Only Experts Applauding LBJ's Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — Business leaders have expressed varying degrees of dissatisfaction with President Johnson's proposal to dampen the fired-up economy by removing tax incentives for new plants and equipment.

BIBLE FUND GETS BOOST

Friends, old and new, continued their generous backing of the High School Bible Class fund today with another $230.

This boosted the total thus far raised by contributions to $897. Two churches, in addition, sent in their year's budget pledges to the fund, East Fourth Baptist $300 and First Baptist $400.

One of the donors today was Dr. P. D. (Dick) O'Brien, who as pastor of the First Baptist Church was one of the original backers of the fund.

Two financial experts, however, applauded the psychological effect of the move.

The plan received a pledge of support from organized labor.

Heading the list of the proposal's critics were Roger Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp. and William F. Butler, senior vice president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and director of its economic research division. Both called it "a mistake."

"It's not the best program he could have proposed," Butler said, "because orders already placed will allow capital expansion to go on rising, possibly for another six months. The impact may come at the worst time, just as the overheating is ending."

Blough said the plan would not bring immediate relief and could have "just the opposite result of what it intended" by placing additional pressure on corporate borrowing or prices. The President proposed that Congress suspend the seven percent investment tax credit for 18 months. Johnson promised on his part to cut federal spending and appealed to labor to forego demands for inflationary wage increases.

Preliminary Winners

Ovation Follows Patriotic Song

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Clutching a tiny American flag and wearing a stars-and-stripes dress, Miss Ohio sang a patriotic song that brought 7,000 spectators to their feet in a rousing ovation Thursday night.

What's better than a song about my country? An excited Sharon Elaine Phillian said. The scene was the second round of competition in the Miss America Pageant at Convention Hall. Sharon had just captured the talent prize by singing "This Is My Country" in a coloratura voice that rang through the huge auditorium.

She shared preliminary honors with another blonde, Miss South Carolina, Barbara Anne Harris of Greenville, whose 36-22-36 figure won the swimsuit competition.

Fuel Leak Causes Delay in Launch

Flight Is Re-Set For Saturday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Using a syringe, technicians plugged a pinhole leak in a rocket fuel system today and the flight of Gemini 11 was scheduled for Saturday after a 24-hour postponement.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration officially rescheduled the launching of astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. for 9:25 a.m., 97 minutes after their Atlas-Agena target rocket is to take off, at 7:48 a.m.

DISCOVERED The leak was discovered in the fuel system of Gemini 11's Titan 2 rocket at 2:15 a.m., just three hours before the astronauts were to have awakened to start preparations for the three-day rendezvous and space walk mission.

Astronaut Alan B. Shepard, crew co-ordinator, woke the two hours later with news of the postponement and told them to turn over for an extra couple hours of sleep.

A technician using an electronic "sniffer" discovered the leak as he made a check of the oxidizer tank of the big Titan 2.

The tank was unloaded and an X-ray machine scanned the leak area. The X-rays showed that the area was structurally sound and located the hole, which was 1.500-th inch in diameter.

LAUNCH PATCHED Launch crew members used a syringe to inject sodium silicate, commonly called "water glass," into the hole. Once injected, the solution formed an extremely hard ceramic-like seal. An aluminum patch also was placed over the hole.

A NASA official said pressure tests verified that the water glass had stopped the leak, and the launching was rescheduled. Aiming to minimize the delay to 24 hours, technicians unloaded only the leaking tank, the spokesman said, keeping fuel inside other tanks aboard the Titan 2 rocket.

DETECTED The leak, in the first stage, was first detected by a technician checking ordnance devices on the rocket after its tanks had been loaded with 13,700 gallons of fuel and 15,900 gallons of oxidizer.

He noted a tell-tale reddish-brown wisp of vapor that indicated a leak and reported it to the blockhouse. About the same time, it was noted by instruments in the blockhouse.

"It was only a pinhole in a welded area," an official said. "But you can't fly with that type of situation."

The hole was so tiny that more vapor than liquid was escaping. The Titan 2 oxidizer is nitrogen tetroxide. It is needed to provide oxygen for the main fuel, a mixture called Aerozine 50, in the void of space.

This was the first major problem since the launch of Gemini 10.

Going To Court

Stokely Carmichael, national chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, goes to Atlanta Municipal Court today to face charges in connection with Tuesday's Negro rioting. (AP WIREPHOTO)

'Black Power' Advocate Held On Charge Of Inciting Riot

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A hearing on charges against "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael in connection with rioting in Atlanta was delayed today to give his attorney more time to prepare the defense.

Carmichael, national chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, faces two charges, including one of inciting a riot—a state charge. The second charge is disorderly conduct—creating a disturbance.

STILL IN MAIL The 25-year-old Negro remains in jail under bond of $10,000 on the first charge and $1,000 on the second.

His attorney, Howard Moore Jr., well known for his defense of Negroes in civil rights cases in Atlanta, was given until 4:30 p.m. today before returning to answer the charges in Recorder's Court.

Carmichael could be held for grand jury action on the charge of inciting a riot. The city charge carries a maximum penalty of 60 days in jail or a fine of $500.

DETECTIVE Supt. Clinton Chafin said Carmichael was arrested at SNCC headquarters Thursday night and offered no resistance.

Carmichael's arrest came after Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. ordered city officials to initiate immediate action against any and all persons responsible for the riot. Two SNCC members had been arrested earlier.

The mayor made the statement after Police Chief Herbert Jenkins and City Attorney Henry Bowden met with Lewis Slaton, Fulton County prosecutor, to determine the course to be followed in prosecuting persons involved in the rioting.

They (Bowden and Jenkins) are directed to use every facility and legal authority of the City of Atlanta and the State of Georgia necessary to apprehend, arrest and prosecute to the fullest extent of the law any person involved in the unlawful creation of this incident," said Allen. "Let there be no misunderstanding of our intentions in the apprehension of these lawbreakers."

TOURED AREA Earlier, Allen toured the riot area, known as Summerhill, and city and legal authority of the City of Atlanta and the State of Georgia necessary to apprehend, arrest and prosecute to the fullest extent of the law any person involved in the unlawful creation of this incident," said Allen. "Let there be no misunderstanding of our intentions in the apprehension of these lawbreakers."

After hearing the verdict, he again saluted, did an about face and was expressionless as he marched back to his seat.

Earlier Johnson had testified that he felt he would be a "criminal" if he fought there. The defense rested its case after the defendant spent 15 minutes on the stand.

Johnson pleaded innocent Thursday at the general court-martial's opening day. His defense contended that a high-level Army plan was behind the court-martial proceedings.

Congress To Speed Action On LBJ's Incentives Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid talk of new taxes and some sharp complaints, Congress moved today to speed consideration of President Johnson's new proposal for fighting inflation by suspending some business tax incentives.

HEARINGS The House Ways and Means Committee announced hearings next Monday on the presidential plan — outlined in a special message Thursday — to suspend for 16 months the 7 percent tax credit for business spending on equipment and the tax-advantageous fast-depreciation rules on business real estate.

The legislation was quickly introduced Thursday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., committee chairman, who said the first witnesses will include Secretary of the Treasury Henry H.

ca withdraw its forces from Vietnam.

HOUSE FIRST And Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., head of the Finance Committee, said that group will consider Johnson's proposals at an early date. The House must act first on the legislation.

In his surprise message, Johnson said the stimulus to the equipment improvement needed a few years ago now is overstraining supplying factors and clogging capital markets with excessive demands for credit.

The business tax credit applies not only to equipment and machinery purchased by industry but to such farm production equipment as tractors. It does not, however, apply to livestock investments.

Johnson announced his new anti-inflation proposals at a news conference staged Thursday just as the special message arrived on Capitol Hill.

ECONOMICS The conference dealt mainly with economics, but the President made these other points:

The question of troop withdrawal from Europe and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization problems are matters "more wisely handled" in NATO discussions first.

Congressional action on U.S. troops abroad is not necessary at the moment.

The administration is seeking each day by "every means available to us" to sound out the chances for improved relations with Red China and an end to the war in Viet Nam.

No one has communicated anything to the United States on French President Charles de Gaulle's suggestion that America

Lost Radium Still Missing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public Health Service authorities are seeking a capsule containing radioactive radium that was lost during shipment somewhere in the United States last month.

Officials said the capsule — one inch long and an eighth of an inch in diameter — was shipped Aug. 15 from Seattle, Wash., to Woodside, Long Island, N.Y.

It was missing, however, when its lead cover and the outside box arrived 16 days later. The health service said the lid was loose.

Roller Flips, Crushes Leg

A 47-year-old construction worker was reportedly in serious condition at Midland Memorial Hospital following a Wednesday accident in Stanton in which he was overrun by a roller-paver machine.

G. B. Thurwanger, Stanton deputy sheriff, said Thursday that Margarito Satelo, 47, Monahans, was driving the roller-paver over fresh pavement in downtown Stanton when the machine struck a curb, throwing Satelo off the machine, which ran over his legs. The mishap happened about 10:20 a.m. Wednesday.

Satelo, according to Midland sources, suffered a compound fracture of one leg, and the other was also reportedly damaged.

Five Students Are Killed Returning From Game

CLAREMORE, Okla. (AP) — Five junior college students returning home from a football game at Tulsa were killed shortly before last midnight when their car crashed on the Will Rogers Turnpike in northeast Oklahoma.

All were students at Northeastern (Okla.) A&M Junior College at Miami. Hours before the crash, Northeastern's coach, S. A. Robertson, suffered a heart attack. He was stricken about an hour before his team defeated Oklahoma Military Academy 55-0 at Tulsa. Robertson was reported in serious condition in Tulsa.

Injuries Claim Stanton Youth

STANTON — Tommy Walker, 15, who sustained a head injury in a car collision in downtown Stanton Monday afternoon, died at 7:30 a.m. today in the Ector County Memorial Hospital in Odessa.

He was taken there after his condition worsened following the mishap. The crash, a minor one, threw him from the car, causing his head to strike the pavement. Tommy had a fractured skull and brain damage.

In high school, he was B team quarterback and active in student affairs.

Surviving him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Walker; a sister, Sue, a sophomore in high school, and a younger brother, Tim. Arrangements are pending.

Stiff Sentence Handed 2nd Disobedient Soldier

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pfc. James A. Johnson Jr. was convicted today of refusing to go to Viet Nam and sentenced to five years imprisonment at hard labor, dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of pay.

The seven-judge general court-martial panel deliberated 24 minutes before fixing sentence.

SURPRISE Johnson smartly saluted after hearing the sentence. He turned around and looked at his parents in the courtroom with obvious surprise.

Civil rights workers and pacifists gave an audible gasp as the sentence was passed. Johnson's father said, "I am surprised."

The court earlier had taken 16 minutes of deliberation to find Johnson guilty.

Johnson, the second of three soldiers charged with refusing to go to Saigon, appeared to smile nervously as the board returned from deliberation.

HEARD VERDICT He marched smartly up to the president of the general court-martial, Col. Morris Zebrowitz. He saluted and heard the verdict.

After hearing the verdict, he again saluted, did an about face and was expressionless as he marched back to his seat.

Earlier Johnson had testified that he felt he would be a "criminal" if he fought there. The defense rested its case after the defendant spent 15 minutes on the stand.

Johnson pleaded innocent Thursday at the general court-martial's opening day. His defense contended that a high-level Army plan was behind the court-martial proceedings.

Johnson admitted today that he intentionally disobeyed an order that he board an aircraft bound for Viet Nam from near-by McGuire Air Force Base.

HEARD HOW He said while at Ft. Hood, Tex., he had asked his commanding officer, his chaplain, and the judge advocate how he could avoid being sent to Viet Nam.

The judge advocate had replied, Johnson testified, "Only if your mother were on her deathbed."

The prosecution rested its case Thursday night against Johnson, 20, a Negro from the Bronx, N.Y., after presenting a single witness.

The witness, Capt. Damaso Devera, testified that Johnson disobeyed his direct order to board the plane. Devera also was the sole witness at the court-martial of Pvt. Dennis Mora, 25, of New York, who was convicted Wednesday on a similar charge and sentenced to three years in prison, dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of pay.

PART OF PLAN Defense attorneys argued again that the orders given to the men to proceed to Viet Nam were part of a plan allegedly conceived at high Army levels to punish the three soldiers for declaring in a June 30 news conference that they would not fight in Viet Nam.

After the news conference, Johnson, Mora and Pvt. David Samas, 20, of Modesto, Calif., who had met at Ft. Hood, were brought to Ft. Dix, and later were arrested for disobeying orders. Samas is awaiting court-martial.

HINTS FROM HELOISE These Cannisters Don't Mar, Rust

Dear Heloise: Here is another idea to add to the many uses for the plastic lids on coffee and shortening cans. Stick one of those lids on the bottom of each can of your canister set with a reliable transparent glue. Have the flat side of the lids against the bottom of the cans so turned down edge will touch the counter. The larger plastic cover from a shortening can is more suitable for the largest can of the set. This raises them just enough not to be noticeable, and yet will prevent marring or rusting. Harriet

Dear Heloise: Here's a little timesaver: I use pinkish shears to cut out the patches for the children's play clothes. The edges don't have to be turned under because they won't ravel. Mom

Dear Heloise: Even though I am a male, I read your column every day. We have a set of kitchen chairs with steel frames, and the sharp edges of the legs dig out any and every set of rubber tips that I put on them. The first set of rubber tips had an inner lining of metal, but were soon cut through by the legs. I replaced them several times and finally I got an idea. At the hardware store, I bought another set of rubber tips and also bought flat iron washers (those which have holes in the center) of the same size. I was sure the washers would fit into the rubber tips. Now the sharp metal edges press against the iron washer, and the weight is distributed over a large area of the rubber tip. I think it will be many a year before I have to replace these. Many thanks for all the suggestions and ideas I read in your

Water District Sells $30 Million In Bonds

The Colorado River Municipal Water District Wednesday completed the next to last hurdle in its efforts to impound a new lake by selling $30,000,000 in revenue bonds.

The district caught the market at a peak so far with an interest rate of 4.90 for the 30-year term bonds.

Directors were unanimous, however, in selling the bonds because of the pressing need for water in West Texas, Charles Perry, Odessa, president of CRMWD, said.

Proceeds from sale of the issue, probably the largest single block by any political subdivision in West Texas, are expected to be on hand by Sept. 23.

This will be well in advance of the opening of bids for the construction of the dam in Big Spring Oct. 6. If proposals are within the money, CRMWD will likely make an award immediately.

Ivie reported to the board on purchase of lands in the basin of the lake which will impound 488,000 acre-feet of water when full. It appears at this stage that condemnation proceedings will be pressed in three or four instances, he said. The board previously authorized this action to clear the way for land acquisition in the dam area.

Representing Eastman, Dillon, Union Securities, Inc. at the sale Thursday were Richard Locke and C. N. Burt of New York City. Paul Horton, Dallas, the district's bond attorney, also was on hand to assist in closing the deal.

'Poverty War' Study Grant Sought For Community

Decision to make an application for a federal grant to study developmental programs under the Office of Economic Opportunity was taken by the Howard Community Action Agency at a meeting Thursday night.

While there is apparently no money immediately available for such a program, it was decided that the application should be pursued so that it could be considered when there are funds.

In general terms, the application would be for a six-month survey and in-depth study of the community, to determine what phases of the "war on poverty" could be undertaken locally. The program would involve approximately $10,000, of which the local agency would be responsible for 10 per cent. This share could be credited to equipment, office rental and personal services rendered.

The study would be expected to call for the services of a director and a clerical aide, and the director would be in charge of the community survey work.

West Texan Will Direct Safeway's Dallas Division

Safeway's president and chairman of the board, Robert A. Magowan, announced that Horace A. Justice, Little Rock, Arkansas, division manager for the company, will succeed Carl C. Foster as Dallas division manager.

Justice, a native of the Abilene area, attended McMurry College in that city and in 1935 began his career with Safeway as a food clerk. He progressed through the ranks to store manager in Hamlin and Abilene and in 1952 was named district manager of the Abilene district. In 1957 he served as manager of the company's North Dallas district, and in 1959 became retail operations manager for the area's 146 stores.

In 1962 Justice was assigned to the Little Rock division as manager of the stores and back-stage operations in the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Southern Missouri.

CD Equipment Being Repaired

The local Civil Defense unit has turned in all its radiological equipment to an Austin firm for repair and renovation, W. D. Berry, director of Civil Defense here, said today.

About 100 pieces of equipment worth over $8,000 are involved, he said. The equipment is used for radiological monitoring and training, and must be turned in each two years for checking.

CALL PROVISIONS

Bonds are not callable before July 1, 1975, and then only from any residue in the construction fund, plus funds earned out of operations. Calls on money from any other source, such as refunding, cannot be before July 1, 1981, and then at a 3 per cent premium; calls from Jan. 1, 1985-July 1, 1988, will carry a 2 per cent premium; from Jan. 1, 1989, to July 1, 1991, 1 per cent; and after Jan. 1, 1992, to maturity on Jan. 1, 1996, one-half of 1 per cent.

Keen interest is being shown in the dam project, said Ivie. So far 23 firms across the nation have asked for plans. He predicted that this number would grow.

Directors authorized the payment of $5,270 to the Texas Water Rights Commission for the expense of gauging stations on the upper Colorado River.

CONTRACT CHANGED

Puzzle of Thursday, September 8, Solved

Allen Asks For New Trial

Carlee Allen, under 20 year conviction for armed robbery, wants a new trial.

He filed a motion with Fern Cox, district court clerk, Thursday afternoon, citing two reasons for his request.

He charges the court erred in permitting testimony to be heard and the physical evidence to be introduced in connection with his arrest on a highway in Martin County.

The petition, prepared and filed by Norman Spencer Jr., his court-appointed attorney, alleges that the arrest made without a warrant by an Andrews County deputy sheriff in Martin County of a man allegedly wanted in Howard County was illegal and that seizure of cigarettes and pistols in the car was illegal since it was without a search warrant. He cites a 1932 case to support this contention.

His second argument is that the jury panel should have been quashed and mistrial entered when Paul D. Davis, father of Dee Jon Davis, county attorney who was helping, at the outset of Allen's trial with the prosecution, was permitted to serve on the jury.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, and Davis as well as Judge Ralph Caton advised the defense at the time of the relationship of the juror and the county attorney. County Attorney Davis, withdrew from the case immediately and took no part in the prosecution. Spencer did not strike the juror from the panel.

Five communities within Howard County chose committees for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation programs Thursday.

Results included:

Community A—Morris Barnes, chairman; Joe Mac Gaskin, vice chairman; Robert Merrick, member.

Community B—Jack Buchanan, chairman; Delbert Stanley, vice chairman; James C. (Buddy) Barr, member.

Community C—Jeff Grant, chairman; W. C. Fryar, vice chairman; Donald Long, member.

Community D—J. L. Baugh, chairman; C. C. Wolf, vice chairman; Donald Lay, member.

Community E—L. E. Rosser, chairman; Ross Hill, vice chairman; Lawrence Davis, member.

The 15 community committees will meet Sept. 21 to name a county committee consisting of a chairman, vice chairman and regular member, said J. G. Hammack, ASC administrator.

Whitman Had Fatal Tumor, But It Was Not To Blame

AUSTIN (AP) — Charles J. Whitman, torn by inner guilt and puzzled by things going on inside him that he didn't understand, had a deadly tumor growing in his brain when he went on his murderous sniper rampage Aug. 1, a team of national medical experts said Thursday.

They said it probably would have killed him within a year. But that tumor, less than an inch at its largest part, could not have been the sole reason for Whitman's killing 16 persons and wounding 30 others, said a member of the 32-man panel.

The panel admitted it did not know exactly why Whitman did what he did.

The rapidly growing tumor, about 3 or 4 months old, "could only have been of secondary influence, not the primary cause of his behavior," said Dr. Harry M. Zimmerman of the Montefiore Hospital, New York.

The panel, in a 16-page report and one hour news conference, said Whitman it was "impossible to make a formal psychiatric diagnosis."

"However," the task force said, "the highly malignant brain tumor conceivably could have contributed to his inability to control his emotions and actions" Aug. 1.

They said he had taken drugs to keep up with academic pressures, but "there was no evidence of drug intake on the day of his death."

Their findings were unanimous.

Whitman, a husky 25-year-old blond, was slain by police on the observation deck of the University of Texas tower where, aiming through a powerful scope, he cut down almost everyone in sight for 90 minutes.

Was he psychotic?

"No," Farnsworth said.

"He was," Farnsworth said, "a troubled man, acting on strong impulses in an organized way. He felt strongly something was going on inside himself which he did not understand. He was strongly impelled by emotional influences beyond his control."

Whitman, a junior at the university, visited a university psychiatrist March 29 and mentioned "thinking about going up on the tower with a deer rifle and shooting people." He didn't go back for another consultation.

The medical experts said their week-long examination, which included viewing 1,000 slides of Whitman's brain, was limited in "depth and scope" because the autopsy was not performed until 24 hours after death and the body already had been embalmed before the autopsy began. Also parts of the brain had been damaged by gunshot wounds or lost, and it had been sectioned.

New Pastor At Vincent

VINCENT (SC)—The Rev. Laverne E. Laing brought his first message as pastor of the Vincent Baptist Church at the morning worship last Sunday. He said that he and his wife, Marie, and daughters are looking to a rewarding work with the people of the Vincent community.

Rev. Laing comes from the Trinity Baptist Church in Frederick, Okla., where he pastored for six years. Prior to that he was pastor at Eldorado, Okla., for three years and has held pastorates at Buckeye and Lovington, N.M.

He has been in the ministry for 15 years. During the time he studied toward his degree from Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee, from which he was graduated in 1951, he was minister of the First Baptist Church in Wakita.

The Laings have three daughters, Roma Gay, who is now Mrs. Eugene Page of Salem, Va., Theda Marie, who will attend Howard County Junior College, and Marta Jan, a freshman in Coahoma High School.

Service Set

The young people's CA service at the Faith Assembly of God on Sundays has been changed from 6:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and the evening worship service has been changed from 7:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ragan are the pastors.

ily lives here at 2513 Carol, is presently stationed at Korat Air Base. In a letter to the Rev. James A. Puckett, Baptist Temple pastor, and friends, he thanked them for the tape of the Sunday worship services that he had received.

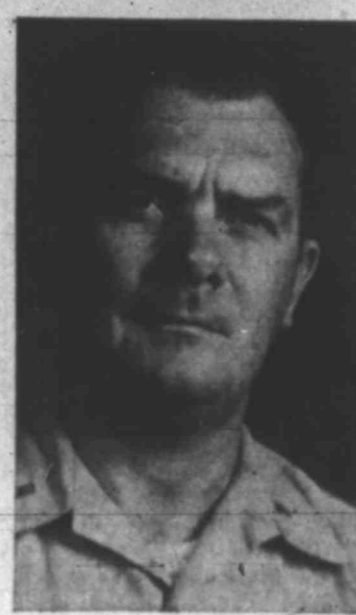

Baptist Temple is sending tapes of Rev. Puckett's sermons to men overseas from the home church.

In addition, Brewer has asked that books from the church be sent to the base at Thailand where a new chapel and library were recently started.

"The only books available over here are those out of the chaplain's own collection," Brewer wrote. "There are many men who want to read the New Testament book that you gave me."

"I look forward to the next tape . . . and some books . . . as I know the program here is going to grow in momentum. "If just one soul is saved we have done a mighty thing."

"I am going to do everything in my power to be a soul winner for the Lord over here, and when I return home to my church and my family, I am spending every available time that I have to study the word of God . . . so I'll be able to pass to others the joy in my heart."

First Baptist Church Receives $45,000 Trust

The First Baptist Church will receive $45,000 as its part of a trust established by two of its long-time, faithful members.

The Baptist Foundation of Texas has notified the church that its five per cent share of a trust established by the late Arthur

L. and Mattie P. Wasson is subject to disposition now that the trust has matured. The church has voted to receive the sum, although application of it will be decided later.

Mr. and Mrs. Wasson set up the trust originally in 1947 with properties, including producing oil royalties. Some of the non-producing royalties have been retained in the trust but most other property has been liquidated. Mr. and Mrs. Wasson had been members of the First Baptist Church on different occasions, the last time for about a quarter of a century before their deaths. They were a pioneer ranching couple.

THE SIN OF COVETOUSNESS

The sin of covetousness comes last in the Decalogue, summing up and including all others in the series of studies on the Ten Commandments. The text for this week's International Sunday School Lesson is from Exodus 20:17; I Kings 21; Mark 10:17-22, 23-45; Luke 12:12-21, 29-34.

Covetousness is a basic sin, underlying all the others, because it deals with human selfishness. God does not object to man's wanting of material things; He asks only that man wants the right thing.

"Take heed and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." (Luke 12:15).

Baptists Keep Dr. Jackson

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Joseph Jackson of Chicago was re-elected president of the 5.5 million-member National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., at its 86th annual convention Thursday.

The convention also adopted four resolutions.

One called for a statement to be drafted with full support of every division on the denomination's views on civil rights. The statement is based on "respect for law and order and the Christian concept of life."

Other resolutions proposed hiring young people to work next summer on voter registration, a summit conference to deal with the problems of riots and to make a constructive approach to first class citizenship, and to make it clear that "the convention's membership in church councils is aimed only at Christian fellowship and does not speak for those bodies on the civil rights issue."

Jackson issued a warning to Americans, declaring:

"You stand today in the most dangerous situation since the days of the founding fathers."

The outcome of the civil rights struggle "will doubtless determine the future of democracy, the future of the United States," the Chicago minister said in his annual address to the convention.

TEA PARTY

There's a strong possibility that in five more minutes someone may break one of those balloons, or spill some ice cream on someone else, and these well-mannered little ladies and gentlemen will suddenly dissolve into children! But, for the moment, they are having a wonderful time, and no matter what the consequences they are learning something. Even such a simple situation teaches children the rudiments of getting along with one another. This isn't a lesson that comes naturally. We aren't born with built-in manners! We aren't born with any of the social or spiritual ingredients we need to acquire. These we have to learn — and, in turn, to teach our children. These children are being taught, both at home and in the Church. Are yours?

Diverse Equipment Used To Fight Emphysema

EDITOR'S NOTE—In the battle against emphysema, a dread lung disease, doctors are using such diverse equipment as treadmills and plastic table tennis balls. But thus far scientists don't even know the basic cause of the illness, now among the nation's top killers. The following list of four articles on emphysema details recent treatments.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Light a match, told it six inches in front of your mouth—and blow!

Make sure you blow with your mouth fully open. Don't purse your lips.

If you can't douse the flame, you may be a victim of a potentially lethal lung disease called emphysema—and you should consult your doctor promptly.

SEE DOCTOR

Even if you pass the match test, but have been suffering even occasionally, for shortness of breath—and have been telling yourself: "Guess it's just because I'm not as young as I used to be!"—you'd better see your doctor anyway. It may save your life.

If your doctor is suspicious—and facilities are available in your community—you may be referred to a hospital or university medical center where there's special equipment to help diagnose this enigmatic malady.

But, says Dr. Albert Roberts, chief of the U.S. Public Health Service Chronic Respiratory Diseases Program:

"Nearly one-half of the nation's hospitals, and even some important medical centers, are not equipped to do an adequate job" in detecting emphysema and its satellite cohorts.

TESTING

A key testing instrument is a respirometer used in such centers as Minneapolis' Mt. Sinai Hospital.

With a clamp attached to your nostrils, you breathe into a valved mouthpiece linked by tubes to a tank device. The tank contains a hollow cylinder, closed at the top, floating in water. Your exhaled breath causes the cylinder to rise—and a pen attached to it writes lines on a graph paper.

Once your lung capacity is gauged—that is, how much air you can breathe in and out, over and above air already abnormally trapped in there—at a technician's test you on:

How fast can you empty your lungs—especially, how much can you exhale in the first second?

LOWER

Normal persons exhale at least 70 per cent in that first second; emphysema sufferers score much lower.

A workout on a stationary bicycle is another test. The patient has a tube inserted in an arm artery so doctors can measure oxygen and noxious carbon dioxide in his blood upon exertion. Some hospitals use a treadmill.

At Triboro Hospital, Jamaica, Long Island, N.Y., doctors related plans to use portable respirometers set up in mobile vans ticketed for a community survey of possible obstructive breathing difficulties among apparently healthy working men.

FIRST ATTEMPT

The Long Island study—to get under way this month—will be the first attempt to determine whether early, or potential, victims of emphysema can be arrested, so as to prevent "the usually progressive and devastating effects of the disease."

Men showing suspicious signs will be asked to attend a special clinic at least monthly.

If the Long Island study works out, the Public Health Service would attempt to have such preventive clinics established nationally. Moreover, in the future, you might be able to get a breathing test at a mobile station, just like chest X-rays are now available.

So, now you've found out you have emphysema.

TREATMENT

The doctors will prescribe treatment including use of a breathing machine. Exercises to help drain any surplus mucus from bronchial tubes, and medications to help open clogged airways—the extent of treatment for average, established cases, plus use of portable oxygen tanks sometimes.

But rehabilitation, even of very severe cases, is possible.

The Public Health Service says two pioneering studies in pulmonary rehabilitation—at New York University's Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation; and Moss Rehabilitation Hospital and Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia—have suggested:

"Nearly 50 per cent of the severely disabled patients of chronic respiratory disease can be helped to the point of self-sufficiency, and in many cases to the point of returning to mostly sedentary work."

BELLY BREATHING

The breathing exercises are designed primarily to make patients accent belly breathing—that is, using the diaphragm, the abdominal muscle just beneath the lungs, to a greater extent than breathing by expanding the chest.

In one breathing exercise, the patient lies prone, breathes against the pressure of his hand on his belly. Later, he uses a sandbag, or other weights.

A variation, in the walking position, is to wrap a cloth around your belly, like a night club dancer, hold one end in each hand, allow the cloth to relax as you inhale and expand the abdomen, then squeeze it as you exhale.

Postural drainage exercises are designed as important adjuncts of medications you have for dilating mucus-clogged bronchial tubes, or for actually breaking up mucus in a detergent-like action nicknamed "wetting down the bronchial tree."

SQUIRT GUNS

Incidentally, such medications can be applied by hand operated squirt guns directed at the open mouth, or by hand held nebulizers powered by a tire pump.

Postural drainage exercises enlist the aid of gravity in helping clear mucus from airways. But, since the bronchial tubes twist in all directions, the body must be moved in various ways including:

Sitting on a stool and moving the torso rhythmically from side to side, forward and back, lying prone on a level bed, and later on a tilted one, and moving the body through various positions. The final exercise in every prescribed workout involves lying crosswise and face down on a bed, then lowering the torso toward the floor.

TAPPING CHEST

All but the last of these exercises should be accompanied by tapping the entire chest surface with the fingertips of both hands—a further aid in moving clogged mucus so it can be coughed up.

Dr. Edward Bergosky of the NYU rehabilitation institute, says:

"Who returns to work depends on the job. I have many severely advanced patients who still can do desk work, using every crutch to keep going."

Dr. George Wright of St. Luke's hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, has some additional rehabilitation ideas:

"Doctors and families of such patients," he says, "can counsel with them, learn their abilities and what life has for them in the future. Some of these people try to go to work when they shouldn't. They want to be the breadwinner, but they may put too much strain on their hearts."

DON'T HAVE IT

"Some of them don't have the knowledge, and the courage, to quit working."

"Also, when these patients are sitting quietly, they look okay, so sometimes, their families and friends don't believe they're sick—and they accuse them of goldbricking."

Wright, a clinician, also does research exploring the possible causes of emphysema.

He says there's no evidence yet that such things as cigarette smoking, air pollution, or infections, actually cause the disease, at least by themselves.

Possibly, he says, a double, or even triple, causative mechanism is at work in emphysema—requiring an "inciting cause"—such as an irritant agent of some type—but also demanding that there be some lung tissue defect, inborn or otherwise, in those individuals exposed to the irritant.

"To cause a given disease, you've got to have the agent, and also the man who will respond to the agent in an unfavorable fashion," he says, adding: "It takes two to tango."

JON MATTHEWS

Matthews Joins VA Staff Here

Jon R. Matthews, personnel management specialist, began work at the Veterans Administration Hospital Tuesday, transferring here from the VA hospital in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Matthews was graduated from Southern Methodist University in 1961 with a major in personnel administration, and was employed in private industry for five years in Amarillo before entering the VA personnel program.

He served in the U.S. Navy as a hospital corpsman from 1954-1958. Matthews is a member of the Methodist church. He is married, and his wife, Phyllis, is a registered nurse at the VA hospital in Amarillo. She will join him in Big Spring later.

Rev. Byron Bryant On H-SU Staff

ABILENE — The Rev. Byron Bryant, pastor of Hamlin's First Baptist Church since Oct. 1, 1964, has been named development associate and will be in charge of alumni affairs at Hardin-Simmons University.

Dr. Edwin L. Skiles, H-SU president, said Bryant, who formerly was associated with H-SU as director of public relations from 1959-64, and head of the religious activities program, will be joining the staff soon.

Bryant will serve as an associate to Dr. Lee Hemphill, vice president for development and promotion. He holds both his AB and MA degrees from H-SU.

DEAR ABBY

'Sticky' Fingers

DEAR ABBY: I have a rather sticky problem. Sticky fingers. I "collect" books. I am a college graduate and my hobby is reading, so I spend a lot of time browsing in book stores.

I usually buy a book or two, then walk out with another (unpaid for) under my arm.

I can well afford to buy the books I pick up, so I can't lay the blame on need. Nor can I say I take them for "kicks," because I take the type of books I enjoy, Zen, psychology and the classics.

Suggesting professional help would be useless for I am only slightly embarrassed by this tendency, but I would not like to get caught. What to do?

"STICKY FINGERS" IN S.F.

DEAR STICKY: Since you yourself have ruled out kleptomania, you appear to be a confessed petty thief. And since you enjoy reading, "pick up" (and PAY FOR!) a psychology book and learn something of "unconscious motivations and masochism."

Some people steal because they have an unconscious desire to be caught and punished. And eventually they are.

DEAR ABBY: According to a well-known marriage counselor, 90 per cent of all divorces start in the bedroom. Would you say this was true? CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Which bedroom?

DEAR ABBY: Will you please say something to people who bring their wedding gifts to the church when they come for the wedding. Invitations are sent out three weeks before the wedding, which is plenty of time to buy a gift and have it delivered to the bride's home.

My daughter was recently married in a beautiful big church wedding, and she sent 400 invitations. About 200 guests brought their gifts to the church. Now, Abby, there is no time between the ceremony, dinner and reception for a bride to open 200 gifts.

And afterwards she leaves immediately for her honeymoon. So that leaves all those gifts unopened and unacknowledged.

And the people who bring their gifts to the church are the first to complain because they were not thanked soon enough.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS WANT THEM TO GET SHEARED

Teenagers Threaten Court Suit

By TOM STUCKEY
DALLAS (AP) — Three teenage musicians whose long locks got them in trouble with Dallas school officials vowed today to keep their long, slick haircuts and promised a court fight to get back in school.

The boys, members of a rock 'n' roll combo along with two college students, were refused admittance to R. W. Samuel High School this week by Principal W. S. Lanham, who said their hair was too long.

The youths are under a recording contract which prohibits them from having short haircuts and claim their musical careers are threatened by the school ruling.

They visited seven other Dallas schools Thursday but were turned down at each.

The boys' agent, Kent Alexander, says he will ask for an injunction forcing administrators to let the boys back in school until the issue can be settled in court.

"We're businessmen and we want to settle this in a business-like manner," Alexander said. "But they won't even sit down and talk to us."

School officials had not commented on the case.

Dr. (W. R.) White (superintendent of schools) won't talk to us. His assistant won't talk to us. We can't get any further than their secretaries, and even Alexander claims it wouldn't be as distracting as girls in short skirts. He said the boys keep their hair neatly combed and dress neatly.

"We are in a position where school administrators are pseudo-dictators," the agent said.

The boys claim their fellow students are on their side.

"When we applied at Lake Highlands, the kids were hanging out the windows yelling to us to come on in," said Paul Jarvis, whose black hair is shorter than that of Steve Webb and Phillip Farrell because he cut it off for summer school.

"Nobody would have paid any attention if they had just let us in," Webb said. "Now they have made it an issue."

The youths whipped out a song about their experiences and cut a record of it.

They say two local radio stations which cater to teenagers have asked for copies of the still-unnamed song, and they hope to sell it to a recording company.

The boys say their parents are giving them full support in the fight with school officials.

And they picked up backing Thursday from Stanley Marcus of the Neiman-Marcus department stores.

Marcus, who himself sports a thick beard, said he would offer legal help if necessary.

"I don't like long hair any more than the principal does, but I will fight for the rights of those students to wear hair any way they choose," he said in a telegram to Lee McShan Jr., president of the Board of Education.

The boys welcomed the support of Marcus, and vowed to keep their long hair even if it means entering a private school.

Freeman Claims Farmers Don't Get A Fair Return

HALFWAY, Tex. (AP)—Farmers are moving to town for jobs offering more money because they're tired of waiting for a fair return on their products.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said Thursday.

About 8,000 people heard him speak at a field day program of the High Plains Research Foundation. Its Halfway facility is 15 miles west of Plainview in West Texas.

"The only times our farmers have received parity—a return comparable to other segments of our economy, a return farm-minded people agree they rightfully deserve—were during periods of national crisis, periods when the entire economy boomed and good-paying jobs were plentiful," Freeman said.

"Then fair farm prices were absolutely necessary to keep farmers on the land and producing."

Because opportunities elsewhere again are taking farmers from the land, he said, the number of dairy farmers and the number of milk cows have dwindled nearly twice as fast as normally.

"We consumers should draw a lesson from this," Freeman said. "If we want to keep the best diet at the lowest real cost in the world, as I'm sure we do, we've got to see to it that our farmers are kept on the land producing that abundance for us."

The secretary spoke in late afternoon after inspecting the research foundations along with a record crowd at the 10th annual field day.

Taking note of the bright sunshine and a countryside greened by good rains, Freeman recalled that he last visited this section two years ago in a period of drought—and it was raining at the time.

He came here after a forenoon speech near McKinney dedicating the 1,000th watershed project dam in Texas. It is on Grove Creek, which feeds into the Trinity River.

As a means of keeping men on the land, Freeman said the administration seeks full parity by 1970 for the adequate size family farming operation.

Farm income has climbed "dramatically, significantly and encouragingly" since 1960, he said, shrinking the income gap between farmer and non-farmer 16 per cent.

Tarzan Poor, A Sure Hit

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — That audience which seeks to escape the problems and tensions of contemporary life via the television route should have been tuned in on NBC Thursday night where two new series had their premieres.

Even they could have had one of two reactions to the new "Tarzan" series. Hysterical laughter or simple incredulity. There was tall, well-muscled Ron Ely, in his lion cloth and swinging around on vines even when it would have been easier to take the lower route.

All the trappings seemed pretty silly even for a children's show, but there was also the plot. It seems that there was this pretty blond girl who had been living comfortably in a forest loaded with tigers, snakes and crocodiles with the help of her—get this, daktari,—devoted seeing-eye lion.

This lovable, helpful lion unfortunately had a bad twin and a whole tribe of natives were out to get him. Naturally there was confusion between the good lion and the bad lion, the girl was in danger and Tarzan arrived just in time to save everything.

All this, and the show was poorly acted to boot. "Tarzan," it seems inevitable, will be a big hit.

This was followed by "Star Trek" which had the captain and medical officer of a 21st century space ship dropping down on a decaying planet, M-113, for a routine health check on an earthling archeologist and his wife who were studying the artifacts.

Suddenly members of the ship's crew started dying mysteriously, all showing nasty red welts on their faces. The audience was let in on the secret when the scientist's wife suddenly started turning into other people, even the ship's doctor. It turned out in the end that she wasn't the scientist's wife at all, but a "thing" with enormous ability from the dying planet who was just trying to survive. It was all a little masquerade so the thing could get a supply of salt—yes, salt, as in shaker.

Then we were able to switch channels to ABC to see how Danny's girl, Mario Thomas, was making out in the premiere of her comedy series, "That Girl."

The answer is that she made out very nicely indeed. Miss Thomas is a very pretty vivacious young woman who handles comedy like a real pro. She has been given some excellent writing, attractive surroundings and even some funny lines. It is a very nice little show.

"Hawk" the new ABC police story that followed, is a colorful, slick production with lots of sirens, fighting, running and shooting. Burt Reynolds plays the detective, a Mohawk Indian, in a tense, almost hostile manner. But the trappings were not quite able to conceal the familiar skeleton of the plot—running down a madman turned murderer because he hated automation in all its forms.

The show ought to prove a serviceable addition to the network lineup.

Admits Contractors Were Misled On Viet Nam Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon admits it misled civilian contractors in the billion-dollar Viet Nam construction program by overstating probable contract awards and under-estimating costs.

In the wake of reports alleging company waste and mismanagement, defense officials praised the private combine known as RMK-BRJ for doing "an amazingly competent" job under tough circumstances.

The consortium, Pentagon officials said in an interview, was steered wrong on two counts:

The firm was told last December to gear for a $960-million program, then was awarded only $780 million in projects.

The $780 million turned out to be a faulty figure—about $200 million low, and the Pentagon must dip into contingency funds to pay the extra amount.

RMK-BRJ, building nearly 80 per cent of the U.S. military facilities for the war effort, consists of Raymond International Inc., of New York; Morrison-Knudsen of Boise, Idaho; Brown and Root of Houston, Tex.; and the J. A. Jones Construction Co. of Charlotte, N.C.

"The contractor has come to us and said 'you're wrong,'" a top military planner told newsmen Thursday. "He now needs $200 million more to finish the projects currently authorized due to understatements by the Air Force, Navy and Army."

The government will pay this cost increase under provisions of the company's contract, he said.

From RMK-BRJ's view, however, there is a touchy point involved. Its fee is based on a percentage of the originally estimated cost for a given project.

And Pentagon officials acknowledge the company may get little or no fee from the added $200 million—even though low Defense Department estimates were at fault.

Ranking officers said the proposed reduction—from $960 million to $780 million—signified no slowdown or curtailment of the Viet Nam construction effort.

If anything, the building program has expanded, they said. From now until at least January, RMK-BRJ will be completing $35 million to $40 million a month in temporary troop quarters, airfields and port facilities for the U.S. command in Saigon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee called today for closer auditing of the vast military construction program in Viet Nam as it recommended $1.02 billion in new funds for domestic and foreign military construction projects.

The amount approved is subject to House action next week. Most of it was earmarked for improvement of military bases and construction of housing for personnel.

In stressing the need for increased audit programs in Viet Nam, the committee said the remoteness of the area and problems involved are "unprecedented in such a small geographical area."

The value of military construction in use in Viet Nam at the end of July, it said, is estimated at $138 million and is increasing at the rate of $40 million monthly.

Crime Reports To Police Drop Off During August

The number of crimes reported to police in August was considerably lower than the previous month, according to figures released Thursday.

A total of 51 offenses was reported, compared to 74 in July. The rate of clearing the offenses dropped, however, only seven of the 51 offenses were wiped off the books, compared to 14 of the 74 July offenses.

Only one of 18 reported burglaries was cleared. Of 25 larceny cases, only one was solved. The batting average on recovery of stolen cars was low, only one of four being erased.

During the past month, $3,835.02 worth of property was reported stolen. Of the total, $5,653.80 worth was recovered—a very high percentage. In July, only about $2,000 worth was recovered of a total of $5,600 reported stolen.

In a remarkable coincidence, 252 arrests were made in August—the same number as in July. Of the 252, only eight were released with no charges filed, compared to 19 the month before. Twenty-four juveniles were taken into custody. The juvenile activity report was incomplete Thursday, and no other information is available.

Steers Face Ace Aerialists In Opener With Tornados

By TOMMY HART
The Big Spring Steers start a new season with a new coach and a new team in Lamesa at 8 o'clock tonight, facing a resident eleven that has the artillery to take up where it left off last year.

Coach Donald Jay of the Golden Tornados has 15 lettermen back from a club that won six of its last eight starts and gave state champion-to-be Brownwood all it could handle before losing by two touchdowns.

Big Spring, on the other hand, saw its ranks depleted by graduation and, in the end, lost its head coach, Don Robbins, to Texas Western College.
The new head of the spread here is Herman Smith, a likeable man who has been down this same road before. Smith, an assistant here for the past four years, has previously served as a head coach at Sundown, Quanah and Plainview. He hadn't intended to again assume the worries and the duties of a head coach but agreed to move into the spot after a talk with school officials.

After having been stung by four touchdowns at the hands of Big Spring last year, the Tornados, no doubt, will be lusting for revenge. They might well come out throwing, too, since they boast good aerialists in Bob Wiggins and Gene Everhart.

Big Spring will counter with a boy who played almost exclusively on defense last year but who has acquitted himself well in workouts to date. He is Gary (Red) Rogers, an intense senior who weighs 180 pounds. Rogers is becoming identified more as a runner than a passer. The Steers, with strapping youngsters like Lonnie Clanton, Doug Robinson, Wayne Kennedy and Kirby Horton ready to crank up, may boast a slight edge in the running game. Lamesa figures to excel through the air.

However, the Tornados can keep enemy defenses honest with such ambulatory threats as the 190-pound Joe Harper at fullback and Louis Jenkins, 170, and Russell Dennis, 166, running at the halfback spots.

Big Spring's interior line looks good, with boys like Jerry Ryan, Steve Riordan, James Carver, Kenneth Hamby and Cliff Talbot ready to man lineup spots.

David Holmes, Robert Jackson and Kirby Horton will man linebacker spots for the Steers while Clanton will fill the role of rover.

Aggies Check In Lean, Trim For Drills

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—One of the big surprises of the Southwest Conference football race this year could be those Texas Aggies.

Coach Gene Stallings, in his second season at the Aggie helm, looks for improved play. He isn't making any predictions about the won-loss record but will admit he has more speed, size and quality than a year ago.

Change Likely In Golf Plan

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A new format is in the works for the World Series of Golf.

Walter Schwimmer, Chicago dynamo who dreamed up the tournament in which the winners of the four major tournaments get together for a showdown, told The Associated Press Thursday of his newest idea.

The winners of the four major tournaments, under Schwimmer's new plan, would still qualify for the World Series. But to get more players Schwimmer would like to establish a system in which golfers would score a certain number of points for winning other tournaments.

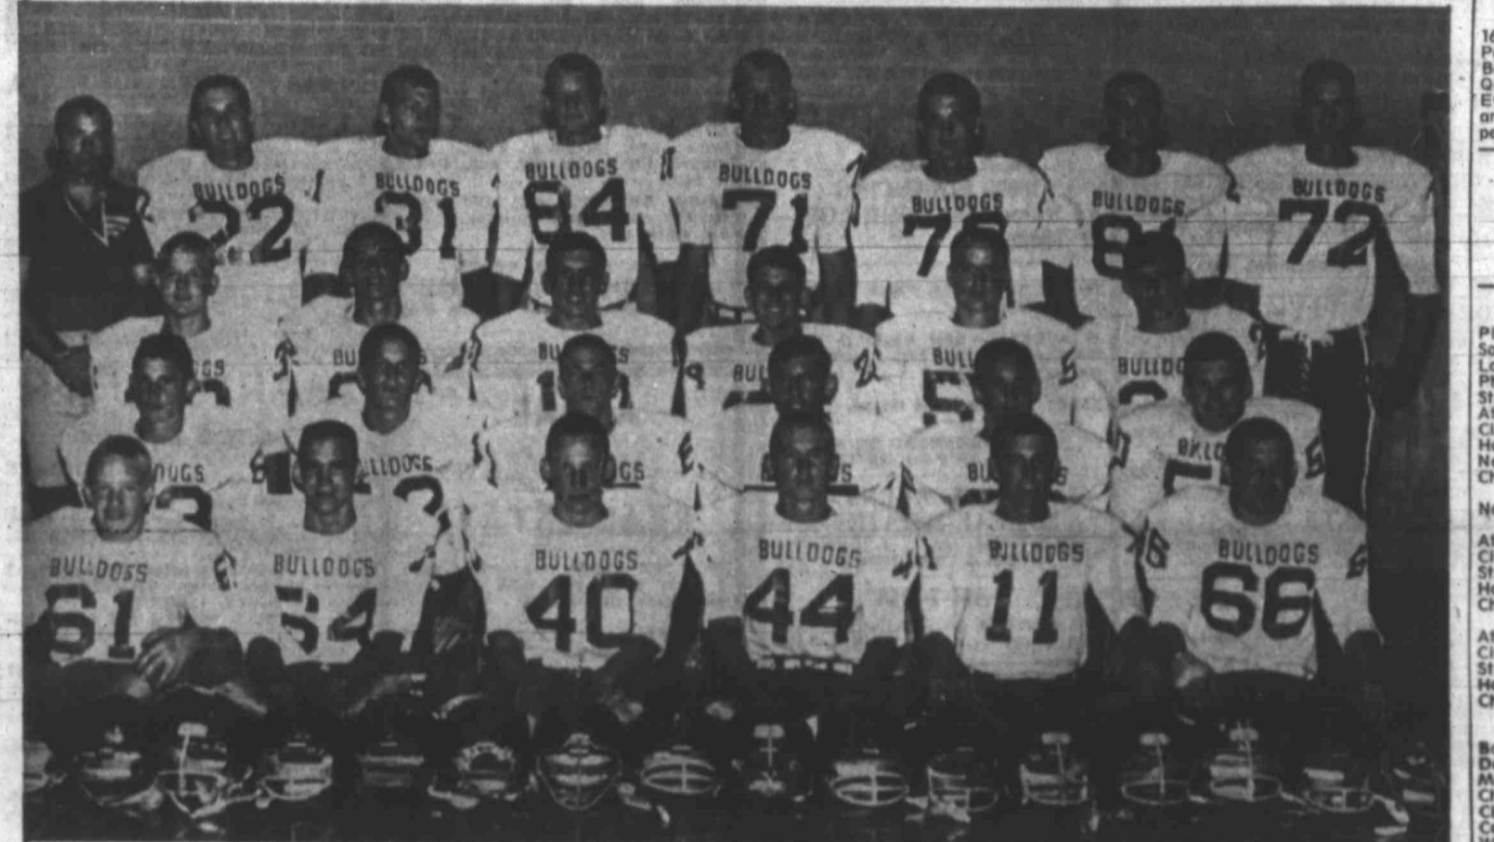

In addition to the four major champions, the World Series would include the next four players who garnered the biggest number of points. All eight would play 36 holes with the top four scorers qualifying for the final 36.

Colts, Cards Picked To Win NFL Openers

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay and Baltimore, the teams that fought into 13:39 of sudden-death overtime to determine the Western Conference champ last December, open the National Football League season Saturday night.

The Packers were without the services of Bart Starr during most of that playoff game, won by Don Chandler's field goal, 13-18. Baltimore didn't have Johnny Unitas or Gary Cuzzo and had to struggle through with Tom Matte calling the plays.

This is really a big one for opening day. The winners will be off and running for the Western title with a psychological edge that will make them tough to beat.

TRAVELER'S OBSERVATIONS

French Nuclear Test Plans Upset Quiet Of South Seas

By HOUSTON HARTE
PAPEETE, Tahiti—The area of Papeete is 402 square miles. This is about a sixth of the area of the 40 to 50 islands that make up Polynesie Francaise. This is the capital city of these island areas.

The home of the governor, appointed by the French Cabinet, is an elegant early 1900's mansion located near the center of the city and adjacent to the administrative offices. The current governor is His Excellency Aime Grimald. The advisory council, or house of deputies, is largely appointed by the governor and others are elected by local chiefs.

The governor uses its legislative actions as recommendations or merely pious wishes. The island of Tahiti looks like a figure 8. The large part of the island known as Tahiti-Nui, is 125 miles in circumference and contains two thirds of the Tahiti's land area.

Tahiti-iti is the little end of the 8 and was joined to Tahiti-Nui by an earthquake or by excess filling of the coral reef which joined the two islands. The entire island is encircled with a reef which creates a lagoon ideal for water skiing. Many fishing boats are seen here and oyster propagation is tried on a small scale.

The selection of the Society Islands as the site for French atomic tests came immediately after the granting of independence to Algeria. This treaty made the Sahara desert unavailable for nuclear explosions. The selection of a site on three tiny atolls from 800 to 1,000 miles from Papeete will require the expenditure of billions of francs by the French government.

It has disturbed both the governments of New Zealand and Australia and has frightened the inhabitants of the adjoining islands, as well as the people of Papeete. Here the complaint is that the great influx of military and naval personnel as well as a large group of French nuclear scientists with their families is hard for the 45,000 Tahitians to digest. One-fourth of the French navy is said to be dispersed in the South Seas.

Watching the Monterey attempt to unload its cargo here today and tonight I was certain great quantities of the quality foodstuffs were headed for the French establishment. Not only were two French officers on the dock checking the cargoes, but they were directing the transport of the hundreds of cases of eggs, the head lettuce, the onions, the more than a gross of sides of pork from a packer named Anderson, apparently in California, to a French commissary. There were boxes of Sun-kist oranges, frozen mushrooms, broccoli, all sorts of fresh fruits, particularly grapes.

Counting the Navy we were told today by a shipping agent who should know that extra French personnel now stationed in the Society Islands equalled 30,000 persons. Of this number only about 3,000 are Papeete.

NO. 1 IN SERIES

'I Will Prepare Myself...'

By MIKE ROTHENBERGER
Staff Representative
Daily Commercial News, New York
Copyright 1965, Dale Carnegie & Assoc., Inc.

We have all heard the story of the lad who was born in Kentucky a little over a century and a half ago. He spent his youth in poverty. When he was about seven years of age his family moved to Indiana where, for the first year, they lived in a three sided shed. A buffalo skin was hung across the open side to keep out the sleet and snow. His formal education amounted to a total of about one year. He learned to write, using an old wooden shovel for a slate and a charred twig served as his chalk.

STUDIED
One day he bought a barrel of junk for fifty cents. As he browsed through the barrel he found a couple of old law books. Even though his education was limited, he began to read and to study law. He became intensely interested. In the evening he read by the light of the crackling flames in the fireplace, and in the early morning hours he read by the light that shone through the cracks between the logs of his modest cabin. He made a steadfast resolution. He said, "I will prepare myself and some day my time will come."

It is said that he often walked as far as fifty miles to get his hands on a book that he hadn't read. He didn't have the public library downtown, on the corner, as we have today. But more and more, as he became an avid reader, his resolution dominated his mind, "I will prepare myself and some day my time will come."

time will come."
When he was in his early twenties he moved to New Salem, Illinois, where he worked in the Post Office and in a general store. But he never lost sight of his goal. He persistently kept on preparing himself and his time did come. He became the 16th President of the United States. Because of his keen insight, his profound character and his compassion for humanity, he endeared himself to the hearts of countless thousands of people throughout the world. His remains now rest in a magnificent tomb, in a beautiful cemetery, in Springfield, Illinois. Hundreds of people from around the world go there to visit the place each year. His name will always appear high on the list of the immortals and, of course, we know that his name was Abraham Lincoln.

INSPIRATION
This story of success against great odds should be an eternal source of inspiration to each of us. Perhaps we don't aspire to be President, but most of us would really like to make more of our lives than we have. The opportunity for success is far greater now than it was in his day. But it requires something of us. Do we have the desire? Do we possess the tenacity to prepare ourselves, to search out and discover some of our hidden talents and abilities, to develop them to the extent that they will enable us to achieve? So many of us are inclined to sit back and wait for opportunity to knock. But, have we equipped ourselves to even recognize the opportunity and then to make good use of it? It was Samuel Rayburn, Speaker of the House of Representatives for so many years, who said, "Readiness for opportunity makes for success. Opportunity often comes by accident but readiness never does." He was so right. Readiness is something that each of us must bring about for ourself through self-preparation, through the development of at least a part of the hidden potential that lies within us.

When we fully comprehend this profound truth, when we realize that self-preparation is prerequisite to successful accomplishment, then we too may be motivated to firmly resolve, as did the immortal Lincoln: "I will prepare myself and some day my time will come."

Martin County Agent On Job

STANTON (SC)—Billy Reagar is getting acquainted over the county in his new duties as county agent. Last week he met with all the 4-H groups.

One of the big problems immediately, he admitted, is "learning to get over the county without getting lost."

Reagar is a native of Llano, the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Reagar of that city. He also is a graduate of Texas A&M with a degree in animal husbandry. He spent three months at Monahan as an assistant agent trainee. Then was named assistant at Bay City. He was married in March, 1964, and he and Mrs. Reagar have moved here.

Clerk Reports A Busy Month

Pauline Petty, county clerk, had one of the busiest Augusts in several years, she said last week.

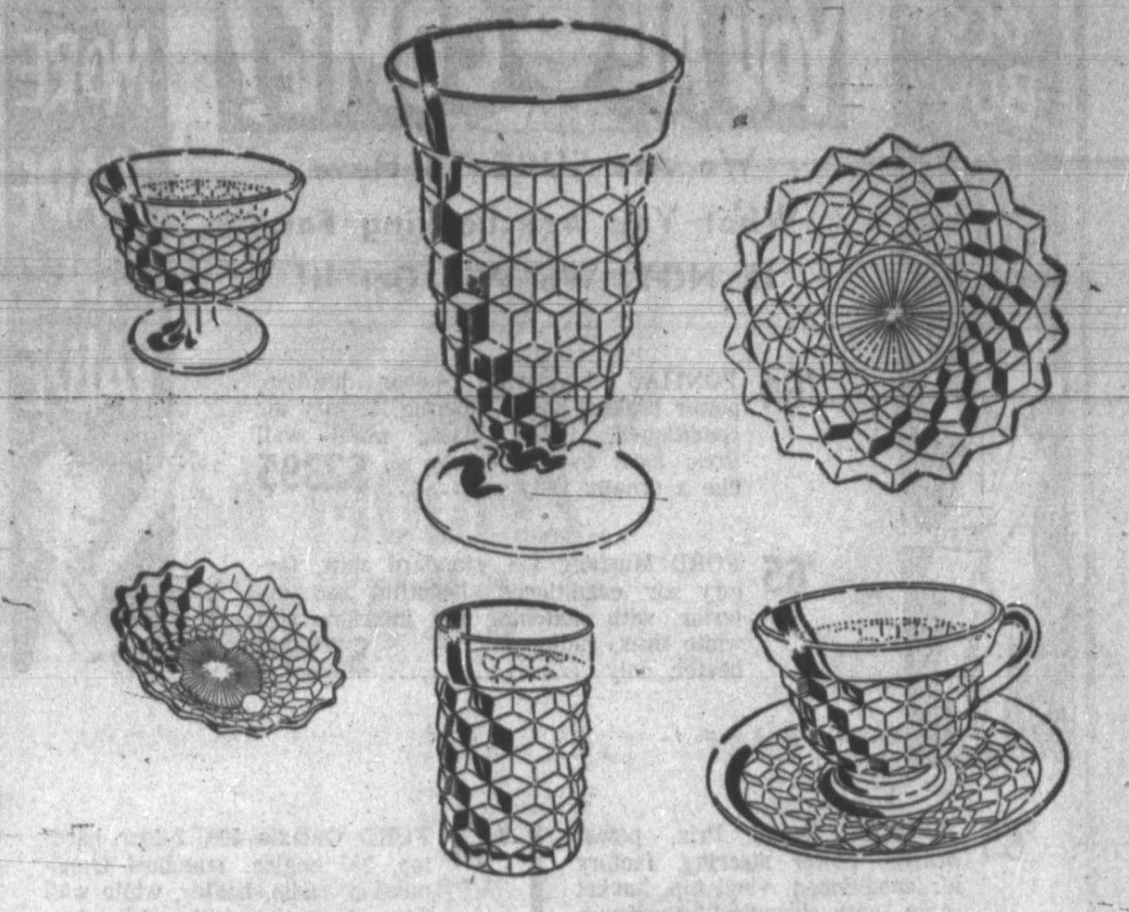

Her office was kept active with numerous filings and total receipts for the month were $2,804.40 compared with $2,382.85 for July.

Normally business slackens in the June-July-August period, Mrs. Petty observed. This year the period was booming.

Cupid kept up a busy campaign in August, and 47 marriage licenses were issued. This compared with 44 for July.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠ East found himself burdened with too many assets in defending against South's four spade contract, and the latter took full advantage of the situation.

When North heard his partner make a vulnerable overall of two spades after East had opened with one no trump, he reasoned that South should not only have a good suit, but six or seven tricks as well. With two aces and two kings, he was willing to gamble out a game and he proceeded directly to four spades.

West made the effective opening of the ten of hearts and the defense promptly rattled off three tricks in that suit. East was in on the third round, and he shifted to the king of diamonds. South played the ace and drew trumps in three pulls. Declarer had nine top tricks—six spades, one diamond, and two clubs. He observed that inasmuch as only 16 points were outstanding, East was marked with every missing high card in order to warrant his one no trump bid. This meant that he had the K-Q-J of diamonds and the queen-jack of clubs. By running down all the trumps, declarer could make it physically impossible for East to guard both minor suits.

South proceeded to lead out three more rounds of spades, discarding two diamonds and a club from dummy. North was down to three cards, the A-K-10 of clubs while declarer retained the ten-seven of diamonds and the six of clubs. East had not yet followed to the last spade and still retained four cards: the queen of diamonds and the Q-J of clubs. East could not discard a club or else the dummy would take the last three tricks in that suit. He, therefore, gave up the queen of diamonds on the chance that West might have the ten. When South produced that card the contest was over.

It may be observed that East can break up the squeeze by shifting to the queen of clubs at trick four. This play severs the vital line of communications between declarer's hand and the dummy. South can obtain an immediate discard on North's clubs, however he must surrender a diamond at the end for the setting trick.
