Forsan Board Meets Today

FORSAN — A public hearing on the $348,000 Forsan school budget will be held at tonight's meeting of the board of trustees, scheduled to get under way at 7 o'clock at the high school.

The 1966-67 budget represents an increase of about 3.4 per cent over last year, most of it due to the debt service covering the bond issue recently voted within the district.

Present plans call for the contracts for the $350,000 building program at Elbow and Forsan to be let Oct. 4 and construction to begin no later than Oct. 14. The architectural firm of Gary and Hohertz, Big Spring, will probably submit plans on the building to contractors about Sept. 1. The construction will require eight months to a year to complete, Supt. Darrell Flynt revealed.

The building program will include five new classrooms at the Elbow elementary school, a 500-seat all-purpose auditorium at Forsan High School, a home economics laboratory, a material preparation center for the teachers, a language arts laboratory and a general remodeling of the high school plant.

Flynt said all teachers had been hired for the system, subject to approval by the board. The faculty will include 30 instructors, the same number employed last year.

Pre-registration indicates an enrollment this year of 427, compared to 398 last year.

Getting To Be A Habit?

It would almost seem that when Mike Alexander received his Eagle badge that it was so, because Mrs. Jack Alexander had pinned this highest badge on three other sons. But for four boys in one family is an extremely rare thing. Alexander, himself an active Scouter for years, watches as does Don Campbell (seated) scoutmaster, and R. L. Tollett, chairman of the Lone Star District. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

Mike Alexander Fourth In Family To Get Eagle Badge

For the fourth time, Mrs. Jack Alexander had the deep satisfaction Monday of pinning the Eagle badge on her fourth son, Mike Alexander, while Jack Alexander, his father and a veteran Scouter, looked on. Mike received the Eagle in a special Court of Honor at the scout hut of Kentwood Methodist Church.

Community Action Unit Completed

Big Spring's new Community Action Agency came into being Monday night, with final adoption of by-laws and election of officers.

This is the agency which will handle applications for various federal funds appropriated for phases of the "war on poverty" and will direct such projects that might be approved for the community.

The Rev. James A. Puckett was elected chairman; Dr. M. W. Talbot Jr., vice chairman; Sam Anderson, secretary; and Ynez Yanez, treasurer.

To serve with these officers on the executive committee will be Hosea Banks, the Rev. Melvin Montgomery, Mayor Arnold Marshall, County Judge Lee Porter, R. W. Whipkey and Mrs. Roy Watkins.

Dr. Talbot has been chairman of the former Community Opportunity Team, which was revamped into the new CA in order to meet guidelines of the federal Office of Economic Opportunity.

The agency has a governing group of 45 members, divided into three categories: 15 from public agencies, 15 from the community at large, and 15 elected by groups in the less-privileged areas of the community which would be expected to share most in the OEO projects. The executive committee reflects the same division of the groups.

The agency Monday night also voted to make formal application for a development grant, this to be generally for community study for selection of best poverty programs that can fit the community. So far, Big Spring's most extensive program under the OEO has been the "head start" project for preschool children. The local agency has indicated it will try to have this continued.

New County Agent Has To Start From Scratch

Paul Gross will be qualified by the end of this week to lecture on the subject: "How to Begin from Scratch One's Career as a County Agent."

Gross, who replaces Herb Helbig, as Howard County agent here, arrived in town and began his duties on Monday.

Things were sort of muddled at the office.

Mrs. Catherine Crawford, county home demonstration agent, left Sunday on her two weeks vacation.

James Shelton, assistant county agent, who would have been of a lot of help to Gross, is in the hospital with hepatitis and will be out of circulation for several weeks. Mrs. J. W. Jones, secretary for the office, was up to here winding up loose ends from the rodeo of last week.

Gross had never been in the county before other than for a brief visit a few weeks ago when he was appointed to the office.

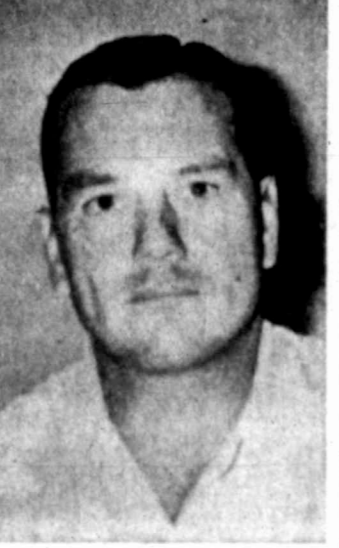

"I'll have to get oriented first," said Gross. "Maybe by that time things will be on a more even keel."

Gross, a graduate of Texas Tech with a degree in animal husbandry, comes here from Gaines County.

He came near to establishing a record in that county—he was an assistant agent for 14 1/2 years. This is a record exceeded, he said, by only one other assistant agent.

"There were several reasons," he said. "My wife was a teacher in the schools. We liked Seminole. Nothing until this job here opened up, appeared which offered what we wanted."

Gross spent much of his younger days in Levelland where he graduated from high school. He served with the U.S. Army in Korea in the occupation—forces. Mrs. Gross, a graduate of East Central (Okla.) State College, is an elementary teacher and may apply for a post here. She and the children Greg, 7, Gina, 5, and Sherri, 3, are busy setting up home at 3702 Connally while Gross studies maps, tries to answer questions and meets as many people as possible. Meantime, many farmers have drifted in at his office to welcome him.

"I think I'm going to like it just fine," he smiled. "Everyone has been so nice and friendly."

Pair of Damage Suits Are Filed

Two damage suits were filed in 118th District Court today, and both are the result of traffic accidents occurring in the Big Spring area.

One is styled Charles A. Keeran et al vs. John Davis West, et al. The petition recites that on July 16, the plaintiff was on a motorcycle which was involved in a collision with a car driven by the defendant at South Gregg and Twenty-second Street. The plaintiff alleges serious injuries. He asks for $63,100.

The second suit is styled Louise Ramer et al vs. Patrick E. Ferguson. She alleges that on the night of July 15 at the outskirts of town, her car was struck by that of the defendant and that she suffered injuries. She asks for $46,200.

Grand Jury Panel Drawn

Grand jury commission met Tuesday and drew the names of 20 men and women who are to report on Aug. 23 for grand jury duty. Judge Ralph Caton will select 12 of the 20 for the grand jury. The grand jury will immediately go into session to consider such felony matters as Wayne Burns, district attorney may have to present. The jury commissioners were Mrs. Delnor Poss, Elmo Phillips and Alton Marwitz.

Big Spring School Budget Hearing Set For Today

A four million dollar budget will be presented in a public hearing tonight at 7:30 by the Big Spring ISD Board of Trustees in the board room of the Administration Building.

The budget was tentatively approved by the trustees in a called meeting July 28, subject to the public hearing tonight. The 1966-67 school year budget calls for $4,065,134.07 in total expenditures. Included in this total is an athletic budget of $85,988.40.

Seventeen new faculty members will be presented to the board for employment approval, and this number, if accepted, will bring the total number of

Park System's Growth Talked

AUSTIN (AP)—A $100 million land acquisition program through the year 2000 will be considered by the State Parks and Wildlife Commission next month, sources said Monday.

Gov. John Connally lent interest to park purchase plans when he stated late last year he was considering a land acquisition program costing between $25 million and $50 million over the 1967-69 fiscal period.

Sources said the program being prepared by the commission staff calls for purchase of more than 100,000 acres of land.

The governor's office received a land purchase plan from J. Weldon Watson, who quit in June as executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department, but sources in the governor's office said the commission recalled it for revisions.

Scenic areas, historic sites and recreational areas are included in the plan, which follows some features of a plan issued by Texas Tech in 1963. Several of the Tech planners are now employees of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Sources said three guidelines were followed that would give priority to parks associated with water recreation, are near metropolitan areas and have statewide significance.

Thieves Make Varied Hauls

Thieves collected an odd variety of goods Monday, police reported.

A. E. Fiveash told officers someone took a sewer cable, a sink cable and some hand tools from his pickup while it was parked at Fiveash Plumbing, 1104 Barnes. Fiveash valued the items at about $95.

His son's go-kart was stolen from his residence while the family was on vacation. A. E. Reed, 1407 Park, reported. The go-kart is worth $250, Reed said.

N. D. Marsalis told officers someone forced the doors to a trailer and to a store room at D&C Trailer Sales, 3910 US west, Monday night. Missing is an electric fan.

Not The Same

In Good Condition After Overdoses

A local man is in good condition at a local hospital following an apparent suicide attempt Monday evening, officers said today.

Police said the manager of the West Wind Motel, 2004 Gregg, told them that the man came from his room to the office, where he collapsed.

Officers said they found in the man's room eight prescription bottles, plus an empty aspirin and an empty 100-tablet aspirin-type bottle. They also found what they said was a purported farewell note.

OOPS, SORRY 'BOUT THAT

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Robinson wondered why Big Spring police stopped their pickup-camper as they arrived here about 2:30 p.m. Monday from Midland.

The answer was simple: They had left their two sons behind in Midland.

It happened like this: Robinson, a partner in the body shop of Miles Hall Buick Company in Midland, and family, were leaving on vacation from the shop. The parents thought their sons, Ronnie, 18, and Chris, 10, were bedded down in the camper. But they weren't, hence the call to police here.

Runaway Returned

A 14-year-old Stamford girl, whom police said ran away from home, was returned to her parents early today by local police. Stamford officers reported at 7:30 p.m. Monday that the girl was thought to be on a Greyhound bus which had a scheduled stop in Big Spring. Officers found the girl at the bus station at 10 p.m. Her parents came for her about 1 a.m. today.

Opening lead: King of ♦ South committed his side to a game contract that was a distinct underdog in today's hand. When West's opening bid of one diamond was passed out by the next two players, South properly reopened the bidding with a take-out double.

North dutifully responded with two clubs. At this point, South proceeded without further ado to four spades, despite the fact that he had five losers in his hand. Inasmuch as North's response is forced, South is not entitled to make any assumptions concerning his partner's holding. A jump to three spades is a very strong call which urges partner to proceed at the slightest excuse.

West opened the king of diamonds which held the trick. He continued the suit and declarer ruffed away East's ace. South proceeded to draw trump in four rounds, North discarding a club and a heart.

Declarer cashed the ace of clubs next, followed by a small club. West was in with the king. He was reluctant to lead the queen of diamonds, for that would establish North's jack. He, therefore, shifted to the king of hearts and South permitted him to hold the trick. A heart was continued, South won with the jack and claimed the remaining tricks. He lost in all — one heart, one diamond, and one club.

West is admittedly under considerable pressure in defending, due to the fact that he is virtually employed from the outset. However, he could have complicated declarer's task by attempting to conserve his few exit cards for later use. Observe, for example, the effect of a trump shift by West at trick two, instead of a diamond continuation.

Declarer ruffs and if he draws trumps and then plays the ace and another club, West can get out safely with a small diamond since East has retained the ace. West will eventually score two heart tricks instead of one.

A trump shift by West does not assure declarer's defeat, however. South can effectively counter his opponent's move by entering dummy with the ten of spades and West is put in with the king of clubs, he is obliged to surrender a trick on the return.

If South does uncover the winning line of play — West can assure himself at least that the declarer has earned his triumph.

Weekend Rains Bring Relief To Some Areas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The first part of August dealt farmers and ranchers its usual drought miseries, John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Service, reported last week.

However, rains late in the week dotted portions of the state and brought considerable relief, particularly in east and central sections and near the upper coast.

Where the rains failed to fall, ranges toasted and stockmen faced the prospect of early fall feeding. Irrigated crops progressed but dryland crops were withering.

District agents gave this appraisal before the rains toward the end of the week:

Panhandle moisture is short to very short, although cotton progress is good. Irrigated cotton, sorghum, soybeans and castor-beans are making excellent growth. Dryland grain sorghum is severely damaged. The onion harvest is near completion.

A few counties have received showers, but the entire Rolling Plains (Vernon) needs a soaking rain. Soybeans and other crops are fair to good. Cotton insect damage is increasing in several counties. Harvest of early sorghum hay is general. All North Central Texas reports moisture shortage. Most crops are standing but need rain badly. Pastures and livestock are fair.

Far West Texas as usual needs rain. Ranges are powder dry with grass fire danger. Livestock are in fairly good shape. Melon harvesting is under way. Dryland crops are at a standstill, but irrigated crops are making fine growth.

Scattered rains in West Central Texas failed to remedy the over-all drought situation. Stock water is so low in some places that producers are hauling water. Pastures are adequate, but not green. Prospects are for early feeding. Cotton is wilting and shedding. The sorghum crop appears short. Combining and baling are under way.

In Central Texas, Bell County had its first bale of cotton. Harvesting is on in Hill and McLennan counties. All crops need moisture. Cattle are losing weight in dry pastures. Peanuts are holding up.

Ocean Swimmer Short Of Goal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A research chemist, trying to become the first to swim the Pacific Ocean from the Farallon Islands to the Golden Gate, was pulled from the water today, two miles from his goal.

Ted A. Erikson, 38, of Chicago, had been in the frigid water 17 hours when he was taken from the water two miles southwest of Point Bonita, the land that juts the farthest out into the ocean near the San Francisco Bay entrance.

DEAR ABBY

All Want Decent Mate

DEAR ABBY: My brother, who just came back from the navy, told me that he and some of his buddies were sitting around talking about what kind of girls they wanted to marry. And 9 out of 10 men said they wanted "nice, pure" girls. But what puzzles me is this: I just finished my sophomore year at college, and some of us girls were sitting around the sorority house talking about what kind of men we wanted for husbands, and almost all the girls said they wanted an "experienced" man. This doesn't add up. Or does it?

FRANKLY PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: Regardless of what they say, in their hearts, decent men or women prefer other decent men or women when it comes to marriage. "Experience" can mean emotional maturity, proper motivation and sureness of purpose in a man, and not necessarily "skill through practice" in the art of love-making. If it doesn't in this case, then your sorority sisters are talking clinical gibberish that would puzzle anybody, including me.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a professional man and I know that he is attractive. I handle all the social arrangements. My problem is what to do about women who telephone my husband at his office on the pretense that they can't reach me at home.

My husband is a good, trustworthy man and when this happens he asks me to return the lady's call, and when I do she seems so crestfallen. I know that some women use this four-some get-together scheme to get next to somebody else's husband, but how does a wife combat it? JUST THE WIFE

DEAR WIFE: She doesn't. She lets her husband field the wild ones.

DEAR ABBY: How can I make my older sister realize that she is robbing herself and her husband of the joys of parenthood? They have been married for 11 years and are still childless, although I know they both love children. I am sure the problem is my sister. She is so modest she won't even have a chest X-ray taken.

Shouldn't someone talk to her about it? She is 33 and her husband is 36 and they aren't getting any younger. She keeps saying, "One of these days I may go to a doctor." What do you think? YOUNGER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: I think that when your sister becomes sufficiently concerned and eager to have a family, she will go to a doctor with no coaching from the sidelines.

Paris Edition Banners Death

This morning's edition of the New York Herald Tribune's Paris edition greeted readers in the French Capital with the news of the death of the New York edition. (AP WIREPHOTO via cable from Paris)

Herald Tribune Dies After Long Union Strike In NY

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Herald Tribune, heir to the journalistic legacy of Horace Greeley and James Gordon Bennett, is dead. The end of the Herald Tribune, which has not published for 115 days, was announced Monday by the World Journal Tribune Inc., the new publishing firm incorporating the Herald Tribune, the World-Telegram & Sun and the Journal-American. Matt Meyer, president of the new company, said the publishers planned to go ahead with new afternoon and Sunday papers. Labor difficulties have kept all the planned new papers from being published since the merger was announced last April. Meyer said the long delay has caused a loss of "talent in all creative departments of the Herald Tribune." "It now has reached the point where we cannot bring the public the kind of morning newspaper hoped for. We are unwilling to settle for less," he said. "We are therefore consolidating our talent and resources into an afternoon and a Sunday newspaper, to be known as the World Journal Tribune in both instances," Meyer said. Originally the company had planned to publish the Herald Tribune in the morning, the World Journal in the afternoon and the World Journal Tribune on Sunday. The loss of the Herald Tribune left Manhattan with four major dailies, including the World Journal Tribune. The others are the morning New York Times and Daily News and the afternoon Post. Manhattan had six major dailies before the merger. Thirty-five years ago there were 12. Thus only the word Tribune on the new masthead remained of a journalistic history that began with the penny-a-copy Herald of James Gordon Bennett in 1835. Six years later Horace Greeley's Tribune was born. Separately, and later as the merged Herald Tribune, the papers were home to some of the greatest names of American journalism: Mark Twain, Richard Harding Davis, Henry J. Raymond and Charles A. Dana. In modern times, the Herald Tribune's columnists included Art Buchwald, John O'Hara, Walter Kerr, Walter Lippmann and Red Smith. The last of the liberal Republican Herald Tribune's owners was John Hay Whitney, who bought the paper in 1958. Whitney brought innovations in format and makeup which attracted the attention of the entire newspaper industry but circulation declined. In 1965, the paper's last full year, it was 303,179 daily and 360,876 Sunday. John Hay Whitney, publisher of the Herald Tribune and former U.S. ambassador to England, said he would continue to publish the Paris edition of the paper. He recently sold a 45 percent share in the overseas edition to the Washington Post. Meyer said the folding of the Tribune was the direct result of the breakdown Aug. 4 of negotiations between the publishers and the Pressmen's Union, the only one of 19 unions which has not come to terms. Thomas M. Laura, Mailers Union president who acted as spokesman for all the newspaper unions, said: "I think Meyer is wrong to accuse the unions. You have to look at the position of both sides in this dispute." Meyer said the Herald Tribune's end would mean a loss of 800 jobs. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the state would set up special services to help Herald Tribune employees find new jobs.

News Hands Mourn Over Demise Of Longtime Daily

NEW YORK (AP)—Sports columnist Red Smith cried openly. Columnist Jimmy Breslin muttered into his beer. Another columnist, Dick Schaap, said he felt like a ghoul. The Herald Tribune, dating from 1835, was dead. The three, with about 100 other Herald Tribune employees, had listened minutes before as the owner, John Hay Whitney, intoned the newspaper's eulogy. "This is a day of mourning," he had said. They all mourned with him in a dimly lit bar behind the Herald Tribune building. "We all could have made better money working some-

Jefferson Will Build High Span

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Jefferson County will open bids and award a contract Sept. 6 on the sale of $1.5 million in bonds to finance the county's share of construction of a proposed fixed-span bridge at Port Arthur. In announcing this Monday, J. B. Morris, county bonding attorney, said the bonds will be dated April 15, 1965, and mature serially on April 15 of each year through 1983. Interest on the bonds is not to exceed five per cent.

Capitol Changes Face Resistance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees, facing an uproar of protest against a proposal to extend the west front of the Capitol, have agreed to postpone the project estimated to cost $34 million. Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., said Monday the conferees voted to block any spending this year for the extension, but to permit preliminary planning to continue. "This is a reasonable compromise that will enable both advocates and opponents of the proposed major addition to the west front to participate in whatever decision Congress eventually will make in this matter," Monroney said.

Farm Income In Some Areas Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The farmer's share of the dollar spent by consumers for choice grade beef during the second quarter of this year averaged 60 cents compared with 57 cents in 1965 and 54 cents in 1964. The agriculture department also said the farm share of the dollar spent for pork was smaller, averaging 55 cents during the second quarter of this year compared with 57 cents last year. The farm share of lamb also dropped to 54 cents per dollar spent, compared with 58 cents last year.

Air Force Colonel Fired For Approving Fatal Flight

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Air Force colonel has been fired from his post for approving a commercial picture taking mission June 8 in which ace test pilot Joseph S. Walker and another flier were killed. Secretary of the Air Force Harold Brown, announcing the disciplinary action Monday, also said written reprimands have been or will be given to three other officials involved in the mission resulting in the crash of the $500-million XB70 and an F104 chase plane in California. In a memorandum to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Brown said the photographic mission was of "questionable propriety" and did not follow the letter and spirit of existing guidelines. Besides Walker, who was piloting the F104, Maj. Carl S. Cross, copiloting the XB70, also was killed. Walker was holder of the world's altitude and speed records.

11th Dies In Houston Crash

HOUSTON (AP)—Fred L. Smith, 25, of Houston became the city's 11th traffic death victim of the year late Monday when he suffered fatal injuries in a car-train crash. A passenger in Smith's car, Dorothy Nell McWhorter, 18, of Houston, was injured.

Air Force Pays Navy For Locating Lost Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has paid off the Navy for that splendid bit of fishing for a hydrogen bomb off Spain last April. A Pentagon spokesman said today the settlement came to $5.34 million, which the Air Force paid the Navy by check. This may be a decent wage for hauling up a supervaluable hydrogen bomb from 2,500 feet deep in the Mediterranean Sea. It comes out to around $65,900 a day, considering that the nuclear device was missing for 80 days after it was dropped from a disintegrating B52. Actually, this was one of the daily flights by nuclear bomb-equipped planes the United States keeps airborne — just in case. The cost of recovery, a spokesman said, included billing for the special equipment that was used and other "out of pocket expenses." But not figured in was the cost of normal operation of 15 or so naval ships nor salaries for scores of naval personnel who participated in the seahunt. At the end of the fiscal year, the spokesman said, the Air Force came across with the check which covered these major items: Oceans Systems Inc. — which leased the shallow-water operating submersible, the Cubmarine — $1.84 million. Aluminaut, the deep-water submersible which, with the Navy's snub-nosed Alvin, played a key role in locating the bomb on the murky sea floor, $583,000. The Mizar, an oceanographic research ship, $150,000. The surveying ship Dutton, $348,000. That amounts to about $2.92 million, which leaves an unexplained balance of about $2.42 million — "out of pocket expenses," you know.

to fulfill a picture making request by General Electric, which made the engines of both the XB70 and the F104. Also in the formation were an Air Force T38 acting as a chase aircraft, a Navy F4 and an Air Force F5. The pictures were being taken by a Lear jet contracted by General Electric.

A Devotional For The Day

"When he comes home, he calls together his friends and his neighbors, saying to them, 'Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost.'" (Luke 15:6, RSV)

PRAYER: For Thy love by which we were created and for Thy love in which we are kept, we give Thee thanks, our Savior. Truly in Thee we can live and find fulfillment for our high destiny. We would flee the mountains of waywardness and follow Thee only, our Creator and our Redeemer, in whose name we pray. Amen.

Significant Birthdays

Borden County celebrated its 73rd birthday Sunday, and Sterling County has an identical birthday coming up this weekend.

These are worthy undertakings, for more than the mere gathering of old timers to reminisce and renew friendships of yesteryear, they are events which focus attention upon the heritage of our area.

What has happened in Borden County is a case in point. In preparing for the celebration, scores of people were involved in the researching and assembling of a history of the county. In years to come, this information will become increasingly valuable.

In addition, delving into the past created a demand for a museum, which will be set up in the almost historic Dorwood Drug-Store. We hope that this institution flourishes, and it can if some arrangement can be made to underwrite its operation. Perhaps Borden County, which has more than ample resources, could do this without any problem. Left to the caprice of the public for periodic shows of support, the museum cannot continue as it should. For it occurs to us that it should be open and that it should be advertised so that travelers on the key US 180 and the Big Spring-Post highways will be impelled to stop and see it.

Tardy Settlement

Another tentative agreement has been hammered out between the machinists and the airline companies which have been shut down for 40 days now. While this one is subject to ratification by the machinists, as was the ill-fated one announced by President Johnson before it was shot out of the saddle by a flat rejection by the workers, it has a good chance of being approved. There are several reasons, including an escalation clause. Whether public sentiment cuts any figure is problematic, but this is one of the pressures beginning to bear heavily.

The reported settlement is about twice the guideline laid down by President Johnson, and this would indicate that it is inflationary to some extent. The numbers and amount, however, do not bear the weight that a basic industry would. Moreover, the guideline would presuppose that all started from the same base, and the machinists may or may not have been working under an equitable arrangement compared with other segments of the economy. Thus, the obvious thing is at this point that the arrangement as reported represents a breach of the guideline.

This, however, is not important as the effecting of a settlement within the framework of collective bargaining. The regrettable — even deplorable — part is that this dragged on until it cost the airlines $90 million in revenue and the workers $60 million in irrevocable pay. Worse still, it proceeded to the point that there is great pressure to adopt laws to give government a role in future settlements. Labor and management may both be the losers for that.

Holmes Alexander Nation Has Lost Its Balance

By U.S. Senator
MILWAR D. SIMPSON
Guest Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C. — I deeply appreciate having this opportunity to write a guest column for my valued and respected friend, Holmes Alexander. Coming six months after my announcement that I would not seek re-election to the United States Senate, these observations appear in the twilight of my Senate service. Perhaps this is good because of the advantage of retrospect.

WHETHER ONE serves a single Senate term or a dozen, there is always more left undone than accomplished. The reality of unattained goals looms large before me as I enter the final five months of my Senate service.

If I am to leave the Senate with one firm conviction, it is that America today is discarding the greatest values of our Declaration of Independence, our Constitution, and our Bill of Rights.

THE CONGRESS, the Court, and the Executive branch, each in its own way, is helping to warp the marvelous balance described and decreed in these basic documents. This balance has formed the underpinnings of our society for the nearly 200 years of our existence as a nation. It is a balance achieved jointly through philosophy. It is a balance achieved by no other nation in all of recorded history.

Superficially, our country seems to be in robust condition. We are in our 56th month of unprecedented prosperity; wages, employment, and consumer buying are high; and the level home is still a fast-selling status symbol.

BUT THERE are better gauges than those with which to measure the well-being of a nation.

America was founded, not only on a belief in God, but as a direct result of a desire to worship God in a manner of independent choice. Into the Bill of Rights was written a guarantee that government would never establish a state religion or give dominance to a particular faith. We were to enjoy separation of church and state but, the Supreme Court notwithstanding, I maintain the First Amendment was not intended to bring about a separation of God and state.

AN EQUALLY valid criterion is the attitude of the people toward those values which make our nation unique in the world; the values of freedom and peace, and of liberty and justice.

Americans in and out of government sometimes forget that these qualities were originally a part of our heritage, not for their own abstract value, but for their position on the scales of social balance. Freedom, in its pure form, is an ability to act without hindrance or restraint. Liberty, in its pure form, is the limit within which a certain amount of free choice may be exercised. And peace, in its pure form, is an absence of war or civil strife.

THOSE WHO wrote our basic documents were cognizant that their work would be weighed on the scales of history. They were determined that they would not be found wanting in the balance which they would bring to the system. This balance — in division of powers, in philosophy, and in decentralization — gave us, not detriments to sound and effective government, but the foundation for it.

Were I to remain in the Senate, an effort toward a re-creation of this balance would be my paramount objective. I pray that the intelligent, capable Americans who serve after me will be so motivated.

Confidence Under The Gloom

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is talking confidently under a gloomy umbrella.

He is more frank about Vietnam than President John F. Kennedy was and shows more realism about it than used to be exhibited by Robert S. McNamara, who is his secretary of defense and was Kennedy's.

ALTHOUGH THIS country pumped billions of dollars in economic and military aid into South Vietnam under President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Kennedy, that country was in danger of being lost to the Communists because the American-backed dictator President Ngo Dinh Diem did not put in the reforms the United States insisted upon.

You didn't hear much about it from Kennedy. Apparently he felt that if Diem went, all hope went, until at last he cracked down shortly before Diem was assassinated. After that event things picked up. Gradually American forces there were built up.

McNAMARA SEEMED to have such a poor understanding of what was happening meanwhile, and of what lay ahead, that as late as 1964 he told Congress even if the war didn't go well this country should still withdraw most of its troops by 1965.

He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war, which was true. But that always had been true. And if the South Vietnamese had been left to themselves, the Communists would have overwhelmed them, which was exactly what this country didn't want.

And there were McNamara's seemingly endless expeditions to Vietnam for a look-see and his returns with statements almost always sunny, like "things are progressing very well out there" or "the Vietnamese are on the right track" when, as it turned out, things weren't and the Vietnamese weren't.

OVER THE weekend the American commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, flew to Johnson's Texas ranch and talked with him four hours about problems, present and future. Then the men met with reporters.

Then — this was the confident part — Johnson said the Communists will not defeat the American forces in Vietnam and that a victory for them is not only "improbable" but "impossible."

Then he stood under this gloomy umbrella: Although he said the Reds can't win, he admitted he doesn't know when they finally will stop trying to

Or, as he put it: "The single most important factor now is our will to prosecute the war until the Communists, recognizing the futility of their ambitions, either end the fighting, or seek a peaceful settlement."

AND FURTHER, because no one can say when the Communists will admit they can't win, no one can say now how many more Americans will be needed in Vietnam to convince them.

Sold Cemetery Plots

NEW YORK (AP) — Kaye Stevens, red-haired bombshell of the night clubs, had an earlier career as probably the nation's most successful teenage cemetery plot salesman.

"I got used to money at a very early age," remarked the young singing comedienne. "I was just turning 7 when I won $7.50 in an amateur contest — and I gave it all to the church."

WHEN SHE was 14 her father, a Cleveland, Ohio, mechanic, died, and she had to go to work in earnest. Kaye, a self-taught singer who also plays bass drums and the guitar, soon was making $150 a week.

But the girl is a hard worker. On graduating at 16 from high school, she wanted to find something to occupy her days. She answered an ad requiring an "ability to meet people."

"The job — as selling cemetery plots, and I loved it," said Kaye. "I wore a black dress and black-rimmed glasses and made myself up to look a mature 22. I made a minimum of $500 a week. Whatever you do, be good at it — that's my motto."

"IT LASTED a year and a half. Then I quit it for a job singing in Buffalo at $125 a week. That doesn't seem like good business, but it was what I wanted to do. Besides, we had sold all the lots in that cemetery, and I'd have had to find another one."

There followed several years in which she toured the country with a lounge trio and had a brief fling at the movies.

Miss Stevens got her big break when she responded to an urgent call to replace ailing Debbie Reynolds in a Las Vegas spot. She chartered a small plane and flew through a storm to fill the engagement.

The trip was so hurried that her hairdresser was still combing out her long red hair when she stepped out with the notes of "Put on a Happy Face."

Alerted to her race against time, the audience gave her a big hand — and as the show business saying goes, a star was born.

KAYE NOW romps about the nation's night clubs, kissing some 500 bald men on the pate each year and gets up to $20,000 a week for her singing chores. She puts the stamp of her own talent in every feature of her act. She writes much of her own material, arranges songs, designs her own glamorous wardrobe, and even works with the engineers on lighting problems. Miss Stevens also still believes in cemetery plots, and the advisability of buying them in advance.

"I own 12 cemetery lots myself," she remarked. "They're nice to have."

"Did you know that if you go bankrupt, that's one thing the government or your creditors can't take from you — your cemetery property. It's a good investment and keeps going up in value."

How Monitor Helps After Heart Attack

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have just returned home after 25 days in the hospital because of a heart attack. Could you explain a machine they kept on me for about four days? I think it is called a heart monitor. — MRS. B.H.S.

A heart monitor is an instrument essentially similar to an electrocardiograph except that instead of making a tracing on a strip of paper, the tracing appears on a cathode ray screen — the same sort of screen that a TV set has.

The difference is that doctors and nurses can see instantly if any change occurs in heart action, instead of having to look at the paper tape.

More and more hospitals have coronary care units that are specially designed for patients who have had myocardial infarction. You doubtless must refer to these (heart attacks). The sign yourself to staying in the units provide the closest possible attention in the early phase of the attack.

Not all coronary patients need care in such a special unit and not all need the monitor attached, but it is extremely helpful in nursing a patient through the first critical days of a severe attack.

As the patient improves the monitor may be disconnected or the patient moved out of the special unit.

Similar monitoring is used after heart and lung surgery.

Dear Dr. Molner: What can I do about sunburn? I get a burn and dreadful sores on my face even though I wear a hat and stay in the shade. Right now my face is so very sore. — MRS. J. L.

With a skin as sensitive to coronary care units that are specially designed for patients who have had myocardial infarction. You doubtless must refer to these (heart attacks). The sign yourself to staying in the units provide the closest possible attention in the early phase of the attack.

should help. There has also been work with a drug which slightly encourages tanning in such skins. However, it has not (as some folks hoped) proved to be a quick, easy way to get a deep tan without burning. It has to be used under a doctor's care. It might or might not work for you, but I suspect it would be worth your while to discuss this with a dermatologist.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Glimpses Of A Famous Pair

Monday was the 31st anniversary of the tragic plane crash which took the lives of Will Rogers and Wiley Post.

It was my good fortune to know both of these men.

I knew Post much better than I did Rogers, but both, in their own particular places, were unique.

I REMEMBER how shocked I was at hearing of their deaths. I was doubling in those days as newscaster for a radio station in addition to my duties as a newspaper reporter.

On Aug. 15, 1955, I was late getting back from regular run of the court house and the city hall. My newscast was set for 10 a.m. I barely had time to grab a handful of copy from the teletype and dash to the studio. I had not talked with any of my colleagues, and I had not heard of the crash at Point Barrow.

Seated at the microphone, I hastily arranged the strips of copy, scanning each in an effort to evaluate their news importance. The engineer flashed my red light — I was on the air.

I READ through some routine item and then picked up the second.

It was a short bulletin — the airplane that Post was piloting and in which Rogers was a passenger had crashed. Both were presumed dead.

I managed to get the item read and then worked on through the remainder of the newscast. I do not remember other stories when I raced back downstairs to the newsroom. I was thinking of the contacts I had with the two men. Of the old days when Post, unknown and often derided, was struggling to keep food for his family by barnstorming over the country in his battered old airplane. I was remembering days when we had flown to small towns, did "stunt" flights and landed in fairly level fields as near to the town as possible. We gave passengers rides for whatever they might pay.

I WAS remembering the long hours

we cooled our heels in the outer offices of oil companies trying to see the big shots and sell them on the idea of Post making an endurance flight. (Post, I think, was the first flier to dream up this fantastic idea.) We couldn't sell anyone, but a year or two later oil company executives were falling over their own feet, trying to sign up well known pilots for exactly the thing we had so futilely argued.

I was remembering Post when he came back from his first round the world flight. I remember him best as a mild little fellow, a patch over his slightest eye, sitting back of me in the cockpit of his old Jenny airplane.

I REMEMBERED Rogers, too. The most famous man, I suppose, in the whole world. Known everywhere and honored everywhere. A fellow who was the friends of the great of his time and an equally popular friend with the masses.

I remember him best for a scene I witnessed back stage in a big auditorium before curtain time.

The house was jammed, and ushers were bringing in extra chairs to put in aisles.

BACKSTAGE, Rogers was pacing back and forth. Mrs. Rogers sat in a chair calmly knitting. "What time is it?" he asked, I told him. He moved to the curtain and nervously peeped out through a crack at the crowd. Back he came again. "What time did you say?" he asked again.

The lights came up... the curtain slowly parted.

ROGERS PEERED from the side of the stage, hunched in his pants pocket, his hair down over his eye, his broad mouth spread in an infectious grin. He stalked out to the middle of the stage.

"Howdy," he drawled.

I have never heard such an ovation as the audience gave him.

Nixon In The Forefront

WASHINGTON — The word that Richard Nixon is starting his presidential campaign and is soon to open a Washington office underscores a question asked here with increasing urgency: What is the alternative to Lyndon Johnson?

Republicans who regard the prospect with nothing but dread nevertheless see the likelihood of a Johnson-Nixon campaign two years hence. Because there is no active, serious challenger determined to take over the party and win the nomination, it will go to Nixon as it were by default.

THE ONLY OTHER Republican contender is Gov. George Romney of Michigan. Romney, absorbed in his own campaign for re-election, has thus far not moved onto the national scene except in a limited way. In the light of the extraordinarily difficult task of putting together a nationwide organization to round up delegates, it may already be too late for Romney.

This is an undertaking that cannot be carried out by sending telegrams and letters around the country enlisting workers, nor even by, say, a conference of moderate to liberal governors.

IT IS THE PROS, knowing the magnitude of the job of putting together a national organization, who are most concerned by the way time is running out. After the election on November 8, there will be hardly more than a year and a half in which to move. With many months of unadvertised search for delegates already behind him, Nixon is now readying his active and open campaign. Around the country he has put innumerable party workers in his debt.

In groping for an alternative to the Johnson administration, some leaders talk wistfully of policy alternatives on the submerged issue of the Viet Nam war. Here, of course, Nixon offers consistency if nothing else.

IN 1954, in a background talk to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the then Vice President suggested that American ground troops be sent to Indo-China in the face of an imminent French collapse and a takeover by the Communists. Earlier, Nixon had been quoted as saying: "It is impossible to lay down arms until victory is completely won."

THIS IS JUST what he said in Saigon last week — more American troops must be sent to Viet Nam. Within Nixon's party are many who believe that it is not enough merely to endorse administration policy in Viet Nam. In Illinois, Charles H. Percy, given a good chance to win a Senate seat, called for an all-Asian peace conference to try to end the war.

Those who dread the Nixon prospect see him as the supreme opportunist. While he knows the value of the pieces in the puzzle, that is the GOP, he will use them not so much with the goal of reshaping the party but to get as much as possible for himself out of each one. That means the Percy piece has the same value as the Ronald Reagan piece in California.

AND THAT KIND of jigsaw, granted that it can be assembled, suggests that the nomination in 1968 will be worth little more than it was in '64. As Nixon surely knows, however, an escalating war and large casualties could conceivably create a situation in which the opposition candidate would win if only by default.

Burn, Beatles, Burn!

WASHINGTON — As a loyal American and a God-fearing man, I was terribly distressed to read that John Lennon of the Beatles had said in an interview, "We're more popular than Jesus now. I don't know which will go first, rock 'n' roll or Christianity."

My first reaction was one of frustrated indignation. How dare an Englishman tell us rock 'n' roll and Christianity are on the same par! But I had no way of releasing this anger until I heard a disk jockey from a Birmingham radio station suggest on a national TV news program that everyone show their disapproval of the Beatles by going out and burning their photos and records.

I'M AGAINST book-burning, as are most people in a democratic society, but burning records is another matter. As soon as the program was over, I dashed up to my daughter's room and grabbed all her Beatle records and photos.

"What are you doing?" my ten-year-old daughter cried.

"I'm going to burn the Beatles," I said.

"What for?"

"Because they're making irreverent statements and I'm not going to stand for it."

"IT'S MY responsibility to avenge this blasphemy. Since we can't burn John Lennon, we have to make a symbolic gesture."

My daughter ran screaming to her mother who came in and wanted to know what was going on.

"The Beatles are dead," I declared. "You've lost your mind. Why are you going to burn Jennifer's records?"

atheists in this foxhole."

"BUT JOHN LENNON said he was quoted out of context. He said he didn't mean to offend anybody," my wife said.

"That's what they all say. But they have to be taught a lesson."

They tried to stop me, but I went out into the backyard, records under one arm and matches in my other hand. "Stand back," I said. "I don't want anybody to get hurt."

MY WIFE had to restrain my daughter. Several neighborhood kids heard the commotion and came running over.

"My father's going to burn my Beatle records," my daughter cried. "The children started to boo."

"You're all Communists," I shouted at them.

Then I lit a match and put it to the first record. Much to my horror the record wouldn't burn! It didn't even smolder.

I LIT a newspaper and tried that. Not even the label would catch on fire.

In disgust I took another record out, but I got no better results. All the dignity of the record-burning was lost as the kids rolled on the grass in hysterics.

I threw the records down in fury and went back into the house.

An hour later, as I listened to strains of "I Want to Hold Your Hand" coming from my daughter's room, the only thought I had was that the next day I was going to go out and buy John Lennon's book. It's so much easier to burn a book than it is a record.

Mrs. Vasquez Lungs Clear, Still Making Recovery

HOUSTON (AP) — X-rays showed a Mexico City woman's lungs—an important factor in her recovery from surgery for an artificial heart pump—remained clear Tuesday while progress continued to be satisfactory.

Mrs. Esperanza Del Valle Vasquez, 37, who underwent the operation eight days ago, has been reported steadily progressing at Methodist Hospital, where two similar operations already have been performed this year.

Neither of her forerunners lived. Both Marcel L. DeRudder and Walter L. McCans died after lung complications. To date, no problems have been detected in Mrs. Vasquez's lungs, although her kidneys malfunctioned briefly early this week-end.

The kidney output dropped after physicians gradually, carefully decreased the work of the plastic pump to about 20 percent of the heart's pumping load.

The pump, reportedly modified considerably from the others previously used here, was then raised to 40 per cent—the level it assumed soon after it was connected—and her kidneys returned to a normal output.

Kidney malfunction was among the several post-operative complications in the history-making DeRudder case.

Methodist's final advisory Monday said Mrs. Vasquez' appetite remained good and that her vital signs "remain normal." She was placed on a solid diet Friday, only four days after the 3 1/2 hour operation to replace two of her heart valves and connect the pump.

Monday's news release was sparse in detail, although announcements last week described her as cheerful and alert. Last Wednesday, two days after the operation, she was able to sit on the side of her bed. The following day, she was helped to a chair by her bed when she sat for 10 minutes.

The hospital said the length of the connections to the machine serving the pump enabled her to move around to a limited extent.

This has been practically the only official elaboration of the design of the pump. However, unofficial reports have said the device, called a left ventricular bypass, is smaller and connected differently than the two previous ones here.

A hospital spokesman Monday, said doctors eventually would release details about the latest model of the pump, but no date has been set.

Aid For Racial Fighters Asked

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George Wallace says he will seek legislation to reimburse local school boards losing federal money for resisting desegregation guidelines.

Wallace said every school board that signed compliance forms were "forced, coerced, threatened and intimidated by the federal government into signing the guidelines even though the law prohibits the things they were being asked to do."

Underworld Helps Police Nab One Of Murderers

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard, aided by an unprecedented flow of information from London's underworld, has charged John Edward Witney with being one of the murderers of three unarmed policemen. He faces arraignment today.

The charge was placed against Witney, 36, described as unemployed, less than 72 hours after the crime that shocked Britain.

It said he was responsible "with others" for the murders of detectives Christopher Tippett, David Stanley Wombell and Geoffrey Roger Fox.

The shooting of the three policemen Friday near Wormwood Scrubs Prison in West London touched off the biggest manhunt in London's history. Nearly 20,000 police and detectives were thrown into the hunt.

The underworld helped. Police said well-known criminals have been donating money to the families of the slain men as well as supplying information.

British criminals traditionally avoid — and are revolted by — police killing. British police, except in rare circumstances, are unarmed.

The three policemen were slain as they stopped to question three men in an aged, pale blue station wagon. It had a souped-up engine capable of more than 90 miles an hour.

Police questioned a man who said he had sold the car to a stranger for $42 less than three hours before the crime.

It was found Sunday in a dingy garage underneath a railway arch near London's Waterloo Station. Police were tipped off by a woman who saw it being driven in. The woman's name is being withheld and she is under police protection as are other persons who have aided the inquiry.

The murdered men were members of an undercover squad who acted more or less independently and the Yard did not know what particular trail they were following at the time they were killed.

The suspicion in official quarters was that they were on the trail of one of the big gangs operating in the metropolis.

Car Crash Kills 2 Near Palacios

They were Mary Christine McDuffie, 41, and her daughter Gloria Sue, 15.

Beatles Draw Big Crowd In Stadium

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steering steadfastly clear of amateur theology, the Beatles resume their American tour today, having sent thousands of the capital's teenagers into cheering fits.

Under elaborate police guard, the unshorn quartet performed Monday night in D.C. Stadium. The turnstiles clicked to a total of 32,164 and the affair went off practically without incident.

Five Ku Kluxers, proclaiming their objection to Beatle John Lennon's remarks about Christianity, picketed the stadium.

But the nearest threat to violence was when a 16-year-old youth eluded the police cordon at third base, streaked to the bandstand at second base and laid a hand on three Beatles before being collared. He explained that he just wanted to touch the musicians because he admired them so.

The concert, punctuated by piercing cheers and screams, followed a news conference.

Did Lennon feel, a newspaper asked, that the Vatican had made him feel better, had sort of got him off a hot spot? This was a reference to a L'Osservatore Romano article saying Lennon had spoken of Christ without thinking, "offhandedly and not impiously."

Lennon replied: "If it makes other people feel better, it will make me feel better."

Some pastors had denounced him, and some disc jockeys signaled for bonfires fueled by Beatle works, because he had remarked:

"We're more popular than Jesus now. Jesus was all right but His Disciples were thick and ordinary. It's them twisting it that ruins it for me."

Later he apologized, saying he had merely tried to deplore some people's attitude toward Christianity.

About 20 Texas Radio Stations Ban Records

By The Associated Press

About a score of the approximately 200 radio stations in Texas have banned the playing of Beatle records.

Officials of Texas stations banning the Beatle records said Monday their action has been overwhelmingly accepted by teenagers and adults.

In at least one instance Beatle records and souvenirs were destroyed in a community bonfire.

"We have been amazed at the reaction of teenagers in favor of our action," said Pat Davidson, president of Radio Station KEAN at Brownwood.

A 1,500-member Beatle Booster Fan Club organized in 1963 by KEAN disc jockey Riney Jordan was disbanded, Davidson said.

J. C. Stallings, owner of KEEB in Nacogdoches, said: "Our listeners don't believe there is any sincerity in Lennon's apology."

Stations KNRO-FM at Conroe and KTEO at San Angelo report receiving mail from all over the United States and said the greater percentage of it supported a ban.

Art Sinclair, manager of KTEO, said his station's mail came from as far as Nova Scotia and Puerto Rico.

"I feel sorry for John Lennon for the anxiety all this must have caused him," said Gene Smitherman of KML at Cameron. "But his remarks did cause the name of Jesus to be read, heard and spoken by millions. The Lord does move in mysterious ways."

Now It's Teeth Causing Crime

CHESTERFIELD, England (AP) — Ronald Botham, 17, took to a life of petty crime because he was plagued by toothaches and terrified of dentists.

The Magistrates Court in this Derbyshire town was told that Botham began stealing after losing a series of regular jobs because his toothaches didn't allow him to concentrate.

Two weeks ago the magistrates ordered Botham to have his teeth fixed but his dental appointment ended in a scuffle with nothing achieved.

The court finally got Botham to agree Monday to enter a mental hospital for treatment aimed at conquering his fear of dentists.

Texas Cities Report Lots Of Parking Space

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas major cities, by and large, have far more downtown parking than comparable cities elsewhere in the nation, the Bureau of Business Research reports. However, this does not mean that "no place to park" is not a frequent complaint of Texas shoppers, says Robert Ryan in a report for the University of Texas agency.

Dallas, with 45,000 downtown parking spaces, is 130 per cent above the typical ratio between the number of cars and the number of downtown parking spaces, Ryan said. Austin, Houston, Fort Worth and San Antonio all provide more downtown parking spaces than most cities with similar car populations.

"In short, there are a great many places to park downtown... even though some 70 per cent of big city central business district spaces are typically occupied every day by full-time business workers, retail shoppers are no means crowded out," Ryan said.

"The special report adds that well-heeled Texans own more automobiles and use them far more than most Americans." Dallas and Tarrant (Fort Worth) counties register an auto for every 2.2 residents. Harris County (Houston) has a car for every 2.4 residents, compared to the national ratio of one car for every 3.2 residents.

"Together, Dallas and Houston have more cars than the USSR and the top three dozen Texas counties report more automobiles in use than any entire continent except North America and Europe," Ryan said.

"Even with above average downtown parking facilities, there may be too little space to march Texans heavy dependence on automobile transportation. Many Texas retailing centers attract traffic at something close to a one-car-one-shopper ratio."

Ryan said Texans' "automobility" has resulted in urban transit companies cutting back bus routes even in the fastest growing cities.

"The decline of busses and disappearance of street cars considerably handicaps downtown areas, traditional foci of transportation lines," Ryan said.

retailing potential has been further compromised by the development of downtown as an entertainment center. Former window-shoppers now spend evenings at home before the television set; their own air conditioning is as cool as that of downtown theaters.

Ryan's report said that a central business district shopper is almost certain to have to walk considerable distances between stores if he cares to visit more than one.

"By contrast, shopping center stores are compactly arranged to minimize walking distances, especially in recently built mall-type centers with air-conditioned arcades or shaded plazas between stores," he said.

Only three other U.S. cities—New York, Chicago and Detroit—have more regional shopping centers than Dallas. Dallas 30 planned centers have a total of about 60,000 parking spaces, virtually free of parking fees.

"Even in smaller Texas cities, retail shoppers are turning outward to planned centers," Ryan said. Brownsville and Hurst have centers with 4,000 parking spaces each. In Odessa a 260,000 square foot air conditioned mall has been planned.

"In all, Texas towns a 40 per cent above the national average in planned shopping centers, ranging from neighborhood-oriented clusters of convenience stores with 150 parking spaces or so, to the regional retail complexes with parking spaces well into the thousands."

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Section 2, Article VI, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by deleting the following language: "Any member of the Armed Forces of the United States or component branches thereof, or in the military service of the United States, may vote only in the county in which he or she resided at the time of entering such service so long as he or she is a member of the Armed Forces."

"The text of this Section is shown below, with a horizontal line through the sentence which is to be deleted: "Section 2. Such affidavit shall be made in writing and left with the judge of the election. The husband may pay the poll tax of his wife and receive the receipt therefor. In like man-

"Section 2. The only purpose of the amendment proposed in this Resolution is to make the aforesaid deletion. The adoption of this amendment shall not be deemed to have the effect of readopting the remainder of the Section, and any other amendment to this Section, being for a different purpose, is adopted at an earlier election or at the same election, the adoption of this amendment shall not be construed as a repeal of the change made by such other amendment."

"Section 3. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1966, at which election all ballots shall be printed on them the following: "FOR the Constitutional Amendment to allow members of the Armed Forces who are residents of Texas to vote."

Houston Brew Strike Is On

HOUSTON (AP)—A brewery workers strike bottled up an estimated 70 to 80 per cent of beer deliveries here Monday but an informal survey showed barkeeps and beer lovers hadn't panicked yet.

Truck drivers, helpers and warehousemen of Brewery Workers Union Local 131 set up pickets at Pearl and Falkstaff outlets only. Jax and Lone Star managements locked out employees when they reported to work.

Distributors of all four brands are members of the Greater Houston Wholesale Beer Distributors Association. The union, seeking higher commissions for drivers and helpers as well as larger benefits, had reported it was striking only Pearl and Falkstaff because it didn't want to "dry up the town."

Loggia Looks Like Grant For New Friday Night Series

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You loved Cary Grant in "To Catch a Thief," didn't you? And "Peter Gunn" and dear old Raffles? Well then, it's a cinch that "T.H.E. Cat," a new NBC entry, will enliven your Friday nights.

The half-hour show, in spite of its tongue-in-cheek title, is carefully designed to combine a lot of tried and true romantic ingredients carefully stirred into an action story.

Blood ties between the series and the old Hitchcock movie thriller are being artfully emphasized. Robert Loggia, who plays the title role, has enjoyed the skilled services of the studio makeup departments, resulting in a general appearance that strongly suggests Cary Grant. But when he speaks, it is with the unmistakable accents of a native New Yorker.

"T.H.E. Cat," is the fanciful name of the hero — Thomas Hewitt Edward Cat — who by marvelous coincidence is a former circus aerialist turned cat burglar turned professional bodyguard.

The action is based, as it was in "Peter Gunn," another slick bodyguard, in an unnamed city which is obviously San Francisco. And, like Peter Gunn, his headquarters are a fascinating, dimly lighted night club.

This is called Casa del Gato, or, in formal translation from the Spanish, House of the Cat, a name which the NBC censors presumably have inspected and okayed.

Loggia, another of the growing group of Actors' Studio alumni who have leaped happily into television, has been a successful character actor in all three theatrical mediums but a romantic lead is a new adventure.

Sherman Lauds Play Of Peay And Davis

By HAL BOCK
The Associated Press

Don Davis, the New York Giants' massive tackle, weighs a svelte 283 pounds today and Jeff Smith, a rookie linebacker from Southern California, couldn't be happier about it.

Smith won a $13-Guess the Girl pool that the Giants got up when Davis visited their National Football League camp last month en route to the College All Star Game and weighed in at a chubby 319 pounds.

Coach Alie Sherman was visibly shaken at the sight of the promising youngster from Los Angeles State and ordered him to follow a strict diet. The pool among the players, on what weight Davis would get down to, followed and Smith's 285 was the winner.

Davis turned out to be a winner too. He and Francis Peay of Nebraska, another All Star Game returnee, went all the way at the offensive tackle spots in Saturday night's 14-7 victory over Atlanta, and both Sherman and quarterback Earl Morrall praised their work.

"For men who had worked out with the club only four days," Sherman said, "they did a good job. They did the best job we've had done there by anyone in the camp so far."

With the two rookies handling the pass blocking, Morrall completed 20 of 35 passes against Atlanta. The performance of their defensive backfield against New York's air attack may have had something to do with the Falcons' player move Monday.

moves with the silky ease of a dancer or trained athlete — obviously one of the reasons he was picked for the assignment.

The Manhattan-born actor was between scenes of an episode in which he was saving a kidnapped child the other day, whiling away the time in his trailer dressing room by reading Bernard Berenson's memoirs.

"Well, it may be compared to 'To Catch a Thief,'" he observed. "But I like to think that, in the action, we're getting back to the athletic sort of thing Douglas Fairbanks Sr. did so marvelously in those old romantic movies."

"There will be lots of rooftop chases, and climbing and jumping — and no gimmicks, really. I'll seldom use a gun — I carry a knife, but the fights will be handled with hands and feet, in a variation of one of those Oriental styles of fighting."

Loggia, his wife and three children, have moved into a rented house here but cautiously have sublet their New York apartment. No one can really tell in advance about the success — or failure — of a television series.

Desi Arnaz, whose talent for business is often credited for the initial success of "I Love Lucy," comes back to television next year as the producer of a half-hour comedy series starring Carol Channing.

The show will be written by a pair of veteran "I Love Lucy" writers, filmed with the live-on-tape, three-camera techniques developed for "I Love Lucy," and shot in one of the Desilu studios over which Arnaz once ruled with his then wife, Miss Ball.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD McDONALD, JON AND DON

Coach Called Signals For New Residence

By JO ANN PHINIZY
When shopping for a house, the thing to do is let your husband do the selecting. It's a sure route to a pleasant surprise.

This discovery was made by Mrs. Donald B. McDonald, and she was discussing her new home at 4020 Vicky. The McDonalds are new residents in Big Spring, and the circumstances were such that Mrs. McDonald was in a different place while McDonald was house-buying in Big Spring. She didn't see the home until she arrived with the moving van.

"It's perfect," she said. "In fact, it's more than perfect. We now have an extra bedroom which is just right for a study area; something on the line of let - the - kids - have - the - den idea."

The McDonalds are from Irving, and he is the new basketball coach at Big Spring Senior High School.

Even after seeing the new home, the McDonalds were off again before they had time to sit down. They chaperoned their furniture inside and left immediately for several weeks in the Houston area where he attended coaching school and she visited with her family in Refugio.

When the family finally reconvened in Big Spring, they spent some time rearranging their furniture, getting the grass started and putting up drapes. All of this was with the able assistance of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan McDonald of Canyon.

McDonald, a graduate of Texas College of Arts and Industries in Kingsville, has more than a passing interest in sports—especially ball games. He is an avid watcher of all television games and attends those within a convenient driving range. In fact, all the McDonalds are sport enthusiasts.

As Mrs. McDonald explained, "You just can't help it. You get to know the work that goes into training, and you get to know the boys and how hard they try. Sometimes it's awful hard to just sit in the grandstand and wish them to win."

Mrs. McDonald has a double interest in school activities since she will be a teacher at Kentwood Elementary School.

She says that the McDonald boys, Don and Jon, are a little young to come out for any team. "But this summer, they have learned to swim and dive very well. Whatever sport they can handle, I'm sure they will give it a try."

In non-ballgame season, the McDonalds flock to the nearest lake and partake of such diversions as water skiing and fishing. Mrs. McDonald says that's all great fun, but she likes to have some time delegated for neighborhood bridge foursomes.

Mrs. James Leffler and her daughter, Patricia, are in Glendale, Calif., where they will attend the wedding of Miss Patty Schauer. Mrs. Leffler will also visit in Redondo Beach with her aunt, Miss Nema Pearce.

Patricia Gwyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gwyn, 608 W. 15th St., spent her seventh summer as a camper at Camp Arrowhead near Hunt. She was a member of the Kick-poo Tribe which during the entire five week term worked in competition with the Pawnee Tribe. The second term of camp was over on Sunday.

Mrs. Al (Jerry) Monson returned Sunday from Wilford Hall, Lackland AFB Hospital, where she underwent extensive tests and treatment.

One of the nicest birthday presents for me in many a year was talking to our son, Tom, early Monday morning from his station at Chambley AFB, France. Another good bit of news was that he expects to be back in the states by Sept. 5. He is to come in at Shaw AFB in South Carolina and hopes to be home soon after.

The Howard Loyds are vacationing with others in the Bahamas. They made the trip by air.

The W. F. Taylors were in Stamford Saturday for funeral services of their long-time friend, R. B. Bryant. Mr. Taylor worked for the Bryant-Link Co. in 1917 and later managed their stores in Ralls and Rotan. At one time the company had 17 stores in the West Texas area.

Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor and their children spent the weekend at Six Flags Over Texas.

Salad Making Is Demonstrated
A demonstration of salad making was the highlight of the Monday morning meeting of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. Shirley Fryar.

Working in groups the members demonstrated the making of different varieties of salads. Guests from the Knott HD Club were Mrs. Joe Myers, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. O. B. Gakins and Mrs. W. C. Fryak. Other guests were Miss Joe Marie Ashley, Midland; Mrs. J. F. Sellars, Crane; and Mrs. Lucille Engle, Big Spring.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

In these days when we are being so harrassed with soil and water pollution I am about to go on a tirade about air pollution and I don't mean the kind that is found in the LA area or the area of bomb testing.

My sweet night air is being polluted several times a week by the grating sounds that come from an electric guitar to which is attached an amplifier. I have no complaint when the music is melodious but for several of my sleepless nights the would-be artist has been practicing and so far as I could discern he only knows three notes. And three notes played over and over for an hour or so comes under the heading of air pollution, so far as I am concerned.

MRS. MELVA CARTER accompanied by her niece, DARLENE TONGATE of Brownwood who has spent the past two weeks here, is vacationing by fishing at Lake Brownwood, San Saba and Comanche. The two plan to be away two weeks. They will return to Brownwood where Miss Tongate will return home. Mrs. James Tongate and Mrs. Joe Potter and Mrs. Carter will visit her sisters.

MRS. JAMES LEFFLER and her daughter, Patricia, are in Glendale, Calif., where they will attend the wedding of Miss Patty Schauer. Mrs. Leffler will also visit in Redondo Beach with her aunt, Miss NEMA PEARCE.

PATRICIA GWYN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gwyn, 608 W. 15th St., spent her seventh summer as a camper at Camp Arrowhead near Hunt. She was a member of the Kick-poo Tribe which during the entire five week term worked in competition with the Pawnee Tribe. The second term of camp was over on Sunday.

Low Heels Are Fashion

If you've been resisting those low heeled, square toed shoes for the past few years, it's time to give in.

Given a big boost by the new short skirts, the shoes are now available in every price range. And when they start selling for $4, then it's no longer a designer's decree. It's an established fashion fact.

Life Master's Won In Denver Tournament

Mrs. E. L. Powell, Big Spring's first Life Master bridge player, qualified for the honor in the first national tournament she ever played in. That was the big tournament in Denver, Colo., recently where, during the week, 14,000 tables of players were counted.

Many sports fans wouldn't count bridge as a sport because it calls for so little physical exertion. But those who play well know that contract bridge calls for much study, concentration and discipline of mind. Mrs. Powell has been playing for seven or eight years and it is her favorite pastime. She points out that this is the only sport for which points are kept by the national headquarters which, in the case of members of the American Contract Bridge League, is in New York City.

Fractional master points are given winners at each accredited game and a master point is awarded every fourth game. It takes 300 points to be a Life Master and 50 red points must be earned in play at regional and national tournaments. Capt. and Mrs. Ron Kibler of Webb AFB are Life Masters and had accumulated the major part of their points before being assigned to Webb.

Playing as Mrs. Powell's partner in Denver was Mrs. James Duncan who is not far from meeting the specifications of the league for Life Masters. Also playing in Denver from Big Spring were Mrs. Elmo Wasson and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., whose scores were in the high brackets in four events.

Of the great number of bridge players in the nation, there are between six and seven thousand who have earned the Life Masters card. Members of the bridge league may play in two regionals in Texas and in three nationals.
