NUN KILLS SELF

Top Buddhist Resigns Post

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A 26-year-old Buddhist nun burned herself to death today in the courtyard of a small pagoda in Da Nang. She was the sixth Buddhist to take her life by fire since Sunday in a wave of antigovernment fanaticism that continues despite appeals by Buddhist leaders to stop it.

THICH TAM CHAU

Monks said the nun, Thich Nu Dieu Dinh, left behind a letter for President Johnson charging that "Vietnamese Buddhists were annihilated by your policies in Viet Nam."

OPPOSITION The suicide indicated the strong opposition among extremist Buddhists to a truce negotiated by Buddhist moderates with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime.

Another development that imperiled that agreement was the resignation today of the moderate head of the Buddhist Institute, Thich (venerable) Tam Chau, the chief Buddhist negotiator with the government.

Apparently acting under pressure from the militants in the unified Buddhist church, Tam Chau said in his letter of resignation: "I have tried to solve the present situation but I have failed. A special council will be convened to decide whether to accept the resignation, but Buddhist sources said this might take two or three days.

The Buddhist Institute is the secular arm of the church.

FOUNDER Tam Chau's announcement

Heavy Raids Continuing

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Waves of American warplanes pounded North Viet Nam Thursday for the fourth straight day of heavy raids.

The Navy and Air Force attack planes hit once again at Communist antiaircraft sites—a main target all week—and also at oil depots, storage areas and river traffic.

U.S. military headquarters reported one F105 Thunderchief was shot down over North Viet Nam today. The pilot, Capt. Robert B. Pielin, 34, of Chicago, was plucked out of the sea two miles off Dong Hoi in a daring and dangerous rescue by an Albatross flying boat.

The rescue plane landed under heavy fire from Communist artillery and small arms to pick up Pielin within 10 minutes, and he was flown to Da Nang, in South Viet Nam. Bruises were his only injury.

Pielin's plane was the seventh reported lost since Monday, when improved weather permitted resumption of heavy attacks on the North, and the 260th reported down by the North Vietnamese since American planes began attacking north of the 17th parallel 16 months ago.

came as the nation's Buddhists observed the 2,518th birthday of the founder of their faith, Buddha. Calm settled over Saigon after the Buddhist Institute urged its followers to commemorate the anniversary at home with prayers for the dead in the weeks of Buddhist agitation for civilian rule. Troops hauled down roadblocks outside the institute compound.

The nun committed suicide on the grounds of the Hai Lac pagoda, a small Buddhist center two blocks from Da Nang's central market. Paratroopers and marines kept an orderly crowd of about 300 persons back, and small groups of boys and girls draped the charred remains with a Buddhist flag.

The locale of the self-immolation indicated the act probably had the approval of monks at the pagoda. The Buddhist struggle movement remains strong in Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, although Ky's troops crushed the Buddhist-led uprising there last month.

NO WORD There was no word of any disorders in Hue, the Buddhist stronghold 400 miles northeast of Saigon which Ky's soldiers took control of Thursday without bloodshed.

Buddhist leaders appealed earlier this week for a halt to "self-sacrifice"—they do not use the word suicide. But even after the agreement with the government was announced Wednesday 20 nuns and monks threatened to set themselves aflame on the grounds of the Buddhist Institute.

The military junta meanwhile seemed to be running into difficulties on its request to the United Nations for observers for the Sept. 11 election of a constitutional convention. South Viet Nam's permanent observer at U.N. headquarters in New York made the request of Secretary-General U Thant Thursday.

Twins Close In On Target After Successful Launch

Runoff Primary Ready To Decide 3 Offices

Democrats go to the polls Saturday to vote in one of the most colorful runoff primaries in many election years. The impression among observers is that the turnout will be light.

For 19 of the county's voting boxes, the ballots will list only a single race—the contest for state attorney general between Martin Crawford and Franklin Spears.

In two of the county's four commissioner precincts, there are local contests. In Precinct 2, Ray Nichols is seeking return to the post he now holds, opposed by former county commissioner Ralph White, Coahoma. In Precinct 4, L. J. Davidson, incumbent, is running for re-election against Billy Tune.

The polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Republicans of the county who conducted a primary on May 7, have no runoff. Two Republican nominees for county commissioner, however, will be pitted against the winners of the Democratic winners in tomorrow's primary voting. This will be in November in the general election.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, said that her office will be open Saturday night to tabulate election returns. She asked all precinct election judges to call results as early as possible.

The special canvassing board, headed by George Elliot, will begin its task early Saturday. The board has only 178 absentee ballots to check—a modest task.

Commissioner Precinct 2 (Nichols and White) includes Voting Boxes No. 2, Washington Place school; No. 3, Coahoma City Hall; No. 18, Forsan school; No. 15, Runnels Junior High, and No. 13, Byron Neel Residence, 2605 E. 25th Street.

Commissioner Precinct 4 (Davidson and Tune) includes Voting Boxes No. 4, Fourth and Nolan Fire Station; No. 5, Vincent Baptist Church Education building; No. 6, Gay Hill School, No. 7, R-Bar Salem Baptist Church education building; No. 11, Center Point School building; No. 20 Crestview Baptist Church.

Attorney General Rivals Get In Their Final Licks

About 600,000 Texas Democrats are expected to vote Saturday to settle the latest liberal-conservative showdown in the state.

Rival candidates Crawford Martin and Franklin Spears were getting in some final campaign licks today in their steamy struggle over the Democratic nomination for Texas attorney general.

Each sought to enlist additional support before voters go to the polls Saturday as sharply worded charges against one another still echoed.

Spears returned to San Antonio, his home, to wind up the campaign today. Martin planned to spend part of the day in Houston and go back to Austin for a closing rally tonight.

They were thrown into a runoff—the only statewide second primary in Texas this year—when neither took a majority but both ran ahead of Galloway Calhoun in the May 7 primary.

First primary figures gave these totals: Martin, 542,545 votes or 46.2 per cent; Spears, Calhoun, 194,866 or 16.5 per cent.

Saturday's turnout is expected to be about half the May 7 figure of 1,170,000. There are some 3 million eligible voters in Texas this year.

Spears, a 34-year-old state senator from San Antonio, has the backing of organized labor and is a liberal by Texas standards.

Martin, supported by Gov. John Connally, is considered a conservative. He is 50, from Hillsboro, and a former state senator and secretary of state.

Two factors are considered crucial in the runoff: The East Texas vote and the voting of the big cities.

Astronauts May Not Hook Onto Target

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Gemini 9 astronauts rocketed into orbit today, caught up with a target satellite after a 75,000-mile chase through the skies, and accomplished history's quickest rendezvous of high-flying space vehicles.

Their target, a tiny, barrel-shaped craft launched Wednesday from Cape Kennedy, still was locked as feared in a protective shroud which should have dropped away when it separated from its Atlas booster.

MIGHT NOT This meant that Gemini might not be able to hook up with the satellite, because the fiberglass shroud covers part of its docking collar.

"We have a weird-looking machine," command pilot Thomas P. Stafford reported to a ground station in Hawaii as Gemini flew in close formation with the satellite.

The shroud, he said, "looks like it's held on by some inconceivable force" there. "It appeared, he added, that explosive bolts which were to have blown the shroud loose from the spacecraft had exploded.

"The clamshells are on but they are open wide," command pilot Stafford said as he moved up on the satellite. "It looks like an angry alligator."

If it had separated correctly, the bolts would have split the shroud in two halves shaped like clamshells. Then springs were to have kicked the two pieces loose.

JAR LOOSE As mission control pondered a way to jar the shroud loose, Stafford suggested that he pull up close and try to nudge it off with a docking bar on the Gemini nose.

"It's hard to see what's holding it together," Stafford reported later. "The only thing holding it together are those small wires that go to the explosive bolts.

"Possibly if we go in and tap it, the whole thing may fall apart," Stafford said.

The terminal phase of the exciting space chase began at 11:06 a.m. Big Spring time as astronaut Thomas P. Stafford

Match To Light Fire

Gemini 9 Astronaut Thomas P. Stafford, twice-frustrated in his efforts to get his spacecraft off the pad at Cape Kennedy, Fla., carries a large mock match before he enters the spacecraft with spacemate Eugene Cernan, left rear. and Eugene A. Cernan swept high above the Atlantic Ocean during their third revolution of the globe.

They were to move within a few feet of the target about 11:40 a.m.

SAW LIGHT Minutes before, Cernan reported he thought he spotted a light on the satellite—called ATDA, for Augmented Target Docking Adapter.

After two heartbreaking scrubs, a mighty Titan 2 rocket launched the astronauts on a vital three-day flight that could bring the U.S. its second space triumph of a busy week.

As the space ship settled into orbit, the pilots went in hot pursuit of a tiny, barrel-shaped satellite launched Wednesday.

After executing four major orbital changes with bursts of his jet thrusters, Stafford in the first 2½ hours of the flight closed the distance to the target from 640 to about 125 miles.

SHIFTS PATH He also had shifted the Gemini 9 path into almost a perfect circle 170 miles from the earth. At launch, the ship had gone into an orbit ranging from 99 to 172 miles.

"For the third time, go!" Stafford quipped as he sat in the spacecraft poised for the launch. Just 31 hours after the Surveyor moonship landed softly on the lunar surface and sent back dramatic pictures of possible manned landing sites, the Titan propelled Gemini 9 aloft on a vital, three-day rendezvous and space walk mission.

The big Titan, with the rays of a bright sun glistening on its sides, rose slowly from its launch pad and sped out over the Atlantic Ocean, followed by a big white tail of vapor.

"We're right down the middle," flight director Eugene Kranz shouted.

"Everything," he told Stafford, "is green and go."

ON OUR WAY "We're on our way!" Stafford yelled exultantly. "It's fantastic."

To make today's launch possible, Stafford faced and overcame the same communications problem that forced Wednesday's shutdown 100 seconds before firing.

A radio guidance command that would have given the spacecraft precise steering directions failed to get through to its computer. This time, the decision was made to go ahead.

Shortly after the Gemini separated from its booster rocket, Stafford fired his jet thrusters to make necessary corrections in the orbit and plane of the space ship and put it on the desired path of pursuit.

Peking Mayor Is Victim Of Purge

TOKYO (AP)—Peng Chen, mayor of Peking and one of the Chinese Communist party's top members, was apparently stripped of his party post today as part of the current widespread purge of dissident elements.

Without mentioning the mayor's name, Peking radio in a Chinese-language broadcast announced the appointment of Li Hsueh-feng as first secretary of the party's Peking central committee. This was the post Peng Chen held before some of his close associates were accused of "antiparty, antisocialist" activities.

Peng Chen has not been reported seen in public for more than two months, and there had been rumors that he was marked for the purge.

The purge apparently has entered a new phase, with the party leadership intensifying its crackdown and admitting the opposition is "still very powerful." Editorials in the official Peking People's Daily and other published statements this week show that the cleanup is not having smooth sailing.

PENG CHEN

Counties Have Only One Box

Two counties in this vicinity will have only one voting box Saturday in the Democratic runoff primary.

They are Glasscock and Lawson counties. Neither has a local race and will be balloting only on the state attorney general's contest.

All Glasscock County voters will ballot at the courthouse in Garden City, and all Dawson County voters will ballot at the tax office in the courthouse at Lamesa.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Blanket Hike In Benefits Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson proposed today a blanket increase in Social Security benefits for all those on the rolls now and those who will be in the future. He mentioned no specific figures.

Johnson said he has directed Secretary of Welfare John Gardner to have a program for increased benefits ready for the next session of Congress.

And the President promised the increases would have "a high and major priority."

Johnson's pledge to strive for higher Social Security benefits was made in a White House speech to delegates to a convention of the National Council of Senior Citizens.

Johnson told the delegates that while he has signed into law increases of more than $1.5 billion a year in Social Security benefits, "too many of our older citizens are still struggling along on shoestring incomes, suffering real hardship and real need."

The chief executive added: "I propose, therefore, that we increase Social Security benefits across the board for the entire 21 million beneficiaries now on the rolls—retired older people, disabled people, the widows and the orphans—and for those who will come on the rolls in the future."

Johnson also announced today that he is convening leaders from every state for a meeting June 15 to make sure the new medicare program will get off to a good start July 1.

A White House statement said 200 doctors and hospital administrators are being invited to join federal officials in reviewing plans "to launch the largest domestic health program in the nation's history."

Wheat Crop Needs Rain

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Wheat farmers need rain, and need it soon to ward off a short crop. The harvest, already under way in Texas and Oklahoma, is due to reach Kansas soon.

Drouth and late freezes have played havoc through most of the wheat growing areas of the Great Plains.

Early forecasts of a bumper crop are being sharply revised downward. Central and western Kansas, southeastern Colorado, eastern New Mexico, Nebraska and the eastern area of Washington are the hardest hit.

The effects of the dry weather have been felt in the Oklahoma and Texas panhandles, but not as much as in the other areas.

Wheat fields in some areas of western Kansas are spotted with stunted plants. The wheat, weakened by drouth and freezing, was vulnerable to additional damage from cutworms, green bugs and mites.

But one farm expert sees a ray of hope — if rain comes.

"Wheat is a remarkable crop," said Andrew B. Erhart, superintendent of the Garden City, Kan., branch of Kansas State University's Agricultural Experiment Station. "It can recover from what appears to be total damage to something less than total."

In explaining recovery of some freeze-damaged wheat, Erhart said late heads have emerged in some fields.

"Later wheat could still profit from rain if it arrives," he said. He called this season "one of the drier years on record, but not the driest."

The hope blossomed a bit Wednesday night when the first substantial rain in weeks fell over central Kansas. Several points reported three-quarters of an inch or more, and a few places had up to two inches.

The rain, however, was not extensive enough to break the drouth.

Freezes in late April and in May hurt the crop. On May 12 the temperature dipped to 22 degrees in some southwestern Kansas areas.

Luci's Party Gets A Bit Too Loud

NEW YORK (AP) — For the Johnson ladies in New York this was the day that was:

— Luci decided on her trousseau, but wasn't telling who designed it.

— Police, responding to a neighbors complaint about noise, visited a party attended by the First Lady, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson had left by the time police got there.

— Lynda's car got a parking ticket.

Much of Thursday was spent in the presidential suite of the Hotel Carlyle, where the First Lady, her daughters and three of Luci's bridesmaids looked over the creations of some of America's top designers.

Among the clothes they picked out were Luci's wedding dress and trousseau for her Aug. 8 marriage to Patrick J. Nugent. But what the clothes looked like and who designed them were secret.

"It's the prerogative of a bride," said Elizabeth Carpenter, the First Lady's press secretary.

Lynda, 22, was seen in two

Fifth Avenue stores but didn't buy anything. She did acquire a green $15 parking ticket, slapped on her car while she and a secret serviceman had lunch at a restaurant.

The party which wound up the day and brought the police was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Lasker on Beekman Place.

Police didn't name the neighbor whose call brought two men in blue at 1:15 a.m. today, 10 minutes after the First Lady had left the party.

The policemen asked Mrs. Lasker to cut down the noise. They then waited outside the house until two windows on the second floor where the dancing was taking place were shut.

The band stopped playing about 1:30 but Lynda didn't leave until 2:20. Asked if she had enjoyed the party, she smiled and nodded her head vigorously.

Luci, 18, missed the party, having returned to Washington. Lynda and her mother fly to Texas today for Lynda's graduation Saturday from the University of Texas.

Loses Continuance So He Changes Plea To Guilty

Hurlie Johnson, Negro convict who made an unsuccessful fight for a continuance Thursday morning in his scheduled trial for burglary, suddenly changed his mind.

After a jury had been seated but before any evidence was offered, Johnson decided to plead guilty.

He asked that his original not guilty plea be withdrawn, and Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, granted the request. He then pleaded guilty to the charge that he burglarized a liquor store here two years ago.

On the recommendation of Wayne Burns, district attorney, Johnson was sentenced to serve three years in the state penitentiary. He is already serving a sentence imposed in Dawson County for felony theft which will not expire for about six months. It was agreed that his three-year burglary sentence will run concurrent with the theft term until the latter is ended.

Johnson asked for a continuance at the hearing Thursday morning because he had a witness he identified as Vernon

Why does everyone, children and adults alike, have to pick them up and examine them while we hold our breaths for fear they will drop one? We have told people over and over again to PLEASE not touch them, but they do anyway. My seven-year-old son suggested we put a sign on the mantel, DO NOT TOUCH. Would this be proper?

Last month a young couple moved in above us. I have never heard such noisy people! They are constantly running, dropping things and moving the furniture. And their TV blares until the wee hours. You'd swear they were about to come crashing thru the ceiling at any moment.

I complained to the apartment manager and she suggested I speak to them, so I went up and asked the wife in a VERY nice way if they could be a little more quiet. Well, she practically slammed the door in my face! Since then, out of spite, they have been noisier than ever. I complained to the manager again, and she said she was sorry but there was nothing she could do.

French Firms Deal With Reds

PARIS (AP) — Two nationalized French firms have made big business deals with the Soviet Union and Red China recently, but officials deny any political implications. "It's strictly business," said a spokesman of the Foreign Ministry. "Politics had nothing to do with it." A spokesman for the Ministry of Economic Affairs said the same thing. The deal with the Soviet Union gives Renault, France's largest auto maker, a free hand in revitalizing and expanding Russia's Moskvich auto plant. The one with Red China opens a Paris-Shanghai route for Air France and a Chinese airline. Both agreements were announced less than three weeks before President Charles de Gaulle leaves on an official visit to the Soviet Union. De Gaulle has been campaigning for years for more East-West contacts, economic as well as cultural, as a step toward easing tensions. There has been speculation in the French press that his visit to Moscow may provide the occasion to announce more such contacts. Air France now flies between Paris and Warsaw and Paris and Moscow on schedules a spokesman said were partly controlled by "diplomatic factors." He said the company wasn't losing money on these routes but refused to give profit figures on them. In 1964, the last year for which figures are available, Air France reported a profit of $76,000 on receipts totaling $355 million. But the receipts included a government subsidy of $3.2 million. Air France's profit outlook for its route to China is bright because it will stop in Athens, Cairo, Karachi, Phnom Penh and possibly Tehran, an official said. Since its nationalization after World War II, Renault has set up assembly, sales and service facilities all over the non-Communist world and in 1964 showed a $1.17 million profit on a turnover of $853 million. One news report said the Renault-Soviet accord may be expanded into a package involving $80 million to $100 million with participation also of Peugeot and several supplies of auto machinery and equipment for service stations in 15 cities.

Ethics Group To Hear Dodd Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee will start hearings June 20 into charges about the relationship of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd to Julius Klein, a Chicago public relations man. Sens. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., and Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, chairman and vice chairman of the bipartisan committee, said in a statement late Thursday that "the initial hearings will be conducted in executive session, to be followed by open hearings."

The committee is investigating misconduct charges against Dodd, a Connecticut Democrat, by columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson. Dodd, denying the charges, has filed a $2 million libel and conspiracy suit against the columnists.

Stennis and Bennett did not say who the witnesses would be or how long the closed hearings would last before testimony is taken in public.

The committee announced on April 29 that its initial hearings would deal with charges that Dodd had acted as "an errand boy" for Klein, a registered agent for West German business interests, and in return for expensive gifts and other favors had used his position to help Klein hold onto his clients.

Horizon Of Moon

Surveyor Sending Back Second Photo Series

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 1, triumphant U. S. spacecraft with feet planted firmly on the moon, radioed its second long stream of pictures early today — photos of itself and lunar terrain, containing no surprises.

Some of the second series were out of focus, hurriedly taken to speed the camera on a full-circle sweep of the landing site — the Sea of Storms near the moon's equator.

Others of the series were remarkably detailed, some showing items as small as one-eighth of an inch. Scientists, after studying results of the full-circle sweep, plan later to turn the camera back to snap interesting areas.

The 650-pound spacecraft settled gently on its three shock-absorbing legs early Thursday after a spectacularly successful 63-hour voyage over a quarter of a million miles.

Scientists said the accomplishment put the Surveyor program — an effort involving plans for a total of seven Surveyor shots at a cost of $725 million — ahead by one year.

The feat, history's first truly soft landing on the moon, was hailed as a significant advance in the race to land men on lunar surface by 1970.

It also brought from President Johnson, along with praise, a renewed call for preserving the reaches of space for peaceful, scientific activities.

"Overnight," Johnson said, "the eyes of Surveyor 1 have become the eyes of the world on the moon. Another exciting chapter in the peaceful exploration of the universe is open for men to read and share."

The Russian camera-carrying Luna 9 — a 200-pound ball designed to survive an impact that would have killed a man — sent back nine moon pictures Feb. 3, Russia, like the President, has proposed a treaty and barring of weapons from celestial bodies.

United Nations Secretary-General U Thant, in a congratulatory telegram to the President, said the U. S. achievement and recent statements by the United States and Russia on the need for a treaty on moon exploration "should give us all renewed faith in our ability to work together towards the establishment of a meaningful peace on our planet."

Like Thursday's series of 144 pictures, those from Surveyor today showed the undamaged spacecraft, the terrain around it and the distant horizon.

One shot of the horizon 1 1/2 miles away showed small craters in the distance.

Another, aimed almost straight down at the ground, five feet away, depicted gravel-like objects on the apparently hard-packed surface. Some were one-eighth to one-half inch in diameter.

There was nothing unexpected. Luna 9 televised much the same kind of pictures.

What pleased U. S. scientists was that Surveyor 1 had proved for the first time that the lunar surface, at least in the landing area, would support the much heavier Apollo craft.

They said Surveyor's 12-inch-diameter padded feet exerted as much pressure per square inch on the lunar surface as would the much wider feet of the heavier Apollo.

Journalists Make Headway In Ocean Trip

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Two English journalists are apparently making some headway in their efforts to row across the Atlantic in a 15-foot rowboat.

David Johnstone, 34, and John Hoare, 29, were paid an unexpected visit Thursday and found out they had advanced 98 miles toward England since departing Virginia Beach May 21.

The radar of the submarine Cutlass spotted the rowboat named Puffin at a distance of about nine miles, prompting Lt. Commander Lewis B. Sykes to order his men to maneuver the sub to the rowboat's side.

Asked if they needed assistance, Hoare and Johnstone replied they were doing fine and had every intention of continuing with their venture.

Sykes told the pair they were 98 miles east-southeast of Cape Henry — a progress of 64 miles since they were last seen Saturday night.

At that time the freighter American Tide reported the two were 22 miles east-northeast of Cape Charles. Sykes explained that a brisk northeast wind was responsible for pushing the Puffin southward from her last reported position.

Pleas For Commutation, Sees End To Death Penalty

AUSTIN (AP) — A veteran lawmaker, pleading with the State Pardons Board Tuesday to spare a convicted slayer's life, said he thought the Legislature some day would abolish the death penalty in Texas.

State Sen. Bill Moore, Bryan, said there probably would be reservations — such as leaving in the death penalty for persons under life sentence who kill a prison guard.

"I voted in 1947 to abolish the death penalty, but I wouldn't now except for reservations like that," said Moore, one of four attorneys who asked the board to commute the death sentence of Oscar Cook to life in prison.

The board took their pleas under advisement after an hour-long hearing attended by some 29 persons supporting commutation of Cook's sentence.

Cook is sentenced to die June 18 for the May 14, 1963, slaying of his former mother-in-law, Mrs. Dan Crow of Davilla, in Milam County.

Mrs. Crow was fatally shot with a .22 caliber pistol. Witnesses testified Cook also shot his former wife, her brother and sister and himself after an argument with his ex-wife.

A Falls County jury found him guilty and sentenced him to death.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the verdict and sentence last November.

A former attorney for Cook, Charles Smith, said Cook had a "suicidal complex, bent on self-destruction. He was preoccupied with a single thought — he wanted to plead guilty, and he wanted the death penalty." He said Cook rejected a chance for life imprisonment.

A letter was read from Dr. David Wade of Austin, the state's psychiatrist at the trial, recommending commutation of the sentence. Petitions from 776 residents of Davilla, Temple and Rogers also were presented, supporting pleas for a reduced sentence.

Protesting the request for commutation were John Henderson, county attorney of Milam County, and four members of the Crow family, including Mrs. Crow's husband.

"Oscar Cook is a dangerous man, and the Crow family would be in danger if he ever got out of prison," Henderson said.

"I'm genuinely concerned about this case," said Moore, who added that this was only the second time he had ever asked the board to commute a sentence.

WIVES BEWARE!

If your husband has occasion to visit Fort Worth, don't let him stay at Green Oaks Inn!

Oh, it's nice, all right.

It's done in sort of a storybook Old English.

It has 300 rooms, including 57 suites, and two swimming pools.

The food's, all they say it is—the tastiest in Fort Worth.

And the club, patterned after an Old English ale house, is utterly charming.

Green Oaks Inn has a great location—away from downtown congestion, yet less than 10 minutes by freeway from the heart of the city.

The prices are reasonable, too.

Why then, you ask, should you steer him to another hotel?

If he stays at Green Oaks, he'll probably never want to come back home.

Expected To Ignore Cries Of Resignation

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Prime Minister Sean Lemass was certain to ignore opposition demands today that his government resign because of President Eamonn de Valera's narrow victory margin in the presidential election.

But his Fianna Fail party started an anguished inquest into the result of Thursday's election.

With more than a million votes cast, De Valera, 83, won re-election to a second seven-year term over Thomas O'Higgins, 49, by only 10,568 votes. De Valera got 558,808 votes and O'Higgins 548,240.

The opposition Fine Gael party said it interpreted the result as a vote of censure against the government.

Lemass is to make a major policy statement Saturday outlining his proposals to cure Ireland's current ills. After some years of prosperity, the economy is plagued by strikes, rising prices and overseas debt.

Lemass may call an election at any time before 1970, but most political observers expect him to hang on for at least two years — until his efforts to increase farm exports have brought results.

De Valera was elected to his first term by more than 120,000 votes when he ran against Gen. Sean Mac Eoin in 1959.

Many voters are believed to feel that at 83 De Valera is too old for the presidency, even though the office is largely ceremonial.

Turks To Vote On Leadership

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — The troubled Turks, locked in an ideological war that has sharply divided the nation, will show Sunday how they view the conservative leadership of Prime Minister Suleyman Demirel's Justice party.

The Justice party is dominant in peasant Anatolia as the heir of the now outlawed Democrat party of the executed Premier Adnan Menderes. It is the heavy favorite in elections for 50 seats in the 185-member Senate.

Political experts predict Demirel's candidates may win as many as 30 Senate seats. The major opposition, the Republican People's party of former Prime Minister Ismet Inonu, may take about 15, with splinter parties dividing the remainder under proportional representation.

As in most Turkish elections, the senatorial campaign has been marked by bitter wrangling, name calling and charges of "extremism" — both left and right. The Cyprus question was shoved into the background.

Demirel defended his legislative program, which has all but come to a standstill because of opposition tactics in the National Assembly.

The prime minister, 41, has painted a rosy future for the Turks, provided the nation can forget the past and pull together.

The opposition parties criticized Demirel's rule since the Justice party took power last October, lashing out particularly at his handling of bread-and-butter issues and his attempts to change the electoral laws to favor smaller parties.

Demirel also has been accused of selling out the country to capitalists and foreigners and of using the Moslem religion to turn Turkey away from the reformist principles of Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, the nation's first president.

The 80-year-old Inonu labeled the Justice party the "caravan of guilt" — an obvious reference to Menderes who was toppled by the 1960 army revolution and later hanged for crimes against the constitution.

An ideological clash of the left and right has been worsening since 1964 when Turkey under Inonu adopted a more neutral foreign policy. Disappointment with the West over Cyprus was the cause.

The leftist movement, stagnant for years, took heart. Attacks against America and military alliances became common among the student, press and intellectual groups.

The Justice party, running hard on an anti-Communist platform, swept into power last October in the General Assembly elections — mainly supported by the normally Russian-hating peasantry.

Turkey has been in virtual turmoil since.

Film Stresses Good Relations

"How to Succeed in the People Business," a film narrated by Dr. Joyce Brothers, noted psychologist, was screened at the meeting of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday.

The film dealt with the frequent acts of discourtesy employees of business establishments show toward customers. It warned of the heavy public relations damage that such incidents create.

The psychologist outlined the proper approach and stressed the need for emphasis on the matter of dealing with the public.

Announcement was made that Clyde Hollingsworth and H. W. Smith have been designated as official delegates of the Big Spring club to the July 1-5 International Convention of Kiwanis in Portland, Ore.

The club's alternate delegates are Elmer Boatler and Roscoe Newell.

There are still 15 or more Kiwanians who have not reported on their ticket sales for the recent Kiwanis rodeo barbecue. Until these reports are in, no final report can be made. Receipts so far have been more than the expenses and the Kiwanians were told that all money turned in from now on for the barbecue is profit.

Morton Sees Ample Candidate Material

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thruston B. Morton expressed belief today Republicans will have plenty of potential presidential candidates in 1968 if the party makes as good a showing as he thinks it will in elections this fall.

Thus, Morton, former GOP national chairman who now is the Republicans' Senate campaign chairman, didn't think Gov. William W. Scranton's surprise withdrawal from the future political scene left an open field to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

Neither has announced any intention to try for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968. But Nixon and Romney are the most often mentioned possibilities for the GOP sweepstakes. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, like Scranton, has dropped out.

Morton said "there's no use speculating on 1968 until we get through with 1966 and see how the leadership develops.

"After the defeat we took in '64, at the state as well as the national level, we must show some signs of life to develop the interest that would encourage someone to step forward and carry the banner.

"If we make the gains I think we will make this year there will be plenty of candidates for the nomination."

Rockefeller told a Washington news conference "there's no question that Scranton could help Romney toward the 1968 presidential nomination by announcing support of the Michigan governor.

In Lansing, Mich., Romney said Scranton is "well qualified to serve in important national capacities. Even though he has indicated he will not again stand as a candidate for elective office, I am hopeful he will continue to contribute in strengthening the Republican party and in serving the nation."

Pennsylvania's Sen. Hugh Scott, who had been reported in some circles as leaning toward Romney, said he was very sorry Scranton had removed himself from the picture. Scott, like Morton, is a former GOP national chairman.

Scranton's "irrevocable" decision not to "run ever again for any public office under any circumstances" apparently was not much of a surprise to Morton.

"I understood he was not interested in pursuing a political career," said Morton. But the Kentucky senator said that Scranton, who unsuccessfully challenged Barry Goldwater in the final hours of the 1964 nominating campaign, probably would still "be an influence" in choosing the party's candidate.

Vincent Baptists Now Free Of Debt

Two years ago the Vincent Baptist Church built a new church home. Now it is paid for.

Members celebrated being free of debt Sunday by holding a note-burning and dedication service. The Rev. Virgil Drewery, former pastor, spoke from John 3:16-18. Wiley Cunningham gave a testimony on how deciding to build was an act of faith; Claude Hodnett on what the program had meant to him; and Hap Wilson how some difficulties were overcome.

Mrs. J. C. Shepherd, Claude Hodnett and Terrell Shafer burned the note, signifying retirement of the debt.

Special music was given by Mrs. Royce Shoemate, and Shoemate worded the prayer of dedication following a personal re-dedication service.

The afternoon ceremonies followed the regular morning worship and a basket lunch at noon.

J. V. Bristow led the choir in singing several hymns, including the closing hymn, "To God Be the Glory." Invocation was by Elmo Dunn.

More Teachers Strike For Pay

DETROIT (AP)—Teachers in a fifth suburban Detroit school district struck today and those in a sixth scheduled a walkout for Monday. More money in new contracts is the teachers' goal.

In addition, 55 schools in Flint remained shut a second day as teachers there continued a demonstration for higher pay.

More than 82,000 pupils are enrolled in the affected Detroit suburban and Flint schools. Year-end closings are scheduled from next Friday up to June 22.

Some 2,000 teachers in the area are involved.

The Ecorse AFL-CIO Federation of Teachers broke off negotiations with the Board of Education in that Detroit suburb early today. Its members began picketing at 7 a.m.

This walkout jumped to 61 schools and 38,530 pupils the number idled in suburban Detroit. Flint's 55 schools have 44,000 pupils.

The Fitzgerald Education Association in suburban Warren voted to strike Monday and picket the Fitzgerald District's six schools.

At Fitzgerald, as in Flint and in the Detroit suburb Crestwood District, teachers are represented by affiliates of the independent Michigan Education Association. They choose to term their demonstrations "professional day protests."

But William Gayde, Fitzgerald association president, said the teachers would strike and man picket posts.

Bargaining units affiliated with the AFL-CIO Michigan Federation of Teachers have termed their work stoppages strikes, although such are prohibited by public employes under state law.

In Lansing, Gov. George Romney met with members of the State Labor Mediation Board. He announced he would call a meeting of state educational leaders in his office Tuesday.

Flint teachers are seeking a starting salary of $5,750 a year. They now receive $5,300.

The suburban Detroit teachers are asking beginning pay of $5,700 to $6,000 for bachelor's degree holders. They now are paid about $5,400 to start. An additional demand is for an increase in maximum salary from the present $8,200 to between $9,400 and $9,700.

A Devotional For The Day

Then he (Jesus) said to them: "Go forth to every part of the world, and proclaim the Good News to the whole creation." (Mark 16:15, NEB)

PRAYER: May the Holy Spirit, O God, direct us in all our ways and lead us into all truth. Thus fulfill in us also Christ's promise to His first disciples. In His name we pray, Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

You Have A Choice: Vote It

Tomorrow's your day, if you are sincere about your opinions on how your government should be run, and as to whom should hold offices of public trust.

It's the wind-up of the Democratic party selection, and the polls will be open as usual. In Howard County, selections are to be made on two county commissionships, and votes registered for the important office of state attorney general.

The size of the vote is going to have a bearing on all these races, and the man who loses in each can say that a limited turnout of voters was what cost him the election.

You, as a citizen, must surely have a choice in these races. If so, you ought to register that choice.

The Herald once again expresses its own endorsement of Crawford Martin for attorney general, on the premise that he is a man of proven public service, with a record as senator and state administrator which makes him most knowledgeable of the affairs of the office. Here again, if the followers of Martin want to see him elected, they will have to take the few minutes required to go to the polls and vote.

Any man—attorney general or county commissioner—ought to be put into office by an honest majority vote, and not because most of the electorate shuns the polls.

Blow To Fundamental Right

H. W. Bahnman, president of the Texas Real Estate Association, sounded the rallying cry for realtors to oppose HR 1476. Addressing the local real estate board here Thursday evening, he termed Title IV of this measure a body blow to the right of contract as well as the right to choose.

The measure is contained in what is known as the current Civil Rights bill. It is designed to prevent discrimination in housing, whatever cause.

However, the underlying principle at stake takes it far beyond that point and should occasion protest from the rank and file of people, not just realtors.

The right of contract for legal purposes has been a fundamental and unlimited one. When this is taken away, it is not merely a contractual loss, but it is a critical challenge to the right of private property.

It has been pointed out aptly that if the government can tell you to whom you may sell, it logically and eventually can tell you from whom to buy.

Moreover, the burden on owners of defending challenges in court is lopsided and could, as some have claimed, lead to career suit-filers.

Title IV may have commendable objectives, but the medicine is too lethal. The cure could be a killer of some fundamental rights, and it should be rooted out.

David Lawrence Responsibility Of The U.N.

WASHINGTON—The United States has only one way out of the Viet Nam dilemma—only one way that is honorable and consistent with the unselfish effort to save a small nation from the loss of its independence. That way is through the United Nations. The same principles which prompted the U.N. to send under its own auspices an Allied army to repel aggression in Korea can be re-affirmed now.

WHAT IS BLOCKING such a course? The answer is: A confident belief by the Communists—derived from reports of internal dissension in the United States—that if the war is prolonged this country will abjectly surrender. Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a speech last Saturday at Williamsburg, Va., deplored the misconceptions that are being spread abroad about American policy. He said:

"Professional diplomacy requires a certain amount of temporary secrecy: Secret information, secret discussions and negotiations. Public discussion of certain situations at certain times may be distorted by lack of knowledge of facts that are available to the President and Secretary of State—yet which they cannot at the moment fully divulge.

"THERE MUST also be considered the practical fact that a show of division among our people can complicate the conduct of our foreign affairs. For example, there is the danger that a foreign government may miscalculate our intentions. There are strong reasons to believe that the militant Communists of Asia have been sustained by the conviction that world opinion or internal dissension within the United States will cause us to withdraw from South Viet Nam. That will not happen. But it is not easy to convince Hanoi and Peking."

MR. RUSK, further on in his speech, laid stress on the opportunity of the United Nations to maintain peace in the world. He said:

"The paramount issue of our time is whether or not the world is to be organized on the principles of freedom, peace and genuine co-existence sketched out in the preamble and Articles One and Two of the United Nations charter. To that end, the American people have exerted large and unremitting efforts during the last 20 years."

MANY PEOPLE will wonder why the U.N. has not stepped in already to stop the war in Viet Nam. All sorts of excuses have been made by the Secretary-General. There was no hesitation, however, by the U.N. in helping out in Africa a few years ago or in intervening recently in the Rhodesian controversy.

"Peace-keeping" has been heralded as one of the primary functions of the U.N. But today, while the principles are the same as they were when "peace-keeping" was carried on in the Congo, the situation in international politics is different. The Communists now have lined up enough countries to block U.N. intervention. The free world is inexplicably silent. Only by discussion and open criticism of the United Nations for its failure to solve the Viet Nam problem can any progress really be made.

THE OBJECTIVE of such a crusade would be to secure acceptance of a plan whereby the U.N. would demand assurances from both Red China and the Soviet Union that they would cease their aid to the aggressors in North Viet Nam. If this were done, the U.N. could pledge itself to arrange for the withdrawal of American troops. The whole settlement could then be supervised under international auspices for an indefinite period.

SOME OYSTER!

James Marlow Scranton Is Not Stirred Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton gives no reason for his decision never to run for public office again—including the presidency—but perhaps it is because he is not "stirred up."

This was the reason he gave in 1964 for not seeking the Republican presidential nomination, which he later tried for after changing his mind.

But he sounds more positive now than when moderate Republicans teamed up behind him in an attempt to keep Barry Goldwater from the nomination. It's doubtful his chances in 1968 would be better than in 1964.

HE WAS THE RELUCTANT dragon of Republican politics that year when New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was the only Republican who really put up a fight to try to stop Goldwater.

When Rockefeller failed, Scranton had to be practically pushed into opposing Goldwater, and then he got massacred.

His announcement Thursday that he was permanently out of the national picture came 11 days behind a similar one by Rockefeller who said he was out of the presidential running "for ever."

In the past Rockefeller, Goldwater and others at one time or another disclaimed any presidential desires, only to switch around. This time it sounds final with both Rockefeller and Scranton.

THE LATTER said he would not again run for public office—he can't run to succeed himself as governor—under "any circumstances" and would not run for the presidency, the Senate, or Congress in "1968 or ever."

This was a lot more emphatic than in 1964 when his dilly-dallying used up time and in the end made it impossible for him to be a real contender against Goldwater. He was never more than a shadowy contender.

Scranton, a millionaire, says he doesn't know what he will do when he finishes his term as governor. Would he back any other Republican for the presidential nomination two years from now?

Again he was typically cautious, saying that if Michigan's Gov. George Romney wants to run "I would give him very thorough consideration." This was a lot less firm than Rockefeller who, in taking himself out of any future presidential consideration, suggested Romney for the nomination.

ROMNEY, LIKE ROCKEFELLER this year, is seeking a third term as governor and declined to talk about the presidency, at least for the time being.

After President Johnson defeated Goldwater in 1964 the latter blamed Rockefeller and Romney for not backing the Goldwater ticket. Scranton, who had denounced Goldwater before the convention, campaigned for him.

Hal Boyle It's Just Not Right

NEW YORK (AP)—If a man walks into an art museum with a knife and slashes a priceless oil painting into canvas confetti he nets a jail term or at least a stretch on the psychiatric couch.

But if the same man cuts the heart out of a literary classic by abridging, expurgating, revising or rewriting he nets a fair sum of money.

Why is it wrong to "improve" a Rembrandt painting by adding a little touch of color, but no sin to revise and rewrite A. A. Milne's classic "Winnie the Pooh" because you think Milne took too long to say what he had to say?

There's no quick answer, but that doesn't make it right. And the literary lady who announced recently that she planned to remake Pooh and Piglet and Owl and the rest of Milne's characters in her own image is asked to forget it.

Pooh is Pooh or, to coin a paraphrase, a Pooh without stuffing is no Pooh at all. It was bad when they made paigned for him. Some examples of Scranton's reluctance and indecision the last time:

In 1963 he said he would accept the nomination if he was drafted. In February, 1964, he was saying a candidate for president to be effective must be "real stirred up about the issues."

HE SAID HE WASN'T stirred up enough to be a good candidate although he would accept a draft. By early June he dropped mention of the draft, said he would be available for the nomination if the convention delegates wanted him, said he wouldn't try to stop Goldwater, and was quoted as saying, "I don't see any basic differences" between himself and Goldwater.

Why this desire to change things of value? "Brevity," say the changers, "clarity, modernizing."

But not beauty. They always forget beauty.

Who would remember the Gettysburg Address if Lincoln had begun with "Eighty-seven years ago?"

How about changing it from "In the beginning God, etc." to "First God, etc.?" Or how about "These things are obvious" rather than "We hold these truths to be self-evident?"

Those who prefer the changes ought to be made to write on a blackboard 500 times: "Oh, Lord my God, I am heartily sorry for having offended thee."

But they'll probably write: "Sorry about that."

Phil Thomas substitutes today for Hal Boyle.

Around The Rim Charley And The Morning Glory Seed

This is a very sad tale about Charley, morning-glory seeds and an hallucination which never hallucinated.

Back at old Vapid U, I had a roommate named Charley who was renowned for his ability to foul up anything he got his twitching little hands on.

CHARLEY WAS a small, nervous dynamo whose connections were evidently a genetic cross between the late Albert Einstein and the Mad Hatter. He was a malaprop, and though Bill Dana gets the credit, I am sure it was Charley who first said his forebears were "Jungarian Hews."

Charley would try anything, and never seemed to learn that no matter what it was he'd try, it'd not work. Maybe he didn't care if it worked or not, just so long as he got a whirl. For instance, while we were rooming together, Charley was trying law school and working in the chemistry lab part time. Trouble was, he kept getting torts confused with retorts and lost his job and part of his left index finger. I think he wound up selling insurance, which goes to show you.

ANYWAY, THIS was before LSD had received much press attention. We at Vapid U, however, had been hearing about LSD and hallucinations for some small time. Charley devoured everything he could find on the subject (which I think was two pamphlets and a Young Americans for Freedom denunciation of the use of the drug.)

After completing the reading of the two booklets and the YAF handout, Charley decided he was an expert in the mind-freeing drug field, and nothing else would do but that he conduct what he characteristically called a "tersonal pest."

I WAS TO be the witness of the test, for two reasons: first, he thought I could take notes of what happened and what he said; secondly, if it drove him to a frenzy, I might be able to keep him from tearing down half of Sumpkins Hall with the insane strength of a 124-pound, turned-on, LSD addict.

Charley claimed that morning-glory seeds, if consumed in sufficient quantity in the right atmosphere (I asked him if a full moon would help, and he mot gad), would produce a glitter of an hallucination. So I drove him to a seed house and Charley, wearing a trench-coat and a hat two sizes too big for him plopped down over his LBJ-sized ears, bought six packets of Burpee's morning-glory seeds and sneaked back to the car in his best James Bond style.

BACK HOME, Charley opened a bottle of his favorite beverage, Welch's grape juice, warm, and proceeded to eat the seeds, a package at a time. Some he chewed, some he swallowed whole, to be sure of a good effect.

We waited five hours, and nothing happened. Charley almost wept. I offered to buy him a beer, but he said that wasn't the kind of kick he was wanting. He left school shortly after that, disillusioned. Last I saw of him, he said he had gotten a good job, and maybe he did. —TOM BARRY

Marquis Childs We're Spread Too Thin

WASHINGTON—Part of the cost of the spreading conflict in Viet Nam can be lumped under the heading of the brain drain. The military to one side, the concentration of brains, skill, ability in Southeast Asia has put a strain on a half-dozen civilian agencies.

Roughly one-tenth of the total American staff of the United States Information Agency is there. The State Department, the Central Intelligence Agency and other branches of government are feeling the pinch. More often than not the ablest and most dedicated men are singled out for service in Viet Nam.

AGENCIES SUCH as Agriculture and Health, Education and Welfare, charged with a share in the program of rehabilitation, must assign experts to the difficult task of trying to rebuild the countryside and win the allegiance of the peasantry as the war continues. The inroads of disease—with a new virulent form of malaria that defies normally effective drugs and viral hepatitis—are taxing medical resources in Viet Nam, both civilian and military. As the President's economy drive pinches the budgets of most agencies the demands growing out of the Viet Nam commitment cut deeper into normal functions and the responsibilities of government at home and abroad.

IT IS IN foreign policy that the consequences are felt most acutely. The number of hours spent on Viet Nam by the President's principal advisers add up to an overwhelming total. This means, along with the drain of skilled and able manpower, the neglect of other vital areas of American involvement.

Certain of the President's advisers are aware of how costly this can be. With government resources and public attention concentrated on Southeast Asia the slippage in other areas goes almost unnoticed. There are signs that the Soviet Union is taking advantage of this country's absorption in a war that will shortly see 400,000 American troops on the ground in Asia.

THE MIDDLE EAST is a prime example. A blowup can come this summer. The degree to which Premier Alexi Kosygin backed President Gamal Abdel Nasser during Kosygin's recent visit to Cairo is not clear. But the Soviet Union has provided Egypt with massive arms aid and has made loans available up to a half-billion dollars for the Aswan dam.

NASSER CONTINUES to keep more than 50,000 troops in Yemen. Knowledgeable observers here fear that he may launch a direct attack on Saudi Arabia over control of the primitive desert state belatedly moving out of the remote past. This could involve Jordan, since King Hussein has aligned his nation with Saudi Arabia. In a spreading war between rival Arab states Israel would be endangered.

Africa is another area in which the drift of events can present Washington with grim, if not impossible choices. Increasingly the militancy of black Africa is directed at the remaining enclaves of white supremacy, notably South Africa and Rhodesia.

THE GROWING tension throughout black Africa is related to the drift in the United Nations. Control in the U.N. is passing to peoples of color under the one-nation, one-vote rule. With the prospect of the admission of Red China in the not-too-distant future the domination by Asian and African nations aimed at the little plateau of white superiority, as gauged by the economic indices, is an ominous portent for the U.N.

The plain fact is that resources of trained and able civilians, as well as the supply of money, are limited. The more they are drawn into the vortex of Viet Nam the fewer there are for other urgent needs.

Holmes Alexander Watch Those European Hearings

WASHINGTON — Given control of his staff and his pick of witnesses, any committee chairman can pretty well dramatize his own opinions on the given subject.

This is what we must expect, I think, of Senator Frank Church (D., Idaho) who will soon conduct Foreign Relations hearings on West Europe. We will hear his witnesses on De Gaulle, on NATO, on German ambitions for reunification and on the American nuclear "shield" which has for 20 years protected West Europe from a Russian invasion.

WHAT SHOULD both the American public be not that Senator Church has strong ideas (he doesn't), but that he has a very flabby set of attitudes for an American statesman. We have a right to expect in our statesmen, I believe, a strong bias for our own positions, a built-in credo that this country is right, until proved wrong, and that countries which oppose us in diplomacy or war, are probably wrong. I see no reason why a man who is elected by American votes, and paid from the public treasury, should be overly-objective, or unprejudiced, or neutralistic toward our critics—and I'm sorry to say that Frank Church projects all these impressions.

THE AMERICAN public, soon to be sitting in on his West Europe hearings, is likely to be subjected to ideas which Church has already expressed in his writings, speeches and press conferences—and these ideas will not be helpful to the American task in Europe and elsewhere. The Idaho Senator spent two weeks in Europe during May, preparing himself to conduct the hearings that fall in June. He interviewed all the European leaders, and some of the opinion-makers there, and what he brought back was a mild guilt-complex about his own country's actions and positions in Europe.

FOR EXAMPLE, he seems to have adopted the condescending notion expressed by Europeans that the USA is "unattuned" to present conditions in Europe and the world. He appears to agree with those who demand "less dogmatism" by us, "less insistence on American solutions" and "certain relaxation of pressures."

All this is to say, if I understand it, that we should go on supplying men and money, but should get over the idea that this entitles us to insist on "solutions" and to exert "pressures." A different man than Church might have brought home a feeling that we have had too little to say, rather than too much, about matters that concern our relations with Europe.

AN AMERICAN statesman should be proud of our "superiority," and resentful of adjectives like "voracious," that are used by our critics. We had better watch out that Senator Church doesn't use these hearings to put his own country on trial before the peevish and jealous complaints of other nations.

Land Mine Victims

CHANDIGARH, India (AP) — At least 44 Indian civilians have been killed and 57 injured by land mines left behind by Indian and Pakistani forces that fought across the Northwest plains in September, 1965.

Come, Go

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Nearly every white home in South Africa has at least one African maid servant. And nearly every white woman complains regularly of the shortcomings of her African domestic. It's one of the commonest subjects of talk when South Africa's white women get together.

White women often fire their African girls, as they call them, and just as often take on new ones.

One woman, whose frequent hiring and firing had given her something of the reputation of a busy employment agency, was expecting a baby. It was getting very near the time. Her friends were busy speculating whether it would be a boy or a girl.

The expectant mother silenced the argument. "It'll certainly be a boy," she said. "No girl would stay with me for nine months."

Editorials and Opinion The Big Spring Herald

6-A Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Friday, June 3, 1966

Conference Turned Into LBJ Show

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the White House conference on civil rights drew to a close, someone asked Roy Wilkins what it all meant.

The slender, graying leader of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People hesitated. Then he said: "Well, let's wait till next fall."

Someone asked Asbury Howard, a stocky mineworker from Bessemer, Ala., who says he has bucked the racial system for 40 years, what it all meant.

The middle-aged Negro did not hesitate.

"I don't know what'll come of these resolutions or these good-sounding ideas," he said. "But these people came to Washington, they heard the President and the Vice President and Philip Randolph, and Thurgood Marshall. They heard their words and the tone in which they said them and they'll go home now feeling a confidence and a spirit they've never felt before. Now doesn't that mean something?"

It would be impossible for the most adventurous prophet to predict confidently what will become of the multibillion-dollar recommendations presented at the conference by its planning council. Their timetable — to bring the Negro into equality in jobs and schools and the courtroom — runs for many years. By the most conservative estimates, it demands capital investments of $50 billion annually practically through the next decade.

By all accounts of delegates mingling and chatting and enjoying cocktails in the Washington hotel where it all happened, it was a Johnson administration show.

They handed their President and host a victory Thursday by refusing overwhelmingly to go along with a move to make his greatest problem — the war in Viet Nam — a racial problem. Resolutions by the Congress of Racial Equality demanding a pullout of U. S. forces were rejected virtually out of hand.

Despite a few rumors of pending disruptions, and a few shouting Washington pickets outside, there were no unpleasant incidents during the two-day conference. The mood of the while it was businesslike, it was primarily a sociable, friendly, interracial assembly.

Governors To Seek Role In Auto Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven governors meet with federal officials here today to seek a role for the states in the setting and enforcing of auto safety standards.

Gov. Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, head of the delegation, said the purpose of the meeting was "to see how the states can most effectively cooperate with the federal government in cutting fatalities on the nation's highways."

"Regardless of what legislation is enacted," Hansen said in an interview, "the states are going to be called upon to play a major role in enforcement. You can legislate what might go into a new car, but state inspectors are necessary to see that standards are maintained."

Hansen also said "the states have had a good deal of experience that ought to be useful" in establishment of safety standards.

The delegation meets in separate sessions with Commerce department officials in the morning and four congressional committee chairmen in the afternoon.

Between the two meetings, the governors are expected to have lunch with President Johnson. Hansen heads the delegation as chairman of the governors conference subcommittee on highway safety.

The Senate Commerce Committee already has started closed sessions to draft auto safety legislation, and the House Commerce Committee hopes to begin its sessions in about 10 days.

Negroes Gaining Substantial Ground, But Could Lose It

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says Negroes gained substantial ground in employment the past 10 years, but stand to lose most of it by 1975 unless they win a bigger share of white collar and skilled jobs.

Employment of Negroes and other nonwhites increased from 6.4 million to 7.7 million since 1955 — a much faster rate of growth than for white workers, said a report in the Monthly Labor Review.

This brought the ratio of nonwhite workers to total employment from 10.2 per cent in 1955 to 10.7 per cent in 1965, it said.

"Nevertheless, nonwhite workers continue to be disproportionate concentrated in less skilled blue-collar and service occupations," said the report by Joe L. Russell of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

If nonwhites continue to hold the same proportion of jobs, their ratio of total employment will slip back to 10.3 per cent by 1975, the report said, and their unemployment rate could be doubled because of the growing population.

Despite the 10-year growth in jobs, unemployment for nonwhites averaged at least twice the rate for white workers and will be reduced in the future only if government and private job training programs and new laws against employment discrimination have a major impact, Russell said.

The low skilled occupations in which Negroes and nonwhite workers are now largely concentrated are expected to grow more slowly than other jobs, Russell said.

More than half the 1.3 million gain in nonwhite employment the past 10 years was in white collar jobs but still, less than one fifth if all employed nonwhites held such jobs compared with nearly one-half of all employed white workers.

Nonwhites have made the most headway in teaching jobs, where they now about equal the number of white teachers in elementary and secondary schools, the report said.

Another area of significant gains for nonwhites was in clerical jobs, such as postal clerks, telephone operators, stock clerks, office machine operators and cashiers, the report said. The nonwhite ratio in clerical employment rose from 3.8 per cent to 5.7 per cent over the 10 years.

Employment of nonwhite craftsmen, much of it in construction work, increased from 4 per cent to 5.8 per cent over the 10 years, the report said.

Doug Hill Is Legion Chief

New commander of the Howard County American Legion post is Doug Hill. He was elected at a special dinner meeting Thursday evening at the Legion Hut.

He and other officers will be installed at an installation dinner and social affair for the post.

Hill said he hoped to carry on the good work of Carl Knappe, retiring commander, and to extend the Legion's participation in civic affairs.

The new commander has served in virtually every office in the post. He also has served two years as first vice commander of the 19th district. His wife, Lois, has been equally active in the Auxiliary both on the post and district levels.

Other officers named were J. G. (John) Littlejohn, first vice commander; Howard McMullen, second vice commander; Preston Ward, third vice commander; Clarence Daves, chaplain; W. A. Bynum, sergeant at arms; George Thornburn, finance officer; Quin Grigsby, service officer; Raymond Andrews, historian; C. A. Walker and Tim Jones, two-year trustees.

South propelled himself into an apparently hopeless six spade contract today. He uncovered a long shot, however, that, once mounted, brought him home a winner.

When South responded with three spades to his opening one no trump bid, North would have been better advised to rebid three no trump. Observe that he has an evenly distributed hand, stoppers in every suit, and the minimum count. South was, nevertheless, not warranted in driving to a slam. Instead of using Blackwood with so many side losers, he should have made his try, in the form of an ace showing call, by bidding five hearts. If North has the required number of controls, he may be relied on to practice to slam.

West opened the deuce of hearts, the six was played from dummy and East put in the eight which forced out South's ace. Prospects were gloomy for the declarer for, even if the diamond finesse succeeded, he was still confronted with two club losers.

In order to provide discards for both clubs, South decided to attempt an unorthodox play in the diamond suit which might develop an additional trick. Trumps were drawn in three rounds ending up in dummy and then the deuce of diamonds was led, away from the ace.

East put up the king of diamonds and returned a heart, West's queen dislodging the king. A diamond was led to South's queen and the ace of clubs put North in to give declarer two club discards on the ace and jack of diamonds. South's only loser on the deal was the king of diamonds.

Observe that East could not have gained by playing a small diamond when that suit was led from dummy. South puts up the queen from his hand, returns to the ace, and ruffs out the king on the next round to establish North's jack for a club discard. He later concedes one club trick.

Berry On CD Panel

W. D. Berry, Civil Defense coordinator, has been invited for a repeat appearance at the U.S. Civil Defense staff college in Little Rock, Ark., June 10.

"Since you provided excellent professional leadership last year at the staff college seminar part of the USCDC conference, we would like for you to again serve as a team-moderator," wrote Max W. Doman, staff director of the special training department.

Accompanying Berry to the conference will be Jack Denson, assistant coordinator of CD here. The Little Rock parley will cover three days, but Berry's part of the program will be June 10.

Court Orders 'No Pickets'

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP)—Operators of four packing sheds obtained a state court order Thursday forbidding farm union strikers to picket melon growers in this vicinity.

Dist. Judge Woodrow Laughlin granted the injunction against the new Independent Workers Association (IWA), who struck Wednesday in a dispute over demands for higher pay.

Union lawyer Ben Levy said he would ask U.S. Dist. Judge Reynaldo Garza to set aside the injunction today at Corpus Christi. Levy said the court order apparently applied only in Starr County.

In addition to asking for the injunction, counsel for the packing shed owners filed suits accusing IWA members of illegal picketing. The suits ask damages estimated at more than $4,000 a day.

IWA organizer Eugene Nelson, 36, posted $400 bond and was released a few minutes earlier to await trial on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Texas Rangers jailed Nelson the night before for refusing to step off a truck and let a railroad switch engine move freight cars filled with canteloupes.

Left-wing groups staged another rally Thursday night but only about 4,000 persons attended.

Mia Farrow Leaving Series

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Mia Farrow is leaving the television series "Peyton Place" to make movies for 20th-Century Fox.

A spokesman for the actress said Thursday she has signed a contract with Fox for an undisclosed number of films.

She appeared in the movie "Guns of Batasi" before taking the role of Alison MacKenzie in ABC's "Peyton Place."

FRANKLIN SPEARS Asks Texans To COMPARE THE RECORD

✓ SPEARS RECORD FOR THE PUBLIC INTEREST

✓ Honest Ballot to End Boss Rule

✗ OPPONENT'S RECORD OF SELF INTEREST

✗ $160,000 in Missing State Tax Money

For four years, Franklin Spears has worked for a modern voter registration law for Texas to provide safeguards against fraud. (For example, the Spears proposal requires the signature of every voter BOTH at the time he registers, and at the time he votes.) The Spears permanent registration bill is modeled after the tested election codes of 40 American states and is endorsed by the National Municipal League and the League of Women Voters as the best guarantee against election day frauds. None of the recent voter irregularities would have happened if the Spears' proposal had already been on the books. The safeguards would be there.

THE HAPHAZARD PRESENT LAW (SUPPORTED BY SPEARS' OPPONENT) CANNOT PREVENT SUCH FRAUDS. The present law fits hand in glove with the political machines of South Texas. The bosses like the loophole-filled present law. They have done business under it for decades. This is why the South Texas political bosses don't want the Spears safeguards.

... and this is why the South Texas bosses turned out the controlled vote against Franklin Spears

Honor Engaged Pair At Luncheon, Dinner

Miss Mozelle Groehl, bride-elect of Jack Edwin Irons, was honored Thursday with a bridesmaids' luncheon in the Gold Room at Big Spring Country Club.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jordan Grooms, Mrs. Jerry Hewitt, Mrs. Winifred Greenlees and Mrs. Robert K. Wagner.

Corsages were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Ted O. Groehl Sr.; and to Mrs. Jack Irons, mother of the prospective bridegroom. The hostesses' gift to Miss Groehl was a cup and saucer in her chosen pattern of china.

Miss Groehl, who was attired in a white sheath dress, presented gifts to her attendants.

The table was laid with a green cloth and accented with an arrangement of spring flowers in blue and white. Luncheon was served to 22 persons including the bridal attendants.

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, HERALD, FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1966 SEC. B

MRS. ROGER MACK FRAZIER

Miss Carr Marries Roger Mack Frazier

Miss Marilee Carr became the bride of Roger Mack Frazier Thursday evening at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Leo K. Gee officiated for the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred I. Carr, 1749 Purdue, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bruce Frazier, Cedar Ridge.

Altar decorations included candelabra entwined with ivy and centered with a floral arrangement of chrysanthemums and stock. Emerald green ferns formed the background.

Miss Merry Lee Dibrrell, organist, accompanied John Seitzler as he sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Miss Sheryl Gambill as she sang "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white organza over peau de soie. The Empire bodice and skirt was accented with appliques of satin and seed pearls. Her veil of illusion extended into a flowing chapel train.

For her bouquet, she carried white gladiolus and white daisies atop a bridal Bible, a gift from the bridegroom's parents.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Sidney Carr was maid of honor. Her dress was of pale yellow peau de soie and featured an A-line skirt with lace panels in the front.

Jim Bruce Frazier served as his brother's best man. Jennifer Frazier was flower girl and Tim Frazier was ring bearer. Altar tapers were Miss Penny Frazier and Miss Beth Frazier.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a yellow linen sheath with yellow and white accessories. The couple will reside at 511 Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazier are graduates of Big Spring Senior High School. Mrs. Frazier was secretary of the student council, and a member of the Future Homemakers Association and the Latin Club. Frazier was a member of the 4-H Club and a director of the Junior Rodeo, as well as president of the Future Farmers of America.

The church fellowship hall was the scene of the reception. The bridal party was joined by the honored couple's grandmothers, Mrs. J. C. Rogers and Mrs. Nell Frazier, in welcoming guests.

WEDDING CAKE
The refreshment table was covered with a white satin cloth and a silk organza overlay. White daisies surrounding a silver punch bowl and a three-tiered white wedding cake completed the decorations.

The bridegroom's table was covered with an ecru cutwork cloth and centered with a chocolate cake and a silver coffee service surrounded by white daisies.

Party Held As Honor To Couples

Col. and Mrs. Chester J. Butcher were hosts Sunday evening for a buffet dinner in their home at No. 1 Albrook honoring Col. and Mrs. Edwin J. White and Col. and Mrs. J. H. Sherwood.

Col. and Mrs. White will be leaving in July for a tour of duty in the Philippine Islands, and Col. Sherwood has been transferred to Viet Nam. Mrs. Sherwood will make her home in Lubbock until his return to the United States.

White carnation corsages were presented to Mrs. White, who was attired in a two-piece dress of blue lace, and Mrs. Sherwood, who wore a peacock blue silk sheath. Mrs. Butcher chose a white silk sheath and her jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

The catered affair began at 6:30 p.m., and hors d'oeuvres were served at a white-linen-covered table on the patio. Two more refreshment centers were in other areas. The centerpiece on the dining room table was composed of yellow pompons, blue irises and white spider mums interspersed with greenery.

Approximately 100 were included on the guest list.

Party Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Gloria Tubb, bride-elect of Lavell Hanson, was honored with a kitchen shower Thursday afternoon at the ranch home of Mrs. Bill McIlvain, Rt. 2.

The honoree was presented a corsage of small kitchen items in her chosen colors of pink and white. She was joined in the receiving line by her mother, Mrs. H. E. Tubb; and by her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Marvin Hanson.

Refreshments were served to the 20 guests attending from a table covered with a pink cloth and centered with an arrangement of long stem pink roses and sweet peas.

The couple is planning a June 25 wedding at the Lakeview Baptist Church.

Breakfast Held For Graduates

A come-as-you-are breakfast was held Tuesday morning in honor of two June Graduates, Jo Ann Neill and Lou Ann Misk. The 6 a.m. affair was held at the home of Mrs. L. V. Misk, 2307 Lynn. Mrs. Theda Neill was cohostess.

The breakfast table was covered with a pink linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of garden roses and fruit flanked by single rose buds.

Place cards were miniature diplomas tied with black and gold ribbons. The horseshoe of each guest was included in the diplomas.

Gift Shower Held Thursday

Miss Shelia Brewer, bride-elect of William Latimer, was honored with a miscellaneous gift shower Thursday evening at the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Cohostesses were Mrs. H. T. Crawford, Mrs. Ollie Kellough, Mrs. N. H. Stanley and Mrs. J. W. Hughes.

A white carnation corsage was presented to the honoree, and a red and white corsage was given to her mother, Mrs. W. T. Brewer.

Methodists Set Historic Parley

On the 300th anniversary of the founding of Methodism all seven conferences of the Methodist Church in Texas will meet together for the first time to celebrate this and the 50th anniversary of Southern Methodist University.

LARRY HAAG
Lockhart Baptist New Pastor Here

The Lockhart Baptist Church has a new pastor, Larry Haag, who came here from a two-year pastorate at Bronson, Kan. The Rev. Haag is a native of Topeka, Kan., and he was married in 1960 to a Topeka girl, Sharon Mundy. They have two children, Merry Dawn, 4, and Paul, 2, and the family resides at 2010 Johnson.

Rev. Haag attended Washburn College in Topeka, the University of Kansas and then took his bachelor of theology degree from the Baptist Bible College in Springfield, Mo. During his college years, he supplied several pulpits, and after graduation he was an associate pastor in St. Petersburg, Fla., for 18 months. He was then called to Ashland.

Regular services will be held Sunday, but a week from Sunday a series of revival services will be held with Rev. Haag as the evangelist.

Sisters Plan Visual Series

For the fourth consecutive year the TV Religion School will once again be presented on KMID-TV, Channel 2. Its summer schedule will be from 4 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. commencing June 6 and continuing through July 1.

The new Bible School series will be divided into two sections to reach all age groups. The first two weeks will be beamed to the elementary students and will be directed by Sister De Porres teaching "New Life in Christ." The last two weeks, designed for the teenagers and adults, will be handled by Sister Marie whose topic will be "Christians—Witnesses in Exodus."

Sister De Porres comes to Midland from Los Angeles where she conducted Sunday Story Time on ABC programming. She will use such visual aids as little men who move, a puppet and banners. Children following the classes on their home television sets should have their Bible, pencil and paper ready. Those who mail in their homework assignments to the station will be eligible for a TV Religion School Certificate.

Returning to teach the teenagers and adults this summer is Sister Marie, who has been coordinator for the confraternity of Christian doctrine for the mother house, and associate editor of Our Sunday Visitor, national Catholic weekly. The series is sponsored by the Order of the Victory Noll Sisters, which opened a convent at 1104 E. Parker in Midland in 1962. The Knights of Columbus are co-sponsors.

DOUG TUCKER
14 & Main Church Has Youth Leader

The Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ will have a summer-months youth director who has worked in 20 youth campaigns for Christ in the past two years.

Doug Tucker, who came here last Sunday, is a graduate student at Abilene Christian College in Rockford, Ill.

He attended Michigan Christian College from 1961-63, receiving his A.A. degree; and Oklahoma Christian College from 1963-64. He received his B.A. degree from ACC in January. Last summer Tucker served as youth director at Sweeney. He plans to be a missionary in Indonesia, after he receives his doctorate. His mother and younger sister will come to Big Spring to be with him during his summer stay here.

Paul Passed Here

Bill Smith shows Linda Hughes one of the places the Apostle Paul passed during his journeys. The two students, both members of the high school Bible class, were among those who recently made the wall map illustrating Paul's travels.

Bible Class Students Have Varied, Intense Course

Mrs. Elizabeth Johansen's high school Bible Class has been working on pictures and scrolls, on the journeys of Paul, and has created a wall map with pictures showing the apostle's travels in an interesting and colorful way.

The map, on the wall of the classroom, is mostly of Mystic tape, and it won't harm the wall when it is time to remove the project, Mrs. Johansen said.

The course, an elective sophomore and junior credit course, with three different classes and 75 students enrolled, is hardly a snap course, for there are textbooks and workbooks and tests.

The Bible course has been part of the high school curricula for about 25 years. It differs from the other classes at the high school as it is supported solely by public subscription and support from several churches.

The Big Spring Pastor's Association has had the Bible class as one of its projects since its beginning. Under Texas State Law, private funds are the only way that a class of religious nature may be supported. Big Spring residents donated $3,900 through The Herald for the class's support in 1965.

Mrs. Johansen, whose husband Johnny is the city parks manager, said that students in her class come from nearly all church groups in Big Spring. Many of them are Sunday school or church leaders.

Recently, the class did outlines of the United Kingdom, the United Kingdoms, Biblical symbols, and original student work to illustrate the lesson.

"We operate in the same manner that an English class would," said Mrs. Johansen, who also teaches two English classes.

Witnesses Set Circuit Meeting

Jehovah's Witnesses will hold a three-day circuit assembly in Artesia, N. M., June 24-26.

The Eddy County Farm Building will be used for upwards of 600 delegates from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Mike Davis, 1406 Benton, local presiding minister of the congregation, said, "The assembly is not sectarian, but is held primarily to advance Christian Bible education."

The featured speaker on the program appearing daily will be Lester M. Dugan, from Jehovah's Witnesses' world headquarters in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Who doesn't dream, sometimes? Who doesn't stand gazing into the future, picturing that new house, that graduation day, that wedding ceremony, that deluxe-model car . . . the thousand and one dreams that man holds in his heart?

We realize that a worthwhile life must contain more than just material satisfactions. Without a confident frame of mind, our future will be nothing but tension and uncertainty. Where can we find this inner feeling of courage that will make things easier for us every hour of every day?

Millions of people find it in the Christian faith. The apostle Paul said that he was strengthened in everything he did by faith in Christ . . . and this truth is constantly being rediscovered by men and women urgently in need of something they can trust.

Faith is the key to peace of mind. With faith, you will be able to move mountains of frustration.

BUZ SAWYER

YOU SPEAK VERY GOOD VIETNAMESE, COMMANDER SAWYER.

I WAS IN SOUTH VIETNAM 5 YEARS AGO AND PICKED UP A SMATTERING.

MAY I SUGGEST WE SPEAK IN ENGLISH. THERE MAY BE THOSE WHO ARE LISTENING.

FIRST LET ME SAY YOU HAVE PUT GEN. TAM IN A MOST AWKWARD POSITION. COLONEL GO HATES HIM AND SUSPECTS HIS LOYALTY. COLONEL GO IS A VERY AMBITIOUS AND LOYAL COMMUNIST. HE WOULD DO ANYTHING TO DESTROY THE GENERAL AND ADVANCE HIMSELF.

GASOLINE ALLEY

You think Mr. Finch put in the patio about the same time he patched the wall in the basement, Dr. Fuddle?

So it appears, Mrs. Grubb!

Perhaps!

What are you going to do now?

If the neighbor children are amenable, I think I shall join their little game of toss and catch!

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

When Bernie Hagins took over as the regular quarterback for the Snyder Tigers in the early 50's, he needed a couple of rocks in his pockets to weigh 115 pounds.

BERNIE HAGINS

One of the best nights Hagins had in high school football was when he personally took the ball in three times himself in a jaw-to-jaw struggle against Breckenridge.

Bernie, who will spend the first six weeks of this summer working toward his master's degree at Stephen F. Austin, intends to change defenses a little this year but will go largely with the offense his predecessor, Spike Dykes, installed there.

Morton's, Ward's Rack Up Wins In Loop Play

Morton's Foods moved in front of the American Softball league standings by half a game by defeating Pepsi-Cola, 5-3, and Troy Wetsel had quite a night in leading Montgomery Ward past the Big Spring Optimists, 10-0, in action Thursday night at the City Park.

Wetsel fanned 14 in the fifth inning struggle, Joe Jackson and Gehling each had two doubles for the winners while Tex Mainord smashed a triple.

Wetsel was a tower of strength at bat as well as in the field for Ward's. He smashed a second inning double that produced a run, then dented the plate himself in that round. In the fourth, he drove out a round-tripper with Martin Gehling on base.

HCJC Trio Has Perfect Record

Three students have made the spring semester dean's list at Howard County Junior College with a 3.0 grade point average, according to Ben Johnson, academic dean. This is the highest grade possible.

William Clements, Larry Newman, and Eleanor Ruth Roberts achieved an A average in all academic subjects. Clements was graduated as valedictorian in May with a 2.95 average for his two years in college.

Fifty students made the list. In order for a student to qualify, he must have taken a minimum of 15 academic semester hours and have an average of B or above. No account is taken of a grade in required physical training except the student must be passing.

HCJC is on a three grade point system in which an A counts 3 points, a B is 2, etc. To make Summa Cum Laude, at least 45 points are required; Cum Laude Ampla Et Magna, 42-44; Magna Cum Laude, 39-41; Ampla Cum Laude, 36-38; and Cum Laude, 33-35.

It was my intention to contact the homes of all voters in Precinct 2. Week before last, I thought it best to drive an elderly couple to Houston and to help them find living quarters that one might be admitted to the hospital. Last week, a trip to near Chicago because of the illness and death of my mother was necessary. These two long trips have consumed much of the already short time available and have made it impossible to contact each of the voters. In view of these unpredictable trips, I take this means to humbly solicit your vote for county commissioner Precinct 2 on Saturday, June 4th.

The voters of Precinct 2 know me. You read the newspaper, and keep up with television and radio reports. You know what is going on, and you are familiar with what your county commissioner has been doing.

Please consider the record of my one term in office, and take the small amount of time necessary to exercise our privilege, as citizens, to vote Saturday, June 4th.

Re-Elect R. C. Nichols, county commissioner, Precinct 2 (PH. Pol. Adv.)

The broad terms of the U.S. Military Assistance Program, under which the United States trains officers of friendly nations, were outlined for a crowd of civilian and military people at a Webb AFB Officers Club dinner Thursday evening.

Along with this went presentations to a number of Big Spring people who have played major roles in helping acquaint foreign flying students at Webb with U.S. modes of living.

For a number of years, Webb has been one of the bases which trains foreign cadets and officers, and a part of the program has been to help them have a better understanding of the U.S. and its people. Letters of appreciation to persons who have led in this program were presented by the Webb wing commander, Col. Chester J. Butcher.

They went to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ream and Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan, who have spearheaded a program to bring the foreign students for informal hospitality into Big Spring homes; to Judge Ralph Cato, Roger Brown and Robert Boadle, who led in an indoctrination program in the country's judicial procedures and its industrial facets; to Mr. and Mrs. Lyndell Ashley, who also have aided in hospitality in an outstanding way; and to R. ## Practicing For Recovery Of Apollo Astronauts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The 6,000-man worldwide recovery fleet which will retrieve the Gemini 9 astronauts is getting ready for the day it will have to locate spacemen returning from the moon.

As many as five HC139 search and recovery aircraft may rehearse techniques needed when Apollo astronauts splash into the ocean at the end of their round trip to the moon.

The target zone for lunar missions will be considerably larger than the 230-mile-long primary landing area set aside 420 miles east of Cape Kennedy for Gemini 9.

Instruments on board five 4,200-mile range, four-engine HC139s are designed to zero in on a spacecraft and calculate its landing area beginning at 400,000-foot altitude. Defense department officials said four of the planes will be stationed out of Bermuda and another may fly from the Azores.

According to the recovery plan, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan and Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford will ride their Gemini 9 capsule into the Atlantic Ocean at 9:50 a.m. EDT Monday.

Wants Stay In A Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attorney for Jack Ruby has asked the Supreme Court for a stay of a sanity hearing scheduled June 13 in Dallas, Texas. Ruby received a death sentence for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, identified by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

The request filed by William M. Kunstler, New York City attorney, also asked for a stay of all state court appeal proceedings pending the filing of an appeal to the Supreme Court from the denial of a writ of habeas corpus for Ruby in Texas.

The state of Texas will have an opportunity to file a reply before the matter is submitted to Justice Hugo O. Black.

Panamanians Rioting Again

PANAMA (AP) — Panamanian troops hurled tear gas Thursday night to break up a demonstration by students who accused the government of killing a leftist Panamanian student shortly after he returned from Moscow.

Extremist student leaders charged that government investigators beat Juan Navas Pajaro, 29, to death after he returned to Panama Sunday. His body was found early Wednesday near Colon, 50 miles northwest of Panama City. A coroner said he was killed by a blow on the head.

Minister of Government J. D. Bazzan met with student leaders today and asked the attorney general to investigate the death.

Government spokesmen denied that Navas had been in custody since he returned. They theorized that he was hit by a car or killed by a rival student group. His brother Luis is secretary-general of the Student Federation of Panama.

Navas reportedly spent eight months in the Soviet Union undergoing medical treatment. Student sources said he suffered a head wound in January, 1964, when anti-American rioting over the Canal Zone killed 21 Panamanians and four U.S. soldiers.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — City school officials chose Thursday, the eve of Confederate Memorial Day, to announce the closing of Abraham Lincoln School. Students will attend Jefferson Davis School instead.

Now They Are Selecting Show Hits Well In Advance

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Se-

lecting popular television shows, sometimes before they are much more developed than an idea, once was considered to be a special art, even a gift. But now picking winners is becoming a science, with computers able to toss out predictions of future hits and misses six months in advance of their premiers.

One of the large advertising agencies — Kenyon and Eckhardt — has been experimenting with computer predictions for the past two years, with an estimated 67 per cent of success. In its third run, predicting the popularity of next fall's new programs, the magic machine pronounced, among many other things, that "T. H. E. Cat," "Tarzan" and "Hey, Landlord" on NBC and "It's About Time" on CBS would be the biggest hits among three dozen new programs.

"But, remember," cautioned the agency's executive vice president, Stephens Dietz, "if the computer has been 67 per cent correct, it has also been 33 per cent wrong."

The electronic crystal ball is programmed with national Nielsen ratings taken during January and February, peak viewing months, to predict future popularity of programs already in existence. These are augmented by statistics of another ratings service, which attempts to measure, not audience size but the degree to which audiences enjoy certain programs. To measure future interest in new shows — some, like the forthcoming Milton Berle and Garry Moore shows, are not even in production yet — the agency uses a service specializing in what it calls "concept testing." An audience sample has a program idea described to them, and notes down whether it appeals or not.

In addition, the computer input includes information on a program's time period and its competition.

Dietz said that in past seasons the computer's predictions have been used as one of his agency's guides in buying advertising spots in assorted programs.

But while an advertising agency can very well use a computer to help find hit programs for its clients, it is not likely to be too useful to network programming executives. Popularity cannot be their sole guide. If it were, few documentaries and public service programs — often attracting small audiences — would find air time.

CBS hopes to re-run its acclaimed production of "Death of a Salesman" next March. It was so heartened by the show's reception that it is trying to follow up with a TV production of Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie," which starred the late Laurette Taylor when first produced on Broadway years back.

ABC's "Wide World of Sports" on Saturday will show the running of Memorial Day's "Indianapolis 500" in which only seven of the original 33 automobile entries finished. ABC has broadcast the race, on a delayed basis, for the past four years.

Recommended weekend viewing:
Tonight — "The London Palladium," NBC, 8:30-9:30 EDT, second of a series of variety shows taped in England, with Kate Smith as hostess; "The Ages of Man," CBS, 10-11, repeat of Shakespeare readings by Sir John Gielgud.
SUNDAY — "The Age of Kennedy," NBC, 6:30-7:30 p.m., second of a two part series on the late President, this one dealing with his White House years; "The Ed Sullivan Show," CBS, 8-9, with a taped segment featuring the Beatles in two songs.

Refugees Are Proving Assets

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban exiles, arriving at a rate of 1,000 weekly, have proven themselves an asset to the United States, says Marshall Wise, director of the Cuban refugee center.

Incoming refugees have fanned out to 1,000 communities in the 50 states, Wise told an inter-American businessmen's association meeting Thursday night.

Adventists Get Ready For Duty

GRAND LEDGE, Mich. (AP) — For Seventh-day Adventists, whose beliefs prevent them from carrying guns, it is tough to win recognition as a good soldier. So they practice in advance for Army service.

On a warm June day, ideal for not working, 225 uniformed young men trained from 5:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., got chewed out by drill sergeants, and studied everything from sanitation to saluting.

The men, who paid $35 each to attend the two-week tent encampment, also drew late night guard duty.

It was part of Camp Desmond T. Doss, named in honor of an Adventist who did win recognition — the Medal of Honor for heroism as a medic in World War II. Some members of the religious group, drafted in World War I, had trouble when they told their officers they couldn't bear arms and couldn't work on the sabbath — Saturday for Adventists. At war's end, 35 were serving hard labor sentences and 162 had been court-martialed. The 35 were pardoned, though, and given honorable discharges. The Army now makes special provision for drafting the Adventists into its medical divisions. About 300 Adventists are serving in Viet Nam, and at least three have been killed, said Clark Smith, chief of the camp. But, Smith added, "as non-combatants and sabbath-keepers, we know we have a couple of strikes against us." The group, which claims 965,000 adult members in the United States and Canada, decided it could make Army life easier for its young men, and possibly even put them two jumps ahead of other recruits, by giving basic training in advance. The camp program began in 1934. "We believe in serving our government," said Smith, who wears the insignia of colonel in the MCC — medical cadet corps. "We do not oppose its going to war. We ask only that we not be required to take lives." The group tries to make its two-week camp as close to Army medical basic training as possible. Helping to make it realistic is a former Marine drill instructor — MCC Lt. Titus J. Henderson. "I teach them the same things taught me in six years in the Marines," said Henderson, who became an Adventist after his 1940-55 Marine hitch.

Gov. Connally Okays Seven More EOA Projects

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally approved federal grants of $858,901 Thursday for seven projects under the Economic Opportunity Act.

The projects are in Laredo, San Antonio, Round Rock, Childress, Dallas and Hopkins and Shelby counties. The Economic Development Corp. of Laredo will receive $109,977-$88,392 for the Ursuline Academy to provide summer remedial education for 480 pupils and $21,585 for Lulac for a 12-month citizenship training course for 1,000 immigrants.

The Economic Development Corp. of San Antonio will receive $494,531 with which the San Antonio Neighborhood Youth Organization, Inc., will operate a neighborhood civic centers program.

The Round Rock Independent School District will receive $11,245 for a two-month summer Head Start program serving 45 children. Shelby County Community Action Program, Inc., will receive $50,448 for a similar Head Start program for 377 children. Hopkins County School Board will receive $35,000 to operate a Neighborhood Youth Corps program for 100 youths from Hopkins, Rains, Delta and Titus counties. Childress will receive $10,100 for a similar program serving 30 youths. The Dallas County Community Action Committee will receive $147,500 for a NYC program serving 300 youths from low income families.

Witnesses Are All Top Hands

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Thomas A. Clements, 45, of Tulsa, Okla., accused of drunken driving and transporting an open bottle of liquor, faced three witnesses against him.

Two were highway patrol troopers and the third was the governor of Oklahoma. Gov. Henry Bellmon and his driver, Trooper Clint Derrick, stopped Clements Wednesday after following him in the governor's car. Trooper Tom Johnson arrested him. Clements pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to six months in jail and a $50 fine.
