'Who's Superstitious?'

With a wink at superstition, both Mrs. Leonard Preneit and her husband (of Detroit, Mich.), who were born on Friday the 13th, hold calendar date and smile at the supposed unlucky date. Neither Mrs. Preneit nor her husband can recall any unusual happenings on the date and both are in their early 40's. "I'm not superstitious of anything," Preneit said. Mrs. Preneit said, "My mother always said it was a very lucky day — because I was born, I guess." (AP WIREPHOTO)

County Conventions To Settle Party Row

Forces Ready For County Skirmish

Howard County Democratic Convention, at which delegates to the state convention are to be elected, is set for 8 p.m. Saturday in the district court room.

C. V. Riordan, county democratic chairman, asked all precinct delegates to be on hand.

The meeting, he said, is to select the 24 delegates the county is entitled to send to the state convention in Austin on Sept. 29. It also will adopt resolutions which will be laid before the state convention.

The skirmish for delegates began at last Saturday's precinct convention may be continued at the county convention. Forces favorable to Gov. John Connally apparently had an edge in the number of precincts reporting last Saturday night, but the margin was not altogether conclusive.

Riordan said that he will call the meeting to order and name a credentials committee to decide the delegates eligible to participate in the convention. This may well become the focal point of a test of strength.

Then, he said, he will ask for nominations for a permanent chairman of the convention. As quickly as this official is elected, Riordan will step down. The remainder of the business will be directed by the permanent convention chairman.

It will be this official's responsibility to appoint a resolutions committee.

Not all of the precincts held precinct conventions, and only those where meetings were held and the list of delegates was duly filed with the county clerk will be permitted to take part in the convention.

The Republican County Convention will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the district court room. In general, the same course of operation will be followed at this meeting as at the Democratic meeting. R. L. Tollett is to be the keynote speaker.

No Clues In Search For Girl

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP) — State police called for more volunteers to continue the search in the mountains of rural southern Huntingdon County for the armed abductor of 17-year-old Peggy Ann Bradnick.

As the search entered its third day, police said they still have found no clues.

State police at the Huntingdon barracks said the search would "cover every square foot" of the heavily wooded area around Shade Gap where the abduction occurred late Wednesday afternoon.

Assisted by FBI agents and hundreds of volunteers carrying rifles and shotguns, more than 100 state troopers already had spent more than 24 hours tramping through the woods when darkness, dense fog and heavy rain halted the search Thursday night.

But even after the main operation was called off, small patrols remained in the area and continued to search throughout the night.

State police said a 13-state alarm had been posted for the abductor as "a routine procedure."

Shade Gap is a community of 140 persons about 60 miles west of Harrisburg, Pa.

State police said a description of the girl's abductor seems to match that of a mysterious sniper residents call the Mountain Man. He suddenly appears out of the woods, fires a rifle and then disappears back in the woods. Two persons have been wounded by him, police said.

The abduction occurred, police said, on a dirt road about a quarter of a mile from the girl's home.

Peggy, a junior at Southern Huntingdon High School, and her three younger sisters and two brothers had left a school bus and walked about half a mile when the man jumped out of the woods and grabbed her.

Connally Backers Are Confident

By The Associated Press

Supporters of Gov. John Connally go into county conventions Saturday confident they will be able to muster the delegations needed to control the state convention and the Democratic Party in Texas.

The conservative backers of the governor scored victories in precinct conventions of two large metropolitan areas—Dallas and San Antonio—last Saturday. Although liberals are expected to provide spirited opposition, Connally forces say they have the votes to control both the Dallas and Bexar county conventions.

LIVELY CONVENTION

Tarrant County (Fort Worth) could be the scene of a lively convention Saturday. Similar fights are expected in a number of the smaller counties—like Denton and Hutchinson—where conservative and liberal forces appear to be equally divided.

The convention at Austin Sept. 29 will have 6,258 delegate votes.

Although Connally forces held a 2-1 advantage on the basis of preliminary and incomplete returns from the precinct conventions, they were still short of the 3,129 votes needed to control the state meeting.

The liberals are expected to be in control of the Harris (Houston), Jefferson (Beaumont and Port Arthur), McLennan (Waco) and Galveston county conventions which combined will have 1,233 votes at the Austin convention.

TORRID

The intra-party fight has been particularly torrid in Dallas and San Antonio, where liberals were in control two years ago. The issue of "party loyalty" has been injected, with liberals in Dallas County claiming that some of the precinct chairmen elected last Saturday have previously supported Republicans.

The 1966 version of the decades-old battle between conservative and liberal Democrats in Texas has centered around the fight between Connally forces and liberal supporters of Sen. Ralph Yarborough. Connally, who devoted as much time to intra-party affairs as to his race for renomination before the May 7 primary, charged that the liberals represented a minority point of view and that Yarborough was seeking to put labor leaders in charge of the party organization.

BLOCKING AID

Yarborough, whose present term does not expire until 1970, had accused the governor of blocking federal aid programs in the state and of supporting a "Republican Program."

Hard Rains Cause Floods On Coast

By The Associated Press

Rain of more than six inches struck portions of Southeast Texas today, causing flash flooding and widespread water damage. One traffic death was blamed on the weather.

A call went out for boats in the Conroe section, 40 miles north of Houston, to evacuate some residents.

The rains started about 11 a.m. Thursday but began slackening off by midmorning.

SANDBAGS

At Port Arthur, some merchants sandbagged their doors, but others were too late to prevent water entering their stores.

Orange reported 5.75 inches of rain between 2 a.m. and 8 a.m. Flooding occurred, particularly in the Bridge City area, but no serious flooding was reported in Orange.

Mrs. Ona Dean Williams of the Tideland Motor Inn at Nederland said 12 inches of water covered the lower floor and employees and guests stacked movable objects as high as possible. An adjacent filling station also was flooded.

The man killed in the traffic crash on State 87 near Port Arthur was Edward Paul Nichols, 25, of Bridge City. The death occurred during a four-car pile-up which injured three other persons.

Most Beaumont schools opened on a come-if-you-can basis, but some closed.

Roads in the area became clogged in monumental traffic jams as workers tried to reach their jobs.

The difficulty at Beaumont appeared to be clogging of drainage ditches. Crews worked to clear them.

Groves in the Orange-Port Arthur-Beaumont area reported six inches of rain.

A flash flood at Galveston, the island resort city southeast of Houston came from 2.5 inches of rain which fell in 30 minutes. Dave Benton, meteorologist at Galveston, said that was the heaviest in that length of time in Weather Bureau history there.

GALVESTON

Galveston streets were three feet deep in water in some places. The causeway to the mainland could be traversed, but for a time no one could drive closer than three miles from central Galveston. Texas City on the mainland had 1.57 inches of rain in 45 minutes and La Marque 1.5 inches in 45 minutes.

The call for boats was at Conroe, 40 miles north of Houston, for evacuations around New Caney, Porter and Spendoras southeast of Conroe. Causing the flooding problem was a small creek near New Caney.

UNDERPASSES

Houston reported 2.23 inches in 90 minutes early today, flooding some underpasses in the east end. Houston so far this year has had 27.42 inches, nearly twice the normal.

Widespread flash flooding also

Red Cloud Passing Over

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high-flying radioactive cloud from Monday's nuclear blast in Red China is now passing over the United States, government experts estimated today.

No radioactive debris has yet been detected on U.S. soil, however, so far as is known. And officials predicted that when it is detected it will be extremely minute, "just a drop in the bucket" compared to the radioactivity spewed from the great Russian and American tests of 1961-1962.

Robert List, chief of the atmospheric radiology branch of the Environmental Science Services Administration, estimated that about 11 a.m. EDT, today the leading edge of the cloud was over the Great Plains. It will probably be over the eastern United States Saturday and over Europe Monday.

This estimate is based, not on actual contact with radioactive debris, but on wind conditions.

Bigger Copter Fleet Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is increasing its helicopter fleet in South Viet Nam to give ground troops even greater mobility in the face of rising Communist infiltration.

A month from now, officials said, there will be close to 1,800 helicopters in Viet Nam—an increase of about 200 from the most recent total.

At the same time, the officials said, additional helicopter companies will be formed in the United States. Presumably, some of these eventually will be sent to Viet Nam.

Authorities forecast that helicopter operation will be relatively unhampered in the imminent rainy season, although the bad weather is expected to cut down flights by jet fighters.

One source forecast that helicopters will be able to function about 75 per cent of the time during the monsoon season which lasts throughout the summer.

With fighter support likely to become spotty because of weather, the firepower represented by helicopter gunships probably will assume extra importance during the rains.

The Communists, who have been building up men and supplies in the Viet Nam jungles and mountains for months, are generally expected to go on the offensive during the monsoon period.

American strategists are counting on their helicopter resources to enable U.S. and South Vietnamese forces to hit the Communists when they appear and to shatter and scatter those Red units before they can combine into bigger and more formidable formations.

Helicopters are important also in that they are used to bring up artillery into remote areas of battle. The big Chinook helicopter can lift a 105mm howitzer.

To Investigate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart reports a federal grand jury in Chicago will investigate allegations of price fixing in the sale of books to libraries.

Reds Risk Jets In Desperation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam is risking more of its jets in combat because the day-in, day-out pounding by U.S. planes is hurting, the deputy commander of the U.S. Air Force in Viet Nam said today.

"They are losing too much and they can't go on like this," said Maj. Gen. Gilbert L. Meyers. "They have a relatively young air force and they have to do something about our planes."

FALLING BACK

"Their missiles haven't been as successful as anticipated, so they are falling back on their air force."

The continuous American attack on the north is designed to stop the flow of supplies to the Viet Cong in the south, Meyers said in an interview, but it has a side effect of hurting the North Vietnamese economy.

"We have pretty well interdicted the rail and road lines around Hanoi," he reported. "There is more and more barge traffic, indicating the land lines have been badly cut. We are

KEEP WORKERS OUT IN DRAFT PROTEST

Students Take Over Building

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 350 students starting a third day of sit-in protest against school cooperation with Selective Service officials barred employees from work today in the administration building at the University of Chicago.

The protesters spent much of the morning debating whether to remain encamped in the building which they invested Wednesday.

Spokesmen for the group said they want the university to drop its policy of supplying class ratings of students who request it to Selective Service boards for use in determining draft status.

Thursday, after screening persons who entered the building, the demonstrators dropped efforts to bar entrance of those they didn't want. But today, all administrative workers were kept from entering the building.

The students virtually commandeered the building Thursday, and checked credentials of all persons attempting to enter. But later they agreed to allow all persons into the building.

Protest leaders reported a three-hour huddle with school officials was cordial and receptive, but not productive.

The protest, by 300 to 400 students, opposes the university's policy of honoring student requests that class rank and grade information be supplied to the students' local draft boards.

The university, which has an enrollment of 8,500 has said that the school will provide grade and class-standing information only at the request of the specific student involved.

The students contend that releasing grades to draft boards makes professors "a judge, not only of a student's knowledge, but of his right to live or die."

One of the student leaders is Jacqueline Goldberg, 21, of Los Angeles, an organizer of the 1964 "free speech" demonstrations at the University of California in Berkeley.

She was fined $400 and given a two-year suspended jail sentence by a Berkeley judge.

Miss Goldberg, a graduate student in education at the University of Chicago, rejected contentions that she was an "outside agitator" and turned away questions on her political beliefs.

A Study In Protest

Congressman and Mrs. Omar Burleson were due in Big Spring this afternoon, on a "goodwill" visit and to exchange greetings with friends.

They were to arrive around 2:30 p.m. and spend a couple of hours at the Coker Restaurant on West Fourth Street.

Burleson last Saturday captured renomination as Democratic representative to Congress from the 17th district. Beginning next January 1, Howard County goes into that district.

Draft Deferment Tests Saturday

DEFERMENT TESTS — Across the state, thousands of students are preparing to take the draft deferment tests Saturday.

By BARRY SCHWEID
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 500,000 to 600,000 college and graduate students will try to convince their draft boards Saturday they should defer their military service in the quiet of their classrooms and in the jungles of Viet Nam.

The persuader: A three-hour 150-question draft deferment test given at 1,200 colleges and universities in the 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone.

NO GUARANTEE
 Even a smashing score is no guarantee that the student will be deferred for the school year that begins in the fall, but most draft boards are likely to put great stock in the results. For as the head of a local draft board here put it, "We're doing everything possible to stimulate higher education."

The examinations, used from 1951 to 1962, were revised last March by Selective Service amid complaints by many leading educators that a class-standing yardstick alone was unfair to students in tougher colleges.

If the objective was to encourage the best talent to continue in higher education, they wondered aloud, how would this be served by drafting a low-ranked student attending a top college and deferring an inferior student who ranked near the top of a second-rate school?

CRITICISM
 The test was supposed to overcome this unfairness, but it quickly generated a fresh round of criticism.

The chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., likened the examinations to "Hitler's twin-system of eugenics and education" and said they "should have a swastika on the top."

The gist of Powell's argument was that the test would penalize poorly schooled Negroes and other minority groups and thus "bring the history of racial discrimination full circle."

About the time this week that Powell was blasting the examinations at a news conference in Washington, Science Research Associates, a private agency giving the tests under a $1 million-plus government contract, was acknowledging in Chicago that there had been mixups in assigning students to test centers.

OBVIOUS
 Mrs. Galen McCarthy, acting director of information, did not know how many errors had been made. One was obvious: 21 Michigan students had been assigned to take the test at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Mass.

Selective Service's announcement that all students would be fingerprinted "to avoid the possibility that any unauthorized persons might take the test" also touched off howls of protest.

Service officials backtracked. Other positive identification would be accepted, they said.

Within two weeks, the examination papers will be sent to Science Research Associates, grades 7-9 for passing for undergraduates, 7-9 for graduate students—and the results sent to the local draft boards.

TO BE REPEATED
 The process will be repeated May 21, June 3 and June 24 for perhaps 600,000 additional students who, like the ones Saturday volunteered to be tested. In all, the director of Selective Service, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, estimated Thursday, more than one million will take the test.

About 1.8 million students now hold deferments, which means approximately 600,000 will ride the draft board rapids without it.

The test is a potpourri of mathematical problems, word associations for definitions, reading comprehension, charts and graphs.

Mrs. McCarthy said in an interview the test was "carefully structured" by a panel of educators and psychologists "for curricula in colleges across the country."

SAMPLES
 Here are samples of the kinds of questions that will be asked:

A stick 25 inches long is to be cut so that one piece is one-fourth as long as the other. How many inches long must the shorter piece be?

(A) 5 (B) 7 (C) 10 (D) 12 (E) 15

32 is two-sevenths of what number?

(A) 9 1/7 (B) 14 (C) 64 (D) 112 (E) 224

Doctor: disease:
 A—Miser: money
 B—Illness: prescription
 C—Sheriff: crime
 D—Thief: punishment
 E—Intern: hospital

The answers: (B) 7; (D) 112; (C) sheriff: crime

There are no hard and fast rules governing student deferments. As always the local draft boards have wide authority to decide who shall be allowed to stay in school and who is to be sent packing to induction centers—with the battlefields of Viet Nam just over the horizon for many young men.

Minnesota Girl Is First Science Fair Double Winner

DALAS, Tex. (AP)—Girls are outnumbered 290 to 129 among the finalists in the 17th annual International Science Fair, but a 17-year-old Minnesota girl is the first contestant to become a double winner.

Mary Lallier Schilling won both American Medical Association and American Dental Association awards Thursday night for her project "Uptake of Radioactive I131-Using Techniques of Histology and Autoradiography."

Miss Schilling, whose father is a dairy farmer, is a senior at the Northfield, Minn., High School and wants to become a teacher.

Another girl, Mary Lore Wade, 15, of Gilmer, Tex., took the other top dental award, and Robert Carter Dillingham, 15, of Tallahassee, Fla., won the other major medical association award.

American Pharmaceutical Association prizes went to Lee A. Weisbecker, 14, High Point, N.C., and Dan Bradley Dyck, 17, Fort Worth, Tex. The top awards presented by the American Veterinary Medical Association were to Edwin Bonnie Collier, 17, Mesquite, Tex., and Mac Elgin, 16, Dyersburg, Tenn. Winners in other divisions were to be announced today.

The 419 finalists, winners of 225 area shows, represent 46 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, Costa Rica, Germany, Guatemala, Japan, Puerto Rico, and Sweden.

Their elaborate and highly technical projects are in the fields of botany, medicine and health, zoology, chemistry and biochemistry, earth and space sciences, physics, and mathematics and computers.

City Not Letting Mosquitoes Bug It

The city has been trying to get the jump on mosquitoes. For several days, city crews have been oiling potential breeding places and fogging some areas, and the program is going to be increased, said City Manager Larry Crow. Dr. R. E. Johnson of the city-county health unit is entering into the control program outside the city limits.

Fogging is being done on both sides of the railroad tracks from Birdwell Lane to the west city limits, but in a fairly narrow strip, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

About 1,000 gallons of oil have been poured on breeding places near the railroad tracks and FM 796, Lillard revealed.

As presently set, fogging of the entire city will begin at the railroad tracks and work north and south until the city has been covered entirely.

Thursday afternoon, the fogger began working at First and Bell, going south and west. It was scheduled to continue the fogging Friday morning and afternoon.

CHECK YOUR PLACE
 "We urge residents to check their property for tin cans, old tires, toys, mud-puddles or any receptacle which holds water," Crow said, "particularly if the receptacle is dark or in the shade. These offer a good breeding place for mosquitoes."

He said the water in these receptacles should be poured out or drained, and the receptacles removed or filled in order to help clear out the breeding places in the city.

If a resident has a puddle or other waterplace which he cannot drain, the city will oil the water for him, Lillard said.

The problem of Salt Lake (One-Mile or T&P Lake) on the northside, long known as a prime breeding area for mosquitoes, with its large number of salt cedars, is being studied.

PUZZLER
 "We just don't know the answer to Salt Lake at the moment," Lillard said, "but we are discussing several possibilities."

One suggestion has been to drain the lake—this would present a major engineering headache because of the slight amount of drop from the lake to drainage areas.

Another has been to defoliate the salt cedars by poisoning them.

 North and South incurred a devastating penalty in today's hand as the result of the latter's indiscretion during the auction.

North opened the bidding with one heart and East passed. Altho the latter held sound values, there was no convenient action for him to take. A take-out double might prove disastrous if partner had only spades, and an overall at the level of two on a four card suit was beyond practical consideration.

South would have done well to follow East's example and pass. Keeping the bidding open when vulnerable with only three high card points is not a sound policy. By passing initially, South may reenter the auction subsequently if circumstances warrant his taking action, without running the risk that his partner will play him for as many as six points.

North's rebid was two hearts. East passed again and South, somewhat belatedly, chose to renege. West was reluctant to abandon the contest without a fight, and he reopened proceedings by making a take-out double. East passed for penalties—his hand figured to take about five tricks and partner might be counted on for two, which added up to a sizable sting.

South ran to two spades, reasoning that his hand would be worthless to North, "in case the opening bidder might produce a few tricks for South; West doubled and all hands passed.

West opened the queen of diamonds and, by the time the smoke had cleared, the defense took two diamonds, three clubs, two hearts, and two spades to register an 1,100 point profit.

North would not have fared any better at two hearts for, if West leads a trump when he gets in, in order to prevent a diamond ruff in dummy, the declarer can be held to three heart tricks and the ace of spades for the same 1,100 point deficit.

Paying More For Groceries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated today the nation spent at the annual rate of $91 billion for food during the first quarter of this year. This was an increase of 11 per cent over last year.

But the report on the national food situation added the increased expenditures come at a time when incomes are expected to increase about as much as or more than food costs.

As a consequence, it said, food is expected to take about 18.3 per cent of consumers' disposable income, the same as last year.

The department said this year's increase in spending for food reflected higher costs and an increase in population. Food prices in the first quarter of this year averaged 6 per cent above a year earlier.

And Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield added to that counsel a declaration that another Democratic Congress offers Americans the best hope for a reasonable and honorable peace in Southeast Asia.

JOHNSON AND MANSFIELD

Johnson and an array of party leaders praised the current Congress and forecast Democratic gains in the next one at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner Thursday.

It drew more than 6,000 people to the cavernous, bunting-draped National Guard Armory. The money will go to Democratic candidates for House and Senate seats.

Johnson and Mansfield both advised their party's nominees to tackle the war issue directly in the coming campaign.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADVICE:

"Go out there in the countryside and tell them this fall that America will persevere until peace comes to Viet Nam."

RESPECT STAND

Johnson said the vast majority of Americans will respect that stand.

"The issue must be faced and met in the coming campaign," said Mansfield. "... Democrats in this Congress have no apolo-

Many Reasons For Sales Drop

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry leaders showed concern today over early May reports that buyers purchased 15 per cent fewer cars than they did a year ago.

Many reasons were advanced for the sales decline.

Some said it was the result of unfavorable publicity resulting from the auto safety hearings.

Others blamed it on the Viet Nam war which put into uniform thousands of potential young customers.

Others said it reflected the higher income tax deduction rates which went into effect May 1.

Still others said it was because of soft spots which developed in the nation's economy.

The unchallenged fact was that General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors sold fewer new cars May 1-10 than they did a year ago. Ford Motor Co. had a strong sales period as it set a new early May sales high.

The four major auto firms reported Thursday they sold 192,429 cars May 1-10, about 35,000 behind last year.

GM auto sales were off 4 per cent, Chrysler was down 13.6 per cent and American Motors was off 27 per cent. Ford was up 15 per cent over the opening 10 days of May, 1965.

The sales figures did little to cheer up auto sources who had hoped that a decline noted in April sales would be reversed quickly.

Nobody pushed the panic button but as one auto sales executive explained, "The bloom is off the auto sales market. We've had four good years but now we will have to get out and work and sell."

Prior to release of the sales reports, much interest had been focused on the question of whether talk about defective cars and safety issues had scared customers.

The figures bore out the prediction Monday by Roy Abernethy, AMC president, that the auto safety hearings would have a "negative effect on sales."

Partisans Rally To Support Of Their Favorite Mailmen

By SAM BLACKBURN

There's an old story about a mail carrier's uniform and got away with his foul deed because no one ever notices a mailman.

A good story but don't you believe it.

Big Spring residents do see their mailmen, know who they are and are vociferous, when a chance arises, to say their individual mailman is the very best.

Proof-of the pudding is at hand in a fat file on the desk of Frank Hardesty, acting postmaster. The file is bulging with letters from patrons of the post office—letters lauding the men in gray who tote the mail.

It all built up out of an announcement in The Herald that the local chapter of the National Association of Letter Carriers would like to have the public help select the favorite mailman in Big Spring.

A flood of letters swept into the post office.

As of this time, two mailmen in particular appear out in front in letters (which are votes), but nearly every mail carrier on the roster has had his share of praise from the people he serves.

The two top men are Alfred Moody, a 64-year-old veteran, who has been carrying the mail to the west part of town since 1942 and Donald D. Trupp, 308 Circle Drive, Trupp, 49, has been on the staff of the local post office since 1951. His route covers the southeast part of town.

These two men have received stacks of letters. One letter was signed by two score patrons—a sort of round-robin resolution of commendation.

Hardesty said that one patron wrote that her son is in Viet Nam. Her postman makes a point of seeing that letters from the soldier reach her promptly. One day she remarked that her son was in a certain town in Viet Nam but that she had no idea what part of that distant land it was.

wrote, "My postman brought me a map he had got at The Herald and showed me on the map where my boy was."

The favorite will be presented with a gift certificate and recognized at the banquet session of the District IV convention of the Texas Association of Letter Carriers.

"This is the most heart-warming and inspiring thing I have ever seen," observed Hardesty. "It shows how much the people of Big Spring esteem the service and effort of their mailmen."

Teenager Has Reached Tonga

HONOLULU (AP) — Leo Graham, a 17-year-old Californian, who hopes to become the youngest sailor to complete a solo round-the-world voyage by sea, has reached the Tonga Islands, 3,000 miles southwest of Honolulu where word was received of his arrival.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Graham of Terminal Island left California last July. He arrived in American Samoa in January. After waiting out the hurricane season, he set sail in his 24-foot sloop "Dove" for the Tongas, 350 miles away. He will spend a month there before heading for Fiji.

Conleys Attend Relative's Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conley were in Stamford Friday for the funeral of Carl Edward Ekdahl, 52, retired farmer in the Ericsdahl community. He died Thursday afternoon after being ill since February. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. Conley.

Rites were held Friday afternoon in the Bethel Lutheran Church with Dr. H. G. Haterius, pastor, officiating, and burial was in the churchyard cemetery. Mr. Ekdahl was born at Bju, Sweden, Aug. 25, 1883, and settled with his family at Elgin in 1895. He served with the U. S. Marines from 1904-08, and moved to Jones County upon separation from service. He was married in June, 1927, in Abilene to Gladys Conley. Besides his wife, he leaves one son, Edward Ekdahl, Amarillo; four grandchildren.

MAKES POINTS

Point by point, Johnson boasted of the Democratic record during the past two years—and said the party has redeemed 80 per cent of the pledges in its platform.

"I defy any Congress or any administration to ever equal that record," he cried.

A Devotional For The Day

All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness. (II Timothy 3:16)

PRAYER: Our Father, help us to make our homes places where we honor Thee by reading and obeying Thy Word. May we not be hearers only, but doers of the Word. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

Excellent System And Record

Some revealing facts were included in the Texas Highway Department's announcement of its 1966 farm market road program.

New work done in 1965 amounted to $23,900,000, and at this rate, Texas will have a billion dollar value in its FM system within five years. Now there are 22,300 miles of this class roads in Texas, and the goal is 96,000.

Aside from the normal traffic these routes get, 8,000 school buses travel over most of their mileage every day nine months out of the year, carrying half a million children to class. Mail carriers double back and forth over them to the extent of 90,000 miles a day.

This gives some idea of the scope of the system, but it does not adequately reflect one other important element—quality. Many if not most of Texas' FM roads are the equal or better than first class highways in many other states. A salute is in order for the Texas Highway Department for this excellent record.

Rodeo Time Right Upon Us

In five more days one of Big Spring's major annual events will open for a four-night stand.

It's difficult to realize that the 3rd season of the Big Spring Cowboy Rodeo and Rodeo is right here upon us.

Primary elections, schools endings, wonderful rains and other things have distracted us, but here she is ready to come out of Chute No. 1.

Except for one year when it was not at all practical during World War II, the big extravaganza has been held, making it one of the venerable and outstanding rodeos of all West Texas.

Out of that long experience, rodeo officials have learned how to put a good show together. Moreover, they have provided a plant which is second to none in the rodeo arenas of the Southwest.

The Big Spring show operates under sanction of the Rodeo Cowboy Association, which means that some of the best professional rodeo cowboys of the land will be here to compete for prizes. And that means an exciting show—which is what you're bound to see.

Make your plans to attend as many of the shows from Wednesday through Saturday evenings as you can—and write or call your friends and relatives in other places to come share in the fun.

Marquis Childs Labor Is Growing Restless

WASHINGTON—As related by his loyal lieutenant, Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower once asked his secretary of the treasury, George M. Humphrey, if it were not possible for American businessmen to make some sacrifices in the interests of world peace. In his first-hand report, an account of the Eisenhower years, Adams reports the following:

"No," Humphrey replied candidly. "The American businessman believes in getting as much as he can while the getting is good."

"Maybe that's the trouble with businessmen, George," Eisenhower said seriously.

The Humphrey candor, reflecting his own capacity as a leading industrialist to get it while the getting was good, is recalled by the earnest plea of Chairman Gardner Ackley of the Council of Economic Advisers to the United States Chamber of Commerce. Recounting the record profits of the past year or more, Ackley asked the assembled businessmen to consider whether they were doing all they could to fight inflation. Does anyone, he asked, imagine that labor will continue to show moderation in its wage demands when prices and profit margins are continually rising?

THE ACKLEY exhortation was received politely by the business community. But skeptics are saying that, in the immortal words of Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, his homily will have all the impact of a snowflake falling on the broad bosom of the Potomac River.

Increasingly within the Administration, however, the issue of profits vs. wages is a cause for concern. The AFL-CIO has blasted the Johnson hold-fast line with George Meany's declaration that organized labor is not tied to the Democratic party.

WAGES HAVE not kept pace with prices and, therefore, the 3.2 per cent

Billy Graham

I attended one of your crusades and you had the people pray a certain prayer, in a certain way, and then you implied they were saved. Is God so mechanical and precise? Is salvation so simple, so neat, and must one conform to a certain religious pattern to possess eternal life?

B. L.

I have never tried to force my religious concepts upon anyone. This would be bigotry and unforgivable. I do, however, remind people what God has said and make every effort to help them find God upon the terms He, himself, has laid down. The Bible plainly says: "He that hath the Son hath life, and he that hath not the Son hath not life." Jesus himself said, "No man cometh unto the Father except by me." Therefore, I challenge people to accept Christ. The Bible also teaches that sin must be confessed and renounced. "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord."

The prayer I lead the people in is simply an aid to get them to turn from their sin and accept Christ. In itself it contains no magic, but if they are sincere, it can lead to the miracle of Christian conversion, and the record shows that thousands have experienced a change of life through Christ. The simplicity of the message of the cross, of Christ's death and resurrection has always seemed foolish to them that perish, "but unto us which are saved, it is the power of God."

guideline must be modified. But how to modify it without opening the flood gates to new demands is the problem. Ackley referred to the Wall Street Journal's tabulation showing profits in the first three months of this year up 12 per cent over the same period in 1965. This compilation was the red rag to the raging bull of the unions.

As the Journal's account indicated, if steel and autos were omitted—because of special circumstances that did not share in the big upswing—the increase would be 18 instead of 12 per cent. Broken down by separate industries, the gains are even more remarkable. Railroads showed an increase of 163.9 per cent, building supplies 62.4, publishing companies 35.7, airlines 24.3, aircraft makers 25.1, tools and machinery 28.2.

AS PROOF of a shortage of earnings, an AFL-CIO council report said that while output per man-hour had been rising at the rate of 3.6 per cent, the employee's compensation per hour had increased only 2.9 per cent.

These figures are only a bare bones reflection of the discontent within labor's ranks. Automation has worked, thanks in considerable part to the capital supplied by big profit margins, to replace more and more workers. The railroads today, according to union economists, have only about half the payroll of a few years ago.

The showdown may come in the only big union-industry contract to be revised this year. General Electric and Westinghouse, the giants in the industry, face new contract demands from unions more united than in the recent past, and a strike in August would dramatize labor's claims. The Wall Street Journal's tabulation showed profits of electrical companies up 20.7 per cent.

TAXES ARE ANOTHER sore point with organized labor. With the 7 per cent investment credit and the change in the depreciation rate imposed under the Kennedy Administration, plus the reduction in corporate taxes from 52 to 48 per cent in the Johnson tax bill, business has had a cut of $7 billion, labor economists say. A straight across-the-board tax cut, as advocated by Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin, would draw cries of rage from the unions.

The AFL-CIO report cited the profits of General Motors—$2.1 billion after taxes in 1965, up 23 per cent from 1964. There are, the report noted, no government guidelines for profits or dividends.

BUT WHAT has been happening to GM, with production slowed and the resulting earthquake on the stock market, indicates the edge may be off the boom. Chairman Martin a year ago suggested parallels between 1929 and the collapse of that boom and 1965. If this is true, labor is saying, it means business got too much while the getting was good and the worker who has the buying power too little.

Real Fire Power

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian Air Force held a fire-power demonstration that was quite effective. Early in the program bombing and rocketing set fire to grass around the target area and ensuing smoke forced cancellation of other demonstrations.

James Marlow Hoping To Run On Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — At this point the politicians are rummaging in a bag of unfinished business for talking points in this year's congressional elections.

What they are talking about as issues now may look different by election time next November.

President Johnson is betting — or hoping — that the record of this Democratic-run Congress will be his party's chief inducement to the voters.

THAT'S THE big point he made in a speech Thursday night at a Democratic fundraising dinner.

Naturally, the outnumbered Republicans are hoping for something a little more irritating to talk about. It's been clear for some time what they would fasten on, or like to.

Recently some top Republicans, like former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, figured their party can get yardage on two big issues: inflation and Viet Nam.

This is a guess since inflation, or the danger of it, may have retreated into the background by November and by then the war in Viet Nam may look less cloudy and frustrating, or the reverse.

Johnson, the master politician, knows as well as Nixon or anyone else that by November inflation and the Vietnamese war may plague the Democrats. He's not making them issues ahead of time.

RIGHT NOW HE chooses to talk about what he sees at the sunny side.

This Congress made a splendid record last year. But this year he has run into some difficulty there and the final record for 1966 is months away.

He predicted Thursday night that "the American people are not going to disown the most productive Congress ever assembled." He said: "Together we have passed more laws for the good of more men, women and children than any one Congress since our nation was founded."

This put him and his Democrats of 1965-66 ahead of any Congress in the presidency of his hero, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This week GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss said his surveys showed inflation to be a "major domestic issue, far beyond other domestic issues in recent years."

AND NIXON CHIMED in to say the war in Viet Nam is just as big an issue "because the Democrats have made it so."

Johnson knows as well as Nixon and anyone else that by November the war in Viet Nam may be a plague to the Democrats. But he's not magnifying it ahead of time.

Instead, he spoke of it in a general way, urging Democrats to tell voters that "America will persevere until peace comes to Viet Nam."

But when he added—"it is the stand the vast majority of Americans will respect"—he revealed why he hasn't given his critics added national attention by making a full-length reply to them.

He doesn't think his critics on Viet Nam make up a very large part of the population.

Hal Boyle More Interesting Disease

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you losing social status in your community because your friends and neighbors have more interesting diseases than you do?

Take stock of yourself. A good self-inventory may reveal you are one of the lucky ones.

For example let us investigate your fears. Psychiatry now has a high-sounding name for practically every fear in the human catalog of error.

No doubt, like many people, you feel that you aren't being promoted on your job fast enough. Put yourself down as a victim of taphephobia, the fear of being buried alive.

On the other hand, perhaps you worry because your boss is throwing more chores your way than you feel you can handle. Clearly you are suffering from hypencyphobia, the fear of responsibility.

Does your bartender habitually put too much lemon juice in your daiquiris. Let him know that you're an acrophobia, one who fears sourness. If his martinis are too wet, tell him you're a lifelong hyprophobia, one who fears moisture.

Millions of straphanging subway riders endure stasibastophobia, the fear of having to stand up, and the condition probably is incurable—as there never have been and never will be enough seats on the subway.

Two ailments which might help improve children but which few have today are mastigophobia, fear of flogging, and rhabdophobia, fear of the rod.

Don't apologize any more if you find many modern novels unreadable and most modern art meaningless. It isn't your fault. You've just got symbolophobia, the fear of symbolism.

Practically none of us can stand the thought of growing old. That's because—since youth worship is so widespread—we are gnawed by chronophobia, the fear of time.

Guys who dislike dancing with tall girls are plagued with hypophobia, the fear of height.

If you're a wife and think your husband is telling fibs about having to stay late at the office, you've got a bad case of mythophobia, the fear of myths.

Alas! the computer will throw you out of work? That's mechanophobia, fear of machines.

Maybe civilization upsets you so much that you can't think of anything that doesn't frighten you. Well, you've got the big-package deal disease—pantophobia, the fear of everything.

Columnists, of course, aren't spared from the general panic. Their occupational disease is the most terrifying of all—graphophobia, the fear of writing.

To Your Good Health Why Water Doesn't True Weight

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: We are having quite a dispute. I drink six to eight glasses of water a day. I have had a heart attack, and my sister thinks that is too much water and it will put on weight. I never heard of such a thing. Please answer. — MRS. E. F. H.

I'm afraid your sister has put two and two together and gotten seven instead of four.

Water does not add true weight. It constantly must pass through the body to carry away wastes. Since a quart weighs about two pounds, it is obvious that if you temporarily withdraw water from the system, weight will go down—but not true weight. I've used this example before: A football player in an afternoon of hard practice can easily lose five pounds and sometimes much more than when he is thirsty. Sweating has "dried him out." So he drinks enough fluid to make up for it, and the next day he is right back at his usual weight.

If you drink more, you will lose it faster. And vice versa.

Thirst takes care of that. Drinking more won't make you gain weight. There are no calories in water.

Your sister may be confused over another aspect. People in heart failure—that is, the heart cannot beat strong enough to maintain full, brisk circulation—may have edema or dropsy. This means that body fluids are not kept moving rapidly enough. This sluggishness lets some water, and waste matter which it has absorbed, remain stagnant in the tissues. Ankles swell, or other areas become congested.

This is not because the patient drinks too much water. It is because water, and the waste products, are not being removed quite rapidly enough. The amount one drinks will have slight if any effect on this.

Medications can be given (diuretics) to hasten the discharge of this stagnant fluid, and thus reduce the edema, but that is another matter entirely. You still should drink plenty of water to keep your body functioning healthfully.

If you have edema, rely on your physician's advice, not your sister's, because she is mistaken in her belief.

I should add that the fact that you have had a heart attack does not necessarily mean that you have either edema or heart failure. Millions of people have had heart attacks and returned to activity and health afterward.

Either way, you need water. And it won't add weight.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Around The Rim

It Can Be Done

Sunday last, CBS-TV showed a beautiful example of what television would be like if it were up to many of America's college-educated and just-plain educated.

The network's version of Arthur Miller's famous "Death of a Salesman" was brilliant, both in the choice of players and in scenery—the tube borrowed both from Broadway versions, true, but did both well.

AND FROM THIS corner, it seems that anyone with a mental age of over 12 would have enjoyed the production, regardless of the degree of formal education.

When the tube first became prevalent, everybody said it would revolutionize the entertainment industry for the better.

What happened, however, was that TV took perfectly good forms of entertainment developed over a period of several ages and turned them into mostly one, long, commercially-interrupted bore.

THE BLUSHING Barnums of TV have, for years, shied away from anything controversial like a Hottentot avoids water. They have stuck like leeches to the "situation comedy" shows, an indictment the industry may never recover from for another 50 years.

Much of the deplorable waste of air time is no doubt due to the false god called "ratings," a practice foisted upon the industry by some very clever jackanapes who made C's in Communications.

BUT MOST of the blame has got to lie with the Barnums. With them in "office," it is only due to the U. S. economic miracle and the effectiveness of the advertising men that TV has done anything at all, uh, popularly-wise.

Though "Death" was a brilliant production, and courageous (including the script's "hell's" and "damn's"), this corner, for one, is going to let the Barnum's listen to the sound of one hand clapping until all of TV begins to approach its promise and commercials appear only before and after good programs—until the day a series, not just a "special," turns out consistently good.

A NOTE to Tommy Hart's reader. Tommy says no, Judge, he didn't do any special research. "Insects bite," he says. "I never heard anybody challenge a bite before. But I'm glad somebody reads my stuff."

We are glad, too. Now if only somebody would call Tommy and have him communicate to us about this column.

—TOM BARRY

David Lawrence A 'Racial' Questionnaire

WASHINGTON — Racial consciousness, which has long been deplored, is likely to be encouraged unwittingly by a new move just taken by the federal government. A card has been issued to all government employees to set up a racial classification, though for some unexplained reason it lists only certain races and nationalities.

"A minority group status questionnaire" is being handed to every employee with the requirement that it be filled out with his surname, date of birth and Social Security number. The card reads as follows:

"1. PLEASE READ the statement on the other side of this card if you have not already done so.

"2. Check the one block below which best describes your race or national origin:

- American Indian
  - Negro
  - Oriental
  - Spanish-American
  - None of these (check this block if you are other than listed above.)
- "3. After you have checked your answer, return this card according to the instructions given by your supervisor."

On the reverse side of the questionnaire is the following message:

"THE FEDERAL government and your employer want to be sure that every individual whatever his race or national origin gets fair and equal treatment. To do this, we need to know how many minority group employees there are, what kinds of jobs they hold, what grade level their jobs are, and other things that will show whether or not there is discrimination. Minority group records are being set up for this purpose.

"You are asked to help by checking the block on the other side of this card which describes your race or national origin. Your answer will be kept confidential and will not be used against you in any way."

MANY GOVERNMENT employees are astounded by the nature of the questionnaire, and some of them are asking why there is no reference to other racial groups, such as Polish-American, Greek-American, Italian-American, or to any religion. Since the questionnaire ignores these classifications, it gives the impression that a few have been mentioned as window-dressing and that the real purpose is to obtain information as to the number of Negroes and whites actually employed. Certainly it is not assumed that, in the offices of those agencies of the government where there is a predominance of Negroes, any employees will be discharged to make room for whites, but some of the latter are concerned nevertheless that they may be removed to permit more Negroes to get jobs.

THE USE of the questionnaire among government employees could mean that before long the government would issue the same questionnaire to every private business, from which a tabulation could be made to determine whether the proper percentage of Negroes is being employed according to government concepts.

The attempt to reach a "racial balance" through some quota system disregards, of course, whether an employee holds his job by reason of merit or because of discriminatory practices. The emphasis now apparently is on whether there is discrimination because of race or color. The same reasoning can be applied by the government to deal with any religious discrimination that may exist.

Holmes Alexander Flunking The Wartime Test

WASHINGTON—For reasons that are unusual but nonetheless ominous, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara has turned out to be the summer soldier and the sunshine patriot—unfit for the bitter climate of war.

AS ONE WHO has long supported the Secretary, I reach this adverse conclusion despite, not because, of the rain of criticism which has pelted McNamara throughout his term. He was not altogether wrong in his dismissal of General Walker, his closing of obsolete bases, his winnowing out of useless reserve units, his partiality for the TFX aircraft design and his general practice of head-thumping at the Pentagon. Nor is the Secretary a bad war risk because of any lack of dedication and courage in his task. There are other reasons why he has failed and why he should go.

AS A PEACE TIME Secretary, McNamara did well enough under Mr. Kennedy and under the first two years of President Johnson's tenure. But approximately in the autumn of 1965, we moved from a supporting action in Viet Nam to a land war. We are on the way to committing 500,000 troops for the conquest of disputed territory in Asia. Instead of reacting to the realities, McNamara has maintained the stewardship of man in charge of a garrison rather than of a fighting force.

IT IS ONE THING to be parsimonious when in command of standing armies, and to save pennies out of the military purse in order to drop them in the poor box of domestic welfare at a time of mere frontier-watching. But it is something else when the troops are in combat and the frontier blazes with battle.

Not only has McNamara behaved like a chair-borne bookkeeper of our military assets, but he has been caught several times at juggling the figure of his ledgers to prove himself an efficient clerk. It is well to cite the bill of particulars which tells where the Secretary has been caught in deceit:

posed, McNamara is in the process of transferring 45,000 men from Europe to Viet Nam while only acknowledging the transfer of 15,000. The extra 30,000 on-the-way to Europe are replacements are four-month trainees.

2—Though he has flashed impressive figures of "ton-miles" to give the effect of ample air lift, McNamara is stuck with a fleet of large air carriers but is lacking the number of medium-sized planes to meet our far-flung needs.

3—THOUGH HE has tried to talk his way out of a corner, McNamara did list four Army divisions as being combat-ready when, in fact, they were being used as training units.

4—Despite his assurance that we have plenty of bombs, it is now an established fact that we don't have the right assortment and assembly of bombs for cracking the targets in Viet Nam.

5—Because of mismanagement in manpower, we have the imbalance of thousands of rookies in uniform but not in training, and hundreds of veterans coming home this summer from Viet Nam on rotation.

In short, McNamara has badly flunked the test of wartime statesmanship.

To Help Co-Ops

WASHINGTON (AP)—An experienced Texas rural electrification specialist has left for Chile to help develop electric cooperatives there.

Leo Forrest, manager of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative in Hereford, Tex., will help 17 Chilean cooperatives plan their future needs during his visit.

Under a 48-month contract, Forrest will spend 30 days in Chile every six months to continue his assistance. In 1962-63, Forrest surveyed Colombia's electrical power needs in a three-month visit and as a result two rural electric cooperatives are expected to become operational soon.

Exposition Of Scouting Skills Goes On Saturday

At least two dozen Scouting units—and possibly more—will have displays of skills, activities, advancement and career fields on display Saturday. The occasion will be the Scout Exposition in the mall of Highland South Center from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Tickets have been on sale for the past two weeks, and proceeds will defray expenses and help aid the participating units. Besides the static exhibits, on the mall and in adjacent building space, there will be at least one outdoor camping demonstration by Troop 179 to the south of the center. Troop No. 9 may also set up a camp, said Bill Bradford, general chairman of the exposition. This is one of the programs organized by Frosty Robison and his camping and activities committee. Among the units sponsoring displays are these: Cub Packs 46 (pinewood derby), 29 and 137 (things Cubs do), 100 (Cub achievements for the year), 179 (naturecraft), Troops 2 (tenderfoot requirements), 7 (surveying), 9 (patrol kitchens), 17 (flags), 136 (fishings), 179 (model camp), 216 (horncraft), 81 handicapped troop (pottery), 339 (nature), 146 and 116 (unannounced), Posts 5 (Philmont camp films), 19 (arts of industry), 111 (hot rods), 136 (emergency unit), 444 (planning a super activity), 302 (electronics or chemistry), 146 (unannounced). There may be others, said Bradford.

Three Maneuvers On Space Agenda

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — During their three-day flight starting Tuesday, the Gemini 9 astronauts plan to execute three space rendezvous maneuvers similar to those that might have to be made on Project Apollo man-to-the-moon trips. The maneuvers "will be closer to what an Apollo rendezvous will be than was the case with Gemini 8," said Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford, Gemini 9 command pilot. Riding with him will be Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan. FIRST TASK Their first major task will be to pursue an Agena target satellite across the skies, catching it in four hours over the western Pacific during the third orbit. "We'll move right in on it, docking within 20 minutes, by the time we reach Hawaii," said Stafford. The time and maneuvers involved are similar to those planned for two astronauts in a Lunar Excursion Module (LEM) to rejoin the Apollo command ship after they launch themselves from the moon. While they are on the surface, a third astronaut circles the moon in the main ship. The Gemini 8 pilots required four orbits to catch their Agena. Stafford and Cernan will reduce the time by one orbit by making a major maneuver seconds after their Titan 2 rocket inserts them into orbit. ADJUST PATH Stafford will fire the spacecraft's jet thrusters to adjust the high point of his orbital path so it is 168 miles, or precisely 17 miles below the path of the Agena. Gemini 8 did not make this height adjustment move until after one circuit of the globe. The remaining three major maneuvers each then will occur one orbit earlier than they did on the Gemini 8 flight. Also, Gemini 9 will be launched about two minutes earlier than Gemini 8. That means the Agena will only have a 720-mile head start instead of a 1,200-mile lead. The other two rendezvous attempts are scheduled for the third day, after Cernan has taken a space walk and the pilots have maneuvered by firing the Agena engine while docked. SECOND — The second will be attempted without the use of radar and the third will simulate the Apollo command ship descending to pick up the Lunar Excursion Module in case the LEM cannot make it down to the moon's surface and is unable to come all the way back up to the main ship. Stafford and Cernan plan to back about 12 miles away from the Agena for the second rendezvous and jockey out of a circular orbit into a slightly elliptical one. Through the use of a computer, sextant, the earth's horizon and their own vision they hope to rendezvous with the target within 90 minutes. UPSIDE DOWN "We'll fly upside down the entire maneuver," said Cernan. "This enables us to better see the earth's horizon for reference and also prevents the sun from shining on the window and perhaps obscuring our view of the Agena." Astronauts would have to rely on such procedures if the radar sets in either the Apollo com-

W. R. Grace Sales Top Billion Dollars In Year

NEW YORK—J. Peter Grace, president, W. R. Grace & Co., told stockholders at the company's annual meeting Tuesday that "we are confident that the balance of this year will continue to show good improvement in earnings. Our studies make us optimistic that this growth will continue beyond 1966." Chemical sales were $662 million last year amounting to 66 per cent of the company total. Chemical sales have been increasing at an average annual rate of 23 per cent. In 1961 they amounted to only 48 per cent of total sales vs. the 1965 figure of 66 per cent. Earnings per share of common stock were $2.50 in 1965, only slightly ahead of the $2.72 in 1964, but Grace said "our average rate of improvement for the last five years of 14 per cent is a more meaningful figure. This far exceeds the growth rate of Moody's chemical company index of 5.1 per cent, and we believe our record surpasses that of any major chemical company." Grace said that 1965 marked the first year that total sales and revenues were in excess of $1 billion. The total of $1,003,000,000 was 14 per cent or $127,000,000 above the previous year. Five years ago in 1961 total sales were only $534 million. Net earnings for 1965 were also the highest in the company's history totalling $45,348,000. This was a six per cent increase over 1964. One reason for optimism is that the company is venturing into new areas which offer growth. He noted an 80 per cent investment in Nuclear Fuel Services, the world's only privately-owned preprocessing facility. He also cited chemicals and fertilizers. Grace said the company also was broadening foreign investments where it could be done without jeopardizing balance of payments. Oil production from the Libyan field, where Grace has a quarter interest, is now up to 95,000 barrels per day.

Book Discusses 'We Know'

RICHMOND, Va. — The famous "we know" sentences from the writings of Paul have become the subject of a new Biblical study, "The 'We Knows' of the Apostle Paul" by Holmes Rolston, published by the John Knox Press on May 2.

In this book, the sentences are for the first time brought together as a summary of the faith of the early church and as a series of great affirmations. Dr. Rolston shows how appropriate the "we knows" are for man today as well as for men in the age in which Paul preached.

Churches Recognize Two Outstanding Mothers

A tribute to two local mothers who have served their homes, communities and churches with hours of dedication was presented Sunday to Mrs. Truett (Kathryn) Thomas and Mrs. Helen Gamble as Mothers of the Year.

Mrs. Thomas, a member of the First Church of God, was honored at the worship services. She has served as the church treasurer for the past 25 years, is local president of the Woman's Missionary Society, district president of the WMS and state director of missionary education of the WMS, and active in civic work.

The Rev. V. Ward Jackson, pastor, said that Mrs. Thomas has been "a loyal and faithful worker . . . in all her contributions to the church, her home and the community."

Mrs. Gamble, a member of the Grace Baptist Church, received the coveted pastor's corsage from the Rev. Roy Honea, at the worship services.

Also honored at the services were Mrs. Beverly Edwards, wife of Victor Edwards who left for siminary this week. Others receiving corsages were Mrs. Joy Norrell, 21, the youngest mother, and Mrs. M. L. Rowland, 77, the oldest mother.

Mothers present were recognized and a special prayer was offered for all mothers by the oldest church member, "Dad" Rowland.

CLOSE WALK WITH GOD IS SOURCE OF HAPPY TIMES

So long as the rulers of men walk in the way of the Lord, there is joy in the land, as pointed out in the International Sunday School lesson for this Sunday. The text is taken from II Kings 11-12; II Chronicles 22-24; and Isaiah 26:1-9.

Restoration Day Rites

A "restoration" worship service will be conducted Sunday morning at the Anderson Street Church of Christ, paralleling the form of the Sunday worship service of the Noah Springs (Kentucky) Church of Christ held in 1828.

David Tarbet, minister of the church, said that the Churches of Christ in Kentucky, under the leadership of such men as Barton W. Stone, began to be formed in every major town and many village hamlets in the early 19th century.

"They pleaded for a return to New Testament Christianity," Tarbet said, "and the abandoning of all human creeds and popular denominations. This was the beginning of 'The Restoration Movement.' Attention was given by the churches to include every item of worship contained in the original Church of Christ, but from congregation to congregation certain liberty was allowed in the method of arranging the worship items."

GOD'S WORD for a NEW AGE

An old man in Australia holds his Bible with shaking hands. Painstakingly his pointing finger follows along a well-loved passage. In a village in Guatemala an Indian lad reads joyfully from a New Testament written in elementary Spanish. In a rural area of Japan a lively youth group discusses the Scriptures using Bibles printed in their mother tongue.

People like these, and thousands more in every corner of the earth, read Bibles today because of the work of the American Bible Society. Founded on May 8, 1816, the Society's sole object is the widespread circulation of the Scriptures. Now, faced with a worldwide population explosion and mounting literacy, the Society sees an exciting challenge in rededicating itself to its goal: that no matter what his language, whether rich or poor, or where he lives — no man, woman, or literate child should be without the Scriptures.

In our space age of confusion and change, the Bible remains constant. Read and study the Bible faithfully, and attend your church regularly. Hear there the word of God — His greatest gift, so freely given.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Lots Of Help Offered Mother

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Barbara Brooks doesn't have to worry about giving up her twin daughters. She needed help and now has more than she knows what to do with.

"I'm amazed at the way people have come through," said Mrs. Brooks, 28, Thursday.

Mrs. Brooks' arms were crippled by polio in 1951. She can use her hands but can't lift or hold anything weighing more than eight pounds. Her 2-month old daughters weigh seven pounds apiece.

She said she would have to give up the twins if she didn't get someone to help.

She received over 80 phone calls from Clevelanders Thursday, plus calls from New York City and Iowa after her story became known.

Many out-of-towners offered to take the twins for adoption. Mrs. Brooks and her husband, Kenneth, told them politely, "No."

Some offered baby furniture and clothes. Most volunteered to come and help care for the infants, Kendra and Kimberly, born prematurely March 13.

Prior Servicemen May Retain Rate

Under a change in criteria, prior service men may enlist without loss of grade up to two years.

Formerly, a former Air Force man had to re-enlist within one year of his separation from service in order to retain the grade held at time of separation. That time has been extended to two years. The change is expected to remain in effect through June, according to Sgt. Jim Wilkins, 118 E. 6th, Odessa, the AF recruiter for this area.

A former serviceman of any of the Armed Forces may enlist within 180 days after the second anniversary of his separation from military with loss of only one grade lower; two grades lower prior to the third anniversary of separation; three grades lower prior to the fourth anniversary of separation.

'Honeymoons' With A Robot

A Radcliffe College junior breakfasts with her "husband," a British TV and movie star who happens to be a walking and talking robot, at a New York hotel. The girl, 20, and her "husband" registered as Miss 2000 and A. Dalek. She won't reveal her name because she fears a flood of phone calls.

She's doing this "honeymooning" because she thinks it's ridiculous that Radcliffe College, a college for women in Cambridge, Mass., won't allow any unmarried student to live outside the dormitories. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Evaporation Study Slated

LUBBOCK—An initial grant of $10,850 for intensive studies of water evaporation losses has been approved by the Office of Water Resources Research U.S. Department of Interior for the South Plains Research and Extension Center here.

The grant will support research to get basic scientific information about evaporation and to find methods to control it, according to Charles E. Fisher, research superintendent at the Texas A&M University agricultural center. Learning what atmospheric factors and soil properties exert major influence on the evaporation process will be the first objective of the study.

The grant also calls for efforts to find methods of decreasing evaporation losses by biological, cultural, mechanical or chemical treatments. Approximately 40 per cent of the total annual water budget for Texas is lost to evaporation of water from soils.

"If we could avoid just one per cent of this loss," Fisher said, "it would save enough water to supply 26 cities the size of Lubbock for one year or enough water to irrigate the South Plains cotton crop 1 1/2 years."

Ballots For Transfer Of Cotton Allotments Sent

Ballots are being mailed today to cotton producers in Howard County for their decision on whether to permit transfer of cotton allotments outside the county.

In order for such transfers to be made, there must be an approving two-thirds majority in the referendum. The sale or lease of allotments to persons in other counties would apply to the 1967 cotton allotments. If the out-of-county transfer does not carry, allotments still may be transferred within the county.

Those eligible to cast ballots must be 18 years of age or over, a bona fide cotton producer (owner, landlord or tenant). If a ballot is not received promptly, one can be secured at the ASC office. In returning the ballot, voters must sign the certification on the exterior of the envelope in order for the ballot to count.

Voting starts Monday and will continue through May 25. The county committee will open and count the ballots starting at 10 a.m. on May 27 at the ASC office, said Gabe Hammack, administrator.

Forsan Bonds Get Higher Rating

FORSAN — Forsan County said that the official notice of sale and the official statement have been printed and distributed to the bond buyers. Basser, Pierce and Co., San Antonio, is the financial advisor to the school district for the bond sale.

The high rating, achieved for the first time by the district, indicates a more favorable interest rate on the bonds to be sold Tuesday night.

Darrell Flynt, superintendent.

Bond bids will be opened at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the office of the superintendent.

The board of trustees of the district are Elmer G. Patton Jr., president; R. V. Fryar, vice president; Bobby S. Wash, secretary; Tommy Albertson, Leroy Findley, R. L. Riser, Robert D. Cowley. The bond issue runs through 1984.

The district, in its statement, shows actual value of taxable property in the district at $84,500,000. The assessed valuation is $16,920,125.

The bond money will be used for an extensive improvement and building program at the Forsan and Elbow schools.

This past summer she served as a junior assistant agent-in-training with the Garza County extension staff at Post. The new agent graduated from Floydada High School in 1962. ## WIVES BEWARE!

If your husband has occasion to visit Fort Worth, don't let him stay at Green Oaks Inn!

Oh, it's nice, all right.

It's done in sort of a storybook Old English.

It has 300 rooms, including 57 suites, and two swimming pools.

The food's all they say it is—the tastiest in Fort Worth.

And the club, patterned after an Old English ale house, is utterly charming.

Green Oaks Inn has a great location—away from downtown congestion, yet less than 10 minutes by freeway from the heart of the city.

The prices are reasonable, too.

Why then, you ask, should you steer him to another hotel?

If he stays at Green Oaks, he'll probably never want to come back home.

Nuclear Study Dates Are Fixed

The sixth annual Texas Nuclear Science Symposium for high schools will be held at the University of Texas June 12-15 under the co-sponsorship of the University and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

The announcement was made by Beeman Fisher, president of Texas Electric Service Company and a director of the foundation. TESCO is one of 10 investor-owned electric utility companies of Texas which make up the membership of the foundation.

The program for the four-day symposium will include outstanding speakers from science, industry and education. Banquet speaker June 14, will be Dr. E. C. Creutz, vice president - research and development of General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation, San Diego, Calif.

Similar symposiums for selected high school science students and teachers have been held annually at the university since 1961. They are attended by some 500 students and teachers from across the state for discussions dealing with basic nuclear science and for educational guidance in this field.

The foundation is supporting a major research effort aimed at controlling nuclear fusion reactions for peaceful purposes, such as the generation of electric power. The research is being done at the General Atomic laboratory in San Diego and at the University of Texas and Texas A&M University.

Presenting the frosty taste of Fresca. It's a blizzard.

Fresca is the new cold drink with the frosty, cold taste. And of course, it's sugar-free.

Just how refreshing is Fresca? This refreshing: Icy, biting, bold, cold, frosty, wintry, breezy, shivering, shimmering, shuddering, stinging, springy, sparkling, splashing, nipping, chilling, lively, light, bright, brisk, bouncing, bubbling, piercing, nearly freezing, and almost shocking. There's never been a taste so refreshing. It's a blizzard.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Identify Children In Case Of Accident

Dear Heloise: As past business manager of a 750 bed hospital, it was one of my duties to identify patients brought into the accident room.

When a small child was injured on his way to school or playing in a strange neighborhood, it sometimes took me hours to locate the parents.

When the child was unconscious it was a real problem. Many times someone called an ambulance, or the driver of a car rushed the child to the hospital, without asking any questions.

My wife suggested and used this method for prompt identification of our children in the event of an accident... Heaven forbid!

She purchased some small cloth name tapes with our last name and STREET ADDRESS printed on them.

These were sewn into our children's clothes—PARTICULAR-

LY in their UNDERWEAR...

A Reader Sir, you have no idea how much we appreciate your wonderful hint.

A person wouldn't have to buy the name labels but could make their own.

Buy iron-on tape and write the name and address (even the laundry marker or indelible ball-point pen. Then just press on the name label with a hot iron.

And the best place to put the name label would be over the label in the garment as it would stick on better.

Again, a sincere "Thank you" from all of us who are vitally concerned with the safety of children... Heloise

Dear Heloise: A new unused toothbrush (kept just for this purpose) is excellent for cleaning sieves, graters, waffle grids, roaster racks, etc. ... Pauline Fox

Dear Heloise: For those mothers who have four or five small children, and have a hard time keeping track of their teeth brushing:

I have found an easy solution. I purchased a different color toothbrush for each of our four children. Now when I get up, I put an amount of toothpaste on each brush and lay it in a little square tray on the wash basin.

As each child comes in to wash up, they know they should brush their teeth. Also, I know if the task has been done and no more toothpaste dripped all over the basin and floor... Mary V.

Mary, this is a wonderful idea. All mothers should start the personal hygiene training of their children early so it will save us trouble and expense later on... Heloise

Dear Heloise: Here is a great little hint that

A LOVELIER YOU

What's A Wahini? Good Summer Style

By MARY SUE MILLER

What in the name of Hawaii is a wahini? In the fashion context it's a wrap-around skirt that makes a patio dress of a bikini. It also covers a multitude of figure sins. But since you can't sun or swim in it, figure problems will out. As always!

For uninhibited loveliness, problems must be solved. Overweight calls for a combination of diet and exercise. Spot exercise is all that's needed to trim a heavy area, when your weight is normal.

Diet controls weight; exercise controls proportions—the distribution of weight. The crucial proportions in a good swimsuit figure occur at the waist, hip and leg. Exercises to trim these spots follow:

1. Waist Whittler. Stand with back against wall, raise arms to sides at shoulder level and bend right knee up, as close to waist as possible. Pressing shoulders to wall, swing leg across body and try to touch knee to wall at left; swing back to starting position. Without stopping, repeat swinging action 20 times briskly. Then work with left leg.

2. Hip Trimmer. Sit erect on floor, legs straight out and arms folded on chest. "Walk" 10 on buttocks. Continue for one minute.

3. Leg Slimmer. Grasp back of sturdy chair. Fling right leg back and up; from raised position, repeatedly kick backward with shaking force. Give left leg same workout. Repeat 10 times, each side.

From the doing comes a taut, fit look. Better do!

LAZY EXERCISES

Here's an effortless way to trim off heavy spots. All you do is lie down or sit down, and flex your muscles. If that's for you, send for Lazy Girl's Exercises. Based on the isometric principle of exercise, routines trim head-to-toe figure. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Party Honors Miss Vaughn

Miss Cynthia Vaughn, bride-elect of Durward Rutledge, was honored Tuesday evening with a gift shower in the home of Mrs. A. W. Hunt, 626 Tulane. Approximately 50 guests called between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Receiving guests with Mrs. Hunt and the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Wayne Vaughn, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Raleigh Rutledge.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. Rex Baggett, Mrs. J. H. Fryar, Mrs. Edward Cruz, Mrs. S. A. Walker, Mrs. W. S. Goodlett, Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. Knox Chadd, Mrs. Rube McNew, Mrs. Luther Bean, Mrs. Arnold Marshall, Mrs. Joe Peay, Mrs. Bert Shive, Mrs. Felix Jarrett and Mrs. Wayne Gound.

The honoree's colors of turquoise and white were used in decorations. The table was covered with a turquoise cutwork cloth and centered with a crystal compote holding aqua, turquoise and white carnations. White tapers in crystal holders flanked the arrangement, and appointments were of silver and crystal.

On the gift table, an arrangement of white irises and roses were placed in a pedestal milk glass container, and irises and roses were used in bouquets throughout the entertaining area.

NCO Wives Select New Committee

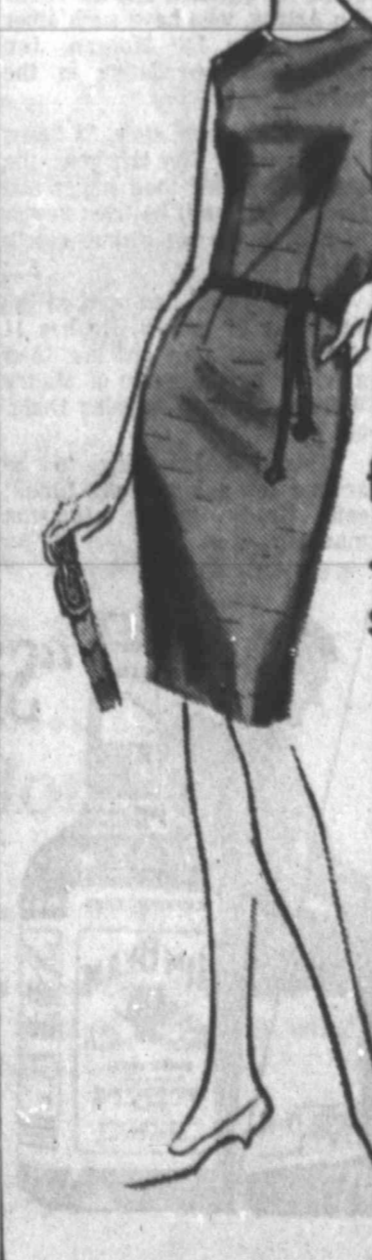

A nominating committee was selected during the Tuesday evening meeting of the NCO Wives Club at the NCO Open Mess at Webb AFB.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The 1966 Big Spring Steers will again make use of the flip-flop offense and will lean a lot less on the run and more on the pass.

The Steers are now in the first week of their workouts and coach Don Robbins, usually a dour individual who has been known to look for worms in manna, finds it hard to conceal his enthusiasm over his crop of incoming sophomores.

Right now, it appears that Gary (Red) Rogers will run the team from the quarterback's position but if Rogers' running gear improves he could be moved to halfback and crafty Richard Cauley could be installed there. Rogers underwent surgery on his ankle following last season and is still favoring the limb.

Much depends upon Robert Jackson, David Holmes and Kirby Horton, who will man the linebacking positions on defense. If they come along according to plan, the Steers will again be salty on defense.

Sophomore-like halfback Kenneth Barfield (Goliad), tackle Mike Bridges (Runnels), fullback Ronnie Broadrick (Goliad), quarterback Kenny Brown (Goliad), guard Gary Crane (Goliad), tackle Cliff Cook (Goliad), halfback Robert Domino (Runnels), quarterback Ford Farris (Goliad), end Luvien Flores (Runnels), guard Johnny Hedges (Runnels), end Larry Newton (Runnels), quarterback Johnny Patton (Runnels), halfback Claud Tucker (Runnels), halfback Gary Walling (Goliad) and fullback Steve Russell (Goliad) are among boys you'll likely be hearing a great deal about in future seasons here.

Of course, they are but a few of the young men coming in from the two junior highs who will be contending for varsity jobs.

Charles Christmas, ACC's great miler who appeared against HCJC here as a freshman, runs 70 miles daily to stay in the peak of condition.

New president of the La Mesa Race Track at Raton, N. M., this year is Eric N. Culver, a resident of Matagorda County, Texas, who attended Texas A&M. Culver has been engaged in ranching, rice-farming and real estate in his home county. His family has been engaged in the ranching business in that area for several generations. His great-grandfather was one of the early settlers in Matagorda.

His racing interests had his biggest success two years ago when his Tusto Parr earned over $100,000 and was named American Quarter Horse Champion Running Colt of the Year.

The American Business Club here is firming up plans to stage at least three professional wrestling shows here, with all proceeds over and above expenses due to go to club charities.

The matches, if they take place, would be out-of-doors, possibly in the amphitheater at the city park. Pat O'Dowdy, the former Big Spring wrestler who now resides in Odessa, would actually promote the shows under the aegis of the Ambucos.

Efforts will be made to bring in such well-known grapplers as Wahoo McDaniel and Ernie Ladd, if the matches do take place. Pro football fans, of course, will recognize those names immediately.

One of the entries in the Houston Golf Classic the past week who was not among the top ten money winners on the circuit last year says he paid income tax on earnings totaling $156,000 in 1965.

The loot the pro-linksters pick up along the tournament trail is only a part of the ice-berg of money the athletes tap. Some of the golfers do so well in endeavors away from the course they figure they're losing money by playing in the tournaments.

Nicklaus Ties Four For Lead

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Sponsors of the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tourney deliberately forgot to look at their calendar today — a Friday the 13th — and hoped the rash of canceled rounds on the 1966 tour wouldn't continue here.

The weatherman said there was a 30 per cent possibility for rain.

Despite a heavy shower Thursday which halted play in the morning for 34 minutes, the first round went over with a bang as Jack Nicklaus and four others tied for the lead with four-under-par 68s.

Champagne Tony Lama, who said he had "probably the best round I've played in six months," joined Nicklaus in the cluster at the top along with Bob Goalby, Frank Beard and Charles Coody.

Luck Runs Out For Yankees

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Ralph Houk got his way, and his first loss.

Unbeaten during a stretch of three games and two rainouts since being reinstated as New York manager, Houk wanted Thursday night's weather-threatened game at Minnesota to be played in an attempt to maintain the Yankees' momentum.

But the Yankees ran out of momentum when they ran into Jim Merritt, and went down 4-3, the first loss since Houk replaced Johnny Keane and masterminded the streak that swept the Yankees out of last place into ninth.

It was cold and windy before the game and Twins' owner Cal Griffith talked to Houk about a postponement until the day after the All-Star Game. Houk vetoed the idea because it would deprive the Yankees of a three-day rest period.

And there was the Yankees' momentum to consider, following two straight postponements.

So the game went on. The only thing that rained was hits. The Yankees collected 11, but only one after Merritt came on in the sixth inning and cut off a Yankee rally.

On the other end of the standings, Chicago and Baltimore also played in poor weather, the White Sox defeating the Orioles 5-3 despite a constant drizzle. In the only other game played Washington downed California 4-2.

The Twins packed eight singles and their four runs into the third and fourth innings with Earl Battey and Cesar Tovar each collecting a pair of hits.

The White Sox-Orleans game was marred by the rain which contributed to seven errors, five by the White Sox. There also were 10 walks and three wild pitches.

Don Buford did most of the damage for the White Sox, triggering three rallies with a single, double and triple.

HANDICAP PARTNERSHIP MEET STARTS MAY 28 AT C. CLUB

The Big Spring Country Club will be the scene Saturday and Sunday, May 28-29, of a city-wide Thunderbird Handicap Partnership Golf Tournament.

The rewards could be lucrative. Any player who beats the Thunderbird Open champion's first 36-hole score gets his name entered in a drawing for a 1966 Thunderbird Landau automobile.

In addition, any player scoring a hole-in-one on the fourth hole (championship yardage — 190 yards, front tee yardage — 147 yards) automatically wins a 1966 Thunderbird.

Play will be over 36 holes — 18 each day. Entry fee will be $5 per player. Teams will consist of one player boasting a handicap of ten strokes and under and another with a handicap of 11 shots and over.

Director of the tournament will be O. S. (Red) Womack. The sweepstakes drawing will take place after the finish of the Thunderbird Classic in August.

The match between Webb AFB and Country Club golfers, postponed recently due to inclement weather, has been rescheduled Saturday, May 21.

HC Athletes Are Honored By Kiwanians

Kiwanis Club of Big Spring, following its annual custom, Thursday paid honor to the girls and boys of the Howard County Junior College tennis, basketball and volleyball teams.

Marsanette Cox, Jayton, sophomore, was awarded a trophy as the outstanding tennis player for the girls of the school. Joe Bagby, Edens, a freshman, and A. J. Pirkie, Big Spring, a sophomore, were tied for the honors of being the college's best tennis player and each received a trophy.

Miss Anna Smith, coach of the teams, was presented with a corsage of red rose buds. Jim Thompson, chairman of the boys and girls work committee, made the presentation. Twenty-two of the college tennis, basketball and volleyball players were on hand and were introduced to the club. They were luncheon guests of the Kiwanis.

Pat C. Jones, a freshman from Ira, was spokesman for the girls and thanked the club for the luncheon and for the continuing support that the club has accorded HCJC athletics. A. J. Pirkie spoke for the boys and praised the tennis courts at the college which were provided through efforts of the Kiwanians.

Contradiction Cited In Case

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The chairman of Cassius Clay's local draft board says his interpretation of Muslim law contradicts the heavyweight champion's claim that serving in the armed forces would go against his religion.

The contradiction, J. Allen Sherman said Thursday, caused the rejection of one appeal made by Clay of his I-A draft status.

The other appeal, in which Clay said induction in military service would present a hardship, also was rejected by Local Board 47 in Louisville, Sherman said.

Edward Jacko Jr., Clay attorney in New York, said, "The appeal is predicted mostly on hardship, because the hardship exists at this time."
But he said there are "eight or nine grounds for the appeal, including conscientious objection." Jacko didn't elaborate on the others.

Gordie Howe Is Again Honored

MONTREAL (AP) — Gordie Howe, Detroit's indestructible right winger, owns still another National Hockey League record today after being named to the circuit's first All-Star team for the ninth time.

Howe, 38 years old and the league's career goal-scoring leader with 624, collected 160 points in the balloting by writers and broadcasters in the NHL's six cities released Thursday.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal had previously shared the mark of eight first-team All-Star selections.

Howe, who has played big league hockey for a record 20 seasons, was the only Red Wings' player chosen for the first team. The Chicago Black Hawks placed four players, left winger Bobby Hull, center Stan Mikita, defenseman Pierre Pilote and goalie Glenn Hall. Jacques Laperriere, Canadiens' defenseman, also was selected.

There was no immediate comment from the Clay camp on the offer.

Clay took a day off from sparring Thursday, concentrating on leg work and shadow boxing at speed in preparation for his title defense against Britain's Henry Cooper at the Arsenal soccer stadium May 21.

Clay Is Offered Part In Film

LONDON (AP) — Cassius Clay got a film offer today — but it wasn't very flattering.

The world heavyweight champion was invited to play the part of a vampire in a new British horror film now being made near London. The film already has former world middleweight champion Terry Downes playing in it. He stars as a hunchback.

There was no immediate comment from the Clay camp on the offer.

Clay took a day off from sparring Thursday, concentrating on leg work and shadow boxing at speed in preparation for his title defense against Britain's Henry Cooper at the Arsenal soccer stadium May 21.

At 'School Round-Up' Thursday

Elementary schools in the Big Spring Public School system conducted orientation for youngsters who will be starting school in the fall and their parents. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

Beginner Orientation Has Good Response At Schools

Approximately 275 adults and 250 children turned out Thursday for orientation to the first grades in the Big Spring public schools. In addition, another 150 youngsters were oriented in the Head Start program. According to Dr. C. L. Almsworth, director of instructional services, the orientation was held to provide parents and children answers to questions about the first grade, school policies and regulations and classroom teachers.

A breakdown of attendance of youngsters was: Airport, 23; Boydston, 19; Cedar Crest, 22; College Heights, 34; Gay Hill, 40; Kentwood, 29; Marcy, 40; Park Hill, 18; and Washington Place, 53. Approximately 150 youngsters involved in the Head Start program were greeted at Kate Morrison School. Dr. Almsworth said that he

More Cold Air Is Coming

Wet and cloudy weather covered most of the eastern half of the nation today and a fresh surge of cold air from Canada headed into the Northern Plains.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said no immediate relief was indicated from spring's wet and unseasonable cold in the Midwest.

The bureau said the outlook into the middle of next week was for temperatures below normal for all of the nation except for most of Florida.

Heavy precipitation appeared in prospect from the Northern and Central Plains to the Atlantic Coast.

Thunderstorms and heavy rain swept areas in the South during Thursday night. A hail storm pelted sections east of Memphis, Tenn., and hail also peppered Red Bank, Miss., during a thunderstorm.

Fairly heavy rain doused parts of Alabama and Georgia, including nearly one inch in six hours at Macon, Athens and Atlanta. A funnel cloud was sighted south of Athens.

To Be Critical HONOLULU (AP)—Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, expects the next few months to be critical in the war there, but that "the war will be over in a matter of months."

BSSH Doctors Present Paper Two Big Spring State Hospital doctors are in Atlantic City, N. J., today, to present a paper to the American Psychiatric Association Convention.

Dr. Sam Pieper, head of medical and neurological services, and Dr. Joan Woods, chief of psychiatric services, were to present the paper, entitled "Basic Psychiatric Literature As Determined From the Recommended Reading Lists of Residency Training Programs." The two collaborated on the paper with Dr. Shervert Frazier, state commissioner of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Teachers Honored For Long Tenure

Thirty-seven teachers were cited for years of service to the Big Spring Public Schools at the annual banquet of the local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association Thursday night at the Couden Country Club. Ap proximately 250 teachers and their guests attended. Mrs. Beta Weeg received a 25-year service pin, highest award of the evening. Honored for 20 years' service were Mrs. Calla Perkins, Mrs. Mary Rush, Mrs. Lois Singleton and Mrs. Erma Steward. In addition, 12 teachers received 15-year pins, and 11 teachers received 10-year pins.

Fins were presented by Sam Anderson, superintendent of schools, and Joe A. Moss, school board president. A tribute to retiring teachers was given by Mrs. Elfa Cantrell, president. Classroom Teachers Association, in honor of Mrs. Nan Alexander, Mrs. Lavada Brownrigg, Mrs. Matie Clay, Mrs. Myrtle Heaton, Mrs. Amabel Lovelace, Miss Grace Mann, E. S. (Pat) Murphy, Miss Clara Secret and M. R. Turner.

The organization voted to grant a scholarship for a student to attend Howard County Junior College during the 1966-67 term. Special music for the evening was provided by Gene Adkins, Hubert Murphy and Don Turner.

Police Checking On Missing Funds About $140 in a blue bank bag was taken from Cowboy's Liquor Store, 4205 US 80 west Wednesday night. Mrs. Robert Huff told officers Thursday. She said her husband had telephoned her from the store at about 9 p.m. When she attempted to call him back, she got no answer, so she went to the store where she said she found Huff unconscious and the money gone.

Detective Sherrill Farmer said today he talked with Huff twice, but that Huff did not remember what happened. Farmer said the Huff's were operating the store while the owners were on vacation.

Asks Support For Engineer

Under the law we are required to have a county engineer in charge of the county road department. The people have elected this plan twice and still do not have it because the Commissioners Court has not filled the vacancy that has existed several years.

Lard knows we need an engineer. It would result in having a more efficient road department. Private road working would not be done under an engineer. It is not legal to use county road machinery to maintain private roads; this fund is supposed to be for county roads only.

It would be good if the people would interrogate the candidates for county commissioner and get a commitment that, if elected, they would co-operate to hire a county engineer as required by law.

Beware of any candidate that will not agree to hire an engineer and then work with him. If he gives a vague answer he is not likely to be of any help.

Keep in mind the current budget for the road department is more than $350,000 for 1966. We need a professionally trained man to head the road department. Let's elect county commissioners that are big enough to follow the law for the benefit of Howard County.

Respectfully submitted, G. E. (Red) GILLIAM 1914 Rumlens

IT'S LIKE THE OLD, OLD WEST Sheriff A. N. Standard and his deputies are on the lookout for horse rustlers.

Two horses were stolen Thursday, and their owners have asked the sheriff to help locate the animals.

One of the lost horses was owned by W. A. Allen. It is a three-year-old mare taken from the riding stables west of town. The second was taken from a pasture near by and is a 12-year-old stallion owned by L. A. King.

The sheriff said that his deputies have clues as to the identity of a suspect.

Collision Report

One traffic accident early this morning and two Thursday injured no one involved, officers said today.

This morning, the cars of Kenneth M. Bell, Ponderosa Apartments, and Danny Herschel Petty, 1110 Wood, were in collision in the 200 block of East Third.

Thursday accidents involved the stopped car of Jack Warren Johnson, 804 Andree, and the car of Leonard Andrew Weiss, Ordway, Colo., at Twenty-Third and Gregg; and the cars of Sam Paul Jones, 1206 Sycamore, and Donald Keith Howard, Star Road, Lemora, at Third and Johnson.

LBJ Visits Viet Vets In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I'm in good shape," Maj. Boyd D. Parsons told President Johnson. "There's no problem at all. I'm ready to go back."

Parsons, 43, of Poca, W.Va., lost one eye and part of the other in South Viet Nam. He and three other wounded veterans of the war in Viet Nam were personally awarded Purple Hearts by Johnson Thursday.

The brief ceremony came in the midst of a two-hour tour Johnson, accompanied by daughter Luci, made of Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The President saw 45 enlisted men, many of whom had lost arms or legs in Viet Nam, and a dozen more officers.

Before seeing the veterans, Johnson privately visited two hospitalized Republicans — former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, who Tuesday.

Eisenhower is undergoing tests and being treated for arthritic pains in the wrist, a hospital spokesman said.

Besides Parsons, Johnson awarded Purple Hearts to Capt. Frederick W. Straub, 38, a Roman Catholic chaplain from Rochester, N.Y.; Staff Sgt. Douglas D. Harlow, 39, Harrisonburg, Va.; and Pfc. Antonio Dell'osso, 23, Newark, N.J.

Kiwanians Are Busy Bean Pickin', Wood Gathering

Cleaning of 300 pounds of beans is under way this afternoon at the Texas Electric Service Co. building. Doing the "picking" are members of the Big Spring Kiwanis club.

The beans, once they are relieved of the miscellaneous chaff, will be a part of the big rodeo barbecue menu the Kiwanis will cook and serve next Wednesday evening.

The beans will be joined by 1,600 pounds of choice beef, a small mountain of onions, a pile of pickles, a snowdrift of bread, an ocean of iced tea and an island of potato chips.

Bill Jay, general barbecue committee chairman, warned that the profit the barbecue may make for the club depends on how vigorously the Kiwanians push advance ticket sales.

He said that he had been able to acquire excellent meat for the barbecue.

The Kiwanis club annually sponsors these barbecues on the opening night of the annual Howard County Rodeo. It has a deal with the Howard County Rodeo Association to feed the association's special guests (the riding clubs, sheriff posse and other groups) who take part in the opening day parade. At the same time the Kiwanians offer the barbecue dinner to the public. The price is $1.

Quality of the barbecue served in the past has made many friends for the event. Tickets are being sold by all Kiwanis club members and can be obtained at the City Park where the public will be served from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday.

A committee on wood gathering will wind up its work today and the fires will be lighted next Tuesday evening. The barbecue will be put on the fire and cooked throughout Tuesday night and Wednesday.

A number of Kiwanians will be on duty from 5 p.m. Tuesday or until the serving is started. Clyde Hollingsworth, president of the club, urged the public at large to take part in the big event. He said there would be plenty of time to eat and get to the rodeo.

DEAR ABBY

Hubby's Habits Meant To Bug

DEAR ABBY: When my husband eats an apple, it sounds like someone were using a plumber's helper. On other occasions you would swear that Clyde was inhaling food, plate and all. I could climb the walls. He has other "at home" habits which are equally revolting. The point is, they are all for me. When we have company, Clyde is a perfect gentleman with model manners and the most considerate behavior. His explanation: "A man may do whatever he feels like doing in his own home." What would you think of a skillet placed firmly on the back of his head? My lips must remain sealed, but my hands are getting itchy. CLYDE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If his "habits" disappear when company comes, they are not really habits—they are nasty little acts intended to torment you. Ask Clyde why he feels the need to punish you. If he doesn't know, suggest he see a headshrinker and find out. If he refuses, but persists in his disgusting behavior, try the skillet.

DEAR ABBY: At this school where I go, there is a certain group of kids, and if you don't belong to this group, you might as well be dead. How can I get in with this group? My mother keeps telling me there is nothing wrong with me, but it still bothers me. "NOT IN"

DEAR NOT: I can't think of a bigger waste of time and energy than trying to "get in" with a group of kids that apparently has no interest in you. Strive to do well in your studies. Always be as well-groomed as possible. Smile more, frown less, and do not gossip. Be friendly, but not forward, and be content to make friends one at a time. And if you have ONE worthwhile friend, consider yourself lucky.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 19. For the last six months he has been running around with a woman who is 22 and has two small children. She still lives with her husband, who apparently doesn't care what she does because he babysits with the kids while she runs around. We tried to reason with our boy, but it did no good. He knows she's a tramp, but it doesn't matter. She drives by the house at all hours, toots the horn and he runs out and goes off with her. We love our son, Abby. He's

Get Ready For Boredom

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television gave viewers with access to three network channels Thursday night a choice among 14 programs. Ten of them were reruns.

Tonight there will be 16 shows — and 14 will be reruns. The networks are starting their summer sestas—and the viewers who elect to keep their sets turned on are likely to be bored stiff.

For the past couple of seasons, the early evening schedules of all three networks have been filled with programs classified as family shows. That means programs primarily made for children but with just enough extra in them so that parents will stick around, if only for a later program.

Thus, shows like "Batman," "Daniel Boone," "Gidget," and "Gilligan's Island"—all showing repeats Thursday night—may have millions of children and patient adults looking in the first time.

But it is a rare adult who can enjoy Gidget's girlish adventures a second time around without stirring restlessly.

The television system almost requires the viewer to sample network wares when the new shows come on in September and, by the end of October, harden his choices into viewing habits.

Reruns are not all bad. If you have been watching "CBS Reports" on Tuesday nights, warm weather is a good time to catch up with "The Fugitive" on at the same time. If you have seen all the "I Spy" programs, a few Wednesday nights with Danny Kaye will prove enjoyable. But all that is in the late evening, reserved for the more adult shows. But even there, older viewers often complain that programs between 10 and 11 are too late for working people who must arise early.
