Paint Mars LBJ's Tour In Australia

MELBOURNE (AP) — From 500,000 to a million Australians gave President Johnson today a tumultuous Melbourne reception, marred by a paint-throwing incident that smeared his bubbletop limousine amid the boos and jeers of youths opposing the war in Viet Nam.

The closed car was smeared from windshield to rear bumper but the see-through top protected the President and Mrs. Johnson from the red and green paint. Two Secret Servicemen riding on the rear bumper and others in a following security car were smeared. Later, in the press of the crowd, a Secret Service man fell from the security car but was not seriously injured.

COME BACK

The paint was water-based and washed off readily and the car carried the Johnsons back to Melbourne airport for the return to Canberra. Thousands of Australians along the way cheered the Johnsons. Some shouted, "Come back" or sang, "For he's a jolly good fellow."

UNCONCERNED

The Johnsons appeared unconcerned by the paint throwing or the jeers from young Australians as they arrived at Government House from the airport. They smiled and waved to the crowd as if nothing had happened.

"In the perspective of two million people or so," said the First Lady, "it was just like a grain of sand."

One report said the paint — in two plastic balloons — was thrown by two youngsters about 14 years old. Another said the thrower was a young man whom police arrested.

RIBBING

The President flew to Melbourne from Canberra for four hours of meeting the people after taking a good-natured ribbing from an Australian politician and issuing a Viet Nam solidarity statement with Prime Minister Harold Holt.

Johnson and Holt said they agreed that North Viet Nam no longer can win a military victory but that America and its allies must "firmly maintain the present military effort until a satisfactory settlement could be negotiated."

"Fighting could only end when it was clear that the great issues at stake had been secured," the statement declared.

LONELY TUNNEL

"There is a widening community of people who feel responsible for what is happening in Viet Nam," the President said in a television speech just before he left Canberra. For that reason, he continued, "I believe there is light at the end of what has been a long and lonely tunnel."

Despite Mrs. Johnson's "two million" remark, Melbourne police estimated the turnout for the President at half a million who jammed the sidewalks for many blocks, cheering and waving American flags under a rain of tickertape from the city's tall buildings.

USUAL STOPS

The President as usual stopped his car repeatedly during the 11-mile drive to Government House and stood in the open doorway, kissing babies, waving vigorously, shaking hundreds of hands and accepting flowers and other tokens — including a football — from wellwishers.

On his way to Government House, the President stopped for 40 minutes to visit with Dame Mabel Brookes, who befriended him during his wartime stay in Australia, and her 90-year-old husband, Sir Norman Brookes, former world's tennis champion.

BROOKES VISIT

The Johnsons had just left the Brookes home when the paint throwing occurred.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said two youngsters about 14 threw two plastic balloons filled with paint at the car. A newsman riding with a truckload of photographers ahead of the limousine said the two containers were thrown by a young man who dashed at the car, hurled his missiles, ran in front of the car and either tripped or threw himself to the pavement. The newsman said police hauled him away.

The windshield of Johnson's car was hit squarely by the green paint, and the car was smeared from one end to the other. Two Secret Service men on the back bumper were bathed in it, and a number of other security men in an open car behind were hit.

QUITE JOCLAR

Moyers said the President was "quite jocular" about the incident and told him: "I guess they just couldn't stand the size of that turnout."

One other incident occurred as the motorcade passed near the campus of Melbourne University. Students waving anti-Viet Nam placards broke through police barricades in an attempt to disrupt the caravan.

motorcade through downtown Melbourne, Australia. No one inside the vehicle was harmed, but the two secret service men on its outside were bathed in paint. (AP WIREPHOTO by Cable from Melbourne)

Laotian Planes Bomb Army Installations

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — southern Laos. The Laotian government radio later in the morning announced the government was in control and appealed to the people to remain calm.

In a communique broadcast at 11 a.m., the radio said six T28s of the Laotian air force had bombed and machine-gunned the Phone Khene and Chinalmo military camps, and Vientiane's Wattay Airport.

At least 11 persons were reported killed and three injured. Well informed sources said Gen. Thao sent his planes against his rivals in the capital after arresting Gen. Ouane Rattikoun, the royal army's commander in chief; Gen. Boun Oum, the inspector general of the army, and the king's brother, Gen. Sayavong, at air force headquarters in Savannakhet, in southern Laos.

HEADS SOUTH The sources reported later, however, that Gen. Ouane, Prince Boun Oum, and Prince Sayavong, who commands the armored divisions, had escaped and were heading south for Pakse in a jeep.

T28 fighter-bombers supplied by the United States flew over Vientiane between 8 and 8:30 a.m. and dropped bombs on the army headquarters at Phone Khene, the city's northeastern suburb.

The Vientiane Airport also was bombed, but damage there was not immediately reported.

EMERGENCY SESSION

The Laotian high command cabinet met in emergency session, and acting Premier Leum Insisnmay was reported in telephone contact with Brig. Gen. Thao, 32, commander of the air force whose headquarters are in Savannakhet, in

The slayings have touched off fear among Cincinnati women. The fear has been fed with the unsolved stabbing murders of a young suburban couple and their daughter Sept. 25.

Coal Avalanche Buries School; 26 Tots Killed

Police Chief Fears 200 Death Toll

ABERFAN, Wales (AP) — A mountain of coal slag sent a black avalanche crashing down on the this Welsh mining village today, engulfing the school and crushing 14 houses.

Thirty-two bodies were recovered in the first hours of rescue operations but there was fear the death toll would reach 200, most of them children.

At least 150 children were missing and presumed engulfed — dead or hurt — in their class rooms.

The police chief of nearby Merthyr Tydfil told newsmen fatalities were likely to reach 200.

160 MISSING

"I am afraid this will be the figure," he said. Officials of the local municipal council estimated more than 160 persons were unaccounted for in the buried school, nearly all children between the ages of 7 and 11.

Bodies of 26 children and six adults had been dragged from the debris.

More than 1,000 miners tore with bleeding fingers at the rubble in efforts to free any children still alive. Mothers, some standing waist deep in a morass of soaking debris, wept bitterly and tried to break through police cordons around the engulfed school.

Four hours after the avalanche buried the school for youngsters aged 7 to 11 and a row of nearby houses, a civil defense worker said:

"We don't know how many are missing, but there are many."

The British Press Association reported 125 children and four adults missing.

BARE HANDS USED

A thousand miners from nearby pits tore into the rubble with their bare hands to rescue the buried children.

The heap of coal slag, loosened by rain, moved down the mountainside "like a glacier," one civil defense worker said.

It first struck a kindergarten and badly damaged a secondary school next door in this village in Glamorgan.

HOUSES DEMOLISHED

Six houses in a row near the school were demolished. Among the missing is a family of four living in one of the houses.

The avalanche struck just after the children had entered class rooms after a play period. The slag heap, loosened by recent rains, also slid into a row of six houses in this South Wales mining village. There were fears some persons might be buried in the houses.

Terrorists Bomb Mart

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong terrorists exploded a homemade mine in the teeming market place of a district capital today and killed or wounded 57 Vietnamese soldiers and civilians.

The attack came on an otherwise quiet day on the war front with only small patrol skirmishes reported as President Chung Hee Park of South Korea arrived in Viet Nam for a one-day visit to Korea's 45,000-man force here.

Park stopped off for seven hours and then continued on his way to Manila to attend the seven-nation summit conference on Viet Nam opening Monday.

South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, having quieted the storm within his own cabinet, took time off to fly to Da Nang to welcome the visiting Korean president.

TWO PLANES LOST

In the air war over North Viet Nam, U.S. strike pilots flew 80 missions Thursday and an American spokesman said the forays cost two U.S. planes.

The North Vietnamese claimed five planes were shot down Thursday and a number of pilots were captured.

U.S. spokesmen ignored this claim, but said the pilots of the U.S. planes were missing. The planes were both Navy A4 Skyhawks from U.S. 7th Fleet carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The mine explosion occurred in Tra On, a district capital 75 miles southwest of Saigon. A government spokesman said about 1,000 persons were in the market when the homemade Claymore mine went off, spewing fragments of iron, glass and barbed wire.

NINE KILLED

Nine persons were killed. They included four Vietnamese servicemen and five civilians, some of whom were children.

A spokesman said 48 were wounded seriously enough to be hospitalized. Fifteen were Vietnamese soldiers and 33 were civilians.

A Vietnamese spokesman said an undetermined number of others in the marketplace suffered minor wounds.

The seriously wounded were moved to hospitals in Can Tho 12 miles away by U.S. and Vietnamese river patrol boats. A spokesman said 35 U.S. servicemen donated blood in the Can Tho civilian hospital.

In air action over South Viet Nam, U.S. B52 bombers struck today at Viet Cong base camps and staging areas 18 miles west of Quang Ngai City near the South China Sea coast.

BARGES BLASTED

Slightly clearing weather over North Viet Nam allowed U.S.

filers to mount the 80 bombing missions, seven more than the previous day. Pilots claimed they damaged or destroyed 33 barges, six bridges and eight buildings.

The U.S. command, in a delayed report, said U.S. Marines Wednesday recaptured an 87-foot South Vietnamese trawler which had been seized by the Viet Cong.

The trawler developed engine trouble en route from Saigon to Da Nang and was beached by its South Vietnamese eight-man crew near Tam Ky. A spokesman said 40 Viet Cong boarded the beached trawler, kidnapped five of the crew and began unloading the vessel which carried a cargo of rice, flour, tires, furniture and cloth.

The U.S. command also announced the termination of Operation Teton, a U.S. Marine sweep five miles south of Da Nang.

Metro Group Of UF Is Up

The metropolitan division of the United Fund, headed by Jaycees, worked up to $1,094.75 Thursday afternoon.

Lt. John Slaughter, who is handling the division for the Jaycees, said that more cards will be worked throughout the next week.

A total of $62,605.89 — or 45 per cent of the UF goal — has been collected. Of this, $6,489.59 was in the out-of-town division; $31,242, in big gifts; $4,652 in special gifts; $15,178.79 in employee; $2,948.83 at Webb.

Turned in to UF headquarters, 106 Permain Building, late Thursday was $54.75 from various sections.

Airman Found Shot To Death

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — An airman on leave from Hamilton Air Force Base in California was found shot to death and a Denison woman critically wounded in a car parked on the Oklahoma side of Lake Texoma.

Undersheriff Joe Brimage of Durant, Okla., said a doctor ruled suicide and attempted murder in the death of Sidney W. Beck, 22, of Denison, and the wounding of Mrs. Barbara Wilson, also 22.

They were discovered early Thursday in a car near Burns Run Beach by a passing couple.

Conferees Okay Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional negotiators reached agreement on compromise terms for the year's final appropriations bill today and sent it back to the House for another vote on an explosive foreign policy feature.

The action may have eased the biggest obstacle to adjournment of this session of Congress by tonight.

On that provision, a House-Senate conference committee erased a House-approved ban on use of new export-import bank funds to extend to the Soviet bloc nations of Eastern Europe.

The version the conference committee approved would leave it to President Johnson to decide whether the bank should under-write trade with those Communist nations.

APPROVAL SEEN

Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he thinks the compromise will be approved.

"This doesn't require any explanation except do you want to pull the rug out from under the President when he's abroad working for peace," Mahon said. But Rep. John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., said the House fight for approval of the compromise may be a stiff one. "A lot of people are going to have to change votes," he said.

In compromise form, the supplemental appropriations bill totals just over $5 billion—a bit less than the Senate approved, a bit more, than the House.

SPLIT DIFFERENCE Negotiators split their differences on funds for the war on poverty, trimming $50 million from the $100 million the Senate had added to the House bill.

That leaves the poverty account $137.5 million below the $1.75 billion ceiling set by Congress.

They slashed from $24.2 million to $11 million the appropriation for President Johnson's demonstration cities program.

SATURDAY SESSION

Despite the drive for adjournment today, the Senate made tentative arrangements to meet at 10 a.m., Saturday.

The unanimous consent on Saturday meeting time did not make another session mandatory, but Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen he had only slight hope of completing all business by tonight.

Mansfield convened the Senate three hours early today, won agreement on the time, and then recessed the session for lack of any immediate business to handle.

He did not say what possible stumbling blocks lay ahead. But one major obstacle — a dispute over expanded trade with Communist nations of Eastern Europe — could delay final adjournment until Saturday.

President Johnson is pushing for expanded trade with Soviet bloc nations as part of a move to ease East-West tensions. But in passing a $5-billion supplemental money bill Tuesday—the last appropriations measure of the session — the House tacked on a ban on use of Export-Import Bank funds to extend credit to Communist countries.

The Senate, when it cleared the measure Thursday, knocked out the ban and gave the President discretionary power to authorize credit if he feels it is in the national interest.

House-Senate conferees meet today in an attempt to settle the question.

Advance indications were that the Senate position would prevail. But there was some fear that if this was the case, the House might balk at approving the compromise version of the legislation and possibly force a Saturday session.

Both House and Senate leaders were striving to avoid this, saying a quorum might not be available Saturday. The ranks in both branches have been dwindling all week as the Nov. 8 election date nears.

BARE MINIMUM

On its last vote Thursday night, the House got down to the bare minimum of 217 vote members required for a quorum and its leaders had to quit without handling some of the scheduled items.

ONE GIFT WORKS MANY WONDERS THE UNITED WAY

Little Theatre Will Open Season Today With Comedy

"Poor Richard," a sparkling comedy that brought rave reviews on Broadway, will open the season for the Little Theatre of Big Spring today at 8 p.m. in the City Auditorium.

Tickets at the door will be $1.50 per person, 75 cents for students and airmen. However, season tickets are still available and may be purchased at the door as well.

The humorous plot involves the efforts of a publisher's secretary to reform a famous writer, who champions excessive growth accustomed to her re-living in his daily routine. From the point in the opening scenes where she boldly tells him she plans to marry him, the plot races merrily along through her second thoughts on the subject, as well as his effort to markable frankness.

The lead roles are brought to the stage by Gail Andrews and Kieran Doherty, both having considerable experience in drama — including several plays for the local organization.

Providing the dramatic turntable with whirlwind foils are Glenda Whitlock, Jerry Whitlock and Clark Frayser.

The troupe has been coached and directed these past six weeks by Mrs. Richard Shaver. A teacher in the Coahoma Independent School system, she is the mother of three children. Mrs. Shaver worked 11 years in the Weathervane Theatre in Akron, Ohio — both acting and in backstage work. For the local group, she played the heroine in the organization's only melodrama — "Dirty Work at the Crossroads."

Marshall Cockrell and Barbara Crenshaw are the producers — charged with putting up the well-done set for the show. They have worked in many of the organization's plays and been active in the high school drama department. Cockrell had roles in "The Emperor's New Clothes" and "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

For those who miss the staging tonight, the play will be repeated Saturday, curtain time 8 p.m.

Church On Spot, Carleton Says, But It Is Best Hope

The church is on the spot. Dr. Alsie Carleton, Dallas, former pastor of the First Methodist Church here, told laymen of the Big Spring Methodist district at their annual session at Coosden Country Club last night that the church is sorely beset, and worst of all by forces from within.

Yet he held it up as the last, best hope of mankind.

"The most gigantic struggle is not between communism and capitalism, it is not on the battlefield in Viet Nam (where he has a son), but it is the battle of the secular and the sacred," he asserted.

In the ebb and flow of the church's fortunes, pressures generally have been from without, but today there are voices within the church proclaiming that it has lost its power or meaning, or even that God is dead. But against this he took a hopeful if urgent view.

The church gives a new view of all God's children through the gospel of Jesus Christ, he said. It fills Christian people with new concern born of love. It offers new hope to a sick world, for the church alone has the answers to the world's problems.

"God still reigns," Dr. Carleton said, "and the road to peace, prosperity, understanding and brotherhood lies in proclaiming this."

He fired back at critics of the church, defying them to parade orphanages, hospitals, schools, established, schools and colleges inspired by agnosticism.

Malcolm Abel, Midland, district lay leader, presided. Reagan Legg, Midland, past district lay leader, urged laymen to make use of Methodist materials because "they are spiritually based and church oriented."

Associate lay leaders here for the meeting were Bob Crowell, Snyder, Hiram Vaughn, Lamesa, Ken Tudor, Midland. Nearly 200 laymen were here from most of the 37 churches in Ackerly, Big Spring, Coahoma, Colorado City, Garden City, Lamesa, Midland, Roscoe, Snyder, Union, Sparenberg and Stanton.

Midland Artist Schedules Show

Mrs. Neoma Lancaster, Midland artist, will have a one-man show at the Woman's Club there, beginning Sunday and continuing through Nov. 16. Marking the opening, a tea will be held in her honor Sunday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Lancaster, well-known in area art circles, specializes in scenes of the Southwest, and has been capturing the charm of the area on canvas for over 30 years. Local artists and art lovers are invited to attend.

OIL REPORT

Martin Extender Due Completion

Pan American Petroleum Corp. will attempt to complete the No. 1-C Elma L. Slaughter a mile north extension and the third producer from the recently opened Sulphur Draw (Dean-Wolfcamp) area of Martin County.

It is 13 miles north of Lenora, 1,320 feet from the south and east lines of section 85-B, B&C survey.

The explorer drilled to 10,300 feet, likely in the Wolfcamp, and set a 5 1/2-inch casing at that point. The pipe now has been perforated between 8,846 - 9,215 feet and that horizon has been injected with 10,000 gallons of acid.

It now is in process of recovering the load and residue from that stimulation. After that has been accomplished, it will be possible to determine the petroleum yielding ability of the zone.

Possibly, before the operation is completed, more of the section between 9,215 feet and the bottom of the hole will be perforated and checked.

HMH Operators have scheduled the No. 1 J. B. Autry as a 3,300-foot wildcat operation to test the upper, middle and lower Clear Fork area. Drillsite is 2,173 feet from the south and east lines of section 87-87, H&TC survey, 11 miles northwest of Stanton.

COMPLETIONS

GARZA
Hort-Jackson Oil Co., Dallas, has finished the No. 1-A, Alice Williams, a 7,746-foot producer in the Table field. Initial pumping yielded 29 barrels of 31.2 gravity oil per day, with a gas-oil ratio of 500:1. Tubing pressure was 438 pounds, and the treatment was 400 gallons of 40% acid. Location is 200 feet from the north line and 249 feet from the south and west lines of section 19-0, H&GN survey, one mile southeast of Justinburg.

HOWARD
Pan American No. 2-B H. R. Clay completed from the Howard-Glasscock field. Initial pumping yielded 29 barrels of 31.2 gravity oil per day, with a gas-oil ratio of 500:1. Tubing pressure was 438 pounds, and the treatment was 400 gallons of 40% acid. Location is 200 feet from the north line and 249 feet from the south and west lines of section 19-0, H&GN survey, one mile southeast of Justinburg.

DAILY DRILLING

GRASSBUCK
Pan American's wildcat, the No. 1-B Cox, is plugged back to 7,200 feet, 11 miles northwest of Stanton. The well is 24 hours, with 32 barrels of 31.2 gravity oil per day, with a gas-oil ratio of 500:1. Tubing pressure was 438 pounds, and the treatment was 400 gallons of 40% acid. Location is 200 feet from the north line and 249 feet from the south and west lines of section 19-0, H&GN survey, one mile southeast of Justinburg.

MARTIN
Cities Service No. 1-F Jones is drilled below 5,558 feet in line and shale. The wildcat is spotted 660 feet from the north line and 420 feet from the east line of section 29-0, W&W survey, 12 miles northwest of Stanton. The well is 24 hours, with 32 barrels of 31.2 gravity oil per day, with a gas-oil ratio of 500:1. Tubing pressure was 438 pounds, and the treatment was 400 gallons of 40% acid. Location is 200 feet from the north line and 249 feet from the south and west lines of section 19-0, H&GN survey, one mile southeast of Justinburg.

STERLING

Champion No. 1-F Foster swabbed 85 barrels of 31.2 gravity oil in 11 hours, with five barrels of 31.2 gravity oil per day, with a gas-oil ratio of 500:1. Tubing pressure was 438 pounds, and the treatment was 400 gallons of 40% acid. Location is 200 feet from the north line and 249 feet from the south and west lines of section 19-0, H&GN survey, one mile southeast of Justinburg.

Rites Today For Mrs. Libbie Hyten

Services were to be held at 2 p.m. today in Liberty Hill for Mrs. Libbie Hyten, 54, who died in a hospital here at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday.

She had made her home in Lubbock since 1941 and was a member of the Church of Christ. Arrangements were in charge of River-Welch.

Surviving her are her mother, Mrs. Addie Allen, Sweetwater; three sisters, Mrs. Howard Cadell, Albuquerque, N. M., Mrs. Dorothy Boyer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa and Mrs. Jimmy McKinney, Baytown.

Loses Her Job

LONDON (AP) — Air stewardess Jean Chapman, 21, sole crew survivor of a British airliner crash in Yugoslavia in which 98 persons were killed, has lost her job.

Work Project

The reorganized Boy Scout Troop No. 1, sponsored by the Big Spring Rotary Club, will have a work project Saturday at 9:30 a.m. Members of the troop are to meet with the Scoutmaster, Airman Ralph Breeding, at the Scout Hut in the City Park and join with Rotarians in fixing the hut for winter use.

Local Collections Will Be Featured In Coin Show

Members of the Big Spring Coin Club moved into the Hotel Settles today to begin preparing for the Sixth Annual Big Spring Coin Club Show which opens Saturday at 9 a.m. All activities of the show are centered in the hotel.

Coin exhibits and dealers will be on the mezzanine floor in the lobby and the dining room.

The awards breakfast of Sunday morning will be in the Settles coffee shop at 7:30 o'clock.

The array of trophies, which are to be presented to the several winners, were moved to the hotel today. Featured as a new event this year will be a "best of the show" trophy for the top junior exhibitor. In the past only a "best of the show" for adult exhibitors has been offered.

A special feature of this year's show will be the numerous displays of unusual and beautiful gold coins. According to W. E. Wozencraft, a longtime member of the club, there are more gold coins to be shown this year than at any other show in club history.

Twenty or more dealers are expected to set up shop late today or early tomorrow in the dining room.

The general public is invited to attend the show and inspect the exhibits. The club has arranged with Police Chief Jay Banks to have a city police officer on duty at all times to insure the safety of the several hundred thousand dollars worth of rare coins which will be on hand.

M. K. Britton is in charge of the exhibits for the show, and Lois McKee will direct the show.

Many members of the club have exceptional collections of unusual coins, he said. These will be given special attention at this show, said Britton.

The show continues to 10 p.m. Saturday. It will reopen at 9 a.m. Sunday and close finally at 5 p.m.

Mark Barr To Keep Steer

Mark Barr, whose steer won reserve championship of junior Herefords at the Dallas State Fair stock show on Wednesday, did not sell his animal, his father, Buddy Barr, Vincent, said today. Mark brought the steer back to the Barr farm and will enter him in the Fort Worth show in January.

Barr said that the victory of the three Howard County steers entered in the breeder's special was probably the biggest achievement of the local entry at the Dallas show. He pointed out that J. C. Sale of Stanton had bred all three of the steers and that the award was of prime importance to him.

Sale has been a highly helpful friend of the Howard County 4-H Club members for many years, Barr reminded.

Barr said that Dixie Coleman's Hampshire barrow won reserve champion for the Hampshire breed on Thursday. She had two barrows at the show.

Nunez Belatedly Asks For Hearing

Joe A. Nunez, arrested in late September for a charge of shoplifting, demanded a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter on Friday morning.

After one witness had been introduced by the state, the hearing was postponed until Monday to permit Nunez to present other witnesses he says he wants to offer. Dick Miltstead appeared as his attorney.

Burns said that Nunez was arrested in connection with the alleged theft of a movie camera on Sept. 29.

His case is one of a score of felony matters slated to be laid before the Howard County grand jury on Tuesday.

Ceramic Club Picks Officers

The West Texas Ceramic Association elected a new slate of officers Thursday evening, and set a workday for Nov. 12.

Mrs. Robert Fuller, outgoing treasurer, was elected president for the new year. Balance of the slate includes Mrs. Douglas Wingate, vice president; Mrs. Roger Shaw, treasurer; and Mrs. Glenn Coates, secretary.

The workday, to prepare ceramic items for a fair later in the year, will be held in the home of Mrs. Charles Sweney at 10 a.m. All participating are to bring covered dishes for lunch.

The next regular meeting of the organization is Nov. 17.

TEXAS MURDER SUSPECT NABBED

WHARTON, Tex. (AP) — The Wharton County sheriff's office said today that Hearne Edward Smith, charged with murder in Wharton County, has been arrested in Cheyenne, Wyo.

Officers said Smith escaped about a month ago from the Ramsey prison unit in Brazoria County. He is accused of kidnapping Nellie Bee Stoner in Rossharon and shooting her in Wharton County.

The sheriff's office said they understood he fled to Mexico but was found late Thursday in Cheyenne.

Pregnancy Delays Royal Wedding

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — The wedding of Denmark's Princess Margrethe to Count Henri de Monpezat has been put off until June 10 because of her sister's pregnancy.

The marriage had originally been scheduled for May 25.

The Danish court announced in Copenhagen Thursday that the change was made in order "to give her Majesty Queen Anne of Greece an opportunity to attend."

Toot 'Em Up For Band Memberships

These two German hands will be un-popping under the stands this evening as Big Spring Band Boosters seek to expand membership in support of band activities. The girls and boys German band will begin playing under the stands at 7:15 p.m., and Boosters will operate a booth to sign members. The Golland and Rannels bands will perform prior to the game. During half-time, Boosters will don band caps and seek memberships ($1) from fans. In the girls' band, kneeling are Helen Miller and Tanya Tidwell; Sally Miller, Beth Frazier, Margaret Cooper. The boys' band has Richard Knouse and Steve Stinson, kneeling, Mike Stephens, Tommy Taroni and Doyle Fermenter. (Frank Brandon photo)

A LOVELIER YOU

Watching-Weighting Worst TV Problem

By MARY SUE MILLER

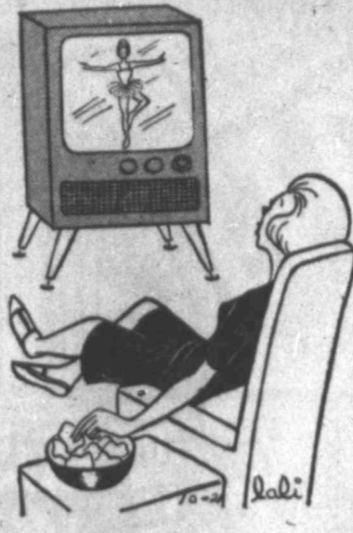

Television is constantly weighed for its impact on our thinking processes. But what we want to discuss here is its effect on our weight. You'll have a clue after answering these questions:

Does watching TV cut down on your exercise — on your walks, workouts, or merely on a normal amount of roaming about the house? Is watching an occasion for snacking?

If you answer "yes" to either or both questions, you had better start watching your scales. Less than normal amounts of exercise and more than normal amounts of food can only result in more weight and less shape. And you just know it!

To side-step the outcome, two simple measures are required. The first has to do with your viewing posture. Make it good! Sit with your weight centered on your hips, your back drawn in a straight line and your head pulled out of your shoulders.

In the snack department, there's a possibility that you should eliminate nibbles when you are a lone viewer.

But with others present, refreshments seem only sociable. Then the kindest gesture is to serve de-calorized drinks and snacks — real goodies like de-fatted cocoa, chocolate sauce, cookies and candy bars!

Those beauties on the TV screen have to be trim and work at it. Be you teen or adult, you might keep that in mind when you just sit, eat and watch.

Dropouts Drop Down

Young men contemplating dropping out of high school should contemplate something else, namely the results of a recent Labor Department survey. Doing a followup on a 1963 study, the department checked young men who completed their high school education in 1963 and those who did not. The results were startling. Those who stayed in school were earning 50 per cent more than those who quit school.

The dropouts found they could not, on the whole, obtain as good jobs as high school graduates. They also had a higher unemployment rate. And, as pointed out, the median earnings of 1964 graduates were $3,961 as compared to $2,608 for dropouts.

And that is after only one year. If the difference is marked this quick, what will it be over the long haul?

Even a prospective dropout has enough sense to see that.

An Anti-Strike Proposal

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., is going to push hard next session for a labor-relations bill that deserved more serious consideration this year. Another nation-crippling strike could win wider interest in his idea for a U.S. Court of Labor-Management Relations, as an alternative to outright compulsory arbitration which unions and industries both oppose because it might amount to governmental cost, and hence price fixing.

The Smathers plan would work this way:

If the President determined that a walkout threatened the national safety or welfare, he could have the attorney general place the dispute under the jurisdiction of a five-judge national court. The court could enjoin the strike for 80 days, during which collective bargaining under the court's supervision would continue.

If after the 80-day period, labor and management thought they were near an agreement and both requested more time, the court could extend the injunction. However, if it were evident that a voluntary negotiated agreement could not be reached, the court could hear the case for both sides and hand down a binding judgment on wages, hours, working conditions, or any other issues in dispute. The court's judgment could be enforced by the contempt power.

Sen. Smathers' intent is not to diminish free collective bargaining, but (1) to try to make it work better and (2) to provide the least arbitrary alternative possible to strikes intolerable to the public interest. In effect, it would give an impartial, nonpolitical court the task of doing what Congress now must do when all the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act have been exhausted.

This nation's massive economy has become so intricately integrated, so complexly interdependent in its parts, that prolonged industrywide strikes that hurt everyone will not continue to be suffered by public opinion. An alternative must be found that does not put government in the wage and price fixing business, and Sen. Smathers' plan looks good enough to merit a thorough debate in Congress and widespread public discussion, regardless of whether it is the ultimate solution. The best solution of all is fair, enlightened, honest-to-goodness collective bargaining.

This Message Must Get Through

WASHINGTON—With all the billions of dollars being spent for foreign aid and domestic welfare, the problem of communication with peoples — which is so essential to the achievement of world peace—is being sadly neglected.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, for example, made a significant speech at Honolulu that ought to be read or listened to by all the peoples of Asia, and it should have been transmitted to them in their native languages. But the Communist world controls its own press and refuses to permit publication of anything that holds out the olive branch of peace and cooperation. So there remains only one other means to reach the peoples in Communist areas—communication by radio.

There are approximately 5,500,000 radio sets inside mainland China. America's transmitters, based in Okinawa and the Philippines, can send radio broadcasts into China, but there aren't enough "frequencies" available to make it possible to transmit every day in full text in the Chinese language the important statements of the President or the secretary of state.

THIS ISN'T the fault of the "Voice of America." While an investment in research might eventually produce more "frequencies" and thus make it possible for the American voice to be heard by many millions of mainland Chinese, the fact is that friendly governments to which radio "frequencies" have been allocated by international agreement could loan their facilities to help the United States broadcast to Asia. Also, some of the wave lengths not always in use by the Department of Defense could be turned over on special occasions to the "Voice of America."

Even as few as 5,500,000 sets—most of them on medium-wave bands — could be the very channel by which hundreds of millions in Red China might be reached. Word-of-mouth communication is still the most effective way to penetrate a nation no matter how extensive is its territory.

THE COMMUNISTS are not faced with these difficulties of communication. Not only do they transmit by radio to countries all around the world, but the press of this and other nations helpfully print extracts from Communist speeches as well as a large volume of propaganda declarations.

Also, the Communists have become active in nearly every country. They have supporters in many of the universities and colleges in the United States and elsewhere. Committees of Congress have exposed these subversive activities, but the moment any effort is made to punish treason of this kind, the cry is heard that "free speech" is being impaired or that "McCarthyism" is being revived. Communists have become associated with some of the organizations that recently have helped to carry on street demonstrations and incite people to violence and riot.

SUBVERSIVE TACTICS are far more extensive, however, in the very Asian countries which President Johnson has sought to line up behind the policies of the United States. The President, in his speech at Honolulu, said:

"In the last few months I have had many talks with leaders from most of the countries of Asia. They and others of their countrymen have spoken freely of their hopes. What do they want? They have told me. They want to be secure from outside attack. They want to end the threat of internal subversion with all the terrorism and murder that is associated with it."

"We shall keep alive the hope for a freer flow of ideas and people between mainland China and the United States. For only through such exchange can isolation be ended and suspicion give way to trust."

IT IS TRAGIC that the real news of the President's mission to Asia will not reach the hearts and minds of the millions of Chinese peasants or even the educated classes. Yet this could mean the difference between a destructive war and a constructive era of peace.

National Lottery Proposed Again

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
WASHINGTON (AP) — As government at all levels takes on more burdens — gets bigger and bigger if that's the way you prefer to view it — the constant problem is how to finance it.

Higher income taxes? Sales taxes? A lottery?

Basically, the political problem is how to get the money as painlessly as possible from those who surrender it.

The philosophy behind sales taxes is that a few pennies more on a small purchase don't really hurt, at least not as much as having to kick through with $50 or more additional at income tax paying time.

AND THE allure of the lottery is the notion that it would raise a lot of revenue completely painlessly.

So two states — New York and Nevada — are going to have votes this coming election day, Nov. 8, on legalizing lotteries.

Already, New Hampshire has a state lottery. Also it has neither a sales nor an income tax. But as a revenue raiser, the New Hampshire state lottery, a sweepstakes based on horse races, has been something of a disappointment compared to the hopes the state had for it. The state's annual net is in the area of $2 million a year.

One of New Hampshire's problems has been a restricted market. There are those federal laws about using the mails for a lottery which interfere with both advertising and sales through the mails.

NEW YORK is a major market whatever you are selling. Backers of a lottery in that state have estimated the state's take as high as $400 million a year.

Specifically, what New York voters will pass on is a proposed constitutional amendment that would open the way for a lottery.

The 1967 legislature would take it from there, if the lottery idea is approved at the polls.

The form of the lottery would be up to the legislature.

Nevada has been so well publicized as a center of legal gambling, home of the wheels, the slot machines, the blackjack games and the dice, that it may be surprising that a lottery is a form of gambling now outlawed there. But that's the way it is.

ACTUALLY, the question of a national lottery has been technically before Congress for a long time.

Rep. Paul A. Fino, a Republican from New York's Bronx area, introduced a bill for one soon after he came to Congress in 1953.

Its reintroduction is an annual ritual that Fino has gone through in each Congress since then.

As a revenue raising measure, the bill routinely goes to the House Ways and Means Committee which just as routinely has filed and forgotten it. Fino's estimate of the potential revenue is about $10 billion a year.

James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is in vacation.

Cigars, Too Good For Gals?

NEW YORK (AP) — A recent American women about to take up cigar smoking as a major fad?

It is within the realm of possibility. And, to no surprise, the ones most against the trend are veteran male cigar smokers.

"There is no doubt that women are buying more cigars," said one tobacconist. "But as for it becoming a general habit among them—well, I'm not so sure."

But a mail order tobacco firm estimates that perhaps one out of a hundred cigars it sells are bought by women for their own use.

THE NUMBER of public female cigar smokers is still small. But the number of women, particularly career women, who enjoy a stogie in the privacy of their apartments is believed by industry figures to be growing steadily.

Cigar smoking among women, of course, is nothing new. It is fairly common in several European countries, notably Denmark. Anna Magnani, the Italian actress, habitually carries a tin of small Swiss-made cigars.

The most famous American woman cigar smoker probably were the late New England poetess, Amy Lowell, and "Poker Alice," the notorious belle of saloon society in Western frontier days.

As married men have found out, many wives like to share a few puffs of their after dinner stogies. They like the aroma, even though they may complain later that it stinks up the draperies.

THE MAIN argument against women smoking cigars in the past has been that it wasn't genteel. It was thought that a lady only made herself look ridiculous.

There is strong masculine resistance, particularly among long-time cigar lovers.

In an informal poll, they gave these reasons:

"Women who smoke cigars are equal rights nuts. They're like apes. Anything men do they try to imitate."

"Cigars are too good for women. Women don't deserve them. The only reason a woman smokes anyway is to show off. She'd be just as happy if she were smoking parsley or asparagus."

Well, that's the situation. How about it, ladies? Would you care to adjourn to the living room for a cigar while us fellows clear up the dishes?

Around The Rim

Got The Blues

Security comes in all shapes and sizes and things.

Take Linus, for example, that precocious little kid in the Peanuts comic strip who refuses to let go of his lumpy blanket for anyone or anything. This, of course, causes him no end of trouble with the other characters, particularly his sister, Lucy Van Pelt, and that World War I flying ace, Snoopy. Linus without his blanket is like a birthday cake without ice cream.

WHEN I WAS about three years old, I had the same type of attachment to an old, raggedy red jacket which had seen better days (and better kids). I wore that red jacket everywhere—almost everywhere, since I was firmly instructed not to wear it to Sunday school—in fact, I even slept in it. As soon as I was wrestled into pajamas and admonished to get a good night's sleep, when the coast was clear I'd sneak over to a chair in my room where my most precious possession was draped, wrap it around my shoulders, climb back into bed and drift off to sleep.

A RELATIVE made the mistake of giving me, for a Christmas or birthday present one year, a stuffed yellow monkey. I was fascinated by that yellow monkey and dragged it around the house for so long that finally it wore out. Nothing was too good for that monkey. All winter I'd wait patiently—when the first slightly warm day of spring came, and I was allowed outdoors, I'd pile that monkey into a little wagon, and wearing my red jacket, would be off to buy some mud pies from my next-door girlfriend, who had a special recipe.

THOSE PEOPLE who make it a point to be "in the know" maintain that blue is a happy color, monopolizing the lives of those people who are insecure.

I don't agree—primarily because I am one of those who has a preoccupation with the color blue.

As I think back, most of my dresses in school were in various pastels and deep shades of blue. Of course, my room decorations were, too, and nothing would do for class notes but a blue notebook.

ILL ADMIT I still have a fondness for blue—six of my dresses are in shades of blue. I've decorated the living room and bedroom with blue-green furniture and knick-knacks, the phone is a turquoise color, and many of our linens and towels are in deep shades of blue.

But, I promised my spouse that from now on, no more blue. He just can't take any more of it, he says, and won't I please try a different color just once? (I think the color-clinch was when he discovered me whipping up a chocolate cake... with blue frosting). So, from now on, I've reformed. No more blue.

BUT JUST between you and me, there's the sweetest little pastel blue dress at the corner shop, and I certainly can't pass up that buy on blue handkerchiefs, and that blue engraved stationery was such a bargain...)

The President's 'Experiment'

WITH PRESIDENT JOHNSON IN THE PACIFIC — The roar of the jet engines defies the immense distances of the Pacific. That is the paradox of what is certainly the longest and perhaps also the strangest journey any president in office has ever set out on.

The technology of the jet age devalues time and space. It is lunch in Honolulu, dinner and refueling in Pago Pago and New Zealand in the morning. The sun is pursued against the backdrop of the ever-receding horizon with its great white cloud banks. This is a commonplace of travel today.

THIS TECHNOLOGY so taken for granted is the pride of 20th century man. The communications on Air Force One keeps the President in instant touch with every nerve center of America's security network. The paradox is that with this astonishing technology man is still not the master of the primitive forces of his aggressiveness.

With more than 400,000 men on land, sea and air and every kind of advanced weapon, the United States has thus far been unable to overcome the resistance of guerrilla warriors in elementary jungle warfare on a small peninsula in Southeast Asia. If this expedition has any real meaning it is in an attempt to end the conflict short of the total destruction of Viet Nam and a far larger war.

AS A WAR council, the tag the opposition is applying, the Manila conference is meaningless. Washington has the resources and the strategy without help from any other nation to prosecute the war on a greatly enlarged scale. Whether the resolution is there for a long pull is another matter.

With the fervor of a backwoods preacher the President talks about the plight of the Asian peoples. Three-fourths of the world's population, they live on the margin of existence. A dozen times at least he has spelled out the statistic of hunger, disease and illiteracy, a dead weight not to be endured without imperiling order and stability everywhere.

IN THIS LIGHT the Pacific tour can be judged better late than never. For, as the President's first two stops make abundantly clear, it is late. Australia and New Zealand have only belatedly recognized that they were part of the Asian world.

Living, so close to the Asian mass a deep-seated fear is for survival itself. The nearest neighbor, Indonesia, with less than one-third the space has 10 times the close-packed population. And while the pressure is off for the time being, with the downfall of the Communists in Indonesia, this can be only a temporary reprieve.

IN VIET NAM Australia's dilemma is summed up. Today 4,500 Australian troops are engaged alongside 325,000 Americans. They are committed in the conviction that what happens in Southeast Asia will determine the fate of the entire Pacific area. Yet increasingly, as white troops carry the full brunt of the fighting, the issue of color comes to the fore.

GRATITUDE for the troops to one side, President Johnson and Prime Minister Harold Holt enjoy a mutual admiration society rare among troubled statesmen. Holt and New Zealand's Keith Holyoake will sit at the conference table in Manila and in this fashion link up with Asia. The white nations bordering the Pacific may or may not be convinced by a highly publicized demonstration of unity. But it is a bold experiment that could in its outcome confound the cynics and the skeptics.

We're In The Coupon Generation

NEW YORK (AP) — Have we become a nation of coupon clippers? Are Americans flipping over clipping out coupons that offer a few pennies off on coffee or detergents?

Do we have in our midst another consumer fad comparable to trading stamps? The statistics would indicate it. And the breakfast scenes confirm it.

CRANKY HUSBANDS find rainbow-colored coupons spilling from the instant coffee jar. Children inadvertently chew "valuable certificates" that have been enclosed in cereal boxes.

It is difficult to avoid them. Something like 20 billion coupons—100 for every man, woman and child — will be distributed to Americans this year. Millions of them will come in food cartons or jars. Millions more will be clipped from publications. Millions more spill out of mail boxes, offering "the occupant" the latest in detergent science at a low, low price.

THE ENVELOPES you receive in your mail containing coupons from as many as seven different companies are called cooperatives, because the companies cooperate in splitting the postage cost. Sixteen billion of these coupons will be distributed this year.

No doubt the carnival of bright colors fascinates, the possible savings entice. The question you must answer is this: Are you saving 10 cents from the "regular" 35-cent price, or have you been enticed into spending 25 cents you otherwise might have saved?

COOPERATIVE mailings are one of the fastest growing advertising forms. It is a development mostly of the 1960s and is growing now at the rate of a billion coupons a year.

The purpose is to entice you to become a regular buyer of a product. And, in cashing your coupon at the store, you reveal an enormous amount of information for the marketing specialist. Many of the coupons contain codes. Some of your buying habits can then be analyzed by computer.

This is how a cooperative coupon mailing works:

A PRODUCER of a consumer product tells one of the big mail order houses with a vast list, based on the telephone directory or automotive registration lists, that he wishes to "sponsor" a mailing.

"I will guarantee a mailing of 23 to 25 million packets," he tells the mailer. In return the mailer says, "I will try to find you six other non-competing products to accompany your mailing and lower your cost."

The sponsor has the right to choose his envelope companions. Usually the separate companies do their own printing and deliver them to the mailer, who charges each advertiser about $20 for mailing 1,000 coupons.

Who Uses Most Water?

CHICAGO (AP) — The blast furnaces of steel mills lead the way as the largest industrial water users in the nation.

Commerce Clearing House said more than 32 per cent of the total 14 trillion gallons of water consumed in production is used by steel mills. Chemicals and allied products use 3.8 trillion gallons annually compared with the 4.5 trillion gallons consumed by the steel industry.

The food industry uses 700 billion gallons a year. The estimate of water use by industry is from a government survey of water used by 38 basic industry groups.

REV. ORAND TAKES OVER THE CONTROLS
Baptist minister is aspiring pilot

Rev. Orand Is Working On His Wings--Literally

By JERRY MONSON
The Rev. Byron Orand acquired the nickname "flying parson" while in high school—not as a pilot, but as a track star—and the name seems to have stuck with him.

Rev. Orand, pastor of the College Baptist Church, decided that he needed a hobby—a practical one—so he's starting to earn his wings as a licensed pilot.

He joined the Howard County Flying Club and began his instruction with Big Spring Air- craft in the club's Cherokees, the 150 and the 140.

And, among other things, he's let himself in for a whole passel of jokes.

"There's always someone who will ask me, jokingly, if I felt I needed a closer communion with The Man Upstairs," he said. "But I really don't mind being 'High Sky Pilot'."

"When you're up there, alone, you view the world in a different perspective. You get a better notion of how tiny the world really is and how vast is space."

The preacher-pilot became interested in flying initially because several of his church members fly and are thrilled by it.

"It's practical for me, too," he explained. "I am often asked to speak for one-night engagements in towns that are often too far away for me to drive there and back in one day. If I can fly, this will certainly solve my time problem."

A pastor has to be in his pulpit on the weekends, Rev. Orand said, and this cuts out a lot of holidays that could be spent with relatives. With flying, he said, all of that rush of driving there and back in one day could be eliminated.

"Everyone should have a hobby, some sort of mental outlet for relaxation," he pointed out. "I just feel that this is the best way for me to have a hobby that I can use whenever I want. I just don't care for golf or fishing."

Permian Lutheran SSTA Hears Prof. Lester Bayer

Prof. Lester Bayer of Concordia College, Austin, was the guest speaker for members of Permian Basin Sunday School Teachers Association of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, Sunday at the Redeemer Lutheran Church, Odessa. His topic was "Jesus as a Master Teacher."

Two films were shown, one concerning the national meeting of the Sunday school teachers, which was held this year in Chicago, Ill., and the other explaining the desired qualifications and duties of a teacher.

Those attending from Big Spring were Mrs. Walter Pachall, Mrs. Bob Roever, Mrs. Ray Cantrell, Mrs. Clair Wiederhoff, Mrs. Leroy Budke, Mrs. John Foster and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Graumann.

Devotions were given by the Rev. Donald E. Hafemann of Grace Church, Midland, and the Rev. Elmer Hohle of the host church.

Graumann presided as new officers were elected. They are William E. Davis, Big Spring, chairman; Bruce Barthel, Midland, vice chairman; Mrs. Harry Boehnemann, Pecos, secretary; and Mrs. Harold Ottmers, Fort Stockton, treasurer. Leroy Drennan of Kermit will be the program committee chairman, and serving with him will be Mrs. William Doering, Odessa, and Mrs. Graumann. The pastoral advisor will be Rev. Hohle.

Presbyterians To Observe Birthday

The First Presbyterian Church will observe its Diamond Anniversary next month. Nov. 26-27 have been fixed as the dates for the ceremonies marking founding of the church 75 years ago. Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, who has been pastor of the church for 20 of those years, said that Dr. William Elliott, pastor of the William Presbyterian Church in Dallas, would be the featured speaker. Dr. Elliott is the son of one of the founders of the old El Paso Presbytery in which the Big Spring church was situated.

REV. LEE JONES

TED POINDEXTER

Churches Get New Ministers

Two new Big Spring ministers are Ted Poindexter, minister at West Highway 80 Church of Christ, and the Rev. Lee Jones, pastor of the Airport Baptist Church.

Poindexter, who came here from the Ferris Baker and Eighth Streets Church of Christ, has ministered to churches in West, near Waco, and at Truby, near Abilene. He attended Abilene Christian College and has been in the ministry for five years.

He and his wife, Beverly, reside at 2701 Clanton with their three children, Martin, six, Jan, four, and Paul Ray, nine months.

He replaces Gary Colley, who transferred to Pochontas, Ark. Rev. Jones, known to his Colorado City boyhood friends as "Tut," pastored the Calvary Baptist Church at Post before coming here. He has been in the ministry for six years, serving churches at Odessa, Kermit and Brownfield. He attended Wayland Baptist College and is a veteran of the U.S. Army.

The family, including his wife, Bobbie, and daughters, Denise, eight, and Lynette, five, reside at 213 Kindle.

Rev. Jones replaces the Rev. Ronnie Bostick, who is now pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church at Graham.

Assemblies Plan Mission Emphasis

A week of missions emphasis will be held beginning Tuesday through Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church, sponsored by area Assemblies of God churches.

Featured speakers for the week will be the Rev. Glenn D. Stafford, recently returned missionary from Burma, and the Rev. Ralph Hagemeier and family, newly appointed missionaries to Tanzania, East Africa.

Rev. Stafford, who is from Amarillo, has served in Burma for the past nine years. The Staffords returned to the United States in May of this year and will return to the Far East during the summer of 1967. He will offer a report on his Burmese church activities and experiences.

Rev. Hagemeier and his wife are both graduates of Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Wapakoneta, Ohio. Rev. Hagemeier is the former pastor of the Anton Assembly of God Church. The Hagemeiers will be preaching and singing at the services.

The mission emphasis week starts Tuesday with two services at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., emphasizing home missions, under the direction of the Women's Missionary Council. Mrs. Gene Davis, district president, and Mrs. Joe Dunn, local council president, will host the meeting. The Rev. J. D. Holder, missionary to the Navajo Indians, will be the featured speaker. On Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., the missionary convention will begin, meeting each night except Saturday. Colored slides will be shown and Rev. Stafford and Rev. Hagemeier will have charge of the services.

REV. GLENN STAFFORD REV. RALPH HAGEMEIERS

There will be two services Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. The Rev. Homer Rich is the pastor.

G. L. STANLEY

MRS. G. L. STANLEY

Arizona Missionaries To Address Missions School

Two of the foreign and United States missionaries who will be addressing the Big Spring Baptist Association School on Missions Sunday through Thursday are Mr. and Mrs. George Lawrence Stanley, Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley are home board missionaries to the Chinese in the First Chinese Baptist Church, Phoenix, where they have served since 1949. Stanley, a native of Tatum, was appointed as a home board missionary in 1939 to the Chinese in San Antonio, and his wife, a native of Minneapolis, Minn., was appointed there as a home board missionary in 1940. The Stanleys were transferred in 1948 to their present post.

A graduate of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, Stanley has also attended Jacksonville Junior College, Jacksonville, and the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. Mr. Stanley is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and Howard Payne College, Brownwood. She also attended Baylor University, Waco, and Northwestern Bible School, Minneapolis, Minn.

Stanley has served as president of the Pastor's Conference, San Antonio Association; president of the Pastor's Conference, Central Association, Arizona; and moderator, Central Association, Ariz. He was recognized as the Pastor of the Year in Arizona.

In 1935 Mrs. Stanley received the Court of Honor award from the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association.

The Stanleys have two children.

The missionaries will rotate among area Baptist churches each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

DEAR ABBY Chef's Recipe Expensive

DEAR ABBY: A friend and I were dining in a famous New York restaurant. The dessert was out of this world, so my friend asked the waiter to ask the pastry chef if she could have the recipe. The waiter returned and told my friend if she would give him her name and address the chef would send the recipe.

I later heard that the friend received the recipe together with a BILL for $300! She sought the advice of an attorney, who told her to pay the $300! This makes no sense at all to me. Can it be true?

CAN'T BELIEVE IT

DEAR CAN'T: Yes. And it was explained to me in this manner: "When one requests and accepts the services and/or product of one whose livelihood depends on that service and/or product, and no terms were agreed upon beforehand, then the recipient must pay whatever is asked."

I am no lawyer, but I imagine if the chef asked for $100, he would have a hard time collecting. A court of law would probably determine what a reasonable fee for such a recipe would be.

DEAR ABBY: My husband who will soon be 80 is of English descent. He has always liked strong perfumes and after shaving lotions, and he uses them by the gallon. He dresses well and keeps himself clean, but he never goes out without drenching himself with these perfumed lotions.

He pours it on his head and has ruined all his good dress shirts. There are spots all over with the color out. The neighbors make fun of him and the children say, "Here comes old Stinky Sam." He has all but suffocated us who live with him. Please send your advice soon.

STINKY SAM'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Find a perfumed powder or sachet that appeals to Sam. A little goes a long way and it will save his shirts. And if he's pushing 80 you had better hurry.

DEAR ABBY: I recently went to the home of a friend for a tea. I knew it was her birthday, so I took along a little gift. She thanked me for it and nothing more was said. She did not open it. None of the other guests took her a gift.

The next morning she telephoned me and thanked me for it, but I was hurt. Don't you think she should have opened my gift when I gave it to her, and thanked me then?

THOUGHTFUL

DEAR THOUGHTFUL: No. She probably did not want to embarrass the guests who did not know it was her birthday. I think she used good judgment.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Attends Conference

James E. Cape, representing State Reserve Life Insurance Company of Fort Worth, attended the annual regional teacher conference of the American College of Life Underwriters in Dallas this week. Teachers of community-sponsored Chartered Life Underwriters and ACC courses are invited to take part in the special conference. Cape currently is teaching part IV in the series for Big Spring underwriters.

Fat Man's Ordeal

By KEN HARTNETT

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Herbert A. Cohn was so fat a department store doctor wouldn't let him be Santa Claus.

Once he was refused service at a hot dog stand. "You know, mister, you shouldn't take anything," the waitress said. "You're really not hungry."

His wife nagged him. So did everyone else.

Herb Cohn weighed 376 pounds. "I was told by everyone, even my enemies, to lose weight. That's how bad it was," said Cohn, 43, a Skokie, Ill., businessman.

YOU NEVER KNOW

Today, Herb Cohn weighs 190 pounds. "I was sitting alone in my living room on a Saturday afternoon in October two years ago. I was probably eating. Anyway, I saw an article in the paper. It said if you want to lose weight call this number. I did. I don't know why. You never know why," Cohn said.

The telephone call was the beginning of Cohn's commitment to TOPS Club, Inc., a non-profit organization dedicated to "taking off pounds sensibly."

The organization's 160,000 members count calories collectively in a group therapy approach to obesity.

Cohn had tried dieting before. He had 235 pounds packed on his 5-foot-9 frame when he enrolled at Wabash College before World War II and tried to make his mark as a football player. The coach insisted he lose weight so he dropped to 175 pounds.

SIZE 60 WAIST

"I was a perennial sub after that," Cohn said. "I was too weak to play."

Not long before joining TOPS, Cohn bought a suit with a size 60 waist.

It took him 26 months to lose almost 190 pounds.

"I eliminated bread. I haven't had a potato since I've been on the diet. I haven't had rolls, pie, any rich stuff. All that's gone and I don't miss it," Cohn said.

Since June, Cohn has kept his weight at 190 or less. "I try like a hawk to keep it there," he said. "With the club and the meetings every week, I feel I'm an example. They look up to me."

Oglesby Heads Baptist Group

The Rev. Dan Oglesby, pastor of Midway Baptist Church, will serve as moderator of the Big Spring Baptist Association during this year and through the 59th session next Oct. 16-17. The Rev. Byron Orand, College Baptist pastor, will deliver the annual sermon.

Baptists of the 31 churches in this association ended the year with a report of total contributions of $751,400, according to a composite record by the Rev. J. W. Arnett, Stadium Baptist, clerk. Of this, $117,500 went to mission causes.

The churches had a combined Sunday school enrollment of 7,550, off about 2.5 per cent. Average attendance was 3,610. Training union enrollment was 3,225, average attendance 1,360. Baptisms were 413, off about four per cent. Including baptisms, total additions during the year were 1,203.

Other officers named at the closing session at First Baptist Church Tuesday evening were the Rev. Clyde Campbell, Hill crest, vice-moderator; Rev. Arnett, clerk; Billy T. Smith, treasurer.

Departmental chairmen selected were Glenn Faison, First Baptist, Sunday school; Billy Rudd, East Fourth, vacation Bible school; Milton Thompson, Lenora, training union; J. T. Springer, Lenora, youth; Joe Peay, College Baptist, Brotherhood; Rufus Wilson, Salem, RA; Mrs. Shirley Fryar, Prairie View, WMU; James Stephens, College Baptist, music; James Puckett, Baptist Temple, evangelism; Paris Barton, West Side, stewardship; R. F. Polk, First Baptist, Christian life; Dan Sanford, achievement. The associational achievement went to the Mexican Baptist Church in Big Spring.

Jet Mechanics

Webb's Civilian Personnel office has announced that applications for employment of jet aircraft mechanics are being received at that office. The jobs are in the grade of W-10, with a pay scale of $3.98 per hour. The office pointed out that the employment will be on a temporary basis, probably lasting until June, 1967.

Same Man, 190 Pounds More Or Less

Herbert A. Cohn, 43, of Skokie, Ill., weighed 376 pounds two years ago before he became determined to lose 190 pounds of "ugly fat" and joined a weight reducing club in Skokie. In the left picture, taken by a friend in 1964,

Cohn is wearing pants with a 60-inch waist. At right, weighing in at 190 pounds and wearing pants with a 36-inch waist, he is shown at a luncheon yesterday in Milwaukee. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Laymen Service At First Christian

Laymen's Sunday will be observed this Sunday at the First Christian Church, with Earl Zetsche offering the morning sermon, "Buried Treasures." Assisting in the service will be Gordon Griffin and Joe B. Johnson.

The regular evening service will begin at 7 p.m. with Rev. John Black, pastor, bringing the message, "More Earned."

Laymen's Sunday is an annual observance in the Christian church.

'Rat Patrol' Star Is Mildly Dashed

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Christopher George, co-star of the new television season's only certified hit, "Rat Patrol," flew into New York this week and for the next 24 hours not a single fan had recognized him.

"I think that if I wore that crazy Anzac hat, they might have," said George, only mildly dashed. "A lot of people gave me a second look, as if they thought I looked familiar. Tom Poston was in a restaurant last night and eyed me two or three times with a puzzled manner — then he gave up too."

"Rat Patrol" is currently a controversial property. The Spanish location was chosen because of the weather, and the existence of a mile-square area near Almeria that looks like African desert and contains film facilities built for movie-making.

COSTS SLICED

Production costs too must have entered into the matter. The trade publication Variety estimates that they are between 50 and 60 per cent lower than they would be in Hollywood.

But the production of the series in Spain has caused anguish among the Hollywood studio unions who hate to see any production by American companies get beyond their jurisdiction. In fact, they have been grumbling so loudly that there is a big chance that when "Rat Patrol" shooting is resumed, it may be back in the Southern California desert we see over and over in outdoor shows.

The show has been a critical hit as well as a success in the ratings. It is headed by people who normally make their base in Hollywood — three of the four co-stars, the producer, directors and others. And they fly in guest stars from California. But a large number of the people who work in the unit are Spanish.

MUCH HARDER

George, who fell in love with the beautiful countryside and the stimulation of working in a foreign locale, confessed that in many ways it was much harder than acting at home.

"We were at it six days a week and even on the seventh we were usually rehearsing," he said. "For the first six weeks all of us-American actors were awfully sick from the change of food and water. And, let's face it, we were lonely. That's one reason you work so hard — there's not much else to do."

Tulsa Stores Face Boycott

TULSA (AP) — A group of Tulsans, mostly women, decided Thursday night to issue an ultimatum to seven chain grocery stores to reduce prices by Nov. 1 or face a boycott.

Mrs. Bill Smith, one of the organizers of "citizens for lower prices," said a petition will be circulated and presented to grocers.

The petition calls on Humpty-Dumpty, Thrift-T-Wise, Safeway, Gulf Mart, JGA, Jubilee City and Stockton's to "eliminate part of the markup on their products by reduction of advertising, giveaway contests and stamps in order to give the savings to the consumer."

In Oklahoma City, a group called "Housewives for Lower Food Prices" issued a general invitation to food store executives to meet today and explain why food prices are so high.

America's Sweetheart

Actress Mary Pickford, who seldom leaves Pickfair these days, makes a 1963 charity affair appearance, left. At right, she poses for one of the many publicity pictures taken of her when she was known as "America's Sweetheart." (AP WIREPHOTO)

Mary Pickford Voices Common Complaint

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nowadays Mary Pickford seldom leaves Pickfair, the stately white mansion where she and Douglas Fairbanks once ruled Hollywood society.

She lives there with her third husband, former leading man Buddy Rogers, to whom she is devoted. Now 73, she prefers to have the public remember her as she appeared in her heyday as America's sweetheart, when she was the most popular female star of the silent screen. Yet when she appeared at a luncheon for Princess Margaret last year, she seemed as petite and lovely as ever.

Speaking on the telephone from Pickfair — she declines in-person interviews — she sounded sprightly. What has she been doing?

'HAVING ACCIDENTS'

"Mostly having accidents," she said ruefully. "The first thing I did was to fall down the stairs and smash my ribs. After I got over that, I stooped over and lost my balance. My ankle twisted and I fell and fractured my spine."

"But I'm getting along fine now, and Buddy and I are leaving on the 29th for Hawaii. We'll be gone three weeks, cruising the five islands on the Lurline."

Miss Pickford pooh-poohed a columnist's report that she was desperately ill and was down to 90 pounds.

"I've never weighed less than 98 and most of the time I was 110," said the petite actress. "I always had to worry about my weight. Right now I'm afraid to get on the scales, but I fear I'm around 118."

"The Taming of the Shrew," which she made in 1929 with Fairbanks, is being released next month. How does she feel about the film?

"I was rather pleasantly surprised when I saw it again," she said. "I always thought Douglas was so much better in the film than I was, but my opinion is not so now. I had thought I had done poorly as the Shrew, but then I was always on the conservative side where my work-

ELECTION DAY LOOMS

Adjournment Fever Burns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adjournment fever burns bright on Capitol Hill. Election day is less than three weeks away and it is time, as Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel puts it, to let the members of Congress "hasten to their hearths."

But the trouble with this year's adjournment rush is that politics, of the most mundane variety, keeps getting in the way. It's enough to make a congressman, eager to campaign for a return ticket to the Hill, a bit schizophrenic.

Like whether a dam-created lake on the Alabama-Georgia border should be named after the town of Eufaula, Ala.

Or whether the Indians back home should get $260,000 from the federal government for law enforcement on their reservation.

And saying goodbye to colleagues who have decided to retire — or been retired by the voters.

TWINKLING OF AN EYE

All this takes time and talk, with the result that serious legislation which is the result of years of consideration is passed in the twinkling of an eye — while minor bills touch off ponderous debate.

Here before the House was the annual authorization for rivers and harbors projects. As approved by the Public Works Committee it would give names to nine sites.

"Lake Eufaula," previously nameless, would be one. But not if Rep. Maston E. O'Neal Jr. could help it.

Democrat O'Neal comes from Georgia and Eufaula is in Alabama.

SAME NAME

"No doubt," he told the House, "the city of Eufaula, Ala., would assume unwarranted promotional benefits from a lake with the same name."

"The cities of Fort Gaines and Georgetown on the Georgia side of the lake are justifiably concerned about this undue recognition."

Besides O'Neal noted, there already is a Lake Eufaula in Oklahoma.

Better the Alabama-Georgia lake remain nameless, he said, "until the states of Alabama and Georgia can agree on a mutually acceptable name."

He so moved. And he wasn't swayed by Rep. Glenn Andrews who pointed out there is an Auburn, N.Y., as well as an Auburn, Ala.

Andrews, a Republican, is from Alabama.

To a vote went O'Neal's amendment Wednesday night. He lost, 25-4.

RIVERS BILL

But Thursday the Senate passed its own rivers and harbors authorization. It had no name changes in it. And the House went ahead and passed the bill, too.

The lake will be anonymous for a while.

The Democratic leader is from Montana.

the queen was successfully fished.

Trumps were drawn with two more pulls. Three rounds of diamonds were cashed followed by the ace of hearts. South completed his stripping operations in the red suits by exiting with a heart. West was in with the king and the forced return of a club into declarer's ace-queen eliminated the latter's remaining concern and South claimed his contract — having lost but one heart trick.

At the other table, declarer began by drawing three rounds of trumps on which East discarded the three of diamonds and the five of clubs, to indicate a lack of interest in either suit. Next came the three top diamonds. When South finally got around to leading a heart, West was fully tuned in on his opponent's intentions.

It was clear to West that if he adopted a passive course, South would take the heart finesse and then throw him in on the third round. East's discouraging discard in clubs provided a clear-cut indication the declarer held both the ace and queen of that suit. Desperate measures were in order therefore if West was to avoid a fatal end play.

When the four of hearts was led, West played the jack. North covered with the queen which won the trick. The ace was cashed next and West completed his unblocking maneuver by dropping the king. On the next lead East put up the ten of hearts and his partner was able to underplay with the nine, which he had carefully preserved. A club return by East assured West of scoring the setting trick with the king.

In order to put something over on the defense, a declarer must make his move early in the play—before his opponents have an opportunity to anticipate the course of events. An apt illustration of this principle is provided in our current offering, taken from a recent team of four match.

A contract of six spades was reached at both tables on the sequence of bids given in the diagram. Altho, the respective declarers, seated South, adopted the same basic plan of a campaign, their psychology and timing were poles apart.

West feared that a lead away from one of his tenaces might cost him a trick. He, therefore, adopted a passive course by opening a trump. At one table, South won the trick in his hand and promptly led a small heart. West followed with the nine and

IN RUBY REVERSAL

Dallas DA Claims Court Made Errors

AUSTIN (AP) — The Dallas district attorney's office says the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals made four errors in its Oct. 5 reversal of Jack Ruby's death-sentence conviction for the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, Oswald was identified by the Warren Commission as President Kennedy's assassin.

The appellate court reversed the conviction on the grounds the trial court should not have allowed police testimony on Ruby's confession of premeditation and should have transferred the case to another county for trial.

FOUR ERRORS LISTED

Henry Wade, Dallas criminal district attorney, said in a motion for rehearing filed Thursday that the court erred in:

- (1) Throwing out police testimony on Ruby's oral confession.
- (2) "Permitting and condoning" defense counsel after the Oct. 5 decision to "brainwash" prospective jurors in any new trial into believing the state can get only a murder-without-malice conviction with the police testimony.
- (3) Ordering any new trial to be held in a county other than Dallas when it has not been shown that the alleged prejudicial conditions that existed in Dallas during the March, 1964, trial exist today.
- (4) Holding Ruby did not receive a fair trial because of prejudice.

Ruby's attorneys elicited testimony on statements he made to police that the shooting of Oswald was not premeditated, Wade said in the motion.

CONFESSION OUT

The high court threw out the oral confession because it was made while Ruby was in police custody and it was not spontaneous, coming "at least 10 minutes" after the shooting.

Wade said there is an established exception to this rule and that is when the defendant himself offers evidence such as statements made by Ruby to police tending to show no premeditation. In that kind of case, Wade said, the state has a statutory right to introduce any other declarations made by Ruby which are necessary to "fully understand or explain" the declarations Ruby introduced.

On point No. 2, Wade said Joe Tonahill of Jasper, Tex., and Phil Burleson of Dallas told news media after the high court's decision that the state could get only a murder-without-malice conviction now and this was prejudicial to the state's case.

LATER FIRED

Tonahill was one of Ruby's lawyers at the trial. He was later fired. Burleson is Ruby's chief attorney now.

Wade said the court "should attempt to prevent further extra-judicial statements" and "should attempt to alleviate the unfair and prejudicial publicity already given to the above set out extrajudicial statements."

On point No. 3, Wade said the high court has "usurped" the jurisdiction of the trial court, which should be the one to determine if any alleged prejudicial conditions against Ruby "still exist in 1966 or 1967 in Dallas County . . ."

On the final point, Wade said the high court "has obviously shirked from its duty" to set out "in intelligible language" the similarity between the Ruby case and the Billie Sol Estes and Dr. Samuel Sheppard cases, which the court said were controlling.

NEWS COVERAGE

Estes was convicted of fraud in Tyler, Tex. Sheppard was convicted of murdering his wife in Cleveland, Ohio. The U. S. Supreme Court reversed both cases because of excessive news coverage.

Wade argued the publicity was favorable rather than prejudicial to Ruby and was not like the Estes or Sheppard cases at all.

Ruby was being tried for killing the assassin of President Kennedy, Wade said, and the defense tried to capitalize on this, emotionally appealing to the jury not to convict Ruby "merely because he killed a Communist who had killed President Kennedy by shooting him in the back."

Absentee Votes Are Coming In

Forty-four electors have cast absentee votes in the first two days this type of voting has been possible. Twenty-four of these were ballots requested by mail—a large number being sent to men and women who are overseas. Twenty others are local residents who expect to be out of the county on Nov. 8. Deadline for absentee voting expires on Nov. 4.

Viet War Costs Top LBJ's Guess

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Nam war is costing more than President Johnson estimated last January.

Treasury Department figures showed Thursday that costs during July, August and September were 10 per cent above the President's earlier projections and hit an annual rate of almost $63 billion.

The annual rate was $1.7 billion higher than an annual rate announced only a week ago by the Commerce Department.

TEXANS AT WAR

Beserk GI Costs Leg

By The Associated Press
Spec. 4 Ismael Benavides, a Texan at war, jumped into a foxhole when his unit was ambushed on a mission in South Viet Nam near the Cambodian border.

While the firing continued from the enemy, a U.S. Cavalry man behind Benavides went berserk.

"He just started shooting everywhere," said Benavides, 22, of Fort Stockton. "I got hit with an M16 automatic rifle slug in the left leg and the right kneecap."

SLUG RIPS ARM
Another slug tore into his arm and he almost bled to death before reaching a hospital where doctors took off his left leg.

Now in a wheelchair at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Benavides believes he was "pretty lucky" to come out of the incident alive.

"A lot of guys get shot like that," said Benavides, who spent six months in Viet Nam with the U.S. First Cavalry.

"It's a pretty tough war. If the enemy doesn't get you, one of your own will. I went on a lot of missions where U.S. helicopter gunners hit us."

The foxhole incident was the second time Benavides was shot. The first time, he killed the enemy fighter who wounded him.

"I was crawling out of a rice paddy and I came head to head with a Viet Cong. He fired automatically but I just got a flesh wound."

Living Costs Continue Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living is still going up — but this time it is not food that's responsible.

The Labor Department said Thursday that its consumer price index rose three-tenths of 1 per cent during September, thanks primarily to higher clothing prices.

The index hit a record 114.1 per cent. That means it cost $11.41 in September for the same goods and services which cost $10 about eight years ago.

Costs during September were 3.5 per cent higher than a year ago and officials said the trend is expected to continue the rest of the year.

The price of food for home use declined three-tenths of 1 per cent but restaurant meals were up slightly. Fresh fruits and vegetables dropped 7.5 per cent from the previous month but dairy products, flour, bakery goods, eggs and most beef and pork increased in price.

Clothes cost 1.4 per cent more, twice the usual September rise. Women's coats, dresses and skirts led the advance.

Housing, due mostly to higher mortgage interest rates, and medical costs also were up during September.

Rockefeller Driving Hard For Comeback

By REILMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — The crowds are sizable and on the whole friendly. Their questions to him are often searching but seldom hostile. The polls are pointing upward, his aides say.

All of which indicates that Nelson A. Rockefeller, 58, is making a comeback in his bid for a third term as governor of New York — after having frankly acknowledged "my biggest blunder" and seeing his political stock plunge to an all time low.

Rockefeller says he is still the underdog in the race against his Democratic rival, Frank D. O'Connor. He adds, "It's a tough fight, but we're moving now."

Along his campaign trail — A labor union official informs Rockefeller that the union is endorsing him and says, "Your record of accomplishment merits — no, demands — that we take this action." At this stage, 27 unions with a membership of about 860,000 have endorsed the governor, probably a record for a GOP candidate in a statewide New York election.

The incidents multiply as Rockefeller, driving hard — and obviously relishing the campaign — batters at the roadblocks on the way to another four-year term in Albany, the state capital.

DEMO MARGIN
The principal ones are: 1. An attractive Democratic candidate, Frank Daniel O'Connor, 56, president of the New York City Council. O'Connor is trim, has a lean profile, greenish-blue eyes and wavy hair flecked with gray. In manner, he is friendly and relaxed and the Irish wit is effortless. But in making a speech he turns incisive and forceful as a trial lawyer, which he was: district attorney of Queens County for 11 years.

2. A Democratic margin of 876,000 over the Republicans in registration. New York City, heavily Democratic, accounts for about 40 per cent of the statewide vote. "I'm concerned about getting out the vote," Rockefeller says.

Last Tuesday, O'Connor's lieutenants around the state dramatized the fourth anniversary of what he calls Rockefeller's "billion-dollar blunder." A pagoda-like cake with five tiers appeared in O'Connor's New York City headquarters and he called on spectators to sing, "Unhappy birthday to you — unhappy birthday, dear taxpayer, unhappy birthday to you."

HCJC Builds Considerable Assets In First 20 Years

In its first 20 years, Howard County Junior College has grown into an institution with assets of $3,233,515.

It owes a total of $1,600,000 in tax ($1,090,000) and revenue ($510,000) bonds, and other pending obligations run liabilities to $1,626,910. This would indicate an equity of $1,096,605 the college has accumulated in that space of time.

These are but a few of the wealth of facts contained in the annual HCJC audit received recently by the college board from Neil G. Hilliard, CPA, who has audited the college books for several years.

Land, buildings and equipment are shown at $2,378,261. Other principal assets are $174,574 cash on hand and in banks, $385,000 time certificates on deposit (this is from sale of bonds for building now underway), $54,466 receivable in delinquent taxes, $19,368 book store inventory, and $19,889 due from other funds.

RECEIPTS NEARLY $900,000
During the past fiscal year (ended Aug. 31, 1966), the college had receipts of $899,650. The bulk of this came from local taxes ($345,695), state payments ($251,970), and tuition and fees ($119,620). Other major items of revenue include interest $18,031, dormitory rental $29,851, food charges $54,788, book store sales $52,574, and student use fees $10,773.

The disbursements went like this: Instructional expense $354,551, general and administrative $44,427, general operating $42,664, public service $3,643, library $29,301, plant and ground maintenance $80,595, auxiliary activities $32,630, dormitory expense (exclusive of debt service) $13,993, food costs $50,286, book store purchases $43,630, bonds retired $64,000, bond interest $47,372, capital outlay $11,936.

The tax bond obligation, including interest, to maturity will be $1,387,379, and the revenue bond obligation (payable solely out of revenues generated by the student housing system) will be $785,590.

SPECIAL FUNDS
The college has a number of other special funds, among them the National Defense Student Loan Fund. Last year it had $4,115 grant from the federal government, $487 from the college, plus $1,784 repayment of principal and interest by students who had borrowed from it. Loans to students amounted to $9,475, which meant that it put out $3,117 more than it took in. At the end of the year the fund had $4,458 on hand and $48,596 receivable from loans ($2,875 cancelled for those who go into teaching, and $5,318 repaid). A dozen other extra accounts, carried as the special accounts fund, had a total of $18,466 in them. These included student deposits, other scholarship funds, automotive mechanics, LVN fees, police school, etc.

The school also had $77,276 in federal and state supported projects such as auto mechanics, auto body, cooking school, work-study programs, etc.

HIGH COLLECTIONS
One interesting table in the audit report shows tax collections over the past decade. These amounted to $256,409 in 1957 and $338,225 in 1966. The average annual collection has been well above 96 per cent. The amount of delinquent taxes outstanding was $41,045 in 1957 and in the ensuing 10 years rose only to $54,466.

Church Report Best-Seller

LONDON (AP) — A church report on sex and Christian morality soared into the best-seller class in Britain today. The publishers ordered a fourth printing of 20,000 copies.

The report, put on the bookshelves on Tuesday, sold out the entire first printing on the first day.

This controversial report was prepared for the British Council of Churches by a 13-man working party directed to produce a code of ethics on sex and Christian morality. The report said that under certain circumstances it was difficult to condemn sex outside of marriage, contraception or masturbation. Numerous clergymen and church groups have attacked it.

Communications Group To Open Fall Meet Today

Over 50 members of the West Texas Communications Association are expected here for the autumn meeting of the organization Friday.

Local law enforcement members of the association are sponsoring the meeting. Some 50 local merchants have provided door prizes. In addition to those who operate radio equipment in law enforcement work, are visiting chiefs of police. Mayor Arnold Marshall will welcome the visitors.

Students in the Southwestern Law Enforcement Academy will be guests of the association at the banquet tonight at the Ramada Inn, where all sessions of the meeting will be held.

Buffaloes Eye Comeback In 7:30 Game At Home

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffaloes, shaken by a 40-0 conference defeat at the hands of Trent last week, try to climb off the match in a 7:30 4-B contest with the Jayton Jaybirds.

Coach Oscar Boeker has been making some adjustments in his lineup in a bid to strengthen the club. He'll suit out 28 boys tonight. One of those who won't be on hand is second string rover Robert Rodman, who suffered a broken collar bone in practice earlier this week.

Sonny Arthur is the Jayton coach. The Jaybirds, like Forsan up from the eight-man ranks, was picked to finish last in the eight-team league and hasn't done much to enhance that position. The Birds have won only once this season.

Probable starters for Forsan: LE—Ray McKinnon; LT—Gayland Reed; LG—Randy Banks (who has been moved from tackle); C—Dennis Dunagan; RG—Tommy Girdner or Freddy Willis; RT—Tommy Kirkpatrick; RE—Steve Park; QB—Jack Ellis or Clayton McKinnon; LHB—Larry Callihan; FB—Clayton McKinnon or Ellis; RHB—Johnny Dolan or Alex Moreno.

Yanks Defeat Red Athletes

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's Little Olympics have come to a close with the United States edging Russia in the unofficial standings of gold medals. The American athletes wound up with 22 first places while the Soviet Union compiled 21 gold awards.

The Americans equaled a pair of Olympic track and field records Thursday in the windup of the nine-day competition in such diversified sports as bicycle racing and canoeing.

Bob Seagren of Los Angeles won the pole vault in 16-8 1/2, to tie the Olympic record held by fellow American Fred Hansen. Seagren, however, has vaulted as high as 17-3 1/2 before.

Tommy Smith, of San Jose, Calif., the world record holder in the 200-meter dash, matched the Olympic mark of 20.3, just one-tenth of a second slower than his world standard.

Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., the U.S. indoor one-mile record holder, failed to finish the 1,500-meter event, won by Bodo Tummeler of West Germany. Grelle, apparently exhausted, would not comment as to his dropping out.

West Germany ended up with two gold medals in the last round of track and field. Russia, Hungary, Poland, Cuba, Colombia and Spain won one medal each in track and field Thursday.

An athlete from France captured the modern pentathlon and Denmark and Czechoslovakia won cycling gold medals on the final day. In boxing, Mexico accounted for 3 1/2 golds, Cuba and Russia won two each and Poland captured 1 1/2 on the last day of competition.

The Russians dominated the wrestling finals with three gold medals. Hungary, West Germany and Romania took one apiece.

Grand Tournament Will Be Resumed

It's not too late for Big Spring Golf association members to enter the Grand tournament.

The 36-hole meet will be resumed Saturday and will be concluded Sunday at the Mundy course. Entries are shooting for merchandise prizes valued at $275.

Those BSGA affiliates who have not taken part in the required five tournament this year can play by paying $2 for each of the meets they missed.

An association champion will be determined in the meet.

Bolt Team Leads Carlsbad Play

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP)—Tommy Bolt and Jo Ann Prentice carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $60,000 Haig Scotch Mixed Golf Championship.

Bolt, of Sarasota, Fla., and Miss Prentice, of Pensacola, Fla., combined for a 68 Thursday on the par 36-36-72 La Costa Country Club course by firing six birdies and two bogeys.

In second place for the 72-hole event were teams of Tommy Jacobs-Sandra Haynie, Don Cherry-Donna Caponi and Jack Rule-Sandra Spuzich.

Despite a hole-in-one on the 135-yard water hole 16th by Ruth Jensen, she and Gardner Dickinson, defending champions in the event, faltered to a 74. However, her ace was worth a $1,000 bonus.

HC Clinic Slated All Day Saturday

High school coaches from all over the area will converge upon Big Spring Saturday to attend the third annual Region VI-B basketball and volleyball clinic at Howard County Junior College.

The morning session, devoted to basketball, will start at 8 a.m. and continue until 12 noon. The volleyball session will be from 1:15 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Outstanding personnel in both sports will be on hand to lecture and offer demonstrations and interpretation of the latest rules.

Two exhibition girls' basketball games in the college gymnasium will climax the school. The first game pits the Sundown Roughettes, third in Class A in the state last year, against Sands and starts at 7:30 p.m. The second one, down for 9 o'clock, will send Flower Grove against Garden City.

No admission will be charged for the clinic but charges of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students will be exacted at the basketball twin bill.

Among instructors in the basketball clinic will be D. E. (Buddy) Travis, HCJC coach; Don McDonald, Big Spring High School coach; C. E. Womack, Hawley; Ralph Newton, Trent; and Pete Cook, Big Spring.

In the volleyball session, the instructors will be Jim Gilbert of the Big Spring YMCA; Gene Chambliss, Dallas, member of the USVBA executive committee; Lou Sara Clark and Smitty Duke, both of Dallas and both outstanding players; Mrs. Pat McChesney, Abilene, certified regional official for the USVBA; and Marilyn McReavy, Big Lake, former HCJC star.

Anna Smith, head of the Women's physical education department at the local college, is director of the school, which is likely to attract a regular entry list.

Ponies Await Eagle Raid

ACKERLY — The Sands Mustangs come up to their biggest eight-man football test of the season, a 7:30 o'clock District 9-B engagement here with Sterling City tonight, with an unbeaten but once-tied record.

The Mustangs, coached by James Blake, aren't in peak condition. Some of the Ponies have been ailing with the flu. However, most of the regulars will be available.

Sterling is 2-2-1. The losses have been to Wall, 26-8, and Forsan, 8-6. The Eagles have beaten Loraine, 2-0, and Christoval, 48-25, and tied Miles, 12-12.

Wayland Foster, the Sterling quarterback, is the team's speed merchant and a tough man to contain.

Probable starters:

STERLING CITY

- E—Frank Price 160 and Collins Douthett 175; G—Jerry Curvington 155 and John Copeland 160; C—Randy Milton 120; QB—Wayland Foster 150 or Phil Cole 140; HB—Alex Sedillo 130 and Gary Foster 140.

SANDS

- E—Leon Russell 160 and Kenneth Gillespie 151; G—Bobby Hembrick 160 and Marvin Small 144 or Larry Ooks 145; C—Jim Fryer 160; QB—Lance Hooper 132; HB—Alfonso Calvia 141 and Marvin Beal 205.

Banner Crowd To Watch Tilt

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas and Rice, two hard luck teams each sparked by sensational sophomore quarterbacks, meet Saturday night in a key Southwest Conference game that will draw a near-capacity 70,000. Texas is favored by one touchdown.

Texas has 19-year-old Super-Bill Bradley at the helm. He has been hampered all season by injuries and last Tuesday hurt his shoulder, but he is expected to start. Rice's Robby Shelton, who turned 20 on Thursday, is in sound shape.

Each team goes into the game after two successive, heart-breaking defeats. Texas lost to Oklahoma 18-9 and to Arkansas 12-7.

Rice's experience has been even more harrowing. Leading unbeaten, third-ranked UCLA by eight points with three minutes and 11 seconds left to play, Rice finally bowed 27-21. Then last Saturday, after leading or being all even most of the way, Rice lost to SMU 28-24.

This has been a hard year for Texas, which started the season with high hopes, mostly centered on Bradley. Southern California, however, won the opener and from then on Texas has had nothing but trouble. At one point 10 starters were sidelined by injuries, and even now seven are out of action.

"The injuries are the worst I have seen in 15 years," says saddened coach Darrell Royal. "I keep saying we can't go on losing people and still patch up each week, but we keep on doing it."

Latest on the long list is Gregg Lott, the Texas wingback, who hurt his right knee in the Arkansas game, was operated on Tuesday, and is out for the season. Jim Helms has been moved up to Lott's place.

The kickoff is at 7:30 p.m. CST.

Goliad's 8th Is Defeated

Sweetwater outlasted Big Spring Goliad, 8-6, in an eighth grade contest here Thursday evening.

Phillip Ferguson went over on a 40-yard run in the second period for Goliad's only touchdown.

In the third, Sweetwater drove 80 yards for the tying TD and then added the two extra points on a run.

Ferguson, Walt Campbell, Jack Crane, Howard Stewart, Sammy Rich, David Englert, Ray Ward and Larry Vasquez were among those who stood out for Goliad. The Maverick blocking was particularly good.

Goliad twice drove to the shadow of the Sweetwater goal post but could go in. The Mavs, now 0-4-2, go to San Angelo Edison for a 7 p.m. contest Tuesday.

'Dogs On Road

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs jump from the frying pan into the fire tonight when they take on Tahoka in a District 5-A game at 7:30 in Tahoka.

The Bulldogs were dropped by Plains, 23-8, last Friday. Now they're playing the pre-season favorite to cop the championship and a team that has won all its starts this season.

Don Smith, the Tahoka coach, built his club around 11 returning lettermen. The Bulldogs have beaten Lorenzo, Crosbyton, Idalou, Slaton, Post and Kress in that order—all non-conference foes.

Eight of Tahoka's starters were also on the first team in 1965. However, one of those, halfback Cliff Thomas, will not play tonight due to injuries.

Mitchell Williams will be at the controls for Tahoka tonight and will match his strategy against that of Troy Fraser of Coahoma.

End Jay Doug Ingram of Coahoma will miss tonight's contest, due to torn ligaments in his knee. He'll be replaced by sophomore Gaylor Williams, who weighs less than 140 pounds.

Coach Bernie Hagins said his team had its best workout of the year earlier this week and was looking forward to tangling with the Tahoka team.

The Bulldogs will carry a 2-4 won-lost record north with them. They have beaten Roscoe and Wink while losing to Colorado City, Merkel, Brady and Plains.

Probable starters:

TAHOKA BULLDOGS

- E—Wayne Thurmon 160 and Chris Roberts 150; T—Tommy Kibwell 183 and Jody Edwards 175; G—Milt Edwards 215 and Richard White 180; C—Gary Brooks 180; QB—Milt Williams 165; HB—Doyle Schneider 152 and Tim Walker 137; FB—Lorry Arns 164.

COAHOMA BULLDOGS

- E—Gaylor Williams 135 and Lynn King 151; T—Robert Wim 164 and R. L. Coates 152; G—Carl Dorton 172 and Don Gilmore 144; C—Eddie Reed 145; QB—Troy Fraser 157; HB—Ken Gregory 128 and Terry Denton 175; FB—Chuck Phirigo 176.

Lillis Now Coach

HOUSTON (AP) — Infielder Bob Lillis, 36, a veteran of nine seasons of major league action, was named a coach for the Houston Astros baseball club Thursday.

Expanded Base Activity Causes Housing Pinch

Operations at Webb AFB are growing, and even greater expansion of training is anticipated for the immediate future. The impact of those widened fields of operations means much to the economy of Big Spring and its people.

B.S. Native Dies In Dallas

For the second time this month, a member of the Theo Jones family, pioneer Big Spring settler, has died.

Mrs. A. B. Chambers, 79, who was married to Theo Jones, died Sunday in Dallas, where she had made her home at 5620 Anita and where she had been active in club and church affairs.

On Oct. 5, Roy T. Jones, 63, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Theo Jones, died in Minneapolis, Minn., where he was district sales manager of Armstrong Floors.

In the early days of Big Spring, the Theo Jones family had figured prominently in developments. Mr. Jones owned one of the first meat markets, also a tin shop for years, then operated the Rocky Ford Dairy for many more years.

Expensive Pileup Follows Collision

Five cars were damaged more than an estimated $1,000 in a traffic mishap at Fourth and Rannels late Thursday.

Cars in collision were driven by Larry Dennis Blankenship, Midland, and Helen Young, Hillside Trailer Park. Three parked cars also were involved in the wreck. These belonged to C. L. Daniel, Gail Route; Rex Hammack, 2204 Warren; and Louise Small, 904 E. 12th.

Black-Eyed Pea Crop Disappears

SEMINOLE, Tex. (AP) — All 500 acres of D. L. Pemberton's black-eyed peas — which were ready for harvest this week — have disappeared from his farm in a remote area in West Texas.

Pemberton said the crop, valued at about $30,000, wasn't there when he drove to the farm Wednesday.

Sheriff Alton Montgomery said it looked as if a harvester crew had done the job.

Two Guilty Pleas

STANTON — Two pleas of guilty were accepted in 118th District Court here on Thursday afternoon. Judge Ralph Cantton sentenced Homer Van Zandt to two years, probated, when Van Zandt pleaded guilty to a charge of DWI second offense. Lloyd W. Allen, charged with forgery and passing a forced instrument, was given a two-year probated sentence. Wayne Burns, district attorney, appeared for the state.

Candidates Quote Opposing Camps

By The Associated Press
The Republican and Democratic candidates for the U.S. Senate—John Tower and Waggoner Carr—moved into the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area Thursday with both quoting statements from opposing camps.
Waving a copy of a national magazine at Fort Worth, Carr said "Here we have a magazine published by a Republican. And what do we find in this magazine? We find that the Republican candidate for the governor of Connecticut is complaining because Republicans in little old Connecticut are sending their money to men like John Tower and Ronald Regan instead of helping him."
Carr asked whether Tower will still deny that his campaign is getting "hundreds of thousands of dollars" from Republicans in other states "who want to tell Texans who to send to Washington."
GIANT CHOICE
At Mesquite, Tower said the senate race is "a choice between promise and performance, between demagoguery and dedication, between independence and ineffectiveness."

The Republican incumbent characterized himself as "a strong, independent Senate voice for the people of Texas" and his Democratic opponent as "a professional candidate of whom it was said this week by one of his own political managers: 'We can use him as a tool.'"
Tower later said he was quoting State Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, who earlier this week had urged liberal Democrats to support all of the party's candidates in the Nov. 8 general election.
Both candidates were to start today's campaigning in Fort Worth where Carr had scheduled a breakfast with business leaders and Tower was to address a mid-morning session of a credit association in the same hotel.
ODESSA SPEECH
Tower planned a noon speech in Odessa and then was to go to Kermit for the Viet Nam Veterans Day celebration. He planned to be in San Antonio for the Press Club Gridiron Dinner there tonight.
Carr scheduled a stop in Richland Hills before a luncheon speech in Dallas. He planned to return to Fort Worth for meetings with campaign workers before going to Austin for the night.
Gov. John Connally, seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket, was in Bonham Thursday to help dedicate the remodeled Fannin County courthouse. During his speech he urged his audience to vote Nov. 8 and to protect local units of government from the expansion of federal power.
"Every day there is paid more and more attention to what is happening on the banks of the Potomac and the federal government broadens its efforts in more new fields."
"We are going to see that local government remains vital and responsible to the people," he said.

Barbs, Jeers Still Sting 'Poor Hubert'

WASHINGTON (AP) — As a political pro, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has developed a thick skin. But he acknowledges some of his critics' barbs and jeers still hurt.
Yet he asks with some scorn, "What do they say poor Hubert for? I'm happy."
There are many who think he has reason not to be — that his own political future and ambitions are being crushed under the shadows of President Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.
Humphrey obviously listens for challengers' footsteps, watches for political portents and candidly admits "some times I'm heartbroken" by criticism he regards as unfair or wrong.
"EASE UP"
But as for a future strategy, defensive or offensive, Humphrey insisted in an interview, "I have not really thought very much about this."
And further, he said, "The best things my friends can do is ease up."
Humphrey even seems to find a measure of security in what others would view as something less than long term insurance, saying: "I'm going to be vice president, God willing, until January 1969."
"By the time I leave this office," he added, "it's going to be more important than when I came in. That's my goal."
"JUST AROUND"
With the President in the Far East, Humphrey is "telescoping" his campaign schedule for fellow Democrats into long weekends while he spends the rest of the time around Washington minding the store.
Today he jets off for one of the long weekends that will take him to Democratic rallies, dinners and news conferences in Nebraska, Colorado, Utah, Kansas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois. He returns to Washington Monday evening.
While minding the administration store in the boss's absence, Humphrey is not trying to run it.
"I'm not president, I'm not acting president, I'm the vice president," said Humphrey.
What he is doing, said the vice president, "is just being around if I'm needed — not sticking my nose in."

NY Mourns Its Heroes

NEW YORK (AP) — A rare solemnity hushed Fifth Avenue today as 10 black-draped fire trucks carried the bodies of 10 dead firemen to a final tribute reserved for those men who give their lives in the line of duty.
Twelve firemen perished last Monday night when the floor of a blazing building collapsed, burying them.
The grim procession today bore the bodies before at least 15,000 firemen and police from across the United States and Canada and past many New Yorkers who paused to pay silent tribute.
With muffled bells tolling the engines rolled to St. Patrick's Cathedral and to St. Thomas Episcopal Church where the families of the fallen men waited. The men were to be buried with full departmental honors.
"SADDEST DAY"
Mayor John V. Lindsay called this "the saddest day since I've been mayor. The city dofs its hat with heavy heart." He marched with New York Fire Commissioner Robert O. Lowery in the grim procession.
Behind them came an honor guard of firemen, a phalanx of muffled drums and then the fire engines.

TRADITIONAL SIGNAL
As the funeral services begin, all fire apparatus will be placed on display in front of the city's 300 fire houses. Fire alarm bells will then sound "four-fives," the traditional signal indicating death of a member of the department.
Francis Cardinal Spellman will offer a pontifical Requiem Mass for six of the men, while the Rt. Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, Episcopal bishop of New York, is to perform the Protestant ceremony.
DELEGATION
Cardinal Spellman said Thursday he had received a message from Pope Paul VI expressing grief at the tragic deaths and asking him "to convey his profound condolences and apostolic blessing to the bereaved families."
Services for the two other victims will be held separately in Westbury and Valley Stream, two suburban Long Island communities.
Other cities sending fire delegations include: Ottawa, Montreal, Detroit, Baltimore, Boston, Philadelphia, Scranton, Pa., Hartford, Conn., and Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, N.Y.

Two Shows Axed

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co. will drop the hour-long Shane and Hawk television series in December, an ABC spokesman said today.
The network has axed the two series because of low ratings. The Shane series, which aired from 1955 to 1960, was canceled after its 11th season. The Hawk series, which aired from 1955 to 1960, was canceled after its 11th season.

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co. will drop the hour-long Shane and Hawk television series in December, an ABC spokesman said today.

Branco Shuts Down Congress

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — President Humberto Castello Branco ran Brazil unchecked today after shutting down Congress for a month and taking complete control of the country.
He told the nation in a radio broadcast Thursday night that he ordered the congressional recess "after exhausting all resources of persuasion and harmony."
The military strong man had been battling dissident congressmen for a week over a presidential decree unseating six of them.
The president of the Chamber of Deputies, Adauto Lucio Cardoso, refused to recognize the decree unless Congress approved it, and five of the six deputies — members of the opposition Democratic movement — took up residence in the Congress and participated in its debates.
Troops in battle dress surrounded the Congress building in Brasilia, and two hours later Cardoso had ordered an involuntary recess until Nov. 22, a week after the Nov. 15 congressional elections.

FBI Nabs Novelist
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ken Kesey, best-selling novelist who jumped bail twice in narcotics cases, has been arrested by FBI agents, whom he has repeatedly taunted via television and the press.
Five agents, en route to their homes on the San Francisco peninsula, spotted the author of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" riding south Thursday on Bayshore freeway in a red truck.
As they forced the truck to stop, Kesey, 31, vaulted a fence, ran to a housing project and through a group of children playing baseball. Then he stopped and surrendered.
Kesey once was quoted by a newspaper as saying he intended to remain as "a fugitive and as salt in J. Edgar Hoover's wounds," referring to the FBI chief.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast For Tomorrow By Carroll Righter
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when your most unusual capabilities can be brought into play and when you can bring into play those ideas which fascinate you but which you have not been able to express for some time past. The most original and progressive plans that authorities can conceive can have a very good chance of being realized now.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Some special social meeting is fine to attend today, since you can be introduced to individuals who are interested in what ever is closest to your heart and mind. You owe it to your host, hostess, anyway, to outshine, charming.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Get busy in the outside world of activity and assist others with their big plans, and thus you increase own productivity, abundance. Don't neglect civic work. This gives you a chance to display fine talents.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Use orthodox methods even though you are not engaged in some new interest that is very modern. Development can be considerable, provided you are interested by what is alien to you. Get right into the groove.
CANCER CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Use your intuition as well as get the advice of authorities in any field in which you are particularly interested. Some fine opportunity will pay better dividends if you credit a better day or act. Please note first.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Alliance with persons who think along very modern lines is very good for you and you can plan now for long-time execution. Reach perfect agreement. Then out to the finest sort of recreation possible.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Why not buy mechanisms that will make your daily work more efficient? These need not be very expensive necessarily. Be more cooperative with fellow workers thus exchanging good ideas, making great progress.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) An ideal day for bringing talents to the attention of right persons as well as for having a delightful time. Your hobbies need perfecting. Schedule your time so that you get all done in fine sequence.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Ideal day for putting house in order and establishing greater harmony with kin dwelling therein. Making some condition of worth to home is wise. This will impress your good friends favorably.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are thinking very clearly and can understand who others desire in you more readily, get routine work done in a jiffy. Telephone those you admire or get out to see them. Plan the future more intelligently.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) There are excellent opportunities for you in your particular field of endeavor which will soon give you the abundance you desire. Pick out the best. Clever persons in business give worthwhile ideas.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Doing what you personally like to do is the best way to get ahead today, both in a business and social way. Don't permit others to push you around. Buy new garments that are very attractive to you.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) This is the right day to get rid of business and whatever is obsolete and make more modern additions, find more charming companions, etc. Ally yourself with experts. Show gratitude for their help.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he or she will be one of those very active youngsters who likes being with others most of the time and has an almost uncanny way of knowing what that other person can do best. Teach to be a little more diplomatic in dealing with others. Then the chart is ideal for work with the public in general. In personal work, teaching, writing, etc. Give finest education you can afford.
