Faulty Hatch Threatens Mission

Swift Hunters Dock In First Orbit Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 11 astronauts, swift hunters in the sky, accomplished man's quickest rendezvous of high-flying space vehicles today as a dramatic prelude to three adventurous days in space.

They caught and captured an Agena target satellite before they completed their first orbit of the globe.

DOCKED
"We are docked," exclaimed Gemini 11 command pilot Charles Conrad Jr.

"Beautiful," Mission Control said to the spacemen. The rendezvous occurred approximately 185 miles above the Pacific Ocean and the word was relayed by the pilots when they passed over a tracking station at Point Arguello, Calif.

Conrad and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. accomplished the quick first-orbit rendezvous nearly three hours and two orbits faster than any previous Gemini flight.

They skillfully steered their tiny spaceship through a series of maneuvers as they pursued the Agena over an 18,000-mile course, catching it above the Pacific Ocean, some 80 minutes after they rode a thundering Titan 2 rocket from Cape Kennedy.

Mechanical latches gripped the two as they sailed as one rigid vehicle.

LESS FUEL
When Conrad told the ground he used only 44 per cent of his fuel to accomplish the docking, mission control replied: "That's great, Pete."

Experts had said as much as 75 per cent of the fuel might be required for the tricky maneuvering of Gemini 11.

The 80-minute link at 17,500 miles an hour easily topped the old rendezvous mark of four hours set by the Gemini 9 astronauts in June. The dramatic pursuit triggered what should be an action-packed three days in space.

Ahead lay a 107-minute space walk and 140-minute "space stand" by Gordon, a dash to a record altitude of 863 miles and a unique experiment in which the Agena and Gemini will be tied together by a 100-foot line.

NO HELP
The fast maneuvering, achieved with almost no help from the ground, has two important implications for America's Apollo man to the moon program.

First, it simulated an emergency liftoff from the moon by two astronauts who might have to make a hasty rendezvous with an Apollo ship in lunar orbit.

Second, it demonstrated the ability of the astronauts to use their computer, inertial guidance system and radar to calculate all their maneuvers on board instead of receiving help from ground stations as earlier Gemini hunters did.

The astronauts reported only one minor problem in the rendezvous and docking exercise.

NO ELEVATION
"We had some sort of a funny during rendezvous," Conrad said. "We couldn't switch antennae and on our third connection we had no elevation."

A backup system was used to do the job and after completing the docking, the pilots reported the antenna switching system, used in calculating elevation, was working.

Shortly after docking, Conrad fired the Gemini thruster rockets to push the Agena forward. Purpose of this experiment is to test the technique and accuracy of a direct contact method of determining the weight of an orbiting object — in this case the Agena. The ground knows the precise Agena weight and officials want to see if instruments aboard Gemini 11 can come up with the same figure during the test.

The Gemini 11 astronauts first reported sighting the speeding Agena as they passed over a tracking station at Tananarive, Malagasy Republic, an island off the east coast of Africa.

Before the ambitious space flight got off the ground, there were two scrubs and a last-minute, quarter-hour delay. Once in the air, however, everything clicked with split-second precision.

The space agency said initial tracking reports indicated the Agena's orbit ranged from 183 to 189 miles above the earth, very near the 185-mile-high circular orbit that was planned.

BALKY HATCH

Just two minutes before the Atlas-Agena was to lift off, at 7:49 a.m. a 16-minute delay was forced by a balky hatch over command pilot Conrad in the Gemini 11 spacecraft. Checks showed it hadn't sealed properly.

Technicians re-opened the hatch, then closed it again and finally got the problem whipped.

Premier Ky Reports Big Election Turnout

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said today that 80 per cent of South Viet Nam's voters had turned out for the national elections which spelled "the beginning of the end for the Communists."

"We now have the conditions for final victory," the premier said at a gala diplomatic and press conference at which all members of the ruling military council appeared.

MEETS SEPT. 26
The new assembly of 117 representatives elected to write a new constitution will meet Sept. 26 and Ky said they should finish their work "as soon as possible."

The new assembly, as announced by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang, who was in charge of the elections, included 22 teachers, 20 military men, 18 civil servants, 17 provincial councilors, 15 professional people, eight farmers, three judges and three others.

Only one woman, of 18 female candidates, was successful. The average age of the assembly is 40.

Gen. Thang said that on election day there were 5,289,652 eligible voters. Of this number 4,274,812 went to the polls.

Thang admitted that among the voters some cast blank ballots of protest, but said the number was far smaller than the 15 per cent who cast defaced ballots in the 1965 provincial elections. He gave no figure however.

VICTORY
Ky, resplendent in a black tailored uniform, lavender neck scarf and six rows of bright ribbons on his chest, said the elections were "a victory of the entire free world against the efforts of evil forces to enslave mankind."

"Never before have the Communists tried as hard to sabotage anything as they did yesterday," Ky said. "Never before have they failed as yesterday."

"This announces the beginning of the end for the Communists," he added. The results, Ky exulted "were beautiful" but he said: "We have not yet achieved the final victory. There are many obstacles before us and the more we achieve success the more the enemy will redouble his efforts."

"However," he added, "this victory permits us to believe in final victory. We do now have the conditions for final victory." Ky was followed by chief of state Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu.

SECOND THOUGHTS
"The Hanoi regime," Thieu said, will have to have second thoughts about the election they so roundly condemned as a farce.

The election was the first step toward restoring civilian government and it demonstrated that Ky's regime has effective administrative control over the majority of South Viet Nam. It was a dramatic defeat for the Communists who mounted a campaign of terror in the days preceding the voting and a slap in the face for the once-powerful radical Buddhist minority which had called for a boycott of the polling.

The assembly will have six months to draw up a new constitution after it meets Sept. 26 to replace the one which was abrogated after the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963.

MORE ELECTIONS
Then more elections are to be held to fill whatever offices the constitution sets up. Almost certainly the country is expected to end up with a presidency and a balancing legislature.

The Communist terror campaign, which had centered on Saigon and surrounding Gia Dinh Province, left at least 28 dead and 65 wounded in the final two days.

the open hearing Monday in the County Commissioners Court. A request from Coahoma that the county buy a fire truck pumper for the Coahoma department and at the same time continue its payment of $1,500 a year for rural fire safety was read but no action taken.

TAX RATE 1.07
Commissioners approved a tax rate of 1.07 per one hundred dollars assessed value. The total budget, with exception of the 1967 Howard County budget at $2,500 included in the car allowance figures, pointed to a total budget of about $1,015,000 when the court concluded the hearing during the afternoon.

Several other salary adjustments, already announced in the tentative budget, were approved. These include $15 per month per man for all members of the road and bridge department; $25 a month for all of the male deputies on Sheriff A. N. Standard's staff, $400 a year increase in the pay of Mrs. Catherine Crawford, Howard County home demonstration agent, and $180 a year boost for the secretary in the agricultural agent's office.

Other funds were approved about as set up in the budget. Salary adjustments, of course, are subject to the January, 1967, session of the court at which time such questions will be decided finally.

NEW ITEM
This year's budget includes several items not heretofore found in the county list—an average of $100 per office to pay expenses of the elective officials in attending state conferences of their fellow officials.

The hearing on the budget failed to draw any major attraction from the public.

Walter Grice and Jess Slaughter, the two justices of the peace, were on hand to press for an adjustment in their pay. Their argument was that work had been much increased on their offices due to the new criminal code and that much of their new duties are night time assignments. The $25 per month increase on each justice's car allowance was the result of their appeal. The motion by Ray Nichols and Simon Terrazas got an unanimous vote. Their salaries were left at $3,900.

Slaughter made a long appeal to have his secretary given an extra day's work per week. She now works three days and he wanted the commissioners to increase her work week to four days. No action was taken on his request.

INCLUDES JUDGE
The action on Judge Portor's car allowance was initiated by Terrazas, one of the commissioners. (See BUDGET, Pg. 4-A, Col. 4)

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American warplanes pounded North Viet Nam with the heaviest raids of the war Sunday, the U.S. command announced.

B52 bombers struck today at North Vietnamese troops in the demilitarized zone in follow-up raids to tactical strikes made Sunday by Air Force Canberra and Phantom bombers.

RECORD FLIGHTS
A U.S. spokesman said American pilots flew a record 171 missions against the Communist North hitting at bridges, fuel depots and transportation facilities in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas and the southern Panhandle.

Pilots taking part in Sunday's raids reported damaging or destroying 107 cargo barges, 11 junks, 19 bridges, 38 supply buildings, 13 trucks and one missile site.

Over South Viet Nam, U.S. pilots flew 363 strike sorties Sunday, claiming more than 200 enemy bunkers, tunnels, huts, trenches and fortified positions were destroyed or damaged. A sortie is a single combat mission by a single plane.

IN LULL
Ground action in South Viet Nam continued in a lull and United States and Vietnamese military spokesmen reported no major enemy contacts.

The 171 air missions over the North was well over the previous high of 156 raids of Aug. 26. A U.S. spokesman would not say how many individual plane sorties the 171 missions involved but such large numbers would almost certainly mean 400 to 500 single-plane sorties.

Mayor Appeals For Help In Solving Negro Riots

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Racial violence-accented with relieving marches—erupted in a predominantly Negro area of Atlanta for two straight nights.

Injuries were light in the rioting that continued until calm was restored early today. Several arrests were made.

MAYOR APPEALS
Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. threw open the doors of his office and appealed for Negro leaders to present their problems and possible solutions to the violence.

Allen, who waded into the middle of riots in his city Tuesday and Saturday, rushed to the scene again Sunday night after a blazing fire bomb signaled the beginning of more violence.

Only a few hours earlier he had offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person responsible for the death of Hubert Vorner, 16.

Sporadic violence punctured the rioting Sunday night and intermittently fractured a volatile, unspoken truce brought about largely through the efforts of Negro and white ministers and social workers.

DEATH
The Saturday night rioting, several miles away from that of Tuesday, was spawped by the death of Vorner and the wounding of a companion, Roy Milton Wright, also 16.

Investigators reported a car carrying a white man and a white woman had slowly passed when shots rang out felling the youths.

Witnesses' accounts led officers to believe the gunman apparently thought his companion had been insulted by Vorner and Wright.

Police Sgt. M. J. Spears, 42, quickly arrived to probe the shooting. He was talking to a crowd of Negroes when he was felled by what officers first said was a shot from the crowd but later termed only as an object.

BULLET
Hospital officials said the findings of tiny metal fragments in Spears' head led to the assumption he was struck by a bullet which had either ricocheted or was about spent.

The combined incidents touched off rioting which drew hundreds of Negro residents into the streets for rock and bottle throwing with some of the missiles smashing car windows.

One newsman, James Gilmier of WSB-TV, suffered a skull fracture and underwent brain surgery Sunday. He was reported in good condition.

Several members of the crowds roving the blocks-long trouble spot early today tried to negotiate with Allen. Their demands ranged from a removal of all the riot-equipped police to a release of jailed Stokely Carmichael, national director of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

REFUSED
Allen refused the demands, saying, "I appreciate your interest, but I want to make it plain we intend to enforce the law and protect the property and the people of Atlanta."

Several gasoline-filled bottles stuffed with rag wicks burst on the streets. One landed under a police wagon but officers merely drove away.

Child Killed By Old Shell
BREAUX BRIDGE, La. (AP) — A girl was killed and her brother maimed when a 28-millimeter shell exploded in a home near here Sunday night.

Killed was Deborah Roy, 14, who apparently was watching her brother, James, 20, tinker with a shell made in 1943. The brother lost his left arm and suffered internal injuries.

A broken knife found in the debris led investigators to speculate that Roy was trying to open the shell when the blast occurred in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roy.

Hi! Long Time No See

Harvey Hooser is greeted by an old friend — or at least he greeted Harvey like an old friend, when the Shrine Circus came to town today. Hooser and other Shriners were watching the lions, tigers, elephants and all sorts of animals being unloaded at the rodeo grounds when this chimp figured he'd seen Hooser somewhere before. So upsy-daisy for a close look and a fond embrace. An evening performance of the circus will follow today's matinee for kiddies. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

Jury Reports Man Innocent

MWANZA, Tanzania (AP)—The two-man jury of a Tanzanian court recommended today that American Peace Corps volunteer Bill Haywood Kinsey be found innocent of murdering his wife, Peverley. The final verdict is up to the presiding judge.

The two, an American and an African, both found that Mrs. Kinsey, 23, died March 27 as a result of an accidental fall from a rock.

Kinsey, 25, of Washington, N.C., has been on trial for his life for 15 days. The prosecution alleged that Kinsey bludgeoned Peverley to death with a length of iron pipe during a picnic on Impala Hill, two miles from the Tanzanian town of Maswa where they both taught school.

The assessors, as the jurors are known, told the court there was no evidence to support the prosecution's contention that Peverley had been unfaithful to her husband and that this was a motive for the alleged crime.

"I find the accused not guilty of the charge against him," declared assessor Gail Bagley, 46, a soil conservation expert of Elsberry, Mo. "My opinion is that it was an obvious accident beyond any doubt."

"I believe the accused not guilty and there should be a clear acquittal on the ground of accident," declared the second assessor, Tanzanian economist Fred Mugobi, 27, "I believe the fall took place as the accused has said."

Judge Harold Platt, a Briton, told the court he would give his verdict on Saturday.

Hospitals Feel Medicare Effects

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Administrators at three hospitals here say they are beginning to feel the delayed effects of medicare.

Johnson, Graham Worship Together

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is the first chief executive in nearly 14 years to worship at Washington's First Baptist Church.

The President went to church there Sunday with evangelist Billy Graham, a weekend guest at the White House. Mrs. Johnson, daughter Lynda and Graham's son, Franklin, 14, went, too.

Dr. Edwin Hughes Pruden, the minister, said no President had gone to the church since Harry S. Truman, who was a Baptist and frequent visitor.

Carr Presents Arguments In Appealing Gas Rate Ruling

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr today presented his state's arguments in an appeal of the Federal Power Commission's ruling on gas rates in the Permian Basin area of West Texas.

Speaking before the 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, Carr said the FPC order will put many large and small Texas independent producers out of business "because of their inability to meet expenses with the resulting lowering of income."

Carr's case also included arguments the ruling will have a "serious impact" on the state's economy and on individual Texans.

Last month, Carr commented that the order established "depressant low prices" for gas produced in the Permian Basin.

The FPC order called for a price rate of 14.5 cents per thousand cubic feet in Texas for "old gas-well gas" and 16.5 cents for "new gas-well gas."

During February, 1965, hearings in Washington, Gov. John Connally, D-Tex., Carr and Texas Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon urged a single price of 20 cents.

Last January, Texas and New Mexico obtained a stay order from the Denver court on the FPC order until they could present further arguments.

The FPC said in a written brief to the court earlier that its order, issued Aug. 5, 1965, but later stayed, would reduce producer charges in the Permian Basin of Texas and New Mexico by at least $20 million a year.

The FPC also said it proposed to require refunds on sales dating back to 1958.

About 85 per cent of Permian Basin's natural gas piped to California by El Paso Natural Gas Co. and Transwestern Pipeline Co. The other 15 per cent is distributed to natural gas utilities in the Midwest by Northern Natural Gas Co.

Lawyers for hundreds of natural gas producers in the 55 Texas counties and three New Mexico counties making up the basin have joined in the fight to invalidate the FPC order which would supersede rates established on an individual company basis.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

Heart Attack Kills TCU Chancellor

FORT WORTH (AP)—Dr. McGruder Ellis Sadler, recently described as "a giant among men" after leading Texas Christian University through a phenomenal growth period, is dead.

Sadler, 60, who retired June 30, 1965, after nearly a quarter of a century as TCU chancellor, died of an apparent heart attack Sunday.

He was on a weekend fishing trip and was driving alone near New Waverly in South Texas when stricken. He died at a Huntsville hospital.

Texas Christian had 1,700 students and an endowment of a few hundred thousand dollars when he was named sixth president in 1941. The title was changed to chancellor in 1959.

Today the university has a student enrollment of approximately 2,600 and an endowment of more than $27 million. In addition 42 buildings were erected, rebuilt or purchased.

His death was the third among high Texas Christian officials within a week.

Amos W. Melton, assistant chancellor, died last Monday and Dr. Cecil Williams, head of the English Department, died the next day. Both died of heart attacks at home.

Although retired, Sadler had agreed to serve as executive chairman of the board to handle a few major projects.

At the time he was called "a giant among men" he was being honored as Fort Worth's outstanding senior citizen in 1966. The award was made by the Women's Civic Club Council.

"There will be a few persons who can ever equal him," said LUBBOCK (AP)—Two cabinet members will be among speakers Nov. 1 as Dr. Grover E. Murray is inaugurated as president of Texas Technological College.

A spokesman for the inauguration committee said Saturday that Interior Secretary Stewart Udall and John W. Gardner, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, would speak at the ceremonies.

Other speakers will be announced later.

Udall and Gardner also will participate in an Oct. 31 symposium on arid and semi-arid lands.

Murray, 49, succeeds Dr. R.C. Goodwin as Tech president. He has proposed the establishment at Tech of an International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN 10 1964; By The Chicago Tribune) ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ Q. 1—Neither vulnerable and as South, dealer, you hold: ♠J3♥10♦A4♣KJ976542 What is your opening bid? A—Best results are usually obtained on hands of this type by taking preemptive action. Our vote would be for a four club opening. While this by-passes a possible three no trump contract, it is advisable to make it as difficult as possible for the opponents to enter the auction. Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold: ♠AKQJ3♥A10♦AJ63♣A6 The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 2♦ Pass 2NT Pass 3♦ Pass 3♣ Pass ? What do you bid now? A—Three no trump. This is preferable to bidding four spades since spades may easily prove to be the limit of the hand. Besides, partner can still carry on to four spades if his hand is best suited for that contract. Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold: ♠J73♥AK102♦KQ♣AQ98 The bidding has proceeded: East South West North Pass 1♣ Pass 1♠ Pass ? What do you bid now? A—We have a leaning toward two hearts, a reverse, showing 19 points. The more normal call of two no trump may not work out so well because of the doubtless King-queen of diamonds. Partner might raise to three no trump on some hand with three little diamonds and a five card spade suit that would produce a game only in the major. Over two hearts, partner's rebid may serve to clarify the situation. Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold: ♠AKJ542♥542♦K3♣42 The bidding has proceeded: West North East South Pass 1♥ Pass 1♠ Pass 2♥ Pass 3♥ Pass 4♥ Pass ? What do you bid now? A—Five hearts. Your only concern is the club suit, and a leap over game in hearts will convey this message to partner, if he has either first or second round control in clubs, he will realize that is what you need for a slam. Q. 5—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold: ♠K74♥9♦KJ9753♣AQ7 The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1♠ Pass 1♦ Pass 1NT Pass ? What do you bid now? A—Three diamonds. Some further attempt is called for on your part to look for a suit contract. If partner returns to three no trump you can quit but, if he bids something else, you should next show the club support. Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold: ♠K105♥KQJ2♦98653♣3 The bidding has proceeded: South West North East Pass Pass 1♠ Pass 1♦ Pass 1NT Pass ? What do you bid now? A—Pass. There is no future in this hand and quite probably no better spot. In any event, you have nothing to bid. Q. 7—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold: ♠J32♥7♦KQ106♣K9854 The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 4♣ Pass Pass 4NT Pass ? What do you bid now? A—Pass. The opponents are not in their best spot and you should do absolutely nothing to disturb them. They are obviously loaded with hearts (your partner's bid suggests this) and a double can only serve to drive them into the other major. Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold: ♠A43♥J532♣AKQJ6♣A The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1♥ Dble. Pass 1♠ Pass ? What do you bid now? A—Three diamonds. This hand is valued at 21 points and as such calls for strong action. However, when you have forced a response from partner it is not wise to offer an immediate raise with just three trumps. A jump in diamonds will encourage partner to continue the contest with any modest holding.

Seagoville Inmates Working In Town

By J.W. DAVIS
SEAGOVILLE, Texas (AP)—Here is a federal prison where each inmate has his own room and a key to it. Nobody calls it a cell.
If an inmate seems ready for it, he can work by day at a job in town, and spend his nights back in his room.
EXPERIMENTING
This is the Seagoville Federal Correction Institution, with a 20-year record of experimenting in how to change convicts into good citizens.
One of the latest experiments being tried here and at other federal prisons is the work-by-day and prison-by-night scheme. It is paying off, penal authorities say. Most inmates with any chance at all to be chosen for it try hard to qualify.
The project, called Work Release, dates back to a message President Johnson sent Congress in March, 1965.
The president declared: "We cannot tolerate an endless, self-defeating cycle of imprisonment, release and re-imprisonment, which fails to alter undesirable attitudes and behavior."
HELP
"We must find ways to help the first offender avoid a continuing career of crime."
Johnson's appeal was in line with the thinking of many federal and state prison officials: the old-fashioned prison, where men were penned behind bars for punishment, has been a failure.
What is needed, these officials contend, is a system that rehabilitates and prepares prisoners for a change into worthwhile citizens.
Myrl E. Alexander, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, sees enormous significance in the growing efforts to provide prisoners with programs of education, vocational training, counseling and guidance.
Alexander, looking ahead, said:
SPECIAL PURPOSE
"It can be predicted that large, multipurpose prisons and reformatories will give way to smaller, special-purpose institutions where inmates who can be expected to benefit from the investment will participate in relatively short-term intensive programs of correction before moving out to the community, still under institutional control, and then to parole and release."
"The process will eliminate for many offenders the old dichotomy of being behind bars today and free in the community tomorrow."
Following President Johnson's 1965 message, Congress passed the Prisoner Rehabilitation Act.
WORK RELEASE
It set up (1) the machinery for Work Release; (2) an arrangement to grant unescorted furloughs for prisoners under emergency circumstances such as a death in the family; and (3) authority to commit prisoners to community treatment centers that would try to prepare them for the problems they'll face after they finish their terms.
The Work Release program has attracted most interest. It is not truly new, having been tried long ago in Sweden, and to some extent in this country since 1913 when a Wisconsin law authorized sheriffs to permit jail prisoners to work on the outside.
But its federal application is new, and it has now come under close study to see if it can be expanded. Right now, out of 21,000 federal prisoners, about 550 are on Work Release.
OVER 40
Here at Seagoville, out of about 450 inmates, 40 to 50 are on Work Release. The numbers vary as men finish their terms, or are paroled.
Warden Henry J. Davis explains that Seagoville has been an important testing area, because the nearby Dallas-Fort Worth area has been booming and all sorts of jobs are open. It is national policy not to place Work Release prisoners in areas of unemployment.
Work Release men come in all ages, and some have families. They work for the going wage and they can send money home, if needed, or save it for the day they'll go free. They pay their transportation expenses between prison and the job. They wear street clothes on the job.
BOUGHT CYCLES
Some of those at the Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison have bought bicycles to get to and from.
Warden J. J. Parker at Lewisburg says: "The men are real happy with the idea of being able to get a job on the outside."
The warden and Prisons Director Alexander all recognize that only a fraction of the convicts can qualify for Work Release.
Director Alexander said in a Washington interview: "We screen very carefully those who get Work Release. No one convicted of violent or heinous crimes, notorious cases — none of them."
But Alexander and Warden Davis agreed that even when a convict employ turned out bad, it didn't sour employers on the Work Release program. "They are willing to continue to work with us," Davis said.
LOCKED UP
Seagoville is anything but tight. The cottages where the inmates live are locked at night, and officers do make a head count a half dozen times a day.
But it has a fence a cripple could climb and its farm lands are open to easy escape.
This prison looks more like a college. Guards are called correctional officers, and the inmates speak to them cheerfully.
"We deliberately set out to create a climate that was conducive to change," Davis said.

Interns Find Out About Prison Life

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The most jealously guarded persons these days are not the prisoners in the Big House at Huntsville and its scattered units but the 60 persons studying prison correctional methods in college.
Dr. George Killinger, director of the correctional studies institute, said recently:
"I am already getting calls from out-of-state for students who have completed the internship program. This situation pleases us very much but right now we are training Texans for Texas."
Huntsville also is the home of Sam Houston State College, where the program of studies was begun. In the summer, the students learn from practical experience as interns in the prison system, the emphasis of which is reflected in its name change to Texas Department of Corrections.
During the summer, the students worked in all units of the prison. They are rotated in order to find experience in all phases of correctional work.
Jim Kersey, an Austin senior psychology major at the University of Texas who took part in the program, said, "The three days I spent at Ferguson (a prison unit) were the most valuable days that I have spent during my college life."
"I believe the value of the program is in the fact that there is a combination of classroom instruction and the added bonus of real life experience."
The seeming finality of the big door closing and the suspense of the first day had its effects on one intern assigned to the main unit, which appears formidable from both inside and out. His first day's work was interrupted because of extreme nervous nausea.
Ronald Wright, a Sam Houston senior from Hillsboro, assigned for a time to the diagnostic unit, was impressed with the low level of education of most inmates.
"A large percentage of the inmates come from broken homes or from highly undesirable environments," Wright said. "I have observed that most inmates have no skill or job training that would enable them to make a living on the outside."
Haskell Shelton Jr., a law student from Austin, replaced the old-line "jail house lawyer" in the prison for a time, assigned by Dr. George Beto, prison director, as a circuit legal counselor.

His job was to clarify legal misapprehensions of prisoners.
Other intern jobs included those of mail censors, case history interviews, cell block supervision, picket control operation, chaplain assistant, education department workers and warden assistant.
Their summer also had homework.
Dr. Killinger required the students to submit weekly analyses of their activities and reports on what they had learned.
They also were required to send Killinger weekly reports based on assigned reading from the officers training guide of the Department of Corrections and the American Corrections Association.
The prison and college authorities want no thefts — particularly of their trained pupils.

New Journal Goes On Sale
NEW YORK (AP)—The World Journal Tribune made its debut today — 4½ months late because of labor difficulties.
The press run of the first edition, which was scheduled for 9 a.m., was delayed for more than an hour by what President Matt Meyer called first-day "normal confusion."
Mayor John V. Lindsay was to have pushed a button to start the 900,000-copy press run, but he had to leave before it was ready to roll.
Lindsay was presented with a proof of page one of the new afternoon paper, which will sell for 10 cents. The Sunday edition will cost 30 cents in the city, 35 cents in the suburbs.

DROPS FILM PACKS New Superspy Reported Orbiting

NEW YORK (AP)—A new maneuverable superspy satellite is taking photos of Soviet military bases and dropping the film packages back to the United States, the Daily News said today.
TV TOO
In a copyright article from Cape Kennedy, Fla., the paper said the satellite may have a television system which can be monitored from the ground.
The News said the satellite is an improved version of a type which has been photographing Soviet and Chinese military bases for more than five years—the so-called Smos program.
It said the new satellite, first launched on July 29 from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California, has a camera so powerful it can photograph objects as small as several feet across from 100 miles up. The film packages are dropped on signal from the earth and caught in nets by planes near Hawaii, or fished from the ocean if the planes miss.
ROCKETES
The satellite also is equipped with rockets which can change its orbit on ground signal, the News said.

Nixon Fears LBJ May Go Overboard

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he fears President Johnson will "go overboard" in expanding the war in Viet Nam and end up by making that country an American dependency.
Nixon, who recently returned from Saigon and is considered a possible Republican candidate for president in 1968, appeared Sunday on the CBS television program, "Face the Nation."
Nixon has called for an increase of 25 per cent in the number of American troops serving in Viet Nam. But he said he was "distressed" to read published reports that the Johnson administration was thinking of raising the present troop level of about 300,000 to 600,000 or 750,000.
"There is a grave danger at the present time," he said, "that the administration will go overboard in increasing the forces in Viet Nam."
"We might be able to win the war but by doing so we would have on our hands a dependency for a generation to come. That's the wrong way to handle it."
The chief bar to peace in Viet Nam, Nixon contended, was "the split in the Democratic party."
This split, he said, leads the enemy to believe that, if he holds out, the United States will give in. He said he was referring to Democrats favoring expansion and those favoring increased efforts for negotiations.

De Gaulle Sees Nuclear Blast

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP)—Clad in grey protective coveralls and antiflash dark glasses, President Charles de Gaulle watched France's third Pacific nuclear test from the bridge of a cruiser.
The atomic device was launched Sunday from a balloon off the French Polynesian atoll of Mururoa at an altitude of about 1,500 feet. Officials said it was the largest French nuclear explosion to date.
No yield was given but indications were it was in the range of 100 kilotons, or equal to 100,000 tons of TNT.
The 75-year-old chief of the French republic had to wait an extra day aboard the cruiser De Grasse as unfavorable wind conditions forced a 24-hour postponement of the test, originally set for sunrise Saturday. The vessel was 25 miles away from the blast.
The blast climaxed De Gaulle's 27,000-mile round-the-world trip.

Some Farmers Would Like To See Faucet Turned Off

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—South Plains farmers and others in parts of West and Northwest Texas have too much moisture. They'd like to see the faucet turned off and hot, dry weather for a change, said John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, last week.
He said soil moisture, except in small areas, is adequate throughout the state; ranges and pastures continue to improve and livestock conditions in many areas are described as the best in years for the season.
But the showers and rains delayed harvesting and are causing concern in the moisture surplus High Plains area, especially the South Plains, the director said.
Soil moisture in the Panhandle is now adequate except in the midcounties of the district. Wheat planting is under way and some early fields of dryland grain sorghum have been harvested.
The South Plains are just too wet and need hot, dry weather to dry out fields and mature crops. However, all crops look good. Late dryland grain sorghum has come along fast and soy and castorbeans look very good now.
Recent rains have brought the soil moisture to adequate in all 22 Rolling Plains counties. Cotton is looking good but bollworm and boll weevil infestations are increasing. Some hay and grain sorghum are being harvested. Stock tanks in most counties are full.
Soil moisture in North Central Texas is now generally adequate. Cotton is opening and harvesting will soon be under way. The grain sorghum harvest is about over and yields have been good.
Light to heavy rains continued to hit parts of far West Texas, improving soil moisture and ranges. Ranges are generally good but goat shearing has been delayed by rain. Ranch labor was listed as short. Insects are causing some cotton damage in the Pecos area.
Rains varying from showers to more than five inches covered the West Central Texas area and stopped field work. The grain sorghum harvest was about over. Cotton prospects are good with little insect activity noted. Second crop hay is making excellent growth. Winter grass prospects are described as the best in years. Sheep and goat shearing have been delayed by the rains. Reports from Kerr County said deer and turkey numbers have increased and deer are fat. Labor is short in some areas and pecan prospects are for a light to medium crop.

Woman Held In Kidnaping

DALLAS (AP)—Virginia Riggs Martin, about 30, was held for hearing before U. S. Commissioner William Smith today on an FBI complaint of kidnaping.
The woman, who said she was from San Antonio but had been living in the Midland-Odessa area, is accused of abducting Danny Ray Wright, 2, from the home of his grandfather, Luther Tucker, at Shamrock Sept. 3. The boy's mother is Mrs. L. C. Brown of Albuquerque.
Gordon Shanklin, special agent in charge of the Dallas Division of the FBI, said FBI agents arrested the woman at a self-service laundry in Dallas Sunday. He said the boy was found safe at a house here.
The woman also is charged with kidnaping in a warrant filed by Wheeler County authorities. Shanklin said if there is insufficient evidence to hold the woman on the federal complaint she will be turned over to the county for prosecution.
He said there was no motive for the abduction.
Shanklin said the woman is of Mexican descent and the boy is Negro.

Hotel Fire In Alaska Kills 13

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—At least 13 persons, two of them women, died today in an early morning fire that destroyed the two-story, 33-room Lane Hotel on the edge of Anchorage's main business district.

Anchorage police said 13 bodies, some of them burned beyond recognition, were recovered from the ruins of the frame building.

The fire started during a cold, driving rain and flames quickly swept through the building, burst through the roof and towered skyward before they could be brought under control two hours later. The cause was not determined.

The bodies were taken to a police garage where attempts to identify them were started. The first 10 bodies recovered were found on the second floor. Fire Chief Vic Bernasconi said people were known to have slept in the basement and that area, filled with charred timbers and debris would have to be searched thoroughly before a definite death toll could be determined.

Mansfield Cails For Cloture On Civil Rights Bill Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield today filed a petition to shut off debate on the civil rights bill. The Senate will act on it Wednesday.

It would take a two-thirds vote of the Senate to end the debate over a motion to take up the bill. Mansfield has conceded the prospects for cloture are slim.

Seventeen senators signed the petition. That is one more than the number required to force a cloture vote.

Normally, the cloture vote would come one day and one hour after the petition was filed. But Mansfield not unanimous consent to delay it until the Senate acts Wednesday on a compromise minimum wage bill.

That means a vote probably will come late in the afternoon or early in the evening.

Mansfield filed his petition moments after the Senate produced a quorum—the 51 senators required to do business. Absenteeism had forced the Senate to adjourn three times last week.

Because of that, the debate Mansfield wants to end has produced only one speech—that of Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., against the bill. Thurmond spoke for little more than an hour.

In effect, the battle against the civil rights bill has been a wordless filibuster, with the Senate devoting most of its time to taking attendance counts.

Mansfield has said that with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen opposed to the civil rights bill, it is doubtful that the measure's backers can muster the votes to end the debate.

Both Mansfield and Dirksen said earlier in separate talks that they hoped for a test vote on the cloture motion this week. Dirksen said he held "not the slightest doubt" that sponsors will fail to get the required two-thirds majority to end debate. He said the civil rights bill thus could go on the shelf this week.

The Republican leader said he and GOP members who usually follow his lead cannot support a debate limitation "on anything as controversial as this."

The chief Senate sponsor of the bill refused to concede defeat.

Pleas For Approval Of Johnson's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler told Congress today President Johnson's economic proposals are designed to check inflation, not raise more tax money—but he said the administration cannot now blueprint what may come next.

Fowler urged the House Ways and Means Committee to approve Johnson's recommendation for a 16-month suspension of the investment credit that allows businesses to recover 7 per cent of their spending on most equipment.

Fowler, who has been a strong supporter of the investment credit and reportedly opposed its suspension, repeatedly promised that it would be restored.

He said nothing has altered his belief that the investment credit should be a permanent part of our tax structure.

He continued that "only with considerable reluctance and after very careful study we have reached the conclusion that suspension of the investment credit is an appropriate measure at this time. I stress suspension and not repeal."

"I would be opposed to treating the investment credit as one of many countercyclical devices to be suspended and restored with the normal ups and downs in our economy."

"The present situation is unique and was quite unforeseeable."

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor backed Fowler's appeal, telling the committee that "a major source of the inflationary pressure has been the boom in capital spending."

He said suspension of the tax investments "will still permit our nation's industrial capacity to grow. However, the rapid pace of this growth would be slowed somewhat."

Businessmen generally have been critical of the administration proposals although some, including the top officers of the Chase Manhattan Bank—second largest in the United States with $15 billion in assets—have endorsed the program.

Wilson Shifts Stand On Rhodesian Problem

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson offered today to align Britain with the whole Commonwealth in a formal pledge to work for African rule in Rhodesia.

Delegates reported Wilson laid new proposals before the 22-nation Commonwealth Conference redefining the aims and methods by which Britain hopes to end the 10-month-old rebellion of the colony's white rulers.

A secrecy clampdown on the details of, and reactions to, Wilson's speech was ordered by the president, prime ministers and cabinet ministers attending the talks, which are crucial to the future of Britain's global partnership.

Diplomats who attended gave some information on Wilson's 50-minute address, which appeared to have transformed the hitherto bitter mood of the conference.

African and Asian delegates said they regarded the tone and terms of Wilson's proposals as a shift in his position, bringing Britain closer to their demands for tougher action against the white minority regime of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

There were three elements in a declaration of intent which Wilson suggested could be incorporated in a conference communiqué.

One implicitly recognized the suspicion and resentment which has arisen among nonwhite Commonwealth countries over British policies toward Rhodesia. A draft statement read by Wilson accordingly set out to reaffirm the sincerity of Britain's commitments to uphold the multiracial concepts of the Commonwealth and to end the Rhodesian rebellion.

In this context, Wilson was quoted as telling the conference he had been saddened to hear time and again the argument that Britain is unwilling to act against white Rhodesians because they were "the kith and kin" of the British people.

"I want to assure you," Wilson was quoted as saying, "my kith and kin are the human race."

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. May Gibson, one brother and five sisters.

Also injured in the crash was Royce H. Gilmore, 38, Midland, who is listed in fair condition at the Cowper Clinic and Hospital.

Other survivors locally include six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday at the Thompson-Elliott Funeral Home, Jacksonville. Local arrangements were by the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Topics discussed will include youth in government, the pre-legislative program, community service and the spring conference.

sioners, who pointed out that the judge does much travel on county business and helps the commissioners in many ways when they are not available. He said that he felt that the judge is entitled to the same allowance as the commissioners. Joe Hayden, second Terrazas motion, Nichols sought to interpose a counter motion—a proposal that each of the county commissioner's car allowances be cut to $60 and that the $60 a month thus saved be granted to the judge. This plan died for lack of a second by the court. Nichols had voted no in the matter of an allowance for Porter.

The matter of a county trapper was brought up but no action was taken. The salary is not in the 1967 budget since the present trapper is retiring at the end of this year. The commissioners said they would wait and see what happened before acting.

The session seemed likely to drag on into the afternoon as each item was read and considered.

The bill calls for $2.3 billion in new authorizations for a four-year period.

The seven Democrats, all committee members, said in a supplementary report that the bill is an improvement over the present federal aid program, but they favored a Senate-passed measure calling for a $6 billion authorization for six years.

Dear Abby

Never Be Too Busy

DEAR ABBY: What are you trying to do to us newly married young girls by saying you see no reason why a young bride should not keep in daily touch with her mother?

One of the reasons a girl leaves home is to get out from under her mother's domination.

I am a bride and I work eight hours a day. I cook supper and my husband does the dishes and vacuums. In the evenings, I do my hair, our washing and ironing and mending. We go out with friends once a week or have friends over. We see my mother once very other week. I call her once a week—yet, I got your column in my mailbox!

Abby, who am I to please? Myself, my mother, or my husband?

I am very busy and I get tired. I just don't have time for a 15- or 20-minute phone call with my mother everyday, and I can't cut her off any sooner.

Please, for us who don't have time but want to keep peace in the family say a kind word. And until you do, I am—

EX ABBY FAN

DEAR FAN: I will miss you, but before you depart may I say that I have never known a person who was too busy to do the things he really wanted to do. And I did not say that a married woman SHOULD be in touch with her mother daily. I said, I saw nothing wrong with it.

DEAR ABBY: We have a son who has been in the service for a year. He is now stationed in Hawaii. After not hearing one line from him in two months, we received a telephone call from Hawaii at 2 o'clock in the morning. It was our son informing us that he is getting married and needs our consent and signature as he is only 19 years old.

Well, Abby, you could have knocked us over with a feather. Of course we knew nothing of this girl. He said he met her six weeks ago and he loves her "deeply." We have been through all this with him before. He has fallen in and out of love half a dozen times already and each time he says it is the real thing.

Believe me, we have had it with him. We refused our consent because we honestly feel he isn't grown up enough to know what he wants. Are we doing right to refuse our consent to this marriage?

HOLDING OFF

DEAR HOLDING: Until you know more about the girl, and the circumstances, I would say your decision was sound.

Dodgers Are Back Into League Lead

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League pennant puzzle is still a long way from solution, but Los Angeles run-rejectors are beginning to fill in the blanks.

Sandy Koufax and three other Dodger pitchers kept Houston off the scoreboard for 18 innings Sunday as Los Angeles grounded the Astros 4-0 and 1-0, thereby sweeping into the league lead for the first time in five weeks.

The double shutout, coupled with St. Louis' 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh, sent the Dodgers one game ahead of the staggering Pirates and two in front of San Francisco in the torrid race.

The Dodger staff has thrown 18 shutouts—five by Koufax—while compiling a brilliant earned run average of 2.69. Regan, who has contributed to one-third of the Dodger victories with 13 victories and 15 saves, and Koufax, 23-8, lead the way with ERAs of 1.64 and 1.81, respectively.

The Giants dropped their third straight to the last-place Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in the first game of a doubleheader but rebounded 2-0 behind Bob Bolin's three-hitter to stay within range of the leaders.

The Atlanta Braves whipped New York 8-3 for their sixth straight victory and Philadelphia drubbed Cincinnati 9-3 in other NL games.

McCarver's two-out, bases-loaded single off reliever Roy Face in the eighth wiped out a 3-2 Pittsburgh lead and handed the Pirates their fifth loss in the last six games. Singles by Jul-

Tributes Are Paid Cherry

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Sportdom pays final tribute today to Blair Cherry, for almost 40 years a coach of football in Texas and for the last 15 years a prominent oilman.

Cherry died Saturday from a blood clot in the heart. He had been quite ill recently and three weeks ago underwent a kidney operation. He returned to the hospital when he developed chest pains.

Funeral services were scheduled here this morning, with burial at Amarillo, where graveside services will be held at Llano Cemetery at 2:30 p.m.

Cherry was one of the early coaches of the Texas Interscholastic League, serving at Ranger, Fort Worth Northside and Amarillo. At the latter he had three state schoolboy football championships in a row, the second coach in Texas history to achieve this distinction. The late Paul Tyson won three in a row at Waco in the twenties.

Cherry went to Texas as an assistant to D. X. Bible. He became head coach in 1947 and was the first high school coach to demonstrate that he could win in college ranks. He had one Southwest Conference champion and three bowl teams at Texas in four years.

Odessa Cocker Spaniel Carries Off Top Honors

A flashy parti-colored Cocker Spaniel named Frani won the hearts of the judges and the several hundred spectators at the Big Spring Kennel Club Plan B sanctioned match here Sunday.

She is owned by Ron and Michael Specht, Odessa. Her owners went home laden with trophies as Frani was judged best puppy in match and also best dog in show. Along with the show, she won best of breed, sweepstakes puppy bitch (3-6 mo.) and the sporting group.

Frani was bred by Fintcrest Kennels and was sired by Ch. Clarkdale Calcutta ex Ch. Hallway Fancy Free.

There were 36 puppies entered in puppy sweepstakes and 84 entered in regular breed classes. Other group winners were hound group won by the basset, Musicland's Perfidia owned by Juanita and Dodd McDowell, Odessa; the working group won by the Doberman Pinscher, Sandstorm's Valiant, owned by Jack Burris, Odessa; the terrier group won by the miniature Schnauzer, Kansho's Voodoo, owned by Jack Kennels, Levelland; the toy group won by the toy poodle, La Bly's Silver Sinner, owned by Mrs. Jack Bly, Odessa; and the non-sporting group won by the miniature poodle, Silver Son of Expectation, owned by Mrs. Ethel Lambert, Odessa.

Best local dog from a class of 10 was won by a six-month-old puppy, Draftsman Amber Survey, owned by Mrs. Bobby Deel and Mrs. Bill W. Tubb. She is sired by Ch. Wichmere Revellie ex Benbruc Sable Sandy, C. C. and was bred by the Tubbs.

In the obedience classes, high scoring dog went to the German Shepherd dog, Tucker Hill's Quesa, owned by Mrs. Roy O. Linn. The shepherd topped an entry of six in novice A with a score of 173½. Mrs. Linn also showed the high scoring dog in novice B, a Corgi, Ch. Fenshire's Trademark, whose score was 171. Local dogs winning trophies in obedience included the second place novice B dog, a Collie owned by Bruce Wright and the third place novice A dog, a Dachshund owned by Kay Sevey.

Miss Becky Liscomb, Midland, won the junior handling trophy over 11 others, showing a blue Chihuahua. Junior handling is judged on the merit of the handler rather than the dog being shown.

Judges for the show were Pat Hastings, Lubbock, and Mrs. Polly Katz, Albuquerque, N. M. who judged conformation, Craig Grigson, Midland, who judged obedience, and Jack Potts, Abilene, who judged junior handling.

Bill Tubb, president of the local club expressed appreciation.

FIRST HOLE WIN Littler Claims $50,000 Prize

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Gene Littler came in the back door and walked out the front with a $50,000 check Sunday by winning the World Series of Golf on the first hole of a dramatic three-way playoff.

After apparently having blown the whole bit with a double bogey 7 on the 18th hole, Littler took Jack Nicklaus and Al Geiberger into the first extra hole and the man who shouldn't have been there crushed their

Clay Has Hurt Hand

CHICAGO (AP)—Cassius Clay, fresh from his latest ring conquest, smiled at cheering fans and pushed back the right sleeve of his dark blue suit to exhibit his puffed right hand.

"Maybe I got a fractured right hand," Clay told newsmen who were waiting Sunday at O'Hare International Airport when the unmarked, 24-year-old champion returned from West Germany.

Saturday, Clay stopped Karl Mildenberger in 1:30 of the 12th round to defend his heavyweight title for the sixth time.

He said he will visit a doctor today to determine how badly his hand was injured in the third round of the battle with Mildenberger—who lasted as long with the fast, hard-hitting Clay as anyone except George Chuvalo, who went 15 rounds before Clay won a decision.

"If my right hand is okay and everything else—the usual money matters and such—are agreed upon, I will fight Cleveland Williams in Texas in a couple of months," Clay said.

Second Place Race Is Shaping Up

By The Associated Press
The American League race is tightening up.

Oh, not for the pennant, of course; Baltimore's grip on that is as tight as ever. But the battle for second place, the only race in the league worth mentioning, is beginning to have its moments.

Detroit, in second place since June 21, was dislodged Sunday, taking a 5-1 beating from Kansas City. Minnesota, in the meantime, took a half-game edge over the Tigers with an 11-6 pounding of none other than the Orioles.

For one mighty inning, the Twins were the hitters they were a year ago, when they slugged their way to the pennant. Baltimore was rolling along with a 4-2 lead in the eighth inning, when Minnesota sent 14 men up to the plate and nine of them crossed it.

Harmon Killebrew, the second man up, hit a two-run homer, his 35th, tying the game, then watched as Bernie Allen, and Al Worthington drove in two each and Tony Oliva knocked in one. Harmon came up again and singled in another one and Ted Uhlaender added the final score with an infield single.

It was the biggest inning of the season for the Twins, who have won five straight games and 11 of their last 13. Minnesota is now 10 games behind the Orioles and the Tigers are 10½ back.

In other American League games, Chicago beat Washington 4-1, California crushed Cleveland 8-2 and New York took Boston 4-2 in 10 innings.

Tigers Hammer Away To Beat Odessa Angels, 4-2

The Big Spring Tigers took advantage of loose infield play by the Odessa Angels to beat the Angels 4-2 in Odessa Sunday.

Abe Gonzales started for the Tigers and got credit for the victory, although he needed help by Ronnie Steen, who pitched the last inning.

The Tigers scored their first run in the third when Charlie Fierro walked, went to second on a wild pitch, to third on a fielder's choice. He came in on a throw to second attempting to get Jesse Zapata stealing. Gonzales doubled in the next inning and went to third on an infield out. He scored on a wild pitch.

Albert Mendoza was safe on an overthrow of a great stop of his sizzling grounder. Jim Fierro singled him in and went to third on the throw into home. Fierro scored on a passed ball on the next pitch to run the lead to 4-0.

The Angels scored their two runs in the bottom of the eighth. Stone and Sanchez singled, and Gonzales made a wild pitch. Covos singled in two runs but Gonzales got out of the jam on a double play. Steen got in trouble in the ninth by walking a pair, but Mendoza caught Stone's long fly for the final out. The Tigers now are 16-7 and meet the Snyder Red Legs here Sunday.

Steers Face Hard Week

Coach Herman Smith and his staff were busy Monday seeking to crank up an offense for Friday's encounter with Plainview.

The Steers were victims of too many "busted" assignments and listless blocking in their initial outing against Lamesa, which was sharp enough to win convincingly, 15-0. Plainview, too, was making mental mistakes in dropping a 12-13 encounter with Littlefield.

Scouting reports said Plainview, with lots of speed, should have won. Smith said the Bulldogs use lots of wide stuff with Johnny Campbell the sprint-out quarterback. Ronald Kerah, alternate quarterback, chunks from a set pattern. Halfbacks who have to be contained are Pat Buchanan, Joe D. Martin and Tommy McGee.

The Steers came out of the Lamesa game with the greatest injury to their pride: Otherwise, there were just bruises and kinks to worry about.

Coach Smith prescribed plenty of hard work on blocking and tackling, but most of all he was working with quarterbacks in an effort to smooth out the sputtering offense. When it appeared that things would get going last Friday, there were mix-ups in the backfield.

Plainview used a 4-4 stunting defense, somewhat like the Lamesa plan that befuddled the Steers, who are not yet far enough along for check-offs at the line.

Steers Face Hard Week

Films of the opening game, together with review of the Lamesa contest, will be shown at the Big Spring Quarterback meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Vocational Building.

Everett Whately and James Duncan, co-captains, urged a good attendance. While the Steers were routed in their first opening, they settled down toward the last and showed they have potential.

Ranked Teams Warming Up For Exacting Weekend

By MAJOR BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Top-ranked Alabama has two more weeks in which to get ready, but most of college football's other pre-season powerhouses take the plunge into regular competition this Saturday.

And after what happened to Syracuse against Baylor last Saturday, the plunge could be just that for some of the highly regarded clubs.

A sensational performance by Terry Southall led Baylor to a 35-12 rout over the seventh-ranked Orangeman in the season's first major game and left Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder stunned.

Southall fired four touchdown passes and completed 14 of 28 attempts for 229 yards, leaving Syracuse's defenses in a shambles.

"He is the best quarterback I ever played against," said Schwartzwalder. "Baylor was ready for this game, and we weren't. We played like a two-bit ball club, and so we got beat."

Floyd Little gained 90 yards and scored two Syracuse touchdowns, but it was small solace for Schwartzwalder who now has two weeks in which to pull his club together for its Sept. 24 game against UCLA.

That's the same day Paul (Bear) Bryant's defending national champions from Alabama open their season against Louisiana Tech.

Most of the other members of The Associated Press Top Ten get their seasons started this week.

Michigan State, ranked second in the pre-season poll, opens at home against North Carolina State and third-ranked Nebraska hosts Texas Christian.

UCLA, No. 4, gets ready for Syracuse with a meeting against Pittsburgh in Los Angeles. Arkansas, No. 5, meets Oklahoma State. Purdue, ranked eighth, is at home to Ohio University and Southern California, No. 9, visits Texas.

Notre Dame, ranked sixth, and Tennessee, No. 10, don't play until Sept. 24. The Irish face Purdue and the Volunteers are at Auburn on that date.

Eleven States To Vote Tuesday In Hot Primaries

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Writer

Tuesday is the biggest primary day of the year. Eleven states vote and contests include notable scraps for Democratic nominations for the Senate and governor in Minnesota.

Maryland and Wisconsin also have hot battles over Democratic nominations for governor and New Hampshire Republicans have a six-way struggle over their party's Senate nomination.

Other states voting are Arizona, Colorado, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Utah and Vermont.

Statistically, the voting will clear 178-plus candidates for places on the ballot Nov. 8 when 435 House members, 35 senators and 35 governors are to be elected.

Democrats and Republicans are making nominations for 74 House seats, nine Senate seats and six governorships — a total of 178 candidates. There are also some primary contests, chiefly in New Jersey, over ballot places as independents.

After Tuesday's voting, the states to hold primaries will be Georgia, Wednesday; Louisiana, runoff Saturday; Washington, Sept. 20, and Hawaii, Oct. 1. A Georgia runoff, which virtually is certain, would be held Sept. 28.

In both Massachusetts and Minnesota, the Democratic fights involve candidates endorsed by state party conventions and challengers who appealed to the voters from the convention decisions.

Edward J. McCormack Jr., former attorney general, was endorsed for Massachusetts governor. Kenneth P. O'Donnell, who was on President John F. Kennedy's staff, is running against him for the nomination.

Boston Mayor John F. Collins is contesting with former Gov. Endicott Peabody, the endorsed candidate, for the Massachusetts Senate nomination. Thomas B. Adams, Boston businessman, also is running.

The winner will go against Republican Edward W. Brooke, state attorney general who is a Negro, in what is expected to be one of the top Senate contests of the year. Brooke is unopposed for his party's nomination. Republican Gov. John A. Volpe is unopposed for renomination.

In Minnesota, the Democrats who operate with a hyphenated tie to the Farmer-Labor party, spurned Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag for endorsement at their convention.

Rolvaag now is trying to prove the convention made a mistake in endorsing L. G. A. M. (Sandy) Keith to take over the governor's chair. Polls give him a splendid chance of doing that.

Otherwise the Minnesota primary prospect is Democratic renomination of Sen. Walter F. Mondale and Republican nomination of Harold LeVander for governor and Robert A. Forsythe for senator. All three have nominal primary opposition.

Briefly running over the others:

MARYLAND — Eight candidates for Democratic nomination for governor with Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan and Rep. Carlton P. Sickles regarded as chief contenders and contractor George P. Mahoney as a dark horse. Spiro T. Agnew, Baltimore County executive (administrative officer), appears sure of Republican nomination although there is field of five.

WISCONSIN — Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey and National Committeeman David Carley contesting for Democratic nomination for governor. Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles unopposed for renomination.

NEW JERSEY — Sen. Clifford Case unopposed for Republican renomination. Warren W. Wilentz big favorite among five entries for Democratic nomination.

COLORADO — Nominations for governor and senator uncontested. Democrats putting Lt. Gov. Robert L. Knott against Republican Gov. John A. Love and Roy Romer, a state senator, against Sen. Gordon L. Allott.

RHODE ISLAND — Retired

Lt. Dengler Visits A Club

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Lt. (j.g.) Dieter Dengler, Navy flier who escaped his North Vietnamese captors, reportedly has weekend and evening liberties from the naval hospital in San Diego.

Dengler, 26, trekked 23 days through the jungle after being captured by the Communists when his plane was shot down last February. While escaping, he said, he witnessed the capture and beheading of another escapee, an Air Force pilot.

He was admitted to the hospital July 27.

The San Diego Union, in a copyrighted story, reported Saturday that Dengler's first night out of the hospital was spent at a downtown night club on Aug. 18.

WAC Lt. Col. Ruth Briggs and Charles Eden vying for Republican nomination against Sen. Claiborne Peell, unopposed in Democratic primary. Republican Gov. John H. Chafee and Democrat Horace Hobbs, now mayor of Warwick, unopposed for gubernatorial nominations.

VERMONT — Businessman Richard Shelling and Tom Hayes, once aid to Sen. Winston L. Prouty, seeking Republican nomination against Democratic Gov. Philip Hoff, unopposed for renomination.

NEW HAMPSHIRE — Democrats: Gov. John W. King and

Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre unopposed for renomination.

Republicans: Former Gov. Hugh Gregg is seeking the nomination for governor along with James Barry, former head of the State Welfare Department; Alexander Taft, party legislative floor leader, and Mayor Peter Lessard of Laconia.

Bidding for the Senate nomination are former Govs. Wesley Powell and Lane Dwinell; Harrison Thynge, a retired Air Force general; William Johnson, former state party chairman; Deloris Bridges, widow of former Sen. Styles Bridges, and Harold Ayer, a construction

ARIZONA — Gov. Sam Goddard, asking Democratic renomination, has opposition from House Speaker Jack Gilbert and Prosecuting Atty. Norman Green of Tucson. Republican contenders are former Atty. Gen. Robert Pickrell, John Haugh, a Tucson businessman, and former Mayor Jack Williams of Phoenix.

UTAH — Reps. Laurence J. Burton, R. and David S. King, D, unopposed for renomination. There are primary contests over the nominations against them. No election of senator or governor this year.

A Devotional For The Day

There is nothing love cannot face; there is no limit to its faith, its hope, and its endurance. (I Corinthians 13:7, NEB)

PRAYER: Our Father, teach us that those who dwell in love dwell in Thee. That we may dwell in Thee, help to love others despite their shortcomings and sins; in the spirit of Christ. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Annual Legislative Sessions

Texas House Speaker Ben Barnes is right in suggesting that it is time for the voters to reconsider changing from biennial to annual sessions of the State Legislature. Texas government has become too big, complex, costly and rapidly changing to be run by a part-time Legislature.

Texas voters in 1958 rejected a constitutional amendment proposal for annual sessions by a vote of 355,492 to 159,062, but the issue was not truly judged on its merits. The amendment was sloppily drafted. It called for a second regular session that would consider appropriations only plus emergency measures submitted by the governor for improbable two-thirds approval. It probably would not have eliminated special sessions — which are too short for serious consideration of important measures — and it gave legislators higher annual salaries plus a near-blank check on expenses.

With a regular session every two years, state expenditures have to be estimated some 2½ years in advance and revenues about two years. This is guesswork at best. Furthermore, Congress meets annually, passing legislation that requires state legislative action for joint programs. Better federal-state relations would result from annual sessions of the state legislature.

Budget problems and federal-state relations are not the only arguments for annual state legislative sessions. Continual revisions need to be made in the work of the 150-plus state agencies and their relations with local government, particularly in the solution of fast-changing urban problems.

State legislators are now on annual salaries; and if those and their expenses should be raised, that should be done by separate amendment so as not to repeat the 1958 mistake. Lobbies and some big taxpayers may not like annual sessions, because they think it would double their work in Austin corridors; but they have too much clandestine power anyway, which annual sessions should lessen.

Off To College

Young America is starting college in record numbers this fall. And as they watch their lads and lassies enroll, parents may be experiencing even more than the usual gamut of emotions. There are several reasons for this.

The family is happy that Junior has been accepted for a try at higher learning. College education is more essential to success than ever before. Costs, however, are also higher than ever. In general, Dad is paying more money even though Junior may find less personal attention, less available study space on campus, more standing in line and more TV-taught classes than his predecessors did.

There are other problems for parents. They would be less than human if they did not suffer a few qualms as they send their offspring forth to mingle with campus rebels against the established order, not to mention those who feel the need to be "turned on" by marijuana and LSD.

Still, it all boils down pretty much to the old, familiar situation. As the son or daughter leaves the sheltering nest, parents meet their moments of truth. There are a hundred things to say — a departing freshman. Yet even if parents said them all and the offspring listened, which in itself is unlikely, it would be too late. The young adult of college age has been molded, for good or ill. Parents can do little from this point on but sit back on their flattened billfolds and hope their job has been well done.

Talk Of Peace, But Just Talk

WASHINGTON — How to bring peace in Viet Nam without suffering the humiliation of seeming to surrender is bothering the North Viet Nam government just now, as well as the governments of Red China and the Soviet Union.

Since the Chinese foreign minister, Marshal Chen Yi, indicated two weeks ago that the last thing in the world that Red China wants is war with the United States, there have been other signs that maybe peace was at last coming to be recognized as a more desirable way to live than under the pressures of war or threats of war.

BUT NOTWITHSTANDING the intimations and the reports that give an impression of a desire to make peace, the Peiping government and the Hanoi government now are busily denouncing any such idea as out of the question — except on their own terms.

These maneuvers are by no means surprising. No adversary in the midst of a military conflict will ever indicate publicly a readiness to give in.

But there is more than meets the eye in the behavior of the diplomats in Peiping, Moscow and Hanoi, as well as in Tokyo.

THE PRESENT dialogue in the

Billy Graham

I am confused as to whether or not Christians of today are supposed to wash each other's feet.

—Mrs. E. M.

The washing of feet is still practiced by some of our smaller denominations. However, in Jesus' time the washing of a guest's feet by the host was generally practiced due to the conditions of the times. The usual mode of travel was by foot, the people of those days wore sandals, and the roads and lanes were dusty. When a guest entered a house, a good host would take a basin of cool water, and rinse the dust from his guest's feet, drying them with a clean towel. This, in Christ's day, was a token of genuine hospitality, and true humility.

One day Jesus washed his disciple's feet after the custom of his day, and said, "If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet." (John 13:14). This is where the practice of feet washing began.

However, the real lesson Jesus sought to teach was that of humility — thinking of others in preference to ourselves. It is possible to actually engage in the ceremony of footwashing, without possessing true humility. It was the outward symbol of an inner virtue. The important thing, (although I would not condemn foot washing) is to possess the virtue of humility, and let it be seen in the total life experience.

press began when the Red Chinese foreign minister informally explained to the editor of a Viennese newspaper that he could not see any sense in a war between Red China and the United States. This was published in "U.S. News & World Report" about ten days ago. Confirmation came last week in a report from Tokyo quoting an 11-member group of Japanese public men as having been told by the same high official of the Peiping government of a desire to avoid any war between Red China and the United States.

BUT THESE statements may have unwittingly created an impression of weakness on the part of the Peiping regime and an intention to start peace negotiations. Immediately, the Red Chinese ambassador in Warsaw — which has been the meeting place for conferences with the American ambassador for several years — pronounced any such move to end the war in Viet Nam as out of the question.

It all has a familiar ring in diplomatic history. Evidently the Red Chinese government found itself in somewhat the same position that the United States government did some months ago when it openly acknowledged it had sought peace through various intermediaries. The impression conveyed was that the American government was losing some of its resoluteness in fighting the war.

THE RED CHINESE are anxious to impress the Hanoi government that they are standing behind it. Hence, any talk of peace out in the open is risky, and the Peiping government is determined to erase any misconception that they have backed away from the North Viet Nam government.

The position of the Soviet Union is somewhat analogous. It keeps on saying that the United States must, in effect, surrender. But the purpose of such comments is to retain the good will and friendship of the North Viet Nam government and to take advantage of any retreat by the Red Chinese out of the Viet Nam dilemma.

YET THE FACT remains that the Hanoi government cannot keep up the war without the help of both Red China and the Soviet Union, and there is no possibility of a negotiated peace by exchange of statements openly made in the press.

So the whole situation resolves itself into a stalemate, which doesn't necessarily mean an immediate withdrawal of American troops or of Communist aid. It does mean that behind the scenes in diplomacy a program might well be worked out that calls for a tapering off of hostilities and an eventual armistice which maintains the dividing line between North and South Viet Nam that was established by the agreement consummated in Geneva in 1954.

Go Along With Him—Sometimes

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Among the trials and tribulations of President Johnson are the Democratic and Republican leaders of the Senate, long-time friends and helpers who go along with him but only sometimes.

Take the Republican leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, 70, of Illinois. He said on occasion he and Johnson telephone each other six or seven times a day. When he was hospitalized recently with a broken hip, Johnson called him daily.

EARLIER THIS year when the Republican House leader, Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, accused the Johnson administration of shocking mismanagement of the war in Viet Nam, Dirksen refused to endorse the criticism.

But this summer Dirksen accused Johnson of not being "candid or consistently credible" on the war. Then two days later, after a White House meeting with other congressional leaders, Dirksen came away calling it a "satisfying experience."

LAST YEAR he was a main prop in getting the civil rights bill through the Senate. But now he has just about killed all hope for the 1966 bill. First he opposed the open housing section. Then he said he disliked other sections.

Then he said he would oppose the whole bill. Without him, and the Republican help he could muster, the administration can hardly hope to crush the inevitable Southern filibuster. A two-thirds vote is needed to shut off debate.

That Dirksen zig and zag is a fact of life. The New York Times reported that during Dirksen's six years as a member of the House he had changed his position 31 times on military preparedness, 62 times on isolationism, and 70 times on agricultural policy.

NOW TAKE the Democratic leader of the Senate, Mike Mansfield, 63, of Montana. He was Johnson's right-hand man in the 1950s when Johnson was Senate leader. Mansfield got the job in 1961 when Johnson became vice president.

Since then he has been Johnson's captain in steering administration legislation through the Senate, a quiet, kind, gentleman who believes a senator should speak out when he feels strongly about something, if he is qualified to speak.

RECENTLY Mansfield proposed that Johnson meet with French President Charles de Gaulle in a French island in the Caribbean to talk about peace in Viet Nam. This must have galled Johnson, who stiff-arms the Frenchman.

But the White House said nothing. It let the State Department do the speaking and the State Department brushed the idea aside.

More recently Mansfield truly agitated Johnson when, speaking for the 13-member Senate Democratic Policy committee, he proposed that the Senate quickly pass a resolution saying U.S. forces in Europe should be substantially reduced.

THE ADMINISTRATION doesn't want any part of troop withdrawal from Europe right now. Dirksen quickly rushed to Johnson's aid by insisting that before the Senate vote on the Mansfield suggestion a Senate committee should hold hearings on it. This would take time and probably will kill the idea altogether.

Still Trying

By CARLOS ESCUDERO

NEW YORK (AP) — People have been trying to do something about the weather for a long, long time.

Undeterred by the continuing prevalence of hurricanes, floods, droughts, unmanageable snowfall and heat waves, they are still trying.

AMERICAN scientists who hope to salt a hurricane's tail — on the tip of South America — throw, or used to throw, sea with silver iodide may fairly claim precedent extending back into the mists of time.

If Greek mythology is to be credited, one weather-warrior who really had it made was Aeolus, the god of the winds. Aeolus gave Ulysses winds of all kinds neatly tied up in a leather bag to help his boats along on the Odyssey.

More recently, the Aborigines of the Greater Antilles and the Bahamas — they were called Arawaks — had a wind god named Hurukan, from which came the word hurricane.

THE ARAWAKS believed the hurricanes to be Hurukan's children, and that if he were properly propitiated he would keep the kids under control.

Finnish wizards of old used to sell wind to hardy mariners. The wind was tied up in three knots. Let go the first one and a nice, moderate wind came up. Release the second and there was half a gale. And mind the third: a hurricane.

The tale is told of making wind in New Guinea by striking a wind-stone with a stick — once over lightly for a friendly breeze, a hard rap for a real blow.

Scottish witches raised the wind by dipping a rag in water and beating it a magical three times on a stone, with a chant: "I know this rag upon this stane."

"To raise the wind in the devil's name,"

"I'll not ly'e till I please againe."

NATIVES of Tierra Del Fuego against the wind to make it stop. From the looks of the country, this technique could stand improvement. The wind blows so much in Tierra Del Fuego the trees grow on their knees.

To Your Good Health

Taking Cortisone For Arthritis

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am taking cortisone for arthritis and have been told it has many dangerous side effects. I am afraid to take it for any length of time but my condition becomes very painful, almost unbearable. Please explain its effects and if it is safe to take it for prolonged periods. — MRS. Q. R.

A few years ago patients rarely thought or asked about side effects. They took for granted — correctly enough — that the doctor should watch for side effects and withdraw the medicine or take such other action if necessary.

Where the patient unduly frightens herself, I suspect, is in thinking that side effects which MAY occur WILL occur. If one applied the same thinking to everyday life, we would never cross the street because we MIGHT be hit by an automobile. And at times people ARE hit, but usually because of carelessness on somebody's part, the driver's, or the pedestrian's.

Side effects fall into much the same category. Virtually every medicine we know has some side effects if used without proper caution.

In the case of cortisone, as with many other drugs, a substantial dose may be given at first, after which the amount is reduced to a "maintenance dose," or just enough to maintain the good effects.

In this fashion the medication can be continued for a longer period. Used too long, cortisone can indeed be troublesome. One common consequence is retention of sodium and hence water in the body. Once the drug is stopped the trouble stops.

There can be such consequences as hair growth, skin blemishes, changes in blood pressure, mental disturbances, altered metabolism and so on. Just reading a list of what MIGHT happen becomes rather scary.

What we forget is that a great deal now is known about cortisone, and the physician giving it knows what to look for.

The danger of side effects arises mainly when the patient takes more than the amount prescribed, or when she doesn't see her doctor regularly and the doctor does not have a chance to detect early indications that the drug needs to be stopped.

True, cortisone cannot be taken indefinitely, but if you follow the two rules — taking only the amount prescribed, and seeing your doctor at regular intervals — you have little to fear. It's like crossing the street. So long as you know that it MIGHT be dangerous, you take pains to be careful.

Mononucleosis is primarily a disease of young people. To learn more about it, send in care of The Herald for my booklet, "Mononucleosis," enclosing with your request a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses their questions in his column, but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters.

Around The Rim

Facing Up To Our Youth Problem

Big Spring may have more of a problem with juvenile delinquency than it is willing to admit.

The community quite probably would be more attractive to industry if the incidence of vandalism were not so high here.

In other cities in the area you can hear stories about Our Town's perplexing problem and our inability to cope with it.

OTHER COMMUNITIES are also afflicted with the same disease, you say? That is very true but many of them are more realistic about facing up to it and more prone to deal out punishment when the culprits are caught.

Our vandals here, if they are rounded up and brought in to answer for their sins, are all too often let off with a lecture and a slap on the wrists.

One American community fighting the same sort of problem has shaped up plans to take first offenders, before they are released, on a tour of the state prison in order that the accused can see life behind bars.

WE READ in the papers that a shopping center has suffered heavy damage from night riders who heave rocks through expensive window panes, where monuments are battered down by automobiles, where public parks are defaced and scarred and we console ourselves that it is not our own particular problem, but we are deluding ourselves with such reasoning.

It very definitely is our problem and the longer we wait to solve it the more cancerous it is going to become.

STREET FIGHTS between young hoodlums and men of the military, or rumbles if you prefer to call them that, have occurred too often here. Such melees are senseless and solve nothing. Too, they can serve to widen the breach between one segment of the community and another that need not exist at all.

I am told by those in a position to know that there is a hard core of seven or eight juveniles here who take pride in setting the example for so-called toughness. Others, attracted to them because they relish such aggressiveness or because they are bored, go along for the thrill a caper offers and can easily be talked into committing acts of destructiveness.

I DO NOT profess to know the answer to the problem. Some people in society have to be written off, like bad investments. The more you work with them, the less reliable they become. But others are salvageable and need help.

The law can go just so far in coping with the situation. The first line of defense is and always has been the home.

The Man Who Changed Parties

By RONALD REAGAN
(Guest columnist for Holmes Alexander)

LOS ANGELES — Someone once said that "a foolish consistency is a hobgoblin of little minds." Holmes Alexander, my host-columnist, should certainly agree that this may be so in most cases, but that it does not apply to the average political mind.

American politicians demand consistency of their candidates as a prerequisite for election and jump with great glee and much chest-beating on those who may change their views or their parties.

"Political instability" they like to call it.

AND YET, the record is replete with the names of successful office-holders who have changed both their minds and their parties. Herbert Hoover was one who went from Democrat to Republican. A governor of California named Edmund Brown did just the opposite.

And, of course, great numbers of voters switch from party to party at every election.

THEREFORE, I am always a little surprised when, because I used to be a Democrat, I am accused of being "politically unstable."

Especially when a cursory glance at my earlier political statements indicates I have not really changed "that" much, and also because my changes in political thought have been evolutionary — over a period of more than 30 years.

As far back as 1947 I said (Los Angeles Times, 5-18-47) "Our highest aim should be the cultivation of freedom of the individual, for therein lies the highest dignity of man. Tyranny is tyranny and — whether it comes from the Right, Left or Center — it is evil. I suspect the extreme Right and the extreme Left of political ideologies, though seeming to branch off in opposite directions, curve to a common meeting point.

"I BELIEVE the only logical way to serve our country from both extremes is to remove conditions that supply fuel for the totalitarian fire."

There is nothing in that statement of 1947 that I wouldn't say today.

Perhaps another quote will illustrate that I really haven't changed so much over the years as the opposition would like to make out. In 1959, the Beverly Hills Citizen quotes me as saying, "We've fallen into a rut today in asking the government for everything."

I THINK THAT over the years a thinking man's political philosophy grows and matures as does a party's. Back in 1933, the Democratic party and I had, I would say, about the same basic philosophy.

But as times have changed and new problems have arisen, the Democratic party and I have evolved our thinking along different lines until today the Democrats would turn to government for a solution to most problems.

BECAUSE THE evolution of my thinking was toward greater freedom for the individual and greater reliance on him, I eventually changed to a party that also had evolved in that direction, the Republican Party.

If such a philosophy makes me politically unstable, I think I find myself in good company, both today and in history.

A Change Of Feeling

NEW YORK (AP) — Werner Gullander is the face of the National Association of Manufacturers — an efficient, gregarious spokesman for an organization that now feels it should help get things done rather than just being against them.

"WE WERE becoming ineffective," Gullander said of the years prior to his taking the job of president in 1962. He admitted having had some reservations before accepting the position, which pays him more than $100,000 a year.

As Gullander expresses it, the NAM has a definite positive tone about it today. It has moved into areas of social responsibility once thought beyond its province. It feels it must do its share or else relinquish its right to criticize.

It has a program now for combating some of the social problems it must deal with. Negroes from the other end of Manhattan's Park Avenue are trained as office workers at NAM headquarters, for example.

UNDER ANOTHER program, case studies on relocating personnel, creating new job opportunities and improving employe skills are being promoted among the 15,000 member companies.

Gullander says that he, himself, is personally friendly with some in labor who may be his philosophical adversaries. The NAM is trying also to work smoothly with the federal government, he said.

A glance at its publication, NAM Reports, shows a surprising willingness to cooperate. In fact, a recent article seemed to express sympathy for a Democratic president's difficult task of running a full employment economy.

As Gullander puts it, "I respect President Johnson's interest in combating inflation."

THIS STATEMENT was made before Johnson revealed plans to suspend the investment tax credit.

Gullander, 57, is fit-looking, red-faced. He wears silver-rimmed glasses, is fastidious in appearance and manner. He is no prototype of the tycoon.

Gullander represents and speaks on broad, general policy formulated by NAM committees, which occupy 3,000 members from time to time and 300 staffers fulltime.

The NAM, he said, still does not like government action in the marketplace. "The most effective boss is the market place," he said. "I have a greater confidence in it than in the government for determining what people want."

REGARDING the broad social welfare programs of the administration, Gullander commented: "Don't you think they get in where there's hay to be made? It's the re-election motive."

But should something perhaps be done for depressed areas such as Appalachia? "If a stream runs dry, the fisherman gets up and leaves," he said.

The big problems before the country now, Gullander said in answer to a question were inflation, the Viet Nam war and the adverse balance of payments condition.

None Of Seven New Shows Make Much Of A Splash

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Seven new programs were dropped into the network channels over the weekend without, sad to report, any one making much of a splash.

Focus of most viewer interest was probably the return of two old favorites, Milton Berle and Garry Moore, to the weekly schedules with their own variety shows.

Uncle Miltie's comeback vehicle on ABC did not look too different from the one he left in. Even Lucille Ball's presence didn't help the comedy much.

asked, "Young man, when you were out in that lake, under water, what was it you wanted more than anything else in life?" Quickly the boy replied, "Why, sir, I wanted a breath of air more than anything."

ABC's "Time Tunnel" on Friday night had an interesting premise — scientists able to break through time barriers. But the premise itself destroys much suspense.

CBS' "It's About Time" which premiered Sunday night, was a pretty sad little comedy and coincidentally based on the same idea — breaking the time barrier.

Historical Marker Erected

This historical marker, bearing the story of the Old Comanche War Trail, has been erected on the old Comanche trail just inside the entrance to the Scenic Mountain State Park. It was made possible by the Moody Foundation and was erected courtesy of the highway department. Ed Fisher, chairman of the historical survey committee, was in charge of arrangements. Further Gain In Enrollments

Big Spring school enrollment jumped 66 more students today from last Friday's enrollment of 7,553, to a new figure of 7,619. Enrollment one year ago was 7,606.

Boydston, 430; Cedar Crest, 235; College Heights, 457; Gay Hill, 95; Kentwood, 266; Lakeview, 234; Marcy, 667; Park Hill-Moss Elementary, 114; Park Hill, 147; Washington, 589; Goliad, 1,813; Rummels, 884; senior high, 1,377; special education, 138.

Howard County Junior College picked up a few more registrations Monday morning. Seven were signed, making 926 so far. Registration continues all this week, both during the day schedule and from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. The total is off last year by just about the amount of decrease —75, from Webb AFB.

Ambulance Ordinance To Come Before Commission

A lengthy agenda ranging from an ordinance making it illegal to refuse to pay an ambulance fee to painting a water tower will face city commissioners Tuesday night at 7 p.m.

John Burgess, city attorney, has drawn an ordinance similar to one used in Dallas in an attempt to enable Big Spring Ambulance Service collect bills. The statute, like all city ordinances, will provide for a fine up to $200, and make non-payment of ambulance fees a misdemeanor.

PARK CLOSING

All city parks will have closing hours if commissioners pass an ordinance which will be presented then. Only City Park is presently regulated, with a midnight closing hour. The ordinance will stipulate that all general parks, such as City Park, Birdwell Park and the sewer plant park, close at midnight, and all "neighborhood parks" close at 11 p.m. Probable reasoning behind the closing-hour ordinance is continuing vandalism at Northside parks especially.

SOARING SOCIETY

Signal Mountain Soaring Society's lease near Moss Creek Lake probably will be approved; narrowing of Ector Shopping Center, Inc.'s easement on FM 700 will be accomplished via a solution as authorized at the previous meeting; a previously-okayed ordinance increasing the price of water taps will be read; first reading of a zone change from "One Family" to "Commercial" at the Red Barn Restaurant, North Birdwell Lane, will be held; and second reading will be made on an on-premises consumption ordinance at the Howard House Coffee Shop.

City Vehicle In Minor Mishap

Three minor traffic accidents, one of them involving a Big Spring city police car, were reported to police over the weekend.

"THEY'RE DANCING IN THE STREETS" (AP) — They're dancing in the streets in Oklahoma but it looks like the Sooners will have to wait at least a week to welcome home their winner.
Jane Ann Jayroe, a basketball-bouncing, baton-wielding brunette from Laverne, Okla., today begins to find out the rigors of being Miss America.
From the moment she was crowned Miss America of 1967 Saturday night here, she has faced one camera flash after another. Today she goes to Philadelphia for a television interview.
Then starting tonight, she'll spend at least a week in New York taking the first steps of her 200,000-mile journey as Miss America. Her personal appearances will bring her an estimated $75,000, but, above all, she's looking forward to the experience.
For example, she has never traveled in an airplane.
"I'm looking forward to it," she said Sunday. "But with butterflies."

Oklahomans Dancing In Streets To Honor Titlist

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — They're dancing in the streets in Oklahoma but it looks like the Sooners will have to wait at least a week to welcome home their winner.
Jane Ann Jayroe, a basketball-bouncing, baton-wielding brunette from Laverne, Okla., today begins to find out the rigors of being Miss America.
From the moment she was crowned Miss America of 1967 Saturday night here, she has faced one camera flash after another. Today she goes to Philadelphia for a television interview.
Then starting tonight, she'll spend at least a week in New York taking the first steps of her 200,000-mile journey as Miss America. Her personal appearances will bring her an estimated $75,000, but, above all, she's looking forward to the experience.
For example, she has never traveled in an airplane.
"I'm looking forward to it," she said Sunday. "But with butterflies."
Oklahoma seems impatient for her triumphant return. As the news came to her hometown of 1,937 inhabitants, horns blew, people shouted. Even the fire sirens sounded.

And celebrations were held all around the state. Oklahoma City University students indicated they might walk out of their classes and even the school's president said:
"A walkout is as good a way as any to show the school's enthusiasm for Jane Ann. It's an old OCU custom to walk out, and I'm glad to see it come over something like this."
A street dance was planned. One person waiting for the homecoming has a vested interest. He dates her.
Says Rick Schuerman, an OCU junior from St. Louis: "I think modesty is her best quality. She's been in quite a few beauty contests and won every one of them and she's the same old girl."
Jane Ann — Jay-Jay, informally — displayed her charm for newsmen here Sunday. She spoke of her ambitions to be an orchestra conductor but lamented a "prejudice against women conductors."
Asked how to spend an evening in Laverne, she answered: "In the summer there's the drive-in and in winter there's basketball."
Her love of music and basketball both come from her family. Her father, E.G. (Pete) Jayroe, coaches the Laverne High School team. And she comes from four generations of music teachers.

Young Refugees Bulldoze To Freedom Amid Gunfire

BERLIN (AP)—Rags and steel plates protected five young refugees from Communist gunfire as they crashed into West Berlin in a bulldozer.
Two young men, their pregnant wives, and the four-year-old son of one of the couples, crouched Sunday in the speeding bulldozer as it crossed two ditches and crashed through four barbed-wire fences before hitting a tree a few yards inside West Berlin.
Two East German border guards ran toward the vehicle with submachine guns blazing. "We had to get out of the bulldozer. The women jumped first, then we pulled up the bottom of a (garden) fence, let the women crawl through, and followed them," the 24-year-old professional bulldozer operator related.

A witness said one of the refugees, carrying the child in his arms, repeatedly cried "Are we in the West? Are we in the West?"
They were taken to a hospital, where one man and one woman were treated for slight bullet wounds of the head and released.

West Berlin police said East German border guards fired more than 100 rounds at the fleeing vehicle. Thirty-eight bullets hit it, some piercing the thin armor plating, police said. The driver explained that they had only enough armor plate to shield the gas tank and windows.
"We stuffed rags into the back of the bulldozer's cabin because we ran out of steel plates. That's how we found the way into freedom which was in our hearts for so long," he said.
The driver, his 26-year-old wife, their son, a friend, 29, and his wife, 18, declined to give their names. Both men worked at a nationalized construction company garage about 800 yards from the border.
An East German armored personnel carrier pulled the vehicle back to the East about 90 minutes after the escape. All three Western commanders protested the gunfire, terming it "totally irresponsible behavior on the part of the border guards, involving also grave danger to lives in West Berlin."

Threatens To Sack Embassy

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — "If the Americans want to come back to Cambodia they must decide, once and for all, to stop bombing us," Prince Norodom Sihanouk says.
Sihanouk added that his people would "sack the American Embassy, as they have already done, if there were new bombings on our frontier zones by the Americans."
Relations between the two countries broke down in early 1965 following incidents along Cambodia's border with South Viet Nam. American planes recently bombed the Cambodian village of Thlok Track and Washington said there was confusion about the exact line of the frontier.
Sihanouk expressed his views to West German author Klaus Mehnert during an interview Saturday.

Hope Donates Center's Site

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope and his wife have donated an 80-acre site for a proposed $5.5-million Eisenhower Medical Center in Palm Desert.
Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife, who are honorary chairman and vice chairman of the center, spend their winters in Palm Desert.
Groundbreaking is scheduled early next year for the center, which will include 380 beds and research facilities for heart, pulmonary and lung ailments.

Rare Funnel Cloud Seen

By The Associated Press
A rare funnel cloud coasted over Seattle Sunday—almost the only disturbance in a day of late summer warmth for most of the nation.
A near-tornado dipped within 300 feet of the ground as weather observers tracked it for 20 minutes into the foothills of the Cascades, where it dissipated. Meteorologists said the cloud—uncommon in the Pacific Northwest—may have been the remains of a waterspout born in Puget Sound.
Southerly breezes pushed temperatures to near 90 in the South and the nation's midsection.
Temperatures were low only in the Northwest and Northeast. Interior Oregon, upstate New York and Northern New England felt 30-degree early morning lows.
Showers fell along the Gulf Coast, in the Rockies and in the Pacific Northwest. Normally dry Tucson, Ariz., absorbed nearly 1.5 inches of rain in 12 hours.

Saturday Work For 'Volunteers'

MOSCOW (AP) — Workers at the Armavir locomotive plant are officially on a five-day work week, but employees who don't work on Saturdays are "labeled as irresponsible," the official government paper, Izvestia, charges. The paper blamed government agencies for failure to deliver supplies, causing delays while the factory scrounges around for materials from other plants.
The wasted time must be made up on Saturdays, Izvestia said in a weekend article.
