Guardsmen Watch Rampaging Bands

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—About 1,000 National Guard troops patrolled the city's sealed-off Negro section today where a destruction spree by roving bands of Negro youths resulted in 23 injuries and 105 arrests. The disturbances were touched off Thursday when a Negro was shot from a car apparently driven by whites. The man died later in a hospital. At the peak of the disorders, gangs roamed the city's West Side, looting, stoning buses and breaking store windows. It was the first outbreak of racial violence in this city of 270,000 which President Johnson plans to include as a stopover Monday on his Labor Day weekend tour of the Midwest. The White House said it was aware of the situation. Mayor Dave Hall told reporters he could see "no danger whatsoever for the President."

The disorders broke out minutes after Lester Mitchell, 40, was felled Thursday morning by a shotgun blast as he swept the walk in front of his home. He succumbed to head wounds 18 hours later.

PASSING CAR
Witnesses said the shots were fired by three white men in a passing auto. Police have taken two whites into custody for questioning.

City jails were full and a county jail was pressed into service to handle the overflow. Among the suspects held were three Dayton civil rights leaders charged with inciting to riot.

A series of incidents in the morning led Hall to ask Gov. James A. Rhodes to call in the National Guard. The soldiers were on the streets by early afternoon but calm was not fully restored until late Thursday night.

NO ESTIMATE
The police made no estimate of the amount of damage caused by the roving bands. Dayton has a Negro population of about 70,000. About 15,000 live in the West Side area where the disorder was centered.

It is a largely rundown section through which thousands of workers must travel on their way to work at industrial plants. Some buses carrying white workers were stoned during the course of the day.

A trip through the neighborhood showed many stores with smashed windows boarded up. Later the street and adjacent blocks were sealed off but they were expected to be open to work-bound traffic today.

There were reports of trouble in the West Side area again Thursday night but nothing of a serious nature developed, police said.

TWO WOUNDED
Two Negro juveniles were shot and wounded but police said they were attempting to break into a residence "beyond the riot area."

Mayor Hall said he saw "no indication of outside agitation" in the disturbances. He said the National Guard would remain in Dayton "as long as we need them."

Violence Flares In Small Groups

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Scattered incidents of violence hit Jackson Thursday night, the second straight night of trouble here.

Although the night's major clash matched a carload of whites against a carload of Negroes, city officials insisted that neither night's incidents were racial.

"RIOT"
However, State Police Cpl. Bernard Schlenhuber of the Jackson Post told newsmen the trouble was "definitely racial" and called it a "wide-open riot." He told newsmen there had been fighting among gangs of whites and Negroes and that stores, restaurants and police cruisers had been stoned.

Jackson Police Sgt. Paul Rand told newsmen, "They're working in small groups, throwing stones. It's spotty, they're scattered and move fast."

Schlenhuber could not be reached today, but other state troopers said he got his information by telephone from the Jackson police when they called for help. Three plate-glass windows were broken by unidentified rock throwers. At least one shot was heard by a police sergeant.

CAR STONED
A young white expectant mother was cut superficially on the legs when, she said, Negroes stoned her car. Jackson Police Capt. Orlo Abbott said one police car was hit by a rock.

No arrests were made Thursday night. Police had said earlier four persons had been arrested.

Local police, aided by the state police, sheriff's deputies and auxiliary police, maintained heavy patrols for a time. Jackson Police Chief Earl Miller said no large gangs of youths formed.

At least thirty-five persons were arrested Wednesday night in fighting which police said began after two white youths scuffled following a street dance. A store was robbed of 12 guns in the melee.

Rand, who investigated the incident involving the two carloads of Negroes and whites Thursday night, said the two groups accused each other of firing shots. Rand said he kept the two groups from fighting.

NO INCIDENTS
Don Holtrop, staff employe of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, said he toured the city during the evening and saw no incidents of violence or racial clashes.

Miller, City Manager Paul White and other Jackson police officials all bristled at any suggestion the incidents were racial. Miller said fights Wednesday night had matched Negroes against Negroes, whites against whites and whites against Negroes.

Calls For Evacuation Of All Foreign Troops

De Gaulle Ends Cambodian Visit

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—France and Cambodia today called for evacuation of all foreign troops from Vietnamese territory. The call came in a joint declaration ending President Charles de Gaulle's official visit to this Southeast Asian kingdom.

EXTREME GRAVITY
The joint declaration, signed by De Gaulle and Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, in the royal palace, said France and Cambodia "solely call attention to the extreme gravity of the situation" in Southeast Asia.

"Despite the differences which have divided and still divide the Vietnamese, it is essentially the foreign intervention which, in transforming a civil war into an international conflict, gave to the hostilities their present dimensions," the communique added.

The two countries appealed for "rigorous observance" of the Geneva accords of 1954—that is "the respect of Viet Nam's independence and sovereignty and no interference in interior affairs."

MUST CEASE
"At the same time all acts of war must cease on Vietnamese territory, which implies that any foreign power which has introduced troops there first of all make the engagement to retire them in a set length of time and to cease all intervention," the communique said.

The declaration contained some of the wording of De Gaulle's speech Thursday, but in his speech, De Gaulle spoke only of American military intervention in Viet Nam and said the United States must agree to pull out its troops before negotiation to end the war is possible.

The declaration, signed in a ceremony at the foot of the crimson and gold Cambodian throne, added that an interna-

Minimum Pay Bill Given Conferee OK

Minimum Pay Bill Given Conferee OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise minimum wage bill that would raise the present $1.25 floor to $1.60 in 1968 and cover eight million additional workers has been agreed upon by Senate-House conferees.

The compromise will be sent to the Senate and House for final action.

ACCEPTED
The conferees, who completed their task Thursday after four sessions, accepted the substantial provisions from both bills, giving the broadest possible coverage and making the new wage minimums effective at the earliest time provided by the bills.

The final product is in line with the proposals of President Johnson and also marks a substantial victory for the AFL-CIO.

House Republican delegates refused to sign the conference report and said they would make a fight on the compromise version when it comes up in the House, probably next week.

Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, said he would try to get the House to return the measure to conference with instructions to insist on a 1969 date for the $1.60 minimum. The House originally voted that date, but the Senate had fixed the 1968 starting time.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., and Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., who headed the Democratic conference teams, predicted the compromise measure would be accepted in both branches.

PROTECTED
The coverage provisions of the bill, when fully effective, would mean that a total of 37.6 million workers will be protected by the Wages and Hours Act.

Brought under the law for the first time would be some farm workers, employes of hotels, motels, restaurants, laundries, colleges and universities, hospitals, grade and high schools, transit systems, and noncivil service workers for the federal government.

An additional 1.5 million workers in retail stores also would be covered. The act now covers 2.6 million such employes.

Race Riots Are Expensive

CHICAGO (AP)—The cost of racial demonstrations and violence in Chicago this summer has run into the millions.

Policing the marches started by Martin Luther King has cost the police department $130,000 in overtime pay, a spokesman said Thursday. Earlier the city paid $245,000 in overtime to policemen during three nights of rioting in a Negro neighborhood.

Gov. Otto Kerner reported expenses of $284,236 when the Illinois National Guard was activated and kept on duty during the Negro rioting.

The biggest expense has been in property damage.

Eddie Don Harris Dies In Mishap

Eddie Don Harris, 28, well-known advertising salesman in the city, was killed early this morning when the small foreign car he was driving went off FM 700 at Sixteenth and overturned several times, throwing him from the vehicle, police said.

Harris for nine years was associated with the advertising department of The Herald. Just a few weeks ago he resigned to become director of advertising for Radio Station KBST.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Nalley Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Perry Cotham, minister of the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Donald Hungerford, rector of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. Harris was born Dec. 16, 1937 in Kermit and moved to Big Spring with his parents 21 years ago. He was graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Howard County Junior College. He was a member of the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ and had been a member of the American Business Club.

He and Jean Peters were married March 28, 1957, and she survives him as do two children, Terry Don and Susan, all of the family home at 1304 Baylor.

Mr. Harris also leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harris, Big Spring, the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Humphreys, Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Ab Harris, Cross Plains, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Clark, Seminole.

His death was the 14th caused by traffic mishaps in the city and county this year.

Police said two Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. employes, Paul M. Garrett, 1107 E. 13th, and Dee G. Thomas, 1907 Mittel, were the first to discover the accident, at about 2:44 a.m. Mr. Harris' wrist-watch was found, broken, the hands stopped at 2:15 o'clock.

Officers Virgil Abshier and Jack Boyd said that evidently Mr. Harris' 1966 model car, traveling east on FM 700 at a high rate of speed, ran off the road just east of Sixteenth, traveled in the borrow ditch for some distance and that when it turned back toward the slab in a sideways direction flipped several times before coming to an upright halt in the borrow ditch.

Mr. Harris, the officers said, was thrown out of the car and struck the pavement. His body was found 23 feet from the vehicle. The young man was dead when the ambulance arrived, police said. The body was taken to Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Palbearers will be Roy Hughes, Bobby Blum, Marvin Wright, Richard Pachall, Jerry Green, Gil Jones, Jack Cook and Winston Wrinkle.

Midland Downpour Blocks Underpass

By The Associated Press

An estimated 4 inches of rain soaked parts of Midland in West Texas during the night and a few thunderstorms rumbled through the north edge of the Panhandle early this morning.

By dawn the thunderstorms had moved into western Oklahoma, but weather observers expected more and possibly severe storms to develop in the Panhandle.

Flood waters of the Rio Grande at Presidio, in the Big Bend country, held to a level of about 18.5 feet, meanwhile, instead of rising as was feared earlier.

Scores of cars stalled as the Midland downpour in late evening filled streets and blocked an underpass on a north-south artery briefly. Police estimated at least 4 inches of rain fell in some sections of town but the Weather Bureau measurement at the airport between Midland and Odessa was only 1.4.

Moisture amounts at other points Thursday included Fort Worth .70, Houston .95 and Beaumont and El Paso .01.

The overflowing Rio Grande kept the international bridge closed between Presidio and Ojinaga, Mexico. Hope nevertheless grew that the stream might merely maintain its flood level instead of rising because of heavy rains reported in northern Mexico.

Repeated showers in North Texas forced the release of water from Possum Kingdom Reservoir, causing predicts of slight rises downstream on the Brazos River to Rainbow and Whitney dams.

A new cool front stalled after edging into the state along a curving line from southeastern Colorado to Amarillo and back north through central Kansas. Forecasters said there was a possibility of turbulence along this line.

Elsewhere across Texas the forecasts called for partly cloudy skies and a few showers. A little cooling was expected by Saturday in Northwest Texas.

Second Copter Crash Kills 2

WASHINGTON (AP)—A radio station traffic reporter and a pilot were killed Thursday in the nation's second fatal crash of a radio station helicopter in three days.

Marie McDonald of Silver Spring, Md., and a native of Wichita Falls, Tex., and Lesco Kaufman, 48, Severna Park, Md., died when the helicopter piloted by Kaufman crashed and burned.

The crash occurred a few minutes after Miss McDonald, 29, had given the first of eight scheduled traffic reports for WWDC during the evening rush hour.

In Los Angeles on Tuesday five persons were killed when a helicopter operated for KMPC and a police helicopter collided in flight near Dodger Stadium.

Reds Repeat Their Terms

TOKYO (AP)—North Viet Nam today reiterated its determination not to negotiate for peace until U.S. troops are withdrawn from Viet Nam.

The declaration in effect rejected French President Charles de Gaulle's suggestion Thursday that peace talks might begin if the United States agreed to a timetable for pulling out its forces. North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong said his country will not sit down at the conference table until the United States withdraws its troops, recognizes the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front and halts "the war of aggression."

The premier repeated North Viet Nam's terms in a speech in Hanoi Thursday on the 21st anniversary of the founding of the Communist state.

Two More AF Planes Lost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Six flights of U.S. Air Force jets cut the northwest rail line between Hanoi and Red China in 10 places Thursday, a U.S. spokesman announced, but the loss of two more planes pushed the toll of the air war against North Viet Nam past the 350 mark.

SHOT DOWN
The Air Force announced that an F104 Starfighter and an A1E Skyraider were shot down by ground fire during the raids. This brought to 351 the number of U.S. planes reported lost over North Viet Nam.

Both pilots were listed as missing. Viet Cong mines exploded in a village voting office and under a civilian bus today in an upsurge of five terrorist attacks close to Saigon. A Vietnamese spokesman said 12 persons were killed and 10 wounded in the attack on the bus.

The rash of attacks, some clearly aimed at disrupting the Sept. 11 national elections, overshadowed the ground war, which continued in a lull. In the first military shakeup since the dismissal of a corps commander touched off a revolt in the northern provinces last spring, the South Vietnamese military junta fired its navy commander, Capt. Tran Van Phan. However, the dismissal was not expected to have political repercussions.

The junta told the U.S. Command it replaced Phan with his former chief of staff, Cmdr. Nguyen Van Anh, because Phan had failed to protect the shipping channels to Saigon.

BEING WATCHED
However, informants said the Vietnamese navy had been under close watch by the junta recently because of reports that navy ships were being illegally used to carry nonmilitary cargo.

The air war over North Viet Nam also was slowed by bad weather. Torrential rains limited U.S. pilots 70 missions Thursday, about half the usual number.

REVAMPED PHANTOM MIGHT BE A SUBSTITUTE

Navy Considering Alternative To TFX

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy, aware of the tide of controversy again mounting in Congress over its F111B fighter, is considering an alternative to its version of the TFX warplane.

OPTION
The suggested option is to place a variable-sweep wing on the Navy's present first-line fighter, the F4 Phantom now being used in Viet Nam, to improve its capability. The swing-wing would be extended for subsonic flight but could be pulled near the sides of the fuselage to limit air resistance at supersonic speeds. Sources give no indication that the Navy thinks there is much of a future for this kind of substitute for fleet defense purposes—but the idea could attract considerable discussion if congressional disfavor with the F111B continues to mount.

The revamped Phantom jet apparently would not include the Phoenix missile system being developed for the bigger, more powerful F111B. This missile is capable of scanning and tracking enemy aircraft approaching fleet vessels, and then knocking down several of them at the same time from 50 miles out.

The F111B project is having problems: The plane is too heavy, it costs nearly three times more than the originally estimated $2.9 million, and its development schedule is lagging by as much as 18 months.

REOPEN PROBE
Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee, has announced he will reopen a probe into the TFX case. McClellan's subcommittee held a series of widely publicized hearings in 1963 after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara awarded the multi-billion-dollar TFX contract to the General Dynamics Corp. despite a lower bid from the Boeing Aircraft Co.

The $56-billion defense appropriations bill now pending in a Senate-House conference includes a rider offered by McClellan that would bar the use of funds to buy the F111B, but would not prohibit its continued development.

The proposed modification of preliminary information for the Phantom jet was suggested by the McDonnell Aircraft Co., recent testimony before a Senate Defense Appropriations subcommittee has revealed.

Navy budget director Rear Adm. E.E. Grimm told the subcommittee in July that McDonnell submitted the swingwing F4 proposal "on an unsolicited basis."

Grimm said the Navy Air Systems Command is evaluating the McDonnell proposal and should complete the job next month.

NO COMPARISON
Navy officials queried about substituting an F4 alternate for the F111B said there really would be no comparison.

These officials said the F4's engine power would have to be stepped-up and its airframe strengthened at the expense of additional weight—the problem plaguing the F111B.

Meany Calls Strikes A Waste

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany said today every strike is a form of economic warfare and "like all wars, it is wasteful and some people suffer from it."

"No one is happy about a strike—least of all the strikers, who bear the brunt of the battle," Meany said in his 1966 Labor Day Message.

But he said: "Without the right to strike, there would be no strong labor movement in America. Without a strong labor movement, wages would be lower, consumer purchasing-power would be lower and another economic collapse like that of the great depression would be inevitable."

Nevada Denies Underworld Link

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Nevada has denied, in a report sent to President Johnson, that its casino money is going to the underworld — and has accused the Justice Department of harassment, betrayal and blackmail.

McGrath Dies Of Heart Attack

NARRAGANSETT, R.I., (AP) — Former U.S. Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath, 62, died of a heart attack today at his summer home in Narragansett.

McGrath, chairman of the Democratic National Committee when President Harry S. Truman scored his upset victory over New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in 1948, later moved into the Truman Cabinet to head the Justice Department.

He served as governor of Rhode Island and as a U.S. senator.

He leaves his widow, Estelle, and a son, David.

McGrath was born in Woonsocket, R.I., and was graduated from Providence College and Boston University Law School.

He served as solicitor for Central Falls, R.I., from 1930 to 1934, then became U.S. district attorney for Rhode Island, resigning in 1940 to accept the Democratic nomination for governor. In the election he unseated Republican Gov. William H. Vanderbilt and was re-elected in 1942 and 1944.

In the middle of his third term as governor he resigned to take an appointment as U.S. solicitor general. In 1946 he ran for the U.S. Senate and led the party ticket. He became national Democratic chairman a year later, retaining his Senate seat. McGrath maintained a law office in Washington.

Teaching Couples Meet Thursday With Kiwanis

Kiwanis Club was presented to six "teaching couples" employed in the Big Spring Independent School District Thursday noon.

Noel Reed, a member of the club and an official of the school, explained that there are 75 new teachers in the school system this year. In the past, it has been the practice of the club to have all of the new teachers as guests at a luncheon. Reed said that the substitution of the six couples was to replace the older custom.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Noel Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frey, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hise.

Also on hand for the Thursday luncheon were members of an Explorer Troop of Boy Scouts, who this summer made a 50 mile hike through the Rocky Mountains from Durango to Silverton. They were presented by their scoutmaster, Pete Cole. Each of the boys took part in the program, which they illustrated with color slides taken on the trip.

Announcement was made the club will meet next Wednesday instead of Thursday at the Cosen Country Club. The change

NYC Hangs Up New Records

NEW YORK (AP) — It's no real news to New Yorkers, but the Weather Bureau has confirmed for the record that this summer was the hottest here since it began keeping track of temperatures in 1889.

It was the driest, too. The meteorological summer — or June, July and August — contained 34 days in which the temperature reached 90 degrees or above, another record.

The old record was set in 1944 when 33 days of 90-plus weather were recorded. The average temperature over the three months was 77.3 degrees, four-tenths of a degree higher than the previous high in 1940.

Only 4.31 inches of rain fell in the city during the three months, a record too. The old record was set in 1894 when 4.36 inches fell.

Sawyer said the Justice Department began an all-out investigation of Nevada casinos under Kennedy.

"Nevada was besieged by an onslaught of federal agencies, some of whom subjected the gaming industry and private citizens to what amounted to harassment," Sawyer said.

"The siege and harassment betrayed a mutual agreement of cooperation between the Justice Department and the state in the fight against the criminal syndicate."

The governor accused the Justice Department of "feeding unprovable and unverified" information to newspapers and magazines and said this "constitutes blackmail."

In New York, Kennedy acknowledged that an investigation of some Las Vegas casinos was started while he was attorney general. He said it was based upon "reliable information."

"That investigation was continuing when I left the Justice Department in 1964," Kennedy said, "and to the best of my knowledge, is still continuing."

There was no comment from the Justice Department. The state report, ending the gaming commission's first special investigation of Nevada gambling, declared:

Kennedy's office originally requested that 65 federal agents make a massive raid on Nevada casinos.

But this "unwarranted invasion of state jurisdiction was sidetracked" after Sawyer met with President John F. Kennedy.

(Sen. Kennedy said "President Kennedy was at no time in any way involved.")

Typhoon Slams Into Okinawa

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Typhoon Alice slammed 140-mile winds into Okinawa today, killing one person and injuring 13 others. To the north, rescuers searched for 26 South Korean fishermen missing at sea.

The Koreans disappeared in high seas when 13 fishing boats sank. The bodies of 12 others were recovered.

Officials at the Naha airbase said damage to the U.S. base might run into millions of dollars. All aircraft were flown out before the storm hit. The injured included unidentified American servicemen cut by flying glass. An Okinawan was killed when his house collapsed.

'Got A Light?' Dale Ernberger, a photographer for The Nashville Tennessean, was riding down a Nashville street when he saw a hand come out of a hole and pick up a flashlight. Ernberger parked his car, went back to the hole and said: "Hey, hand me a light." The workman obliged. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Truck Driver Dies In Fierce Blaze

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — hot that I could hardly stand on the porch.

The gasoline truck exploded 12 to 15 times, and it sounded like dynamite every time it went off.

Pate estimated the flames leaped 75 feet high after each explosion. They were visible for several miles.

A fire truck sent from Atlanta, Tex., 15 miles farther south, ran out of water and the burning rubber bales in Ball's truck later exploded five times, scattering a crowd of onlookers. Ball was driving for the East Texas Motor Freight Co.

The other driver, Donald Ray Ball of West Memphis, Ark., escaped injury. He was hauling unprocessed synthetic rubber.

J. H. Pate, in his home 100 yards distant, dashed outside after hearing the crash and the first explosion.

"When I ran out on my front porch both trucks were on fire," Pate said. "I saw a man (Neal) standing by one of the trucks yelling, but the flames were so

Two Legal 'Firsts' For District Court Scored

Howard County scored two legal "firsts" in a single felony trial heard Thursday in 118th District Court.

The defendant was Edward Eugene Banks. He was indicted for assault with intent to commit murder—a felony.

He was tried before Judge Ralph W. Caton, without a jury, on a plea of not guilty—the first trial of this nature ever held in the district court in this county. Provision for such trials did not become effective until Jan. 1, and no occasion had arisen until the Banks case to employ it.

He was found guilty by the judge, after evidence had been presented by both the state and defense, and the judge fixed his punishment at 10 years in prison.

Then Judge Caton made use of a second provision of the new law — he probated the 10 year sentence. This is a maximum probation under the state law and never before applied in this court.

Banks was indicted for shooting Annabell LaBrew last March 19. The woman was shot three times—twice in the abdomen and one time in the leg. The shooting occurred at the LaBrew woman's house.

Banks' testimony was that he fired when he thought the woman had turned to get a weapon. She has since recovered from her wounds.

Another feature was included in the sentence imposed on Banks. As a part of his probation, he must compensate Annabell in part for the expenses she incurred in the hospital.

He has five years to pay the woman $500, which he said he could do.

Hartman Hooser was attorney for Banks. Wayne Burns, district attorney appeared for the state.

The Air Force released $2,933,000 for construction of a recruit training facility at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio. Although the funds had been appropriated for some time, construction had been deferred.

The Office of Economic Opportunity announced these grants: San Antonio, $770,100 to provide work experience for 350 enrollees; San Angelo, $103,060, 50 enrollees; Abilene, $192,150, 85 enrollees; Palacios Independent School District, $204,900, 367 enrollees; Uvalde, $146,060, 230 enrollees; and Hillsboro, $133,250, 229 enrollees.

Ex-Con Arrested In Girl's Abduction

TUCUMCARI, N.M. (AP) — Arraignment of former Alabama convict James Reynolds Durham Jr., 31, was expected today on federal charges in Monday's abduction of a 10-year-old Oklahoma girl.

Durham was arrested here Thursday while waiting for his car to be repaired.

A complaint filed in Oklahoma City accuses him of kidnaping Karen Jean Dye and transporting her from Canute, Okla., to Tucumcari "for the purpose of taking indecent liberties and making an assault upon her."

The girl was removed from a bus at Vega, Tex., Thursday and taken to an Amarillo, Tex., hospital for examination. Details of the examination were not disclosed.

Tucumcari Police Chief Bronson Moore said Durham, also wanted in Alabama on an attempted rape charge, told officers he placed the girl on a bus headed toward Oklahoma but he had only enough money to pay her fare to Vega.

Sheriff Harold Wheeler of Oldham County took the girl from the bus. He said she appeared to be in a state of shock and "looked like she was starved."

Wheeler and a woman deputy fed the youngster before taking her to Amarillo.

U. S. Atty. B. Andrew Potter filed the charge in Oklahoma City. He said Durham was accused of "not releasing the girl unharmed" and the death penalty is possible when a kidnaper harms a victim. Otherwise, Potter said, the maximum penalty is life in prison.

ington County seat and near Canute, for Amarillo late Thursday to take Karen back to her mother, a widow.

The mother, Mrs. Billie Jean Dye, has four other children. She told officers she met Durham Monday and he took her children to a drive-in cafe in neighboring Elk City that night.

Durham drove the children home and let all of them out except Karen, Mrs. Dye related. She said she didn't report her daughter missing for eight hours because she thought Karen would be returned.

Washington (AP) — Hurricane Faith churned across open seas north of Bermuda today while squalls that could become the seventh tropical storm of the season kicked up choppy seas in the southern Atlantic.

The squalls, tagged a tropical depression by the U.S. Weather Bureau, were about 500 miles east of the Barbados in the Leeward Islands and were moving westward at between 15 and 20 miles per hour. Top winds were 35 m.p.h.

Hurricane Faith, the sixth tropical storm of the season, was located about 300 miles north of Bermuda and still packed 110-mile winds near the center, the Weather Bureau said.

Faith is moving toward the northeast at about 16 m.p.h., the Weather Bureau said, and is expected to pick up speed as she reaches the colder waters of the North Atlantic.

No land areas are in the storm's path, but the Weather Bureau warned small craft from Cape Cod to Savannah to exercise caution until rough seas subside. Bermuda clocked gale winds in gusts, but these were expected to diminish later in the day.

Washington (AP) — "Work-No-Pay-Watermelon Day" for members of the Howard County Youth Horseman's Club.

Kenneth Williams, president of the club, said that all members are asked to be at the club arena on the Garden City highway at 9 a.m. All are asked to bring tools and come prepared to work.

"We want to repaint the stands, the announcer's booth, and anything else that needs paint," said Williams. "We are also going to grub mesquite and cut weeds. What we want to do is get the arena looking good."

A watermelon feast is planned as a reward for the workers. The melons will be served at the arena.

LAMESA (SC) — The annual Dawson County Fair will be held Sept. 21-23 in the fair barns with Mrs. Victor McGee and Stut Griffin serving as cochairmen of the event.

The event will get underway at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 21, with judging being held in the women's divisions; agricultural exhibits and dairy cattle. Judging of sheep will follow beginning at 10 a.m. and beef cattle, commercial steers, poultry and rabbits will be judged at 1 p.m. Wednesday. Swine judging will begin at 9 a.m. Thursday.

The fair is also open to entries from surrounding counties including Andrews, Lynn, Martin, Garza, Howard, Borden, Gaines, Terry counties.

Committee heads are at Ryan, Lloyd Cline and Mrs. Welton Blair with Monte Griffin serving as general chairman of livestock exhibits.

An art and flower show is held each year in conjunction with the fair. Mrs. Douglas B. Black will head the art show committee and Mrs. John Banta is flower show chairman. Exhibits will be shown in the Forrest Park Community Center directly across from the fair grounds.

A community carnival is also held each year during the fair and is sponsored by the Lamesa Band Parents Club and local civic clubs and organizations.

Hollywood Shovels Money At Actors

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In this land of make believe and magic it is easy for the visitor to become confused about where reality leaves off and play-acting begins. The alternative is to conclude that everything here is like those streets in the studio back lots where there is nothing but air behind the impressive facades of the houses.

Take, for example, the matter of money in Hollywood. After a few weeks spent listening to a casual talk of large sums, it almost seems that there are two classes of greenbacks. There are the kind that most of us work for, and there are the kinds that are shoveled out so generously to these talented creatures in the entertainment capital.

"I didn't really want to work in Vegas," a well-known but not really top-drawer singing star told this reporter casually. "It just didn't seem right, though, to turn down $60,000 for just two weeks work."

"Sure it's a nice house on a good Beverly Hills street," said the wife of a theatrical agent modestly. "But it needed some paint and repairs, so we were able to pick it up for only $200,

It has been widely circulated in the trade that the "Bonanza" stars, under contracts signed last year, receive $10,000 per episode, which is more than many families make in a year. In a normal season this could add up to some $300,000 per hero — not counting, of course, extra loot from guest shots on other shows, royalties on records and the rewards for appearances at state fairs and rodeos.

One of the trade papers recently headlined a story about a general cutback in top prices paid guest-stars in TV series. It appears the supply of available actors exceeds the demand.

Take-home pay of most stars is almost impossible to estimate. Most of them operate amid a welter of companies and corporations supervised by tax lawyers. It is known, however, that one star of a series that was canceled after a short run still managed to total an income well over $150,000 in the period.

It was recently estimated by a trade paper that a number of big TV personalities, including Sullivan, Lucille Ball, Garry Moore and Bob Hope actually hit close to the million-dollar mark most years.

Wesley Methodist Donates Choir Robes

Wesley Methodist Church donated 25 maroon-and-white choir robes to the Big Spring State Hospital Wednesday afternoon for the hospital's choir. Inspecting the robes are, from the left, the Rev. Jarrell Sharp, pastor of the

John Wesley Hardin's Jail Was Rev. Orand's Home

The Rev. Byron Orand, pastor of the College Baptist Church, probably has the distinction of being the only Texas Baptist preacher born in jail. He might even be the only Baptist preacher born in jail. Rev. Orand was born in a jailhouse erected at Fairfield, in Freestone County, in 1856, a bastille said once to have housed the notorious gunman, John Wesley Hardin, whose career was said to have claimed 37 to 42 men.

REV. BYRON ORAND

Hardin, so the story went, was a preacher's son and certainly the "deadliest preacher's son in history." Rev. Orand's parishioners, by the same token, rate him as the "liveliest preacher" to come from the old jail.

A story about the famous old jail building, now being converted into a museum, was reported in a recent issue of the Dallas News. Freestone commissioners paid $24 for plans for the building more than a century ago. Evidently their plans were substantially preserved. Small wonder—it has 36-inch thick outside walls, 18-inch thick inside walls, with 1 1/2 inch timber sandwiched between steel plating for the cell blocks. Nobody ever got out of this. Later the jail was converted to a residence, and that's how the structure is still there. His parents, Willie Linwood Orand and Fannie Seale

Stroud Orand, were living in the structure, and the stork came before the mother could be taken to a hospital.

His parents have since moved to Houston.

Recently, historically-minded citizens at Fairfield, facing a deadline—quickly raised—funds for buying the old jail and for converting it to a museum. So Rev. Orand likely can lay claim to being the only Baptist minister born in a museum, too.

Prosperous Churches Face Many Problems

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Being a minister to the poor has its problems, but a less-publicized challenge to today's churches are the new wealthy.

An Episcopal minister in Charlotte knows personally of young couples "struggling to reach the top."

"But when they get there, they find they've only run into a new, often tremendously complex set of problems," he said.

"Trying to keep up with these people can be a real rat race," a Presbyterian minister said. "It's utterly impossible to decide one morning to have a meeting and that night expect even half the people to be there. Meetings must be planned weeks in advance."

A Methodist minister has begun making some of his "calls" at the golf courses in Charlotte.

"Sure I enjoy the game," he confessed. "But on the greens I can make contacts and establish relationships I couldn't make otherwise."

What are some of the challenges of a prosperous, successful congregation?

In first place are money and its temptations.

"Not only do the wealthy find that money provides many benefits," one minister said, "but it also makes them liable to many special temptations and to tremendous pressure from their fellow citizens to share the money, their abilities and free time."

Pastors also find that weekends bring "the great exodus from town — to lakes, the mountains of North Carolina or the beaches — anything to get away for a while to relax."

One minister believes leaving town "may be the only way such people can keep their sanity. If it's impossible for them to get away, they might try to escape through drinking."

Alcohol is another problem pastors of wealthy congregations must face.

"The wealthy are of course not the only ones who drink too much, but they don't have to worry about neglecting their families financially — they can just about drink all they want," a minister said.

The wealthy couple can get caught up in the drive to succeed and leave their children on the sidelines, causing other problems.

There are advantages to having a wealthy and well-educated congregation. Pastors have little trouble finding Sunday school teachers, choir members, group leaders and deacons.

"These people are as gracious and generous as any I've ever known," a minister said. "They are full of enthusiasm and help in as many tasks as they possibly have time for."

One minister who has traveled abroad extensively added that "nowhere else in the world is there the same sense of responsibility for the proper use of money as you find in America. Charlotte's well-to-do are no exception."

AN ETERNAL FORCE

The wind is like the power of God. It is invisible — you can neither see nor touch it. And yet it will carry a sailboat skimming across the waves with all the beauty and grace and freedom of a gull. But whereas the wind may die and leave you drifting aimlessly and helplessly with the tide, the strength of God remains eternally steadfast. It is through the Church that man is given understanding of this Power. For by worshipping God he can acquire the spiritual insight which gives fuel to his soul and purpose for his pursuits.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Devotional For The Day

He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful. (Matthew 13:22)

PRAYER: Almighty God, heavenly Father, Thee we worship, Thee we thank for Thy Word, which is truth. Help us to understand it better. In all our labors may we bear fruit for Thee; through Christ our Lord. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Public Opinion And Prices

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman is right, we believe, in exonerating the farmer for any blame in the recent inflationary rise in food prices. Both the farm commodity price structure and the farmers' small share in the retail cost of foodstuffs support that conclusion.

But still somewhere in the realm of speculation is Freeman's further contention that "from the farmer to the consumer, someone is getting more than a reasonable fair share for services rendered . . . someone is profiteering along the line." That is not, however, an unreasonable speculation, and the Federal Trade Commission has, at the request of the Department of Agriculture, launched an investigation to try to pinpoint who if anyone in the pipeline of foodstuff transportation, processing and distribution is reaping inflationary profits.

What the government can do about it if the FTC does locate one or more points of excess profits in the foodstuffs channel is problematical. If collusive or monopolistic price-fixing is detected, action could of course be taken under the antitrust laws. If not, Freeman thinks that exposure would effectively bring "the force of public opinion" to bear against inflationary practices.

He may be right. But usually public opinion, either in the form of vocal criticism or consumer resistance, is a weak corrective force against excess profits in a generally inflationary climate. For one thing, the issue is bound to be confused by every middleman, who may be accused of unjustifiably if legally contributing to price increase, pointing righteously and vehemently to his rising costs.

The only reliable defense against a chain of sale and resale cost and price increases in the food field is adoption of national economic policies to bring the broader inflationary trend under control. Even so, the FTC investigation is worthwhile, and its findings should be carefully appraised and well publicized, for public opinion is far from being a wholly impotent corrective force, especially if its complaint should prove to be subject to legislative remedy.

Ackley On The Attack

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, has moved swiftly to meet a probable demand from airlines for higher fares in response to a 4.6 to 5 per cent (the exact amount is in dispute) wage increase granted to airline mechanics and machinists. He argues that the airlines, despite the wage increase, are still making enough to afford a cut in fares.

This argument is likely to produce some loud and anguished outcries from airline officials. Facts and charts may be produced to show that airline fares should have been raised before the wage settlement and now must be raised to offset increased costs.

But Ackley has already caught the airlines off-balance. His argument may not bear the light of definitive analysis. Nonetheless, airlines are placed in the position of having to defend present rates, giving them only a marginal opportunity to argue successfully for higher rates.

Legal Steps Rather Than Riots

WASHINGTON — Many unbelievable things have occurred since street "demonstrations" began to be championed a few years ago, but nobody probably would have predicted that, in the name of "civil rights," the right of privacy would be invaded. Now the home of a judge on the bench in Wisconsin has been picketed for eleven days just because he belongs to a private club that doesn't have any Negro members.

WISCONSIN'S National Guardsmen had to be called to aid the police in maintaining order when the residence of Circuit Court Judge Robert Cannon in Wauwatosa, a town near Milwaukee, was surrounded by pickets who in turn drew hecklers. Even a Roman Catholic priest took the lead in the protest march and picketing despite the admonitions of his bishop, who tried to dissuade him from continuing the "demonstrations."

IF IT IS WRONG for private clubs to choose for their members persons they wish to enroll — either of one race or one religion or one point of view in politics or business or anything else — then the phrase "civil rights" loses its meaning. What is being witnessed is a form of extremism which grows out of the failure of top officials in government and leading members of Congress of both parties to speak out against "demonstrations" and "marches" which can provoke violence as a result of the bitter feeling engendered.

CONGRESS, IN ITS "civil rights" legislation, has again and again specifically exempted from governmental intervention any private club or organization. It has stipulated only that racial discrimination must not be practiced in any school or facility maintained by the federal or state or city governments or to which government funds are supplied.

FRATERNAL ORDERS have always been considered private. The Eagles' Lodge to which Judge Cannon belongs is similar to many other lodges and fraternal organizations. If there were any merit in the contention that private clubs should not be allowed to discriminate, such a viewpoint should be presented to the members of Congress and state legislatures. The people's representatives have the right to change the constitution and the law at any time and include private clubs in the same category as public schools and other public institutions. The right to send protests to their representatives is available to all citizens, so no disservice to the people would result if street "demonstrations" that have an unconstitutional purpose were prohibited. There are plenty of ways for opinions on all issues to be expressed in public forums without resorting to "demonstrations" that arouse passions.

UNFORTUNATELY, not enough effort has been directed to ways to educate the people on how they may lawfully combine to change the Constitution or to get legislation passed to enforce the principle of law and order as embodied in the existing Constitution. Regrettably, there are some ministers, a few writers and exhibitors engaging in public debate who accuse anybody who wants to see the Constitution altered by lawful methods as unquestionably "racists" or "bigots." Such irresponsible elements are retarding the progress of the "civil rights" movement in the attainment of legitimate objectives. (Copyright, 1966, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate)

Just Plain Fed Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — U Thant is a believer in Buddhism, which counsels patience and peace. But he finally got fed up.

That's simple English for the 1,000-word statement he issued Thursday to explain why, after five years as secretary-general of the United Nations, he doesn't want to continue in that post after his term is up Nov. 3.

IN MANY ways it is an impossible job, which is what one of his predecessors, Trygve Lie, called it, even though it pays $65,000 a year.

His statement was a frank and, in part, a bitter complaint that the 117-member organization had fallen far short of the U.N. Charter's opening promise to maintain "peace and security" in the world.

His bluntness was part of his make-up for, as he once explained, although "diplomacy demands honeyed words, I am not a believer in honeyed words."

YET, THANT, 57, was a bit of a nobody to the rest of the world when he was unanimously chosen U.N. secretary-general in 1961 to succeed the brilliant Dag Hammarskjold, killed in a plane crash shortly before.

In his native Burma he had been a schoolteacher, a government public relations man, diplomat, a member of the Burmese U.N. delegation in 1952, and finally head of the delegation.

Burma, on Red China's doorstep and caught between the pressures of East and West, tried to be neutral, like Hammarskjold's Sweden. Thant was neutral, too, but he took this position:

A NEUTRAL who truly tried to serve the United Nations should be an active neutral. And he was an outspoken one, a condition which didn't endear him to everyone.

In 1962, when he was trying to get the chaotic Congo reunified, he called the leaders of the secessionist Katanga Province a "bunch of clowns."

Over the Moscow Radio he told the Russian people they were not being given the full story about the Congo, where Russia was trying to butt in, just as later he said the American people were not being given the "full facts" about Viet Nam.

AND, ALTHOUGH a majority of the U.N. members, including the United States, so far have opposed letting Red China in, Thant has said that if the Chinese were admitted the United Nations would be in a better position to solve some of its problems, like the war in Viet Nam.

When he became secretary-general in 1961 there was a lot of wondering whether the inconspicuous Thant, who wore subdued, $150 suits, could fill the shoes of the widely respected Hammarskjold.

Now many rank him with the Swede in ability and achievement.

HE HAS BEEN credited with laying the groundwork for the cease-fire agreement between India and Pakistan. It was his idea to bring Pope Paul VI to the United Nations in 1965.

He managed to get along better with the Russians than Lie or Hammarskjold.

Likes To Stay Busy

NEW YORK (AP) — In an era that is sometimes called "the age of frustration," rare indeed is the human being who doesn't suffer from the blues.

But such a man seems Jack Lemmon.

The bouncy film actor, whose gift for comedy has won him one Oscar and three other nominations for an Academy Award, never seems to be in the dumps.

HE ALWAYS appears to be in a good mood, as if he had just reached in his pocket and discovered he held a winning ticket in the sweepstakes.

"I don't have any personal recipe for curing the blues, because I don't have any time for them," Jack responded, when asked the course of his perennial good humor. "I'm too busy."

"TO GET INVOLVED is a very good thing, I believe," he said. "It takes you out of yourself."

"When you keep busy you don't have the time to brood and magnify little troubles into big ones. If you keep a broad perspective on your life, you can't help realizing that most of the things that bother you are only temporary — and that you really aren't suffering as much as you think you are."

Following a trend among Hollywood actors, Jack, who is now known by his buddies as "the reluctant tycoon," recently became a producer, and it may be only coincidence that since then he has dropped 25 pounds.

Jack had this to say about his new role as a producer: "You never know what a producer does until you have to do all his chores yourself. It's a 24-hour stream of headaches."

"You're selling a dream, and hope it works. But it takes just as much time to make it whether it turns out to be a failure or a hit."

Edema, The New Name For Dropsy

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: Please write about dropsy. Is it hereditary and can a person who has it expect to live a normal life? How long does it last? — MRS. E. G.

The term edema is being used more often today than dropsy, but they signify the same thing — accumulation of fluids in tissues of the body.

As you doubtless know, the body is made up in large part of water. Blood is water with a complex variety of cells and chemicals in it. Water is constantly in use by the body to collect and then discharge impurities. Water keeps food in a fluid state as it passes through the digestive tract. And so on.

When too much fluid accumulates in some part of the body, that is dropsy or edema. There are many causes — heart disease, liver or kidney disease, accumulation of fluid in the brain, and a lot of others.

If the heart is weak, circulation of the blood is not as brisk as it should be. Fluid tends to settle sluggishly somewhere, often in the legs and ankles. Or impaired circulation from some cause other than a heart ailment may, of course, do the same thing.

Edema of the abdomen is quite common with cirrhosis of the liver. Certain lung conditions may cause fluid to accumulate there. And all these are merely samples. There are many more.

Thus you can see that I cannot answer your questions very specifically without knowing what is causing the dropsy in your particular case. If the cause can be corrected, then the condition of edema can be brought to an end. In other instances, it may be necessary to accept dropsy as a chronic condition, and your goal is to keep it under control.

One example is the patient with heart trouble who is put on low salt diet. Salt (the sodium in it) has an affinity for water, tending to hold it. You know how soggy salt can get in humid weather! If we can keep the amount of salt in the body at a low level, then less fluid is retained in the body.

Diuretics, or drugs to release water from the body, also are used. But as you can see, each case must be judged by itself.

Dear Dr. Molner: You advised long-lasting penicillin to help rheumatic fever. I have bad arthritis and wonder if it would help me since arthritis and rheumatic fever work along the same line. — MRS. M. M.

No, because while rheumatic fever can inflame joints, it is the result of a bacterial infection. The cause of arthritis is not known, and penicillin won't help.

The purpose of penicillin for rheumatic fever isn't primarily to prevent joint pain, but recurrent attacks which damage the heart — the big peril in rheumatic fever.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write in care of The Herald for my booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Mama Was An Aggie

American ingenuity has at last found a way to avoid Ma's Denatured Chicken Fat and wheep, bleep.

What we mean is that we now got stereo tape players for cars and don't have to listen to radio ads while driving, nor sounds indicating we're in an area where no radio signals are worth a hoot—or a wheep.

WE HAD HEARD about these gizmos, but were suspicious. Until we visited friends who had installed the tape machines in their cars. They worked beautifully.

So we sprang for one last week, while they were on sale, and we could rake up just enough "spare" cash to get one and still have enough left to pay bills and eat peanut-butter sandwiches the rest of the month. Better peanut-butter than chicken fat, we always say.

WELL, THE gizmo works, we happily report. Constant music of our choice when we want it, silence when we want that. Sure, we still use the radio, to listen to news, ball games and special-interest programs, but we don't use it to listen to chicken fat ads interspersed with occasional rock 'n' roll.

SPEAKING of nothing in particular, remember the French cafe owner who reported that a policeman had inspected his cash register and found that nearly all of the money therein was counterfeit? Even though the policeman confiscated the bills, the Frenchman was not to be unhappy—until he found that the bills were genuine and the cop a counterfeiter.

IMAGINE our surprise and consternation when we found out a couple of weeks ago that our mother was an Aggie. That's right, an old Tea-Slip from UT, and our ma is an Aggie. Seems after she got a dieticians degree, she decided to try something new. The something new was a course in county agency (or whatever the female equivalent is), given at Aggeland.

Well, at least, she says she never engaged in agency, but went back to controlling diets. Had us worried there for a minute. —TOM BARRY

New 'Credits' To The CIA

WASHINGTON — Following the recent change in command, the Central Intelligence Agency got some bad news breaks. They have helped to power the propaganda machine of the Communist bloc, which in recent months has been directing an attack on an unprecedented scale in a dozen or more languages against the agency.

For the first time not only the CIA but the "intelligence community" has been branded as comprising an "invisible government" dominating American foreign policy. The line was laid down nearly a year ago in a broadcast by Moscow Radio in Russian and it has been reiterated incessantly with ever greater force. The broadcast referred to "nine other government organizations" making up the intelligence community.

"THE INVISIBLE government includes many other organizations which from without appear to be integral parts of the government machinery," the broadcast said. "Even includes individuals who work for various firms and establishments, the Peace Corps and other organizations which the United States maintains abroad."

The Moscow broadcast said that the White House not only bears responsibility for CIA operations but "it approves plans to overthrow governments or bribe the subjects of foreign states, even friendly states. In other words, the invisible government is directed by the visible government."

A RECENT Moscow broadcast in Indonesian to Indonesia charged that the CIA was directly involved in "the inciting of reactionary groups to murder patriots, carry out disruptive activities against Democratic organizations and to burn their homes and property." Thus, in effect, the CIA was credited with the overthrow of the Indonesian Communist party and the wholesale massacre that followed. While this was certainly not the intention, it makes the intelligence agency look 10 feet tall.

A NUMBER OF broadcasts have had CIA agents fomenting trouble between Iran and Iraq from headquarters in a border town called Sulaimaniyah. A broadcast from East Germany intimated that the proposed Educational Foundation, to use blocked Indian currency to further scientific and technical training in India, was a device for spreading CIA influence.

The CIA engineered the murder of Fabricio Ojeda, leader of the Venezuelan guerrillas, according to a dispatch to Prensa Latina in Havana from Montevideo. A so-called clandestine radio, broadcasting in Turkish to Turkey, charged the CIA with providing funds for the Justice party so that it could defeat the Democratic party in recent elections.

Why this rapidly stepped-up attack on the CIA and the intelligence community?

THE ANSWER can only be speculative. One reason being advanced is that this may be the response to the disclosure of Soviet espionage techniques in the case of Sig Wennerstrom, the Swedish military attaché in Washington and Moscow who passed on masses of classified information.

There is another reason with heavily ironic overtones. If even one-tenth of what these broadcasts allege about the CIA is true, then it far exceeds in scope what its severest critics here at home say about it. A newcomer in the spy business, it may have begun to daunt the Soviets, who rate themselves tops in the field.

Bobby's Not The Waiting Kind

WASHINGTON — Eminent cogitators are writing that Sen. Bob Kennedy won't try to horn into the national Democratic ticket in 1968—it wouldn't be logical of Kennedy, they say. He would split the party and invite disaster. He'd be demonstrating an extremism of impatience, for his chances would be much better in 1972. He is so young, so controversial and acquiring so much power where he is that—they say—Bob will wait it out.

THE ARGUMENTS would make more sense if logic, patience and satisfaction with present blessings had more to do with men's ambitions or if the electorate employed its franchise as might be expected. Bob Kennedy is a passionate pilgrim through life, a fatalist, an activist. Concern about party-busting would no more slow him down in his haste to reach the White House than it slowed down Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 when T.R. ran against President Taft, a life-long friend and protégé. The way Bob looks at life, being alive and still young in 1968 won't prove he'll live till 1972. The activist has no word for manana.

BESIDES, if Kennedy should wait, he's asking others to wait also. The polls show clearly enough that masses of people want RFK to move up to the presidency. It isn't as if they were satisfied with the present incumbent and were asking Kennedy to wait around. The ingredients for the popular demand for Bob are entirely emotional and, therefore, volatile. He is in demand because people feel that John Kennedy didn't get a fair chance, and they want Bob to redeem his brother's rotten luck. He is in demand because people are already fed up with Lyndon Johnson, who hasn't yet completed three years in office but could stay there more than nine years unless he's intercepted.

THERE ISN'T much intellectual content in the antipathy toward Johnson. He has fought the Communists, which President Kennedy shunned to do, and Johnson has accomplished every domestic goal that John Kennedy ever set for himself. But people are blaming Johnson for every ache and pain in the body politic.

I DOUBT IF they would poll for the specifics that Bob Kennedy has offered — make peace with the Viet Conspend much more money on welfare, love the black Africans and wink at communism in Latin America. But right now it's "We want Bobby," and that's how it probably will be when the 1968 primary elections come up. What is going to stop Bob Kennedy from having a place on the Democratic ticket after he has swept the key primaries: New Hampshire, Oregon, Wisconsin, West Virginia and California?

IF HE WANTS to become President, he would be a fool to wait any longer than he absolutely must. Bob does want the post, and he is nobody's fool. He could replace Hubert Humphrey as vice-president and be sitting pretty behind a man with a bad heart and a limited term. Or he could shoot for the big apple — the presidential nomination itself in 1968 without jeopardizing his Senate seat.

You just can't say that the people won't do what they've a mind to do. Or that a Kennedy is of a kind to stand in line.

She was on her route when she stopped in a yard and picked up a water hose to get a drink.

The "hose" turned out to be a black snake and she was treated at a hospital for a snake bite on the hand. Doctors said the reptile was not poisonous.

Airliner Crash Survivors All Off The Critical List

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP) — All 22 persons who survived the crash of a British airliner Thursday were reported out of danger today. The plane, a Britannia turboprop on holiday charter, plunged into woods just short of the airport, killing 95 of the 117 Britons aboard.

Coffins containing the bodies of 31 identified victims were placed in rows in the local sports hall, where a commemorative service will be held Saturday. Relatives were to fly to Ljubljana from England to attend.

Other coffins were ready as the slow work of identification went on. Many of the bodies may never be identified. Police said only 90 had been found.

Yugoslav and British experts found no immediate explanation of why the four-engine plane came in for a landing at an altitude of 60 feet over a wooded area instead of the required 600 and then plummeted into the woods. The pilot and copilot were killed.

A tape recording at the airport registered conversations between the plane crew and the control tower. The Yugoslav Civil Aeronautics Board said the tape, plus a check of the airport's radio-navigation instruments, showed that everything functioned normally on the ground.

The recording was sealed and put at the disposal of a Yugoslav investigative commission and several experts flown here by the airline, Britannia Airways.

August Was Cooler, Wetter For Nearly All Of Texas

By The Associated Press

August brought below normal temperatures and above normal rains to nearly all of Texas. Only South Texas points failed to get the cooling temperatures, and only parts of the Lower Rio Grande Valley and sections of East Texas, missed the big rains, which brought floods to some areas.

The hot, dry weather of July extended into Sept. 1 with many maximum temperatures about the state at 100 degrees or higher. But then the cooling rains, deluges and a cold front entered the state.

On Aug. 11, Beaumont-Port Arthur suffered damage estimated at nearly $1.5 million when more than 6 inches of rain hit the Southeast Texas area.

Two days later, Aug. 13, the Hill Country—picturesque area northwest of San Antonio—caught the brunt of the rains, the really big rains that measured up to 15 inches.

Five rivers jumped their banks to send residents and livestock scurrying for high ground. Garner State Park near Uvalde was inundated by the rampaging Frio River.

The upper Neches, the Guadalupe, the San Saba and Medina jumped their banks as the heavy lest rains fell around Leaky and Rocksprings.

The most damage was yet to come, however. It hit on the night of Aug. 23, as a 19-inch cloudburst following two days of heavy rains struck tiny Dell City. Torrents flashed out of the Guadalupe Mountains to flood 90 per cent of the far West Texas town near the Texas-Oklahoma border. Carlsbad and White City, N.M., also felt the brunt of the downpours.

Flooding also occurred in the Van Horn section with roads and railways cut by burgeoning streams that usually are dusty arroyos.

Austin had its wettest August since 1914 with 6.21 inches of rain.

The Beaumont-Port Arthur area, which rarely has suffered from drought, received a massive 17.26 inches, its wettest August in 55 years.

H. Gene Miller, the council's chief statistician, said Thursday the strike against five major airlines caused more people to travel by car last month and may have contributed to "at least several hundred more traffic deaths than might have been expected."

August traffic death figures, which will be available Sept. 25, may also show the effects of the strike, which lasted from July 8 to Aug. 19, Miller said.

During the first six months of 1966 traffic deaths ran about 8 per cent above last year, he said.

Wage March Nearing Goal

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Just 30 miles from their goal at the state Capitol in Austin, the Rio Grande Valley farm wage marchers planned to hike to Kyle today in the third from last leg of their 400-mile trek.

Stopping along the way to talk to Mexican-American cotton pickers in roadside fields, the 50 Valley farm workers marched Thursday from Hunter to San Marcos.

After a rally and barbecue at the Spanish community center here, they returned by bus to their motel rooms in New Braunfels, 13 miles to the south. The marchers had a new badge. Two of their leaders, Father Antonio Gonzales and the Rev. James Novarro, called on those who sympathize with the march to wear a white handkerchief around their left arms or necks.

Wallace Gets A New Weapon

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George Wallace, bent on another challenge of U.S. authority, gets a new weapon from the Alabama Legislature today to defy school integration guidelines.

A bill forbidding city and county school boards to make any agreement to comply with the federal guidelines has gone back to the House for concurrence.

The House, where the measure originated, was in recess when the Senate rewrote it in tougher language Wednesday and passed it. Until the House reconvenes today to complete legislative action the bill could not be sent to the governor for his certain signature.

Final passage of the anti-guidelines measure was expected to bring to a close the six-week-old special session called to appropriate additional school funds, with no mention at the outset of the impending new showdown over desegregation.

Still more state funds are appropriated in the new act to reimburse schools for part of the federal money they might lose by refusing to comply with the guidelines.

Wallace, who stood in the doorway of the University of Alabama three years ago in a dramatic but unsuccessful attempt to block the enrollment of two Negro students, chose the federal guidelines for a new confrontation.

The guidelines, which have caused considerable controversy in the South, call for speedier integration of facilities and classrooms with an alternative being a loss of federal funds.

He contended — and the new state act also says — that the integration rules laid down by the Health, Education and Welfare Department violate federal as well as state law and that HEW has no authority to order faculty integration or to assign pupils to correct racial imbalance.

Critics, including Republican Rep. James D. Martin, have warned that the new act will invite a federal court order to integrate all Alabama schools at one time.

Martin is the GOP nominee for governor, running against Wallace's wife, Lurleen, the Democratic candidate.

Princess Finds Love In Count

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Ekstrabladet, a Copenhagen tabloid, reported today that Princess Margrethe, heiress to the royal Danish throne, has fallen in love with a French count and diplomat living in London.

A special correspondent in Paris reported that the princess, 26, may become engaged to Count Henri Marie Jean Andre de Laborde de Monpezat, 32, third secretary at the French Embassy in London.

lest rains fell around Leaky and Rocksprings.

The most damage was yet to come, however. It hit on the night of Aug. 23, as a 19-inch cloudburst following two days of heavy rains struck tiny Dell City. Torrents flashed out of the Guadalupe Mountains to flood 90 per cent of the far West Texas town near the Texas-Oklahoma border. Carlsbad and White City, N.M., also felt the brunt of the downpours.

Flooding also occurred in the Van Horn section with roads and railways cut by burgeoning streams that usually are dusty arroyos.

Austin had its wettest August since 1914 with 6.21 inches of rain.

The Beaumont-Port Arthur area, which rarely has suffered from drought, received a massive 17.26 inches, its wettest August in 55 years.

H. Gene Miller, the council's chief statistician, said Thursday the strike against five major airlines caused more people to travel by car last month and may have contributed to "at least several hundred more traffic deaths than might have been expected."

August traffic death figures, which will be available Sept. 25, may also show the effects of the strike, which lasted from July 8 to Aug. 19, Miller said.

During the first six months of 1966 traffic deaths ran about 8 per cent above last year, he said.

Roaring 20's Revived For OWC Luncheon

The days of the "Roaring Twenties" lived again Thursday as the Officers Open House at the Webb Air Force Base became the "Green Door" speakeasy. Saucily-dressed flappers, all members of the host group, Classes 67 E, F and G, twirled their beads, popped their gum and served "bathtub gin" to guests at the monthly Officers Wives Club luncheon.

The dining room was decorated with posters and mementos of the bygone era, and dining tables were lighted with candles in wine bottles based in grape clusters. The main centerpiece was an antiques French bouquet in shades of burgundy and white with greenery.

AT DINNER MEETING

Insurance Women Told Salesman Technique

The art of salesmanship was detailed by Winston Wrinkle of Radio Station KBST when he was guest speaker at the Thursday evening dinner meeting held by the Insurance Women of Big Spring.

Ten members and the guests, Wrinkle and Miss Anna McDaniel, met at Big Spring Country Club with Mrs. Frank Morphis presiding.

The group agreed to assist the Muscular Dystrophy campaign by assembling kits for the collectors and possibly selling lapel pins. Mrs. Robin Howell will be in charge of the group's efforts in the drive.

A letter was read expressing appreciation from the Big Spring State Hospital for donations from the club. Also, it was announced that Miss Pam Ham, a former 'Miss Insurance' was named first runner-up in the local 'Miss Astro' contest. The club will sponsor a local member, Mrs. Tommy Harvell as candidate for the second vice president's slot at the state convention in Brownsville during October.

Textile Designs Made By League

Using textile paint to decorate small towels was the program activity during the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army. Fourteen members met at the Citadel with Mrs. J. R. Kirby presiding. Mrs. Jimmy Moore gave the devotion.

The hand-decorated towels will be used for a small item sale scheduled for Sept. 7 beginning at 1:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Couple Recites Vows In Minister's Home

WESTBROOK (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Ray Hoyle are on a trip to an undisclosed destination following their Aug. 27 wedding performed by Oscar Batten, minister of the Northside Church of Christ. The double ring nuptials were held in the Batten home at 7:30 p.m. The bride is the former Miss Janelle Faye Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Williamson, Rt. 1, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Hoyle of China Grove.

The wedding party stood before a double candelabrum decorated with greenery and a spray of white gladioli centered with white carnations. Mrs. Mike Cotton of Midland sang "More" and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white shantung sleeveless sheath worn under a full-length lace coat with three-quarter-length sleeves. Her white ring hat was accented with velvet bows and brief veiling, and she carried a bouquet of white gladiolias and ivy atop a white Bible.

Miss Lynda Sullivan was maid of honor and wore a blue shantung sleeveless A-line dress and carried a single blue-topped white carnation tied with blue ribbon. Jerry Hammond of Colorado City was best man, and Miss Lanett Sloan, niece of the bridegroom, was the candle lighter.

The bride is a graduate of Westbrook High School and will be a sophomore at Howard County Junior College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Colorado City High School and will also attend HCJC.

The reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Batten where the table was covered with a white cutwork cloth over blue linen. The centerpiece was of blue and white flowers and appointments were of silver and crystal.

Members of the house party were Miss Wanda Williamson, Mrs. Jerry Hammond, Miss Debra Sloan, Mrs. Morris Sloan, Mrs. Van Williamson and Mrs. Batten.

When the couple left on their wedding trip, the bride was attired in a blue linen suit with white accessories and the corsage from her bouquet. They will reside at 1503-B Lincoln in Big Spring.

Parents of the bridegroom entertained members of the wedding party Friday evening following the rehearsal.

Mrs. Bill Cregar gave the devotion, and Mrs. David Redwine was welcomed as a new member.

Plans were made to join the "Friendship Through Magazines" program and to send a magazine each month to a person in another country.

Mrs. Fairchild and Mrs. C. P. Sherman served refreshments from a table covered with a yellow lace cloth and centered with fall flowers.

Hanging Gardens Popular

Hanging baskets are becoming more and more popular for patios, greenhouses, covered porches and trees in the garden. They are easy to plant. Buy a wire basket at a nursery or flower shop. Line it with sphagnum moss, then put three or four inches of good soil in the bottom. (Potting soil can be bought already prepared.) Or you can make your own, using good garden soil, peat moss or compost and sand.

Firm the soil down, then plant a flowering geranium, begonia or petunia.

Soak the planting thoroughly, then keep it watered and in the sun.

Ferns and various foliage plants also make attractive plants for hanging baskets.

Tournament Medalist To Be Decided Today

The rear guard of the Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament field arrived at the Country Club today. Those shooting for spots in the 32-man championship flight are required to get in qualifying licks before the sun goes down. A barbecue will be served for tournament principals this evening, after the final foursome has completed play.

AT BARBECUE

Max Bumgardner QBC Speaker

Max Bumgardner, head football coach at Angelo State College, takes time off from his duties to deliver the principal talk at tonight's barbecue honoring members and coaches of the Big Spring High School football team.

The bash is being sponsored by the Quarterback Club and will take place in the amphitheatre at the City Park, starting at 7:30 p.m. Wives of coaches and cheer leaders will also be in attendance. Membership tickets to the club are being sold for $5 each. Such a card entitles the holder to a household to take his entire family to the barbecue without charge.

Arnie May Be Overworking

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One of the big reasons for Arnold Palmer's golf slump could be that he is trying too hard.

He is the only golfer on the tour with his own private army, Arnie's Army, one of the most vociferous and aggressive fan clubs in sports. Palmer knows it, and he tries his hardest to live up to their hero worship. "They expect me to play well," the game's all-time leading money winner said recently in reviewing his mounting list of problems. "When I don't, I naturally feel I have let them down. So the next time I go out and try all the harder. The pressure just builds up."

Arnie's performances over the last couple of years have been a keen disappointment, but the allegiance of Arnie's Army apparently has been unshaken. "When I go home after a tournament, there will be hundreds of letters," he said. "If I've had a bad tournament — and I've had a few lately — the letters are 99 per cent encouraging. "Those who write tell me not to worry, everything will be all right. Some exhort me to go get 'em — just as they do out on the course. Others give me advice."

Arnie hasn't won a major crown since the Masters of 1964. In the past two years, he has won only four tournaments. The low spot in his fabulous career was reached in June when he blew a seven-stroke lead over the last nine holes and lost by four shots in a playoff with Bill Casper for the National Open Championship at San Francisco. Some contend that this may prove a psychological blow from which Palmer will never recover. The onetime charger, re-

Siebert Gives O's His Share Of Miseries

By DICK COUCH Associated Press Sports Writer

When Sonny Siebert is on the fly the Baby Birds don't get off the ground.

Siebert continued his mastery over Baltimore's young pitching stars Thursday night, firing a five-hitter as the Cleveland Indians whipped the American League leaders 4-1.

The 29-year-old right-hander, author of the only no-hitter in the majors this season, out-pitched rookie ace Jim Palmer for his 15th victory — and fourth in five meetings with the Orioles.

He has beaten Palmer — a 14-game winner himself — two times and also has topped rookie Eddie Watt and second-year man Wally Bunker since losing to Palmer last May 8 in five meetings with the Orioles.

But Siebert has been up-and-down against the rest of the league since June 11, when he flipped his no-hitter against Washington and said: "It's like you're flying, like you're up there in the clouds."

Until Thursday night, Siebert had failed to finish eight straight starts since July 25. He has won his last three decisions, however, and is only one victory short of his 1965 total.

Baltimore's fifth setback in six games, coupled with Detroit's 7-5, 10-inning victory over Chicago, left the Orioles 11 games ahead of the second-place Tigers. The New York Yankees trimmed California 5-2 in the only other game scheduled.

Frank Robinson, who had clipped Siebert for four homers in their last two meetings, drove in the Orioles' run with a third-inning double and also singled, lifting his league-leading batting mark to .330. Otherwise, Siebert was in command, retiring 19 of the last 21 men he faced.

Norm Cash hit his 26th homer in the 10th inning and Willie Horton followed with his 22nd, lifting the Tigers past Chicago. Reliever John Buzhardt was the victim.

Detroit had tied it 5-5 in the sixth on Jerry Lumpe's double, an infield out and a wild pitch by White Sox starter Joe Horlen.

Jim Northrup also homered for Detroit and Tommie Agee connected for the Sox.

Tom Tresh rapped a two-run homer for New York and the Yankees added three unearned runs with the help of four California errors and a balk by reliever Ramon Lopez.

Rookie Fritz Peterson boosted his pitching record to 11-1 but needed last-out relief help from Dooley Womack after blanking the Angels on four hits through eight innings.

Coahoma To Host Stanton Gridders

COAHOMA — High school football teams of Coahoma and Stanton scrimmage here this evening, preparing for their season's debuts.

In the past, the two clubs have been tangling regularly in regulation play but no game was booked between the teams this year.

The action gets under way around 7:30 p.m.

Bernie Hagins, coach at Coahoma, will have ample opportunity to have Jal, N. M., one of the Bulldogs' new football foes, scouted this fall.

Jal plays seven games before it ties into the Bulldogs the night of Oct. 28. That game is billed for 6:30 p.m., New Mexico time, Oct. 28.

Other games with Lovington and plays Moriarty, Wink, Tulsa, O'Donnell, Clayton and Ft. Sumner before it turns its attentions to Coahoma, then closes out against Eunice.

David McWilliams, the new head coach at Abilene High School, will use the flipflop offense this fall, just as his old college mentor, Darrell Royal, did when David was in school at the University of Texas.

The style of attack will not be unfamiliar to local buffs, who watched the resident Steers work off such a pattern last year.

Big Spring's Buster Barnes, who has grown to 190 pounds, is the only "little" man to break into coach Bobby Dobbs' starting lineup at Texas Western College in El Paso. Buster stands 5-9.

The other half of Dobbs' Shetland pony linebackers of 1965, Charlie Arciniega, graduated last spring. When Buster stands next to his running mate, 6-5, 227-pound Fred Carr, they look like the modern version of Mut and Jeff.

"I never had a player who puts as much in practice as Buster," Dobbs said recently. "He has quickness and a lust for contact. Both are valuable assets to a linebacker."

Buster is one of two Big Spring exes who will be in the starting lineup when the Miners open their season in Tempe against Arizona State.

The other is safetyman Charley West, who carries 185 pounds on a six-foot frame. West can play about anywhere he's assigned but the interior line. Charley passed up spring training in order to concentrate on baseball. He did so well the Philadelphia Phillies tempted him with a $20,000 offer.

Arizona State topped the Miners last season, 28-20, before the Miners straightened up and marched into the Sun Bowl game. The Tempe team will go largely with sophomores this year, although coach Frank Kush has 17 letter winners back from last year. The Sun Devils had a great spring training.

One of the Arizona State ends had an appropriate name, incidentally — Fair Hooker.

Charley Winner, new head coach of the St. Louis (football) Cardinals, flew bombing runs in B-17's during World War II.

Now Big Springer Charley Johnson is showing him how to lay down a barrage or two.

Eddie Gill, head coach at Sands High School last season, is currently serving in a similar capacity at Moran High, located in Shackelford County northwest of Cisco.

The Big Spring American Little League team that competed in the playoffs at Levelland shouldn't feel badly.

The Abilene club that knocked off Big Spring was, in turn, defeated by Houston. Houston proceeded to win the World Little League championship.

Neely Eyeing Good Finish To Career

By The Associated Press

Jess Neely is making his last stand at Rice but he doesn't figure on going out last in Southwest Conference football.

The Dean of conference coaches, who will retire after the current season — his 27th, looked at the pre-season polls Thursday when he called his Owls, 73 strong, out for the start of fall practice. He noted Rice was placed at the bottom.

"We may fool a lot of people," he remarked. "Until they (the rest of the conference teams) put us there, I'll never believe it."

He found his squad in top condition and said it was the finest opening day "we've had."

Opening day found Coach Frank Broyles of defending champion Arkansas enthusiastic, especially about quarterback Jon Brittenum. Watching Brittenum throw passes with great accuracy, Broyles commented, "Perfect."

Coach John Bridgers of Baylor probably felt the same way about quarterback Terry Southall, who threw five touchdown passes in 17½ minutes to turn the Green-White intrasquad game into a rout. The Greens won 49-6.

Baylor had been working a week but this was the first Green-White game.

Tommy Smith, Baylor's brilliant pass receiver, got hurt again. It has become a way of life for the fellow who has twice been injured in auto wrecks.

This time Smith took a photographer along with him. Jerry Desmond of WQAI in San Antonio, asked Smith to catch a pass and "run right over me." Smith did and Desmond didn't get out of the way in time.

Both went to the hospital. Neither was seriously hurt, however. In fact, Smith returned to practice and caught two of Southall's touchdown passes.

Texas was talking about "doing better" as it started practice. Coach Darrell Royal said the fact that the Longhorns lost four games last season was being drummed into everyone.

"I think anyone who has pride and doesn't like defeat is going to be anxious to do better," Royal declared.

Texas Christian had 97 candidates out to start work but the total shrank to 96 before the day was over. Bill Ferguson, promising sophomore end, suffered a fractured collar bone and will be out for the season.

Texas Tech started with four players on the injured list. They still practiced, although not to go full speed. Halfback Mike Leiner had an eye infection and halfback Gary Roman a pulled stomach muscle.

Award Honors 2 Swimmers

The Spanish Main restaurant was the scene Thursday night of a Big Spring Aquatic Club banquet, which signified the end of summer activities.

Curtis Mullins, general secretary of the local YMCA, was on hand to announce creation of a plaque which annually will honor the boy and girl who, in the eyes of a Y committee, have contributed most toward the improvement of the team.

First recipients of the honors were Linda Tyldesley and Bill Bortner. The plaque will be displayed in the YMCA building.

Winners are judged on the spirit of cooperation they show, attendance, effort, attitude and achievement.

Lt. Neil Jacobs, retiring coach of this year's team, was honored in absentia. He was busy with flying duties and could not be chosen. No new coach has been named.

The aquatic team has taken part in meets at Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Dallas, El Paso, San Angelo, Pharr, Perryton and Snyder, as well as Big Spring, this summer.

Mrs. Marjorie Bortner served as an informal master of ceremonies at the banquet, which about 50 persons attended.

Cowboys Host Minnesota 11

DALLAS (AP) — The undefeated Dallas Cowboys should need little additional motivation against the Minnesota Vikings in the Cotton Bowl tonight than to remember a night one year ago.

It was Sept. 3 in Birmingham, Ala., and the Vikings had just humiliated the Cowboys 57-17 when Minnesota Coach Norm Van Brocklin added some salt by commenting: "Dallas has a good team—they're about where we were two years ago."

At the time Minnesota was starting its fifth season in the National Football League, having entered a year after Dallas.

Tonight's nationally televised game concludes the pre-season part of the NFL schedule. The Vikings have not lost an exhibition contest since 1963, winning 14 and tying Detroit 6-6 in the first game this year.

Dallas, pre-season favorite to win the Eastern Division, has beaten four exhibition teams, including Detroit 20-10 last week.

Meetings with the Los Angeles Rams offer the only other comparison between Dallas and Minnesota this season. The Cowboys won 20-10, the Vikings 24-10.

Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys and Van Brocklin said they plan to go with veterans all the way to get them ready for the regular season.

Houston Favored In AFL Opener

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League still is playing exhibition games but the American Football League gets down to serious work this weekend with a three-game opening program.

In the old days the pro clubs would just be going to training camp on Labor Day. Now they start in early July and keep going until mid-January.

The big game of the opening weekend is Buffalo at San Diego, the two clubs expected to fight it out again for the AFL title.

Sid Gillman is said to have posted in his office a headline from a newspaper after the 1965 title game. It reads: "Kemp, Bills Humble Chargers, 23-0."

If Sid has his way, the Chargers will come out in a vengeful mood. However, San Diego has been hot and cold, as usual, bombing Miami and Boston in exhibitions but losing to Oakland and Kansas City. The John Hadl-Lance Alworth combo is the key.

Buffalo has a 3-1 exhibition record, losing only to the New York Jets last week. Joe Collier, successor to Lou Saban, is anxious to get off on the right foot.

The opening program has one game each on Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. New York, Boston and Kansas City have byes.

The National Football League does not open until next weekend.

Here are the week's picks: Friday Night

Oakland 28, Miami 7 — The Dolphins are still struggling to find the answers and are not ready to handle a strong contender like the Raiders. Oakland started to click against Denver last week and should handle Miami, the expansion team, with ease.

Saturday Night

Houston 21, Denver 14 — Although both go into the opener with 1-3 exhibition records, Wally Lemm's "New Era" club at Houston should win. Denver beat Houston twice last year but this is a new season and big Ernie Ladd has joined the Oilers.

George Blanda over the best the Broncos can offer.

Sunday Afternoon

San Diego 28, Buffalo 24 — Bills' tough defense let down against Jets last week and can't afford to do any coasting against the Chargers' explosive attack. With the big prize at the end of the season, a game with the NFL champ, both teams should be sharp and ready for this early meeting.

Max Bumgardner QBC Speaker

Max Bumgardner, head football coach at Angelo State College, takes time off from his duties to deliver the principal talk at tonight's barbecue honoring members and coaches of the Big Spring High School football team.

The bash is being sponsored by the Quarterback Club and will take place in the amphitheatre at the City Park, starting at 7:30 p.m. Wives of coaches and cheer leaders will also be in attendance.

Membership tickets to the club are being sold for $5 each. Such a card entitles the holder to a household to take his entire family to the barbecue without charge.

The Steers will hold a regular workout this afternoon prior to the barbecue.

Membership tickets are being sold by Everett Whitley and James Duncan, co-captains of the booster club.

Heading of the crew preparing the food for the feast is Herbie Smith.

Timetable Put In His Stand

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States cannot accept a timetable for pulling U.S. forces out of South Viet Nam without a corresponding timetable for ending North Viet Nam's drive against the South.

And French President Charles de Gaulle has apparently failed to get any sign from Hanoi that she would quit her southward push.

This assessment has been reached in Washington after a reading of the full text of the speech de Gaulle delivered in Cambodia Thursday stating his views on how to try to bring peace to Southeast Asia.

The French president was regarded here as having added nothing to his previous policy statements except perhaps in injecting a time element in advocating a U.S. pullout from Viet Nam.

De Gaulle said peace negotiations would have to depend on an advance U.S. commitment to bring home American troops "within a suitable and definite time limit."

This proposal was branded here as unrealistic and unacceptable because de Gaulle did not apply it to North Viet Nam.

And since de Gaulle said the time is not ripe now for such an outcome and because he said France sees no prospect for success in offering to mediate at the time, it was believed here that he had found that Hanoi is sticking to a tough line.

De Gaulle made his Phnom Penh speech, highlighting a three-day visit, after a 25-minute private talk with North Viet Nam's top diplomats at the Cambodian capital. No official account of this meeting has yet reached Washington.

The U.S. government Thursday swallowed its displeasure at the anti-American tone of de Gaulle's remarks behind "no comments" at the White House and State Department.

President Johnson and his foreign policy advisers had not yet read the text, it was explained. After the text did become available — none was supplied by the French government to U.S. officials — the Johnson administration decided again to shun public comment.

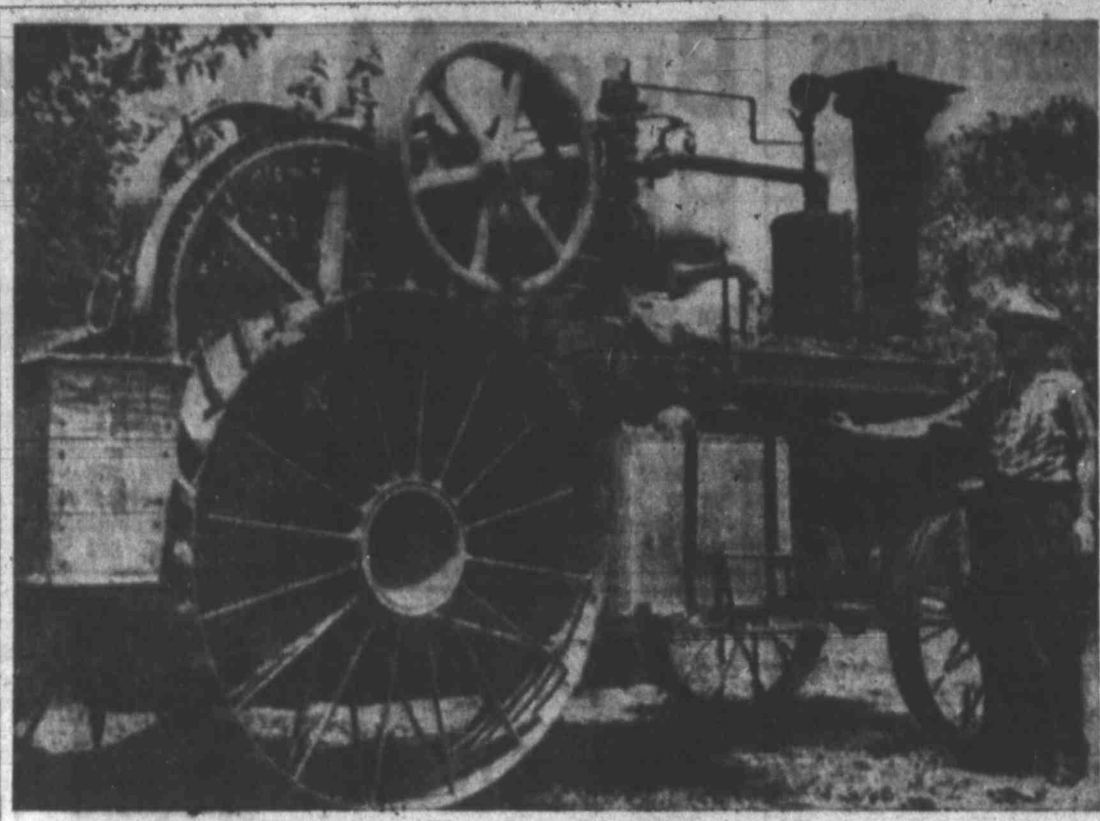

However, a State Department spokesman noted that the U.S. government repeatedly has stated — as he put it — "we do not desire to retain U.S. troops in South Viet Nam after peace is assured." And U.S. officials said Hanoi had rebuffed many U.S. efforts for a reciprocal withdrawal or scaling down in the fighting.

Privately, it was assumed that de Gaulle was making his trip to revive the French image in the Southeast Asia area and to lay grounds for playing a peacemaking role at such time as a settlement might become possible.

However, Washington doubted that with France herself having withdrawn her physical presence from Southeast Asia more than a decade ago, Peking and Hanoi would pay much attention to French words now. And de Gaulle's language did not endear him to the U.S. government, either.

Jim Gilbert, physical director for the YMCA, is expected to return to Big Spring tonight from Downers Grove, Ill., where he has been attending a two weeks' course on counseling and guidance.

U Thant's Decision Leaves U.N. With Another Crisis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States headed a drive today to persuade U Thant to remain as United Nations secretary-general. But the Burmese diplomat's statement declining a new term brought the organization once again face to face with the ailments which threaten its survival.

Small nations, along with the big ones, went into huddles on the prospects for a draft of Thant. The atmosphere suggested that one man's decision had confronted the organization with a new crisis.

Thant made clear his position: No one man should be considered indispensable and no secretary-general should serve more than a single five-year term. Possibly he stressed these points to underscore one of the variety of basic weaknesses in the U.N. structure.

In his statement Thursday declining another term, the statesman indicated his frustrations and deep disillusion after five years of struggling with enormous problems of the cold war. He had at his disposal an organization which often could do little more than look on helplessly at the confrontation of the world's giants.

Thant, 57, had the problems without the machinery to tackle them. He heads an organization saddled with debt, some of whose members are unwilling to meet their obligations toward peacekeeping operations. It is an organization often used as a forum for propaganda by nations with their own particular axes to grind. Often, the United Nations is turned into an arena for both major and petty clashes.

Thus there is much anxiety over Thant's expressed unwillingness to serve again. Many appear to believe that it is of extreme importance to find a man of Thant's proven ability and competence, one who can summon the respect and confidence Thant commanded, to take up the job where he intends to leave off.

Should the United Nations fail to do so, the organization could well be in danger as an instrument for preserving the peace. If it should deteriorate for lack of such a man, it could lapse into the sort of lingering illness which led to the death of its predecessor, the League of Nations.

One thing is certain: When a new secretary-general is chosen, he will be a citizen of one of the smaller nations and not of one of the big powers. This has been the case since the U.N. was organized. He also probably will be from one of the Asian or African nations, since they are now the majority of the United Nations.

Should Thant persist in his refusal to serve any longer than Nov. 3, will this decision cause a new crisis?

It is likely that the United States is extremely reluctant at this time to have the United Nations turned into another arena of an already dangerous global political war. The Russians also may be just as reluctant to make the organization a new scene for confrontation.

Worry has been expressed in U.N. corridors over a possible revival of the Soviet "troika" demand to divide direction of the secretariat among three directors: Communist, West and neutral, probably hamstringing its effectiveness even more. However, that was a Khrushchev idea. The current Soviet leadership seems more careful, more rational.

The Russians already have profited to some extent by being cast in the role of potential peacemaker in Viet Nam. To drag in an issue like the "troika" could sacrifice whatever advantages accrue from the new Soviet image.

Two major situations now contribute liberally to the frustrations of the secretary-general's office: Viet Nam and the continued exclusion of Red China from membership.

Thant said in his statement that Viet Nam is "a reproach to the conscience of humanity" and threatens a new global war, and he said that the lack of universality of U.N. membership is a cause of many of its current troubles.

The United Nations was bypassed as long ago as 1954 when the Geneva conference divided Viet Nam. It is even more helpless in the face of that situation today with the scornful Red Chinese rejection of any U.N. role whatever in a solution.

As for the China membership issue, little has changed in that respect with regard to U.S. objections. The United States will support Red China for membership only when it is convinced that Peking will abide by the principles of the charter and leave its neighbors in peace. It likely will be a long time before Washington is convinced of that.

Bomb Scare Forces Landing

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — An American Airlines jet carrying more than 100 passengers, including band leader Duke Ellington, made an unscheduled landing at Salina Thursday because of a bomb scare.

The plane was en route from Tucson to Chicago when the pilot, Capt. Les Spreen, got a report that a woman passenger was muttering something about a bomb as they were passing over Garden City, Kan.

Spreen landed at the first long runway available — at Salina Municipal Airport.

The passengers were transferred to another plane.

Zone Changes Granted For Church, School

Variances were granted to Sacred Heart Catholic Church and the Big Spring Independent School District by the Zoning Board of Adjustment Thursday, in keeping with the board's "liberal" policy when dealing with schools and churches.

Father Delaney of the church told the board that the church plans to build a youth center at 500-511 N. Ayford which will reach both the rear and side property lines of the lot.

"We plan to teach boxing, wrestling and such to the boys and cooking and modeling to the girls," Father Delaney said. He noted that property owners to the rear of the project have no objections to the location.

Architect Jimmy Fox said the luncheon which will be built as an addition to Bauer School would require an 11-foot variance from the required distance from the front property line. It fronts on an undecanted street.

The school district is putting in an officer building and another small building as well as the luncheon, Sam Anderson, superintendent of schools, said.
