Rebels Gain In Province

JEGUE, Portuguese Guinea (AP) - Uniformed rebels, equipped with Russian, Chinese and American weapons, control part of Portuguese Guinea and are waging guerrilla war against the Portuguese army entrenched in the main centers. The rebels say they have "liberated" almost all the mainland except isolated strong-points and the area around Bissao, the capital.

BUSH COUNTRY Portugal considers Guinea a province of the homeland. It is a wedge of bush country near the western tip of Africa, with some 200 miles of Atlantic coastline and a hinterland reaching 300 miles inland between Senegal and the former French Guinea Republic.

Thanks to extensive aid from Senegal and Guinea, the rebel "African Party of Independence for Guinea and the Cape Verde Islands" or PAIGC has made more progress in ousting the Portuguese than have the rebel movements in the two larger and more important Portuguese areas in Africa, Angola and Mozambique. The Cape Verde Islands, 300 miles off the mainland, are as yet untouched by rebel activity. The Portuguese have been in Guinea and the islands more than four centuries.

Both the rebels and the Portuguese regard Guinea as an acid

CANCER DRIVE SET TONIGHT

Several score Cancer Society volunteers will be knocking on area doors today for the annual Cancer Fund drive, to "Fight Cancer With a Check-Up - and a Check." Mrs. Floyd Mays and Mrs. L. L. Beauvais are coordinators of the drive.

The drive is expected to begin sometime early in the afternoon and will last until early evening. "Tell Your Neighbor" volunteers during the house-to-house campaign will leave literature that answers many questions about cancer.

Smaller Nations Urged To Push Arms Control

GENEVA (AP)—The United States proposed today that smaller countries conclude disarmament agreements to reduce tension in non-nuclear areas of the world.

The U.S. proposal, presented to the 17-nation disarmament conference by Chief Delegate William C. Foster, was based on the last point in the seven-point disarmament program put before the conference by President Johnson when the talks resumed in January. The President warned of small-

Destructive, Death-Dealing Storm Abates

Texans in most areas were to get a "breather" today from two days of turbulent spring weather which dealt death and destruction across a wide section of the state.

Six persons died as a result of the storms Sunday and early Monday and damages mounted into hundreds of thousands of dollars. A severe weather watch for an area of North Central Texas Monday passed without serious incident as an area of thunderstorms broke up about 7 p.m., an hour before the weather watch was to end.

BLOWING DUST Some blowing dust was reported early today in West Texas, but skies there were reported mostly clear. South Central and Southeast Texas reported some local drizzle and fog early today.

Temperatures early today ranged from 59 at Amarillo to 70 at McAllen.

Some very light snow may fall in extreme Northwest Texas by tonight, but the Weather Bureau doesn't expect any to accumulate.

CLOUDY SKIES Skies were to be mostly cloudy over Central and East Texas, partly cloudy in West Texas, becoming partly cloudy in North Central and Northeast Texas by Wednesday.

Scattered thunderstorms are forecast for West and South Texas today and in Central and East Texas by tonight. They should move into South Central and Southeast Texas by Wednesday.

Highs Monday ranged from 94 at Laredo to 72 at Galveston.

MERCURY DIPS Cooler temperatures are expected in Northwest Texas tonight and in West Texas Wednesday.

Yanks Search For Battle-Shy Enemy

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The hardest job facing allied forces in Viet Nam these days is to scrape up an acquaintance with the Viet Cong on the battlefield.

Some U.S. officers believe the Communists are short of supplies. Others think they are waiting for the monsoons.

The American command chart shows nine operations. This means U.S. troops in units from battalion to multibrigade size are roaming the jungles, the plains and the rice paddies, daring the insurgents to fight.

ARE UNANNOUNCED Most of the operations have not been announced and are still on the secret list. Under military ground rules an operation is made public only after significant contact with the enemy.

By refusing to make such contact and by their ability to fade away, the Viet Cong mock the rules, anyway. The U.S. Military Assistance Command announced the end of a big operation by the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division Monday, five days after it started. This was the first disclosure that it even existed, since there was no major contact with the enemy.

Intelligence has come up with a variety of conclusions about the Viet Cong's reluctance to show themselves.

Some officers say they are waiting out the Saigon government's political crisis, welcoming the unrest as a diversion enabling their forces to regroup and watch other South Vietnamese undermine the government.

Some military informants cite other evidence, however. In recent weeks patrols have come across squads of Viet Cong who were unarmed except for their leaders.

INTO HEARTLAND

Jets Raid North Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. jet fighter-bombers raided North Viet Nam's heartland for the second consecutive day, pounding a major plant just outside Haiphong Monday night, a U.S. spokesman reported.

Following close on the attack yesterday on missile sites near Hanoi, two Navy planes in a low level, radar-controlled attack dropped about 15 tons of bombs on the Uong Bi power plant 14 miles northeast of North Viet Nam's chief port.

LIGHTS OUT The pilots reported showers of explosions and said the lights of Haiphong went out at once. The plant provides 15 per cent of North Viet Nam's electricity, including a third of the power Haiphong uses and one-fourth of the needs of the capital 60 miles to the west.

Navy planes raided the Uong Bi plant twice in December before the start of a 37-day bombing pause. After the second raid Dec. 22, it was reportedly almost totally destroyed, but the spokesman said today it apparently had been rebuilt.

Neither Hanoi nor Haiphong has been hit by U.S. air attack, but American planes brought the war close to the capital Sunday with attacks on missile sites 15 and 17 miles south and southwest of Hanoi. Pilots reported both sites were engulfed in flames.

LIGHT RESISTANCE The raid Monday night was carried out by twin-jet A6 Intruders, a subsonic plane designed to deliver big payloads on low-level attacks. They came from the carrier Kitty Hawk and reported only light, ineffective anti-aircraft fire, although both Haiphong and Hanoi are said to be ringed with Soviet-built anti-aircraft missile sites.

GROUND WAR The ground war against the Viet Cong continued without any significant contact reported with the enemy. Some U.S. officers speculated the guerrillas were short of supplies. Others thought they might be waiting for the rainy season in five or six weeks to take the offensive.

The U.S. Military Command announced that two previously unpublicized operations had been closed out by the U.S. 25th Infantry Division 30 miles northwest of Saigon and by a joint U.S. 173rd Airborne - Australian force 75 miles northeast of the capital. A spokesman said there was no heavy fighting.

CONG KILLED The search by a 25th Infantry regiment resulted in 32 Viet Cong killed and five captured, as well as the seizure of 16 weapons and eight tons of rice when the troops overran a medical station, 27 bunkers and 40 tunnels, a spokesman said. It began Saturday.

The 173rd Airborne's 1st Brigade and the Australian regiment reported killing 15 Viet Cong and capturing 21 since they began scouring the jungles and plantations nine days ago. In addition, the troops seized 12 weapons, considerable small-arms ammunition and 10 tons of rice.

A U.S. Army spokesman was asked by correspondents why no ground action had been taken against a Viet Cong base 10 miles outside Saigon. It had been pounded by American air strikes as the launching base for the Viet Cong mortar attack on Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airbase last week in which seven Americans and a Vietnamese were killed and more than 100 persons wounded.

The spokesman replied: "It is not my job to say why military operations have not been conducted."

Estes Returns To Court In Freedom Bid

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Billie Sol Estes, the West Texas promoter who went to prison more than a year ago, returns to court today seeking his freedom.

He will appear for closing arguments on his plea for a new trial, basing it on a defense argument that new evidence, unavailable when he was convicted of fraud in 1963, would have caused the jury to acquit him.

There were three days of testimony last week before U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster, who told lawyers for Estes and the government to come back at 2 p.m. today and present their recommended findings.

Estes was brought here from Leavenworth, Kans., federal prison where he had started serving a 15-year term.

Japan Plugs For Prestige

TOKYO (AP) - Japanese diplomacy, held in check since World War II, is making its boldest move yet to secure friends in Asia and prestige elsewhere.

Ministers from six Asian nations met recently with Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shima to discuss economic development problems involving all South-east Asia.

The Japanese Foreign Ministry today sees this as the first major international meeting proposed by Japan since the war. It underlines a vigorous new trend in Japanese foreign policy. The changes are putting some strains on Tokyo-Washington ties and bringing Japan into closer contracts with the Soviet Union.

SHY, SUBDUED For years following the war other Asian countries were cool to the industrial giant to the north. Japanese officials were shy and subdued by defeat. The country's foreign policy became identified with that of the occupying power, the United States.

The Tokyo government responded to the pressures. Prime Minister Eisaku Sato sent his own peace envoy on a round-the-world mission to sound out prospects for a Viet Nam peace. His foreign minister, Shima, went to Moscow ear-

Big Spring Trio Acquires Shares

Ownership of the Security State Bank in Big Spring has returned to local hands with purchase of majority control from Odessa interests by a syndicate composed of Raymond L. Tollett, Richard M. Johnson and Robert W. Andrews.

Negotiations were completed Monday whereby the local trio acquired 9,222 shares from W. D. Noel, E. G. Rodman and Thomas E. Rodman. This represents 51 per cent of the 18,000 shares outstanding.

Price of the shares was not announced, but it was believed the transaction involved considerably in excess of a half-million dollars.

Tollett, Johnson and Andrews already were substantial stockholders and serve as directors. The Odessa men retired from the board, and there is an interim of 60 days in which successors may be named.

Tollett said the shares acquired represented all major blocks outstanding not held locally, and it is contemplated that any subsequent distribution will be made to Big Spring people. The whole idea of the purchase, he said, was to return the bank entirely to local hands.

The sale was effective immediately and was announced at the institution's board meeting Monday.

SINCE 1961 Noel and Rodman acquired 51 per cent of the Security State stock in February, 1961, buying the shares of C. T. McLaughlin of Snyder, who sold on condition that Tollett would remain on the board. McLaughlin was one of the prime organizers of the bank at 15th and Gregg Sts. and Tollett had assisted as one of the original stockholders. He went on the board in January, 1959, and has served continuously since.

Both Johnson and Andrews went on the board in January of 1963. Johnson, a long-time sales executive with the former Caden Petroleum Corporation and later with American Petrofina, has returned to Big Spring from Dallas to reside and is now a vice president of Premier Oil & Refining Company of Texas. Andrews is president of Shasta Ford, has an interest in Eagle Transport and other investments.

NO CHANGE No change in management of the bank is contemplated, Tollett said. Larson Lloyd, an organizer of the bank and its executive head since its opening, and Chester Cathey, vice president, and also an officer since organization, will have an opportunity to participate in stock purchases as they desire.

Lloyd, originally executive vice president when the bank was opened in 1956, became president in December, 1962, and Cathey was made vice president at the same time, while retaining his cashier's post. G. W. Dabney, who was president at the outset, moved up to chairman of the board.

Security State's statement of condition as of last December 31 showed assets of $7,105,873. It had deposits of $7,482,535, and loans and discounts of $2,969,130.

Directors along with Tollett, Andrews, Johnson, Dabney, Lloyd and Cathey are J. Gordon Bristow, Joseph W. Burrell, Ted O. Groebel, V. A. Whittington.

One-Party Regime Seated In Austria

VIENNA, Austria (AP) - Austria got its first postwar one-party government today as an all-Conservative Cabinet took over after 21 years of coalition with the Socialists.

The Conservatives decided Monday night to form a government alone after the Socialists refused to accept any reduction of their role in the government although the Conservatives had won a majority in Parliament in the March 6 elections.

The Socialists wanted us to give firm guarantees for the entire four-year legislative period - this we could not do," Chancellor Josef Klaus told the nation in a radio-television address.

OFFERED POSTS "But we proved our honest intentions by offering them the Cabinet posts they held previously with the exception of the Justice Ministry, which we claimed on the strength of our election victory."

Outgoing Socialist Foreign Minister Bruno Kreisky said his party could not accept these terms "because not only the Socialists, but also a large segment of the population were deeply concerned over the as-political power in the hands of one party."

The Socialists held 7 of the 17 Cabinet posts when the coalition government collapsed Oct. 22 while the 1966 budget was under debate. In the election that followed, the Conservatives won 85 of the 165 parliamentary seats, the Socialists 74 and the opposition Freedom party 6.

PRESSURE ON The Conservatives reportedly were putting on pressure to have Trade Minister Fritz Bock, a Conservative, take over all negotiations on Austria's application for associate membership in the European Common Market. Previously he shared these with Kreisky.

Bock retained his post in the new government and also succeeded Socialist party leader Bruno Pittermann as vice chancellor.

Kreisky was replaced by Lujp Tomic-Sorinj, 51, an expert on international law and former delegate to the Council of Europe in Strasbourg. The French-educated Tomic-Sorinj is known as a strong supporter of Austria's association with the Common Market. Austria now belongs to the European Free Trade Association, Western Europe's other major trading bloc.

Direct Distance Dialing Coming Here July 14

Direct Distance Dialing will come to Big Spring telephone users at 12:01 a.m. July 14, Harry Sawyer, manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said.

Sawyer also said that at this same time all telephone numbers which began with the prefix AMherst 4 will be changed to AMherst 7.

"We've tied the two service changes together to make it as easy as possible for our customers," the manager said. He added that all the changed telephone numbers will be listed in a directory to be issued at the time the changes go into effect.

"We don't like to change telephone numbers," the manager said, "but it is necessary to do so." Sawyer also said that all customers, whose telephone numbers will be changed, will be notified of their new telephone numbers within the next few weeks. "We're preparing the cards listing these new numbers at the present time and will mail them to all AMherst 4 customers well before the changeover," he added.

Sawyer reminded customers that DDD will be available to all telephone users and not just to those with one and two-party service.

"Our methods of billing customers for DDD calls placed from a multi-party line will be different from those calls placed from a one or two-party line," he said. Sawyer explained that a call placed from a one or two-party telephone will be billed automatically by a machine located in the company's central office. Calls placed from multi-party lines will be billed by an operator who will come on the line after the distant telephone is dialed but before it begins to ring.

"She will ask the calling party for his telephone number," the manager explained, "and key punch this information into the machine for billing purposes. She will leave the line immediately after the customer tells her his telephone number." Sawyer said the company was emphasizing this difference so that customers who place calls from both types of telephones will not be confused in the event that an operator comes on the line and requests the calling telephone number.

Gas Reserves Called Ample

HOUSTON (AP)—Claims that the gas industry will not have enough gas to meet the public's needs are "totally unfounded," the president of the American Gas Association said Monday.

R. J. Rutherford told the opening session of the Southern Gas Association convention that the nation's proved natural gas reserves "now stand at the highest in history."

Rutherford, also president of the Worcester, Mass., Gas Light Co., said natural gas producers who have been contending "we're running out of gas" are doing the rest of the gas industry a disservice.

Rutherford acknowledged that the task of getting potential gas reserves out of the ground will require time and capital. "But I am sure that when the time comes, the expenditures will be made and made with consideration for reasonable investment returns," he told the 14-state regional organization.

He added that the nation will have to produce more gas than is found, eventually, but by then synthetic gas will be ready for introduction.

Other segments of the industry, Rutherford said, should team up with the gas producers against the determined electric industry campaign for the heating market.

The AGA research and development program, Rutherford said, can be expected to make early contributions to gas sales in the form of new equipment. He said it is probable a methane fuel cell will emerge sooner than anticipated.

He added that the association is hoping "for the final development of a new concept of a gas pistol compressor" that would give the industry a gas energized heating and cooling unit that would work either as a central installation or a window unit.

The convention continues through Wednesday, with some 3,000 persons expected to register before it closes.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Britain's Julie Christie, rugged Lee Marvin and "The Sound of Music" won the top Oscars — with the President's daughter Lynda Bird Johnson a guest star in the audience.

The blonde Miss Christie was honored at Monday night's 38th annual Academy Awards as an English model who sleeps her way to success with a succession of high and low society figures in "Darling."

Hands to face, sobbing but gleeful, she gasped: "I don't know what to say except to thank everyone concerned — especially my darling John Schlesinger (the director) for this wonderful picture."

POPULAR CHOICE
Said Marvin, the roaring drunk gunfighter of "Cat Ballou," after prolonged, thunderous applause indicating a popular choice:

"Half of this (Oscar) belongs to a horse someplace out in the valley" — a reference to the dilapidated nag he rode in the Western film.

It was one of the hardest-to-predict Oscar races in years. Much sentiment favored Rod Steiger as "The Pawnbroker." There were predictions that "Ship of Fools" or "Doctor Zhivago" would win as best picture. One of the closest contests was between two Julies, good friends.

Julie Andrews — who didn't win for "The Sound of Music" — did accept an Oscar for its director, Robert Wise, now at work on another picture in Hong Kong.

"GREATEST PLEASURE"
"It gives me the greatest pleasure to accept," said Miss Andrews, radiant in an orange gown. "I know he's heartbroken not being here this evening."

The brilliantly melodic "Sound of Music" — in which Miss Andrews was again nominated for her role as a governess as when she won in "Mary Poppins" a year ago — won the best picture award.

The award for best performance by an actor in a supporting role went to Martin Balsam in "A Thousand Clowns." He played a "square" business success, the older brother of happy-go-lucky Jason Robards.

Best performance by an actress in a supporting role: Shelley Winters brutal mother of a blind girl in "A Patch of Blue."

SECOND AWARD
It was Miss Winters' second supporting-actress Oscar — the first such twin victory for any actress. She won in 1959 as a dowdy Dutch housewife in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

The supposedly blind girl of "A Patch of Blue" — Elizabeth Hartman, in her first movie — was nominated for a starring Oscar.

Hollywood's annual big night went off with all the traditional hoopla — blinding klieg lights and stands full of shrieking fans outside the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

One of the loudest ovations was for Lynda Bird Johnson, 22, escorted by actor George Hamilton, 26. She was in a brown fur jacket over an orange dress; he, tanned and smiling, in white tie and tails.

Stocks Show Irregular Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — Profits were taken in coppers, airlines and some other recent big gainers as the stock market worked irregularly lower early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Coppers declined following a big advance last week on news of the boost in the export price for copper by Chile. Weekend articles and current comment mentioned that the higher copper prices would benefit competing materials.

Awards Show Called Most Attractive Yet

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television producers seem to be able to compress almost anything into 60 or 90 minutes with time out for commercials. But when it comes to handing out movie Oscars and television Emmies, the program runs on and on.

Monday night's annual Motion Picture Academy Awards show, occupied two and one-half hours and ended well past midnight in the eastern portion of the nation. And you had to stick with it to the very end to find out that "The Sound of Music" was voted the best picture of the year and that Julie Christie of "Darling" and Lee Marvin of "Cat Ballou" were the best actor and actress.

The long show was the most attractive in TV history because it blossomed forth in color. For the first time women viewers could see that Natalie Wood's gown was green and that Julie Andrews was in a flaming shade of red. And since when looking at the stars, clothes are about half the fun of the show, this proved very satisfying.

Master of ceremonies Bob Hope was his usual irreverent self from his opening crack about the audience — "sitting out there are the stars of today and the senators of tomorrow" — to the presentation of a special gold medal by the academy which caught him unprepared.

"I'm caught with my idiot cards down," was the best he could muster.

Pentagon Says Reds Watched Bomb Search

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department contradicted an American naval commander today and said an electronically equipped Soviet trawler kept watch for two weeks during U.S. efforts to recover a missing hydrogen bomb off Spain.

In response to questions, the Pentagon said the trawler remained in the sea search area near Palomares Beach, Spain, until March 2, about two weeks before recovery of the American bomb.

ADMIRAL'S STATEMENT
This disclosure contradicted a statement made by the commander of the naval task force a few hours after the weapon was retrieved April 7.

"I can say categorically," Rear Adm. William S. Guest told reporters at a news conference in Spain, "that there has been no Soviet trawler or other ship in the search area at any time since we began our work."

There was no immediate comment from the admiral on the Pentagon's disclosure. Nor was there an explanation as to why he had declared the Soviet trawler was not in the area.

CAME NEAR
The Pentagon said the Communist vessel, kept under constant surveillance, once approached within three miles of the Mediterranean recovery zone. Usually, however, it kept a distance of 10 to 13 miles.

The trawler, whose name was withheld, usually scouts the Mediterranean area, a Pentagon spokesman said.

Asked to describe the vessel, the spokesman said only that it was 165 feet long and carried "varied electronic equipment."

Parks Board Has Big Agenda Set

Ten items will be considered by Parks and Recreation Board members Wednesday at 4 p.m. in an unusually heavy schedule. Several of the items would have been cleared up had they not been put off because of the problem of gathering a quorum in past weeks.

Jess Looney will ask permission to build a permanent Boy Scout hut on a piece of property allegedly owned by the city.

The property is located in the Washington Place Addition on Park Avenue. City Attorney John Burgess is trying to find out who owns the property.

The YMCA is asking use of the city swimming pools to be incorporated into their city-wide summer recreation program. The YMCA pays a fee of 10 cents per person to the city at the end of the season.

A letter from Joe Pickle, chairman of the Y's city-wide Summer Recreation Program, is asking the city to appropriate $2,000 toward the budget to assist in the financing of the program. In 1965 the city increased its contribution to the "Y" budget to $1,800 because of the emergency situation, according to Johnny Johansen, parks director.

Other items include a report on progress at the Lakeview School Park - Campus project; the Webb Air Force Base Entrance, which needs only grass-seeding to be complete; the Rehabilitation Center, which will have a sprinkler system installed within a few weeks; the City Cemetery, where a new burial plot is being laid out; the main swimming pool, where work in replacing the old filtering system is under way.

John Berry, coordinator of the city's softball leagues, will ask that the new softball field be extended in length from 200 to 225 feet as he states the field is too short for grown men to use.

Johansen has indicated that if the field is extended, it will require moving back the light poles at a cost of $400 as well as additional grading. The plan as it now stands has already been approved by the board and the city, Johansen said.

The Boy Scout Troop sponsored by the city police has asked the house formerly used by Shorty Gideon in City Park to be used as a Scout hut.

Finally on the agenda are financial reports by Johansen on the parks and the cemetery.

Optimists Check Bikes

This week is Bicycle Safety Week, and Big Spring Optimists are asking citizens to "Be Alert So They Won't Get Hurt."

During the week, Optimists are urged to cooperate and make Big Spring the "safest cycling city in the U.S." according to Optimist Truett Newell.

President Van Perry and chairman Kent Brown will head inspection of bicycles at all city elementary schools Wednesday afternoon, Newell said. Along with the safety inspections, Optimists will pass out copies of a pamphlet on bicycle safety rules.

"The harder we work to train these young people," Perry said, "the better the world we will live in tomorrow."

Optimists will be stationed at all elementary schools Wednesday afternoon for the inspections.

Over 3,000 Hours Of Service

VA Volunteers Receive Honors

About 100 volunteers, service clubs and organizations were presented certificates of appreciation at a special Veterans Administration appreciation reception Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Federal Community Room.

Donald D. Van Meter, hospital director, presented plaques to Mrs. Harry Lees and Mrs. A. W. Moody, who both had served over 3,000 hours in the VA last year.

Certificates of devotion (1,000 hours) were presented by Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chief of staff, to Mrs. J. D. Collier, American Red Cross; R. R. McKinney, Disabled American Veterans; L. R. Mundt, World War I Baracks; Mrs. Ira Norrell, Red Cross; Mrs. Paul Pennington, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. A. E. True, Association of National Letter Carriers Auxiliary; A. E. True, National Association of Letter Carriers; Mrs. Keats Watts, Red Cross; C. E. McDonnell, chief, medical administrative service, presented certificates of outstanding service (500 hours) to Oliver Coter Jr., BPO Elks; Mrs. C. W. Deajs, Red Cross; Helen Ewing, Red Cross; Mrs. D. H. Goodnough, World War I Auxiliary; D. H. Goodnough, World War I; Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, National Catholic Community Service; Mrs. Ella Mae McClung, Red Cross; Frank Mullican, World War I; Mrs. C. A. Murdock, Order of Eastern Star; Mrs. John Staulcup, Red Cross; Mrs. J. L. Swindell, World War I Auxiliary; and Mrs. Billy M. Woods, non-affiliated.

Twenty-seven other volunteers were honored for service of from 100 to 300 hours or more.

Certificates of recognition for 15 years of service to the VA were presented to Mrs. Ralph Baker, Red Cross; Mrs. H. D. Bruton, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Ethel Crenshaw, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary; Mrs. Bernard Fisher, National Jewish Welfare Board; Mrs. Willard Hendrick, American Red Cross; Mrs. Joe Jacobs, Gold Star Mothers; Mrs. Harry Lees, Gold Star Mothers; Mrs. Coy Nalley, Red Cross; and Mrs. Nan Phillips, Red Cross.

Various service clubs and organizations were also awarded certificates.

Coahoma Science Fair Scheduled

COAHOMA — Sixth Annual Coahoma Schools Science Fair will be staged at the Coahoma High School on Friday and Saturday.

There have been 192 entries made so far, according to Phil Wynn, science teacher in the schools and fair director. This is the most entries in any of the fairs so far held.

Last year, Wynn said there were 150 entries. The fair is open to the public. Activities start at 7 p.m. Friday and the fair will close that night at 9. Saturday it will reopen at 9 a.m. and remain open until 11 a.m.

Judging of the demonstrations and exhibitions will be Friday afternoon. Science teachers from the Big Spring High School and chemists from Cosden Oil and Chemical will be judges. These judges served last year.

A special feature of the fair this year will be a Civil Defense display arranged by W. D. Berry, Civil Defense director.

The fair is divided into four sections. These are high school, junior high school, elementary (fourth, fifth and sixth grades) and primary (grades one, two and three).

Blue, red and white ribbons will mark the exhibits which get the favorable nod of the judges. In addition, a sweepstakes winner in each division will be named and his or her entry

Baptist Temple Church Marks 14th Anniversary

Baptist Temple Church will observe its 14th anniversary at a special barbecue dinner Thursday at 7:30 p.m. according to the pastor, the Rev. James A. Puckett. The affair will be held on the paved parking lot behind the church, with Western dress or casual style.

Jackie Shirley, Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Shirley, will entertain with Western music. Other special features will include recognition of the charter members present and the presentation of the new $60,000 budget, which is expected to be the largest budget ever subscribed by the church, Rev. Puckett said. The young people of the church will serve the meal. All beginners and primaries will receive a free covered wagon ride. Coordinators for the barbecue are Leon Hand and Doyle Grice, general chairman; Mrs. Dottie Redden, dinner arrangement committee chairman; and Mrs. Bob Wren, reservation committee chairman. Rev. Puckett said that Baptist Temple was organized with only 20 families some 14 years ago but today has 309 families represented, with the membership growing from 20 to 750. During the last three years, 500 new members have been added to the church.

Civil Wedding Of Actress, Producer Told

PARIS (AP) — Film star Sophia Loren and producer Carlo Ponti were married April 9 in the Paris suburb of Sevres. The civil wedding was disclosed by Mayor Charles Odic of Sevres and confirmed in London by Miss Loren.

"Carlo and I were married on April 9," she said in an interview on the set of a movie she is making in London.

Asked why they had been secretive, Sophia said:

VERY PRIVATE
"I waited so long for that moment that I wanted it to be very private and to share my happiness only with my family and a few of my closest friends."

Miss Loren flew to Paris from London on Easter weekend to meet Ponti.

Odic said he married the couple in his office. Normally marriage banns are published in advance, but the mayor said the procedure was not followed because of a decision of local authorities.

Ponti, 51, and Miss Loren, 30, were first married in 1957 by proxy in Mexico, but their marriage was not recognized in their native Italy. Ponti had been married previously and there is no divorce in Italy.

BIGAMY CHARGES
The proxy marriage led to bigamy charges against the star and the producer and after eight years of legal formalities their trial opened in Rome last July. Neither appeared in court but their testimony from a pretrial investigation was read and the proceedings were adjourned.

Last year, both Ponti and his first wife, Giuliana Fiastri, became French citizens. Presumably they obtained a divorce in France before this month's marriage.

HERSHEL L. DOYLE

Doyle To Speak To Legionnaires

Hershel L. Doyle, adjutant of the American Legion, department of New Mexico, Albuquerque, will be the featured speaker of the 19th district convention of the American Legion, which will be hosted by the Plainview Post, April 23-24. He will speak at the banquet and joint meeting of the Legion and its Auxiliary Saturday night and again during the business meeting Sunday afternoon.

No stranger to Texas Legionnaires, Doyle was born at Rocksprings, entered the Army Air Corps as a private in 1935, graduated from the Signal Corps Communication School at Fort Sam Houston, and was retired from active service in 1944.

A 20 year continuous member of the H. U. Wood Post 245 at Seguin, Doyle served as post commander, 14th District commander in 1951-52, and was appointed a national field representative for the American Legion in 1955, assigned to the states of Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. He was appointed department adjutant of the American Legion in New Mexico April 1, 1965.

Youth Thrown From Sailboat Still Missing

DALLAS (AP)—A 21-year-old North Texas State University student was missing and presumed drowned today after he was thrown from a sailboat into White Rock Lake about 2 a.m.

The youth was Robert Alvin Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Patton of Denton.

MIDNIGHT SAIL
Police said young Patton was one of five North Texas students on a midnight sail in a boat owned by Colin Mustian, 22, also of Denton. Officers quoted the other youths as saying they were "hanging over the side, trying to keep the boat upright" when the breeze stopped unexpectedly.

The youth said the boat whipped upright violently, with the motion hurling Patton into the water.

THROW JACKET
Officers quoted the four youths as saying young Patton was not wearing a life jacket, but they threw him one from the boat.

The youths told police they did not know if he managed to grab the life jacket.

According to officers, the youths said the boat drifted some distance from the area, and it was "several minutes" before they managed to get back to the general vicinity. At that time, they said, they were unable to locate Patton. The youths said the missing student was a good swimmer, but might have become confused in the darkness.

W. T. SNELLGROVE

Snellgrove Is Appointed

WACO — A Dawson County farmer is serving on the special 18-man Texas Farm Bureau Growth Committee which completed its first meeting here in mid-April.

W. T. (Bill) Snellgrove, 52, of Rt. 1, O'Donnell, was appointed to the committee by TFB President C. H. DeVaney. The group, consisting of county Farm Bureau leaders from all sections of the state, is making a study-in-depth of Farm Bureau operations at county and state levels. It will make recommendations to the TFB board of directors in September.

Establishment of the committee was authorized by the TFB board of directors. County voting delegates at the 1965 state convention called for "a complete study of the feasibility of expanding services . . . taking into consideration both present and future needs."

Snellgrove produces cotton and feed on 1,040 acres. He has been farming all his adult life. He is currently serving as president of the Dawson County Farm Bureau. Previously, he served as vice president and director.

Snellgrove is a state director of the Producers Grain Corporation, Amarillo. He is married and has two children.

Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Deuce of ♠
South pulled off an upset in bringing home his four spade contract, and yet his opponent would have required a peek at the declarer's holding in order to foresee the killing defense.

After East opened the bidding with one diamond, South chose to overcall with one spade in preference to making a take-out double. He was interested in only one suit and, unless partner could act on his own initiative, South was not concerned with missing a possible game. When North raised to two spades, South proceeded to four.

West opened the deuce of diamonds. East put up the ace and, realizing that it might not be safe to continue the suit, he switched to the ace and ten of clubs. South played the king.

Prospects were not very bright, for the declarer was confronted with the loss of two more tricks—one each in diamonds and clubs. His only apparent chance was to effect an end play. East's failure to continue diamonds, suggested that he held the queen of that suit. If he had started with only two clubs, then South might thrust him on lead at a time when he had no safe means of exit.

First it was necessary to begin a stripping operation. Declarer led a heart to the ace and ruffed a heart in his hand. He cashed the ace of spades and led a spade to dummy's ten. The last heart was trumped by South and the queen of spades drew East's remaining trump. The stage was now set.

Declarer played the king and another diamond, putting East in with the queen. The latter had only red cards left, and the return of either a heart or a diamond permitted South to discard his club loser while he ruffed with North's king of spades. The defense was restricted to two diamond tricks and one club.

East was in position to defeat the contract by playing the nine of diamonds on West's opening lead to dislodge declarer's king. If South leads a club from dummy subsequently, East must rise with the ace, cash the ace and queen of diamonds and then wait for West to score later with the queen of clubs.

We are not inclined to charge East with an error, for the play of the nine of diamonds would have cost a trick if West and South's diamond holdings were exchanged. Furthermore it would have required clairvoyance on the part of East to come up with the winning defense and the ouija board has not yet become standard equipment for the tournament player.

A Devotional For The Day

He who does not love does not know God; for God is love. (1 John 4:8, RSV)
PRAYER: Lord of love, help me to live this day as one who knows that he is loved. May I share Thy love with those I meet today. In the name of Christ I pray as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."
(From the 'Upper Room')

Citing Some International Law

The United States has properly refused to be hurried out of France by President de Gaulle. And in demanding more time to remove military installations in response to De Gaulle's withdrawal from the NATO integrated defense system, the U.S. government has emphasized a vital point about international relations.

The point, implicit in our insistence that agreements can be terminated only in accordance with the procedures agreed to, was reinforced by Secretary of State Rusk in an interview with the French magazine Paris-Match. Rusk was asked what he thought about De Gaulle's thesis that certain U.S.-French military agreements are no longer applicable because they do not meet present conditions.

Rusk answered with these cogent remarks: "Most of the military agreements by their terms continue for the life of the North Atlantic Treaty to which France says it intends to continue to adhere. This thesis strikes at the very heart of the sanctity of international agreements. If one party to an agreement is no longer bound because that party believes that the agreement does not meet present conditions, then the agreement has no validity of any sort."

Rusk also noted that the United States has more than 4,000 agreements with other nations, and said that our government is "concerned about actions which would weaken the growing fabric of international law." This, and in particular what Rusk said about the sanctity of agreements, gets to the heart of the matter.

To sum up: The United States has said to France, in effect: All right, all right, we're going — but don't rush us! And in the course of saying so our government has made a point about the international agreement-keeping whose implications go far beyond the present divergence between U.S. and French policy.

Take Another Look At This

The arguments in support of developing a supersonic commercial airliner at public expense become less and less convincing as cost estimates rise. Even though the government says it intends to try getting its money back from airlines that make use of the plane, this shapes up as an enormous investment in a project that promises little in the way of general public benefit.

When development of a 2,000-mile-an-hour transport first began to be talked of seriously, the cost was figured at something under a billion dollars and it was thought that the airlines might put up a fourth of the total. The airlines balked at any such share in the cost, though the plane would be designed solely for civilian use. Last summer the Federal Aviation Agency forecast a minimum development cost of a billion to a billion and a half, which it said would "increase substantially" if designed competition among manufacturers were

Now it appears that even this estimate was relatively small potatoes. The FAA's deputy administrator for supersonic development, retired Air Force Brig. Gen. J. C. Maxwell, has been reliably quoted as telling an audience that the total financial investment in the plane may come to $4 billion. That is more than four times the sum talked of at first, and most of it would be tax money. Even in these times of heavy federal spending, $4 billion is a whopping amount.

It seems so, in particular, when measured against the need for an aircraft that would cater to those who want to get from here to there at 2,000 miles an hour — and can pay for the privilege. There is small practical chance that the wisdom of this undertaking will be reconsidered in Congress. But the projected cost of $4 billion argues for just that, because experience has shown that estimates have a way of falling far under the ultimate figures.

Art Buchwald

Thank You So Much, Mrs. Murphy

WASHINGTON — There's been a lot of talk in Washington about unsafe automobiles. It was revealed during Senate hearings that many models have been called in by manufacturers to repair a faulty mechanism. But to avoid publicity the customers have not been told that there is anything wrong with the car.

How do you get someone to bring in his car without giving away the secret that somebody at the factory goofed? This is the problem that every dealer faces.

"HELLO MRS. Murphy. This is Octavius Packard, the man who sold you your new Bumblebee convertible. I just called to ask you if everything was all right . . . Is it? Why that's just fine . . . How's Mr. Murphy? Still alive? Well isn't that good news . . . No, no special reason why I'm asking . . . about the car I sold you, I was wondering how you like the doors on it . . . You like them very much . . . Then both of them are still on? . . . No, no, it's just a little joke.

"SAY MRS. Murphy, you do have power steering on your car, don't you? . . . You do? . . . Let me ask you this. When you turn the car to the left, does it make a complete circle before you can straighten it out again? . . . It doesn't? . . . No, it's not supposed to, Mrs. Murphy. I was just curious that's all . . . How's the gas? . . . You get 15 miles to the gallon? . . . That isn't what I meant. When you press down on the gas what happens when you ease off the pedal? It comes up. Then the accelerator doesn't stick? . . . No Mrs. Murphy it shouldn't stick. It only sticks on the more expensive models. I mean a sticking accelerator is optional. You really don't need it on a small car.

"I'll BET THE brakes work real good. You don't notice any slip in them do you? . . . I thought not . . . Any wiggle? . . . No wiggle . . . Do you have to pump much to stop the car? . . . Not too much? . . . Isn't that great.

"Let me ask you this Mrs. Murphy. How do the tires feel to you? . . . You don't know much about tires . . . Have you had any flats? . . . Now please don't get nervous Mrs. Murphy. I'm very sentimental about the cars I sell. Each one is like a child to me. Whenever I have nothing to do I just sit around and think to myself, 'I wonder where Mrs. Murphy's Bumblebee is now.'

"Do you do much driving at night, Mrs. Murphy? You do? How do you like our new dual dimmers? . . . You like them . . . You say they're still both working . . . What do you mean I sound surprised? I couldn't be happier . . . We stand behind every Bumblebee, Mrs. Murphy and what's good for Bumblebee is good for the country.

"I SURE DO miss your car, Mrs. Murphy. You know it was a favorite of mine. I used to sit in the front seat of it, and I hope I'm not getting personal about this, but I used to sleep in it. Right on the showroom floor.

"I would like to ask you a big favor, Mrs. Murphy. I've never asked this of a customer before. Would you bring in your car sometime this week and leave it overnight so I could sleep in it once more for old times sake.

"NO, I'M NOT queer, Mrs. Murphy. I always sleep in my cars. That's why I can give such good buys. I don't have any overhead at home . . . I would you do it for me just once? I promise I'll never ask you again . . . Oh, thank you so much, Mrs. Murphy. I'll be eternally grateful . . . Tonight? You'll bring it in tonight. God bless you, Mrs. Murphy. Good-bye . . .

Fulbright Is Growing Critic Of LBJ'S Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright has complained that President Johnson didn't nail down his facts. But he sometimes operates on assumptions himself.

Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, has been increasingly and persistently critical of Johnson's foreign policy, especially in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

But Fulbright proposed trying to make a deal with them: the United States would withdraw its forces from Southeast Asia if Red China would let its neighbors alone.

Look magazine says Fulbright would consider McNamara's view — that Red China wants to become the dominant force in Asia, Africa and Latin America — "childish" — although Fulbright doesn't have any more factual information about China's intentions, and probably not as much, as McNamara.

IN SHORT, he is assuming they are not the menace they say they want to be, as he assumed the Communists in the Dominican Republic were not the menace Johnson said he thought they were.

He opposed American intervention in Viet Nam — again on an assumption — because, he said, he believed that even if it all went Communist it would be a buffer state against Red China, which is something he can't prove.

mer, outlined a program for Communist world conquest by which revolutionaries in underdeveloped countries could be used to encircle and defeat the capitalist nations. Lin called Viet Nam the testing ground.

SECRETARY OF Defense Robert S. McNamara took the Red Chinese at their own say-so and Secretary of State Dean Rusk later indicated it may be a generation before the Chinese change their aggressive ways.

Third Set Of Twins

LONDON (AP) — Jane Froggatt, 28, has given birth to her third set of twins.

"This is extremely unusual," said a spokesman for the British Medical Association. "It's not completely unheard of, but it's certainly a million to one chance."

Mrs. Froggatt, wife of Sussex farmer Richard Froggatt, gave birth to her third set of twins in a London maternity home two weeks ago. She took them home Monday.

THE FIRST set of twins—Jennie and Ian—were born four years ago.

Then came Peter and Alison, now 16 months old.

The new twins are Nigel and Eric.

"My husband and I had a slight shock when the first set was born," said Mrs. Froggatt, "and it was even more of a shock when the second pair came along."

SHE ADDED: "I can assure you it was a triple shock when the last arrived, but we love them all dearly. Yes, six young children are going to be a handful."

Mrs. Froggatt said that after their first set of twins, her husband took out insurance against having another pair.

When the second pair was born he collected $350.

After the second set he took out another policy against his wife having a third set of twins.

MRS. FROGGATT said her husband hoped to collect $2,800 on Nigel and Eric.

She said she preferred not to go into details about the premiums paid.

"If we didn't live on a farm our bills would be enormous," said the mother. "For instance, the children consume about 45 pints of milk a week and eat about 60 eggs. I make my own bread, cakes and jam and the children's clothes."

Making That Breath Last

At the submarine base, Pearl Harbor, the Navy has a tall tower—112 feet high and 25 feet across—which is filled with water. At points as one ascends this tower, there are specially designated gates to permit entrance into the water. At the top you can look down into the deep tank which is brilliantly illuminated with high powered lights.

THIS TOWER is used in training submarine sailors how to save their lives in the event they should be trapped beneath the sea in a disabled pigboat. All recruits for sub duty have to pass the tests provided by this water tower.

When I watched the operation a number of years ago, the Momsen lung was being used. Perhaps the Navy has another device by now. Diving bells are also explained and demonstrated in this tower.

AT 100 feet below the surface, I am told the pressure of water against the human body is more than 100 pounds to the square inch. To deal with this pressure, if a man is released at this depth, he must know exactly how to control his body, how to expand the chest-full of air he has in reserve and how to handle himself as he creeps up the rescue line to the surface.

I saw a young seaman the day I was there fill his lungs with air at the top of the tank. He dropped to a cable which extended to the bottom of the tank and he began a leisurely descent into the depths. He eventually reached bottom, 112 feet below, and with slow measured steps marched the 25 feet across the bottom of the tank to another line extending upward to the surface 112 feet above him.

HE GRASPED this line, and, with even more deliberated speed, began a tortoise-like climb upward. Periodically, he would pause and a cluster of bubbles would emerge from his mouth.

Finally, after what seemed hours to me, he reached the surface. He wiped his wet hair from his face, shifted over to the rungs of a ladder and had swung idly to and fro. He was not nearly as breathless as I was and all I had done was peer into the crystal depth and watch his tedious climb.

The officer in charge informed me that the descent and ascent had taken three minutes and nine seconds.

TRY HOLDING your breath for just one short minute. You'll find it is not as easy thing to do.

Consider what it is like with 100 pounds of pressure bearing down on your body. Think how you must be constantly careful not to climb too fast and that you must make numerous pauses en route.

We applauded, but my young friend was disappointed when the officer reported the three minutes nine seconds time. His record, he informed me, was four minutes and 37 seconds and he had hoped to give us a demonstration a man could survive under water that long with just the supply of oxygen his lungs provided.

THIS YOUNG man devoted all of his time training in this art the men who man our submarines. They may not have become adept as he is nor able to stay under for nearly five minutes. Nevertheless when they completed their training they had a much better chance to survive if disaster struck their submarine.

I saw a lot of exciting things at Pearl Harbor, but the memory of that young seaman creeping up the rope from the depths of that tall tank stay with me clearest.

Maybe We're Not So Bad

WASHINGTON — Since there is no group more pessimistic about American affairs than our intellectuals, it is newsy when you can find evidence of egghead smiles. From three sources of highbrow expression, there are these notes of cheer:

At the Midwest Slavic Conference, held last month at Ohio State University, somebody made a head count of Communist splinter groups throughout the world — no less than 82 were identified. Considering that the U.S.A. has defensive treaties with "only" 42 countries, it can be argued that the Soviets are more over-committed than we are to protect our dependents.

WHEN IT comes to "credibility" (in which the U.S.A. sometimes seems lacking), the U.S.S.R. also has slipped since 1956, when Khrushchev was able to frighten the "imperialists" from Suez by rattling his nuclear rockets. Today, the American forces are daily raining bombs on Communist North Viet Nam (though not yet on its prime targets), without credible threats of reprisal from the Kremlin. The other Communist splinter groups can't have much confidence that Moscow will rush to their rescue.

RUSSIA'S LACK of military response to our North Viet Nam bombing shows the U.S.S.R. to be exceedingly cautious. In the language of expertise: "The threshold of Soviet involvement in hostilities against the United States was revealed to be even higher" than we expected.

Horelick and Rush, authors of "Strategic Power and Soviet Foreign Policy," raise this question: "Can the U.S.S.R. maintain its pretensions to be the protector of the Communist and anti-colonial worlds?" At the time of Suez and Hungary, and up to the Cuban missile crisis, that question was hardly in order. We had been bluffed into the assumption that Russia was ready and able to intervene if we dared fight its nominal allies.

IN ANOTHER new book entitled, "Beginning of the Cold War" by Martin F. Herz, we have a quasi-official writer who kicks down the guilt-laden thesis that the U.S.A. was the instigator of the Cold War. Back in 1961 Professor D. F. Fleming's two-volume "The Cold War and Its Origins" blamed it all on us. He said we didn't show proper respect for Russia's loss of 15 million dead in World War II and for the Soviet's right to seize East Europe as a buffer against another Western invasion.

BUT MR. HERZ, a former Foreign Service officer, whom the State Department assigned to "reading, study and reflection" on European matters, seems to believe that Stalin planned all along to wage a Cold War against his former capitalist allies. The Russian dictator was convinced that we would fall into a postwar depression, as bad or worse as the prewar one from which Roosevelt was not able to extricate the country except by a war economy.

The intellectuals, usually pessimistic to the point of hostility toward American viewpoints, are here saying that maybe we aren't doomed after all.

Big 'If's' For LBJ, Congress

WASHINGTON — Footsore and weary members of Congress are straggling back after the Easter recess. With the exception of Senators lucky enough to have two or four years more to go, most of their time has been spent canvassing prospects for re-election.

They return to a crisis in Viet Nam far more grave than when they left for home. The political upheaval jeopardizing the prosecution of the war presents the Johnson administration with some grim choices. For the first time, administration sources are saying in private that one of those choices may be a neutralist government that will negotiate an end of the war and a pull-out of American forces.

SCATTERED reports brought back from the hustings indicate that the reaction of most Americans is one of puzzled uncertainty. Why are we there if they don't want us? This is a question frequently asked. Another is: What about the safety of our boys if they're going to be shot at from in front and from behind?

The striking contrast between the President of a year ago and the President today underscores the somber mood in which the legislators are returning to the capital. A year ago, buoyed by the record landslide of 1964, Johnson was at the floodtide of his capacity as a persuader and organizer.

TODAY THE President concentrates almost entirely on Viet Nam. His closest advisers say he rarely thinks or talks about anything else. And as the growing pressure of the present dilemma bears down, he is increasingly irritable and impatient.

He finds the war in all its aspects a hair shirt. Better than anyone else he knows how it knives into the programs to create the Great Society. He knows, too, what the political effects will be with greatly increased casualties—when 300,000 Americans are fighting in Viet Nam.

AT MID-SESSION this year the Congress has before it a comparatively small agenda. After the 1965 record smasher, Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield said he thought 1966 should be devoted to consolidation and assessment of new laws put on the statute books. While the President took issue with this statement, insisting there would be another big harvest, the current outlook does not support his optimism.

Mansfield is saying the 89th Congress will adjourn as early as August to give members time to build campaign fences.

BUT IN predicting his August getaway date, Mansfield adds a great big if — if the war in Viet Nam and the political crisis it has provoked do not mean new legislation. High in the "if" category is the need for new taxes applied to personal and corporate income. The consumer price index for March to be released shortly may tell the tale.

If it reflects the relative stability of last month's wholesale prices, the administration is expected to decide that the immediate danger of inflation has abated and no tax increase will be necessary.

THAT WOULD take the President off a very hot spot. The oldest political tradition is that nothing is so calculated to set the voter against the party in power as a tax increase in an election year. New taxes to support a war that has dubious support in the country would fly in the face of simple political prudence.

Billy Graham

I became a Christian two years ago. My parents are doing everything possible to discourage me. They scold me when I read the Bible. What can I do? E. L.

It is unusual in these days to find such open opposition to Christian living. But it is not surprising for the Bible says, "If any man live Godly in Christ Jesus, he shall suffer persecution."

Either your parents need psychiatric help, or your way of living is a rebuke to their manner of life. If it is the latter, by all means remain faithful. They are possibly just testing you to see if you have the strength to hold out against their onslaughts.

Don't stoop to their tactics. Do not use their weapons. As the Bible says, "Pray for them which despitefully use you." They may hold out for awhile, but if you keep your heart pure and right, they will not be able to resist the influence of your devout life.

God has given you an opportunity to put your faith to the acid test. Be faithful and you will be rewarded. I am convinced you will eventually win your parents by your consistent life. God Bless you!

Two Common Reducing Problems

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: We are two girls, aged 15, who weigh 140 pounds and we know it is too much. We have cut carbohydrates and fats completely out of our menus, but our parents force us to eat them for a "balanced diet." If we keep on eating potatoes, bread and cake, how can we lose weight?—TRY-ING

Overweight is not entirely a matter of what you eat, it's also a matter of how much you eat. Your parents evidently do not realize that almost all foods contain some carbohydrate, and that's another point to consider. If you girls get plenty of protein (lean meat, eggs, fish, dairy products) and dutifully eat your vegetables and fruit and drink a couple of glasses of milk a day, you will have a balanced diet. (You will get enough fat that way, too. Americans on the average eat twice as much fat as they really need.)

Can't you make a bargain with your parents? Have cereal for breakfast every day, skip cake or other desserts entirely, eat some potato, which is a good nutritious food, and it won't be fattening provided it isn't fried, slathered with butter, or covered with gravy. Say a baked potato with very little butter or margarine.

You can be perfectly healthy and still control your weight, and your parents ought to be happy. The only point that worries me is this: Some people, without any good reason, confuse plumpness with health. Maybe your parents do. Actually, you girls are on the right track.

Dear Doctor: I am taking diet pills and avoiding all foods like bread, cookies, potatoes, etc. However I have been constipated, and have been taking laxatives. Do you think the problem is from the pills or the diet? Should I continue the laxatives?—M.S.

This is a matter of what you consider a constipation.

This is a rather common complaint among dieters, until the facts become clear to them. If you eat less, and have less food residue to dispose of, obviously your bowels will not (and cannot) move as plentifully as they did before. Thus what some people regard as constipation isn't really that at all. It's just that there is no need for the amount of bowel activity to which you had become accustomed.

One easy answer is to eat considerably more volume of low-

Firm Readies Wider Market

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Cities Service Co., involved in a proposed $50 million sale of Midwestern products, is preparing to turn its energies on expanded East Coast marketing operations, its officials say.

Cities Service Oil plans to compete in the eastern market using products supplied by its Lake Charles, La., refinery and connected to the Colonial pipeline system from the Gulf Coast to New York. Stepped up use of products from the Cities Service refinery at East Chicago, Ind., also is planned, officials said.

13,500 STATIONS
Cities Service Oil, with 13,500 service stations in 37 states from the Rocky Mountains to the East Coast, launched a $20 million expansion program last year built around the new marketing name "CITGO."

Under the agreement reached by officials of Gulf and Cities Service, 2,300 retail service stations, 175 distributors and other marketing facilities in Oklahoma and five other states are involved in addition to the refinery.

CONTINUE REFINERY
Gulf officials said they plan to continue operation of the Ponca City refinery with the 200 persons currently employed there.

The acquisition would give Gulf about 33,000 stations in the United States and vastly expand its previously limited marketing area in the Midwest.

Cities Service stations involved in the proposed transaction are in Oklahoma, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Illinois and Nebraska.

The bulk gasoline stations are located in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota.

Nine Absentee Votes Are Cast
Nine absentee ballots had been cast in the office of Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, at the close of business at 5 p.m. Monday.

Absentee voting in the May 7 primary election opened Monday and will close at 5 p.m. May 8.

Mrs. Petty pointed out that the law specifies that no absentee votes can be accepted by her office on any Saturday, holiday or after 5 p.m. on any working day.

The only time an absentee vote can be honored is during the regularly scheduled working days of the office of the clerk.

Lomax Clubbers Discuss Contests
District elimination contests slated for Saturday at Lubbock occupied the attention of members of the Lomax 4-H Club at the Monday meeting in the home of Ervin Brigg.

Brad Posey opened the discussion and Carla Perry told of her experiences and winnings at the district meeting. She was in the food show competition. Molly Adkins and Joann Crawford presented demonstrations. Molly's demonstration was on "How to Buy a School Dress." Joann's topic was "Eating a Good Breakfast."

Forsan To Vote On School Bonds
Forsan Independent County Line School district voters are being reminded of a date at the polls Saturday.

On that date, propertied, qualified voters will decide on $350,000 in bonds to finance a school plant at both Elbow and Forsan.

Meetings have been held to explain what is proposed under the program, and so far the issue has received strong support. Polls will open at 8 a.m. Saturday at Elbow and Forsan and will remain open until 7 p.m.

Court Challenge Prepared On Integration Guidelines

REYNOLDS, Ga. (AP)—Former Lt. Gov. Garland Byrd says he is preparing the first court challenge of the 1966 federal school desegregation guidelines and the case probably will reach the Supreme Court.

Byrd returned Monday from Washington where he said he studied the Congressional Record and the 1964 Civil Rights Act, and found that the federal education department's 1966 guidelines clash with the act and the intent of Congress in passing it.

Enrollment in the Big Spring Public Schools was down again this week, dropping from last week's total of 7,625 to 7,596. Enrollment one year ago was 7,388. Figures are compiled in the office of Sam Anderson, superintendent of schools.

Drive To End
Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi's drive to gather magazines and books and games to be sent overseas to GI's in remote units will end Saturday, according to Mrs. Bob Knight of the chapter. When boxed, the gathered items will be flown to Viet Nam.

Teenager Slain, Friend Wounded By Abductor
DALLAS (AP)—A Dallas teenager was shot to death and her companion was wounded today by a man who abducted the girls at gunpoint as they walked home from a theater.

The victim was Lois Faye Ridery, 15. Her companion, Shirley Crenshaw, 18, was treated for gunshot wounds in the head and hand.

Miss Crenshaw told police she and Miss Ridery left a theater and were walking home when a man pulled his car to the curb and forced them into the car at gunpoint.

She said he drove them to the Southeast Dallas where he forced them to walk with him to a river bottom.

Miss Crenshaw told police that the man raped her friend and tried to rape her. Police quoted the girl as saying she resisted.

Club Officers Are Installed

The installation of new officers in the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs was held at the YMCA Monday night with a candle-lighting ceremony.

Presidents were installed by Robert Gossett; vice presidents by Randy French; secretaries, Patty Haralson; treasurers, Harvelyn Adams; and chaplains, Lynn Heith. New council officers were installed by Curtis Mullins, YMCA general secretary.

Hi-Y Council officers for the 1966-67 year are Randy Nicholson, president; Jack Cathey, vice president; Debbie Duncan, secretary; Julia Vaughn, treasurer; Nikki Thomas, chaplain; and Jane Ryan, reporter.

The outstanding senior Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Youth Awards were presented by Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. to Robert Gossett, Hi-Y, and Patty Haralson and Lynn Heith of the Tri-Hi-Y. Other awards were presented by Robert Gossett to the advisors, including Mrs. R. L. Heith, Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, Mrs. John Daventport, Susie Lynch, Mary Ann Ploeger, Wade Choate, and Gordon Myrick.

Other officers installed were, Junior Girls Tri-Hi-Y; Nikki Thomas, president; Judy Fletcher, vice president; Ann Heith, secretary; Jill Lewis, treasurer; Jenna Clinkscale, chaplain; Linda Gray, reporter.

Tributes Paid To Maj. Penn
Final tributes were paid the memory of Maj. Charles H. (Chuck) Penn, former Webb AFB engineer who died April 22 in Viet Nam, at the base chapel Tuesday morning.

Chaplain B. F. Meacham recalled the fallen officer as a man devoted to his family, to the base chapel, his community and nation. He had taken, said Chaplain Meacham, a keen personal interest in the installation of the memorial window in the base chapel.

"Little did he know that this was to be a memorial to him," said the chaplain.

He praised him as a man who had given his best to his country in three wars and who had laid his life on the altar of service.

Chaplain W. H. Warren offered the prayers in the solemn memorial service, and Mrs. Miriam Russell sang the "Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Don Alverson was at the organ.

At the service, it was revealed that the civil engineering division, which Maj. Penn had headed here, had made a memorial contribution to the chaplain's scholarship fund.

Minor Traffic Wrecks Checked
Five traffic accidents Monday injured no one, officers said today. Involved were the van of Roberto Mendoza, 901 N. Gregg, which ran off East Eighth at the Birdwell Park drainage ditch and overturned; the pickup of Harold A. King, 1511 Mesquite, which ran through a yard at 1301 W. 2nd and went through clothes on a clothesline; the cars of Richard B. Davidson, 2715 Central, and Robert Allen Baker, 604 Steakley, 50 east of Gregg on Fourth.

New Wildcats In Two Counties

Borden and Sterling counties have new wildcat locations. In Borden, Hall, Lewis and others of Houston's No. 1 Louis B. Conrad will drill to 7,225 feet to test the Pennsylvanian six and three-fourths miles north-east of Vincent. Location is 660 feet from the north line and 1,980 feet from the west line of section 83-20, LaVaca Navigation miles southeast of the Von Roeder, (Canyon) pool, but separated by failures.

In Sterling, Shaheen & Son of Abilene plan the No. 1-69 Collins Estate to drill to 6,900 feet 15 miles northwest of Sterling City. Location is 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 89-17, SPBR survey.

Also in Sterling, A. L. Holley and others of Big Spring's No. 1 R. P. Davis will drill to 2,000 feet to test the San Andres four miles west of Sterling City and 3/4-mile northwest of the El Kay (Glorieta), Clear Fork, Upper (Glorieta) field. Location is 1,938 feet from the north line and 1,656 feet from the east line of section 3-T, T&P survey.

Howard and Garza counties have new locations. In Howard, Socony Mobil plans three wells eight miles southwest of Iatan to seek the Howard-Glasscock (San Andres) at 2,450 feet on rotary tools.

No. 13 Chalk Estate spots 1,685 feet from the north line and 447 feet from the west line of section 114-29, W&N survey.

No. 37 Mary Clark spots 840 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of the northeast quarter of section 124-29, W&N survey.

And No. 20 G. O. Chalk spots 990 feet from the south line and 570 feet from the west line of section 114-29, W&N survey.

In Garza County, the Rocker A, Northwest will be sought at 2,900 feet on rotary tools by the Bentley Oil Co. of Lubbock's No. 2 Connell, which is located 330 feet from the south line and 1,650 feet from the east line of section 12-5, GH&H survey, six miles southeast of Post.

COMPLETIONS
DAWSON: American Trading's No. 1 D. D. Wood is completed and abandoned at a total depth of 3,800 feet. Location is 1,980 feet from the north line and 1,656 feet from the west line of section 734-10, T&P survey, five miles east of Lamesa.

Club Officers Are Installed

The installation of new officers in the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs was held at the YMCA Monday night with a candle-lighting ceremony.

Presidents were installed by Robert Gossett; vice presidents by Randy French; secretaries, Patty Haralson; treasurers, Harvelyn Adams; and chaplains, Lynn Heith. New council officers were installed by Curtis Mullins, YMCA general secretary.

Hi-Y Council officers for the 1966-67 year are Randy Nicholson, president; Jack Cathey, vice president; Debbie Duncan, secretary; Julia Vaughn, treasurer; Nikki Thomas, chaplain; and Jane Ryan, reporter.

The outstanding senior Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Youth Awards were presented by Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. to Robert Gossett, Hi-Y, and Patty Haralson and Lynn Heith of the Tri-Hi-Y. Other awards were presented by Robert Gossett to the advisors, including Mrs. R. L. Heith, Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, Mrs. John Daventport, Susie Lynch, Mary Ann Ploeger, Wade Choate, and Gordon Myrick.

Other officers installed were, Junior Girls Tri-Hi-Y; Nikki Thomas, president; Judy Fletcher, vice president; Ann Heith, secretary; Jill Lewis, treasurer; Jenna Clinkscale, chaplain; Linda Gray, reporter.

Tributes Paid To Maj. Penn
Final tributes were paid the memory of Maj. Charles H. (Chuck) Penn, former Webb AFB engineer who died April 22 in Viet Nam, at the base chapel Tuesday morning.

Chaplain B. F. Meacham recalled the fallen officer as a man devoted to his family, to the base chapel, his community and nation. He had taken, said Chaplain Meacham, a keen personal interest in the installation of the memorial window in the base chapel.

"Little did he know that this was to be a memorial to him," said the chaplain.

He praised him as a man who had given his best to his country in three wars and who had laid his life on the altar of service.

Chaplain W. H. Warren offered the prayers in the solemn memorial service, and Mrs. Miriam Russell sang the "Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Don Alverson was at the organ.

At the service, it was revealed that the civil engineering division, which Maj. Penn had headed here, had made a memorial contribution to the chaplain's scholarship fund.

Minor Traffic Wrecks Checked
Five traffic accidents Monday injured no one, officers said today. Involved were the van of Roberto Mendoza, 901 N. Gregg, which ran off East Eighth at the Birdwell Park drainage ditch and overturned; the pickup of Harold A. King, 1511 Mesquite, which ran through a yard at 1301 W. 2nd and went through clothes on a clothesline; the cars of Richard B. Byron Tunnell, the incumbent, said by guaranteeing small independent oil operators...

Texas' proration system not only protects the small operator but it works for the nation...

Tunnell's opponent, Bob Haring, said he would represent the public on the commission.

POOLING LAW

Haring said it is "particularly important for the public to have a spokesman" since a new oil and gas pooling law makes it possible for companies to drill and take the land owners' minerals under certain conditions without the landowners' permission.

Pointing out the need for more business women, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said Monday that women have to "put forth much greater effort than would be required of a man in a similar position."

Carr made the remarks Monday at a Fort Worth luncheon of business and professional women.

One candidate for re-election, U.S. Sen. John Tower, B-Tex., left the Texas political scene Monday to return to Washington for the opening of Congress. He had toured the state during the Easter holidays.

DAM DEDICATION

Gov. John Connally was to appear today at dedication ceremonies at the new Canyon Dam on the Guadalupe River at New Braunfels. He was to attend dedication ceremonies later at Galveston at the new Galveston County Courthouse.

Speaking in San Angelo, Connally's opponent, Houston oilman Stanley Woods said the Texas Employment Commission should develop a special program to find jobs for people over 45. He said the program should consist of promotions, incentives and special personnel within the commission's office.

"It is simply a matter of persuading employers of the value of hiring experienced, middle-aged workers," he said. Then he said, it would be up to the state agency to match the workers and the jobs.

Franklin Spears, Democratic candidate for attorney general, campaigned in Harris County. He said citizens of Harris County and voters throughout the state "are joining my campaign to improve local law enforcement and to restore respect for law and order."

Another Democratic candidate for attorney general, Galloway Calhoun, campaigned Monday in the Rio Grande Valley.

"Winning the attorney general's race is part of an AFL-CIO plot to take over not only the Democratic party but also the state government," he told a Harlingen audience.

"It is bad enough having Ralph Yarborough in Washington, but it will be worse to elect someone to the state attorney general's office who will work with him at the state level," he said.

Calhoun visited Mission, Pharr, McAllen, Mercedes, Weslaco and Harlingen Monday and plans to campaign today in Raymondville, Kingsville and Corpus Christi.

The other candidate for attorney general, Crawford Martin, told a Kilgore audience he would safeguard Texas elections against any possible abuses resulting from the new voter registration system.

NEEDS SCRUTINY

He said the new voter registration system will require "close scrutiny" for possible abuses.

"The attorney general has prosecution authority in this important area of election procedure, and I intend to carry out a vigorous and vigilant program to preserve honest elections and purity of the ballot in Texas," he said.

Administration Officials Face Housing Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials face a battery of questions today from a Senate Banking subcommittee on President Johnson's housing bill.

Subcommittee members said they had received many searching inquiries from mayors and other officials back home about the key section of the bill — the demonstration cities program.

Secretary Robert C. Weaver of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and his aides were to be the leadoff witnesses.

Weaver has been pushing the demonstration cities plan as a new massive effort to eliminate slums in selected cities over the country.

Some subcommittee members said in advance of the hearing they feared the program was so complex, and involved so many elements other than housing, that it might bog down of its own weight.

They said that the long-tested urban renewal and low-rent public housing programs also were designed to get rid of slums, but that many problems had developed in connection with them.

Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chief of staff at the Veterans Administration Hospital, is attending the hospital directors' conference at Kansas City, Mo., this week.

'Daughters' Will Back LBJ Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Daughters of the American Revolution prepared today to adopt resolutions to endorse President Johnson's stand in Viet Nam and censure pupils protesting that stand.

The tone for the five day session was sounded by retired Army Gen. Arthur Trudeau, who told a luncheon Monday the United States should consider stepping up the war in North Viet Nam and "quit coddling the Communists."

Trudeau, now president of Gulf Research and Development Co., said "There is no country in the Free World where they (Communists) are not fomenting revolution and subversion and chaos and disorder. Despite this, there are those who would tell us not to be overly disturbed about such explosive developments because the tenets and goals of communism are changing."

Instead, he said, "Our goal must still be to reduce or eliminate communist imperialism by all means short of war."

Trudeau warned that today "we see our government defied by young men, indoctrinated by communist propaganda, mutilating their draft cards and demonstrating against an established foreign policy which affects our very life's blood. "Can you believe," he asked, "that the demonstrations against our involvement in Viet Nam, which appeared on our college campuses and around the world on the same day, were not organized and directed from some central headquarters? Where was it? In Cuba?"

Auto Safety Standards Still Under U.S. Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering a broad new set of safety requirements for motor vehicles it buys, including relocation of the gear shift lever or its redesign as a dial or buttons.

The General Services Administration, in disclosing this Monday, said no decision has been made on the 67 safety standards now being studied.

Last year, the agency adopted 17 safety requirements for 1967 models. Its standards apply only to government motor vehicle purchases, but the automobile industry had announced it is including some of them in future models sold the public.

Ford Motor Co. disclosed in Detroit its dealers are asking approximately 30,000 owners of 1966 model Ford and Mercury passenger cars to return them for inspection of a brake line.

"Company personnel discovered, while unloading some vehicles from rail carriers on which the cars had been spring-loaded, that a few of them had a damaged brake line due to severe bouncing," the Ford announcement said.

"No reports of the failure of the brakes in any units have been received from customers," the company said.

rain doused Walnut Ridge, Ark. Earlier, storms in Texas were blamed for the deaths of six persons and property damage of thousands of dollars.

More than a foot of snow fell in mountain areas of Wyoming and Montana and amounts during the night from Wyoming into northern Colorado and the Black Hills of South Dakota ranged from two to five inches.

The Weather Bureau said blizzard conditions were expected to develop in the Dakotas as the center of the storm moves northeastward from Colorado. The bureau issued warnings to stockmen and motorists.

Blowing snow cut visibility in the storm belt and several major highways in Wyoming were closed. Temperatures dropped into the teens and lower as cold air spread into the region.

SNOW MEASURED 18 inches in parts of Montana and more than 4 inches covered sections of northeastern Colorado. Snow mixed with rain pelted Salt Lake City, Utah. Freezing weather was indicated in northern Utah and southern Idaho, posing a possible threat to fruit crops.

Stormy weather continued to pound areas in the south central states with violent thunderstorms in Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma late Monday night. Winds of 60 to 70 m.p.h. and hail lashed Wilburton, Okla. Heavy hail also hammered Brinkley, Ark., and more than one inch of

Candidates Speak To Classroom Teachers

Political talks were the highlight of the Monday afternoon meeting of the Big Spring Classroom Teacher's Association at the Howard County Junior College Auditorium.

Mrs. Doug Wiehe was program chairman, and Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services, introduced Roger Brown and Temple Dickson as guest speakers.

Brown and Dickson spoke in behalf of their candidacy for the Texas Legislature. Dr. Ainsworth was in charge of the question and answer period following the speeches.

George Archer reported on her committee work for the year and on the political clinic she attended in Midland.

Other committee reports were given by John Castleman and Bill Irwin.

The members authorized the donation of $5 to the Million Dollar Teacher Fund in Washington and of $100 to the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Charles Pope gave a report on the recent convention held in Houston.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

In spite of very rough treatment from the elements and the dog part of our family the iris rhizomes, given to us by MRS. OBIE BRISTOW last fall, are beginning to bloom. I am fully aware that other gardeners have had enormous blooms on their plants for some time now but we haven't. I don't know if the blooms we are about to be blessed with are Techney Chime or Floaming Sea because the dog has churned the rhizomes several times . . . but we are about to have some flowers and to my untutored eye it appears they might be the same thing. I can hardly wait to see if I can tell the difference—if there is some or if they are indeed from the same start. If they all bloom my joy will know no bounds.

Believe it or not I have a chart of the place JP planted the posies . . . It was right until the dog unearthed several of them. I may never know if I have My Darling or Bang or Gypsy Lullaby. But I will know that whatever comes up it came from good stock!

Families have more fun than anybody and the family of MRS. JAMES N. SHAW, 2709 Rebecca, had a wonderful time Sunday. An uncle and three aunts of Mrs. Shaw were here for the reunion which was attended by 60 family members and several friends. The uncle and the aunts are the brother and sisters of Mrs. Shaw's late father, C. K. WEST. They are JIM WEST of DelLeon, MRS. MARIE THOMAS and MRS. LOVIE CHOATE of Electra. MRS. PEARL CLARK, Albany, and MRS. CHARLES GREENE of LaMeza, Calif.

Needless to say there didn't need to be any entertainment when that many members of the family got together for a big meal and visiting.

S. SGT. and MRS. ROBERT D. HAYNES have arrived here after three years residence in Murbach, Germany, while the sergeant was stationed at Hahn AFB. They, with their children, Ronald Lee, Danita Kaye, Debra Lynn, and Darla Ellen, are with Mrs. Haynes' mother, MRS. MAMIE LEE DODDS. This is the first time the grandmother has seen little Darla Ellen who is only five months of age.

During the 30 day leave the Hayneses plan to go to Kansas City, Kan., to visit his mother and they will also make a trip to Killeen to visit her brother's family, the ART DODDSES. The Hayneses will be stationed at Laredo when the leave expires in the middle of May.

ART DODDS, incidentally, who is music and education director of the First Baptist Church in Killeen left Friday for the Great Lakes Crusade at Burnham, Ill., a Chicago-suburb, where he will be until May 2 for the meeting that includes five states.

DR. and MRS. CLYDE THOMAS, accompanied by his sister, MRS. TRACY ROBERTS, plan to leave by private plane Thursday for a medical meeting in Las Vegas, Nev. They will be met in Las Vegas by their son-in-law and daughter, LT. and MRS. CHARLES KAUFMAN, who live in Tacoma, Wash. Mrs. Kaufman is the former Cleo Thomas. The Thomases and Mrs. Roberts plan to return here Sunday.

I once heard of a woman who was dealt a perfect spade hand and bid seven no trump. Then there was the other who was dealt 13 of a kind and fainted and now there is another . . . apparently she just sat and stared for a few minutes before she got her bearings and then made a proper bid of seven spades and made it. She is JUANITA HEFLIN who had the hand dealt her in a foursome with DONNA DYER, MINNIE EARL JOHNSON and POLLY BARNETT.

Had just a fleeting hello to MRS. BOYD McDANIEL as she was leaving for her home in Abilene this morning. She has been visiting in the home of the senior HANK McDANIELS.

MRS. DUDLEY J. DVORAK, formerly Kay Kelly, left for Tucson, Ariz., to join her husband, Capt. Dvorak, stationed in Tucson Monday. Mrs. Dvorak is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Layman, 3228 Cornell.

AAUW Unit Told Story Of Book

A book review of "No One Hears But Him" was the highlight of the Monday evening meeting of the American Association of University Women. The 75 members and guests met at the Student Union Building of Howard County Junior College.

Mrs. Clyde Angel reviewed the Taylor Caldwell book by giving dramatic excerpts concerning individuals who visited the "listener."

Mrs. W. H. Hallmark was program chairman, and Mrs. Gary Sims presented a gift of appreciation to Mrs. Angel.

During the business meeting, members voted to donate books used in the year's study program to local libraries.

Mrs. John Smith was elected to serve as chairman of the study on "Law and the Citizen" for next year.

It was announced that Mrs. Sims will be the delegate to attend the April 22-23 conference in Little Rock, Ark. Mrs. Sims is the recently re-elected president of the local chapter.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with a spring flower arrangement. Co-hostesses were Mrs. L. K. Gladden, Mrs. Bruce Lotzblire, Mrs. Phillip Oulette, Mrs. John Branscum and Miss Eulalia Mitchell. The next meeting will be May 2 at the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Building. Mrs. William Peden will conduct the study session.

Karen Kee Honored

Karen Kee, senior music major at Texas University and a member of Tri Delta Sorority, was chosen as Dream Girl 1966-67 for the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity last Saturday evening at the Dream Girl formal held at the Crest Hotel in Austin at which time the Little Sisters of the Shield and Diamond were presented for the first time by the Pi Kappa Alpha. The nominees for the Dream Girl were selected from this group of Little Sisters.

Miss Kee was escorted by Tommy Gentry, who is a member of the PKA and is a past secretary-treasurer. He is also on the Honors Council. Miss Kee was presented with a dozen red roses and an engraved charm bracelet. Her picture will be hung in the fraternity house.

Miss Kee is the daughter of Mrs. Charlene Key and Gentry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Gentry.

Class Notes Birthdays

The birthdays of three members were noted during the Saturday luncheon of the Friendship Class of the Wesley Methodist Church. The 17 members and guests met at the home of Mrs. G. R. Hilliger, 1508 Main.

Celebrating their birthdays were Mrs. Joe Jacobs, Mrs. Hilliger and Mrs. E. R. Cawthron.

Following the gift exchange, Mrs. Cawthron presided during the business session. Plans were approved to have a birthday social each month, and Mrs. J. W. Brigrance gave the devotion.

Arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums were featured throughout the entertainment area.

Area Fishermen Take Llano Trip

FORSAN (SC) — Fishing on the Llano River were S. C. Cowley, Leland Camp, G. L. Monroney and Bob Cowley.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Alexander and daughter, Kerl Lynn, have returned to their Pecos home after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shouits. Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Scudday were visitors in Baird with the Jerry Matthews family; and, at Possom Kingdom, with Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Scudday.

Mrs. Frank Davidson and Mrs. S. C. Cowley are in Abilene for a few days. Mrs. Davidson is a guest in the New Bryant home and Mrs. Cowley is visiting the Douglas Williams.

Steve Cowley celebrated his sixth birthday recently at the home of his mother. Fifteen guests were present, and co-hostesses were Mrs. S. C. Cowley, Mrs. G. L. Monroney and Mrs. Amy Reid.

Daughter Born To The Tommy Rogers

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Roger announce the birth of a daughter, Jacqueline Ruth, who was born at 7:40 p.m. Monday at the Sterling City Hospital. She weighed seven pounds, three ounces at birth.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ashbill of Sterling City, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Roger.

Mrs. Joy Harmon Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Joy Harmon was the guest speaker for members of the Cactus Chapter of American Business Women's Association when they met Monday evening at Coker's.

Mrs. Harmon, who has been in banking for a number of years, told the group of her experiences on her first job and related that she started her career at the bank in Stanton. Her first employer gave her good advice which she has followed during the years since she joined the staff at the First National Bank here. Mrs. Harmon gave tips on the correct procedure of conducting one's banking and told the women that it is good practice to know the people in the bank in order to get the banking done more easily.

Mrs. Adren Westbrook was the vocational speaker and told of her job of "getting us ready for big school" which is how her five-year-old pupils at Jack and Jill Kindergarten explain her work.

Workshops held during the Southwestern District meeting of ABWA in Fort Worth recently were reported on by Mrs. C. O. Trantham. Mrs. A. C. Moore, who also attended, told of the four of the city and outstanding places visited. Others who were at the meeting from this chapter were Miss Eunice Hickson and Mrs. Boone Horne.

Appointed to the nominating committee were Miss Hickson,

Mu Zetas Select Candidates

Nominations for the Girl of the Year contest were made during the Monday evening meeting of the Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. The members met at the home of Mrs. Bobby Suggs, 1807 N. Monticello, with Mrs. Robert Sanders as cohostess. Mrs. Roy Granbery presided.

The winner of the contest will be announced during the April 28 Founder's Day Banquet at the Ramada Inn. Contestants are Mrs. Granbery, Miss Beverly Jones, Mrs. Art Clonts and Mrs. Robert Hunter.

A film on cancer was shown by Mrs. Les Bright and Mrs. Robert Knight.

Dawson 4-H Clubbers Name Representatives

LAMESA (SC) — The Dawson County 4-H Clubs held elimination contests Saturday to determine Dawson County representatives at district contests to be held in Lubbock this weekend.

Nine 4-H members, the Nuevo Amigo's, will compete in the senior division of the "Share the Fun" contest. Theresa Hodges from the Caprock 4-H Club will represent the county in the junior division.

Other contestants will be Vickie Phipps, Welch 4-H Club, livestock judging, senior division; Perry Seitern, Caprock 4-H Club, Mrs. Horne and Mrs. T. D. Price. Guests other than the speaker were Mrs. Lambert Misk of the Scenic Chapter, ABWA, and Mrs. J. C. Rogers.

Meeting place for the May meeting will be announced in the bulletin.

Melva Gentry and Brenda Choate of the Lamesa 4-H Club will demonstrate the use of an electric disposal unit at the district contest.

Attendance Good At Deanery Council Meet

Eighty-six were registered at the Deanery Council of Catholic Women Monday at St. Thomas Catholic Church when the Rev. Thomas Tschoepe, bishop of San Angelo, was the speaker.

Following the mass, the group gathered for luncheon where the bishop spoke. Election of Mrs. James A. McCaleb as first vice president and Miss Tina Molina as second vice president, was held during the business session. Mrs. J. M. Morgan, 94, was awarded a medal for service and Miss Carrie Scholz was presented a medal for service and talent.

Deanery members were registered from Big Spring, Coahoma, Stanton, Hermleigh and Snyder. Guests came from Odessa, Rowena, Miles and Midland.

Lady, you'll just love flameless electric cooking . . . it's so dependable

There's no guesswork to cooking with an electric range. Whether you're cooking in the oven or on surface units, you just set the controls for the heat you want and you get exactly the same heat from the same setting every time. Only an electric oven can be insulated all around, including the bottom. An electric oven is flameless and requires no flow of air into and out of it to support combustion. Temperatures inside the oven remain constant and the heat is evenly distributed for best results when you are baking or roasting. Accurately measured heat is one of the many reasons why you'll just love flameless electric cooking.

Favorite Spots In Big Spring Are Wagon Wheel Drive Ins

Looking for a way to feed the family without having a lot of dishwashing and bathing and dressing up to do before mealtime?

Three popular places are located in Big Spring, where you can drive in, order what you want, and eat it in the comfort of your car. Take a rest while you are eating a wholesome meal.

Mrs. H. M. Rainbolt, owner, says westerners believe in eating beef, and all kinds of uses are made of it.

Wagon Wheel No. 3, out on US 80 west, has the "best barbecue in town." The real pit-cooked pork sandwich, spare ribs, sausage, chicken and beef are mouth-watering. They also have service inside as well as curb service.

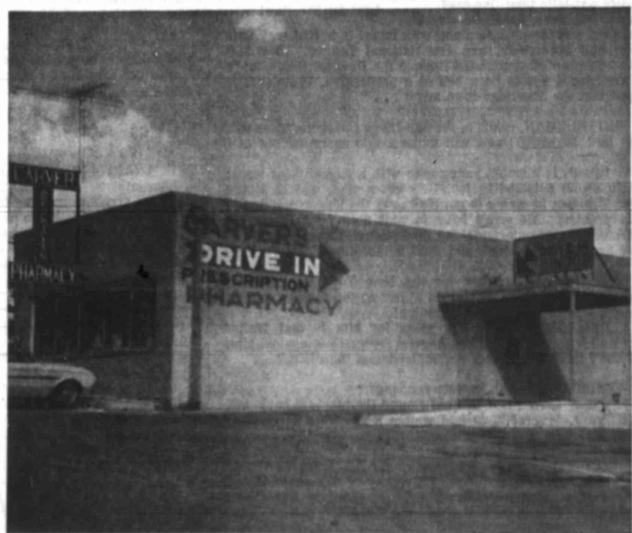

All you have to do is drive up and check the menus which include the largest, juiciest hamburgers you ever ate, along with the side lines, which include pickles, French fries and the drink of your choice.

Other foods include all kinds of sandwiches, as well as the Wagon Wheels' famous fried chicken, drinks, including coffee, and others made at the fountain.

Then there is the service of providing lunches for working people. A telephone call to your favorite Wagon Wheel Drive In will have the working man's or working woman's lunch ready when asked for. A lot of Big Spring people are using this service.

After all, the Wagon Wheel Drive Ins are in Big Spring to serve the public, and a telephone call will have that service ready for people with just a few minutes to eat, who drive up with the time to do a lot of waiting.

Carver's Is Convenient

Just drive up to the prescription window at Carver's for your prescription — it's so easy. It's almost fun.

New Line Of Cosmetics Featured At Carver's

Carver Drive-In Prescription Pharmacy, located at East Tenth and Nolan, has just got in a complete new line of cosmetics for those with small pocket-books. The line of cosmetics is called "Cosmetically Yours," and features high quality at low prices, according to Milton Carver, owner.

For instance, "Cosmetically Yours" liquid eye-liner is only 49 cents, a real bargain. Non-smear lipstick costs 39 cents, and regular lipstick costs 59 cents. The line's nail polish sells for only 59 cents, too. "Cosmetically Yours" waterproof mascara costs the same, and compact powder is only 79 cents at Carver's.

Pettus & Plant Does Any Job Electrically

Pettus & Plant Electric offers 30 years of experience in all forms of electrical service, and 12 years of continuous service to Big Spring's electrical service needs.

A. C. Pettus operated the firm for 12 years, and Jan. 1, 1966, Ross Plant purchased half interest in the firm which is at 501 E. 2nd.

The firm offers all kinds of electrical construction, residential, commercial, industrial, for homes, business buildings, plants, factories, and does oil field electrical service as well.

Pettus & Plant offer day and night service on electrical breakdowns. They have electrical material in stock to replace or repair all kinds of electrical machinery. They have electric motors on hand, as well as a full stock of electric motor parts — bearings, bushings, switches, capacitors, magnet wire.

Late - model equipment for rewinding all sizes of electric motors is in the shop.

Also carried are light bulbs of all sizes, fuses of all types, electric saws and drills, lines, connections — just about anything you'll need for electrical repairs.

Another service Pettus & Plant offer is in air - conditioner servicing. They also sell new and used air - conditioners, and always have a large stock on hand.

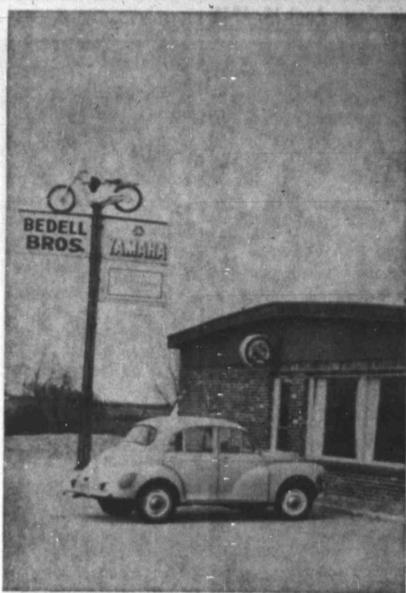

In stock are all parts needed for air - conditioners, ranging from pumps, floats, pulleys, pads, to belts and fittings.

Pettus & Plant will wire a home completely, if you wish; re-wind any size of electric motor; repair oil well electrical equipment; and do it all well. Remember, Pettus has more than 30 years' experience in the field.

State National Is Happy To Serve

State National Bank of Big Spring and the people who work there make a practice of keeping up with developments and helping business and industry to grow — including farming.

The bank has grown with the town and with Howard County. When one thinks of expansion, one of the best places to get information and to find consultation is the State National Bank. The management feels the bank can grow only if the area it serves can grow.

Cactus Paint Made For Westex Uses

If your home or other buildings need painting to protect them from rain, winds and steaming summer heat, there is still plenty of time to get the job done.

The home with the paint beginning to crack or peel, or look dingy, is in shape to let the elements do a great deal of damage. The only way to get the bare spots covered is with a good coat of paint made to withstand West Texas weather.

Cactus Paint Co., local industry located on East Highway 80, manufactures paints for homes, both interior and exterior, business buildings, and all uses, to stand up under the prevalent weather conditions of this area, including pounding dust storms.

Much testing and analyzing go into the work before a paint is put on the market, and it must meet the highest standards before Cactus Paint Co. approves it for use.

In addition to the work in the laboratory, tests are made on lumber and other materials under the punishment of outdoor weather conditions to see whether or not it stands up.

If a customer wants a room painted to match the rest of the house where the finish is still good, a Cactus job will give him what he wants. If a color is not shown on the color cards or charts, or if it is one of the customer's own choosing, Cactus personnel can help.

Creighton's Has Tires

Need tires for your car, pickup or truck that will stand up in all kinds of driving in the West Texas area?

Drive by Creighton Tire Co., 601 Gregg, to see the fine line of Seiberling tires available.

Seiberling tires have a wide, deep, high-traction tread, which gives exceptional traction. Among other features of the tires are positive braking power, outstanding stability, easy handling and quiet performance, coupled with the guarantee for the life of the original tread.

Houston Loss Isn't Blamed On Astroturf

HOUSTON (AP) — Only three errors were committed when the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Houston Astros 6-3 Monday night, and the Astrodome's man-made grass infield wasn't at fault for any of them.

The first error came when Houston outfielder Rusty Staub bobbled Ron Rairly's single to center that let in the first run.

In the fifth inning, third baseman Jim Lefebvre of the Dodgers had no trouble scooping up Sonny Jackson's grounder — but made a bad throw to first for an error.

Los Angeles' second error, and the third and last of the game, was committed in the seventh inning when second baseman Nate Oliver couldn't get enough glove on pinch hitter Bill Heath's grounder.

More than 25,000 watched the world champion Dodgers become the first team to win an official game on the synthetic infield, made of tough nylon strips zipped together. Astro officials hope to carpet the entire outfield with the bright green material, dubbed Astroturf, by mid-June.

Although Lefebvre committed one of Monday night's errors, he commented before the game on the turf's improvement since his last appearance here in exhibition play.

"The ball still comes off it quickly," said the energetic rookie who socked the Astros for three home runs in their series in Los Angeles last week. "But I've noticed a lot of improvement in the dirt. They've done a lot of work on that."

Astrodome officials ordered the ground beneath the carpet softened after comments from some players that the push surface was too fast — balls often bounced off the turf with alarming speed.

The synthetic rug was necessary because real grass had difficulty growing under the Astrodome's roof. When light panels in the big top were painted to cut down sun glare, the grass had even more trouble.

The first official game in the dome this season after seven exhibition contests saw Houston's Robin Roberts fall in an attempt to post his 282nd big league victory. He wound up instead with his 239th loss, his second this season.

The Dodgers hammered 10 hits off Roberts, who went out in the fifth inning. Mike Cuellar replaced him after Willie Davis doubled in Lefebvre for the second run of the inning and fifth of the game.

Don Sutton gained his first major league victory in holding the Astros to eight hits in eight innings for the three runs.

Sutton, a 21-year-old righthander, ran into trouble in the eighth, however, when Staub hit a two-run double. Phil Regan took over in the ninth to protect the lead.

Lou Johnson singled across a run in the Dodgers' two-run first and singled in another in the two-run fifth. He scored in the ninth after leading off the inning with a double.

Los Angeles' Houston pitcher Willie Mays pitched 5 1/3 innings, allowing 10 hits and 10 runs, including 8 earned runs. He struck out 10 batters.

Celtics Try To Even Count With Lakers

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics return to business at hand and try to square their National Basketball Association series with the Los Angeles Lakers tonight after naming Capt. Bill Russell their 1966-67 coach.

Less than 24 hours after dropping the series opener 133-129 in overtime, the Celtics surprised Lakers tonight after naming the sports world Monday by choosing Russell to succeed Red Auerbach, who is retiring from the coaching ranks after the playoffs to concentrate on duties as general manager.

"I'm pleased, proud and happy," Russell said after becoming the first Negro to coach a major league pro club. "Once again the Celtics are making National Basketball Association history — not only on the court but on the bench."

The 32-year-old Russell, who has two years left on a contract paying him $100,001 annually, announced he would serve as a player-coach. He admitted that he was getting old, but said, "As a player, I believe I'm one of my assets as a coach."

There is little question that the 6-foot-10 Russell faces a stiff challenge. As Auerbach's successor, he will take over from the most successful coach in NBA history.

Russell earned All-America honors at the University of San Francisco and starred in the Olympic Games before joining the Celtics in December, 1956. He immediately helped build the Celtics into a dynasty.

Boston won its first NBA title in Russell's freshman season, but lost to St. Louis in the finals the next year. Since then, the Celtics have won seven straight championships, a feat unparalleled in pro sports history.

The Celtics resume their bid to give Auerbach another title as a retirement present at the Boston Garden tonight. They are rated strong favorites to even the best-of-seven series with the Lakers before the clubs move to Los Angeles for games Wednesday and Friday.

Critics Active

ROME (AP) — Delegates of the International Olympic Committee are arriving in Rome today for a crucial meeting to pick the sites for the 1972 Games — at a time when its selection of Mexico City for the 1968 Games still is under heavy fire.

"Davis is a smart young man with a capacity for work; he'll do an outstanding job. He's got a plan, and he knows the direction he wants to go. He knows the league and knows its problems. He won't have to wait until he becomes educated. He can start making decisions right now. He won't be hunting white elephants. He'll be shooting tigers."

JIM BOUTON, pitcher for the New York Yankees, after endorsing the election of Marvin Miller as the man to represent the players in collective bargaining:

"Best thing Miller has going for him is that Walter O'Malley (owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers) is against him. I can't think of a higher recommendation than that."

LINDSEY NELSON, sports announcer:

"They have a clue to what caused the blackout back east last year. Several Mets had winter jobs with a large New England light and power company."

ORVILLE HENRY, sports writer for the Arkansas Gazette:

"Glen Ray Hines (of the University of Arkansas) signed the richest football contract ever awarded a Razorback. The value of it is estimated at over $300,000."

BLACKIE SHERROD, Dallas scribe:

"The Masters course is Arnold Palmer country. The natives worship him. He can hitch up his pants in that typical gesture and the populace will cheer more than a double eagle by Bob Rosburg."

BILLY HERMAN, manager of the Boston Red Sox, when asked if he thought Leo Durocher would pull off the miracle with the Chicago Cubs everyone is expecting of him:

"I don't think he'll last a month. They play the Dodgers the second series of the season. There'll be a rhubarb started in one of the games. Leo will run out onto the field to get into it, and the big guy with 24 on his back (manager Walter Alton of the Dodgers) will pinch his head off."

EDDIE STANKY, manager of the Chicago White Sox:

"I prefer a running game like the Dodgers because pitching is now so good in both major leagues that the old power tactics are losing effectiveness. Good pitching will take care of good hitting almost every time. I'd like to find one key man who could fire up a team like Zorro Versalles fired up Minnesota last year."

Perfect Game Is Hurdled Here By Morton's Mize

Cotton Mize pitched a perfect game in leading Morton's Foods to a 13-0 victory over the Big Spring Optimists in American Softball league play at the City Park Monday night.

Mize faced only 15 batters in the five-inning struggle. He did not walk a batter and fanned 13. Only one Optimist player, Marvin Hart, hit the ball out of the infield.

In the other contest marking the opening of league competition, Big Spring Tire Company flogged Montgomery Ward, 11-1, behind the effective hurling of Thelbert Camp.

The league's ten-run rule was invoked in both engagements, which limited the action to five innings in each instance.

Camp's bat played a leading role in the Big Spring Tire team's win, too. He smashed a double and a single and drove in three runs. Roy New also powered home runs for the winners with a brace of singles.

Ward's escaped a shutout when Tex Mainord smacked a home run in the fourth.

ROME (AP) — Delegates of the International Olympic Committee are arriving in Rome today for a crucial meeting to pick the sites for the 1972 Games — at a time when its selection of Mexico City for the 1968 Games still is under heavy fire.

"Davis is a smart young man with a capacity for work; he'll do an outstanding job. He's got a plan, and he knows the direction he wants to go. He knows the league and knows its problems. He won't have to wait until he becomes educated. He can start making decisions right now. He won't be hunting white elephants. He'll be shooting tigers."

JIM BOUTON, pitcher for the New York Yankees, after endorsing the election of Marvin Miller as the man to represent the players in collective bargaining:

"Best thing Miller has going for him is that Walter O'Malley (owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers) is against him. I can't think of a higher recommendation than that."

LINDSEY NELSON, sports announcer:

"They have a clue to what caused the blackout back east last year. Several Mets had winter jobs with a large New England light and power company."

ORVILLE HENRY, sports writer for the Arkansas Gazette:

"Glen Ray Hines (of the University of Arkansas) signed the richest football contract ever awarded a Razorback. The value of it is estimated at over $300,000."

BLACKIE SHERROD, Dallas scribe:

"The Masters course is Arnold Palmer country. The natives worship him. He can hitch up his pants in that typical gesture and the populace will cheer more than a double eagle by Bob Rosburg."

BILLY HERMAN, manager of the Boston Red Sox, when asked if he thought Leo Durocher would pull off the miracle with the Chicago Cubs everyone is expecting of him:

"I don't think he'll last a month. They play the Dodgers the second series of the season. There'll be a rhubarb started in one of the games. Leo will run out onto the field to get into it, and the big guy with 24 on his back (manager Walter Alton of the Dodgers) will pinch his head off."

EDDIE STANKY, manager of the Chicago White Sox:

"I prefer a running game like the Dodgers because pitching is now so good in both major leagues that the old power tactics are losing effectiveness. Good pitching will take care of good hitting almost every time. I'd like to find one key man who could fire up a team like Zorro Versalles fired up Minnesota last year."

Roy Face Propels Bucs Toward Lead

he has a strong arm — but it's not getting weak. The 38-year-old Face made his fourth appearance of the season Monday night and saved Pittsburgh's 4-3 victory over Cincinnati. It was the Pirates' fifth triumph in the first six games of the week-old season.

Face's performance was similar to his first three and added strong evidence that he will be one of the most effective relief pitchers in the majors this season, his 13th with the Pirates.

A poor 1964 season and a knee ailment last year gave indications that Face might be finished. But he is a veteran at coming back with a record dating to his youth.

"In high school I developed a strep throat," Face recalled, "and they gave me too much sulfa drugs. It weakened my heart."

"The doctor said absolutely no exercise. A few months later, though, I was playing football and not long after that I was accepted for Army service."

"I also had rickets when I was five. The disease left my bones soft and bent, and I ran a high fever. They said I looked more dead than alive. I wasn't expected to live through the night, but I made it."

Now Face is a nightmare for National League batters.

In his first game on opening day last Tuesday, the right-hander came on in the ninth inning with the contest tied 1-1, two out and three Atlanta Braves on base. He retired Frank Bolling on a fly ball, left for a pinch hitter and the Pirates eventually won in 13 innings.

Last Saturday he relieved in the ninth inning, with the Pirates leading St. Louis 5-3, one on, one out and a count of two balls, no strikes on Julian Javier. He promptly induced Javier to hit into a game-ending double play.

The next day he ended a rally after the Cardinals had scored five runs and still had two on with only one out. The Pirates eventually won that one, too.

Finally, against the Reds Monday night, he appeared in the ninth inning to hold a one-run lead. Cincinnati had runners at first and third with two out. Face again wasted little time. He struck out Art Shamsky, and the Pirates had another victory.

His latest appearance was a major league record 459th straight without a start — a start being something he hasn't had since 1957.

A three-run rally in the sixth inning gave the Pirates the victory over the Reds, the last two runs scoring on Jose Pagan's pinch double.

In the only other game, Los Angeles defeated Houston 6-3 as Don Sutton scattered eight hits in eight innings and won his first major league game. Lou Johnson rapped two singles and a double, driving in two runs and scoring one.

Rain washed out Atlanta at Philadelphia.

Arnold Palmer Triumphs In Playoff With Brewer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Arnold Palmer flew home for a rest in his Pennsylvania home today, the four-stroke winner in the Tournament of Champions golf playoff.

Runner-up Gay Brewer headed for the $85,000 Dallas Open, which starts Thursday.

Palmer won his second straight Tournament of Champions title in a playoff Monday and $20,000 when he shot a 34-35-69. Brewer picked up $12,000 second place money with his 36-37-73.

Bucking 35-mile-an-hour winds and a sandstorm, Palmer took a two-stroke lead after the first nine holes of the playoff — the first playoff in the tourney's 14-year history. He went into the 18th hole with a five-stroke margin.

Palmer admittedly played it safe on the last hole and went over par with a bogey 5. But it was still safe enough to give him a four-stroke margin at the wind-up.

The 13-hole playoff attracted 2,847 fans and a gross gate of $19,929. Palmer and Brewer each received $4,982 for the playoff.

Palmer and Brewer traded birdies for the first four holes, but Palmer took a lead of two strokes after nine holes. Brewer fell behind in what probably was the decisive turn of events when he bogeyed the eighth and ninth holes.

Stadium Records Are Endangered

LUBBOCK — At least four Texas Tech track stadium records will be endangered at the triangular meet involving Baylor, Texas A&M, and Tech here Saturday.

Two of the marks, if broken, still will remain in the hands of the current holder — Texas A&M's Randy Matson. The Olympian set the current stadium standards in the freshman division of the 1964 Southwest Conference Meet.

Matson's number of times has bettered the 63-5 1/4 inches. The same holds true for his discus record of 176 feet 9 1/2 inches. Matson's 1966 best is 191 feet 6 1/4 inches.

Baylor's Darrell Ward, co-holder of the pole vault record is likely to soar above the 14-6 mark he, Rice's Warren Brattlof, and Texas' Steve Guyton established here in 1964. Ward's best this year is 15-2.

Field events will start at 5 p.m., the running at 5:30.

Stadium Records Are Endangered

tech performer, the high jump mark of 6-5 3/4 by Dub Thornton in 1959, has also been bettered in earlier competition. Texas A&M's Mike Schrider has leaped 6-6.

Also seriously threatened are the mile relay and 220-yard dash standards.

Baylor's best in the relay, of 3:12.1, is within 2 of Rice's 3:11.9 run here in the 1964 meet. If Texas A&M's Gilbert Smith can clip .1 off his season best of 2:11, he can tie the 21.0 John Roderick ran here for Southern Methodist.

All but three of the Tech stadium records were established at the 1964 SWC Meet. Thornton's high jump came at the 1959 Red Raider Relays. New Mexico's Ken Medley broad-jumped 24-10 1/4 at a triangular in 1963, and Arizona State's Benny Garcia threw the javelin 236 feet 1 inch 10 years ago in the Border Conference Meet.

Field events will start at 5 p.m., the running at 5:30.

Mansfield Pushes Step Toward Peace Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield prodded the State Department today to put out diplomatic feelers for an Asian peace conference on Viet Nam.

Mansfield offered what he called a new approach to possible negotiations. He proposed in the Senate Monday that Hanoi, Peking and "such elements in South Viet Nam as may be essential to the making and keeping of a peaceful settlement" be invited to meet in Burma or Japan.

UP TO DIPLOMATS
Asked in a subsequent interview what hope there is for such a conference, in view of North Viet Nam's rejection of previous peace feelers, he replied: "It's up to the diplomats to see if they can't arrange such a meeting. I would hope that our State Department representatives would consult with Burmese and Japanese officials and suggest such action."

Mansfield said he does not believe that avenue has been explored sufficiently. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the National Democratic Women's Campaign Conference Monday night that President Johnson "spends many hours a day in relentless pursuit of peace."

STOP AGGRESSORS
"A powerful nation can always talk peace," Humphrey said. "This is what we're after." He said U.S. forces "are not in Viet Nam because of geography, or because who is in charge of a government. We are there to prevent the success of aggression."

In Greensboro, N.C., Sen. Wayne Morse predicted a further expansion of the war "so as to justify a total take-over of the government of South Viet Nam by the hundreds of officials there coaching South Viet Nam on how to run its affairs."

The Oregon Democrat, a persistent critic of the administration's Asian policies said Johnson should have pressed efforts to bring the Viet Nam issue before the United Nations.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.,

said in a Look magazine interview that the Viet Nam struggle would have long since been settled "if we had never stuck our nose in this business."

THEIR AFFAIRS
Fulbright was quoted as saying: "I just cannot bring myself to believe that how the Vietnamese work out their internal problems is worth a major war or even gives us the right to intervene." Mansfield's proposals for increased diplomatic feelers drew praise from Sens. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio. But it was evident that few in Congress believe any such solution to the war is in the offing.

DEAR ABBY

Cut Down On Credit

DEAR ABBY: I don't know what I'm writing to you for. My problem is money and you can't help me unless you get big-hearted and send me a check for $50,000. I own my own business and make good money, but my wife spends it faster than I can make it. To make matters worse, I have four daughters who are exactly like their mother. I am going under every month in bills, and there doesn't seem to be any end to it. Will you please tell my wife and daughters to quit being extravagant? OWES PLENTY
DEAR OWES: I will not! That's YOUR job. It's sad enough to have spoiled your wife, but you are guilty of perpetuating the crime by raising four more females in her image. Turn off those charge accounts and put your better half on an allowance.

DEAR ABBY: This is for ALBANY MOTHER who hates tight pants, so she buys her son's slacks at the Salvation Army store because that's the only place she can find pants with pleats in front. She was also very proud of her son because he wore his hair cut short and was an honor student.

My son's hair hangs in delicate curls around his shirt collar, and his pants couldn't be much tighter. It would make such a good story to say he's a delinquent and a high school dropout, but he's not. He is a top student at a fine university. All the adults who know him say he is one of the most conscientious, dependable young men they've ever met. His explanation: "People who know me, know me. And those who don't, have no right to judge me by how long I wear my hair and how tight my pants are."

ANOTHER MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: If your conscientious, dependable son is misjudged because of the length of his hair and the tightness of his pants, he is doing himself a disservice. There are more beatniks with long hair and tight pants than honor students.

DEAR ABBY: How does a girl tell the difference between just a friendly kiss, and one that could lead to trouble?

CANDY
DEAR CANDY: If you don't know the difference, you should not be out after dark without your mother.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Electricians Picketing At Space Center

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Striking electricians were expected today to honor a government request and confine their picketing to one gate at this space center, opening the way for nearly 500 construction workers to return to their jobs.

It was hoped the "one-gate" policy would be in effect by the time the second shift reported at 3 p.m.

The 52 members of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, picketed all five gates Monday in a wage dispute with United Technology Center, a division of United Aircraft Corp.

IDLES SOME
As a result 495 of 1,146 construction workers employed at the Merritt Island moonport stayed off the job — although they were asked by their leaders to ignore the lines. Their absence slowed some building projects.

The single gate policy, worked out by the Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, has proved effective in minimizing effects of past strikes here.

Under it, UTC employees, subcontractors and suppliers use only the south gate to Cape Kennedy. Thus, if the electricians picketed any other gate, the government could file unfair labor practice charges, since the union's quarrel is only with UTC.

STRIKE VOTE
The strikers are members of California-based Local 1201. They and 225 UTC electricians in California voted Saturday to strike after contract negotiations broke down. The contract expired last Friday.

Pickets were up Monday at two UTC plants at Sunnyvale and Coyote, Calif. The electricians here make $3.93 an hour. They ask an hourly raise of 15 cents plus a 30-cent "field rate" for working at the cape. The company offered a 19-cent boost, with no field rate.

Acting School Head Named

HOUSTON (AP)—Glenn Fletcher was named acting superintendent of the Houston School District Monday night to replace John W. McFarland, who resigned earlier this year to take a position at Texas Western College.

Horace Elrod was named acting deputy superintendent for administration.

McFarland submitted his resignation, effective July 23, to become dean of teacher education and professor of education at the El Paso college. He had served as head of the Houston district eight years.

Fletcher and his staff will operate the district, sixth largest in the nation, until a new superintendent is named.

Fletcher had been serving as deputy superintendent for administration and Elrod, assistant deputy superintendent for administration.

Play Slated

The Big Spring High School Drama Department, under the direction of Dan Shockey, will present the contest play "MacBeth" Friday at 8:15 p.m. at the high school auditorium. Student tickets are 50 cents and tickets for adults are 75 cents. The play is a new adaptation of "MacBeth" by I. E. Clark.

Juvenile Crime Hearing Slated

HOUSTON (AP)—A state legislative committee, concerned with the nation's juvenile crime rate and its impact on Texas, plans to hold a two-day hearing in Houston next week to sort out reasons for this problem and ways to stop it.

The House Committee on Juvenile Crime, created by the 59th Legislature, opens the session April 28. Juvenile court judges and juvenile and probation officers in the Houston-Beaumont-Port Arthur area are being invited to testify.

NATIONAL PROBLEMS
State Rep. Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls, committee head, said Monday juvenile crime "is a nationwide problem that is having a strong impact on Texas." According to national statistics, Stewart added, every third person arrested for murder in 1965 was under 25.

Juvenile crime showed a spectacular increase in Texas in 1964, he said. The rate dropped last year "but was still serious."

Stewart said one of the most serious factors in juvenile crime is a lack of cooperation between schools, police and juvenile and probation authorities.

SUBMIT REPORT
The Legislature assigned the committee to study juvenile crime and submit a report with recommendations at next year's session. Hearings already have been held in Dallas and Austin, and more are scheduled.

Committee members include state Reps. John Ray Harrison of Pasadena, George Richards of Huntsville, Alonzo Jamison of Denton and W.T. Duncan of McKinney.

Direction, Curbs Urged On Scientific Research

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Man's ability to control his own evolution soon will have "greater impact on society than the atomic bomb," says a legal authority who proposes that universities and governments set up agencies to direct and if necessary curb scientific research.

"If such a decision-making structure had been in existence I am convinced Hiroshima and Nagasaki would never have been bombed—a demonstration on a desert atoll would have been just as effective," law professor Edgar Jones told a symposium at the University of California Monday night.

NEED ACTION
In an interview he explained: "Scientific innovations are coming so fast, and their implications are so unpredictable, that we won't be able to continue much longer leaving their development to the judgment of individual scientists."

"If some control is not evolved soon we will have irrational efforts to turn off all scientific research. People simply will not tolerate scientific aberrations which they do not understand which may act to their detriment."

LEGAL PROBLEMS
Jones, director of UCLA's Law Science Research Center, made his proposal in discussing legal problems likely to arise from recent scientific advances. Expectable in the not-so-distant future, Dr. Tyler said, will be predetermination of sex, achievement of multiple births at will, preservation of both sperm and egg cells of superior humans, transplantation of eggs cells from a woman with a damaged womb to another woman with a normal womb, and the development of human embryos in artificial wombs.

"In the next four or five decades," he said, "it may be possible to develop successful ways of duplicating children totally in an artificial womb."

Voter Sign-Up Probe Pushed

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Dist. Judge Archie Brown disclosed Monday that investigators have discovered five more aliens registered as Bexar County voters.

He said they were among 77 registrants claiming to be naturalized citizens.

Brown is conducting a court of inquiry, ordered by the grand jury after County Tax Assessor-Collector Charles Davis said his office had found 68 aliens obtained voter certificates during a 15-day registration period last month.

As a result of the latest finding, Brown said it will be necessary to check by mail on all of the basis of applications identifying them as naturalized citizens.

Thousands Of Indonesians At First Premier's Rites

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Heroes of the Indonesian revolution emerged from obscurity and imprisonment today to join a throng of more than 90,000 at a state funeral for Sutan Sjahrir, the first premier of the Republic of Indonesia.

Sjahrir, 57, a Socialist leader, died last week in a Swiss hospital after a stroke. After breaking with President Sukarno in the 1950s, he had been a political prisoner from 1962 until Sukarno let him go to Europe last June for medical treatment.

NATIONAL HERO
Although still technically a political prisoner at his death, Sjahrir was proclaimed a national hero and was buried in the heroes' cemetery. Indonesia's new government opened the prison gates for 24 political prisoners held without charge for more than four years by Sukarno. Given a two-day amnesty to attend the rites, they included two former premiers and leaders of the now-banned Socialist and Moslem Masjumi parties. Political sources said they expected the 24 men to be freed permanently soon.

Former Vice President Mohammed Hatta, Indonesia's No. 2 leader during its fight against the Dutch and its first years of independence, came out of retirement to speak on behalf of Sjahrir's wife and two children at the rites. He broke with Sukarno in 1956.

BRANDED INJUSTICE

Hatta said Sjahrir's arrest after an attempt was made on Sukarno's life was "an injustice that should not have occurred in a nation which believes in humanity. But at that time, human rights were not observed."

Hatta said he wrote Sukarno at the time saying it was ridiculous to believe Sjahrir was involved. Thousands of school children were trucked to the cemetery. It was the largest crowd seen in Jakarta since the burial on Oct. 5 of the six generals slain by Communist rebels during the attempted Coup Oct. 1.
