Prospects Bright For Space Trip

Gemini 10 Flight Covers 14 Different Experiments

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — "Frankly, the mission has everything in it but the kitchen sink. It should be three days jam-packed with interesting operations." That was Navy Cmdr. John W. Young describing the flight of Gemini 10, scheduled to start Monday afternoon from Cape Kennedy. Young and his spacewalking flying companion, Air Force Maj. Michael Collins, are to rocket skyward at 5:21 p.m. EST to start a space adventure that calls for: LINK UP A rendezvous and linkup with an Agena satellite to be launched 100 minutes earlier than Gemini 10. A trick rendezvous with a "dead bird" satellite—an Agena left in space after the Gemini 8 flight last March. Two 55-minute work sessions outside the orbiting space ship by Collins. ### Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

About the most spectacular thing happening in town during a hot week was that work on Main Street. Between Second and Third, it was looking like it did nearly 40 years ago, before the "canal" was dug and paving put in. Bit machines were working rapidly, and a lot of onlookers were trying to envision what the complete job will look like. One thing, the sides of the canal won't be so steep.

Tragedy struck our area, and in so doing struck at home. Charles L. Wilson, one of four persons who died when their private plane crashed on a landing approach at Andrews, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Wilson, 2500 Seminole. He was reared here and moved only two years ago to Andrews. The Texas & Pacific Railway Company has filed its application to discontinue passenger service. The Texas Railroad Commission, in a stroke aimed more at the convenience of the carrier than its constituency, set (See THE WEEK, P. 4-A, C. 1) orbit to a record altitude of perhaps 480 miles by firing the powerful Agena rocket engine. Exposure of the astronauts to a heavier radiation than any previous spaceman. A total of 14 different scientific, engineering and technological experiments. STUDY FLIGHT PLAN Young and Collins Saturday spent several hours studying the intricate flight plan and ran through some of the procedures

Girl Missing In Mine Shaft

CALUMET, Mich. (AP) — A girl fell into an abandoned mine shaft and vanished Saturday in the heart of Michigan's rugged copper country. Four hours later, a rescue worker, lowered 60 feet into the pit, said there was no sign of Ruth Ann Miller, 7. Ruth Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Taylor of Calumet, fell into the shaft about noon while playing with her brother, Gary, 10, near the shaft's opening. Ruth Ann is Mrs. Taylor's daughter by a previous marriage. The mine is owned by Calumet & Hecla Mining Co. which was celebrating the 100th anniversary of its founding when the tragedy occurred. Some 10,000 to 15,000 persons were attending a centennial parade and other festivities when the accident was reported by Gary. Michigan state police said the girl apparently fell through a small hole in a cap which covered the shaft opening.

Sweden Entry Is Miss Universe

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A typical Nordic beauty, blonde, blue-eyed Margareta Arvidsson of Sweden, was crowned Miss Universe Saturday night. The 18-year-old photographer's model was picked from among 58 of the most beautiful girls in the world at the end of a week of pageantry. First runner-up was Miss Finland, Satu Charlotta Ostrling, 19. Miss Thailand, Cheranand Savetanand of Bangkok, was second runner-up. Miss India, Yasmin Daji, was third runner-up while Miss Israel, Aviva Israeli rounded out the top five.

Ex-Convict Is Charged

CHICAGO (AP) — A coast-to-coast hunt began Saturday for a tattooed ex-convict named in a murder warrant as the methodical butcher of eight student nurses. Police Supt. O. W. Wilson said fingerprints lifted from the blood-spattered town house where the massacre occurred last Thursday matched those of Richard B. Speck. Miss Corazon Amurao, the only survivor of the massacre, also identified Speck from a coin-machine photograph. Police found the photo in files at the Maritime Union Hall, a block from the town house, where they said Speck had tried a few days before the murders to get a job on a boat sailing down the Mississippi River to New Orleans. An hour after the state

Also Suspected In Barmaid's Death

Monmouth, Ill. police said Speck also was wanted for questioning there in connection with the murder of a barmaid last April. Speck has a brother in Monmouth and had been questioned by police there after a series of burglaries. Texas prison records list Speck's wife and mother, at a Dallas address. A woman at the address, who said she was the Speck's stepmother, said none of the family had seen him in four months. Chicago Police Supt. Wilson said his detectives had found 42 fingerprints at the house which he said were Speck's. He said the print used to identify him was taken from the wooden door of the bedroom where the nine girls had been herded and trussed, and eight of them dragged by the killer one by one to their deaths in other rooms of the house. The eight were strangled and stabbed repeatedly. The ninth, Miss Amurao, saved her life by wriggling under a bunk bed during one of the killer's absences. Wilson said Speck was seen in Chicago as late as 9 p.m. Friday. He was registered at a hotel on North Dearborn Street near Chicago's Loop — more than 10 miles from the scene of the massacre.

Saw A 'Portrait' Of Himself

He might have left the city after seeing in the newspapers what was virtually a portrait of him," Wilson said. He referred to a police artist's sketch, drawn from Miss Amurao's description of the killer. Wilson said police files show that Speck had worked at various times as a laborer, trucker's helper, bakery worker and construction helper. He also was known by the aliases of Richard Franklin Lindberg and Benjamin Speck. Records in Monmouth, Ill.

First Sentenced To Jail In Texas

Speck first went to jail in Texas on charges of forgery and burglary. Other arrests were on charges of disturbing the peace and malicious destruction. Jack Heard, an official at Huntsville Prison in Texas, said Speck had a good record there. "His adjustment here and his record here were clear," Heard said. "There was no problem with him while he was in prison here and no disciplinary action was taken." The massacre, one of the most hideous mass murders in the memory of veteran police officers, shocked the city and

60 Men Worked Around The Clock

Wilson praised the police without regard to personal hours spent in this grueling process. A force of 60 detectives, headed by Capt. Michael Spiotto, deputy chief of detectives, has worked around the clock since the discovery of the slain girls early Thursday.

Young Suspect Has Long Crime Record In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — A 25-year-old troublemaker, who advertised himself as "born to raise hell," became the object of a nationwide manhunt tonight as the accused slayer of eight Chicago nurses. The man known by many names was charged in Chicago as Richard B. Speck. His list of felonies and misdemeanors filled pages of Dallas crime records.

The tall, acne-scarred Speck had a tattoo, "born to raise hell," emblazoned on one arm. He favors tattoos, hard booze, fighting, forgery and burglary. BACK TO PRISON A judge sent Speck to the penitentiary once, and the police grabbed him a week after his parole for attempted attack and robbery of a Dallas woman with a knife. They sent him back to prison.

All Bail Out As Plane Crashes

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A C119 troop transport plane crashed and burned Saturday night but apparently every man bailed out and was picked up without a serious injury, the Navy said. The sheriff's office said it had accounted for 29 of the 27 passengers and 3 crewmen. And Lt. Cmdr. Ralph McClure said he believed that everybody was safe. "It's unbelievable," he said.

The plane crashed in a pastureland 17 miles west of downtown Jacksonville and two miles north of U.S. 90, a main east-west highway across northern Florida. It was flying from Brookley Air Force Base at Mobile, Ala., to Cecil Field at Jacksonville.

He had been out of the penitentiary only a year when the nurses were slain. Police said 32 of Speck's fingerprints were found in the nurses' quarters. Shortly before dusk, the hunt centered on a line from Amarillo, where a man fitting the description was seen, to his former haunts in Dallas. Speck first went to the penitentiary on charges of possession of a forged instrument—three concurrent sentences. His final prison release was June 2, 1965.

RELATIVES

At the prison, Speck listed his nearest relatives as Mrs. Shirley Annette Speck, his wife, of Dallas. His mother, Mary Margaret Speck, lived at the same address. Speck served time at several units of the Texas prison, including the Ferguson unit, about 20 miles north of Huntsville, where he worked on the unit's construction; at the Wynn Unit, about three miles north of Huntsville, where he also did construction work. When his parole was revoked he was sent to the Darrington Unit, about 25 miles south of Houston where he did manual labor.

A woman at the Speck address, Mrs. Estelle Miller, who identified herself as Speck's stepmother, said none of the family had seen him in four months.

Asked if he appeared as usual then, Mrs. Miller replied, "Yes, he acted natural. . . he's natural." Mrs. Miller said both Speck's sister, Mrs. Shirley Annette Wilson, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Margaret Speck Lindberg "are sick now and I don't want to bother them." Sheriff Decker said the man "is covered with tattoos."

Among the offenses attributed to Speck, on the records, although not all dispositions are shown are: Disturbing the peace, malicious destruction under $50, investigation of forgery, burglary, passing of forged instruments, and destruction of private property. ON BULLETIN As late as March 8 this year, Detective H. L. McGee of the Dallas police circulated a wanted bulletin. The instance of charges of assault on a female came Jan. 9 last year. The woman involved was Sarah Wadsworth, 28. She said she parked her car at the rear of her apartment when she came home from bowling and Speck grabbed her as she got out of her car early in the morning. The woman said a carving knife was put to her neck and she was told that if she screamed, she would be killed. But she screamed and fell to the ground, the records show, and a man across the alley also cried out, and the man fled.

Full War Talked If Fliers Executed

WASHINGTON (AP) — It became increasingly apparent Saturday that should Hanoi execute captured American fliers, President Johnson would be brought under intense pressure to destroy North Viet Nam — even at the risk of bringing on an all-out conventional war. This probability was underscored by the grim statements of several senators. The hard-line sentiment was typified by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga. and chairman of the Armed Services Committee, who warned Hanoi leaders that executions "will bring about the application of power that will make a desert of their country."

GRAVE ACTION

Others used terms nearly as strongly — and going, by implication, far beyond earlier demands for heavier bombing of military targets and closing of the port of Haiphong. It was learned that the United States has told Hanoi through unspecified diplomatic channels that any trials would be a very grave action. Whatever the President might feel compelled to do in ordering short of nuclear war retaliation, it is the private opinion of some influential congressional leaders that if they execute American fliers the North Vietnamese will have shot down the last hope for effective domestic support of a negotiated peace without military victory.

That was the consensus behind the unusual appeal by 18 Senate Democratic doves Friday to the Hanoi government not to abandon "the last remnants of reason" and thus invite "the gravest reprisals."

Twelve House Democrats Saturday joined in supporting the senators' statement. Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., who has opposed escalation of the war, predicted that if the prisoners are killed "the American people will demand the complete destruction of North Viet Nam."

LAST STRAW In a statement read to the Senate by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, the 18 senators said execution of the fliers "would drastically reduce the influence of all those in the United States who have tried to curtail the fighting."

This was a tacit admission by the so-called doves, as Church labeled the signers, that Hanoi could accomplish what Johnson himself has failed to do — silence most of them. The Senate Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, said in a statement execution of the captured fliers would be "an act of shocking and senseless cruelty which will reap its own harvest of retribution."

Like the 18 senators, Mansfield stressed his belief that such an act would make it extremely difficult to restore

ATTIRE AT LUCI'S WEDDING

Cutaway And 'Pink-Pink'

WASHINGTON (AR) — President Johnson, who spurred a cutaway for his inauguration, will wear one for his daughter Luci's formal pink and white wedding at high noon Aug. 6. The White House announced Saturday wedding attire for the President, bridegroom Patrick J. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., and 24 attendants. It included Luci's selection of floor-length Priscilla of Boston bridesmaids gowns in many blending shades of pink moire, worn with matching head-to-floor-length illusion (delicate net lace) veils. And, the decision of Nugent and White House social secretary Bess Abell that male members of the wedding party would wear the traditional oxford gray cutaway coats, striped gray and black trousers, wing collars, pearl gray single breasted vests and gray and black striped ascots. The President made his stand against cutaway formality at his 1965 noontime inaugural in favor of a business suit. Luci, 19, picked her own elegant, long, white bridal gown weeks ago. But its design and description is being kept secret until the wedding day. Luci selected the bridesmaids' dresses with two practical motives: 1—They had to be dresses that could be worn again and 2—Everything had to be "within a budget the bridesmaids could afford." Mrs. Carpenter noted that bridesmaids traditionally buy their own dresses and Luci's bridesmaids will be no exception. As to how much it might cost, Mrs. Carpenter dodged with the comment "Have you no romance? We don't put a price tag on romance!" The 10 bridesmaids' gowns are a bright pink moire, described by the White House as "pink-pink." Their veils are contrasting pale pink. The gowns of Luci's sister, Lynda, 22, the maid of honor, and matron of honor, Susan Murfee Ray, 23, a close friend from Hale Center, Tex., will be in paler, frosted pink, a rainbow of three shades, with veils in shades of pink.

Luci's wedding gown has long, slim flowing lines. The high neckline has a rolled "wedding-ring" shape that also is carried out at the edges of the semi-length sleeves and floor-length hemline. The bodice is a molded silhouette, easing into a stemline-shaped skirt. For ease in walking — and the bridal party has to negotiate a 400-foot aisle in the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception — the skirt flows slightly in the back. The White House, getting queries about what the guests should wear, said male guests are expected to wear business suits — not cutaways — and the women should wear ensembles appropriate for the noontime occasion which is not formal.

Dodd Friend Will Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — Julius Klein, a high-pressure public relations man with a liking for testimonials from senators, is to testify Tuesday at a Senate hearing on misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd.

The hearings were recessed June 27 to await Klein's return from Germany. When he arrived in New York by ship Wednesday, he said he was looking forward to the opportunity to appear and testify under oath.

"I will answer any question put to me," said Klein, 64, owner of a Chicago public relations firm and a registered agent for West German business interests.

Bad Driving Due To Bring Penalty Rate

DALLAS (AP) — Texans will be penalized with higher insurance rates if they get bad driving records in the months ahead, a state official has predicted.

William Hunter-McLean said Friday he expects the staff of the State Board of Insurance to present a detailed plan for the penalty rate program, probably within the coming week.

McLean, chairman of the SBI, spoke before a luncheon meeting of the Dallas Association of Insurance Agents. "We'll make the announcement, I would hope, within the next week or 10 days," he said.

He said the other commissioners, Durwood Manford and Ned Price, also favor such a program.

The chairman told the insurance agents that it would be at least a year before the actual rate adjustments become effective. Penalties, he said, would be based on accidents or traffic violations during the year previous to the rate adjustments.

He said good drivers would enjoy a long range benefit. He explained that careless or inept drivers and lawbreakers would be paying greater penalties and thus a higher proportion of the insurance company take.

Texas drivers would be warned of the provisions of the penalty program a year ahead of time, he said.

GOT GOOD WORDS

The record of the hearing thus far shows that Klein often solicited and frequently received favorable personal estimates from senators.

The bipartisan ethics committee is looking into charges that Dodd made a six-day trip to West Germany in April, 1964, to help Klein hang onto his clients there by putting in a good word for him with German leaders. This was one of many charges made against Dodd in a series of articles by columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson.

Dodd, the last witness heard by the committee before its recess, swore that the sole purpose of his trip was to investigate the Soviet terror apparatus for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Justice's Fourth Wife Is Only 23

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The fourth bride in the life of U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas is a blonde, blue-eyed college sociology major from Portland, Ore., who is 44 years his junior.

The 67-year-old jurist and Cathleen Curran Heffernan, 23, repeated marriage vows in a friend's home in suburban Ennis Friday night at a small private ceremony, friends said.

They planned to honeymoon in the Pacific Northwest, where Douglas has a home in the Goose Prairie area near Yakima, Wash.

Word of the impending marriage came as a surprise Friday — the same day his third wife, Joan C. Martin, 26, who divorced the jurist last June 24,

Scouts Detail Trip For Club

Three members of a Big Spring Sea Scout troop who completed a five-day trip on foot through Colorado's rugged country around Durango presented colored slides of their expedition for members of the American Business Club at that organization's luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel.

The three boys were Johnny Gibson, Jerry Kelly and Donnie Purdie, who took turns at describing the hardships and the pleasures of the trip, which was completed last month.

ABC members got another fine financial report from the professional wrestling show, which they helped promote here last week.

Including the sale of concessions, the organization grossed $1,024.70 as its share of the promotion. ABC prexy Morris Robertson said several hundred dollars would be subtracted from that figure to meet expenses of the show.

The club is planning a third such show for the night of Thursday, Aug. 4.

Only guest present for the luncheon was Tejan Cunningham.

PEOPLE UNAWARE OF A MONEY CRISIS

British Troubles Are Well Covered Up

LONDON (AP) — Britain is jammed. So are gambling, casinos. Betting shops report business is fine and race tracks are crowded.

All the signs of booming prosperity are there. And that's the problem Prime Minister Harold Wilson faces how to bring home to the British people their dire economic straits.

Repeated appeals for a return to "The Spirit of Dunkerque" have gone unheeded and Wilson was forced to clamp down last week the tightest credit squeeze since World War II. But financial experts say it isn't enough.

Car Radio Units For Civil Defense

Two new Civil Defense radio units have been installed in city public works vehicles.

The units will operate on a frequency of 154.98 megacycles, and cost $1,270, of which the city paid $635 as its share, said W. D. Berry, city Civil Defense director.

Another CD set was installed in the City of Forsan vehicle and cost $875.

The local Civil Defense program had their annual federal audit last week. Conducting the audit was Vernon Russell, of the federal auditing department, of the office of Civil Defense, and Douglas Kyle, state civil defense officer.

At the same time the breakup of the old British Empire left this country with a host of military and economic assistance commitments around the world that cost Britain $14 billion a year—money that British industry is earning in ever-decreasing amounts.

And the British consumer's taste for foreign products, has sharpened so that this nation is buying more than it is selling abroad.

Today Britain owes abroad the totality of its reserves of gold and convertible currency, Wilson's ministers are working against time preparing a list of new measures to cut government expenses, especially overseas military, assure a better distribution of scarce skilled workers, cut demand and purchasing power at home, and chasing exports.

Most experts agree however, that what is needed most of all is a psychological shock to bring home to the people the depth of the crisis. This may come in a government-decreed freeze of prices, dividends and wages.

The planned deflation may bring widespread unemployment.

Wilson warned the nation Thursday further drastic measures will follow shortly and said before leaving for Moscow Saturday that a "prepared package" will be presented when he returns Tuesday.

What's wrong? Britain is a highly industrialized trading nation. It depends for its living on the sale abroad of the product of its factories. But many factories have been slow to modernize, workers have opposed installation of labor-saving machinery, and restrictive practices by management and union have become almost commonplace.

The result prices of British goods have soared in an increasingly competitive world

Efficiency at the TSO Contact Lens Laboratory—what it means to you

At TSO, contact lenses are given special attention. We have a separate laboratory specifically designed for processing them. It was in this laboratory that our research program developed the famous TSO Micro-Sight contact lens with the exclusive multi-curve lens design and the special edge-beveling process. It is in this laboratory that each TSO lens undergoes eight (8) separate, precision inspections during processing. This almost fanatical attention to accuracy has contributed greatly to our excellent reputation in the field of contact lenses. To date, we have successfully fitted over 50,000 patients. You might ask what materials are used to make contact lenses. Just one, the finest optical-grade acrylic plastic. It is ideal for contact lenses because it is shatterproof and it processes and finishes exceptionally well—so well that we are able to say that a typical TSO patient readily achieves minimum adaptation time and maximum wearing comfort. Because of the efficiency of our processing techniques, we are able to offer our Micro-Sight contact lenses at unusually reasonable cost. Just $70 for single vision contact lenses, complete with examination and fittings. Bifocal lenses are also available at reasonable cost. Convenient credit at no extra cost. Visit TSO soon and find out for yourself, the facts about TSO Micro-Sight contact lenses.

Jury Gives Lamar 25 Year Sentence

A jury in 118th District Court, agreed, in principle, that Allen Lamar, 27-year-old Fort Worth Negro, merited stern punishment for robbery of a local grocer, but divided on the number of years he should be sent to prison, debated the issue for 10 hours Thursday night and Friday.

Finally, just a short time before Judge Ralph Caton contemplated excusing the panel from further deliberation, because there seemed to be no hope of agreement, the nine men and three women advise the court they had reached a decision.

Their verdict was: "Twenty-five years at hard labor in the Texas State Penitentiary."

The penalty could have been anything from five years to life. Some of the jurors, who were interrogated after they had been discharged, said the stumbling block which had held off their decision had been whether to give the defendant 15 years — as was the wish of some of the panel — or life, which was the desire of the other members.

There had been a time, they said, when the jury was split four ways. Later on, the division changed to 8 and 4. This was just an hour before the embattled jurors got together on the 25 year sentence.

Lamar had conducted most of his own defense, refusing the services of a court-appointed attorney. However, in the fading hours of the trial, he asked if R. H. Weaver, the attorney named to represent him, take over the cross examination of some hostile witnesses the defense had subpoenaed.

The man was charged with having held up the Ashley Grocery here June 14. Another Negro, Carlee Allen, is also under indictment in the same robbery. His case had been docketed to follow that of Lamar, but time ran out in the court before the matter could be reached.

He is in the county jail and was a witness for his partner in the trial last week.

Lamar had accepted the conviction verdict — returned in 57 minutes Thursday afternoon — with equanimity. He had displayed calmness and outward concern in the long wait while the panel pondered his sentence.

However, when the foreman of the jury, Troy White, handed the verdict to the court clerk, Fern Cox, who read "Twenty-five years," Lamar was obviously dismayed.

He walked quietly staring at the floor along the corridor with the deputy sheriff and entered the elevator to take him back to his jail cell.

He has 10 days, if he wants to claim them, before he can be sentenced. He could ask for a new trial and even give notice of appeal. No announcement was made of his plans.

The jurors, somewhat wearied with their long ordeal, were Carroll T. Cannon, Bobby J. Nobles, Mrs. Nellie Weaver, Donald L. Grissom, J. H. Herbert, D. O. Wortham, G. W. Dunnam, Beatrice Noll, Mrs. John Hodges, W. C. Ross, D. J. Hopper and White.

Both Judge Caton and Wayne Burns, district attorney, expressed satisfaction with the week's work. Caton was pleased that two capital cases had been cleared from the docket. Earlier in the week, Elyre Thomas, charged with the murder of Louise William Ross, was found guilty and his punishment fixed at five years in the state penitentiary.

Three defendants also pleaded guilty to reduce the criminal docket still further.

No plans for another criminal jury in the near future have been made. How long it will be before the court can try Carlee Allen, Lamar's co-defendant, was not known.

Hospitals Ready To Act Quickly On Malaria

Veterans hospitals throughout the nation have been directed to admit any recently discharged veteran without waiting for an eligibility determination if the man thinks he may be suffering from malaria, VA hospital administrators announced today.

Donald D. Van Meter, director of the local VA hospital, advised such veterans who have been home for 100 days or less to be on the alert for any symptoms of this disease. He said the medical departments of the Armed Forces have found an increase of malaria in personnel returning to the United States from duty in Southeast Asia.

If malaria is diagnosed, treatment will begin immediately at the nearest VA or military hospital, Van Meter said.

BUT THE WORST IS YET TO COME

Sharp Opposition To Water Plan

By TOM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

Opposition to the proposed $3.7 billion state water plan has been sharp in the first month of hearings but the worst is yet to come.

Hearings began at Longview in East Texas in June and will wind up in late August at Amarillo and Lubbock, situated on the West Texas High Plains.

East Texas critics say the plan would take too much of their water away. Those in West Texas have indicated they will say the plan, although nominally statewide in concept, would leave them high and dry.

WEST TEXAS

The master plan also suggests that water might be obtained for upper West Texas from the Colorado, Columbia and Missouri rivers.

The strongest criticism so far came Monday at Arlington at a hearing on the Trinity River basin.

Both Dallas and Houston, the state's largest cities, vigorously attacked the proposal as it now stands.

Dallas said the plan was "inadequate" and would force the Dallas-Fort Worth area to make "tremendous expenditures" to meet its provisions.

Houston charged that the plan would disrupt existing projects for municipal and industrial needs, and urged the Texas Water Development Board "not to interfere."

DIVERSION

The board announced the sweeping plan in May. It calls for the diversion of massive quantities of Northeast Texas water to South Texas via a 980-mile system in order to meet the state's water needs through the year 2020.

Joe G. Moore Jr., executive director of the board, has maintained throughout the hearings that the plan "should be considered as a 'flexible guide for the future.'"

The main complaints so far have been that the proposal does not adequately anticipate future population and industrial growth, that it would interfere with existing plans, and that it would inundate valuable farm and ranch land.

It would "make ditches of natural streams and mud banks of our rivers," charged Mrs. Margaret Hill Hancock of Austin at a hearing in Paris. She is president of the Conservation Federation of Texas, interested in preserving animal and vegetable life.

SOME SUPPORT

There has also been support for the plan, but the opposition has been considerably more vocal.

John W. Simmons, a recognized water expert and general manager of the Texas Sabine River Authority, said in Longview that the plan was "a reasonable approach" although not perfect.

Simmons praised the board for "a magnificent job" and said he hoped the plan would not become just "another volume in a desk drawer."

Robert M. Bass of Henderson said the plan would take too much authority away from the Sabine River Authority.

NOT AGREED

Sen. Jack Strong of Longview said he would work with the board even though he was not "totally agreed with the plan."

A group of Mount Pleasant citizens praised the plan at a hearing in their city. At the same time, Franklin Jones Sr. of Marshall said the plan's projected growth rates for his area were too low.

And B. A. Clements Jr., a

Water Project

Longview rancher, said the proposal would allow people in the big cities to drink water in the sacrifice of Northeast Texas farms.

Fred Parke of Wichita Falls, general manager of the Red River Authority of Texas, said in Paris that the board should study the possibility of using the Red River to divert water from East Texas to West Texas.

OPPOSED IDEA
Officials from Sherman and

Denison opposed the idea of taking water from Lake Texoma and pumping it into the Trinity basin, as is envisioned in the plan.

Some Fannin County landowners said they opposed the plan because it would flood valuable farm and ranch land.

At Nacogdoches, the board was told that residents of the Neches basin would support the plan if it were revised to leave them enough water for future growth.

Perhaps the warmest support for the plan was heard at Beaumont, where the Chamber of Commerce and spokesmen from the Lower Neches Valley enthusiastically endorsed the proposal.

But Beaumont Mayor Jack Moore said a proposed salt water barrier would cause the city's water supply to be polluted by brackish water.

PROBLEMS

Mrs. Cleve Bachman complained that not enough study was given to biological and ecological considerations. She said fishing below some existing dams is already poor, and that feared pollution and lack of oxygen in river water would cause serious biological problems.

At the Arlington hearing, Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston were joined by representatives of the Trinity Improvement Association and the Trinity River Authority in opposition to the plan.

The authority said the plan would have a "detrimental effect upon the future growth and development of the Trinity River watershed."

An association spokesman said:

"We are greatly concerned that the plan fails to envision the provide for projected industrial growth in water demand."

INADEQUATE
He added that the plan is "either inadequate or in conflict with other important programs within the basin," and that it needs which will increase navigation on the Trinity.

U. S. Rep. George Mahon, speaking at a preliminary board meeting in Lubbock in June, said he was "alarmed and disappointed" that the plan in effect left West Texas out of its provisions.

"Our economic future is wrapped up in what we are discussing," he added.

The next hearing on the plan is in Abilene on Monday.

Proposed applications for the community mental health clinic demonstration project will be reviewed Aug. 11 by a mental health consultant coming to Big Spring from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Big Spring State Hospital officials announced Saturday.

A spokesman for the hospital said that all data that has been collected on the project has been used to prepare a rough draft of the grant application. Letters of endorsement still are needed and may be sent to Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, Big Spring State Hospital. A re-writing of the application will be held at a later date in a conference among hospital staff, the authors of the grant and interested representatives from the community.

WILL U.S. COURT AGREE? Texas Supreme Court Left Some Questions Unanswered

By ROBERT HEARD

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court gave two reasons Wednesday why some counties may not have to follow the "one man, one vote" doctrine in drawing boundary lines for commissioners precincts.

—The County Commissioners Courts have few legislative functions.

—Rural areas will have no voice if the precinct division is based strictly on population.

DEBATABLE
It is debatable whether the U.S. Supreme Court would accept either of these reasons.

The "one man, one vote" rule was established in 1964 by the U.S. Supreme Court for legislative and congressional redistricting. The court based its ruling on the federal constitutional requirement of "equal protection under the laws."

The Texas Supreme Court said last week this does not necessarily apply on the county level. The legislative functions of a County Commissioners Court "are negligible and otherwise comparable to the legislature of a state or to the federal congress where the 'one man, one vote' principle is asserted in its most exacting and compelling sense," the court said.

WOULD IT?
Would the U.S. Supreme Court agree that it makes a difference whether the commissioners court's functions are legislative or administrative? If the electoral college had been set up by Congress instead of the Constitution, and if it were mal-apportioned relative to population, would the U.S. Supreme Court say that was all right because the college's only function was to elect the president and vice president and they are administrators, not legislators?

On its second reason, the Texas Supreme Court said: "The voice of the rural areas will be lost for all practical purposes if the commissioners precincts of counties are apportioned solely on a population basis. Yet, important affairs of the county administered by the Commissioners Court—such as roads, bridges, taxable values of large land areas—disproportionately concern the rural areas."

OPPONENTS
Opponents of "one man, one vote" argued before the U.S. Supreme Court two years ago that states should be allowed to set up their senates on bases other than population, like the U.S. Senate.

But the court said the U.S. Senate was set up in the federal Constitution, a compact between sovereign states.

In the majority opinion in the legislative redistricting suit, Chief Justice Earl Warren said: "Political subdivisions of states—counties, cities or whatever—never were and never have been considered as sovereign entities. Rather they have been traditionally regarded as subordinate government instrumentalities created by the state to assist in carrying out of state governmental functions."

The Texas Supreme Court said there are other important factors to consider besides population, such as roads, bridges, taxable values of large land areas.

BY VOTERS
But Warren said: "Legislators represent people, not trees or acres. Legislators are elected by voters, not farms or cities or economic interests."

It is not inconceivable that the U.S. Supreme Court could use the same paragraph, substituting commissioners for legislators, in extending the "one man, one vote" rule to counties.

A recent survey by the University of Texas Institute of Public Affairs shows Texas has at least 88 counties in which more than half the population is in only one of the four county commissioners precincts.

Most of these are rural counties, but some have urban centers, including Webb, Victoria, Nueces, Lubbock, Hale, Brazoria, Angelina and Midland counties.

More than 95 per cent of the population of Midland County is represented by one commissioner. It was the redistricting of Midland County that the Texas Supreme Court held invalid Wednesday.

But the high court disagreed with the Midland District Court order that the county be redistricted "substantially" along population lines.

Marines Hit Reds, More Jets Blast Missile Sites

MANY DEAD
The Marines said they have counted 62 Communist dead and believed 56 others have been killed. Their own casualties were reported light. But five U.S. Navy Secretary Paul H. Nitze, winding up a six-day tour of Viet Nam, contributed to a flow of optimistic statements voiced lately by both South Vietnamese and American officials.

U.S. Air Force raiders who struck at 31 staging and storage areas near Dong Hoi, 40 miles north of the border, reported they had set off more than 50 fires and 27 secondary explosions such as would come from ignited stocks of oil or ammunition.

Against a Hanoi claim that seven planes had been shot down, the U.S. command stuck by its announcement at the time that one was lost. This was a Navy A4 Skyhawk, the 291st American plane acknowledged destroyed in the 17-month-old campaign.

Kosygin Greets Wilson

Harold Wilson In Moscow For Peace Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson arrived in Moscow on Saturday to make new efforts at bringing peace to Viet Nam despite the failure here of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India. Mrs. Gandhi, who left an hour before Wilson arrived, told a news conference that Soviet leaders had turned down her proposal to reconvene the 1954 Geneva peace conference. Soviet Premier Alexi N. Kosygin, talking separately to reporters, said he explained to her "our position — that American aggression should be stopped and all foreign troops withdrawn."

Wilson announced his three-day Moscow visit after American bombings of oil facilities in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas produced Soviet warnings that the Vietnamese war had entered a new and dangerous phase. So far, the Kremlin has indicated no interest in talking peace in Viet Nam with Wilson and has treated his visit as if the sole purpose were his tour Sunday of the British Trade Fair.

The prime minister was given a minimal welcome, ostensibly because he is making a working visit. Kosygin turned out to greet him and a British spokesman said later the leaders talked for 45 minutes riding in from the airport.

Rape, Assault, Robbery On Police List

Police records for the month of June indicate that officers made one arrest for forcible rape, one for robbery and one for assault with a knife.

Of 23 burglaries reported, police made eight arrests, two of which were juveniles. This figure included 15 forcible entries with six arrests, three unlawful entries with two arrests, and five attempted entries with no arrests.

Thirty cases of larceny and theft were reported, with one case cleared by arrest. Ten cases were reported for theft of $50 or over, and 20 for under $50.

There were two auto thefts reported, both cars were recovered, but no arrests were made. Seventy arrests were made for being drunk and $1,920 in fines assessed, which compares with 109 arrests for June of last year. So far this year 281 such arrests have been made, to compare with 277 last year at this time.

Six arrests were made for infractions, $150 assessed, with 12 arrests so far this year, as compared with three at this time last year; eight arrests for minor in possession, $445 assessed, six arrests last month, 20 so far this year, and 30 at this time last year; and 175 arrests for moving violations, $1,934 assessed, 250 arrests last month, 736 so far this year, and 435 at this time last year.

Corporation Court cash receipts were $4,018 for June, with $1,550 in jail layouts.

Youths Taken After Chase

Police arrested three youths early Saturday morning after a chase that involved speeds in excess of 130 miles per hour.

A 19-year-old man and his two companions, ages 19 and 18, were clocked on the 1500 block of East 4th driving 100 m.p.h. in a 45 m.p.h. zone, officers said.

The chase ended one half mile south of IS 29 on the Midway road when the fleeing driver wrecked his car. No one was hurt, and the three men were charged with speeding and being in possession of intoxicants. They were released on $100 bond.

An accident at 20th and Gregg injured one person when a motorcycle driven by Charles H. Keeran, 305 E. 10th, collided with a car driven by John Davis West, Route 1. Keeran was taken to Hall-Bennet Memorial Hospital where he underwent surgery on his leg, and is reported in satisfactory condition.

Other accidents in which no one was hurt include the cars of James Lewis, 702 Marcy, and Charles Boadel, 706 N. Lancaster, at 500 Gregg; the cars of Mary Elaine Biffar, 605 Johnson, and Troy Lynn Williams, 710 Nolan, at Goliad and 20th; the cars of James E. Green, 100 11th "place," and Claude Lessing Day, 4103 Connelly, at 8th and Aylford; and the car of Joe Armendariz, 603 Lancaster, which struck the parked car of Jose R. Miran, Knott Route, at 603 Lancaster.

Texans Killed In Highway Crash

LELAND, Miss. (AP) — Two Texans were killed and a third was injured when their car and a petroleum transport truck collided Saturday south of here.

The dead were Mrs. Ava Sue Calverly Marchand, 18, of Orange, Tex., and her two-year-old daughter Rebecca Maurine. Calvin A. Plunkett of Orange was hospitalized here with serious injuries.

The truck driver escaped injury.

Police On Alert For Suspect In Chicago Deaths

Big Spring is feeling the suspense in the police search for Richard B. Speck, alleged killer of eight student nurses in Chicago, officers said Saturday night.

Police have been receiving numerous reports from persons in the city saying that they have spotted the fugitive. In several cases, police have brought suspects to the station house for identification purposes.

All reports have been checked out negatively so far, officers said. Meanwhile, police in Texas are under a nationwide alert, and Big Spring police are on a special alert since the hunted man's home town is Dallas, and he has been reported in Amarillo heading south.

Texan's Book Challenges Assassination Findings

EDITOR'S NOTE: Although it is more than 7 1/2 years since the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, at least five new books on the subject have been published or are coming out this summer alone. All are critical of the Warren Commission report on the case, and one was written by a Texas newspaper editor, Jerris Jones Jr. of Midlothian. Here is a report.

By TOM JOHNSON
MIDLOTHIAN, Tex. (AP)—A Texas newspaper editor predicts that "more killings are going to be necessary in order to keep this crime quiet."

He is Penn Jones Jr., and "this crime" is the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Jones, editor and publisher of the Midlothian Mirror since 1945, is the only Texas author to join the ranks of writers producing a spate of books this summer critical of the Warren Commission report on the assassination.

This revived interest, coming almost three years after the assassination, has also produced a flood of magazine articles on the subject.

Books already published this summer are "Forgive My Grief" by Jones; "Inquest" by graduate student Edward Jay Epstein of New York; and "Whitewash" by former Senate investigator Harold Weisberg of Washington.

Jones, Epstein and Weisberg do not indulge in spinning unprovable conspiracy theories about the assassination, as did some writers in 1964.

Rather, their efforts rely heavily on the official testimony released by the Warren Commission in September 1964, and on personal investigation.

Jones, whose newspaper is only 19 miles from Dallas, says he has spent thousands of hours "knocking on doors, asking questions" about the murders of Kennedy, Dallas Police- man J. D. Tippit and alleged presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

EVIDENCE QUESTIONED
He adds that careful reading of the commission's 26 volumes of evidence and testimony leads him to conclude that "actions were taken by the commission" to obfuscate the evidence.

Jones' major conclusions are that:

—Oswald and Jack Ruby, his killer, very possibly were acquainted before the assassination.

—Kennedy was shot from the front, not from the back; and —At least 13 persons connected innocently or otherwise with the "assassination principals" have been murdered or found dead under strange circumstances since the Nov. 22 weekend.

The Warren Commission, formed by President Johnson, to find the truth of the assassination, concluded that:

FINDINGS
—Oswald, acting alone, killed Kennedy with rifle shots from behind;

—Oswald and Ruby did not know each other; and —There was no conspiracy, foreign or domestic, involved.

Jones, Epstein and Weisberg all charge that the commission was unduly selective in its choice of evidence in order to make its single assassin conclusion plausible.

Commission testimony also is juxtaposed with results of Jones' own legwork.

He presents a long list of coincidences, culled from the official testimony, which he says should have led commission lawyers time and again to ask "the next most obvious question" of witnesses.

Among these is the fact that Mrs. Earlene Roberts, Oswald's landlady at the time of the assassination, was the sister of a Dallas woman acquainted with Jack Ruby.

Mrs. Roberts, now dead, also testified that a police car pulled up and honked at her rooming house shortly after the assassination, and while Oswald was in his room allegedly changing clothes.

REPORTERS DEAD
Perhaps the most intriguing of such coincidences put forth by Jones is the one involving two reporters who allegedly visited Ruby's apartment the night of Nov. 24, 1963, after Ruby had shot Oswald and was in police custody.

Jones says he has learned that Jim Koethe, Dallas Times Herald reporter, and Bill Hunter, a native of Dallas but working for a Long Beach, Calif., newspaper at the time, went to the apartment after the visit was set up by a Dallas lawyer. Six persons are said to have been present that night.

What the two newsmen learned there, if anything, is not known. Both are now dead. Koethe was found in his Dallas apartment, the victim of a blow to the neck or head. His murder is unsolved.

Hunter's death was officially listed as an accident. He was shot by a policeman who said his pistol discharged while he was practicing "fast draw" at the Long Beach police station press room.

Koethe and Hunter died in 1964, some five months apart. Jones also notes that the first attorney Ruby had after he shot Oswald is also dead, as is the cab driver who drove Oswald to his rooming house immediately after the assassination.

Jones refers to such events as "the string of amazing coincidences."

Wreckage Of U.S. Plane, Hanoi Says

'Phantom Repairmen' Still Calling On Homes In City

Two "phantom" telephone repairmen apparently have paid little attention to an intensive police investigation and widespread newspaper and broadcast publicity.

They are still operating in Big Spring. To add to the already existing confusion, a mysterious grey haired woman has started making a suspicious survey of her own.

Meanwhile police are still baffled as to who or what the "repairmen" are seeking, yet reports of their visits continue to come in.

THE W'S
It was apparent Thursday and Friday that they were adhering to a definite pattern of sorts because every visit reported those two days were to persons whose last name begins with W, including three Walkers.

Friday they evidently abandoned this pattern, and police attribute this to existing publicity concerning the case.

As police try to solve this mystery, no one has been harmed as yet, nor has any known property been taken or damaged.

"We think perhaps they are trying to locate a specific person or thing," one officer said.

WHITE CAR
All reports have given identical descriptions of the two men, who drive a white compact car. M. D. Whitley, 1502 Phillips, described the two men as 19 or 20, about six-foot one-inch tall, and weighing 165-180 pounds. He told officers the short, blond-haired man had "mousy" hair.

James M. Belov, 908 E. 15th, reported someone had taken his wallet from his pants pocket. Officers said he had left his pants in a basket in the men's dressing room of the city swimming pool.

Mrs. Betty Lister, FM 700 and Virginia, told police someone tried to kick in a door at Dell's Ice Cream Parlor Friday night. She said it was the second time entry has been attempted.

Two Thefts On Police Report

Police activity has been relatively quiet in Big Spring since Friday, with only two thefts and an attempted burglary being reported, officers said.

Pat Martinez, 809 Aylford, told officers that $80 in $20 bills had been taken out of her purse, which was under the counter where she works at Margie's Place, 700 Lamesa. She later told officers she had located her money, which had been taken by two youths. No charges were filed.

Mrs. Betty Lister, FM 700 and Virginia, told police someone tried to kick in a door at Dell's Ice Cream Parlor Friday night. She said it was the second time entry has been attempted.

Weather Forecast

Showers and thundershowers are forecast for Sunday in the Southern Atlantic Coast states, the entire Rocky Mountain region and the southern plateau. Fair to partly cloudy skies are expected for the remainder of the nation. It will be warmer in the upper Mississippi Valley. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Hanoi Mobilizes To Give Support To N. Viet Nam

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh Sunday ordered a partial mobilization, and Hanoi told its army to "extend all out support" to the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Ho's mobilization order and a Supreme National Defense Council communique were reported by the North Viet Nam News Agency in a special news transmission monitored in Tokyo.

The agency said Ho promulgated partial mobilization after the standing committee of the national assembly "decided to mobilize part of the reserve officers, noncommissioned officers and army men, and part of the citizens belonging to the reserves of the army."

MORE TROUBLE
In words strongly indicating that Hanoi planned to step up its dispatch of troops to South Viet Nam, the news agency quoted the defense council communique as saying:

"For the sake of our kin-and-kin sentiments and the glorious obligation of the great rear to the great frontline, let the army and people of the north extend all-out support to the patriotic resistance war of our southern compatriots."

In his 800 word statement, Ho declared:

"The U.S. aggressors have brazenly launched air attacks on North Viet Nam in an attempt to get out of the quagmire in the south and to impose on us 'negotiation' on their terms."

NO FALTERING
"But North Viet Nam will not falter. Our army and people have shown redoubled eagerness in the emulation to produce and fight heroically. So far, we have blasted out of the skies over 1,200 enemy aircraft. We are determined to defeat the enemy's war of destruction and at the same time to extend all-out support to our dear compatriots in the south."

The North Vietnamese president, whose statement was described by the Hanoi agency as an "appeal," declared that even if the United States throws one million men or more into the Viet Nam war and intensifies its bombings, and though the war may last "5, 10, 20 years or longer," and Hanoi, Haiphong and other cities and enterprises may be destroyed, "the Vietnamese people will not be intimidated."

THE WEEK

the hearing for Aug. 1 in Austin. Even so, perhaps interests along the line can muster a strong protest.

Chamber of Commerce directors Monday paid a much-deserved tribute to C. H. (Champ) Rainwater, who is leaving to move to Lubbock as assistant to the divisional vice president of Pioneer Gas. Big Spring owes Champ Rainwater a lot, for he is one of that wonderful breed that works, works and then works some more.

We lost another one, too, for County Agent Herb Helbig was named by the U.S. State Department to be advisor on agricultural youth programs in the Dominican Republic. The department did a lot of looking and screening before it settled on Helbig. Getting a successor of the same stripe as Helbig, Jimmy Taylor, Durward Lewter and O. P. Griffin won't be altogether easy, but each new one has a way of measuring up.

Speaking of Helbig, it is well to heed his last concern — that too many producers will fail to watch close enough for signs of flea hoppers. Our situation is not unlike 23 years ago when we made a near record crop because Pop Griffin succeeded in getting most people alarmed over the hoppers. A friend last week related how last year, although he did not consider the hoppers too bad, he poisoned with a systemic poison. At harvest he said he was satisfied that $80 spent on poison had returned him $3,000 to $4,000.

The City of Big Spring has been waging a valiant fight against mosquitoes. However, it may find a new ally — dry, hot weather to shrivel up the breeding places.

It's simple now. All you have to do is dial No. 1 on your telephone, then an area code and the regular exchange number — and presto, you're talking to your number anywhere in the country. That's DDD, which came Thursday midnight to Big Spring. At the same time all AM 4 numbers changed to AM 7.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District may negotiate the sale of its $30,000,000 revenue bond issue to finance its lake and pipeline project. One reason is that an issue of this size almost has to be tailored to the big investors (some say half or more of it needs to be placed before it is bought). Another is that negotiators can move quickly to sell if the bullish market should show a moment of moderation. The construction big opening has been moved back to the last of September, but this seems now like a final, firm date.

Big Spring will well represented in the Holy Land this week. Led by the Rev. Clyde Campbell, a party left here Monday to spend three weeks abroad. Included were his daughter, Mary Avanelle Greenwood; Mrs. Sol Bledsoe, Dick Snyder, Rev. James Puckett, Rev. Melvin Montgomery, and Rev. and Mrs. D. M. Duke.

The newsletter of Texas Mental Retardation Planning Study gives considerable space and praise to the Essay contest sponsored in Big Spring High School on mental retardation problems. Our Jack J. Smith originated the idea; Costien financed the prize money.

The district court was functioning last week, with two capital cases, first to be tried here under the new state criminal code. Among other things, this statute makes it permissible for jurors in the cases to separate during a trial. Also, it sets up new procedures for sentencing. Result was that a jury decided in 57 minutes that Allen Lamar was guilty of robbery by assault, then argued for 10 1/2 hours before settling on a 25-year term for him. Earlier, Elvire Thomas had received a five-year term for murder without malice.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—An Air Force C123 with nine persons aboard crashed near Cape Lisburne, about 600 miles northwest of Anchorage, Saturday, the Air Force said.

A spokesman for the Alaskan Air Command said first reports indicated there were no known survivors.

The Air Force said the plane crashed in the water about 200 yards from shore.

Educators Differ On Use Of Textbooks In Schools

Should school teachers throw away their textbooks and make children learn, by doing research?

Yes, says Dr. Robert H. Ratcliffe, special consultant to Northwestern University's Social Studies Curriculum Center, where he is developing new programs for teaching social studies.

No, says Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services for the Big Spring Independent School District, who will assume his new duties as area director for the West Texas - Eastern New Mexico division, Southwestern Cooperative Educational Laboratory.

"Students learn and retain mathematics so well because they are forced to search for answers. They are not given the answer first, but rather are given material and must work toward an answer," Dr. Ratcliffe said. "This same method should be used in teaching social studies."

Dr. Ratcliffe's advice was offered at a meeting sponsored by Children's Press, Inc., Chicago-based publisher on the occasion of the publication of "Young People's Story of Our Heritage," a new, 15-book set which traces the cultural development of the world.

Dr. Ratcliffe a professor of education at the University of Illinois, said that "teachers should 'introduce textbooks in their classrooms only after their students have completed doing research - but never as a primary source of information."

"After all," he said: "A textbook is nothing more than a consensus of opinion."

Dr. Ratcliffe's ideas were met with mixed emotions here in Big Spring. According to Dr. Ainsworth, basic texts and other information are used to combine their merits.

"We concentrate on textbook study throughout the first three grades," Dr. Ainsworth said, "and use other-course-related materials, such as outside information sources, encyclopedias, charts, maps and other materials, from grades four through high school."

"As each student advances, we encourage the use of individual research. Today's student should be made to do what the textbook writer does," Dr. Ratcliffe said. "They should read original material and look at printed reproductions of such things as documents, maps, pictures and paintings. Each student should form his own conclusions."

"Only after arriving at personal opinions about people and events in history, should a student refer to a textbook to see if his own conclusions agree or disagree with the consensus."

Dr. Ratcliffe maintains that this method of education, which he calls "inductive reasoning," has greater impact on the student than the "old-fashioned method of deductive education" in which students are simply told facts.

"Our research shows that if a child searches for information and answers, he more readily retains information and develops greater reasoning powers which will serve him in many situations throughout life," he said.

Sterling County Will Observe 75th Birthday

Sterling County will celebrate its 75th birthday with a two day "Diamond Jubilee" Aug. 19 and 20.

Last week, a committee of 100 Sterling County residents, met at the Sterling City park with Jim Davis and Jack Asbill, co-chairmen for the celebration, in charge of the meeting.

It was voted to send out 600 personal invitations to former residents and John Reed, rancher, is to be host at a breakfast Friday morning for these special guests. Reed said that the date is also his birthday and will make the event a dual feature.

It was announced that the old Cole Grocery building is being renovated and will be used as a display room for old photographs, clothing, and other mementoes of pioneer days. A tour of Jeff Davis' Museum Room is also planned for the day.

A rodeo is to be a highlight. Schedule of events on Friday calls for registration to start at 8 a.m. A parade will be staged at 2 p.m. A get-together in the city park is booked for 4 p.m. and a big barbecue will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. A street dance at 9 will close the first day's activities.

At 6:15 on Saturday, Aug. 20, a parade of chuck wagon and mules will lead to the City Park for a breakfast, planned as opening feature. A stocksaddle horse race is on tap for 9 a.m. and a barbecue lunch is to be served at noon. The rodeo gets underway at 2 p.m. A watermelon feast is set for 6:30 p.m. at the park. The closing event of the two day Jubilee will be another street dance.

On the afternoon of the first day, a queen of the Sterling County Jubilee Celebration will be chosen. A beard growing contest is being started and the winner will be chosen on that afternoon.

Will Exhibit At Tulsa State Fair

Howard County 4-H Club stock will be entered in competition this fall at the Tulsa State Fair.

The competitors who have notified the Tulsa fair officials they will have eight steers on hand for the Oklahoma show are Robbie Haney, Mark and Maxwell-Barr and Dolores Lankford.

This will be the first year that Howard County stock has competed in the Tulsa exposition.

The four youngsters who are to compete Sept. 30-Oct. 9, are the top club exhibitors of the county. In the shows of last winter and spring, the quartet showed several grand champion and reserve champion steers at some of the biggest stock shows in the southwest.

They all have outstanding calves on feed this year, according to Herb Helbig, county agricultural agent.

The Tulsa stock show is now rated as the eighth largest in the nation.

Alexander J. Jeffers, mayor of Wilkinsburg, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh, said somebody had to collect the garbage in his borough when garbage men walked off their jobs on behalf of a pay raise demand. So he was

PROTEST MARCH IS ON

Farm Strike Could Turn Into Social Movement

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) — What started as a farm workers' strike deep in South Texas may have taken root as a social and economic movement.

The strikers want union recognition and a $1.25 an hour minimum wage for seasonal farm workers who do stoop labor in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Union leaders say wages range from $1 down to 50 cents an hour. Growers say many of their workers live in Mexico but hold permits to cross the Rio Grande daily to work.

A test of whether this is an isolated strike or a general Mexican-American protest movement could come between now and Labor Day.

A small group of strikers is making a 400-mile protest march that will move through Texas metropolitan areas that have large Mexican-American populations. Their leaders expect to arouse strong sentiment for the movement.

LOW INCOME
An estimated 2 1/2 million Mexicans live in South Texas. Many of them have annual incomes below $3,000.

The march is supposed to end Labor Day, Sept. 5, at the state Capitol in Austin. Texas AFL-CIO officials predict 50,000 to 100,000 persons will gather for a rally.

Gov. John Connally will be asked to hear a request for a state minimum wage law and other pleas by strike leaders. The national minimum wage law doesn't cover farm workers.

Though the movement appears to have an attraction mainly for Mexican-Americans, its leaders assert that it is a drive for higher living standards rather than a minority group's civil rights movement.

NO 'CIVIL RIGHTS'
"If we start crying 'civil rights, civil rights,' that could have an adverse affect throughout South Texas and we don't want that," said the Rev. Antonio Gonzalez of Houston, a Roman Catholic priest helping in the march.

The movement gained support from organized labor in Texas, Roman Catholic bishops and Mexican-American civic and political clubs.

Few politicians commented. Growers say the strike is illegal, that the "strikers" weren't employed on their farms when picketing began in Starr County. They got a court injunction to prohibit picketing at melon farms that were the original strike targets.

HARVEST WENT ON
The strike made no serious dent in the melon harvest. Its rumblings were heard in cities like Houston, San Antonio and Corpus Christi, which have large Mexican-American populations and organized Mexican-American civic and political clubs.

"I think we won the strike and they (the strikers) know they lost. Now they've made it a social movement more than anything," said Roland O'Con, who represents 110 Valley growers. The strike is confined to a part of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, made up of Starr, Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy counties. An estimated 40,000 migrant farm laborers live in the Valley and leave annually to follow harvests across the nation. Thousands more do seasonal work in fields at home.

Starr County, where the strike began, was rated the poorest in Texas by per capita income in the 1960 census. More than 70 per cent of its families earned less than $3,000 annual income, 1960 figures showed.

SUPPORT
The strike started without outside financial support, union leaders said.

The first support came from the San Antonio Roman Catholic Diocese, whose Bishop's Committee for the Spanish-Speaking began drives for food, clothing and money four days after the strike began.

Such organizations as the League for United Latin-American Citizens (LULAC), Political Association for Spanish-Speaking Organizations (PASO) and the GI Forum soon joined in.

Backing came from the Texas AFL-CIO, whose executive council voted Thursday to back the strike and the march.

SOON TO YIELD CROWN

'Indescribable' Year For Miss Texas

FORT WORTH (AP) — The statuesque beauty, encircled in the glare of a spotlight, smiled into the television cameras and exclaimed:

"It's indescribable!"

That was a year ago, and Mary Lou Butler, 19, a dark haired Stephen F. Austin coed from Irving, had just won the crown as Miss Texas.

After having worn out that crown and started on another, Miss Butler's reign is nearing an end, and she was asked to reflect on the last year.

"Indescribable," she chortled. The Texas beauty relinquishes her title next Saturday night as a climax to the 1966 Miss Texas pageant in Will Rogers Auditorium.

"I don't want to say it's been the most marvelous year of my life," she said in an interview. "Everybody says that . . ."

"And I don't want to sound conceited. But if I don't ever do anything else again, I will have achieved this much . . . and I feel I've done real well.

"You've really got to be gung he—completely devoted . . . or you shouldn't do it at all."

Miss Butler, 5-8 and vitally proportioned at 37 1/2-25-37 1/2, said the experience as Miss Texas was maturing as well as rewarding.

"I really, really have grown up about 10 years," she said. "It's unbelievable."

A year ago, she noted, "I was just plain Mary Lou Butler. And suddenly I was Miss Texas . . . bands played for me at airports and everything . . . It's just hard to comprehend."

Certain friendships, particularly with the opposite sex, were affected by the Miss Texas title, she said.

"You'd be surprised," she revealed, at the difference a title can make. "They look at you like you're not normal . . . well, I'm quite normal, I think . . . I think they're scared."

As she criss-crossed the state performing her appointed duties, she met and mingled with celebrities and politicians, the crippled and retarded.

The year produced a few crank calls and several proposals of marriage.

U. S. troops in Germany named her their Miss America and a 4-year-old boy revealed his feelings in a letter:

"Miss Texas, I love you. You're so purty."

Pea Processing Plant Is Established At Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — A new industry has come to Lamesa due to the planning and foresight of the recently formed Lamesa Industrial Foundation. The new industry, a pea processing operation known as Plains Pea Processors, Inc., is located six miles west of Lamesa on the Seminole Road and FM 389.

Construction of the pea-shelling plant has started and facilities are expected to be in operation in a week or ten days at most for shelling, cleaning, washing, and chilling green peas. Owners of the corporation have contracted with out-of-town sources for approximately five million pounds of green peas to be delivered by refrigerated vans to plans in various parts of the United States for processing and packaging.

L. C. Martin, owner of Martin Produce of Devine, heads the organization and W. R. McEachon formerly of Weslaco has been named manager. A group of local businessmen and farmers interested in stabilization of prices on peas in this area have bought an interest in the operation and formed the corporation. The company will employ 25 to 30 persons depending on weather, condition of peas and other factors, Martin said. The operation is being set up on five acres of land purchased by the group. A concrete foundation covered with a shed will house machinery for processing and loading the peas.

The corporation hopes in the near future to utilize the plant facilities for processing other vegetables grown in the area and for processing of dried peas.

Santo's Blow Boosts Cubs Past Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ron Santo's fifth-inning home run broke a tie and sparked a three-run outburst which carried the Chicago Cubs to a 4-1 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

It was the first time in a month that the Pirates scored less than two runs in a game. Santo's clout, his second in two days, came after Billy Williams tripled and snapped a 1-1 deadlock.

Bill Hands and Ferguson Jenkins—combined to hold the Pirates to five hits. Hands, now 6-8, yielded four hits and struck out three before he pulled a muscle in his back and left in the seventh inning.

All Of NBC Games Are Set For Base

Because a party who lives close to Steer Park is confiscating all the foul balls hit into his yard and threatening some sort of legal action against the schools, all games in the NBC District baseball tournament will be unreeled at Webb AFB today and next Sunday.

The public is invited to sit in on the action. Four teams are entered in the tournament and two defeats are necessary to eliminate a team.

The Gage Oilers of Big Spring and Webb AFB play the first game today at 1 p.m. About 3 o'clock, or shortly thereafter, the Odessa Drillers go against the Snyder Redlegs.

Winners of those games play again at 5 p.m. while the losers of the first two contests clash at 7 p.m. The Webb field is equipped with lights.

No outstanding favorite exists in the tournament. Snyder, managed by Joe Carrasco, boasts the best record along with competing clubs, having won 15 and lost 6.

Odessa is bossed by Corky Childers. The Drillers have won 11 and dropped 10 over the year. Webb, managed by Sgt. Cole Jacobs, boasts a 14-13 record.

The Gage team, masterminded by Jim (Boom-Boom) Baum, are 11-11 for the season. The Oilers, with a little luck, would have a much better record. They've dropped seven games by one run.

The locals have averaged 5.5 runs per game, compared to 4.5 for the opposition. Hank Pope, an ace lefty, probably will pitch for the Gage team against Webb.

Baum is doubling as director of the tournament. Winner of the tournament at Lubbock becomes eligible to play in the NBC Nationals at Wichita, Kan.

Cardinals Play Two Foes In Teenage Park Today

The Hi-Junior Teen-Age baseball park will be the scene here today of a doubleheader involving three teams. Action gets under way at 2:40 p.m.

The Big Spring Cardinals will be in both games, meeting the Stamford Aces in the opener and the ABC Hi-Junior champion here, in the afterpiece.

The ABC club will be training to take part in the district tournament, scheduled for the early part of August.

Manuel Olague Jr. will probably pitch for the Cardinals against Stamford. Others starting for the Red Birds include Tony Pjero, second base; Manuel Lopez, shortstop; Tom Arista, center field; Benny Marquez, left field; Pano Rodriguez, third base; Guy Lara, first base; Mingo Rubio, right field; and Abel Ramirez, catching.

Joe Cadenhead will be in the bullpen for the Birds. D. R. Gartman, manager of the ABC team, has guided his boys to an undefeated season.

Two Texans Are Named To Team WICHITA, Tex. (AP) — The first Texans named for the Oil Bowl Football game were announced Saturday.

Bud Deerinwater, Wichita Falls Deer's all-state fullback, and James Vandercide, a blocking back from Rider who made the all-state second team at guard, were those picked for the Texas squad.

Texas meets Oklahoma in the Aug. 19 classic at Wichita Falls and players for the latter will be picked shortly.

Texas has won 15, Oklahoma 4 and there has been 1 tie. Texas won 21-13 last year.

Wetzel Sizzles In Munny Round J. B. Wetzel, golf pro at the Munny course here, tied a course record there Friday when he fashioned a 64, nine under regulation figures.

Wetzel had nine birdies and no bogies on the round. He was putting for an eagle on 16 but missed by about six inches.

His birdies came on Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 9, 11, 13 and 16. His six-under par 30 on the front nine may set a record for that distance.

Playing with him at the time were Charley Bailey, Adam Ramos, J. B. Buchanan and Bernard Rains. Bobby Wright set the Munny record several years ago.

Bill White led off the 15th with a single against Joe Gibbon and was sacrificed to second. Gonzalez then rapped a single to left field, driving in White.

The Phillies tied the game 5-5 in the ninth when Gonzalez led off with a single, was sacrificed to second and scored one out later on a single by Phil Linz of Jim Davenport's glove at third.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Title Fights On Home TV

By TOMMY HART

The next two Heavyweight championship fights — Cassius Clay vs. Brian London Aug. 6 and the winner against Karl Mildenberger of Germany Sept. 10 — will be televised live into your living room via satellite, that is, if you can bring in an ABC station. Ex-fight champion Floyd Patterson was treated so royally by the Swedes, his brother, Ray, decided to move to Gothenburg, Sweden. Patterson recently lost a bout to a Wales ham-and-egger named Carl Gizzi. Crooner Dean Martin told Odessa Pro-Am officials before he left last week that he would be back for the 1967 tournament, with or without Don Cherry as a partner. The American Business Club's next wrestling show here, scheduled for Aug. 4, will feature Princess Ubanga (who wears a ring in her nose) against a girl who goes by the name of Sweet Georgia Brown. Snyder held its first wrestling show in many years and the matches lured 1,000 paying customers. From Sandy Koufax on down, members of this year's major league all-star teams wanted to remove the spangled game from St. Louis (where the temperature on the field at game time was 108 degrees) to Houston's Domet Stadium. The Houston park has become the best known sports arena in the world. Carl Smith of Our Town, who was in St. Louis recently, says the hottest he ever got was at a baseball game in the Mound City a few years ago, when the sweat poured so heavily from his brow it obscured his vision. In the 1880's, when big league baseball rules were lax, outfielders simply sat down in the outfield to await their turns at bat — alert to keeping out of the way of defending outfielders. There were no dugouts then for the home and visiting players — a 6-foot-7 cager named Calvin Oliver, who hails from Brooklyn Boys High School, N. Y., may become Sam Houston State College's version of Lucious Jackson, an All-American for Pan-American College a few years ago. Oliver averaged 22 points a game for his team in NYC's Suicide Conference last year. That circuit is regarded as the toughest in a basketball hotbed. The pros have rated Oliver as a "five-star, blue-chip player" — the highest ranking given.

Naaman Nickell, the Odessa scribe, has agreed to serve as the Western Conference's basketball statistician the coming season. For that reason, the coaches can expect to get a few collect telephone calls in the mid-watch of the night, if they don't get their reports in on time. League rules encourage such a thing. Members of this year's Big 33 football squad, which plays in Hershey, Pa., next month, received 727 college offers between them. Merrill Green, the head football coach at Abilene Cooper High School, once helped Frank Broyles at the University of Missouri. Hank Aaron, the Atlanta Braves' batting star, has appeared in 14 all-star games and never hit a home run. Jerry Graves, the one-time Big Spring High School football standout, is now on the Odessa High School varsity coaching staff. Johnny Rauch, who will coach Big Spring Danny Birdwell and other members of the Oakland Raider AFL team, handled two of the finest pass throwers in West point history, Joe Caldwell and Tommy Blanda. He believes in putting the ball in the air and will have Tom Flores and Cotton Davidson to do it for him this fall. When Jack Curtice, the former Texas Western mentor, became head coach at the University of California (Santa Barbara branch) three years ago, 30 turned out for spring practice. This year, the number rocketed to 111. Ted Sitton, the Abilene High School coaching aide, played his high school football under Big Springer Carl Coleman at Stamford. There are eight players on the Minnesota Twins' baseball roster, including ex-Big Springer Camilo Pascual, drawing more than $30,000 a year. A few most likely will take a cut next year, because the Twins are off their feed. When Crestview Baptist beat Salem Baptist in Church Softball league competition here recently, the winners' third baseman started a triple play. The California Angels are drawing an average of 20,000 customers a game at home this year (compared to 8,000 in 1965) and each of those fans buys an average of $1.38 in merchandise at the concessions stands.

10-13 YEARS Low Net — Richard Collier, 139; Frank Acri, 146; Howard Stewart, 150.

14-16 YEARS Low Net—Billy Spier, who won in playoff with Bruce Bright. Both finished with score of 149 for 36 holes. Third was Dan Harlan. Harlan won in playoff with Charles Kimble and Steve Russell, all of whom finished 36 holes with scores of 152.

The tournament, which followed a three-day clinic staged by J. B. and Jimmy Wetsel, had 45 players registered.

Writers Must Keep Training Regimen

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A lot of words have been written — including some only a heart specialist can understand — about the effects of Mexico City's altitude on athletes.

The controversy started before Mexico City was selected as the site of the 1968 Olympic Games and probably will continue after the athletes have left this city of 7,400 feet.

But the doctors and experts have overlooked one important thing. There has not been until now, a report on how sportswriters and out-of-condition coaches will adapt. Or if they will survive.

In the interest of overweight sportswriters and unconditioned coaches, the writer kept some notes during his first few months in the Mexican capital.

There are some basic rules a visitor from the land below should know before trying to function normally at this altitude. After all, airplane pilots used to reach for the oxygen mask when they got this high.

So here are a few suggestions, offered in the interest of friendship if not in the interest of medical knowledge, for colleagues and coaches planning on a stay in Mexico City for the 1968 Olympics.

RULE No. 1 — This is not likely to be violated by very many sportswriters, but occasionally someone may get over-enthusiastic. One should NEVER run in Mexico City. Or even walk fast. Trotting 10 yards here is like running the 440 at sea level. There is a fire in the lungs, the head spins and those enchiladas which tasted so good at lunch begin to rebel.

RULE No. 2 — Watch the booze. Don't expect to belly up to the bar here and put away four martinis before lunch, then do any work the rest of the day. The altitude, for a lot of lowlanders, packs more wallop into a drink than it might back home. It's like a carburetor — the leaner the mixture, the more mileage you get. Here the fuel-air mixture tends to be pretty rich. This has obvious advantages, of course, for someone on a limited expense account who still wants to get that glow on after a hard day's work.

RULE No. 3 — Don't play in the traffic. Almost every Mexican thinks he can drive well enough to win the Pan American road race — if that race hadn't been canceled because of its danger. It's an insult to a Mexican's Manhood to be passed by another car or beaten away from an intersection. Bus drivers are paid by the trip, not by the hour, and often whiz right by a long line of prospective passengers because a stop would be inconvenient. They are also prone to make right-hand turns from the left lane. Pedestrians are sure there is small print in the Mexican Constitution giving them the right to cross a street at any part of the block at any time.

RULE No. 4 — Be prepared to face Montezuma's Revenge. That's the name some smart alek found for the diarrhea that a good 50 per cent of the visitors not on a training diet can expect. Athletes will probably be fed by their own kitchens. Sportswriters probably will be on their own. Montezuma's Revenge may be caused by any one of several things — strange food, a change in water, the climate or just nerves. It probably only will last a few days and may help you lose a few pounds. But don't expect any sympathy from Mexican friends. They like the food, the water and the climate. They won't be nervous. So they usually think the whole thing is hilarious.

RULE No. 5 — Don't get carried away by the flashing eyes of Mexico's levelly senioritas. That flash probably doesn't mean what you think it means. And, most likely, her novio or boyfriend is just around the corner.

RULE No. 6 — This just may be the most important rule of all. Don't overtip. Don't spoil the taxi drivers or the bootblacks. We'll still have to live here after you've gone.

Astros' Game With Atlanta Halted In 5th

ATLANTA (AP) — Rain washed out the Houston-Astros game Saturday after 5½ innings with the score tied 1-1.

The Braves had taken a one-run lead in the fourth inning when Eddie Mathews led off with a solo homer, his seventh of the season.

Houston tied the score in the fifth when John Bateman slapped his 12th home run over the center field fence.

The game, second straight postponed by rain in Atlanta Stadium, was not immediately rescheduled.

It will be replayed from the start but home runs by Mathews and Bateman will count in the records.

Schepps Is New League's Czar

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—George Schepps, long-time sports promoter, Saturday was named commissioner of the Texas Professional Football League.

He will direct a six-club circuit that includes Pasadena, Sherman-Denison, Tulsa, Odessa-Midland, Burkburnett and Dallas.

"We will expand to eight or 10 clubs but no more clubs will be taken this year," said Schepps.

Albuquerque, N.M., and Hammond, La., have applied for membership, Schepps added.

Schepps helped organize 11 professional baseball leagues after the Second World War at the behest of George Trautmann, then president of the minor leagues.

He also has owned seven professional clubs, including Dallas of the Texas League, which he sold in the late forties.

Schepps also has coached and managed many athletic teams in his long career.

Don M. Caraway of Pasadena is president of the new league, with Duncan McCauley of Sherman vice-president, Jim Werner of Tulsa treasurer, Bill Crow of Dallas secretary and Darrell Nichols of Burkburnett and John Hatley of Midland members of the board.

The league race starts Aug. 27 when Dallas meets Sherman-Denison at Sherman. The other clubs swing into action the following week. It will be a round-robin, home and home affair with each club playing 10 games. The first and second place clubs clash Dec. 3 for the championship.

But don't expect any sympathy from Mexican friends. They like the food, the water and the climate. They won't be nervous. So they usually think the whole thing is hilarious.

RULE No. 5 — Don't get carried away by the flashing eyes of Mexico's levelly senioritas. That flash probably doesn't mean what you think it means. And, most likely, her novio or boyfriend is just around the corner.

Local Boys To Take Part In Mickey Owen School

A free two-week vacation at the Mickey Owen Baseball School in Miller, Missouri, is a coveted award for Danny Weir, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Weir, 2715 Rebecca.

DANNY WEIR

He is one of nine youngsters from across the nation to attend the school as guest of Montgomery Ward, and will be leaving about July 29 to report July 31 for the school.

Danny entered his name in a nation-wide contest sponsored by Ward last spring. The contest was open to all boys between the ages of 8 and 18 who cared to register at a Ward's store. Registration closed in April, and all entries were sent to the Montgomery Ward headquarters in Chicago.

Here winners from the more than 100,000 entries were selected by members of the Montgomery Ward Sports Advisory Staff. The staff is made up of such outstanding sports figures as George Allen, head coach of the Los Angeles Rams, Mickey Owen, and Stan "The Man" Mutual, former all time great of professional baseball.

"We are very proud that a young man from our city was selected for this honor," said George True, local Ward manager. "This is a wonderful opportunity for him, and I know he will enjoy every exciting minute of the two weeks."

The Mickey Owen Baseball School is located on Highway 66 between Springfield and Joplin, Missouri. It is owned and conducted by the former major league star, and is completely staffed by former professional baseball players.

Mitchell Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bell, will also be a registrant at the school. His family will pay his expenses. He will make the trip to Missouri with the Weir family.

Texan Attains Tennis Finals

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Cliff Richey added a menacing serve to his strong ground game and mowed down Marty Riessen, 6-1, 6-1, 6-3 Saturday to advance to the finals of the National Clay Courts Tennis Championships.

Richey, the nation's third-ranked amateur, will meet Frank Froehling for the title Sunday.

The long, lean Froehling, now a New York insurance executive playing tennis only on weekends, picked apart Australia's Owen Davidson 6-3, 6-1, 6-1.

Top-seeded Nancy Richey, Cliff's older sister, moved into the women's finals with a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Australia's Kerry Melville.

Miss Richey will meet Stephanie DeFina, the No. 2 seed, for the crown which Miss Richey has held for the past three years.

Miss DeFina, of Hollywood, Fla., defeated South Africa's Esme Emanuel 6-3, 7-5 in a Saturday semifinal.

Penn Football Buffs Lusting For Revenge

ORANGE, Tex. (AP)—Texans of how that state plans to get even for the 26-10 lumps Texas put on its head last year in the Big 33 game.

Letters are coming from all parts of Pennsylvania, boasting

Twin Threats For HC

Larry and Barry Linder of Waco University High, Waco, are two eaglers who have signed scholarship agreements with Howard County Junior College. Larry, 6-4, is seated here. Barry stands 6-3½. Needless to state, the boys are twins. Larry averaged 15 points a game last season, Barry 13. John Kenner was their coach. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

Texans doled out in 1965 virtually wiped out a reputation Pennsylvania had in all-star games.

Until Bill Bradley and cohorts demolished the coal miners before a 25,000 standing-room-only crowd last summer, Pennsylvania had not allowed its goal line to be crossed by three All-America teams and one All-Texas team.

But letters reach Texas Big 33 headquarters here every day in which Pennsylvanians claim they will avenge the loss and establish themselves once more as the state that produces the best high school football players in the world.

That's how the Big 33 game got started. When a national magazine said Texas, California and Pennsylvania produced the best football players, Pennsylvania took issue over the fact that it was listed third.

Sponsors of the Big 33 game asked the NCAA to allow Pennsylvania to meet the best players in the land so as to prove they were first rather than third.

The NCAA gave its permission and Pennsylvania didn't allow anyone to cross its goal line in three years. But Pennsylvania soon learned it couldn't prove anything unless it played Texas.

Thus came the Big 33 all-star game between Texas and Pennsylvania.

Conflicting dates made it necessary for Texas to split up its all-stars in the first game, sending some of them to the Texas coaching school game.

Texas gave a good account of itself but the Texans could muster only two field goals, thus allowing Pennsylvania to brag further that no one had crossed its goal line.

Then in 1965, when dates were arranged so Texas could send its best players to Pennsylvania, Texas made a shambles of the Penn goal line, and could have scored again and again had not Bobby Layne, the Texas coach, been so kind.

Pennsylvania fans now claim the selection of their best players wasn't handled properly in 1965, that they have reorganized and are ready to rule the country again.

Many points are in Pennsylvania's favor in 1966. Texas had speed to burn in 1965, with no less than 10 players who ran the 100 in less than 10.0, two of them as fast as 9.5 and 9.6.

But this year finds Texans with only one player that fast—Pat Sheehan of San Antonio Lee at 9.8. All other selections are 10.0 or slower.

Because of what happened in 1965, Pennsylvania has gone all out for speed. Clippings from Pennsylvania newspapers stir such headlines as "Big 33 Rock-etsmen to Get Even with Texas; Bill Murray (Duke) to go for Speed."

Murray, the coach Pennsylvania chose for its all-stars after Lefty James (Cornell) was smashed in 1965, has claimed he has the best possible all-star cast in the land.

Murray will have interior linemen averaging 230 pounds and over 6-3 in height. And his backs, contrary to the big Pennsylvania specimen in the past, will be 184 in size and much faster.

Texas' interior linemen are much smaller and unless Layne is able to go airborne with such capable lads as Texarkana's Joe Norwood and San Antonio Highlands' Chuck Hixson, Texas may be in trouble.

Either way, there is enough interest from Pennsylvania by mail to indicate a good, old-fashioned grudge battle.

Tigers Oppose Odessa Today

The Big Spring Tigers visit Odessa today to do baseball battle with that city's Stars. The Odessans boast a hard-hitting club.

Either Abe Gonzales or Jimmy Fierro will pitch for the Bengals. Odessa returns the game July 24.

The Tigers will be seeking their eighth win in 13 starts. Last time out, the locals humbled the Big Spring Cardinals, 8-6, in a game that saw Junior Mendoza go all the way on the mound for the winners.

Association Meet Is Ending Today

A partnership handicap tournament, which got under way Saturday at the Munny course under the auspices of the Big Spring Golf Association, will be concluded today.

Entrants are allowed to pick their own partners. Handicaps up to 18 strokes will be allowed. Entry fee is $2 per golfer and merchandise awards will go to winners.

Steve Sloan Will Serve All-Stars As Navigator

ASHVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Steve Sloan of Alabama has been picked to quarterback the College All-Stars in their battle with the Green Bay Packers.

The Atlanta Falcons rookie was named to replace another Atlanta hopeful, quarterback Randy Johnson of Texas A&I.

Johnson suffered a cracked rib in last Saturday's Coaches All-America game and doctors in Chicago ruled Friday that the rangy Texan should not play in the All-Star game there Aug. 5.

Also released from the game was rookie Falcons end Charlie Casey of Florida, who has a leg injury.

Sloan left the Atlanta training camp Friday night to begin preparations for the all-star event, and Johnson will come back to Asheville to work out with the Falcons.

Although he will skip contact drills, Johnson will be able to work on passing and timing in an attempt to overhaul Dennis Claridge, former Green Bay reserve who now ranks as the Falcons' top quarterback.

Sloan will not be back in camp until after the Falcons have played two exhibition games.

The only other quarterback still on the Atlanta roster is Steve Sindell, free agent from UCLA. A fifth prospect, Tom

Outfielder Finds Pitching A Snap

CINCINNATI (AP) — Young Mel Queen says his chance to pitch was an outfielder's dream come true — and the former major league hurler's son made the most of his opportunity.

The 24-year-old right-hander pitched a perfect inning of relief Friday night as the St. Louis Cardinals routed Cincinnati, 9-2, and the Reds' fans cheered every pitch he threw — less than a dozen in all.

Johnson Signed

HOUSTON (AP) — John Henry Johnson, 12-year National Football League veteran, decided the Houston Oilers of the American Football League "might be a team that could use some help," so he signed with them Friday as a free agent.

Rotary Rigs Still Fewer

MIDLAND — For the second consecutive week Friday's tally of active rotary drilling rigs in the Permian Basin Empire showed a decline on Reed International's tabulation.

The total dropped from 190 to 173—a dip of 17. Also, the number of working units in the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico province was 14 less than the 187 counted in the two-state territory a year earlier.

After heading the list for four straight Fridays, with 27 active rigs on each of those surveys, Reagan County dropped to third spot when the count registered a dip of 15—down from 27 to 12. Lea County, N. M., which has rated second for the last several weeks moved into first position when it listed a gain of five—up from 23 to 28.

Pecos County, despite a dip of two—from 18 to 16—continued third.

142 New Wells Reported In Week

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission reported Saturday that 142 oil wells and 43 gas wells were completed in the state the past week. That raised the totals for the year to 4,117 oil wells, compared to 3,795 a year ago, and to 1,161 gas wells, compared to 1,614 at this time in 1965. The commission said 132 wells were plugged, including 73 dry holes. Five wildcat oil wells were drilled—two in Dist. 3 and one each in Dists. 4, 7B and 8A — and 13 wildcat gas wells — six in Dist. 4, three in Dist. 2, two in Dist. 8 and one each in Dists. 3 and 9.

VERNON M. WEBB

January 9, 1951 marked the first day of Vernon M. Webb's continuous tenure with Cosden. From the yard he went into pipefitting and welding before serving for several years as a helper at the alkylation unit. Last October, he became stillman at the poly plant.

There are few fishermen more enthusiastic about the sport than is Webb. He claims to have tried his luck at practically every stream of any size in Texas. But sitting on the banks with a pole in his hand is not his idea of angling. He has built two boats to use in his fishing expeditions. One is a 16-ft. sports runabout and the other is a 14-ft. river boat. Lake Mathis is a favorite haunt, and Mrs. Webb likes to fish there too.

Webb has lived in Big Spring for about 36 years, but he was born in Cherokee County, Texas, near Jacksonville, and was educated there. The couple makes their home on a 2 1/2-acre site on Route 1. There Mrs. Webb indulges in her hobby of raising their own vegetables and her husband occupies himself in building things, sometimes furniture. Just last week, on the 11th, was the 16th anniversary of the day Webb and the widowed Mrs. Vina Scott Ruffner of Abilene were married in Big Spring.

They have two daughters. Mary Jane is Mrs. Keith Brashear of Hale Center, and Noble is the wife of Wilford Reeve of Cottage Grove, Oregon. Four granddaughters and two grandsons round out the family circle.

The Webbs are members of Trinity Baptist Church.

INCENTIVES PROPOSED

Industry Needing Drilling Stimulus

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP)—Possible incentives to stimulate the nation's lagging search for new oil reserves are being studied by four industry groups.

Proposals suggested range from a healthy, across-the-board increase in crude oil prices to the elimination or reduction of the depletion tax allowance American producers receive on foreign production.

The suggestion being mentioned most frequently, however, involves the possible use of oil imports quotas. A variety of formulas have been suggested for the use of such quotas as incentives for oil operators to search for new petroleum reserves.

Formal consideration of the various suggestions is to begin Wednesday in Dallas, when a special committee established in May by the Independent Petroleum Association of America holds its first meeting.

Similar special study groups also have been established by the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association and by the National Liaison Committee of Cooperating Organizations, a group that represents state and regional trade groups of independent operators in 21 states.

The staff of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission also has been instructed to make a similar study. A report is to be submitted at the compact's annual meeting in December at Phoenix, Ariz.

No target dates have been set by the three special committees representing independent operators but there has been indication they hope to complete their work by late October. Such timing would coincide with the annual meeting of the 7,000-member national trade group for independents. Also, Interior Department officials probably will be deliberating at that time on the 1967 quotas to be established under the mandatory program to control oil imports.

The Interior Department is known to have given some consideration last year to the granting of imports quotas to operators drilling successful or unsuccessful wildcat wells. Major companies would have been excluded.

Since then, a West Central Texas group of independents has suggested that quotas be granted to all operators—large or small—completing a successful well in previously unexplored areas.

A Kansas group has suggested imports quotas be allocated on the basis of domestic production.

Another Texas suggestion calls for allocations based on total footage drilled for both wildcat and development wells. Major companies now importing oil would be permitted to retain current quota rights or participate in the new drilling quota plan, but not in both.

All the quota sharing plans are aimed at increasing the amount of money available for independent operators to search for new reserves.

The concern has been prompted by a 10-year slump in domestic drilling operations.

A record 58,259 wells were drilled in the United States in 1956 but only 41,770 were drilled last year. The 1956 record included 19,952 wildcat tests but last year's total included only 8,330.

During the same 10-year period, U.S. proved oil reserves increased only 900 million barrels, compared to a 9.6 billion barrel increase between 1946 and 1956.

In other business, dates for 4-H Club activities were announced.

Mrs. O. B. Gaskins gave the program.

Mrs. Billy Gaskins gave the council report, and Mrs. Joe Gaskins announced that the Knott 4-H Club will have a tour on July 26 beginning at 4 p.m. The public is invited to join the group that will visit various farms to see 4-H crops and livestock. Roger Brown, local attorney, brought the program, "Wills and Legal Matters," and members answered roll call with "Texas laws for married women." The speaker pointed out the two types of wills: Old English type which brings a dowry after death, and Spanish type, one-half to the widow and one-half to other heirs. He told the women that wills were most important where minor children are involved and that all wills must have two witnesses and be signed before a notary public. # Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

When good friends get together, Ruidoso seems to be a good place to do it. In the mountain village this weekend are Mrs. H. F. Schwarzenbach, Mrs. Stormy Thompson, Mrs. Hudson Landers, Mrs. J. M. Woodall, Mrs. Tom South and Mrs. Doug Orme. When Mrs. Orme came here from Dallas she brought young Cynthia Graves, who joined Belle Schwarzenbach for a trip to California, and Mrs. Frank Sims of Fort Worth, who is a guest of her old friend, Mrs. B. B. Badger. The women are at the Schwarzenbach cabin and will return Monday. The Schwarzenbach boys, Bill and Red, are working in Ruidoso this summer.

The Tuesday Bridge Club honored Mrs. E. V. Swift with a luncheon at Cosden Country Club and presented her with a brass fruit bowl as a farewell gift. The family will be leaving next week to make their home at Lake LBJ. Mrs. Swift says Charlie will teach water skiing at the lake and pretty Gina will be a swimming and horseback riding instructor. They hope their local friends will be down to see them often.

Chatted a minute with Mrs. Maurice Koger the other day. Her mother, Mrs. Camille Inkman, and her sister are in Mineral Wells vacationing. Karen Koger, who sailed to Europe on the SS United States, should be in Venice about now — and home about Aug. 15. Bill Inkman is still recuperating from surgery in Pennsylvania, but a postcard says he may be flying back before long.

Latest word Saturday was that C. T. Domer, Bill Oliver's right hand man at Hotel Settles, would have surgery in Lubbock. With him were Mrs. Domer and her daughter, Mrs. Bill C. Coleman. Believe the Colemans are planning a trip to Mexico later on.

Ordinarily, people just DON'T leave Big Spring by choice if they have put down roots so it comes as a surprise to be losing several of our favorite citizens. Among them are the Champ Rainwaters whom Big Springers seem to be trying to keep by scheduling more and more farewell parties! If the end ever comes, the Rainwaters will be off for Lubbock. Replacing Champ at Pioneer Natural Gas Company is personable Joe L. Price. He's a Sunday golfer and Mrs. Price is an any-time duplicate player so they'll be "old-timers" before long.

Six sisters can do a lot of chattering when they get together and that's what they did when Mrs. Willard Sullivan and Mrs. Pyle Bradshaw spent a weekend at Hobbs, N. M., with Mrs. H. J. Irion. Joining them were the other sisters, Mrs. S. A. Wait of Roswell, Mrs. C. T. Bond of Eunice and Mrs. Al Strawn of Lovington.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Turner are their son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Frank Chailey and children, Ricky and Jeanene of Bangor, Maine, who'll be here another week.

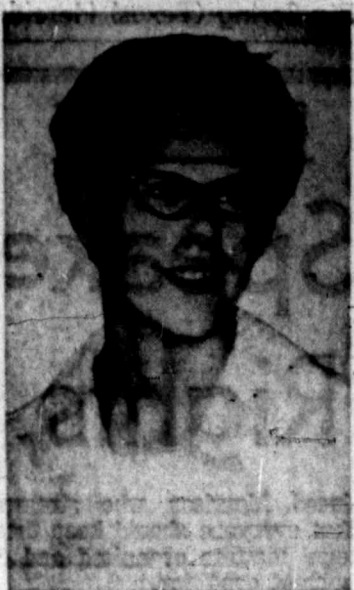

Mrs. Cecil Bell (who makes the best pies in town) called to say their guests were Mrs. Beulah Williamson, Mrs. Ruth Warwick and Bell's aunt, Mrs. Pearl Essington, all of Lincoln, Ill.

Ditto Mrs. Smith Swords who said that their family just returned from a fishing trip to New Mexico and a reunion in San Antonio where families who had been stationed together in Japan got together. They camped out a week in Garner Park before returning here.

Mrs. Bledsoe O'Brien made her first plane ride a good one. She flew to Fort Collins, Colo., to the home of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Norton, to visit her daughter, Mrs. John B. Norton Jr., and the baby, John Jr. is stationed at Ft. Riley, Kans.

The flight from California to Midland, arriving Wednesday night, brought Mrs. Bob Clark back home after a seven week stay in Ft. Ord with her new granddaughter.

Tidbits: The Carroll Davidsons vacationed at Powder Horn, Colo., for hunting and fishing. . . Mrs. R. V. Lewis and Mrs. Vena Lawson of Garden City are back from a weekend at the races. . . and the Joe Connallys had a good time in San Antonio and San Marcos. . . Mrs. Modesta Simpson's birthday was remembered in fine style at Big Spring Country Club last week. . . Mrs. Toots Mansfield is home, looking healthy and happy, while her daughter, Deane, is getting ready to attend school in Scotland. . . Sidney Mellinger was in New York last week. . . think the Harvy Williams are supposed to go to Houston to see the Astros. . . Mrs. Roy Townsend's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Crow and daughters, Barbara and Susan of Garland. . . When Mrs. Clyde Angel gave a book review in Midland the other day she chatted with former residents, Mrs. Granville Dawson and Mrs. Joe Burrell. . . the Curt Mullinses are on vacation somewhere. . . and due back from Florida is bachelor Tom Barry. . . guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Parks have been her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Middleton of Lamesa. . . Marvin Miller is with friends in Ruidoso this weekend. . . and Winston Harper is cooling his heels in Dallas while the Cosden plane is being overhauled. Call me?

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Hodo, Old San Angelo Highway, are announcing the approaching marriage of their niece, Miss Janice McWhorter, to Airman 2.C. Paul E. Grant, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Berman I. Grant of Luscomb, Mo. The bride-elect is the daughter of D. H. McWhorter and the late Mrs. Fannie Mae McWhorter. The wedding will be at 7 p.m., Aug. 26 at the Airport Baptist Church with the father of the bridegroom officiating.

Californians Are Guests In Coahoma

COAHOMA (SC) — Marilyn Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Martin, has been released from the Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital.

John T. Baker is a patient at the Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital.

MR. AND MRS. A. B. BEENE AND DON

A. B. Beene Takes Post As Consultant

By JO ANN PHINIZY
 When the Texas Education Agency opened its new "Title I" office in the Western Building, it was Big Spring's gain. A new family, the A. B. Beenes, bought a new home at 2308 Brent; and their ten-year-old son, Don, became a member of the "Stringrays," a Little League baseball team. Beene, who was superintendent in the Joshua School System, is looking forward to his new work and to getting acquainted in Big Spring. A former member of both the Lions and Rotary clubs, he hopes to renew his membership in one of them. He will be a consultant in the compensatory division of the new governmental program. His duties will be to inaugurate and assist with an educational program for students needing special or individual training. His territory includes 52 counties and is bounded by El Paso, Lubbock and Abilene.

Mrs. Beene says that every time he touches base near such scenic spots as Carlsbad Caverns, the chances are excellent that she and Don will be with him.

Mrs. Beene, who will be a third grade teacher at the new Moss Elementary School, also says that many of her summertime days will be spent landscaping the yard of her new home. She hopes to corral the assistance of her baseball-playing son; and very soon, of her daughter, Nancy.

A sophomore at Texas University, Nancy is majoring in mathematics. Her immediate plans include enrolling for the second summer semester at Howard County Junior College. In the distant future, when she completes her education, she plans on entering the field of computer programming. She is a member of the Delta Zeta Sorority.

The fifth member of the Beene family is Robert. He is a senior at Texas A&M and will be deputy corp commander of the ROTC next year. He will finish school with a degree in electrical engineering and plans to enter the Air Force for a four year stint.

When the Beenes can get together, they like to strike off for camping tours to such places as the Smoky Mountains or Sequoia National Park. Mrs. Beene describes their trips as "walking, hiking and general looking" sojourns—with occasional stops for miniature golf.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

We are vacationing, at last. Our plans are to be in Washington, D.C., until Thursday and then come back here until son, Gary, can come from Austin and join us for a stay with the MILLER HARRISES at their ranch in Durango, Colo. In Washington, we will be the guests of Cong. and Mrs. J. J. Pickle and will have been to a reception given by the FRANK IKARDS honoring Miss Peggy Pickle who is to marry in September.

We left Big Spring loaded with more information and helpful hints than we had clothes to see us over the holiday but we also left full of enthusiasm for an interesting week in our nation's capital and another one in the mountains of Colorado. You can't beat that for going from one extreme to another with a good time at either end.

It had been a long time between visits for members of the Barker family when 63 of them gathered at the home of an aunt and uncle, MR. and MRS. CLEVE COOPER, in Atoka, Okla., several weeks ago. MRS. TOM BUCKNER joined her brother and sister-in-law, the J. B. BARKERS of Snyder for the trip to the reunion. They were joined in Tulsa by two sisters for the remainder of the trip. Some of the cousins, aunts and uncles Mrs. Buckner hadn't seen since she was 15 years of age. The family members came from California, Idaho, Colorado, New Mexico, Arkansas and Texas.

MR. and MRS. ZACK GRAY and their three daughters, Robbie, Linda and Tammy, have returned from a two-week trip that combined business and pleasure. They visited in Jackson, Miss., Atlanta, Ga., Washington, D.C. and numerous places between. So long as they were in the New York area they drove over to Long Island to visit a cousin, David Henry, and his family and were blessed with 'bull-in' baby sitters for little three-month-old Tammy. David's mother and sisters took over the infant in Ruston, La., they were guests of former residents, the WOODROW DOWLING, and in Dallas they visited DR. and MRS. J. E. WHITNEY who made their home here several years ago.

Guests of MR. and MRS. BOB WREN are her brother and his wife, MR. and MRS. CARL COMBS of Detroit, Mich.

MR. and MRS. ZAN DAWSON, Dant and Zandra, returned Tuesday from Austin where they flew last week to visit her mother, Mrs. Clyde Kelly. The day before they left, Zan flew his mother, Mrs. George Dawson, and her daughter, Catherine Ann to Dalhart for the day.

Events long remembered are ones like the family reunion held in Uvalde the latter part of June by members of the family of MRS. BERNICE SLATER. Mrs. Slater was cohostess with her daughter, MRS. WAYNE MATTHEWS, and Mr. Matthews for the gathering at the Matthews home. Forty-three attended the reunion that honored the brothers and sisters of Mrs. Slater who are children of the late MR. and MRS. J. C. RIDDLE. Of the 11 Riddle children, nine are living and eight of the nine attended the June affair.

MR. and MRS. FRANKLIN WILLIAMSON, who have been making their home in Greenville, are looking forward to getting back to West Texas and about Aug. 8 they will be about midway between the grandparents' homes. They will be in San Angelo where he is to work in the Concho Pharmacy. The KENT MORGANS are the maternal grandparents and DR. and MRS. T. J. WILLIAMSON who live in Kerrville are the paternal grandparents.

Will Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cox of Lenorah are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Marva, to Leslie Lynch Hightower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Hightower of Stanton. The wedding is scheduled for Aug. 12 in the home of the bride-elect's parents.

MRS. GLENN LANIER WARD

Couple Recites Vows In Baptist Church

STANTON (SC)—The wedding of Miss Carolyn Ruth Springer and Glenn Lanier Ward was solemnized Friday at 7 p.m. in the Baptist church at Lenorah.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Denver A. Springer of Lenorah and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ward Jr. of Snyder. The Rev. John S. Rankin, Baptist pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony that was read before an altar decorated with greenery and lighted by candles held in candelabra.

As a pre-nuptial selection, Mike Springer, organist, played "Climb Every Mountain." Mrs. Michael Cotton sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "Walk Hand in Hand."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an A-line dress of crystal peau de soie accented with lace on the skirt and bodice and a train that was attached at the shoulders. The wedding veil was held by white flowers. She carried a Bible which had belonged to her grandmother and wore a garter worn by her mother in her wedding. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of white roses.

Prior to the taking of the wedding vows the bride sang "Because."

ATTENDANTS

Miss Donna Ward, Snyder, sister of the groom, was the maid of honor and Miss Virginia Springer, the bride's sister, was the bridesmaid. They wore A-line dresses of blue crystal peau de soie and carried nosegays of daisies.

J. P. Ward Jr. served his son as best man and D. Allen Springer, the bride's brother, was his groomsman. Ushers were Benny Ward, the groom's brother, and Pat J. Springer, cousin of the bride.

Vickie Ward, sister of the groom, was the flower girl. Ronald Ward and Preston Springer, brothers of the bride-couple, lighted the altar tapers.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the new Mrs. Ward wore a three-piece tailored suit of blue silk with black patent accessories.

The couple will make their home at 1034 N. 16th St., Abilene.

The bride is a graduate of Stanton High School, Howard County Junior College and Hardin-Simmons University.

Mr. Ward graduated from Snyder High School and Hardin-Simmons University where he was a member of the Ministerial Alliance and Kappa Phi Omega. He is pastor of the Ft. Griffin Baptist Church.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Springer following the ceremony. Guests were received by the bridal couple, their parents, the feminine attendants and the groomsmen.

The bride's table was covered with white linen with an overlay of white hand crocheted lace. The centerpiece was of daisies flanked by the attendants' bouquets. Appointments were of silver and crystal.

The groom's table was laid in white linen and silver and Bavarian china were used in serving.

Miss Janella Williamson and Miss Cherry Wright registered the guests. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Jimmie Sawyer, Mrs. G. D. Sawyer, Mrs. J. T. Springer, Mrs. Hoyt Springer, Mrs. Clyde P. Perkins, Miss Candy Perkins, Miss Beverly Springer and Miss Charlotte Kuhman.

4-H Ready To Model Fashions

COAHOMA (SC) — The Coahoma 4-H Club members had final meetings Wednesday and Thursday prior to the dress revue which will be held July 22 in the First Methodist Church Fellowship Hall.

The girls worked on record books, evaluated things they had learned during the summer months and in the sewing classes. Jerri Ann Mencer and Sue Read demonstrated what had been learned, and Mrs. Alvin Luce, an adult leader, led a discussion on what had been taught in the sewing classes.

It was announced that the home demonstration club has invited the girls to model clothing at 9:30 a.m., Tuesday in the Baptist church annex. The public is invited.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Cathy Allen, Diane Procter and Jeanine Brady.

Styling Is Factor In Yard Fence

Architectural styling is an increasingly prominent factor in the design of wood fences. The present trend places emphasis on patterns and lines which blend with wood siding forms on exterior house walls.

One example, cited by the Southern Pine Association, is a reverse batten effect for both fencing and siding. With this pattern, the full thickness of the lumber is visible. Another popular style in wood fencing is the basketweave in which horizontal lumber is interwoven around vertical posts.

Bumper Peach Crop Preserved At Home

Judging by telephone calls received in the County Extension Office, there has been a bumper crop of peaches in the area this year. According to Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Howard County Home Demonstration Agent, requests for directions for home preservation of peaches has been unusually heavy.

Processing of fruits is done successfully without the use of a pressure canner. The boiling-water bath method is recommended for canning fruits, fruit juices, tomatoes, tomato juice, rhubarb and pickled vegetables.

IT IS NOT RECOMMENDED FOR ANY OTHER VEGETABLE. Any big, clean kettle with a rack and tight-fitting lid may be used if it is deep enough to hold the jars upright and permit the water to boil gently one or two inches over the top of the jars.

Here are directions given by Mrs. Crawford.

TO PREPARE THE FRUIT FOR PROCESSING

Wash. Peel or place fully ripe, firm fruit in wire basket or cheese cloth and dip in boiling water two minutes or until skins slip. Plunge into cold water quickly, and slip off skins. Cut into halves and remove seed. Pack raw fruit to one half inch of top of jar. Cover with boiling syrup, leaving one half inch space at top of jar. Close and process in a boiling water bath 25 minutes for pints and 35 minutes for quarts.

For the syrup, the proportion of sugar to liquid will depend on the natural sweetness of the fruit and personal taste. To make a thin syrup, use 2 cups sugar to 4 cups water. To make a medium syrup, use 3 cups sugar to 4 cups water, and for a heavy syrup, use 4 and three-fourths cups sugar to 4 cups water. Process unsweetened fruit the same as sweetened.

Extension Bulletin No. B-194, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables," is available in the County Extension Office in the courthouse or call AM 7-8469.

FREEZING PEACHES

Select sound, ripe fruit for freezing. Most fruits have better texture and flavor if packed in sugar or syrup. Fruit packed in a syrup is generally better for dessert use; fruit packed in dry sugar or unsweetened is better for most cooking purposes because there is less liquid in the products.

Make a sugar syrup in proportions of 3 cups sugar to 4 cups water. Add one-half teaspoon powdered ascorbic acid per quart of syrup or use a commercial preparation according to manufacturer's directions to prevent discoloration. Pour about one-half cup of cold sugar syrup in freezer container. Slice freshly-peeled peaches directly into the container. Add syrup to one-half inch from top of container. Place crumpled freezer paper, heavy waxed paper or aluminum foil on top of peaches. This prevents peaches from floating above the syrup. Seal and freeze immediately.

For further information call AM 7-8469 and request Bulletin No. B-175, "Frozen Foods."

Plans Told

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Hughes, 1506 Tucson, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Carol Elaine, to Ronnie Carrol Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Davis of Norton. The wedding date has been set for Aug. 13 at the First Methodist Church.

Polish With Milk

When polishing white shoes, use milk to dampen the cake polish instead of water. The whitening then will not rub off so easily.

Pizza Party Held Friday

The Truett Newell home at 608 Colgate was the scene of a Pizza Party at 7 p.m. Friday for members of the Junior Woman's Forum and their husbands.

Hostesses were Mrs. Oakey Hagood, Mrs. Earl Zetsche, Mrs. Rick Terry and Mrs. Dee Jon Davis.

The 40 attending were served on the patio at quartet tables covered with red and white check cloths and centered with black wrought iron holders with red candles. Following the dinner, badminton, croquet and bridge was played.

The club will meet Aug. 26 at Big Spring Country Club for a swimming party honoring prospective members.

Flower Pots Can Be Fine Boxes

Large red clay flower pots make fine containers for small supplies of peat moss, sand, loam, vermiculite and other indoor gardening needs. Small pieces of aluminum foil may be used to cover the bottom drainage holes and red clay saucers will neatly serve as tops.

OLD SETTLERS GATHER JULY 29

Beef Purchased For County Reunion

A ton of choice beef has already been purchased and is awaiting delivery to the barbecue pits at Big Spring City Park on July 29. It will be the main item for the 42nd Annual Glasscock-Howard County Old Settlers Reunion dinner to be served at the pavilion at noon on that date.

Jess Slaughter, president of the association, said that the beef would probably be augmented by barbecued goat meat—a traditional feature of each year's reunion. Other items on the menu will be red beans, onion-of-a-gun stew, potato chips, onions, pickles, bread, iced tea or coffee.

Cecil Long, a veteran hand at the task, will be the chef who will cook the barbecue. He plans to start the meat roasting on the afternoon of July 28.

RECORD TURNOUT

Slaughter expects a record turnout of diners this year. He said the dinners draw from 2,000 to 2,500 each year and that there is every reason to anticipate an equally large turnout July 29.

The barbecue is financed by donations from old timers and business establishments of the two counties. Also, it is the custom at the reunion for each registrant to make a small gift to the fund. As a result of this plan, the association is able to pay for the big dinner and have a little money left over for other features offered at the celebration.

Slaughter said that donations are now being asked.

YOUNG ORATORS

Two special features of this year's reunion celebration will be addresses by talented teenage orators of the county.

One of the speakers is to be Jimmy Brown, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Brown. A graduate of this year's Big Spring High School senior class, Jimmy won the American Legion public speaking competition here and placed second in district competition. He also was a second place winner in the UIL public speaking competition at Austin.

"I am preparing a 10-minute talk on the history of the two counties," he said Friday. "I feel that this would be proper as a topic for a gathering of this sort."

Another speaker will be Kelly Joe Gaskins, 13-year-old 4-H Club orator. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Knott. He is the grandson of two pioneer Glasscock-Howard County families.

Good Progress On College Plant

Work on the new library and science buildings at Howard County Junior College is progressing rapidly.

The contractor, Walter Doremor of Giddings, has set a target of completion in February, 1966, months ahead of schedule. He had the structural steel in and up, and other critical materials are mostly on hand.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that the budgetary picture was good for the college to save enough to pay the difference between the total bid and the $500,000 which voters provided as the college share. And her $304,000 was posted under the college facilities act.

Tonsillitis Is Heading List

Tonsillitis was still the number one ailment in Howard County this week, with 41 cases reported by area doctors and hospitals to the Howard County Health Unit. Second was upper respiratory.

Other cases included diarrhea, eight; impetigo, seven; bronchial pneumonia, three; measles, two; syphilis, one.

Hospital To Host Meet Of Volunteers

County service officers from the 53-county area of West Texas and two counties in New Mexico that are served by the Big Spring Veterans Administration will be attending the seventh annual County Service officers meeting at the local VA Friday. The Big Spring VA is again sponsoring the conference.

Registration will be at 9 a.m. in the hospital lobby. Following a welcome by Donald D. Van Meter, hospital director, Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chief of staff, will discuss changes and future plans for hospital improvements. Charles L. Harris, assistant, adjudication office, VA Regional Office, Waco, will speak to the group on the veteran's Compensation and Pension Program. Educational Provisions under Public Law 89-558.

Others on the program include Wayne Jones, chief, registrar, VA Hospital, Dallas, who will discuss the VA's community nursing home program; and chief, medical administrative service, VA Hospital, Amarillo, who will cover hospitalization under the new "Cold War GI Bill." The post-hospital care program will be explained by Robert W. Waters, assistant chief, medical administrative service, of the local hospital.

Following a luncheon in the hospital's dining room, William L. Patton of the local Social Security Administration will talk to the group on medicare. The session will close with a panel discussion by Dr. Charles H. Miller Jr., chief, outpatient service and admitting physician of the local hospital, C. E. McDonnell, Jake Gonzales, Wayne Jones, and R. W. Waters.

Also scheduled for the afternoon session will be a tour of the hospital and the recently completed campus beautification project. Refreshments will be provided by the local Veterans of World War I Auxiliary.

McDonnell, chief of the medical administrative service at the local hospital, is conference chairman of the one day meet.

4-H Clubbers To Present Stock Grooming For Shows

Annual Howard County 4-H calf tour, a feature at this time each summer, is to be staged July 30, it has been announced by James Shelton, assistant county farm agent.

This year, there are 13 boys and girls in the county who are feeding calves for competition in this winter's fat stock shows. They have 30 head of animals in preparation.

This past spring, the 4-H Club boys and girls created a sensation by grabbing off many high honors at the biggest stock shows in the state and these champions are out, if they can, to repeat in 1966-67.

FOR WINTER SHOWS

These annual tours are to permit other 4-H Club members and 4-H Club well-wishers an opportunity to see the animals and to talk with the young experts who are getting them in shape for the show rings of next winter and spring.

A feature of this year's tour will be a judging event at three of the afternoon stops. Shelton said that five to eight steers will be available at each of three points and the youngsters will be given opportunity to demonstrate their skill as judges. At the same time the boys and girls are making their decision, two professional judges will be evaluating the animals. The selections of the club members will be compared with those of the professionals.

9:30 START

The show gets under way at 9:30 a.m. July 30 on the south side of the Howard County Courthouse. First visit will be at the Gene Long farm where the steers of Lawrence Long will be inspected.

Second stop, set for 10:20 a.m. is at the Larry Shaw residence in Knott, where Linda and Larry Shaw are feeding calves. Mike McClain's animals will be inspected at the H. D. McClain farm at 10:45 a.m.

From 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. will be time out for a picnic dinner in the Big Spring City Park.

At 1 p.m. the tourists will be at the Coleman Stock pen, to see the entries of Dixie Coleman. Next stop will be at James Coates ranch where Daryle and Roger Coates will be hosts. This visit is set for 1:30 p.m.

At 1:50 p.m. the visitors will be at the R. E. Haney farm inspecting the efforts of Robbie Haney.

The next stop is at the James Barr place near Vincent to visit with Mark and Maxwell Barr.

At 3:10 p.m. the tour reaches

Science Bldg. Job To Kasch

Subject to formal approval by the board of regents, contract for a new science building to be constructed at Stephen F. Austin State College, Nacogdoches, will be awarded to Kasch Brothers of Big Spring.

The local firm was low bidder with a figure of $3,556,244. The bid was below the amount of available funds for the new building, so work can start at once, it was said by Dr. Ralph W. Steen, president of the college. Available for the construction is a $1.5 million federal grant, plus increased tax revenue from the state ad valorem tax covering a period of the next ten years.

Kasch Brothers earlier had submitted the low figure on the mechanical contract, then came in first on the total. Their sub-bid is included in the $3,556,244 total.

The 151,000 square foot building will be four stories, air-conditioned, and will include classrooms, laboratories and faculty offices. It will house the physics, biology, geology and mathematics departments, while chemistry will remain in the old science building.

A Devotional For The Day

The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner. (Mark 12:10)

PRAYER: Our Father, forgive us for our shortsighted views. Teach us to look in the direction of doing Thy will. Grant us a Christlike spirit and concern that we may draw others into the beauty of fellowship with Thee. In the name of Jesus, our Lord, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Airports Are Important

One who is inclined to think that public airports are not vital to their communities has only to read an article in the current issue of U.S. News & World Report to be impressed with the real boom in private planes.

The magazine article says that more than 300,000 Americans hold pilot's licenses, and there are upward of 100,000 private planes in use. What's more, at least 130,000 new student-pilot certificates will be issued this year, more than twice the number just five years ago. And the aircraft factories, pressed to meet demand, are expected to sell over 16,000 planes, twice the number sold as recently as 1963.

There's no question but that America is taking to the air, and the community which shares in this interest is the one which will keep its airport facilities up to date.

This goes not only for adequate landing space, lighting, safety and communications control, but it also goes for attractive terminal facilities. If it ever were true that an airport is "just a place for a few rich people to fly around on Sundays" it certainly isn't true any more.

Private pilots come from all over. And company executives from all over land occasionally at a community's airport, too. Their first impression of the city is what they see at the field, in the way of accommodations and terminal facilities. It's not unlike the impression one would gain from driving into town—whether on an attractive thoroughfare or a street lined with junk heaps and scrap buildings.

Howard County, at some point, will have to put itself in step with the times. We made a good start on an airport, but that start has now become insufficient. More and more money will be spent by the flying traveler, and we could get our share.

Low-Cost Housing

News that there is at least a tentative move toward a low income supplemental rent project here points up anew that the city may have need for housing for the lower income bracket people.

It may become more pressing if one of the low-cost housing projects in the city which has served since World War II days should be abandoned.

The Air Force people from time to time have reminded civic leaders that one of the major gaps in Big Spring's service to Webb AFB is in the field of housing for the lower grade enlisted men. If this gap were to widen, there could be more serious complaints from the Air Force.

Whether the government supplement-tal (or subsidy) idea is the answer may be open to a good deal of study. At least some local interests have opened the way for that study.

The entire community probably needs to take a look at what's on hand, what can be updated, what needs to be replaced, what new construction needs to be built. Some will point out that the housing market is weak now, and owners of rental property who conscientiously try to meet decent standards and set appropriate fees are entitled to their views.

But if there is a lack, community interests ought to be ready to find a way to overcome it.

David Lawrence President's Offer Of Peace

WASHINGTON — A memorable address delivered by President Johnson over television and radio on Tuesday night could change the course of human history. For the first time, the head of a nation talked directly to another people in the midst of a war. He earnestly pleaded the cause of peace and emphasized that "cooperation, not hostility, is the way of the future."

Mr. Johnson's speech was neither belligerent in tone nor blustering. The President tried the art of persuasion. He pointed out that, since "humiliation can be the seedbed of war," America is not seeking in Viet Nam "the peace of conquest."

"STRESSING WHAT could lie beyond a peace conference, Mr. Johnson spoke of the need to strengthen the economic and social development of countries in Asia with their enormous populations which suffer from poverty, hunger and disease.

The President may have been thinking of Red China's detachment from the world community as he tactfully argued that isolationism is not good for China any more than it has been for the United States. He said on this point:

"AMERICANS ENTERED this century believing that our security had no foundation outside our own continent. Twice we mistook our sheltered position for safety. Twice we were wrong. If we are wise now, we will not repeat our mistakes of the past. We will not retreat from the obligations of freedom and security in Asia."

The President's frank and outspoken words take on added significance because of their directness and the willingness to make such statements in the open. Here are the significant passages:

"AS LONG AS the leaders of North Viet Nam believe they can take over the people of South Viet Nam by force, we must not let them succeed.

"We must stand across their path and say: 'You will not prevail. Turn from the use of force—and peace will follow.' . . .

"We are not trying to wipe out North Viet Nam. We are not trying to change their government. We are not trying to establish permanent bases in South Viet Nam. And we are not trying to gain one inch of new territory. Then why are we there?"

"BECAUSE WE ARE trying to make the Communists of North Viet Nam stop shooting at their neighbors. Because we are trying to make their aggression unprofitable. Because we are trying to demonstrate that guerrilla warfare, inspired by one nation against another, cannot succeed. Once that lesson is learned, a shadow that hangs over all of Asia will begin to recede . . .

"However long it takes, I want the Communists in Hanoi to know where we stand.

"FIRST VICTORY for your armies is impossible. You cannot drive us from South Viet Nam by force. Do not mistake our firm stand for false optimism — as long as you persist in aggression, we will resist.

"Second, the minute you realize that a military victory is out of the question, and turn from the use of force, you will find us ready to reciprocate. We want to end the fighting. We want to bring our men home. We want an honorable peace in Viet Nam. In your hands is the key to that peace. You have only to turn it."

RARELY IN the relations between two adversaries during a war has such frankness been displayed, at least on the part of the nation which has the more powerful military force and weapons, the strategy behind the kind of speech that President Johnson delivered may not be apparent to the naked eye, but it doubtless was based on the advice of those experts here and abroad who know what's happening inside Red China and who recognize that this is the time to present to the people on the mainland a formula that could lead to peace.

Billy Graham

I like other moderns, suffer from tension. I would give anything to conquer it, but I don't know how. Have you any suggestions?

S. B.

Tension is not always bad. I always have a certain amount of tension before I preach. Some people are as placid as a cow in a pasture when they ought to be disturbed about conditions around them. The right kind of tension is nature's way of telling us something is wrong or preparing us for a challenge. A snake coils and becomes tense when danger threatens. A porcupine bristles up when an enemy approaches. When you become tense try to ascertain the reason. While it is most often the product of the noise, speed, and haste of this modern age, sometimes it is the signal that something is wrong on the inside.

Spiritually, we may be tense because something is out of adjustment within our hearts. We are born with a duality. As Paul said "When I would do good, evil is present." The New Testament teaches that one of the by-products of faith in Christ is release from this inner tension. Jesus said to His tense disciples, "My peace I give unto you." When He ascended into heaven, He didn't bequeath to His followers a material kingdom, as they had once hoped. Nor did He leave them great wealth. But He did leave them His peace. In a day of great inner friction and tension we need the peace that He alone can give.

Some tension however, may be of physical origin — be sure you have nothing physically wrong.

Business Review LBJ Forces Another Price Rollback

By SALLY RYAN

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Johnson administration flexed its muscles again this past week and indicated its anti-inflationary wage-price guidelines were not dead.

It forced the molybdenum industry to roll back five per cent price increases announced only last week. Molybdenum is a key ingredient in the making of high grade steel.

Some businessmen, lulled by the quiet since the aluminum and copper price rollbacks last fall and the partial one in steel in January, were surprised.

BUT GARDNER Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, called the rollback "an act of industrial statesmanship which symbolizes the cooperation which the administration's effort to hold the line on prices and costs has been receiving from thousands of business enterprises throughout the country."

Federal officials also took a hand in the negotiations to end the machinists' strike against five major airlines.

The strike grounded more than 60 per cent of the traffic on the nation's trunk routes, costing the five lines $7 million a day during the peak travel season.

THE NATION'S hotel and resort operators, peripatetic businessmen, electrical manufacturers waiting for parts, lobster dealers in Boston and flower growers in California felt the pinch as passengers and air freight were stranded.

New York City estimated its losses in tourist revenue alone at $500,000 a day.

Checks normally flown to Federal Reserve banks piled up, automatically supplying the banks with additional reserves at the same time the Federal Reserve Board was trying to cut them.

The board adopted a new measure to absorb the reserves in its attempt to keep a tight rein on credit.

THE BOARD and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation moved Friday to cool the hot interest rate war between commercial banks and savings and loan institutions.

They cut the maximum interest rate banks may pay on certain 90-day time deposits from 5.5 to five per cent, and on shorter ones to four per cent, effective next Wednesday.

The board also asked Congress for broader authority for it, the FDIC and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to control the interest rate practices of banks and savings and loan associations.

The board said the moves were to halt interest rate competition when monetary policy is aimed at curbing inflation.

EARLIER, Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler had asked the House Banking Committee to take prompt legislative action to halt the rate war.

Bankers and saving and loan officials across the country indicated they felt Fowler's comments were too little and too late.

Interest rates have risen to the highest level in a generation, putting heavy pressures on consumers who want to borrow money to buy houses or cars.

At the same time, U.S. government bonds have declined to the lowest level in more than 40 years and Treasury bill yields have been the highest since 1960.

SOME prominent Republican senators urged President Johnson to seek an income tax increase to dampen the inflationary pressure.

Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said unless taxes were boosted soon to restrain the economy, inflation might tip the economy into a recession.

House Republicans also raised what they called "disturbing rumors" that the Johnson ad-

Around The Rim Disturbing Calculations

If people would quit striking averages, figuring out dire forecasts and formulating trends, this world would be a happier place. Why not just leave things alone?

My rummaging through the trash basket has brought forth the kind of thing mentioned above.

NO. 1: AN efficiency expert for some management concern took to his computer and found that an individual dictated and typed letter cost $1.97. The figure is broken out this way: dictator's time, 35 cents; stenographic time, 76 cents; non-productive labor time such as waiting, absenteeism, etc., 17 cents; overhead, 44 cents; materials, 8½ cents; mailing, 11 cents, and filing 5½ cents.

Now this is a piece of intelligence which, if taken seriously, would put a stop to about 90 per cent of all letters. I know I never wrote a letter worth $1.97, and can remember precious few ever received.

Suits me if we all stop writing. The best kind of envelope to receive is one with nothing but a check in it.

NO. 2: Some wise-acre has also fiddled with his pencil, and announced that if you are an average person, during the next 24 hours your heart will beat approximately 103,689 times, your blood will travel 168 million miles, you will inhale and exhale 23,240 times, and will speak 4,500 words while exercising seven million brain cells.

This is not something that has kept me awake nights, and the only comment I have to make about heart beats, blood travel, and breathing is that I'm sure glad it's true.

All right, if that's not enough to help you while away a hot summer day, here's

NO. 3: The days are getting longer and not just because of the season. Two UCLA scientists claim that in about a half billion years the day will be 30 hours long instead of 24, and four and a half billion years a day will last 200 hours. They have estimated that the earth has lasted four and a half billion years so far. They blame the slowdown on the loss of energy from the constant rise and fall of tides on earth that are pushing the moon farther away from the earth at the rate of an inch a year.

GOLLY, if our spacemen are going to hit the moon, they had better hurry. Just as the calculations are all set for them to blast off, the moon is going to inch back a little, and they will miss the front edge of the thing.

I SUPPOSE I could take a 30-hour day, on the promise that it would afford a little more sack-time, but when it gets to be 200 hours, that's too much. What with the work week going down to six or five hours—maybe four, they say—people will be stumbling all over one another in that search for use of leisure. Again, when the day gets to be 200 hours, what happens to the year? If it gets to be proportionately long, some of us are simply not going to live to see all this.

IF IT'S JUST the same with you, let's let the heart beat, the cost of letters and the length of the day take care of themselves.

Marquis Childs The Fight For The Open Spaces

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. — Down at the bottom of the canyon is the dark impenetrable rock that is at least a billion years old. To a crowded room full of tourists of every age the ranger is giving the daily lecture on the story of the earth as written in this astonishing spectacle like nothing else made by nature or by man.

"YOU KNOW," he says in conclusion, "our time on this earth is very short. I have just one suggestion for you. Try to find a place on the rim where you can be alone and there for a little while think about how long this process has been going on."

Since tourists are coming into Grand Canyon National Park at the rate of up to 15,000 a day this advice is not easy to follow. It suggests the struggle to preserve a sense of wonder—the majesty of this phenomenon earth—these puny newcomers to earth—in the face of a mass invasion. And just now something new has been added with the proposal to build two high dams at each end of the canyon.

THE POWERFUL forces driving for Bridge Canyon and Marble Canyon dams have touched off a classic combat between the conservationists and the Bureau of Reclamation in the Department of Interior. The bureau, with the backing of every political figure in Arizona, including Barry Goldwater, is pushing the project with what the conservationists charge is propaganda defrayed by taxpayers' money.

Gov. Samuel Goddard of Arizona, a Democrat, belittles the conservation argument. He says that the reservoirs to be created by the dams would affect only a few miles of the Colorado River as it flows through the national park. And the reservoirs would not be visible at any point to which tourists now come. Moreover, he says that the lake created by Bridge Canyon dam would eventually attract 600,000 visitors.

BUT FOR THE passionate conservationists, led by David Brower of the Sierra Club, it is the living river itself that is threatened with destruction. They hold sacred every mile of the canyon whether visible to the average tourist or not. If the two dams are built — to help arid Arizona solve its water problem — they will be a precedent and no national park will be safe from the dam builders and the exploiters.

PEOPLE VS. nature — that is the frame in which the conflict over the dams belongs. Mobile America is on the move. They come with every kind of trailer and house caravan, tents and camping equipment, to occupy sites prepared by the National Park Service. Space is always short even though camp sites and motels are constantly being expanded.

On the whole, the Park Service seems to have done a good job here. The camp sites and the motels are set in stands of ponderosa pine, back from the rim of the canyon so that they are more or less concealed.

BUT THE TIME is not far off when restrictions will have to be imposed on the mass movement that each summer swells in volume. The three most crowded national parks— Yosemite, Yellowstone and Grand Canyon — each had last year around 1,700,000 visitors. About 90 per cent came in their own cars, making at the peak for bumper-to-bumper traffic which hardly fits the concept of the great open spaces.

The pioneer conservationists led by Theodore Roosevelt, who fought to save a part of America's heritage from the spoilers and the exploiters, could not have foreseen the age of the motorcar. They saw the solitary grandeur of such phenomenon as the Canyon and they wanted others coming after to know it. That is the essence of the struggle today.

Art Buchwald Paris On $500 A Day

PARIS—Despite the many rumors that it is an expensive city, I have discovered that you can still see Paris on $500 a day.

Of course, in order to do it, you have to give up certain little things such as breakfast, but any couple who is careful and sticks to their budget will not only see and do a lot, but will probably have as much fun as the tourist who spends $1,000 a day.

IN ORDER to make it on $500 a day, you must have the cooperation of your wife. I was fortunate in coming to Paris with a wife who found the whole idea of staying within $500 a day rather amusing and said, when I suggested it, "What a wonderful game! We'll pretend we're poor Americans and that $500 a day is really all the money we can spare."

"We'll see a different Paris," I warned her, "the one the tourists usually don't get to see. But at least we'll have something to talk about when we get home."

"Oh, I hope we can do it," she said excitedly.

I MUST SAY we got off to a bad start because the first day we were in Paris my wife went to the hairdresser. This cost her $100, so we both decided to do without a fancy lunch. Instead, we went to a sidewalk cafe and had two ham sandwiches on French bread and two cups of coffee, which only came to $50 with the tip.

"Isn't this fun?" my wife said. "It's like being a student again."

"I didn't want a big lunch anyway," I replied, "and now we have more money for dinner."

I WAS GETTING tired, so I decided to go back to the hotel for a nap. But my wife said she wanted to make one more stop at a little dressmaker she knew called Christian Something-or-Other.

She came back at six, breathless. "I saw a little black dress on sale. It was originally priced at $950, but they'll give it to me for $250."

"But that's our dinner money," I cried.

She became very annoyed. "All you can think about is food. I'd rather do without dinner and have the dress."

So we stayed in that night and managed to keep within our $500 a day budget.

THE NEXT-DAY my wife went out early to buy a duffelbag. I was getting pretty hungry by this time, so I sneaked off and had a coffee and croissant for $25. You can imagine my surprise when I saw my wife come into the same cafe and order eggs.

"I thought we were going to do without breakfast," I said.

"Look who's calling the kettle black," she said. "I notice you're having coffee and a croissant."

"Yes, but I didn't order eggs for $50 a plate."

"Oh, let's not fight," she begged. "After all, we came to Paris to have fun."

"YOU'RE RIGHT," I said. "Would you like some bacon with your eggs?"

"It's $25 extra," I replied, "you don't get to France every day."

"And that's how it went for the week we were in Paris. The only near disaster we had was the day we sent our laundry out and it cost us $450. With only $50 left, it hardly seemed worth leaving the room, so we stayed in and played gin rummy."

"By Golly, we don't have any jist plain cowfeed!"

DEAR ABBY

A Second Parakeet

DEAR ABBY: Our son, who served with the Marine Corps in Viet Nam, came home last month. As you can imagine, Don was pretty well tuckered out, so he just sat around the house resting and getting used to civilian life again. He also taught our parakeet how to swear.

Now, fun is fun, but you should hear what he taught that bird to say! What if the preacher drops in one Sunday afternoon? DON'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Get another parakeet and teach it how to pray for the one that swears.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of parents who have decided to call it quits after 51 years of marriage? They have four married children, 13 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. They were never exactly lovebirds, but it never came to a real separation before.

I am the eldest daughter and Mama called me and told me to come and get her as Papa moved to a motel and she was not going to stay in the house alone. It's been three days, and Papa is still holed up in the motel.

My oldest brother called Papa and asked what he should tell people. Papa said, "Tell them I've entered my second childhood and I have the measles!" Then he slammed down the telephone. What should we tell people, and how can we get them back together?

EMBARRASSED DEAR EMBARRASSED: Papa's explanation will do. Tell them nothing. "Love" will find a way.

DEAR ABBY: I was born 35 years ago in a midwestern state at a home for unwed mothers. As an infant I was adopted by a wonderful couple, and we moved away. This fall my husband and I are planning a vacation to the midwest and find we will be near the city of my birth. My adoptive parents have both passed away, but my real mother is still living.

I have full information on how to reach her. Being a woman, I am naturally curious. I have not decided whether I would meet her face to face and identify myself, or whether I would arrange to meet her without letting her know who I was. Or should I just forget the whole thing?

I have no intention of intruding on her life or causing her any unhappiness or embarrassment. Perhaps you or one of your readers who have experienced something like this can help me decide.

JUST CURIOUS DEAR CURIOUS: If you sincerely wish to cause your real mother no unhappiness or embarrassment, I advise you to forget the whole thing. It would hardly be worth the risk merely to satisfy your curiosity.

All this glory from one tiny seed! The sunflower towers taller than a man, its huge golden head filled with thousands of seeds . . . and every seed contains the mystery of life and growth that science cannot explain.

We are surrounded by miracles that man did not create. Who created them? Who created us? By the reasoning powers of our own marvelous minds we can be guided to see that God the Creator has made all things according to His plan, and that we can only achieve our highest development by living in harmony with it.

How can we know God's will for us? We need only a small seed of faith, for He will lead us in His way if we ask Him . . . and that seed will grow and flourish under His loving care.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Jefferson Rich In Ante Bellum Architecture

If you like to browse restored splendid old homes, America has few peers to Jefferson—a northeast Texas 19th Century metropolis that's doing fine with population 3,000 as a Twentieth Century jewel box. Here's your invitation.

To hand from Jefferson's Mrs. Dan Lester and nearby Marshall's Rebecca M. Cameron is their just-published "Jefferson on the Bayou"—detailing an outside-view tour of "46 historic medallioned homes, sites and structures—more than any Texas city."

Of them, advises Mrs. Lester, you can visit 14 with short advance arrangement. What's to be seen?—A National Parks Service architectural team this summer is cataloguing the Jefferson landmarks: one of three American cities so saluted.

HOUSE OF SEASONS.
Among those visitable daily is

MEN IN SERVICE

Larry M. Clement, son of Mrs. Frances Parks, 2100 Johnson, Lawrence D. Olson, son of Mrs. Lois E. Land, 1105 N. San Antonio, Randy R. Looney, son of Mrs. Willa D. White, 1206 E. 6th, all of Big Spring, and Jackie W. Hankins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hankins, Stanton, recently enlisted in the U.S. Navy.

They enlisted at Albuquerque, N. M. and are presently undergoing recruit training at the U.S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. Upon completion of recruit training they will be granted 14 days leave during which time they may return home before being assigned to a school or other duty station.

The enlistments were handled by Big Spring Navy Recruiter Jerry Waggener located at the Post Office Building (phone AM 3-3851).

Billy Howard Johnson, EON2, U.S. Navy, recently enlisted in the CB advanced rate program. Based on his previous experience in construction work, he was advanced to petty officer second class. He is now undergoing four weeks of indoctrination at the Construction Battalion Headquarters, Davisville, R.I. Upon completion he will be assigned to a mobile construction battalion for duty.

Billy had previously served two enlistments in the Army totaling nine years. His wife, Beverly, and four children reside in Big Spring, said Navy Recruiter Jerry Waggener.

Seaman Recruit James M. Roman, USN, son of Mrs. Dorothy Jean Roman, Knott, is undergoing seven weeks of basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

Upon completion of recruit training, he will be assigned to a school, shore station or ship, according to the results of his Navy classification tests, his own desires and the needs of the Navy.

Two soldiers from Big Spring, Pvs. Carl A. Henkell, 18, and Gary R. Bradbury, 17, completed a light vehicle driver course at Fort Ord, Calif., July 8.

During the eight-week course, they were trained in the operation and maintenance of military vehicles up to and including the two and one-half-ton truck.

Henkell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Henkell, 1001 E. 3rd. Bradbury is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bradbury, 1301 Michael Ave.

Commissaryman 2.C. Robert Conner, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Honner L. Conner of 165 Oriole St., Big Spring, is serving as a crew member of the tank landing ship USS Hampshire County, now undergoing a shake-down training period with the Fleet Training Group, San Diego.

The Hampshire County was recommissioned July 9, at the U.S. Naval Shipyard, Long Beach, after 11 years in the reserve fleet.

Lewis E. Moss, SN, U.S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Moss, 2613 Larry Drive, recently was graduated from Basic, Electricity and Electronics School at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. He is presently attending 20 weeks of radar school at the Naval School Command, San Francisco. Later he will be assigned to a fleet ship for duty as a radarman.

Lewis enlisted in the Navy in June, 1965, and served for a short time on board the USS Vancouver LPD 2.

the stately House of Seasons with cupola, widows walk and handsome inner dome, the 1829 classic Greek Revival Manse, the Apothecary Shop and Country Store, several fine old churches and buildings and the venerable Federal Courthouse, now Jefferson's historical museum.

Beautiful Excelsior House, erected 1857, has to be Texas' most interesting hotel. Like any neighboring landmarks, it is owned outright by Jefferson's Jessie Allen Wise Garden Club—the force behind Jefferson's restoration and survival.

What is now our Pilgrimage City came to life after Texas Revolution with sternwheelers up the Red and across Caddo Lake cypress labyrinth. Riverboats made it for close to 40 years, gate city for the great new regions opening north and west.

STEAMBOATS
"Steamboats—15 at a time—lined the wharves built along the bayou half a mile, and great brick warehouses (blocks of ruins there today) were erected. The land about was in big plantations and hotels were the finest west of the Mississippi. First with artificial ice and street gas lamps. Jefferson reached a transient population peak after Civil War of near 30,000 then—steamboat-confidence—turned down Jay Gould's railroad. Angry, he predicted death for the 1880 metropolis: by 1940 it had dwindled to 3,000 and seemed a certain ghost.

Historians Lester and Cameron modestly touch on the extraordinary effort by which Jefferson ladies saved their town. They scrubbed to restoration ante-bellum splendor, showed it. Each spring, Jefferson's home pilgrimage draws thousands, but you can visit any day.

Today, the century ago metropolis booms again. Planked in beauty by Caddo and Lake O' The Pines, Jefferson on the Bayou is becoming a leisurely tourist mecca.

Take an OBT tip: Take up the Jefferson ladies' invitation to come and see.
STATE SONG, TEXAS, OUR TEXAS:
South Plains' Elvis E. Fleming of Morton: "Every source I've checked indicates that our state song, 'Texas, Our Texas,' was written by William J. Marsh and Gladys Yoakum Wright. Yet, at the time of Mrs. Wright's death last year, Mr. Marsh was quoted in interview as saying he did not know her

What about (the authorship of our state song)?
Fleming adds: "I would like to see more material dealing with our part of the state. We feel left out!"

Note: Don't feel left out; write what you want to ask or tell about yours or any part of Texas. You don't have to be expert to explore—just curious. And, we'll use initials.

Mailbox: (Write OBT, care of the Big Spring Herald, Box 1431. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.)

SPANISH DAM
Corpus Christi's Henry C. Morgan Jr.: "Brownsville's railroad to Point Isabel was indeed built before the Valley had rail connections to outside Texas points. Dr. Dave O'Brien, instrumental in the line, was a friend of my father's." Mrs. Nedra Howard of Plainview: "Enjoyed your story on Mollie Bailey and circuses generally, which reminds me—what ever happened to Gainesville's Community Circus?"

Houston's J. G. Webb: "Read the (Garland inquiry re Pecos River Spanish Dam) while traveling. I did not see the dam ruins but a good map by Mrs. Glen Mathews for the McCamey Chamber of Commerce places it a few miles below the Rio Pecos power plant. . . account said it was built to irrigate for feed for cavalry mounts, late 1800's, between Fort Concho and Stockton. . . San Antonio's J.R.R. re Lampasas County Indians: "The Lipan Apache gave Spanish early trouble; later, the Comanche. In between, maybe a few Tonkawa."

Heat Has Dried Out Moisture From Soil

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Rains in Texas have been few and heat literally put available soil moisture through the ring. The result, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is a growing shortage of moisture for both crops and pastures.

The hot, dry weather in South Texas, he added, really put the "get and go" into the grain sorghum harvest and swamped elevators and brought on a critical shortage of transportation equipment. Ranges in many areas are becoming a threat, the director said. Livestock are generally in good condition and grazing is still adequate, however.

Midweek reports from district agents said: Moisture is very short over most of the Panhandle and many farmers are waiting for rain to plant dryland sorghum. Irrigation wells on the South Plains are being pumped at near capacity and all crops were making good progress. Cotton is squaring and blooming and sorghum ranges from early bloom stage to emerging heads.

Some moisture improvement was noted in the Rolling Plains (Vernon), but 20 of the 22 counties in the district need more rain. Cotton and sorghum are making fair to good growth. Moisture is short and hay yields in Northeast Texas are about half of normal. Cotton and sorghums in far ing good growth. Insects are light. A good supply of high quality peaches is available in the Hill Country.

Moisture in Central Texas is getting short and corn and late sorghum needs rain. Cotton is making good progress but insects are increasing. The peanut crop is in good shape.

Moisture in East Texas is short; very short in Cherokee, Madison, Panola and Tyler counties. Corn needs rain. The lack of rain has cut vegetable production. Half the counties in Southeast Texas were short on moisture. Cotton is blooming and corn is in all stages. Early rice should be ready for harvest within a week to 10 days.

South Central Texas has adequate moisture. Moisture in the Coastal Bend and the Valley counties in far South Texas also is adequate but the Winter Garden needs rain. The sorghum harvest is moving very fast. The Valley grain elevators are nearly full.

Filming 'Hunt'

NEW YORK (AP) — Film rights to "The Royal Hunt of the Sun" have been acquired for a down payment of $200,000 plus a percentage guarantee against eventual grosses.

The picture, to be released by MGM, is to be shot this year in Peru. The drama, now running on Broadway, concerns the Spanish conquest of the Inca empire.

'CAST A GIANT SHADOW'
Kirk Douglas plays the hero

Here's Story Put On Film

"Legendary," "unbelievable," "fabulous," "miraculous" are some of the adjectives to describe the life of Col. David "Mickey" Marcus, who was everything from a gangbuster under Thomas Dewey of New York, to advisor to President Roosevelt at Dumbarton Oaks and Yalta; parachute jumper on D-Day, to the first General of a Hebrew Army since biblical times, with many a way stop between.

It's all true, and it comes to the screen unadorned because it needs no garnishing to make it fascinating, in "Cast a Giant Shadow," the Color-by-Deluxe and Panavision film which opens Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Kirk Douglas portrays "Mickey," supported by a cast which includes Senta Berger, Angie Dickinson, James Donald, Luther Adler and Stathis Giallelis (of "America, America!" fame) with special appearances by Frank Sinatra, Yul Brynner and John Wayne.

During his life of 47 years, "Mickey" manages to crowd more honors and excitement into them than is usually accorded a dozen adventurers and soldiers-of-fortune.

He was born on New York's East Side in 1901. He died June 11, 1948, on a height overlooking Jerusalem, mistakenly shot by one of his own sentries, a mere seven hours before the announcement of the Israeli-Arab peace toward which he had been actively fighting as a general in the Israeli army. Buried at West Point, of which he was a graduate, the only alumni of the academy killed while engaged in action for a foreign country so honored, his epitaph reads simply, "Col. David Marcus, a soldier for all humanity."

Marcus attended West Point in the early '20s but left the army in 1927 to pursue a law career. He served as a gangbusting assistant district attorney under the famed Thomas Dewey; was appointed Deputy Commissioner of Correction for the City of New York by the late Fiorello LaGuardia and helped clean up corruption in New York's prison system.

He rejoined the army in 1940, serving as an aide on General George Marshall's staff in the Pentagon, and later parachuted into Normandy on D-Day, his first jump. The feat won him a reprimand and a Distinguished Service Medal at the same time. He then became a military advisor to Franklin Delano Roosevelt and served at the Dumbarton Oaks, Quebec and Yalta conferences in this capacity, while also sitting in at the Nuremberg war trials and drafting a treaty of peace with Italy.

He helped liberate the death camps at Dachau and Buchenwald as a liaison officer on General Patton's staff and served as assistant deputy military governor of Germany upon the peace under General Lucius Clay, later becoming chief of the war crimes branch of the War Department, organizing the Nuremberg and later the Japanese trials.

In 1947 he was approached by a member of the Palestine underground army and asked to

Humor In Convent Opening At Ritz

Rosalind Russell as a Mother Superior who runs a convent school with considerable strict discipline and a sense of humor, and Hayley Mills as a high-spirited student determined to break every rule in the book, just for the fun of it, are two of the stars in "The Trouble With Angels," new release opening today at the Ritz Theatre in Columbiacolor.

Co-starred are Binnie Barnes, making her first Hollywood film in 17 years, as a nun who teaches music and leads the band with her ears cotton-plugged so she need not hear the cacophony; Gypsy Rose Lee as a kookie teacher of interpretative dance brought in by Miss Russell to help her charges appreciate "culture"; lovely Camilla Sparv, Swedish-born newcomer and artist's model, as the nun whom the students idolize as "the flawless beauty"; Mary Wickes, as the gym teacher whose oversized tennis shoes peep from her robes; and June Harding as Rachel, Miss Harding making her motion picture debut, is a Broadway and television performer of considerable note; in "The Trouble With Angels" she appears as Hayley Mills' friend, admirer and companion in continuous conflict with the rules.

Actress-writer-director Ida Lupino directed "The Trouble With Angels," investing it with what Hollywood has hailed as a considerable imaginative and sympathetic comedy sense, so that the film emerges as both heart-warming and sprightly in the extreme.

Fewer Negroes

NEW YORK (AP) — A sharp decrease in the number of shows employing integrated casts on Broadway and off-Broadway during the 1964-65 season is reported by Equity.

James Bond Returning Here In 'Thunderball'

"Thunderball," newest of the James Bond thrillers — and fourth in this exciting series — opens tonight at the Jet Theatre, in Technicolor and Panavision. The biggest Bond of all, "Thunderball" has more action, more gimmicks, more women... and cost more to make than any of the first three adventures.

Again starring Sean Connery as the indelible secret agent 007, the release features four more Bond playmates: Claudine Auger, a former Miss France; Martine Beswick, once Miss Jamaica; Molly Peters as the therapist... and Luciana Paluzzi as the villainess whose kisses are a prelude to death, black widow style! Adolfo Celi is Bond's newest nemesis, Emilio Largo — leader of a SPECTRE plot to hold the entire western world for ransom!

Presented by Albert R. Broccoli and Harry Saltzman, "Thunderball" was directed by Terence Young, who also directed "Dr. No." and "From Russia

SEAN CONNERY

With Love," the first two Bond adventures.

The story sets the action on and under the Caribbean (over 20 per cent of the action takes place underwater — including a love scene between Bond and "Domino").

Filmed on location in the Bahamas, the movie features fantastic sets and props, including a giant hydrofoil that skims across the ocean at 95 knots, rocket-firing motorbikes, a two-man diving bell, underwater sleds — and Bond's now famous Aston Martin DB 5 sports car with its machine guns and ejector seat!

He rejoined the army in 1940, serving as an aide on General George Marshall's staff in the Pentagon, and later parachuted into Normandy on D-Day, his first jump. The feat won him a reprimand and a Distinguished Service Medal at the same time. He then became a military advisor to Franklin Delano Roosevelt and served at the Dumbarton Oaks, Quebec and Yalta conferences in this capacity, while also sitting in at the Nuremberg war trials and drafting a treaty of peace with Italy.

Colleges To Start Earlier

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University and Dallas Baptist College disclosed plans to start and end their fall semesters earlier than in the past.

Registration will begin the last week of August. SMU will hold its first classes on Labor Day and Dallas Baptist on Sept. 1.

Final examinations concluding the semester will end Dec. 22 at SMU, and Dec. 23 at Dallas Baptist, compared to mid-January in former years.

This will permit Christmas vacations lasting nearly a month before the second semester, opening about the same time as usual.

Previously students have returned after Christmas for a week or more of classes before final exams.

"There is widespread feeling on many campuses that little learning takes place during this short period of days," said Dr. W. L. Ayres, Southern Methodist provost.

Big Spring police step into new high-performance pursuit cars

Sulphur Tests Said Encouraging

FORT STOCKTON—Testing is continuing to determine if sulphur deposits north of here are commercially feasible. Nash J. Dowdle, Midland, representing Texas American Petroleum Corp., said that core drilling on the Iowa Trust Realty lease so far has been "encouraging." Duvall Sulphur and Sinclair also have been testing other leases. Dowdle estimated that tests would have to indicate recovery of two million tons per each 1,800-acre lease unit in order to be developed. The core drilling is mostly to a depth of about 900 feet and will continue for about three more months.

Police Cruise In New Pursuit Cars

Big Spring Police are patrolling the city with nine new pursuit cars designed to give them an extra advantage in their task of enforcing the law.

The new cars are equipped with 383 cubic inch engines, special high speed tires, oversized brakes, high speed transmission and rear ends, and heavy duty radiators.

"We had them built practically from the ground up," said Jay Banks, police chief. "The seats are even reinforced. We have one car equipped with disc brakes as an experiment."

Banks said the disc brakes were working quite well so far, and were providing quick, smooth stops with little skid to the tires. He said if these brakes prove successful, the next cars purchased will have them.

"The motor company wanted to promote police special equipment, and made up for the difference," Banks added. Much of the driving is done about town at low speeds, and many times police cars must be stationed at certain vantage points and kept idling. These conditions, along with the high performance engines, increase the car's gasoline consumption to an average of about six miles per gallon. However, indications are that the new pursuit cars are equaling the gasoline mileage of the old stock models.

Before asking for bids, police conducted a survey of other area city departments to find which kind of automobile had given them the best and cheapest performance.

Twirler Class

Prison Inmates To Get Diplomas

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—High school diplomas will be presented 300 inmates of the Texas prison system Sunday. Most of the school work for the certificates was done within prison walls.

Asks FAA For Airport Funds

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas Mayor

Erik Jonsson asked the Federal Aviation Agency to put up $12 million for building the new North Texas regional airport between Dallas and Fort Worth. He signed the application as chairman of the regional airport board. Jonsson said Dallas will supply $6.5 million and Fort Worth $5.5 million in matching funds. The FAA was requested to make the money available during the current fiscal year for possible use on acquiring more land or grading and drainage work.
