Winning Girls Sob, Bubble

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — One beautiful teenager sobbed with joy and another bubbled with happiness. The girls, from opposite ends of the nation, shared honors Wednesday night in the opening round of competition in the Miss America contest. Miss California played "Tocatta" by Khachaturian. While calm and sure of herself onstage, the statuesque brown-haired beauty broke down in tears afterwards. "I am ecstatic," she sobbed. Charlene became eligible for the pageant after the original Miss California surrendered her title to continue her education at California State College in Hayward, where she is a sophomore.

SURPRISE Miss New Hampshire, Nancy Anne Naylor, 19, won the swim suit competition. Her father, an Air Force pilot stationed in the Philippines, flew in as a surprise after a year's absence. He brought along her 15-year-old brother, Steven. Nancy said she spotted her father, Lt. Col. Harold Naylor, as she paraded down the 120-foot runway in Convention Hall. "I saw him there waving over the floodlights," she said backstage later. "I was thrilled."

Mrs. Naylor has been with Nancy at the family's home at Nashua, N.H. Nancy, who lived and traveled throughout Asia and 42 states in this country, hopes for a career in the diplomatic service. She is a sophomore at the University of Colorado.

HCJC Signup Continuing

Howard County Junior College registration hit 824 at mid-morning Thursday as the signup for the fall semester continued. Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said a substantial number was expected during the afternoon and an even larger number from 6:30 to 9 p.m. today. He urged everyone who plans on fall semester courses, either as a full time or night student, to register today and avoid the $2 penalty for late enrollment. Dr. Hunt said that the registration so far indicated that the head count would again top the 1,000 mark. He was confident that the number of full-time students would be greater, which means that the semester total—the real test of academic load—will be up substantially. The state pays its per capita aid on the basis of full-time equivalency. Classes will begin Friday morning at the college.

Terrorists Kill Six In Polls Sabotage

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong terrorists killed at least six persons and injured more than 20 today in scattered attacks aimed at wrecking election machinery and frightening as many as possible of South Viet Nam's five million voters from the polls Sunday.

BLOCK CHANNEL While U.S. officials sought to determine whether saboteurs or a short circuit might have caused a million-dollar fire that destroyed one American military warehouse and damaged another before dawn, the Viet Cong tried again to block the main shipping channel to Saigon. A Communist mine exploded harmlessly in the river channel about 40 yards from a U.S. Navy minesweeper. Highlighting intertwined military and political developments: Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, in a roundabout discourse with newsmen, put himself back in the list of possible candidates for the presidency in the creation of a new government due next year. He said in effect he was reconsidering his decision to return to military duty and might run because of the refusal of his first choice, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, to become a candidate. Thieu is chief of state in the present military regime.

MOST SAVAGE —The most savage in a series of operations by Communist agents to sabotage the election Sunday of a 117-member Constituent Assembly was staged at a village southwest of Saigon. A government spokesman said the Communist agents killed a government security agent, his wife and three children. —About 300 Buddhist monks and nuns of a militant minority opposing the government and the election launched a three-day fast to promote a boycott of the polls. Loudspeakers at a Saigon pagoda proclaimed: "A vote on Sunday will be a vote against Viet Nam."

While air squadrons carried the main load of allied offensive operations, lessened ground activity was reflected in a reduction of casualties on both sides last week from the week of Aug. 21-27. The U.S. Command announced 74 Americans were killed in combat, 570 wounded and 10 missing or captured. Over all, allied deaths were listed as 187, against 885 enemy dead.

LOST 100,000 —In Tokyo, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said he believed the Communists have lost more than 100,000 men from combat, disease and desertion this year. Replacements "By the painfully slow methods of infiltration under air attack must present a very serious problem to the enemy leaders," the retired chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and former ambassador to Saigon said in a luncheon address. He said, however, more U.S. troops and more air strikes will be needed to bring North Viet Nam to terms.

WOULDN'T FIGHT Johnson and Pvt. Dennis Mora, 25, of New York, who was convicted Wednesday, are two of the "Ft. Hood Three," a trio of soldiers who held a news conference in New York June 30 and said they would not fight in Viet Nam. The third, Pvt. David Samas, 20, of Modesto, Calif., is awaiting trial here. Johnson, a bespectacled Negro from the Bronx, N.Y., faced a general court-martial before a court or jury of eight officers, two of whom are Negroes. President of the court is Col. Morris Zebrowitz. The defense and prosecution counsel and the law officer are the same as in Mora's court-martial. Mora, in addition to the prison term, was sentenced to be dishonorably discharged and to forfeit pay and allowances. His attorneys will appeal the verdict.

DELIBERATE Mora's defense contended the war in Viet Nam was not declared by Congress and therefore an order to report there was illegal. Mora told the court he deliberately violated a superior officer's order July 14 that he enter a military vehicle for subsequent transport to Viet Nam.

THIRD YEAR Samuel H. Sheppard pleaded "not guilty" in a loud voice today to a charge of second-degree murder as he stood before Judge Roy F. McMahon in the same courtroom where he was convicted nearly 12 years ago in the bludgeon death of his first wife, Marilyn. Judge McMahon set bond at $10,000 — the same amount as a federal bond on which Sheppard has been free since July, 1964, while winning a habeas corpus action in federal court. Sheppard's second wife, Ariane, a German divorcee whom he married two days after his release from the Ohio penitentiary where he served more than nine years, sat in the front row among about 12 spectators. Beside her was Sheppard's 19-year-old son, Samuel H. Jr.

The arraignment for Sheppard's second trial was recessed following Sheppard's plea in order to discuss in the judge's chambers a motion for change of venue which attorney F. Lee Bailey of Boston said he intended to make. Bailey was helping Russell A. Sherman as Sheppard's counsel. The conference lasted about a half hour, during which time Sheppard was booked on the amended charge, and proceedings were ended for the day.

Plans Are A-OK For Dual Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Launch crews today fueled Gemini 11's Atlas-Agena target rocket, as the pilots — confident and ready to shatter space records — rested for the double-header blastoff Friday. "All phases are proceeding satisfactorily toward the planned dual launching," the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said this morning.

CASUAL REVIEW Except for brief meetings with project officials, Gemini 11 command pilot Charles Conrad Jr., and spacewalker-to-be Richard F. Gordon Jr., planned only a casual review of their flight plan today while relaxing in crew quarters. An easterly wave weather situation — sometimes a portent of a storm — developed in the tropical Atlantic Ocean several hundred miles southeast of Cape Kennedy today, but weathermen predicted rainstorms associated with it would remain south of the launch area and away from potential emergency landing zones needed at launch time Friday.

FLIGHT PLAN "We've endeavored to lay this flight plan out so we have a chance of doing everything," Navy Lt. Cmdr. Gordon said, "and we think we've got that chance. I couldn't ask for a better flight." Goals of their planned 71-hour mission include a rapid rendezvous with the Agena target satellite on Gemini 11's first orbit using the Agena's main engine to scoot them to a record altitude of 863 miles, flying in formation with the Agena while tied to it by a 100 foot cord, and performing an automatic "hands-off" re-entry. Gordon, 36, rookie astronaut, plans two ventures outside Gemini 11 — a 107-minute stroll during Gemini 11's second day aloft and a 140-minute "space stand" the third day, when the spaceman pops the upper half of his body outside the spaceship to photograph stars. Navy Cmdr. Conrad, veteran of the eight-day Gemini 5 flight slightly more than a year ago, and Gordon are to blast off at 10:25 a.m. Friday, 97 minutes after their Atlas-Agena target rocket roars skyward at 8:45 a.m.

RENDEZVOUS Rendezvous on Gemini 11's first orbit "is really the extreme of the gamut of rendezvous," said Charles W. Mathews, Gemini program manager for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Spacecraft Center. "In other words, this is about as short as you can do a rendezvous." "The biggest thing," Conrad said, is not that it's a first-orbit rendezvous but the fact that "we're going to do it on our own. It's the first crack at doing it with our own information and no help from the ground." Because of the short time to rendezvous, the astronauts have to rely mostly on equipment aboard the spacecraft.

Allotment Program Costs Texas Over A Million Bales

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated the government-curtailed cotton crop today at 10,992,000 bales. Texas production was estimated at 3,675,000 bales, compared to 4,725,000 last year. The crop estimate compares with an August figure of 10,820,000 bales, with last year's harvest of 14,956,000 and with the 1960-64 average of 14,795,000 bales.

Production is being greatly curtailed this year under a new government program offering special payments to growers who plant less than their acreage allotments. The purpose is to help reduce a record surplus of 16.8 million bales. The department has predicted that domestic and foreign markets will require about 15 million bales. Deficits from the crop will be supplied from the surplus. Markets took about 12.5 million bales during the season which ended Aug. 1.

The acreage planted this year was only 10,567,000 compared with 14,153,000 last year and 15,728,000 for the five-year average. Today's report estimated the yield of lint cotton per harvested acre would be 539 pounds compared with 528 pounds last year and 475 for the five-year average. The Texas yield was set at 430 pounds.

Senatorial Candidates Kick Off Campaigns

TOWER: 'We Are Right' WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Sen. John Tower declared today that the "good judgment of the people of Texas" will re-elect him in November. Tower, the Republican senator, started his official campaign with a breakfast here in his home town before beginning a three-day jaunt, largely by airplane. CONVINCED "I am convinced we are right and that we represent majority consensus of our state," Tower told the gathering of about 125. In his brief talk, Tower made no mention of his Democratic opponent, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, who opened his official campaign Wednesday night in his home town of Lubbock. Tower said he intended to conduct his campaign on an affirmative basis with a campaign format based on in-depth comment on the issues. He said he does not intend to engage in personalities, character assassination or mud slinging. HONESTY "I think honesty is the best policy," he said. Saying he would state his views as clearly as possible, Tower said: "I feel I have represented the majority consensus of the people of this state. Therefore, I have no fear about the outcome on Nov. 8." Urging all-out support from the responsive audience, Tower told his listeners, "It's not candidates but people who win elections." He warned his supporters that they face a "tremendous job" but added: "... all of you are motivated by a desire to serve your country—a selfless and patriotic motivation." Tower added, "That's why I'm confident we'll win... there are no political hacks in our party." Tower made only fleeting reference to Viet Nam, which he has visited, and said this and other major issues must be met with non-political solutions. He was accompanied by his wife and their three daughters. It was the beginning of a three-day flying tour of Texas that will take him from the Panhandle to the Gulf Coast and from El Paso to East Texas. The major event on the schedule will be a rally tonight in Dallas which will be beamed across the state on television. From Dallas the candidate will fly to Fort Worth for a 30-minute stop at Meacham Field, then go to Amarillo for the night.

RALLY Tower begins his Friday schedule with a 7:30 a.m. airport rally at Amarillo. He will then visit Pampa, Borger, Lubbock, El Paso, Midland, Abilene, San Angelo, Kerrville and San Antonio. Post-midnight rallies are scheduled at the airports at Harlingen and Corpus Christi. Saturday's itinerary includes appearances at Houston, Jefferson County, Tyler, Marshall and Gregg County airports. Tower said he set up the 3,000-mile, three-day trip to hit as many spots as possible in a short time. "Since the Senate may be in session until the middle of October, I want to make the best possible use of my time in the state," he said.

MARKET LOSSES ARE DEEPENED NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market deepened its losses in routine trading early this afternoon. Key stocks fell from fractions to more than a point along a broad front. The more volatile glamor stocks stretched some losses to several points. The market headed lower after a mixed opening. Without any particular selling pressure, prices gave ground. The Dow Jones Industrial average at noon was down 9.08 at 788.31.

GOP INCUMBENT Senator John Tower

DEMO HOPEFUL Waggoner Carr

LUBBOCK (AP) — "Texas deserves effective representation — not just representation," Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr told a home town crowd Wednesday night in kicking off his campaign to unseat Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. Carr nevertheless chided his November election rival in only mild fashion and did not refer to Tower by name. ABOUT 2,000 Twenty-nine state legislators were present to join an audience of about 2,000 in cheers for the Democratic nominee. There was conjecture that Carr might have saved his heavy artillery for a speech Saturday night at Greenville, not far from his birthplace at Fairlie in Hunt County. But he struck out at what he termed a Republican's ineffectiveness among the Democratic Texas Congressional delegation and accused the incumbent of having only negative influence in the Senate. Assuring there is much to be done for Texas, Carr suggested that he, not Tower, is the more capable man for the job. DESERVES MORE "Texas deserves more than a negative vote," he said. "It deserves leadership. Texas deserves effective representation, not just representation. ... When the views of the Texas governmental leaders are to be persuasively stated to the leaders of the federal government, who can do that most effectively, a Texas Republican new inductee into active duty who has never been a part of it... not for a single day?" And, Carr asked, "When counsel with the President is needed, can a junior Republican senator persuade him our way?" Carr hinted also that Tower has been somewhat less than inspired in his efforts to lure federal funds and defense contracts into Texas, and declared: GETS SHARE "So long as Texas can do as good a job as any other state

I'll fight to see that Texas gets every last penny of its share... You can count on the fact that the senators from the other 49 states are exerting every effort in behalf of their states." Newsmen questioned Carr about the apparent restraint shown by the attorney general in his remarks concerning Senator Tower. "Politically, this is a low-key county, this is soft sell," said state Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock, a self-styled trouble shooter for the Carr campaign. Blanchard said the tone of Carr's speech was intentionally low-key because "the worst thing you can do in Lubbock County... and West Texas is sling mud." He predicted the Carr campaign would pick up momentum that by the eve of the state Democratic Convention on Sept. 19 would produce a "rip-snorting, unified party that will go out and beat those rascals."

ISSUES Blanchard said, "The political issues will be created as the campaign goes along." Carr touched lightly on a series of topics, including crime, state water problems, economics in government and funds for higher education. The attorney general said that as a Texas senator he would consider the water requirements of the entire state, adding: "But it is here in West Texas that the problem is the most critical. Most of the irrigated land in our state lies in West Texas between El Paso, Lubbock and Amarillo.

DRAFT NEEDS TO BE LOWER WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the draft call for October and November approaches the level at the end of the Korean War, the Pentagon says the December manpower request will be substantially lower. The Defense Department is sued Wednesday a November call of 43,700 men and boosted by 3,000 men the original October request of 46,200. All men drafted in those two months will be assigned to the Army. Nearly 53,000 men were called in May, 1953, as the Korean War drew to a close. Peak calls during the Korean conflict reached 80,000 a month. The Pentagon said it would reduce the draft call in December "to avoid the entrance of new inductees into active duty during the holiday season."

1966 Campaign Kickoff

Live from State Fair Music Hall in Dallas

TONIGHT 7:30 KWAB-TV, CHANNEL 4

EDITOR'S NOTE — Emphysema is a disease of the lungs, a disease rapidly becoming one of the country's worst killers. There is no drug or cure for emphysema, but some hospitals are finding success in rehabilitating and helping victims. Here is the third in a four-part series on the disease.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — In a laboratory within sight of the Rockies' foothills there's a mechanical apparatus that looks and sounds like a prop for a chiller-movie on the late-late TV show.

It's a breathing exhibit of two human lungs taken from the bodies of dead men, but now working for science.

BODYLESS LUNGS

Encased in a glass chamber, and powered by an airflow pump, the two bodyless lungs hang side by side and alternately inflate and deflate — swell and droop — just as the living lung does.

Neither is pretty to see. Upon inflation, each looks like a grotesque, roughly triangular, flying machine that has nothing but wings. Deflated, each resembles a limp jelly fish.

But there's a difference between them.

One is a normal lung — from the body of a 70-year-old auto mechanic who died of a brain tumor but had healthy lungs throughout life.

The other is a diseased lung — taken from the body of a 77-year-old laborer who had suffered for years from a tissue-destroying lung disease called emphysema.

SOMETHING ELSE

Although emphysema is a common killer, this man died of something else.

But scientists here at Webb-Waring Institute for Medical Research — for the University of Colorado Medical Center — say his lung reveals many of the telltale grim legacies of emphysema. For example:

— Even at rest, it's abnormally distended and lacks the elasticity of a normal lung.

— When it exhales, it empties much more slowly, and much less completely, than does the lung on the other side of the chamber. It still holds trapped air — a hallmark of emphysema.

— Its surface is richly and nastily spotted with a coal black pigment — another characteristic of most emphysematous lungs — whereas the normal lung in the exhibit has few such spots.

EERIE AID

The eerie demonstration is used to help teach medical students about emphysema. It's also used by Webb-Waring scientists to help spread to laymen visitors, including school children, their readily-offered gospel that heavy tobacco smoking, especially cigarette smoking, is at least an aggravant of emphysema — if not, indeed, one of its contributory causes.

"The diseased lung in this exhibit is from a man who smoked heavily all his life," said Dr. Roger Sherman Mitchell, whose campaign against cigarette smoking is such that when he has a chain smoking visitor, he offers an ashtray containing mounted pieces of normal and diseased lung.

NOT INHALED

"The normal lung came from a man who had smoked three or four cigarettes per day for 50 years — but had never inhaled."

At Webb-Waring Institute — named for two pioneering Colorado physicians who helped spearhead the control of tuberculosis in the United States — the lungs of the dead, in various other ways, are helping scientists to unveil some basic anatomical and physiological riddles of emphysema and its satellite maladies, a brigade of foes often as fearsome as tuberculosis itself was.

And, across the roadway at the medical center's great general hospital, doctors report life-saving advances are being made in treating emphysema and allied disease patients who reach the potentially last ditch stage of acute respiratory failure.

CONSTANT THREAT

The latter condition — a constant threat to almost any emphysema patient — the stage where the breath of life really fails, and death can occur from suffocation, or failure of a heart laboring itself to breathe.

As yet there's no drug or other cure for emphysema — and victims of it can go for years,

Downtown Weed Patch Is Target

Those tall and menacing weeds which have grown up on the former site of the First Baptist Church are coming down.

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, said he had been getting complaints from residents concerning the jungle-like appearance of the tract which has been bought as the location for Big Spring's new post office-federal building.

"While it was out of my field," explained Hardesty, "I did contact the General Services Administration in Dallas. They agreed and said that if I could get someone to cut the weeds and clean up the place for $50 or less, go to it. Larry Crow, city manager, said that his crew of weedcutters would handle the job."

battling for breath. Certain treatments are available, though, to ease their plight.

Nevertheless, it is respiratory failure that kills emphysema victims — and the Colorado hospital is cited by the U.S. Public Health Service as having one of the best reported records in saving such emergency cases.

RECORD

One of the physicians sums up the record:

"In this hospital, up to two years ago, some 80 per cent of these emergency, acutely ill patients used to die in the hospital. Now, since the organization of the respiratory care unit, we've reversed this picture. Eighty per cent now get out — and that's good."

He says the hospital is employing some pioneering modifications of existing emergency techniques such as:

— More frequent use of tracheostomies — the cutting of a hole into the windpipe and inserting a breathing tube.

— Use of various mechanical ventilators, including a still experimental one, to deliver an increased volume of air to the lungs.

OUT OF BED

— Encouraging patients to get out of bed for brief periods daily as soon as possible after their emergency — and walk up and down a ward corridor "so as to exercise their breathing muscles, and also get a look at the Rockies to help their morale."

— Greater use of oxygen, in low and controlled concentrations, for treating both emergency cases and patients at home — including still-experimental portable liquid oxygen tanks which some patients carry constantly away from the hospital.

Dr. Mitchell says the most important finding emerging so far from postmortem lung and related studies at Webb-Waring is this:

"The respiratory condition which almost invariably was labeled 'emphysema' five to 10 years ago — and was often looked upon as hopeless, if not, indeed, misdiagnosed as a cerebral stroke, pneumonia or heart failure — is actually a multiplicity of five interrelated conditions, more than one of which may be present at one time."

TREATABLE

"And four of these — chronic bronchitis; pulmonary embolism or thromboembolism (blood clots in the lung arteries); bronchiolitis (obstruction of the very small air tubes) and asthma — are treatable and reversible."

"It's true that the emphysema component, which involves actual destruction or loss of lung tissue, is so far nonreversible, and not specifically treatable. But you can do things for the emphysema part, as well — like teaching patients to breathe evenly and slowly, so as to get the most benefit from their lungs."

NOT HOPELESS

"And so — and we're very excited about this — we have found that the group of conditions as a whole is not a hopeless one. And this is important, because many doctors are still labeling all cases of chronic airways obstruction as emphysema and hopeless."

Findings like this are emerging from another laboratory project — called the Emphysema Registry.

Started in 1956, it involves attempting to collect living subjects suffering from chronic airways obstruction, keep tabs on them throughout life and, whenever possible, examine their lungs grossly and microscopically after death — including giving breathing tests to the bodyless lungs.

The registry now includes records on 392 subjects — people in all walks of life from a coal miner to a chef — of whom about 125 have died.

FINDINGS

Among other findings:

1. "There is an almost direct relationship between heavy cigarette smoking and emphysema-chronic bronchitis," Webb-Waring scientists say.

2. A major factor impairing air flow out of the lungs in these conditions has been identified as the collapsibility of the inter-

M. C. DENTON PLUCKS NICE HARVEST FROM COTTON SAMPLE
Walker Bailey presents $200 check as G. C. Broughton watches

Second Bale Comes To Gin Just In Time Before Rain

Second bale of 1966 cotton from Howard County fields was ginned at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Fairview gin.

It was produced and harvested by M. C. Denton, Silver Heels Addition, on his farm eight miles northwest of town.

His industry brought him a check for $200 from the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce — the reward being handed to him at 10 a.m. Wednesday by Walker Bailey, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee. G. C.

Broughton Jr., ginner, who saw to it that Denton's 2,020 pounds of seed cotton got a fast trip through his Fairview gin, looked on at the check presenting ceremony.

Denton said it took between six and seven acres of picking to get the cotton together. The ginned bale weighed 510 pounds. Bailey described the cotton as good quality.

Denton's bale followed the first bale by one week. Terry Fields, Lee's community, had the first bale of the year. It was ginned at Luther on Aug. 31.

CS Applications Routed To El Paso

The board of examiners function for Civil Service is scheduled for transfer to El Paso effective Sept. 30. It was announced this week by Warren A. Farrow, chairman, board of examiners, Webb AFB.

Lists of eligibles will be maintained at the El Paso office after Sept. 30, and applications submitted for employment under announcements by the Civil Service will be made to El Paso rather than to the Webb civilian personnel office.

Lists of eligibles on firefighter (general) and card punch operator, which had been maintained at Webb will be forwarded to Vernon R. Adams, executive officer, Interagency Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners for the West Texas area, 411 North Stanton, El Paso.

Applications for fire fighters must be received no later than Sept. 30, or if received by mail must bear a postmark no later than that date. Applications for the card punch operator positions (GS-3) will continue to be received, but as of Oct. 1 should be mailed to Adams in El Paso.

Freeman Dedicates Texas 1,000th Dam

MCKINNEY, Tex. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman dedicated Texas' 1,000th watershed project Lam today and said such conservation programs are "proof that rural America can provide livable working space for millions more of her citizens."

"The first 635 small watershed projects brought to the communities in which they were developed more than 500 new businesses and industries employing nearly 10,000 people," he said. "These were jobs that did not exist before."

"In addition, nearly 650 businesses and industries expanded and gave employment to an additional 1,000 people," Freeman said, noting that "actual building of these projects gave nearly 30,000 man-years of employment."

The dam near McKinney is the 36th to be completed of 37 planned in the sister Grove Creek subwatershed of the upper Trinity watershed.

Such projects, Freeman said, build "an economic base in the countryside, one that has both utility and beauty... which will make it possible for millions more to live and work and play in rural America rather than jamming together in our great cities and creating almost insoluble problems."

The agriculture secretary said:

"The time has come to give Americans a choice of where they want to live. This can only be done by providing rural America with services and opportunities equal to those in the big cities.

Industry will locate in the countryside," Freeman predicted, "because it is good business to do so."

VISIT JONES' GULF STATION
 For complete car care

Full Line Of Products At Jones Gulf Station

The next time your car needs a fill-up, oil change, good washing or lubrication, stop in at Relfer Jones' Gulf Station at East Fourth and Goliad. Jones, who has been in the gas station business for 35 years, is there from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except Sunday when the station is closed. "We carry a complete line of Gulf products," Jones said. "And that includes tires, batteries, oil, kerosene and naphtha." Jones has lived in Big Spring since 1937. He believes that your car deserves the best of service, which includes quality products to keep it in good shape — and quality gasoline, to keep your car running at top performance.

Big Spring Employment Finds Right Personnel

Every employer, at one time or another, has to make a decision regarding his personal needs. The owner of a business or the personnel manager is faced with many decisions regarding the person he employs. The easiest way to assure the selection of the best personnel available is to interview and hire through the Big Spring Employment Agency.

They'll Find Employees

Sue Brown, seated, and Ruby Tarant, employment agents of Big Spring Employment Agency, are ready to serve the employment needs of Big Spring employers.

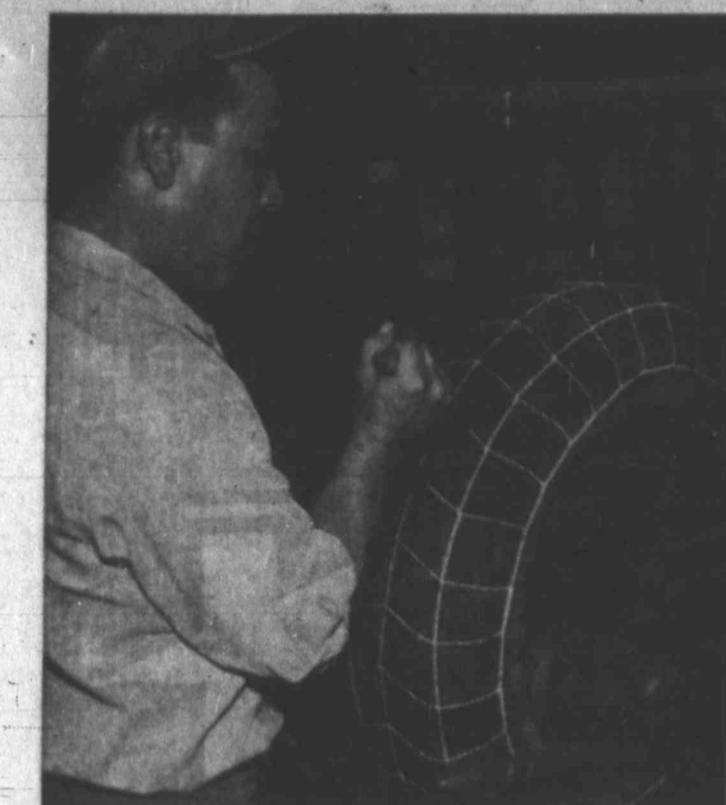

Fewer people are rejected by you because you see fewer. Every business is reminded that rejected applicants do not help your public relations. You also find that when you go through a private employment agency, there is less job turn-over for you. You get better employees many times, for many highly qualified job applicants prefer to use the services of a private employment agency, thus protecting their own identity.

EXTENSIVE TESTING

In the field of office skills, the Big Spring Employment Agency carries on an extensive testing program. Most all applicants are exposed to personal tests designed and created for testing adults in business and industrial situations. The employment counselors and the employer may successfully refer to these test results as a selection instrument in hiring applicants and also as an indicator of future possibilities.

Big Spring Employment is a haven for job hunters, from the $40-a-week clerk to the $25,000-a-year executive. They come to private agencies because they realize that the people at these agencies are technicians, specialists in job-hunting and can place them in desirable jobs sooner than they could locate them for themselves.

INTERNATIONAL
 The Big Spring Employment Agency is an affiliate of National Personnel Associates, Inc., an international recruiting organization of over 120 agencies throughout the nation. Call the Big Spring Employment Agency at AM 7-2535 the next time you must hire a new employee. They will help you in every way they can and without obligation.

Tires Rebuilt

Charley Rodriguez of Phillips Tire Co. recaps a tire in the careful manner in which all Phillips services are handled.

Phillips Tire Co. Service Is Tops

Serving Big Spring for 25 years, Phillips Tire Co., 311 Johnson, has built a fine reputation for tire sales and service in the West Texas area.

Home-owned and operated by Ted Phillips, Phillips Tire Co. can boast of personal service to its customers. What could be better than home folks serving home folks, meeting the needs that only West Texans have?

Not only does Phillips Tire Co. service the big truck accounts in Big Spring and repair tractor tires in the field so that farmers won't have to bring them into town, but the firm also handles two quality tires, Fisk and Michelin "X", the truck tire.

SAFETY TIRE
 The Fisk tire known as the Fisk Premier is the safety tire of superior durability. Engineered with four plies of powerful, pressure-cooled nylon, the Fisk Premier has proved new high speed safety. The tire has new highway control and was tested in cornering, tracking, lane changing, passing and parking. This recently-proved control has been attributed to the wrap-around tread and deep shoulder grooves for round-shoulder sureness on curves.

For increased stopping power, the Fisk Premier tire has been manufactured with over 30,000 deep gripping edges to bite in at the touch of the brake to stop shorter and quicker.

Superior durability has been engineered into the new tire. Its tough wear-resistant tread is more than 10 per cent deeper than treads on new car tires, and it has a wider tread which puts more rubber on the road and spreads the load.

MANY REPEATS
 These are only a few reasons why Big Spring motorists keep going back for the Fisk tires sold at Phillips Tire Co. The tire outlasts all other leading tires because it is fortified with Miracle Polybutadiene, the abrasion-resistant compound that stretches tire life, and it is no wonder that the Fisk Premier is one of the most popular tires sold in the West Texas area.

Trucking firms know that there is no better tire than the Michelin "X" which is also handled at Phillips Tire Co. The Michelin tire has become known as the fuel saving tire, resulting from less rolling resistance and less heat generation. Manufactured with three layers of steel cords, the "X" steel cord carcass has a radial construction allowing for greater flexibility.

The Michelin tire name carries with it the assurance of more mileage, greater safety, less maintenance, less fuel consumption and added comfort for the driver. Its proof is in the number of West Texas trucking firms which use Michelin "X" tires and return for them again when those are worn.

RANCH MASTER
 Phillips Tire Co. is the home of Ranch Master tubes. Considering all the uses that an automobile has today, it is not uncommon to pick up glass or nails in your tires.

Carver Pharmacy Built For Patron Convenience

Carver Drive-In Prescription Pharmacy, located at East Tenth and Nolan, was built for the convenience of its customers and was the first in Big Spring to feature a drive-in window for prescriptions.

This enabled patrons, wanting to pick up prescriptions in a hurry and without having to worry about dress, to drive around the building from Nolan, pick up their items and drive off on Tenth without having to worry about a parking place.

Milton Carver keeps abreast of the latest developments in prescription drugs and the trusted patent medicines. He also calls attention to the fact that the pharmacy keeps thousands of items besides medicinal supplies in stock.

For instance, when thinking of gifts for special days, there is none more appreciated than a box of Pangburn's famous chocolates. The quality candy is boxed in various sizes appropriate for gifts.

Carver also handles quality cosmetics in many well-known brands, shaving lotion and other needs for men, Hallmark books and many additional items.

Call AM 7-4417 for your prescription — Carver will have it ready for you when you drive up.

Cap Rock Co-Op Meets Saturday

Members of Cap Rock Electric Cooperative will meet Saturday evening in Stanton for their 27th annual meeting. From a handful of members in 1939, Cap Rock has grown to a present membership of 6,000 who own a 2,500-mile system valued at over $7,000,000.

Registration begins at 6:00 o'clock at the high school football field in Stanton. Over a thousand members are expected to be on hand half an hour later, when a free barbecue will be served.

The business session will be held immediately following the barbecue. In addition to hearing financial reports, members will elect six directors.

The nominating committee has placed the names of the following on the ballot: District 1—Archie Phillips, incumbent, and Neil Fryar; Dist. 2—Glenn Cantrell, incumbent, and J. L. Baugh; Dist. 3—Edgar Phillips, incumbent; Dist. 4—Raymond A. Pribyla, incumbent; Dist. 5—Alfred J. Schwartz, incumbent, and Fred Hoelscher; and Dist. 6—J. C. Sale, incumbent.

Two outstanding students will be awarded scholarships to Howard County Junior College. Prizes will be given and there will be a free movie for the children.

All Cap Rock members are urged to bring their families and attend this important meeting.

Rain Curtails City Service

Rain that helps the farmers sometimes hampers the city, Larry Crow, Big Spring city manager, said Thursday.

"Our normal August functions were completely disrupted," Crow said in his office as a soft September rain continued to fall outside.

Among the city operations curtailed by the frequent rains are the moving of weeds on public property, cleaning of alleys, construction and, most recently, the continuance of fogging for mosquitoes.

Crow said the latest round of spraying which began only two days ago had to be shut down due to wet weather.

He said the reason was that flying insects are not so active during the rains and besides moisture reduces the residual or staying effect of insecticides.

While some city functions were curtailed, others had to be increased, Crow said. The latter included the cleaning of streets and ditches muddied by running water.

Thieves Work Overtime

Thefts and vandalism kept officers busy Wednesday.

Jimmie H. Johnson, Dallas, told officers his suitcase and clothes were stolen from his car while it was parked at Miriam's Tavern, 793 W. 3rd, Tuesday night. Entry to the car was gained by breaking a window, officers said.

Leonard Coker, 200 Jefferson, reported a spare tire and wheel stolen from the trunk of his car recently.

Jack Benson, Shell Oil Co. representative of Odessa, told police that the plate glass door to the Shell Oil Co. building on the Garden City road was broken Tuesday night. Police said the door had been broken by a small rock which had been hurled against the door several times, probably by a slingshot.

A newspaper rack was reported stolen Tuesday from the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 803 E. 3rd. Billy Byrd, 2200 Runnels, who services the rack, told police it contained about $3 in change.

Alice Bryson Is Critically Ill

LUTHER (SC)—Miss Alice Bryson is critically ill at Cowper Hospital, having suffered a stroke.

Members of the family have been notified of her condition, and two sisters have arrived. They are Mrs. Hattie Lacy, and her son, Kenneth from Capitan, N. M., and Mrs. Della Brown, and a daughter, Betty Jean, from Cross Plains. Also, a niece, Mrs. Mildred Tunnell, Dallas, is here. Miss Bryson has been making her home in the Luther community with a sister, Miss Marie Bryson.

Mr. and Mrs. Deck Coleman of the Vincent Community spent the Labor Day weekend in Mountain Home, Ark., visiting with relatives.

Service Station Course Winds Up

Enrollment in Big Spring Public Schools jumped again today, up 118 from Wednesday's figures of 7,460 to 7,578.

There were 4,161 elementary students reported today, according to Supt. Sam Anderson, against 4,125 students in Wednesday's count.

Goliad Junior High School was down 17 to 1,010. Runnels Junior High listed 872 students today, up 26 students from Wednesday's count.

Other figures reported were high school, 1,369 today, 1,353 Wednesday; special education, 129 today, 120 Wednesday. Students enrolled in the three secondary sections totaled 3,251.

Crated Cycle Is Found Abandoned

A motorcycle reported stolen from the agency on Gregg over the weekend, has been found in a pasture north of here, the sheriff's office reported.

The motorcycle, still in its packing crate as received from the factory, was found by the landowner on whose place it had been abandoned. It has been returned to the owner.

WEATHER

NORTHWEST TEXAS—Scattered showers in south, partly cloudy and a few showers in north today and tonight. Partly cloudy Friday, warmer in south. Low tonight 58 to 70. High Friday 82 to 92.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS—Steadily cloudy tonight with scattered showers becoming partly cloudy with isolated showers Friday afternoon. Low tonight 62 to 72. High Friday 80 to 94.

Don't Use Ballots For Revenge, Convention Told

DALLAS (AP)—The president of the National Baptist Convention called on the 6.5 million denomination members today to use their votes "not to build black power" but to "enrich the nation's life."

"Let us not use the ballot for revenge, for it is too sacred to be desecrated," Dr. J. H. Jackson said in his president's report to delegates attending the annual convention of the Negro denomination.

"As citizens let us use our ballot to... drive from among us undesirable public officials and to help make America in truth a land of the free and home of the brave," he said.

Dr. Jackson, noted for his moderate stand on methods which should be used in striving for racial equality, told the delegates that the struggle for civil rights "must remain within the framework of the law."

"Civil riot is a means of destroying the nation from within...," he said.

He said Negroes must be concerned about maintaining civil order as about obtaining civil rights.

Dr. Jackson appealed to whites and Negroes to unite to build a completely democratic society.

He urged Negroes to aspire to ownership of their own businesses, even if it means starting on a very small scale.

He advised hiring "a white front" to counter resistance from whites who don't want to patronize a business owned by Negroes.

"It is just as fair in business to be white at the front and black in the back with the bank book as it is to be black in front and white in the back," he said.

OIL REPORT

Southwestern Natural Gas Inc. No. 1 Mabee, Martin County venture, 10 miles north of Midland, is in process of testing the producing ability of the Wolfcamp.

It is three-fourths of a mile southwest of the one-well Glass, North (Wolfcamp) pool, 1,312 feet from the north line and 1,327 feet from the east pine of section 8, block 39, T-1-N, GAMBBA survey.

In drilling to total depth of 9,960 feet no tests were reported. The project then set 4 1/2-inch casing at 9,761 feet and that pipe has been perforated between 9,327 and 9,657 feet. That action has been treated with 15,000 gallons of acid and fractured with a slurry of 80,000 gallons of fluid and 120,000 pounds of sand.

The load and residue from the stimulations will be swabbed out and then it will be possible to test the oil and gas yielding capability of the zone.

COMPLETIONS

GLASSCOCK
American Petroleum's No. 5-D Dora Roberts has been completed as a dual producer from the Howard-Glasscock (Queen) perforations in the 1,744-1,773-foot interval pumping 65 barrels of 22.7 gravity oil per day with a gas-oil ratio of 200. The location is 1,215 feet from the north line and 1,215 feet from the east pine of section 19-29, T-1-N, GAMBBA survey.

MARTIN
Texas Grade Oil's No. 2-222 State University has been completed from the MAK (Spartan) perforations in the 1,643-1,660-foot interval. Initial pumping 28 barrels of 25-gravity oil per day, six per cent water, with a gas-oil ratio of 80:1, through a 24-1/2-inch choke, with tubing pressure of 125 pounds after the formation was acidized with 1,700 gallons and fractured with 25,000 gallons and 400 pounds of sand. Total depth is 1,643 feet, with a 4 1/2-inch casing set at that depth. Location is 1,980 feet from the north line and 2,310 feet from the east pine of section 29-4, U.S. 17 miles southwest of Paducah.

MITCHELL
Windham's No. 2 Georgia Tech has been completed from the Westbank perforations in the 2,000-2,178-foot interval pumping initially 64 barrels of 25.3-gravity oil per day, 25 per cent water, gas-oil ratio 80:1, after the formation was acidized with 20,000 gallons and fractured with 25,000 gallons and 400 pounds of sand. Total depth is 2,201 feet with a 4 1/2-inch casing set at that depth. Location is 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 43-28, T-1-P survey, four miles west of Westbrook.

DAILY DRILLING

DAWSON
Pan American's No. 1 McElroy was preparing to perforate at an unspecified interval. The driller is 220 feet from the south and west lines of Labor 24, Leque 271, Loving Circle, 15 miles south of Leque.

HOWARD
Lorin's No. 1 Barber is drilling below 8,025 feet. It was cased 51 barrels of oil, recovering 49 of the 50-foot core and was preparing a driller test in 8,025-8,027 feet. The location is 1,780 feet from the north line and 660 feet from the west line of section 11-31-14, T-1-P survey, two miles southwest of Coahoma.

MARTIN
Midwest Oil's No. 1 Helle is drilling below 8,025 feet. It was cased 51 barrels of oil, recovering 49 of the 50-foot core and was preparing a driller test in 8,025-8,027 feet. The location is 1,780 feet from the north line and 660 feet from the west line of section 11-31-14, T-1-P survey, two miles southwest of Coahoma.

STERLING
Southern Minerals' No. 1 Sugg is drilling below 8,025 feet in sandy shale. The location is 800 feet from the north line and 1,980 feet from the east line of section 27-7, H-2-C survey, 13 miles south of Sterling City.

Bond Sale Considered

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District were to meet here at 2 p.m. today to hear a proposal on sale of $30,000,000 in revenue bonds.

Eastman, Dillon, Union Securities, Inc., fiscal agents for the district, has organized a syndicate of buyers, and this offer will be considered by the board. It was understood that the entire issue can be sold, but it is likely that the district will find the bond market at a peak and substantially above what it had anticipated.

Proceeds from the sale, if consummated, will finance the construction of a dam across the Colorado River at Robert Lee, together with pipeline reaching to Odessa.

"It's been a successful course and we thank all who participated," said George Oldham, representing the local Texas Oil Jobbers Association. He referred to the course in service station management.

Tonight at the last meeting, diplomas will be presented those dealers who completed the course. The session was sponsored by the TOJA and presented by the University of Texas distributive education department as refresher courses in service station management.

Pollution Board Approves Mass Dumping Of Waste

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Water Pollution Control Board has granted a permit, over the protest of Galveston County leaders, for a paper mill waste disposal facility in the western part of the Galveston mainland near the Intracoastal Waterway.

The permit allows McGinnes Industrial Corp. of Houston to dispose of up to a million gallons of waste a day for no more than 50 days a year, or a maximum of 50 million gallons a year.

The wastes would come from the Champion Paper Co. in Pasadena.

"The board feels that no water control hazard will be created by this discharge," said Hugh Yantis, chief engineer.

The permit actually authorizes shifting discharge operations from sites near the plant and on the San Jacinto River to a 35-acre pond system on ranchland McGinnes owns in Galveston County. The waste would be moved there by barge from Champion's plant.

Yantis said the waste sludge will be kept in the ponds for several years and then could be spread as dirt on the ranchland without causing any odor. He said the water discharged from the pond system into the Intracoastal Canal may not be released until it is at least one year old.

Galveston County leaders had complained that the discharges would create air and water pollution problems.

Dance License Is Suspended

The dance license of Marquez Place, 401 NW 4th, has been suspended indefinitely beginning today, Jay Banks, police chief, announced.

Banks cited an incident Saturday and "earlier violations" as reasons for issuing the suspension.

Chon Marquez, 47, owner of the place, was charged with assault with intent to commit murder after a 24-year-old farm laborer, Pedro Salazar, was wounded in a shooting at the tavern. Marquez is on $2,500 bond.

Former Resident Dies In St. Louis

Mrs. V. D. Wood Sr., former long-time resident of Big Spring, died Wednesday in St. Louis following a long illness. Her home was in Texarkana.

Services will be held Friday at 3 p.m. in the Walker-Heiderle Funeral Home in St. Louis.

Mrs. Wood's late husband was for many years car foreman for the Texas & Pacific Railway Company here. She visited here earlier this year.

Surviving are a son, Col. V. D. Wood Jr.; two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Collier, St. Louis, and Mrs. W. C. Prather, Texarkana.

Minor Traffic Mishaps Occur

Police reported that four minor traffic mishaps were investigated Wednesday.

They involved the vehicles of: Steve Robert Chrane, Sterling City Route, Big Spring, and Michael W. Sharek III, 113 Gunter Circle, Webb AFB, at Twenty-first Street and Scurry; Mrs. Jerry Ann Monson, 107 W. 6th, and a parked car police said is owned by Louis Tallant, 1004 E. 19th, in the 200 block of West Eighth; Mrs. Patricia Rudd Rhoton, 2801 Lawrence, and Pamela Kay Dyer, 1703 Aylford, at Seventeenth and Johnson; John Lee Watkins, 1200 Pennsylvania, and a parked car owned by Jim Holmes, 608 W. 17th, in the 1600 block of Pennsylvania.

Exit No. 20 For Fire Department

The fire department recorded its 20th resignation of the year Wednesday.

Fire Marshal A. D. Meador said today that Jerry Foresyth, a driver, resigned Wednesday, effective Saturday. The fireman had been with the department since 1958. He has taken a position with Cosden Oil & Chemical Co.

A number of recent resignees have taken jobs either with Cosden or one of the carbon black plants. Low pay has been cited in most resignation letters as a prime cause for leaving the department, said Meador.

Drug Speaker

Big Spring Jaycees will have a special luncheon meeting Monday at noon to hear J. H. Arnett, secretary of the state board of pharmacy, present a talk on drugs. The meeting will be held in the Patio Room of the Holiday Inn.

The meeting will also review plans for the annual Big Spring Coin Club coin show. The show will be held Oct. 22 and 23 at the Settles Hotel.

Club Sets Show Dates

E. H. Brooks, past president of the Texas Numismatic Association, will be a guest speaker at the meeting of the Big Spring Coin Club Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Brooks will discuss U.S. nickels. He is a resident of San Angelo.

The meeting will also review plans for the annual Big Spring Coin Club coin show. The show will be held Oct. 22 and 23 at the Settles Hotel.

Rest Home Sued

Bennett House, local nursing home, has been named in a damage suit brought by Marie Koonec in 118th District Court. She seeks $12,442 damages alleging that on April 23, her car was struck from the rear by a vehicle owned by the Bennett House and driven by Roger Frazier.

Relatives Killed

Mrs. N. W. McCleskey has received word of the death of her brother-in-law and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ned McCleskey, of Mineral Wells. Mr. and Mrs. McCleskey were killed in a car mishap. He was the younger brother of the late N. W. McCleskey.

Lads Find Cleanup Lot Harder Than Messing Up

Two youngsters, who admitted they vandalized the IOOF hall, agreed today that cleaning up the mess they made was not as enjoyable as making it.

Sheriff A. N. Standard, investigating the damage, said that Bob Wakefield, juvenile officer, located the offenders. One was nine years old and the other 11. They are brothers and live fairly close to the IOOF building.

After discussing the matter with the boys' mother, it was agreed the boys should clean up the hall and restore, as far as they can all of the damage they had caused.

They spent a toilsome Wednesday afternoon gathering up the yards and yards of toilet tissue they had strewn over the place, mopping up the clutter of spilled flour and sugar they had scattered over the tables and furniture, and in scrubbing the floors.

Nor is this the end of their penance, according to Standard. The brothers also have to appear before the officials of the lodge and apologize for their misdeed. Standard said the cleanup was under the watchful and critical eye of the lodge's mother.

Parking Ticket Notices Mailed

The first 100 notices warning citizens with unpaid parking tickets to pay them off were mailed Thursday, Jay Banks, chief of police, said.

He said the notices would be followed up by the issuance of warrants for those who fail to respond.

This means that these persons could be arrested and taken to jail. Banks added that the notices would continue to be mailed in an all-out effort to reduce the tremendous backlog of unpaid parking tickets.

A police department statistician estimated that there are somewhere between 3,000 and 5,000 delinquent tickets in the files.

Files Suit Over Property Line

J. C. Owen and his wife have brought suit against R. Gage Lloyd and Dr. B. B. G. Cowper in 118th District Court. The suit involves sale of a tract of land to the plaintiff by the defendants.

The plaintiff alleges he relied on the statement of the defendants that the property line was 23 feet in front of his house. The city of Big Spring paved the street, he recites, and the parking now runs alongside his doorstep.

He asks $1,000 damages, a correction deed, and cancellation of a lien.

Cattle Believed Rustler Targets

Rustlers are evidently operating in this county or, at least, have plans to operate.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that a rancher who lives north of town, recently found a number of head of his cattle penned up in a corral in an isolated part of his ranch.

The sheriff theorized that the cattle had been impounded by someone who planned to return after dark with a truck and haul them away. This, he said, is a common method of operation by cattle thieves.

He asked that all persons who see any unusual thing, such as the impounding of stock, notify his office immediately.

Is Injured

Terry Pate, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pate, 1703 Johnson, suffered a serious eye injury in a mishap Wednesday afternoon. He was opening a bundle of wire to deliver when a wire flipped around and punctured his eyeball.

STANTON Youth Critically Hurt

STANTON — Tommy Walker, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Walker, barely clung to life today in an Odessa hospital.

Tommy, B team quarterback for Stanton High School, was riding in a car which collided with another one Monday afternoon in the downtown section. The collision was a minor one, but Tommy was thrown out of the car and his head struck the pavement, fracturing his skull. His condition worsened Wednesday to the point it was feared he would not make it through the night.

Giants' Houdini Act Pays Off In 3-2 Win

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Wizard of Candlestick Park did it again. Just one day after he had extracted a three-hit performance from the previously listless Ray Sadecki, San Francisco Manager Herman Franks played presto-change, now you see him, now you don't, with his line-up Wednesday and, lo and behold, the Giants beat the Dodgers again, 3-2 in 12 innings.

Giants' Pacific Coast League farm club in Phoenix, where he hit .315. With the score tied 2-2 in the bottom of the ninth and a chance to climb to within half a game of the National League-leading Pittsburgh Pirates at stake, Houdini Franks decided it was the perfect time to test Johnson and he put him out in left field. Johnson didn't discredit himself out there, but as the game went into the 10th inning, he came to the plate with Willie Mays on first and two out. If Franks had not juggled the lineup, the batter would have been Jim Hart, who had produced the Giants' only runs to that point with a two-run homer back in the first inning. Johnson struck out and Franks must have wondered what happened to his magic wand. The game sailed along into the 12th, entertaining the record Dodger Stadium crowd of 54,993 no end, when history repeated itself in record time. With two out, Dodger reliever Joe Moeller missed on three close pitches to Mays and decided to throw the fourth one wide purposely rather than let Willie have a whack at an easy one.

Graebner Is Lone American Winner

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The loneliest man in the National Tennis Championships today — and perhaps the proudest — is the 24-year-old son of a Cleveland doctor, Clark Graebner.

Washington, N. Y., bowed to Wimbledon champion and the defender, Manuel Santana of Spain 9-7, 9-7, 8-6. This is a big year for Graebner. He won the Pennsylvania championships at Merion and went to the final of the Eastern at Orange, N. J. He teamed with Ralston to defeat the Mexicans in the American Zone final at Cleveland 5-0.

Table with 10 columns: Player, IP, H, R, ER, BB, SO. Lists statistics for pitchers like Glavin, Sembrano, Coffey, Piche, and Woodcock.

"I'm glad I won, but, gee, I'm sorry our other guys had to lose," Graebner said after he had survived a two-hour duel with England's Graham Stilwell 9-11, 8-6, 6-3, 7-5. The good-looking 6-footer, who for years has been labeled strictly a doubles player and is ranked only 13th nationally, now becomes a key man in the United States' plan for recovering the Davis Cup — a bleak prospect.

Graebner's big moment comes Friday when he plays Stolle, Ralston's conqueror, in the quarter-finals. If he wins, he gets a shot at the Emerson-Owen Davidson winner, another Aussie test. Two American girls — Nancy Rice of Dallas, Tex., and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco — remain to challenge former champion Maria Bueno of Brazil in the women's division.

Owls Unlikely To Field Much This Autumn

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Any mention of the Rice Owls and 1966 football has brought an almost automatic reaction among Southwest Conference fans: 1. The Owls' great veteran coach, Jess Neely, is set to retire within a year to occasion 1966 as his final campaign. So everyone wishes him well but it seems unlikely because Rice has an awesome schedule to play the winners of the Cotton, Bluebonnet and Rose Bowl games in order before seven tough conference foes.

2. To compound the situation the Owls must challenge this brutal slate with a squad almost frighteningly short of experience and proven depth, especially in comparison to all but a couple of rivals this fall. The combination of these elements with generally rosy outlooks at most other conference schools has resulted in Rice getting one of the biggest preseason "brushoffs" in the league's history.

Despite the slights of the men who have to go with measurements on paper to forecast a quiet season, there is a quiet determination around the Owls' nest that indicates the men of Neely just might not be as much a patsy as most people seem to expect. Rice faces a big challenge, but Neely leads the way one more time — and his record has been a fine one, even with long odds in the past.

Joe Namath May Be On Bench Friday

By The Associated Press

Joe Namath, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback, was the American Football League's Rookie-of-the-Year in 1965, but Friday he might only be sophomore-on-the-bench. Jets Coach Weeb Ewbank says Namath is "physically able and ready to play," but adds that "it's a toss-up who will start against the Miami Dolphins — Joe or Mike Taliaferro."

It is not that Namath has not been on target. Ewbank said both players have looked good in practice this week. But how do you tell Taliaferro, who directed the Jets through an unbeaten exhibition season after Namath injured his knee in the first quarter of the first game, that he is not starting?

The New Dolphins, looking for their first victory after five exhibition losses and a near miss last week, were not taking any chances. They prepared for Namath or Taliaferro. "We know both are good passers," Coach George Wilson said, "and that Taliaferro has led them to four straight victories." Fans around the country will see the battle on national television at 7:30 p.m., EDT. The National Football League opens its season this weekend and the first game is a dandy, pitting defending Western Division champion Baltimore against Green Bay, picked by many to unseat the Colts this season. That game in Milwaukee also will be nationally televised.

Coaches Fret As Game Nears

Lamesa's passing game is a source of deep concern as the Big Spring Steers Wednesday chugged to the end of their heavy workouts for their Friday night football debut in Lamesa. The Tornados go heavy for the pass, with two able quarterbacks able to throw the long bombs with accuracy. The Lamesa aerialists are Bob Wiggins and Gene Everheart and coach Herman Smith of Big Spring says there is little to choose between them.

Lamesa is lining for revenge, after having been defeated by the Steers in their opener a year ago, 26-0. Fifteen lettermen are back from that team. End Gary Mayfield, a 170-pounder, is the favorite passing target of the Tornado passers but Larry Aten can also field the ball expertly. Ten of the 11 starters for Lamesa are seniors. Only junior in the group is the 205-pound Jerry Kunkel, a tackle.

Booster Club Meets Tuesday

First meeting of the year for the Quarterback Club is scheduled for Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. in the new vocational building at Big Spring High School. This structure is north of the gymnasium and can be reached from the east parking lot, said Everett Whately, co-captain of the QB Club.

Films of the opening game at Lamesa this Friday evening will be projected, and coaches will give a commentary. All who have been selling memberships are asked to bring in the money or the unused tickets, said Whately. Those who have been selling membership tickets and who will not be able to attend Tuesday's meeting should turn the money in to Duncan Drilling Company offices at 2209 Gregg St. James Duncan is co-captain of the QBC, along with Whately. As a gesture of good will toward the QBC and athletics in general, grocer Don Newsom is again going to furnish coffee and doughnuts without charge for the club meetings.

Deane Beman Will Head U.S. Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., who lost the U.S. Amateur Golf Tournament in a playoff Sunday, was named Wednesday to the U.S. World Cup team for the fourth straight year. Joining him will be Ron Cerudo of San Rafael, Calif.; Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., and Bob Murphy of Gainesville, Fla. Don Allen of Rochester, N.Y., Jim Wiechers of Atherton, Calif., and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., were picked as alternates and Jess Sweetser of Washington, D.C., the non-playing captain.

German Suggests Clay Is Worried

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Karl Mildenberger says he sees something to worry Casius Clay, but Clay isn't letting it bother him.

Just as Max Schmeling said, "I see something" before knocking out Joe Louis in 1936, Mildenberger said Wednesday, "I've seen all Clay's fights and I think I have found something to make him worried." Schmeling had referred to a weakness in Louis' style that enabled him to upset him, but Joe corrected the situation in their second meeting in 1938, knocking Schmeling out in a round.

Ticket Sales Limp In Rain

Weeping skies Wednesday served to slow down sale of tickets to the Big Spring-Lamesa football game, which will be played Friday night starting at 8 o'clock in Lamesa. Big Spring was forwarded 937 adult ducats, priced at $1.50 each, and only 325 were sold Wednesday. However, the tickets were made available only to season ticket holders yesterday. The remainder went on sale to the general public today. Demand for the pastebards was reported brisk at 9:30 a.m.

The tickets, good for locations in the east stands at Lamesa, are available at the School Business Office, 807 E. 13th. They will remain available here until 1 p.m. Friday. The office will be open during the noon hour. The season ticket sale has escalated to 978, still shy of last year's figure. School officials predicted the demand for season ducats would pick up sharply if Big Spring wins its opening game.

Official Insists Outlook Is Good

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The new head of Mexico's Olympic Organizing Committee says all installations will be completed in time for the 1968 Games to be held here. Pedro Ramirez Vazquez, who succeeded former President Adolfo Lopez Mateos when he resigned the post last month because of ill health, said Wednesday there should be no cause for alarm.

HORSE MAY WIND UP THE STAR ON ONE SHOW

Two New Series Are Pleasant, Routine

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Two more of ABC's new series were born Wednesday night and in spite of some immediate difficulties, both gave indications that they might develop into pleasant if routine entertainment.

"The Monroes," an hour long, will be primarily the story of five youngsters, the oldest a boy of 18, who are orphaned a short distance from the Wyoming valley in which their father, an Illinois farmer, wanted to put down new roots.

Thus in the opening episode, it was important to show how the children lost their parents — but not to over-emphasize the tragedy lest it interfere with the subsequent action. We saw the happy family riding along in their 1875 covered wagon, and all of a sudden both mother and father and the family cow were swept away in the swift current of a river they were crossing.

Then the survivors met up with a friendly Indian and some nasty, rough drovers who wanted to hassle the little family out of the territory.

All this sounds rather old hat, but "The Monroes" has a number of nice things going for it. The young actors playing the five Monroes are an attractive and convincing lot. The series has been shot in the Jackson Hole country and the scenery and backgrounds are a nice change from those familiar old fake rocks of the studio back lots.

In addition to establishing one of those warm family relationships, there is enough fighting, shooting and general rough stuff to satisfy most audiences.

"The Man Who Never Was," which followed the Western, also had to start at the very beginning. A U.S. secret agent on the run in East Berlin had the luck to run into his exact double — a no-good American millionaire — at the very minute he needed him most.

The millionaire, in fact, took a fatal bullet intended for our hero who at the end of the first episode was stepping into the dead man's shoes.

The series obviously has not the slightest relationship to a book of the same name, which was a World War II spy story. Robert Lansing plays the spy and is bound to have some pretty exciting experiences hereafter.

Three half-hour comedy series had their premiere shows on ABC Tuesday night. About all they had in common was the network — and very loud laugh tracks on two of them.

First there was "The Rounders," a broad Western rib-tickler about two cowboys, their boss and an engaging horse which can sit down on its hind legs. The horse may wind up as clubs, overtook the queen with North's ace, and continued with the jack to discard the six of spades from his hand.

The queen of hearts was led next, for a finesse. West won the trick with the king and alertly returned a trump, rather than attempt to cash any spades. South was in his hand and rather belatedly, he led a diamond and put up the king. East played the ace and returned his last trump.

Declarer could ruff out only one diamond loser, and in the end he was obliged to concede a diamond and a spade to the opposition for a one trick set on the deal.

South was in too great a hurry to draw trump. After he has provided for one of his spade losers, declarer can afford to give up a spade, the ace of diamonds and if necessary—a heart trick, however, he must take pains to assure himself of two diamond ruffs in dummy so that he does not lose a second trick in that suit.

After the third round of clubs, South should lead the king of diamonds. East puts up the ace and may return a trump. Declarer can afford to take the finesse now, since he does not intend to surrender the lead again until he has completed his washing. West is in with the king of hearts and returns the suit.

South cashes the queen of diamonds, ruffs a diamond, returns to his hand by trumping a club and then ruffs his remaining diamond. The ace of hearts provides him with his 10th trick.

National Realtor Chief Raps Tight Funds, Forced Housing

Tight money is threatening the economy of the country and the federal "forced housing" proposal is threatening the basic concept of property ownership, the head of the nation's real estate agents declared here Wednesday.

Jack Justice, Miami, Fla., addressing approximately 175 service club members and realtors, declared that Title IV of the civil rights bill now pending in the U.S. Senate is "vicious legislation." He said that the National Association of Real Estate Boards, of which he is president, is fighting it hammer and tong.

"Every referendum to date has been decisive against forced housing," he declared, adding that people have a chance to participate in an indirect referendum by writing their feelings at once to their senators.

He was frankly worried about the money market, too, which has almost halted mortgage loans.

INFLATION HERE

In his talk at the Cosden Country Club, Justice said there is "no problem more serious and complex than the money market." The public demand for credit and government spending have brought the nation to the point where mechanical brakes on the economy simply can't contain upward pressures.

"By whatever definition, we are experiencing inflation," he asserted. "Government policy makers must first recognize this fact. Then there must be recognition of the necessity of decreasing federal expenditures, balancing the budget and possibly increasing taxes."

After the election, he hoped for more legislative resistance to spending and more forthright action in facing a tax hike.

UNEQUAL BATTLE

His main guns, however, were trained on the housing section of the pending civil rights act. Title IV makes it a federal offense to refuse to sell or rent to any person for reasons of color, national background, etc. Any potential buyer who felt he had been discriminated against could file a complaint which would be prosecuted by the government in federal courts at taxpayer expense, said Justice. On the other hand, the owner would have to defend himself at his own expense against accusations, whether well founded or not. He termed this unequal and "ridiculous."

"No segment of the population can be well served by destroying the fundamental right to freely dispose of property," said Justice. Take away the right to dispose, and ownership becomes purely custodial.

URGES ALTERNATIVE

The only answer to the problem of equal opportunity in housing is voluntary action, good will and understanding, he claimed.

Justice, who was introduced by George McCanse, Houston regional vice president of NAREB, pointed to the advantage of affiliation with local and national real estate groups. This promotes professionalism and ethical conduct, he said. With him here were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bahnmann, Harlingen, and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Leudtke, Austin. Dennis Wagner, El Paso, and Warren Fowler, Midland. Bahnmann heads the state association. Leudtke is its executive vice president, and Fowler is a member of the state real estate commission. Jeff Brown, president of the Big Spring Board of Realtors, presided and Rev. Leo Gee gave the invocation.

Downtown Lions and Kiwanians joined together with realtors for the occasion.

Force, have expanded."

RMK-BRJ operates on a cost-plus basis ranging from 1.7 to 2.46 per cent of the eventual cost of a project. It is building jet airfields, deepwater ports, warehouses, power plants, ammunition storage depots, troop cantonments, hospitals and a wide variety of other projects.

At its peak, the combine's work force numbered 51,700, the largest force ever assembled for an American construction program.

While some projects are costing more because of the expanding war, the over-all programming in Viet Nam is less at this point than envisaged a year ago, U.S. Navy officials said. For this reason, RMK-BRJ is geared up for more work than they are getting.

Four companies make up RMK-BRJ — Raymond International Inc. of New York, Morrison-Knudsen of Boise, Idaho, Brown and Root of Houston, Tex., and the J. A. Jones Construction Co. of Charlotte, N.C.

The consortium has started laying off workers, including Americans. Officials from the consortium are known to be unhappy because some contracts they feel they could have handled cheaper have gone to other contractors.

More Money For Projects Is Needed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The expanding war has altered initial estimates of U.S. construction programs in Viet Nam that another $200 million is required to complete projects already on the books, U.S. Navy officials said today.

The money is needed to finance projects currently being built by the RMK-BRJ Consortium, a group of U.S. construction companies that holds contracts worth $800 million.

The U.S. Navy supervises the construction. One example of the expanding costs is improvement of the Saigon port, where the initial estimate of $10 million has been upped to $50 million. The increase was caused by demands for more wharf space to handle the vastly increased sea traffic to Viet Nam from the United States.

The Department of Defense is now considering increased allocations to enable completion of current projects.

The deputy officer in charge of construction, U.S. Navy Capt. W. R. Rogers, said today: "This is not a critical situation. Building is going ahead all over Viet Nam by our civilian contractors. This money is needed because the needs of our customers, the Army, Navy and Air

Johnson Hails Musicians For Winning In Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson hailed 13 young American musicians — winners of an international competition in Moscow — for doing more than diplomats to inspire understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union.

He bestowed the title "national treasures" on the winners Wednesday night before a White House audience that included some of the elite of America's world of music and the performing arts. With the Soviet minister counselor, Alexander I. Zinchuk, in a front-row East Room seat, Johnson declared:

"I hope history will record this example of how music has reached across the oceans, the walls and the ideologies that separate us, and found response in the hearts of the Russian people. I hope that it will be followed by other actions in other fields so that other threads of understanding can be strung across the space between us."

Afterwards, mingling at a buffet supper in the state dining room, Zinchuk said Johnson's remarks were "very true."

Five of the winners — three singers, a pianist and a cellist — staged an hour-long concert, receiving ovations from the 350 White House guests and congratulations from the Johnsons and pianist Van Cliburn, winner of the International Tchaikovsky competition when it was inaugurated in 1958.

Cliburn, 34, of Kilgore, Tex., was cast in a new role — master of ceremonies.

The star of the evening was statuesque soprano Jane Marsh, 24, of Mill Valley, Calif., and New York, who won first prize in the vocal division of the Moscow competition — the first American to receive that honor.

Amid all the emphasis on excellence, the White House stage lighting failed and the President had to make his speech in a darkened ballroom.

Peace Corps Changing Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps, now in its fifth year, has slowly changed the training methods it uses to prepare volunteers for duty in foreign countries.

Gradually, the corps has shifted training from the ivy-covered lecture halls of the nation's university campuses to the slum areas of the large cities, onto the Indian reservations of the Southwest and West and into the poverty pockets of Appalachia.

Volunteer trainees also are entering camps such as one in the Florida Keys which is to be similar to what the volunteers will find in the South Seas.

Or, like the Pennsylvania camp at Shawnee on Delaware — some two hours from Philadelphia — where a market place and a temple have been built to give the trainee a touch of the atmosphere of a small village in India.

Other volunteers are being sent overseas immediately to the country in which they will undergo on-the-job training.

"We're just trying to give them something new and different. A new change of life for most of them," said Brent Ashabranner, director of the Peace Corps Division of University Relations and Training.

"We found that lecture halls and tile showers are detriments to volunteers who will be working in underdeveloped areas."

Ashabranner emphasized that universities — and recently private industry — are running the training programs. They have just moved them from the campuses to the field.

The Peace Corps now has 12,000 volunteers serving in 46 nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America. On Aug. 16, Sally Poland of Louisville, Ky., became the 10,000th volunteer to complete service overseas when she returned from Turkey.

Some 7,500 men and women are now in training programs which began in late June and early July and run through September. It is the largest number of trainees to sign up for any one period.

The summer programs train the volunteers in teaching, community development, health, agriculture and foreign languages.

At least 45 different languages are being taught although the Peace Corps is geared to teach about 65.

About 35 per cent of the men and women who complete training will be sent to Latin America, 21 per cent to Africa and the remainder to the Middle East, Asia and the Far East. By year's end, the Peace Corps will have volunteers at work in 53 countries and the trust territory of the Pacific, known as Micronesia.

For the first time, trainees are preparing for assignment in Micronesia, South Korea, Guyana, Mauritania, Chad, Bechuanaland and Libya. The first volunteers to Paraguay will train in early fall.

Intersections Are Made Safer

BEAUMONT (AP) — Officials have begun action to clear 70 intersections of shrubbery and other obstructions which prevent adequate vision.

City ordinance forbids trees or shrubs within 30 feet of an intersection.

Atlanta's Leaders Talk About Riot Prevention

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — While police maintained an alert against further rioting by Negroes, city officials and white and Negro community leaders sought today to pinpoint causes and prevent a recurrence.

Ten Negroes were jailed Wednesday after police broke up a leaflet-distribution gathering at the spot where several hours of violence began the day before, shattering the city's image of racial harmony.

But the day was primarily one of meetings. A major point of discussion was what to do about Stokely Carmichael and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which he heads.

"Atlanta is not by far a perfect city but it is too great to be destroyed by simple-minded bigotry," said the Rev. Samuel Williams, local president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

leaders from various organizations.

Many of those present were critical of the SNCC role in the rock-and-bottle-throwing, burning and overturning of vehicles which erupted Tuesday after an Atlanta policeman shot a fleeing Negro man, now hospitalized in fair condition.

"Our main concern here is Stokely Carmichael," said the Rev. Otis Smith, "whether or not we have a riot is up to him."

Carmichael was in the area before the rioting began but was not seen there later. Two SNCC members, William Ware and Bobby Vance Walton, 20, were arrested during the disturbance on charges of inciting to riot.

Replying to the criticism, Carmichael said, "SNCC did not and could not start a rebellion." "This was started by an act," he said in a statement to a radio station (WAGK), "a white policeman shooting down a black man in a black community."

Station's Call May Have Saved Her Life Anyway

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mary Cook, 16, didn't win the $500 cash on an Oklahoma City radio station's giveaway contest

Wednesday night, but she figures she hit the jackpot, anyway. The station's telephone call may have saved her life.

Mary was sleeping and her parents were shopping when Radio Station WKY called to say her number had been picked at random for a chance at a prize. Waking up to answer the phone, she discovered the kitchen was on fire.

"I'm sorry, sir, but my house is on fire," she told the station announcer, and hung up to telephone the fire department. Firemen extinguished the blaze quickly.

TRAVELER'S OBSERVATIONS

Chinese Hold Economic Reins On Island Of Tahiti

By HOUSTON HARTE
 PAPEETE, Tahiti—If you can get a person who has lived in this "paradise land" to talk to you frankly you will learn the Tahitians have no class distinctions either economically or socially. Even the census taker has only three classes of citizen: Frenchmen, Europeans and Chinese.

The industrious, thrifty Chinese have come as near creating their own class in Tahiti as they have done in San Francisco or other western cities. Universally they have been money-makers and money-hoarders.

SAVE MONEY

They have been able to take any kind of work anywhere at any price and save a little of it. Perhaps this is one of the things that has prevented the Chinese from being assimilated in this melting pot land. The Chinese came here to work in the cotton fields. When the cotton industry failed after the close of our Civil War they went back home or moved into mercantile lines and soon controlled the banking and financial activities of the islands.

In the early days Chinese children born from a mixed Chinese marriage could take either Polynesian (French) or Chinese citizenship by a simple declaration.

After 1935 children of these mixed marriages had to go through the full naturalization procedures followed by nationals of any other land.

Children in Tahiti, like young people everywhere, want to choose their own partners for life and follow the official French civil marriage service. Nationalist China has a consulate in Papeete which serves the Chinese who did not qualify for French Polynesian citizenship when the 1930 Chinese immigration rules almost made it impossible for Chinese to come into Polynesian citizenship.

SPEAK FRENCH

At one time the Chinese schools, where half the courses were taught in Chinese and the other half in French, were as large as the other schools. Now children, and their parents, realize that advancement in the area is dependent on fluent French. Today the Roman Catholic schools have the large enrollment in Papeete.

No doubt a segment of the Chinese citizens who control the commerce of the islands still have a hankering for the old homeland, but the new generation which was born here since 1930 know nothing but the South Seas. This is their homeland and the French, who looked upon the Chinese as representing a problem, applaud their financial and conservative influence in the area and respect their unusual abilities.

Cooler Air Moving Down

Associated Press Sports Writer

A huge mass of cool air from Canada over the Northeast sent temperatures to autumnal levels today across the Great Lakes region and New England.

The mercury dropped to the 40s and 50s in the cool belt and appeared headed for the 30s in the upper Great Lakes region and the Appalachians.

Skies again were clear in most of the nation. Clouds were reported only along the Gulf Coast and in the northwest quarter of the country.

Moisture flowing inland from the Gulf of Mexico set off thunderstorms across Texas during the night.

South winds fanning northward through the Plains were expected to push temperatures to or above 90 degrees from Texas to the Dakotas.

Other wet spots during the night included Gainesville, Fla., and Carlsbad, N. M., 1.65 in an hour.

CONTROL 75 PCT

Statistics show the Chinese control 75 per cent of the mercantile business of the islands, are the major factor in the marketing and sale of vanilla, one of Tahiti's major exports. They have a big stake in the small shipping lines which are so essential to the people living on the hundreds of remote islands in the south seas.

Tahiti does not suffer from a lack of churches. The French, from the time the navigator Bougainville visited Tahiti in 1768, one year later than Capt. Wallis, the English discoverer, assisted Catholic Missions in being established on the island.

MISSION

The London Missionary Society established a mission at progress with the natives. Bougainville on a later voyage brought the wonderful colorful plant which grows so profusely in Tahiti and other South Sea islands, which now bears his name.

In a three and a half hour drive around the island you are impressed by the number of churches and schools. In the approximately 80 miles of good macadam road you wondered

Division Swamped With Slimy Slugs

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—The medical division of Oak Ridge Associated Universities has issued a call for 1,000 slugs, — snail-type, slippery gastropods — and offered to pay five cents for each one they get.

Today they issued this call: Stop the slugs!

Youthful stalkers for science had swamped the division offices with more than 2,000 slugs by late Wednesday.

The slugs are to be used by the Orau Lipid Research Group. Lipids, proteins and carbohydrates make up the principal components of living cells.

Verwoerd Rites Slated, Accused Man Quizzed

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The body of assassinated Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd was to be flown today to Pretoria, South Africa's administrative capital, for a state funeral Saturday.

Verwoerd's widow requested that details of the flight be kept secret. The family requested that the body not lie in state, and it was expected that it would be placed in a private funeral parlor.

Flags flew at half staff across the country. All sports events were canceled. Police at Pretoria said calm prevailed in the country of 3.5 million whites and 10 million blacks.

The South African Press Association reported that the ruling Nationalist party would caucus Tuesday to appoint a new leader who automatically will become the next prime minister.

Acting Prime Minister Theophilus Dones, Verwoerd's finance minister, was considered a strong contender, having lost the post to Verwoerd by 12 votes after the death of Prime Minister Johannes Strijdom in 1958.

Other likely contenders are Justice Minister Balthazar J. Vorster and Transport Minister Ben Schoeman.

The Nationalist caucus pledged its "unshakable determination" Wednesday to follow Verwoerd's policies, ending any speculation that his death might result in a weakening of South Africa's stringent racial policies.

Without detailing the investigation of the assassination, Justice Minister Vorster said

Information "indicates it was the deed of one individual and his actions and movements are now being investigated in the finest detail."

Scores of persons were being questioned about the accused assassin, Dimitri Tsafendas, a tall, powerful, gray-haired man in his late 40s who had been working as a messenger in Parliament for a month.

A security policeman said Tsafendas had not been charged yet. Vorster promised that "the law will take its relentless course" in dealing with the assassin.

Recipes, Ingenuity Become Basis For Unique Parties

By JO ANN PHINIZY

The realm of cooking can have its own special place in the daily scheme of things. The requirements are imagination, willingness, and not hesitating to use whatever is available. Such is the philosophy of Mrs. William Hascall, 115 Gunter.

She explained that food is interesting; that the preparation and display of a special dish is just as creative as the choreography of a Broadway play.

"If you enjoy cooking," she said, "there are all sorts of ways to find excuses to open a cook, or decoration, book and get busy. And there's no real reason to wait for a special occasion to present itself."

Take the morning coffee hour. Mrs. Hascall sometimes sees a new and different recipe for a coffee cake or cinnamon roll—and lets that become the reason for inviting in friends.

For appropriate surroundings to present the new dish, she makes an imaginative centerpiece of such things as daisies and lemons, and serves coffee from her silver coffee service. The result is a festive and pleasant way to start the day.

EXTRA CARE

"There are all sorts of ways to put food on center stage," Mrs. Hascall said. "In fact, a little extra thought can make a family meal special or add fun to a special occasion."

Did you ever try making hors d'oeuvres using mushrooms and smoked oysters? And how about serving roast beef with a side dish of whipped cream with horseradish and a dash of garlic powder?

It's fun to decorate a going-away-cake with such things as confection pink elephants, or make a ginger bread house for a Christmas theme."

Another dish Mrs. Hascall often serves is quick, easy and adds color to any table.

She starts with a selection of canned fruits of such things as pineapple, pears, apples or "just anything, so long as there is an array of contrast." Then she sprinkles on a touch of curry, brown sugar, cinnamon and dots of butter. Heated and arranged on a serving platter, it can turn meat and potatoes into something to be remembered.

CLUB INTEREST

The central beneficiaries of Mrs. Hascall's culinary talents are Maj. William Hascall and "almost four," Elizabeth. In addition, she takes an active interest in the affairs of the Officers Wives Club and the Protestant Women of the Chapel.

Mrs. Hascall credits her cooking interest to several factors.

"My mother and mother-in-law are excellent cooks," she said. "I guess I got my knowledge of ingredients and methods from them."

She explained that the secret of selecting a good recipe is in knowing the values of ingredients and how they react under various cooking conditions.

Then there's the trap of color pictures in cookbooks and magazines.

"It seems such a shame not to try them myself," she said. In selecting her recipes, Mrs. Hascall chose several that are an addition to any collection.

BLACK-BOTTOM PIE

1/2 cup sugar
2 tbsps. cornstarch
2 cups milk, scalded
4 beaten egg yolks
1 6-oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 tsp. vanilla
1 baked 10-inch pie shell
1 tsp. unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 tsp. almond flavoring
1 tsp. rum flavoring or whiskey
4 egg whites
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Chocolate shavings
Combine sugar and cornstarch. Slowly add scalded milk to beaten egg yolks. Stir in sugar mixture. Cook in top of double boiler until custard coats a spoon, about 20 minutes.

To one cup of the custard, add the chocolate pieces. Stir until chocolate is melted and add vanilla. Pour in bottom of cooled, baked pie shell and chill. Soften gelatin in cold water; add to remaining hot custard. Stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thick. Beat egg whites, adding sugar gradually, until mixture stands in stiff peaks. Fold in custard-gelatin mixture. Add flavorings and pour over chocolate layer, and chill until set. Garnish with whipped cream and chocolate shavings.

Try sprinkling a few chopped pecans in bottom of baked pie crust before filling with chocolate custard.

LADIES LUNCHEON

Prepare individual servings: Peel, seed, halve ripe avocado and place on bed of shredded lettuce in center of luncheon plate. Center each avocado with marinated artichoke hearts. Around avocado, place chunks of cooked chicken breasts (cooked shrimp or ham may be substituted for chicken). For color, add small wedges of tomato. Serve with vinegar and oil dressing. Numerous designs can be made from these ingredients.

FRENCH CHOCOLATES

2 6-oz. pkgs. semi-sweet chocolate pieces (2 cups)
3/4 cup sweetened condensed milk
Few grains salt
1 cup chopped walnuts (optional)
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1 cup chopped raisins
Granulated sugar
In double boiler, melt chocolate over hot, not boiling, water. Stir in condensed milk, salt, walnuts, raisins and extract. Cool until easy to shape into small balls. Dip each into sugar. Makes 1 1/2 pounds.

FAVORITE DESSERTS

To white cake batter, add two squares chocolate, shaved (large curls). Bake in two round pans and frost with favorite dark chocolate frosting. (Frosting on top and sides of cake should be thin.) After chocolate frosting sets, cover entire cake with whipped low calorie topping and sprinkle with angel flake coconut. Should be refrigerated over night before serving. Best served cold.

BERNAISE SAUCE

1/4 cup dry white wine
1/4 cup wine vinegar
1 tsp. minced shallots of onions
1 tsp. dried tarragon leaves
1 tsp. chervil or parsley
Freshly ground black pepper
3 egg yolks
1 cup butter, melted
2 tbsps. fresh minced parsley
Combine wine, vinegar, shallots, dried herbs and pepper in top of double boiler. Cook over low heat until liquid reduced to about half. Strain and cool. Put egg yolks into double boiler and beat until frothy. Beat in vinegar mixture and place over hot water. Add butter slowly, about a teaspoon at a time, beating constantly. Add additional salt and pepper, if desired, and stir in fresh parsley.

Beef Stew Takes Color In Cooking

Should you brown boneless cubes of beef or lamb when preparing stew? What about meaty bones for stew?

In either case, to brown or not to brown depends upon personal preference. Browning in lard or drippings or dredging in seasoned flour and then browning gives an attractive brown color to stew or stock. It does add flavor. If you prefer a light colored stew and need a light colored stock, then simply cover the meat with water and simmer.

Some meats which are cooked in liquid are not browned. These include tongue, corned beef, brisket (fresh brisket is often browned first, however), cured and smoked hams, kidneys and hart.

Improve Menus With Spice Relish

Use a jar of this spicy relish now, store the rest for eating enjoyment.

PEACH CHUTNEY

2 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups cider vinegar
1 cup coarsely grated sweet onion
1 large clove garlic, minced
1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce
1 small pod chili pepper (from mixed pickling spices)
1 tsp. ground ginger
1 stick cinnamon and 1 tsp. whole all spice tied in a bag
1 cup currants (rinsed and drained)
7 cups prepared peaches
In a large kettle mix all the ingredients except the peaches and boil for 10 minutes. Add peaches and boil gently, stirring often, until they are clear and syrup is thickened. Remove spice bag. Ladle boiling hot relish to within 1/4 inch of the top of fruit jars; place dome lids on jars; screw bands tight. Makes five 1/2 pint.

Sugar Joins Cost List

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK (AP) — Across the country, families are feeling the pinch of higher food prices. They spent an average of nearly $1,025 a family on food in 1965 — a record.

This year the total may run 6 to 7 per cent higher.

The latest increase is in the price of refined sugar — at a time when the price of raw sugar on the world market has dropped to the lowest in 25 years and there is a worldwide surplus of 20 million tons — about twice the annual U.S. consumption.

The U.S. sugar quota system intertwined with foreign policy has helped create an artificial shortage of refined sugar in the United States and guaranteed foreign producers twice the price they can get in the rest of the world — with the American housewife footing the bill.

But coffee — without sugar — is getting cheaper.

Three large companies have cut their wholesale coffee prices.

Potato prices are headed higher — but nowhere nearly as high as a year ago.

Tomato products also may cost more in the months ahead. The tomato crop was cut by bad weather.

Pork chops are down 30 cents a pound in a New York area supermarket chain this week-end. Smoked hams are down 3 to 11 cents on the West Coast and bacon 3 to 4 cents.

Canned pineapple and pineapple juice and fruit cocktail may be featured as specials at many markets.

Simmering Requires Attention

When you read in a recipe that a certain cut of meat is to be covered with water and simmered, it means just that! Simmering, if you're using a thermometer in the water, means keeping the temperature of liquid at 185 degrees while boiling is 212 degrees.

Are there bubbles in the liquid in simmering? Yes, they form slowly and break below the surface. It's different from the constant bubbling and furious activity that one encounters with boiling temperature.

Why is simmering recommended rather than boiling? It is a more moderate temperature in keeping with lower temperatures advised for cooking meat cuts. Cooking meat at low temperature gives a more attractive, more tender and more juicy product. It also reduces shrinkage.

Yvonne De Carlo, one of the loveliest heroines who has ever caused the wide screen to quiver with anticipation, is also noted in the fabled towers of film-land as a hostess of note, one who usually has a tasty surprise for a friendly gathering.

Her entertaining frequently consists not of formal dinners or even buffet-style luncheons but of one of America's favorite pastimes, the cocktail party.

Miss De Carlo offers two interesting tidbits, both easy to make unless you attempt the puff paste yourself, in which case there may be complications. Don't despair, however, for tiny and delicious little pasty shells nowadays come handily from the frozen food counter and save lots of work for all concerned.

And who wants to slave and toil before such a happy event as a convention of friends? So, either buy or otherwise provide yourself with a whole bunch of wee puff shells and

Cut the slices into three strips each and place them on a baking sheet. Brown them in a 425-degree oven eight or ten minutes.

While they are browning, combine a half-pound of cooked ground lamb, a quarter-cup of mayonnaise, a small onion finely chopped, a quarter-teaspoon of paprika, a teaspoon of lemon juice, and two tablespoons of chopped chives.

Spread the browned toast strips with the mixture, top with strips of pimiento or sprigs of parsley and prepare to welcome your guests.

Book Describes Ways To Observe Diet Orders

Here it is! A guide for those families who are interested in changing their diet to conform to research done in recent years on the relationship between coronary heart disease and cholesterol in the blood.

In "Eat Well and Stay Well" by Ancel and Margaret Keys the nutrition whys and wherefores are so simple that lay persons can decide for themselves whether they want to follow the book's diet advice.

The first part of the volume explores the reasons for many scientists' suspicion that "luxurious high-fat diets may promote coronary heart disease." Dr. Keys sums up his recommendations.

1. Do not get fat; if you are fat, reduce.
2. Restrict saturated fats, the fats in beef, pork, lamb, sausages, margarine, solid shortenings, fats in dairy products.
3. Prefer vegetable oils to solid fats, but keep total fats under 30 per cent of your diet calories.
4. Favor fresh vegetables, fruits, and non-fat milk products.
5. Avoid heavy use of salt and refined sugar.
6. Good diets do not depend on drugs and fancy preparations.
7. Get plenty of exercise and outdoor recreation.
8. Be sensible about cigarettes, alcohol, excitement, business strain.
9. See your doctor regularly and do not worry.

A section of the book is devoted to menus for the four seasons, and the recipe section includes a number of dishes from other countries. Here is Mrs. Keys version of a famous Italian main dish.

Two Ways Told To Thaw Food

The public health service says no frozen food products should be thawed at room temperatures. Instead, they claim they should be thawed either under running water or the cooking process. However, the nation's homemakers disagree and they insist room temperature is fine. To this, the PHS claims you are asking for an upset stomach. The homemakers say leave it out until it starts to get soft on the outside, then put it back in the refrigerator for a slower thaw.

Small fry, teenagers and older folk will all enjoy this refreshing drink.
GINGER ALE SURPRISE
1 can (8 ozs.) frozen orange juice concentrate Seedless grapes
Ginger ale (chilled)
Dilute orange juice according to can directions; pour into two ice-cube trays; put a couple of grapes in each small section of the trays; freeze. At serving time, place two or three orange-juice ice cubes in each glass and fill with ginger ale. Stir vigorously; serve with ice-tea spoons.

Enlarge Surface Of Work Space

Fed up with counter "hunger"? If so, there are two helpful fellows in the community who can gratify your appetite for more kitchen, utility and bathroom counter space: your ceramic tile contractor and your carpenter.

The first can surface existing counters and expanded space with ceramic tile—a material that beautifies a room and defies damage from heat, water or wear. The carpenter can extend existing counters or build new ones.

TEENAGERS DRINK Milk plus any fruit

Keep Calories Down With Milk Drinking

Nutritionists recommend that teenagers drink four glasses of milk per day. To keep calories low and energy high home economists suggest that teenagers make beverages with nonfat dry milk. One quart of it liquefied contains only half the calories found in a quart of fresh whole milk. Beverages can be made festive by adding fruit or juices to glasses of chilled nonfat dry milk. Here are some favorite flavors:

- WEIGHT-WATCHERS PEACH STAR COOLER
1 cup liquefied nonfat dry milk
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1 (3-oz.) jar pureed peaches or 1 cup fresh pureed peaches
Combine all ingredients in deep bowl; beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until well blended or combine all ingredients in blender; blend for one minute. Pour into mug or glass. If desired, garnish with thick slice of fresh peach.

ORANGE DREAM COOLER
3/4 cup cold water
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk (dry form)
2 tbsps. honey
1 1/2 cups cold orange juice
Combine water, lemon juice, vanilla and nonfat dry milk in a deep bowl. Beat with electric or rotary beater about six minutes or until stiff. Gradually add honey and orange juice; beat until blended. Serve at once.

Spring Garden Planting Week Scheduled In October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Warren G. Magnuson, chairman of the National Spring Garden Planting Week committee, said in an interview. She is the wife of the Democratic senator from Washington, who was author of the resolution.

The committee wrote to all the governors and in reply, 12

we'll still keep going," Mrs. Warren G. Magnuson, chairman of the National Spring Garden Planting Week committee, said in an interview. She is the wife of the Democratic senator from Washington, who was author of the resolution.

The committee wrote to all the governors and in reply, 12

That's the time, they say, to plant lawns, trees, shrubs and bulbs to bring that first splash of cheer after a dreary winter.

The Senate has passed a resolution authorizing the President to proclaim Oct. 2-8 of each year as spring garden planting week. But it has languished in the House Judiciary Committee. It's not that members there are against spring garden planting — some reportedly are against any more special weeks being proclaimed.

"If Congress doesn't pass it, have issued proclamations for the special planting week in their own states; seven have promised to issue proclamations, and five have said they will do it if Congress approves the resolution.

In his proclamation, Gov. John A. Love of Colorado, hit the theme of the sponsors, saying: "Every seed sown, each tree planted and every flower bulb placed in the ground will contribute to a more beautiful America."

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky tied it in with his state's efforts to "make Kentucky a cleaner-greener land."

State garden clubs are participating in the drive, along with gardening magazines, nurserymen and garden writers.

Sen. and Mrs. Magnuson have shrubs, flowers and trees back in their Seattle home.

In their Washington apartment, the senator keeps two potted plants on his desk. He babies and waters them with his own plastic watering can.

"They're his — I never touch them," Mrs. Magnuson said.

Unfavorable Weather To Hurt Farm Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — Less favorable weather conditions indicate a significant decline this year in Western Hemisphere agriculture production.

This prediction by the Agriculture Department takes into account the impact of midyear drought on U.S. farm output that may more than offset the coffee, sugar, cotton and dairy products. A slight rise is expected for rice, cocoa beans, bananas and tobacco.

Forward trade demands "appear unusually large, particularly for wheat," the department reports, indicating continued exports at near record levels of grains, oilseeds, cattle and dairy products. For these commodities higher world prices are predicted.

But for products including sugar, coffee and cotton, the outlook is for stocks to build up faster than demand.

MEN IN SERVICE

PVT. HOWARD M. ATKISON

Marine Private Howard M. Atkison III, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Atkison of 1901 S. Monticello, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here. He will now undergo four weeks of individual combat training and four weeks of basic specialist training in his military job field before being assigned to a permanent unit.

Pvt. Ben W. Warren, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loran H. Warren, 2903 Navajo Drive, completed a field communication crewman course at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., Aug. 25. During the course, he was trained to string wire from the field to the communication center. Instruction was also given in basic electricity, switchboard installation and operation and pole climbing.

Army Specialist Fourth Class Kenneth L. Scroggins, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Scroggins, Route 2, Box 168, Big Spring, is participating in a three-week field training exercise conducted by the 4th Armored Division in Grafenwohr, Germany.

Spec. Scroggins is a driver in Company A, Second Battalion of division's 51st Infantry near Ilshheim.

Pvt. E-2 Joe T. Brents has been transferred to Scofield Barracks, Honolulu, Hawaii, with the supply division. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Brents, formerly of here, now live in Tyler.

Pvt. Brent's wife left here Friday to join her husband in Hawaii.

Lt. Col. Thomas D. Alexander, has entered the Air War College, the U.S. Air Force senior professional school, at the Air University, Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Col. Alexander begins 10 months of intensive study in the university-level course which provides senior officers and key civilians a better understanding of the elements of national power and aerospace resources.

His wife, Joyce, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Beene of Cactus Drive, Big Spring.

T. Sgt. Nelson F. Hipkins, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hipkins of 317 Burk Ave., Ridley Park, Pa., has been selected to participate in Exercise "Bar Frost," a joint week-long maneuver of United States, United Kingdom and Norwegian armed forces beginning Sept. 2. The sergeant, a graduate of Ridley Park High School, is married to the former Mary F. Radford, daughter of Mrs. Bulah Radford of Big Spring.

Navy Lt. John F. Westbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Westbrook of 1160 Lamar St., Big Spring, is aboard the Essex as a member of Helicopter Anti-Submarine Squadron Five.

The Essex currently is engaged in anti-submarine warfare in the Caribbean Sea.

Seaman Recruit Lawrence D. Olson, USN, son of Mrs. Lois Land of 1105 N. San Antonio Big Spring, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

Next Year, Government May Enforce Daylight Savings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government — at least partly because of confusion — may take it easy this year in acting against errant cities that fail to fully observe the new uniform daylight saving time law.

But next year, watch out! Last April 14, President Johnson signed the Uniform Time Act of 1966, a law designed to end many years of confusion resulting from the semi-annual time-changing that took place on different dates in thousands of communities.

The law fixed the Daylight Saving Time period from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October. The switch-over to the new system is to be in two phases.

In the first phase all communities wishing to observe Daylight Saving Time must do so for the full time period. That started last April.

The second phase, to become effective next April, requires that entire states must either observe or not observe the faster time. Unlike this year — and past years — there can be no partial observance of daylight saving time in any state.

The legislation also gave the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to enforce the law.

The ICC could go to court for an injunction to prevent any community from setting daylight saving time on dates other than those specified in the federal law.

But the ICC isn't going into court — at least not this year.

One reason, an ICC official says, is that "we believe states and communities should be left to their own devices to comply. We prefer always to proceed without bringing people into court."

Another reason, say ICC sources, is that the law is not clear about when the entire act — including the enforcement provisions — becomes effective.

They note that while part of the law went into effect last April, the entire measure doesn't become effective until next April. They feel their authority to go to court this year might be challenged.

DEAR ABBY

Learning A Lesson

DEAR ABBY: Last night I went to sleep with the pillow over my ears to drown out the noise of my parents' quarrel. I am the oldest of six and I feel sort of responsible for the younger ones. My folks have been fighting ever since I can remember.

They fight about little things, like who put gas in the car last, and also over big things like money, and my father's not spending enough time with my little brothers.

Abby, this is getting me a nervous stomach because they fight a lot at the supper table. What can a 14-year-old girl do?

SICK OF FIGHTING

DEAR SICK: The only thing you can do, honey, is to remember it. And make sure you don't give your children the same kind of unpleasant memories.

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "insulted" wasn't fair. It was in response to guests who complained because the guest room they were offered was poorly furnished. "They obviously do not want guests," you stated.

After all, some families cannot obtain everything at once. We have a $500 bed (I am six feet, seven inches tall and weigh 250 pounds), but we have a $17 roll-away bed in our "guest room," which also doubles as a study with books stacked in every corner. We enjoy having guests, but have not had the funds to furnish our guest room as we would like.

Someday we will have better accommodations. But in the meantime, I hope our visits together will make up for their having to sleep on a roll-away bed in a crowded room.

ONE OF YOUR EDITORS

DEAR EDITOR: Sorry about that, boss, but the guest wrote, "They have a beautiful, push-button home with every modern convenience imaginable. There is nothing too good for them or their children." From that, I inferred it was not so much a shortage of cash, but consideration. I could have been wrong.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Huge Auction To Wind Up

HOUSTON (AP) — A real estate auction with an estimated $40 million worth of property on the block was to wind up its two-day sale today.

Bids totaling $6 million were made during the first day Wednesday of the auction believed to be one of the biggest of its kind ever held in Texas. A shopping center and parcels of land were among items auctioned the first day.

B. W. Roberts, president of Gulf Coast Real Estate Auction Co., which is handling the sale, said several ranches, new shopping centers, apartments, motels, office buildings and more than 17,000 acres of land will be auctioned.

A bid of $633,730 was made for 1,950 acres in Brazoria County by John Joseph, Houston investor, on the tract offered by Tom Sullivan, another Houston investor.

A parcel which included a 110,000 square foot shopping center in Texas City was offered by Robert L. Moody, Galveston insurance executive, and bid by Jim Smith of Texas City at $870,000.

Most of the land being offered is in the Gulf Coast area. All bids are subject to acceptance by the owners with a deadline next Monday for a decision.

Gives Up His Purple Heart

DOWAGIAC, Mich. (AP) — A Marine who won the Purple Heart in Viet Nam has given it to a dead comrade who didn't.

Tom Klein and John Edgerly, both 21, enlisted in the Marine Corps together. Both went to Viet Nam.

Klein stepped on a mine, shattering both his legs. One was amputated.

Edgerly was hit by lightning while standing guard near Da Nang. Because it wasn't a combat injury, he did not receive the Purple Heart.

Still in his wheelchair, Klein attended Edgerly's funeral in Dowagiac recently. He rolled up to the casket and pinned his medal on the dead Marine's pillow.

"I figure anyone who has guts enough to fight over there deserves recognition, no matter how he died," Klein said.

A Devotional For The Day

"Every one then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house upon the rock." (Matthew 7:24, RSV)

PRAYER: Thou God, our heavenly Father, who dost not will any of Thy children to go astray, we thank Thee for Thy love. Lead us this day to seek forgiveness for our sins and build our lives on Christ, our Redeemer. In His name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Just Keep Ahead

The United States must view reports on the Soviet Union's economy with mixed reactions whichever way the trends go. That is because there are directly conflicting interpretations of the impact of the Russian growth rate on the course of world affairs.

One school of thought welcomes a high rate of Soviet economic development on the theory that a fat Communist is likely to be less aggressive than a hungry Communist. That is, economic progress will make the Soviet Union more cautious in world affairs because it would have more to lose in a war, there would be less need for a bellicose foreign policy to distract Russians' attention from adverse internal conditions, and resulting trade expansion would make world stability more attractive to Moscow leaders.

Another school, however, fears that Russian economic progress will enhance Soviet military power, give the Soviet Union more international influence through trade and aid programs, and make communism more attractive to underdeveloped countries as a shortcut to industrialized plenty.

That is an intriguing debate, both sides of which have now been tested—though inconclusively because of the multiplicity of other factors involved. A comprehensive report by consultants to the Congressional Joint Economic Committee reports that the Soviet Union's gross national product which averaged 7.1 per cent annual increase from 1950 to 1958, has averaged only a 5.3 per cent rise since 1958. Russia was closing the gap between its output and that of the U.S. up to 1958, but now that gap is widening again, with the Soviet economy still less than half as productive as that of the U.S.

Generally it may be said that the U.S.-Soviet cold war has eased since 1958, as Russia has been compelled to give internal problems more attention. But other factors—the Chinese-Russian schism, the Cuban nuclear-missile showdown, the strengthening of Western Europe, a historically normal cooling of revolutionary fervor, frustrations in the turbulent and unpredictable underdeveloped world, among other forces—preclude a simple conclusion. On balance it would appear the Russian economic progress is favorable to world peace, provided the United States and the rest of the democratic West can keep well ahead of it.

Crux Of The Matter

Jack Justice, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, put his finger on the crux of the matter here Wednesday in addressing local service club members and relatives on Title IV of the civil rights bill.

"In the history of human rights to own property . . . one sure hallmark of ownership is the right to dispose," he said.

And after all is said and done, this about sums up the one compelling basis for opposing this piece of legislation which has been called the "forced housing bill."

There are many facets to this proposed law, which passed the House in a somewhat watered-down version and is still pending in the Senate. One of them is the harassing of individuals by complainants, who could command the legal resources of the federal government to press their complaints, whereas the accused would have to defend his position at his own expense. This obviously is inequitable.

But the fundamental issue here is the right of private ownership of property. The only compelling reason for taking property from an owner without his consent is when that property is required for public use. To put any other limitations on compulsions upon the right of disposition of property is, as Mr. Justice pointed out, to destroy a hallmark of ownership. You do not in truth own anything unless you are free to use it or dispose of it so long as you do so without harm or damage to others.

Youngsters Talk Bullish

NEW YORK (AP) — The mask of Wall Street seldom reveals its anguish or hope, for a Wall Street broker must abide with outward serenity his personal extremes of black pessimism and glittering optimism.

The vice president of one of the nation's best-known investment advisory houses described a few days ago the members of a group that includes some of the sharpest brains in finance.

"THEY'RE A CYNICAL bunch," he said. "They listen and chuckle but they don't swallow anything. They go and check it out."

But under even the most dismal circumstances it isn't difficult to find enthusiasm, for that, too, is basic to selling securities to the country's 21 million stockholders.

As the market slid recently to its lowest in two years, six young registered representatives who had just been certified to sell, gathered over

Billy Graham

My husband feels that he should not have to go to church now because he went while in the service.

M. R. Obviously, your husband looks upon one of life's highest privileges as drudgery, and painful duty. Actually, with such an attitude it would do him little good to go to church. People ought to go to church to worship God, to obtain spiritual strength, and to fellowship with other believers.

Of course, we are not suggesting that non-believers should never attend church. Deep in all our hearts, Christian or non-Christian is a deep hunger for God, whether we admit it or not. And the church is the logical place to have this hunger filled.

When one thinks of the ridiculousness of your husband's reason for not going to church, it brings to mind some other things he might give up because he did them in the service.

Suppose he should say, "I don't want to salute the flag because I had to do it so much in the service." Or, he might well say, "I never want to exercise again because we had to take callsthenics every day in the service." Or, "I never want to travel because we did it so much in the service."

Actually, Christians are the only ones equipped to enjoy church. When a non-believer becomes a believer, what once was a duty then becomes a privilege.

We go to church in obedience to His command, for the purpose of worship.

Working Hard For Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, campaigning for the Democrats like a man running for his own re-election, already has laid out the two themes he will hit hardest in this congressional election season.

Both were obvious before he began — the war in Viet Nam and the national economy — since they are the two problems uppermost in the public mind.

WHAT HE SAYS on Viet Nam has not varied very much and probably will not unless there is an unforeseen change. It can be stated briefly.

This country is in Viet Nam to stop Communist aggression against a neighbor and this country will stay there until the Reds give up trying to overwhelm their neighbor.

It's in the economic field that he can play a lot of variations on the same theme, as he showed in his speeches on Labor Day in the Middle West.

He promised to fight inflation, he explained how he was wrestling with the problem of holding prices without stifling economic growth, promised to help labor get rid of laws banning the union shop and at the same time appealed to labor to show restraint in seeking wage increases.

Hangover Cure Works

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — "This is," said the man behind the drug-store counter, "the first hangover cure we've ever offered the public."

He held up a small plastic tube of pills and smiled.

"DOES IT work?" "We would hardly be selling it, sir, if we didn't believe in it."

His drugstore — called a chemist's shop in Britain — was one of a chain, a big chain with a long and respected reputation.

In a voice softened by years of discreet inquiry into the aches and pains of men, women and children, he asked ever so gently:

"Are you, sir, as they say, 'hanged over'?"

"LET US say that I was chewed a bit by Old Rover last night."

"Beg pardon?" He looked puzzled.

"Yes, I'm not feeling very well, but we say hung over, not hanged over."

"Really, sir?" he chuckled. "Comes to the same thing though, what?"

"Hanged over and hung over," he answered, and then down to business.

"The pills are three and six" — three shillings six pence or 49 cents, for four.

Uprooting A Costly Tradition

The burgeoning school population in Houston has forced the administration there to make sweeping changes, some of them upcoming next fall. These include a 12-month school year, and night classes for some students.

THE SUPERINTENDENT expects the enrollment there to double by 1985, and many of his projected changes take into account this time schedule.

"It requires not only a 12-month schedule and night classes," Supt. Glenn Fletcher said, "but numerous other changes including state supported kindergarten programs and the best teacher talent possible."

He predicts the cost of teachers will go up, pointing out that Houston now pays less than other major cities and is opening the current term about 150 teachers short.

"THE MOUNTING cost of land alone for new facilities dictates the fuller use of existing facilities," he said. "We must get a pilot program of the 12-month school year started next fall." Concerning night classes, he explained that many high school students need a split schedule which would enable them to work and still attend school. These classes would be tuition free.

Hand-in-hand with these plans, he said: "To accomplish what we know is needed, the district must create a first class research arm that will come up with answers to curriculum change, construction needs, and the needs of industry and business."

DOUBTLESS the supe will run into many arguments against his plans, and some plans may not see the light of day. Nevertheless, his thinking is keeping up with the times.

Classrooms sit vacant a considerable part of every year, for no apparent reason other than tradition. It's a pretty difficult argument to the taxpayer that he needs more classrooms when those in existence are not getting anything like full use.

NIGHT CLASSES for some students should have been provided long ago. The reason for the serious "drop-out" problems, in some instances, is purely economic. Most school districts provide no alternative to students that must provide their own support. Such classes as the Houston superintendent suggests may keep a sizable number of youngsters in school.

FLETCHER'S planning points out a fact that sometimes lost in school discussions — the school should be operated for the benefit of students, even if this means uprooting old traditions and modes. The program, hours, locations should be so designed to best serve youngsters.

Apparently, this is the direction they are taking in Houston.

The Hopeless Task In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — Much nonsense gets talked about the "other war" in Asia — President Johnson's grandiose scheme to plant a Great Society in Viet Nam and beyond.

It is a futile bemusement, based on escapism from the realities of battle and carnage. It attempts to substitute bloodless abstractions, Poverty and Ignorance, for terrifying the men-at-arms that stand against us.

IT CANNOT succeed: first, because it is a self-induced and cheating dream; second, because of the nature of the Vietnamese people whom it purports to organize and uplift. The nature of those people, and of the enemy we're fighting, is examined in an important book by a U.S. information officer, recently based at Saigon, but with 20 years' experience in Asia. He is Douglas Pike, whose work won't be published till Nov. 23, but whose publisher has made the proofs available to me.

PIKE HAS studied 200 captured Viet Cong documents and interviewed 150 VC defectors. His documentary is too tedious for general readership, but valuable as research. If it does nothing else, it analyzes the human raw material in Viet Nam and, it conveys one central fact: that no power on earth is going to change the Vietnamese from what they are, into what outsiders might wish them to be. The in-country survivors are not going to be changed a bit.

THESE ARE my conclusions, for Douglas Pike draws none. His subject is stated in the book's title and subtitle: "Viet Cong: The Organization and Technique of the National Liberation Front of South Viet Nam." The sum of his myriad, tiresome but germane details, recalls something this country has ignored or forgotten.

It is this: if our side has accomplished nothing off the battlefield since 1961, neither has the National Liberation Front (NLF) accomplished anything of a non-military nature since 1954.

MR. PIKE begins by recording the currents in Viet Nam's long, winding river of time. One relentless, never-changing current is doc lap (independence) which has the special meaning of undying hatred of intruders. The other important, persistent tide is clandestine. It flows from an absolute conviction of racial superiority over all other people's of earth, and from unbroken belief in the destiny of Viet Nam's survival. These tides well up from every village, every tribe, every sect, every family. When Mr. Pike describes the NLF, he is also describing the Vietnamese themselves. He writes:

"NO ORGANIZATION is ever completely undiscovered. All consist of at least two parts, the overt face and the secret apparatus; but the best (organization) . . . has a third layer, which is reality . . . even if you discover it, it does not last long; some new alliances outdate your discovery . . . The best leader is paternalistic, sly, skilled at intrigue, master of untold layers of duplicity, highly effective in the world in which he moves."

DESPITE micro-governments in thousands of villages, and an elaborate network of communications, the NLF cannot organize, cannot rule, cannot change these people anymore than we can. The payoff, as always, will come at the last battle. It will decide whether or not we have stopped this particular Red invasion. That and nothing else, but it is a great deal. ### Key To Viet Nam Adjustment

WASHINGTON—When will the war in Viet Nam come to an end and when will American troops be withdrawn? It may be paradoxical to say so, but neither the United States government nor the North Viet Nam government nor the Red China government today knows the answer.

BEHIND the scenes one approach after another is attempted by diplomats representing the adversaries, but the net result is for each side to wait for the other to get tired of the conflict and bring about a stalemate.

To put the Viet Nam war into perspective, however, it is necessary to put Red China's relationship to the conflict in Southeast Asia in perspective, too.

FOR GEN. DE GAULLE to announce that Americans must withdraw first merely means to recommend that the United States run up the white flag of surrender. To declare, however—as the State Department here has done — that American troops would be withdrawn gradually as the other side also pulls out of South Viet Nam is a reasonable position to take.

If, therefore, the North Viet Nam government wants a negotiation to bring about that kind of result, America would agree overnight. Why then does the Hanoi government hesitate?

WHAT KEEPS the North Viet Nam government going during a costly war? It is getting substantial help from both the Soviet Union and Red China. But the latter has the opportunity for greater influence because it knows the weaknesses and strengths of the Asian personality.

The United States has told the world it is protecting South Viet Nam at the request of its government, and obviously the protection is against a Communist takeover. Yet if the United States and Red China achieved some kind of truce, the friction in Viet Nam would be regarded by Peking as hardly worth bothering about.

THIS IS WHY again and again in discussions of the Viet Nam problem

the handwriting on the wall says that the relations of the mainland of China to the rest of the world need prime attention. In this week's issue of "U.S. News & World Report," there's a significant interview on this subject. It was conducted in Vienna between the magazine's staff reporter there—Alex Kucherov, an American citizen of Russian birth—and Dr. Hugo Portisch, editor-in-chief of "The Vienna Kurier," who had just returned from a trip to Red China, where he had talked at length with the leaders there. Dr. Portisch said:

"Marshal Chen Yi, the vice premier and foreign minister, with whom I had a long talk, told me they need need at least 20 years for the whole of China—a huge country—to reach the industrial level of present-day England . . ."

"THE CHINESE, by tradition, are not invaders . . . and when you bring up Viet Nam, they make a point that their troops aren't there . . . At one point he (Marshal Chen Yi) said to me:

"Look, everybody's afraid of China. Well, look at our army. It's a huge army. It's a land army with conventional weapons. Of course, if we sent 3,000,000 men into Southeast Asia, we certainly could kick the Americans out of there, easily. But we know perfectly well that, if we kick the Americans out of there, the Americans wouldn't take that defeat. What would they do? They would attack us with superior means."

Dr. Portisch said he understood this meant nuclear weapons. He added that the Red Chinese leader also was sure the Americans wouldn't invade Red China. So the Viennese editor concluded:

"THE CHINESE Communists talk belligerently, but they act cautiously—in Viet Nam and everywhere else." If the leaders in Peking were persuaded that it is not a temporary device but a long-range formula, a solution to the internal as well as external problems of mainland China would emerge.

Endometriosis Or 'Escaped Tissue'

New Record Here?

MISAR, Yugoslavia (AP) — Stanimir Petrovic, a farmer of this Serbian town, married 32 times. He died, unwed, at the age of 75 when he was about to marry for the 33rd time. The oldest woman he married was 28 and the youngest was 15. Four of his wives were named Desanka and three were named Marija.

Pink Bags Lost

MELBOURNE (AP) — Mexico's Ballet Folklorico now touring Australia uses shocking pink luggage for all of its 75 dancers and singers. When they lose some, they just call for the luggage that is "horred pink."

It always comes back, according to director Madame Amalia Hernandez.

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: What is endometriosis? Can it be the cause of ovarian cysts? Is there any treatment for either except by surgery? — MRS. A. B.

These are two different conditions, although both can be present in the same patient. I will explain them separately.

The endometrium is the lining of the uterus. Sometimes bits of this tissue (which incidentally is unlike any other tissue in the body) begin to "wander."

This lining, you see, is shed with each menstrual cycle, and a new one forms. In the process of being shed, some of it may escape through the Fallopian tubes, becoming implanted on the outside of the uterus instead of the inside where it belongs.

This tissue is extremely sensitive to certain of the female hormones. That, indeed, is how it comes to be shed each month, followed by reconstruction of a new lining. These hormones "order" it to do so.

has become transplanted, it still follows its original pattern of behavior and there is, at the right time, some menstrual bleeding. But the bleeding, of course, is in the wrong place — in the new location where the tissue has attached itself. This is endometriosis.

The result is menstrual discomfort. It can interfere with fertility. If the transplanted tissue becomes attached to the bowel wall, there can be bowel problems. Endometriosis is to be suspected when a woman past 30 has increasingly painful periods.

There are two ways to combat it. Treatment with hormones sometimes can counteract the effect of the ovarian hormones which govern this tissue. Otherwise surgery is the answer, either to remove the tissue which has settled in the wrong place, or to remove the ovaries and thus eliminate the ebb and flow of ovarian hormones which affect the tissue.

Removal of the ovaries is usually preferred if the woman is past 40 and nearing the end of her child-bearing years anyway.

In any event, endometriosis subsides at the menopause because then the ovaries gradually cease activity.

As to ovarian cysts, there is not a great deal to be done except surgical removal if they cause enough trouble to warrant it.

But you will note that removal of the ovaries, in some instances, can be the answer to both problems — endometriosis and the cysts.

Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor advises going to a specialist for silicone injections for an unsightly scar on my chin. What is your opinion? I thought dermabrasion was used for such things. — MRS. F. J.

Dermabrasion (or "skin-planing") is effective with many types of skin blemishes and scars, but it also has limitations, since it cannot cope with deep or severe scarring. You went to your doctor for advice; he gave it to you. I advise following it.

Union Loses Court Petition

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court rejected Wednesday an attempt by state labor leaders to block consideration Nov. 8 of a proposed constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax and substituting annual voter registration.

Without comment, the high court turned down a motion to file a petition protesting the proposed amendment which is on the November general election ballot.

Because the court was in summer recess when its decision was made, it will not be officially handed down until the court comes back in session Oct. 5.

The Texas AFL-CIO's petition contended that the proposed amendment was invalid because a federal court and the U. S. Supreme Court have ruled the poll tax unconstitutional as a voting requirement and, the amendment, as presented on the ballot, does not mention the part that requires a system of annual voter registration.

Labor leaders have worked unsuccessfully for a measure providing for lifetime registration. A special legislative session last February passed an annual registration bill, recommended by Gov. John Connally.

If voters approve the annual voter registration provision in November, it will become part of the Texas Constitution, which can only be changed by a two-thirds vote of the legislature and a majority of the voters at a general election.

Mrs. Johnson Planning Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson launches a four-day, pre-election trip to three Western states Sept. 29 to boost scenic highways, parks, dams and Indian crafts.

The trip—the First Lady's first beauty and conservation journey since mid-June—will take her to California, Arizona and New Mexico.

Sources said it is hoped the visit, billed by the White House as solely in the interest of improving America's visage, would help California Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown in his race for re-election against Republican Ronald Reagan.

The general outline of the cross-country trip was announced today by the White House. Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to the First Lady, said more details will be announced later.

AH, AMERICANS SO GENEROUS... SO OBLIVIOUS... HERE WE GIVE YOU FISH FOR YOUR DINNER. IS FREE.

THANKS... NOW WELL SEARCH THE OTHER BOATS.

AH, HO, HO! THE STUPID AMERICANS! CAN'T FIND PRISONER, BUT GIVE US CIGARETTES.

DOLTS! THERE IS NOTHING MORE TO WORRY ABOUT.

GASOLINE ALLEY

Have you all finished your get-acquainted tags? Hold them up!

I don't see a tag with Adam on it!

Adam! Hold up your tag!

lost my pencil!

MISS MERIT

NANCY

BOY, IT'S HOT TODAY

YES, AND MY FEET HURT--THE HEAT MAKES MY SHOES FEEL TIGHT

WHY NOT PUT ON THE MOST COMFORTABLE SHOES YOU'VE GOT?

O.K.

THESE ARE THE MOST COMFORTABLE SHOES I'VE GOT

L'I'L ABNER

WHAT KINDA CHICKEN SOUP DO YOUSE CARRY?

ALL KINDS!! THINWATER'S CLEAR CHICKEN SOUP, THINWATER'S THICK CHICKEN SOUP AND THINWATER'S REAL CHICKEN SOUP!!

I WANT SKEPAGE'S CHICKEN SOUP!!

BUT, THERE'S NO DEMAND FOR IT!!

THERE IS, NOW!!

BLONDIE

DAGWOOD-- IF YOU KEEP EATING THOSE BANANAS YOU'RE GOING TO GET FAT

THAT'S SILLY

MONKEYS EAT BANANAS ALL DAY LONG AND THEY DON'T GET FAT

WELL WHO WANTS TO BE MARRIED TO A SKINNY MONKEY

RICK O'SHAY

I STILL WISH I KNEW WHO'S RESPONSIBLE FOR THAT VANDALISM DAUGHTER.

DON'T LET IT BUG YOU PATTY-O.

CHIEF HORSE'S NECK IS A HORSE'S NECK! ALSO RAT FINK

YOU'RE A GREAT CHIEF AND MOST PEOPLE KNOW IT

WELL, SOMEONE OBVIOUSLY DOESN'T. BUT YOU'RE RIGHT MY PEAK.

I SHOULDN'T HAVE LET IT UPSET ME. I THINK I'LL GET SOME REST.

GOOD IDEA, DADDY. REST IS IMPORTANT FOR A LEADER.

AS LONG AS HE DOESN'T REST ON HIS LAURELS

SNUFFY SMITH

I COME OVER TO PLAY SOME CHECKERS, DOC, BUT I SEE YOU'RE LOADED UP WIF EMERGENCY CASES

THEM'S LEFTOVERS FROM TH' CARD GAME LAST NIGHT

KERRY DRAKE

SHE'S YOUR GAL, HUH? WELL, IF YA DON'T WANTA WATCH THIS, SHUT YOUR EYES... OR I MAY SHUT 'EM PERMANENT!

STAG! ARE YA OFFA YOUR TROLLEY?! I COULD HEAR THE KID SCREAMIN' A BLOCK AWAY!

HERE'S THE GRUB, AN' I MAILED THE LETTERS, SO GET YOUR MIND ON MONEY, AN' KEEP YOUR HANDS OFF THAT DOLL!

BEETLE BAILEY

WHY CAN'T YOU MEN BE MORE LIKE JULIUS, THERE?

LOOK HOW NEAT HE ALWAYS IS!

UNIFORM ALWAYS PRESSED... BRASS NICELY POLISHED...

I'LL SAY HIS BRASS IS NICELY POLISHED!

PEANUTS

I CAN'T SIT LIKE THIS FOREVER. MY NECK IS GETTING STIFF!

ON THE OTHER HAND, IF I MOVE, HELL BUMP HIS HEAD... IT'S EITHER MY NECK OR HIS HEAD.

KLUNK!

IT WAS AN EASY CHOICE TO MAKE!

DICK TRACY

HOURS LATER! TRACY IS AWAKENED BY THE WHIR OF A MOTOR.

YIPE! A SLIDING PANEL?

LIGHTS? CAMERA? WHAT HAVE WE HERE?

A "YES" VOTE IS A VOTE FOR OUR SIDE--THE HUMAN SIDE. CAN I COUNT ON YOU, BENSON?

MARY WORTH

TONY--?

OVER HERE, AVONNE!-- IN THE CONVERTIBLE!

I--DO NOT REMAIN, TONY!-- I COME ONLY TO EXPLAIN TO YOU--ABOUT ROBERT CRAIG!

SURE, SURE!-- GET IN!-- BUT KEEP YOUR VOICE LOW, OKAY?

IT IS THAT BOB AND I ARE-- SWEETHEARTS... PERHAPS TO BE MARRIED SOME DAY!-- SO, AS AN HONORABLE GENTLEMAN, YOU WILL NOT AGAIN-- ATTEMPT TO MAKE ME FORGET THAT!

SOMEHOW, I CAN'T HEAR A WORD YOU'RE SAYING NOW, DOLLY-BIRD!

N'EST-CE-PAS?

REX MORGAN

WE'LL PICK LUCI UP AT MISS GALE'S APARTMENT AND TAKE HER TO BREAKFAST, THEN THE HOSPITAL, JOEY!

OKAY, TONY!

WE'RE NOT GOING TO HAVE MUCH TIME TO SEE HER!

TONIGHT WE'LL TAKE HER TO DINNER!

MAYBE SHE'LL HAVE TO WORK!

I'M GONNA TELL MORGAN I DON'T WANT LUCI WORKIN' AT NIGHT! SHE'S GOTTA GET HER REST!

TERRY

GENERAL BRASSARD DISCOVERS A SECOND MESSAGE CONCERNING TERRY LEE IN HIS MAIL.

YES, INDEED! I MUST INSURE THAT TERENCE REMAINS THE SIMPLE UNASSUMING FATHEAD I'VE FOUND SO USEFUL MANY A TIME!

THEN, AT A U.S.A.F. FIGHTER BASE NEAR SEOUL...

TWO OF YOUR FELLAS SHOULD DO NICELY COLONEL.

GENTLEMEN, I ASK YOU TO REFLECT ON HOW VANITY HAS CHANGED MANY A MAN, GOOD AND TRUE, INTO A MONSTER!

SMITTY

AUNTIE IS TRYING SO HARD TO GET US MARRIED!

IF SHE ONLY KNEW IT'S ALREADY BEEN DECIDED BY US!

WELL, WE WOULDN'T HURT HER FEELINGS FOR ANYTHING!

NO, SHE'S JUST OUR DEAR LIL' MATCHMAKER! OH--HERE SHE COMES--

OH, MY DEARS, I HAD A WONDERFUL DREAM ABOUT YOU TWO--THERE WAS THE BEAUTIFUL SOUND OF BELLS--PEOPLE WALKING SLOWLY--

PEOPLE WALKING SLOWLY? THEN IT COULDN'T HAVE BEEN THE DINNER BELL!

SHUT UP! YOU'RE A TEASE!

MOON MULLINS

NICE COLLECTION OF TROPHIES, LORD P.

YES, THAT'S A RING-NECKED MALLARD I BAGGED IN SASKATCHEWAN.

--AND THAT BEAUTY I BAGGED BEFORE MY CANADIAN TRIP--

... AND THAT BEFORE I HAD THE SIGHTS ADJUSTED--

JUMBLE -- that scrambled word game

Unscramble these four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words.

POEHT

CHEELK

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as suggested by the above cartoon.

(Answers tomorrow)

Yesterday's Jumbles: LUNGE NEDY BEFOUL ECZEMA

Answers: Several answers are possible to one who holds this card--A MENU

GRANDMA

THIS YEAR THINGS WILL BE DIFFERENT!

I'M NOT GONNA BE LONESOME...

WHEN ALL THE KIDS ARE BACK IN SCHOOL!

THANKS TO THE FISH I CAUGHT LAST WEEK AND AM KEEPING AS A HOUSE PET

New: Dance Hall For Teens

By VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Feature Writer
WATERFORD, Conn. (AP) — John Angel is on a mission of mercy, in a way. He is opening dance spots for young people on a franchise plan. His goal: 1,000. There are two in Ohio, one in Connecticut, one in Florida, one in New Jersey, two in New York.

Teens at Asbury, N.J., dance spot

NOT ENOUGH
Some towns feel teenage needs are fulfilled by occasional dances at recreation halls of churches or at gymnasiums. But young people want their own place, with their own live music, not juke boxes or records.

Change For Webb Game
Capt. Ron Kibler, director of the Webb AFB duplicate bridge games, announces that this evening's play will be held in the John H. Lees Service Club instead of the Officers Open Mess. Starting time will be 7:30 o'clock.

With $4,500 in college scholarship awards. Angel got the idea for the dance spots when he was in the restaurant club business in New London. Young people would come in and ask if they just couldn't sit in a corner, watch the dancing and listen to the music. "There isn't any place for us to go," was their plea.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

September certainly got started in a hurry... and most of us have been in a hurry every day since. Tuesday after Labor Day a harassed receptionist asked me if I had ever considered writing a book on "The Day-After-The-Holiday."

HINTS FROM HELOISE
Make Pretty Dust Ruffles

Dear Folks: Why don't you try using some plastic curtains (bought at your dime store) to make dust ruffles for a child's bed? These plastic curtains come in so many beautiful, bubbly, and rough designs and colors that they look almost exactly like gorgeous material.

Don't throw away that old shower curtain. Use it to cover outdoor furniture or your grill when the rain comes down... Mrs. John Heeger
Dear Heloise: When using the vaporizer in my two small children's room, I put it in the playpen before turning it on.

Dear Heloise: In a rush for an early morning appointment, I discovered I was out of cream or milk for my coffee. I at once thought of the vanilla ice cream in the refrigerator. I put a little of it in my cup of coffee. Presto! I've never had a better cup of coffee... Nell Montgomery

Dear Heloise: When I go shopping and have to lift my daughter to sit her in the shopping cart, I place my hands under her armpits and I tell her to jump. As she jumps up, I lift her. This takes a great deal of her weight off my arms and back, and she doesn't seem as heavy to lift. I find this easier... Betty Longhini

Dear Heloise: I found that running a strip of nylon net through the cracks and crevices in the high chair is the best method yet for cleaning out the spilled food... Micki Lesser

Dear Heloise: When I hang my little girl's underwear and little boy's shorts on the line, I put them over the line with the sides hanging down. I use one clothespin on each article. When they are dry, I remove the clothespins and lift the garments off the line... already folded in half and ready to put away... Ann Hunter

Dear Heloise: (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)
