Warplanes Bang Away At Targets

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - U.S. warplanes hammered at North Viet Nam again today while ground fighting remained at low ebb in the South except for sporadic guerrilla mortar attacks.

TWO LOST - The raids on the Communist North cost two more American planes, raising reported U.S. aircraft losses there to 310. All three airmen were daringly rescued by U.S. helicopters after they bailed out over North Viet Nam's panhandle region.

U.S. officials announced that an official of the U.S. Agency for International Development, Norman L. Clowers, 50, of Tacoma, Wash., was killed in a Viet Cong ambush near Nha Trang. They said Clowers, a public safety adviser for five provinces in the central lowlands, was shot three times in the back of the head.

Clowers was the eighth AID official killed by the Communists. Seven of these were Americans, the other a Filipino. Officials said Clowers was ambushed Monday after delivering cement and roofing materials to a village about 20 miles north of Nha Trang.

U.S. planes flew 68 missions against North Viet Nam Tuesday, striking three oil depots, barges, bridges, trucks and rail lines. Pilots sighted two surface-to-air missiles. A flight of Air Force Thunderchiefs knocked out a missile site two miles southeast of Vinh, a spokesman said.

One of the planes lost today was an Air Force F105 Thunderchief fighter-bomber piloted by Capt. James R. Mitchell, 37, of Ogden, Utah, a former Olympic skier making his 100th and last flight of the war.

Mitchell, a much decorated flier, was picked up unhurt 14 miles north of the 17th Parallel.

Army Brass Irritated, Volunteers Want Action

WASHINGTON (AP) - More and more soldiers anxious to serve in South Viet Nam have been writing to President Johnson and congressmen asking for help.

This annoys the Army. So it has put out the word which says, in effect: "Go through channels."

The Army letter added that "it is rare indeed for a congressman or other person in authority to ask for anything more than an explanation and/or information upon which to base a reply."

MILD REBUKE - In what sounded like a mild rebuke to commanders, the personnel letter instructed these troops leaders to publicize procedures for volunteering for Viet Nam.

"Many of these letters are to the President and members of Congress.

"The tone of most of these letters is 'I have volunteered and haven't heard anything. Please take action to send me there.'"

It appears, the personnel letter said, that "many soldiers do not realize that VIP correspondence will not expedite nor provide preferential action on volunteer applications, and that such correspondence cannot be used in lieu of a formal application submitted through channels."

At dawn today, B52 bombers from Guam struck at a suspected Viet Cong troop concentration 55 miles southwest of Saigon. American pilots flew 464 sorties in South Viet Nam Tuesday, reporting 58 Viet Cong possibly killed and 146 enemy structures and 23 sampans either destroyed or damaged.

Near Saigon, Viet Cong guerrillas unlimbered two mortar attacks against the base camp of the U.S. 25th Division at Cu Chi 18 miles northwest of Saigon. The tent city sustained minor damage and U.S. casualties were light, the U.S. military command said.

Red Delegates Banned At Meet

TOKYO (AP) - The Japanese government today barred delegates from the Viet Cong, North Viet Nam and North Korea to the 12th Ban-the-Bomb conference in Hiroshima Aug. 5-7.

Speck Faces Arraignment

CHICAGO (AP) - Richard Speck, 24, indicted in the slaying of eight student nurses, faces arraignment Monday.

The Circuit Court's criminal division announced the date Tuesday after the grand jury handed down eight indictments charging the former odd-jobs man with murder.

The grand jury spent Monday hearing testimony then handed the indictments to Judge Edward F. Healy. Customarily, defendants are arraigned a week from the day indictments are returned. Judge Healy cautioned, however, that such procedure is subject to change.

Before the indictments were voted, Speck had been charged with slaying Gloria Jean Davy, 22, of Dyer, Ind. She is believed to have been the first of the nurses to die in the July 14 massacre.

Speck is reported to be recovering from a chest ailment and self-inflicted cuts.

LBJ Blocks Threat Against Sixth Airline

Senate Tweaks Bonn's Nose

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was back-the-troops day in the Senate and members responded by voting to censure an ally, West Germany, in the name of supporting U.S. fighting men in Viet Nam.

By a 56-33 vote, the Senate wrote into the foreign aid bill Tuesday a statement that Bonn's guarantee of financing for a privately contracted steel rolling mill in Red China is a grave blow to "the safety of American and allied troops" in the Southeast Asian conflict.

LACK OF HELP - This represented an irritated response to lack of allied help in the war. But the overriding objective of those who supported the proposal was to get on the record with their backing for the men in uniform.

This was demonstrated when 14 Democrats and 10 Republicans whose seats are at stake in this year's election voted for what Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., called an insulting statement of censure.

Only three Democrats and two Republicans whose jobs are up for grabs in November backed the administration's efforts to avoid the congressional slap at Bonn.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., started the ruckus by proposing a flat condemnation of West Germany. Even after his amendment was adopted Byrd voted "no" when the Senate passed the aid bill, 66 to 27.

WATERED DOWN - Administration leaders succeeded in watering down the wording of his amendment to make it apply generally to any ally who furnished help to Red China. But they lost two roll-call attempts to sidetrack the proposal.

Kuchel, the assistant Republican leader, took the lead in trying to turn aside a declaration he said tried to dictate to a valued ally how it should conduct its foreign trade.

"We've got to take friends as we find them," Kuchel said. "We can't pick out one of our friends and tweak its nose on how it will conduct its trade."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, chimed in that the censure move was "very risky business . . . we have very few friends left."

DO NO GOOD - Anyhow, he said, it wouldn't do any good. He added that the steel mill won't be built for three years and chided those he said seemed to think the Viet Nam War is going on forever.

He said Australia, with fighting men in Viet Nam, still trades with Red China.

City Loses Again On Water Rates

The City of Big Spring tripped on the fourth and final hurdle in its attempt to void an agreement between the city and the Big Spring State Hospital on water rates, it was learned today.

A 1937 agreement which gave the hospital the right to water in perpetuity at 10 cents per 1,000 gallons will stand up, despite the fact that the city currently loses money on the deal.

The city's motion for a rehearing before the Supreme Court of Texas was overruled, reports from Austin said.

"That's it. That is the final action we can take," John Burgess, city attorney, said this morning.

In the spring of 1965, the city sued the State, and lost in a trial in the district court in Austin, in an attempt to void the agreement.

The city appealed to the Court of Civil Appeals in Austin and was overruled in April, 1965.

In November of last year, the case was argued before the state Supreme Court, and in June of this year the court upheld the lower court decision.

Burgess immediately filed for a rehearing, with the results learned today.

Navy Extends Pacific Search

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Coast Guard and Navy ships and planes extended today their intensive search over the Pacific for Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell Jr. and two companions.

They disappeared early Sunday flying a DC3 from San Francisco toward Hawaii.

The aircraft carrier Yorktown, engaged in the search since it began only hours after the plane was last heard from, was to be relieved today by the Hornet, en route to the search area from San Diego.

Stilwell is commander of the Army's Special Warfare Training Center at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Lincoln's Bottle Found In Wall

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) - They opened the cornerstone of the Illinois State Capitol expecting to find architectural surveys dated to 1868. Instead, they discovered a pint bottle of whiskey.

The bottle, decorated in leather and silver, bore this message: "Made for Abraham Lincoln Sept. 20, 1860, and presented to him as an emblem of his administration. It is pure and will grow better as it grows older."

TRUSTEES SET BUDGET MEET ON THURSDAY

Big Spring Independent School District trustees have decided to meet again Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the board room to begin work on the proposed $4 million budget for the upcoming year.

As proposed, it calls for expenditures of $4,097,557.07, an increase of about $58,000 over the current budget.

It is based on local revenues of $1,887,775; income from the state of $1,812,162; and $260,000 income from federal programs. This total income of $3,960,487, coupled with an estimated $605,085 balance from the current budget, gives the district $4,565,572 in available receipts. Thus, the new budget calls for a balance at the end of the year of some $422,000.

Senate Opens Strike Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson blocked a strike threat against a sixth major airline today while Congress studied whether the 20-day walkout against five others has created a national emergency.

Johnson ordered creation of an emergency board to study a dispute between American Airlines and the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union. The union otherwise would have been free to strike after midnight tonight.

Creation of the board automatically delayed the strike threat for 60 days.

OPEN HEARING - The action came shortly before the Senate Labor Committee was to open hearings on the strike by the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists grounding about 60 per cent of the nation's air traffic.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who is sponsoring legislation to bring a quick end to that strike, revised the bill he had proposed in an apparent effort to ease action. Then he demanded that Congress "park politics outside" and order the strike ended.

Morse's bill would force a six-month halt to the walkout, while mediators seek a settlement. As introduced it would have required a finding that the national health and safety were imperiled by the strike.

ALTERED - He altered it today to require only a finding that essential transportation services have been halted in parts of the country.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said members of the emergency board in the American Airlines dispute will be named within 24 hours.

Under the National Railway Labor Act, the board will study the issues between the airline and the union and within 30 days submit recommendations aimed at promoting a compromise settlement.

Another 30-day period will follow in which parties to the dispute will be free to study the board's findings and, perhaps, negotiate an agreement.

COMPLETED - That procedure already has been completed without settlement of the strike of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists against five airlines.

Witnesses for the five grounded airlines, the striking machinists' union and the Defense, Labor and Post Office departments open a Senate hearing on special legislation to halt the strike.

"I think it does constitute an emergency," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who appeared ready to seek quick passage if the Senate Labor Committee votes out a strike-stopping bill.

DELAYING - But P. L. Siemiller, president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists complained "the continued interference by the legislative branch of government is delaying the final time when agreement can be reached."

Chief airlines negotiator William J. Curtin is expected to tell the committee that the strike is "an urgent national problem" and that Congress should act to end it.

AFL-CIO President George Meany issued a statement supporting the machinists' stand that while the strike is inconveniencing the traveling public, it presents no threat to the nation's welfare or to national defense. Meany, who urged defeat of any strike legislation, is not a witness.

STAR WITNESS - The government's star witness is Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. The Labor Department declined to say what line of argument he would take, but indications were that Wirtz would report serious strike effects on the nation's economy.

Hostile Forces Greet Plan

AUSTIN (AP)—State law prohibits a proposed transfer of Colorado River water to San Antonio, the general manager of the Colorado River Authority told Texas water planners today.

Sim Gideon testified at a Texas Water Development Board hearing on the Colorado basin segment of the tentative $3.74 billion statewide water plan. The hearing was one of a series of 27 across the state on the plan to meet water needs through the year 2020.

HOSTILE - Hostile testimony also was expected from Highland Lakes Tourist Association, which is on record as opposing vigorously any attempt to take water that might lower the levels of the six Hill Country lakes between Austin and San Saba.

Gideon said that the 1934 state law which set up the LCRA reserved the authority the right to develop and use the waters within its basin. Further, he said, there is no surplus water within the authority's area because the LCRA has tied up through permits more water than actually flows down the Colorado.

Gideon said the planners had worked on "falacious positions and erroneous assumptions" in devising the Colorado plan. He said the board's staff assumed that 1.5 million acre-feet annually flow down the Colorado past Austin, but the flow actually is 547,000 acre-feet last year and 815,000 acre-feet in the 1948-1956 period. An acre-foot is 325,851 gallons.

NOT CLEAR - Gideon said that not only does the plan call for export to San Antonio by 2020 but also recommends export 500,000 acre-feet a year from the Colorado for irrigation in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. He acknowledged that this proposal is not clearly stated in the report.

Hostile Forces Greet Plan

"We feel that the state of Texas in 1934 contracted and agreed that the development of the Lower Colorado River Authority would be pledged by the state as follows: (1) the water would be used solely within the LCRA, not exported, and (2) made a solemn pledge to the buyers of bonds and to the people who have invested millions of dollars in homes and facilities that the water would not be diverted," Gideon said.

"We feel that all the waters of Colorado is needed to meet municipal, industrial, recreation and irrigation needs of the basin," Gideon said. "There is no water available for export with-

WELL ABOVE ESTIMATES

Federal Income Rockets

WASHINGTON (AP) - The federal government expects its income for the current fiscal year to rocket about $4.5 billion above original estimates, it was learned today.

The dramatic upswing in the estimated income is based on current tax rates. Any tax increase would push the total even higher.

BELOW SPENDING - If the new estimates materialize, tax receipts in the fiscal year which ends next June 30 would total $115 billion to $116 billion. The administration originally anticipated tax receipts at $111 billion - $1.8 billion below estimated federal spending. Since the original estimates were made, however, there has been increased spending for Viet Nam war and by Congress.

So the expected boost in income still would not be enough to put President Johnson's budget in the black for the year.

What's the basis for the predicted increase? Mostly an original underestimate by the Treasury Department on tax receipts, one government official said. Recent revisions by the Commerce Department of its estimates in personal income for the last 2½ years also played a role in the revision.

The possibility of a tax increase still is an open question and officials emphasized today that no decision has been made. That will depend on future developments, they said.

Some government officials have talked of a possible $10-billion tax increase next year but the new estimate of tax collections could soften that bite, if it did develop.

A request for more money to fight the war in Viet Nam is expected to be presented to Congress early next year. Preliminary estimates place the figure at $6 billion although this is subject to change.

Such a request could be coupled with a request for increased corporate and personal income taxes.

LOW DEFICIT - For the fiscal year which ended last June 30, the budget deficit was $2.3 billion, considerably less than the $6.4 billion the administration anticipated last January when it projected tax receipts at $100 billion. Tax receipts actually totaled $104.6 billion.

CONCERN FOR SAFETY

Other Countries Moving To Educate Motorists

LONDON (AP) — A few countries are moving to legislate more safety into the motor car, but in most the accent is on educating the driver and pedestrian. Grim statistics on highway fatalities are not exclusive to the United States. The automobile explosion in other nations has brought with it an accompanying rise in traffic accidents and growing concern with safety problems.

SETS STANDARDS
The U.S. Congress is considering a wide-ranging bill to establish mandatory safety features in new automobiles, and the government has already set standards, beginning with 1967 models, for cars it will buy.

In other nations, an Associated Press survey shows, the automobile boom is a comparatively recent development and the stress has been more on driver and pedestrian education than on legislation.

In Japan, where streets already were crowded with pedestrians and bicyclists, the number of passenger cars quintupled during the five-year period from 1960 to 1965. And in a number of European countries, the number of vehicles almost doubled during the same period.

BETTER OFF
Even though the United States led the world in the total number of traffic fatalities last year, statistically it appears better off than some other nations.

The United States had some 91.3 million vehicles registered last year and about 49,000 highway deaths. West Germany, with only about one-tenth of the number of cars, had 15,710 fatalities.

Japan, with 2.2 million passenger cars in 1965, had a total of 12,475 fatalities. About one-fourth of those were pedestrians and another fourth were motorists.

Britain, with 12.5 million vehicles registered, had an estimated 8,000 fatalities. Italy, with 10.4 million cars, had nearly 9,000 traffic deaths.

John Tye, controller of the British Safety Council, claims most accidents in Britain are due to lack of driving discipline. "British drivers are probably the most courteous in the world," he said, "but apart from in Hong Kong, I have never encountered such hazards as on British roads due chiefly to lack of lane discipline."

The British Parliament is studying a bill to make seat belts compulsory on new models. The Victoria state government in Australia is considering requiring a dual braking system and a recessed dashboard.

BANS OBJECTS
In both West Germany and France, legislation has been enacted banning sharp, protruding objects from car bumpers, wheels or other parts in an effort to cut down injuries to pedestrians and cyclists.

Periodic auto inspections for older vehicles are mandatory in Britain and Japan. Seat belts are not required in most nations. The belts appeared on the Italian market about four years ago but have been generally ignored, a traffic expert there said.

A spokesman for the German Automobile Association said his group opposes making seat belts mandatory because in some instances they have caused fatal accidents, even though, he added, there is no doubt they help reduce the number of fatal injuries.

SAFETY FEATURES
A number of auto manufacturers in Britain, Germany and Japan, particularly those with an eye on the American market, have incorporated safety features on their own.

One safety development in Britain and Germany is the design of an auto chassis which gradually collapses under impact of a collision. These are on only a few models, however.

Other safety improvements include padded steering wheels and crash-absorbing steering columns on some models.

Not all the efforts towards safe driving have been made on the governmental level.

The Italian Automobile Club organized a campaign in 1964 using hundreds of photographers to take pictures of traffic violations. The offending drivers, traced by license plates, received letters asking them to mend their ways.

COURSES REQUIRED
Italy also has made extensive road improvements and requires road-safety courses in elementary schools. Despite that, its safety experts say, Italian drivers have much to learn.

In Mexico, one reporter observed, drivers tend to forget the rules of courtesy when they get behind the wheel. "They seem to feel it is an insult to be passed and a crime to be last away from an intersection," he said.

Colleges Have No Bidders

AUSTIN (AP) — A Dallas bank's offer to take an option on $26.4 million in construction bonds for 13 Texas colleges was accepted Tuesday after the colleges found no bidders.

The First National Bank of Dallas, financial adviser for the 17 state four-year colleges outside the University of Texas and Texas A&M systems, took the option at four per cent interest in behalf of itself and about 50 other banks.

The bank has until Aug. 15 to exercise its option.

Two other schools, the University of Houston and Texas Tech, Tuesday sold bonds for $5.5 million and $1.5 million respectively. The Bank of the Southwest in Houston bought the University of Houston bonds at 3.9999 per cent, and Underwood Neuhus & Co. of Houston bought the Texas Tech bonds at 3.9975 per cent.

The 1965 constitutional amendment that authorized sale of the bonds placed a ceiling of four per cent interest on them. The money market is so tight it is difficult to sell at that rate.

4-H Tour Community Affair For Knott Folk

KNOTT — Knott 4-H Club Achievement Day tour, staged Tuesday afternoon, turned out to be a major community enterprise.

Forty-four adults and club members took part and the tour covered the homes of a dozen young club members. The program was climaxed with a supper served cafeteria style in the Knott Community Building.

The group met at the school at 4 p.m. Cotton crop projects of Johnny and Patty Peugh, Ricky Peugh, Ricky Hughes, Bruce Keith Nichols and Kelly Gaskins were inspected.

Swine projects of Johnny and Patty Peugh, Larry and Linda Shaw, Kayla and Kelly Gaskins and Johnny McGregor were displayed. Steers being fed by Larry and Linda Shaw, Lawrence Long and Mike McClain, and lamb projects by Alvis Jeffcoat, Kayla Gaskins and Mike McClain were included in the visits.

A special display was Keith Nichols' entomology display, featuring his mounted collection of 16 insect species, was shown.

After the dinner, the club held a regular session with McClain presiding. A plan was adopted to send a box of sewing materials to a Peace Corps worker in Peru. Last year, the club sent ELK CITY, Okla. (AP) — A Texas woman and an Illinois man were killed and a Wisconsin man critically injured Tuesday in the collision of two cars in a construction lane of US 66 near here in Western Oklahoma.

One of the cars was driven by Thelma Liles Casey, 46, of Pampa, Tex. The highway patrol said she died at the scene.

Hal D. Cable, 28, of Chicago died shortly after the accident in an Elk City hospital. A passenger in his car, Lewis Judzewicz, 45, of Franklin, Wis., was taken to a hospital in Oklahoma City.

ARKANSAS PRIMARY Segregationist Leads The Ticket

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Segregationist Jim Johnson led the ticket today in returns from the Arkansas gubernatorial primary and appeared headed for a runoff with the candidate he says is backed by Gov. Orval Faubus.

Johnson took the lead in returns Tuesday night and held a steady 14,000-vote margin as counting continued today in the 300 unreported boxes, many of them big boxes from urban Pulaski County (Little Rock).

Running second was Frank Holt, who was tagged by the other six candidates in the race as a Faubus administration man. Holt denied the charge but welcomed any support from the administration.

Holt and Johnson, both former state Supreme Court justices, were well ahead of the rest of the field. If the trend holds, they will meet in the runoff scheduled for Aug. 9.

If a trend established Tuesday night holds, Johnson will meet Frank Holt, tagged by all his opponents as a Faubus administration candidate, in a runoff primary Aug. 9.

The runoff winner will not be assured of election as he once was in this traditionally Democratic state. Waiting for him in the general election will be Winthrop Rockefeller, who easily defeated his Republican primary opponent Tuesday.

Johnson attacked President Johnson and the "Great Society" at every stop. He said his vote indicated that the people of Arkansas still believe in state's rights, constitutional government and the right of private property.

Race was not really an issue in the campaign because other candidates did not discuss it. But Johnson reminded his audiences of his segregationist

Football Was Never Like This

A new All-American football entry, perhaps the strongest team in the history of the game on pass defense, held their first scrimmage under the critical eyes of UCLA's Tommy Prothro, last year's college "football coach of the year." The team is composed of 11 of the lovelies in 20th Century-Fox's "In Like Flint" and just returned from location in Jamaica. Prothro instructs quarterback Kay Farrington how to throw a pass. Doctor Faces Two Charges Of Murder

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino, 34, faced arraignment today for the murder of his first wife, also a physician, with a supposedly undetectable drug. It is one of two murder charges against the doctor.

Arraignment in the death of Carmela Coppolino, 34, last Aug. 28, will be before Circuit Judge Lynn Silvertooth. Coppolino also faces a first-degree murder charge in New Jersey in connection with the strangulation death of a former neighbor, retired Army Col. William E. Farber, 52.

Coppolino was taken into custody Saturday on a warrant from New Jersey's Monmouth County grand jury.

He spent the weekend under guard in a hospital after complaining of severe chest pains.

A Florida grand jury indicted him Monday, after it received an autopsy report on the disterred body of the first Mrs. Coppolino which indicated, according to State Atty. Frank Schaub, the presence of a drug. Schaub said the prosecution "theorized" that Mrs. Coppolino had been killed by a drug which was once thought to be undetectable after death and said the seven-month investigation was "medical pioneering." The drug was not named.

Farber, who died in July 1963, reportedly was killed by a double fracture of a cartilage of the neck, according to Vincent Keener, Monmouth County prosecutor. But Farber's death certificate, signed by Mrs. Coppolino, gave the cause of his death as a heart attack.

The Coppolinos lived next door to Farber and his wife, Marjorie, in Middletown, N.J. Shortly after Farber's death, the Coppolinos retired to Longboat Key in Sarasota and not long after that Mrs. Farber and her three children moved next door again.

One month after his first wife's death, Coppolino married a divorcee, Mary Gibson. They each have two children from their previous marriages.

Mrs. Coppolino's death was listed as due to a "coronary occlusion."

But officials reported receiving a tip about eight months ago which resulted in her body and Col. Farber's being exhumed and checked for cause of death.

The two states already are contesting which will try Coppolino first.

Coppolino is quoted as saying he retired from medical work to devote his time to writing and lecturing. He has authored a number of articles in professional journals, including a study of alcoholism in industry entitled "The Billion Dollar Hangover."

Marina And Family Move To New Greenville Home

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP)— Away from the "glass house" she wanted to leave in Dallas, the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald was at home in her new house here today—still avoiding the press and public.

Tuesday was moving day for the Kenneth Jess Porters, and they were quick to tell Dallas newsmen they were happy to leave the town where the Warren Commission says Mrs. Porter's former husband shot and killed President John F. Kennedy and policeman J. D. Tippit.

"How would you like living in a glass house for all the world to see?" Mrs. Marina Oswald Porter asked Tuesday as she left Dallas.

A few hours later, she was in Greenville, population 21,000, and about 50 miles northeast of Dallas, in the midst of Texas blacklands.

Marina, her three children—two by Oswald and an infant born July 3—and a woman friend drove up to the modest frame and brick home.

From across the street, Marina could be seen looking carefully over the neighborhood. Finally she alighted from the small, white sedan and started walking toward the house. A news photographer raised his camera.

"Uh oh!" said the startled widow of the accused assassin. She ran into the house, leaving her children with her tall, brunette friend. A few minutes later she sent word to newsmen that she had "nothing to say."

"Just leave me alone," she said.

Shortly, her new husband arrived, obviously chagrined and angry. A newsmen walked toward him.

"I don't want to shake hands," said Porter. "I don't want to talk to you. I would appreciate it if you would just leave."

And across the street lives Greenville's "Policeman of the Year," W. G. Stigall. He's a friend of Police Capt. Narvel Gasway and Police Sgt. Dwight Gasway.

The Gasways are brothers of Mrs. J. D. Tippit, the widow of Dallas policeman Oswald who was accused of killing a short time after the Kennedy assassination.

And just a few houses away lives Richard E. Porter, a Greenville city fireman who is a brother of Marina's present husband.

Sergeant Gasway, however, expressed what apparently is most of the town's opinion, when he was told Marina was moving to town.

"She's free," he said, "to move where she wants to."

Court Rules He Can't Add It

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Paul Jarma, 23, wanted to Germanize his name by adding "Von" to it, but Civil Court Judge Maurice Wahl said no, and admonished: "If a man is going to be an American at all, he should do so without any qualifying adjectives."

The judge added: "Von is a prefix in many German and Austrian names of the nobility. The court cannot think of a greater nobility than being an American."

Actor William Holden Involved In Fatal Crash

PISA, Italy (AP) — A car driven by American movie actor William Holden crashed into the rear of another car Tuesday night and the Italian driver of the other car was killed, Pisa police reported today.

Holden, 48, and two sisters with him — Sara and Susan West of New York — were not hurt. The actor said they were daughters of friends who are staying at Montecatini, a nearby spa. He said he was driving to Viareggio, a seaside resort.

Police said Holden's car hit the rear of a small car about 10:15 p.m. near Pisa on a super-highway from Florence to the Ligurian seacoast. The small car hurtled into another lane and overturned.

Holden, however, said the other car veered into his from the

The only occupant, Giorgio Valerio, 42, of Prato, Italy, died en route to a hospital.

The Pisa police impounded Holden's car, the usual procedure in a fatal accident. They said they would make a report to an investigating judge who will decide whether any charges will be filed.

Holden announced in 1963 that he and his wife, former actress Brenda Marshall, had separated. They had been married for 25 years and have two sons, 22 and 20 years old.

Eight years ago, Holden left the United States to live in Switzerland. He has wide business interests, including a chain of 11 hotels and lodges in Kenya, a radio station in Hong Kong and an electronic company in Japan.

"We would like to make clear that the LCRA is not critical of the plan in any way. But in appearing at meetings and making statements, the LCRA has done only what we have been invited to do by the Texas Water Development Board," he said. Gideon, a veteran of Central Texas and Colorado River water conservation and power generation affairs, spoke Monday at the first Colorado basin hearing in Odessa.

VENOMOUS BITES KILL 113

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — One hundred and thirteen persons have died in Arizona since 1929 because of venomous animals and insects. Prof. Herbert L. One person died after being bitten by a Gila monster, seven others as a result of insect stings, and another because of a centipede.

Patrolman Testifies As Kidnaping Trial Starts

DALLAS (AP) — A Wichita Falls policeman testified today that Delbert Harmon Garmon Jr. held an automatic pistol at his side and took the officer's own weapon as he embarked on an alleged 17-day two-state kidnaping spree last October. Patrolman David Burkett said, as Garmon's kidnaping trial opened in federal court, that the defendant held the gun on him and said: "Give me your gun." "Go ahead and take it," the officer said he told Garmon Oct. 5, 1965 in Wichita Falls. He added that Garmon then took his service pistol from the holster and ran into an alley. The police said he grabbed a shotgun from his car and walked in the direction of the alley. Garmon, 26, of Wichita Falls, is charged with kidnaping Jesse Elbert Dugan, a Davidson, Okla., farmer, and forcing him to drive him to Dallas Oct. 19. He is also on trial for violations of federal firearms laws.

Ky Says Either Invade Or Face A Long War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky gave the United States a choice today of aiding South Viet Nam another five or 10 years or invading North Viet Nam to finish the war. Citing repeated Communist declarations to fight on as long as 20 years, Ky told a news conference on his regime's progress: "We have the patience but can we say the same thing of our allies? Are they ready to help us for five to 10 years? If not, we must destroy the Communists in their lair."

FBI Joins Hunt For Holdup Men

BOSTON (AP)—Boston police say they've given the FBI "a substantial amount of physical evidence" in the hunt for three masked men with machine guns who shot two guards and stole $68,000 from an armored car. The noon holdup Tuesday at a Veterans Administration hospital was the fourth armored vehicle robbery in Greater Boston since Jan. 1, with loot totaling $327,000. None has been solved. Last Friday, four masked men, again armed with machine guns, took $131,000 in cash from a Brink's Inc. truck at the Mitre Corp. in Bedford. The money Tuesday was in cash and negotiable checks.

This compares with net of $1,421,152, or 20 cents a share, in the corresponding 1965 period. "If present conditions prevail throughout the remainder of the year," he said, "our second half earnings should exceed those we are now reporting."

New Report Gives Graphic Picture Of Expenditures

Edgar Phillips, county auditor, said Tuesday that most of the departments of county government have spent less money the first six months of 1966 than in the comparable period for 1965.

He submitted a new type of financial report to the county commissioners court this week in which the receipts and expenditures for the current six months were placed alongside the same records for last year.

FIRST TIME

This is the first time this form of report has been offered. Phillips pointed out that the commissioners would be able, by checking the report, to determine just what departments were running ahead and those running behind financially for the first half of the current year.

In the jury-fund, for example, it was shown that the district court has had to spend nearly $1,000 more for petit jurors this year than last, but for the entire fund, the expenditures for those of 1965. The district court jury expenditure this year has been $3,305 compared with $2,515 for the same period a year ago. Receipts for the jury fund are about $200 under the same period a year ago.

ROAD, BRIDGE

The road and bridge fund showed total receipts through June 30 to have been $203,053.48 for last year and $198,825.73. The loss is charged to the drop in fines paid in the lower courts—a product of new state laws which abolish some traffic penalties which formerly went to the highway department. Fines accounted for $6,593 of last year's first half-year income last year for the first six months, but this included a $13,000 transfer from the permanent improvement fund. The past six months show income into this fund at $8,012 augmented by a $7,000 transfer. Total disbursements are about $700 under the 1965 figure.

Howard County Commissioner Court is now studying a tentative 1967 budget. The figures for the first half of this and last year will provide a graphic picture, Phillips feels, of the financial needs of the several county funds.

The auditor plans to make these reports a regular practice. He makes a monthly financial report for the court which is laid before the members on each regular meeting.

Hiker Cools Off A Bit

DEATH VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Jean Pierre Marquant, the French ex-paratrooper, cooled off today before continuing his hike across the scorching wasteland of Death Valley.

Marquant, 28, arrived at Furnace Creek Tuesday night, saying, "I feel weak and tired, but I think I can do it."

Marquant is walking 100 miles over the sand, rocks and mountains of Death Valley in 130-degree heat. He has 84 miles behind him.

He told Ranger Homer Leach he will resume his trek today or Thursday after putting around Furnace Creek Ranch with friends. The ranch is a resort closed for the summer.

Marquant started the hike last Thursday to prove there "still is some adventure in America."

Soviets Assure Thant Of Support In U.N.

MOSCOW (AP)—U Thant has been assured the support of the Soviet Union for another term as secretary-general of the United Nations but says he has not made up his mind yet, informed sources reported today.

The sources said Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told that during a long talk Tuesday the Soviet government wants him to accept re-election when his current five-year term expires Nov. 3.

Thant was said to have replied he has not decided whether to be a candidate but would take the Soviet attitude into consideration.

Thant is to announce by early September whether he will seek re-election. Soviet support for another term had been reported from the United Nations as early as last April.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey announced U.S. support of a second term for Thant last month, and Britain and France also have endorsed a second term publicly. With this lineup of support there is no doubt Thant can remain in the post if he wants to.

The secretary-general is chosen by the General Assembly on recommendation of the Security Council. The General Assembly's annual session begins Sept. 20.

Thant has urged U.N. members to try to find another candidate. He is known to want to spend more time with his family and to return to his home in Burma, which he has been away from for 10 years. But he has said he will put the interests of the world organization first.

Thant spent three hours in conference with Kosygin Tuesday, and a U.N. spokesman said afterward they had "a frank exchange of views" on Viet Nam, disarmament and European problems.

The spokesman would not say whether the question of the U.N. deficit came up. The deficit stems largely from the refusal of the Soviet Union and France to pay their share of U.N. peacekeeping costs.

Thant is scheduled to go by train tonight to Leningrad for sightseeing and to fly back to and to return to his home in Burma, which he has been away from for 10 years. But he has said he will put the interests of the world organization first.

Moscow Thursday night. Before leaving for New York on Friday, he is expected to meet the general secretary of the Soviet Communist party, Leonid I. Brezhnev.

SALARY FUND

The officer salary fund is a good example. The receipts for the period in 1965 were $121,996 compared with $68,417.36. However, the records show that $57,500 of the 1965 total represented a general fund transfer.

The officer salary fund provides for the numerous offices and agencies of the county government. Expenditures for the several offices were about $3,000 lower this past six months than for the period a year ago. The figures are $99,458 and $104,150.

The general fund, bolstered by a $13,000 transfer from the jury fund, showed 1965 receipts at $1,507. The current period's receipts were $35,283.

Total disbursements for the 1965 half year were $151,255. The current period disbursements are $85,279. The auditor said the figure for 1965 includes a number of transfers which were charged as general fund expenditures. Such transfers have not yet been made this year.

The library fund had $13,823

General Motors Reports Sharply Reduced Profits

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors, the nation's largest manufacturing concern, has reported sharply reduced second-quarter profits. The company said lower unit sales and higher costs were to blame.

Ford Motor Co.'s six-month earnings report was due today and Chrysler Corp. will announce its figures Thursday.

GM reported a drop of almost $100 million Tuesday for the second quarter as compared with the same period last year but company officials continued

NATO Sees Soviet Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says NATO defense ministers believe the Soviet threat in Europe has not diminished.

McNamara made the statement to newsmen after returning from a Paris meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministers. He gave no indication of an imminent reduction of U.S. military forces in West Germany.

The defense chief mentioned the Berlin crisis of 1961 and the Cuban missile crisis of 1962 as illustrative of Soviet actions to probe possible weaknesses among Western nations. He said NATO members all recognize the necessity of strong defense postures in face of the Soviet threat.

A LOVELIER YOU

Colors, Fabrics Take On New Dimensions

By MARY SUE MILLER

As never before, fashion turns to fabric for inspiration. And the challenge has been met. The plum of upcoming daytime fashion is in fabric — in a variety of texture, weight, pattern and color that extends to wool, silk, cotton, synthetics and blends.

Textures range from silky smooth to loose and open; weights from chiffon jerseys to heavy, but bulkless coatings. Many surfaces are corded, as exemplified by ottomans, towels, gaberlines and knits. Newly important are the velvety textures, such as velveteens, velours and corduroys. Even vinyl now comes with a velvet finish. Either woven or bonded, double-faced fabrics make a strong impression in every weight and texture. Hearty tweeds and tweedy finishes are also much in evidence.

Patterns lean to bold geomet-rics—checks, tattersalls, plaids. Some appear sculptured while others are formed by an interplay of colors. In dress materials, patterns favor florals, paisleys and abstracts.

Color runs the gamut, but the excitement is in true brights and luxurious darks: brights like cyclamen pink, corn yellow, sapphire blue, acid green, neon red, shined copper; darks like plum, russet, blackened green and brown, licorice. Often the lights and darks are played against each other in a fabric and a costume. In neutrals the story is white and taupey.

With so wide a choice, flattery is no problem for once. Just remember that smooth, darkish fabrics take inches off the body!

A Devotional For The Day

After a little while the bystanders came up and said to Peter, "Certainly you are also one of them, for your accent betrays you." (Matthew 26:73, RSV)
PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee for letting Jesus come among us to be our example. Help us to learn of Him as Peter did, so that we can be strong Christians, adding strength to strength. We ask in His Name. Amen.
 (From the 'Upper Room')

Scope Of The Poverty War

Legitimate questions have been raised about the effectiveness and efficiency of the war against poverty being mounted by the Office of Economic Opportunity. There also has been a good deal of the sort of criticism known as carping.
 It is hard for the average reader to make up his mind as to the soundness of criticism, partly because he lacks information as to the nature and scope of what is being done.
 One hundred six Job Corps centers are now in operation with 28,541 youths enrolled. The Volunteers in Service to America program, known as VISTA, has 3,992 workers signed up. More than 1,400 Neighborhood Youth Corps projects have been approved for fiscal 1966, as well as 148 work experience projects involving 38,406 participants in addition to 127 renewed projects involving 73,368 participants.

 Forty-five state plans for adult basic education have been approved. Under the general heading of community action, OEO reports the following: Project Upward Bound grants to serve 20,318 pupils in 223 schools; 33 Foster Grandparents projects; 184,549 children enrolled in year-around and follow-through programs of Project Head Start, with an additional 505,423 enrolled for this summer's program; 160 Legal Service programs; projects, also, for migrant workers and Indians.
 This is not all that is being undertaken, but the programs cited give an idea of the wide-ranging effort to benefit Americans whose lives are blighted by this affliction. Though there is room for improvement, there must be some progress in many of the areas listed above.

South Plains And The Valley

As has been noted here before, one of the glaring faults in the highly publicized Texas Water Plan for the next half century is that it found the High Plains problem too big even to tackle.
 While the program is very complicated with its various inter-basin transfers, one of the key points to remember is that, in the last analysis, a great deal of so-called surplus water from other portions of the state would go into the Rio Grande Valley, where new acreage would be opened up under irrigation.
 Now the whole South Plains economy is built on, and has been for many years, farming by irrigation. This leads us to endorse a statement made by a hearing on the Water Plan held at Odessa Monday, by Jim Gideon, general manager of the Lower Colorado River Authority. Said Gideon:
 "The people of Texas should be given an opportunity to determine for themselves whether it would be better to spend a little more money and bring water to West Texas and maintain an irrigation economy which already exists and which benefits thousands of people in the area — or to spend a little less money to take water to the Rio Grande Valley to irrigate land that has never been irrigated and which would benefit relatively few people."

 Mr. Gideon has a most important point.
 This is not to say that sending new water into the South Plains area is simple or economical; it is not. But disastrous effects can occur if there is no study made, or if that section is left to depend upon waters as far away as Canada. The economic losses could more than offset monies spent beyond what the Texas Water plan calls for now.

What The Constitution Says

WASHINGTON—Once in a while it is a good thing to re-read certain articles of the Constitution of the United States, and even senators need to do it occasionally, lest by their public utterances they mislead people at home and abroad.
 Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Democrat, who is chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has just made a speech in which he says, in effect, that President Johnson is making "an irrevocable national commitment" in Asia "without the consent or even the knowledge of the Senate."
THIS HAS DRAWN an emphatic rebuttal from the White House, which declares that the President has kept Congress fully informed about his policies.
 "The Constitution says that the President shall have power by and with the advice and consent of the Senate to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur." This doesn't mean that the President must allow senators to participate in the negotiation of treaties or agreements with foreign governments or that Congress can formulate foreign policy. It does mean that the President can make "policy" and doesn't have to get the consent of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee or of Congress to order our Air Force to repel an attack from an enemy country, especially one that may come in the middle of the night.
 "INDEED, the principle of the Monroe Doctrine was a commitment to a "policy" initiated in 1823, but it was never submitted to the Senate for ratification until 1940, when 21 republics in this hemisphere joined in a pact approving the doctrine."
 Sen. Fulbright says that, except for the Monroe Doctrine, the United States "has traditionally rejected policies of unilateral responsibility for entire regions and continents." He says that until quite recently "these responsibilities were limited to certain countries and certain purposes" and that the responsibilities were to be discharged "collectively either under the United Nations or in cooperation with our allies."
BUT MUST the United States condone aggression and accept the consequences of the fact that the United Nations is indirectly influenced or controlled by the power of the enemy? The U.N. charter permits regional agreements for collective defense. This makes valid the creation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization for the collective defense of Europe against aggression and the Southeast Asia Treaty for the defense of the Asian continent. Both treaties have been ratified by the United States Senate.
 "IN ADDITION to the 'Alliance for Progress,' which has been built to help solve the economic problems of Latin America, the Organization of American States has been formed. Along the same line, recently ten nations in the Pacific, including the United States and Japan, have established the 'Asian and Pacific Council.' Yet this is what Sen. Fulbright calls "a radical departure in American foreign policy."
 Sen. Fulbright criticizes what he calls an "Asian doctrine" as if it is designed as a parallel to the Monroe Doctrine, which originally placed the task of defense against aggression in this hemisphere solely on the shoulders of the United States. The opposite is true. President Johnson put the real situation in these words in a speech on July 12:
 "AMERICANS entered this century believing that our security had no foundation outside our own continent. Twice we mistook our sheltered position for safety. Twice we were wrong. If we are wise now, we will not repeat our mistakes of the past. We will not retreat from the obligations of freedom and security in Asia."

Federal Pay Makes Big Strides

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was with evident concern that President Johnson signed the new federal pay raise bill last week, the fifth pay hike voted federal workers by Congress within four years.
 For the most part, the $540-million annual pay increase, a 2.9 per cent boost, fell within the White House's suggested wage-price guidelines. But by beginning the pay boosts July 1, six months earlier than he had recommended, Johnson said Congress had added $500 million to his 1967 budget.
 "THESE OUTLAYS" begin at once, and they begin at a most critical time when we are striving to restrain inflationary pressures," the President said.
 But more to the point, he signed the bill into law, said it would help "attract and retain the talent and excellence needed to conduct the complex affairs of government," and continued the steady upward spiral of government pay.
 Johnson is firmly committed to the principle laid down by Congress in the federal salary reform law of 1962 — that, as he said in his federal pay message to Congress last March, "government workers are entitled to a pay scale which compares favorably with pay in private industry."
SINCE 1961 federal pay has increased by about 19 per cent, about 15 per cent of this since Johnson took office. The pay raises of October 1962, January 1964, July 1964, October 1965 and the latest one boosted government pay by almost $2.8 billion annually.
 "BUT DESPITE" sizable jumps at the higher levels, industry evidently is ahead on the top rungs, by a considerable margin. For example: the average pay at grade 15, the top professional level though there are three super grades above it, is $19,371 while industry pay for comparable jobs, according to government figures, is $22,708.
 The government's efforts to keep pace over-all and edge toward comparable pay is illustrated by the average percentage increases the five pay hikes brought the 1.1 million government white collar workers — 5.5, 4.1, 4.2, 3.6 and 2.9.

 Most recent government figures show, however, that from 1961 through early 1965, accountants in private industry gained a pay increase of 13 per cent, auditors 14.2 per cent, attorneys 16.2, personnel directors 15.6, chemists 15.8, engineers 13.7 and clerical workers 11.2.
 (Today's column by Barry Schweid, substituting for James Marlow.)
 NEW YORK (AP) — Letters people would like to get but rarely do:
 "I assigned my high school chemistry students the task of making an experiment on their own. Your smart aleck son Sam, who was flunking the course, decided he'd grow hair on a hard-boiled egg. Well, to my amazement, he did it. Strictly between us, if his mixture works on people as well as it does on eggs, there may be millions in it as a cure for baldness. I wonder if you and I couldn't get together, form a quiet corporation with Sam and—"
 "BASCOMB, I certainly have lived to rue the day I turned you down and married Roscoe instead. After losing one job after another, Roscoe found steady employment as a carnival barker and then — JUST OUR LUCK — came down with a bad case of Bronchitis this summer. We are really on our uppers, and I'd appreciate it if, for old times' sake, you could lend us $25-until our ship comes in again."
 "We at the Internal Revenue Service were deeply impressed by the clarity and brevity of your 1965 tax return. Would you be interested in helping us create a simpler tax form and also address a series of taxpayers' clinics we plan next spring? There would be a consultant's fee of $100 a day, plus a flat allowance of —"
 "JIM, I'M sure the board would have a hard time deciding which of us to make the new president of the firm when they meet next month. Well, pal, I'm leaving the field wide open for you, I and my secretary, Maude, are tired of the big business rat race, so we are going to run away and start a little chicken ranch out in Nebraska. If my fat bossy wife asks you where I went, tell her Florida or Timbuktu."

 "Daddy dear, I guess you won't have to borrow that money from the bank to send me on my educational trip to France when summer camp ends next week. As counselor I had to teach my kids how to make Indian arrowheads. Well, one of my brats hid an arrowhead under the blanket on my cot and I sat down on it and — well, I guess I'll postpone going to France until next year."
 "AND AS MABEL is going to have our seventh child soon, we won't be able to bring the family for our annual visit. Sure hate to disappoint you, but know you'll understand that under the circumstances. What with the twins, Ned and Nadine, still down with the measles, that it would be better if—"
 "So Lyndon and I just picked your names at random to fill out the guest list. You all be sure and come, now hear? Don't buy anything fancy to wear. Tell your husband in particular not to go and get all duded up, because after the church ceremony Lyndon would like his help in cooking up a real old-fashioned, finger-lickin' Texas barbecue in the White House back yard."

She Gets The Sneezes From Swimming

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: I swim at the YWCA. It is good exercise and seems to help a bad back.
 My problem is that as soon as I leave the water I start sneezing. My nose runs, and it is difficult to swallow because it drips at my ears. I have tried nose clips and nose drops, but nothing helps. Have you any suggestion other than giving up swimming?—F. R.
 I've had a touch of the same thing myself after swimming in pools, and some people with particularly sensitive nasal membranes even notice it after swimming in a lake.
 The culprit in pools is most likely the chlorine used to disinfect the water. You didn't mention smarting eyes, but some folks notice that, too.
 I don't recommend giving up swimming, which is a wholesome exercise. The sneezing and irritation are a temporary nuisance but they won't hurt you.
 My suggestion is this: Learn to be a good mouth breather! Inhale through the mouth, exhale through the nose. Experts swimers habitually do this anyway.
 Nose drops won't help much if at all. As to nose clips, a little water seems always to get into the nostrils despite them, so proper breathing should give you better results.

 Dear Dr. Molner: While lying in bed ready to go to sleep, all at once I get heartburn, and hot water or acid comes up in my throat. Usually I can turn over and the condition will stop. Could this be hiatal hernia? If this is not answered in your booklet on "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," please explain. I enclosed 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for the booklet. About eight years ago, I was told that I had a duodenal ulcer.—V. F.
 It certainly could be hiatal hernia, but saying that it "could be" is not the same as saying that it is. In many ways hiatal hernia and duodenal ulcer have similar symptoms (and in some respects treatment is the same).
 The best advice I can give you is to have your doctor investigate thoroughly (including X-rays) to see whether you have either, or both, or what is the trouble.
 Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain the meaning of "incisional hernia of the epigastrium." My husband has it but we can't find out anything about it.—L. D.
 It's what we also call a "surgical rupture," or a weak spot at the site of a recent operation. It is usually due to some sharp, sudden strain, such as sneezing or coughing, before the tissues have developed a firm scar. Epigastrium merely means that it is in the upper part of the abdomen. The method of correction is by surgery.
 "Don't Quit Because of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.
 Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. Whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Around The Rim

Pets Are Not Missed—Oh, No?
 Not long ago, a fellow writer lamented about vacationing drivers who ran over pets and speeded along their way, without a care for the animal or a thought for its owner.
 Usually it's true — but not always. My toy terrier, by the name of Penny, was one such case. On my vacation, she was run over by two fishermen in a jeep.
 They stopped and returned. We were two sets of strangers bracketing a dead dog. They apologized. I said it couldn't be helped and I was sorry, too. They tactfully took the dog away.
ALREADY THE men had gone beyond the ken and there was no logic in expecting them to understand more.
 Besides, as dogs go, Penny was ridiculous. She was more trouble than she was worth and her talents were strictly star-crossed.
 In the beginning, she should have been a gift. Instead her puppy tag started at $35; her seller said her registration papers would be extra. Well, maybe later, I said.
AS SHE GREW, it became obvious that any kennel club would rather drape its by-laws than admit such a throw-back.
 She was about six inches tall and her fighting weight hovered around four pounds. She was all black and white when she should have been of white and black; her legs were short and clumsy when they should have been deerlike and graceful. She had neither the temperament nor composure for a show dog.
THE COST AND trouble soared. There were all sorts of dog vaccinations, plus one for hepatitis.
 She was allergic to grass and required twice weekly baths with a prescription type soap. She developed a limp in her back leg and had to be carried up and down split levels. Rheumatism, the vet said. Keep her out of drafts, here's a list of diet foods and another $5 shot.
 Nor was that all. I live on a Borden County ranch where dogs have certain duties. Penny's failure to perform them was almost heresy.
HER FAVORITE stomping buddy was a white cat, she never saw a mouse and she once sashayed by a coiled rattler. She greeted friends in a tigerish yawn, and total strangers with boundless enthusiasm.
 Country dogs should regard chickens as taboos. Not Penny. She would wait until a long line of chickens were pecking down a long line of grain. Straight down the center was her game; and the more feathers, the more noise and the louder the comments, the happier the dog.
AMONG HER backward repertoire was challenging any large animal in sight. By making fast, inside forays, dent of constant barking and strategic retreats, Penny usually won the match.
 One humorless horse did try to put her in orbit. It took artificial respiration to revive her. Still, she missed the lesson. Her next victim happened to be a four-year-old stallion.
PENNY WAS indeed trouble. Her sole contribution to the human world was a sure grin or a chuckle each day. I missed both the trouble and the laughs.
 It was too much to expect fishermen strangers to know the meaning of the word "pet."
 But, they did. Recently I received a colored snap shot of a Colorado meadow and a tree shaded, small grave of rocks. It was signed by Jack Kirkpatrick, Tulsa, Okla. He is a stranger no more.

War's Face At The Window

WASHINGTON — Francis Gary Powers, a U-2 pilot of the Cold War, was issued lethal pills to be taken in event of capture. These lethal pills were issued to Americans on sabotage missions in World War II, which was very hot. The military rationale is that it is the exceptional man who can withstand extreme torment, and that brave men would rather die than spill information to the enemy.
COMMUNIST use of humiliation, brainwash and torment on American prisoners of war in North Viet Nam raises spectres which we at the home front shrink from facing. Wives and parents of war prisoners have for some time been writing to unit commanders in Viet Nam, asking for news of missing men, demanding that the authorities do all that is possible for the recovery and protection. Prisoners' relatives lately have formed loose pressure groups and are calling upon senators and representatives.
THUS THE brutal face of war stares into the windows of the few, and begins to reveal itself more generally. The likelihood that the Ho Chi Minh government will try captured flyers as war criminals has raised demands for retaliation upon the civilian population of North Viet Nam. While we will not admit it, this may become a logical strategy of our air power, as it has been in the past.
ANOTHER SUBJECT that has been enlivened by talk of the prisoner trials is the big show that we once staged at Nuremberg in conjunction with the vindictive Russians. Senator Everett Dirksen was recalling the other day that he had sided with Senator Robert Taft who, in October, 1946, denounced the Nuremberg Trials as a travesty on Americans' concepts of justice.
 "In these trials," said Taft of Nuremberg, "we have accepted the Russian idea of the purpose of trials — government policy and not justice — with little relation to the Anglo-Saxon heritage. By clothing policy in the forms of legal procedure, we may discredit the whole idea of justice."
SINCE THE Nuremberg precedent was applied in subsequent trials of political and military leaders in Japan, the Asian Communists have a penetrating propaganda point for the nebulous thing called "world opinion." If we could designate war criminals, after the fact, so can they. But neither side is going to gain military victory in a war of words. The Communists would treat prisoners in any way that served their policy, regardless of precedent.
 The regrets we will lastingly feel over Nuremberg are something else entirely. Those trials were staged 20 years ago by the same breed of peace-mongers who flourish today. They still cling to the wishful fantasy that war can somehow be abolished.
OUR COUNTRY has been slow to acknowledge that war, with all its horrors, is part of the human experience and cannot be avoided by pretending otherwise. If, as sometimes seems possible, a small part of the population fights and suffers its way through to victory, that still leaves the victory incomplete. Someone and somehow, we are going to win or lose a war in which everybody participates. Then, and probably only then, we will understand.

Indexes Compare Closely

NEW YORK (AP) — The sharp stock market break Monday gives you the first good chance to compare the old and new indexes popularly used to measure its performance. And they turn out to be pretty close to each other, if you look beyond their surface indications.
 The break itself also isn't nearly as impressive in percentages as it may look on the charts, which are based on points of change in index figures.
THE NEWCOMER is the New York Stock Exchange's index of all listed common stocks. The oldest index is the Dow Jones 30 industrial stocks, then The Associated Press 30 industrials, and in more recent years the Standard & Poor's 500 stocks.
 If you look only at the points in these indexes, the stock price drop Monday ranged from 16.32 points to 0.87 points.
 But if you look at the percentages, Monday's drop from Friday's close ranged from 1.8 per cent to 1.9 per cent. The indexes were that near to each other.
IF YOU LOOK at the record for the year, you find the Dow Jones industrials and the AP's 30 industrials setting new lows, for 1966. But the NYSE new index and the S&P index of 500 stocks each closed Monday still above their lows set May 17.
 If you look at individual stocks, instead of at indexes, the price changes range all the way from 165 issues that advanced in Monday's trading to 1,089 that declined. And if you look at the 1966 records, you find five stocks setting new highs for the year and 185 setting new lows.
 Here is how the various market measures performed:
THE DOW JONES industrials closed at $52.83, down 16.32 points or 1.88 per cent. This index has been adjusted many times over the years to reflect stock splits and dividends, and also the many changes in the stocks used on it. So now the index is figured by adding the prices of one each of the 30 stocks and dividing by 2.245 — not by 30, as you would do if the index hadn't changed with the times. That is why the index is above 800 while the average price of the 30 is around $80.
 The Associated Press 30 industrials closed Monday at 448.0, down 9.1 points, or 1.9 per cent, from Friday's close. This index, started in the mid-1930s also has been changed many times and is now divided by 4.01, instead of 30.
THE STANDARD & POOR'S 500 stocks closed at $3.83, down 1.58 points and 1.8 per cent. It is weighted to reflect shares outstanding in individual issues and also stock changes since it started. The May 17 low was $3.63.
 The exchange's new index covers all of its more than 1,250 common issues, but is weighted to reflect the numbers of outstanding shares in the individual issues, and the base index figure was arbitrarily set at 50. Its Monday close was 45.42, down 0.87 from Friday, for an average loss of 90 cents per share. But the drop in percentages was 1.9. Figured retroactively, its May 17 low for the year was 45.06.
SO, WHETHER its 30 stocks or 1,250, Monday's decline is 1.9 per cent, or just a trifle under that. The number of shares changing hands was 7,060,000 — fairly moderate for 1966.
 And the real point of interest probably is what happened to your own stocks: they may have gone up; they may have dropped less than the average; or they may have dropped quite a bit more than any of the four indexes would show. It's still a market of individual stocks.

BRINGS IN IMPRESSIVE RECORD

Herman Smith New Head Coach Here

Herman Smith, newly elevated to the post of head football coach and athletic director at Big Spring High School, takes with him excellent credentials for the challenging job.

Smith's starting salary will be $10,500 per annum.

Smith, 40, has been content to serve as a coaching aide under Don Robbins here the past four years but, before that, had built a tremendous reputation as a teacher of football in various capacities and in various places.

The native of Birdville, Texas, who played his high school ball at Angleton and Fort Worth Tech and his college ball under Dutch Meyer at Texas Christian University, began his coaching career as line mentor under J. W. (Red) Coates, when Coates was grid chief at Odessa College back in 1949.

Herman remained there two seasons, and the Wranglers rated the playoffs for the State Junior College crown both years.

He moved to Tulla High School as line coach in 1951, a year that Tulla won its district championship.

Herman moved to Sundown as line coach in '52 and became head coach there the following year. During his tenure as head coach, Sundown won three straight district championships and played in two state quarter-final games.

In his three years at the helm, Sundown didn't lose a conference game.

Herman moved to Quannah in 1956 as athletic director and head coach. The Indians were runnersup within their district three straight years and finally rewarded their coach with a district title in 1960.

He was head coach at Plainview from 1960 until 1962, when he moved to Big Spring. His stay at Plainview was not the happiest of his coaching career—he never really had a chance to get his program to working there.

As a head coach, his teams won 56 games while losing 32 and tying one. Over a period of 10 years prior to his advent at Plainview, his teams lost only 13 games—an average of only a little more than one a year. In playoff tilts, his teams won four while losing four.

As a college griddier, Smith was a fireplug guard who appeared in both the Cotton Bowl and Delta Bowl games, earning watches from bowl committees in each instance.

Mrs. Smith is the former Jane Woodruff, who now teaches government in the local high school. She once taught speech at Texas Tech for five years. The Smiths have two children, Moffitt D., who will enter Officers Training School at Fort Sill, Okla., Aug. 14; and Susan, who will be in the sixth grade at Kentwood Elementary this fall.

Herman, a lay preacher, is an elder at the First Christian Church and has taught Sunday school classes the past decade. Smith formerly was a member of Rotary International clubs at Quannah and Plainview and was president-elect of the Quannah Rotary when he moved to Plainview.

He was active in Chamber of Commerce work at Sundown, having served as the organization's board of directors. At Quannah, he was coordinator of the Great Books Club and served the Hardeman County Texas Teachers Association chapter as its president.

Smith has served as an instructor at his church's summer youth at Lake Brownwood.

His hobbies are hunting and fishing. He keeps four registered bird dogs in the back yard of the Smith home at 2702 Rebecca.

Oliva Shines In Minnesota Win Over NY

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Oliva is leading the league in batting, Frank Robinson has hit seven homers in the last eight games and Willie Horton is breezing along at a .500 pace for the last week.

So who's the hottest hitter in the American League?

Would you believe Bob Saverine? Oliva tagged two hits, Robinson rapped his 29th homer and Horton had four straight hits Tuesday night but Saverine continued to set the fastest pace with three hits giving him 10 safeties in his last 16 swings.

Horton's four straight hits drove in all of Detroit's runs as the Tigers downed Chicago 3-1. Oliva drove in two runs with his 19th homer and raised his average to .331 as Minnesota defeated New York 6-3.

Robinson's 29th homer couldn't save Baltimore from a 7-4 defeat by Cleveland. Saverine helped Washington dump California 6-2. Boston rapped Kansas City 8-5 in the other AL game Tuesday night.

Horton, with 11 hits in his last 22 swings, has raised his average 21 points from .252 to .273. Willie doubled home Norm Cash with the tying run in the fourth and then drove in other Detroit runs with singles in the sixth and eighth.

Mickey Lolich, who went five innings, got credit for his ninth victory with Dave Wickersham finishing up.

Giants Await Odessa Test

The Big Spring Giants, who won the Sophomore Teen-Age Baseball League championship here last weekend in a "sudden death" playoff, will open play in the District 7 tournament here at 8 o'clock Monday night against the Gibson club of Odessa.

Four teams are entered in the meet which will extend through Thursday night. Three of the teams are based in Odessa.

The game Tuesday night will pit the Basin Machinery team of Odessa against the Odessa Lone Star club. James Edwards manages the Basin team while the Lone Star nine is masterminded by John Chance.

Winner of the meet here goes to the State tournament in Midland.

The Giants, marking time for the tournament, plays a Sophomore League All-Star club in exhibitions here Thursday and Friday nights.

Clarence Trantham, manager of the Giants, has added three players to his roster, in accordance with Teen-Age statutes.

The players are Tommy Tanner, Orioles; and Charley Rodriguez, Yankees, both pitchers; and Johnny Cervantes, Angels catcher.

The Giants finished with an over-all record of 11-4. They won their last nine games in a row.

Supreme Court Rules Against Milwaukee

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court today overturned baseball's conviction to enforce its own antitrust law on state antitrust charges and ordered a Milwaukee court to dismiss the suit.

The 4-3 decision said the State of Wisconsin is "powerless" to enforce its own antitrust law against a sport spread from coast to coast.

A federal antitrust suit has been pending since last year in U.S. District Court in Milwaukee.

The decision erased a finding by Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller in Milwaukee that the National League and its members violated Wisconsin law in transferring the Braves franchise from Milwaukee to Atlanta at the end of last year.

Judge Roller ordered the club to return to Milwaukee unless the league provided an expansion plan that would grant the Wisconsin city a new major league franchise in 1967.

The order had been stayed pending baseball's appeal to the state's highest court.

Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette said that he would take an appeal to the United States Supreme Court "within 30 days."

The majority opinion said baseball seemed to operate as a monopoly, but added that the silence of Congress in applying antitrust laws to the sport was interpreted to mean "there is to be self-regulation until such time as Congress decides that the public interest requires other control."

Americans Shade Internationals

Rickey Steen faced only 18 batters in leading the Big Spring Americans to a 3-0 victory over the Big Spring Internationals in the Little League District playoffs in the National Park here Tuesday night.

Pitching no-hitters is old stuff to the American League ace. This time, only one batter reached base on an error against Steen but he was wiped out in the midst of a double killing.

The victory put the Americans in the Friday night finals against the survivor in the Big Spring Nationals — Andrews Americans game, which will be played Thursday night. The park will be dark tonight.

Steve Ames did very well on the mound for the Internationals, limiting the Americans to two hits.

The Americans scored their first two runs in the third when Donald McKee singled, Jack Curry walked and David McKee singled to drive in a run.

Musician Playing Tune On Pitching

By DICK COUCH Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Ferrara mastered Beethoven and Brahms when he was 16 years old. Now, he's finally coming of age as a swinger.

Ferrara, who gave up a promising future as a concert pianist 10 years ago for baseball but failed in two previous major league trials, stroked the key hit for the second straight game Tuesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Philadelphia 3-2 and remained in the thick of the National League pennant scramble.

The husky outfielder's pinch-hit single in the ninth inning drove in the winning run, capping a two-run rally that extended the third-place Dodgers victory string to five and left them 1 1/2 games off the pace.

San Francisco regained the league lead from Pittsburgh with a 3-3 triumph over the Pirates as Gaylord Perry recorded his 15th victory in 17 decisions.

A year ago Ferrara may have regretted his decision to pass up the concert hall for the diamond. The 6-foot-1, 203-pound musclem was finishing out the season at Spokane after blowing his second chance to make the Dodger varsity.

But Walter Alston gave the Brooklyn strongboy another shot this spring and Ferrara hasn't disappointed the Dodger manager.

In Monday night's 6-3 victory over the Phillies he ignited a decisive three-run rally in the eighth inning with a tie-breaking single. Tuesday night's game-winning hit boosted his batting average to .290 and his RBI total to 20.

Elsewhere, St. Louis nipped Atlanta 4-3, Cincinnati outslugged Chicago 9-6 and New York shaded Houston 5-4.

Jim Hart, hitless in his previous 18 trips to the plate, cracked a three-run homer in the first inning, sparking the Giants to their second straight victory over Pittsburgh.

Marciano Rivas Decisions Young

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Jesus Pimentel, second-ranked bantamweight, stands a little closer today to a chance at the world's championship.

Pimentel fattened that chance here Tuesday night by disposing of North American bantamweight champion Cowboy Billy Smith after 2:43 of the fifth round.

The opening bout went to Marciano Rivas, 124, Mexico, who took a split decision from Gene Young, 127 1/2, of Moundsville, W.Va.

Rivas is in the fight stable of Milton McMorries of Martin County.

GEE WHIZ, MR. WILSON! WHEN COWBOY BOB JUMPS OUT OF A TREE, HIS HORSE DON'T FALL DOWN!

Series Star Doesn't Worry About Upstaging Problem

By PAT CROWLEY
For Cynthia Lowry

EDITOR'S NOTE: Kids and animals — they are the traditional scene-stealing enemies of adult actors. Pat Crowley, playing the mother of four cute boys plus the biggest, most lovable dog this side of the Alps, in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," insists she enjoys the competition.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — I never worry about being upstaged in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." For the uninitiated, upstaging in acting is stealing scenes from other actors on stage with you. There have been many classic examples, but a typical one would be flipping a coin while a performer is reeling off a long speech. Pretty soon the audience wonders when you'll drop the coin and pays no attention to the performer.

Many of my performer friends think I'm crazy when I say I'm not concerned about being upstaged in my television show because there are children and a dog in the cast. It's an old show biz axiom that actors should never work with kids or animals.

The reason I don't worry about it is that it doesn't happen. Television has no room for upstagers. If a performer sneaks in a move that does detract from another performer, the film cutter simply snips the footage out of the finished picture.

Sometimes one of the boys, or even Ladog, will do something that is especially funny. Granted, you might call it upstaging, but if it is very funny it enhances the show and, believe me, I'm not against anything that will help a show. In television you do 32 shows and you need everything going for you that you can muster.

And let's face it, without the kids in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," you don't have a series. They were the inspiration for the book that led to the movie that resulted in the television version.

There is still another reason why I don't worry about the kids or Ladog upstaging me. I honestly believe that the whole business of upstaging is more fancy than fact. You seldom see it on the legitimate stage today. Perhaps it's because performers are more concerned with the vehicle than themselves. I don't know.

But I do know that actors who try it are more concerned with themselves than their profession or other individuals. And I also know that if someone tried it on our show the director would be quick to stop it.

Slum Assault Bill Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Housing subcommittee has given tentative approval to a $900-million, two-year demonstration cities program designed to experiment with crash assaults on slums.

This is far below President Johnson's request for a $2.3-billion, five-year program. Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., proposed cutting the program. He cited mounting war costs and said "our domestic programs must be continued but at far less expense."

The subcommittee continues work on the bill and a spokesman said it may be altered before it is reported out.

ANOTHER BIGGER AND BETTER Southwestern Electronic Parts Show Experience Is The Best Teacher

We gained the experience in 1965 when we sponsored and held the "Southwestern Electronic Parts Show" and Color Technical School.

This year on Sunday, July 31, 1966, we have a MUCH BIGGER AND BETTER SHOW AND COLOR SCHOOL.

MR. PAUL GARVER of Deptford, New Jersey, who is the General Manager of RCA Parts and Accessories, will be our "Keynote Speaker," speaking on the subject "Profile of a Successful Serviceman." We want to the RCA factory and obtained the services of MR. H. C. HORTON, "National Manager of Technical Services" for RCA, to hold our Color School. Mr. Horton, because of his years of experience in the color field, is highly qualified to hold a very specialized training session such as this is.

There will be twice as many factories participating and displaying the very latest developed electronic equipment and parts. Factory personnel will be present in each booth. Some of the factories participating are: Radio Corporation of America (Tube Division), RCA Parts and Accessories, Triad, Workman, Jerrold-Tact, Cornell-Dubiller, Hagnacraft, Amphenol, Colman Products, Clarastat, Astatic, Nova Corp. (Hallmark CB&Commercial two-way radio equipment), Alpha Wire, and others.

Door Prizes Galore—Such as: Free TV, Tape Recorder, Test Equipment and Many Others.

Free Buffet Lunch at Noon—Refreshments Throughout The Day.

Drawing For Door Prizes Will Be Held Before The Audience at Last Session. You Do Not Have To Be Present To Win.

DEAR ABBY

He's Just Neighborly

DEAR ABBY: How come husbands can be so nice and polite to other women, but can never see their own wives need help? Yesterday when my husband and I were getting into our car to go shopping, my next door neighbor was just getting out of her car. She had quite a few packages so my husband rushed over there to help her carry everything into her house.

When we got home from shopping, I had lots of bundles and packages, but my husband just got out of the car and went into the house, and I was left to carry everything inside myself. If all men are like my husband I would advise girls never to marry the one she loves. Just move next door to him. TIRE D

DEAR TIRE D: All men are not like your husband. How much help do YOU get from the man next door?

DEAR ABBY: I am just about ready to lose my mind. I have talked to our minister, my family doctor (he gave me some pills for my nerves), all my relatives and some of the neighbors, and everyone tells me there is nothing I can do. You are my last hope. I have a beautiful daughter. She is 52 and has never been married. She had her chances, but she was particular. She worked steady for 33 years, saved her money, and never ran around.

well, she finally met a man she thinks is worth marrying. He is 55 (he says) and has never been married (he claims), he travels for some kind of electronics company and all I know about him is he drives a nice car and he has my daughter in a trance. Here is the blow. My daughter says she doesn't want a wedding, so if she doesn't come home one night I shouldn't worry, because she'll have gone to Las Vegas to get married. How can I talk some sense into that child's head?

HEAVY HEARTED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I'll have to vote with the minister, your family doctor, the relatives, and

Club To Host Pilot Class

Rotary Club members were reminded at their noon meeting Tuesday of the picnic in honor of Webb class 67-H. The barbecue and watermelon party will be held on Scenic Mountain starting at 7 p.m. Friday night. Entertainment is to be furnished by the Huffer and Puffer square dance club. All Rotarians and wives are urged to attend by president Dick Ream. Details are being handled by Jerry Worthy and Lowell Jones.

Classifications talks were heard Tuesday from Dr. Milton Talbot, Frank Hardesty, Joe Price and Col. Chester Butcher.

It was announced that a donation to the Rotary Foundation had been made in honor of the late Ira Driver, long time member and club treasurer.

Adolph Swartz paid tribute to Champ Rainwater who is leaving shortly for a new post in Lubbock. Swartz called attention to Rainwater's long list of civic accomplishments and his years of devoted service to Rotary.

Castro Encourages More Revolutions

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro asserted Tuesday night that the decade of 1970-80 will be a "decade of revolution" throughout Latin America and denounced lackadaisical pseudo-revolutionaries as the "best allies of imperialism."

In a 2½-hour speech commemorating the 13th anniversary of his 26th of July revolutionary movement, Castro called on true Latin-American revolutionaries to overthrow existing governments throughout the hemisphere.

Addressing hundreds of thousands of Cubans in Havana's Revolutionary Plaza, Castro noted that U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said the decade of the 1970s would be a period of hunger throughout the world.

Calls For Action On School Playing Field

To the Editor:

A couple of years ago we voted to improve our High School and one of the improvements was to be the field fronting State Street between 10th and 11th Streets.

I see the work on the buildings going along per schedule, but tell me this: When the buildings are finished, are the bricklayers going to go over and sod the field in grass as a credit to our finished buildings? They must be waiting for the bricklayers to get through with the buildings, otherwise, why is the field going to rot as it is? What are the ones in charge waiting for?

It does look to me that it could be taken care of now, without delay. It takes time for things to shape up, so why wait? We know that we are not waiting for the bricklayers to get through and then go over and landscape the field. We know this is a different set of people waiting to be called on to work the field, so I repeat — why not now?
