Winner And Beaming Parents

Wayne Oglesby holds the 24-inch gold trophy he was given Friday night as he won the first annual Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award. Zale's also presented him with a handsome 23-jewel Baylor watch. Wayne is flanked by his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Dan Oglesby of the Midway community.

Wayne Oglesby Wins Youth Award

A surprised young man of Coahoma High School heard himself announced Friday evening as the winner of the first annual Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award. He is Wayne Oglesby, a senior, whom judges selected from a field of 43 nominees to win a distinctive honor for leadership in the areas of scholastic achievement, religious and civic work and in community responsibility. Wayne was cheered at a dinner at the Coahoma Country Club, where most of the nominees gathered to hear the decision. He received a handsome 24-inch-high gold trophy, and an expensive wrist watch, both engraved. Presentation was made by Zale Lipshy of Dallas, a Sidley's vice president, who complimented all the young people on their particular achievements, and who said, "the future of our country obviously is in good hands."

HONOR GRAD

Wayne, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Dan Oglesby, will be graduating soon, with high honors. He is president of the Coahoma Student Council; member of the National Honor Society, and in Who's Who for students; was named best all-around boy at his school; has played football, basketball and track; won all-district honorable mention in football, made second team all-district in basketball, and has been a state finalist in track. He has worked with the Heart Fund and in the Easter Seal campaign; has worked with younger boys in Little League and in the church Royal Ambassadors organization; serves as church pianist and is a leader in activities at the Midway Baptist, where his father is pastor. Wayne recently has made a commitment to become a minister. He had received high recommendations from his superintendent, his principal and his coach.

FINALISTS

In attempting to name a winner, judges—who admitted to considerable anguish in the task—had named eight "finalists" for the coveted award. They were Sue Burns, Cynthia Conrad, Sheri Gambill, Robert Gossett, David Holmes, Mary Frances Newton, and Mike Spradling. R. W. Whipkey of The Herald, presiding at the dinner, pointed out that a nomination alone was a high honor, since it meant that others had admiration for the volunteer work the nominees had done.

ANNUAL AFFAIR

It is planned to make the Youth Achievement Award an annual affair.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

You would have to say that water made the most significant news of the week. Most of it came from the heavens, and here was a week that an April hadn't produced for more than 40 years. They almost quit keeping measurements, but falls of five, six, seven inches (total for a week or more) must have been common. For ranchers and farmers, it was a blessing, and the area was benefitted without suffering damage as did other areas of the state. Some lakes were well up, but fingers were still crossed to get Lake J. B. Thomas full. The Colorado Municipal Water District, along with Midland, also made great news. Midland voted by over 3,200 to 56 to come into the district, and a pact has been ratified. This opens the way for greater development of the new reservoir on the Colorado near Robert Lee, and the district soon will be offering $3,000,000 in 30-year revenue bonds to finance the biggest water program this area has ever seen. There was bleak news, too. The community mourned the passing of one of its fine old-time ladies, Mrs. Ira Driver. And a shooting cost the life of S. Sgt. Malcolm T. Gore, with (See THE WEEK, P. 8-A, C. 1)

New Storms Lashing Floodwaters Higher

Warnings Up On All Major Rivers

New waves of violent thunderstorms sent more waters swirling Saturday into swollen North Texas streams, threatening more flooding in the water-soaked area. At least 12 persons perished in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and 12 others drowned in floodwaters of Northeast Texas during the weeklong rains that caused millions upon millions of dollars in property damage. FRONTAL SYSTEM The new turbulent weather in Texas was touched off by a frontal system that brought rains to most of the eastern half of the state. Temperatures plunged to below freezing in the north-central states with Bismarck, N.D., reporting 20 degrees before dawn, a new record low for the date. Heavy rains and high winds lashed Dallas and Fort Worth Saturday afternoon and the Weather Bureau issued flash flood warnings for the two North Texas metropolitan areas. Meanwhile evacuation of residents continued in low-lying sections of Dallas, Fort Worth and suburban cities. Officials said 26 roads in Dallas County were closed from Friday's heavy flooding. NEW WARNINGS New flood warnings were posted for all major rivers in North Central and Northeast Texas. The Trinity River at Dallas had climbed to 37.4 feet Saturday afternoon and was expected to crest at 39 feet Sunday morning. At Gladewater in Northeast Texas, the Sabine was 13 feet above flood stage and another foot of water was expected before midnight. Similar rises were predicted for the Sulphur and Cypress Rivers in Northeast Texas and the Red River in Texas and Louisiana. Army engineers issued warn-

PAT McNAMARA

Stroke Kills Pat McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan, serving his 10th year in the Senate, died Saturday night at Bethesda Naval Hospital where he had been under treatment since March 11. He was 71. The senator suffered a stroke Saturday afternoon, an aide said, and died at 8:40 p.m. He entered the hospital for treatment of a blood clot, which settled in a lung. In January, he was hospitalized for a time with a thyroid condition. A Democrat and Michigan's senior senator, McNamara was named chairman of the important Senate Public Works Committee when the 88th Congress was organized in January, 1963, and also took over as chairman of the Flood Control-Rivers and Harbors subcommittee. He was recognized as a legislative authority on federal highway programs, problems of the aged and aging, education, labor-management relations and civil rights. McNamara always sat in labor's corner. Prior to coming to the Senate, he served for 20 years as the unsalaried president of Pipefitters Local 636, AFL, in Detroit.

FORECAST

Showers and thunderstorms were forecast for all the state Sunday except in West Texas where skies should be partly cloudy. Cooler air will spread over the state Sunday. Saturday's new turbulent weather followed in the wake of waves of violent thunderstorms that raked the state Friday, taking seven more lives and adding to the millions of dollars in property damage. A tornado raked Fort Worth Christian College, causing an estimated $250,000 damage. A college maintenance man was injured slightly. A pilot died when his twin-engine plane hit a guy wire of a cloud obscured TV transmission tower near Dallas. A small boy drowned in a submerged car and five persons were killed on rain-swept highways Friday.

DISASTER AREA

The Small Business Administration in Washington has declared Dallas and adjacent counties a disaster area.

Rain Gauges Still Filling

Heavy rains and high winds whipped through the area Saturday morning, pausing long enough during the afternoon for another heavy fall as the sun went down. Gutters and some streets were running curb-full late Saturday, and the forecast called for continued thundershowers today. In Big Spring, Grady Randle of the U.S. Experiment Station reported about one inch had fallen by noon Saturday.

OVER ONE INCH

The Texas Electric Service Co. switching station had 10 at 8 a.m. Saturday with an additional 1.18 through noon Saturday for a total of 1.28 inches of moisture. Due to weather conditions, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company lost a carrier cable about 1 p.m. Saturday, and long distance service was sharply disrupted. Up until a late hour Saturday evening, calls could be made only to Midland, Odessa and Lamesa.

Streets were slippery and driving was hazardous in spots. Some slight hail was reported in the western section of town. At Lake J. B. Thomas, a heavy rain fell, gauging upwards of an inch. The week-long rains dumped 4.31 feet of runoff into the lake and at least another half-foot of water is expected to surge into the lake over the weekend. The expected near 5.5 feet of rise is little short of phenomenal, as only six feet of water was added to the lake during all of 1965.

7 1/2 BILLION

The 23,000-acre feet of water added to the lake during the past week will come to about 7,500,000,000 gallons. Yes, that is seven and one-half billion gallons, enough to last about four months. Moss Creek Lake reported nearly an inch Saturday. A tornado was reported about five miles northeast of Lee's Store on the Garden City Highway by Thomas A. Raines of Delta Electric, who (See RAIN, Page 8-A, Col. 1)

King Urges Bloc Vote

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. urged Negroes Saturday to cast a "bloc vote for freedom" and predicted that Lurleen Wallace, running to succeed her husband, will not get any Negro votes. "I don't think there's a single Negro in Alabama with good thinking sense that's going to vote for Sister Wallace," King told an estimated 3,000 persons at a park rally in Birmingham, Alabama's largest city and the setting for a 1963 civil rights drive. King, with two more stops on his campaign to get out a massive Negro vote, urged Negro voters to support Negro candidates.

'Geographical' Trips Scott

Scott McLaughlin of Big Spring, only seventh grader entered in the Regional Spelling Bee Championship at Lubbock, was eliminated late Saturday.

After Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, was sidetracked, only five of the original 27 entries were left in the field. Before the Big Spring family departed for home, the list of eligibles was down to three.

Young McLaughlin wondered how he came a cropper later, but he stumbled on the word "geographical." He spelled it "geo-phical."

Scott won a $5 cash award, plus the Lincoln Library of Essential Knowledge. He said the trip and the contest were memorable experiences for him.

A victory in Regional would have qualified the Big Spring champion for a trip to the National Spelling Bee at Washington, D.C. Young McLaughlin attends Colliad Junior High here. The family makes its home at 112 Cedar.

THE FAITHFUL BRAVE A RAINY NIGHT

Demo Hopefuls Make Appeals

Jupiter Pluvius might have gotten the most votes, but his name isn't on the Democratic primary ticket for next Saturday, so the party faithful ignored him and went right ahead with their "rally" in the courthouse Saturday night. Counting relatives, a sprinkling of kids, and others really concerned, the audience numbered about 65, excluding a jury box full of candidates who made their respective bids for support. The affair was climaxed with talks by competitors for the 17th congressional seat, Omar Burleson and Eldon Mahon. It was their fifth face-to-face act of the campaign, and developed few new issues. Burleson, who talked for 12 minutes, pointed to development of the district he has been serving for 20 years, citing interstate highways, flood control projects, FHA loans, military installation expansion, college loans and housing. He promised that he would be just as concerned with such facilities in Howard County (new in the district this year). Burleson said that every man makes mistakes, and his pledge would be that he would make in his best judgment on all issues, and have the courage to act on that judgment.

Mahon, whose time ran to 21 minutes, reiterated his call for "new, fresh representation" for what amounts to a new district (12 counties added this year). He said he would be no "rubber stamp" for any administration — or against any administration. He questioned the stature of congressional committees of which his opponent is a member, and said he would seek out posts that would be of vital interest to West Texas. "I think I know the people of this area," said Mahon, "and what they want."

Co-stars of the evening were competitors in another race at the state level, Roger Brown and Temple Dickson. Here again, re-districting has thrown them in a new-district contest. Dickson has had a full term in the Legislature, pointed to his record there and his appointment to important committees. Dickson mentioned his leadership in water pollution control, and his work for better education in Texas—including support of Howard County Junior College.

Brown brought up issues which he said he will support. These include a strengthening of the safety responsibility act to bear down on irresponsible drivers; the upgrading of the state's educational system; an examination of pay raises for teachers; more funds for the Big Spring State Park; a look at agriculture problems and water development.

While Brown said he would favor a removal of sales tax exemptions—when more funds are required—rather than a state sales tax. Dickson, on the contrary, said he could not support the addition of a sales tax on food and medicine, or on farm machinery.

Every candidate on the forthcoming county ticket who was present — and whether or not opposed—had an opportunity to talk. They all, in friendly fashion, made an appeal for support. Incumbents noted their experience; their challengers called for change. Every one of them held high the banner of the Democratic Party. It was the Howard County Democratic Club which sponsored the program. John Ferguson, its vice president, was the presiding officer.

Chou Attacks U.S., Russia

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of Red China unleashed a bitter attack on the United States and the Soviet Union on Saturday and charged the Russians were "uniting with U.S. imperialism and its henchmen to oppose China, Albania and all revolutionary people."

Chou warned the United States that "even more disastrous defeats are in store" if the war in Viet Nam is expanded and said U.S. efforts to set up peace talks would fail.

The Soviet Union, he said, "while professing aid to Viet Nam against U.S. aggression is actually using its aid to Viet Nam to attack China and is helping U.S. imperialism to stamp out the flames of revolution of the Vietnamese people."

The Soviet Union is trying "to form an anti-Chinese ring of encirclement around China," he said.

Chou addressed a rally in Peking to honor a visiting delegation from Albania headed by Premier Mehmet Shehu. His remarks were reported by the New China News Agency monitored in Tokyo.

City Manager Urges Better Public Relations

"Bad public relations are not as easily corrected as engineering errors," the 109 members attending the Texas Public Works Association spring meeting were told Friday.

John S. Stiff, Amarillo's city manager and president of the City Manager's Association of the Texas Municipal League, urged public works directors to develop better public relations.

Mayor Arnold Marshall welcomed members of the association at the Ramada Inn Friday.

"I want to extend every hospitality this city has to offer to each of you," Marshall said, "and invite you to come back to visit us."

"I was going to welcome you to arid West Texas," the mayor joked, "but I suppose that's out, in view of the showers we've been having."

Dignitaries Meet

Mayor Arnold Marshall, right, poses with John S. Stiff, Big Spring native who is now city manager of Amarillo and president of the City Managers' Association of Texas. Stiff was here to address the annual spring meeting of the Texas Public Works Association at the Ramada Inn Friday.

One of Stiff's Amarillo policies, which he said he "stole" from the City of Austin, is providing coffee free to field crews. The policy caused a great deal of comment from the public works officials.

One question was, did citizens talk about city crews drinking coffee on the job?

"No," Stiff said. "But they sure talk when they see six city trucks parked outside a restaurant with the crews inside drinking coffee."

Norman Heath of Lubbock, personnel director of that city, gave the gathering a rundown on the fundamentals of personnel management operations. He listed ways public works directors could help the personnel, citing ideas on personnel evaluations and grading systems.

IMPROVEMENTS
George Dieter of the El Paso department of public works suggested improvements which engineers can make in their approach to public works.

He said engineers as a group are too narrow-minded in their approach to public works problems, that engineers like flat, exact answers. He said their vision should be broadened.

GROWTH
Getting serious, Esmond declared that at the time of Christ there were about 30,000,000 people in the world.
"By 1975," he said, "there will be 3.5 billion, and by the year 2000, 6.3 billion."

"This increasingly rapid growth will be a shock to stagger the imagination. It will require the most adept plans to meet the needs of the people in your communities."

"You must impress your city councils with the need for planning ahead."

Saturday, following breakfast.

Chevrolet Admits Fault

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet Saturday became the third General Motors division in which 24 hours to confirm that possible defects had been found and corrected in some of its cars.

The latest report covered a steering condition which was found in the 1966 Corvair. A Chevrolet spokesman said "only a few cars" were involved.

GM confirmed a few hours earlier that adjustments had been made on 2,000 of its Oldsmobile Toronados, a new car on the market this year, and on about 22,000 of the 1964 Cadillac.

GM's disclosures came as all four auto companies were at work compiling a requested list of all general defects found in their cars since 1960.

The request was made by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., whose subcommittee has been probing the auto safety field for over two years.

Flood Waters Pour Over Levee

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — driving out cattle. In most places it looked like the water was about knee-deep to the cattle.

There were other reports that flood waters in some sections had reached a depth of 15 feet.

The levee break was about 2 1/2 miles west of U.S. Highway 71. Both 71 and State Highway 1 — main north-south arteries — were still open, at that time, Pettis said, but secondary east-west roads were closed by highway department crews.

The Caddo Parish — county — Sheriff's Department said the floodwaters might spread as far as the outskirts of Oil City.

The bayou flows into the Clyde Place Canal, which, in turn, flows into 13-Mile Bayou. This is part of network of drainage courses in northwest Louisiana. The nearby Red River continued to push to an expected crest Tuesday of 39 to 41 feet. Floodstage is 30 feet.

Vealmoor School Going Down

By SAM BLACKBURN
VEALMOOR — Vealmoor's biggest, most conspicuous and costliest building will soon be gone.

Wreckers are busily demolishing the Vealmoor school — a structure erected in 1952 at a cost of $115,000. Brick and steel from the building will be put to a new use — in the construction of a food store in Big Spring.

If the weather had remained good, the school building would probably have been levelled by this weekend. As it is, another week, perhaps, will see the final demolition.

The Vealmoor school was consolidated with the Borden County Independent School District in an election Aug. 31, 1963.

The consolidation brought to a close the era of common schools in Howard County — Vealmoor, as school District No. 25 was the last surviving common school in the county. Gay Hill and Center Point schools had been absorbed a year earlier by the Big Spring Independent School District.

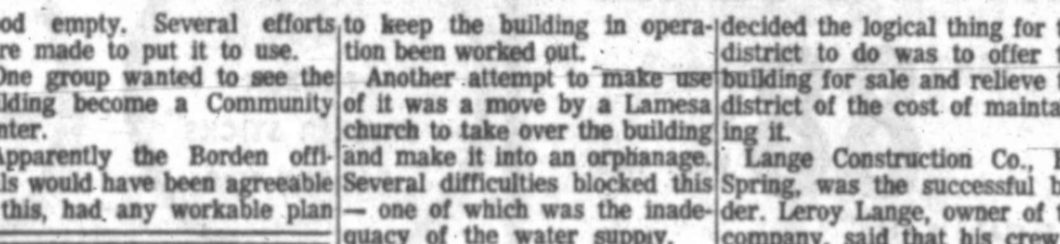

Only Independent Districts — Forsan County Line District on the south, Coahoma Independent District to the east, and Sands Independent School District in the northeast corner (which had absorbed Knott school) remain.

There were too few children attending the Vealmoor school, the Borden trustees felt, after the consolidation to make it feasible to operate the school. The building was locked up; the boys and girls were hauled to Gail by bus.

The attractive building, with its big gym-auditorium, office space and its three classrooms, stood empty. Several efforts were made to put it to use. One group wanted to see the building become a Community Center. Apparently the Borden officials would have been agreeable to this, had any workable plan to keep the building in operation been worked out. Another attempt to make use of it was a move by a Lamesa church to take over the building and make it into an orphanage. Several difficulties blocked this — one of which was the inadequacy of the water supply. Finally, the Borden trustees decided the logical thing for the district to do was to offer the building for sale and relieve the district of the cost of maintaining it. Lange Construction Co., Big Spring, was the successful bidder. Leroy Lange, owner of the company, said that his crew is wrecking the building and salvaging all possible material.

"We are going to build a new food store for Hull and Phillips of Big Spring," he said. "The new structure will replace the company's present store on Lamesa Drive and will be placed back on the land the present store occupies."

He said that the steel in the Vealmoor building was "what we wanted in particular."

Records of the Vealmoor school on file in the office of Walker Bailey, county school superintendent, show that the building now being torn down was built in 1952. A bond issue in the amount of $75,000 was voted and the new building was designed to utilize a part of the older building. The final cost of the building and furniture was about $115,000.

The bonds, the books show, were paid off in 1963 — the year that the school ceased to function.

School officials at Gail said the school will keep the block of land on which the building and several attractive teacherages stand. The teacherages will continue to be used. Members of the Borden County school faculty live in them at this time.

Vealmoor school came into existence in the early 1920's as a part of the Howard County common school organization. Its number was originally No. 15, but it later became No. 25.

Discovery of oil around 1950 stirred considerable activity in the area and the building now being levelled was constructed to serve the needs at that time.

Vealmoor residents are saddened by the loss of their school building. They had hoped that some way could be found to keep it in operation in some fashion.

Police said the motorist was struck in the ankle by a bullet fired wildly after the two officers were disarmed.

The wounded policeman's companion pulled a Durringer concealed in his jacket and drove off the mob before police reinforcements arrived, officers said.

Suffolk police said the two policemen are white and the motorist and members of the mob were all Negro.

Patrolman Edwin Michel, 24, of Islip, was reported in serious condition.

Kiwanians Making Plans For Annual Rodeo Barbecue

Big Spring Kiwanis Club's Sixth Annual Rodeo Barbecue will be served at the City Park and at the rodeo grounds May 18. Advance tickets will be placed on sale in the near future.

Clyde Bryan, ticket sales chairman for the event, has announced that a supply of tickets will be provided all Kiwanians by next Thursday. The price is $1 per ticket. All profits above expenses go into the fund the club uses for its work with needy children of the community.

The Kiwanis Club has a contract each year to serve a barbecue dinner to the special guests of the Howard County Rodeo Association. It combines this enterprise with a general public dinner and sells tickets to anyone who wants to purchase them. The public is served at the Big Spring City Park, and the rodeo association guests at the rodeo grounds.

General chairman of the barbecue project is Bill Jay. His co-chairman is Edgar Phillips.

Both Jay and Bryan, the ticket sales chief, issued a list of workers at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Travis Waller heads the wood cutters team.

Henry Thames and Delaine Crawford will be the chairmen in charge of the actual cooking of the barbecue and preparation of the side dishes.

Ed Cofson heads up the shuttle committee — the handling of the food from the cooking center in the park to the rodeo grounds — and will be assisted by Byron Orand, Stan Ballou and Jim Thompson.

The meat cutters will be directed by Pete Hull, Ward Jackson, Gibby Morehead, Noel Read, Dawson DeViney and James Bean are his aides.

The park serving committee will be directed by Garland Helton and Don Lovelady. Members are Charles Warren, Bob Travis, J. C. Pickle, H. W. Smith, Nat Shick, Wendal Parks, Sherman Smith, Bill Mead, Roscoe Cowper, W. B. Hardy, Zack Gray, Jasper Atkins, Jack Alexander, T. B. Atkins, Bob Bradbury, Elmer Boatler, Coy Burt, Earl Stovall, Paul Chappell, Glen Falson, Benjamin Meacham and Horace Reagan.

The rodeo grounds serving committee chairmen are Harvey Clay and Ernest Welch. Their servers are Bill Johnson, Soc Walker, George Franks, Clyde Hollingsworth, Robert Stripling, John Coffey, Sam Blackburn, Merle Stewart, Walter Davis, Jay Banks and Roscoe Newell.

The club members have been divided into competitive teams for the sale of advance tickets. Foreman of these teams, as announced by Bryan, are: Jay Banks, Paul Chappell, Bill Johnson, Byron Orand and Bob Travis.

There will be 1,500 tickets placed on sale.

At earlier barbecues, the club

National Queen Coming For Rodeo

A special guest at the 33rd annual Big Spring Rodeo and Parade May 18-21 will be Schrenia Clark, National Queen of the American Association of Sheriff Poses and Riding Clubs.

According to Charlie Creighton, president of the Rodeo Association, performances will be held nightly beginning at 8 p.m. at the rodeo grounds west of Big Spring.

Elra and Jiggs Beutler, Elk City, Okla., producers of the local show for many years, are again lining up some of their saltiest bucking stock, as well as several specialty acts.

Prize money of $3,300 plus all entrance fees will go to the contestants in saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, bull-riding, bull-dogging, calf roping and girls barrel race, Creighton said.

Sen. Clem McSpadden, Oklahoma, will be the rodeo announcer. Several acts include the Clark Brothers, who also will double in the clown activities, and Ken Boren and his "Old Grey Mare" act from Ft. Smith, Ark.

Kicking off the four-day rodeo season, a huge parade will wind through town May 18 at 4 p.m. According to Malcolm L. Patterson, parade chairman, the parade will feature many entries, including a special riding club, "The Sioux Doe Indians," a group of women from Oklahoma and Texas who will participate in full Indian dress.

Sheriff poses and riding clubs from many neighboring towns and communities will participate, including those from Dawson, Lynn, Scurry, Martin, Terry and Andrews counties, as well as the San Angelo Riding Club, the Scurry County Junior Riding Club and the Stanton Rangers. Also participating will be the West Texas Appaloosa Horse Club, the Ward County Riding and Roping Club and the Big Spring Mounted Patrol.

Mrs. Parker To Stage Show

Mrs. Valle Parker, Cisco, former resident of Big Spring, is being honored with a one-man show at the Women's Club in Midland. Mrs. Parker will be on hand to welcome guests between 2-4 p.m. Sunday. Her work has won many top spots in Texas art shows, and has attracted much interest among region art patrons.

Where I Stand On...

FREE ENTERPRISE

"I am not one of those who apologizes for or takes a defensive attitude toward the free enterprise system. It doesn't need defending. It's the best system ever devised for satisfying the material needs and aspirations of the people. There is room for improvement, of course, but this can be done without altering the basic principles which make it function."

FEDERAL BUREAUCRACY

"I believe that too much control of our government's affairs has passed out of the hands of Congress, and into the hands of the regulatory and administrative agencies. This authority, which has been lost by default, must be reclaimed by the Congress. The trend of surrendering authority to agencies and commissions—who are supposed to administer the laws instead of making them—should be halted. I think it is time that Congress recognize this usurpation of its power and authority for what it is: government by bureaucracy. When Congress loses its authority, then the people lose theirs, for Congress is the voice of the people."

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

"There is no justification for deficit spending except during times of national emergency. I think all new proposals for spending should be carefully screened and that a determined stand be made against unnecessary spending. These are prosperous times, and it is now that we should be paying the national debt, rather than creating more of it. If we don't pay off our national debt during good times, when do we pay it?"

VIET NAM

"I will always support an unyielding stand against communism, and I feel that there is no other tenable position for us to take in Viet Nam than that which the President has so firmly taken. We cannot be soft toward an ideology that has set out to destroy our own way of life. At all times, of course, I believe we should keep the doors open for possible negotiations that would bring about a peaceful solution to open conflicts such as we have in Viet Nam. Our goal in Viet Nam is to stop aggression on the part of the communists toward a peaceful people who have every right to seek their own destiny."

OIL AND GAS

"I will support legislation aimed toward bringing about a healthier oil and gas industry. This is a prime business—an indispensable business—to our District, and contributes substantially to the welfare of us all. As to the 27 1/2% oil depletion allowance, I am in full accord with it and would resist any measure that would seek to change it to the disadvantage of the industry and the District."

EDUCATION

"Education is the single most important function of an enlightened society. We must make it as accessible as possible, for as many as possible, without either reducing our scholastic standards or jeopardizing our traditional academic freedom. I will favor legislation that broadens our educational base, insofar as it does so without giving the Federal Government control over our curricula. The selection of textbooks and the teaching of subjects should be left exclusively in the hands of the local schools, without infringement of any kind on the part of the government."

"I am also interested in seeing our schools extend their efforts in the direction of more technical and vocational training, and would support legislation that would encourage this. I feel that this would lessen the high drop-out rate, as well as provide useful training to those who do not have an opportunity to go to college. This would also enhance the national employment picture, as the overall demand for trained technicians and specialized workers in nearly all fields is greater than the supply."

"As your Congressman, I would support legislation that would give a tax relief to parents of students enrolled in colleges. Such a bill should allow tax deductions for the amount put out for academic expenses such as tuition, fees, and books, or perhaps give the parents an additional standard tax exemption similar to the present $600 exemption allowed for dependents. Such educational exemptions, of course, would continue only for the established four-year period."

"It is my firm conviction that we cannot legislate poverty out of existence, but we can go a long way toward eliminating it through education."

JUDICIAL SYSTEM

"As a former District Judge and District Attorney, I am extremely proud of the lead the legal profession has traditionally taken in the affairs of our government. Especially do I hold our courts in high esteem."

"To keep our court system above the criticism and reproach it has occasionally undergone in the past, I would introduce and urge passage of legislation that would prescribe basic qualifications for Judges appointed to the federal judiciary. In addition I think it would be desirable to establish a mandatory retirement age, and a procedure for removing judges when they become unfit for service because of health or other reasons."

NATIONAL DEFENSE

"I will always be a strong advocate of a national defense force large enough and modern enough to maintain our peace and security anywhere it might be threatened. Such a force should be second to none in the quality of its personnel, its leadership, and its weaponry. I believe such a force can be achieved and maintained without a wasteful expenditure of the taxpayer's money."

Cancer Victim Visiting Ship

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An 11-year-old Cadillac, Mich., girl ill with bone cancer that already has cost her one leg, is spending the weekend here as the guest of the crew of the newly-built USS Duluth at the Philadelphia Naval Base.

"I'm so excited," said Lavonne Stutter when she was lifted in a wheelchair from the plane that brought her here Friday.

"It's wonderful." It was her first airplane ride. The trip was arranged by Leonard K. Bellinger, 20, a neighbor. He had told his shipmates about the sick little girl who has been hospitalized for some time. They raised the money.

R. C. Nichols Says "THANKS A MILLION"

One does not become county commissioner on his efforts alone. Neither is a county commissioner elected, necessarily, on what he knows, or may or may not possess. One only becomes elected to this office because the good people of Howard County bestowed the honor upon him. I am aware of this and am humbly grateful for this fact and honor. This honor I have respected by fulfilling the duties of my office in a manner to give to the people of Howard County Economic, Constructive, and Progressive County Government. Amblyopia Exanopsia

A possible menace to a life of happiness for your child

Your child's eyes are probably normal, yet if he is of pre-school age, unknown to you, he could develop a serious and tragic eye disorder that might plague him for the rest of his life. It's called AMBLYOPIA EXANOPSIA.

At an early age, a child learns how to fix his eyes so that they point toward the same object. He also learns to focus his eyes so that the images seen by each eye are fused into one when translated in the brain.

Normally, by the age of six, these visual processes become automatic, but unfortunately, this is not always the case. Perhaps the eye muscles are not in complete balance or there is a serious vision deficiency such as extreme near or far-sightedness, or astigmatism. Whatever the reason, the images of his two eyes are incompatible. The brain tries hard to adjust for this condition, but the two images cannot be fused. The result is that the brain, in order to clearly interpret the two images, suppresses the image of the weaker eye. The stronger eye is eventually used almost exclusively and the other may stop normal development.

AMBLYOPIA EXANOPSIA can rob your child of normal binocular vision, resulting in great difficulty for him in academic, social and physical achievement throughout his lifetime.

By the discovery and correction of the visual deficiency, preferably no later than age four, AMBLYOPIA EXANOPSIA can be prevented.

Be sure your child's future happiness is not menaced by AMBLYOPIA EXANOPSIA... be sure this malfunction of the vision process does not go undetected and uncorrected.

Guard against eye disease, eye-strain and poor vision with an annual professional eye examination from a T S O Doctor of Optometry. At T S O the fees for professional eye care and eyewear are nominal. If an eye examination reveals that no glasses are needed, there is only a $5.00 fee for the examination. A convenient credit plan is available, if desired.

Mental Health Week Scheduled

Details for National Mental Health Week observance today through Saturday at the Big Spring State Hospital were announced Friday, with the local hospital playing a leading role in bringing mental health aims to area citizens.

A kickoff invitational luncheon will be held Monday from 1:15-2:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the Allred Building. According to Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of the hospital, the invitational showing will dramatize current treatment techniques presently in use and special activities concerning chronic patients and rehabilitation programming.

The week's activities include the presentation of the film "The Faces of Depression" to the Howard County Junior College orientation class and other interested persons. A series of materials on mental health will be on exhibit at Big Spring High School throughout the week.

Public tours will be open to all interested citizens at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. At the end of the tour, visitors will view the award-winning film, "The 91st Day," in the Allred auditorium. Area public school counselors under the direction of Wayne Bonner will be at the hospital Thursday for a late tour and special sessions with Drs. Harry Davis and Sam Pieper. Following a dinner at the HCJC Student Union Building, the group will hear a talk by D. J. Stephens on careers in mental health.

Special groups from Colorado City, Snyder and Lamesa will be at the hospital Friday for a special demonstration. The Music Study Club, which will be observing National Music Week, will plan a program for hospital patients Friday.

Mayor Arnold Marshall, who proclaimed Mental Health Week last Sunday, said he hoped hundreds of people "will be personally concerned in taking part and interest in Mental Health Week."

Encouraging Progress Made In Mental Health

Statistics help tell the story of mental illness. One of every 10 Americans will spend some time in a mental hospital. There is only one psychiatrist in America for every 13,000 people. Over two million Americans are under some kind of psychiatric care, 600,000 of them in hospitals.

But there are a few hopeful figures, too. Eight out of 10 mental patients entering hospitals are helped and released, usually within weeks or, at the most, a few months. Many state, city, and county governments now provide follow-up care for patients after their release. In addition, the federal government has recently committed $150,000,000 for aid to local planning programs for mental health.

Admissions to public mental hospitals continue to rise each year. In 1962, an all-time high of 271,000 patients were admitted and, for the first time, over $1 billion was spent for the care and treatment of the mentally ill.

Encouraging progress has been made in the crusade against mental illness. Through the use of improved facilities, intensive treatment programs and modern drug therapy, mental hospitals are returning many citizens to the community and normal, productive lives.

In addition, modern treatment programs have paid off in dollars and cents for the taxpayer and the state, by reducing the cost of treatment from admission to discharge and reducing the large capital outlays for new hospital construction.

The patient who enters a mental hospital today has a better chance of being rehabilitated than he had 20, 15 or even 10 years ago. With modern care and treatment, at least seven out of 10 can be discharged as partially or totally recovered.

In the words of the Joint Commission on Mental Illness and Health: "... we cannot turn our backs on the mentally ill without turning our backs on our ideals ..."

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING Week's Foul Weather Grounds Most Pilots

Weather ran the gamut at Howard County Airport this week, with rain, hail, high winds, fog and dust storms keeping most pilots down, according to Howard Loyd, Big Spring Aircraft. Only about eight pilots ventured out on short flights.

Several out-of-townners stopped in at Howard County Airport this week, including Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, on a campaign tour through Big Spring; an Army helicopter with Army officials early in the week; Atmar Atkinson, Big Spring school architect; officials from the Colorado Oil Co., Denver, in their converted A-28; and visitors from British Columbia, Canada, who stopped by Howard County Airport after picking up a helicopter in Fort Worth.

Up for Howard County Flying Club this week were Zyn Dawson, on a cross-country in the Colt; and Robert Lebkowsky, D. R. Bates, Jacky Romine and Ray Russell, all in the Colt. Lebkowsky recently joined the Howard County Flying Club.

Big Spring Flying Club had up Robbie Sanders on a cross-country in the Cessna.

Jacky Romine, Pat Petosky and Judy Denton flew to San Angelo on a cross-country early in the week. Pat Petosky has started a ground school, meeting Tuesdays and Fridays at 7 p.m. in the Central American Airways hangar at the airport. Anyone interested in joining can call her at Big Spring Aircraft for information.

WHERE, OH WHERE... Family Asks Help In Locating Cats

By TOM BARRY
The two cats of twins Sherry and Sharon Mommens of Iowa City, Iowa are missing and are somewhere in Big Spring. The mousers wandered into a furniture van April 16 and were locked in. The van moved the cats and an Air Force airman's furniture to Big Spring.

When the movers opened the doors of the van April 18 to remove Airman Douglas Koch's furniture, the two cats jumped out and ran off, and have not been seen since, according to Mrs. Elmer Mommens, the twins' frantic mother. Mrs. Mommens told The Herald Friday she is more concerned about 10-year-old Sherry, who, Mrs. Mommens said, "is worried sick about her cat."

So worried is the first-grader, who at one time had mental trouble, that she is falling in school. "Sherry has been so upset about Smoky (her cat) that she has been subtracting her math figures backwards," Mrs. Mommens said.

Mrs. Mommens said that the cats were in the yard when Airman Koch's furniture was being loaded. She said Koch lived just next door to the Mommens, who reside at 1119 E. Church Street, Iowa City, before being transferred to Big Spring's Webb Air Force Base.

"If anyone sees the cats," Mrs. Mommens said, "your animal warden (Bobby Baker) said he'd care for them until we can send for them."

Smoky, Sherry's cat, is a small, sky steel-gray female, and is about to give birth to a litter. Smoky was wearing a red collar when last seen. Sharon's kitten is called Bibbie, after the white bib of hair on her chest. Bibbie is long-haired, with a black and gray mottled black and a light face. She was wearing a brown collar with a bell, and has been trained to sit up for her food.

Anyone who finds the cats should contact Baker by calling the police station at AM 3-7311.

Speaker Announced For Webb's Class

Guest speaker for Class 66-G's graduation dining-in Friday will be Col. Daniel James Jr., director of operational training of the 443rd Combat Crew Training Wing, and deputy commander for operations of the 443rd Combat Crew Training Wing at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Ariz.

Highlighting the Armed Forces Day open house air show at Webb Saturday will be the Thunderbirds, USAF official aerial demonstration team, and, representing the Army, the Golden Knight parachutists.

A full day of activities for Webb graduating pilots of Class 66-G is scheduled, with the public invited to view the aerial show and the awarding of pilot's wings.

At 9 a.m., one of Webb's T-38 aircraft will begin the show with a special high speed pass. Pilots will then receive their certificates and silver wings and pass in review.

The Golden Knights' maneuvering the aircraft at 13,500 feet, free falls to 3,500 feet, collapses his parachute and cuts it away free falling the second time to 1,800 feet. Here he opens the main chute to land.

Included in the Thunderbirds demonstration will be a cross-section of aerobatic team and solo maneuvers.

Project officer for the show is Lt. Col. T. J. R. Preston.

The dining-in Friday night for members of Class 66-G and their guests will feature Col. Daniel D. James Jr., director of operations, 443rd Combat Training Wing, Davis-Monthan AFB, Ariz.

Col. James began his flying career as a civilian instructor pilot for the Army Air Corps at Tuskegee, Ala., and served there until January, 1943 when he entered the aviation cadet program. Following his commission in July, 1943, he entered fighter combat training at Selfridge Field, Mich.

In 1949, he was assigned as a flight leader to the 12th Fighter Bomber Squadron, 18th Fighter Wing, Clark Field, Philippines. Flying F-51s and P-50s he was assigned to Korea in July, 1950, where he flew 101 combat missions before his assignment at Otis AFB, Mass., in July, 1951, as an all-weather jet pilot. He was promoted to major in 1952.

Col. James moved to Davis Monthan Air Force Base in September, 1964 and was assigned director of operational training for the new F-4C Phantom II, 443rd Combat Crew Training Wing. He was promoted to full colonel and became deputy commander for operations in November, 1964.

His decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with seven Oak Leaf Clusters, Korean Service Medal, United Nations Service Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Distinguished Unit Citation, Recapture of Korean Presidential Unit Citation, Army of Occupation Medal, Air Force Commendation Medal, World War II Victory Ribbon, Air Force Reserve Medal, Small Arms Expert Marksmanship Ribbon, Air Force Outstanding Unit Award with one Oak Leaf Cluster, and Air Force Longevity Award with four Bronze Oak Leaf Clusters.

Col. James was voted the State of Massachusetts' most outstanding young man of the year in 1955, and received the Massachusetts Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award.

Another development which keeps Big Spring green in his memory is that he met Alice Ward here. Alice, whose home is in Lufkin, was sent to Big Spring about a year ago as an assistant home demonstration agent, to be trained by Catherine Crawford. She was assigned as home demonstration agent in Jack County a few months ago but will soon resign from that post.

She will become Mrs. Brandenberger on June 25. He has already arranged for a house in Coleman. The wedding will be in that city.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said that he regretted seeing Brandenberger leave and said that the job he is taking is a fine one and a big promotion. Helbig said he would probably not get a new assistant until mid-summer. After graduation at Texas A&M, it is possible some available assistants will be listed.

Brandenberger is a graduate of A&M and was working on a New Mexico ranch at the time he accepted appointment here as an assistant. He is a native of San Saba.

New Directors Join Gamco, Math-Master

Effective May 1, two new directors have been added to the boards of Gamco, Inc., and Math-Master Labs, Inc. It is announced by George McAllister, president.

Going on the board are Clyde McMahon Sr. and Ike Robb. They are joining McAllister, Harold Davis and Clyde Hollingsworth, and will serve under appointment until the regular stockholders meeting in October.

McAllister said the plan was to broaden the scope of the board since the two companies are expanding so rapidly and more executive talent is called for in directing their affairs. A third corporation in the complex, Creative Visuals, Inc., is wholly owned by the other two companies.

The three are producing a vast array of teaching aids, and are finding markets throughout the world.

Also announced today was the promotion of Harold McAllister to a vice president of Math-Master and Creative Visuals. He had held a vice presidency in Gamco. Again, said George McAllister, the growth of the companies pointed to the need of additional executive leadership.

Blank Record Of Plane Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The flight recorder made no record of the final flight of the chartered airliner which crashed near Ardmore, Okla., last week, killing 81 persons, a Civil Aeronautics board spokesman said Saturday.

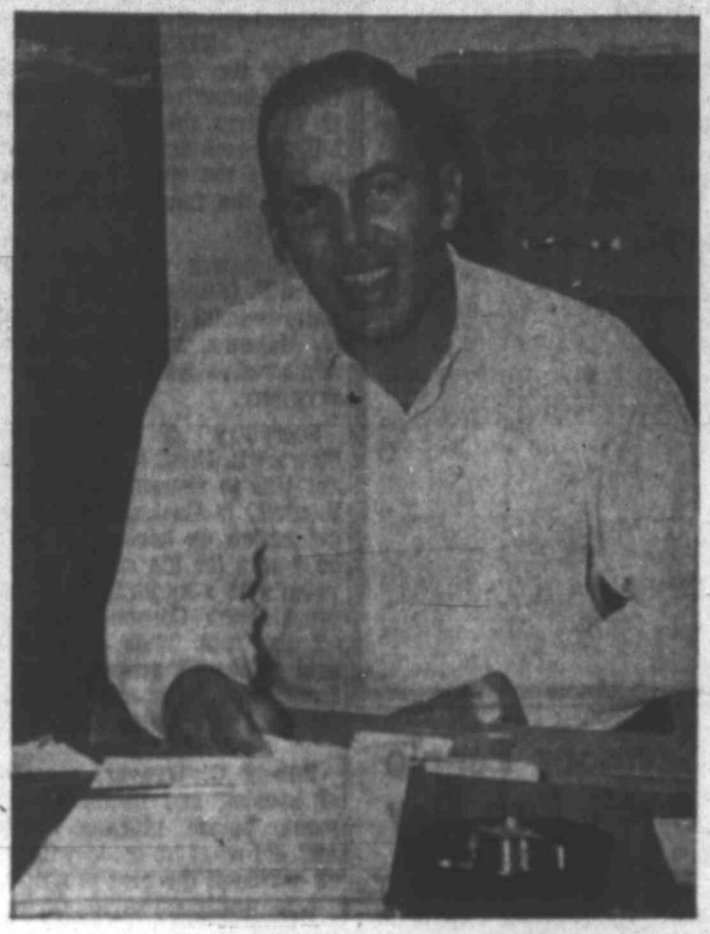

The tape which should have recorded altitude, speed, direction and other details had not been properly threaded in the recorder, the spokesman said. As a result, the tape was blank. The reason is still being investigated.

The plane, an American Flyers airliner, was carrying 92 Army recruits from Ft. Ord, Calif., to Ft. Benning, Ga.

Cheap Bus Service Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal housing officials reportedly will approve next week a $2.25 million plan to provide cheap bus service for poverty-stricken residents of Watts and East Los Angeles.

Sources said the funds would be given to the state of California for the establishment of the bus services, which officials hope to have in action by July. Watts was the scene of racial violence last August that killed 36 persons.

Don Brandenberger, who has served as assistant county farm agent here for the past 18 months, left Sunday morning for Coleman County. Monday he becomes county farm agent there.

Ruby's Club To Be Gymnasium

DALLAS (AP) — The night club operated by Jack Ruby when he was convicted of killing Lee Harvey Oswald will become a boys' boxing gymnasium.

A contract was signed Friday by the Dallas Police Association and Houston Nichols, owner of the building. It provides that the association can use the facilities rent free until it might be leased.

Ruby is under the death sentence after being convicted of killing Oswald, identified by the Warren Commission as the slayer of President Kennedy.

The night club, known as the Carousel Club, was closed shortly after Ruby's arrest in November, 1963.

Market Takes Worst Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week took its worst weekly loss in 10 months and on the lightest trading in six weeks.

Some unsettling news was linked with the decline. Also important was that on Monday the American and New York stock exchanges put into effect tighter credit restrictions on small-time speculators and in-and-out traders.

Wall Streeters agreed that this was the chief reason for the reduction in volume. They recalled that only two weeks ago the New York Stock Exchange rolled up the biggest weekly volume in its history — 53.3 million shares. Last week volume declined to 33,353,000 shares from 46.7 million the week before.

Many glamor stocks paused for breath. Blue chips, as a whole, performed even worse than they usually do.

General Motors sank to 88 1/2, its lowest price since mid-1964 before recovering to end the week at 90 1/4, a net loss of 3%. GM was upset by news of an antitrust suit charging the giant automaker with trying to ban the sale of Chevrolets through discount houses in the Los Angeles area.

VA Open Late Monday To Aid On GI Insurance

A Veterans Administration contact representative will be on duty in Room 141 on the first floor of the Big Spring VA Hospital until midnight Monday, as the re-opened GI insurance program comes to a close, Donald D. Van Meter, director of the hospital, said Saturday.

Information and assistance will be available to World War II and Korean Conflict veterans seeking new policies of Life Insurance they failed to take out while in wartime service or that they have since allowed to lapse, he said.

The insurance program, re-opened a year ago for veterans with service-connected disabilities or those whose nonservice-connected disabilities are so great they are unable to obtain commercial insurance at even the highest rates, comes to an end at midnight, May 2.

Johnson Has Trouble With His Defectors

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is finding it tough and go to offset the defections from his Great Society programs of some Democratic Vietnam war critics and others facing conservative GOP opponents.

The White House put on its most intensive lobbying campaign of the year before the Senate voted 48 to 45 last Wednesday to write into an appropriations bill $12 million for his rent-subsidy program.

STRIP IT
After the Senate Appropriations Committee had voted 15 to 12 to strip the item from the bill, Johnson deployed his forces to carry the word that restoration of the funds was an absolute must.

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, an old hand at congressional liaison, and Mike N. Manatos, a presidential administrative assistant, were everywhere.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall hurried to Capitol Hill to reassure Sen. E. L. Bartlett, D-Alaska, that he will get action on housing subsidies he wants for his state. Bartlett voted with a majority of the Appropriations Committee to lop off the rent funds because he said he wasn't arousing any interest within the administration for his Alaskan projects.

WEAVER
Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development, helped placate Bartlett and did what he could with other critics of the rent program.

But Johnson obviously had been forewarned that some changes had taken place since the Senate voted 47 to 40 last July 15 to authorize the rent subsidies.

When Wednesday's countdown came, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, and Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N. H., switched from their 1965 support of the program to opposition. Hartke and Young have been in the forefront of Viet Nam critics.

CONSERVATIVE
McIntyre faces conservative Republican opposition for reelection. So does Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., who voted for the housing program in July but was paired against it in April. Pairs are used to denote senators' positions when one or both are absent. They do not count in the roll call.

Johnson did not manage to persuade any senator who opposed the rent program last year to vote for it Wednesday.

Fugitive Captured

NEW-ORLEANS (AP) — Authorities captured fugitive Roy Mejia, 27, Saturday aboard a train across the Mississippi River from New Orleans.

Mejia is charged with murdering Mrs. Barbara Verrett, 35, of Berwick and her three children.

Mejia was spotted aboard an 180-car westbound Texas & Pacific freight train. He offered no resistance, and climbed down from the train with his hands in the air.

Railroad detectives first spotted Mejia.

The manhunt for Mejia covered several south Louisiana parishes. It started April 17 when Mrs. Verrett and her children were found missing from their blood-spattered home in St. Mary Parish, about 75 miles southwest of New Orleans.

The bodies of the Verrett family were found in a marshland near Golden Meadow, south of New Orleans, last weekend. Mrs. Verrett had been bludgeoned to death. The children were shot in the head.

Primary To Decide Demo Party Control

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas voters select party nominees next Saturday. The results are expected to show how much the state's rough-and-tumble politics has been changed by a re-apportionment and voter registration.

With no crucial intra-party conflicts for governor or senator, most voter interest in the primaries May 7 turned to a name-calling race for state attorney general and to contests for Congress and the legislature, spawned by federal court redistricting. All are Democratic.

PARTY CONTROL

Control of the state Democratic Party machinery also is at stake in the 5,000 or so precinct conventions after polls close at 7 p.m. Gov. John Connally, successful leader of the conservative-moderate party faction since 1956, is being challenged by the labor-liberal faction.

10-A Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, May 1, 1966

spearheaded by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

Almost 3 million voters are eligible, including 624,000 who registered free after federal courts struck down Texas' $1.75 poll tax.

Most estimates of voter turnout range between 1 million and 1 1/2 million for the Democratic primary and around 100,000 for Republicans.

TOWER

Republicans have no competitive statewide or congressional races and have shown every sign of saving their efforts, both physical and financial, for the re-election campaign of Sen. John Tower, the sole Republican from Texas in Congress.

President Lyndon Johnson has taken no apparent part in his home state election, or the Connally-Yarborough struggle at precinct level. The President and Mrs. Johnson had absentee ballots mailed them.

CARR FAVORED

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, a political friend of Connally, is an over-all favorite to win the Senate nomination over a political unknown, John Willoughby, Houston advertising man who is financing his campaign by selling copies of his platform for $2 each.

Seymour People Await Fish Day

SEYMOUR, Tex. (AP)—The small West Texas city of Seymour (pop. 4,010) will close shops and schools today so that all of its people can go fishing in nearby Lake Kemp.

It will be the first year that residents have virtually deserted the Baylor County seat for a day at the 22,500-acre lake with its 125 miles of shoreline.

The lake was completed in 1923 and after a three-year spawning season, it was opened for fishing on May 1, 1928.

To honor this event the people of Seymour decided to declare May 1, 1928 as a legal holiday and everyone go fishing.

The idea was so successful that ever since, May 1 has been a legal holiday in Seymour. Seymourites closed their businesses and lay their daily chores aside and head for Lake Kemp for a day of fishing, relaxing, and for the many events that take place each year.

Reds Make Big May Day Plans

TOKYO (AP) — Red China was ready Sunday for one of its biggest May Day celebrations, jubilant over an "unprecedented upsurge in industrial and agricultural production," the New China News Agency reported.

A celebration also was planned in Moscow, and the Luna 10 satellite in orbit around the moon will radio back to earth with electronic beep tones, the "Internationale," the anthem of the Communist movement, to mark the holiday. In Saigon, 10,000 police and paratroops were alerted for any attempt by Communists to use a May Day parade by organized labor to stir up rioting and other violence. All Americans not on duty were urged to remain off the streets.

Red Chinese cities were decked out with flags, flowers and slogans for the major Communist holiday. A huge portrait of Mao Tse-tung hung in Peking's main square along with somewhat smaller portraits of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin.

The Soviet government on the eve of the holiday gave Soviet citizens something to cheer about. An announcement promised a big increase in the supply of food and other consumer goods this year.

The playing of the "Internationale" will be a repeat of the stunt by the unmanned satellite April 4, the day after it had gone into orbit. It was thunderously applauded then by the 6,000 delegates to the 23rd Congress of the Soviet Communist party.

Rehearsals for the traditional May Day parade in Moscow indicated that no significant new weapons would be displayed.

Huge portraits of Marx, Engels and Lenin dominated Red Square.

Organized labor in Japan dropped all anti-American and anti-Viet Nam war slogans and predicted the biggest May Day turnout in its history, possibly half a million workers and their families.

The effect of Moscow's announcement that 1966 production goals would be surpassed was difficult to gauge. The goal was set at relatively low level, and no comparison was provided with 1965 production.

The brief announcement in the government newspaper Izvestia contained only one figure. It said production of consumer goods would top planned targets by more than $1.1 billion.

Arrested For LBJ Threat

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A San Francisco merchant seaman was charged Friday with threatening the life of President Johnson.

In a complaint filed by Secret Service Agent Toby Chandler of San Antonio, Robert Koshlap, 43, was named.

Koshlap was being held in jail here on a drunk and vagrancy charge. The charge did not list details regarding the alleged "oral threat against the life of the President of the United States."

A motion by Asst. U.S. Atty. Homer Lopez to commit Koshlap to 90 days of psychiatric examination at Springfield, Mo., was granted.

By JERRY LISKA Associated Press Sports Writer DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — One national collegiate and 15 Southern University captured four baton titles in the wind-swept Drake Relays Saturday.

A disappointment was Jim Ryun, the phenomenal Kansas freshman who failed in an attempt to crack the four-minute mile barrier at Drake.

A crowd of 24,252 watched in the cold and rain as Patrick unreeled another come-from-behind anchor leg to pace Villanova's quartet of sophomores to a two-yard victory over Georgetown in the two-mile relay in 7:30.3. Florida A&M swept the 440 yards and 880 yards relays Saturday.

Bolin Shines In Giant Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bob Bolin survived several crises to pitch the San Francisco Giants to a 6-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a nationally televised National League game here Saturday.

It was the first relay victory here for Tennessee and Florida A&M. The Floridians broke the ice in the quarter-mile with a two-yard edge over Morgan State in 41.8. Then they finished second to Morgan State in the half-mile and were awarded first when the Marylanders were disqualified for passing too soon on the exchange between the second and third men. Florida A&M's time was 1:26.9.

Orlando Cepeda drove out a towering home run for the second but Willie Mays again failed in his effort to break the league record. Mays had a double in three tries.

Little Fires 67 For Lead

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gene Littler surged from a tie for third place to take the lead Saturday with a three-round total of 202 in the $50,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament.

Littler shot a three-under-par 67 and was eight strokes under par for the three rounds. The second round leaders, Phil Rodgers and Jim Ferrier shot two-over-par 72s to drop into a tie for fourth place with five others at 205.

Baltimore Orioles Win Over Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Dave Johnson hit two homers and Curt Blefary one as the Baltimore Orioles edged Detroit 3-2 Saturday and extended their winning streak to nine games.

The Orioles have lost only 12 games this season. The home runs were the only hits allowed by Detroit starter Denny McLain, who went the first seven innings and suffered his first loss in four decisions.

McLain connected for his homer in the first inning. Johnson hit his homers in the second and seventh.

Houston Rallies To Edge Braves

ATLANTA (AP) — A third-strike passed ball by catcher Gene Oliver, a hit batsman and John Bateman's run-scoring single in the ninth inning gave the Houston Astros a 5-4 victory over the Atlanta Braves Saturday night.

Atlanta reliever Phil Niekro struck out Rusty Staub, leading off the ninth, but the ball eluded Oliver who had replaced Joe Torre behind the plate at the start of the inning, and Staub reached first base.

One out later, Hank Fisher replaced Niekro and hit Dave Nicholson with a pitch. Bateman then singled to left, scoring Staub, to snap a 4-4 tie. The Braves had scored two runs in the eighth, tying the game, on Torre's single, a triple by Rico Carty and a pinch

Reichardt Zeroes In On Pitching In Win

BOSTON (AP)—Rick Reichardt hit two homers, driving in four runs, and Jim Fregosi ripped a three-run double as the California Angels exploded for 12 runs in the eighth inning and whipped Boston 16-9 Saturday. Reichardt, who received an estimated $175,000 bonus to sign with the Angels, tied the major league record for two homers in an inning, becoming the 11th player to accomplish the feat. The last to do it was Joe Pepitone on the New York Yankees in 1962.

The inning, the biggest in the majors this season, wiped out a 9-3 Red Sox lead and was built against starter Earl Wilson and relievers Ken Sanders, Dick Ratz and Dan Osinski.

The Angels, held to two hits for seven innings, collected 11 in the eighth, including Reichardt's blast and a two-run shot by Bobby Knop.

Five Records May Fall At Austin

AUSTIN (AP)—Possibly five records in the varsity division and a wholesale lot in the freshman class loom for the Southwest Conference Track and Field Meet here Friday and Saturday.

Rice and Texas are expected to wage a close fight for the varsity championship. Texas seems most likely to win the freshman title.

Richard Romo of Texas should crack the mile record of 4:10.5. Preston Davis of Texas the three-mile record of 14:49.1. Mark King of Texas the pole vault standard of 16 feet and Rice should shatter the mile relay record of 3:10.7.

Devils Upend Yanks, 13-4

The Devils ganged up on enemy pitching in the first three innings on their way to a 13-4 National Little League victory over the Yankees here Friday evening.

The Devils staked pitcher Joe Trantham to three runs in the first inning, added five in the second and came back for four in the third.

The Devils collected 10 hits off Yankee hurling while Trantham and Bob Carlile limited the Yankees to six blows.

Bobby Webb and Bob Carlile each hit doubles for the winners and Carlile managed to cross the plate four times.

Japanese Star Heats Up Fans In Matches

Eight teams moved into second round competition of the Davis Cup tennis championship Saturday while Philippine fans made a stormy protest over the delaying tactics of a Japanese player.

Winning in first round play were South Africa, France, Canada, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Netherlands and West Germany. Britain and Morocco passed their first round tests Friday.

The Manila spectators threw chairs into the court and fist fights broke out among the crowd of 3,000 when Osamu Ishiguro, Japan's No. 1 player, managed to delay the finish of his match with Raymundo Dyrro of the Philippines until 9:30 p.m.

Ishiguro, trailing 6-4, 1-4, 2-6, 6-1, 2-1, complained of a leg cramp and was granted a 10-minute rest period which carried him past the 6 p.m. closing time, agreed to earlier.

South Africa eliminated Belgium from the European Zone first round when Keith Diepraam and Fred McMillan won their doubles match and gave the South Africans a 3-0 lead.

The Italian team clinched its first round victory when Nicola Pietrangeli defeated Alexander Ivanov of the Soviet Union 6-3, 6-1, 6-4. In the second match, Sergio Tacchini made the score 4-1 in favor of the Italians by beating Tomas Lejus 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

West Germany was assured a first round victory when Ingo Buding and Harald Elschenbroich beat Nils Martin Elvik and Finn Dag Jagge of Norway 6-2, 7-5, 6-0. The victory gave the Germans a 3-0 edge over Norway.

SMU's Probation May Be Lifted This Week

AUSTIN (AP)—The lifting of Southern Methodist's probation for recruiting violations and an investigation of "baby sitting" whereby athletes are hidden out so the opposition can't get them are topics for the Southwest Conference here this week.

There are complaints regarding "baby sitting" but no school apparently has violated the rule. But the conference will study what has been done along this line with a view toward rewriting the rule to ward off controversy in the future.

The view is that while the rule may not have been violated, there are some practices that might not be desirable although now legal. So long as the student athlete remains in his home town, there is no violation of existing rules.

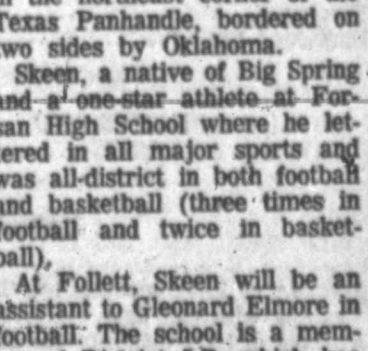

LEAVING GRADY

Skeen Is Named Follett Mentor

Charles Skeen, for the past five years athletic coach at Grady school in Martin County, has resigned that position to become head basketball mentor and an assistant in football at Follett High School in Lipscomb County.

Lipscomb is located squarely in the northeast corner of the Texas Panhandle, bordered on two sides by Oklahoma.

The Texas A&M probation was paralleled by the NCAA last week. There can be no review of it until Jan. 15, 1967, meaning the Aggies won't be able to play in a bowl game for at least two years. The conference will talk about it Jan. 15 and decide whether A&M has corrected its practices and is eligible for removal from probation.

CHARLES SKEEN

Skeen has guided his girls' basketball teams to '66 wins, compared to 11 defeats. His boys have posted a 55-10 record.

Nothing apparently can be done to control the actions of the crowd in throwing pennies and paper cups on the floor and creating disturbances and an appeal to sportsmanship is considered the best way to remove the objectionable practices.

He reports for duty May 28 to start a job as instructor in a driver's education course being offered there. Skeen succeeds Gary Kunka, who remains in the system as a combination teacher and administrator.

He attended HJJC for two years and graduated from North Texas State University in 1964. Two of his years as a football player were in six-man ball, the other two in eight-man.

At Follett, the superintendent of schools is Elywn L. Bass, formerly of Grady.

Sloan, Bowman Go To Bulls

NEW YORK (AP)—The new Chicago Bulls, who will be the 10th team in the National Basketball Association in the 1966-67 season, picked 10 players Saturday, two from each of the clubs in the Eastern Division. They will select eight more, two from each Western team, Sunday.

Two Bulldogs Earn Firsts

LUBBOCK—Coahoma's Tony Butler flung the discus 166-6, his best ever in competition, to win first place in the All-Corners Track Carnival here Saturday.

First Baptist Triumphs In Church Loop Tourney

First Baptist rallied for a run in the seventh to edge Baptist Temple, 4-3, in the championship game of the Church Softball League's pre-season tournament Friday at the City Park.

Devils Rip Colts, 12-2

The Pirates slashed the Colts in American Little League competition here Friday night, 12-2. Although held to six hits, the Bucs made the most of nine walks and three Colt errors.

Fem Grid Game Again Delayed

The Powder-Puff Football game, which would have pitted the high school senior girls against the juniors, was again postponed Saturday night due to rain and wet grounds.

Colts Sign Two

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League announced the signings Saturday of defensive end Bob Lutsema and flanker Corky Rogers, both free agents.

Patterson Sanity Hearing First On Civil Docket

The sanity of William Thomas Patterson, 33-year-old laborer, held in the Howard County jail on two indictments for murder, will be determined by a jury in 118th District Court Monday afternoon.

The sanity hearing for Patterson has been slated for special disposition as the first case on a civil jury docket which opens at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Judge Ralph Cato has summoned a jury panel to report at that hour. He will sound the docket at 10 a.m. and, in addition to the Patterson hearing, all other cases which announce ready will be scheduled for disposition during the week.

The hearing on the sanity of Patterson will take only a relatively short time, he said. Both the state and defense are cooperating in the matter. The witnesses for the most part will be psychiatrists and psychologists from the Big Spring State Hospital. Patterson was at that institution sometime ago for examinations. It was reported the experts agreed then, the man is mentally unbalanced. They are expected to testify in this case. Patterson has been held in the Howard County jail since the night of March 16, when he allegedly killed Tony Bert Hampton, 24, and Wayne Ralph Pat-

WILLIAM PATTERSON

Gil Jones, who filed the formal petition asking that his client be given a sanity hearing. Wayne Burns, district attorney, offered no opposition—in fact, it was Burns who had Patterson taken to the state hospital for the initial examination. Patterson has been held in the Howard County jail since the night of March 16, when he allegedly killed Tony Bert Hampton, 24, and Wayne Ralph Patterson, 30. He is accused of shooting the two men to death as they emerged from the rear door of a liquor store on US 87 north late that evening.

Observers said that the sanity hearing set for Patterson is, in legal terminology, a civil action. A jury will be seated and, when the testimony is completed, the jurors will have only to say whether in their opinion the defendant is sane or insane at this time and whether he was sane on the night of March 16.

Other cases on the docket are:

Harold Letcher vs. William E. Blanchard, et al, note; Anne Brown Wolf vs. Glays Ruthann Beaty, damages; Forrest C. Gambill vs. Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation, damages; Natalio Hilario vs. Texas Indemnity Co., compensation; W. P. Morgan vs. John B. Norton, damages; Carl Lockhart vs. Vernon B. Bottoms et al, damages; V. L. Sturgeon vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association, compensation; Minnie Arnold vs. P. W. Malone, malpractice; Mary Frances Johnson, formerly Booher vs. Winfred Booher, change of custody; Grady Creamer vs. Greyhound Corporation, damages; C. J. Sullivan et al vs. Mrs. Tom Horton, damages; Hazel Parker, vs. Mitchell McNeese et al, damages; Mike Y. Munos vs. Travelers Insurance, compensation;

Alfred James vs. George Cariger, damages; Homer Clark Travelers Insurance, compensation; Lessie Mae Young et vir vs. Greyhound Lines Inc., damages; Eusebio Galaviz vs. Travelers Insurance, compensation; Franklin H. Rousey vs. Gerald Helmich, damages; and Simon Chavez vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association.

Captains Are Commended

Lt. Col. Barry R. Butler, commander of the 3561st Student Squadron, presented Air Force Commendation Medals to Capt. Rolland F. Clarkson Jr., a member of Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 67B-F1, and Capt. Ronald J. Moore, Class 67D-F1, at Commander's Call Monday.

Capt. Clarkson received his award for meritorious service as B-52 electronic warfare officer, 95th Bombardment Wing, Biggs AFB from 1962-1965. Capt. Clarkson was cited for "outstanding professional skill, knowledge and leadership which aided immeasurably in identifying problem areas in the field of airborne electronic countermeasures, and in developing and implementing research projects capable of solving these problems."

Capt. Clarkson began pilot training at Webb early last September as a member of class 67-B. He entered the Air Force as an AFROTC graduate from Washburn University of Topeka, Kan., in 1960.

Capt. Moore received the commendation medal for meritorious service as a B-52 electronic warfare officer, 788th Bombardment Squadron, Larson Air Force Base, Wash., from 1962-1965. He was cited for his "outstanding professional skill, knowledge, and leadership which aided immeasurably in the successful accomplishment of the strategic mission assigned to the 788th Bombardment Squadron."

Capt. Moore arrived at Webb to begin undergraduate pilot training early in December, 1965. He graduated from Duke University as an AFROTC graduate in 1960.

Civilian Given Service Award

Eugene T. Hood, chief accountant in the Webb accounting and finance office, received a certificate of service covering 30 years of federal service last week. Col. Chester J. Butcher, wing commander, presented the certificate which was the first 30-year certificate to be given at Webb.

Hood entered federal service April 16, 1936. He came to Webb in July, 1959, to work in the accounting and finance office and became chief accountant in January, 1960.

Lodge Visits With Pope Paul

ROME (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge arrived from Saigon Saturday for an expected audience with Pope Paul VI on the Viet Nam crisis. Lodge is on his way to the United States for consultations and a visit with his family.

U.S. Embassy officials said he would stop over in Rome for a few days on a private stay to break up his trip.

Vatican sources said he would probably confer with Pope Paul at the Vatican Monday morning before resuming his flight.

PAPER POSIES to decorate the ballroom of Hotel Settles during Thursday evening's reception were constructed earlier this week by local Rotary Anns. Shown at the work session, where the huge blossoms were made of blue and gold crepe paper, are Mrs. Charles Rainwater, Mrs. Billy Jones, Mrs. Bill C. Colemand and Mrs. Bob Dyer.

ACTIVITIES FOR WOMEN during the 573rd Rotary District Conference May 5-7 are being planned by Mrs. Adolf Swartz, center, activity chairman; Mrs. Dee Jon Davis, left, whose husband is attendance, promotion and publicity chairman; and Mrs. Don Womack who is in charge of decorations for the Governor's Banquet Friday evening at Cosden Country Club. Not shown is Mrs. Elmo Wasson, cochairman of ladies' activities.

CONFERENCE CHAIRMAN for the Big Spring event is Jerry Worthy who shows the activity schedule to his wife, Dr. Louise Worthy. The visiting Rotary Anns will be entertained Friday with a style show and luncheon at Big Spring Country Club. Fashions will be shown by Hemphill-Wells and Swartz with shoes by Barnes-Pelletiers.

HELPING HUSBANDS with details of conventions is accepted procedure for Rotary Anns. Catching up on news in "The Rotarian" are Mrs. Don Hungerford, wife of the Rotary president; Mrs. R. J. Ream, wife of the vice president; and Mrs. Curtis Mullins, whose husband is the local secretary. Unable to be present for the picture was Mrs. J. M. Hill, wife of the Rotary treasurer.

FELT FORMS THE table cloth to be used at the "House of Friendship" reception Thursday evening. The white felt was measured, cut, sewn and ironed during a work day in the home of Mrs. Elmo Wasson. Taking their tasks lightly are Mrs. Bob Dyer, Mrs. Malcom Patterson and Mrs. R. S. Galbraith Jr.

Mrs. Goodwin Named TOPS Beauty Queen

By JO BRIGHT

Mrs. Walter Goodwin, 3310 Drexel, has been honored by the TOPS Club of Texas by being named Bathing Beauty Queen at the state convention held last weekend in Galveston. The event was held at the Moody Center Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Goodwin is a member of the local Pound Rebels and was accompanied to Galveston by other club members, Mrs. Al Scott, Mrs. Harold Bell, Mrs. M. G. Lawrence and Mrs. Alma George.

Mrs. Goodwin joined the club in October of 1964 when she weighed 242 pounds. She has now attained the weight of 149 pounds, attributing the remarkable loss to "counting calories." She stressed that she did not make use of the so-called crash diets or reducing pills. If Mrs. Goodwin can maintain her present weight, at next year's convention she will receive a gold medal and be accepted in the "Century Club" a select group who have lost at least a hundred pounds.

"I credit my membership in the club for enabling me to lose weight," said Mrs. Goodwin, a pretty brunette. "If everyone could do this by themselves, there would be no need for TOPS, but I am one of thousands who needed help in changing my eating and general health habits. The club provides people like me with the incentive, moral support and competition we need to keep trim."

Mrs. Goodwin, who has two children, George, 14, and Deborah, 11, said that she has also attempted to change her family's eating habits by using less shortening or oils in her cooking, and she offers less starchy dishes but more fruits and vegetables. She does not deprive her family of desserts, but refrains from eating them herself.

"No one can understand the problems of an overweight person unless they have experienced the same thing," said Mrs. Goodwin. "Dieters are hard to live with because they are 'on edge' due to the complete chemical changes going on in their bodies." She feels that her husband, who works at the Cosden Refinery, has been most understanding and encouraging.

She advises overweight persons not to become discouraged if they do not show a steady loss when they begin a reducing program. She explained that many people lose the pounds 'in spurts', maybe several in a short time — then nothing for perhaps weeks. She thinks the ideal loss should be a pound or two a week. She is a scale-watcher and tries not to let herself get even a half pound over her set maximum.

Mrs. Goodwin admitted that it is very difficult to lose the amount of weight that she has, but said that anyone can do it if they realize that the improvement in their appearance and health will be worth every mo-

Alpha Chi's Discuss Old, New Ways

"Women of Today and Yesterday" was the program topic during the Thursday evening meeting of the Alpha Chi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha. The members met at the home of Mrs. Robert Rogers with Mrs. D. M. Moore presiding.

Mrs. B. E. Reagan conducted the program. She described the difference between woman's activities of today and yesterday. She also compared the two eras in the ranges social life and the home.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of fruit.

The next meeting will be May 12 at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Nalls.

Delicious Addition

Cranberries make a delicious addition to the filling for apple pie, but use more apples than cranberries so the dessert will not be too tart.

Convention-Bound

Local members of the Future Homemakers of America are shown as they prepared to leave for the state convention Friday and Saturday in San Antonio. Seated are Kathy Shaw, Betty Pedro and Marianne Lipscombe, all of the senior high school chapter; and standing, Gwynn Bonner and Sherry Powell of Goliad Junior High School.

Future Homemakers Of America Attend San Antonio Convention

Members of the Future Homemakers of America chapters of the Big Spring Senior High School, Goliad Junior High School and Rannels Junior High School returned Saturday evening from San Antonio where they attended Texas association state meeting.

Those from the junior high schools are Sherry Powell, Gwynn Bonner, Kathryn Dirks and Peggy Richard. Representing the senior high school were Betty Pedro, Marianne Lipscombe and Kathy Shaw. The girls were accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Wilbanks, Mrs. W. H. Martin and Miss Annie Lou Williams.

The meeting theme for delegates from the 1,406 chapters throughout the state was "Citizenship — Youth's Greatest Challenge."

During the meeting, the state nominating committee named the 10 state officers from among nominees in 10 areas. Delegates to the national FHA convention in Chicago in July were designated; as well as singers in the national chorus and the national pianist.

Nearly 500 members from the 60,473 membership of the Texas association received the state's highest award, the state home-maker degree of achievement. From here, Betty Pedro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pedro, received her degree. Also, 40 adults were honored for outstanding contributions to the organization.

The outstanding visitor was Miss Mildred Reel of Washington, D. C., national advisor. The speaker was Dr. Carl S. Winters, and a program of FHA talent was conducted Friday evening.

Lower Water Rates Asked By Gardeners

Mrs. D. S. Riley presided during the Friday morning meeting of the Big Spring Garden Club Council in the home of Mrs. Guy Cook, 1006 E. 21st. She read notes of gratitude from the YMCA for the work the council had done on the beautification project there, and from the Big Spring State Hospital for landscaping the patio.

It was reported that six council members met Tuesday evening with the city commission to ask that water rates be lowered during the months of June, July and August. The request was granted in this way; the city will allow 2,000 more gallons each month for the same rate. It was pointed out that this much water would flow through a one-half-inch hose in one and a half hours.

May is anti-litter month, and Mrs. Riley said that she has contacted Dr. Robert Johnson, litter campaign chairman, and they discussed the possibility of a poster contest in the schools.

Reports from the state convention were given by Mrs. Garner McAdams who said that the council had won an award from the Sears Foundation and received $50 to apply on landscaping on the YMCA. Both the After Five Garden Club and the Four O'Clock Garden Club received Honor Roll horticulture awards, and the Oasis Garden Club won a special horticulture citation. The Big Spring Garden Club was awarded the Honor Roll club rating and a special horticulture citation.

Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, state iris chairman, had a display at the state convention which featured four different types of named varieties. Literature on the culture of each specimen was made available. Mrs. Bristow is a member of the Big Spring Garden Club.

Also, Mrs. Odell Womack of the Rosebud Garden Club, was asked to serve on the Sears Foundation next year.

The council agreed to give $50 more to the YMCA landscaping project.

Plans for the council's fall show were announced. Miss Bessie Love will be chairman, and she named her committees.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Blender Provides Crumbs In Jiffy

Dear Heloise: I was in the middle of fixing some meatballs today, and needed some cracker crumbs in a hurry.

I just tossed some saltines into my blender, and had instant crumbs!

This also works with DRY bread, cereal, and graham crackers. . . . Barbara Burscheidt

Dear Barbara:

You won't get any argument on that hint—it's a dilly! I tried it, and it works perfectly. And I have a pie crust recipe that calls for crushed cornflakes and graham crackers. . . . Barbara Burscheidt

I used the blender to crush the cornflakes, emptied them out, dumped in the chocolate bits, flipped the switch two or three times, and the bits were chopped perfectly in seconds. Wonderful! . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I put granulated soaps in a "soap shaker." This shaker is made by punching holes in the lid of a peanut butter jar (or any convenient size jar you have).

I can shake out the different granulated soaps into the dishwasher, or over the clothes I wash by hand. . . . Donna Bruikman

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

One day I was complaining to a neighbor that my house was in awful condition—curtains limp and bedraggled, cobwebs festooning corners, and I could not even see out the windows. And, I simply couldn't find the ambition or energy to start the big cleaning job. She gave me this effective advice. "Just invite the girls in to lunch next Tuesday. You'll get your cleaning done!" To quote you, Heloise, "By golly, it works!" . . . Sylvia Dyvik

Dear Heloise:

Here's a tip for those who have small bathrooms that have no linen closets: A diaper holder which can be bought in any baby department (made to hold folded diapers), is just right for folded towels or washcloths. It can be hung on the door, on a hook, or even on a nail. . . . E. P.

Dear Heloise:

As a person who knits, I wonder if other knitters have had the problem of what to do with extra knitting needles that always seem to get in the way of yarn as it is being pulled from knitting bags.

I think I have found a solution:

As my bag stands upright, I took an empty tube that comes inside of paper towels, and covered it with adhesive-backed paper, also covering one end so the needles won't slip out if I happen to lift the tube out of the bag.

No more frayed yarn, or loss of temper. . . . Mrs. Passantino

P. S. A tissue roll covered in the same manner will hold crochet needles.

Thanks for "getting into the act" by sending us this splendid hint! . . . Heloise

(Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

National Music Week Observance Begins

Urging citizens to reassess the value of good music in their lives, Mayor Arnold Marshall

Want A Change?

ELECT

COMMISSIONER PCT. 4
Howard Co., Texas

has proclaimed this National Music Week in Big Spring.

"Nothing speaks a more universal tongue than music," he said, "and few things can stimulate our emotions as does music. Poor is the people who has no appreciation for music and does not give it a place of prominence in its culture. For what it can do for us individually, I appeal to our citizens to join in the observance of National Music Week."

National Music Week, which always begins on the first Sunday in May and continues through Mother's Day, will be celebrated for the 43rd year on May 1-8, under the sponsorship of the National Federation of Music Clubs, a non-profit organization dedicated to music. The 1966 theme is "Let's Make Music A Living Force."

The week is sponsored locally by the Big Spring Music Study Club, and its members will be speaking and performing before various groups this week in emphasizing the importance of music appreciation. Many churches will join in the observance today by featuring the National Federation of Music Clubs' Hymn of the Month, "America, the Beautiful."

On Monday, Mrs. David Shaw

and Mrs. John Arnold will sing on the Elaine Clark TV show, accompanied by Mrs. James Baum. The club ensemble, directed by Mrs. B. F. Meacham, will perform for the Evening Lions Club. Making up the group are Mrs. Les Beauvais, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Max Nelson, Mrs. Carl Bradley, Mrs. Rene Brown, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Charles Bell and Mrs. Louis Heinze.

At Bennett House, a program will be presented by the Runnels Junior High School Choir under the direction of Hubert Murphy, and that evening, the Big Spring Senior High School Band and Choir will perform in the auditorium under the direction of Douglas Wiebe and Mel Ivey.

On Tuesday, Rotarians will hear Susan Cupp direct the Goliad Junior High School Choir, and at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Mrs. Heinze will accompany Mrs. Brown, soloist.

Mrs. James Baum will accompany Mrs. Arnold Wednesday as she sings for the Lions Club, and the Optimist Club's noon meeting will feature Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Heinze with a piano duet and songs by Mrs. Shaw.

The Methodist Bell Choir, directed by Ted James, will perform Thursday for the Kiwanis Club, and the ensemble will appear again at the Big Spring State Hospital where Mrs. Heinze and Mrs. Bell will play and Mrs. Arnold will be the soloist.

The observance will conclude Saturday with a luncheon for members in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club. Miss Sue Crosswaite, the club's scholarship winner, will perform as will the ensemble. Mrs. Heinze and Mrs. Bell will play, and the luncheon speaker will be Mrs. J. S. Knauer of Midland, District president of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Mrs. Robert Heinze is chairman for the luncheon.

Chintz Curtains Are Washable

Here's how to keep cotton chintz curtains and bedspreads as pretty and fresh-looking as new. Before laundering, shake out the material to loosen dust. Wash in warm water and mild soap. Usually most of the dirt is on the fabric's glossy surface and will come off easily. Rinse in warm water. Iron while still moist. To give the chintz a high gloss, use a hot iron on the right side of fabric, while still damp.

Built-In Ranges, Ovens Preferred

Most families who plan kitchen remodeling expect to install built-in ovens and ranges. Results of a Home Improvement Council survey disclosed 66 per cent of the homeowners queried want built-in ovens and 64 per cent want built-in range tops.

The popularity of modern built-in appliances is reflected in the variety of electric range and oven styles that are designed for installation in counter and cabinets to give a built-in look.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD RAYBORN, PAMELA, SANDRA, KEITH AND KATHY

Newcomer Employed With Webb Exchange

Well-established in their home at 2507 Larry are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rayborn, and their children, Pamela, 3, Keith, 6, Kathy, 9, and Sandra, 11.

Former residents of Belleville, Ill., the Rayborns moved to Big Spring when he was employed as merchandise manager of the Webb Air Force Base Exchange.

Rayborn was born in Manes, Mo., graduating from high school in Plato, Mo., and his wife, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Bronczyk of Waynesville, Mo., was born in Lawton, Okla. The couple met in Plato and was married June 25, 1953, at Houston, Mo.

Rayborn served in the Army for two years, being stationed in Germany for 14 months then transferred to Fort Ord, Calif., where his wife joined him. They returned to Plato but left there again in 1964 when he accepted a job with the exchange service at Fort Leonardwood. The same type work later took him to Scott AFB at Belleville where the family remained until the opportunity was offered to come to West Texas.

According to Rayborn, the base exchange offers most merchandise that is available in the average department store or super market. He does all the buying for retail outlets at Webb, usually keeping a month's supply of merchandise on hand. Many of the things sold on base are acquired locally such as bread, milk, candies and hardware items.

The exchange employs about 35 persons on a full-time basis and approximately 20 who are part-time employees. Many are local people while some are military personnel working during their off-duty hours.

The base exchange is a service made available to military personnel, their dependants and employees of the exchange.

Mrs. Rayborn has made her home and family her career and said that this is how she also uses her "spare time." She bowled on a league team in Belleville and hopes to take up the sport again soon. She enjoys sewing, and makes some of the girls' clothing.

Sandra is a fifth-grader at Park Hill, and Kathy is in the third grade at Kentwood. Three-year-old Pamela is a little lonely these days because her playmate, Keith, has just started to Jack and Jill Kindergarten.

Rayborn, a member of the VFW and American Legion, will more than likely transfer his membership here. He likes to hunt and fish and plans on taking the family to Marble Falls for camping and fishing.

'Founder's Day' For Altrusa Celebrated

"Founder's Day" was observed during the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Altrusa Club at Coker's Restaurant. Mrs. C. L. Plummer was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Plummer traced the history of the local club since its organization in May of 1950. She pointed out that Altrusa Club is a classified club and members are a selected group of business and professional women who are recognized as leaders in their field.

She reviewed the clubs projects which include a scholarship at Howard County Junior College, volunteer work at the state hospital, the donation of a traction table for the Howard County Rehabilitation Center, and participation in the various national projects. The members also furnished a room at the Young Men's Christian Association when the new building was constructed.

Charter members recognized were Mrs. J. B. Apple, Mrs. H. D. Cowden, Mrs. Alma Gollnick, Mrs. Coy Nalley, Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, Mrs. M. J. Stratton, Mrs. Willard Sullivan, Mrs. Loyd Wooten and Mrs. Kaye Thornton. These charter members continue to be active in the club.

John Casselman, member of the faculty at Big Spring Senior High School, showed a film, "What Is Altrusa?" The film gave the principles, purposes and goals of the organization on a local and international level. Besides the United States, there are active clubs in Bermuda, Canada, Great Britain, Guatemala, Mexico and Puerto Rico. The main goal of Altrusa is "Live Beyond Yourself." This is manifested in the international projects in which all Altrusa clubs participate. The organization contributes to such projects as the Exchange Student program, Freedom's Foundation, aiding and employing the handicapped, an educational program for older women, counselling service for high school students, and scholarships in many colleges.

Mrs. M. S. Knowles, presided and introduced as guests Carroll

Davidson, Walter Pillow, G. B. Harding, Winston Wrinkle, Randall Folk, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hickson, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Jack Lewis, Mrs. R. F. Dorsey, Mrs. Doris Jean Johnson, Mrs. Lloyd Curley, Mrs. Joyce Rose, Miss Edith Gay, Mrs. Louise Hamilton, Mrs. E. O. Wortham, Mrs. Wade Choate and Mrs. Roy D. Caudill.

Thirty members attended the affair.

Demos Have Five Contests In Primary

Saturday, May 7 is primary election day and Howard County voters, in company with all other fellow Texans, will select a small army of state, regional and county officials to serve them for the next four years.

In Howard County, there are only five local races in which the incumbents have opponents. Interest, therefore, will be focused largely on these.

The polls open at 8 a.m. Saturday and will close at 7 p.m. C. V. Rjord, county Democratic chairman, has declared that he will insist on each voting precinct being manned by enough election workers to guarantee a quick and accurate count of the votes. He said that he has high hopes most of the boxes will be tabulated and reported to Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, by 8 p.m.

Rjord pointed out that the assessments against each candidate have been figured in such a way as to insure enough funds to pay for election workers.

"There has been a complaint," he said, "that not enough tabulators and checkers have been on hand to speed up the tabulation."

"I have instructed each precinct judge to see to it that he has enough help to get this thing done. I want the totals in the hands of the clerk by 8 p.m."

There are 20 voting precincts in the county with a potential voting strength of 10,622. Ballots for that many voters have been printed, but no one anticipates any such vote. In the last general election, where a president was being selected, about 7,200 votes were cast.

Interest locally is concentrated in the outcome of the primary race for the office of Howard County Judge, where Lee Porter, incumbent seeking his second term, is opposed by A. G. Mitchell, former deputy sheriff, district court clerk, where M. Fern Cox, seeking his first full 4-year term, is opposed by Winnie R. Wood, legal secretary; Roger Brown, state legislator, who is opposed by Sweetwater's Temple Dickson, who is also an incumbent.

There are two county commissioner races in which competition is vigorous.

Ray C. Nichols, county commissioner from Precinct 2, seeking return to the office he now holds, is matched against Matt Harrington, W. T. (Bill) Conger, and Ralph White. The candidates have all been busy campaigning. In this commissioner's race, the voters in voting precincts No. 2, Washington School; No. 3, Cosahoma; No. 10, Forsan; No. 13, Runnels Junior High; and No. 18, Byron Neel's residence; will be the deciders. The total possible vote in these five precincts is 3,591.

L. J. Davidson, commissioner from Precinct 4, is seeking return to his seat against Marshall J. Spruill, Barney K. Edens, and Billy B. Tune. There are six voting boxes which will decide this race. The boxes in Commissioner Precinct 4 are No. 4, City Hall; No. 5, Vincent; No. 6, Gay Hill; No. 7, R. Bar-Salem; No. 11, Center Point; and No. 20, Crestview Baptist Church. The total vote possible in these six boxes is 2,338.

Other county candidates, who are seeking re-election and who are unopposed in their races, are: State Senator David Ratliff; District Judge Ralph W. Caton; County School Supt. Walker G. Bailey; County Treasurer, Frances Glenn; County Clerk, Pauline Petty; County Surveyor, Ralph Baker; justice of the peace, Precinct No. 1, Place, No. 2, Jess Slaughter; and Lulu D. Adams, justice of the peace Precinct No. 2.

Another race in which the county is deeply interested is the selection of a new congressman to serve Howard County which has been detached from its old district and, attached to a new one.

In this race, Omar Burleson, a veteran of the lower house for many years, is being opposed by Eldon Mahon, a former district attorney, from Mitchell County. This is the 17th District race.

Rural FHA Loans Are Available

Delbert A. Donelson, county supervisor for Howard County Farmers Home Administration, is now accepting loan applications from rural families who need to improve their housing.

Funds may be used, Donelson said, to finance homes, building sites and essential farm service buildings.

Legislation implementing the new insured loan program was contained in the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1965, which authorizes the Farmers Home Administration to insure loans totaling $300 million each year for families in low or moderate income levels. The loans will bear interest at five per cent.

Further information on insured rural housing loans may be obtained at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration at 608-C Johnson, Big Spring.

Both Parties Schedule Precinct Conventions

In addition to voting in next Saturday's primary election, all good party members — Democratic and Republican — should make it a point to take part in their precinct conventions.

This was stressed alike by C. V. Rjord, county Democratic chairman, and by W. J. (Bill) Sheppard, former county Republican chairman.

The precinct conventions for both parties will be held at the party voting places. They will be convened as quickly as the polls close — immediately after 7 p.m.

The primary purpose of the precinct conventions is to select delegates to the county conventions.

Only individuals who have participated in their party's primary election Saturday will be permitted to take part in the precinct conventions. A voter must show his poll tax receipt or registration certificate to prove he has voted in order to qualify as a precinct delegate.

Sheppard, who said that the acting Republican county chairman is Melvin Vinson, urged all Republicans to attend the precinct meetings in their respective voting boxes. There will be nine Republican polling places Saturday.

The nine precincts will name 77 delegates to a county convention which is set for 9:30 a.m. May 14. The convention will be in the District Courtroom. Akin Simpson, who is the unopposed candidate for County Republican chairman, will preside at the meeting. The county organization will select 18 delegates to the state Republican Convention in San Antonio. Resolutions will be adopted for presentation at the state meeting.

The Democratic precinct convention will follow the same pattern as that of the Republicans. All will be held at the election places. There will be 20 Democratic precinct conventions, if all are held as scheduled, and it will be their purpose to name 287 delegates to the county convention.

C. V. Rjord, county Democratic chairman, said that the county convention will elect 24 delegates to the state convention. It will also approve resolutions to be presented at the state meeting.

No Opposition For GOP Nominees In Primaries

Howard County Republican Party, with three local candidates entered for county posts, will hold its own primary election Saturday in its own nine voting places.

The three local candidates, none of whom is opposed within his own party, are Winston Wrinkle, radio station executive, running for County Commissioner, Precinct 2; W. J. The party has organized nine voting places to serve its party members in the primary. The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

'Founder's Day' For Altrusa Celebrated

"Founder's Day" was observed during the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Altrusa Club at Coker's Restaurant. Mrs. C. L. Plummer was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Plummer traced the history of the local club since its organization in May of 1950. She pointed out that Altrusa Club is a classified club and members are a selected group of business and professional women who are recognized as leaders in their field.

She reviewed the club projects which include a scholarship at Howard County Junior College, volunteer work at the state hospital, the donation of a traction table for the Howard County Rehabilitation Center, and participation in the various national projects. The members also furnished a room at the Young Men's Christian Association when the new building was constructed.

Charter members recognized were Mrs. J. B. Apple, Mrs. H. D. Cowden, Mrs. Alma Gollnick, Mrs. Coy Nalley, Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, Mrs. M. J. Stratton, Mrs. Willard Sullivan, Mrs. Loyd Wooten and Mrs. Kaye Thornton. These charter members continue to be active in the club.

John Casselman, member of the faculty at Big Spring Senior High School, showed a film, "What is Altrusa?" The film gave the principles, purposes and goals of the organization on a local and international level. Besides the United States, there are active clubs in Bermuda, Canada, Great Britain, Guatemala, Mexico and Puerto Rico. The main goal of Altrusa is "Live Beyond Yourself." This is manifested in the international projects in which all Altrusa clubs participate. The organization contributes to such projects as the Exchange Student program, Freedom's Foundation, aiding and employing the handicapped, an educational program for older women, counselling service for high school students, and scholarships in many colleges.

Mrs. M. S. Knowles, presided and introduced as guests Carroll Davidson, Walter Pillow, G. B. Harding, Winston Wrinkle, Randall Polk, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Demos Have Five Contests In Primary

Saturday, May 7 is primary election day and Howard County voters, in company with all other fellow Texans, will select a small army of state, regional, and county officials to serve them for the next four years.

In Howard County, there are only five races in which the incumbents have opponents. Interest, therefore, will be focused largely on these.

The polls open at 8 a.m. Saturday and will close at 7 p.m. C. V. Riordan, county Democratic chairman, has declared that he will insist on each voting precinct being manned by enough election workers to guarantee a quick and accurate count of the votes.

He said that he has high hopes most of the boxes will be tabulated and reported to Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, by 3 p.m.

Riordan pointed out that the assessments against each candidate have been figured in such a way as to insure enough funds to pay for election workers.

"There has been a complaint," he said, "that not enough tabulators and checkers have been on hand to speed up the tabulation."

"I have instructed each precinct judge to see to it that he has enough help to get this thing done. I want the totals in the hands of the clerk by 3 p.m."

There are 29 voting precincts in the county with a potential voting strength of 10,622. Ballots for that many voters have been printed, but no one anticipates any such vote. In the last general election, where a president was being selected, about 7,200 votes were cast.

Interest locally is concentrated in the outcome of the primary race for the office of Howard County judge, where Lee Porter, incumbent seeking his second term, is opposed by A. G. Mitchell, former deputy sheriff; district court clerk, where M. Fern Cox, seeking his first full 4-year term, is opposed by Winnie R. Wood, legal secretary; Roger Brown, state legislator, who is opposed by Sweetwater's Temple Dickson, who is also an incumbent.

There are two county commissioners races in which competition is vigorous.

Ray C. Nichols, county commissioner from Precinct 2, seeking return to the office he now holds, is matched against Matt Harrington, W. T. (Bill) Conger, and Ralph White. The candidates have all been busy campaigning. In this commissioner's race, the voters in voting precincts No. 2, Washington School; No. 9, Coahoma; No. 10, Forsan; No. 15, Runnels Junior High; and No. 18, Byron Neel's residence; will be the deciders. The total possible vote in these five precincts is 3,591.

L. J. Davidson, commissioner from Precinct 4, is seeking return to his seat against Marshall J. Spruill, Barney K. Edens, and Billy B. Tune. There are six voting boxes which will decide this race. The boxes in Commissioner Precinct 4 are No. 4, City Hall; No. 5, Vincent; No. 6, Gay Hill; No. 7, R. Bar-Salem; No. 11, Center Point; and No. 20, Crestview Baptist Church. The total vote possible in these six boxes is 2,328.

Other county candidates who are seeking re-election and who are unopposed in their races, are: State Senator David Ratliff; District Judge Ralph W. Caton; County School Supt. Walker G. Bailey; County Treasurer, Frances Glenn; County Clerk, Pauline Petty; County Surveyor, Ralph Baker; Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 1, Place, No. 2, Jess Slaughter; and Lulu D. Adams, Justice of the Peace Precinct No. 2.

Another race in which the County is deeply interested is the selection of a new congressman to serve Howard County which has been detached from its old district and attached to a new one.

In this race, Omar Burleson, a veteran of the lower house for many years, is being opposed by Eldon Mahon, a former district attorney, from Mitchell County. This is the 17th District race.

County voters are also watching John Connally's bid to return to the office of governor. Opposing him is Stanley C. Woods, Harris County; and Johnnie Mae Hackworth, Washington County.

Preston Smith, incumbent lieutenant governor, is opposed by Bill Hollowell of Van Zandt County.

Waggoner Carr, former attorney general, is making a bid for the U.S. Senatorial nomination against John R. (Jack) Willoughby of Harris County.

Crawford Martin is running for attorney general against Gal-loway Calhoun, Smith County, and Franklin Spears, Bezar County.

John White is unopposed in his bid for re-election as commissioner of agriculture. Robert Calvert has no opponent in his race for comptroller of public accounts. Jesse James is unopposed in his race for re-election as state treasurer; Clyde Smith has no opponent in his race for Association Justice, Place 1, Supreme Court, nor has Joe Greenhill any opposition in his bid for Association Justice, Place 2 on the court.

Byron Tunnell has two opponents seeking his job as railroad commissioner. They are Paul B. Haring and P. S. Ervin.

Cecil Collings is unopposed in his bid for Civil Appeals judge, but there is a contest in the race for judge of the court of criminal appeals. John F. Onion and W. T. McDonald are the candidates for this race.

Jerry Sadler, commissioner of the general land office, is matched against Fred Williams. Names also on the ballots will include Ed Fisher, seeking election as county Democratic chairman; C. E. Gressett, for precinct chairman, Precinct 2; John J. Boemer, chairman of Precinct 3; Kenneth Barton Howell, chairman Precinct 4; L. R. Mundt, chairman, Precinct 6; and W. D. Barry and Floyd E. Young, for chairman of Precinct 16.

Write-in names will choose the precinct chairman for other voting boxes.

Rural FHA Loans Are Available

Delbert A. Donelson, county supervisor for Howard County Farmers Home Administration, is now accepting loan applications from rural families who need to improve their housing. Funds may be used, Donelson said, to finance homes, building sites and essential farm service buildings.

Legislation implementing the new insured loan program was contained in the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1965, which authorizes the Farmers Home Administration to insure loans totaling $300 million each year for families in low or moderate income levels. The loans will bear interest at five per cent.

Further information on insured rural housing loans may be obtained at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration at 608-C Johnson, Big Spring.
