIONS
While President Sukarno's regime squandered millions of dollars on official and private trips abroad, only partial payments were made on foreign obligations. Not only did these partial payments exhaust the remaining $175 million but a great deficit yawned.

How about 1966?
It is likely to be worse than 1965.

The Ministry of Trade this month announced a $400-million target for non-oil earnings. If the oil revenue remains at last year's estimate of $75 million, and the remainder of Indonesia's economy meets the ministry's target, Indonesia will earn $475 million this year abroad.

That is $325 million less than the sum needed to meet due or overdue foreign debts and to maintain essential imports even

Mahon Plans Two April Meetings Here

Eldon Mahon of Abilene, candidate for the Democratic nomination as congressman from the 17th district, has scheduled a major engagement in Big Spring next week.

He is to talk at the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 28.

Mahon, who has made several visits to the city during the course of his campaign, also will be here April 6, at which time local supporters plan a special "get-acquainted" affair.

Howard County just this year was shifted from the 19th to the 17th congressional district, which currently is served by Omar Burleson. Mahon is challenging Burleson for the post in Washington.

Jim Bruce Frazier, sophomore student at Howard County Junior College, has been named HCJC chairman of Young Citizens. For Mahon, a district-wide campus organization working in support of Mahon's candidacy.

Announcement of this appointment was recently made by Don Newquist, senior student at McMurry College, who is district chairman of the organization. Frazier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Frazier of Big Spring.

at last year's precarious levels. SEE MORATORIUM
Foreign economists believe a moratorium is inevitable on payment of all or part of the $450 million due on foreign debts this year.

So far Lt. Gen. Suharto's new regime has been too preoccupied with consolidating its power to take action on this or the basic economic reforms for which inflation-tormented Indonesians are pleading.

In terms of total debt the Soviet Union is Indonesia's biggest creditor. Obligations to the Soviets total $1 billion.

HOLY BIBLE

THE WAY TO UNITY

The religious sections of newspapers have lately revealed a definite trend toward ecumenical moves in so-called Christendom. Ecumenism is a word invented by Protestants to designate a movement to bring all professed Christians together in some kind of unity.

Intensified efforts have been made by America's foremost religious leaders to bring about unity within the ranks of denominationalism. Denominational and inter-denominational merges have been accomplished, while others are in the embryonic stages.

SENTIMENTS OF ECUMENICAL LEADERS
The editorials of some of the outstanding religious thinkers reveal the following sentiments concerning religious divisions:

1. The church is sent with its gospel of salvation to the whole inhabited world and schisms hamper the church's total mission. If the churches cannot agree among themselves as to what the message of salvation is how can they successfully lead others to the way of life?
2. Denominationalism is wasteful of money and man power. Think of the tremendous cost of supporting the publishing houses for the various sectarian bodies, whereas one would be sufficient, if the churches were united in their beliefs and practices. Thousands of dollars are spent in erecting several church buildings in one small community, while one building would be sufficient to meet the needs!
3. Division weakens Christian influence in all areas of national life. The churches cannot present a united front against juvenile crimes, nor can they forcefully attack the many evils which confront this nation.
4. Disunity hampers missionary work abroad. Can a divided church say anything convincing to a world which sees in it only another example of the strife and alienation that poisons all human relations?
5. The religious leaders stress that underlying all the practical arguments is the fact that Jesus prayed for unity "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word: That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." (John 17:21)
6. There was never doubt in the minds of the early Christians that Jesus meant His disciples to be united in a fellowship of love. Paul said, "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus." (Galatians 3:28)

CHURCHES OF CHRIST AGREE IN THESE SENTIMENTS

The churches of Christ have been contending for these very sentiments through the years, but we have been looked upon as narrow, and branded as a group of bigots! Now the so-called great minds of Christendom are contending for these very things!

We have contended for the principle of unity through the years not because of the contentions of men, but because of the emphatic teaching of holy Scripture. Jesus prayed for unity (John 17:21). Unity is good and pleasant (Psalms 133:1-3). It is unequivocally commanded (I Corinthians 1:10; Ephesians 4:1-5). Division is condemned with the strongest of language (I Corinthians 3:1-3; Romans 16:17-18).

THE WAY TO UNITY

We firmly believe that unity can be achieved. But as one writer said, "The biggest obstacle to Christian unity is the fact that many church members really do not want it." In other words they are not willing to pay the price of giving up many doctrines and practices to which they have great sentimental attachment. We can achieve unity provided we are willing to recognize:

1. Christ as the only Head, Ruler and Legislator of the church. Christ is "head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all" (Ephesians 1:22-23). He has all authority (Matthew 28:18-19). But Catholicism emphatically states that any move toward unity must involve recognition of the Pope as Vice-Regent of Christ, and Protestant denominational bodies refuse to relinquish their governing councils, conventions and synods. Therefore, Christ is not allowed to rule through His word as the sole Head and Legislator.
2. Bible as the only source of religious authority. The Scriptures are "inspired by God," and are designed "that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (II Timothy 3:16-17). It contains "all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue" (II Peter 1:3). But instead of a common source of authority, within the realms of denominationalism, we have a multiplicity of divergent standards, as the Book of Mormon, so-called divine tradition and Papal bulls, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, and the various creeds and manuals of the denominations. If unity is accomplished, we must come to the Bible as the common source of Divine authority!
3. The one Church revealed in the New Testament Scriptures. The one that Jesus said, "I will build . . ." (Matthew 16:18); the one to which the Lord adds the saved (Acts 2:47); and the one that He purchased with His own blood (Acts 20:28). That Jesus came and established one church is a proposition that cannot be successfully disputed. But are people willing to disband denominational bodies, and accept the one Body of Christ? Unity demands that all be members of the Church that belongs to Jesus Christ.

CONCLUSION
Unity can be attained provided all are willing to be guided by the Bible in matters of doctrine, practice and worship. We are not divided over things in the New Testament, but over things not found there. Let us speak as the oracles of God (I Peter 4:11). We must refuse even an angel that would preach a different gospel (Galatians 1:8-9). If we go beyond the doctrine of Christ we have not God (II John 9-10).

Dr. Hudson To Be Here For Baptist Meet

One of the nation's outstanding Christian family counselors will be the resource speaker for a Family Life Conference hosted Saturday through Tuesday by the First Baptist Church.

He is Dr. E. Lofton Hudson, founder and director of the Midwest Christian Counseling Center in Kansas City, Mo. He has served as pastor, professor, counselor.

"We believe the family is still the core of our society," said the Rev. Robert F. Polk, pastor. "Therefore, this is not just a Baptist meeting, but it is one for everyone in the community who is interested in richer, happier, more fruitful family ties. We can't emphasize too strongly our earnest hope that concerned people of all faiths will take advantage of hearing Dr. Hudson."

The Saturday session will feature a mass meeting of youth from local Baptist Churches who will hear Dr. Hudson on "The Countdown Years." Sunday's sessions feature young couples and adults and all parents of teenagers; Monday's discussions will feature senior citizens, high school girls, high school boys, the complete family, and the religious worker; Tuesday's highlights are the breakfast for men only, sessions for parents and workers of pre-school and elementary children, and a woman's role in family life, for ladies only.

BISHOP THOMAS TSCHOEPE Installed in San Angelo Wednesday

Bishop Installed In Wednesday Rites

The Most Reverend Thomas Tschoepe, D.D., was installed Wednesday as the second Bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of San Angelo by Archbishop Robert Emmet Lucey of San Antonio.

The ceremony began with a procession into the Cathedral. At the entrance the bishop was formally greeted by the rector, the Very Reverend Arnold A. Boeding. Together they proceeded up the main aisle to the sanctuary where the congregation prayed for the new bishop. The bishop, in turn, prayed for the faithful who are entrusted to his care.

During the course of the ceremony, Bishop Tschoepe gave his first solemn episcopal blessing and gave a final prayer thanking God for his appointment. Archbishop Lucey gave the sermon, which was followed by the solemn pontifical high mass in honor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Bishop Tschoepe was the celebrant of the mass.

Music for the installation ceremony and Mass was provided by the Men and Boys' Choir from Sacred Heart Church, Abilene, under the direction of Jerry Massey and accompanied by Jimmy Barros.

Members of each department will again be given an opportunity to pledge through their regular classes. Youth of all three departments will call on those who have not yet made pledges in an attempt to contact all of the youth personally. All youth not contacted personally will be contacted by mail during the week as the final effort.

Launches Attack On Pornography

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) - The Rev. W. E. Davis decided preaching against pornography wasn't going to eliminate it, so he launched a more direct attack. He resigned as pastor of the Faith Baptist Church and formed the Clean Literature Crusade. The crusade operates under the Crusade for Christian Faith, a Kentucky-based non-profit corporation. It is an educational program, which hopes to work with parent-teacher organizations and church groups.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

My dear wife died a year ago. Now there's just myself and my little daughter Janice. Don't feel sorry for us, though, because we're managing pretty well.

Last year when the blow came, I admit I went to pieces. We'd only lived in the neighborhood for a few weeks, and it's hard to say what would have happened if it hadn't been for our church. Suddenly I was surrounded by friends. The minister came at once with convincing words of comfort that helped me to face life again. His wife alerted other members and they brought meals, laundered clothing, took care of Janice, and ultimately found the wonderful elderly housekeeper we have now.

I had never given much thought to the meaning of Christian fellowship. Today I know that miracles of kindness can result when people unite in following the "perfect pattern" of self-sacrifice and unquestioning love.

Eunice Turns Back Steers In Tourney

ANDREWS — Big Spring was relegated to the loser's bracket in the Andrews Invitational Baseball tournament after yielding a 9-3 decision to Eunice, N. M., in first round play here Thursday.

The Steers return to play at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, at which time they clash with the loser in the Lamesa - Andrews engagement.

First round play will be completed today and tonight with

Mavericks Lose Lamesa Series

LAMESA — Big Spring Goliad won one of three matches in girls' volleyball competition here Thursday evening.

The eighth grade Mavericks prevailed, 15-9, 15-9, and are now unbeaten in seven starts. Regina Hamby was outstanding for the Big Spring team.

Goliad's ninth graders were defeated, 15-6, 15-3 while the eighth grade B team was upended, 15-7, 15-0.

Goliad returns to play at home Monday against Snyder Lamar.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

By the time the National League season opens next month, the Los Angeles Dodgers will have banked something like $4 million in advance ticket sales.

It's understandable that the Midland Bulldogs get off to a slow start in baseball this spring when one considers the fact that (1) coach Dub Headrick underwent an operation shortly before the drills began, (2) the team was unable to take hitting practice as long as spring football drills were underway at a neighboring field, (3) two of the Bulldog hurriers were unable to report with the others due to the fact that they were involved in football rather than baseball, and (4) Headrick had to rebuild without the infielders, catchers and pitchers he had last year.

Still, Dub says the Bulldogs will be tough and his record bears him out.

"We won't forfeit to anyone," he says.

Beverly Rockhold, who played high school athletics here prior to World War II, became first an outstanding relay performer at the University of Texas and then began to develop track champions as coach at Baytown High School, has attended the Border Olympics in Laredo every year but three since 1933.

Rockhold couldn't make it to Laredo twice during World War II and was out of pocket again in 1937.

All but one of Texas Western's road games during the basketball season were televised by an El Paso station. The Miners' gym, which seats 6,200, was sold out far ahead of their home games and the overflow crowds watched their contests at a nearby site on closed circuit television.

Ex-Big Spring Billy Maxwell prospered in the Citrus Golf Open in Florida last week and now has run his 1966 winnings to $8,881, with not yet three months of the year gone.

Other Texans on the tour, and the amount they have earned this year through last week include:

Charley Cuddy, $15,462; Buster Cupit, $3,312; Jacky Cupit, $5,181; Don January, $4,765; Miller Barber, $8,873; Butch Baird, $95.56; Rex Baxter, $2,672; Homero Blancas, $887; Jackie Burke, $850; Dick Crawford, $4,726; Don Cherry, $1,042; Terry Dill, $2,715; Joel Goldstrand, $151; Dave Marr, $5,250; Fred Marti, $1,437; Billy Martindale, $8,462; Don Massengale, $15,400; Randy Petri, nothing; Rocky Thompson, $1,165; Frank Wharton, $712; Dudley Wynn, $10,990.

La Mesa Race-Track in Raton, N. M., will open its 1966 season April 23 and run through Sept. 5. The track will operate twice a week until July, at which time it will switch to a three-day program (Fridays through Sundays).

Biggest event on the program will be the $100,000 Raton Quarter Horse Futurity.

Look for ex-OU football coach Bud Wilkinson to bid for election to the U.S. Senate again in 1968, at which time he would be pitted against incumbent Mike Monroney.

When the University of Houston lost to Oregon State in the NCAA regional basketball playoffs, the Cougars missed more shots from the field than Oregon State attempted. Houston missed 48 shots. The Beavers took only 42.

Dodgers Look To New Mound Leadership

By The Associated Press

Now the Los Angeles Dodgers can start worrying about Don Sutton and Joe Moeller asking for a million dollars.

The young right-handers, seeking spots on the depleted Dodger pitching staff, turned in a collectively brilliant performance Thursday as Los Angeles won only its third game of the spring, whipping Cincinnati 6-0.

Sutton, who will be 21 next week, allowed only one hit through the first five innings, and Moeller, 23 last month, gave up two the rest of the way.

STOP OPPOSITION

That gave Sutton a spring record of two runs and four hits for 11 1-3 innings while Moeller has not permitted an earned run in 11 innings.

Their performances undoubtedly are encouraging to Manager Walter Alton, who faces defense of the world championship without the nucleus of the championship team — pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale.

The Dodgers are no closer to signing their aces now than they were four weeks ago—when the pair became holdouts.

Koufax and Drysdale, who won 49 games between them last season, want three-year contracts calling for $500,000 each, but the Dodgers want to pay Koufax $100,000 and Drysdale $85,000, both under one-year pacts.

With the two on the sidelines, Sutton seeks to replace one of them after only one year of pro ball. While playing in the California and Texas Leagues last season, Sutton compiled a 23-7 record while completing 24 of 31 starts.

Moeller is making his third try at gaining a permanent spot on the pitching staff. He was with the Dodgers for part of the 1962 season and for all of the 1964 season, but his total record was 13-18. He spent last year with Spokane of the Pacific Coast League where he was 7-10.

RECEIVE HELP

In increasing their record to 9-9, the Dodgers received help from Cincinnati's Deron Johnson, who is playing left field after starting at third base last year. With two out and the bases loaded in the fourth inning, Johnson dropped Nate Oliver's fly ball in short left, allowing all three runners to score.

In another three-hitter, California edged the Chicago Cubs 1-0 on Ed Bailey's run-scoring single in the second inning. Jim McGlothlin, Lou Burdette and Chuck Estrada stopped the Cubs.

Kansas City snapped Detroit's seven-game winning streak 6-5, the winning run coming across on Wayne Causey's two-out, ninth-inning single but the Chicago White Sox extended their winning streak to seven, beating Minnesota 8-6 on Tommy Agee's two-run homer in the ninth.

Longhorn Linksters Play Catch-Up In 2-4A Round

SAN ANGELO — Big Spring, plays 'catch-up' in District 2-AAAAA golf play here today.

The Longhorns trail seventh-place Abilene Cooper by 15 strokes, after having occupied the seventh spot through the first round of competition.

Odessa Permian is leading the race with an aggregate score of 625 but Odessa High is in a very good position, only three strokes off the pace.

Longhorns Enter S. Angelo Meet

Coaches Cliff Patton and Johnny Hickman take a dozen members of the Big Spring High School track and field team to the San Angelo Relays this weekend.

Preliminaries in the meet are scheduled today while all finals will be out of the way by 4:15 p.m. Saturday.

The Steers' big hope will again be sprinter Joe Jaure who jammed his leg at the West Texas Relays in Odessa last week but still set a record in the low hurdles.

Jaure negotiated the distance in 18.6, which equals Johnny Hughes' best time in the race last year. And Hughes, remember, won the district title for the Steers in the event.

Jaure also cleared 22-7/8 in the broad jump and ran a 9.6 hundred. Both feats are career bests for the sensational Steer athlete.

Joe probably would have done even better in the 100 but he had to ease off a little bit due to his leg trouble.

Gay Brewer Trails Bolt By One Shot

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—If Gay Brewer Jr. can keep his mind off an imminent operation on his 13-month-old daughter, he is in a good spot to continue the hottest streak in pro golf as the $82,000 Greater Jacksonville Open heads into the second round today.

One stroke off the six-under-par 66 pace set Thursday by Tommy Bolt, Brewer figured in a strong position because of the consistency of recent months when he won four tournaments.

But he admitted he is concerned about the little daughter, Kelly, who has been in a cast and is scheduled for an operation on her hip Monday. The trouble is a defect apparently existing since birth, he explained.

Brewer will head home to Dallas as soon as the 72-hole tourney ends Sunday.

He was able to concentrate well enough in his steady first round 34-33-67, with five birdies and only once coming close to a bogey.

For Bolt — whose expert shots over the past 20 years have been overshadowed by his reaction to a bad one by smashing a club against a tree — all was serene through his 34-32-66.

"I'm just beginning to wake up," he quipped. He said a doctor prescribed some pills for a swelling in his hands at the Citrus Open in Orlando last weekend and "they made me so weak I could hardly walk for two days."

The 47-year-old Bolt, owner of a par 3 course at Sarasota, Fla., no longer is a regular on the tour.

Neither is Ed Furgol, 49, former National Open champion who shot a 33-34-67 to tie Brewer for second place after 18 holes.

A crowd of 92 all eager for the $13,500 first prize — were jammed into a bundle at par 72 or better.

Royals And Hawks Lead In Playoffs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Suddenly, it's the home-court disadvantage in the National Basketball Association.

Forced to play the odd game on enemy courts after finishing third in their divisions, the Cincinnati Royals and St. Louis Hawks have jumped into 1-0 leads in the best-of-five semifinal playoffs.

Cincinnati started the form reversal Wednesday in Boston, upending the perennial champion Celtics 107-103. Then on Thursday night, St. Louis squeezed past the Bullets in Baltimore, 113-111.

Action in the Eastern Division playoffs resumes Saturday in Cincinnati, when Boston tests the new win-on-the-road theory. On Sunday, the series shifts back to Boston and St. Louis plays again in Baltimore.

St. Louis was confronted with an imposing task in whipping the Bullets. The Hawks had lost seven straight in Baltimore's Civic Center, where the Bullets had won 27 of their last 31. In the seasonal series, Baltimore held a 7-3 edge over St. Louis.

But the Hawks, after blowing a 13-point lead, won in the last 32 seconds on a driving basket by jumpin' Joe Caldwell, a one-hand corner shot by Len Wilkens and two free throws by Wilkens.

Caldwell, who averaged 12.7 points during the season, finished with 33 points after hitting his first six shots to spark a 21-11 St. Louis lead. Wilkens scored 27 points and was credited with seven assists.

Don Ohl of Baltimore led all scorers with 33 points.

But St. Louis player-coach Richie Guerin turned in perhaps the most amazing performance. The 32-year-old veteran, who will retire as a player after the playoffs, scored 20 points, had 12 assists and — believe it or not — played the entire game.

"That's the first time I've played 48 minutes in I don't know how many years," Guerin said. "And I wasn't tired at the end."

Yearlings Shade Travis Netters

Runnels Junior High's ninth grade girls decisively Snyder Travis in a volleyball match here Thursday, 15-5, 16-14.

Mimi Luevano, Georganne Patton and Mary Fiore each scored six points for the Yearlings, who now have a 5-1 record. Katherine Dirks was impressive as a set for Big Spring.

In the eighth grade game, Travis won by the score of 15-10, 12-15, 15-12.

Delores Wrightsil had 11 points for Runnels in the match while Roberta Duncan and Carol Grimsley proved able sets.

The eighth graders, who play Lamesa here Monday, now are 3-3 for the season.

Steerettes Play Midland Tonight

Now lodged in second place in District 2-AAAAA standings, the Big Spring Steerettes go to Midland tonight for a conference joust with Midland High.

B teams of the two schools clash at 6:30 p.m. while the varsity teams clash at 7:30 p.m.

The Steerettes trail pace-setting Cooper by two games.

Are you willing to go as low as $1670 for a new VW?

We don't sell status. Just a car. One that gets about 29 mpg, averages 40,000 miles on a set of tires, and hardly uses oil between changes.

Of course, the fact that it's practical is no secret. And everybody is going to know that you're saving money. But that's the price you pay for Volkswagen.
