

Tempo Quickens For HCJC Start

The tempo of inquiries and transcripts of credits directed to Howard County Junior College is increasing as time for launching of the fall semester nears.

Freshman orientation is scheduled Sept. 6, and Dr. W.

A. Hunt urged all prospective students to be on hand for this. Orientation is required, and if it is not taken on the appointed day, it will have to be made up during the semester.

Freshman registration is set for Sept. 7, while sophomores and others are due to register the following day and evening.

Classes begin the morning of Sept. 9.

"I realize that many students cannot know for sure what their plans for college are until near time for school to start," he said. "But I urge those who have had to delay in the decision to contact Registrar B. M. Keese this week if at all possible. This will help him to help you smooth out problems of getting started in school."

There are no projections on enrollment, but prospects are that it will equal or better last years figure which eased past the thousand mark.

Work on new buildings is progressing rapidly — ahead of schedule, in fact. Dr. Hunt said that the library building now has its roof on and will be out of the weather. It may be approaching two-thirds of completion. The science building, now about half complete, has the masonry up on the first floor, and the second floor slab should be poured Wednesday. Walter Droemer, still insists he will turn the building over to the college at mid-term.

Fine-Free Offer Holds Good Until Monday Noon

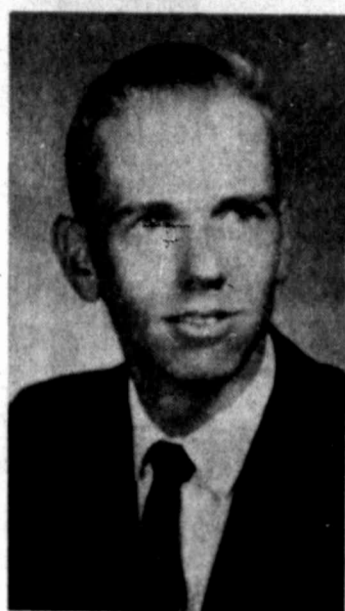

Mrs. Opal McDaniel, Howard County librarian, said that publicity given to delinquent book borrowers and their opportunity to make amends without payment of the usual fines is proving most effective.

The library will be closed starting Monday for a number of days while annual inventory is taken. Until Monday noon, all persons who have taken out books and forgotten to return them to the library have the privilege of doing so without paying fines.

Mrs. McDaniel said that the publicity resulted in the return of scores of books which have been missing from the shelves for months.

In all, she said, there are about 600 books out which are overdue. Some have been out of the library for as long as a year.

The inventory will put the shelves back in good order for another year, she said, and give the librarian accurate count on the books on hand and those which are out of pocket.

JACKIE E. HIPPI

Aims For His Doctorate

Jackie E. Hipp received the first in a planned series of three college degrees last Saturday night.

Hipp was graduated from Texas Tech. with a bachelor's degree in science Aug. 20, and after a vacation of several weeks, he will begin work on his master's in the fall. Jackie has hopes to study his way through the doctorate before he finishes school.

He will begin work on the master's under a National Defense and Education Act Fellowship, one of three to be granted for 1966-67 at Tech. He will major in electrical engineering.

Jackie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Hipp, 500 E. 13th, is presently attending a Glorietta, N. M., Baptist encampment with a group of students from Lubbock. The participants are members of Tech's Baptist Student Union.

Hipp, 22, attended HCJC for 1½ years in 1963-64. He then transferred to Texas Tech, where he has been active in student activities.

He was president of the IEEE, Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers during 1965-66, and a member of Eta Kappa Nu, the electrical engineering honor fraternity; Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary society; and Phi Kappa Phi, the all-school honorary organization.

During 1965-66 he held the American Petroleum Institute Scholarship and at present has the National Defense fellowship.

Only Flat And Rain Mar Long Trek By Motorcycle

Don't have a flat on your motorcycle if you are on a freeway at the time. It can be expensive.

The Garner Thixtons, just home from a 5,000 mile motorcycle vacation trip which took them from Texas to Florida, north to New York, west and north to Canada and back to Texas, can testify as to the potential expense of a flat tire on a freeway.

"It was somewhere beyond Baltimore," said Mrs. Thixton. "We had only two flats on the trip and this was one of them. We were miles from one of the service stops they have on the freeways. There was nothing to do but call for a service car to come to our aid. He charged us $18."

Only than for the costly flat and the rain ("I think it rained every day," observed Mrs. Thixton) the trip was pleasant. Their vehicle was a big Harley Davidson. Thixton was the pilot, Mrs. Thixton the passenger who rode back of him on the buddy seat.

They changed their itinerary slightly. After they had reached Montreal and turned south, they passed up Chicago and Milwaukee.

Briefs Students

Lt. Col. Don D. Pittman, commander, 481st Tactical Fighter Squadron, addressed the student pilots at Withycombe Hall Friday, briefing them on some aspects of the F-100 training program being conducted at Cannon AFB, Clovis, N. M., where the 481st is stationed. He told of some of his experiences in Southeast Asia. He recently returned with his squadron from Bien Hoa, Viet Nam.

Encephalitis Cases Grow

DALLAS (AP)—The number of suspected encephalitis epidemic cases climbed by two Saturday to 104, the Dallas Health Department reported, while the death toll remained at seven. Confirmed Dallas cases stood at 77.

Meanwhile, the Air Force sought to wind up its spraying of Dallas County to kill mosquitoes, carrier of the disease, although one of the two remaining Air Force C123 spray planes developed trouble and dropped out of the flight.

Two of the six planes that at one time were spraying Dallas went to Corpus Christi, where an outbreak of the nerve disease had reached epidemic proportions. That city on the Gulf of Mexico coast had 88 suspected cases with 29 confirmed and one death.

Other cities also were reporting cases. Fort Worth reported its first case Friday, as did Beaumont. Fort Worth is 30 miles west of Dallas, while Beaumont is on the gulf coast but hundreds of miles from Corpus Christi.

The disease is carried by the culex mosquito and is believed that it obtains the virus from birds. Symptoms include high fever, convulsions, rigidity, headache, muscle pains, stomach upsets, coma and delirium. The type causing the epidemics is known as St. Louis encephalitis, because it first was identified there in 1933.

The spray used is Malathion, which is harmless to everything but flying insects.

But in Dallas, thousands of dead fish began appearing in lakes and ponds. The City Health Department started an investigation.

"We do not know if this (the fish deaths) is totally due to Malathion or to a combination of factors," said Dr. Hal J. Dewlett, city health director. "We have not found any undue amounts of Malathion in the water, but trace amounts might kill fish."

Some other experts said the fish may have died because of a severe change in water levels in the lakes and ponds caused by a cool spell which reached Dallas during the spraying period.

At Corpus Christi, blood samples were taken from about 200 volunteers and more were to be taken after the spraying to determine whether the spray affects humans.

High School Work Is Moving Along

The Senior High School facilitating and expansion project is about 44 per cent complete, according to administrative officials. With 50 classrooms available for use when classes begin Sept. 7, faculty and students will find every available space in the building utilized.

However, within 35 or 40 days after classes begin, classrooms west of the old foyer, which housed the science and home economics departments, should be ready for use by the latter part of November.

The choir, band and journalism departments will be able to move into their new classrooms by Jan. 1, but the auditorium will not be ready until some time after that.

Classrooms ready for use are those east of the old foyer, vocational building, gymnasium and library.

During the summer months, several elementary schools have expanded and are ready for fall use. At Kentwood Elementary, five classrooms and a cafeteria were built, a $234,000 project.

At Bauer Elementary, a library and a classroom were completed to be used by first grade students. The total cost of the Bauer construction project is estimated at $125,000, including architect fees, furniture, and equipment.

Expansion for Special Education and Moss Elementary should be completed and ready for occupancy by the beginning of the second semester.

Racial Tension In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — More than 100 helmeted police formed a shield between civil rights marchers and counterpicketers Friday night as racial tension gripped the suburb of Wauwatosa for the eighth consecutive night.

There was no violence. A man was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge, and white youths carrying a Confederate flag made an attempt to slip through the line of policemen.

But hundreds of spectators ranged the rich neighborhood and crowded police working to keep them back.

"The four-six-eight, we don't want to integrate," changed the 190 white marchers, mostly teen-agers.

Police kept them about 40 yards from the predominantly Negro civil rights group—the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The council demonstrations began in an effort to force Judge James Cannon to resign from the Fraternal Order of Eagles because the club here refused to accept Negroes as members.

Cannon has said he will not resign.

About 70 Youth Council marchers were led Friday night by the Rev. James Groppi, a Roman Catholic priest who is council adviser.

Community House Is Defended

Dear Editor:

Mrs. Bill Davis seems to assume that all of the state hospital patients are undesirable of society, when in reality it is not unusual to find people from good backgrounds there. These individuals, however, have overcome their personal problems while in association with cases much worse than themselves.

If all citizens were without blemish, they would be adopting an holier-than-thou attitude about the possibility of a boarding house for former mental hospital patients being built in their vicinity. No great hue and cry is made about parolees from the penitentiary being absorbed by the public again, and animals are taken into homes for more pampering than most mental patients ever got. So why shouldn't a humane attitude be expected from a so-called Christian society for ones who were so unfortunate as to need treatment in a mental institution?

They deserve and need the generous consideration of everyone unless taxpayers prefer to continue spending their money on wasted lives.

Cystic Fibrosis Appeal Coming In September

September is cystic fibrosis month, and area chapters are busy working on the theme for the annual fund-raising campaign. "Give a child a breath of life."

The National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation conducts the campaign nationwide in September. Area chapter is in LaMesa, and Mrs. Maurice Archer, 110 N. 23rd St., is handling the chapter's publicity.

Mrs. Archer said that this year's crusade moves the national research foundation into its second decade. The voluntary, nonprofit health organization was incorporated in 1955.

The main attack on cystic fibrosis is being carried forward in 38 regional cystic fibrosis care, research and teaching centers, established with foundation assistance in teaching hospitals of leading medical schools.

In addition, Mrs. Archer pointed out, the foundation has initiated a new, coordinated basic research program, encouraging eminent investigators in various basic science studies to pursue their studies to offer clues to the underlying cause of the disease.

Contributions may be made to the area chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Downtown Traffic Will Be Re-Routed During Week

Completion of the downtown improvement program will cause a week-long traffic detour around Third and Main beginning Monday morning.

Or, as Ernest Lillard, director of public works, put it at a Friday press conference: "The Third and Main intersection will be torn out by W. D. Caldwell (contractor for the program) to put in new paving and extended curb islands, and we will try to have traffic back on it by the weekend."

All old pavement will be removed by Caldwell; the city will repair and protect water lines, dig holes and prepare the soil for trees in the islands; then Caldwell will make preparations to install the islands.

"The intersection will not be re-opened until Caldwell gets in his caliche base," Lillard said.

Westbound (Third Street) through traffic will be detoured down Runnels to First Street, then on First to Scurry and thence back to Third.

Temporary stop signs will be placed at First and Runnels and Second and Runnels. The detour will allow traffic to reach the businesses in the 100 block of East Third and the 100 block of West Third; however, traffic entering those blocks must make U-turns to get out again.

The Second and Main intersection, the islands having been completed and caliche base laid, will remain open.

"The blockade of the intersection will begin at 7 a.m. Monday," Lillard said and quipped: "The rain ought to start about 2:30 p.m."

When all is finished, the intersection will have the same appearance as Second and Main, a block north. It should be prettier and be safer, which was

Youth Volunteers Will Be Honored

The program will include the presentation of several special awards, the certificate of devotion to volunteer duty, certificates of outstanding service, certificates of merit and badges, and a certificate of exceptional service.

Participating in the ceremonies will be Donald D. Van Meter, hospital director, who will give the welcome; Chaplain C. O. Hitt, who will offer the invocation; Mrs. Ara Cunningham, director, voluntary service; Beth Graumann, youth volunteer, who will provide special organ music; and "The Sounds," featuring Luis Puga, leader, Eddie Chavez, Fred Puga and Joe Puga.

Textbooks Get Workout During Summer Months

Textbooks in the Big Spring school system do not lie idle during the summer months waiting for vacationing students. Some are repaired, numbered, counted — and some are destroyed. Most are handled as much as during the nine month school year.

The majority of the textbooks which will be used again, remain at the individual schools, ready to be issued in the fall. However, many are collected at the school business office and sent to Austin. These include those too worn to use and the ones whose adoption period have expired.

During the summer some 24,000 textbooks have been received by the school system.

Lamar Loses Last Bid For Delay, Allen First Up On Docket

Carlee Allen, charged with armed robbery, Friday afternoon made one last effort to evade going to trial. His maneuver failed, and he is slated Monday to be No. 1 on this week's criminal jury docket.

Allen, brought into court on Friday afternoon, told the judge that his real name is "Curley" and that he is indicted under the name of "Carlee." Therefore, he said, his indictment is invalid and should be quashed.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, pointed out that Allen had been given an examining trial weeks ago and that he had failed at that time to complain of the alleged improper name used in the case. The law specifies that where such developments arise, the defendant forfeits his right to object later.

Allen and Allen Lamar are jointly charged with the robbery of a grocery store some months ago. Lamar was later tried, and his punishment was fixed at 25 years in the state penitentiary.

Friday, Lamar also was in court with a motion for a new trial, which Judge R. W. Catton overruled. Then Lamar moved to arrest judgment — which Judge Catton also overruled. He was then formally sentenced to 25 years. He gave notice, through his new attorney, Harvey Hooser, of his plan to appeal.

Lamar was originally represented by R. H. Weaver who helped him in his trial. Lamar served as his own counsel for most of the session, but asked Weaver to lend a hand at the closing rounds.

LVN Classes Are Planned

First of two new vocational nursing classes at HCJC will begin Sept. 1, and the second slated to start in February.

Until last year, the college has offered only one class annually, but an increased demand for trained nurses in the community has caused a doubling of the program, said Mrs. Johnnie Amos, R. N., instructor of the 1965-66 class now in session.

Mrs. Amos plans to retire when her present class of 15 students finish Dec. 5. She has taught the vocational nurses class at HCJC eight years, and taught nursing courses at the college three years before that. She is a graduate of Baylor University.

Planning to take the new class Thursday will be Mrs. Alicia Travis, R. N., a graduate of North West Texas College in Amarillo. Who has been associated with Hall - Bennett Memorial Hospital while in Big Spring. She is the wife of D. E. (Buddy) Travis Jr., basketball coach at the college.

Mrs. Mary McClendon, R. N., a graduate of Shannon Memorial Hospital in San Angelo, will teach the class beginning in February. She will begin taking applications in January.

Each year's nursing program lasts 12 months, with the women receiving caps at the end of the first five months.

For the first two months, the student nurses attend classes seven hours daily, and then begin clinical work several hours each day. After five months, they begin a full eight-hour training program each day for the rest of the year.

Three hospitals participate in the clinical training program —

Carr Slates Big Opener

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has announced he will begin his formal campaign for the U.S. Senate Sept. 7 with a rally in Lubbock's Municipal Coliseum.

David C. Casey of Lubbock, general chairman of arrangements, said "this will be the largest political rally ever held in West Texas."

Carr has been a Lubbock resident since 1952.

Carr supporters throughout West Texas area drumming up interest to get crowds to go to Lubbock to help the Carr campaign kickoff. Ed Fisher, Howard County Democratic chairman, has been conferring with Carr supporters in Howard County, and said there will be a delegation from here. Neighboring cities are planning bus caravans, and the same may be attempted here, said Fisher.

Makes Bond On Charge Growing Out Of Crash

Herman Lester Wilemon, 24, of 702 Settles, has posted $500 bond and been released from custody on a charge of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle.

Wilemon and L. D. Spradling, 64, were involved in a two car collision at an intersection of 15th and the north service road east of town. The accident occurred on Aug. 16.

Both men were painfully injured and hospitalized.

Jimmy Parks, highway patrolman who investigated the wreck, filed the complaint of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle against Wilemon.

The driver has just now recovered sufficiently to post bail in the complaint. The case is filed in Howard County Court.

Representatives from the Big Spring GOP will be present at the meeting to be held at the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan building at 2 p.m.

Distribution of party material will also be discussed, as well as plans for organizational activities during the coming school year.

"The main qualification for membership is an interest in politics. Mere beliefs in conservatism or in facets of party doctrine, such as anti-welfare or pursuit of the Viet Nam War, are not enough," said John Bennett, president. "The members of our group hold divergent views."

Obtaining new members is another project to be discussed by the group. Any youth may join who lives in Howard County and is a student at BSHS or HCJC.

MOSCOW DEMAND

China Ordered To Stop 'Outrages'

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has demanded that Communist China take immediate steps to halt "outrages" by Chinese hoodlums — apparently meaning the youthful "Red Guards" — at the Soviet Embassy in Peking. Tass reported Saturday the Kremlin handed an "emphatic protest" note to a Red Chinese diplomat here.

committed before the eyes of Chinese policemen, who do not take any steps to cut short such actions."

"On the Soviet government's instructions, the Foreign Ministry of the U.S.S.R. demanded that effective measures be taken to put an end to such actions."

REJECTED

The Soviet news agency said the note itemized incidents of violence and cited calls "for hatred and violence against the Soviet people" and added: "These outrages are being

The Russians said the Chinese had already rejected an earlier version of the protest. The two Communist giants thus appeared to be nearing a point at which the threat of a break in diplomatic relations might become a real possibility.

LBJ's Party Brings Rain

By The Associated Press

Hard rains dampened President Johnson's birthday anniversary observance Saturday at his Hill Country ranch in Central Texas.

By midmorning, Stonewall had 86 of an inch of rain in two hours and it still was pouring down. The village is just a hoot and holler from the LBJ Ranch, where Johnson turned 58.

Considerable rain fell over Southeast and South Central Texas and extended northward through North Central Texas to the Breckenridge and Ranger areas. Most of the rain was light although locally heavy showers fell in the Hill Country west of San Antonio and Austin. Texas temperatures were mild for late August.

The Weather Bureau said some showers would fall Saturday night in most sections of Texas except the northwest and far west. These were expected to diminish eastward Sunday.

Weather experts kept a wary eye on Hurricane Faith moving west northwest from a position 800-odd miles east southeast of Miami. It could break into the Gulf of Mexico and pose a threat to Texas.

Forecasts called for a little warmer weather in Texas Sunday.

Hunters Reminded On Gun Safety

AUSTIN — Scores of hunting trips are marred every year in Texas by shooting accidents, many of them fatal, grimly reminds the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

In a pre-dove season opener plea (north zone Sept. 1), the department said that since the oldest causes are the most common causes of field tragedies, they are being repeated: Removing a loaded gun muzzle first from a vehicle; crawling through or over a fence with a loaded gun; failing to notice that dirt or foreign substance blocks gun barrel; jumping up in front of a companion into the line of fire; dropping a loaded gun; pointing a loaded gun at another person; and, of course, "I didn't know it was loaded."

The Soviet note charged that Chinese hoodlums outside the Soviet Embassy in Peking were harassing Soviet diplomats, threatening their safety and committing other "outrages," thus violating basic norms of international law protecting diplomats and embassies.

The protest demanded that the Chinese take immediate and unconditional steps to insure the safety of Soviet officials in Peking and end the incidents.

Should the Chinese reject the Soviet note, Moscow might have to choose between a push toward a formal break in relations with Peking, or do nothing. By doing nothing the Soviets could leave themselves open to the charge of "paper tiger" which China now levels at the United States.

The Soviet note said China's Foreign Ministry defended "the participants in the provocations against the embassy of the U.S.S.R." by saying they were in "accord with the methods of the current political campaign," the cultural purge in China.

RED GUARDS

This suggested the Russians were talking about the high-riding Red Guards and their actions against foes of Mao Tse-tung.

The Soviet note made these charges: "Acts of holliganism" outside the Soviet Embassy in Peking "seriously hamper the normal work of the embassy and create a threat to the security of its officials."

On Aug. 22 an embassy car flying the Soviet flag was stopped by a Chinese mob. The Soviet charge d' affaires, was forced to leave the car and return to the embassy.

Scout Troop Sets Outing Monday

A family outing has been planned for Monday, 7 p. m. at the pavilion by Webb's Boy Scout Troop 146, according to M. Sgt. Robert Roberts, scoutmaster.

All boys 11 years or older who are interested in scouting are urged to attend. Parents of prospective members are also welcome. Sgt. Roberts indicated. Scouts new to Webb who have been active in the program elsewhere, members who have been inactive, and boys who are recently old enough are asked to come.

There will be static displays of scouting activities and outdoor cooking will be another feature. A court of honor also is planned.

Traditions Tumble In Red China

An image of Buddha, photographed in Lin Yin Temple, Hangchow, China, is plastered with signs reading "Destroy the old world" and "Establish a new world, destroy the old world." Defacement of the national monument was done by ultra-patriotic groups of Red Guard youth groups who reject ancient traditions in China as well as Western influence. Gay Chinese Fiesta Turns 'Ugly', Writer Observes

(Editor's Note — Canadian freelance journalist Cecile Nicholls returned to Hong Kong Friday after 28 days in Communist China. She witnessed the mass marches and destructive activities of the ultra-patriotic "Red Guard" youth groups. In this exclusive article written for The Associated Press she relates her experiences.)

By CECILE NICHOLLS HONG KONG (AP) — The demonstrations in Peking began in a fiesta atmosphere. Everywhere was gay and smiles were everywhere.

But by the time I reached the midway point of my 20-day tour of Communist China it had taken on an ugly note.

a constant drenching rain. In Tainan, Wushi and Soochow, marchers remained in a festive mood, even applauding foreigners as our bus stopped alongside.

which has been so widely publicized. My guide said that similar demonstrations would be taking place all over the country on Aug. 24 and 25.

Up to this point there had been no sign of violence. It was in Hangchow that I first saw evidence of destruction, when middle — high — school students desecrated a Buddhist temple. They were probably members of the ultranationalistic Red Guard organization and condemn what was described as bourgeois traditions. I saw more than a mile of bicycles parked at least 50-deep along a road near a school where students were holding mass discussions on the revolutionary idea of disbelieving their professors in favor of "creative self-reliance."

TOKYO (AP) — About 2,000 residents in a Tokyo slum district staged a 3 1/2 hour riot today, apparently dissatisfied over police handling of a traffic accident.

Crash Kills Seven People

PORT CHICAGO, Calif. (AP) — Seven persons were killed — four of them members of an Antioch family and the other three sailors — in a head-on collision Friday night.

Four children were injured. The scene was such confusion that the dead were not identified until Saturday.

The highway patrol said three sailors, eastbound, pulled out to pass another vehicle and side-swiped it.

The sailors' car then plowed head on into a westbound car carrying Mr. and Mrs. Tony J. Davi and six children.

The dead: Sailors Henry Breedings, 21, Phoenix, Ariz., Richard Baughns, 22, Memphis, Tenn., and Willie Carey Jr., 28, all of the ammunition ship Firedrake, docked at Mare Island.

Tony J. Davi, 35, an employee of the U.S. Steel Corp.; his wife Rita, and their youngest children, Pauline, 1 1/2, and Nancy, 6 months.

Three other Davi children, Theresa, 9; Anthony 5, and Loraine, 3; and a neighbor Linda Augustine, 13, were injured. The Davi family was driving to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek to visit their eldest child, Sandy, 13, who is ill of infectious hepatitis.

NFL Quarterbacks In For Rough Time

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW MILFORD, Pa. (AP) — If the 15 National Football League coaches have their way, life will not be worth living for enemy quarterbacks this fall.

A visitor making the swing of the training camps from Carlisle, Pa., to Orange, Calif., found every coach busy improving the pass rush of his front four.

PREFERS RUSHERS
Charley Winner, defensive master at Baltimore and now head coach of the St. Louis Cardinals, summed it up at Lake Forest, Ill.:

"I would take a pass rusher like Gino Marchetti over the best defensive back in the league. At Baltimore, we always had good rushing linemen like Marchetti and Ordeale Braase. When your front four can't put pressure on the passer, you have to go to the red dog and shoot your linebackers. But when you go to the blitz, you take people out of your pass coverage to do it.

"The value of the red dog is to make it unexpected. You go along three or four plays rushing with three or four men. Then-wham-you shoot the linebacker."

Norm Van Brocklin of the Minnesota Vikings sought to instill the instinct of rushing into his defensive line, especially ends Jim Marshall and Earl Eller.

"Our problem is to improve our pass rush," said the Dutchman. "We only got the passer 23 times last season in 14 games, worst in the league. Everybody went for the pass against us. As a result they scored more points than anybody else."

Broyles Eyes Fast Start

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas, defending champion of the Southwest Conference, opens drills Thursday.

Coach Frank Broyles will have 27 lettermen but starters from the 1965 team will fill only nine of the 22 offensive and defensive positions.

Since Broyles came to Arkansas in 1958, the Razorbacks have compiled the best won and lost, 42-12, record of any conference team and went through the last two regular seasons undefeated. They had a 22-game winning streak ended by LSU 14-7 in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1.

After 10 days of practice, Broyles expects to reduce the 90-man squad to 45 to 50. The Razorbacks open the season against Oklahoma State at Little Rock Sept. 17.

Despite the loss of a number of starters the Razorbacks have returning, including wingback Harry Jones, 220-pound tackle Loyd Phillips and defensive halfback Tommy Trantham, who has been moved to offensive end.

Jones was the third leading ball carrier in the conference last year, gaining 632 net yards and averaging 7.7 yards per carry.

POINTING TOWARD SUPER BOWL BATTLE Dolphins, Oakland Launch AFL Campaign This Week

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
The talking in pro football stops this weekend.

Merger. Merger. Merger. That's what all the talk has been about since June 8, the day the National and American leagues linked hands, kissed and pledged their mutual respect for the dollar that had been slipping through their hands in six years of war.

But the talk will stop, and play begin when the AFL opens its seventh season Friday night, getting a one-week jump on the NFL with a three-game program spread over the entire weekend.

This year it's not only the AFL title that's up for grabs, but a shot at the NFL champion in the first Super Bowl — and a chance to prove what American League personnel has been saying for a couple of years: That AFL teams are as strong as National League clubs.

The opening week's schedule unveils the new Miami Dolphins, shoves all four new coaches into the spotlight and provides a quick indication of the title capabilities of last year's champions.

The Dolphins, the league's first expansion team and ninth club, inaugurate the season Friday night in the Orange Bowl against the Oakland Raiders. Miami's George Wilson will be making his AFL debut as a head coach as will John Rauch, who succeeded Al Davis at Oakland — on display.

The scene shifts to Houston Saturday night with the improved Oilers, under new Coach Wally Lemm, taking on the same old Denver Broncos, minus the 900 yards represented by the ground gaining efforts of bad-boy fullback Cookie Gilchrist.

And, then Sunday, it's the two-time champion Buffalo Bills, under new Coach Joe Collier, invading San Diego for a battle with the Western Division champion Chargers. The Bills won the title by defeating the Chargers 23-0 in last season's title clash.

Kansas City, New York and Boston all draw byes on the first weekend of action but will get off the starting mark the following week when the schedule shows New York at Miami Friday night, Oakland at Houston and Boston at San Diego Saturday night and Kansas City at Buffalo Sunday.

While many of the headliners will be the same — quarterback Joe Namath of the Jets, flanker Lance Alworth and halfback Paul Lowe of the Chargers, quarterback Jack Kemp of the Bills and halfback Clem Daniels of Oakland — numerous rookies also will be on display.

Among the touted first-year men in the Eastern sector are Kentucky quarterback Rick Norton and Tennessee linebacker Frank Emanuel at Miami, linemen Karl Singer of Purdue and Dick Arrington of Notre Dame at Boston, Arkansas halfback Bob Burnett at Buffalo, LSU tackle George Rice at Houston and Michigan tackle Bill Yearby and running back Emerson Boozer of Maryland State at New York.

The West's rookie headliners include Kentucky back Rodger Bird, Bucknell receiver Tom Mitchell and Tulsa guard Dick Tyson at Oakland, San Diego State receiver Gary Garrison at San Diego, Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett of Southern California and Minnesota defensive end Aaron Brown at Kansas City and Grambling defensive back Goldie Sellers at Denver.

Here's the way the teams look at a glance:

Eastern Division
Buffalo — Strong as usual in the lines with exceptional performers in guard Billy Shaw and defensive tackle Tom Sestak. The offense, led by quarterback Jack Kemp, should be more potent with receivers El Dubenion and Glenn Basser recovered from operations, and Burnett might make a valuable contribution as a running back.

New York — Much depends on Namath's knee, and it already has wobbled once. Don Maynard is a top flight receiver and Mat Snell a quality running back but two of the Jets rookie hopes, linebacker Carl McCadams of Oklahoma and center Jim Waskiewicz of Wichita, have been lost because of injuries. That won't help a shaky depth situation.

Houston — The Oilers no longer are small defensively, and that makes them a title threat. A strong attack revolves around quarterback George Blanda, and assistants Don Trull and Jacky Lee, and running backs Sid Blanks and Ode Burrell.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Tommy Nobis Is Earning Keep

RAMSDALL

By TOMMY HART
Midland, which has had one of the poorest lighted fields in District 2-AAAA, is having its lighting fieldpower tripled at a cost of $23,472. The job will be completed by the time Big Spring plays Midland High there Oct. 14.

At the age of 25, junior Larry Perez is seven years older than three other members of the University of Houston varsity football squad. Bob Bodenhamer, the Lawton man who first accepted and then turned down the Big Spring High School coaching job, is no longer in coaching. He's in the savings and loan business.

Although these are days of trial and error for the Atlanta Falcons, ex-Texas University star Tommy Nobis is doing as well at his linebacking chores as any NFL rookie in history, including Dick Butkus.

The Cleveland Browns gave Atlanta an awful licking recently but Nobis intercepted two passes and made 13 unofficial tackles before he came out to rest in the final quarter, a dog-tired young man.

Bob Gaiters, who played football in the same New Mexico State backfield with Big Springer Charley Johnson, is now in the Continental Football League, along with such notables as Sonny Gibbs, Gary Glick and Preacher Pilot.

Kenny Newell, the University of Houston sophomore who is the nephew of Byron Nelson, missed qualifying for the National Amateur by a stroke and had only his caddy to blame.

On one occasion his club carrier was unable to get the flagstick out of the cup in time. Later he dropped his bag full of clubs on Newell's ball.

It all added up to three penalty strokes.

Georgia Tech will add 7,339 seats to its football stadium, raising the seating capacity to 59,639.

The addition will be ready in 1967, at which time the Engineers play TCU, Clemson, Auburn, Duke, Notre Dame and Georgia at home.

Darrell Royal, not noted as an air-minded coach, is the fourth greatest passer in the University of Oklahoma football history.

Jimmy James of Perryton was named to succeed Ernie Davis on the Odessa High School coaching staff recently.

Davis quit to become head coach at Slaton.

Willie (The Knuck) Ramsdell, one of the greatest mound winners in Big Spring professional baseball history, now a resident of Wichita, Kansas, says the greatest thrill he ever got in the game was the night he blanked the Cubs, 6-0, behind Cincinnati in 1950.

Ted Kluszewski put him out front with a two-run home run that evening and that was all the working margin Ramsdell needed.

Willie stuck almost exclusively with his famous knuckle ball to blank the Cubs, against the wishes of his catcher, John Parmesa.

The Philadelphia Phillies, with Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons going great guns, won the National League flag that year.

They beat Ramsdell five times that season but on four of those occasions his team mates didn't get him a run.

Ramsdell once threw three double-headers over a two-year span while wearing Big Spring flannels and won five decisions.

The only game he lost was a shutout.

Winning 20 or more games four seasons in a row was his springboard to the big leagues.

On one mound assignment against St. Louis, Ramsdell was yanked from the hill by manager Luke Sewell after being touched for a loud foul.

The play occurred relatively early in the game and Willie wasn't behind.

When asked why he jerked Ramsdell, Sewell replied: "The blkw made me sorta nervous."

Willie won 24 decisions and lost 38 in his big league stint and spent time with both Brooklyn and the Chicago Cubs before he called it a day.

Donald Jay, coach of the Big Spring Steers' opening night football foe, the Lamesa Tornados, says his club is short of depth and can't afford to get any key players hurt.

For a team that lost four of its first five starts last year, the Tornados did very well.

They wound up winning district and finished with a 6-5 record.

SEWELL

TWO GOOD ONES

Detroit never has had to worry about the pass rush with Roger Brown and Alex Karras in the line-up. However, Coach Harry Gilmer had to find a replacement for end Sam Williams, who went to Atlanta in the expansion draft.

Larry Hand has looked good against the run and is a better than average pass rusher although that is not his strong point.

He hopes to get the same good pass rush we always have had.

Baltimore was another club with no problems in the pass rushing category. Ordeale Braase and Billy Ray Smith are past masters at the sport, and Lou Michaels and Fred Miller get their share.

Miller, only 6-3 and 250 pound compared to Detroit's Roger Brown at 6-5 and 300, is one of the lighter tackles in the league but he makes up for it with speed.

"When Braase was hurt last year, we had to go to the blitz more than usual," said Coach Don Shula of the Colts. "We like to think we have an aggressive defense."

Joe Kuharich of the Philadelphia Eagles went to the blitz to cover up a deficiency in rushing by his front four. He hopes to do better this year.

"We didn't get enough pressure from our front four," said Kuharich. "And we didn't get good linebacking. We hope a couple of our young draftees will give us a better rush up front."

After looking at his Washington Redskins, Coach Otto Graham said, "We are going to be shooting our linebackers more than in the past." The loss of John Paluck, veteran defensive end, was a stiff blow. After threatening to retire, Paluck was traded to the Bears for the veteran Stan Jones.

Jack Christiansen knew his San Francisco 49ers didn't get the rush they were supposed to get. The 49ers were last in the department, throwing the opposition only 25 times for 197 yards. He hoped the addition of rookie Stan Hindman of Mississippi would help Clark Miller and Charlie Krueger who are husky, solid defenders.

Allie Sherman of the New York Giants had to go to the blitz more than usual last year to back up a weakness of his ever-changing front four in pass rush. He hopes for a better deal if he can find somebody to help out Jim Kattavage in his realigned defensive line.

Bill Austin of Pittsburgh had so many problems with his Pittsburgh Steelers that pass rush was only one of many. However, he was pleased with the early work of his defensive ends, John Baker and Ben McGee, although he still was backing and filling at the tackles, hoping to get help from Ken Kortas.

Green Bay has no serious problem with pass rush as long as Willie Davis is available at left end. The Packers' rush was so consistent and steady that most clubs chose to run against them last year.

Bob Lilly, called by Coach Tom Landry the Big Jordan, a comparison with Green Bay's Henry Jordan, made Dallas a tough team on pass rush. Teamed with George Andrie on the right side of the defensive line, the firm of Lilly and Andrie make life rough for enemy quarterbacks.

Cleveland never had to blitz often with men like Bill Glass and Paul Wiggins as defensive ends. They are still ready and waiting.

Atlanta has its problems. Norb Hecker, the head coach of the league's new entry, spent the summer looking for more pass rush from his defensive ends.

Bills Stronger At Four Spots

BLASDELL, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills, two-time champions of the American Football League have problems.

They only figure to be stronger at four positions.

That word comes from new Coach Joe Collier, who succeeds Lou Saban and expects to take the Bills to the AFL throne room for the third straight year despite the loss of key personnel such as Dave Bohman, Bo Roberson, Billy Joe and Pete Gogolak from last year's squad.

Roberson, the team's starting flanker most of the year, and Joe, the No. 1 fullback, went to Miami in the expansion draft while Gogolak played out his option and took his soccer-style kicking tactics to the New York Giants.

But Collier feels he has more than filled the holes.

"We could end up having better men at receiving, running back, back-up positions and kicking," Collier said, then started to tick off the reasons.

He pointed to the return of flanker Elbert Dubenion and split end Glenn Bass, out with injuries last year. He pointed to rookie running backs Bob Burnett of Arkansas, Bill Bailey of Cincinnati and Allen Smith of Fort Valley State. He pointed to promising linemen like Remi Prudhomme of LSU and Greg Lashutka of Ohio State. And he pointed to kicking specialist Booth Lusteg.

The biggest piece of striking power the Bills have is quarterback Jack Kemp, last year's Most Valuable Player. If one of the rookies can wrap up a running back post to complement fullback Wray Carlton and Dubenion and Bass make it back to team with tight end Paul Costa the Bills definitely will be stronger offensively this season.

The only problem offensively might be at center and right guard. Al Bemiller has shifted from guard to center in place of the injured Behrman, leaving the guard spot for Joe O'Donnell. But Prudhomme, out all last season after being in an auto accident, could add depth here.

The other positions are manned by talented personnel with Stew Barber and Dick Hudson the tackles and All-AFL Billy Shaw at left guard. Four of Shaw's All-AFL teammates head the no-problem defense with Tom Sestak at tackle, Mike Stratton at linebacker and George Saines and Butch Byrd forming the right side of the defensive secondary.

Sestak's tackle mate on the front four is Jim Dunaway while Tom Day and Roland McDole man the ends.

U.S. Netters May Terminate Famine

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — It's been 11 years since the United States has won both the men's and women's singles in its own National Tennis Championships, but the famine may be broken in the annual tournament, starting Thursday at the West Side Tennis Club.

In Dennis Ralston and Arthur Ashe, Uncle Sam has a 1-2 punch that may bring the first men's crown since Tony Trabert won in 1955. Mrs. Billie Jean (Moffitt) King of Long Beach, Calif., is top-seeded in the women's division, last won by an American in 1961.

Ralston, the top-ranking U.S. player from Bakersfield, Calif., is seeded third behind the defending champion, Manuel Santana of Spain, and the veteran Rom Emerson of Australia, who won in 1961 and 1964. Ashe, from Richmond, Va., is seeded fifth.

The temperamental Ralston apparently has bridled his temper and honed his brilliant game to the extent that he must be rated an even bet with both Santana and Emerson.

Santana beat Ralston in straight sets in the Wimbledon final in July but since then Ralston has improved steadily, counting out a letdown in the draw.

National Clay Courts: Ashe, who has been doing Reserve Army duty, had an outstanding campaign last winter in Australia and is rated by many observers as potentially the best in the world.

Since Trabert's victory in 1955, the Australians have won every year except 1963, when Rafael Osuna of Mexico survived, and last year, when the title went to Santana.

Darlen Hard won women's championships in 1960 and 1961 but since then the event has been dominated by Australia's Margaret Smith (1962 and 1965) and Brazil's Maria Bueno (1963 and 64). Miss Bueno is seeded second behind Mrs. King, the Wimbledon queen. Miss Smith isn't playing.

Ralston opens against Jasjit Singh of India and faces Osuna if both win, in the third round. Ralston's Davis Cup teammate Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, are in the same quarter of the draw.

MRS. DAVID EUGENE BECKWITH (Barr Photocenter)

Couple Married In Baptist Ceremony

Miss Barbara Hobbs became the bride of Airman I.C. David Eugene Beckwith at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in the East Fourth Baptist Church. The Rev. Billy Rudd, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Clifford Hobbs, 1517 Sunset, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Beckwith, Torrance, Calif.

Decorating the altar were seven - branched candelabra flanked by baskets of white gladioli. White altar markers completed the setting.

Traditional wedding selections were presented, and the Rev. Rudd sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white peau de soie featuring a rounded neckline and short sleeves. The bodice and skirt were accented with lace appliques re-embroidered with seed pearls. Her train, attached at the shoulders, was of lace with panels of peau de soie.

BRIDAL BOUQUET
Her veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of feathered carnations surrounding an orchid atop a lace and satin covered Bible.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Bill Graves. Miss Kathy Drake was bridesmaid. The attendants wore dresses of pink dotted swiss and carried bouquets of large white chrysanthemums, backed with tulle and tied with pink streamers.

Airman I.C. Donald Williams was best man, and Airman 2.C. Freddy Snow was groomsmen. Bill Graves, Lubbock, was usher.

Altar taper lighters were Clifford Hobbs, brother of the bride; and Wayne York.

For a wedding trip to Palm Springs, Calif., the bride wore a two - piece suit of white linen.

Mrs. Beckwith is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School where she was a member of the Shorthand Club and the Future Homemakers of America. Beckwith is a graduate of Frazee High School, Frazee, Minn. He is on leave before being stationed in Thailand.

RECEPTION
A reception was held at the church fellowship hall where the honored couple, parents and attendants welcomed guests.

The reception table was covered with a floor - length

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

The townfolk turned out in number's for the opening of one of the newest businesses and eatery, Furr's Cafeteria, and many women got together small groups for the opening meal. We had a party of seven . . . ostensibly to observe the passing of the birthdays of MRS. ADELE SMITH and myself but the days have long since passed so we must laid it to just wanting to see the new cafeteria and all those who wanted to see it too.

MRS. ROY MINEAR and MRS. SARAH JOHNSON of Midland were having lunch with MRS. E. D. MERRILL and MRS. C. M. ADAMS had her little granddaughter, CAROL WEAVER of Austin, as her guest. Carol has been here several weeks with Mrs. Adams.

The GEORGE O'BRIENS SR. were enjoying the weekend more than usual because of a visit by their younger son, DR. JOE O'BRIEN of Augusta, Ga.

He flew in to Midland Saturday where he was met by his older brother, George Jr. who brought him here for a stay with his parents before he continued on to various points on business pertaining to his work. He is an instructor in the School of Medicine of Augusta.

MR. and MRS. ROSS BOYKIN are in Carrollton where they took her mother, MRS. ARCH HALE, to her home after a visit of several weeks here. They plan to return late this week.

In Abilene for a reading conference is JIMMY HOLMES, Cedar Crest principal, and Mrs. Holmes who are also visiting relatives.

MRS. DELBERT BURCHETT tells me her husband has perked up an old ice box and it now is a pretty piece of furniture for their kitchen . . . and it doesn't hold ice any more. It was the iceman's ice type of keeper with the ice compartment at the top. This she is using to hold dry cereals. The OWEN IVIE family left early Saturday for Red River, N. M., where they plan to stay until the end of the week.

FROM THE FOUR SISTERS:
Junior Petite, done by Kelley Arden in black crepe is perfect for the career and college girl, Susie Horbath, left. The paneled front . . . The high-fashioned swirls below the waist . . . The black satin bow with accenting rhinestone buckle . . . make this after five a must for the smart, young swinger.

ENCORE:
Another of the Tommy Andrew's after five. 'Tis the height of fashion from the bow at the scooped neck . . . past the swirl at the waist . . . to the A-Line skirt. Worn by collegian, Susan Stephens, on the right, and admired by everyone.

In colors.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

It's only a myth — the nicest part of vacation is NOT coming home, as some profess to believe — but it's nice to have one to come to when you're all vacationed out. Frankly — I wasn't through. Would you believe I hardly got started?

Lots of other people aren't cursed with being slow-starters, tho. They're coming and going so fast they'll have enough souvenirs, soap, luggage tags and gas receipts to clutter up the place for months! It's worth it.

Should be some good bridge and golf games going on at Ruidoso and Cloudcroft today. There for the weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Son Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Jinx Powell of Colorado City, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Currie, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wasson and Mrs. J. Y. Robb. Think the gentlemen were to return to Big Spring and business while the ladies remain for a week of to-heck-with-it.

Chatted with Jack Magee for a minute while fumbling for change at his pharmacy counter. He and Carrie had a good week at Ruidoso and Juarez. Think Carrie ran into Mrs. A. K. Guthrie in the museum there.

The Helvard T. Hansen family went to his old stomping grounds at Tacoma, Washington, to see his 82-year-old mother, Mrs. Sophie Hansen, and says the stompers are swinging now. Less strenuous activity occurred.

Spied the group getting together at Red River, N. M. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore were there and met their daughter, Nancy, who had been in Portales with Mrs. Mike Davis (formerly Jane Tanpin). Later the Moores were in Wichita Falls to see their son, Dr. Larry Moore; another son, Capt. Bruce Moore, is still in Viet Nam. In Red River, also, were Dr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr., son, Mike, and daughter, Nancy. Joining the group were other family members, Capt. and Mrs. Jerry Grimes, Nikki Thomas and Cliff Thomas. Mrs. Ward Hall was there, too, with her daughter, Linda, her niece, Renda Reeves of Abilene, and Ann Gibbs of here.

Understand Lt. and Mrs. Chuck Kauffman are here and he's slated for overseas duty while she (Rita Thomas) will remain here with her parents.

Mrs. Merle King of Slayton stopped and coffee'd Thursday on her way from San Angelo back home. Her daughter, Debbie, was along and at the Jack Watkins' home while Merle was saying her "hellos."

The Bill C. Colemans postcard from the Schlitz Guest Hall in Milwaukee and say to tell Vance Lebkowsky they are thinking of him. They saw "Hello Dolly" in Chicago and were to visit their football star nephew, local boy Charley Johnson. The Lebkowskys, who just got everything unpacked over Ponderosa way, may be moving all that stuff to Odessa before long if they can find a place to call home. They're looking.

That pretty, high-flying daughter of the Frank Sabbatos, Cherie, is up in the air with Eastern now, stationed in New York and having a ball.

When I left Houston last week, my brother-in-law, Percy Holt, sent regards to Dr. W. R. Cashion, who had been a classmate of his at Rice. Understand Dr. and Mrs. Cashion are in Ruidoso this weekend since they got the moving chores done here.

Mrs. Al (Jerry) Monson is back on the job with The Herald after ailing for several weeks. Here to cheer her up was her sister, Susan Adams of Port Charlotte, Fla., who returned there early in the week.

Lunched this week with Mrs. Donald Van Meter and her daughter, Laurel, and Betty Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross. Both girls have left for San Antonio where they will attend Incarnate Word High School. Walter is somewhat under the weather but understand he's feeling better.

Before coming home from San Antonio, Mrs. Van Meter was to pick up her husband who is being Col. Donald Van Meter this month while on reserve duty at Fort Hood.

Talked to Mrs. Kent Morgan the other day and learned that their son, Emmett Kent, is still operating the Villa Inn in Ruidoso. Her summer included a look at Las Vegas as well as several weekend jaunts. Their daughter, Katie, and family are living in San Angelo now.

Glad to hear from Mrs. Mon-brother and family, the G. W. Whitney Jrs. of Dallas will be with her today. Dr. U's an administrative manager for Sinclair and they are moving to Denver, Colo.

R. E. McKinney and his son, Rick, say that so far, Florida is looking good. The Joe Clarks, former local residents, are showing them about Fort Lauderdale—and leaving here Friday to join them for a few days was Sidney Mellinger. They may go to Nassau before Sid comes back here Wednesday, but think his trip was basically business.

Hey, it was nice talking with you. Call me again?

Germany, for the past three years. While here, they'll also visit with Mrs. Hanna's grandmother, Mrs. B. O. Jones.

Mrs. Gail Bonner says her brother and family, the G. W. Whitney Jrs. of Dallas will be with her today. Dr. U's an administrative manager for Sinclair and they are moving to Denver, Colo.

Repairs Ceramics

A new translucent silicone adhesive for mending broken glass and ceramics has recently been produced. Packaged in a tube for simple application, it doesn't run or drip, dries to the touch in an hour, usually without clamping, and cures to full strength in eight hours.

One of the product's advantages is that it does not contain strong solvents that could remove paint or damage table surfaces. In addition, it is heat resistant and non-flammable.

Repaired objects consequently can be used in refrigerators, ovens or automatic dishwashers. And repairs are nearly invisible because the adhesive does not discolor with age.

For Good Shine Sprinkle Wax

When waxing an asphalt or vinyl floor, the Better Floors Council recommends pouring some of the wax in a small jar with several holds in its lid.

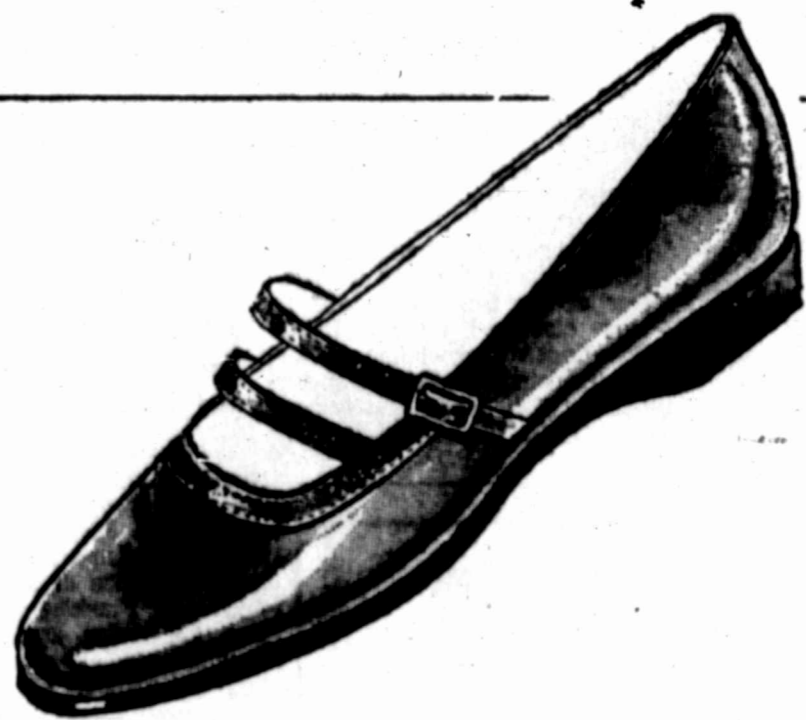

A more uniform coating of wax will result, enabling the wax applicator to cover the floor more smoothly.

Mexican Decor Attains Interest

Mediterranean or Mexican decor attains added interest from proper background paneling. Dark-stained ponderosa pine, with a few knots to enrich the pattern, is a suggestion. Or walls may be painted white with dark-stained pine beams and molding.

Foam Seats Help Antique Seats

A new style trend at the furniture markets features English furniture from the 16th and 17th centuries. There was close contact between England and Spain in those days, and it is difficult to tell the difference between the Spanish styles which have been popular for several years and the new English versions.

Modern manufacturers include latex foam seats though, a far cry from the horsehair of Queen Elizabeth's day.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Save Money On Towels

Dear Heloise:
Up to now, I'm your "Selfish Sue."
I've hogged all your wonderful hints without sharing any with you. Now I'll even the score.

Don't throw away that paper towel you just dried your fingers on. Save it to wipe up spills on the floor or to fry up excess grease from the frying pan before washing.

Trim down a cereal box (wax or foil liner included) to form a neat pocket. Tack it up on the inside of the broom closet door and store the slightly used towels in it.

Teach the little ones to run to it when they spill that milk, water colors, etc. . . . Mary Ann Tolker

Dear Heloise:
The coffee cans with plastic covers make wonderful freezer containers (when lined with a plastic bag) for spaghetti sauce, soups, stews, etc.

They are also ideal for small sandwiches. Make the sandwiches and put small squares of wax paper between them as you stack them in the can.

I found that I can put as many as eight sandwiches in a three-pound can. Saves time wrapping . . . and saves waxed paper.

Put the plastic lid on tightly and they stay moist. The cans can be nestled in ice cubes or chipped ice for picnics. . . . Mrs. Henry Moquin

Dear Heloise:
For those women who travel and carry a large purse, as I do . . .

I find that if as many items as possible are placed end up in file fashion — it is much easier to find things. The articles you want most often do not work to the bottom of the purse.

Your passport, itinerary, folder with tickets, address book, wallet and even extra camera film can be stood on end.

Put small articles such as lipstick, compact, etc., in a side pocket if there is one in your purse.

Then use a large safety pin to fasten luggage keys to the lining of your purse — near the top where they are handy. . . . Emerie Feliz

Dear Heloise:
You do not need to put non-slip liquid on small rugs to keep them from slipping . . . All I do is buy 1/4-inch foam rubber, and cut it to fit under a rug.

It will never slide. . . . Mrs. Frank Koch

Dear Heloise:
To keep vacuum cleaner attachments and extension cord together when using or storing, I put them in an old beach bag with handles.

The bag can be hung on the door knob of the room you are working in when housecleaning. Sure saves many steps trying to locate an attachment when you need it. . . . Martha Tanguay

You could even use a knitting bag or a large old purse for the same purpose. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:
My husband likes his coffee so strong and thick you can almost cut it with a knife! I prefer mine rather weak.

The simple solution is to keep a pot of hot water on the stove, pour myself about half a cup of coffee and finish filling the cup with hot water.

We can each have our coffee just the way we like it without having to brew two pots. Or did everyone already know this??? . . . Eileen

Dear Heloise:
When sewing, I lower my ironing board and place it at an "L" angle to my machine. I use it to hold pattern pieces and material, as well as having my iron right at my fingertips to press the garment I am sewing.

This also gives me more room to spread out my sewing. . . . Thelma O'Brien

WHITE INSET SHOWS APPROXIMATE SIZE OF NEW COLORADO RIVER DAM Structure rises 143 feet from river bed, plus another 30 feet from core trench

SPILLWAY WOULD SWALLOW HOUSE

Dam Would Mound Over Settles

By JOE PICKLE

Imagine a pile of dirt from Second to Fifth street in downtown Big Spring rising high enough to cover the Settles Hotel.

Visualize a huge trench, averaging 30 feet deep, underlying the center block of this pile.

Now picture this huge earthen structure stretching from Cosden refinery to the rise at the west edge of town.

This may give some idea about the size of the dam which will span the Colorado River valley just northwest of Robert Lee to impound a new 488,000-acre-foot lake for the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

There's more to it than this, although the dam itself involves moving over 10,500,000 cubic yards of dirt, plus over another quarter million more in gravel blanket and rock rip rap to protect the dam, and excavation of 690,000 cubic yards of core trench beneath the center.

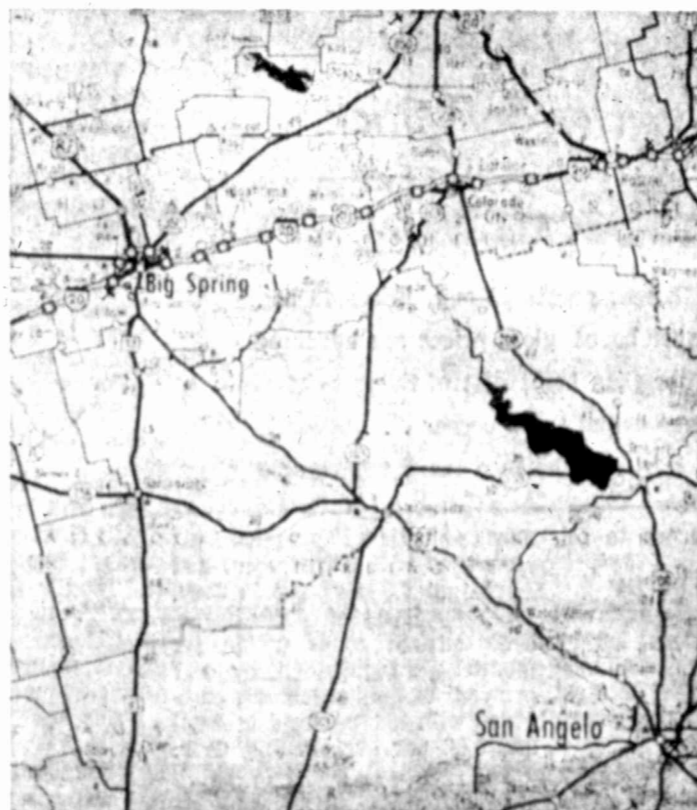

GIANT CONCRETE BOWL
Imagine again a massive concrete bowl, resembling the bell of a sousaphone, in which your home will nestle comfortably.

This is the top of a morning glory spillway which narrows into a big concrete tube about the size of two of your bedrooms put together. Now stretch this tube, with walls six and a half feet thick, from First Street past Fourth Street and turn it into a huge concrete box with two feet thick walls rising 58 feet high from a floor eight feet thick.

You have an image of the spillway and stilling basin. Of course there are a few other things to add such as a 60-inch diameter pipe which will extend well beyond the spillway into the lake and will bore into a wetwell (underwater silo) as a means of releasing water for downstream commitments. Part of this flow will go back into the big tube, and part of it will continue through the dam in a 24-inch pipe to serve potential customers below the dam.

BRIDGE TO THE SPILLWAY
There also will be a bridge running 260 feet from the center of the dam out to the center of the top of the spillway. The wet well and control tower will be one of the piers supporting this bridge.

The spillway, 663 feet wide at crest of the top, will have massive gates on top of the morning glory which can be raised or lowered to control the flow when the lake is filled. The outlet tube from the morning glory is 28-feet in diameter.

Plans, which are now being sought by contractors from California to North Carolina in anticipation of the Oct. 6 letting, call for digging the big trench 30

The dam itself will be 850 feet wide at the base, climbing up on a 3-1 slope to a height of 143 feet from the riverbed, or 123 feet above the second bank of the river. It will be 20 feet wide at the top. Center of the dam, from flank to flank, will be of select material through which water will not flow. The remainder will be of coarser material, protected from wave action by 10 inches of gravel and chunks of rock at least two feet thick.

Top of the dam will be at 1,925 feet above sea level. The normal spillway level will be at elevation 1,898. Length of the dam is 22,000 feet.

MUCH CONCRETE

Some 70,000 cubic yards of concrete will be required for the construction of the spillway. This is enough to build 25 miles of extra-heavy duty, wide concrete highway.

Purchase of land, damage, constructing 20 or more mounds to put outfalls above maximum water levels, relocation power lines and pipelines, clearing the basin of brush and trees, and relocating several miles of state highway will run the cost of this first phase of the CRMW's ambitious project to about $12,000,000. Later will come the pump stations and pipelines which will cost one and a half times as much.

A Devotional For The Day

Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. (Matthew 28:20)

PRAYER: Our Father, sometimes we seem so far away from Thee because of our troubles and problems. But help us to realize always that Thou art ever near us, ready to make Thyself known, ready to show compassion and grant us strength to endure. Give us ever the assurance of Thy presence. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Look Ahead To Reapportioning

Between now and a year hence, Howard County needs to give considerable thought to a redistribution of voting strength within its commissioner's precincts.

Relatively speaking, there is a reasonable balance now, although one precinct in particular has a disproportionately large number of people. Growth within the next year may aggravate this condition; it could alleviate it.

When one precinct has far more people than another precinct, it means that people in one precinct are under-represented and those in another are over-represented in the councils of county government.

The recent Texas Supreme Court ruling in the Midland County case touching upon this was so ambiguous that it really did not say much except that counties must aim in this general direction. However, the case is on appeal and the United States Supreme Court may apply its one-man, one-vote concept.

However, as a matter of equity, we feel that Howard County will do as it has before—do the right thing—without the necessity of a court decision.

It may be some voting box lines will need to be changed to make the task simpler and more practical. But whatever needs to be done can be given a full year of consideration so that the changes will become effective Jan. 1, 1968, in time for the next biennial elections.

Whoa There Buster, Take It Easy

In one more short week schools will be starting, and this means that school campuses which have been silent and still for the past three months will be teeming with youngsters.

And youngsters sometime run across streets, despite all the safety instruction they might get. Most of the time they stick to the walkways specified for crossing, but now and then, in the heat of play or the exuberance of getting out of school, they bolt out from between parked cars straight into the path of on-coming traffic.

This is precisely the reason that we ought to begin reducing our speeds this week as we drive by the school grounds just to get accustomed to doing this. Building the habit now might save hurting some child later.

David Lawrence Communist Activity Among Youth

WASHINGTON—What more proof could Congress possibly ask for that Communists are active in colleges and in various organizations agitating on "civil rights" and the Viet Nam war than the frank statement just made by Gus Hall, leader of the Communist party in the United States?

Mr. Hall, while on vacation in Moscow, gave an interview to a Soviet youth publication the other day declaring that many members of the W.E.B. Dubois clubs in this country are members of the Communist party. He said these clubs—which are named for the late W.E.B. Dubois, a Negro leader who became an ardent Communist—have developed into the most influential youth organization in the United States.

THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF Justice last year named the Dubois clubs as subversive organizations. Yet every time there are police reports from riot-torn cities which speak of Communist infiltration, the tendency on the part of some senators is to pooh-pooh such statements as echoes of "McCarthyism." The inference is that such charges are either without foundation or have been much exaggerated.

Today Congress is considering legislation which would make it a crime to participate in activities that involve the furnishing of supplies and other aid to the enemy at a time when military operations are actually being carried on by this country's troops. Many of the so-called "liberals" say that such proposed laws would infringe on "free speech."

IT IS, THEREFORE, interesting to read the exultant comments of the head of the Communist party in this country, Mr. Hall said: "Quite naturally we have the closest ties with the Dubois clubs since they occupy a Marxist position. Many of the members of the Dubois clubs have joined our party."

"The fact that youths are coming into the Communist party of the United States is a most important distinguishing feature of our time."

THE COMMUNIST leader also pointed out that now it is much simpler to come out against the government of the United States during the Viet Nam war than it was to do so during the Korean war. He added: "It isn't so easy for American youth, which lacks class consciousness, to come out against this war. In order to take this road the Americans have to overcome in their minds the feeling of official patriotism."

WHAT THE Communist leader ignored, of course, is the fact that some of the agitators in America have undertaken to send supplies to the enemy forces which are engaged in killing or wounding American boys. The "official patriotism" which the Communist spokesman scorns is what loyal Americans regard as an obligation of good citizenship.

IT IS MOST unfortunate that Communist activities inside the United States are not being completely exposed, especially in the manner by which foreign governments distribute funds here for demonstrations that tend to embarrass the American government. These protests give to the North Vietnamese an impression of serious division inside the United States, when actually they are really inspired by the Communists.

Those members of Congress who regard Communist activities as the exercise of "free speech" also belittle the charge about giving "aid and comfort" to the enemy. They argue that the aid given isn't much and that the damage isn't too serious—as if a little treason isn't so bad, after all.

"Self-Restraint" Appeal Has Soft Stick

By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson attempted this week to infuse new life into his badly mauled price and wage guidelines.

They had been shattered by the steel price increase and the airlines-strike settlement.

Johnson appealed at his news conference to business and labor to exercise "self-restraint." He said it "may be that the government will have to take other measures but weren't ready to recommend them at this time."

The President said the administration is "hopeful that we can appeal to those who set standards on wages to keep their wage increases within reasonable bounds" of increases in productivity, or output per man hour. Officials also hope, he said, for "self-restraint" on the part of those who manage profit-making businesses.

PRICES, TOO Johnson noted that since 1960 wages have increased 17 per cent and profits have advanced 83 per cent, compared with a 10 per cent rise in prices. "As long as we can keep wages and profits up that much," he said, "we realize there will be some increase in prices."

Johnson also said his administration wants "as low interest rates as it possibly can have." Meanwhile, some more prices were raised and the cost of some loans advanced. Paperboard box makers boosted prices an average of five per cent. It was their third increase in a year.

Owens Illinois, Inc., raised prices of 60 per cent of its glass containers by an average of three per cent, effective Oct. 1. Industry executives said they expected other producers to follow.

CAR INTEREST UP Several finance companies and lending institutions, led by General Motors Acceptance Corp., increased the interest charged car dealers to finance automobile inventories. GMAC boosted its rate to 6 1/2 per cent from six per cent. Case Manhattan Bank, New York City's largest bank, and First National City Bank, the second largest, raised their rates to 6 1/2 per cent from six per cent.

The cost of living continued to rise sharply in July, the Labor Department reported. The consumer price index climbed to 113.2 per cent of the 1957-59 average, up 4 point from the previous record of 112.9 per cent reached in June. Food costs were the chief cause although they increased less than usual. Transportation costs were the second-ranking. Among food items that cost more in July than in June were milk, up 1.9 per cent; butter, up 1.6 per cent, and eggs, up 5.5 per cent.

MACHINE TOOLS OFF Machine tool orders, a key economic indicator, slipped in July 15 per cent from the June level to their lowest total for any month this year. Orders totaled $147.55 million, down from $174.35 million in June but well ahead of $122.3 million in July 1965.

The Census Bureau reported that the intention of consumers to buy new automobiles and major household durable goods has changed little over-all in the last three months. The agency's survey indicated that 9.4 per cent of the household polled intended to buy a TRADE BALANCE SLIPS A sharp increase in imports coupled with a decline in exports shaved the United States' favorable trade balance still further during July. The Commerce Department reported, imports climbed to $2,206,500,000 while exports dropped to $2,460,400,000. Production of 1967 passenger cars climbed this week to 49,400, more than double last week's 23,771 and up 33 per cent from 37,284 a year ago.

Sales of new cars in the middle 10 days of August totaled 199,259, down four per cent from 208,270 a year earlier. Ford Motor Co. reports that one per cent gain, Chrysler at five per cent gain, General Motors an eight per cent decline and General Motors a 23 per cent decline.

Steel output last week amounted to 2,501,000 tons, off 3 per cent from 2,509,000 the previous week.

To Your Good Health

Understanding An Aneurysm

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My brother died as a result of an aneurysm at the base of the skull. It was an inoperable location.

Is an aneurysm caused by a congenital defect or can it be brought on by pressure and tension? He led a very strenuous life.

He had complained of headaches, backache and a stiff neck. He had been to a doctor only a few days before and his trouble was diagnosed as muscular aches. I realize this ailment is hard to detect ahead of time. — MRS. R. G.

There are times when resignation and a philosophical acceptance are more helpful than medical advice, and I think this is one of them.

An aneurysm is a bulging and weakening of a blood vessel. It may be dangerous or unimportant depending on its size and location. It may be readily apparent or may be difficult to detect. It may be corrected surgically or may be in an impossible position and all that can be done is to hope that it will not rupture.

It may be a congenital defect, or the result of injury, or it may develop because of infection or some other disease process.

In your brother's case, due to its location, we can say it probably was of congenital origin, enlarging and finally rupturing spontaneously. The defect at that point is difficult to diagnose but it might have been detected by a special study called an arteriogram — introduction of a dye into the bloodstream, followed by X-ray. But there is a complex circle of arteries at the base of the brain and it is most doubtful that anything could have been done even if such a test had been made.

There are afflictions about which little can be done and we must accept as well as possible what Fate ordains. Aneurysms in strategically located arteries are a serious matter. But to relieve anxiety of people who may have aneurysms, it is only fair to point out that some may not be extensive and hence pose little threat, and that others, with newer techniques being developed, can be corrected with considerable success.

Dear Dr. Molner: My mother had a nosebleed the other day and it lasted from morning until late in the evening. She would lie down and it would stop; then she would get up and it would start again.

She is 52 and overweight (240 pounds). She has to be awfully sick before she will go to a doctor and I am very worried. Friends say it sounds like a stroke and that a stroke works in many different ways. Please reply. If she needs a doctor's attention, I will encourage her to go. — MRS. D. H.

There is no reason to think this was a stroke, a stroke being either a blockage of circulation or a rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. This sustained nosebleed and her weight, though, raise the suspicion of high blood pressure which, if excessively high and continued, certainly adds to the risk of a stroke in the future. For that reason, it is most important to have a doctor examine her.

Around The Rim

Going Crazy Over The Alphabet

Ordinary folk glancing at the headlines or scanning through the newspapers must be bewildered at times by the vast array of initials and alphabetical designations given to agencies and organizations. It takes a bit of doing to figure some of them out.

SOME SMART GUY some day is going to develop and publish a dictionary that the reader can keep at hand and use for interpretation. This kind of aid is valuable for crossword puzzle addicts, why not for just run-of-the-mine readers?

This explorer would have to start in the mazes of Washington, where—at least in present day memory—the whole thing started.

THE NEW DEAL gets credit for giving birth to a staggering array of administrations, and designating them by their initials. You're getting pretty well-worn if you still remember NRA (National Recovery Administration, which didn't recover much), and all the rest of that mish-mash. The development got carried further with the establishment of Federal National Mortgage Administration (FNMA), which promptly got to be called Fannie Mae. I understand Fannie Mae is still around, and probably still floundering in her own alphabet soup.

WELL, YOU KNOW what organizations with a special aim have done. They have seen to it that not just initials will suffice, but that the first letters of the name spell something significant. There's a name for this cross-breeding, but I can't think what it is.

Take two organizations about as far apart on the philosophical spectrum as one can get. There is the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), and then there is the Congress for Racial Equality (CORE). There are literally hundreds of others.

THE PRINCIPLE is limited only by men's imagination and ingenuity, and there possibly could be an office in Washington employing the imaginative and the ingenious to come up with trick names. I haven't been offered a position there, but it occurred that the idea has not yet reached its pinnacle, so here's a shove.

Why not put together, say, something called Hungry Ever Ready to Eat (HERE). Then it would be easy to establish Clan of Mountainous Eastern States (COMES), and to organize Theologians Having Evolution (THE); and follow this (it would attract a following) with Brigade for Restoration of Independent Democracy on Earth (BRIDE).

THE ONLY logical step in sequence would be to have a grand conclave of all organizations. The papers could headline the whole shebang as HERE COMES THE BRIDE.

And if that would put Mendelssohn spinning in his grave, it would be a lot of other sensible people, too. —BOB WHIPKEY

You Can't Depend On Polls

WASHINGTON—Last week George Gallup's poll revealed that Sen. Robert Kennedy was more popular than President Lyndon Baines Johnson. This obviously has caused some consternation at the White House where polls play such an important part in the life of the Great Society.

I would have hated to be the White House aide who had to break the news to the President about the results of the Gallup Poll. It must have gone something like this: "Well, Marvin, read me some polls this morning while I'm shaving."

"YES, SIR, Mr. President. The Lurleen Poll in Alabama says you're running eight percentage points ahead of Adam Clayton Powell."

"That's fine. What else have you got?" "There's good news from the Lou Harris survey in Southeast Asia. It reveals more people want you to bomb North Viet Nam than they do Cambodia."

"What else, Marvin?" "Elmo Roper has an excellent one, sir. He took a survey in Alaska and more people up there recognized your name than they did either George Romney or Sonny Liston."

"Remind me to go up to Alaska one of these weekends, Marvin."

"YOU MADE the 'Ten Best Dressed Men' of the year poll again, Mr. President."

"Not many votes in that."

"Here's one from South America I think you'll be interested in. The Sombro Organization of Public Opinion took a survey in Venezuela and 63 per cent of the people questioned said they'd rather listen to you on the Voice of America than either President Sukarno or Gamal Nasser."

"Remind me to send Hubert Humphrey to Venezuela one of these days."

"OSCAR QUAYLE has been working the state of Montana for a couple of months, sir, and I must say he's come up with some heady stuff. You're more popular up there than either Jimmy Hoffa or the Atlanta Braves baseball team."

"I'll work in something nice about Montana at my next press conference. Is that all you've got?"

"THE WALL Street Journal took a poll among their readers and you're running 14 percentage points ahead of Ralph Nader, George Meany, Arthur Schlesinger, and Norman Thomas."

"That's a fine newspaper."

"The Nielsen ratings have just come in and Luci Baines's wedding had a higher rating than 'Naked City,' 'Queen for a Day,' and 'My Mother the Car.'"

"REMINDE ME to send an autographed picture to Mr. Nielsen. Say, isn't this the morning that the Gallup Poll comes out?"

"Yes, sir, it is."

"Well, what are you waiting for? Let's have it."

"It's a popularity survey. I don't think you'd be interested in it, Mr. President."

"Let's hear it, Marvin."

"It seems, for some reason I'll never understand, Gallup asked people whom they'd prefer in 1968 as President — and more people mentioned Bobby Kennedy than they did you, I'm sorry, sir."

"Nothing to be sorry about, Marvin. I never put much truck in polls anyway. They're bound to be wrong every time." (Copyright, 1966, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate)

Attitudes Toward China

WASHINGTON—China-watching as a spectator sport has decided disadvantages. The names of the players and the plays are subject to such a wide range of judgment that keeping score is all but impossible.

The current purges in Red China have an air of familiarity rather like that of a summer rerun on television. In the aftermath of Stalin's death in 1953 the news columns were filled with conjecture over where the center of power was, Malenkov was up, Beria was out, Bulganin was down. Much of this as generated by the so-called experts, both within the Soviet Union and without, proved to be wildly wide of the mark.

THE IMPORTANT fact was that while the faces changed the fundamental goals were not altered. At the highest level of the intelligence community here that is the virtually unanimous view of what is happening in China today—whatever the outcome of the purge it will mean no difference in the deep hostility of China's rulers to the United States and most of the rest of the world.

The conflict is over means, not ends. One faction, now apparently in process of being purged under the revived leadership of Mao Tse-tung, would proceed with greater caution. But so far as relations with the outside world, and particularly with America, are concerned the direction will be the same.

IN SHORT, despite the columns and columns of newsprint predicting that Mao is out and Lin Biao is on the way up while Peng Chen is cashiered, little change of any fundamental importance has taken place. To score it otherwise is to indulge in dangerous wishful thinking.

TO THIS austere view of the intelligence community of how little the purge really means certain qualifiers must be added. In his testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Prof. John K. Fairbank of Harvard University, perhaps the most distinguished of America's China scholars, urged that every effort be made to open contacts with China. His thesis was that China shouts hostility out of a sense of isolation and frustration. Anything that can be done to break down this isolation may abate the hostility, although Fairbank added that he did not believe proposals such as inviting Peking into the United Nations on a "two Chinas" basis would meet in the near future with anything but scorn.

CHINA'S HARD LINE, Fairbank said in a recent talk with this reporter, is a hard line in words but not necessarily in action. The hard line in words may well be a compensation for a decision not to act and instead to play a cautious waiting game. The burden of proof, in Fairbank's view, is on those who say the Chinese are going to move in a warlike direction in a long bell-shaped tradition.

He faults Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for taking at face value the speech of Defense Minister Lin Piao. Lin in a lengthy declaration proclaimed the triumph of guerrilla warfare in Africa, Asia and Latin America — the victory of a rural society over the city civilization of the Soviet Union, the United States and Western Europe. In Fairbank's view this was compensation for China's failures in the developing world.

Crash Result, A Sticky Situation

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Janet Annott, 34, is recovering from the year's stickiest accident. Janet was on her way to a convent when the school bus carrying her and 13 other children collided with a truckload of 2,500 gallons of glue.

The collision burst the container and hundreds of gallons of glue poured into the back of the bus. Water was used to hose the highway clear of the sticky mess.

COW POKES

By Ace Reid

"Maw, you wanted to have a picnic under shade trees on the bank of a creek... wal, here we are!"

DEAR ABBY

A Word For Duck Eggs

DEAR ABBY: You certainly don't know much about eggs. A woman wrote to say that her husband came home with some eggs he had bought from a farmer, and they tasted horrible. They later found out that the farmer had sold him DUCK eggs. And you let it pass as though they should have expected duck eggs to taste horrible.

Abby, fresh duck eggs are every bit as delicious as chicken eggs. We raise geese and ducks especially for the eggs. The eggs are wonderful, and the only difference is in the size. MRS. E.

DEAR MRS. E.: Twenty lashes with a duck feather for this Iowa-born writer who should have known better. Of one thing I am certain, duck eggs on the face is every bit as embarrassing as chicken eggs.

DEAR ABBY: Let me start out by saying that I love animals. I have had pet dogs, cats, birds, skunks, and even two king snakes. I recently read in the newspaper where someone left nearly $200,000 to a pair of cats! And it was stipulated that in 20 years, or after the cats died, the remaining money should go to a hospital and church. Now if that isn't the most ridiculous thing you have ever heard of, what is!

I can see leaving enough money to feed and care for pets, but for a hospital and a church to have to wait 20 years for the donation because a couple of animals have inherited it, is downright disgusting. There ought to be a law against leaving money to animals. Will you see what you can do about it, Abby?

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: I think any law attempting to limit the individual's right to dispose of what is lawfully his would be unconstitutional. If not, it should be. So we'll just have to suffer such extravagant sentimentality and be glad it doesn't happen every day.

DEAR ABBY: For eight years now I have had this neighborhood gang of boys (ages from 10 to 15) who show up daily to play with my son. During the summer they go home only to sleep and eat. One day I counted 19 boys spread over our property. You wouldn't believe the noise!

My problem is they never congregate anywhere but here. Of course I'd rather have them here than on the streets, but I would like to know how to get some of the other mothers to take this mob occasionally.

SAN MATEO MOM
DEAR MOM: Every mother should have your problems. There must be something about your yard, your son, or your "hospitality" that draws these boys. If you don't say anything to spoil it, I won't.

DEAR ABBY: Tell the 11-year-old who couldn't stand the noise her father made when he ate carrots, celery and other crunchy food that I would be

Tower Plans To Announce Re-Election Bid

AUSTIN (AP) — U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., announced Saturday he will formally open his re-election campaign Sept. 8 with a "family and friend breakfast" in Wichita Falls and a statewide televised rally in Dallas.

Tower said in a statement that in the first three days of his campaign he will travel 3,000 miles and make stops in 22 cities.

A former professor at Midwestern University, Tower said, "I want to begin this campaign at home in Wichita Falls, but I feel that it is most important, since I am Senator for all Texans, for me to open my campaign to all parts of the state."

Tower said the Senate may stay in session until mid-October, and he will "be campaigning hard and fast in brief periods when Washington duties don't conflict with Texas campaigning."

Tower's schedule for Sept. 8-10 includes Wichita Falls, Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo, Pampa, Borger, Lubbock, El Paso, Midland-Odessa, Abilene, San Angelo, Kerrville, San Antonio, Harlingen, Corpus Christi, Houston, the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange area, Tyler, Marshall, and the Longview-Kilgore area.

He has cancer of the stomach, but we are thankful for every good day he has. So next time that girl complains about the noise her father makes "crunching," will you please remind her of me? "DADDY'S GIRL."

Lady, here's your problem.

It's the food you cook, not the fuel you use, that soils your kitchen. But a modern GAS range can keep mess to a minimum. Closed-door broiling eliminates smoke. The "burner-with-a-brain" and 1001 temperature controls guard against cook-top burning and boilovers. So don't take potluck. Go GAS for clean, cool cooking.

New Television Season Will Open With A Thud

EDITOR'S NOTE—Within a few days the new television season opens, the "renewals," there'll be 34 new shows, a run of sports, Westerns, science-fiction and situation comedies. There may be hope in the drama department, but if all else fails there's always the movie reruns.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The start of television's 1966-67 season is less than 10 days away and, if industry attitudes are a clue, it contains all the excitement of a library reading room on a summer Saturday.

The technical machinery is in high gear, of course, and the screams you hear are those of producers who must share the services of camera and production crews. Just about everything, including commercials, has gone into color, woefully overtaxing the color-processing laboratories.

Press agents are dutifully puffing the new product and describing the marvelous quality of new scripts for new shows. But after visiting numerous sets and talking to a lot of people, one comes away with the impression that the stimulating entertainment of the season will come, if at all, in the 125 or so "specials" the three networks will broadcast.

Meanwhile, among the 90 regular programs on the evening schedule, there are 34 new shows. Everybody has his candidates for glory and sudden oblivion.

NBC's "The Monkees," a comedy about a bunch of rock 'n' roll singers, was receiving considerable attention when interviews with the stars-to-be were halted. It seems the youngsters were acting bored about confrontations with visiting television writers.

Talk persists, however, that in its concept, the series has tried to capture some of the qualities of the Beatle movie, "A Hard Day's Night," which would be nice if true.

"The Rounders," an ABC entry, is a contemporary cowpoke comedy which its publicists term "lusty." But it is doubtful whether any early-evening television program, including "The Rounders," could really be described as lusty. Anything broadcast before 9 p.m. must be fit for tender young eyes and ears.

Important theatrical names are at a minimum among the new shows. The one really big star entry is Jean Arthur in a CBS comedy called, reasonably enough, "The Jean Arthur Show." Miss Arthur, after more than a decade of retirement from films, is emerging in a series about a lady lawyer with a blood relationship to that durable literary property "Auntie Mame"—lovable, pleasantly insane and, always, so right.

"Run, Buddy, Run," another CBS entry, seems to be a parody on the spoof there that won high ratings last season for NBC's "Get Smart." This time the hero is a spoof on "the running man" theme—a fellow feeling murder-minded gangster. Another along the same lines is NBC's "The Hero."

Westerns are having one of their periodic revivals—although they really never left us. ABC leads with three new ones: "The Iron Horse," "The Monroes" and "Shane." The latter is based on the old movie but the principal character has been slightly tamed for television purposes. NBC has "The Road West," Ann Sheridan's new situation comedy, "Pistols 'n' Petticoats" has a Western setting, but is not in the classic mold.

'Ten Commandments' Is Coming Wednesday

Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments," dramatizing the life of Moses, will begin an engagement at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday.

The presentation, acknowledged as the masterwork of master showman DeMille, is the most widely acclaimed and most successful motion picture in history. It marks the first showing of the film classic since its original record-breaking run.

"The Ten Commandments" has a superb cast of stars headed by Charlton Heston, Yul Brynner, Anne Baxter, Edward G. Robinson, Yvonne De Carlo, Debra Paget, John Derek and Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

DeMille's epic spectacle is the biggest motion picture of all time—10 years in planning, three years in writing, two years in actual production. The record cast, the biggest ever assembled for a single film, numbers more than 25,000. The Paramount presentation in Visitation and Technicolor was made on location in Egypt at places described in the Bible.

The awesome dramatization of the life of Moses presents such spectacular sequences as the Plagues, the building of an Egyptian treasure city, the parting of the Red Sea, the Burning Bush, and Moses receiving the Lord's Commandments on Mount Sinai.

"The Ten Commandments" is an all-time boxoffice blockbuster. The present engagements uncut and intact, answering an unprecedented public demand, are the first since the original record-breaking runs.

"The Ten Commandments" was produced and directed by DeMille. It is his sevenieth film in a career of moviemaking that spanned almost half a century. The screenplay was drawn largely from the Book of Exodus.

Wild Animals Coming

Among the many thrilling acts to be seen in the Shrine Circus coming to Big Spring Sept. 12 will be Joe Frisco's Performing Wild Animals. Joe performs the unusual feat of working with two male lions, two female lions, two tigers and two bears, all in one 32-foot arena. The Shrine Circus will play two performances, at 2:30 and 8 p.m. at the Rodeo Arena, and members of the Big Spring Shrine Club are now handling ticket sales and advertising promotion. Revenues derived from this project help finance Shrine's aid to crippled children and those suffering from emergency burns.

'MUNSTER, GO HOME'
Television family on screen

Munsters Drive A Hopped Up Car

"It's not to be believed!" That is the off-screen comment by Fred Gwynne when he put together the Dracula, the car called for in the script of Universal's forthcoming comedy feature in Technicolor, "Munster, Go Home," coming today to the Ritz Theatre.

In addition to Gwynne, it co-stars Yvonne DeCarlo, Al Lewis, Butch Patrick, Debbie Watson, Terry Thomas and Hermione Gingold.

But "car" is hardly the word for the Dracula. In fact, there hardly is a word to describe the almost "other worldly" creation. About the only thing it has in common with other vehicles is that it moves.

And, wow! Does it move—from zero to over 150 miles per hour in a matter of seconds and the acceleration is like being shot from a cannon. But you don't land in a net; you're braked by a parachute.

The Dracula, actually, is a dragster—a word to describe the specially constructed and frighteningly fast bombs that, piloted by the fearless zip across the drag strips.

This dragster is like no other. It looks like a coffin on wheels. And, basically, that's what it is—a beautifully ornate casket, trimmed in royal silk velvet and embodying a very lively 350-horsepower Mustang engine.

The exterior of the basket, which "rests" on a tube chassis, has a quiet antique gold finish with sedate Italian gold leaf.

Appropriately, the Dracula accommodates one person. He is positioned in the rear of the dragster behind the engine and under a clear plastic bubble which allows for greater speed through streamlining.

At his command is a four-on-the-floor speed shift which diverts the power of the 360 cubic inch engine to the rear wheels, 11-inch racing slicks mounted in specially made 10-wheels.

Up front are imported English buggy wire wheels with four inch tires. The solid brass radiator is shapped like a casket and the grill is a marble gravestone with the following inscription: Born 1367. Died ?.

The Dracula has dual four-barrel scoops in gleaming chrome. Antique head and tail lights, with solid silver spiders on the hub caps, carry out the graveyard motif.

And spouting out of the lid of the coffin, almost like a cluster of flowers, is the engine's exhaust system—metal organ tubes that are, believe it or not, tuned! And the sound is rather far out.

The Dracula was created, if that's the word, by George Burris, the Kustom Kar King of North Hollywood, Calif., who also built the Munster's other car—the family car called a Munster Koach. The Dracula cost about $15,000.

Wants Ethel

NEW YORK (AP)—The hot box office success of "Annie Get Your Gun" is making Ethel Merman reconsider a vow.

The veteran musical comedy star agreed to a six-week revival at Lincoln Center's State Theater plus a short tour, but voiced firm determination to stay clear of longer commitments.

The demand for tickets, has been such, however, that the tour has been increased from four to six weeks and a return New York engagement slated to start Sept. 19.

Deep Drilling By Soviet Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. scientists say the Soviet Union has two "superdeep" drilling operations under way and plans three others. This reaction followed congressional rejection of further funds for Project Mohole, designed to drill six miles deep through ocean and earth in man's deepest penetration of the planet. The Mohole project chief, Daniel Hunt, said "it's just too bad to lose" the chance of penetrating into a vast and little understood region beneath the earth's crust. "Someday, somebody will do this," he said.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Wyatt Earp Did Visit In Texas, And Was Impressed

Near topping anybody's list of frontier lawmen was rawboned, ice-nerved Wyatt Earp of Dodge City and Tombstone's O.K. Corral. Queried here, couple of weeks ago: "Was the fastgun marshal ever in Texas? A Kansan, stationed in Texas, avowed we knew Wyatt only for the Texas trail - end waddies he "ran out of Dodge City."

Now comes Mrs. Mary Borsky of Canutillo to declare Earp was, in fact, in Texas . . . if but briefly. She forwards an excellent El Paso State National Bank monograph sketching the great North Pass history. Edited by Texan Chris P. Fox, it details the few hours the Earp's fastgun saw Texas . . . and then left.

"Wyatt Earp . . . the most highly touted gunman of the West, visited El Paso only once. In the space of a few minutes, he saw two men shot down in sunfights . . . On the night of April 14, 1885, Earp was lounging in the Gem Saloon (where the then rawhide town clutched the river), just another looker-on at the gambling tables. He was in El Paso between jobs, having lost his money in an Idaho gold venture."

About 11 o'clock, runs the account, a part-time deputy and part-time hardcase (call him Bill), stumbled into the Gem, "drunk, looking for trouble and waving a gun." He found trouble's finality in moments, gunned dead through stomach and shoulder.

HE DREW—AND LOST FROM MONTE tableside. Earp scarcely saw the smoke clear before a second showdown. A friend of the hardcase, even drunker, stalked in—gunslung—to even the score. He drew on the Gem's monte-man . . . and lost.

"Wyatt Earp," observes the monograph, "was impressed. Two men dead in the same room in half an hour." The former marshal stayed just long enough to serve as witness in the hearing, then left town and never came back.

"Some might claim later that frontier El Paso was too tough for Wyatt," says Mrs. Borsky. However, the old El Paso Herald laconically figured it differently: "Two desperate men got into trouble Tuesday night at the Gem . . . their train of life collided with loaded revolvers . . . down forever in the smash-up . . ."

Likely, the precise conclusion of lawman Earp: Much less the gun than the whiskey or 'what-ever.' Which, of course, is another point. Our Kansas friend was wrong. Wyatt Earp did see Texans in Texas.

BUCK TRAVIS' SADDLE Some time ago, through OBT, you traced what happened to certain Santa Anna belongings, viz: his gold vest and wooden leg. Eagle Pass' Clifford O. Lawrence reports: "I have a letter that my great-grandfather Joseph Lawrence was one of the men searching for Santa Anna after San Jacinto. In doing so, he heard a noise in the brush, challenged to halt, then shot to kill. It was one of Santa Anna's men. "He was dragging the saddle, saddle blanket and bridle of William Barret Travis."

Note: And—such a long way from Alamo—what happened to them?

MAILBOX (Write OBT, care of The Herald, or to Ingram, Texas 78025. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.) Lubbock's W.B.W.: "... awhile since I was in East Texas, but I do recall one of the finest scenic views in our state—a high overlook of miles of piney woods somewhere between Palestine and Tyler . . . with a legend connected. Can anybody locate the view and fill me in?"

Freeport's Mrs. Eleanor Falls: "Did you know that in Damon (Texas 36 South of Rosenberg) about 60-70 years ago, the area was noted for its 'sour dirt'? It seems the Indians about moistened the dirt from caves and used it to heal wounds. Later, when the white settlers moved in, they learned to use it, too. In time, a Chicago drug company shipped out carloads for medical purposes . . ." Lancaster's Jack Russell: "Whatever happened to San Antonio's old Buckhorn Saloon . . . I remember its deerheads and preserved, bottled tarantulas and centepedes and rattlers, more than I could count." Harlingen's Mrs. Mary C.: "Some friends (like us, new to Texas) just returned from a first 'tour' west and say they actually drove their car right up the rock riverbed of the Frio somewhere north of Uvalde—right in the water between the canyon walls and no road but riverbottom."
