Airman Charged In Monday Murder

A 20-year-old Webb Air Force Base airman was arrested and charged Tuesday afternoon with the Monday night murder of S. Sgt. Malcolm T. Gore, 31, also of Webb.

The man, Airman J.C. Narciso Joseph Santiago, of Building 222, WAFB, is being held in county jail, Jess Slaughter, peace justice, having refused to set bond.

Santiago made a statement concerning the shooting, Leo Hull, assistant police chief, said, shortly before he was formally arrested.

A witness identified Santiago as a man who came into the Webb base NCO Club before the shooting, went into the restroom and then left, according to Detective Sherrill Farmer.

Air Police investigators, checking base gun registration, found Santiago's name on a registration card for a .32-caliber semi-automatic pistol. Officers said the bullets which killed Sgt. Gore came from a .32-caliber weapon.

Hull said Santiago took them to a .32-caliber pistol, which was in the top of a closet in the room of another airman. The gun's serial number matched that on the registration card of Santiago, Hull said.

Hull said officers talked to Santiago four hours before he made his statement.

S. Sgt. Gore and a woman

NARCISO SANTIAGO

companion, Mrs. Jean Morton, an NCO Club waitress, were shot about 10 p.m. Monday while they were driving in a car some 200 yards from the Webb main gate on Harding Street.

Mrs. Morton suffered a wound in her right forearm and in the side of her head, but was not seriously injured.

Gore was killed by three .32-caliber slugs, two in the chest and one in the head.

Mrs. Morton told officers she and Sgt. Gore were surprised, when a man fitting Santiago's description (short, stocky, curly black hair, about 18 or 19 years old) appeared from behind the back seat of the car. She said a fight ensued and shots were fired.

The assailant ran off west on Ahilene Street, and officers later followed tracks leading under a Webb fence and across railroad tracks, where they were lost.

Santiago made his statement in the Air Police Identification office about 2 p.m. Tuesday after Slaughter advised him of his rights, officers said. He was formally arrested about 10 minutes later and taken to the police station. He was then taken before Slaughter once more, and the peace justice refused him bond. He was placed in county jail.

Santiago, who told police his wife is presently in New York City, also said he has recently received orders to go to Viet Nam. A native of Puerto Rico, Santiago has been stationed at Webb for over three years.

"This is an example of close cooperation between the police, the district attorney's investigator and the Air Police," Jay Banks, police chief, said. "The uniformed officers did an excellent job of preserving evidence and in assisting investigators."

Some Solons Skeptical On Car Maker Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The auto industry's declaration it now favors the federal government having the final say in setting safety standards has met with skepticism from some congressmen.

This became apparent Tuesday as industry spokesmen John S. Bugas outlined the industry's position to an all-day hearing by the House Commerce Committee.

HEARINGS RESUMED

The committee resumes its hearings today with testimony from Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, and spokesmen for the national tire dealers, the Insurance Institute and legal and medical groups.

Bugas made these points: 1. The industry and states should work together with the federal government to formulate broad auto safety standards, covering such things as brake performance, visibility and safety to passengers.

2. Congress should set guidelines, specifying the standards to be considered in light of cost versus potential benefit, compatibility of the safety standards with engineering factors and length of installation time.

BINDING STANDARDS

3. The secretary of commerce would have the power to accept or reject standards formulated by industry or the states and to issue mandatory, binding standards applicable to all new U.S. cars.

"When we're talking about federal standards," Bugas said, "we're talking about broad concepts, major safety characteristics that tell what performance a car shall meet, rather than how these are met."

The auto spokesman then turned to the question of congressional guidelines.

"That sounds good but it doesn't say a whole lot," Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex., told Bugas, a Ford Motor Co. vice president, and representatives of the other three major U.S. manufacturers.

NO DETAIL

"We have not put down language in detail," replied Bugas. "We have introduced concepts."

He promised the committee that the auto makers would submit language covering their proposals for consideration. In essence, the industry statement brought it close to the administration's viewpoint.

"Have you caved in?" asked Rep. Samuel L. Devine, R-Ohio. Bugas said the industry had merely reconsidered some objections that had been raised.

"LITTLE CONFUSED"

"I'm a little confused," said Rep. Torbert H. MacDonald, D-Mass. "You took a completely different point of view in the Senate."

"It is not a completely different approach," Bugas insisted. He said the industry's position before Senate committees was that the federal government and states should work together in the Vehicle Equipment Safety Commission, a compact to which 44 states belong, while the auto makers collaborated to develop industrywide safety standards.

Critics who charged this was a stall "may have had some merit," Bugas said, noting that this approach would have required approval by 50 state legislatures. "There's no delay conceivable in this," he said of the revised approach in which the safety commission would play a consulting role.

"BE WELCOME"

He said the industry felt that having the secretary of commerce as "the ultimate authority" would be "welcome for the purposes of uniformity."

"Your position is considerably different," insisted MacDonald, asking how the committee could be sure the industry's position would not change again.

"I will not guarantee we will not change," Bugas said. "This is progress."

When his next turn to question Bugas came up, MacDonald pursued the point: "It's possible you might change again, you took a 180-degree turn after you left the other side."

"NOT TACTIC"

Bugas: "This is not a tactic. This is something we think is sound. We have no present intention of changing. If someone shows us a better way to do it—MacDonald: "We're going to show you a better way to do it."

One of the industry's most severe critics, Gen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., greeted the industry testimony with a statement that "the industry retreat is more tactical than real" and that the auto makers still favored "federal safety standards set not by the federal government but by the industry and the states."

Officers Puzzle Over Death Of Pedestrian

Highway patrol officers continued to puzzle today over what impelled a 41-year-old California Negro to run in front of a speeding automobile on IS 20, west of town, Tuesday afternoon.

The victim, who was instantly killed, has been identified as L. G. Young, 234 E. Golden, Los Angeles. His wife, Elizabeth, has been notified of his death, according to a teletype message received by Sheriff A. N. Standard today.

The accident, which accounted for the 10th road and street death in this county in 1966, was about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday. It occurred four miles west on IS 20.

Young, who was travelling in a fairly late model sedan, was going east. He brought his car to a stop on the shoulder of the highway. Apparently, officers said, he left the car and began walking back west along the barrow ditch.

A tourist, Edson Junkin, 58, Hillsboro, Ala., was travelling east on the slab. He and his wife, Nell, 50, saw the man plodding along the ditch. As they neared him, he started up the slope onto the slab. The Junkins, who were in the south lane, slowed their car and swung to the north lane.

The man, according to the Junkins, literally leaped in front of the Alabama car. The impact hurled him on top of the hood and against the windshield, which was shattered.

The driver sought to bring his car to a halt, but it was some distance along the road before the body slithered from the hood to the side of the road.

Mrs. C. E. Walker, accompanied by her daughter, Linda, was following the Junkin's car and saw the accident. They live in Stanton. They said it appeared the Junkin car made three swerves in an effort to avoid striking the pedestrian. Mrs. Walker notified officials of the mishap.

The Junkins, who were accompanied by their three-year-old granddaughter, Teresa Jordan, were not injured, but were emotionally shaken by the ordeal. Their car, other than for the shattered windshield, was not badly damaged.

Walter Grice, justice of the peace, ruled death due to accident.

Officers found receipts showing that Young had paid at least four fines in the past few days for driving without a valid driver's license.

Most recent was issued in Stanton just an hour or so, probably, before the accident. He had also been fined for the driver license lack in Midland, where he had paid a fine and also in Pecos. The Pecos receipt was dated April 22 and the two other receipts were dated April 26. A fourth receipt, which bore no date nor the town designation, but stated it was for a fine for no driver's license, was also in the man's papers. He had no driver's license, but he did have numerous documents attesting to his identity. There was a $50 bill and $19 in smaller bills on his person.

Officers said that his car had not broken down and that, after the investigation had been completed, it started readily and ran satisfactorily. It had plenty of fuel.

There was no explanation for his action in parking the car, getting out and starting his fatal walk back in the direction he had just come, officers said.

The body was removed to the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, which was waiting word from the widow as to the disposition to be made of the case.

The Junkins family was en route back to their home in Alabama after a vacation trip. They had left Deming, N.M., Tuesday morning.

Penn-Central Step Historic For Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission unanimously approved today the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads—the biggest merger in U.S. history.

But it rejected by a hairline 6-5 vote another merger plan that would have created the nation's longest railroad.

The ICC, ordered the new Eastern rail giant to take over all operations — passenger and freight—of the bankrupt New Haven Railroad.

The decision was made April 6 but not disclosed until today.

RARE VETO

By handing down one of its rare merger vetoes in an age of continuing rail consolidation, the ICC turned aside the bid of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy to merge, taking over two smaller railroads, into a 25,000-mile system stretching from Chicago to the West Coast.

Over a barrage of dissents, charging the majority with abdication of its duty under national transportation policy, the ICC ruled that the drastic loss of competition and harmful effects to employees in a Northern lines' merger far outweigh the financial advantages of such a consolidation.

There was no immediate comment from the lines involved, pending study of the ICC order.

$5.3 BILLION

The Penn-Central merger — which may take effect in the first week of June—will create a system of some 20,000 rail miles, extending from Montreal and Norfolk, Va., west in an hourglass pattern to Chicago and St. Louis. The corporate giant will have combined assets exceeding $5.3 billion.

The new system, the ICC said in a report by Commissioner Kenneth H. Tuggle, will be in a better position to compete with the East's two other great rail systems—the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western. Those two lines are currently seeking to merge.

With improved financial returns and greater efficiency resulting from the merger, the ICC said, the system "will be able to attract investment capital, maintain and improve service, regain diverted traffic and avoid further loss of traffic to other carriers."

"There is no question but that the transaction will permit more economical and efficient use of the applicants' transportation facilities," the ICC said.

SAVE MILLIONS

Reaping an estimated annual savings of $80 million after eight years, the ICC said, the Penn-Central—formerly the Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co.—will be a boon to shippers and the general public alike.

The commission diverged from the March 1965 recommendation of its examiners by ordering Penn-Central to take over passenger as well as freight operations of the faltering New Haven. Examiners had recommended only a freight takeover.

SINCE 1962

The Penn-Central case has been before the commission since March 9, 1962; the Great Northern case since Feb. 17, 1961.

B52s Strike Targets In North Viet Again

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52s pounded North Viet Nam for the second time in the war today, again attacking the Mu Gia Pass on the supply route to the south.

In their first raid on the Communist north 15 days ago, the Strategic Air Command's eight-engine planes dropped 700 tons of bombs which set off landslides that reportedly closed the pass. But a week later U.S. spokesmen said North Vietnamese workers had reopened the mountain roadway and men and supplies for the Viet Cong were again able to get through.

The U.S. spokesman said no assessment had been made yet of the damage inflicted today by the raid on the mountain gateway on the Laotian frontier 230 miles south of Hanoi.

TERRORIST MINE

While the long-range American bombers from Guam struck the north, Viet Cong terrorists singled out a new target in a month-long wave of violence in Saigon. A powerful mine exploded in the midst of civilian construction workers, killing eight South Koreans and three Vietnamese and injuring more than 40 persons, including some children.

In the ground war, the U.S. 1st Infantry Division and the Marines continued two major searches for the Viet Cong, but so far reported only meager results.

After four days of scouring the jungles north of Tay Ninh City, 50 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian frontier, the "Big Red One" reported killing 15 Viet Cong and capturing 570 tons of rice in Operation Birmingham.

KILL 31 CONG

The Marines said they had killed 31 Viet Cong since they started Operation Georgia seven days ago in Quang Nam Province south of Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

Patrols of the U.S. 25th Division killed 10 guerrillas and captured eight enemy weapons in skirmishes in the Ho Bo Woods a few miles northwest of Saigon, a spokesman said. He said U.S. casualties were light.

A Viet Cong battalion paid dearly for an attack on Dat Do, a government outpost 43 miles southeast of Saigon, Tuesday night. The guerrillas also attacked two nearby Vietnamese platoons, inflicting moderate casualties, a Vietnamese spokesman said.

The Viet Cong left behind 78 bodies after they were driven off by close air strikes and artillery fire, a Vietnamese spokesman said.

MODERATE CASUALTIES

The Communists captured a hamlet chief and inflicted moderate casualties on a militia platoon in an attack on a small town near the Gulf of Siam, the government spokesman said.

An Air Force spokesman said the B52 raid was only about half the size of the first attack on the Mu Gia Pass by the SAC bombers. When the bombers came over their target at 8 a.m., the pass was shrouded in mist.

U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers flew 72 missions against North Viet Nam Tuesday. For the third time in four days, Air Force F4C Phantoms, F105 Thunderchiefs and bigger B57 Camberras tried to knock out the Bac Giang railroad and highway bridge 25 miles northeast of Hanoi, on the main rail and truck link to Communist China.

AF REPLY

Asked if they had succeeded this time, an Air Force spokesman said: "If we'd done the job earlier we wouldn't keep going back."

No American planes were reported lost over the Communist north, although Radio Hanoi said its jets shot down two U.S. planes northeast of Hanoi Tuesday and damaged several others. The broadcast said nothing about the high-performance MIG21 reported shot down in the same area by a Phantom Tuesday.

Seventh Fleet jets spotted several hundred junkies off Tiger Island, in the South China Sea, just north of the 17th Parallel frontier between North and South Viet Nam. A spokesman said the Navy planes destroyed 69.

Losses Widened On Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market widened its losses late this afternoon. Trading continued at a moderate pace.

Early strength by selected issues faded to a great extent as the list showed no disposition to rally.

Special weakness was shown by copper shares as prices for copper in the commodity futures market dropped by the daily trading limit for the third consecutive day.

All Big Three autos were losers. Aerospace issues, airlines, tobaccos, office equipments and electronics were losers.

Rails were scrambled in advance of the ruling on rail mergers by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Trading in certain of the stock issues involved was halted by the New York Stock Exchange while the Street awaited the news.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 9 at 349.9 with industrials off 1.9, rails off .6 and utilities up 2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.90 at 343.31.

School Lunch Funds In House-Passed Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has ignored White House opposition and sent to the Senate a $6.9-billion Agriculture Department appropriation bill that includes an extra $128 million for school lunch and free milk programs.

The roll call vote Tuesday was 366 to 23. The extra money was to keep the lunch and milk programs operating at current levels instead of curbing them as President Johnson requested.

ADDS PROVISION

House members wrote into the bill a provision that would cut off surplus American food to nations that trade with North Viet Nam. The amendment was offered by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill. Despite opposition by the Democratic leadership, it was approved by a 290-98 vote.

The amendment would ban sales, gifts or bartering of American food to any nation that sells goods to North Viet Nam or allows its ships or planes to transport such goods for other nations.

RESTRICT SHIPMENT

An Agriculture Department spokesman said departmental regulations now in effect restrict shipment of American food to nations that trade with North Viet Nam.

The money bill's total is $500 million more than was appropriated for the Agriculture Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, but $146 million less than the President requested for the year starting July 1. That cut was more than offset by the transfer to farm programs of customs collections that normally would have reverted to the Treasury.

Trustees Award School Contract

School trustees Tuesday night accepted the low bid of $363,890 from a Lubbock firm to build the new Moss Elementary School, to be located in the College Park area, at Kent and Fordham Streets. The building should be ready for classes next January.

Hammock Bros. Construction Co. will begin work in about 10 days and pledged construction time of 250 days. The building will include 19 classrooms, a library and a cafeteria.

It should help relieve current crowded conditions at the Washington Place and Boydston elementary schools.

Atmar Atkinson, school architect, recommended approval of the low bid. He said the cost boiled down to a little over $11 per square foot, "a little better bid than we expected."

Other bids were Bob R. Hunter Construction Co., Lubbock, $368,400; Knox, Gailey & Meador, Lubbock, $371,000; B. F. W. Construction Co., Inc., Temple, $371,800; J. W. Little Construction Co., Big Spring, $379,768; J. W. Cooper Construction Co., $380,370; Columbine Corporation, Midland, $382,371; Kasch Brothers, Inc., Big Spring, $383,726; and Jones Construction Co., Big Spring, $395,000.

In other action, trustees voted to employ the following personnel:

Lynn C. Hise, principal, Boydston; Miss Rex Browning, special education; Joe J. Frey, Goliad Junior High School; Mrs. Virginia W. Frey, elementary music; Mrs. Mary Nell Hise, College Heights; Mrs. Nancy Sue Miller, Goliad Junior High School; Mrs. Wanda O. Reese, Goliad Junior High School; Mrs. Sue Ellen Pearson, elementary physical education; Mrs. Faye Berniece Thompson, senior high school; Karen Jane Walker, Cedar Crest.

Willard L. Russell of Houston was elected vice president and Pat Taggart of Waco was chosen as secretary by the group of 79 council members.

House Approves Funds For Experiment Farm

An appropriation to maintain the United States Experiment Farm for another year has cleared the House of Representatives, Rep. Omar Burleson advised today.

The House passed an item of $56,500 for the station, according to the congressman. Final action is now up to the Senate.

Earlier the Department of Agriculture had indicated that the station would not be included in the line appropriations and would be closed. However, local interests urged approval of an appropriation for this year in order to have time to evaluate if the facilities could not be converted into a major research station rather than a field station.

The House approved appropriation is in line with past annual budget figures, according to Bill Fryrear, in charge of the station. He added that with additional time, he believed a major research center could be justified here.

Mayor Breaks Tie Vote, Annexation Bid Approved

Mayor Arnold Marshall cast his first deciding vote at last night's commission meet, breaking a tie and approving a request for an on-premises consumption permit at a grocery store.

Mrs. J. B. Eccleston, operator of "Broadway Grocery," 1731 W. 3rd, asked commissioners to grant an on-premises consumption permit for the store in order to "protect her license." She said the Liquor Control Board had advised her to take the action because customers at the store have a habit of buying beer and then hanging around the area to drink it.

Jay Banks, police chief, said he had talked to LCB officers and that they had so advised Mrs. Eccleston.

New commissioners Walter Stroup and Jimmy Morehead voted "aye" on the issue and commissioners Chester Cathey and John Stanley voted for it. Stanley pointed out that there was no legal reason not to grant the permit.

Morehead and Stroup indicated they felt such a permit would "open up the area" for lounges.

Alene Bond asked commissioners to delay a suspension of her dance hall license "because I have a 45-day LCB suspension coming up May 2 and I'd like the suspensions to be at the same time."

"It looks to me as though you're asking for a convenience," Stanley declared.

"I'd like to point out that the suspension in question is an indefinite one," Jay Banks, police chief, said.

"I don't know how long you've been licensed at your place," Stanley said, "but the place has a reputation for the sort of thing which caused the suspension by Chief Banks." Mrs. Bond said, "I have no control over" people's actions.

Commissioners upheld Banks' suspension.

Commissioners also okayed second reading approval of licenses for "Carlos Restaurant," "Gomez Cafe," "Bosanova Lounge," "Wagon Wheel," and final approval of the "Cotton Club."

At the request of Tom McAdams, commissioners withdrew his request for second reading approval of a zone change from "neighborhood service" to "retail" at the Spanish Main property on FM 700.

Commissioners sent back to Ike Rupert, Moss Creek Lake manager, his request for permission to rent paddle boats on Moss Creek Lake as part of his concession rights.

Commissioners said the proposed contract, which says that liability insurance will not be provided by the company which leases the boats, is not clear. Commissioners recommended $10,000 per person per accident liability at least, and asked that a revised contract be drawn.

Ernest Lillard's proposal for revision in the City Golf Course greens fees procedures was passed on to the Parks and Recreation Board for consideration. Lillard's suggestion involved revised billing dates.

Commissioners agreed to a government proposal asking that the city close the new post office alley, located between Fifth and Sixth east of Main Street, without the usual fee. The government asked the free closing as in "the public interest."

Approval was given to authorizing a resolution turning over Webb Air Force Base Building 63 to the U.S. for their disposal, a routine item.

"Postponed was a report of progress at the Mental Retardation Center by J. Y. Smith, who is ill.

Commissioners okayed the drawing of an ordinance which will annex Crestwood Park, a trailer park belonging to Jerry Worthing, at his request. The annexation will take place following the drawing of the ordinance.

Commissioners passed over a Texas Highway Department request that the city provide water for a beauty spot the state will build at US 87 and SH 350 because John Burgess, city attorney, feels the contract is not clear and wishes to discuss it with THD officials.

Burgess was authorized to draw a lease for a City Park house to be repaired and used by the police-sponsored Boy Scouts, at the request of the Parks and Recreation Board. December, 1967, and be renewable.

Also okayed, but on the basis that the city doesn't know who owns the property, was a P&R board request that Scouts be allowed to build a permanent hut on some property in Washington Place. Plans show the property as "Washington Place Tennis Club," but it is unoccupied, except for an old Scout hut, and no taxes have ever been paid on it.

Yanks Assume Vietnamese Piloting Encountered MIGs

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American airmen in Saigon assume that the MIG jets they are encountering over North Viet Nam are flown by North Vietnamese pilots trained by the Soviet Union.

U.S. officials here also assume that the MIGs are operating from bases in North Viet Nam, not in Red China.

"The assumption is that the pilots are North Vietnamese," said one qualified U.S. officer who has access to intelligence reports. "We have no reason to believe they are Chinese, or even Russians."

He added that he had no information on whether the Chinese possessed any of the Delta-wing MIG21s.

American fliers have clashed three times with the late-model MIGs over North Viet Nam since Saturday. One encounter occurred 35 miles from the Red Chinese frontier, giving rise to speculation that the Soviet-designed jets could be operating from there.

Official American spokesmen here say they have no information to suggest that the MIGs came from China. U.S. officials say the North Vietnamese have about 15 of the MIG21s and about 45 more of the older model MIG17s, which also tangled with American jets over the weekend.

Officials say most of the MIGs are based at the Phuc Yen military airfield at Hanoi, which so far has not been bombed by American planes. The airfield reportedly is protected by a concentration of missile sites equipped with surface-to-air missiles supplied by the Soviet Union.

Cong Abduct, Kill 4,000

SAIGON (AP)—Viet Cong terrorists have killed or abducted more than 4,000 Vietnamese government officials in the past two years, authorities said today.

Red agents have been striking mainly at the countryside, decimating local leadership and paralyzing administration.

VILLAGES EMPTY

"Many villages today are virtually depopulated of their natural leaders," one official report said. "Their loss to Viet Nam is inestimable and will take a generation or more to replace."

The total of officials killed or abducted from the start of 1964 is 4,338.

Incomplete estimates of the non-official victims of Viet Cong terror in 1965 are 11,086 persons—killed, wounded or kidnapped.

According to captured Viet Cong directives, three-man "special activities cells" have been instructed to strike particularly at officials.

URBAN TERROR

The effort to disrupt organized administrative life of rural Viet Nam was accompanied by the growth of urban terror.

Terrorist acts in the Saigon-Cholon metropolitan area grew from 14 in 1962 to 103 in 1965. The capital was struck by more than 60 Viet Cong attacks so far this year.

Airmen Quizzed In Burglary

Two airmen are being questioned today about breaking into a gum-ball machine. Officers saw them running from the Nichols Laundry, 399 NW 2nd, last night, chased and arrested them. The laundry was found to be open, and a gum-ball machine rifled.

Pat Boatler, of Pat Boatler Gas and Oil Co., 513 E. 1st, told police a five-gallon can of gasoline was emptied and two wrenches were stolen from a truck parked there Monday night.

Desegregation Plan Offered

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) plan. A uniform school desegregation plan has been proposed by the Justice Department, which wants it adopted as a model for federal courts in the South.

The proposal was submitted Tuesday night by Asst. Atty. Gen. John P. Doar to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, the Deep South's highest federal tribunal and the last stop for Southern civil rights litigation before it reaches the U.S. Supreme Court.

The desegregation plan written by Doar — the department's top man on racial matters — generally follows the new and tougher guidelines which the U.S. Office of Education has set as a criteria for school districts to receive federal aid.

It calls for total desegregation of all grades by the fall of 1967 under the "freedom of choice"

Many school boards in the South which voluntarily desegregated have been claiming foul over the new Office of Education rules for compliance with the Civil Rights Act.

The boards say that even though they agreed to lift racial barriers, the regulations make it tougher for them than for other boards which were forced by court order to desegregate.

The new Justice Department move was viewed by some school officials as an attempt to take the pressure off the Office of Education, an agency of the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Doar said a standard plan was necessary since 99 plans approved by U.S. District Courts in the past 10 years fall below requirements of the Civil Rights Act.

Pontiff Receives Soviet's Gromyko

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI received Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today in the first papal audience ever given a minister of a Communist government. They talked for 45 minutes.

The length of the audience indicated that the Roman Catholic pontiff and the Soviet minister found much to discuss. Most papal audiences last 20 to 30 minutes. Neither Vatican nor Soviet officials gave any indication of what was said.

VISITS CHAPEL

After the audience Gromyko visited the Sistine Chapel to see the Michelangelo frescos.

A Soviet plane stood by at Rome's International Airport to take Gromyko and his party back to Moscow after the papal audience. The foreign minister and his wife visited St. Peter's last week, and she toured the Vatican Museum.

The pageantry and ceremony which usually mark papal audiences were kept to a minimum. The Swiss Guards in their medieval red and yellow uniforms were absent from San Damasio courtyard where visitors to the Pope usually are greeted.

LAY OFFICIALS

No religious officials took part in the welcome. The Soviet foreign minister was received by four lay officials, headed by Marquis Giulio Sacchetti.

The audience was held in the Pope's private library. The pontiff met Gromyko at the doorway and they shook hands. Present at the audience were Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, the Vatican secretary of state, and the Rt. Rev. Josef Oslr, rector of the Pontifical Russian college in Rome, who was the interpreter.

Alleged Voter Sign-Up Fraud Indictments Seen

By The Associated Press

The Texas attorney general's race warmed up a few more degrees Tuesday when candidate Crawford Martin said he expected to see "some windmills indicted" in regard to alleged fraudulent voter registration in Bexar County (San Antonio).

The county is the home of Franklin Spears, also seeking the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

Martin said Spears has called the irregularity charges "tilting with windmills."

After visiting in San Antonio with Dist. Judge Archie Brown, who is conducting a court of inquiry into the registration, Martin said:

EXPECTS INDICTMENTS

"I think we're fixing to get some windmills indicted."

Brown said 44 Bexar County voter certificates have been returned by aliens who were registered as naturalized citizens.

Meanwhile, the third candidate in the race, Galloway Calhoun, said in Cotulla that he was the only independent in the contest.

Calhoun said a vote for Martin would "further the political machine of the Austin power structure" while a vote for Spears would help a machine dominated by labor-liberals.

Spears, speaking in Corpus Christi, called for a minimum annual salary of $6,000 for law enforcement officers and teachers. He said the next legislature should provide such salaries in the name of first-class education and law enforcement.

Also speaking of salaries, Gov. John Connally said Tuesday in Victoria that he will ask the 1967 legislature for substantial pay raises for state employees.

HEAVY COST

He said the contemplated hikes for the state's 45,000 employees may run into the tens of millions of dollars but he was not specific.

Connally said turnover is running at about 30 per cent a year and that more than 7,500 state employees make less than $3,000 a year, "the income level which the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity defines as the breaking point for poverty."

Connally's opponent in the May 7 Democratic primary, Stanley Woods, called for massive economic aid for South Texas.

APPALACHIA-TYPE

"South Texas needs a massive Appalachia-type program," Woods said in Brownsville. "It would benefit all of Texas by opening new consumer markets right in our own state."

Paul Haring, seeking the Democratic nomination for railroad commissioner against incumbent Byron Tunnell, made a plea in Houston for improved rail passenger service.

Tunnell was in Corpus Christi and Port Arthur Tuesday.

Training Meet For Scouters

All scoutmasters in the Lone Star district are being urged to attend a pre-camp training session Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the office of Harvey Hooser, 1600 Scurry Street. Carl Corbin, assistant council executive, will be here to brief unit leaders on changes in the camp routine and the type of program to be offered this year.

Pack To Meet

Cub Scout Pack 14 will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Boydston School. All boys interested in joining the pack are invited to attend.

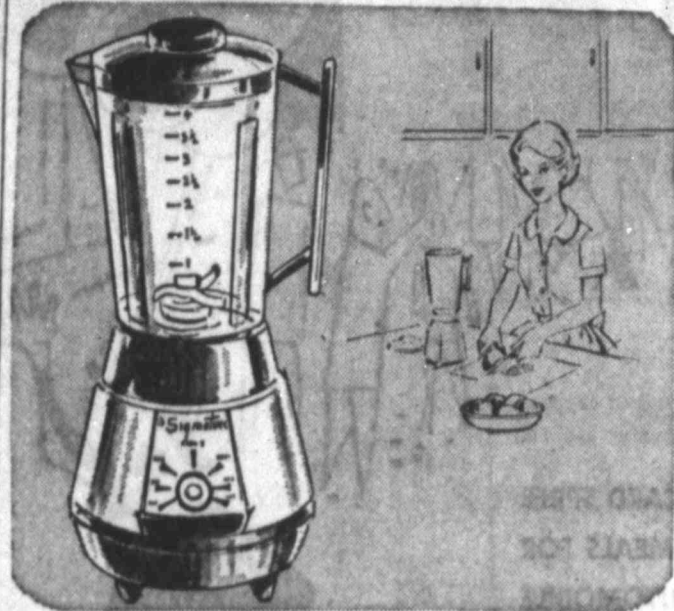

Criticized

Lord Moran, above, personal physician to the late Sir Winston Churchill, was criticized Tuesday for publishing memoirs of the wartime leader's decline by his son, Randolph Churchill, in a letter to the Times of London. The younger Churchill said the writing was against the family's wishes. He thus joined the British medical journal, The Lancet, which chided Lord Moran and implied he had violated the Hippocratic oath. (AP WIRE-PICTO)

Mrs. Kefauver Busy With Art

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Estes Kefauver walks up a narrow brick alley off Embassy Row, pushes aside a battered door and climbs steep steps to an artist's studio above an old garage.

She laughs. "Hi everyone!" She dons a faded blue smock and picks up a paint brush. Ten years ago this lovely, green-eyed woman stood beside her husband in hope and heart-break as the tall Tennessee senator traveled coast to coast with a handshake and a conical cap.

HOUSEHOLD WORD

Those were the days when Kefauver was a household word as a result of his investigations into organized crime, days of fighting for two presidential nominations, campaigning for vice president on the Adlai E. Stevenson ticket, and finally, settling back into the Senate.

Suddenly, one August night in 1963, Kefauver died and his widow, Nancy, faced decisions:

Whether to return to Tennessee or remain in Washington, whether to further her husband's work — a widow often is offered her husband's unexpired term, whether to work and where, and eventually, how to mold and cope with a new identity.

HARD DECISION

Washington can be an unhappy place for a woman once in the limelight beside a famous husband. There are lonely tasks, families to raise, and always reminders of the past. Some widows stay and some return home.

The decision isn't easy. Many have lived much of their married life as wives of political figures and while their official home may be a faroff state, ties are here.

Some retreat to quiet drawing rooms; some return to the social spotlight, and some, of course, remarry.

"I've been in Washington longer than I've been anywhere in my life," said Nancy Kefauver, reminiscing in an interview. She chose to stay where she and her lawyer husband first came in 1939.

"NOT QUALIFIED"

She turned down suggestions that she succeed her husband in the Senate, saying, "My first responsibility is to my children. I am not trained or qualified for public office."

"The average wife isn't equipped to carry on. I was simply a housewife and an artist. I decided I had to work. I had to expand my studio and teach fulltime — I had three children left to get through college."

Three months after her husband's death, a few days before the assassination, President John F. Kennedy appointed her to the U.S. State Department as adviser on fine arts.

Eagerly she took the reins of a new program, "Art in the Embassies," immersed herself in the problems of an infant endeavor, and within a year made it one of the most popular programs ever carried to U.S. embassies overseas.

"I was lucky," she says. "It kept me busy."

The program aims at placing in U.S. embassies abroad, works of American art — graphics, ceramics, mosaics, sculpture, wall hangings, paintings — that depict the American scene and its culture.

Her art studio — down the alley, above the old garage — is her retreat to a world she loves. Called the Kefauver-Farolletti Studio it has 70 students in four classes weekly. She makes it a point to be there Saturday mornings. Her partner, Byrd Farolletti, teaches the other classes.

SMALLER HOME

A year ago Nancy and her family moved from the big home they had in senatorial days and took a smaller one. Their home in Chattanooga is up for sale.

Emmy Award Nominations Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences announced Tuesday 225 nominations of its "Emmy" awards in 23 categories and 12 "areas of achievement."

Nominations ranged from Batman, a popular adaptation of a comic book hero, to Christopher Plummer's performance of Hamlet.

Among the nominations were: Outstanding dramatic series — Bonanza, the Fugitive, I Spy, The Man from U.N.C.L.E. and Slattery's People.

TOP ACTING

Outstanding dramatic programs — The Age of Man, Eagle in a Cage, Inherit the Wind, and Rally Round Your Own Flag, Mister.

Outstanding performance by a leading actor in a dramatic series — Bill Cosby and Robert Culp of I Spy; Richard Krenna of Slattery's People; David Janssen of the Fugitive, and David McCallum of The Man from U.N.C.L.E.

Outstanding performance by a leading actress in a dramatic series — Anne Francis of Honey West, Barbara Perkins of Peyton Place, and Barbara Stanwyck of The Big Valley.

Outstanding musical program — Color Me Barbara; Frank Sinatra, A Man and His Music; and New York Philharmonic Young People's Concerts.

Outstanding single performance by an actor in a leading dramatic role — Ed Begley and Melvyn Douglas in Inherit the Wind, Trevor Howard in Eagle in a Cage, Christopher Plummer in Hamlet and Cliff Robertson in The Game.

BY ACTRESS

Outstanding single performance by an actress in a leading dramatic role — Eartha Kitt in an episode of I Spy, Margaret Leighton in a multipart Dr. Kildare drama, Simone Signoret in A Small Rebellion and Shelley Winters in Back to Back.

In almost 25 nominations in news and documentary programming and achievement, ABC and CBS each received 11 nominations, and ABC two. CBS News, however, pulled out of the Emmy competition two seasons ago when Fred W. Friendly, then CBS president, said he was unhappy about the qualifications of those choosing the winners.

Although Friendly is no longer with CBS News, the network division still will not participate in the competition.

Blue ribbon panels, whose identities are not made public, will view the nominated programs and vote to select winners of the awards, which will be announced and presented on May 22 in a CBS special program.

Impasse Remains In N.Y. Paper Strike Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — An official of the striking Newspaper Guild reports "no progress" in peace talks with representatives of the merged but still unpublished World Journal Tribune Inc.

The new corporation went to federal court Tuesday to seek enforced arbitration of merger problems with six craft unions. Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the AFL-CIO Newspaper Guild of New York, said as talks recessed Tuesday night "we made no progress on anything. In fact I think we are further behind than we were on Nov. 2, 1962."

That date marked the beginning of a 114-day newspaper tieup, the longest in the city's history. Federal mediator Frank H. Brown kept the publishers and guild together all day Tuesday negotiating on the question of seniority in discharging employees from the editorial, business and maintenance departments.

About 1,800 guildsmen were employed at the now-defunct morning Herald Tribune and the afternoon World-Telegram & Sun and the Journal-American. About half of them stand to lose their jobs in the merger of the three dailies into the World Journal Tribune, Inc., which plans to publish one morning paper, one afternoon and one Sunday paper.

The Herald Tribune and the afternoon World Journal were to have published their first editions Monday but the Guild struck the new corporation Sunday. A new Sunday World Journal Tribune is scheduled to be published next Sunday.

In its suit, the corporation sought to have the six unions' contracts with the defunct dailies continued in full force and asked the court to direct arbitration on the issue of the work stoppage by the unions.

The unions have been seeking new contracts with the World Journal Tribune. They maintain the corporation is a new entity and the old contracts do not exist.

The unions include Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, plus mailers, pressmen, lithographers, photographers, stereotypers, and newspaper and mail deliverymen.

Demands for increased severance pay for 400 printers to be laid off in the merger have deadlocked negotiations between the publishers and the ITU.

Red Roses Received On Secretaries Day

The red American Beauty rose has been officially dedicated to Secretaries Week, according to information received by Mrs. Herbert R. Heath, vice president and publicity chairman of the Big Spring Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International).

The dedication was received on behalf of NSA by Mrs. Margaret W. Lawson, CPS, International Secretary of the Year from Hartford, Conn.

Each member of the local NSA chapter presented red roses to non-NSA secretaries of her acquaintance today, "Secretaries Day." This practice, instigated by Mrs. Camille Patterson, CPS, began last year and NSA members hope to make it a tradition with Secretaries Week each year.

"After all," said Mrs. Patterson, "we of NSA say that Secretaries Week is in recognition of the part all secretaries play in business, education and government. We are trying to fit our actions to our words."

In addition to the presentation of roses, the Big Spring Chapter hosted a luncheon for members and guests in the Blue Room of the Cosden Country Club.

A letter was read from Ann Roberts thanking the club for providing her with a youth membership at the YMCA.

The Rosebud Club will present its show, "Exotic Desert Blooms" on May 4 in the YMCA, and the public is invited to attend. Each club member was requested to bring two arrangements. Hostesses for the show will be Mrs. Womack, Mrs. Smoot, Mrs. Travis Carlton and Mrs. Jack Cook.

Congressmen Pleased Over Time Switch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas congressmen are hopeful that this year will be the last in which they suffer under Washington's daylight saving time.

Under a bill recently enacted by Congress, Texas automatically switches to daylight time at the end of April, 1967, unless the Texas Legislature takes action to the contrary.

It's not unusual for Texas congressmen to get night calls from persons in their districts who either forget or disregard the time zones involved. When they do this during the summer—when Washington is on daylight time and Texas on standard—often means a congressman is awakened late at night or in the wee hours of the morning.

Since officeholders aren't inclined to go out of their way to be unpleasant to voters, they usually respond cheerfully to odd-hour phone calls. The legislators may not really feel that way, especially if a call should be from an inebriate who notes that it's still early in Texas, just 10 p.m. or so.

Here's a sample of the calls they sometimes get—one that Rep. Jake Pickle, D-Austin, described in a recent report to constituents: "Doggone Night Call—Last week a 'friend' called in the middle of the night to request that I ask President Johnson to allow 'Him' the President's beagle, to be mated with my friend's female beagle in Austin. (Mrs. Pickle handled the phone call since I was not available!) But he forgot to mention whether he wanted the President to fly 'Him' down to Austin, or whether he would be willing to bring his dog up here to Washington. . . . Either way, it was a doggone late call—and slightly out of my congressional duties—but I'm beginning to wonder at that!"

Around the Capital: Senior Judge Marvin Jones of the Court of Claims, a former Texas congressman, has been named the "Sugar Man of the Year."

Receiving the designation at an industry banquet in New York, Jones recalled the telephone call he received from President Franklin D. Roosevelt asking him to introduce sugar legislation in the House. That was in the early 1930s when Jones was chairman of the Agriculture Committee.

In his acceptance remarks Jones recalled his Texas boyhood.

"When one with that background can have the privilege of serving in all three branches (executive, legislative and judicial) of the federal government and then be selected for an honor like this," he added, "I can truthfully say there is no limit to the opportunities in this fine, free and fruitful land."

Books For Viet In Garbage; Junked Because Of Contents

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Three hundred paperback books, among some 15,000 collected in a high school drive for shipment to American fighting men in Viet Nam, have been thrown in the garbage can because of their political content.

The three cases of brand new books thrown away included copies of "A Texan Looks at Lyndon," a book highly critical of President Johnson written by J. Evetts Haley of Canyon, Tex.

The other titles tossed out were "Distortion by Design" by the Rev. Billy James Hargis of Tulsa, Okla., and "None Dare Call It Treason" by John Stormer.

They were thrown away by Charles Szalkowski, a senior at Amarillo High School and president of the Key Club, which collected the books.

The three cases had been donated by Randy Hays, also a senior at the school and the son of a member of the John Birch Society.

The 300 books were found in a trash can behind Szalkowski's home Tuesday by a city sanitation department crew.

"We decided not to accept any books dealing with religion or politics or which are obscene," Szalkowski said.

Hays said the books were worth $450.

"If they didn't want them,

they could at least have returned them," Hays said.

He said a notice in the Amarillo Daily News in March said the drive was collecting any type of paperback book "from classics by Shakespeare to James Bond stories."

Baptist Hits 'Defamation'

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP) — The president of the Southern Baptist Convention has disputed a report of two California sociologists that prejudice against Jews finds a basis in Christian churches.

Dr. Wayne Dehoney, head of the 25 million-member denomination, issued a statement Tuesday in reply to the findings of Charles Y. Glock, director of the University of California Research Center, and Rodney Stark, a research sociologist. "Bigotry and defamation such as anti-Semitism are deplorable," Dehoney said, "but to label religious conviction about the 'Christian doctrine of salvation' as 'race prejudice' is the worst kind of defamation."

The California report was based on a national survey which indicated at least 25 percent of those with anti-Jewish feelings "have a religious basis for their prejudices."

Atheist Files Damage Suit

AUSTIN (AP)—Mrs. Madalyn Murray O'Hair filed in federal court Tuesday an $8.6 million damage suit against 42 defendants, growing out of assault charges filed against her in 1964.

Youth Meet Dates Fixed

"When the young people are anxious to do so much of their own problem solving, we feel it a real privilege to lend them our support," explained R. L. Tollett, trustee for the Siblings Foundation.

The Associated Press' Baltimore office, United Press International's Baltimore office, the Baltimore Sun newspapers and the Baltimore News-Post. Current references do not list a News-Post in Baltimore.

Also named are several Baltimore police officers, a city judge and a number of Maryland state officials.

The grand jury which indicted her on the assault charges is named collectively. Mrs. O'Hair, plaintiff in the suit which resulted in the Supreme Court's school prayer decision, has lived in Austin since last fall.

Assault indictments were returned by a Baltimore grand jury after a scuffle at Mrs. O'Hair's northeast Baltimore home, Mrs. O'Hair's petition said.

Police said she assaulted them when they went to the home to enforce a court order prohibiting the contract between Susan Abramowitz, then 17, and Mrs. O'Hair and her 15-year-old son, William Murray.

The charges were dropped Oct. 26, 1965, by a Baltimore judge who cited a ruling of the Maryland court of appeals that grand jurors cannot be required to affirm a belief in God.

A Maryland move to extradite Mrs. O'Hair from Texas was pending when the charges were dropped.

Mrs. O'Hair's petition to the U.S. district court for the Western District of Texas seeks $2 million each in damages from The AP and UPI, $500,000 from Tawes, $1 million each from the Baltimore Sun newspapers and what she lists as the Baltimore News-Post, and $200,000 from the parents of Susan Abramowitz, who is now married to William Murray.

Half of each amount sought consists of punitive damages.

This youth-less conference of some 1,200 teenagers will be held in Austin, Aug. 18-21, 1966, on the campus of the University of Texas.

Interested parties may contact Robert T. Davis, director, Texas Youth Conference, 812 Brown Bldg., Austin, for information concerning delegate or sustaining membership applications.

Survivors include her husband, Ira Driver, Big Spring; one daughter, Mrs. Joe (Dorothy) Neel, Big Spring; one son, E. P. Driver, Big Spring; two brothers, Edward Teal and James Teal, both of Garden City.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ira J. Driver, 76, longtime resident of Big Spring who died unexpectedly Tuesday, were to be held today at 4 p.m. in the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. Leo Gee, pastor, officiating. Burial was to be in the Trinity Memorial Park, under direction of the River-Welch Funeral Home.

City Increases Its Share To Recreation Program

City Commissioners okayed Tuesday night the appropriation of an extra $1,000 for the Summer Recreation Program at the recommendation of the Parks and Recreation Board.

Joe Pickle, chairman of the program, had asked the board to recommend the appropriation of $1,200 in order to keep the program on its feet for another year. He said the schools had not indicated they would appropriate any extra money this year.

The city's previous appropriation for this year's program was $800.

Just after the voting, it was learned that the schools had decided to appropriate extra help for the program.

The Summer Recreation Program, jointly sponsored by the Department of Public Works and the schools, offers swimming programs for city youngsters.

Also okayed was the indefinite extension of no-parking meters. The meters were removed experimentally last November, and merchants are pleased at the absence.

At the same time, at the request of Downtown Big Spring, Inc., the organization which took over the old First National Bank building for a free, public parking lot, commissioners agreed to enforce two-hour parking on the Main Street lot, until Tuesday, there had been no limit on parking.

Bids for new city cars and trucks were approved.

Big Spring Chrysler-Plymouth bidder, was awarded the bid for nine special police pursuit cars. Their low bid, net, was $13,880, with delivery in 51 days, for Fury I police specials.

However, at the recommendation of Jay Banks, police chief, commissioners agreed to buy one of the units equipped with power disc brakes on the front wheels.

"I recommend this as an experiment to see whether they prove useful," Banks said. "The highway patrol has been using a number of cars so equipped, and so far are happy with them, but they haven't been in service long enough to see how well they hold up."

Banks said he would use the car, as he felt that if officers used it as well as the other cars with regular brakes, it would cause erratic driving. The disc brakes on one unit cost $109 extra.

Next low bid to Chrysler-Plymouth was Shasta Ford, with $14,949.68.

Shasta was awarded the bid on one passenger car for the Department of Public Works with a bid of $1,315.82 and delivery in 30 days. Next low bid was Pollard Chevrolet, with $1,344.15.

Pollard was winner in the bidding on five half-ton pickups, with a bid of $7,260 and delivery in 30-45 days. Driver Truck had the second low bid, $7,330.

Shasta Ford was winner of bidding on a 36,000-pound truck chassis, with a bid of $6,768.30. Second low bid was by Pollard, with $7,171.

Driver won out in the three-quarter ton pickup bids, with a low of $1,396 and 30-day delivery. In line was Pollard, with $1,549.

Pollard was awarded the bid on a 25,000-pound truck chassis, with the low bid—$5,756 net. Second low was Shasta, with $6,118.73.

Hobbs Trailers was awarded the bid on a hydraulic dump body, though not the low bidder. The Hobbs bid was $1,457.50. Low bid was $1,437.60, by American Trailers, Inc. However, commissioners felt the Hobbs bid was the better one, as American Trailers, Inc. did not specify delivery date and stated that the bid was tentative and subject to prices in effect at the time of delivery. Hobbs stated it will deliver immediately.

Treanor Equipment Co., representing Caterpillar, won the bid for a tractor-loader, though it had the second lowest bid. Treanor's bid was $12,999. Low bidder was Patton Equipment Co., with a bid of $12,420. Caterpillar was the only bidder which specified a 12-month warranty, and stated delivery in 15 days. Also, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works, Caterpillar was the only equipment with an oscillating rear axle and capable of shifting from forward to reverse while in motion.

Commissioners agreed to start a reduced summer water rate program, only for June, July and August this year, on an experimental basis. The Garden City Council had recommended the move.

The new rate will be: First 5,000 gallons at $3, rather than $4, the present rate; the next 3,000 gallons for $3, the present rate.

"I think it should be noted," Mayor Arnold Marshall said, "that 2,000 gallons isn't much water. A half-inch hose running for an hour and a half will put out 2,000 gallons."

However, commissioners felt that the extra 2,000 gallons might encourage those who usually water only the minimum amount to increase watering in order to make their lawns prettier this summer.

Commissioners authorized drawing a lease allowing a sailplane club, to be organized soon, to prepare and maintain a glider strip on city property, several hundred yards south of Moss Creek Lake.

Dr. F. W. Lurting presented a petition, and said the strip would be "approximately 3,000 feet long and 100 feet wide."

It would, he said, attract increased interest to the Moss Creek recreation area.

"Necessary insurance will be carried by the club," Dr. Lurting declared, adding that "landing approaches will be from the south so there will be no aircraft over the recreation area."

Commissioners readily agreed, and Dr. Lurting said a meeting will take place Monday at 7 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce building to organize the soaring club and give it a name, "so there'll be a 'party of the second part' in the lease."

Larry Crow, city manager, asked commissioners to consider an item not on the agenda.

He said certain city water lines must be relocated at US 87 and FM 700, where the state is putting in a new intersection.

"The city will do the engineering and supervision," Crow said, "but the county is paying for it. The state plans to move fast on this item."

He said the county wants bids on the project with the county retaining the right to approve the contract.

Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said about $50,000 worth of utilities will be moved. Commissioners authorized the advertising of bids on the project for May 9.

Rangel Child Found Dead

Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, ruled death due to natural causes in the demise of an infant found dead early today in its bed on the James Coates ranch, eight miles northeast of town.

Slaughter said the child, aged 8 months, had been in ill health for sometime and had suffered from heart involvement.

He was identified as Rudy Rangel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Angel Rangel, who farm on the Coates place.

The child was found dead about 5:45 a.m.

The body was removed to River-Welch Funeral Home. It will be taken to the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elelio Esquivelo, 1705 Walnut, Midland, today where it will remain pending funeral services tentatively set Thursday.

The baby was born July 28, 1965.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, are one sister, Mary; the grandparents, and a grandfather, Enrique Rangel, Big Spring.

Tommy King Dies Today

Tommy King, 18, 609 E. 18th, died this morning in a local hospital after several months illness. Services are pending at the Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home.

He was born Jan. 19, 1948, in Big Spring. He was a student in the special education class of the Big Spring Public Schools and a member of the Trinity Baptist Church.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer King, Big Spring; one brother, Danny Richard King, of the home; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Vida King, Big Spring; also four aunts and four uncles.

Welfare Group Hears McCann

Dr. Desmond McCann, chief of the outpatient clinic at the Big Spring State Hospital, told a meeting of the Health and Welfare Association Friday that mental illness has been on the increase throughout the nation at an alarming rate.

The meeting was held in the Downtown Tea Room.

Mental illness, Dr. McCann stressed, respects neither race, creed nor color. He told of demonstration projects being planned in Dawson, Mitchell, Scurry and Howard counties for treatment of the mentally ill, explaining that the projects would be financed for three years by federal funds, with the local community furnishing office space, equipment and communications. The state hospital, he said, will provide a visiting team, including a psychiatrist, psychologist, social worker and clerical staff to visit the community facility.

The May meeting will be a joint meeting with the Civitan Club, with a film on mental retardation.

Absentee Vote Climbs To 57

Fifty-seven absentee votes for the May 7 primary election have been cast so far, according to Margaret Ray, county clerk chief deputy. She said that deadline for the absentee voting is May 3.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, has pointed out the law specifies an absentee voter must cast his ballot during the regular working hours of the county clerk's office and not on a holiday or a day when the office is normally closed. This means the last absentee vote must be cast not later than 5 p.m. May 3.

'Poetic' Robber Hunted By Police

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas police are looking for a near-poetic bandit who robbed the Deluxe Diner of $158.

The robber, about 25, asked employe Thomas Henry Harland, 18, to give him change for the cigarette machine, then pulled a snub-nose revolver, waved it in the employe's face, and said: "Give me the money. 'And don't be funny.'"

Harland told police he cleaned out the cash register and placed the money in a paper sack. The bandit escaped on foot.

City Increases Its Share To Recreation Program

City Commissioners okayed Tuesday night the appropriation of an extra $1,000 for the Summer Recreation Program at the recommendation of the Parks and Recreation Board.

Joe Pickle, chairman of the program, had asked the board to recommend the appropriation of $1,200 in order to keep the program on its feet for another year. He said the schools had not indicated they would appropriate any extra money this year.

The city's previous appropriation for this year's program was $800.

Just after the voting, it was learned that the schools had decided to appropriate extra help for the program.

The Summer Recreation Program, jointly sponsored by the Department of Public Works and the schools, offers swimming programs for city youngsters.

Also okayed was the indefinite extension of no-parking meters. The meters were removed experimentally last November, and merchants are pleased at the absence.

At the same time, at the request of Downtown Big Spring, Inc., the organization which took over the old First National Bank building for a free, public parking lot, commissioners agreed to enforce two-hour parking on the Main Street lot, until Tuesday, there had been no limit on parking.

Bids for new city cars and trucks were approved.

Big Spring Chrysler-Plymouth bidder, was awarded the bid for nine special police pursuit cars. Their low bid, net, was $13,880, with delivery in 51 days, for Fury I police specials.

However, at the recommendation of Jay Banks, police chief, commissioners agreed to buy one of the units equipped with power disc brakes on the front wheels.

"I recommend this as an experiment to see whether they prove useful," Banks said. "The highway patrol has been using a number of cars so equipped, and so far are happy with them, but they haven't been in service long enough to see how well they hold up."

Banks said he would use the car, as he felt that if officers used it as well as the other cars with regular brakes, it would cause erratic driving. The disc brakes on one unit cost $109 extra.

Next low bid to Chrysler-Plymouth was Shasta Ford, with $14,949.68.

Shasta was awarded the bid on one passenger car for the Department of Public Works with a bid of $1,315.82 and delivery in 30 days. Next low bid was Pollard Chevrolet, with $1,344.15.

Pollard was winner in the bidding on five half-ton pickups, with a bid of $7,260 and delivery in 30-45 days. Driver Truck had the second low bid, $7,330.

Shasta Ford was winner of bidding on a 36,000-pound truck chassis, with a bid of $6,768.30. Second low bid was by Pollard, with $7,171.

Driver won out in the three-quarter ton pickup bids, with a low of $1,396 and 30-day delivery. In line was Pollard, with $1,549.

Pollard was awarded the bid on a 25,000-pound truck chassis, with the low bid—$5,756 net. Second low was Shasta, with $6,118.73.

Hobbs Trailers was awarded the bid on a hydraulic dump body, though not the low bidder. The Hobbs bid was $1,457.50. Low bid was $1,437.60, by American Trailers, Inc. However, commissioners felt the Hobbs bid was the better one, as American Trailers, Inc. did not specify delivery date and stated that the bid was tentative and subject to prices in effect at the time of delivery. Hobbs stated it will deliver immediately.

Treanor Equipment Co., representing Caterpillar, won the bid for a tractor-loader, though it had the second lowest bid. Treanor's bid was $12,999. Low bidder was Patton Equipment Co., with a bid of $12,420. Caterpillar was the only bidder which specified a 12-month warranty, and stated delivery in 15 days. Also, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works, Caterpillar was the only equipment with an oscillating rear axle and capable of shifting from forward to reverse while in motion.

Commissioners agreed to start a reduced summer water rate program, only for June, July and August this year, on an experimental basis. The Garden City Council had recommended the move.

The new rate will be: First 5,000 gallons at $3, rather than $4, the present rate; the next 3,000 gallons for $3, the present rate.

"I think it should be noted," Mayor Arnold Marshall said, "that 2,000 gallons isn't much water. A half-inch hose running for an hour and a half will put out 2,000 gallons."

However, commissioners felt that the extra 2,000 gallons might encourage those who usually water only the minimum amount to increase watering in order to make their lawns prettier this summer.

Commissioners authorized drawing a lease allowing a sailplane club, to be organized soon, to prepare and maintain a glider strip on city property, several hundred yards south of Moss Creek Lake.

Dr. F. W. Lurting presented a petition, and said the strip would be "approximately 3,000 feet long and 100 feet wide."

It would, he said, attract increased interest to the Moss Creek recreation area.

"Necessary insurance will be carried by the club," Dr. Lurting declared, adding that "landing approaches will be from the south so there will be no aircraft over the recreation area."

Commissioners readily agreed, and Dr. Lurting said a meeting will take place Monday at 7 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce building to organize the soaring club and give it a name, "so there'll be a 'party of the second part' in the lease."

Larry Crow, city manager, asked commissioners to consider an item not on the agenda.

He said certain city water lines must be relocated at US 87 and FM 700, where the state is putting in a new intersection.

"The city will do the engineering and supervision," Crow said, "but the county is paying for it. The state plans to move fast on this item."

He said the county wants bids on the project with the county retaining the right to approve the contract.

Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said about $50,000 worth of utilities will be moved. Commissioners authorized the advertising of bids on the project for May 9.

Jury Acquits Hedy Lamarr

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Hedy Lamarr's role was for real. She played it with dignity and a smile.

"Not guilty," said a municipal court clerk, reading the jury's verdict Tuesday at the climax of Miss Lamarr's six-day trial on a charge of shoplifting.

Applause burst from some 50 spectators who had stuck through attorneys' final arguments and five hours' jury deliberation.

VICTORY GRIP

Hedy, 51, sitting erect at the counsel table, handsome in a camel-hair suit, her caramel-blond hair chiefly tousled, flashed a smile. Then another. Her kid-gloved fingers entwined the fingers of her attorney in a victory grip.

She walked to the jury box. Smiling, she thanked and shook hands with each of the seven men and five women jurors.

"I told the truth and the truth is easy to tell," said the Viennese-born star of "Ecstasy" at 15, and later a score of films including "Algiers," "Heavenly Body" and "Dishonored Woman."

18 ITEMS

The truth, the prosecution said, was that she stole 18 items — clothing, cosmetics, etc. — worth a total of $86 from the May Co.'s Wilshire Boulevard department store last Jan. 27.

A woman employe made a citizen's arrest of her as she left the store. Miss Lamarr testified Monday she had gone out to look for her business manager, planned to pay for the items all at once, and added: "I never did intend to steal."

Rally Site Eludes Klan

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—The Texas grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan said the Johnson administration has prevented or persuaded three land owners from leasing the hooded order property on which to hold a rally May 4 near the LBJ Ranch.

"We had one lease for Johnson City, but the federal government succeeded in getting that lease canceled," Jack Cannon of Beaumont said Tuesday night. "We had another but they were successful on that too."

Cannon said the owner of a third possible site for the rally of klansmen throughout the South also backed out.

"There definitely will be a major rally May 4," he said.

Robert Shelton of Alabama, head of the United Klans, will be the principal speaker, Cannon said.

The Texas Klan head said he would leave today to look for a place to hold the rally. He said it would be held either in the vicinity of Dallas, Austin, San Antonio or Houston.

"If the Johnson administration have their wishes, we'll not find another place," Cannon said.

Detroit Bartenders Go To Aid Of Alcoholics

DETROIT (AP) — The men who pour the drinks are going to try to help the men who can't handle them.

John Marra, a business agent for Detroit Bartenders Union Local 562, was elected Tuesday to the Sobriety House board of directors.

"I'm a drinking man," Marra said. "We're not drunks. We want to help these people who for one reason or another can't handle liquor. I expect a lot of people in our industry will want to help."

PROVIDE HAVEN

Sobriety House is a non-denominational facility to provide a home-like haven for the homeless alcoholic, who has lost money, friends, food, shelter, and often cannot support himself. The alcoholics who seek shelter are fed, given a clean bed and respectable, donated clothing. Medical treatment is arranged if needed, and they are encouraged to join Alcoholics Anonymous.

The facility has accommodations for 15 men.

400 HELPED

A spokesman for the two-year-old home said "about 400 men have been helped. We know that 200 of them have not had a drink since, have gone back to their homes and families, and returned to work."

The facility is supported by donations and fund-raising activities.

The union agent, who spent 20 years as a bartender, said, "Bartenders are sympathetic. They are among the first to recognize the symptoms of the alcoholic."

Levee Break Poses Hazard In Tragic E. Texas Flood

By The Associated Press
Flood-swollen Chambers Creek burst through a levee 13 miles east of Corsicana Tuesday night, putting heavily traveled US 287 under five feet of water.

The breakthrough was the latest episode following five wild days of torrential rains in East Texas that left at least 12 persons drowned, crippled highway and rail traffic and wrought uncounted millions of dollars in damage.

NO INJURIES
The Texas Department of Public Safety said no injuries were reported in the levee rupture.

Skies cleared over all the state but coastal regions early today as westerly breezes moved the turbulent weather into Louisiana and Mississippi.

Rains of up to a staggering 22 inches over the weekend continued to swell numerous East Texas waterways today, with five feet of additional rises expected on the Sabine and Cypress rivers.

More flooding was also forecast for the Trinity, Brazos, Neches and Angelina rivers as they coursed toward the Gulf.

The Weather Bureau said maximum Texas temperatures today would range from the high 70s to low 90s, a bit warmer than Tuesday's readings.

MORNING LOWS
Early morning lows encompassed readings of 53 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle and 73 at Brownsville at the southern tip of the state.

A spring storm moving eastward out of the Rocky Mountains was expected to push cooler air into the Panhandle by Thursday. Widely scattered showers were forecast for southern portions of Texas Thursday.

Meanwhile, flood damage from the heaviest rains in years in Northeast Texas continued to mount today. Damage to highway and railroad bridges was expected to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Gregg County Judge R. E. Blount said the storm damaged 32 bridges in the county and wiped out at least 11. He said overall damage to all types of property could not be assessed until the waters recede.

hand and using North's spades for trump drawing purposes.

Declarer realized that the odds favored a four-two division in spades in which case a dummy reversal would not be successful. He accordingly embarked on an alternative campaign which involved scoring his trumps separately.

At trick two, he played the ace of hearts and then ruffed a heart with the queen of spades. The ace and king of diamonds were cashed as South discarded a club and he ruffed a small diamond with the three of spades. The ace and king of clubs were played and then another heart was trumped with the king of spades for declarer's ninth trick, and the ace of spades was cashed to produce this three card end position:

South found himself the declarer at six spades, today, holding but a scant majority of the trumps. This was caused to a large degree by his initial response of one spade. To be considered biddable, a four card suit should be headed by at least the queen-ten. The preferred response with South's hand is one heart. Unless North can bid spades himself, there can be no future in that suit.

West opened the queen of hearts and declarer played the king. South could count 10 top tricks — four spades and two each in the other three suits. If the trumps divided evenly, he could bring the total to 12 by ruffing two diamonds in his

Mississippi Twisters Leave At Least 1 Dead

By The Associated Press
Tornadoes, spawned from torrential thunderstorms, dipped and darted across Mississippi during the night. At least one fatality was reported from a twister which struck in a rural area 40 miles southwest of Jackson, Miss.

The thunderstorms, which brought death and flooding to Texas over the weekend, continued to push eastward early today.

Portions of southeastern Mississippi, southeastern Alabama, most of the Florida Panhandle and extreme southwest Georgia were under tornado alert until 6:30 a.m.

A winter-like storm with snow and sub-freezing temperatures, lashed at Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol said Bertha Jones, about 60, was killed when a tornado de-

DEAR ABBY Repulsed By Sex

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for nearly 25 years, have six children and have lived a "lie" all my married life. I detest sex! I am sure if I had had sex relations before matrimony, I never would have married. My husband is a very fine person — considerate and not demanding — I do love him, but submitting to sex has always been degrading and disgusting to me. I am sure my husband has no idea how I feel. Don't suggest psychiatry. I don't want to change. I am convinced that like me, who were born with a nature that is repulsed by this kind of intimacy. Am I right? "LIVING A LIE"

DEAR LIVING: Yes, there are other women like you, but they were not "born" with their attitudes about sex. They were developed during their childhood. Many women (and men) carry into marriage faulty ideas about sex that make it degrading and disgusting. Unfortunately you are such a victim. The physical side of marriage can be immensely rewarding and beautiful. Psychotherapy might help you — but only if you wanted to be helped.

MIG21 Attacker 'On Cloud Nine'

SAIGON (AP) — The first American pilot to shoot down a MIG21 said today he didn't realize he had hit the Communist jet with the first missile he fired, so he made two more passes and fired two more.

Air Force Maj. Paul T. Gilmore, 33, Alamogordo, N.M., reported that the third Sidewinder missile he fired from the F4C Phantom jet also scored a hit on the MIG.

Gilmore, flying with 1st Lt. William T. Smith, 27, Wayne, Pa., as his radar officer, shot down the late-model Red jet plane during a six-minute dogfight Tuesday only 35 miles from Red China's frontier.

"I'm still considerably nervous and floating around on Cloud Nine," Gilmore told a news conference today.

It was Gilmore's first encounter with an enemy plane after "12 years in the tactical fighter business."

He said he didn't know he scored a hit with his first missile until he got back to base and was told by his wingman, who in another F4C Phantom was chasing another MIG21.

An Air Force press officer prevented Gilmore from answering when asked whether the markings on the downed MIG indicated if it was a North Vietnamese or a Red Chinese plane.

The officer said fliers cannot discuss markings on enemy planes or nationality of the pilots until all the information has been evaluated.

National Building Center Gives Lumber Co. New Look

National Building Centers, 301 E. 2nd, formerly known as the Burton-Lingo Lumber Company and the William Cameron & Company, has just finished a complete remodeling which has given the firm a new image in the lumber business, according to Manager W. S. Crook.

The inner offices have been moved and the yard has been remodeled and the warehouse area has been converted into a display area for consumer goods, piece-priced, a unique feature in this area, Crook claims.

"We're going more to consumer goods," Crook said. "We are trying to categorize our merchandise into separate areas, increase efficiency to give better service, and still handle quantity goods."

The old warehouse area is now a display center, with molding, cut plywood, lumber by the piece, a complete stock of doors, window glass and other goods, all priced by the piece.

Outside, NBC has several new open barn storage areas for bundle lumber, and with a 7,000-pound capacity fork-lift, unique to lumber yards in the area, is prepared to handle material in volume.

Also in the yard is a separate area for sheet metal supplies, and there fertilizer and windmill supplies are now available. The old south fence has been moved back and a new, graveled parking area is the result, making shopping NBC even more convenient.

There are still the familiar lumber bins in the storage area.

"We are continuing our old Cameron Co. service of home repair and remodeling, even to getting financing, and planning and construction of new homes," Crook said.

After nearly 84 years, Big

HCJC Trustees Elect Officers

Horace Garrett was re-elected president of the Howard County Junior College board of trustees at a meeting of the board Tuesday noon at the college.

John A. Coffey, who was presiding in his absence, was re-elected vice president, and K. H. McGibbon was returned as secretary of the board.

Three faculty members were elected, one as a replacement. He is Van Hale, now teaching at Perryton, who will succeed Gary Ebersberger as choral director. Ebersberger has accepted a place as choral director at Arlington State College. Hale holds his bachelor of arts in music from North Texas State University and his master of arts in education from Stephen F. Austin College. His minor is in sociology.

David Harold King, whose B.S. and M.S. degrees are from Texas A&I, and his wife, Mrs. Carolyn Susan King, whose B.A. is from Lamar Tech and M.S. from Texas A&I, were added to the faculty. King's major is in history and his minor is in government. Mrs. King's major is in English, her minor in history.

The board received a progress report on the new science and library buildings, where foundations are now being poured. A bid on treating soil and foundations against termites at the new construction was awarded to Orkin for a combined figure of $625, plus warranties.

Good Financial Picture Reflected At HCJC

Howard County Junior College has a good financial picture, according to the March financial statement.

The college has expended $378,814 during the first seven months of the fiscal year and has $243,814 in revenues available. At the rate of March expenditures, and receipts, the college will finish within the budget. Actually it may do better than that if the normal picture of lesser disbursements during the summer is followed.

In March, receipts amounted to $79,927, of which $62,000 came from the state. This made $621,993 for the fiscal year as compared with a budget expectation of $627,796. One item alone — $12,000 in summer school tuition payments — should more than take care of that difference.

By funds, disbursements for March and the first seven months (with the year's budget allotment in parenthesis) follows:

General administration $3,626 and $25,255 ($44,263); general operations $1,332 and $28,971 ($50,492); instructional $28,971 and $207,201 ($364,410); public service none and $1,157 ($4,500); library $3,117 and $16,697 ($27,723); plant and maintenance $7,273 and $53,934 ($77,117); auxiliary service $3,089 and $7,653 ($10,791); athletics $6,256 and $23,583 ($34,892); capital outlay $1,404 and $11,366 ($11,345); and contingency none and $403

($437). Interest and sinking fund receipts showed $8,842 for March, making $96,379 so far. Disbursements were $6,507, including $5,000 in retired bonds, making $28,268 for the year. The expected budget requirements stands at $92,708.

Student housing revenues amounted to $6,230, or $122,327 for the fiscal year against a budget outlay of $129,448. The disbursements in March were $9,652 and $77,380 for the year. The budget outlay is $129,885.

Hereford Sale Date Firmed

Members of the Howard County South Plains Hereford Association are optimistic about their annual show and sale this year.

Directors, buoyed by recent soaking rains, fine pastures and strong cattle prices, Tuesday evening set Dec. 3 as the date for the annual show and sale. Walter Britten, College Station, who has served as auctioneer of the sale since its inception, again will handle this chore.

A questionnaire is being mailed to all members to gather information on cattle that they expect to consign to the sale. When this data has been assembled, then a date will be fixed for the annual selection tour. Bill Reed, Sterling City rancher, has accepted an invitation to serve again as the judge in selecting cattle for the show and sale.

The outlook is for an outstanding event this December, said Loy Acuff, president. Visitors at the directors meeting Tuesday evening included Ed Standfield, Stephenville, representing the Texas Hereford Association; Mark Barr, president of the Junior Texas Hereford Association; and his father, James Barr, together with Herb Helbig, Howard County agent.

A Devotional For The Day

Ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise. (Hebrews 10:36)

Helping The Helpless

Word of a research grant to Big Spring State Hospital for preparing chronic schizophrenic patients for community living is welcome news.

For one thing, this research is spread over a sufficiently long time—five and possibly for 10 years—for some definite conclusions to be drawn from it. It gives the hospital staff and others breathing room for getting the chronic patients out of the hospital and into a semi-normal situation. The objective is not necessarily one of returning these people as productive, contributing members of society, but hopefully as self-care individuals.

Aside from the senile patients, who should not be in a mental hospital in the first place, the chronic schizo-phrenics are one of the most tragic, yet most challenging patients. These severe cases are frequently withdrawn, almost totally uncommunicative and therefore nearly impossible to reach. They are, unless the pattern is changed, the heart-break cases who will remain until they die.

But there is hope. They are being reached, and many deemed hopeless a few years ago are now within reach of partial reclamation. The availability of funds will come as a double challenge to the hospital staff in recovering these patients from the recesses and shadows of their delusions, especially since they know that they will have community cottages to go in their laborious journey back toward reality. The helpless can be helped.

Doubly Beneficial

Although our lakes in general did not catch as much water as most of us hoped in view of the amount of rainfall, what was caught will be of great value.

Lake J. B. Thomas, on which several cities in this area depend for water, picked up about 6,000 acre feet, or nearly two billion gallons of water. At this season of the year, this is at least a six weeks supply. And while none knows what is to come, May is normally our better month for precipitation, and if this is the case, the river sands and holes will have been saturated and ready to carry most of the runoff into lake basins.

Another benefit is the 1,000 acre feet picked up between Moss and Powell Creek Lakes. The Powell supply will be ample, by transfer to Moss, to maintain that lake's level all summer long (while water is being pumped from Moss to the Standard-Sinclair repressing project).

Our neighbors also benefitted from the rainfall. Two Texas Electric Service Company reservoirs got around 5,000 acre feet between them, which will ease their situation and give reassurances to Colorado City.

Almost on a par with these are the scores of stock tanks. Instead of being dry, most are filled or overflowing. For a rancher, the combination of bountiful grazing and plenty of water is hard to beat.

'Racial Balance' Discriminatory

WASHINGTON — Has the Department of Justice begun to blink at the racial discrimination being practiced against many white parents? Their children are being forced out of neighborhood schools unlawfully and are being transported elsewhere with the avowed object of achieving "racial balance."

Orders have been issued by many local boards of education in various Northern states requiring bus transportation of pupils from one school district to another. This is specifically forbidden by the civil rights act of 1964, but no action has been taken by the federal government, through the courts or otherwise, to enforce the law, which explicitly prohibits the use of any such device to correct "racial imbalance." Nor has any effort been made here to withhold federal funds from states which are violating "racial imbalance" prohibitions.

state legislature—discouraged by lack of federal action—endeavored to enact a state law to prohibit forcible busing of pupils from one school district to another. Although a bill to this effect was passed in the state senate by 41 to 19, it has been revealed that further action will be blocked in the lower house.

MEANWHILE, the board of education at Hartford, Conn., has announced a busing plan. It involves the transportation of 300 Negroes and Puerto Ricans to suburban schools. It was discussed at a public meeting and was the subject of protests from residents of the invaded areas.

Along with these happenings—and the above are only a few examples—there is news of a definite increase in private-school enrollment throughout the country. Richardson Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia and now president of the city's board of education, said in a public speech last week that in 20 years all the big-city schools will be composed entirely of non-white pupils. He declared that in Philadelphia there are already more white children in private and parochial schools than in the entire public-school system.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS statute provided for the handling of complaints and the institution of legal proceedings by the federal government so as to "materially further the orderly achievement of desegregation in public education." While the law requires an assignment of students to schools or within schools "without regard to their race, color, religion, or national origin," one provision specifically says that "desegregation" shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools to overcome racial imbalance.

The civil rights statute recognizes the possibility that there might be efforts to correct "racial imbalance" by busing pupils from one district to another and flatly taboos such action. The law says:

"NOTHING HEREIN shall empower any official or court of the United States to issue any order seeking to achieve a racial balance in any school by requiring the transportation of pupils from one school to another or to achieve such racial balance, or otherwise enlarge the existing power of the court to insure compliance with constitutional standards."

Within the last week, the New York

MR. DILWORTH, in addressing a conference of the national committee for support of public schools, also said that cities must modify the seniority system whereby teachers of certain experience can select the schools in which they prefer to work. It is being suggested that, to influence them to teach in schools in slum districts, special credits be given as well as financial assistance in obtaining masters or doctors degrees.

Many of the teachers apparently prefer to be in schools in certain areas and, unless they can choose their place of employment, they may give up teaching. It begins to look as if the quality of the teachers available will have an important effect on the kind of education the public schools will be giving hereafter. More than 2,000 students in a predominantly Negro high school in Detroit boycotted classes last week in a protest against "sub-standard education."

THE BASIC CAUSE of the crisis in the public schools is the increase in congestion in certain sections of large cities and the movement of white families to the suburbs—a right that has not yet been interfered with by governmental authorities.

Billy Graham

My father is past retirement age but is still working. We are trying to persuade him to move to Florida and take it easy, but he refuses to stop working. L. E. Unfortunately, in America, we have developed the idea that our senior citizens should be turned out to pasture when they reach age 65. I have been in Florida, and I know that picnics, fishing rods, and idle days on the beach do not fill the hearts and minds of people who have lived creatively all their lives.

The happiest "old people" I know are the busiest. Even an old "race horse" bristles with excitement when he hears the starter's bugle, and our aging parents don't like to sit on the side lines either. It is difficult for a person who has never been idle to adjust to just doing nothing.

Why not let your father do what he wants to do? If he wants to go on working, let him do it. If he would rather die "in the harness" than "on the beach," that's his own business. I'm with him.

'No Sanctuary In War' Means What?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says "there is no sanctuary" in the Viet Nam war.

Does this mean that, if Red Chinese planes attack U.S. planes or forces in Viet Nam and then flee back to "sanctuary" in their homeland, American planes will pursue them and bomb them in Red China?

Maybe. But until this is spelled out further in words or deeds, what the State Department said will have to carry a question mark behind it.

IT IS NOW one war and 15 years later than the Korean war in which the American policy was not to do any fighting in or over Red China even though the Chinese invaded Korea massively under the label of "volunteers."

It was this policy which brought on the historic clash in 1951 between President Harry S. Truman, who wanted to avoid direct war with Red China, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who wanted to bomb it. Truman fired him finally.

In a basic sense Truman's position was similar to President Johnson's today.

TRUMAN was determined to resist North Korean Communist aggression against South Korea but if possible to limit the war to Korea since enlargement through the involvement of Red China, might lead to World War III.

Johnson has been determined to resist the aggression of the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese Communists against South Viet Nam while trying to limit the war to Viet Nam and hoping to avoid tangling with Red China.

In Truman's case the "sanctuary" of Red China was preserved and later a truce achieved, even though the Red Chinese were up to their necks in Korea.

FOR THE past 10 days the air war over North Viet Nam has been expanding dramatically, with U.S. fighter planes in a series of dogfights with Soviet-designed MIG21s.

Robert J. McCloskey, the State Department press officer, was asked Tuesday if the Red planes had come into North Viet Nam from Chinese bases. He said "we have no information which would lead to such a conclusion."

But, explaining that he was repeating a position stated by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in the past, McCloskey said about the possibility the MIGs came from Red China: "There is no sanctuary" in the Viet Nam war.

Then, however, he declined to say whether the "no sanctuary" policy means American planes may chase enemy jets into Communist China if the Red craft flee across the frontier.

UNTIL HE is willing to say whether that's what it means, then what meaning does "no sanctuary" have at all, unless it's meant to make the Chinese think twice as of now they don't know what Rusk has in mind?

It was last July 11 that Rusk said North Viet Nam's supporters "must take fully into account" that in the Viet Nam war "the idea of sanctuary is dead."

At that time other U.S. sources said Red China had been told those who might join in an attack on South Viet Nam could not expect immunity from reprisals.

At least saying there is no sanctuary in this war is further than the U.S. government was willing to go in the Korean war. But then the United States was far less equipped for a big war than now.

Be Different This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals is deciding on where to spend your vacation.

Why not be different this year and have a really carefree stay-at-home holiday?

Ideally, a vacation should provide a restful change from the ordinary and enable one to recharge his depleted energy batteries.

WHERE ELSE can this be done better than at home?

Travel is supposed to be broadening, but what is more broadening than lying in a hammock in your own back yard for two weeks reading light fiction, dozing, swatting flies, and filling up on watermelon, fried chicken and ice cream?

If your wife complains that this program doesn't do much for her, tell her you'll listen to her for an hour a day. That's a good bargain. Any wife would rather stay home and talk to her husband—if he really listens—than ride around Bermuda peering at nasty things in the seats through a glass-bottom boat.

PERHAPS a summer hibernation in your back yard hammock isn't active enough for you. Well, if you're the up-and-going type, there are plenty of interesting things to do in your own community.

A few suggestions:

Get a selected group of friends, pass out alpenstocks, then take a guided tour of the nearest supermarket. The average American supermarket is full of more exotic wonders than the Taj Mahal. To pep up interest, you might give a prize to the member of your group who finds the shortest path from the canned dog food section to the chuck roast weekend special.

PLAN A TRIP to your local gas works. The manager will be thrilled to show you how his plant operates. He may even be so pleased at your interest that he will send a guy out to fix the two clogged jets on the back burner of your own gas stove.

Visit all the Civil War monuments in your own and nearby communities. There are few living authorities on Civil War monument prose. You can become one on your vacation.

THE YOUNGER Byrd has been going around the Commonwealth for three months, testing the air, meeting the folks, but not saying much. The other day three of us flew with him here in the Tidewater to hear what he promised would be his first "political speech" of the season. Was he going to duck the dynasty issue? Would he play down the family name?

Well, he was introduced by Sidney Kellam, who is as close as you can get these days to being a party boss. Mr. Kellam mentioned four Byrds: One who helped found the city of Richmond, one who was Speaker of the Virginia House, and then Byrd Sr., and Byrd Jr. The new Senator talked about the William Byrd whose spiced 18th century diary was recently deciphered, and about Admiral Richard Byrd, the celebrated explorer and aviator. The Senator said:

"ABOUT THE only thing my opponents have against me is my name. I can't change that, and I wouldn't if I could."

It wasn't ancestor worship, but it was a modest pride. It wrung from his audience the kind of applause that many politicians only get by baring

Around The Rim

Indelible Memory

Have we ever had an April rain such as that over the weekend? Staff members always come to the old patriarch with such questions as these. I had the answer for that one; it made an indelible impression on me for the reason I almost went to a watery grave.

a few wooden ones were brought out from nowhere. If natives had anticipated that the flow would go down that night, they were in for a surprise. All the lakes had filled to the west, and a terrific flood came down Elbow Creek and Mustang Draw.

FOR THE RECORD, April of 1922 produced 12.77 inches of rain. The biggest portion of this came almost to the day with our current big rain, but with it came also a historic flood.

It began to rain during the early morning, and it rained so hard all day long that we scarcely could keep our minds on our books at old Central Ward, where the post office is now located. The rain came in great folds, not only here, but throughout this area.

THE NEXT day the water rose and rose until it neared the fireboxes of locomotives, so fires were banked and the T&P came to a standstill. Other wooden boats were hastily built. The youngsters began to appropriate crosses, which floated from stockpiles, and fashioned rafts. The older boys bound together reserve telephone poles. Up and down the yards they poled as though it were the backwaters of the Mississippi.

Railroad tracks washed out to the west and east. The only open avenue to the outside was to the south. Still the water ran through the heart of town.

BY THE TIME school was out, the rain was letting up some, and we had word that the railroad yards were beginning to get under water. Most everyone went to Gregg Street up, and it became apparent that the small wooden bridge on the north side of the tracks would go under water. That might not have been so bad, except that the bridge preferred to float. Hastily a switch engine was ordered to the scene, and crews lashed on with a cable and hauled it back roughly in place so that it could be lashed there.

WHEN YOUNGSTERS grew weary of a raft, they tied it up and the next one along used it. It was one of these contraptions that I crawled toward the east end of the yards where the water narrowed and grew swift. Before I realized it, my raft was picking up speed in the vicinity of Benton Street.

AS THE RIVER of water widened from Gregg toward North First, it was apparent that Big Spring was cut in twain. One bold cowhand pointed his horse into the stream, clung its tail, and swam across.

Thereafter, for days, crossing was restricted to boat—and miraculously,

NOT BEING ABLE to swim, I realized I had better get off, but I misjudged. I was chest deep in water, and it was sweeping me toward the channel. For what seemed an eternity, I balanced there, bucking the flow, almost feeling it push me back into the swirling current. Maybe the terror of it gave me an ounce of extra strength, anyhow, I began to inch forward, and in a moment I was back in shallower water. I never forgot it.

Young Harry Of Virginia

VIRGINIA BEACH, Virginia — "Deny thy father, and refuse thy name . . ." The line, of course, is Juliet's to her Romeo, but it also started out to be the campaign cry of the opposition to Senator Harry F. Byrd Jr. He is running to fill the unexpired term of his notable father, who resigned after 33 years in the Senate.

their tattooed breasts to the multitude. Not too long ago, John F. Kennedy killed the Catholic issue by exposing it, and Senator Byrd was doing that with the dynasty issue. The next Byrd opponent who sneers at the family tree is likely to tag himself as a "bigot."

THE YOUNGER Byrd has been going around the Commonwealth for three months, testing the air, meeting the folks, but not saying much. The other day three of us flew with him here in the Tidewater to hear what he promised would be his first "political speech" of the season. Was he going to duck the dynasty issue? Would he play down the family name?

YOUNG HARRY went on to invite his rivals of the Democratic primary in July to slug it out with him on both qualifications and issues. Did anybody have more experience than his own long service in the Virginia Senate? Did anybody know the Old Dominion's needs better than he, who had visited every city and county before he was 21 years old? Had anybody "done more" than he, who had scouted the Union for new enterprises as chairman of the State's Board of Economic Development? Could anybody bring a more effective voice to the U.S. Senate than he, who already knew 80 Senate colleagues by their first names?

Well, he was introduced by Sidney Kellam, who is as close as you can get these days to being a party boss. Mr. Kellam mentioned four Byrds: One who helped found the city of Richmond, one who was Speaker of the Virginia House, and then Byrd Sr., and Byrd Jr. The new Senator talked about the William Byrd whose spiced 18th century diary was recently deciphered, and about Admiral Richard Byrd, the celebrated explorer and aviator. The Senator said:

THE SENATOR's chief opponent is Armistead Boothe, a much more liberal Democrat and a gentleman of Virginia by any count. Everybody in the Commonwealth knows that Boothe might beat Byrd, and that a good Republican might beat the winner.

But if the Senator's "first political" campaign performance is any criterion, only the bigots will mention the dynasty question. And anybody who wins Byrd's seat will have to do so on merit. The Senator who was called "Little Harry" is a man in his own right by now.

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

It wasn't ancestor worship, but it was a modest pride. It wrung from his audience the kind of applause that many politicians only get by baring

U.S. Gains In Trade Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—The battle for trade has turned in the United States' favor for the first time this year but the war is far from won.

At stake in the struggle to boost exports still higher above imports are such things as the good name of the American dollar, the supplying of sufficient funds to lubricate world trade in general, and even the degree of inflation on the home front.

IN JANUARY and February, imports were zooming ahead faster than exports were gaining.

Now the Commerce Department has good news—even if it proves to be only a temporary respite.

IN MARCH this country exported 9 per cent more dollar volume of goods and services than in February. Imports also rose over the previous month, but only by 4 per cent.

At a seasonally adjusted $2,594,400,000, exports topped imports by $21.7 million.

But that is just about as far as the department's good news goes.

firms to hold down their spending overseas for new plants, banks to curb loans to foreign enterprises, tourists to see America first, and above all for U.S. business to boost exports.

The export gain in March is heartening. But it falls far short of government goals.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The presence of the Negro soldier and Marine in South Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic is in evidence every day in newspaper pictures and on nightly television news programs.

According to the Defense Department, Negroes now make up 13.4 per cent of the Army's enlisted ranks, 10 per cent of the Air Force and 5.8 per cent of the Navy. In fact, the Pentagon figures indicate that Negroes are more subject to the draft than whites and more likely to re-enlist when their first hitch is over.

Once in the service, many of them find things better than on the outside, so they re-enlist rather than take a place on the "last hired, first fired," unemployment line.

Because they are usually without qualifying education or skills, Negroes are generally assigned to front line combat units rather than to military specialist schools. Many of them find self-respect in volunteering for the paratroopers or special forces. Some paratroop units in Viet Nam, Santo Domingo and elsewhere are anywhere from 40 to 60 per cent Negro.

In short, the Negro is playing a larger role than he ever has before in an American war effort.

Complete integration of the military has long since been achieved. Social segregation off-duty and the low number of Negro officers in all branches remain obstacles still to be conquered. But all Americans should note and take pride in the role the Negro is playing in Viet Nam. For the right to fight and die for one's country is clearly one of the highest qualifications for first-class citizenship.

—THE BOSTON HERALD

THE GAP between exports and imports will have to be much more than that, if the drain of dollars overseas is to be staunch. That is because the U.S. favorable balance of trade for several years now has been too small to offset all the other forms of dollar outflow. These include foreign aid, tourist spending, U.S. military outlays abroad, and private investment in foreign securities, loans and business expansion.

RESULTS OF this long-standing deficit in the total balance of payments have been less of U.S. gold reserves as other nations turn in their surplus dollars for the metal; occasional—but so far unsuccessful—runs on the U.S. dollar in world money markets; and the steady buildup of gold and dollar reserves in many of the leading industrial countries, while U.S. reserves have dwindled.

THE U.S. government has been relying on many programs to combat the deficit. It has urged business

To Your Good Health

Explanation Of Tragic Crib Deaths

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My 7-month-old grandson, perfectly healthy except for runny nose, died in the night of interstitial pneumonia. Please explain how this could happen. — M. H.

I can only speculate, but it is no more than fair to point out that these occasional and tragic crib deaths without warning usually prove to be from lung complications.

Interstitial pneumonia is another way of saying that widespread pneumonia developed, obviously suddenly. This can happen to children when they encounter a particularly virulent virus against which they have as yet not developed any immunity.

Such overwhelming and frightfully rapid lung infections have been proved to be the real cause of deaths once ascribed to smothering under the bedclothes. A child will thrash around if bedclothes cover his face. Even if he does not struggle free immediately, enough air will be under the covers, or filter through them. Haven't you ever buried your head under the covers and found that you could breathe?

Most of the crib deaths or supposed "smotherings" have turned out to be unexpected onslaughts of germs or viruses attacking little lungs or respiratory systems not yet ready to cope with them. There is no way to tell in advance, and it is brutally shocking to families when it happens, but they should be informed that it is not because of anything they did or did not do for the child.

Dear Dr. Molner: When someone drinks about five two-ounce bottles of paregoric a day can he break away from it, and what effect will it have on his health? He is in his middle 50's and refuses to go to a doctor because he says he can quit any time he chooses. We are worried about him. — MRS. C. B.

Paregoric is a drug derived from opium, and when anyone takes that amount, you can reasonably assume that he is thoroughly "hooked," or addicted. Someone is breaking the law by providing him with any such amount of this drug. You are right to worry. He needs help, and the source of supply should be reported.

Dear Dr. Molner: In an article you said that penicillin was the only way to keep a child safe from further attacks of rheumatic fever. What if a person is allergic to penicillin? My little boy is allergic, but the doctor said that other drugs would do just as well. — MRS. V. L.

If you read the article again you will find the statement that such treatment "involves antibiotics to suppress the strep germ . . ."

A long-lasting form of penicillin is the usual antibiotic in most cases, but if a patient is sensitive to it — as some are — sulfa and derivatives, or drugs of the tetracycline or various mycin groups, are used and work excellently.

The vital fact is this: Once a person has had rheumatic fever, a strep infection can cause another attack. Each succeeding attack carries the threat of cumulative damage to the heart.

Therefore precautions must be taken to see that another strep infection does not occur. The only sure way is the use of a suitable antibacterial agent — penicillin or some equivalent drug.

De Vincenzo Rallies To Win At Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Roberto de Vincenzo, called the international Sam Snead because he wins so many golf tournaments in so many countries, departs today for Casa Blanca on another of his globe-trotting jaunts. He'll play a televised match there with Tom Weiskopf.

Colts, Stars Register Win In Opening Games

Before a mammoth turnout of fans and parents, the Colts defeated the Jets, 3-2, and the Stars made the most of one hit to turn back the Cabots, 3-1, in opening American Little League games here Monday night.

on the Colt roster collected more than one safety. Scott Cardile of the Cabots and Murdock of the Stars were the only hits to hit safely in the second game.

The Stars scored twice in the third to give Murdock all the working margin he needed. Murdock fanned 12 in the six-inning struggle.

The evening was perfectly designed for baseball and the small fry made the most of it. Hits came at a premium in the second game. Jeff Murdock, on the hill for the Stars, also hurled one-hit ball to get the nod of his mound duel with Scott Knight.

In the opener, the Jets out-hit the Colts, defending champions in the circuit, 8-5, but Jeff Bartlett and Wayne York combined to space them evenly. York got credit for the win.

The Colts scored the winning run in the fifth when Mike Treadaway raced home on a single by Johnny Tonn.

David McElreath had three hits for the Jets while no one came from four strokes back, shot a four-under-par 67 and took down the $15,000 first money in the Dallas Open with a 72-hole score of 276.

It was, he revealed, the 120th tournament victory in an international golfing career that began in 1945 when he won the Argentine Open.

He has won the National Open in 13 countries—Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil, France, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Chile, Peru, Colombia, Panama, Jamaica and Mexico.

De Vincenzo won the Colonial National Invitation at Fort Worth in 1957 and that was his biggest purse until Tuesday when he won the Dallas Open by one stroke over Ray Floyd, Joe Campbell and Harold Henning.

De Vincenzo started the final round of the Dallas Open tied for ninth place, four strokes off the pace being set by John Lotz and Harold Henning, who had 205 for 54 holes. Only DeVincenzo made progress in the final 18. Henning was one-over-par, Lotz two over.

Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer, who were supposed to fight for the championship, finished with 73 and 73 respectively, and wound up down the list. Sanders had 279 and tied for eighth place. Brewer had 280 and tied for 13th.

Odessa Edges Big Spring, 3-1, At Home

ODESSA—Odessa High gained revenge for an early season defeat inflicted by Big Spring when it defeated the Steers, 3-1, here Tuesday afternoon.

The Steers, now 3-5 in conference play, will return to play Thursday in Midland, at which time they play Lee.

Odessa scored all its runs off Gary Mears in the fifth inning with the help of three Big Spring bobbles.

Jerry Sharp fashioned the mound win for the Bronchos, yielding five hits to the Steers. He pitched shutout ball until the seventh, when Jerry Wilson was hit by a pitched ball and eventually scored on a bobble.

Dale Connally, pinch runner Gary Vaughn and Randy Walker scored the Odessa runs.

Gary Mears pitched most of the way for Big Spring, surrendering only three hits.

The Steers had numerous chances to score before the seventh. They put the first two runners aboard in the fourth but Sharp settled to fan three straight batters. In all, they left 11 runners stranded.

Rod Roberts, the Steers' leading hitter, collected two safeties as R. J. Englert got the other blow for Big Spring.

The Steers play their next home game against Abilene Cooper Saturday.

Cleveland Equals Record For Wins

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's streaking Indians have earned themselves a spot in baseball's record book right alongside the extinct St. Louis Browns. Now if they would just follow suit and go away, too,

Baltimore would be sitting pretty. The Indians' ninth straight victory—a 4-0 shutout against Kansas City by Luis Tiant Tuesday night—equalled the American League mark for consecutive victories at the start of the season set by the Browns in 1944. St. Louis won the pennant that year.

Meanwhile, second place Baltimore kept pace with a power display that beat California 7-3. It was the Orioles' ninth victory in 10 starts, a 900 pace that would be good enough for first place most of the time but not in the American League right now.

Dave Johnson, Brooks Robinson, Curt Blefary and Andy Etchebarren provided the muscle for the Orioles with home runs that accounted for six runs.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York snapped a seven-game losing streak with a three-run ninth inning rally that beat Boston 7-6, and Chicago downed Washington 4-1.

Tiant's second straight shutout gave the Cuban right-hander a perfect 0.00 earned run average. He blanked Boston in his first start 10 days ago.

Against Kansas City, Tiant allowed just three hits and struck out 12. He got all the runs he needed on homers by Larry Brown and Duke Sims.

The patient Orioles stayed right with the Indians by hammering four home runs. Johnson and Brooks Robinson each had two shots while Blefary and Etchebarren added solo clouts.

Jose Cardenal and Bobby Knoop homered for California.

Baltimore's Robinson Rock continued to provide much of the Orioles' offensive punch. Brooks, who had a single to go with his homer, raised his average to .415 and has driven in 18 runs, tops in the league. Frank Robinson had two hits and jumped his league-leading average to .471.

The Yankees, who had lost 10 of their first 11 games, took a 4-2 lead into the ninth inning against the Red Sox when Boston rallied for four runs against Whitey Ford and three relievers.

But New York came back, tying it on a walk, three singles, a sacrifice and an infield out. Then Joe Pepitone's line single brought Roger Repoz home with the winning run.

Mickey Mantle had three hits and he and Roger Maris drove in their first runs of the season for the Yankees.

Floyd Robinson rapped a two-run homer in the first inning and then Joel Horlen and Eddie Fisher combined on a seven-hit that beat the Senators.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

JIM MURRAY, Los Angeles columnist:

"Arnold Palmer plays golf like a guy jumping through a skylight with a smoking luger. When Arnold and his Army show up, it's 'everybody against the wall with his hands up' for the rest of the field. . . . The trouble with Palmer is, he comes as a group. You get Arnold, you get the Army. The German Army is easier. They don't exactly trample the ball, but they run away in droves as you are lining up a putt. Their idea of etiquette is not to grab your club on the back swing. Anything else goes. . . . Palmer is a man who plays golf as if a forest fire were one hole behind. . . ."

FURMAN BISHER, Atlanta sports columnist:

"New York City is mainly an island civilization surrounded by water that needs a bath and by a suburban population which suspects that everything west of the Hudson River is wilderness. They think that Fort Wayne, Ind., is really a fort and that William Henry Harrison is the commanding officer and all the soldiers wear conkisk caps and fight Indians for daily exercise. Milwaukee — well, they can't quite get a clear thought on this improbable outpost. They sort of think that the Confederates moved in during the winter and captured the place, and they wonder why LBJ hasn't done something by this time about putting General Lee on notice. You drive through the islands of Long and Manhattan and you get the idea that this is a big jungle inhabited by animals trained to wear clothes and others trained to drive taxi cabs. They all drive like this is the world's biggest demolition derby. They spend most of their time stopped at traffic lights glowering at one another through thick spectacles and cursing. . . . Just the other morning the Supreme Court of New York Baseball Writers Assn. handed down one of its pregnant decisions. It ruled that the Braves, a National League baseball team, must give up their home in Atlanta and return to Milwaukee. Chief Justice Walter (Red) Smith of the New York Herald-Tribune, which is about to become the World Journal Tribune because business has been badly rendered the majority decision. He said 'Baseball has lost.' He said there was nothing else for the Braves to do but go home to Milwaukee. He was joined in this opinion by several associate justices, such as Dick Young of the New York Daily News and Jimmy Cannon of the New York Journal-American, and others too numerous to mention. . . . Most of them are still mad at Walter O'Malley and Horace Stoneham for taking the Dodgers and Giants to California. (They still can't understand how they got by all those Indians. . . . They think that things would really pick up in the South if we'd quit torturing Negroes, take a stern attitude toward lynchings and concentrate on bringing in airborne transportation. . . ."

at the IOC's 64th meeting. Avery Brundage of Chicago, 78-year-old president of the committee, refused to divulge the official votes.

The International Olympic Committee named the West German city of Munich as the 1972 summer site Tuesday and awarded the Winter Games to Sapporo, Japan, later in the day.

By unofficial count, Munich won on the second ballot with 31 votes, followed by Madrid with 15 and Montreal with 14. Detroit, it was believed, dropped out of the running on the first ballot. Sapporo reportedly captured the winter nomination with 32 votes, to 16 for Banff — while Salt Lake City and Lahti, Finland, received little consideration.

The nominations were announced after a closed session

Court Dismisses NAACP's Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court dismissed today an appeal by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in a case in which the organization was held liable for damages because of picketing of a store ordered by its Savannah, Ga., branch.

The court heard argument on the appeal March 29. Today it announced that the appeal had to be dismissed as "improvidently granted."

DOUGLAS DISSENTS
Justice William O. Douglas wrote an opinion dissenting from the dismissal. Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justice William J. Brennan and Abe Fortas joined in the Douglas opinion. The vote thus was 5 to 4.

NAACP appealed to the highest tribunal from a decision by the Georgia Supreme Court that upheld the damage award. The appeal said NAACP did not know about the picketing until it was ordered to stop by the Chatham County Superior Court. The Savannah branch was "semiautonomous," the NAACP said, and functioned and operated locally on local matters.

BOY COMPLAINED
The Savannah branch stationed pickets at a grocery store owned by Haldred Overstreet in 1962 after a 14-year-old Negro boy employed by the grocer told his mother Overstreet had accused him of stealing merchandise and had beaten him.

Overstreet, who is white, denied beating the boy and testified he fired him for stealing food.

A Chatham County Superior Court jury awarded the grocer $85,793.05 in damages in his complaint of conspiracy to destroy his business by picketing.

The award was against the NAACP, the Savannah branch, two of the branch officers and the Georgia State Conference of NAACP branches.

The Georgia Supreme Court in April, 1965, reversed the award against the state conference but otherwise upheld the lower court.

Douglas said the record disclosed no authorization by the national NAACP of the acts which the Georgia courts found made the organization liable.

CIVIL WAR DRAMA COMING FRIDAY
Bill Hill has major role in "John Brown's Body"

Play Describes Civil War Years

"John Brown's Body" is written so that one can feel the Civil War cut across American history like a sword," said Jack Meeker, director of the forthcoming production by the Little Theatre of Big Spring. Meeker said that certain time for St. Vincent Benet's play is 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Tickets may be purchased at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students and airmen either at the door or from a high school thespian.

"John Brown's Body" portrays the agonizing years of the Civil War," Meeker said. "Benet captures the emotional, physical and moral conflicts that were felt during that time. Like history, the play shows one United States before the war, another after the war.

Principal roles in "John Brown's Body" will be played by Bill King, Dr. Milton Talbot and Alice King.

Publishers Air Plight Of Labor Recruitment

NEW YORK (AP) — Difficulties in recruiting young reporters have been discussed at round-table sessions at the 80th annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The problem of retaining seasoned personnel to operate new equipment also was taken up at meetings Tuesday.

NEW MACHINES
Several speakers emphasized the theme that new machines depend upon the people who operate them, and that good people are becoming harder to find.

Donald W. Diehl, general manager and editor of the Easton, Pa., Express, told one group of publishers:

"If you've tried to hire someone lately, you are aware that there seem to be two newspaper jobs for every available newspaperman."

Diehl also said that "all the new equipment and new ideas advanced today will be worth little unless we have the right people to use them."

"HELP WANTED"
Last month, he said, publishers placed 296 help-wanted advertisements for news and advertising personnel—more than double the number of five years ago — in Editor and Publisher, the trade weekly.

Eugene R. Lambert, president of the Newspaper Personnel Relations Association, said "The vast majority of journalism graduates are going to businesses other than newspapers." Lambert is personnel director of the St. Paul Dispatch and the Pioneer Press.

Summer Recreation Gets $500 More From Schools

The Summer Recreation Program got another boost Tuesday night, when Big Spring school trustees voted an extra $500 to the fund. Previously, the schools had budgeted $1,000 for the program.

The summer program is financed jointly by the schools, the City of Big Spring, the YMCA and the United Fund. Joe Pickle, chairman of the summer activity, asked additional help from the trustees.

Sam Anderson, superintendent, recommended the extra gift, pointing out that 520 youngsters participated in the program last year.

A brief program by teachers in the cooperative vocational program at the senior high school was presented for trustees during the board meeting.

George Rice, distributive education; Billy Jones, industrial cooperative training; and Mrs. Peggy Hallmark, vocational office education, presented the program, outlining for trustees the purposes and operation of the classes.

In the cooperative vocational programs, students are enrolled in the regular school setting for half of each day and spend the other half day on a training station in the community for which they receive compensation. Their in-school program includes training in specific vocational skills, the teachers pointed out.

Present at the meeting were Joe Moss, Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Dr. Carl Marcum, James Felts, Grant C. Boardman and Jerry Currie. James Cape was not present.

Women's Group Notes 80th Year

TYLER (AP)—Tyler's oldest women's organization and the second oldest in the state marked its 80th anniversary with a guest party recently. The organization is the First Literary Club.

It was organized in February 1886 by Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, pioneer Texas clubwoman, who later became president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and General Federation of Women's Clubs. The First Literary Club joined the Texas Federation in 1883 and the General Federation in 1904.

For fourscore years the organization has met twice monthly from October through April.

North Viet Inviting Raid On MIG Bases?

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Viet Nam may be risking its key military air fields in the Hanoi-Haiphong area by sending its MIG jets to duel with U.S. raiders.

So far the United States has refrained from hitting three air bases which are home to about 75 North Vietnamese MIG jet fighters and IL28 bombers.

The U.S. Air Force has wanted to strike at these bases and the planes on them.

But decision-making officials have been reluctant to approve any such operation until and unless the Communist jets become troublesome.

TIME NEARS?
A rash of dogfights since late last week suggest that point may be approaching, although U.S. officials are not yet certain whether the pattern will continue. They are watching to see if the Communist jets come up again.

High military authorities have said they are confident that the MIG fields can be taken out by U.S. bombers over a short period of assault.

This could be a job for B52 bombers which so far have not been committed in North Viet Nam except for a single massive raid aimed at blocking an important pass.

The jet fields fall clearly in the realm of military targets. Officials are convinced there was nothing accidental about the MIG sorties in the vicinity of U.S. raiding planes over the past several days.

"COMING OUT"
"They're coming out," said one officer.

But there is only speculation as to why the North Vietnamese would choose to risk their few warplanes, especially MIG21s.

North Viet Nam has only 10 to 15 MIG21s, fastest and best in its air force. One was shot down Tuesday by a U.S. Air Force F4-C Phantom which killed the MIG with a heat-seeking Sidewinder missile.

Air Force officers said that, as good as the MIG21 is acknowledged to be, it could be overwhelmed if the United States chose to go after the MIGs with large numbers of high performance American jets.

Officials said a main objective of the U.S. air strikes in the north has been to sever and interrupt the flow of goods and war gear from Red China to Hanoi via important rail lines and from Hanoi southward along the infiltration routes to South Viet Nam.

Another aim, they said, has been to harass and interdict the flow of materiel out of Haiphong.

KEY OBJECTIVE
Sources familiar with the planning said that the bombing operations around Hanoi and Haiphong did not represent any special effort to throw a noose around these vital cities.

OLDER MODELS
Hundreds of Air Force and Navy jets are available in the Viet Nam theater. Most of the North Vietnamese MIGs are older models which, it is believed, would have difficulty standing up to the best American planes.

One officer suggested the MIG forays occurred because the North Vietnamese were stung by a recent series of air attacks which came close to Hanoi and Haiphong, and by the mounting
