Spraying Concrete.

Workmen spray concrete (gunite) inside the city park swimming pool Monday. The concrete covers plastic pipe which carries chlorine to outlets in the floor of the pool, which is being completely refurbished by the city. The filtration system has been finished, and all that remains is painting the pool and putting the finishing touches on the inside paint job at the pool building and restrooms, according to Johnny Johansen, parks superintendent. Target date for finishing work is the end of this week. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

Primary Balloting On In Four States

Even as Oregonians voted today in their primary, a Senate supporter of President Johnson's Viet Nam policy said the Democratic balloting, there does not amount to a referendum on Viet Nam — despite the general view to the contrary.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., acknowledged in an interview that the Viet Nam issue has some bearing but added local issues also were involved in the contest for the Democratic Senate nomination.

In any case, he said, it is unlikely any clear-cut indication of sentiment on the President's course in Southeast Asia would come out of the balloting.

OTHER PRIMARIES

In addition to Oregon, primaries are being held today in Florida, Oklahoma and Kentucky.

But national attention has centered on Oregon because Howard Morgan, 52, a former federal power commissioner, is a critic of the Viet Nam war and his primary opponent, Rep. Robert B. Duncan, 45, supports the President.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., another sharp administration critic, has strongly endorsed Morgan.

In any event, the winning candidate is assured of a tough election campaign this fall. Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, the prospective Republican Senate nominee, faces only nominal primary opposition in today's election.

Business Hopes, Omens Watched

NEW YORK (AP) — In jittery activity assured for most durable goods makers for weeks and even months ahead.

Further reassurance to optimists can be found in last year's performance of the durable good orders as a direction pointer. In 1965 orders turned down on three occasions, only to recover quickly and climb to new highs.

And a pause now in new orders might be welcomed by government economists because it could relieve pressure for higher prices of some industrial materials that have been getting tighter supply. It was the long rise in new orders and backlogs that get much of the blame for price hikes in recent months in metals and other factory supplies.

Primary candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Oregon are State Treasurer Robert Straub and State Sen. Ben Musa. Republican candidates are Secretary of State Tom McCall and John L. Reynolds.

Meanwhile Kenneth R. Harding, executive director of the Democratic Congressional Committee, said in an interview his party faces an uphill fight in November but predicted a surprisingly large number of the bumper crop of 72 freshmen Democrats in the House will be re-elected in November.

Republicans have repeatedly predicted House gains ranging from 30 to 60 seats in November.

Texas Sections Victimized By Destructive Tornadoes

Destructive tornadoes and thunderstorms whaled away at parts of Texas again Monday evening, and still more unsettled weather was in prospect today.

One twister slashed into Wolfe City, 17 miles north of Greenville, to wreck two homes, damage at least eight others and injure five persons. It also knocked down power and telephone lines, creating havoc for a time.

Halfway across the state to the south in San Antonio, a raging thunderstorm unroofed a department store in the Wonderland Shopping Center and a telephone company exchange. Other buildings suffered heavily, mostly in the northwest part of the city.

WRECKS COTTAGE

What was described as a baby tornado dipped down five miles south of Winnboro in far Northeast Texas and wrecked a cottage at Lake Winnboro. There was no report of other damage in the area.

Turbulence churned up across a wide sector as the latest cool front edged southward across the state. By early this morning it had progressed as far as a line linking Texarkana, Junction and Wink.

Hail pelted several points during brisk showers or thunderstorms, which capped a steamy day. Top temperatures Monday hit 107 degrees at Presidio, 103 at Junction and San Angelo, 102 at Laredo and 100 at Abilene, Mineral Wells and Wink.

BLACK CLOUD

At De Soto, just south of Dallas, a cloud described as a "black ball of smoke," accompanied by a roaring sound like a freight train, caused damage to farm buildings estimated up to $15,000.

Two De Soto city officials said they saw the "ball of smoke"

WEATHER WARNING FOR AREA

Tornadoes which injured residents and damaged homes struck parts of Texas Monday and new damaging weather was forecast for the state today.

The Weather Bureau issued a severe thunderstorm bulletin for parts of West Texas to remain in effect from 3 to 9 p.m. today.

The agency said the storms may include large hail and damaging winds.

The area is in a portion of West Texas from Midland to 50 miles east northeast of Junction and 60 miles on each side of that line.

Larger cities in the area are Midland, Big Spring and San Angelo.

Hanoi Target Of U.S. Pilots' Mock Protest

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — They call it "Dodge City." American pilots pin that label on Hanoi in mock protest against the policy decision that keeps them from attacking the North Vietnamese citadel.

Since regular raids on the Communist North began 15 months ago, American fliers have edged toward Hanoi and its port, Haiphong, pouring in increasingly larger loads of explosives around them.

The supersonic jets could hardly come any closer without hitting the cities themselves. They've plastered missile sites 15 miles from Hanoi and 12 miles from Haiphong, a power plant 14 miles from Haiphong and highway and railroad bridges only a few miles more distant.

HOUSE SEATS

Nominations for House seats also are being made in Kentucky and Oregon. And Oregon also nominates candidates for governor.

Primary candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Oregon are State Treasurer Robert Straub and State Sen. Ben Musa. Republican candidates are Secretary of State Tom McCall and John L. Reynolds.

Meanwhile Kenneth R. Harding, executive director of the Democratic Congressional Committee, said in an interview his party faces an uphill fight in November but predicted a surprisingly large number of the bumper crop of 72 freshmen Democrats in the House will be re-elected in November.

Republicans have repeatedly predicted House gains ranging from 30 to 60 seats in November.

MINIMUM WAGE

Pay Bill Debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House opens debate today on a bill to raise the federal minimum wage in two steps to $1.60 and extend its coverage to 7.2 million more employees, including nearly a half million farm workers.

Opponents warn inflation and unemployment could result from the bill, which would increase the present $1.25 an hour minimum to $1.60 by Feb. 1, 1968. There would be an interim increase to $1.40 next Feb. 1.

FARM WORKERS

In one of the most controversial sections of the bill, farm workers would be included at $1 an hour next Feb. 1, and get two annual 15-cent raises to $1.30 by Feb. 1, 1969. The other newly covered workers would start at the same level but get additional 15-cent raises to $1.60 by 1971.

Passage of a bill in some form is regarded as certain, but several attempts are expected to trim both the wage increase and the coverage. No votes are expected before Wednesday.

Chief target of members from rural areas is the proposal to bring farm workers under the Fair Labor Standards Act for the first time.

SEVEN EMPLOYEES

The bill is aimed at farming operations with at least seven full-time employees. The House Education and Labor Committee says this would affect 485,000 employees, or 39 per cent of the nation's farm workers, but only 1.6 per cent of the farms.

Other proposals that drew opposition during the year the committee worked on the bill would call for the coverage of tipped employees in restaurants, bring smaller retail and service establishments under the act and require overtime in canneries.

In its proposed new coverage the bill exceeds the 4.2 million additional workers recommended by the administration. The administration did not ask for coverage of farm workers.

Auto Market Turns Peppier

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors car sales reports due today were expected to provide the final clue as to whether the auto industry had shaken its early May sales slump.

Preliminary figures from Chrysler, Ford and American Motors Monday indicated the new-car market was much peppier May 11-20 than it was in the first 10 days of the month. It still was below the May 1-10 pace of last year.

The three smaller auto firms sold 110,628 autos in the second 10 days of May compared with 87,194 in the opening period. The gain of approximately 23,400 cars was due in part to the fact that the period just ended had nine selling days, one more than in the May 1-10 period.

Some industry sources were a bit unhappy that mid-May sales ran better than 6,000 units behind the selling pace of the corresponding period last year.

Ford Division and Dodge Division had strong sales reports this time.

Donald N. Frey, Ford Division general manager and Ford vice president, said the division's new car sales set a record high for the third 10-day period in succession.

Ford Motor Co. was the only auto firm to post a gain in early May sales but the question of whether it could hold that honor rested on sales report due from its Lincoln-Mercury Division today.

Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry publication, did some sales projections and came up with an estimate that industry sales for the 10 days just ended would run about 245,048, compared with 193,438 cars sold in the opening 10 days of May.

Ward's estimate was well below the 278,303 sales chalked up in the mid-May period last year.

Another automotive publication, Automotive News, reported new car inventory — cars in dealer hands or en route to them topped the 1.6 million mark in mid-May for the first time.

American Motors had a fairly strong second 10 days as it sold 7,245 new cars, an increase over the 5,750 sold May 1-10. In comparison with mid-May, 1965, the picture was not as bright, for AMC sold 11,933 in those 10 days last year.

First Break Reported In Rebel Front

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The break in the ranks of the opposition to Premier Nguyen Cao Ky widened further today as the commander of the mutinous 1st Vietnamese Division in the Buddhist stronghold of Hue reportedly pledged his allegiance to Ky.

Defense Ministry sources said Brig. Gen. Pham Xuan Nguan wired Ky saying he was giving up his opposition. It was not clear immediately whether he also spoke for the troops he commands. The 1st Division provides the military backbone of the opposition in the northern city.

FIRST BREAK

It was the first break in the rebel front in Hue, the remaining stronghold of opposition to the premier.

Heartened by its victory over other rebels in Da Nang, the military regime exhibited little outward concern over the continuing dissidence in Hue, 50 miles northwest of Da Nang.

U.S. officials continued their backstage diplomatic role with contacts with the main figures in Hue, Thich Tri Quang and Gens. Nguyen Chanh Thi and Ton That Dinh, successively fired by Ky as commander of the army's northernmost 1st Corps.

Ky's ruling junta showed its confidence also by assembling 1,000 civilian and army representatives at a political congress in Saigon to reaffirm its power. Buddhists boycotted the meeting.

ELECTION PLEDGE

With U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in the audience, the military chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, said once more the regime would carry out its promise of elections this fall for a constitutional convention. He added that the 10-man junta was considering a proposal to add five civilians to its membership.

While Ky defended his military action against Da Nang as essential to preserve the nation, 400 Buddhist demonstrators marched peacefully before the guarded U.S. Embassy to protest the crushing of the Da Nang revolt. The marchers included 150 robed monks.

U.S. B52s from Guam spearheaded the war against the Communists today by plastering a suspected enemy troop concentration of about 350 men 35 miles west of the South Vietnamese coastal city of Quang Ngai, but monsoon rains again curbed American attacks against North Viet Nam. Navy planes flew 32 missions and the Air Force only one.

SCATTERED FIGHTING

On the ground, the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Alamo, Division reported killing 17 more Viet Cong in scattered actions in the central highlands, while the U.S. Marines claimed 28 killed around Da Nang and Phu Bai. U.S. 25th Infantry division patrols reported killing nine guerrillas 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

Rather than a direct troop move like the one against Da Nang, the government appeared to be planning to cut off Hue from the rest of the country to starve out the dissidents. Loyal troops held positions around the old imperial capital.

Absentee Voting For 2nd Primary Opens Wednesday

Absentee voting for the June 4 second primary opens Wednesday in the office of Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk.

Mrs. Petty said that ballots for the election had not reached her office Tuesday morning, but that she expected them during the day.

Absentee voting for the runoff primary is sharply limited in time. The deadline is May 31. This means, after counting out the Saturday and the Memorial Day holiday, there are only four days in which such votes can be cast.

The ballot for the second primary will be extremely brief. For many boxes only one race will be listed — that of attorney general for the state. In the other county voting boxes the attorney general contest and the contest for county commissioner for the respective commissioners precincts are to be decided.

Another Earthquake Jars Central Asia City

MOSCOW (AP) — Another strong earthquake hit the quake-battered central Asian city of Tashkent today, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Tass said the tremor was nearly as strong as the one that did extensive damage to Tashkent April 26. It measured about seven points on the Soviet 12-point earthquake scale.

Three lesser tremors struck Tashkent later in the day, Tass reported.

According to the information on hand, a number of buildings of the old type have been damaged in the city, Tass said.

First aid stations sent medical help to the districts where the soil was most severely rocked.

The April 26 earthquake in Tashkent, a city of one million population, measured 7.5 points on the Russian scale. It was followed by more than 300 lesser tremors.

The official press eventually reported eight persons killed in the first quake, more than 1,000 injured and more than 100,000 homeless.

Western correspondents were not allowed to visit the city, and they and Western diplomats in Moscow doubted that only eight persons were killed.

Millionaire's Will On File For Probate

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Under a 24-page will to be probated next week, half the estate of the late millionaire J. S. Bridwell will go to a foundation and the rest divided into 18 trusts.

Bridwell, a Wichita Falls rancher and oil man, died earlier this month.

His will, signed May 7, 1960, puts no value on the estate. As principal assets it lists three-fourths of the Bridwell Oil Co., Bridwell Hereford Ranch, Bridwell Plantations and the Bridwell Ranch West in Deaf Smith and Oldham counties.

A daughter, Mrs. Margaret B. Bowdle, owns the other one-quarter of these properties.

The foundation to be established with half the estate shall bear Bridwell's name, the will directs.

Trustees are to divide the rest of the estate into 18 trusts—seven for his grandchildren, two for his daughters, and one paying $100 a month to two brothers, the widow of another brother and the "widow of my late father" as long as they live.

Also, under the 10th trust, five nephews will receive a total of $70,000 and a brother $10,000, while $25,000 each will go to two long-time employees, production manager A. T. Junk and office manager Clifford G. Tinsley.

Junk and Tinsley were named executors and trustees of the estate with Herbert B. Story, Wichita Falls accountant, and Ralph Sterling Bridwell of Abilene. The will calls for each to be paid $10,000 a year as an executor of the estate.

Vivid Memories Of School On River Bank Are Recalled

By JO ANN PHINIZY

The time was 1898-99 — years for the Spanish-American War, the Curie's discovery of radium, and a new school on the bank of the Colorado River in Borden County.

Two of the events turned world history — the third lives in the memory of all those who discovered their "three R's" in a one room school house.

Mrs. Ethel Morrow Everett, once a resident of Gall and now living in Fort Worth, is one of those who recall the fun of learning lessons from a teacher who knew just a little bit about everything.

The school became known as the Love School and was built by Sam Morrow and Tom Love, the first sheriff of Borden County.

The two families had "taken up" land south of Gall along the banks of the Colorado. They built their school on a location that is three-fourths of a mile from the old Mungar ranch headquarters; now on the Mar-tis Clayton ranch.

VIVID MEMORIES

Events and people surrounding the school remain vivid to Mrs. Everett.

"Everything about the school was important to us," she said, "and we had great admiration for our teachers and for the things they taught us."

Miss Ralph Atwood of Big Spring was the first teacher. She found her realm to be a cozy room with a low black-board at one end and desks and chairs to accommodate her five pupils.

On a bench by the door stood a bucket of fresh well water and a community dipper. It was a daily, sought-after, ritual to see who would have the assignment of keeping the bucket full.

"The boys always thought they were the only ones who could manage the well pulley," Mrs. Everett said. "And since we'd never heard of germs, we all drank from the same dipper."

During 1900 Miss Maude Nevel of Gall was the Love School teacher. It proved to be a unique winter for the five students.

RESOLVING A TIE

That was the year that Jack Rogers, "a fine gentleman bachelor," met and married a visiting seamstress, Miss Lucy Kincaid. Rogers solved a school dilemma that impressed the pupils.

A prize had been offered to the scholar having the highest grade in spelling. When the scores were totaled, all the children had excellent marks. Rogers volunteered to solve the problem by buying prizes for everyone.

Old Home

Shown is the original Tom Love home built in the late 1890's. The Love and the Sam Morrow children shared a school house located three-fourths of a mile west from the Love home. The original site of the school was on the banks of the Colorado, and was the only school in the area at the time.

Mrs. Everett received a "sparkling opal ring surrounded by tiny pearls." Other prizes were copies of "The Swiss Family Robinson," "Alice in Wonderland," "Black Beauty," and a stick pin with a ruby red setting.

The year 1900 was also when the Colorado River overran its banks making the school a wet and isolated island.

Shortly thereafter, the building was moved to a higher site some three miles from its original foundation.

MARKING A PATH

Mrs. Everett remembers that her father marked a path to the new school. He did this by tying a rope around a large rock and dragging it along behind his horse.

Mrs. Everett says that the scheme didn't work at all. No one ever followed the pre- explored path. Sometimes the Morrow children were late for school, sometimes they were early, but they always found their own trail and they knew every rock and bird and secret hiding place along the way.

Mrs. Cora Doyle was the first teacher in the relocated school house. The enrollment increased by three when the Johnnie Powell children became pupils.

"Miss Cora" was from Gall and later married Rex Cole. It was she who helped the children survive a dam-buster and gully-washer storm.

While the skies darkened with low and rumbling clouds, Miss Cora wrapped the children in all the clothes available and tucked each child under his desk. She cautioned them not to move until she called.

SHATTERING STORM

The storm's prelude was a wave of driving hail that crushed the roof and shattered the windows. A cloudburst followed, and water was inches deep on the school floor.

MRS. ETHEL M. EVERETT

The little school was once again repaired, and Mrs. Everett especially recalls the remainder of the year.

Miss Cora announced that the day's geography lesson would be outdoors. She took the children for walks along the river banks and explained each formation in glowing terms.

The hills and gullies became the terrain of the Alps; or she pointed to natural islands, isthmuses, peninsulas and bays. The river itself would suddenly turn into the Nile, the Amazon or the Mississippi.

And thus it was in the days before school consolidations and intelligence quotient exams. Those who attended country schools remember the time for the sheer delight in learning and in sharing their daily experiences with each other.

Japan Man Buys Ad For Peace Views

TOKYO (AP) — "I'm a little short of cash, but it is my duty to print what I believe," said a Tokyo merchant who paid $11,194 to spread his views on Viet Nam and world peace across two pages of the New York Times.

Morihito Matsuda's advertisement appeared in the Times Monday morning. He is negotiating for a three-page advertisement in the Times of London, which he said would cost him $15,555.

Matsuda, 45, operates an apartment house and a mail-order business which sells body-building equipment. His wife runs a dressmaking shop. They have two sons, one 2 years old, the other 9 months.

NOT AFTER GLORY

Matsuda denied he was seeking personal glory. "If people say I am, then let them," he said, "but it's not true."

Matsuda said he put his advertisement in the New York Times after Japanese newspapers refused it.

In it, Matsuda called on the U.S. government to set up 50 "paradises" in South Viet Nam for victims of the Vietnamese war. He said these rehabilitation centers would cost $10 billion.

"I believe the United States can afford it if the Viet Nam war stops and America cuts down on its defense spending," said Matsuda.

He said the advertisement he has submitted to the London Times appeals for "British influence on the United States to stop the war."

LIKES TO FISH

Describing himself as "uneducated and nameless," Matsuda said he has no political affiliation and is interested in fishing. He said he goes fishing "every day" and thought of his plan for peace in South Viet Nam "four or five years ago while fishing."

He proposed dividing South Viet Nam into two parts, the northern part ruled by a Viet Cong government and the southern part by the present South

Viet Nam government.

Sale Planned

A special promotional sidewalk sale will be discussed Friday at the 10 a.m. meeting of the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce in the chamber conference room. Oscar Glickman is chairman.

Severe Weather Hits U.S. Sectors

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms, high winds and scattered tornadoes slapped a large slice of the nation's mid-section late Monday and the Weather Bureau says more severe weather can be expected today.

Thunderstorms, sparked by a cold front stretching from upper Michigan to central Texas, splattered portions of the Great Lakes area and the Ohio River valley early this morning. Behind the cold front, cooler air spread southeastward into the north and central Plains.

Although dozens of violent storms and twisters were reported Monday, property damage appeared moderate and injuries were few.

FUNNEL CLOUDS

Funnel clouds touched down in Texas, Missouri, Illinois, and Iowa. For the most part, damage appeared limited to farms and rural communities.

Among areas hardest hit was Astoria in central Illinois, where authorities said a tornado severely damaged a grain elevator, houses, trees and power poles.

Civil Defense crews reported heavy damage in Murphysboro, Ill., where hail, high winds and heavy rains raked the countryside.

FOUR INJURED

Winds up to 70 miles an hour swept southeastern Wisconsin, and Madison recorded 3.57 inches of rain. Police reported one storm-related highway death. Four persons were slightly injured when winds ripped roofs off houses and bowled over out-buildings in the Watertown and Waukesha, Wis., areas.

At Cape Kennedy, Fla., high winds flipped two trailers, knocked in doors at rocket assembly buildings and inflicted minor injuries on six persons.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 35 at North Platte, Neb., to 85 at Laredo, Tex.

Indian Guide Longhouse Stages Lake Campout

The Y-Indian Guide Longhouse climaxed its activities for the year with a campout at Moss Creek Lake last weekend, with 62 boys and dads and several friends and relatives attending.

Eagle feathers were awarded to Sitting and Standing Chief (Chuck and Kenneth Condray) for service to the Longhouse during the year. The Comanche tribe, led by Chief Grey Wolf (Don Farley) was recognized for having the best campsite.

A devotional on Sunday morning, led by the Rev. Al Seddon, St. Paul Presbyterian Church, concluded the campout.

At the evening campfire coup-

Panels In Tussle Over CIA Issue

Elected

Walter R. Kock, of Austin, Tex., was elected president of the 4,000-member Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association during its 20th convention at Corpus Christi. He succeeds Malcolm D. Abel of Midland. (AP WIREPHOTO)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two powerful Senate committees — and their chairmen — embark today on a collision course over the Central Intelligence Agency.

At issue is a resolution to give Senate Foreign Relations Committee members a hand on the CIA rein — the Senate's strongest move in more than 10 years to revamp its supervision of the big intelligence agency. The Foreign Relations Committee approved the resolution 14 to 5 last week.

Leading the battle for the resolution is committee chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark. He plans to launch the drive today.

Leading the battle against it is Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee and head of the Senate's present CIA watchdog panel.

But there were signs Monday of behind-the-scenes negotiations aimed possibly at softening the impact of the collision.

With cloak and dagger secrecy Fulbright and Russell hustled from a Viet Nam briefing held by Secretary of State

Administration To Press For Repeal Of 14B

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told the nation's labor union editors the administration will continue its attempts to get congressional repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

"We will have to try again and try again we will," he told 150 editors of union labor publications at the White House Monday. The section permits states to outlaw union shop contracts.

The President also told the editors the United States must continue to help all Americans, especially "those who have the least."

ULTIMATE GOAL "We are no longer content in America with achieving only the greatest good for the greatest number," he said. "What we have done in the past in the service of our conscience is only a prologue to what should now be done in the service of our vision."

Johnson said it now is time to go on to new business, such as extending education beyond childhood, giving the worker a job that uses all his abilities, using human resources to full potential and correcting seasonal unemployment.

MEETS EDITORS Johnson met with the editors after a meeting with Democratic Senate and House leaders. He was accompanied by several House members, including Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., who said the United States should remain in Viet Nam.

Congress Passes Loan Shift Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has given President Johnson authority to shift $4.2 billion in government-held loans to private investors in the next year.

The Senate completed action on the measure Monday, voting 50 to 20 to accept minor House changes in an original Senate bill. In the showdown, 47 Democrats and 3 Republicans voted to clear the measure; 15 Republicans and 2 Democrats opposed it.

The House Ways and Means Committee began work today on a proposed new national debt ceiling. But its senior Republican member said congressional authorization to transfer the federal loans to private investors made any ceiling figure meaningless.

The Treasury asked Congress Monday to raise the limit of $332 billion. Congress must act by June 30 or the present ceiling of $328 billion will drop automatically to $285 billion. Congress so far has never failed to raise the ceiling.

REPUBLICAN'S STAND Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., said the committee would get no help from the GOP as it considered the request. Democrats "made the debt ceiling meaningless" by pushing through the loan transfer bill, he said.

"Let them worry about it," Byrnes said. "I don't see why we should vote for any particular new ceiling." He and other Republicans charged the authorization bill sent to President Johnson actually was another way of borrowing which would not figure in the debt total. Democrats replied that the legislation merely broadened a proposal made more than 10 years ago in the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The proceeds of the loan transfers would reduce appropriations and thus bring the administrative budget closer to balance. The interest cost on these loans is expected to be greater than straight Treasury borrowing.

In the past, Byrnes has fought for as low a debt ceiling as would permit the government to operate. He said the newly approved transfer technique could be expanded almost indefinitely to raise additional funds.

$10.9 BILLION The bill provides for the transfer of some $10.9 billion in government loans. The administration has said it intends to shift only $4.2 billion to investors next year.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Budget Director Charles L. Schultze told the committee Monday the deficit for the year ending June 30 would run $3.9 billion.

Tribes Seek Tourist City

LIVINGSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Commission on Indian Affairs is studying a preliminary budget of more than $2 million presented by the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation Monday for the development of a vast tourist project.

Dempse Henley, who heads the three-man commission that met Monday with the tribes at their reservation near this East Texas town, said the state legislature will be asked to grant half the requested amount.

Henley, mayor of Liberty, Tex., said the commission will study the budget in detail before it is presented to the State Budget Board in Austin and to the Economic Development Administration.

The $2,767,170 budget would go toward developing a tourist city at the 4,200-acre reservation employing 153 persons.

Included in the proposed budget are a 450-acre lake costing about $511,000; a $227,000 camping area with 20 cottages and camping shelters; a shopping center; a living Indian village, an amphitheater, a swimming pool and an arts and crafts factory employing Indians.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Those happy people, COL. and MRS. C. W. HEAD, who are presently stationed at Randolph AFB in San Antonio, were here over the weekend to say so long for a while to their many friends in Big Spring.

It's a new assignment for the Head family who will leave San Antonio as soon as school is out for a trip to the east where they will visit relatives before departing for Hickam AFB, Hawaii. Son Bill is at the Air Force Academy. Nancy has finished high school this year and Denise has completed her junior year while Cathy will start the ninth grade next fall. Nancy plans to enter the University of Hawaii when school starts again.

JEAN FANNIN and SUE FALKENBERRY plan to leave today for Durango, Colo., where they will be the guests of MR. and MRS. MILLER HARRIS. Both the young ladies worked in the library at Big Spring Senior High School when Mrs. Harris was librarian there.

MRS. GEORGE HALL returned Sunday night from a vacation trip to Baton Rouge, La. Mrs. Hall flew to Dallas where she joined her sister, MRS. LUCILLE STEERS, for an automobile trip to Louisiana and they were guests of MARGARET BENNETT BAUBIN, who lived here until her marriage several months ago. They also were delighted with a visit to a reconstructed plantation at St. Francisville out from Baton Rouge.

Here's hoping there are other art and ceramic shows for all of us to view like the one over the weekend at the Highland Shopping Center Mall. Not only did it attract many people from out of the city to our city but it gave many of us an insight in how ceramic hobbyists work and also we saw beautiful paintings by friends we had no idea could paint. We were impressed with both displays.

British Wives Play Golf Game

Mrs. George Adams was winner of the Monday evening miniature golf game played by members of the British Wives Club at Starlight Acres.

Following the game, members met at the home of Mrs. Marvin Nicely, 421 Westover, for a short business meeting. Mrs. Stanley Wheelock conducted the session and a report on the Saturday evening anniversary dinner at the Ramada Inn was discussed.

The next meeting will be June 27 at the home of Mrs. John Green.

1905 Hyperions Attend Picnic

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Beale, 112 Canyon, were hosts for the Monday evening picnic for the 1905 Hyperion Club. The covered dish dinner was served buffet-style from a wrought iron table on the patio. Twenty-eight members and guests were seated at quartet tables, and out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ewing Werlein and son of Houston.

Tells Date

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wagner, Corpus Christi, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann, to Fred Wayne Houston, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Houston. The couple is attending Texas Tech. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Stanton High School and attended Howard County Junior College. A LOVELIER YOU Dieting? Simply Say 'Pass The Potatoes'

By MARY SUE MILLER

It's not the potato, but the gravy, that's fattening. A medium-sized potato weighs in at a low 100 calories.

In fact improved reducing menus include at least three plain-cooked potatoes a week. But the idea of anything plain-cooked is seldom attractive to a dieter. If she relished simply prepared foods, it stands to reason she wouldn't gain so much weight.

Happily the potato, like most foods, can be prepared in ways that satisfy a demanding gourmet, yet without exceeding a dieter's calorie limits. For instance:

Potato Italiano. Bake and scoop-out a medium potato. Whip meal with 1 tablespoon Italian low-calorie dressing; return to shell and brown under broiler.

New Potatoes Parsley. Boil 12 tiny new potatoes in skin and drain well. Place 1 tablespoon salt and 1/4 cup chopped parsley in heavy brown paper bag; add potatoes and shake well. (3 potatoes to portion.)

Riced Potato. Put hot boiled potatoes through ricer. (1 potato per person.) Serve with bowl of fat-skimmed meat essence, very hot.

Herbed Potato Salad. Toss diced potatoes, while still warm, with dieter's herb dressing. (1 potato per person.) Just so — when it's not all gravy, a potato is so much gravy for a hungry dieter.

DEAR ABBY

Staying With The Piano

DEAR ABBY: Recently I read a letter in your column by someone complaining because the people next door punished their son whenever he misbehaved by making him practice extra time on the piano. Quite aside from the fact that this can be annoying to neighbors, it is the surest way I know to make a child hate music for the rest of his life. As a piano teacher I have always been under the impression that one studies music to find enjoyment in it.

Even kids who have practiced with tears in their eyes are glad their parents didn't permit them to quit when they wanted to.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine, married 41 years, has confided her problem to me, and I would like your opinion. Three years ago her husband had a stroke. At this time he revealed to her that he had a "secret" bank account with over $5,000 in it, which he had had for 20 years. His wife was shocked and felt that the only reason he told her about it was because he thought he was going to die.

Since that time my friend feels that her husband cannot be trusted. And if he'd never had that stroke, she never would have known about the money. What prompts a husband to do something like this?

A FRIEND DEAR FRIEND: Knowing nothing about your friend, her husband or their relationship, I can only urge this woman not to jump to any conclusions. Many husbands (and wives) have secret savings stashed away for the good of both. (Extravagance on the part of one or the other may make saving impossible.)

Dan Moody Rites Today

AUSTIN (AP)—Former Gov. Dan Moody, who won fame as a district attorney for his courtroom fights against the Ku Klux Klan and became Texas' youngest governor, was to be buried today in the State Cemetery.

Funeral services for Moody, who died Sunday at the age of 72, were scheduled for 2 p.m. in First Methodist Church here.

The former governor had been ill since 1961. He left active politics in 1931 after serving two terms as governor. Gov. John Connally ordered that all flags on Texas public buildings fly at half mast until Wednesday.

New Presidential Order Calls For A Wooden Spoon

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Get me a wooden spoon," commanded President Johnson. Deputy White House press secretary Robert H. Fleming was puzzled by the unusual order, but he did as told.

Fleming said he found out later that Johnson, using a metal spoon the night before to scrape some tapioca from a pan, had awakened his wife and had been scolded for raiding the ice box. He related the incident Monday to a group of labor editors.

How about reports of Johnson's quick temper? "He does speak up sharply, when irritated by something," Fleming said. But "there is no follow-up. He doesn't stay angry."

But Johnson expects his aides to match his pace. "I would like it if he had some hobbies to take up more of his time," Fleming said.

"There is a need for a union at the White House," Fleming said. "We need a five-night, 36-hour week so we can get that much sleep."

Idaho Bids For Stock Exchange

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—Noting the possible move of the New York Stock Exchange from New York City, the Greater Lewiston Chamber of Commerce has issued an invitation for it to move here.

Chamber directors said that when C. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, visited Lewiston two years ago, he termed views of the scenery and fishing in north central Idaho a "fantastic experience."

Three Cling To Box Four Days At Sea

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Three men who clung to a homemade wooden ice box for four and one-half days after their 65-foot yacht sank in the Gulf of Mexico reached shore Monday night aboard the Liberian motor vessel, Cape Marina.

Raymond Murphy, 46, owner of the yacht Sea Lark, and crewmen Bill Rogers, 38, and William Linn, 66, were rescued Monday afternoon after the first mate of the Cape Marina spotted Murphy waving his shirt from atop the bobbing 4-by-6 foot box.

The Cape Marina was the third ship sighted, and after the first two didn't stop the trio had all but give up hope, Murphy said.

"We kept drifting in circles," he said. "We wouldn't be here today except for that fishbox."

The Sea Lark, bound from New Orleans to Marathon, Fla., developed a leak early Thursday morning 61 miles off Dry Tortugas, a pinpoint of land 70 miles west of Key West.

Murphy said the 30-year-old yacht sank in less than half an hour apparently because several planks caved in as the yacht moved through a moderate swell at 10 knots.

"We just had time to dump the ice out of the fishbox and throw it overboard," Murphy said.

To bolster the buoyancy of the box — which was lined with plastic insulating foam — they lashed two 55-gallon drums alongside.

Pair Vying To Succeed De Gaulle

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle is riding firmly the seat of power, but still in the political wilderness his opposition is struggling to prepare for the day when he will step down.

There is little now to give the lie to De Gaulle's old prediction: "After me, a mess" — Apres moi, la pagaille.

Trying now to form ranks for the day when De Gaulle goes are two main groups with fuzzy-sounding names and even fuzier support. One is led by an old political hand, Francois Mitterrand, and the other by a Kennedy-style politician, Jean Lecanuet.

GROUPS IDENTIFIED Mitterrand's group is called the Democratic and Socialist Federation and Lecanuet's is labeled the Democratic Center. Considerable opposition voting polarized around the two men in

Weather Helps Texas Pastures

AUSTIN (AP)—Warm temperatures and scattered rains brought improvement of Texas ranges and pastures last week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Monday.

"All classes of livestock are making economical gains," the department's weekly crop-weather report said.

The department also said the 1966 cotton crop is 66 per cent planted, sorghum planting is at 71 per cent, corn planting is practically complete, oat combining has begun in South Texas and flax and hay cutting is under way.

Churches To Stage Party For Graduates

Baptist churches in Big Spring are combining to stage a graduation party the night of May 31.

Activities will center around the youth building at the First Baptist Church, but they will move to other locales before culminating in a breakfast the next morning.

Phil Hall is handling ticket sales at the high school, and the $1.50 fee includes entertainment, recreation, a full length feature film, miniature golf, bowling and two meals.

The program will start at 11:30 p.m. with a buffet meal, followed by a period of entertainment, then recreation such as volleyball, tetherball, four-square, etc. At 1:15 a.m. there will be a full length feature film, followed by a shift to the Starlight Acres miniature golf course. An hour later, the scene will shift to Bowlaroma for an hour of bowling. Then at 5 a.m. there will be breakfast at Lamar's, with a return home set for 6 a.m. Tickets also will be available at any of the cooperating Baptist churches.

UF's Salary Deduction Plan Gets Widespread Support

Officials of the United Fund are reporting considerable success through use of a salary-deduction program.

At least two meetings have been held for employers, and another is scheduled. At these meetings there is presented the need for employer interest and encouragement in the use of salary-deduction arrangements so that working people may contribute their fair share to the county-wide welfare programs.

To date, 39 firms have signified a willingness to offer a salary-deduction plan, with these companies having more than 2,800 employees. UF officials say they hope to have perhaps 20 or 30 more major employers participate in the program.

It is felt that with a systematic way of giving, more people on wages and salary will want to help support the agencies for which the United Fund raises money.

Firms which have signed up for payroll deduction include: Anthony's, City of Big Spring, Big Spring Herald, Big Spring Independent School District, Big Spring Printing, Big Spring Savings Association, Cabot Corporation, Cosden, First Federal Savings & Loan, First National Bank, Furr's, Gandy's, Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital, Hemphill - Wells, Hester's Supply, Holiday Inn, R. Youths Surprised

Three youths were surprised early this morning when a resident at 2405 Carlton caught them trying to siphon gas from his car, officers said.

A man, who police know only as "L. Barleman" of apparently the Carlton address, said that at 12:57 a.m. he saw the youths trying to get the gas from his car. He confronted them with a shotgun and they rapidly left in a car. Officers recovered a hose and siphon the youths dropped.

Police know whose car it was, they said today.

Busy Chamber Indicated By Committee Reporters

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has a lot of irons in the fire.

The first quarterly report session from committee chairmen Monday revealed numerous projects either on the road or in the making. This is one of a series of meetings which John Currie, president, has planned for the year in order to coordinate work of the various panels.

Reports included:

Advertising and promotion — Assisting editors of Texas Parade magazine get pictures and information for a special presentation on Big Spring for the October issue.

Agriculture—Probable delaying of the scheduled closing of the Big Spring Experiment Station for a year, giving time to press for a regional research center.

Aviation — A direct weather line secured; plans under way for grass plantings to minimize runway shoulder erosion; a fly-in at the Howard County Airport is planned; studies under way for better terminal facilities, a sign at the port entrance, and beautification.

Base-community council—Surveys made for rental housing; mosquito eradication being pressed as a preventative step for community health; service clubs are entertaining new classes; speakers are spreading information about Viet Nam experiences; families are encouraged to invite foreign students into their homes; instructor pilots will be honored during the year.

Community planning—Studying long-range needs, most of which will be referred to other committees.

Education — Forms prepared for a student questionnaire; studies are being made of needs for expanded vocational training; a look at landscaping is pending.

Cultural affairs—Agencies are being advised how better to publicize their efforts; studies are being made for a civic center; programs shaping for preservation of area heritage.

Government affairs — A nine-week course on political action nearing completion.

Membership — More than 140 have been enlisted as new members or have revalued their dues, adding $5,700 in resources.

Petroleum — Studies made to determine interest in tourist development school; banquet for service station operators.

Public health and safety — Studies continuing on mental health clinic possibility; the T-Man (traffic) program under way; surveys beginning with possible long-range objective of a community hospital.

Retail—Promotion of national cotton week; impending promotion of a citywide sidewalk sale.

Roads and highways—Emphasis on advancing FM 700 west leg development; possibly a new east overpass; seeking shorter route to projected lake at Robert Lee.

Sports and recreation — Exploring ways to secure club house at Myny Golf Course; relaxing of policies to help secure more athletic playoff contests.

Economic development—participation in West Texas Chamber of Commerce and Texas Electric Service seminars; probability of organizing an industrial team.

Red Cross Sends 300 Welfare Messages Daily

Nearly 300 emergency welfare messages a day—well over 100,000 a year—are being sent to and from South Viet Nam by the American Red Cross on behalf of U.S. fighting men there. The ARC handled half a million such messages last year, including those sent to and from Europe, the Far East, and other places where American troops are stationed.

Some messages contain good news, such as the birth of a child; others, tragedy for an American serviceman far from home, such as a death, a serious illness, or an injury in the family. All such messages are delivered with the utmost speed possible. The sheer numbers are an indication of the upswing of services for American forces in Southeast Asia.

Working in close cooperation with Service to Military Families in Red Cross chapters, field directors and their assistants stationed with the armed forces help servicemen with personal and family problems, with emergency communications, and with financial assistance when necessary. Red Cross workers also conduct recreation programs in hospitals and for the able-bodied with center and clubmobile operations.

Workshop For Children OK'd, Coordinator Hired

Directors of the Big Spring Little Theatre took two "giant steps" Monday night. They approved a plan to sponsor a children's theatre workshop and employed a part-time coordinator of the organization's work.

Mrs. J. H. Burnett was named chairman of the committee to draw plans for the children's program, which will be held at the YMCA. Although this project has been discussed for several years, it has been held up for a place to hold it. Last week a committee headed by Mrs. Harold Davis, president, made tentative arrangements with the YMCA officials to use that facility.

Mrs. Burnett's committee, which includes Mrs. Conny Wade, Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith, Mrs. Norman Spencer and Jack Meeker, will draw up final plans for the project in the next few weeks. Tentatively, they are planning a once-a-week program on Saturday mornings, as they have no idea how large the program might become. Parents interested in the program, are invited to contact the committee or write to P.O. Box 643, Big Spring.

Meeker was named as the theatre work coordinator, and the board voted to pay him a percentage of the annual profits for his work. Primarily he will be producer of the organization's plays, as well as director for some of them. He has been identified with most of the organization's plays in the past few years, either as director or actor. He will begin working for the group after he has completed his tour in the Air Force, later this year.

In other business, Mrs. Davis named a nominating committee for board members, who will be elected in September. The play reading committee indicated it would have a list of plays for the next season available in July.

Lady, you'll just love flameless electric cooking...it's so cool

You'll love your flameless electric range most of all during hot weather. Your kitchen stays cooler because electric surface units transfer heat by direct contact with utensil bottoms. They send their heat through the utensils and into the food, not the kitchen air. The oven is insulated all around, including the bottom, to keep heat inside where it belongs. There's no flame, so no intake and exhaust of air is needed to support combustion. The big difference in kitchen comfort is one of the many reasons why you'll just love flameless electric cooking.

Hagins Named 'Dogs' Coach

COAHOMA — New head football coach at Coahoma High School is a man familiar to most Coahoma sports buffs, Bernie Hagins.

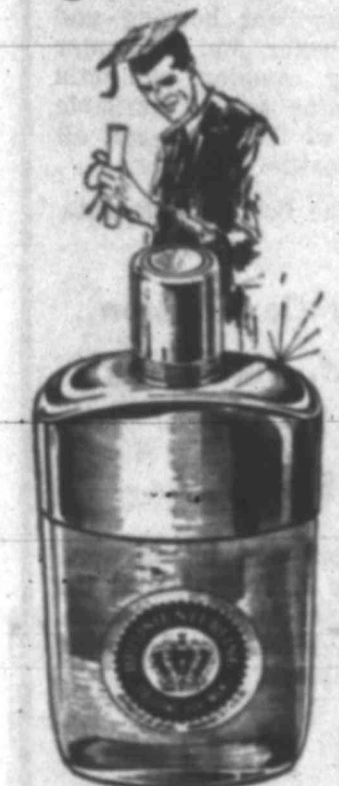

For the past two years, Hagins has served as an assistant to head mentor Spike Dykes. In addition, he has been the athletic trainer in the Coahoma school system.

Dykes resigned several weeks ago to become head mentor at Belton, a Class AAA school in Central Texas. Hagins had also quit to join Dykes' staff but changed his mind after talking to the board of trustees here.

Superintendent of Schools M. A. Wilson said he was delighted that Hagins had agreed to stay. Bernie will be permitted to bring in two assistants to fill out his staff. Basketball coach Bill Easterling will remain on the staff and probably assist Hagins in football.

Wilson said upwards to 50 persons applied for the position. Before coming to Coahoma, Hagins coached at Diboll for two years. He is a graduate of Stephen F. Austin College.

Shamsky Slugs Ball For Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Art Shamsky, who hits mostly home runs, has slugged his way into the right fielder's job with the Cincinnati Reds.

The 24-year-old left-handed batter has 13 hits to show for 45 times at bat in 18 games. Seven of the hits were home runs, the others singles.

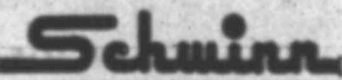

"I don't try to hit the ball out of the park," he says. "I am using a heavier bat this year — 34 ounces — and that has helped in hitting homers."

"I hit them in streaks. I have always started the season well and I like to believe that I hit left-handed pitching as well as I do right-handers. I try to pull the ball and I have always been able to hit it pretty far."

Shamsky, who is playing Frank Robinson's old position, was promoted to the Reds in 1965 after hitting 24 home runs for San Diego the season before.

So far this season, he's already got 13 RBIs, most of them since he broke into the Reds' line-up this month.

No Need To Guess What's About To Happen

Plate Umpire Billy Williams gives catcher Jim Pagliaroni of the Pittsburgh Pirates the old heave ho in the sixth inning of last night's game against the Dodgers in Los Angeles. Seems catcher Jim didn't like the way Umpire Williams was calling 'em at the plate. Pagliaroni said so. That's when Williams had his say — and Pagliaroni no longer was in the game. The Dodgers won 4, 2, in the sixth. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Third place Albuquerque spoiled Daniel's shutout by scoring twice in the seventh inning.

El Paso collected 11 hits off four Amarillo pitchers but saw 15 of its batters strike out. Amarillo starter Paul Doyle fanned 18 but a double steal executed on him by Tom Egan and Mickey Dobbins produced El Paso's first run. Doyle's balk let in another score.

Archer, Johnson Are Among Open Leaders

By The Associated Press
Touring pros George Archer and Howie Johnson were among the pacesetters Monday as golfers in 28 states and the District of Columbia began qualifying play for the U.S. Open Championship next month.

Professionals and amateurs seeking berths in the Open, to be played at San Francisco's Olympic Country Club June 16-19, teed off at 37 locations in the 36-hole local qualifying rounds. The low scorers will move up to 13 sectionals June 6-7, with the eventual survivors filling out the field of 150 at San Francisco.

Most of the top names in golf are exempt from the preliminary rounds, but several players on the 1966 pro tour qualified Monday.

Archer, who played in last week's Colonial Invitational at Fort Worth, Tex., paced the qualifiers at Dallas, Tex., with a 68-70-138. Don Massengale, Charles Coody, George Bayer and Jerry Edwards also advanced from Dallas to the sectionals.

Johnson, a 18-year veteran from St. Paul, Minn., led the day's biggest advances — 28 pros qualified — at Oklahoma City with a 68-68-137.

Homero Blancas, Charles Stiford, Al Besselink, Bob Gosilly, Jack Rufe, Joe Carr and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez trailed Johnson but made the cut-off in the field of 184.

Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., blazed a 70-65-135 over a par 36 layout to pace Portland qualifiers and record the day's best score. Bob Duden also made the grade at Portland with a 141.

Tom Barilec, a 45-year-old former club pro who had played only one round this year before entering the Pittsburgh tourney, matched Cudd's 65 on his first round and followed up with a par 72 for 137.

Other low scorers included Al Menger, 137 at Tacoma, Wash.; Walter Romans, 137 at Baltimore; Joe Taylor, 136 at Cincinnati; Larry Mowry, 137 at San Antonio; and

Midland High School from 1946 until he came to Dallas.

Survivors include his widow, Connie, and two sons, F. D. Rutledge II of Dallas and Russell Rutledge of Albuquerque, N.M. Services are pending.

He was head football coach and athletic director at Highland Park from 1939 to 1946 when he was appointed vice principal.

Rutledge, born at Cordell, Okla., was an all-conference quarterback at Texas Wesleyan, where he coached football and basketball in 1939 and 1940. The next three years he was basketball coach at Weatherford Junior College.

In 1944 and 1945 he was an assistant coach in football and basketball at Wichita Falls High School, then joined the faculty and coaching staff at Midwestern University.

Astros Absorb Worst Defeat

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros, still clinging to second place in the National League, took their worst beating of the season Monday night.

Behind the two-hit pitching of righthander Larry Jackson, the Philadelphia Phillies plastered their hosts 9-0 to loud boos from the stands. Jackson, 34, pitched hitless ball for 4 2-3 innings.

Mite Swings Biggest Bat

By The Associated Press
Little Rafael Gomez, a 5-foot-9, 165-pound third baseman from San Pedro, Dominican Republic, might have been the smallest player on the field but he swung the biggest bat in the Texas League Monday night.

Gomez reached outside for a low fast ball, pulled it over the left field fence and trotted home behind three teammates in Austin's 4-2 victory over Albuquerque.

It was the outstanding batting performance of a night in which the pitchers mostly starred.

Dallas-Fort Worth lefthander Jim Ellis pitched a four-hit 2-0 shutout over Arkansas and El Paso's George Sherrod and Gary Fischer limited Amarillo to five hits in a 3-1 triumph over the league leaders.

Gomez' blow came off starter Jim Strickland, who loaded the bases in the third inning on a single by Hal Breeden and walks to Walt Hirtiak and to pitcher Bob Daniel.

Third place Albuquerque spoiled Daniel's shutout by scoring twice in the seventh inning.

El Paso collected 11 hits off four Amarillo pitchers but saw 15 of its batters strike out. Amarillo starter Paul Doyle fanned 18 but a double steal executed on him by Tom Egan and Mickey Dobbins produced El Paso's first run. Doyle's balk let in another score.

Ellis' shutout was his second of the season over second place Arkansas.

Albuquerque catcher Mike Stubbins was lost for possibly six weeks. He pulled a hamstring muscle and chipped a bone after running into the screen behind home plate while chasing a foul ball.

Philadelphians added four more runs in the sixth, all earned, and one in the ninth. Doug Clemens hit a three-run homer in the sixth.

Lee Maye got the first hit off Jackson in the fifth when he singled with two out. John Bateman also singled, but Jackson struck out pinch hitter Dave Nicholson.

Joe Morgan's leadoff single in the sixth was the only other Houston hit.

The booby was aimed at the Astros after errors by Sonny Jackson and Bob Aspromonte made the first four Philadelphia runs in the second inning unearned.

Pitcher Jackson seemed to tire a bit in the middle innings but retired the last eight men in order.

It was his second victory over the Astros this season, boosting his record to 2-5. He struck out five men and walked four in gaining the Phillies their third decision of a four-game series.

Dave Giusti was Monday night's loser. He pitched five innings, giving up seven hits, walking three and fanning four. His record now is 3-4.

QBC IS SPONSOR Annual Spring Go Saturday

Three weeks of spring football drills at the local high school come to a close Saturday night in Memorial Stadium, at which time the coaches will divide their squad into two groups.

The teams square off at 8 o'clock and all game conditions will be observed, which means there will be kickoffs.

The contest will afford local fans a pretty good look at what the boys have accomplished in workouts thus far and will offer the sponsoring organization, the QBC, the chance to get started on its 1966-67 program.

Ticket prices will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, with all proceeds to go into QBC coffers. The booster organization, of course, uses the money for myriad activities relating to high school athletics.

Everett Whately, co-captain of the club, said that arrangements had been made to televise the game for the first time. In addition, the play-by-play account will be carried over two local radio stations (KBYG and KBST), he said.

Makeup of the two squads will be announced about Friday by head coach Don Robbins.

NATIONS RENEGE NATO's Laxity Frets Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sentiment appears to be growing in the Pentagon for a get-tough attitude toward North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations that shirk their common defense responsibilities.

Some key authorities have indicated they would like to see U.S. forces thinned down in Europe.

A source said failure of West Germany to meet a two-year commitment to buy about $1.3 billion in arms and military supplies from the United States could bring moves toward an American troop reduction there.

BILLION SHORT
So far — with only a little more than a year to go in the commitment period — Germany is more than $1 billion short in its promised purchases, officials said.

The rising irritation in the Defense Department is stimulated by:

—Growing manpower requirements for the Viet Nam war at a time when the United States has the equivalent of six Army divisions and a total of nearly 225,000 fighting men massed along the iron curtain in Germany.

—Continued reluctance by NATO countries, including Germany, to maintain their defense budgets and contribute to their abilities in the defense of Europe.

It is understood that West German Defense Minister Kai-Uwe Von Hassel received little sympathy from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara during recent conferences here in which Von Hassel told of Germany's difficulties in meeting its agreement to buy war goods from the United States.

OFFSET COST
This agreement, and others that preceded it, are designed to offset U.S. costs in maintaining a major combat force in Germany.

In a speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Montreal last week, McNamara once again underscored his views that prosperous allies must do more.

"We have had, over the last few years, as many men in uniform as all the nations of Western Europe combined — even though they have a population half again greater than our own," McNamara said.

COMMON BURDEN
"Now, the American people are not going to shirk their obligations in any part of the world, but they clearly cannot be expected to bear a disproportionate share of the common burden indefinitely."

The U.S. officials are particularly incensed by graphs showing economic growth and defense spending in the NATO countries.

What bothers them is a leveling off in defense spending in some of these countries at a time when their gross national products are rising.

The Institute of Strategic Studies estimates West German defense spending this year will total $4.77 billion — well below the 1965 estimate of $5 billion.

FALLS SHORT
Germany has 12 divisions in its army but U.S. military leaders complain that Germany has not provided the backup forces, the support structure and logistic requirements that would make this 12 division force a first-class army.

Opening lead: King of ♦ West drove his opponents into a game after they had settled comfortably in a part score contract, and then he failed to find the killing attack.

South opened the bidding with one heart. West overcalled with two diamonds and North freely raised his partner to two hearts. South chose to pass at this point, and West would have been well advised to let sleeping dogs lie—particularly in view of the fact that East had not acted when he had the opportunity.

West stubbornly refused to sell out and reopened the auction with three diamonds. North persisted to three hearts and South had a change of mind and went on to game. East, having two aces and a singleton in West's suit, had visions of a tidy profit and doubled.

West opened the king of diamonds and South played the ace. The North hand was entered with the ace of spades to lead a club. East reasoned that there was little to be gained by putting up the ace inasmuch as he had no quick entry to his partner's hand. His only hope was that West had a high club. East, therefore, followed with the four and declarer's queen won the trick.

South proceeded to cross-ruff the next five tricks in the black suits, trumping three clubs in dummy and two spades in his hand. With eight tricks in, he led the king of hearts, which drove out East's ace and established declarer's queen and jack to fulfill the doubled contract.

If East puts up the ace of clubs when that suit is led, South can discard two diamonds from dummy on the king, queen of clubs and then obtain at least two ruffs in the North hand.

A trump lead from West originally will hold South to nine tricks. East plays the ace and another heart. When he gets in with the ace of clubs, a third round of trumps complete the damage. South is held to one spade, one diamond, two clubs, one ruff in dummy, and four heart tricks.

Rockefeller's Choice For GOP '68 Ticket Muled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's endorsement of a 1968 Romney-Javits ticket gives Republican moderates a combination many of them might be willing to chance in an effort to retain party control.

Naturally, there are dissenters to the New York governor's statement Monday that there is "a growing feeling among Republicans it might be nice" to have Michigan Gov. George Romney run for president and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., for vice president two years from now.

Partisans of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who is currently on an inspection trip to South Viet Nam, gaged somewhat at Rockefeller's personal choice of a ticket they think their own man might well head.

NIXON SILENT
There was no immediate comment from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who has been traveling through the country preaching a middle road approach to the Republican future. The moderates are looking toward him with less and less enthusiasm as he picks up more and more support from the conservatives who went down to defeat with Barry Goldwater in 1964.

Nixon, now a New York attorney, wouldn't say Monday whether he will be a presidential candidate in 1968, but told a Miami reporter that he and Romney probably are the top starters.

In Oregon, Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield is expected to be nominated for senator in today's primary. If he wins in November he will have a national stage from which to speak for the moderates.

WIN BIG?
Romney is obligated to win big in his bid for re-election in Michigan this fall if he wants to stay in the front ranks of potential contenders for the top nomination in 1968.

He currently is talking about how the Johnson administration is "leading the nation down the road of inflation" and also has taken a critical stand against Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

Most party leaders say that neither an all-out liberal nor an all-out conservative is likely to be nominated in 1968. Romney looks good to some leaders as a possible compromise candidate in this situation.

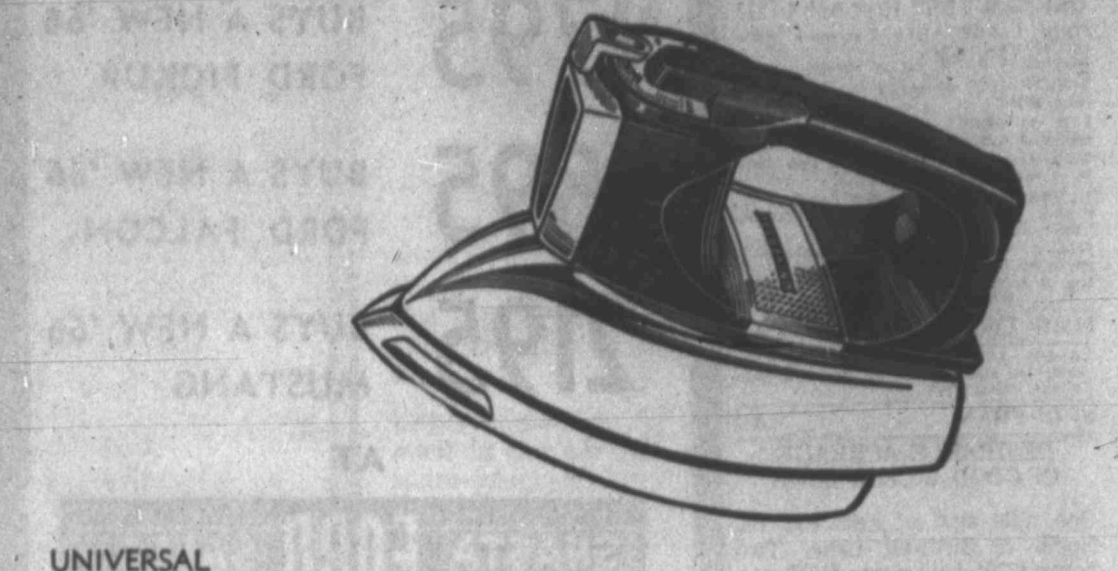

Rockefeller also indicated in his speech, at a GOP fund-raising dinner in Garden City, N.Y., that he will try to help set up a favorite son movement for Javits in 1968. This was regarded by some as part of an effort to bring the New York senator actively into the governor's re-election campaign.

A favorite son arrangement of this kind could leave Nixon stranded for much support from his adopted state and hamper his efforts to get off to a flying start at the nominating convention.

HOPE BOLSTERED
Rockefeller's declaration that he is out of the presidential competition "forever" boosted moderates' hopes that he would not again put a stumbling block in the path of other moderate candidates as he did in the 1964 primaries.

Many party leaders at this point seem to agree that Rockefeller used the right word — "forever" — in renouncing his national hopes.

Rummage Sale Water Well Inventory Set Saturday Of Glasscock Started

A rummage sale will be held Saturday at the old laundry building at First and Scurry under the sponsorship of the West Texas Republican Woman's Club.

Those having clothing, dishes, books, furniture or other items they will donate to the sale are asked to bring them to the building Friday afternoon or telephone Mrs. Floyd Mays, AM 4-6192.

Ernie Angelo, Midland consulting petroleum engineer, addressed the meeting of the club last Thursday, declaring Sen. John Tower to be one of the most respected conservative voices in the senate. He quoted from a May 9 poll by John Kraft, New York, which showed Tower favored by 44 per cent of voters, Waggoner Carr by 39, with 17 per cent undecided. A Tower victory would sweep many local GOP candidates into office in Texas, he said.

GARDEN CITY — A team of four men from the Texas Water Development Board is conducting a water well inventory in Glasscock County.

This is part of a study in response to petitions by residents of Glasscock, Reagan, Midland, Upton and Irion counties for a comprehensive study of these counties. This grew out of efforts launched 1 1/2 years ago to create an underground water conservation district. Oliver F. West, Glasscock County agent, said that once the survey is complete, efforts will be renewed to create the district.

While the study here is under way, one is being made in Upton County. The survey of Reagan County has been completed. In Glasscock, all irrigation wells will be checked first, then most of the windmills. Geologists are currently at work in the Lawrence Community and will move from there to other areas of the county.

A water level measurement will be made, water samples taken and a chemical analysis made. Each well will be located precisely on a county ownership map. Part of the study will deal with the possible salt water contamination of fresh water supplies.

Assigned to the survey here are Dan Muller, Gene Couch, Richard Preston and Rubin Frank.
