Yarborough Pays Tribute To Hospital Beautification

Beauty goes with the healing hand of physical medicine, Sen. Ralph Yarborough said here Sunday.

Addressing a crowd assembled for the dedication of the Veterans Administration Hospital lawn, Sen. Yarborough paid tribute to the hospital, to Donald Van Meter, administrator, and Mrs. Van Meter, who conceived and pressed the project, and to all who gave of help.

HEAPS PRAISE He heaped praise on the hospital and recalled the proposal a year ago to close 17 smaller, isolated units.

The idea that VA hospitals have to be located next to a medical center is passed, he declared, for proposals now afoot will put the best information and diagnostic skill within the reach of every hospital. Closed circuit television, emanating from a regional medical center and bringing lectures, symposia and demonstrations will provide for continuing education of physicians. Moreover, there may be regional pools for flying in physicians for emergency cases, and a national computer program for diagnostic and consultative purposes.

Sen. Yarborough had been introduced by Rep. Omar Burlison, congressman from the 17th District into which Howard County will move next January. He had driven here from his home in Anson and left following a reception by the Van Meters to visit his aged mother in Brownfield.

UNVEILED PLAQUE Mrs. Ralph Yarborough, who accompanied her husband here unveiled a plaque listing those who had contributed to make the beautification project possible. She was accompanied by Mrs. Van Meter and the Senator.

Just as the dedication rites reached their climax, the fountain sent its plumes of water into the air and danced about as the unveiling took place. Nearby was the garden dedicated to the late John Ritenour, long-time and popular hospital engineer, together with other garden spots, a flowered VA shield, and more than two dozen new trees, and pitch-and-putt golf greens.

The ceremonies took place in the garden area, with the Amarillo AFB band led by CWO Ross Whitehead, furnishing music for the occasion. The Webb AFB color guard posted the colors, and the band played the national anthem while the huge United States flag rippled above.

John L. Taylor, master of ceremonies, introduced the dignitaries, including Dr. B. L. Levy, VA representative from the central office in Washington, D. C.; John Polly, Dallas, regional information service; Rufus Arp, department commander of Veterans of World War I; and representatives of other service and civic groups, including Mayor Arnold Barshall, Col. Chester Butcher, Webb AFB commander; Coun-

Big Crowd Expected At Independence Hall

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — the mercury reached 104 degrees here Sunday — a spokesman for the National Park Service said he expected one of the largest crowds of the year to visit Independence Hall where the Declaration of Independence was adopted July 4, 1776.

Because Hall is a spokesman for the administration and its position in Viet Nam, demonstrators, both for and against said they would appear today.

President Johnson shunned the speakers' platform, electing to take it easy at the family ranch in Texas with Mrs. Johnson, daughter Luci and her fiance Pat Nugent, Lynda, his other daughter, is in Spain.

Across the nation, Americans had their choice of a day of fun in the sun, on the beaches or in the mountains, or participation in patriotic ceremonies.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — With fireworks, parades and patriotic speeches, the United States celebrated the 190th anniversary of independence today.

The nation's observance centered on Independence Hall where Undersecretary of State George W. Ball was the scheduled speaker.

Multiple Road Deaths Threaten New Mark

Four Killed In Sterling Co. Crash

Two men and two women are dead and five other persons are hospitalized with injuries as result of a head-on crash of two 1965-model cars early today 24 miles south of Big Spring on US 87.

All of the dead and three of the injured were passengers in one of the cars.

FOUR DEAD

The dead are: Jose Dorotio Medellin, 68, address not known; Marina A. Medellin, 67, believed to be the wife of Jose Medellin, address not known; Nora Bierra Medellin, 22, Lubbock; Richard A. Medellin, 22, Lubbock.

In Cowper Hospital and Clinic are Juan Cruz, about 25, Del Rio, suffering from severe lacerations about the face and head and Trinidad Fuentes, 26, Odessa, broken left leg and severe lacerations.

Highway Patrolman Charles Williamson, Sterling City, who investigated the accident, said that it occurred about 10 miles south of the Howard County line in Sterling County.

The Medellin car, driven by Richard Medellin, was traveling north. The car driven by Trinidad Fuentes was going south.

The crash occurred about 5:30 a.m. It was discovered by a New Mexico tourist who reported it to officers.

CHILDREN

Williamson said that there were three children in the Medellin car — Carolyn Medellin, 5, Grace Medellin, 4, and Nora Medellin, 2. They were all taken to the Sterling City Hospital.

Williamson said he did not know their condition, but did not believe it to be serious.

He said the victims of the crash in the Medellin car were trapped in the wreckage. Richard Medellin was caught under the wheel and extreme difficulty was encountered in freeing him. He was brought to the Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital here, but died within a few minutes after reaching the hospital.

Williamson said that Cruz was out of his car and walking about the scene when he reached the accident. Fuentes was still in the wreckage of the sedan.

Two ambulances from the Big Spring Ambulance Service answered the call.

ARRANGEMENTS PENDING

Bodies of the victims are at the River-Welch Funeral Home. No arrangements have been made. The funeral directors are attempting to establish the residences of the two older victims.

38 In Texas Meet Death On Highways

By The Associated Press

Texas' traffic death toll mounted rapidly today as multiple fatality wrecks pushed the Fourth of July holiday death count to 45.

Traffic accidents accounted for 38 of the deaths and seven persons drowned in separate accidents around the state.

Five persons died in a two-car collision near El Campo Saturday night, three persons died near Clarendon Sunday and three were killed in Irving late Sunday night.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and is to end at midnight Monday.

A flaming, two-car crash on Texas 71 two miles north of El Campo killed five persons Saturday night. They were identified as:

John E. Brooks, 27, of Blessing, Bradley Fleniken, 22, Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. John Kaut of Dallas, about 21; and Sally Boltz, 19, of Dallas.

The Dallas victims were in a small, rear-engine car that burst into flames.

A two-car wreck six miles west of Gainesville on US 82 Saturday night killed Carolyn Vacek of Muldoon and 11-year-old Eric Vaughn of Carlsbad, N.M.

Auto Toll Soars Toward A Record

By The Associated Press

A two-car crash in Arizona snuffed out 10 lives and two Arkansas accidents killed 11 other persons as the grim July 4 holiday weekend auto death toll mounted today.

The auto toll stood at 436 on the last day of the 78-hour holiday.

ESTIMATE Boating accidents killed 31 other and 136 persons drowned. The National Safety Council estimated that by the time the count ends at midnight (local time) today, between 510 and 610 persons will die in traffic. The count began 6 p.m. (local time) Friday.

Two cars collided head on 30 miles west of Tucson Sunday and all the occupants were killed. Police said all of the dead were Indians from Arizona.

That was the worst single accident. But Arkansas police reported two separate crashes within five hours Sunday which killed 11 others. The first, a three-car pileup near Blytheville, killed six. Five hours later, a head-on crash near Benton killed five.

The Safety Council predicted Sunday that "if traffic deaths continue at their present rate, it will exceed not only last year's Fourth of July, but possibly the Labor Day weekend of 1965."

SET RECORD

The Labor Day weekend set a record for any summer holiday — 575 persons killed in traffic.

The July 4, 1965, weekend saw 551 die. A four-day July 4 observance in 1963 resulted in 557 deaths.

Record heat forced millions of Americans to take to their cars in search of relief along cool beaches and in shady forests.

New York City recorded a record 103 Sunday; Harrisburg, Pa., had 107 and Allentown 105; Atlantic City, N.J., posted 104 and Windsor Locks, Conn., 192 as radiators — and tempers — boiled.

The Safety Council said 9.5 billion motorists would drive 95 billion miles during the holiday weekend.

COMPARISON

To compare the holiday weekend toll with that of a similar 78-hour period, The Associated Press tallied motor vehicle deaths from 6 p.m. June 17 to midnight June 20. The non-holiday toll was 383.

The three-day New Year holiday this year set a record of 564 traffic deaths. And 542 died in the three days of Memorial Day traffic, also a record.

The lowest toll for a three-day Fourth of July since World War II was in 1947 when 235 died.

The worst holiday toll on record came over the three-day Christmas 1965 weekend, when 720 persons died.

There were no fireworks deaths reported.

Governors See Better Racial Understanding

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Govs Otto Kerner of Illinois and Edmund G. Brown of California expressed confidence today that their states are better prepared to deal with racial disturbances than ever before.

The two Democratic chief executives, participating in the 58th annual National Governors Conference, said in a joint interview they believe they have established broader liaison with Negro leaders which may prevent a recurrence of violence.

The conference opens today with Independence Day observances.

TO USE GUARD

The two governors also made clear that they are prepared to use the National Guard and local police quickly to cope with any rioting during the "long hot summer."

This conference, largely concerned in its opening sessions with the Viet Nam war and its political effects, is being held within about 10 miles of the Negro district of Watts which exploded into violence last August.

The conference, meeting in a swank new West Los Angeles hotel, was expected to be the target of demonstrations against President Johnson's Viet Nam policies — which a substantial majority of the governors endorse — as well as protests from those unsatisfied with the progress toward racial equality.

POVERTY PROGRAM

Brown, who is a candidate for a third term, and Kerner, who is not running this year, said they believe the anti-poverty program holds the best hope of softening civil rights protests.

"I think the Head Start program is great," Kerner said. "I believe we are making progress with the whole anti-poverty program."

Brown agreed in general. But he and Kerner both said governors need more control over the projects designed to aid city dwellers. Kerner said he was working through the state legislature to cooperate in these programs.

The conference chairman, Republican Gov. John H. Reed of Maine, said he expects a "meaningful discussion" of civil rights during the meeting. But he gave no indication that he thinks any resolutions will be forthcoming on specific issues, such as the open housing provision of the Johnson administration's proposed new legislation.

ENEMY MISSILES MISS

U.S. Bombers Strike Again At Key Cities

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. fighter-bombers kept up the intensive air war against North Viet Nam, striking another blow at a strategic oil depot near the port of Haiphong and wrecking a surface-to-air missile site 15 miles west of Hanoi.

Three Soviet-designed missiles were fired at the Air Force pilots who let loose their five-inch rockets against the launchers. One exploded close enough to the four F105 Thunderchiefs to send vibrations through the super-sonic planes but did no damage, a spokesman said.

FIREBALL

The pilots saw an orange fireball rise from the remnants that house the missiles and reported heavy damage to the control radar van.

While the Air Force jets edged close to the North Vietnamese capital Sunday, Navy fliers from the 7th Fleet carrier Constellation sent up clouds of smoke and dust as they pounded the Do Son fuel depot 12 miles southeast of Haiphong for the second time in five days. Last Wednesday U. S. planes hit the tank farm while also hitting a fuel complex three miles from Hanoi and unloading and storage facilities two miles from Haiphong.

In all, U. S. pilots flew a near record 89 missions against the Communist North, although an American spokesman emphasized that the number of planes involved was not a record.

CONVOY

He said Air Force F4C Phantoms and B57 Canberras damaged or destroyed all 20 trucks in a convoy southeast of Dong Hoi in the Panhandle and hit nine vehicles in the other 20-truck convoy south of the city.

The U. S. jets returned to North Viet Nam's industrial belt while Red China warned it considered itself freed from "any bounds or restrictions" on aiding the North Vietnamese as a result of the American raids near Hanoi and Haiphong last week. The Peking statement said the attacks had brought the war to "a new and still graver stage" but did not specify what if any new aid the Chinese would provide.

Guam-based B52s gave the Communists a July Fourth salute in South Viet Nam by saturating for the second successive day a Viet Cong concentration near Da Nang and another along the Cambodian Border northwest of Saigon.

DOWNFALL

Ground fighting in South Viet Nam dwindled to small patrol actions today after several flareups over the weekend.

Secret Police Purge Pushed

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslavia's Communist hierarchy, pressing on with its purge of secret police ranks, sought today to maintain unity within the party.

Informed sources said the purge of police officials was continuing and could prove extensive.

Urgent party meetings were called throughout Yugoslavia to explain the move to the rank and file.

Red leaders were expected to give a full account of the dramatic session of the Central Committee at Brijuni last Friday when President Tito charged that a power-seeking element in the secret police was endangering both state and party.

Slain Kidnap Victim Found

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (AP) — The bullet-riddled body of Clarence Swain, 55, kidnaped after the robbery of his filling station, was found today near Texas 207 southeast of here.

Five airplanes and a number of sheriff's deputies, Texas Rangers, and other West Texas law officers joined in the hunt after Swain was kidnaped during an armed robbery early today during which $200 to $300 was taken.

Swain was a long-time resident of Breckenridge. His filling station is on US 180 on the east side of town.

Queen's Car Hit By Block

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A heavy cement block thrown from the fourth floor of a building under construction struck the radiator of the automobile carrying Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip through Belfast today.

(See earlier story, Pg. 12-A)

Only a few feet farther back, the block would have struck the car's bubble top, and the royal couple could have been seriously injured. Police rushed into the building and seized a youth. Only a little while before, a woman hurled a beer bottle at the car. It smashed near the wheels but the car did not stop.

'Right-To-Know' Measure Signed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson signed today a bill establishing the basic philosophy that Americans have the "right to know" what their government is doing.

The new law sharply limits the power of federal officials to withhold information and provides for review by the federal courts when information is withheld. The burden then is on the government to prove its action was justified.

New Gin Rapidly Taking Shape

Planter's new facility, being constructed north of town, is nearing completion. The new gin, to the east of US 87, will be ready for service by the time the first 1966 cotton is harvested. The plant will cost around $100,000, it was said.

BIG CHANGES IN FORMER BOOM TOWN

Wink Falls In Love With Urban Renewal

By COPE ROUTH
Midland Reporter-Telegram Writer

WINK, Tex. (AP)—A five-year love affair with federal urban renewal has brought remarkable changes to this former rip-roaring, hard-drinking West Texas oil boom town.

Before urban renewal came along with millions of dollars jingling in its fancy jeans, Wink didn't have much lust for life.

Her main street was lined with crumbling, false-fronted buildings, her residential area was dotted with empty and rotting houses and her dusty streets rambled off in haphazard directions.

Then along came urban renewal, handsome with a promised initial federal loan of more than $1 million and the enticing lure of more money later.

BIG CHANGE

It was love at first sight, and look at Wink today, blushing with a new interest in life and optimism for the future.

Her main street is lined with vacant lots and empty off-street parking facilities, her residential area is dotted with empty but cleared vacant lots and her streets come together with tidy precision.

Banker Melvin Dow, who as publisher of the Wink Bulletin once had been an acid-penned critic of all these fancy goings-on, seems to have mellowed during the romance. He said recently: "The property they bought up hasn't moved very fast, but still, Wink hasn't been hurt by urban renewal."

As you would expect of any girl whose romance had been exposed to the world, Wink is skittish about visiting newspaper and magazine reporters. Wink has been leery of strangers from the start.

It wasn't so bad when she had an election to pass a minimum housing standards ordinance—a pre-requisite to entering the federal program under state law.

And nobody paid much attention when an application was filed with the federal government for a loan and a grant to help pay back the loan—some people even thought it was a joke.

APPROVED

But then came the announcement: An application had been approved in the amount of $1,034,758 for a sun-baked little town in Texas called Wink.

Across the nation, editors checked their almanacs to see what Wink was—and then they checked again. Wink was a town of 1,361, the way the census people figured it in their 1960 count.

Reporters descended on bewildered little Wink. They came from metropolitan newspapers and national magazines.

They wrote unkind things—even bent a few facts now and then—and the nation laughed and kidded about this government program which wanted to help Wink.

The people didn't like the jokes, and probably neither did the urban renewal people, but they were not deterred. They proceeded under a master plan drawn up by Midland, Tex. architects.

Some properties were acquired by negotiation and some by condemnation.

Seventy-six families were moved out, some into a quickly-built low-rent housing project, a part of the program.

Some of the merchants moved to locations on the outskirts of town.

Old buildings and residences which didn't meet the new minimum housing standards—and few did—were torn down.

Bulldozers carved out new systems of paved streets, and water, gas and sewer lines were re-routed to conform to the new master plan.

Along Hendricks Boulevard, Wink's main street, the crumbling old buildings were replaced with broad off-street parking areas.

Sites for new buildings were given all-weather surfacing.

"The paving on those building

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

"Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like 'Piles have ceased to be a problem!'

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation #9. At all drug counters.

Beatles Snub Philippines' 'First Lady'

MANILA (AP)—Filipinos chorused an indignant no-no to the yeah-yeah boys from Liverpool today after the Beatles missed a date with the glamorous First Lady of the Philippines.

"Beatles-Snub First Family" and "Mopheads Slept While Imelda Waited" said the headlines in Manila newspapers. The quartet failed to make an appearance before Imelda Marcos, wife of President Ferdinand Marcos, their three youngsters and 300 other children of high government officials.

After waiting more than an hour in a chandelied hall of the Presidential Palace, Mrs. Marcos declared: "As much as I could wait to meet them I could not wait this long. My children have all the time in the world but I don't."

The Beatles' manager, Brian Epstein, denied his charges ever got an invitation for a command appearance, so there wouldn't be an apology to the First Lady.

Disorder Hits Omaha Area

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Disorder and vandalism continued on Omaha's heavily Negro Near North Side early today.

A teenager was shot by an off-duty policeman, and more than 50 persons, most of them teenagers, were arrested.

Quiet had been restored by daybreak but in Lincoln, Lt. Gov. Philip C. Sorensen said all steps were being taken to insure that state manpower would be available in Omaha if there is more trouble.

Sorensen, acting in the absence of Gov. Frank Morrison, said state troopers and National Guardsmen were available if Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen asked for them.

A fireworks disturbance triggered a riot in the same area early Sunday where the bulk of Omaha's Negro population lives. Police Chief C. Harold Ostler blamed the trouble on a "small group of rowdies" and said it had "no racial significance."

But Ostler cancelled all leaves for the holiday weekend and put his full force to work on 12-hour shifts.

A band of Negro youths moved along 24th street, the Near North Side's main business artery, early today after a dance. They broke windows in several business establishments defying the beefed-up police details.

Officers said a 15-year-old was shot by an off-duty policeman during a break-in. The youth was treated for a leg wound and released.

Graham Declares Crusade Success

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Billy Graham today pronounced his month-long London crusade a remarkable success and said he is coming back to Britain in September to speak to the 42,487 who made "decisions for Christ."

The American evangelist said the turnout at his nightly meetings and those conducted by associates totaled 1,024,368.

He told a news conference he was especially gratified at the interest shown by young people, with 70 to 75 per cent of the audience at some meetings under 25 years of age.

Warren At JFK Rites In Judea

JERUSALEM (AP) — About 5,000 Americans and Israelis assembled today on a hilltop commanding the Judean mountains in tribute to the late President John F. Kennedy. Chief Justice Earl Warren said "many of the causes to which he was committed have been achieved in a remarkable short period by President Johnson."

At today's ceremony, dedicating the John F. Kennedy Memorial and Peace Forest, Justice Warren conveyed President Johnson's greetings and good wishes to the Israeli people. He expressed the President's hopes that "The peace forest will prosper and become a living symbol in the search for world peace which six short years ago he and President Kennedy promised the American people they would strive for."

President Johnson is dedicated as was Kennedy to this cause and to conservation rather than destruction of human and natural resources everywhere, and he is greatly pleased with this memorial to his predecessor.

Welcoming the U.S. chief justice on behalf of the Israeli government, Prime Minister Levi Eshkol said "we deeply appreciate President Johnson's efforts for Israel's welfare and security and his sincere desire for world peace."

C. D. Downing Dies Sunday

Friends here learned today that C. D. Downing, a former resident, died Sunday in Fort Worth. Although he had been ill several years, his death was sudden. Funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. there.

Mr. Downing was a paint contractor here about 10 years. He is survived by his widow; two daughters, Rena Downing of the home, Mrs. Curt Bibb, Tacoma, Wash.; one son, C. D. Downing Jr., Monahans.

Gardeners Inspect Sprinklers

The Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs, headed by Mrs. D. S. Riley, right, is continuing its project of landscaping and providing a sprinkling system for the YMCA. A $50 Sears Foundation grant, acquired by the council through the Texas Garden Clubs, provided the beginning of the sprinkler system in 1963. Here, Curtis Mullins, YMCA general secretary, and Mrs. O. S. Womack, council project chairman, join Mrs. Riley in inspecting the latest extension. More funds were acquired by the council's Christmas pilgrimage, and the overall project, when completed, will have cost about $1,000.

Happy Holiday! On the beaches, a silver sun is hop-scotching across the white caps — among the young there is talk of the surf being up — and at sundown the cruisers and yachts will berth and hoist their cocktail flags. In the mountains, parents with sturdy-legged children in tennis shoes will be camped in clearings under the pines gray-haired retired couples will look askance at determined-to-be-gay tourists — and at the track, thousands of eyes hold eternal hope as the horses enter the home stretch. At home, some, on sofas, are savoring the soft sound of the air conditioner and perhaps the remnants of a dream, while, for others, it's business-as-usual and they impatiently wish the holiday was over.

Two Honored With Farewell Brunch

Miss Marilyn Meacham and Miss Patty Haralson, who are both moving from the city, were honored with a brunch Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the home of Mrs. M. A. Long and her daughter, Fran, 2909 Navajo.

The "Peanuts" theme was carried out with a large cartoon at the doorway portraying the character, Charlie Brown, saying "Good Grief, Are You Leaving?" The honorees were presented the book, "Snoopy's Philosophy," as farewell gifts.

Ecru linen covered the table where yellow snapdragons were arranged in a straw basket. A straw mat was the base for a watermelon filled with melon balls and other fruit.

Honored guests were three foreign exchange students, Miss Irene Schloer of Germany, Miss Katri-Ketonen of Finland and Miss Myriam Duran of Ecuador.

Ten attended. Miss Haralson is moving to Houston, and Miss Meacham will be making her home in North Carolina.

Apply Eye Shadow With Fingertips To apply eye shadow, half close the eye you are working on. Blend shadow over the lower half of your eyelid, from corner toward the temple. Use your fingertip to smooth the color out into the surrounding area. It should fade out to nothing at the outer corner of the eye. You may prefer to use a pressed powder eye shadow of the fluid type applied with a brush and quite waterproof.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Fill Milk Cartons With Charcoal

Dear Heloise: Save some of your empty milk cartons, and when you buy a bag of charcoal for barbecuing, fill each milk carton with the charcoal.

Use an ice pick to punch a few holes in the cartons (so there will be a draft when they are ignited), then use these ready-made, pre-measured charcoal containers in your grill.

Takes only a few minutes to prepare them; all the mess is over 16-one operation, and the cartons will stack neatly 'til they are needed. William Carney ing on the line. The sand easily drops off, instead of sticking the way it does on towels. The sheeting can be folded compactly to carry back and fourth. . . . T. Q.

Dear Heloise: I saved sweet pickle juice, bring it to a boil and pour over fourth. . . . T. Q.

Spot Areas By Using Electricity

More than two million homes in the United States are now heated by electricity, with the Federal Power Commission predicting that the number will reach 19 million by 1980.

Electric heating is becoming especially popular for "spot" areas in rooms which either have been added onto a house or have been finished at some time after the original construction of the dwelling. This necessitates a minimum amount of installation—none at all if electricity is already being run into the addition and certain types of units are being used.

One company puts out a thin, graphite-like layer of resistance material bonded to the room side of a 4 foot by 8 foot panel of gypsum board. Several of these panels produce a finished ceiling and heating system at the same time. Another company has come out with a thin fiber glass and copper heating mesh sandwiched between two vinyl sheets. The finished panel is flexible and is applied to a new or existing ceiling like wallpaper.

Parched Lips Bane Of Summer Beauty

By MARY SUE MILLER The skin around the eyes and on the lips gets very little help from nature in the way of protective lubrication. And that is why both areas are quick to dry, crinkle and age. When they are exposed to sun and heat, the process is accelerated.

For the eye area, the trick is turned with an eye-oil stick. Applications, although rich in emollients, quickly disappear and thus can be made without clinical effect to either a bare face or under make-up. Several applications a day actually improve the texture of the lids and circles. Created especially for life in the open, new lipsticks contain a sun screen, ingredients to counteract drying, and a waterproofing agent. All that, and marvelous color, too! You'd never suspect that a treatment goes on behind the color. Chameleon-like, one kind of lipstick coloring changes and adapts to your own skin tones, from fair to deeply tanned. How's that for compatibility? Other types come in a range of sun colors and also in colorless lip gloss. In any event, there's just no excuse for negligence in this matter. The care outlined helps to prevent premature wrinkling or to soften lines already formed, with pretty looks all the while. ALL-AGE BEAUTY Some women age before their time; some retain their youthful beauty and charm. Why? The secrets of non-stop attractiveness are revealed in "Beauty Knows No Age." Advice covers ways to a youthful figure, skin and hair; to flattering make-up, hairstyles and fashions. For your copy write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Izvestia Raps U.S. Policy

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia today quoted the U.S. Declaration of Independence in independence Day criticism of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Izvestia also said the Statue of Liberty is "blushing with shame" because of the acts "committed in its name behind its back" in Viet Nam.

The gist of the Izvestia article was that U.S. policy in Viet Nam is trying to crush the freedom and independence of the Vietnamese people and is doomed to failure.

Connally Unhappy In Resignation Handling

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally has expressed "extreme displeasure" at the State Parks and Wildlife Commission handling of the resignation of Executive Director Weldon Watson.

The Austin American-Statesman said today, "I knew nothing about the resignation of Watson and no member of the commission has discussed it with me since," Connally was quoted by Capitol reporter Sam Wood of the newspaper.

Connally is in Los Angeles for the national governor's conference.

Wood said Connally told Texas reporters attending the conference that he had made only a limited investigation into the reasons for Watson's resignation June 18.

"I haven't had time for an investigation in any exhaustive manner," Connally said.

"I regret there has been some action that casts reflection on that agency."

Watson's resignation was never formally announced. Chairman Will Odum said Watson was not forced to resign, but Watson refused to comment when asked whether the commission requested his resignation.

His $18,500-a-year job is vacant while the commission seeks a replacement.

Connally, Wood reported, said that while he would not try to dictate the commission's choice

Hoffa Opens With Barrage

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Teamsters' Union President James R. Hoffa charged today that anti-labor forces in the government and "smear" tactics by news-media threaten organized labor in general and the Teamsters in particular.

Hoffa, opening the Teamsters convention with a barrage of verbal fireworks against opponents, is certain to win re-election to a new five-year term and a $25,000-a-year pay raise.

"Powerful forces have banded together to destroy this organization and its leaders," Hoffa said in a state of the union report to a state of the union representing 1.7 million delegates.

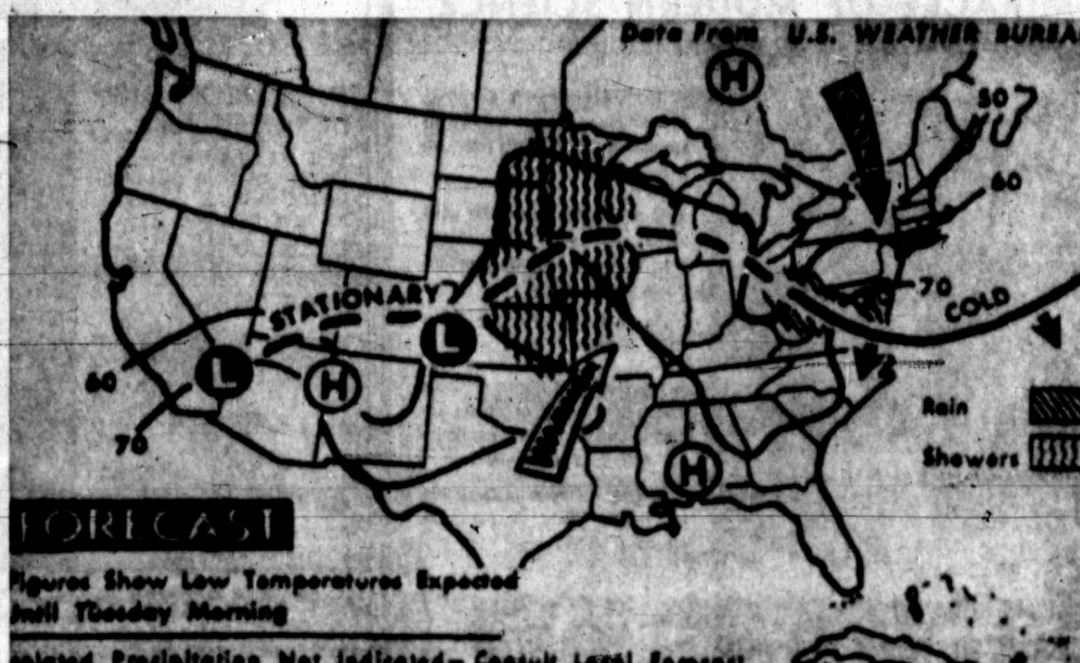

"Enemies of labor work around the clock in their efforts to pass crippling antistrike legislation, to apply antitrust provisions to free labor and to curtail our effectiveness at the bargaining table," Hoffa said.

He made no specific reference to his own legal troubles including jury tampering and mail fraud convictions, except to say:

"My only regret concerning the personal harassment and political vendetta of the past several years is that my family has suffered embarrassment and personal anguish."

But, Hoffa added, "I can truthfully say nothing has happened to me personally which I wouldn't go through again if I knew it would protect this great international union or reap a benefit for rank-and-file members and their officers."

Hoffa could be in prison before his new term is far under way if the Supreme Court rejects his appeal of an eight-year sentence for jury tampering.

Weather Forecast

Showers and thunderstorms are expected Monday night in the Northern and Central Plains and the Middle Atlantic States. The heat wave in the Northeast will be eased slightly by cooler air from the North. The Southeast, Gulf Coast and Southern Plains will be hot. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

City Marks Quiet Holiday

Rev. Al Seddon Takes New Post

Rev. E. A. J. Seddon, pastor of St. Paul Presbyterian Church for the past seven years, has accepted a call to the First Presbyterian Church at La Feria, Tex. The local congregation has concurred in his request to leave here Aug. 31.

Rev. Seddon's new charge, located in the Rio Grande Valley, has projected plans for a bi-cultural program to serve its community and nearby area, in line with a new dimension in the faith.

During the years Rev. Seddon has served the local church, the members have been able to discharge the total indebtedness of the church property, to begin a building fund, and to adopt master plans for additions to the church plant. He has held offices in the Pastors' Association, been a member of the Heart Fund committee, active in the scouting program, and has been a substitute teacher in the Spanish departments of Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College.

A graduate of the University of Texas and the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Rev. Seddon has studied in the graduate divisions of A&I College, the University of Texas, and the University of Mexico, Mexico City. He has held pastorates in Bay City, Austin, and San Saba; was principal and chaplain at Texas Mexico Institute (now Pan American School) at Kingsville, Tex.; was instructor in the Spanish-speaking department of Austin Seminary; and was executive secretary of the Latin American work of the Synod of Texas. Before coming to Big Spring, Rev. and Mrs. Seddon were commissioned by the Presbyterian Church to serve as missionaries in Morelia, Michoacan, Mexico.

During this assignment, Rev. Seddon developed a stewardship program in 60 established and mission churches. He also was instrumental in founding a new work at Playa Azul, in a virgin area on the Pacific Ocean where no other Christian group had ventured. Mrs. Seddon was assigned to teach English in the elementary and adult divisions of Instituto Juarez in Morelia.

The Seddons have two children, Ned, a graduate of the University of Texas, and a former student of Baylor Law School, is presently in Washington, D.C., where he is employed by the Department of Justice.

Kathy, 1965 valedictorian of Big Spring High School, will be a sophomore student in the department of Political Science at Austin College in Sherman.

Mrs. Seddon has been active in all phases of the church program, has been an officer in the Council of Church Women, and has been a teacher in the Big Spring schools.

A pulp committee of Bill Gibson, Birt Allison, Mrs. John Arnold, Mrs. Adrian Randle, Steve Lazarus, and Barbara Davidson has been named.

We are here to... SERVE YOU

Oswald Widow Gives Birth To Third Child

RICHARDSON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Marina Oswald Porter, widow of the man named by the Warren Commission as President Kennedy's assassin, gave birth to her third child Sunday, the Dallas Morning News said.

Mrs. Porter is the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald, the man the Warren Commission said assassinated President Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

Mrs. Laura Reeder, administrator at Richardson General Hospital, told The Associated Press that "to the best of my knowledge" Mrs. Porter had never been a patient in the hospital.

The Dallas Morning News said today that Mrs. Porter, 24, gave birth to a six-pound, 12-ounce boy at 3:08 p.m. Sunday. The News said the baby was named Mark Wayne.

The accused assassin's widow and Kenneth J. Porter were married June 1, 1965, about 18 months after her husband was shot to death by Jack Ruby, operator of a Dallas night club.

It was her third child. She had two children by her first marriage, June, now 5, and Rachel, 3.

Porter recently quit his job with Texas Instruments, a Dallas area electronics firm. He has said he and his wife may move to Greenville, 60 miles northeast of Dallas, where he has relatives, after the baby was born.

Dawson Horse Show Winners Going To Tulia

LAMESA (SC)—Winners in the Dawson County 4-H Horse Show held Thursday in the rodeo arena will be eligible for competition in the district event in Tulia July 28.

Winners in halter division included:

Grade mare under 15 hands—1st, Pat Calhoun; 2nd, Ricky Lee.

Grade gelding over 15 hands—1st, Ronnie Barron; 2nd, Andy Bratcher.

Grade gelding under 15 hands—1st, Lynn Holder; 2nd, Ben Montgomery.

Boys and girls were also judged on showmanship in the halter division with Andy Bratcher taking the award.

In the performance classes of western pleasure and reining, Lynn Holder placed first with Pat Calhoun second. In the reining event, Lynn Holder was also first place winner with Ricky Lee taking second.

Pat Calhoun was first in pole bending with a time of 23.1, followed by Lynn Morris with 23.4. Lynn Holder and Pat Calhoun were winners in the barrel racing event. Lynn's time was 19.5 and Pat's had a time of 20.2.

Ken Cook, assistant county agent of Lubbock, was judge in the halter, western pleasure and reining competition, and Paul Cross, assistant county agent from Seminole was showmanship judge.

The show was under the direction of County Agent Leroy Colman and Assistant County Agent Doyle Warren. They were assisted by directors of the Rodeo Association and FFA teachers Gail Harris and Andrew Essary. The show was the first horse show to be staged by the Dawson County 4-H Clubs.

Manpower Is Still Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department reports there still are manpower shortages in certain industries, but these shortages play only a minor part in wholesale and retail price increases.

In a monthly report on manpower shortages, the department says, "A detailed examination of price trends by the Bureau of Labor Statistics has indicated that industries with the greatest price increases are not those with manpower supply problems, and that price movements in specific cities are apparently unrelated to the labor supply."

But the report adds that if the labor supply tightens significantly the situation could change.

The department says shortages continue among physicians, dentists, nurses, medical technologists, engineers, draftsmen, machinists, machine tool operators, tool and die makers, welders and pattern and model makers.

Legless Victim Captures Thug

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Buehl Allred was in the parking lot, police said, when a man approached and asked: "Have you got any money?"

Allred answered "No." The man hit him on the head, knocking him to the ground, officers said.

As the assailant was trying to remove money from Allred's wallet, police said, Allred struck the man with his fist, knocking his attacker to the ground.

Police arrived in time to catch the would-be robber. Then they helped the legless Allred back into his wheel chair.

Veterinary Service Helps To Guard Webb's Health

The Air Force has nothing resembling the faithful cavalry horse or the pack mule, but it has its veterinary corps—and it has plenty to keep it busy.

The program operates daily at Webb, protecting the health and interests of all assigned personnel.

1st Lt. Kenneth M. Capron, officer in charge of the Base Veterinary Service, is under the command of Lt. Col. M. E. Frantz, director of Base Medical Service, 3560th USAF Hospital. Lt. Capron and his staff of airmen, S. Sgt. Edward C. Burke, S. Sgt. John D. Gooden and Airman I.C. James G. Hudson, operate the base veterinary program.

A doctor of veterinary medicine, Lt. Capron explains the six-fold mission of his service thus:

To provide a complete veterinary food inspection service for Webb; to protect the financial interest of the government, by conducting necessary inspections of all subsistence products, before purchase, at the time of delivery and afterward; to provide a veterinary research support service for aeromedical and other research and development;

To provide a public health service and assist aeromedical service which deals with food service sanitation, nutrition, and environmental health; to provide a veterinary medical service for the care and treatment of government owned animals such as laboratory research animals and prospective sentry dogs; to provide a veterinary service pertaining to animals including the public health aspects, that may affect man.

"We inspect foods of both animal and non-animal origin to determine wholesomeness, condition and quality, rejecting substandard products," explained Lt. Capron. "We also inspect all facilities where food is prepared, served or otherwise handled, to assure that sanitary practices and methods are used.

"We investigate animal diseases and recommend suitable measures for their prevention and control, particularly those which may be communicable to man."

In addition to the normal administrative duties of an Air Force officer, the veterinary chief must make numerous reports, collect and maintain data on food suppliers, food service sanitation, nutrition.

"There are several things concerning the prevention and control of animal diseases which may be communicable to man which many pet owners do not understand," Lt. Capron continued. "The immunization programs should begin at nine weeks of age. Vaccinations against distemper, hepatitis and leptospirosis are given at this time."

Rabies immunizations for dogs and cats for personnel living on base begins at 12 weeks in order to comply with Webb Regulation 125-1. Immunization hours are on Tuesday and Thursday at 1 p.m.-3 p.m.

Lt. Capron stressed that owners are responsible for confining any pet involved in an animal bite case for 10 days and for insuring that the animal is observed by a veterinarian during the period.

Heavy Deliveries To The War Zone

SARGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force announced its combat cargo deliveries in June to about 80 air strips serving the American and allied forces in South Viet Nam had amounted to more than 100 million pounds. The carrier is the 315th Air Commando Wing commanded by Col. Robert T. Simpson of Florence, Ala.

Yanks In India

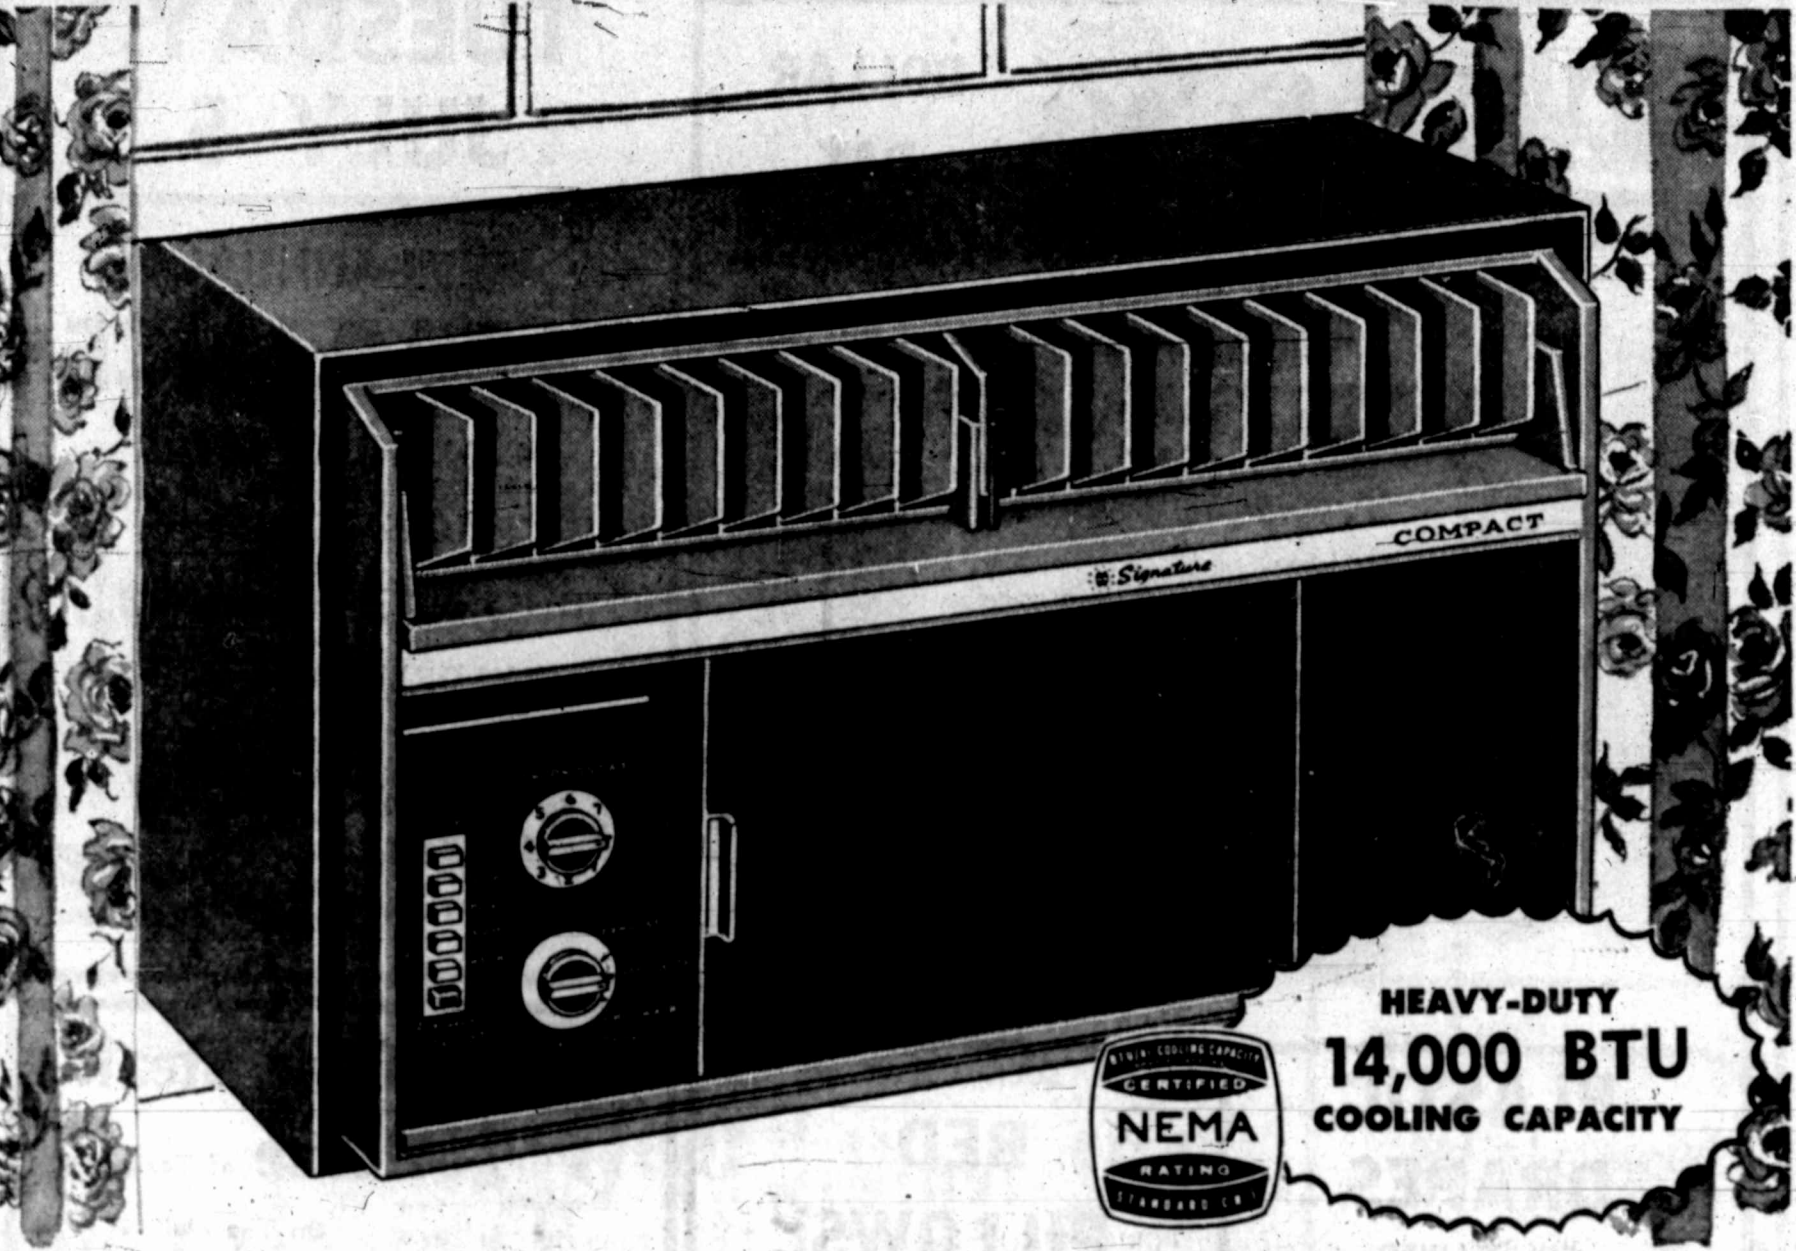

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Though India is halfway around the world from the United States, Americans made up the largest — 26.6 per cent — group of tourists who visited this country last year. Britons were second, Malaysians third.

MEN IN SERVICE

JOHN T. DEERING

Airman John T. Deering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Deering of 212 N. 15th, Lamesa, has been selected for technical training at Amarillo AFB as a U.S. Air Force metal repair specialist.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB. His new school is part of the Air Training Command which conducts hundreds of specialized courses to provide technically trained personnel for the nation's aerospace force.

Airman Deering was graduated from Lamesa High School in 1965.

S. Sgt. Terrance F. Steyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Steyer of 1602 Sunset Ave., Big Spring, has been selected for academic and military training under the U.S. Air Force Airman Education and Commissioning Program.

Sgt. Steyer, a communications analysis specialist at Kelly AFB, Tex., will study for a bachelor's degree in accounting and finance. Following graduation, he will go to Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Marine Pvt. Larry W. Vigar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern P. Vigar of 1612 Avion, Big Spring, has completed individual combat training at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

His next stop is four weeks of basic specialist training in his military occupational field. Marines to be assigned to infantry units will be taught infantry specialties, such as the machinegun, grenade launcher, rifle or mortar.

Maxie D. Aldridge, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Aldridge, live at 2227 S. 4th, Lamesa, received an early promotion to Army pay grade private E-2 on completion of basic combat training at Fort Bliss.

He was awarded the promotion two months earlier than is customary because of his score in firing the M-14 rifle, high score on the physical combat proficiency test and his military bearing and leadership abilities.

James M. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew M. Davis of 914 Rose Garden, Dallas, has been promoted to staff sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sgt. Davis is an aircraft mechanic at Webb AFB. He is a graduate of W. W. Samuels High School.

His wife, Eleanor, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice V. Walker of 2201 Warren St., Big Spring.

STANTON (SC) — Henry Graves, son of Mrs. Fannie Graves, Stanton, has been promoted to staff sergeant E-6. His unit is 35th transportation company, medium truck petroleum, located at Toul, France.

Sgt. Graves has been in France since Jan. 13, 1966. He served 16 months at Ft. Sill, Okla. and 13 months in Korea prior to the France assignment. Sgt. Graves served three years in the Panama Canal, prior to this re-entering the U.S. Army in January, 1963.

Mrs. Henry Graves went by plane to France several months ago to be with her husband.

Army Pvt. Lou G. Harrison, 19, whose wife, Trudy, lives at 108 N. 25th St., Route C, Lamesa, completed advanced infantry training, including a week of guerrilla warfare training at Fort Polk, La., June 25.

Harrison entered the Army last February and completed basic training at Fort Bliss.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Arlan T. Harrison, 1110 N. Third St., he is a 1965 graduate of Lamesa High School and was employed by Quality Body Works before entering the Army.

Capt. Eldon K. Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde V. Ball, 209 N. Nineteenth St., Lamesa, completed an Armor Officer Career course at the Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky., June 30.

Capt. Ball was trained in maintenance, tank gunnery, armor tactics, and nuclear warfare.

The captain entered the Army in August 1953.

HEADS CHURCH— Erwin D. Canham, 62, editor in chief of The Christian Science Monitor, has been named president of the Christian Science Church for the coming year.

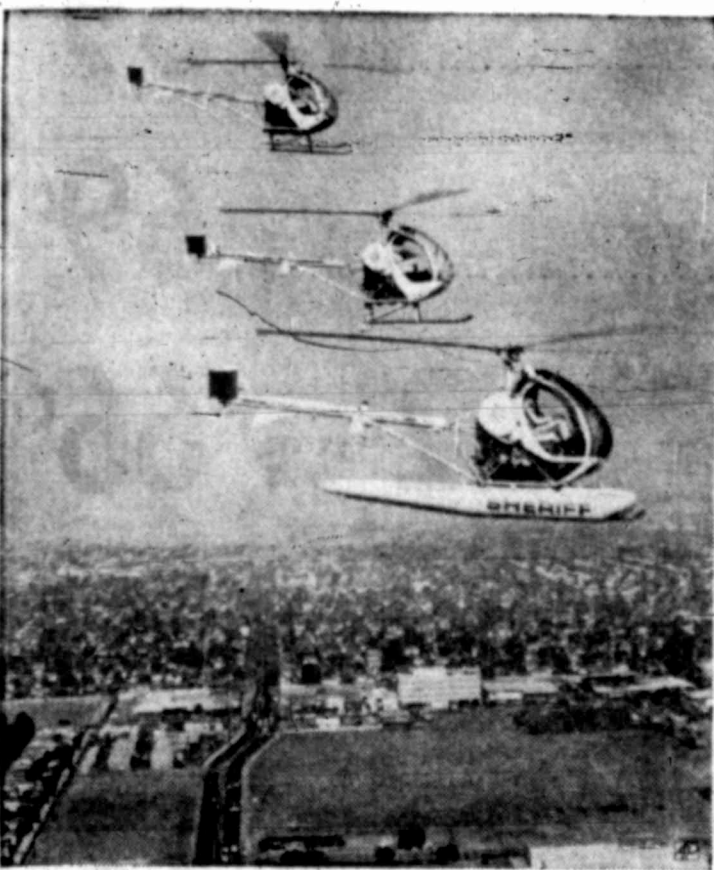

HE'S THE TOPS— Robert A. Wake, 13, of Houston, Texas, proudly displays trophy after winning national spelling bee in Washington. He's an eighth-grader.

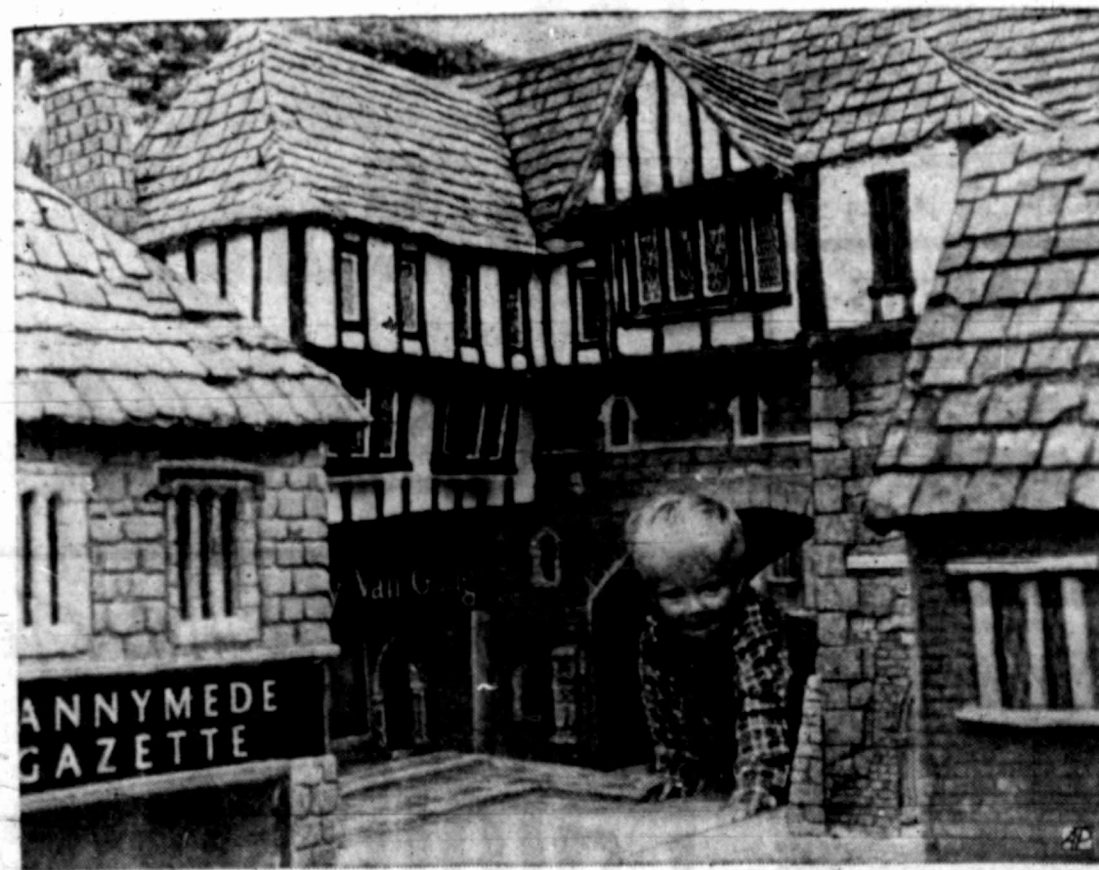

THE EISENHOWERS— Former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower are pictured at their Gettysburg, Pa., home.

FAMILY TEAM— A housewife, despite the weight of a child strapped to her back, crouches to take pictures of a symbolic Buddhist ceremony at Shimotsuga, Japan.

COPS ON HIGH— Three helicopters, part of a new day-night sky patrol, cover their "beat" over Lakewood Calif. They supplement conventional ground forces.

LOWDOWN ART— Little Neville Brewin appears to be a Golliver in Lilliput as he crawls through passage between two old-style houses in a miniature village at Hastings, England. The village layout is a wonderland from Britain's past for all children.

STILL AT IT— East German border guards begin setting concrete blocks along a 200-yard section of the Berlin Wall. The new rebuilt portion will be higher.

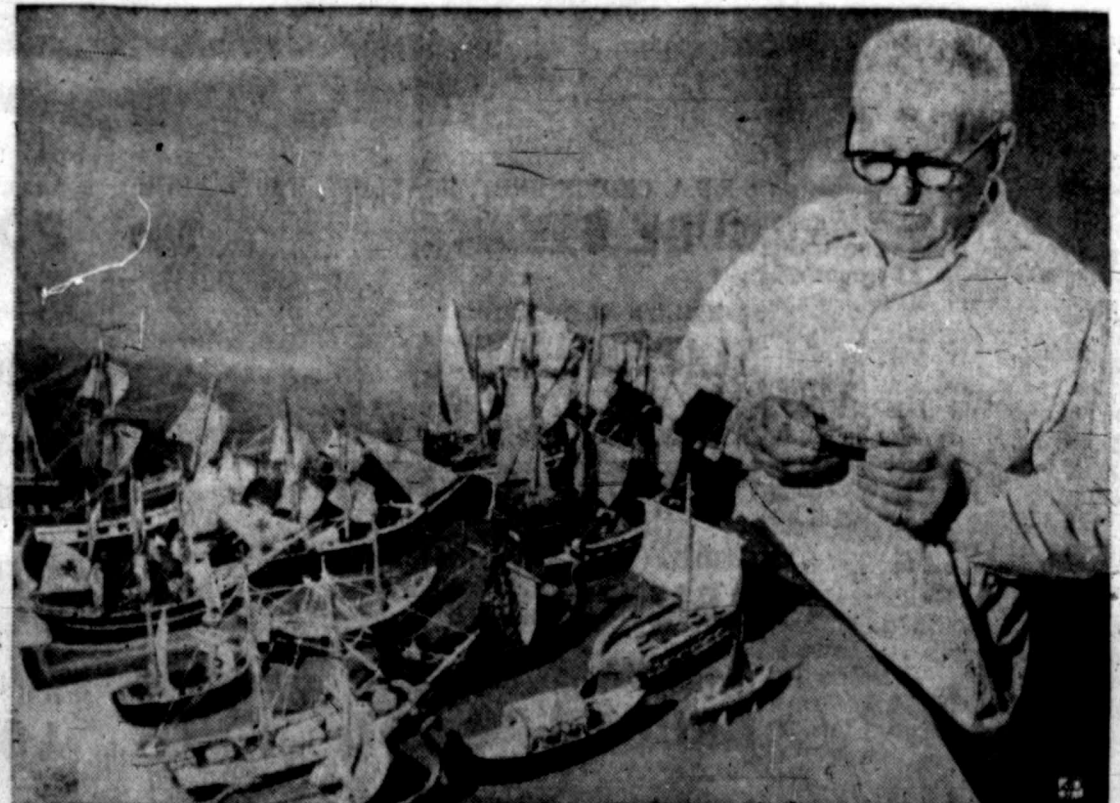

NEW ENVOY— Eugene Murphy Locke, 48, a Dallas attorney, is the new United States ambassador to Pakistan. Locke succeeds Walter P. McCone in the central Asian post.

SAFETY TRAINING— Prince Hiro, center, son of the Japanese Crown Prince, and his first-grade classmates raise their hands as they obey instructions of traffic police. Children were practicing a street crossing in the yard of their Tokyo school.

EYES ON '68— John Elauthers du Pont, swimming at Newtown Square, Pa., already is in training for the marathon event of the Olympic Games at Mexico City.

A NAUTICAL BENT— Luke Slavich, 80-year-old retired San Francisco restaurateur, displays some of the models of ancient seacraft he has carved through the years. He holds a ship's hull, similar to the one he fashioned as a young boy in Austria.

Feuding Irish Declare Truce As Queen Visits

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's embattled Protestants and Roman Catholics made a truce today and joined in a warm-welcome for Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip.

For a few hours they buried religious differences which have three times flared to a killing in recent weeks.

The sun blazed down, the Union Jacks waved and massed thousands cheered as the queen drove through the packed city streets. Around her were the tightest security precautions ever taken for a British monarch visiting part of the home territory.

Armed police were spaced every few yards along the royal route. Armored cars were held on the city's outskirts ready to move in at the first hint of trouble.

When the queen fulfilled her first engagement — formal opening of the new $5.5-million Queen Elizabeth Bridge across the River Lagan, detectives with field glasses watched the crowd from the top of a nearby silo.

What looked like a torpedo net was stretched in the river above the bridge to protect it from drifting objects, and police boats swarmed about it.

The queen, looking cool in a lime-green coat with a lime and white hat, accepted presentation gold scissors and snipped a blue ribbon opening the bridge. A great cheer went up, and all the ships in harbor hooted, guns fired a salute and the Irish Guards provided a scarcely heard fanfare of trumpets.

Then the queen walked slowly across the bridge, watched by thousands on the Old Queen's Bridge — a 19th century structure named for Queen Victoria — about 100 feet upstream.

A reminder that this was Belfast — city of biblical exhortations — faced the queen as she walked over the bridge. There, on the drab walls of the coalmen's dockside mission a sign in letters many feet high, read, "Prepare to meet thy God."

The queen came to Belfast just as a trial of strength between Prime Minister Terrence O'Neill and the extremist Protestant leader, the Rev. Ian Paisley, appeared to be reaching a climax.

Paisley has charged that O'Neill is a traitor who must go. He blames O'Neill, a moderate Protestant, for trying to secure better relations with the Irish Republic, Ulster's big neighbor in the divided island.

O'Neill has retaliated by banning the extremist anti-Catholic Ulster Volunteer Force. Like the Irish Republican Army, the so-called Ulster Volunteers are now outlawed.

Three Roman Catholics have been killed in this city in the past two weeks — one shot, one stabbed, one burned. Five Protestants are in jail on murder charges. Four of them are on hunger strikes.

Despite the tension and the threat of an Irish nationalist protest demonstration against the queen, the authorities do not think she will be in any personal danger.

They are also giving police protection to Paisley because of threats against his life.

Northern Ireland is two-thirds Protestant and one-third Roman Catholic. Its Protestants tend to be identified with the ruling Unionist party and continuing links with Britain. The Catholics are often suspected of sympathies with their coreligionists in the Irish Republic south of the border.

Tear Gas Used To End Abortive Resort Riot

RUSSELLS POINT, Ohio (AP) — Police used tear gas and nightsticks early today to disperse a crowd of young people in this resort town that has been a traditional trouble spot on Fourth of July weekends.

About 50 youths, including a few girls, in the crowd of some 4,000 that filled the streets after bars closed were arrested. Most were charged with disorderly conduct, and those unable to post $50 bonds were jailed.

ORDERS

About 200 police were on hand when, at 1 a.m., Mayor John Kirby ordered them to break up the crowd. The mayor first made several requests over a loudspeaker, asking the youths to go home.

He said: "I hereby order you to disperse to your respective homes or be charged with participating in a riot."

Then he ordered the tear gas. At least three bombs were thrown, and the streets were cleared in half an hour.

The police were from nine counties and 14 towns. Many were auxiliary officers on duty because of rioting on past holiday weekends.

RIOT AVERTED

Russells Point Police Chief O. E. Tate said after today's police action: "A riot was averted by a strong show of force."

Several youths were pushed to the ground by police, who shoved the crowd back in two directions from the center of the main drag—Ohio Route 366. They handcuffed several of those they arrested.

Many of the arrested youths were taken to nearby Bellefontaine, the Logan County seat where the city court has county-wide jurisdiction.

Network cameramen—NBC— from Cleveland were present when police began breaking up the crowd. One official yelled, "Get that film. Destroy that film," but the television men persuaded police not to take it.

GUARD ALERT

At Geneva-on-the-Lake, another traditional holiday trouble spot, the National Guard was put on the alert to prevent rioting.

An estimated 40,000-50,000 persons were reported in the Lake Erie resort spot but so far there had been no rioting such as that of last year in which more than 300 persons were arrested.

So far this weekend, about 100 persons had been arrested at Geneva-on-the-Lake, mostly for disorderly conduct. Some involved youngsters trying to get into taverns with false identification cards.

Mrs. Chilton Dies Sunday

LAMESA (SC)—Mrs. Jessie Lee Chilton, 77, died late Sunday afternoon in Medical Arts Hospital after four days' illness.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. L. W. Baker, pastor of Sparsburg Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Lamesa Cemetery, under the direction of the Branon-Phillips Funeral Home.

She was born Oct. 20, 1888, in Carter County, Okla. The family moved to Dawson County in 1918 from Levelland. Mr. Chilton had engaged in ranching and farming in the southern part of Dawson County until his retirement two years ago.

Survivors include her husband, Roy Chilton, Lamesa; three daughters, Mrs. Alva Bingham, Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Willie Hurst, Corpus Christi, and Mrs. Texana Cates, Odessa; one son, Jim Chilton, Lubbock; one brother, John Gordon, Crowell; also 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, HERALD, MONDAY, JULY 4, 1966 SECTION B

IT USED TO BE A 'BIG' HOLIDAY

Fourth Of July Recalled For Other Anniversary Events

By SAM BLACKBURN
July 4.
To most folk in these United States, the day conjures up the memory of a courageous action by a handful of dedicated patriots 190 years ago.
In Yugoslavia, July 4 means that nation's annual folk festival will be opening in the historic town of Sarajevo.
Away across the Pacific, the Filipinos in Manila and other towns and communities in the Philippine Island turn out to devote thought to Philippine-American friendship.
CAL'S BIRTHDAY
If the late Calvin Coolidge, 30th president of the United States, celebrated the day (assuming that the dour Mr. Coolidge ever did such frivolous things as celebrating) he had double reason to note the day. In addition to the connotation it has for all Americans in relation to the signing of the Declaration of Independence, it was also Mr. Coolidge's birthday. If he were alive, July 4, 1966 would be his 94th birthday.

For the lighter-minded and sport-spirited, July 4 in Raymondville, Texas, is the day the Texas State Championship Red Fish Tourney gets under way.
It is not clear here how wide the Yugoslavs take note of the National Folk Festival nor just what is done in the Philippines on American Friendship Day. As to the Red Fish tourney—the event may or may not draw huge crowds. There is no immediate available information.
TIMES CHANGE
As to the commemoration of the event which transpired in Carpenter's Hall on July 4, 1776, one thing is certain—the day is certainly not observed in the manner now it was half a century or so ago.
July 4, in these hectic times, is a holiday in the sense that stores and offices are shut down. Folk grab their hats and take off on trips or they hurry away to get in a few hectic hours at lakes, in the mountains, on the golf course or parked in the easy chair at the home of some relative or friend in some other town.

If a community tries to stage a patriotic celebration to mark the day, the odds are the only ones in attendance will be the folk who have parts on the program proper.
It was not so when Granddad was a kid, nor, for that matter, when Pop was young.
BIG SHOW
July 4 was a really big show on the American scene in the past. Towns, great and small, staged mammoth celebrations. They ran the gamut in the matter of design but one feature they all seemed to have in common—the highlight of the day was a patriotic address by some leather-lunged orator. Usually he was a politician either local or from the state or national capitals.
Another feature was the fireworks display.
These were as elaborate as the financial structure of the community would stand. Some were truly spectacular, climaxed by the flaring American flag in blazing glory or the American Eagle spread winged against the nighttime sky.
Smaller communities favored picnics with every family unit bringing its own basket of food. The committee would usually provide the drink—lemonade in barrel quantities. Sometimes the baseball games by town teams would be featured; sometimes sack races, greased hog catching or other contests.

FIREWORKS
In those days, the danger of the general use (or misuse) of fireworks was not considered material. Every kid had a pocket full of firecrackers, torpedoes and other explosives. The din at these fallies was terrific and it was the common thing for youngsters to get hurt—sometimes blinded—by the carelessly thrown crackers.
Since the common method of travel was buggy and wagon, it was to be expected at each July 4 celebration that the popping crackers and booming torpedoes would incite some nervous team into running away.
These episodes were generally enjoyed—except by the luckless owner of the team or any members of his family unfortunate enough to be aboard the careening vehicle.
For the others, it was just an additional bit of excitement to make the day more memorable.
ORATORS
The orators were at these picnics, too, just as at the big town shindigs.
And the town bands, the musicians sweating and red in the face, were there—doing horrible things to Sousa's compositions.
But there was another thing there, too, which everyone saw and honored and which made the day important.
The flag was there, for the day was, all said and done, the Flag's Day.

Music Critic-Journalist Deems Taylor, 80, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Deems Taylor, composer, music critic, journalist and radio commentator—among some of his accomplishments—died Sunday at the age of 80.
He was admitted to the Medical Arts Center May 20. He had heart trouble and a mild stroke, the hospital said.
FIRST OPERA
Taylor's first opera, "The King's Henchman," had its premiere at the Metropolitan Opera House in 1927. It was performed at the Met for three consecutive seasons—a record for new American works at the opera house. The libretto was written by Edna St. Vincent Millay.
His second opera, "Peter Ibbetson," was produced at the Met in 1931.
Born in New York City, Taylor received a bachelor of arts degree from New York University which later, among other schools, was to award him an honorary doctor of music degree.

DEEMS TAYLOR

He began his career as a freelance writer and became assistant Sunday editor of the New York Tribune. From 1916 to 1917 he was the Tribune's Paris correspondent.
Later, he served as associate editor of Collier's magazine, then went to the New York World where he was music critic from 1921 to 1923.
MUSIC CRITIC
He was editor of Musical America magazine, music critic for the New York American and, in 1936, was appointed musical adviser to the Columbia Broadcasting System.
For many years he served as commentator on numerous radio programs, including those of the Metropolitan Opera and the New York Philharmonic.
He was a regular panelist on the radio program, "Information Please."
He was a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters and served as vice president of the National Institute of Arts and Letters.
Survivors include his daughter, Mrs. David Dawson, and a grandson, Michael.

Braniff Expands Air Trips Credit

DALLAS (AP)—Braniff International has started a new expanded air travel-credit program, Fastcharge.
Vice President John Leer said the new Fastcharge will not only provide a more convenient form of credit but will also allow passengers for the first time to charge both domestic and international travel.
He said Fastcharge allows a passenger to use any widely recognized credit card, such as those issued by oil companies, to purchase his first Braniff ticket. Upon completion of a simplified application form, the passenger will then be issued a Braniff Fastcharge card for subsequent travel.

Tanker Hulk Proves Tough Gun Target

NEW YORK (AP)—The British tanker Alva Cape—reduced to a charred hulk by two tragedies of explosion and fire in New York harbor that took 37 lives—proved a tough old girl to sink when the guns were turned on her at their gravest 125 miles at sea.
It took an estimated 37 hits by five-inch explosive shells fired by the Coast Guard cutter Spencer, and then an hour's wait, before the Alva Cape cracked in half and sank in water almost a mile and a half deep Sunday.
TOUGH
Explosions and fires, fed by the remainder of her cargo of highly flammable naphtha, wracked the 16,000-ton tanker and shrouded her in towering black smoke. But she just sat in the water with a list and refused to sink.
Finally—to the relief of the crews of the Spencer and other ships standing by—the Alva Cape bent in the middle and went down in the form of a V, with her bow and stern disappearing last.
"She was tougher than we thought—a lot tougher," said the Spencer's 23-year-old gunnery officer, Ens. Michael V. Curran.
A Coast Guard spokesman ashore said the Spencer fired 57 five-inch shells at a 1,400-yard range and made an estimated 35 hits in a two-hour period. He said the misses were attributable to the fact that the gunners were trying to hit the tanker near the water line so she would sink, rather than hit her above the water and make her explode into pieces.
IN COLLISION
Tugboats started towing the Alva Cape early Saturday from Gravesend Bay, off Brooklyn, to the graveyard at sea off Cape May, N.J.
The Alva Cape and an American tanker, the Texaco Massachusetts, collided June 16 in the Kill Van Kull, a narrow strait between Staten Island and New Jersey.

Dear Abby

Who's Ring Is Whose?

DEAR ABBY: Neither my husband nor I wears a wedding ring. He insists that I wear mine all the time, although he hasn't worn his for two years. At the same time he is holding my diamond engagement ring for "security" reasons, as he claims it is HIS property in case we separate. Is that true? Legally, I mean? I have not seen that ring in nearly three months. I would appreciate your opinion.

SICK MARRIAGE

DEAR SICK: If you want to know whose property the diamond ring is, ring up a lawyer. The important issue here is not whose is whose, but what is what.

DEAR ABBY: The lady I babysit for owes me for 44 times at .35 cents an hour. I usually sit for seven hours at a time. I keep sitting for her because the lady in the apartment below her has me watch her kids, too. (They are older, and all I have to do is look in on them every hour.)

The downstairs lady pays me everytime, but the upstairs lady keeps putting me off. Whenever I mention to her how much she owes me she says she is in a big hurry, and then she runs out the door. I am getting the idea that she isn't ever going to pay me. Can you tell me how to get my money, Abby? I need it for Christmas gifts.

GYPPE

DEAR GYPPE: The next time the lady asks you to babysit, tell her how much she owes you and ask for a little down on a big bill. Then tell her that unless she pays you something, you will not sit for her again. (And stand firm!)

DEAR ABBY: Last April I entertained a group of women in my home for lunch and bridge. I am from out of state and knew none of these women. The group was set up by a woman who arranges such "clubs" so newcomers can get acquainted. I liked these women, but immediately after that luncheon I missed a small glass container which held toothpicks. No great value moneywise, but it belonged to my dear mother, who is now deceased. It meant so much to me, Abby. I've never had anything like this happen before and am praying that the person who took it will mail it back to me. It would take away the hurt and disappointment. Thank you.

Many Projects Get U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sabbatical leave for a college art teacher, research on a strawberry disease, a study of cancer drugs, a job for a school dropout, a new park in Honolulu.

For these, and scores of others each day, there are federal grants in aid. Announcements from the federal departments and agencies show the interest in the cultural life, a beautiful America, space, the poor, the elderly, the handicapped, the jobless, education. The list goes on.

The government spends billions in grants each year. They go to states, counties, communities, colleges and research institutions. Generally, they are matched by local funds, sometimes 50-50. Sometimes the government pays two-thirds or three-fourths.

A check of one day—last Wednesday—on announcements from government agencies about grants turned up this sampling: The Department of Housing and Urban Development announced grants of almost $134 million to help urban mass transportation projects. Example: Cleveland got almost $7 million for an extension to its airport.

The department granted $554,091 to Honolulu for parks in the city's urban renewal projects.

The National Endowment for the Arts approved up to 50 sabbatical leave grants of $7,500 each for teaching artists in colleges and universities.

The Department of Agriculture made a $115,000 grant to Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research, Inc., Yonkers, N.Y., for a four-year study of resistance of strawberries to red stele disease.

Moisture Good Over State, Most Crops Responding

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said last week moisture is good in the state and crops and pastures are responding to the summer temperatures.

Scattered rain improved moisture in the west and northwest but in the northeast rain is short and crops are hurting, the director said. Ranges generally are supplying adequate grazing and livestock are in good condition, he said.

District agents summed up the situation this way:

Showers were improving the over-all moisture situation in the Panhandle but general rains were needed. The wheat harvest is about over except where the rains caused delay. Grain sorghums and vegetables are making progress, with some onions about ready for harvest. Range and livestock conditions are on the mend. Some areas are reporting a shortage of labor.

SOUTH PLAINS

South Plains cotton is excellent except in storm damaged sectors. Early cotton is beginning to square. Soybeans are being planted in hilled-out cotton land. The wheat harvest was delayed in some counties by storms and some damage occurred. Sorghum is making excellent growth and diverted acres are being planted to cover crops.

Moisture in the Rolling Plains (Vernon) is adequate in about half of the counties and some cotton is being replanted due to cutworm damage, washouts and hail.

Cultivation, haying and harvesting of potatoes and cucumbers were major activities.

Moisture in North Central Texas is adequate in most counties and only scattered fields of small grain are yet to be harvested. Cotton and corn made good growth but some reports of insect infestations were coming in.

Moisture is short throughout Northeast Texas and cotton and corn growth is slow. The lack of moisture also has cut production of watermelons and cucumbers. The hay harvest is active. The peach harvest has started.

FAR WEST

Light to heavy rains over parts of far West Texas have helped the moisture situation and cotton is making good growth. Light and spotted insect infestations are showing up. Hay yields are good and harvesting of an excellent cantaloupe crop in the Presidio area is under way. Farm and ranch labor continued on the short side.

Scattered showers and rains helped but a general rain would be welcomed in West Central Texas. Grain sorghum shows promise with some fields heading but rain is needed for top yields. Cotton is making good growth but insects are causing damage. Pecan prospects were pegged at average to light; range conditions as average to above and livestock in good shape. Sheep and goats are being drenched for stomachworms and some early goat shearing was noted. Labor is generally short. An excellent quality peach crop is ripening rapidly and yields are good.

Central Texas moisture is adequate. Most small grain has been harvested and hay prospects are good to excellent. Cotton insect infestations are light. Peanut planting has passed the 75 per cent stage and the prospects for a good late peach crop are good. Pecan prospects are poor.

EAST TEXAS

Moisture in East Texas ranges from adequate to short ranges from short to adequate. Some rice is being planted and early planted crops are making good progress. An unidentified fungus is damaging corn in Wharton County.

There is a surplus of moisture in the Rio Grande Valley counties and it is adequate in all other South Texas counties. The heavy rains slowed field work and increased the threat from insects.

Mental Health Grants To Texas Are $1.6 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grants totaling $1.6 million have been approved by the Public Health Service to finance buildings and facilities in Texas for the care and training of individuals in the field of mental health.

The grants were announced Thursday by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

Grants for new buildings for the education and training of mentally retarded amounting to $147,760 were awarded to state schools in Corpus Christi, Lufkin

Driver Is Killed

CHAMBERY, France (AP)—Giuseppe (Nino) Farina, a 56-year-old world driving champion of Turin, and one of Italy's greatest auto race drivers, was killed Thursday in an auto accident in the French Alps. Farina, 56, won the world driving championship in 1950.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—A team in the college area women's softball league lost a game 5-8. Undaunted, it came back for its next contest and was defeated 5-0. The team's name? The Good Losers.

Texas Business At Peak During May

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas business hit a new peak in May, the Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The University of Texas agency said Texas business activity, based on 20 selected barometers, rose 2 per cent in May to a new all-time high. The first five months of the year averaged 9 per cent above 1965.

"The first five months have been prosperous ones for Texans, resulting in high employment and high earnings," said Dr. Francis May, bureau statistician. "There is no end to the upswing. The problems of the housing industry in the northeast

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Opponents vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠A74 ♣K105432 ♦AJ105 ♠KQ952

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Dble. Pass 1 ♠
2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Two clubs. While the normal procedure is to rebid a six card suit before showing a four carder, exceptional treatment is recommended in the present instance for, if the bidding reaches some higher number of spades when it gets back to you, you may rightly fear to show the clubs. By showing both suits now you will place partner in a better position to take appropriate action should a competitive bidding sequence develop.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠863 ♣J104 ♦83 ♠KQ952

The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Dble. Pass 2 ♠
Pass 2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Three no trump. Partner's double and subsequent rebid of two no trump, after you have promised nothing, shows in the neighborhood of a two no trump opening. Your six points will provide sufficient strength for game.

Q. 3—Both sides vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A10432 ♣AQ106 ♠KJ108

Your right hand opponent opens the bidding with one heart. What do you bid?
A—Pass. There is no action you can take that is not fraught with great danger. A take-out double will surely produce a spade response from partner and there is no suit you can show conveniently. Your best hope for a profit is to hope that the opponents bid themselves into trouble.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q874 ♣AQJ1065 ♦1033

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ Dble. ?

What do you bid?
A—Two hearts. While you have the values for a double, such action is not recommended due to the void in partner's suit. However, a mere bid of one heart might be treated by partner as an effort to show some mediocre hand containing a reasonable heart suit. A jump bid is, therefore, recommended which in our system is considered to be a one round force.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠6 ♣1093 ♦KQJ7 ♠AQ1043

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Three diamonds. This is admittedly an underbid but it would not be good tactics for you to take any action that would carry the bidding past the three no trump level. Since you made a strength showing response initially, partner will surely play you for a sound hand.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠10 ♣Q63 ♦K1086 ♠AKQ43

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ 2 ♠ 3 ♠ Pass
3 NT Pass 4 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?
A—Four spades. This may seem like a strange preference with but one spade; however, partner's jump rebid in spades before even showing the hearts indicates that he has at least six and very probably seven spades. He will thus be able to stand a reserved diamond. Forces much better in his longest suit.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKQJ98 ♣Q943 ♠A2

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?
A—Five hearts. Prospects for slam are excellent if partner has a heart off the top so why push them into one that might be a lay-down? East's vulnerable three no trump bid makes it pretty certain that your partner has a totally worthless holding for you.

Q. 8—Both sides vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠863 ♣KQ ♠A72 ♠AKQ65

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ 3 ♠ Pass 3 NT

What do you bid now?
A—Pass. You have the opponents in a contract that is virtually broken off the top so why push them into one that might be a lay-down? East's vulnerable three no trump bid makes it pretty certain that your partner has a totally worthless holding for you.

A Devotional For The Day

Jesus said to him (Thomas), "I am the way, and the truth, and the life." (John 14:6, RSV)

PRAYER: God our Father, we turn to Thee in our frailties and limitations. We would be free—free from sin and smallness, free to climb spiritual heights and travel toward the far horizons of beauty and splendor. Release us, O Lord, in Thy name and with Thy power. For Christ's sake. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

One Hundred And Ninety Years Ago

One hundred and 90 years ago today, 57 representatives of 13 colonies put their signatures to what has been termed one of the sublimest of human documents. They had composed and ratified a statement of their course of action because "a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation" for the mother country.

Back of this lay a long list of abuses and oppressions which the British crown had imposed upon colonies. Few if any of the colonists wanted to cut the political ties, for they felt keenly their bonds of blood and tradition. But entreaties for relief had gone mostly unanswered, except when they were answered with more oppression and more restriction.

Our founding fathers were men of honor and dignity, and they felt there were some things dearer than ties with their homeland. So they wrote:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. . . . We therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, in the Name, and by the authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right, ought to be, Free and Independent states. . . . And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor."

De Gaulle's Gospel Of Europe

The gospel of Europe, a la De Gaulle, must have caused at least momentary uneasiness among his hosts in Moscow. For De Gaulle is in essence preaching a return to the status quo ante, which goes back farther in history than the present leaders of Russia like to contemplate.

De Gaulle is not just intent on the dismantling of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and getting the United States out of Europe. He wants to do the same for the Warsaw Pact countries. Russian leaders can only reflect that men have gone to the stake in other eras for lesser heresies than this.

What must have made his Russian hosts shiver a bit was De Gaulle's proposal that the dismantling of the Warsaw Pact and NATO would permit nation-to-nation contacts in Europe. That's just about the last thing Russians want, free contacts between their satellites and the other countries of Europe. They find it much more convenient to preserve contacts on a bloc basis, where the Russian point of view can be given maximum emphasis. De Gaulle seems to be talking about something called freedom, something that Russians are not ready for by a long sight.

The spectacle of De Gaulle prancing around the china shop of Soviet Europe as well as NATO Europe is, to say the least, diverting.

The Lesson Of Korea

WASHINGTON — History is repeating itself, but only in part, as the United States this time is certainly not going to make in Viet Nam the same mistake that was made in Korea when, in deference to our allies, the American air forces were restrained from bombing Red China's bases and supply lines.

ALTHOUGH THE U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously recommended to President Truman that the bases in Red China supplying its invading armies in Korea be bombed, the Labor government in Great Britain objected and the plan had to be abandoned. Today a Labor government in London is again expressing its disapproval of this same kind of strategy, and the Prime Minister has said publicly that the British have "disassociated" themselves from the policy being carried out by the United States.

The present situation in Viet Nam might never have happened — and many American families could have been spared the casualties of the Viet Nam war from 1964 onward—if the lessons of Korea had been heeded.

UNITED STATES forces in 1951 were permitted to bomb only the immediate targets in the north of Korea and not those bases beyond the Yalu River from which Red Chinese planes flew to attack Americans. More than 1,600,000 servicemen of the United States went to Korea, and the casualties exceeded 150,000.

A recommendation that the war be fought on a military concept by bombing enemy targets and supply lines was revealed in April, 1951, when Gen. MacArthur's views were published. This led to his removal as commander of U.N. forces. He might better not have expressed himself publicly on the subject, but from a military viewpoint, he was 100 per cent right. There are today plenty of high officers in the armed services of the United States who feel about Viet Nam exactly as MacArthur did about Korea. This time, however, they are all silent.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, fully aware of the current attitude of the military, has come to the conclusion that there is only one way to protect the lives of American forces, and that is to bomb the enemy bases and supply lines.

It may well be wondered whether the indifference of America's allies in the Korean war did not encourage the Red Chinese to come to the aid of the North Vietnamese Communists in their effort to seize South Viet Nam.

THE AMERICAN people do not like the Viet Nam war any more than they did the Korean war or World War II or World War I. But there are certain necessities which have to do with the preservation of America's own safety and her vital interests throughout the world.

The difference between the Korean and Viet Nam wars is that in the latter the United States is not bound today by any restrictions imposed by the United Nations, and can fight the war on a military basis.

THE KOREAN war remains a blot on history. Repeated efforts to reunify Korea failed, primarily because the Red Chinese and the Soviets blocked any such plan, though the principle was originally embodied in an agreement to establish within five years after the close of World War II a free and independent Korea. The existing armistice agreement in Korea took two years to consummate and has since been frequently violated by the Communists.

Unfortunately, it has become necessary to fight another war to convince the Red Chinese that the United States does not intend to allow aggression to go unrepelled.

Billy Graham

I have just read in the paper about a clergyman who told a group of students pre-marital sex is alright under certain circumstances. How can those of us who want to live by high ideals stand up under this kind of "preaching."

You are responsible to God for your behavior, not to man. Don't let anyone lead you to accept standards not sanctioned by the Holy Scriptures. The Bible, in both the Old Testament and the New, makes plain that pre-marital sex is wrong. Not only do those participating make a mockery of the purity of sex relations required by God but the long range effect of such laxity has a disastrous effect on society as a whole.

Make no mistake, I am deeply sympathetic with you and other young people faced with such grave temptations but I also know that God gives the necessary strength to all who will ask His help. I know how you are surrounded by a social order obsessed by sex. For that reason your own example of purity is needed all the more. Find and associate with others holding like ideals, ask God's presence and help in your family lives. Not only will He give you the victory but you can prove a rallying point for many others to share with you the living of pure and happy lives.

Those who engage in pre-marital sex not only disobey God, but they wrong themselves and their partner. Thousands are suffering feelings of "guilt" — others from pregnancy and venereal diseases. When you sin — there is a penalty.

Liberty Bell, Once Spurned, Now Hallowed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Surviving despite threatened bombing, burial and years of neglect, the Liberty Bell has become one of the most treasured symbols of American independence — even though the city of Philadelphia once tried to get rid of it as a piece of junk.

Today, the anniversary of American independence, hundreds will visit Independence Hall, touch the bell, poke a finger into its giant crack and read the Biblical quotation on it, "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land into all the inhabitants thereof."

put on a cart and hustled north. It was buried beneath the floor of the Zion Reformed Church in Allentown, Pa., for almost a year.

Brought back to Philadelphia after the war, it was rung many times, until, says legend, it cracked tolling the death of Supreme Court Justice John Marshall in 1835.

Pennsylvania eventually moved its capital to Harrisburg and the city of Philadelphia, which still owns the bell, decided to scrap it. But the foundry man, who had the contract to cast a new bell, refused to cart it away.

IT FELL into disuse and was almost forgotten, hanging in the old steeple.

In 1846 some workers drilled out the crack, hoping to restore its tone. But the bell by now, was so brittle, it could not be rung.

Because of the quotation, by the mid-19th century the bell had become a symbol of liberty.

Three Weeks Vacation—

PROPHETIC though it is, the quotation has nothing at all to do with the Declaration of Independence and American liberty.

The 2,000-pound bell was cast in the 1770s for the tower of the red brick Pennsylvania capitol in Philadelphia. It was made in Whitechapel, England.

But when the colonists first tried to ring it in March 1753, it cracked.

Two local men, John Pass and Charles Stow Jr., recast it with extra copper.

They swung the bell.

Clank.

"Upon trial," wrote House Speaker Isaac Norris, "it seems they added too much copper . . . and were so teased with the witticisms of the town, they had a new mold."

FINALLY, in May 1753, the new bell was hoisted again into the steeple of the capitol.

The bell rang on many occasions as it called legislators to work, tolled funerals or signaled major events.

In 1776 the second Continental Congress met in the old state house. On July 4, 1776, the giant bell in the steeple remained silent — the Declaration of Independence was adopted in executive session.

But on July 8, presumably like other bells in the city, the bell rang out the American colonists' defiance, as the Declaration was publicly announced.

To Your Good Health

A Disease That Causes Thirst

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My seven-year-old grandson drinks an excessive amount of water. He has diabetes insipidus. Can anything be done to correct it?" — MRS. B. K.

The child drinks because he is abnormally thirsty. Diabetes insipidus is not related to sugar diabetes, or diabetes mellitus, and it is far less common. However, it is a problem.

Basically it involved a disorder of the posterior part of the tiny pituitary gland. There is a deficiency of a hormone which controls the release of water from the body. Large amounts of urine are passed; the patient, naturally, becomes thirsty as fluid is lost from the body, so he drinks vast quantities. This may amount to gallons per day.

Exactly what causes the condition is not known; evidently it can be hereditary in some cases; others not.

Treatment falls into three categories.

First: The administration of a pituitary hormone called vasopressin (prepared in an oil suspension, and given by injection). Frequency of injections varies quite widely, from one every other day to several in a single day.

Second: Pituitary substance can be made into a sort of snuff, and either blown into the nose, and sniffed into the nostrils. This is effective but the drawback which sometimes interferes is the possibility of irritation of the nasal membranes.

Third: A more recent treatment is use of drugs which are effective in reducing swelling—drugs on the order of chloriazide. These can be taken by mouth. Dosage has to be regulated by your physician.

Dear Dr. Molner: How much water should a person drink a day? Is it possible to drink too much? My mother-in-law drinks a lot because she says it "flushes out the kidneys." I should think too much would be hard on the kidneys.—K. B.

It is possible to drink too much water but in practice it is extremely unlikely, and I have never known a specific case of this in my many years in medicine.

An adult needs about two quarts a day. This varies, depending on how much one perspires, how hard he works, etc. If you are thirsty, two or three times as much is quite reasonable.

This means water in all forms: Soup, coffee, tea, pop, milk, vegetables and fruit, and even the water in meat, because there is some.

Drinking lots of water helps by keeping the urine dilute and hence less likely to let kidney stones form, or other forms of that "flushing out the kidneys," I guess you can. Plenty of fresh fluids (water) is easier on the kidneys than too little.

Be sure, by urinalysis, that no defect (diabetes or kidney disease) is present.

Around The Rim

The Rich Get Richer—

When I read that some South American or African king-maker departed his native soil under the cover of night and is leading the proverbial life of Riley in some Spanish retreat or is toasting his body on the Mediterranean sands, I immediately wonder how much of that loot he accumulated was originally American.

The number of soft-headed people employed by our government and doing business in our name has increased enormously in recent years.

THE PEOPLE who employ or appoint them to their tasks seem capable of asking only two questions of them:

"Are you college-educated to the extent that you can articulate in front of a TV camera or a radio microphone? Can you give away money as fast as we print it?"

The idea of bailing up paper scratch backed by the Treasury Department and loading down steamships bound for overseas may have been soured in the beginning in that it was destined to help the poor, the down-trodden and the underprivileged.

THE ONLY trouble is, there now seems to be more of the unwashed masses than ever before while the ranks of the unemployed (but well-heeled) ex-heads of state, living off bank notes they have secreted in Swiss banks, has increased faster than the rabbits feeding in Mr. Wiggs cabbage patch.

What is it, I ask, that a man caught stealing a loaf of bread to feed his hungry family can be taken to the wall for his sins when a one-time dictator guilty of every misdeed on record and some that aren't can tool about the streets of a distant (or American) city in the back seat of a chauffeur-driven limousine, perfectly safe and completely indifferent to the chaos he left behind him?

PERHAPS YOU can't blame a pat-ernfamilias for creating his own insurance program but you can fault the people who make it so easy for him to get his hands on such El Dorado.

We may have the responsibility to help feed and improve the rest of the world. If we do, we also have the responsibility to see that the money we give away does not influence the head of some foreign state to retire faster than he had originally planned or one of his lackeys to seek asylum on a distant shore and live out his days conveniently close to a casino where the cheapest betting chip is $100.

"No" can be a dramatic, exciting word, if it is appropriately used and employed often enough.

Another Side Of The Dodd Case

WASHINGTON — Politicians are very different from the rest of us. Their motivations and ethics are far more complicated. Thus Senator Tom Dodd (D., Conn.), I have reason to know, had three reasons, not merely two, for skipping out on the Civil Rights filibuster of 1964 and going to West Germany during the first week of April in that year.

HIS EXPENSES were paid by the Internal Security subcommittee funds, and he did make the trip to interview German court officers and the Russian assassin, Bogdan Stashinsky, whom they had let off easy for some political murders. Dodd also went to speak a good word for his friend, Julius Klein, whose public relations contracts in Germany were being cancelled because of bad publicity. But there was a third reason — Democratic politics.

DODD WAS UP for re-election that year, and so was the Democratic national ticket, to be headed by Lyndon Johnson. The reasoning in the Dodd camp, as I heard it, was that he would enhance his image as a vigorous anti-Communist by taking personal charge of the Stashinsky case, and presiding over an exciting Internal Security hearing, possibly with the prisoner and a German court official as witnesses. The hearings would show that through Stalin was dead, and Khrushchev in the saddle, Russian Communism was still a murderous conspiracy and not to be trusted.

DODD'S POPULARITY at the time was running high, especially in the Southern states and among Americans of Eastern European background. By his trips to the Congo and Southeast Asia, and by his probing of the Castro syndrome, Dodd had made himself a unique figure — a respectable Red-baiter who was also a Democratic liberal, the antithesis of Joe McCarthy, if you will.

His April trip to Germany had a place in these political calculations, though it never became part of the image-building. Some German-language materials were sent to the Library of Congress for translation, but were not processed on schedule as the library staff was short-handed in translators. Other delays made it necessary to put the hearings off till the next session of Congress.

PROBABLY, the sensationalism of the Stashinsky case was wishfully exaggerated, but in the spring of 1964 it was politically "now or never" for Dodd to make the trip. He was due to be renominated in Connecticut for the Senate that June, after which he would be committed to campaigning for himself or, possibly, for the national ticket.

THE POLITICAL motive for Dodd's trip hasn't come into the testimony as I write this piece, but undoubtedly it is not unknown to the Democrats who sit on the Ethics Committee. Another factor is unmentioned but not unknown. Anti-Communism is a thriving enterprise in this country. It manufactures armament, it sells newspapers and books, it employs a host of spooks and propagandists. It is a big business, but a changing business. In McCarthy's day, the emphasis was on commie-catching inside government, but today anti-Communism has turned to supporting anti-Red governments abroad.

THE BIGGEST foreign government on which we rely to block Communist advance is the Federal Republic of West Germany, and its junior partner, West Berlin. From the middle of President Truman's term till now, no single policy in Washington has been more important than making sure the West Germans and Berliners are pro-American and anti-Communist. Dodd's dealings with Klein, a publicist and procurer for German industry, are inseparable from our basic American foreign policy for Europe.

These matters, of course, are not before the Ethics Committee and won't do as excuses for Senator Dodd's alleged misconduct. But what Scott Fitzgerald said about the very rich — "They're different from us" — also applies to politicians.

Tiny Gadgets Coming

NEW YORK (AP) — The lady with the glittering earrings at the other end of the bar may refuse to talk to you because she's listening to the Mets-Dodgers game on her tiny concealed radio.

The man with the conservative tie-clasp may be in constant touch with his office — just as James Bond was supposed to be.

The refrigerator at home may have a half dozen clearly defined temperature zones instead of just today's freezer compartment and ordinary food cooler.

ALL OF THIS is only around a few corners, if you take the word of the engineers who are pushing the entry of tiny electronic circuits into the consumer product market.

Already these circuits — no bigger than a period made by a typewriter — are scheduled to be put into a tiny electric clock radio, on the market by October, into phonographs and portable TV sets by Christmas, and into tape recorders next year.

BY 1970 THE microcircuits may do to transistor-type communication and entertainment products what the transistor has been doing to radio tubes. And mass production and sales are expected to bring their price down to around 50 cents, compared with the $475 which each one cost in 1961 when they were in their infancy.

In the intervening years they've been confined largely to military, computer and other industrial uses. Now they are ready to tackle the consumer market. Sales of the microelectronic circuits this year will run around $130 million, but consumer usage could put this to $400 million a year by the end of the decade. By then, General Electric says, all of its consumer electronic products will use microcircuit.

culits. Its competitors are just as optimistic.

AND A DISTINCT possibility is the electronic jewelry, such as earrings and tieclaps to replace the transistor squawk box that some people now hold to their ears as they plod the sidewalks.

The Radio Corporation of America says that both its 1967 color and black and white TV sets will have these integrated circuits to replace a score of components, including transistors. Admiral and Sylvania Electric are pushing toward the same goal.

Sandra Wins In Surprise Golf Victory

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sandra Spuzich, a dark-eyed Serbian lass who used to belt a softball as a clean-up hitter around Indianapolis, used her head instead of power to become the surprising new U.S. Women's Open golf champion Sunday.

Miss Spuzich, who has been one of feminine golf's lesser lights for five years, made the game's biggest first tournament victory by capturing the Open and its $4,000 first prize by one stroke over defending champion Carol Mann.

Sandra finished with a 72-hole total of 297 and Miss-Mann was second with 298.

Miss Wright, who had putting troubles after her opening 71, best round of the entire tournament, said she putted well for her closing 73.

Atlanta Pitcher First With Two Grand Slammers

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Staff Writer "Do you remember touching the bases," Joe Torre asked pitcher Tony Cloninger as they shook hands at home plate.

Cloninger, a 24-game winner last season, who started slowly but now has won six of his last seven starts; hit grand slam No. 1 in the first inning on a 3-2 pitch by Bob Priddy and connected for No. 2 on an 8-1 pitch by Ray Sadecki in the fourth inning.

DETERIORATION SINCE BIG RIOTS

Watts Area Fears More Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "It could happen any day now. Any day," Lord God, I'm scared," said the middle-aged Negro. He stared into the dark recesses of his small, cluttered grocery store, then squinted out a cracked front window at the shimmering heat on Watts 102nd Street.

Outside, in shabby streets still deeply scarred by last August's race rioting, other voices echo the grocer's fear — a fear that has become widespread apprehension as the City of Angels awaits another summer.

Community leaders, average citizens and, perhaps most ominously, idle young people in the sprawling Negro district of south-central Los Angeles candidly expect more trouble this summer, or even sooner.

"DETERIORATED"
From John A. Buggs, Negro executive director of Los Angeles County's Human Relations Commission: "Conditions in the Negro community have deteriorated since the riots because Negro expectations have not been met in terms of actual accomplishments — what they can see, feel, touch."

And along the hot, brooding streets of Watts and Willowbrook as the weeks wear on, young Negroes — the school dropouts, the delinquents, the parolees, the unemployed and the ones who always follow — talk among themselves.

"This time it won't be no six days; this one is gonna go man," says a young Negro in a blue-green shirt. "It's gonna go till there ain't no whites left down here in black country."

SHOOTING INQUEST
Feelings in the Negro area were further inflamed by the May 7 fatal shooting of Negro motorist Leonard Deadwyler by a white policeman and the subsequent eight-day inquest, longest in city history.

Testimony brought out that Deadwyler, 25, was rushing his wife Barbara, also 25, to a hospital in the mistaken belief her fifth baby was coming prematurely. She said officer Jerold M. Bova, 23, shot her husband without provocation as he asked for an escort to the hospital.

Bova testified that a sudden lurch of Deadwyler's car threw him off balance and caused him to reflex, unintentionally firing the fatal shot.

Subsequently a coroner's jury — including a Negro man — ruled the shooting an accidental homicide.

BUILDINGS DAMAGED
Of the 1,000 buildings either damaged or destroyed in the August riots, only a handful — perhaps four dozen, a city official estimates — have been repaired or rebuilt.

A $98,000 feasibility study for a possible $16.5-million urban renewal program has hung fire because of a federal freeze on California urban renewal funds after the 1964 passage of Proposition 13, a measure that nullified the state's Rumford Fair Housing Act. Proposition 13 was ruled unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court May 10, thus giving the redevelopment study a green light after nine months.

ROUTINE ARREST
All it took to ignite the fires of August, the most massive race riot in the nation's history, was a routine drunken driving arrest.

For six shocking days, as many as 10,000 enraged Negroes rioted through an area of 50 square miles. All available police power and 14,000 National Guard troops finally quelled the destructive orgy, after clamping a rigid curfew over the riot area and repeatedly scouring the streets block by block to disperse angry mobs.

The costly carnage: 34 killed, 1,032 injured, 3,952 arrested, $40 million in property loss.

DISCONTENT
Evidence that Negro discontent is not confined to south-central Los Angeles was provided April 16 by more than 100 Negroes in Pasadena, who resisted violently as police tried to disperse a crowd. The battle was a short one, with little damage and few injuries, and waned in three hours, but here, too, the city realized its Negroes could brood, with serious implications, over a seemingly cut-and-dried episode.

How has this condition evolved in Southern California, long regarded as a Negro's paradise, so alluring that Negroes still flock in from the South at the rate of 2,000 a month?

Actually, civil rights leaders predicted long before August that Negro endurance was being strained to the breaking point.

The Human Relations Commission, in a study released only two months before the riots, laid out these statistics: The county's Negro population, only 75,000 in 1940, rose from 217,881 in 1950 to 461,546 in 1960 — 111.8 per cent — and the city's Negro ranks rose from 171,209 to 334,916 in the same period — 95.6 per cent. There are now an estimated 720,000 Negroes in the county and about 430,000 in the city.

Most Negro newcomers to Los Angeles land in 3.3-square-mile Watts, where the population is 98 per cent Negro, at a density of 27.3 persons per acre, compared with the county average of 7.4.

WATTS IS CORE
With Watts as a core, the Negro district broadens south and west to the Pacific Ocean, becoming more and more a darkening ghetto as whites leave.

The commission study revealed a startling fact of Negro life in Los Angeles: In 1960, only 8,753 Negroes lived elsewhere than in the central district, and by far the most of these lived in segregated areas in San Pedro, Venice and Pacoima. In 1960, an additional 12,297 Negroes lived outside the central district, but 10,860 had simply joined those three small ghettos.

Because wages are higher here than in the South, and because discrimination in public places was rooted out years ago, Negroes come expecting an abundant, happy life in Southern California. To a degree, many achieve it.

GHETTOS
—But they have also found some disappointments. The ghetto character of Negro housing imposes a de facto segregation condition on schools, churches and virtually facets of the Negro child's world.

Negroes receive, on the average, markedly lower wages than do whites of the same educational level, the commission pointed out, and at the same time often have to pay more for poorer rental housing.

When the riots were over, the Governor's or McCone — Commission probing them said: "It stands to reason that what we and other cities have been doing, costly as it all has been, is not enough. Improving the conditions of Negro life will demand adjustments on a scale unknown to any great society."

"The consequences of inaction, indifference and inadequacy, we can all be sure now, would be far costlier in the long run than the cost of correction."

That observation haunts community leaders today, as they strive to convince a skeptical core of Negroes soon enough that progress really is being made.

There has been a marked decrease in Negro criticism of the police department in recent months. The department, following the recommendation of the McCone report, stepped up its community relations program to explain its role, ask cooperation and promise impartial attention to complaints.

The antipoverty program, despite controversy among officials over its operation, has nevertheless continued quietly to spend millions of dollars among the poor.

BACKGROUND
What, then, is the negative background against which these positive developments are taking place, balancing off the progress as summer approaches?

—The McCone report itself has proved to be a divisive factor between the white and black communities. Some dissenting members of the commission attacked the report, claiming their contributions had been "toned down" and reworked to support the alleged biases of John Alex McCone, 63, former head of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Central Intelligence Agency and a Republican.

The net effect has been the creation of a widespread distrust among Negroes that the McCone report and its recommendations really take the Negro grievance to heart. "That report was just a whitewash job for the city," many Negroes say now. "That commission just toed the line for the power structure."

—Increasing agitation and proselytizing by a number of growing black nationalist groups.

—Confusion and disillusion in the federal antipoverty program.
