COUNTY'S QUEEN Dona Yater crowned Saturday

Dona Yater Wins FB Queen Contest

By DAL HERRING Dona Yater, 16, was crowned the new 1966 Farm Bureau Queen Saturday night in the HCJC Auditorium before a crowd of about 250.

Dona, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlis Yater, 1600 Phillips, was crowned and presented a bouquet of flowers by last year's queen, Donna Duke of Coahoma, who won the district title in 1965.

Having taken piano lessons seven years, Dona plans on being a piano teacher with a major in music. She was in the chorus of "South Pacific," a musical drama presentation at BSHS last year. She is a member of the FHA and the high school choir.

"America needs progressive organizations like the Farm Bureau," Dona said, "that pledge themselves to support education, encourage Bible study, and help its members solve social and economical problems."

Runner-up was Mary Frances Newton, 18, who also won the talent contest. Mary Frances is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Newton, 1409 Tucson. She was graduated from BSHS last year and plans to enter HCJC this fall.

Other contestants were two sisters, Iva Jo Brooks, 16, and Diane Brooks, 18; Carolyn Ford, 16; Linda Shaw, 17; and Darlene Wright, 19. In the talent show, Mary Frances Newton did a comedy routine on the piano. Using a humorous monologue, she played the tune "Oh, Susanna" as a church hymn, a funeral dirge, and a concert number.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

The week just past might qualify as budget week. The county's three independent school and the junior college districts all got blessings on their budgets which aggregated six million dollars — or $5,884,755 if you want to be more precise. They stacked up this way: Big Spring $4,065,134, Forsan $348,369, Coahoma $513,549, to total $4,927,052 for the elementary and secondary schools. To this was added $957,703 for HCJC.

We went a week without any showers, but there was no complete absence of moisture. District 2-AAAA coaches meet here Thursday, and as each reviewed his chances, tears showered all around. Meanwhile, back on the farm, conditions generally continued excellent, although a few dry spots were beginning to show again.

We hate to spoil things for our young friends, but school days are just around the corner. Here are some dates: Big Spring register Sept. 6, start classes Sept. 7; Coahoma register Aug. 26, start Aug. 29; La Mesa register Aug. 29, start Sept. 6; Stanton register Sept. 1 and all others Sept. 2, start Sept. 6; Sands register Aug. 26, start Aug. 29; Forsan start Aug. 29; Colorado City start Aug. 29; HCJC orientation Sept. 6, freshman register Sept. 7, others Sept. 8, start classes Sept. 9.

The post office had a glowing report for its second period (four weeks) of the new fiscal year. The $50,209 was up by $14,017 and erased an earlier loss. So far the $93,038 reported is up by $7,945 for the year. Neighboring counties have been having gala birthday parties. Borden County had a home Diamond Jubilee with its

Earthquake's Death Total Expected To Pass 3,000

Muffled Cries Heard In Debris

Where Earthquake Hit

Shaded is the area of eastern Turkey hit by an earthquake. More than 1,000 bodies have been counted. Underlined are towns hardest hit. Heaviest impact was believed to be in Varto and Hinis. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — More than 100 new earth shocks rolled across eastern Turkey Saturday in the wake of a village-wrecking earthquake whose toll rose into thousands of dead and injured. One sharp new tremor brought down 50 already damaged ancient buildings in Erzurum City, center of the disaster area, killing two persons.

ALREADY COUNTED The semiofficial Anatolia news agency reported Saturday night that 2,300 dead had already been counted and that the toll was rising steadily as rescue teams worked deeper into devastated areas.

In the Varto area alone, workers counted more than 2,000 bodies. "I fear that the death toll has surpassed 3,000," said Hasan Kafaci, Varto's community chief. Workers in Varto worked feverishly to clear debris from where the schoolhouse once stood. Muffled cries of children came from beneath it.

A multinational rescue operation was under way. U.S. military forces in Turkey under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization joined the Turkish army in an effort to speed money, medicines, doctors and relief supplies to the stricken area from many nations.

U.S. Air Force planes flew all kinds of supplies to devastated areas. Britain offered a 20-man team of Civil Defense workers trained in earthquake-relief work. The Greek Red Cross dispatched medical and other supplies. Donations of money came in from Pope Paul VI and President Charles de Gaulle of France. The Italian government ordered relief funds established.

VILLAGES GONE Ali Akarsu, governor of Erzurum Province, said 29 villages in the Hinis district had been wiped out and 2,077 dwellings had crumbled to dust.

Prime Minister Suleiman Demirel and four Cabinet ministers flew from Ankara to the quake area for personal inspection of the desolation. The earth buckled and broke in a catastrophic wave Friday that tore across the provinces of Erzurum, Mus, Bingol and Bitlis in eastern Anatolia near the borders of the Soviet Union, Iran and Iraq.

The most powerful shock pounded through the town of Varto, where 3,000 persons lived. "Nothing remains of Varto," said a Turkish army officer.

Toll Of Earthquakes

LONDON (AP) — The last major earthquake before Friday's disaster in Turkey was in northwestern Iran on Sept. 1, 1962. Ten thousand persons died.

SKOPJE The following year another quake destroyed the Yugoslav city of Skopje on July 26, with loss of 1,100 lives.

The worst in the last 10 years ravaged Agadir in Morocco on Feb. 29, 1960, killing 12,000 and injuring thousands. The worst earthquake recorded in history took 830,000 lives in Shensi, China, in January 1956.

Other major earthquakes of the century, with the death toll: San Francisco, April 1906—452 killed. Messina, Italy, December 1908—76,483. Avezzano, Italy, January 1915—29,978. Kansu, China, December 1920—180,000. Tokyo and Yokohama, Japan, September 1923—143,000. Kansu, China, December 1932—70,000. Quetta, India, May 1935—60,000. Chillan, Chile, January 1939—30,000. Erzincan, Turkey, December 1939—23,000.

Troop Strength Climbs Higher

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The roll of U.S. armed forces in Viet Nam, expected to approximate 400,000 men by the end of the year, edged up to 297,000 Saturday. A battalion of 800 fresh troops arrived from Ft. Carson, Colo., and joined the 1st Air Cavalry Division.

ALSO RISING South Korea's commitment also was rising. A spokesman said 700 men of the Korean White Horse Division were in the country to prepare for its arrival next month. The White Horse vanguard landed earlier this week, along with 2,900 replacements for the Tiger Division, which entered the war last fall.

War operations of the day included two Viet Cong attacks. — Two terrorists exploded three handgrenades at the entrance of a U.S. noncommissioned officers club in Da Nang. Metal fragments and flying glass injured eight U.S. servicemen, one seriously, and six Vietnamese women. One of the terrorists was shot and captured two blocks away, the other was captured on the club grounds.

DISGUISED — A Viet Cong company, disguised in the uniforms of government Rangers, attacked two Vietnamese platoons only 12 miles from Saigon. A government spokesman said the Viet Cong had inflicted moderate casualties. One guerrilla was reported killed.

Elsewhere, the Communists were largely on the receiving end in scattered ground operations and intensive air attacks. U.S. Air Force F100 Super Sabres and F4C Phantom jets flew 20 strikes in support of Australian infantrymen hunting 40 miles southeast of Saigon for remnants of a Communist battalion the Aussies had mauled Friday in their biggest battle of the war.

COUNT UP The Red battalion, which spokesmen initially identified as a 600-man Viet Cong unit, turned out to be a reinforced North Vietnamese army battalion now estimated at more than 1,000 men. This was the farthest south that Hanoi regulars are known to have penetrated. The body count of their dead rose to 227.

Lewiston, Maine (AP) — President Johnson prescribed Saturday for the nation "a strong dose of self-discipline" in order to carry on in Viet Nam, bring racial peace and social justice at home, and to maintain a strong, prospering economy.

Dose Of Self-Discipline Prescribed By Johnson

The President said in a talk for a late-afternoon appearance in the City Park at Lewiston there would be racial strife in America until there was "a domestic good-neighbor policy on every block in every city."

REAL DANGER He said that because not all businessmen and labor leaders had used restraint and self-discipline, there was "a real danger to the prosperity we have enjoyed for almost six consecutive years." He warned in generalities that unless there were restraint and voluntary self-discipline now, "your government will be compelled by sheer necessity to take action."

"On every front," Johnson said, "the dangers of excess are real: in our cities, excess decay; in our streets, excess violence; in our economy, excess indifference to the public interest."

DUTY OF ALL "In each of the answer is voluntary self-discipline. And that is the duty of every citizen."

This was a sort of sum-up speech, for delivery at the end of two days of touring five northeastern states on what had many of the trimmings and trappings of a campaign expedition.

Once more, as he did Friday in New York State, Johnson shared public attention with senators and congressmen and governors, and they included Republicans as well as Democrats. But there was little mistaking that he was hoping to get some Democratic benefits to carry over into the November balloting.

ABANDON RIOTING In the text of the earlier talks, the chief executive advised the American Negro to abandon the Molotov cocktail. Cautions disgruntled South Vietnamese halfway around the world to abandon the Communist cause.

At Lewiston, he said that the best government helps people to help themselves. But he said every American had to pitch in and improve his own corner of the country. "We can pass laws to bring justice to all our people, whatever their color," he said. "We can spend money for housing, education, and training. But until we have a domestic good-neighbor policy on every block in every city, there will be racial strife in America."

He said if he could write a single letter to every American citizen, it would tell each one that democracy depended on his willingness to conduct himself as if "the destiny of many others were in your hands, and as if the future and character of our nation were to be decided by what you are and what you do."

Johnson said that the problem of inflation needs to be put into perspective by looking at both sides of the coin — at both rising prices and at the standard of living. He said most Americans were enjoying the best standard of living they ever

Airlines Back On Schedule, Businessmen Add Up Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The air-travel industry and businesses dependent on it moved quickly toward normal operations Saturday in the wake of an agreement ending the biggest airlines strike in history.

Mixed with the long-absent roar of jets in many cities were sighs of relief from businessmen weary of rows of empty restaurant tables, full filled hotels, slowed deliveries and transportation bottlenecks.

SMOOTH SERVICE The five major airlines shut down for 43 days by a machinists union strike resumed service smoothly during the morning hours. Little crowding was reported, although reservations were heavier than usual for a Saturday.

The agreement approved by 35,400 striking workers Friday at better than a 2-1 majority shattered White House guidelines designed to limit wage hikes to 3.2 per cent a year.

Benefits in the new three-year contract include an estimated six per cent or more annual wage increase totaling 15 per cent over three years, plus a cost-of-living guarantee against sharply rising prices that could be worth up to six cents more per house in the final year.

ADD UP LOSSES As top-rated mechanics, whose average $3.52 an hour will jump to at least $4.08 within three years, counted their benefits, businessmen across the country, particularly those in or directly affected by the tourist industry, began to add up their losses.

HARDEST HIT appeared to be the cities that count heavily on summer tourist trade or summer conventions. The New York Convention and Visitors Bureau estimated a half-million-dollar loss to the city each day during the strike's first week, and three-quarters of a million each day thereafter. Hotels were hit with 25 per cent of the loss, the bureau estimated, retail stores absorbed another 25 per cent, 20 per cent was restaurant losses, 20 per cent in the sightseeing industry, and the rest was spread among theaters, nightclubs, transportation and other pleasure-oriented services.

HAWAII LOSSES The Hawaii Visitors Bureau estimated the island state's losses at a minimum of $13 million and said there was a loss of 22,000 visitors in August alone. Miami, which was looking forward to a best-ever summer tourist season, estimated losses in the metropolitan area alone at $2 million a day.

Doctor Released Man Charged With Murder HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities who once had him in their hands hunted Saturday night for a man charged with the strange murder of a widow, 86.

Strangled in her home was Mrs. Fred Lauterbach. Her body was smeared with foodstuffs, including oatmeal, syrup, catsup and powdered coffee.

CHARGED Charged with murder was James Hugh Lucas, 40, a distant cousin and an employee of the University of Houston. Police Lt. B. Porter said officers arrested Lucas Friday at about the time authorities found Mrs. Lauterbach's body in another section of the city. He was ordered examined by a psychiatrist, Dr. Paul Walters, who issued a release for him about 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Then at noon he was charged with murder. Porter said he had received reports that Lucas, barefoot and wearing a torn white shirt, had been seen downtown Saturday afternoon. Lucas originally was arrested at a car dealer's, where they said he was trying to start a pickup truck. His own car was found parked nearby. Police said Mrs. Lauterbach's home had been ransacked and had gone up. He said they probably would go up again. But he added that since 1961 wages had gone up more than twice the percentage of prices.

Nothing To Gain Likewise, the President said, South Vietnamese "who are tired of war and death and suffering have nothing to gain by continuing their support of the Communist cause."

When the Communists grow tired and turn from the use of force, Johnson said, our men can come home, and the Vietnamese can build their country. "Until that day comes," he said, "we must persist. And persist we will."

These somewhat similar themes were threaded into separate presidential addresses at different places Saturday midway through a politically colored weekend talking trip into five Northeastern states. It ends Sunday in Canada in a setting of friendly tranquility.

President Johnson and Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson will get together today to go to church, confer, and dedicate a reception center at an international park named for President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The park is on Campobello Island, N.B., where Roosevelt littered with papers, magazines and books. SCATTERED Religious symbols and plaques were scattered through the house and several pictures had been turned face to the wall. Neighbors became alarmed when they saw a stranger sitting on Mrs. Lauterbach's front porch Friday morning. After noting later that her front door was ajar, the neighbors called police.

Officers said canned foodstuff had been placed on the victim's body in the shape of a cross. Police described the killer of the widow as dangerous and "an obviously demented man."

Police said they found Lucas' fingerprints and clothing in the victim's house.

Seven Die In Heavy Downpour TOKYO (AP)—Heavy downpour lashed Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost main island, throughout the night leaving seven persons dead and five others missing, police reported.

Police said river banks gave way inundating at least 8,000

Fancy Sidewalks

The Main Street face-lifting moves on apace, and wondrous results are now to be seen. Workmen here are shown laying new patterned sidewalks, which will be in various colors. The street itself is being repaved at a new grade, and the old high curbs are gone. Intersections are getting new beauty treatment. The 200 block of Main is the first "pilot" block for what is planned as an entire downtown beautification in the city's "Operation Sparkle."

VISITORS PACK STERLING CITY FOR JUBILEE

Sterling Area Turns Out To Celebrate

By SAM BLACKBURN
STERLING CITY — There are 1,200 men, women and children in Sterling County according to the U.S. Census. On Friday and Saturday, all 1,200 were here en masse as hosts for Sterling County's 75th anniversary celebration.

The party came to a gay end late Saturday night with a big dance at the Sterling County Park. The well-pleased but very weary Sterling County residents can now resume their quiet western existence which has marked the three-quarters of a century since the county came into being.

No one knows how many folk came in for the party. Sterling City's streets were jammed with cars and pedestrians, and hundreds of people were here from other towns. The Sterling County folk were out almost 100 per cent in costumes reminiscent of the days when their county was young. Some of their visitors followed suit.

BIG TURNOUT

Indicative of the turnout was the 1,370 men, women and children who munched tasty barbecue, with all the trimmings, Friday night and an even larger turnout which dined sumptuously again on the same type viands at noon Saturday.

John Reed, rancher. John was 73 years old Saturday, and he celebrated the occasion by feeding all of his friends and well-wishers with a big ranch type breakfast. He was born in Sterling County — one of four sons of a pioneer rancher who came into the area nearly 80 years ago.

More would have had breakfast with him, but the task of fixing so many orders of bacon and eggs slowed down operations and scores of the hunger guests gave up and went home to more prosaic fare.

Two thousand persons gathered in the Sterling County park at 4 p.m. Friday and, despite a roasting sun which made the shade of the hackberry trees popular joined happily in the selection of the Jubilee queens.

JUBILEE QUEEN

The biggest applause went to a trim little lady dressed in a beautiful blue costume and daintily fanning herself with an ivory fan, who was unanimously selected as Sterling County's queen.

She is 94-year-old Mrs. D. C. Durham who has lived in Sterling City or the same tract of land for 70 years. Widow of the late D. C. Durham, who came into the county 70 years ago as a school teacher and then turned to politics, she was an active participant in the mile long parade. She also took part in the lengthy afternoon ceremonies at the park and coffee. This was a special feature — a birthday feast for the person around when barbecue dinner time came.

Sterling City Birthday Party Focal Point

Sasparilla Saloon served as headquarters Friday and Saturday the mammoth jubilee Sterling County staged to mark its 75th birthday. The Saloon was under the vigilant eye of Sheriff Jim Cantrell. It was packed with visitors on both days of the big party.

beaming as their alert little mother was given an ovation. OTHER QUEENS

Lovely Rosanne Foster, 18, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ross Foster, was named as college-high school queen of the celebration. She won over 15 other contenders. Tiny Robbie Kay Gartman, about five, was the younger queen of the big celebration. Sheriff Jim Cantrell, dressed from head to toe in black, sporting a beard which was the envy of other beard growers, was awarded the plaque as the best dressed Western man. The sheriff, told the "bad guys usually wear black," said "Well, I'm the bad guy for these two days." He was a ringleader in ironing out hundreds of details for the big show.

R. A. Garrett, 92, was hailed the oldest man at the party. Jeff Davis, colorful rancher and a resident of the community all of his 73 years, won the debatable distinction of sporting the ugliest beard. Jim Henshaw's beard was rated the longest and Neal J. Reed proudly displayed the judges called the "best groomed" beard.

75-YEAR RESIDENTS
Three residents of the community all were recognized as having lived in the county for 75 years. They were Harvey Glass, Ray Foster and John Reed — all of who were born

Three To Get Master Degrees At North Texas

Three Howard County students are among 444 graduate students who have applied for master's degrees at North Texas State University Wednesday. Degree candidates from Howard County are John L. Castleman and Mrs. Beverly Stacy Hyde, Big Spring; and Tommy Wayne Henry, Forsan. Castleman, teacher at Big Spring High School, has applied for the master of education degree in secondary school administration. A candidate for the master of education degree, Mrs. Hyde, 104 E. 7th, is a member of the faculty at Runnels Junior High School. Henry, son of Tommie T. Henry, Forsan, has also applied for the master of education degree in secondary school administration. He is also a teacher in the Big Spring school system.

in Sterling County and have lived their entire lives in the community.

Levi Garrett was master of the impressive parade. Most of the procession was 100 per cent Sterling County, exceptions being the San Angelo riding club and the Bronte High School Band. A feature was the callopo from McMurry College.

Focal point for the two days was the Sasparilla Saloon, under the watchful eye of Sheriff Cantrell. Here the registration was carried out, and from time to time an eye-catching bevy of can-can girls would perform. Next door was the "Tin Type Trorium" where the families had provided an interesting display of early day photographs. Music for the dances at the park was provided by a local group calling themselves the Jubilers.

SAVORY FOOD

All of Friday and well into Saturday the air permeated with the tangy smell of burning mesquite wood and roasting meat. A hundred pounds of dressed goat meat and four beaves were barbecued for the two big dinners.

Every family in Sterling County had a part in the food. Women brought huge quantities of salads, bread, pickles, onions and other items to go with beans and ice tea and coffee.

"It was all we had hoped for and more," summed up Jack Douthitt, publisher and editor of the Sterling City News-Record. "Everyone I had talked to about the celebration was delighted. I think it was fine, and we are happy over it."

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Soaring Club Puts Leased Glider In The Air Saturday

By DAL HERRING
A new sail plane was put aloft by members of the Big Spring Soaring Club Saturday morning at Howard County Airport.

The club is leasing the blue and white Schweizer 2-22 from a company in Oklahoma, and plans on keeping it for about four months, said Dr. F. W. Lurting, president.

"We have 10 members at present," he said, "and we hope to have between 20 and 25 soon." Also on the club's planning board is a soaring strip at Moss Creek Lake, to be developed some time in the near future.

"The world's distance record is held by an Odessa Man, Al Parker," Lurting explained, "and he flew 642 miles in 10 1/2 hours."

Initial cost to join the club is $150, and members pay monthly dues and flying costs. The club is open to anyone pending acceptance by the board of directors. The next meeting will be Sept. 12, site to be announced.

A. V. (Skeet) West, tank car loading foreman at Cosden Refinery, was flown back from Galveston Friday after undergoing surgery there. He was transported in the Cosden's four engine Heron DH-11.

Cross country flights occupied all of the flying time for Howard County Flying Club last week.

Reservists At Webb Hospital

The 480th Medical Service Flight, composed of reservists from various West Texas towns, visited Webb's USAF hospital last week. The flight has been here since Monday and will remain until Aug. 29 on active duty.

Webb is the home base for the flight which trains here one weekend per month in various specialties; for example, medical supply and X-ray.

The flight is normally authorized four nurses, five physicians, one dental surgeon, one veterinarian, one pharmacist and one administration officer. Twenty-five airmen are also authorized.

There are, however, only two officers and six airmen now training at Webb.

Maj. Ferrill C. Brown is the administration officer and flight commander. He is from Odessa.

Maj. Alvah N. Densmore, dental surgeon, is from Sweetwater.

Other members of the flight include: S. Sgt. Bill Phillips, Ackerty; Airman 2.C. Donald M. Kidwell, Odessa; Airman 2.C. John C. Wright, Lamesa; Airman 2.C. James M. Cox, Odessa; Airman 2.C. Terry R. Napper, Big Spring; and Airman 3.C. Frederick E. Martini Jr., Odessa.

HJC Freshmen Must Take ACT

Freshmen entering Howard County Junior College this fall are required to take the American College Test, which will be offered Sept. 2 at 8 a.m. in the auditorium, according to Wayne Bonner.

Many have already taken it, he said, but this makeup test is for those who may have missed it. Students planning to take the test are urged to call the college and advise them. There is a $4 fee.

CRMWD Officials Hopeful Of A Better Bond Rating

Representatives from the Colorado River Municipal Water District returned Saturday from New York with buoyed hopes for a better rating on district bonds.

Cautioning that none can predict what the two principal investment rating services will do, Charles Perry, Odessa, said that the audience with Moody's and with Standard and Poore were highly satisfactory.

Robert Riehle at Moody's and John Fifer and H. Y. Grossman at Standard and Poore were noncommittal when presentations were made Thursday, but all did remark that CRMWD had an excellent report. Riehle and Fifer are managers of the investment services for their firms.

Webb Sergeant On Model Team

M. Sgt. Louis Cloutier, of Webb's field maintenance electric shop, was the fifth member of the USAF team competing in the national model airplane championship meet recently held at Glenview Naval Air Station, Chicago, Ill. The Air Force team won the national team championship, making it the fourth in a row. On July 8 he was one of 12 people selected to represent ATC for the USAF Worldwide Model Airplane Championships at Perrin AFB where he won second place in B free flight. During the competition at Perrin he was one of five Air Force personnel selected to represent the USAF at the national championship.

The Big Spring public school system has a clean bill of health for full compliance of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. It reportedly few school districts which has received approval from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

School Supt. Sam M. Anderson has received the following letter from David S. Seeley, assistant commissioner of the Equal Education Opportunities Program:

"This will acknowledge receipt of the HEW Form 441, the Assurance of Compliance with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare Regulation under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, executed on behalf of your school system.

"On the basis of all information concerning your school system available to this office, it appears that Form 441 is a satisfactory assurance of your school system's compliance with the nondiscrimination requirements of Title VI. The assurance accordingly, provides basis for the approval of applications and for the payment of Federal financial assistance at this time.

A better rating than the already good BAA classification would be particularly important to the district at this time because of an impending $300,000 issue of revenue bonds to finance the new lake project at Robert Lee and the pipelines.

Reaction of Moody's and Standard and Poore to the district presentation may be known by the time the CRMWD board meets at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the district headquarters at 1318 E. Fourth. There also will be a thorough discussion of the bond market in the light of recurrent interest boosts. A time table on bond sales and construction bids also may be set.

The land committee is to meet at 9:15 a.m. preceding the board session, and it may have recommendations for the board to consider.

Making the trip to New York for the rating plea were Perry, R. W. Currie, vice president, and O. H. Ivie, general manager, Big Spring, Dr. John Blum, Snyder, vice president, and S. W. Freese, Fort Worth, consulting engineer.

New Pupils To Register

All pupils who will be new to the Big Spring school system are asked to register this week.

Those in grades one through six are asked to report to their respective schools between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Wednesday, said Sam Anderson, superintendent. This includes all first graders, if they have not been previously registered. The final registration for returning pupils and those already pre-registered will be on Sept. 6.

All pupils who will be new to the secondary schools (aside from those who were pre-registered from the sixth grade here last spring) are asked to report to Runnels or Goliad Junior High Schools or to Big Spring Senior High School offices as soon as possible. The high school office is located temporarily in the Vocational Building, which may be reached from the east parking lot. Signs will direct patrons to the office.

Parents of first graders who will be registered on Wednesday are asked to bring a copy of the birth certificate, also certificates of required immunization from the family doctor.

To Receive Degree

COMMERCE — Six hundred and thirty-two East Texas State University students, one of the largest graduation classes ever at ETSU, are candidates for degrees to be conferred during summer commencement at 7 p.m. Tuesday. To receive the master of education degree is Mrs. Louise King Spradling, 1709 State, Big Spring.

Coahoma Schools Start Signup

Registration dates for Coahoma and Midway schools were announced Saturday.

High school students will register during the week starting Monday. Those in the lower grades will register Friday.

Classes will begin on Aug. 29, officials said, with school buses starting their runs at that time.

The prices of lunches at junior high and high schools will be a nickel higher this year. Formerly those students paid 35 cents. Now they will be charged 40 cents. Prices for pupils in the first through sixth grades will remain at 35 cents, the announcement said.

Coahoma's budget for the 1966-67 school year was fixed at $513,549 at a regular meeting of the board of trustees. The board set the tax rate at $1.90 per $100 of property valuation.

At a cost of $6 a year, students may be insured, it was announced.

New teachers added this school year were announced as Mrs. Virginia Allen, Mrs. Joy Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. Del Hartin, Mrs. Virginia Kelly, Mrs. Marie Ethridge, Mrs. Judy Smith, Mrs. J. D. Tate, Mrs. Janette Miller, Mrs. Jamie Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Cleckler and Norman Roberts. Cleckler and Roberts will serve as athletics assistants.

Mrs. Barbara Justice, home economics teacher, and Mrs. Willa Mae Smith, commercial teacher, have resigned.

Supervising the lunchroom will be Mrs. Mary Womack. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ruby Null, Mrs. Geneva Honeycutt, Mrs. Carl Dale Reid, Mrs. Annie Ward, Mrs. JoAnn Denning, Mrs. Wanda Pipes and Mrs. Thomas New.

WORK CONTINUING

Mental Health Clinic Application Revised

Work continues on community mental health clinics for Big Spring, Colorado City, Snyder and Lamesa and although start of the centers under a formal federal grant may be delayed, some work will be done immediately toward opening out-patient services.

This is the essence of a report given on the project by Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of Big Spring State Hospital.

The Hospital would be the supervising agency under the proposal, which encompasses out-patient clinics and mental health consultants for the four cities.

Application of the grant had to be revised to meet requirements of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said Dr. Harrison, and is due to be submitted before Oct. 1. The prospect is that funding will be available in the government's fiscal year beginning July 1, 1967.

"We can get into community mental health needs and problems now, however," said Dr. Harrison. "The hospital staff, especially Dr. McCann and Mr. Widger (chief social worker), will be implementing plans under my direction to open clinics in the four cities this fall. We hope to find ways to provide a part-time social worker. Also, possibly we can find volunteers to assist in your clinic's operation."

The important thing, said Dr. Harrison, is to keep public support alive for the clinics.

Lakeview Day Care Center Re-Opening

Plans have been completed to operate the Lakeview Day Care Center again this fall, according to Sam Dawson, Lakeview YMCA director. Mrs. Anna Myers will be the nursery attendant, he said.

Registration begins Aug. 29, and the center will open Sept. 6 for 30 children — 3-6 years of age — and operates daily from 7:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. A pre-noon and post-noon snack will be served, as well as a hot lunch.

The center is licensed by the Texas State Department of Welfare, according to Dawson. Mrs. Myers said activities will include kindergarten classes, drawing and coloring, film strips, motion pictures, television, and playground programs. She will be assisted by a student from HCJC.

In some cases, Dawson said, children living in the neighborhood of attendants will be provided transportation to and from the nursery. Parents wishing more information concerning health records and fees may contact Dawson at AM 3-3902.

"We invite all parents to visit the nursery and its facilities at any time," he added.

Long Manhunt Ends Saturday

SANDERSON, Tex. (AP) — A manhunt that began last Nov. 4 with the shooting of the Sanderson sheriff ended Saturday with the critical wounding of a young Mexican alien as he emerged from a darkened store.

Sanderson Sheriff Bill Cooksey and Texas Ranger A. Y. Allee Jr. of Ozona had been watching the store in Dryden, 21 miles east of Sanderson on US 90 in far southwest Texas. It had been burglarized several times.

The sheriff said the officers saw the man emerge from the store and called to him to halt, speaking both English and Spanish. He said the man shot at the officers and they returned the fire. The Mexican was critically wounded in the hip, chest and jaw by rifle and shotgun fire. He was expected to recover.

Cooksey identified the man, from San Luis Potosi, Mexico, as the one who shot him Nov. 4 last year. Cooksey had gone to check a report of a Mexican alien living in a cave. He arrested the man and was returning him to the sheriff's office when the man shot the sheriff in the chest and the fled.

A massive manhunt failed to find the man. He also was wanted for questioning about the shooting of Pelham Bradford, store owner and postmaster at Pumpville July 11, 1965.

Charges were not at once filed. The sheriff said the Mexican had Cooksey's billfold in his pocket when he was shot.

Water Board Moves To Amarillo For Hearings

AUSTIN (AP)—Experts from the Texas Water Development Board go to Amarillo Wednesday to hear arguments about the Canadian River basin features of the $3.7 billion Texas Water Plan.

The Amarillo meetings will be followed by a final session Sept. 9 in Lubbock on the statewide water development plan that has sparked considerable controversy, along with some pledges of support, in a summer-long series of public hearings.

In the Canadian River basin the water plan proposes that all estimated in-basin requirements for municipal and industrial water be met by using in-basin supplies of ground water and in-basin surface water supplies from lake Meredith and a few other small impoundments.

The plan suggests that out-of-basin sources of surface water be considered to augment in-basin supplies for the irrigation.

The 1960 population in the Canadian river basin was 187,831 and is expected to increase to 375,700 by the year 2020. Amarillo, the first ranking city in population, is expected to increase from its 1960 population of 137,969 to 434,000 in 2020.

PREDICTS HOUSE WILL APPROVE LEGISLATION TO CONTROL THEM

Anti-War Groups Branded Red

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communists are behind extreme anti-Viet Nam war movements and legislation is needed to curb them, members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities agreed Saturday after four stormy days of hearings.

HARD CORE REDS
"It is clear the key leadership of these groups is made up of hard-core Communists acting in behalf of foreign powers," said Rep. Joe R. Pool, the Texas Democrat who wielded the gavel during the tempestuous week.

Rep. John H. Buchanan, R-Ala., said legislation before the committee to punish anti-war acts "fills a gap in the law and is needed for the sake of our fighting men in Viet Nam."

Pool, chief sponsor of the legislation, aimed at persons who block the movement of men and materials or who raise medical supplies or blood for the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong. It carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison and a $20,000 fine.

Pool predicted the committee will approve it this week and that the House will go along. "I think Congress is very receptive to this legislation," he told a reporter.

9 WITNESSES
During the investigative phase of its hearings, which saw repeated uproars in the vast caucus room and the ouster of more than 50 persons for causing disturbances, the committee heard nine witnesses.

Three "friendly" witnesses laid down the committee's case against leaders and groups who have engaged in anti-war activities. Phillip A. Luce, for example, testified about his activities in the Progressive Labor party and the May 2nd Movement between July 1964 and January 1965 before he said he became disillusioned and quit.

He said the May 2nd Movement, named for the date of its first demonstration against U.S. policy in Viet Nam, was controlled by the Progressive Labor party, which he said is a pro-Peking group expelled by the U.S. Communist party for "leftist deviation."

The committee then called two persons who acknowledged they were members of the Progressive Labor party and were active in the May 2nd Movement—Jeffrey Gordon and Richard Mark Rhoads, both college students from Brooklyn, N.Y.

UNDERCOVER
The committee then heard Phillip A. McCombs, a 22-year-old Yale University graduate who said he had been doing undercover work in anti-war groups to write articles for the National Review, a conservative magazine edited by William F. Buckley Jr.

The last of the friendly witnesses was Edwin Meese, an assistant district attorney from Alameda County (Oakland), Calif. He told of activities led by a number of subpoenaed witnesses in the Oakland-Berkeley-San Francisco area, including attempts to block troop trains, march on induction centers and raise blood and materials for the Viet Cong. After his testimony, the committee called the other subpoenaed witnesses, expecting to finish quickly since none had lawyers. Two, Stanley Nadel of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Anatole Ben Anton, refused to testify without counsel. Then the committee got a surprise when Stuart McRae, a former Stanford University student, agreed to appear.

NAZI-STYLE
McRae, who gave a Nazi-style salute when asked to raise his hand to be sworn in, said he was chairman of the Medical Aid Committee for Viet Nam at Stanford and at rallies had collected $300, of which $250 was sent to the International Red Cross for North Viet Nam. At another rally, he said, 40 pints of blood were pledged for the Viet Cong.

King's Minions Planning To Resume Marching Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Civil rights leaders decided Saturday to resume open housing marches in Chicago and to extend them to suburbs, including Cicero.

They also determined to wage a legal fight against an injunction putting limits on their parades within the city.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, who is captaining the campaign, announced he will lead a march Sunday into the South Deering district on the Southeast Side. The area embraces Trumbull Park, scene of racial friction five years ago.

He said demonstrators also will go to the offices of real estate boards in several suburban communities on the southern and southwestern fringes of the city. He did not name them.

"We will march in Cicero next Sunday, Aug. 28," King told newsmen after a steering committee meeting. Riots broke out in Cicero—a western suburb made up largely of white homeowners—in 1951 after a Negro family tried to move into an apartment. National Guardsmen brought it under control.

The marchers will be nonviolent, King said, but "we shall be prepared for violence."

King said his followers will comply for at least the next six days with an order issued Friday by Circuit Court at the request of the city. It limits the marches to one a day within the city limits and the number of participants to 500. It also directs that parades be held during daylight hours.

King's timing of compliance was pegged to court action and the second full meeting of civil rights, religious, civic, business and labor leaders who are trying to work out a solution to the Negro housing problem. The conferees, who met Wednesday, will assemble again Friday.

"If there is insufficient progress, and if the courts have not overturned this unjust injunction," King said, "we may have no alternative but to break the court order at that time."

Three Killed On Grandstand
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Three persons were killed and 35 injured Saturday when a huge wood and metal superstructure fell from the roof of a grandstand into a crowd at the Illinois State Fair.

Two of those killed had been taking pictures from the superstructure and fell 100 feet to their deaths. They were Glen Robert Lockwood, 37, of San Bernardino, Calif., and Dale R. Mueller, 45, of Overland, Mo.

Ralph Heger, 65, of Springfield, a fairgrounds electrician and stage manager, was struck by the falling debris and killed. Thirty persons were given emergency treatment at the fairground first aid station. Five others were hospitalized, one in critical condition.

"There was blood all over," a dazed spectator said. Coroner W. C. Telford of Sangamon County said the superstructure, 15 feet long and 7 feet wide, tumbled into the crowd when it was torn loose by a rope stretched from the grandstand roof to the infield of the race track.

Gov. Otto Kerner, who was on the grounds, came to the scene. He later issued a statement which said: "An accident such as this shocks and saddens all of us. I extend my deepest sympathy to the bereaved, personally and on behalf of the State of Illinois."

J. B. Pritchett Dies At C-City
COLORADO CITY (SC)—John B. (Bun) Pritchett, 78, Colorado City plumber, died suddenly at his home shortly after noon Saturday, apparently of a heart attack.

Born in Falls County, July 14, 1888, Mr. Pritchett came to Mitchell County in 1897. A World War I veteran, he was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Veterans of World War I.

Services will be Monday at 10:30 a.m. from the Kiker & Son Funeral Home Chapel, with Dr. Ralph Graham, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Colorado City cemetery.

Gordon, Conrad Happy With Scheduled Flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—The Gemini 11 astronauts said Saturday they could not be happier with the task assigned them next month of catching a satellite in space, then using it to nearly double the world altitude record.

"We've endeavored to lay this flight plan out so we can accomplish everything," said Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard Gordon Jr., a rookie astronaut who will walk in space for nearly two hours.

Gordon and Navy Cmdr. Charles A. Conrad Jr., both 35, plan to set out on the three-day mission Sept. 9 and by the end of their first orbit catch and link with an Agena rocket launched 97 minutes before them.

The one-orbit rendezvous would be the fastest ever performed, and the first ever accomplished by using only information from the spacecraft's systems. Ground controllers, for the first time, will provide little or no data during the initial chase.

"It's a tough problem," Conrad told a news conference, "I think probably the biggest thing is that we're going to do it on our own."

Teen Queen

Two burglaries and a theft were reported Friday and Saturday.

LeRoy Hulsey, Abilene, told officers Saturday that a welding hose, cutting torch, insulated water can, welder's goggles, a level and a block brush were stolen from his truck, which was parked behind the Holiday Inn, US 80 east.

Joel Wayne Robertson, 709 S. Scurry, told police Friday that someone took an automobile stereo tape player worth over $100 from his bedroom.

Police Capt. John Wolf noticed a window broken out of the Falstaff beer building at 1107 E. 2nd about 4 a.m. Saturday and reported burglars had made off with three cases of beer.

Gunshot Death

Police Hunting Three Gunmen
Police were hunting late Saturday for three Latin-Americans who allegedly shot 12 large calibre bullet holes in a car occupied by two other Latin-Americans Saturday evening.

Officers said that Alejandro Hernandez, 21, and his brother, Gilbert Hernandez, 22, told them that while their car was stopped for a traffic light at Northwest Fourth and Gregg about 5:50 p.m. Saturday, another car containing three men opened fire on their car. None of the bullets struck either of the occupants, officers said.

Police said the two Hernandez men brought the shot-up car to the police station shortly after the incident. Gilbert Hernandez lives in Sand Springs and Alejandro Hernandez is visiting him en route to a U.S. Marine training camp.

celebration a week ago today, and Friday Sterling City just plain closed up so that everyone could take part or witness the parade and other 75th birthday affairs. And everyone did. Sterling has never had such a crowd.

Webb AFB had a distinguished visitor during the week. Brig. Gen. Lester F. Miller, deputy commander in personnel for the report for its second period his first official visit here.

Paul Gross had to delay reporting as Howard County's new farm agent until last week. He may have felt that he would just as soon wait a little longer.

His assistant, James Shelton, also new on the job, was confined to the hospital; Mrs. Catherine Crawford, home demonstration agent, was on vacation, and Gross had it almost to himself.

If it may have happened before, but if it did, then only in the rarest of instances. Mike Alexander received his Eagle Scout badge, becoming the fourth member of his family to attain this highest of honors in Scouting. There's one way to have a good cleanup campaign—talk it up while rolling up your sleeves to get with it. That's what people in the north part of town have done, with the leadership of Northside United and the help of the City.

Speaking of the Northside, curb and gutters for Northeast Ninth are being put down preparatory to establishing grade, installing base and paving. While this will become a key through street, it will be of even greater benefit as a conduit for flood waters. This area has flood waters almost unlike any other point in town.

Six. Emcee of the program was Jimmy Taylor. Invocation was presented by Claude Anderson, and Derwood Blagrove, president of Howard County Farm Bureau, welcomed the audience.

The queen received a crown, a bouquet of flowers, a trophy, and a gift certificate of $10. She was selected by three out-of-town judges.

Western music was provided for the program by Jess Miles, Howard Dodd, Billie Miles and Joe Dunn, who presented a pickin' and singin' prelude to the program.

Each contestant was introduced and asked to tell why she thought belonging to the Farm Bureau is important.

One contestant related she had driven a tractor for the past five summers. Another said she didn't know how to call dogs, but she had certainly watered quite a few. Some favored living in the city, and others preferred the "quiet, calm of the farm."

THINKS WATER WORTHLESS, BUT COLLECTING UP TO $100 A DAY

Crying Tree's Owner Reaping Harvest

LA FERIA, Tex. (AP)—The tree's thin leaves hardly block the sun, and its limbs crowd telephone wires in Sam Morse's backyard. But water leaking from it now brings 50 cents each from hundreds of persons who think it may have healing powers.

Dozens of calls and unanswered letters have asked for samples of the liquid.

HOPES IT WILL

"I hope it cures them all, but I don't think it will," said Morse, 65, who suddenly finds his quiet life interrupted with a backyard full of people wanting water from a 13-year-old acacia tree he once almost cut down.

"I haven't drunk any of that filthy water and don't intend to."

He'll tell you frankly that although no one is offering an official explanation for the water flow, the tree stands on a water formation six feet below the surface.

His doubts, however, haven't stopped the crowds or letters.

Like a gold rush, dozens, then hundreds, mostly Mexican-Americans, poured into his yard after the word got out that water was flowing from the 30-foot tree.

They came by car and foot. Clutching paper cups and glass jars, they pushed and shoved to get to the tree, a common variety here in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Once there, they reached as high on the trunk as they could with sponges and rags, sopping up the water as it trickled down from two tiny holes on one limb and squeezing it into their containers.

Some knelt to mix the water with dirt and rub it on their bodies.

Most dubbed it the "Crying Tree," but some called it "God's Tree" and Morse's yard "The Holy Land."

One excited man cried, "It belongs to God, me and God."

A patient and soft-spoken man, Morse replied:

"It's on my land—I hold the title."

WANTS ORDER

And, after a week of feet scuffing his grass and trampling bushes and noise that kept him awake all night, Morse decided, "I don't want anybody to get hurt. I want some order."

The next step, since he owns the M-M Fence Co. and keeps huge cylinders of wire rolled in his yard, came naturally. He tried a five-foot high extension on a four-foot fence he already had around his lot, just off U.S. 83, the main route through the town. But that didn't stop the night visitors, so he ringed the tree with an eight-foot high fence topped with a couple of strands of barbed wire.

He built a gate in the fence and, after many free gallons of water at the rate of 14 to 18 gallons a day had flowed from the tree, began charging 50 cents admission.

Now everything's running like clockwork, even on the weekends when off-duty field hands boost the crowds, which seldom fall below 40 anytime during the day.

Morse said the tree is taking time away from his business. Really he doesn't have much to do with it. He sits comfortably in the shade of his yard while a few feet away a woman lets people through the gate four or five at a time.

NO LIMIT

"We don't limit how long they can stay in there," Morse said. "You have to understand these people, when they're ready to come out they will and we'll let some more in."

People waiting often press their faces against the wide fence.

Hand-lettered signs read: "Not responsible for accidents." Two women—Mrs. Linnie Chambers and Mrs. Elaine Williams—work the gate watch in eight-hour shifts, 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 2 to 10 p.m.

They are well-paid employees, said Morse, whose figures showed he was collecting $80 to $100 a day in admission fees.

REPAIR YARD

"I could've charged a dollar each, but I don't want to profiteer," said Morse. "I let the ladies take home quite a bit, and I want enough left over to repair my yard."

"Why, if I wanted to, I could sell seeds that fall off this tree for 25 cents each."

He held up a coffee-colored seedpod with spaces for about 60 seeds: At the quoted rate, a $15 pod only a couple of inches long.

Business is pretty good for a few others, one man selling snow cones from the trunk of his car was out of ice by early afternoon, and the service station next-door sold 20 cases—480 bottles—of cold drinks one Sunday.

"Some people who come here resell the water for 10 cents a sip," said Morse.

SERIOUS BUSINESS

But it's serious business—a matter of health—to most of those inside the fence or in line, Morse said.

"I know most of these people. They've either lost hope in doctors or they're too poor to pay."

Dr. Gary Miller, a Harlingen psychologist, was asked for his interpretation of the interest in the tree. He called it an example of people's ability to "think magically."

Rumors have circulated about the possibility of the water being polluted. A sample was sent to the State Health Department in Austin, for laboratory tests which are still incomplete.

"What will you do if the water's polluted?" Morse was asked.

"Nothing," he replied. "Of course it'll show bacteria with all those people touching the tree. But I'm not selling the water, and I'm certainly not making any promises about it."

NOT SERVING

"I'm just charging people to come on my property.

"You never know when the tree will run dry. I may come out one morning, and the water will all be gone."

"But people will still want to see it, sort of like a shrine. So I thought I'd do something nice, maybe put up a better fence to protect the tree and put some cement on the ground around it and maybe an awning to keep the sun off all those people."

Webb Men Have Best Data Idea

After a year of experimentation in data automation, two Webb Air Force Base men have come up with the best proposals to solve problems involving the processing of such data.

In an announcement Saturday, the Air Force said the proposals, made by S. Sgt. Bobby J. Gilpatrick and Airman 2.C. Ben Patterson, had been forwarded to the headquarters of the Air Training Command for final approval and distribution about Sept. 1.

Their plan will permit the systematic input of computer data necessary for the various reports needed. As programmed, it will compute hours used against rental costs for equipment, the result reflecting exactly what the Air Force must pay for rent, the Webb report stated.

KEY MONTH DUE Tight Money Is Getting Tighter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tight-money picture tightened another notch this week, and the outlook is for more of the same, at least in the immediate future.

Interest rates—the price borrowers pay for money—are now at record or near-record levels, and pressure for further boosts will undoubtedly intensify before easing up. A combination of factors will make September a key month.

NO MOVES

The Johnson administration, at this point, plans no drastic moves to roll back rates. One government source said such a switch in policy might do more harm than good, considering the delicate nature of the problem.

But the door has been left open for a possible tax increase, partly to help pay for the rising costs of the Viet Nam war, to cover extra appropriations voted by Congress, and to help dampen inflation by cutting off some of the consumer demand for goods and services.

"It's still an open question," one administration source said Saturday in emphasizing that no decisions had been made yet.

MORE MONEY

A request to Congress for a tax increase, however, is more likely to come next January, if it comes at all, when the administration is expected to seek more money—possibly $5 billion to $6 billion—for the Viet Nam war.

Some members of the Federal Reserve Board, which has repeatedly tightened credits over the past few months as an anti-inflationary measure, have publicly urged the administration to seek a tax increase to dampen inflation, contending tight money was being asked to carry too much of the burden.

INFLATION

One administration source said the Federal Reserve, in tightening the money picture, was convinced that any loosening would not result in greater output but only in higher prices—in other words, inflation.

This source said he agreed with that thinking.

High interest rates are only a symptom of inflationary pressures since money, like other commodities, reacts to the law of supply and demand.

The actual amount of money in circulation has risen this year, but the demand for it has grown even faster, especially to finance record business purchases of plant and equipment, expected to exceed $60 billion during 1966.

WHAT DOES A FOURTH GRADER KNOW ABOUT EYESTRAIN?

Probably nothing... and yet eyestrain directly affects a child's ability to learn. Most students receive a vision test at school, but such tests do not always reveal deficiencies. You can be sure that your child sees properly by having his eyes examined by a TSO Doctor of Optometry. At TSO a professional eye examination includes a study of the history of the eyes and visual symptoms; an internal eye examination for evidence of disease or defect; then a subjective examination for visual abnormalities such as astigmatism, muscle imbalance and near or farsightedness. If glasses are needed, the fee for TSO professional eye care is most reasonable. The examination, finest quality single vision lenses and frame are as low as $15.00. Single vision contact lenses are just $70 complete with examination and fittings. If desired, there is a convenient credit plan at no additional cost. Take your child to TSO, soon.

Mrs. Mossler Files Huge Libel Action

HOUSTON (AP)—The publishers of the Saturday Evening Post were sued for $83 million in a libel suit filed Friday by Mrs. Candace Mossler, widow of slain Houston millionaire Jacques Mossler.

Mrs. Mossler and her nephew Melvin Lane Powers were acquitted of murder charges in her husband's slaying. She filed the suit in U.S. District court after reading an article in the Post's Aug. 27 edition entitled "The Trials of Candy and Mel." Mrs. Marian Rosen, who assisted in Mrs. Mossler's defense in the Miami, Fla., trial, said Mrs. Mossler did not see the story before it was published.

Punitive damages sought from Curtis Publishing Co., total $33 million.

In New Haven, Conn., C. Richard Ficks, public relations director for Curtis, said: "This is the first big libel suit we've had in four years. I don't think there will be any announcement forthcoming from Curtis."

The article "contained many statements that were not supported by the trial record," asserted Clyde Woody, Mrs. Mossler's chief lawyer in the murder trial.

Mossler, board chairman of the Mossler Acceptance Corp. of Houston and two bank and trust companies, was bludgeoned and stabbed to death in his Key Biscayne, Fla., apartment June 30, 1964.

Mrs. Mossler and Powers were indicted July 20, 1965 by a Dade County, Fla., grand jury for murder, and the trial began last Jan. 17 in Miami.

The state introduced testimony that Powers was in the vicinity of Mossler apartment the night he died, and testimony from convicts and former convicts that they had been approached to kill Mossler.

The defense criticized what it called the circumstantial nature of much of the state testimony. Statements either disputing state witnesses' testimony or questioning their credibility also were part of the defense case.

Land, Damages To Roadway Put At $103,870 By Jury

A Howard County jury decreed Friday afternoon that Elmer Tarbox and Ralph Gossett, owners of a tract of land needed for right of way for rebuilding FM 700, should receive $103,870 for their property and for damage to remaining property.

The landowners had sought about $260,000.

The suit, tried on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in Howard County court with Lee Porter, county judge, presiding, came to an end at 3:20 p.m. The jury, made up of three men and three women, had deliberated one hour and ten minutes.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, who with Gil Jones, former district attorney, represented the county in the hearing, were pleased at the outcome.

Bill Eysen, local attorney, and H. P. Kucera, Dallas, represented the attorneys for the landowners.

The land is a part of extensive right of way the state has asked for its program to rebuild FM 700 into a four lane highway from Goliad street westward.

MOST ROADWAY OBTAINED

Judge Lee Porter said that most of the right of way has been obtained—either by negotiation or by condemnation. Condemnation opens the land to the state for road building purposes, but the owners have the right to appeal if they feel the special commissioner's offer was too low.

The county voted $600,000 in bonds to finance right of way acquisition for the FM 700 project. About $200,000 of the money was spent on the north leg of the road from IS 20 to tie in to the Snyder highway. This road is rapidly nearing completion.

The balance of the bond money is being used to buy right of way for the rebuilding of the west end of old FM 700.

Edgar Phillips, county auditor, said that about $200,000 still remains in the fund but there are commitments which will use up a considerable part of the money.

The state highway department has indicated it would ask for bids on the job in October.

UNDER APPRAISAL

He said that the special commission, which had appraised the land and set value and damages when the owners and the county commissioners could not reach an agreement, offered the partners $114,000.

The owners refused this offer and appealed to the county court and specified a jury trial.

The plaintiffs had sought $1.75 per square foot on the 126,000 square feet of land taken by the state for the road project and $1.60 per square foot for the 26,000 feet of land left. This, they said, would be fair compensation for the damages to the property.

Steed's Need Is Light At Night

ELWOOD, Ind. (AP)—Doyle W. Davis, 21, was fined recently for improper lights on his horse.

A car almost hit the dark-colored horse he was riding at night without a light.

City Judge Richard Wert set the fine at $23.25 because Davis had been warned before.

Interest Revives In The Fine Arts

With the approach of school, interest in the arts is beginning to mount. Friends of the Library will have a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Howard County Library, according to Mrs. Shine Phillips. Aside from general business, there will be a discussion period with law enforcement and civil rights legislation as a topic. All interested persons are invited.

The Howard County Free Library, incidentally, has set an Aug. 27 (Saturday) deadline for return of books. This is absolutely necessary in order to inventory the library in preparation for the new year.

Mrs. Bill Unger and Mrs. W. L. Patton will have a "two-man" art show at Angelo State College starting Sept. 1. The paintings will hang most of the month. The Big Spring Art Association's first regular meeting of the autumn season will be Sept. 20.

Junior College choir and also will be chairman of the music department, will begin his practice and recruitment soon after the start of classes on Sept. 9.

Dr. Lara Hoggard, nationally known conductor of the Midland-Odessa symphony and chorale, will begin auditions for vacancies in both groups on Tuesday. In addition to these vacancies, more places may be opened in both the orchestra and chorale. A total of 19 concerts have been booked for the season. Both groups will appear in concert in Big Spring in January 1967. Interested musicians are urged to contact Dale Stewart, business manager, regarding auditions. He can be reached by telephone at LO 3-0921 or by correspondence at Box 6543, Terminal Station, Midland 79701.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Sandidge, teachers of art in the Goliad and Runnels junior high schools, left Saturday to begin work in Sheboygan, Wis. Sandidge will teach elementary art in the Howard's Grove Schools. They have been active workers promoting art interest here and Mrs. Sandidge had been elected president of the Big Spring Art Association last spring. Mrs. John Zimmerman, vice president, will step up to fill the vacancy.

Things are going well with the school band, according to Bill Bradley, director. Last week young musicians contended for chairs, but once results are known early this week, this won't mean that a player is fixed in the chair for the year. Anyone immediately below can challenge during the year. Rehearsals from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. produced good results, said Bradley, and marching practice will begin at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the stadium parking lot on the HCJC campus. First week of marching practice will be on fundamentals, and the second week will be given over to getting ready for the opening football game in Lamesa on Sept. 9.

When Annie Lou Williams is married here Aug. 27, a number of the high school choral members will form a choir for the occasion. This is the only pre-school activity set for the choir, said Mel Ivey, director. Auditions for the choir were held last spring, and most for those who will engage in its activities already are scheduled.

Bob Hayes Scores Pair In 21-3 Win

DALLAS (AP) — Don Meredith zipped two touchdown passes to Bob Hayes and the Dallas defense was never finer Saturday night as the Cowboys beat the Green Bay Packers 21-3.

The National Football League exhibition trail. A crowd of 75,504 jammed the Cotton Bowl to see if the Cowboys could repeat last season's 21-12 triumph. It was the largest crowd in the exhibition season, bettering the all-star crowd at Chicago by more than 3,000. Dallas missed four field goals and an 85-yard punt return for a touchdown by Hayes, the fastest man in the world, was nullified by a clipping penalty. Pass interceptions by Obert Logan and Chuck Howley not only halted strong bids for touchdowns by Green Bay but set up the Dallas touchdown drives that swept 80 and 89 respectively. A pass interception by Lee Roy Jordan set up the other Dallas touchdown.

Orioles Pummel Detroit, 8-3

DETROIT (AP) — Russ Snyder hit a bases-loaded triple, then scored himself on a wild pitch in a five-run fifth inning that carried the Baltimore Orioles to an 8-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers Saturday.

on a single by pitcher Dave McNally. Luis Aparicio walked to load the bases and Snyder hit his triple chasing Tiger starter Denny McLain. McLain, 14-11 and loser of seven games in his last eight decisions since the All-Star break, was touched for successive homers by Boog Powell and Curt Blefary in the second inning. Powell was hit on the first joint of his ring finger on the left hand in the fourth inning and gave way to a pinch-hitter in the fifth.

A pass interception also led to Green Bay's only score—a 12-yard field goal by Don Chandler. Pettis Norman deflected a pass from Meredith and Tom Brown plucked it from the air and ran 13 yards to the Dallas 18. Green Bay could get only to the four. Chandler missed another field goal from the Dallas 41 in the fourth period. Meredith's first touchdown shot to Hayes was for 22 yards. His second was for 35. The third Dallas touchdown came when Jordan snared a Zeke Bratkowski pass and ran it to the Green Bay one. Craig Morton passed to Frank Clarke for the score.

Homers Kayo Boston Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Oliva and Harmon Killebrew slugged successive homers in the 10th inning, giving Minnesota a 4-2 victory over Boston Saturday night and extending the Twins' winning string to six games.

Oliva led off the 10th against Red Sox reliever Roland Sheldon with his 21st homer of the year and Killebrew followed with his 28th. The victory went to Al Worthington, who relieved Jim Perry in the ninth after Bob Tillman's pinch hit homer had lifted the Red Sox into a 2-2 tie. Perry scattered eight hits until the ninth and led 2-1 by virtue of Cesar Tovar's run-scoring single in the seventh. ## Astros Grab 5-2 Victory

HOUSTON (AP) — Ron Brand's two-run single capped a three-run rally in the eighth inning that gave the Houston Astros a 5-2 victory over Cincinnati Saturday night.

The Astros mounted their winning rally after Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole retired the first two men he faced in the eighth. Chuck Harrison then doubled to left and Dave Nicholson drew an intentional walk. When O'Toole also walked Rusty Staub, filling the bases, he was replaced by Don Nottebart. Nottebart hit Bob Aspromonte with a pitch, forcing in the tie-breaking run, and Brand followed with a single to center scoring Nicholson and Staub. CINCINNATI HOUSTON

Yanks Power Way To Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Richardson singled twice in a seven-run first-inning explosion that powered the New York Yankees to an 8-5 victory over Kansas City Saturday night.

Five hits, three walks and a hit batsman contributed to the Yankees' biggest inning of the season and helped right-hander Mel Stottlemyre struggle to his 11th victory in 25 decisions. Gil Blanco, the A's starter, walked Roy White, was clipped for Richardson's first single and hit Tom Tresh with a pitch, loading the bases in the first. Cleve Boyer rapped a two-run single, Elston Howard singled a run across and Lou Clinton delivered another with a double before Ken Sanders replaced Blanco. ## Cards Go 13 Innings To Defeat Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Orlando Cepeda's run-scoring single in the 13th inning gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles Saturday. The loss dropped the third-place Dodgers three games behind the National League-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, who beat Chicago 3-2.

With one out in the 13th, Curt Flood singled off Dodger reliever Ron Perranoski. Flood raced to third on Tim McCarver's single and, after Joe Moeller replaced Perranoski, Cepeda came through with a single to center, scoring Flood. Ron Piche, who pitched the last two innings for St. Louis, was the winner. ST. LOUIS LOS ANGELES

Ducat Sales Are Up For Ponies

DALLAS — Football attendance at SMU is reflected directly in the won-loss record of the Mustangs in the past two years. In 1964 SMU drew an average attendance of only 21,000 as they compiled a 1-9 record. Last season with a 4-5 record the Mustangs more than doubled their 1964 average attendance as over 175,000 witnessed the four home games or a 43,000 average per contest.

The 40,000 to see the Texas Tech game and the 68,500 for the Arkansas game alone were attendance records for these two opponents. The Arkansas crowd was the largest in the Cotton Bowl for an SMU contest since the Texas game of 1959 which drew 65,000. The 1966 season offers another attractive home schedule and prospects for a fine season. "Season ticket sales are well ahead of last year," ticket manager J. C. Wetsel announced, "with single game tickets for the Illinois, Navy, and Texas A&M all running about neck-and-neck at this time."

The athletic ticket office has been accepting mail orders only throughout the summer, but will open for over-the-counter sales beginning Monday, Aug. 22. Wetsel has announced that tickets will go on sale at the same time at 10 other convenient Dallas area locations. A good selection is still available to the public with best seating in the upper decks. Fifty-yard line seats in the lower deck would be limited to either the very high rows or the low rows near the field. Seats are still available midway up at the 20-yard lines. Season tickets are priced at $25 with individual games $5 each. General admission end zone tickets will be made available the week of the games. They will be $2.50 for adults and $1 for children. The home schedule is as follows: Sept. 17 — Illinois, 7:30 p.m.; Sept. 24 — Navy, 2 p.m.; Oct. 15 — Rice, 7:30 p.m.; Nov. 5 — Texas A&M, 2 p.m.; Nov. 19 — Baylor (Homecoming) 2 p.m. Tickets to all out-of-town games may be purchased at the SMU Ticket Office only. They are all $5 each. Included this year are games at Purdue, Oct. 1; at Texas Tech, Oct. 22; at Texas, Oct. 29; at Arkansas, Nov. 12; and at TCU, Nov. 26.

Tebbetts Quits As Tribe Coach

CLEVELAND (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts resigned Friday night as manager of the Cleveland Indians. The announcement was made following the Indian's 3-2 victory over Chicago. George Strickland, Cleveland's third base coach, was named to fill the position the remainder of the season.

Buffington Quits For NFL Post

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Texas Tech announced Saturday that Grant Teaff, 31, head football coach at McMurry College, Abilene, Tex., will join the Red Raiders' football staff as an assistant. Teaff went to McMurry as track coach and assistant football coach in 1957. Three years later he became head football coach. At Tech he succeeds Assistant Coach Harry Buffington who resigned to become an area scout for the National Football League. No successor to Teaff at McMurry was announced.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS THESE DAYS

'I's' Have It In Collegiate Football

By BOB HOOBING

Written for The Associated Press
The "I's" have it for college football, 1966 style.

Texas, Oklahoma, Syracuse and Utah head the mounting converts to the tandem offensive alignment which will be so much in evidence next month.

The I of Texas, where the winged-T once was law, will be cast upon rivals to attain more deception. Jim Mackenzie, Oklahoma's new head coach, hopes it will lead to fewer fumbles and mistakes.

But, generally, the parade is underway because nothing succeeds like success.

Notre Dame just missed a perfect 1964 campaign outfitted with a new I. Arkansas blitzed its regular 1965 schedule 10-0 after which Frank Broyles admitted "I adopted the I when I saw how successfully John McKay at Southern California was with it."

EYEING CROWN

Syracuse's Ben Schwartzwalder, long a wing-T exponent, hopes to ride the I — and halfback Floyd Little's legs — to the eastern title. The Orange will still put the ball in play from an unbalanced line.

New coaches Mike Giddings (imported from Southern Cal) at Utah, Doc Ulrich at Buffalo, Jim Carlen at West Virginia, Frank Jones at Richmond and Paul Dietzel at South Carolina brought the I with them. Ohio University and Wichita are also in the migration; North Carolina State and Villanova will use more I with their T's while Princeton and Western Michigan are blending larger doses of I into the single wing.

Texas' Darrell Royal says he made the switch "for rollout purposes."

"To get four blockers in front of the quarterback, we used to have to send a tailback in motion behind the fullback," he said. "This was a tipoff that we were going to roll out. You can go either way from the I and use your fullback as a lead blocker to any place in the line."

Mackenzie says the I permits a strong off-tackle attack both ways. Good blocking sends three quick receivers into the wide side of the field and, because the ball is handed off deeper in the backfield, it should result in fewer fumbles. Whether it's called the I, wide-I, roving-I, shift-I or the jaunted I, the idea is to spread defenses as thin as possible.

There will be more sprint-out quarterback passes, halfback-option throws, and sweeps off offensive formations already giving the defense headaches with an end split wide on one side and flanker on the other in many cases.

GREAT VARIETY

In the second year of the return of unlimited substitution, there will be more multiple offenses and a greater variety of defenses. The players have been unable to specialize and absorb more of their assigned art. Teams like Texas and Arkansas, which had kept the two-way player in 1965, are now going all the way in the division of labor. Defenses are being retooled to get to the runner before he can turn the corner or to the passer before he can throw. Kentucky is scrapping its 4-4 for a 5-3-3 setup.

The trend toward the freelance 'rover,' such as Big Ten champion Michigan State (George Webster) and unbeaten, untied Dartmouth (Steve Luxford) employed, is accelerating. For instance, Arizona has joined the bandwagon and Georgia Tech has switched tailback Giles Smith to the key position in its new Tech Wrecker, 4-3-4 setup. Whatever the label, the player is sort of a half-linebacker, half safety man who needs speed and a nose for the ball.

One trend which never changes is the annual shuffle of coaches. In addition to those already mentioned new or old faces in new places include Tom Harp, Duke; Lou Saban, Maryland; Dave Hart, Pitt; Jack Musick, Cornell; Joe Paterno, Penn State; Vito Ragazzo, VMI; Jim Parker, Citadel; Ray Nagel, Iowa; Jim Pittman, Tulane and Tom Cahill, Army.

There is an increasing tend-ence in college to handle secondary pass coverage man-to-man as do the pros rather than by zone which was once the varsity tradition.

Everywhere the emphasis is speed. If a really big team is especially fast, too, that's fine. But when sleek, small, swift UCLA and Alabama applied bowl crushers on previous unbeaten Michigan State and Nebraska last Jan. 1, it didn't go unnoticed. Bama's Bear Bryant has long been known for his greyhound-fine clubs.

Oklahoma candidates under

Mackenzie, who had seen trim Arkansas through 22 consecutive regular season triumphs as an assistant, boiled off a total of 1,437 pounds in spring practice — and gained speed as a result.

Among the more significant player moves are those which send Indiana quarterback Gary Tofil and Penn State offensive halfback Tim Montgomery both to safety and Pitt defensive starter Mickey Depp to quarterback. Missouri's great defensive end, 6-6, 250 pound Russ Washington will do double duty at offensive tackle as will Delaware linebacker Herb Slattery.

Washington's Jerry Williams goes from end to guard and Washington State will try to solve a signal calling problem by using '64 letterman halfback Mike Cadigan there.

Duffy Daugherty at Michigan State has defensive halfback Jesse Phillips at offensive halfback, Drake Garrett making the reverse move and halfback Mitch Priuett to defensive guard. At Dayton, Mike Wilson, 245, goes from tackle to provide the needed big fullback. Indiana speedster John Ginter switches from set back to flanker.

Broyles is performing his latest version of the Arkansas jug-wagon featuring the move of Tom Trautman from starting defensive halfback to split end where his work succeeding Bob Crockett may decide the success of the Porkers' Southwest Conference title defense.

Tulane is officially an independent this year after succeeding from the Southeastern Conference. Memphis State has joined the Missouri Valley Conference but is not eligible for the football crown this fall. A flock of victims of the Air Force cribbing scandal of two years ago will appear as University of Arizona starters.

Passing will continue to be on the upswing. Syracuse showed more aerial punch when sophomore Jim Del Gaizo fired two touchdown tosses in the Varsity (32) - Alumni (7) spring game. But nowhere will it be more in evidence than at Texas Western, where Billy Stevens and Brooks Dawson shot it out with footballs in a 43-41 spring gunnery drill.

Rodger Ward Is Japan-Bound

By TOMMY HART

Bobby Morrow, who ran that famous Mile of the Century against Dave Sime of Duke in the late 50's, is now associated with a bank in Houston...

BOBBY MORROW

Morrow was a paid employe of the Odesa United Fund campaign last year... At 184 pounds, he weighs 11 pounds less than when he played football for San Benito High School back in the early '50's...

Pete Rademacher, who fought for the Heavyweight championship of the world in his first professional fight (against Floyd Patterson), now resides in Akron, Ohio, where he sells indoor trap shooting ranges...

Renfro, Perkins May Be Lightest Running Backs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The shift of Mel Renfro from defensive strong safety to running back with the Dallas Cowboys is one of the most interesting developments of the training season.

The 6-foot Renfro weighs only 190 and has not played on offense since his college days at Oregon in 1963 where they had a special touchdown play in which Renfro broad jumped the last few yards to the end zone.

With Renfro and Don Perkins, 5-foot-10 and 200 pounds, the Cowboys probably have the lightest pair of running backs in the National Football League.

some $5,000 in fines before the season started... The New York Giants think they have come up with a new tiger in Jeff Smith, the linebacker from Southern California who unintentionally was the cause of most of the injuries at the Fairfield, Conn. training camp.

Pro football owners are seriously considering the Rose Bowl in Pasadena as the site of that big NFL-AFL title game next January if the stadium is available... New Orleans looks like a sure bet to land a franchise in the next expansion move later this year...

Otto Graham still insists "the furthest thing from my mind a year ago was becoming a pro coach. I fully intended to stay in the Coast Guard the rest of my life." Incidentally, Otto is a retired captain. His son, Ducey, will be a freshman end at Northwestern this year, his daddy's alma mater.

Sample schedule for Pete Reizlaff, the athlete capitalist of the Philadelphia Eagles. 10 a.m. — Football practice. Lunch — Appearance for Alchemical. 1 p.m. — 3 p.m. — Football practice. 4 p.m. — Radio show. 5 p.m. — Radio show. 6 p.m. — Radio show. 7 p.m. — Tape television show. 8 — 10 p.m. — Personal appearance at a banquet.

Says Pete of his busy schedule, "If any one of them ever start to take a toll on my football, I will drop the outside activity. Football still is No. 1."

The first time Jim Taylor met Jim Grabowski was when the Green Bay Packers played the College All-Stars at Chicago. Tom Matte spent part of the winter touring NATO army camps in Europe with the films of Baltimore's game with Green Bay and answering questions about the disputed field goal by Don Chandler. Sam Huff says "Cleveland won't win without Jim Brown."

Norb Hecker plans to use the Green Bay offense at Atlanta but his Atlanta Falcons will take more chances on defense. "We'll pour a linebacker or a safety man in there when we think the time is ripe," he said when they say, "We'd like to try at his Black Mountain, N.C. camp. Does Joe Schmidt have second thoughts about his retirement to a coaching job? Blanton Collier on Jim Brown's blocking: "Jim didn't block much for me because I didn't want him to get hurt. I used him as a runner. It would have been a waste of talent."

What coach said of a rookie: "He can't even remember which side is the strong side and which is the weak side?" George Allen has left Chicago but he still says the Bears' deep four of Richie Petitbon, Roosevelt Taylor, Bennie McRae and Dave Whitsett are the best secondary in pro football. Bill Austin, new Steeler coach has been handicapped by the absence of Don Heinrich, who was to work with the quarterbacks. Heinrich missed most of the training period because of a slipped disc. Do the Cleveland Browns really mean it when they say, "We'd like to try it one year and see what we can do without Jim Brown."

Smith Charts Problems Local Gridders Facing

"Do you want a program equal to the other (district) schools or do you want a second class program?" Herman Smith, newly named head coach at athletic director of the local schools, asked his listeners in a talk made before members of the American Business Club at their luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel.

Smith went on to say that the co-operation of all the citizenry was needed if the local school system was to thrive and keep pace with the other area educational systems. He pointed out that overcrowding will still exist in some schools, despite the fact that the local system is now approaching the back stretch in its new $4.5 million building program, pointing specifically to the needs for new classroom space at the city's two junior high schools.

Smith, who has been associated with the local school for four years as a coach, lauded the positive attitude his own players have taken but said a greater percentage of the available manpower needs to play athletics if Big Spring can be expected to compete against other 2-AAAA powers, reminding his listeners that the local school had a smaller number of scholastics than any other school in the district.

In discussing future opponents of the Steers, Smith stressed these points: LAMESA — A district winner last season which did very well in the playoffs against the eventual champion, Brownwood. Due to field another rugged team this year under coach Donald Jay. PLAINVIEW — A team thirsting for revenge, after having lost to Big Spring four years ago, 86-6. "It's hard to play mad people," was the way the speaker put it.

SNYDER — Always tough for Big Spring to handle. Their new coach, Keith Miles, was an outstanding success at Quanah. The school fielded a fine B team last year, too. MIDLAND LEE — The Rebels intend to throw the ball, according to their new coach, Bob Burris. And Big Spring showed alarming weaknesses in its defensive second last spring, according to Smith.

MIDLAND HIGH — The Bulldogs have a tremendous quarterback returning in Paul Lyons, a boy who throws with authority, plus some fine receivers. ABILENE HIGH — Some people think that Abilene High holds some sort of whammy over Big Spring, and not without reason. The Steers have beaten Abilene only once in 25 years. Abilene has a proud tradition, like the New York Yankees used to boast. Too, the Eagles had an unbeaten B team last year.

ABILENE COOPER — Cooper has never beaten Big Spring but last year's game was close and Cooper "has all its folks back." Smith said the Cougars had one of the best looking quarterbacks he has seen in Jack Mildren. ODESSA PERMIAN — In their annual spring game against the Exes, the Panthers lost only by a margin of 12-6, and many of the Seniors played with last year's state champions. Permian boasts seasoned backs second to no high school team. In addition, Mike Ott of Permian is great. "I'm afraid we can't get close enough to him to block him," Smith lamented.

ODESSA HIGH — The Bronchos have a new coach in Joe Means, who learned much of his football under renowned Chesty Walker. They boast a splendid fullback in Mark Clapham. Until he went out with illness last year, Odessa was unbeaten. SAN ANGELO — Bigger than Permian, and the conference favorites, the Bobcats are deep at quarterback, have a good line and deserve the rating.

Smith said his own football team had six lettermen returning, including some fine veterans like tackle James Carver, center Ronnie Hamby, fullback Kirby Horton and end Robert Jackson plus such outstanding newcomers to the A team like linebacker David Holmes, guards Gary Turner and David Gomez, tackle Jerry Ryan running backs Doug Robinson and Lonnie Clanton. Clanton will do the team's punting.

He identified Ryan as a 6-4, 185-pound junior who had the makings of a great player, "one of the best this school ever had." Horton, according to Smith, has brought his weight down from 210 to 195 and is a better player for it. The squad had lost seven boys since the spring, all of whose families have moved away, but will pick up others, according to Smith. Those, unfortunately, will be new to the system being taught and it will take time to orient them.

Chiefs Are Still In Twilight Zone

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs, with possibly the fewest holes to fill of any team in the American Football League, still are flopping around in the twilight zone.

At least that's the way Coach Hank Stram puts it. "Our entire situation could rest on what develops at left halfback," Stram said as he estimated the Chiefs' title chances in the Western Division. "Last year we were committed to the big back personality, but now we're in the twilight zone."

The Chiefs problem stems from the death of last year's starting fullback, Mack (The Truck) Hill. Hill who died while undergoing knee surgery, combined with Curt McClinton to give the Chiefs as good a one-two rushing punch as there was in the league.

But with Hill's death, Stram not only must find a replacement but fit the rest of his offense to either complement another big back combine or a backfield in which McClinton will be running with a speedboy. "There have been no end of prospects looked at by Stram at the Chiefs' training camp. Here's a list of the leading candidates to be McClinton's running mate: —Mike Garrett, Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California, in the small back class at 5-foot-9 and 195 pounds. —Bert Coan, former Kansas star now in his fifth season, a big back threat at 6-4, 220. —Ellis Gipson, a rookie out of Bethune Cookman, a big back hope at 6-2, 230. —Sandy Stephens, former Minnesota star back from the Canadian League, a big back type at 6-1, 225. —Jerrell Wilson, a four-year vet, in the big back class at 6-4, 222. There also are two others, both rookies: Wendell Tucker of South Carolina, 5-11, 187, and Gene Thomas of Florida A&M, 6-1, 210.

New Football Program Is To Be Tried In Schools

An ambitious seventh grade football program will be tried in the city's two junior high schools this fall. Three teams of 23 boys will be selected by age and lot at each school. No boys 13 years of age or older Sept. 1 or before will be allowed to play. The teams will play eleven from the other school on a round robin basis for three weeks. The two teams with the best records will play the fourth week, as will the eleven with the second record and etc. If there is a need to recognize at that time, it will be done according to the number of boys still out for practice. All boys will be given a chance to play under the new system. Quarters will be limited to eight minutes and no half time respite will be allowed. As soon as one game is over, two more teams will go onto the field and take place. The games will be held on Saturday mornings, with the first one scheduled at 9 a.m., the second at 9:45 and the third at 10:30. The seventh graders will work out for one hour after school, the eighth grade an hour and 20 minutes. Eighth and ninth graders will be required to maintain the equivalent of C in the class room if they are permitted to play.

Domestic Producers Told Too Much Crude Produced

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP) — Domestic oil producers were told last week they have produced too much crude oil this year.

Warren Baker, executive vice president of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, said excessive producing rates have weakened market conditions, restricted an upward trend for crude oil prices, and eliminated any possibility for increased drilling operations.

DECLINE
Domestic drilling rates for 1966 are well behind 1965 and year-end totals are certain to record the seventh annual decline in 10 years.

Baker said a record demand for petroleum this year has exceeded the 1965 level by 548,000 barrels a day but total supply has increased 645,000.

"Thus, the gain in supply exceeded the gain in consumption," he said.

Increases to extremely normal and regional proportions," he said.

With a 4.7 per cent increase in consuming rates, Baker said, it should have been easy for the industry to maintain strong and healthy crude oil market conditions in 1966.

"CARRIED AWAY"
"Instead, carried away by its enthusiasm, the industry boosted total new supply—domestic production of crude oil and natural gas liquids, plus imports of crude oil and refined products—to more than 2.2 billion barrels during the first half of 1966, up 116 million (m) barrels or 5.6 per cent over 1965," Baker said.

Baker gave this breakdown for the 116 million barrel increase in total supply—88 million for domestic crude oil production, 12 million for domestic natural gas liquids and 16 million for imports.

by 97,000 barrels per day," he wrote in the August edition of his association's bi-monthly publication, "The Drilling Contractor."

SUPPLY TIGHT
Baker said U.S. crude oil markets at the start of 1966 were in tighter supply than at any time since the Suez Canal crisis of 1956-1957.

"Despite record 1965 production, crude oil inventories began 1966 at a 44-year low," Baker said. "Enlargement of crude oil stocks by 38 million barrels during the first six months of the year pushed them to near critical levels."

"Consequently, crude oil markets no longer are in short tight supply, but on the verge of reaching a surplus stage."

He said crude oil price advances in late 1965 prompted high optimism for 1966.

"Instead, excessive producing rates restricted 1966 crude price

Emerson And Stolle Eye U. S. Net Title

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The U.S. is pinning its hopes on Dennis Ralson and Clark Graebner in efforts to recapture its own national tennis doubles championship, which gets underway Sunday.

But they'll have to take it back from the defending champions, Australians Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle, who are again top foreign seeds in the men's division.

The tournament on the lawns of the Longwood Cricket Club, with more than 300 entries and six championships at stake, is billed as the "world's biggest tennis tournament."

Ralson and Graebner, fresh from victories over Mexicans in the recent Davis Cup clash at Cleveland, were placed in the bottom bracket of the lower half of the draw. Stolle and Emerson are at the other end of the draw, so barring upsets the two teams would meet in the finals one week from Sunday.

Arthur Ashe and Marty Reisen, two other Davis Cup members, are paired together for the first time.

Seventh seeded Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, crowd favorites in the 1965 championships, will face Ray Moore and Peter Van Lingen, the South African Davis Cup doubles team.

Smith and Lutz, 18- and 19-year-old standouts, won a number of early round upsets last year before they were finally put down by the more experienced team of Frank Froehling and Charlie Pasarell.

The Wimbledon doubles champions a year ago, Tony Roche and John Newcombe, face the fifth-ranked doubles team in the U.S., John Pickens and Dave Power in the opening round.

Veterans Billy Talbert and Gardner Mulloy, who have entered the tournament for the 25th time as a doubles combination, face the tournament's sixth seeded pair, Owen Davidson and Bill Bowery, runners up at Wimbledon this year.

Manuel Santana of Spain and Tom Koch of Brazil, the tournament's fifth seed, meet Jose Villarete of the Philippines and Mike Sprengelmeyer of Duquesne, Iowa.

The unseeded team of Rafael Osuna of Mexico and Ronnie Barnes of Brazil take on John Yang of the Philippines and Gary Keel of Edwardsville, Ill.

Ostuna won the title at Longwood in 1962 when he was paired with Antonio Palafox, and he won the national singles title at Forest Hills, N.Y., in 1963.

First round matches in the men's division will be played Sunday and Monday. The women's event and men seniors start Monday and father and son, Tuesday. Senior women's singles and doubles start the next day.

Cosden proudly salutes another of its 'SENIORS'

WALTER L. OSBORNE

Walter L. Osborne, a native New Yorker turned West Texan by choice, has been a special tester in Cosden's chemical laboratory for the past five years. Part of his responsibility includes running chromatographs on light gases.

Osborne entered lab work at the refinery a year after joining the company on April 10, 1951. Brief periods as yardman and at the pumphouse preceded the lab, where he began as a sample jerker. He advanced to gasoline tester, octane tester, and for five years was a polystyrene tester. From his vantage point he has literally watched the complex diversify.

Born in Gloversville, Osborne graduated from high school at Johnstown, New York. During his service in the Army Air Corps from 1944 to 1946, he was stationed in the South Pacific and at Tokyo. But for eight months he was assigned to Big Spring Bombardier School. That was time enough to meet and court Opal Chapman, a local girl. They were married here Sept. 8, 1946. A year back in New York convinced him that he had become Texanized and they returned.

The Osborne home is at 502 Circle Drive. The couple's son, Roy Lee, 11, will enter sixth grade at Washington Place next month. He has spent part of the summer as a third baseman and pitcher for the Pirates, major league team in Little League, and winners of the city playoff. His father has been vice president of the minor league for the past two years and continues in that post. Golfing, fishing and bowling are other Osborne pursuits.

The family has membership in First Methodist Church, where she teaches a Sunday school class of youngsters and sings in the choir. Osborne is affiliated with the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

MR. AND MRS. O. N. GREEN

O. N. Greens Observe 60 Years Of Wedlock

In the ten years that have elapsed between the 50th and 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Green there has been added a grandson-in-law and granddaughter-in-law and four great-grandchildren.

Friday the family gathered for a quiet observance of the unusual milestone in the married life of Ode and Oza Green who make their home at 2105 Johnson St. The great-grandchildren are James and Paul Green, children of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Green, and David and Debbie Abney whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Abney, all of whom live in Lubbock.

The Greens were good friends long before they became sweethearts when their families were neighbors in Polk County, Ark. Both were born in the little town of Menard. The Green family moved to Mannsville, Okla., and soon after the Malcolms moved to the same town and the families were neighbors again.

It was in Mannsville that Ode Green and Oza Malcolm were married on Aug. 19, 1916, by the Rev. G. W. Crawford, a Baptist minister. The couple farmed near Mannsville for four years before moving to Tishoming, the capital of the Chickasaw Nation, where they lived for five years. Here he was a deputy sheriff and his duties were with Indians whom he found to be well behaved until they had been given too much to drink. The Greens later lived in Henryetta for eight years. In 1923 they moved to Shawnee in order that their only son, Malcolm, could attend college at Oklahoma A&M.

In 1926 the Greens moved to McCamey, which was in its boom era and housing came at a premium. . . in fact, their house was a tent. Mrs. Green worked in the post office and he began what ultimately was a 30-year association with Continental Oil Co. The couple lived in Forsan until 1956. Mr. Green had retired in 1952 from the oil company and was employed by the Chalk Estate until ill health forced his complete retirement. For the past several years Mrs. Green has added numerous little people to her large list of adult friends as she busies herself with baby sitting and her church work.

MRS. A. A. GRAUMANN

Office Orchid

Being a part of the oil industry has always been a fascination of Mrs. A. A. (Phyllis) Graumann. Her first job in that industry was a contract pumper for oil companies in Snyder. In this, she took care of oil wells in the fields and remembers the work as being most enjoyable.

She is still interested in the industry and holds a morning job at Southwest Tool and Supply Company, and works afternoons for independent oil operators, G. H. Hayward and Fred Hyer.

Mrs. Graumann says that she has two full time, one-half day jobs and it makes her especially lucky because she also has four very nice bosses.

The Graumanns are the parents of two children, Beth and Keith, who are developing their musical talents by taking organ lessons during the summer.

The family belongs to the St. Paul Lutheran Church, and Mrs. Graumann teaches a junior Sunday School class. She is also active in the church's parish Workers and is chairman of the mission committee.

Enjoying outdoor camping, the family has a 15 foot travel trailer and recently spent 16 days at Lake Brownwood. Besides her other interest, Mrs. Graumann says that, when she has the time, she likes to sew for her family.

Freckles Can Be Fun— Or What's Your Color?

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Freckles — those sun-induced flecks on the face over which almost every woman more than 12 years old despairs — are now considered beauty marks to be coveted and admired.

This spot report comes from Paris where, according to the New York fashion trade publication Women's Wear Daily, the jeune filles without any freckles are painting them on to make up for this deficiency.

Spreading like the pox, the spot fever is expected to become contagious soon among fashion-conscious ladies in this country. The cosmetics industry is ready for it.

"Charming and irresistible" is the way Amelia Bassin, an executive for Faberge, reacts to freckles. The firm intends to make them a part of its outdoory Western look for fall.

"The next step after putting on natural-colored freckles," she says, "will be matching them to the color of a dress. For example, purple freckles with a purple dress."

Even though the Lilly Dache firm makes a product to hide a bridge of brown dots, this company too is happy that freckles are coming out from under a cover of paint.

Freckles have been coming into focus for some time now, according to Hollywood makeup man Don Factor who had recently painted up some freckle-faced femmes for photo stills.

Some New York modeling agencies report an increasing demand for cute misses with a sprinkling of pepper across pert noses.

On the other hand, Eddy Senz thoroughly disapproves of freckles as a beauty vogue for just any woman. He is the veteran makeup man who takes time out from applying his bag of cosmetic tricks to entertainment celebrities to rush to Texas or Washington to emphasize the best features of the Johnson women.

"Freckles is a part of the glow of youth and should not be hidden by the young," he says. "But it is wishful thinking for a mature woman to believe that freckles can do anything to improve her. The freckle fad is a part of this whole silly youth worshipping kick."

Yet such glamor girls as Samantha Eggar, Julie Christie, Doris Day, Joan Crawford and Katharine Hepburn have long been sporting their specks with pride.

"That's different," says Senz. "These women are accepted for their talents. Freckles become a part of the whole familiar, accepted personality."

Cosdenites Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Broughton have returned to Duncanville after spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. J. E. Smith, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Tesson are visiting their children in Waco and Commerce next week.

Fishing at Lake Cisco will entertain the Donald Allen family next week on vacation. They will also include Medina on their itinerary.

Tito Arencibia, Jimmy Rogers and Joe Sharpnack played in the state softball tournament at Brownwood, Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Sharon Mitchell exchanged wedding vows with Malcolm Leon Toombs, Aug. 13 in Bel Air Baptist Church, Hobbs, N. M. Mrs. Toombs is receptionist for Cosden's downtown offices.

Miss Karen Walker And Tommy E. Adams Marry

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Karen Jane Walker and Tommy Eugene Adams at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Leo K. Gee, pastor.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Walker, 1401 E. 19th, and Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Adams, 1301 Tucson.

Centering the altar was a tall fern tree flanked by white pedestals holding large arrangements of gladioli, and snowflake mums. Seven branch candelabra holding cathedral tapers and graced with emerald fern completed the setting. Family pews were marked with satin.

Miss Mary Lee Dibrell, organist, presented the organ prelude and accompanied Mrs. Carl Bradley as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt on a white prie dieu.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown fashioned in candlelight peau de soie featuring a Batteau neckline and long fitted sleeves. The neckline, waist, and the slightly belled skirt was accented with Alencon lace appliques encrusted with seed pearls. A large bow held the chapel train which flowed from the waist. Her three-tiered wedding veil of French illusion was bordered in lace, held by a pearl encrusted pillbox of peau de soie. She wore a heirloom amethyst and pearl lavaliers which had belonged to her maternal grandmother.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of stephanotis and white orchids accented with tulle and pearl leaves, and showered with petit satin. This was carried on a lace covered Bible in which was a linen handkerchief carried by her grandmother, Mrs. Raymond Ferguson on her wedding day.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Teresa Macklin is maid of honor. Mrs. Ronnie Davis of Midland was bride's matron. Bridesmaid was Miss Sena Goodlett and Miss Caren Crockett was junior bridesmaid.

The feminine attendants were attired in identical floor-length gowns of mint green peau de soie with semi-belled skirts and emerald green velvet fitted bodices. They wore matching mint green open pillbox hats with maline veils, and carried nosegays of bronze snow crystal mums backed in matching tulle and showered in gold velvet ribbon.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his uncle, J. C. Bowden of Cross Plains. Groomsman and ushers were Charles Burned, Odessa; Robert Eubank, Houston; Ron Walker, brother of the bride; Don Crockett, and Don Alexander of Big Spring. Randy Crockett was ring bearer.

Following the wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will be at home at 1211 E. 18th. For travelling, she chose a Greek mint silk sheath and cape ensemble. She wore a matching pillbox hat and accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a summer candidate for the bachelor of science degree in elementary education at Tarleton State College. There Miss Walker was a member of the D.S.T. women's social club, Gamma Sigma Sigma, and on the staff of the T.S.C. Annual. She is a 1963 graduate of Big Spring High School. ## Stuff Bills In Used Letter Box

Tired of finding your bills, receipts, etc. in chaotic confusion? Install a letter box in the family room or kitchen to hold unpaid bills, and unanswered personal correspondence.

It's also a convenient place to keep an envelope for warranties, guarantees, and all use-and-care booklets that come with your new appliances.

If you make it a practice to file all such papers in this letter box, you will not find yourself wasting time looking high and low for some bill, receipt, or warranty when you need it.

MRS. JAMES B. BEAN JR.

Miss Susan Engle, J. B. Bean Jr. Wed

The wedding of Miss Susan Engle and James B. Bean Jr., was solemnized Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the sanctuary of the East Fourth Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Engle, 1005 Howell, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bean Sr., Esperanza.

The Rev. L. D. Green, pastor of the Skyline Baptist Church in El Paso, former pastor of the East Fourth church, officiated for the double ring rites.

The wedding party stood before the altar that was decorated with emerald palm foliage and baskets of white gladioli. Seven-branched candelabra entwined with boxwood foliage held wedding tapers that illuminated the altar.

Mrs. John Billings, organist, played pre-nuptial offerings and accompanied James Kinman as he sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer." A benediction as the couple knelt on a white prie dieu.

When the bride entered on the arm of her father she wore a formal gown of white peau de soie with fitted bodice and Sabrina neckline, featured inlays of white Chantilly lace over crystalized sequins. The back of the dress swept into a train which bore appliques matching those on the bodice. Long sleeves reached to petal points over the wrists. The elbow length veil of French illusion was attached to a scalloped crown of lace and seed pearls, trimmed with aurora crystal beads.

Traditional items included a handkerchief belonging to the bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. W. A. Johnson; the dress was borrowed from the bridegroom's sister, something new was the veil and something blue was a friendship garter. A good luck charm, a gift from the bridegroom was worn in her slipper.

The bride's bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white stephanotis and arranged into a cascade showered with white satin ribbon.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Bobby Leatherwood, Houston, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. She wore an A-line street length dress of rose pink crepe with bell shaped sleeves of heavy Venice lace.

Miss Suzanne Whatley and Miss Sarah Pike were bridesmaids and their dresses were of pale pink fashioned in the same style as that of the bride's matron. All attendants wore headpieces of cabbage roses with short veils of tulle to match their dresses and each carried a single pink long-stemmed rose.

J. B. Bean served his son as best man and groomsmen were Reese Lutich, Fabens, and Wayne Folmer, El Paso. Ushers were John and Scottie Bean of Fort Hancock.

Karen Smith was the flower girl and she wore a frock designed similarly to those of the attendants. She carried a small white basket and wore a wristlet of pink rosebuds. Ring bearers were Jimmy and Tommy Engle of Dell City, and Cindy Engle and Diana Humphrey of El Campo lighted the tapers. Their dresses were designed in a fashion similar to the other attendants and they wore wristlets of pink rosebuds.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride was wearing a three-piece wool knit suit of olive green with black patent accessories. She pinned the orchid from her wedding bouquet to her suit.

The newly wed couple will make a home in Esperanza where he is presently engaged in farming and ranching. Mrs. Bean is a 1966 graduate of Big Spring Senior High School where she was listed in Who's Who, a member of the student council and a cheerleader. Her husband is a 1964 graduate of Fort Hancock High School.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Here the parents of the couple assisted the couple and their feminine attendants in receiving guests. Mrs. Reese Lutich was in charge of the guest register.

The table was covered with a handmade silk organza cloth of pale pink with hand applique roses and scalloped edges. The centerpiece was a large arrangement of pink roses and baby's-breath. Crystal and silver appointments were used in serving. Sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Johnny Stubbs, Las Cruces, N. M. and Mrs. Charles Engle, Dell City; and Miss Beverly Peters served.

The wedding cake was a three-tiered round white confection, trimmed with tiny pink rosebuds and topped with a miniature bridal couple and wedding bell.

It is estimated that 70 per cent of American homes are now using disposable towels in the kitchen and for other home applications. The average using household consumes nearly two rolls a month.

It appears that the American housewife's demand for convenience items is stronger than ever, and so is her demand for beauty.

At least, that's one reason offered for the mushrooming of disposable towel sales; they've doubled in the past five years. Probably the most important factor in this upsurge in popularity of household towels is the recent efforts to make them

First Lt. and Mrs. Jim Rudisill entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morgan and her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Murphy from North Carolina.

Maj. and Mrs. Ed Davis and family left at the crack of dawn for Carlsbad Caverns last Saturday. They are the adventure-some types and showed it by taking the 3 1/2 hour tour and then returned home exhausted Saturday night.

Mrs. James Kiehle had a farewell coffee Monday for Mrs. Chuck Winston. An unusual centerpiece of wild sunflowers highlighted the table of goodies. Approximately 15 were on hand for that second cup of coffee.

The medical wives held their August coffee at the home of Mrs. Charles Bell. Newcomers welcomed to the group were Mrs. S. C. Simons, Mrs. Lowell Suckrow and Mrs. David Philp.

Lt. Col. Rowland Wolfe's daughter, Susie, just returned from San Antonio last Sunday where she had a good time visiting her cousin, Stormy Bred-bury. The 3560th P.T.S. held their August coffee at the Officers Open Mess last Tuesday. The 25 who attended enjoyed either bridge or tripole. Winning high in bridge was Mrs. G. H. Vores, second, Mrs. Dick Speros, and third, Mrs. Donald Drinnon.

The wives of D Flight had a luncheon on Friday at Holiday Inn.

The Officers Open Mess was the place for the 3561st P.T.S. August coffee. Games involving the comic stripes were a real challenge to everyone there. Winning the prizes were Mrs. Eric Mueller, Mrs. Bruce Lotz, Mrs. Bill Gough and Mrs. Bill Keenan.

The wives of Falcon Element had a shower for Mrs. Donald Banke at the home of Mrs. Marlin Schafer on Aug. 17. Since Mrs. Banke has already had her baby and it's a girl, everything was pink and frilly.

Mrs. T. J. Rowland and her daughter, Pam, have recently returned from Wichita Falls where they visited with friends and relatives.

The 331st wives had a patio coffee at the Big Spring Country Club last Tuesday. Co-hostesses were Mrs. E. M. Burn and Mrs. William Crew. The coffee was also a surprise baby shower for Mrs. F. J. Young.

Mrs. James Rouch and Mrs. O. B. Howard were the hostesses for a punch party to welcome Mrs. T. J. Rowland to the D.C.O. group at Mrs. Rouch's home last Thursday. A large silver punch bowl and small cups shaped like a brandy sniffer was the center of attraction on the lovely table. Special guests were Mrs. C. J. Butcher, Mrs. Gregory Perron, Mrs. Charles Whal, and Mrs. Barry Butler.

Class 67-G had a busy week last week. On Wednesday they had a class coffee at the home of Mrs. A. C. Schneider with about 18 attending. On Friday the wives of A Flight welcomed them with a coffee at the home of Mrs. Gene Johnson.

Because of some misunderstanding among our members the O.W.C. Bridge Marathon is still open for the next two weeks. So if you are not sure of all the facts just give Mrs. Jerry Osgood a call at AM 7-6066 and she will gladly answer any questions for you. It's a lot of fun to play with different people in your home so why not give it a try!

REMARKABLE SORGHUM CROP TO BE VISITED
Fields of fine cotton and grain on itinerary of Good-Will Tour

Bus Safari Swings To St. Lawrence Thursday

A bus load of Big Spring business and civic leaders will make a one-day visit to Glasscock County Thursday. Much of their time will be devoted to the prosperous St. Lawrence farming community.

Forty-six tickets have been sold for the bus, which is three more than the rated load. Jimmy Taylor, general chairman of the tour, sponsored by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, said that he has had numerous requests for additional tickets. Adolph Swartz was in charge of handling sale of tickets.

The tour will enable the Big Spring men to become acquainted with the farmers and ranchers in the areas to be visited and will give them an opportunity to see the remarkably fine crops.

LEAVE FROM DOWNTOWN

Taylor said that the tour will depart from the Operation Sparkle downtown parking lot at 8:30 a.m. Included in the day's itinerary is a barbecue dinner at the St. Lawrence Community Center with the Big Spring men as hosts to farmers and ranchers of the area. Another feature for mid-afternoon will be a watermelon break, arranged by courtesy of Doris Blizard, St. Lawrence resident. The bus will return to Big Spring at 4:30 p.m.

Taylor and his fellow committeemen, in cooperation with the St. Lawrence residents and others, have mapped out a schedule with stops to cover several important features of the agricultural community.

In the course of the day's travel, Taylor said that the bus will pass by nearly every farm in the St. Lawrence area and while stops will not be made at all of them, the visitors will be informed whose farm each is and highlights if features will be pointed out to the tourists.

The first stop on the day-long trip is slated for 8:50 a.m. at the Dr. J. V. Sanders farm. Three things are to be inspected here.

IRRIGATION SYSTEM

One is the remarkable automatic irrigation system the owner has in operation—a device which enables the irrigation of 170 acres of land at one uninterrupted operation.

Dr. Sanders' alfalfa fields will also be checked as will the effective utilization of Midland Bermuda and NK 37 used in pastures where his livestock feed.

Cotton and milo, produced under irrigation, will be seen at the Gary Seidenberger place at 9:33 a.m.

The visitors will be at the Bob Ballenger ranch at 9:45 a.m. where they will have a chance to see some of the famous quarter horses of the West. Included will be Dixie Buck, the grand champion mare of the Fort Worth Livestock show and high point halter mare of the West Texas Quarter Horse Association.

PECAN ORCHARD

Commercial pecan production is the feature at the Curry-Johnson farm where the bus will arrive at 10:45 a.m. The pecan orchard here was planted in 1963-64 and the visitors will be able to note the growth of the trees in that span of years.

The big barbecue dinner at the St. Lawrence Community Hall at 11:45 will be an event of

Irrigators Asked To Observe Date

Cotton irrigation will soon end for this season over the South Plains as producers comply with the water "cut-off" dates suggested for both efficient water use and production of quality fiber.

Aug. 20 is the recommended cut-off date for the northern portion of the High Plains cotton production region, says extension irrigation specialist Bill Lyle, Lubbock.

The recommended cut-off date is Aug. 25 for the central part of the area and Sept. 1 for the south part, he says.

The cut-off times have been established from research on cotton's growth pattern and from data on first-frost dates and expected rainfall. Quality of late-watered cotton is consistently reduced by a top crop of bolls with low micronaire values and poorer spinning characteristics, Lyle said.

Grand Jury Has Light Docket

Howard County grand jury, to convene on Tuesday morning, will consider one murder case, three assault with intent to murder complaints, five charges of DWI, second offense, one check, three burglary cases.

The docket will be one of the lightest a 118th District Court grand jury has had in a long time. Judge Ralph Caton will empanel the grand jury on Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, is on vacation but will be back in his office on Monday. Wayne Tollett, his investigator, said there is a possibility one or two cases could be added to those the grand jury is slated to hear.

The murder complaint charges Avery Foster with the death July 5 of Jesse Palmer. Foster is alleged to have struck Palmer over the head with a club as climax to a fight. An autopsy showed that Palmer died of strangulation from regurgitating food and not directly from the blow on the head.

The three assault with intent to murder cases charge Herman Fenix with slashing the throat of Willie Famer on July 27; Elmo Chavez with shooting Joe Martinez in the back on July 23; and Cecil Johnson with having shot Charles Peterson in the neck with a shotgun on July 29.

Burglary cases name Dale Roberts, Jackie Thompson and Antonio Arispe as defendants in as many cases.

There is one worthless check case to be heard with Jim Montgomery as defendant.

The DWI second cases name James Wesley Legate, Milton Dee Thompson, Merrill Johnson and George Raymond Max-

Highway Folders In 3 Languages

The Texas Highway Department today issued two new, full-color travel folders in which Texas speaks the languages of Germany and France.

Based upon the enthusiastic acceptance of a similar folder in Spanish, produced by the highway department last year, the new German and French folders should enjoy similar appeal.

French and German travelers, anticipating a visit to the United States, will find Texas travel literature in their own language at U.S. Travel Service offices, and on the racks of international travel agents, air and steamship lines.

Highway department surveys indicate that Texas is an increasingly popular destination for European travelers.

well as defendants. The jury panel from which the court will name 12 persons to comprise the August grand jury is W. J. Roberts, Jack Wallace, B. R. Newton, Bill Pollard, Bob Brock, Daryle Hobertz, Carlisle Robinson, Louis McKnight, Wendell Shive, Mairi McFaul, Mel Stinson, Mrs. Ivan Marr, Jack Cook, James Cape, Don Womack, Jasper Atkins, Mrs. Auriel LaFond, J. E. Hopper, Mrs. W. H. Reed and Gary Sims.

Bus Executives Due Monday

Continental Trailways has added another innovation to its list of firsts in bus transportation by conducting a sales meeting aboard a specially equipped Company Silver Eagle bus.

Twenty-eight executives of the bus company, headed by the president, T. S. Reece, departed Dallas Thursday and will be served by Continental and conduct a sales meeting while moving.

The group will be here at 8:45 a.m. Monday to visit with George Rice, agent, and to inspect the new terminal at East Third and Nolan. Other points visited will include Tyler, Nacogdoches, Lufkin, Houston, Palfacius, Corpus Christi, Alice, Del Rio, San Angelo and Midland.

All the vice presidents, general managers, sales executives and advertising personnel of the bus system will be on the inspection and sales trip.

"Last year we went to the eastern section of the United States for our meeting and inspection and it proved very successful," said Reece. "The Silver Eagle is the most modern bus on the highway and we will have all the conveniences possible—a coffee and refreshment galley, coat racks and writing tables will be aboard. This is the best way to see first hand what is happening on the system."

Reece said that this type of arrangement is available to any group that wishes the same convenience on a charter. The bus has a rest room, and it features an intercom system and reclining lounge chair seats.

Among vice presidents and general manager aboard will be H. L. Gilson, Dallas, R. E. Foiles, Brownsville, W. F. Aikman, Omaha, Neb., R. W. McClendon, Alexandria, La., F. W. Walker, Atlanta, Ga., H. W. Loring, Nashville, Tenn., Wilbert Giese, Little Rock, Ark., G. L. Carpenter, Wichita Falls, R. F. Berndt, Denver, Colo., and J. M. Heket, Amarillo, plus a number of sales and publicity executives.

Road Toll Put At 41

AUSTIN (AP) — Forty-one persons will die in Texas traffic over the three-day Labor Day weekend, the Department of Public Safety predicted Saturday.

Homer Garrison, director, said his department will conduct "operation motorcade" during the holiday period.

Garrison said about 150 uniformed officers from other DPS branches will be on the road to reinforce the highway patrol.

Each traffic death will be recorded and totals will be announced three times daily to call public attention to highway dangers, Garrison said.

"The current traffic trend indicates that Texas is headed for its third straight record high in terms of fatal accidents. At the present time we are approximately 15 per cent ahead of the same time in 1965, and we are still faced with the four months of the year which generally produce the most deaths," Garrison said.

R IF YOU HAVE ACNE DO SOMETHING NOW

Pimples, blackheads, blemishes and boils can make life miserable. They often can be controlled or eliminated by proper care. If neglected, permanent scars may develop. We have some helpful products any one can use safely. But if acne constantly recurs, it is wiser to consult a physician.

Acne is caused by poor adjustment of the skin to the secretions of maturing glands. It is not caused by dirt, but frequent washing clears the plugged oil glands to prevent blackhead formation. A blackhead is not dirt. The black color is from a chemical change in the secretion. Around the age of 18 or 19 acne usually vanishes, but until then don't neglect proper care.

A Devotional For The Day

The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth his handiwork. (Psalm 19:1, ASV)
PRAYER: Our Father, help us to see and know the renewal and creativity of Thy presence and power. Give us thankful hearts, that on each new day we may be renewed in body, mind, and spirit. Forgive our blindness and sin and give us faithful hearts; through Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Indictment And A Challenge

In many respects, Big Spring is an unusually religious city. The number of congregations, the testimony of faith in beautiful church plants, and the number in church school and church services on any given Sunday morning all attest to it.
A spot survey by one group a week ago, however, would indicate that there is plenty of room for improvement. Results based on a 65 per cent contact in a sample area of 400 homes show this:
Ninety-seven per cent of the homes had a Bible (the average was 3.3 per family). A total of 96.1 per cent showed religious affiliation or preference (83.6 Protestant, 16.3 Catholic); 3.9 said they had no affiliation preference.
Well, this is encouraging enough, but hear the next set of figures on performance: About half indicate that they attend occasionally or on special occasions, 15.3 per cent seldom go, and 2.8 per cent never go.

The sobering thing is that only one-fourth (26.1 per cent) attend regularly (once a week) and only one-tenth attend more than once a week. You can put it down then that only about 10 to 15 per cent of the people are perpetuating the work of the church and carrying the load.
This is at once a damning indictment of our religious professions and a tremendous challenge to the religious leadership to somehow bring the vast stream of faith to a new confrontation. Churches can exist perhaps a long time with even this relatively modest amount of leaving, but they can never become the moral and spiritual force in the community that they ought to be. It's enough to prick the community conscience.

Encouraging Example

If Big Spring as a whole could do the sort of job that the northern part of the city has done on its cleanup campaign, we would be a more attractive community.
Thanks to the cooperation of the City of Big Spring and Northside United, a tremendously successful cleanup is in its final phases.
Here are just a few of the figures reported at mid-week: 665 truck loads of trash hauled away, 112 vacant lots mowed by the city and a large number more cleaned by private citizens, 230 blocks of streets and 97 blocks of alleys bladed, 140 blocks of paved streets swept. Final figures will be even more impressive.

This shows what can be done, and from this spring board, we hope that the residents of that portion of our town will take renewed pride in their sector. This will mean a healthier, brighter and safer area. It will mean a step toward cleaning up some other situations which burdens the hearts of good people on the north side of town.
Let other areas of the city become smug, let us hasten to say that this sort of thing is needed elsewhere, and just not physically, either. North side has set an inspiring example.

Time To Face Up To Russia

WASHINGTON — Proof that the Soviet Union is directly involved in the Viet Nam war and is providing the weapons to kill American soldiers is being revealed not only from Saigon but from Moscow.
This significant piece of news was disclosed in two United Press International dispatches. One, from Viet Nam, said:
"A Communist guided missile missed a flight of U.S. Navy jets over North Viet Nam Tuesday, then plunged to the ground and exploded in a populated area near the port of Haiphong, American military spokesmen reported Wednesday."
"NAVY PILOTS reported seeing the Russian - designed surface-to-air missile set off a fire after it hit east of Haiphong."
"In another air war incident Tuesday, Communist 'migs,' striking farther south than ever before, attacked a flight of U.S. Navy Skyhawk jets as the American planes were bombing a North Vietnamese supply train."
From the Soviet Union itself another dispatch quotes the Soviet military newspaper "Red Star" as boasting that the improved air defenses of North Viet Nam are beginning to show results. The Moscow correspondent declares that Russia has supplied surface-to-air missiles to the North Vietnamese. The "Red Star" article adds:
"NOW (NORTH Viet Nam) has up-to-date anti-aircraft guns and well-trained personnel."
The Soviet government, by sending munitions to an area where U.S. troops are fighting against aggression, is duplicating what was done in Korea in 1950. The Moscow government openly admitted in 1951 that it was sending arms and ammunition to Red China, which was then fighting against the U.N. forces.

MANY MEMBERS of Congress feel that the time has come to cut off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union and also to ask the United Nations to make its own inquiry as to whether the Soviets are doing in violation of the charter, which denounces aggression or any support of aggressors.
There have been many speeches in Congress in recent months demanding that the United States impose an economic blockade on North Viet Nam as a military measure. Certainly fuel as well as weapons, are being shipped into the ports of North Viet Nam from Red China and the Soviet Union, though in many cases ships flying the flags of other countries are used.
THERE IS every reason to believe that some of the Communist-bloc nations in Eastern Europe are involved in commerce with North Viet Nam. The United States recently has been inclined to soften its policy toward trading with those same European countries. The situation now turns on whether an economic embargo on all shipping from the United States to Communist countries may prove to be the only way to shorten the war in Viet Nam.
INASMUCH AS it now is disclosed that the Soviet Union is taking a direct part in the Viet Nam war, the all trade with the Soviet Union becomes a pertinent subject for Congress to discuss, and even to authorize retaliatory measures. Certainly it is a paradox to find departments of the government here planning to increase trade relations with the Communist countries while some of those same countries, particularly the Soviet Union, are furnishing the weapons and the planes being used to kill citizens of the United States fighting to protect the independence of the South Vietnamese people.

Billy Graham

Isn't it absurd to believe that we, on this small planet, are unique, and that this is the only planet that God is concerned with?
N.C.
Yours is a logical, natural question, but by no means a new one. David said: "When I consider the heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and stars . . . what is man that thou art mindful of him?"
Such a question if not properly answered leads to frustration. Asking questions is useless unless helpful answers can be discovered.
This planet may be small, but it doesn't necessarily follow that it is not important. One of God's fascinating characteristics is that He is concerned with things which we call small and insignificant. Jesus said: "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father . . . Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows."
We judge things by bigness, but it is evident that God works on a different principle. He thinks of not what we are but of what we may become with His aid. That is why, when He saw our plight, He came down to this planet and at great cost, purchased our redemption. This earth may be just a speck in the universe, but God is interested in such specks.

Around The Rim Bring Your Fruit And Vegetables

We have been in the season of abundant garden and orchard yields, and the producers of fruits and vegetables—particularly those who grow same with their own little hot hands—like to share with friends and neighbors.
Now I savor a succulent peach or a juicy plum as well as the next man, and can relish fresh black-eye peas, plump tomatoes, tender squash and the like, but I sort of duck my head when I am on the receiving end.

I CANNOT TELL whether the friend is really being generous or whether he just wants to let me know, in silent eloquence, that he is a far, far better man when it comes to bringing fruit off the vine.
It has been recorded in this corner that among my major frailties is a complete lack of rapport with Mother Nature; that is, what Mother Nature eventually does to the stuff I plant.

ONE YEAR I essayed a cantaloupe patch, eagerly turning the earth, embedding the seeds, and (for a time) watering and cultivating and giving what I regarded as tender and loving care. There arose visions of MY being able to deliver fresh delectables to friends, with just a minor touch of bravado about how well the cantaloupes had done that year.
No such luck. The darn vine shriveled at the crucial period, the melons never got much larger than duck eggs, and had all the flavor of the inner sole of a well-worn shoe.

NO MORE cantaloupes. Tomatoes ought to be simpler. The vines started, all right, again with most affectionate nursing (for awhile), but some big crawly bugs made off with the 'maters. Never did get those delivered in a beautiful basket, either.

Well, take peaches. Sure, we had three trees in the back-garden area, and it looked for a time that here would be the prize-winning peach crop of all time. Turned out that two of three trees curled up their limbs and died. I mean died.

THIS LEFT one tree. So what? It could be the top producer of them all. And it looked beautiful in the Spring, what with blooms and buds and all, and even for a time there were countless little peach nubbins. As summer wore on, the little peaches continued to be nubbins, and nubbins were what they were when they fell to the ground (I wasn't going to mess with 'em). About the size of a golf ball, I'd say, and of about the same degree of digestibility.
As far as my own one-tree orchard was concerned, peaches were for the birds—and that's where they went.

TO COMPOUND my shame and embarrassment, good friends have had now come bearing gifts of great, big luscious peaches, the kind that make you drool before, during, and after eating. I wouldn't say that these friends are show-offs, but it seems to me they take undue pride in what they have grown. And I wouldn't say that I am a complete sinner about the whole thing, but I have experienced surges of envy.
Even while filled with envy, however, I still have had room for good peaches. Somebody else's, that is.

Tight Money Raise s No Great Outcry

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The squeeze on money tightened during the week without raising any great outcry from Washington.

There were three developments which made money more costly and difficult to borrow:
—Major banks increased the prime interest rate to six per cent from 5 1/2 per cent.
—Some banks boosted the interest on brokers' loans to 6 1/2 per cent from six per cent.
—The Federal Reserve Board raised the reserve requirements behind certificates of deposit to six per cent from five per cent.

The raise in the prime rate — the interest charged to banks' biggest and most credit-worthy customers — was the fourth since last December.
The Federal Reserve Board's action on reserve requirements followed a rise to five per cent from four per cent in June.
The move affects time deposits, other than regular savings account deposits, in excess of $5 million at each member bank.

Reserves are the portion of deposits banks must set aside in cash at their district Federal Reserve bank. These reserves thus aren't available for lending by the banks.
The board described the action as designed "to exert a tempering influence on bank issuance of time certificates of deposit, and to apply some additional restraint upon the expansion of bank credit to businesses and other borrowers."

HOUSING STALLS
Housing starts, one of the areas affected by higher interest rates, fell again during July to the lowest level since the depths of the 1960 recession.
The Commerce Department reported starts dropped 16.4 per cent to an annual rate of 1,064,000 units. At the beginning of the year the rate was 1,251,000.
On the other hand, personal income during July climbed to another record despite the airline machinists' strike and a shutdown of automobile plants for their annual model changeovers.
The Commerce Department said the $2.5-billion increase effect on investors who buy stock on credit.

MARKET DROPS
Brokers said the increase in the prime rate and brokers' loans added to investors' worried and hurt the stock market, which sank to its lowest level in nearly two years.

EARLIER CLOSDOWN
The board's index at 157.3 per cent of the 1957-59 average was up 1.3 points or 0.8 per cent from the previous record of 156.2 per cent in June.

The board said automobile production declined 10 per cent in June after allowing for the earlier slowdowns to tool up for 1967 models.
Output of 1967 model cars was stepped up during the week to an estimated 25,500, compared with 8,500 last week and 56,033 a year ago.
New car sales climbed slightly in the first 10 days of August to 189,895 from 186,344 a year earlier.
Steel production during the week increased 2.2 per cent to 2,509,000 tons. This raised production for the year to 83,435,000 tons, compared with 86,972,000 a year earlier.

SQUEEZE AND EASE

- Prime interest raise depresses stock market
- Federal Reserve increases its reserve requirements
- Housing falls to lowest level since recession
- But personal income up $2.8 billion to new peak
- Industrial output up 1.3 points, steel gains 2.2 per cent
- Old model cars halted, but new models accelerated boosted personal income to an annual rate of $79.7 billion.

An increase of $2.8 billion in wages and salaries more than offset decreases in other areas.

The Federal Reserve Board reported that industrial production, despite a slump in automobile production, rose sharply to a record in July.

Output of 1967 model cars was stepped up during the week to an estimated 25,500, compared with 8,500 last week and 56,033 a year ago.

Steel production during the week increased 2.2 per cent to 2,509,000 tons. This raised production for the year to 83,435,000 tons, compared with 86,972,000 a year earlier.

How McNamara Meets His Problems

WASHINGTON—The volleys fired from Capitol Hill across the Potomac at the man in the Pentagon are slightly off target. What is more, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara seems not in the least disturbed as the shot and shell fall around him.
Of all the strange aspects of perhaps the strangest war in America's history, the conflict between McNamara and his congressional critics ranks high. The conflict in and of itself is more of the same. Civilian secretaries have traditionally been the target for political critics.

BUT WITH McNamara determined to hold down costs and his congressional attackers bent on forcing him to spend more, it is the reversal of the traditional roles that makes this remarkable. Even those who talk loudest about economy have been helping to load the defense budget with a half billion to a billion dollars of unwelcome, not compelled to spend funds that Congress appropriates above budgeted requests.

AFTER A WEEK'S vacation he will pick up the pruning shears again to cut costs still further. So confident is the Secretary in his estimate of the number of planes likely to be lost in the current fiscal year that he means to cut back production schedules. How—and where—the cutting will be done is still a carefully guarded secret. In testimony before the Senate Appropriations Committee, he puts the probable loss at 580 planes.

WHILE IT IS AN oversimplification, the fundamental difference between McNamara and his congressional critics is that he believes the Viet Nam conflict can be kept a limited war as against the view of those in Congress who want to pull out all the stops.

It is not that McNamara is unaware of the escalating cost of the Viet Nam war. He is engaged in calculating how much of a supplemental appropriation he will have to call on Congress for, and until all the returns are in, he will not give even a general estimate of how many billions will be in this added bill.

FIGURES ARE by no means McNamara's sole preoccupation. He is making a speech in New York next Tuesday reportedly going to the heart of the most sensitive of all problems — manpower. He is likely to enlarge on the concept of national service for all youths, a proposal in his talk to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Montreal in May that touched off loud repercussions.
"As matters stand," McNamara said at Montreal, "our present Selective Service system draws on only a minority of eligible young men. That is an inequity. It seems to me we could move toward remedying that inequity by asking every young person in the United States to give two years of service to his country—whether in one of the military services, in the Peace Corps, or in some other volunteer developmental work at home or abroad."

HE ADDED THAT there were those who said such a proposal was inappropriate in the middle of a shooting war but that he believed precisely the opposite was the case. With American youths called on for universal service, we would show that we meant what we said about the central concept of security—a world of desire where every man can feel that his personal horizon is rimmed with hope.

Nothing To Worry About

WASHINGTON—The three things that seem to disturb Americans this summer are the Viet Nam war, the racial unrest in the cities, and the status of the economy.

While the first two are very perplexing to the average person, the nation's economy is something everyone understands, particularly if one keeps abreast of the government pronouncements as well as reading what our leading economists have to say. I was very fortunate to run into an economist at a cocktail party the other day who was most reassuring about the future.

"YOU SEEM worried," he said kindly.
"I am," I admitted. "I'm worried about inflation."
"You have nothing to worry about. It's true that there is inflation at the moment, but you know, a little inflation isn't really a bad thing."
"It isn't?"
"I'm not saying it's a good thing," he said. "But when you have a booming economy, prices tend to rise. The important thing is to produce more. Yet the danger is that, if you produce more, you have a shortage of labor and materials which drives wages and prices up."

THEN IT WOULD be better if we had less employment and people didn't buy as much?
"Not necessarily. I people buy less, you may have a recession problem, and while you don't want your economy to heat up too fast, you certainly wouldn't want it to cool off, would you?"
"Heck, no," I said. "I think it should be like wine and be kept at room temperature."
"Of course, there's the British pound," he said casually.
"What about the British pound?" I cried in alarm.

"IT'S WAGING a fight against devaluation."

"What's that got to do with us?"
"My dear fellow, it has absolutely everything to do with us. If they devalue the pound, do you think the dollar could defend itself?"

"I was hoping it could," I said honestly.
"Not without vast gold reserves. Unfortunately, our reserves are down, particularly since France has been cashing in her dollars."

"I KNEW France was behind all our troubles," I said.
"It isn't just France. The real problem seems to be our military commitments in Germany."

"I knew if it wasn't the French it would be the Germans."

"I would say it wasn't the Germans as much as the American tourist. He's spending all our hard-earned dollars abroad."

"The dirty rat," I snarled.
"Yet I think we could weather all this if it weren't for the wage guidelines set up by the Administration."
"They're too low?"

"NOT ACCORDING to management. You see, management is caught in a profit squeeze. It isn't easy for them."
"Poor management."

Helena Lost Courthouse, But Men Kept Their Word

By ED SYERS

One of the great things about old Texas was a man's word. He kept it: shook hands on a deal and walked away, and nobody worried. Once in a while you wonder what happened when an old timer's word collided head on with his boss sense—of which he also had plenty. And this gets us to Helena.

Today, Helena's a memory, an empty-eyed old courthouse and some scars in the brush east of Karnes City below San Antonio. To the century's turn, however, it was self-avowed "toughest town on earth"—quite another story.

Story here is when Helena got outvoted for county seat. A new Karnes City was on the railroad west; county said move the records. Helena said no. With that gun-quick, proud cowtown, how to avoid a showdown? Particularly when Helena's guns had given their word to stand guard. Here San Antonio's Mrs. F. L. Matyear:

"I lived my first 12 years near Helena and used to hear my father tell about the 'boss sense' way they got those records moved.

"Some of Helena's old timers just refused to accept the county vote. The town finally rotated a guard of four-five men in the courthouse — around the clock. Each man had to swear 'not to let the boxes of records out of his sight.'"

And that, said anybody's boss sense, meant showdown gunplay nobody really wanted.

"A majority of the calmer citizens, realizing the move was legal and inevitable, figured a way out. Quietly, they got their own men on guard one night. They sent word to the Karnes City officers to bring wagons around midnight.

"When the wagons came, the armed guards — true to their word—never took their eyes off the records' as they were loaded. This done, the guards climbed in and sat on those boxes, watching them all the way to Karnes City.

"I've often wondered what happened when they returned to Helena next day."

What could? Neighbors had to know they'd kept their word.

SHELL HUNTING

Corpus Christi's Mrs. P.L.G.: "In answer to Mrs. H.R.M.'s recent question on Padre Island shelling, I would like to give my idea. To me, and I'm not an expert, the best place to shell is South Padre Island! Go to Port Isabel, cross the causeway and go up (north) the beach 14 miles. You'll need a four-wheel drive (or beachbuggy), but there are beautiful shells. Don't let this discourage you, because you can look ahead; but I think the best shelling time down there is the month of February." (Now, perhaps a vote from South Padre's end for Big or Little Shell, up Corpus-ways?)

Rains Came As Fine Tonic For Croplands

COLLEGE STATION (AP) —

Recent rains in most of the state have been a welcome tonic for crops and pastures, John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said last week. However, some areas are still drought-bound.

He said Northwest and North Central Texas reported some hail. In a few cases, drought-damaged crops were beyond recovery. Rains were spotty in extreme West Texas, East Texas and along the Coastal Bend.

District farm agents gave these reports:

Moisture is short to adequate in the Panhandle. Hail hit Dalhart, Hartley and Oldham counties. Rains greened up pastures, and range conditions are fair to good. Crops are average.

In the Lubbock region, rains varied from one to four inches. Grain sorghum and tomato harvests are under way. Above average yields are indicated for soybeans, castorbeans and sesame.

Wet weather came too late for most dryland crops west of the Pecos River but will help some. East of the river, light rain to serious flooding occurred. Irrigated crops are doing well. Cotton insect damage is light except for bollworm activity in the Pecos and El Paso areas. Calves and lambs are being marketed. Ranch labor is short.

Good, general rains boosted grazing potential and the fall outlook around San Angelo. The moisture will help grass and cotton but is too late for grain sorghum. A low-yield sorghum harvest was under way when the rains came. Lamb and calf marketing are normal and goat shearing continued. Peanuts and pecans will benefit from the moisture. Prices are steady on a peach crop that has passed its peak.

The outlook also is improved in the Stephenville district. The cotton harvest has just started with light insect activity. A good sorghum harvest is almost complete in Bell, Williamson and Milam counties. The corn harvest will begin soon. Peanuts benefited from the rain, goat shearing is in full swing and the pecan crop appears light.

DEAR ABBY

Cite Laws On Minors

DEAR ABBY: A 35-year-old neighbor woman asked our 19-year-old son if he would like to go out and have a beer with her. They left at 9 p.m. and didn't get home until after 2 the next morning. The place they went to closes at midnight, so they bought some beer to take out and went riding around.

This woman left her own children at home. Her husband is a truck driver so he doesn't know what goes on when he's away. Our son has always been a good boy, Abby. When he came home his reaction was that of embarrassment. He said he did not know she intended to stay out so late. How would you handle this? UPSET MOTHER

DEAR UPSET: A 19-year-old "boy" shouldn't need a bodyguard. And if he's a "good boy," he'll have sense enough to decline her next invitation, should there be one.

I would let the woman know, however, that there are laws against contributing to the delinquency of minors, and also neglecting one's own children. Too bad there are better heads on beers than on some people.

DEAR ABBY: I have an awful problem that I'm sure many other girls have. You see, I wear braces and when my boy friend kisses me it feels like someone is hitting me in the mouth with a barbed wire fence. I like him a lot, but because of this it makes me dread having to kiss him. Do you have any suggestions? KAREN

DEAR KAREN: Yes. Tell him to slow up when he gets to the fence.

DEAR ABBY: We have a lovely home and I am very particular about keeping it clean. We have a baby girl who will be starting to creep soon. My problem is my husband. He insists on cutting his toe nails in the living room. I find his toe nail clippings all over the living room carpet, and even on the coffee table.

I have told him I don't like it, but he does it anyway. Our baby will be creeping soon, and you know how babies pick up every little thing off the floor and put it in their mouths. It is such a gruesome thought! What should I do? WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Explain to the baby (the big one you're married to) that toe nail clippings can do the same kind of damage to a baby's stomach as broken glass, and he surely wouldn't leave broken glass around for the baby to eat, would he?

If that doesn't stop him, hide the scissors.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personally reply enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Old Favorites Are Coming Back To TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television in September, when the new programs have their premieres, is also reunion time for the audience and a lot of old friends.

This season, in particular, a large number of veterans of old series are hopping back on the television bandwagon for another ride.

Milton Berle is trying a comeback with the same format that, overused, slipped down the ratings drain many seasons back. So is Garry Moore, after a shorter absence from the nation's living rooms.

Robert Lansing, star of "12 O'Clock High," playing a brave World War II airman until he was dropped, returns as a clever wartime intelligence operative in "The Man Who Never Was." Sebastian Cabot, once the erudite, rotund sleuth of "Checkmate" is back—as a butler in "Family Affair."

There are many other returnees—Howard Duff, star of two previous series; Barry Sullivan; Western star Dale Robertson; Glenn Corbett; Will Hutchins and Brian Keith, all of whom have known the disappointment of series that failed to make the grade.

Television, a fickle employer, has been first kind and then cruel to one of the first great stars created by the public—Imogene Coca. The slight, shy comedienne shot to fame along with Sid Caesar 16 years ago in "Your Show of Shows." After that ran its course, subsequent shows never seemed able to capture Miss Coca's special gifts.

A couple of seasons back there was a comedy series called "Grindl," that had Miss Coca playing a mildly madcap working girl with a different job each week. Somehow—maybe because the scripts didn't match Miss Coca's very special talents or maybe because it was overpowered by the rival Ed Sullivan hour—"Grindl" barely limped through its allotted 13 weeks.

Now Miss Coca, undisturbed, is back again, playing a cave-woman, circa 1,000,000 B.C., in CBS' "It's About Time." The public will decide during the next couple of months whether this is Miss Coca's cup of tea. She is one of six leading characters, so success or failure will be spread around.

Miss Coca explained about her current acting interest. The show, she said, concerns a pair of astronauts who, returning to earth, accidentally break the "time barrier" and land in our world of about a million years ago. She plays the spouse of Joe E. Ross and they have two children.

"I'm a little bit surprised," confessed Miss Coca, "that it is about 80 times harder to do a small part—and I've a small part in this series—than a big one. You do a couple of lines here and there. And you worry about them more than when you have lots to do."

The show reaches for big laughs with broad comedy. On the day of the interview, Imogene was involved in a wedding—wearing more or less contemporary bridal finery—because she heard about marriage from the astronauts and liked the idea.

Miss Coca and her husband, actor Knig Donovan, live in Beverly Hills and share their home with 4-year-old Duck, a young bloodhound named Richard III, a middle-aged standard French poodle and a cat.

'THE WILD ANGELS'
Peter Fonda and Nancy Sinatra

'Wild Angels' To Play Saturday Only

A hop and a skip but never a jump ahead of the police, "The Wild Angels" race across the screen at the Ritz Theatre this week in an exciting and moving drama.

A shocking expose of life among outlaw motorcycle clubs, this updated version of a movie theme that vaulted Marlon Brando to fame stars Peter Fonda and Nancy Sinatra in dramatic roles.

Nancy, who has recently had a series of hit records, sings the title song written by Lee Hazlewood, author of her runaway hit "These Boots Are Made for Walking."

In supporting roles are Bruce

Dern, Diane Ladd, Joan Shawlee, Lou Procopio, Buck Taylor, Norm Alden, Marc Cavell and Michael J. Pollard.

The story is about an outlaw motorcycle club that sets out to reclaim a vehicle stolen by another club only to run afoul of the law. When one of their group is shot and later dies for lack of medical care, the subsequent funeral service turns into a brawl unprecedented in human misconduct.

Fonda, as the leader of the club, becomes disenchanted with the way what was meant to be fun turns into a debacle and thought "The Wild Angels" will inevitably be compared to Brando's "The Wild One," the resolution of the story is far more moving and realistic.

Roger Corman, who directed "The Wild Angels," filmed the Color and Panavision production entirely on location without once rolling a camera on a sound stage. Some of the effects he was able to obtain involve the movie audience in the action as realistically as Cinerama.

Yale To Continue TV Writing Class

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Special training program for television writers is being continued in the curriculum of Yale University's school of drama.

Under a $79,000 grant from the American Broadcasting Company, seven young playwrights are to receive fellowships of $5,000.

The program began last September with an ABC grant of $76,000.

Rock Music Backgrounds Thrillers On Jet Screen

The exploding popularity of rock and roll is being felt throughout the world, not least of all in the American movie industry. What used to be called the "teen sound" has become the American sound, and moviemakers are discovering more and more that rock-and-roll can be used successfully to back films aimed not only at teenagers.

The latest proof of this trend is the new science fiction thriller "Frankenstein Meets the Space Monster" a release opening Saturday at the Jet Theatre, with "Curse of the Voodoo." Two rock songs, "To Have and To Hold" and "That's the Way It's Got To Be" set the fast pace for this all-action adventure. Performing are two exciting new groups, "The Distant Cousins" and "The Poets." Both

A Kid And A Clown

They always make a fun couple, and Big Spring kids will have an opportunity to see lots of clowns at the annual Shrine Circus. The show will be at the Rodeo Arena in Big Spring on Sept. 12, with performances at 3:30 and 8 p.m. Merchants generally buy blocks of tickets which are distributed free to youngsters who might otherwise miss the circus. Shriners are working on ticket sales now, to raise money for their philanthropic projects, including the treatment of crippled children.

Triple-Threat Actor Has Roles

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Cole does triple duty in his next Broadway musical assignment, "Chu Chem."

Cole, who usually concentrates this time also is going to do several solo dance turns and enact one of the show's main roles, a comic villain.

"It's not an arduous task, if you're organized," says Cole.
