Panel Delays Auto Safety Bill Verdict

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee is moving toward adoption of tough auto safety legislation while making clear it does not intend to be pushed into hasty action.

Two key votes Tuesday showed strong support within the committee for legislation similar to that passed by the Senate last week. But the committee defeated a move to speed up its deliberations as it voted down a proposal to accept the entire Senate bill.

FIND ACTION
Although the committee planned to meet again today, final action will be delayed until after Congress returns from a July 4th recess in two weeks.

"It's better to have a good bill than to rush one through," said the committee chairman, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va. Staggers admitted that White House officials had contacted his office to indicate their interest in swift action.

In one important vote, the committee rejected by a substantial majority a proposal offered by Rep. Glenn C. Cunningham, R-Neb., and supported by the auto industry to take away from the secretary of commerce the major role in setting new car safety standards.

Cunningham's proposal would have shifted much of the power to the Vehicle Equipment Safety Commission, a 44-state compact which has been denounced by some safety proponents as dominated by the auto industry.

ACCEPTED
Then the committee voted to accept a Senate provision providing for consultation between the secretary and the safety commission of new car standards "as he deems appropriate." But it took out a provision which said the consultation would have to include an opportunity for the commission to study and comment on proposed standards.

Pending amendments before the committee would write into the House version the Senate provision to require promulgation of interim standards by next Jan. 31 so they can be incorporated into 1969 models. At present, the House bill has no specific time requirement but merely says safety standards shall be issued.

The committee ended a jurisdictional obstacle by relinquishing control over highway safety provisions to the Public Works Committee, which already has agreed on a highway bill. This will permit the House to keep its two bills parallel with the two measures passed last week by the Senate.

Tropical Storm Area Diffused

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Weather Bureau issued this 11 a.m. (EST) bulletin on a tropical depression in the Caribbean.

Land and ship reports and satellite photos show that the tropical depression is not well organized this morning. At 11 a.m. EST the broad diffuse center was near latitude 22.7n longitude 82.3w. This position is on the south coast of Cuba about 25 miles south of Havana and approximately 250 miles southwest of Miami. It is moving toward the north at about 7 mph.

A large area of showers and scattered squalls covers western and central Cuba and the Florida Straits and extreme southeastern Gulf of Mexico including the tip of southern Florida. Winds in these squalls are expected to reach about 35 mph at times.

Small craft warnings are displayed south of Cape Kennedy on the east coast and Tarpon Springs on the west coast through the Florida keys.

The depression is forecast to move toward the north to north northwest at about 10 mph today and early tonight with some slight intensification likely by tonight.

U.S. Oil Flow Is Up Slightly

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — U.S. crude oil and lease condensate production increased 6,400 barrels daily last week to an average of 5,254,000 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday.

Oklahoma production averaged 638,300 barrels, up 7,900; California's average was 594,000 barrels, up 3,900; and Alaska's 39,000, up 3,000.

Wyoming lost 3,500 barrels to 371,000 and Utah was down 1,700 to 59,500.

Discusses New Air Strikes

Junta Installs Ongania, May Rule Long Time

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Lt. Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania, a former army chief, is to be sworn in today as head of a new military regime which hopes to win over some of the Argentine masses still loyal to Juan D. Peron.

Ongania, 52, was picked by a three-man military junta made up of the present commanders of the army, navy and air force. They took control Tuesday after the army overthrew the civilian

Typhoon Kills At Least 52

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Kit blew itself out over the Pacific today after its fringe hit the Tokyo area and left at least 52 dead, 12 missing and 89 injured.

The high winds and torrential rains that lashed Tokyo and nine surrounding states Tuesday night also destroyed 256 houses, flooded another 105,000 and much farmland. Many roads were washed away or blocked by landslides.

The typhoon disrupted rail service, including the 300-mile Tokyo-Osaka line, for almost 12 hours.

A 15-foot landslide destroyed a women's dormitory, killing five female employees of a bus company at Isogo, Yokohama. Five coal miners were buried alive in Hanno when a landslide crashed a shack in which they sought shelter.

Tokyo's subway, which carried more than two million passengers daily, was knocked out for hours by floods, forcing thousands of commuters to sleep on the concrete floor of Tokyo's central railroad station.

Woman Quoted After Slaying

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Frank T. Reagan, 47, was shot to death early today at a residence in the south part of Denton.

Officers quoted a 38-year-old woman as saying she fired two shots after a man she did not know smashed in the back door of her home shortly after midnight.

Justice of the Peace Herman Skiles withheld an inquest verdict pending completion of the investigation.

Jets Blast At Fuel Near Red Capital

McNamara Says Raids LBJ Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today U.S. planes hit Hanoi-Haiphong oil depots today to make North Viet Nam's infiltration of the south "more costly." He portrayed the raids as highly successful.

McNamara said "every effort was made to prevent harm to civilians and to prevent destruction of nonmilitary facilities."

LBJ DECIDES
He told a broadcast and televised news conference the decision to strike the petroleum facilities was made by President Johnson on his recommendation and that of Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

McNamara said "the decision to strike these targets was made to restrict and make more costly the enemy's infiltration" of South Viet Nam.

Another objective, he said, was to "save the lives" of the South Vietnamese, Americans, Australians and South Koreans fighting in South Viet Nam.

The action, McNamara said, was a response to a swift and rising North Vietnamese buildup in South Viet Nam which has converted the fighting there into a "quasi-conventional war" operation.

BUILDUP
That buildup, he said, has made the North Vietnamese forces and their Viet Cong allies increasingly dependent on truck movement of heavy supplies, increasing the strategic importance of fuel.

McNamara said more than 60 per cent of North Viet Nam's oil storage facilities were in the three target areas hit.

With a pointer, he traced infiltration routes from North Viet Nam through Laos and into South Viet Nam. And he pointed to a picture of 51 trucks in a convoy to indicate the "substantial volume" of infiltration and the "growing importance" of petroleum to supply the war in the south.

Other Pentagon sources said that prior to today's devastating strikes only 15 per cent of North Viet Nam's petroleum facilities had been knocked out in recent intensified raids.

Raid Reactions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today the bombing of North Viet Nam oil depots indicates a new stage in the war and "will make the road to the negotiating table that much more difficult."

"I think also it will bring about greater amounts of aid from the Soviet Union and Peking," the Montana senator told newsmen who asked if he approved the action.

Mansfield said the destruction of the petroleum facilities "will not deter infiltration" of North Vietnamese into the south, although he said it may slow it for the time being.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson expressed regret over today's American bombing of oil depots near Hanoi and said Britain is unable to support the action.

"We have made it clear on many occasions that we cannot support an extension of the bombing to such areas," Wilson said.

The White House in Washington declined to comment on Wilson's statement.

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow Radio called the U.S. air raids near Hanoi and Haiphong today a "new dangerous step by the U.S. ruling circles in expanding aggression against the Vietnamese people."

"Contrary to all the lessons of history," it said on its domestic service, "the U.S. government is resorting to banditry and force in blind rage at the knowledge of its own helplessness . . ."

COMMENT
His comment was the latest from an important West German political figure reflecting criticism of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's temporary reduction of U.S. forces in Germany this summer without in the German view—consultation or advance notice.

Former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, and other authorities in the ruling Christian Democratic party, recently have criticized McNamara publicly.

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard in an interview last weekend warned against any heavy U.S. troops withdrawals from Germany and specifically rejected a McNamara view that if the Soviets pulled forces back, the United States might also reduce its forces.

Brandt, whose city stands in the heart of a Communist land under the protection of U.S., British and French garrisons, deplored critical potshooting at every "small regroupment" of U.S. forces.

But he added: "On the other hand, I must say that when a regroupment is to take place the plan could as well be told in plain language to grown-up people in Germany."

The United States has temporarily reduced its forces from 225,000 to 210,000 in Germany by transferring 15,000 military specialists needed because of the war in Viet Nam. When word of the cutback first came from Washington several weeks ago West Germans professed to be caught by surprise and have displayed irritation at the incident as well as uneasiness that McNamara might not forewarn them of some new move in the future.

Dock Area Set Ablaze At Haiphong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force and Navy jets brought the air war closer than ever to North Viet Nam's capital and major port today, bombing major fuel depots three miles from the center of Hanoi and in the dock area of Haiphong.

The pilots reported the raids were "highly successful" with both storage areas in flames. Smoke rose 35,000 feet from the complex of fuel tanks near Hanoi and 20,000 feet from the Haiphong tanks, a U.S. spokesman said.

COVERED
The Hanoi target "was covered like a blanket," he reported.

The U.S. Air Force announced one plane, an F105 Thunderchief fighter-bomber, fell in the attack near Hanoi and the pilot was missing. This came out after a communique of the U.S. command had reported "no U.S. aircraft were lost in either strike."

Radio Hanoi claimed seven planes were shot down — four near Hanoi and three in the Haiphong area — and several U.S. pilots were captured.

The air offensive in the Communist north, now in its 16th month, completely dominated the U.S. Command's daily war report.

IN SOUTH
In South Viet Nam, where thousands of U.S. troops are in the field searching for the Communists, "only very light and scattered, minor contacts" were reported.

On the political front, the threat of a Buddhist boycott of South Viet Nam's September elections diminished as more monks rallied behind the conciliatory policy espoused by the moderate chairman of the Buddhist Institute.

The growing support in the Buddhist hierarchy for Thich Tam Chau left his militant rival, Thich Tri Quang, increasingly isolated, but Quang showed no signs of abandoning his hunger strike.

Six flights of Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs struck the petroleum complex three miles across the Red River from the center of Hanoi, using 750-pound bombs during the 25-minute attack, the U.S. spokesman said. He said the area around the 32 tanks had no sizable population.

FOUR FLIGHTS
Four flights of Navy jets from the 7th Fleet carriers Constellation and Ranger raided the oil facilities at Haiphong, two miles from the center of the city. The spokesman said 95 per cent of the fuel going into North Viet Nam moves through the depot, which contains 38 tanks above and below ground. The raid lasted eight minutes.

A flight usually numbers about four aircraft.

The American pilots ran into intensive anti-aircraft fire over Hanoi but said they encountered little flak in the Haiphong area. The Communists did not send up any MIG fighters to challenge the U.S. fighter-bombers nor were any surface-to-air missiles sighted, the spokesman said.

U.S. planes have been gradually tightening a noose around Hanoi and its port, which lies 65 miles to the east. There has been pressure in some quarters in Washington for an aerial offensive against the cities of Hanoi and Haiphong themselves.

Only Tuesday, the White House declined to comment on reports circulating in Washington that President Johnson had canceled air strikes against Hanoi and Haiphong in the past five days because of security leaks.

Warning Of Troop Withdrawal Urged

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin's outspoken mayor, Willy Brandt, says if the United States intends to withdraw any more troops from West Germany it should state its plans "in plain language to grown-up people in Germany."

"One should talk to grown-up people," Brandt said in an interview with The Associated Press, "and if the situation makes it necessary or possible to change certain things in detail, this should be based upon the situation and upon agreement. Why, then, argue about it?"

WOULD TELL
But he added: "On the other hand, I must say that when a regroupment is to take place the plan could as well be told in plain language to grown-up people in Germany."

The United States has temporarily reduced its forces from 225,000 to 210,000 in Germany by transferring 15,000 military specialists needed because of the war in Viet Nam. When word of the cutback first came from Washington several weeks ago West Germans professed to be caught by surprise and have displayed irritation at the incident as well as uneasiness that McNamara might not forewarn them of some new move in the future.

Brandt said he thought any substantial changes in U.S. forces here should be made only "as a result of a common study and judgment (by the United States and West Germany) upon what is necessary and what is wise."

Bulbar Polio Fatal To Tot

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Hospital authorities reported today four-year-old Nelda Bazan of Rio Grande City, Tex., died Tuesday afternoon of bulbar polio.

A hospital spokesman said three other children from Rio Grande City were polio patients in the hospital.

Rio Grande City is the county seat of Starr County.

"I understand that vaccine has been sent to Starr County since the outbreak of polio began," the spokesman said. She said she believed free immunization shots were available in the county before the polio outbreak.

The spokesman said the first case came into McAllen Municipal Hospital May 17. In addition to the four Starr County cases, one Reynosa, Mex., youngster is a polio patient here. Reynosa is the Mexican border town across from McAllen.

One of the patients is the four-year-old brother of the Bazan girl, the spokesman said.

FBI Ordered To Probe Raid Tip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI, on President Johnson's orders, has launched an intensive inquiry into whether U.S. officials tipped off newsmen about the decision to expand bombing in North Viet Nam oil facilities, it was learned today.

Both the FBI and administration sources declined comment. Other sources said the investigation was under way, spurred by a concern at the highest levels over the possibility that word of today's bombing had been given out in advance.

The general rule within the administration is to refuse comment on any specific future military operation. The stated reason is to avoid giving advance plans to the enemy, and thus endangering the lives of U.S. servicemen.

It was understood that a prime purpose of the current inquiry is to guard against future "leaks."

U.S. To Launch Lunar Explorer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The United States plans Thursday to launch a Lunar Explorer toward an orbit about the moon — a scientific experiment that could ease the way for astronauts traveling to that distant target.

A three-stage Delta rocket is scheduled to loft the 296-pound mooncraft into space at 11:08 a.m. (EDT).

To intercept the moon at the precise time after a 74-hour flight, the launch crew has only a two-minute period in which to fire the rocket. Otherwise, the shot will be postponed a day.

BREAKS DEADLOCK

Compromise On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee voted today to exempt home owners who sell their own homes from a proposed tough open housing proposal in the administration's new civil rights bill.

The compromise, adopted by a bipartisan vote of 21-15, cleared the way for final committee approval of President Johnson's bill which deals with discrimination in jury selection, school desegregation and protection of Negro's rights, as well as open housing to the house.

The key vote on the housing provision came in adoption of a substitute by Rep. Charles M. Mathias, R-Md., for the sweeping ban on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of all housing proposed by the administration.

The Mathias version would exempt from the ban owners of homes up to four-family units in size, who sell or lease the property themselves. Real estate agents and brokers would be prohibited from engaging in any discriminatory practices.

Mathias said if an owner, who is himself exempt, engages a broker and instructs the broker not to sell or rent to a Negro, the broker would also be exempt.

An owner could make only two such transactions in any one year. In the event he made a third one, he would be covered by the ban on racial discrimination.

REMOVE PRIVATE TRADE
The effect would be to remove from the proposed law nearly all private housing except big developments.

Adoption of the Mathias substitute broke a deadlock that lasted through a long series of votes Tuesday. With the housing issue settled, the committee voted 24-9 to report the entire bill to the House.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said he hoped to have the bill on the floor for House action by the end of July.

Doctor Addict Raps Kind Of Treatment For Victims

NEW YORK (AP) — A doctor who became a drug addict charges the medical profession "doesn't know how to treat me, and doesn't really want to know."

"The profession that has for generations battled to keep the government from intervening between the doctor and his patient is content to let a federal tax agency tell it what to prescribe for me," he writes anonymously in the July 1 issue of Medical World News.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue is responsible for administering and enforcing federal narcotics laws.

pediatrician in a wealthy New Jersey suburb, with a wife and five children.

Then he began taking a codeine-and-aspirin combination to ease a gnawing tension that built up during the afternoons, and soon progressed to hypodermics of morphine.

Knowing he was heading for trouble, he consulted a psychiatrist who advised hospitalization. Eight months in a private mental hospital used up his savings, "and I made wonderful progress in all respect but one. I didn't find out why I took drugs."

His drug consumption increased, and he next went to "the mecca of all American addicts, the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in Lexington, Ky. But Any Kind of Therapy There is Bound to Founder on the Twin Rocks of Coercion and Incarceration.

He failed to make progress with three admissions to Lexington, and later was arrested on a charge of fraudulent use of narcotics. His medical license was suspended.

Now he feels he is making progress by participating in a research program studying the effectiveness of a drug, methadone, in helping addicts overcome their dependence on drugs; he has "a good job and more confidence than I've had in 10 years" and life "is now too precious to miss a minute of."

New U.S. Army Goes To Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States is putting pretty much of a new army into battle in Viet Nam this summer.

It is just about a year since American troops arrived in sizable numbers and began building up to the present 271,000-man force.

Now, and during the coming two or three months, many of these troops will be returning home after one-year tours of duty.

But the troop turnover will be neither sudden nor complete.

The army intentionally staggered its replacements. It sent here some draftees who had as little as two or three months to go to complete their two-year Army service. Others had five or six months to serve. Thus, these soldiers are replaced in less than a full year.

As an additional shock absorber, replacements are made by individual soldiers rather than whole units.

Hence, any given unit may receive a lot of new faces—as some have recently—but there still be a sprinkling of combat veterans on hand.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, says it takes about one month for new arrivals to become acclimatized, particularly to Viet Nam's heat.

PROSTRATION
Some units have been slowed in combat at the start because of numerous cases of heat prostration.

First, at training centers in the United States, soldiers destined for Viet Nam are given training under conditions almost matching those they will encounter here.

Puzzled About Gift From U.S.

A Vietnamese child, not quite sure what it's all about, clutches a stuffed toy dog donated by a Girl Scout troop in San Diego, Calif., after 29 toys made by the Scouts were distributed to children in the village of Kim Leia, 15 miles northwest of Da Nang. Troops Called 'Magnificent'

QUAN LOI, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. William E. DePuy nodded as he spoke of the young soldiers serving in the U.S. 1st Infantry Division.

"They are magnificent. I believe it's the first time the Army has had troops who are more aggressive than their training permits. Our problem is to give them more training so they won't be killed because of their willingness to fight."

LACONIC
DePuy is a close man with words, and he thought briefly before continuing:

"They will go, these young men. Take 10 of them — they'll charge right into the enemy. It is a tremendous responsibility for our officers to command these men."

DePuy, a North Dakotan nicknamed "Peppy DePuy" — pronounced de pew — by the men of the "Big Red One" division, is spooling for a fight.

Last week, as if taunting the reluctant Viet Cong, DePuy spread his division over 100 square miles in the jungles and rice paddies just north of Saigon. As the seeker in a deadly game of hide-and-seek, DePuy had troops of one or two-battalion-strength in 12 different locations, moving them like pawns on a chessboard.

"We're looking for them, we want to fight them, we have never been deployed more broadly," DePuy said.

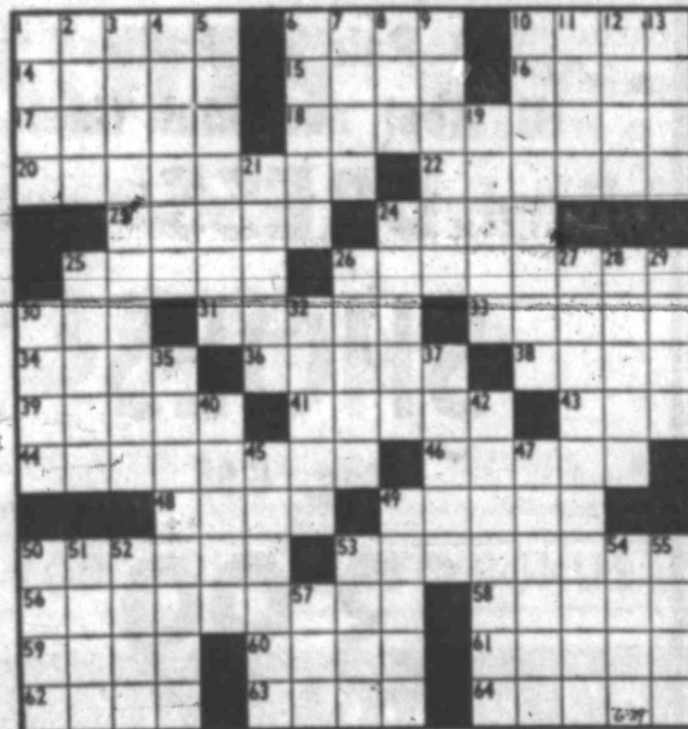

MOBILE
Referring to the Viet Cong, he added: "They can't attack all 12 places at once. And we have the mobility to react in any emergency."

Although the 1st Division troops have encountered only small guerrilla units so far during their current operation, El Paso II, DePuy anticipates "some bloody battles this summer."

Girl, 3, Is Killed By Zoo's Star Elephant Attraction

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Nine-year-old Michael Sharpe heard a mother scream.

A 3-year-old girl with her bag of popcorn had slipped under the gate near the elephant cage at the Henry Vilas Park Zoo Tuesday.

Winkle, a 3 1/2-ton import from India, snaked her trunk out through the bars and curled it around the child.

"I didn't know what to do," Michael said. "Winkle just grabbed her and started pulling her in. She was trumpeting and the girl's mother was screaming. I don't know what was wrong with Winkle. I never saw her that way."

The girl was Ruth Ellen Freedman, the daughter of Prof. Ralph Freedman of Princeton University. Before anyone could reach her, the elephant smashed the child against the bars of the cage, dropped her, picked her up again, drew her inside the cage and let her fall unconscious to the concrete floor.

After Mrs. Freedman screamed, she and her husband dashed to a gate and entered in an attempt to rescue the child but by then the elephant had pulled her through the bars.

Ruth Ellen was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Dane County Coroner Clyde Chamberlain said the fatal injury probably was inflicted by the elephant's feet after the child was inside the cage.

Freedman, a prominent scholar and writer, was spending the summer at the University of Wisconsin as a visiting lecturer. The university is not far from the city zoo where Winkle, the only elephant, has been the star attraction for children since her arrival almost 20 years ago.

Beta Omicron Plans Events

Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Harry McMillan, 2716 Central, to approve plans for the coming year. Mrs. Jim Murphy presented a proposed budget, and Mrs. Jack Tayrien gave a resume of the ways and means projects.

The chapter approved rummage and candy sales, a Christmas dance and spring ball. Ten new pledges will be accepted and all names must be submitted to the membership committee before Aug. 27.

Rush parties will include a "Backwards" party Sept. 19; a "Dogpatch Suitcase" party Oct. 3; and a "Western Hoedown" with husbands as guest on Oct. 8. The annual preferential tea will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Oct. 23, in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Mrs. Mike Arnold, social chairman, listed the summer social activities as a box supper July 30 and a Las Vegas party to be at the McMillan home with husbands as guests. Other social events will be Christmas dance, the city-wide Council Valentine Ball and the annual BSP ball in May.

Programs were assigned under the title, "Conduct, Expression and Purpose."

Mrs. Jim Parks, service chairman, suggested the chapter write a letter to endorse the need for a mental health center at the state hospital as well as offering service to residents of Bennett House. Discussion also included the possibility of a pamphlet listing local qualified child care personnel and nurseries.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a straw linen cloth with orange trim. Fifteen attended.

Sunday Reunion Held In Birdwell Park

Birdwell Park was the scene of a Sunday afternoon reunion of the family of Mrs. Lela Long and the late Aquila Long.

Mrs. Long, 82 years old, is a long time resident of Big Spring. She makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Jerry Atwell, Gail Rt. Mrs. Long has four children, 12 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Hostesses for the picnic and reunion were Mrs. Atwell, Mrs. Clyde Gunnels and Mrs. Aubrey Armistead.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Virgie Boardman and Mrs. Joyce Armstrong, both of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Armistead and Lisa Bounds, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Armistead Jr., Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Don Schaefer, Cisco; Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Long, and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Long, all of Rising Star; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Millican, Silver; and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Long, Fort Worth.

Dons 20's Dress

Janet Auchinclose, center, half sister of Jackie Kennedy, donned a dress of the 1920's for a "Newport Goes to a Party" night held at the Elms in Newport. The dance was held in observance of a gift of clothes from the 20's by Mrs. Corsetta Vanderbilt to the Newport Preservation Society. (AP WIREPHOTO)

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Use Foam Buckets To Keep Food Hot

Did you know that small, inexpensive, plastic foam ice buckets are excellent for keeping hot rolls, biscuits or corn muffins piping hot during the meal?

Just use your ice pick to punch several holes in the lid for the steam to escape!

I place a cloth or a paper napkin in the bottom.

That's all there is to it. . . . Margaret W. Smith

Heavens no, I didn't know, but after testing it I think it's wonderful. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: Nylon net serves again! Our black cat travels in the car with us during the summer, and we take him on our vacation, too.

The children were quite concerned about how we could make him comfortable while riding in the car.

So, I gathered a piece of nylon net onto quarter-inch elastic and fitted the net over the cat's bed (a large plastic clothes basket).

This enabled him to see and breathe freely, yet confined him to his allotted space in the car.

He is a good traveler, and feels so secure that he sleeps a lot. Naturally, every time we stop he gets restless, we remove the net and let him exercise.

And the children are happy to have their pet with them. . . . Grace

Dear Heloise: Empty milk cartons temporarily hold the leftover coffee, pan soaking water and other liquids you forgot to throw out before running dish water into your single sink. . . . Mabel Sheppard

Dear Heloise: While taking my coffee break this morning — and staring at the cereal package left on the table since breakfast — hit upon this idea:

Cut out all the games and toys that are printed free on cereal boxes. Make a collection of them to be used by visiting "little ones" and for your own child when he is old enough.

Mine is three months old now, and my collection has just begun. . . . Young Mother

Dear Heloise: When a recipe calls for a teaspoonful of vanilla, I never even bother to measure.

I just use the cap off the bottle itself.

Do you know the cap on a big bottle of vanilla measures exactly one teaspoon, and the small bottle cap measure one-half teaspoon? . . . Mary McWen (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald).

Term's End Party Held By Officer

The noble grand's farewell party for the term was held during the Tuesday evening meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153. The 31 attending met at the lodge hall with Mrs. Odell Buchanan presiding.

Mrs. Buchanan presented individual gifts to her officer staff and expressed her appreciation for their assistance during her term.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white lace cloth over a pink underlay. The centerpiece was an arrangement of pink flowers, and a crystal service set was used. Assisting with the serving was Mrs. Everett Hodt, Mrs. J. T. Gilmore and Mrs. W. W. Grant.

Mrs. Joe Jacobs was welcomed as a guest, and Jones Lamar asked that the auditing committee meet at his home, 604 Lancaster, July 1 at 8 p.m.

Couple Recites Vows In Chapel Ceremony

COAHOMA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hudgins are at home in Big Spring following their wedding Friday in the Webb AFB Chapel. The Rev. Gary Culpepper, brother of the bride, officiated.

Mrs. Hudgins, the former Geraldine Culpepper, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Culpepper, Coahoma; and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Howard Alley, 423 Dallas; and A. C. Hudgins, Big Spring.

Traditional wedding selections were presented by Mrs. Gary Culpepper, organist. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a white suit and a white veil of illusion. The ensemble was complemented by white accessories. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white feathered carnations.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Ginger Lee Culpepper. Best man was Dale Hudgins, brother of the bride-Culpepper and Jimmy Culpepper.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was covered with a white lace cloth over a white linen underlay. The cake was frosted James Cortney and children.

Circles Study Mission Work

"Call to Missions" was the program topic during the Tuesday-morning meeting of the Martha Foster and the Lalla Baird Circles at Wesley Methodist Church. The members met at the home of Mrs. Don Crockett, 101 Lincoln. Cohostesses were Mrs. Rene Brown and Mrs. Jerry Allan.

Program participants were Mrs. Jarrell Sharp, Mrs. Harold Knapp and Mrs. Dick Sharp.

Mrs. M. O. Hamby gave the opening prayer, and Mrs. W. B. Morris gave the devotion.

Members were reminded that the circles would meet July 5 at the church.

Gift Party Fetes Judy Barnhill

STANTON (SC)—A miscellaneous shower was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Woodrow Phillips, Rt. 2, Midland, honoring Miss Judy Barnhill of Stanton. The bride-elect's chosen colors of blue and white were carried out in the decorations and refreshments. The gifts were on display.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Don Jones are residing in Stanton following their June 24 wedding there at the First Baptist Church. The bride, the former Miss Charlene Bevers, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bevers Jr., Stanton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jones, Midland.

Sonny Shroyers Host Church Youth Supper

KNOTT (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Shroyer were hosts for a recent outdoor supper for the young people of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ross, Live Oak, are visiting friends in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Turner, Clovis, N. M., are visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Gaskins.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Riddle are in Little Rock, Ark. They were accompanied by his father, C. H. Riddle, and Mike McClain, who will visit his sister and family in Prescott.

S. Sgt. and Mrs. Kenneth Hollis, Roswell, N. M., are visiting his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Hollis.

T. Sgt. Bob Kirby, Oxnard, Calif., visited Mrs. W. S. Shaw and other relatives Saturday. He was en route to Viet Nam. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barkley, Cincinnati, Ohio, were also guests in the Shaw home.

Recent guests of the Rev. and Mrs. E. G. Newcomer were their daughter, Mrs. T. A. Christman, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Misheck, Big Spring; and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ross, Live Oak.

Five Join Rainbows Tuesday

Five girls were initiated when Big Spring Assembly No. 60, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, met Tuesday evening at the Masonic Temple. Joining the order were Mitzy Payton, Jackie Condon, Ruth Ann Moss, Theresa Lewis and June Ann Stocks.

Kay Bettie presided and program officers were Patti Olsen and Kay Trupp.

It was announced that a swimming party for Rainbow girls and members of the Demolay will be held at 8:30 p.m., July 8, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr., 400 Washington Blvd. It will be part of the Founder's Day observance. Also, an instruction class will be given by the mother advisor at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Masonic Temple.

Miss Bettie reported on the recent Grand Assembly in Corpus Christi. She said that 41,742 bundles of hosiery had been collected by the Texas Assembly for use in rehabilitation work at various hospitals. At the close of the session, delegates spent a day on the beach and were served a chuck wagon dinner.

Forty-one girls and 14 adults attended Tuesday's meeting and were served refreshments by Mrs. Orbin Daily's committee. Four Rainbow Girls of Midland were guests.

Learn New Appliance Features

Homemaking teachers and home demonstration agents in this area were given a demonstration of new features in electric appliances in a one-day workshop here Wednesday. Joyce Williamson, Snyder, left, Mrs. Opal Kennon, Sweetwater, second from right, both home service advisors, and Mrs. Walter Wheat, Big Spring, division home economist, served as the faculty. Others shown are Joyce Fuqua, homemaking teacher at Ira, and Janice Miller, Mitchell County HD agent. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

Teachers, HD Agents See New Appliances

Texas Electric Service Company held an appliance workshop here Tuesday for approximately 25 homemaking teachers and home demonstration agents from Big Spring, Snyder, Sweetwater, Colorado City, Lamesa and surrounding communities. The workshop, held at the TESCO office, acquainted the teachers with new features on electric appliances.

Included on the program were demonstrations on the care and use of electric ranges, dishwashers, food disposers, washers and dryers and portable electric appliances.

Mrs. Walter Wheat, Big Spring division home economist, presided over the day long meeting with assistance from Texas Electric Service Company home service advisors, Mrs. Opal Kennon, Sweetwater, and Mrs. Joyce Williamson, Snyder.

During the morning session, Mrs. Wheat explained the features available on modern electric ranges.

Each participant was given a recipe to demonstrate and prepare. The teachers prepared the food and explained features of the equipment which had been used. This food was served for lunch to the group.

A LOVELIER YOU

Do Proper Legwork For Most Fun Afoot

By MARY SUE MILLER
A suitable stocking wardrobe offers vacationing lovelies a large measure of fashion with "world" takes extra legwork, the comfort factor surely is essential to fun afoot. So plan wisely.

For a two-week trip, the minimum needs are three matched pairs of stockings for daywear and three for after-five. If you choose to take textures be sure to settle for one pattern. In that way you always have one pair to wear, one to wash and one to spare. Moreover, odd stockings are easy to match up.

Depending on your activities, you may wish to include other kinds of hosiery—anklets, knee socks, sneaker socks and footlets. Textured anklets fill the fashion gap between slacks and shoes.

Patterned knee-highs look great with cropped casual skirts and pants.

Lined with terry, sneaker socks don't show at all but do wrap your feet in a cloud of comfort. Of course, footlets are the only means to footease when you wish to go barelegged in daytime shoes.

With unlimited luggage space, the traveler's trick for packing stockings is to enclose them in clear plastic bags and tuck bagfuls into the toes of shoes. This keeps both items in shape.

To make a snap of hosiery upkeep, take along a tiny clothesline equipped with suction cups and premeasured packets of laundry soap. Thus you keep your stockings and your feet on the ready.

GROOMING—A TO Z
Put aside your grooming doubts and worries! Send today for "Your Grooming—A to Z," a booklet that covers every step in achieving smooth looks. It tells how to manicure and pedicure, use deodorants and depilatories, bathe for beauty, tend feet, hands, teeth and eyes, polish skin and hair, care for clothes, apply perfume, overcome personal posers. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

A Devotional For The Day

Neither give place to the devil. (Ephesians 4:27)
PRAYER: Father God, help us to mold our lives to Thy pattern. Teach us the humility to know that we are never perfect, but can be better than we are. Help us to grow in grace and knowledge of Christ to better serve Thee and our fellowmen. In the name of Jesus, who promised that what we asked in His name would be granted. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

Only You Can Change It

During the Independence Day holidays of last year, Texas counted 28 fatalities upon her highways and streets.
Prospects are that this year will see a slightly larger number killed in traffic unless a trend is halted or reversed.
If all of these were in one bus or a train or plane and met death simultaneously, it would be a chilling, shocking tragedy. Little else would be on the front pages or in the news casts.
But because one dies here, two die there, and perchance three or more die in catastrophic collision, we deplore but are not shocked to grief and indignation unless it touches us personally.
Frankly, we don't know what can be said to bring our people to a realization of the dangers of excessive speed, or taking a chance just to save a few seconds, or being criminal enough to crawl behind a steering wheel after drinking.

You can talk about the lack of safety features in automobiles, but the over-riding element in nearly all highway mishaps is the human element.
Thus you have more control over highway safety than anyone else. Keep in mind that your life and others in your car—and the cars you meet—are in your hand every minute you are on the road. Keep in mind that you have to watch out for yourself and the fellow you meet. If you do, perhaps we can happily avoid the realization of the Texas Highway Department's prediction of 31 dead over the July Fourth holidays.

One-Way Street

J. Weldon Watson has joined the list of those who have found that administration of the fish and game laws is a one-way street to the political graveyard.
Watson resigned last week without an explanation. Will Odom, chairman of the Parks and Wildlife Commission, refused to comment on the resignation other than to say that Watson was not forced to resign.
But the executive director of the old Game and Fish Commission, now the Parks and Wildlife Commission, has always led an unsettled existence. For it is impossible to balance the demands of freshwater and saltwater fishermen, or please hunters in one section of the state without offending hunters in other parts of the state, or set seasons and bag limits to please anyone.

In recent years Will Tucker was the first to go, after a tumultuous reign. Howard Dodge, one of the most astute politicians in the state, who had an uncanny knack of getting along with the Legislature, found himself without a job when the Parks and Wildlife Commission was organized.
Watson's successor cannot expect to inherit anything less than the same headaches. Not even Solomon could straddle this horse and ride to satisfaction of sportsmen.

The Meredith Philosophy

WASHINGTON — He is a loner, a mystic, a man with a mission — he is James Meredith of Mississippi.
Meredith gives a warm, wistful smile when you meet him, and he was shy and weak-willed, needing what he called the "feed-back" of a more responsive audience, when he spoke to us at the National Press Club. He had two white bishops and the personal representative of an archbishop with him at the head table, including Walter Tobinger, chairman of the D. C. Commissioners, and the standing ovation of a medium-sized audience.

BUT YOU could feel his insecurity, which he did not bother to conceal. He complained that the Attorney General of the United States had been invited, but didn't show up. He complained of being "misunderstood" because his hosts at the pre-lunchon cocktail party kept congratulating him on being a "hero."

HE DOESN'T want to be a hero-much less a martyr. He dreads death. He wants to use every instant of what he considers a doomed life to give to his cause, which is the hope of a racially classless society in America. Except for his identification with that cause, he is subjectively insufficient, and his awareness of inadequacy rubs off.

I WOULD NOT believe, on first impressions, that Meredith can be anything but sincere, and the only question is whether he is wise. His hate-image is the White Power Structure, which he is dedicated to overthrow. But this is the structure which put down Hitler, the century's worst racist, and it is the structure which is holding off communism, a far worse menace to humanity than the peculiar institutions of the American South. It is the structure which is readjusting its strength to help the Negro minority.

A WISER man might be a more patient man, but it would be smug and presumptuous to offer Meredith the counsel of perfection. He has staked his life on his mission, and no man can do more. Besides, his mission is relatively gentle when compared with that of Negro ultra-radicals.
Meredith has no truck with the Black Supremacists, and refuses to commit himself very far with the NAACP. In a way, he is a segregationist among his own people, for he wants Negro groups to be all black and to concern themselves with building pride in their families and institutions, as well as their economic betterment.

HE SEPARATES the war against communism from the domestic war of the races, and feels that the action in Viet Nam has allowed the Negro soldiers to prove their Americanism. To Meredith, surprisingly, the Civil Rights movement is bigger than its racial phases, and he doesn't care much for its hot-eyed sloganers.
A man who walks by himself is Meredith, and he walks with the fear of death. This is not, I think, because he dreads Eternity, but because, like all who have a purpose in life, he feels there is — so little time.

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—A wax museum here may not boast the many lifelike figures of world celebrities found at London's famed Madame Tussaud's, but it has variety of a different sort.
More than 125 types of natural waxes—produced from such diverse sources as grape seeds, cranberries, tea leaves, several kinds of bees and even rare Chinese insects—are found in the Johnson-Wax collection, assembled over several decades for research purposes.

U.S. Communist Party 'Pitiful'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist party, U.S.A., this month held its first convention since 1959. It was a pitiful sight in more ways than one.
This in turn raises questions about the so-called new left which is supposed to be developing in this country, although not connected with communism which is said to look out of date to the new radicals.

Small Man In Tall World

NEW YORK (AP) — Pound for pound and inch for inch, Michael Dunn may well be the smartest man in the world.
But undoubtedly he is the most successful dwarf in show business since the late Tom Thumb.
Michael is 31, weighs 78, stands 3 feet and 10 inches in his stockings, and has an intelligence quotient of 178.
"Theoretically, I'm a genius," said Michael, peering owlishly through thick-lensed glasses over a plate of parsley at his favorite Broadway saloon.

NEW YORK (AP) — Pound for pound and inch for inch, Michael Dunn may well be the smartest man in the world.
But undoubtedly he is the most successful dwarf in show business since the late Tom Thumb.
Michael is 31, weighs 78, stands 3 feet and 10 inches in his stockings, and has an intelligence quotient of 178.
"Theoretically, I'm a genius," said Michael, peering owlishly through thick-lensed glasses over a plate of parsley at his favorite Broadway saloon.

"BEING a so-called genius doesn't mean you can do anything. But it is of some help to anyone. It makes your mind more fun."
For his role as the philosophic traveler in "Ship of Fools," Dunn became the first fellow his size ever to be nominated for an Academy Award. He recently completed work on a second film, and has two more lined up.
Also in the works are a Broadway play and a television series of his own in which he plays a detective who is "more cerebral than muscular."

"I'M NOT a professional midget—I'm an actor," carefully pointed out Michael, whose theater pals call him "Germolin" and "The Purple Avenger."
There's a difference. A midget gets carried onstage in a basket, pops out, says a funny line and runs off. I don't think that takes much talent.
"My lack of height is incidental. It would be foolish to say that people don't notice it, but I transcend it."
"MOST STAGE parts for midgets or dwarfs are pratfalls. But now they are writing me real roles."
Michael suffers from achondroplasia, a congenital but not hereditary disease also known as fetal rickets, in which cartilage fails to develop properly.
"I knew by the time I was 3 or 4 that I would always be small," he said matter of factly. "But my mind gave me a good edge."
"I never got hung up emotionally because my parents wisely let me do what I wanted to as a child. They didn't overprotect me. If they had, I'd have turned out to be a pretty sour character."
"I PLAYED" football and basketball and got my nose broken a few times. I'm still a good swimmer and a very dirty water polo player.
Unable to achieve a career as a concert pianist, he started singing in night clubs at $5 an evening; now on occasion makes $2,000 for a single television performance.
Using special rigs, Dunn is able to drive a car or fly an airplane. He is cheerful and light-hearted about being a small man in a tall world.

Intriguing Experiments On The Heart

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Readers who are interested in the heart — and aren't we all! — may be intrigued, as I was, by some experiments by Dr. John Chomskoy and others at Harvard University.
A heart attack, or coronary occlusion, means that flow of blood to the heart muscle (or to part of it, rather) has been shut off by a clot or other means.
Once the patient has passed the immediate crisis, increased blood flow develops in the collateral or smaller arteries, compensating for the lost blood flow. There is, to be sure, some permanent damage to the heart muscle. There is necrosis, or destruction, of the part which has been deprived of circulation, and thus of oxygen.
But the development of collateral circulation lets the heart return to reasonably efficient action, and three out of four heart attack patients, after sufficient rest and recuperation, return to their jobs.
The experiments at Harvard have been with dogs. A ring-shaped balloon is placed around the coronary (heart) artery of an animal. By blowing up the balloon, circulation can be shut off as surely as it would be by a clot lodging inside. This is an artificial heart attack.

A dog's heart has a large network of collateral blood vessels, and the researchers found that these smaller blood vessels go into vigorous use within seconds after flow is shut off. The main flow has been kept blocked for as long as 60 seconds, but afterward, when the ring-shaped balloon is deflated and blood flow resumes, there is no detectable damage to the heart.
One of the curious aspects is that the dogs are very docile about the experiments. Once they become familiar with the laboratory, they return for further experiments without reluctance.
A heart attack is very painful for humans, however. Some lesser attacks, we know, often are mistaken for severe indigestion or stomach cramps.
Why painful for people, and not for dogs? Or does the pain not start until blood flow has been cut off for a longer time? Does a dog's large system of collateral blood vessels make the difference?

These are just a few of the questions raised by the experiments. For all we know about hearts, there is much that we still need to know. The heart surgery that we read about is inspiring, but equally significant progress may still lie before us, not in repairing damage afterward, but in knowing how to limit or prevent it in the beginning.
Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.
Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

The Truth Is Out

The truth is out. The little woman only indulges me in my flights of fancy during the winter months when I bury my nose in the seed catalogue.

WHEN MOST men are arguing over whether the latest baseball trade will hurt or help the Yanks, or whether the Astros will finish in the first division, I betake myself to the color plates and those wonderfully drooling descriptions of flowers, trees and berries.
When I get too far out, she brings me back to reality with some dictum such as: "We're not going to spend a lot of money this year on artichokes." Within reason, however, she agrees that a peony would look nice down by the hedge, or a hydrangea would be cute by the back door, or that a strawberry patch would be just dandy.

OVER THE years, we have added a few vines here and a few trees there, along with a modicum of flowers. The shade trees and hedge get firm approval, and she has nothing against the fruit trees so far as foliage and beauty go. For instance, our plum trees have no firmer booster than she in the spring when for a week or 10 days they look like two giant snow balls. The peaches and the lone cherry have an exotic beauty all of their own when their blossoms come along.
During the capricious days of spring, my helpmate seems to suffer with me when the thermometer dips to freezing during blossom time. She even agonizes with me when thunder-heads coagulate and start throwing hailstones. Once she braved a storm to cover the struggling peach and even offered to throw her body over it.

BUT LET the fruit set and slowly swell and turn to purple, red, gold and other approved colors (just like the catalogue said), and her enthusiasm wanes.
I first discovered this phenomenon when our fig tree (or bush) began turning out fruit like nobody's business. Proudly I offered her one of the choice morsels only to be taken aback with the pronouncement: "I can't stand figs." Ah, but fig preserves are something else, I suggested. She didn't like fig preserves, either.

WHEN OUR crazy peach (which never really ripens but comes nearest it the day before the first killing frost) turns out its copious yields, she is tolerant to a point. Beyond that she demands: "What are you going to do with those peaches?"
The other day, despite hard luck and an attack of hail, No. 3 boy and I shelled a substantial quantity of plums from our trees. We felt like the farmer who has had his labors blessed with a bumper harvest. We could fairly taste that cobbler, or see first place at the county fair for jelly and plum butter.

"UGH!" SAID the little woman. "I hate this time of the year."
And she makes such wonderful preserves.

Protecting The Western Hemisphere

WASHINGTON — While the Organization of American States voted 18 to 6 to order the withdrawal of the 8,000 troops of six of its member nations which were sent into the Dominican Republic a year ago to preserve order, the opinions expressed by the envoys from some of the Latin American countries show that the principle involved is not yet clearly understood.
The ambassador of Chile, for instance, said he voted for the resolution because the troops shouldn't have been there in the first place, and similar criticisms of the original intervention were voiced by other envoys. The ambassador of Uruguay urged that "the trend toward broad and arbitrary interpretation of international law be forgotten and that the mistakes of the Organization of American States not be committed again."

BUT THESE objections are more emotional than realistic. There is hardly an ambassador from Latin America who can afford to stand up and approve any intervention whatsoever without encountering the hostility of public opinion in his own country. For there is an inherent fear that such a precedent will be invoked to meddle at will in the internal affairs of a country.
THE FACT which cannot be overlooked, however, is that Latin America for more than a century, and a half has had the sole protection of the armed forces of the United States against aggressive action or attempted conquest by European governments. The Monroe Doctrine, which denounces any invasion of the independence of American States, has been broadened by the OAS itself in recent years so it is no longer, in theory at least, the function of the United States alone to protect this hemisphere against invasion by European powers.
THERE HAS been a tendency in practice to ignore some violations of the Monroe Doctrine. The Soviet Union and Red China have taken advantage of this retreat, and nearly every country in Latin America has been to some degree infiltrated by Communists who exercise a constant influence on internal affairs. In Cuba a military base was actually established by the Soviet Union. Its "advisers" are still on the job and play a leading role in the government of Cuba.

If it had not been for the intervention of the forces of the United States, the Dominican Republic would have gone the way of Cuba. Members of the Organization of American States — far from voicing criticisms of what was done — should be strengthening the basic principle of the Monroe Doctrine and declaring that no nation from any continent will be permitted to deprive any country of its independence.

THE POSITION of the United States today is that local revolutions and internal controversies in this hemisphere are not usually the concern of this country but that, when they endanger the lives and property of persons from any part of the world, some force must be interposed from without — preferably by the member states of the OAS — so as to eliminate any excuse for a European or Asiatic power to intervene.

THIS OAS ACTION in the Dominican Republic is an important precedent and should hereafter make unnecessary any emergency step by this country alone such as was forced upon the United States at the outset when the Communists started to take over the city of Santo Domingo. Today — after a free election and the restoration of order — the policy of the United States and of the other five nations which later sent their troops to the scene to help preserve the Dominican Republic has been fully vindicated.

Bigger, But Not Better

NEW YORK (AP) — Sound, fury and confusion swirled through the nation's economy in the first half of 1966. Almost everything got bigger, although as the first half ends there's some doubt if everything got better.
The long economic upswing suddenly became a boom in the first three months of the year. Then just as suddenly the emphasis changed from the danger of overheating to the threat of a chilling slowdown, even the possibility of an incipient turnaround.

AN INFLATION debate raged, changed direction, and now is bogged in confusion: Is inflation already here? A continuing threat? A receding bugaboo?
The tax debate still swirls: Is a federal tax increase needed to cool down a still bubbling economy? To pay for a more expensive war in Viet Nam than so far officially admitted?
And gaining in intensity and confusion as the first half moves into history is the battle of tight money. Interest rates are rising, both those that borrowers must pay and those that savers can command. Is the economy, or a part of it, being hurt? Or is the prosperous economic expansion being saved?

decline that chilled both the stock traders and the general public.

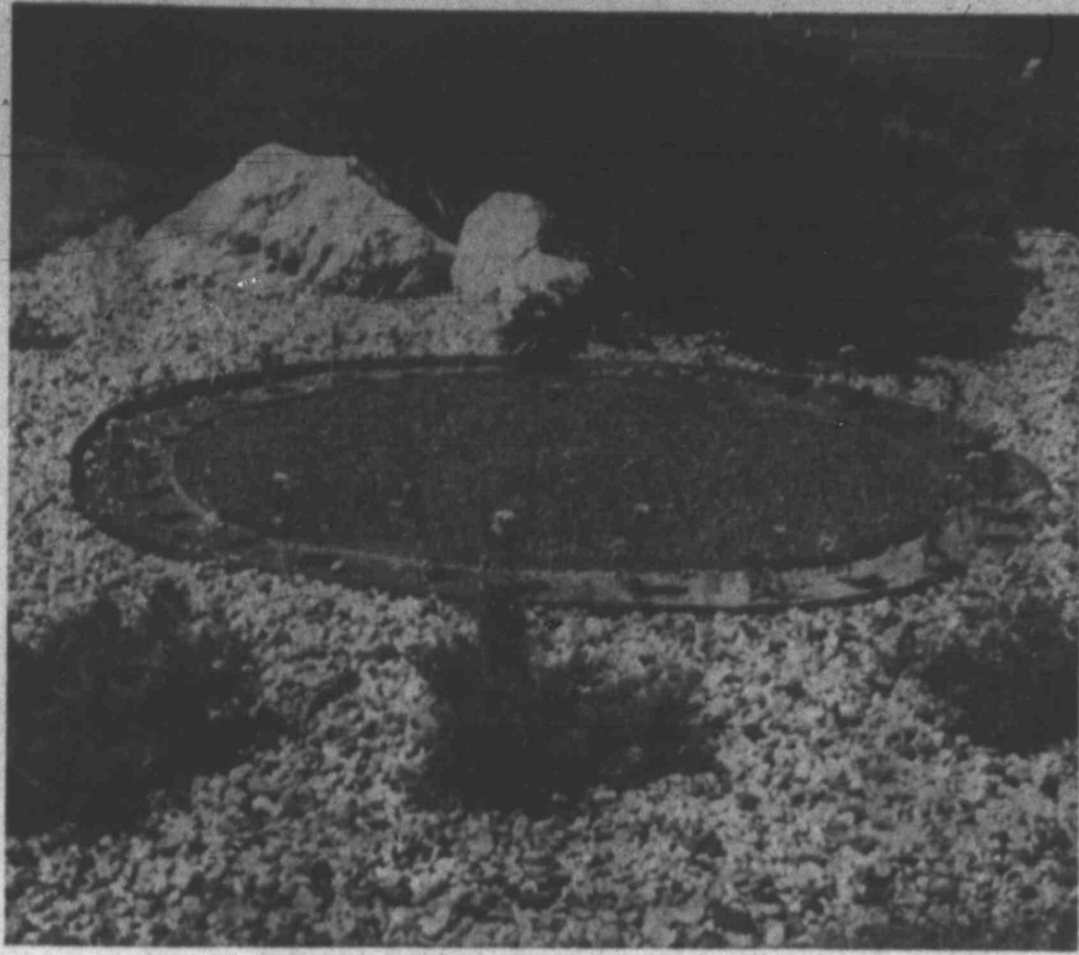

BUT IN dollars and cents the economy looked far from sick. The Gross National Product was running at an annual rate of $697 billion in the final three months of 1965. This measure of the nation's output of goods and services jumped to $714 billion in the first quarter of 1966, and despite all the talk about slowdowns is running at an estimated $725 billion annual rate at midyear.
MOST PEOPLE are doing all right. Personal income rose from an annual rate of $552 billion in January to $565 billion in May. Personal consumption outlays went from an annual rate of $441 billion in the fourth quarter of 1965 to $483 billion in the first quarter of 1966. Part of this was due to a drop in the rate of savings. But part was due to the rise in the cost of living. The index stood at 111 per cent of the 1957-59 average in January, but by May had risen to 112.6 per cent.
Employment climbed in the first half of this year, but so did the size of the labor force. The jobless rate was four per cent in January and in May, but in February and April it had sunk to 3.7 per cent.

MACHINES Pick
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Extension specialists' surveys of Texas counties indicates that 94 per cent of the 1965 cotton crop was harvested by machine.
This compares with 56 per cent in 1960 and 24 per cent in 1955. More than 50,000 machines were used in the harvest.

ENTRANCE GARDENS TO VA HOSPITAL
Dedicatory services to be held Sunday

YARBOROUGH, BURLESON TO SPEAK Program Of Dedication At Hospital Completed

Details have been completed and the program wrapped up for the dedication ceremony of the extensive beautification memorial at the Veterans Administration Hospital this Sunday.

Mrs. Donald D. Van Meter, wife of the VA hospital director, said she had talked with Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Rep. Omar Burleson recently and they confirmed their participation in the ceremonies. Reps. Burleson will introduce Sen. Yarborough, who will give the dedicatory address.

BAND TO PLAY
The Sheppard Air Force Band, under the direction of CWO Ross S. Whitehead, will present musical selections at 2:15 p.m. The ceremonies will get under way promptly at 5:30 p.m. with the presentation of colors by a Web AFB Color Guard comprised of S. Sgt. Eusebio Martinez, Airman I.C. Clark Dyer and Airman I.C. Robert Evans.

Firecracker Distracts Driver, Lad Is Injured

A 14-year-old youth was injured Tuesday when the car he was in struck a utility pole after the driver was distracted by exploding fireworks, officers said today.

Young Harland was reported in good condition today by attendants, who said he suffered scalp lacerations and a skull fracture in the accident.

Knott 4-H To See Projects

KNOTT (SC)—Plans for an achievement day for the Knott 4-H Club were discussed Monday night at the community center.

The group decided to meet at the center at 7:30, July 26, and visit each club member's home to see the projects and awards that have been won. Then they will meet back at the center for a family night, program and a supper.

Board Confirms Insurance Rates

Howard County's rate for car liability insurance, which was 53 last year will continue unchanged in the year head. The State Insurance Board confirmed the rate announced some days ago at its meeting Tuesday.

While many counties in the state saw their rates increased from $1 upward, the rate in Howard, Ector, Midland and Scurry counties was left unchanged.

Explorer Post Plans Meeting

Explorer Post 444 will hold a special Court of Honor Thursday night at 7:30 in the Cosden Club ballroom to present awards and to exhibit color slides of its recent trip to Colorado.

The group recently returned from a ten day hike in which they covered 50 miles of the San Juan Wilderness and visited many points of historical interest.

Mrs. Hart's Funeral Set Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. A. C. Hart will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church, with burial following in the City Cemetery, under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

The Rev. Harold Rucker, assistant pastor of First Methodist, assisted by the Rev. Jarrell Sharp, pastor of Wesley Methodist, will officiate.

Palbearers will be J. D. Jones, Don Robbins, Harold Canning, Pete Cook, Jack Johnson and Chester Cathey.

Mrs. Hart, resident of Big Spring for 55 years, succumbed early Tuesday in a local hospital. Although she had been in failing health for some time, her death was unexpected.

She is survived by her husband, a veteran T&P fireman; a daughter, Mrs. John W. Garrison, Big Spring; and two sons, Tommy Hart of Big Spring and O. C. Hart of Houston.

BRIEF BUSINESS SESSION

Commissioners Do Some Advance 'Bell Ringing'

City commissioners breezed through a short agenda Tuesday evening, but interrupted their deliberations to ring bells with a representative of "Let Freedom Ring," heralding the upcoming celebration of the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds brought enough bells to go around and asked commissioners to attend the celebration at the Howard County Courthouse at 12:45 p.m. Monday. Mrs. Dodds said the "Let Freedom Ring" campaign was designed to re-establish the celebration of the holiday with the traditional ringing of bells. Regular items on the agenda were quickly passed.

Chon Marquez' request for a dance license at his tavern on the Northside was turned over to Jay Banks, police chief, for whatever action the chief deems appropriate. At the meeting, Banks said he had no objection to granting Marquez' request.

Riding Club Sets Special Event On July 2

GARDEN CITY — Glasscock County Riding Club is sponsoring a horseshow "play day" at the club roping arena July 2. The show gets under way at 3 p.m. The arena is west of the Garden City school.

The horseshow is open to all. Riding events will be open to club members and invited club members only. Rosettes and ribbons will be awarded to winners.

There will be 18 halter classes plus western pleasure classes. The riding events include barrel racing, pole bending, potato race and ring race.

The general public is invited. Velma Lee Sherrod is junior president of the club. The club will operate a concession stand at the arena.

GASOLINE BIDS

Continental Oil Company was awarded the bid for supplying city gasoline for the next six months. The company was the over-all low bidder, though Gulf Oil Corp.'s premium gasoline bid was slightly lower.

Continental's terms of a one per cent discount for payment within 10 days was superior to the "net within 30 days" terms of Gulf. The winning bid was 1568 for regular gas and 1768 for premium. Gulf's second place bid was 1599 for regular, 1745 for Ethyl.

There were four other bidders: Chevron Oil Co., Mobil Oil Corp., K. H. McGibbon Oil Co., and Humble Oil and Refining.

An ordinance accepting the completed paving on Settles from Third to West Sixth, Nolan from Eighteenth to Twentieth and Northwest Fifth from Main to Trades was read and accepted.

The ordinance did not include paving from Third to Fourth on Settles, so that part will have to be included in a subsequent ordinance.

Total cost (including Settles from Third to Fourth) was $35,655.03, of which property owners paid $29,093.44 and the city $6,561.59.

Dr. F. W. Lurting, representing the Signal Mountain Soaring Society, asked permission to allow a contractor to proceed with constructing a glider strip and hangar on Moss Creek Lake.

Local Rotarians heard the merits of the "Four-Way Test" at the regular meeting Tuesday at noon at the Settles Hotel, with George Oldham, "four-way test" committee chairman, in charge.

Col. Julian Baird was in charge of the program, citing the principles of the "four-way test": (1) Is it the truth? (2) Is it fair to all concerned? (3) Will it build good will and better friendships? and (4) Is it beneficial to all?

Col. Baird reviewed the uses of the test and the Air Force Officers' Code, pointing out that the Air Force training program follows the "four-way test." John L. Taylor spoke on how the test enters into business, while Lowell Jones told how the test is used in interviewing and hiring of personnel in various companies.

The Rev. Donald Hungerford presided at his last meeting. New president is Dick Ream, with Curtis Mullins, secretary and Johnny Hill, treasurer.

WARNS ON FIREWORKS

Police Chief Jay Banks said Tuesday that shooting fireworks in the city limits is prohibited, and that parents are responsible for the destructive acts of their children.

His statement came in the wake of eight complaints Monday of residents shooting fireworks.

"The only legal way to shoot firecrackers is to do it outside the city limits," Banks said.

Murphy To Address Class

Edward Murphy, research mathematician for El Paso Natural Gas Co., will speak to the mathematics class of the Summer Honors Institute Friday morning, July 1 at 9 o'clock.

Murphy is a 1952 graduate of BSHS. He received his master's degree in mathematics from Texas Tech.

"We want to give these students an opportunity to see what a research technician is and what he does," said John Talmadge, director of the institute. Murphy is being sent from El Paso as a part of his company's program to acquaint schools with the practical aspects of research and mathematics.

Murphy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy of 506 3/4 18th St. Pat Murphy is assistant superintendent of schools.

Koonce, Lubbock; three sons, Gordon Eugene Koonce, James Terry Koonce, and Richard Wayne Koonce, of the home; four daughters, Gloria Jean Koonce, Belinda Gayle Koonce, Teresa Mae Koonce and Diane Koonce, all of the home; her mother, Mrs. Emice Johnson, San Angelo; five sisters, Mrs. Herb Jewellen, San Angelo, Mrs. Alton Brown, Hobbs, N.M., Mrs. Bob Zimmerman, El Paso, Mrs. Bonald Kriesner, San Antonio, and Mrs. Roland Hudson, Austin.

OIL NEWS

Pan-Am Stakes Dawson Explorer

A Dawson County wildcat location has been staked 15 miles southwest of Lamesa by Pan American.

No. 1 Thomas McBrayer is scheduled as an old well plugged back to seek the Wolfcamp and Spraberry formations at 11,300 feet. The well, originally drilled and abandoned in 1956 by Superior, was 12,706 feet deep.

Location is 330 feet from the south and west lines of Labor 24, League 271, Glasscock CSL.

Also in Dawson County, BTA Oil Producers of Midland will seek the South Wells (Spraberry) at 8,400 feet seven miles west of Lamesa in the No. 1-682 Ltd. Wells, which spots 660 feet

FOUR-WAY TEST Program Given For Rotarians

Local Rotarians heard the merits of the "Four-Way Test" at the regular meeting Tuesday at noon at the Settles Hotel, with George Oldham, "four-way test" committee chairman, in charge.

Col. Julian Baird was in charge of the program, citing the principles of the "four-way test": (1) Is it the truth? (2) Is it fair to all concerned? (3) Will it build good will and better friendships? and (4) Is it beneficial to all?

Taylor spoke on how the test enters into business, while Lowell Jones told how the test is used in interviewing and hiring of personnel in various companies.

The Rev. Donald Hungerford presided at his last meeting. New president is Dick Ream, with Curtis Mullins, secretary and Johnny Hill, treasurer.

Olen Puckett began the series of five-minute talks at a recent meeting. The next will be in September.

Mrs. Jarrett, Lamesa, Dies

LAMESA (SC)—Mrs. Ruby L. Jarrett, 75, died Tuesday morning at Medical Arts Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Services were held today at 2:30 p.m. in the Bronon-Phillips Chapel, with the Rev. Jimmy Hardy, pastor, Bryan Street Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Lamesa Cemetery.

She was born Oct. 5, 1890, in Arkadelphia, Ark., and was a longtime resident of Dawson County. She was a member of the Bryan Street Baptist Church.

Survivors include six sons, Alvie Jarrett, Willie Jarrett and Carroll Jarrett, all of Lamesa; Lloyd Jarrett, Midland; and Jimmie Jarrett and David Jarrett, both of Odessa; two sisters, Mrs. C. E. Taylor, Corsicana, and Mrs. Edna Ludeck, Lawton, Okla.; also 17 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Farris Heads Phone Vets

W. W. Farris, Big Spring, was installed Tuesday night as president of the Far West Club of the Telephone Pioneers of America, in special ceremonies at the Ramada Inn. The club represents the Midland district of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

George Gibson, Odessa, was installed as vice president. Other officers are Mrs. Mabel Anderson, Odessa, second vice president; and W. D. Berry, Big Spring, secretary-treasurer. Installing officer was Leonard Doyle, Lubbock, council president.

Also present were Mrs. Sybil Rushing, council secretary, Lubbock, who was the principal speaker; and H. H. Reading, Midland, district plant superintendent; and the new Lone Star Chapter president.

The 45 members present heard speakers tell them that they had given 1,125 years of service to the telephone company with their combined work. Eleven new members were brought into the club, bringing the total membership to 163 in the Midland district. There are 295,000 members nationwide. To be eligible for membership, an employe must work for the telephone industry 21 years or more.

Probated Term Is Revoked

Leonard W. Phillips has the questionable distinction of being the first man in Howard County to have a probated County Court jail sentence revoked.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said that Phillips was arrested for DWI some time ago and entered a guilty plea to the charge. He was fined, assessed costs, and sentenced to three months in the county jail with the sentence probated on good behavior. (Such probations are now permitted on an amendment.)

A few days ago, Phillips was taken again into custody, Davis said, on a new charge of DWI. He was brought before Judge Lee Porter who set aside the revocation. He is now serving his three months sentence.

Police Learn Of Three Thefts

Three thefts were reported to officers Tuesday. Pat McMahan, 1400 Nolan (rear), said someone made off with his $235 guitar Monday.

H. E. Koster, Wyoming Hotel, told officers a handbag containing a number of items and a electric razor were stolen from his room Monday. He valued the items at $45.

John Green, 408 W. Yorkfield, said he took off his $35 watch at the Lakeview YMCA when he played basketball for a few minutes, and it was gone when he returned.

Grand Jury Still Has Plenty Work

Howard County Grand jury is back in session for its second day today and still has a sizable mass of work to complete at noon.

The number of witnesses awaiting their turn before the jury was about as large as on Tuesday, the day the body was empaneled.

No announcement was made as to the cases the grand jury has investigated.

Officials were doubtful if the jurors would be able to complete their task today. It had been hoped the work could be wound up by noon Wednesday.

Zoo Stockholders To Meet Friday

Stockholders of the Big Spring Pet-A-Zoo will meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room at the First Federal Savings and Loan, A. D. Blount, president, has announced. The agenda for the meeting calls for the election of a board of directors, election of a secretary-treasurer, and discussion of ways of promotion and further development of the zoo.

LBJ Picks Six Texan Judges

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson picked six Texans to become federal judges Tuesday.

His choice for the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans, which handles all civil rights cases from Texas under its jurisdiction, is Irving L. Goldberg, 60, of Dallas, vice chairman of the state advisory commission working with the Federal Civil Rights Commission.

DISTRICT JUDGES

For district judges the President said he was nominating: Northern District of Texas—William M. Taylor Jr., 57, of Dallas, a former district judge in state court.

Southern District of Texas—U.S. Atty. Woodrow Seals, 48, a federal prosecutor since 1961, and John V. Singleton Jr., 48, a secretary for Johnson while he was a member of the House in 1941-42. Western District of Texas—Ernest A. Gunn, former city and county attorney in El Paso, and Jack Roberts, 56, a state district court judge in Austin since 1948.

Two other nominees of the President for the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals are U.S. Dist. Judge Robert A. Ainsworth of New Orleans and John C. Godbold, a Montgomery, Ala., lawyer.

PORT ARTHURAN

Goldberg, a Port Arthur native marking his 60th birthday today, has engaged in civil law practice since 1932 at Dallas. He has worked in the campaigns of Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

Taylor, a former assistant district and county attorney, was judge of 134th District Court in 1948-53. He has managed Dallas campaigns for Yarborough and says he "campaigns for Lyndon Johnson every time he ran."

Seals, a supporter of both President Johnson and Yarborough, and Singleton, one of eight regional directors for Johnson in 1964 presidential campaign, are longtime political and personal friends of Johnson.

Singleton has been a Democratic state committeeman and in 1963 was appointed by Gov. John Connally to the State Depository Board.

CODE 'FATHER'

Seals, a liberal Democrat, has been U.S. attorney since 1961. He formerly was Harris County Democratic chairman. As a close supporter of Yarborough, he worked for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1960 and for Johnson in 1964. He is a native of Bogalusa, La.

Seals has been called the father of the controversial new Texas Code of Criminal Procedure. He proposed at a State Bar convention in 1957 that a committee study revision of the criminal code. His proposal was adopted and he was chairman of the committee.

Roberts, then district attorney, was appointed to a 126th District Court vacancy in 1945 and has held the post since. He describes himself as a friend of Johnson and Yarborough for three decades but says he has been active only in his own campaigns because "a judge hasn't got any business meddling in politics."

Search Finds Rancher Dead

PLYOTE, Tex. (AP)—Rancher A.M. Lasiter, 54, roped a calf, started to alight from his horse and apparently suffered a fatal heart attack Tuesday.

Searchers found the body about 1 a.m. today. It lay in a gully 2 miles south of the Lasiter home. His horse stood nearby, the calf still secured by a rope tied to the saddle.

Thirty to 40 men using horses, jeeps and three airplanes joined in a widespread search after Lasiter failed to return home at 10 a.m. from inspecting cattle, as expected.

Neighbors helped Mrs. Lasiter begin the hunt on the family's ranch south of here in Ward County. Their efforts proved fruitless, and Sheriff Blackie McNeerlin organized the wider search.

A party which went back for a final look after midnight came upon the rancher's horse and soon found the body in a pasture.

Leon Farris Kin Rites Thursday

Y. A. Farris, 67, Roosevelt, Okla., father of Leon Farris, 2303 Lynn, died at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in a Lawton, Okla., hospital after an apparent heart attack.

Services will be in Roosevelt at 2:30 p.m. Thursday. The body is at the Gish Funeral Home in Hobart, Okla.

DEAR ABBY
Views On Nudism

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you and I were married four years once before about this problem, but I turned chicken and tore up the letter. The problem has come up again, and this time I've made up my mind to mail it. My husband has been interested in nudism for some time, and has tried to get me to go to a nudist camp. I have nothing against camps like that, but I am just not the type who could strip down naked in front of so many people.

We have had a lot of arguments about this, and have even come close to getting a divorce over it. I don't see how normal people could go to a place like that without getting a few "evil" thoughts. Am I wrong to think this way, or am I evil minded? And do you think a man who really loved his wife could bear to see her walking naked in front of other men?

ANTI-NUDIST: DEAR ANTI: One's attitudes about nudity are based on his early training, acquired inhibitions, and the customs and culture of the society in which he exists. Some people adopt unconventional beliefs that are not, necessarily, "evil minded."

I believe, however, that everything has its place. Including the fig leaf.

DEAR ABBY: My husband

Mobil Employees Take Study Offer

BEAUMONT (AP)—More than 100 employees took up Mobil Oil Corp.'s offer to help them finish their elementary and high school education.

The company offered to pay 75 per cent of the education costs for workers at their refinery here.

"We realize that lack of adequate education prevents many employees from being promoted," said refinery manager L. E. Cranston. "This is regrettable and we would like for this to be avoided."

Negro Aspirants In S.C. Defeated

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — 3,878 votes for his white opponent, Joseph Coker. In Williamsburg, where Negroes sought all three of the county's legislative seats, King-street undertaker Virgil Dimery lost the Senate nomination to La-Nue Floyd, who had 5,825 votes to Dimery's 4,041.

INCUMBENTS WIN
Incumbent state Rep. J. Henry Stuckey and Ernest W. Carter defeated Negro candidates J.E. Lawrence and Purvis Easley for the two House seats in Williamsburg County. Stuckey had 5,989 votes, Carter 5,949, Lawrence 4,179 and Easley 4,073.

A Negro, Virgin Johnson, also was defeated in a runoff race with two white candidates for two seats on the Hampton County Council.

Federal observers kept close watch on the voting in Clarendon County. Hundreds of Negroes have been added to the county's voter list since federal registrars were sent in last November.

South Carolina's 1967 General Assembly thus will retain its all-white makeup maintained since 1901 when a Negro legislator served in the House.

White voters apparently cast their ballots solidly along racial lines to defeat four Negro candidates who had been given a good chance to win Democratic nominations to the all-white South Carolina Legislature.

Voting in adjoining Williamsburg and Clarendon counties followed racial lines closely. Vote totals in the runoff primary Tuesday indicated almost all eligible voters, Negro and white, cast ballots.

Both Negroes and whites had claimed a slight edge in voting registrations in the two central South Carolina counties.

The four Negro candidates had led the legislative races in the June 14 primary which eliminated several white candidates. However, all the white voters apparently rallied behind the white candidates for the runoff.

In Clarendon County, a Negro minister, the Rev. J.S. Hunter, lost his bid for nomination to the county's lone seat in the state House of Representatives. He said he would file a protest involving ballots cast in two precincts in Summerton.

Final tabulations gave the Rev. Mr. Hunter 3,665 votes to

County Has 3,450 On Medicare List

Effective July 1, more than 3,450 of Howard County's elder citizens will become eligible for the medical and hospital care provided under the national Medicare Program.

They will be included in the 7,000 older men and women of the seven county Big Spring Social Security District eligible for these new benefits.

Ervin Fisher, director of the local office, said that four Big Spring hospitals have been certified to participate in the medicare program.

These hospitals are the Big Spring State Hospital, Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital, Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation and Medical Arts Hospital.

HOSPITALS CERTIFIED

In the seven counties served by the Big Spring office of the Social Security Administration, 10 of 11 existing hospitals have applied for certification as participating hospitals. Eight of the 10 have been certified and will be in business officially as of July 1. The other two are still in the process of being certified.

In addition to the Howard County hospitals, other which have been certified are Cogdill Hospital, Snyder, Root Memorial Hospital, Colorado City; Johnson Hospital, Lorraine, and Physicians Hospital in Stanton.

Fisher said that those hospitals which have been named to participate in the program have agreed to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights act and, provide care without regard to race, religion or national origin. They have also agreed to meet the staffing, safety, and health standards, required under the medicare program.

93 PCT. SIGNED

Fisher said that of the 7,000 older residents of Howard, Dawson, Scurry, Mitchell, Borden, Martin and Glasscock counties who are on the rolls of the Social Security office, 93 per cent have signed up for special supplemental benefits in addition to the basic features available to all persons 65 and older.

He pointed out that under the basic plan, all qualified men and women, effective July 1, will be eligible for up to 60 days hospitalization without cost (after they have paid the first $40 classified as deductive.) When the 60 days have expired, these people will be eligible for an additional 30 days hospitalization (if it is needed in their case) during which the patient pays only $10 per day of the costs.

The 93 per cent of the older citizens who have signed up for Part B of the program, under which they pay a monthly fee of $3, will be eligible not only for the hospitalization as described above but for 80 per cent of all doctor bills (after the first $50).

DOCTOR'S CHECK

Fisher said that as of July 1, any person who has signed up for the program and who needs medical attention can go to any of the certified hospitals for examination. The doctor who will check the patient will determine if hospitalization is needed.

All of the 7,000 men and women who are now eligible for the benefits of this new program have been provided with a medicare handbook which details in simple language all of the benefits and the provisions of the program.

USE THE BOOK

Fisher urged all clients to study this book with care and suggested, if they feel it necessary, that older citizens ask a relative or friend to help them with the study of the book.

"I am very pleased," Fisher said, "with the interest shown by the hospitals in this district. This interest should reassure the residents of this area there will be hospital beds available for those whose doctor certifies they need hospitalization.

General medical treatment is to be made available through the plan at hospitals in general. However, in the case of the Big Spring State Hospital, the treatment to be available will be restricted to psychiatric fields.

Fisher said that the Blue Cross is acting as intermediary in sitting up the medicare program. He complimented the agency on the exceptionally efficient work it has done in the field.

Lamar Regents Set High Budget

BEAUMONT (AP) — Lamar State College regents have approved a record $8.1 million budget for fiscal 1966-67.

The budget is nearly a half a million dollars greater than the present one.

The regents also decided to name the college's proposed $2 million coeducational dormitory in honor of U.S. Rep. Jack Brooks and former Texas Gov. Allan Shivers. The pair were chosen because of the roles they played in having the college made a four-year institution.

State Water Plan Given Airing At Mount Pleasant

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP)—A Texas Water Development Board team will discuss the planned development of the Cyprus Creek Basin which is included in the Texas Water Plan, in public hearing here today.

The hearing was set at 9 a.m. with Joe G. Moore, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, presiding.

The Plan for the Cyprus Creek Basin proposes the construction of three new reservoirs and enlargement of one of the basin's existing lakes at an estimated cost of $46.21 million as part of the plan to develop and conserve the state's water resources through the year 2020.

Reservoirs proposed in the basin and their estimated costs include Franklin County Lake, $3.24 million; Titus County Lake, $12 million; Lake O'Pines enlargement, $5.87 million and Marshall Lake, $25.1 million.

The over-all plan proposes to meet the projected water needs in 2020 and to fulfill existing and proposed commitments for transferring surplus water outside the basin to more arid sections of the state.

The planning is based on a healthy increase in population in the basin. Population of the Cyprus Creek Basin was 83,886 in 1960 and is expected to be 170,500 by 2020.

The mammoth state-wide water plan calls for the construction of 33 reservoirs in the next 50 years.

Relief Rolls Cut To Needy Clients

NEW YORK (AP)—Nation-wide prosperity and a firm attitude toward the lazy have cut relief rolls in most parts of America to a hard core of the unemployable needy, an Associated Press survey indicates.

And many of the unemployables are being salvaged for the labor market by education and training programs which will aim to make them self-supporting.

LEVEL OFF

During the past year the total on relief, including the jobless, the blind, dependent children and the aged, has leveled out or even declined, according to a sampling of states and cities from coast to coast.

A major exception is New York, where the number of jobs for the unskilled has failed to keep pace with an influx of Puerto Ricans and southern Negroes. California has a similar problem.

In Niagara Falls, N.Y., one unemployed relief recipient who turned down a job was sentenced recently to 30 days in jail under the state welfare law.

Few states go this far. But in some, jobless fathers who refuse work are cut off relief and face court charges of nonsupport of children. In many places, no able-bodied family head is admitted to relief rolls in the first place.

However, welfare officials reached by the survey said malingerers was no great problem anywhere.

WANT TO WORK

Ellis P. Murphy, director of the Los Angeles County Bureau of Public Assistance, said: "We find that most people want to work if we can find a job that they can do."

"Reluctance to go to work," said a spokesman for the Illinois Public Aid Department, "usually stems from a relief recipient's fear that the job he is offered is one he cannot do."

This is where the education and vocational training programs come in.

The Chicago Board of Education provides free schooling for undereducated adults. The County Welfare Department offers free training for would-be salesmen, machine operators, drivers, typists, food handlers, wood finishers and hotel workers.

The Cook County, Chicago, welfare case load hit a peak of 289,276 in May 1962, a month when aiding the indigent cost $17,226,000. In March this year, the case load was down to 254,285 and the outlay down to $15,879,712. In many instances a case included two or more members of a family.

ILLITERATE

Raymond Hilliard, Cook County Public aid director, said more than half Chicago's welfare recipients are illiterate and few have attended school as far as the eighth grade.

In Pennsylvania, which has a number of state and county training programs for the jobless, the number of individuals on relief fell from 417,705 in March 1965 to 381,152 in March 1966. The outlay went up from $18,670,927 to $14,821,837.

California's state welfare budget rose from $891 million for a case load of 979,500 in the 1964-65 fiscal year to just over a billion dollars for a case load of 1,985,000 in fiscal 1965-66.

In an attempt to stem the increase, the state is stepping up programs of remedial education and vocational training, in which 1,000 persons already are enrolled.

IN OHIO

Ohio welfare recipients at the end of May totaled 350,000 compared with 345,000 a year previous and 378,000 in 1961. This year's welfare program will cost $240 million compared with $230 million in 1965 and $195 million in 1961.

In 1963, the Ohio Legislature enacted a law requiring county welfare departments to discontinue relief payments to any able-bodied persons who refused job offers.

Texas requires the able-bodied mothers of dependent children to go to work in order to qualify for aid. Herbert Wilson, assistant commissioner of the State Department of Public Welfare, said there was little difficulty in enforcing this requirement, since the maximum aid payment to a mother of four is only $135 a month.

Empires Rise And Fall—This Scene Never Changes

SUKARNO AND PLANNERS CAN'T ESCAPE BLAME

Fabulously Rich Indonesia Welters In Abject Poverty

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia may improve itself by the year 2000," the retired government official said. Then his voice trailed off and he stared moodily at the wall.

His depression summed up the widespread pessimism in Indonesia, a nation incredibly rich in natural resources but still desperately poor.

Despite its poverty, and the annual gloomy reports by Western analysts that Indonesia is on the brink of economic collapse, Indonesia will keep going.

It is a nation of contrasts, a nation where millions of its people are without shoes and only rags to wear, but a nation where oil simply runs out of the ground. It is a nation where rubber trees sprout where seeds drop, where rice fields swirl in emerald rivers across the volcanic land.

The wealth of Indonesia also lies in its quinine, pepper, kapok, tea, tin and coffee.

But since Indonesia declared its independence from Dutch colonial rule in 1945, it has made little headway in building a stable economy. In cold figures, Indonesia owes $2.4 billion in foreign debts. The interest rate alone comes to about $470 million each year, equal to Indonesia's estimated export earnings for this year.

But the poverty of this rich land can better be seen in the people who struggle with it. In Solo, a major city in central Java, women work 15 hours a day sitting on a dirt floor making batik, the impregnated cloth for which Indonesia is famous. They earn seven rupiahs a day, the equivalent of seven cents or less on open market exchange rates.

HUMBLED

A former ranking government official in Malang, central Java, is forced against his pride to take in boarders to make ends meet.

In teeming Jakarta, thousands live along the turpid canals lacing the city, cooking, bathing, drinking and relieving themselves in the canal. They have no home and no future.

Inflation is a constant leech. The cost of living rose 600 per cent in 1963 and still is going up. How Indonesians survived the increase, with no salary raise, remains a mystery even to economic experts here. The most apparent answer, as one Indonesian put it, was "we just ate less."

Again, in the paradox of Indonesia, there is little sign of food shortages outside the major cities. Rice grows everywhere, as do fruits and vegetables. For the vast majority of Indonesians, 90 per cent of whom live in the countryside, food comes as naturally as the rains.

PLANS FLOP

Failure in Indonesia's economy lie within the complex and vague plans periodically set forth by the government. Overseeing it all, until the most recent government shakeup in March, was President Sukarno.

No small part of the blame for economic failures here must lie with him.

Indonesia is now in the final two years of its eight-year plan, which President Sukarno once described as "rich in fantasy."

Its practicality, however, is difficult to discern. An indication of the fantasy surrounding economics comes from the preparation of the eight-year plan. It was presented to Sukarno in 17 volumes, in eight sections, with 1,945 paragraphs. All this was done to symbolize Indonesia's declaration of independence on Aug. 17, 1945.

SHOW-OFF

While the economy crumbled under him, President Sukarno continued to order the construction of prestige projects aimed at raising the status of Indonesia in the eyes of the so-called new emerging forces. These include a high-rise department store with nothing in it.

Sukarno sparked angry demonstrations by a statement earlier this year when he saw people buying flowers for a major holiday. If they can afford flowers, they can afford food, he declared.

Failures in Indonesia's economy can be traced to Dutch colonial rule. In the 300 years the Dutch ruled these islands, they did almost nothing to build a foundation for an Indonesian economy. Yet Indonesia, directly or indirectly, provided income for one in every seven Dutchmen.

Junked Car Converted To Steel In Just One Minute

DALLAS (AP)—A giant crane locked its jaws around the red, sperty Chevrolet, once a proud sample of the 1964 production year.

The hulk was dropped into a clanging hammer mill. One minute later it came out in pieces no larger than a package of cigarettes.

SUPERIOR

"This scrap is far superior to the bundle method," said J. G. Goldberg, director of operations for the Commercial Metals Co. of Dallas, one of the largest scrap metal processing firms in the world.

He said the shredding process is about three years old and is catching on rapidly throughout the scrap industry. In the past, cars processed for scrap were compressed into small cubes or bundles by massive hydraulic presses. That method is still in use.

Goldberg said Comsteel, his firm's trade name, buys car bodies from junk dealers for about $5 each. The scrap iron from one standard-size body sells for about $15 to Texas and Mexico steel mills.

The engine, transmission, seats and tires are removed by the salvage yard, which sometimes also crushes the body to a height of three feet.

BODY CRUSHED

If the body has not been so crushed, Comsteel workers drop a two-ton steel plate on it two or three times.

About 200 cars a day are then dumped into a huge hammer mill, where a 1,000-horsepower engine drives thrashing blades at 1,200 revolutions per minute. The blades, which have to be replaced every eight hours with extremely tough manganese steel, bash, chop and beat the cars to pieces and force them through small, stationary steel gates.

"The gates act as knives, and the body is completely shredded," Goldberg said.

The resulting fragments, bits and pieces, none larger than a man's fist, are then fed through a magnetic separator, which removes all dirt, copper, zinc and other non-ferrous material.

A conveyor belt runs the scrap through a flame tube to burn out all traces of paint, oil or grease.

Dual System On Colleges Is Supported

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — West Texas education leaders Tuesday agreed that support of the program of the state college coordinating board is essential to the progress of the area's colleges and universities.

They also emphasized the necessity of preserving the dual system of colleges and universities, public and private.

The meeting was the seventh in a series of nine idea-and-planning sessions called by John Ben Shepperd, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from Odessa.

The group requested the West Texas Chamber to encourage more investment of private and public research funds in West Texas and to conduct a survey of research projects needed to assure the future economic development of the region.

Programs concerning job opportunities and living advantages in the area for high school and college students were suggested.

W. C. Collins, a district vice president of the WTCC, presided at the meeting which lasted about five hours.

Attempts To Reactivate Camera On Moon Begin

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's camera on the moon, Surveyor 1, failed Tuesday night to respond to initial commands sent to reactivate it after the super-cold lunar night — two weeks at temperatures as low as 280 degrees below zero.

Said a spokesman at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which sent the commands: "This was not totally expected. We hoped it would work."

The 620-pound spacecraft which began sending pictures June 1 after a soft landing on the moon, transmitted more than 10,000 pictures before it was engulfed in the lunar night June 14.

JPL, through its Goldstone, Calif., transmitter, attempted to stir Surveyor again for 3½ hours beginning at 6 p.m., approximately 5½ hours before the lunar sunrise.

The JPL spokesman said further transmissions would be sent today and Thursday night, and, if unsuccessful, another attempt would be made July 7 when the craft's solar panels face the sun at lunar noon.

Three reasons were given why initial attempts to revive Surveyor failed: the craft's batteries could be completely dead; since it was still lunar night, it was too cold for Surveyor to answer; or the extreme cold disrupted the contact frequencies.

Youngest Mayor Praises Corpsmen

BEAUMONT (AP) — The youngest mayor ever elected in Ecuador visited here and spoke highly of the work being done in his country by U.S. Peace Corps workers.

Jorge Vargas, 36, mayor of Babahoyo, said Peace Corps workers in his city have conducted themselves well at all times and have earned the respect of the citizens.

He came to Beaumont to study rice farming methods. Rice is a major crop in his city of 30,000, he said.

Wheat Harvest Ahead Of 1965

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas wheat harvest delayed by rain reached 75 per cent completion last week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Last year at this time the wheat harvest was only 66 per cent complete.

Cotton planting was all but one per cent completed. Sorghum planting was close behind with 98 per cent completion, the same as a year ago.

Volume watermelon and can-taloupe harvesting was under way in the area south of Del Rio.

Light to heavy rain improved pasture and range conditions in the plains and Coastal Bend areas, but more moisture is needed in East Texas.

Judge Rules Estes Far From Pauper

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster, noting that Billie Sol Estes was gathering money "by the suitcase full" just before his 1962 bankruptcy, refused to declare the former West Texas promoter a pauper at a hearing Tuesday.

"The whole picture shows that whenever Billie Sol Estes needs money, he's come up with it," the judge said in denying a motion by attorneys that Estes be declared unable to pay for an appeal that could lead to a new trial.

NOT PRESENT

Estes, who has been convicted of mail fraud and is serving a 15-year prison sentence, was not present as government witnesses described in detail how he stockpiled thousands of dollars in cash during a two-week period before his estate was placed in bankruptcy.

The bankruptcy trustee Harry Moore of El Paso, testified he believes that Estes gathered up at least $196,000 from his firms before the bankruptcy audit was taken.

Former employees testified being instructed by Estes to collect cash from his businesses and deliver it to him or one of his brothers.

Lloyd A. Stone of Plainview, manager of a fertilizer firm owned by Estes, told of collecting $40,000 in less than two weeks and turning it over to Estes or a representative.

Stone said Estes called him March 29, 1962 and told him to collect the firm's cash, sack it and deliver it to a pilot at the Plainview airport. Stone said he gathered up $26,550. The pilot testified he flew it to Abilene where John L. Estes received the money.

Twelve days later, Stone said, he got another call. This time he delivered $22,500 in cash to Estes personally.

BLANK CHECKS

The former general manager of Estes' various West Texas businesses, A. B. Foster, told the court that he was with Estes in Dallas in March, 1962 when the former promoter gave him two signed, but blank, checks to send to another Estes brother, Bobby Frank Estes of Pecos, by bus.

A cashier at the First National Bank of Pecos said Bobby Frank Estes cashed the checks for a total of $75,000 and left the bank with the currency in a zippered bag.

Charles M. Wesson of Pecos, manager of the Farmers Co., another Estes company, testified he was told to gather money from the three branches of the firm. He said he put $18,573 in an envelope and put it on Foster's desk. Later that day, Wesson said, he saw Estes with the envelope in his pocket.

An attorney from Abilene, whose firm is handling part of the Estes legal work, told the court of a mysterious nighttime caller who brought him $5,000 in an unmarked envelope.

The lawyer, Jack H. Bryant, said he used the money to make a down payment on a lake front home in Abilene that Estes had tried to buy earlier.

NO RENT PAID

Bryant said he then leased the house to the Estes family for a five-year period with a rental of $350 a month. He testified, however, that the Estes family has not paid rent since it moved into the house in August, 1962.

Judge Brewster asked Bryant if he were letting the family use the house as "an act of charity."

"No sir, it is not charity," Bryant said. "I have every expectation of getting paid."

Another government witness, Joe Bob Kelson, said he purchased a cement mix company, the Transit Mix Co. of Pecos, from Estes in 1962, paying $93,000 for it. He said he still owes $48,000 and is making $1,500 payments monthly to a brother of Estes.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠

An astute bit of card reading enabled East to uncover the killing defense and thereby promote a substantial swing for his team in a team-of-four match taken from a recent tournament.

The bidding was essentially the same at both tables. East opened with one heart in third position, South overcalled with two clubs and West freely raised his partner to two hearts. In the subsequent competition, South bid and rebid spades. North, who had remained silent throughout, finally came to life and raised South to four spades.

West opened the queen of hearts, and for East the moment of decision was at hand. At one table, he signaled encouragingly with the ten and West continued the suit, declarer ruffing with the three of spades.

The dummy was entered with the king of diamonds to lead a trump. East played the four, South the jack and West was in with the king. The heart return was ruffed with the six of spades and declarer crossed over to the jack of clubs to play another spade. East put up the ace; however, South won the club return, drew the last trump with the jack of spades and claimed the balance with good clubs. He lost two spades and one heart.

At the other table, East took charge of the defense by overtaking the queen of hearts at trick one with the king. He reasoned, on the basis of South's original overcall in clubs followed by the bid and rebid of spades, that the latter probably held six clubs and five spades. Repeated club leads might, therefore, put West in position to overruff the dummy, if he had a spot in spades to top North's eight.

At trick two, East shifted to a club, and North was in with the jack to lead a trump. South's jack was taken by West's king and the latter returned a second club. The dummy was entered with the king of diamonds to lead another spade. East played the ace and, on the club return, West scored with the ten of spades for the setting trick.

Ralston May Make Finals

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Manuel Santana became the first Spaniard to reach a Wimbledon men's singles final with a 6-2, 4-6, 9-7, 3-6, 7-5 semifinal victory over Owen Davidson of Australia today.

Santana was seeded fourth and Davidson had come through unseeded.

The Spaniard's triumph meant that for the first time since 1933 the All-England tennis tournament would not have an Australian in the men's final.

Ralston's service has been erratic throughout the tournament, and he dropped one set in each of his first four matches. But against Bob Hewitt of Australia in the quarter-finals the American had his service going well — and it took him to a comfortable straight sets victory.

He has an old score to settle with Drysdale. In the U.S. Championships at Forest Hills last year, the South African defeated him in a five-setter in the quarter-finals.

Apart from that the two men have met only twice — on clay courts. Ralston won one and Drysdale the other.

The other semifinal today was between Manuel Santana of Spain, winner at Forest Hills last year, and Owen Davidson, unseeded Australian left-hander.

If Santana does what is expected of him and knocks out Davidson, the final will be the first for 11 years without an Australian. That hasn't happened since Tony Trabert of the United States defeated Kurt Nielsen of Sweden in 1955.

CLASSIC MATCH

Santana won a five-set classic against Australia's Ken Fletcher Tuesday on the center court.

Fletcher, who had kept the wily Spaniard at full stretch with a fine display of hard hitting, finally cracked and Santana won 6-2, 3-6, 5-6, 4-6, 7-5.

Drysdale upset Australia's Tony Roche, the No. 2 seed, 9-7, 6-2, 6-2.

Australian hopes have slid to almost zero, the three top Aussie stars — defending champion Roy Emerson, three time runner-up Fred Stolle and now Roche — have been tumbled out.

Davidson, an unseeded left-hander whom nobody took seriously, found himself carrying the Australian flag alone.

SLIPPERY COURT

The center court, greasy and slippery after intermittent rain throughout the last week, has proved the downfall of both Emerson and Britain's Bobby Wilson, who slipped and hurt his knee while playing Santana.

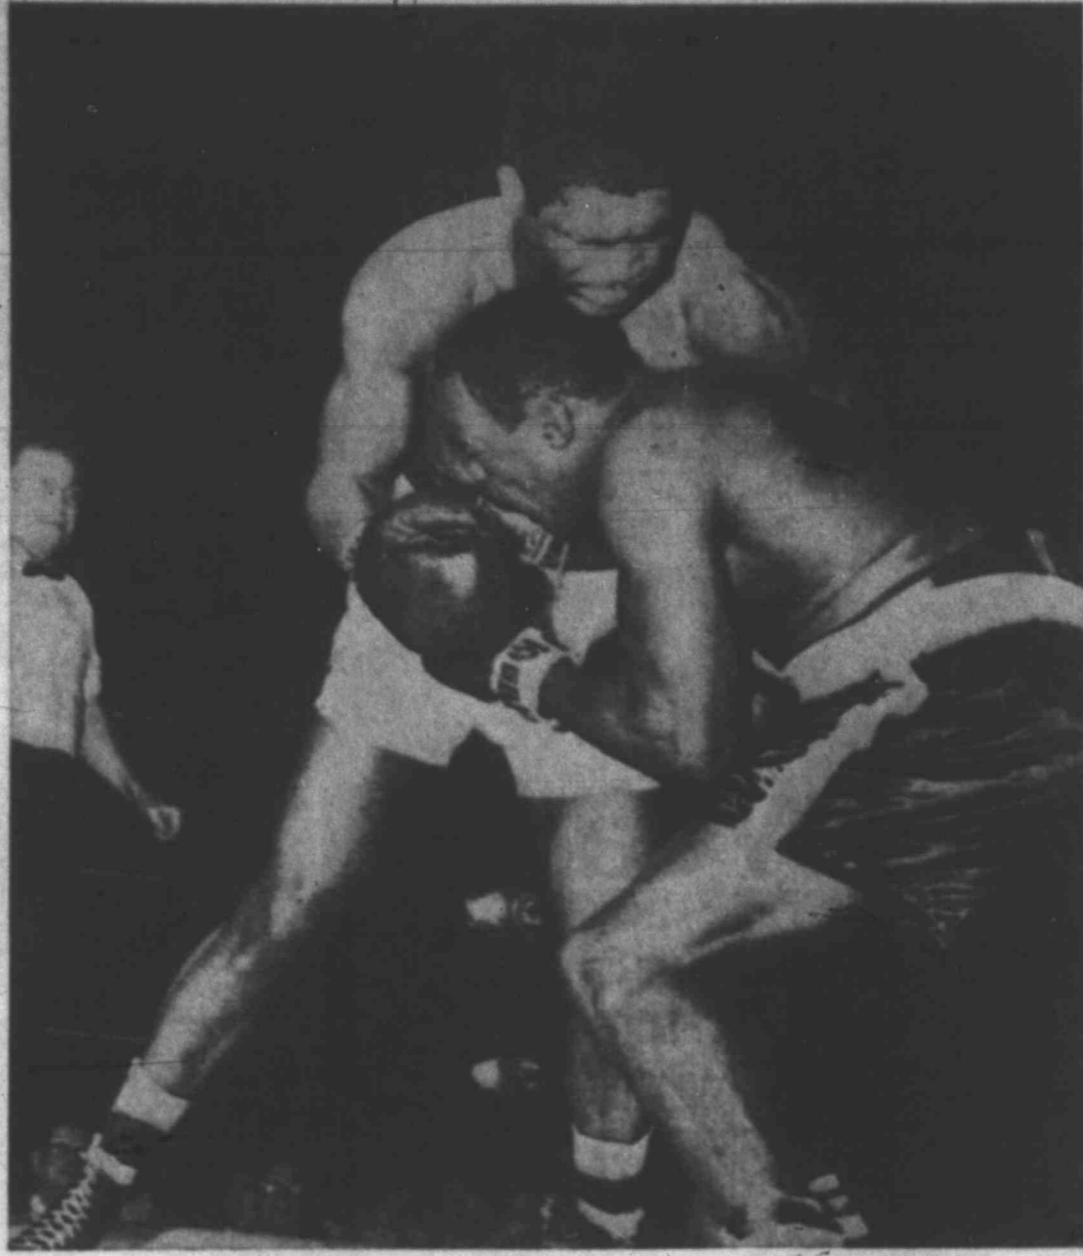

It almost claimed another victim Tuesday, Mrs. Ann Jones, British left-hander who is aiming for the women's title. She defeated Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., 4-6, 6-1, 6-1 and went sprawling as the American girl hit the last shot of the match out of court.

Ann limped off the court but said later she was all right. She twisted her left ankle in the fall.

It was her third victory over Miss Richey this year. She previously defeated her in the final of the French Championships and in the Wightman Cup.

YANK SURVIVES

In the other quarter-finals Tuesday the defending champion, Margaret Smith of Australia, crushed Trudy Groenman of the Netherlands 6-0, 6-4, Maria Bueno of Brazil downed Francoise Durr of France 6-4, 6-3 and Billie Jean Moffitt King of Long

Low Blow Costs Terrell The Round

Doug Jones, right, buckles under a low blow by Ernie Terrell in the 14th round of their World Boxing Association heavyweight championship bout in Houston, Tex. last night. Referee Ernie Taylor comes in to penalize Terrell for the punch below the waist. Terrell lost two rounds for low blows but won an unanimous decision in the second defense of his crown. Pirate Jinx Beats Astros

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The fifth-inning runs by the Pittsburgh Pirates overcame a 3-2 Houston Astro lead and gained southpaw Bob Veale his ninth victory in 14 decisions Tuesday night.

The Astros who had taken a 1-0 lead in the second inning after Veale walked Dave Nicholson and Felix Mantilla, Nicholson went to third on a long fly by Chuck Harrison and scored on a sacrifice fly by John Bateman.

Veale, who had pitched a scoreless eighth, struck out three batters in the ninth to seal the victory.

The Pirates' offense was led by Harrison, who had two runs, a home run and a double. Mantilla had a home run and a double. Nicholson had a home run and a double. Nicholson went to third on a long fly by Chuck Harrison and scored on a sacrifice fly by John Bate-

Williams May Be Next For Terrell

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Ernie Terrell of Chicago, the towering World Boxing Association champion who could give away two rounds on low blows and still win a lopsided decision over dogged New Yorker Doug Jones, may announce today the next defense of his title.

There were indications it might be Cleveland Williams, the Houston heavyweight on the comeback trail after a serious wound from a highway patrolman's gun.

Williams appeared on the card Tuesday night when Terrell won a unanimous 15-round decision over Jones before 9,346 fans who paid $102,165. Cleveland preceded to beat up Tod Herring of Houston so badly he got a technical knockout early in the third round.

Williams' manager, Hugh Benbow, already has offered $50,000 to Terrell to fight his boy. Terrell also has a $75,000 offer to fight Canadian George Chuvalo, the man he defended his title against the first time last November.

"I am ready to defend my title against anybody," said Terrell after his decision over Jones, who at 6-foot-1 and 187½ pounds was five inches shorter and 22 pounds lighter than the towering Terrell.

HOLDING BOOED

Jones was bitter about Terrell's holding tactics in the late rounds — something the crowd booed lustily.

But Terrell said, "The people always boo the big guy when a big guy and a little guy fight — and cheer the little guy. The referee kept pulling me off; I couldn't turn him loose. He would hit me on the breaks."

Jones said it was a wrestling match, not a boxing match. "I don't believe in holding. I was looking to get the best of him and he was looking to hold me."

The second and 14th rounds were taken away from Terrell for low blows. Before the referee, Ernie Taylor, could even rule on the second foul, a Jones second, Rollie Hackmer, rushed across the ring and the referee had to order him out.

There were few damaging blows although Terrell got a cut over the right eye in the sixth round and Jones had a bloody nose in the eighth. Terrell used his left jab, for which he is noted, in a monotonous hammering of Jones' face.

But there never was any question who was going to win the fight even with rounds taken away because of fouls. It was actually called a dull fight by many of the fans although they expressed great admiration for Terrell's great left.

Terrell will get $40,886 from the live gate while Jones will receive $25,541. The right also was carried over 67 outlets on closed television and Terrell gets 42½ per cent of that while Jones will receive 20 per cent. Terrell should wind up with about $250,000 from both sources and Jones about $125,000.

Williams Happy For Willie Mays

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, one of the most feared sluggers in baseball history, is proud of his hitting feats but doesn't mind being passed in the all-time home run derby by a player of Willie Mays' caliber.

"I'm very happy for him," Williams said in extending Mays congratulations for displacing him as the game's No. 3 home run hitter. "Willie's a great guy and has been good for baseball."

Williams, scheduled for induction into the Hall of Fame next month at Cooperstown, N.Y., compiled an enviable record with the Boston Red Sox from 1939 until his retirement in 1960. Despite hitches as a Marine Corps flyer in World War II and the Korean War, he batted .344 and hit 521 homers in 19 seasons with the Red Sox. Mays passed Williams by cracking his 522nd career homer in San Francisco's 2-1 victory at St. Louis Monday night. The Giants' spectacular centerfielder now trails only Babe Ruth (714) and Jimmy Foxx (534 in career homers.)

"I knew he was going to catch me and I'm happy for him," Williams said on a visit to Fenway Park Tuesday night where he saw the Red Sox beat the New York Yankees.

Williams, who will be 48 Aug. 30, is enjoying life while devoting time to various enterprises. "Right now I'm looking forward to the Hall of Fame ceremony. It's certainly an honor to be going in with Casey Stengel," he said.

Clay Books Two Overseas Defenses Of His Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will meet erratic, unranked Brian London in London Aug. 6 or 13 and Germany's Karl Mildener in Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 10 or 17 in an effort to cash in quickly on his popularity overseas.

London has a 35-15 record.

Arthur Grafton, attorney for Clay's Louisville sponsoring group, and British promoter Lawrie Lewis Tuesday night confirmed The Associated Press' report that the London fight was all set for the indoor Wembley Stadium, which seats 12,000 on Aug. 6 the most likely date.

"Yeah, I'm gonna fight the two of them," said Clay at a downtown movie house where he watched the telecast of the Ernie Terrell-Doug Jones fight at Houston, Tex. for Terrell's World Boxing Association heavyweight title, which Terrell retained.

The Mildener-Clay fight would depend on Clay's beating the 32-year-old former British champion. He'll be about a 15-1 favorite for that.

The fights also depend on Clay getting clearance from his draft board to go overseas. He is classified I-A, making him subject to military call-up, but he has appealed his classification.

Clay was cleared for his defenses against George Chuvalo in Toronto, Canada, March 29, and against Henry Cooper in London May 21. He outpointed Chuvalo in a one-sided 15-rounder and stopped Cooper on cuts in the sixth round.

Both overseas fights will be telecast to the United States and other parts of the world by Early Bird Satellite just as it was done for the Cooper fight.

Dressen Watches Pre-Game Workout

Chuck Dressen (left), manager of the Detroit Tigers, watches his team work out before their game with the California Angels at Anaheim Stadium last night. With Dressen is co-owner of the Angels, Gene Autry. This is the first time Dressen had been permitted by his doctor to visit a ballpark since he suffered a heart attack the middle of May. Dressen, 67, has had two heart attacks in the last 14 months. The Tigers beat the Angels 15 to 3. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Dark's Amazing A's Ambush Baltimore

Everything's upside down in Kansas City... and the amazing Athletics never had it so good.

The A's perennial American League tailenders under a succession of frustrated managers, continued their upswing under new pilot Alvin Dark Tuesday night by ambushing first-place Baltimore 4-3.

The victory, fifth for the A's in their last six starts, gave them a shot at overtaking the New York Yankees in the standings for the first time since Charley Finley was a hot. They are eighth, nine games below the 500 mark but only one-half length short of the Yankees, who lost to last-place Boston 5-3 Tuesday night.

While Kansas City fans have been struggling to keep pace with the comings and goings of their heroes — result of a steady stream of trades — Dark has had his patch-work club on the move. After losing 15 of their first 20 games, the A's have gone 30-29 since May 8.

Ten KC players have departed since spring training — including 1965 favorites John Wyatt, Wayne Causey and Ken Harrison — but Dark is getting mileage out of newcomers Danny Cater (White Sox), Roger Repoz (Yankees) and Jim Gosger (Red Sox).

Cater and Gosger each doubled in a run against the Orioles Tuesday night while rookie Chuck Dobson and relievers Ken Sanders and Jack Aker checked the league leaders on six hits.

DETROIT WINS

Detroit clobbered California 15-3, Minnesota blanked Cleveland 4-0 and Washington beat Chicago 4-1 in other AL games.

The Athletics snapped Baltimore's three-game winning streak by grabbing a 4-1 lead and then holding off the Orioles. Bert Campaneris singled in the first inning off loser Jim Palmer and doubles by Cater and Gosger produced two runs.

Home runs by George Thomas and Mike Ryan, coupled with five Yankee errors, helped the Red Sox down New York behind the six-hit pitching of Jose Santiago, who survived two home runs by Mickey Mantle.

Mantle smashed a two-run homer in the first inning and hit the ninth of the season with the bases empty in the eighth.

PASCUAL TRIUMPHS

Camilo Pascual and Al Worthington subdued Cleveland on five hits as the Twins rolled to their fourth victory in a row. Pascual worked seven innings before his arm stiffened and Worthington allowed one hit in finishing up. Tony Oliva, Cesar Tovar and Harmon Killebrew produced Minnesota runs with a homer, triple and double, respectively.

The Senators breezed past Chicago as left-hander Mike McCormick scattered five hits and belted a homer. Don Lock cracked a three-run homer for Washington while Bill Skowron had a home, double and single for the White Sox.

Dugout Catch Costs Hart Possible No-Hit Game

By The Associated Press

While dreams of a no-hitter danced in Bobby Rolin's head, Jim Ray Hart two-stepped his way into the San Francisco Giants' dugout chasing a pop foul. After that, the no-hit jig was up for Rolin.

Rolin, the strong-armed right-hander who has been something of a disappointment this year had set the St. Louis Cardinals down without a hit over 6 1/3 innings Tuesday night.

Then ex-Giant Orlando Cepeda lofted a foul fly off third. Hart drifted over and caught the ball. But the umpires ruled the third baseman was in the Giant dugout when he made the grab and nullified the apparent out.

ANOTHER CHANCE

That gave Cepeda another swing and the shagging first baseman ruined Rolin's no-hit bit with a single. Rolin surrendered only one other hit en route to a 7-1 victory.

The Giants, who won their 13th game in the last 17, backed Rolin with a 13-hit attack that included Willie Mays' 18th homer and the 523rd of his National League career.

The victory kept San Francisco's National League lead at four games over Pittsburgh which downed Houston 4-3. Jim Bunning pitched a two-hitter for Philadelphia as the Phillies

Pair Of 2 Hitters

Bunning, who pitched a perfect game in New York two years ago, allowed the Mets only two singles — both of them in the fifth inning — and got the only run he needed on Bill White's two-out homer in the seventh.

NEW YORK PRIMARIES MARKED BY UPSETS

Bobby And Barry Candidates Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy emerged today as undisputed leader of New York's Democratic party, strengthened by a smashing victory over once-powerful Tammany Hall in a normally obscure primary judgeship race.

Kennedy's hand-picked candidate for judge of the Surrogate (Probate) Court — Samuel J. Silverman — defeated the regular Manhattan organization candidate, Arthur Klein, in an open test of Kennedy's political strength. Both Silverman and Klein now are New York Supreme Court justices.

The race was the highlight of New York's primary elections, which also saw a Goldwater Republican defeat a candidate endorsed by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, and an opponent of President Johnson's Viet Nam policy upset a veteran congressman.

On suburban Long Island,

Steven Derounian, who lost his congressional seat when he backed Barry Goldwater in the Johnson landslide of 1964, won the Republican nomination over GOP moderate William J. Casey.

From Washington, Goldwater said in a statement that Derounian's victory "was just one more convincing proof the mainstream of the Republican party is, as it always has been, common sense conservatism."

Casey was endorsed by Javits, but Javits did not campaign actively for him. Derounian will face Rep. Lester L. Wolff, the Democrat who defeated him two years ago, in the November election.

IN BROOKLYN

In Brooklyn, the powerful Democratic organization beat down two strong challenges against Rep. Edna Kelly, a Democratic national committeewoman, and Rep. Abraham Multer.

In an upstate Hudson Valley contest, Hamilton Fish Jr., son and grandson of former congressmen, won the Republican nomination for Congress. He defeated Alexander Aldrich, a cousin and former aide to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Kennedy encouraged Silverman to enter the race for Manhattan surrogate last month after the New York County Republican organization followed Tammany Hall in endorsing Klein.

Kennedy was jubilant at Silverman campaign headquarters as his candidate claimed victory. The senator flew to Washington as the polls opened on a hot, humid afternoon. He returned shortly before the polls closed at 10 p.m. to cast his first primary vote since taking up residence in Manhattan last year.

He said the victory would free the selection of judges from political control. The Surrogate's Court dispenses millions of dollars in legal work to attorneys in cases involving wills, estates and special guardianships.

To Democratic politicians, however, the victory was a reflection of Kennedy's political popularity with the voters and spotlighted his ability to make his power felt in local elections.

Although Klein lost to Silverman, the political impact of the race was felt most by the Tammany leader, J. Raymond Jones, only Negro county chairman in the United States. Jones charged Kennedy injected himself in the race as a "personal vendetta" because Jones supports President Johnson and has endorsed former Mayor Robert F. Wagner for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Joint Border Job Favored

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill authorizing a joint project with Mexico to keep salt water out of the Rio Grande on the Texas-Mexican border was approved Monday by a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee.

The measure provides for building a $1,390,000 canal to divert the saline waters of the Morillo drain, across the border from Mission, Tex., into the Gulf of Mexico. It would benefit irrigation farmers on both sides of the border downstream from Mission.

Joseph Friedkin, U.S. boundary commissioner and Carl Bartsch, State Department officer for Mexican affairs, testified in support of the legislation shortly before a unanimous vote of approval was recorded.

Man Behind The Winner

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy stands behind State Supreme Court Justice Samuel J. Silverman at latter's campaign headquarters in a New York hotel early today as Silverman thanks voters and friends after upset victory for nomination for Manhattan surrogate in yesterday's primary contest. It was a victory for Kennedy as well. He won a key battle for control of the New York State Democratic party. (AP WIREPHOTO)
