A Visitor For Jack Ruby

Mrs. Eva Grant, sister of Jack Ruby, waits for admittance to the Dallas County jail. Mrs. Grant came to visit her brother shortly after learning of the reversal of the death penalty verdict against her brother. The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin, Texas, reversed the verdict against Ruby because he was tried in Dallas and a policeman was permitted to testify on statements he made in jail about killing Lee Harvey Oswald. made while in police custody and therefore was not admissible. The admission of this testimony was clearly injurious and calls for a reversal of this conviction.

State Will Seek Ruby Death Penalty Again

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry Wade says the state will seek the death penalty again for Jack Ruby, whose conviction for killing accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald was set aside Wednesday.

Defense counsel expressed confidence, however, that the former Dallas night club operator will go free within months if he is allowed to plead guilty to a charge of murder without malice.

Wade, in Dallas, was chief prosecutor in the trial ending there March 14, 1964, with a state court jury assessing Ruby, 35, a death sentence.

TRIAL NOT FAIR

Wade said he intends to file a motion for rehearing by Oct. 29, asking the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to change its mind and uphold Ruby's murder conviction.

The court, the highest in Texas for criminal matters, ruled that Ruby did not get a fair trial. It reversed the conviction and ordered a new trial, to be held outside Dallas County.

The main reason cited by the Austin court in its decision was that the trial court erred when it allowed testimony by Dallas Police Sgt. P. T. Dean about what Ruby said some 10 to 40 minutes after Oswald was shot in the Dallas police station basement.

ORAL CONFESSION

According to Dean's testimony, Ruby "told Dean that he had seen Oswald in a police lineup two nights before and that when he saw the sarcastic sneer on Oswald's face he had decided that if he got a chance to do so, he would kill him," the appellate court decision said.

NEW ZEALAND VISIT

Johnson plans to visit New Zealand Oct. 19-20 and then fly to Australia, before attending the Manila meeting, New Zealand Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake announced in Wellington.

THREE DAYS

The Thai government's announcement said Johnson's visit to that country—which borders warring South Viet Nam—would come after the Manila conference, but a date was not given immediately.

Oil Storage Explosion Sets Off Mammoth Fire

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A extinguishing foam and four series of jarring explosions in an oil storage tank farm set off a mammoth blaze on the Mississippi River waterfront just above New Orleans today. The Coast Guard said one man was missing.

Flames and billowing smoke could be seen for miles. Three fire trucks called to the scene caught fire as the flames leaped skyward.

Since the conference was announced 10 days ago, there has been broad speculation that as long as Johnson was so far out in the Pacific he would visit such other friendly nations as Australia, New Zealand and South Korea. And diplomatic officials have suggested there might be even more stops.

66 Reds Give Up En Masse

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A unit of 66 Viet Cong soldiers surrendered en masse today as American, Korean and South Vietnamese forces closed in on an encircled, fragmented Communist force on the central coast.

The wholesale surrender raised to about 300 the number of prisoners taken by the combined allied force in five days of operation. It was probably the war's biggest bag of prisoners, and in addition the allied forces claimed nearly 550 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in the pincer operation north of Qui Nhon.

Early Boys Take Home Bulk Of Pig Rosettes

By SAM BLACKBURN
If you go to a pig show and the Early boys are listed as competitors — go back home. You haven't got a chance.

He had tough sledding though. He had to compete against big brother Kenneth. Kenneth had won the first place in the light-weight barrows and his pig was in the show ring bucking for the grand championship rosette.

So all in all, he had a fair day of it. How about Johnny? Well, Johnny's only 12. This is just his second year in the business. So he had to be content with a fourth place gilt.

Contractors Flock Here For Opening Of Bids On Dam

Contractors, suppliers and others flocked here Wednesday night and Thursday morning for the opening of bids on the Colorado River Municipal Water District's dam at Robert Lee.

The opening is set for 2 p.m. in the ballroom of the Settles Hotel.

Many of them have been taking additional borings and soil samples. The job is expected to be in the neighborhood of eight million dollars. About one-third of this will be in a massive concrete spillway which will carry excess water through the center of the dam.

CRMWD Adopts Budget With $2,721,000 Outlay

An operating budget calling for an outlay of $2,721,458 during 1967 was approved by directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District meeting in Big Spring today.

Although the district made substantial wage adjustments, the total budget was up by only one half of one per cent from the $2,700,815 for the current year.

Operating expenditures are pegged at $887,503 as compared with $836,681 for this year; debt service requirements of $1,274,502 as compared with $1,286,444 this year. Total net revenues for application to indebted funds is pegged at $559,153 during 1967 as against $577,090 for the current year.

DRIVER MISSING

Tugboats were called to the scene, and several ships being outfitted were taken to safety.

WALL OF FIRE

The storage tanks, located behind the Westwego wharfs on the west bank of the river, began exploding about 9 a.m. A wall of fire blazed up quickly between the tank farm and the wharf, used by Avondale shipyards to outfit new ships.

GOODWILL TRIPS

The White House obviously was showing deference to desires of other Pacific nations to have the privilege of announcing visits from the American President.

He told 15,000 aerospace workers, "You represent pioneering and adventure in an age of discovery, and all of you... are contributing to a new day for this great America of ours."

The SST, titanium supersonic transport, now under development at Lockheed and at Boeing in Seattle, will fly in the 1970's at three times the speed of today's commercial airliners. Among Lockheed's other aircraft is the F-104 "Starfighter," in use by the 331st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron at Webb Air Force Base.

Architect Claims U. S. On Eve Of Renaissance

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward Durell Stone, the architect, remarked in an interview that one of the enduring monuments of past American generations is the "monumental irresponsibility" of the architectural morass they left us.

"I think everything after 1850 has lacked grace," he said.

"In all history there has never been such monumental irresponsibility, expedience, things completely out of hand, built without plans. The whole country has to be rebuilt." And where does that leave us, he was asked. "On the threshold of great things," he replied. "I think we're on the eve of a great renaissance."

What Stone would like to teach businessmen, city planners, engineers, contractors is that "a minuscule percentage of the cost of a building goes into the planning."

LEADERSHIP NEED

You need planning and strong leadership to rebuild cities, he continued. "It doesn't come from the people. The momentum must come from the top." The artist conceives, he said, "But it takes a Napoleon to build Paris."

The leadership was, he believes, developed in recent years.

"Well, President Johnson said that we must rebuild with beauty in mind," he said. "President Johnson said that. That's rather unusual for a president."

As Stone views the future,

"There is no reason why every building should not be a masterpiece of art." But what about cost? "Buildings in the hands of skilled architects can be built economically."

Stone, whose gridded stone-work distinguishes hundreds of government, educational, cultural, medical and factory buildings, is now deeply committed to the urban development of which he speaks. He has numerous projects under way in St. Louis, Mo., Sacramento, Calif., Frankfort, Ky., Tulsa, Okla.

WORKS LIKE GENERAL

"I'm interested in projects of sufficient scope to produce an oasis." The oasis often includes a tower surrounded by space. This, he believes, is the perennial dream of architects: "A city of skyscrapers in a park-like setting."

Architecture to Stone is very much an art, but very much a business too. His name appears literally on hundreds of plans. He has 200 workers in offices here and Palo Alto, Calif.

His masterpieces include the American Pavilion at the Brussels World's Fair (1958), the U.S. Embassy at New Delhi, India, and the brand new National Geographic Society Building in Washington.

The very size of his operation brings criticism from some architects that proper supervision is impossible. Stone, however, replies, "I concentrate on the formative stages."

At his office in a residential building near Central Park "I work like a general, with 8 to 10 colonels" to carry out plans which he constantly checks.

Ex-Child Star Rips Film Pornography

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, Hollywood's one-time child star, has quit the San Francisco Film Festival Committee. The issue: "A movie she says is pornographic."

"Night Games," a Swedish entry, "merely utilizes pornography for profit," Mrs. Black said Wednesday as the committee voted over her objections to show the film.

Jury Convicts Death Driver

FORT WORTH (AP) — A jury needed only 30 minutes Wednesday to convict Kenneth Wright, 18, of negligent homicide in an automobile accident, but put over until today fixing his punishment.

Wright, from Irving, was the driver of a car which collided with another last June 24 on US 377 north of Keller. Seven persons died, including six children.

After convicting Wright, the jurors deliberated 90 minutes on the penalty before Judge Weldon Bradley excused them for the day.

The charge carries a maximum penalty of three years in the county jail or a $3,000 fine.

Wright, still on crutches as a result of injuries received in the crash, testified the last he remembered before the fiery collision was that "I was driving on my side of the road."

He denied consuming any alcoholic beverage or that there was beer in his car at the time of the accident.

Over a defense objection the prosecution was permitted by the court to ask Wright if he remembered asking someone at the hospital after the accident,

Wright said he could not remember asking such a question. "How many did I kill this time?"

Space Flight Center To Allow Public Look

'The Kennedy Wit' Sparkles On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — John F. Kennedy had a quiet and dry kind of humor, and sometimes what he said was not as amusing as the look on his face when he said it. But his sense of humor shone through many a speech and off the cuff interview.

A research staff spent six months assembling samples of presidential humor for Wednesday night's "The Kennedy Wit" on ABC. They ranged from ad lib opening addresses to press conference exchanges in which his wit sparkled.

CROWD ROARS

There was, for instance, a record of the moment at a Massachusetts political rally when the President of the United States introduced himself: "I am Teddy Kennedy's brother." It brought a roar from the crowd.

There were several sly exchanges with reporters. In one, a journalist asked how was his aching back. The President replied that "it depends on the weather, political and otherwise."

Jack Paar narrated the program in a competent but rather emotional manner, and filled in some chinks in the picture and sound record by repeating a number of amusing Kennedy anecdotes.

COLORFUL SERIES

NBC's opening day coverage of the World Series was clear, colorful and concise. With the help of seven cameras, by frequent playbacks in slow motion and with announcers who kept strictly to the business at hand, it was interesting viewing even for those who under normal conditions would be watching the daytime game shows and soap operas.

NBC will kick off its series of two-hour movies made especially for television with a comedy-suspense tale on Nov. 28. The feature-length show, "Fame is the Name of the Game" is one of a dozen or more being turned out by a Hollywood studio for the network.

Paiman, Dyess AFB; Rocket-T, Goodfellow AFB; Tri-Concho, San Angelo; Noon-Shiners, San Angelo; Daybreakers, San Angelo; Talon, Webb AFB; Flying Tumbleweed, Webb AFB; and Big Spring Toastmaster, Big Spring.

A workshop on effective written communications will take up the afternoon, followed by a banquet and the speech contest in the evening. At least one hundred Area Four Toastmasters, wives and guests are expected to attend at the Starlite Motor Hotel, Abilene.

Reds Sentence Five Baptists

MOSCOW (AP) — Five more leaders of a breakaway Baptist sect have been sentenced to jail for flouting Soviet laws curbing religion.

Pravda (Truth of the Ukraine) reported Wednesday that the defendants were given jail terms of two to three years for handing out illegal literature and holding public meetings criticizing Soviet laws on religion.

Nine other Baptists have been sentenced to prison since mid-July on similar charges.

their headquarters — without warning and wounded a student. The marines fired short bursts into the building Wednesday night after they were refused entrance, students said. The marines apparently were searching for a student who had attacked and knifed one of them.

The fresh outbreak of violence came in the wake of bayonet charges Monday against some 8,000 students who attempted to attack President Sukarno's palace. Several students were bayoneted and scores were clubbed to the ground by angry troops.

The Jakarta military command held the 10 marines for questioning and claimed they were members of the presidential palace guard which was disbanded after the coup attempt last October.

Many students charge that President Sukarno was a leader of the attempted Communist coup.

The chairman of Indonesia's Congress, Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, told a student delegation Wednesday that Sukarno would be brought to trial if he were shown to be connected with the group.

Nasution said Sukarno must explain the abortive coup and the economic decline and decadence of Indonesia.

Sukarno wept Wednesday at the gravesites of the six generals who were slain during the attempted coup, then went on to host a gay reception in his palace. He pulled the beards of diplomats and led army officers in song.

AGA Prexy Optimistic

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — John H. Wemberly, the new president of the American Gas Association, is "darn optimistic" about the future of the industry.

He bases his outlook, he said Wednesday, on the industry's marketing and research and development activities which are producing products "the public wants us to have."

Wemberly, president of Houston Natural Gas Corp., said the industry "will develop the appropriate hardware promptly, market it successfully and realize a profit."

Among the new products he listed were a marketable fuel cell, fully automated commercial kitchens and residential air conditioning units.

"Meantime, of course, he added in an interview, "industry scientists are continuing their pioneering in the area of gas reserves development (such things as oil shale recovery), gasification of coal and liquefied natural gas."

The new president succeeded R. J. Rutherford, president of the Worcester (Mass.) Gas Light Co. The election was held Wednesday during the final session of the AGA's 1966 convention.

Adventure Films Pay For Journey

BY BOB THOMAS
AP News - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What family hasn't dreamed of sailing its own ship to a life of adventure in far-off lands? The Artie Wayne family did, and we're dreaming stay-at-homes will be able to see the results on television soon.

Artie Wayne was a pop singer who enjoyed success in night clubs and recordings. His wife Vida was heiress to the Halliburton Oil fortune — adventurer Richard Halliburton was a relative. The Waynes had three teenage children and were firmly anchored to the California life.

Then Wayne suffered a heart attack and his career went into limbo during his long convalescence. He and his wife underwent a reassessment of their values, and came up with the idea of buying a boat to tour the world.

BARGAIN BUY

Their choice was the Navy's minesweeper 288, built during the war for $2,300,000, but available as surplus for the bargain price of $41,000. The Waynes poured $200,000 into converting it for family living. It was also made into a floating movie studio with the notion of producing a television series to help pay for the trip.

And so on Columbus Day of 1961, the Via Vida — roughly, way of life — left Los Angeles Harbor with ship and movie crews, plus a clutch of teenagers and a schoolteacher.

EXPOSED FILM

The Via Vida first headed for Japan, docking at islands seldom visited by non-Japanese. The log of the ship's voyage reads like anyone's dream of adventurous places: Formosa, Hong Kong, Thailand, Saigon, Manila, Zamboanga, Borneo, Singapore, Ceylon, Madagascar, Assumption Islands, Zanzibar, Kenya.

During all this time, the Waynes shot travelogues, amassing 400,000 feet of exposed film.

"But we found out there wasn't enough of a market for travelogues to pay for the ship's expenses," said Mrs. Wayne. "We had some negotiations with the television networks, but the fact is that they are more enthused about an idea if they originate it themselves."

VOYAGE DELAYED

The voyage was interrupted for a year while Mrs. Wayne recovered from an illness. Then the family, minus two children who went to college, returned to the Via Vida in Hong Kong and

"This time we decided to make adventure films, and the formula seems to work," said Mrs. Wayne. "We hire the best actors in every country — right now Artie's working in Manila. Twelve films have been shot so far, and they start on KTTV here this week. Later they'll be syndicated all over the country."

Laborites Call For Halt Of U.S. Bombings In Viet

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — British Laborites twice voted today for changes in Prime Minister Harold Wilson's foreign and defense policies calling against their leader's advice, for an end of American bombings as a first step toward Vietnamese peace.

The defeats came after Foreign Secretary George Brown outlined a six-point Viet Nam peace program, beginning with a parley at which the Viet Cong should have a seat.

The adverse resolutions appeared to reflect confused thinking by some of the 1,250 delegates who, during the same process of voting, overwhelmingly endorsed the broad conduct and aims of the Wilson government's foreign and defense policies.

ided Viet Nam. The two foreign ministers are co-chairmen of the Indo-Chinese peacemaking machinery.

Brown, who flies to the United States Friday, said he will urge peace proposals on Gromyko and American Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

REPEATS OFFER

As the foreign secretary spoke, scores of demonstrators demanding peace in Viet Nam paraded outside the convention hall.

In the debate itself speaker after speaker urged that the Labor government should dissociate this country from President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam. But this, Brown made clear, the government does not propose to do.

"I stand ready to convene this (Geneva) conference at any time," Brown said. "And I shall repeat my offer to Mr. Gromyko in New York next week and what is more, go on repeating the offer until he feels able to accept it."

Wet Spots Dot Nation

By The Associated Press

There were wet spots in scattered sections but generally clear and cool weather prevailed in the major part of the nation today.

More showers sprinkled areas from the lower Great Lakes to northern New England and in parts of Texas and the Southwest.

The Weather Bureau said the outlook for the next two days

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Oct. 6, 1966 7-A indicated clear and cool nights and mostly sunny and fairly pleasant days.

Frost appeared likely in a 14-state area from the Central Plains through the Ohio Valley and from the Great Plains to Tennessee and Arkansas.

Temperatures dropped to freezing early today in Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan and were in the 30s as far south as Tennessee and north Arkansas. The 40s and 50s were reported in many parts of the cool belt.

Solon Plans Sweet Revenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — In 13 years in Congress, Rep. Leo W. O'Brien received from constituents some letters he found unanswerable. He saved them.

When he retires soon, says the New York Democrat, "I'm going to send them to congressmen and ask what they're going to do."

Wants More Children

Mrs. Sandra Cwikielnik, 24, and her husband William, 36, as they conducted a press conference at St. Margaret's Hospital in Boston today, where she gave birth to seven premature children who died shortly after birth Saturday. Mrs. Cwikielnik, the first American woman known to have given birth to septuplets, said she "wants more children." She and her husband have not decided if she will again undergo fertility treatments. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Cool Front Moves Out

Texas weather calmed today and a potential threat from Hurricane Inez faded as that errant storm took a west-southwest tack in the Gulf of Mexico toward the Yucatan Peninsula. Behind a cool front which moved out of the state toward the south, 22 inch of rain fell at Brownsville before midnight. A few other points received traces of moisture.

Widely scattered showers hung on in Southwest Texas and the southern edge of South Central Texas early this morning. Skies cleared over the Panhandle and Northeast Texas. It was mostly cloudy in other sections.

Temperatures at dawn ranged from 44 degrees at Dalhart up to 64 at Galveston. These compared with top marks Wednesday varying from 50 at Alpine to 88 at Brownsville.

Forecasts indicated little change.

Wedding Party Battles Flames

MOUNT VERNON, Wash. (AP)—The Rev. Howard Spurling of Day Creek Free Methodist Church was performing a wedding at the church Wednesday when the community fire alarm sounded, presenting him with a problem.

The Rev. Mr. Spurling is a member of the Volunteer Fire Department at Day Creek, a community 15 miles east of here.

He quickly pronounced Carroll Jester of the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station and Nancy Lind of Sedro Woolley, Wash., man and wife.

Then the whole wedding party, including the bride and groom, went to fight the fire at the nearby Vic Goethal home. Despite their efforts, it burned down.

Weather Forecast
Rain is forecast Thursday night for the North Pacific coast. Showers will fall over the southern Plateau region and Florida. The upper Great Lakes region and the middle Mississippi Valley will be warmer, and New England cooler. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Congo Breaks With Portugal

KINSHASA, the Congo (AP)—The Congo has broken diplomatic relations with Portugal and ordered all 16 countries maintaining consulates outside Kinshasa to close them.

About 50,000 foreigners of many countries receive consular aid and protection from the 39 consulates maintained in Lubumbashi, Kisangani, Bukavu, Luluabourg and Matadi.

The government earlier charged that Portugal was letting its neighboring territory of Angola be used as a base for operations in support of a new bid for power by the exiled former premier of the Congo, Moise Tshombe.

Police Didn't Go For Story

DALLAS (AP)—An employe in the control tower at Love Field, Dallas' city airport, noted a man putting more than a normal amount of luggage into a pickup truck yesterday direct from the airplane unloading area.

The Fort Worth man, 33, told police who were called to the scene that the luggage belonged to a sister who had just arrived—all 12 pieces of it.

The police didn't buy his story. For one thing, some of the luggage had been gone into, and among other things taken were jewelry, a coat and $100,000 in negotiable checks.

Charges were not at once filed.

5,000 Homeless

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Mekong Delta flood waters have inundated parts of two additional provinces this week, damaging crops, tangling communications and making more than 5,000 persons homeless.

Religion Important To Most Americans

NEW YORK (AP)—Ninety-two per cent of Americans regard religion as important, with 70 per cent of the group considering it "very important" and 22 per cent thinking it "fairly important," a national sampling indicates.

The survey, taken for the Catholic Digest magazine by the Gallup public opinion research organization, also turned up these other findings:

Concern for religion is greatest in medium-sized cities, of 25,000 to 100,000 population, where 81 per cent of the people consider it "very important."

In large metropolitan cities, of more than a million population, only 65 per cent rate religion "very important." The figure ranges upward as the city-size declines.

About 78 per cent of those over 65 canvassed consider religion very important. Only 57 per cent of the 18-24 age group consider religion of prime importance.

More dark-skinned people, 80 per cent, rate religion very important than do whites, 69 per cent. More women, 83 per cent, also do so than men, 63 per cent.

In the poll, a cross-section of American adults was asked: "How important would you say religion is in your own life—very important, fairly important, or not very important?"

The findings indicated the percentage of the general population considering religion "very important," 70 per cent, was down five per cent from what it was in 1952.

However, the number considering religion "fairly important," was up slightly from 20 per cent 14 years ago, to 22 per cent now.

The percentage saying religion was "not very important" was up two per cent—to seven per cent.

Bonds To Foot Bill

DALLAS (AP)—"It looks like the whole show can be financed by revenue bonds," Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson said Wednesday with reference to footing the bill for a North Texas regional airport.

Chrysler Shuts Down Top Production Plant

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Chrysler Canada Ltd. shut down its main passenger car production plant at midnight despite an announcement of a tentative agreement between the striking United Auto Workers Union at the Chrysler stamping plant at Tinsburg, Ohio.

A spokesman for Chrysler Canada said the 8,400 Canadian workers being laid off will not be recalled until next Tuesday, after Canada's Thanksgiving Day holiday.

Chrysler Canada is supplied directly with sheet metal stampings—for doors, roofs and sides of passenger cars—from the Ohio plant.

The strike, which began last Thursday, has brought Chrysler production in both countries to a near halt, affecting some 40,000 workers. The shutdown does not involve some 5,000 other Chrysler Canada employees involved in truck and automotive parts production here.

Market Takes Another Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took another loss early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Stocks showed some hesitation in early trading but soon developed a gentle downturn. As losses widened, trading became somewhat faster.

In the morning, about a million more shares were traded than Wednesday when the day's total volume ran to 5.88 million shares.

Chrysler Shuts Down Top Production Plant

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Chrysler Canada Ltd. shut down its main passenger car production plant at midnight despite an announcement of a tentative agreement between the striking United Auto Workers Union at the Chrysler stamping plant at Tinsburg, Ohio.

A spokesman for Chrysler Canada said the 8,400 Canadian workers being laid off will not be recalled until next Tuesday, after Canada's Thanksgiving Day holiday.

Chrysler Canada is supplied directly with sheet metal stampings—for doors, roofs and sides of passenger cars—from the Ohio plant.

The strike, which began last Thursday, has brought Chrysler production in both countries to a near halt, affecting some 40,000 workers. The shutdown does not involve some 5,000 other Chrysler Canada employees involved in truck and automotive parts production here.

Clean-Up Crews Follow Rains

City street crews began a massive street and alley-clean up program today, following the recent rains. Dirt streets in the west end of town received the heaviest damage, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

Many alleys have been made quagmires by the continuing rains, Larry Crow, city manager, said, and a small maintenance crew, assigned to alley clean-up work, has broken down. This may hold up some alley work until a replacement can be obtained.

Paved streets will be cleaned up as well, Lillard said, but the heavily damaged dirt streets throughout the city will get first attention.

Two Thefts Are Reported

Officers today were checking two thefts reported Wednesday. Frank S. Sabatino Jr., 100 Lincoln, told police an auto stereo unit was taken from his car while it was parked at Park Hill School Tuesday night.

Mrs. Carolyn Tanis, 2406 Alabama, reported some $400 stolen from her purse while at Newsom's Grocery Store. She said she cashed two checks totaling $420.30 at the store, tucked the folded money into her purse, then began shopping. When she started to check out, the money was missing.

Conference Warfare Flames Across State

By The Associated Press

Conference warfare flames in half of the state's 96 districts this week as the Texas schoolboy football race rolls into its first big crucial round.

Rated teams are mostly engaged in district championship play and there is a strong chance of a big shakeup in all divisions.

San Angelo, No. 1 team in Class-AAAA, makes its start in search of a district title Friday night, meeting Midland.

McKinney, the top team of Class AAA, also gets going in conference battle, clashing with Bonham.

Sweeny, No. 1 in Class AA, isn't mixed in district competition but takes on Palacios in an interdistrict clash.

Forney, the kingpin of Class A, goes outside its division to take on Rockwall of Class AA—and here may be the best chance of a No. 1 team taking a tumble.

Rated teams of Class AAAA in the main face teams that could scramble their chances. Amarillo Tascosa, No. 2, plays old foe Amarillo High, and No. 3 Brazosport might be in for trouble against always tough Baytown.

Bridge City, which started as the No. 1 team of Class AAA and slipped up along the way, now is in the No. 2 spot and gets an acid test Friday against Sisbee in a conference game.

Dumas, the No. 3 outfit, again plays a Class AAAA team—Borger—and the Demons, who have been hurt severely by injuries, might be in for deep trouble. Borger's only loss was to mighty Tascosa.

But conference play all along the line is accentuated this week with 48 of the state's 96 districts at it hot and heavy. Class AAA is particularly active, with 14 of the 16 districts having the play-for-keeps games.

Defending champion Brownwood, which has lost only one game in 21—that to Class AAAA Abilene Cooper—makes its start toward a title when the Lions clash with once-nightly Breckenridge. Brownwood isn't expected to encounter great trouble.

Odessa Permian, the Class AAAA defending titlist, also moves into district play, meeting Abilene.

Plano, the Class AA champion, tackles Class AAA Terrell before starting its district championship bid.

Wills Point, the defending Class A champion that has fallen on losing ways, goes against Class AA Mount Vernon—also just prior to opening the district championship race.

FRAZIER THREAT

Lee's 'Big' Man Has Been Camp

What has Roger Camp meant to the running game of Midland Lee, Friday night opponent of the Big Spring Steers here?

Of the 297 yards net picked up by the Rebels this season, the big fullback has accounted for 225 personally in 43 efforts. His average gain amounts to 5.2 yards.

No one else in the Lee secondary had gained as many as 50 yards over the season.

Gregg Frazier, the Rebels' junior quarterback, has completed 37 of 78 passes for 291 yards, including one touchdown. Seven of his aeriels have been intercepted by the opposition.

His favorite target has been end Larry Molinare, who has caught 11 for gains totaling 128 yards. Jimmy Francis of the Rebs has gathered in seven passes for 53 paces.

Francis does the punting for the Lee gang. Fourteen of his boozers have gone for an average of 28.3 yards. Frazier leads the Rebs in scoring with ten points.

Lee has piled up 39 first downs to 35 for the opposition, gained 297 yards rushing to 378 for the foe and 291 passing to 403 for the enemy.

Yearlings Seek 4th Grid Win

Winners in three of four starts this season, the Big Spring Runnels ninth graders return to competition at 7:30 p.m. in the old stadium here today.

The Yearlings have beaten Sweetwater twice, 6-0 and 10-0, and turned back Snyder Lamar, 23-6. Their defeat came at the hands of San Angelo Lee, 34-6.

Though they've been scored on by only two opponents, they have outscored the opposition by a margin of only four points.

Eighth grade teams of the two schools square away here at 6 p.m. The Yearlings will be trying to hit the .500 mark in the won-and-lost column in the game.

They have beaten Sweetwater, 14-0, and lost to Snyder Lamar, 20-8, and Sweetwater, 28-22, in their assignments to date.

Edison is 1-2 for the season. The Crimson Tide is coached by Ace Amos.

Goliad's eighth grade team, still winless after three starts, visits San Angelo this evening for a 7 o'clock outing with Lake View Junior High.

Goliad's ninth grade Mavericks do not play until Saturday afternoon, at which time they oppose San Angelo Lee at 4 p.m. in the local stadium.

Josselin Named Cokes' Opponent

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — European welterweight champion Jean Josselin of Paris was named Wednesday as opponent for World Boxing Association champion Curtis Cokes in a title fight in Dallas Nov. 28.

The WBA ranks Josselin as No. 1 contender for the Dallas boxer's crown. The French fighter replaces Brian Curvis of Wales, the No. 4 contender, who injured his foot and had to withdraw from his title bout with Cokes scheduled for Nov. 7.

The 15-round affair will be held in Dallas Memorial Auditorium under sponsorship of the Dallas All Sports Association.

Polywogs Defeat A&M Freshmen

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Christian freshmen scored five touchdowns in the second half with quarterback Dan Carter throwing two scoring passes in a 35-12 football victory over Texas A&M frosh Wednesday night.

Trailing 6-0 at halftime after A&M fullback Bruce Kernph scored on a one-yard run, Carter passed nine yards to Jeff Kearney for one touchdown and 41 yards to Marty Whelan for another in the third quarter.

TCU added three touchdowns in the final period, including one on a short run by Bub Deerin-water.

Joe Hurley Lost To Tech Raiders

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Joe Hurley, who lettered as an end last year but saw limited service after being shifted to halfback this season, has been lost to the Texas Tech football team.

Coach J. T. King said Wednesday that Hurley, a senior injured a knee in practice and underwent surgery to repair it. King also said that sophomore Trent Jordan, offensive tackle, and junior Jackie Roze, center, will start against Texas Christian Saturday night in place of injured Stanley Edwards and Jerry Turner.

Mustangs Forfeit Brownfield Game

BROWNFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Use of a 19-year-old player has resulted in Andrews High School forfeiting its 23-14 victory over Brownfield Sept. 23.

Coach Doug Cox of Brownfield said Wednesday it was not discovered until later that Andrews violated a University Interscholastic League rule that bars a boy from playing football if he celebrated his 19th birthday prior to Sept. 1.

Late Guessers Go To Work In Series

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An over-eager baseball fan, probably a Dodger partisan, must wonder today if a careless act on his part might have played a part in the 5-2 defeat of the Los Angeles Dodgers by the Baltimore Orioles in the World Series opening game.

Here was the setting: The Orioles had blasted off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning on a walk to Russ Snyder and left field home run by the Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks. They added another in the second on a walk to Andy Etchebarren, who advanced to second on Dave McNally's sacrifice and scored on Snyder's long single to left.

But Jim Lefebvre opened the Dodger half of the second with a booming homer to left field. Wes Parker followed with a scorching drive that sliced first base and skidded deep into foul territory down the right field line.

A fan then reached out and grabbed for it. That made it an automatic double. It probably would have been a triple had it not been for the illegal interference.

It looked now as if the Dodgers were beginning to get at the Oriole starter, McNally, who promptly gave Jim Gilliam a base on balls.

John Roseboro lashed a sinking drive halfway between Snyder and Frank Robinson in right center. It looked like a sure double, but Snyder made a spectacular, one-handed diving catch.

caught the ball on the running track.

If Parker had been on third where he should have been if it hadn't been for the fan who wanted to grab a souvenir ball, he would have scored, and that would have made it 4-2, still a redeemable ball game. Maury Wills struck out to end the inning.

He went out, however, in the top of the third after issuing walks to Lou Johnson, Tommy Davis, and Lefebvre in succession.

Slakes Father's Thirst

A Vietnamese child gives a drink of water to his father, who sits on the ground with his hands tied behind his back and awaits interrogation as a Viet Cong suspect. The man was captured by units of the Korean Tiger Division probing South Viet Nam's rocky Phu Cat mountains on operation Men Ho (fierce tiger) last week. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Soviet Officials Grilled Corpsman

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Soviet border guards as he looked for shells along a shallow stream near the Caspian Sea.

"I walked down the beach, past what was the Russian border, but I didn't know it at that time," he said. "There was nothing to indicate it was the Russian border. No signs, no people and nobody ever told me it was the border."

The Peace Corpsman said he hopes to return to Iran after a few weeks rest.

There Is Always Another Hill For Weary Marines

NEAR THE DMZ, Viet Nam (AP) — For the weary U.S. Marine battalions inching their way across the roof of South Viet Nam, the next hill is always higher than the last, and there is always another hill. There is a bitter irony about the fighting that has developed in these remote, misty mountains on the border of South Viet Nam and the Communist North. The hill the Marines fought for and captured one day may be back in enemy hands the next. The Marines keep pushing on to the hill ahead.

MUSICAL CHAIRS When the Marines move off a peak, North Vietnamese troops crawl back on. This military musical chairs could continue forever unless the Marines hold all the hills they fight for. But there are nearly as many hills up here as there are Marines in Viet Nam. The Marines took to the hills in an extension of earlier strategy that envisaged the annihilation of the enemy in the fertile valleys running up from the South China Sea. North Vietnamese troops were moving down into these valleys from across the Demilitarized Zone. High ground fascinates Marine strategists. They saw it looming above the valleys and stretching in increasingly higher tiers across to Laos, and into North Viet Nam.

TOUGH GRIND With the enemy thrown from the valleys, the Marines took to the high ground. It has been a long, tough grind ever since. The 3rd Battalion, 4th Regiment attacked one ridgeline two weeks ago. The first hill, a "mere bump in the ground," according to Capt. J. J. Carroll of Miami Beach, Fla., proved a formidable obstacle of well-manned bunkers and spurring enemy machine guns.

HEAVY CASUALTIES Carroll's company suffered heavy casualties. Was every "little bump" in the region worth heavy Marine casualties? Marine strategists decided no. But they knew that at least two and possible three North Vietnamese divisions were scattered around the area. It was necessary to push across the high ground, even if it meant holding a peak for just one day before moving on. It was just as imperative to keep casualties down.

NO ONE KNOWS A score of B52 Stratoforts came over one night and laid waste a valley below Marine positions along a ridgeline. Dangerous-looking peaks were blasted by air and artillery in day-and-night-long barrages.

IN EVERY HILL THERE WERE ENEMY BUNKERS, scores of them, lining the mountain paths and dug into the peaks. As the artillery barrages increased there was less enemy resistance to the Marines. One battalion commander has a bottle of champagne on ice back at his base, ready to be flown out and be cracked on the peak of the last hill that they have to scale. No one knows when the champagne will flow. There are a lot of hills.

Brink's Bandit Dies In Cell BOSTON (AP) — On Jan. 17, 1950, Joseph F. McGinnis was at his liquor store, talking to a Boston police lieutenant.

Just then, on that mild and drizzly winter night, a band of disciplined men entered a three-story concrete garage on the waterfront. In 20 minutes, they hauled away $1,219,000 in cash. McGinnis was later identified by one of the gang as the mastermind of the Brink's robbery, then the biggest cash robbery in the country's history.

Ten years ago today, McGinnis and seven others were convicted of the robbery. Wednesday night, McGinnis was found dead in his cell at the Massachusetts State Prison in nearby Walpole, apparently of a heart attack. He was 63.

The bald, heavy-set McGinnis died without shedding light on what happened to the Brink's money. Only about $50,000 of the $1.2 million has been recovered. McGinnis and the others were found guilty and sentenced to life terms for the robbery.

DEAR ABBY

Hanky Panky
In The Firm

DEAR ABBY: I am an executive who admits he doesn't know all the answers. The wife of one of my employees visited me and asked me to discharge her husband. She claimed he was a good husband and father until he became involved with another employee here. She said because of this affair her husband has failed to provide adequate support for her and their children, and she was sure if he were discharged he would return to his family.

Abby, I pay this man a good salary, and I have no control over how he spends it. Should I involve myself in a marital crisis? Or do you think if a man does his job well, what he does on his own time is his own business?

PUZZLED-EXECUTIVE
DEAR PUZZLED: What a man does on his own time would ordinarily be his own business, but if there is hanky panky within your company, then it becomes your business. Call the man in and give him a chance to speak his piece and do what you can to straighten him out. I wouldn't discharge him without hearing his side of it.

DEAR ABBY: Where can I learn to strip-tease dance? My husband is crazy about that kind of dancing and I would like to learn how and surprise him. I would also like to learn a little belly dancing on the side.

JANET
DEAR JANET: Inquire at the local dancing school. But I do not recommend surprising him. Strip-teasing and belly dancing could be a bit difficult for a husband to stomach all at once.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with "D" for four years. We have dated no one else although we have kept our eyes clearly open. We definitely planned on a future together, but here is the problem: "D" says we can't get married until he pays his parents back for putting him through college, otherwise we would be getting married on his parents' money.

Abby, they are very well-to-do, and I am sure they don't expect "D" to pay them back. The whole thing is too ridiculous. "D" says it will take him at least two years to pay his parents back, but we should just continue waiting for each other. Should I wait, or look elsewhere? TIRED OF WAITING

DEAR TIRED: It's admirable of "D" to want to repay his parents, but if they are as well-to-do as you say they are, and do not expect it, I'd say "D" is giving you a two-year stall. Stalls are for horses and other four-legged animals. Say "Naaaaay!"

A LOVELIER YOU Masterpiece Colors Can Make You Glow

By MARY SUE MILLER

A lovely writes: I have fiery red hair and blushing-pink skin. I like my hair and other people seem to like it, too. But, oh, that skin! It consigns me to wearing conservative colors. I'm dying to have a purple outfit, but I'm afraid I'll look like an Op Art poster in it. I need help.

The answer: The best — the contour — purple is deep and blue as a blue plum. Wearing the color, redheads look the way other women dream of looking. Like a Titian masterpiece!

The shade plays up the hair and plays down any ruddy tones in the skin. Corrective cosmetics would aid the cause, of course, and permit the wearing of a greatly increased range of clothing colors as well. Even russets!

Correction begins with tinted under-foundation. These are quite new and were created to counteract problem skin tones. In tints of pale green or turquoise, the cosmetic drains away the brightest blush.

Application also makes possible a topping of sheer, natural powder base. The flattering shade to use in this instance is bisquit.

Add a glossy mauve lipstick, a hazy, but translucent mauve eye shadow; a whisk of charcoal mascara and brush-on brow.

Then stand back and take a look in a long mirror. You'll see a picture that out-Titans Titan!

COMPLEXION

Whatever your skin problems, to find a solution send for my booklet, "A Lovelier Complexion." Detailed advice contained includes the correct care for dry, oily, combination and normal skin types; proper application methods; treatments for blackheads, enlarged pores, circles, wrinkles, crepiness, etc. For your copy of "A Lovelier Complexion," write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost and handling.

Patriotism Encouraged By Study Club Guest

Patriotism was encouraged by Eddie Read who used "Americanism Day" as the theme of his talk Monday evening to members of the 1941 Study Club of Coahoma. The speaker, who attended the Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar at Baylor University in August, stressed the role that America should play in the world today, urging that everyone be alert to the dangers of communism.

The second speaker of the evening was Mrs. Robert Van Meter, a teacher in the Coahoma school, who is a native of Guatemala. She told of first impressions of Texas when she came to Laredo as a school girl and later when she attended college in Oklahoma. She observed that she felt more like a Texan and American now than anything else.

Mrs. Bill Easterling led the Pledge of Allegiance, and Mrs. Dwayne Clawson led the singing of "God Bless America."

Mrs. Bill Read presided at the meeting in the home of Mrs. Henry Beard where Mrs. Robert Eberidge, cohostess, assisted in serving refreshments to the 17 attending. New members introduced were Mrs. Grady Tindol and Mrs. O. J. Bohannon.

The next meeting will be Nov. 7 with Mrs. Wendell Shives and Mrs. John A. Westmoreland as hostesses.

Ticking Becomes High Fashion

Mattress ticking, that's what, if you can call it that! The new "ticking" on day bed mattresses of latex foam is full of surprises. It may be a beautiful paisley fabric in vibrant colors, or it may be a pattern of "Mod" flowers on pastel cotton, or cut velvet designs in jewel tones. Whatever it happens to be it's real tick-tock and up to the minute on this newly popular seating-sleeping article of furniture.

Quinlan Gives ABWA Talk

The Dale Carnegie training programs were discussed by Warren J. Quinlan, guest speaker, during the Tuesday evening meeting of the Scenic Chapter of the American Business Women's Association at Coker's Restaurant. Mrs. Tony Barron presided and introduced the speaker.

Quinlan told his audience that we earn a living rather than make it, and the thoughts that go into a person's mind make him either a pessimist or an optimist. He gave the definition of a pessimist as a person that sees only the difficulty in an opportunity. He noted that knowledge is not power unless it is applied. He advised the women to use their knowledge and skills and see themselves in the right esteem.

Mrs. D. H. Soles introduced the vocational speaker, Mrs. Herman Taylor of the Scenic Chapter, ABWA, who spoke on her work in the office of Jess Slaughter, Justice of the Peace.

Mrs. N. E. Dietz read letters from ABWA chapters urging the local group's support at the national convention Oct. 14-16 in Tulsa, Okla. Members agreed to support the San Antonio chapters in their bid for the national convention in 1968.

The group was reminded of the "Kid Show," sponsored by the chapter, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 8, in the municipal auditorium. Tickets may be obtained from local merchants. Also, Mrs. L. V. Miskel thanked the women for their work on the recent Hand of Friendship tea.

Tables were decorated in a black and gold Halloween theme, and place favors were miniature pumpkins filled with candy. The head table featured larger pumpkins to carry out the holiday motif.

Attending with the 24 members were two guests, Mrs. Taylor and Miss Dollie Decker.

U. S. Studies River Assault

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military leaders are considering a new sea-based campaign to deny the Viet Cong use of the river highways of South Viet Nam's Mekong Delta.

There has been no final decision but one could result from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's visit to Viet Nam next week.

Planning has been under way for some time.

The river campaign would go far beyond the small-boat patrolling of delta waterways which the U.S. Navy has long been conducting under "Operation Game Warden."

It would involve launching special assault units, probably U.S. Army infantry, from Navy barracks ships stationed off the mouths of the delta's principal rivers.

"We want to deny use of the rivers to the Viet Cong and we hope to spread out and control the river banks," said one high-ranking officer.

Working in secrecy, the U.S.

Murder Trial Moving Slow

KARNES CITY (AP)—Selection of jurors in the Johnny Rudy Enriquez murder trial continued Thursday with seven still to be named and each side retaining less than half its' peremptory challenges.

Charged with murder in five South Texas killings, Enriquez is on trial in the April 25 shooting of a pretty Beeville housewife.

The state and defense accepted three jurors Wednesday. Two were selected the day before.

Dist. Judge John May directed the sheriff to start compiling a list of 100 new veniremen. He said the 55 left on the original 144-member panel were "insufficient for trial of the case."

Both sides had used eight of the 15 peremptory challenges allowed them by the end of Wednesday's session.

World Series fever touched the jury and venire. They asked if they could see the baseball game on television and Judge May granted the request. The prospective jurors and those already seated watched in separate rooms.

Enriquez is being tried on a charge of killing Kay Potts, 21, the wife of a naval officer. She was shot in the head and thrown from a fast-moving car near Helena.

Indictments also accused him in the shooting deaths of Highway Patrolman Darwin Hogg; Enriquez' girl friend, Victoria Perez, 21; her brother, Frederico, 24, and her father, Francisco, 65. All the slayings occurred April 25.

Girl Panda Rejects Red

MOSCOW (AP)—Chi-Chi, the London Zoo's girl panda, rejected the advances of the Moscow Zoo's boy panda, An-An, today in an unsuccessful 25-minute effort to perpetuate the panda species.

A Moscow police lieutenant told reporters, who were kept away from the pandas' nuptial chamber, that Chi-Chi "was being awkward. She bit at him."

But another witness said Chi-Chi seemed less hostile at this meeting than she was last April when the first attempt was made to mate the pandas. Another attempt is expected to be made Friday. It could be the last.

A cold rain dampened the romance today and an autumn wind blew through the Moscow Zoo.

One witness said every time An-An advanced toward Chi-Chi, she bit at him, tried to cuff him and then ran away.

Chi-Chi was brought from London in March to get to know and—love An-An, who lives at the Moscow Zoo. They are the only giant pandas in the Western world and their romance, if it has a happy ending, could produce the first baby giant panda born in captivity.

Convicted Slayer Gains Probation

DALLAS (AP)—Clifford Mox, 17, convicted of murder without malice in the 1965 shooting of Lloyd Watson, 18, at an Irving drive-in restaurant, was placed on probation for five years Wednesday.

The slaying occurred during an argument over a girl both youths had dated.

Guarantees For Loans Expiring

World War II veterans have less than one year left to take advantage of GI guaranteed or insured loans, according to A. W. Stratton, chief benefits director of the Veterans Administration.

July 25, 1967, is the deadline for World War II veterans' eligibility, he said.

Eligibility for World War II veterans is determined by a formula which adds 10 years to the date of their last discharge plus one year for each 90 days of service.

Thus eligibility for many has already expired, but the July 25, 1967 date is the cutoff for all other World War II veterans.

Veterans who were discharged for a service-connected disability and the widows of such veterans will be eligible up to the July 25, 1967 deadline.

For veterans of the Korean conflict the formula for determining GI loan eligibility is the same as for veterans of World War II. However, the Korean conflict entitlement did not begin to expire until Jan. 31, 1965, and the final deadline is Jan. 31, 1975.

MEDICAL MYSTERY

Sudden Infant Deaths Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors are launching an intensive probe of the mysterious, nameless disease that kills thousands of apparently healthy babies each year.

The year-long project by a six-physician research team here is aimed at what is known as the "sudden infant death syndrome."

The condition has no medical name, but the Public Health Service rates it as one of the top killers of infants with between 10,000 and 20,000 victims annually.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A former manager of the Dallas, Tex., Symphony Orchestra, Alan Watrous, was named manager of the Seattle Symphony Wednesday. He currently is a consultant to the American Symphony Orchestra League.

ly in the United States and thousands more in other countries.

Dr. James R. Patrick, 35, chief pathologist at the District of Columbia Children's Hospital, heads the research team. He said he believes a combination of factors may make certain infants more susceptible than others to the disease.

Patrick's team will be looking, among other things, for any special viruses or combination of viruses that might prove fatal to infants.

Patrick said his team will start actual research work when special equipment arrives in a few weeks. The project is being conducted under a $165,000 contract with the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, part of the National Institutes of Health.

FACTS KNOWN
The NIH said previous research, some of which it sponsored, has failed to turn up a definite cause of the sudden infant deaths.

But these facts are known about the condition:
It is most prevalent in infants between two and four months of age, but may strike at any time from birth until two years.

It does not appear to be hereditary, seldom occurring in the same family twice.

Most victims have little or no history of previous serious illness.

Nothing Wrong With This Elk

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — A bull elk forced his way into a Flagstaff wildlife refuge, giving up the forests and plains for life behind a chain link fence.

The elk, a 1,200 pounder, had slammed himself up against the fence for several days before breaking in, according to Ted Babbit, a member of the Buffalo Park Wildlife Committee.

What seemed to be wrong with the animal?

Nothing, Babbit said. "He broke in the day before elk season opened."

Ron English projected the slide presentation which appeals to every working person to have a fair share in supporting the more than a dozen welfare, character building and youth organizations dependent upon the United Fund for carrying on their work. An hour's pay per month was suggested as a fair basis for the average individual, and perhaps one per cent of annual salary for those with executive or administrative positions.

A beginners square dance class for adults will get under way at 8 p.m. today at the YMCA with Jo and Ruth Connally as the instructors.

The class will continue over a 15-week period. A number who have had previous instruction as well as beginners have indicated interest in the class. Information may be had by calling the YMCA, or by coming to the first meeting in the all purpose room this evening.

Police Jail 25 Rioters

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Twenty-five persons were arrested and two policemen slightly injured Wednesday night in the fourth consecutive night of disorders outside a house recently occupied by a Negro family in an all-white section of North Philadelphia.

Once again, adults and screaming teenagers tossed bottles, set off firecrackers and taunted blue-helmeted policemen, as they demonstrated against Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wright and their three children who moved into the neighborhood Sunday.

At one point, about a block and a half from the Wright home in 2474 Coral St., chanting youths burned an effigy labeled "nigger."

"I'm staying," said Mrs. Wright, 20.

"I decided to move because I didn't have any hot water or heat for three months," The Wrights lived in another section of North Philadelphia.

SURE SIGN OF PROSPERITY Phony Money Boom Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there's one thing the Treasury Department dislikes, it's competition in one of its major endeavors — making money.

Despite the department's phenomenal success over 101 years in eliminating competition, however, counterfeiting reached record levels during the year which ended June 30 and the heightened pace is continuing.

But the Secret Service, which was created in 1865 to combat widespread counterfeiting, also had some bad news for the makers of phony money. It reported record seizures and arrests for counterfeiting during its last fiscal year.

FRESSES ROLL

James J. Rowley, the Secret Service director, said the major factor in the bogus money boom is the improvement in photography and printing which has made it easier and quicker to produce counterfeiters.

And the service added that counterfeiters, in general, are turning out more phony bills per capita than they once did. It's simply a matter of running the presses longer.

"There's no indication that this criminal activity will lessen in the coming year," Rowley said. He added that the rise in counterfeiting generally follows the rise in the society's affluence and the increase in the amount of money in circulation.

TIPSTERS HELP

At last count on Aug. 31, there was $38.6 billion in paper money in circulation.

Despite improvements in the quality of counterfeiters, they still fall short of Treasury standards — the parchment, for example, on which real money is printed has never been duplicated by counterfeiters.

The Secret Service dislikes talking publicly about the techniques it uses to catch counterfeiters, but tipsters and undercover agents play an effective part in enforcement.

Among the modern tools the Treasury uses are its laboratories where it can examine the minute details of paper, inks — also not duplicated by counterfeiters — and other characteristics peculiar to bogus bills.

Fort Worth Picket Lines Withdrawn

FORT WORTH (AP) — An agreement late Wednesday ended a three-day strike at Menasco Manufacturing Co., which produces rotor assemblies for Bell Helicopters widely used in Viet Nam.

The company also manufactures landing gears for other aircraft.

Picket lines were withdrawn shortly after 650 workers voted 249-41 to go back to work. Workers were to return to their jobs at 7 a.m. today.

Connally To Speak

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. John Connally was here today to address the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas. About 1,500 delegates were expected at its two-day meeting.

Nicked In Viet

Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, commander of U.S. Marines in Viet Nam, wears a big grin and a small scratch between his right eye and ear in Saigon today. He was struck by a tiny piece of metal when his helicopter was struck by a bullet while he was on an inspection trip near the demilitarized zone. It "didn't even need" a bandage, said an aide. ## 'Red Guards' Change Cities

TOKYO (AP) — The great cities of China and some of the lesser ones are being transformed outwardly by the iconoclastic "Red Guards." Under communism the cities already have lost much of their old flavor.

Peking, Shanghai, Canton — these were cities whose names conjured up images of gaiety and international intrigue, and revolutionary plotting.

Since 1949, Mao Tse-tung has altered their look and their feel, knocking down old walls, erecting ugly, functional buildings, cleaning them up to within an inch of their former bourgeois lives.

Time was when the Chinese in their long, blue gowns rolled silently through the narrow, muddy hutongs and back lanes of Peking, reclining luxuriously in rickshaws pulled by half-naked coolies. The rickshaws and the coolies are gone, replaced by the bicycle, an occasional automobile, tricycle, pedicab and shank's mare.

ALL BUSTLE

Peking, capital of the world's most populous nation, is a political city. Its Mao-era buildings are new but dull. Apartment houses and stodge government structures clash with the architecture of the ancient palaces and the secluded, tile-roofed houses of the past.

Bursting at the seams — the city's population has soared from two million before 1949 to nearly six million today. Peking is all bustle in the daytime, particularly these days as squads of Red Guards roam far and wide, changing street signs, pasting up millions of portraits of Mao, festooning the buildings with red-bannered slogans.

KEPT INTACT

Until this year, the year of Mao's revolutionary purges, Peking's temples and old palaces were kept intact, painted and refurbished to impress foreign visitors with communism's respect for religion and ancient culture.

All this is changing under the adolescent blows of the Red Guards who have pillaged Buddhist, Taoist and Catholic centers, desecrated Buddhist treasures, defiled foreign cemeteries.

If Peking has changed, Shanghai, once the great trade and money mart of the mainland, is almost unrecognizable. The tall buildings erected by the "imperialist" Chinese and Japanese — the Cathay Hotel, the Broadway mansions, the old race track — still stand, identified by ingenious guides as Mao's creations. But they have been turned into guest houses, party and labor headquarters.

SHOCK GHOSTS

Though the city has burgeoned in size to more than eight million people, making it bigger than ever, it wears a mood of sanitary Marxism, one that would shock the ghosts of the Chinatown hostesses, the gold-toothed millionaires, the playboy foreigners of yesteryear.

In the shopping districts there are plenty of goods in the department stores but few buyers, a handful of tame "state capitalists" for foreign newsmen to interview, and many obscure foreign memorials which testify to the time when Shanghai was an international city.

BLACK STANDARD

The standard color of the inhabitants of Canton, to the south, remains black rather than blue, an inheritance not yet abolished. Smaller, more inquisitive and peppery, Canton and the Cantonese once were famed for rebellion and plotting. Travelers who stop over there en route to Peking and Shanghai now report it is dead dull, sound asleep by 9 p.m.

Thousands of its river boat dwellers have been moved from the canals and riverways to more modern housing ashore. But they return — dressed in their wide straw hats, squatting on the deck — to their floating cities by day.

CHEAPER

Three- and four-story apartment houses have sprung up to care for the population spread, a serious one there as elsewhere. Once a city of smells, many of them malodorous, Canton now is neat and sanitary but without the appeal of Peking or Shanghai.

Though boredom and Canton could be used interchangeably, it has virtues it once lacked: much of the dirt has been cleared away, the squalor and poverty of the past have been alleviated, and living — the new apartments cost 18 per cent of a worker's income — is cheaper.

Texans Press Industry Hunt

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The East Texas Chamber of Commerce's search for new industry pressed on today in the Eastern part of the country.

The group of 75 businessmen played hosts Wednesday to about 100 business executives in this western Pennsylvania industrial city.

"We are not here to try to steal your industries," C. Truett Smith, chairman of the chamber's industrial committee, told the executives.

"We know that we could not, even if we should try, but we also know that many firms throughout the North and East are expanding into the Southwest."

Smith said the purpose of the weeklong tour was to "invite those industries that are planning such expansions to consider our region."

The tour ends Friday in New York.

MRS. F. W. PICKING

European Tour Duty Convinces New Cook

By JO ANN PHINIZY

"I learned to cook when we were stationed in Munich," said Mrs. F. W. Picking, 48-B Chanute. "Our German cook happened to be in sight when I took an interest in food, and she was the one who taught me the whys and wherefores."

In the opinion of Mrs. Picking, not being able to cook comes as something of a surprise. It seems that one day you're in the kitchen just in time for meals; the next day you are married and faced with the question of "What's for supper?"

As she explained, "Back home in Illinois, my sister did the cooking and I cleaned house. Anyway, somehow I never took the time to go beyond opening cans and thawing frozen food."

In Germany all that changed. Mrs. Picking found time to start learning, and her teacher convinced her that good food is the center of almost any occasion.

"I still use many of the techniques she taught me and often adapt the German version to American cooking," she said.

PRIME ROAST

One of the German methods Mrs. Picking uses is in cooking a four-pound prime rib roast. In a shallow pan, the meat is put into a 375 degree pre-heated oven. It is cooked at that temperature for one hour. The heat is turned off and the roast remains in the closed oven for an additional hour.

"It's dark brown and crusty on the outside, and medium rare on the inside," Mrs. Picking said.

Holiday cooking calls for another Old Country method. Season a turkey with salt, pepper and rub with butter; stuff with a bread dressing flavored with sage and chopped celery. Wrap the bird in cheese cloth and cook it in a shallow, open pan.

"Then you spend an awful lot of time with a basting spoon," Mrs. Picking said. "But it's worth it; the turkey is so perfect you can almost hear bugs and see flaming swords."

Another dish Mrs. Picking often cooks is the German version of onion soup.

"Their's is thicker than ours and absolutely stringy with grated cheese. I usually serve it at buffet luncheons," Mrs. Picking said.

PROGRESS MADE

Mrs. Picking maintains that even with the expert tutelage of the Germans, she is still not an expert cook. She says, however, that progress has been noted.

She now considers the kitchen as an interesting part of the house and she recalls the comments of a family friend who had after a dinner guest, before and after her cooking classes. "Perhaps he wasn't ecstatic," she said, "but he did say that my pork chops were no longer wall plaques."

Capt. and Mrs. Picking and their daughters, Jo Lynn and Pandora spend their together time horseback riding or golfing.

Mrs. Picking also allows time to be an officer for the Officers Wives Club and to helping student officers' wives adjust to military life. In the meantime, she is attending French, U. S. history and speech classes at Howard County Junior College.

In selecting her recipes, Mrs. Picking chose several family favorites.

LOBSTER NEWBURG

2 cups diced boiled lobster meat
1/4 cup sherry
1/4 cup melted butter
1 tsp. flour
1 1/4 cups thin cream
2 egg yolks, beaten
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. lemon juice

Heat lobster thoroughly with the sherry and three tablespoons of the butter, being careful not to brown the butter. In another saucepan, combine remaining butter with the flour, then add the cream.

Place over direct heat, and stir constantly until the sauce boils. Remove from heat, stir into the beaten egg yolks, then return to the saucepan, cooking over low heat with constant stirring for about two minutes or until thickened. Add the heated lobster and seasonings and mix well, but do not heat again. Serve immediately with mixed white and wild rice. Serves five.

COCONUT CAKE WITH CREAM FILLING

1 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 cups cake flour
4 eggs, separated
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup milk
3 tbsps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt

Cream butter and sugar, add beaten egg yolks. Alternately add flour and milk until consumed. Fold in stiffly-beaten egg whites. Bake in layer pans in moderate oven 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes.

CREAM FILLING

1/4 cup granulated sugar
1 tbsps. cornstarch
1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup milk
4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 1/2 tbsps. vanilla
1 cup chopped pecan nuts

Combine sugar, cornstarch and milk in top of double boiler. Bring to a boil for one minute. Pour little at a time over beaten egg yolks and cook two minutes. Add vanilla and nuts. Let cool.

Slice each layer of cake in half making four layers. Place cream filling between each layer. Ice with fluffy icing, and cover with grated coconut.

WELSH RABBIT

1 tbsps. butter
1 lb. aged Cheddar cheese, grated (4 cups)
1/2 cup beer or ale
1 tsp. salt
2 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 tsp. Tabasco
1 tsp. paprika

In double boiler over hot (not boiling) water, melt butter and cheese. As cheese begins to melt, gradually stir in beer or ale. Cook only until smooth and hot. Stir in seasonings and serve at once from a casserole kept hot on a candlelit warming stand. Serve on toast points.

October is Cheese Festival month, and an excellent way to enjoy cheese is in a luscious Welsh Rabbit—one of the oldest and most popular of all cheese dishes.

CHEESE DISH After game special

Guests Enjoy Welsh Rabbit

This is an appetizing, satisfying concoction that doesn't take too long to prepare if you're entertaining guests after a Friday night or Saturday afternoon ball game. Next to a good Cheddar, beer or ale is the prime ingredient in the Rabbit; the brew enhances the delectable cheese flavor with subtlety, and gives the mixture its light, smooth consistency.

Serve this delicious Welsh Rabbit over toast, accompanied by a tossed green salad and

CELEBRITY RECIPES

Donna Reed Reveals Bundt Cake Secret

Donna Reed began winning prizes when she was a girl on an Iowa farm and was awarded honors at the county fair for her baking. She still likes to bake, as we shall see.

In the meantime, she has gone on to the highest peaks of entertainment success in both movies and television, winning an Oscar for the film role in "From Here to Eternity," and, most recently, a Golden Apple award for being the most cooperative of actresses.

Donna Reed is really Mrs. Tony Owen and the mother of four hungry children, for whom she loves to cook all sorts of good things. One of the family favorites is Bundt Cake which can be prepared quickly and with little fuss by using packaged mixes.

This is an extremely simple cake to make and turns out very light and moist. A Bundt Cake pan really should be used, though the sky will not fall if it's not. A Bundt pan is simply a heavy stainless steel no-stick pan, fluted around the edges and with a hole in the middle, like an angelfood cake pan.

DONNA REED'S BUNDT CAKE

Mix a package of lemon cake mix and one large package of lemon pudding. Add 1/4 cup of oil, four eggs and one cup of water. Beat at high speed for four minutes.

Butter and flour the cake pan, even though it is no-stick, to insure a perfect mold, and bake at 325-degrees for about 50 minutes.

Decorate with dripped icing or powdered sugar, or most any kind of fruit — whatever your imagination conjures up.

Bundt Cake is a Donna Reed is the kind of cake you'll enjoy for dessert after a not-to-heavy meal, or with a glass of milk most any time at all. The pudding gives it an extra-special tang and moistness that sets it apart from other packaged preparations and makes it most worthy of an honored place in your recipe files.

Be Original In Making Sandwiches

Much has been written about the nutritional needs of youngsters, especially as they apply to the school lunch which must be carried from home. However, little has been said about the feeling of pleasure that an attractive, nutritious lunch may bring. One thing for sure, the old "paper bag" type lunch with its dry sandwich didn't provide much of a lift to the spirit of the child when opened at noon.

Today with such modern products as the handy plastic food wrap which keeps the sandwiches fresh, the pickles leak-proof, and the cookies snug in their wrapping, the lunch can't help but give pleasure to the young eater. Here with the menu for a young girl's lunch are two additional menus.

LUNCH I: cream of vegetable soup, corn chips, creamed cheese on date nut bread, fresh pear, cookies, milk.

LUNCH II: peach cottage cheese salad, potato sticks, pinwheel peanut butter sandwich, brownie, milk.

LUNCH III: tomato soup, chopped egg—olive sandwich on sesame roll, celery sticks, cup cake, milk.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

A souffle baked in a pan of hot water in a slow oven usually holds up longer (when it is brought to the table) than one that is baked without the hot water bath at a higher temperature.

Add paprika to a salmon loaf for extra color. Good combination: shrimp and crab in a cream sauce served on toast or rice or in pattie shells.

True Newburg sauce is made without any thickening other than egg yolks.

Add diced cooked shrimp to the filling for deviled eggs and serve as a first course. Garnish with watercress and pimiento.

Crumble crisply cooked bacon and add to buttered noodles to be served with veal or chicken. Interesting combination: cooked buttered snap beans sprinkled with flaked coconut.

A sweet-and-sour sauce made with butter, lemon juice and sugar gives zest to cooked carrots and green beans.

Peel and parboil potatoes before adding them to the pan in which meat is roasting. Baste the potatoes with the fat in the pan and turn them occasionally to keep them from sticking and to brown them evenly. Toward the end of the cooking time, you may dust the spuds with paprika.

Recipes sometimes call for anchovy paste. To make such a paste to spread on toast, you can mix powdered anchovy filets with melted butter and a tiny pinch of ground nutmeg or mace.

If you like to use Parmesan cheese in your cooking, you'll find it is at its best when it is freshly grated. Small rotary type cheese graters are widely available and inexpensive; if you buy the Parmesan in a piece, you can use this handy little kitchen utensil to grate the cheese as you need it.

Pork Loin Has Many Variations

Autumn is the season for pork. Some estimates indicate as much as 10 per cent more pork than last year.

One way to take advantage of this increase is to buy a half pork loin and have your meat man cut off a few pork chops for you. Here's another timely idea from the American Meat Institute for getting more fresh cooked meals from a pork loin roast: Select a rib half of pork loin and have your meat man saw through the ribs high enough to leave an inch-thick layer of meat on the backbones. Ask him to chop these meaty backbones into serving-size pieces. For meal number one, cook these country-style backbones as you would spareribs — barbecued or with sauerkraut.

Now you can plan on a pork chop and gravy dinner. Cut enough chops for another meal from the remaining piece by slicing between the ribs. You'll find this is as easy as slicing bread now that the backbones have been removed.

You still have a piece left to cook as a one-meal pork roast. Sprinkle roast with salt and pepper. Place fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Roast in a slow oven (325 F.) until meat thermometer registers an internal temperature of 170 F., the new lower temperatures recommended for pork loin roasts. A three to four pound end roast will take approximately 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 hours to bake.

Tea Beverage

You can use loose tea, tea bags or instant tea for an iced beverage; so choose the kind that's handy.

FOOTBALL CHEER

Suggestions Given To Aid Pre-Game Parties

When serving bottled soda to a crowd of teenagers, the cardinal rule is to have enough.

A minimum supply for a record hop would be three bottles per person. For most teen groups, you'll need lots of colas and lemon-lime and a smaller selection of other fruit flavors, ginger ale and root beer.

To glamorize a bottle of soda, turn it into mock champagne. Wrap a square of aluminum foil smoothly over the top, conforming to the bottle's shape. Around the neck, wrap a piece of bright red sticky tape and cross it at one side.

SANDWICHES FOR A CROWD When you're making sandwiches for a big crowd, a few shortcuts can help speed things along.

Here are some suggestions: Let butter or margarine soften at room temperature before you begin so it will spread easily and quickly. Whipped margarine or butter is also easy to spread and is lower in cost and in calories.

Make just one kind of sandwich at a time to speed production, and line up the bread slices in sandwich pairs. Butter all slices first, then add filling (about a quarter cup full). Cover with top slices and cut.

To save time when you have a lot of sandwiches to wrap, arrange them in layers on a tray. Put foil, waxed paper or plastic film between layers.

Serve Company Surprise Dish

A delightful way to serve grapefruit, whether you are having a few guests or a large group.

GRAPEFRUIT ON THE HALF SHELL Grapefruit. Clove honey. Slivered toasted blanched almonds.

Use a half grapefruit for each serving. With a small sharp knife, cut away sections from dividing membranes. If grapefruit is seedless, use a kitchen scissors to snip out center membrane; if grapefruit has seeds, use a small sharp knife to cut out center in plug shape. Spoon honey into center; chill. Just before serving, sprinkle almonds over center.

Serve Lamb As Supper Encore

Slices of roast veal or lamb may be served as an encore if heated in the oven (350 degrees F.) with seasoned sour cream. Add celery or garlic salt, Worcestershire sauce or crumbled blue cheese to the cream and spread over the meat.

Serve in just this way when reheated (from 20 to 30 minutes), or serve on toast, English muffins, a bed of rice or noodles. Garnish with watercress, parsley, celery tops and spiced crabapples or spiced prunes.

MACARONI, CHEESE Great family favorite

Speedy Supper Helps Study Time Blues

Recent surveys prove that macaroni and cheese rate high on the popularity poll with youngsters. One little lad, who said it was his favorite, when asked his second choice, replied without hesitation, "More macaroni and cheese!"

Speedy supper features macaroni and cheese dinner fortified with luncheon meat and vegetables and rounded out with salad and dessert in one-canned fruit on lettuce with creamy French dressing. A complete meal in itself from the shelf, it's a dandy line-up that meets all considerations of palate appeal, attractive appearance and quick, easy preparation—to say nothing of the plain, ordinary satisfaction it provides.

SPEEDY SUPPER

1 pkg. macaroni and cheese

Pound Cake Mix Has Tawny Tinge

Pound cake mix has a tawny tinge and interesting flavor when it's made up this way.

TEA CAKE

1 pkg. (1 lb., 1 oz.) pound cake mix
1 tsp. instant tea
1 tsp. grated lemon rind

Make up and bake the cake mix according to package directions, adding the instant tea and lemon rind to the liquid.

A Devotional For The Day

Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much. (Luke 7:47)

PRAYER: O God, I thank Thee that "Thou hast shown me my sin and shown me my Savior," and led me to accept Thy forgiveness. Prompt me this day to show my gratitude in thought, word, and deed. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Trimming Appropriations

The Senate, under urging from President Johnson, has cut back the anti-poverty funds by $750 million to the President's requested $1.75 billion. There is good reason to believe that about $400 million will be cut off the President's foreign aid request. But on the other hand, when the foreign investors bill was trotted out, senators tacked on enough amendments to add $600,000.

So while the actual cut and the potential cut are encouraging, the latter case just goes to show that crises or no crises, everyone wants his own pet project to be taken care of.

One wonders what ever happened to the good old days when the President almost never got what he asked, and was freely accused of asking more than he wanted in order to get what he thought he needed. Now the presidential request seems to have become the springboard to greater appropriations.

It still is to be hoped that under the pressures of a war and under the specter of inflation, congress will somehow discipline itself to cut down expenditures. Perhaps a tax increase may be necessary to head inflation, but first of all, reduced spending would help.

Just As Well

The Texas Court of Criminal appeals has reversed and remanded the conviction of Jack Ruby as killer of Lee Oswald, accused as the assassin of President Kennedy.

While not versed in the law, which certainly is the determining factor, we would venture that the decision is just as well. A subsequent trial at some other place other than Dallas may achieve similar results, or it may not, but whatever the verdict, it will not be suspect.

Dallas took a lot of tarring because it was the spot where President Kennedy was assassinated, and while we do not share the contention that consciously or unconsciously Dallas was trying to make amends by dealing forthrightly with Jack Ruby, there are those who always would claim this was the case.

With the elapse of time and change of location, perhaps the trial may proceed more dispassionately and certainly with substantially less publicity. Yet, this will not remove all the unique aspects of the case, including a national television audience to the murder of the accused assassin. The challenge here is to establish that justice can be made even in the face of such wide publicity.

A War Live And In Color

WASHINGTON—It has just been revealed at a radio and TV newscasters conference in Chicago that, thanks to communications satellites, we would soon be able to see live television coverage of the Viet Nam War. This is probably one of the great breakthroughs in TV. No longer will we have to wait one or two days to see filmed reports of what has taken place out there. Soon we can sit back in our armchairs and relax and watch a play-by-play of the war as it's happening!

"GOOD EVENING, ladies and gentlemen. The Consolidated Broadcasting Company is proud to present live and in color another great day in the Viet Nam war. Our reporters are standing by in strategic spots all over the country to bring you the on-the-spot fighting as it takes place. But before we go to the battlefield, let's talk about real beer flavor . . .

"Well, we're back in Viet Nam and Starkey Van Heusen is wading through the rice paddies of the Mekong Delta. Take it away, Starkey."

"THANKS, JACK. I'm with the 234th Lowland Brigade, and in a few minutes we're going to attack that village over there. It's believed to contain a company of Viet Cong, and our boys are anxious to clean them out. We should be treated to some pretty good fighting in the next few minutes. There they go. As you can see they're moving up now with their flame throwers and machine guns. Let's ask this sergeant here how he sees the results. Sarge, would you like to make a comment on the attack?"

"Blankety blank, blank-blank and blank."

"SORRY ABOUT that, folks, but that's one of the hazards of broad-

Billy Graham

Atheism seems to be on the increase in our land. Many of our college students announce to their believing parents that they find no evidence of God. Is this just a stage in their development, or are these young people really atheists?

F.B.L.

They are probably temporary agnostics. Having never discovered God for themselves, they just don't know. The other day I read about a Russian girl who in an examination for a government position was asked: "What is the inscription on the Sarmian wall?" She guessed that it might be, "Religion is the opiate of the people." But, not being sure, she walked the seven miles from Leningrad to the Sarmian wall to see if she was right. Tremblingly she looked at the inscription on the wall, and she found the same words she had written. "Religion is the opiate of the people." Hee hee and said, "Thank God."

Belief in God is deep in our subconscious, and even years of effort cannot erase it from our hearts and minds. God appears to us in the great crises of life. This was evident in the saying which came out of World War II. "There are no atheists in foxholes." But, to me, God is not just someone we call on in an emergency. He is real to us in the serene, uncluttered moments of life. He is someone we know, not by hearsay, but by daily association.

Peace Talks Fail To Produce

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a brief ABC on the talk about how to get talks started about peace in Viet Nam. So far it has produced nothing.

Still, the world tangles every time one side or the other seems to yield a bit or uses one word instead of another.

Each side has two sides in this war: The United States and its ally, South Viet Nam; North Viet Nam and its agents, the Viet Cong guerrillas, who have an organization, or mouthpiece, called the National Liberation Front.

ON MARCH 22, 1965, the NLF declared all negotiations useless unless it had a "decisive" vote. The word "decisive" got a lot of attention later.

Then on April 8, 1965, North Viet Nam laid down four conditions for peace. It didn't say they had to be met before peace talks began. But it didn't say they didn't. That's caused wondering ever since.

One of the points said the South Vietnamese would have to settle their problems "in accordance with the programs" of the NLF. It didn't say the NLF would have to be the "decisive" voice, but it certainly seemed to imply that.

From then till now North Viet Nam and the NLF haven't budged an inch. Any yielding after that seemed to be done by the United States.

AT FIRST this country, through Secretary of State Dean Rusk, appeared to brush aside the role of the NLF.

He said the United States was willing to hold discussions with the NLF, but it couldn't be a primary part in the negotiations.

North Viet Nam said the NLF should be a "decisive" voice in speaking for South Viet Nam. Was this a little softening in North Viet Nam's position?

Hardly, if anyone kept a record of all this chatter on both sides for he would have remembered the NLF back on March 22, 1965, said all negotiations would be useless unless the NLF had a "decisive" say.

And that's where it stands right now, so far as the public knows.

Honey, We're Married Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that young brides get tired of hearing:

"I made a list of the wedding presents for you, dear. You got 12 electric toasters, 18 silver trays, 7 sugar and creamer sets, 29 dish towels, 3 $10 gift certificates, $18.27 in cash — and a rabbit's foot."

"After all, we've been married a full two weeks. Why shouldn't I spend a night out with the fellows? You don't expect me to be a hermit, do you?"

"Maybe it would be better if we took nothing for granted and started at the very beginning.

Well, then, cooking consists of the application of heat to raw food material to help make it more tender, tasty and easily digestible. If you are sure you comprehend that, we can go on to the next step."

"YES, IT'S a darling apartment, Jill. You and Jack were lucky to find it. But I'm all out of breath from climbing so many stairs. And aren't the rooms a bit on the small side?"

"Of course, I expect you to get up and fix me breakfast every morning, honey. My mother has done it for my dad for 30 years, and my grandmother did it for grandpa for 55 years. On their golden wedding anniversary, she even brought him his breakfast in bed."

"Maybe it is romantic to eat by candlelight, but candles cost money. Anyway, I like to be able to see what's on my plate."

"Well, you don't have to make a federal case out of it the very first time I stop off for a couple of quick ones with the guys where I work."

"I SUPPOSE he told you he wanted you to quit your job as soon as you get the furniture paid for? My little man said the same thing to me when we got married back in 1941, and now I'm wearing an office 25-year pin and still pounding a typewriter."

"You must be kidding about having to go to the beauty shop. I thought after girls married they fixed their hair at home. What else have they got to do?"

"As your mother, Jill, you know I want you to be happy, but remember I was the one who told you from the start that Jack would give you trouble."

"Whatever he does or doesn't do, don't just cry about it. Make a scene. Husbands can't stand scenes."

"YOU LIKED me pretty well as I was before we were married. Why do you want me to change all at once now?"

"For Pete's sake, Jill, quit calling me at the office. The other guys are razzing me about it — and the boss doesn't like it."

"Okay, okay, so you fixed the casserole for me as a surprise. Well, after eating it, I'm still surprised. What was it?"

"Of course, I still love you. Do you want me to write it on a piece of paper and paste it on the kitchen wall?"

"Go dancing? Honey, we're married now. How about going bowling?"

Time And The Report

It has been only a few years since the assassination of President Kennedy, and the publication of a massive finding including 24 volumes of testimony and evidence called the Warren Report. A few weeks ago, a public discussion group was hard put at finding someone willing to defend the report as accurate or conclusive.

THE REPORT and its critics are at issue over whether Lee Harvey Oswald was the sole assassin of the President. Closer in time to the event, it was generally accepted as a fact that Oswald had no help nor was he part of a larger organization. Doubts have been raised in several scholarly books, and finally the conclusion has gained the support of some of even the stoutest Warren defenders that his commission did not accomplish its assigned job.

Indeed, the suspicion has been planted that the commission was more concerned at quieting public fears of conspiracy than at getting to the true answers.

FOR INSTANCE the credence of a final answer can be challenged on several points:

On that fateful Friday, the attending doctor in his first public announcement described a bullet hole in the front of the throat as an "entry wound"; in the report, the doctor is quoted as saying it was an "exit wound."

Gov. Connally has publicly denied the report's contention that the same bullet passed through the President's body, then through Connally's chest and wrist to lodge in his thigh. The published reports on ballistics and autopsy support the governor, not the commission. There are other points, such as these, that might be made.

NOW, A NEW York Congressman has suggested that a joint legislative committee be named to study the whole case, and if necessary, reopen it.

All of which seems to indicate that the commission, despite a long review and study of the facts, plus unlimited funds and learned assistance, has not made an ironclad case against Oswald as the lone killer of a president. At the same time, none of the most ardent detractors of the report have made a case that Oswald was a member of some major conspiracy, but they have raised doubt in the minds of many over the commission findings.

WITH DOUBT growing stronger with the passing of time, it would seem a proper thing for Congress to appoint a legislative body to make a study and settle the question once and for all. Else the assassination might go down in the history books with an accompanying question mark.

Further investigation might wipe out confusion, if not correct error.

Russia At War With U.S.

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union readily admits it is virtually in a state of war with this country, but the United States prefers not to recognize such a condition in any formal way.

The latest revelation — published in the Soviet press — says explicitly that the Soviet Union has sent officers and enlisted men to North Viet Nam to instruct the North Vietnamese soldiers in the use of anti-aircraft missiles supplied by the Moscow government.

SOME UNITED States aircraft have been shot down while the Russians were on duty at the launching sites, according to disclosures in the Soviet newspapers, which are, of course, controlled by the Moscow government.

The Department of State, when asked to comment, said through its press relations officer that it had been "assumed all along" that Russia had provided technical specialists to help fire anti-aircraft missiles in North Viet Nam. When asked whether the subject had been officially discussed between Washington and Moscow, the State Department spokesman said he doubted it.

THIS IS THE second time in modern history that the Soviet Union has indirectly engaged in a war against other nations without being subjected to any disciplinary action either by the United Nations or by the countries whose soldiers were being killed by Russian-supplied weapons or troops.

Even when the United Nations sent military forces to Korea in 1950, the Soviet Union brazenly announced a few months later at a U.N. General Assembly meeting that it had supplied arms and ammunition to the Red Chinese to fight American, British and other allied forces operating under the U.N. in Korea.

AMERICAN troops are again being killed by airplanes and other weapons furnished by the Soviets. This is the first time, however, that the Soviet government has acknowledged that its military personnel are participating in the Viet Nam war. Even though the function of the Soviet technicians is described as "training," the missiles which are used to destroy American planes and strike down U.S. airplanes are part of a war operation.

WHAT WILL the United States do? Government officials apparently have been reluctant to ask Congress for a declaration of a "state of war" in Viet Nam, though this is the customary method of warning other countries to abstain from military participation. The precedents of international law are clear — namely, that nations which are not belligerents should not be sending arms and munitions to help either side in a war. Once neutrality is violated, however, punitive measures are available. The United States, for instance, could sever diplomatic relations and cut off all trade with the Soviet Union.

THE ACTION of the Russians, moreover, in sending military equipment to Viet Nam, as well as officers and enlisted men, is in direct defiance of the Southeast Asia collective defense treaty, which was adopted in October, 1954 in conformity with the charter of the United Nations.

The Southeast Asia Treaty was signed by Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand, Great Britain and the United States. The United States and some of the other signatories have come to the aid of South Viet Nam at the invitation of the government in Saigon.

THE PRECEDENTS of international law plainly indict the Soviet Union as having taken a military action against the United States in Viet Nam. The question now is whether the United States is going to press the matter before the United Nations and proclaim that any military assistance given to North Viet Nam is an act of war against the United States.

The Senate Race In Idaho

BOISE, Idaho—Idaho has a tried and true Republican senator in Len Jordan, a former governor. The conservative tenet of never disturbing a satisfactory situation is going for him.

So is much else. The 67-year-old senator is being propelled toward reelection by the hearty black-slaps of the business community, by the "atta boys" of the resident press and apparently by the pervading affection of the populace as discernible in private polls and letters-to-the-editors.

JORDAN is a big, solid, respected self-made success whose pre-gubernatorial years are recounted in a regional best-seller, "Home Below Hell's Canyon" by Grace Jordan, his talented and vote-gathering wife. Even in the Rocky Mountain antipathy for the Great Society, Jordan takes nothing for granted. He campaigns as if every tomorrow were election day. With a month to go, he looks every inch a winner.

BUT JORDAN won't win by concession. His 37-year-old Democratic opponent, former Congressman Ralph Harding, is the hungry hunter. Defeated in 1964 for his two-term congressional seat, the blond, rangy ex-accountant and Korean War infantryman — a thorough-going liberal Laborite—doggedly sought a cell in the Democratic party's deep-freeze. There he could be preserved for use against Jordan, who was elected in the year of Harding's defeat. Sargent Shriver, double-crowned czar of the Peace Corps and Poverty Corps, made Harding the offer of a job. So did President Johnson's Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert.

HARDING SETTLED for a Pentagon post as liaison man with Congress. He stayed for something over a year, long enough to claim an "I can get it for you wholesale" intimacy with federal agencies. Then last March he cut himself off from visible financial support, lumped his meager life's savings and bet the roll on his chances to become U.S. senator.

HARDING is making a personal issue of the age differential between the candidates. Somewhere along the line — possibly from Harding's spokesmen rather than himself—there has been an unpleasant and unfounded reference to the senator's health. Earlier in the campaign, Harding got an indignant playback from his public when he patronizingly mentioned Jordan as "a nice old man." Harding had amended this to read "a fine honorable gentleman" by the time of our interview, but his sales pitch is what he euphemistically calls "effectiveness." He adds in clear language that he, but not Sen. Jordan, is up to the 14-hour day that it takes to represent a state in congressional Washington. The senator has already proved his staying power, and these snide insinuations are likely to bring some rough rejoinders on points where Harding is vulnerable.

SOME POINTS, already touched in debate, relate to Harding's hot pursuit of political capital — his brief build-up as a Pentagon job-holder after losing an election, his earnest but probably ill-advised vendetta with Ezra Taft Benson, a Mormon Church apostle who is also a Birchite, and his past relationships with the peace-through-weakness Council For a Livable World.

The bidding:
West Pass      North 1♥      East 1♠
Pass 2♠      Pass 3♠
Pass 4♠      Pass Pass

Selection of an opening lead from an apparently worthless three card holding led to a substantial swing when today's hand was dealt in a recent team-of-four match.

The bidding was the same at both tables. East opened the bidding in third position with one heart under the protection of favorable vulnerability. Holding 12 high card points, he decided to compete for a part score, intending to pass his partner's response.

South overcalled with one spade and North had a comfortable raise to two. South decided to invite a game in the expectation that the combined holdings fit well, inasmuch as it appeared from the bidding that his partner would be very short in hearts. North accepted the invitation and carried on to four spades.

At one table West decided to open the nine of hearts. With three spot cards in East's bid suit, he chose the play that would inform his partner that he did not have a heart honor. North played the ten, East cova big red snake in the sky, weaving, with the bullets crisscrossing.

Mayor Proclaims A Special Month For Credit Unions

Mayor Arnold Marshall has proclaimed October as World Extension Month in Big Spring for the credit union movement.

More particularly, he has proclaimed Oct. 29 as International Credit Union Day.

"Credit unions provide a means for members to pool savings and fill their needs for certain types of credit," he said. "They encourage individual responsibility and practice true brotherhood. As this movement spreads throughout the world it means better living in any language."

The 11 credit unions operative here have a total of 14,775 members. At the end of August, these people had a $6,762,144 on deposit as savings, a 16 per cent gain over the same time a year ago.

ered with the queen and South won the trick with the ace.

A heart was returned and dummy's jack dislodged the king and thereby established declarer's eight and seven as the master cards in the suit. East shifted to a small diamond and when South followed with the five, West cashed the queen and ace.

Declarer won the diamond return with the king, led over to the king of spades and returned the suit. When the queen appeared South put up the ace and claimed his contract, having lost two diamonds and one heart.

At the other table, West also got off to a heart lead, however he selected the deuce for his opening. Altho he ran the risk that East might misread his heart holding, he was reluctant to blindly surrender his only value in the suit.

North's ten, East's queen, and South's ace completed the trick. With both the nine and king missing, declarer was not in position to establish his hearts by merely returning the suit, and he decided to look elsewhere for tricks.

A club was led at trick two and when West followed with the three, the queen was played from dummy. If West held the king, then South could discard a diamond subsequently on the ace of clubs. Even if the club finesse lost, declarer would break even provided that East held the ace of diamonds, for one of declarer's diamonds may still be placed on the ace of clubs—and the defense can cash only one trick in each of the three side suits.

When East won the club finesse with the king, he returned a diamond and South put up the king in desperation. The defense rattled off three diamond tricks to administer a 700 point setback.

Hurricane Might Dent Family Food Budgets

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Crop damage from hurricane Inez this week threatens to dent family food budgets.

Bad weather has been a key factor in the rising cost of food this year.

"This has been a terrible year," a New York produce wholesaler said. "There have been problems all over. The freeze last February, the drought in July and now a lot of wet weather."

Hurricane Inez whipped ripening avocados and limes just ready for market off the trees in Florida. Some of the winter tomato crop will have to be replanted.

One farmer estimated the loss of winter vegetables will run $10 million.

Last week, it was heavy rain. It interfered with the harvest of lettuce, potatoes, cucumbers and tomatoes. But the driest September in Wisconsin since 1891 in Minnesota and cut the tomato crop grown in the Middle Atlantic states.

In May, freezes caused severe damage to fruit crops in the Great Lakes region — cherries, peaches, pears and apples.

The freeze came after heavy rains cut the onion, potato and carrot crops in Texas, and a cold snap and then a heat wave hurt peas in Washington and plums in Oregon.

The results of the weatherman's whims showed up at the thin produce counters all summer. This winter, the housewife may begin to notice them in the canned and frozen food departments.

Heavy rains washed out some cabbages in Ohio, and hot weather hurt the California tomato and peach crops.

In July, days of temperatures in the 90s and 100s wilted lima beans in Wisconsin, burned peas—

Shipping Backlog Due Senate Probe

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Top U.S. Senate investigators arrived in Saigon today on a visit that could be a prelude to a new congressional probe of black marketing, the shipping backlog and giant civilian construction operations in Viet Nam.

Jerome Adelman, chief counsel of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, declined to discuss his visit in detail after he landed at Tan Son Nhut Airport. He was accompanied by Philip W. Morgan, minority counsel of the subcommittee.

The Senate probes reached here at a time when the shipping backlog has risen to serious proportions.

Water Funds Skip Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to authorize construction of flood control, navigation and beach erosion projects to cost more than $430 million was approved Wednesday by the House Public Works Committee.

The projects, if authorized by Congress, would be subject to later appropriations to pay for the work.

They include one for water quality control in the Arkansas River basins of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. The cost estimate is $46.4 million.

Doctor Delivers 3,472

ENNIS, Tex. (AP)—Dr. A. L. Thomas has delivered an average of about 60 babies a year since he began practicing medicine in Ennis.

Actually, the official number is 3,472, spread out over 60 years.

"We didn't keep very good records back in the early days, and I imagine that if we had, the number would be over 3,500 the 60-year-old physician said.

Official or unofficial, though, the number of infants he has brought into the world is about one-third the population of Ennis, a community of 11,500 30 miles south of Dallas.

LIKES RURAL LIFE

Dr. Thomas prefers the informal role of the time-honored rural general practitioner to the hustle and bustle of the sprawling medical complexes in the big cities.

And he can speak his own mind about his profession:

"Doctors in general do not seem as considerate of their patients' welfare as they once were.

"I don't say this to be boastful but I've driven a buggy in zero weather to make a night call—and some of the young doctors today won't do it in a heated car."

PART OF JOB

As he has done for 60 years, he arrives at his office at 8 a.m. It's not uncommon for him to make three or four house calls before noon. For him, night calls are still part of a doctor's job, too.

The son of a pioneer farmer in the Ennis area, he left the fields at the age of 21 to enroll at what is now Texas Wesleyan College.

HASN'T MOVED

He taught at a country school for a year, then went back to college and got his M. D. degree at Louisville University in 1903.

Dr. Thomas first practiced medicine at Cryer Creek. After a year, he loaded his buggy and followed a wagon trail north to the growing little town of Ennis.

He hasn't budged since. In 1909, he became the first doctor in Ellis County to exchange his horse and buggy for an automobile.

"It was a Mason," he said in an interview. "Two cylinders and a crank on the side." Asked the biggest change in the medical profession over the past 60 years, he replied:

PEOPLE SOFTER

"Oh, it would have to be the improvements in the drugs—the medicines we can prescribe now."

He believes the more potent drugs are very necessary because "people nowadays are physically a lot softer than they once were."

Dr. Thomas is apprehensive that the medicare program may someday cause doctors to become salaried employees of the government.

As for his plans, he says with a twinkle:

"I guess I'll keep practicing till I get old enough to retire."

'Rawhide' Star Will Probated

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Eric Fleming, who drowned in a remote Peruvian river during the filming of a movie last week, made his mother chief beneficiary of his $125,000 estate.

A will filed for probate in Los Angeles Superior Court Wednesday disclosed Mildred Anderson Heddy, was bequeathed $30,000 outright and the remainder of the estate after other bequests.

Fleming, 41, onetime star of the "Rawhide" television series, drowned Sept. 28 in the Huallaga River near Tingo Maria, Peru, during the filming of a scene for the movie "High Jungle."

Kennedy Dinner Costs Too Much

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP)—Norman J. Jacques, a member of Rhode Island's House of Representatives and a law school student, says $100-a-plate is too much for an evening with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. He's scheduled to speak at a Democratic fund raising dinner in Pawtucket Oct. 18.

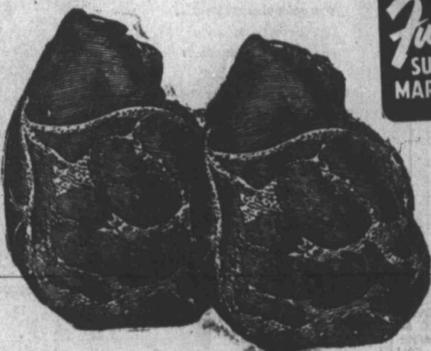

In a letter Wednesday to John F. Capaldi, Democratic state chairman, Jacques asked for a "student rate" saying the $100 subscription is just too high for him. And if he took a date, he said, the evening "would be financially ruinous."

Operation MEMO Aids Needy Pupils

By PHIL BROWN
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A MEMO on a bus helped put Gloria Clocklin in college — where educators thought she should be, but where her pocketbook said she couldn't be.

MEMO — More Education, More Opportunity — is a Michigan program aimed at giving a stay-in-school boost to the student whose grades aren't top but who has a "glint in the eye" to succeed.

In searching for that student, MEMO placed advertisements around the state, including placards on buses.

That's how Miss Clocklin discovered the program.

MOM SOLE SUPPORT
"It has always been my desire to become a registered nurse," she wrote to MEMO headquarters here. Miss Clocklin, who graduated from a Grand Rapids high school in 1964, was working as a technician at Grands Rapids' Butterworth Hospital.

"My grades were above average but nothing spectacular," she wrote, "so competitive scholarships are not the answer. My financial situation leaves much to be desired."

Miss Clocklin added that her mother was sole support for a brother and sister still in school.

ANXIOUS
From MEMO headquarters the letter went to Miss Edna Sargent, registrar at Northwestern Michigan Community College in Traverse City. Miss Sargent investigated, received excellent recommendations for the girl, and found the "need was absolute."

The school arranged for a $400 National Defense loan and $600 in matching funds from its Economic Opportunity grant allocation for Miss Clocklin.

"I would say MEMO has made it possible for a very fine and above-average student and young lady to attend college without being constantly harassed with working, and worrying about where her next tuition money was coming from," said Miss Sargent.

"I'm anxious to get started," said Miss Clocklin, 20, who will finish her nursing studies in about two years.

Styles At The Circle

Thrill-Seekers Capture Washington's 'Circle'

WASHINGTON (AP)—On Embassy Row, near fashionable shops, exclusive clubs and a one-time temporary White House, the thrill-seekers beat bongos and deliver soap box sermons.

Here — in Washington's old society belt — are part-time students drinking beer on the grass, beatniks playing in a fountain, police patrols and junkies.

This is the Washington deleted from guidebooks. They call it "The Circle," little Greenwich Village.

Years ago, as a wealthy residential area, there were horse-drawn carriages, Sunday promenades, diplomats strolling under the trees, band concerts and governesses-in-starchy-uniforms pushing baby carriages.

It was a happy, family place, a round park at one of the city's wagon-wheel intersections. It was the best address in town.

Du Pont Circle they called it — "Washington's mystic circle of wealth and fashion" — the scene of fabulous dinner parties and midnight balls where presidents and congressmen mingled with princes, where beautiful women danced on marble floors and ate with gold forks.

Still a circle, still a park, still a thoroughfare — time has nonetheless wrought changes. Recently a man was beaten there. A secretary was molested going home from work. An old woman's purse was grabbed. Fourteen persons were arrested in one night on narcotics charges.

But it's a different area in the 'daytime.

The beats, the longhairs, the old men playing checkers, the homosexuals, the folk-singers, and the girl-watchers continue in their pleasures.

The beatnik element moved in in the 1960s, followed by the tough boys and narcotics users. In desperation, the Connecticut Avenue Association suggested this summer that "the entire circle be fenced in and closed after nightfall."

Guidebook Sales Soar

WASHINGTON (AP)— One of the American best-sellers is the White House Guidebook.

In the four years since it was first published, 1,980,000 copies of the guidebook have been sold. The price is $1 and up.

Sales are made to tourists visiting the presidential mansion and by mail.

Proceeds go for White House acquisitions and for upkeep.

Publisher of the guidebook is the White House Historical Association. It declines to give a full accounting of what's done with the book-sale money. But it did say in announcing the sales total through the White House Wednesday that it has contributed $414,755 to the White House through Aug. 31.

Chimes Help Avoid Panic

CONCORD, Mass. (AP)— To help avoid panic in case of a fire, Emerson Hospital uses chimes as an alarm inside the building.

Recent tests, however, showed the gentle chimes were drowned out by the cries of babies in the nursery section.

So the Concord Firefighters Associated donated extra chimes.
