Fund Kick-Off At Webb

Last Of UF Divisions To Launch Drives This Week

The main machinery of the United Fund drive will swing into action this week. The metropolitan division, under the direction of the Jaycees, will begin Monday, with Lt. John Slaughter in charge. John Taylor is to head the special gifts division, opening Tuesday, and Joe Price is handling the employe division on Wednesday.

ONE GIFT WORKS MANY WONDERS
THE UNITED WAY

Col. Julian Baird, Webb AFB, announced goals for all divisions and told UF workers that contributions could be expected from Webb during the next two pay periods. Intensive solicitation is to begin Monday.

The United Fund has set a goal of $139,577.51 to be met this year. The money will be distributed to 14 UF-served agencies.

As of Friday evening, almost 14 per cent of that goal had been attained. Office manager Ron English reported that $18,975.79 was now in the UF treasury, with the majority of the money, $13,263, coming from Clyde McMahon's big gifts division. The payroll deduction section of the employe division gained $652.79 and is barely started; special gifts and the metropolitan division, which had not got underway Friday, have brought in $60.

English stressed that the UF special slide presentation, which is being offered free of charge to any groups or organizations, is still available. Anyone interested in viewing the presentation for a group should call the UF headquarters, AM 3-7676, or visit office workers at 166 Permian Building.

Stallings said Clark had held prisoner Mrs. Clifton, the Seabaughs, Nancy, and Jerry Davis, a friend of Clark's, while the shots were fired into Mrs. Clifton's body.

Stallings and the hostages, who were held for about seven hours, gave the following account:

Clark broke through the front door of the Seabaugh home at 2 a.m. and ran to the basement where Mrs. Clifton slept. One shot was fired.

Mr. and Mrs. Seabaugh and Nancy, 17, rushed to the basement and found Clark.

Clark said he bound the Seabaughs and Nancy with cord, telephoned Davis and asked him to bring some records to the Seabaugh home. Davis arrived at 3 a.m.

"He took me to the basement," said Davis. "He fired some shots into the woman's body on the bed. Blood was all over the place. Then he tied me up too."

About mid-morning, the Seabaughs and Davis worked loose and escaped through a basement window.

Almost immediately the newsboy came to the door making his weekly collections and Clark pulled him inside.

Seven Children Die At Birth

BOSTON (AP)—A 23-year-old Boston woman gave premature birth Saturday to seven children. One was born dead, the other six died shortly after delivery.

The children were born four months premature to Mrs. William Cwikielnik at St. Margaret's Hospital. A hospital spokesman, Sister Beatrice, said the number of children "if not unique is extremely rare."

Dr. William Papageorge was listed as the attending physician and was unavailable for comment.

Johnson Appears Set To Cut Europe Forces

Study May Give Basis For Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson now appears to be moving decisively toward some reduction of U.S. military forces in Europe, probably beginning next year.

A study of Allied defense strategy, to be made by the United States, Germany and Britain, is expected to provide a new basis for troop-strength decisions.

EARLY START
The study was announced last week by Johnson and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard. The United States hopes to get the work under way in three weeks and have it completed by the end of the year.

Informed U.S. officials already believe, however, that one result, due especially to the recent French withdrawal of troops from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, will be a finding for greater reliance on nuclear weapons in the defense of Europe and therefore a decline in manpower needs.

Greater dependence on nuclear defenses would mean simply that the time between an attack on West Germany and the use of nuclear weapons to punish the attackers would be shorter by several weeks than it now is.

STRATEGIC REVIEW
U.S. officials cite several reasons for a strategic review of Allied defense plans at this time. Some of these arguments already point to likely conclusion:

The French break with NATO, which became effective July 1, has left West Germany as a frontline country without back-up territory. All NATO bases are being moved out and French forces separated from NATO forces in West Germany. Since NATO planners can no longer count on automatic French support in the event of war, this change requires a reappraisal of strategic plans, U.S. officials say.

PRESSURES
The United States, Britain and Germany are all suffering economic pressures for reduction of costs. Erhard made clear to Johnson last week that he wants to trim military purchases. He pledged to offset U.S. troop costs in Germany. Erhard had already refused to increase such offset payments to Britain and Britain intends to adjust its forces in Germany — that is, cut back to save money.

SIX DIVISIONS
The United States now has an assigned level of 225,000 men in Germany, a force equivalent to six divisions. The actual level at the moment is about 218,000, up from a recent minimum of 210,000 due to withdrawal of specialists because of Vietnamese war demands.

he for one will insist upon such hearings. He agreed with Mansfield, however, that the action of the Belgian Cabinet in voting recently to request a cut in that nation's yet unfulfilled commitment of ground forces to NATO is likely to strengthen the hand of those who advocate U.S. troop withdrawals.

Brussels sources said the Belgians want to reduce their obligations to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization from six down to four brigades.

COULD DELAY
But he conceded that if critics can rally the votes to force committee hearings on the proposal, the Senate itself is not likely to come to grips with the issue until next year.

And Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview that

COUNTRY DOCTOR DEvised SPECIAL PROGRAM

Nurses Save Heart Patients

DETROIT (AP) — A self-described "country doctor" has put into operation at a tiny Michigan hospital a plan he predicts could save the lives of thousands of heart attack patients each year.

The plan was described by Dr. Malcolm Dolbee, 48, to some 200 doctors attending a regional conference of the American Heart Association this weekend.

Under the system, Dolbee said, specially trained nurses are allowed to administer cardiopulmonary resuscitation to patients who are suffering heart stoppages.

Cardiopulmonary resuscitation is the forcing of air into the lungs through mouth-to-mouth breathing and, if necessary, chest squeezing at the same time.

Dolbee practices in the tiny community of Standish, which has a 40-bed hospital with no full-time staff doctors.

"In our hospital, the girls are doing everything," Dolbee said. "Recently I had an emergency call from an orderly, and I rushed over like mad. When I got to the hospital, I found that the nurses had already hooked the patient to a pacemaker machine and were forcing air into his lungs. They didn't need a doctor."

Specialists explain that the heart operates on electrical current and sometimes electrocutes itself. Although the heart may be in good condition, the brain is damaged if it goes without blood for about four minutes. Squeezing the chest can prevent fatal brain injury. The pacemaker machine can restart the heart with counter-shocks of electricity. Some hospitals have hooked up patients in coronary care units to an alarm system that goes off when the heart stops or slips into an irregular beat.

Until recently, Dolbee reported, coronary care units were only feasible in large hospitals staffed full time by doctors. But under his controversial plan, nurses at the Standish Hospital have been taught to operate the units.

"The nurses know if they wait for a doctor, it will be too late — the patient will be dead," he said.

Dolbee reported that after a year of operation, the Standish Hospital had seven deaths among 70 heart attack patients. Heart association researchers estimate that one out of four heart patients die within a few days.

Hostages See Man Fire Into Body

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP) — Four hostages watched Saturday as a man repeatedly fired shots into the body of a woman that he believed broke up his marriage, police said.

Killed was Mrs. Zola Clifton, 71, the grandmother of Phillip O. Clark's ex-wife, Nancy Seabaugh.

Clark, 23, was arrested as he stepped out the back door of the home of Nancy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Seabaugh. He had a 22-caliber pistol pointed at the head of a newsboy, Dave Boren, when police jumped him, officers said.

Eight shots had been fired from the house while Clark talked on the telephone with police Sgt. Robert L. Stallings, who was at police headquarters. Stallings persuaded Clark, an unemployed laborer, to surrender.

Stallings said Clark had held prisoner Mrs. Clifton, the Seabaughs, Nancy, and Jerry Davis, a friend of Clark's, while the shots were fired into Mrs. Clifton's body.

Stallings and the hostages, who were held for about seven hours, gave the following account:

Clark broke through the front door of the Seabaugh home at 2 a.m. and ran to the basement where Mrs. Clifton slept. One shot was fired.

About mid-morning, the Seabaughs and Davis worked loose and escaped through a basement window.

Mansfield Plans Push For Troop Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said Saturday Belgium's decision to reduce its military obligations to NATO accents a need for a reassessment of U.S.-European defense commitments.

Although he faces stiff administration opposition to the move, Mansfield, the Democratic leader, said he will call up before midmonth a resolution which would put the Senate on record as favoring a "substantial reduction" in U.S. European ground forces.

COULD DELAY
But he conceded that if critics can rally the votes to force committee hearings on the proposal, the Senate itself is not likely to come to grips with the issue until next year.

And Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview that he for one will insist upon such hearings. # Deadly Inez Calms Down Over Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The death toll of Hurricane Inez mounted Saturday but the deadly storm appeared to be staggering toward the end of a bloody rampage through the islands of the Caribbean Sea.

In the towering Sierra mountains of Cuba, where Prime Minister Fidel Castro himself plotted the revolution that pulled Cuba into the Communist world, Inez may have met her Waterloo.

"SAD SHAPE"
"We underestimated the effects of the Sierra Maestra," said forecaster Arnold Sugg. "Inez is in pretty sad shape."

Her top winds, which once had raged at 175 miles an hour around the wall of her eye, dropped to 75 or just bare hurricane force as she stood astride the south Cuba coast between Trinidad and Cape Cruz. Fears that Haiti had suffered a human disaster were heightened Saturday. Lt. Bartley Cozeau of the Haitian army said he believed that 900 were dead.

More than 100 others perished on the French island of Guadeloupe and in the Dominican Republic where Inez struck at the height of her fury. Cuba so far has reported only one victim.

CROP DAMAGE
Besides the dead, great crop and property damage lay behind in the storm's path and hundreds of injured were in hospitals.

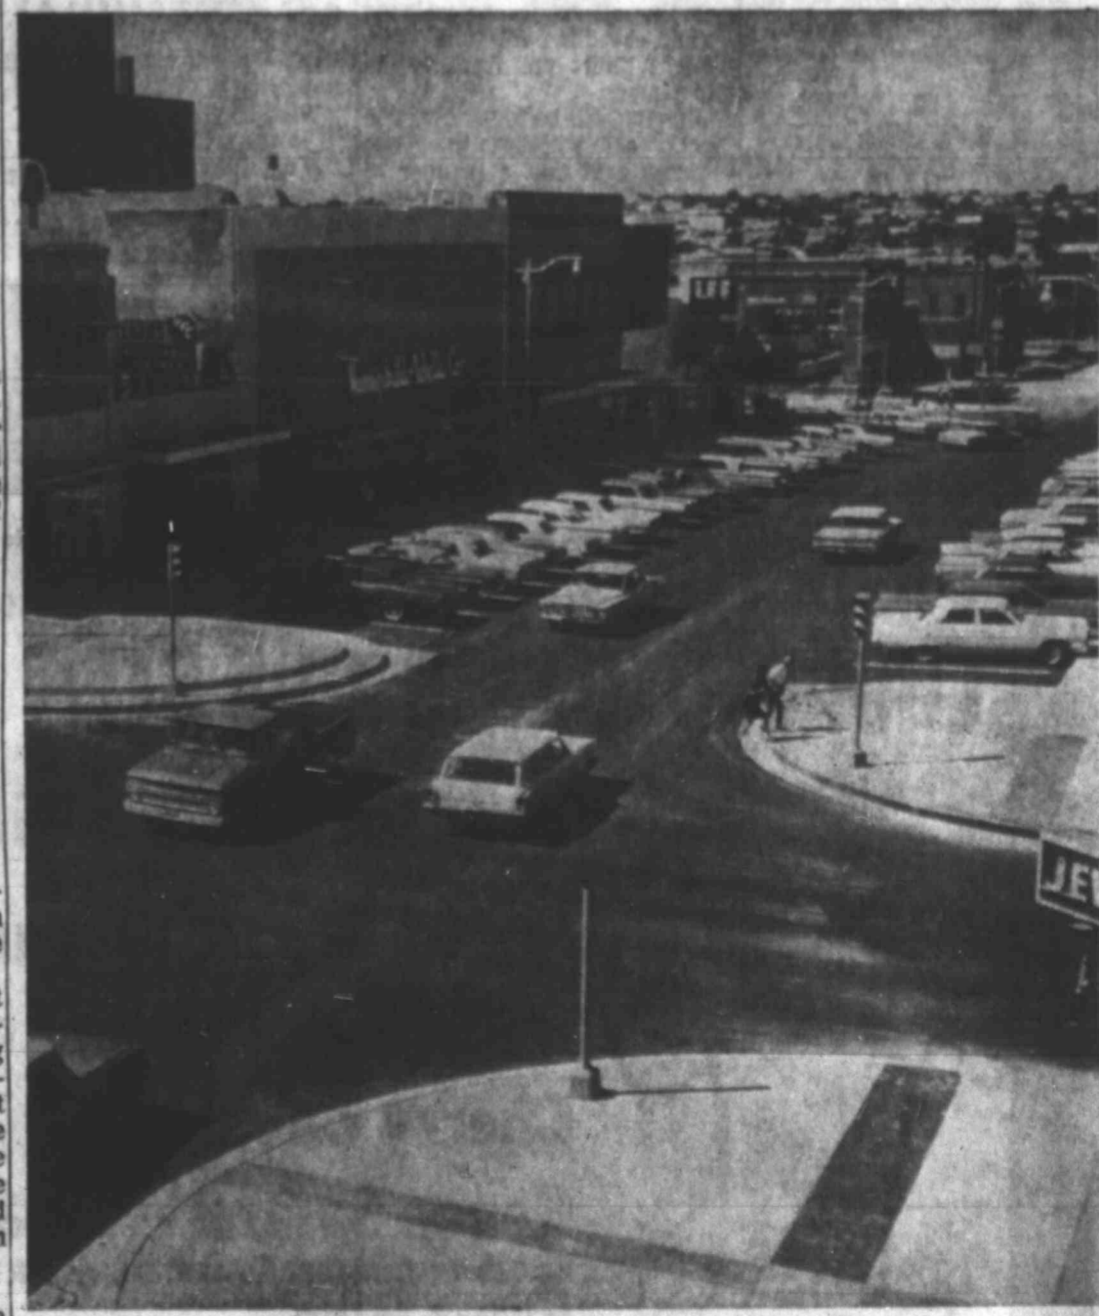

A Navy ship standing off Cuba with a radar fix on Inez reported that her eye wall, half over land and half over the sea, was growing steadily weaker.

After stalling for a short time, Inez began moving toward the north-northwest and Florida, but if she gets here Miamians may not even bother to put up the storm shutters.

Inez still would have 75 miles of Cuban land to cross and land is poison to a hurricane that draws its power from the heat and the moisture of tropic seas.

47 DEAD
Sixty-seven were known dead in the Dominican Republic and 33 in Guadeloupe.

The only Cuban victim reported was army Sgt. Blas Garcia, who drowned in floodwaters, but Cuba is slow to announce storm deaths. It was several days after Hurricane Flora went through in 1963 before Castro went on the radio to disclose that 2,000 Cubans had perished.

'New' Main Street In Use

New paving, new sidewalks, no more high curbs, attractive pedestrian crossings — all these are now reality for a portion of downtown Big Spring — and the 200 block of Main Street was back in customary use, as indicated by this picture made Saturday. The renovated block — first of a series to be so improved — will be formally presented to the public with a downtown festival on Oct. 15, when the community shows off the newest phase of its "Operation Sparkle" program. (Herald Photo by Frank Brandon)

Tiny Joyce Fickling Enters Her First Pig This Year

By SAM BLACKBURN
When you go out to the 21st Annual Howard County Pig Show next Wednesday and Thursday, look for a little blue-eyed blonde about as big as a bar of soap. She will be proudly getting a big, red docile Duroc in shape for the show ring.

Her name is Joyce Fickling and she is 9 years old. Joyce, a fourth grader in Gay Hill school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fickling Jr., who live on the old Gall Road, six miles north of town.

FIRST YEAR
This is Joyce's first year as a pig showman. Heretofore she has limited her 4-H Club activities to sewing and other lady-like enterprises. She won a second place, too, in the recent 4-H dress revue which demonstrates that even if she isn't very big, she has a lot of talent.

There will be lots of kids at the pig show this year who are around Joyce's age, but it is doubtful if there will be many as small as she is. Her small size, however, is no handicap.

Her big red hog, who grunts to the name of Piggy-Lee, may not win a prize, but he ought to be in good physical condition for the show ring.

Ever since Joyce got him from Brooks Bros., she has been taking Piggy-Lee on a three quarter mile daily walk. Piggy-Lee doesn't particularly enjoy the hike—he'd rather eat—but he walks, whether he likes it or not. This should have him in good shape to stand the stress of the show ring, his little mistress feels.

Joyce has had expert advice from her brother, Terry, who is a veteran of two other pig shows. He is 13 and an eighth grader at Runnels. He, too, has a hog in the show. The Fickling youngsters have worked it out where their pigs are in different weight classes, so they won't have to compete against one another.

MEET JOYCE FICKLING, EXPERT ON HOGS
Young Goy Hill student is typical of kids in annual Howard County Pig Show

Sponsors Expect 120 Entries In 21st Annual Pig Show

DAILY HIKE
Joyce takes Piggy-Lee on his hike each afternoon when she returns home from Gay Hill school. Piggy-Lee is prone to make a hog of himself and, consequently, his diet has to be closely watched. He gets two meals of carefully prepared chow a day and no matter how much he grunts and squeals for more, he's out of luck.

One thing is pretty sure—even if Joyce's entry doesn't win, it won't get her down.

Joyce is too full of pep and self confidence for that to happen.

Named Delegate

Mark Barr, Coahoma, and Kim Box, Carrizo Springs, have been selected by the Texas Junior Hereford Association to attend the 1966 Convention of the American Junior Hereford Association in Kansas City October 14-18.

Some 120 fat hogs are expected to compete in the 21st Annual Howard County FFA and 4-H Barrow Show here Wednesday and Thursday.

Paul Gross, county agent and general superintendent of the show, said it appeared this year's edition will draw one of the largest turnouts of fat hogs in the show's history.

There is a steadily increasing number of pigs on farms and ranches in the county. This is accounting for the increased interest on the part of younger farmers in the annual pig show, the county agent explained.

Gene Haston, the announced judge, is a vocational agriculture teacher from Spring Lake School near Lubbock and is held in high esteem for his abilities. The show is sponsored this year, as usual, by the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce. It will be at the county fair grounds building.

A feature of the show will be the auction sale which is set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Only 30 of the top pigs will be sold at the auction.

Gross said that the weigh-in time for the show is from 8 a.m. to noon Wednesday. It is imperative all entries be weighed in and classified by that time. Weight limits are from 160 to 240 pounds.

Judging will be Thursday. The auction sale will close the show. Gross said that a number of exhibitors, who are to enter barrows in the show, are "first year" showmen. He urged these youngsters to read the rules and regulations closely.

All entry money goes into the prize fund. About $210 will be paid back to the winners of the several weights and breeds. Special awards are to be made for the grand champion and reserve grand champion. The show will also select the master showman.

The show is open to all 4-H Club and FFA chapter members of the county.

The public is urged to attend the show.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

City That Boomed And Busted Twice

By ED SYERS "Ruins at Samfordyce (near McAllen) intrigue me," one reader recently observed here. "They seem quite old." Not old, agree several searchers, but certainly ambitious. Today's tiny town twice nearly became Valley metropolises.

Corpus Christi bookman L. V. Boling produces an old article showing Samfordyce as a railroad-inspired 1904 boomer of 10,000. A St. Louis investor's name was telescoped for the railroad that would help open our magic valley.

"Here was a laid-out townsite three miles in all directions, big passenger and freight facilities, brick warehouses and offices, two hotels and several summer homes for eastern capitalists. Irrigation was planned in a three-stage canal lift from the Rio Grande."

But land title snagged temporarily. With over a million railroad-invested, developers could not wait, jumped the city-to-be to where Mercedes stands. Samfordyce staggered.

Ingleside's Mrs. J. W. Conoley "lived there from 1911 to '14; my father was freight agent and my mother and I ran the hotel." Already, the town was rallying a second promise. Waco's E. J. Rack, soldiering there in '15 and '16, recalls it in photographs.

Border trouble heavily garrisoned that whole Rio Grande front and Samfordyce, nearest rail connection to Fort Ringgold, bombed again. A three-troop post, hospital, waterworks and sewage plant went in. By 1918-19, its post office processed nearly 100,000 addresses.

Then the trouble subsided, the military broke camp . . . and this twice near-metropolis.

But had those first titles not temporarily snagged, reflects researcher Boling, this ruin-dotted but still-platted townsite might have been the Valley's major city.

Lawyers, Newsmen Argue Fair Trial-Press Issues

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — An American Bar Association study group recommended today that in pending criminal cases police, prosecutors and defense attorneys be barred from making public "potentially prejudicial information."

At the same time, the 10-member panel of prominent judges and lawyers specifically rejected the idea of restricting crime news coverage by new laws or through expanded use of the courts' contempt powers.

"We submit that the primary burden for ensuring fair trials rests on the legal branch and the agencies which serve and minister to it," the panel said in the preamble to its 226-page report.

GAG RULE
Along these lines, it recommended that the canons of legal ethics be revised to limit what prosecutors and defense lawyers may say publicly about a suspect witness and evidence from the time of arrest until completion of trial.

Similarly, it recommended that all criminal courts adopt rules to limit release of information by police and law enforcement agencies.

Violators would be subject to contempt of court procedures and, in the case of lawyers "in more serious cases," to disbarment.

CHALLENGED
The report immediately was challenged by two spokesmen for the American Society of Newspaper Editors — society President Robert C. Notson and J. Edward Murray, chairman of its Freedom of Information and Bar - Press Committee. Objections also were raised by D. Tennant Bryan, chairman of the Committee on Free Press and Fair Trial of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Notson, executive editor of the Oregonian, and Murray, managing editor of the Arizona Republic, said in a joint statement issued in Portland that the report "represents a serious, if unintentional assault on freedom of the press, and also the constitutional guarantee of free speech, because it seeks to control the sources of the news, that is, the attorneys and the law enforcement officers, in violation of the First Amendment."

"Putting prior restraint on news sources is equivalent to putting prior restraint on the press."

WOULD DICTATE
The ASNE spokesmen said the report would have the judiciary "dictate to police officers, who represent the executive branch of government."

"This violates the constitutional doctrine of the separation of powers among the executive, legislative and judicial branches," they said.

Speaking of the ABA group's recommendations, Notson and Murray said further: "If this effort is allowed to succeed, the result will be frightful damage to cardinal values in our open society; corrosion of free speech and free press; usurpation of the editor's duty and responsibility to tell the public what it needs to know in times of criminal violence, which often creates great stress in the public conscience; judicial meddling with the executive; and an open invitation to secrecy in law enforcement."

"This last, unfortunately, is already creeping up on us."

PUBLIC'S RIGHT
Bryan issues a statement in Richmond, Va., where he is publisher of the Times Dispatch and News-Leader. He said the ABA committee report warrants careful study, but added: "An over-zealous concern for the rights of defendants in criminal cases ought not to be allowed to deprive the public of truthful information which the public needs pertaining to crimes and criminals in our society in the light of growing problems of law enforcement at the local, state and national level."

"Newspapers cannot accept willingly the imposition of rules upon law enforcement officers which will have the effect of curtailing access by newspapers to truthful information in public records pertaining to the commission of crime in any community." Types of information which the ABA committee recommended be withheld by prosecutors, defense attorneys and law enforcement agencies include:

1. The prior criminal record, or statements as to the character or reputation of the defendant.
2. The existence or contents of any confession, admission or statement given by him or his refusal or failure to make a statement.
3. Performance or results of tests or examinations and refusal or failure to take a test or examination.
4. The identity, testimony or credibility of prospective witnesses.
5. Possibility of a guilty plea to the offense charged or to a lesser offense.
6. The defendant's guilt or innocence or other matters relating to the merits of the case or the evidence.

NO INTERVIEWS
Also, the committee recommended prohibiting interviews, for publication, with a person in custody unless he asked to be interviewed in writing and was told of his right to consult a lawyer.

However, lawyers and police officers would be permitted to give such information as the identity of the arrested person, the circumstances of arrest, the substance of the charge and to describe evidence seized.

And the committee recommended making an exception to its proposed policy of non-disclosure of prior criminal records where such disclosure would aid in the apprehension of a suspect or serve "to warn the public of any dangers he may present."

The committee, headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, issued its tentative recommendations "for consideration and discussion" after a 20-month study.

A final report will be submitted to the ABA's special committee on Minimum Standards for Criminal Justice, headed by Chief Judge J. Edward Lumbard of the U. S. Circuit Court in New York, for presentation to the ABA Board of Governors and House of Delegates.

Presumably, this will occur next August at the association's 90th annual meeting in Honolulu.

Legion Launches Safety Seal Sale

For many years the Howard County post of the American Legion has had a program of selling seals which promote safety suggestions. The 30th annual sale will begin officially Monday, said Byron Hill, commander.

Proceeds from this sale are used for extensive veteran welfare, child care and youth activities in Big Spring and Howard County.

Headquarters for the sale will be maintained at the Legion Hall on the San Angelo highway. Hill said that those who collect for seals will have a letter of authorization from the post.

Anyone without this letter should be reported. He expressed deep appreciation for past support of the seal sale campaign.

WTCC Industrial Parley Will Stress How-To Ideas

ABILENE—West Texas communities are going to get the basic facts of industrial development Oct. 14 when the West Texas Chamber of Commerce holds its 19th annual Industrial Conference in San Angelo.

This conference is carefully geared to giving the small community the basic information it needs to improve its industrial picture. As a result of an all-out recent effort by the West Texas Chamber to unearth West Texas' greatest growth potentials, two main areas of industrial opportunity will be explored—attracting industries geared to agriculture and to the petrochemical industry.

The one-day program will feature some of the most outstanding industrial figures in Texas as speakers or workshop moderators. Highlighting the day will be a series of nine separate "How To" workshops, designed especially for the small community in need of know-how. The conference will be held at the San Angelo Coliseum and will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Keynote speaker for the conference will be F. J. Spencer, Houston, economic development consultant.

The luncheon program will be a special feature, with several firms who have recently located in West Texas giving their testimonials on why they chose the area for their operations. Their representatives are expected to go right to the heart of the industrial development picture in West Texas, highlighting the opportunities which exist in the region.

EDUCATION PROPOSAL Start Earlier And Teach 'Em Longer

AUSTIN (AP) — The state Board of Education recommended to the legislature Saturday that Texas children—to handle the information explosion—start school sooner and stay in longer.

The major proposals in a series of 16 recommendations adopted by the board provide for: —A state plan of education for five-year-old children. —Operation of a state-supported summer school, grades one through 12. —Pilot programs to test the feasibility of a 10-month school year and a 7-hour school day.

A lone dissent by board member Doyle Corley, New Boston, on the plan for educating five-year-olds at state expense prevented unanimous acceptance of the primary recommendations.

Part Of State Gets Rainfall

By The Associated Press
Rains of more than two inches soaked portions of Southeast Texas Saturday as a fast moving cold front moved out into the Gulf of Mexico.

The first day of October was a perfect autumn day for most of the state, with mid-afternoon readings ranging from the 60s in the Panhandle to the mid-70s elsewhere.

Skies were generally clear except for patches of clouds over the South Plains and the lower coast.

The Canadian front swept into Texas Friday morning, touching off widespread showers and kicking up dust with 50 mile-an-hour winds in West Texas.

The Weather Bureau said the heaviest rain fell at Bon Weir in Newton County on the Sabine River, where 2.52 inches was recorded.

Other heavy showers associated with the passage of the front produced these rainfall amounts: Jasper, 1.90; Lufkin 1.13; San Augustine 1.90; Orange 1.02; Ennis 1.11; Waxahachie 1.90; Canton 1.04; and Terrell 1.21.

Temperatures fell to the 30s in the Panhandle Saturday morning. Warmer weather was forecast for Sunday.

YEAR'S TOTAL NOW STANDS AT 21.27 INCHES

September Left 3 Inches Rain

September, which turned out to be most benign, passed in history Friday leaving a record of 2.93 inches of rain to bring the grand total for the year to 21.27 inches.

The month liked much of being the wettest September on record. However, the agreeable manner in which it provided its nearly three inches of moisture, made it a favorite with most people.

WETTEST YEAR
In 1932, the wettest year in the history of the county, 34.25 inches of rain was gauged. Of this total, September provided 8.7 inches.

The wettest September on record was in 1936 when the month piled up 10.82 inches of the year's total of 22.25.

In 1919, one of the wetter years, the total rain was 34.01 and September accounted for 7.43 inches.

The second wettest September was just three years ago. In 1963, the rain in that month was 9.4 inches which was a little over half of the total for the year—18.67.

Only one September in 66 years has had a completely rainless record. That was in 1939. Total rain for the year was 15.45. In 1931, September came close to being rainless. Only .04 inch fell that month, but the year ended up with a very respectable 22.44 inches.

AVERAGE
The September average for the 65 years records have been kept in Big Spring is 2.99. The average annual rainfall for the 65 years is 13.26. This means that with three months yet to go, 1966 is already 3.01 inches above the average.

July, August and September have collectively provided 10.83 inches of the nine months 1966 total of 21.27 inches.

Seek Jobs For More Negroes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Government and industry leaders sought today to provide more jobs for San Francisco's Negroes in the wake of this week's riots in the Hunters Point and Fillmore areas.

A modified curfew was proclaimed by Mayor John F. Shelley in view of "a general lessening of tensions" in the neighborhoods. The rioting followed the fatal shooting of a 16-year-old Negro boy by a white policeman Tuesday.

The new curfew hours were 11 p.m. to 6 a.m. Previously persons in the affected areas had to be off the streets at 8 p.m.

Police patrols were reduced to the normal two men per car. Thursday night police patrolled in double units — four-man teams in one car and four high-way patrolmen in a second car. Friday, police said, the highway patrol support was withdrawn.

Withdrawn also were about half of the 2,000 National Guardsmen called in Wednesday. The others will stand by over the weekend, said Lt. Gen. Roderic C. Hill, state adjutant general.

On the economic front, the city's major business leaders promised to produce 2,000 jobs for Negroes from the riot areas.

Research Assessment Is Recommended By USDA

Establishment of a proposed research and promotion order for Upland cotton has been recommended today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Officials of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said this recommendation is based on evidence developed at a two-week public hearing beginning Aug. 22 in Memphis, Tenn., Dallas, Tex., Phoenix, Ariz., and Atlanta, Ga.

The order had been proposed by the National Cotton Council. Legislation authorizing the order was designed to enable cotton producers to engage in a comprehensive self-help program to strengthen cotton's competitive position and to maintain and expand domestic and foreign markets and uses for U.S. cotton.

C&MS officials explained that after considering any comments which may be submitted on the recommended decision, USDA will issue a final decision. If it is concluded that an order should be issued, USDA will then announce a referendum among cotton producers.

The program would be financed through assessments of $1 per bale from Upland cotton producers of the 1967 crop, to be collected by cotton handlers designated by the cotton board. Collection from any producer who did not wish to contribute would be refunded upon written application.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Local Man New Agent For TTA

By JERRY MONSON
New agent for the local Trans-Texas Airways office is George M. Owens, a Big Spring native, who has been affiliated with T-TA for five weeks.

This is Owens' first station with T-TA. He worked for Montgomery Ward's for a time before joining the airlines. He and his wife, Tommie, reside at 1800 Owens, and have one son, Michael Todd, nine months.

Owens replaces GERAL Sorrels, T-TA agent, who was recently transferred to the regional airline's office at San Angelo.

The Big Spring Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, commanded by Lt. E. L. Mulkey, participated in the regional meeting last weekend in Odessa.

The local group received a high rating and was one of the few in the state which competed in all divisions. Ten senior and four cadet members represented Big Spring.

Robert Lebkowsky, a Big Spring youth, picked up his commercial license Sept. 24 from Howard Loyd of Big Spring Aircraft.

Lebkowsky began flying in June, 1963, and received his private license Sept. 20 of that year. He has logged nearly 220 hours of flying time.

A 1961 graduate of Big Spring High School, he attended the University of Texas, where he majored in business and marketing. He hopes to make his career as a pilot with a commercial airline.

members logged quite a bit of flying time this week. Among those up in the Cherokees were Sam Dennis, Ellis Dyer, Charles Wash, Robert Lebkowsky, R. Caddell, Mrs. Jo Polone and Keith Swim. Taking cross-country flights during the week were Mrs. Polone and Swim.

The uncertain weather kept most of Big Spring Flying Club's pilots on the ground. Venturing out in the Cessnas were James Merrick and Roy Granberry, the latter on a cross-country flight.

Big Spring Aircraft reported about 20 transient pilots in this week.

Receiving his private license this week was Ellis Dyer. Single engine ratings were completed by Phil Arnold and Robert Burkel.

Students and pilots up in the planes of Big Spring Aircraft were Larry Seals, Sid Mellinger, Gene McKlaka, Don Loyd and A. J. McNallen.

By SAM BLACKBURN

"The mills of the gods grind slow," according to the old saying, "but they grind exceedingly fine."

In the case of John Edwin Myers, self-confessed slayer of four, the saying might be paraphrased:

"The wheels of justice turn slow and they don't seem to get anywhere."

OVER 5 YEARS

Five years and one month, come next Tuesday, will have passed since Myers was apprehended, his hands still stained with the blood of his fourth victim.

Twice since that date, Myers has heard a judge solemnly doom him to death in the electric chair.

As his story moves into its sixth year, Myers is still very much alive. The final chapter, whatever it may be, has not as yet been written.

Meantime, the crimes he admitted become increasingly dim in the memory of the public. His luckless victims, one of whom was a girl of 10, are nearly forgotten. The lonely road where he dumped his fourth victim on the night of Sept. 1, 1961, has been closed off to the public and is now so grown up with weeds and brush as to be almost obscured.

WAITS DECISION

Myers is now in the Illinois State Penitentiary. However, his history is of local interest. It was here that his fourth victim was killed, and it was in Midland that he fell into the hands of the law.

It all began at midnight, insofar as local awareness of Myers is concerned, on Sept. 1, 1962.

A highway patrolman halted a car on a street in Midland.

Stopping that dusty and blood-stained vehicle led Howard County officers, a few hours later, to a mesquite thicket on a rutted ranch road, a mile or so west of IS 20 on FM 818.

There the officers found the bullet-pierced body of a shabbily-dressed young man.

Meantime, the two passengers in the car the patrolman had stopped—Myers and his chubby, plain-faced, 14-year-old girl friend, Donna Marie Stone—had been brought to Howard County jail.

In a few hours they both made detailed statements—cold-blooded, detailed recitals of how they had slain four persons in three days of a wild, pointless dash from Illinois to West Texas.

The man whose body had been found in the mesquite thicket was the fourth. Another had been a middle-aged saleswoman from East St. Louis. The first two had been a 10-year-old girl and her father—shot to death after they had been trussed up with ropes.

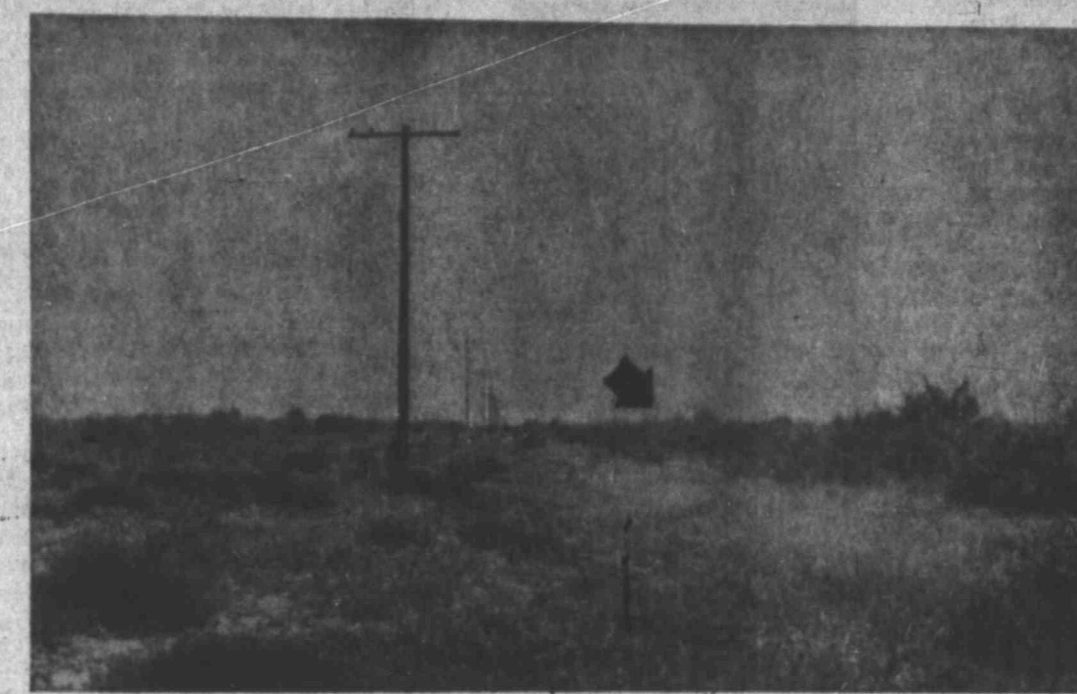

Those first two murders were on the shores of a little lake near Belleville, Ill. The woman was slain in the lonely woodlands of southern Missouri. The fourth was shot in the head as he rode in the car with Myers and the girl. This slaying occurred a mile or two west of Big Spring on IS 29.

CHICAGO

The male member of this bloody-minded duo was a skinny, hollow-cheeked, round-shouldered, sandy-haired man generated in the slums of Chicago. His sweetheart was plump, dull-faced and stringy-haired. She was 14 and had left her grandparents' home to seek romance and adventure with Myers.

They said they came upon Carol Ballard, the little Belleville, Ill. girl, and her father, George Ballard, on the shore of the lake near Belleville. Ballard had an old car. To get that car, Myers and Donna Marie tied the father and daughter up with rope. As they lay on the ground helpless, they pumped bullets from a .22 pistol into their heads. When they had finished their butchery, fate intervened—they couldn't get the Ballard car to start.

Near Belleville, they invaded the home of Margaret Wernicker, 45, and forced her to go with them south as driver of her own car. Near Thayer, Mo., they halted the car, marched Miss Wernicker into the woods, and battered her head with stones. They stripped the clothing from her body, and Donna Marie was wearing the woman's slacks when she was stopped 40 hours later in Midland.

WAITED

They waited there in the woods, smoking cigarettes and "making love"—for the luckless woman to die. When she took too much time, they shot her with the same pistol they had used to kill the Ballards. Just out of Fort Worth, they saw a hitchhiker trudging along the road. He was Arthur DeKraai, 33, an itinerant plumber whose home was in Ottumwa, Iowa. He was seeking work, and was given a ride by the Illinois pair.

That night, while DeKraai dozed in the car, Myers and Donna Marie plotted his death as they sat sipping coffee in a small Sweetwater roadside cafe. They would kill their passenger, they decided, for what money he might have on his person.

Just outside of Big Spring, DeKraai was sleeping as he sat in the car's front seat. Donna Marie sat in the middle. Myers leaned forward until her head was on her knees. Myers' arm was extended along the back of the seat, the pistol clutched in his hand. He said he placed the barrel within an inch of the sleeping man's head and fired two shots into his brain.

LONELY PLACE

They hunted a lonely place to dump the body. They rolled it out of the car into the mesquite. Myers searched the corpse. They got no money—DeKraai didn't have a penny. Myers complained later that where they had thrown the body was heavily infested with grass burrs, and that he was spiked by these as he pawed through the pockets of their victim.

No time was lost in Howard County. Arrested on Sept. 1, Myers was indicted for murder on Sept. 6. Gil Jones, then district attorney, sought a trial date for Sept. 18.

Some delay arose and when the case was called, two days were devoted to an unsuccessful effort to find 12 unprejudiced men and women to try the accused slayer. Judge Ralph Caton decided a jury could not be secured. On a change of venue, the case went to Cherokee County.

FOUND GUILTY

In March, 1962, a jury in Rusk took only a few minutes to find Myers guilty of murder and assess his punishment at death.

He appealed the conviction and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals set aside the verdict and remanded the case for retrial, holding that the jurors had been guilty of misconduct. Jones and Caton made a second effort to try the case—this time in Tahoka and again difficulties prevented a trial.

Jones contacted Myers for the Ballard murders," he wired John M. Karnes Jr., state's attorney at Belleville, "come and get him." Illinois promptly did so.

PLEADED GUILTY

Meantime, Donna Marie, a minor, who could not be tried in Texas for murder, had been sent back to Illinois. There she had pleaded guilty and been committed to the Illinois Youth Commission on an indeterminate sentence.

In Belleville, Karnes tried Myers for the murder of little Carol Ballard. On Feb. 25, 1964, for the second time in two years, Myers heard a grave-faced judge sentence him to die.

He moved for a new trial April 9, 1964, and the motion was overruled. He then appealed.

"This case was appealed," States Atty. Karnes said last week. "At this time we are waiting for the Supreme Court to render its decision. Meantime, chubby Donna Marie Stone is now nearly 20 years old."

STILL HELD

"Donna Marie Stone," says Karnes, "was sentenced to the custody of the Illinois Youth Commission Aug. 20, 1962. She is still there."

What now, John Edwin Myers?

Dam To Cost Above Estimate

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Brazos River Authority directors Friday found the low bid for construction of the De Cordova Bend Dam in Hood County higher than expected. The authority had estimated a cost of $8 million, but the lowest bid submitted called for $6,862,000. H. B. Zachry of San Antonio submitted the low bid. Only one bid was submitted for a dike to protect public utilities at Granbury. It was for $198,371.50 by Zach Burkett of Graham. The authority made no previous estimate of the dike's cost.

DEAR ABBY

Dad Shuns Responsibility

DEAR ABBY: Our boys are 12 and 14, and I have been after my husband for nearly two years to tell them the facts of life. He says his father never told him anything. All he knows he picked up from his friends and he turned out O.K. Could my husband be right? MOM

DEAR MOM: Possibly. It's all right for kids to learn the facts of life from other kids, as long as the other kids didn't pick them out of the gutter. Tell hubby either to provide the boys with some good books on the subject or offer to answer any and all questions. And he had better hurry, or it will be like giving fish a bath.

DEAR ABBY: Five years ago my mother passed away and dad was left alone and heart-broken at 63. Two years later he married a 58-year-old widow. He told us that he was marrying Celia for "companionship"—that nobody could ever take mamma's place. Well, here is a sample of the "companionship" he has had so far:

In the winter, instead of accompanying dad to Palm Springs, Celia goes to Chicago to stay with her grandchildren so her daughter can go to Florida for two months with her husband.

In the summer, Celia goes to Duluth, Minn., with another daughter who stays up there for the hay fever season.

When Celia is home with dad, she plays cards with the "girls" at least three days a week.

Dad is retired and has nothing to do, but he's too sweet to complain. Is this your idea of "companionship"? Any suggestions will be appreciated.

HIS CONCERNED DAUGHTER
DEAR DAUGHTER: For all I know, your father and Celia may be seeing as much of each other as they wish. If your father isn't happy with what he bought, tell him to write to me.

DEAR ABBY: Is it ever proper, when in the company of a woman to ask, "Are they real?" To use an old phrase, "It's fun to be fooled, but it's more fun to know." LIKES FUN

DEAR LIKES: Pearls, yes. Everything else, no!

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me in simple language how psychiatry helps a person? Far as I can tell it only opens old wounds and makes matters

worse. MAN OF FEW WORDS
DEAR MAN: Life is full of disappointments, personality conflicts, heartaches and frustrations, which call for one adjustment after another. People differ in their ability to adjust.

By allowing troubled ones to discuss their emotions frankly, the reasons for their insecurity, guilt, frustrations and hostilities come to light and are frequently minimized. Sometimes just knowing that others have experienced the same emotions can bring blessed relief.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Farm Prices Are Off For Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm product prices declined 1 per cent during the month ended Sept. 15. This halted an upturn of several months. Reporting the decline the Agriculture Department said today sharply lower prices for hogs and soy beans were mainly responsible. Higher wholesale milk and egg prices limited the decrease. The price level was 8 per cent above that of a year earlier.

"I'm not certain... isn't that Bobby Bringle over there?"

Embarrassing, isn't it... not to be able to recognize familiar faces? To be sure you see as well as you should, have regular professional eye examinations at TSO. At TSO your eyes are examined internally for evidence of disease or defect and then for visual abnormalities. Should glasses be the required treatment, the fee for TSO eye care including the examination, finest quality single vision lenses and frame, is as low as $15.00. With finest quality bifocal lenses, the fee is as low as $18.00. Single vision contact lenses, including the examination and fittings, are just $70. Bifocal contact lenses are also available at reasonable cost. If desired, there is a convenient credit plan at no additional cost.

CAPT. ROBERT A. TARON

CAPT. WAYNE A. KUNKEL

M. SGT. M. E. ANDERSON

S. M. SGT. G. F. MEEHAN

T. SGT. G. W. MILLER

Five Air Force Veterans Take Retirement Friday

Friday was the last day for several officers and men at Webb AFB who bowed out after a career in military service.

Capt. Robert A. Taron, a 20-year career man in the Air Force, retired. Assigned 3560th Pilot Training Wing, Capt. Taron was in management and flight operations.

He entered the Air Force directly from St. Benedict High School in Shawnee, Okla., in September, 1946. He spent seven years as an enlisted man, took his commission through the OCS program, then won his wings.

During his career, he had been assigned to Headquarters, United States Air Force; Headquarters, Strategic Air Command; and bases in Alaska, Arizona, Washington, Georgia and Texas.

Capt. and Mrs. Taron have four children. After his retirement, the family plans to live in Arizona.

Capt. Wayne A. Kunkel retired after 20 years of service. Capt. Kunkel has been assigned to base operations during his four-year tour at Webb.

Capt. Kunkel joined the Air Force directly from McGuffey High School in Oxford, Ohio. During his career, he has been assigned to Western Air Defense, Washington, D. C., the 5th Air Force, Korea, Air Research and Development Command, Holloman AFB as a test pilot, Japan, and the Ferrying Command.

"My most harrowing experience," Capt. Kunkel recalled, "was a low altitude ejection from an F-89 when the engine exploded on take off. I ended up in the hospital for 20 days with burns."

Capt. Kunkel plans to make his temporary home, after retirement, in Albuquerque, N. M. Capt. and Mrs. Kunkel have three children.

C.M. Sgt. Gerald F. Meehan, top-ranking NCO at Webb, retired after 24 years of service. Sgt. Meehan was born in England, but grew up in Boston, Mass.

He entered service under the aviation cadet program in 1942 at Northeastern University, Boston, Mass., then instructed cadets as a civilian instructor pilot until he entered active duty in 1944. Shortly afterward, he graduated from pilot training at Enid AFB, Okla.

At Webb since July, 1965, Sgt. Meehan has served as NCOIC of the aircraft maintenance standardization branch. Other base assignments have been in Alaska, France, Germany, Mississippi, Florida and Georgia.

"I'm proud and honored to have served at Webb with the hard-working, dedicated officers and airmen in the aircraft maintenance complex," he said. The sergeant and Mrs. Meehan have one child, a son, Thomas. The Meehans are moving to San Antonio, but plan on a future retirement home in Florida. He retired in his reserve rank of major.

T. Sgt. George W. Miller, 420th Field Maintenance Detachment, retired after 20 years of service. Sgt. Miller entered the service directly from school, joining the Navy first. During the Korean conflict, he joined the Air Force.

For the past nine years, Sgt. Miller has been a technical instructor. During his career, he has been stationed in Germany, France, Holland, England, South Africa and Massachusetts.

Listing auto racing as his hobby, the sergeant has raced Lotus, Coopers and has been a member of a pit crew at Le Mans, France.

M. Sgt. Martin E. Anderson retired after 26 years of Air Force Service. His last assignment was with the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, an Air Defense Command unit based at Webb.

Sgt. Anderson has been stationed in Georgia, Ohio, Vermont, New Mexico, Germany, the South Pacific, and has spent seven years with the 331st. His most interesting assignment was at Albuquerque, N. M., during atomic testing — experiences upon which the sergeant would not elaborate.

He plans to spend about a year in Big Spring just to relax and enjoy himself. After that vacation, he plans to move to Austin where he will operate a trucking company.

Mrs. Dais Dies, Services Slated

Military graveside services will be held for Mrs. Elizabeth Dais, 42, Tuesday at Fort Bliss National Cemetery in El Paso at 2 p.m. She died here Friday at 9:45 p.m. in the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Mrs. Dais was born June 21, 1924 in Seranton, Pa. She was a member of the Catholic faith and was a member of the WACS during World War II.

Survivors include the husband, William A. Dais, and four sons, William Dais Jr., Daniel Dais, Jerome Dais, and Paul Dais, all of the home in Odessa. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home handled arrangements.

Stocks Near Low For Year

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined for the second straight week, making an approach to its 1966 lows.

Both glamor stocks and blue chips were hit hard during the week. On Friday the list sank below the year's lows it made on Aug. 29, but prices recovered enough so that the averages closed with a gain.

The performance was not strong enough to leave any superabundance of confidence in Wall Street as the week ended. Many issues ended the week with very sharp losses. The most actively traded issue on the New York Stock Exchange, Fairchild Camera, was down 15 1/4 points.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 16.75 to 774.22. This left it above its closing low of 767.03 reached Aug. 29.

Indonesian Youths Berate Sukarno

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—More than 10,000 Indonesian youths, yelling "Go to hell!" converged Saturday on President Sukarno's palace and demanded that he be brought to trial on charges of leading the Communist coup attempt which erupted just a year ago and was crushed.

They surged against a double line of nearly 1,000 troops holding them back but they did not enter the palace grounds. Sukarno was not inside. He already had flown to his mountain palace at Bogor for the weekend, as he usually does.

The situation remained under control but at times appeared explosive as students pressed against the troops, who held automatic weapons at the ready. Student leaders urged the crowd to smash the palace. They asked the commander of the palace guard if they could enter the grounds and palace and were told they could not. "Is this a palace for the people, or is this a Communist palace?" one leader repeatedly shouted.

Wearing bright yellow jackets, students held aloft banners accusing Sukarno of being the leader of the abortive Oct. 1, 1965 coup attempt.

Two effigies of Sukarno, complete with his familiar military about 150 students remained before the palace when the demonstration broke up at noon, to see that the anti-Sukarno signs and portraits were left up for Sukarno to see when he returns. Student leaders declared they would be back Monday to demonstrate anew.

21 Nabbed In Dope Raids In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (AP) — Vice squad officers arrested 21 persons, one of them said to be a former school teacher selling dope to youngsters, in a series of lightning raids in Fort Worth Friday night and Saturday morning.

One heavily armed squad of city and federal narcotics officers seized seven persons at an east side apartment. The other 14 were arrested at various locations.

Capt. R. E. Pinckard of the vice squad said the raids climaxed nine months of investigation and had "broken the back" of a major Fort Worth-Dallas narcotics ring.

$500 A DAY He said the gang had been selling $400 to $500 worth of illicit drugs a day.

Eleven city policemen and 10 federal agents took part in the crackdown.

Authorities quickly filed 24 charges of illegal possession and sale of drugs. Pinckard said possibly 100 charges would be filed before the action is over.

Officers armed with shotguns, pistols and search warrants entered the apartment shortly before 11 p.m. and found a group playing poker. They arrested the group and said they found two capsules of heroin and a syringe.

TEACHER Officers said one of the men seized at the duplex has been teaching at a Fort Worth elementary school. Police believe he has been selling dope to school children. They did not identify him.

Undercover agents aided in the massive roundup.

Noting that only a small amount of heroin—believed to have been brought from Mexico—was found, Pinckard said:

"It's the people we were after."

Fort Worth men have been captured during the summer while smuggling narcotics across the Texas-Mexico border. Two were caught on their way to Fort Worth with about 100 grams of heroin, worth about $50,000 when diluted and re-tailed.

Tourists Hurt In Road Crash

BIASCA, Switzerland (AP) — Thirty-five British tourists were injured in a road crash near here Friday night. All were reported out of danger Saturday. The group was traveling north after a vacation in Italy when their coach collided with a Swiss automobile. The Swiss driver was seriously hurt.

DAVID G. WILSON

David Wilson Selected As AEC Trainee

David G. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Wilson, 1300 Pennsylvania, is one of 13 young college graduates chosen for a one-year executive training course at the Atomic Energy Commission's Albuquerque Operations Office.

The course is a part of the nationwide AEC program that has been conducted since 1953, and the Junior management program covers several fields.

Wilson is a management intern in the Contracts and Supply Division.

He received an MBA degree in August from Texas Tech, and prior to that was head coach at David Crockett Junior High School in Beaumont from 1963 to 1965. He is a native of Beaumont and a graduate of Beaumont High School.

Purpose of the training is to provide the AEC with potential managerial, scientific and technical administrators for future assignment to commission activities. Individuals, selected for special abilities and interests, undergo one year on-the-job training.

Atomic Research Group Gives UT Big 2-Year Grant

The Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation announced that it has agreed to furnish up to $700,000 to the University of Texas over a two-year period beginning May 1, 1967. The research will be part of the foundation's long-range effort aimed at making thermonuclear fusion (H-bomb) reactions useable for the generation of electric power.

Foundation support of fusion research at the university began about two and one-half years ago and the foundation will have contributed a total of about $500,000 to the research at the University by April 30, 1967 when the existing commitments will expire. Under the new $700,000 research agreement, the Foundation will finance a continuation and enlargement of the program for two more years, to April 30, 1969.

The Foundation's long-range fusion effort began in 1957 at the laboratories of the General Dynamics Corporation in San Diego, Calif. Practical control of the fusion reaction has not yet been achieved but the rewards for success in this research are of great appeal because fusion power plants would use as fuel the deuterium (heavy hydrogen) that is abundant in the world's oceans.

Carmichael Denies He Touched Off Violence

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Stokely Carmichael, a civil rights leader and "black power" advocate, admitted in federal court Saturday night he urged a Negro demonstration in Atlanta three weeks ago but said he did not spark the violence which resulted.

"You have to shake black people out of their fear," said Carmichael, who denied urging Negroes to "burn, baby, burn" or engage in rock throwing or other violence during riotous disorders that left 15 persons injured Sept. 6.

Carmichael, 25, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, said he meant Negroes should demonstrate to "tear up their fear." Estes was called to the witness stand in a hearing on SNCC's petition to halt prosecution of riot charges against some members of the organization.

Three federal judges took under advisement the request for an injunction against prosecution by city and county authorities, and a move to strike down state laws on riot and insurrection.

Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, said the case is of "major constitutional significance."

SNCC attorneys contend that city and county authorities manipulated the laws and threatened prosecution in order to deprive persons of their civil rights and freedom of speech.

A decision will not be handed down before Oct. 17.

Minor Wrecks Are Reported

Police investigated a flurry of minor traffic mishaps Friday evening and Saturday morning. There were no injuries and damage was reported as minor.

Location of the accidents and drivers involved included:

Bond Sales Go Well In Howard

Howard County has an excellent chance to exceed its United States savings bond sales quota for the year.

Sales of $76,473 during August boosted the year's total to $427,965, or 78 per cent of the year's quota. Another month and a half at the same rate will put the county over the top, said Larson Lloyd, district bond sale chairman. Robert W. Currie is the county bond chairman.

Martin County had sales of $4,258, making $26,496 for the year, giving it 132 per cent of quota.

The record for District 4 shows sales (cumulative sales) and percentage of quota:

- Andrews $5,742 ($34,718) 43;
- Dawson $5,272 ($44,617) 45;
- Gaines $2,572 ($47,476) 68;
- Mitchell $11,817 ($83,763) 64;
- Scurry $7,203 ($65,973) 51; total $113,307 ($731,098) 66.

For the state August sales amounted to $12,803,989, making $103,042,978 for the year, or 70 per cent of quota.

Four Killed In Plane Crash

GEORGE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Four men were killed Saturday when their C-119 cargo plane crashed into a mountain 50 miles northeast of Los Angeles.

Later in the day three men were hurt in the crash of a helicopter sent aloft to scout brush fires set by flaming debris from the cargo plane.

The dead were Maj. Elvin O. Estes, 44, La Puente, Calif., the pilot; Capt. Norman M. Gassman, 38, San Diego; Capt. Raymond L. Miller, 31, Riverside, Calif.; and S. Sgt. Roger C. DuCharme, 28, Sunnymead, Calif. All were Air Force reservists.

Estes was a sergeant in the Los Angeles police narcotics detail and was due to retire next year.

Some 700 construction workers and their wives will be in the audience as city, civic and arts leaders open the Jesse H. Jones Hall for the Performing Arts, an imposing downtown structure that took two years to build.

County Court Awaits Big Docket Oct. 14

Seventy-eight cases — pending criminal matters and appeals on file — have been set for disposal at two weeks of criminal jury hearings starting Monday in Howard County Court.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said that County Judge Lee Porter will sound the docket on Monday at 2 p.m. A jury panel is to report on Thursday morning and two days of trials are slated for this week. On Oct. 10, a second week of trials running through Oct. 14.

He said that the cases on the docket are all relatively recent charges — none going back further than eight or nine months. The appeals are also the latest filed although there is a fairly large backlog of such cases which have been filed in the county court by defendants in corporation court and the justice courts.

There are 26 DWI cases on the docket — all misdemeanor complaints filed by the county attorney.

Cases for trial are styled: DWI — Robert Keith Ainsworth, Alvis M. Allcorn, Elvin Lee Gilbert, Frankie Joe Schalk, Tommie Royce Thornton, Monroe L. Johnson, Ted Brown, Andrew Rose, Elton K. Bland, Jerry W. Derrington, Ramon Edward French, Chona D. Ramirez, Jimmie Hill Jr., Norman Coglin Wood, Truman Berry Smith, Avis Longley Howe, Paul Fierro Hernandez, John Overton, Joe M. Smith, Eldon A. Byrd, Elaine Clark, Lewis J. Odem, Alexander Bates, Leonard T. Jackson, and Daniel A. Maund.

Other cases in the misdemeanor group filed in the county court:

Ismael Juarez, carrying arms; Alene Bond, unlawful possession of distilled liquors; L. A. Palmer, selling beer; Elmo A. Lyster, aggravated assault; Luis Rios, carrying arms; Marshall J. Byerley, use of indecent and obscene language over a phone; William A. Mesker, worthless check; Thomas Carreno, carrying arms; Henry Gesada Gonzales, Frank V. Gonzales, possession of a weapon; Norman Coglin Wood, aggravated assault; Victor J. Brown, worthless check; Lloyd A. Morgan, fraudulently obtaining compensation.

There are 40 appeal cases docketed.

In many instances, one person is listed as appealing four, and sometimes more convictions or misdemeanors. Probably 25 appellants are involved, Davis said.

Appeals are handled in the county court from the city police (corporation) court and the justices of the peace court. The procedure is to try the offense as an original proceeding with or without a jury as the appellant requests. The verdict of the jury will find the appellant guilty or perhaps acquit him.

Often times, appeals have to be dismissed when called up for trial. Some are dropped by the person who filed them; others are thrown out for technical reasons — such as faulty complaints and other clerical blunders. Some cases are remanded to the court where they originated.

House Damaged In Friday Blaze

The residence of Arvil Henry, 1423 E. 6th, was severely damaged by fire Friday afternoon, and firemen were investigating into the cause of the blaze Saturday.

One end of the bedroom was burned out, firemen reported, and the rest of the house received heavy smoke damage. Two trucks from the Eleventh Place Fire Station were dispatched to the scene to snuff out the blaze.

Cities Providing Ambulance Service

By ROBERT E. FORD, Associated Press Writer. Funeral homes in scores of Texas cities went out of the ambulance business at midnight Friday. But where this took place, cities switched over to private services or used city facilities without any reported difficulties.

Reason for the end of funeral home service was that on Oct. 1 ambulance personnel came under the Wages and Hours Law. Some funeral homes said they couldn't meet the law's requirements.

SUBSTITUTIONS. While some funeral homes abruptly stopped emergency service Saturday, others in communities throughout the state continued to answer calls.

In other cities, officials saw the change coming and made the switch from funeral homes to contracting companies well in advance.

Where funeral homes ended ambulance service, the substitute method took at least two forms.

Sometimes the city contracted with one ambulance service for emergency calls on a contract or franchise basis. Some turned the procedure over to the fire or police department. Occasionally the firemen and policemen performed stop-gap service until private contracting firms could obtain equipment and manpower.

COST GOING UP. At any rate, it appeared that the cost to the patient for ambulance service is going up, but very unevenly between cities.

However, few were willing to raise the basic charge to $40 to $50 per trip recommended in some quarters.

East Texas appeared to be one of the centers of revolt against the increased costs, forcing city governments to take action.

Kilgore began operating through the fire department and ...

No Ambulance Facilities In Howard Co.

The City of Big Spring has been without emergency ambulance service since midnight Friday, and apparently will not have such service in the immediate future.

Negotiations broke down Thursday between city officials and O. D. Majors, operator of Big Spring Ambulance Service. Majors offered to maintain the service if the city would subsidize his operations by $500 per month. He pointed out that he was unable to collect for many of the emergency calls he had made.

Previously, the city had passed a new ordinance making it unlawful to refuse to pay an ambulance bill, later city officials agreed to pay 80 per cent of the uncollectible bills Majors might incur. The city balked, however, at giving him a direct subsidy.

Larry Crow, city manager, said Friday that one local businessman has promised to make a proposal sometime this week to provide emergency ambulance service. Crow added he will accept such proposals from anyone interested for city commission consideration.

Meanwhile, the city and county are without ambulance service. Police have been instructed to help in emergency situations in any way possible, which apparently means using police cars to take injured persons to local hospitals. Through late Saturday, no incident requiring such service had developed.

Although county officials have been included in some discussions concerning the problem, officials have taken no steps nor made any announcements concerning ambulance service.

T. T. Crawford Dies, Funeral Set Monday

Trevor T. Crawford, 49, a longtime employee of the Col-Tex refinery at Colorado City and the Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. refinery here, died at 3:30 p.m. Saturday after a brief illness. He was senior project engineer at the time of his death.

Mr. Crawford and his family lived at 101 Ramsey in Coahoma. He was born Jan. 8, 1917 in Jay, Okla., and attended Oklahoma A&M College. He and the former Miss Mary Reavis were married at Chickasha, Okla., Oct. 9, 1937.

The family moved to Colorado City in 1947 when he was employed at the Col-Tex refinery, and he had been with the Cosden refinery here since 1956.

He served with the Navy Seabees in the Pacific during World War II. Mr. Crawford was a member of the Coahoma Church of Christ and formerly was a teacher in the Northside Church of Christ at Colorado City. He was a member of the Coahoma Lions Club and was past president of the Colorado City Kiwanis Club.

He served on the Colorado City Council for three terms, from 1954-60, and was mayor for more than half that time. He assumed leadership in development of the Interstate 20 freeway project in Mitchell County, and the city carried out street paving, and water and sewer projects during his service on the council.

Funeral will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in the Coahoma Church of Christ, with interment in the Colorado City Cemetery. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home has charge of arrangements.

Survivors include the wife, one son, David Crawford, and one daughter, Ann Crawford, all of the home; his mother, Mrs. A. F. Vann, Tulsa, Okla.; three brothers, Bill Crawford and Bob Crawford, of San Bernardino, Calif.; Raymond Crawford, Dallas; one sister, Mrs. Anson Sewell, Willow, Okla.

Scholarship Winner

Mrs. Billy Childress, left, presents to Mrs. Richard Flores a scholarship to Howard County Junior College on behalf of the Cactus chapter of the American Business Women's Association. Mrs. Flores is enrolled in the college's vocational nurse program and is the second of the ABWA scholarship winners to pursue a career in nursing. She is a 1966 graduate of Big Spring High School.

tember by the Optimists of Texas. Spring, and Mark Bentley, Stans. David Holmes had won the honor previously.

Some of our young people gave a good account of themselves in the Merit Scholarship competition. MS commendations went to Larry Arnhart and Charles Macklin, Big Big Spring faces something of a problem in the announced suspension of emergency ambulance service. But Colorado City and Mitchell County face an even bigger one, for there Charles Root announced that he was closing down the hospital Oct. 15 because costs had risen and income hadn't. He attributed part of this to requirements and pay under the medicare program.

Cosden announced that it was raising the price on sour crude 51 gravity and under by eight cents a barrel. Other crude prices were raised also, but instead of increasing three cents per degree, they were hiked two cents until a top of $2.95 for 40-44.9 gravity oil, the same as it is now.

Just to give some idea of how late the harvest is, St. Lawrence received its first bale of cotton last week. This was nearly a month behind the average date for this event.

Big Spring Steers got a rest Friday, and they may need it by the time Midland Lee comes to town this Friday for the first district game of the season. If the Steers play as hard against Lee as they played against Snyder, they could maintain their magic over Lee. It may depend on how much the boys — and their backers — want it.

Fina pulled in more than four score jobbers and distributors here last week to announce its new sales promotion. With a pixie tongue in the cheek, Fina is announcing on Thursday its new secret ingredient — Pfahsh! Looks like Pfahsh! will be the perfect complement to pink air, the delightful spool of razzle dazzle among the octane octaves.

We got through the week — Saturday at least — without major violence among our own, but some Odessans sort of spoiled it. Orville Smith, 40, was stabbed west of town during a brawl that stemmed from an argument over how one of the occupants was driving.

Child Arrested

A 10-year-old Latin American girl was arrested for taking a portable radio from Trantham Furniture and Appliance, 310 Gregg, Saturday morning. She implicated two other children, saying they had also taken radios from the store. The girl was turned over to the juvenile officer.

Sands Decisions Loop Longhorns

By JERRY MONSON
ACKERLY—Plagued by fumbles and penalties, the Loop Longhorns were conquered easily by the Sands Mustangs, 12-6, in an exhibition game here Friday night.

The Longhorns made a brave showing in the first period, but a series of fumbles, bad passes and penalties kept them retreating from the Mustang stampede.

Leon Russell scored the first touchdown of the game in the second stanza, on a 15-yard pass from Lynn Maxwell pushing the Sands squad out front, 6-0.

The Mustangs' galloping Alfonso Calvio dazzled the Longhorns in the third period with a mad 20-yard dash to the goal to strengthen the Mustangs' lead, 12-0.

Loop held the ball for most of the fourth quarter, enabling William Gambrell to cop the only Longhorn touchdown in the ball game on a 10-yard run with four minutes remaining.

All PAT's failed. Active in the Loop defense were Kenneth Schrader, Armando Sepeda and Garrison Yocom.

Stalwarts for the Mustangs were Larry Newcomer, Larry Oaks and Randy Hambrick. Sands, coached by James

Kermit Slams Snyder, 21-7

KERMIT — Kermit took advantage of Snyder mistakes to defeat the Tigers, 21-7, here Friday night.

The defeat left the Tigers with a 2-2 won-lost record. Snyder scored his lone TD in the opening period on a sustained drive that covered 40 yards.

Kermit went out in front with a touchdown and two extra points in the second quarter.

In the third period, Thompson broke loose on a 81-yard scoring jaunt and Ronnie Burrows added the extra point on a boot.

Kermit put the decision on ice in the final period when Baker sought out Henry Bounds on a 29-yard pass play.

Snyder's aerial game was little short of disastrous. The Tigers failed to complete a pass in six tries and had three intercepted by Kermit, all by Baker.

Kermit made 212 yards rushing and 51 through the air. Snyder gained 147 on the ground. The Tigers, who gained lots of ground in midfield but lost two fumbles, made 11 first downs to nine for the Jackets.

Mildren passed to Richard Richburg for one touchdown and ran for another. In addition, he intercepted a pass thrown by the Lions' St Southall and returned the ball 35 yards down to the enemy 30 to set up still another score.

Mildren, to cap off a sensational night, ran for two extra points after the Cougars' final score. Cooper gained only 58 yards through the air but gained 257 paces rushing. Brownwood was held to 56 yards on the ground but added 167 through the air.

The Cougars made 21 first downs to 13 for Brownwood and were forced to punt only once.

Southall passed 25 yards to Kirk Wall for Brownwood's only score early in the third quarter, after which he kicked the PAT.

James Hamlett was Brownwood's leading rusher with 42 yards gained in 13 carries. Cooper is still undefeated after three 1966 starts and enters 2-AAAA play as one of the favored teams.

Cadets Nudge Nittany Lions

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army's surprising young football team won its third straight game of the season today, upsetting Penn State 11-0 behind the quarterbacking of sophomore Steve Lindell.

Penn State had been favored by three points, but the Cadets took command at the very start and except for a brief period in the second quarter when Penn State three times got in scoring position, it was the Cadets all the way.

Lindell scored Army's second-period touchdown on a sneak after Hank Ubrecken intercepted one of Jack White's long passes on the Penn State 39 and romped to the one.

On Army's third try, Lindell carried over to open the second quarter. He closed off the same period by kicking a 27-yard field goal.

Both of Army's first-half scores were the direct result of interceptions.

Dierker Leaves Them Something To Recall

NEW YORK (AP)—Larry Dierker goes back to school Monday . . . and it won't be soon enough for the Houston Astros' hard-luck pitching prodigy.

The baby-faced right-hander, nine days past his 20th birthday, lost his bid for a perfect game—and the only no-hitter of the National League season—in the ninth inning Friday night and wound up a 1-0 loser to the New York Mets.

Dierker retired the first 24 batters before Ed Bressoud, leading off the ninth, hit a sinking liner that barely eluded left-fielder Lee Maye's lunge and went for a double.

Bressoud took third on a wild pitch and scored the winning run when pinch hitter Ron Hunt singled off second baseman Joe Morgan's glove.

"If it had to happen, I'm kind of glad it happened tonight—instead of earlier in the year," Dierker said in the hushed Astro clubhouse. "The season's over for me. I'm flying home to Los Angeles Sunday and I'll enroll at the University of California in Santa Barbara on Monday."

"I wouldn't want to carry this around with me during a season."

Winning pitcher Jack Fisher giving up six hits, sympathized with Dierker, who finished his second major league season with a 10-8 record.

"All I can say is I feel sorry for Dierker," Fisher said. "He really pitched great."

Asked about the tension that accompanies every no-hit bid, Dierker replied, "It was growing on me, all right. Nobody said a word in the dugout, but the only thing that might have relieved the pressure was a run and I didn't get one."

The 6-foot-4 Californian said he knew he was in trouble when the ball left Bressoud's bat in the ninth. "It was a fast ball. I

Volunteers Uncouple Rice Owls, 23 To 3

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The ball on the Owl 12 by virtue of a 26-yard pass from Warren Stopped on the ground by a stubborn Rice Defense, 10th-ranked Tennessee whipped the Owls 23-3 Saturday on the uncanny passing of quarterback Dewey Warren.

Warren threw three touchdown passes and completed 17 of 25 aeriels for 234 yards before retiring to the sidelines midway in the final period. End Johnny Mills caught a 12-yard toss three seconds before halftime for the Vols' first TD.

Warren passed 12 yards to end Austin Denney for Tennessee's second touchdown in the third quarter, and put the game out of Rice's reach with a 13-yard scoring toss to Walter Chadwick later in the same stanza.

Rice went ahead 3-0 on a 24-yard field goal by Frank Pustka in the first quarter. Tennessee's Gary Wright evened the count in the second period with a 29-yard boot through the uprights.

Tennessee's first touchdown, which broke open a tight game, was a virtual gift by the Owls.

A Rice defensive player called a time out and stopped the clock for the Vols with nine seconds left in the second quarter and the drive stalled when Halley's final pass fell incomplete in the end zone.

Chuck Latourette, Rice's safety man, played a great defensive game. Once he hauled down Jerry Smith after the Tennessee safety man had raced back a Rice kick 29 yards to the Owl 45. The tackle prevented another Tennessee touchdown.

Tarheels Deflate Michigan, 21-7

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Quarterback Danny Talbott directed North Carolina to two touchdowns on short drives following fumble recoveries and scored once himself in leading the Tarheels to a 21-7 upset football victory over eighth-ranked Michigan Saturday.

Talbott threw a 12-yard scoring pass to Tom Lampman early in the second quarter. Dick Wesolowski cracked over from the five midway of the third for North Carolina's second touchdown.

Talbott sneaked in from a yard out with a minute remaining in the game.

The alert Tarheels intercepted two Michigan passes in their own territory in the second quarter and also thwarted Michigan's passing attack in the second half.

Michigan's Dave Fisher scored on a one-yard plunge in the first quarter, capping a 58-yard drive.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Snyder Mentor Lauds Gary

By TOMMY HART

Keith Miles, coach of the Snyder Tigers, told members of that city's Quarterback Club that Big Spring's running game was a major surprise to the Tiger coaching staff when the two teams met last week . . .

The speed of quarterback Gary Rogers in particular shocked the Snyder team, a tipoff that the red-head is coming into his own as a runner and a navigator . . . Rogers opened the season with little more experience than a sophomore at the position because the coaching staff had used him almost exclusively as a defensive back in previous seasons . . . The anvil chorus went to work when Rogers experienced his problems against Lamesa but coach Herman Smith refused to lose faith in the boy . . . Gary turned in a creditable job against Plainview the following week and was outstanding against Snyder . . . Rogers, who had leg problems last fall, ran a 10.8 hundred in practice this year . . . Ex-Big Springer Jack Eisenhart played probably his finest game for Baylor against Colorado last week, according to John Bridgers, the Bear mentor, one of the few boys Bridgers felt inclined to praise after Colorado's upset win over the Bruins . . . Colorado intercepted four of Baylor's passes, which moved Bridgers to comment: "I can't recall when Terry Southall made more mistakes" . . . The Houston Astros played to 1,872,108 in 80 playing dates at home during the 1966 National Baseball League season, compared to 2,151,470 in 1965 . . . That $200,000 property loss Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain suffered in a San Francisco fire reportedly was not covered by insurance . . . Greg Spahn, son of ex-baseball great Warren Spahn, has enrolled at the University of Oklahoma and plans to play shortstop on the OU baseball team . . . The present mayor of Plainview,

GARY ROGERS

Bryan Hood, was Taboka's first football mentor . . . In their three NFL games this season, the St. Louis Cardinals have outscored the opposition, 53-10, in the second half of play.

There's a bare possibility the Cassius Clay-Cleveland Williams fight will be seen on closed circuit TV in Odessa . . . Lindy McDaniel, relief pitcher for the San Francisco Giants, will edit a religious magazine circulated nationally by the Church of Christ in Baytown, Texas, this winter . . . Bill Henry, another Giant reliever, will live on Lake LeJ near Marble Falls, Texas, where he has a speed boat . . . Big Springer Buster Barnes intercepted one pass for Texas Western against North Texas State University recently . . . One of the Baltimore writers said his town reacted to the news of the Orioles winning the American League flag "like it had a funeral on its hands rather than the first World Series," adding that the profiteers in the hotel, bar and night club businesses were preparing to raise the price on everything . . . That Miss America pageant commanded five times as many TV viewers than the NFL opener between Baltimore and Green Bay, if you are to believe the Nielsen Rating System . . . Prior to its outing with Texas Tech, the University of Texas had lost five of its last seven football games . . . Those long TV commercials extended the Baylor-Syracuse football game to two hours and 40 minutes . . . The uniform and equipment a college football player wears these days costs about $120, or about 20 per cent more than in 1965 . . . The football he catches, kicks, passes or fumbles runs an extra $18 and the tape and liniment he'll use adds up to another $35 over the season . . . But his games are drawing more customers than ever before . . . Obert Logan of the Dallas Cowboys discusses teammate Dan Reeves' head fake thusly: "That's a move he picked up running with somebody else's watermelons" . . . One of the standouts on that El Paso Coronado football team which tied Odessa High recently is quarterback John Dobbs, whose father is head coach at Texas Western College . . . George Wilson of the Miami Dolphins released ex-Texas Aggie star Phil Scoggin for an unusual reason, explaining "He outkicks his coverage, allowing long run-backs."

Don't You Read Before You Buy?

To the do-it-yourself decorator, print advertising makes a material contribution. In more ways than one.

How else can she get such complete information on prices, sizes, styles and colors right in her own living room?

Where else can she find a stunning idea—and bring it to a standstill for further study? What other medium lets her clip and compare? Print's the only one.

And the spell that print weaves doesn't stop with material. It helps ring the register for everything from automatic can openers to zipper closures. Which is why—whatever you have to sell—part of your sales message belongs in print.

Print makes sense, because print makes sales.

This message is being run in the interest of the Print Advertising Association

Rules Water Injection Does Not Disturb Oil

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — A district court jury Friday decided that the injection of salt water into the East Texas oil field did not disturb any recoverable oil.

In a possible landmark case, the 71st District Court jury said that brine injected in 12 wells near the Martha Barton King lease northwest of Kilgore on a 194-acre tract essentially left the oil recoverable.

Testimony in the suit began Sept. 20.

Mrs. King and her husband, I. G. King, sued the East Texas Salt Water Disposal Co. of Tyler and Kilgore for $450,000 contending the salt water injection moved oil from under their estate to other parts of the East Texas field.

Similar suits are also pending here against the company.

The trial was marked by complex testimony from many petroleum engineers and former state officials, including Carl Reistle, former chairman of the board of Humble Oil and Refining Co.; Robert Whiting, professor of engineering at Texas A&M University; Albert Trube, in charge of exploration and research for Tidewater Oil Co., who was working as deputy railroad commission supervisor during the salt water crisis prior to 1942; William J. Murray, former chairman of the Railroad Commission; Jack Baumel, former chief engineer of the commission; and William Price, consulting petroleum engineer of Austin.

STILL WANTS CLARIFICATION

Thorough Try Wanted For Controlling Gas Prices

HOUSTON (AP) — The new chief spokesman for the natural gas pipeline industry believes the area formula for controlling wellhead prices of gas should be given a thorough try.

But John W. Partridge, New York City, did not slam the door on producer hopes that pipeline and distributors will join in another effort to get Congress to clarify the Federal Power Commission's (FPC) authority to control wellhead prices of gas sold into interstate commerce.

Directors of the pipeline-dominated trade group took no immediate action on the request, but Partridge indicated there are definite areas in which producers, pipeline and distributors can work together.

"We are interested in working something out," said the president of the Columbia Gas System just minutes before he was elected president of the pipeline group.

"In fact, this is a must," he told newsmen.

Partridge was asked if he could pinpoint any particular areas wherein the various segments of the gas industry could agree there is need for action for Congress.

"One very important factor is scarcity of contracts," he replied. "This is an area that bothers producers and I don't blame them."

He explained that currently the FPC can approve a 20-year gas sale contract but come back five years later and say the sale price must be lowered.

He said that currently the FPC can approve a 20-year gas sale contract but come back five years later and say the sale price must be lowered.

"It doesn't make sense," he said.

"It is too early to write area pricing into law but I would like to see it given a good thorough try. But it will never succeed without sancity of contract. Once approved, that contract should stand for the life of the contract."

Asked if he thought the industry's distributor segment would agree, Partridge replied: "I think distributors would go along."

Partridge also indicated there are areas in which producers could be of assistance to the pipeline. FPC's regulations of rates of return on investments, he said are inflexible and impractical.

"If our earnings drop below the authorized level we have to suffer that loss sometimes nearly a year before obtaining relief," Partridge said. "But if the return is too high the FPC comes in right away. We need flexibility."

The producer plea for support from the pipeline and distributor segments was made by W.D. Senter, executive vice president of a gas supply committee being organized to seek congressional relief.

NOT DETERMINED

Senter said the type legislation to be sought has not been determined "either in principle or specifics."

The contemplated legislative solution will be aimed at producer regulation, he said, but other segments will be vitally interested in that supply is the lifeblood of the entire industry.

"We expect to gain broad-based industry support in the same way we expect to obtain an affirmative vote in Congress—on the merits of our proposals and the persuasiveness of the facts on which they are based. We do not expect a carte blanche acceptance of a proposal not yet in being."

MADE A PLEA

A spokesman for gas producers made a plea for cooperation and assistance this week at the Hot Springs, Va., meeting of the Independent Natural Gas Association of America.

Recomplete Try Slated

Tidewater Oil Co. will plug back to 5,900 feet and attempt to recomplete as a mile northeast extension and second producer in the Wellman, Southwest (San Andres) pool of Terry County its No. 1 Jeff Good. The project is a former Fusselman producer in the Wellman pool, three miles south of Wellman.

The firm potential No. 1 Good from the Fusselman in September, 1964, to pump 75 barrels of 38-gravity oil plus 50 per cent water daily through perforations at 12,847-656 feet after treating with 2,000 gallons of acid.

Site is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 62, block DD, John H. Gibson survey.

NO SENSE

"It doesn't make sense," he said.

DENSE DRILLING

Engineers for the defendant agreed that the dense drilling in the Kilgore area and the large withdrawal of water and oil was solely responsible for the moving of salt water from the west to the east in the quantities complained of by Mrs. King.

She complained that more than 500 million barrels of salt water were injected through salt water wells adjacent to her lease.

The engineers for the defendant demonstrated to the jury that this quantity of oil, compared with the underground sea called the Aquifer upon which the oil sand rested and from which natural water was withdrawn, was comparable to a thimble of water in an eight-gallon jug.

The jury which began eight-hour deliberations in the case Thursday was confronted with 28 special issues.

On the issue of the amount of money lost by the plaintiff because of loss of production since 1956 up to the date of the trial the jury answered "none."

TESTIFIED

Murray testified that the salt water program was not only a conservation program but was sound engineering and resulted in the production from the East Texas field at a more efficient rate than would have been possible without injection.

Baumel testified that without salt water injection bottom hole pressure in the East Texas field would have dropped to 740 pounds per square inch and that this would have seriously affected the production of oil and the demands of the war effort that was dependent upon East Texas production during World War II.

TEXANS COMPLETE 145 NEW WELLS

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission reported Saturday that 145 oil wells and 58 gas wells were completed this week, bringing the year's completions to 5,392 oil and 1,701 gas wells.

Comparable figures last year were 5,251 oil and 1,999 gas wells completions.

Wildcaters discovered three oil and 11 gas fields. All three oil discoveries were in Dist. 4. Three gas wildcats were in Dist. 7-B, two each in Dist. 2, 4 and 19, and one each in Dist. 1 and 3.

Texaco Inc. No. 4-Y Reeves Fee is scheduled as a 1,100-foot Castle venture in the Screwbean, Northeast (Sindorf and Delaware) area of Reeves County, seven miles northwest of Oria.

Location is 517 feet from south and 1,650 feet from east lines of section 11, block 58, T-2, T&P survey.

Atlantic Richfield Co. No. 15-C O. B. Holt has been potentialized as a 3/4-mile south extension to the Cisco Oil reservoir in the Andrews County side of the Triple M multipay field.

It yielded 156 barrels of 41.8-gravity crude per day flowing through a 20-64-inch choke from perforations at 8,980-85 feet with gas-oil ratio of 725-1 and surface pressure of 725 pounds. The pay had been injected with 1,000 gallons of acid.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 7, block 43, T-1-N, T&P survey, 15 miles south of Andrews.

Depco Inc. will re-enter No. 215-11-648 State, Eddy County N. M. wildcat failure, and clean out to 2,438 feet for tests of the Grayburg.

Hondo Oil & Gas Co. originally drilled the project as No. 1-BE State to 11,227 feet and plugged back to 10,225 feet. It was abandoned in August.

Site is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 9-19e-28e, 27 miles southwest of Maljamar, 1 1/2 mile south of the Artesia field and a mile west of the Millman, East area, both producing from shallow pays.

Oklahoma Hikes State Allowable

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Oklahoma Corporation Commission Saturday raised the state's oil allowable for October to 38 per cent of the market demand factor. The pumping potential was estimated at 650,000 barrels of crude oil daily.

Crude oil buyers earlier this week asked that the market demand factor be raised from 34 per cent to 38 per cent and said they planned to buy 613,353 barrels daily.

Oklahoma output the first 17 days of September, under the 34 per cent of demand factor, averaged 608,945 barrels per day.

Active Rig Total Gains

The number of active rotary rigs in the Permian Basin Empire Friday was 174, according to the survey issued by Reed International Inc. This was a gain of four from last week's 170, but 15 less than the 189 recorded on the similar tally a year ago.

In the lead for the fourth consecutive week was Lea County, N. M., with 20 working rigs, two less than the 22 counted last week.

Pecos gained three to boost its total to 16 and put it in second place. The third spot, held by Pecos at the end-of the previous seven-day period, was occupied by Reagan, which was second last week. It registered 15, one more than on the previous tally.

The county-by-county totals, with previous totals in parentheses, includes:

Andrews 8 (7), Chaves 2 (3), Coke 2 (2), Cochran 1 (0), Crane 2 (4), Crockett 5 (4), DAWSON 3 (4);

Two Wildcat Sites Are Announced

Jack N. Blair of Midland and L. R. French Jr. and El Paso Products Co. of Odessa continue to test No. 1 LaForce-Moss in an attempt to complete from the Pennsylvania. The project is three miles west of Odessa in Ector County.

Perforations between 8,642 and 9,914 feet were acidized with 5,000 gallons and an oil flow of 242 barrels was measured in 12 hours. The yield came through a 16-64-inch choke with surface pressure of 500 pounds.

The project drilled to 13,898 feet in barren Ellenburger, set 5 1/2-inch casing at 9,537 and plugged back to that point.

Location is 2,000 feet from south and 1,885 feet from east lines of section 38, block 43, T-2-S, T&P survey. It is a 3/4-mile southwest outpost to N same operators' No. 1 Moss, discovery of the three-zone Cowden, South (Cisco, Canyon, and Ellenburger) field.

Sites for wildcats have been spotted in Terrell and Pecos counties.

Hurt Industries No. 1-3 Blackstone-Slaughter is projected to 6,000 feet in Terrell, 15 miles southwest of Sheffield.

Location is 4,185 feet from south and 925 feet from east lines of section 3, block 162, J. A. McGee survey, 12 miles west of the multipay Yucca Butte gas area, 1 1/4 miles west of Hunt's

0 to 160 pounds, 30 minute initial and final shut-in pressures were 790 and 630 pounds respectively. Operator has set 4 1/2-inch casing at 2,638 feet on total depth of 2,648 feet and completion attempts will be undertaken.

No. 1-5 Blackstone-Slaughter, an active 12,000-foot explorer which is being drilled "tight."

Ray Morris Exploration Co. of Odessa plans No. 1 Hart Johnson as a 4,800-foot Ellenburger prospector, four miles northwest of Baldrige in Pecos.

It is 660 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of section 14, block 140, T&SL survey, a location southwest of a recent completed Wichita-Albany discovery, three miles west of the Ellenburger reservoir in the multipay Apache-Warner area.

A location southeast extension and fourth producer in the Clarice (Tannehill) pool of Stonehall County has been indicated with recovery of oil on a drillstem test at No. 1-149 Swenson, a Hammon Properties operation.

Gas surfaced in one hour and eight minutes with no gauges on the volume on the one hour and 58-minute test at 2,637-48 feet. Recovery was 71 feet of oil and 200 feet of heavily oil-cut mud. Flowing pressure ranged from

JOHNNY M. HILL

To Johnny M. Hill it was almost like coming home when he moved to Big Spring and went to work for Cosden, June 15, 1951. He had attended and graduated from Big Spring High School while his parents were living here.

During World War II he was for four years in the Coast Guard, seeing service in the South Pacific. After this stint, Hill attended Arlington State College and received his degree in business from North Texas State University, Denton.

It was while he was a student at NTSU that he met and married Jo Crawford, a fellow student there. The couple has two sons, Bobby, 10, and Kelly, 8, who make things lively around the home at 2303 Allendale. Mrs. Hill is a teacher at Runnels Junior High.

Upon joining Cosden, Hill was assigned to the auditing department. Later he worked in the yield and accounting departments before moving to the refinery personnel office nine years ago. He serves as Assistant Director of Industrial Relations.

Hill is an active member of the Big Spring Personnel and Management Association, of which he was once president, and the Big Spring Rotary Club, being treasurer of the latter. He is active in Howard County Tuberculosis Association, and is a member of the Staked Plains Masonic Lodge. During the spring he works with Little League.

This Cosden senior enjoys golf, joining Cosden friends in a regular weekly foursome. Fishing, hunting and do-it-yourself projects around the house also appeal to him.

The Hills are members of the First Methodist Church.

OLD MASTER PRINTS are made to look almost like the originals by ingenious use of stains and shellac applied with a patient hand by home demonstration club members who have studied the art of decoupage. Here, with finished prints, are Mrs. Delaine Crawford, county home demonstration agent, and Mrs. W. L. Eggleston.

BLOSSOMS OF COTTON BOLLS will be worn by home demonstration club members serving as hostesses during the exhibit of home crafts which the Howard County Home Demonstration Club Council will sponsor Oct. 19 in the mall at Highland Shopping Center. Shown trying on their unique corsages are Mrs. Fred Simpson, Mrs. Jess Crane Jr. and Mrs. Nelson Ball.

COMFORTABLY COTTON is the emerald green corduroy dress sewn and modeled by Mrs. W. A. Allen Jr. at the home of Mrs. Paul Bruns in Silver Heels. Mrs. Allen, along with other club members, will show garments made of cotton during a style show which will be part of the Oct. 19 exhibit.

HELPING HOOK A RUG is Mrs. Paul Bruns, right, with butterfly motif. Both women will assist as hostesses during the craft exhibition. Rich as she tries her hand at a small beige rug.

HANDMADE AND HANDSOME, the lightweight, lavender and white check bedspread admired by Mrs. John Birdwell and Mrs. Roy Linn, will be exhibited at the home crafts show in Highland Center. The spread is typical of the many beautiful and useful articles that women learn to make through their home demonstration club association.

Small Woman- But Big Job

By JO BRIGHT

Mrs. Ivah Lou Ashley is a small woman—hardly a head higher than the filing cabinets that fill the State Department of Education office at 509 E. 13th. Her job is not so small. There's a hint of the responsibility in the title—"Area II Consultant, Division of Home-making Education, Texas Education Agency."

Appointed by Dr. J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education, in August, Mrs. Ashley started work in the local office on Sept. 1. In Area II there are 42 counties and, within the counties, 113 schools. There are 185 homemaking teachers that come under her supervision, and she will be concerned primarily in working with the Future Homemakers of America (a youth organization of girls taking home-making) and the Young Homemakers of America.

Big Spring will be home base, but of necessity, her car is practically a portable office, and much of her time will be spent traveling over the 42 counties for planning sessions with teachers and students involved in the homemaking program.

Mrs. Ashley was born in Valdosta, Ga., the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Malphurs, and the first 16 years of her life were spent east of the Mississippi River in the states of Georgia, Florida, Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky. With her parents, two brothers and one sister, she moved to Texas in 1929 and graduated from Clyde High School in 1933. She entered Abilene Christian College but later transferred to Sam Houston State-Teachers College in Huntsville where she received the BS degree in Home Economics.

Beginning her teaching career at East Texas, four years later she accepted the position of district supervisor of the school lunch program. When she decided to return to the teaching profession, Mrs. Ashley did graduate work at Texas University and since then has received a MS degree in Home Economics Education from Texas Women's University.

Prior to coming to Big Spring, Mrs. Ashley lived in El Paso for 15 years where she was a vocational homemaking teacher in the secondary schools and advisor for the Future Homemakers of America, Irvin Chapter. In April of 1965 she was presented an honorary membership to the Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America in recognition of outstanding service to vocational homemaking education and the organization itself. In the same year, she was awarded a certificate from the American Vocational Association in recognition of significant contributions to vocational and practical arts education through service as president of the Texas Vocational Association Homemaking Division.

An active and dedicated clubwoman at heart, Mrs. Ashley held offices and chairmanships in many organizations during her years of residence in El Paso and was recently presented by the Lone Star Pilot Club as its candidate for the city's outstanding career woman of the year. She has held membership in the Tejas Toastmistress Club, the Daughters of the American Revolution, American Association of University Women, Beta Sigma Phi, Art Association of El Paso and the Business and Professional Womens Club.

There are more. Her professional memberships are numerous and include teachers associations on all levels as well as teachers societies and alumni groups. She served as both state secretary-treasurer and state president of the Texas Vocational Association, Homemaking Division, in 1964-65.

Already establishing herself as part of the local community, Mrs. Ashley will, no doubt, be interested in carrying on her club work here.

But what to do with all that spare time that's left? She thinks she'll do a little designing and oil painting—and unpack the tools of her trade to prepare tempting dinners for her friends and associates.

Pink, Blue Party Held In Forsan

FORSAN (SC)—Mrs. Van Gaston was honored with a recent stork shower in the fellowship hall of the Baptist church.

Hostesses were Mrs. L. T. Shoults, Mrs. Doyle Whetsel, Mrs. Elmer Patten, Mrs. Gordon Hodnett, Mrs. T. R. Camp, Mrs. J. H. Cardwell, Mrs. O. W. Scudday, Mrs. Lee Yarborough, and Mrs. Tommy Albertson.

Gifts were displayed on a table covered with white cloth. The refreshment table was centered with a miniature cradle and baby items.

A pink and blue corsage was presented to the honoree, and the hostesses' gift was a bottle sterilizer and a gown.

Engaged

Dr. and Mrs. Quentin J. Florence, South Mountain, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Paige, to Lt. John William Hamner, U.S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hamner of Tuscaloosa, Ala. No wedding date has been set.

KNOTT (SC)—The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church met Thursday morning with Mrs. L. O. Free presiding. Mrs. Ernest Hollis gave the opening prayer, and Mrs. V. L. Jones gave the program. Mrs. Bruce Parker directed the Royal Service. She was assisted by Mrs. Jack Myers, Mrs. J. E. Peugh, Mrs. Lloyd Robinson and Mrs. Jewell Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. David Davidson have returned from Snyder where they visited Mr. and Mrs. J. O. McNew.

Robert Herren is a patient in Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital.

Mrs. J. W. Motley of Dunn is visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Castle.

Bouillon Starts Soup Elegance

Do you have to cook bones from meat for soup stock? Not always, of course. Make broth by dissolving one beef bouillon cube in a cup of hot water. If you want to make some truly wonderful onion soup, use the above idea, or utilize the broth in which beef tongue has been cooked. That gives onion soup a very special flavor. This broth from cooked tongue may be refrigerated for a period of two or three days. If kept for a longer time, it should be frozen.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

That nippy break in our Indian summer sent the chiefs and their squaws to looking for blankets to wrap the papooses in, at the end of the week. I must confess the days following our extended rainy spell were just a little warmer than I like, so this sudden change in temperature was a welcomed one even if somewhat surprising to me.

While LEWIS PRICE and ROY REEDER are fishing in the mountain streams of Colorado, their wives along with MRS. P. W. MALONE, visited in Dallas.

Had a short and pleasant visit with MRS. IRENE NIXON who is here from Beaumont visiting in the homes of her children, MRS. HARROL JONES, and HAYES STRIPLING JR. She still enjoys working for the Democrats and has attended the various conventions.

MR. and MRS. RUDOLPH PASCHALL will leave Tuesday for a visit with relatives in California. They will be in Los Angeles for a while before going on to Sacramento. They will be away for two weeks.

Longtime friends of MRS. JESSIE STAMPER COLLINS, a former Big Spring resident who now resides in Whitesburg Ky., had good visits during her recent stay here. She was a guest in the home of MR. and MRS. JIM SMITH, and also spent some time with MRS. FRED KEATING and MISS CLARA POOL.

Other friends with whom she joined in get-togethers were MRS. EBB HATCH, MRS. W. B. HARDY, MRS. HILLO HATCH, MISS NELL HATCH, MISS MARTHA HARDING, MRS. NINA CARTER, MRS. C. C. COFFEE, MISS NELL BROWN, MRS. CLIFF HURT, MISS HELEN HURT, MRS. A. W. MOODY, and the A. P. CLAYTONS.

En route to Big Spring Mrs. Collins stopped in Dallas for a visit with MRS. NORA COPELAND who is also a former resident of Big Spring as is a nephew, LLOYD STAMPER with whom she visited in Fort Worth. When she left on her return trip she was in Odessa to visit a niece, FRANCES STAMPER, and in Amarillo she will stay with an aunt and uncle, the LESS WHITAKERS.

Visiting the LLOYD WHITAKERS in Amarillo this weekend are the A. W. MOODYS and MRS. HELEN DEATS.

The junior FRANK HARDESTYS from Odessa came over Friday night for a short visit with his parents and other relatives.

One nice thing about having another beginning driver is that I don't have to go anywhere alone anymore.

MR. and MRS. WALTER STROUP are in San Francisco, Calif., attending a convention of Southwestern Life Underwriters.

Forsanites Continue Vacations

FORSAN (SC)—Mrs. Melba Willis and Mrs. Billie Barnes are on a vacation to West Union, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Padgett have been visiting friends in Jal, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Overton were in Dallas recently.

Kathie Griffith, McCamey, has been a guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Griffith and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gilmore.

W. E. Stockton, is a patient in Scott and White Hospital in Temple.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Practical Way To Prepare Hamburger

Dear Heloise: When making hamburger patties to freeze, I make a little hole in the center of each one. I can cook them without thawing, and the inside will be done by the time the outside is—and I don't have to worry about uncooked centers.

I also do our frozen hamburgers that way for the little hole will let steam through and we can have well-done hamburgers but not hard and dry on the outside.

I put an olive, pickle or cheese in the hole when ready to serve the patty . . . Mrs. N.

and find the letter I want like a breeze . . . Breezy Sal

Dear Heloise: I have three sons and some of their toys have a zillion pieces and parts! I've boxed, labeled and elastic banded these toys separately. They are stored out of my kids' reach and have to be asked for.

The children are each allowed any one box, but after playing is finished, they must put all the pieces back, then the toys go on the shelf for another time.

Makes these toys special to them, saves loss, and mother's energy . . . T.A.

Dear Heloise: Next time you roast marshmallows, first grease the prongs of that long fork.

Then it's not so hard to clean . . . Mrs. Fisher

Also, the cooked marshmallows will slide off the prongs without tearing apart, and thus are less messy to eat . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: When you go to the supermarket or a department store, do you take along their advertisements? Or the flyers mailed to you?

Try marking the items of interest with a red pencil. Then, at a glance, you can spot the things you want to buy or check

Married

The announcement is being made here of the wedding on Sept. 4 of Miss Johnnie Jean Jernigan and Pvt. Ben Walton Warren. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jernigan of Houston, formerly of Big Spring, and Dr. and Mrs. Loran H. Warren, 2983 Navajo Drive. The couple was married at the Clark Memorial Methodist Church in Houston with the Rev. John E. Scarce officiating. A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents where she will reside until she can join her husband who is now stationed in Aschaffenburg, Germany.

Preceptor Unit Makes Paper Pins

A "how-to" demonstration on making papier mache pins was held during the Tuesday evening meeting of the Preceptor Delta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. The members met at the home of Mrs. Tommy Gage on Allen Dale Road, and Mrs. Travis Carlton conducted the program.

Members were reminded of the charity dance on Oct. 1 for the muscular dystrophy drive, and Mrs. Odell Womack reported on progress of the charm school for patients at the state hospital.

The next meeting will be Oct. 12 at the home of Mrs. James Cape.

Colors Add More Zing To Make-Up

Brush-on blush shades in cake powder will be golden-sunny or rosy depending upon which suits your complexion most.

When selecting foundation, blush-on, eye make-up and lipsticks, keep in mind the spring and summer pastels will have more zing this season. Leading vivids will be violet, yellow, green and pink.

Use Patience To Remove Varnish

After applying varnish remover and giving it time to work into the finish, sprinkle the surface with some fine sawdust. This will absorb the thick, gummy residue and facilitate removal of the finish with a scraper or brush.

Dear Heloise: I have café curtains in my kitchen. The rings are sewn on with thread, but after several washings, the thread rots.

I have sewn them back on with nylon thread and behold, no more loose rings! . . . Mrs. G. Hall

Dear Heloise: After opening and unfolding hundreds of letters during Federal Income time, I started refolding everything—business letters, charge slips from the stores, etc.—with the typing or writing on the outside, and with the letterhead or salutation showing.

Now I can go through my files

Couple Is Married In Chapel Ceremony

Second Lt. Raymond Bergroos and 2nd Lt. Rosemary Edith McGraw exchanged wedding vows at 7 o'clock Thursday evening in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base. Lt. Col. Robert T. Deming (Chap.) officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Enhancing the altar were urns of white gladioli and pompon chrysanthemums interspersed with greenery, and a prelude of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. John Birdwell, organist. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Audrey McGraw of St. Paul, Minn., and Lt. Col. C. R. McGraw of Fort Knox, Ky. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bergroos of North East, Md., are parents of the bridegroom.

First Lt. Robert Prather escorted the bride to the altar and gave her in marriage on behalf of her mother. She was attired in a formal gown of white bridal satin, the slender sheath fashioned with white lace ruffling at the high, round neckline and circling the wrists of the long, fitted sleeves. Her headpiece was a spray of orange blossom seed pearls attached to a full-length, bouffant veil of illusion. White orchids, nestled in Frenched carnations and tied with satin streamers, formed the wedding bouquet.

ATTENDANTS
Attending the bride as maid of honor was 2nd Lt. Jane Pacey of Webb Air Force Base who wore a royal blue Empire gown of brocade satin and carried a small basket from which fell a cascade of white carnations tied with satin picot.

Allen Bergroos of North East, Md., twin brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and ushers were 2nd Lt. Gary Eishaar of St. Louis, Mo., and 2nd Lt. Robert E. Lapee of Minneapolis, Minn. Mark and Jeffery Prather were ring bearers.

RECEPTION
A reception honoring the couple was held in the Fireplace Room in the Officers Open Mess where Mr. and Mrs. Bergroos were joined in receiving guests by her mother and her grandmother, Mrs. Edith Adelia Holmberg of St. Paul, Minn. Mrs. Robert Prather presided at the register.

The refreshment table was covered with a floor-length white cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. White tapers in silver holders flanked the centerpiece of white flowers and emerald greenery. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue flowers and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Assisting at the serving table were 2nd Lt. Mary Ellen Ernst of Staten Island, N. Y., 1st Lt. Patricia Esemplio of Pittsburgh, Penn., and Mrs. Robert LaPee of Minneapolis.

The bride was graduated from the Ancher Hospital School of Nursing in St. Paul and is presently a member of the United States Air Force stationed at Webb AFB. Lt. Bergroos, who is also stationed at Webb AFB, was graduated with a BS degree in Personnel and Labor Relations from the University of Maryland.

For a wedding trip to North East, Md., the bride chose a three-piece white wool ensemble, the thickly-ribbed overblouse styled with a cowl neckline. Her accessories were white and beige and she wore the corsage from her bouquet.

Upon returning, Lt. and Mrs. Bergroos will reside at 1425 E. 8th.

A surprise baby shower honoring Mrs. A. E. Greiner was held Friday at the Officers Open Mess. The refreshments were petits fours and clever ice cream storks. Hostesses for this gala affair were Mrs. S. G. Flowers, Mrs. J. T. Slaughter, Mrs. G. H. Vorres, Mrs. J. R. Goebel and Mrs. R. L. Speros. # Kitty Carlisle Hart -- Definition Of 'Busy'

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — It just may have happened that Kitty Carlisle Hart found herself with a spare minute not long ago—and, profoundly shaken by the experience, agreed to take on an unpaid state government job and to sing at the Metropolitan Opera this winter.

That should keep her pleasantly occupied for awhile, when you add it to:

1. Raising two teenagers without a father around,
2. Appearing six times a week on a television panel show,
3. Keeping up with an expanding lecture schedule,
4. Conferring with producers involved with dramatic properties of her late husband, Moss Hart, the playwright, and
5. Entertaining theatrical, society and intellectual friends at glamorous parties in her elegant New York apartment.

"That's the way to live, don't you think?" asks the poised brunette. "I tell the children, 'Keep busy!'"

The children are Christopher, 15, who will enter Harvard University this fall, and Cathy, 16, who attends a day school here.

Over the years — from her teens when she became musical comedy star, through marriage and motherhood—the observant and highly intelligent Mrs. Hart became increasingly concerned with the problems of women. She decided that "American women have more energy and better education than any other women; they can handle careers and children and do more for their families."

But the big problem, she says "is facing prejudice from both men and women in all fields. We women have to be re-educated in our thinking, as well as men, to use its vast reservoir of ability and talent—in terms of work—that exists."

Feeling as she does, Mrs. Hart was delighted when Gov. Nelson Rockefeller asked her to be chairman of the Governor's Conference on Women held here in May.

She was even more delighted when he appointed her Special Consultant to the Governor on Women's Opportunities to follow up suggestions made at the conference concerning the need for more consumer education, expanding educational horizons for young women, providing retraining opportunities for older women and increasing the number of state-supported pre-school kindergartens and day care centers.

Not one of those women who accept titles or chairmanships and then sit back and let others do all the work, Mrs. Hart is busy with a statewide survey to determine women's needs, and she is about to announce the opening of a vocational guidance center.

"I would hate not to be able to follow through," she says. Mrs. Hart hopes to keep the governor's program going longer than her recent daytime television show, "Women on the Move," on which she talked with important women, plugged volunteer projects, tried to give direction to women wanting to help in community affairs.

Piano Pupils Give Recital In HCJC

The Piano Teacher's Forum will have their first program of the year this afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at the Howard County Junior College Auditorium.

Students in recital will be Angela Hodnett, Linda Padgett, Sandra Woodbridge, Debbie Halter, Connie Dunagan, John Wesley Deats, Doyce Edwards, Grace Hollingsworth, Sally Hollingsworth, Darlene Rister, Mary K. Tubb, Rowena McWhirt, Lynda McWhirt, Deanna McWhirt, David Duggan, Susan Wrinkle, and Barbara Pierce.

"I thought we were going fine," she says without rancor, "but after five months we lost out to 'Leave It to Beaver.'"

For a decade, though, Mrs. Hart has been a witty panelist on "To Tell the Truth" ("It just goes on like Tennyson's brook, thank goodness," she says.)

This summer she started brushing up on the role of Prince Orlofsky in "Die Fledermaus," which, until she sang it at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., in late August, she had not performed for a good 30 years.

It had been her first Broadway role—in an English version of "Fledermaus" called "Triple Sec"—and "it was so long ago, believe you me, I'd forgotten the music," she says.

This winter, starting with New Year's Eve, she will give six performances of Orlofsky with the Metropolitan Opera Company, and then go on tour with it in the spring.

MEN'S FASHIONS FROM PARIS

Pussycat Or Tomcat?

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP)—That man who cut the New Look for Christian Dior which revolutionized women's fashions and wrecked men's wallets shortly after the end of World War II is now cutting up a revolution of his own in menswear.

He intends to pack men into the cigarette look. He will divide them into pussycats and tomcats — terms expressed in French as Les Minets and Les Matou.

That man is Pierre Cardin. Don't say it can't be done. In the time since Cardin quit cutting for Dior and began creating for himself, his haute couture house for women has become renowned. This is especially so this year because:

(1) Beauteous Nicole Alphan, wife of the former Ambassador to Washington Herve Alphan shocked fuddy duddies by taking over the management of his fashion empire and thereby becoming a business woman.

(2)—His models wore next to nothing — and sometimes not even that—under his garments. Yet, with all this fame his menswear business is five times as large. A half dozen years ago Cardin invaded the field tentatively with a few natty ties and slick shirts. He has become more emboldened with each successive, and larger, collection. Until now he is thought to be as mod as carnaby street, as foppish as greenwich village, as continental as Rome—all things to all men.

They laughed, some of those menswear buyers who jammed into his green carpeted showroom for a collection using male models. They laughed at the green stove pipe hats, poppy red linen dinner costumes, and snickered at the pique shirts—and they bought.

Cardin who is superstitiously partial to the color green can happily add greenbacks to his pink francs now.

Not all of his menswear runs to purple pique shirts with white collars or blanket plaid steamer coats, though. For the quiet man, or necessarily conserva-

How To Cool The Cat

Whether these lads outfitted in Pierre Cardin's new styles are young enough to be Pussycats or are mature enough to be Tomcats is not quite clear. Anyway, they're cool in natty styles by the man who once worked for Christian Dior.

Executive Cardin's collection includes shadow striped suits and firm herringbone coatings, and pastel—but very pale pastel-linens.

For the older man—the tomcat, Le Matou, or would-be James Bond type — Cardin's clothes take on a bit more dash. Checks are checkier, tweeds are tweedier, pastels sharper.

As for the pussycats—well, anything gaudy goes in color, pattern, or style.

Generally, his new cigarette silhouette is a modified theme for all men. The pants run from slim to tight, ankle length for the pussycats, longer for the toms. Jackets are longer than usual with deep inverted pleated panels in back which replace traditional vents. Waists are indented.

His male models escorted some of his prettiest manikins wearing geometrical op art shifts. There were men in cardigan and sweaters and slack combinations, dashing raincoats, or leather storm flapped battle jackets.

The show ended with more laughs—a trio of pussycats off to the beach in hipster pants, bright shirts of orange, amethyst or violet unbuttoned to the waist, and multi-colored caps.

Another trio went off to bed, yawning, stretching as they padded off barefoot in knee length dark paisley robes over nothing, presumably.

Shower Fixture Dries Clothes

You can utilize your shower fixture as the holder for a new drying rack. The jagged-edged rack fits snugly over any shower fixture and can be rotated 180 degrees.

It holds up to 12 hangers full of wet clothing and because the rack is nickel finished, this indoor wash line will not rust.

Sequin Trimming Becomes Mode

Glitter continues for after-five wear in the new clothes collections.

Sleeves are studded with sequins, collars and framed in them, and they border hemlines. Or, look for beading all over.

Area Family Attends Gathering

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Wilson are in Lewisville and Fort Worth to attend a family reunion on Sunday.

Here for the weekend are Mrs. Jimmy Porter and children from Irving. The Porter family will soon move from Irving to Norfolk, Va.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cardwell were Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Breithaupt and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garone, all of Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Oglesby are home from a visit in Muller with her sister, Mrs. Maggie Toliver. They also visited in Johnson City and Longhorn Caverns.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lamb were in Fort Worth to accompany his mother, Mrs. John Lamb home.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Flynt were in Austin Friday, and they were in Brady to attend the funeral services of her aunt, Mrs. A. S. Hall.

Birth Announced

Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey of Ames, Iowa, are announcing the birth of a son, Creighton Muri, Sept. 29. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey Sr., of Forsan, and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Creighton of Rankin.

HD CLUBS

Members Anticipate Highland Craft Show

Workshops for coming fall exhibits were on the weekly agenda of the area home demonstration clubs. One club's workshop included the making of cotton boll corsages. The corsages will be worn as identification of HD members during the Oct. 19 home craft exhibit at the Highland Park Shopping Center. The Lees HD club is preparing for an exhibit in Garden City which will also include a style show.

The Center Point HD club's program was on table settings. A discussion was held on proper color schemes for formal and informal affairs.

KNOTT CLUB

A workshop on making corsages was the highlight of the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Knott Home Demonstration Club. The members met at the home of Mrs. W. C. Fryar.

Mrs. Joe Myers conducted the program. She exhibited corsages made of cotton bolls and discussed the construction. The corsages will be used during the Oct. 19 home exhibit show at the Highland Park Shopping Center.

The next meeting will be Oct. 11 at the home of Mrs. Emmett Grantham.

LEES CLUB

An arts and crafts workshop was held during the Tuesday evening meeting of the Lees Home Demonstration Club. The members met at the club house with Mrs. Joe Carter as hostess.

The workshop was in preparation for the Oct. 11 home exhibits in the Garden City old school gymnasium. The exhibit will include a food show by the Young Homemakers, a clothing demonstration by the St. Lawrence HD Club, and a baked goods demonstration by the Garden City HD Club. There will also be a dress review by all the club members at 2 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

The new officers, to be installed in January, are Mrs. E. B. Low, president; Mrs. V. E. Phillips, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Smith, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Phillips, council delegate, and Mrs. J. J. Overton, reporter.

CENTER POINT CLUB

Mrs. Crawford presented the month's program on table settings during the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Centerpoint Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Bob Wren, 700 E. 14th.

She demonstrated five table settings for different and special occasions and used various cloths and silver and china patterns for each. She utilized the same centerpiece each time. Mrs. Alden Ryan presided, and the devotion was given by Mrs. Travis Melton. Roll call was answered with "Good Neighbors and Good Deeds."

Emphasis was placed on the Oct. 19 craft show in the mall at Highland Shopping Center. The women will meet Oct. 11, with Mrs. J. R. Petty as hostess, to make cotton corsages to be worn at the event.

Fourteen members attended, including a new member, Mrs. Owen Leonard. Mrs. A. L. Forts was a guest. Refreshments were served.

MRS. JIM RAOUL

Office Orchid

Mrs. Jim Raoul, 1107 Douglas, has never considered herself a career woman — it just happened that way. Actually, she is one of those rare breeds, the working woman who still loves to keep house and practice the homemaking arts that make it a home. She and her husband are self-styled "home bodies" who seldom stir from the premises during the little time they have to spend together.

Born in Toyah, Mrs. Raoul is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dabney and has five brothers and one sister. The brother, Ray Lewis Dabney, resides here with his family, and it is his five-year-old daughter, Melody, that benefits from the attention the Raouls like to lavish on her.

Mrs. Raoul moved to Big Spring with her family in 1931 and is a graduate of the local high school. She began her business career as a cashier for Retail Merchants, later working for the F. W. Woolworth Company. She held the job of bookkeeper for the Burton-Lingo Company for five years and did the same for N. G. Hilliard for four years. For the past 11½ years she has been bookkeeper for Tate, Bristow & Parks Insurance Agency.

Mrs. Raoul and her husband, who is from San Antonio, were married in 1944 when he was stationed here at the bombardier school. He now operates the Humble Service Station at 1301 Gregg and likes to fish when time allows.

Mrs. Raoul is a member of the First Christian Church and Big Spring Chapter No. 57, Order of the Eastern Star. Her favorite hobby is bridge — but she seldom plays — for nothing is allowed to interfere with time allotted to her husband, home and job.

YOUNG MODERNS

Girls Having Global Go-Go

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP News Columnist, Writer

American youth is seeing the world.

Girls are in the Peace Corps., or foreign nursing assignments, or with their husbands at military posts. In summer school girls tour foreign lands.

But some don't make the most of their experience because they hope things will be the same as they are back home.

A nurse stationed in Japan after spending large sums of money calling her family finally found that she could keep up her morale by flinging herself into getting to know the country.

"I worried about little things — that shopping took so long, that I couldn't make head or tail out of the money. The people were gracious but I couldn't understand them.

"I began studying Japanese and took a money course at the suggestion of American friends. Soon I had a lot of good Japanese friends. I began to eat raw fish instead of expensive beef. I took a course in flower arranging and this alone made me see the country in new perspective."

A newlywed who lived in France for a year in a rented apartment was obsessed that the home wasn't clean, though she scrubbed all the time.

"But then I got caught up in the swirl of artistic people. After that, even a loaf of French bread seemed to have artistic expression. I no longer cared that things weren't falling into an accustomed pattern," she says.

difficult for Jack."

"I didn't even like the Americans I met, but felt that I had to be friendly or I'd be completely alone."

Her new husband called her a spoiled brat. She was living far better there than at home minus his living allowance, he told his bride.

It brought her to her senses. Time permitting, one can prepare to enjoy a new country before one gets there. Library books, language courses, and records are usually available for beginning.

SEC. D BIG SPRING, TEXAS, HERALD, SUNDAY, OCT. 2, 1966 SEC. D

US 80 Regains Most Of In-City Traffic

Although Interstate 20 is carrying upwards of 7,000 cars per day as it touches the northern perimeter of Big Spring, traffic volume on US 80 (Third and Fourth Streets) is crawling back toward levels before the IS 20 loop was opened.

The degree to which this is happening cannot be cited with exactness because no traffic count was taken on US 80 immediately prior to the opening of the interstate loop.

Comparative figures compiled by the Texas Highway Department are based on a count Dec. 2 and 3, 1964, one month after the loop was opened, and Sept. 7 and 8, 1966.

While the interstate loop be-

TRAFFIC COUNT

gan to carry a progressively greater amount of traffic from the time it was opened, the figures for the first month were far below today's totals because the route was not well marked and because driving habits had to be changed.

At any rate, the 1964 figures showed an aggregate of 3,808 eastbound vehicles over US 80 (east and west ends), whereas the figures for September of this year showed 3,599. The 1964 totals for westbound traffic on US 80 stood at 4,098, whereas now it is 3,808.

Whereas the 1964 tally did not measure the early flow over IS 20, today the figures are 3,692 eastbound and 3,318 westbound per day, a total of 7,010.

Trends indicated in the latest count point toward a day possibly not more than a year away, when a prediction of District Highway Engineer Jake Roberts will be substantiated.

Nearly a decade ago, when first talk of the interstate loop first came up, Roberts told a meeting here that the time would come when "more traffic will fall off IS 20 than is now coming through on US 80."

If You Can't Wait, You Can Pay Taxes Monday

If you are eager and just can't wait, you can pay your county tax bill Monday morning. At the same time, you can register, if you are a qualified elector, and as a voter, can participate in any and all elections coming up in 1967.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor collector, said that her deputies have dispatched tax statements to approximately 20,000 property owners, and effective Monday (actually the legal date is Oct. 1, which fell on Saturday) taxes can be paid at her office.

Taxpayers who settle their bill during October will be given a 3 per cent discount. The period begins Oct. 1 and expires Nov. 2. Those who pay Nov. 3-Dec. 2 will be given a 2 per cent discount. For the payments made Dec. 3 through Jan. 1, the discount drops to one per cent. The $1.07 rate is unchanged from last year.

After Jan. 1, the net tax bill falls due. Final date is Jan. 31.

This year for the first time all qualified electors will have to register in order to vote instead of paying poll tax as in the past. There is no registration fee. Basically, the registration certificate will carry the same general information relative to the voters that the old poll tax receipts carried.

No official form has been issued on a statewide basis and each county tax collector is designing a certificate for his respective county. All will follow a general pattern as set up in the new state law.

Goathead Weevil Gaining Foothold In West Texas

BUSHLAND — A foreign weevil is invading West Texas and damaging as much as 70 per cent of the seed in host plants, report scientists at the Southwestern Great Plains Research Center here.

Fortunately the insect attacks only goatheads or puncturevines, a weed which robs moisture from crops and produces a thorny seed feared by barefoot children.

Goathead weevils were brought to Texas in 1962 by Entomologist Norris Daniels and Agronomist Dr. Allen Wiese, Texas A&M University scientist at the U.S. Department of Agriculture's research center here. Some of the weevils were promptly tested at the U.S. Experiment Station in Big Spring.

In the last five years the weevils have multiplied millions of times. However, the researchers doubt if the insects will completely eradicate goatheads.

"We've never found more than 70 per cent of the seed infested," Wiese said.

STANDOFF
Seeds unharmed by the weevil may have the potential to maintain or increase the goathead weed population, but Wiese believes the 70 per cent destruction of productive seed could cause an important reduction of the weeds.

Daniels said the weevils (microlarinus lareyniei) originated in India and were brought to California in 1961 by USDA scientists.

After reading about the project in a scientific journal, the pair asked the California researchers to send them some of the weevils for tests in Texas.

They promptly received 250 of the goathead seed-predators.

Half were released here at the Southwestern Great Plains Research Center and half were released at the USDA's Big Spring Field Station.

TESTED HERE
The goathead weevils flourished at Big Spring, but did not overwinter here at the research center, which is located 10 miles west of Amarillo.

This year they have found them in Lubbock, Abilene and Levelland, so they are confident the pests are spreading rapidly.

Daniels also introduced them in the Rolling Plains on the eastern side of the Panhandle and they are reported to be thriving in the lower elevations there.

Killing weed seed with insects is one example of a new concept of controlling agricultural pests called "biological control," according to the Texas A&M scientists.

"Scientists conducted experiments in Italy and France before bringing the weevil to the U.S.," Daniels said. "They wanted to learn if the insects would feed on other plants."

EATS ONLY GOATHEADS
Extensive tests showed the weevils could feed and reproduce only on goatheads or puncturevine (Tribulus terrestris).

Daniels said adult weevils feed on the puncturevine foliage, but the chief damage to the weed occurs when the female snout weevil chews a small hole into the green bur and lays an egg which she covers with a fluid that seals the hole.

The small grub that hatches destroys the seed by feeding on the inside of the bur, he said. When it reaches the adult stage, it bores its way out of the seed. People living south of Lubbock can check for the weevils by cutting open goathead burs. If they are greeted by a small white larva, the goathead is infested.

Electric Appliance Carnival Launched

Electric appliance dealers in this area in cooperation with Texas Electric Service Company have launched a two-month Electric Appliance Carnival. During October and November, participating dealers have a special wiring installation offer for purchasers of electric dryers to be served from the lines of Texas Electric Service Company. Dealers also offer a wide selection of models of dry-

Electric Aids Are A Big Help

Are you getting all the help you need on wash day or do you find the family laundry requirements a constant drag? Easily installed, completely automatic flameless electric laundry aids can give you all the help you need when wash day rolls around.

Two flameless electric laundry components now do the work it once took a competent "sleep-in-maid" to accomplish. Your total electric laundry appliances also require only minimum supervision. No need to explain how you want the laundry done—just set a dial and forget about instructing anyone.

The Live Better Electrically Program of Edison Electric Institute points out that it's easy to hire this kind of automatic help. You can give bed and board to an electric washer and clothes dryer by plugging them into an electrical outlet. Minimum plumbing for the washer is, of course, necessary and an electric dryer should have a heavy duty outlet.

So "hire" your laundry help from your appliance dealer to day.

ers to fit the needs and pocket-books of those who want to save time and work in drying the family's clothes.

The electric company's promotion campaign and advertising by local dealers will tie in with advertising in national magazines and on TV by dryer manufacturers and trade associations. Dealers here who are participating in the two-month promotion have been supplied with colorful window banners designed around the carnival theme.

Some dealers also will conduct in-store demonstrations of electric dryers. Several makes of dryers also will be displayed in Texas Electric's office for the convenience of those wishing to compare the products of different manufacturers or to get other information about dryers.

Details of the electric company's promotion plan to help increase sales of electric dryers were described to appliance dealers in this area at a recent meeting.

Hanging Out The Wash Is A Formidable Task

Drying clothes is as much a part of the washday chore as washing them, especially if women still cling to the formidable task of "hanging out the wash."

An electric clothes dryer added to it can greatly reduce household laundering chores.

The beauty of drying electrically is that it eliminates the hazards of climate and the labor attached to drying clothes the old-fashioned way.

An Ohio State University study found that an automatic clothes dryer could save three hours each week in the average

Dryers Are Easy On New Fabrics

Modern electric laundry equipment is changing the types of fabric in uniforms worn for institutional purposes. The fast washing and drying process now available with modern electric washers and dryers, according to the Live Better Electrically Program of Edison Electric Institute, has affected the selection of uniform fabrics.

With today's flameless electric washers and clothes dryers the new man-made fabrics can be washed easily and emerge practically wrinkle-free—or requiring only the minimum amount of ironing.

The laundering advantages of these new fibers not only less uniform purchases. Many institutions, such as schools, business concerns and hospitals, where uniforms are required, consider the installation of total electric laundry centers a good investment for care of such garments.

AP'S 'SPECIAL REPORT'

Herald Offers Schools Special Film Subjects

The Herald has engaged for students of this area a new concept in audio-visual educational aids: Special Report, a color-and-sound filmstrip on specific topics in the news. This classroom teaching aid produced by The Associated Press explains the news against a background of history and current events. Each month, Special Report will bring home to the students a particular topic of current importance, ranging from domestic elections to foreign policy, from civil rights to city planning, from outer space to the war in Viet Nam. The actual voices of people making the news, and of reporters in the field, are woven into a recorded narrative which coordinates with the color frames. Currently being shown to school classes is a special presentation on the Electoral College, and proposals made to amend this system of elections. The next presentation will be on the problems of the major cities of the nation. The Associated Press, world's foremost news gathering agency, supplies the facts and color photographs to Guidance Associates, an established producer of audio-visual material for the classroom. Guidance Associates assembles the quarter-hour filmstrips and provides a teacher's manual for each month's edition. The Herald is a member of The Associated Press and is thereby entitled to participate in this new program for schools in its area. It is one of 22 newspapers in Texas which is helping Texas schools pioneer in this new teaching means. Authorities in Texas have been unanimous in their enthusiasm for Special Report.

Concert Memberships Are Pushed, Exhibit On Display

Now's the time to get that season membership in the Big Spring Concert Association. There's an abundance of good music — and there's a variety that will delight almost anyone. The opener on Oct. 29 should be a great evening since it features the music of Richard Rodgers, that contemporary genius whose solid, tuneful creations have not only issued in an endless supply of Broadway hits but which have a never-dying quality. If you don't go away from this one humming, your musical ear needs unplugging. Other offerings will be (Dec. 6) the First Piano Quartet, that peerless group of musicians who twice scored outstanding hits here (and who will accompany the Big Spring High School chorus in a special number); also (Jan. 21) the Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra and Choral, two of the finest groups in the Southwest and under the baton of Lara Hoggard; and finally (March 3), the famous tenor, Rolf Bjorling. Adult memberships are $9.00, students $4.00.

Those who love fine music, faithfully reproduced, will have a treat each Sunday afternoon starting today. Over KNFE-FM (95.3 mc), the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, under the baton of Leonard Bernstein, will begin its fall and winter concerts (from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.). Milton Cross, who has been interpreting operas for a generation, will be the narrator as the orchestra deals with symphonic forms in the 20th century. Offerings include Haydn's Symphony No. 85 in B-flat major; Harris' Symphony No. 3; and Brahms' Symphony No. 2 in D-major, Opus 73. Besides being hi-fi, the broadcast also will be stereo. Bernstein will be conducting most of the season, though occasionally he will have in outstanding guest conductors.

Time is creeping up for the first presentation of the Big Spring Little Theatre. It is "Poor Richard," set for Oct. 21-22 at the State Theatre, now the Little Theatre workshop. Incidentally season memberships are under way with family memberships at $8 the biggest bargain. Flower fanciers may be interested in the rose festival coronation at Tyler, Oct. 13-14. This year's rose extravaganza is titled "An Enchanted Garden." There's a bit for the style-conscious ladies, too, for the 46 lovely young candidates will wear costumes designed by Mrs. Roberta Reuter, Tyler. These are said to be the most dazzling in the pageant history. The 29th annual Texas Rose Festival (of which the coronation is a part) opens at 10 a.m. Oct. 13 and closes 7 p.m., Oct.

Library Group Hears Chief

Recent legislation and the problems of law enforcement were discussed by Chief of Police Jay Banks at the Thursday night meeting of the Friends of the Howard County Library. Three areas of concern — racial disturbances, Communist activities and youth problems — were discussed. Banks spoke on the two aims of Communists — to infiltrate the schools, beginning on the university level, and to lessen the authority of police until it becomes ineffective. Communists, he said, use catch phrases to arouse a crowd to action. He emphasized that when force is necessary to maintain peace, it is not "police brutality." "We must solve the youth problems first," he added, "since these young people are the ones who will be leading the country in a few decades." One suggestion for Big Spring was the use of a child welfare worker to help the juveniles with poor home situations. Another suggestion, he said, which is being advocated, is the juvenile jury. James Brooks, president, presided at the business meeting. New organizational memberships are the Officers' Wives Club, Big Spring Civitan Club, Oasis Garden Club, Toastmistresses Club, and the American Association of University Women. The purpose of the Friends of the Library is to promote library development in Howard County, to bind together all citizens and groups of citizens in the area interested in a better library. Individuals and organizations interested in helping the program may call Mrs. Earl Ezzel at AM 7-7665 for complete details.

DON'T BE MISINFORMED ABOUT PRESCRIPTIONS.

They are not expensive. The average nationwide cost per prescription is about $3.41. 98% of all prescriptions are less than $3.00. Only about one per cent are $10.00 or more. And, on the higher cost prescriptions, the gross percentage profit is no greater than a store gets when selling you a hat or a shirt. These figures are authenticated statistics.

When you consider how many sickness days modern prescriptions save you and how they enable you to live longer, they are truly the world's greatest value.

A Devotional For The Day

I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. (John 10:10)

PRAYER: Our dear heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the wonderful miracle of redemption. May we, as Thy disciples, be instrumental in winning souls for Thy kingdom. We ask that Thou wouldst continue to bless us and keep us faithful in serving Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Addition To The Economy

The action of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company in increasing the price of oil below 25 gravity by a flat eight cents per barrel will mean considerable to this area.

Cosden purchases some 35,000 barrels of oil daily for its refineries at Big Spring and Colorado City, and the bulk of this is in lower gravity sour crudes. Many purchasers have been less than eager to enter the market for these crudes, which abound in this area, but Cosden has made use of them in its petro-chemical programs despite some disadvantages.

Perhaps eight cents may not sound like much, but multiplied by Cosden's demands for this type of oil, it can mean around three-quarters of a million dollars more a year for producers and royalty owners in this area. That is a substantial addition to the economy. Perhaps others will follow the example.

Still A Thorny Problem

A thorny problem which appeared to be solved temporarily is now not solved at all. Big Spring for the moment, is without emergency ambulance service.

A couple of years back, funeral homes got out of the business because it was to them a losing proposition and a considerable inconvenience. To encourage this as a private business enterprise, they made monthly contributions.

But along came an adverse decision by the wage and hour division by the labor department, holding this service (and all others like it across the country) to be in interstate commerce and therefore subject to the provisions of minimum wages. Actually, the operation was on thin financial ice then, and the continuation under these arrangements was impossible. The City of Big Spring stepped in on a temporary arrangement, passing an ordinance making payment of emergency ambulance service compulsory and indemnifying the operator to the extent of 80 per cent of uncollected calls.

This, however, did not work out as a permanent arrangement. Now the service is halted, but the problem persists. There must be an answer to this question: "Is this service necessary?" If it is, then arises the question: "Whose responsibility is it?" It will be far better if some private arrangement can be made, and with public bodies stepping in if necessary. Even if the city reaches some agreement for protection with the corporate limits, this does not answer the question about calls outside the city. The county certainly must be brought into the picture, too, for injured people on highways are in substantially greater peril than those in town.

Some Prices Roll Back, Others Roll On

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Buyers of new Ford and Chrysler automobiles won't have to pay as much for them as originally announced.

Ford and Chrysler during the week rolled back part of their price increases to be competitive with General Motors, which has more than 50 per cent of the market.

Original average price increases for 1967 models were $107 for Ford, $92 for Chrysler and $54 for General Motors. Ford cut its boost $41 to $56 and Chrysler slashed its hike $23 to $64.

Ford's price increases, the first to be announced, were called "regrettable" by President Johnson and "scandalous and shocking" by Walter P. Reuther, president of the United-Auto Workers.

TALK TO OTHERS

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said he understood that the President's Council of Economic Advisers met over a period of time with representatives of the automobile industry "to express what we consider the public interest in the matter."

The government also took a hand in the color television price situation. The Commerce Department and the Council of Economic Advisers called executives of 10 television and electronics companies to a meeting in Washington and urged them to recognize the public interest in making price decisions.

But the Johnson administration received no assurances from industry leaders that they would either rescind recent television set price increases or refrain from future rises.

About the same time, Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., said it would raise prices on almost all of its 21- and 25-inch

SOME DO AND SOME DON'T

- Car prices cut back by about one-third of hike
- TV makers forecast a 2.1 per cent increase
- Gross national product of $781 billion is forecast
- Machine tool output demand sags, but orders are up
- President talks with big business representatives color television sets by 2.1 per cent. At retail the increases will add from $10 to $25 to prices of most of the 28 models in those screen sizes.

NEWSPRINT HIKE

The company said the increases were necessary to offset the recent higher costs of materials going into color television sets, particularly copper, receiving tubes and cabinets.

On another price front, Crown Zellerbach Corp., increased its price for newsprint in Western markets three per cent to $138 a ton from $134. The company said the action was due to higher cost of labor and materials. Other producers were studying the move.

The argument among government officials and economists about the prospects of a recession continued loud and long.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said there is little chance of a recession next year.

RECESSION REMOTE

The danger for next year, according to Ackley, would be "on the side of too much demand rather than too little," Fowler said that apprehensions in August about rigidity in the financial market "are by the boards" in the wake of President Johnson's anti-inflation recommendations.

The National Association of Business Economists reported that nearly three-fourths of the country's industry economists foresee continued expansion at a slower rate in 1967 than in 1966 and a recession by 1970.

The experts who guide industry's investment, price and purchasing policies forecast a 1967 national output of $781 billion in cent above this year's estimated $737 billion. The expected increase would compare with one of about $56 billion this year.

MORE CARS

The National Machine Tool Builders' Association reported that machine tool orders in August dropped 11 per cent from July, but unfilled orders continued to grow. Despite the decline to $113 million, new orders still were one per cent above August 1965.

Automobile production for the week was estimated at 184,000 passenger cars, up 7 per cent from 173,007 the previous week and up 9 per cent from 168,975 last year.

Steel production declined during the week 0.9 per cent to 2,645,000 tons from 2,677 million the previous week.

To Your Good Health

Right And Wrong Ways To Use Sleeping Pills

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: When I can't sleep I take a mild sleeping pill followed by a small glass of wine and I get sleepy within a few minutes.

A friend says she does the same thing but takes a barbiturate followed by a little wine. (Neither of us drinks otherwise.)

However, someone told us that this is highly dangerous and could result in death. Please answer soon.—MISS L.H.

The way you describe the use of either kind of sleeping pill, there's no need to fear. It is overuse, not proper use, of sleeping drugs and alcohol which causes trouble.

Indeed it is true that people have died from heavy doses of sleeping medicine, usually in conjunction with heavy drinking. That is vastly different from just one pill and a few swallows of wine taken only occasionally.

It seems to be extremely difficult to make clear to people the difference between moderate use and excessive use, or the circumstances. It is one thing to take such medication when you are going to bed. It is quite another to use sedatives, tranquilizers or such medications, and particularly so with alcohol, if you are going to drive a car.

Here are several rules:
1—Use only the sleeping medicines your doctor prescribes. If other physical conditions dictate, one kind may be better than another.

2—Use only the amount he specifies, and only when needed. Avoid the habit of depending on such help every night.

3—Don't try to fool your doctor, such as, by wheeling a prescription from another physician, or in addition, by using other sleeping potions obtained in any fashion. You fool only yourself if you conceal the amount from your doctor.

4—Don't keep sleeping pills by your bedside. Put them in another room preferably. It is believed that some fatal cases have resulted because a person, perhaps groggy from alcohol to start with, couldn't remember how many pills had been taken, and reached for another — and another.

5—Alcohol reinforces the action of most of these medications. A small glass of wine is reasonable. A lot of alcohol is another matter.

6—Getting normally tired and then putting aside your worries and relaxing is the best sleeping medicine. The pills are just an occasional stopgap for most of us.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it necessary to have polyps of the cervix removed if the Pap test proves negative? Do they sometimes disappear without treatment?—F.S.

Such polyps rarely are malignant (as the Pap test showed) but they do disappear without treatment, and they can be a source of bleeding.

Removal of such polyps usually can be done as an office procedure. But if not removed, they should be watched for any change in size. Of course, further Pap tests should be made periodically.

NOTE TO MRS. S.B.: Make an appointment at once for that young man to see a doctor and start treatment for gonorrhea. The chance of anyone else in the family getting it from him is rather slight, especially if you are careful to wash your hands after touching things he has used, but it is possible. More important, he is endangering his own health by not having treatment.

Bed-wetting is a distressing problem. If your child has the habit, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his helpful booklet, "Enuresis—Ten Ways to Stop Bed-wetting." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

No More Hog-Calling Yokels

If you still happen to nourish that old illusion, perpetrated by the joke books, that all the residents of Arkansas are bare-footed, hog-calling yokels, wipe it out.

Spent some time in the neighboring state on a little vacation tour, and in most of the areas I observed, the action is going.

IT SEEMED notable that industrial development is reaching into the smaller communities of Arkansas. Every town, no matter its size, yearns for the payrolls, but the odds seem to be in favor of the larger places. Texas industrial development flows to the Gulf Coast complex, the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area and into the other larger cities, while smaller towns are struggling to hold what they have.

Whether by accident or design, the appearances are to a motorist through Arkansas that nearly every smaller city has a plant of some sort, or has one a-building.

THE STORY of our neighbor state's recent boom in industrial growth has been told widely, largely because of the magic name of Rockefeller. Winthrop, of that clan, as most people know, took a fancy to the state a few years after World War II, saw that an economic shot in the arm was needed, and became the father of the Arkansas Industrial Commission. This agency—and surely due largely to his own personal prestige—brought a lot of new industry into Arkansas.

AS I SAID, I do not know whether placements were done by an established program, but the plants certainly are not all concentrated at Little Rock or Fort Smith, the largest of the state's cities. You could stop at a town of 10,000, say, and see signs of new hustle-bustle.

For one thing, to the envy of a hard-bitten West Texan, Arkansas seems to have water running out of its ears, to coin a phrase. The lakes are dotted over the state thicker than cactus patches around here, and if you don't think these make up an attraction to business and individuals alike, you are wrong.

THERE HAVE been proposals to bring water from Canada to West Texas, but now I believe we could snitch some of it a lot closer, say the Ozark and Ouachita mountain ranges. Arkansawyers wouldn't appreciate this, for they are doing very well with their lakes, thank you.

The recreation business is booming, adding, I dare say, about as much to the economy as is new industry. It's no trouble at all to find a beautiful spot on a lake front, and fishermen and boatmen, must surely find a Paradise.

THE STATE has a long way to go to catch up with Texas on its highways, but even there progress is being made. The major work under way is on the interstate system, and the big machinery is churning up dust over there, just as everywhere else. State highways are being improved, too.

Things just seem to be on the move, that's all. Those Arkansas people are mildly hysterical over their University's football team, but that So-oo-oo-ey, Pig! call of theirs is limited to the gridiron. They are not out calling the razorbacks as they used to. They are busy building a progressive state.

We Bridge Our Own Gaps

WASHINGTON—Congressman Thomas M. Rees of California raised this question in a recent newsletter that has been bothering many people—How many bridges does North Vietnam really have?

He says that despite continuous bombing of North Vietnamese bridges the Ho government seems to be building them much faster than we can destroy them.

Rees raises these questions: Are the North Vietnamese winning the race for spans? Is the United States suffering from a bridge gap?

TO FIND the answer to these questions I interviewed the undersecretary of defense in charge of destroying bridges.

He had a very simple explanation for the whole thing.

"You must remember," he said, "when we started bombing North Vietnam we expected Hanoi to cave in immediately. Therefore, there was no effort made to ration the country's military targets over any period of time. The bombers went in there and destroyed everything without thought to the future.

"MUCH TO everyone's surprise, the bombing did not have the effect we wanted. Instead of giving in, North Vietnamese resistance stiffened, and suddenly the United States found itself with a shortage of bombing targets."

"To paraphrase Churchill," I said, "never had so much been done by so few, so fast."

"Something like that," the undersecretary said. "Well, we were caught flatfooted, so we asked the administration to declare a temporary bombing cessation of North Vietnam. That could announce the reason we were doing it was to give Hanoi a chance to seek peace negotiations, but in fact the pause would give the North Vietnamese a chance to repair their bridges so we could have some targets to bomb again."

"It was clever strategy," I admitted.

"UNFORTUNATELY our bombing was so good that as soon as we were permitted to fly over North Vietnam again we destroyed all the bridges that had been repaired. This left us in a helluva predicament, so we decided to go after their oil storage tanks and railroad yards.

"But once again we knocked them out in a few raids, and the realization started to dawn on us that the larger the raids the less results we had to show for it. In the beginning the destruction of an oil storage tank farm was a big event, but as time went on we found ourselves happy to announce that 150 B-52s had knocked out two jeeps and eight water buffaloes."

"Remember that," I said.

"SO WE DECIDED the only solution to the problem was to drop our own bridges on North Vietnam and then destroy them with our own planes. The first wave of bombers would let go with the bridges and the second wave would come on a half-hour later and bomb them.

"In this way we could truthfully say we had knocked out more bridges than the North Vietnamese had to start with."

"And it's working?" I asked.

"I SHOULD HOPE to tell you it's working. We've got the Communists completely confused because they can't account for the bridges we've destroyed. And it's also played havoc with North Vietnamese morale. The soldiers there are very embittered. They want to know why, if North Vietnam has that many bridges, they have to swim across so many dirty rivers all the time."

Church And State—And Politics

WASHINGTON—This might be called the time of paradoxes in American history. One week the Congress of the United States refuses to adopt a proposed constitutional amendment to permit voluntary prayer in public schools because it is argued that "church and state" are supposed to remain separate. But last week President Johnson tells an audience of bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church that their ministers should get into politics and involve themselves in the controversies of government. This contradiction is bound to have its repercussions among the members of churches of all sects throughout the United States, many of whom have been insisting that their ministers should stay out of politics and try to advance the good of the community primarily by helping to make human beings better individuals.

THE PRESIDENT recognizes that there is a dissent in many congregations about the role of the preacher. He acknowledges there may be some persons who say that the preachers "should stay in the church and stay out of any socially conscious movements, poverty programs, community developments or political meetings." Mr. Johnson then declares:

"I hope you will tell them this for me: Tell them that in this age the church cannot afford to stand aside from the great problems of our times . . .

"BECAUSE IF the preachers in this country step aside from politics and community life and leadership and social problems, then who steps in? If the good men of the church have no business in these causes, who is left to do that business? I have never heard a satisfactory answer to those questions."

Apparently the President is unaware of the bitter controversies that are going on inside the churches in all sections of the country, as laymen protest that their ministers should not participate actively in political movements. Again and again, it has been insisted that, while ministers may express their own views, they should not undertake to speak in behalf of the members of their congregations on one side or the other of any political question. It is contended that no preacher has the right to use the name of his church or his congregation in politics or in governmental controversies and to give the impression that he represents the viewpoint of the members.

THE ANSWER usually made by churchmen who are active in politics is that most of the questions being discussed nowadays are important from a moral and social viewpoint.

THE PRESIDENT expresses the hope that "the cry for freedom" will not become "the sound of a brick cracking through a stone window." He cautions that, "if that sound should drown out the voices of reason, frustration will replace progress and all of our best work will be undone."

Mr. Johnson does not mention the names of leaders who have preached non-violence yet have incited others to violence. The President's remarks will be the subject of controversy for a long time to come. For he touched on one of the hottest and most delicate questions in the whole "civil rights" crusade and in the relationship of church and state.

New Model In Michigan

DETROIT—The new car models and the new prices are the big news here. It is no accident that from the Republican side of the political scene the goal is to push new political models with all the skills of advertising and television that promote the new cars.

As in California and Illinois, the contest in Michigan is between the old reliables and the new men who have come up in the television era. "The Action Team for the Action State" is the rallying cry of Gov. George Romney and the Republican slate he hopes to pull in with him.

AGE, how you come over on the screen, endurance and the show of the unflinching smile through the grind of the campaign—these are the things that count. The state is peppered with billboards for Sen. Robert Griffin, named to the office by Romney on the death in April of the venerable Democrat, Pat McNamara. They show Griffin leaning toward a microphone with the caption: Youth and Experience. Griffin, now 42, was serving his fifth successive term in the House when Romney named him to the Senate.

WHAT IS surprising is to find the old reliable model in trouble if the polls are correct. The Democratic candidate for the Senate is G. Menen Williams, known to at least half the population of the state as Soapy. His performance, like his green polka-dot bow tie, has not changed a whit since his first campaign for Governor in 1948.

If there was ever a natural in politics it is Soapy. He gives off a friendly good will as he strides up and down the aisles of a supermarket, and one of his advantages is the factor of instant recognition. At a Serbian women's auxiliary he begins his talk with a few words in Serbian and they love it. At a Polish home owners' meeting it is Polish.

THIS IS standard Soapy, which has gone over so well in Detroit's tightly knit ethnic groups. But Williams is 55 years old and he has not put on a statewide campaign for himself since 1958 when he last ran for Governor at a time when Michigan faced bankruptcy and the threat of closed institutions. A piece of bad luck—an operation for kidney stones—benched him for five weeks and he is only just beginning to hit the campaign trail again.

That accentuated the factor of age, and his enforced idleness may explain why in the last Detroit News poll he stood at 48 and Griffin at 51, with virtually no undecideds. But the opposition puts it down to his failure to come across on television. They say he looks on screen since his operation like a bemused old fellow out of an era long past.

GRIFFIN BOTH in his promotional literature and in his speeches makes much of his association with the late President Kennedy. His most conspicuous achievement in the House was the Landrum-Griffin bill, and he talks about how he worked with the late President in helping to get the Senate to adopt a modified version of the measure, which he says promotes the growth of honest, responsible unionism. The keynote for Griffin, whom you would never single out in a crowd, is intense sincerity and conviction. He tells his audiences of his votes for medicare, minimum wage and for closure on the civil rights bill.

THE LANDRUM-GRIFFIN bill, laying down the rules for union elections with the right of government to intervene in the interest of fair play, is anathema to the top command of organized labor. That is why, if a political revolution is in the making here and Griffin is elected, union leaders will face painful readjustments in their relationship with the rank and file and with government.

Either Empty Or Crowded

HODEIDAH, Yemen (AP)—This Red Sea port city is half empty of people in the summer and overcrowded in winter, because of its weather.

When the summer heat begins in May, the temperature soars to 113 degrees and the humidity rises to between 80 and 100 per cent. Paper becomes soggy, clothes stick to the body and hair wails.

All those who can afford to move up to the capital city of Sanaa, 10,000 feet up in the inland mountains. Sanaa's weather is brisk and refreshing in summer, and the humidity is as low as 12 per cent.

In winter, a reverse migration takes place. Sanaa becomes very cold and rainy, and Hodeidah receives an influx of people seeking its warmer weather and bright sunshine.

'WALK, DON'T RUN' Samantha Eggar, Cary Grant and Jim Hutton

Olympic Games Is Scene Of Picture

Cary Grant, the screen's favorite personification of sophisticated high comedy, stars today at the Ritz Theatre in "Walk, Don't Run," new release in Panavision and Technicolor. Grant plays a British industrialist in Tokyo, when the Olympic Games were on and that huge city was faced with a housing shortage.

Starring with Grant are Samantha Eggar, as a British Embassy employee who offers to share her apartment during the housing emergency, and Jim Hutton as an American architect and Olympic athlete. Miss Eggar, winner of an Academy Award nomination as best actress for her performance in "The Collector," here plays her first major screen comedy role. Her advertised offer to share her apartment is meant by Miss Eggar for feminine attention, but Grant is desperate and talks himself into her living room. Having achieved this, he promptly arranges for half his hard-won space to be occupied by Hutton, who also is homeless. Miss Eggar, finding herself in a confining menage a trois, complicated by such problems as breakfast and the use of the bathroom, also is confronted with the dire suspicions of her stodgy fiancé.

She also is confronted with Grant's machivellian antics. He doesn't like the fiancé and he does like the athlete, and he

Cosby Funniest Of New Batch Of Comedy Discs

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer
Faced with any new batch of comedy records, you're lucky if one of them is really funny. This crop is no exception. "Wonderfulness" by Bill Cosby is funny.
Cosby was making comedy albums for Warner Brothers before he started acting in TV's "I Spy" series. The series has made him far better known, and hasn't harmed his comedy. "Wonderfulness," his fourth LP, is his best.
This is the world of Bill Cosby

'STAGECOACH' Alex Cord and Ann-Margret

Second Telling Of Coach Ride Returns To Jet

With a cast that is truly all-star and in CinemaScope and DeLuxe color, Martin Rackin's production of "Stagecoach" for 20th Century-Fox comes to the Jet Theatre tonight. Filmed high in Colorado's Rocky Mountains in a setting never before used for a motion picture, "Stagecoach" stars Ann-Margret, Red Buttons, Michael Connors, Alex Cord, Bing Crosby, Bob Cummings, Van Heflin, Slim Pickens, Stefanie Powers and Keenan Wynn.
Directed by Gordon Douglas, the picture mirrors a dramatic episode in the American West around 1870, with an authentic stagecoach—which played such an important role in the development of that territory—sharing stellar honors with the ten stars. Joseph Landon wrote the screenplay which he based on a

Released In Texas

By The Associated Press
THE NORMANS IN SOUTH WALES, By Lynn H. Nelson (University of Texas Press, $6.00).
Almost everyone recalls the Irish troubles but less known are the same sort of troubles the Anglo-Normans had in subduing the Welsh centuries before. Lynn H. Nelson, formerly of the University of Texas, goes into the matter thoroughly in a new book covering the years 1070 through 1171.

The situation was closely parallel to South Viet Nam at the moment. Internal politics raged, often violently, while the region fought a common enemy. Some of the same methods being used now in South Viet Nam were tried but with no more success.

Nelson holds a Fulbright research grant to Spain for this year. —AP
POETS LAUREATE OF TEXAS, By Margaret Royalty Edwards (The Naylor Co., $4.95). The Texas Legislature passed a resolution in 1932 calling for the appointment of a poet laureate for the state each two years.

In the intervening time, 24 poets and alternates have been named.

Margaret Royalty Edwards has compiled biographies of the poets and included some of their poems in a new book, "Poets Laureate of Texas."

The book will be of particular interest to those in that field and is arranged so that it is a handy reference. —AP
COOKING AND CAMPING ON THE DESERT, By Choral Pepper (The Naylor Co., $3.95).

Choral Pepper is making a career of cookbook writing, this latest is an attempt to raise the level of camp cooking above hot dogs and canned beans.

Some recipes are almost gourmet—to the extent of how to cook lobster over an open fire. But most of the recipes are considerably more practical.

To protect city people from being so inspired by the thoughts of camp-cooked food that they dash into the desert to whip up a meal, the author includes a chapter of elementary precautions against desert dangers. —AP

Famous Battle Is Retold With Host Of Film Stars

Coming here from its reserved seat Cinerama run and opening Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre, is "Battle of the Bulge," a dramatic version of one of the great moments of World War II when the Allies were faced with a surprise German breakthrough of such ferocity that it could easily have turned the tides of war and of history.

"Battle of the Bulge," in Technicolor was filmed in Europe under the same kind of conditions that characterized the Ardennes Forest encounter which began December 16, 1944, as an idea of Hitler's to shatter the Allied forces, break through to the North Sea and continue the war.

The stars include Henry Fonda, Robert Shaw, Robert Ryan, Dana Andrews, George Montgomery, Ty Hardin, Pier Angeli, Barbara Werle, Charles Bronson, Hans Christian Blech, Werner Peters, James MacArthur and Telly Savalas.

Henry Fonda, in the role of Lt. Col. Kiley, plays a former law enforcement officer who treats the enemy as though they were New York hoodlums. His suspicions of a German attack at a moment when an Allied victory seemed assured are violently substantiated.

Robert Shaw, one of England's most distinguished actors, plays Col. Hessler, the tightly-disciplined German commander who leads a formidable array of Tiger tanks in relentless determination to mow down the American forces and fight his way to Antwerp.

Robert Ryan takes the role of General Gray, the U.S. officer who leads his forces in retreat but stops long enough in a delaying action to pit his comparatively weak Sherman tanks against the Nazi panzers.

Col. Pritchard, portrayed by Dana Andrews, is the man who ridicules Fonda's contention that the Germans are about to mount a surprise attack.

Telly Savalas plays a sergeant who operates a flourishing black market on the side and who goes berserk with his tank guns as the Germans forces close in.

Pier Angeli appears as a Belgian girl in love with Savalas, thus providing one of the picture's most touching moments. Barbara Werle came from Hollywood to take the role of a blonde courtesan who momentarily lures Colonel Hessler from his dedication to destruction.

Ken Annakin, whose personal experience with war included service with the Royal Air Force and injury in the blitz, directed "Battle of the Bulge."

A crew of 30 special-effects men accomplished incredible feats of destruction by blowing up tanks, mowing down trees and men, annihilating villages and producing snow, fog and wind to order. And what they were not able to do, the capricious weather did for them in the Guadarrama Mountains of Spain, where snow storms, frozen ground and icicle temperatures made the project one of trying physical hardship for men and equipment. The film

Batman Due For Jet Set

Following the phenomenal success of the "Batman" television series, executive producer William Dozier, whose Green-lawn Productions produced the series for 20th Century-Fox Television, met with officials of the studio, and the decision was made to bring Batman to the wide screen in full color and in a full-length feature.

"We all agreed on one major point," he explained. "The feature would be a major endeavor and produced with the budget, techniques and range of locations of a major enterprise, not a two-hour television show."

The result is 20th Century-Fox's adventure attraction, "Batman," which opens Thursday at the Jet Theatre. It stars Adam West in the dual roles of Batman and Bruce Wayne and Burt Ward as Robin and Dick Grayson.

Instead of one guest villain, as seen in the TV series, there are four in the king-sized feature. Lovely Lee Meriwether, former Miss America, steps into the role of the feline enchantress, Catwoman, and Cesar Romero, Burgess Meredith and Frank Gorshin return in the roles they created, Joker, Penguin and Riddler.

New Batgadgets have been added, like the Batcopter, Batboat and Batcycle, with each vehicle an actual performing gimmick and not merely a prop.

"Batman" was originally created as a comic book hero written by Bill Finger and illustrated by Bob Kane for National Periodicals. The screenplay for the current DeLuxe color feature was written by Lorenzo Semple Jr., Leslie Martinson directed.
