Precincts Case Set In High Court

AUSTIN (AP) - The Texas Supreme court agreed today to hear arguments in Midland Mayor Hank Avery's case to force reapportionment of Midland County commissioner's precincts along population lines.

The high court's decision brought the "one man, one vote" issue down to the precinct level and was the first known instance where the court has accepted such a case.

The court granted review of an El Paso Court of Civil Appeals ruling that the commissioners were not compelled by the state and national constitutions to create precincts of substantially equal population.

1962 SUIT

Avery brought the suit in 1962, contending that 97 per cent of Midland County's population was in commissioner precinct

Space Flaw Repeat Said Not Likely

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - Gemini officials label as "remote" the possibility a thruster might go wild on a future spacecraft like one did on Gemini 8, flipping its two astronauts in tumbling danger.

Nevertheless, they want firm assurance it will not happen again before they commit another team of Gemini spacemen to orbit, especially for a space walk.

STRAY SIGNAL

The case on Gemini 8: officially, a short circuit in the space-craft wiring sent a stray signal for the No. 8 maneuvering jet to fire. For nearly an hour, astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and David R. Scott could not fully control the craft.

"It could have happened at any time," Armstrong said, "there is no reason for us to suspect that this particular failure was caused by any particular event of occurrence in the spacecraft."

This being the case, what if the small jet had gone wild while Scott was dangling at the end of a 100-foot tether taking his 2 1/2-hour space walk the next morning?

Scott calls the question a "what if" game because he never took his walk.

Armstrong, who appeared with Scott in a news conference, agreed the problem would have been "a serious one, of course."

COME BACK

But, he added, "the (tumble) rates were small initially and I think that should this occur, or have occurred, Dave might very well have been able to reenter the cockpit and get the hatch closed."

"There is the possibility," Scott said, "that had I been outside, I could have viewed this and told Neil immediately. Your No. 8 thruster is stuck on, turn it off."

Draft Dodge Case Roundup Pressed

NEW YORK (AP) - FBI agents arrested almost 40 men in swift daybreak raids today in the New York metropolitan area and in Cleveland and charged them with participating in draft-dodging schemes.

More arrests were expected, federal officials said. By midmorning, agents had arrested 33 men in New York and five in Cleveland.

FALSE STATEMENTS An official said some of the men paid up to $5,000 for false statements about an individual's military status. The scheme had taken in up to $80,000 since 1963, officials said.

In Cleveland, officials said one man arrested was a National Guardsman who handled papers for phony enlistments in the 112th Engineers Battalion in suburban Garfield Heights. The FBI said the Cleveland case is unrelated to the New York arrests.

NINE FATHERS The FBI said among those arrested in New York were nine fathers and eight of their sons.

INDIRA GANDHI

LBJ Offers India Heavy Aid In Grain

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson offered India today an extra 3.5 million tons of grain to help head off hunger for a friendly people.

His offer came as Mrs. Indira Gandhi, prime minister of India, took off for New York ending two days of talks with the President and other top U.S. officials.

In those talks, Johnson had given her strong assurances of U.S. help in meeting India's food emergency and long-range needs for economic development.

In addition to the grain, the President also proposed additional 150 million pounds of vegetable oils, up to 125 million pounds of milk powder, $25,000 to 700,000 bales of cotton, and 2 million to 4 million pounds of tobacco.

In a special message to Congress, Johnson asked for endorsement of this action and "the strong and warmhearted and generous support of this program by the American people."

"India is a good and deserving friend," he said. The extra 3.5 million tons of grain he offered India would be bread grains, mainly wheat. He invited other nations to match that amount and voiced delight that Canada was prepared to provide a million tons of wheat and flour.

SAIGON (AP) - Two hundred U.S. cavalrymen battled against entrapment by a strong Communist force tonight in the central highlands 12 miles southwest of Pleiku. American artillery hammered at the Red lines.

Several troop-carrying helicopters were shot down. One was a heavy-duty Chinook that exploded over the cavalrymen's landing zone in a clearing of the Chu Phong Mountain range, complicating further helicopter landings.

SPOOK FIRE "We're taking a lot of Spook fire," a lieutenant reported by radio to his headquarters in Pleiku, 240 miles north of Saigon. This probably meant the enemy was shooting at the cavalrymen from all directions. AP photographer Rick Meron reported in a dispatch from Pleiku that the fight started at noon when a detachment of about 50 men from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division ran into heavy enemy fire. A 150-man company flew in to help.

A North Vietnamese soldier was captured and he told the Americans there were 1,000 well-armed Viet Cong in the sector.

PLANE RAIDS Elsewhere U.S. planes destroyed at least 150 Communist buildings, set off 14 big explosions and killed 35 or more Viet Cong in 24 hours of intensive bombardment in South Vietnam a U.S. spokesman announced.

Four planes were lost, three to enemy fire.

NAVY AIRCRAFT Although poor weather continued to hamper air activity against North Viet Nam, Navy carrier planes claimed five junks and three sampans destroyed on strafing missions against waterways in the North.

Tax Hike Talk Stirs Congressional Blasts

Added Levy On Income Is Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) - A 5 per cent increase in personal income taxes coupled with a boost in corporation taxes is one possible tax combination the Johnson administration could seek to dampen the continually expanding economy.

President Johnson indicated Tuesday he might seek a tax increase as early as next month if prices continue to rise. Such an increase would be designed to take a temporary and relatively quick bite from purchasing power.

COMBINATION PLAN The most likely recommendation, if the administration rules that a tax increase is needed, is a combination of personal and corp. to tax hikes rather than any selective increases.

Raising personal income taxes by 5 per cent would remove about $2.5 billion in purchasing power from the economy each year. Coupling this with a two-point increase in corporation taxes - from 48 to 50 per cent - would raise about $4 billion in revenue each year. A one-point boost in corporate taxes increases revenues by about $700 million.

NOTHING FINAL These percentages could be varied up and down depending on how much money the administration decided it wanted to remove from the economy - if it made that decision at all.

Treasury officials who are working on contingency plans for a tax increase - or a reduction if it should ever be needed to stimulate the economy - have reached no firm decisions on a package of taxes the administration could use to cool the economy.

Neutrality is the key word in the Treasury's thinking on contingency tax planning. This means that no change in tax structure - favoring one income group over another - should be made for an antiinflation tax boost. Stanley S. Surrey, assistant secretary of the Treasury for tax matters, has said changes in structure require much public and congressional debate and there won't be time for this if a tax increase is needed to dampen inflationary trends.

LATEST MEASURE The new tax measure signed by President Johnson earlier this month is designed to raise about $6 billion over the next 15 months for the Viet Nam war.

It repealed excise tax cuts which went into effect last Jan. 1 but did not raise taxes on individuals and corporations. It merely speeded up collection of the tax and put taxpayers on a tighter pay-as-you-go basis.

House Ready For Vote On Daylight Saving Time

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House voted today on a bill expected to put most of the country on Daylight Saving Time for six months of each year starting in 1967. Approval is considered certain.

The Senate passed the compromise measure Tuesday shortly after Senate-House conferees reached agreement on it. The final measure is exactly the version originally passed by the House.

The bill, designed to bring

Ceremonies Launch Work On New College Buildings

Ground was broken Wednesday morning for new science and library buildings at Howard County Junior College. Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, said he hoped they would be ready for use by the autumn of 1967.

Horace Garrett, president of the board of trustees, turned the first shovel, followed by Charles Price, student association president; David Berry, vice president; and Delinda Bradford, secretary.

Afterwards, the county's three superintendents, Sam Anderson, Big Spring, W. A. Wilson, Coahoma, and Darrell Flynt, Foran, all joined hands in spading earth.

Others present and participating included Mayor George Zachariah, Chamber of Commerce president John Currie, board members Paul Adams, Dr. P. W. Malone, Tom Barber, Dr. Charles Warren, and John A. Coffey; State Rep. Temple Dickson, Sweetwater; Carl Droeber, brother of the contractor for the $800,000 project, and Ernest Oltman, superintendent of the job; and Earl Sherman of the Housing and Urban Development Agency.

The Rev. James A. Puckett, Baptist Temple pastor, offered the invocation, a prayer of thanksgiving for blessings of public education and for the ministry of HCJC. The groundbreaking took place at a corner of a tract directly west of the Dora Roberts Student Union Building. Even as the ceremonies were held, big earth moving machines cut into the ground to level the site for the structures which will be located north and east of the Music Building. When the new buildings are complete, the present library and science units will be converted to classrooms.

LBJ Program Funds Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson has won his first major congressional victory of 1966 with House approval of funds for his rent subsidy and Teacher Corps programs. But it took some help from Republicans.

A $2.56-billion catch-all appropriation bill passed late Tuesday by the House included money to start the two new "Great Society" projects.

CLOSE BATTLES The 269-122 roll-call vote that sent the bill to the Senate after six hours of partisan debate did not reflect the closeness of the battles over the two main issues involved.

Both the rent subsidy program for low-income tenants and the Teachers Corps to help educate children of poor families were approved last year by Congress, but the money to get them started was not provided in the final appropriation bill of 1965.

Republicans who argued that now is not the time to spend federal funds on new domestic programs not related to the war in Viet Nam tried to eliminate money for both the programs.

DRAWS FIRE They centered their fire on the rent subsidy plan designed to promote construction of housing by nonprofit groups for rental to low-income families, with the government paying part of the rent. None of the payments would go to private landlords.

An amendment by Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, top Republican on the Appropriations Committee, would have denied the $12 million to start the rent program - $18 million less than the President requested for use during the remaining months of the fiscal year ending June 30.

REPUBLICANS HELP Bow's amendment lost by roll call vote of 198 to 190, the margin of victory for the administration being supplied by six Republicans who voted with 192 Democrats. Joining 125 Republicans in support of the

Republicans Vow To Fight Any Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson's broad indication that he may ask an early tax increase to combat threatened inflation touched off a political uproar in Congress today.

Johnson told a group of young interns finishing a year's government service Tuesday that if prices continue to rise he faces three choices: government controls, a $5-billion to $10-billion cut in federal spending or a tax hike of roughly $5 billion.

He added no one likes controls. He said he doesn't believe spending can be reduced without damaging "necessary or popular" programs that Congress wouldn't go along with. He said agencies will report to the Budget Bureau next month on possible economies.

TAX BILL If such reductions are not enough and "if prices are still going up, we will have to have a tax bill," he said. A decision may be reached next month, he told the interns.

This brought an assertion from Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen that Johnson is in for "a tug-of-war, a test of strength" with Republicans and conservative Democrats who will fight to cut spending rather than increase taxes.

"This is going to stimulate an economy hunt such as we haven't seen in years," Dirksen said in an interview. "Every buck we can save will mean a buck less in taxes and believe me we're going to hunt for those savings."

VOWS FIGHT Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, top Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, said he is not going to support any tax increase "as long as the administration continues to press for expenditures that certainly can be deferred."

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, assistant House Democratic leader, said he thinks because of the pressure of Viet Nam war expenditures on the economy, taxes may have to go up.

"We might have to increase taxes," he said. "Now the President is saying it and I agree with what he's saying. I hope we don't have to do it."

Denton Maiming Case Near Jury

DENTON, Tex. (AP) - Byron McClelland Jr. and the youths charged with him in the maiming of another North Texas State University student testified in his defense Tuesday.

The case was expected to go to a jury today. McClelland kept his eyes on the jury during most of the time he was on the stand to tell of the attack on Michael Portman, 19, another NTSU student from Dallas last Oct. 8.

EYE LOST The state alleged that McClelland and three fraternity brothers attacked Portman after a beer party in Oklahoma. The attack resulted in blindness in one eye for Portman.

McClelland testified that he never entered Portman's room but went to the door and saw in the darkness what appeared to be somebody sitting on the bed. He said he had heard glass breaking.

SWING, FALL "I heard the glass break and started for the car," he testified. "I had no idea anyone was hurt. We didn't intend to hurt anyone." Earlier, he said he saw Robert Harold Glenn "swing . . . and fall into the room."

Ernie Bovio, another of the youths in the group charged, testified that he was "kinda drunk" and that his memory was vague. But he said he remembered throwing a glass beer mug against the wall of Portman's room. Glenn testified that he entered the room after he "exchanged a few words with the boy."

SWUNG AT BOY "I swung at the boy and fell on into the room," he testified. He said he threw a soft drink bottle against the wall and that Bovio broke a beer mug in a similar manner.

Glenn now is serving a jail term for his part in the night's events. He was assessed a 45-day sentence after pleading no contest. The other two charged, Bovio and Trenton Torre Grossa, remain to face trial.

Earlier Tuesday, Tommy James Sr., a counselor at the off-campus apartment house where the incident occurred, testified that two students aroused him early in the morning of Oct. 8.

GLASS ON FLOOR "The first thing I saw when I went into Portman's room was large pieces of glass on the floor," he said.

The counselor added that the handle of a shattered beer mug was stained with blood and that there was blood on the bed, on the rug and in the bathroom. Portman testified during the trial's first day that his apartment door was flung open as he answered a knock. He said he was struck twice and knocked unconscious as he remembered throwing a glass

Sandra Camp To Represent Airport

Sandra Camp, 9, a fourth grader, will represent Airport School in the April 16 Howard County Fourth Annual Spelling Bee.

She was selected as champion Tuesday after she had outspelled the other classroom champions from the school. There were seven in the final spelloff.

Clarice Ringener, 11, a fifth grader, was the runnerup and will be alternate speller April 16 for her school. Should tiny Sandra (she is one of the smallest of the current year's crop of spelling champions) not be able to compete in the county bee, Clarice will substitute.

Ernest Boyd, principal of the school, said that both Sandra and Clarice are excellent spellers.

"We believe either would make a good showing at the county spelling bee," said the principal.

Sandra is the daughter of M. Sgt. and Mrs. George T. Camp, 1313 Lindberg.

Clarice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Ringener, 1502 Chickasaw.

Sandra becomes the sixth school champion to be determined in this year's county bee. The Howard County Spelling Bee, to be staged at the Big Spring High School Auditorium April 16, is sponsored by the Daily Herald.

Forsan Electors To Pick City Officials

FORSAN — Forsan voters will not only be selecting trustees to serve their school district Saturday — they will also be naming a mayor, two city council members and a city marshal.

The school district will be selecting three new trustees from a large field of candidates.

Methodists' Move Backed

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The Northwest Texas Methodist Conference's board of hospitals and homes has joined the Texas Methodist Conference in support of administrative changes at the Waco Methodist home.

There were protests from some former residents of the home and some laymen when the changes were announced Feb. 1.

Dr. Hubert Johnson became executive vice president and the Rev. Kennard Copeland, brother of the Rev. Kenneth Copeland, Bishop of Nebraska, was placed in charge of the home as administrator.

The Northwest Texas board commended Johnson "for his leadership and dedication to the Methodist Home as administrator for the past 32 years."

Seeking return to office is C. J. Lamb, mayor. Lamb is the only mayor that Forsan has ever had. He was elected to that post when the town was incorporated and has held on since. G. L. Monroney is seeking return to the seat he has on the city council. A second council member, C. D. Long, did not seek re-election. Lee D. Whetzel has filed for his position on the council.

S. C. Cowley, the town's city marshal, (who is the only city employe to receive a salary) is also seeking re-election. His salary is $25 a month.

Since no opposition faces any of the candidates, a quiet election is anticipated. The election will be held simultaneously with the school election at the school building.

Father Held In Tot Death

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Sp. John T. Grantham, 22, was charged with murder Tuesday after a medical examiner said his 2-year-old son died as the result of an apparent beating.

Grantham was jailed in lieu of $7,500 bond.

The boy, John C. Grantham, died Sunday. An autopsy showed the baby had a fractured skull, brain concussion and internal bleeding.

Ft. Sam Houston Army Investigator Pat Killbrew filed the charge. His complaint stated the child was beaten because he "refused to sit all night on the toilet in punishment for wetting his pants and refusing to eat and because he kept leaving his place of punishment—and going to bed."

Two other Grantham children, both girls, were taken to the county children's shelter. Their mother has not been located, officials said. Grantham said he was divorced.

Reject Smears, Soviet Reds Urged

MOSCOW (AP) — The head of the Communist party organization told the Soviet Communist party congress today that there will be no return to Stalinism. Nikolai S. Yegorychev said it has become fashionable lately to look for "elements of Stalinism" in Soviet political life, the Soviet news agency Tass reported from the second closed session of the 23rd party congress. Tass said Yegorychev "emphatically rejected these attempts and declared that there would be no return to the past and that everything that had hampered progress had been brushed aside forever."

RE-EXAMINE PAST

At the same time Yegorychev began a process of re-examining Soviet history in the period that Joseph Stalin ruled the Soviet Union.

Communist sources have indicated that this re-examination will result in the softening of some criticism of Stalin while trying to divorce the Communist party as a whole from Stalin's crimes.

Yegorychev said attempts to smear the party must be rejected. "Much could have been done better," he said. "The 50 years since the Bolshevik Revolution have taught us much. But what has been done is admirable and fills us with pride."

Yegorychev proposed that the party's top man be called general secretary — the title used by Stalin.

POWER INCREASE
There was no immediate indication whether the proposal, which was certain to be adopted, would mean any increase in power for the current top man, Leonid I. Brezhnev. His title now is first secretary of the party's Central Committee.

Yegorychev spoke at the beginning of debate today on the policy report with which Brezhnev opened the congress Tuesday.

Moscow radio reported prolonged applause by the 6,000 congress delegates and foreign guests.

The change in title from Presidium to Politburo was one of the most discussed aspects of Brezhnev's speech in Moscow diplomatic circles.

Some observers suggested that the changes in terminology might be an attempt to restore links with the party's history before Khrushchev, meaning with the Stalin period.

Most other parts of Brezhnev's speech struck diplomats as repetitions of policy lines already laid down. Some diplomats thought the tone was mild on relations with both the United States and China.

Dear Abby

Turn Up The Heat!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a landlord who turns down the heat every time he leaves the premises and does not turn it up again until he returns? Meanwhile the tenants are freezing, whether it's a few hours or the whole day. We understand he goes to church every Sunday.

C. M. W.
DEAR C. M. W.: Going to church won't save him. The man who doesn't love his neighbor as he loves himself can expect to get considerably more heat than he finds comfortable in the hereafter.

DEAR ABBY: My 15-year-old daughter came to me with tears in her eyes and said, "Mother, I called Suzette and asked her to go to the show with me, and she said she was sorry but her mother said she couldn't see with me any more because my mother and daddy are getting a divorce."

I am so hurt and heart-broken I would like to call this woman up and tell her what I think of her. Would you, if you were me?

HURT
DEAR HURT: No. The woman is obviously ignorant. Pity her daughter. I hope she enjoys solitude because if she must limit her friends to those with no divorce in the family, she will be spending a lot of time alone.

DEAR ABBY: Shame on that mother who told her daughter she never again wanted to hear her way, "I can't afford it." What is a person supposed to say when he is shown something he can't afford? One of the most refreshing qualities found in our teenagers today is their forthright candor. The affectation of pretending to have more than they have, and to know more than they know, they acquire from adults.

FOR TEENS

DEAR ABBY: Hats off to that teenager who wasn't ashamed to say, "I can't afford it" when it was suggested she buy something that was beyond her means. I work in a store which carries very expensive merchandise as well as moderately-priced clothes, and you'd be amazed at some of the excuses people make for not buying because they won't admit they can't afford it. ("I don't like the color." "It doesn't fit." "I have one at home exactly like it.") They could save themselves (and me) a lot of time if they took a lesson from that teenager who simply said, "I can't afford it."

Ecuador Junta Upset, New President Named

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Clemente Yerovi Indaburo, a non-partisan economist, has been named provisional president of Ecuador after student demonstrators brought down the military junta.

Yerovi, 62, was appointed Tuesday by the military high command which threw out the three-man junta. The high command said it named Yerovi on the advice of political leaders and fully supported him.

SEVEN KILLED

The appointment of a civilian president ended five days of violent anti-junta student demonstrations in which at least seven persons were killed and a business strike in Guayaquil, Ecuador's port and largest city. The students claimed the junta's policies were oppressive. The businessmen opposed new taxes and import restrictions.

The military command said it was dissolving the junta "to avoid chaos and anarchy." There were indications that the military chiefs acted without the junta's knowledge, but junta members had said earlier they would resign if a civilian president could be agreed on.

PUBLIC SCANDAL

The whereabouts of the junta members — Rear Adm. Ramon Castro Jijon, Gen. Marcos Gandra and Gen. Cabrera Sevilla — was not immediately known. There were unconfirmed reports that they had fled to Brazil or Peru.

The junta had ruled since the drunkenness of President Carlos Arosemena became a public scandal and the military threw him out on July 11, 1963.

Yerovi was proposed for provisional president by ex-President Gale Plaza Lasso in whose 1948-52 administration he served as minister of agriculture. During that term in office, Yerovi was given much credit for increasing the country's banana exports. He also served as first president of the National Planning Council and as Ecuador's ambassador to the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in Paris. He also represented his country at the Common Market in Europe. Yerovi is regarded as a liberal. He has never been a member of any political party and is respected by all political factions for his competence in the economic field.

In Washington, the State Department had no reaction to the junta's ouster and Yerovi's appointment.

Flying Saucer Reports Questioned By Scientists

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Three space scientists have questioned the idea of flying saucers being seen by earthmen.

Dr. Paul A. Campbell, a pioneer in space medicine, believes that the sighted flying saucers are all in the minds of those who report seeing them.

TOO UNSOPHISTICATED

Dr. John S. Hall, astronomer at Lowell Observatory in Arizona, feels that tourists from other planets would have more sophisticated tastes than the sightings indicate.

Dr. Edward C. Walsh expressed concern more for those who sighted the saucer than for the locations of the sightings.

"So many airline pilots report seeing them," said Walsh, executive secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council.

AT CONVENTION

"That's why I take the train." The men made their views known Tuesday at a convention here.

"People are anxious to believe that there is intelligent life on other planets," said Campbell, and thus "see flying saucers because they want to see flying saucers."

Campbell, discussing reported sightings of unidentified flying objects, called the reports a mechanism for escaping from more earthy troubles and worries.

OVER SWAMPS

Hall said he couldn't see why a civilization with technology so advanced that it could send a manned and maneuverable space ship a distance of at least three light years, would have that spaceship hover over swamps in Michigan or crossroads in Oklahoma.

"They could be peek-a-booming Paris, New York, or London," he pointed out.

The astronomer said he felt the planet Venus is mistaken for a flying saucer by many persons.

Response Good To Youth Award

Favorable comment is coming from many quarters about the Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award, a program to honor an outstanding boy or girl for exceptional volunteer services and leadership qualities exhibited in church, civic, school and community affairs.

Many people have said they want to submit names — and they are invited to do so. The official nomination blank, as presented in The Herald, is to be used, but may be accompanied by a supplementary letter. The nominations will remain open only about 10 days, so prompt action is suggested.

A handsome trophy and engraved watch will go to the winner, at a banquet at which suitable public recognition will be given. The awards are from the Zale Jewelry Company.

The honor will be for a boy or girl of the junior or senior grade level, in any of the county's three high schools — Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan.

Anyone can submit a nomination — classmates, teachers, neighbors, supervisors, adult volunteer leaders, pastors, etc.

The program is designed to result in one of the major recognitions that a young person can achieve at the local level. Sponsors say they want to give suitable honor to the young person who devotes much time to public service work, and is cognizant of the responsibilities of good citizenship.

Top Ginner Due Award

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Funk of Harlingen, who manages a gin processing more than 10,000 bales a year, will be honored by the National Cotton Ginners Association as the nation's outstanding cotton ginner.

The award will be presented at the three-day meeting of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association opening here April 3. More than 6,500 ginner are expected.

Funk is part owner and manages a gin at Sebastian in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. He and his sons grow cotton on 3,500 acres in the Harlingen and Raymondville areas.

Candidate Asks Med Schools

GARLAND, Tex. (AP) — A candidate for lieutenant governor proposed Tuesday that two new medical schools be created and advocated more senior college nursing courses.

The candidate, Bill Hollowell, spoke before the Garland Kiwanis Club and said he also would recommend a study of the need for a new dental school in Texas.

Mrs. Johnson Still Plans Visit

A National Park Service spokesman said Tuesday that the illness of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will not affect her plans to visit the Big Bend National Park April 2-3. She will also dedicate Ft. Davis National Historic Site on April 4 as planned.

Co-Op Slates Annual Meet

The annual membership meeting of Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative will be held in Stanton Saturday, April 2. Registration will begin at 1:30 p.m., with the business session slated at 2 p.m., in the Willie Wire-hand room of the Cap Rock Electric building. Directors and manager O. B. Bryan will report on financial and other affairs of the organization.

The nominating committee has nominated the following to succeed themselves on the board: For one-year terms — Lawrence Adkins, Lomax; Mrs. L. C. Hazlewood, Courtney; and Cecil Wilkerson, Garden City. For two-year terms — Jack Hopper, Knott; Mrs. James C. Barr, Vincent; and D. O. Lawson, Stanton. For three-year terms — A. A. L. Kinney, Big Spring; Mrs. Glen Cox, Lenorah; and E. G. Cates, Ackerly.

Other business will include voting on a proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation which would limit the tenure of directors to two consecutive terms on the board.

The telephone cooperative was activated in 1950 and now has eight automatic dial exchanges and 1,619 miles of line in seven counties. The system serves 1,338 members. The annual report, to be distributed at the meeting, reflects substantial progress during the past year.

T-Man System Off To A Good Start

Traffic commissioners reported Tuesday afternoon that the new "T-Man" reporting system of traffic violations is off to a good start.

Seventy-five persons are now members of the "T-Man" system, commissioners said, and several have asked for more reporting cards.

"Most of the violations reported have been for genuinely flagrant violations such as speeding, running stop signs, cutting through traffic, and the like," Jerry Worthy, chairman, said.

Sgt. John Scott, police representative, asked commissioners to remove the middle crossing marker at the Park Hill School and to modify the stop signs at either end so that traffic will have to make only one required stop.

"The middle crossing is useless," Scott said. "None of the children use it."

"Also, there have been a number of complaints from citizens about having to stop twice at the school zone. I suggest we modify the signs to require only one full stop when approaching the zone from either end, with a "stop when occupied" sign on the inside of the end zones, just as we have at the rest of the schools."

The suggestion was approved. Commissioners voted to place

Medicare Plan Deadline Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — Persons over 65 have only until Thursday night to sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance plan that becomes effective July 1 under the Medicare program.

Social Security officials said they expect a last-minute rush of enrollments to push the number signed up to nearly 90 percent of the more than 16.5 million persons eligible.

The agency's offices will stay open late tonight and until midnight Thursday to accommodate the estimated 1.6 million persons who have not as yet registered. Those signing up will pay a premium of $3 monthly.

Twenty House Republicans asked the White House Tuesday to support their proposal to extend the registration deadline past March 31, a date they say is arbitrary.

State Of U.S. 'Readiness' Now Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The force of Army and Marine divisions available in the United States for swift crisis duty is considerably smaller and less fit to fight than last summer.

There were 10 such divisions in this country late last July when President Johnson ordered a major buildup of ground units in Viet Nam. Eight were Army divisions, two Marine.

Most of these divisions were in reasonably good combat ready shape, although a few had sent elements to Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Now there are but seven divisions in any kind of fighting shape — and a Defense Department spokesman acknowledged Tuesday that most of these are below full combat status because they are being used, in part, to train draftees and recruits.

Six of these divisions belong to the Army and one to the Marine Corps.

The Pentagon spokesman said four Army divisions "are not in the same combat ready status that they would have been" had they not been given the training mission.

"It was foreseen that some of these divisions would not be at full combat status at this time," he said.

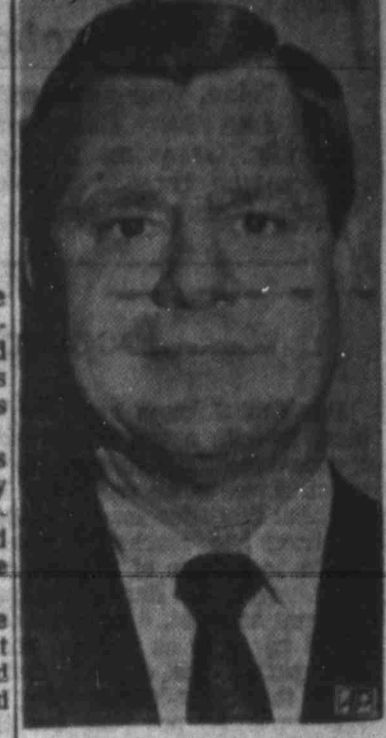

But the spokesman said the divisions will be returned gradually to full combat readiness and some will reach that stage by June.

He listed the four as the 1st and 2nd Armored at Ft. Hood, Tex., the 4th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the 5th Mechanized at Ft. Carson, Colo.

The Army Times, a nonofficial publication with strong service ties, said about 26,000 recruits are being trained by these four divisions.

Not mentioned by the spokesman was the 101st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky. This division — which has shipped one brigade to the war — also is training new men. Reports place the total at 2,000.

A serviceman cannot be assigned overseas until he has had at least four months of training.

Students Pull 'Saucer' Hoax

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The ivy-clad halls of California Institute of Technology have launched a high-level hoax.

Two Cal-Tech students admitted Tuesday they and others were responsible for flying objects sighted by hundreds Monday night.

The objects, on 8-foot-diameter plastic balloons, were red flares hanging from rotating blades. The contraptions were launched behind Fleming House dormitory by students using walkie-talkies to observe the movements of campus guards.

Residents of Fleming House made four of the "unidentified flying objects" in steampipe tunnels beneath the campus, equipping them with aluminum foil streamers so that on radar screens they would seem to be a block long.

The first balloon was loosed last Wednesday night. Two more were launched Friday and Saturday but were obscured by low clouds.

The most successful was set free Monday night. Police reported hundreds of calls from residents who had sighted a UFO "zipping along at fantastic speed."

Although the boys escaped detection by campus guards, they were spotted by an unidentified woman employe of Cal-Tech who told police.

Flying Thing Now Explained

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A bright blue ball with a tail of sparks 8 to 10 feet long is the way they described it.

People in Newton, Hickory and other North Carolina towns saw it Sunday night. So did some in Union, S.C.

Possibly a meteor, said the Weather Bureau.

Could have been "cosmic debris," said officials at the Moorehead Plantarium in Chapel Hill.

But it probably was a balloon propelled by a kerosene-soaked wad of fiberglass insulation.

Folks who prefer to remain anonymous say they soaked a large ball of fiberglass in kerosene, set it afire, and sent it aloft with a paper balloon about 45 miles from Hickory and Newton.

They said the wind caught the contraption and away it went.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Jack of ♠

Overconfidence on the part of the declarer in today's hand provided his opponents with an opportunity to defeat an iron-clad contract.

The four spade contract was reached by North and South without a wasted motion. After West overcalled South's opening one spade bid with two hearts, North was content to offer a simple raise. The two spade call, coming in the form of a free bid, designates at least an average hand. South saw nothing to be gained by showing his second suit and he proceeded without further ado to four spades.

West opened the jack of clubs, and the ace was played from dummy. A diamond was led to declarer's king as East followed with the seven. South put the queen of spades thru for a finesse and East was in with the king.

The switch was to the king of hearts. West alertly overtook with his ace and continued with the queen, on which his partner discarded the four of diamonds — completing an echo in that suit. West, observing East's high-low, shifted to a diamond and East ruffed for the setting trick.

Altho South was the victim of a sharp defense, he should have taken precautionary measures to safeguard his contract. When the dummy is spread, declarer can virtually count 10 tricks — four spades, five diamonds and one club. He should, therefore, be willing to forgo the luxury of a trump finesse, which at best represents a mere overtrick, in the interests of securing complete safety.

It is suggested that the declarer play dummy's ace of spades at trick two and continue with the nine. East can take the king whenever he wishes but, after the defense cashes two heart tricks, they are finished. When South regains the lead, he draws trumps and then runs the diamonds.

Prophecy Or A Promise

President Johnson has promised to bless us with a tax increase shortly if prices continue to rise. Well, the latest. Even as he spoke the Bureau of Labor Statistics announced the cost of living had reached a new peak, thanks to a jump of 10.5 per cent on fresh vegetables during February, 2 per cent on meat, 4 per cent on eggs and 8 per cent on poultry, etc., etc. This pushed the over-all cost of a point that your cost-of-living dollar was worth 2.5 per cent less than a year ago.

Perhaps a tax increase may be necessary to put a brake on inflationary trends. This should be accompanied by a redoubled effort in Congress to cut down on expenditures. This is imperative to overcome the effects of more activity resulting from stepped up economic activity to provide for the Viet Nam war. And even should this be brought to a lesser scale through some happy chain of unexpected events, the reduction of government spending will have restraining effect. This is because these funds, like all others, bid in the market place for goods and services, but unlike others, they are not, for the most part, the result of productive efforts in the sense of industrial and business payrolls.

The president's statement likely cannot be described accurately as a threat against rising prices. The probability is that it is a prophecy if not a promise.

Novel Approach

A novel approach to the problem of estimating tips as part of income to bring waiters, bellhops and taxi drivers under the provisions of the minimum wage law is being undertaken by the House labor subcommittee.

An hourly value, ranging from 35 cents to 72 cents, is being used. Thus, on a minimum wage of $1 an hour, 35 cents would be offset for tips, leaving the owner of the business with a net hourly wage of 65 cents an hour. By Feb. 1, 1971, when a minimum wage of $1.69 an hour is proposed, 72 cents would be offset for tips and the actual cash wage due would be 88 cents an hour.

This seems to be a compromise solution to a vexatious problem. Owners of restaurants, hotels, motels, cabs and taxicab fleets resisted payment of the full minimum wage to their employees, some of whom made much more from tips than they did from wages. The House subcommittee formula promises to remove most objections and permit an estimated 800,000 new workers to come within the provisions of the minimum wage law. A lot of people feel they already are there—without benefits of tips.

A Position Paper On Blacks

- "1. We must give our children a sense of pride in being black. The glory of our past and the dignity of our present must lead the way to the power of our future.
- "2. WE MUST insist that black organizations be led by black leadership. Italians lead Italian organizations. Irish lead Irish organizations. This kind of honest pluralism is a happy fact of American life.
- "3. The black masses must accept the responsibility of financing their own organizations.
- "4. The black masses must demand and refuse to accept nothing less than that proportionate share of political jobs and appointments which are equal to their proportion of the population and voting electorate.
- "5. BLACK PEOPLE must support and push black candidates for political office first—occasionally taking the risk of even electing an 'Uncle Tom.' But after you elect him, unrock him and replace him.
- "6. Black people must seek audacious power . . .
- "7. Black leadership in the North and South must differentiate between and work within the two-pronged thrust of the black revolution: economic self-sufficiency and political power . . . As chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor, I control all labor and education legislation . . . this is legislative power. This is political power. Above all, this is audacious power.
- "8. BLACK MASSES must produce and contribute to the economy of the country in the proportionate strength of their population . . .
- "9. Black communities in this country—whether it is New York's Harlem, Chicago's South and West sides, or Philadelphia's North Side—must neither tolerate nor accept outside leadership—black or white . . .
- "10. The black masses should only follow those leaders who can sit at the bargaining table with the white power structure as equals and negotiate for a share of the loaf of bread, not beg for some of its crumbs.
- "11. WHAT IS LEFT of this black leadership . . . must come back to the Negroes who made them in the first place or be purged by the black masses . . .
- "12. Demonstrations and all continuing protest activity must be non-violent . . .
- "13. No black person over 21 must be permitted to participate in a demonstration, walk a picket line or be part of any civil rights or community activity unless he or she is a registered voter.
- "14. Black people must continue to defy the laws of man when such laws conflict with the law of God . . .
- "15. BLACK PEOPLE must discover a new and creative total involvement with ourselves. We must turn our energies inwardly toward our homes, our churches, our families, our children, our colleges, our neighborhoods, our businesses and our communities . . . This is no time for cotton-picking and sips and to run around sipping martinis in the homes of suburban white families when black families are starving in the inner city . . .
- "16. The war on poverty must become that more productive crusade for jobs . . .
- "17. The battle against segregation in America's public school systems must become a national effort, instead of the present regional skirmish that now exists. Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act outlaws de jure racial segregation. It has no meaning or application to the hard-core pockets of de facto racial segregation in Northern schools which is just as malicious, just as destructive of the human spirit.
- "18. WE MUST put pressures on our predominantly black colleges to shift their emphasis from teacher education to nuclear physics and aerodynamics . . .
- "19. Every black man who considers himself an American must become a registered voter.
- "20. Now, it may well be wondered how long any member of Congress, particularly the chairman of a committee, would survive public criticism if he issued the above 19 points, but substituted the word 'white' for 'black.' He would be castigated from coast to coast as a 'racist.'
- "21. But Chairman Powell does have a point when he stresses pride of color. (Copyright, 1966, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Johnson Boxed In On Economic Front

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is in a box. Last January he laid down guidelines for business and labor to prevent inflation. He wanted wage raises limited to 3.2 per cent with no price increases. This was his guideline for both sides.

But prices have gone up. February showed the steepest rise in living costs since the Korean War, with food prices leading the upswing.

Although the rise was only half of 1 per cent it was part of a fairly steady climb, for living costs now are 2.5 per cent above a year ago, the biggest annual increase since 1958.

IN the past few days he has telephoned over 25 leaders to ask them to go easy on any spending that might produce inflation. And he invited a number of top businessmen to a White House dinner tonight.

He'll no doubt burn up businessmen who, if they see a chance to make big profits, won't be happy to have Johnson bending their ear about going easy.

MEANWHILE, labor is publicly burned up at him for insisting wage increases, when living costs and business profits are going up, must be held to a 3.2 per cent limit.

Labor, which has consistently backed the Democrats, is crucially important to Johnson's party which faces the voters next November in the congressional election, particularly when politician Johnson remembers that the party with a majority in Congress, such as the Democrats have now, traditionally loses seats in an election year when the presidency is not at stake.

NO ONE knows better than Johnson that a tax boost can be poison in an election year. Slowly and steadily, Johnson has been saying he would propose a tax boost — on individual and corporate income — if he found it necessary to fight inflation.

Tuesday, perhaps, he said it more strongly than ever: "Congress would rather have a modest tax increase of 5, 6 or 7 per cent . . . than to see inflation and the value of the dollar go down."

IF THERE is to be a tax increase, he said, his advisers figure it ought to bring in around $3 billion. And, he warned, if prices continue to go up, he would ask for a tax bill.

But already this year Congress has boosted taxes to bring in about $6 billion over the next 15 months to help finance the Viet Nam war. That was done this month.

It boosted the automobile excise tax, which manufacturers have to pay, and upped the telephone tax. At the same time it provided for tighter pay-as-you-go tax withholdings from individuals and faster tax collections from corporations.

Actor Confesses Uncertainty

NEW YORK (AP) — All of his life, Kirk Douglas has believed in the cult of the champion, whose only success lies in constant victory.

Lately, however, the actor confesses to having some second thoughts.

"Something happens in this quest for success. Sometimes you can lose yourself along the way," he said.

"ID LIKE to be able to afford the luxury of failure. You have to feel free to do what you want to do, although this is hard to attain in any field.

"But I feel most people can come pretty close to getting what they want out of life—if they are really ready to pay the price."

After acting in some 40 pictures Kirk would like to gamble, win or lose, on becoming a screen and Broadway director.

The drive to win has been a part of his nature ever since, as the son of immigrant parents from Russia, he worked his way through college.

HE BECAME a top debater, president of the student body, and a champion intercollegiate wrestler.

After slinging hash part-time here and appearing in several Broadway plays, he did a war-

Strange Happening On The Way Home

Michigan has no monopoly on strange lights and unidentified flying objects. They happen right around here, though usually it takes hot July or August weather to produce best results.

I REMEMBER on one occasion, quite some time ago, when I was returning after a hard day at the office, topped by two committee meetings where everyone had an abundance of talk and ideas but a low appetite for work. Naturally I was in sort of a daze and more or less mechanically picked my way toward home.

Just as I rounded the Y beyond the VA Hospital, I felt a sense of pressure, as though one window had been left partially open. Then the landscape took on an unearthly garish hue. Suddenly as though someone had waved a magic wand, there was this thing.

IT LOOKED like a huge No. 3 wash tub, upside down, without a brad or piece of chewing gum to plug the leaks. Where the handles should have been were a couple of pipes which looked like large size baking powder cans, from which there issued a white spray, which I could have sworn was buttermilk fog. It was no surprise, therefore, that when it sank to the ground like a feather it looked for the world like a giant biscuit. Buttermilk biscuit, come to think of it.

SUDDENLY, one of the sides of the device slid back, and from this aperture walked a strange-looking creature. He looked like I feel after the third plate at the office barbecue. He wore a tight fitting suit with some-thing resembling a Sam Browne belt, and his head was covered with some-thing like a polo hat with six feelers.

which jiggled and gave off sparks when he talked.

Never one to let visitors feel unwelcome in our town, I got out and went over to introduce myself.

ARE YOU the leader?" I asked. "XTZTFBZ!" he replied. Later, running this through the interplanetary translator, I learned this meant "Don't be silly, who else?"

"What do you do for power on this remarkable space ship?" I inquired. "QTCCZPTFTT!" ("Boy, is it this hot and windy all the time?")

"I am curious about the aerodynamics of this thing."

"LTXXKF DIBNEB YMBERTO-BVX?" ("What's this business I hear on your racket frequency about things will go better with a Coke?")

"CAN YOU GIVE ME some idea about life on your planet? Is your atmosphere like ours?"

"WTGKJCSITVXSQZ." ("Tell me, what's all this gaff I've been hearing out there about the Yankees may skip to the second division?")

"I hope you come in peace," I ventured. "We would hate to pile strife between the planets upon what we already have."

"YPTYKXVNCXTWTZTC!" ("Gee whiz. Won't this guy shut up an sit down. My feet are killing me.")

NONE OF MY advances seemed to bear fruit. He looked blankly at me like someone who missed his helping of IQ.

"You must be stupid," I said. "PFTT!" he replied. ("Pttt!")

And with that he crawled back into his biscuit and turned on the buttermilk and zipped off into space. I went on home and never mentioned it until now.

The Biter Gits Bit

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In private life, Miss Frances Knight is Mrs. Wayne Parrish, wife of the able, high-bracket publisher of aviation journals.

SHE DOESN'T have to work for the reason that most people do, but for 22 years Miss Knight has been a joyous bureaucrat with a craftsman's pride in proficient office management.

Under her direction the Passport Office at the State Department gives swift, courteous service to worthy citizens, but grows like a faithful watchdog at the other kind. In our town where everybody with a scintilla of personality (Miss Knight has it in spades) is segregated by ideology, this lady rides in right-hand seats, for she is an unabashed conservative.

WE HAVE POGROMS in Washington, where periodically the liberal administrations set out to exterminate conservatives, and sometimes vice versa. Miss Knight's titular boss was a Kennedy appointment, Abba Phillip Schwartz, head of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, and back in the summer of 1963 the rumors flew that Abba was out to get Frances.

Her friends rallied, and the next thing you knew the Secretary of State, Dean Rusk, had his mind forcefully removed from foreign crises by a letter signed by nine powerful senators, the entire membership of the Internal Security Subcommittee: Eastland, McClellan, Ervin, Scott, Johnston, Hruska, Dirksen, Dodd and Keating. The letter said:

"WORD HAS REACHED us that it has been proposed to eliminate Miss Frances Knight . . . by the device of promoting her upstairs. Specifically, we understand, it has been recommended by Mr. Abba Schwartz and others . . . We, therefore, respectfully request that you withhold any action . . . until after the Internal Security Subcommittee has completed its hearings . . . and you . . . learn . . . what these hearings have uncovered."

SECRETARY RUSK, not having the slightest doubt as to who really runs this town, did exactly what the senators told him to do. First, he gave the orders that Frances was to be spared. Then, almost three years later, March, 1966, Rusk carried out the orders that were implicit in the letter from the nine senators. By a kind of silent, internal, short-knick conspiracy which only takes place in the jungle of bureaucracy, the Secretary fixed it so that Abba, not Frances, was reorganized out of a job. Mr. Schwartz got off a plane from Geneva to learn that his job was about to be abolished, and he took the Roman way out by falling upon his sword. He resigned.

THE INTERNAL Security subcommittee's four volumes of testimony about the way Administrator Schwartz was running the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs indicate Mr. Schwartz was tenderly accommodated to foreign Communists who wanted to visit the United States, and equally accommodative to domestic Communists who wanted to broaden their minds by travel. Naturally, he bumped into all kinds of opposition from Miss Knight, but he had ways of making her sorry for the interference.

For instance, somebody cut off her ink that was needed to process passports. And somebody forgot or refused to pay the stationery, telephone and telegraph bills of the Passport Office. And somebody made "personnel raids" on Miss Knight's office staff.

HARDLY A COLUMNIST in town has not tried to interpret the downfall of Abba Schwartz. Was it the story of the bitter getting bit? Or the story of a liberal getting purged by conservative guerrillas inside the Johnson administration? Or did the administration just decide to unload him on the theory that he couldn't survive this Senate report?

Pay Checks Shrinking

NEW YORK (AP)—The rising cost of living and rising tax payments could put a pincher squeeze on many a family budget.

THIS MEANS that people would have less money after taxes with which to pay the higher prices that already are here or announced as on the way.

It is one aspect—a highly personal one for most families—of the debate over the threat of inflation and the need for higher taxes as a curb on future and steeper price increases.

THE TAX bite already is sharper. Talk of a further boost at the federal level blows hot and cold.

Tax payments that already have gone up this year are the Social Security levies, excise taxes on new cars, and on phone calls. Soon to shrink many pay checks will be larger withholding for federal income taxes, although the total bill will stay the same—at least for the time being. Many state and community taxes have gone up, too, with more increases apparently on the way.

THE RISE in the cost of living has been pretty well distributed all along the line of goods and services for more than a year. But in recent months the biggest item has been a jump in food prices.

Here, government officials are holding out hopes that the worst may be over, or nearly so. They expect food supplies to expand during the spring and summer.

ONE DISTURBING prospect is the probable effect of the big jump which wholesale prices took last month—the biggest rise since the Korean War. It will take time for many of these price hikes to work their way into the price tags on consumer items.

Higher prices usually are classed as the sign of, or end product of, inflation. Higher taxes are advocated as a curb on inflation.

THE ARGUMENT is that if individuals and corporations have to pay larger tax bills, they won't have the money to bid up prices on consumer or industrial goods and materials. A spending spree by consumers make price increases both easier and more likely.

VOICE RELAY

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Millimeter communications is being studied by Sylvania Electric Products Inc. under a Navy contract — toward permitting limited range, high-information communications between surface vessels.

Millimeter waves (30,000 to 300,000 megacycles) offer the military virtually unused frequency space. And the waves can carry considerably more information, due to the broader unused band of frequencies available, than microwave transmissions (1,000 to 30,000 megacycles) commonly used for telephone relays and satellite communications.

Billy Graham

I read in the paper where a minister's wife in England said in an article that marriage to a churchman is a lousy job. She said: "No decent, right-minded man ought to have the effrontery to ask any woman to take on such a 'lousy job.'" It is thoroughly un-Christian." What do you think about this? I. L.

If a minister's wife is not a dedicated Christian, I can see where such a life would be distasteful. The preacher's wife lives in a "fish-bowl"; she must watch her every word; she must dress discreetly, and she feels obligated to be in almost every church meeting.

But, if a woman wants a life of service where she can help and influence people for Christ, it is one of the most glorious jobs in the world. She is, in fact, in most cases, the associate pastor. Women share their burdens and problems with her; she is respected by the church constituency; she has a place in the community and in the hearts of the people; and she has more than the average opportunities for Christian service.

Most minister's wives do not share the opinions of the British clergyman's wife, but they are, among the most elegant, capable, and dedicated people I know. In my case, I could never have carried on my worldwide work if it had not been for the dedication of my wife to the work of Christ.

To Your Good Health
Tricks That Sedatives Can Play On Us

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there a sedative that is completely safe to take after having a few highballs in the evening? After either one drink or several I find myself so stimulated that I can not sleep. — E. W.

I'm wary, or try to be, of saying anything that will make people afraid of taking necessary medicines under suitable conditions — that is, such amounts as your doctor may prescribe.

Tranquilizers have proved to be very effective drugs, and it does nobody any good to frighten people away from sensible use.

Yet, there is, indeed, some point in knowing that tranquilizers or sedatives can play disconcerting tricks when taken in conjunction with alcohol. In large amounts they can be downright dangerous.

Therefore you are correct in being cautious. If, as evidently is the case, your doctor has given you a tranquilizer of adequate strength to help you sleep, I don't think you should worry about taking it — at bedtime.

However, earlier is another matter. The two drugs — alcohol and the tranquilizer, or a sedative — work in concert. Together they can make you less alert, and can disturb your reflexes and judgment. Bad as it is to drive a car after having had some alcohol, it is even more dangerous to mix alcohol and tranquilizers or sedatives and attempt to drive.

Now, let's see what else might be causing alcohol to make you sleepless. Alcohol itself is essentially a sedative. Some other factors — coffee, possibly cigarettes, perhaps the stimulation of a party, if that is when you have your highballs — could be making you wakeful.

Another possibility, not frequent but hardly unknown to physicians, is that a person with low blood sugar may be keyed up, rather than sedated, by alcohol. It can happen. In such cases a snack at bedtime, preferably containing protein, might help. Such a snack could be a meat or cheese sandwich. The protein, being absorbed slowly, helps keep the blood sugar level steady.

For another thought, why not try aspirin? It may quiet you down enough to sleep, and will not compound the effects of alcohol as tranquilizers and sedatives do.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can a hypnotist put a neurotic person into a trance and find out the cause of the neurosis? I have in mind someone who has been in a mental hospital several times in recent years. — F. L.

Hypnotism is a means of fixing a certain suggestion in a person's mind. I won't say that a psychiatrist might not find hypnotic suggestion helpful in certain instances, but I would abandon the idea that hypnotism alone will get at the root of a mental illness as serious as the one you describe.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Awry Gulf Stream Eddy Now Circling Off Boston

WASHINGTON (AP) — To the delight of oceanographers, a piece of the Gulf Stream has broken loose from its parent current and is going round and round 600 miles east of Boston.

The reason the scientists are pleased is this: WEATHER FORECASTS The newly discovered eddy — or whirlpool — of warm water, about 50 miles in diameter, is a kind of made-to-order laboratory to help them in complex studies which could some day result in accurate long-range weather forecasts and — who knows? — maybe weather controls.

The elaborately equipped ship Explorer, of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, which has recently been at Norfolk, Va., is due to take to sea again soon to study the eddy in detail. And a special plane from the naval air station at Patuxent, Md., is expected to cooperate. It can spot the eddy by means of an infrared radiation thermometer.

Move Seen As Soviet's Final Gesture To Peking

By The Associated Press

At the risk of frightening its own people by reviving the specter of Stalinism, the Soviet Communist party has laid down what probably are its final terms for reconciliation with the Red Chinese. Chances are the Kremlin has been unable to offer Peking nearly enough and that the dispute will continue.

By advancing its terms Tuesday before an audience of Communist chiefs from around the world, at the 23rd Soviet party congress, the Kremlin sought to absolve itself of blame for the rupture. It replied to violent abuse with a soft answer and an offer of compromise. Now the Kremlin can tell world Communism that the rest is up to Red China, that Peking must bear the responsibility if the Communist world remains divided.

REVERSE POLICY

Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet party chief, told the congress his party was "prepared to do everything possible" to mend relations with Peking. But some Chinese demands, from Moscow's viewpoint, are downright impossible.

For example, Peking wants the Kremlin to concede that virtually every policy step Moscow has taken since 1956 has been wrong and should be reversed. It has demanded what would amount to a public apology to Red China and an abject admission of guilt for all that happened to the movement in the past 10 years.

Obviously, the Russians won't oblige. The U.S.S.R. is the dominant power in the Communist world. The party would not put itself in the position of knuckling under to any other. To many ears, the Chinese have been abusive and insulting while the Kremlin held its tongue, preserving its dignity.

The Chinese have not confined themselves to blasting Soviet world Communist and foreign policies. They have also made scorching attacks on the Soviet internal system. They have ridiculed Soviet attempts to raise living standards and increase consumer production as capitulation to capitalist notions.

Peking, the world revolution should always have come first. Calling the present Soviet leaders "Khrushchev revisionists," the Chinese Communists branded as the rankest heresy the idea of offering material incentives to workers for higher production. They claimed Soviet production has been placed "in the fetters of capitalist production relations."

All this blatant interference in Soviet internal affairs probably has been hard for the Kremlin to swallow. But swallow it did, even to the extent of backingtracking in the anti-Stalin campaign and taking steps which suggest echoes of the dreary old Stalinist days. Obviously there is widespread dismay among Soviet intellectuals at this prospect.

It won't be enough for Peking, Red China wants far more. It wants a Soviet Union ready to take the biggest risks to advance the cause of violent revolution, and it has said so clearly.

"COWARDLY DEVICE"

Peaceful coexistence, Peking has said, is a sham and a cowardly device. It has spurned the Kremlin's contention that this policy might advance revolution by disarming its enemies. It has heaped ridicule on the idea that total war — as opposed to small revolutionary wars — should be avoided.

The official Peking People's Daily recently remarked that there were risks greater than total war — the risk, for example, of retarding the revolutionary wave. "There is no other choice but to wage a bloody war for the complete annihilation of the imperialist enemy," the paper said.

Britain Set For Election

LONDON (AP) — The results in nearly 200 marginal districts should decide the outcome of the British general election Thursday.

The result already is considered a certainty in more than two-thirds of the 630 districts which will elect members of the House of Commons. Either Labor or Conservative candidates — and a handful of Liberals — will win with big leads as they have for years.

In the present election with the tide running to Labor, the experts figure that 112 seats which the Conservatives won in 1964 by a margin of 10 per cent or less are vulnerable, and 74 seats labor won by similar small margins may be vulnerable. That leaves 182 safe Tory seats, and 241 safe Labor seats. The Liberal vote is generally more volatile, but the Liberal party figures it has a minimum of about half a dozen safe seats.

Tower Going To Viet Nam

Sen. John Tower will leave Thursday for a 12-day inspection tour in Southeast Asia and Viet Nam on a trip authorized by the Armed Services Committee of which Tower is a member.

Sen. Tower will report to the committee upon his return about the current military situation in Viet Nam, the supply and civic action programs now in effect and the possible future moves of Red China. He will meet with Gen. William Westmoreland, Adm. U. S. Sharp, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, officials in Japan, Thailand, Laos, U.S. and Allied combat officers and men in the field, and top South Vietnamese civilian officials.

Deadline Looms For Medicare

Thursday is the last day for interested persons to sign up for Medicare, the new federal program providing hospitalization for elderly persons.

Erven Fisher, district manager of the Social Security office here, reminded residents that it will be two years before persons will have another opportunity to sign up for Medicare. He invited all persons with questions about the program to call at the office before the deadline.

Cyprus Extends Its Uneasy Peace Span

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — This pretty little Mediterranean island, racked by civil war two years ago and split into two closely guarded hostile camps since then, gives the appearance of living on borrowed time.

Delegates Go To Conference

Fifteen youth delegates from the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs of the YMCA will attend the annual spring conference in San Angelo Friday and Saturday. The delegates will be accompanied by adult advisors, including Curtis Mullins, general secretary.

Dr. Richard Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church in San Angelo, will be the speaker. Robert Gossett, president of the West Texas Hi-Y District, will be in charge of the meetings, all to be held at St. Luke's Methodist Church.

Other activities coming up for the Hi-Y Council include the election of officers Monday, April 4, with installation of new officers Monday, April 18. The presentation of the Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. Youth Award will be made at the installation.

Stocks Plummet In Sharp Drop

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was down sharply early this afternoon as the result of an early selling spurt, but trading had quieted and prices were firming above their lows.

The selloff was linked directly with President Johnson's statement Tuesday about the possibility of a tax increase.

Prices were sharply lower on the American Stock Exchange in heavy trading. Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds rose.

Rifle Stolen

Two thefts from autos were reported to police Tuesday. Pete Brown, McKinney Plumbing, said a .22-caliber rifle was stolen from his unlocked pickup while it was parked at the Big Spring Hospital parking lot; and Kevan Fryar, 1406 E. 18th, said a chrome air cleaner was stolen from his car while it was parked at the Big Spring High School parking lot during school hours.

Industry should lead the way, he continued, "either directly by applying its ingenuity toward pollution abatement in its own plants, as it is already doing in so many places, or by assisting in the construction of municipal plants which receive its wastes."

Water Supply In Northeast Much Better

NEW YORK (AP) — Winter rain and snow are adding to the water supply of the Northeast, but no one is saying the drought is over.

Spring thaws are beginning to replenish underground sources in many areas, raising reservoirs far above last year's levels.

But while conservationists are talking optimistically for the first time in many months, many communities are keeping restrictions in effect.

One indication that the drought appears to be easing occurred Tuesday when an emergency pumping station drawing water from the Hudson River to New York City was closed. The reason: too much water.

With the key Delaware watershed reported at 89 per cent of capacity, there was limited storage in the reservoirs, one of which was almost at the spilling point.

"There's no point in loading up from the Hudson when good clear water from the Delaware watershed may be running to waste," said a spokesman for the Department of Water Supply.

Conserving water is still a way of life in New York and no easing of restrictions is contemplated at least until May. But in three weeks the supply has risen from 82 to nearly 70 per cent of capacity.

In Newark, N.J., officials lifted curbs that had been in effect since last May. State restrictions remain in force in New Jersey, however.

"We are not home free," said Newark Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio, "but the formal emergency is over and we are in good shape to carry through the summer and into next winter's snow and rainfall."

Another bright sign was a report by the Delaware River Basin Commission, which said conditions are "substantially better" at this time than they were a year ago. Nevertheless, the commission extended its drought emergency order, which went into effect in July, 1965, for two more months.

In Boston, forecasters said it looked like another dry summer for much of New England. The region recorded above-normal rainfall in recent months, but emergency steps were still in effect.

Rep. Temple Dickson, Sweetwater, and Mrs. Dickson are here for a few days in the interest of his campaign for state representative. Under the new districting alignment, Howard is now paired with Nolan and Mitchell counties, which Rep. Dickson represented at the last session of the legislature.

Time Buying Curbs Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Banking and Currency Committee today voted to give President Johnson authority to control installment buying as a means of combating inflation.

The action, taken virtually unanimously, would restore powers used during the Korean War to fix the size of down payments and the length of time for repayment of installment purchases.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., who offered the amendment, said he checked with the White House before doing so and was told there would be no objection to the committee action.

The amendment was offered to a bill extending for two years the Defense Production Act, which authorizes a series of government actions designed to insure smooth operating of the economy during emergencies.

RAISE REWARD

Friends in the tiny, exclusive community of Surfside on Miami Beach formed a committee to raise $50,000 for information leading to Daniel's safe return. Police approved the idea. They said a reward offer produces vital information in major cases.

A prayer service on behalf of the quiet, studious high school senior was set at Temple Rahnier, which was built by Daniel's father, Aaron, a wealthy contractor who is also a principal in at least six firms.

One police officer suggested that business dealers might be a factor in the kidnaping. Sgt. Warren Dalrymple said the kidnaping "told" the father, "You don't remember me, but you cheated me out of some money."

POLICE MOVE

At one point Tuesday, police carried six boxes of what appeared to be business records into the Goldmans' luxurious home which is built around an

Carlos Montoya Performs Tonight

Carlos Montoya, world famous master of the flamenco guitar, makes a return visit here today for an 8:15 p.m. appearance at the Municipal Auditorium. This is the finale for the current season of the Big Spring Concert Association.

Other offerings this season included Arthur Fiedler and the Buffalo (N.Y.) Symphony; Les Feux Follet Canadian dance entourage, and Nelson and Neil piano duo.

Senor Montoya appeared here in 1961 and proved such a favorite, he was invited to return this season. One of the most widely heard performers in any concert idiom, Montoya has brought flamenco music to virtually every major outpost of the free world, from the U.S. and Canada to Europe and the Orient, eliciting critical acclaim and audience approbation everywhere.

In addition to his globe-girdling tours, Montoya also has won international favor through his numerous recordings. He is, in fact, the most recorded flamenco artist in history and has become the living symbol of flamenco music the world over.

A Spanish gypsy, born in Madrid, Montoya was a musical prodigy, achieving national renown by the age of 14, when he was the toast of the "cafes cantantes" during the hey-day of flamenco singing and dancing. His debut as a concert artist was preceded by years of accompanying such distinguished dancers as La Argentina, Vincente Escudero and Argentinita. The first flamenco guitarist ever to display his artistry in a solo concert, he has been hailed by aficionados everywhere as one of the truly great masters of our time. His advanced technique, his flair for creative innovation and his infinitely varied repertoire make him one of the most exciting artists in the concert world today.

Cactus Paint Products Can Beat The Weather

Cactus Paint Manufacturing Co., a local industry, manufactures paints for homes, for interior and exterior uses; for business buildings, and all other uses, to stand up under weather of West Texas, including the hot sun and dust storms.

Long hours and days of testing and analyzing go into the work before a paint is put on the market, and it must meet the high standards set up by Cactus Paint Co., before it is approved for use.

If you want a room painted to match the rest of the house, a Cactus job will give you what you want. If you need a color not shown on the color cards or charts, or if it is one of your own choosing, Cactus men can help you.

Paint serves two purposes in its use. One is to give a desired appearance on the outside and inside, and the other is to preserve building materials. Cactus has men experienced in making paints. They know what basic ingredients must go into the mixture in addition to the colors. They know what is required to make the paint stand up in all kinds of weather.

Cactus paints are available at local lumber yards and hardware stores. A telephone call to Cactus Paint, AM 4-8922, will get you the information needed for giving that home or building a "new" look for the coming summer.

Sukarno Still Holds Power

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno swore in Indonesia's new Cabinet today, and Lt. Gen. Suharto said he thinks critics will give it a chance.

Sukarno in a speech at the swearing-in ceremony also took note of the opposition from students and political groups. He said all people cannot be pleased all the time.

"According to my belief, I have succeeded in making it (the Cabinet) perfect again," Sukarno said, but indicated changes might be made in the future.

"I'll decide" — "If later we have to make it perfect again, we will change it again in accordance with my conscience," he said.

Sukarno said advice on the Cabinet appointments came from others but he retained full authority in making them.

"I stress these things so persons abroad will know I am not a mere figurehead president," he said.

Suharto, Indonesia's new strongman, told newsmen that although there was dissatisfaction with the new Cabinet, he believed the complainers would give it a chance to try to resolve the country's grave economic problems.

STUDENT VIOLENCE
Students and political groups have called for a simplified Cabinet. They have also complained that there are too many old faces left in the government.

Violent student demonstrations toppled the previous Cabinet on Feb. 24, and Sukarno handed over most of his power to Suharto. The students objected to Communists and pro-Communists in the government in the wake of the Communist-backed coup attempt last October.

Rotary Has 7 New Members

Rotary club members received nominations for the coming year, heard a talk by Capt. J. Sorensen and inducted seven new members at their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Nominees for the coming year include: president, Dick Ream; vice president, Dr. Preston E. Harrison; secretary, Curt Mullins; treasurer, Johnny M. Hill, and directors, J. Don Womack, Larry Crow and Robert S. Galbraith. President Donald Humberford announced the election would be held at the next meeting on April 5.

Capt. Sorensen pointed out that the mission of training foreign students covered two vital fields, technical training and an understanding of the American way of life. He said the foreign students, of which Webb has 13 in the current program, need to see what we are and what we stand for. Sorensen suggested that local families invite the students to their home and get to know them better. He pointed out that the students are likely to be the leaders of their countries in the years ahead. He was introduced by Womack.

New members included Dr. M. W. Talbot, Col. Chester Butcher, Dr. Hubert Bratcher, Hayes Stripling Jr., Tommy Ross, Oliver Cofer Jr. and R. D. Wolfe Jr.

Out-of-town visitors included Congressman Omar Burleson, Walter Grubbs, the Rev. Joe L. Turner of Sherman, Charles Signor of Lubbock and John Rankin of Stanton. Other guests were Frank Hardesty and R. W. Whipkey.

Sutton was chairman of the Physics Department at Haverford College, Pa., from 1944 to 1956, when he went to the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland. Two years later he joined the faculty of the California Institute of Technology.

DR. NORMAN McNEIL
McNeil To Take Sul Ross Post

ALPINE — Waggoner Carr, attorney general of Texas, will be principal speaker during the inauguration of Dr. Norman L. McNeil as sixth president of Sul Ross State College at 11 a.m. on April 7.

Carr will be introduced by W. S. (Bill) Healy, Paducah, state representative from the 82nd Legislative District, who also has been designated as Baylor University's official delegate to the inauguration.

Dr. McNeil, professor of English at Texas A&I College in Kingsville before he was named Sul Ross president effective Sept. 1, 1965, has emphasized that all friends of the college are welcome and invited to attend the inauguration.

At the ceremony, Emil C. Rassman, Midland, vice president of the board of regents, State Teachers Colleges, will introduce the installation official, J. C. Kellam, Austin, president of the board. Dr. Mayron Shields, formerly of Big Spring, is on the inauguration committee.

District Has 3,130 Acres For New Lake

Still aiming at a mid-year start on construction of a dam above Robert Lee, the Colorado River Municipal Water District is pushing ahead on land purchases.

Recent agreements have brought to 3,130 acres of land the CRMWD has acquired from 14 landowners. Most of the acreage is in the dam site. Also included in the agreements is a total of 750 acres of minerals where for one reason or another it was advisable to obtain them. Thus far, purchases have held within values fixed by appraisers, said O. H. Ivie, CRMWD manager.

He added that negotiations are under way concerning approximately 4,000 acres. The entire project will embrace around 16,500 acres for the dam and the lake basin.

While steadily seeking to get as many land agreements as possible, the district is continuing talks with the City of Midland relative to a water sales contract. Ivie said that prospects of an agreement here appeared favorable.

Plans are being shaped for advertising for sale of revenue bonds. The amount will depend on whether Midland contracts for water. Engineers are confident of a July letting on construction.

Attempt To Hush UFO Talk Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said today it has an open mind about unidentified flying objects — UFO's — and makes no attempt to hush talk about flying saucers.

A spokesman, asked about allegations that the Air Force tries to squelch UFO reports, said:

"In the first place, we'd be utterly foolish to try to keep people from telling about something they've seen with their own eyes. Our job is to explain what is seen — not necessarily to change anybody's mind."

DISCOUNTS REPORTS
Retired Marine Maj. Donald E. Keyhoe, head of a group called National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena, told newsmen this week the Pentagon has a top-level policy of discounting all UFO reports. He said the Air Force over the years has used ridicule to discredit sightings.

Keyhoe made the assertion while endorsing a suggestion by House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford that a congressional inquiry into the flying saucer matter might be a good idea.

The Air Force has a special public relations office which answers thousands of letters a year from inquisitive persons — among them, school children, corporate officials, housewives, flying saucer club members and foreigners.

3,717 REPLIES
Last year it turned out 3,717 replies to letters about UFO's. The count for January and February already has run over 800 requests for information or explanations, and scores are being received in the wake of recent Michigan sightings.

Some replies by the Air Force are practically a form letter which says that the Air Force has no pictures of flying saucers, that it does not censor or keep secret reports about UFO's and that Congress has not yet seen fit to conduct an investigation in the matter.

Other replies give specific explanations to people who report seeing strange lights or mysterious objects.

ANNUAL REPORT
Virtually all are accompanied by an annual report of Project Blue Book.

This project, started in 1947, has produced explanations for 9,501 of a total of 10,147 sightings reported through 1965.

Project Blue Book has been unable to explain the 646 other UFO incidents and of these merely says: "The description of the object or its motion cannot be correlated with any known object or phenomena."

Based on the bulk of its findings, the Air Force has decided that most people do not see interplanetary space ships but bright stars, balloons, satellites, comets, fireballs, aircraft, missiles in clouds, vapor trails, missiles, reflections, mirages, searchlights, birds, kites, spurious radar indications, fireworks or flares.

"MARSH GAS"
In the case of the Michigan incidents, marsh gas was pinpointed as the source of colored lights observed by a number of people.

The answers the Air Force has been able to turn up have led it to these conclusions:

1. No UFO has ever given any indication of threat to the national security.

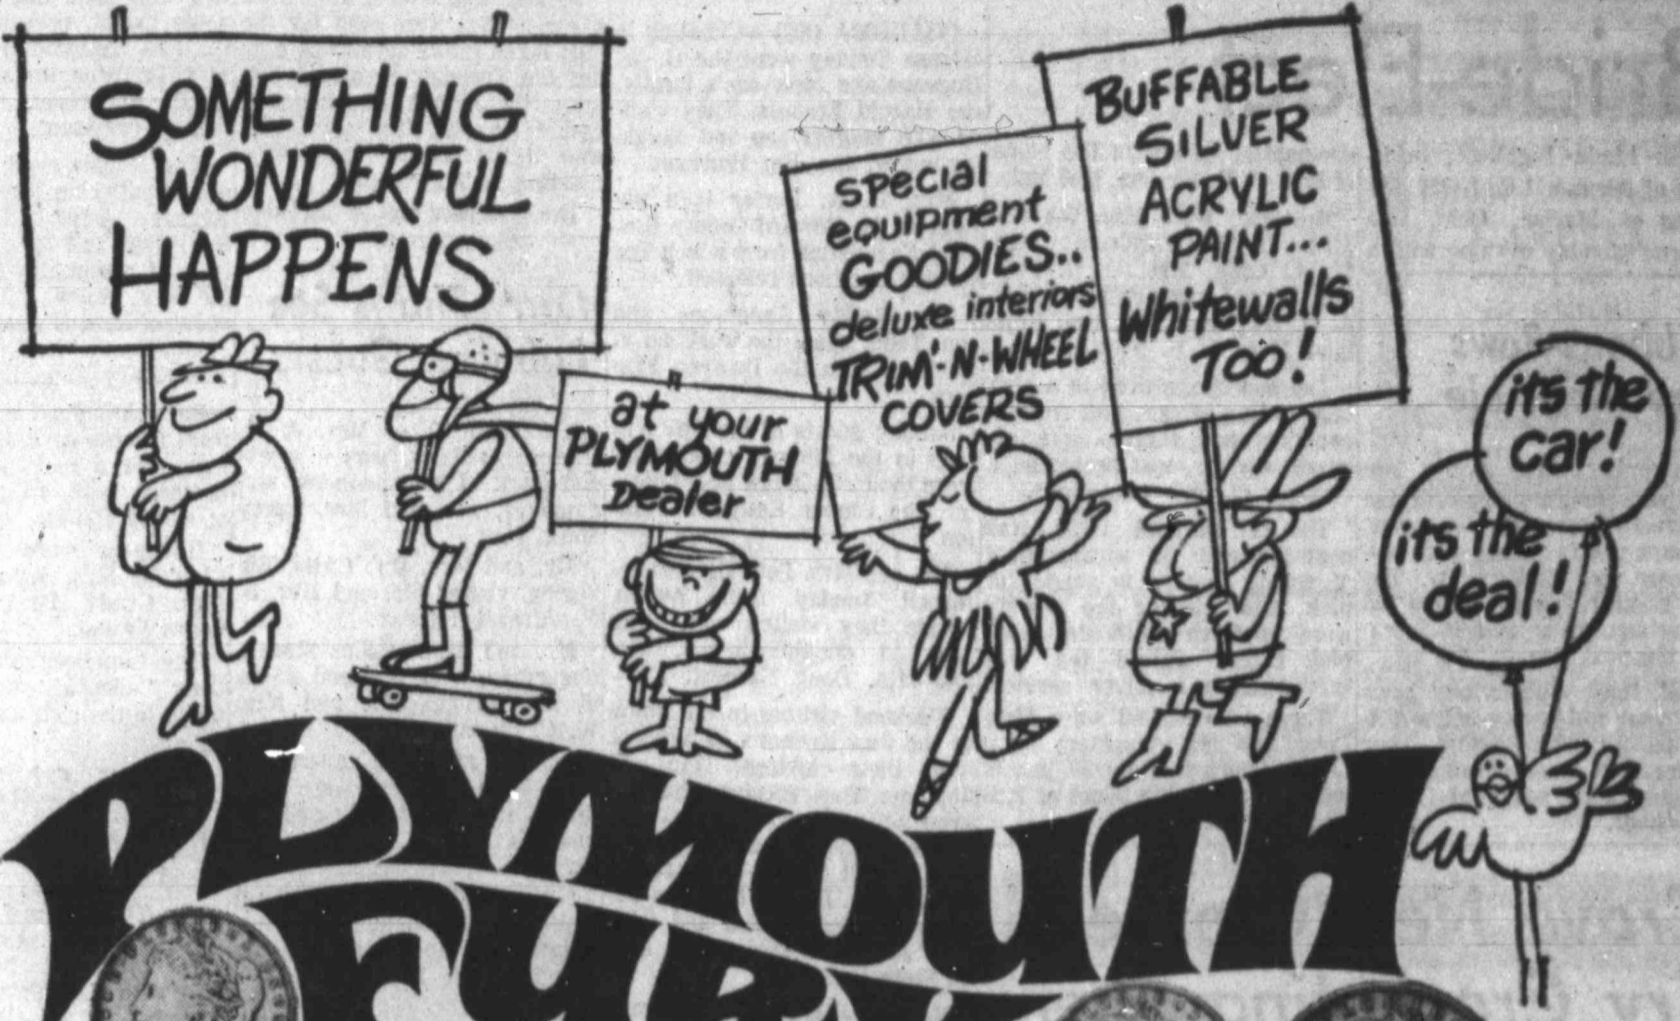

2. There is no evidence that UFO's represent technological developments or principles beyond present day scientific knowledge.

3. There is no evidence that any UFO's are "extra-terrestrial vehicles."

Send any clues, the Air Force says, to:
Project Blue Book Information Office
SAFOI
Washington, D.C. 20330.

Ribbons-Bows Are Valuable

Remember those pretty ribbons you plastered all over the Christmas presents? You know, the ones you fashioned with loving care and holiday joy. The very same ribbons that you fed to garbage cans and incinerators the next day.

Well, those ribbons and bows cost you and your fellow-gift-wrappers a pretty penny. Your incinerators have consumed 25 million dollars worth of Christmas cheer.

Crave New Clothes? Try Crocheting Them

Skill at crocheting no longer need be expended only on bedspreads and tablecloths, placemats, potholders and other accessories, however useful, for the kitchen and other rooms of the house. For some time, crocheting has been a means of making fashionable clothing.

Every season brings new patterns and designs for many different kinds of clothing. These usually are available not as kits but as leaflets with complete directions for the crocheting plus recommendations for type of thread or yarn to use and the amount needed to make the garment in a certain size. A good selection is carried by needlework and yarn shops.

The temptation offered by the designs is doubled by the many beautiful yarns in vivid and pastel colors. In addition to the knitting worsteds, shetlands and other familiar woolen yarns, there are the newer and lovely fleeces and mohairs.

Of course it is still possible to obtain the fine yarns in white and pastel colors as well as new designs for making baby apparel. However, it is the new clothing for adults that represents a challenge to crocheters. A smart floor-length gown for evening wear might be crocheted in a glistening black yarn. An overblouse in the style of Irish crochet with applied flowers, also crocheted, might be in a pastel color. Simpler blouses and sweaters to be worn instead of a blouse make a pleasant change for everyday wear.

A coat crocheted of wool might be tunic or full length, lined or unlined. And crocheted buttons to match or contrast with this or any other garment are fun to make.

A new kind of yarn is enough to make a stole, crocheted from an old pattern, seem entirely new. There are new patterns for hats every season and one crocheted of wool can be smart as well as protection from wind and cold.

The men in any family also can sport hand-crocheted wear, particularly a vest or cardigan. Consider using red for the vest and then sewing on brass buttons. It is none too early to start looking over patterns and getting started on handmade Christmas gifts.

Manicure Sets Make Ideal Gifts

The biggest tomboy on the block is wide-open for a very feminine gift. A little girl's manicure set can prove an incentive to the child from 8 to 12 to keep nails trimmed and clean. This is a major project that mothers find terribly frustrating.

A young girl's nails should be trimmed to a length not longer than the fingertip but not shorter.

Older sisters and mothers should follow this beauty tip, although many insist on unattractive long nails that encourage dirt, splitting and hangnails. Mother may need to trim a youngster's nails at this stage, but the rest of the home manicure can be handled by the young lady herself or with the aid of a friend. The latter method makes it more fun.

Driver, Mrs. Ross Callihan, Mrs. Floyd White, Mrs. Ervin Daniel and Mrs. Herschel Petty. Their gift to the honoree was a silver coffee service.

In the receiving line with Miss Williams, who wore a blue silk sheath, were her mother, her grandmother, Mrs. C. K. Jameson of El Paso; her fiancée's mother, his grandmother, Mrs. Gus Brandon of Cross Plains and Mrs. Underwood. They wore corsages of pink carnations.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Keep Plastics Off Tables

Dear Heloise:

We just bought a maple Early American dining room set. I have some beautiful lace and hand-crocheted table cloths which I'd like to use, but I'm afraid the table will soon be ruined if I don't protect it. I thought of putting a plain, clear plastic cloth on the table (so the wood grain will show through), then using the lace cloths, but a friend told me she had heard that you should not put plastic directly on wood. Is she right? ... Mrs. R. C. Madden

HELOISE

Furniture refinishers say, "Never, never put a plastic cloth directly on top of wood." (They also say not to lay plastic purses, brief cases, etc., on a table or desk.)

A little condensation from a water glass, a drip from an ice tea spoon, etc., may go unnoticed, and eventually cause spots.

A warm dish may cause the plastic to stick to the table — and it's murder to try to remove that without ruining the table.

Also, we have an inclination to just sponge off the plastic when we change tablecloths, and when we DO remove the plastic cloth, we may find that the table is ruined because the plastic has taken off the waxes and finish which the manufacturer had put on the table.

So beware of putting anything plastic directly on beautiful woods or finishes. ... Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I had nothing special on hand to clean plastic artificial flower or fruit arrangements, so I started checking my household cleaners for something which would do the job.

I noticed I had just a bit of window cleaner left in a spray bottle. I filled the bottle half full of water, set my arrangements in the kitchen sink, sprayed them thoroughly, rinsed and set them aside.

After they had dripped dry, they were as clean as could be. ... G. B.

Dear Heloise:

I found that hydrogen peroxide is fine for cleaning hard water rings off the bathroom and kitchen fixtures. ... Terry F.

Dear Heloise:

I pin my knitting together, before sewing it, with the plastic "pics" for hair rollers.

They hold better than straight pins, never get lost in the yarn, and I need only a few to do the job.

I have a separate package of pics that I keep with my knitting, rather than use my regular ones that naturally have a certain amount of hair dressing, spray, etc., on them. ... Mrs. J. Winkler

Steers Rally To Tip Midland Rebels, 6-5

By TOMMY HART

Midland Lee three times put Big Spring on the deck but the Steers refused to stay down and wound up beating the Rebels, 6-5, in a District 2-AAAA baseball cliffhanger here Tuesday afternoon.

Three straight hits in the final inning swung the issue. Big Spring's way. The crusher was applied by Sammy Mins, who drove a double to left center field, scoring Rod Roberts and Jesse Zapata.

The Longhorn rally erupted before a man could be retired. Roberts had opened the inning with his third single of the game and Zapata followed with a one-baser.

Bobby Griffin pitched brilliantly through six innings for Big Spring but the lead went to Gary Mears, who came on after the Rebels had gotten the first runner aboard in the seventh.

After Griffin walked Tommy Taylor, he committed a two-base throwing error. Mears came on to surrender a one-out single to Bob Koch that plated Taylor with the 'go-ahead' run but was air-tight, after that.

Big Spring hopped off to a 2-1 lead when Roberts and Mins scored in the initial inning on Yogi Anderson's double but Tommy Orloff tied it for Lee in the third and Lee moved ahead in the fourth when Ronnie Smith doubled and scooted in on a single by Rush.

Berry King tied the count in Big Spring's half of the inning when he singled and eventually made his way home on a wild pitch by Lee hurler Bob Nolen. Koch sent Lee into the lead again in the fifth when he singled, moved up on a sacrifice and sprinted in on Tom Feinagle's hit.

Big Spring fought back to deadlock the score at 4-4 when Roberts hit a one-baser and was eventually forced home. With the bases loaded, pinch hitter Doug Robinson was hit with a pitched ball. Then came the dramatic fireworks in the seventh.

Relief Claude Stewart, who came on to spell Nolen in the fifth, was saddled with the defeat. The two of them yielded nine hits to the Steers.

Lee collected 11 blows in all, Orloff, Rush and Koch getting two each for the invaders.

Big Spring returns to action here Friday, at which time it meets Odessa High, the defending champion in district competition.

SUNLAND PARK, N. M. — Former rider John Eric Longden, one of the greatest turf figures in the history of the sport, will be elected to the board of directors of the Fortuna Corporation, owner and operator of Sunland Park.

The announcement was made jointly by board chairman Bryan G. Johnson and track president George Ranich who said Longden would officially be placed on the board at the next meeting of the directors April 8.

In announcing his appointment to the Fortuna Directorate, Judge Johnson, one of the founders of Sunland, said Longden's lengthy experience in racing would be of immeasurable value in the future development of Sunland Park.

Longden said he hoped his directorship would prove of value to Sunland Park and its 4,000 shareholders. He added that he has always felt a kinship to the track and its officials.

He has made a guest riding appearance at every race meet since the track opened and helped launch the inaugural season opening weekend in 1959 by winning the first running of the El Paso Handicap.

Dodger Offer Of $210,000 Is Rejected

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Baseball's costliest holdout continued into its 32nd day today after pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale rejected what the Los Angeles Dodgers said was their final offer.

General Manager E. J. (Bud) Bavasi flew in from Florida via New York to reopen negotiations with his dissident stars and offered them a one-year combined offer of $210,000.

It amounted to a $12,500 increase from his previous offer—$112,500 to 29-year-old Koufax and $97,500 to 23-year-old Drysdale.

The players, through their attorney, J. William Hayes, turned it down and were quoted by Bavasi as saying:

"It was simply a matter of economics — not enough money."

The Gold Nugget Twins, who had originally asked for $500,000 apiece on three-year contracts, remained out of touch with the press, which has been their policy to a great extent since they became official holdouts Feb. 27.

"I came to negotiate. That's what they said they wanted. But this must be the end," said Bavasi.

"I think the boys have decided not to play all this year. This is their privilege and we wish them luck."

Bavasi at first said he would insist on dictating with the players as a twosome, as they had demanded from the outset. But later he said he would talk business with either.

"But my thinking about the offers we have just made would have to be revised — meaning not so much money."

Bavasi, after his rather brief talk with the attorney, called club President Walter O'Malley at the Vero Beach, Fla., training camp. They agreed, he said, that the $210,000 was the highest the club would go.

What do Sandy and Don now want?

"Frankly, I have no idea. All I know is that they wouldn't take what we offered."

The pitchers have signed to play feature roles in a movie which is slated to start filming April 11, the day before the Dodgers open the National League season here.

Manager Walt Alton, trying to fashion another pennant winner in Florida, said: "I'm disappointed. I can't lie about that, but it's not great surprise. I started to give up on them signing two weeks ago."

"I can't be mad at either one of them after all the games they've won for me."

2-AAAA Cats Shade Midlanders

MIDLAND — San Angelo sent 10 men to the plate in the second inning and scored four runs on its way to a 6-3 District 2-AAAA victory over Midland High here Tuesday afternoon.

Glynn King went all the way on the mound for the Cats, although Midland outlived the winners, 7-4.

ABILENE — Odessa Permian used two pitchers, Roger Comas and Jackie Moravcik, in blanking Abilene High School, 7-0, here Tuesday.

The two set the Eagles down with three hits.

Permian is now 8-4 for the season while the Eagles are 6-8-1.

ODESSA — Abilene Cooper signaled it would mount a major threat in the 2-AAAA baseball race by beating Odessa High, 7-3, here Tuesday.

Junior David Johnson scattered six Odessa hits effective to bring his team home a winner.

HC Net Team Gains Split With South Plains Club

LEVELLAND—HCJC's tennis team split its Western Conference matches with South Plains College here Tuesday.

The girls, benefitting from three forfeits because the Texans could not field enough players, prevailed by the margin of 4-2. The HCJC boys lost by the same score.

Spike Dykes Takes Belton Grid Post

COAHOMA — Spike Dykes, who gave Coahoma its greatest inning in football history, has resigned to become head coach and athletic director at Belton High School.

Belton, a District 13-AAA school with about 550 students in high school, is situated in Bell County not far from Temple and Killeen.

In two years under Dykes, Coahoma won two District 6-A football championships and boasted an over-all record of 22-2. Last year, the Bulldogs advanced to the Class A state quarterfinals before losing a heartbreaker to White Deer at Plainview.

Belton is in the same district with San Marcos, Taylor, Lockhart, Lampasas, Gatesville, Rockdale, New Braunfels and Seguin and has long been noted as a basketball power. The Tiger football team was coached by Mack Birtch last year and finished with a 3-7 record.

At Belton, Dykes will be heading up a staff of eight coaches. The school system has one junior high school.

Dykes revealed he would teach two classes, in addition to his coaching duties. He and his family will depart Coahoma as soon as track season is over.

Dykes will take the Bulldog track team to Abilene Saturday to compete in the 6-A meet. The Bulldogs loom as one of the favorites in the meet.

No successor has been named to the popular Dykes, who moved to Coahoma from an assistant's job at San Angelo Central High School prior to the 1964 season.

Dykes has not indicated whether he will take any of his assistant coaches with him.

Spike lived in Big Spring for several years, but played his high school football at Ballinger, where he was a stellar lineman. He was also active in the sport at Rice University and Stephen F. Austin College.

Ken McMullen Helps Outlook Of Washington

By The Associated Press

Rain wiped out five exhibition baseball games Tuesday but Ken McMullen brought a ray of sunshine through the clouds for Washington Manager Gil Hodges.

McMullen pounded two home runs and drove in five runs as the Senators whipped Kansas City 6-4 in a game called after eight innings because of rain.

Elsewhere, Minnesota blanked Los Angeles 2-0 in a rain-shortened, five-inning game, Pittsburgh shaded the Chicago White Sox 6-5, San Francisco downed California 2-1 and Chicago outlasted Cleveland 12-10.

The New York Mets-New York Yankee, Baltimore-Detroit, Boston-Houston, St. Louis-Cincinnati and Atlanta-Philadelphia games all were rained out.

McMullen, who was the Senators' regular third baseman last season after coming over from Los Angeles in the Frank Howard-Claude Osteen deal, continued to flash the muscle that made him a Senator favorite in 1965.

The husky infielder walloped 18 home runs last year, second on the club only to it-ward's 21, and drove in 54 runs in 150 games.

Hodges, who had batted him in the No. 2 spot most of last year, dropped him to No. 6 Tuesday, hoping to capitalize on his RBI potential, and the move paid off handsomely.

McMullen connected with one man on in the fourth and then with two on in the eighth as the Senators, who had lost their first nine exhibitions, won their fifth straight.

The output hoisted McMullen's spring figures to six homers and 11 RBIs. He leads the club in both departments.

Ken Harrelson and Dick Green homered for Kansas City. The Twins pushed across two unearned runs to beat the Dodgers in a rematch of last season's World Series opponents.

Clay Wins But He Can't Put Canadian On Deck

TORONTO (AP) — It was like a fight between a matador and a bull, only the bull didn't have any horns. That was heavy-weight champion Cassius Clay's lop-sided victory in 15 rounds over game, iron-jawed George Chuvvalo of Canada Tuesday night.

The 14,500 partisan fans — 13,900 paid — at Maple Leaf Gardens gave the plucky Canadian champion a roaring ovation for maintaining his record of never having been knocked off his feet although he must have taken at least 1,000 punches on the head from the unbeaten American.

Now the 24-year-old champion hopes to get into the ring within two months, either in Toronto or London, against Henry Cooper, the 31-year-old British ruler from London.

Old "Erny" isn't in gutty George's class when it comes to soaking up punishment but he can hit pretty good. He floored Clay with a left hook before being stopped in the fifth round at London on June 18, 1963. Clay has been dropped only twice in his 5½-year career.

The big drawback with Cooper is that he has a push-button on his chin. He has a 31-11-1 won-lost-draw record, including 21 knockouts. But he has been stopped six times — by Zora Folley, former world champion Ingemar Johansson, Clay, and some characters named Uber Bacilieri, Peter Bates and Joe Bygraves.

"We haven't got anything set yet," said Clay, whose face was virtually unmarked. "But Cooper might be a good one. He knocked me down once."

COOPER LIKELY FOE

Arthur Grafton, the attorney for Clay's Louisville sponsoring group said they were considering Cooper and anyone who might be available, including Ernie Terrell, Terrell, the World Boxing Association champion from Chicago, withdrew from his title showdown here with Clay, recognized as champion everywhere but in WBA territory, when his guarantee was slashed.

"Terrell can show up or shut up," said Grafton.

It was Grafton and Edward Jacko Jr., Clay's personal attorney, who said Tuesday that the champion figured to have from 30 to 60 days before his appeal from a 1-A draft classification normally would be heard by the state board in Kentucky. Earlier it was reported the fighter's case would be heard within a few days.

The middle knuckle of Clay's right hand was swollen from the steady stream of punches he fired at Chuvvalo's battered but unbowed head. Chuvvalo bore nicks over and under both eyes, on his forehead and had a huge lump under his right eye about the size of a lemon.

The officials had the following winning scores for Clay on the five-point must system: Referee Jackie Silvers 73-65, judge Tony Canzano 74-63, and judge Jackie Johnston 74-62. The Associated Press had it 73-67 for Clay and 13-2 in rounds, giving Chuvvalo only the second and fourth. By rounds, Silvers had it 9-2, with four even, Canzano had it 12-1 with two even and Johnston had it 13-1 with one even.

A Try At Home

Midland Lee's Ron Rush flees home in the third inning of Tuesday's District 2-AAAA baseball game here, but his efforts went for naught. Bob Koch of the Rebels, who was at bat for the visitors, was ruled out on an attempted sacrifice for stepping across the plate and Rush was ordered back to third. He never did score in the inning. The catcher is Yogi Anderson and the umpire Jim Zapp. Big Spring rallied for two runs in the final inning to win a 6-5 thriller. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Golfers on the Municipal course here get a real break, when the fees they pay are compared to the cost of green fees at some layouts around the country.

Linksters here fork over $1 for rounds on weekdays and $1.50 on weekends for 18 holes of play.

In other sections of the nation, golfers ante up as much as $4.50 on a weekday and the price jumps to $5.50 on weekends.

As far as is known, nothing has been done about increasing the price of a round by 25 cents. The extra fee would go into a kitty to underwrite the cost of a clubhouse. All golfers who use the course seem to be in favor of the proposal.

The money would mount up in a hurry and the extraction from the patrons of the course would be a palatial one.

The metropolitan areas are demanding the biggest fees from players of public links but even $5.50 doesn't seem exorbitant when you consider that pro football buffs are being charged that much and more to sit in the stands and root for their favorites.

The golfers apparently aren't complaining. They usually have to register and stand in line in order to get to the first tee at some of the bigger courses. And some of those reservations have to be made weeks in advance.

Basketball buffs here who sat in on the Dallas Baptist-HCJC game here last season went away convinced that the visitors' Wendal Hart, 6-0, one of the Indians' smaller players, was the difference between the two teams.

Hart, a mercurial Negro from a Dallas suburb, proved his worth again to the Indians in the recent National tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas.

In the Texans' quarterfinal game against Leicester, Mass., Wendel (who led the team in scoring all season) missed two free throws with only ten seconds of play remaining at a time Dallas trailed in the contest, 85-84.

Tony Koski of Leicester, who stands 6-8, grabbed off the rebound but Hart snaked in to tie up the ball. Wendel gave away eight inches in the jump but somehow outleaped the Leicester giant and tipped the ball over to Gale Rhine, who hit from 25 feet out just as the final buzzer sounded to win the game for Dallas Baptist.

Dallas Baptist, which never did play up to its potential in the tournament, then proceeded to lose its final two games and finished sixth in the tournament.

Colorado City's Steve Hillhouse did not yield an earned run in the first 34 innings he pitched for Texas A&M this spring.

Tommy Chiles, also a member of the Aggie mound corps, worked through 23 innings without giving up an earned tally but Baylor got to him in the first inning of their game last week and went on to register a 4-1 win over the College Station club.

Someone said of the Texas Western Miners, who defeated Kentucky in the NCAA basketball finals last week: "They don't guard you, they search you."

Coach Don Haskins of TWC learned his lessons under the best defensive coach of them all, Hank Iba, at Oklahoma State University.

Gibson Announces Largest Single Buy Of Cosmetics

Largest single purchase of cosmetics ever made in the nation has been announced by H. B. Gibson, founder of the biggest chain of discount centers in America.

Gibson has arranged for the purchase of $2,000,000 worth of Hazel Bishop and Lanolin Plus products to be featured in a nationwide sale in his centers at a heavy per cent off regular retail prices.
The $2,000,000 sales event, to be advertised heavily in local newspapers, will also have a spread in Life magazine. The promotion will break in April, and arrangements already are being made for it at the local store, 2203 Gregg.

The $2,000,000 sale of Hazel Bishop and Lanolin Plus products was kicked off recently at a banquet in Dallas, attended by 600 Gibson executives, along with Hazel Bishop executives.
Morton Edell, Hazel Bishop president, called it "an extraordinary event."

The following day, the Gibson Discount Center market show opened at the New Market Hall in Dallas, and was called "the biggest private trade show in the world." It was attended by over 1,500 Gibson people and 3,500 manufacturer's representatives.

Gibson's fantastic success has been the subject of many articles. He started his merchandising career as a teenage trader and opened his first discount center in Abilene in 1958. In just seven years the number has grown to 209, and the total will be around 300 by late this year.

Sales for the Gibson centers in 1965 amounted to 334 millions, and the projection for 1966 calls for 500 millions, Gibson said.
In addition to a 100,000 square foot center recently opened in Honolulu, three new stores are to open in California soon, and 10 in Dallas this summer.

Don Brandenberger Gets Post At Coleman

Don Brandenberger, who has served as assistant county agricultural agent in Howard County for the past 18 months, has been accepted for the post of county agricultural agent for Coleman County. He is to assume his new post May 1.

Announcement of Brandenberger's transfer to the Coleman post was made here jointly by County Judge Lee Porter and by District Extension Service Agent Billy C. Gunter of Lubbock.

Brandenberger, whose home is in San Saba, was selected for the Coleman County job because of his fine record here as assistant to Herb Helbig, Howard County agricultural agent.

Judge Porter, speaking for the county commissioners court, expressed regret that Brandenberger was leaving the county and pointed out that he has done exceptional work the year and a half he has been in the county in 4-H Club and other youth work.

Brandenberger, who was in Coleman Wednesday to confer with the county officials, said he regretted leaving Howard County, but that he felt he could not afford to turn down an opportunity such as the Coleman post offered for advancement in the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Gunter said he had hopes he could find a replacement for Brandenberger in this county by June 1.

Scouts Offer Wagon Rides

Explorers of Post 444 will have two mules pulling for them Saturday, in a fund-raising effort to finance a summer trek in the San Juan Wilderness Area, near Durango, Colo.

Pete Cole, post advisor, said the explorers will offer rides in a covered wagon, pulled by the mules, in the Highland Shopping Center area all day, beginning at about 9 a.m. Cost will be 25 cents per person.

The post will make a trek into the wilderness June 3-13, walking about 50 miles in six days. Proceeds from the Saturday wagon rides will help pay for the equipment needed for the hike and camping. There are about 15 boys in the Post, and it is continually growing, Cole said.

Firemen Snuff
Minor Fires

Two minor fires, one Tuesday night and one early this morning, caused little damage, firemen said today.

About 8:50 p.m. Tuesday, a fire was reported at the Kids' Shop, 201 E. 3rd. Firemen said a short in an outside neon sign was the cause of the minor flareup. They said no damage was caused to the building.

A small residence behind 308 NE 2nd was the scene of an early-morning fire. Firemen said they responded to a call at 5:20 a.m. today, and found that a hole had been burned in a mattress. There was some minor smoke damage to the home, firemen said.

Three Accidents

Three accidents Tuesday injured no one, officers said today. Involved were the parked car of Paul Camp, Coahoma, the car of Frank Lerna, 210 NE 6th, and a truck which left the scene at 209 W. 2nd; the car of Ronald Stringer, Webb Air Force Base, and a car which left the scene in the 100 block of Air Base Road; and the cars of Barbara Jan Forrest, 1813 Benton, and Joe Robert Spencer, Gail Route, at the intersection of Eleventh and Austin.

Peace Corps Tests

Area residents interested in putting skills to use in developing nations around the world may take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a.m. April 9 at federal buildings in Abilene, Midland, Lubbock or San Angelo. The placement tests are used to determine how an applicant can best be utilized. It requires no preparation and is non-competitive. The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers.
