Bosch Losing Dominican Presidency

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Conservative Joaquin Balaguer appeared today to have clinched a stunning victory over moderate leftist Juan Bosch in the Dominican Republic presidential elections.

APPARENT DEFEAT

But a defeat for Bosch seemed apparent from his dis-

CORE Urges Rights Priority

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) advocated today that the United States put first priority on the civil rights program and get out of Viet Nam.

Floyd McKissick, national director of the civil rights group, said the White House Conference on Civil Rights would be asked to back its stand, and he felt there was a very good chance it would do so.

The two-day conference ends today after adoption of resolutions in each of the 12 committee groups in which the 2,400 delegates had been meeting.

The resolution CORE proposes on Viet Nam says "this nation has not yet demonstrated its ability and willingness to afford both 'guns and butter.' Therefore, be it resolved that the United States make equal opportunities for its minority citizens the No. 1 priority. Be it further resolved that the U.S. cease its involvement in Viet Nam."

Ky Troops Take Over Buddhist Stronghold

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's troops took over the Buddhist stronghold of Hue today without any resistance from the Buddhist-led mobs and antigovernment troops that have held the northern city in open rebellion since mid-March.

U.S. Loses Three Planes In Continuing Big Raids

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. planes hammered North Viet Nam in massive raids for a third consecutive day, concentrating once again on anti-aircraft and missile sites.

PILOT RESCUED

The heavy air raids Wednesday were carried out at a cost of three more American planes, raising the number of U.S. aircraft shot down over North Viet Nam to 254. One pilot was rescued.

appointing showing in the national capital, his main stronghold. Balaguer and his supporters issued triumphant victory claims amid wild celebrations.

Dr. Jose A. Quesada, private secretary to the Reform party candidate, predicted that Bosch, standard bearer of the Dominican Revolutionary party, would be beaten by a 2-1 margin when all returns are in.

PROTEST VOTE

The vote was interpreted by some observers as a protest in general against the sort of violence which erupted in civil war and U.S. military intervention last year and a longing for tranquility.

Even in Santo Domingo, Bosch's stronghold when he won by a landslide in 1963—only to be ousted by a military coup seven months later—Bosch was badly hurt. He failed even to capture one area in the heart of the section held by armed rebels in the nation's civil war.

A third candidate, Rafael F. Bonnelly, was far behind. Pre-election forecasts had generally favored Bosch in a tight race.

LANDSLIDE

Bosch became the country's first democratically elected president by a landslide in 1962. Balaguer, vice president under dictator Rafael Trujillo, was the candidate of the Reform party.

He served as president after Trujillo's assassination. The central issue in the election seemed to be the restoration of democratic rule in a nation which had only seven months of it in the last 36 years.

More Texans On Viet Death Roll

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department provided today this list of Texans killed in Viet Nam fighting during the week ending last Saturday:

- Pfc. Joel Tamayo, Houston. Lt. Robert M. Crum, Houston. Pfc. Michael E. Devoe, Houston. Pfc. Fermin R. Saldama Jr., San Antonio. Sgt. Arvin D. Pennell, Beaumont. Marine Pfc. Gordon E. Gullett, San Antonio.

Dirksen Asks Reappraisal Of LBJ's Poverty Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois urged today that President Johnson immediately start a thorough reappraisal of what he called "this disastrous" poverty program.

Scranton Bows Out

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania said today that he would never again run for president or any other public office.

NO OPPOSITION

No opposition was reported from members of the Buddhist struggle movement there led by the monk Thich — Venerable — Tri Quang, leader of the Buddhist rebellion in the north. More than 1,000 students sacked and burned the U.S. consulate Wednesday and an adjoining consulate residence in Hue.

A major factor in the government's reassertion of authority in Hue was a pledge of loyalty to the Saigon regime by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, the powerful northern warlord and rival to Ky whose ouster March 10 as commander of the northernmost 1st Corps gave the Buddhists an excuse for their antigovernment campaign.

CAME TO TRUCE

Ky and Thi came to a truce last week at a surprise meeting arranged by the United States at the U.S. Marine base at Chu Lai, south of Da Nang.

Surveyor 1 Lands, Sends Back Photos

Moon Surface Hard Enough To Stand On

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 1, defying longshot odds against a first-try success, televised earthward today striking photos of the lunar landscape after a seemingly perfect gentle landing on the moon.

The pictures indicated to scientific viewers at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory that the Sea of Storms target area has a relatively smooth, hard surface apparently suitable as a possible descent point for future astronauts.

NO DAMAGE

The pictures showed no damage to the spidery, instrument-jammed, craft 10 feet high and 14 feet in diameter. They showed its feet resting atop the crust — important evidence in view of opinions of some scientists that the surface might be deep dust or spongy lava that could swallow a landing vehicle.

The 620-pound Surveyor planted its three legs firmly on the lunar crust at 2:17:37 a.m. EDT, 63 hours and a quarter-million miles after its launch Monday from Cape Kennedy.

SHALLOW DIP

A shadow around the edge of one of the two feet within range of the camera indicated the depression was quite shallow — perhaps two inches, the spokes-

Twins Ready To Go Again

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Elated by the dramatic success of the Surveyor moonship, rocket crews felt confident today that the U.S. can score a follow-up triumph Friday by overcoming the jinx of Gemini 9.

Astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan, frustrated twice in an effort to carry out the nation's most daring manned space flight, were reported "intent and ready" for a third try.

The satellite launched Wednesday as a space-chase target for the astronauts flashed across Cape Kennedy in its 15th orbit of the earth when Stafford and Cernan plunged into new briefings today.

TWO TIMES

Twice, Stafford and Cernan have donned their bulky space suits and crammed themselves into the tiny Gemini ship. And twice they gloomily taken the slow elevator ride back to the ground. They get another chance Friday at 9:39 a.m. (EDT) to set out on their 70-hour flight, including satellite rendezvous and 2 1/2-hour space walk after a frustrating two-day delay.

Engineers pinned the blame for the scrubbed Gemini 9 flight Wednesday on a faulty signal relay system. It kept a guidance command from reaching a black box for electronic translation to the spacecraft.

PROBLEM SOLVED

Faulty parts were replaced and preliminary tests indicated the problem had been solved. However, flight officials still aren't certain a protective shroud around the docking apparatus on one end of the stubby, bottle-shaped line-up target separated as planned once in orbit.

The target, known as an Augmented Target Docking Adapter, blasted off a Cape Kennedy launch pad less than two hours before trouble struck Gemini 9. It continued to circle the earth, performing normally. Radio signals from the target satellite to earth indicated the shroud did not separate from the ATDA.

But, it may be that no one will know for sure if the mysterious objects, now unidentified, are indeed pieces of the shroud until the astronauts go up and take a look for themselves.

Spears Charges Martin Violated Legislative Code

AUSTIN (AP) — Franklin Spears handed out copies of court transcripts today which he said proved Crawford Martin took off nine days while he was secretary of state to take part in land condemnation suits against the state.

This action by Martin, Spears told a news conference, "clearly violates the spirit" of the code of ethics adopted by the legislature for public officials.

Martin said that while he sat in the Hill County courtroom, he had already withdrawn from the cases and that he did not question witnesses and did not address the jury.

Spears' cover letter on a large folder of material given to newsmen said, in part: "The facts in this folder are simply that a high state official, at a time he was being paid $16,500 per year, participated in private practice against the state and on the public's time."

Spears added, "I have no statement or accusation to make outside of that letter to you." Spears said he released the transcript copies, and scheduled the news conference, "to clarify facts that I've been asked about by members of the press and voters."

Asked if he had the same information earlier, and, if so, why didn't he release it then, Spears replied: "I have not used it because I did not intend to bring it up."

VIRUS PARTICLES

Researchers Report Cancer Discoveries

CHICAGO (AP) — Two findings that open a new approach toward the elusive goal of finding the cause and prevention of cancer were disclosed today by a medical research team from Columbia University.

STRONG EVIDENCE

The researchers presented the strongest tentative evidence yet that cancers may be started by viruses which then move on to repeat their destructive work in adjoining cells.

Dr. John K. Lattimer, co-chairman of the department of urology at Columbia University in New York, said that virus-like particles have been found for the first time in healthy looking cells lying adjacent to cancer cells in prostate glands. They were not found in the cancer cells.

He said his researchers also discovered that these cells, which appeared normal under ordinary-light microscopes, actually were growing at the "same tremendous rate" as cancer cells.

"The discovery of either condition was unusual, but when they appear in combination it becomes exciting," he said in an interview at the annual meeting of the American Urological Association.

Dr. Myron Tannenbaum, pathologist member of the research team which made the twin discoveries, described the findings and exhibited picture slides at the urologists' convention.

NEXT STEP

Lattimer, who heads the research project, said "the next step which we're working on now" is to attempt to isolate the virus-like particles. Under the electron microscope the particles are identical in appearance to the Lucke tumor virus which causes cancers in frog kidneys.

Plan Not To Be Mandatory

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the Educational Policies Commission said today that while it wants universal public education down to the four- and five-year-old level, it specifically did not intend it to be mandatory.

The commission announced its revolutionary proposal to lower the school age last Tuesday, saying "Education in this two-year period can affect the character of the child and all his future life more deeply than his education at any later period."

The Associated Press erroneously reported Tuesday that the recommendation was for mandatory education for four- and five-year-olds.

Johnson's Optimism Rouses Some Doubts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's optimistic report that preparations for elections in South Viet Nam are moving in a sound direction aroused both hope and skepticism in Congress Thursday.

Johnson told a news conference Wednesday that "while there will be missteps, the direction is sound" toward voting aimed at installing a civilian regime to replace the military government in Saigon.

Senatorial critics and supporters of the President's Viet Nam policies joined in expressing hope that Johnson was right in saying that with "reasonable unity and proper diligence and constant regard for our national interest, we will achieve our objectives here — at home — and there in Viet Nam."

Among those willing to speak out, however, none found quite as much encouragement as Johnson said he did by the progress of a special Vietnamese committee preparing for the election of a constitutional assembly.

Armed Services Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who supports Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said he thinks "some progress has been made but just how substantial it is will be determined by future events."

"It is exceedingly difficult to have a fair expression of the country's sentiment under the conditions that exist," he said.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., a foreign relations committeeman who has criticized Johnson's course, said in a separate interview "I hope he's right."

"But I think we are in serious trouble not only in Viet Nam but all over the world," he added.

Johnson covered a wide variety of subjects in his Cabinet room meeting with reporters, including an expression of satisfaction with the course of the national economy and the pace with which Congress is dealing with his legislative programs.

On other matters, he:

- Complained that he doesn't see in the newspapers the kind of "in depth reporting" he would like to have on political progress in South Viet Nam.
- Said he rather agrees with the view of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen that leaders of both parties should be briefed on Viet Nam developments. He said he had talked to Dirksen twice in the last few weeks.

—Reported that the U. S. program of dealing with France's forthcoming withdrawal of troops from NATO "is going very well and as expected and according to schedule."

—Classified the civil rights situation as one "we think desperately needs attention."

Ray Alexander Gets Degree And AF Commission

Raymond B. Alexander, Big Spring, was among seven Air Force ROTC cadets at North Texas State University who were commissioned as second lieutenants Wednesday and will begin military tours of duty before the end of the summer.

He received the bachelor of business administration degree in accounting. The commissioning ceremonies were conducted by Maj. Gene G. Cowles of the NTSU division of aerospace studies. A 1961 graduate of Big Spring High School, Alexander is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Alexander, 707 W. 18th, Big Spring.

Just Like Human Baby, Grandmother Decides

DALLAS (AP) — For more than five months Pauline McNellis, 57, a silver haired grandmother, cared for Vickie just like a baby.

Much of the time Vickie lay in a bassinet and sucked her right index finger unless she was taking a bottle. She had a temper tantrum if Mrs. McNellis walked past without stopping to play with her.

Vickie, born Dec. 18, is the offspring of a 300-pound gorilla named Jennie at the Dallas Zoo — only the fifth baby gorilla born in this country. Jennie dragged the infant about like a rag doll, so zoo keeper R. H. McNellis rescued Vickie and took her home to his wife.

Mrs. McNellis, an expert at raising human babies, soon found it equally simple to care for a baby gorilla.

"They're exactly alike," she said.

But now Vickie, a four-pounder at birth, has grown to seven pounds and 14 ounces. The zoo values her at $5,000, and McNellis decided Wednesday it was time for her to go back. His wife decked out her departing charge in a pink dress, ruffled panties, and a jaunty hair ribbon, and off they went.

At the zoo, however, Mrs. McNellis watched a bit sadly as Vickie was put in a glass showcase for all to watch and admire.

"I'm going to go home and bawl," said Mrs. McNellis.

Candidate Hurt By Shots

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — State Rep. Henry Fletcher, 32, of Lockhart was shot early today on a San Marcos street.

The bullet entered his side but attendants said his condition was not considered serious.

Fletcher told officers and newsmen he had attended a dance here Wednesday night and that after stopping for coffee at a cafe started tacking up signs on telephone posts.

"I started back to my car when the shots were fired. One struck me in the side and the others went wild," he said.

He said the shots apparently came from a passing automobile. He said he knew of no person who would want to shoot him.

Fletcher, seeking his fourth term, is a candidate for renomination in Saturday's Democratic primary.

Trucker Killed Giving A Hand

CONROE, Tex. (AP) — John R. Hamilton, 54, a Houston trucker, brushed against a high voltage line and was killed 12 miles south of here.

The accident occurred as Hamilton was stepping from his cab to assist a motorist whose car hit a pole carrying the power line beside FM 1314.

Officers said the lethal wire apparently sagged after being loosened by the impact but it did not touch ground. The motorist escaped injury.

State Hospital Starting Junior Volunteer Work

Junior volunteer workers from Midland will participate in an orientation session for work at Big Spring State Hospital Saturday noon in the city park, according to Mrs. Eunice Cochran, volunteer coordinator.

This is the first time that the state hospital has had a concentrated junior volunteer effort in several years. Mrs. Cochran added. The youths range from 16-19 years of age. They will alternate in coming over from Midland, each group commuting two or three times weekly for an extensive period of several hours.

"We hope to take about 60 patients to the city park for a picnic tomorrow," Mrs. Cochran said. "This will be the beginning for the approximately 40 youth volunteers that we expect."

The junior group is recruited by the Midland High School counselor and the senior volunteer workers. During work periods, the senior workers are always present to offer emotional security to the youths. Junior workers perform many important tasks such as assisting in the charm class, the walking brigades, and in the recreational and vocational therapy areas.

After the picnic there will be a special orientation seminar with Chaplain Richard Johnson in which he will explain a volunteer's role in the hospital. Dr. Frankie Williams will outline hospital treatment for the group.

Damage Suit Filed

Clyde M. Black and Hazel Black, his wife, have brought suit against Jimmy McBride, a Webb AFB airman, asking $39,250 damages. The Black's claim that on Jan. 28 they were in their car on East Third Street. They allege that the plaintiff's car rammed theirs from the rear causing injuries to Mrs. Black and damages to their car. The case was filed Thursday in 118th District Court.

McClenny Gets Honor Rank

Charlie McClenny, 1011 Scurry Street, has been awarded the designation of Knight of the York Cross of Honour, it was reported today. This honorary degree, highest in the York Rite of Freemasonry, is conferred only on those who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite. McClenny becomes one of the comparative handful of about 400 of the over four and a quarter million Freemasons in North America and the Philippines to qualify this year. In the past 37 years, 19,559 received this designation.

McClenny, who is the Big Spring city secretary, served as Master of Panther City Lodge of Masons in 1955; High Priest of Big Spring Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in 1948; Master of Big Spring Council, Royal and Select Masters, in 1950; Commander of Big Spring Commandery, Knights Templar, in 1965. He was elected to membership in Texas Priory and his election confirmed by Convent General of the Order on May 29th. A certificate of membership has been mailed to him.

There are 64 Priories of the Order in North America and the Philippines with a present membership of 7,200.

Teachers Fail To Show Up In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Public school teachers seeking to underline labor contract demands failed to report to classrooms today and paralyzed Flint schools and four suburban Detroit systems.

One teachers' union official described the situation as a strike, although such are prohibited by public employees in Michigan. The law, however, was amended in 1965 to give them the right to organize and bargain collectively.

Dismissal, loss of seniority and other automatic penalties under the previous law were withdrawn.

Gov. George Romney said he would meet later with the State Labor Mediation Board "to get a full picture of what's happening and to determine what steps, if any, are to be taken."

Picket lines manned by members of the AFL-CIO Michigan Federation of Teachers were up at 38 schools with an enrollment of about 24,500 in the Detroit area. These were in Taylor Township, Melvindale and North Dearborn Heights.

Members of the independent Michigan Education Association picketed an estimated 30 schools in Flint and forced the closing of all.

Tom Hill, an official of the AFL-CIO union estimated 400 members failed to report and another 100 called in sick in Taylor Township; 125 out of a total of 220 failed to report in Melvindale and 55 out of 113 failed to show up in North Dearborn Heights.

Teachers in a fourth Detroit area district, Crestwood in Dearborn Heights, also stayed out. The district has seven schools with about 180 teachers. There was no immediate indication how long the walkouts would last.

Minority Workers Sought By Firm

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In May of 1961 Lockheed Aircraft Corp. was first to sign for the federal government's equal opportunity employment program, aimed at finding jobs for minorities.

"We didn't wait for them to apply, we sought them out," says James Hodgson, director

Quarter Million Gifts For H-SU Are Announced

ABILENE — Hardin - Simmons University will receive approximately $250,000 in scholarship funds, by bequests, Dr. Elwin L. Skiles, president, and Dr. Lee Hemphill, vice president for development and promotion, announced Monday night.

It was the second major announcement of gift receipts of the day.

A surprise announcement of a $100,000 pledge to the school's $2,000,000 endowment campaign by Mr. and Mrs. Van Calvin Ellis of Dallas climaxed commencement exercises Monday morning. Mrs. Ellis' husband heads Morton's Foods.

Mrs. Elta Campbell Roberts, who died May 8 in Cox Memorial Hospital, has left approximately $150,000 to H-SU's scholarship funds. Mrs. Roberts' mother, the late Mrs. Melvia Poteet Campbell, who died June 2, 1963, left the bulk of her estate for a scholarship fund at H-SU. The scholarship bequest is believed the largest in the 75-year history of Hardin-Simmons University.

of industrial relations. Result: Lockheed now reports that 6,500 of its 84,000 employees are members of minority groups — and among the 6,500 there are 2 1/2 times as many in managerial or professional jobs than in unskilled or service work.

To help make its planes, ships, missiles and a host of other things the firm goes after Indians in Washington, Mexican-Americans in Arizona, Filipinos in California, Negroes in Georgia and Alabama.

It says 91 such employees are managers at $10,000 to $20,000 a year; 967 are scientists, engineers or accountants at $8,000 to $20,000, and 4,404 are in such skills as lathe operators, flight mechanics, carpenters, electricians, at $5,000 to $7,000.

Federal civil rights laws can be met by hiring service workers. Lockheed is one of 328 major firms joining voluntarily a federal "plan for progress" to recruit minority workers above the janitorial level.

How does it work? Lockheed representatives go into minority living areas sometimes 20 miles from plants, leaving job lists with ministers, slum-area employment offices and such organizations as the Urban League.

High school principals and counselors from slum schools are taken on tours of company facilities, told what's needed, what's available, and urged to spread the word. Campus recruiters include such Negro colleges as Howard and Tuskegee Institute in their rounds. Lockheed's industrial union, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, pushes a summer-long apprentice program for skill training. In Georgia, the union has several Negro business agents.

Red China Wants To Mend Cuban Relations

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China made an open move today to mend its relations with Fidel Castro's Cuba and charged that Moscow is betraying the Cuban people.

An article in the official People's Daily claimed the Russians are not really supporting the Cubans in recent incidents at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo. It said China is Cuba's "most faithful and dependable" friend.

The article came a day after Peking announced that it had renewed its trade and scientific cooperation agreement with Cuba. The New China News Agency said the agreement was signed in Havana a week ago.

The Cuban government had announced earlier that the two countries signed a pact for the exchange of rice and sugar. The collapse of a similar barter agreement last fall led to a deterioration in relations between the two countries.

In a speech on March 14, Castro accused Peking of "launching an imperialist-type campaign against Cuba." China implied that Castro was moving ideologically toward Russia, and there were reports that he was purging pro-Peking elements in Cuba.

What brought the apparent change in China's attitude was not clear.

County Board To Ponder Transfers

Howard County School board meets on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. to act on applications for transfer. Walker Bailey, county school superintendent, said today.

He reported there had been 89 applications filed in May for transfer.

The board, of which J. D. Gilmore is chairman, comprises H. H. Rutherford, Hayes Stripling Jr., R. L. Heith and Wade Choate.

The latter two are new members elected this spring. This will be their first official meeting, it was said.

El Paso Girl WTPA Winner

OLTON — An 18-year-old El Paso girl has been named winner of the West Texas Press Association's $500 journalism scholarship.

The winner is Mary Ellen Botter, who recently completed Austin (E.P.) High School, in the top two per cent of her class. She plans a major in journalism at Texas Western.

Announcement of the selection was made by Bill Turner, publisher of the Olton Enterprise, chairman of the WTPA scholarship committee.

Mary Ellen was selected from a field of 16 applicants from throughout West Texas. First alternate named by the committee is Sheila Looney, Odessa, who plans to major in journalism at Texas Tech.

The WTPA scholarship winner will be awarded $150 annually, $75 per semester during her four years in college, providing normal progress toward a degree is maintained.

This year's award is the ninth annual by the West Texas Press Association. Four students are enrolled in area colleges and universities using these scholarships, and several have graduated.

Among qualifications for applicants are a standing in the top 25 per cent of the graduating class, a demonstrated ability in newspaper journalism and a desire for a newspaper career.

Mary Ellen, besides working on the staff of her school newspaper the past three years, worked three afternoons per week on the El Paso Times' "Teen-Times," a teenage news supplement, and was its reporter of the year.

While maintaining a high scholastic average, she tutored two elementary school boys as a part-time job while a senior at Austin High.

Urges Students To Join 'Corps'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, has appealed for college students to join the Peace Corps or the war against poverty.

Shriver said at Morehouse College: "I suggest that in 20 years, the man who joined the Peace Corps, the Job Corps, will be ahead of the one who played it cool."

Head Of Texas Realtors To Address Local Board Today

The president of the Texas Real Estate Association and one of the regional vice presidents will be honored at a dinner affair given this evening by the Big Spring Board of Realtors.

This will be the official visit of H. W. Bahnman, Harlingen, state president, to the Big Spring board, and he will bring the feature address.

The 7:30 o'clock dinner at Cosden Country Club will be preceded by a social hour at 8:30 p.m.

His appearance is in a sense a continuation of the observance of Texas Real Estate Week, and it falls almost on the eve of the 49th annual convention of the Texas Real Estate Association in Houston June 8-11.

Bahnman has been in the real estate business since 1932 and has held each TREA elective office. Similarly, he has filled all offices on the Harlingen board.

He also is a member of the board of directors of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and is on its education committee. Bahnman also has been an active worker in his community, heading the United Fund, the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club.

He is a past district Lions governor, and is on the board of stewards of the Harlingen Methodist Church.

Dennis Wagner, El Paso, who serves as region IV vice president, has been here several times on association business.

Most recently he explained features of HB 1476, called the Forced Housing Bill, which the national association contends takes away freedom of choice in selling or renting real estate. He is past president of the Society of Certified Master Brokers and Master Salesmen, and he was state chairman assisting in organization of a national association in Mexico. In El Paso he is president of the El Lighthouse for the Blind, active in the Chamber of Commerce, and is on the board of the Asbury Methodist Church in El Paso.

Officers of the local board, who will serve as a welcoming committee, are Jeff Brown, president; Barbara Eisler, secretary; Belma Montgomery, treasurer. Here for the meeting will be Ery Leudtke, Austin, executive vice president of TREA.

One of the largest swings of the current season was registered in the deal presented today taken from a team-of-four event held during a recent tournament.

At the first table, the bidding proceeded as depicted in the diagram. East opened with one heart and West chose to respond with four hearts. This was a bit off center with only four trumps and led to unforeseen complications. Had West made the more normal response of one spade, the partnership would have uncovered their fit in that suit and might have assessed their defensive prospects more accurately as the auction progressed.

North's four no trump bid was the unusual no trump overcall, requesting his partner to bid his best minor suit. South dutifully responded with five clubs which was passed back to East. The latter's holding was not attractive defensively, and he persisted to five hearts.

When the auction reverted to North, he chose to sacrifice at six clubs. It did not appear that the damages would be substantial, and he feared that the opposition might make five hearts. East and South passed and West doubled. He had what looked like one sure trick, and he assumed that the opening bidder would produce at least one more.

If West had opened a heart, the defense would have taken the first two tricks. Unfortunately for his side, he tried to cash the ace of spades first. Declarer ruffed in dummy, drew trumps in three rounds and proceeded to run the diamonds on which he discarded both of his hearts. One heart was ruffed in the closed hand and, at the end, a heart trick was conceded to the opposition.

At the other table, East opened the bidding with one spade, choosing to treat the touching suits as equals. West jumped to four spades and North overcalled with five diamonds. This was passed back to West who carried on to five spades. North and East passed, and South doubled.

South opened a diamond; however, the defense soon discovered that they could cash only one trick each in diamonds and clubs, and East claimed his contract. Five spades doubled was worth 250 points. Together with the 1,000 registered by his teammates at the other table holding the North-South cards, the total profit on the deal amounted to 1,940 points.

Eastern Star Order Conducts Installation

The Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star, installed new officers Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock during ceremonies held in the Masonic Temple, 220 1/2 Main.

Mrs. Steve Baker was installed as worthy matron, and C. R. McCleenny is the new worthy patron. The installation was conducted by Mrs. Ed Sharpe, associate grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of Eastern Star. Lee Porter was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Baker's theme was "Wings of Prayer," and her symbols are the cross and St. Francis of Assisi. She chose pink and red as her colors and roses as her flower.

Assisting with the service were Mrs. Joe Neel, assistant installing grand officer; Mrs.

Pyrle Bradshaw, installing grand marshal; Mrs. D. D. Dyer, installing grand chaplain; Mrs. Gail Bonner, installing grand organist; and Mrs. George Pittman, grand secretary pro tem. Their escorts were George Bair, Joe Neel, Carl Bradley, D. D. Dyer, George Pittman and Mrs. J. T. Allen.

NEW OFFICERS
Other officers installed were Mrs. Carl McGlothlin, associate matron; A. A. McKinney, associate patron; Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, secretary; Mrs. Roxie Dobbins, treasurer; Mrs. Charles McCarley, conductress; Mrs. F. C. Gambill, associate conductress; Mrs. J. K. Cunningham, chaplain; Mrs. Jim Layman, marshal; Miss Sheryl Gambill, organist; Mrs. H. D. Stewart, Adah; Mrs. L. D. Keith, Ruth; Mrs. C. C. Lawrence, Ester; Mrs. Noel Hull, Martha; Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., Electra; Steve Baker, warder; and Charles McCarley, sentinel.

A musical prelude was presented by Mrs. Bonner and two songs were sung by a Rainbow Girl choir. Mrs. Carl Bradley, Dick Mitchell and Miss Gambill were heard in solos.

Mrs. Baker's emblem, the Bible, was presented by Miss Judy Daniels, Order of the Rainbow for Girls. Star point emblems were presented by Mrs. Keith, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Stewart, and Mrs. Leon Kinney, Electra.

Participating in the flag ceremony were J. B. Langston, Ray Thomas and Oscar Nabors of the Big Spring Commandery No. 31, Knights Templar. The Rev. Donald Hungerford gave the invocation, and the benediction was by Mrs. J. T. Allen.

The welcome was extended by Mrs. Neel who also introduced Mrs. Sharpe.

Introduced as the chapter mother was Mrs. Mary Ehlman, escorted by Ervin Daniels.

Those on the refreshment committee were Mrs. C. A. Murdock, Mrs. Glen Cantrell, Mrs. Euta Hall, Mrs. Harry Lees, Mrs. Minnie Michael, Mrs. Eugene Gross, Mrs. Paul Carroll, Mrs. J. C. Pickle, Mrs. Alfred Moody, Mrs. George Bair, Mrs. Willard Sullivan, Mrs. J. B. Langston, Mrs. G. W. Dabney, Miss Oma Buchanan and Mrs. George Hall. Lights and photography were by Blackie Morris and Mrs. Sullivan.

On the registration and hospitality committee were Mrs. C. R. McCleenny, Mrs. Buster Pitts, Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. A. A. McKinney, Mrs. J. H. Homan, Mrs. W. B. Grant, Mrs. Blackie Morris, Mrs. C. H. Fryar, Mrs. Harvey Hooser, Mrs. Elmo Phillips, Mrs. Lamar Green, Mrs. Johnny Stewart and Mrs. Joe Blum. Ushers were C. R. West, Stephen Lazarus and Morris.

Leaves For San Marcos

KNOTT (SC)—Judy Roman left Tuesday for San Marcos where she will enroll in school for the summer session.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chestham, Diane and Randy, are visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Rutledge, in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roman have returned from a vacation in Dallas, Lufkin, Kilgore and Corsicana.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Harrell and Mrs. Bud Nichols attended a party in Abilene Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morris and family spent the weekend at Big Bend National Park.

Mrs. Susie Mae Harrell visited Mrs. L. N. Thornton in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Monday.

Mrs. Beulah Heffernan, Big Spring, is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Nichols.

The J. G. Nichols have returned from a visit with relatives in Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Airhart are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Airhart in Lyford.

Debbie and Terry Airhart of New Home are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Airhart.

Mrs. B. F. Airhart returned to her home Sunday from the Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital in Big Spring.

P-TA Unit Has Party

"Wishing You Well" was the theme of a Wednesday luncheon for two retiring College Heights Elementary School teachers, Mrs. Harvey Clay and Miss Grace Mann. The affair was held in the Blue Room of Corden Country Club. Sponsors were members of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Wishing wells formed the centerpiece, and individual favors were candle holders, miniature dolls and oaken baskets.

A humorous poem, "Looking Backward Over the School Year," was read by Mrs. S. K. Walker. Mrs. L. K. Gladden presented the honorees with farewell gifts of appreciation.

Eighteen guests were present, and farewells were also said to Mrs. Douglas Wiebe and Mrs. Rex Hopkins, who are moving with their families to other cities.

DCM Group Honors Departing Members

Five departing couples were honored when the DCM Group at Webb AFB met Saturday evening for a lawn and patio party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Brewer, 2513 Carol.

Speaking for the group, Col. Gregory H. Perron said farewell to Col. and Mrs. George E. Franks, who will leave DCM to become base commander; Col. and Mrs. Garland J. McClure who are going to Anchorage, Alaska; Capt. and Mrs. Albert K. Donaldson who will retire in California; 1st Lt. and Mrs. Billy J. Hawthorne who will make their home at Sheppard AFB in Wichita Falls; and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Heith who are also retiring.

Honored guests, not members of the DCM Group, were Col. and Mrs. Edwin J. White who will be leaving Webb this summer.

Col. Perron presented 'diplomas' to those leaving.

Prior to the buffet dinner, 38 couples participated in games of ping-pong, badminton and croquet.

The outside entertaining area was decorated with colored lights around the perimeter, and lights accented a fountain and statuary in the garden.

Pink, Blue Party Held

Mrs. Roy Howell was honored with a pink and blue shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. Mueggel, 802 Birdwell. Co-hostesses were Mrs. William Bokleman, Mrs. Chester Cordes and Mrs. Milton Engbreton.

Seventeen attended, and refreshments were served from a table covered with a white lace cloth over pink. The centerpiece was a stork surrounded with miniature babies.

Assisting at the gift table were Miss Linda Bokleman, Miss Ruby Jean Sargent, Miss Cindy Kenning and Miss Shana Kenning.

Mrs. Howell's grandmothers, Mrs. Anna Kenning, Pomeroy, Iowa; and Mrs. Viola Winebriner, Fonda, Iowa, were honored guests.

Name Meanings Told By League

"What's in a Name" was the program topic during the Wednesday covered dish luncheon of the Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army. The members met at the Citadel, and Mrs. J. R. Kirby presided.

Each of the 21 attending described the origin and meaning of her name. Mrs. Jimmy Moore gave the devotion.

The luncheon table was covered with a lace cloth, and plans were discussed for a "cradle roll" party at the June 8 meeting. All members were asked to bring a baby picture of themselves.

Women Vie For Master Points

Six tables were in play for Master Point games held Tuesday at Big Spring Country Club. Winners were Mrs. R. H. Weaver and Mrs. James Duncan, first; Mrs. Charles Dodson and Mrs. Glen Cox, second; and Mrs. E. O. Ellington and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., third.

A LOVELIER YOU Do You Dare Bare Figure At Beach?

By MARY SUE MILLER
The beautiful, healthy glow of a tan can be quenched by make-up, and it often is. Unless your cosmetic shades keep pace with your tan, they pale or muddy your hard-won color.

Surely it behooves a tan fan to take a critical look at her cosmetics. The first targets are lipstick and nail enamel, the mainstays of any summer time make-up. To spark a tan, both must have depth and shimmer. A range of new shades does just that by brightening lips and fingertips with luminous dawn-pink and sunset tones. The likes of nature's own!

For the eyes, still a vital element in contemporary looks, there's glimmer in subtle sea-spray shades of blue and green shadow blended above the lids, perhaps, with silvery gray or sunny amber hues. Liner, when used, should be so soft that it melts into the lashes.

Powder base, of course, must match your tan. It can be kept in key several ways: 1. Have light and dark shades on hand. Then mix and match to order. 2. Use make-up blender to darken liquid foundation. 3. Apply brown blusher over any transparent foundation.

If, once tanned, you are one who dispenses with foundation, be sure to use a moisture lotion in its place. For the dewy effect and protective action!

What about powder? The colorless, finishing type works best, as it takes the shine off your nose but not off your tan. Just as should be!

The C. L. Gooches and the A. D. Bartons spent the weekend at Colorado City Lake.

Visiting with the F. J. Klahrs were Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Klahr and family of Eunice, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Jones visited in Higgins with the Don Reeds.

Mrs. H. H. Story visited in Alpine with Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Strom.

Council Plans Gift Shower

A wedding shower for Miss Alice Ward and Bob Brandenberger was announced by Mrs. Delaine Crawford during the Tuesday morning meeting of the Howard County Home Demonstration Council.

The shower will be at 8 p.m., June 11, in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building. Miss Ward was formerly a home demonstration trainee here, and Brandenberger was assistant county agent.

Mrs. Frances Zant presided, and 10 clubs were represented. The Coahoma club was the host group with Mrs. Charles Parrish Sr., a guest, giving the devotion. Other guests were Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel, Mrs. Ray Swann and Mrs. Paul Bruns.

Named to serve on the nominating committee were Mrs. Joe Myers, Mrs. S. A. Wilson and Mrs. Bob Wren.

Mrs. Neil Norred presided for the session held by the Texas Home Demonstration Association, and Mrs. Alton Underwood was elected as the new THDA chairman. Delegates to the state convention in Corpus Christi during September will be Mrs. O'Daniel, Mrs. Underwood, and Mrs. W. L. Eggleston. Alternates are Mrs. Zant, Mrs. Paul Bruns and Mrs. Vern Vigar.

Field Hands' Strike In Valley Spreads

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP)—A field worker's strike was extended to six Rio Grande Valley farms today but union leaders said their plans to halt the melon harvest had temporarily fallen through. Meanwhile, strike leader Eugene Nelson was to be arraigned on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was arrested by Rangers Wednesday night as he blocked the path of a switch engine moving produce cars loaded with melons. He was held in jail overnight in lieu of $400 bond. Leaders and members of the Independent Workers Association said they were set to resort today to acts of "civil disobedience"—perhaps by putting themselves in the paths of trucks and buses carrying strikebreakers—in an effort to block the harvest. But spokesmen at three of the largest farms indicated they had enough field hands to keep going. The recently formed union is seeking recognition and a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour. The union says field workers now make about 85 cents an hour. Margill Sanchez, vice-president of the IWA's Local, said dramatic plans to keep workers out of the field were thwarted at one farm — La Casita—when two busloads of workers were taken in at the early hour of 2 a.m. The usual arrival hour is about 6 a.m., the hour IWA pickets were set for action. A spokesman for La Casita, Ralph Ross, assistant sales manager, said he was not aware the schedule was moved up. He said no plans were being made to house workers at the farm for the duration of the strike. He said he also anticipated no harvesting shutdown. Two other farms struck Wednesday, Los Puertos and Suntek, reported harvesting was continuing. Sanchez said the strike was extended today to Trophy Farm No. 1, Trophy Farm No. 2 and Negro Farm, all in Starr County. Sanchez said the workers being brought in were "commuters"—people who live in Mexico but who are permitted to work in the United States. "We protest the use of commuters as strikebreakers and we have sent a telegram to Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz asking him to investigate," Sanchez said. Trained produce packers, members of the AFL-CIO, continue to honor the IWA's picket lines. Ross said a hastily devised program to train local packers was underway. Nelson, waving a placard, ran onto the Missouri Pacific tracks in front of the switch engine near a packing shed owned by one of the struck farms. He crouched with his back to the locomotive as the engineer picked up speed and sounded a long blast from the horn. The engine and its trailing produce cars screeched to a stop four feet from Nelson. His foot was wedged in a Y-shaped track switch and he said he couldn't get it out. Rangers J. H. Preiss and Frank Horger were called. Holding shotguns, they pushed through a crowd of about 100 that swarmed from a strike rally being held in a nearby plaza. After they freed Nelson's foot from the rails, Preiss asked him to leave the tracks. Nelson shouted to the crowd: "Que dice, amigos?" ("What do you say, friends?") The crowd responded with shouts of "Huelga!" ("Strike!") Preiss put Nelson under arrest and took him to jail in handcuffs.

Election Supplies Ready For Voting

All election boxes are ready and judges from the 29 voting precincts are invited to pick them up today or tomorrow. It is imperative, said Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County court clerk, that the boxes be in the hands of the judges by Friday afternoon. The election is Saturday with the polls opening at 8 a.m. Slightly more than 5,000 ballots have been provided for the election but there is little chance there will be a sizeable turnout for the election. There had been 178 absentee votes cast when the deadline for such voting was reached on Tuesday afternoon. Bulk of the interest seemed to be focussed on the County Commissioner Precinct 2 contest. # Cold Snap Cuts Supply Of Groceries

NEW YORK (AP) — June is bustin' out all over the nation's food markets this week after a long, cool spring. "The cold snap cut normal vegetable and fruit supplies, but with the warm weather, there should be normal supplies starting next week," a New York produce wholesaler said. The cold weather has been particularly hard on food budgets in the Northeast and Midwest. Strawberries have to be flown in from California, and are selling for 59 cents a box in New York City — when you can get them. Leafy vegetables, flown in from Florida, are abnormally high. But corn on the cob is reasonably priced, carrot prices are edging down and celery supplies are good. Peach supplies are starting to build up, and prices should begin their summer drop next week. There are plenty of cantaloupes and they are being featured in many areas this weekend. Potato prices, which were so high last summer, are lower now. So are onions. Egg prices are 1 to 2 cents a dozen lower in the New York area this weekend. They also are down in the Midwest and on the West Coast. Prices are likely to slip a bit further, and then go up again late this summer. Fryers are being featured on the West Coast and in the Midwest and Southeast. Prices are likely to be lower most of the summer. Turkey prices are lower. Beef prices should drop a bit now, and probably increase again in the fall. But prices are spotty.

Two Killed In Plane Crash

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Two men from Sheppard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls were killed Wednesday night when a small private plane hit a power line and crashed. They were T.Sgt. Grady J. Ruth, 38, of Burkburnett, Tex. the pilot, and Airman I.C. Harlan G. Masters, 31, of Kennett, Mo. Both were assigned to duty at the Sheppard recreation area near here on Lake Texoma. Deputy Sheriff Don Teague reported the single-engine Cessna was flying near treetop height and apparently stalled as Ruth sighted the power line and attempted a sudden climb.

Advisor For Girl Scout Area Dies

Mrs. Helen Francis Costlow, 38, wife of Delton M. Costlow and also the advisor of District 4 for the West Texas Girl Scout Council, died in a hospital here at 1:20 p.m. Wednesday. She had a malignancy, and within the past few weeks her condition worsened rapidly. Services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at the Bellvue Church of Christ in Stanton with Roy Phemister, minister, officiating, assisted by Ernest West. Burial will be in the Rest Haven Cemetery at Midland with Gilbreath Funeral Home of Stanton in charge of arrangements. She was a member of the Bellvue church. Mrs. Costlow had been the professional worker responsible for program and extension of Girl Scout work in Howard, Glasscock, Martin, Dawson and Borden counties. While the family lived in Stanton where Mr. Costlow is county supervisor for Farmers Home Administration, Mrs. Costlow maintained offices at the Girl Scout Hut at 1406 Lancaster in Big Spring. She was introduced to Girl Scouting in 1956 when her eldest daughter, Linda, now 17, became a member of a Brownie unit. For two years she was a volunteer before being urged to become a professional in 1958 at Colorado City. Mrs. Costlow was born June 12, 1927, in Guymon, Okla., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pyburn. She met Delton Costlow when they were students in North Texas Agricultural College (North Texas University), and they were married Aug. 31, 1942, in Lovington, N. M., where her father was a veteran school administrator. She had started as a pre-med major but took her degree in home economics from Texas Tech. On May 5, Mrs. Costlow left her sick bed to receive a Girl Scout statuette and the deep thanks of her fellow workers at a Girl Scout district meeting here. Within a week she had returned to the hospital. Mrs. Costlow leaves her husband; three daughters, Linda, Laura and Judith Ann; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pyburn, Lovington, N. M.; a brother, Tom Pyburn, Frank Lake, N. J.; two sisters, Mrs. Dee Fraberry, Artesia, N. M., and Mrs. Fred Moore, Alpine.

Cat-Mouse Game Played By Ships

ABOARD CARRIER ENTERPRISE, Off North Viet Nam (AP) — The Russians and the U. S. 7th Fleet are following each other around in the seas off Viet Nam.

The game is called "Comrade" by the Americans. It's played this way:

A Soviet fishing trawler, equipped with an unusual amount of radar, shows up a few miles from the 90,000-ton, nuclear-powered Enterprise.

Its mission, apart from fishing, is snooping. It wants to find out how many planes are aboard the carrier, how many are launched each day for attacks against North Viet Nam and any other information.

When the trawler shows up, the word goes round the Enterprise: "Comrade is shadowing us again."

A few miles behind, however, the fast nuclear-powered missile frigate Bahnhur is shadowing the Soviet shadower.

This keeps up for a few hours until Comrade drops out of sight, only to reappear a day or two later.

No guns are fired. No one makes any hostile moves. The ships don't even signal each other.

"They seem to want to be friendly," says Capt. James L. Holloway, skipper of the Enterprise.

"We haven't made any contact with them. They have every right to be here on the high seas."

"But I can't imagine what kind of information they're getting. We've got some of our planes below the flight deck which they can't see. The others we keep in motion day and night so they can't have much of an idea of what's going on."

"They don't bother us and we don't bother them."

The word goes round the Enterprise: "Comrade is shadowing us again."

"They seem to want to be friendly," says Capt. James L. Holloway, skipper of the Enterprise.

"We haven't made any contact with them. They have every right to be here on the high seas."

"But I can't imagine what kind of information they're getting. We've got some of our planes below the flight deck which they can't see. The others we keep in motion day and night so they can't have much of an idea of what's going on."

"They don't bother us and we don't bother them."

Banks said, despite the recent resignations, that he feels the department is in better shape than it has been in a number of years.

"I've never seen a time before when every member of the department is so completely loyal," Banks said. "There is more interest in bettering the department, in the community, and in better law enforcement. Supervisors are unequalled by any department of comparable size in the entire state. They are doing a fine job, make independent decisions."

Banks said there are now 25 members of the reserve police force, all of whom serve without pay.

of the bill's sponsors, said the measure was designed to cope with an emergency facing cotton farmers in southwestern Tennessee, hit by heavy rains and flooding.

If the bill doesn't become law immediately, he warned, farmers who did not plant cotton will not have time to sow a substitute crop this year.

"We've just got a little bit of legislation here," he told the Senate.

But Williams said the measure will enable a cotton farmer barred by weather from planting his crop to collect about $105 an acre from the federal government, and then plant a profitable crop such as soybeans in competition with other farmers who were going to plant soybeans anyway.

The bill has cleared the House in a different form.

Sen. John Williams, R-Del., led opposition to the bill and succeeding in writing in an amendment limiting federal payment to $100,000 to any farmer involved. His amendment was adopted 47-37.

Sen. Ross Bass, D-Tenn., one of the bill's sponsors, said the measure was designed to cope with an emergency facing cotton farmers in southwestern Tennessee, hit by heavy rains and flooding.

Moon Pictures Coming In Clear, Scientists Jubilant

The third sequence of about 30 better quality pictures — though some of these were fuzzy, too — were flashed on a TV screen for brief periods less than a minute apart. They were made as the camera, mounted vertically on Surveyor's frame, swiveled about.

They gave further views of parts of the spacecraft, and looked anew at the large rock pictured earlier. "Large" is relative. It appeared no larger than eight to 10 inches across. Long shots looking out over the landscape added no new details.

Further transmissions continued at intervals into the day —

Some shots were expected to be better in quality, experts say, than the nine pictures sent back by the Soviet Union's Luna 9 last Feb. 3.

Surveyor's feat was regarded as a significant advance over Luna 9, which finally scored after at least four failures. The Soviet craft was a 200-pound shock resistant ball containing a camera.

It apparently was ejected several hundred feet above the surface from a carrier vehicle equipped with small retro-rockets. U.S. scientists said its impact probably would kill a man.

Surveyor's main rocket and three guidance rockets slowed its 600 pounds to an estimated 8 miles per hour, then it dropped 14 feet to the surface. Shock absorbers and crushable pads cushioned it. Experts said it apparently was stable all the way down as it balanced on a tongue of flame.

So perfect was the guidance that the landing was within feet of the predicted impact point in the Sea of Storms, a broad dry plain near the western edge of the face of the moon, just south of the lunar equator. It is one of several areas considered as Apollo descent points.

The first picture showed a leg and foot on the soil, snapped as the camera pointed downward in self-examination. The second showed an antenna and beyond that the more distant surface. The third showed a leg, in better focus, resting entirely on the crust.

The second sequence showed an antenna boom and part of the aluminum tubing frame. Then followed others showing a murky landscape, dim and fuzzy and the surface looking gravelly. Some shots showed a distant horizon, with no major features.

The success, which brought shouts of joy from workers assembled at the laboratory, will launch a seven-shot series of Surveyor over 18 months in a style few had dared hope for.

One project official had called Surveyor "probably more difficult and complex than anything yet attempted in space by anyone."

Seven shots were scheduled because the chances of success were so slim. Presumably later shots will aim at different possible manned landing areas. Surveyor's ground shots then will be compared with those from the upcoming Orbiter series, which will make photos as a spacecraft skims as close as 25 miles to the surface and on the basis of this an Apollo site will be selected.

One expert at the laboratory, which controlled the flight, said after seeing the pictures: "It looks like they prepared a landing field for us."

He added that one shot made the surface look "like rough asphalt, but it's still pretty smooth. I'll bet the scientists who predicted a heavy layer of dust on the moon are committing har-kari about now."

PACKED SAND
Dr. Harold Urey, Nobel Prize-winning physicist who viewed the pictures but is not connected with the laboratory, told newsmen, speaking of the surface:

"If it is finely divided material, it looks as if it is sand in a vacuum, well packed down. My theory is that if it is sand in a vacuum, it can be walked on very safely."

The laboratory director, Dr. William H. Pickering, called it a "very successful mission indeed. This is the first time a truly soft landing has been made on the moon."

Clyde Nations, 81, of 907 W. 8th, died at 8:55 a.m. today in a local hospital after an illness of two years.

Mr. Nations had resided in Big Spring since 1927. He was born Aug. 2, 1884, in Coleman, Texas, and married Bessie Hendricks Sept. 30, 1917, in Monahans.

A stationary engineer for the Texas & Pacific Railway, Mr. Nations retired in 1959 after 49 years of service. He was a member of the Firemen and Oilers Local No. 1047, and served as chairman from 1942-66.

He was a member of the West Side Baptist Church and a lifetime member of Masonic Lodge 951, AFAM, in Stanton.

He is survived by his wife, Bessie; two daughters, Mrs. Frank Goodman and Mrs. R. A. Thrantham, both of Big Spring; one son, Lem Nations, Abilene; one brother, O. L. Nations, Kansas City, Mo.; four sisters, Mrs. Press Henry, Oklahoma City, Okla., Mrs. Ernest Langeneger, Haggaman, N. M., Mrs. E. T. Beck, Lamore, Calif., Mrs. Ada Wilson, Newark, Calif.

There are also six grandchildren, one great-granddaughter, and he was preceded in death by a son.

Services are pending in Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

REA Spokesman Supports New Bank For REA Loans

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Rural electric cooperatives, dependent on low-cost government loans for growth capital since passage of the Rural Electrification Act in the New Deal days, Wednesday asked Congress to help them move toward financial independence from the Federal Government.

Jerry L. Anderson, acting general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, told the House agriculture committee that the consumer-owned power systems need to bring funds from the private money market into the rural electrification program to supplement the existing REA loan program.

Testifying in favor of bills which would create a new Federal Bank for Rural Electric Systems, Anderson said the proposed bank would provide a "credit ladder by which the rural electric, as they grow in financial strength and maturity, can move from complete dependence of federal financing to eventual self-sufficiency."

There is an ever-increasing amount of capital required by systems to keep pace with the growing demand for electricity in rural America, he said. Otherwise the nation's nearly 1,000 rural electric cooperatives will be hampered in efforts of providing adequate, low-cost electric service to their five and a half million members.

Anderson said a two-year study of future capital needs of the rural electric made by his association and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., a leading New York investment firm, showed that the cooperatives will need $9.5 billion in growth capital in the next 15 years — nearly twice the amount used since the beginning of the rural electrification program.

The only source of capital now is the REA 2 per cent loan program, which he said would be necessary for many of the units serving thinly-settled rural regions.

"It appears unrealistic, however, to expect congress to appropriate all of the ever-increasing amounts which will be needed for future growth. The rural electric systems, as locally-owned and operated private enterprises, do not want to remain 'wards' of the federal government forever."

Although 98 per cent of the nation's farms have been electrified, the job is far from finished. Since 1935 when investor-owned companies achieved a similar mark for rural areas, nearly 50 billion dollars has been spent.

Judge's Car Hit In Wreck

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Robert C. Harmon, 27, of Kilgore, Tex., was driving a semi-trailer truck in downtown Pueblo when he started a right turn into a driveway.

Harmon told police he didn't see the automobile in the right lane beside him. His truck scraped a shiny new car, the property of a Pueblo auto agency which was being test-driven by a prospective customer. Police estimated the damage at $200.

The driver of the car, Fred J. Mack, 53, said he was sure the matter could be settled. Mack is magistrate of Pueblo municipal court which handles such cases.

Block Dismissal Of Old Divorce Cases Cuts Load

Block dismissal by Judge Ralph Caton of 118th District Court of 71 old divorce suits during May dented the total number of cases on file in the court despite a fairly heavy filing of new cases during the month.

The total number of cases on file as May ended was 1,903 compared with 1,967 for the end of April, said Fern Cox, district clerk.

Divorces, due to the court's dismissal action, showed the sharpest drop. There were 241 divorce suits on file when May began. Twenty-four new cases were dismissed. Total as of May 31 was 468.

There were 47 criminal cases on file on April 30. No new cases were filed in May. One case was disposed of by jury verdict, two by the court, and one was dismissed. This left 43 cases pending in criminal division when the month ended.

As of May 31, there were 115 cases on the books in which jury fees have been paid.

Signing As Volunteers

First boy and girl to register for the Veterans Administration Hospital volunteer program yesterday were Barbara Grifford and Roger Klonka. Seated are Mrs. John Staulcup and Miss Patty Henderson, both volunteer workers.

First Signup Draws 36 Youths As VA Volunteers

Orientation began for 36 youths at the Veterans Administration Hospital Wednesday. C. E. McDonnell, chief, medical administrative service, expects about 50 to enroll in the program. The list will be swelled by many youths re-enlisting. The hospital attempts to place the young men and women in capacities that will allow them to use their natural skills and talents. Many of those who participate commute from surrounding cities. Four drive from Odessa each day, and are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. They are Judy Russell, Patricia Farmer, Tanya Moore, and Connie Elchor. Starting Friday a normal tour of duty is from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m., with lunch being provided free by the hospital. In one special instance, Jo Ann Zanders, of 503 Nolan, will work a special shift of 1-4 p.m. Monday through Thursday in order to help with supper feeding of patients in the chronic ward. Junior volunteers must be at least 15-years-old. One of the girls from Odessa, McDonnell added, is a high school graduate. Some of the duties performed by the workers include escorting patients, helping take and develop X-rays, assisting in the lab, processing applications in admissions, working in the library and with the chaplain, and assisting in occupational therapy and in recreation. "Many of these duties may not seem important," McDonnell explained, "But they really are vital to the functioning of the hospital. Also, the work encourages youths to pursue careers in health fields." The VA hospital uses 14 volunteers a day for its nursing service alone. Mrs. Ara Cunningham, who is director of volunteer services, will be in charge of the young helpers. Some of those organizations assisting in the volunteer program are the American Legion Auxiliary, the American Red Cross, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Kiwanis Club, Parent-Teachers Association, City Council, Explorer Scouts, Catholic Community Service, and Future Homemakers of America. Beginning with orientation Wednesday, the hospital started making a movie of the activities of the volunteer workers. The movie will be compiled as the year progresses, edited, and then shown at the awards banquet at the end of the work period. Next year the film will be shown to local school groups to encourage others to join.

Fortune Left To Family Dogs

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—The poodles and four kerryblue dogs are beneficiaries of a $173,311 estate left by a Spokane dowager. Mrs. Columbia W. Steltz left instructions that a suitable kennel be furnished and a caretaker be hired to look after the dogs. The trust for the dogs ends in 20 years and then is to be distributed to various persons, a church and a hospital.

Legion Will Elect Officers

Officers for the Howard County Post 355 of the American Legion will be elected this evening. There will be a free buffet dinner prior to the 8 o'clock meeting, said Commander Carl Knappe. Roscoe Cone, chairman of the nominating committee, reported to Knappe that a complete slate will be presented for consideration at the meeting. Nominations also may be received from the floor. "This is a most important meeting," said Knappe. "I urge all members to attend. It is their duty and their right to choose their leaders for the ensuing year." The buffet will begin at 7 p.m. in the Legion Hut.

Graduates From Houston School

Some 1,700 University of Houston students are candidates for degrees and diplomas at commencement exercises on Saturday on the UH campus. The commencement speaker will be Dr. O. Meredith Wilson, president of the University of Minnesota. Scheduled to receive degrees from the Big Spring area is Jefferson Gale Kilgore, certificate in optometry.

Honor Students May Take Special Summer Institute

A special Summer Honors Institute will be held for Big Spring High School juniors June 13 through July 15, according to John M. Talmadge, institute director and high school counselor. Students will be selected on the basis of superior credentials, past experience with students in the upper intelligence levels, and ability to explore subject areas in depth. There will be no tuition cost for the institute, and books will be furnished. Students will have to furnish their own normal classroom materials. Students will assemble in the Goliad cafeteria on June 13 to begin the sessions. Dr. C. L. Ainsworth will then speak to the group on "The Quest for Excellence." The institute, held in conjunction with the Texas Education Agency, will provide a no-credit program designed entirely for promoting academic excellence. No grades will be given. The Big Spring Independent School District has hired teachers to conduct the program. Talmadge said. Teaching language arts will be Mrs. Lila Brewster, and instructing mathematics will be Don Green. "These two teachers were selected because of superior credentials, past experience with students in the upper intelligence levels, and ability to explore subject areas in depth," added Talmadge. There will be no tuition cost for the institute, and books will be furnished. Students will have to furnish their own normal classroom materials. Students will assemble in the Goliad cafeteria on June 13 to begin the sessions. Dr. C. L. Ainsworth will then speak to the group on "The Quest for Excellence."

Heart-Lifting Development

One of the most heart-lifting endeavors in our society is the effort to give the mentally retarded the best possible chance to live useful, satisfying lives. This effort is carried on by many groups, both private and public. They approach the task in a variety of ways, and have made notable progress.

President Johnson's creation of a national committee on mental retardation can be expected to give vigorous impetus to this work. At the very least, the group headed by Secretary Gardner of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare should do much to coordinate what is being done by private organizations and by agencies of federal, state and local governments.

The need for better coordination, and the possibilities of achieving it, is one of the committee's two principal concerns. The other, equally important, is to generate more support for the efforts of professional organizations, citizens' groups and others to help the mentally retarded.

This is the keynote: To help those thus afflicted. And it is a far from negligible side result that, as they are helped, society as a whole also will receive benefits. Creation of a presidential committee is a promising step in this direction. It will be matched by action on the local front.

Liza Across The Ice Floes

The passing years have made a farce of the perennial chore of raising the federal debt limit. Congress could, of course, put the federal government out of its misery and refuse to raise the temporary limit, permitting the debt to drop to its permanent level of $285 billion. But members haven't quite summoned up enough courage to do that.

The House Ways and Means Committee has reported out a bill raising the temporary limit to $330 billion, from last year's $328 billion. The Treasury Department is unhappy, having asked for a $332-billion ceiling.

But the Senate could approve a $332-billion ceiling and a conference committee might be able to agree on a $331-billion limit, whereupon everyone would be happy, and the atmosphere of Liza hustling across the ice with hounds in swift pursuit would be perpetuated.

This annual spectacle is hardly an elevating one. A big new tax bill would be the straightforward answer to the problem. It may be required, too, when all the bills for Viet Nam are in, even after the debt ceiling has been raised.

Curbing Campaign Excesses

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has sent a communication to Congress urging that the statutes dealing with the financing of political campaigns be strengthened. He said the existing laws are "obsolete, too narrow and inadequate" and "invite evasion and circumvention." He declared they must be revised.

The President's message is constructive so far as it goes, especially in recommending that there be "complete public disclosure of campaign funds" by all candidates as well as revelations also by members of Congress of gifts and income.

BUT THE central difficulty is ignored. It is that huge organizations collect money under various kinds of duress and use the funds, in effect, as a means of buying elections. They exert pressure on members of Congress as well as officials of state and city governments to get favorable action on measures in which these organizations usually have a financial interest. If ever there was a "conflict of interest," it is in this anomaly.

At present, a national political committee singly cannot raise or spend more than $3 million in any year. But there is no limit on the number of committees that can be created and, as the President says, the federal restriction does not apply at all to committees active in only one state.

SIGNIFICANTLY, Mr. Johnson points out that the present law does not limit spending by state committees which incidentally aid federal candidates. This help is given when campaign speeches are made for the party as a whole. Candidates for federal offices and local nominees benefit from the same effort and from the boosts that are given at mass meetings to urge the citizen to vote a straight-party ticket.

Then there are the primary contests which have never been covered by federal laws. Yet in many states a nomination won in a primary is equivalent to victory in the final election.

COMPLETE disclosure, however, of who furnishes the money and in what amount will not alone uproot the evils in the present methods of conducting political campaigns. There will be no real clean-up of the campaign scandals in the United States and no assurance that elections are not being bought until a limit is placed on the amount of money that any organization which is interested in legislation pending in Congress can raise and contribute to political campaigns.

FOR MANY years, there have been limits on the size of individual contributions, but there is no ceiling on what a labor organization, for instance, can raise. Both corporations and labor unions have been forbidden to contribute to political campaigns of candidates for federal office, but they manage just the same, directly or indirectly, to make contributions to state political funds and campaign activities from which nominees for federal office derive considerable benefit.

SOME DISCLOSURES are made under present laws as to the amounts of money contributed, but no congressional committee has ever delved penetratingly into the way by which campaign funds are raised or how the money is used to benefit particular candidates for public office. If this were undertaken, it would be found that many a member of Congress is beholden to organizations which have raised enough money to put him in office and to keep him there, provided he supports the legislation in which they have a vested interest.

THIS IS just another form of buying elections, but public opinion never seems to have been aroused on the subject, though individual incidents here and there have at times been exposed. Maybe the President's new communication to Congress will at least focus attention on the political corruption that exists in America due to the misuse of campaign contributions.

Sold Straw

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP) — Farmer Elton Martin drove away from the farm distinctly remembering he had 200 bales of straw in the barn. When he returned he found the barnyard littered with straw and the store of straw gone.

He hurriedly checked with neighbors and found a straw buyer had stopped at the wrong place. He found the straw buyer 15 miles away and discovered that his straw had already been unloaded.

Martin made a deal, deciding it easier to sell his straw than to have it hauled back to his barn.

A Waiting, Guessing Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of American policy toward Red China is a guessing game, including the hope it will change its ways, and now there are rumbles there. But that doesn't mean change, if it comes, will come soon.

That there has been discontent with the present leadership in Red China has been clear for weeks, giving some support to the hope that in time, when younger leaders take over, some of the present fanaticism will disappear.

IT IS FOR this reason, that so much of American policy toward Red China has been aimed at preventing the Chinese from gobbling up the rest of Asia now.

Last March Secretary of State Dean Rusk put it this way: "It is just as essential to 'contain' Communist aggression in Asia as it is, and is, to 'contain' Communist aggression in Europe."

In recent months there have been continued attacks on Chinese intellectuals by the government of Mao Tse-tung. But until now the dissidents have simply been rebuked or downgraded, so far as is known.

Now the Chinese government is attacking Ten To, once its leading spokesman as editor of the official People's Daily. There are indications he will be brought to trial and purged.

IT MIGHT be the start of a far wider purge and thus become a repetition of what happened in Russia under Stalin in the 1930s. He began his purges in 1934, just 17 years after the Bolshevik revolution took Russia.

It's been almost 17 years since the Chinese Communists took control of the China mainland, making it seem that within less than a generation after a Red revolution younger people get fed up with the fanatic old masters.

There can be no doubt Mao has wrought many beneficial changes for the Chinese people since he and his group of lieutenants after two decades of trying seized the mainland.

But the Chinese people have had a tough time on the road to progress. Meanwhile, the Mao leadership has made them hostile to most of the world with anti-Western and even anti-Russian propaganda.

AT THE same time the Chinese have seen their leadership suffer defeats and rebuffs around the world. They have nothing to look forward to but even more isolation from the rest of the world, including most of the Communist world.

How To Pick One

By BILL DEAN
OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — She's a bright-eyed blonde with a wild and wonderful watusi?

In the kitchen she's a regular Mary Margaret McBride? Break it to her gently, boy. She's not for you.

The way to pick a wife is the way J. Edgar Hoover picks a G-man. Find a girl who's an accountant or an attorney.

A wife should be a helpmate. Think you need help in the kitchen? Not with television dinners, not with cakes that come in boxes, not with electric dishwashers you don't.

A married man's problem is not food. It's his bank account, his income tax, his hospitalization insurance, his time payments.

It's not the chick's figure you should be interested in — it's the way she figures. The emphasis is on the fiscal, not the physical.

Right at the beginning you'll need one of those big beer coolers the girls call refrigerators. Is it cheaper to pay $3.27 a week on a time payment contract the credit department shoves at you, or should you borrow the money from your company credit union at one per cent a month? Cash? What's that?

A bright girl with an abacus in her purse can give you the straight pitch before you have time to make your first big mistake.

Marriage is the sound institution it is today because we protect ourselves against unforeseen emergencies with things like major medical insurance. All that is required from the insured is a payroll deduction, a big filing cabinet, and a clever bookkeeper with plenty of time to keep records, correspond with the medical and dental professions, and make a few trigonometric computations.

There's also hospital insurance, surgical insurance, accident insurance, mortgage, fire and wind insurance on your house, liability insurance, insurance covering repairs to the television set and washing machine, five kinds of car insurance, camera insurance, and life insurance on everybody including the dog.

In early spring comes the Form 1040. You've finally saved a buck and invested it — wisely, if you listened to a wife who has had time to digest brokers' reports and pour over the financial pages every day. Now you discover Schedule D. Do you have a long-term capital loss carry-over from preceding taxable years? Or a gain from disposition of depreciable property under sections 1245 and 1250?

If you played your cards right in the beginning, you can be playing pool while your wife works this all out.

It's true the supply of lady lawyers and accountants available for marriage is limited. But there are alternatives. For instance, a girl who can repair electrical appliances will save you a mint.

Or you can fall back on the classic solution. Marry a rich widow.

To Your Good Health

Common-Sense View Of Preventive Medicine

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Periodically, somebody says, "Why don't you write more about preventive medicine?" When I am in a sufficiently argumentative mood, I sometimes reply, "What do you think I'm trying to write about practically ALL the time?"

There are a few well-known and basic rules of health: Sane eating, fresh air, exercise, sufficient rest, keeping vaccinations up to date, avoiding things known to be toxic or harmful. That's about it — plus one more: Getting treatment when something begins to grow wrong instead of waiting until the problem has become worse.

Therefore today's answer is very much a part of preventive medicine.

Dear Dr. Molner: Several years ago I suffered from hemorrhoids but someone recommended a salve. After I used it a few times, the swelling stopped and I had no trouble. About a year later I started to bleed. There is soreness after my bowels move, and sometimes my stomach pains, and sometimes nothing passes but blood. Could I have cancer?—L.L.L.

I suppose you COULD have cancer. Anyone might. But it's certainly more likely that you are just experiencing the usual result when hemorrhoids are allowed to get worse and worse.

Hemorrhoids, like varicose veins, hernias, bad teeth and many other things, never get better by themselves. They can only get worse until they are treated effectively.

Salves give temporary relief but do not cure, as you know.

Hemorrhoids (or "piles") are varicose veins, but going under an alias because of their location at the rectum. At first the veins are swollen. Then they may itch or be painful. Ultimately they become irritated enough so they bleed. Yet some people put up with the condition for years. They become constipated, develop anemia, and are utterly miserable. Quite often they worry about cancer, and still don't do the thing that is logical: They should go to the doctor and get the condition corrected.

Yes, there will be a few painful days after an operation, and there will be discomfort for a time afterward when the patient — if he is wise — has several di-lations to prevent future trouble. Still, it's a small price to pay to put an end to years of annoyance, misery and fear.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 63 and have diabetes but after two months of medication and diet I got it pretty much under control. I can now cheat a little and not have sugar show on the test-tape. However, when I hold the tape with my fingers, that part turns green. Can you tell me why?—MRS. M.G.

Yes, because there's a trace of sugar in the moisture on your fingers. The tapes are quite sensitive. Don't brag about your ability to cheat on your diet. You are still cutting down on the margin of safety you have built up, and the only one you cheat is yourself.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

The Early Start

Being remarkably unqualified to speak from any pinnacle of knowledge, I still feel like the proposal to allow 4-5-year-olds into public schools a good one. Many folks are putting their youngsters into schools of one kind or another anyway. For the most part, only the disadvantaged families do not.

THE REPORT of the Educational Policies Commission stated that these disadvantaged children "are in the greatest need for early schooling, for they are most in need of help in developing their ability to live independently and creatively in a modern society."

This is not to limit the benefits of such a program to these children. All youngsters in this age group would gain significantly from earlier attendance in school, the commission promised.

ALTHOUGH the recommendation calls for federal support of such a program, the fact remains that the local community will probably be called upon to provide the backbone, in bigger plants, program and teachers. That is to say, such an expanded program is going to cost money — at the local level.

Communities already straining under a heavy tax burden to provide adequate educational facilities, might be hard-pressed to add another two years of program. While a community might be sold on the fact it should begin instruction at an earlier age, it might be a more difficult matter to sell them on providing the additional tax money.

TRUE, COMMUNITIES in some areas are more than willing to provide whatever is necessary in the way of educational facilities for its younger generation. But this is not necessarily a widespread feeling. In many parts of the country, communities do not today provide even a bare or adequate program.

The key to the question, it seems to me, is the commission's finding that "education in this two year period (4-5-year-olds) can affect the character of the child and all his future life more deeply than his education at any later period."

IF THAT is true, then perhaps it would be better to start youngsters earlier in school and graduate them younger — than is, just keep them in the system the same 12 years. If that is true, then the costs of the program should be secondary to getting it started.

The Year Of The 'No' Vote

WASHINGTON—Unless it was 1946, the year that gave us the 80th Congress, it is hard to recall an election season which put more stress on the power of negative thinking.

This need not be a bad omen by any means. All morality is based on the will power to say "no," and the United States has been skidding along on the Oscar Wilde theory that the only way to get rid of a temptation is to give in to it. Most of the Ten Commandments and most of the Bill of Rights are made up of negations. So also are the issues of the 1966 campaign.

IT IS INCONCEIVABLE, to start with the top issue, that the country will give President Johnson a positive endorsement on the Viet Nam war. At best, the people will take the negative line of telling him not to quit. This means that Democrats who are "loyal" to their leader, such as Douglas of Illinois, will ironically be helped along by a very unpopular war. But it also means, if the signs are true, that Republicans, such as Miller of Iowa, will be aided for criticizing the President for a sin of omission—not having done more to prosecute the same unpopular war. It is negativism compounded.

THEN THERE is the matter of a tax increase. Nobody favors more taxes, and yet the President is politically vulnerable because he has seemed to consent to higher prices by refusing to choose greater taxation. The congressional candidates who accuse LBJ of being indifferent to the pinch on the lower and middle income groups are sure to engender some sympathy for these views. It will be one of the paradoxes of political history if the President's party suffers for not socking the taxpayer. Yet this could happen, because people would be voting "no" on an inflation of their household costs.

THE SLEEPING ISSUE of the campaign, according to the veteran campaign manager for congressmen, Rep. Bob Wilson (R., Calif.) is how great a "no" the people want to say to the almost-omnipotent LBJ. With only 141 votes in the House, the veto power of the minority party is puny, and the once-reliable coalition of Republican and Democratic conservatives is gone with the wind.

SEVERAL OF the minority groups, usually with the Democrats, are thinking this year of denying their votes to that party. George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, is still so sore over LBJ's failure to repeal the right-to-work section 14-B of the Labor Act that his theme song has become, "Who needs Democrats?" With the left wing Negro cliques boycotting the White House, and militant peace-mongers like Sen. Morse backing Johnson opponents of the Viet Nam policy, the national leadership will have to do without support of many intellectuals who were with it in defeat and victory throughout the Stevenson and Kennedy years. Finally, there are the farmers, who appear to have a rebuke in store for those who wear the brand of the Tall Texan.

THE 80TH CONGRESS, chosen under the slogan, "Had Enough?" gave us the North Atlantic Alliance and the Taft-Hartley Act, the bedrock legislative feats of 20 years. If a lot of yes men are left home after November, the 80th Congress may be one to remember.

It's All Free Enterprise

WASHINGTON — Every time you pick up the newspaper you read about one company merging with another company. Of course, we have laws to protect competition in the United States, but one can't help thinking that, if the trend continues, the whole country will soon be merged into one large company.

It is 1975 and by this time every company west of the Mississippi will have merged into one giant corporation known as Samson Securities. Every company east of the Mississippi will have merged under an umbrella corporation known as the Delliah Company.

IT IS INEVITABLE that one day the chairman of the board of Samson and the president of Delliah would meet and discuss merging their two companies.

"If we could get together," the president of Delliah said, "we would be able to finance your projects and you would be able to finance ours." "Exactly what I was thinking," the chairman of Samson said. "Our only chance of survival in this country is to diversify, and if we merged, we wouldn't have to worry about unfair competition."

THE MEN SHOOK on it and then they sought out approval from the Anti-Trust Division of the Justice Department.

At first the head of the Anti-Trust Division indicated that he might have reservations about allowing the only two companies left in the United States to merge.

"Our department," he said, "will take a close look at this proposed merger. It is our job to further competition in private business and industry, and if we allow Samson and Delliah to merge we may be doing the consumer a disservice."

THE CHAIRMAN of Samson protested vigorously that merging with Delliah would not stifle competition, but would help it. "The public will be the true beneficiary of this merger," he said. "The larger we are, the more services we can perform, and the lower prices we can charge."

The president of Delliah backed him up. "In the Communist system the people don't have a choice. They must buy from the state. In our capitalistic society the people can buy from either the Samson Company or the Delliah Company."

"BUT IF YOU merge," someone pointed out, "there will be only one company left in the United States."

"Exactly," said the president of Delliah. "Thank God for the free enterprise system."

The Anti-Trust Division of the Justice Department studied the merger for months. Finally the Attorney-General made his ruling. "While we find some drawbacks to only one company being left in the United States, we feel the advantages to the public far outweigh the disadvantages."

"THEREFORE, we're making an exception in this case and allowing Samson and Delliah to merge."

"I would also like to announce that the Samson and Delliah Company is now negotiating at the White House with the President to buy the United States. The Justice Department will naturally study this merger to see if it violates any of our strong anti-trust laws."

Under Bangs

BEIRUT (AP) — Lebanese schoolgirls are wearing such fancy hairdoes that cheating is spreading in the classrooms, one college mistress complains.

The director of Beirut's French Protestant College declared that the girl's heads are so shrouded in drooping hair that teachers can no longer see their students' eyes, and the girls are copying each other's work at their desks.

Beirut girl students are singularly fashion conscious, and many a schoolgirl spends her lunch hour — and her allowance — at the neighborhood beauty parlor.

Hairdoes at the Protestant College, one of the city's biggest girls' schools, will be simpler from now on, however. The schoolmistress paid a call on the head of the Colfures Syndicate and made him order all beauty parlors to refuse to give low-hanging cuts to any of her students.

College And Military Duty Claim Most Of '65 Grads

By TOM BARRY
Almost three out of four graduates of Big Spring High School go to college, and nearly two out of three stay there at least through the first year. Slightly over one of 10 go to work full time immediately, but after a year they find themselves mostly in the same spots. Next to college, the military takes the biggest bite out of the graduating class—one of five. These are some of the highlights from a study made by Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services for the status was obtainable on the remaining 46.

BREAKDOWN
Of the 1965 graduates, 218, or 58.44 per cent, are attending college; 21, or 5.33 per cent, are in the military; 49, or just over 10 per cent, are working full time; 6 are working part time. Thirty are homeowners, 8.04 per cent; 56 are listed "not known"; and two are dead. Of the students in college, 18 worked full time and 78 part time. One hundred and 50 of the 218 going to college are registered at Howard County Junior College. Attending other colleges and universities are Texas Tech, 6; University of Texas, 5; Baylor, 5; TCU, 3; McMurry, 2; SMU, 2; Angelo State, 2; other Texas schools, 12; out-of-state schools, 5; and business or other special colleges, 8.

START AND DROP
Another 28 students indicated that they started to college last September, but dropped out for various reasons. Reasons and number of students are: To go to work, 8; to enter service, 4; to get married, 3; lack of interest, 4; no comment, 9. Three more went to beauty school and completed the course.

Of the 21 students now in the armed services, 7 are in the Army; 6 in the Marine Corps; 4 in the Navy, and 4 in the Air Force.
Fulltime employment affects 40 former students. Dr. Ainsworth notes: "It is interesting that after one year, 32 of these students are still holding the job they took when they graduated."
JOB CATEGORIES
The job categories of the 1965 graduates holding full time jobs are: secretarial or clerical, 9; sales clerks, 5; beauticians, 3; construction, 3; grocery clerks, 3; janitors, 3; service station attendants, 3; nursing, 2; telephone installers, 2; farming, music teaching, and truck driving, 1 each; no indication, 4.
Six students are working part time only, and five of them have made provision to enter college in September.
Thirty ex-students are full-time homemakers.

Claims Agent On SS Staff

The addition of Jack L. Ashcraft to the staff at the Social Security District Office was announced today by Erven Fisher, district manager.
Ashcraft will be a claims representative. He has been with Social Security since February of this year. He has just completed a three months intensive training program and this is his first permanent assignment.
A native of Wichita Falls, Ashcraft is a veteran of the Korean War and a graduate of Midwestern University. He is married and the family includes four children. The family will soon make permanent living arrangements here.
With the addition of Ashcraft, the staff now numbers 12. The office at 1009 Gregg Street serves Howard and six surrounding counties with 8,337 beneficiaries receiving $522,338 per month as of the end of 1965. According to Fisher, this number has been increased substantially this year by the addition of people now eligible due to recent changes in the law.

Don't Expect Miracles, Johnson Tells Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has cautioned Negroes not to expect presidential miracles in the struggle against racial injustice.

"No national government, however enlightened, can by itself change the conditions of Negro life in America," he told his White House Conference on Civil Rights Wednesday night.

But he brought the 2,400 delegates to their feet with the measured declaration that "we are moving — we shall not turn back."

He pledged "to give my days, and such talents as I have been given, to the pursuit of justice and opportunity for those so long denied that."

Johnson's unannounced appearance at the conference was seen by many delegates as a morale booster to an event that had limped from the starting line in a welter of parliamentary squabbling.

Discussions of the planning council's 100 recommendations to bring the Negro into full equality in jobs, housing, education and justice resume today at a midtown hotel.

In the last few hours before the conference ends, delegates will have their hard-won chance to vote on the resolutions to be tacked onto the council recommendations in a report to the President.

It is here that the Viet Nam issue may be injected into the two-day conference for the first time. Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality has promised resolutions "dealing with the effect of the war in Viet Nam on the Negro in the ghetto."

"We have made mistakes," Johnson said in his soft-spoken address. "We will make others for we know our weaknesses. We will arouse hopes as we have already done that cannot be quickly fulfilled.

"Do not expect from me, or any man, a miracle. Do not expect us, even together to put right in one year or four all that took centuries to make wrong."

Marks Birthday With Big Party

LONDON (AP) — Oil millionaire Nubar Gulbenkian celebrated his 70th birthday Wednesday by entertaining 400 guests at a London hotel.

The party included a huntsman who heralded Gulbenkian's 70 years with a hunting horn; a pipes and drum band to pipe in a huge cake; four belly dancers from Istanbul; 100 pounds of caviar flown from Moscow; a barrel of Havana cigars; 800 orchids, and, of course, plenty of champagne.

Levelland Bank Men Sentenced

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A story of manipulations, including payment to fictitious persons, unfolded in U.S. district court where two former Levelland bank officials pleaded guilty to misapplication of bank and mail fraud. The two—Paul Howe Noe, 37, of Atlanta, Ga., and Clifford Dixon Noe, 38, of Dallas—were given suspended sentences and placed on probation for three years by Dist. Judge Joseph B. Dooley.

They had been sentenced to two five-year prison terms each upon pleading guilty to misapplication of funds while they were directors of First National Bank of Levelland and to mail fraud and fraud by wire in connection with a $25,500 loan transaction at Wynnewood State Bank of Dallas.

Five other federal indictments against the brothers were dismissed by Judge Dooley after a motion by Assistant U.S. Dist. Atty. Bob Travis.

Travis said the defendants obtained more than 50 per cent of the common stock of Levelland's First National Bank from an individual later identified as Richard Turner of Lubbock about Dec. 9, 1963.

Travis told the court that the Noe brothers then had themselves named directors about Dec. 14, 1963, and began causing disbursements of bank funds for their own benefit.

The assistant district attorney said in one instance they caused the bank to disburse a total of $37,900 purportedly as consideration for four notes. He said the notes were made by Edmund W. Hurt, C. D. Dixon, Phillip Clark and P. S. Sanford.

"Hurt and Clark are actual persons, but their names were forged to the notes," Travis declared. "Dixon and Sanford are fictitious persons."

False financial statements were allegedly used in obtaining loans from a Houston bank, thus raising the purchase price of the Levelland bank stock. A number of other methods used to obtain money were cited by the prosecution.

Pack Earns Blue Ribbon For Entry In Exposition

Cub Pack 100, sponsored by St. Paul Presbyterian Church, won a blue ribbon for its booth in the recent exposition, it was announced at the meeting held Tuesday evening at Birdwell Park.

Awards were made to a number for work and ticket sales for the show. A highlight of the meeting was a visit by A. D. Blount of Pet-A-Zoo and his tiger. Den 3 continued the theme with a skit on jungle style show.

Joe Horton, cubmaster, presided; Den 4 had the opening; Birt Allison the invocation; Den 1 the refreshments. Mrs. Rocky Allen was introduced as new den mother for No. 2.

Ruth Ward On BSSH Staff

Mrs. Ruth E. Ward has been named assistant volunteer coordinator at the Big Spring State Hospital. She has been a secretary at the hospital for a year and a half.

Mrs. Ward will be in charge of placing the volunteer workers into suitable working categories, as well as doing public relations work in providing a liaison between the hospital and the community.

Having lived in Big Spring for the past five years, Mrs. Ward and her husband, Joe, moved from Odessa where they resided for nine years. Ward is the store manager for Oil Well Supply Company.

A graduate of Greeley High School in Greeley, Colo., Mrs. Ward attended the University of Wyoming. She is a member of the Big Spring Progressive Forum.

The Wards have one child, Susan, 12, and they reside at 2407 Allendale.

Jackson Swipes Another One

Houston's rookie shortstop, Sonny Jackson, stole second in the first inning of the game with Cincinnati Wednesday night to put him near Los Angeles' Manny Willis in that department. Umpire John Kibler gave the safe signal as Jackson watched him for the decision. Too late with the tag was Cincinnati's Pete Rose as the Red's shortstop Leo Carcenas looked on. Astros won, 2-0, to give Jim Maloney his first defeat of the season. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Allen Can't Throw But Bat Is Torrid

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Rich Allen can't throw over 60 feet, but he's having no difficulty hitting over 400. Philadelphia's star third baseman, who missed 20 games with a dislocated right shoulder, is recuperating in the outfield and making the Phillies healthy with his bat.

Allen drove in four runs — three of them with a 447-foot home run — Wednesday night as the Phillies rallied for a 7-4 victory in the second game and completed a sweep of their doubleheader against Chicago. Philadelphia won the opener, 4-3. It was Allen's second 400-foot homer since returning to the line-up last week. He's had nine hits in 30 swings and shows a season's average of .338. With him back, the Phils have won six of eight.

Elsewhere Wednesday night, Willie Mays hit his 517th career home run as San Francisco edged Atlanta 4-3, Los Angeles

Public Hearings On Game Problems Slated In Area

AUSTIN—The greatest boom-or-bust, natural attraction in Texas is due for the perennial preliminary treatment by the state's myriad sportsmen, or their representatives. This would mean the upcoming formal consideration of hunting and fishing provisions in the 184 counties placed by law under the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for direct wildlife harvest arrangements. The department has regulatory responsibility for setting seasons, bag limits and means and methods for taking game birds, game animals, fur bearing animals and fish in a majority of Texas counties. It has formally set up a schedule of public hearings in the affected counties for the period from June 5-9. Out of these meetings which will be conducted by department personnel will come the first recommendations for harvest provisions for the next year. This, of course, means recommendations from the landowner and sportsmen field, filtered through the department's broad facility, for next fall's hunting seasons. Counties not designated by the legislature for having their fish and game managed directly by the department, follow harvest procedures set up by the legislature itself. Here is the schedule of meetings, as pertaining to the area:

Big Spring, 2 p.m., June 7, courthouse; Colorado City, 10 a.m., June 7, courthouse; Stanton, 8 p.m., June 7, courthouse; Big Lake, 2 p.m., June 8, courthouse; Lamesa, 2 p.m., June 8, courthouse; Goliad, 8 a.m., June 8, courthouse; Sterling City, 2 p.m., June 8, courthouse; Garden City, 8 p.m., June 8, courthouse.

BS Hardware Wins, 8-5

Big Spring Hardware pushed a run across the plate in the seventh inning to edge by the Duncan Drillers, 4-3, in Hi-Junior Teenage league play here Wednesday night. Johnny Ramirez and Robert Money combined to set the Drillers down with four hits. Ramirez was credited with the victory.

A hit by Claud Tucker after two men had been retired won the game for the Hardware club. Tucker and Ford Farris each hit safely twice for the winners while Jerry Ryan had a double and a single for the Drillers.

Yankees' Belated Surge Wins, 8-5
The Yanks exploded for seven runs in the sixth inning and went on to win an 8-5 Sophomore-league decision over the Lions here Wednesday night.

Charlie Rodriguez and Felix Martinez divided time on the mound for the Yanks, surrendering six credits for the win. Randy Womack and Jackie Chane each had two hits for the Lions.

Rebels Tounce Red Sox, 2-0
Leon Hobbs and Gary Hinds teamed up to lead the Rebels past the Red Sox, 2-0, in a Sophomore Teenage league game here Tuesday night.

Hobbs set the Red Sox down with one hit. That was a fifth inning single by Larry Brown. Hobbs fanned nine, walked three and nicked three with pitches. George Pedro and Gary Hinds scored the run for the winners. Hinds doubled in the fourth and made his way home without the aid of a hit.

Lawyer Hired To Push Bid For Brodie

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers has thrown the ball to an attorney in lining up for his 1966 contract negotiations while the price war between pro football leagues rages.

The 31-year-old veteran, who set a National Football League completion record last season, engaged John Elliot Cook to represent him.

That came just a day after Don Klosterman, general manager for Houston in the American Football League, told of talks with the 49er star in the Texas city.

In San Francisco, that brought immediate speculation that the former Stanford great might be considering a switch of allegiance.

Brodie politely refused to discuss the situation. Asked about the Houston visit, he said, "I read a lot in the papers about the trip."

The 49ers say Brodie's 1965 contract contained the option clause for his services in 1966. Under established club policy, officials would not discuss either prior contracts or present negotiations.

There were reports the ace passer received in the neighborhood of $40,000 last year and wanted $75,000 this time, perhaps spaced over a number of years.

Klosterman said he and Brodie have been friends for years and admitted they discussed football during the weekend. The Houston official added that Brodie "feels that the Pete Gogolak deal opened up a new avenue for him."

Belmont Stakes Next For Top 3-Year-Olds

NEW YORK (AP) — Trainers of nine 3-year-olds mapped out today the strategy which they hope will carry their finely tuned thoroughbreds to victory Saturday in the 98th running of the Belmont Stakes and ruin favored Kausal King's bid for the turf's Triple Crown.

To some the strategy calls for sending their horses out in front at the start of the 1 1/2 miles with the hope that they'll have enough left to win when they reach the home stretch.

To others the plans call for keeping Kausal King within range and hoping their horses can outfinish the winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness.

A third group includes those who'll have their horses trail far off the early pace and then attempt to strike fast in the stretch, when the leaders are expected to tire.

But to a man, the trainers agree that the best thing they have going for them is the last quarter-mile of Aqueduct's racing oval. They are not sure their charges can go 1 1/2 miles. But neither are they sure that Kausal King can do it. None ever have raced that far and only one—King Ranch's Buffle—ever has worked the Belmont distance.

Canny Max Hirsch, who has saddled four Belmont winners, sent Buffle 1 1/2 miles over Belmont Park's main track. His time was 2:37 3-5.

Michael Ford, owner of Kausal King, has remained confident. And well he should. The son of Native Dancer has never looked better. To that all trainers agree. He turned in an impressive workout Tuesday, going 1 1/4 miles in 1:54. And he has been made the 4-5 choice to earn the winner's share of $116,450 of a gross purse of $160,200.

Entries will be made Friday morning. Post time will be 5:15 p.m. EDT Saturday with New York racing officials looking for a crowd of 65,000 up. CBS will televise the classic.

In addition to Kausal King and Buffle, the Belmont runners will be Advocate, Rehabilitate, Fast Count, Fleet Shoe, Amberold, Highest Honor and Valam.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

New York Jet officials reason Big Spring's Jimmy Evans still hasn't realized his potential as a pro footballer and will give him a liberal chance to make good this summer.

Evans, who quarterbacked the local team but who became a flanker in the pro ranks, was moved to the taxi squad last year two games before the season ended.

Jimmy has been beset with illness and injuries over his first two seasons with the Jets. He caught seven passes for gains totaling 56 yards in 1964 and last season for a 24-yard aggregate pickup last fall. He has yet to score for the AFL club.

Evans, now 26, had an excellent training camp with the Jets last summer, impressing his coaches with his good speed and sure hands, but lost considerable weight in a bout with the flu and never did regain top form. In 1964, however, he led the Jets in kickoff returns.

Oddly enough, Evans went to college on a basketball scholarship. He stayed on to play football at Texas Western after using up his basketball eligibility.

He and his wife, Carey, have a six-months-old son, Barton James.

That wondrous West Texan, Tonto Coleman, can retire in six years as commissioner of the Southeastern Conference, if he so chooses, with full pension rights, even though he assumed the position only this year.

That was one of the inducements that lured him away from his post as assistant athletic director at Georgia Tech.

HCJC exes Harley Bynum and Robert Horn won't be the only Texans going on track scholarship at the University of Alabama in the fall.

Another is the Blinn pole vaulter, Ernest Parker, who has cleared 14-8.

Martin County's Melton McMorries says the sky is the limit if his ring tiger, Marciano Rivas, can contain Lemmy Brice in that tea-rounder in Los Angeles June 23.

Bantams like Rivas and Brice aren't crowd gatherers in the East but they are big items on the West Coast and in the Far East.

If Rivas wins over Brice, McMorries figures he'll be ready to fight anyone of the top ten bantamweights, including champion Fighting Harada of Japan or Eder Jofre of Brazil. The latter once ruled the weight division.

Rivas will train on McMorries' farm near Tarzan for a week, then head home to Juarez before going on west.

Who has the best spring training among Texas Tech football players? According to the coaches, the outstanding lineman was Jerry Turner, a junior center from Garland; the back, the defensive ace Jimmie Edwards, a senior from Royce City.

The American Little League here probably is experiencing its best season in history, according to prexy Henry Bell. Bell says that attendance has been good, the enthusiasm remains high and the receipts have been more than adequate to take care of expenses.

Some of the other circuits have fallen off, however. Football practice begins in the Canadian pro league in just 13 days.

The recent Colonial National Invitational Golf Tournament was the fifth straight pro meet either to have play suspended or a round cancelled by the elements.

Mixup Helps Mays' Cause

ATLANTA (AP) — Willie Mays has moved a notch closer to third place on the all-time home run list, but another famous slugger doesn't think the San Francisco belter deserves his latest homer.

"Mack Jones or I should have caught the ball," Atlanta's Henry Aaron said of Mays' first-inning blast Wednesday night. The fleet Giant turned the hit into an inside-the-park home run that ignited San Francisco's 4-3 conquest of the Braves.

"Mack got his glove on the ball, but we ran into each other and the ball popped out," Aaron said. "Then when I tried to pick it up after it hit the center field fence I grabbed a handful of cinders with the ball and dropped it."

"By then Willie was on his way, but if I had not dropped it I could have held him to a triple."

Mays slid home just ahead of the throw to the plate and was given his 12th home run of the season by the official scorer — the 517th of his career. He needs just four more to tie Ted Williams for third on the home run chart.

Marichal May Win 30, Says Sandy Koufax

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sandy Koufax does not mind putting the hex on Juan Marichal and he gets paid for doing it to opposing hitters, but you won't find him jinxing himself.

"Sure Marichal has a chance to win 30," he laughed after blanking the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 Wednesday night to stay one victory behind the San Francisco hurler.

But asked about his own chances, dandy Sandy only reminded writers about last year. "You asked me then about Don Drysdale and myself and I gave you an answer," he said. "Then Don and I couldn't win a game for weeks."

But answer or not, Koufax is off to a better start at 9-1 than last season when he finished at 26-8. He did not win his ninth game last season until June 12.

Koufax, who along with Marichal got off to a late start this year because of contract problems, indicated the best still is yet to come.

"This is the best I've thrown all year," he said after allowing the Cardinals only seven hits, several of the fluke variety. "I had a good fast ball, good curve and good control and even got a couple of fork balls in for strikes."

He lowered his earned run average to 1.48, still behind Marichal's 0.90 and 10-0 record. But both are ahead of the 1934 30-game pace of Dizzy Dean, last major leaguer to win 30.

Podres' Relief Job Helps In Tiger Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's taken two months — and two leagues — but Johnny Podres finally has pitched nine innings.

Podres, acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers last month, continued his strong pitching in Detroit Wednesday night as he posted his second straight victory with 3 1-3 innings of one-hit relief work in the Tigers' 9-4 triumph over Minnesota.

The 33-year-old left-hander now has made six appearances for the Tigers and allowed only four hits and two runs while running his work for the season to nine innings. Over the first month he had pitched only 1 2-3 innings for the Dodgers.

And he didn't like it.

"I just want to go somewhere where I can pitch," Podres said when he was traded. "I threw the ball good all spring and my arm feels good now. But you get out of shape pitching 1 2-3 innings in a month."

Podres, who has been plagued the last two years by arm trouble, figured as a starter with the Dodgers during the Sandy Koufax-Don Drysdale holdout siege but became expendable when the Dodger ace signed. The Tigers grabbed him for cash and a player to be named later.

came on in the fourth inning with two men on and two out. He walked Jim Hall, but bore down and got Tony Oliva on a grounder to first. He allowed only a single by Harmon Killebrew before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Elsewhere, Baltimore outlasted California 7-7 in 10 innings. Kansas City wallpiped Cleveland 8-3, the Chicago White Sox downed the New York Yankees 6-2 and Washington whipped Boston 6-3 before the Red Sox took the night cap 5-0.

Al Kaline drove in four runs for the Tigers but Jerry Lumpe supplied the key hit with a two-run single in the seventh inning that snapped a 3-3 tie.

Jerry Adair won it for the Orioles with a tie-breaking pinch-hit single in the 10th after Baltimore had filled the bases on singles by Paul Blair and Dave Johnson and a walk to Andy Etchebarren. Luis Aparicio's sacrifice fly produced an insurance run.

Boog Powell hit two homers and Andy Etchebarren one but the Orioles still had to play catch up, tying the Angels 7-7 in the eighth on a double by Brooks Robinson and a pinch-hit single by Frank Robinson.

The A's tagged Indians' starter John O'Donoghue and two successors for 1 1/2 hits, including homers by Ed Charles and Ken Harrelson and triples by Dick Green and Danny Cater. Green's triple and a single by Joe Nosenk in the sixth inning broke a 3-3 tie and put Kansas City ahead to stay.

Tom Tresh's error and singles by Tom Agee, Bill Skowron and Floyd Robinson gave the White Sox two runs in the third inning. Then Agee scored what turned out to be the decisive run in the fifth when he walked, stole second and came all the way home on Bill Skowron's grounder.

Two-run doubles by Bob Chance and Dick Nen in the last two innings brought the Senators their opening game victory. The Red Sox took the nightcap as Bob Sadock and Jose Santiago checked the Senators on three hits and Rico Petrocelli collected his ninth homer.

Masters Teach, Says Newcomer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "You can't watch Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema, Gene Littler and the others without learning and improving."

That's the observation of Randy Petri, a pro golf newcomer in the field for today's first round of the $100,000 Memphis Open.

Petri, who helped the University of Houston win the NCAA title a year ago, joined the pro tour in January.

"In college, you ran into a dozen or so good golfers a week," Petri said. "In the PGA, there are 144 of them every week, and they're all capable of 65s."

Mike Hall Is Meet Winner

Mike Hall won championship honors in the 27-hole medal-play Junior Club Golf tournament staged Wednesday at the Big Spring Country Club when he posted a score of 113, seven over par.

Along the way, Mike set a tournament record when he shot 18 holes in 72 strokes.

Hall defeated the defending titlist, Bill Schwarzenbach, by four strokes.

Third was Ken Chadd, who finished with a 119. Ronnie Broadrick and Mike Weaver finished tied for fourth, each with a 122, while Randy Nicholson was sixth, in at 130.

Mark Slate won first flight laurels with an 18-hole score of 97, beating Bruce Bright by three shots.

Alan Davis won the second flight with a score of 106 while John Taylor was second with a 145.

In all, 13 players took part in the one-day meet. Most of the play took place in high winds.

Permian Wins Playoff Test

By The Associated Press

The last regular series to open in schoolboy baseball comes today when Waco Richfield meets San Antonio MacArthur at San Antonio.

All other series have started and one of them — the one involving defending champion Waxahachie in Class AAA — has gone two games.

Waxahachie beat Arlington Sam Houston 6-4 Wednesday night to draw even in the series. They play the final at Arlington Friday afternoon.

Odessa Permian shut out Grand Prairie 5-0 in the only Class AAAA series in action Wednesday night.

With Fort Worth Arlington Heights leading 1-0, the two teams clash at Marshall in the second game today.

Brazosport, leading Houston Westbury 1-0, hosts the Houston team today.

Two games are scheduled in Class AAA. Brenham leads West Columbia 1-0 and they clash at Brenham today. South San Antonio leads Lockhart 1-0 and they play at Lockhart tonight.

Dumas and Snyder, the other teams in Class AAA, play at Snyder Friday. Dumas leads the series 1-0.

Boston Swaps Dick Radatz

BOSTON (AP) — Boston traded relief pitcher Dick Radatz to Cleveland today for right-handers Lee Stange and Don McMahon.

Radatz, 29, a sensational relief pitcher for Boston from 1962 through 1964 when he was twice named "Fireman of the Year," had a disappointing 1965 season and to date this year has an 0-2 record in 16 relief appearances.

Boston got a starter and reliever in Stange, 29, who has a major league record of 33 wins and 26 losses since he came up with Minnesota in 1961. He was traded to Cleveland in June of 1964.

In seven games with pitcher-rich Cleveland this year he had a record of one win and no losses, with a complete - game 2-1 victory over Baltimore.

McMahon, 36, has always been a reliever. He was with Milwaukee from 1957 through 1961 and with Houston in 1962-63. He has been with Cleveland since September, 1963.

His major league record, all in relief, is 38 wins and 36 losses. In nine games for Cleveland this year he has no official record.

Nancy Faces Biggest Test

PARIS (AP) — Nancy Richey, the determined little 23-year-old star from Texas, has cleared another hurdle in her bid to win the women's singles title in the French International Tennis Tournament.

Miss Richey's major roadblock is just ahead, though, because her opponent in the semifinals will be Margaret Smith of Australia, the tournament favorite.

The Dallas girl, coholder of the No. 1 ranking in the United States, beat Annette Van Zyl of South Africa 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 and Miss Smith, the Wimbledon champion, eliminated Julie Heldman of New York 6-2, 6-2 in quarter-final matches Wednesday.

NFL 11's Set To Slow Bear Ace This Fall

NEW YORK (AP) — George Halas expects the rest of the league to gang up on Gale Sayers this coming season.

"They'd better," said the 71-year-old owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

Halas was in town with other coaches in the National Football League for a two-day series of meetings with Mark Duncan, head of league officials.

"We know they are going to defend the heck out of Sayers, and rightfully so," said Halas. "I think it will open up other avenues of our offense. We expect it. We have been preparing for it all winter."

"It would not be fair to Sayers to expect him to have as great a year as last. But we do think we can open up a little more. We have Ron Bull back there and Andy Livingston, plus several others. And Johnny Morris on the flank and Jim Jones and Dick Gordon at split end."

As a rookie from Kansas, Sayers set a league record with 22 touchdowns last season and tied a one-game mark by scoring six touchdowns in one game against San Francisco on Dec. 5.

"I was on the other side both times when fellows scored six touchdowns before," said Halas. "Ernie Nevers got six against us as last. But we do think we can open up a little more. We have Ron Bull back there and Andy Livingston, plus several others. And Johnny Morris on the flank and Jim Jones and Dick Gordon at split end."

Mayor Says Airport Will Not Be Tax Burden

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—The rather than a cost to taxpayers, Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson told North Texas businessmen Wednesday.

Speaking at a meeting of suburban mayors and county officials, Jonsson brought them up to date on airport planning and asked support for a constitutional amendment to be submitted to Texas voters in November. The amendment will be the first of three major legal steps toward creation of a bi-county authority to operate the facility. This authority would function like a hospital or water district, said Bayard Friedman, former Fort Worth mayor and a member of the airport board, with its own taxing power and an elected governing body. The airport would serve the whole of North Texas, not just Fort Worth and Dallas, Friedman said.

Actress Raquel Welch inspired few whistles during her Hollywood career, but a switch to European films made the shapely American a big star and a queen of French magazine covers. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Europeans Like 'Em Like That

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

ROME (AP) — In America, they still ask, "Who is Raquel Welch?" In Europe, they know. Raquel's splendid 37-22½-35½ can be seen on every newsstand; recently she appeared on five French magazine covers vs. Ursula Andress's two. She is besieged by film offers — to costar with Marcello Mastroianni in a comedy, to play the French empress in the super-epic "Waterloo," to star in "Fraulein Doktor" for Dino de Laurentiis, all of which she will probably do.

She is the darling of Europe's photographers, who consistently ask her: "Are you really an American?"

Indeed she is. Born in Chicago and reared in La Jolla, Calif., she was a Hollywood deb star just a couple of years ago. But her exotic looks and Spanish name — she is of Spanish-French-German-English-Scottish descent — make Europeans believe she is one of them.

Raquel is now appearing in "The Biggest Bundle of Them All" with Vittorio DeSica, Edward G. Robinson, Robert Wagner and Godfrey Cambridge. She is living in a villa near Rome, and there she expounded on the amazing turns in her career.

She made one starring film in Hollywood last year, the unreleased science-fiction film "Fantastic Voyage." Perhaps because she was clothed in a space suit, she attracted no great notice.

The avalanche began when Raquel went to England and the Canary Islands to star in "One Million B.C." Her striking appearance in a skimpy prehistoric costume attracted wide approval. Raquel was delighted to supply other poses.

"I wouldn't have been able to do the same thing in Hollywood," she commented. "There they worry about showing the navel and cleavage."

Raquel has enough film offers to extend her stay in Europe another two or three years, and it's likely that her film making will be centered here.

"Hollywood doesn't know what to do with me," she explained. "I'm not the girl-next-door type; I don't look a bit like Natalie Wood. So I don't fit into the kind of movies they make in Hollywood."

"I'm not anti-Hollywood by any means; I just have to go where the work is."

Some Are Trying To Save Historic Opera House

NEW YORK (AP) — In April, the building could be purchased for Anthony Bliss, Met president, says renovation probably would cost closer to $14 million, and that $12 million would be needed for outright purchase.

The Metropolitan Opera Company opens its new season in September in sparkling new quarters at the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. The old opera house is to be torn down to make way for a 40-story office building.

A fight is being led by the Citizens Committee for the Preservation of the Metropolitan Opera House, whose executive chairman is Leonard Altman. It received support this week from Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Chief among those who want the opera house to fall before the wrecking ball is the opera company itself. It would receive an average of $484,000 a year in rent for the next 50 years from the builder, Keystone Associates.

The committee estimates that the opera house could be renovated for about $7.5 million — the same amount they figure

The state legislature in Albany has passed a bill which provides a six-month stay in demolition of the opera house. It has not yet reached the desk of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Adds The Art

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Mayor John V. Lindsay has hung on the wall of his office a painting that unqualified City Hall art critics generally agreed was an "abstract."

The watercolor is white around the outside, with a red center surrounded by what can only be called blue blotches. It was signed, "John L." The artist was identified Wednesday as Lindsay's six-year-old son.

Drama May Be First In A New Series

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Guilty or Not Guilty," the suspense tale on Wednesday night's NBC Bob Hope Theatre was one of those increasingly rare programs — a first broadcast, not a re-run.

But it was something more, too, apparently. It looked like a program made to demonstrate an idea for a series. The storyline itself was nothing more than a twist on a rather familiar TV theme. It centered on an apartment house mugging and a fiery tenant who was so impatient with the normal process of investigation and trial that he organized a band of vigilantes.

How can a viewer spot a pilot film when it is masquerading as a one-shot dramatic show? Simply by watching the way the principal characters are introduced and developed.

The key figures Wednesday night were Robert Ryan, playing a chief assistant district attorney in New York, and Richard Beymer as his young assistant. This matching of the mature and the young is standard casting for cops-and-robbers and courtroom series.

E. G. Marshall in "The Defenders," the senior member of the law firm, had Robert Reed playing his young son and partner. Efrem Zimbalist Jr. in "The FBI" is the senior G-man, with Richard Brooks as his young assistant.

It was made obvious at the beginning of "Guilty or Not Guilty" that Ryan's character was a widower with teenage children, quite irrelevant to the plot, but obviously a suggestion that there was story material in this set-up.

An even more significant clue about a series-to-come came when the show took several minutes out of the action to introduce the widower's steady girl, played by Pippa Scott. Miss Scott is an excellent actress and normally would not be wasted on a couple of unimportant scenes in which her most important job was to hand the hero a drink when he returned tired from a murder case. Obviously, if the show ever finds a network niche, Miss Scott will have more interesting things to do. After all, there was Barbara Hale's secretary part in "Perry Mason" and Joanna Barnes' role of the ex-wife in "The Trials of O'Brien."

A series, vaguely along the lines suggested by Wednesday night's show, was tried out briefly last year when CBS put on "For the Prosecution," with William Shatner playing a young assistant district attorney. That one had some of the feel of "The Defenders," however. Wednesday night's show looked like a slick, uninspired product off the Hollywood assembly line — in spite of the New York location shots.

MRS. DON LEFEBVRE AND FAMILY FRIEND

Large Size Appetites Help Cooking Ways

By JO ANN PIINIZY

"I am surrounded by big eaters," said Mrs. Don LeFebvre, 1782 Laurie. "If it's name is food, it disappears in a hurry."

She was speaking of her present entourage of five children and a Great Dane. Their names are Paula, Deborah, Butch, Michael and two Susans — one is the Great Dane.

"It's rather interesting to call 'Susan' at mealtime," Mrs. LeFebvre said.

Mrs. LeFebvre explained that she enjoys being the center of a group of non-fussy eaters. The best part of all, she said, was that there was no worrying about who will eat what and the meal planning consists of what she wants to cook.

It wasn't always like that and there are some exceptions to the rule.

Mrs. LeFebvre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Orgon, 1303 Grafa, says that she had to learn to eat vegetables. There was no particular reason for her shunning of greens.

"After I was married," she said, "I discovered that my husband dwelt on vegetables. I soon learned to follow suit."

SUMMER SQUASH

Currently the family favorite is a summer squash cooked whole until it is almost fork tender. Then it is sliced in half and sprinkled with butter, salt, pepper, paprika and Parmesan cheese and broiled for five minutes.

Liver is the one food none of the LeFebvres care for, and Mrs. LeFebvre stands alone in her dislike of cottage cheese.

Since almost anything goes with the family, Mrs. LeFebvre describes herself as a "dumper" cook.

"It's time — consuming to follow all recipes to the letter," she explained, "so I just add the first seasoning I put my hand on."

Once upon a time, her measuring technique led to general havoc. That was when she was

Dill Seed Makes Tangy Addition For Pot-Roast

Dill seed can become a tangy addition to meats as well as the pickles it often seasons. Here both dill seed and dill pickle juice flavor a hearty beef pot-roast. The resulting fresh, brisk flavor certainly adds pep to your meal. You'll have a penny — pinchers dinner to entice many an appetite.

BEEF DILL POT-ROAST

3 to 4-lb. beef arm or blade pot-roast
1/4 cup flour
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
3 tbsps. lard or drippings
1 tsp. dill seed
1/2 cup dill pickle juice
1/2 cup water
Flour for gravy, if desired
Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge pot-roast in seasoned flour and brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Sprinkle dill seed over meat. Add dill pickle juice and water. Cover tightly and cook slowly 3 to 3 1/2 hours or until meat is tender. Thicken cooking liquid with flour for gravy, if desired. Six to 8 servings.

preparing a fish dinner to be marked in the family annals.

"It was to be a triumphal effort," she remembered. "I spent the whole day in the kitchen and everything was planned to the last detail."

Then my "dumper" instinct took hold and I grabbed the curry powder.

FIRST CLUE

My first clue should have been a certain silence around the table. Then I took a bite of the concoction myself. It looked grand, smelled good — but the taste was beyond belief.

It was a status blow and almost taught me to measure curry.

Capt. LeFebvre, a pilot with the Military Air Transport Command, is on a tour of duty in Korea.

"We miss him on all counts," Mrs. LeFebvre said, "and one of them is that he is a real gourmet. He always has a new dish he wants to try, including several refinements of his own."

One of my recipes is a dish that my husband brought back from a round-the-world trip with Secretary Robert McNamara. Now it's one of our favorites.

The family hobby is taking Susan — the dog — on the show circuit. She has just won her novice ribbons and will soon graduate into the un-restricted class.

Susan — the dog — isn't at all particular about her meals. She eats about two pounds a day of "saw scraps" plus a dash of heart and liver.

BARBECUED RIBS

Eight pounds of pork ribs cut in pieces and spread on roasting pan with meatier side up. Put a thin slice of onion on each piece and roast in oven for 30 minutes at 450 degrees.

Bring to boil a sauce made of juice of one lemon, 1 cup catsup, 1/3 cup Worcestershire sauce, 2 tbsps. chili powder, several dashes of hot sauce and 2 cups water. Let simmer 10 minutes. At end of 30 minutes turn oven down to 350 degrees. Pour sauce over ribs. Bake 1 hour longer, turning every 30 minutes. This sauce is delicious used on chicken cooked on the grill.

MENAMARA'S CHICKEN

1 can mushroom soup
1 can mushrooms
2 fryers
1 large onion, sliced thin
1 large clove
2 tbsps. butter
Vinegar
Monosodium glutamate
Cut up fryers, sprinkle with seasoning. Melt butter and saute garlic. Remove garlic and brown chicken until golden in color. Add onions and mushrooms and cook slightly. Add mushroom soup and 1/2 cup water. Flavor with vinegar depending on tartness desired. Simmer until chicken is tender and serve over rice.

EASY CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup buttermilk
2 cups flour
2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. soda, dissolved in 1/4 cup lukewarm water
1/2 cup cocoa dissolved in 1/2 cup boiling water
Mix cocoa and boiling water and add soda, set aside until cool. Cream butter, sugar and eggs thoroughly, add vanilla.

Add flour, buttermilk and cocoa mixture. Bake at 375 degrees.

BEEF STROGANOFF

1 cup butter
1 1/2 cups finely chopped onion
1 1/2 lb. mushrooms
3 1/2 lb. sirloin cut 1/4x1/4x2 inch
6 tbsps. flour
3 cups bouillon (1 can diluted)
1 1/2 tbsps. salt
6 tbsps. tomato paste
2 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
3/4 cup sour cream
1 1/2 cups heavy cream
8 cups fluffy rice
Melt 1-3 cup butter in skillet, add onions and saute until golden, remove, set aside. Melt 1-3 cup butter, add mushrooms until lightly brown, remove. Roll beef in flour and saute until brown. Add bouillon, salt and onion. Cover and simmer gently until beef is tender (1 1/2 hours). Add tomato paste, Worcestershire sauce, sour cream, heavy cream and mushrooms. Serve over rice.

BEST EVER PIE CRUST

2 1/2 cups flour
1 cup shortening
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup sweet milk with 1 tsp. vinegar mixed with milk
Mix in order given, shortening should be the size of peas. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes.

Sour Cream Sauce Becomes Perfect Partner For Meat

Sour cream, once the stepchild of the American cuisine, now appears at the best tables. Not a course in a menu — from appetizers to desserts — passes it up.

For hors d'oeuvre, it's often coupled with cheese mixtures and used as a dip on a raw vegetable tray. In a main-course dish, it may sauce the chicken, beef or veal. At salad time, it's likely to be in the dressing. And at dessert, it may go into chocolate frosting or top cheesecake or fruit.

Right here and now, it helps to make an interesting sauce for veal cutlet.

VEAL FIESTA

Delight company, family
2 round-bone veal cutlets, about 1/2 inch thick (each about 1 pound)
2 tbsps. butter
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 can (1 lb.) whole tomatoes, undrained
1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/4 to 1/2 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. celery salt
1 tsp. regular flour
1 cup commercial sour cream, at room temperature
Wipe the veal cutlets as dry as possible with paper toweling. Cut each cutlet into three portions without removing the bone. In a large skillet, melt the butter. Add the veal; cook over moderate heat on each side until meat firms and surface changes color. Add onion, undrained tomatoes (reserving a few tablespoons of the tomato juice), drained mushrooms, Worcestershire sauce, sugar and celery salt. Cover and simmer until veal is tender — about 45 minutes. Remove veal and any large tomato pieces to a hot platter and keep warm. Stir to-

Pantry Pick-Ups

You'll need a pound of okra placed in a marinade, then be for four servings. If the okra is young and tender, the pods should snap easily.

Egyptians Introduced Bean Dish

Important since ancient times, lentils have remained a popular staple food right up to the present day.

The Egyptians were the main users of lentils. They still rank as leading producers, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Lentils are mentioned twice in the Old Testament. Once in the story of Esau, a son of Rebekah and Isaac, who lost his birthright by selling it for a "pottage of lentils."

Lentils aren't nearly so expensive, nowadays. In fact, you'll probably find them economically priced. They're plentiful, according to USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. Lentils team up with modern-day dishes, just as they did with those of ancient times. You'll find a variety of uses for these tiny, lens-shaped legumes. Your grocer will have them displayed with dry beans and peas. Don't let their size fool you. They're rich in taste and nutrition.

For a delicious mealtime surprise, try this Lentil Soup. You'll need 1 cup dry lentils, 6 cups boiling water, ham bone, 1 small chopped onion, salt and pepper.

Add the lentils to the water with ham bone and onion. Boil gently about 3 hours — or until the mixture reaches the desired consistency for soup.

Remove the ham bone. Press soup through a coarse sieve to remove skins. Chop meat from bone and return it to the soup. Season and reheat. Makes 4 servings.

If there is little or no meat from the bone, garnish bowls of soup with thin slices of frankfurters or bologna or add 1/2 cup ground peanuts before reheating the soup.

CELEBRITY RECIPES

Fannie Hurst Tells Of Main Pastime

Fannie Hurst, whose fiction began to capture the reading public over 50 years ago and who is still producing fascinating works, is possessed of other talents as well. Cooking is a favorite pastime with our la belle grandame of letters and she enjoys turning prosaic packages of store-bought stuff into party fare.

Her writing has dealt much with the modern woman and her problems, and perhaps it is particularly apt that Miss Hurst should concentrate on dishes quickly and easily prepared, and highly suitable for the working woman who hasn't much time before the guests arrive.

Here she devises a mighty tasty casserole that takes a back seat to none. It's not inexpensive, but it is quick and is a delicious way of putting zest back into frozen foods.

FANNIE HURST'S SHRIMP CASSEROLE

Slice a half-pound of fresh mushrooms and saute them gently in butter, then add two seven-ounce packages of thawed and drained shrimp. The kind that are shelled and deveined and ready to go are the best. Stir all about for a minute, not cooking the shrimp, really, just warming them a bit.

Place the shrimp and mushrooms in a casserole, or four individual casseroles.

To two 10-ounce thawed cans of condensed cream of shrimp soup, add a third of a cup of sherry, a teaspoon of dry mustard and a dash of pepper. Mix well and pour over the shrimp and mushrooms.

Top generously with grated

parmesan cheese and bake in a 350-degree oven for 15 minutes. Serve immediately.

Served with asparagus, which cooks from its frozen state to perfection in less than 15 minutes, this shrimp casserole becomes a delightful dinner in less than half an hour actual working time. And that's hard to beat on any busy day.

Favorite Cookies Take New Color

Bake and frost these cookies and serve them right away!

SOUR CREAM CHOCOLATE COOKIES

1 cup sifted cake flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. each baking powder and baking soda
1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
1 square (1 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
1 tsp. vanilla
Chocolate Frosting

Sift together the flour, salt, baking powder and baking soda. Beat egg until thickened and pale yellow; add sugar and continue beating until blended. Melt chocolate over hot (not boiling) water and cool slightly by placing pan in cold water briefly; add to egg mixture and beat to blend. Add sour cream and vanilla; beat to blend. Gradually fold in sifted dry ingredients. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheet; bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 8 minutes. Cool on wire rack and then top with Chocolate Frosting.

Chocolate Frosting: Melt 1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces over hot (not boiling) water; cool slightly. Blend in 1-3 cup commercial sour cream and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Place Wine Glass On Extreme Right

In table settings, if more than one wine is served, the wine glasses are placed to the right of the water glasses. The wine glasses are used from the extreme right, so that each in turn may be removed easily.

However, if the meal is an elaborate banquet and a number of wines are served, there are never more than three wine glasses on the table at the same time. Instead they are exchanged as each course is finished.

For easy, informal entertaining, the host often sets the bottle or carafe on the table, so guests may help themselves.

Hams Better If Not Deep Frozen

Here are some tips on storing hams. Refrigerate (40 degrees F. or less) all hams. Like all meats, ham is best when used promptly. It is not recommended that ham be frozen because this tends to reduce its flavor.

Canned hams, three pounds or larger, should be stored in the refrigerator but should not be frozen. For canned hams less than three pounds, follow instructions on the label.

Honey Production Takes Talent

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., June 2, 1966

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Cantaloupes, Berries Take Market Shelves

Ever try to keep a honey bee from reaching the flower bloom of its choice? Best advice is "don't."

Probably it's because the bee is so determined that the great Napoleon chose this insect for his crest.

Determination and industry are key characteristics of the ever-busy bee.

And bees were unusually busy last year. The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports honey stocks at the beginning of 1966 at around 67.7 million pounds. While production in 1965 was less than the huge 1963 and 1964 crops, remaining supplies are large enough to give this delicious food a "plentiful" tag, says USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. That good news ties in with the rich heritage of honey history. Honey always has been an important food.

In pre-historic caves along the Mediterranean Coast, drawings have been found showing men raiding bees' nests on the side of a cliff. And bee legends abound in the historic archives of the Babylonians, Assyrians, Persians, Egyptians, Greeks and Romans.

17TH CENTURY

America and Australia are said to be the only continents which did not originally have honey bees. But 17th Century settlers realized the importance of honey and brought the honey bee to our shores. Now, Australia and the Americas are the leaders in honey production.

In ancient days, honey was a prime source of sugar. It was used to flavor drinks and to preserve foods. Soon men learned to make "mead," a fermented drink, from honey. Mead, a "drink for kings," is a combination of malt, yeast, water with fruit, spices for taste and color and honey.

Honey also was used for medicinal purposes in the early days. Even today, it helps make ill-tasting medicines more palatable.

Bees are a bit more tricky to handle than cows or horses but as soon as Man learned the tricks, he was raising bees for an insured source of honey. So beekeeping was one of our first forms of animal husbandry. Bees were bred to improve their ability to produce honey.

Early agrarians also found a "bonus" from their domesticated bees. They found that some crops — like the legumes — produced better when bees were busy pollinating the flowers. No mechanical or electrical device has been developed yet to do the job as well.

Bees bring pollen and flower nectar to their hives. The nectar, when transformed by the enzymes of special glands in the bodies of the bees and evaporated by the fanning of their wings, is called honey.

Ever use small-curd cream-style cottage cheese for stuffing celery ribs? Sprinkle with chopped nuts or paprika.

If you like almond flavor, you may add a few drops of almond extract to the syrup from canned peaches and then let the peaches stand in this syrup (in the refrigerator) until serving time.

Although it is considered an old-fashioned method, some good cooks like to sear their beef in a very hot (500 degrees) oven before continuing roasting at moderate (350 degrees).

When you want to give a smoked boneless pork shoulder butt a glaze, cook it as usual then cover it with brown sugar moistened with prepared mustard. Bake the meat with the glaze for 15 minutes or so in a hot oven.

Make up a package of chocolate pudding mix and turn it into 8 sherbet glasses; chill.

Make up a package of vanilla pudding mix and spoon it over the chocolate pudding. Chill again, garnish with orange sections or whipped cream topped with grated orange rind. Serve for a company dessert.

By The Associated Press

Melon trucks are rolling the highways again.

They're speeding tons and tons of watermelons and cantaloupes to Texas produce markets—just in time for refreshment over the Memorial Day weekend.

Watermelon prices are lower at wholesale, according to market news offices of the Consumer and Marketing Service.

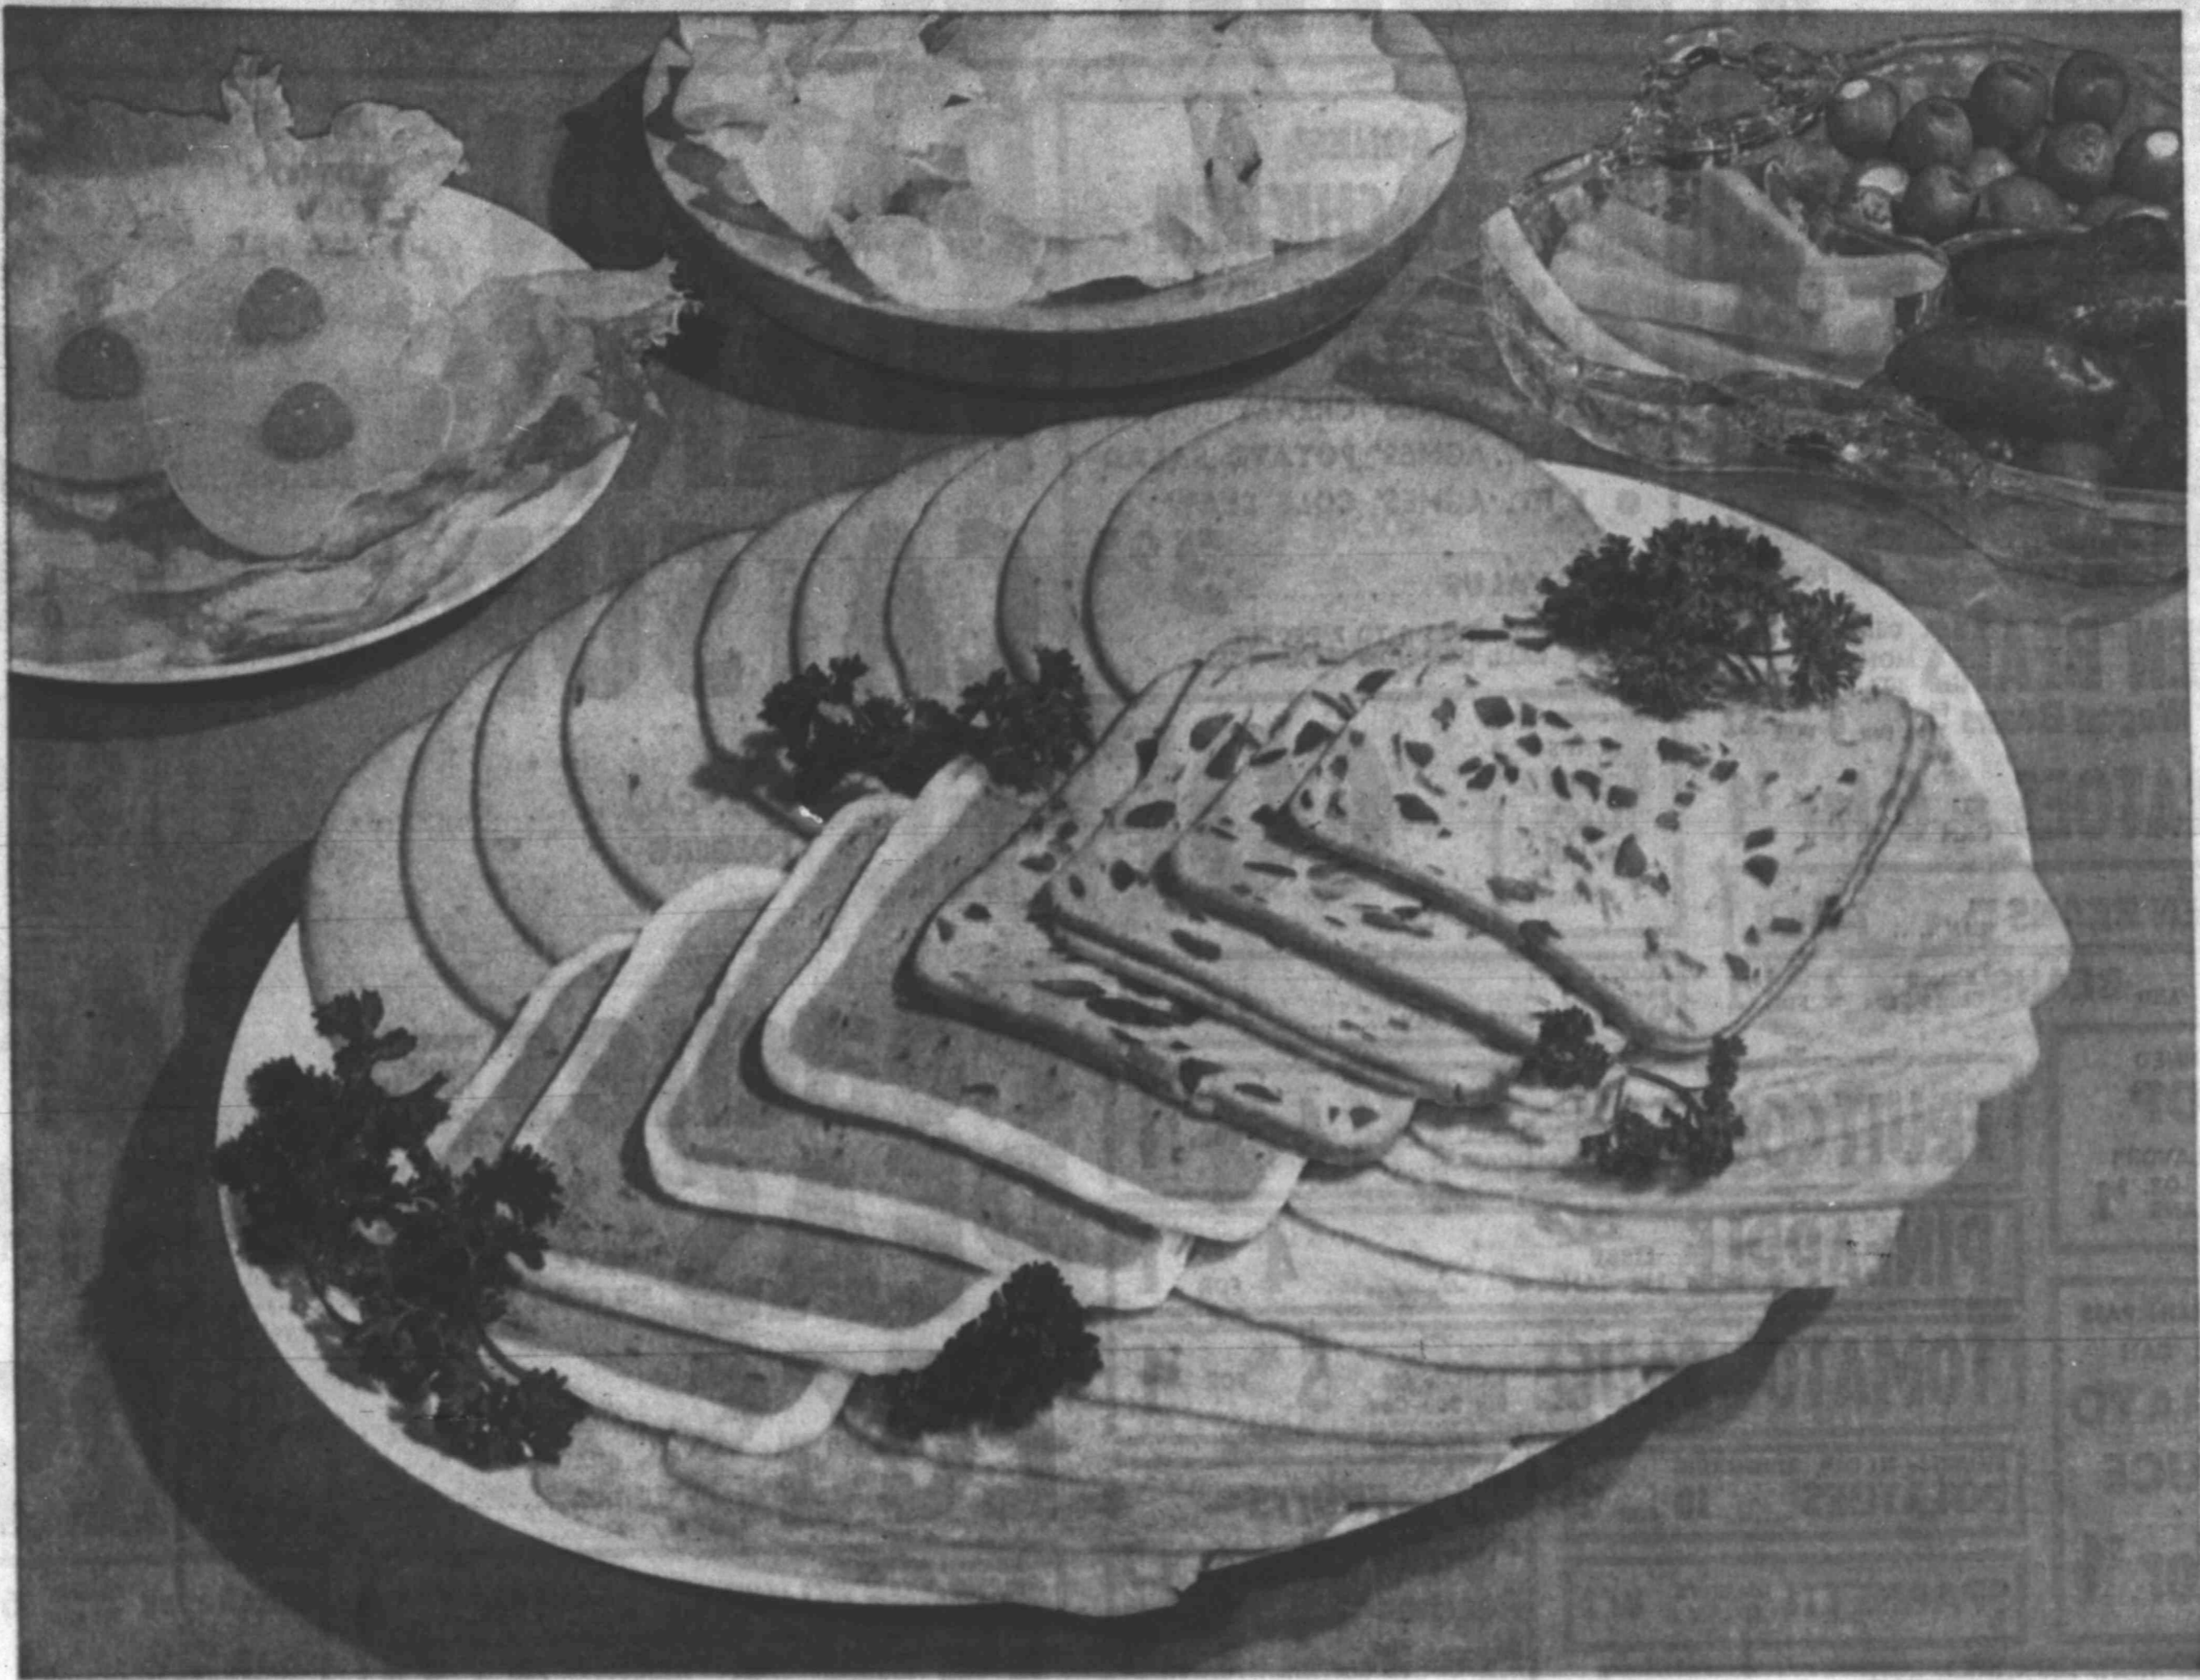

Many markets are featuring first arrivals of South Texas cantaloupes.

Soft fruits are becoming a big item. Cherries and peaches cost less than last week. Watch for a good supply of plums and nectarines soon.

Spring berries are at their prime. East Texas and Arkansas blackberries are in good supply. A new item called Brazosberries, a sweet, large berry developed at Texas A&M, is available at some markets. And it's definitely strawberry time.

Look for exceptionally good buys on green beans, cabbage, sweet corn, cucumbers, green onions, head lettuce, okra, mature onions, peppers, new potatoes, squash and tomatoes. Most of these cost less at wholesale than a week ago. Prices are firm to higher on carrots, endive and escarole.

Family Now Accustomed To The House

By MIKE COCHRAN
PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) —
"When we first moved in, we at least used to go up and see what the weather was like."
"We've gotten so accustomed to it now that some days we don't even go up and look around."

So spoke the lady of the house — a slender, attractive woman in a sparkling, ultramodern underground house.

ATOMITAT
This was Mrs. Jay Swayze and the house is the Atomit.
The underground dream home of her builder - contractor husband.

The Swayzes and daughters Cheryl, 20, and Nancy, 18, have occupied the house for three years.

The four-bedroom, three bath
Atomit, for atomic habitat, includes a den, living room, dining room, kitchen and patio, all 13 feet underground.

Enclosed within a concrete shell, the Atomit blossomed from an idea Swayze hit upon some years ago at a Civil Defense discussion concerning family fallout shelters.

The Swayzes, residents of this Texas South Plains city for 13 years, don't publicly discuss the cost of the Atomit but, said Mrs. Swayze recently:

DUPLICATED
"We duplicated this house in Colorado for $80,000."

Swayze also built a similar underground home for display at the World's Fair, but, Mrs.
Swayze said, "the one in New York was considerably more expensive because of labor union specifications."

Swayze built still a third underground dwelling at Duncanville, near Dallas, featuring the latest subterranean concepts.

Everyone apparently adapted without psychological mishap.

"It bothered me a little before we moved in," Mrs.
Swayze said. "But when we moved our personal articles in we felt at home."

"No, we never feel closed in."
Does underground living present any special problems?

"No," she replied. "I don't recall that we've had any."

On the other hand, she said, the benefits are many.

QUIETNESS
"Most people who visit us remark that they would really like the quietness," she said.

"We hear an occasional airplane and storms if they are centered directly above our fireplace, and when the wind is blowing a certain way we pick up a few sounds of traffic."

The fierce West Texas sand-storms go unnoticed.

"No," explained Mrs. Swayze.
"We never get any dirt down here at all."

"The only way we can tell if dust is blowing is to go up and look."

Insurance rates, she said, are sliced to an eighth for a number of reasons, primarily because the Atomit is secure against fallout, tornadoes, hailstorms, dust and general deterioration.

"They say it'll last 1,000 years," she smiled.

Heating and air conditioning systems pose no expensive problems in the all - electric structure, since, she said, subterranean temperatures stabilize near 65 degrees.

The home includes 2,400 square feet of living space. It is furnished throughout in French Provincial and French Accent in antique white and wainut.

Each room has gold Nylon carpeting with walls and ceilings painted egg shell white.

GARDEN
A beautifully landscaped garden provides a ground level invitation to the Atomit. It is accented in the center with a 14-foot rock garden, forming the exhaust for the air system underneath.

A brick garage sits on a corner of the lot, surrounded on three sides by a stockade fence.

Attached to the garage are a study, a kitchenette, half bath and day room, permitting outdoor entertaining with easily accessible facilities above ground.

A wide stairway of quarry tile leads down to a split level landing, angles right and drops on down to the entrance of the home. Plants, nourished by special lighting, flourish along the outside.

From this point the Atomit has the appearance of any fashionable home. Scenic murals on a retainer wall and a special lighting treatment give the three - dimensional effect of an outside scene from the front windows and doors.

Swayze succeeded in designing the home to eliminate the general feeling of living underground. Lighting is particularly effective through the use of color and color combinations.

Circular murals outside each bedroom and bathroom window add depth to the rooms with three dimensional scenes. Mixtures of special lighting create illusions of twilight, daylight, dusk or night, whichever is preferred.

Dear Abby

He Keeps His Wings

DEAR ABBY: After my husband had a close call, he promised me he would quit flying for a hobby, but he sneaks off and flies anyway. He's even lied to our insurance man about it. I know he still flies because when the weather is bad and he can't get home, he has to call me.

I love him, but I've even threatened to leave him. We have four children and I don't want a divorce, but I can't take worrying about him all the time. What is your advice?

FLYING WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If you can't persuade your husband to quit flying and you don't want a divorce, your remaining alternative is to learn to live with it. Apparently your man is determined to have wings, and from your description of him, he's not likely to sprout any.

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister-in-law who's smart, bookwise, and she doesn't let anybody forget it for a minute. She's a Stanford graduate. Big deal! My complaint: Whenever there is a family gathering, she suggests word games like "Twenty Questions" or "Charades," or something where she can show off how smart she is.

We are a fairly intelligent bunch, but nobody except this one sister-in-law is interested in playing these brain games, which are more like contests. She's the bossy type and talks everyone into it every time we get together. How can we get out of playing these games without looking like poor sports?

HATES THOSE GAMES

DEAR HATES: Speak for yourself. If you don't want to participate in "brain games," say so. And by the way, the rest of the bunch can't be as "intelligent" as you say they are, or they wouldn't permit themselves to be maneuvered into playing games in which they have no interest. No consistently, anyway.

DEAR ABBY: This is to further support your comforting statement that the gestation period of a child can be well over 10 months: There was a case in England early in the century in which the husband, an army officer stationed in India, had sued on the ground that the child could not possibly have been his; the gestation period having been nearly 11 months.

The case went to the house of lords, which is the equivalent of our Supreme Court, and the LADY finally won. The decision was, "While it is highly unusual, it is NOT impossible to carry a child for nearly 11 months."

Married After Brief Engagement

SAN SEVERO, Italy (AP) — Carolina Laroia, 51, a widow, and Vincenzo Cota, 51, a widower, were married in this southern Italian town Tuesday after a brief engagement.

They met in January. "We decided to marry to live happily together and be no burden for our relatives," said the bride with a smile.

Kindergarten

Dr. J. W. Edgar, state education commissioner, suggests to a House Interim Committee on Texas school problems, the possibility of adding a state-supported kindergarten grade to Texas school studies. Dr. Edgar said "we may be wasting an important year between five and six years when a child has the capacity to learn."

Town Builds Back After Twister Hit

By MIKE COCHRAN
HALE CENTER, Tex. (AP)—They stood in the tiny frame church, their heads bowed as the minister offered the dismissal prayer.

Not far away, hospital attendants glanced nervously into the darkness.

Across town, a grocer herded his family into a cellar. A cafe owner and his wife struggled frantically to start their car.

TO SLEEP
A man, vaguely aware of a howling dog, drifted off to sleep. A newspaperman abandoned his office, a move that may have saved his life.

And an aging old elementary school sat empty and silent in the night, its life now numbered in seconds.

Sirens signaled the approach of the tornado as it whirled across the South Plains toward this farming community. Shattered clocks later attested to its arrival time: 9:30 p.m.

The twister cut diagonally across the town, smashed the downtown section, skipped across a highway, battered the Latin American colony and disappeared across a field into the dark sky.

GREAT COST
It left behind an $8 million pile of rubble, 5 dead and 40 injured.

That was a year ago June 2, 1965.

A recent visit to this community of 2,300 north of Lubbock showed what one resident described as the "story behind the story."

"Except for the Civil Defense warnings probably 25 to 50 would have died," said Tom Rambo, publisher of the weekly Hale Center American.

"It would have just killed people every which way.

"It was only a miracle they (Civil Defense personnel) weren't killed. They were still pushing the warning button when the twister hit town.

"They scattered like a covey of quail. It looked like the hand of God was on their shoulders..."

DISASTER
Rambo, a tall, slender Irishman in his 40s, flirted with disaster that night also.

It was press night at the American, and he debated whether to take cover or remain in his office. He chose the former. The newspaper plant was deserted when the twister struck, carving in portions of the roof and inflicting severe damage.

The tornado plunged on into the commercial heart of Hale Center, destroying or damaging a wide range of public and private concerns. These included: The Post Office, City Hall, the school, two drygoods stores, a cafe, a real estate firm, churches, a drug store, supermarkets, insurance offices, an auto agency, utility companies, a beauty shop, a recreation hall, a cleaning firm and the American Legion Hall.

SWERVED PAST
It swerved past the hospital. The Pentecostal Church of God was not so fortunate. Eighteen of 40 worshippers suffered injury; some seriously, moments before the service concluded.

But the tornado failed to mark an end for Hale Center.

"There's not another town like it in hell's half acre," said Rambo's wife, Jean, an attractive, brunette who assists in publication of the American.

Rambo said public courage in the face of the disaster "points up yesterday's frontier spirit."

"That same spirit," he said, "carried over into the recovery of our town.

"It reunited us and made us appreciate each other... One thing we have in common, we've all been through a tornado together. It drew us real close together."

LOSING GROUND
"We were sitting at a standstill... In fact, we were actually losing ground. I can't figure anything else. It (the tornado) just gave the people a new confidence in the future of Hale Center."

Rambo said all buildings damaged or destroyed have been restored or are being restored, and generally modern, improved structures have replaced outdated facilities.

Several new buildings and homes sprang up in the last year, he said, reflecting "a faith and confidence in the town that wasn't evident before."

E. T. Harrison, a stocky, gray-haired grocer, echoes the Rambo theory.

The twister destroyed his "Stop and Shop" store, the family living quarters and two cars. His losses totaled $1,000, he said.

CELLAR
Harrison and his family rode out the tornado in a cellar, where they pushed a divan against the doorway as an extra precaution.

"The storm jerked the door off the cellar and pulled part of the padding out of the divan," he said.
