Conversation After Resignation

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, left, listens to Deputy Chancellor Erich Mende in Bonn today after Mende and three other ministers announced their resignations from Erhard's West German government. The resignations came about in a fight over the budget, hurried by pledges to buy arms in the United States. In addition to being deputy chancellor, Mende was minister for All-German affairs. Four Ministers Resign From Erhard's Cabinet

BONN, Germany (AP) — Four ministers quit Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's shaky West German Cabinet today, refusing to approve higher taxes sought by the opposition Socialists.

The opposition Socialists immediately predicted that Erhard himself would be forced out.

The resignations were decided by the Bundestag members of the Free Democratic party. All four belong to this group.

Herbert Wener, deputy chairman of the Socialists, issued a statement saying a change in chancellors is long overdue. He added that his own party does not exist to fill up gaps — an indication that it will try to get a maximum price if asked to enter a coalition government for the first time since the early 1930s.

Many Christian Democrats favor such a "grand coalition" of the Socialists and Erhard's Christian Democrats, instead of the "little coalition" to which the resigned ministers belong.

The Free Democrats are members of a comparatively small party, but hold the balance of power in the Bundestag. Without them, Erhard has no majority to pass his bills.

They have been opposing any increase of taxes, urging that the budget be balanced by cutting expenditure and eliminating some tax exemptions. The Christian Democrats have been saying quietly that there is no alternative to raising taxes.

The decision was taken at a closed-door meeting of the Free Democrats' Bundestag membership. The party has 49 voting members in the 496-seat Bundestag.

Resignation of the Free Democrats brought the possibility that Erhard might be forced to quit. He has been under heavy fire, not only because of the budget, but on account of trou-

Explosion Kills Tuscola Woman

ABILENE (AP) — An explosion demolished a small frame house in south Taylor County today, killing a woman and seriously injuring her husband.

Killed was Mrs. Lamar Wiggins of Rt. 1, Tuscola. Her husband was taken to a hospital in Abilene with a severe leg injury.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S launching was "a textbook exercise," said Dr. Joseph Charyk, president of the Communications Satellite Corp. Comsat paid the National Aeronautics and Space Administration $3.57 million to hoist the satellite.

Preliminary tracking data indicated the payload, made by Hughes Aircraft Corp., was in an initial path ranging from about 200 to 23,000 miles above the earth.

Lt. Perryman Dies In Viet Nam Action

Joining Her Husband

COAHOMA (SC) — 2nd Lt. Ronald G. Perryman, 22, whose wife, Judy, resides in Coahoma, was killed in action in Viet Nam on Tuesday.

The Secretary of the Army notified Mrs. Perryman Wednesday afternoon that Lt. Perryman, who has been on the field of battle less than a month, had been killed by a wound caused by a metal fragment while on a U combat operation against hostile forces. No other details were available immediately.

Mrs. Arlene Sheppard, wife of Dr. Sam Sheppard, prepares to board plane at Dusseldorf, Germany, today for flight to U.S., where she will join her husband. She is scheduled to land in New York and go on to Cleveland for reunion. Sheppard is on trial a second time in connection with the death of his former wife. (AP WIREPHOTO via cable from Dusseldorf)

Arrangements are pending, but the body will be returned to Wichita, Kans., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perryman, reside. Arrangements will be in charge of the Byrd-Snodgrass Funeral Home.

Sheppard Defense Hints Big Surprise

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Impaneling of a jury neared completion today in the murder trial of Samuel H. Sheppard amid hints by the defense that "a certain person" other than Sheppard may be specified as the killer of Sheppard's first wife 12 years ago.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (A) — A U. S. ambush patrol opened fire on a group of Vietnamese civilians they mistook for Viet Cong today and killed or wounded 15, including women and children.

The spokesman said eight civilians were killed and seven were wounded in the mistaken ambush before dawn eight miles north of Saigon.

U. S. forces reported killing 42 Communist troops in a series of small-scale skirmishes Wednesday ranging from close to Saigon north to the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Peking Tests Nuclear Arm

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced in a broadcast heard here early Friday that it "successfully conducted over its own territory a guided missile - nuclear weapon test" Thursday.

The official New China News Agency said the "guided missile flew normally and the nuclear warhead accurately hit at the appointed distance, effecting a nuclear explosion."

The defense used the first of its four peremptory challenges Wednesday afternoon to replace a woman with a man.

WOMAN PICKED — The prosecution then used its first peremptory challenge to excuse a man. He was replaced by a woman, restoring the count to seven women and five men.

Former 331st Man Killed

S. Sgt. Robert E. Green, 28, husband of Mrs. Donna K. Green, 1003 Rosemont, Big Spring, died Tuesday in an aircraft crash in Laos.

Word of his death from injuries sustained in the crash of a plane, in which he was a passenger, was received here Thursday.

In the air over the North Wednesday, U.S. Air Force jets flew through intense anti-aircraft fire and damaged two gun emplacements 30 miles northwest of coastal Dong Hoi with 500-pound bombs. Pilots said each battery had six anti-aircraft guns.

Navy jets from the Constellation bombed a radar site and two cargo barges 80 miles southwest of Vinh. Fliers said they destroyed the barges and caused a large explosion at the radar site.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON DECLARES: 'We Want To End This War'

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — "We want to end this war today — we want to end it this hour," President Johnson declared today.

In a report to the United States on his visit to Viet Nam, the President said it is now up to the other side to respond to the peace offer made by the allies at the Manila conference on Viet Nam.

for the GIs serving in Viet Nam. "Those men have pledged their lives," he said. "As your representative, I pledged that we will not fail them."

The presidential statement was issued by the traveling White House press office at Bangkok while Johnson and his wife were spending the night at a seaside resort 68 miles southeast of the Thai capital.

living standards, to build a region of security and progress and to seek peaceful reconciliation — are why the U.S. soldiers are in Viet Nam, Johnson said.

Johnson combined his observations on his trip to the battle zone with an appraisal of the conference just ended in Manila of the chiefs of the seven nations with troops fighting the Communists in South Viet Nam.

Johnson concluded that "having followed every hint and made every gesture" toward peace at the Manila conference, "the ball is in the other court" now and it is up to Hanoi to make a conciliatory move.

On his visit to what he termed "the front line of a contest as far-reaching and as vital as any we have ever waged," the President reported that the men at Cam Ranh Bay and their "buddies throughout Viet Nam" are there "to keep aggression from succeeding."

Warm Weather Rules Nation

By The Associated Press
Unseasonably warm weather ruled most of the nation today. A large high pressure dome provided abundant sunshine and light winds.
Temperatures in the 80s were felt from the Southern Plains to South Dakota while the Southwest had heat in the 90s. Denver set a high temperature record Wednesday with 81. Pleasant but not as warm weather continued over the eastern half of the nation.
Another day of almost no rain was expected with only a few light showers in parts of the Pacific Northwest, the northern Rockies and North Carolina.

Jack's Beanstalk Has Nothing On Mrs. Wood's Red Okra

By SAM BLACKBURN
The okra that Mrs. L. C. (Michael) Wood grows in the flower bed at 605 Main is delicious when cooked.
The problem is harvesting the stuff.
Even if the tasty vegetable is red in color instead of the usual green one expects of this plant, climbing on a six-foot step ladder and then stretching as high as one can reach to garner the pods isn't much fun.
Mrs. Wood and her husband, L. C. Wood, planted the seeds last July. They had heard of red okra and wondered if the plant would flourish here.
It does.
The stems began to climb higher and higher until they were as tall as the eaves of the house. And, to make it even more aggravating, the pods of okra—like most any okra—seem to like the tallest point on each stalk to grow.
Mrs. Wood is not too tall and this made her problem become even more aggravating.
Since her husband is the official cook of the Wood household, it's Mrs. Wood's task to do the vegetable gathering.
So, armed with a stepladder and a lot of faith in her sense of balance, she harvests the red okra crop.
"I think next year," mused Mrs. Wood, "we'll just plant the old fashioned kind of okra."

ding the ace of hearts. His partner cooperated by raising hearts to designate the king and South decided to gamble on a slam on the chance that he could establish either the dummy's suit or his own.
West opened the nine of clubs and the ace was played from dummy. Declarer considered the prospects for establishing one of his side suits, and concluded that he lacked the entries to develop the diamonds, and that the odds did not favor working on the clubs. He presently observed that, if he could cash out his five side winners, seven more tricks would be available on a straight cross-ruff.
Three rounds of hearts were played to which both opponents obligingly followed suit. A diamond was led to the ace and South proceeded to trump three diamonds in dummy, reentering his hand on each occasion by ruffing a club. The ace of spades took the 12th trick.
West could have frustrated the declarer by opening a spade originally, thereby limiting South to six tricks in the trump suit. His best chance to succeed with this defense is to work on North's clubs. If the suit divides evenly, declarer can withstand a four-two division in trumps—after the clubs are established, he draws three rounds of spades and then leads good clubs until one of the defenders ruffs in with the long trump. South has the rest.
With neither black suit responding favorably, however, declarer cannot manage the play and ultimately loses control of the hand.

The bidding:
South West North East
1♣ Pass 2♣ Pass
2♦ Pass 3♣ Pass
4♥ Pass 5♥ Pass
6♠ Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: Nine of ♠
An aggressive and yet well conceived sequence of bids landed North and South in the only slam contract that had a chance—six spades—despite the fact that the partnership held only seven trumps between them.
South chose to treat his long suits as equals and open in the higher ranking suit to facilitate his rebid. Observe that, if he bids one diamond and North responds with two clubs, South is not strong enough to bid two spades which is a reverse and promises about 19 points.
When North did in fact bid two clubs, South showed his diamonds. When North made another strength showing call by giving a jump preference to three spades, South reasoned that the hands fit well and he made a slam try by cue bid-

Free Downtown Rides Proposed

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The president of the Atlanta, Ga., Transit Association today suggested free downtown transportation.

"Who charges fares in elevators nowadays?" asked Robert L. Sommerville in remarks prepared for delivery at an urban affairs conference on the campus of Arlington State College.

"If the cost of vertical transportation is just part of the cost of doing business in our downtowns, why not the cost of horizontal transportation, too, carrying the same people, after all — customers, clients, workers?" Sommerville told the government leaders and civic captains how the cost of free transit would be met.

'SO EXCITING'

"Spread over a city, related to any of the cost totals with which our chambers of commerce bombard us — business down, retail sales, downtown real estate values, bank deposits, earnings — the relation to any of these figures, the cost of free transit service would be miniscule," he said.

The speaker said the prospect of free transit to downtowns is "so exciting" that merchants might well themselves consider defraying the cost.

MOVEMENT

"Just think of the tens of thousands of movements within the downtown area that free transit would encourage," he said. "The opportunities to go shopping at lunchtime, the ways by which people coming into the city for one purpose would be encouraged to stay and move about for others."

He said entirely new and better forms of mass transportation would be encouraged, "ways to provide the ideal of continuous movement — not waiting on the corner for a bus."

The present machine unexpectedly broke down, Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said. Anderson Machinery Co. apparently has the low bid—$7,933 which includes the trade-in with a three week delivery date. Shaw Equipment Co. bid $8,500, also allowing the trade-in, with delivery in one day.

He was born Nov. 18, 1901, in Albany, Mo., and married Mary Hopkins Sept. 15, 1954, at Billings, Mont. The family moved to Midland in September, 1956, and to Big Spring in 1959. Mr. Simian was a World War I veteran. He owned and operated the Bluffs Machinery and Supply Co., Scotts Bluff, Neb., for many years. He was a member of the VFW, American Legion, Moose Lodge and the Baptist faith.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary Simian, Big Spring; one daughter, Mrs. Delton Marcum, Midland; one brother, Victor Simian, Compton, Calif.; also three grandchildren.

Indian Guides Hold Meetings In Two Tapes

Two Y-Indian Guide tribes had tribal activities this week.

The Teton tribe met at the tepee of Thunder and Little Cloud (Dr. Floyd Mays and Doug) Monday night, with 14 braves in attendance. Hoot Owl (Bart Johnson) and Fighting Hawk (Steve Hughes) were tied for winners of the Indian game.

New members welcomed into the tribe were Walking and Running Wolf (Frosty Robison and Dan), Sitting Hawk and Fighting Hawk (Roy Hughes and Steve) and Black Hawk (Kent Rice). The Sioux tribe met at the tepee of Big and Little Bear (Dr. Charles Warren and Mike) Tuesday night, where slides of a tribal journey to Paint Rock were shown. Red feathers were awarded to Straight Arrow (Mike Thompson) and Strong Bow (Jim Thompson) for repeating the aims of the Y-Indian Guides before the tribe.

Next meeting will be at the tepee of Grey and Little Fox (Don Green and Donnie).

Commiss Reject Peace Overtures

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam today described the Manila summit conference as a war council and stopped just short of officially rejecting the latest allied peace bid to end the Viet Nam war.

"The 'peaceful solution' proposed by the United States at the Manila conference," said Nhan Dan, organ of the North Vietnamese Communist party, "is still more cynical and insolent than the 'conditions' which the United States had earlier put to the Vietnamese people and which had been categorically rejected by the latter."

The official Hanoi newspaper did not refer specifically to the offer to withdraw all foreign troops six months after North Viet Nam withdraws its forces and aid from South Viet Nam.

But Peking's New China News Agency called it part of a U.S. "peace talks plot" and a representative of the Viet Cong in Cairo said the Viet Cong "will never accept peace unless it is on our own terms."

Despite the unyielding Communist position, Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos told newsmen in Manila he has begun "initiatives for peace" following the summit conference.

Mo-Pac Earnings Are Reported Up

ST. LOUIS — Consolidated earnings of the Missouri Pacific System and its majority-owned subsidiaries totaled $1,172,698 in the first nine months of the year, an increase of $1,378,661 over those for the same period of 1965, Downing B. Jenks, president, reported today.

On the basis of generally-accepted accounting principles, which eliminates income tax credits resulting from increased depreciation allowable for tax purposes, net income totaled $1,675,227, a rise of $3,472,452 over that of the previous year.

Operating revenues were $19,783,136, an increase of $13,897,687, while operating expenses of $24,947,991 were up $7,819,330.

Legion Meet Set Saturday

BROWNFIELD — Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from the 19th Congressional District will convene here Saturday and Sunday for the annual fall convention of the American Legion.

Several Big Spring members are expected to attend the gathering.

The joint session of the American Legion and Auxiliary will convene on Sunday morning.

The Legion's afternoon business session will be presided over by Ellis P. Schmid, 19th District Commander from Slaton.

Committee reports will be heard and membership campaign for the ensuing year will be discussed.

On And Off Again For Jury Panel

Once again the jury panel in the Howard County court reported for work today and found no work to be done. So far on the current jury docket, which has spanned two weeks, there has been only one case which has required a jury. Other cases which Deo Jon Davis, county attorney, and Judge Lee Porter expected to go to trial, either terminated in pleas of guilty or had to be passed.

Dallasites To Get 25-Minute Warning

DALLAS (AP)—The Air Force general responsible for protecting the southern United States from enemy attack said that Dallas would have 25 minutes at most to get ready for missiles.

Maj. Gen. James B. Tipton, commander of the Southern Region of the North American Air Defense Command, said the warning to take cover is the only defense against missile attack that the country has now.

The general said the 25-minute warning Dallas could expect compares with 15 minutes for cities in the northern U. S. and Canada. The warning for Dallas, he said, would come from radar sites in Alaska, northern Canada and Greenland.

TEXANS AT WAR

'Scared To Death 24 Hours A Day'

By The Associated Press

"I was scared to death 24 hours a day," says Patrick J. Gilligan, a Texan at war, twice a Purple Heart winner and recipient of the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry.

"Everybody's a coward. But you have to do it. It has to be done."

The worst was at night, says Gilligan, 24, of Fort Worth, a former TCU student.

HELPLESS

"That's the God-awfullest feeling in the world to hear those mortars coming in and not knowing where they are going to hit," he said.

"...When you're flying you know you are going to get shot at and you can fight back. Against the mortars, you're just about helpless."

LAST OUTPOST

Gilligan and his wife, Sheila, and son, Patrick, nearly 1, live in Weatherford now. He attends Texas Wesleyan College at Fort Worth at night and serves as a pilot instructor at the helicopter training center at Ft. Wolters during the day.

From February, 1965, until March, 1966, Gilligan, a chief warrant officer, was a gunship pilot for an armed helicopter platoon at Soc Trang in Viet Nam.

"It's kind of like the last outpost," said the dark-haired pilot, twice wounded during a duty tour there that included 1,050 hours of flying time, most of it assault combat.

Purple Heart

Chief Warrant Officer Patrick J. Gilligan of Fort Worth, twice a Purple Heart winner and recipient of the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry, said he was "scared to death 24 hours a day" during his tour of Viet Nam. Gilligan now serves as pilot instructor at helicopter training center at Ft. Wolters. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Other teachers honored for outstanding achievement were Miss Mary Francis Freeman, W. B. (Pappy) Drennan and Archie D. Rogers Jr. Each received an engraved silver tray and Nixon also was given $100.

Scientists Plan To Set Gulf Blasts

DALLAS (AP)—Scientists plan to set off a series of powerful explosions in the Gulf of Mexico over the next three weeks in an experiment designed to shed new light on the composition of the earth.

The project is a cooperative effort by Dallas' Graduate Research Center of the Southwest and the Environmental Science Service Administration (ESSA) of the Commerce Department.

The underwater blasts will radiate shock waves which are expected to penetrate through the earth's crust and into the top-most layer of the earth's mantle beneath.

"The seismic waves from each explosion will be recorded at varying distances up to 150 miles," said Dr. James Taggart of Dallas, coordinator of ESSA's phase of the project. "In this way we will be able to obtain an accurate seismic cross-section of the crust of the adjacent mantle."

The experiment is one of the most ambitious undertakings of its kind to determine the composition of the earth's crust and the adjoining mantle in the Gulf of Mexico in the area between the coast and the outer edge of the continental shelf.

Rare Atlas Gift

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Howard C. Davidson of Washington, D. C., has donated a rare atlas and an old volume of Spanish history to the Cushing Library at Texas A&M University.

The two-volume Mercator and Hondius Atlas which Davidson gave came from plates first used in 1639. Antonio de Herrera's volume of Spanish history was printed in Madrid in 1730.

GREENLAND WITHDRAWAL

Danes Outnumber GIs

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—The United States is gradually withdrawing men from its two defense bases in Greenland. Danes now outnumber Americans at Thule and Soendre Stroemfjord.

The Danish government says it has no word of a possible shutdown in the area, and assumes that the cuts in manpower are parts of the U.S. program to reduce the cost of defense bases abroad.

Greenland is a link between the United States and Europe. It is the world's largest island and one of the most sparsely inhabited areas. Some 40,000 people are in 840,000 square miles—21 square miles for every Greenlander. An icecap covers five-sixths of the surface. Ice makes Greenland inaccessible to ships most of the year.

COLD WAR CHILD

The Thule base, established at the end of World War II, is a child of the cold war and ostensibly designed as a U.S. safeguard against a surprise enemy missile attack over the Polar Region. Today this base still serves the same mission, although U.S. personnel has dropped from an original 8,000 to 1,200. Besides its early warning system against missiles, Thule also is a supply base for weather stations.

Some 1,500 Danes are employed on the base. Their duties include maintenance and repairs of roads, electrical installations, heating, water supplies, garbage collecting, taxis, canteens, laundries, transport, transport maintenance and storage.

BLUE WEST EIGHT

The Danish Construction Corp., composed of a group of contractors, is in charge of all non-American personnel and tied by contract to fulfill U.S. requirements. It employs engineers, bakers, chauffeurs, roadworkers, social welfare officers, smiths, welders, cooks, electricians, office staff, plumbers, librarians, fire watchmen, painters, hotel personnel—and a priest.

Further south, on the fringe of the icecap, Soendre Stroemfjord base has 400 Americans and 500 Danes.

Once known as Blue West Eight, Soendre Stroemfjord was built in World War II. The Danish ambassador in Washington at that time, Henrik Kauffmann, broke off all contact with Nazi-occupied Denmark and agreed to construction of U.S. base in Greenland to support the allied war effort.

The bases served American-built fighter aircraft flying to Europe and as bases for the wartime network of Air Force protection given allied convoys on the North Atlantic.

Carr, Tower Jab Away Steadily At Long Range

Big Spring (Texas) Herald,
Thurs. Oct. 27, 1966 7-A

By The Associated Press
Rival Senate candidates Waggoner Carr and John Tower focused additional campaign appeals on the vote-heavy Dallas and Houston areas today.

Jabbing away steadily at long range, one or the other touched on such topics as out-of-state influences in their Nov. 8 election contest, food prices, inflation, labor backing and the draft.

Body Identified

HOUSTON (AP)—A man fatally beaten and shot at Houston had been identified from papers on his body as Joseph Howard Scott, 29, of Orange.

Att. Gen. Carr, the Democratic nominee, moved back into Dallas and asserted that

"rich Eastern Republicans are pumping money into Texas" in an effort to keep the GOP's
Tower in the Senate.

Tower, quoting a couple of polls as picking him to win re-election, followed his opponent into Houston by a day for what was billed as a "Texans for Tower Jamboree Rally."

MONEY ISSUE

Carr quoted a nationally distributed column as reporting

New Jersey has joined Connecticut and New York as a major source of financial aid for Tower. Speaking at a breakfast rally, he called on the senator to explain why such assistance was being accepted.

Underscoring the importance attached also to the San Antonio area vote, the attorney general doubled back there Wednesday night for a joint appearance at a professional boxing match with U.S. Rep. Henry Gonzalez, whose home is in the Alamo city.

Carr said in Houston that as senator he proposed to ask periodic Agriculture Department studies showing the share of food prices going to the farmer.
He asserted:

"Some people are trying to make our farmers, ranchers and dairymen the scapegoats of inflation. . . but I am convinced that the farmers and ranchers of Texas are not to blame for high supermarket prices. Our farmers are not getting what they deserve."

Carr visited several big industrial plants in Houston as workers reported. He observed that while the Texas AFL-CIO executive board and its Committee on Political Education have not endorsed a candidate for senator, he was being backed "by scores of organized labor unions and their members."

Word Spreads LBJ To Make Western Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hopeful word is spreading from Democrats that President Johnson plans a western campaign swing the weekend before the Nov. 8 election.

But as usual in this campaign, there was no immediate presidential staff confirmation of the reports, which center around a Nov. 5-6 California visit.

The President is still in Asia and not due back in this country until next Wednesday night.

Wednesday, the political winds of a campaign overshadowed right now by the Johnson trip were stirred by:

Texans Nix LBJ's War On Poverty

AUSTIN (AP) — President Johnson's home state seems ready to join his "War on Poverty."

Texas has more families earning less than $3,000 a year than any other state. The Texas total is 688,000, New York has 600,000 and California 563,000.

What has Texas done about this? Relatively little, assert two leaders of the anti-poverty campaign.

One is Bill Crook, 40, the Office of Opportunity's director for Texas and nearby states. His eyes blaze when he talks about those who oppose his moves.

"We've had a few brushes, a few skirmishes, but haven't confronted the enemy yet," Crook said.

"Like some manufacturing processes, you see some by-products of the poverty war before you even begin to see the end product.

"We have towns and cities where people are talking about it now. If this can be encouraged and not stifled—as some would like to stifle it—we are well on our way."

LOAN SHARKS
Who wants to stifle it? "Those who have a vested interest in poverty," he asserted.

"Loan sharks and landlords and merchants in slum areas."

Crook said foes call the program "another giveaway hoop to get votes, or they say things like we have had boys at Camp Gary (the San Marcos Job Corps center).

"We've got bad boys in the Job Corps because we've got bad boys in the United States."

"The real question is, are we willing to see the poor with power? They're beginning to say things and demand things. We shouldn't expect them to be grateful to us. We'll be lucky if they forgive us."

"SHAKEDOWN PERIOD"
Another leader for the anti-poverty forces is Walter Richter, 49, former state senator named by Gov. John Connally to direct the state's War on Poverty office.

Richter admits there isn't much to show for two years' work and $80 million.

The big-boned, square-jawed man calls the last two years "a shutdown period."

"I think you'll see a lot more professionalism in the program from now on," he said.

There is a simple way to look at the "war," he said.

"One, there is poverty. Anyone who isn't blind can see this."

"Two, aside from the human misery, which is considerable, poverty is extremely costly. Crime breeds in slum areas, and crime costs this nation $27 billion each year."

Television Developing 1-Man Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television — or a few imaginative men within it — is developing an interesting special form, the one-man show in which camera work and production values are almost as important as the talent of the star.

Over the past couple of seasons we have had a pair of Barbara Streisand hours and another with Frank Sinatra. Wednesday night on ABC, there was Tony Bennett.

From opening moment to closing titles, it was music and lyrics all the way, and very good music indeed.

CURIOS SET
Bennett, who has a fine voice, an intense way with lyrics and a physical style all his own, was backed up by a huge orchestra.

The setting for most of the show was a curious set that looked like a traffic interchange on empty freeways with a studio audience scattered around in little circular islands.

Covering the set kept Bennett pretty busy — sometimes a little too active — but he packed a lot of songs into the period, ranging in mood from comedy to ballad.

Most interesting, visually, was a portion consisting of a stroll by Bennett around some familiar San Francisco landmarks.

Joe Cates, a TV producer of broad experience, has been rushed to CBS' "Garry Moore Show" and is functioning like a specialist at the bedside of a dying patient.

Moore's variety show may not be dying, but it is awfully sick, suffering from chronic competition by internal troubles and an acute case of low ratings.

PART OF PLAN
Cates, replacing Perry Cross, has now had what he called "five 48-hour days" on the show and has prescribed a stimulant: An hour version of the 1947 musical, "High Button Shoes."

"It is part of the plan," he said. "We'll put on a special of some kind every three weeks. We don't expect miracles, but we do know that specials increase ratings — persuade viewers to re-sample a series. Then, if they find they like it, perhaps they'll come back the next week."

His diagnosis of the internal troubles, after studying four productions, is that it lacks focus.

The break into specials will start on Nov. 29.

'I TRY TO THINK FOR BUYERS' Super Salesman Bounces Back

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Matthew Culligan, the super salesman who was the target of a mutiny two years ago while head of Curtis Publishing Co., has returned to executive life again — a bit more philosophical now but just as zealous.

Culligan, 68, retired from executive ranks for two years after the Curtis debacle, his ego bruised and his record of successes broken. But in his second day as president of Mutual Broadcasting System, he commented:

"I'm going to work very, very hard for the next two or three years. It's going to be very rough."

OLD PASSION
He wasn't complaining. He said it with his old passion for work and results.

Culligan became an almost legendary salesman. At Curtis he averaged 3,300 miles of travel a week, worked 14 to 15 hours a day and, some said, was making headway in pulling the big publishing company out of the red. He could sell. Everyone agreed.

Except for military service, which cost him his left eye, Culligan's adult life has been spent in advertising and sales. He began as a salesman and no matter what executive job he filled he still sold, too. He has been a spliler, space salesman, advertising director, television salesman. As executive vice president of the National Broadcasting Co.'s radio network his salesmanship helped erase losses. After three years he reportedly put the network in the black. And then he became an ad executive.

OPEN REVOLT
"I try to think for the buyers," he says. "I try to make it easy for an intelligent person to buy. And I'm a very good research man so I haven't had to pound on a desk in 25 years."

Executive and employe discontent against his methods led to an open revolt at Curtis, publisher of the Saturday Evening Post and other magazines. Culligan resigned.

For the next two years little was heard of this man who once was the center of action, excitement, news, developments of one kind or another. He retreated from sales and wrote a history of the Curtis organization.

Culligan announced that his first job at Mutual will be to build the business, and he's planning an itinerary that will demand the usual killing, cross-country itinerary in search of ads.

"I've always made a practice of delivering 25 per cent of the business myself and I intend to do it here," he said.

Two years ago, only about 1,000 of the warblers summered here, but the total appears higher now that modern fire-control methods have allowed the burning of forests to provide nesting grounds, conservation men said.

Survivors include his wife, the former Letha Trammell, Roscoe; nine children; 18 grandchildren; and a brother, Alvin Byrd.

Strongest reports of a Johnson western tour came from an aide to California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who said, "We can't confirm it officially, but President Johnson is expected to visit California before the election."

Brown is running slightly behind according to pollsters in his bid for a third term against Republican Ronald Reagan.

REPORTED STOPS
The California sources said Johnson probably would fly to other states before returning to Los Angeles at the end of the weekend. There were reports the stops could include Nevada, Oregon, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado.

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley said he expected the President to appear Nov. 4 for a nonpolitical speech — possibly a report on his Pacific-Asian tour.

Word of virtually all Johnson's campaign visits this year has come first from local sources.

After a fast start in late summer, the President slacked off surprisingly from campaigning, then embarked on his scheduled 17-day trip out of the country.

While the President was in Asia seeking an end to the war, Humphrey was saying how the war money should be spent after peace comes.

'SAVE THE SOIL' FATHER SAYS:

Distribution Of Water Is Top Texas Problem

Editor's Note: V. C. Marshall, now 81, is considered by many to be the father of soil conservation in Texas. Retired since 1955, he still has fresh ideas about saving the land and water of his state. Here is a report.

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP)—"Distribution of the water is the biggest problem we have in Texas today," says a man who ought to know.

"There's only a certain amount of water, and we're just going to have to make the best use of it we can."

V. C. Marshall continues: "You can't use water that isn't there."

Marshall has fought the battle for soil conservation and his main interest now, 81 and retired, is water.

Generally thought of as the father of soil conservation in Texas, The Bell County observer stays close to the land. He lives on the farm his grandfather settled in 1848.

"SAVE THE SOIL"

He began his efforts to save the soil in 1926, even before much Texas soil was blown away in the Dust Bowl years of the 1930s.

Marshall thinks the controversial, multi-billion-dollar Texas

Water Plan is a good start—but only a start—toward solving the water-use problem.

"You can't be selfish," he says. "We're going to have to keep the selfish angle out of this business to make the water go as far as possible."

A rugged, square-built man, Marshall's clear blue eyes sparkle when he speaks of saving land and water. That's been his passion for 40 years.

HAD WARNING

He first became concerned with the problem after a decade of teaching in rural schools. He happened to hear a Chinese graduate of Columbia University warn that unless the United States conserved its farm land, it would—like China—become unable to feed its own people. That was in 1926.

Marshall pondered the idea for several years and then gave up school teaching in the early 1930s to travel the length and breadth of Texas promoting the idea of locally controlled soil conservation districts.

The legislature finally formulated and passed the first state soil conservation bill but Marshall urged Gov. James Allred to veto it because it did not provide for local control of the project. Allred vetoed it.

New efforts led to another bill, passed in 1939. This measure was the basis for which 182 soil conservation districts are operating in Texas today.

NEEDS NEW LIFE

They are organized along local lines and are managed by boards of supervisors elected from and by local farmers, ranchers and landowners. The Soil Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture works closely with and gives technical assistance to these districts, but has no voice in their management.

Marshall was named the first chairman of the State Soil Conservation Board, and later became executive director of the agency. He served until his re-

Father

V. C. Marshall, 81, of Bell County, Tex., is considered by many to be the father of soil conservation in Texas. Marshall lives on the farm settled by his grandfather in 1848 and since his retirement in 1955 has remained interested in the conservation program. (AP WIREPHOTO) retirement at the age of 70 in 1955. The pioneer soil-saver thinks conservation nowadays needs a new sense of purpose, needs new life. He feels that the people of Texas need a new feeling of community purpose in needs such as water, soil and roads. He and Mrs. Marshall raised eight sons, all of whom are graduates of Texas A&M University.

Pecan Harvester Out-Picks Humans

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—William H. Aldred, agricultural engineer at Texas A&M University, said field tests of a new mechanical pecan harvester show that the machine can out-pick humans.

Designer Aldred said the rig probably could be produced to sell for about $3,000, ending the need for an economical mass harvester for the crop. The machine will gather up to 4,000 pounds of pecans a day, compared to a man's 150 pounds.

Last year, Aldred said, several million pounds of native Texas pecans rotted on the ground because no hand labor was available to gather them.

Visiting Prof Sees Tiny Racial Unrest

BEAUMONT (AP)—A visiting Philippines professor said he sees little sign of student and racial unrest in this country despite widespread publicity circulated in his country.

Manuel Ortouste Laurel, professor of English and dean of men at Immaculate Conception College, Ozamis City, said "I have been here many weeks and have seen no demonstrations or student uprisings."

He said he understands how reports of turmoil can affect the image of a nation and that the Philippines is faced with the same problem.

Paper spots glued on clear vinyl over a pair of red bikini panties qualify this dress worn by model Peggy Moffitt as a paper dress. She's talking with designer Rudy Gerreich, who escorted Miss Moffitt to a paper dress ball in Hartford, Conn., Saturday night to show off the dress. It was one of 150 gowns made of paper to be worn at the ball—and word is that a good number of them stood up to the test of doing the frug and the swim or carelessly spilling a drink. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — It was a dream ball for husbands—the kind where women who usually wear $1,000 gowns choose paper sacks instead. The occasion was a paper

A LOVELIER YOU

Win Man's Heart—Protect His Weight

By MARY SUE MILLER
Does the man in your life weigh just a bit more each year? If his weight creeps up as little as three pounds a year, he'll be thirty pounds heavier ten years hence. It's a thought to ponder.
Of course you are aware of the danger of overweight to fitness. Doubtless he is too, even though he never mentions it. What should you do? Put your foot down and put him on a reducing diet?
Only doctors have any success with issuing edicts about dieting. Your best course is not words, but action. Give him the foods he should have, so deliciously prepared and attractively served that he never suspects your hidden motives.
You make a good start by emphasizing protein foods and decreasing fats to 50 grams per day. Fats get to his waistline and, possibly, to his health quicker than other foods. Ounce for ounce fats contain more calories. One tablespoon of salad oil and one of butter add up to 224 calories, 21 grams of the daily fat allowance, and no solid eating.

To keep the fat intake in hand, use these methods: Trim all fats from meats before cooking; serve butter in fluffy curls; season with herbs and spice, instead of butter; avoid frying in oil; make maximum use of pans treated for non-fat frying; serve low-calorie salad dressings.
Used daily, those gambits lop off some 400 calories, a saving that reverses the tendency to creeping weight. And with no one the wiser!
DIET AND LIKE IT!
Reduce without starving! Send for my purse-sized booklet, "Diet . . . and Like It," which includes: Shortcuts to dieting; a calorie calculator; simplified menu planning; your model weight. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Other guests were Irene Bartz of San Angelo, general traffic instructor for the telephone company and Mrs. Lona Bradley, service assistant with the local telephone office. Mrs. Novella Jordan, club president, conducted a business meeting following the program.

Fora's Party For Children

The Spoudazio Fora Study Club will sponsor a Halloween party Oct. 31 for pupils in the special education class at Lakeview Elementary School. The initial plans were made Tuesday evening during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Clark, 2103 Morrison, with Mrs. Hulian Harris as cohostess.

Chairmen Named During Meeting

Mrs. Don Farley presided and guests welcomed were Mrs. Phillip Tucker, Mrs. Cliff Patton and Miss Barbara Clark.
A table covered with black velvet and accented with gold swans and a gold candlestick was used to display cosmetics which club members will sell to finance charity work.
Refreshments were served by the hostesses from a polished table centered with a basket filled with multi-colored gourds. Teakwood accessories were used.
The next meeting will be Nov. 8 in the home of Mrs. Jo Bright, 1504 Johnson. Mrs. Norman Spencer Jr. will be co-hostess, and the program, "American Education Week," will be under the direction of Mrs. Hulian Harris.

The group changed its meeting date to the first and third Wednesdays of each month. The first will be for business, and the second will be for study. Ten attended. The Oct. 3 meeting will feature a program on prayer and self-denial.

Cream Cake Adds Splendid Flavor

This menu appeals to men as well as to women because it's hearty, attractive and delicious.

STRAWBERRY CREAM CAKE
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 tps. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 tps. vanilla
1 cup heavy cream

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs, sugar and vanilla until very thick and almost white in color. Beat in sifted dry ingredients, in 4 additions, alternately with cream. Turn into well-greased baking pan (9 by 9 by 1 1/4 inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Loosen edges and turn out on wire rack; cool. Serve squares of cake with thawed frozen strawberries and whipped cream.

The recipe's foolproof — so easy that the young set can join in, dipping the fruit in the rich, melted candy. Then, for variety, they can roll them in different trimmings . . . coconut, crushed peanut brittle or chopped nuts.

Your grocer has the makings — even the wooden sticks are there, right on the 14-ounce bag of caramels. Individually wrapped, wholesome and creamy caramels are great for between-meal nibbling and lunch box surprises, too.

Make Funny Faces With Marshmallows

Halloween, Halloween, Oh, what funny things are seen.
Pumpkin faces, witches hats,
Skeletons and tall black cats.

Halloween is a night for bewitching, masquerading, playing tricks, and enjoying plenty of goodies. The party table gets into the Halloween spirit, too, with jack-o-lantern pumpkins and a platter of good 'n easy, brown 'n serve sausages. The pumpkin faces are baked apples studded with miniature marshmallows for eyes and pecan halves for the nose and mouth. By a turn of the pecan

6 red skinned apples
1/2 cup orange marmalade
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. ground allspice
Butter

1 cup boiling water
24 pecan halves
12 miniature marshmallows

Wash and core apples. Combine orange marmalade, lemon juice and allspice. Spoon some of the orange marmalade mixture into each apple. Dot with butter. Place apples in a shallow baking dish. Pour water around apples. Bake in a moderate oven 45 minutes, basting occasionally with the syrup in dish. During last five minutes of baking time, place one sausage link in each apple to make stem of pumpkin. When apples are done make small slits on side for eyes, nose and mouth of pumpkin face. Insert three pecan halves in slit for mouth, one pecan half for nose and a marshmallow in each eye. Serve hot with platter of brown 'n serve sausage.

It's a wise shopper who selects the sausage from a refrigerated case. And, because it is made of pork and beef the sausage may be kept in the freezer for a longer period and browned as needed for five minutes from the frozen state.

Pumpkins Cast Spells For Goblins

Cast a magic spell of Halloween gaiety with a jack-o-lantern made from a real pumpkin.

The goblins of your household will be busy for hours removing the meat from the pumpkin and carving its face. The jack-o-lantern will last for several days if you spray the inside with clear plastic to keep it from molding.

When you select your pumpkin, you'll find a large variety of colors, sizes and shapes as marketings are at the peak now, reports the Consumer and Marketing Service.

Texas and Colorado, listed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture among the top pumpkin producing states, supply a lot of pumpkins for local markets as do Midwest states.

"Cooked by the sun," is the general meaning of the Greek word from which "pumpkin" is derived. How apt the description, for the pumpkin must have a period of sunshine to ripen and mellow to be at its best.

Pumpkins are a member of the squash family so the Europeans call all squash pumpkins. And they prepare and serve pumpkin just as they do squash. Why don't you try this? Boil bite sizes of pumpkin until tender, butter and season to taste. Serve with pork roast or sausage. Or dip the boiled pumpkin in a batter and fry as you would corn or squash fritters.

Pumpkin pie is an American invention, a trick learned by the early Pilgrims from the Indians. If you want to make a pie with your pumpkin, be sure to select a "pie pumpkin," for its meat is sweeter and finer.

Halloween Carnivals Take Long Planning

By JO ANN PHINIZY
There's going to be a Halloween Carnival and spaghetti supper at the Kentwood Elementary School. It's on the night that witches, goblins, et cetera characters are set to prowling and something like 250 of them will be in attendance.

Such a production takes organization, cooperation and volunteers, plus a chief-of-all committees. This year's guiding star is Mrs. Ray Vess, 2703 Ann. She's the school's P-TA president and her comment is: "I've been up to my eyebrows in details. There are prizes and games to get ready—we can't have two booths with the same kind of game—and that spaghetti supper to cook. And that's a sure enough job."

For the supper, each P-TA member is to bring a cake or pie, and seven semi-volunteers are to cook spaghetti with meat and sauce.

Each main-dish cook was presented six boxes of spaghetti (that's enough for 50 people), six pounds of ground meat, plenty of tomato paste and a crying supply of chopping size onions.

SCAVENGER HUNT
After the ingredients came a scavenger hunt for pots and pans. Mrs. Vess says that such items are now at a neighborhood premium and she suspects that coffee percolators are about to be utilized.

In addition to the supper, there's going to be a "country kitchen" filled with pumpkins, popcorn balls and cookies galore.

All of this means lots of work but Mrs. Vess believes that the end justifies the means. Halloween is a night for children and school carnivals create its legendary atmosphere.

All of the Vess family will be accounted for at the carnival. Daughters Debbie and Vicki will be there, under proper disguises. Vess, supervisor at Zale's Jewelry, will be in the cafeteria serving spaghetti.

FAMILY COOKING
When Halloween is done and Mrs. Vess returns to the routine of family cooking she's pretty sure the first meal will be something like a roast cooked slowly and seasoned with garlic salt, a dash of celery and onion salts and backed by an array of vegetables. "It's one of our favorite suppers," she said, "any my group isn't given to the exotic or unusual type food."

She explained that a family chorus of "What's that?" is one sure way to limit experimental dishes flavored with imported herbs.

"I did manage to slip in one," she said. "It's Chicken Tarragon. You roll chicken pieces in flower, salt and pepper and brown both sides in hot butter (a stick will do). Then you sprinkle on tarragon, cover and simmer until it's tender."

Aside from her P-TA activities, Mrs. Vess teaches a Bible class at the 14th and Main Church of Christ and is a leader for a newly organized Kentwood Brownie troop.

In selecting her recipes, Mrs. Vess chose favorite desserts. Says she: "Sometimes I just look at desserts and think of the calorie count, but the rest of the family loves them."

BUTTERSCOTCH PIE
2 cups milk
1 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
2 egg yolks
3 tbsps. cornstarch
3 tbsps. butter
1 8-inch graham cracker crust or plain pie crust
1/2 pint whipping cream
Heat 1/2 cup of the milk and brown sugar in the top part of double boiler until sugar is dissolved. Beat egg yolks well, add cornstarch and remaining milk. Add mixture to milk and sugar in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water until mixture is thickened. Then cook five minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in butter. Chill, top with whipped cream.

LEMON JUICE
Fresh vegetable salads of all kinds perk up with a dash of lemon juice.

ORANGE CHIFFON CAKE
1 pkg. orange coconut cake mix
1 pkg. lemon flavored instant pudding
1 cup cold water
1/2 cup salad oil
4 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 tsp. lemon extract
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup orange or pineapple juice
Mix cake mix and lemon pudding. Add cold water and salad oil and beat well. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add vanilla and lemon extract.
Bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes in a greased and floured bundt cake pan or angel food cake pan. Remove cake from oven and pour over it the sugar dissolved in the orange or pineapple juice. Allow cake to get cold before removing from pan.

SKINNER MACARONI
Frozen meats should be stored at 0 degrees F. or lower. Recommended maximum storage periods are as follows: for ground beef and sausage, one to three months; fresh pork, three to six months; veal or lamb, six to nine months; and beef, six to 12 months.

Get Ready For Ghostly Invasions

Halloween's just around the corner.

And with the annual influx of ghosts and goblins arriving on schedule, you need to be well prepared in the pantry.

You'll find trick or treat items on the plentiful foods list of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Traditional apples make for merriment on Halloween—either at a party or for trick-or-treaters.

Among the items you may have overlooked are raisins. These nutritious nuggets of goodness come in small packages, too—just right for the younger set. And they'll love the goodness of raisins. You're sure to avoid any tricks on Halloween.

Tasty cookies, cakes and sweetbreads are other good "trick-or-treat" materials. And they all taste better with raisins. USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service lists raisins plentiful during November, so you're sure to have a good supply for Halloween.

Raisin Coconut Macaroons. You'll need 1 cup sugar, 1 cup sifted flour, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1/2 cup undiluted evaporated milk, 2 cups dark raisins and 1 8-ounce package (3 cups) shredded coconut.

Combine the sugar, flour, vanilla and milk. Stir only until blended. Add raisins and coconut and toss together lightly with two forks until blended. Drop by tablespoonsful onto a well-greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 8 to 10 minutes or until golden. Makes 3 dozen macaroons.

Frozen Meats

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Separate mounds of cooked peas and cooked diced carrots make a pretty serving platter when they surround a whole cooked head of cauliflower. A little grated yellow cheese may be sprinkled over the cauliflower.

If you are preparing a two-layer gelatin mold, have the first layer set but not firm before adding the second layer. At this stage, the gelatin should stick to your finger when you touch it and mound or move to the side when you tilt it.

You can make a delicious spread for crackers or bread by mixing smoked fish (flaked or diced) with a little mayonnaise, lemon juice and minced sweet pickles.

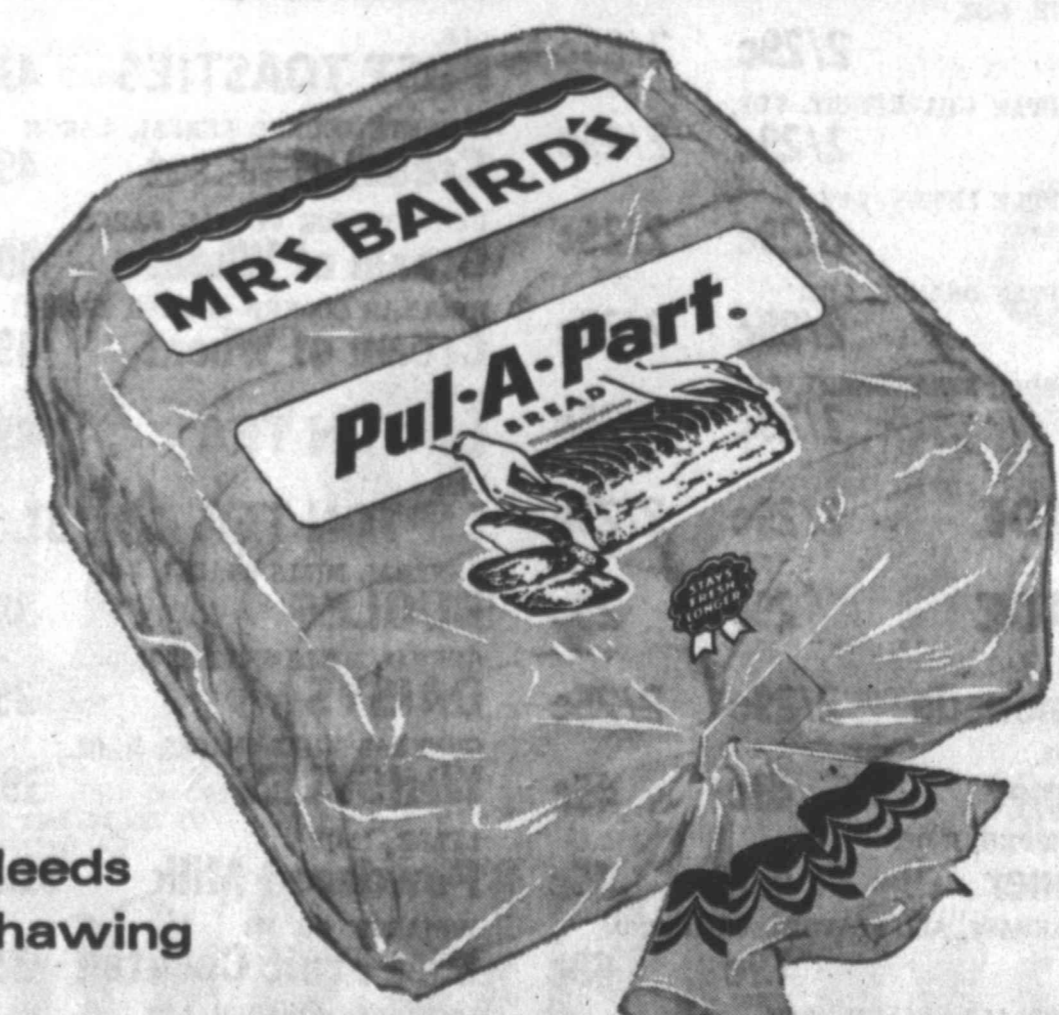

Serve poached eggs on toast spread with deviled ham. Nice for Sunday brunch.

Delightful sauce for fish: coarsely grated pared cucumber added to cream sauce. If you like, you can color the sauce with a suspicion of green food coloring.

Nice for Friday lunch: flaked cooked fish added to a well seasoned cheddar cheese sauce and served over toast. A sprinkling of minced parsley or paprika just before serving will make the dish look extra attractive.

Delightful and different salad: marinate cooked beef slices in an oil and vinegar dressing. Serve the marinated beefs on salad greens and garnish with lots of drained capers.

You bake it in your oven!

Dear Abby

Son Deserves True Story

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were divorced before Jimmy was born. Jimmy has just entered kindergarten and is asking a lot of questions about where his daddy is. His father lives here in town, has remarried and built a life of his own. He pays child support but has not seen Jimmy in years. I told the boy his daddy went to war and is "missing" so maybe he is in heaven with Jesus.

My friends say I should have told him the truth, but I just couldn't because if he knew his daddy was here in town and didn't care enough about him to come and see him he would feel very hurt and would probably hate his father. Please tell me what to do.

DEAR VEGAS: Wait until the time is right. Then tell Jimmy the truth. And explain that you made up that story about his daddy being missing because you thought at the time he was too young to bear the truth. (It's true.)

You can't keep Jimmy from being "hurt" because his daddy doesn't visit him. But you can try to keep the boy from "hating" him — by explaining that daddy may have reasons "we don't know about" for staying away — which could also be true.

DEAR ABBY: What is the difference between "mademoiselle" and "madame?" R. F. J.
DEAR R. F. J.: "Monsieur."

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and my boy friend is 17. My parents tell me I cannot have my boy friend over while they are gone. Well, he comes over anyway. This is purely accidental. I tell him to call first, but he doesn't call, he just comes over and when my parents come home and find him here I get killed.

We don't do anything wrong, Abby. We just listen to records, watch TV, and talk. Now just tell me what we're doing wrong? Please print this, as I am— IN DEEP WITH DAD

DEAR IN DEEP: You are disobeying your parents' instructions, and your boy friend is ignoring yours. If you refused to let him in when your parents are not at home, he would not continue to come over unannounced, and then you would not get "killed." Neither would you be "in deep" with dad.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Sinatra Group Is Countered By GOP Actors

By BOB THOMAS
AP Wire Columnist
HOLLYWOOD (AP)— "Strangers in the night. Scuby duby doo. Strangers in the night."
Frank Sinatra was singing his latest hit song, not for the craps-shooters of Las Vegas, but for Democrats and other persons willing to pay from $3 to $10 for a "Night of Stars" at the Los Angeles sports arena. Other stars at the show last week were Joey Bishop, Danny Kaye, Trini Lopez, Dean Martin, Danny Thomas and Nancy Wilson, and their purpose was to raise money and enthusiasm for Edmund G. Brown's campaign for governor.

SWINGERS
The swinging Sinatra group for the Democrats is countered by the folksier support among actors for the Republican candidate, Ronald Reagan. When Reagan appeared at home on the range of his Malibu Ranch for a 12-station telecast last week, he was accompanied by such homespun types as Walter Brennan, Buddy Ebsen, George Chandler—once a grandpa on "Lassie"—and Andy Devine.

This autumn's outburst of political activity by actors is the greatest ever seen for a state campaign. The reason is both ideological and personal; aside from their political feelings, many actors feel strongly about whether one of their profession is or is not fit for high office.

VOTE PHENOMENON
The use of actors as political campaigners is a phenomenon of the radio-television era. Before 1932 the appearance of performers with candidates was rare outside of New York City. Al Jolson campaigned for Warren G. Harding in 1920.

Franklin D. Roosevelt sparked the real beginnings of political activities for actors. They admired his sympathy for the common man, his use of stars for "March of Dimes" campaigns, his own actor-like talent with his fireside chats.

The war gave actors more awareness of their public responsibilities as they were called upon to entertain troops and support war bond drives and other causes. But some stars backed causes that proved to be unpopular in the postwar period.

10-YEAR DECLINE
The McCarthy era demonstrated that political activity could damage an actor's career. Such stars as John Garfield, Judy Holliday, Edward G. Robinson and Jose Ferrer found they could not make movies unless they expiated for alleged leftist connections.

The fear of recrimination brought a 10-year decline in political activity in Hollywood. Many of the town's leading Republicans—Walt Disney, George Murphy, Dick Powell, John Wayne, Jeanette MacDonald, etc.—gave vocal support to President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Robert Montgomery became his television adviser. But the liberal wing was quiet during the 1950s.

The youthful appeal of John F. Kennedy renewed the political give-and-take in Hollywood. He was the most show-wise of presidents, his father having been head of film companies.

The 1960 campaign revived liberal activity in opposition to the well-organized conservatives. The battle reaches a climax in the coming fortnight as stars argue before millions of Californians as to whether Ronny or Pat can do the better job as governor.

Gainesville Paper Endorses Tower

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The Gainesville Register endorsed Sen. John Tower, a Republican, today in his race for re-election against Democrat Waggoner Carr.

The Register said in an editorial: "We have studied the issues and the candidates during the past several weeks. We believe that both men are capable and qualified, but when all factors are weighed objectively, the scales are tipped in favor of Mr. Tower."

"Our choice is without bias. The Register has supported Mr. Carr in each of his races for attorney general and his service in that office has been commendable. Partisan politics is not enough for the Register. We believe in the two-party system of government and we can find little in his record to fault Sen. Tower. He is an effective and courageous member of the Senate, placing principle ahead of politics—a rare commodity these days in the national capital.

"Sen. Tower is a man of unquestioned integrity, courage and conviction. We believe the interests of both Texas and the nation will best be served by returning him to the U.S. Senate."

BIG BLONDE POSTS $5,000 BOND

'Kidnaping' Triggers Wedding

BRECKENRIDGE (AP)—A. Otis Birch, 95, of Pasadena, Calif., disappeared and authorities charged ex-convict Pearl Choate, 39, with kidnaping him Wednesday.

Recovering

WESTBROOK (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Byrd received word that their grandson, Steve Candler of Monahans, is recovering satisfactorily from a pellet gun shot in his hip which happened two weeks ago. Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Candler. Other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Candler, Colorado City.

posted $5,000 bond in the kidnaping case and was released. She put up another bond only the day before on a charge of attacking Harlan J. Moehn of Danville, Iowa, with a butcher knife.

KNIFE SEIZED
Moehn was identified by the sheriff as a cousin of the late Mrs. Birch, 93, who was brought here from California with her husband about two months ago and died Oct. 7. Both said the woman arrived Tuesday to inquire about the circumstances under which her death occurred.

Miss Choate seized a knife and tried to stab Moehn while talking with him but he escaped injury as the blade struck his spectacles, the sheriff said. Both related these other details: Miss Choate, who had served a Texas prison term for a murder, took Mr. and Mrs. Birch from a Pasadena nursing home and brought them to the Breckenridge residence of a brother, S. H. Choate. Soon after the death of his previous wife, Birch started legal proceedings to adopt Miss Choate. A hearing on the matter is due to be held Friday. Moehn came here after a

Robust Boy Born To Glenn Cootes

The Herald's city editor and wife do things in a big way. An 11-pound boy, one of the largest in the attending physician's long practice, was born Wednesday at 5:10 p.m. at Hall - Bennett Memorial Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. V. Glenn Cootes, 2615 Larry. The baby, named Glenn Jr., and his mother are doing well. The Cootes' have one other child, a daughter, Heidi, 6. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hollis, Fort Worth, and the maternal grandmother is Mrs. Ira Connaway, Sonora.

lawyer acting for Birch's guardians had determined the whereabouts of the elderly man. His guardians are Mary Tully of South Pasadena, Calif., and the Security National Bank of Pasadena.

Miss Choate was convicted of murder at Amarillo and started serving her sentence in 1949. She went free under parole but was sent back to prison for violating it in 1957, and completed the term in 1963.

Cubs Plan Meeting

Cub Pack 14 will hold a meeting tonight in the Boydston School basement, with Cubmaster M. H. Connor in charge. Theme is "Cub Vaudeville." The pack will have an outing Saturday at the "rifle ranch" at the Boydston School from 1-4 p.m. Jimmy Parks and B. G. Tatum will act as leaders. The first prize in the target shoot will be a turkey.

Lamesa Exes Gather Friday

LAMESA (SC)—Special homecoming activities at Lamesa High School will be held Friday night following the game between Lamesa High School and Lakeview High School of San Angelo, according to Doyle Norris, president of the ex-students association.

A reception and business meeting will be held in the Delphinian Clubhouse after the game for all ex-students of Lamesa High School. Officers will be elected for the coming year.

The Lamesa High School student body has named three candidates for homecoming queen and the winner will be announced during half-time ceremonies at the game. Candidates are Linda Cohorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Cohorn; Susan Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Davie Jones; and Jacque Alexander, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander.

Homecoming Due Friday For Stanton, Courtney

STANTON — A homecoming for the ex-students of Stanton and Courtney high schools is scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week. Most of the action will be Saturday, but the reunion actually gets off the ground on Friday.

Fred Church, president of the Stanton and Courtney Ex-Students Association, has sent out an appeal to all former students of the schools to be on hand.

A big barbecue dinner on Saturday will be one of the highlights. Initial event is on Friday at 6:30 p.m. when a powder puff football game between two teams of Stanton girls recruited from the junior and senior class, will start activities. At 8 p.m. a bonfire will be ignited. Saturday at 2 p.m. registration of the exes will be started at the Stanton High School cafeteria. A parade at 3:30 p.m. is next on the schedule. This procession will pass down the principal streets.

A pep rally is on tap for 4:30 p.m. at the high school gym. At 5:30 p.m. the exes dine on barbecue at the high school cafeteria with Johnny's Barbecue of Midland as caterer. At 7 p.m. the public is invited to attend the barbecue. Plates are $1.30 each.

The Stanton-Slaton high school football teams meet at 7:30 p.m. in a District 3-AA game.

After the game a reception for the exes is slated at the high school cafeteria. A sock hop for the high school students is set for the gym at the same time.

Helps Viet Nam Wounded Talk To Families

Retired Navy Captain A. Blair Jones, 58, sits at a ham radio in the basement of his home in Westbury, L.I. Jones is bringing together the voices of wounded American service-

Wounded Talk To Kin

NEW YORK (AP) — A retired Navy captain, manning a ham radio in the basement of his home, is bringing together the voices of wounded U.S. fighting men on a hospital ship off Viet Nam with their families 9,000 miles away. "It's an unbelievable surprise for the mothers and fathers. They don't know in advance that it's coming and they just can't get over it sometimes," says A. Blair Jones. Jones, an Annapolis graduate who retired from the Navy in 1960 after 30 years, radios daily from his home in Westbury, N.Y., a Long Island suburb, to the U.S.S. Repose. On Tuesday, Jones hooked up Lance Cpl. Leonard McGuire, 23, with his mother Dorothy McGuire in Lakewood, N.J. "It was the greatest thing in the world, I almost collapsed," Mrs. McGuire said. "There was some static and I couldn't understand everything he said, but thank God he's not seriously hurt. He's going to go back." Jones, who is 58, said his new mission grew out of his desire to keep in touch with ships and his interest in radio. "I've been in both businesses for a long time. I knew General Smith from Annapolis and he prevailed on the commanding officer on the Repose to set up a radio for the men. They bought it out of ship's welfare fund." The conversations with the Repose have been going on for about the last month. During an hour or so of transmission each day, Jones puts in about three calls. "Medicare to Date" will be discussed by the local Social Security office at the regular monthly luncheon meeting of the Big Spring Health and Welfare Workers Association Friday noon. The meeting will be held at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

RICHARD TALLEY

LARRY LEE

Two Added To Police Force

Jay Banks, police chief, said today that two new patrolmen will join his staff on Nov. 1. They are Richard Talley, 26, and Larry Lee, 24. Both are former members of the Clute police staff, the chief said. They are filling vacancies on the force. Talley, he said, has been acting chief of police at Clute since the recent resignation of the chief. Lee has been a patrolman there. They left because of a political situation, said Banks. Talley has several years experience as a peace officer and has attended the training programs for police officers at A&M College. He is married and has a family. Terry, who has also attended the A&M programs, has had about a year's experience as a police officer. He, too, is married.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast for Tomorrow

By Carroll Righter
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning brings you a chance to make many interesting decisions that can quickly show you the way to be much more successful in the days ahead. In the afternoon and evening find you able to reduce these two courses to workable success by having every item and particular organized and in its right place.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You need to improve conditions around you but it is better to merely study methods right now. Consider self-improvement first. Carry through with routine work or you get behind very quickly.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Getting right at that dreary work ahead of you see it clear up and get after you can show how to make the most of your fine potential. Take care of these small but important things. Be thorough.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Your goals have the power of the planets with them in a.m. so contact them for real results. Contact your written reports later. Your personal aims had best be postponed to a better time and day.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be sure to meet expectations of higher-ups. Plan recreations for the near future and give your cooperation to accompany you, etc. Improving your credit is important.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Show usual contacts that you are vitally interested in their welfare and give evidence of their true worth. Be more aware of what is going on around you. Show your endeavor. Stay alert, despite pressure.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) You can fulfill your obligations now if you pay attention to the minute of time. Don't be too critical of others who are acting quite emotionless. Be sure to consider the conditions that are around you.
LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) Consider well some plan you have in connection with associates you know just how to improve relations with them. Any civic work requires precision just at this time. Be neat in all that you do.
SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) You have to concentrate more if you are to get all that work done on you have planned. Increase success by being logical. Logical planning will make your plans less difficult than you think they are.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Concentrating upon how to delight those you love and admire will give you ideas to put in operation immediately before getting down to work at hand. Taking time for hobbies and improving appearance is good. Be happy.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Your immediate family requires more attention from you in order that you can get out to pleasure tonight with perfect ease. Clear up any most questions with others. Make concessions where necessary.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 19) You have to be very diplomatic if you want to avoid conflict. You will increase abundance appreciably. Study your newspaper for ideas. Events in the best time to enjoy these hobbies you like.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will do very well in school and act as a whole and will place your progeny in the public eye. The need for self-expression here is very great. However, teach not to be so self-conscious and think that others have nothing better to do than to concentrate on him or her. Then the chart becomes very successful and the mercurian complex disappears, happiness reigns.

Housewives Protesting Cost Keep Sprouting

NEW YORK (AP) — Organizations of housewives in rebellion against the cost of groceries sprouted like mushrooms today, threatening to make the MMFF, WOW, BCLLP, HELP and WASLP as familiar to headline scanners as NAACP, CORE and SNCC.

Williamsville, N.Y., had its "Women on the Warpath," Charlotte, N.C., the "Mad Mothers and Fighting Fathers," Louisiana the "Baton Rouge Women for Lower Prices," Colorado the "National Housewives for Lower Prices."

In the nation's capital it was the WASLP ("Washington Area Shoppers for Lower Prices"), in Wilmington, N.C., the OLF ("Operation Lower Food Prices") and in Burlington, N.C., the BCLLP ("Burlington Citizens League for Lower Prices").

Said Mrs. David Kadow, a spokesman for WOW: "Our picketing is aimed at the food industry, not just the stores. We have to start where we deal."

In Waukesha, Wis., Mrs. Thomas Heyen, leader of a group which hasn't even chosen a set of initials yet, said: "We aren't blaming anyone, but we do want to find out who the in-between man is who is to blame."

Typical store reaction came from Tom Gregory of the Georgia Retail Association, who said: "We have no disagreement with the housewives. Prices are high. They're high on everything in the world — clothes, new automobiles, almost anything you can name."

REBEL LEADER
"Inflation is spiraling. Our contention is that the grocery stores and food chains have a net profit of one to one and a half per cent on sales. If they cut prices very much, they'll be operating at a loss."

In Lexington, N.C., Mrs. Max Lefler, leader of an unnamed rebel brigade, had this to say: "We got one independent store owner to mark down prices on items we thought were too high. He followed two of us around the store and reduced prices we pointed out. A can of coffee was marked down from $1.19 to 89 cents. It can be done."

"I don't believe the stores can afford to drop their prices," pleaded Ted Walker, executive director of the Ozark Empire Grocers Association. "The housewife wants to be recognized, but food is taking a lower proportion of her income than five years ago."

Grand Jury Declines Bills In Several Cases

The Howard County grand jury returned 20 indictments naming 21 defendants in its report to Judge Ralph C. Daves, maliceous destruction of private property; Joe A. Nunez, shoplifting.

Not indicted by the grand jury was Frances Jean Ford, charged with murder and who admitted slaying Raymond Lang on Oct. 1. The evidence presented the jury in the case showed that Mrs. Ford did not shoot until Lang had kicked down the door to her home and had forced his way into the house.

Also not indicted were two teenage youths who were brought before the grand jury in connection with a complaint that they had raped a minor Latin-American girl. The grand jury, after looking into the case, declined to vote bills against the boys.

NO CASE
Chon Marquez, who was charged with assault with intent to commit murder, in connection with the shooting of Pedro Salazar on Sept. 3 was not indicted. Salazar has since recovered from his wound.

No indictments were returned against Jimmie Bounds, worthless check, and Edward Frazier, burglary.

Two new cases not on the original list were added to the grand jury calendar and both defendants were indicted.

HABITUAL CHARGE
Robert Morales, charged with having been apprehended with marijuana in his possession, was indicted as an habitual offender. Morales had been twice before convicted of possession of narcotics. Judge Caton set bond for this defendant at $6,000—the highest bail asked of any of those persons indicted who had not been previously released on bond.

William L. Nichols, charged with writing a felony worthless check, was also indicted as an added defendant. Bond was set at $1,500 in his case.

Two men, who have been held in county jail here since shortly after Sept. 13 on charge of robbery by assault, were indicted, and their bonds set by the court at $5,000. They were both named in a single indictment alleging robbery by assault. They are Don Leslie Beekman Jr. and Larry G. Wallace. The two men, given a ride by an Aspermont couple, held up their hosts and left the man and woman tied to their pickup.

OTHER COUNTS
Defendants charged with DWI second offense who were indicted are Milton Dee Thompson; Robert Maynard Poole, Joe Sherman Jr., Truman W. Nannie, James Wesley Legate, Henry Clifford Jones and George Grey Huckabee.

Other indictments voted were against Isaac Woodrich, forgery; Curtis Mahaffey, theft over $50; Rodney Johnston, worthless check; David Daggett, removal of mortgaged property; (bond set at $2,500); Bobby J. Nichols, worthless check; tober term are Ike Robb, foreman; Mrs. W. Byron Neel, Bill Sheppard, Billy W. Jones, Mrs. John Quigley, Jack M. Denson, Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, Robert D. McCullough, James Meador, Mrs. Justin Holmes, Roy Cedeburg and Harvey Adams.
