Killer Hurricane Inez Takes Ominous Turn Toward Texas Coast

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Dangerous Hurricane Inez, not showing her age and as unpredictable as ever, swung northward Saturday, posing a threat to the Texas coast.

Although the giant, 15-day-old storm that has left 150 dead was 310 miles southeast of Brownsville at 7 p.m. (CST), her winds kicked up swells five to eight feet above normal on Mustang and Padre Islands.

Brownsville is at the southern tip of Texas and both islands are thin sand pits threading hundreds of miles up the coast about 10 miles offshore.

EVACUATION ORDERED

The Weather Bureau issued a hurricane watch for the Texas coast and warned citizens to evacuate beaches and other low areas.

Some businessmen in Raymondville, 50 miles north of Brownsville, boarded up their stores and left for higher ground.

The Navy ordered that 108 aircraft stationed at Corpus Christi, Kingsville and Beeville be flown to inland bases. The Corpus Christi Naval Air Station went into hurricane evacuation condition No. 3, which meant that winds of 55 miles an hour were expected within 48 hours.

100 HOMES FOLD

Tides were two feet above normal at Freeport, far up the coast south of Houston.

The hurricane swiped Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula Thursday and yesterday, destroying 15 boats and collapsing 100 homes in the port of Progreso. Most of the destroyed craft were fishing boats.

In Merida, Mexico, the sun came out today, although several streets of the city of 175,000 were flooded and utilities disrupted.

THREAT INCREASES

Inez was moving at about 12 miles an hour with winds near the center of 135 m.p.h.—a major hurricane.

Gales—winds of only slightly less than hurricane force of 75 m.p.h.—extended 200 miles from Inez' center.

The unpredictable storm took an almost directly westerly course for three days, aiming at Mexico's heartland before the Weather Bureau reported that "present indications are that Inez will turn to a more northwesterly course today and tonight" and the "threat to the Texas coast increases."

STAY IN PORT

The forecasting agency warned small craft along the Texas and Mexican coasts as far south as Veracruz, Mexico, to stay in port.

Earlier, the storm pounded portions of the West Indies, crossed Cuba twice, went north off the east Florida coast and then turned backward to move between Florida and Cuba and into the Gulf of Mexico.

First Mexican city to suffer from the battering winds was Progreso, population 15,000. Most of the city's residents left for the safety of higher ground.

Inez battered villages on the peninsula, flooded streets and damaged utilities. High seas destroyed a dock in the village of Telchac and the town was evacuated.

150 DEAD

Before reaching the Yucatan Peninsula, Inez left more than 150 dead and caused millions of dollars of property and crop damage in a two-week rampage over Guadeloupe, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Cuba, the Bahamas and Florida.

Just above Brownsville are vast orchards loaded with immature citrus, and fields of beans and peppers.

High winds, should Inez strike in the region, could break many limbs, but an industry spokesman said Saturday the damage

B52s Block Fresh Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. B52 squadrons blasted at the old demilitarized zone in waves Saturday to block infiltration of fresh troops for the Communist army that lost the equivalent of two battalions in prisoners alone to allied forces in one sector during the past week.

The high-flying, eight-engine jets from Guam, reinforcing the efforts of smaller warcraft, rained tons of bombs on military trails and bivouac areas of the six-mile-wide border territory designated as a neutral area under the Geneva treaty in 1954.

Cavalry Unit Bags Commies

PHU CAT, South Viet Nam (AP)—The U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division sought in a series of drives for more than a year to round up a "sizable group of Communist soldiers—Viet Cong or North Vietnamese.

Mostly the troopers caught only a few at a time.

But that all changed on the central coast this week.

Now the division has almost more than it can handle, the lion's share of the greatest prisoner bag of the war.

LIGHT CONTACT

Though the Communists still bar International Control Commission teams, bombardiers avoided the 24-square-mile sea-front segment that the United States put off limits Sept. 27 in an effort to promote an ICC check on North Vietnamese violations of the treaty.

This was the 14th B52 raid on the zone since July 30.

U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops kept watch just below the border territory. The Marines reported only light contact.

While suffering losses called moderate, they have killed 902 Hanoi regulars in a two-month-old drive called Operation Prairie. They have taken only four prisoners.

WAR'S BIGGEST

Interest elsewhere centered on crowded prison pens of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division and Korean and Vietnamese divisions hunting remnants of three Red regiments trapped since last Sunday between the mountains and the sea 30 miles north of Qui Nhon. The count of enemy dead there rose to 783.

Held under guard were more than 600 known Communist troops and 1,400 suspects. Intelligence officers said about 25 per cent of the suspects were turning out under questioning to be Viet Cong. The bag was the war's biggest.

GONE LONG WAY

"I think we've gone a long way to destroying the enemy's hold of this area," said Maj. Gen. John Norton, commander of the cavalry division.

Viet Cong activity included assassination of the village deputy chief of An Phu, eight miles north of Saigon. This was part of the effort to wreck administration and destroy morale of government supporters in the field.

Webb AFB Takes On Salty Air Of U.S. Navy

Twenty F-11's from the Navy Chase Field at Beeville, fleeing possible wrath of Hurricane Inez, are at Webb AFB. Commander R. O. Prichard, Jr., is in charge of the group which was evacuated from the Navy station starting shortly after noon. The planes landed at the base here at 5 p.m. Shown above are crewmen who accompanied the armada. They were brought to Webb aboard a C-47 shown in the background.

Soviet Union Nixes Geneva Peace Huddle

British Action Fizzles

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union turned down a request from Britain Saturday that the two set up a new Geneva Conference to negotiate peace for Viet Nam.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet co-chairman of the 1954 Geneva Conference, got the request from Foreign Secretary George Brown, the present British co-chairman, in an 80-minute talk at the Soviet U.N. mission in New York.

Brown asked Gromyko to join him in reconvening the conference, British sources said, but the response was not encouraging, and there was no basic change in the Soviet position.

LBJ Clears Way For Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson seems to have cleared the way for possible adjournment of Congress within the next 10 days by postponing until January any request for additional Viet Nam war funds.

Congressional leaders who reported this said they presumed any decision on whether to ask for new taxes also would await a year-end survey of appropriations voted by Congress and a check on how much domestic spending could be withheld by the executive.

The feeling was general on Capitol Hill that there would be no postelection call for a special session.

REJECTED

The Soviet position has been that the conference should not be reconvened now. In the last two years, the Soviet Union has rejected repeated British requests for a new conference, on grounds either that the time was not appropriate or that not all the participants would attend.

After visiting Moscow last July, Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said Soviet Prime Minister Alexei N. Kosygin told her the Soviet Union would not call a new conference till North Viet Nam asked for one.

The British sources said that when Brown met Gromyko, both men knew that North Viet Nam had rejected the six-point plan for peace in Viet Nam that Brown had put forward Thursday.

LBJ Takes Care Of Kin

AUSTIN (AP)—Promotion of one of President Johnson's in-laws and employment of another were announced Saturday by KTBC radio-TV station, owned by the Johnson family business interests.

General Manager J. C. Kellam said Pat Nugent, husband of Johnson's daughter, Luci, has been hired part time in an administrative training program.

O. P. Bobbitt, who is married to Johnson's sister, Rebekah, was promoted to senior vice president. Bobbitt, with the station since 1950, will continue also as radio station manager and general sales manager.

CATCH-ALL BILL

Mansfield said that so far as the Senate was concerned, it could dispose of all necessary legislation by not later than Oct. 22 if the House moved swiftly on the catch-all money bill and there was no breakdown in resolving differences of the two chambers over such measures as the $58-billion defense appropriation.

Dirksen said in a separate interview he believed the session could be ended a day or two earlier than that.

As for Johnson's intentions on taxes, no one in Congress professes to have any reliable knowledge.

Those who have discussed the matter with him say the President shows extreme reluctance to entertain the idea of raising taxes. They say he points to rising federal revenues and his drive to hold down spending by $3 billion as possible alternatives.

The combined count of prisoners is in excess of 600 known Communist troops and 1,400 suspects. Intelligence officers say about 25 per cent of the suspects are turning out to be guerrillas, as compared to the usual five or 10 per cent of such suspects.

This is the largest prisoner count of the war.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

When Clement Bros. of Hickory, N. C., submitted the low and winning bid of $8,686,440 on the Colorado River Municipal Water District dam near Robert Lee, the contractor was $1,264,560 under the next low bidder. Some say this was a lot of money to leave lying on the table, but then there's another way of looking at it. The district might not have been able to swing that second figure at all, so it was probably the difference between a project and no project just now.

The United Fund is now about 20 per cent of the way to its goal. This is the week that the campaign should gain momentum. Contact of employees is due to get going on a broad front with an appeal to give a fair share of an hour's pay a month. Administrative and executive personnel are asked to consider one per cent of earnings as a fair share.

While most people likely will do it, you don't have to wait until January to qualify as a voter in 1967. Mrs. W. T. Bell didn't wait last week—she was first to get her free registration (she had an exemption anyhow). This

Kremlin Emotions Mixed Over Troop Reduction Plan

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has major reasons for deciding to reject President Johnson's proposal to reduce troops on both sides of the Iron Curtain—and it also has reasons to accept.

Soviet leaders kept silent Saturday on the proposal while possibly weighing the reasons. The proposal was omitted from press reports here of the President's speech, while Johnson was said to be determined to keep up Western strength in Europe.

INVOLVES VIET

The Soviet Union might withdraw some of its 375,000 soldiers now in Eastern Europe without being willing to talk publicly about it. Some withdrawal could even come after a denunciation of the Johnson proposal.

One strong reason against the "gradual and balanced revision in force levels on both sides," which Johnson suggested Friday, involves Viet Nam and China.

The United States already has pulled some troops out of West Germany to send to Viet Nam. It is considering withdrawing more, regardless of whether the Russians do anything.

RED FLAG

But any Soviet withdrawal would open the Kremlin to the charge, which the bitterly critical Red Chinese are sure to seriously hurt.

make, that the Soviet Union is in collusion with the United States to help crush the Vietnamese Communists.

Peking makes the collusion charge frequently in other connections. Johnson's listing in a speech of areas of Soviet-American cooperation, such as resumption of airline service talks and expanding trade, was a red flag to the bulls in the Red China shop.

Wichita Falls Girl Killed In Smashup

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—A 17-year-old Wichita Falls girl was killed and a man was critically hurt Saturday evening in a two-car crash in Wichita Falls.

Killed was Barbara Ayaal. Critically injured was Juan Garcia, 31, of Mission, Tex. Three other persons were less seriously hurt.

It's Not Easy To Drive Away

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It's not easy to run away from home if you don't know how to drive.

Also make sure you're tall enough to see out the windshield.

Two young girls made that discovery during a two-mile trip that had other motorists dodging to stay out of the way.

The journey ended in a suburban shopping center parking lot, where the girls managed to brake the car to a stop.

By that time two boys, who had followed the erratic vehicle, arrived and persuaded the girls to surrender the keys.

Police learned later the youngsters were runaways, ages 12 and 11.

The 12-year-old did the driving, she explained, because her friend wasn't old enough.

The driver also admitted her biggest problem was seeing out.

Union Says Merger Kick Is Dangerous

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO said Saturday that "the urge to merge" among America's giant corporations carried the danger of eventually turning the nation into one enormous company-owned store.

"Money is power," the labor federation said, and the billion-dollar sums of corporate giants are being used to shape political, social and cultural standards as well as the nation's economy.

"The implications of the frantic merger kick upon which American business has embarked are profound," said AFL-CIO economist Irving Beller.

HALF THE LOAD

He wrote that view in the labor federation's magazine, the American Federationist.

Beller said a mere 100 of the nation's approximately 400,000 separately owned manufacturing companies owned well over half the land, buildings and equipment used in the U.S. production.

"If this rate continues," he went on, "America will be faced with a condition of super concentration within little more than a decade."

MONEY MARRIAGE

"By 1977, the 100 largest manufacturing corporations will control more than two-thirds of the nation's net manufacturing assets."

Beller said a tiny fraction of American business—a fourth of one per cent—had received 72 per cent of all industrial profits in 1965.

While conceding that "not every merger is an unmitigated evil," Beller said most corporate marriages were arranged for financial convenience alone—not to improve efficiency, create more jobs or reduce prices.

'Silent' Movies Delight Dwellers

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Sharp-eyed slum dwellers in the hills around a new drive-in movie, Rio's first, are delighted with their new diversion except for one thing—they can't hear the sound. But that doesn't matter too much. Most films are in English with Portuguese subtitles.

100 RIOTERS JAILED

TRIESTE, Italy (AP)—Angry workers fearing loss of shipyard jobs battled with bricks and iron bars Saturday against police armed with tear-gas grenades in rioting that raged through downtown Trieste.

A dozen workers and a dozen policemen were hurt. Eight were carried to hospitals with serious injuries. Police took more than 100 rioters into custody.

CITY PARALYZED

The rioting paralyzed the center of this Adriatic port city for more than two hours. Acid tear-gas fumes drifted through a wide area. Stores closed, and buses stopped running.

The riot stemmed from a demonstration and strike by 1,000 workers of the San Marco Shipyards. They were called out by the Communist-led General

Angry Workers Battle Police With Iron Bars

Confederation of Italian Labor and were joined by 1,000 workers who poured from factories. The workers were angered by a government plan, announced Friday night, for total reorganization of shipbuilding activity in Italy. The plan will convert the San Marco yards into repair docks, with shipbuilding to be centered in nearby Monfalcone.

UNIONS IGNORED

At Italy's biggest port city Genoa, across the peninsula on the Ligurian Seacoast, workers also reacted against the government shipyard plan. Their unions called a general strike in all activity for next Friday. The unions said the government plan "totally ignored the unions directly involved."

The government plan is aimed at streamlining the nation's shipbuilding sector and at cutting costs.

John Edwin Myers' Date With Executioner Jan. 13

John Edwin Myers, confessed slayer of four, has a date with the Illinois public executioner for Jan. 13.

He has lost a key battle in his fight to escape the electric chair for one of his crimes. The Illinois Supreme Court, at long last, has officially affirmed the findings of a jury in Belleville, Ill.

That jury, on Sept. 20, 1964, found Myers guilty of the murder of 10-year-old Carole Ballard and doomed him to death for his offense.

The case was appealed and has been in the Supreme Court since then. According to John M. Karns Jr., state attorney general for St. Clair County, Ill., the state's highest court has upheld the trial court which fixed his punishment at death.

KILLING NEAR HERE

Myers, who crashed into public print in Big Spring on Sept. 1, 1961, escaped the electric chair in Texas when a jury verdict handed down in Rusk was overturned by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

He had been tried on that occasion for the murder of Arthur DeKraai, itinerant plumber, whom he shot to death a few miles west of here on the night of Sept. 1, 1961.

DeKraai was the fourth person that Myers had slain in three bloodstained days, according to statements by him and his teenage girl friend, Donna Marie Stone.

Little Carole Ballard likely was the first of the four. She and her father, George Ballard, 40, were shot to death as they lay trussed up in ropes on the shores of a small lake near Belleville. That was on Aug. 29, 1961.

CLERK SLAIN
Twelve or 14 hours later, Myers, (who was accompanied by his 14-year-old school girl sweet-

JOHN EDWIN MYERS

(heart) slew Margaret Wernicker, 42, an East St. Louis sales clerk. Miss Wernicker, kidnaped by Myers and the girl, had been forced to drive the pair southward from Belleville.

Near Thayer, Mo., Myers and his companion killed the luckless woman and left her stripped body in the woody Ozark country.

It was the next morning that they killed DeKraai and his body on a lonely road a few miles west of Big Spring. And at 1 a.m., Sept. 1, a highway patrolman stopped them for questioning in Midland.

This action led to the discovery of not only DeKraai's body but disclosed the other three homicides the pair had perpetrated.

LONG TIME HERE

Myers spent many months in jail here. An attempt to try him in Big Spring was set aside when a jury could not be seated. Tried at Rusk, he was doomed to the chair. On appeal, he won a new trial. An effort to try him in Tahoka followed and was unsuccessful. He was then turned over to Belleville, Ill., officers.

His conviction for the girl's murder followed.

Cattle Killed Near Ackerly

At least 13 cattle and possibly more were killed or so badly maimed they had to be destroyed as result of a one-truck mishap at 4:30 a.m. Saturday at the city limits of Ackerly.

The big double-decker cattle trailer, pulled by a tractor, went out of control as it travelled along US 87 from San Angelo to Lubbock. The tractor did not overturn but the big trailer rolled into the borrow ditch, spilling the 70 head of cattle out into the right of way. State highway patrol officers, who investigated the wreck, identified the driver as Jack Norman Phillips, 31, Lubbock. He was not injured. His employer and the owner of the truck was Pete Moncrief of Lubbock. The dumped-out cattle wandered away from the scene. Some were found at some distance with broken legs and other injuries.

Multimillion-Dollar Waste Plant Slated

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Co. says it will build a multimillion-dollar waste treatment plant that engineers said would halt a major source of pollution in Lake Erie. The project is scheduled for completion by 1970.

HOW TO BRING PAYROLLS Industrial Conference Set At San Angelo On Friday

An in-depth study of how to bring industry to West Texas cities occurs Friday of this week, when the West Texas Chamber of Commerce holds its annual Industrial Development Conference in San Angelo.

The program is regarded as a significantly helpful workshop and a large attendance is expected. A number of Big Spring business and civic leaders plan to attend.

The all-day session will be held in the San Angelo Coliseum, with registration opening at 8:30 a.m. and the program starting at 9:30.

A feature of the day will be a demonstration on "how to handle an industrial prospect." This will be given by a selected group from Denton, which has had remarkable success in attracting payrolls to that city.

The team will be headed by Roy Appleton, chairman of Denton's Industrial Development Division and general manager of the Denton Record-Chronicle. The team is composed of leading business and professional people of Denton, who will tell just how they have gone about bringing in new industry.

The conference will open with a keynote address by F. J. Spencer of Houston, outstanding economic development consultant. The Denton demonstration will follow.

During the afternoon there will be various "how to" workshops, in these areas, with the following as panel leaders:

"Working with allies," Jim Covell, San Angelo, industrial director, Genetel Telephone Company of the Southwest; "West Texas prospects," Kim Kelly of Austin, assistant executive director, Texas Industrial Commission; "local government and industrial development," John Perryman, Dallas, industrial director, Lone Star Gas Company; "statistics and brochures," Si Ragsdale Jr., executive vice president, Denton Chamber of Commerce; "finance," Don Raburn, Texas Industrial Commission staff; "labor," Wm Murrell, Denton, personnel director of Moore Business Forms; "transportation," Harry Clark, executive director, Texas Industrial Commission; "sites and utilities," Tom Heath, Dallas, community development director of Texas Power & Light Co.

"We are tired of being taxed to death, penalized just because we choose to smoke," he added.

Judges Okay Amendments

HOUSTON (AP) — County judges and commissioners meeting here this week approved a resolution supporting proposed state constitutional amendment No. 2 for creation of county airport authorities.

The County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas also passed a resolution in support of a proposed amendment authorizing county commissioners courts to establish pension plans for county employes and officials.

The association, closed its final session Friday, chose Fort Worth as the site of its 1967 meeting.

Amendment No. 2, which will be put to a vote in the Nov. 8 general election, would allow commissioners courts in each county to set up airport authorities.

Suspect Held

Jimmy Bounds, wanted here on a felony check charge, is in the jail at St. Louis, Mo., Sheriff A. N. Standard has been advised. He has also been informed that Bounds has agreed to waive extradition. Standard said he will send a deputy to take the man in charge sometime this week.

Found Dead In Oil Tank

KERMIT, Tex. (AP) — Oble Byrd Shepard, 46, of Kermit, was found dead Saturday in an underground oil tank, apparently a victim of a slaying.

The discovery was made at the Paso-Tex pump station of the Chevron Oil Co. about 3 miles north of Wink and the same distance south of Kermit.

About two feet of oil was inside the tank.

Officers said the cause of death could not at once be determined.

They said there were signs of a struggle with blood marks on the wall of a building nearby.

Deadline Set For Coast Guard Test

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Eligible young men are reminded that Dec. 15, 1966 is the deadline for submitting applications to compete for appointment as cadet, U.S. Coast Guard in New London, Conn.

The 91st annual competition for admission to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., will begin with the Dec. 3, 1966 administration of the College Entrance Examination Board Tests. Appointments are made solely on a competitive basis, with no Congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Application deadline for the tests is Nov. 1.

Connally Backs Warren Report

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Gov. John Connally of Texas has dispelled any notions that he disagrees widely with the Warren Commission's report on the assassination of President Kennedy.

"The Warren report is a very exhaustive, objective, detailed analysis of what occurred at Dallas," Connally said Friday. "I have no argument with the report."

He was here to make a political speech. Connally, riding in the car with Kennedy when the president was shot, was wounded by a bullet the commission said must have passed through Kennedy before striking the governor.

The commission's report has come under heavy criticism lately and some sources said Connally didn't agree with its findings.

In his speech, Connally blistered the "doves of peace who want to negotiate a settlement with Viet Nam."

"Whom do we negotiate with? You can't negotiate with an aggressor when he understands nothing but power."

If the United States pulls its forces back in Viet Nam, Connally said, "We'll be there for a decade."

The governor said no one can tell how long American troops will be in Viet Nam. But he said America could not turn its back on people seeking freedom.

Reorganization Effected For Forrest And Cotton

DALLAS — T. Carr Forrest, board chairman of the Forrest and Cotton, Inc., engineering firm, with headquarters in Dallas, has announced the firm's reorganization, made necessary by the unexpected death last April of its executive vice president, James A. Cotton.

In addition to Forrest's becoming chairman, the realignment of officers has placed Carl L. Shimek, a 17-year veteran of the firm, as president; George M. Parker has been promoted to first vice president; and Joe Bridgefarmer has been advanced to second vice president.

"George Parker will continue to be our key consultant on water resources," said Forrest, "while Joe Bridgefarmer will remain in charge of heavy construction. These two executives have been with us 10 and eight years respectively."

Among current projects of the company, Forrest cited the Toledo Bend Dam and Reservoir in the Sabine River, a $60,000,000 development for the authorities of both Texas and Louisiana; a railroad and highway relocation placing the latter below the railroad and at an angle, for which the firm received a national award; the Livingston Dam on the lower Trinity River, furnishing, among other things, municipal water for the City of Houston; four international highway and railway bridges across the Rio Grande at El Paso, being a part of the famous Chamizal Project which settled the century-long boundary dispute between the United States and Mexico; the Forney Dam just east of Dallas, which will provide water for Dallas as well as a new recreational area; and participation on the Dallas North Tollway now being constructed along the former Cotton Belt right-of-way.

The Forrest and Cotton firm had a big part in the City of Big Spring's $4.3 million capital improvements program.

Its engineers designed the city's new sewage treatment plant, water distribution and sewage collection lines, valued at some $1.5 million dollars. The firm also made the initial study of water service expansion and the drainage study, all part of the Master Plan.

Shimek and Ross Jacobs visited the city many times, explaining their plans and overseeing construction work.

T-Men Are Busy With Tsk Tsk!

T-Men, appointed by the Big Spring Traffic Commission to make anonymous reports of traffic violations, have sent in 32 reports since Oct. 1.

Speeding, with nine reports, led the infractions noted, followed by stop sign violations with seven. Reckless weaving and no turn signals followed with three reports each, and two reports listed cutting ahead of another vehicle.

Violations reported one time included red signal light violation, disregarding pedestrians, turning from wrong lane, driving on wrong side of street, sliding around corners, backing out into traffic, loud muffler and littering.

Persons making these violations will receive letters from the traffic commission pointing out their infractions were observed, and urging them to drive more carefully.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast For Today and Monday By Carroll Righter

SUNDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning is an unusual one. Time to get your ideas organized for the future at the services, studies, scientific outlets of your choice to expand your vision to see things in their true light. The p.m. finds those who are in powerful positions able and willing to give you the support you really need.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Contact the most powerful persons with whom you are acquainted and get their support for your many constructive ideas. Get advice you need. Then off to social affairs, but just in the best of good spirits.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Kin are in the letter and if believes you are going along with many of their finest ideas. Be devoted. Search for right answers to your problems and the days ahead can be more prosperous, happy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Going after the data you require is quite today, provided you seek in right circles. Increase success, be more outgoing thereby. Deal with individuals who desire you spiritually instead of down-grade you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Thinking over your plans can make them more successful if you study the minute today. Then you can increase future income easily. Impress others around with the fact that you are very practical, have good sense.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) This can be an exceptionally fine day and worth p.m. for you, so be on the go early and then you can tell it easy tonight. Others are aware of your finest qualities. Make the most of fine aspects now present.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Some time spent in deep meditation can bring rich rewards today. Show that you are of a philanthropic nature and this makes a good impression on others. Know that you first must give before you can receive.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Stepping out to see good friends can be the means by which you are able to meet new and worthwhile individuals you should know. Accept only the finest invitations. Show that you are a very charming person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) You are desirous of being more successful and know just who to cultivate. Do now for such. Get talents before the public. Some prominent person is in a mood to assist, so be very grateful.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day for philosophical, spiritual and scientific studies, that most appeal to you. You are wide awake to whatever will be of greatest benefit to you. Save busy, go to meetings, etc.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Consider seriously what you desire in the future to accomplish with aid of partners. Make your plans now toward such aims. Try a new tack so that you have greater support with the one you love.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find that point of understanding with allies in all walks of life today. Discuss every angle with them so that you can go right ahead on plans during work week. Entertain your partners charmingly, also.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Get busy with those artistic ideas and make your abode more attractive and comfortable, clean. Be of service to others and impress them with your talents. Make this a happy and humanitarian day.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY
 he, or she, will be one of those fascinating young people who is capable of seeing the entire panorama of project, situation and should be sent to a good school where the ability to organize is brought out to its fullest scope. Be encouraging and give credit for work done, which is the best way to bring greatest abilities to the fore. Only constructive criticism is best here.

MONDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds you with the vision and the imagination to see just what you can do that will bring the benefits of all types to yourself but then the p.m. is the time for you to reduce such dreams to working out of success — and this applies to practically all terms of civility important to your needs.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Labor the key to your success today, whether in business or personal matters, on the road, etc. Take a little time to better your health through proper treatments. Then all goes very well for you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Go to beauty or barber shop early and improve appearance so that you can then be very much at ease at social matters later. You have greater happiness with romantic life. Be of a cheerful frame of mind, very thoughtful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have time to substitute bad conditions with good ones and you make improvement to you in the proper use of living. Your home can be made to look like new by getting busy and doing, not just thinking about it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Gather the information you require from paper, other periodicals, etc. and then you can discuss with associates. Do so in time for proper use of some. Communicating is easy if ideas are artistic and sound. Show success.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) Concentrate during a.m. on whatever is of greatest importance to you in life and what you aim to achieve, and then get ideas in operation. Plan social affairs now. Show animation — be careful of finances.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Secretly plan what you are going to do in a.m. and then push through with your ideas right after lunch and accomplish a good deal. Elevate consciousness to big things. Then you have a true astronomical success to them.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Be sure you do know in your own mind what it is you desire to accomplish, then take issues up with key persons. Join with some group that is favorable to your ideas. Progress comes easily via the social route.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Contact that prominent person who can give you a needed boost of this time, as well as friends who are interested in seeing you get ahead. You can be successful in both personal and business affairs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are just in the right mood to make new and valuable contacts and get them interested in your ideas. This is a good day to get that letter off to some important individual out-of-town. Be specific.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be sure to pay bills by mail and make collections that are possible today before you dash out for recreation. Better organization of daily routines is important. Avoid losses that way. Be thorough.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A.M. is best time to clarify any puzzling situations with others, but make sure you keep promises religiously tonight. Get approval of associates for some new systems you wish to inaugurate in your operations. Plan and succeed.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) A new idea assaults you for handling your regular work more efficiently, so make notations now, or you forget and lose out. Confer with some expert and plan to combine efforts. Have a sideline, too.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY
 he, or she, will be one of those young individuals to whom the biggest plans are not big enough, so be sure to start the education along government or lines, big corporations, etc. whether boy or girl. The artistic ability here is also tremendous, and a noted artist could emerge, whether on the stage or on canvas. Encourage your progeny. Wonderful flair for precision is clearly denoted here.

Don Loyd One Of Youngest To Get Commercial License

By JERRY MONSON
Don Loyd, 18, son of Howard Loyd, Big Spring Aircraft, received his commercial license Friday afternoon, making him the youngest commercial flier in Howard County, and perhaps the area.

DON LOYD

Loyd, who has been flying since June, 1964, picked up his private license Nov. 24, 1964. He plans to try for his instructor's license in three months. Don has logged a little over 200 hours flying time now.

He and his father operate Big Spring Aircraft, and his father officially presented him with his commercial status in the Cherokee 140. Charlie George, flying instructor for Big Spring Aircraft, had recommended Loyd for the status.

He was graduated from Big Spring High School this year, and now attends Howard County Junior College, studying business administration with a major in marketing.

The 18th annual All-Texas Air Tour ended Saturday, with several local pilots participating.

The tour was sponsored by the Texas State Aviation Association, the Texas Private Flyers Association, the Texas Flying Farmers, the Texas Ninety-Nines and the Texas Wing of the Civil Air Patrol. Sites visited were the Sonora Caverns, NASA, Mexicana, Navion plant, McDonald Observatory, Six Flags Over Texas, Fort Davis, the Confederate Air Force Museum and a score of others.

An important meeting of the aviation committee will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce conference room. Invited to attend the meeting are county commissioners, airport advisory board, chamber board of directors and other interested persons. The discussion will focus on badly-needed improvements at the Howard County Airport. Chairman of the aviation committee is Connie Edwards.

Weather kept most pilots down this week, with only Howard County Flying Club reporting any members up. Braving the skies in the Cherokees were Mrs. Jo Polone, Charles Wash and Mike Moore.

A program is being planned for Monday night's session of the Signal Mountain Soaring Society, according to Dr. J. P. Darby, program chairman. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the library at Malone and Hogan Clinic.

Dr. F. W. Lurting, society president, said that training activity in the club's planes was good last weekend and he expected more of a turnout today, weather permitting.

Something new has been added to the Texas Prison Rodeo at Huntsville. Each Sunday this month, when the rodeo is held, fly-ins are a feature. Pilots may have a free tie-down and maintenance and fuel will be available.

Drama Moved 'Em In 1905

On Oct. 21, the Little Theatre of Big Spring will present the first play of the 1966-67 season. Traditionally the beginning of something new stimulates a corresponding interest in something old, and the opening of "Poor Richard" in 1966 provides an opportunity to recall the first play ever presented in Big Spring, in 1905. In his book, "Big Spring, the Casual Biography of a Prairie Town," Shine Phillips describes what happened over 60 years ago when "The Drama Comes to Big Spring."

Along about 1905 the opera house was opened for its first show, and it was a gala event in the life of the village. Previous to that time, the cowhands hadn't patronized itinerant shows much, but when "East Lynn" was blared over the billboards, the cowhands came in droves and bought the tickets at the drugstore, and the town was all set for its big premiere. The boys donned their best Sunday clothes, stormed the barbershops for their haircuts, and spent the day getting all set for the evening performance.

"East Lynn" was a sad little ditty. Tears were streaming down the faces in spite of the fact that many bandana handkerchiefs were wringing wet. The boys had never seen a show of any kind, and as the villain got rougher and rougher, finally it was too much for one of the boys who was taking the villain literally and who got filled up on the rough stuff being handed out to the fair maiden. He yelled right out loud in the middle of a very tense scene. "Hey there, pardner, that's enough of that," and started for the stage. The combination of fighting whisky and pent-up emotions was more than he could bear. The sheriff had to get him quiet and he finally got him to go outside, but the show was one grand flop because the villain couldn't do his stuff after that, as villains should do.

Riding home through a rather stiff norther after the show was over, at the unearthly hour of 10:30, and still mad at the villain, didn't help the temper of the cowhands much, and for days and days afterwards, the stock gossip at the drugstore was, "That villain ought to be shot," or "I'll bet he is just as ornery as he was on the stage." Two or three posses collected, bent on tracking the actor down and investigating him, but nothing came of it. And so it was when the drama first came to town. The current Little Theatre players do not promise to move their audience to quite such an active extent as the troupers in "East Lynn" were able to convince the cowhands. Also they won't be leaving town right after the performance either and will be easy to catch in case someone wants to take issue with any "bad guys."

SURFERS IN BIG SPRING PLEASE NOTE

"I hope you do not think I am some kind of a nut," writes Peter J. Gornham, who lives in North Balgowlah, New South Wales, Australia.

No, Peter, you are certainly not a nut. On the contrary, it appears you are a perfectly normal 17-year-old.

Peter, in a letter to Frank Hardesly, postmaster, writes he hopes that the postmaster can help him find a person "preferably a girl," (with girl underlined) to correspond with in Big Spring. That seems to indicate a normalcy.

He is in the fifth form at the Balgowlah Boys High School, whatever that may mean education-wise.

His hobbies are (but not necessarily in the order named, one assumes) surfing, soccer, horseriding, pop music and (here's that word again) girls.

He does assert that his favorite hobby is surfing. If he finds a pen pal in Big Spring, it is very remote that her favorite hobby will be surfing. There is very little surfing done in this part of the country.

He is a member of the "Manly Pacific Surfriders club, which is the third best in Australia," he says.

"I have always wanted someone to write to in the United States," Peter concludes. "This is the only way I know to go about finding someone."

His official address is Peter J. Gornham, 3 Tottenham St., Nth. Balgowlah, N.S.W. Australia.

LEON WARD

Deputy At New Post

Leon Ward, who served as peace officer in Scurry County for seven years before moving here, has assumed his new duties as deputy sheriff in this county. He is to be stationed in Forsan, and has established a residence there for his wife and two sons. Sheriff A. N. Standard said that he is pleased to have an experienced man to assign to the Forsan community. Since he assumed office he said he has endeavored to provide a full time man for this part of the county.

Drinking Figures In Most Crashes

BOSTON (AP) — Drinking was a factor in most of the fatal, single-car accidents in Massachusetts this year, says an insurance firm representative.

Dr. George W. Wheatley, senior medical officer of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., said a study showed excessive drinking figured in 78 per cent of the 59 single-car fatalities between Jan. 1 and the end of September.

Stock Market Takes Beating

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took one of its worst beatings of the year this week as it fell for the third straight week.

Volume rose to 35,544,820 shares from 29,580,571 last week.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 29.90 to 744.32, the lowest level since Nov. 27, 1963, when it was 741.0. Monday's decline pushed the average below its previous yearly low of 767.03 made on Aug. 29. Some analysts believed this might be a support level, but it proved very fragile.

The week's decline was the worst since the week ended Aug. 20 when the Dow fell 35.91.

It was by far the worst week of 1966 for the once high-flying glamor stocks.

Xerox, beset by reports of increasing competition in the office copying field, plunged 42½ points to 132. Fairchild Camera lost 31¾ at 101¼. KLM Airlines lost 25¾ points, Burroughs 14¾, General Instrument 13¼, SCM Corp. 15¼, Pan American World Airways 9¾.

Of 1,574 issues traded this week, 1,292 fell and 191 rose. The downward pace was even faster, because it was so unanimous. On the rise, there was a rotation of stock to stock. They all did not advance together but they retreated together.

'WATCHDOG' AWARD TO REP. BURLERSON Texan (right) with H. Vernon Scott of Business Group

Business Group Honors Burleson For Economy

WASHINGTON — H. Vernon Scott, executive vice president, National Associated-Businessmen, Inc., presented Congressman Omar Burleson with the organization's "Watchdog of the Treasury Award" in honor of the Congressman's 100 per cent economy voting record for the 89th Congress, 1965-66.

In congratulating Burleson, Scott said, "Your outstanding economy voting record indicates to our membership that you have a keen realization of the problems of fiscal responsibility. I congratulate you on the courage you have shown in standing up to oppose those who are blind to the possibility of increasing the efficiency and the reduction in the scale of Federal programs. Your economy voting record is a constructive achievement of which you and your constituents can be justly proud."

Made up primarily of small business firms, the NAB is a non-partisan organization with headquarters in Washington. Its goals include fiscal responsibility in government and the elimination of the Federal Government from competition with business.

Burleson commented upon presentation of the Award, "The 'Watchdog of the Treasury' is not my self-designation, but I am pleased to have the recognition from the National Associated-Businessmen. It is clear to me that unless our Government practices greater fiscal responsibility, we face some real problems on down in the future."

Problems Of U.S. Cities To Be Shown To Students

During the Senate hearings on big city problems last August, Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty glared across the table at Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and snapped, "I don't need a lecture from you on how to run my city."

It was a tense moment in the proceedings during which Kennedy and Chairman Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut questioned the leaders of eight U.S. cities on their most pressing urban problems. Several important facts emerged:

That New York City, according to Mayor John Lindsay, would need $50 billion in the next ten years to become "a thoroughly livable and exciting place to live."

That Detroit, already a good example of urban renewal under Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh's prodding, would need another $15 billion.

That all the cities, according to New Haven's Mayor Richard C. Lee, would need more federal money. But, "Don't ask me to put a price tag on my suggestions. It is impossible." Clearly, our cities are in trouble. Urban problems run a full gamut in nearly every metropolis: slums, crime, air and water pollution, overcrowding, over-taxation. And if current population predictions come true, our problems are going to get worse.

This situation is spotlighted in CITIES, U.S.A., the second program in the "Special Report" filmstrip series. Intended as a teaching aid in secondary schools, this month's issue of "Special Report" will soon be distributed by The Herald.

What's wrong with our cities today? Where did the trouble begin? These questions are explored and answered by the filmstrip—in color photographs and charts, accompanied by a spoken narration.

CITIES, U.S.A. traces our urban areas to their beginnings—back in the Stone Age, when man lived in caves; during the Middle Ages, when he built walled cities; through the Industrial Revolution, when cities grew bigger than ever. And the filmstrip deals with Megalopolis, the great big cities of our most densely settled areas.

Several approaches to the problems are discussed: self-help from the cities, federal help from Washington, technical help from planners. And they are discussed in light of the fact that seven out of ten Americans now live in urban areas. By the year 2000, the figure may be nine out of ten.

CITIES, U.S.A. will be followed by six other filmstrips in the "Special Report" series. All programs will be forwarded to local schools by The Herald during the current academic term.

LITTLE BEING DONE TO HEAD OFF UNREST

Explosive Big City Riots Cost Money, Misery, Death

By HAL COOPER
NEW YORK (AP) — Idleness, despair, prejudice and teenage frustration combined into an explosive mixture in the big city slums of America this year.

The cost — in misery and money — was substantial. Racial disorder in and around Chicago; Cleveland; East New York, Detroit, San Francisco, Omaha, Atlanta and Dayton, Ohio, brought death to seven, injury to more than 400. Nearly 3,000 persons were arrested.

Home owners, store proprietors, building landlords, taxpayers and insurance companies faced bills totaling perhaps $5 million from arson, looting, vandalism, police and fire department overtime and the cost of mobilizing National Guardsmen.

There has been widespread speculation, particularly by political leaders, that the civil rights movement suffered incalculable damage. The riots apparently have given impetus to a white backlash which threatens to work against the Negro cause at the polls and to deprive civil rights organizations of white support.

RED RIOTS?

Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has announced that the committee will look into the possibility that Communists were active in the riots.

The inquiry, said Willis, will deal with "only one thing — planned and organized violence by subversive elements." He added, "We have no intention of investigating the civil rights movement or the opinions or positions of any individual or organization on the civil rights issue."

Events which triggered the riots ranged from trivial arguments in a Cleveland bar to the fatal shooting of a young Negro car thief suspect by a San Francisco policeman.

POLICE HATRED

Whatever the immediate cause, the outbreaks shared a background of unemployment, slum housing, inadequate recreational facilities, racial friction and deep-seated animosity toward the police.

All these factors figured in three disturbances in Chicago which left two dead, 200 injured, property damage of $2 million, a police overtime bill of $375,000 and a $346,326 tab for calling in National Guard troops to restore order.

One Chicago riot started with the shooting of a Puerto Rican youth by a policeman trying to break up a fight in a Puerto Rican neighborhood. A worse one developed because police turned off fire hydrants opened by Negro children during a heat wave. A third — by white residents — followed marches by Negro demonstrators demanding access to housing in white neighborhoods.

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., hit by a rock during the housing demonstrations, told newsmen, "I have never seen such hate — not in Mississippi or Alabama — as I see here in Chicago."

BAR ARGUMENT

An argument in a bar — police say they still don't know what it was about — escalated into a five-day riot in a Negro slum in Cleveland.

That disturbance ended with a Negro woman and three Negro men dead of gunfire, 46 persons injured, $500,000 property damage by arsonists and looters, $200,000 to pay for bringing in the National Guard, and an outlay of $227,281 for police and fire department overtime.

In Dayton, Ohio, a Negro was fatally wounded by a shotgun blast, possibly fired by whites from a passing car, possibly by another Negro.

In the uproar which followed, property damage from malicious destruction and looting totaled $250,000, police overtime $68,880, the cost of calling in the National Guard $53,581. There were 555 arrests and 42 persons went to hospitals with injuries.

30 INJURED

Atlanta, widely regarded as a model for municipal race relations in the South, had two riots — one after police shot a Negro car thief suspect, another after gunfire from a car hit two Negro youths, killing one. In all, more than 30 persons were injured.

Omaha was the scene of two outbreaks involving Negro juveniles. The first started when police closed off a lot where Fourth of July fireworks were being set off in the early morning hours. The second resulted from the fatal shooting of a Negro youth fleeing from the scene of a burglary.

Looters and arsonists damaged 41 Omaha stores. There were 150 arrests. It cost $36,700 for National Guardsmen and $35,000 in police overtime to restore the peace.

In San Francisco, a policeman shot and killed a Negro boy running away from a stolen car. In three days of rioting property damage ran to $82,053, there were 359 arrests and 42 were injured. The cost of police overtime and alerting 5,400 National Guardsmen remained to be tallied.

RACIAL FLAREUP

Detroit was the scene of a ricial flareup when police clashed with a group of young Negroes loitering on a street. During a two-month period, incidents developed in five other Michigan cities — Lansing, Benton Harbor, Jackson, Muskegon and Ypsilanti.

A total of 229 were arrested, one killed, 43 injured and more than $250,000 spent for National Guard troops and police overtime. Property damage amounted to tens of thousands of dollars.

Wisconsin had a new twist in civil rights protests: two weeks of demonstrations by Negroes objecting to membership of white public officials in the all-Caucasian Fraternal Order of Eagles. A dozen persons were arrested in Milwaukee and Wauwatosa on disorderly conduct charges. The cost of police overtime and the services of the National Guard was $26,000.

What is being done to head off similar unrest when the mercury soars again next summer? In the view of Negro leaders, too little, too late.

In Chicago, 250,000 persons, most of them Negroes, are taking part in such projects as the federally-sponsored Head Start educational program for children of preschool age and the Urban Career Corps for teenagers.

UNEMPLOYMENT

The Chicago Committee on Urban Opportunity persuaded 122 Negro youth gang leaders to discuss their problems and try to work out solutions.

Mayor Richard J. Daley established it as city policy that housing everywhere is available to Negroes.

But one of Chicago's biggest headaches, Negro unemployment, continues acute. The Chicago Urban League says 11.6 per cent of the Negro labor force is jobless, compared with only 4.7 per cent of the white labor force of 1,400,000.

Cleveland set up emergency job centers in an attempt to relieve unemployment in the Negro slums. Work was found for 300, but employers rejected 600 applicants who failed written or oral tests.

Still jobless were about five per cent of the 200,000 Negro workers in the Cleveland area.

TREADMILL

The city inaugurated a $500,000 program to improve slum street lighting, repair pavements and set up a 13-acre playground. A group of citizens announced plans to transform an abandoned theater into a youth recreation center.

In Atlanta, Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. said 80 per cent of the city's slums had been eliminated in the past 10 years.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, Oct. 9, 1966 5-A

"But remember," he said, "we're running almost on a treadmill. We are receiving each year about 50,000 new residents and many of them are coming from rural areas, shanties and illiterate backgrounds, and pouring into the slums."

Negro unemployment is low — around 2.5 per cent — in Atlanta. But about 50 per cent of Negro families have income of $3,000 or less per year. Only 20 per cent of Atlanta white families are on this level.

LITTLE HOPE

Omaha has opened a big recreational center in a Negro section, extended the open hours of public swimming pools, turned a number of vacant lots into playgrounds and established a branch office of the State Employment Service to cater to Negro needs.

Douglas Stewart, director of the Omaha Urban League, estimates 10 to 12 per cent of the city's Negroes still are looking for work.

Negro and civil rights leaders have expressed little hope that measures so far taken will prove effective.

Wing Comptroller Gets Viet Nam Assignment

Lt. Col. Julian B. Baird, wing comptroller at Webb AFB, is slated for his third assignment in a war zone.

The veteran of World War II and the Korean campaigns has been tapped out as the Air Force comptroller advisor to the Vietnamese Air Force. He will leave here Oct. 16 for Washington, D.C. and a four-week refresher, then will be home briefly before going overseas on about Dec. 6.

Since he arrived here in 1962 from Anchorage, the colonel has been extremely active in church and civic affairs in Big Spring as well as directing the fiscal affairs at Webb. At the moment, he is heading up the United Fund appeal at the base and serves as a UF trustee.

Col. Baird has been a director of the YMCA since coming here and was a member of its championship team in the West Texas Invitational Handball tournament. He is song leader for the Rotary Club, is a past vice president of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association, has served as the commander's representative on the Boy Scout Eagle Board of Review. At the First Baptist Church he has been a member and officer of the choir, has served as an adult department superintendent until recently when he became adult coordinator of the entire church.

A native of Fort Worth, Col. Baird took his degree in music and education from Texas Wesleyan College in 1940 and after three months as a teacher-band director at Goldthwaite, he volunteered as an aviation cadet, training at Ryan School of Aeronautics in Lamore, Calif., and Mather AFB in Sacramento, getting his wings and commission in May, 1942.

After B-25 training at Columbia, S.C., he went overseas to New Guinea where he commanded the 499th bomber squadron—the "Bats out of Hell" unit of the 345th Bomber Group. With 51 combat missions behind him, he was dispatched to Greenville, S. C. He commanded ROTC training units at Auburn and Duke Universities for four years, was deputy commander of the 437th Troop Carrier Wing in Japan during the Korean conflict. Back home he commanded the 2469th Air Reserve Flying training program for Missouri and Illinois at Scott AFB. Then he turned to the comptroller career field and was at Donelson, S. C. with the 63rd troop carrier wing which supplied the South Pole deep freeze expedition. From there he went to Eilson AFB at Fairbanks, Alaska, from whence he came to Webb. Mrs. Baird is the former Perle Smith of Wichita Falls. They have three children, Wayne, a junior in Texas A&M University; Linda, a freshman at Baylor University; and Nancy, a junior in Big Spring High School. Members of the family have been about as active in community affairs as Col. Baird.

LT. COL. J. B. BAIRD

Wide Registration Underway For Downtown Celebration

More downtown business firms have joined in the joint prize-award program of next Saturday, when ceremonies will be held marking the "Operation Sparkle" completion of a new block on Main Street.

In addition to prizes running in value to about $3,000 given by separate stores, there will be cash awards at the special Saturday morning ceremony. Registration for the latter—in the amount of $100, $75 and $75—can be done at all downtown district stores.

Registration for individual store gifts are done at each of the establishments. There is no obligation, and registration is under way now.

All establishments have marked containers and the tickets for registration.

Wife Shot To Death

HOUSTON (AP)—A New Orleans man shot his wife to death here Saturday, then committed suicide, police said. A neighborhood girl, 10, saw the shootings.

Officers said the victims were Merlin Ruffin Jr., 24, and Mrs. Sylvia Ruffin, 25. They were found in a home owned by Mrs. Ruffin.

Police quoted the little girl, who spent the night at Mrs. Ruffin's home, as saying Ruffin pleaded with Mrs. Ruffin early Saturday to return to New Orleans with him.

When she refused, officers said, Ruffin shot her two times in the head, then fired a bullet into his own temple.

Detectives said Mrs. Ruffin and three of her children had been staying here the past three weeks.

Mass Marriage Event Planned

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP)—Two hundred couples belonging to the Ismaili Moslem sect headed by Aga Khan IV are planning marriage at mass ceremonies their Harvard-educated spiritual leader will conduct on a tour of Tanzania. The first ceremony will unite 100 couples in Dar es Salaam's Jamathama Mosque soon after his arrival Oct. 25.

Eleven Feared Dead In Crash

HOUMA, La. (AP)—A civilian helicopter plunged into the choppy Gulf of Mexico Saturday apparently killing the 11 persons aboard.

"There are no survivors as far as we can tell," said Frank Lee, an official of Petroleum Helicopter Co., a firm that ferries offshore workers between Gulf rigs and the mainland.

Lee said debris was sighted at the crash scene, about 60 miles south of Marsh Island. The helicopter, a Bell-204, had picked up ten workers from a rig during the afternoon. It was bound for Morgan City in St. Mary Parish (county).

Quartermasters and other all company helicopters searched the crash scene until after darkness.

Witnesses from other offshore platforms said they saw the big helicopter go down shortly after picking up the workers.

Lee said a passenger list would be released probably Sunday.

Ambulance Service Need May Be Heard By County

Whether a copy of the opinion of the attorney general relative to use of county funds to provide ambulance service arrives here by Monday will probably decide whether the topic comes up for discussion before the Howard County Commissioners Court.

Some time ago, the court, approached by the city officials and by the operators of the Big Spring Ambulance Service asked County Attorney Dee Jon Davis to query the state attorney general.

The court was not absolutely opposed to helping to meet the crisis caused by abandonment of emergency ambulance runs but it did want to know where it stands legally before making a commitment.

Davis' query to the attorney general was not answered directly but an opinion given to the county attorney of Brown County on an identical question was announced last week.

In that opinion, the attorney general held it was entirely legal for a county to operate its own ambulance service or to join with a municipality in operation of such service if it is needed for the health and welfare of the community.

Meantime, the police department here is operating a makeshift ambulance for emergency runs created by modifying a fire department station wagon. This was done when the discussion between the operators of the Big Spring Ambulance Service and the city over the handling of emergency runs stalled and the service was stopped.

Preparations are being finalized for the "grand opening" of the first phase of a general downtown overhaul of streets, sidewalks and pedestrian crossing beautification.

There will be music by the Big Spring High School band; presentation of Miss Junior Big Spring; a precision drill in baton twirling by the Sweetwaterettes, a group of 42 girls from Sweetwater; and the traditional ribbon cutting.

Lamesa Grocery Has Fire Damage

LAMESA (SC)—An early morning fire, believed to have been caused by a lighted cigarette left smoldering in trash, caused more than $5,000 damage to the White Grocery on South Dallas at 7:30 a.m. Saturday. The fire was discovered before Winfred White, owner, had arrived to open the store for the day's business. Three fire trucks were called to the scene according to Fire Chief Luther Standefer. He said the damage was covered by insurance.

R. M. Medford Rites Sunday

LAMESA (SC)—Services for Robert Morris Medford, 61, farmer, will be at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Second Baptist Church. Burial will be in the Lamesa Memorial Park. The Rev. C. A. Hardin, interim pastor of the church, will officiate assisted by the Rev. H. L. Bingham, pastor of the Klondike Baptist Church. Brannon-Phillips Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Medford, who came to Dawson County, 39 years ago from Avery, died at 10:30 p.m. Friday at the Medical Arts Hospital. He had been in ill health for some time. He was born April 27, 1905 in Red River County. He farmed in the Ten Mile Community on the Stanton road.

Survivors include his wife, Grace; one daughter, Mrs. Lula Jean Nichols, Mesquite; one son, Robert Joe Medford, Lamesa; two stepsons, Harlan C. Hargrove, Lubbock; and Jeff Williams, Midland; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Lovina Williams, Lamesa; three sisters, Mrs. Velma Ford, Amarillo; Mrs. Grances Davidson, Anona, and Miss Mary Louise Medford, Abilene; five brothers, Bailey Medford, Texarkana; Leon Medford, Amarillo; James Medford, Roseburg, Ore.; Vernard Medford, Bakersfield, Calif.; and Joel E. Medford, Avery. There are four grandchildren.

Rain is forecast Sunday in Gulf Coast region, mid-Mississippi Valley, Northern Plains with rain and snow flurries in parts of Plateau region. It'll be cooler in Northern Plains

Court Split Widens

WASHINGTON (AP)—The gap between the liberal and conservative wings of the Supreme Court widened during the tribunal's last term, the American Jewish Congress said Saturday.

But it said liberal justices still were clearly in the majority, their position solidified by the voting record of freshman Justice Abe Fortas. The findings were in the 10th annual summary and analysis of the high court's civil rights and civil liberties decisions issued by the organization. Founded in 1918 by Justice Louis D. Brandeis and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, it describes its objectives as strengthening Jewish life and advancing human rights.

Under review were 45 civil rights and civil liberties decisions handed down during the 1965-66 term which ended in June. In 36, the report said, the rulings were favorable to the individual invoking his constitutional rights.

This 80 per cent figure, the Jewish Congress said, was in line with the two preceding terms.

But, the report said, in those terms "there had been a trend toward the blurring of demarcation between the liberal and conservative wings of the court." It added that last term the gap "opened somewhat," though it "is still narrow compared with earlier years."

Four of 11 civil rights cases were decided with split decisions, the report said, and in a fifth, four justices disagreed with the result although they did not dissent formally.

"The sharpening of the division within the court is also seen," the report said, "in the increase this year of the number of 5-to-4 votes that adhered closely to liberal-conservative lines."

In the 1963-64 term there were five 5-4 decisions, three of them in the liberal-conservative pattern, the congress said. In the 1964-65 term it found three 5-4 votes, only one of them in the pattern. But in the past year, it found seven cases decided 5 to 4, five of them in the pattern.

Crash Kills Two Teens

CAMERON, Tex. (AP)—Two teenagers died Saturday of injuries suffered in a one-car crash on Farm 2265 near here. Two others were injured.

Kathleen Matula, 14, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Matula of Austin, and Eugene Tucker, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tucker of Aransas Pass, died at a hospital.

Injured and in fair condition were Rita Matula, 15, sister of the dead girl, and Michael Maddox, 15.

Ex-Olympic Champ Freed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Gen. Humberto Mariles, a former Olympic equestrian champion, may soon be let out of jail by order of the court that tried him in the slaying of a construction worker.

A. Aguilar y Quevedo, an attorney representing Mariles, said he expects the court to free his client in time for Christmas, since, he said, it has been established that Mariles killed the worker in self defense.

Jesus Velasquez Mendez, the worker, died while being treated in a hospital for gun wounds. Quevedo said he died due to "improper medical attention" and thus absolves his client from guilt.

Mariles, who won international honors in riding events including an Olympic gold medal shot Velasquez Aug. 14, 1964, in Chapultepec Park following a minor traffic incident.

After the shooting Mariles fled from the hospital and escaped to Texas where he later gave himself up, and was returned here for trial.

would not be too severe to the crop. W. W. Curl, president of the Texas Citrus Mutual, said there would be little droppage from limbs because much of the fruit still is small.

1933 DISASTER Curl said the backlash from Carla, another major hurricane, caused little damage to the crop in 1961.

The last disastrous hurricane for citrus growers in the Valley was in 1933, Curl said.

The Coast Guard spokesman at Port Isabel said he had noted no one securing their boats as is normally done when hurricane damage is feared.

Another major coastal city to the north of Brownsville is Corpus Christi with 200,000 persons.

Weather Bureau station personnel at Brownsville is being beefed up for possible difficulties. Additional Weather Bureau men were en route to Brownsville from Washington, D.C., said Ernest Vice of the Brownsville weather station.

FULL OF BOATS John Hardee, owner of J. R. Hardee Shrimp Co. at Brownsville, said the 10 shrimp boats of his fleet are in the Brownsville shrimp basin.

"The shrimp basin is full of boats, and some are going to the main Brownsville ship channel and some to the interior waters of the Arroyo Colorado (a waterway from the Gulf to Port Harlingen in the interior)," said Hardee.

Hardee said he knew of no shrimpers very far out in the gulf today. "They're about all in," he said. "At least it looks that way." He said the basin would be virtually empty today if the weather had been different.

"We'd all be out in the gulf if it wasn't for Inez," he said. "The Navy sent an 'early warning squadron' of 28 fliers and men to Corpus Christi to maintain a check on the storm."

THE WEEK

With 3,000 acres in the dam site area added by condemnation suits last week, the Colorado River Municipal Water District is about two-thirds of the way along on its land requirements for its new lake northwest of Robert Lee.

A jury of view commission Friday came in with a total award of $433,540 to the Simpson Estate for 2,410 acres on the eastern flank of the dam and basin. Another 294.25 acres belonging to Marvin and Bill Simpson upstream drew $64,997.

Earlier in the week, an award of $89,590 was made to Weldon Gordon for 369.4 acres. Only one other suit is now on file and that is for the gravel lease interest of Cecil Montgomery, who operates a pit near the river bridge two miles northwest of Robert Lee.

O. H. Ivie, general manager for the CRMWD, said that about 6,000 acres are yet to be obtained. About 10 land owners, and the remainder between two large land holders. He was hopeful that these could be settled soon.

Contract for the big dam across the river was awarded last week to Clement Bros. of Hickory, N. C., for $8,866,440. Field crews for Freese, Nichols and Endress, project engineers, NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Doris Duke's physician said Saturday night he could not permit police to question the tobacco heiress about the accident in which her car killed a male friend until "possibly" late Sunday morning or afternoon.

Dr. Phillip C. McAllister, county medical examiner and Miss Duke's acting physician, said that "on the ordinary ground of humanity, anyone should be left alone under these circumstances until he's had a chance to compose himself."

RICHEST Miss Duke, one of the world's richest women, was at the wheel of a station wagon late Friday, when it crushed to death Eduardo Tirella, 42, a Dover, N.J., interior decorator and longtime friend of Miss Duke's.

Tirella was crushed against the massive iron gates at the entrance of Miss Duke's $2,000,000 Bellevue Avenue estate, when the station wagon shot forward while Tirella was opening the gates.

ONLY WITNESS Miss Duke, 53, the only witness to the accident, was found wandering along the street, bleeding from facial cuts.

Dr. McAllister said Saturday night that she was under sedation and in good condition.

Dr. McAllister said about 30 very fine stitches were required to close a three-inch cut below her lip and a smaller cut on the lip itself.

Tirella, 42, is reported to have resided at various Duke estates off and on for the past 10 years. He reportedly was a set designer in Hollywood. Among the small parts in motion pictures he played was a minor one in "The Sandpiper" starring Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton.

'Smallest' Baby Bounces Back

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Janice Rose Teague, one of the smallest babies ever to live past birth, received a blood transfusion Friday after having difficulty breathing.

The premature baby, who weighed 16 1/2 ounces at her lowest ebb, is "looking better and taking food" and now weighs 20 ounces, a Brackenridge hospital spokesman said Saturday.

Janice Rose weighed 21 1/2 ounces—her weight at birth—before the siege of respiratory trouble Thursday and Friday said Mrs. Mary Holman, nursing supervisor at the hospital.

Mrs. Holman said the baby born three months prematurely Aug. 30, lost weight at the end of the week because doctors kept her off food. A full stomach would put dangerous pressure on her tiny lungs during her breathing difficulty, she said.

The transfusion, difficult to administer to a premature baby, was necessary to strengthen Janice Rose, Mrs. Holman said. "extreme anemia in premature babies is not unusual," she said.

Janice Rose, daughter of 20-year-old laborer Floyd Teague and his 18-year-old wife, is still listed in critical condition, Mrs. Holman said. Doctors still expect the tiny child to remain in the hospital for several months. A hospital spokesman said recently that Janice Rose "is the smallest baby born here since records have been maintained and to my knowledge is the smallest baby that has lived in history."

Thousands Nurse Big Headaches In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—The sprawling, multi-entertainment State Fair of Texas opened Saturday and by the time it closes 16 days from now an estimated three million persons will have passed through the gates.

Among that three million were 75,504 who saw the Texas-Oklahoma football game Saturday, a good many nursing headaches from too much pre-game celebrating. The celebrating, if you can call it that, centered Friday night beginning shortly after dusk at Commerce and Akard.

TRADITIONAL RALLY
It is the traditional rally center for Oklahoma fans, although police said they saw just about as many automobiles with Austin license plates as ones from Oklahoma, and still more from Dallas itself. It turned into one of the usual nightmares. A police executive declined to call it the worst ever but he did say, "It was bad."

Long after sunup, street cleaners and businessmen still were sweeping broken liquor bottles and beer cans from Commerce Street for the parade officially opening the fair.

Many store windows were broken and boarded up during the night.

310 ARRESTED
At least 310 persons were arrested on misdemeanor charges and released Saturday morning so they could attend the game. Another 110 were treated at the city-county hospital for injuries, mostly minor. A total of 44 false fire alarms were turned in. An Alabama couple, trying to get out of town, took the wrong turn and drove into the melee. They called the police department.

IS THIS A RIOT?
"There's some sort of riot down here," the man reported. "I've never seen anything like it in my life. Is it like this every night in Dallas?" "Yes," the dispatcher replied calmly, "It's like this every Friday night—before the Texas-O.U. game."

But with the big rally over fairgoers could settle down to being entertained, enthralled, and in most cases exhausted by an array of exhibits, shows, midway rides and football games.

Crash Flames Claim Five

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Five Albuquerque teenagers were killed early Saturday when their car hit a parked truck on an Albuquerque street and burned.

The victims were four boys and a girl. All were burned beyond recognition.

The dead were tentatively identified as: Marion Jaramillo, 19; Daniel Jaramillo, 14; Bonaficio Espinoza, 16; Richard Arias, 16; and Vera Rael, 18. Officers said the car traveled with two wheels on the median divider for 800 feet, turned over on its side and skidded backward into the parked truck. The collision knocked the truck into a pole, knocking out power in the area for a short time. The death vehicle burst into flames.

PILL BINGE Texas Bus Passengers Terrorized

CHILDRESS, Tex. (AP)—A paroled Pennsylvania terrorized 36 bus passengers late Friday with a gun that shot only blanks before state police colored him after the wild 30-mile ride. They filed assault with intent to rob charges against John Frederick Klotz, 26, paroled from the Slippery Rock, Pa. prison where he had served part of an armed robbery sentence. No one was injured, although the mumbling man at times held the weapon to the head of Miss Linda Doake, 18, a Job Corps worker from Meers, Okla., and pointed the pistol at driver James V. Warren, 27, of Fort Worth.

GIRL SEIZED Officers ended the moments of terror five miles outside this town in the southeast corner of the Texas Panhandle. The man had seized the girl, saying he would shoot her unless officers furnished him a car. Warren said Klotz "kept mumbling that they had no right to be after him, he hadn't done anything wrong in the state. And then he said 'These pills have got me all shook up and I need a drink—benzadrine makes me thirsty'."

Warren said Klotz "kept mumbling that they had no right to be after him, he hadn't done anything wrong in the state. And then he said 'These pills have got me all shook up and I need a drink—benzadrine makes me thirsty'."

"I kept him talking so he would stay where he was instead of going back among the passengers, because my primary concern was for them," the Continental Trailways driver said. Leon Sanders left the bus 30 miles northwest of here at Memphis and told officers the man sitting next to him was acting strangely. As the bus moved southeastward along US 287, Klotz approached Warren.

GOING TO KILL "He said he had a gun wrapped in a black sweater and if he had any trouble he was going to kill somebody," the driver said. Miss Doake and Klotz both boarded the bus in Albuquerque. She told of a stop at Amarillo's bus station. "He sat one chair away from me and started mumbling," she said. "When I looked over at him, he said, 'I'm not talking to you.' When they announced the bus, he took my arm and said he was going to walk me to it."

Three Bids Due On Ambulances One proposal has been received and possibly two more are coming to the city for emergency ambulance service. City Manager Larry Crow said Saturday that he had one such proposal in hand. Another bidder had indicated he would make an offer, and a third had previously indicated that he would submit a bid. If the offers come in by Tuesday, the matter will be submitted to the city commission at its Tuesday evening session. If not, then a meeting will be called later in the week to consider the proposals, he said. When Big Spring Ambulance Service withdrew from the emergency field, the city bridged the gap temporarily with a fire department station wagon for use only in dire emergencies. Meanwhile, proposals were sought, and at the same time the state's attorney general ruled that counties could team with cities for emergency service or could provide an ambulance service on their own. The commissioners will get this report Monday.

More Gifts Two more contributions boosted the Bible class fund near the $3,100 mark. These were $10 gifts from Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hollis and from the Ruth Class of the North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church. The total given in voluntary contributions is $3,098.65.

County Jury Docket Set Judge Lee Porter, Howard County court, will qualify a jury panel at 1 p.m. Monday to proceed with trial of a long list of criminal cases and lower court appeal cases. Last week, several pleas of guilty and the passing of a number of cases eliminated the need for jurors. Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said that several cases on the docket are tentatively slated to go on trial Monday afternoon or Tuesday. Cases on the docket originally slated for Monday name the following defendants: Alvis M. Allcorn, DWI; Leonard T. Jason, DWI; Tommie Royce Thornton, DWI. Cases set for Tuesday: Ismael Juarez, carrying arms; Alexander Bates, DWI; Elaine Clark, DWI; Elvir Lee Gilbert, DWI; Monroe L. Johnson, DWI; Jimmie Hill Jr., DWI. Wednesday's cases: Lloyd A. Morgan, fraudulently obtaining unemployment compensation; John Overton, DWI; Jerry W. Derrington, DWI; Elton K. Bland, DWI; Joe M. Smith, DWI; William H. Mesker, worthless check; Eldon A. Byrd, DWI.

Funeral Rites For Miss Nall Services for Miss Johnnie Nall, 58, of 1400 Main Street, a native of Big Spring, were held Saturday at 4 p.m. in the Nalley - Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Burial was in the City Cemetery. The Rev. Harold Rucker, assistant pastor of First Methodist Church officiated. Nalley-Pickle was in charge of arrangements. Miss Nall, who had been in ill health for five years, died at her residence on Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. She was born Jan. 28, 1908, in Big Spring, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nall. She attended public schools here and was a long time member of First Methodist Church. Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Todd Crain and Mrs. E. L. Nalley, both of San Angelo, and Mrs. Abe Bailey, Big Spring; one brother, J. B. (Buck) Nall, Roswell, N. M. She has several nieces and nephews. Pallbearers were Doris Miers, R. W. Holbrook, Freddie Watt, Harry Harp, Herschel Petty and William K. Bolding.

Law Academy In Magazine The Southwest Academy of Law Enforcement, now in its seventh session at Howard County Junior College, is the subject of an article in the October issue of "Texas Lawmen," official journal of the Sheriff's Association of Texas. All details of the organization and operation of the academy in giving 160 hours of basic training to law enforcement officers is discussed. A&M College furnishes many of the instructors, as well as the FBI and local police department. HCJC furnishes quarters for the school, and the fees are $50 per person.

Post Office To Help You Record Zip Code Digits You may know your own Zip Code number but how about the Zip Code for Aunt Susan who lives in Plunkville? Or Cousin Newt out in Los Angeles? The post office department wants every patron to use the Zip Codes—they speed up handling of mail, it claims. But the department realizes it is not easy to remember all of the zip numbers for the people you write most often. So the post office, according to Frank Hardesty, postmaster, plans to do something about it. Starting Monday, the 11,314 patrons of the Big Spring post office will find special cards in their mail boxes. These cards will be plainly stamped "no postage needed." The cards have blank spaces where the patron writes down the addresses most often used and for which the individual do not have proper Zip Code numbers. The patron is asked to fill in a good time to get this information with only a few short weeks until Christmas-card and present-mailing time arrives. Hardesty suggested this is a good time to get this information with only a few short weeks until Christmas-card and present-mailing time arrives.

Post Office To Help You Record Zip Code Digits (Continued) The proper zip number inserted for each of the addresses listed. Then it will be returned to patron. Hardesty stressed that only addresses are needed—not the names of the person in those cities to whom the patron writes. Zip Codes, he said, represent postal delivery areas and not individuals. From this date through Oct. 15, the post offices of the nation will send out 95 million of these cards. In cities (such as Big Spring) where only one Zip Code applies, only one card will be sent to each patron. In cities where there are several Zip Codes, as many cards as are needed will be left in the mail boxes. The number here is 79720. In rural areas in the Big Spring community, since only one Zip Code number applies here, only a card for out-of-town addresses will be delivered to the patrons. Hardesty suggested this is a good time to get this information with only a few short weeks until Christmas-card and present-mailing time arrives.

Texas Senate Candidates Start Tossing Brickbats

By The Associated Press Texas U.S. Senate candidates began the week with culture and ended it with brickbats.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Sen. John Tower opened the week's campaigning Monday by attending the opening of Houston's Jesse Jones Hall for the Performing Arts. This was just a temporary respite in a week in which each man sought votes by lashing out at his opponent's qualifications. Democrat Carr, in a statement issued in Austin, accused Republican Tower of voting against administration bills "just to obstruct Democratic legislation regardless of value and meaning."

PRO PROMISER Tower called Carr "a professional promiser who must run to the telephone before he casts his vote on matters affecting the strength and vitality of our state."

In Richmond, Carr said that Tower's Senate record shows he has "been the man who wasn't there," missing 538 out of 1,822 roll calls and quorum calls between June 16, 1961, and Sept. 22, 1966. Tower shot back two days later.

er in Corpus Christi that he is "a man who has honestly tried to serve faithfully in the United States Senate for six years" while Carr is "a professional candidate who is so terribly weak that he cannot even stand on his own two feet in the political arena."

The attorney general and Tower both continued to hammer on the inflation issue and the Viet Nam war.

COOL ECONOMY Carr said that while the administration tries to hold down expenditures to cool off the economy, Tower has voted to spend $3.5 billion more than was requested. Tower said he has voted to cut $7 billion from federal budgets since 1961.

Tower defended himself against Carr's criticism that he took up valuable military time on his two visits to Viet Nam by saying: "I think we on the Armed Services Committee should use every possible means to inform ourselves on the Viet Nam war where our boys are fighting and dying."

Speaking in Amarillo, Carr attacked Republicans who have suggested President Johnson should postpone his Southeast Asian peace mission until after the congressional elections. "If the President's trip can save one day of warfare for our boys in Viet Nam, it is well worth the effort, and I believe most thinking people are angered by such an obvious politically-inspired suggestion," Carr said.

Tower said in Wichita Falls he would like to know where Carr stands on keeping open housing bills and repeal of so-called "right to work" laws from coming to a vote. He said he voted against cloture on both measures in the Senate, thereby helping to thwart a vote on them.

LBJ HAILED Carr praised President Johnson's Far Eastern trip in a speech at Wichita Falls. He said the President was "seeking an honorable peace." He criticized the group of Republican congressmen who had asked Johnson to delay the trip until after the elections.

Carr said he had "never seen a more vivid example" of trying "to use the war and sacrifice of our men for political purposes" than the request made by the Republicans.

Carr told a rally of women Democrats in Grand Prairie he supports foreign aid to friendly nations who want to help themselves, but would oppose waste in such programs. He said Tower's votes against foreign aid bills also were against Texas farmers, whose products are bought for the food for peace program.

Dr. Peale Will Speak In Andrews

ANDREWS — Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, world renowned religious leader and author and known as a "Minister to Millions," will be the featured speaker at the Andrews County Chamber of Commerce Banquet here Jan. 12.

Gerald McCaskill, president of the Chamber of Commerce, made the announcement late Friday. He said that tickets for the banquet will go on sale soon and "we urge everyone to reserve tickets early because we have only limited space at the high school and we are sure hundreds of persons from this area will want to hear Dr. Peale." Tickets are $4.

'Bonanza' Still Has Spotlight

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There was no panic at Ponderosa two weeks ago when "Bonanza" failed to beat an opposing program for the first time in six years. After all, the program was the three-hour "Bridge on the River Kwai," which cost Ford $1,800,000 to present. The "Bonanza" bunch figured correctly that the Sunday night audience would return to the Chevrolet corral.

since no sponsor could afford such a stipend on a regular basis. FLEMING STARS "Bonanza" continued its winning ways last Sunday with a two-parter concerning Mormon polygamy, "The Pursued." The second half appears Sunday. It stars Dina Merrill and Eric Fleming, who was drowned last week on a Peruvian film location. Two-partners — which are released overseas as movies — and occasional "name" guest stars are the only departures from the customary format of "Bonanza." The man who dictates these conditions is David Dortort, who created the series and has guided it as producer since its start. SOLID JOB His view of the show's success: "Bonanza" is more than a Western. It has a far greater range of story than other Westerns, yet it has enough of the elements to appeal to the Western buff. But the compelling reason for continuing supremacy of "Bonanza" in the audience polls, Dortort admitted, is the surefire appeal of the leads: Lorne Greene, Dan Blocker and Michael Landon. "The combination of actors is unique and successful," said the producer. "Each developed as a separate personality — Lorne as the father figure; Dan as the hearty, solid older brother; Mike as the impetuous younger brother. The boys do a solid job. Each knows his own character and its limitations, and they won't let writers or directors go too far afield."

The Blow That Won The Game

Paul Blair races towards first base Saturday after smashing a towering 430-foot home run over the left field fence in the fifth inning to give the Baltimore Orioles a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers for their third straight World Series victory. The blow was one of only three Oriole hits. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Blair, Bunker Team Up In O's Victory

BALTIMORE (AP) — Paul Blair and Wally Bunker, two California schoolboys who escaped the Los Angeles Dodgers net, led the Baltimore Orioles to a third straight World Series victory over the feeble Dodgers Saturday, 1-0, extending their scoreless drought to 24 innings.

Blair, the only man to pass first base against Claude Osteen, went all the way with a 430-foot home run into the left field bleachers in the fifth. It was the last of the three Baltimore hits.

Bunker, picking up where Moe Drabowsky and Jim Palmer left off, mystified the Dodgers with a six-hit shutout.

Baltimore's largest baseball crowd, 54,445, enjoyed the city's first World Series game in bright, warm sunshine at Memorial Stadium.

The defeat left the hapless Dodgers stretched over the ropes, ready for the knockout blow, possibly in a fourth straight game Sunday afternoon. No club in history ever has come back to win after losing the first three.

Blair, a slight 6-foot-170-pounder who has been platooned in center field with Russ Snyder, hammered Osteen's first pitch into the left field customer's with two out in the fifth.

Born in Cushing, Okla., but brought up in Los Angeles where he was a schoolboy star at Manual Arts High, Blair was passed up at a Dodger tryout camp and signed with the New York Mets in 1962, only to be lost to Baltimore when he was not protected in the draft.

Bunker, on the disabled list from July 27 to Aug. 15 due to tendonitis in his right elbow, was in control all the way, struck out six Dodgers and walked only one. Wes Parker's double to center was the only extra base hit.

The slumping Dodgers now have not scored since the third inning of Wednesday's opening game at Los Angeles. Drabowsky blanked them with one hit for 6-2-3 relief innings, and Palmer shut them out Thursday with four hits.

Bunker's string of nine made it 24 shutout frames, only four short of the Series record of 28 set by the New York Giants in 1905 against the Philadelphia A's.

It was the best since the 26 by the Cincinnati Reds against the old Chicago White Sox in the scandalous Black Sox Series of 1919.

The successive shutouts of Palmer and Bunker belied the critics who had made the Dodgers the favorites at the start of the Series on their pitching strength and the poor complete game record of the Orioles staff.

Instead, the Dodgers have not had a complete game while each of the regular starters—Don Drysdale, Sandy Koufax and Osteen—has gone down the drain.

Ironically, this was the first shutout of the season for Bunker, a former star at Capuchino High School in San Bruno, Calif., who signed an Orioles contract for a reported $75,000 bonus in 1963. This was his third year in the majors.

Walter Alston of the Dodgers shook up his line-up for his first game at Baltimore after the damaging six-error performance in the second game.

Hitless Jim Gilliam went to the bench and weak hitting John Kennedy took over at third base. It didn't do any good. The Dodgers didn't make any errors this time, but they also didn't score any runs.

Hank Bauer's Orioles thus were in the position to close this Series out in four straight Sunday.

The last American League team to do that trick was the New York Yankees of 1950 against the Philadelphia Phillies. The last time it was done in Series play was by the Dodgers against the Yanks in 1963. Only nine Series have ended in four games.

Willie Davis, the goat of the second game with his record breaking three errors in one inning, came up three times with a man on second base.

In the fourth, he followed Parker, who had doubled, but flied out to Blair. After Maury Wills singled for his first Series hit and took second on an infield out in the sixth, Willie moved him to third with a long fly to Blair.

13-10 PICKS

RENO, Nev. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles were made 13-10 favorites Saturday to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in the fourth game Sunday and make a 4-0 sweep of the World Series.

There was no price on the Series. Baltimore was a prohibitive favorite.

Barren Graves' Dog Wins Top Spot In Field Trial

In the Permian Bird Dog and Sportsman Club "shoot to kill" field trial held Saturday north-east of town, a pointer named Jack, belonging to Barren Graves of the Flying G Sports ranch, emerged as the winner.

Runner-up was George Allison's Rusty, a Brittany dog. Allison resides in Sweetwater.

Big Springer Lee Freeze watched his pointer, Pat, grab off third place while a German shorthair named Tom, owned by Jerry Graves of the Flying G

Fired-Up Sooners Sink Texas, 18-9

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Four field goals by Texan Mike Vachon ended eight years of frustration for Oklahoma Saturday and the Sooners beat Texas 18-9 to 9 to roll on undefeated and untied in three games.

The Amarillo, Tex., sophomore booted field goals of 31, 43, 20 and 41 yards to set a record for this historic college football series—this was the 61st game.

Texas took the lead on a 25-yard field goal by David Conway in the opening minutes, but Bob Warmack, the sophomore Oklahoma quarterback, passed 35 yards to Ron Shotts and Shotts ran 22 to furnish the big plays of a 55-yard touchdown drive. Oklahoma never trailed

Southall's Aerial Ends Hog Streak

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Terry Southall's 21-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Green with 4:48 remaining gave Baylor a 7-0 Southwest Conference football victory over fourth-ranked Arkansas Saturday, snapping the nation's longest regular season winning streak.

Southall directed his fired up Bears on a 46-yard march in five plays that ended a defensive struggle.

Baylor used its defense, led by Dwight Hood, Greg Pipes and David Anderson, to turn back the Razorbacks at the Baylor 18, 6, 28, 15 and 36.

The Bears got their big break when a high snap from center sailed over punter Martine Bercher's head. Bercher retreated, picked up the ball but was swarmed under a wave of Baylor defenders for a 25-yard loss at the Arkansas 46.

Southall used only one run in the scoring drive, that for a first down on short yardage. He completed passes of 12 and nine yards to Paul Becton, a former high school star in Little Rock.

Green weaved behind the Razorback defense and took Southall's perfect pass over his shoulder two yards deep in the end zone. Bob Purvis kicked the extra point.

It was Arkansas' first regular season defeat since Nov. 16, 1963, when Southern Methodist beat the Porkers 14-6 at Dallas, Tex.

Arkansas had won 24 straight regular season games, including 16 in the Southwest Conference, a conference record.

Arkansas made a last ditch stab at a comeback.

Quarterback Jon Brittenum completed a 10-yard pass to Tommie Burnett and a 20-yard pass to Bruce Maxwell at the Baylor 37. On the next play, Tommy Trantham hauled in a pass from Brittenum in the end zone, but the touchdown was nullified because the Porkers had an ineligible receiver downfield.

The Bears posed no serious scoring threat until they drove for their only touchdown. Baylor did drive to the Razorback 21 twice in the first half, where Purvis missed on one 38-yard field goal attempt.

The defeat was Arkansas' first at home since 1961, when Texas beat the Razorbacks 33-7, and this was the first time the Porkers had been shut out since Rice scored a 7-0 victory in 1963.

Southall, operating in intermittent rain showers, managed to complete only 13 of 32 passes for 161 yards.

But after the teams exchanged fumbles three times, Ricky Burgess bobbed up to intercept an Andy White pass and put the ball in position for Vachon's final field goal, made with only 2:19 left.

Texas had won eight straight coming into Saturday's game and was favored to make it nine.

But Oklahoma outplayed the Longhorns, who had to go without their ace sophomore, Bill Bradley (he was suited up but couldn't play because of a knee injury), and could show little offense except for two drives, these paying off with a field goal and touchdown. The latter was scored by White with a two-yard run.

Not only did Vachon set a record for number of field goals in the series but his 43-yarder was the longest ever kicked in the rivalry between the two schools.

After the game there was some fighting on the field among spectators but cops finally broke it up without anyone apparently being injured.

The Oklahoma's tore down the goal post, which seemed to be the reason for the fighting.

The sophomore-sparked Sooners romped and passed for 351 yards—220 of it in the air by the sterling Warmack. Texas got 271, with White completing nine passes for 125 yards.

Warmack also was the top rusher with 60 yards, thus his total offense for the day was 280 yards. Shotts ran for 59.

Huskers Romp On Badgers

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Nebraska's Wayne Meylan blocked a third period Wisconsin punt and turned it into a gate opening touchdown Saturday and the unbeaten and seventh-ranked Cornhuskers rushed through for a 31-3 victory over the mistake prone Badgers.

Meylan's play came moments after Wisconsin halted a Nebraska drive when Harry Kostka pounced on a Wayne Wilson fumble at the Badgers' three.

Three Nebraska fumble recoveries and four interceptions made the Cornhuskers' job easier against the sophomore-spotted Badgers.

Conditions Have Improved

By TOMMY HART

You hear about college and professional football players these days complaining about having to ride commercial airlines to and from games, because charter planes were not available... I can recall a Big Spring athletic team or two which hopped freight trains to and from game sites a few years ago because the school budget would not permit the use of funds for any kind of transportation... That was during the dark days of the depression... Oddly enough, some of the athletes looked upon riding the rails as a great adventure... Some of the play-by-play announcers working football games for television still haven't learned that pictures have been added to the old radio set... All are prone to over-describe the event occurring on the playing field... And those former coaches hired as "color men," too often speak in an unknown tongue, using a technical jargon that is supposed to lend stature to the simple activity of one behemoth knocking down another... When Eastern New Mexico University, coached by ex-Big Spring B. B. Lees, dropped a 21-6 decision to Central Oklahoma last week, Dean Bates of Wink punted the ball no fewer than 12 times for the Greyhounds... Odessa will play host to the American Hot Rod Association's Spring Nationals April 14-15-16... More than 1,000 cars may be entered in the events... Glenn Dobbs, the Tulsa University coach, says his current crop of pass receivers are the best ever this fall... The Houston Astros are serious about trading for more power and left-handed pitcher—both catcher John Bateman and pitcher Dave Guisti could go if the right offers are made on the trading mart... Manager Grady Hatton says there are no sacred cows on the Astro team... There's a difference of about $600 in World Series loot for members of second and third place teams in each of the major leagues, which means ex-Big Spring Camilo Pascual will come in for about $1,800 when the money is divided up.

GUISTI

the few high school day football games in the state Friday for a good reason: The Comstock field is not equipped with lights... One of Odessa College's returning basketball starters, Leroy Walker, elected to check in at East Central Oklahoma College instead... Wrangler coach Larry McCulloch still has three starters back from last season—Rusty Heskett, Lawrence Thompson and Jimmy Johnston—plus a promising freshman crop... Among the Odessa newcomers is N. S. Hurd, an outstanding performer from Carlsbad, N.M... Marciano Rivas, who is in the fight stable of Martin County's Melton McMorris, is one of Jesus Pimentel's sparring partners in San Antonio and will be on an Oct. 16 card there featuring the gifted Pimentel... Ossie Virgil of the San Francisco Giants will earn $1,500 a month for three months in winter baseball in Puerto Rico... He's played baseball the year around for 14 years... John Brodie, who is supposed to have hit the Houston Oilers for a fabulous sum of money while still wearing the livery of the San Francisco 49ers, is catching an unusual amount of flak from many San Francisco football fans following the club's miserable NFL start... One of the more acid comments heard: "If I were a millionaire like Brodie, I don't think I'd play football either"... Another suggested the armed forces hire him to teach grenade throwing "because he sure wouldn't hit any of our men"... Texas A&M's John David Crow, Kyle Rote of SMU and Donnie Anderson of Texas Tech had something else in common besides being All-Americans in college... Each wore the No. 44... Although the San Angelo Bobcats are supposed to have their greatest football team in history, they haven't proved to be the gate draws at home they were last year... In the first three home contests, the Cats played to 4,000 less than during a comparable period in 1965... Rice's Owls have gone for the two-point option after touchdowns only once since 1958 and even then the decision was not made by coach Jess Neely.

Dogies Win 4th Game At Midland Expense

Midland's Bullpups scored late in the first period on a scintillating 43 yard run by halfback Carlos Rankin. Ken Brown roared in to tackle Marc Lyons as Lyons was trying to pass for the two extra points.

Big Spring got its first score relatively early in the second period when Claude (Snake) Tucker, although bounced around several times, weaved his way 45 yards up the sidelines after taking a pitch from quarterback Johnny Patton. Big Spring was penalized on the try for point and failed to convert.

Buckeyes Upset By Illinois 11

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Illinois struck 74 yards in five plays for a fourth-quarter touchdown Saturday to spoil Ohio State's Big Ten football debut 10-9 despite two conference field goal records by Buckeye Gary Cairns.

The hairline victory, set by a 41-yard pass from quarterback Bob Naponic to end John Wright, not only ended a three-game Illinois losing streak but handed Ohio State's Coach Woody Hayes his first Champaign defeat in eight visits since 1952.

Colts Post Win Over Mavericks

Mike Yarber scored all three touchdowns as the Rannels Colts turned back Goliad's No. 1 unit, 20-0, in seventh grade football here Saturday.

Big Spring got its first score relatively early in the second period when Claude (Snake) Tucker, although bounced around several times, weaved his way 45 yards up the sidelines after taking a pitch from quarterback Johnny Patton. Big Spring was penalized on the try for point and failed to convert.

Big Spring scored again in the third without losing possession following the kickoff, moving 71 yards. Patton's pass found Luven Flores beyond the defenders on a 72-yard play. Roy Lee Warren added the two points on a pass from Patton to make it 22-6.

Big Spring's Charley Lewis climbed off one Lee fumble to stop a mild Bullpup later in the round, setting another Big Spring drive in motion. This time, Tucker took a pass from Patton and tippy-toed down the sidelines for 34 yards and a score. Flores gathered in a pass from Patton for the two extra points and Big Spring's lead mounted to 30-6.

Midland's Bullpups scored late in the first period on a scintillating 43 yard run by halfback Carlos Rankin. Ken Brown roared in to tackle Marc Lyons as Lyons was trying to pass for the two extra points.

Early in the fourth, Tucker was buffeted about like a ship at sea in the middle of the field but kept his feet and rambled 52 yards for Big Spring's final tally to make it 36-14. Big Spring tried to boot the PAT but failed.

Trent Outlasts 4-B Foe, 12-8

ROBERT LEE — Trent capped a 4-B victory over Robert Lee, 12-8, here Friday night when Deris Hutchinson plunged off tackle four yards for the winning score.

The Robert Lee Steers had taken the lead in the first when Gary Williams returned an enemy pass for a 12-yard TD. He then hit Don Devoli for a two-point conversion. Just before the half, Eddie Mitchell edged in from the one for a score, but a pass for the extra points was incomplete.

Irish Batter Army, 35-0

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Third-ranked Notre Dame scored five times in the first half as Terry Hanratty hit Jim Seymour with eight passes for 143 yards, then flooded the field with subs to smash Army 35-0 Saturday.

It was the Cadets' worst licking by the Irish in 38 meetings of the traditional rivalry and left Notre Dame with a 26-0-4 series edge.

In the opening half explosion, Notre Dame's five scoring shots covered a total of 251 yards in 31 plays, an average of better than eight per play.

Later, the Irish went 76 yards in six plays with Hanratty rounding end from the seven to score.

Cooper Rumps Past Odessa

ABILENE — Abilene Cooper showed championship class in belting Odessa High, 25-7, in the first District 2-AAAA football game for both teams here Friday night.

Kenny Stephens scored Cooper's initial TD on a one-yard plunge, climaxing a 58-yard drive.

Quarterback Jack Mildren raced 36 yards for Cooper's second tally in the second period, which came at the end of an 81-yard march.

Before the first half ended, Randy Allen counted six-points for Cooper on a 55-yard run following a pass interception.

Cooper counted again in the final quarter before Odessa could get on the board. Mildren went over from the one.

Eddie Harris ultimately scored for Odessa on a four-yard run, after which Tommy Dolan booted the PAT.

Cooper made 16 first downs to 10 for Odessa, 190 yards rushing to 136 for the Bronchos and 87 passing to 11 for the losers.

Wave Of Upsets Hits Schoolboy Football

By The Associated Press

Wichita Falls, Denison, Marshall, Brazosport and Pharr fell Friday night in the first big wave of upsets to sweep the Texas schoolboy football race.

The five class AAAA powers, who had boasted unbeaten, untied records, took the plunge along with 15 in the other three classes that play to state championships. Only 74 of the starting field of 684 in the four divisions now boast perfect marks.

The defeat of Brazosport was the most shocking. It went down before Baytown 15-14 and probably will drop out of its No. 3 ranking in AAAA as a result.

Wichita Falls Rider was tied 0-0 by Wichita Falls, Denison was beaten 7-0 by Texarkana, Pharr - San Juan - Alamo was nosed out 22-20 by Victoria and Marshall went over to Shreveport and took a 27-13 drubbing from Fair Park.

San Angelo, top team of AAAA, hurried over Midland 36-0 in starting its drive toward a district championship.

Class AAA's top team - McKinney - came through easily enough, beating Bonham 23-0. No. 2 Bridge City was pressed to edge out Silsbee 21-14.

Dumas, the No. 3 team, again found a AAAA team fair game. The Demons clubbed Borger 27-7.

There are 14 AAAA teams and 15 from AAA with undefeated, untied records.

Class AA had five teams take the plunge but Sweeney, the No. 1 outfit, crushed Palacios 30-6 to enhance its standing. There now are 24 teams with unsullied records left in AA.

The sensation of the state is little Class A Forney. The No. 1 team in this division was figured to have trouble Friday night in stepping out of its class to play Rockwall of Class AA. But Forney romped on Rockwall 46-0 as only 21 teams were left in the A division with undefeated, untied records.

Defending champions aren't doing so well in some instances, notably AAAA where Odessa Permian faces early elimination in the district race. Permian was held to a 10-10 tie by Abilene in the opening of conference play.

Steers Ride Out Air Threat To Triumph

Midland Lee stormed into town Friday night lasting for a positive getaway in District 2-AAAA play but Big Spring, parrying one thrust after another with some second half ground-shaking locomotions of its own, decked the Johnny Rebs, 32-18.

By TOMMY HART

The Steers' margin of victory was decisive but the proud Black Knights never made the firebrands from the west strike their colors.

Quarterback Gregg Frazier, a junior sureshot, riddled the Steer pass defense and was still operating with the nerve of a riverboat gambler when time ran out on him.

The Longhorns, who now have won three straight games, twice had to come from behind before they had their hands raised in victory. They had only a brief moment of glory in the first half and left at the intermission trailing, 10-8.

A team with less poise might have panicked in the face of the pin-point passing of Frazier but the Steers came back to aim for the chin and delivered one knockdown blow after another that drove the Rebs to the wall.

In the final analysis, it was the recovery of an enemy fumble by Henry Dirks and a nifty pass interception by Bill Burchetti that did much to neutralize the Lee attack. Both plays occurred in the fourth period.

Dirks dived in to wrestle successfully for a Rebel bobble at the enemy 42 at a time Big Spring led by only eight points. A short time later, fullback Kirby Horton of the provincials brought the 5,500 fans present to their feet with a pulsating, zig-zagging run of 31 yards for a score. When James Carver bisected the uprights with his PAT try, that put Big Spring ahead, 25-10.

REFUSE TO QUIT

Lee came right back to drive 80 yards for a score and climb back into contention. A pass from Frazier to halfback Tommy Orloff from nine yards away produced the six points and a look-in aerial from Frazier to end Rick Maroney added the two conversion points that made it 25-18, with 7:01 remaining.

Big Spring went on the offensive again following the kickoff but found it could go nowhere and had to boot the ball.

It was then, on Lee's first offensive effort of the ensuing series of downs that Burchetti flagged down a deflected pass from Frazier and returned it nine yards to the Reb 26.

The Steers were not to be denied, after that. Each team accepted a damaging penalty before quarterback Gary Rogers ultimately beat a defender to the flag from 11 yards away for the clinching TD, with 2:53 remaining. Again Carver kicked the PAT to make it 32-18.

LEE SCORES FIRST

A pass from Frazier to Orloff, good for 22 yards in the flat zone with 1:31 to go in the opening canto, put Lee on the scoreboard first. The Rebel surge covered 54 yards in three plays. Frazier put his brogan into the ball for the extra point and Lee led, 7-0.

With the wind at its back, Big Spring began to shake itself out of its lethargy in the second. Rogers snaked over for the score from eight yards away on a sweep at the end of a 34-yard march, with 6:34 to go in the second. When Rogers delivered the air mail to end Robert Jackson in the end zone for two extra points, Big Spring found it self in command, 8-7. The lead was short-lived. Richard Ramsey grappled successfully for an interception at Lee's 45 and returned it all the way to the Steer 15. Lee could not be moved from that point but, on fourth down, Frazier calmly booted a 37-yard field goal to restore Lee to the lead, 10-8. That bit of drama occurred with 3:43 remaining in the half.

The three-pointer served only to give Big Spring a germain idea. Midway in the third, Carver cut loose with a 23-yard field goal that sent Big Spring out front, 11-10. It proved to be the lead the resident eleven never lost.

INSURANCE TALLY

Although they combatted a rather brisk breeze as well as a waspish defense, the Steers counted again in the third, with 2:19 remaining, on a 32-yard march following a good punt and even better runback by Wayne Kennedy. The ham-handed Jackson took an alley-oop pass from Rogers for the score, the play covering 28 yards. Carver's PAT boot made it 18-10 at that point and set the stage for the adventure that was to follow in the final 12 minutes.

Lee was outstanding in moving the ball through the skies but the leather-tough Steer defense, led by Cliff Talbot, Don Malone and Jackson, put the clamps on the Rebs' ground game. The visitors could gain only 17 yards in land assaults, compared to 168 for Big Spring.

Frazier was overrun and hammered to earth for substantial losses at least two critical times by the red-dogging Malone.

It's been many, many moons since a team scored three touchdowns against Big Spring and lost but the defeat was indelible. The Longhorns, let it be said, worked hard for what they got, for the hungry enemy was not in a charitable mood.

Score by quarters: Midland Lee ... 7 3 0 8-18 Big Spring ... 0 8 10 14-32

San Angelo Cats Trounce Midland Bulldogs, 36-0

MIDLAND — San Angelo handed Midland High about as it pleased in the first District 2-AAAA football game for both teams here Friday night, winning, 36-0.

The shutout was the fourth in a row for the Bobcats, who rolled up 532 yards rushing and added 59 passing. Midland made only 45 yards carrying the ball and additional 70 through the air.

Quarterback Gary Mullins of the Cats ran for gains totaling 150 yards himself. He carried the ball 13 times.

San Angelo scored the second play they had the ball, going 55 yards. Mullins went the final 43, after which Ken Newman booted the PAT.

Mark Dove counted the second TD from the 24. Newman again converted.

The Cats drove 60 yards in four plays in their next possession, Mullins scooting the final 23 on an option. Newman converted once more.

David Williams tallied for San Angelo in the third from the four then took a pass from Mullins for the two additional points.

Flock, Permian Wind Up In Tie

ODESSA — Abilene High staged an upset of massive proportions here Friday night by playing Odessa Permian to a 10-10 deadlock.

The two teams traded first half touchdowns and each got a field goal in the final quarter. Abilene led in penetrations, 3-2, which doesn't count in deciding a winner.

Abilene outgained the Panthers on the ground, 219 yards to 128, but completed no passes in two attempts. Permian made good on two of nine throws for 36 yards.

Kit Davis of Abilene kicked a 32-yard field goal that knotted the score with 57 seconds left in the game. David Byerly had booted one from the 33 for Permian earlier in the round.

Bobby Callison scored Abilene's touchdown in the first on a 55-yard run up the middle while Permian counted in the second on a screen pass from Ricky McNurien to Don Evans.

COAHOMA — In the battle of the Bulldogs, Coahoma gave potent Brady more than it asked for during the first half Friday, but speed and size prevailed in the last half as the Brady Bulldogs won a non-conference test, 32-14.

Terry Denton zipped off left end for eight yards and the first score in the opening quarter, with Charles Pherigo plugging for the extra points. Brady rallied with Puddin' Jones' 63-yard break-away scamper off right end. Pherigo blasted four yards through the center of the line for Coahoma's last score, but Dorman Moore sneaked in from the two and reduced the Coahoma Bulldog lead to 14-12 at halftime.

A pair of TD passes hurt Coahoma badly in the third. Moore hit Jerry Alexander for 18 yards to put Brady in the lead, then connected with Curtis Kidd for a three-yard score a few minutes later. Moore kicked both points.

Johnny Sanders, reserve quarterback, drove in from the one to climax Brady's last scoring drive in the fourth.

Coahoma outgained the visiting Dogs on the ground, but the home team simply couldn't crank up any sort of a passing game. In fact only two tosses were attempted, and one was intercepted and the other incomplete.

The Bulldogs will entertain

Plains here Friday evening in the 5-A conference opener. Coahoma is now 2-3 for the season but apparently in good shape as it gets down to the play-for-keeps part of the season.

Loop Nudges Dragon Octet

FLOWER GROVE — Loop hung on to limp by a game Flower Grove club in an eight-man game here Friday night, 14-12.

The Dragons completely outplayed the Longhorns in the last half but had too far to go. Flower Grove had one touchdown called back and limited Loop to a single first down in the final two quarters. In the game, Flower Grove made six 20-yard line penetrations.

Loop scored in the opening quarter in six plays after recovering a Dragon fumble on the Flower Grove 20. Flower Grove then took the ball and drove to Loop's 20 before running out of gas.

In the second, Yocum scored for Loop on a 40-yard jaunt to make it 14-0.

Later in the period, Joel Morales passed to Don McMorris for the Dragons' first touchdown, the play covering 20 yards.

Flower Grove got its second TD in the third when Morales passed to Jimmy Walker, the play covering 40 yards.

The Dragons made 11 first downs to eight for Loop. Coach Max Fly takes his Dragons to Three-Way for a practice game next Friday.

SA Lee Defeats Mavs, 20 To 12

Although outplayed in the second half, San Angelo Lee Junior High defeated Big Spring Goliad's ninth graders, 20-12, here Saturday afternoon.

Lee remained unbeaten. Goliad is now 4-1.

Goliad got its first TD in the second period when Gary Hughes threw a pass to Danny Glover, the play covering 30 yards.

Lee had counted earlier in the round and added two more touchdowns before the half was out to lead, 20-6, at the intermission. The third Lee score came following an interception at midfield and a runback to Goliad's ten.

In the third, Goliad counted again when Tommy Ryan picked off a Lee lateral and ran it across. Goliad had earlier driven to Lee's one-foot line but couldn't score.

Coach Jimmy Marcus said the Mavericks did an excellent job in the final two periods of play.

The Mavs go to Snyder to play Travis next Thursday.

Player Conquers Jack Nicklaus

VIRGINIA WATER, Eng. (AP) — Gary Player of South Africa defeated Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, for the world match play golf title Saturday in a 36-hole final that was marked by so much temperment that the referee withdrew midway in the morning round.

Player, the defending champion, won 6 and 4 and held a 4-up margin after the first 18 holes, during which Nicklaus' anger at an adverse ruling caused referee Tony Duncan to quit.

Coyotes Uncouple Whitharrel Team

GAIL — The Gail Coyotes ran rough shot over Whitharrel here Friday evening, 54-8.

It was a close ball game for a quarter with Gail pushing off only one TD. In the second, however, the Coyotes crowded across a couple, then added a pair in each the third and fourth periods. Tony Isaacs was the leading scorer with 18, followed by David Lansford with 12, Don Nunnally with 10, Dale Kite with eight and Don Smith six. Monty Rodgers got Whitharrel's only score, then ran across the PAT in the fourth.

Forsan Bisons Rally To Topple Hermleigh

FORSAN — Forsan won a signal victory here Friday night, turning back Hermleigh, 16-6, in their first District 4-B 11-man game in history.

The triumph ran the Buffalo win skein to four straight, longest ever at the season by a team coached by Oscar Boeker. Boeker has been head mentor for four seasons prior to this year.

Hermleigh went out in front in the opening period after recovering a Forsan fumble on the Buff 20. Mike Peterson went in from the five on the seventh play of the series. Don Peterson ran the two points to make it 8-0.

Forsan got to Hermleigh's 20 in the second but couldn't get in and trailed at half time, 8-0.

It was practically all Forsan after the intermission, however. Clayton went over from the one-yard line for the first Buff tally in the fourth. The score was set up on some fine runs by Johnny Dolan and Larry Callihan. Callihan ran across the tying two points.

With three minutes left to play, Callihan turned in a sensational 34-yard scoring run for Forsan, benefitting from a devastating block on the part of Steve Park. Dolan got the two extra points on a pitch and a run around right end.

When the end came, Hermleigh, after having benefitted from a 15-yard assessment against Forsan, was on the Buff 30.

On defense, linebacker Ray McKinnon earned a star for his helmet by making 15 tackles. Jack Ellis contributed 14 tackles for the Buffs while Randy Banks and Tommy Kirkpatrick, who played outside, were both outstanding.

Callihan led the Forsan ground gainers with 73 yards net.

The Buffaloes go to Trent next Saturday for a 2:30 p.m. game with the Gorillas. It will be Homecoming for Trent.

Score by quarters:
Forsan 0 0 16-16

Lamesa Bombards Snyder, 41-6

LAMESA — Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes proved Friday that statistics don't tell the story of a ball game. As to figures, Snyder's Tigers broke about even, but when it came to the payoff at the goal line, it was no contest.

Lamesa won 41-6, inflicting the worst defeat it ever handed a Snyder eleven.

The Tors lost little time getting on the board when Joe Harper went in from the five and Gene Everheart added the point. Soon they had recovered a fumbled punt on the Snyder 14 and three plays later Louis Jenkins carried in from the eight.

Everheart's kick was blocked. The Tigers came out of the tank in the second, pouncing on a fumbled punt on Lamesa's 16. Murry Bowden went in from the four, but the kick was blocked.

If that gave Snyder heart, it was a fleeting lift. Bob Wiggins raced back 90 yards with the kickoff for a score and Everheart added the PAT. Lamesa used a 79-yard pass interception to set up the next score after Snyder had threatened.

Everheart passed to Larry Golinick for the last 10 yards then booted the PAT.

In the fourth quarter, Fullback Harper blasted for eight yards and a score in the fourth, and then with 22 seconds on the board, Wiggins connected with Russell Dennis for 38 yards and a TD. Everheart's trusty toe added the point.

Lamesa and Snyder each had 14 first downs, Snyder ran for 145 yards and Lamesa 114, and Snyder passed for 20 against 66 for Lamesa.

The Tors grabbed off two Tiger passes and had none of their own intercepted.

Garden City Registers Victory At Comstock

COMSTOCK — Garden City, making use of all 22 boys in uniform, ran its record to 2-2-1 by defeating Comstock, 19-8, here Friday afternoon.

The Bearcats meet Bula in their annual Homecoming game in Garden City next Friday night. Coach Jack Woodley was lavish in his praise of his young talent following the contest.

Garden City scored in the first quarter when Tony Chandler climaxed a drive of 50 yards from going over from six yards out. Ronnie Hirt kicked the PAT to make it 7-0.

In the second round, Hirt faked a slant and roared 65 yards for the Kats' second touchdown.

Comstock fought back before the half ended. Pancho Brotherton going four yards for a score. The try for the PAT, a kick, was blocked by Garden City's Wayne Trantham and James Bubose.

Chandler tallied again in the third for Garden City on a six-yard sprint, culminating a 60-yard march.

Fumbles hurt Garden City during the contest but there was never much doubt about the outcome. Comstock bruised as far as Garden City's two in the third but the Kats took the toe back to the seven and took the ball on downs.

On defense, middle linebacker Robert Hillger, safety John Wyckoff and guards Trantham and Dubose sparked for Garden City.

On offense, Hillger, Chandler and Hirt were outstanding. Score by quarters:
Garden City 7 6 6 0-19
Comstock 0 6 0 0-6

Glasscock Leads In Completions

Glasscock County led area counties in oil completions for September, with 18 wells, but Sterling County accounted for 2,080 barrels of new oil to top the list for potential.

There were 49 completions for the eight-county area during the month and 60 new locations. Thirteen of the locations were filled in Sterling County. Total new oil potential was 7,515 barrels.

Only five wells were plugged and abandoned during the period, one each in Sterling, Mitchell and Martin counties and two in Howard County.

BORDEN
Borden County had only one new location for the month, in the Clear Fork area. The Fluva (Strawn) field was completed by Superior Oil Co.'s 16-580 C. D. Jones, flowing potential initially 106 barrels.

DAWSON
New attempts in Dawson County were in the Ackerly (Dean) and Spraberry Trend areas. A total of 386 barrels of new oil was produced, also from the Ackerly (Dean) and Spraberry Trend areas.

GARZA
It was a big month for Garza County, with seven new locations and a total potential of 407 barrels from three wells. The B, C, D and E zones of the San Andres pool were finished by Bond No. 1 Merrell-Storie as a wildcat producer with 1965 barrels. Completions were also in the Garza, South (Glorieta-Z-5 and San Andres) field, where Brown I-G Montgomery Davis turned out to be a dual producer, flowing initially 91 barrels from the San Andres zone and 137 from the Glorieta Z-5.

GLASSCOCK
The biggest producer for Glasscock County wells was the Adobe No. 2 Lane in the Calvin, North (Dean) pool. The well flowed initially 355 barrels.

Completions were also made in the Spraberry Trend, Howard-Glasscock, Wolfcamp, Clear Fork and McDowell areas, to new oil, just 30 barrels behind the Sterling County high.

HOWARD
Two wildcats were completed in the Wolfcamp and Pennsylvanian for 398 barrels of new oil. They were Fairway's No. 1 Shafer and Basin Oil No. 1 Fambrough. Highest producer of the county was Basin's No. 7-U Scott, pumping potential initially 660 barrels.

Two wells were plugged and abandoned in the Wolfcamp and Howard-Glasscock areas.

MARTIN
Southwestern Natural Gas No. 1 Mabee, a wildcat, was completed from the Wolfcamp area, initial pumping potential 278 barrels. Completions also were made in the Spraberry and Ackerly (Dean) pools. One well was plugged and abandoned in the Ellenburger.

MITCHELL
Three new locations were staked for Mitchell County, one each in the Itan, East (Howard), Ellenburger and Sharon Ridge zones. Completions were made from the Itan, East (Howard) and Westbrook areas. One well was plugged and abandoned in the Itan, East (Howard).

STERLING
Eight wells accounted for the 2,080 barrels of new oil potentialized by Sterling oilers. Dual producers in the Credo (Wolfcamp) areas were by Roden Oil Co., the No. 1-DC Reed Unit, for 564 barrels in the Lower B and Wolfcamp, and Roden No. 2-F Reed, for 914 barrels, also in the Lower B and Wolfcamp. Thirteen new locations were staked, in the Durham, Fusselman, Ackerly, Wolfcamp, Ellenburger, Seven Rivers and San Angelo zones. In the Ellenburger, one well was plugged and abandoned.

County Judges Pick Officers

HOUSTON (AP) — Hidalgo County Judge Milton D. Richardson of Edinburg is the president of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas.

Richardson, who moved up from secretary-treasurer, succeeded Tom Green County Commissioner Harold Greco, as president Thursday during the annual meeting of the association.

Gregg County Commissioner Bill Owens was elected secretary-treasurer and Dallam County Judge W. D. Henson was named vice president.

Active Rigs Running 20 Below Last Year's Total

MIDLAND — Active rotary rigs in the Permian Basin Empire Friday numbered 175, which is 20 less than the 195 recorded a year earlier, but one more than last week's count, according to Reed International, Inc.

The four leading counties—Lea, N.M., Pecos, Reagan and Eddy, N. M., were in the same positions as last week, but Eddy has been joined in a tie at fourth place by Ward.

The county by county totals, with previous totals in parentheses: Andrews 8 (8), Chaves 2 (2), Coke 0 (2), Cochran 1 (1), Concho 1 (0), Crane 1 (2), Crockett 5 (5), DAWSON 5 (3); Ector 5 (7), Eddy 12 (12), Fisher 3 (2), Gaines 1 (4), GARZA 2 (2), GLASSCOCK 4 (5), Hockley 4 (3); HOWARD 3 (5), Lea 27 (20), Loving 1 (1), Lubbock 2 (2), Lynn 1 (1), MARTIN 4 (2), Menard 1 (1), Midland 4 (4), Nolan 2 (0), MITCHELL 0 (1), Pecos 19 (16); Reagan 13 (15), Reeves 9 (10), Roosevelt 3 (3), Rounsell 3 (0), Schleicher 3 (4), Scurry 1 (2), STERLING 3 (3), Stonewall 3 (4), Terrell 1 (1), Terry 1 (1), Tom Green 1 (0); Upton 1 (3), Val Verde 1 (1), Ward 12 (10), Winkler 5 (6), Total 175 (174).

County Taxpayers Settle Accounts

Howard County taxpayers have paid off $25,481.13 of their 1965 tax bill in the first week that taxes could be accepted at the office of Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector.

This was the total for the first five days which began Monday Oct. 3.

In the same period of time, Mrs. LeFevre said that her deputies issued 552 registration certificates. These are the slips which replace the old poll tax receipt of other days as proof of voter qualification for 1967 elections.

The Ellenburger prospector, contracted for $,500 feet, is 600 feet from north and east lines of section 13, block B-17, PSL survey, 2 1/2 miles east of the Armer multipay area.

Boeing Openings for Production Workers

Big Spring Interviews
October 10 through 12

The new Boeing 747 jet transport program is opening the way for many interesting, good-paying aerospace production jobs in the Seattle area. The 747, largest airplane ever designed for commercial service, will carry 400 passengers or 100 tons of cargo at speeds over 600 m.p.h. To build this modern jetliner, Boeing is erecting the world's largest-volume building — a manufacturing plant with 158,000,000 cubic feet of space.

Other career advantages at Boeing include unprecedented jetliner sales, and major contracts in the nation's most important military and space programs. The total result is the most accelerated expansion program in the company's history — and excellent job opportunities for qualified personnel.

You'll be working in the Seattle area, which is well known for year-round mild climate and top-ranked schools. In addition, fresh- and salt-water fishing and boating, hunting, camping, mountain climbing and skiing are all within an hour's drive of Seattle. Current openings include:

Training Openings (With Pay)

Beginner openings with Boeing's Manufacturing Department, in the Seattle-Renton area, start at $2,505 per hour. Applicants must be U.S. citizens, at least 18 years of age, and should have mechanical aptitude and working knowledge of mathematics.

SKILLED
Airframe & Power Plant Mechanics
Jig & Fixture Builders
Machinists
Template Makers
Tool & Die Makers

Apply in person or call the Boeing representative.

GOLFERS ON THE GREEN hurry to sink a putt before turning their attention to the casual costume modeled by Mrs. Sue Hipp. Behind-the-scenes workers on the LGA fashion show next Saturday are Mrs. Guilford Jones, left, of the tickets and reservations committee, and Mrs. Jack Magee. Fashions all from Swartz.

INVITING YOU IN to see what's nice—and newsy—in fashions is Mrs. Don Newsom, who wears winter white so wonderfully. Making mental notes to try that outfit are Mrs. John Burgess, LGA treasurer, and Mrs. R. S. Galbraith Jr., secretary.

LOOKING GOOD FROM ANY ANGLE is Mrs. Robert H. Johnson whose blondness is enhanced by the paleness of the yellow in this three-piece outfit which she will model Saturday. Getting a good view—and lots of sunshine—is Mrs. Zack Gray of the LGA social committee.

EYEING THE ELEGANCE of the shimmering ball gown shown by Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr. are Mrs. Zollie Boykin and Mrs. R. J. Ream, Mrs. Boykin serves on the LGA decorations committee, and Mrs. Ream is vice president of the LGA.

WINNING THE APPROVAL OF Mrs. Bill C. Coleman and Mrs. Jim Zike is the stunning camel ensemble worn by Mrs. Delnor Poss who practices for the luncheon show. Mrs. Coleman serves as LGA president, and Mrs. Zike is a member of the social committee.

THE GAME CAN WAIT while Mrs. Jack Lewis strikes a pretty pose in one of the styles she'll show at the LGA affair Saturday. Mrs. Don Reynolds and Mrs. Fred W. Lurting like what they see, and young Leigh Reynolds is completely dazzled. Mrs. Lurting is show chairman, and Mrs. Reynolds is on the ticket committee.

MRS. VERNON C. PETERSON

The Look Is To Elegance— And Ladies Are Liking It

By JO BRIGHT

Pants were never prissier, day clothes dressier or ball gowns more glitteringly ethereal than those shown by Swartz to members of the Officers Wives Club and its guests during the luncheon show Thursday at Webb Air Force Base.

Several hundred diners listened as Mrs. James Murphy described the fashions decreed for fall and winter as models from the OWC members pranced, strolled and glided down the green carpet runway.

The show began casually as models appeared in chic garments for the ski slopes and sleek slacks costumes for warming their toes at the fire.

Mrs. M. G. Mullanax showed sea blue knit pants worn with an alabaster sweater embroidered in matching blue and orange, the drawstring sleeves pushed to bracelet length, and Mrs. Vernon Peterson stole a land-lubber look for her bright navy, mannish-cut slacks suit that was lined and shelled in a bold, bright print.

Hunter green was handsome on Mrs. W. C. Daniels who chose it for stretch pants, slit slightly at the ankles and banded with gold and hot pink to pick up the colors in her wildly-patterned overblouse. Mrs. James White showed a wool slacks suit in big gold and orange plaid, belted low and accented with self buttons.

Mrs. Roger Blume had fun with gold fake fur by choosing it for a ski jacket and parka which she teamed with matching pants, and her companion, Mrs. Michael Rega, was ready for a race in a stark white costume, the quilted jacket zippered high.

Mrs. Barry Dawkins and Mrs.

Norman Fogg liked wool pants, one brown, the other lime, which they wore with bulky sweaters in snow-country designs. The luster of leather was the final touch—and it was chosen for a ranch mink collared coat modeled by Mrs. William Hascall.

Tiring of the outdoor life, the models returned to show what they liked to wear for a day in the city, a luncheon with the ladies or an early-hour cocktail.

Mrs. Roger Mercer was the envy of everyone in an alabaster wool coat, collared with sheared beaver and topped a slim skirt and hip-length overblouse. Startling—but stunning—was Mrs. Roger Blume's choice of a French rabbit shell to wear with a vicuna suit, and just as eye-catching was the French blue knit suit worn by Mrs. W. C. Daniels. The walking jacket was fronted with matching blue suede with pocket detailing. Mrs. William Hascall had double the pleasure in her reversible mulberry and beige plaid coat trimmed with braid on the big collar and wide cuffs. Under it, she wore a mulberry wool knit suit.

An orange velvet shell was the designer's touch that added perfection to Mrs. Larry Ledbetter's orange and neutral plaid three-piece costume where the velvet was repeated on jacket collar and pocket trim.

The bright lights were saved for the evening hours—but there they were in the shining shafts of beading that formed the formal gowns for festive occasions.

Looking very much the lady, Mrs. Michael Rega appeared in a Victorian gown of palest blue silk, the fitted bodice beaded with blue pearls and sprinkled with braided rosettes that cascaded down the left side of the semi-full skirt. Mrs. W. C. Daniels chose another look—that of sophistication—in a silver of imported silk. The full-length sheath was belted and featured an all-over scroll pattern of iridescent yellow sequins outlined with bugle beads tipped with crystals.

For cocktails, Mrs. Vern Farmer showed a black Chantilly lace tent which covered a sheer chiffon sheath. A wide ruffle circled the hemline, and a sassy bow marked the V-neckline at the back.

A total look of black, with highlights, was preferred by Mrs. Norman Fogg, whose silt and slender skirt was topped with a wool shell—every inch covered with sparkling beads in a poinsettia pattern. In another mood was Mrs. William Hascall who was softly pretty in a frosted aqua formal gown which was bowed at the Empire waist. Its companion piece was a full-length matching coat cut with Mandarin collar and slits for pockets.

Brunette Mrs. Barry Dawkins wisely chose pink to compliment her coloring. Parfait pink was used for her formal fitted sheath with neckline lavishly embroidered with pink bugle beads. Completing the costume was a matching coat in the oriental manner, slit above the knees on each side.

Long silver loops on a pale pink base formed the fabric for the slim sheath shown by Mrs. Vernon Peterson, Mrs. James White wore an avocado cage over a sequined sheath, and Mrs. Roger Mercer modeled a lacquer green tent that fell in soft folds from a beaded ring collar.

It was the look for '66—and it looks like a winner!

School Of Missions Starts At Westbrook

WESTBROOK (SC) — Westbrook Baptist Church will participate in a School of Missions being held throughout the Mitchell-Scurry Association beginning today. During the Training Union Hour the Rev. Carol V. Roberts, state missionary from Greenville, will be guest speaker. On Monday evening the Rev. David Whitson, of Dallas, missionary to Tanzania, will speak. The Rev. James Lunsford, of Plainview, missionary to Brazil, will speak Tuesday evening, and Wednesday evening the Rev. Boyd Pearce of Beaumont, missionary to Kenya, will speak. On Thursday, the last night, the Rev. Joe Beard, home missionary from Muskogee, Okla., will close the School of Missions. The public is invited.

Miss Louise Lewis of Fort Worth spent several days in Westbrook with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jansen Jones and sons of Abilene were guests of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Moody.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Iglehart and Mrs. J. M. Whirley were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whirley, Big Spring; Mrs. Melton McMorris, Tarzan; Mrs. Adrus Tyron, Hobbs, N. M.; Mrs. Mack Wooley, Smithville; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Whirley and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin L. Jones, O'Donnell; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker, Colorado City.

Home from college were Tommy, Donna and Sandra Bryant, from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bryant. Elmer McMahan, of Cisco Junior College visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. McMahan, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell entertained their daughter, Carole Ann, of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, and their son, Larry, of Howard County Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rice visited with their son, Doyle Rice, and family in Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brooks of Ringling, Okla., visited friends in Westbrook and his mother and other relatives in Colorado City and Coahoma, Texas, Abilene, to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bryant. Elmer McMahan, of Cisco Junior College visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. McMahan, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell entertained their daughter, Carole Ann, of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, and their son, Larry, of Howard County Junior College.

Hair Styles Help Improve Morale

If you've had the same hair style for a long while and you feel it isn't doing anything for you, change it. Sometimes a new hairdo, as a new hat, does wonders for morale.

To keep the newdo looking its best don't neglect the daily setting. Don't try to set hair when it is too dry or too wet. Moistening with witch hazel makes an ideal set. Dries quickly, neutralizes odor.

WOW!

We're excited about the prospect of serving YOU with your drug needs.

Rainbow Order Holds Installation At Temple

Kay Coppedge was installed Saturday evening as worthy advisor of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Big Spring Assembly No. 60. The ceremony was held at the Masonic Temple.

The evening's theme was "On the Wings of Prayer," and a poem of the same title was read. Her chosen scripture quotation was Luke 11:9, and her emblem was a replica of praying hands. The room was decorated in lavender and silver, and Miss Coppedge's flower was the lavender carnation.

The officers entered through an arch entwined with greenery and flanked by lavender carnations. In front of the worthy advisor's station was a lavender cloth monogrammed with her name in silver letters. Miniature silver praying hands and lavender ribbons marked the officer's stations.

INSTALLING UNIT

Introduced as installing officers were Kay Bettle, Sheri Andre' Voss, Judy Daniel, Ann associate; Sherri Alexander, Daily Shaughnessy, Mary Francis Newton and Mrs. O. H. Linda Roberts, faith; Carol Dailly.

Exhibit Planned By Two Favorite Artists

A special exhibition by two of the favorite artists with West Texans—Peter Hurd and Henriette Wyeth—will be presented from Oct. 16 through Oct. 31 at the Baker Collection Gallery, 13th Street and Avenue L, in Lubbock.

The Baker Company has sponsored a number of special showings and has been an influence on the distribution of finer paintings throughout the area.

A special preview of the exhibit, with the Hurds as honored guests (Henriette Wyeth is Mrs. Peter Hurd) will be held Oct. 16 from 2 to 3 p.m.

A number of the distinctive works of these two outstanding artists will be on display.

Hurd is the native of New Mexico who has achieved international recognition for his many works, including Southwest scenes. He received his first training under the great N. E. Wyeth, who was to become his father-in-law. Hurd will be remembered locally for his unusual mural in the local post office, done when the building was erected in 1935.

Henriette Wyeth is one of a family of distinguished artists, joining her father and a brother, Andrew Wyeth, in a group known for its amazing talent. She has gained a wide reputation as a sensitive painter of portraits, flowers, landscapes, still life and fantasy.

Both the Hurds have had exhibitions in most of the major galleries of the country.

MRS. RONALD P. DUNCAN

Curley's Studio

Miss Karen Buihner Weds R. P. Duncan

Miss Karen Buihner became the bride of Ronald P. Duncan at 10 o'clock Saturday morning during a ceremony and nuptial mass performed by Chaplain Thomas H. Holland in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base.

Centering the altar were brass candelabra holding tall white tapers, and on either side were urn arrangements of white gladioli and large white chrysanthemums. Emerald ferns completed the background, and family pews were marked with white satin. During prayer, the couple knelt on a white prie-dieu.

The musical prelude was presented by Mrs. Leslie Green at the organ who accompanied Mrs. Harold Talbot as she sang "Ave Maria," "Thanks Be to God" and "Panis Angelicus."

Parents of the couple are Maj. and Mrs. N. E. Buihner of Topeka, Kan., and Maj. (Ret.) and Mrs. P. R. Duncan, 2506 Cindy Lane.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of slipper satin with scooped neckline and ca-bachi sleeves, the molded bodice, sheath skirt and chapel train were enhanced with lace motifs, and her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was held by a satin petal cap trimmed with pearls. She carried white orchids centering a cascade of white bride's roses backed in tulle and satin leaves and showered in satin picot ribbon.

iron of honor was Mrs. M. L. Owens of Pensburg, Pa., and bridesmaids were Mrs. P. E. Moore, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Jean Roberson, both of Lubbock. They were identically attired in Empire-styled formal gowns of royal blue brocade and powder blue crepe fashioned with Tom Jones sleeves. Their headpieces were matching bows with veiling. Mrs. Owens carried a nosegay of deep blue Snow Crystal chrysanthemums showered in light blue velvet, and the bridesmaids held light blue nosegays with light blue velvet ribbons.

The best man, Gary Knust, and the ushers, Paul Moore and Gary Gilliland, are all from Lubbock. Groomsman were B. J. Nichols of Lubbock and Ronald Reagan of Midland. The flower girl was the bride's niece, Tanja Owens, and her brother, John Buihner, served as ring bearer. Two other brothers, Thomas and James Buihner, lighted the altar candles.

RECEPTION
The Fireplace Room of the Officers Open Mess at Webb AFB was the scene of the reception which followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan were joined by their parents and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. C. B. Ritz of Des Moines, Iowa.

The bride's table was covered with a white Army-Navy cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. The three-tiered wedding cake was encircled with emerald fern and light blue chrysanthemums. Members of the house party were Mrs. William Crooker, Mrs. Sherrod Osborne of Hurst, Mrs. James Perdue and Mrs. Wayne Moore. Guests were registered by Miss Debrah Collins, cousin of the bride.

Guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Collins Jr. and family of Des Moines, Mr. and Mrs. C. Buihner, Marshal-town, Iowa; Col. (Ret.) S. Osborne, Hurst; Mrs. B. C. Roberson, Abilene; Mrs. J. C. Carruthers, Mrs. B. J. Nichols and J. T. Mullin Jr., all of Lubbock.

WEDDING TRIP
Following a wedding trip to Dallas and through the Midwest, the couple will reside in Big Spring pending the bridegroom's departure for the Officer's Training School in San Antonio. For traveling, the bride chose a two-piece beige knit suit with black and beige accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Buihner attended Big Spring High School and was graduated from the Ankara High School, Ankara, Turkey, prior to attending Texas Tech for two years. The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and Howard County Junior College. He was graduated from Texas Tech with a BBA degree in Industrial Management and was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

The Webb AFB Officers Club was the scene of the Friday evening rehearsal dinner with the bridegroom's parents as hosts. The honored couple presented gifts to members of the wedding party.

REHEARSAL DINNER
The bridegroom's parents, Maj. and Mrs. Duncan, hosted a dinner for members of the wedding party and close friends Friday evening in the Officers Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base. The 8 p.m. affair was attended by 32 guests.

Centering the dining table was a long, low arrangement of white spider chrysanthemums and white carnations interspersed with greenery and accented with white satin bow and miniature wedding bells.

Miss Buihner was attired in a dress of moss green wool and wore matching accessories. She and her fiance presented gifts to their attendants.

BSP Tells Initial Plan For Dance

Tree Bark Improves Landscaping

For a unique effect in your landscaping when an ornamental ground cover is desired, tree bark lends a distinctive natural appearance with its rich reddish-brown color and texture.

The irregular shaped pieces of decorative bark create an exotic effect when used in flower beds, planter boxes, tree wells and other areas where a ground cover is used to enhance the planting.

In addition to its unusual beauty, bark also acts as a mulch aiding in retarding weed growth and in water retention as well as reducing dust. Its insulating qualities help to keep soil temperature and moisture levels more uniform for healthier plants. Used in flower beds, it may last up to five years or more.

Baby Shampoo Cleans Make-Up

These days with so many effective products available, proper makeup removal is a cinch. But what about makeup that somehow works its way into your hairline?

Lotions can dry the hair while removing creams can prove to be messy. The simple solution... baby shampoo, which will remove excess makeup completely yet is so gentle it can be used daily.

Simply place a few drops of the shampoo on an old toothbrush that has been dampened, and then comb in using an upward motion, blot with a damp cloth and gently rub dry.

Blouses Become Snappy Dresses

Look for snappy little dresses, made like lengthened shirts or Western cowboy blouses, in bright-colored flannel, worn with cowboy hats.

Preceptor Delta chapters, each of which was represented by two members. The units have planned a Valentine Ball Feb. 11 when each chapter will present its queen. The dance will be open to the public, work assignments were given for the dance. Beta Omicron will secure the ballroom.

Xi Mu will obtain the orchestra, and Mu Zeta will be in charge of publicity. All chapters will work on decorations. Council service projects were discussed and the suggestion made that the BSP Woman of the Year tea be resumed. Mrs. Arthur Clonts will be hostess for the Nov. 3 meeting.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Perhaps it is the age or circumstances that make things more meaningful to people but I don't know when an opening ceremony at anything has been so impressive to me as the one Friday night at our football game. Even the youngsters who ordinarily are not so attentive, seemed to get the message.

Congratulations are in order for GEORGE GRIMES and his wife, the former CARIBEL LAUGHLIN, who were married two weeks ago and have just returned from a wedding trip.

MR. and MRS. REX BAGGETT are due to return today from Fort Worth and Dallas where they spent the weekend with their son, MIKE, and, as Mrs. Baggett says, watching the football games on television.

From the I-Wonder-What-They're-Doing department: MRS. GENE MURFF, the former Fredda Bonfield, is teaching nursing at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Dayton, Ohio, while her husband is interning at the Air Force Base Hospital there. MR. and MRS. PAUL DINSMORE (ROSEMARY DONICA) are back in the States after spending two years with the Peace Corps in Sao Paulo, Brazil. Rosemary plans to be in Midland next week to visit her parents, the L. H. DONICAS, who are living there but still spend quite a lot of time in Big Spring with many of their friends. About Nov. 1 the Dinsmores plan to leave for Sao Paulo for another three years. He will work for the Canadian Electric Co., that is furnishing power for Sao Paulo and Rio. Rosemary will probably teach in the American School in Sao Paulo.

CWF Plans For Church Activities

Plans for October activities were discussed at the Thursday evening meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church. The 23 attending met in the church parlor with Mrs. Don Williams presiding. Members of the Martha Foster Circle were hostesses. A work day for women of the church was set for Oct. 27, and a tentative date of Oct. 29 was selected for a rummage sale. Plans were also discussed for a church fellowship dinner Oct. 31. Mrs. Sanny Wall was welcomed as a guest, and John Burges, chairman of the education committee, presented a program entitled "CWF and the Total Church." The members made a quarterly donation to the United Christian Missionary Society in Indianapolis, Ind.

Will Beautify Hospital Grounds

STANTON (SC) — The Stanton Garden Club has made plans to sponsor work on the hospital grounds of the Physician Hospital and Clinic in Stanton. The club will put a Christmas tree on the Martin County Library grounds and will sponsor the Christmas pilgrimage again this year in various homes.

Paulo which is a city of about 5,000,000 people. They have made many friends in Brazil including many from the U.S. and especially a number from Texas.

MRS. IRA MORRELL is planning to leave this evening for a vacation trip that will take her to Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia and Ohio. In Cleveland she will be the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. DAVID CAPLAN, and their two children. Mr. Caplan is an attorney for NASA and he has planned a tour through the research center for Mrs. Norrell. She plans to return here about Nov. 1.

MRS. JACK MURDOCK and daughter, Mary Margaret, and MRS. M. C. PETTY have returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where they attended the wedding of their nephew, Tommy Hare, last Saturday.

The A. G. MITCHELLS have a new addition to their grandchildren group. She is the new little daughter who was born to MR. and MRS. W. B. EDWARDS (Judy Mitchell) in Fort Worth Sept. 28. She has been named Jill Malinda. The Edwardses have a son, Bobby, who is three. The Mitchells were down over the past weekend and Mrs. Mitchell came back on Tuesday.

If you were in school here between the years of 1913-15 you probably remember W. A. MANCILL who was teaching here at that time. Some of his pupils who still live here are JACK WILCOX, MRS. CECIL WASSON, ARCHIE TRUE, MRS. L. R. MUNDT and MRS. A. W. MOODY. Mr. Mancill is a patient in the Veterans Administration Hospital and on Thursday he will be observing his 80th birthday. Can't you imagine how much he would enjoy having a card from some of his long ago students?

A post card came in the mail from MRS. FLOYD PARSONS who has many friends here, when she was in San Juan, Puerto Rico, with Mr. Parsons, superintendent of the Little Rock, Ark., schools. He was attending a meeting there.

MRS. C. B. GLENN and her children, Bryan and Carrie, are here from San Antonio for a visit with her parents, MR. and MRS. W. W. LANSING.

R. C. STOCKS, who has been hospitalized in a Houston Hospital, is now a patient in Cowper Clinic and Hospital. He is in room 54.

ARLTON DEVANEY, who is working with Rob-Nel Construction Co. in Metairie, La., sends in an SOS for the home town news. "I've been down here since November, 1965, and have not seen a Big Spring paper... send it as soon as possible." The DeVaneys live at 201 Kent in Metairie.

MR. and MRS. DANNY VALDES left last week for a trip to France. They plan to take their son, Caesar, to Lourdes.

Sets Date

Mr. and Mrs. Justin D. Henderson, 3620 Connally, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Merylyn Ann, to John R. Downs, son of M. Sgt. and Mrs. Roland Downs, Lakenheath AFB, England. The couple is planning a Nov. 23 wedding in the home of the bride's parents.

Flower Show School To Be In Lubbock

Flower Show School Course No. 3, sponsored by the Lubbock Council of Garden Clubs, will be held Oct. 11-13 at Lubbock's Municipal Garden - Arts Center, 4215 College Avenue.

This school is being offered for the following people in this area of the country: (1) Any individual interested in growing, showing, and arranging flowers; (2) Garden club or plant society members who wish to learn how to stage better flower shows in their own communities; (3) those who desire to become National Amateur flower show judges; and (4) National Amateur judges who are eligible for a refresher course.

Mrs. J. L. Webb of Houston, author of two books on Ikebana, will present the course on flower arranging which will include the use of color; using weathered woods in arrangements; making arrangements with vegetables and fruits; and modern arrangements.

Herbert C. Gundell, extension agent attached to Colorado State University, Denver, Colo., will teach the course on horticulture and flower show practice. Horticulture will cover the theory and helpful instructions in organizing and conducting a flower show.

Registration for the school will be from 8:30 to 9:00 a.m. Tuesday. Classes will be from 9 a.m. to about 4 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday. The examination will be given from 9 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon on Thursday. The fee is $6.50 for the course and $1 for the examination, if taken for credit.

Anyone may attend whether interested in taking the course for credit or not. Fee for one day is $3.25 and national judges (not taking the course for refresher) may audit the course for $3.25.

Zone Meet Slated For Gardeners

Miss Bo Bowen, 2509 Fisher, was hostess to the Spaders Garden Club Thursday afternoon, as Mrs. Kyle Cauble presided.

Mrs. W. D. Caldwell reminded members of the Southern Zone meeting which will be here Nov. 7 at the Ramada Inn. Reservations for the event are to be made by Oct. 31. Also, the council flower show is scheduled for Nov. 5 at Howard County Junior College.

The program was given by Mrs. Zack Gray who spoke on the "old and new" in flower arranging. She showed illustrations of various types of arrangements. Eleven attended.

The next meeting will be Nov. 3 in the home of Mrs. Gray at 1305 Pennsylvania, when the program, "Propagation is Making Magic," will be given by Miss Bowen.

Carpeting Gains

Wall-to-wall carpeting continues to grow in popularity. Industry figures show considerable gains in this type of floor covering, not only in upper income brackets but lower income families as well.

Breakfast Held For Baptists

"It's the Kick Off" was the theme of the Saturday breakfast of the Dorcas Class of the Forsan Baptist Church. The members met in the fellowship hall with Mrs. Mary Archer and Mrs. Carl Tippie as hostesses.

The breakfast table was centered with a football replica surrounded by gold satin and red flowers. The place cards were miniature footballs.

Mrs. L. T. Shoults gave the devotion and read a poem entitled, "Lo the Way, How Swift the Day."

Appointed as group captains were Mrs. C. V. Wash and Mrs. J. W. Overton.

MR. AND MRS. DARRELL BOMAR WITH ANGELA AND PAMELA

Carbon Plant Lures Them To West Texas

By JO ANN PHINIZY

The relatively new salesman training program at Sid Richardson Carbon Company was the lure that brought the Darrell Bomar family from Fort Worth to West Texas.

The family of four moved into their home at 2700 Carol on Sept. 7 and are in the process of becoming an integral part of the community.

Pre-school-age daughters, Angela and Pamela, conquered the neighborhood in rapid time.

"We almost had to drag them beyond Fort Worth city limits," Mrs. Bomar said. "They were certain there were no children in Big Spring and that they would never have another friend in the whole world."

"By afternoon of the day we moved in, they were so busy playing with children on the block, I could hardly get them to come home for supper."

Nor was it long before Mrs.

Bomar began meeting other women on the block. Soon there were morning coffees, afternoon shopping jaunts and a sudden interest in golf.

"My neighbors have so much fun comparing golf scores and if-not, why-nots that I'm wondering if the game has more to it than I thought," Mrs. Bomar remarked. "I guess the only way I can find out is to start taking lessons."

Mrs. Bomar is also a neobridge enthusiast. She describes herself as a "sit-in" sort of player, and vows that this is one game, baby sitters notwithstanding, she intends to pursue to the ultimate end.

Bomar, who is embarked as a trainee in the carbon business, is enthralled with his new work.

The two-year course will take him through all phases of the raw product in its chemical compound, the manufacturing process, commercial uses and salesmanship.

When time allows, he will renew his hobbies of swimming, bowling and tennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bomar are fans of the antiquing world. They enjoy touring junk shops with an eye toward finding useable items. From there, it becomes a matter of almost completely redoing their purchase.

"Still, it's fun," Mrs. Bomar said. "Right now, we are looking for an old table with heavy, ornate legs. It's the legs we want; they can be made into beautiful candle holders."

"One of the best things about antique furniture is that it can be adapted to almost any period. It can blend with a modern motif or with the Spanish-even Oriental, if you are real careful."

The Bomars are looking forward to the days and times in Big Spring and to becoming acquainted with its people.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Reflector Tape May Prevent Accidents

Most people hesitate to put reflector tape on the outside of their car.

For safety's sake, I suggest they place a large "X" of reflector tape across the inside of the trunk lid and inside the hood.

When you lift the trunk and hood, the strips of tape can be seen for miles from either direction. It might come in handy if stranded on a highway some dark night. . . . Mrs. G. A. E.

Dear Heloise:

I live in a climate where there's much dampness. I put about six thicknesses of newspaper between the mattress and coil springs of the bed. This is great for absorbing some of the excess moisture caused by high humidity, and helps keep the dampness out of the mattress and bed clothes. . . . Selma Scotten

Yes, this does work. I have also found that if you line closet shelves with six or eight folded pieces of newspaper, it will help absorb the moisture in your closets.

It's great if you keep your shoes on the shelf.

When it comes time to clean out your closet, all you have to do is replace the old newspapers. . . . Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER:

Dear Heloise: Honestly, it seems you spend 24 hours a day saving time. Don't you ever go on a fling, and throw away a little leftover grease or buy ready-made dishrags? . . . F. C.

Dear Heloise:

When my 11-month-old daughter discovered she could bite things, she put a nice big hole in the plastic-covered back of her high chair.

I thought I could mend it with plastic mending tape — she bit it off the same day!

I had a new aqua chenille seat cover, the same color as the high chair.

I put it on, tied the strings and it worked nicely.

It also makes extra padding for baby's back.

For a very small baby just strings and have a very nice, inexpensive high chair pad. . . . Mrs. Donald Falconer when small children eat, put down a large bath towel. After a meal it's simple to shake the towel or rinse it out if there were any spills. . . . Grandma

Turkish Towels Clean Showers

Do you dislike scrubbing the tile in your shower or bath — as well as the glass door?

This can be eliminated if you can instruct the shower-takers and bathers at your house to go over the area with a thick turkish towel right after bathing. It will only take a few minutes, and save you many a back-breaking job of cleaning — only to have water marks all over again after the very next shower.

HD CLUBS

Speakers Explain Social Security Act

Benefits and history of the Social Security program were discussed last week by the area Home Demonstration clubs. Plans continued for the Oct. 19 craft show at the Highland Shopping center, and several clubs welcomed new members and guests.

LOMAX CLUB

W. H. Patton was guest speaker during the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Lomax Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. J. L. McIlvain.

Patton, Howard County Social Security Administration officer, discussed benefits of the Social Security plan. He also described the registration processes.

Mrs. James Moore gave the council report, and the next meeting will be Oct. 20 in the home of Mrs. Bob Glenn, at 9 a.m.

COLLEGE PARK CLUB

Mrs. Ralph Grantham was welcomed as a new member during the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the College Park Home Demonstration Club. The members met at the home of Mrs. Nelson Ball, 1319 Tucson.

Guest speaker was the Howard County Social Security officer who discussed the merits of the Social Security program.

Members were reminded of the Oct. 11 workshop at the home of Mrs. Paul Bruns, and the next meeting will be Oct. 18 at the home of Mrs. Conrad Miller.

Welcomed as guests were Mrs. Gene Simpkins and Mrs. Ronnie Richardson.

AIRPORT CLUB

Tips on making salads were given during the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Airport Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. J. L. Wright, 1606 Eleventh Place, was hostess.

Mrs. R. P. Morton gave the devotion, and the roll call question was "What book of the Bible do you enjoy reading the most?" Mrs. Wright conducted the program on salads. She stressed the importance of salads in meal planning and different ways to make an attractive salad.

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Raymond Key, and the next meeting will be Oct. 18 at the home of Mrs. E. A. Bunn.

COAHOMA CLUB

Mrs. J. W. Wood was hostess to nine members of the Coahoma Home Demonstration Club who met in her home Wednesday with Mrs. A. C. Hale presiding. Roll call was answered with a favorite book of the Bible.

Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel reported on the recent state convention in Corpus Christi, and final plans were made for the Howard County exhibit Oct. 19 at Highland Center.

The next meeting will be Nov. 2 in the home of Mrs. J. C. Thames in Big Spring when Mrs. Delaine Crawford, county agent, will speak on dieting.

FAIRVIEW CLUB

E. L. Fisher of the area Social Security office was guest speaker during the Tuesday meeting of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. J. M. Smith. Mrs. W. H. Ward was cohostess and gave the devotion.

Fisher traced the progress of the Social Security program since its beginning and explained new laws pertaining to it and the new medicare program. He said that over 22 million persons will receive Social Security benefits this year.

Mrs. W. C. Robinson presided as roll call was answered with a favorite book of the Bible.

Mrs. J. F. Skalkicky gave the council report and information on the county exhibit. She asked the members to meet with her at 9:30 a.m., Monday, for a covered dish luncheon and workshop to make cotton boll corsages.

Mrs. Skalkicky won the attendance prize. The next meeting will be Oct. 18 with Mrs. Robinson hostess to the group in her home at 407 W. 4th. At that time, Mrs. Smith will give the program, "Repairs You Can Do."

ELBOW CLUB

Two new members were welcomed during the Thursday morning meeting of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. Lewis Rosser.

Mrs. L. D. Rhodes and Mrs. S. W. McElroy are the new members, and Mac Nugent was guest speaker.

Nugent, from the Social Security office, explained the recent laws on Social Security and medicare. A question and answer session followed his talk.

Plans were made for a Tuesday workshop at Mrs. Rosser's home to complete items for the Oct. 19 craft show at the Highland Shopping Center, and the next meeting will be Oct. 20 at the home of Mrs. Ross Hill.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Deere of Lamesa are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Ollita, to Billy Wayne Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Evans of Lamesa. The couple is planning a Nov. 27 wedding at the Lamesa First Baptist Church.

International Wives Elect New Officers

The International Wives Club held an election during a meeting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Mrs. Irineo Bringas was named president, and her officers will be Mrs. Leland Graves, vice president; Mrs. Jack Green, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Conn, treasurer.

The attendance prize went to Mrs. Eduardo Arganaras, and other prizes were given to Mrs. Harry Roach and Mrs. L. J. Bishop.

The women planned a Halloween party for their children at the base pavillion from 2 to 5 p.m., Oct. 29, and slated a tacky party the same night and place for their husbands. The latter event will begin at 8 p.m.

The hostesses, Mrs. Loren Hiniker, Mrs. Hal Reddoch and Mrs. James Price, served South American and English refreshments from a table covered with white linen and appointed with a crystal punch service. The centerpiece was formed of flowers and fruit.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of an engraved bracelet to Mrs. Al Valdes, retiring club president. Mrs. Jack Perryman made the presentation, and Mrs. Roy Drinnen expressed appreciation from the club members.

The next meeting will be Nov. 3 in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Big Spring Credit Unit Gives Slate

Mrs. Noel Hull was named president of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club during a Thursday luncheon meeting at Hotel Settles. Others to serve with her are Mrs. R. L. Nall, vice president; Mrs. George Weeks, secretary; and Mrs. C. W. Mahoney, treasurer. Directors will be Mrs. Pyrie Bradshaw, Mrs. Arthur Eitzen, Mrs. W. E. Moren and Mrs. Ernest Welch.

For the program, Mrs. Hull led a discussion on the educational manual with members participating in a question and answer session.

Eighteen members attended, and Mrs. Modesta Williams was a guest. Mrs. Joe Connolly won the attendance prize.

The next meeting will be Oct. 20. At that time, R. E. Hickson, credit manager of Hemphill-Wells Company, will give a lesson on the professional advancement for consumer credit executives and personnel.

Tone Freckles

Freckles can become subtle beauty spots when they are slightly bleached with a mixture of lemon juice and baby oil. The baby oil keeps the skin soft.

High Tallies Told For Club Games

Eight tables were in play for the duplicate bridge games held Friday afternoon at Big Spring Country Club.

North-south winners were Mrs. Elmo Wasson and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, first; Mrs. Morris Patterson and Mrs. Fred Lutting, second; and Mrs. R. E. Dobbins and Mrs. Glen Cox tied for third with Mrs. Victor Bouquet and George D. Pike.

East-west winners were Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Hudson Landers, first; Mrs. Ward Hall and Mrs. Elvis McCrary, second; and Mrs. Truman Jones and Mrs. Fred Kasch, third.

It was announced that Wednesday and Friday will be Master Point days at the club, and Master Points will be given during Thursday evening play at Webb AFB.

Koffee Kup Club Names President

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Faye Feckenstein is the newly-elected president of the Koffee Kup Home Demonstration Club. The new slate of officers to assist Mrs. Feckenstein are Mrs. R. P. Odum, vice president; Anita Johnson, secretary; Virginia Morrow, treasurer; and Kay Simpson and Mrs. Bob Cox, council delegates.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By KARLA FLECHSIG

First Lt. and Mrs. James H. Kiehle were pleasantly surprised with an invitation to dinner Tuesday evening, compliments of Lt. Kiehle's students. The thoughtful ones responsible were 2nd Lt. Phillip Holdiness, 2nd Lt. Ed Thorstend and Capt. and Mrs. Tom Currier. The week turned out to be one of many niceties for Mrs. Kiehle. The VIP room at the Officers Open Mess was reserved for a going-away party in her honor Thursday morning. It was a complete surprise to her... wish someone had had a camera!

First Lt. and Mrs. T. C. Isaacson and 1st Lt. R. L. Flechsig journeyed to Colorado Springs, Colo., over the weekend to see Air Force handily defeat Navy 15-7.

Maj. and Mrs. F. W. Ethun hosted a goodbye party for Capt. and Mrs. R. R. Pedigo Saturday evening. Mrs. Ethun served a delicious dinner of Mexican food to the 42 people attending.

Capt. and Mrs. R. W. Hunter were hosts at a goodbye party for Maj. M. C. Patton and Capt. and Mrs. R. B. Vega Saturday evening. Activities consisted of a dinner, after which everyone went to the Officers Open Mess and then returned to the Hunter residence for an early morning breakfast.

In answer to many inquiries, the OWC Space Party is a costume affair. Get out your needle and thread and whip up your latest space attire.

COFFEE

Class 67-H held its monthly coffee Saturday in the home of Mrs. Steven Hunsicker. The coffee also provided an occasion to hold a baby shower for Mrs. William Griffith. The hostess was Mrs. Robert Snyder.

A surprise party in honor of his promotion was given for Capt. Owen Wormser by his wife, Barbara, Saturday evening. Guests at the party were Capt. and Mrs. Frank Frullo, Capt. and Mrs. Fred Pappas, Capt. and Mrs. Bob McCormick, Capt. and Mrs. Anton Sissell, Capt. and Mrs. Fred Richards and Capt. and Mrs. Bill Pemberton. A buffet of hors d'oeuvres was served as the "main course" with coffee and cake being served later on in the evening.

Air Base Group held its monthly bridge in the home of Mrs. Joseph Tiber Tuesday. Winners were Mrs. B. J. Dromsky, Mrs. T. P. Sieagle and Mrs. Dennis Lucido.

Tuesday afternoon "C" flight arranged a surprise luncheon in honor of Mrs. J. D. Arnold. During the luncheon, Mrs. Arnold was presented with two charms for her bracelet. One was an oil derrick symbolizing the state of Texas, and the other was a silver disk engraved with "C" Flight, 3360th Pilot Training Squadron, The Sunday before, 1st Lt. John D. Arnold had been surprised by "C" flight with a going-away mug after they had finished with their flight dining out.

BRIDGE

Winners of the All-Day OWC Bridge that was held Sept. 29 are as follows: First, Mrs. E. M. Bunn and Mrs. O. B. Howard; second, Mrs. F. D. Borner and Mrs. J. Staples; third, Mrs. J. D. Arnold and Mrs. V. H. Bouquet. The Slam Prize was won by Mrs. G. D. Hull and Mrs. J. A. Green. Both the door prize and the travel prize were won by Mrs. G. H. Vorres.

MRS. THOMAS H. HARE

Thomas H. Hares To Reside In Key West

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harold Hare are at home in Key West, Fla., following their wedding Oct. 1 at the Grand Avenue Methodist Church in Hot Springs, Ark. The Rev. Woodrow Smith, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, the former Virginia May Holland, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Holland of Hot Springs; and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max G. Hare of Fort Smith, former local residents.

The candlelight ceremony was held before an altar graced with emerald and jade greenery and baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Ruth Braughton, organist, accompanied Mrs. Ted McLarty as she sang "More" and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight peau de soie and English net appliqued with floral motifs of Alencon lace. The Sabrina neckline was outlined in lace scallops, and the long, tapered sleeves ended in petal points. The bell-shaped skirt swept into a chapel train of peau de soie, and her veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls.

The matron of honor was Mrs. George R. Holland, Fort Smith, and the maid of honor was Miss Vicki Bischof.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Holland, sister of the bride; Miss Sandra Hare, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Dana Davis.

The attendants wore street-

length dresses of Mediterranean blue peau de soie in the empire design.

John Shermer of Fort Smith was best man, and ushers were Jim Milholen and George R. Holland of Forrest City.

Groomsmen were Ronnie Rankin and Dave Beckman, both of Fort Smith; Jack Coher, Fayetteville; and Frank Joe, West Helena. Altar taper lighters were Jan Spring and Jeff Raley.

For a wedding trip to Florida the bride wore a two-piece green and beige wool suit and matching accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Hot Springs High School, and attended the Arkansas State Teachers College in Conway.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Fort Smith High School, Fort Smith. He attended Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, and the Arkansas State Teachers College. He is presently serving with the Army Air Defense Command in Key West.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall where members of the wedding party welcomed guests. Refreshments were served from a table centered with blue and white carnations flanked by silver candelabra holding blue tapers.

Miss Marty Etkorn was in charge of the register, and members of the house party were Miss Karen Cook, Miss Jackie Jacobs, Miss Linda Jacks and Miss Sandra Whitaker, all of Warren.

Out-of-town guests were from Mobile, Ala., Fort Smith, and Big Spring.

Attending from here were Mrs. N. C. Petty and Mrs. Jack Murdock, aunts of the bridegroom; and Mary Margaret Murdock.

REHEARSAL DINNER

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was attended by 35 guests, and the honored couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves and their grandchildren, Terri and Craig Graves, visited recently in Abilene.

Shelf Area Adds Color

The convenience of storage shelves in recreation and work rooms is obvious—but don't overlook the decorating possibilities here.

Paint these useful storage areas in coordinating or brightly contrasting colors, and you'll add beauty to any room.

The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association suggests that you paint the inside back of the shelves first, then the undersides of the shelves, then the top-sides; and shelf edges.

Next, color coat the top of the shelf unit itself; the front and sides; leaving the unit bottom for last. Let the coating dry thoroughly and before you know it, shelves that were once just handy are "dandy" too!

Stanton Women Want Volunteers

STANTON (SC) — All interested persons are urged to attend the meetings of the local group working with the auxiliary unit of the state hospital in Big Spring. It meets in Stanton the first Tuesday morning of each month at the Martin County Library.

Mrs. R. P. Odum is president of the local group. Plans are being made to start an occupational therapy program on one of the wards.

Sub-Teen Caps

School crowd interest is evident in hats, with berets, all kinds of visored caps and little helmets favored by teens and sub-teens for school.

He Fiddles With Fiddles — Makes And Plays Them

By SAM BLACKBURN

When Denver L. Pettitt was a young boy in high school he yearned to be a member of the Hermleigh High School orchestra.

In particular, he wanted to play a violin.

His problem was a simple one of economics. He didn't have a fiddle and he didn't have enough money to buy one.

What to do?

The answer came to him partly enough — make one.

How do you make a fiddle?

Well, the 17-year-old Pettitt used the weathered wood from the back seat of an old buggy.

He also utilized the thin slats from a banana crate. A piece of weathered timber served as the raw material for the neck.

With a lot of patience, a lot of whittling and scraping, plus a mass of ingenuity, he put these things together and came out with a violin. A violin, mind you, good enough that he was accepted as a member of the Hermleigh orchestra.

MAKE AND PLAY

This started Pettitt, long-time employee of the Texas Electric Service Co., on a two-wheeled hobby — making violins and playing them. That's been a long time ago 20 or 25 other fiddles ago, in fact. He has made at least that many since his first experience in the field.

His original fiddle came to a bad end. It was crushed one day beyond repair. However, he still has Fiddle No. 2 which he made to replace No. 1 — he has had that one 38 years. Just to show it works, he fingered a few notes and saved across 's strings with his bow. It sounded swell.

"Look at these sides," he said. "Slats from a crate like they used to ship stalks of bananas to stores. You can't get crates like that any more."

How long does it take to make a violin?

Pettitt says he can make two a year utilizing any spare time he may have from playing fiddles he has already made, or repairing fiddles which other folk send to him, and going all over the country to rifle matches.

and has a huge display case full of trophies to prove it.

EXPERT IN CRAFT

But, getting back to violin making — Pettitt is rated an expert at the craft. His best violins, two of which he has at his residence at 2108 Johnson have been used by master musicians in symphonic orchestras and their quality praised by experts. He said the few he has sold have brought from $300 to $400 each.

They are beautiful instruments, and only if you peer inside through the "F" hole will you realize the instrument isn't one produced by a violin manufacturer. Written on the upper surface of the base in indelible pencil is Pettitt's name and the date he made the instrument.

All of his earlier violins had a special identifying feature. The knurled end of the neck was carved into the design of a lion's head.

Recently, he has abandoned the lion's head symbol for the scroll is the traditional "curl" of violins in general.

"I owe most of my skill as a maker of violins," Pettitt said, "to a rugged Austrian master craftsman with whom I worked as a very young man in a music store in Plainview."

"His name was Frederic Johannes. We all shortened the name to plain 'Fred Jones.'"

"He was a violin maker who had learned his art in famous European centers. He let me help him at first and, when he saw I was interested, he began teaching me the finer aspects of the trade."

"Finally, one day he paid me a high compliment. 'Denver,' he said, 'if you were in Europe, I could get you a certificate from the guild as a master violin maker.'"

"I owe him a lot."

Pettitt says that a violin may appear to the layman to be finished long before the maker is satisfied with his efforts. A hundred small details are involved in completing the instrument.

A FLOP? JA!

Did he ever make a complete flop?

"Of course," he says, "when I was first starting out. One I made, just wouldn't work out. I tried every thing I could think of. Finally, I took it by the neck and bashed it against the corner of a worktable."

Pettitt works in his den and in the garage of his home. The tools, are relatively simple. What's essential is the "know how" and the infinite patience.

What else does Pettitt do besides shoot, work on fiddles, play his fiddles, and earn a living working for TESCO.

"Well," he says, "I do like to paint."

His home is well supplied with oil painting he has turned out in his "spare" time.

Volunteers To Hold Meeting

From Midland to Tyler and beyond, from the south bank of the Rio Grande, an unusual group of Texans will gather Wednesday in Wichita Falls.

The occasion is the eighth annual workshop for volunteers serving mental and tuberculosis patients and mental retardates. It is sponsored by the Volunteer Services Council for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools. Mrs. Ernest F. Nelson, Midland, a longtime volunteer at Big Spring State Hospital, is chairman.

If there is another organization exactly like this one, Mrs. Nelson says she doesn't know about it. There are 20 affiliated councils serving residents in 24 facilities, including branch or annex installations. The state organization is made up of these local units and representatives from statewide service groups.

The volunteers attend the state meetings at their own expense simply to share experience and ideas on better means of assisting approximately 30,000 Texans in the institutions, the chairman noted. This year, she said, the hospitals have recorded 441,931 volunteer hours—equivalent to 220 years if reckoned on a 40-hour week.

The two day meeting will conclude with a dinner Thursday night at which officers for the next year will be installed.

In addition to Mrs. Nelson, officers include Mrs. Hazel Jarrel, Tyler, vice chairman for tuberculosis hospitals; Mrs. Herbert Brin, Dallas, vice chairman for mental hospitals; Ben C. Ivey, Denton, vice chairman for special schools; Mrs. Carl Degan, Denton, treasurer; and Jack Y. Smith, Big Spring, secretary.

Mrs. Harvey Richards, Harlingen, is the immediate past chairman.

Discovery Right Given Defendant In Robbery Case

Judge Ralph Caton said Friday afternoon that he had allowed two of a sheaf of motions which Gil Jones, defense attorney for Carroll Trantham, charged with armed robbery, presented in court on Friday noon.

One, the court said, gave the defense certain "rights of discovery" and instructed the state to provide Jones with certain information. Another was a motion which required the persons who had testified before the grand jury which indicted Trantham to be inscribed on the list of witnesses.

Jones had sought by motion, and by personal argument, to get Wayne Burns, district attorney, to agree to Trantham being given a polygraph test. The court overruled the motion that it order the district attorney to participate in such a project holding that the polygraph, has no standing (legally) in court.

Jones told Burns that his client stood ready to pay all expenses personally for a polygraph test. Burns refused, contending the court has ruled on the matter.

BATHROOMS NOT BEST FOR KEEPING MEDICINES

Modern medicines are potent. It is important they be protected against deterioration. Whenever you take a hot shower or bath, the temperature is raised to a degree that may affect stability. Store medicines in a constantly normal, locked cabinet out of reach of children.

Read the labels of every medicine. Some should be refrigerated. Most of them are best kept in a cool dry place. None should be placed near heat.

We invite your inspection of our prescription laboratory. You can see thousands of medicines stored for maximum potency and immediate availability. We welcome prescriptions requiring intricate compounding.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Not Personalities, But State's Interest

About the only thing that can be said at this juncture, if local pulse-feeling is any criterion, about the U.S. Senate race is that a woefully small segment of Texas voters will make the decision between Waggoner Carr, Democrat, and John Tower, Republican.

This is not the expression of a democracy at its best, and should not prevail. Perhaps interest will be intensified before Nov. 3, but as of now there are depressing influences on the campaigns.

One of the strange circumstances is that other political aspects have come into the race. To read some of the state analysts, the hassle is between Gov. John Connally, who has expressed his staunch support for Carr, and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, who has remained at a distance. It ought to be understood that the U.S. Senate contest is not between Connally and Yarborough, but between Carr and Tower.

If the followers of Sen. Yarborough, who has held aloof from the race, stay at arm's length, it would amount to doing the very thing to the party which, through the years, they have accused others of doing. If they were to demonstrate the degree of staunchness they have called for in the past, the tenor of the senatorial campaign would change.

We are not concerned here with feuds between public figures, but since The Herald supports Carr, we feel that ignoring these internal differences would serve the interest of Texas as a whole.

The Herald supports Carr on the basis of his record of service to the state; assistant district attorney and county attorney at Lubbock; five terms in the Texas House of Representatives; Speaker of the House for two terms; serving as attorney general since his election in 1962.

In his state capacities, he has had a hand in helping with many of Texas' progressive steps, and his influence for the state's good has been felt.

It is our view that now Texas could use a more effective, forceful voice in the U.S. Senate, a type of man who could exercise leadership and influence in national affairs that Texas wants, and not just one who registers votes. It is the interests of our state in which we are principally concerned.

An Important Moment

At long last, the dreams of a second lake on the Colorado River as an area water supply seem now assured. Money for the project is now in hand, and a contract has been let for construction of the dam and spillway. There will be other problems, but the thing that is of transcendent importance is settled—there will be a major reservoir to hold water for this section of West Texas. These other things can be worked out somehow.

In a large sense, this project is a tribute to the foresight of the late Col. E. V. Spence, who served for almost a decade and a half as general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. His vision struck a response and unwavering support from the directors of the district, and others in the area, so much so that there was no wavering of purpose at his untimely death.

After a terrific battle, the CRMWD finally succeeded in getting the right to impound the lake, but the year's delay was tremendously costly — so much so that it threatened the project. For one thing, interest costs rocketed, adding several millions to the amount ultimately to be repaid. Inflation boosted construction costs. But district leaders never turned back. Today that they set out to accomplish seems now assured.

There still remains the matter of additional land, oil well mounds, relocated highways, pipelines, pump stations, but these can be worked out. There will come a time not so many years hence when this will be regarded as an important moment in the area's future.

David Lawrence Federal Assignment Of Teachers

WASHINGTON—The U. S. Department of Justice, through acting Attorney General Ramsey Clark, has notified the House Rules Committee that the federal government feels it has complete power to order the reassignment of teachers, professors or members of the staffs of any educational institution receiving federal assistance if there is any reason to believe that "racial allocation of faculty" denies to students "equality of educational opportunity."

A U.S. COURT of appeals decision, however, in July, 1966—which is cited in part by the Department of Justice memorandum—as a basis for the action now advocated—denies discrimination in the selection of teachers but does not conclude that racial imbalance is necessarily unlawful.

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 specifically says in Title IV:

"Desegregation" means the assignment of students to public schools and within such schools without regard to their race, color, religion, or national origin, but "desegregation" shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

Now claims that Title IV is virtually superseded by Title VI, which is called "nondiscrimination in federally assisted programs." It says:

"No person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance."

But Section 604 or Title VI says that no action which withholds federal funds is authorized "with respect to any employment practice of any employer." Teachers, of course, are employees, and their employers are local governments. Yet in the document submitted by the acting attorney general is the following declaration suggesting interference with employment practices in hiring or assigning school teachers:

"THE ASSIGNMENT of teachers to particular schools could be a most effective means of practicing racial discrimination against students who are the intended beneficiaries of a federally supported educational program. Surely, if a school district pursued an official policy of assigning teachers with class 'A' teaching certificates only to schools attended by white students, the discrimination against the Negro students would be obvious. Congress could hardly have intended by the language of Section 604 (Title VI) to exclude such a gross discrimination from the reach of the statute, particularly in light of the specific reference made by Senator Humphrey that Title VI, as it passed the House, would reach teacher segregation."

JUST WHAT were the words of Mr. Humphrey, who has since become vice president? He said at the time:

"The commissioner might also be justified in requiring elimination of racial discrimination in employment or assignment of teachers, at least where such discrimination affected the educational opportunities of students."

"This does not mean that Title VI would authorize a federal official to prescribe pupil assignments, or to select a faculty, as opponents of the bill have suggested. The only authority conferred would be authority to adopt, with the approval of the President, a general requirement that the local school authority refrain from racial discrimination in treatment of pupils and teachers, and authority to achieve compliance with that requirement by cutoff of funds or by other means authorized by law."

HUBERT Humphrey's statements made in 1964, however, now are being interpreted as permitting a system of teacher assignment to correct imbalance in the faculty of a public school or college.

Billy Graham

Pardon me, Dr. Graham for being so brash, but though I'm sure you are sincere, in my opinion your preaching and teaching is out of date. We now have bulldozers to move mountains; we no longer need faith. We have penicillin, we don't need prayers anymore for healing. If we have science, we don't need God.

May I remind you that agnosticism is not new either. The serpent, away back in Genesis, asked the question, "Yea, hath God said?" Humanity is affected with a disease that bulldozers cannot remove, penicillin cannot heal, and science cannot annihilate. That disease is called sin: What these man-made things were unable to do, Christ did by His death on the cross. This is not merely a theological concept; it works in everyday life. I have seen gangsters transformed into Gospel preachers; drunks changed into good faithful, loving husbands and fathers; sexually depraved persons transformed into high-principled, respectable citizens; and agnostics changed into devout, believing, persons. And all through the acceptance of Christ, and His finished work on the cross. There is nothing more up-to-date, or nothing more worthwhile, than the proclamation of a message that can bring men and women from darkness to light, and I intend to spend the rest of my days doing this.

'DID HE SAY WE SHOULD CUT OUR SPENDING?'

Business Review Labor Unrest Clouds Economic Horizon

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor troubles held the business spotlight during the week.

The Big Three automakers—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — all experienced strikes that cut into production.

Chrysler was the hardest hit. A strike of 4,200 workers at Chrysler's Twinsburg, Ohio, plant, which produces major exterior parts, resulted in a total of 44,600 workers being idled.

The strike was caused by a dispute over working conditions. It was estimated that the strike cost Chrysler 20,000 cars from its assembly schedule.

Chrysler and the United Auto Workers Union reached agreement to end the dispute late in the week.

General Motors sent home 3,000 hourly rated employees from a Fisher Body plant in St. Louis after 3,900 workers struck at the adjacent Chevrolet plant.

More than 4,800 workers were on strike at the main assembly plant of Ford Motor Co. of Canada at Oakville, Ont.

Auto production during the week was scheduled to fall five per cent from last week and six per cent from a year ago.

The industry scheduled an estimated 172,900 car assemblies at U.S. plants, compared with 181,837 last week and 184,067 a year ago.

On another labor front, General Electric Corp. and the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers were engaged in hard bargaining in Washington. At the beginning of the week President Johnson won a two-week delay in a threatened nationwide walkout.

DEFENSE ANGLE

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said a strike would threaten seriously the flow of military hardware to Viet Nam. He said this included engines for jet fighters and helicopters, radar and other electronic equipment, bomb sights and aircraft weapons.

General Electric has offered

UNSETTLED

- Big three auto makers are curtailed by work stoppage
- Airlines settlement is termed "clearly inflationary"
- Stock market sags to lowest point in three years
- New orders and inventories are up, but at slower rate
- Installment credit gains $602 million for new peak
- Auto makers raise model and optional equipment prices

a three-year contract with wage increases of four per cent the first year and three per cent each in the second and third years, additional increases for higher - skilled employees, six cents in cost-of-living raises over the three years and pension and insurance improvements. The union demanded bigger cost-of-living increases, better procedures for settling grievances and other gains to make up for what it calls poor contracts of earlier years.

"INFLATIONARY"

Harking back to a labor dispute already settled, Gardner Ackley, chairman of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisors, denounced as "clearly inflationary" the wage settlement between American Airlines and the Transport Workers Union.

He put the cost of the agreement at 6.5 per cent a year, more than double the government's wage guidepost figure of 3.2 per cent.

"Any business which agrees to terms like these cannot justifiably complain about the deterioration of the purchasing power of the dollar; and any union which demands them has lost any right to complain about the rise in the cost of living," Ackley said.

The stock market continued to decline, falling to its lowest level in nearly three years.

Automakers raised suggested retail prices on some optional equipment on the 1967 models as much as 27.5 per cent.

If buyers continue to load their cars with extra equipment — as they have in recent years — they may end up paying an extra $50 or more in higher option prices.

Following the lead of the Big Three automakers, American Motors raised prices $56 to $111 on its 1967 models, or an average of 77%.

The National Association of Purchasing Agents reported that a survey of its members showed that new order and production rates gained in September but the improvement was below last year's upturn. This, it said, caused concern over the outlook for the next year.

Consumers increased their installment credit by $602 million during August to a record $91.48 billion, the largest dollar expansion since March, the Federal Reserve Board reported.

Steel production for the week dipped to 2,615,000 tons from 2,645,000 the previous week.

A 'Body Shop'?

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Workers at an automobile repair shop here answer the phone with the words, "body shop."

Several workers reported apparent wrong phone numbers when their response brought silence and a disconnect signal.

They learned the repair shop phone number was similar to that of a local mortuary. They quickly changed the wording of their telephone response.

To Your Good Health First-Hand Report On Cataracts

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I had cataracts removed from both eyes and was fitted with glasses. The doctor said that at my age (45) I had 20 years more of work and that he would fit me with contact lenses if I wanted them.

I got along fine, 20-20 vision, with my thick lenses, but had to turn my head to see to either side because you have to look through the lenses.

The glasses make your eyes appear so big to people, and in a crowd I was always bumping into them because I couldn't look out of the corner of my eye.

It does take a bit of practice to learn how to insert and remove contact lenses, but this is the way to obtain peripheral vision—the ability to see at the side without turning the head.

I am pleased to note that Mr. A.R.M. faithfully follows the simple but important rules for users of contacts. And I trust that his letter will dissolve the fears of folks who don't know quite what to expect after cataract operations.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been taking—for high blood pressure although it has been normal for six months. I do not like to take medicine that I do not need, and feel that it has side effects, but my young doctor thinks not.—MRS. F. H.

The drug you mention is very effective and your blood pressure may be normal simply because you are using it. Do not stop without your doctor's permission, but he might agree to discontinue it for a time. Then you'd know whether your pressure can remain normal without it.

You mention side effects but don't say what they are. If you have noticed anything specific, by all means tell your doctor.

Dear Dr. Molner: I went to the doctor for tests to see if I could have children. I have what is called a "split uterus." Is it possible for an operation to help me?—MRS. W. J.

I am not familiar with any surgery which can correct this condition, but pregnancy has been known to occur with a "split" or "double" uterus. Some other cause may be involved in your inability to become pregnant.

Around The Rim Just Take Everything

This is not the traditional vacation season, but a trip at any time would serve to set up this drama in a fictional household:

Fred and Flora have decided to take a 10-day jaunt. All Fred worries about is where the money is coming from. He figures everything else will take care of itself. Not Flora.

SHE WANTS to know exactly what they will be doing each hour of the day, and each evening, and whom they'll be seeing, so she can have exactly the right thing to wear at the right time.

"How should I know?" says Fred. "Why don't you just throw in a couple of dresses and maybe a couple of pair of slacks and blouses. That'll cover everything, if you can take a little joke, dear."

FOR FLORA, they certainly don't cover everything. Aware by now that she's not going to get any help from her hunk of a husband, she determines that she will take enough clothing and paraphernalia to meet any conceivable contingency.

Fred comes home one evening about two weeks before the trip is scheduled and finds the bedroom resembling an auction house.

"What in the world are you doing?" he demands.

"I'M PACKING," she replies sweetly.

"Now?" he shouts.

"I've got to be sure I have everything," is the wifely reply.

"Woman," says the self-regarded head of the house, "we are just going on a little trip for eight or ten days. There is no need to try to outfit a battalion."

"You never can tell," is the answer he gets.

AND OF COURSE she's right. What Fred intended to do, about 30 minutes before departure, was to be sure the golf sticks and the tackle box were in the car, and then it's no problem to throw in the bag a few sport shirts, socks and other standard gear.

That's about all he takes.

First night out, he slices a finger and it bleeds profusely. Of course he turns to his helpmate and says "Baby, you bring my Band-Aid?"

"Yes, there's some in my little brown bag." And she fixes him up.

Next day, he rips a button off his shirt.

"YOU WOULDN'T happen to have a needle and thread, would you, darling?"

She does, and it's in another little carry-all. She fixes him up.

And so on. Fred runs into his emergencies, and Flora, drawing on the materiel that was to outfit the battalion, simply outfits her husband when he needs it. She does it so frequently that Fred even forgives her for having taken 14 pairs of shoes. (He wishes he'd taken an extra pair himself.)

THE FINAL PAYOFF comes when, two days from home on the return journey, he is forced to ask, "You got any spare folding money? I don't think I've got enough to get us back."

And good wife Flora searches around among the half-dozen bags she took along and finds her "mad" money. It may make her mad, but it gets them home. Fred will never admit it, but outfitting for a battalion may be the smartest way to travel.

Art Buchwald Come To Think Of It, He's A Fink

WASHINGTON — The Senate internal security subcommittee just released classified material involving the security clearance of eight distinguished American citizens. It was unevaluated material gathered by Otto F. Ottepka, and many people protested that this kind of thing harked back to the McCarthy era.

I didn't realize how dangerous something like this could be until I was interviewed by a security specialist from one of the government agencies, who was checking up on a good friend of mine who was being considered for an important job.

We shall call my friend Bill Hoganblatt, and I knew him from my days in Paris.

THE SECURITY MAN was very friendly. "How long have you known Hoganblatt?" he asked me.

"About 18 years," I replied. "I want to say he's one of the finest men I've ever had the pleasure to be associated with. He's a good father, a kind husband, a loyal friend and a great American."

"What kind of people did he associate with during the years in Paris?"

"All kinds. Writers, artists, businessmen. Bill was a very democratic guy."

"ANYTHING STRANGE about these people?"

"Well, some of them were strange. I mean we lived in Paris, and you tend to meet a lot of strange people there—you know, nuts of all kinds."

"Were there any left wingers among these friends?"

"Come to think of it, I think there were. At least some of them had strong political convictions, but I don't believe Bill—then again he never did say much about politics."

"WHAT ABOUT girls?"

"Bill wasn't much of a ladies' man when he was in Paris."

"That's quite interesting. He didn't like girls then?"

"No, he liked girls. As a matter of fact he had several girl friends when he was in Paris."

"Then you'd say he was promiscuous?"

"LET ME THINK. Yeah, he was more promiscuous than he wasn't. To tell the truth, he was a rake."

"Would you say he liked foreign girls better than American girls?"

"I remember once he had two dates—one with a French girl and one with an American girl, and he stood up the American girl."

"How did you feel about that?"

"Well, at the time it didn't bother me, but now that you bring it up it was a dirty thing to do. It makes you wonder about a fellow like that."

"YOU SAID IT; I didn't. What about his drinking habits?"

"As far as I know he never touched the stuff at all."

"Then you'd call him a secret drinker?"

"Come to think of it he probably was. I never trusted a guy who would not drink in public."

"What else can you remember about him?"

"He used to go to the museum in Paris a lot."

"Did you ever see him go to a museum?"

"No, he just said he did."

"THEN HE could have gone anywhere during those times. Even to the Soviet Embassy."

"By golly, he could have. I wouldn't put it past him."

"One more question. As an American citizen would you want Hoganblatt to work for your government?"

"I should say not! I didn't realize what a contemptible rat he was until I talked to you. For all I know he's another Alger Hiss, and I hope he gets what's coming to him real soon."

Marquis Childs The Eisenhower Contradiction

WASHINGTON — Emerging from his retirement, or more accurately semi-retirement, Gen. Eisenhower has been projected into the election campaign. He threw his great weight in the balance of the most inflammatory of all issues—the Viet Nam war and do not rule out the use of nuclear weapons.

When the general first ran for president in 1952 this country was in a war in Korea. Following the massive Chinese intervention in late 1950 American casualties had gone well over the hundred thousand mark. It was a war unpopular, frustrating, baffling as is the conflict in Viet Nam today.

WHILE EISENHOWER, like other candidates for public office, managed at one time or another in the campaign to say almost everything on every side of every question his principal thrust was as the champion of peace. He sounded often, and particularly in Republican territory in the Midwest, like an old-fashioned isolationist. Here called from the record and contrasting so markedly with what he is saying today are some of his statements as he moved across the country in September and October 14 years ago.

We should be keeping our boys at home and not preparing them to serve in uniforms across the ocean.

—Newton, Iowa, Sept. 18

THERE IS NO sense in the United Nations, with America bearing the brunt of the thing, being compelled to man these front lines. That is a job for the Koreans. We do not want Asia to feel that the white man of the West is his enemy. If there must be a war there let it be Asians against Asians with our own support on the side of freedom.

—Champaign, Ill., Oct. 2

I AM NOT going to take time today to recite the blunders that led us into that war; but I do say to you, ladies and gentlemen, that it is high time that we were developing means and ways in South Korea where there are 20,000,000 natives to allow, permit, and make it possible for these people to defend their own front lines and get the United Nations troops out of the front.

—Louisville, Ky., Sept. 22

AMERICA MUST not forever be caught in this Korean-trap fighting the real enemy's second team. We must prepare the Koreans to defend their own lines, as we have done elsewhere, so that America's forces can serve their own true purpose.

THE GENERAL'S declaration toward the close of the campaign that he would go to Korea was credited as much as any single factor with his landslide victory over Adlai Stevenson. President-elect Eisenhower went to Korea before his inauguration. Not long after becoming president he initiated the moves resulting in the armistice signed July 27, 1953.

That peace, bringing to an end a war the American people were convinced could not be won, was widely popular. The critics were the hardliners who pointed out that the settlement sacrificed half of Korea to the Communists with a dividing line virtually where it had been before nearly three years of war and 157,530 American casualties.

COW POKES

By Ace Reid

"Neighbor, it's plain to see why my cows are always gittin' on yore place . . . you ain't keepin' our fence fixed!"

DEAR ABBY

It's Their Problem

DEAR ABBY: A pair of sisters-in-law in our circle do not get along and everybody who knows them is aware of it. My husband is friendly with their husbands (they are brothers) and I like both women, so we invited both couples to our daughter's wedding and reception. There were nearly 300 other guests.

Well, I have come in for a lot of criticism since then. People say I should make up my mind which woman I want for my friend and forget that the other one exists. I don't see why I have to make a choice, do you? I would appreciate your opinion. FAUX PAS

DEAR FAUX: To knowingly invite people who do not get along to an intimate gathering is poor taste. But if two people can't bury their hostilities in a group of 300, that's THEIR problem, not yours. Forget it.

DEAR ABBY: I have just returned from church and what I saw made me sick. Please say something to mothers who dress their 11- and 12-year-old daughters in nylons, heels, and let them use a lot of make-up and rat their hair.

Everywhere I looked I saw these children dressed and made-up to look like midgets. Don't mothers realize they do their daughters more harm than good when they let them grow up too fast?

DEAR SAW: Well - meaning! DEEPLY HURT

Stanton Council Plans 'Frosh Day'

By EUNICE STEPHENSON
STANTON—Plans for "Freshman Day" were discussed at the student council meeting Wednesday.

Mike Springer, Buddy Shanks, Bill Wilson, Nancy Hursh, Steve Stallings, and Victor Bentley were named to a committee to make further plans for "Freshman Day," an activity for Homecoming Week.

Installation of new student council members will be held jointly with the National Honor Society installation Oct. 20.

Sue Walker, Karl Herzog, Gary Reid, and Pug Deavenport were named to a committee to send welcoming letters to visiting schools.

During the pep rally Friday a "mock pep rally" was staged to encourage the students to be more spirited.

Also during the pep rally, Linda Henley, charged with laying the spirit stick down during school hours, had to sit in front of the student body with a dunce cap on her head and repeated a poem each time she was asked to do so by the football captains.

The juniors have had the spirit stick this week.

Members of the Future Teachers Association met to discuss plans for their money - making projects this year.

Cathy Workman is FTA president; Johnny Louder, vice president; Sue Walker, secretary; and Pug Deavenport, treasurer.

Monday will be the last day of the magazine sales being sponsored by the FHA girls, who have now sold $550 worth of magazines. Cindy Davis received a pillow for being high salesman the first week.

Air Force Qualifying Tests were administered to the juniors and seniors Thursday.

Pictures Made For Yearbook

By JEAN FANNIN
HCJC students had their pictures made Monday through Thursday for the 1967 "Jay-hawker" and turnout was better than expected according to Linda Ann Taylor, editor.

Day students had their pictures made Tuesday through Thursday and night students, Monday through Thursday nights.

Officers of the Hawk Players, drama organization, have been elected. Jim Stricklan was elected president; Pat Crenshaw, vice president; Rita Richardson, secretary; and Jackie Poole, reporter.

They are currently making plans for their first production, The Man Who Came To Dinner, to be presented Nov. 17-18 in the HCJC auditorium.

Student Government Association officers and class representatives met Wednesday during activity period in the parlor conference room of the Student Union Building.

Ray Graves was chosen to represent the student body at meetings of the co-ordinating council between the board of trustees and the college. Jerry Peurifoy, as SGA president, is automatically a member of the group.

Plans are now being made for HCJC students to attend Cinema '67, a series of films shown in Midland at the Theater Center. The first film will be Monday, Oct. 17. Students who wish to go can contact Mr. Martin Landers, head of the drama department.

Coahoma Basketball Girls Announce Team Captains

By DONNA DUKE
COAHOMA — Team captains for the Coahoma Bulldogettes for this season are Gina Williams, senior; Linda Richters, junior; and Sandra Gross, sophomore.

The Bulldogettes will begin their seasonal workout Oct. 15 at 10 a.m. in the gym. The girls will then work after school until they open play Nov. 1 when they host the Garden City Bearkats.

Managers are Brenda Robertson and Rose Ann King. Tim Whittington called the freshman class to order to discuss items needed to boost school spirit.

Freshman girls made a large victory sign for pep rallies. Debbie Meeds and Jan Stout wrote a victory song for the Bulldogettes and sang it during the pep rally.

LOCKER COMMITTEE

A committee has been organized to make footballs for the lockers with the numbers of the football players. Patti Sterling, Debbie Frayer, Paula Snow, Sherri Roeris, and Becky Brady, chairman, are on that committee.

Bennie Graves headed a committee to make four leaf clovers to hang in the gym as good luck charms for the Bulldogettes. One was made for each coach, Mr. Bernie Hagins, Mr. Norman Roberts, and Mr. Kendall Clickler. Also on that committee was Sylvia Dorn, Jana Lockhart, Kay Read and Rob Shive.

Debbie Hays is chairman of a committee making small four leaf clovers for each locker. Susan Clark, Beckie Brady and Molly McKinney are also on her committee.

SOPH MEETING

Sophomores met and voted to have class meetings every Tuesday during activity period and made plans for school spirit boosters.

FFA boys will meet in the VA shop and FHA girls in the activity room Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The spirit stick was won by the sophomores for the Coahoma-Brady game. Coach Norman Roberts and Terry Denton gave pep talks at the pep rally.

Mr., Miss Garden City High School Election Held Oct. 6

By DANNA WERST
GARDEN CITY — Paula Hardy was named Miss Garden City High School and James Seidenberger, Mr. Garden City High School in a Thursday morning election.

FLOYD HAYDEN

Brenda Jacob and Larry Schaefer were named senior favorites; Ronnie Hirt and Elaine Trantham, junior favorites; Rusty Carter and Kay Sawyers, sophomore favorites; and Steven Hirt and Judy Halfmann, freshmen favorites.

Brenda Jacob and John Wyckoff were chosen most athletic; Paula Hardy and Wayne Trantham, friendliest; Danna Werst and James Seidenberger, most likely to succeed; Paula Hardy and Wilford Hayden, most talented; and Bonnie Glenn and Bill Cook, neatest.

The FHA chapter elected Floyd Hayden as their beau. Floyd is a junior, a member of the football, track, and basketball teams and takes an active interest in all school activities.

Football Sweetheart and Mr. Bearkat will be crowned during pre-game activities Friday ing were Bill Cook, photographer; Linda Hoelscher, Jean Ann Bruce, and Brenda Clements. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Phillips accompanied the group.

There will be a supper served prior to the Homecoming game by the senior class. Tickets are $1.25 a plate.

alone with her thoughts

Are they good company — her thoughts, that is? For this is a time of her life when much can depend on the outcome of these moments when she is alone with her thoughts.

Decisions will be made — irrevocable decisions.

Steps will be taken that cannot be retraced.

The happiness of those who love her hangs in the balance . . . as she tries to discover where her own happiness lies.

But her thoughts are projections of the lessons she has learned, the experiences she has had.

And high among these are the truths she learned in her church life, and the rich experiences she has known with Christian friends who grew up in religious homes.

Alone with her thoughts . . . this girl is in good company!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children and nation. (3) For the sake of his community and church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'AROUND THE WORLD UNDER THE SEA'
Many familiar faces in adventure film

Sea Adventure Opens At Jet

Filed in Panavision and Metrocolor around the world from the Great Barrier Reefs of Australia to the Bahamas and the ocean waters off the coast of Florida, "Around the World Under the Sea" is a drama highlighted by excitement and action.

The deep sea adventure revolves about a group of scientists who make a submarine expedition to the most dangerous spots in the Seven Seas to imbed sonar devices in the ocean floor, along giant faults in the earth's crust, and over cones of volcanoes in order to give warning of seafakes and subsequent tidal waves.

Cast as members of the submarine expedition are Lloyd Bridges, Shirley Eaton, Brian Kelly, David McCallum, Keenan Wynn and Marshall Thompson, with Gary Merrill as a Washington expert on seismic systems. The story's romantic implications involve Miss Eaton (the gilded girl of "Goldfinger"), as the only feminine member of the crew, and Brian Kelly, who at first had opposed her joining the dangerous venture.

"Around the World Under the Sea" will hold audiences in its grip from its very first thrill sequence in which Kelly, far underseas in an ocean satellite, is pursued by a group of whales which crash into the satellite, cracking its shell. This is only one of the film's many awesome scenes. There is another in which Keenan Wynn is attacked by a gigantic moray eel, a sea monster larger than the entire submarine. Still another sequence depicts the tense journey to a sunken ship in an attempt to secure a cargo of germanium transistor crystals worth four-million dollars. Then there is a remarkable scene taking place in a huge bell in which Wynn lives at the bottom of the sea in a laboratory in which rabbits learn to breathe underwater and shark embryos are hatched.

In the story's climax, the submarine, christened Hydro-naut, finishes its mission by dropping a sonar device on the edge of an active volcano. The drop is made but the volcano erupts and belches fire through ocean waters, and so violent is the explosion that an entire island is blown to bits and sinks beneath the sea! As a result of the explosion, the submarine is caught in the slippage and is trapped. The action that ensues is spine-tling as the desperate scientists in the trapped sub use plastic explosives to blast their ship partially free, with the Hydro-naut triumphantly rising to the surface after Lloyd Bridges swims outside it to sever a cable with an underwater flare.

Actress Has Spent Lifetime On Stage

Only 27 years old, Natalie Wood has been a working film actress for 23 of those years and a star for more years than many of the new generation of "stars" have lived.

"I guess I'll just have to admit it," Miss Wood remarked after completing "This Property Is Condemned" "I love acting."

The production will open today at the Ritz Theatre.

"I grew up in the business," Miss Wood continued, "I started when I was four years old and all of my schooling was on sound stages.

"Unlike a lot of professional children who've grown bitter about it, I don't think I gave up a normal childhood. I certainly don't feel I missed one. And I probably had better teachers and more supervision than most kids. And the work never seemed like work. It was always too much fun."

In "This Property Is Condemned," Natalie plays a small-town Southern beauty who longs for the freedom and excitement of the big city. And as is true of most of her roles, it is a complete change of pace from her most recent efforts, "The Great Race," and "Inside Daisy Clover."

"I don't believe in doing a lot of pictures just to keep busy," she said, "though I'm rarely idle. That's probably because I read constantly. I'm always looking for the script of the story idea which might turn into a demanding assignment."

"Sometimes," she admitted, "I'm influenced by the people connected with a film project. The right producer and director can often turn a script that seems mediocre into something very special, just by knowing what approach to take."

She was very enthusiastic about her role in "This Property Is Condemned" and about the various creative talents involved like producer John Houseman and director Sydney Pollack.

"I liked the part and I liked the way the writers developed it," she said. "That's why I did it."

She is aware that she is a star and deliberately cultivates that image. Her studio dressing rooms are palatial. She has a star's entourage.

"I enjoy the effect," she laughed. "I think a star should be something special. Besides, if you treat yourself with all the deference your position entitles you to, others will treat you that way too. And your chances of getting better scripts are that much better also."

New starring role

'A HIGH WIND IN JAMAICA'
Anthony Quinn stars in thriller

Quinn Selected Role In Jet's New Offering

Anthony Quinn usually becomes impatient whenever he is questioned about why he takes a particular role. To a dedicated actor like Quinn, the answer is obvious and the question redundant. An actor has to act to fulfill his vocation. And when he is a star it is understandable that he enjoys a luxury of being able to choose roles. Therefore, he accepts a role only if it appeals to him and presents a challenge.

That, for example, is why the burly Mexican-Irish actor accepted the part of "Chavez," the strange pirate chief in "A High Wind in Jamaica," adventure film in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color and opening Saturday at the Jet Theatre.

"I was excited by the book written by Richard Hughes," Quinn said during location filming in Jamaica. "It was for me a great story of a bunch of misfits—men who try to be pirates in an era that had already made this a crime and had practically destroyed the whole concept of piracy by simple scientific and economic evolution."

"The pathetic nature of their characters and their degree of alienation is indicated by the fact that they were trying to operate as sailing buccaneers despite the fact that most of the rich prizes were much faster steamships. These poor pirates chose an outmoded way of life and were doomed to failure simply because there was no place for them in the world. They were fifty years too late.

Quinn, with the benefit of 25 years motion picture experience, and a string of roles he can't even count, seeks new enrichment from working with every new colleague. He readily volunteers that it was a fruitful experience working with Alexander MacKendrick, the director, for the first time. And his co-star, James Coburn, who plays the pirate's first mate, contributed to the over-all working relationship. Quinn said it was a great team.

"But every part, every motion picture is an experiment. The success or failure of the experiment must be judged by the public. They constitute our Supreme Court," Quinn said.

Affirmative Spirit Recaptured By Show

NEW YORK (AP)—A production of Chekhov's "The Seagull" without the traditional aura of gloomy despair is being prepared for off-Broadway presention by Curt Dempster. In a new adaptation, Dempster claims to have recaptured the affirmative spirit which Chekhov intended but that was purportedly distorted in the original Russian production in 1896.

Santa Anna's Wooden Leg Strangely Rests In Illinois

By ED SYERS

Few men, good or bad, have scattered stranger trophy farther than Texas' nemesis Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna. By times here, OBT searchers have read sign on legendary Santa Anna gold from East Texas forest to brush trails, south.

There was a gold brocade vest, for example, reported long ago in old La Grange, another believed in Clarksville, near Texarkana. Strangest, though, involves the dictator's artificial leg replacing that lost to the French in 1838.

Years ago, Port Mansfield's Charles R. Johnson saw the Napoleon of the West's wooden leg in a dusty corner of Morella, Mexico. Now, however, comes another and—unlikely or not—far north in an Illinois historical museum.

How it reached country totally unknown to Santa Anna comes to light from Fort Worth's L. B. Harbison, forwarding an Illinois historical account. Captors were Company G, Fourth Illinois Volunteer Infantry, storming Mexico City's approaches in 1847.

GENERAL TRAPPED

"At hotly contested Cerro Gordo, General Shields' Illinois volunteers turned Santa Anna's mountain flank and closed his rear to block escape. Lt. William Duncan recollected 'at an angle of the road, we saw a large carriage (knocked out by artillery). An officer was escaping on a mule cut from the team; it proved to be General Santa Anna.

"Pvt. Edward Elliott first reached the carriage, passed out a roast chicken still on the front seat, a sack of gold doubloons . . . and (the general's) cork leg.

"The grim trophy was taken back to Pekin, Ill., where a plate was mounted listing several of the captors. It was forgotten for 30 years, then turned over to the state museum at Springfield. On July 15, 1942," continues the account, "the Illinois general assembly resolved to return the leg to the Republic of Mexico as a gesture of friendship."

"Nothing came of the resolution," concludes the article. "Santa Anna's leg remains in Springfield."

Broadway Familiars To Do London Play
LONDON (AP)—Two Broadway familiars, Rex Everhart and Jack Klugman, have been chosen to provide needed American flavor for the London production of "The Odd Couple."

Fair's Musical

Paul Lipson as the colorful Teyve, and Dolores Wilson as his wife, Golde, head the cast to be seen in the Broadway musical comedy, "Fiddler on the Roof," at the State Fair Music Hall, Dallas. This winner of nine Tony awards and the title of "Best Musical of the Year" by the drama critics will be presented in 22 performances during the Texas State Fair, Oct. 7-23.

MEN IN SERVICE

Interior Communications Electrician Third Class Charles R. Leek, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leek, 4216 Parkway Road, Big Spring, is serving on the Guided Missile Frigate USS King which completed her first tour of duty off the coast of Viet Nam.

The cruise began literally with a bang when the element to which the King was attached was attacked by three North Vietnamese PT boats 50 miles off the coast of Viet Nam. The crew of one of the boats was pulled from the water by men of the King. As a crewmember of the King, he participated in the rescue of five downed U.S. Navy fliers.

BARKLEY WOOD

Private Juanita Medrano, daughter of Mrs. Susie Garcia, 706 S. First Place, Lamesa, completed eight weeks of basic training at the Women's Army Corps Center, Ft. McClellan, Ala., Sept. 30.

She received instruction in Army history and traditions, administrative procedures, military justice, first aid and field training.

T. SGT. E. R. ZYMKOSKI

Cmdr. Thomas B. Wood, commanding officer of Reconnaissance Attack Squadron 12, brought down his RA5C Vigilante Sept. 21, on the flight deck of the USS Saratoga to chalk up the 400th carrier landing of his career. This remarkable achievement called for a cake-cutting ceremony in the RVAH-12 Ready Room, where pilots and crew gathered to offer the Skipper congratulations.

Cmdr. Wood assumed command of "Heavy 12" on March 20, 1966, only a few months after the squadron's commission in Sanford, Fla., July 1, 1965. Under his command, RVAH-12 completed its first year without an aircraft accident and without serious injuries to personnel ashore or afloat.

Cmdr. Wood, a 1949 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, is the son of Mrs. W. E. Ezzell and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Shine Phillips of Big Spring. His wife, the former Margaret Elizabeth Stenzel of Palos Verdes Estates, Calif., and three children, Brian, 9, Allison, 5, and Eric, 1 1/2, reside at 305 Fairway Road, Sanford, Fla.

COL. S. M. BOWMAN

T. Sgt. Edward R. Zymkoski, son of Richard Zymkoski, 409 S. Irving Ave., Scranton, Pa., is providing vital maintenance support for the Strategic Air Command's (SAC) 15th Combat Competition which tests electronically the same deadly skills SAC combat crews are using to fight Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

Sgt. Zymkoski is a jet engine technician for the B-52 selected to represent the 319th Bomb Wing at Grand Forks AFB, N.D. in the "world series of bombing."

RONNIE OSBORN

The sergeant, a graduate of Central High School, is married to the former Billie M. Tucker. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. Tucker, reside at 1101 N. Scurry, Big Spring.

Three Army men from this area have received early promotions to Army Pay grade private E-3 on completion of basic combat training at Fort Bliss.

They were awarded the promotions two months earlier than is customary because of accuracy in firing the M-14 rifle, high score in combat proficiency and military bearing and leadership abilities.

They include Ricky R. Earle, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Earle, 1701 Purdue, Big Spring, who has been on active duty since last July and who was graduated from Big Spring High School and then attended Sul Ross College.

Also, Elias G. Ramirez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Ramirez, 1113 N. Scurry St., who also went into service in July; and Frank E. Biggers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Biggers, 234 Wallace St., Colorado City, a graduate of D. W. Wallace High School, Colorado City.

Private Gerald R. Pearce, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gains R. Pearce, Garden City, completed eight weeks of reconnaissance training Sept. 30 at the Army Armor Center, Ft. Knox, Ky. His wife, Judy, lives at 3128 Eisenhower, Odessa.

ELIAS G. RAMIREZ

Lt. Col. Stuart M. Bowman, whose mother is Mrs. O. K. Griggs of 404 Bryn Mawr Drive S.E., Albuquerque, N. M., on duty at Tan Son Nhut AB, Viet Nam. Col.
