Unconventional Landing

A Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 jetliner rests nose-down on the landing strip at Los Angeles International Airport after its nose wheel collapsed on touchdown last night. The plane skidded nearly a half mile. None of the 52 passengers and seven crew members was injured. Passengers left the plane via an emergency chute. The craft was arriving from San Francisco. Syrian Government Calls For 'Defense' Volunteers

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian government began recruiting civilians today for a volunteer defense army against Israel, but diplomatic sources reported it also has given private assurances it will try to halt terrorist commando raids into Israel.

Guerrilla raids by Assifa — Forces of the Tempest — commandos based in Syria have sparked a debate in the U.N. Security Council and threats and counterthreats by Israel and Syria that the border tension could plunge the Middle East into war.

WAR NERVES

Diplomatic sources here said the assurances that Syria would try to curb the raids came only a day after Syrian Premier Youssef Zayyeh declared Oct. 11 that Syria had no intention of curbing the commandos.

The Syrian government called for civilians to volunteer for a defense army as the Middle East's war of nerves remained taut.

"Following recent aggressive threats by Israel we call upon the citizens to volunteer to carry arms in a popular defense army which will share with the regular armed forces the honor of defending Syria against any aggression," Damascus radio said Tuesday night in a series of broadcasts.

20 CENTERS

It said 20 recruiting centers would open in the capital today. Tension continued high along the Syrian-Israeli border, scene of a series of incidents in the past two weeks. In New York the U.N. Security Council was debating an Israeli charge that Syria is trying to incite a new Arab war against Israel.

Despite supervision by a U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission, the boundary between the two countries has been the scene of increasing air, ground and sea incidents during the last year. Both sides accuse the other of aggression.

Israel blames the Palestinian terrorist organization Assifa for many of the attacks and charges it is supported by the Syrian government.

The firm, represented at the hearing by Robert L. Nichols and James R. Nichols, told the court and members of the aviation advisory committee that the plan they would prepare would envision all probable need of the airport for 20 years — based, of course, on present knowledge of aviation and aviation trends.

Fee for the plan will be $2,600. The commissioners, on a motion by L. J. Davidson, seconded by Ray Nichols, approved the contract. The vote was unanimous. Work will begin at once, the engineers said.

The plan calls for the determination of added land needed for the airport, proper location of buildings, allocation of land for future construction, study of runway needs and all other features which enter into the airport and its future.

A pressing demand to lengthen the runways is already facing the airport. This is impelled by the use of jet planes which have difficulty with the present runways. Also needed are additional hangars and other facilities.

The county commissioners court has been asked to take steps to meet these immediate problems. It is expected that a bond issue may be proposed to provide funds for the improvement of the airport. Meantime, until the planning engineers submit a report, little immediate action can be taken.

Viet Nam's Political Crisis Explodes Again

Perry Mason Twist Frees Death Suspect

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A lie detector test freed McKinley Powell Jr., 36, Tuesday less than two hours before he was to be tried for murder. The prosecution's key witness, Henry Douglas, 22, was charged with the crime.

"It's the closest I've ever come to a Perry Mason type case in my 11 years as a prosecutor," Asst. Dist. Atty. John Brady said after filing charges against Douglas in the June 11 shooting death of Fred Thaniel, 50.

The prosecutor was the principal figure in a series of fast-moving events that resulted in freeing of Powell and the jailing of Douglas.

STORY CHANGED

Brady held a final conference Monday with his four witnesses. All were certain Powell had fired a pistol during an argument in front of a cafe but they couldn't say if he had shot at the victim.

Brady said that during the conference Douglas began changing his story from his previous accounts of the shooting.

Then Brady found that the slug taken from Thaniel's body weighed less than the slugs in the remaining seven live rounds in Powell's .22 caliber pistol.

TRUTH TEST

Shortly after the jury had been empaneled, Brady said he told Powell's attorney "I'm not sure we have the right guy. If your client will take a lie detector test and pass it, we'll drop the charges."

"Of course, I agreed," said Curry. "McKinley had said all along that he was innocent and was quite adamant about it."

Testimony in the trial was scheduled for 10 a.m. and Powell, who had insisted the only shot he had fired was into the air, began the lie detector test at 8 a.m.

"He passed it with flying colors," Curry said.

"NO BAD FEELINGS" Brady said he then had a conference with Douglas and told him that Powell had been cleared by the lie detector test.

Brady said that Douglas was informed of his rights. Douglas was taken before a justice of peace and was ordered held without bond after the murder charge was filed.

After he was freed, Powell, a truck driver, said he knew that the truth would eventually come out. "I have faith in our justice system," he said.

"This thing cost me about $1,500," he said. "But I don't hold no bad feelings toward anyone about it . . . even Henry."

Cabinet Crisis

Seven Cabinet Ministers Quit

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's on-again-off-again political crisis exploded again today as seven southern civilian Cabinet members insisted today that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky accept their resignations immediately.

Ky was said to have accepted the resignations but was reported trying to win three or four of the ministers back and to fill the other vacancies with new men.

The dissident ministers' action appeared to doom efforts by Ky to patch up a facade of unity for the Manila conference on Viet Nam next week. He was expected to minimize the significance of the crisis at the Manila meeting but he will be unable to hide the fact that South Viet Nam is still wracked by unresolved political pains.

EMBARRASSING

"There have been many crises," Ky told newsmen earlier this week. "One more or less doesn't make any difference."

But an announcement of the ministers' resignations, attributed to high government officials, also contained statements that could prove highly embarrassing to Ky at Manila and provide Communist North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong with propaganda fodder.

The ministers said they were concerned that South Viet Nam "is becoming a police state," that the military should "stop poking their noses into business they know nothing about," and that they had demanded "the government show some signs of accomplishing something to better the life of the people in general."

MILITARY POWER

The dissident ministers, who said they put their resignations on Ky's desk this morning, included Deputy Premier Nguyen Luu Vien, and Finance Minister Au Truong Thanh, both members of South Viet Nam's delegation to the Manila meeting.

The crisis stems from resentment by South Vietnamese natives in the Cabinet against domination of the government by men from North Viet Nam who came south after the Communists took over in 1954.

Ky and most of the military men who hold the real power are northerners. Civilians in the Cabinet, including most of the southerners, have been confined largely to administrative roles.

Lamesa Store Hit By Fire

LAMESA (SC) — Fire swept through the Middleton Furniture Store, 210 S. Austin, at 7 a.m. today, resulting in an estimated $7,000 damage. No one was injured.

Fire Chief Luther Stander said that the fire started in a storeroom near the back of the store and cited faulty wiring as the probable cause.

Firemen fought the blaze for over an hour before extinguishing most of the flames. The alarm was turned in by J. D. McAmis, assistant manager of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Co., 207 South Ave., who was on his way to work when he saw the fire.

The store is owned and operated by Victor Middleton, who was at home when the blaze began.

UF Gains Hefty Push

Over $7,500 was donated to the United Fund Tuesday, with most of the offering coming from the payroll deduction section of the employe division.

The total brought in was $7,538.94, with $6,998.94 coming from the employe division and $540 from special gifts.

Grand total for the UF now stands at $58,466.39, 42 per cent of this year's goal.

A breakdown by divisions was, out-of-town, $6,489.50; big gifts, $28,497; special gifts, $4,507; employe, $14,441.04; Webb, $3,948.85; and metropolitan $583.

U.S. 'GUIDANCE PLEDGED

President Gets Colorful New Zealand Welcome

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — President Johnson got a colorful but restrained welcome to New Zealand today after leaving American soil 8,000 miles from Washington in exotic Pago Pago, a South Seas beauty spot never before visited by a U.S. chief executive.

Johnson's crowd in this capital city of New Zealand was quite small by campaign standards back home, numbering in the thousands rather than the tens of thousands. But the crowds were friendly and often enthusiastic.

For the President, the New Zealand stop represented an expression of friendship for a longtime U.S. ally and a return visit to a country where he spent some time as a Navy officer during World War II.

POOR AIDED

Pago Pago, in American Samoa, afforded Johnson an opportunity to call attention to a tiny island that he regards as a showplace for what can be done to boost the fortunes of a poor and rather primitive people.

By all odds, the Samoan stop-over was the most colorful yet during the President's journey, which will take him to at least five more countries during the next 15 days.

The biggest crowd turned out Monday in Honolulu, where perhaps 200,000 people gave Johnson a warm sendoff on his Asian "mission of hope" to meet with allies in the Viet Nam war and discuss prospects for a prospering, peaceful Asia after the guns fall silent.

PLACARDS WAVED

Along those showing up for the President's arrival motorcade in Wellington were several hundred critics of the war, waving placards expressing their dissent. At one point along the route they filled nearly a full block.

With wife Lady Bird at his side, Johnson first set foot in New Zealand at the Ohakea air base 97 miles north of Wellington. After watching a colorful Maori ceremony there the President and the First Lady flew to the capital with Prime Minister and Mrs. Keith Holyoake. There were the customary airport speeches and later conviviality and a round of toasts at a dinner and reception given by the governor general, Sir Bernard Fergusson, and Lady Fergusson.

Thursday Johnson will lay a wreath at a war memorial, meet with opposition leader Norman Kirk, who would like to unseat Holyoake in the Nov. 29 parliamentary election, and appear on television with Holyoake.

Then the Johnsons will be off to Australia for three days of visiting before flying to Manila for his Oct. 24-25 conference with leaders of six countries allied with the United States in the Viet Nam war.

In his arrival speech at Ohakea, the President recalled his last visit as a U.S. Navy officer in 1942 and said the United States and New Zealand then were "allied in a grim moment of history" and now in Viet Nam are allied in another "grim if small conflict."

Peace Prize Not Awarded

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The Norwegian Nobel Committee decided after a two-hour meeting today not to award the Nobel Peace Prize for 1966.

The prize had been withheld 27 times previously, but 10 times it was awarded the following year — so that there were two Nobel prizes in those years. Seventeen times it has not been awarded at all. The prize was established in 1901 under the will of Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite.

Under previous practice, the prize money now is held over until next year when the committee can decide whether to let it revert to the prize fund or award it.

The peace prize for 1965 went to UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund). In 1964 it went to the U.S. civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King.

Hardesty Gets Postmaster Nod

Frank W. Hardesty today was nominated by President Johnson to be postmaster at Big Spring, a White House announcement from Washington said.

The appointment is destined for Senate confirmation, and whether this could be completed before Congress adjourns—supposedly this week—was a question.

Hardesty has been acting postmaster since last December 1, being named to the post when Elmer Boatler retired. This appointment came through Congressman George Mahon.

Hardesty, 47, has been a resident of Big Spring since 1946, and has been a prominent figure in Democratic party activities as well as working in various public and civic posts.

He was for a number of years chairman of the Howard County Democratic Executive Committee and was an active leader for his party's ticket in all elections.

He served two terms as a member of the City Commission, 1948-52.

A veteran of World War II, he has been a long-time member of the American Legion and is a past post commander. He has been a director of the YMCA and now serves as disaster chairman of the Red Cross chapter.

He and Mrs. Hardesty reside at 633 Manor. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Hardesty, have resided here since 1934.

Hardesty had personal con-

tact with Lyndon B. Johnson when the latter was directing the NYA program in Texas and Hardesty was a student at the University of Texas. The newly appointed postmaster also is a long time friend of Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

DID IT FROST? RIME ON WINDSHIELDS SAYS IT DID

Did it frost in Howard County last night?

There are dozens of citizens who will insist (with some heat) that it did. They tell of coatings of frosty rime on their windshields at dawn and of temperatures which showed 31 degrees in their thermometers.

At the U.S. Experiment Station, where it was conceded that a "very light frost" in some places may have occurred, the official low was 35 degrees. Officially, it doesn't freeze until the mercury has reached a minimum of 32 degrees — on the official thermometer.

At any rate, the morning reading, regardless of where it was taken, set a new low for the 1966 fall season.

It was a considerable distance from the all time low for the date, however. That was a chilly 26 degrees on Oct. 19, 1917.

MUSICIANS DEMAND MORE LOOT

Show Doesn't Always Go On

By The Associated Press

Musicians from symphonic halls to discotheque dance floors are threatening in increasing numbers to lay down their instruments if their demands for more money and better working conditions are not met.

Dissatisfaction has spread from New York's night clubs and show spots to San Francisco's Concert Hall and in many cabarets and opera houses the show hasn't gone on.

The result has been empty orchestra pits, darkened stages and 11th-hour bargaining.

$167 BASE PAY

In New York City, a strike by members of Local 802 of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Musicians ended Tuesday night after the city's hotel association agreed to reduce their work week from five to six days and grant salary increases to a base pay of approximately $167.

The agreement, yet to be ratified by the membership, also provides arbitration of job security disputes, a major stumbling block.

During the two-day walkout the entertainment rooms and dance floors of some hotels were closed and Maurice Chevalier sang without accompaniment at the Waldorf-Astoria.

CONCERTS CANCELED

Members of the Philadelphia Orchestra have been on strike since their contract expired Sept. 15.

Twelve concerts in Philadelphia and one in Baltimore have been canceled. Orchestra members held a benefit concert Friday, led by conductor Leopold Stokowski, and raised $15,000 for the strike fund.

The members now make a minimum of $10,000 a year, plus a $2,000 recording fee, but they want $16,000 annually. The orchestra association has offered a five-year pact with a total minimum pay of $14,500 the last year. Negotiations have been sporadic.

HARMONY REPORTED

Musicians in the San Francisco Symphony threatened a strike two years ago and the season was reinstated only after the Musicians Union signed a three-year contract providing $190-a-week for a 30-week season. There have been indications of trouble when the contract expires.

Not all musicians are unhappy. Harmony was reported in Seattle, Wash., Boston, Los Angeles, Louisville, Ky., Atlanta, Ga., Cleveland, Ohio, Nashville, Tenn., Chicago, Detroit and Dallas, Tex.

Sixth Coin Show Opens Saturday

Big Spring Coin Club's Sixth Annual Coin show opens Saturday at 9 a.m. and will run through 5 p.m. Sunday.

This year's event will feature gold. Some of the finest collections of gold coins in the Southwest will be on display. As usual, full time police guard will be on duty at the show from the hour it opens until the final dealer's coin case has been closed and locked Sunday night.

This year's show, according to W. E. Wozencraft, longtime leader in the show, will feature more local collections than in the past. The coins owned by local coin collectors, he said, are remarkable for their quality and variety.

A special feature attraction will be the unusual display of cut and counterstamped West Indian coins owned by P. K. Anderson, past president of the American Numismatic Association. This collection, shown at national shows, has attracted widespread attention wherever it has been seen.

Trophies are on display now at Mac's Coin Corner, across the street from the Hotel Settles. This year, as in the past, the show and all activities pertaining to it will be in the Hotel Settles. Dealers will set up their booths in the ballroom as in the past. Wozencraft said that he expects around 20 dealers this year.

Included in the trophies on display will be the new award just added to this year's show—a special trophy for the best of the show in the junior division. In the past, the show has awarded a best of show award for adults only. This year, the youngster who has what the judges rate the best exhibit, will also be honored with a special memento.

The Big Spring Coin Club is cordially urging the general public to attend the show and inspect the unusual coin collections and individual coins.

The show will close down at 10 p.m. Saturday night and reopen at 9 a.m. Sunday.

A special feature Sunday morning will be a breakfast at which the awards won in the show will be presented. The breakfast is to be in the Hotel Settles dining room. It is to be opened at 7:30 a.m.

It Was Fine Day To Stay In Bed

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — When Evelyn Carson parked her car on the crest of a small hill recently, she noticed that the car in front of her had begun rolling forward.

In it were two children. She chased the rolling car, jumped in and stopped it seconds before it would have rolled into a busy intersection.

Her own car, meanwhile, rolled backward down the opposite side of the hill, into a parking lot and struck a truck. No one was injured.

New Approach To Art Urged Fort Worth Man To Head Small Town Study Panel

Don Duncan, instructor of art at Goliad Junior High and Howard County Junior College, discussed at last night's meeting of the Big Spring Art Association an experimental approach to art in the city schools.

Duncan returned Monday night from Waco where Texas art teachers met with Dr. William Bellmer, art advisor for Illinois state schools, who pointed out a need for a new approach to the teaching of art in elementary and secondary schools.

Public schools have failed in teaching art, Duncan asserted, since there is little carry-over into adult life of this important training. He pointed out that art is important because it develops intuitive thinking, observation, awareness and expression which are the doors to learning processes. The esthetic sensitivity which comes from art study promotes overall understanding.

In art, all Texas public schools are at the curriculum standpoint of 20 years ago, he said. Big Spring schools are the only ones in Texas at this time working on a new curriculum to bring teaching techniques in this field up to date.

About 15 attended the meeting, including guests Mrs. W. P. Hughes, Patty Shaplund, Mrs. Daryle Hohertz and Mrs. C. M. Lewis. Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Hohertz were welcomed as new members. Mrs. W. H. Crenshaw was hostess.

ABILENE — C. L. Cooke, Fort Worth, president of Community Public Service Company, has been named to head a West Texas Chamber of Commerce special task force to study the problems of West Texas small towns, John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, president of the organization announced today.

A "blue ribbon" panel of 25 West Texans, to be named shortly, will conduct an in-depth study and evaluation of the problems, resources and potentialities of towns under 12,000 population. Seventy-one towns in this category have lost population during the past 10 years.

"Too many people," Shepperd said, "are willing to write-off small towns but we cannot do this if we want West Texas to grow and prosper."

The study to be made will include exhaustive research, surveys, conferences in Austin and Washington and town hall type meetings and hearings in small towns of West Texas. The hearings will seek ways and means of utilizing existing assets and methods of accentuating the cultural, educational, recreational and industrial opportunities of the smaller towns.

The Special Task Force is a group for planned action and not an academic study, according to Shepperd. The group will seek to determine what the small town has and what it is possible for them to have; what assistance is needed, if any, from the state and federal governments; what the metropolitan areas may do to assist small towns within their spheres of influence; growth patterns of small towns and the reasons for losses or gains; J. L. Lloyd.

C. L. COOKE

the development of criteria as to what an aggressive small town, with proper leadership, can expect in the way of industrial development, tourism, cultural development and retention of young people in their community. The study will also evaluate available federal programs and services as well as those possible aids from the state agencies that will be helpful in attaining the goals set by the individual city.

Revolutionary Scars Remain In Hungary

Wall Pocked In Hungary Revolt

Two boys stand beside a building in Budapest whose walls are pocked by bullets fired by Russian tanks and rebels during the 1956 Hungarian revolution against their Communist regime. The revolt broke out Oct. 23 and was crushed Nov. 4 by Russian troops. (AP WIREPHOTO)

EDITOR'S NOTE — The writer of this dispatch has covered the news in Hungary of intervals in the last 17 years. One of several AP reporters there at the time of the 1956 revolt, he was arrested and expelled in mid-December that year. Since then he has been back to Hungary several times.

By ERIC WAHA
BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — "You from the West did not help us in 1956 — why are you interested in the Hungarian revolution now?" the former revolutionary asked bitterly.

At the Hungarian Foreign Ministry a spokesman said the great majority of people have all but forgotten about the 1956 uprising.

A tax chauffeur, after making sure nobody else was within earshot, spoke up: "Long live free Hungary."

BRIEF JUBILATION
These three stands seem to reflect the attitude of the Hungarians 10 years after this Communist-ruled country tried to shake off communism.

The revolution broke out Oct. 23, 1956. There was a brief span of jubilation before the Russians smashed it Nov. 4.

The impact of the Soviet action was resounding. Thousands of Western Communists tore up their party cards. Demonstrations were held in various western capitals and many Communist party offices were ransacked. World communism suffered a setback. In Austria, the Communists were wiped out in Parliament and have not succeeded in coming back.

VISITS BARRED
The Foreign Ministry refuses to arrange interviews with leaders involved in the revolution or visits to factories such as the huge plant of Csepel Island which had a role in the uprising. Without approval, such interviews or visits to plants are in fact barred.

Western observers here agree the regime's apparent jitteriness are not due to fears of unrest on the anniversary date. But the regime obviously feels that even small incidents could be embarrassing. There are signs of increased police activities on the roads to and from Budapest.

About 200,000 Hungarians fled to the West after the 1956 revolution. The Foreign Ministry says about 50,000 have returned. The number of Hungarians seeking refuge in other countries now is down to a few hundred every year. A modernized Iron Curtain studded with electronic gadgets plus barbed wire and minefields on some stretches makes it hazardous to try to escape to the West.

DEFLECTIONS RISE
But an increasing number of Hungarians defect during tourist trips abroad.

Hungary today seems much better off than before the uprising, but liberalization has slowed down in the past two years.

The Communists did partly meet a basic demand of the revolutionaries for more freedom. In the years 1956-63 life here undoubtedly became less restricted. Party chief Janos Kadar set the line with his statement that "anyone who is not against us is in fact for us."

Nonparty members were given top jobs in the economy. A boom on foreign travel started. Tens of thousands of Hungarians were given passports to visit the West. Such Western travel has stagnated since 1965. Officials explain one reason is lack of foreign currency.

6♣ Pass 5♣ Pass

Opening lead: King of ♣
South was willing to wager the success or failure of his six diamond contract on a single cast of the dice, and when the throw went against him, his opponent cashed the setting trick.

South was reluctant to defend when North made a penalty double of two clubs, for even the partner is probably short in hearts—South's original bid—the latter felt there was a reasonable chance for uncovering a fit in another suit.

When South bid two diamonds, North made a strong attempt to reach a slam. First he cue bid the opponent's suit and then he jumped to five diamonds. South accepted the invitation and carried on, inasmuch as he held the necessary controls.

West opened the king of clubs. The ace was played from dummy and South discarded the three of spades. He decided to stake his prospects on the heart finesse. The four of hearts was led from dummy and declarer played the queen from his hand. West produced the king and promptly cashed the ace of spades for the setting trick.

In the opinion of this department, South was guilty of placing too many eggs in a single basket. If he makes a spade play first, it may prove unnecessary to rely on the heart finesse.

It is suggested that declarer lead the seven of spades from dummy at trick two. When East follows with the five, South plays the jack which dislodges West's ace. If the latter switches to a trump, South may win the trick with the nine, cash the king of spades and discard a heart from dummy and then play the ace and another heart. When the king appears, North ruffs, trumps are drawn and South's hand is high except for his remaining spade which may be trumped in dummy subsequently.

If the king of hearts does not appear on the second round, declarer can reenter his hand with the ace of diamonds to ruff another heart. By making a spade play first, South gives himself an opportunity to develop his heart suit no matter which opponent has the king. The line of play actually adopted by South is superior in only one case—where East has four hearts headed by the king.

Observe that, if the declarer's spade play does not succeed in establishing a discard, he still has time to try the heart finesse.

Rotarians Hear Of Polystyrene

Members of the Rotary Club were given the story of polystyrene manufacturing at their regular noon luncheon Tuesday by two Cosden chemists.

Granville Hahn and Morris Holmes told the club of the newest processes of coloring the chemical compound and the advantages it had given the local firm. Hahn said that polystyrene production currently totals 1.2 billion pounds of which Cosden Oil & Chemical Company produces about 12 1/2 per cent. He outlined the bead coloring process that is used locally and said several major radio and television manufacturers were using Cosden raw materials in producing cabinets. Hahn also pointed out several new uses of play being explored now. They were introduced by program chairman Charles Weeg as part of the observance of Oil Progress Week.

Grant Boardman, Boy Scout chairman, introduced Ralph Breeding as scoutmaster and Gilbert Weldon, assistant of Rotary - sponsored Troop 1. Boardman said the Scout hut would be the scene of a work party next Saturday and asked all Rotarians to come help give the property a general cleaning.

STEAK---WHAT'S THAT?
Houston Wives Map Boycott

HOUSTON (AP)—A housewife who describes steak as a fond memory worked Wednesday with a score of helpers to organize a boycott against chain supermarkets in Houston in an effort to drive prices down.

Two Guilty Pleas Heard

Two pleas of guilty were accepted by Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court Monday.

Shelton Lain, DWI second offense, drew a two year jail sentence, probated, plus a fine of $750. The court allowed Lain 18 months in which to pay off the fine.

Crude Oil Shortage Seen Unless Proration Altered

ODESSA — The possibility of a "severe shortage of crude oil in the next three to five years" was foreseen here today by Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Association President A. C. Polk, Tulsa, Okla., who said "proration in its present form could contribute to this scarcity" by hampering domestic drilling.

Polk said "market demand proration as we know it on its present scale has been an excellent and needed tool until now." But, he added, any study of ways to increase domestic drilling "might begin with a thorough examination of proration. Proration, almost by definition, deters exploration."

Polk spoke at a luncheon in the Ector County Coliseum here following the opening of the 11th Permian Basin Oil Show. Approximately 500 persons attended the luncheon, at which officials of cities, Chambers of Commerce, the oil show and other organizations in the Permian Basin were guests of honor.

LOST TIME

Reviewing domestic drilling in the past decade, Polk said the industry "must make up for the time lost since 1956. We completed 58,418 wells that year in the United States — 18,000 more than we completed last year."

During the first nine months of 1966, he noted, "we completed 25,688 wells in the United States as compared with 30,159 during the same period in 1965. This is about a 17 per cent drop so far this year."

Wildcatting simply will not risk drilling on restricted payouts and high interest rates, he said. Proration, an exploration deterrent, may have outlived its usefulness and might be restricted to only the biggest fields in a few states, he said.

DRILLING DECLINE

In the past decade, drilling has dropped 41 per cent and the ratio of discovery to production has dipped to the lowest point in 30 years. On the other hand, demand has been growing at the rate of 3.5 annually in recent years. It is in the national interest to stimulate the domestic petroleum industry, Polk said, besides foreign crude costs are moving every day nearer domestic costs.

They were Sgt. Joe L. Ronje, husband of Mrs. Susie O. Ronje of Corpus Christi; Lance Cpl. Michael B. Mitchell, son of Mrs. Helen L. Stewart of Houston; and Pfc. F. C. Gibson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gibson of Tyler.

Auto Theft Ring Smashed

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Seventeen persons were arrested by FBI agents and Indiana State Police Tuesday in what authorities termed a car theft ring which stole according to customer specifications.

Police sought five other persons charged in an indictment returned last Thursday by a federal grand jury.

Being sought are Wyvon Hornburg, 33, an escapee from jail, described by authorities as the ringleader; his girl friend, believed traveling with him, Betty Keene, 24; Curtis Williams, Urbana, Ill.; Edward Gallagher, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; and William Piper, San Jose, Calif.

Manahan said the ring worked in pairs, visiting new car dealers in West Memphis, Ark.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Danville, Ill.; Louisville, Ky.; St. Louis, Mo.; and Richmond, Franklin, Fort Wayne, South Bend, Anderson, Columbus and Bloomington, Ind.

Carr, Tower Seek South Texas Votes

By The Associated Press

Both the Republican and Democratic candidates for the U.S. Senate seat at stake Nov. 8 took their campaigns to South Texas today after predicting that gloom and desperation would settle on each other's camps.

"All over this state, the Democrats are beginning to smile and the Republicans are taking on the scowl they usually wear when people get aroused," Democrat Waggoner Carr told his Austin campaign workers Monday.

DESPERATION

The Republican incumbent, John Tower predicted at Houston that as the election draws near Carr's campaign, "will take on even more an air of desperation." Tower had accused his opponent of breaking the fair campaign practices pledge — a political activities pact sponsored by the Texas Council of Churches and other civic betterment groups.

Carr opened today's activities with a news conference and morning coffee at McAllen with other appearances scheduled for Weslaco, Brownsville, Harlingen, Padre Island and Brownsville.

Tower planned a morning luncheon speech at Victoria and a dinner speech and TV broadcast at Bryan.

In a Houston luncheon speech Tuesday Tower said "Texans are now becoming aware that they must make a choice in November between promise and performance, between demagoguery and dedication, between independence and ineffectiveness... they will cast their ballots either for a man who has honestly and effectively served them in the U.S. Senate for six years, or for a professional candidate who is so terribly weak that he cannot even stand on his own two feet in the political arena."

Some Texas voters won't be waiting until Nov. 8 to mark their choices. Absentee voting, both by mail and in person starts today in Texas and will continue until election day.

Ruiz Changes Plea In Death Of John Stone

Juan Gonzales Ruiz, charged with murder with an automobile in the death Oct. 17, 1965, of John Lewis Stone Jr., pleaded guilty to the indictment at 11 a.m. today.

The plea was accepted by Judge Ralph W. Caton in 118th District Court, and the state was beginning to introduce witnesses at that hour. First witness called was Dr. Clyde Thomas.

Johnny Stone, widely known Big Spring youth, was killed when his car was struck by one driven by Ruiz. At the time, Ruiz was only 16, and the case has been delayed until he reached the age of 17 and could face trial.

Prior to Tuesday the defendant had indicated he would ask for a jury trial. He had obtained approval of a motion last week which would have prevented Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Stone Sr., parents of the victim, from sitting at the state counsel table had a trial before a jury been held. His attorney, Gil Jones, argued that the presence of the parents would be prejudicial to the defendant.

What punishment the court will mete to the young defendant will not be known until the considerable number of witnesses have been heard.

The punishment for an offense of this nature is from two to five years in the state penitentiary. The defendant could be given probation if the court elects to do so.

Tammy Kay Clanton, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Clanton, 407 E. 11th, died at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday in a local hospital after living 24 hours.

Graveside rites will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the Trinity Memorial Park, with the Rev. Byron Orand, pastor of the College Baptist Church, officiating. Arrangements are by the River-Welch Funeral Home.

Survivors include the parents; one brother, Ronald Lewis Clanton Jr., of the home; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Clanton, Big Spring; the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Juanita Jackson, Mobeete; and the paternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Corbett Clanton, Big Spring.

Palbearers will be Clarence Daves and Kenney Griffin.

Ronnie Clanton Infant Dies

Arthur Lee Parker, three weeks old infant, died at 5 a.m. today after three days' illness. The family resides at 404 N. Bell.

Greatest Challenge Lies Ahead, Hulse Tells TESCO

Texas Electric Service Company has achieved a phenomenal record of growth because it has served its customers well in the past, Burt B. Hulse, president, told the TESCO annual dinner of employees here Tuesday.

But this only increases the challenge that lies ahead, he told those assembled to honor the Quarter Century club and to induct Doug Hill into it.

ELECTRIC LIVING
"We are entering the age of total electric living — an age when electricity does everything," Hulse declared. "When our customers live in total electric homes, they are more than ever dependent upon us to provide dependable service for them 24 hours a day, 365 days a year."

The key to this is not technology, as important as it is, but in individuals seeking to discover "our role in society and how we fit into that role," the president declared.

Hill was presented with a watch by Hulse, who recalled that Hill had started with the company at Lamesa in 1941, only to go to war in the Pacific for the next four years. When Hill returned, he was assigned at Big Spring and today is chief dispatcher. A number of other 25-year veterans were on hand, among them S. F. Baker, Hugh Duncan, J. W. Garrison, A. C. McClendon, Judy Kuykendall, C. L. Merritt, T. A. Rogers (Llano), W. A. Shaw and E. L. Whately.

SUCCESS ELEMENTS
Dr. George D. Heaton, Charlotte, N. C., cited elements for individual success, upon which he said company success was dependent.

"A growing company has to have growing people," he asserted. "Individuals must have a growing interest in their work. They must have confidence in themselves to work out problems based on experience—for there is no such thing as a bolt out of the blue."

"They must have understanding to the point of acting intuitively for others. They must adjust to change knowing that the only certainty about the future is surprises. They must persist toward a goal—or they'll never get there."

Hulse, addressing the group for the first time as president of TESCO, was presented by Beaman Fisher, past president and now chairman of the board, who said "we all take pride that the company is in good hands."

TESCO PURPOSE
The new president quickly pegged the purpose of the company as "serving the needs of people." This obligation carries into communities, and it carries to investors, too. Jobs at TESCO just don't happen—they are the result of need created by growth and development brought on by creative thinking. Although TESCO has jumped its generating capacity from 120,000 KWH 20 years ago to a current 2,500,000, Hulse still accounted human assets as the company's greatest.

Methodist Laymen Set Session Here Thursday

Dr. Alsie Carleton, professor in the Perkins School of Theology at SMU and a former pastor of the First Methodist Church here, will be the speaker at the annual banquet for Big Spring district laymen here Thursday.

The meeting will be at 7 p.m. at the Cosden Country Club.

Malcolm Abel, Midland, district lay leader, was delighted at securing Dr. Carleton for the occasion.

"He is not only an outstanding speaker," said Abel, an independent oil operator, "but he is a man of deep understanding and broad division."

Dr. Carleton was pastor here from 1948-54 and led the church in a period of revitalization and in embarking upon expansion of the church plant. He was called from here to be pastor of the University Park Methodist Church in Dallas, and later became superintendent of the Dallas district before he was named professor at Perkins. He is a graduate of McMurry College and Perkins, and has done post graduate work at Boston Divinity School and traveled extensively in Europe where he attended the Oxford Conference in 1951 in England and later accompanied the late Dean Eugene B. Hawk for an extended visit of the Holy Land.

Preceding the meeting, Charles Alexander, Lubbock, associate conference lay leader in charge of stewardship and finance, will lead a workshop. Associate lay leaders of the district who are expected to lead large delegations from their areas are Woodrow Crabtree, Colorado City; Garland Trice,

DR. ALSIE CARLETON

Lamesa; Robert Crowell, Snyder; Kenneth Tudor, Midland; Jerry Allen, Big Spring; Lyle Deffenbach, Snyder, conference lay leader, and Reagan Legg, Lubbock, associate conference lay leader in charge of Methodist men, will also take part in the meeting.

Dog Owners To Meet Thursday

A program on field trials and sporting dogs will be presented to members of the Big Spring Kennel Club Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Flame Room.

Relief for night-backache lets you sleep again

Sometimes backache comes like a thief in the night, "steals" away your sleep, then robs you of energy all the next day. When the cause is overwork or just the daily strain of exertion or tension, that's the time to try Doan's Pills for speedy relief. Millions have found Doan's pain-relieving action often brings welcome relief from this nagging night-backache, headache or muscular pain in the night.

Then, too, unwise eating or drinking may be the cause of minor yet annoying bladder irritation. Doan's Pills often help to bring prompt relief in two ways: first, their soothing effect on bladder irritation. And, second, their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Keep Doan's Pills handy. Millions have relied on Doan's for over sixty years. And for your convenience, get the large size.

Harvest Crop Okay Granted Texas Farmer

AUSTIN (AP)—A West Texas farmer will be permitted to harvest his cotton crop before serving a six-month prison sentence for federal income tax evasion.

U.S. Dist. Judge Jack Roberts gave Bud Foreman, 50, of El Paso until Dec. 1 to harvest the crop at Dell City.

Foreman pleaded guilty Monday to one count of a four-count indictment for failure to file income tax returns for 1959 through 1962.

The plea covered 1961 when, the Internal Revenue Service said, his adjusted gross income was $41,467 and the tax was $19,795. The counts involving 1959, 1960 and 1962 were dismissed.

Roberts sentenced Foreman to one year in prison but suspended the last six months. The farmer also was placed on probation for three years and fined $2,500.

WHAT GOES INTO A BOY'S SHOE (OTHER THAN HIS FOOT)?

What ever it is, it had better be rugged, like the Hush Puppies® Shoe, which puts its "Hell-Cat" tanned pigskin, a springy crepe sole and a supporting steel shank into its shoes to make them fit for the roughest rough-and-tumble. And upkeep? No shining at all—just a quick wire brushing and they're near new again. Boys like that.

Democratic Post Goes To Mrs. Jack Irons

By JO ANN PHINIZY
The scope of Mrs. Jack Irons' activities has been enlarged to include some 21 counties. She has recently been officially notified of her election as Democratic committeewoman of the 24th Senatorial District of Texas. This places her on the state Democratic executive committee and she expects to have a busy time between now and the November elections.

Her election was held during a delegate caucus session at the September convention in Austin. The territory assigned to Mrs. Irons is bordered by Garza, Young, Glasscock and Coleman counties.

Tom Gordon of Abilene is executive committeeman for the district. Their duties will include participation in organizing party functions and campaign efforts for the approaching elections.

Being in the midst of things is Mrs. Irons' forte and it's all because she enjoys being there.

A summary of her accomplishments over the years reads like a calendar of Big Spring events.

She is a member of the Crippled Children's Society and served six years on the board of directors for the Young Men's Christian Association. She is a two-time president of her Parent-Teacher Association unit, and is secretary to the board of directors for the Cancer Society.

Mrs. Irons has been instrumental in developing the cultural aspect of the city by serving four terms on the board of directors for the Big Spring Fine Arts Association. She is a past president of the Big Spring Country Club Ladies Golf Association and is a charter member and twice president of the 1948 Hyperion Study Club. On the purely civic side, Mrs. Irons is a member of the Big Spring Master Plan committee and a trustee for the United Fund. There are two sports that hold the attention of Mrs. Irons. One of them is duplicate bridge. Says she: "It's a marvelous way to spend an afternoon although I'm sure I've helped many fine players toward winning their Lifetime Masters Card."

MRS. JACK IRONS

The other sport is football. Mr. and Mrs. Irons are parents to a set of three football players. There's Jack Ed, who is a senior at the University of Texas in El Paso and is the freshman football coach. Mike, a junior, is a member of the Big Spring Steers, and Dick plays on the Southern Methodist University team.

Mrs. Irons' philosophy on how she becomes involved in various activities is simple. "I like people, especially those who are doing things they like," she said.

As for the political arena, she believes that the governmental scene is important and that people should contribute time to assisting their chosen party.

MR. and MRS. MELVIN RAY plan to leave in the morning for a vacation in California. They will visit in Riverside and San Bernardino.

Isn't it interesting that MRS. W. H. CRENSHAW, who is so interested in art, should make her home at 607 Caylor . . . Caylor being the name of one of this area's most prominent artists who lived the latter part of his life here.

Guess we'll always miss the JIMMY BEALES at the head table at the Quarter Century Club dinners of the Texas Electric Co., but they have an able and handsome replacement in the DON WOMACKS. Since the Beales have retired they have spent much of their time just doing what they want to when the occasion permits.

Among the honored were the T. A. ROGERES who came up from Llano for the party. They always seem happy to get back among the home folk and too, they visit their daughter, MRS. JOHNNY STEWART, and Mr. Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Swinney and family have been visiting with her sister and family, the Marvin Latimers, and his brother and family, the Joe Swinneys.

The Lynward Harrisons visited in Abilene with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Newton.

Dates for three activities were announced by Mrs. Tim Jones, as she presided for Monday's meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in the Legion Hut.

On Oct. 29, the auxiliary will assist the post when it sponsors a benefit dance with music by the Legion Scramblers. Admission will be $1 per person, and proceeds will be used to purchase a set of drums for the Big Spring State Hospital.

The Poppy Sale will be held Nov. 5 under the direction of Mrs. Foy Dunlap with Brenda Jones as the Poppy Girl.

The second speaker was Mrs. Robert L. McDonald who told of her duties as director of St. Mary's Episcopal Day School. Sixteen members and a guest, Mrs. Eltha Whisenbunt, attended. The chapter plans to assist with the annual Christmas party at Big Spring State Hospital. The group met at Furr's Cafeteria where the invocation was by Mrs. T. A. Melton and the benediction by Mrs. A. O. Vandorf.

A LOVELIER YOU Figure Trimmer If Posture Is Correct

By MARY SUE MILLER
Most of us girls dwell on figure problems, but few of us give thought to posture. And there we err.

A figure appears far trimmer than it may be when it is well-carried. On the other hand, poor posture throws better-than-average proportions out of kilter.

Without doubt, the most prevalent posture fault is the slump. Many girls and women are either part time or full-time slumpers. Not you, of course!

Still, you'd better check. The telling marks are a jutting chin, an outward curve of the back, rounded shoulders, and arms that dangle ahead of the body. In short the torso looks like a top-heavy capital C in desperate need of a prop.

In making a check it is important to remember that some slumpers are able to stand fairly erect when they try. But they cannot hold the position for long. To hold an erect stance without effort, an habitual slumper has to strengthen her back and shoulder muscles. The following routine, repeated times daily, both tunes the muscles and establishes good carriage:

Sit on floor with back against wall and arms stretched forward at shoulder level. Starting with head, slowly curl spine until hands touch ankles. Then uncurl, inch by inch, so back lies flat against wall.

Now note shoulder position—how it lies neither backward nor forward of the body. That's the position to work for. When it becomes automatic, your figure and your posture will look lovelier.

Isn't this an orange autumn we're having?

Everywhere one looks about the city there are a great number of beautiful pyracantha bushes simply loaded with the breaking point with orange berries so thick they seem to be one great big solid mass of color. Of course many plants have bright red berries but most seem to be of the vivid orange this year. Also, nature is making a big change of the season's arrangement with chrysanthemums in orange, yellow, bronze and white.

Even in the fashion world that pretty color is showing up not only in accessory pieces as it once was, but now in full suits and coats as well as dresses. If you don't have something orange this season run out and get something before another pretty color takes its place.

At the Ladies Golf Association luncheon Saturday MRS. ZOLLIE BOYKIN and her decorations committee were delightfully artistic in their table decorations and showed their ingenuity in spraying pampas grass plumage with . . . you guessed it . . . orange. The result was most effective.

MRS. MILTON TALBOT had as her guests two Webb officer wives, MRS. GLEN YOUNG who teaches at the St. Mary's Day School, and MRS. DANIEL NEHE. Also in the same party were MRS. RICH ANDERSON who lives in Gail but spends a lot of time in Big Spring . . . Perky JACKIE COOK with her mother, MRS. JACK COOK, was attractive with her blonde hair cut in the Italian style with the high treatment instead of the flat shaping. MRS. SUE HIPP wears the style well with her jet black hair, and MRS. LIZ PETERSON has her hair becomingly styled in the fashion.

From Anchorage, Alaska, comes a card with a request from the BILLY VAUGHNS for their Herald to be sent to them. En route the Vaughns saw Canada, and they liked the big, beautiful country that has lots of land and forests. Mrs. Vaughn thinks Alaska is about

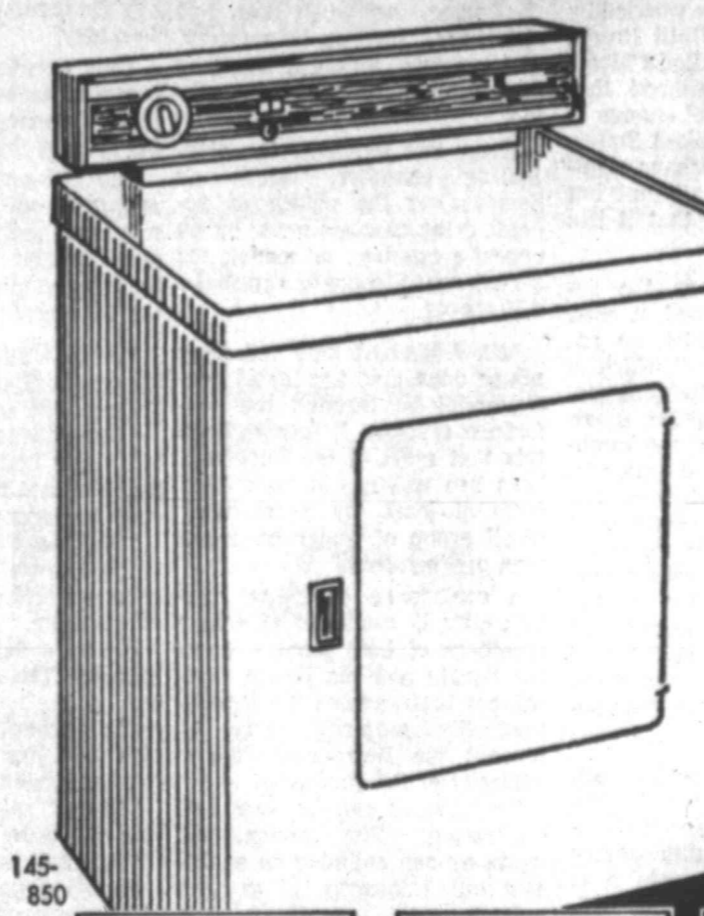

Mrs. R. Cowper Gives Program

Mrs. Bill Currie presided during the Monday afternoon meeting of the St. Mary's Episcopal Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal Church. The 14 attending met at the church library, and Mrs. Tom Ashley gave the devotion. Mrs. Amos Wood was hostess.

Mrs. B. B. G. Cowper gave the program, "Rebecca," and the Rev. John Payne Jr. gave the closing prayer.

Guests were Mrs. Payne and Miss Clara Secrest. The next meeting will be Nov. 21 at the parish hall.

A Devotional For The Day

Let your bearing towards one another arise out of your love in Christ Jesus. (Philippians 2:3, NEB)
PRAYER: Eternal God, our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the presence of Jesus in our hearts. Help us to live according to His will. Lead us in taking upon ourselves His qualities and a greater measure of His perfection. In His name we ask, praying as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the 'Upper Room')

Educational Study

Acting with near unanimity on Texas Education Agency staff studies, the State Board of Education has recommended some sweeping, profound and costly revisions in the public school system. The main proposals are based on this conclusion:
"In an increasingly complex society, faced with an explosive growth in the quantity of information, there is need for increasing amounts of time to ensure that children develop the skills and acquire knowledge which productive citizenship demands."
To that end, the regionally elected board urges the Legislature to begin state-aided education at age five, to provide for state-aided all-grades summer schools of voluntary attendance, and to authorize pilot programs to test feasibility of a 10-month school year and seven-hour school day.

There are strong arguments and impressive research findings supporting those recommendations. There is also strong argument, however, that the quality of instruction and the equality of opportunity of the existing school schedule should be greatly improved before such expensive extensions as the board proposes are added to the state-local financial strain of school support.

In any event, the 1967 Legislature is unlikely to act on these recommendations. These are the types of substantial changes in the state school system which the 1965 Legislature created the 15-member Governor's Committee on Public Education to explore and report on to the 1969 Legislature.

The committee's report does not have to be accepted in toto or in part, but it would furnish a sensible, coordinated springboard for consideration of the matter.

The Lifeblood

West Texas is a land of opportunity, but the leavening for its remarkable growth and expansion is oil.

In the early days, the thing that initiated the first great surge of settlement and sinking of roots was free grazing and later vast domains of land for the homesteading or for non-mineral purposes. The next great surge came shortly after the turn of the century with the conversion of the great ranches into farms.

Then, about four decades ago the present great era began to be ushered in with the first few oil wells and fields. These were like the first few pops of a string of firecrackers. With the coming of World War II, all restraints for development were removed, and the string began to pop with rapidity.

Our own neighborhood shared in this tremendous development. Figures in Sunday's Herald help reflect the picture. Howard County, for example, produces about 14,000,000 barrels of crude oil per year at a value in excess of $41,000,000. Howard and the six contiguous counties turn out nearly 39,000,000 barrels of oil per year with a total value of $113,500,000 per year. This is not all turned loose on the counties, of course, but a sizable portion of it is. For instance, the developmental bill runs to about $3,000,000 per annum. The royalty payments stand at $14,192,000. Add to these the expenditures for operations, the payrolls for processing, transportation, and the multi-million dollar yield in taxes—both to the state and to the localities and their schools. The answer is plain: Oil is the lifeblood of West Texas.

The Communist 'Line'

WASHINGTON—It shouldn't have been a surprise to read the comments of Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Communist party leader in Moscow, that President Johnson is suffering from a "strange and persistent delusion" if he thinks Soviet-American relations can be improved while the United States continues its aggression in Viet Nam. Nor should the Brezhnev statement be regarded as discouraging.

FOR UNLESS one is familiar with the history of the tactics and strategies of the Communists in what they say to the outside world, the remarks made by Brezhnev do seem to present a hopeless negative. But anyone who thinks an American President can butter up a Soviet foreign minister in a White House conference and expect a change the next day doesn't realize how long it takes and what has to be done before a Communist position on important questions is modified.

The process is slow-moving and requires lots of consultations and, in this instance, more information on the reaction of the Red Chinese and the North Vietnamese. Certainly no Moscow leader would think of announcing a change in policy on Viet Nam until all the cliques on the Communist side have been consulted to determine whether the main course should be altered.

UNQUESTIONABLY the Soviet government would like to improve its relations with the United States. The Russians would be gratified if the American government should let down the bars and start lending money and supplying to the Eastern bloc of Communist countries in Europe the products they would like to buy. It would, therefore, be a mistake for the United States to make any such concessions until the Communists demonstrate their willingness to become friends—and there are lots of ways by which they can do this.

BUT THE SOVIETS are afraid to show the slightest sign of yielding to the United States. They are worried by the hostility of Peiping. Until Russia can get a clearer idea of Red China's mood, there is little likelihood that Moscow will make any real change in its attitude toward the United States. President Johnson was perhaps rightly advised to make the attempt but shouldn't be disappointed that it has not yet borne fruit.

MEANWHILE, so far as the Soviet government is concerned, it must maintain, outwardly at least, an adherence to the "party line," which is that the United States is the "aggressor." The question of whether peace negotiations should begin if the bombing is stopped by the United States, according to Communist tactics, not something for the Soviet government to decide. If Hanoi should make up its mind to have a peace conference, the Soviets would still harp on the need for punishing the "aggressor," but they would await the outcome of the talks before publicly committing themselves to any change in their position.

WHAT, THEN, is the American policy likely to be in the interim? The administration is well aware that the Communists don't believe this country will continue the war because it is growing more and more costly. Officials here, on the other hand, think that the Communists in Asia—particularly in Hanoi—will not be able to continue their present adamant position against early peace negotiations if this country adopts a more resolute course in Viet Nam. So the next step is not necessarily less peace talk but an intensification of the military effort for at least six months. The hope is that, once it is proved that the United States will not curtail its combat operations until the other side does likewise, there will be an "agonizing reappraisal" in Hanoi, in Peiping and in Moscow.

Fish Or Foul

PLAV, Yugoslavia (AP) — Branko Prasevic was out at his favorite rapids in the River Lim, but he just wasn't catching any trout.

He made one last desperate cast and even before his hook hit the water he had a strike. It was a fight to haul it in, but he had hooked an eagle in a tree overhead.

He released the bird afterward. Branko said he prefers fish.

Your Memory Is Not Tricking You

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — You read that the House passed today a compromise bill to do so and so and you have a curious feeling that you read this story before, not long ago.

If you are a consistent reader of national news, you may be having that little tinkle of memory oftener and oftener as the House and Senate plow through the remaining business to end a Congress' two-year work this week.

Your memory is not tricking you. You have read something very similar, not long ago. What you are reading now is, technically, action on reports of conference committees.

HERE IS a rundown on the operation of such committees, made necessary by the makeup of Congress — a coequal House of Representatives and Senate. Obviously there will be times when a bill that started in one chamber will be amended by the other, or when the two chambers, starting separately, will produce different versions of legislation on the same subject.

When this happens, the originating chamber, House or Senate, has the choice of accepting the changes made by its opposite number, or asking for a conference to try to adjust the differences.

MOST MAJOR bills and most minor ones that are at all controversial go through the conference process. It follows from this that most of the important laws are written, in their final form at least, by a relatively small group of senior congressmen and senators.

A conference committee traditionally is made up of senior members of both parties, from the Senate and the House committees that handled the legislation. The majority party, at present the Democrats, has a majority of the conferees.

Conferences can be long and frustrating. The amendment made by one chamber to another's bill frequently is a total amendment — everything after the formal enacting clause is replaced by an entirely different legislative draft. The Senate, or the House, may limit its conferees' freedom to negotiate by voting to instruct them not to give in on this or that point.

THE HOUSE has a strict rule of germaneness—an amendment must relate clearly to the subject of the bill. The Senate has no effective rule of this sort. So the Senate has learned to hitch an entirely different bill — as an "amendment" — to an unrelated bill sent to it by the House. This is a handy way to rescue a bill that has fallen into the hands of an unfriendly committee or is otherwise held up at some procedural roadblock.

NEW YORK (AP)—It was her 13th birthday.

For years her big goal in life had been to become a teenager. And now it had happened to her, and Mother and Dad wanted to make it memorable.

And they thought they had done everything in their power. For they wanted it to be a big day for them as well as for their daughter.

They decided to give her the presents before they went out for the evening. Dad handed her his present first.

The girl opened the envelope and drew out a birthday greeting card and a $100 bill. Her face flushed in surprise, and then she studied the portrait on the bill carefully.

"BENJAMIN Franklin is never president of the United States," she said suspiciously.

"Nevertheless, it's a $100 bill," said Dad. "It's to start the fund for that trip to France you want to make sometime."

"Oh," said the girl. She put the bill away in her room and returned and opened her mother's present.

It was a delicate gold charm bracelet. The girl silently put it on.

"Tomorrow we can go and pick out your first charm for it," said mother.

"Okay," said the girl. There was a pause, and she said, "Well, shall we go now?"

As she stepped ahead of them father remarked, "Well, she certainly is taking everything in stride, isn't she?"

"Hush," said mother, "she'll hear you."

"Let her."

The supper club was noisy, the kind both parents hated. But they had picked it because it featured a long-haired male musical group who at least, resembled Beatles.

The girl studied the menu intently.

"Have the filet mignon," said Dad.

"It's too expensive. I want the ham."

"Hami!" exploded Dad. "This is my party. Have the steak."

"IT'S HER birthday," broke in mother. "Let her have the ham, if that's what she wants."

Later, as the parents were getting ready for sleep, father's pentup resentment burst forth: "They're all spoiled today, that's the trouble. If you ask me, the whole evening was a waste of—"

"Daddy!" it was her daughter calling from her bedroom.

He went to the door.

"What do you want?"

"Come here."

He walked to her bedside.

"BEND DOWN."

He bent, and her slender childlike arms pulled him farther down, and he felt her lips press his cheeks and she said:

"Thank you, Daddy, for a wonderful birthday. I know I'll never have another one this nice as long as I live."

Signs Of Mental Deterioration

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: What are some simple signs of mental deterioration or illness? (I know that when someone starts talking about being fed ground glass it is time for action.)

The woman I have in mind has a sort of persecution complex. She interprets anything said to her as an intentional personal insult. She has always been touchy and a bit quarrelsome but she is getting worse.

Is it just a problem of old age intensifying her normal condition or is it a danger signal? She is 75 — F. A.

Mental deterioration is difficult to define because it usually develops little by little and without sudden lines of demarcation.

Besides that, we must (or we must try) to distinguish between true mental or emotional illness, and the results of physical aging, such as an unrecognized stroke that slurs speech.

For a start, though, mental illness can be signalled by undue anxiety; threats of self-destruction; persecution complex; undue introspection (being touchy and quarrelsome); periods of profound depression.

All of these have to be properly evaluated to mean anything. Is the anxiety based on some genuine cause? How much is "undue"?

Circulation to the brain may be impaired by hardening of the arteries. Here again the degree is important, and difficult to gauge.

Earlier habits can become intensified with age — as the touchiness and readiness to quarrel. This can be natural, or it can progress because there is truly some mental failure.

Older folks can be forgetful, remembering clearly what happened 30 years ago but unable to remember yesterday. They may become slovenly in personal habits, at least partly because they are old and tired.

They can become unduly bossy if they have a tendency in that direction.

When an older person displays any of the difficult phases I listed, medical advice is needed. Anxieties (if over health) may also be real. There are drugs that offset depression and in that way make a person more alert. (If there are threats of self-destruction, never disregard them.)

Pay attention to nutrition of older persons, and since they are often fussy eaters, vitamin supplements may be prescribed. While you can't stop the march of old age, you can often help a great deal.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

They Went That A-Way

It seemed to me that whenever we moved into a town, the folk were talking about some great event which had just happened. We always seem to miss it and had to be content with after glow.

WHEN WE CAME here, Big Springers were still talking about the "shops fire," which virtually wiped out the Texas & Pacific repair center and sent flames billowing so high the glow could be seen 40 and 50 miles away. They were still talking, too, about the fabulous oil boom which S. E. J. Cox had conjured out here 17.5 miles from the nearest production.

PERHAPS the most bizarre story of any we encountered as we moved around West Texas was the talk of the town at Seminole. When we got there it was little more than a frontier ranching village. There was a poorly defined trail which sufficed for a road to Lamesa, and an even less pronounced one that pushed on to Hobbs, N. M. And almost nebulous were the trails that led north and south.

ABOUT THE only connection with the outside world was a strand of wire running much of the time on top of fence posts and some time taking across the sand dunes on cedar posts of its own. This was the telephone connection which, unless it faced an emergency of its own, could keep in emergency contact with the outside world. Otherwise, communication was dependent upon the mail back or travelers.

Times were hard, and come to think of it, they stayed hard out in that country in those days. One crisis after another kept most ranchers in hot water. When it turned dry, as it frequently did and does, they could get desperate. This was the setting for the story.

THE BUSINESS district was a few frame shacks, huddled around the courthouse square, and one of the boxes with a false front was the bank. Inside it had its cage with grill work running up to the ceiling. Residents came here to do what little business they had to do.

One day, with a brisk wind blowing, two men rode their horses up to the hitching rack in front of the bank. No one seems to have seen them at this point, for when they appeared inside, they were wearing bandanas around their faces and were giving directions with a six-gun. The discreet teller shelled out the money, and was locked up.

THE ROBBERS climbed back in the saddle and rode away. When the alarm was sounded, the first thought was the telephone, but one of the bandits apparently had anticipated that—he had climbed a pole and cut the wire. Perhaps the two of them had anticipated the weather, too, for when efforts were made to track them, the hoof marks grew dimmer and dimmer as sand was raked over them by the wind. Finally the marks vanished as had the robbers.

No one ever cracked the case, although the natives speculated on whom it might have been. One bold soul volunteered that they led right to a certain rancher's pasture.

THE RANCHER, a hard character, got word of this, and invited the talkative native behind one of the stores to have a drink. Instead, he planted a bottle beside his head. Many of the old timers also thought that this was the answer, but as word of the incident spread, they didn't bother to say so. They just talked about the robbery.

Republican Chance In Georgia

ATLANTA, Georgia — All the wise money in Georgia is saying that the Republican bid to take the governorship with Rep. Howard (Bo) Callaway is doomed, but you can hear another story from the horse's mouth.

The wise money goes to the Democrats because of an accumulation of factors. At first it was thought that the run-off primary victory of Lester Maddox, the angry little segregationist who waves axe handles at Negroes, would separate him from all respectable Democrats — but not so.

MANY OFFICERS and still more foot soldiers of the grand army of the State House and Courthouse have moved in behind Maddox, and so have the segregationists who opposed him in the bitter primary. Despite efforts by Negro leaders and assorted liberals to form a write-in candidacy for Ellis Arnall, it's probable that the Negroes will listen to advice outside the state. They may well do the incredible thing of voting for Maddox rather than lose touch with the Democratic party which, to them, still means John Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson, Hubert Humphrey and even Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt.

BUT THESE are showy appearances of political coalescence. They are manifestations of two opposites in the Democratic party nature — one, a stubborn faith in its essential kinship with the lower economic classes; and, second, its inbred cynicism, which calls for winning elections at whatever the cost of morality.

BUT THE WISE money moves to Maddox without knowledge of how the rival horse is clocking, how he finely has trained for just this sort of contest. The organization with which Bo Callaway won his Congressional seat two years ago ought to be familiar to Democrats, for it carries a Kennedy trademark.

THE UPSET win by Maddox was no surprise to Bill Amoss, Bo's campaign manager, and Bo's strategy is shaped accordingly. The publicity that followed every news-making event by the Democrats has not altered the chilly arithmetic of private polls, which show Callaway well out in front and Maddox operating on a base of about 23 per cent of the electorate.

Callaway's young, excited, tightly-organized workers are the same type that won every primary and every election for JFK. They are not looking for pork barrel patronage after his victory, but for a chance to move Georgia forward.

AGAIN, LIKE John Kennedy, Callaway leaves the details to his trusted lieutenants and himself concentrates on meeting and winning over the people he faces in eight, 10 and 12 appearances every day on his ceaseless criss-crossing of the state by plane and motorcade. He wisely withheld his tactical moves until the last fortnight of the campaign, when he could be sure of what his problems would be.

Hot Money, Cold Noses Close Bank

NEW YORK (AP) — Hot money, cold noses and frozen instead of liquid assets is the way one New York banker described the situation that closed Intra Bank, Lebanon's largest.

This explanation skirts the motives, or the reason for the in-late action, by the bank, which could have resulted from an internal squabble that paralyzed decision making.

HOT MONEY, in the parlance of banking, means cash that seeks out the highest interest rates regardless of many other factors. It moves for 1/4 of a point; it is big money and can make big profits from small fractions.

The cold nose helps sniff out the best rates. Intra had been paying high rates. But interest has been rising everywhere recently. Others matched Intra. Perhaps, in the depositors' views, other banks offered more security, too.

This was a situation that many banks could have lived with if they had been liquid; that is, if they could have quickly converted their assets into cash to meet sudden withdrawal demands.

Intra, however, reportedly had much of its assets tied up in Lebanon and foreign real estate and industry. It couldn't quickly convert them to cash. And if it tried, its desperation would be detected. The prices for its assets would drop.

"IN OTHER words," said the banker, "they committed the cardinal sin in banking: They borrowed short and they lent long." They had no long-term hold on their depositors' money; but they invested these deposits for a long period.

Although Intra's may be a special situation, it is tied to the current instability in world money.

isn't easily available anywhere now. The sheiks, who have it, could be choosy.

Why is that? Inflation has caused a profits squeeze for many corporations, thus preventing them from using their own money for expansion. They have been borrowing. Then, credit controls have lowered the money supply.

Another factor is the U.S. Balance of payments situation. In order to check the outflow of dollars, many American corporations expanding in Europe have raised money there instead of domestically.

THE PROBLEM facing Lebanon now is to "encapsulate" Intra, to isolate the infection, to cut off Intra from the rest of the economy. Another possibility is to sell the bank to a large organization with liquid assets.

This might be hard on those with claims against the bank, but they have little choice. Intra reportedly has assets of $220 million and claims of only $170 million. Eventually, everyone might get his money.

The Central Bank of Lebanon then must watch for a run on other banks as they reopen Thursday. If nobody demands return of their deposits nothing may need to be done.

Line Of Duty

DALLAS (AP) — Firemen in Dallas don't let little things such as their own safety awards presentations interfere with their firemanship.

The No. 1 District "C" shift was in the process of receiving the department's safety award when an alarm came in.

Three of the five trucks lined up in front of Woodrow Wilson High School for the ceremonies raced to the scene, put out the blaze, then returned to pick up their award plaques.

Funk, Batman Tag Tussle Team To Win

Encouraged by a crowd approaching 1,000 that braved the cold, the wrestlers on the American Business Club's grapple show outdid themselves in the amphitheatre at the City Park Tuesday night.

The service club's portion of the gate went into the United Fund.

Perhaps the best of the three matches was the tag team tussle which pitted Professor Tom Tanaka and Killer Karl Kox against the Batman and Dory Funk Jr.

Batman and Funk won but not before the ring had all but been dismantled and the crowd had been worked into a frenzy.

Encouraged by Batman, who would make a good pitchman at an auction sale, the spectators set up a weird chant that caused Kox to cup his ears in anguish and beat his head against the padding on the rope leading into a ring post.

Tanaka, given able if suspicious assistance by Kox, felled Funk with a karate chop to win the first fall in eight minutes.

The wily Jap tried the same thing on Dory upon their return to the ring but it didn't work and Funk evened matters with a series of flying mares and a leg strangle. That used up 8:55 of the time left.

The Batman pitched in to help take out Kox for the deciding fall in 8:30, although Funk actually got credit for the pin.

The five women who paraded into the ring for the final bout of the evening, a battle royal, put on quite a spectacle. They caught referee Jack Cain in a vise or two while converging upon the center of the ring and Cain acted as if he had been cornered by a group of Amazons.

Kay Noble emerged the winner by throwing Peggy Allen over the top rope in the direction of the north wall of the amphitheatre's stage.

Betty Nicoli was the first to go — her hair-do began to fall apart. Then Jean Antoine and Verne Bottoms were eliminated at almost the same time.

In the first dual of the evening, Alex Perez had his hand raised in victory over Gary Hart after Gary had engaged in a wrangle or two with spectators.

Perez led Hart's head into a corner post, then fell on him for the deciding pin in 8:45 minutes.

Perez had won the first fall in 11:05 by busting Hart's jaw with a well-directed knee, after which he fell on him for the pin. Hart came back to even matters in only four minutes with a pin, after softening up the Latin by choking, jabbing and skirting the rules in any other manner that suited his fancy.

Queens Shade Loop, 34-23

LOOP — The Forsan High School girls made a successful basketball debut here Tuesday night, defeating the Loop Longhorns by a score of 34-23.

Mollie Condren led the Queens with 21 points while July Shipley had 12 for the losers. The Queens warmed to the task after scoring only 14 points the first two periods.

Wanda Albertson and Deryl Dunagan, Forsan guards, fouled out but both did well, as did Valynia Conway, Juanita Henderson and Ann Harrell.

In B team action, Forsan won, 33-24. Doris Franklin had 17 points for Forsan in that one while Marsha Kirkpatrick followed with 11.

Stanton District Will Add Carver

MIDLAND CARVER, a Negro high school, has been assigned to District 4-AA for the 1967 season by the Texas Interscholastic League.

Stanton is a member of the circuit, which has Denver City, Morton, Post, Slaton and Frenship as other members.

Joining District 3-AAA is Lubbock Dunbar, another Negro school. Other members of that conference are Snyder, Lamesa, Brownfield, Levelland, Littlefield, San Angelo, Lake View and Sweetwater.

Robert Lee is being promoted from District 4-B to 4-A, joining along with Abilene Woodson.

Rep. Celler Says He Will Resist Pro Grid Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The high cost of signing players is a major reason why National and American Football League owners want to merge, says Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y.

"They are poor labor negotiators and are asking Congress to rescue them from their own ineptitude and folly," says Celler, chairman of the House antitrust subcommittee.

Passage of a bill exempting the merger from the antitrust laws is regarded as a certainty. But Celler, who had hoped to hold up the legislation until he could explore its consequences fully in public hearings, is going down fighting.

He said Tuesday he will try to eliminate the merger provision from an administration tax bill, to which the Senate added it in a maneuver to get around Celler. There was a possibility the bill would come up in the House today.

Celler said the hearings that were held made it clear the desire for a common draft that would end the bidding between leagues for star players was a powerful factor in launching the merger.

Rep. Celler Says He Will Resist Pro Grid Merger

Celler said when the merger is given antitrust immunity, the owners will have virtually unlimited power over the players, who he said would have to play for the team that drafts them at the price offered or not play at all. And the players would have no safeguard against abuse, he said.

"This would not be permitted in any other business," he said. "Now when a player is abused, he may bring an action under the antitrust laws. After this bill is enacted he will have no direct and effective remedy. It is a shameful thing to do to any group of employees."

The Senate, which twice passed the bill unanimously, never held any hearings on it.

Celler said the senate action of forcing acceptance of the merger provision as part of an important tax bill, with no chance to consider it separately, was "an affront to the deliberative process of Congress."

That seems to be the question Killer Karl Kox is asking himself as Dory Funk Jr. (left) and the Batman team up to hurry Kox into a ringpost in a tag team wrestling match held in the amphitheatre at the City Park Tuesday night. Funk and Batman eventually won the match. Kox's partner was Professor Tom Tanaka. The show, staged by the ABC Club, benefitted the United Fund. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

Athletes Say They React To Height

MEXICO CITY (AP) — "My chest was so tight, I thought I was going to pop and spew my ribs on the track," said 17-year-old Billie Ganges of Mullica Hills, N.J.

"At first, I almost blacked out — my eyes got woozy — but I took some deep breaths and was all right," said Tommie Smith of Los Angeles.

Even the sprinters now claim they are feeling the effects of Mexico City's 14½-mile altitude in their tune-up for the 1968 Olympic Games.

Smith, stringbean world record holder in the 200 meters and 220 yards, and Gaines, the amazing schoolboy from New Jersey, finished second and third, respectively, Tuesday to Cuba's veteran Enrique Figueroa in the 100-meter dash of the Little Olympics.

Both Figueroa and Smith were timed in 10.4 seconds, with Gaines one-10th of a second behind.

Smith, who along with other members of the U.S. track and field team didn't check in until Tuesday night, said he believed it would take at least two weeks at this altitude to get ready for the 100 and three weeks for anyone running 400 and above.

The United States extended its medal lead when a dark horse, Neil Steinhauer, who was not even listed with the official U.S. squad, won the shot put with 61 feet, 5 inches (18.72 meters). Smith got a silver and Gaines a bronze in the 100-meter dash.

This gave the Americans a total of 18 golds, 12 silvers and nine bronzes compared with Russia's 13-11-9 ratio.

Valery Shorzkov of the Soviet Union won the high jump (2.12 meters, 6 feet, 11½ inches) and the Russians got a bronze in the 5,000 meters where Jurij Zurling finished third behind Colombia's Mohamed Gammoudix (14:20).

Poland scored a double when Ewa Kloubkowska won the women's 100 meters (1:11.3) and Irena Kirszenstein the broad jump (20-1¾). Other track and field titles went to Hilda Ramirez of Cuba, women's discus (39.58 meters, 129-10¼); Van Eyk Vos of Holland, women's 400 meters (1:45.7); and Roberto Frinolli of Italy, 400-meter hurdles (1:49.6).

Olympic champion Jiri Daler of Czechoslovakia won the men's 400-meter individual pursuit in cycling while Jurgen Jutilitz of West Germany moved to the front after three events of pentathlon with Jim Friesley of Niles, Mich., an Army corporal at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Texas Star Hurt In Grid Drill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — To sophomore Bill Bradley, to whom injury fast is becoming a way of life, got it again Tuesday.

The University of Texas quarterback, who couldn't play against Oklahoma because of a cartilage tear in his knee, went out of action Tuesday when he strained his shoulder while recovering a fumble during scrimmage.

He became a question mark for the game with Rice at Houston Saturday but the full extent of the injury is yet to be determined.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

There could be a holy war brewing between the pro golfers following the sun and the club pros.

The tourists are petitioning for separate stamping privileges, demand a free hand to control all tournaments, schedules, television contracts, distribution of the tournament loot and formulation of a pension plan.

The proposal looks good on the surface but there are aspects of the demands that don't titillate the club pros.

Max Elbin, president of the PGA, has written a letter to all touring players echoing this warning:

"Any substantial conflict between the players and the PGA can harm the 'public image' of the PGA, and it can practically destroy the tour. Tournament sponsors and TV advertisers will turn to another medium for public expression. They will not continue their support for our tour and, certainly, will not associate themselves with a 'rebel' organization."

Elbin tells intimates he thinks a few of the game's superstars would take charge at the expense of the majority of players.

Only 48 of the top 104 players in 1955 were on tour five years later, the records show, and only 27 of that number were active on the circuit in 1965.

The question now before the house is: Should the tour belong to the 27 or should the 75 per cent who quit the circuit for club jobs have a shake at it?

The club pros hold the trump hands, whether they realize it or not. They deserve a better shuffle than they're getting. Some of the pros have become so money hungry they've forgotten where and how they got started. There may come a time when they need all the friends they can get.

Big Spring's Don White, who started the season at SMU playing behind nose guard John LaGrone, is now running behind Jerry Griffin at the right linebacker's spot for the Mustangs. Griffin is one of the club's captains.

Ernest Barbee, the local football official, once played football under Truman Nix at Ralls High School. Truman, of course, is now the head coach at Colorado City.

Barbee played both in the line and at quarterback and was a member of one district titlist at Ralls.

When Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys, played high school ball at Mission, Texas, in 1941, the club went 12-0 and outscored the opposition, 319 to 0.

Ever since then, Landry has believed in out-defending the enemy.

Paul Blair, one of Baltimore's heroes in the last World Series, is called "Motor Mouth" by his teammates.

His gift of gab is good enough to enable him to hold down an off-season job with Montgomery Ward as an after-dinner speaker.

Forrest Lane, the former Abilene High quarterback, is now playing with the ACC varsity.

Although only a freshman, Lane quarterbacked the Wildcat team well against Chattanooga recently after entering the game in the second quarter. He hit on three passes and rushed for 33 yards. Receivers dropped three of his aeriels.

Philadelphia's New Sports Arena

Artist's rendering of a new sports arena in Philadelphia, for which ground already has been broken, was released today. Located at Broad St. and Patison Ave., near the present John F. Kennedy Municipal Stadium, it will be an oval-shaped structure seating 15,000 in theater-type seats for ice hockey and 18,000 for boxing and other events. It will be home of the National Hockey League Philadelphia Flyers. Completion date is Labor Day, 1967. A new municipal stadium in Philadelphia still is in the planning stage. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Houston Cougars Are Proving They're Real

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The University of Houston Cougars may play home games on the synthetic grass of the Astro-dome but there is nothing artificial about this year's football team.

The undefeated, untied Cougars have scored 105 points and allowed only 29 in whipping four straight opponents. Victims have been Florida State, Washington State, Oklahoma State and Mississippi State, not pushovers by any means.

Cougar fans already are talking of an undefeated season but they don't mention bowl bids. Houston was placed on probation for three years early this year by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for what the association called "severe violations" involving out-of-season practice, recruiting and financial aid to players.

The NCAA action bans the football team from bowl participation and any game televised under NCAA jurisdiction during the three years. Only three other schools, Auburn, Indiana and North Carolina State, ever have been handed stiffer penalties.

Bill Yeoman, now in his fifth season as Cougar head coach, obviously thinking of the remaining schedule, would only say he was "very pleased" with the team's progress so far.

"I've never been associated with a finer group of kids," he said. "They have a great deal of pride."

Some Houston fans have complained that this year's edition of the Cougars should be ranked in the top 10 teams in the nation but Yeoman says this has no effect on mental attitude of the team.

"These kids don't get stirred up much, not real high or real low," he said. "They're pretty consistent."

Asked if the team was thinking in terms of the possibility of becoming the first undefeated team in the school's history, Yeoman said:

"I don't believe they think any further ahead than the day's practice," he said. "We have walked out on the field against some pretty tough teams and that kind of competition keeps you from thinking ahead."

Yeoman feels his senior quarterback, Bo Burris, is vastly underrated. Burris has broken a bushel of school records including a career total offense mark of 2,649 yards. Other career marks include most touchdowns passes, 24, and most pass completions, 149.

Burris has thrown eleven touchdown passes this season including five in the Oklahoma State game.

"I don't believe the public fully appreciates him," Yeoman said. "If there's a better college quarterback around than Bo, that youngster must be superb."

Yeoman, reluctant to single out individuals without being asked, also had high praise for Warren McVea when the subject was brought up.

McVea, a sensation in his high school days at San Antonio, shook off a bad case of sophomore jitters about midway of last season and has been more than living up to expectations this season.

The speedy youngster, used primarily as a flanker this year, has a fantastic 40-yard per average in pass receiving. He has caught six passes for 240 yards. Three of his receptions went for touchdowns covering 29, 50 and 12 yards. He also has an 8.5 rushing average with 97 yards on 11 carries.

Card Ace Called Best Free Safety

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis safety Larry Wilson has ended Dallas quarterback Don Meredith's string of 156 passes without an interception this season.

The rangy, 6-foot, 190-pound Wilson was falling backward Sunday when he grabbed the ball that had been intended for a first-quarter Cowboy bomb.

"You have the greatest free safety in the game in Larry Wilson—and I hope you know it," said Dan Reeves, the Cowboy who scored the only Dallas touchdown in the 10-10 tie between the two unbeaten National Football League Eastern Division teams.

Reeves spoke to a St. Louis Quarterback Club luncheon the day after the game.

Wilson's steal was the first of three for the ball-hawking Cardinal secondary in the battle with the aerial-minded Cowboys who have scored 16 of their 26 touchdowns this season by passing.

Jerry Stovall and Jim Burson each picked off one of Meredith's tosses.

Bob Hayes, the fleet Dallas flanker who has caught most of Meredith's passes this season, was held to a meager 24 yards on only three pass receptions by the sticky defending of Wilson.

"Our front four was giving Meredith the big rush," said Wilson, the seven-year NFL veteran from Utah who has intercepted 24 passes in his career. "They were rushing him and we were keeping on the receivers pretty good most of the time."

That Cardinal defense severely limited the Cowboy offensive powerhouse that has averaged 45.73 points a game in its four victories and one tie.

Purdue Given Bowl Boost

NEW YORK (AP) — The Burke boys—Frank Jr. and Chris—have a new football, and thanks to their dad, Purdue has the best shot at the Big Ten's berth in the Rose Bowl.

Frank Jr., 2, and Chris, 9 months, got the ball last Saturday night, a few hours after Frank Sr. grabbed it and scored the touchdown that gave Purdue a 22-21 victory over Michigan.

And for grabbing the ball after blocking a punt, Frank Sr. was named College Football's Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press today.

"When I got home Saturday night, the ball was the first thing my boys got hold of," said Burke, a linebacker, who at 27 is the oldest member of the Purdue squad.

Because Michigan State is ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl, the winner of the Purdue-Michigan contest would be considered the leading contender for the postseason classic.

Some seven minutes remained in the game, and Michigan's Stan Kemp dropped back a couple of yards in the end zone to punt. Burke broke through the Wolverine line at the snap.

"I kept charging," he explained, "then put my hand up in the air and blocked the kick." The ball popped into the air, Burke outleaped the desperate Wolverines, pulled the ball in on the one and stepped gingerly into the end zone.

Burke, a 6-foot-1 215-pounder who played service football for three years in Germany, carried the ball off the field with him, surrendering it only to his sons when he returned to Lafayette, Ind., that night.

LSU Job One Big Pain To McClendon

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — At the end of the 1961 collegiate football season Charlie McClendon was offered two head coaching jobs—Kentucky and Louisiana State.

Kentucky was his alma mater. He played for the Wildcats under Paul (Bear) Bryant. The Kentucky post offered more money and a longer contract.

Nevertheless, McClendon — because he knew the personnel he would inherit—chose LSU—where he had been chief assistant under Paul Dietzel.

The soft-spoken native of Lewisville, Ark., has had one big headache after another as LSU's coach.

The latest is the arrest of Samuel Joseph Graziano, 26-year-old Baton Rouge barber, by the FBI on charges of attempting to bribe three Tiger backfield stars to shave points.

The trio reported the bribe attempt to federal agents and cooperated closely with the FBI, which arrested Graziano Tuesday.

Florida over Louisiana State: Steve Spurrier will win this one for Albert, the Alligator.

Baylor over Texas A&M: This could be the greatest aerial battle since World War II with the Aggies' Edd Hargett and Baylor's Terry Southall doing the flinging.

Arkansas over Wichita: By whatever score the Porkers wish.

Southern California over Clemson: The Trojan defense has allowed only 30 points this season, but the club will be without Don McCall, its ace running back this week.

Georgia Tech over Tulane: The New Orleans Greenies are on the way back but haven't progressed far enough to beat Tech.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Wed., Oct. 19, 1966 5-B

further comment would have to come from the FBI."

McClendon assembled his squad later in the day and told them not to ask the trio—Graziano, Billy Masters and Jim Dousay—any questions.

McClendon's biggest worries until now have been injuries and unsympathetic fans.

Each of his first four years saw McClendon lose his No. 1 quarterback because of injuries.

The Tigers went to a bowl each season, however, winning three and twice upsetting unbeaten squads.

Even with the key injuries, McClendon, who turned 44 two days ago, posted a record no other head coach can match for his initial four years as a chief mentor.

Spartans, Baylor, Irish Given Edge In Contests

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP) — There were exactly 7,291 persons who picked all 15 winners in last week's football contest conducted by the New York Daily News. This forecaster had 47 correct picks among the 61 major college games played.

Here's hoping for improvement with this week's major predictions:

Michigan State over Purdue: Each had a rugged game last weekend but the game is being played in East Lansing and that should be enough to spur Michigan State to super efforts.

Notre Dame over Oklahoma: The Irish showed against North Carolina that they can gain on the ground, too, by unleashing Nick Eddy. That's too much for the rebuilding Oklahomans.

Alabama over Vanderbilt: With ease.

Nebraska over Colorado: Unless the Buffaloes are higher than their Rocky Mountain altitude. Bob Churchich continues to guide the Huskers toward their fourth straight Big Eight title.

UCLA over California: Mel Farr and Gary Beban too much for the Bears.

Dartmouth over Harvard: It is only midseason, but the Ivy League title likely will be decided in this one. Harvard is the surprise of the league.

Florida over Louisiana State: Steve Spurrier will win this one for Albert, the Alligator.

Baylor over Texas A&M: This could be the greatest aerial battle since World War II with the Aggies' Edd Hargett and Baylor's Terry Southall doing the flinging.

Arkansas over Wichita: By whatever score the Porkers wish.

Southern California over Clemson: The Trojan defense has allowed only 30 points this season, but the club will be without Don McCall, its ace running back this week.

Georgia Tech over Tulane: The New Orleans Greenies are on the way back but haven't progressed far enough to beat Tech.

'Just About All My Pals Got Killed'

Spec. 4 Joe Riojas, a Texan at war, sat in a truck cruising along a road in South Viet Nam, enjoying the chance to rest, and the breeze. A loud explosion flung Riojas from one side of the truck to the other and he knew the truck had run over a mine. The Viet Cong followed up at once with an ambush.

Cohorn, Steve Dehnan, Jesse Stephens, Harold Vogler and Robert Riker.

didn't know it at first. I wasn't bleeding at all. I felt nothing. But I couldn't take my boot off to check. "I just thought my foot was broken," says Riojas, 24, of Ganado, a crossroads town between Victoria and Houston. "A buddy dragged me to the ground," recalls Riojas. He lay there with three other wounded men while his group was under fire. His weapon destroyed, he could not join in the fight.

DEAR ABBY A Dentist Problem

DEAR ABBY: Whenever my husband finds out one of our kids went to a dentist he hits the ceiling. He says I'm throwing out money, all dentists are crooks and nature will take care of everything. He says when he was young, folks went to a dentist only when a tooth ached, to have it pulled.

He's lucky, he was blessed with good strong teeth, but our kids have soft teeth (like me.) I am 43 and have plates, and now realize if I had taken better care of my teeth when I was young I'd have them today. My husband makes good money but he hates to give a dentist a dollar.

I can't go on feeling guilty every time I send the kids to a dentist. And I'm tired of hiding the dentist bills. What do you do with a man like that?

ASHTABULA, O.
DEAR ASHTABULA: Quit sneaking around, covering, hiding the bills and feeling guilty. You are within your rights to provide your children with regular dental check-ups to insure total good health. And if he hits the ceiling, learn to tune him out. It's hard to believe a person could be so ignorant in this enlightened era.

DEAR ABBY: What advice would you give a 12-year-old boy who has ambitions to be smart.
HAS AMBITIONS
DEAR HAS: I would say READ! Read, read, read. In books there is a world of information just waiting to be discovered. The person who DOES NOT read has no advantage over the person who CANNOT read.

DEAR ABBY: Please answer this question which has puzzled me for a long time. When a person has taken his own life, should the whole incident be ignored as though nothing had happened, out of kindness and consideration for his family? There are some in my family who believe that this is the best course to follow. What do you think?

NAMELESS
DEAR NAMELESS: When a dear one is lost, his family suffers a loss, whether he has taken his own life or not. The "cause" should, of course, not be mentioned, but the friends of the family should acknowledge the loss and send words of comfort just the same.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast
For Tomorrow
By Carroll Righter

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The day, time is your time to work hard to get your affairs on a better organized basis and to show others that you are willing to help them build their material interests so that they have less trouble in the days ahead. The evening brings out any tendency of those about—and yourself—to be contentious, to argue.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be careful you do not impress higher-ups as being a person who likes to obviously gossip about others, or this puts you in a bad light as well. Improve credit and avoid places where you can get in Dutch with others.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have some puzzling problem, but if you take valuable time away from your work to seek answers in the wrong places, you lose money as well. Complete work at hand. This becomes a fruitful day and evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handling insurance, taxes, alliances, etc. wisely is best way to spend part of this day. Better organization is needed. Check! He is quite demanding. Acquiesce and keep peace in the family.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Partners may be blaming you if some new venture is not getting the aspects appeared to be, and as expected. Control temper and give time for success to come. Don't be gloomy. Have faith.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Forget about being a high flying individual today and concentrate on getting the practical tasks around you completed properly. Some time spent of improving health is good. Be the master of your own soul.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Being careful to elicit to prevent pleasure and persons that will not lead to extravagance is important right now. Note can be almost identical with you. However, don't get the wrong idea and get into a bad argument.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Getting rid of whatever is burdensome now is wise, provided you do not tread on the toes of others in so doing. Kin want to express certain grievances. Listen carefully and then make proper adjustments.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Finding some new modus operandi is fine, but only the planning should be done now and action taken later on. Be sure you clear up any mistakes where statements, etc. are concerned. Labor with greater poise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you lose off some good ideas to others helpfully, they will appreciate it instead of making a production out of it. Take care you get bills paid. Plan how to make them easily on the time plan.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are not absolutely sure of your desires and you don't try to force matters or you lose out. More serious study is necessary. Improve your health and appearance for best results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Some worrying over conditions that are not quite to your liking is good, since you then do something about them without further ado. Others appreciate your finest talents. Give a helping hand to others in trouble, etc.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You may want to take up your time untidily and you should not permit them to do so, but be courteous. Say you are busy right now. Avoid the social place this could be most disappointing. Do some studying.

YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he, or she, will be one of those very practical and intelligent youngsters who wants security early and will know the value of a dollar, making every effort to earn it honestly. Early give the fine spiritual training that is necessary to inculcate the Golden Rule that will prove most valuable throughout the lifetime. Otherwise thoughts and actions will be energy and spend the success.

PROF CLAIMS COMMUNICATIONS BREAKING DOWN Poor Grammar Not Limited To Uneducated

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — The educated people who might be expected to use America's native language properly in many instances cannot. Dr. A.C. Jordan, a Duke University English professor recognized as a leading grammarian, said doctors, lawyers, merchants, chiefs — even school teachers — have little understanding of English grammar.

The result is that even they are finding efficient and sensible communication more difficult. The trouble, Jordan said in an interview, is that students are not properly trained.

STUDENTS DENIED
Jordan said students from the elementary grades to the college level never receive necessary training in rudimentary English.

The San Diego Zoo verified Oscar's longevity record several years ago.

when some of them become teachers they, in turn, deny it to the students they teach," he said.

The professor said communications are breaking down and "individuals find it impossible to get across their ideas."

POOR SPELLING
The failure of Americans to understand English, Jordan said, extends to improper punctuation, poor spelling, and lengthy, rambling sentences.

Jordan said his research had shown that poor grammar is not limited by any means to the uneducated.

The errors are committed by and found in the works of many professional men — "particularly doctors, lawyers, ministers, schoolteachers, and some of the worst offenders of all — news writers."

One of the basic problems in the school system, Jordan said, is, "too much English literature and too little English grammar."

Jordan blames current literature for some of the failures of today. He is critical of the works of Ernest Hemingway, Erskine Caldwell and John Steinbeck.

For the student with a desire to read the best, Jordan suggested Thomas Wolfe, James Joyce, "and one of the greatest — F. Scott Fitzgerald."

As corrective measures, Jordan suggests:

"Creation of a national committee of able deans from the professional schools and alert leaders in business and industry to outline a basic course in the fundamentals of English accuracy.

"And universities should insist that English grammar be made a full year of freshman work."

Oldest Rattlesnake In Captivity Dies

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Oscar, reportedly the oldest rattlesnake in captivity, is dead at age 28.

The old diamondback died recently at the home of Dr. Herbert Hechenbleikner, head of the biology department of the University of North Carolina here.

The San Diego Zoo verified Oscar's longevity record several years ago.

Computer System To Pinpoint Cars

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio railroads will put into operation a computer system capable of pinpointing the locations of 150,000 freight cars on 11,000 miles of track.

The Radio Corp. of America is installing the system, which is to begin operation this year.
